Eight Killed In Collision Of 2 Planes

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Eight persons, including two small girls and three women, were killed Sunday night when two private planes collided over East Farmingdale and crashed in cemetery property.

One craft, a twin-engine Piper Aztec, went down in flames. The other, a single-engine Piper Cherokee, was demolished but did not burn. Wreckage was strewn over a large area near the Beth Moses Cemetery, part of a burial ground complex in this Long Island area.

There are no homes in the vicinity, which is largely wooded, and no one was injured on the ground.

Four persons were aboard each plane — seven of them from New York State and the eighth with both a Connecticut and New York address.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the collision occurred about 8:30 p.m. at an altitude of 800 to 1,000 feet as both craft were making their final approaches to Republic Flying Field. An FAA spokesman said the Aztec's left wing apparently struck the Cherokee.

The Cherokee, owned by Flight Safety Inc., had been en route from Providence, R.I., police said.

It could not be learned immediately who owned the Aztec or where its flight originated.

An F-07 in the foreman employee bracket will receive $8,881.60 yearly or a $4.27 per hour increase.

There will be a 10 cent shift differential for second shift workers and a 20 cent difference for those who work the third shift.

Walter Fields Hurt

Walter Fields, 24, son of Ted Fields, who lives in the Lees Community, is in the Parkview Hospital in Midland following surgery to repair heavy damage to his right hand, caused by the accidental discharge of a shotgun.

The accident occurred last Thursday as young Fields was operating a tractor at the farm he and his father are farming. The shotgun, being carried on the tractor, started to fall and Fields grabbed at it. The gun discharged, striking him in the right hand and narrowly missing his face. The charge plowed through the umbrella above the tractor seat.

Young Fields, who was working alone, ran to the house and was taken to the hospital. He lost part of his hand, and in order to save the remainder, extensive surgery will have to be done. He is in Room 111 at the hospital.

He has a wife and two young children. Mrs. Fields is at her husband's bedside. His mother is Mrs. Hanice Yetman, Big Spring.

Work Half Completed On Project

Construction is more than half complete on the city's large 2½ million gallon clearwell at the 1500 block of Princeton, city engineer Ernest Lillard said Friday.

The clearwell work, which was started Jan. 1, will hold treated water and will give the city ability to handle peak loads on high usage days, Lillard said.

"It will help the city pump out water faster than it can be treated," he noted.

The $245,727 project is due for completion in late September or early October, Lillard said. It is part of the city's master plan in which several improvements are being made now with more slated in the future.

J. D. Jones, of Big Spring, is contractor for the installation which is 136.5 feet long, 122 feet wide and 26.5 feet deep.

Rocky's Feverish Drive To Head Off Nixon Gains Speed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's feverish drive to stop former Vice President Richard M. Nixon short of a first ballot Republican presidential nomination appears to be picking up measured speed.

With the GOP convention platform committee beginning its public hearings today, there were signs that the New York governor's massive effort was shaking some Nixon delegates away from their moorings.

DOUBT STIRRED

Nobody could put a finger on it specifically, but there was a growing feeling among early-arriving delegates for next week's convention that Rockefeller, with an expensive, expansive publicity campaign, had stirred up enough doubt about Nixon's ability to win in November that there was no clear certainty of Nixon's nomination.

In the minds of some of the party's top strategists, however, this didn't necessarily add up to a Rockefeller victory. There was, among other things, an undercurrent of belief that in this uncertain political year some dark horse like Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City could emerge from extended balloting.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Rockefeller partisan, said he thought the New York governor was making "significant gains" in his uphill battle against Nixon. Scott predicted that Nixon would fade quickly on the roll calls "if we can get by the first ballot."

TO WAIT

Harley Markham of Idaho, chairman of the convention's hardworking housing division, said in a separate interview he was convinced the publicly uncommitted delegates—who make up a majority of the con-

'Hot' Deadlines

NEW YORK (AP) — A smoky fire in the 48-story Times-Life building in Rockefeller Center routed patrons of two restaurants and staff members of Time, Life and Sports Illustrated working to meet deadlines.

The blaze started Sunday in the mail room of the N.W. Ayer advertising firm on the 11th floor. Smoke poured through the air-conditioning ducts of the steel and glass building, in which all windows are sealed.

GOP Writers Urged To Stay Neutral

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican platform writers went to work today under advice to keep the campaign document neutral as between GOP presidential hopefuls — but a note of rivalry sounded at the very first session.

Harold Stassen, long-time seeker of the presidential nomination, accused New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon of being enmeshed in what he called the errors of the Democratic administration's Vietnam policy. Stassen challenged those he said are "regarded as the front runners" to appear in person before the platform-writing group.

IDEAS

Neither Nixon nor Rockefeller has asked for time at the platform committee hearings, which are a prelude to next week's nomination convention, but it was understood both intend to present some ideas through friendly witnesses.

"We don't know who is going to be the nominee," the platform committee chairman, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said. "I'm keeping myself free from that controversy—if it is a controversy." He said he hopes other members of the committee will refrain from pushing for their favorites through platform wording.

Dirksen said if "somebody" mentioned no names—tries to mold the platform to suit his favorite and it turns out that another man is nominated, the document would not fit. "I am trying for a platform any candidate can run on," he said.

The GOP leader spoke to newsmen last night after an organizing session of the platform committee. He reported "there is no indication that that matter came up at this meeting."

The 1964 platform committee chairman, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, said at the opening hearing today that the Republicans need a platform demonstrating "young blood and exciting ideas."

The Wisconsin Republican, who headed the platform committee in the campaign the Republicans lost four years ago, said in prepared testimony, "if we learned nothing else from 1964, we should at least have learned that when you are the out party you go on the offensive, not the defensive."

CONVINCED

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said voters must be convinced the Republican party is not simply one of obstructionism.

vention's 1,333 voters at this point—were going to "wait around awhile before they made a final decision."

"The one clear impression I get in talking to arriving delegates is that the uncommitted people are going to stay that way for a while to take a look at what's going on and until they can decide which man is most likely to win in November," Markham said.

Another party strategist who didn't want his name used said delegates he had talked to were wearing an air of uncertainty that could result in some presently unexpected choice.

Operating against this was the endorsement of Nixon by a group of 140 cabinet and administrative officials from the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, produced in New York Sunday by the former vice president's camp.

Eisenhower remains a revered name to the Republicans. But how much weight his cabinet officials, ambassadors and others might add to the general's previous endorsement of Nixon was debatable.

Shots Fired At Police In Cincinnati Flare-Up

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shots were fired at police as six persons were arrested for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest in the incident about 2:30 a.m. in the Negro community.

"At least half a dozen shots from a light weapon were fired" at about 18 policemen as they tried to disperse a crowd of 500, Capt. Stanley Grothaus said.

The shots apparently were fired from the crowd or its perimeter and no one was hit. Police did not report the arrest of anyone for the actual shooting.

Armed with shotguns, the policemen fired warning blasts into the air to break up the crowd which hurled rocks and bottles at them. Two Negroes were hurt—not seriously—and six persons were arrested for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest in the incident about 2:30 a.m. in the Negro community.

Sgt. William Breckel, one of the first policemen on the scene, was mauled by at least four members of the crowd, but was not hurt.

A young man, who had been carrying a hay baling hook, attacked patrolman Robert Kelly, 34, inflicting multiple scratches on Kelly's legs.

Nixon Given A Clear Edge

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Republican rank and file clearly favors Richard M. Nixon over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination, the Gallup Poll reported Sunday.

Nixon held a 5-2 edge over Rockefeller, with California Gov. Ronald Reagan running a poor third, in the nationwide sampling of Republican voters taken last week.

The former vice president was preferred by 60 per cent of the Republicans polled. Rockefeller was the favorite of 23 per cent, and Reagan was the first choice of 7 per cent.

George Gallup said that since 1936, the candidate favored in his final pre-convention sample has gone on to win the Republican nomination except in 1964.

Stanton Teenager Killed By Gunshot

STANTON — Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson has not handed down a ruling in the gunshot death Sunday noon of Eugene Holloway, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Holloway, Stanton.

The tragedy occurred on the Stanton High School tennis courts. He was shot one time in the chest and was dead on arrival at the hospital. A .22 caliber pistol was found near the body.

The only witness was Kathy Therwanger, 18. Both are recent graduates of the Stanton High School.

Jake Bruton, city police officer, is continuing the investigation and the justice of peace has indicated he will delay his ruling until this has been completed.

The youth was born July 13, 1949, in Stanton. He had spent all of his life here and was employed by the Ray Geophysical Co. at the time of his death.

Services are to be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Ralph Caffey officiating, and the Rev. W. H. Uhlman assisting. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park, with Gilbreath Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his parents; one sister, Carolyn Kay Holloway, Stanton; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stewart, Tarzan, and Mrs. Ruth Holloway, Stanton.

Big Soviet Force Hovers Near Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties met today for historic talks near the Soviet border on Russian demands that Czechoslovakia check its independent course down the Communist road.

The official news agency CTK said the talks opened in the Moscow delegation's parked special train at Cierna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction not far from the Soviet border.

STRONG FORCES

A Czechoslovak traveler returning from the Soviet border reported that strong Soviet forces were maneuvering there with tanks and other heavy equipment.

Other units, which had stayed on in Czechoslovakia after last month's Warsaw Pact maneuvers, were officially announced as having scheduled their departure tonight from the area of Libava in Moravia.

About 40 Czechoslovak leaders, including party leader Alexander Dubcek and 11 members of the party presidium, arrived Sunday night by plane at Koscice, about 45 miles from the Soviet border. They continued by sleeper train to Cierna.

Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev led the 11-member Soviet Politburo that traveled to Cierna by train. There were two other Russians in the group. Among presidium members were Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who is considered to favor a more moderate approach to the Czechoslovak leaders.

POLICE CORDON

A strong police cordon was thrown around the area where the Soviet train was parked.

Expressed Soviet fears that the reformist movement may lead Czechoslovakia out of the Warsaw Pact alliance are most prominent on the agenda of the meeting.

Repeated Czechoslovak assurances that Prague's ties with Moscow are inviolable so far have failed to impress Soviet leaders.

The talks, which probably will last one or two days, will cover all the issues that have been raised by the Moscow-led five hard-line parties in their "Warsaw letter" earlier this month. They charged that Czechoslovakia is threatened by "counterrevolution," the same charge that caused Soviet tanks to crush the uprising in Hungary in 1956.

DEMANDS

The main demands of the letter are that Prague take action against "anti-Socialist forces" and reinstate press censorship. But Prague leaders, riding the crest of a wave of national pride, have already made plain that the basic principles of their course of Socialist democratization are not negotiable. These include press freedom, they have emphasized.

The Soviet press and radio omitted all mention today of the meeting or of the whereabouts of the Soviet leaders. But Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ and the only paper published in Moscow on Monday, kept up its steady attack on the liberal trend in Czechoslovakia.

Commenting on the interest the ideological dispute has roused in the U.S. press, Pravda said: "The American propagandists cannot hide their satisfaction. To drive a wedge between the Socialist countries, to change the balance of forces in Europe in favor of imperialism, this is the aim of the recommendations of American propagandists."

PROMISED

Prague's new reform leaders promised their countrymen none of their new freedoms would be taken away in the talks with the Soviet leaders demanding an end to liberalization.

"We will bear in mind that we are responsible for socialism in our country, for the sovereignty and for the future of this state," Josef Smrkovsky, National Assembly chairman and a key figure in the new liberal movement, said in a television interview.

Smrkovsky said the presidium would not give ground on press freedom, a main Soviet target.

Youth Gangs Blamed For Disorders In Gary

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Police Chief James Hilton today blamed dissension among Negro youth gangs for two nights of disorders in Gary's Central District.

"The situation is still highly volatile and may erupt at any time," Hilton said, adding that the destructive mood of the gangs has spread to the city's militant groups.

The disorders began early Sunday with firebombing, sniper fire and looting, and flared again Sunday night before police with rifles and shotguns brought quite to the four-block area with a caravan of 10 patrol cars.

Six persons were injured Sunday morning, including a fireman wounded by sniper fire while battling a blaze. No injuries were reported Sunday night.

A total of 110 Negroes were arrested and police said all would be charged with resisting arrest.

Ninety members of the Cook County Sheriff's Department riot squad, who were requested by Hilton and helped establish calm, were replaced at mid-night Sunday by 90 riot-trained Indiana state policemen.

Hilton said 550 Indiana National Guardsmen were standing by at armories in Gary and nearby Valparaiso. Hilton said he would need the permission of Gov. Roger D. Branigin to use the guardsmen.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $6 MILLION

Infiltrators Wreck 3 Planes

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators in leincloths attacked a U.S. air base today and blew up $6 million worth of planes.

The attack on the Tuy Hoa air base, on the central coast of South Vietnam 295 miles northeast of Saigon, was the third on an American air base in Southeast Asia in three days. It raised U.S. aircraft casualties since last Monday to the unusually high total of 12 planes, lost—including nine downed over North or South Vietnam—and four badly damaged.

Air Force officers at Tuy Hoa said about nine Viet Cong got into the base and all were killed. One American was reported wounded.

Reports from Tuy Hoa said the Viet Cong slipped into the base under cover of a brief mortar and rocket attack shortly after midnight. Firing rocket-propelled grenades and hurling satchel charges, they destroyed two four-engine C130 transport planes and badly damaged an F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber. Several other transports were slightly damaged, U.S. officers said.

Tuy Hoa is the home of the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing, an outfit of about 100 Supersabres. Among its five squadrons are two Air National Guard units which arrived in Vietnam in June, the 188th Tactical Fighter Squadron from New Mexico and the 136th from Niagara Falls, N.Y. Neither unit had any casualties.

On Friday night, infiltrators got into the Udorn air base in northern Thailand and badly damaged two planes, while a rocket attack on the Da Nang air base destroyed one jet fighter-bomber and badly damaged another.

The raid at Udorn was the first on one of the six American bases in Thailand, from which 85 per cent of the bombing missions against North Vietnam originate. The U.S. Embassy said defenses at the bases were being strengthened, and patrols around the bases were being enlarged.

Other aircraft losses announced during the weekend included a Navy A4 Skyhawk downed southeast of Vinh, in North Vietnam, and an F100 Supersabre downed off the coast of South Vietnam. The Skyhawk's pilot is missing, but the two crewmen of the Supersabre were rescued.

The Skyhawk was the 873rd American warplane lost in combat over the North. The cause of the Supersabre downing has not been determined.

Navy, Air Force and Marine pilots reported destroying or damaging 232 supply boats on waterways in North Vietnam's southern panhandle Saturday, "the largest bag of boats for the war," said one U.S. spokesman. The American pilots also reported the destruction of 46 enemy trucks and silencing 10 anti-aircraft sites.

In 118 missions over the panhandle Sunday, U.S. pilots reported smashing another 152 supply boats for a total of 477 reported destroyed or damaged over the past four days.

Riot Commission Ends Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders went out of business today—one year, several hundred thousand words and $1.5 million after President Johnson created it.

Sniper fire still whined in the streets of Detroit on July 29, 1967, when Johnson convened the 11-member commission at the White House and charged it with trying to learn "what happened? What can be done to prevent it from happening again and again?"

The commission, headed by former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and representing nearly all the colors of the political spectrum, issued its first report last March.

'Riff-Raff'

Another report was released over the weekend and said new studies show rioters to be representative of urban Negro youth and not just "riff-raff" and criminals.

The report also said that 18 per cent of ghetto residents take part in riots, a far larger percentage than originally estimated.

The latest report, expected to be the last bearing the commission seal, was a compilation of three studies by separate groups. It was issued without comment.

The original report ran some 240,000 words and was the work of 150 fulltime paid staffers as well as the 11 commissioned members.

RACISTS

A staff aide said Sunday that approximately $1.5 million was spent on the report which concluded that America was moving toward two societies, one black and one white.

The report called for a massive program to provide housing, education and jobs for the nation's Negroes.

The report sparked almost immediate controversy. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said it placed undue emphasis on the role of white racists while all but ignoring the guilt of rioters.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said the report "was open to challenge."

President Johnson had told the commission when he created it:

"Sometimes various administrations have set up commissions that were expected to put the stamp of approval on what the administration already believed. This is not such a commission."

When the report came out, Johnson termed it "thorough" and "exhaustive" but declined to respond to numerous calls for a major presidential endorsement that might spur Congress to quick reaction.

MORE IDEAS

Legislation was introduced in both the House and Senate embodying most of the report's recommendations. But there has been no action on any of it and none is likely in this session.

"In my judgment, the principal reason for the absence of any action rests with the Congress of the United States,"

The report issued the past weekend was described as a supplement to the earlier re-

New York Mayor John Lindsay, vice chairman of the commission, has said.

Two of the surveys in the most recent report cover Negro and white attitudes in 15 major cities and the third sets out a profile of participants in 1967 riots.

RIOTS HELP?

One survey found that most Negroes are far less revolutionary than their militant spokesmen, but that they believe riots have helped the Negro improve his conditions.

One survey said that 18 per cent of Negro residents of riot areas took part in disorders, that 1 per cent were from out of state and that 4 per cent were from outside the city. Most earlier studies have pegged the percentage of participants at 1 and 2 per cent of the ghetto population.

Taking note of the original Kerner Report's comment about two separate societies, one survey said that "the fact is, of course, that these two societies have existed separate but unequal in this country for over 300 years."

FEMALES ESCAPE

Another survey said that a disproportionate number of Negroes have police records because police watch the Negro communities more closely.

The survey adds that most of these arrests are for lesser offenses and it is therefore wrong to "brand most members of the Negro community as criminals."

The survey also said that arrest figures under represent the number of women who participated in riots by some 30 per cent.

"Policemen, for one reason or another, are permitting large numbers of female rioters to go unapprehended," it said.

Segregationist Johnsons' Seek Offices In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson and his wife Virginia are, in effect, asking Arkansas voters to disrupt their home. Johnson is considered Sen. J. William Fulbright's strongest challenger in a four-man race for the Democratic senatorial nomination Tuesday and Mrs. Johnson is one of six Democrats seeking the gubernatorial nomination.

Johnson, 43, and a self-styled segregationist, is considered Sen. J. William Fulbright's strongest challenger in a four-man race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary election.

GOOD CHANCE

Mrs. Johnson is one of six Democrats seeking the gubernatorial nomination, and some polls give her a good chance of making the anticipated primary runoff. A candidate will need a major presidential endorsement that might spur Congress

The 40-year-old Mrs. Johnson, an attractive and poised mother of three sons, is the first woman ever to run in Arkansas for governor, a position her husband has twice sought unsuccessfully. She is a veteran of her husband's past campaigns, but this is her first try for office on her own.

BACK WALLACE

The Johnsons' candidacies are intertwined with that of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, the third party presidential hopeful. They led the drive to qualify Wallace as a presidential candidate in Arkansas and now they hand out Wallace campaign material along with their own and have kind words for him in their speeches. Critics claim that Johnson would act as governor if she were elected, much as they say Wallace acted through his late wife when she was governor of Alabama.

Arkansas Republicans are expected to easily renominate Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller over S.C. Roberts of Little Rock, an unemployed salesman, in the GOP primary.

Sen. McCarthy Pledges 'Job Creation Program'

By The Associated Press

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says his goal as president next to ending the Vietnam war would be to divert most of its $30 billion annual budget to city problems, which he calls the nation's second most critical concern.

But Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's camp claimed Sunday delegate-selection results indicate Humphrey will have "far more than enough" votes to win the Democratic presidential nomination over McCarthy on the first national convention ballot.

TAX INCENTIVES

On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's drive to block first-ballot nomination of Richard M. Nixon appeared to have gained some results as platform hearings began in Miami Beach for the GOP convention only a week away.

McCarthy, in a policy statement issued Sunday, said he would not wait for an end to the Vietnam war but as president would begin diverting money to domestic problems as the war was de-escalated.

He pledged a "massive job creation program" involving tax incentives to private enterprise and said this would permit a start toward "elimination of the present degrading welfare system which encourages dependency on the federal government."

He also pledged large-scale housing and health programs, some form of minimum wage guarantees, and federal funding of programs master planned by each city.

HHH CLAIMS

The Humphrey camp, privately claiming as many as 1,600 delegates, said results of delegate-selecting conventions—including those in Kentucky, Virginia and Utah over the weekend—indicate first-ballot nomination is assured.

The Democratic nominee requires 1,312 votes. Humphrey's headquarters claimed 110 new delegates had been won at the three weekend conventions.

Newsman's surveys of favoring—not committed—delegates indicate, Humphrey won 41 in Kentucky to 5 for McCarthy; 15 to 18 in Virginia where McCarthy people claimed 8, and 20 in Utah with the other 6 undecided.

The balance of Virginia's 54-member delegation professes to be uncommitted but most members were understood to lean more to Humphrey than McCarthy.

NIXON FADES

Newsweek magazine said today its surveys show Nixon's delegate vote has dropped to 591 now from about 650 four weeks ago. Nomination requires 667 votes.

Reagan, said Sunday the kind of boozing that disrupted Humphrey's speech in Los Angeles' Watts area Saturday night was disgraceful and the public "must make it plain that these young monsters must be put down."

"These youthful dissenters,"

Reagan said, "show a strange and disquieting similarity to the Jack-booted monsters who broke in doors at night and led to the Nazis we had to destroy."

EQUAL TV

He was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers." Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace said Sunday he's willing to debate both the Republican and Democratic candidates after they're nominated.

"But I'm not issuing any challenge," Wallace said in Tampa, Fla. "If the networks ask me to debate, I would accept."

Wallace also said he expects network television coverage of his American Independent party's nominating convention—for which the date and place have not been announced—equal to coverage of the major party conventions.

New Mexico Marijuana Counts Axed By Judge

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Dist. Court Judge Frank Zinn of Gallup has granted a defense motion to suppress evidence against seven persons previously charged with possession of marijuana.

Judge Zinn ordered the evidence suppressed last week "by reason for the search warrant" issued Aug. 24, 1967, by Dist. Court Judge J. M. Scarborough.

SEARCH HOUSE

Judge Scarborough had authorized police investigators to search a house on a road between Dixon and Pecos in northern New Mexico and seize all narcotic drugs found on the premises.

State Police Sgt. Freddie Martinez reported finding 466 marijuana plants in farm fields and several packages of marijuana cigarettes inside the house and in a panel truck.

State Police Chief Joe Black said at this time the $100,000 haul was the biggest he had ever known to have been seized by his officers.

NO DEFENSE

The district attorney's office entered a motion to dismiss the case on grounds the state had "no evidence upon which the state can establish its case" after Judge Zinn's ruling.

Charges were dismissed against James Oliver, Robert W. Reed, Bruce Bedell, Robert Ferrell, Deming Gustafson, Richard W. Pears and Dennis A. Story.

Cases against three other persons were dismissed last December.

Wreck Probe Sparks Fight

Investigating minor accidents are normally simple, but two Big Spring patrolmen found more than they bargained for while checking a wreck Saturday night.

Patrolman Stewart Dickson reported that he and reserve officer J. N. Kelly were called to investigate a minor accident at the intersection of Third and Nolan streets.

When they began questioning one of the drivers, the trouble began. Dickson said the man began fighting officers, and was finally subdued with help from two onlookers. He is being held for DWI, traffic violation, and aggravated assault on a police officer.

Reports said the man was driving north on Nolan in a 1967 model car, and a 1965 model car driven by Charles Wayne Wisener, Coahoma, was going west on Third when the two cars collided. About $300 damage was done to each car.

A hit and run accident was reported at 1:44 a.m. Sunday on West Fourth, near old US 80.

Police said a 1962 model car, driven by Johnny H. Parras, 502 N. Goliad, was going east on Fourth Street when a 1965 model car passed and cut in front of it. About $100 damage was done to the left front of Parras car, and the entire right side of the other car was damaged.

A two-car accident was reported at 9 p.m. Sunday, in the 200 block of West Twenty-first Street, when a car, driven by Karen Lee Hughes, Sterling City, Mo., was in collision with a parked car owned by W. L. Robinson, 1004 Lancaster.

Restore Peace In Vietnam Will Be HHH's Top Target

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today his first task if elected president "will be to restore peace in Vietnam."

He told a Town Hall luncheon in a prepared speech America must seek to strengthen the alternative to conflict "and in Vietnam that alternative is clear."

South Vietnam's affairs, he said, "should be run by the people who live there, not by Washington or Hanoi."

FREE ELECTIONS
Humphrey said this course means free elections "in which all can vote and all can run for office, with guarantees against force and intimidation."

And he added, "it means being willing to accept the results of these elections."

Humphrey arrived here Saturday on a four-day campaign visit.

While he met privately Sunday afternoon with the state's 174-vote Democratic delegation pledged to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an antiwar rally was staged outside the hotel.

Many of the protesters, estimated by police at 2,000, carried signs boosting the candidacy of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

The demonstration was organized by the Peace Action Council, the same group that protested an appearance at the hotel of President Johnson on June 23, 1967, when about 50 persons were arrested and an equal number injured in clashes with police.

'HONKIE GO HOME'
Humphrey's campaign Sunday night moved to the storybook castle of Camelot at the Warner Bros.-Seven Arts studio lot at the foot of the Hollywood hills in nearby Burbank.

The political rally was organized by Nancy Sinatra and Young Citizens for Humphrey.

Humphrey, addressing the 3,000 young people in the castle courtyard, quipped: "I'm not interested in being king—just president."

Humphrey was forced to quit speaking at a Watts political rally Saturday in the predominantly Negro section of Los Angeles.

A group of young militants, booing and shouting "Honkie go home," drowned out his voice. He left within minutes.

Police Recover Items Stripped From Auto

Big Spring police early Sunday recovered two tires, transmission, drive shaft and other parts of a car that was apparently being stripped.

Police found a 1965 Mustang, owned by Jerry Price, 604 George, on Columbia Street, between Auburn and Cornell, while on patrol about 1:25 a.m. Sunday. The car was propped up by concrete blocks and an empty soft drink case, officers said.

Officers reported that the right front and right rear wheels were missing and the left rear wheel was off the car, but still at the scene. Also missing were the transmission, drive shaft, air cleaner and distributor.

Investigating patrolmen said they saw two youths run from the car into a vacant field. Other police units were called but no one was found in the search.

Police later found an abandoned 1965 Mercury blocking a driveway at 3302 Cornell.

The Mustang was towed to the police parking lot and the Mercury was brought to the station where the trunk was opened and all items missing from the Mustang were found, except chrome wheels and tires. The tires and wheels were later found in the vacant lot where the youths fled.

Officers are still investigating the case.

In other activity over the weekend, police investigated a knifing at Skateland Roller Rink, 2906 W. 8th, about 1:20 a.m. Saturday. Police said Larry Anaya, Ackerly, was involved in a fight and received a three or four inch cut on the right arm. There was no identification of Anaya's assailant.

The door to Angies Bar, 109 S. Main, was found open by patrolmen at 5:15 a.m. Saturday, with the door torn from the door. An investigation showed no property taken.

Mrs. E. A. Martin, East Hooks, Tex., reported a purse taken from a service station on Wasson Road Saturday. She said she had stopped to make a telephone call and laid the purse down on the desk in the station. She drove away and returned later to find it missing.

The white purse contained $8 in cash, drivers license and social security card, and a $100 cashiers check.

Texan Shot, Bludgeoned
ABILENE (AP) — A service station attendant on the job his first night was killed early today—shot and bludgeoned. The cash register with an estimated $300 was missing.

The slaying occurred at Trent, 15 miles west of Abilene. Officers said the victim, Joseph Weldon Mayes, 55, of Roscoe, Tex., appeared to have lived for a brief time and sought to crawl to a dog tied nearby for unknown reasons.

Taylor County Sheriff's Investigator George Hooker said a truck driver found the body when he drove into the station at 6 a.m. Mayes apparently had been dead about three hours.

Mayes was found lying face down in a pool of blood. A crescent wrench wrapped in a sock was found nearby and officers at first thought he only had been beaten to death.

Yet when the body was examined at an Abilene hospital it was found that Mayes also had been shot.

The estimate of the loss was made by Marion Dupose of Merkel, the owner.

Scouts Gain Snipe Skin
Troop 139, sponsored by Kentwood Methodist Church, came home with the coveted Snipe skin, emblematic of the top camper award of the Buffalo Trail Scout ranch for the final week.

There were over 300 in camp during the week, a record number. The boys were in on the excitement of a 25-foot flash flood which rilled by camp one day when they were there.

Author, Santa Fe Salvage Dispute
RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — The Santa Fe Railroad is involved in a salvage dispute with a bearded, 52-year-old author over a 280-foot barge the railway uses to ferry its cars across San Francisco bay.

Robert Read, the author, sighted the barge off Point Richmond last Friday unattended and drifting. He boarded, dropped anchor and claimed salvage rights.

Santa Fe towed the barge back to its dock and has turned the question over to its attorneys.

Read, who said he had done "what any responsible citizen would do," added: "the thought of pecuniary gain did cross my mind."

'Model Cities' Spur Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early planning in the Model Cities program has been marked by widespread disputes—and some outright power struggles—between city officials and residents of neighborhoods involved, the program director acknowledges.

SUSPICION

But H. Ralph Taylor, assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, says in most cases it's been a healthy conflict. "There are tensions," Taylor said in an interview. "But remember, you're starting from a background of suspicion on both sides. This has been a very healthy thing."

Taylor said that although some of the disputes have turned into outright struggles for control of the programs, only in two of the 75 cities selected so far—Newark, N.J., and Oakland, Calif.—have city hall and the neighborhood failed to reach an acceptable agreement on how to divide authority. The government withholds planning funds until it is satisfied with the arrangement.

The Model Cities program, begun nine months ago with selection of 63 cities, is attempting to make a single, poor neighborhood in each city an attractive place to live.

While local governments have ultimate responsibility for the program, residents of the chosen neighborhoods must be given "maximum" participation.

Taylor said struggles for control have occurred in some cities where either the mayors or the neighborhoods wanted to run the whole show.

"LOOKING FOR DOUGH" Asked whether the Black Power movement has contributed to such struggles, he said "yes, it has."

Officials in some cities have given complete authority to the neighborhoods, Taylor said. But he said that approach isn't likely to succeed.

"It takes political leadership of a high order to make this kind of a program work," he said. "A neighborhood just can't do it on its own hook."

City Hall alone, he said has the power to bring into the project the cooperation of such elements as schools, the welfare agency, the housing authority and the police department.

Many federal programs to date have lacked such unity, Taylor said, so "they become a series of projects, with everyone looking for dough."

Ray Conspiracy Charge Violates Judge's Ban?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A contention by attorney Arthur J. Hanes that an international Communist conspiracy is at work against James Earl Ray appears to have brought a reaction from the judge who will hear the Ray case.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle named eight attorneys Sunday to check for a possible violation of his order limiting publicity in the case of Ray, who is charged with murder in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

RAY'S RIGHTS

Hanes, the former Birmingham, Ala., mayor who is acting as defense counsel for Ray, met with his client Saturday, then called an airport news conference at which he also asserted Ray's rights are being violated in Shelby County Jail.

Hanes disagreed with U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark's statement that the April 4 slaying of King was carried out by one man.

"There is a giant conspiracy here and my client is being used by the conspiracy," said Hanes, who said he would disclose details of the plot when Ray's trial gets under way on Nov. 12.

He said the number of threats against his family and their 70-year-old maid are increasing.

FORCES AT WORK

"There are forces at work in this country that do not want to see this man tried," said Hanes, "and they will use any means, in my judgment, to see that neither he nor I appear in the courtroom."

Less than 24 hours after the news conference, Battle appointed the eight-man committee to probe possible infringement of his order issued the day Ray was returned here from London.

The order originally prohibited attorneys, officers, witnesses and anyone else connected with the Ray case from giving "interviews for publicity" or making "extrajudicial statements."

He revised it Wednesday to forbid only interviews "prejudicial to a fair trial by an impartial jury."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable,

you have dealt yourself:

♠AKQJ ♠642 ♠753 ♠AK4

What is your opening bid?

A.—The hand possesses the textbook requirements for a one no trump opening, that call should be avoided when all of your values are concentrated in two suits. A one-spade opening may present rebid problems. The best approach is to bid one club with the intention of showing spades next.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠Q944 ♠AQ1052 ♠K73 ♠AJ

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1♥ Pass 1NT Pass

2♥ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. While it is tempting to double for penalties, partner may think you are contesting for the part score and bid three clubs for which you are not prepared.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ1054 ♠2 ♠A1096 ♠554

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1♣ 1♥ Pass 1♠

2♣ 3♣ 3♣ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Although partner was not strong enough to make a take-out double, the bidding marks him short in clubs. The hands should fit well enough to offer a reasonable play for game.

Q. 4—Neither side vulnerable, your partner opens with one spade, and you hold:

♠KQJ2 ♠AJ5 ♠843 ♠752

What is your response?

A.—Two spades. We are normally reluctant to make a mild response with a hand containing so many high cards, but no other satisfactory call is available. In support of spades this hand is worth 10 points, which brings it within the limits of a single raise. The distribution is against you.

Q. 5—North-South vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠KQJ2 ♠AJ5 ♠843 ♠752

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1♥ Dbie. Rdie. 1NT ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Double. You have East hanging on the ropes. You have 15 points in high cards and partner's redouble marks him with at least an average hand so that the opposition is in for a rough voyage. Strike now and let them try to extricate themselves.

♠AS ♠K1094 ♠AJ9574 ♠3

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

3♣ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Three diamonds. It may seem that this hand rates more aggressive action, but a take-out double would be attended with grave danger, for it partner responded with three spades you might find yourself in an untenable position. True enough, you may miss a heart game, but then you must charge it up to the fortunes of war.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AKQJ753 ♠5 ♠J3 ♠1062

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1♣ 1♥ 1♠

2♥ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. You can win seven tricks and should rely upon the opener to produce three.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠KQJ85 ♠82 ♠KQJ9 ♠73

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1♣ Pass 1♠ 2♥

5♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—While you have considerably more than you might have had for your one-over-one response, nevertheless you should pass, for you haven't exactly what partner needs. He is evidently faced with the loss of two heart tricks. With a singleton heart you should accept the invitation, for he holds solid clubs, spades, and the ace of diamonds, but two little hearts.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠A42 ♠AQ94 ♠K1085 ♠Q9

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1♥ Dbie. Rdie. 1NT ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Double. You have East hanging on the ropes. You have 15 points in high cards and partner's redouble marks him with at least an average hand so that the opposition is in for a rough voyage. Strike now and let them try to extricate themselves.

One Siamese Twin Survives

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A four-day-old baby, separated from her dead Siamese twin in a five-hour operation, was reported in "reasonably good" condition today.

The babies were born Friday, joined at the chest. Sunday, one of the five-pound infants died, forcing surgery.

"The operation was a success," Dr. Richard Connor said. "The baby is alive and looks reasonably good."

The surviving twin was placed in an incubator.

Sister Colette, a spokesman for St. Joseph Hospital, said: "The doctors had hoped to let the babies become more developed and then separate them in several months. But the death of one of the babies made the separation necessary."

Doctors initially reported the girls shared a single heart. Dr. Connor said, however, the surgical team discovered Sunday that each infant had its own heart.

Hospital officials refused to disclose the identity of the parents, adding that this was the wish of the couple.

Hermann Sons Plan Campaign

SAN ANTONIO — A massive membership campaign will be conducted among the 165 lodges of the Order of the Sons of Hermann in Texas, Aug. 1-Oct. 31, Fritz Schilo, San Antonio, grand president of the fraternal order, has announced.

The three-months' drive will be known as the Grand Lodge Pre-Convention Membership Campaign because it will precede next spring's quadrennial Grand Lodge Convention, set for Houston next April.

Schilo urged all 65,000 members of the order to secure prospective members. Both regular and special campaign financial awards will be made to successful recommenders or increasers, he said.

Membership representative of Hermleigh Hermann Sons Lodge No. 256 is Anna R. Kuss, Rt. 1, Hermleigh.

Charged and held in lieu of $15,000 bond were Mary Tessie Pierce, 24, of Jackson, Miss., and Phillip Gene Osborn, 23, of New Orleans.

A Devotional For The Day

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. (Psalm 122:1)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help us to appreciate and further the guiding influence of Thy church. Help Thy church to face bravely the problems of these trying times in the spirit of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Watchdog Panel In Order

Some eight years ago, retiring Dwight D. Eisenhower, the usually amiable president sympathetic to the "military mind" and friendly with corporate executives, startled the nation with a stern warning against the growing power of the "military-industrial complex." Since then that power has grown enormously with a defense budget now running around $80 billion, a third for the Vietnam war.

Whatever the reason, there has been a singular softness on congressional checking on military spending. There has been nothing like the watchdog Senate committee headed by Harry Truman in World War II. And this Congress was about to let expire the Renegotiation Board, set up in 1951 to eliminate excess profits by contractors and sub-contractors in the Korean war and credited with saving some $2 billion.

It is strange indeed that the fight for better controls has been left to a congressman who is little known nationally, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Texas (San Antonio). And, according to a recent New York Times survey, he has not done badly.

Rep. Gonzalez is credited with leading the struggle to strengthen the Renegotiation Board and extend its life three years, a bill passed by the House for likely Senate approval. He also led in getting a bill passed directing the comptroller general of the General Accounting Office to study the "feasibility" of uniform accounting by defense suppliers, so excess profits may not be so easily hidden by figure juggling. And he is still working, uphill, to get something like the World War II Truman committee to put a closer watch on war dollars.

A Pentagon-financed study by the Logistics Management Institute recently found that the profit rate on defense business is actually lower than on commercial sales. But doubts must persist when the scope of the sums and the variety of accounting procedures are considered. In any event, there is little excuse for Congress' apparent indifference to an issue that has been one of keen and critical interest in every previous war this country has fought in modern times.

The Biggest Budget Slice

Americans have long since become used to the idea that by far the biggest slice of the national budget pie must go to the Department of Defense. With such an enormous military establishment deemed necessary to guarantee the national security and meet worldwide commitments, it could not be otherwise.

Even so, it is worthwhile to remind ourselves now and again of the actual magnitude of the sums channeled to the Pentagon. It is not a matter to which we ought to become indifferent.

The size of our defense budget was pointed up in a sort of reverse way when the House Appropriations Committee made its final recommendations on new funds. The committee slashed the President's request by $4.8 billion. That is a huge figure — an amount of money incomprehensible to the average citizen. Yet it made only a small dent in the total recommended House Appropriations approved $72.2 billion, the largest single appropriation since the height of World War II.

Another point in this connection must be noted. Rep. Melvin R. Laird has been quoted as saying that of the total $24.9 billion will go to pay Vietnamese war costs — but then went on to say that he thinks a $5 billion supplemental appropriation will be needed for this purpose early next year.

It is encouraging that the appropriations committee urged belittling in some military activities not directly related to Vietnam. This seems to reflect a widespread feeling that, even given the paramount importance of national security, there must be some fat in such a vast budget. But the overriding fact is that, until international tensions are markedly eased, the lion's share of our national budget will continue to go for guns rather than for solution of domestic problems.

David Lawrence Conspiracy Back Of Rioting

WASHINGTON — For many months now there has been a tendency by many groups to scoff at the charges that some of the riots across the country have been due to a conspiracy. The National Commission to Study Civil Disorder, appointed by President Johnson and headed by former Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, concluded that none of the 1967 disturbances was caused by or the consequence of "any organized plan or conspiracy."

BUT SOME concrete evidence of a conspiracy has been revealed in connection with the riots in Cleveland which resulted in the death of ten persons. Police officials in Cleveland declare that the disorder was planned and that it was part of a "black power" plot against four major cities.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who is a Negro, said he received information from the FBI and other intelligence sources that major disturbances would break out in his city as well as in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh. He had a police task force ready to respond.

ADJ. GEN. S. T. Del Corso, commander of the Ohio National Guard, commented that, on the basis of intelligence reports, "this is a conspiracy of black militant groups to cause disturbances not only in Ohio but all across the United States."

Fred Evans, a black nationalist leader who was arrested by the Cleveland policemen, told officers that he and 17 others instigated the shooting. Patrolman David Hicks said that Evans boasted he and the others began firing at the officers because "you police have bothered us too long."

ANOTHER self-proclaimed member of a black nationalist organization is reported to have declared that the snipers came from a group of 50 or 60 Negro veterans recently returned from Vietnam who have an arsenal of several hundred weapons and "decided they were going to get some white cops."

Certainly, there is no doubt that some of the ammunition which was used in the latest Cleveland riot was transported in interstate commerce, with perhaps an international connection.

THE PROBLEM is what will the federal government do about it. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D., Ohio — who lives in Cleveland — has criticized other members of Congress for having weakened a pending gun-control bill. Pointing out that sniper fire in Cleveland came from M1 carbines, M16 automatics, shotguns, pistols and apparently other long guns, he said to the House of Representatives:

"Undoubtedly some of these guns came into the city through interstate commerce and certainly the ammunition did. Yesterday the House riddled effective gun controls by weakening amendments, including one which exempts ammunition from application of the law."

THE WHOLE problem of how to deal with riots has not yet been solved, and the inclination in Washington has been to pass responsibility on to the state and city governments. But the presence of a "traffic in interstate commerce" in connection with the Cleveland riots and the existence of a plan to stir disturbances in several cities puts the matter plainly within federal jurisdiction.

Church Money Gives The Poor A Lift

(For John Connally)

NEW YORK (AP) — Churches are putting their money to work in the slums to expand the opportunities of minority groups in business, employment and housing.

They are spreading their activities from the spiritual, charitable and educational to the field of cash investment.

Protestants, Catholics and Jews have become increasingly active in using their funds for deposit in slum area banks and providing capital directly for businesses and housing projects.

ONE OF the newest developments is the decision of the Episcopal Church Executive Council to deposit a portion of its funds in slum area banks. So far it has deposited $675,000 in 45 such banks and savings and loan associations in 32 cities.

Charles Bound, a member of the Episcopal Council and a vice president of Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, is directing the program.

"Our deposit of $15,000 in each of these banks doesn't sound important but it is a relatively large deposit for a small financial institution."

"OUR INTENTION is to help build an economic base for minority groups so they can carry their own ball and become independent."

"We are hoping that our dioceses all over the country and businesses will join in depositing their funds. One large corporation has deposited $2 million."

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. last May approved lending $6 million of its funds at low interest rates to high-risk business and housing enterprises in low- and middle-income areas.

The National Council of Churches says other denominations, including the Disciples of Christ and the Unitarians, are engaged in similar activities.

THE COUNCIL has set up an investment committee with a fund of $200,000 to invest in slum businesses. It has helped finance a savings and loan association, consumer cooperatives and a small industrial plant.

The Roman Catholic arch-diocese of New York has a sizable amount of money on deposit in the Negro-owned Freedom National Bank in Harlem.

A GROUP of New York apparel manufacturers, working through the American Jewish Committee, has set up a $20-million credit pool to help Negro merchants stock new clothing stores in nonwhite areas of New York City. Their goal is 500 new stores.

The various faiths are working together in the program. For example, in Harrisburg, Pa., the American Jewish Committee and Catholic and Protestant groups have joined in sponsoring 175 units of low-cost housing.

Hal Boyle Too Few Are Too Rich

NEW YORK (AP) — At last a man has come up with a simple formula for getting rich in America.

"Inherit money," is the crisp advice of author Ferdinand Lundberg.

"The way that most people become rich in this country today is by sitting and listening to the reading of a will. Between 60 and 70 per cent of the individual wealth today is inherited wealth."

THIS IS one of many contentions made by Lundberg in a controversial new best-selling book, "The Rich and the Super Rich," which has proved so fascinating to many of the upper crust that they read it aloud to each other at the dinner table and let their caviar go untasted.

His other major theses are that U.S. wealth is largely family centered and that, at least as recently as a decade ago, one-half of one per cent of America's adult population held 25 per cent of its riches.

IN HIS opinion a nation may be in danger if the few own too much and the many own too little.

"My own view is that the maldistribution of wealth in this country is historically ridiculous and unnecessary," he said. "Thirty per cent of the country's population is impoverished. Another 15 to 20 per cent is near poor."

"The country can do whatever it wants to about the situation for all of me," he remarked. "As the newspapers say, we give them the facts."

LUNDBERG, long a bloodhound on the spoor of the American dollar as a tall, white-haired former financial writer for the defunct New York Herald Tribune. He is also an economist, social philosopher and educator.

In 1937 he provided President Franklin D. Roosevelt's aging New Deal with a new handbook of impetus by writing, "America's 60 Families," in which he first advanced his idea that the nation's political power is flexed chiefly by the firm fists and fingers of a comparatively few clans. The giant corporations they control, he believes, are the instruments of that power.

SOME three years ago he took leave from a teaching post at New York University to find out what had happened to money in the last three decades. The result is a three-pound opus, heavily documented, running to 812 pages, and costing $10.

Around The Rim The Naming Of Texas Towns

Many know, perhaps, that the city of Midland was so named because it is situated midway between Fort Worth and El Paso, that San Angelo inherited its name from a Mexican nun named Santa Angela and that Odessa was christened after a city in Russia.

Taboka comes from an Indian word meaning "clear water" while Winters adopted the name of a land agent there and not because it has such severe weather during the winter months.

MARFA TOOK its name from a heroine in a Russian novel. The name of Earth isn't very flattering, when you consider the fact that there was a duststorm in progress when the townspeople met to choose a name.

Iraan was so called because of two pioneers in the area, Ira and Ann Yates. Pecos was derived from an Indian pueblo there, originally called Pae-quog-one. Plano was originally O'Plain while Cuero comes from a Spanish word meaning "hides." Coahoma derived from an Indian name meaning "signal" and to the south of that Howard County community can be seen Signal Mountain.

KERMIT ADOPTED the name of Kermit Roosevelt, son of one of the presidents, while Bovina was originally identified as Bull Town. Ranger was so dubbed because of an encampment of Texas Rangers there, from which the original town grew.

Dublin was first called Dublin, or "double-in," a warning cry to settlers during the Indian raids. Bronte was so christened as a tribute to the English novelist, Charlotte Bronte.

BAIRD WAS named to honor Matthew Baird, a Texas & Pacific railway director. Blanket's name originated from the fact that an Indian blanket was found on a nearby creek by settlers.

Perhaps you can tell me why so many Texas communities have names of women?

Consider Alice, Donna, Edna, Henrietta, Bess, Bettie, Bonita, Celeste, Christine, Cleo, Diana, Dot, Florence, Helena, Hortense, Ida, Irene, Katy, Lillian, Lois, Lolita, Loraine, Louise, Mabelle, Melissa, Patricia, Peggy, Selma and Victoria, to name a few.

THEN THERE are Twin Sisters (Blanco County) and Seven Sisters (Duval).

In all, there are supposed to be at least 75 cities and towns in Texas who have names suggesting the female sex.

Perhaps the early Texas men respected their womenfolk more than those in other areas or maybe the ladies decided to take matters into their own hands because the men refused to act.

Holmes Alexander U.S., Russia Linked By Flights

AIRBORNE TO MOSCOW — It may have been one of those historical firsts. At 8:01 p.m. on July 15, Russian became the language of record on American soil. It was an airline stewardess giving the routine pretakeoff spiel about emergency exits and flying time, but never before had the Slavic tongue addressed American passengers on a U.S. commercial flight. This was the inaugural passage of Pan American Clipper service from New York to Moscow — an event to remember.

IT WOULD be good to remember, for a sentimental keepsake, that the trim little brunette stewardess was Bonita (Bonny) Yujico, 22, not Russian at all, but Filipino-American, who learned the language at Huntington High School, Long Island and continued its study at the University of Michigan. It is a homely touch, and may not be insignificant. For the breakthrough of ordinary air travel between the Nuclear Age super powers has more to do with world peace and international understanding, I take it, than all the summit conferences and disarmament treaties, past and present.

WE TAXIED out from the Kennedy Airport terminal, and there off the right wing of our Pan Am Boeing 707 was the Lyushin-62 of the Soviet Union's Aeroflot, a high-tail four-jet which had flown from Moscow and landed at Kennedy some four hours sooner. Our flight would complete the hook-up, and dull would be of soul who could ride on such a trip without feeling one of the major thrills of his life. On my part, I think the opening of twice-weekly, binational flights gives the truest signs we've had thus far of a meltdown in the Cold War. The back and forth movement of businessmen and ordinary folk between these two earth-straddling nations will be more symbolic than whole convays of heavenly doves.

MUCH OF THE credit should go to two leaders who now seem to be has-beens of the world scene. They are Dwight Eisenhower and Nikita Khrushchev. It was far back in 1958 when the first Soviet-American agreements on cultural exchanges led to a discussion of scheduled service between the two countries. Much has gone wrong in the meanwhile, what with the Berlin Wall, the Cuban missile crisis and near-conflicts in the Mediterranean and the Far East. Much more will doubtless happen to make our flesh creep in times ahead. But, nothing nearly so good, so wholesome, so normal as this coming-and-go of unimportant people by air travel has taken place in the 50 years since the Russian Revolution, and the coinciding of Eisenhower's and Khrushchev's regimes in what brought this happy occasion into being after a 10-year hatching period.

WHEN PRESIDENT JOHNSON deals with Kossygin, Suslov, Shelepin, and others, he is dealing with younger disciples of Khrushchev. In a way, then, the uneven friendship between like and Big K has been renewed with LBJ. This is particularly true in the matter of the air-travel exchange.

The regular flights between New York and Moscow certainly do not mean that we will have the kind of relationship with Russia that we have had with Britain. The clash of Soviet-American policy is not a thing of the past. But the travel-exchange is an end in itself. It is a fine accompaniment that promises many desirable results.

Off The Beaten Trail Contemplating More Texana

(The author of Off the Beaten Trail continues his quickie tour of Texas points of interest — Editor's note.)

By ED SYERS

Throughout July, we've covered most of our state; and this last week, we finish in East Texas with thumb-nails of places to see, to do, and to feel. For OST's map, we've dropped a line south through Dallas and east-west, above Houston. We'll range from the Red River Valley timber to the depths of the Big Thicket, recollecting eight years' journey together.

From Dallas, US 87 (Int. 30) angles northeast for Paris, generally on the line of one of our Republic's first ax-hewn roads — the Central National Road. Scarcely outside of Dallas is Little Rockwall, well named, for still scattered round its low hills are rock-slashed walls, so regular in immense size, apparently so precisely placed, that some believe this site of a civilization, still in the shadows to us. Geology declares the strange formation only a spur of Balcones Fault, cracked under the weight of aeons of time.

BEYOND ROCKWALL, close by, is Royce City and Hobo Ranch. For three generations since 1876, the Henry Zollner family has operated an extraordinary hand-up for fellow man. Any honest transient who needs a home, who stays clean inside and out and who will work to help that home (if physically he can't, he's welcome anyhow), has one day or lifetime, here.

North stands old Bonham since Fort English was a log stockade. Here in Civil War days, story says Quantrell's border raiders camped and shot up the then courthouse . . . and east beyond in Paris and nearby Gambill Wild Goose Refuge. A 1920 farmer baited in a flight with corn, couldn't kill them, fed them instead. Each year, more and more have returned to make this one of the country's great sanctuaries.

Jonesborough on Pecan Point. This Redlander country is singular not only for preceding Austin's lower colonies, or for Ben Milam's tying up a riverboat in the 30's.

Down from Texarkana are three fine lakes, among the many now in East Texas; but of them all, most intriguing is still Caddo, where a novice boatman can lose himself as easily as in Everglades, yet where the old stern-wheelers used to ply across to Jefferson and promise an 1880 metropolis with New Orleans' Old South overtones. Here, more than anywhere, is the restored grace of Confederacy's ante-bellum great homes.

DUE SOUTH is Marshall, not only capital of Confederate Missouri, but in many respects, last capital of Confederacy herself, the last desperate days when the Trans-Mississippi Gray, through their governors, tried to determine how to go it alone . . . Below Marshall, near Carthage, is dark-forested Little Hendricks Lake, and the legend that deep in its blue gumbo bottom yet lies a treasure dumped in haste by Lafitte pirates (some claim them Santa Anna's men).

Zigzagging west is handsome Tyler with its rose garden the most beautiful 27 acres I've ever seen. On a hill toward Gladewater are faintest traces (a park's there now) of old Confederate Camp Ford, singular war prison. Here were nearly 5,000 men: fragments of a hundred regiments from nearly every state North, taken in the debacle of Bank's Expedition that had planned to overrun and recolonize Texas in 90 days. That expedition collapsed not far east, just over the Louisiana line at Little Mansfield.

TOWARD DALLAS from Tyler lie the great salt caverns of Grand Saline, mined out rooms 700 feet long and 100 high, an eighth-mile underground; and 12 miles of strange white labyrinth. Before the great shaft, Cherokee and frontiersman alike took salt, sun or kettle-dried here.

(The tour continues in subsequent columns.)

Billy Graham

My mother has been ill for many months and is in constant pain. Why does God allow this? Please help me understand, N.W.

Think a moment! If God gave everyone who served Him perfect health, and prosperity, many would serve Him with the hope of health and gain — faith in Him would be needless, and love of Him for His own sake would be unknown.

Jesus didn't promise a "bed of roses" for His followers. He said they would be despised, persecuted and mistreated. But He said, "I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." He enters the arena of history with those who serve Him, and brings triumph out of seeming defeat.

Your mother's illness is hurting you more than it is her, because she has trusted and you have doubted. Whatever you do, don't vent your bitterness in her presence.

The greatest thing about Christianity is not that Christians are spared trouble, but that in the midst of it they can say, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." That quality of faith ought to be an inspiration to all who doubt.

Rebels Launch Tourney Play With Odessa

MIDLAND — Bell's Mayflower Rebels of Big Spring challenge Odessa B & B in the opening round of the District 1 Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball league tournament at 8:15 p.m. today.

The contest will take place in downtown Ulmer Park, one of two facilities being used in the tournament.

Two other games are booked in Hogan Park. San Angelo opposes the Odessa Lone Star club at 5:30 p.m. while Odessa Big State squares off with Midland Permian at 8:15 p.m.

If Big Spring wins its opening game, it returns to play at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday against the Midland Optimists, which drew a first round bye in the seven-team event.

Odessa B & B has a 15-3 win-loss record. Clark is the team's leading hurler, with a 10-0 record. Shoemaker leads the Odessa batters with a .650 average.

James Newman is Big Spring's top hurler with a 5-4 record and could charge the hill tonight. With a .450 average, Snickie Beal paces the Rebel hitters.

Odessa Lone Star carries a 10-7 record into play. San Angelo is 13-4, the Midland Optimists 15-3, Midland Permian 14-1 and Odessa Big State 13-4.

Champion of the Midland meet plays the District 2 survivor (McCahey, Crane or Fort Stockton) in the State tournament at Temple next week.

The District 2 tournament is being staged in McCahey starting tonight. McCahey's Tigers (10-2) oppose Crane in one start while Fort Stockton clashes with Monahans in the other go. The tournament concludes Thursday night.

Big Spring's Hi-Junior Teen-Age league champions, the McMahon Indians, do not play again until Wednesday, at which time they compete in a district tournament at San Angelo.

They will not learn the identity of their first round foe until the drawing for tournament spots takes place in San Angelo about noon Wednesday.

Bill Munson To Miss Two Weeks Of Action

By The Associated Press

Jerry Hillebrand is a St. Louis Cardinal again, Detroit quarterback Bill Munson is a hospital patient and Kevin Hardy, well, he's still just meditating.

Hillebrand, a linebatter, had been sent to the Minnesota Vikings to complete a deal which recently sent safety Brady Keys to the Cardinals.

But the Vikings announced Sunday that Hillebrand, who has been hampered by knee trouble, failed to pass his physical and was being returned to the Cardinals.

A Viking spokesman said the Cardinals now must give up another player or a high draft choice.

Munson, obtained in an off-season trade and now the Lions' No. 1 quarterback, was scheduled to undergo an operation today for removal of a bone growth in his right leg. He'll be out of action for at least two weeks.

Karl Sweetan and rookie Greg Barton will alternate at quarterback for the Lions' first exhibition game, Aug. 5.

And Hardy, ordered by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle to report to the San Francisco 49ers as partial payment for the Saints' signing of Dave Park, remained in the New Orleans Saints training camp at San Diego, Calif., Sunday.

"I guess I'll just have to meditate," he said.

Parks, a veteran receiver, played out his option with the 49ers last season, then signed on with the Saints last week. As payment, Rozelle ordered the Saints to give up Hardy, a rookie but highly prized plus their No. 1 draft choice for 1969.

Hardy was greatly upset. "I don't know what I can do," he said. "If Rozelle tells you to jump, I guess you're supposed to jump. But I haven't been around here long enough to jump. I am confused by it all and don't know what I want to do. Perhaps I'll get myself a lawyer. I just don't know."

The Atlanta Falcons signed two key players, fullback Junior Coffey and halfback Perry Lee Dunn, leaving 11 veterans unsigned.

The Pittsburgh Steelers reported that Bob Wade, a cornerback, suffered a knee injury in Saturday's scrimmage and now is on crutches.

Miami put seven free agents and 12th round draft choice, tackle Paul Paxton, on waivers.

Coach George Wilson said he originally had planned to cut 15, but changed his mind after the Dolphins' scrimmage Saturday.

The Boston Patriots released rookie Ron Persuitte when three veterans returned to camp after completing their National Guard summer training. They are center Jon Morris, guard Karl Singer and fullback Bob Cappadona.

Harrelson Credits Doerr With Surge

The Hawk is making lazy circles on the bases again... but he won't take credit for his latest swoop.

"There's only two words you need to know: Bobby Doerr. He did it again," said Ken "Hawk" Harrelson Sunday after his two-run ninth inning homer swept the Boston Red Sox from the Washington Senators 10-4.

Harrelson, who stroked a single and double in addition to his 23rd homer, went on to explain that Doerr, a Red Sox coach, had found a flaw in his swing and helped pull him out of a brief batting slump.

OUT OF SLUMP

"That's the first time I've hit a ball like that in a week and a half," said the slugging outfielder, who has connected for 13 game-winning hits—seven of them homers—this season.

In other American League action Sunday Baltimore salvaged the finale of a three-game series with first place Detroit 5-1 behind Dave McNally's three-hit performance.

Harrelson, who equaled his previous season home run high with the ninth inning blast of Bob Humphreys at Washington, said he'd taken extra post-game batting practice Saturday after Doerr spotted him opening his left shoulder and dropping his right during a 3-for-20 tailspin at the plate.

"I thought it was my hands," Harrelson said. "It wasn't. I tried five different hand positions. Then Bobby said, 'Don't worry about your hands. Drive your shoulders toward the pitcher and your hands will be all right.'"

Thus enlightened, the Hawk punched a single and scored a run in the fifth inning Sunday and doubled in the seventh as the Red Sox tallied twice for an 8-8 deadlock. Carl Yastrzemski opened the ninth with a single and Harrelson hit Humphreys' next pitch into the left field bullpen.

SECOND BLAST

The homer boosted Harrelson's batting average to .292—second best in the league. He leads the majors with 74 runs batted in.

McNally, who has won five straight, blanked the Tigers under Willie Horton hit his 28th homer with two out in the ninth. Frank Robinson's two-run homer keyed a 10-hit Baltimore attack that moved the second place Orioles within 6½ games of Detroit.

The Indians snapped a four-game losing string and surged within seven games of the league leaders as right-handers Luis Tiant and Stan Williams, backed by five bases-empty homers, stymied the Yankees.

Home runs by Lou Johnson, Joe Arcene and Tommy Harper gave Tiant his 17th victory against six losses. Tiant hurled a five-hitter and struck out 10. Williams, 9-5, scattered 10 hits in the nightcap while Duke Sims and Larry Brown homered for Cleveland.

Pitcher Jim Nash broke a 1-1 fifth inning knot at Oakland with his second homer of the year, touching off a three-run burst that carried the A's past the Twins. Bob Allison's two-run homer in the ninth chased Nash, but reliever Paul Lindblad protected the Athletics' edge.

The White Sox managed only three hits at Anaheim, but Pete foiled by Brooks. Mickey Stanley of the Detroit Tigers is out at first base in the fourth inning of Sunday's game after a sparkling play by third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles. Robinson knocked down Stanley's hard grounder, scrambled for the ball and threw to first baseman Boog Powell for the out. The Orioles won 5-1.

Newman Kayoes Tiger Nine, 9-4

James Newman spaced seven hits effectively in pitching the Big Spring Cardinals to a 9-4 victory over the Big Spring Tigers at Steer Park Sunday afternoon.

Newman's stylish performance enabled the Red Birds to pull even with the Bengals in their season's series. Newman fanned ten. He was in hot water much of the way but kept working his way out of trouble.

The Cardinals cut loose with ten hits, three of which were accounted for by R. J. Englert. Gary Mearns accepted his first mound defeat of the season. The Cards sent him to the showers with a three-run fifth.

Jimmy Fierro crashed out three safeties for the Tigers while Billy Weatherall chipped in with a two-run home run in the fifth. Weatherall also powered home a tally in the eighth when he plated Rod Roberts.

On two different occasions, the Tigers managed to retire two batters only to have the roof cave in on them. On the other hand, the Bengals loaded the sacks in two different innings, yet were able to glean only one run.

In all, the Tigers stranded 13 runners. The defeat left the Tigers with an 11-5 record. In the Oldtimers game, which helped to attract a large crowd to the park, the Old Tigers turned back the VA Jets, 9-4.

Popeye Santellan pitched the win. His slants were caught by his brother, Wimpy.

Juan Garcia bossed the Old Tigers, assisted by Gus Fierro. P. oncho Mendez, Willie Menchaca and Tata Nunez headed the Jet team, which was

Wrecks Up Texas' Violent Death Toll

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents kept the violent death toll climbing in Texas this weekend, a survey by the Associated Press shows.

At least 13 persons died on state highways, six were shot to death, four were drowning victims and three died in miscellaneous violence. The total reached 26 dead.

Five of the six shooting deaths were in Dallas County. The Associated Press tabulation ran from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

HHH-McCarthy Ticket Problem Easily Solved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has never had a president and vice president from the same state, but the reason is more political than constitutional.

Strategists for both Democrats and Republicans agree that the constitutional barrier to having both candidates from the same state is easily overcome.

They're guided more by the idea that a ticket should be geographically and ideologically balanced in order to have the widest political appeal.

There have been suggestions that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination, should pick rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as his running mate.

Although both are from Minnesota, the two represent opposing wings of the Democratic party on the key Vietnam issue, and a union might help to unify the party for the November election.

There also have been suggestions that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican front-runner, pick New York Mayor John V. Lindsay as his running mate. Nixon lives in New York.

Mercury Zips Into The 90s

By The Associated Press
Thundershowers formed over the Texas Panhandle early today as a weak cool front pushed its way into the northern half of the state.

More thundershowers developed late Sunday after temperatures, under mostly partly cloudy skies, soared above summertime norms in most of the state. Maximums ranged from 104 at Wichita Falls to 86 at Alpine. Most highs for the day were in the 90s.

Temperatures before dawn today ranged mostly in the 70s. Daytime heating was expected to trigger some scattered thundershowers as the mercury climbed into the 90s.

Showers Sunday night were located in a line from the Texas Panhandle to 20 miles northwest of Gainesville. For a six-hour period ending at midnight, Dalhart measured .31 inch of rain, Amarillo .04 and Wichita Falls a trace.

However, the problem could easily be solved by having Humphrey, switch his official residence from Waverly, Minn., to Washington, D.C., where he has an apartment. McCarthy, being a Minnesota senator, would presumably stay there.

It's Showdown In Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Whether there will be a nationwide steel strike Thursday or a settlement in the pattern of the can, aluminum, copper and auto industries, may be decided today.

It's showdown time—and what reportedly will be shown for the first time will be the long-awaited wage-benefits package from the nation's 11 largest steel producers that could avert a threatened walkout of 388,000 steelworkers.

SECRET
The still-secret industry offer, hammered out by top negotiators, is to be considered first by the United Steelworkers 33-man executive committee at a morning session.

Cameramen, Cops Tangle

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two television cameramen on assignment in Cleveland charged they were beaten by police Sunday because they attempted to film the arrest of two Negroes.

One of the cameramen, Julius Boros, 36, is expected to appear in Municipal Court today on a charge of assaulting a policeman. He was reported in good condition Sunday night at Lutheran Hospital.

The other cameraman, Charles Ray, 40, filed a complaint against 14 policemen and demanded a lineup of policemen so he could pick out the alleged assailants. Ray faces no charges in the incident.

Boros and Ray, both from Chicago, work for the National Broadcasting Co.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes discussed the incident with top police officials and later promised "a thorough investigation."

In other developments Sunday, in the wake of last Tuesday night's shootings that took 10 lives, the last of the National Guard troops on duty pulled out and police resumed regular duty hours.

A member of the Police Department's special task force unit charged in a newspaper interview Sunday that "the powers that be knew something was happening" at least three hours before snipers opened fire on policemen, killing three, on the East Side Tuesday night.

Also Abel and his chief industry counterpart, R. Conrad Cooper, said in a joint weekend statement—their only one during the talks—that they were "searching for common ground—the basis for settlement—but have not found that basis."

A news blackout has surrounded industrywide talks since they started here June 24, and this has produced much in rumors and little in hard facts. The steelworkers went into negotiations determined to win "a substantial wage increase," a bigger pension, better hospitalization and vacation benefits, and incentive pay coverage for all workers.

NO PRICE TAG
No price tag was put on the proposed union package but Abel was under stiff pressure from his men to come up, at the very least, with something equal to steelworker settlements in can, aluminum and copper.

These brought wage gains reportedly worth slightly more than 6 per cent. And steel set a similar goal.

Current talks involve only employees of the nation's 11 largest steel producers, headed by U.S. Steel Corp. They produce 80 per cent of American steel.

The other firms usually sign pacts with the union agreeing to accept whatever terms are worked out by the 11. Thus if there should be a walkout, about 62,000 steelworkers, making 20 per cent of the nation's steel, will continue on the job.

Steel users, worried over a possible steel strike, hedged by heavy advance buying. It is estimated there is sufficient steel stockpiled to supply America's needs for the next four months.
