At Wayland

Basketball Camps Scheduled

Application for enrollment in the 22nd annual Wayland College summer basketball camp for boys is now open, according to camp director Bob Clindaniel.

The camp, one of the oldest in Texas, is open to all boys between the ages of eight and 15. Three week-long sessions -- July 8-13, July 15-20 and July 22-27 -- are scheduled.

Each session features five-game league competition, movies of college and professional teams, offensive and defensive drills, and heavy emphasis on fundamentals.

"The purpose of the camp is to emphasize the great game of basketball and to challenge each boy regardless of his present ability," said Clindaniel, a veteran of 30 years of high school, college and professional competition. "The emphasis here is on individual attention, and fundamentals are taught on a personal basis by recognized authorities."

The camp staff consists of Clindaniel, WBC assistant coach Rocky Clindaniel, several high school coaches, and members of the Wayland Pioneer men's basketball team.

"We stress improving each individual's fundamentals of shooting, dribbling, passing, rebounding, footwork and defense," Clindaniel added.

All youngsters will be housed in Wayland's modern air-conditioned dormitories, and will have access to game rooms in addition to swimming, bowling and tennis activities. Meals will be served in the college dining hall.

Cost for each one-week session is $100 for resident campers and $50 for commuters. Residents will receive dormitory accommodations, meals, tuition, entertainment, insurance, awards and a personal camp shirt.

Enrollment is limited to the first 50 participants in each session and a $25 deposit is required with application.

For more information and applications for enrollment, contact Clindaniel at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072, or call him at (806) 296-5521, extension 19.

It Just Might Help

Baby pigs require much iron. Pigs not allowed access to soil become anemic, unless iron has been supplemented to them. Symptoms of iron deficiency include reduced growth rate, listlessness, rough hair, pale skin, and dyspnea or "thumps" when disturbed.

Sows milk contains all minerals in adequate amounts to meet the needs of the pigs except iron. Pigs need 100 ppm iron in mild solids, cut colostrum contains only 10 ppm and sows milk 5 ppm. The pig must have iron from some other source.

Efforts to increase iron in sow's milk by feeding iron to sow have not been promising.

When pigs are put in confinement, they should be given iron directly. A normal pig needs about 7-10 mg. of iron daily. Give an iron injection during the first 3 days of life. At two weeks of age, provide an iron-containing feed, or iron in drinking water; If not convenient, give a second iron injection.

THIN HORSES

One to two cups of corn oil per day in the feed of very thin horses will help them gain weight more rapidly without a serious threat of feed founder such as seen when cereal grains are over fed. It provides nearly three times the caloric content of corn on a pound for pound basis.

WEEDS IN THE HOME GARDEN

The best way to control weeds in the home garden is by means of a "hoeicide". A sharp hoe is, and probably will continue to be, the gardeners best friend. Most home gardens are small enough to be effectively weeded manually. In some smaller towns and many rural areas, however, home gardens are up to 1/4 acre or more in size. The larger the area, of course, the more difficult it is to remove weeds manually.

Mechanical removal of weeds should be practiced regularly and should be done when the weeds are small. Removal of weeds at a small size accomplishes two tasks. First, it makes the removal of the weeds easier. Second, it prevents or reduces competition of the weeds with the growing vegetable. Vegetables with shallow root systems, such as onion, lettuce and radishes are especially susceptible to injury from weed competition at any size.

Fortunately there are some techniques which can be used to make mechanical removal of weeds easier and more effective. One of the best weed control techniques which home gardeners can use on both small and relatively large gardens is mulching. A layer of organic mulch applied thick enough to leave a 3 inch deep layer after the seed. As mentioned previously, the weed seed must provide enough food nutrients for the plant until the to is exposed to the sun. A 3 inch layer of mulch will not prevent weed seeds from germinating; however, it will prevent many of the seedlings stored nutrients to push the seedling through to the sunlight will be easier to remove especially of pulled when small.

SPECIAL COFFEE CAKE FOR LEISURE DAY BREAKFASTS

A delicious surprise is in store for those who are invited to try Swirl Coffee Cake. Biscuit mix is the basic of this quick coffee cake, and the surprise comes from the addition of Baker's Angel Flake coconut and Baker's semi-sweet chocolate. This recipe makes nine servings. If you're fortunate enough to have leftovers, wrap in portions and freeze to enjoy on "rushed" mornings or for snacks.

SWIRL COFFEE CAKE

- 2/3 cup flaked coconut
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 squares semi-sweet chocolate
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons oil

Combine coconut, butter, 1 tablespoon sugar and the cinnamon; set aside. Melt chocolate with 2 tablespoons milk in saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly; cool. Meanwhile, combine biscuit mix, 3/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup sugar, the egg and oil; beat vigorously about 30 seconds. Add half the dough to the melted chocolate; blend well. Alternately spoon chocolate mixture and remaining dough into greased 8-inch square pan. Cut through batter with spatula or knife in zigzag pattern to marble. Evenly sprinkle reserved coconut mixture over batter. Bake at 400° for about 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool; cut into squares. Makes 9 servings.

TRASH COMPACTORS

Question: With a household of six people, I feel a compactor could save a lot of work. But we don't need anything else in the house that will consume electricity. Just how much electricity will a compactor use?

TRASH COMPACTORS: A good refuge for refuse.

Answer: A compactor actually uses very little electricity. Whirlpool Corporation, who invented and first introduced the home trash compactor, advises that a compactor can be expected to use about 8 kilowatt hours a year, at a cost of about 30¢ to 40¢ per year.

Question: How much does a compacted bag of trash hold and how much does it weigh?

Answer: You can expect a compactor bag to hold about a week's trash for a family of four. It will weigh about 25 pounds.

MONEY SAVING TIP: One way to beat meat shrinkage is by roasting at lower temperatures. Oven temperatures of 300 degrees over a slightly longer time will cut weight losses on roasts with no loss on appearance or flavor.

Melvin Barton likes Lockett 77

"Lockett 77 opened quicker than other varieties ... a definite advantage in this area. I liked the yield, about a full bale per acre. This was 75 lbs. more per acre than a competitive variety planted right beside it."
