GOP Dines, Swings At Foes

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans across the nation poured out cash for the party till Thursday night along with cries that Democrats are grabbing for more power with "profligate spending" and "political fakery."

Eisenhower urged the Republicans to discard such tags as "liberal" and "conservative," and holding up the party as the great hope of the nation for getting sound, sensible, responsible government.

While he was at it, the senator zigged Kennedy for touching off an upcoming investigation of what the President called excessive stockpiling of emergency materials for defense.

The Republicans, Goldwater said, merely carried out contracts left under the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, so "we welcome an investigation into the bad decisions and poor judgment of the Democratic party."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, upholding the GOP cause with professions of confidence, and holding up the party as the great hope of the nation for getting sound, sensible, responsible government.

DECEIVING THE GROUNDHOG—Doing her best to shield the groundhog's hole from the sun is Suzanne Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Black. In spite of her efforts, however, it's feared that there was just too much sun in Snyder this morning, and we're in for six more weeks of winter.

WINTER PROLONGED? Sun Hits Groundhog

QUARRVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two groundhogs, considered the official legendary weather prophets, emerged from their holes today and saw their shadows, signifying six more weeks of winter.

Attired in tall hats and long white night shirts, the members of the two groundhog clubs started out before dawn for the woods and valleys seeking out the legendary weather prophet.

They carried divining rods and other gadgets, part of their annual Feb. 2 caper.

As legend has it, if the little beast sees his shadow, it is a sign of more winter, and back he'll scamper into his hole. If there is no shadow he'll stay in the open, signifying an early spring.

The Quarrville and Punsuatawney groundhogs are generally regarded as the official weather prophets but the Philadelphia groundhog-saw its shadow a week ago.

But the premature forecast of the Philadelphia woodchuck was not what irritated Robert Herr, chairman of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs' board of governors here and Sam Light, president of the Punsuatawney Groundhog Club in the western part of the state.

What irritated them was an announcement by the National Geographic Society that men of science had reported the groundhog a lazy creature who, if left undisturbed, would sleep right through its biggest day in the warm confines of its earth-lined burrow.

Herr called that libelous. He quoted Dr. David E. Davis of Pennsylvania State University as proving "our hero comes out of hibernation in the first few days of February—always on the second."

Davis was on hand here. He figured the groundhog may be helpful in his study of kidney diseases.

Another biology professor, Dr. Robert M. Chute of Lincoln University, didn't care whether the groundhog saw his shadow or not. He just wanted groundhogs—dead or alive. He had offered $5 each for the first five he gets, $2 for the next 10 and 50 cents for each one thereafter. He'll study the animals to determine the effect of hibernation on their intestinal parasites.

Herr covered he'd give Chute none of Quarryville's. Back in Punsuatawney Light and his followers trokked to Gobbler's Knob to keep their vigil over the hole of Punsuatawney Phil.

Mrs. Rockefeller Arrives In Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller has arrived in this divorce capital—apparently to end her 31-year marriage to New York's governor in a quick and quiet way.

They separated in New York several months ago.

Mrs. Rockefeller's attorney, William K. Woodburn of Reno, would not confirm that she came to Nevada for a divorce. "She's here in Reno—period," she said after her arrival Thursday night.

Woodburn, a former Democratic national committeeman, has handled many divorce cases but is not generally known as a divorce specialist.

Six weeks' residence in Nevada is required for filing suit for divorce, which may be granted by a county judge on many grounds.

Additionaly is the only ground for divorce in New York state, and many New Yorkers establish residence in other states to obtain divorces on different grounds.

Rockefeller was in Des Moines, Iowa, for a Republican dinner

Thursday night at about the time his wife arrived in Reno.

The governor's press secretary, Robert L. McManus, said the governor would have no comment now or later on his wife's move.

Mrs. Rockefeller was accompanied by her widowed sister, Mrs. Philip Wallis of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., a fashionable suburb of Philadelphia. Mrs. Rockefeller flew from New York to San Francisco. Woodburn met her at San Francisco and drove her on a 300-mile trip here because fog made air travel impossible.

Neither Rockefeller, 53, nor his wife, 54, has given any public hint of the cause of the breakup of their marriage. They had five children and eight grandchildren.

Their separation—described as amicable—was announced by a family spokesman last Nov. 17.

Two days later they were struck by tragedy. Their youngest son, Michael, 23, was reported missing in the wilds of Dutch New Guinea. A vast search was conducted, but the young explorer finally was given up as lost. He had dived into crocodile-infested water from a disabled native boat of the shore while on an expedition hunting primitive art.

There was widespread speculation that the parents' grief might lead to a reconciliation. But neither ever said a word to bolster such hope.

Various opinions have been expressed in Republican and Democratic ranks on the possible effect of a divorce on Rockefeller's political future. He will run for a second four-year term as governor next fall, and is a possibility for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

The Rockefeller's already were living apart when the separation and divorce plans were announced.

Mrs. Rockefeller, the former Mary Tothunter Clark of Philadelphia, is heiress to a railroad fortune. Her maternal grandfather was George Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad for many years.

Her personal wealth, however, ranks far below the millions that have come to her husband from the vast fortune started by his grandfather, oil king John D. Rockefeller.

The separation announcement said a property settlement had been reached. The terms were not disclosed.

McCormack Tells Of JFK Friendship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress looked to President Kennedy today to pave the way for an investigation of the nation's war-emergency stockpile by formally removing the lid of secrecy from its contents.

The President already has said "the cold facts on this matter must be open to the public" and suggested that a Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., undertake the inquiry.

Symington interpreted Kennedy's remarks at Wednesday's news conference as a "green light" from the White House for his subcommittee to have "a good look at what's going on."

"We have always been told before these items could not be declassified," Symington said at a news conference of his own.

But, a few hours before Symington reported to Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., got into the act. He said his joint committee on nonessential government expenditures would study the $7.7-billion accumulation of metals, minerals and tools.

Byrd said he had written to Kennedy, asking him to issue an executive order declassifying items in the stockpile to the "maximum limit consistent with the national interest."

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chimed in with a statement that the Joint Senate-House Committee on Defense Production, which he heads, has been inquiring regularly into the stockpile situation.

The Symington and Byrd groups also have been actively investigating the stockpile over the past few years. All three groups have been unable to stir up public interest since much of the information made available by the government has been classified.

Another accident at 8:07 p.m. involved a 1954 Plymouth driven by Annie Winfred Jones and a Mack truck driven by C. L. Marston of Colorado. The accident occurred at Avenue E and the East Highway. Damage to the car was estimated by Snyder police at $150. There was no damage to the truck and no injuries.

Cable Break Causes Woe

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The break in the main telephone cables here was like chopping the hub out of a wheel.

More than 100 men, working around the clock, were restoring to service gradually today the 10,000 circuits that were knocked out when a retaining wall collapsed at Kansas City's main telephone plant Thursday.

Local telephone service wasn't affected, but the break cut long-distance lines and coaxial cables that link missile sites, Air Force bases, television stations, press services, boards of trade and surrounding towns.

Those lines fan out over the country like the spokes of a wheel. The steel retaining wall tumbled at an excavation where an addition to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. plant is to be built.

The company brought equipment and specialists from Dallas, St. Louis and Chicago to tackle the tedious job of digging out and splicing the thousands of circuits.

They worked under the threat of a cave-in of another wall in the excavation. Power shovels dug away the earth behind the wall to relieve the pressure, built up by water from melting snow and ice.

Republicans "O. W. Hayes, a Temple businessman; and Kellis Dibrrell, a San Antonio lawyer, also are in the race.

"I am the only candidate . . . who has had the experience and responsibility for organizing a legislative house, for formulating a legislative program, and for presiding over the daily affairs of a legislative body," Turman said.

Turman lives near Gober in Fannin County. He is in his fourth term in the House.

Jan Froman Set For Serious Study

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—"I sang and danced my way all through school the first time and I loved every minute of it, but now I'm looking forward to something else."

Jan Froman, singer of stage, radio and television fame, has returned to the University of Missouri and enrolled in three art courses.

She left the university in the early 1930s to become a vocalist with Paul Whiteman's band and she has been singing since.

A plane carrying a USO troupe crashed at Lisbon in 1943, killing 23 persons and nearly taking Miss Froman's life, but she underwent 30 operations and went on singing.

Now 51, she is going back to school and this time, she says, her school work is going to be different.

Trio Charged In Foreign Aid Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the government have been issued by a grand jury against a former U.S. foreign aid official and two other men.

The indictments, announced Thursday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were returned by a District of Columbia federal grand jury. They named Edward T. McNamara, Gerald A. Peabody and Willis H. Bird in connection with U.S. foreign aid contracts in Laos in 1956 and 1957.

McNamara, former public works and industrial officer for the U.S. International Cooperation Administration mission in Laos, now lives in Bloomfield, N.J.

Peabody, former president of Universal Construction, Ltd., of Bangkok, Thailand; and Bird, who was managing director of the company, are both believed to be living abroad.

The indictment alleges that between July 1956 and October 1957 McNamara received money and other valuables from Peabody and Bird, including a $10,000 mutual fund investment paid for by Bird in June 1957.

In return, McNamara allegedly helped Universal Construction, Ltd., obtain contracts, including one for a ferry ramp on the Mekong River in Laos. Low bid was $125,072, the indictment stated, but Universal got the job for $188,775.

Dancing Hair New Fashion For Spring

This collection of "Dancing Hair" fashions has been designed by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association for the youngest and gayest spring ever. The new styles will be featured during National Beauty Salon Week, which will be observed February 11-17.

The new "Dancing Hair" fashions introduce a wonderful range of variety into the coiffure picture with a dancing hair "up" line and a dancing hair "down" line to harmonize not only with variations in new clothing silhouettes, but also to add zest for a variety of spring and summer social functions and activities.

In the "Dancing Hair" fashions featuring the new "up" line, wave patterns swing generally in an upward or verticle mood for special party and evening wear. In the "down" line, waves sway with a fluid and more horizontal direction for carefree daytime wear, though the line can be dressed up for special occasions.

In both, you will always find a saucy flip-up of curl, either at the top, the sides, over, under, or just about anywhere, but always dancing. In both, you will need professional permanent waving and expert hair shaping for easy care, and to lend necessary freedom to the dancing pattern of waves.

AFS Meeting Saturday

The Snyder American Field Service Chapter will hold a dutch breakfast Saturday morning at 8:45 a.m. at Sallie's Cafeteria.

This is a special meeting of the board members and Mrs. M. H. Roe, president, urges all board members to be present and ready to place names in nomination for the board posts.

Jean Young Speaker For ABWA

The Snyder Chapter of the A.B.W.A. met in a dinner meeting Jan. 23, at the Martha Ann Women's Club.

The members and two guests, Misses Dawnell Wells and Jean Young sat down to a lovely meal at a table decorated in the Valentine theme, with a beautiful centerpiece of red carnations and stock interspersed with cupid. The invocation was given by Mrs. Clara Mae Noah.

Mrs. Inez Teaff introduced Miss Jean Young to the group as Snyder's summer exchange student under the American Field Service. After a brief history of the A.F.S. Miss Young gave an interesting travelogue on her trip from Montreal to Bremen, Germany. She explained that this was a port on the North Sea—in fact, the second largest seaport in Germany. Her talk was illustrated with colored slides and pictures of her "Summer Family" were shown. Miss Young was one of 25 students who went to Bremen.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Elizabeth Herling. The main business conducted was the acceptance of a recommendation from the Ways and Means Committee to sponsor the showing of the film "The Life of Christ." This film will be shown in Snyder by Mr. Floyd Eaves, who has been doing this for the past seven years in all parts of the country.

The vocational talk was made by Miss Ethel Roberts, a first grade teacher in the Snyder School system. She is dedicated to her profession, saying she tries to lay a foundation for learning. In her opinion, education is the need of the world, because where there is no education, there is darkness, mistrust, and war.

All members were urged to call Mary Nell Smith after 6:00 with items of news for the bulletin.

AFS Chapter To Elect New Officers Saturday

New officers for the 1962-63 year will be elected at the February meeting of the local American Field Service Chapter. This meeting will be held Saturday morning, Feb. 3rd, at Sallie's Cafeteria, 2415 Avenue S. Board members of the local chapter will meet for breakfast.

Mrs. M. H. Roe, president, urges all board members to be present, since this is an all important meeting. Board members should be ready to place names in nomination for the board posts since all must be filled. Board members are asked to come at 8:45 a.m. if at all possible so that more time may be given to the business meeting.

It is necessary to elect new officers now so that names may be presented to the National Headquarters of the American Field Service for approval. New officers will assume their responsibilities on July 1st.

At the January meeting of the local chapter, Joe Cargile, treasurer, reported a total of $285.36 on hand. Plans are being formulated for a drive in behalf of the local AFS program during the month of May. It is hoped that enough money can be raised to carry on the program for 1962-63 year at this time. Two programs are sponsored by the Snyder chapter, the Foreign Exchange Student and the Americans Abroad. Although an extensive drive is planned for the coming May, Mr. Cargile wishes to let it be known that any organization or individual wishing to contribute may mail or hand their donation at any time.

Applications for foster homes for the Foreign Exchange Student for the next school year are also desired now. Several applications are necessary so that the National Headquarters of AFS can have greater latitude in the choice of homes in placing the Foreign student. Great care is taken by the organization to see that the student's adopted family corresponds to a great degree with that of his own family. In this way it has been found that both the family adopting a student for a 10-month period and the student benefit. Families interested in making application should contact the Rev. THE CRISIS THAT WASN'T Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen—thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician score amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production. Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

We are staffed and equipped to fill your doctor's prescriptions promptly at prices that are fair.

Parley Produces Some Solid Gains

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This country won less than complete victory in Latin America on dealing with Cuba. But there were some solid achievements.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was the U.S. spokesman and general at the Uruguay meeting of 21 American Foreign ministers, which this country wanted and pushed for.

It showed:
1. Some of the biggest Latin-American nations don't see eye to eye in all details with this country in handling Cuba. Six refused to vote with the United States to expel Fidel Castro from the Organization of American States.

2. Judging from that result, this country either rushed into the meeting too fast, without learning beforehand where those six stood, or it did know but optimistically went ahead, ignoring what it had learned.

3. The United States, big as it is and much as Latin America needs its economic help, is not the absolute hemisphere boss. Realization of this here and in Latin America may turn out to have been this country's greatest benefit from the 10-day meeting.

The biggest test of American influence, and the one on which Rusk worked hardest for days, was on the question of throwing Cuba out of the inter-American system.

In the end the United States and 13 other countries — just enough to put the resolution over-voted to do it.

Cuba, of course, voted against. But Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico refrained from voting. Those six countries contain three-quarters of Latin America's 200 million people.

They didn't want to go along with Rusk for various reasons, ranging from the question of whether this was quite the legal way to go about it to pressure among their people back home.

But once that particular issue was out of the way all, with the exception of Cuba, voted:

That communism has no place in the inter-American system; that the United States should inter-American defense board; block arms shipments to and from Cuba, and organize a vigilance system to prevent Cuba from spreading communism in the Americas.

Out of these resolutions other steps will, or should, follow, as Rusk indicated at a news conference he called Thursday, two hours after returning home.

It may be unpalatable to some to see the United States, upon which so many Latin-American nations depend for help, balked if only on one point by those beholden.

Yet it illustrates, as well as anything, the difference between the free association of states in this hemisphere and the Soviet dictatorship which compels compliance from its European satellites.

Before the six Latin-American countries are criticized for being less than 100 per cent agreeable to U.S. wishes, it might be remembered that even such a close ally as French President Charles de Gaulle has been an obstinate and often painful partner.

President Kennedy expressed satisfaction with the outcome. Four members of Congress who accompanied Rusk, two Democrats and two Republicans, called it a "marked success." And Rusk perhaps optimistically, said the meeting had isolated Castro from the hemisphere.

Cuba called it an American defeat and then shrilly denounced the whole business.

What really counts — now that the resolutions have been adopted — is what the 20 republics do to show they mean something.

U. N. Flag To Fly Again

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — The United Nations flag will fly again outside City Hall—despite Mayor Wallace Puchalski's objections.

Two weeks ago, the mayor, a soda shop proprietor, had the flag removed. He said the U.N. had given the United States nothing but the Korean War, a large debt, an eroded currency and an uneasy peace and that the flag would never fly here again.

However, the City Council voted 8-1 Thursday night to replace the flag.

Puchalski, 31, said he had received hundreds of letters and only four were against his action. The flag was donated by the Northampton League of Women Voters.

Georgia Solons Hear State's New Anthem

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Georgia Legislature heard the state's new anthem, "Georgia Forever," for the first time Thursday and praise was extravagant.

One lawmaker commented: "It's a fine song but I don't think it'll ever replace 'Rambling Wreck.'" He referred to Georgia Tech's famous fight song.

Western Indiana believed the equally heavy had supernatural powers because of its unusual ability to recover from wounds.

meeting had isolated Castro from the hemisphere.

Cuba called it an American defeat and then shrilly denounced the whole business.

What really counts — now that the resolutions have been adopted — is what the 20 republics do to show they mean something.

A Closer Walk With God

Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

WRONG?

"the facts are

... the church needs you, John, and God won't let you get away with your record of non-support. At the moment, your business is flourishing but your church attendance record, your presence at Sunday School and your tithing performance are at low ebb. We judge a tree by its fruit. No mask can hide what you really are. A tenth of your earnings belong to God. Don't try to tip Him by giving less. He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good: and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God. Micah 6:8. Then help the church. Support the church: Attend church. It is God's work shop for making a better man out of you . . . a better world."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.
