DANIEL ROPER HINTED AS NEXT SECRETARY OF COMMERCE

(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Word reached informed quarters in Washington today that President-elect Roosevelt had completed selection of his cabinet, and that the list contains a surprise—Daniel C. Roper of North Carolina for Secretary of Commerce.

The information was that Homer Cummings of Connecticut would be governor-general of the Philippines, regarded generally as the highest appointive office outside the cabinet.

The complete cabinet slate, as it is expected by Democrats here to be announced shortly by Mr. Roosevelt, follows:

State—Cordell Hull of Tennessee.
Treasury—William Woodin of Pennsylvania and New York.
War—George H. Dern of Utah.
Justice—Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.
Post Office—James A. Farley of New York.
Navy—Claude A. Swanson of Virginia.
Interior—Harold Ickes of Illinois.
Agriculture—Henry A. Wallace of Iowa.
Commerce—Daniel C. Roper of North Carolina.
Labor—Miss Frances Perkins of New York.

HULL AND WOODIN ARE SELECTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—His groundwork laid for a world economic revival, President-elect Roosevelt turned the job over today to his newly announced secretaries of state and treasury—Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee and William H. Woodin of New York, respectively.

These friends were announced last night by Mr. Roosevelt as his two dependables in the negotiations he is about to undertake for world monetary stabilization, tariff reciprocation and war debts relief.

HUGE GOLD STRIKE—POSSILBY EQUAL TO PAST RUSHES WHICH HELPED END DEPRESSIONS—REPORTED IN AFRICA

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Another great gold strike—possibly equal to past rushes which helped end former depressions—was described to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers today.

One-eight of the world's present gold production is the estimated, though not yet proven, capacity of this new field, the Consolidated Goldfields, South Africa. This dazzling estimate was reported by F. W. Lee, supervising engineer, geophysical section, U. S. Bureau of Mines, Washington.

It caps several weeks of reports in inside circles of New York engineers that the new South African field might produce enough gold to start the ball rolling toward world prosperity.

This prosperity talk is based on history. The gold rush of '49 coincided approximately with a depression. The end of the great depression of 1893 to '96 was about simultaneous with development of the cyanide process and discoveries of gold in Colorado, Alaska and South Africa.

In both depressions the gold discoveries were credited with easing business conditions. Since then some economists have held that the gold was one of the most definite factors in recovery. Particularly, they hold, was this true of '96.

Lee told the story of how the new scientific "diving rod", the magnetometer located the ore. This instrument detects variations in the earth's lines of magnetic force caus-

EXTENSION OF DEADLINE IS PROPOSED

ONEAL MEASURE AIMS TO BRING RELIEF TO TAXPAYERS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls introduced a bill in the Texas senate today to remit penalties and interest on delinquent taxes.

Under Oneal's plan, taxpayers would have to pay all taxes delinquent up to February 1, 1931, by next September 1 in order to avoid penalties.

Delinquent 1931 and 1932 taxes could be paid any time before next December 31. The bill would apply to all ad valorem taxes except those of cities.

Holiday Ignored

The legislature paid little attention to George Washington's birthday anniversary today. For one of the few times in legislative history, the lawmakers ignored holiday.

The house group of anti-prohibitionists planned to put in a bill dealing with the method Texas shall employ in convening a state wide convention for the purpose of considering ratification of repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

One Bill Offered

A bill, believed to have been influenced by friends of prohibition, already had been introduced in the senate, by Senators George C. Purl of Dallas and Walter Woodward of Coleman, proposing that the convention be held in 1934 after the general election. The plan called for nomination of delegates to the convention by the various political parties in the usual primaries a year from next summer and their election in the following November.

House advocates of repeal, however, did not care to wait that long.

SHOTGUN SHELL FIXED TO EXPLODE MAILED NEXT PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Secret service men were off again today on the trail of a man who apparently sought the life of President-elect Roosevelt.

A shotgun shell, crudely wrapped and arranged so it could explode if handled injudiciously, was found in a package in the Washington postoffice addressed to "Franklin D. Roosevelt, Washington, D. C."

Investigation Begun

It was postmarked Watertown, N. Y., and postal authorities began an immediate investigation in New York. Whether they had any definite clues to the sender, they declined to say.

The secret service, which is specifically charged with the duty of protecting the president, was not immediately notified, but W. H. Moran, chief of that service, instituted an investigation.

The fact that the postal inspector did not immediately report the matter to the secret service was taken by officials of the latter organization to indicate the case did not present "an acute danger" to the president-elect.

Precautions Taken

Since the Miami incident in which five persons were wounded by Giuseppe Zangara in an attempt on the life of the president-elect, the secret service has put on extra precautions against all methods in which attempts might be made on Mr. Roosevelt's life.

The shotgun shell was found when the package tumbled from a mail sack and burst open.

Of the apparently "live" shotgun shell found here, postoffice officials speculated that the chances of its exploding were "about one in ten," but said its explosion was a certainty if it were dropped "perpendicularly."

Thought Not Deadly

Officers of the naval ordinance bureau who are usually charged with the destruction of such explosives, expressed doubt that the shell would have had deadly effect even if exploded at close range.

They said it would take "a genius at explosives" to rig a shotgun shell in such a manner as to inflict fatal injuries.

Jap Army Ready To Push Attack

SECOND LARGEST CITY IN JEHOL OBJECT OF NEXT DRIVE

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Feb. 22 (AP)—The main force of a Japanese army which plans to wrest Jehol from Chinese rule in the next few weeks was preparing today to strike next at Chaoyang, second largest city of the province.

After a rapid but uneventful advance thirty miles across the border, this force was consolidating at Peipiao, terminus of a branch of the Peiping-Mukden railroad from this point. It occupied Peipiao yesterday without encountering opposition.

Resistance Expected

A further movement in the drive aiming ultimately at the capture of Jehol City, the metropolis and capital of the province, was expected to meet with resistance of Chinese defending forces. The Japanese military command announced the advance would not be resumed immediately.

Meanwhile, a 24-hour ultimatum was being delivered to the Chinese nationalist government at Nanking, issued by the Japanese sponsored state of Manchukuo. This gives the Chinese until a late hour tomorrow to decide not to resist the Japanese. Its acceptance was hardly expected.

CHINESE GENERAL JOINS INVADERS

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Feb. 22 (AP)—Japanese officials asserted today that General Liu Kuei-Tang, principal commander of Chinese forces in the Lupeh region in northern Jehol, has offered to submit to the government of Manchukuo and move against defenders of that province.

The Japanese asserted he commands a force of 15,000 troops in the Lupeh area, 70 miles north of Kailu.

Other guerilla leaders were expected to emulate him and join the Japanese and Manchukuo forces in the drive against Chinese in Jehol.

Five More Killed In German Rioting

BERLIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—A campaign against the "Godless movement" and an appeal for Catholic support were launched today by Chancellor Adolf Hitler's forces. They struck at two of his formidable opponents in the March 5 elections, the first at communists and the latter at the allied Catholic parties.

Meanwhile, five more persons were killed and scores more were injured last night in the incipient civil war which has been waging since Hitler's rise to power. This brought the number of deaths in political clashes since the first of the year, when Hitler began negotiations for the chancellorship, to about 70.

ANTON CERMAK WORSE TODAY

CHICAGO'S MAYOR HAS RESTLESS NIGHT; AWAIT CRISIS

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22—Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, wounded in the chest when an attempt was made to assassinate the president-elect, spent a restless night and his temperature was 100.6 at 7:30 a. m., today, hospital authorities reported, an increase of four-tenths of a degree since 2 a. m.

Mayor Cermak's pulse and respiration remained unchanged in spite of the rising temperature. At 4:15 a. m., the mayor was reported in considerable pain.

Hospital attaches said unofficially that if there were a crisis in his condition from now on it would come within twelve hours.

A possible addition of 40 years to Giuseppe Zangara's sentence of 80 years developed when authorities indicated that if Cermak and Mrs. Joe H. Gill, one of those shot, survive, he will be tried on charges of attempting to kill them. The eighty years already given him were given on charges of attempting to kill Mr. Roosevelt, Miss Margaret Kruis, William Sinnott and Russell Caldwell.

MATTERN HOPS FOR ANGELO

NON-STOP FLIGHT IS UNDER WAY TODAY FROM NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—Jimmie Mattern, birdman who nurses an undying ambition to whirl around the globe in record time, took off from Floyd Bennett airfield at 4:49 a. m., Eastern Standard time, on a non-stop "limbering up" to San Angelo, Tex.

The jaunt, a 1,650-mile one, was the first big test for Mattern's rebuilt plane "The Century of Progress." The craft carries some original parts of the old "Century of Progress" which smashed up in Russia last summer on an unsuccessful world flight which Mattern attempted with Bennet Griffin.

Makes Hop Alone

Mattern was alone in the big ship as she shot away from the Brooklyn airport. Griffin, who plans to go along on the second globe-girdling venture this spring or summer, is in the west.

Mattern said he hoped to reach San Angelo, his home town, in about 12 hours, flying by way of Pittsburgh, Louisville, Little Rock and Fort Worth. Head winds were reported along the route.

WELCOME PLANNED

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 22 (AP)—San Angelo prepared a rousing West Texas homecoming welcome today for Jimmy Mattern, who with Bennet Griffin made a non-stop flight from the United States to Berlin and who broke four records in his attempt to beat the mark of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty on a round-the-world flight last year.

Mattern was expected to arrive from New York at 4 p. m., on his first test flight with his plane.

In distant Oriente province, cradle of all Cuban revolutions including the one against Spain, at least one serious clash occurred.

At Santa Clara, in the middle of the island, rebels were reported to have attacked the government's military station, carrying away arms and ammunition.

At the other end of the island, not far west of here, a band of men tried to seize arms and money at a grocery store in the town of Alquizar. They critically wounded the owner.

Reports said two soldiers were slain in a battle at San Antonio, a town near the U. S. naval coaling station at Guantanamo.

BANDITS SOUGHT IN MAIL ROBBERY

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22 (AP)—That the masked trio who robbed a mail clerk and railway employe of seven pouches of mail received their "tip-off" from Dallas and probably returned to that city after the holdup was the theory upon which detectives were working here today.

The detectives believe that a "spotter" watched the train being unloaded and signalled to his companions, who were waiting on the east side of the underpass for a mail truck to bring the pouches to the terminal in the old T. and P. depot.

Postal inspectors sought to determine the value of the mail.

Government Cotton Pool Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—The senate plans for boosting cotton prices by creating a government pool for growers to participate in as an inducement to them to reduce production, was approved today by the house agriculture committee.

Cotton in the pool would be sold a year hence and contracting producers would benefit by any price increase resulting fro ma smaller 1933 crop.

WOODCOCK SEES NEED OF INCREASE IN FEDERAL AGENTS IF REPEAL IS VOTED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—The opinion that a larger federal force than is now maintained would be required for complete prevention of shipments of liquor from wet to dry states, should the 18th amendment be repealed, was expressed today by Amos W. W. Woodcock, director of prohibition.

He explained to newspapermen that in referring to complete prevention of shipments he meant every type, ranging from that carried on the person or in automobiles in small quantities to truck loads or freight consignments.

"On the other hand, should the federal goernment leave the entire policing of state borders to the states themselves no federal force would be required," he added. "Should the federal government seek to prevent only operations of large shippers—the commercial violators—it would not be necessary to maintain a force as large as the present prohibition bureau."

The present personnel consists of 1,910 investigators and 180 special agents. The latter deal with the most important cases, working directly from Washington.

The repeal resolution submitted to the states by congress provides for protection of dry states. Such activities by the federal government must be provided for by congress.

ARTISTS WILL APPEAR HERE

RAGGINI AND LILLIAN REHBERG ARE TO BE HEARD TONIGHT

Michael Raggini, tenor soloist, and Lillian Rehberg, cellist, are to be presented tonight and tomorrow afternoon in Lubbock High school auditorium in a Texas Technological college artists course number. The night program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Raggini is a former boxer and boxing instructor. He speaks brusquely, much like a business man. Born of Italian parents on New York City's lower east side, Raggini became an amateur boxer. His voice attracted attention, and his friends sent him to Italy to study with Alfredo Martino of Rome.

In Rome, young Raggini organized a boxing school. This helped pay his expenses while studying. Some of Italy's Olympic team boxers and European professional champions had been taught self-defense by Raggini.

Raggini made his debut in Valencia, after appearing in more than 100 cities in Italy, France, Germany, Switzerland, and north Africa. He now is a student of Walter Golde. Arturo Toscanini recently chose Raggini for a solo appearance with the New York Philharmonic.

Lillian Rehberg, one of the four musical daughters of Adolph Rehberg, noted conductor of the Chicago Choral society, made her professional debut in Chicago, after studying piano under her father and cello under Hans Hess. Studying under Alfred Wallenstein, of Chicago and New York, she has appeared in concert in Chicago, New York, on the Pacific coast, and in the middle west. She has been a soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

DICK HYATT

Mrs. Essie Cadenhead, and a brother, John Hyatt, Houston. He also leaves a niece, Mrs. Mel Turpin, of Lubbock and Miss Clara White, another niece and teacher in the Ralls school system.

Operated Paper Here

Mr. Hyatt came to Ralls in 1916. He had formerly been at Spur where he was connected with a newspaper and also operated a picture show. He later operated a newspaper at Albany and for several months a few years ago, operated one in Lubbock.

Complete details of funeral arrangements have not been announced, pending word from relatives. Rev. Uel D. Crosby, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church here, will be in charge of the services, with Rev. R. E. Harrison, pastor of the First Baptist church and R. L. Travis, old time personal friend, assisting.

Burial is to be in the Ralls cemetery. Mr. Hyatt was active in civic and commercial life here and was one of the best known newspaper men on the South Plains.

MARKETS CLOSED

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Security markets and exchanges throughout the country, as well as the banks, were closed today in observance of Washington's birthday which is a legal holiday in all states.

CABINET

end of two days of conversations by the president-elect with the official emissaries of Great Britain, France and Canada.

In these conversations, Mr. Roosevelt arranged for an early world economic parley which he intends will carry out his program for international rehabilitation before he takes up the subject of war debts relief.

Senator Hull, the next secretary of state, and Mr. Woodin, the new secretary of the treasury, are both over the 60-year mark and both two of the most approachable men in public life.

Veteran Law-Maker

Senator Hull has spent most of his mature years in congress, serving for years in the house and advancing to the senate in 1930. He is regarded on Capitol hill as an authority on the tariff and finance—the two subjects which will occupy him most in the next year.

Mr. Woodin, a genius in the business world, judged by his success, is just as amiable and just as astute in the field of finance. He is president of the American Car and Foundry company and a member of several other successful corporations. Also, he is a musician.

Woodin, a Republican in his early days, supported both Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has been at the right hand of Roosevelt since his election and is now busy divesting himself of his many business connections and taking over the complex debts and economic problems with Senator Hull. Woodin is most definitely regarded as a "sound money" man as was Senator Glass, of Virginia, who was first considered.

SELECTIONS PLEASE LEADING DEMOCRATS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—A chorus of praise for Franklin D. Roosevelt's selection of Senator Cordell Hull and William H. Woodin to guide the nation through its gigantic problems of foreign relations and finances during the next four years emanated today from leading Democrats.

The announcement by Roosevelt of his selection of Hull for secretary of state and of Woodin to head the treasury department created no surprise at the capital.

A number of independent Republicans joined with the Democrats in voicing approval of the appointments. An indication that Roosevelt also had pleased the liberal as well as the conservative faction of the party was given in an endorsement of the selections by Senator Long (D., La.).

ROBBERS ELUDE POLICE

DALLAS, Feb. 22 (AP)—Three men who robbed a chain drug store of $400 at opening time Tuesday still had eluded the search of police today. They left H. F. Hereford manager, and Gerald Matthews, soda dispenser, imprisoned in a rear room of the store. A porter who released them saw three men driving away in a sedan which bore a California license plate. The robbers were masked.

LEGISLATURE

They wanted to provide for precinct and county conventions as soon as possible to choose delegates to the state convention that would decide whether Texas favored repeal.

Third Plan On Foot

A third plan reported on foot would empower the governor to call direct the holding of precinct, county, and state conventions for the purpose of acting on a proposal by congress to change the constitution, whether the legislature be in session or not. If that idea were adopted it would be up to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson by proclamation to arrange the details.

SUPPER IS SCHEDULED AT FARM AND HOME CONFERENCE HERE

The principal speaker at a farmers' supper here Thursday as a part of the program of a Farm and Home conference will be John T. Orr, agricultural commissioner of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and formerly connected with the Texas Farm Bureau federation. The supper, in the Lubbock hotel, will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Reports yesterday to committee heads here in charge of the affair, indicated a large attendance at all sessions of the Fourth annual Farm and Home conference Thursday and Friday at Texas Tech. For the supper alone, 150 tickets have already been sold to out-of-town people. Besides Mr. Orr, it is expected Dr. Bradford Knapp will speak if he has returned from Austin. There will be an entertainment program also.

Departing from the usual custom of a set program, members of the Lubbock Rotary club engaged in a "social hour" at the club luncheon at Hotel Lubbock today noon. At conclusion of the meal, members were instructed to "roam the room at will and talk, but the first guy who tries to make a speech will be thrown out."

The intercity committee of which A. B. Davis is chairman had charge of the program. Chas. A. Guy presided.

Sheriff Tom Abel and Police Chief Wiley Metcalfe were stationed at the door "to see that no one leaves the room."

Fred Hale of Spur, R. E. McCaskill of Littlefield, Odie A. Hood of Slaton and C. H. Donaldson of Dallas were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Texas Man Killed; Suspect Is Jailed

TYLER, Feb. 22. (AP)—George R. Crow, 34, was shot and killed last night near Mineola while en route there for medical attention.

Sheriff Wesley Taylor arrested a man at Mineola for questioning in connection with the shooting and lodged the prisoner in jail at Quitman. Crow was shot in the side with a shotgun. He had lived at Van for several years.

Thought For Today

Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall compass me about? —Psalms 49:5.

Old Age

Human beings have many fears. None of them is more tragic or foolish than the fear of old age.

There died in New York not long ago a veteran actress at the age of 80. Few people knew her real age, before her death; some thought she was 65, some thought she was much younger. She had a grown daughter, but she never let anyone know it; she had left her husband and her daughter, long ago, in order that no one might find out how old she was.

Several years before her death she had had to retire from the stage; but she tried to keep up the fiction of youth to the very last. She passed herself off as "the pretty young ingenue." After her retirement she became even more determined to be youthful. She even convinced herself. In her last years she was not an old woman, in her own eyes; she was a charming young actress, flushed with triumphs, ready to rise to stardom anew on her girlish beauty and charm.

Her story is almost unbearably pathetic. But it is unusual only in that this woman went a little bit farther in her fear of old age than most of us try to go.

We all share her fear, to a certain extent. We fight the advancing years desperately and futilely and when wrinkles or gray hairs or bodily weakness at last convince us that we are on the downward slope we feel very sorry for ourselves, and contend that life has played us a scurvy trick.

And there is in all this a subtle proof that our scheme of living is out of joint somewhere. Old age should be the crown of life—the Indian summer of human existence, a time for peaceful contemplation and reflection. It might be, if we prepared for it.

But we don't. We force ourselves not to think that we shall be old some day; and when that some day comes, and we are old, we feel that fate has cheated us most infamously.

It needn't be that way. We all know old people who have escaped that mistake; people who accept old age undisturbed, who don't grope back in vain for the illusion of lost youth, but who accept the quiet and peace of advanced years as a harbor for which they have long been steering.

SOMETHING like 157 years ago an illy clad, scurvy-ridden, under-nourished band of heroes stood their ground at frozen Valley Forge before the onslaughts of a well cared for, well equipped army of redcoats. And today America pauses to pay tribute to its first great leader, the man who led the inspired 'rebels' to ultimate victory in spite of dreadful opposition from men and elements.

Born 201 years ago today, George Washington became, as everyone knows, the architect of the greatest and most successful democracy the world has ever known. True, others carried on the work which he began for man cannot live always. But he started it. He laid the foundation. He had the vision, the courage and the ability to do the early job and most everybody agrees he did the task well.

Dr. S. S. McKay, of Tech college, has made a rather broad study of George Washington and he sets forth that the general has been the subject for more than 400 biographies, while the first President's diaries, letters and papers fill several thousand pages. Washington wrote more than 20,000 letters, all of which have been preserved in original or through copies.

Seventy mountains, bays and rivers in United States have been named for him, together with countless streets, buildings and institutions.

All in all, he was quite a success in spite of the efforts of later day writers to feast off of profits arising from books in which General Washington was generally 'debunked'.

THE Plainsman does not believe Americans of today care particularly whether or not the I-Cannot-Tell-A-Lie story is true, as some of the self-appointed 'debunkers' claim it is not.

It makes no difference to us whether or not there is truth to the charges that Washington was a double jointed whisky drinker, whether or not he could resist the feminine charms, whether or not he had a bad temper or whether or not he threw a dollar across the Rappahannock river.

What we're interested in is what Washington did and how he did it—and no man can gainsay his success.

Probably there has never been a time in the history of our country, since the memorable days at bleak Valley Forge, when the nation could take a better pattern from George Washington and his aides than on this very day.

When we stop to ponder upon what he and his men went through bravely and without a whimper, we are—or should be—ashamed at our wailings of today.

Whatever Washington was in his private life—and whose business was his private life but his?—we need more like him in public life today.

In fact, only one other like him could lead us from the wilderness in which we have tumbled; one other like him would be enough.

BECAUSE of an unsatisfactory fire loss record, plus a falling off of fire insurance business in 1932, Lubbock purchasers of fire insurance premiums in 1933 must pay a six per cent penalty under the ruling of the state fire insurance commission.

The Plainsman can readily see why fire losses enter into the slapping on of a penalty, but what has the falling off of business got to do with it?

Wouldn't it be just as logical for a dry goods store to say:

"Our business is off this year. For that reason, you people who are still buying must pay more for what you buy"?

To a plain, unvarnished dummy like your humble servant, it looks like a $1,000 fire insurance policy sold to John Jones of Lubbock this year should cost him no more than it did last year. Simply because his neighbor, Bill Smith, got in a tight and decided not to carry any fire insurance is no reason to take it out on Jones.

The Plainsman realizes that a bad fire record means more risk to the company doing the insuring and therefore might mean that the company should have more money per policy.

But why a decrease in business should penalize the purchaser of fire insurance is a deep dark mystery.

IT doesn't work that way on life insurance. It doesn't work that way on groceries, furniture or jig-saw puzzles.

Is fire insurance something set apart by the wise boys at Austin who determine those things?

Where at's the logic, customers? Where at's the logic?

Ever-Popular Policy Of "Blame-It-On-Congress" Given Arduous Workout After House Declines To Cut Salaries

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The good old, ever-more-popular policy of "blame it on Congress!" has been given an especially arduous workout over the land since the House defeated a proposal to cut congressional salaries to $7500 a year and another proposal to cut them to $5000 a year.

Dutcher

Perhaps it would be difficult to find 435 employed persons among whom as large a proportion would vote to reduce their own incomes as did in the House, but when other citizens start thinking up reasons why congressional salaries should be cut and congressmen start thinking up reasons why they shouldn't the American mind seems to be revealed at a high peak of fertile activity. I propose to summarize the arguments pro and con for whatever they may be worth:

FOR

Last year's reduction from $10,000 to $9,000 wasn't deep enough, being neither in line with the general drop in salaries and wages or with the Democratic promise to reduce federal expenses 25 per cent.

The country is going through a period of unrest and its people need "a tonic of self-sacrificing example."

If Congress cuts its own salaries it won't be so hesitant about cutting other federal expenses. It avoids other economies because it doesn't want to hurt itself.

The last increase of congressional salaries—in 1927—was $2500, so why not a $2500 cut now, since $7500 goes as far as $10,000 in 1929?

Actual savings if salaries were reduced to $7500 would be about $800,000 a year, but might lead to other federal salary cuts aggregating as much as $80,000,000.

Living expenses in Washington would be lowered if salaries were lowered, thereby eliminating the argument about the expense of living here.

AGAINST

Either proposed cut would make Congress a "rich man's club," its members subject to domination of and reward by special interests.

A cut to $7500 would reduce federal expenses only one ten-thousandth of one per cent.

Salaries have been cut too much for the good of the country and Congress shouldn't set a further bad example.

Congressmen lately have been put to additional personal expense, such as clerical hire, by unprecedented demands from constituents.

The next Congress will have 165 new members, elected for the present salary, who should have a voice if the salary is to be changed.

The congressman who doesn't think he is worthy of his hire should quit or return the excess to the treasury.

Business men and lawyers must sacrifice their own interests to come to Congress and usually have to finance their own campaigns.

The additional living costs and the necessary standards of living in Washington make it easier to live on $4000 at home than $10,000 in Washington.

Most congressmen must maintain homes both in their districts and in Washington. Moving families back and forth is expensive and so is the cost of keeping children in school regardless of session dates.

Congress already has reduced its salaries, mileage, clerk and stationery allowance and multiplied income tax on its salaries four or five times, besides passing the lame duck amendment which means two months less pay.

Lunches, tickets, dinners, automobiles and other courtesies to visiting constituents are a tremendous expense, along with subscriptions and donations in response to constant demands from back home.

Most members lose money while in Congress and depart in debt.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

To See Pope

MILAN, Italy — Joseph Louis Wei, Chinese school-teacher of Singapore, has walked all way to Italy to see Pope Pius. After two years of hiking he is now covering the last stretch to Rome. He expects to reach that city by April 1, in time for the inauguration of the Holy year.

Congratulations!

CINCINNATI—Claribel Batterman was voted the most beautiful girl of the freshman law school class of the University of Cincinnati.

She was voted the best-dressed too; and the smartest; and the most popular and the cleverest.

She's the only girl in the class.

Goes High Hat

ERIE, Pa.—Fishing is going high hat.

Visitors at Peninsula State bank park stared open-mouthed upon seeing a man propped up in an easy chair behind a windbreaker while he fished through the ice.

He had an artificial heater nearby, and a portable radio.

Most Embarrassing

CHICAGO — It was a most embarrassing moment for James Woods, hotel clerk.

"It's locked," Woods said to a gunman, referring to the safe, "and I don't know the combination."

He gave the safe handle a lusty pull to prove his point, and to his amazement the door swung open.

"Story teller," or words to that effect, said the intruder, departing with $46.

Chilled Alimony

SEATTLE—Partly frozen assets are all right here for alimony payments.

A superior judge ruled that Clarence G. Green, a motorman, may use them in paying temporary alimony.

The city warrants, which Green receives for payment, are being discounted 15 per cent when cashed.

For many a married man, international diplomacy pales into insignificance beside the strategy displayed by the young Indianan who took his bride on a 4500-mile "hitchhike honeymoon."

WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 26 years old and weighed 170 pounds until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 pounds. I also have more energy and further more I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Mark Halsey Drug Store, City Drug Store, John Halsey Drug, or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.—Adv.

There's a limit to everything—even thermometers. It wasn't the 50-below-zero temperature that annoyed Silver Bow, Mont., but the inability to learn how much colder it got.

Dizzy, Faint Feeling
BILIOUS ATTACKS

"I would get bilious, have a bad taste in my mouth, and my head would ache and feel dull, and I would get dizzy and faint," writes Mr. Claude O. Taylor, of Greer, S. C. "My mother thought this trouble came from biliousness. She gave me Black-Draught and it relieved me as nothing else had. I have quit having the fainting spells, for if I feel that I am getting bilious I take Black-Draught in time."

TEXAS GOLFERS SEEK TO QUALIFY IN TOURNAMENT

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

If the Tech Matadors have any dread against the coming of Sad Sam Burton's West Texas Buffs to Lubbock tomorrow night they are not showing it.

As a matter of fact, the Tech cagers are looking forward to the series with the Buffs. They're confident they can make a better showing than they did in the first series at Canyon, and they won't admit that they're going to get beat again.

Regardless of Tech's chances to win, there probably will be an overflow crowd at the gymnasium tomorrow night. Many fans have been saving up for this series. A chance to see the Buffs in action does not come to many Texans. Tech's the only Texas team to play the Canyon school this season. Burton had to go out of the state and into higher class basketball for his schedule. So the Buffs play the game as she is played under the big tents.

The Buffs will enter the National A. A. U. tournament next month. By defeating the Wichita Henry's and the Southern Kansas Stage lines teams the West Texas Teachers have proved their ability to compete with the country's best. The Stage lines team eliminated Canyon from the running last year. It is held in Kansas City.

A bouquet to the American Business club of Lubbock, who successfully staged an athletic carnival last night and pleased about 1,500 fans. A thing of that sort is unusually hard to stage and stage right. The A. B. C.ers did it and deserve commendation. Everything was handled smoothly, with few delays and little loss of time. Pete Cawthon had his Tech boxers and wrestlers ready at the gong. Most of them put out their best, and the comedy gags were okey doke.

Action of the Texas league in naming Jakie Ais as umpire-in-chief of the league and good-will ambassador to the minor leagues in the state means that circuit, as are many others, are interested in helping get the smaller leagues going.

Ais probably will make a tour of the West Texas-New Mexico league territory before many weeks, visiting Lubbock and offering suggestions that may prove helpful here. There's considerable work to be done yet, but the prospects are good for Lubbock's success in the league.

Erection of a grandstand and fence on the grounds provided by the city may begin shortly, although it is deemed wise to wait until enough cash is in the bank to assure completion of the season before actual construction begins.

And now for a little checking up and challenge-answering.

We note in Monday's Evening Journal that we have received another letter from Gus Axcelwush, Rural Route, Lubbock, Texas. Bob McCall, a capable stablemate, handled the correspondence for a day or so and printed Gus' letter. Gus, in a previous letter, has challenged us to a "box fight."

We served notice that it would be several days before we could render an answer. We are now ready. We have selected our fighter. Out of numerous offers to take our place and box fight Gus, we have accepted that of none other than that able assistant, worthy contributor and helpful correspondent, Secret Operative No. X356876-B, Lamesa, Texas. We may have the numbers mixed, but that helps keep it secret.

A letter from Secret Operative No. so-and-so suggests that he be named to do our fighting, and that he will gladly box fight Gus Axcelwush on any day at any time. Now that's the kind of letters we like to get. Time and place for the fight will be announced later, although we still don't know what it's all about.

Maybe we could work this fight in on one of Tech's "Fun Nite" programs. Think it over, Gus and Secret Operative, and let us know.

Gus says he dislikes nosepaper mens, and Secret Operative has had several contributions printed herein. He aspires to be a nosepaper mans, so that ought to give Axcelwush enough inspiration.

COCHRAN SETS PACE IN THE FIRST TEST

MORELAND SHOOTS 76 FOR FIVE-WAY TIE FOR FIFTH PLACE

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Some of Texas' finest golfers had opportunity today to prove how they could shoot to qualify in the annual Houston Country club invitation tournament. Play started yesterday with the first 18 of the 36 holes medal test.

Such stars as Charles Dexter, Reynolds Smith, Franklyn Baker, O'Hara Watts, Jack Dold, Jack Summer and many others were ready to attempt the final 18 holes today to win entry in the championship flight.

Cochran Sets Pace

Only one of the players who probably did not worry about qualifying was husky Tommie Cochran, who paced the field yesterday with a 38-35—73, two over par. Texas amateur champion in 1924 and 1925, Cochran had slipped from stardom for several years.

Cochran's 73 paced yesterday's field by one stroke. Willie Maguire, jr., of Houston and Fred Odom of New Orleans each scored a 74. Maguire clicked with a 38-36—74. Odom had a 37-37—74.

The end of play yesterday found Gus Moreland, Texas amateur champion and defending champion in the invitation, in a five way tie for fourth place. Inability to drop putts held Moreland to a 39-37—76. The best part of his game, putting, betrayed him.

In front of Moreland and in a three way tie for third place today when the final round started were Ken Penner of Louisville, Ky., Ossie Carlton of Houston, and Edwin McClure of Shreveport, each with a 75.

Goldman Has Trouble

David Goldman of Dallas, finalist in last year's Trans-Mississippi and who has defeated Moreland four out of six tries, had putting troubles yesterday and finished with a 39-37—76, the same score Moreland had. Johnnie Dawson, finalist in last year's invitation, tied with Goldman and Moreland with a 37-39—76.

Observers predicted that when dusk settled over the course tonight a 36-hole total of 161 or 162 would have been required in the championship bracket. Reynolds Smith, Dallas Lakewood Country club ace and once finalist in the Texas amateur, played his worst round of golf in years yesterday when he required 42-39—81 to tour the first 18 holes.

Score In 80's

O'Hara Watts of Dallas and Southwest conference champion, and Jack Dold, former Texas municipal champion, were two others who scored 81's yesterday. Charles Dexter, several times Texas amateur champion, played a bad round of 82.

One of the gamest comebacks yesterday was that of Jack Summer of Oklahoma City. This veteran tournament star was eight over par on the front nine with a 44 but he gained control of his game on the back nine to breeze in with 36 strokes, one under par, for an 80.

Louis Nowlin of Dallas, one of the longest hitters in the tournament, Bud McKinney of Del Rio, Gibson Payne of Dallas and Neil Smith of Dallas were among outstanding stars almost certain to qualify. Each scored a 77 yesterday to end in a four way tie for fifth place.

CORBETT WILL MEET FIELDS

WELTERWEIGHT TITLE AT STAKE TONIGHT IN CALIFORNIA

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (AP)—When the sun begins its dip into the Pacific late today, either Jackie Fields will be distinguished as one of the remarkable champions of boxing or Young Corbett will have become the new wearer of the welterweight crown.

In this city exactly three years ago Fields was outpointed in a non-title bout by the Fresno, Calif., left-hander who squares off against him this afternoon in a 10-rounder.

Faces Tough Job

Fields' assignment was to turn the tables on a persistent challenger, thereby not only regaining lost prestige but also successfully defending his laurels. Woven into the comparatively short career of Fields, also, is his feat of losing and winning back the 147-pound title.

In 1930 shortly after he was defeated by Corbett, Fields lost the championship to young Jack Thompson. Then the rangy negro took on Corbett and, like his predecessor, dropped a decision in a non-title battle. The crown passed along to other hands, Fields eventually regaining it through a victory over Lou Brouillard.

Money Quoted Even

Until last night, when even money was quoted, Corbett was favored at odds that at times reached as high as 2 to 1.

"TALLEST TEAM" WILL PLAY HERE

Coming to Lubbock Thursday and Friday nights to wind up Texas Tech's official basketball season is the "tallest team in America," Coach Sad Sam Burton's West Texas State Teachers college Buffs. Below are three members of the Buff lineup, all of whom will be seen here this week. Colvin, all-T. I. A. A. forward, ranks second only to Joe Fortenberry, who is not pictured here.

FORMER FIGHT PROMOTER REMEMBERS CORBETT AS "GENTLEMAN JIM" AND "MARQUIS OF QUEENSBURY LAWYER"

BY WILLIAM WARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 22 (AP)—Two Corbetts are remembered by (Sunny Jim) Coffroth—"Gentleman" Jim and "the Marquis of Queensbury lawyer."

Corbett changed from one to the other according to the length of time remaining before a fight.

Promoted Last Fight

Coffroth, now living in retirement here, promoted Corbett's last fight, the re-match on August 14, 1903, with Jim Jeffries at the Yosemite Athletic club in San Francisco. "Gentleman Jim" was knocked out in the tenth round of the scheduled 20-round match, but the fight set a world's record for the times. It drew the largest gate on record—$62,340.

The promoter dubbed Corbett "the Marquis of Queensbury lawyer" as a result of the fight.

"Corbett knew every rule in the book, although the book was new at that time," Coffroth explained. "He would ask before a fight for the name of the referee. 'Well,' he would say, 'he is all right, but does he know the rules? I want to question him.' And did Corbett make a referee sweat with his cross examination!"

Plenty of Trouble

California boxing laws required two inches of felt under the canvas, and when Corbett tried out the ring before the Jeffries fight he insisted the soft footing would slow him up. Coffroth laid a stiff carpet that cost $150 under the canvas. Corbett didn't want "to be jostled" by entering one of the regular doors, so Coffroth had the carpenters cut a new door in the side of the club house for him.

"Jim and I were friends from boyhood," Coffroth said, "and I never knew a finer man. The Marquis of Queensbury lawyer was a product of the strain of training and Gentleman Jim took his place after a fight."

During a fanning bee in Los Angeles two years ago, Coffroth asked the ex-champion two questions. They were: Why did you fight the aging negro, Peter Jackson, in that fight which was declared "no contest" in the 61st round? Why, at the age of 37, three years after Jeffries had knocked you out in the 23rd round in New York, did you accept a rematch with him in San Francisco?

Played Last Card

"I thought I could get the negro's goat," Corbett answered, speaking of Jackson. "I carried on quite a campaign in the attempt before I acepted the match. I knew he was superstitious and played my last card the night of the fight.

"Jackson never had entered the ring first for one of his fights. I could see it would shake his confidence if he ever did, so I made his manager agree that Jackson and I would crawl between the ropes at the same time. But I 'slipped' and fell while we were doing that and Jackson found himself in the ring alone."

Just Walking Around

Coffroth said Corbet would have won the fight if his hands had not gone bad. Jackson's feet went bad in the 60th round and in the 61st they were just walking around the ring, one unable to hit and the other unable to catch him.

"I out boxed Jeffries for 20 rounds in New York the first time I met him," Corbett went on. "If the California law limiting fights to 20 rounds had been in effect in New York I was sure I would have won on a decision. I tired after the 20th. I thought I could do as well three years later, and the California would stop the fight in time to save me. But my legs gave out. Then I knew I was through."

TECH QUINTET PLANS FOR TEACHERS

"TALLEST TEAM" WILL MEET MATADORS IN TWO GAMES HERE

A basketball team declared by many national experts as one of the best in the country will invade Lubbock tomorrow for a couple of games with the Texas Tech Matadors.

It's the "tallest team in America," the West Texas State Teachers college quintet from Canyon, who open a two-game series at the Tech gym tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

But it will not be the first meeting of the teams this season.

Several weeks ago the Matadors went to Canyon and dropped a couple of contests to the Buffs, who have had hard luck in scheduling games with Texas opposition this season.

Matadors Not Afraid

Although the underdogs, the Matadors are not giving up before hostilities begin. They've had enough of strong opposition to know that there is always the possibility of "breaks" coming just in time to sew up a victory. They are working this week toward developing those breaks, for it has been a long time since Tech won a cage victory over the Buffaloes, either here or at Canyon. Those humiliating defeats sustained earlier in the season have not been forgotten.

On the other hand, the Buffs plan to enter the National A. A. U. tournament at Kansas City within a few weeks, and they are counting on victories over Texas Tech to help in the build-up of themselves.

With not a man under six feet, Coach Burton has a team calculated to give the amateur competition at Kansas City great opposition. A National A. A. U. championship is the highest honor to which a collegiate team may aspire.

EAST TEXAS BALL LOOP ORGANIZED

LONGVIEW, Feb. 22 (AP)—Five teams were ready for the starting gun today in the newly organized East Texas independent baseball league.

Cities represented at the organization meeting here yesterday were Shreveport, Longview, Tyler, Henderson and Wright City. A sixth club had not been selected but several other towns had been invited to join the league.

The new circuit would begin its season April 20 and close on September 4, playing six games each week but leaving Monday of each week as an "open date."

League directors were called to meet again March 6 in Tyler and it was expected they would settle at that time the question of becoming affiliated with professional baseball organizations.

MADRID (AP)—"You're in the army now" has a less foreboding sound for Spain's recruits. The war ministry has decreed that soldiers' bedding be made of soft cotton wool instead of the traditional hard esparto grass matting on which old timers bunked.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED LOCAL FIGHT FANS ATTEND A. B. C. ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

The American Business club entertained about 1,500 of Lubbock's fight fans last night when it staged the first athletic carnival.

Boxing and wrestling exhibitions by Texas Tech fighters and added comedy attractions kept the capacity crowd in an uproar throughout the hour and 40 minutes of slam-banging and head-locking.

Waxing warmer as it proceeded, the preliminary events paved the way to the crowning feature, a brother boxing act which served well to climax the program.

The Family Feud

Dempsey Cannon, halfback and middleweight fighter, tangled with Otis Cannon, an older brother, in a three-round, non-decision affair that brought blood and wild cheering. Otis gave weight and height, but stood toe to toe with Brother Dempsey, took a pretty good licking but never squawked. Slaton fans were reminded of the beginning of this feud 'way back when Papa Cannon himself taught his boys how to fight.

The scheduled 15-round limit fight between Jimmie "Primo" Kennedy, representing the American Business club, and J. ... "Wreck 'Em" Raley, wearing Rotarian colors, terminated abruptly in the second round when Referee Truman Meinecke was set upon by the principals after attempting a "break." Meinecke was counted out after Primo and Wreck 'Em had left the ring. Before this catastrophe, Raley was getting in some good base knocks in the vicinity of Kennedy's knees. Raley gave about two feet in height.

A "battle royal" resulted in a knock-out victory by "One Sack O'Beans," billed from Mescalero, after Sugar Saders, Chocolate Kid and Popcorn Kid had been tossed out of the ring. Jack Johnson, the runner-up, faded easily.

Robertson Runs Things

E. H. "Robby" Robertson, master of ceremonies, introduced the boxing and wrestling events, the latter appearing first on the program. Marian Harris, Tech boxer, officiated for the grunt-and-groan artists.

"Wrongie" Austin of St. Louis got the decision over George Beene, Swisher county, when the latter had to be treated for a fractured elbow three minutes after the battle began. They were wrestling in the lightweight class.

May of McKinney threw Nichols of San Angelo in 4 minutes, 15 seconds, with a body scissors.

Matt Hitchcock got the better of Ted Wilson in their grappling contest when it went the full five minute limit. It seemed a friendly affair, bordering on comedy.

Juicy Owen tossed Woodrow Wilson in the heavyweight wrestling match, the Mexia sophomore being technically if not physically outclassed.

Morris Alford of Slaton knocked Lancaster of Baltimore down twice in the last two rounds and won the first boxing decision. Three judges rendered the boxing decisions, which were limited to three, one-minute rounds.

Toby Greer, Comanche, battered D. M. McElroy all over the ring in the third round of their battle, but McElroy's work in the first two rounds convinced the judges and the Dallas youth won.

Ross Ayers, football captain, and "Frenchy" Cortier boxed on even terms and to a draw, decision of which was roundly booed. The score cards showed the first round a draw, gave Ayers the second and Cortier the third.

TWC HELD GUILTY OF TORTURE - DEATH OF AGED RECLUSE

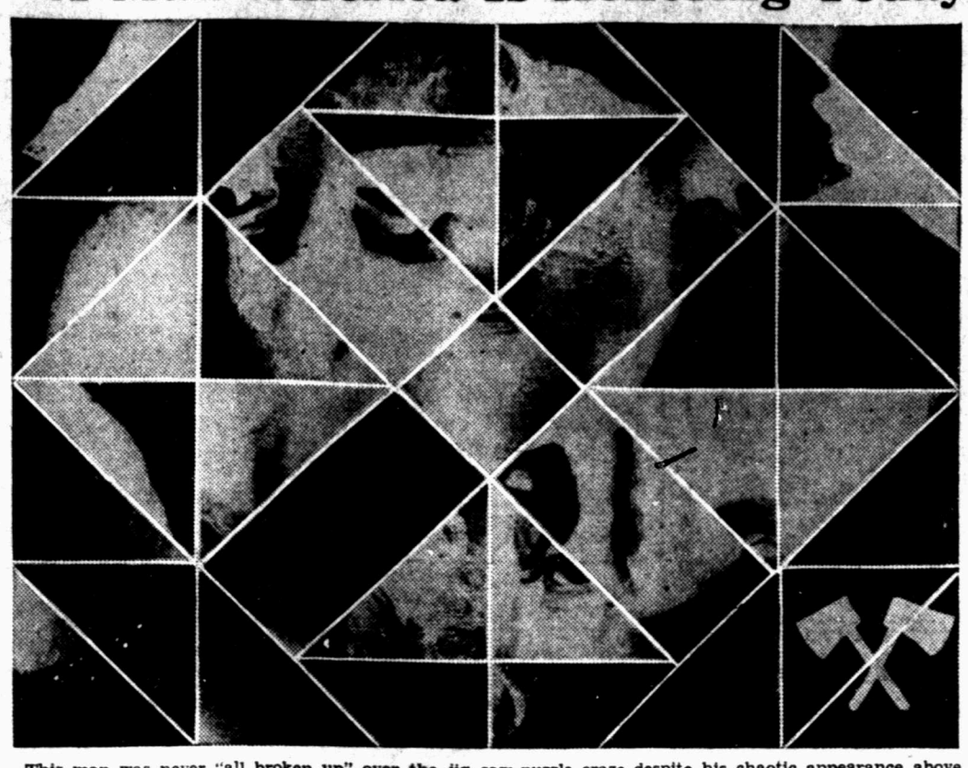

CLINTON, Ark., Feb. 22 (AP)—Two youths who put a lonely old man through a night of torture on his north Arkansas farm in a vain attempt to extract the secret of his hidden hoard were sentenced late Tuesday to life imprisonment for his death.

A jury found Jesse Hardester, 17, and Aaron Moody, 22, guilty of the murder of R. F. Leigh, aged recluse, whose body was found by neighbors hanging from a rafter in his home on January 2.

The prosecution asked the death penalty for the pair, who had confessed the crime, but the defense asked life sentences on the plea they had not intended to kill Leigh when they strung him up by the neck to force him to tell where his small fortune in gold and currency was hidden. They said they left in disgust when they found only $9, and believed Leigh was "safe enough because his toes were touching the floor."

The secret the aged man suffered torture and death rather than tell was revealed later in a letter he left with a neighbor to be delivered to the Red Cross in the event of his death. It contained directions that sent Red Cross representatives on a "treasure" hunt that turned up more than $6,000 on the hillside farm.

Like Jig-Saws? Try This One; It Is A Man America Is Honoring Today

This man was never "all broken up" over the jig-saw puzzle craze despite his chaotic appearance above. His fame as a tree-chopper far exceeds that of his puzzle-solving ability. Here's a tip as to who he is—millions of Americans are paying tribute to him today. It's simple to put this latest in jig-saws together properly. There's no difficult cutting—no curves or jagged protuberances around which to maneuver the scissors. All you have to do is cut on the white lines and assemble the pieces again in a different Fashion. But it's not an easy assignment. Perhaps you can do it in fewer than 15 minutes . . . perhaps . . . After you solve it, watch for the solution in Thursday's Journal, and see if you've done it correctly.

OCCUPATION TAX IS REQUIRED FOR PARTICIPANTS IN CHAIN SALES PLAN

Lubbock residents participating in so-called endless chain sales evidently do not know an annual occupation tax of $25 must be paid to the county tax collector before entering each such get-rich-quick scheme.

"—any dealer or agent violating any provision of this act (civ. art. 7429a) shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than $10 nor more than $200, and each day x x x shall constitute a separate offense."

To be sure, pamphlets are glowing in their promises; companies sponsoring such schemes are offering something for almost nothing.

One company refuses to permit its clients to profit more than $25,000—quoting from a pamphlet, "x x x you may earn any sum up to $25,000 in return for a comparatively few hours work."

Billfolds, fountain pens, and bridge sets are three of the articles which are to be sold. The billfolds and pens are $2 each; the bridge sets are $5.

Here's the way it works: You buy a fountain pen, a bridge set, or what have you, and pay in your $2 or $5. To start your fortune rolling in, you must make four sales. On the fourth sales you start a chain for yourself, from which you receive a commission on all sales.

So rapidly will the plan bring in money that, if all members of your chain make four sales each, you will have your $25,000 maximum in ten months, it is promised.

Lubbock Retail Merchants association has warned against the plan, quoting the Houston Chronicle, which has refused to carry classified ads in connection with the scheme.

"The Fortieth legislature, back in 1927," said the Chronicle, "passed a law requiring a $25 license from every person participating in endless chain selling schemes, and in the penal code provided a fine of $10 to $200 for each violation, and provided, too, that each day the person participated without a license would be considered a new and separate offense."

The act defines the term "endless chain" to "include any plan wherein any person sells to any person any right wherein the purchaser undertakes to sell to another any right which may under certain conditions entitle the purchaser to any right, and wherein the purchaser thereof from the original purchasers are given a consideration for their entry into such plan and their purchase of such right, the right of making further sales."

One company promises an "audit of your commission account" for "a nominal fee" at any time you request it. There also is a charge of five cents in stamps for each set of ten leaflets additional to the first ten. If you want your leaflets and order sent first class you may enclose an additional ten cents.

INTERESTING NEWS, COMMENT FROM AUSTIN

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Feb. 22—There has been usual protest from some senaover what they term "leaks" executive sessions of the uphouse. Usually after the senmeets behind closed doors to ider controversial matter the e birds" seem to spread some he goings-on.

hispering of the "birds" always gone on without interruption one seems able to stop them e probably never has been a chamber session of any pubody that some one did not find out some of the happenings. That has been the case with the senate for years.

Governors Informed

No doubt, there have been few governors who have not been informed by their partisan members of the senate what happened in executive sessions and how the senators voted.

There were expressions of wonder when Governor Miriam A. Ferguson sent back to the senate for reconsideration the name of F. L. Denison of Temple to be chairman of the state highway commission. She noted there "seems to have been some misunderstanding" in the senate, speaking of an executive meeting that considered Denison's confirmation.

Merely Smiled

"Who's the traitor?" asked one of the senators. Other senators merely smiled.

Another senator admitted that the executive sessions, as secret institution, were a failure. He said that usually "every page, every newspaper reporter, every employe" knew what had happened ten minutes after one of the closed meetings ended.

Still the senate continues its executive sessions. Still the capitol politicals speculate on what happened behind closed doors. They have a fairly good batting average for accuracy in getting the "dope."

Dallas County Man Fined For Perjury

DALLAS, Feb. 22 (AP)—Lester H. Cox of Irving, Dallas county, was given a 13-months' sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $100 by Federal Judge William H. Atwell Tuesday after a jury convicted him of perjury.

The perjury indictment was based on testimony Cox gave at a habeas corpus hearing in San Angelo for N. D. Heaton and L. C. Smith, suspended prohibition agents who were then under indictment for murder for the shooting of Marion McGlothlin, Irving storekeeper. The two agents later were freed in federal court here.
