The wise woman we know there are only two classes in the world—neat people and people they criticize.

Congratulations to the graduates of '52 are being extended with the advertising columns in the Dispatch this week. The reporter joins with Post photographers in extending Best Awards to Senior students and to those who are graduating from elementary into high school.

...cowboys are ready showing up on Main street getting in early, so to speak, for the Eleventh production of the Post Stampede and to be staged here May 28, 29, 30 and 31. These cowpokes and ponies are decorating the glass windows of business places. Keen art work!

...speaking of the rodeo, it moved up and down Main street several business houses and are thinking seriously of floating floats in the parade. Chamber of Commerce and Texas Gas Company folks already at work on their parade. It will be a fun. O. D. Cardwell is in charge of the parade.

...parade of values will be at Piggly Wiggly store week. The parade of values... provided such items as Premium Bacon, Hams, Field Sausage, Brookfield Meats for Babies and other Swift items. Be sure to ad-venturing through Wiggly's ad this week.

...feast to famine—that's potato story in Garza county now. The price is the high history and the lowly fast becoming a black commodity in some quarters of the good U.S.A. The red-skinned new ones are angled in red tape that gro-groppers in Garza county never see them this year. ...a suggestion if some do your way, and you can't.

...Cream Potato Casserole... new potatoes in their skins (vitamins, you know) skin and dice. Add to it cream sauce. Add a sweet onion and pour baking dish. Make up a salmon loaf and spread the top. Bake at 350 until browned on the top.

RODEO ARENA IN GOOD SHAPE—Stampede Rodeo fans have no worry this year as far as the grounds are concerned, May 28, 29, 30 and 31. So say the three men pictured above. They are shown inspecting the grounds following the extensive work done recently. The entire arena was spaded and will be kept in constant good shape until rodeo time. Pictured as they looked over the grounds are, left to right, Hinton Fluit, Stampede member, Jack Meeks, arena chairman, and Lee Byrd, flag bearer. According to Homer McCrary, secretary, entries in the four-night event are steady. (Photo by Dispatch.)

Board member Clarence Carpenter is to grant the diplomas at the exercises which will end the Garnolia school term one week earlier than the other county schools.

David Willis Resigns As County Attorney May 31

Attorney since January 1951, has resigned his office effective May 31, Judge H. M. Snowden announced in behalf of Commissioners' Court.

Willis resigned the position to go into the insurance business. He will be associated with the Amicable Life in Lubbock. He said he probably wouldn't move his family to Lubbock until sometime in June when his home there is completed.

Garza Farmers Using Disaster Loan Provisions

Garza county farmers, or many of them at least, are taking advantage of the Disaster Loans being issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the Farm Home Administration.

Under the provisions of the loan, only those farmers who farmed during 1951 can obtain loans to assist them in making crops during 1952. This provision also states that they must have made at least one-fourth less crop than they would have normally made to be eligible.

Loans are made to farmers with 3 percent interest, and the FHA takes a first mortgage on the expected crop for the amount loaned the farmer.

Since the disaster loan set up was introduced, Walker says he has made 50 disaster loans in Lynn and Garza counties compared to the six Production and Subsistence loans in both counties.

A break-in and burglary at Dan Altman's Triangle Service Station last Friday night resulted in the theft of approximately $300, Sheriff Carl Rains announced.

Of this total $50 was in cash and the remainder in checks. The culprit left a sack containing about $20 in change in the safe.

Entry was made by smashing a back window, Rains said. By late Wednesday no clues had been unearthed in the case.

Rains also pointed out that no leads had been found in the burglary of the Mitchell Malout store several weeks ago.

The Friday night break-in was the fourth such "visit" the Triangle has had since Altman assumed ownership three years ago.

Four more persons have donated rooms to the hospital, according to an announcement by Jack Rex, equipment consultant.

Added to last week's list are these new donors: Dr. A. C. Surman, single room; Dr. Brown Brothers, et al Operators, double room; and Marshall Mason, double room.

Post Teacher Salary Schedule Raised About $600 Annually By School Board

Board members of the Post Independent School system Monday night voted an approximate $600 per year increase in salary of every old and new teacher in the system by approving a new salary schedule, Superintendent D. C. Arthur, announced.

The new salary schedule will become effective September 1, 1952, and includes the following provisions: Bachelor of Science degree with no experience, $3,000 and $100 per year for each year of experience up to a maximum of six years. (A teacher with a BS degree and six years' experience would make $3,600.)

Starting salary for a teacher with a Master's degree would be $3,225, plus $100 per year for each year of experience. This $225 would also be added to any teacher's salary when the Master's degree is obtained. (A teacher with a Master's degree with six years' experience would make $3,825.)

This new pay scale is approximately $600 above the recognized state salary, Arthur pointed out. He also explained that with the newly adopted continuing contract for teachers here, the Post school system has one of the best jobs to offer a prospective teacher than any school in its size in Texas.

At the Monday night meeting, the school board elected four new teachers to fill vacancies left by recent resignations. Teachers who have resigned include James Miller, Miss Pat Patterson, Wayne Pipes, Mrs. Almon Martin, Mrs. Jackie Weathers, Mrs. Robert Hunt and Mrs. Claire Dabney.

Elected were Miss Wanda Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rogers of Post, elementary music; John Christopher, Lubbock, high school music; Herman Raphael, Morton, grade school coach; and Jack Lancaster, Seminole, sixth or seventh grade. Lancaster was born and raised near Southland.

These new elections left the school with only two openings, Arthur pointed out. These are a primary and third grade opening. The school board also extended the contracts of Coaches Bing Bingham and Vernon Ray for another year. This gives them two more years on contract.

Three candidates are in the race for Associate Justice Court of Civil Appeals, Seventh Supreme Judicial district.

Therefore, with a few higher offices being run for, the voters of Garza county will have an opportunity to put their poll tax payment to a good use—they will have a choice to make for the majority of the offices anyway.

County Fines Light

Compared to last week's total of $800, county court fines were very light this past week, according to figures released by County Judge H. M. Snowden.

Four drunk fines, totaled $110.40, with offenders being Fabian Light, Wilburn Wade, Olegario George and Avleardo Tijerina.

Painters are Jimmy Short, Kay Martin, Patsy Rogers, Maritta Pennell, Billie Williams and Anita Henderson. Miss Katharine Stryker helped with the stage design, Mrs. J. C. Holman, with the accompaniment, Mrs. Nola Brister, with designing of costumes.

Students had the opportunity to see a performance of Hansel and Gretel at 1:30 this afternoon. Admission prices are 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. Proceeds will go to further the development of the Grade school music and speech departments.

"The grade school music program for 1951-52 has been varied," Miss Patterson pointed out. "A good foundation of fine music has been insisted upon throughout the year."

County Politics Promise To Be Hotter Than Anticipated

Garza county politics will probably turn out to be a little hotter this year than anyone had anticipated, especially in the commissioners' races.

Only two last minute, under the wire, filings were made for offices on which county residents will vote. One of these was in the State Representative race and the other in the County and District clerk race.

Heaviest candidate list included on the files of County Democratic Chairman T. R. Greenfield is the four precinct commissioners' races. A total of 15 candidates are vying for the four jobs.

Three county officials and one aspirant are unopposed for the offices they are seeking. Seeking re-election and unopposed are Sheriff Carl Rains, County Judge H. M. Snowden and Treasurer Vera Gollehon. Pat Walker, running for County Attorney, has no opposition.

Precinct 1 and 4 are tied in the number of candidates seeking the commissioner's post. In Precinct 1 race B. F. Evans, W. C. (Charlie) Kiker, Ernest Henderson (re-election), H. M. (Milt) Ford, and Claude J. Josey have announced.

In Precinct 4, Bandy Cash, J. W. Tidwell, Sid Cross (re-election), Mason Justice and Spence Bevers are all vying for the office.

L. E. (Buck) Gossett (re-election) and Oscar Graham are battling for the Precinct 2 post. And in Precinct 3, Jess Cornell, Ozell Williams (re-election), and W. C. Quisenberry have announced.

The Justice of Peace race has drawn two candidates in opposition to J. D. King, who is seeking re-election. They are W. O. Thaxton and J. T. Curb.

In the County and District Clerk race, Hugh Blevins, local cafe man, nosed in under the wire to file in opposition to incumbent Ray N. Smith.

Two candidates have filed for constable in Precinct 1 but have not made any public announcement as to yet.

The same holds true for the State Representative post in 90th District (comprised of Scurry, Garza, Borden, Crosby and Kent counties.) Two candidates filed with the county chairman, but neither has made an announcement.

Sterling Williams announced previously for the office of State Senator in the newly organized 24th District, but he did not file for the post with the county chairman.

However, Harley Sadler, of Abilene, did announce for the race and also made application with the chairman.

Grade School Students To Present Hansel And Gretel

Curtain time for the Grade school presentation of the opera, Hansel and Gretel, is slated for 8 p. m. today in the Grade school auditorium, Miss Pat Patterson, director, announced.

Sharon Brooks, as Gretel, and Butch Wilson, as Hansel, head the performance of sixth and fifth graders. Tryouts on the opera were held about six weeks ago and it was decided that sixth graders would have major roles and the fifth graders minor parts.

Linda Bilberry is to be featured as Gertrude, the mother; Lester Seaton, as Peter, the father; Merlin Priddy, as the Witch; Dean Huddleston, the Sandman; Mike Cornell, as the White Bird; and Frances Dietrich, as the Dawn Fairy.

There is also a chorus of fourteen angels, gingerbread children and the mothers and fathers in the cast, Miss Patterson explained.

Many students have aided the production by building sets, painting and working on the stage. These include, Charles Teal and Bobby Cowley, as head stage men, Wayne Runkles, Darrell Wayne Davis, Alton Sutter, Butch Wilson and Don Davis.

Painters are Jimmy Short, Kay Martin, Patsy Rogers, Maritta Pennell, Billie Williams and Anita Henderson. Miss Katharine Stryker helped with the stage design, Mrs. J. C. Holman, with the accompaniment, Mrs. Nola Brister, with designing of costumes.

Wind Damages H. V. Williams Place Here

Small tornadic winds hit the H. V. Williams place in southwest Post Tuesday about 5 p. m., lifting a 12 by 12 foot henhouse off its foundation and setting it on the back roof of the house, shattering window panes and door glasses in the process.

Williams, in reporting the happening to the Dispatch, said he saw the two whirlwind appearing funnels come off the Cap, but did not think anything about them. But minutes later he felt an impact and heard glass shatter.

The henhouse fell back into the yard after the wind died down. One large piece of lumber was blown over the house into the front yard, according to Williams. No other reports of damage were turned in.

Western Apparel Week Begins Next Wednesday And Runs Through Rodeo

Pardner, you-all had better get on that Western gear for the Stampede Rodeo or you're hankering for a stay in the stockade! And that's an order!

Rodeo time is here and the committee on Wearing Western Apparel has set the rules—and the consequences.

Beginning Wednesday, May 21, citizens of the town and county are urged to get in the spirit and help advertise and enjoy the Stampede Rodeo. Wearing of the Western Garb will continue through the rodeo May 31.

This is what you will wear: HAT, NECKPIECE OR SHIRT. The consequences? A stockade is being built and will be placed on Main street in the block east of the bank. And anyone caught not conforming to the uniform will spend an hour in this stockade.

However, the prisoners won't be lonesome. For committee-men have provided for the Post High school band to play near the stockade at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Then on Monday and Tuesday, there will be loudspeakers and music. On Wednesday of the Rodeo, Mrs. J. A. Stallings' group will sing.

Red Floyd has been appointed deputy in charge of gathering in the culprits during Western Week. Each day he will be aided by a different committee of businessmen. The "arresting hour" is at 10 a. m. Chairman by Ralph Kirkpatrick, the committee is comprised of Clint Herring, L. E. Webb, Powell Shythes, Jim Handley and Si Thaxton.

EDUCATION

Vacation time is just around the corner for hundreds of Garza county students and what they do with their time is of the utmost importance. Many of them plan on working during the time. Such a plan is to be commended. It speaks well for the students. However, although having a summer job is worthwhile, the far-reaching effects of an education, which boys and girls should continue when schools re-open in September, "far outweigh the money earned on a summer job." With wages as they are today, the student taking a parttime job could well succumb to the thought that "why go back to school when I can make this kind of money?" Therefore students should make the decision before going to work that it is going to be temporary and will not interfere with their education. Field Office Supervisor Ben W. Ferrell of the U. S. Department of Labor urges all teenagers to know the jobs they may legally do under the ruling of the federal government. He would also like for youngsters to know about the type of age certificates needed for employment. Such age certificates are needed for minors under 18 in general employment and by those who are 18 and 19 if they work in occupations declared to be hazardous. Finally he advises young workers to find out about the legal minimum ages and other conditions for employment which are set by the state child labor laws of the state. Many Garza county youth will work here at home. For those who are contemplating other work the above advice would be sound to follow.

ELECTION LAWS

Texas is in dire need of some new election laws. Especially is the state in need of a preferential primary for selection of presidential nominees. The present precinct, county and state convention plan of sending delegates to the national convention is not only outmoded, but an encouragement to graft and corruption, especially on the state level. However, the main objection to the present setup is that it can never be representative of the majority of the people.—For the people on a whole will shrug their shoulders and ask "Why should I attend a precinct or county convention? It's all cut and dried at the state convention anyway." That apparently was the attitude of Garza voters in the recent conventions. Only three precincts held conventions and they were poorly attended. The county convention attracted the large number of ten persons. On the other side of the ledger, we can only point to recently preferential primaries held in other states. The voting turnout has been tremendous. Under the setup of some states the majority vote binds the delegates to that candidate, while others divide the delegates by the way the voting goes. Under either plan the people of the state are certain that their vote has counted, whereas Texans never know who their delegates are going to be for when the national convention rolls around. Something should be done to change the setup in Texas, but it will have to be accomplished through the Legislature. If enough Texans become interested and urge their representatives and senators to pass such legislation, then we might have a voice in selecting a president of the United States.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

It has always been the policy of this paper to fight for and advocate things which benefit the town as a whole. I have always believed, and I have followed through with this belief in the paper, that any community is as good or as bad as its people try to make it. A town progresses and prospers only if the citizens band together and fight for progress and prosperity.

Columns and columns of the Dispatch have been devoted to the backing of Post, Texas, your hometown and my hometown. Here we have settled, casting our lots with the town for "better or for worse." And only through determined efforts of an interested populace can we make it "better."

However, I do not attempt to lay claim to being original with this "let's fight for our hometown" idea. Such a thought has been circulating since time began, I imagine. Therefore, I am continuously looking for someone else's ideas on the subject.

A recent article written by John W. McPherrin, publisher of the American Magazine, hits "the nail on the head" in my opinion. Therefore with your permission, I will reprint the article, titled "For a Common Cause," so that you may use the ideas and thoughts as you see fit.

"Last February we said on this page that a good hometown is 'the kind of place where the local merchants and their customers know one another and share a common pride in making their community a wholesome, prosperous place in which to bring up their families.'"

Since then, we have been reminded by some of our readers that most of the men and women who share this common pride in their hometown are members of one or more local organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the civic clubs, women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, religious and fraternal groups. We agree. We know that in every hometown the popular local groups are those that have done the most for the community. That is why we believe in them.

"We believe in them so much that we wish all of these local groups of men and women would meet together more often to discuss their common problems as citizens of the community. Such meetings would provide a wonderful opportunity for the local businessmen and the women of the community to get better acquainted with one another."

"Better understanding between the Public and Business is greatly needed today. It is the best antidote to the anti-business propaganda that attempts to destroy free enterprise by creating public distrust of Business."

"Like the women of the community, every businessman wants good schools, good city management, and all the other attributes of a wholesome hometown community. They want good hometowns because they are not only businessmen, but husbands and fathers. Furthermore, as good businessmen, they know that they can do more and better business in a thriving community than in a sick one."

Therefore, the good businessmen of any community can be relied upon to join with the women in any worthwhile project that can make the town a better place to live in. It is to their advantage to co-operate and work with the women of the community. Likewise, it is to the advantage of the members of women's clubs and parent-teacher associations to recognize the civic importance of the local businessmen and to get their advice and support on every important community problem.

"By working together for the good of their own hometown, the businessmen and their customers will learn to know and understand each other as people. There is no better answer to the rabble rousers who would like to destroy public confidence in private enterprise."

"Because The American Magazine knows the national importance of vigorous hometown communities, and because we believe in the free competitive system where the Public is the boss, we hope that local businessmen and their customers will seek every opportunity to work together for their common good."

And I have to add to McPherrin's words an AMEN.

TEXAS BRAGS: A Yankee general is credited with, "If I owned Texas and Hell, I would rent out Texas and live in Hell." Which someone else figured wouldn't be bad. At $1 per acre per year, his income would be over $15,000 a minute.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Housecleaning badly needed

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Two Cents Worth

When a store sells you an article for one dollar, the thing you bought cost the merchant 61 cents, on the average. That leaves 39 cents to be accounted for. And a good many people may believe this sum is largely profit. Indications that this is the general idea can easily be seen every time any organization launches a fund campaign. The first man, and the man always solicited, is the "wealthy" businessman. But is he so wealthy? Let's see where his 39 cent profit goes. The 39 cents is called the markup, which means the difference between the price a retailer pays for merchandise and the price at which he offers it for sale. All the expenses connected with operation of the store must come out of the markup. These include payroll costs (which account for half of the total markup), rent, utilities, supplies, advertising and displays, insurance, special services such as deliveries and alterations—and of course, taxes. Markup must also take care of markdowns, which are reductions from the original price at which the merchandise was offered, made necessary by competitive conditions, damage, or consumer refusal to buy at the regular figure. How much of the markup, then, sticks in the merchant's pockets in the form of profit? The answer, based on exhaustive factual surveys covering stores of all sizes and types, is 9 cents. In other words, less than two little pennies out of each dollar of sales is left to the retailer, stockholders or investors after all the bills are met. That is certainly a modest wage to pay for the essential job of retailing done on the behalf of the public.

Good Suggestions

The auditor's examination of the records of the Lockney schools for the past six years resulted in a number of very constructive suggestions, the two chief ones being for a better set of books and controls and for the employing of a business manager for the school, thereby not burdening the administrative personnel with detailed bookkeeping, which after all should never have been part of their duties. The board of trustees indicated that they would adopt the suggestions of the auditor which is a commendable attitude.

Town As Lively As Its Citizens

The citizen in any community who spends all of his non-working hours inside his home and refuses to share in the activities offered by that community denies himself an important ingredient of happy living. Instead of utilizing all the available factors which lead toward a happy life, he over-indulges in the comforts of home. Here in Leveland a summer city softball league got underway last Monday. Somewhere around the first of June the municipal swimming pool will be opened. At all times throughout the summer the City park will be available for picnics. All of these things are created for the enjoyment of local citizens. All of these projects face failure if the citizen doesn't realize they are created for him, not for one particular group. Parents should particularly realize the value of a family outing. The well-balanced family life includes co-operative enjoyment of all of these things. Your family may be passing up these enjoyments. Leveland, with all of its homes, churches, schools and recreational facilities can only be as enjoyable as we, the citizens, make it.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P.—At least five "new faces" will appear in the Texas congressional delegation next year, reflecting one of the biggest turnovers ever occurring in its ranks.

Three House seat vacancies are now in prospect and one Senate. Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, J. M. Combs of Beaumont and Tom Pickett of Palestine, as well as Sen. Tom Connally, have announced they would not seek reelection. In addition to these four seats, Texas gains a new House seat as a result of the 1950 population gain.

The term "new faces" has to be qualified, for some actually may be old timers on the Washington scene. Beckworth is seeking Connally's seat. Former Rep. Martin Dies of Lufkin is bidding for the new Texas "At Large" seat, representing the entire state.

A check of the records back to 1920 discloses only one year in which there was such a turnover in the Texas congressional delegation.

In 1933 there were six new members. Four of them took their seats on March 4, when the new session convened. The other two won special elections to fill vacancies—the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville was chosen April 22 to succeed John Nance Garner when the latter became Vice President; Rep. Clark Thompson was elected June 24, 1933 to fill a vacancy created by the death of his predecessor.

An important effect of this upcoming shakeup in the ranks of the Texans will be a reshuffling of committee assignments among

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Industries In Search Of Young Executives Make Mistake In Searching For Good Grades

BABSON PARK, Mass.—It is open season now for the young executive hunt! Hundreds of company recruitment officers are in the chase, hopeful that they may bag "promising" college seniors for their companies. Two grave mistakes will make the hunt costly in the long run: (1) colleges will give the men with the highest grades the best recommendations; and (2) companies will fail to interview some of the best executive potentials because the men are "grade outcasts."

For years now many educators have promoted the notion that the same qualities which bring a man high grades in school also make for success on the job. Nothing could be further from the truth. One hundred and fifty years ago when the purpose of our colleges was primarily to educate for the learned professions, there may have been some direct relationship between grades and job success. But college is a vastly different institution today from what it was then. Several research studies indicate that good grades have little or no bearing on a man's job success in business.

I am assuming, of course, that job success is measured by dollars and cents. I know that some teachers will challenge the monetary yardstick. If the financial yardstick is not an adequate measure, why is it that so many teachers have left the profession for jobs in industry? Or why do hoards of high school teachers slave to earn their Masters' Degrees? Certainly, with inflation today, college students and their parents place an ever-increasing emphasis on the monetary value of a college education.

Grades And Job Success

For years now I have been an employer, and since 1919 and the founding of Babson Institute I have been seriously interested in education. My observation is that in the average college the ability to sit, read, comprehend, memorize and reply parrot-fashion to the professor will insure good grades.

Do these particular abilities pay off in business? Not especially, except in the professions. Of course, if the college, in addition to developing scholastically competent individuals, has done something about character and personality development, then we have a different situation. But too many colleges give only lip-service to character education.

What Business Needs

I hope company recruitment officers won't let the schools and colleges over-emphasize the grade aspect of a job recommendation. What business needs most today are men with the character qualities of wisdom and honesty, a personal philosophy of self-reliance and the ability to act and get things done.

Employment experience has shown that some of these qualities are best developed outside the classroom—editing the school paper, managing a team, representing the student body in student government, being social chairman of a fraternity. The extra-curricular record also measures best drive and follow-through. Wisdom should have been developed in the classroom. The scholar is often wise but has poor judgment. The scholar sees people acting as he believes they ought to act. The successful businessman, however, sees people as they really are.

Importance Of "Drive"

Practical application of good judgment can be measured in a man's personal conduct record, work record, campus participation, and in a variety of ways. A high degree of self-reliance and competitiveness as measured by hobbies, part-time jobs, and the kinds of extra-curricular activities in which one has participated are character traits absolutely essential to success in any free enterprise economy.

I want to know what kind of an economic philosophy the young graduate has picked up in college. The successful young executive must learn to drive himself and deprive himself—perhaps even his family—because he sees in the long run that it is far the good of all. The high turnover of young executives on their first jobs suggests that both college and company recruitment officers ought to pay more attention to some of the practical requirements for success in the professions, manufacturing, commerce, and even in farming.

Senior Boys Visit Denver City Plant

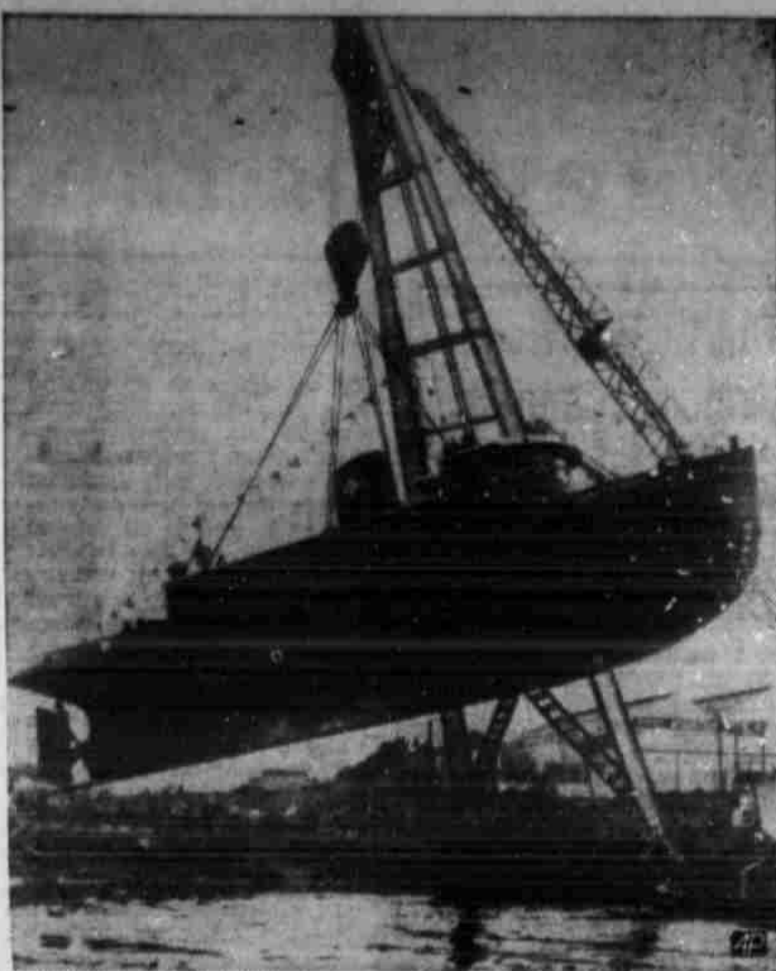

Senior boys at Post high school were treated to a trip to the Denver City plant of Southwestern Public Service last Thursday by Ted Hibbs, S.P.S. manager here.

Accompanied by local businessmen the boys, all except Cordell Custer, toured the plant in Denver City as a study in industry.

Members making the trip were: Don Tatum, Jack Meeks, William Bullard, Cletus Graves, Wayne Carpenter, Buddy Davis, Jack Kirkpatrick, Jack Ballentine, Howard Brown, James Johnson, Skip Martin, Wayland Craig, Vandon Thomas, Billy Taylor, Haskell Odom, Gene Kennedy, Rob Briggs and Shirley Young. Principal Chant Lee made the trip also.

Providing cars for the trip, other than Hibbs, were Clint Herring, Bill Land, Dowe Mayfield and John Lott.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. J. N. Gossett were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Gossett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Stewart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Huffaker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Justice and family of Slaton; and Mr. and Mrs. Avon Dunlap, of Lubbock. Afternoon guests included Mrs. John Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norman and family and Mrs. Don Windham and children.

LAUNCHED BY A GIANT CRANE — The 94 foot, 160 ton tug Robert E. Groves, was lowered into Buffalo Bayou, Houston, Tex., at the head of the turning basin without a ripple. The tug is one of the three deep sea tugboats of its type being built at the cost of $300,000 each, by the Port Houston Iron Works.

Garza Residents Are Included In Payment Of Social Security Checks

Checks for insurance payments under Federal social security went to 3,326 aged persons, children and their widowed mothers in the Lubbock Field Office area, which includes Garza county, for December, 1951.

In releasing these figures today, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, also said that these monthly payments under the old age and survivors insurance program amounted to $86,941 in this area. "Without these payments earned by workers under this contributory system, the ability of many people to pay for necessities would have been drastically curtailed or entirely ended," he said.

More than one-third of all people over 65 in the United States who could not count on income from work for support, were getting social security insurance benefits. About 1900 persons over age 65 in Lubbock area were receiving these payments.

Hutton pointed out that this Federal program is affording substantial survivor insurance protection. Three out of every four mothers and young children in the Nation are now assured of monthly payments if the insured breadwinner of the family dies.

In this connection, he cited monthly payments totaling $32,640 to 1106 children, and 225 widowed mothers in the Lubbock area. These monthly payments are going to families deprived of earned income by the untimely death of the wage earner. They are making it possible to keep families together, and keep children in school, and, at the same time, lessening the drain on both public and private welfare funds, he declared.

Sears Winners Are Named For County

Garza county 4-H club winners in the Sears Foundation Registered Hog Program have been released by County Agent Lewis Herron. These include eight boys who received sow pigs and one who received a boar pig.

Receiving sow pigs were Jerry Morris, Close City; Darrell Jones, Close City; Ronnie Morris, Close City; Ernie Wayne Popham, Close City; Charles Morris, Close City; Auvy Lee McBride, Graham; Jack Morris, Close City; and Sonny Gossett, Graham. Royce Josey, Garnolia, received the boar pig purchased from Charley Prather and Son, Muleshoe.

These boys will raise these pigs and show them in the county fair next fall at which time the winning boy will be awarded $30 in merchandise prizes by Sears Foundation. Winning gilt and boar will also be shown in the district fair.

When these pigs farrow the boys will enter the pigs in a weighing contest when they are 56 days old. The heaviest litter will be awarded a prize by Sears Foundation. At that time each boy will also give to the club one sow pig so that the program can be carried on the following year. Sears buys a boar each year.

A change has been made in the program according to Herron. The boy may also enter a fall litter in the same kind of weighing contest instead of feeding out three fat barrows. This will enable them to prepare for the Spring show.

WIFE FINED, TOO

GOSHEN, Ind. P—After unlocking the police station at midnight to jail a man for drunken driving, police got both him and his wife fined in city court next morning. The wife, who had seen him off to jail, admitted she broke into the station during the night to get the purse she had forgotten inside.

Movie of the Week

At last the Tower has it. Yes, "DETECTIVE STORY", starring Kirk Douglas and William Bendix, has arrived and will be presented for Garza movie fans Sunday and Monday.

"DETECTIVE STORY" ranks with the screen's finest achievements, the critics claim. With the sock of a champion fighter, the picture portrays the life of a man who is fanatical in his job—that of being detective. Douglas, as Detective James McLeod, is fanatical in his hatred of crime, and spends endless hours in trying to nab an unlicensed doctor in his relentless and psychopathic pursuit.

The story involves his beautiful wife whose past is revealed to McLeod in a brutal method. To enjoy the picture a fan must not miss the end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson of Southland might enjoy the story told in "DETECTIVE STORY." If so, they have two tickets at the boxoffice of the TOWER. They are good for any performance.

Historical epic of the week: "VIVA ZAPATA."

Out of the turbulent, ever-changing history of Mexico, 20th Century-Fox has produced one of the outstanding pictures of the year. "VIVA ZAPATA" stars the increasingly popular Marlon Brando as the fabulous hero of the Mexican people. The story, jammed with sly humor and great acting, carries one through the history of Mexico. Revolutions, servitude, upheaval, servitude—a continuous cycle with the Mexican people for centuries.

Brando, as Emiliano Zapata, turns in an outstanding performance in the saga of a Mexican bandit hero. Scope, grandeur, action, comedy, thrills and romance fill this movie from beginning to end.

"VIVA ZAPATA" shows Friday and Saturday.

Do you like Margaret O'Brien? Then don't miss her latest hit, "HER FIRST ROMANCE." Shows Tuesday at the Tower.

The zealous pride of Texans won't let them miss the Wednesday and Thursday presentation at the Tower.

"RETURN OF THE TEXAN" is a family picture about a Texas family. The trials and tribulations which befall the average family hit this film in a way that will appeal to the hearts of fans, especially Texans.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Young, of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Payne, of Snyder; and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mears and daughter, Natha Jo, were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kennedy, Jr.

Miss Nell Strother, who is employed in the office at Postex Cotton Mills, Inc., was called to Mangum, Okla., Thursday night because of the death of her brother, Bill Strother.

Church News

The following Sermonette is presented by the Rev. Almon Martin, pastor of the First Christian church:

HIS WAY

One of the poets has said "To everyone there openeth A Way, and Ways, and A Way." Jesus said "I am the way . . ." And in another place one used the words "the way that is everywhere spoken against."

Jesus spoke as one having authority; yet he learned obedience as a son. Through this obedience he gained the eternal right to be the Savior and Lord of all.

On one occasion Jesus said "The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." In another place he said "The Son of man came to give his life a ransom for many." In this he has stated his mission on the earth.

Again Jesus said "If any man will come after me, let him take up his cross and follow me." And again he said "If ye love me, ye will do the things I command you." Herein Jesus is revealing the method he uses in saving men.

First, Jesus said "Follow me!" He walked the way of right. He walked the way of truth. And he walked the way of humility, unselfishness, faithfulness, and mercy. He said follow ME. The question for us today is this: Are we following in Jesus steps? One by one they shine before us. One by one they beckon us. One by one they challenge us. Dare we follow?

Then Jesus said "If ye love me!" If we are not following the Master it may be because we have not learned to love him. We must return good for evil. We must return love for hate. We must understand when others misunderstand; forgive when others condemn; keep to the truth when others lie, even about ourselves. Only love can defend us from littleness and ugliness. Only love can clear our vision.

Then Jesus said, "Take up your cross!" Sometimes we are not aware we have a cross. We have not found it because we have been walking in the wrong way. Where may I find my cross? Where can you find yours? What is my cross?

The cross was an instrument of torture. Jesus made it a means of salvation. Jesus took the torture out of the cross for those who love and obey him. And now there is a choice for you and me to make:

If we choose not to follow the Master, we will be relieved of our cross temporarily. Then, in the end we will endure it for eternity. We will endure it not because of our strength, but because of the indestructibility of the human soul. It will be eternal destruction!

If we choose to follow in the way of the Master, we will begin to share our cross now. Share it with Jesus! For he said "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." And he said "Lo, I am with thee always . . ." Friends, think on thy way. Is it leading you to God and home? Think on thy way.

Mr. And Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick Observe Anniversary Saturday

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. K. Stoker entertained in their home with a party, celebrating the 25th anniversary of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick.

Guests called between 8 and 10 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. J. E. Parker greeted and presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Stoker.

The home was decorated with silver and pink predominating. Many of the same kinds of flowers were used that Mrs. Kirkpatrick remembered from her wedding decorations, such as Bruner roses and blue delphinium.

The living room decorations were centered at the fire place. Above the mantle, flocked and silvered plumose foliage was artistically arranged on the brick, and extended around two hand carved plaques which held arrangements of pink sweetheart roses.

In the center of the mantle was a large arrangement of blue delphinium, pink snap dragons, yellow lilies, pale blue daisies, silvered caladium leaves and foliage in a silver container.

On one side of the arrangement were large silver numbers "25" and on the other side, a double shadow box wedding picture of the Kirkpatricks. The silver frame was covered with "the bride's" favorite roses, Cecil Bruners.

Silver candelabra with pink candles and silver foliage completed the mantle decorations.

The fire place was covered by a silver foilage arrangement containing long stemmed pink roses. There were silver palm trees on either side of the fire place.

Large red roses on the cocktail table blended with the other decorations. Orchids arranged with silver ribbon were placed on the step tables at both ends of the divan. Mixed flowers were arranged on the piano.

Pink Table Decorations
The refreshment table decorations emphasized Mrs. Kirkpatrick's favorite color, pink. The cake, designed of two large hearts, was decorated with pink rose buds. In the center of the cake and between the hearts was silver lettering "25," with a pink and silver nosegay of Cecil Bruner rose buds around the letters and on the streamers.

The arrangement on the table contained pink flocked double rings with silver glitter. The flowers were stock, daisies and carnations in shades of pink. Roses and pink lace covered the base of each ring and united them.

Pink foilage with silver glitter surrounded the cake and flower arrangement, and was twined around the silver candelabra which held pink candies, and was placed back of the cake. The same foilage was attached to the top of the china closet.

Mesdames Tom Bouchier, Robert McFall, Lee Davis, Jess Cornell and Miss Nell McFall presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, assisted by Mr. Kirkpatrick, cut the first piece of cake in the traditional manner.

Eight-five guests signed the register. Lubbock friends who called were Sam Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. "Dutch" Wigington, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jinkins and Mr. and Mrs. George Kuykendall.

Out-of-town guests who stayed overnight were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Trammell, Breckenridge; Miss Nell McFall, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stoker, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFall, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stoker, San Antonio; and Kay Kirkpatrick, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick was installing officer for the installation of PTA officers at the year's final meeting Thursday, in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. John Lott was installed as president; Mrs. Victor Hudman, vice-president; Miss Marjorie Moore, secretary; Mrs. Charles Smiley, treasurer; Mrs. James Minor, membership chairman; Mrs. Nola Brister, finance chairman; and Mrs. Jess Cornell, program chairman.

Mrs. Max Gordon, entertainment chairman, was not present at Thursday's meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Welch, retiring president, announced that the local yearbook and scrapbook won superior rating and blue ribbons at the recent district conference.

Miss Bonnie McMahon, publicity director, and Mrs. J. D. McCampbell, yearbook chairman, received a special thank you.

Mrs. Jess Cornell reported on the conference held in Brownfield last month. Other attending besides Mrs. Cornell were Mrs. Lott, Mrs. Lee Davis and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Mrs. Lola Brister was awarded a life membership, according to announcement by Mrs. Jones.

E. E. Pierce, safety chairman, reported that 100 bicycles in Post still had not been tagged in the Lite-A-Bike campaign sponsored by the unit.

He also announced that the Post Lions club is providing glasses for needy children. Pierce invited members to a donkey ballgame, which is to be held soon, to raise money for the glasses project.

Mrs. Lee Davis gave a history of the Post P.T.A. She mentioned that Mrs. A. W. Bouchier, the first president, served 10 years.

Room awards went to rooms taught by Mrs. Maurine Lackey, Mrs. L. W. Kitchen, Miss McMahon and the junior class.

Members of the luncheon staff served refreshments to the group.

Gerald Howard, of Anson, was a weekend guest of the L. S. Grays.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray visited her parents in Colorado City Sunday.

Jody Mason arrived home Thursday after spending a year in Korea. He will report to Fort Sill, Okla., after a 30 day leave.

Mrs. Bettie Carmichael returned home Tuesday from a two month's vacation in California.

South Plains Farmers Should Think Of Farming Program Before Planting

By A. W. YOUNG
Head Department of Agronomy
Texas Technological College

Farmers of the Southern High Plains should seriously consider both the present and future of their farming program before planting cotton on their sandy land farms where considerable wind erosion has occurred during the past few months.

In 1933 and 1936 a serious dust bowl developed in the Panhandle counties of Texas. The events leading to this development were primarily brought about by several successive years with below average rainfall in the area. With the low moisture conditions prevailing for three or more years over the area, the wheat crop repeatedly failed and no vegetation cover was produced.

The bare soil became more susceptible each year to the erosive action of the wind. By 1935 and 1936 great areas of the Panhandle counties had turned to near desert conditions with all the top soil blown out in some areas and the sand piled into dunes as much as seventy feet high. Dr. Charles J. Whitfield was assigned the job of bringing this area under control. Many mechanical devices were tried for leveling and stabilizing the blowing sand. Few of these mechanical schemes offered any permanent control.

Vegetative control by growing a sorghum cover crop during the summer months when rainfall occurred was the most successful means found to hold the blowing soil. The growth requirements of the sorghum plant are such that the crop can be sown in late May or June when the heaviest rainfall normally occurs. And in addition the crop can make sufficient vegetative growth, even on limited rainfall, to provide a cover which will prevent serious erosion the following winter and spring.

Farmers in the Southern High Plains and in the northern part of the Rolling Plains of Texas should consider the possibilities of what may follow in late 1952 and early 1953 if they fail to get sufficient vegetative cover to stabilize their soils during the 1952 growing season. If the 1950 and 1951 rainfall pattern is repeated over much of this area for 1952, only the sorghum crops can be expected to provide enough cover for the soil to prevent even more severe erosion during the spring of 1953.

Financially a farmer might be far ahead ten years from now if he grows a grain sorghum in 1952, than if he attempts to grow cotton and fails to make a crop. The following points should be considered:

1. A sorghum crop requires a smaller number of pounds of water to produce a pound of dry matter than is required by a cotton crop. Thus a sorghum crop will produce more crop residue than cotton on the same amount of rainfall.
2. Grain sorghums are more efficient users of soil water than cotton because of the fibrous and more intensive root system. This same root system on the sorghum plant does a better

VIES FOR AWARD — Piano playing is another talent of Miss Jean Hendricksen—her first talent, of course, is looking pretty—who represented the state of Wisconsin in the contest for Miss National Press Photographer at Galveston. job of holding the soil than is done by cotton plant roots.

3. If insufficient rain falls to mature a crop, the grain sorghum can still be counted upon to produce a vegetative cover to aid in holding the soil from wind erosion.
4. If sufficient rain falls to mature a 1-4 bale cotton crop which might gross about $40.00 per acre income in lint, and about $14.00 worth of cotton seed at oil mill prices for the past year, the same amount of rain will be expected to produce about 1,000 pounds of sorghum grain per acre, which at the 19-52 support price of $2.38 per hundred pound will provide a gross return of $23.80 per acre. The cost of cotton production per acre is normally much higher than the cost of production for grain sorghums. Cotton, in addition to costing three to four dollars per acre for seed, several dollars per acre for hoeing, with one or more spray or dust applications for insect control at three to four dollars per acre, is more expensive to harvest and gin than is the harvesting of the sorghum crop. Thus the net return per acre on grain sorghums may be nearly as great as for the cotton crop, and a profitable yield of grain sorghums is more certain than a profitable yield of cotton when moisture conditions are questionable.

5. If the farmer plants cotton and misses a crop in 1952, because of lack of moisture, the acre value of his land will be further reduced because of the continued wind erosion which will occur in the absence of adequate vegetative cover on the lighter textured soils.
6. Land once eroded by severe wind action requires several years to return to its original productivity. In severely eroded areas where larger quantities of top soil have been blown away, or where deep accumulations of the sand have come to rest, it may require a quarter of a century to get the land back to where it has its original permeability for water, stability against erosion, and a fertility condition which will support a high production of crops. In some instances the erosion is already so severe that the land cannot be returned to its original productive condition during the lifetime of the present owner.
7. If the farmers in wind eroded areas of the Southern High Plains and the Northern part of the Rolling Plains do not have good soil moisture to a depth of about three feet at planting time for cotton, they should not take a chance on this crop. The probability of their making a successful cotton crop is too great to gamble with the chance of further permanently damaging their soil by wind erosion during next spring.

Post Third Graders Enjoy Train And Bus Rides, Picnics And Field Trip

Third grade pupils in the Post school system have really been enjoying their transportation studies what with the studies taking them to airports, on train rides and bus rides.

Included in these education trips recently were the students of Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mrs. Maurine Lackey and Miss Jean Jepson. The report of the trip to Lubbock turned in by Mrs. Hunt's group read:

"Mrs. Robert Hunt's third grade pupils made a trip to Lubbock in connection with their transportation studies. Each child experienced buying his own ticket and handling it to the conductor, who later made a tour of the train with the group. Dining and Pullman cars were visited; then the group settled in the lounge for the ride.

"Upon arrival in Lubbock, the group was met by mothers who took them to Baldrige Bakery. The tour through the bakery was both interesting and educational to the children and grownups alike. Three year old Wayne Hunt voiced the sentiments of the entire group when he cried for a hot bun coming from the oven.

"Mr. Ellis Mills met the group at the bakery, and everyone rode the school bus to the Lubbock Municipal airport. There they saw a flight arrive and two flights leave. Then Mr. Frost, the airport weather man, showed the children some of the recording equipment and released a balloon to show how the height of clouds is determined. After a long climb up winding steps to the control tower, the group was ready to go to Mackenzie State park for a picnic lunch.

"Assisting Mrs. Hunt with the trip were Mrs. Byron Haynie, Mrs. Paul Hedrick, Mrs. J. C. Barker, Mrs. Keith Kemp and Mrs. Edgar Dawson.

"Third graders making the trip were Barbara Baker, Gerald Braddock, Olivia Cesneros, Abel Comancho, Arthur Gonzales, Geniva Goss, Geniva Gilmore, Aline Hawkins, Janene Haynie, Donny Hays, Kay Hedrick, Charles Huffman, Mary Jones, Beth Kemp, Joyce Loyd, Margie Palmer, Linda Priddy, Harold Owens, Ramon Quionez, Elberta Solis, Raymond Young, Leslie Tidwell, Kenneth Melton, Charlotte Brown, Larry DeArmon, Estrella Agueros and Sone Bustoz.

"Visiting pre-schoolers were Lana Haynie, Paula Hedrick and Wayne Hunt.

Students in Mrs. Lackey's room experienced about the same trip to Lubbock on the train. They went through the Holsum Bakery.

Those making the trip included Lonnie Crowley, Kenneth Smith, G. G. Ingram, Mike, Pat and Donny Cornell, Clara Frances and Pat Smiley, Hoyt Adcock, Bobby and Brenda Williams, Jimmy Panatex, Joy Jones, Kenneth McFadin, David McCampbell, Kenneth Williams, Jimmy Hodges, Janice Norman, Phyllis Squyres, Louise Betreaux, Kay and Billy Max Gordon, Linda Johnson, Vickie and Oscar Molina, Dorothy and Wayne Hair.

Mothers assisting Mrs. Lackey were Mrs. Jess Cornell, Mrs. Chas. Smiley, Mrs. F. H. Hodges, Mrs. Chester Jones, Mrs. Max Gordon and Mrs. Lee Davis. Marvin Pennington drove the school bus.

Section C of the third grade, supervised by Miss Jean Jepson, confined their trip to a nature study. The report shows: "Section C of the Post third graders went on a field trip and picnic. The objectives of the trip were to find wild flowers and keep out of the path of any snake.

Hugh Barnett, Joe Sato, Royce Hart, Leroy Bishop and Joe Bob Trammell, who had had experience on similar trips in the scouts were leaders for the rest of the group.

There was only one casualty and Clara Shedd was not seriously injured when she fell from a small bluff. The trip was a success since they did not encounter one snake, but collected fifteen species of wild flowers. The day was climaxed with a picture show at the Tower Theatre and the children went home tired, but happy. Mrs. Monta Moore, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. Marshall Mason, and Mrs. Pat Walker brought the children from the picnic to the school house.

Visitors were Phyllis Moore and De Ann Walker.

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own? Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all. We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field." So why not set your sights on this star performer? Why not enjoy big-car comfort — big-car power — big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it. Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower. Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power — and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains. Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features. One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through. But the fact remains that — when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars" — you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to. And brother, will that make your family happy? Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

ONLY BUICK PROVIDES THEM ALL
DYNAFLOW DRIVE* — great boon to easier driving, proved on more than a million Buicks.
FIREBALL 8 ENGINE—of valve-in-head design, notes high compression count for more power.
NEW WIDE-BAND BRAKES—for smoother, more positive control.
MILLION DOLLAR RIDE—with 4-wheel coil springing and road-steady torque-tube.
TOP-CAPACITY TRUNKS — more luggage room than ever in most models.
NEW TWO-TONE INTERIORS—in most models, grace Buick's Body by Fisher.
SWEEPSPARE STYLING—adds gleaming smartness to all models.
Plus These, Too, On ROADMASTER AIRPOWER CARBURETION—with highest horsepower in Buick history. MORE MILES PER GALLON . . . POWER STEERING† — greatly eases parking and turning, without losing that firm feel . . . SILENCE—so complete you can speak in whispers under way.

Irrigation And Tanking Work In The County Is Discussed By Technicians

Irrigation in the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District increased considerably this year. It has been estimated by the local Soil Conservation Service technicians that there are 125 irrigation wells in the county now as compared to about 50 last year. This increase in irrigation presents a very important problem says Soil Conservation Service technicians, particularly from a long range standpoint.

Results in other irrigated sections of the plains indicate that the irrigation farmer must be ever conscious of the condition of his soil. To get the most profit from his irrigation project, the farmer must make maximum use of his available irrigation water. The soil must take in and hold a maximum amount of water and at the same time be in such a condition so as to give up the moisture to the crops as it is needed.

To get most efficient use of irrigation water, Soil Conservation Service technicians point out that the irrigation farmer must plan a complete conservation program for his farm. This plan should include the type irrigation system that best fits the individual farm, a cropping system that will improve the condition of the soil and at the same time give an economical return.

The irrigation system that is used should include a method of water application that will give uniform "wetting" and at the same time conserve rainfall and not cause erosion. Usually slightly graded or level rows or borders can be used.

The soil can be kept in its best condition by including in the crop rotation system soil improving crops such as clover, summer peas, winter peas, or grasses. These soil improving crops should be grown and used with a contractor as soon as possible to build the tank, in order that these tanks may be staked by Soil Conservation Service personnel and construction get underway soon.

Livestock tanks which will provide year round water and better distribute grazing of range land have been built on Dee Coleman and Tom Gilmore ranches north of Grassbur. Construction has been started on tanks for O. G. Hamilton and E. H. Eubanks of Canyon Valley and Rex Welch of Grassbur.

Post High School Seniors Enjoy A Howling Senior Trip To Dude Ranch

By Mrs. LEE DAVIS

(Editor's Note: Articles by this writer have appeared in the Dispatch before and have been tremendously accepted by the readers. So upon learning that Mrs. Davis went on the Senior Trip with the Post High School seniors this year, we decided her account of the trip would be well received. The seniors went to a dude ranch near Kerrville.)

The thing we have all been working toward for 12 long tedious years is over.

The Senior Trip has come and gone. Some of the parents and teachers think the kids are striving toward graduation, but they are only working to make the Senior Trip.

I think our trip was a howling success (and I do mean howling.) We had no accidents or casualties and none of us did anything to cause embarrassment to our parents, our school or our town. We were invited to come back which was a good sign and the bus driver said we had a good bunch of kids—in fact we were above average. He should know for he drives chartered busses all the time.

We left Post at 2:35 Thursday afternoon and suffered our first disappointment because the bus driver didn't make the main drag. We didn't know him well enough then to ask him, but by the time we came back, we would have asked him to do anything.

I might say right here before I wander off that we had a dandy bus driver—the friendliness and agreeableness (is there such a word?) of the bus driver has a great deal to do with the success of a trip and ours certainly did his part.

The trip down was very uneventful but noisy. We had a hard time finding a place to eat our picnic-supper, but we finally found a table one point from starvation.

We got to the Lazy H ranch around 9 p. m. It looked for a little while as if we would never get the confusion settled but finally we were all assigned rooms. The boys were all put in a dormitory about 200 steps up a hill where the echo was beautiful.

We couldn't do much the first night but stay up all night, for we weren't familiar with the place, not having seen it in daylight yet.

The weather was delightful. In fact it was down right cold at night. We never did get everyone a blanket the first night. I slept in my long sleeve housecoat every night, blanket, bedspread and my coat over my feet. I slept warmer the last night for I found a dresser scarf I had overlooked and put that on my bed.

The weather was the cause of the only near casualty we had—about 5:30 a. m. Saturday, Mr. Chant Lee, woke up panicky-stricken for he discovered he was paralyzed. While he was lying there wondering what to do, he found that by exerting a great effort he could move. He finally discovered he was just frozen.

Some of his dear thoughtful boys had taken all of his cover after he had gone to sleep. Mr. Lee is a just man and would not accuse anyone without the proof but he did say, when he finally was able to get up, that he noticed Don Tatum was sleeping under six blankets.

Everyone spent the first day looking the place over and getting Charley horses from climbing hills. The swimming pool was 1.7 miles from camp, so you needed a bath by the time you got down there. You need one worse when you got back, but you were too pooped to take it.

They all ran themselves frantic trying to do everything there was to do the first day. The amusement was very diversified. Everyone could find something he liked to do. They did everything from (blank) to (blank). If you have ever been on a Senior trip, you can easily fill in the blanks. If you have not, use your imagination and it will probably be a lot worse than anything they really did.

One nice thing, they were all so agreeable. Anytime we decided to do anything, we never had more than 32 different opinions on the matter. But finally after much effort on the part of the stalwart president of the class, Billy George Taylor, we would get them into two bunches so we could divide chaperons and be on our way.

A Senior trip is very educational. Some of the things we learned were:

That if you don't want Billy George to use your toothbrush, don't invite him to do it. That Mary Ann Rose, Betty Hagood, Barbara Norris and Dot Jones think that it saves time when you are in a hurry to get to breakfast, to take your morning shower in bed before you wake up.

That Nelda Floyd and Winona Branson have found that it doesn't pay to be selfish. That Mrs. Fleming is an excellent horse woman. We are thinking of entering her in the rodeo.

That success doesn't go to Skip Martin's head. That Jack Ballentine and Howard Brown can dance three days and nights and live to tell it.

That Mr. Lee is unhappy when he gets more than three hours sleep per night. That Mrs. Carpenter goes to bed and dies. She never hears anything. That Mrs. Lee thinks it is extravagant for one person to have a whole room alone.

That Haskell Odom sometimes gets excited if he awakens in the middle of the night. That Joy Fay Parker and Virginia Caylor gave Jackie Faye Williams some botany lessons.

That marriage doesn't cramp your style if you are under 20. That Don and Buddy Davis know now what an echo looks like.

That Wayland Craig likes his sleep even if he has to fight Skip for it. That Vandon Thomas believes in getting up and dressing at 3 a. m. if he is told to.

That James Johnson likes to run around outside at night in his swimming trunks. That Cordell Custer was really having a good run of luck at gin rummy Sunday.

That W. O. Holly is a very light sleeper; that Jack Kirkpatrick likes to stay out 15 or 20 minutes after curfew.

That Glenda Oden and Lois Ritchie learned how to play dominoes Sunday morning; that William Bullard, Gene Kennedy and Shirley Young are sound sleepers.

That Wayne Carpenter wakes up mornings with a very bad headache.

Anyway we had fun. We slipped back into town very quietly about 8 p. m. Sunday night. We were all dirty and half dead but everyone was still speaking.

There is one thing very wonderful about youth. They recuperate very quickly. I happened to be up at the school Monday and they were all very alert and bright as a new dollar. (OH, YEAH?)

Mrs. Carl Clark's children visited her Mother's Day. Those present were Walter Clark of Plainview and his son, DeWayne, who is in the Navy and sta-
