"Sit-Down" Strikers Ordered Out Of Chrysler Factories

Detroit Judge Issues Order Against Labor

Strikers Are Instructed To Evacuate Plants By 9 A. M. Wednesday Or Face Penalty Of $10,000,000

Murphy In Breach

Michigan's Governor Is Again Attempting To Bring Peace In Labor Difficulties As More Workers Strike

(By The Associated Press)

"SIT-DOWN" strikers occupying Chrysler corporation automobile plants suffered a setback in the courts yesterday in an order directing 5,000 men to leave the property.

The squatters, encamped in eight Detroit plants, planned to vote on whether they would leave by 9 a. m. Wednesday—the time limit set by Circuit Judge Allan Campbell. The jurist, contending "respect for law and order and the courts is menaced," issued an injunction providing a penalty of $10,000,000 for noncompliance and naming, among others John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial organization.

Discuss Collective Bargaining

Representatives of the United Electrical and Radio Workers Union, aiming at organization of 1,000,000 in the electrical manufacturing and communications lines, discussed collective bargaining with the General Electric Co., employer of 60,000 and largest in its field. Philip Murray, spearhead of the Lewis drive in the steel industry, laid demands for completion of its recent bargaining contract before the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at Pittsburgh. United Automobile Workers negotiators, striving for exclusive bargaining rights, resumed a parley with Chrysler officals.

Gov. Frank Murphy, declaring "there should be no defiance of public authority," initiated a move toward peace in Michigan's labor centers at a session with prosecuting attorneys and National Guard representatives. He has called leaders of industry, labor business, civic organizations and the clergy to a Wednesday meeting in Detroit to draft a program designed to checkmate industrial strife.

Bank Receives $9,250 Monday

Surety Company Replaces Part Of $11,000 Missing And Not Recovered; No Trace Found Of Missing Youth

Lubbock National bank Monday received $9,250 from a surety company to replace part of $11,000 discovered missing from a vault there a week before, said John D. Mitchell, vice president.

Under an ice box of a downtown store had been found $1,750 last week. That amount, in $5 bank notes, was accepted by the bank as part of the sum missing. Bank wrappers identified as those used by the institution were about the money.

Search for Burns Kittrell, bookkeeper of the bank, continued Monday. He had disappeared the day before loss of the money was disclosed.

Check by investigators of bank records, currency and securities had revealed no further loss, Mitchell said Monday.

The bank is protected by $50,000 bankers blanket bond insuring fidelity up to $50,000 of each officer and employe of the institution, he earlier had explained.

No Trace Found

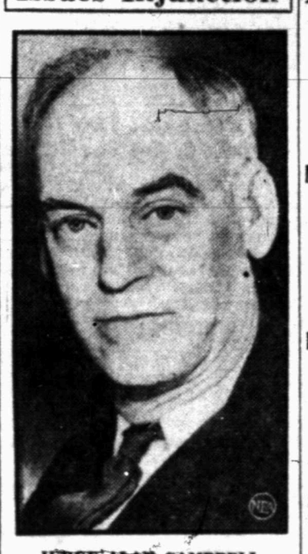

City Recorder C. E. Luce, upon his return to Lubbock from Fort Worth Monday, said clues he had followed there and at Dallas had not disclosed definitely Kittrell had been in those cities.

Amarillo Woman Accident Victim

AMARILLO, March 15. (AP)—Mrs. Hugh Southworth, Amarillo woman who was struck by an automobile driven by O. E. Sage, post office employe, today died late in the afternoon in a local hospital.

She suffered a fractured skull, fractures in both legs, and internal injuries.

Mrs. Southworth was standing at a street intersection waiting for a bus when the accident occurred. Sage was released tonight on $500 bond on a charge of assault with a motor vehicle. Authorities indicated the charge would be changed tomorrow.

Two Boxwell brothers ambulances, answering the call collided in the West Sixth street underpass, disabling one machine and delaying the other.

Reunion Of Duke And Wally At Easter Is Said Planned

LONDON, March 15. (AP)—An Easter meeting in France with Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson is being planned by the Duke of Windsor, trustworthy Austrian advices reaching London said today.

The former British monarch, it was said, still is planning to wed Mrs. Simpson, for whom he gave up his throne, on about April 27 or May 1. (Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree from Ernest Aldrich Simpson may become final April 27.)

The informant said the duke's trip to France probably would be announced from his Enzesfeld, Austria retreat as a "three or four day Easter excursion."

Reserve Bank Head Proposes Hike In Taxes

Marriner S. Eccles Says Higher Taxes On Income And Profits Should Be Levied To Prevent Inflation

Stir Is Created

Members Of Congress, Who Had Previously Asserted There Was No Major Legislation On Taxes Coming, Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve board, proposed tonight that taxes on incomes and profits be increased if necessary to balance the budget promptly and prevent monetary inflation.

He made the proposal in a public statement pledging continuation of the board's "easy money" policy.

It created a stir among members of congress who previously had asserted there was no possibility of major tax legislation at this session.

"Let's Go Slow"

"Let's go slow about increasing taxes," commented Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, when informed of Eccles' stand.

Representative Vinson (D-Ky), a member of the house ways and means committee, which originates tax legislation, bluntly observed:

"I think we have plenty of taxes now."

The Eccles statement recalled that treasury and congressional leaders predicted after a White House conference last August taxes would not be increased.

"Tight" Money Not Remedy

Eccles said an upward spiral carrying wages and prices to inflationary price levels could be as disastrous as the downward spiral of deflation. But "tight" money and higher interest rates are not the remedy, he said.

"Under present conditions of an accelerating recovery," he asserted, "a continued easy money policy to be successful in achieving and maintaining a balanced recovery must be accompanied by a prompt balancing of the federal budget and the subsequent retirement of public debt by the government in relationship to

RECORD PAYMENTS SEEN

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—The greatest throngs of income tax payers since 1924 jammed federal collection offices today, filing an estimated three million returns and raising treasury hopes that government income may match outgo during the rest of this fiscal year.

Today's rush is expected to boost the total of March returns to about 6,000,000. Treasury officials said the heavy volume of returns indicated that their $840,000,000 estimate of tax collections this month would be borne out.

All collection offices remained open until midnight, however, and the computation of exact figures was delayed until tomorrow. If collections total $840,000,000 they will more than double last year's and will be $164,000,000 over 1929.

Amarillo Man Is Elected To Head IOOF Lodge In Texas

CORSICANA, March 15. (AP)—John F. Ross of Amarillo was installed today as grand master of the Texas grand lodge, I.O.O.F. He succeeded H. L. Carpenter of Greenville.

Other officers placed in office at the meeting here were Danley F. Warren, Tyler, deputy grand master, and M. M. Maddison of Sweetwater, grand warden.

Others installed were S. M. Williams, Dallas, grand secretary; O. F. Logan, Dallas, grand chaplain; Tom C. Bunch, Fort Worth grand marshal; Earl D. Oreabaugh Tyler, grand conductor; J. E. Raney, Dalhart, grand guardian. Lake A. Barber, Corsicana, grand herald, and H. H. Lummus, Ennis, grand treasurer.

Mrs. E. E. Kee, Fort Worth, was elected president of the Rebekah assembly, succeeding Mrs. Frances Thompson of Corpus Christi.

Low Pressure Area Prevents Miss Earhart From Taking Off On Globe-Girdling Trip

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., March 15.—Stormy weather, the bane of fliers everywhere, caused a second postponement today in the start of Amelia Earhart's projected 27,000-mile world-girdling flight.

E. H. Bowie, U. S. weather bureau official, said the depression area was moving westward "very, very slowly."

"It would be impossible for Miss Earhart to go through or above that area in a heavily loaded plane," said Bowie.

Deming, N. M., Man's Body Pointed Out By A Suspect

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, March 15.—A man giving the name of George Alferd Lord, jr., led officers late today to the body of Robert Aubuchon, 54-year-old Deming N. M., campground employe, missing since Thursday night.

Arrested in El Paso Friday night with two relatives, the man made a statement to Ralph Colvin, agent in charge of the El Paso department of justice office, and El Paso and Deming detectives before pointing out the slain man's body in the lonely region of Volcanic rock, 45 miles of El Paso in New Mexico.

Lays Crime To Relative

In his statement the officers said the man admitted participation in the abduction-slaying, but said Aubuchon was shot by a relative of Lord's after they had forced Aubuchon into an automobile at Deming about 10 p. m. Thursday.

Aubuchon was slain for a $5 bill and some small change, officers said they were told. They said they were told the man under arrest and his companions believed Aubuchon was wealthy and that they intended to hold him for ransom.

The man told Colvin and the other officers two other men participated in the slaying but that he was not sure of their names. He gave officers a description of them, which was broadcast to Texas and New Mexico authorities.

Two Warrants Issued

In the party when the body was found were Deputy Sheriff Jess Horn of Deming and Detective Sergeant Emmet Dawson of El Paso. Horn said he had a warrant charging the man and his relative with murder and would file charges as soon as he reaches Deming tomorrow.

The arrested man also related his story to an El Paso newspaperman. When first arrested he gave the name of "Brown," and later explained he had used several aliases.

The man said he had lived at various times in Phoenix, El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Chicago.

Co-Op Ginners To Meet Today

State Officials Are To Talk At Session At Hotel Lubbock Beginning At 10 A. M.; 300 Or More Expected

Second of a series of cooperative ginners meetings in Texas, for members of the Texas Cooperative Ginners association, will be held today at the Hotel Lubbock, said B. B. Williams, West Texas Ginners association secretary, last night. An attendance of 300 or more directors, managers, besides cotton farmers, is expected today.

Notices of the meeting have been mailed to the 40 to 50 cooperative gins on the Caprock. Each group is expected to send six or eight directors, besides the manager and other officials, to the meeting.

Sterling Evans To Speak

Sterling C. Evans, known to many farmers in this area through his years as district county agent leader here, will be one of the speakers. Two Arrested As Woman Bares Plot

LONGVIEW, March 15. (AP) — A woman's story of a plot to kill Sheriff Alex Brown of Jefferson brought the arrest of two suspects here today as the officer's widow took his place at the helm of law enforcement in Marion county.

Held in jail as a material witness, the woman said she overheard the plan at a night club several days before Sheriff Brown was slain by a shot in the back. A roll of bills changed hands, she said.

One of the men held was described by the woman as the "trigger man" and the other as the "payoff man."

As District Attorney John Cook of Mount Pleasant checked the woman's story, Mrs. Brown pledged a continuation of the vigorous law enforcement which had brought her husband prominence.

She was named to succeed her husband by the commissioners court last week.

Cotton Spurts Up Monday As Europe Buys

May Position Is Carried To Above Fourteen Cents For New High Level In Past Seven Years

Wheat Gains Too

Word From Europe Of Additional Heavy Purchases Of Grain Is Cause Of 3-Cent Jump In Chicago Prices

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—Cotton spurted up from $1.25 to more than $7.58 a bale on the New Orleans market today. Heavy foreign buying coupled with a good domestic demand lifted prices into new high levels for 7 years.

The advance carried the May position across the 14 cents a pound level to finish at 14.20. Other old crop months moved within striking distance of this figure with July at 13.94 and October at 13.43 cents a pound.

Higher prices were attributed to the sharply colder weather in the belt which induced active buying by domestic interests while the tendency on the part of foreign interests to invest in cotton increased buying from that quarter.

Export Prospects Seen As Cause For Price Advance

CHICAGO, March 15. (AP)—Wheat prices shot up more than three cents a bushel today after receipt of word that Europe had made additional heavy purchase of grain.

Wheat future contracts calling for delivery of grain that will be available when the United States crop is harvested led the advance indicating increased belief among traders that American wheat export prospects are broadening.

The top for May wheat, above $1.36 a bushel, compared with $1.40, the eight-year peak, touched last week.

Bombardment Rocks Madrid

Insurgent Artillery Batters Downtown Spanish Capital Nearly All Day On Monday; Planes Drop Leaflets

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, March 15.—Insurgent artillery battered downtown Madrid today with one of the heaviest bombardments of the war. The barrage started about noon and lasted through the daylight hours.

During the shelling, three insurgent planes appeared over the city and dropped propaganda leaflets. A squadron of government pursuit planes put them to flight.

(Insurgent dispatches, reporting General Francisco Franco planned to coordinate attacks on the Jarama and Guadalajara fronts to close in on Madrid simultaneously from two directions, said his forces had gained ground in both sectors).

Most shells fell near the American-owned telephone building, a landmark for insurgent gunners.

House Studies Bill To Raise Franchise Tax

Strong Determination To Give Modification To Terms Of Proposal Seen; Senate Acts For Utility Regulation

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 15.—The house of representatives worked long hours today without reaching a decision on a bill to increase the corporation franchise tax while the senate labored over utilities regulation and an emergency appropriation for schools.

Although reaching no final decision on the measure as a whole, the house evidenced strong determination to modify terms of the franchise tax proposal, lowering the levy of five per cent of net income originally proposed to two per cent, and making other changes.

Senate Passes Measure

The senate passed a bill 24 to 1, which would permit all cities to regulate utilities, would include telephone companies, exempted from the present law, and would limit returns generally to eight per cent of investment. The bill already had been passed by the house.

The emergency appropriation bill, originally calling for outlay of approximately $200,000, was amended to include a rural school appropriation of $1,898,000, as well as provision for buildings in common school districts destroyed by fire.

Would Prove Nepotism

Amendment Is Likely To Be Offered States

Suggestion Is Expected To Gain Support For White House's Program; Amendment Plans Offered By Sen. Norris

Court Is Inactive

No Decisions Handed Down By Justices Monday; Senator Robinson Predicts Passage Of President's Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senator Robinson (D-Ark), the Democratic leader, produced tonight the first compromise suggestion to emanate from the administration side of the turbulent debate over President Roosevelt's court reorganization bill.

After predicting the passage of the Roosevelt measure before the session closes, he held out the possibility that at the same time, a constitutional amendment may be proposed to the states, of a nature still to be determined.

Norris Amendment Favored

While Robinson would not discuss its possible contents, it became evident that some administration leaders were favorably disposed toward an amendment offered today by Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) to limit the terms of federal judges, including those of the Supreme court, to nine years.

Some administration backers of the president's proposal to increase the Supreme court to a maximum of 15 justices if incumbents over 70 years of age do not retire expressed the thought that the Robinson suggestion for an amendment might increase the support of the White House measure.

Hope For Favorable Reaction

They expressed hope it might make a favorable impression among those senators—roughly a third of the senate—who have not yet committed themselves on the issue and some of whom are backing constitutional amendments.

"There is no inconsistency in the president's proposal and in certain amendments to the Constitution that have been proposed," Robinson said in a statement carefully dictated to reporters.

Expects Approval

"I expect the plan of the president will be approved by the congress. It is by no means certain that amendments will not also be considered by the two houses of congress for submission to the states.

"Certain amendments that have been proposed would undoubtedly be received by the public with favor.

Prisoner's Unusual Coma Forestalls Regular Routine Of Court Procedure

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 15—Lost in a world below the level of consciousness, Helen Wills Love could not receive sentence to prison today for the slaying of Harry Love, well-to-do broker, whom she claimed was secretly her husband.

Judge Frank Smith ordered a new hearing April 2.

At the time, he ruled, her sanity will be determined, in case she had not returned from the eerie, comatose condition into which she fell, five days ago, a few hours after a jury found her guilty of second degree murder.

Returned to jail that night, the woman—a plump, medium-sized brunette — told Matron Veda Sullivan, "I can will myself to die. I can lie right down there and die if I will it."

On Friday morning, the matron was unable to rouse her.

She appeared to be in a deep, hypnotic sleep. Dr. Benjamin Blank, county physician, was summoned. He began testing her reactions.

Conscientious Objector Who Became War Hero Welcomes Government's Aid

(By The Associated Press)

PALL MALL, Tenn., March 15.—Sergt. Alvin C. York, the "one-man army" who turned down an estimated $500,000 in offers to capitalize on his World war fame, said today he would welcome the $236 a month that a bill in congress proposes to pay him.

The bill, passed by the senate and pending in the house, would give him the rank of major and retire him immediately with compensation the rest of his life.

"That will fix me up pretty well—if I get it," said the sergeant, who is just able to be up after two months in bed with rheumatism and neuritis.

It has been more than 18 years since that October day when the one-time "conscientious objector" from Tennesse then a corporal went into action in the Argonne, killed 25 Germans and led back 132 prisoners, including a machine gun battalion commander and two other commissioned officers.

General Pershing described the tall red-head as "the greatest civilian soldier of the war."

TURN ABOUT

SIR CEDRIC HARDWICKE, currently distinguishing himself on Broadway in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," is an English gentleman, of family. He is not, however, without experience in matters of interviewing. Recently a fan magazine writer obtained an interview. She was buxom, with buck-teeth, a splotched complexion, and horn-rimmed spectacles. "Sir Cedric," said the woman, opening with frank thrust, "I want you to tell me about your love-life."

Sir Cedric, being British, recovered before you could have noticed that he had been stopped.

"Well, I'll do it," he said. "If you will tell me about yours first." The woman marched out in a huff.

AN EASTER GIFT

WE WERE experiencing difficulty in interest at editing spring styles during the raw, bleak morning Monday when we had a call from vivacious Mrs. Frank Winn, who is warm-hearted in any kind of weather. Furthermore she brought us an amythest flower vase and an opalescent one for our co-worker, Mrs. Boyd. Her intentions of filling them with fragrant plum blossoms was literally nipped in the bud by the Saturday freeze. Anyway we appreciate her thoughtfulness and the Easter gift.

"TOO" GOOD-LOOKING

WE READ with more than casual interest a story out of Belgrade that tells of one Milijan Tejitch of a village in Yugoslavia who was murdered and left by the roadside because he was so handsome. It was alleged that a band of men who could not obtain wives owing to the fact that all the girls were in love with Milijan had killed him. The victim was so handsome that the local girls would not look at any other man.

And here in the United States although we suspect they say it with tongue in cheek, more than one young man of husband would favor a League Against Taylor or Power or other handsome young movie idols of the hour. In fact, Hubbard Keavy, Hollywood columnist, thinks that the casting directors have difficulty in finding leading ladies who are prettier than those actors.

Of course, the latter is all in fun and yet it's true that those with physical defects, and that includes almost everybody, feel resentment toward the handsome Romeos of the world. And, while we know of no assault with intent to kill being plotted against those fortunate to have nice heads of hair and regular features, if words and looks could harm them they would be dead long ago.

SALESMANSHIP

SUPER-SALESMANSHIP is not always of the intelligent kind.

The salesman was eloquent about the merits of a vacuum cleaner, but the village housewife wasn't impressed. She suggested that he talk less and show her what the machine could do.

He took off his coat, fitted up the cleaner, thrust his arm into the chimney of the open fireplace and brought out a handful of soot, which he scattered over the carpet.

He then shoveled some ashes from the grate and sprinkled them over the rug, adding a big handful of soil from the garden. Then he smiled and rubbed his hands.

"Now," he said, "I'll show you what this vacuum cleaner can do. You'll be surprised, madam. Where's the electric switch?"

"Switch?" echoed the surprised woman. "We use gas."

Fifty-Five Attend Luncheon For Christian Council Department Monday

Gulbranssen's Book Reviewed

"Beyond Sing The Woods" Is Subjects Of Review By Mrs. McFarland; Additions To Library Are Named

Fifty-five members and guests attended a monthly luncheon and book review meeting of the First Christian Woman's council educational department Monday afternoon at the church annex.

Mrs. S. J. McFarland reviewed Trygve Gulbranssen's "Beyond Sing the Woods." Invocation was by the Rev. W. R. Vivrett; Mrs. John K. Wherry, educational chairman, presided for business, and prayer was by Mrs. J. W. Kolb. Guests were introduced before the lunch was served.

Mrs. Wherry reported that the following new books have been added to the department library:

"The Exile" and "The Fighting Angel" by Pearl S. Buck; "The Seven Last Words;" "Getting Help From Religion"; "Book of Living Poems," and "The Glorious Gallilean." A committee was appointed to have another book case constructed.

Members reported having read 85 books since January 18. The women also packed a box of cookies for a Dallas orphanage. Mrs. J. A. Williams, on behalf of Circle 3, presented a pot plant to Mrs. Julia Hall whose 83rd birthday was Monday.

The luncheon committee consisted of Mrs. Mary Hinton, chairman, and Mesdames W. R. Moore, John R. Green, Newman McFarland and J. D. Walker.

B And PW Has Party Series

Celebration Of Tenth Annual Business Women's Week Is Under Way In City; Three Activities Described

Members of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club began a series of activities Sunday to celebrate the national tenth annual Business Women's week. At 9 o'clock Sunday morning a breakfast was given and later a St. Patrick's tea, both at the Hilton hotel.

A public relations banquet was held at Hotel Lubbock at 7:30 last night.

Following a custom of several years, the club members are inviting clubs of nearby towns to join them in their celebrations. Plainview and Littlefield clubs were guests at the tea, 22 women from the former city and nine from the latter attending.

In Receiving Line

Twenty-one club members and 47 local guests were present for the tea, which followed an Irish theme. Guests were greeted by Miss Carrie Little and Mrs. Ray Jackson, who presided at the register. The receiving line was made up of Miss Jennie Fay Stennett, president; Miss Lavenia Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Floe Swenson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ann Groth, treasurer, and Mrs. J. J. Smelser, the club's only charter member.

Misses Myrtle Porter, Ruth E. Ford, Mesdames W. O. Harbison and Ruby Stewart alternated in presiding at the refreshment table, which was centered with a bowl of white carnations.

Six Musicians Heard

During the afternoon a musical program of songs of Ireland was given. Mrs. Frank Barclay played her piano accompaniment to two solos; Elton Plowman sang, accompanied by Miss Gladys Hall; Miss Willette Waters played accordion solos and Miss Charlotte Ratliff played violin selections, accompanied by Miss Marian Bullock.

Miss Lavenia Williams told of the significance of the special week at the breakfast. Mrs. Robert Hester played piano solos and joined Mrs. Chester Elliott for a piano duet.

Mrs. E. R. Heineman and Miss Dorothy Levey were other guests. Members in attendance were Mesdames Swenson, Vernon Brown, Smelser, H. A. Welmaker, Mina K. Graves, Stewart, Jackson, Harbison, Ben F. Mabrey, Groth, Gladys Land, Misses Ford, Stennett, Williams, Little, Porter and Norfleet Grimes.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

"For 40 years, I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago), I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."— Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day — with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruits, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headaches, tiredness and serious illness.

The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GRACIE "gets" HER MAN
WITH THE HELP OF A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE

HOW FOLGER'S RARE "MOUNTAIN FLAVOR" WINS MEN'S HEARTS

Folger's has a keen, bracing tang and rare wine-y flavor—that's really satisfying to a man's taste! It's different—because Folger's is mountain grown!

Most of the world's coffee is lowland grown. But this unique flavor in Folger's comes from a tiny region in Central America—known to coffee experts as the world's "coffee paradise"!

Up there, the soil's different—a volcanic ash! The rainfall's different—tropical downpours! The air's different—fresh, bracing mountain air!

And what a difference that makes in coffee! The beans literally swell with flavor to the bursting point! And Folger's scientific roasting and vacuum-packing—bring it to you fresh!

That's why Folger's is served on 15 great railroad systems, modern planes—and in famous restaurants and hotels! So if you want to thrill a man—just try serving him Folger's, and hear him cheer!

Quality always pays! Folger's mountain flavor is so much richer, homemakers tell us that they use ¼ less of Folger's than of ordinary brands! So it's real economy to enjoy this world's finest coffee in your home! Folger Coffee Company, Kansas City—San Francisco.

DRIP COFFEE-LOVERS—NOTE:
To get richer drip coffee use Folger's Drip Grind — designed especially for drip-makers, Silex and other glass coffee-makers. Never crushed, or mashed — but cut by scientific processes to assure perfect results.

Educators Are To Meet Here

Association Of Texas Colleges To Hold Session In Lubbock, April 8-10; Entertainment Is Being Planned

Invitations to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges in Lubbock, April 8-10, already have been accepted by 51 officials of Texas colleges, Dean James M. Gordon of Texas Technological college said Monday.

Junior college officials will meet April 8-9 and senior college officials, April 9-10. Dean E. N. Jones of Baylor university is president of the association and is making program plans, and Dean Gordon is making local arrangements.

Presidents Are Coming

College presidents who have notified the dean they will attend are: Dr. H. Y. Benedict, University of Texas; Dr. J. D. Standefer, Hardin-Simmons; Dr. J. T. McKissick, Randolph Junior college, Cisco; President J. R. McLemore, Paris Junior college; President J. J. Delaney, Schreiner institute, Kerrville; President J. T. Cox, Abilene Christian college; President G. C. Boswell, Weatherford Junior college; President L. H. Hubbard, Texas State College for Women.

Six Texas university officials were listed as planning to attend and Doctor Standefer of Hardin-Simmons said about that many representatives of his college would attend. University officials planning to attend are Dean B. F. Pittenger, Dean T. H. Shelby, Dr. Frederick Eby, Registrar E. J. Matthews, Assistant Registrar Max Fichtenbaum, and Doctor Benedict.

To Bring Wives

Six officials have said they will bring their wives and five others that they possibly will. Social events will be planned for wives of officials.

About 12 officials have shown interest in a proposed trip to Carlsbad caverns after the meeting, said Dean Gordon.

Between 100 and 150 officials are expected for the meeting.

Tech Judging Team Wins Sixth Place

Sixth place was won by the Texas Technological college livestock judging team in the annual contest held Saturday at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, it was announced Sunday. Ray C. Mowery, associate professor of animal husbandry, is team coach.

Oklahoma A. and M. placed first; Texas A. and M. second; Kansas third; Nebraska fourth; Missouri fifth; New Mexico seventh and Mississippi eighth.

The Tech team was also fourth in cattle, sixth in sheep and hogs, and second in horse and mule judging.

G. C. Shearer was second in individual judging of horses. He ranked sixth in the entire contest in individual ranking.

Announcement of the rankings was made Sunday at a banquet for all contestants at the Westbrook hotel. R. R. Peeples, Tehuacana, superintendent of the contest, was toastmaster. W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry, was one of the speakers.

The Kansas team, which placed third this year, has won the tropiry twice and a third win will give it permanent possession.

Arrangements For Funeral Of M. L. Boozer Awaits Relatives

Pending arrival of relatives no funeral arrangements for M. L. Boozer, 58, fruit stand operator found dead in his bed yesterday morning, had been made late last night, according to Sanders Funeral home.

An inquest by Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillan indicated that Boozer died of natural causes.

Boozer's body was discovered by C. W. Dooley, North Avenue C resident, who is employed in the stand, where the body was found.

A doctor who examined the body said indications were the man died of a heart ailment. A crimson stain about the man's mouth indicated also, he said, high blood pressure.

Boozer was survived by seven children, said Sanders Funeral home. Two of them are E. V. and H. H. Boozer, both of Port Arthur.

THEATER MAN ROBBED

LOS ANGELES, March 15. (AP)—Three men kidnaped Leo Popkin, manager of the million dollar theater, took him to the theater, forced him to open the safe from which they took $1,500, and then left him bound in the office, he reported today to officers.

Deanna Durbin's Life Strenuous At 14

SQUEEZES BREAKFAST

Hollywood's newest singing star, Deanna Durbin, 14, is up early and into the kitchen for her orange juice. Then she begins her daily round.

LESSONS MUST BE DONE

School work is as hard for an actress as for any other girl and Deanna's mind will wander at times. Studying done, she goes to the studio for rehearsals, poses for publicity photos, reads some fan mail and finds time for a little play. Every afternoon at three comes her most important task. . . .

PRACTICES FOR OPERA

Her voice lesson is with Andres de Segurola, former Metropolitan barytone. Opera is Deanna's ambition—but movies do pay so well.

Candidates For "Degree Of Ugliness" At Tech Making Campaign For Support

Eleven "ugliest" men of Texas Technological college are making last minute pleas for votes before the student election of the ugliest male tomorrow. Outstanding artistic ability as well as fluent speeches give evidence of a desire to win the first "degree of Uglinesss" ever conferred on a Tech student.

"I'm going to get a 'Pete Cawthon' haircut so I can beat Padgett Maddox," said Fred Stickle, freshman engineer from Arp who is known as "Sam" among his friends.

"Frankenstein Of Tech"

Dean Felber, freshman from Olney, has his portrait drawn in chalk on many of Tech's blackboards and points out that he alone is the "Frankenstein of Tech."

"If there's any justice in the election, I'll win," said Joe Tom Weddle, showing his teeth in an ugly grin.

Maddox, Lubbock junior, raised his eyes and seemed confident that his "public knows his charm is greater than his pulchritude."

"Not Pretty But Pure"

"I'm not pretty, but the world knows I'm pure," said Bill Lyle when he was told that his name had been added to the list.

Other men entering the race are: Raymond, "Babe" Curfman, Electra; William J. Davis, Fort Worth; S. D. "Tox" Wiginton, Levelland; Leldon Hudson, Wellington; and B. H. Turner, Lubbock. The students were chosen in convocation last week.

Selection of the "Ugly Man" will be by popular vote in the east rotunda of the administration building from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Balloting will be supervised by student council members.

To Enter State Contest

The "Toreador," Tech student publication, is sponsoring the election in answer to a challenge from Texas Christian university and Hardin-Simmons that Tech find an uglier boy than their candidates.

The winner will be introduced with Tech's most beautiful girl at the Palace theater Friday evening at 9 o'clock. The girl was selected by Billy Rose, New York showman, for La Ventana beauty section. Sunday evening the pair will be entertained in the Hilton hotel coffee shop with a special dinner.

They will be interviewed over Radio Station KFYO at 5:15 o'clock Friday afternoon by Ollie Cook.

Information is expected from Billy Rose today giving his selections for the most beautiful co-eds.

Boy Scout Jamboree Group Is To Meet With State Executive

The Lubbock district Boy Scout jamboree committee will meet with James P. Fitch, regional scout executive of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, at noon today at Glorieta cafe.

Jamboree scoutmaster and his assistants will be selected. Members of the committee are Dr. Millard F. Swart, chairman, J. A. Raley, Chas. Whitacre, Dr. Marshall Harvey, and Marion Sanford.

Fitch will speak on "Recent Plans and Developments of National Jamboree."

E. L. Neal, Cochran County Farmer, Dies Here Sunday

Death of E. L. Neal, 29, Cochran county farmer, came in a local sanitarium Sunday morning, after he had been admitted Friday.

A resident of Cochran county for five years, he lived five miles south of Morton. He moved there from Lamb county.

Body of Neal was taken overland Sunday to Rising Star for burial services. Other arrangements were not announced. Rix Funeral home was in charge of the body.

He was survived by his wife and two sons, Royce and Shirley. Two brothers and a sister also survived.

The department of agriculture reports Florida farmers harvested 32,000 bales of cotton from 90,000 acres in cultivation on July 1.

Merriman Returns To Office After Business Over District

Ed Merriman, field representative stationed here by the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, returned to his office at chamber of commerce headquarters Monday after spending several days last week in this district assisting employers.

He was in Big Spring Wednesday and Thursday and at Paducah Friday. He spent the week-end at Throckmorton visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Merriman.

He announced the deadline for payment of January unemployment insurance taxes for the state of Texas without penalty was March 25.

Market Program Is Closed In City Sunday; Said Successful

The three-day 14th semi-annual West-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing market was ended Sunday, with wholesale and retail merchants expressing belief that it was one of the more successful held by the association.

Forty-three wholesale firms were represented at the Lubbock hotel. Retail merchants, their buyers, and other representatives from West Texas and New Mexico were here to complete pre-Easter buying.

Credit Group Will Meet In Lubbock

Lubbock will be host to the joint conference of Retail Merchants association, Secretaries and Credit Granters of the Panhandle-Plains area Sept. 12, said Gladys Workman, manager of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association.

A. B. Davis, secretary-manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce was chosen vice-president of the secretaries at the one-day session in Wichita Falls Sunday.

Others of this area elected to offices in the secretaries group were Mrs. Leo Green of Slaton and Jim Douglass of Littlefield, directors, and Mrs. Adellas Drew of Plainview, secretary, according to an Associated Press report.

Mrs. Workman and Miss Billy Frances Nelson of the Lubbock association attended the meeting.

Jail Break At Dickens Fails

Sheriff J. L. Koonsman Finds Two Prisoners Preparing For Escape Saturday Night; Saw Blades Used

DICKENS, March 15. (Special)—A break of two prisoners from Dickens county jail was forestalled by Sheriff J. L. Koonsman Saturday night when he lodged a "drunk" behind bars, he said.

R. C. Britton, ex-convict returned by the sheriff from Eastham prison farm a week ago to face a theft charge, and Philip Pair, young farmer charged with murder and whose trial had been set for April 5, had gained entrance to the cell block after effective use of saw blade, said Koonsman.

Visits Restricted

The two were placed in a safe cell and the jail was "shaken down" for other saws, believed to have been given to the men by visitors. Restriction of visits has resulted.

Koonsman said the two men's plans were learned after he had discovered the jail door had been sprung. He said they had planned slugging the jailor.

Britton had escaped from the jail once, but soon had been rearrested, said Koonsman.

Koonsman said Ralph Noble, recently picked up by Sheriff B. L. Parker of Lynn county and now in jail here, is wanted in Arkansas for parole violation.

Tech Faculty Members Asked To Submit Data For Sketches

Several officials and faculty members of Texas Technological college have been asked to provide information for biographical sketches which will appear in the 1937 edition of The Texan Who's Who.

The edition is to contain sketches of living men and women of Texas whose careers are of significant public interest.

Those chosen include President Bradford Knapp, Dean James M. Gordon, Dean A. H. Leidigh, Dr. S. S. McKay, Miss Elizabeth West, librarian, Dr. Leroy T. Patton, Dr. A. B. Cunningham, Dr. W. C. Holden, W. L. Stangel, and C. E. Russell.

JONES IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, March 15. (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, arrived here today from Washington for a visit of a few days at home. En route to his downtown office, Jones bought a pair of gloves and an overcoat. A cold north wind was blowing.

Scout Dinner To Be Held Tonight

A dinner will be conducted by the Boy Scout executive board of the South Plains council at 7:15 o'clock tonight in Aztec room at Hilton hotel.

Members of 20 counties of the council have been invited and are expected to hear Regional Executive James P. Fitch speak.

Jack M. Randal, first vice-president and chairman of the Lubbock district, will preside in the absence of Dr. F. B. Malone, council president, who is in Dallas attending a medical meeting.

Reports will be given by members of the promotion division. V. L. Doughtie, promotion chairman; Chas. Whitacre, organization chairman; Dr. J. M. Gordon, leadership and training chairman; Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, cubbing chairman; J. H. Murdough, senior scouting chairman; and Joseph Griggs, rural scouting chairman; will make reports.

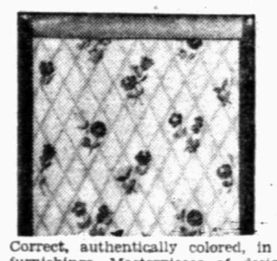

Promotion plans for the year will be discussed in addition to the regular business session.

STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS

Which is the more pleasant way to clear up the accumulated mucus in your nostrils? To keep on blowing into your handkerchief until your nose is sore? Or to insert a pleasant, soothing ointment that gently breaks up the obstructing mucus?

Surely you prefer the latter, and that is why you should always use Mentholatum. It not only breaks up the mucus and enables you to breathe more freely, but also soothes the irritated membranes.

Sally Eilers says:
"My voice and throat are grateful for Luckies"

"Making a picture is obviously a tax on my throat. And because my voice is my stock in trade, my throat is grateful for a light smoke, and by that I mean Luckies. Days are certainly long when shooting a picture, and I do plenty of smoking, so you see I want a light smoke which, at the end of the day, is comfortable to my throat. I certainly get a lot of relaxation and pleasure out of Luckies."

Sally Eilers

CO-STAR OF NEW UNIVERSAL PICTURE "WE HAVE OUR MOMENTS"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Eilers verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. Cage Coaches Consider New Rules Policy As AAU Tourney Rages At Denver

Uniform Rules Interpretation Is Large Need

Big Time Coaches In Pow-Wow At Chicago Absolve Whistle Blowers Of Blame; Handicap Of Conflict In Styles Hit

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 15 —The country's college basketball coaches started out today to give the men who officiate at their games a going over, but wound up by assuming the blame for their whistle-blowing troubles.

Big time coaches assembled for their annual convention, they decided that lack of uniform interpretations of rules was responsible for the unhappy state of affairs, and that the officials were doing good work after all.

Eliminate Center Jump?

A remedy to correct the situation, in the form of a motion to formulate a set of uniform interpretations, offered by Ward Lambert, Purdue's veteran coach, was adopted. The coaches had complained that officials were not "calling them" the same from one game to another. They agreed finally that the whistle-blowers had done their best under the handicap of conflicting interpretations.

After disposing of the officiating question, the coaches started preliminary work on proposed rules changes. Numerous alternations were suggested, but only elimination of the center-jump and revision of the "three-second" rule, appeared likely. Another discussion will be held tomorrow before the mentors decide what changes, if any, should be recommended to the rules committee.

The center-jump elimination proposal, sponsored by coaches of the Pacific Coast conference's southern division who have been playing the game that way since 1935, appeared likely to become a full-fledged rule since its adoption for one year at least, by the Western conference Sunday.

Six-Club League Is Organized At Midland Sunday

MIDLAND, March 15. (Special)—Possibility that an eight-club Class D baseball league will operate in West Texas and New Mexico towns this summer loomed stronger after six towns posted membership requirements at an organization meeting here Sunday.

The six who signified they were ready to go are Midland, Odessa, Monahans and Wink in Texas and Hobbs and Roswell in New Mexico. Big Spring and Carlsbad, N. M., are expected to join at the next meeting, which probably will be set for March 28.

Midland and Roswell are to have working agreements with clubs of higher classification, it was announced. Beaumont of the Texas League is to help support the Roswell club. The St. Louis Cardinals are to have interests at Midland. Help from one or two other clubs is being sought for Carlsbad and Big Spring.

The league is to be known as the West Texas-New Mexico League. Play is to start the first week in May and the schedule is to end on Labor Day.

Several of the towns will play night baseball, it was announced.

Rags Matthews Recovering From Attack Of Pneumonia

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 15 (AP)—Physicians said today Raymond (Rags) Matthews, gridiron immortal of Texas Christian university, ill here with pneumonia, was greatly improved.

They said Matthews' condition took a turn for the worse yesterday but he was much better today and was expected to recover.

Matthews was one of the nation's outstanding football players while at T. C. U., where he won all-American mention.

Keeping Up With Joneses Causes Holdouts–Giles

By PAUL MICKELSON

TAMPA, Fla., March 15. (AP) — Warren Giles, new front office overseer of the Cincinnati Reds, is convinced holdout troubles with ball players can be traced to Mr. Jones' habit of gross exaggeration and to Mrs. Jones' new fur coat.

"Ball players are like office clerks or anybody else working on a salary," says Giles. "Most of them are well satisfied with working and salary conditions until one of them puts on the dog and tells tales about the big pay checks he's receiving. The next fellow, naturally, gets jealous because he figures he should get as much money as Jones.

Wives "Big Help"

"Players' wives are like other wives, too. To many of them, the boss always favors Mrs. Jones' husband, who buys Mrs. Jones more fur coats and trinkets for the simple reason that Mr. Jones, a 'punk player with not half your ability, my dear,' gets more money."

Giles never knew what a real holdout was until he became general manager of the Reds.

Joe Louis May Go To London

England's Heavyweight Joust Plans Call For Bomber To Meet Survivor Of Tourney In Which Baer Appears

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 15. — Brown Bomber Joe Louis will show his fistic wares in London this summer if Brig. Gen. Alfred Cecil Crichley's promotorial plans materialize.

Arriving home on the Queen Mary from a flying trip to the United States, the British promoter said Louis would fight on July 30 against the winner of a current heavyweight elimination series involving Max Baer, Ben Foord, Tommy Farr and Walter Neusel.

Farr Wins Opener

Farr tonight won the British empire heavyweight championship, outpointing Foord in a 15 round bout. Farr weighed 203 pounds; Foord 206.

The winner will meet Max Baer, former world's champion, here April 15 and the survivor of that bout will take on the German Neusel.

"Louis will fight on a percentage basis in this country," Critchley said "because it is impossible for England to match the higher prices which are in vogue in the United States."

Today Deadline On Ralls Tournament

RALLS, March 15 (Special) — Independent and school basketball teams desiring to play in the Ralls "sweater and medal" invitation tournament are required to get their entries in Tuesday, one of the tournament directors, Red Cannon, announced today.

Drawings for first round opponents will be made tonight at Ralls. The complete first round schedule of games, beginning Wednesday night, will be announced in Wednesday's Lubbock Avalanche and Journal.

A dozen or more teams have indicated definitely they will enter, Cannon said, and he expects approximately that many more. Games will start at 7 o'clock each evening. No team will be required to play every night. Saturday night is the scheduled closing date, but a larger number of entries may force an extra day or two, Cannon indicated.

Coach Ed Gallagher, who has been turning out national and Olympic wrestling champions at Oklahoma A. and M. college for 21 years, announces: "My 1937 team will be the greatest I've ever had."

Slaton Oilers Impress Fans In First Win

Walla Walla Quintet Leads Way Into Third Round At Denver; Oilers Win From Home Club In Round One

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, March 15. — A husky, slick-passing, sharp-shooting quintet from Walla Walla, Wash., led the way into the third round of the men's National AAU basketball tournament here late this afternoon as it defeated the lone Cincinnati, O., entrant, 66 to 26. Both teams drew byes for the first round.

In the final first round game the Wichita, Kas., Gas quintet came from behind to defeat the Cleveland, O., Brass team, 35 to 30.

Oklahoma Teams Fade

The first round provided more than the usual run of tight contests, including two which went into overtime. The Mohawks of Amsterdam, N. Y., defeated Cowley, Wyo., 34 to 33 yesterday and Oklahoma City university edged out University of Idaho Southern Branch, 34 to 32, today in the overtime encounters. Oklahoma City U. was the only one of four Oklahoma college teams to survive the opening round.

Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers of Weatherford, Central Teachers of Edmond and Panhandle A&M of Goodwell all fell by the wayside, victims of other college teams.

Southwestern put up the sternest battle, dropping a heart-breaker to New Mexico Normal of Las Vegas, 44 to 43. The Oklahomans, apparently soundly thumped as they trailed at the end of the first half 29 to 13, staged a stirring rally to tie the score at 33 midway in the last period.

Oilers Win Close One

The New Mexico team then staged its own rally to take a comfortable lead, only to have Smith of Southwestern score two field goals in the last minute to narrow the gap. A final bid for victory failed as the ball rolled around the hoop and out in the last few seconds.

Standout teams in the first round contests included the towering West Texas Teachers, the Slaton, Tex., Oilers, and the Walla Walla quintet.

The Slaton Oilers made up largely of former Texas Tech college players and assisted by a hot duet from Hardin-Simmons, Jim Neely and Gene McCollum, pulled out of a close first round with the New York Furniture company of Denver. Adding color to the tornament with a ball-handling wizard, Hugh Snodgrass, captain of the 1937 Texas Tech team, the Oilers took a 51 to 48 victory. Slaton's vocal defense of yips and kiyoodles whenever the opposition was about to shoot was distressing to the opponents but added something to the tournament, pleasing the fans no end.

The Oilers were not scheduled to play Monday.

The West Texas Teachers, one of the tallest teams in the tournament, advanced through the first round with a 62-24 victory over Adams Normal of Alamose, Colo.

East Texas Wins

Another Texas collegiate team, the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks from Nacogdoches, prevailed in the first round, defeating Southern Oregon Normal of Ashland, 52-47.

Four seeded teams, including two college quintets, went into action in tonight's continuation of the second round. Long Island university and Warrensburgh, Mo., teachers, the seeded collegians, met West Texas Teachers and the Stephen F. Austin Teachers of Nacogdoches, Tex., respectively. The Denver Safeways and the Hollywood Stars, seeded, met Oberlin, Kas., and the Salt Lake City Eckers, respectively.

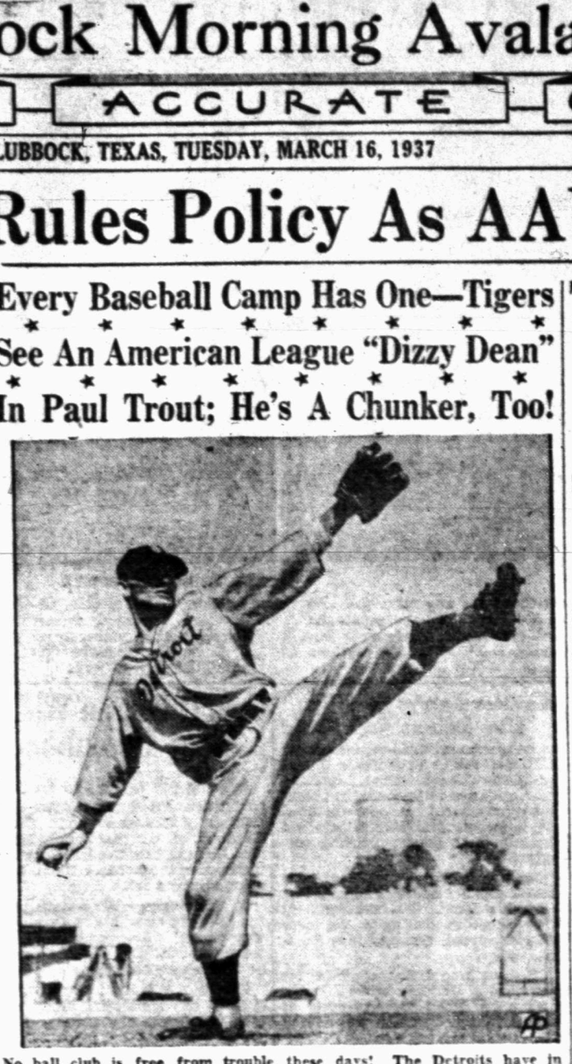

Frisch To Make Changes In Lineup For Game With Yanks

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 15. (AP)—Manager Frankie Frisch said today he expects to make several changes in his lineup for the exhibition game with the world champion Yankees here tomorrow. The Cardinals broke even in a two-game series with the Giants over the week end.

Every Baseball Camp Has One—Tigers See An American League "Dizzy Dean" In Paul Trout; He's A Chunker, Too!

No ball club is free from trouble these days! The Detroits have in camp one Paul Trout, who can get solemn when he has to win a ball game, although he's usually gay. Above, he shows his stuff.

By CHARLES GRUMICH
AP Feature Service Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. — There's one in every baseball camp and with the Detroit Tigers he's Paul H. (Dizzy) Trout, the Hilarious Hoosier who used to commute between Terre Haute, Ind., and Chicago in sidedoor pullmans.

The voluble youngster (he'll be 21 June 19) is the life of the party for Mickey Cochrane's serious-minded mob of apple-busters.

But Dizzy has a dual personality: (1) A solemn workmanlike demeanor on the mound when there's a ball game to be bagged; (2) a peppery clown act when it's over or before it starts. If Cochrane wants comedy, Trout gets Dizzy.

Mr. Trout is nuts—about baseball and nothing else—as colorful as the occasion demands.

Mr. Trout speaks quiet willingly and endlessly on any subject:

"Yep, I caught on with Terre Houte, my hometown, in the 3-Eye league and won 14 and lost 7 my first year. All I had was a fast ball and a change of pace. No curve and my control was bad. I'm developing a curve now and I've got to have control before the middle of the season when I usually get things in hand.

"I went to seven or eight different high schools around Terre Haute and Chicago (everything he sees in Florida is no better than "what we got back home in Terre Haute").

"I expect I might go to school some more. Been on my own the last six, seven years. I'll go either to business college or study journalism. Boy, wouldn't that be great, working on a newspaper in the offseason? Sure, I can write. I put on a story the other day for one of the Detroit papers.

"About this clowning, now. They make me out as a screwball, but there are times when you can afford to be funny and times when you can't. Take last year when I was with Indianapolis (won 8, lost 7). We didn't have a winning ball club, and you can't clown when you're not on top.

"I was born on a farm and my father's a coal-miner out there in Indiana now.

"I hopped a freight to Chicago in 1934 and worked three weeks with the White Sox, but they didn't give me a look. Sure, I used to hop freights to Chicago. Used to go there and play semi-pro ball and got money for it. They don't have any pitchers in Chicago. First I played outfield, then third and I went with Terre Haute as a pitcher.

"Hank Greenberg and I come down here two weeks before the rest and been working every day. I don't think of nothin' but baseball—live it, eat it, sleep it.

"What'll I do this year?" Here Dizzy turned on his serious personality.

"Well, I think, I'll win—if I stay with the club and I expect to—five more ball games than I lose. That's a pretty good statement, ain't it?"

Manager Cochrane thinks he'll stick.

HERE's some more of it . . . he's in a walking race, with a headdress of his own design . . .

And here he is, worn out from tossing a few from the race, and from pepping up the Tigers.

Charley Gelbert Stars For Winning Side On Reds Club

TAMPA, March 15. (AP)—Veteran Charley Gelbert, playing second for the "Sheehans," was the batting and fielding hero of today's Cincinnati Reds' intra-squad contest. Covering second in fine style, Gelbert contributed a home run that tied the score and drove in another run with a double before the game was halted by rain after the sixth inning. The Sheehans won, 5 to 2.

Buffalo Kill On Schreiner Ranch To Provide Meat For C. C. Secretaries Banquet

KERRVILLE, March 15. (AP)—W. N. Blanton of Houston killed a buffalo today in a hunt on the ranch of L. A. Schreiner, Kerrville banker who owns one of the few remaining herds.

Meat from the buffalo will be served at a banquet of the Southern Association of Chamber of Commerce secretaries at Houston March 23.

Tickets Ready For AAU Joust At Texas Tech

Fifty Athletes, More Or Less, To Compete In District Ring Tournament Thursday, Friday Nights At Tech Gym

Tickets for the Lubbock district A. A. U. boxing tournament, scheduled Thursday and Friday nights at the Texas Tech gymnasium, went on sale yesterday at the Hub Clothiers, and numerous ringside chairs were reserved before the store was closed.

Approximately 50 young fighters, amateurs with good intentions and a love of the fight game, will throw leather in reckless style here this week, with trips to Houston and the State tournament as the first prize for winners in eight weight divisions.

More than 40 fighters already have entered, and the list includes many of those who competed in the Golden Gloves tournament here and the A. A. U. joust at Clovis.

Two State Champs

Eastern New Mexico fighters are invited to compete here.

Babe Ritchie, heavyweight from Lubbock High who won the state championship, after copping the district Golden Gloves title here, and Flyweight Lewis Terrell, also of Lubbock High, state champion, both of whom entered the national Golden Gloves tournament at Chicago, are favored in their divisions here this week.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Association of Texas Tech Lettermen.

Persons who wish to assure themselves of good seats for the tourney are urged to procure tickets in advance at the Hub Clothiers. Prices are 25 cents for students, 40 cents general admission and 65 cents, ringside.

Newcomers Make Football Bid In Spring Training

Possibility of a lot of "new blood in Lubbock High school football ranks was indicated in a regulation game yesterday as part of spring training at the Westerner gridiron.

The lone touchdown came on the first play of the fourth quarter, following long runs by O. B. Southard and George Tate late in the third period. Tate drove two yards for the counter.

Via Ground And Air

"The Chiefs" displayed a superior running attack, while the "Hotrocks" depended on aerial thrusts. The work of Jack Lovin, D. H. Stockton and Jimmie Neil stood out for the "Rocks" while Pat Parris, Paul Sparkman and Tate were stars for the Chiefs.

The lineups:

Chiefs—Burford Gregory and Billy Phillips, ends; Pat Parris and L. V. Risinger, tackles; Jarrell Brown and R. E. Jones, guards; Earl Jones, center; O. B. Southard, quarter; Paul Sparkman and Ocie Wadsworth, halfs, and George Tate, fullback. Sidney Wright also got into the game.

Hotrocks—Alton Barker and Joe McCraw, ends; Edward Owens and Ray Barker, tackles; D. H. Stockton and Woodrow Turner, guards; Amon Sampson, center; Jimmie Niel, quarterback; Henry Drake and Jack Lovin, halfbacks and Oran Wilson, jr., fullback. Subs: Murrell Hamilton, Ancil Douthit and Roy Nesbit.

Joseph E. Widener led the list of nominators for the Matron Stakes with 14. All of these fillies will be eligible for the 1939 renewal of the event.

The Garden Knew Sonja's Number Would "Go Over"

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Sonja Henie holds all-time record for prompting telephone calls, without once having to pick up receiver herself . . . Norwegian ice skating queen's only appearance at Madison Square Garden this winter prompted more than 2,200 phone inquiries in single day . . . Previous record for Garden, which feels pulse of public interest day-by-day phone checkup, was 1,700 calls about winter sports show . . . All Yankees wanted for Holdout Lou Gehrig, when talking trade with Cleveland, was First Baseman Hal Trosky and Pitcher Mel Harder . . . On top of that proposition, which didn't get beyond conversational stage, Indians would have had to pay Gehrig more than combined salary of Trosky and Harder. .

Texas Bunion Derby

Memories of famous "bunion derbies" promoted by C. C. "Cash & Carry" Pyle decade ago will be revived by 1,400-mile foot-racing marathon from Mexico City to Dallas, this year, as part of greater Texas and Pan-American exposition sports program in the Texas city . . . Runners will be limited to 50 miles per day, in quest of $10,000 prize money, half of which will go to winner . . . Starters may include Argentina's Juan Carlos Zabala, Olympic marathon champion of 1932. . .

Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, Madison Square Garden's prexy, will shake off heavyweight headache this week by making trip to Texas . . . His purpose: To sign up rodeo, which ranked second only to professional hockey in drawing power at Eighth Avenue arena last year. . .

Oil Fields May Be Found In Glacier Areas, Geologist Says

LOS ANGELES, March 15. (AP) — Donald C. Barton, Houston, Tex., geologist, declared today that oil fields may be found under the diminishing glaciers of the North American continent.

"It will cost more and more to find oil but there are undoubtedly many fields yet to be discovered," said Barton on arriving here for the convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, opening Wednesday.

LABOR UNION CITED

DALLAS, March 15. (AP) — Judge Towne L. Young cited three labor unions today to appear in court Saturday and show cause why they should not be restrained from violence. The order was issued in a suit filed in connection with garment workers strike.

The suit was brought by Sheba Ann Frocks, inc., against locals 121, 204 and 248 of the International Ladies Garment Workers union.

The Purdue cagers received their first defeat in 15 starts from Illinois, just before mid-semester exams.

Bennett Comes Back To Local Wrestle Arena

Clever Oklahoman To Grapple Nick Bozinis; Ace Freeman And Rod Fenton Also Lend Color To Supporting Card

Ace Freeman, the dark-haired youth who displayed certain earmarks of a professional wrestler in his victorious debut here last week, meanders back to Sled Allen's ring tomorrow night for a second trial before going on as a main eventer.

The New York lad meets Rod Fenton, the Canadian terror, in the curtain raiser Wednesday night. Fenton bowed to burly Sailor Tex Watkins in the main event last week. Freeman defeated another newcomer, Larry Schaaf of Indiana, in the prelim. As a result, Freeman gets another chance, Fenton drops to the supporting card.

This supporting card is further embellished by the presence of another pair of main eventers—Nick Bozinis of New York state and George Bennett of Oklahoma.

Moran Meets Indian

Bennett started out here under favorable conditions, and built up a large following before Sailor Moran came along and knocked him off the perch. One of the most graceful and handsome of the younger crop of middleweights, Bennett is a pleasing-to-the-eye grappler, his fault lying in his slowness to take offense and "get rough."

The main event brings Yaqui Joe and Sailor Moran to blows and holds. Moran, absent since his licking by Sailor Watkins but still one of the best drawing cards ever presented here, rules a slight favorite over the husky but slightly aged Indian. Their brawl, nevertheless, is expected to find favor with a large section of local mat fandom.

Bible And Wolf To Coach Texas All-Star Teams

Dana Bible, University of Texas mentor, and Raymond "Bear" Wolf, head coach at University of North Carolina, will oppose each other as coaches of teams figuring in the 1937 all-star Texas High school football game at Waco in August.

Weldon Chapman, head coach at Lubbock High and secretary of the Texas High School Football Coaches association, said the Bible would coach the all-Northern team and that Wolf would administer to the all-Southern squad, which will clash as a climax to the association's coaching school Aug. 2-7. L. C. Wood of Cameron, who succeeded Blair Cherry of the Texas staff as president of the association, authorized the announcement, Chapman said. Bible and Wolf, with H. D. "Red" Drew of Alabama university, are to be instructors at the annual school.

Trees Damaged By Cold Spell

Nearly All Open Buds Possibly Killed On Peach And Apricot Trees; Mercury Dropped To 22 Degrees Sunday Night

Blooming peach and apricot trees were damaged by Sunday's cold weather, with probability that nearly all of the open buds were killed, according to C. E. Russell, head of the horticulture department, Texas Technological college, Monday.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station ventured the same opinion. Both men added that it would take from 24 to 36 hours to determine whether or not swollen buds, not opened, also had been killed. Both indicated that it was possible some were killed.

Mercury dropped to 26 Sunday and to 22 Monday. Ice formed Monday morning.

Elms May Be Damaged

Mr. Russell said he visited the college orchard Monday morning and brought to his office a number of buds, which he placed in water to determine the extent of the freeze. He also stated that it was probable some of the Chinese elm buds, in which seed were forming, likewise were injured by the freeze.

Later blooming fruit trees apparently were uninjured, such as apple, plum, cherry, etc. Grapes also are uninjured.

No report of damage to early spring flowers, blooming outside, had been made Monday. A number of bulb flowers are in bloom and others are expected to bloom shortly.

Little damage to wheat has occured, unless a dry freeze came to some sections of the wheat area, where no moisture has fallen recently.

The cold will probably retard somewhat the development of buds on trees and shrubs at this time.

Foreclosure Suit Is Filed Against Texas House Dean

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 15. (AP) W. E. Pope, dean of the Texas house of representatives, and Mrs. Lucille Pope, today were named in a foreclosure suit filed in federal district court by the United States government in connection with an income tax lien of approximately $200,000.

The government seeks to foreclose on extensive property in Corpus Christi, ranch lands in Brewster county, acreage in Hardin county, property in Hidalgo county and various other parcels of land.

A temporary restraining order, enjoining the defendants from disposing of or encumbering any of the property has been issued by Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly of Houston who will be here Thursday for a special term of court at which hearing on the injunction is scheduled.

Tax Claim Against Andrew Mellon Bobs Up In Debate On Accepting Of Art Collection

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) — A federal tax claim against Andrew Mellon bobbed up today in senate debate on legislation providing acceptance of the former treasury secretary's art collection.

Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) mentioned " a case pending in the board of tax appeals" in urging that the senate provide for "public instead of private control" of the proposed new national gallery of art.

"What has the tax situation got to do with this?" demanded Senator Connally (D-Tex). "Of course the senator just wants to kick Mr. Mellon around."

"I doubt very seriously that the gift will be withdrawn if congress sets up certain terms and conditions." La Follette said. "The reason is the estate tax rate now in force. It is a matter of common knowledge that these collections are not desirable to estates."

A companion acceptance resolution passed the house earlier today without debate.

The headlines in pictures—and for a century back. That is Co. Supt. Joseph R. Griggs' most recent plan of educational motion pictures in rural schools. The historical talking pictures, called "A Day With the Sun," were shown Monday at New Deal and at Cooper Rural High schools. They portray "top" news carried in the New York Sun in the past 100 years—the Civil and the World wars, guerilla campaigns, assassinations, floods, progress of transporation, and the like. The superintendent is an ardent exponent of visual education. He will show the pictures at all county rural schools he said.

A market square building became an automatic brake of Gene Gauny's truck, and the driver was sped by Rix ambulance to Lubbock sanitarium Monday night for treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning. After emergency treatment of surgeons, he told a newspaperman he was driving from Big Spring to Ralls, his home, and noticed a headache, sluggishness and other distress. Gauny, 34, drove from Lamesa to Lubbock with his head "stuck out a cab window." Stopping his truck here he believed he had recovered, and attempted to proceed to Ralls. He lost consciousness and ran into the building, said witnesses. The ambulance run was made to 600-block East Broadway.

Condition of O. W. McCleod, proprietor of the Lubbock Laundry company, who suffered burns about the face and hands yesterday morning when gas in the laundry boiler room became ignited, was reported as "good" last night at the Lubbock sanitarium. He lives at 2223 Main street.

Court orders growing out of hearings last week asking temporary injunctions restraining Texas Liquor Control board from interfering with applicants' permits to dispense liquor for medicinal purposes, Monday were signed and filed by Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court. Permits of Pope Pool and Oran Wilson, applicants, were ordered cancelled, and a temporary restraining order which had issued for Pool was ordered dissolved. Costs were assessed against plaintiffs.

Bill Pierce, Denver Coal and Fuel company employe, suffered cuts and bruises Sunday night when his automobile struck a culvert near Carlisle, witnesses said. He was following another machine and attempting to steer by the lead car's lights after his lights had gone out, it was explained. Approximately 15 sutures were necessary, but he was released after treatment at West Texas hospital.

Skelly Oil Company Reports Profits Of $4,850,314 In '36

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Skelly Oil co. and subsidiaries reported for 1936 net profit of $4,850,314, equal to $4.42 a share, compared with $2,585,849 or $2.16 a share in 1935. Producing properties are in Texas Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Arkansas.

PRISONER SLASHES SELF

DALLAS, March 15. (AP)—Ernest James Clark, 38, scheduled to go to trial today in the "stomping" slaying of Miss Pauline Smith, 34, was in the county jail hospital ward with five slashes in his arms. He told authorities he inflicted the cuts with a safety razor blade.

The prisoner then was taken to court where a motion for continuance was granted.

Tax Returns Are Increased

L. B. Barkley, Deputy Collector Of Internal Revenue, Reports Largest Number Of Returns In Years Here

Prosperity has come again to the South Plains, if one is to judge by the number of federal income tax reports filed for the 1936 fiscal year, according to L. B. Barkley, deputy collector of internal revenue, last night.

"We have had the largest number of returns handled by this office in years," he said." I think we have handled between 300 and 400 returns. These do not count the number mailed direct. It does not seem to me that one tenth of the total number of returns have gone through this office, as most of them are mailed direct to Dallas."

Mr. Barkley explained that many firms, and individuals, who employ tax experts or attorneys to make out their returns, mail them direct to the collector for the northern district of Texas.

Monday was the last day for filing returns. Mr. Barkley kept the office open until late last night. J. H. Hooper chief deputy at Dallas, has been here since Friday and he left last night for his headquarters.

Perjury Complaint Is Filed As Result Of Damage Action

A perjury complaint filed Monday afternoon in the court of S. E. McMillan, justice of peace, was a repercussion from civil remedy recently sought by Jim Ellis and wife, negroes, from C. L. Donaldson.

Two mistrials in action of the negroes for $185 in damages have resulted in Justice McMillan's courts, because of hung juries.

Donaldson, complainant in Monday's charge, set out the negro man had identified Donaldson as being driver of an automobile that struck a car driven by the negro Dec. 29 two miles northwest of Shallowater, whereas, Donaldson set out, neither was he the driver nor was he "at the scene of collision" . . . and Ellis' statement was "wilfully and deliberately false and he knew it to be false when he made it."

Grover Gillett Is Named As Shallowater Group Chairman

Grover Gillett was named chairman, O. C. Medlock vice chairman, and W. H. Robison was elected to the other slot of a community committee when 500 farmers of the Shallowater district met Monday night at Shallowater to review the 1937 farm program.

In the district are the communities of County Line, Hardy, Grovesville, and Northwest Ward, said O. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent.

Named first and second alternates were John R. Murrell and H. M. Dunlop, respectively.

A similar meeting, continuing a series of such this week, tonight will be conducted at Monroe. Farmers of Center, Liberty and Caldwell are asked to attend, said Jobson.

Dykstra To Take University Of Wisconsin Job For $15,000; Leaves $25,000 Job To Do It

CHICAGO, March 15. (AP)—Clarence A. Dykstra prepared today to wind up a career as Cincinnati city manager to become president of the University of Wisconsin.

The university's board of regents will meet Thursday to act upon a recommendation of the university executive committee that the 54-year-old official succeed Glenn Frank who was ousted last January 7.

John M. Callahan said Dykstra agreed to a year-to-year contract at $15,000 annually. His salary as city manager is $25,000 a year.

Civil Cases Being Tried This Week

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court this morning will rule on matters designed to simplify issues in the civil action of John F. Schriver against M. F. Klattenhoff, suit on account and damages.

Preliminary arguments were heard Monday and a jury was selected yesterday afternoon.

McWhorter and Howard are attorneys for the plaintiff and R. A. Baldwin of Slaton is representing the defendant.

Cases of Laverne Garrison against J. C. Roberts and others, suit for injunction, is scheduled for hearing Wednesday. Law firm of McWhorter and Howard will represent plaintiff and E. L. Klett is attorney for defendants.

R. L. Johnson, represented by McWhorter and Howard, against City of Lubbock, represented by Bradley and Wilson, suit for damages, will be heard Thursday. The case of J. A. Hodges against Aubrey Cole and others, suit on debt and note, has been set by Judge Pitts for Friday. Attorneys are Bean and Bean for plaintiff and William H. Evans for defendant.

All but the case of Garrison against Roberts are jury cases.

Four nonjury cases will be heard by Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court this week. They are American National Insurance company against J. R. Graves, Abel against Abel, J. A. Rix and others against J. A. Morris and Robert Sowder, and Panhandle Construction company against Dovie L. Roberson and Robert Sowder.

Penned in a stuffy cabin approximately 8x10 feet, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pruitt and eight children "stairstepping" from one to 16 years old are subsisting.

The father has influenza and all the others sniffle and cough from recent sieges of that ailment. The 16-year-old boy is "up and about" but he doesn't feel well, either.

Only One Bed

There is one bed. "We hafta clean off the floor and let them sleep on pallets," said the mother.

Seven of "them" have "come along" in the last eight years.

To eat, there is a lard bucket filled with buttermilk. Three loaves of bread. Two-bits worth of spuds. A slight amount of lard. And a few pounds of beans.

The Salvation Army and the Baptist church have been there through representatives.

Have 26 Active Cases

"But we're out of money," said Capt. John G. Churchill. "We have 26 active cases on our rolls. There is another family like this one. Mother and father and five children. Sickness there. Then there's a widow and her two children. She's not sick anymore, but she lost her job because of illness.

"We need help. This cold spell has accented suffering. In the case of Pruitt, he was doing all right while warm weather lasted. He had yard work and paid for his groceries and room. But influenza and bad weather placed his case up to relief agencies.

"The Salvation Army would appreciate the public's cognizance of these cases."

ARRIVE BY TRAIN

NAGPUR, India, March 15. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived by train today from Calcutta and were met at the station by G. P. Burton, financial adviser to the central provinces government.

SHE was "notorious" for her sick headaches. Finally a friend said, "Why don't you give NRs a trial?" With Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) she noted a thorough cleansing of poisonous wastes — a complete natural action that she hadn't experienced for ages. Yet so gentle and refreshing. Try NRs yourself. They are so fine for constipation, so useful in warding off colds, so-called "bilious spells" and other conditions caused by faulty elimination. Only 25c for box of 25 at any drugstore.

State Solons Face Problems

Liquor Measures, Child Labor And Social Security Laws Are "Top" Items On Lawmakers' Calendar

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 15. — Liquor measures the child labor amendment, and social security were "top" items on calendars today as a majority of state legislatures hurried toward adjournment.

South Carolina passed a "local option" liquor bill. The Georgia house rejected a similar measure but was slated to reconsider it Wednesday. The New York senate considered legislation passed by the lower house to end "cocktail" marriages. A Texas house committee turned down a bill which would prohibit liquor sale near churches and schools.

Seek To Define "Intoxicating"

Kansas legislators sought to define what constitutes "intoxicating" beer. A state liquor dispensary was proposed in Minnesota.

Rejected in New York, the child labor amendment was still considered in Missouri, Rhode Island, and Nebraska. Public hearings for opponents of the movements were scheduled in Missouri.

Social security legislation was paramount in North and South Carolina. Relief financing and taxes still clogged action in Ohio, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

In Texas, repeal of legalized horse race betting was considered in committee.

Allows Only $100 Californian's Will Makes Provision

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 15. (AP) — The holographic will of Walter Nordhoff, father of Charles Barnard Nordhoff, co-author of "Mutiny On The Bounty," specifies that only $100 be spent from his estate on his funeral.

The will, filed for probate today, left many large estates in the United States, Canada and Mexico, entirely to the widow, Mrs. Sarah Nordhoff of Santa Barbara.

Nordhoff died February 25. His father, Charles Nordhoff, California pioneer and author, founded the town of Nordhoff, now called Ojai.

Twenty Club Boys Asked To Join In Tour Over County

Twenty 4-H club boys have been asked to meet with R. R. Reppert, College Station, entomologist of the Extension service, at a meeting here April 3, when a tour of the county in search of insects will be made, Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent, said last night.

Three or four hours during the day will be devoted to a tour of the county searching for insects. The work will be counted as a 4-H club demonstration.

Out of the group is hoped to be named a team to classify insects at the short course at College Station this summer.

"If there are any other boys interested in this subject, they should get in touch with me as soon as they can." Mr. Thompson said. "This is a new work and it is going to be very interesting work. We have asked 20 boys to meet with us, but we can handle more than that number."

Boys invited to make the trip include:

Alvie Joe Ater, Route 1 Lubbock; Frank Gray, Route 1, Lubbock; Harl Moore, Idalou; Gene Sawyer, Route 1, Lubbock; Joe Doyle, Shallowater; Wayland Edwards, Route 2, Lubbock; George Kveton, Abernathy; Allen Gamble, Route 6, Lubbock; Charles Seale, Hurlwood; Kenneth Smith, Route 5, Lubbock; Chester Gilbreath, Route 1, Idalou; Shirley Garrison Route 1, Idalou; Kenneth Goebel, Route 1, Abernathy; Melvin Johnson, Route 1, Slaton; Wilmoth McArthur, 2101 13th street, Lubbock; Alonzo Miller, Route 2, Slaton; A. It's YOUR Public Debt!

MOST readers of The Morning Avalanche probably have taken little personal interest in the public debt.

Doubtless, at first blush, the average South Plains citizen would think the amount of the debt—and the fact that it is increasing all the time—means little to him and a discussion of the debt could not be as interesting as a discussion of numerous other questions of the day.

If he is not interested in the debt, he should be, for it is partly his debt—and to a greater extent than he believes.

As Al Smith used to say, "let's take a look at the record."

The public debt now stands at an unprecedented peak of $34,500,000,000. That is about double the figures of the late twenties and eight billions above the wartime top of 1919.

We have become so used to reading of a national debt above the 30 billion mark that we are not much stirred by the figures as they mount and mount. We even look with a degree of complacency upon the light-minded statements of some persons that even a national debt of 50 billions is nothing for so rich a country as this to worry about.

But break down the figures which represent the present peak and we can begin to see what they mean to the individual. "Treasury ledgers," reads an Associated Press dispatch, "show today that if all the nation's 129,000,000 inhabitants pitched in to wipe out the federal debt it would cost them $267.36 each."

Inasmuch as there are many persons among those 129,000,000 inhabitants who would find it impossible to pull $267.36 out of their pockets if we all pitched in to pay the national debt, it follows that a lot of others would have to dig up more than their share. Right at the outset, you would have to eliminate children, women without incomes, men with out jobs and others whose jobs provide no surplus over maintenance. Really, quite a number of millions of the total of 129,000,000 inhabitants must be crossed off the lists of payers of the national debt. So if the national debt were to be paid by those who are able to pitch in and pay it, the individual share might easily be twice—maybe more—what the average share is stated to be.

When you realize that, you may realize what a national debt of present size means to the individual. If you had to pay your share today the realization would be even sharper.

In fact, it probably would be so sharp that the average reader of The Morning Avalanche would yelp with anger—and then start doing what he could to stop wild spending in Washington, in Austin and in all the precincts, municipalities and school districts everywhere.

Think it over!

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, is in love with LARRY SMITH, architect. Daphne has one younger sister, JENNIFER.

Jennifer resents Daphne's attempts to guide her career. First she dates TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy, in defiance of Daphne; next she makes a play for Larry. This develops a struggle between the two sisters.

Eventually the sisters reach a showdown, but it is clear that Jennifer intends to lead her own life; possible marry Tuck Ainsley. Meanwhile Daphne sees Larry again and the same night, later, he proposes marriage over the telephone. Daphne, deliriously happy, wants to say "yes," but she knows her first duty is to get Jennifer successfully launched on a career. She plans to tell Larry just this, ask him to wait, and then Jennifer comes home with the announcement that she has lost her job.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Back of them the music played softly. Sixty stories below the lights of Manhattan blinked out the outlines of the city streets that spread beneath them like a toy village. Overhead the stars shone down upon them and a new moon, riding high, lighted the terrace on the Star Light Roof.

"Isn't it beautiful, Larry? It's . . . somehow it's so beautiful it seems unreal. Look down there. Can you believe that's the same street you walked on today? Wouldn't you think if we were to go down we'd find dolls instead of people? And the trolley cars would turn out to be musical toys that played a little sing-song melody when they started. The busses would be manned by tiny iron men sitting upright. And, from there, the April moon would only be an electric light bulb."

"Daphne, what's the matter?" Larry turned her about gently but still her eyes didn't meet his.

"There isn't anything the matter," she said.

He lighted a cigaret, drew on it and threw it away. "There is. I feel that you have withdrawn into yourself. All evening long I've had the feeling that you've been trying to avoid me, avoid hearing me tell you . . ."

"I didn't mean to," she said.

"Last night on the telephone I told you that tonight I was going to ask you to marry me. I haven't much to offer you, Daphne, but everything I have is yours. Things are getting better and next year our firm is branching out in a big way. Will you marry me, darling?"

Daphne caught her breath and closed her eyes. Nothing, at this minute, could take away her ecstacy but she couldn't speak.

"Will you?" His voice was so low she could hardly hear it.

"Oh, my sweet! I can't tell you I will. But I want to."

"Then why can't you?"

She turned away again. "Larry you can't take on added responsibility. You've your mother and your aunt to take care of. A wife would be expensive. And I . . . I'm just getting along in my job."

His hands on her shoulders were cruely strong. "Daphne, you want me to believe that your job means more to you than marrying me?"

She didn't deny it but she couldn't say it did.

"Look at me." She raised her eyes. He said: "I knew I couldn't believe that. Will you tell me that you will marry me soon?"

"I can't tell you that either, Larry. I can't even ask you to wait."

His eyes searched her face. "Will you tell me that you love me?"

"I do," she said simply.

Because he understood, because her two words meant that she would always love him, he held her tenderly for a moment.

"I'll wait and I'll ask you again and again until you are ready to tell me why you can't now and why you will some day."

Reprieve. Hope. The moment had come and gone and it was not all over. She should have known it would not be. She should have known what manner of man, her man was.

"You see, Daphne, I can't give up because you refuse me now. I've had other girls, been infatuated, romantic, but you are the one girl. I knew it the first day I saw you. A man doesn't accept the wrong answer when he feels as I do."

"Larry," her voice was soft but her tones were tense, "please don't give up. I'm going to ask you to at another time and this is the last time I'll say this, but I've got to tell you that I never want you to stop asking me. Tomorrow I'll know this is unfair and I can't explain it but there it is. With no explanations."

He laughed. "Are you trying to tell me you have a past?"

"No, a present," she said enigmatically. "Now let's go back and dance. Did I forget to tell you that you're my favorite dancing partner?"

He bowed deeply. "Madame is indeed kind. I try hard but I feel that my dancing career was blighted in my youth. Blighted by the little girl with the buck teeth that I used to draw for a partner in dancing school. I've never caught up on my rhythm since."

"Your rhythm suits me fine and you may have all the dances you want with me."

"Miss Brett, consider your card filled for the rest of your life. Look, Daphne." He lifted his hand as though to show her a picture on the horizon. "Do you see those two old people? The lovely lady with silver hair and the gentleman tottering to her? That, my lovely, is the devoted Smith couple at the age of 80 odd. Look carefully now, as he turns on the radio. Ah, it is a tango. The lady rises gracefully and flits herself into a seductive embrace. The dance begins—"

"It will probably take us that long to learn the tango," Daphne jibed affectionately. "And since this orchestra is playing a tango and that is not our meat, I think I'll take advantage of it to repair my complexion. I'll only be a minute."

"Do you feel like being very gay?" Daphne said she did.

"Good. It's not quite eleven. Why don't we go to a Broadway night club and blow whistles and rattle rattlers and see life?"

"All right. I think it would be fun. But you've mussed my hair, so I'll run along and prepare myself for my Broadway debut."

She ran down the flight of steps to the floor below where the dressing room was located beside the elevators at the last stop. She was half into the dressing room when she heard a voice hailing her and turned to find Jack Cartwright at her elbow.

"Hello, Jack. I haven't seen you in a month of Sundays. I thought you were in Virginia for the rest of your life. Thought you'd deserted us." She was genuinely glad to see him. She had met Tuck and Jack at the same party and Jack had paid her ardent attentions until he withdrew in favor of Tuck. He had been away a long time.

"I got back just in time, didn't I?"

"It all depends on what you mean by that."

"To congratulate you and Tuck."

"Now that's too sweet of you, Jack. Would you mind telling me what for?"

He squeezed her elbow and gave her a knowing smile. "So that's the way it is? An elopement, bleosh!"

Daphne laughed because it was so ridiculous. Jack didn't interpret that laugh correctly.

"I won't give you away, honey. Would you like to know how I found out?"

"Found out what?" she countered.

"About the wedding license."

"Oh, the wedding license. Yes . . . yes, I would."

"Old Jack is always in the place where news breaks. It happened to be the city hall today. Imagine my surprise to find Tuck walking out of the marriage license bureau! Well, sir, I walked right in, big as you please, said I was a reporter and wanted to see the day's batch. And there it was: a license sold to or issued to Tucker Ainsley and Jennifer D. Brett. But that D. didn't fool me a bit."

Daphne's face had gone whiter than her satin gown. She wet her dry lips.

"Excuse me," she said and brushed past him.

"Oh, Larry, we've got to stop this," she said, half-stumbling up the stairs to where he waited for her at the top. "Hurry!"

Farmers In Wheat Territory Are Encouraged By Prospects

LAKIN, Kan., March 15. (AP)—Give southwestern Kansas two more weeks like the three or four, farmers said today, and there'll be no more serious dirt and dust storms the rest of the season.

Encouraged by another snow that covered fields an inch or more last week-end, farmers were optimistic over chances for a fair wheat crop and for prospects of spring crops.

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE inside story of steel's capitulation to Roosevelt-Lewis ultimatums constitutes one of the most exciting chapters in the industrial annals of America. The outcome hung by a hair until within a few hours of the announcement of a $5 day and a 40-hour week.

The industry didn't suspect it, but it had almost won its fight for exemption from Walsh-Healey provisions in the manufacture of navy steel. Secretary Perkins was about to kow to tremendous pressure when she was persuaded to make a last stand. She sent Assistant Secretary McGrady to New York for one more conference with U. S. Steel officials in their lower Broadway offices. For hours his most persuasive arguments fell on the deaf ears of Myron C. Taylor's topnotch aides. They were, they told him, determined to smash Lewis's C.I.O. and to defy Walsh-Healey restrictions.

Mr. McGrady got the same answer from heads of rival steel corporations in the East and West. Over the long-distance telephone they roared "No's" and "Never's" which pierced his ear drums. Meanwhile—reports to the contrary—three talks between Taylor and Lewis had generated personal understanding, but had produced no approach to a steel settlement.

ULTIMATUM: Steel had triumphed up to this moment—over the government and the C.I.O. But once more Miss Perkins was persuaded to postpone Walsh-Healey exemptions. Back again at the in Broadway's lower canyons Mr. McGrady divulged a new scheme for putting steel on the spot. He played his hidden, red-white-and-blue ace.

He revealed that Secretary Perkins planned to call a public hearing on the industry's apparent boycott of the navy. The first witnesses, according to Mr. McGrady's agenda, would be naval experts who would recite their failure to receive bids for guns and armor. Next they would describe the world armament race and set forth America's need for rearming. Distinguished members of House and Senate naval committees would testify that Uncle Sam lagged far behind on the sea. Commerce experts would list exports of American steel for foreign armies and navies. In short, the eagle would scream and the flag would wave.

Mr. McGardy delivered that ultimatum on February 23rd—the day after Washington's birthday. He scheduled the hearing for February 27th, then postponed it a few days. On March 2nd, without notifying Mr. McGrady or rival steel manufacturers, U. S. Steel proclaimed a new era in labor relations in the United States.

AGREE: Pledges of fealty which certain farm groups have made to President Roosevelt in the Supreme court battle indicate that their participation is not due entirely to altruistic motives.

A recent delegation to the White House consisted of farm leaders finincially interested in grain elevators, storage facilities and warehouses. Some draw or have drawn fancy salaries for serving as officials of farm corporations which own these properties. Naturally, they favor Secretary Wallace's program of crop insurance and the ever-normal granary. Should it become necessary for Uncle Sam to utilize their storage facilities, they would collect nice commissions and nice salaries. They might even pay back the $16,000,000 which they borrowed from the government in the first place.

The present Supreme court, however, might look with disfavor on the new A.A.A. policies and declare them to be unconstitutional. It has not shown itself to be farm-minded in the past. So these recent visitors to the White House agree with F.D.R. that six more justices should be elevated to the high tribunal.

PRESSURE: Democratic politicos, knowing who butters their bread, have paid more attention to National Chairman Farley's Supreme court speech than to President Roosevelt's two addresses on the same subject. At Chapel Hill, N. C., Mr. Farley warned that federal patronage will be distributed in accord with the Senate vote on this issue.

On the same day that Mr. Farley invaded North Carolina, the politicians discovered that he meant what he said. It is doubtful if there are two Senators more deeply opposed in principle to the presidential proposal than Messrs. Truman of Missouri and Dieterich of Illinois. Both are born conservatives, and in their cloakroom conversations they agree with Minority Leader Bert Snell of the House that "this (the court reform) is the beginning of the end of everything."

But while Mr. Farley was speaking, the two Senators were called to the telephone. Secretary McIntyre simply wanted to inform them that their candidates for federal judgeships had been appointed by the President. Senators Truman and Dieterich will now vote for six more judges on the Supreme court. Mr Farley did not speak in vain when he said that the President's opponents would be "more lonesome than American Liberty leaguers."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Chrysler strike was not planned by Committee for Industrial Organization headquarters. It is significant that John Lewis and his principal C.I.O. lieutenants left Homer Martin and other leaders of the United Automobile Workers to fry their own fish in this dispute instead of rushing to their assistance.

Current C.I.O. strategy calls for peaceful negotiations—minus strike threats—with any company or industry which voluntarily accepts a C.I.O. union as a collective bargaining agent for any fraction of its employes. Demands are being formulated in each particular case with an eye to how much the employer or employer group can reasonably be expected to concede. Forcing a strike by asking the impossible is rated unwise tactics for the present—assuming that any sort of recognition has been granted.

The Chrysler scenario was drawn to this pacific pattern in advance by the C.I.O. general staff. Somewhere along the line the signals got mixed. Union chiefs are tight-lipped about it and admit no dissension. But exceptionally informed New Yorkers express the conviction that the United Automobile Workers went off on an ambitious and unauthorized tangent of their own. The C.I.O. is an enthusiastic organization, but discipline is something less than perfect.

ILLUSION: The French government managed to irritate a lot of people with its ill-timed and futile request for permission to appoint a fiscal agent to handle its new "armament bond" issue in New York. It's a question whether Treasury officials or New York bankers were more annoyed at the tactless blunder.

The story behind-the-news is that the French authorities were only trying, by a clumsy roundabout gesture, to impress their own citizens. It is touch-and-go whether the bond issue will be a success. Somebody in the French government had an inspiration. Interest on the bonds was made payable in francs, pounds OR DOLLARS—the intended implication being that they would be attractive to international investors.

Then it was decided to carry the illusion a step further and create an American fiscal agent—not because such an agent would actually do any business, but in the naive hope that French investors would deduce a lively American appetite for the bonds and would therefore rush to buy the issue themselves.

BUNGLED: Keen observers rate this move one of the prize boners in the history of international finance. Even if it had worked, it is unlikely that large French investors—a canny lot whose financial devotion to "la patrie" is measured by strictly business standards—would have been fooled by such a transparent ruse.

Still worse, the bright lads who concocted the plan either knew nothing or cared nothing about the most elementary American psychology. Otherwise it should have been obvious to them that their proposal would put the Treasury department on the spot with Congress and New York bankers on the spot with the government.

As a result of this ridiculous bungling, France has angered and alienated the only two elements in the United States that give a hoot in a hailstorm about French problems and that might have been disposed to cooperate in other ways if a really favorable opportunity to do so had been offered. The ambassadorship of Georges Bonnet is off to an extremely inauspicious start.

AGAINST COURT CHANGE

Editor, The Avalanche: In making our contribution locally, and as a private citizen, to the Supreme court discussion we are not taking sides with minorities or majorities, with the Republican or the Democratic party, nor with the New Deal or any other kind of deal politically. But we are taking sides with the collective character and will of the American people as expressed in their democratic constitution, as against any alien principle of government of whatever name or source.

Presidents are elected by the popular will of the people for a brief period of time, and in the midst of all the economic excitement that can be stirred up, and under the welter and confusion of all the political propaganda that can be put on. They do not represent the calm, deliberate, constitutional, collective will of the people; only the supreme law of the land can do that. Presidents come and go, but it was, and is intended, that the constitution shall endure.

The constitution of the United States, with its 21 amendments, and with its specific provision for as many more as the people collectively may wish to put in it, is the collective expression of the intellectual and moral convictions of the American people. This constitution is the basic law by which the people propose to be governed, and is rooted in, and grows out of, the collective intellect and heart. The people are attached to it because they are a part of it, and responsible for it. It compels the respect, obedience, and homage of all good men because it represents the collective character of which they are a part. This is the root philosophy of democratic government. This philosophy is inseparable from the history of the origin and character of the constitution.

This constitution has stood inviolate for more than 150 years. It has received the glad homage of the American people and compelled the respect of the civilized world. That character of "liberalization" that will permit any unauthorized man or men to read into any provision of the constitution any meanings or powers contrary to the plain legal language of such provision, and contrary to the constitutionally expressed will of the people, would if carried out to its logical sequence, "liberalize" and destroy every solemn treaty and compact between nations and men. And may we pause to say this very thing has, and is occurring, among nations today, and they are paying the price of their folly. Any unauthorized dealing with the constitution, by political indirection, constitutional circumvention, nullification or userpation, should be promptly repudiated by the people, as a violation of their original and unamended solemn compact, and as a violation of their expressed collective will. The time to avoid trouble now, and more trouble ahead, is to prevent its occurring.

With its clear provision for its amendment the constitution is the most progressive, up-to-date, vital, dynamic governmental document that ever fell from the hands of men. Its provisions can take care of all invention, all discovery, and all the progressive economic factors in the life of the people today or any other day. It can, if democratically used, correct the abuses of concentrated wealth on the one hand, and the poverty of 80 per cent of our people on the other hand. This constitution is not of the "horse and buggy age," it is of all ages. The coercive, penal control principle over the personal and private business of the people, is the thing that belongs to the horse and buggy age, and worse than that, it anti-dates the horse and buggy age by centuries of time, and its history is written in blood.

But the President wants to save the constitution from the Supreme court, and the court from itself, and he wants to do this with a haste that could only be equaled by a fire department rushing out to save a burning building. There is certain evidence to the effect that the court has been trying to save the constitution from the President. We doubt if the court tries to save the President from himself.

SHAW WRITES AGAIN

Editor, The Avalanche: Two railroad trains met at a crossing. Both had orders not to move until the other was out of sight. Both crews just sat down. Our Congress and Supreme court seem to be in the same fix. Both have jurisdiction over the other and neither can move until the other is "out of sight." Both had better just sit down—like I do!

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 50

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tighter and tighter the leaves of the carnivorous plant closed about the soft body of Ula Dale, like the slithering coils of some manybodied serpent. And now she felt the prickly tingle of the acid with which the monstrous growth would destroy her flesh.

A groping frond began to encircle her throat. Hope died in her heart, and she called out to George: "Tell Tarzan not to give up—go on—to the Green Goddess, and Lieutenant D'Arnot! Tell him," she gasped; "if—if you ever see him again." George shivered.

Soon, he knew, he would share Ula Dale's horrible fate. And now he gazed at his long-cherished rabbit's foot. "You've turned out to be a darned skunk's foot," he said bitterly, "and you've played me a dirty trick!" Then he flung the offending talisman to the ground.

At that moment, Tarzan of the Apes arrived silently overhead. His quick, observant eyes took in the situation at a glance. He saw Ula's plight—and the horde of hostile, well-armed warriors. But the Jungle Lord did not hesitate. He dropped down among them!

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Light selling sprinkled today's stock market with losses of fractions to 2 or more points.

While business news generally was viewed as satisfactory, numerous labor controversies, portending a downward revision at least in first quarter earnings for companies involved, tended to stem the buying tide in stocks.

In addition there was continued discussion in board rooms of possible steps the administration may take to prevent a possible runaway boom in staples and shares. There were also thoughts of a reaction in raw materials prices in the event a world armament conference is called to cut war preparation expenses.

At the same time wheat and cotton futures soared as foreign demand for these commodities was reported expanding.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yielded .7 of a point at 73.2.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 15. (AP)—Cotton trade in new high ground for 7 years today as brisk foreign and domestic buying lifted the market 25 to 33 points.

The advances were extended in the days dealings until at the finish 14.54 was bid for March, May sold at 14.19, July at 13.94 and Oct. at 13.43.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 15. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets was 14.52 cents a pound: for the past thirty days 13.27 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—The advance in cotton gained momentum today and on active general buying prices established net gains of $1.00 to $1.50 a bale to peaks since June, 1930.

May rallied from 14.10 to 14.27 and closed at 14.25 with final prices 22 to 31 points net higher.

Firm Liverpool cables and aggressive foreign demand accounted for opening advances of 20 to 27 points. Wall Street, commission houses, the trade and new leans bid for contracts which were supplied by rallying and hedge selling. The market sold to new highs for the day on active covering toward the finish here.

A favorable view of world consumption prospects, active cotton goods markets, firmness of spot cotton and a belief the staple was still under-priced in relation to other commodities were among the factors mentioned on the advance. Exports today 10,213 making a total of 4,345,680 for the season thus far. Port receipts 10,458; U. S. port stocks 1,894,318.

Death Mystery

He said he served a short sentence in Chicago for burglary.

Horn said the man's 22-year-old wife would be held as a material witness.

Aubuchon's body was taken to Las Cruces. State Policeman Jack L. Nichols said he was shot twice in the head. A coroner's inquest found he was shot by "parties unknown." Time of death was placed at "Friday or Saturday."

Aubuchon's body, Nichols said, was lying face up with both hands thrust in his coat pockets, about 200 yards off the road and hidden in a lava bed.

A mile and half beyond where the body was found, Nichols said, officers located this morning an abandoned automobile in which were found blood and human hair. The car belonged to Aubuchon's employer, Mrs. Jack St. Clair.

She told sheriff's officers that two men dressed as cowboys forced Aubuchon at gun point to enter the car last Thursday and drove away.

First Grange In Terry Is Organized; 125 At Meeting

MEADOW, March 15. (Special)—S. W. White was elected master tonight when the first National Grange chapter of Terry county was organized at Meadow. A. R. Hartzog was elected lecturer, A. J. Nelson secretary.

Approximately 125 attended, and there was a "satisfactory" charter list. Members of the Southwest Ward Grange chapter attended, said Harold W. Gaulrapp, national representative of the organization.

Educational motion pictures were shown, refreshments served, and announcement made that rural electrification would become a major project of the newly-organized chapter.

Several other visitors attended, including Tuy Travis of Lamesa, Donald Dyer of Brownfield, and Kenneth D. Frazier of Lubbock, local organizer and former Tech student.

Compromise Is Seen On Court

Senator Norris' Plan To Offer Amendment Is Hinted As Possible Method By Leaders Of Administration

These amendments, however, do not have direct relationship to the increase in the Supreme court membership which is contemplated by the president's plan.

"The latter is gaining ground steadily and I believe will be passed by both houses during the present session."

Submits Two Proposals

Norris submitted two proposals which he hoped—but would not predict—might furnish material for compromise. They were a constitutional amendment limiting the terms of federal judges to nine years instead of a lifetime and a bill requiring that at least seven of the high tribunal's nine members concur before an act of congress can be declared invalid.

Senators opposing the Roosevelt bill to increase the membership of the court to a maximum of fifteen, unless incumbents over seventy retire, meanwhile claimed enough votes in the judiciary committee to shelve that measure and substitute an amendment to the Constitution.

Sentiment For O'Mahoney Plan

There was, however, disagreement as to just which of the several amendments proposed should be favored. Most sentiment apparently turned to that of Senator O'Mahoney stipulating that two-thirds of the court must agree that a law is unconstitutional before it can be set aside.

"I would be delighted if a compromise could be reached on my measures," Norris told reporters, "but, I'm not very powerful. They are my idea of what should be done, and I think they would accomplish the president's purpose."

Senator Burke (D-Neb), a leader among opposition senators, was one of those favoring the O'Mahoney amendment, and opposed to that of Senator Norris. There are enough votes on the judiciary committee "right now," he said, to approve an amendment, and "something of the sort" will be attempted "at the proper time."

Must Agree On Something

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind), also opposed to the president's bill, agreed that such was the case, but estimated sentiment for the O'Mahoney amendment at a much lower level than did Burke.

"We'll have to get together and agree on something, soon," said Van Nuys.

In addition to these developments the day witnessed:

The passing of another Supreme court opinion announcing session without rulings of pending litigation vitally affecting the controversy over the president's proposals. The pending cases involve the Wagner Labor Relations act, and the Washington state minimum wage law.

Green Is To Testify

An announcement that William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor will testify in support of the president's bill upon the resumption of judiciary committee hearings tomorrow. He will b followed by Justin Miller, president of the federal bar association and former dean of the Duke university and the Southern California law schools.

A visit to the senate by Attorney General Cummings, who chatted with several senators in the Democratic cloak room.

Many regard Norris as in an admirable position to bring about a compromise. He is on the friendliest of terms at the White House, yet is opposed to the bill except as a last resort. He hods a highly influential position with the western independent group, part of which is opposed to the bill.

His amendment would apply to incumbent as well as to future judges, with the former allowed nine years in office from the time the amendment should become a part of the Constitution. It stipulates that ratification shall be by state conventions instead of by legislatures.

Bank Loss Paid

Fort Worth from Amarillo on a train Monday night and, Thursday morning, was seen at a Dallas hotel and at a night spot, witnesses said. The person described did not act in an unusual manner and did not appear apprehensive, investigators were informed.

Two federal bureau of investigation agents, one of them assigned to the case of missing 25-year-old Burns Kittrell, were in Lubbock again Sunday.

Both reported no developments in their investigation.

If the bank bookkeeper nad read a plea from his grief-stricken parents, there was nothing to indicate the fact. Walter E. Kittrell, retired farmer of 912 Avenue M, asked news services to carry his plea for his son to come home "and let's get this all straightened out."

House Adopts Resolution For Funds To Combat Farm Pests

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) — The house adopted today a senate resolution for an appropriation to combat such insect pests as grasshoppers, crickets and chinch bugs.

The measure goes back to the senate for action on a house amendment to permit a $100,000 annual expenditure. As passed by the senate, it would have authorized simply a flat $5,000,000 appropriation.

Safety Committee Plan Is Approved

A traffic campaign that would be conducted through cooperation of the public and by bus and cab companies Monday afternoon was broached by an American Legion safety committee composed of O. B. Conley, chairman, George Berry, W. B. Richards, C. E. Luce, and Lester Parks.

A merit system whereby drivers who observe safety precautions would be cited for their value and drivers who disregard life and limb would be subject to "prosecution" in their own "courts" was discussed.

The public will be asked to report constructively or otherwise drivers' traffic observance or lack of it. "Fairness" in reports will be urged. Drivers records will be "audited" by the committee at the end of the year it was announced.

Cooperation of bus and cab companies was pledged the campaign, which is a project of the national Legion organization.

sort.

All her bodily functions had ceased, except for those controlled by the automatic nervous system.

The law provided that she should be sentenced within five days. To ascertain today, the last day, that she was not shamming, Judge Smith, Dr. Blank and defense and prosecution lawyers went to the jail hospital ward.

"Is her condition dangerous," the judge asked Dr. Blank.

The physician said he could not give an opinion. He said he feared, most of all, that she might develop pneumonia.

Labor Situation

in Detroit quit work; a city-wide strike of truck drivers curtailed transportation of all but perishable goods; and the motor car industry counted more than 90,000 idle—including 60,000 at the Chrysler corp., 10,000 at the Hudson Motor Car Co., 17,000 at the Briggs Body works and 2,200 on the Reo Motor Co. payroll.

A truce ended a battle between police and sit-down strikers in the Jewish hospitalin Brooklyn. Eighteen of the employes were arrested on charges of endangering the public health.

Stores Are Occupied

Sitters held four five and ten stores in New York's metropolitan area for the fourth day. Unionists who called a walkout in 23 Brooklyn laundries said about 1,000 had left their jobs. Trouble threatened, too, in the city-owned subway with workers summoned to consider action on collective bargaining demands.

Federal conciliators advised Chicago's nine-day cab drivers strike was hopelessly deadlocked.

Two hundred women sat down at the I. Lewis Cigar Manufacturing Co. in Newark, N. J., about 70 pickets prevented the opening of a department store in East St. Louis, Ill.

At Pittsburgh, United Electrical and Radio Union leaders dickered with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., on pay hikes and 107 blind workers promised "bloodshed will result" if they were ousted from a broom factory.

Negotiations were resumed in the strike affecting 11,500 at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., in Akron, O. Three ash wagons were dumped in violence attending the strike of Philadelphia's garbage and ash collectors.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady called upon industry and labor to work out their mutual problems with federal chieftains. At the same time, President Harper Sibley of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States quoted President Roosevelt as saying he had "no power to do anything except offer the good offices of the government" in strikes.

A survey showed almost 1,000,000 workers recently had been granted wage increases totalling more than $168,000,000 a year.

the expansion of private credit.

"I have not been and I am not now in favor of balancing the budget to find private employment, but I am in favor of increasing taxes on incomes and profits if necessary to sustain the volume of relief and at the same time to bring the budget into balance and permit the paying down of public debt as private debt expands. Only by this process can monetary inflation be presented."

Eccles said he issued the statement to correct erroneous interpretations of his position on credit and monetary policies.

Other officials recalled federal reserve spokesmen had attributed a slump in government bonds, which began last Friday, to rumors circulated by market "dopesters" that the board planned to tighten money. (Tighter money conditions would have the general effect of depressing both commodity and security prices because, in effect, money would be scarcer and thus worth more in terms of commodities or securities.)

Dick Mayes Dies In Corpus Monday

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 15. (AP) Dick Mayes, 45, nationally known motor boat racer and sportsman, died suddenly today after suffering a paraletic stroke in his hotel room Sunday afternoon.

The sportsman, whose travels have taken him to a score of foreign countries, was in a semi-conscious condition when removed to a hospital and did not recover consciousness.

The body will be sent to Dallas for funeral services there, probably tomorrow. Survivors include his wife and a son, Richard Mayes, jr., of Dallas.

At Dallas Mayes was commodore of the Dallas Yacht club and was active in promoting motor boat races on Lake Worth. He had a standing challenge to race "anyone, anywhere" in his Miss Dallas VI, power boat with maximum speed of 77 miles per hour. He came here two months ago to take over managership of a boat building concern (Empire Boat & Dock Co.)

Twenty-One Die In Manila Explosion

MANILA, March 16, (Tuesday) (AP)—A new fire hazard, punctuated by sharp explosions, hindered rescuers attempting to recover additional bodies in a Chinese fireworks factory catastrophe that already has claimed the lives of 21 women.

Sixteen women are in hospitals suffering from injuries, and the condition of four is critical, authorities said.

More than 100 women were working the plant yesterday when an unexplained powder explosion shattered part of the plant and started a fire which got quickly out of control.

Authorities feared additional bodies might be found in the smoking ruins, but rescue attempts, halted until daylight, were hampered by a newed blaze and a series of minor blast.

An accurate check of the missing persons was not immediately possible, authorities said. It was estimated between 20 and 50 of the factory workers were still unaccounted for.

as close as feasible to the equator, found the famous aviatrix ready in every respect for the adventure, on which she will seek data that might be used in new commercial air routes.

The aviatrix, who will be accompanied by three male aviation experts as far as Honolulu, hoped to get away tomorrow, but deferred any definite plans pending a check of weather conditions then.

Her husband, George Palmer Putnam, announced receipt of word that landing facilities had been completed on tiny Howland island, second stop on the flight and over 1,500 miles southeast of Hawaii.

Besides the aviatrix, the twin-motored plane will carry as far as Honolulu, Capt. Harry Manning, navigator; Fred J. Noonan, former Pan-American pilot who also is a navigator; and Paul Mantz, Miss Earhart's technical adviser.

Mantz will leave the plane at Honolulu, Noonan at Howland island, and Capt. Manning at Port Darwin, Australia, from where Miss Earhart will continue alone.

Mantz declared that in the event of difficulty more than half way to any over water stop, surplus gasoline can be dumped and the plane can continue on one motor. If trouble develops before the halfway point, a return will be made to the starting field, he said.

Gulf Oil Raises Pay In Field And Pipe Line Departments

HOUSTON, March 15. (AP)—The Gulf Oil corporation announced a raise in the pay of the field and pipe line departments today. The increase varied from four to nine cents an hour and becomes effective tomorrow.

Three days ago the Gulf Refining company announced a similar increase in the wages of its refinery workers at Port Arthur.

Machinery Company Employe At Monahnas Killed Monday

MONAHANS, March 15. (AP)—Page Cleavenger, about 30, employed by a machinery company here, was killed today when a 50-barrel fuel tank exploded. J. J. Russell, manager of the concern, said the blast occured while Cleavenger was trying to get oil to the welding forge.

The explosion ripped the back end off a lumber company building and hurled pieces of iron 30 feet.

WOMAN IS SENTENCED

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., March 15. (AP)—Judge Marion D. Patterson sentenced Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, 24, today to die in the electric chair for killing her 3-year-old son, Matthew.

New Airliner Finished Soon

Douglas Factory's New DC-4, Thirty Tons Of Super-Ship, Is To Be Put Into Operation By Major Lines Soon

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 15. Wings over America will be nearly twice as big as now when the Douglas factory's new DC-4 — 30 tons of super-airliner — is put into operation by five transport systems.

The first DC-4 is nearly completed at Santa Monica. By fall this type is expected to enter regular service on the major airlines which pooled their engineering experience to produce it.

It carries 40 passengers and crew of five.

It has four motors, each of 1,250 horsepower.

It flies 237 miles an hour.

And its wings, spreading 148 feet from tip to tip, dwarf by comparison the 95 feet width on the biggest Douglas transports now in service in the United States. The current DC-3's have a speed of 216 miles an hour, carrying 21 passengers and crew of three.

Three Charged In Theft Of Car Here

A. A. Walker, Jack Hicketts and Elmer Davis, charged with theft in a joint complaint filed with Walter Davies, justice of peace, Monday night were returned to Lubbock by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and Weldon Lawson and W. E. Renfrow, members of the state highway patrol, after a Lubbock automobile had been recovered at Portales, N. M.

The machine was stolen Saturday night from W. J. Miller of 1412 Fifteenth street, said police.

Harold Jones, who pleaded guilty of possession of whisky, was fined $100 and costs Monday morning by County Judge J. J. Dillard.

Sam W. Fort, a member of the state liquor control board; Deputies Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter and Grady Harrist, and Bill Mabray, policeman, were raiders. Fort, former police identifications officer, said 13 pints of whisky were confiscated.

Number Of Events Scheduled At Roosevelt Rural School

Schedule of events to be conducted within the next few weeks at Roosevelt Rural High school reflects much work and planning of Supt. M. L. Kelly and committees.

A community meeting to discuss rural electrification will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night. Other discussions "vital to the school district" will be introduced, said Kelly. Every patron of the district is asked to attend.

A county-wide rural high school senior gathering will be conducted April 9. All seniors, sponsors and rural school superintendents have been invited. The meeting, designed to be the first of a series of such gatherings each six weeks, will be sponsored by the Roosevelt home economics class.

A school district fair will be held April 30. Demonstrations, exhibits, contests, athletic competition, entainment, and other features are being planned, said Kelly.

Condition Of Post Man And Son Reported To Be "Fair"

Condition of Johnnie Q. Jenkins, 43, owner of a chicken ranch near Post, and his son, J. L., 17, injured Sunday in an automobile accident at Post, was reported "fair" at the Lubbock sanitarium last night. A daughter, Lucille, 10, also injured in the accident was dismissed yesterday morning.

Jenkins and his son and daughter were injured Sunday afternoon when an oil truck overturned and struck their car near a street intersection in Post. After receiving first aid treatment they were brought here.

Jenkins suffered a chest injury and lacerations of the body, and his son received a head injury.

Venire Facias For 99th April Grand Jury Selected Monday

A venire facias for grand jurors of the April term of 99th district court at Lubbock Monday was issued after the jury commission, composed of J. T. Pinkston, B. Sherrod and J. P. Vance, had selected 16 men so to serve.

The men, to appear at 10 o'clock the morning of April 5, are: J. W. Jackson, Sam Rosenthal, W. B. Atkins, and Hugh Dryer, all of Lubbock; Douglas Pounds and W. B. Croslin, both of Lubbock route 1; Lonnie Williams and E. Williamson, both of Lubbock route 4; Troy Edwards and Walter Robinson, both of Shallowater; J. H. Walker and B. B. Castleberry, both of Slaton; V. S. Harrington of Idalou; and C. E. Lilley of Slaton route 2, and C. H. Griffin of Slaton route 1.

Johann Gutenberg printed nearly 300 Bibles on his first run.

Mason Youth's Steer Winner

Byron Eckert, 15-Year-Old 4-H Club Boy, Walks Off With Honors At Fort Worth After Winning Club Title

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 15.—A 15-year-old Mason boy, Byron Eckert, walked out of the judging arena today with the grand champion steer of the 41st Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show.

Crowned the grand champion of the boys' club calf show Sunday, Eckert's Hereford steer won out against professional and college feeders in the preliminary and final judging.

Feeding For Six Years

Young Eckert has been feeding steers for six years.

In the final judging, his entry competed against winners in the Aberdeen-Angus and Shorthorn divisions.

The champion Aberdeen-Angus was "Merry Page," shown by Oklahoma A. & M. college. This steer was the only champion which had not previously won in the boys' calf show.

In the Shorthorn division, the winner was shown by Gus Boesch jr., of Whitney, whose steer won championship honors in the boys' baby beef show Sunday.

Cattlemen's Association Is To Convene Tuesday

FORT WORTH, March 15. (AP)—Forty members of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association today discussed questions to be brought before the annual three-day convention opening here tomorrow.

H. F. McGill, Alice, president, presided and made his annual report.

Freight rates and a proposed bill before the United States senate which would permit cattle from part of Argentina to be brought into this country were discussed. The association opposed the bill for fear of the hoof and mouth disease spreading.

Lieut. Gov. Woodul will address the convention at the opening session representing Governor Allred on the program. Other speakers will include Edward N. Wentworth, Chicago, director of Armour's livestock bureau; C. B. Denman, Chicago, president of the National Livestock Marketing Association; and John A. Logan, Washington, executive vice president of the National Association of Food Chains.

San Antonio, El Paso and San Angelo were known candidates for host to the 1938 convention.

C. C. Dana, Santa Fe Official, Dies

CHICAGO, March 15. (AP)—C. C. Dana, 68, freight traffic manager for the Santa Fe railroad, died at Chicago Memorial hospital today. He was industrial commissioner here from 1913 until 1916.

Born in Morrisville, N. Y., Dana was graduated from Princeton university and after six months on the editorial staff of the New York Sun, he became connected with the Santa Fe as a clerk in Topeka, Kas., in December 1891.

Following his service as industrial commissioner of Chicago, he was assistant freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe at Amarillo, Tex., until 1920 when he came to Chicago as general freight agent. Two years later he became assistant freight traffic manager, and July 1, 1927, he was promoted to freight traffic manager. The widow survives.

City Speculates On Flogging

CUMBERLAND, MD., March 15. (AP)—This city was stirred today by speculation as to whether Gilbert Crabtree, accused wife-beater, would take ten lashes on his back. The first flogging sentence here in 21 years.

The fact that the county physician had not been ordered to examine the prisoner and that Crabtree still has a week in which to appeal sentence led the citizens to wonder whether the punishment actually would be inflicted.

Crabtree, taciturn 45-year-old WPA worker was charged with beating his ill wife, mother of six.

Safety At Sea Committee Is Disbanded, Roper Discloses

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—Secretary Roper disclosed today the national committee on safety at sea had been disbanded.

This action, Roper said, followed a resolution to that effect by the National Accident Prevention conference, an organization formed by the commerce secretary at President Roosevelt's suggestion. The committee was a sub-group of the conference, an organization devoted to mobilizing public opinion behind accident prevention.

Roper said, however, there would be no let-up in the government's safety program.

Labor Favors Court Reform

State Federation Meeting In Austin Sunday Goes On Record For Proposal; Reilly Is Named Executive Secretary

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 15. — The Texas Federation of Labor stood squarely behind President Roosevelt's court reform plan today.

The executive board, meeting here yesterday, endorsed the Roosevelt proposal and condemned by resolution a recent address before the legislature by Sen. Tom Connally attacking the court plan.

The board also chose Wallace Reilly, who resigned as a member of the state unemployment compensation commission, as executive secretary.

W. B. Arnold, president, said the group suspended local units of labor organizations affected by the suspension order voted last summer by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

Spanish Civil War Toll Will Be Million Lives Before It Is Ended, Cardinal Predicts

SALAMANCA, Spain, March 15. (AP)—Isidoro Cardinal Goma y Thomas estimated today the Spanish civil war would cost at least 1,000,000 lives before it is ended.

In a pastoral letter entitled, "Spain's Lent," the Spanish primate said the war tribulation was visited upon the nation by God and that it was for expiation of Spain's sins.

Income Tax Return Meets Deadline

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 15. (AP)—President Roosevelt heaved a sigh of relief with untold numbers of fellow citizens today as his income tax sped northward by plane to beat a midnight deadline.

Electing to make out his own return this year without the aid of a White House tax report, the president worked over the annual headache producer for several hours yesterday before a logwood fire in his Pine mountain vacation cottage.

With his check for the full amount of the undisclosed levy inside a White House envelope, the return was sent to Atlanta with the daily presidential mail in charge of a special postal inspector.

There it was transferred to an army plane for the north.

He was understood to have made a separate return instead of a joint one with his wife.

POLICEMAN KILLS MAN

SAN ANTONIO, March 15. (AP) — Charley Curtis, 35, was shot and killed by a negro city policeman in front of a drink stand yesterday.

The policeman, S. W. Curtis, in a sworn statement to detectives, said he shot Curtis after the latter had advanced on him with a knife.
