Cambridge Groups Sign Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—White and Negro leaders from Cambridge, Md., today signed an agreement that Negroes will end racial demonstrations there in exchange for the white community will take concrete steps to meet Negroes' desegregation demands.

The document, designed to end violence in the eastern shore fishing community, was signed at the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy signed as a witness. It followed more than eight hours of talks Monday night with Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall.

Cambridge Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and City Atty. C. A. Dry Thompson arrived today to join Negro leaders in signing the agreement. Cambridge officials had not been represented at Monday night's meeting.

Brig. Gen. George Gelston indicated that National Guard troops will remain in Cambridge for a while.

The four-page agreement listed these steps being taken in hopes of meeting Negro demands:

Firm assurances that desegregation of the first four grades in the Dorchester County school system will be accomplished by the opening of the school year in September.

A Negro citizen has been retained as an interviewer with the state's Department of Employment Security in its Cambridge office.

The mayor and commissioners of Cambridge are applying to the Federal Housing Administration for a low rent public housing project "which materially will benefit the Negro community."

The agreement also noted that Cambridge officials have appointed a biracial Human Relations Commission with four Negro members.

In return, the agreement said, the representatives of the Negro citizens of the city of Cambridge hereby agree that there will be no form of protests or demonstrations for an indefinite period hereafter.

Regime Called Fascist By Egypt Leader

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser says Egypt, Iraq and Syria cannot unite as long as the Ba'ath Socialist party rules Syria.

Denouncing the Syrian regime as fascist, Nasser declared Monday night: "There cannot possibly be any alliance with fascism based on deception and treason. We want democratic unity, not the unity of a Ba'athist prison."

Iraq also has a Ba'athist government, but Nasser apparently left the door open for cooperation with it. He and the Syrian Ba'athists have been at odds since the short-lived union of Egypt and Syria of 1958-61.

The three nations agreed in April to form a new United Arab Republic on Sept. 17 with Nasser as transitional president. But Nasser's plans to submerge the Syrian Ba'athists in his own one-party system were torpedoed when they purged his supporters from positions of power in the Syrian army and government.

The Syrian regime last Thursday quelled a coup attempt by Nasser supporters and launched a roundup of pro-Nasser elements. At least 27 rebels have been executed.

Nasser spoke to about 200,000 Egyptians jammed into Cairo's Gumburziya Square on the eve of the 11th anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Farouk.

Nasser said the unity agreement no longer is binding "so far as the (Syrian) Ba'athist fascist government is concerned." But he said he still considers it binding on the Syrian people. He added that his attack was directed at the party leadership, not at the "good elements who remain in the party."

Children Are Burned In House Fire

Two small Latin-American children were burned late Monday afternoon when fire destroyed their home two miles north of China Grove.

The house, owned by N. F. Hall, had burned to the ground by the time fire-fighting units from Snyder arrived. Also suffering considerable damage was a large tractor and a 1964 Ford station wagon.

Extent of the children's injuries is not known. They were taken to a Lorraine hospital before Snyder firemen arrived. Some witnesses told firemen they did not believe the children to be seriously burned. Others said they thought the burns might be serious.

Witnesses also told the firemen that the children's father had rescued them from the house, and that the mother had taken them from re-entering the house to try to save his dog and $50 which he had recently borrowed. The dog was killed and the money burned.

JFK's Proposal Backed By Rail Representatives

SPEAKS FOR RAIL INDUSTRY—J. E. Wolfe tells reporters outside the White House in Washington that there is no chance of averting a nationwide rail strike unless Congress enacts legislation for compulsory arbitration. Unanimous Vote Given WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the nation's railroads announced support today for President Kennedy's proposed legislation aimed at averting a nationwide rail strike.

The 20-member board of directors of the Association of American Railroads voted unanimously in support of both the President's message to Congress and the bill that has been introduced.

The action came as Congress took up the President's emergency plan under which the Interstate Commerce Commission would be given unprecedented authority to pass on the four-year-long dispute over work rules and hold off a strike for at least two years.

At the capitol, congressional action appeared cautiously favorable to the President's proposal announced Monday.

Representatives of the five operating unions still are considering the position they will take on the President's plan.

Democratic congressional leaders, in advance of the railroad executives' action, talked the situation over with Kennedy and reported afterward that the prospects for his plan look good.

In talking with newsman after their weekly White House breakfast, however, the party chiefs steered clear of any predictions that Congress will complete action before 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

That is the hour at which the carriers have announced they will put controversial new manpower-cutting work rules into effect.

The noncommittal attitude of the Congress leaders on that point strongly indicated that the administration still faces the job of achieving some sort of agreed delay while Congress does its work.

Nuclear Test Ban Treaty May Be Initialed Wednesday

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, Britain and the United States, apparently completed work today on a treaty banning nuclear tests in the air, outer space and under water. They may initial it Wednesday.

Governors To Talk Rights

By JACK BELL
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Republicans wheel up their guns today for a probably futile, new offensive to force some kind of civil rights action by the Democratic-dominated 53rd annual Governors' Conference.

Governors of both parties will devote two hours of talk at an afternoon session, under strict time limitations, to the issue. Under the rules there would be no debate.

A committee headed by Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey lays before the conference Wednesday a report approving in glowing terms Kennedy's proposals for a domestic peace corps, a youth employment act, new mental health legislation and a health care program for the elderly.

Halfhearted, the vice chairman of the committee is expected to counter this move promptly with a minority report "faced with civil rights declarations. It would take issue with some of the Democratic's views. The Halfhearted report, for example, probably will call for expansion of the Kerr-Mills program of federal-state aid for health care for needy elderly persons.

The Republicans believe they have a chance of forcing a conference showdown that would put divided Democrats in the embarrassing position of having to vote for the first time on a civil rights declaration.

City Council Sets $877,479 Budget

In a called special meeting last night, the Snyder city council gave their approval to the proposed budget for the City of Snyder for the 1963-64 year.

The budget calls for expenditure of $877,479 for the year beginning Oct. 1. The tax rate of $1.65 per $100 valuation is unchanged from previous years.

About 30 percent of the city's income will go into an Interest and Sinking Fund, and 61 percent into the General Fund for operation of the city.

The budget will be formally adopted by the council following a public hearing on Sept. 9, the date which has been set for the regular monthly meeting of the council in September.

Included in the proposed budget are a number of "capital improvements" for the coming year. Some of these improvements are construction of a million gallon ground storage reservoir, a combination police - fire - civil defense building, two new fire trucks, and a $100 valuation is unchanged from previous years.

The city council commended the city manager on the performance of his duties, and approved a budget increase of $50 per month in his expense account.

Other merit increases were approved for the coming year ranging from $3 to $25 per month. The five department heads were all included in the increases.

The total budgeted for salaries for the coming year is $340,463. Including the salary increases. During the present year salaries are budgeted at $345,369.

In other business the council voted to put curb and gutter on Avenue E from the East Highway to the new Highway 84 by-pass. Some 9,000 feet of curbing will be laid at a cost of $1 per foot.

It is expected that Avenue E will become an arterial street upon the completion of the new by-pass. Snyder County Precinct 1 will re-align the road and repave it. It also will be lighted.

Also in connection with Avenue E, the council voted to contact the state highway department and urge that another exit be provided from the by-pass at Avenue E.

The council also heard a letter from the highway department asking if the city would like the state to designate the present highway route through Snyder as a "business route."

The "business route" designation would mean that the state would continue to maintain the route. The council voted to accept the "business route" designation for the present highway.

COURAGEOUS PRIESTS—The Revs. John Savageau, left, and Anatole Baillargeon are reunited after their ordeal in Lake Ponchartrain, New Orleans. Father Savageau swam seven miles towing a 14-year-old girl after their small boat capsized. Father Baillargeon clung to the overturned boat tied to a 3-year-old child. A fifth person was also rescued. Cotton over Father Baillargeon's eye is for relief from water and sun exposure. (AP Wirephoto)

Soup For A Group's Main Course

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

NOT ALL the king's horses and all the king's men could convince is that sometimes making a soup yourself isn't worthwhile.

But we don't mind using a prepared soup to help along. In the following recipe a small can of dry onion soup mix is coupled with one of winter's best vegetables, broccoli, to make a good contribution.

Is the committee you're working with on a community project meeting at your house? This soup would be excellent to offer with hot biscuits, rolls and a honey dessert like Apple Cakes.

For a lagniappe with the soup, you might like to try this California way. We did and found it a delicious and amusing garnish.

Buy some Canadian bacon—the kind that comes in a package and is thinly sliced—and pan-fry, oven-broil or grill according to package directions. Have on hand some extra broccoli flowers, cooked lightly so they're tender-crisp and bright green, and fold a slice of the Canadian bacon over a floweret. Fasten with food picks so these trifles may be picked up with the fingers. If you serve the soup from a large tureen placed on a chop dish or platter, the bacon-broccoli tidbits can go around the tureen.

How much Canadian bacon will you need? We found there were 16 to 18 slices in a 6-ounce package. If you buy an extra bunch of broccoli, you'll have ample flowerets for one of these packages, and you can use the broccoli stalks for soup or salad for the family.

BROCCOLI CHOWDER

1 bunch (about 1½ pounds) broccoli
Boiling water
Salt

1 can (1½ ounces) dry onion soup mix
1 cup light cream

Herb or herb-and-spice seasoning
White pepper or tabasco sauce

Trim ends of broccoli stalks and remove leaves. With a swivelblade vegetable parer, pare outer fibrous covering from broccoli stalks. Split large stalks lengthwise; cut into 1-inch pieces.

Gently boil the pieces of stalk in 4 cups boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt for 8 minutes; add the flowerets and cook 3 to 5 minutes more or until flowerets are just tender-crisp. Drain broccoli and chop fine—with a knife, a food-chopper or a blender. Reserve cooking water.

Turn 3 cups of the broccoli cooking water into a kettle with the dry onion soup mix, partly cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add the chopped broccoli, cream, seasonings to taste (including extra salt if necessary) and reheat rapidly but do not boil. Makes about 1½ quarts.

MAIN DISH CORNY DOGS can make many appearances this summer for picnics, patio dinners, family suppers and as easy-on-the-budget crowd pleasers. Made with a new quick corny dog recipe created for self-rising corn meal mix with the N-R-G leavening agent, these summer treats are easy and economical to prepare.

New Quick Corny Dog Popular Dish For Family

Fast becoming a Southwest eating tradition are Corny Dogs, the popular frank-on-a-stick treat.

Corny Dogs feature plump frankfurters covered with a corn meal batter. A nourishing treat at sporting events, fairs, carnivals and dinners, corny dogs can make successful appearances at the family dinner table and at summer parties.

Corny dogs are a fine main dish treat to plan for picnics, patio dinners, luncheons for youngsters and as easy-on-the-budget crowd pleasers.

Served as a main dish, corny dogs require only mustard or catsup as accompaniments. A hearty salad, fruit for dessert and the family's favorite iced drink complete the meal.

A new Quick Corny Dog recipe features a batter that is a solid and crusty covering for the frankfurters. This recipe features self-rising flour and self-rising corn meal mix containing the N-R-G leavening agent and eliminates the array of ingredients usually specified. The Quick Corny Dog batter has a crunchy corn meal texture yet retains adherence properties of a fine flour mixture.

QUICK CORNY DOGS
1 cup self-rising flour containing N-R-G
1 cup-pack self-rising corn meal mix with N-R-G
1 egg
1 cup milk
Combine ingredients and stir until blended. Dip frankfurters in batter. Turn franks until completely covered. Fry in deep, hot fat (365 degrees) until golden brown.

Clean Hands Can Combat Poisoning

NEW YORK — Although proper refrigeration of hot weather dishes is a basic safety measure for public and industrial eating places, only "hospital-clean" hands of food handlers can provide maximum guarantees against food poisoning.

This conclusion of recent food contamination studies stresses the rapidity and ease with which staphylococci can multiply in protein-rich foods. The same "staph" bacteria, a normal "resident bacteria" on human skin.

Dr. W. A. Salihann, authority on food poisoning, contends that "99 per cent of the problem is food handling personnel" and that personal hygiene must be "the first major step in a control program."

Public health officials have as their goal standards of hand cleanliness for kitchen help, waiters and waitresses as high as those now adopted in hospitals for nurses and doctor.

They are quick to point out that technical obstacles to hospital clean hands no longer exist and that the same modern cleansing compounds used by the medical profession are now available at relatively low cost to the public.

One of these, a creamy emulsion, leaves a semipermanent film on the skin which fights bacteria. It is known as phisohex. It does not irritate the skin and has a greater dirt-removing power than soap. It was developed originally for use as a preoperative scrub by surgeons, and is routinely used in most surgeries and physician's offices.

Emphasis on such antibacterial skin cleansers as phisohex grow out of the high rate of food poisoning and some common misconceptions of how food may be protected from bacteria. One of the misconceptions is that the heat of cooking removes the danger from bacteria. It doesn't. It may kill the bacteria, but doesn't destroy their poison.

A basic medical textbook dealing with this subject, in fact, warns that even 30 minutes of boiling cannot destroy enterotoxin, the poison produced by the germ, staphylococcus aureus.

The high incidence of food poisoning in the United States is noted in a public-health study by Dr. B. E. Hodge who concludes as follows: "With the exception of duodenal ulcer, it is the most common disease affecting the small intestine of man."

Man Jumps From Empire State Building

NEW YORK (AP) — The man who plunged more than 1,000 feet to his death from the Empire State Building was a former mental patient, police say. Shaking off a guard, the man scaled an eight-foot barrier Monday and jumped from the observation deck on the 86th floor. His body barely missed dozens of pedestrians on 24th Street. He was George A. Frost, 33, a former radio operator on merchant ships. Police said he had worked recently as a porter and dishwasher and had lived in small hotels.

Everyone Agrees That Sonny Is A Terrifying Man

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Everyone is agreed on one thing: Sonny Liston, the heavyweight champion of the world, is a terrifying man.

He looks terrifying. He uses his big fists like clubs. Right now there doesn't appear to be anyone around who could even test him. Floyd Patterson, who was knocked out for the second time in the first round of a fight against Liston, looked terrified, almost dead when he got up the third time just before the end Monday night.

Patterson denied that he was afraid. "I was a little nervous," he said, but it wasn't convincing. "Even Cassius Clay went along with the horror act. When the brass young man who probably will fight Liston in Philadelphia in a match that could draw 50,000 entered the ring Monday night to be introduced, he first shook hands with Patterson, then looked across the ring at Liston and cringed in mock terror. He fled without greeting the champion. Liston himself, big, unsmiling, his face grim and unmarked, did nothing to spread sweetness and light after the fight. He was asked what he thought when the buzzer cleared the ring and the fight began. "It's him and me," he said. "It was a chilling thought."

The buzzer cleared the ring when he came into the ring—how did they affect him? "The public is not with me, I know, but they'll have to swing along with somebody comes to beat me."

There was only one surprise Monday night. Everyone had expected that if Patterson was promoted, he would retire from boxing, but he didn't.

"I feel I can make a better showing than I did tonight," said Patterson instead. "I want to prove it. I love boxing. If there was no money in it, I'd still be a fighter. Of course," he chuckled. "The money helps. But I feel terrible. I feel disgraced. I hoped I could go home like a champion. I still want to go home like a champion."

The talk around the ring after the fight was all centered on Clay. A lot of people would pay good money in the almost dead certainty that Liston would knock him out. Sept. 30 has been discussed as the date. "But Liston was contemptuous. 'Who's Clay,' he asked. 'I would take me about a round and a half to knock him out and a half round to knock him out,'" Liston summed up the fight this way. "The punch that started the fight was a left hook to the head—some of my hammering blows Liston landed on Patterson's head."

"I hit him harder in the other fight," he went on. The last time he was coming in to me. This time he was fading away."

If Patterson is determined to go on with boxing there is some expert opinion that holds he should quit the game. Two former champions, Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano, think he should pack it in. That's the way it stands. Liston by common consent scares everyone to death. Clay could draw an enormous crowd against Liston, just because he talks too much but no one seriously thinks he has a chance—Patterson has now been convincingly beaten twice.

Ed Olivares doubled to drive in San Antonio's winning run in the 16th. The maddish victory went to Jim Little, who took over in the ninth and held the Senators to one hit the rest of the way.

Jim Beauchamp blasted his 20th homer in the ninth to give Tulsa its victory over Amarillo. Relief pitcher Don Dennis got the decision.

Ed Pagan showed over three runs in the seventh and smothered Albuquerque rally in the ninth before a crowd of 5,389, largest of the year at Albuquerque.

Exhibition Football In Canadian League
MONTREAL (AP) — Fullback George Dixon and Don Clark each scored touchdowns Monday night to power the Montreal Alouettes to a 17-14 victory over the Edmonton Eskimos in an exhibition Canadian pro football game.

Johnny White, up from Houston of the American Football League, got two touchdowns for the Eskimos.

Wynn's Power Gives Punch To Colt .45s Tresh Homers As Yankees Pad Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
As Los Angeles leadoff batter Albie Pearson stepped into the batter's box to face New York right-hander Ralph Terry Monday night, the Yankee Stadium megalomaniac was in a mood to make a sixth finger.

Tresh batted in the 10th inning, scored 5 and has now on base a total of 17 times in this short span. His RBI rate, on base rate and slugging rate is by far the best on the 45s club.

The 170 pound muscular youngster drafted from the Cincinnati Reds for $60,000 is already getting rave reviews.

"I don't understand how you fellows got such a great one in that Wynn for just $60,000. It cost us $200,000 for some of my players and they can't even play for me," says New York Mets manager Casey Stengel.

"That kid at shortstop looks like a real live one," says general manager John Quinn of the Phillies.

"Wynn has great speed and a strong arm, but it's his quick wrists and great bat speed that really impresses you," says Houston manager Harry Crane.

Wynn has had just a year and a half of professional baseball but seems to improve with each year's classification of ball. In 1962, his first year in pro ball, Wynn hit .290 with 14 homers and 41 RBIs at Class D Tampa in the Florida State League. He made the jump to Class A San Antonio in the first half of 1963.

Wynn hit .292 with 16 homers and 52 RBIs before being brought to the majors.

He immediately began to hit major league pitching with the same authority and showed a .353 batting mark through his first 10 games.

"I've been pretty lucky so far," says the humble shortstop from Cincinnati, Ohio. "But I do feel confident I can hit big league pitching and I just hope I can help our club win the pennant this second half of the season."

The Colt .45s management hopes so too.

Houston fans will get an opportunity to test their first look at Wynn on Tuesday night, July 23, when the 45s open a 14-game home stand at 8:00 p.m. in Colt Stadium against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cassius Clay Unexpected Party Guest
By DAVID FARMER
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "This," announced lippy Cassius Clay, "was not a heavyweight championship fight. It was just an elimination to see who's going to fight me."

Clay, the noisy, unbeaten contender from Louisville, made the remark after putting in an unexpected appearance at Sonny Liston's victory-party Monday night, following the champion's one-round knockout of Floyd Patterson.

Clay said he showed up at the victory celebration "just to make him (Liston) mad."

He shouldered his way through the crowd to where Liston was sitting with some friends and told the massive champion: "You're just a sucker. My brother could have beaten Floyd Patterson."

Liston, in a rare burst of humor, invited.

"Come on over here and sit on my knee and finish your orange juice."

Some further words were exchanged and at one point Liston rose to his feet and assumed a mock fighting pose. Friends moved between them.

Clay stole much of the thunder from the fight even before it started.

Clay stepped into the ring while the announcer was introducing amateur boxers who were at ringside. The flaccid pose waved to the crowd and shook hands with Patterson.

Then he started for Liston with his hand out—but suddenly retreated in mock fear and bowed from the ring.

The crowd roared with laughter, but it didn't bring a smile to Liston's face.

After the knockout, Clay again dashed into the ring while part of the gallery chanted "We want Clay."

Somewhere showed Clay a fake newspaper that the Liston camp had held aloft after the victory. It read: "Clay has a big lip that Sonny will zip."

In exaggerated anger, Clay ripped the paper to shreds, talking all the while.

Clay well known as the Bard of boxing, showed some irritation at Liston's rhymed predictions of victory in their planned bout Sept. 30 in Philadelphia.

Piersall Released From Mets Floyd Flattened By The Big Bear

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Piersall, the sometimes perplexed and always personable center fielder, accepted his release by the New York Mets with only a slight trace of bitterness and vowed he would catch on with another big league club without losing a pay day.

"They certainly didn't hurt me by giving me my release," the colorful veteran, who will be 34 in November, said Monday night. "I don't expect any difficulty catching on with another big league club."

"I'm making some contacts now but under the rules no club can sign me before the three day waiver rule expires."

Piersall said he had no grievance against Mets manager Casey Stengel but was hurt by stories in New York papers that indicated his release was due to his clowning activities on the field before and during games.

All I did was try to help the club the best way I could and entertain the fans," Piersall said. "They never told me 'don't do this' or 'don't do that.' In fact, they told me how appreciative they were of me."

George Weiss, Mets general manager, said he was not sure if Piersall was a clown or a player.

"I've never told me 'don't do this' or 'don't do that.' In fact, they told me how appreciative they were of me."

Pony League Plays Tonight

The Snyder Pony League all-stars will be in a "do-or-die" situation tonight in Colorado City as they play the deciding game of a three game series with the CClays all-stars.

Game time is set for 8 o'clock.

Winner of this game will play a best-of-two series with the winner of the area tournament being conducted in Abilene this week. The teams in that tourney are Coleman County, Key City, American, and Abilene. This is a double-elimination tournament and will be completed Thursday night.

There was a short clinic and Patterson brought a cheer from his supporters when he hit Sonny with a shot to the jaw.

Sonny didn't blink an eye, and presently Floyd was down again. He was up at four, after getting the benefit of the 8-count.

Then came the finish as Sonny closed in with punches again to the body, and a right and a left hook to the chin.

Floyd was flipped over flat on his back. He rolled over and struggled to one knee at eight. Referee Harry Krause continued the final two counts and the win was over.

Liston's manager, Jack Nilon, said the Clay group of managers from Louisville, have been negotiating for a fight. A date of Sept. 30 at Philadelphia has been pinpointed for what doubtless will be a tremendous money attraction.

Liston has now won 28 straight fights and scored 25 knockouts in his 36 bouts. His only loss was back in 1954 in an eight-round when he lost a decision, and got a broken jaw, from an obscure man named Marty Marshall of Detroit.

Then came the finish as Sonny closed in with punches again to the body, and a right and a left hook to the chin.

Floyd was flipped over flat on his back. He rolled over and struggled to one knee at eight. Referee Harry Krause continued the final two counts and the win was over.

Liston's manager, Jack Nilon, said the Clay group of managers from Louisville, have been negotiating for a fight. A date of Sept. 30 at Philadelphia has been pinpointed for what doubtless will be a tremendous money attraction.

Liston has now won 28 straight fights and scored 25 knockouts in his 36 bouts. His only loss was back in 1954 in an eight-round when he lost a decision, and got a broken jaw, from an obscure man named Marty Marshall of Detroit.

There was a short clinic and Patterson brought a cheer from his supporters when he hit Sonny with a shot to the jaw.

Sonny didn't blink an eye, and presently Floyd was down again. He was up at four, after getting the benefit of the 8-count.

Morning Glory Lovers Defend Flower Against Outlawing

BY INEZ ROBB

It is just possible that a new political power complex, heretofore unacknowledged, is forming in the United States. Embattled morning-glory lovers of America may indeed determine who is the next President of the United States.

A dizzying number of Americans from every part of the nation have been writing and wiring in defense of the morning-glory since I wrote that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration is investigating the morning-glory seed as a possible narcotic source.

The burden of these messages is: "Don't Let The Government Outlaw The Morning-Glory." But the tremendous political possibilities, aside from the emotional shock in the issue had not occurred to me until I received a letter from a woman who is president of a garden club on Philadelphia's Main Line.

"Americans must unite to save this innocent and beloved vine from Federal molestation," she writes. "Admirers of the morning-glory are not going to sit idly by while it is outlawed because a few repulsive beatniks may chew its seeds with intoxicating or hallucinatory effects."

"We must prepare to act at once," she continues. "I am outlining a questionnaire that will demand of 1964 Presidential candidates their stand on the great morning-glory issue. What is President Kennedy's stance? Senator Goldwater, where do you stand, sir? Governor Rockefeller, are you with us or against us? Governor Romney, are you for or against the morning-glory? Scranton, speak up!"

"Gardeners should demand a pro-morning-glory plan in both party platforms."

Politicians take heed. We morning-glory aficionados may hold the balance of power in '64. An Ohio correspondent writes anxiously that the attack on the morning-glory may be only the beginning of an assault on the flower garden.

"Have you heard any rumors or reports of possible charges against the nasturtium?" she asks. "Has it yet fallen under suspicion? My family and I enjoy green nasturtium seeds in certain kinds of summer salads. My teen-age daughter occasionally has a pizza nightmare. And if my husband eats more than one pig's knuckle with sauerkraut, at a time, he often gets up in the middle of the night and takes bicarb.

"But so far, no hallucinations have followed a salad with nasturtium seeds. But I wouldn't want to risk jail if the seed is suspect."

(My own experience is that nasturtium seeds in salad may be used, but not in a salad with a near-sighted fellow to one who has 20-20 vision.

What the average high-priced modern hotel room needs is fewer reproductions of Picasso paintings and more books in the closet on which a fellow can hang his trousers.

One of the best health hints I ever heard of is the old proverb, "after dinner nap a while, after supper walk a mile."

Any man who spends more than one day a month betting at a racetrack is (1) a bachelor, (2) has an unhappy home life, or (3) is married to a gambling woman.

A modern wife is no longer completely essential to her husband the day he learns how to operate the electric can opener all by himself.

The most widely spoken foreign language in America is English—and it gets more foreign every year.

An optimist is a guy who opens every letter, shakes it out and waits for a check to fall out.

Some things you have to take on faith. That's why there is so much fine print in the average lease.

Judge Tells Of African Apartheid

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Federal Judge Thurgood Marshall said Monday South African apartheid is far worse than segregation in the United States. He is visiting here as President Kennedy's special envoy to East Africa.

"All American people unconditionally oppose apartheid and call upon everyone to do everything possible to eradicate this evil," he said.

Marshall said racial integration in the United States had been slow, but not as painfully slow as apartheid.

"We started late and we are trying to move as fast as we can," he said.

Khrushchev Talks With Indonesian

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev held talks with Indonesian Communist leader O. N. Aidit Monday night and gave a dinner in honor of Aidit and other Indonesian party officials visiting in Moscow.

SNYDER FIREMEN used a novel method to extinguish a fire Sunday afternoon north of Snyder. A low bridge carrying four tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad was on fire. Shown here is the plugging operation in which the ends of the bridge were closed by a bulldozer pushing dirt over the open area.

AFTER THE SPACE under the bridge was sealed off, Snyder firemen opened a hole in the top of the bridge, and are shown here flooding the space under the bridge, thus drowning the fire. This technique of fire-fighting is seldom possible, and is probably never taught at fire-fighting schools, but proved most effective in this case.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Comes August 18 and Mexico will have a Cooking Congress.

This is not like Congress in Washington which is always seeing what it can cook up for the tax payers. The culinary experts of the nation will gather to construct a tremendous collection of fodder which will be authentic and national. Things that date back to nobody knows when.

And like we were saying some time back, Mexican cuisine is the world's oldest. Number next is said to be Chinese.

Oh, I know the Neanderthals used to fry brontosaurus fillets and things like that in the cave man days. What I refer to is the recipe type food devised centuries ago.

One of the oldest testimonials to the Mexican kitchen was written by Bernal Diaz del Castillo who was a sort of soldier-reporter for Hernan Cortes in the conquest days.

And Mr. Diaz del Castillo gives a very appetizing account of what went on when he drifted into town with Cortes' troops in 1520.

One of the first things the Spaniards discovered after they deposited their baggage was that the Aztecs liked to eat. Diaz del Castillo reports that for an average sort of punch, the cooks would prepare more than 300 different dishes for Emperor Moctezuma.

A sort of Aztec smorgasbord. And Moctezuma would wander about looking over the platters with his food advisors who would suggest, "The pheasant on tortillas is excellent. Excellency."

"Wouldst thou care for a snack of southern fried eagle with possibly a side dish of hare in some special sauce?"

It says in Mr. Diaz del Castillo's account that the Emperor and his America's railroads have a portside "navy" of car floats, lighters, scows, tugboats and ferries which total some 1,300 vessels.

Connally Says Texans Are Being Pushed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Texas Gov. John Connally says compulsory integration of public accommodations "is stretching the public welfare clause too far."

In an interview Monday at the national governors' conference, he said there was "no question but what a majority of the people are against the public accommodation law in Texas."

Connally said the civil rights issue can be settled only by equal educational and economic opportunities. He said he will ask the governors to name a special committee to study education.

The Democratic governor differed with some of his Southern colleagues on the desirability of a conservative third party. "If it got on the ballot in Texas it certainly wouldn't get many votes," he said.

Nazi Leader Trial To Go Before Jury

EMPORIA, Va. (AP) — An October grand jury will consider charges that American Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell and 120 followers conspired to stir up racial violence here.

The cases of Rockwell, Roy James, 25, and Donald Willey, 21, all of Arlington, Va., were certified to the jury Monday after preliminary hearing in county court. They were arrested last Friday night as Rockwell prepared to speak in front of Town Hall.

Rockwell, who was freed on $1,500 bond, has been calling for a counter-march by white people to the proposed Aug. 28 march of civil rights advocates into Washington.

Kennedy Plan Takes 'Steam' From Dispute

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press—Texas Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy says his plan for settling the railroad dispute is intended to avoid compulsory arbitration. But the net effect in large measure could wind up being compulsory arbitration.

Nevertheless, an examination of the plan indicates it's a thought-out device for taking much of the steam out of the four-year long argument between the railroads and the unions.

Kennedy asked Congress Monday to pass a resolution giving the 11-man Interstate Commerce Commission authority to go over the whole dispute and give rulings which would stay in effect until the ICC could get the dispute settled.

Two bedroom homes for rent

Britain Gives Home Rule Of Colony

LONDON (AP)—Britain has granted complete home rule to her Central American colony, British Honduras.

A new constitution, unanimously agreed at a conference which opened Monday, will take effect Jan. 1, 1964.

The talks between British Honduran leaders and British government officials led by Colonial Secretary Duncan Sandys had been going on for 12 days.

Conference delegates said the new arrangements will leave management of British Honduras external and defense matters under London's control.

Elections for a two-chamber legislature are expected to take place by the end of the year.

Man Swept Over Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—
Police today were trying to identify a man who was swept over Horseshoe Falls Monday before about 150 horrified sightseers.

Witnesses told police the man, about 35 to 40 years old, waded into the upper rapids just above
Terrapin Point.

The body has not been recovered.

Two Killed In Crash

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—A head-on collision west of Port Arthur on Texas 73 Monday killed Mrs.
Helen Guider, 49, of Port Arthur and Linn Welch, 17, of Baytown.

Mrs. Guider's husband Joseph,
60, Port Arthur barber, was critically injured.

State patrolman James Moses said Welch, alone in his car, apparently was trying to pass an other vehicle when the collision occurred.

Marilyn Tells Jury Names Of Lovers

LONDON (AP)—Call girl Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies told the jury in the Stephen Ward vice trial today that her lovers included former actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Viscount Astor.

The 18-year-old blonde, associate of Christine Keeler took the stand with a confident smile on the second day of the trial of the society osteopath and his wife charged with running a stable of call girls for wealthy Londoners.

Earlier in the old Bailey Court two young women testified that Ward seduced them in the weekend cottage he rented on Lord Astor's Cliveden estate. There was no suggestion, however, that he turned them to prostitution.

Mandy testified that Ward introduced her to Lord Astor, 53, son of Virginia-born Nancy Lady Astor, and that Astor paid the rent on an apartment she shared with Christine from early January 1961 until March 2, 1961. But she said she did not have sexual intercourse with him until two years later.

Prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones asked if she was having intercourse with anyone at the flat.

She named Peter Rachman referring to a property racketeer who died last year, Douglas Fairbanks and a boy friend.

Asked if she was paid by anyone, she replied: "No, except Peter Rachman. He kept me. I had a special allowance."

Fairbanks, 53, is the son of the late silent film star and himself a former Hollywood actor. He has lived in England for many years.

Mandy said the arrangements for payment of the rent on the apartment were made between Astor and Ward.

Justice Sir Archie Marshall asked Mandy where she met Lord Astor.

"At Cliveden," said Mandy, in January 1961. She was 16, then and had been in London three months, working at a club known as Murray's where she met Christine.

She said Christine had introduced her to Ward and Rachman. Griffith-Jones asked Mandy if Ward ever spoke of marrying her.

"Yes, He said we ought to get married some time."

"Did he say how you would live and where you would get married from?"

"Well, he had a good practice and said he had friends everywhere."

Justice Marshall put in a question: "Why should a friend be financially helpful to him?"

The judge then asked: "If you were to receive financial help from such a person what was to be the quid pro quo?"

Mandy obviously didn't know the Latin phrase—meaning something in return, or tit for tat—and looked puzzled.

Justice Marshall repeated it: "What were you to give for what you were getting financially?"

"Oh, sex, I suppose," she replied.

The judge asked if she had any doubts and if she resolved them very quickly.

She laughed and replied: "Yes."

"It is no laughing matter," admonished the judge.

Mandy said she went to live with Rachman in the spring of 1961 and parted with him in October, 1962.

She had intercourse with others during that period in a London flat rented by Ward, she said, "but I was not given money by anyone else, even when I had intercourse."

Turning to the prisoner's dock, Mandy smiled at the 50-year-old osteopath and said, "He had lots of friends."

One of the friends was an Indian doctor, she said.

"Stephen asked why not let the doctor come around and see me and take me out some time."

He said: "He is a very rich man and wants to use your room because he has got a girl friend and it is difficult for him to take her anywhere."

Ward, Mandy continued, said the doctor had given him $70 and asked whether it would be all right for the doctor to come around to the flat and bring his girl friend.

Mandy said Ward added, "If you like the doctor, why let his girl friend go out with him? Why don't you go out with him?"

"I said, Mandy replied, "I would like to see him again and he came round the next day."

She said she had sexual intercourse with the Indian doctor for about one and a half weeks and "then I was fed up."

"How much did he give you?"

"It depended. He bought me a tape recorder which cost $70."

The judge asked what were the smallest and largest amounts he gave.

She said the least was $42 and the most $70.

Griffith-Jones asked: "Did he hand it to you or leave it for you?"

"He left it anywhere, on the dressing table or somewhere."

Griffith-Jones asked whether Mandy had intercourse with other men in the flat. That was when she named Lord Astor.

She said Ward was at the flat on one occasion.

"Did you regard it as normal," the judge asked, "that Ward should be in the flat when you were having intercourse with men in the bedroom?"

"Yes," said Mandy.

She testified she was not paid by Lord Astor or anyone else other than the Indian doctor.

LUNCH TIME FOR CHRISTINE AND MANDY — Christine Keeler, right, and Mandy Rice-Davies sit in a cab as they leave London's Old Bailey court at lunch-time recess. Part of the crowd that gathered around them is reflected in the window of the taxi. The girls are witnesses for the prosecution in the trial of Dr. Stephen Ward. The doctor is charged on five counts of living off the immoral earnings of prostitutes. It is alleged that Christine and Mandy lived in a flat with him and that he procured for them. (AP Wirephoto)

An Advantage To Being A Bachelor

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—The City Council Monday night lifted a $10 poll tax assessed against bachelors.

A bylaw which for years extracted the money from bachelors not living in self-contained units will be repealed Jan. 1.

The council agreed unanimously that the tax was a relic of the past and wasn't worth the collection bother. The tax had produced about $18,500 yearly.

Nortex Tells Of Acquiring Slant Wells

DALLAS (AP)—Prospects for profit went glimmering, Nortex Oil & Gas Corp. President James Wendover testified Monday, when his firm discovered it had acquired 12 slanted wells in East Texas.

He was the principal Nortex witness in a $5,761,568 damage suit against Ebro oil Co., taken over and absorbed by Nortex in 1960.

The case could be the first in a complicated series of legal maneuvers.

Nortex seeks to establish the liability of Ebro so it then may sue individual Ebro stockholders for Nortex stock and debentures paid in the merger transaction.

Wendover said Nortex was operating with a monthly profit margin of $150,000 until last year's slant hole oil well scandal developed in East Texas, and $50,000 of this amount came from the wells in question.

We found out that they would produce only $10,000 a month if they were operated legally," he said.

Detailing the transaction between Nortex and Ebro, Wendover testified he negotiated with Ebro's president W. O. Davis and secretary Bruce Cunningham on the basis that all the wells were producers as represented.

Nortex claims Ebro committed fraud by concealing the amount of oil which could be produced legally from the leases, the value of the leases and the slant hole circumstance.

Wendover estimated the total Nortex possibly could recover through complicated legal maneuvers is $1,300,000.

Nortex brought criminal action first against Ebro and Davis through the Dallas district attorney's office. A justice of the peace dismissed the charges for lack of evidence after a hearing.

Wendover told reporters Nortex has since settled its differences with Davis. He did not specify the terms.

At the time the situation was made public, Davis was production contractor operating the wells under another corporate name.

Nortex estimates the 12 deviated wells slanted as much as 82 degrees and bottomed as much as 3,600 feet to one side of the wellheads.

Pickets Want Negro Help Hired By Bar

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Tavern owner Nick Nazar sat alone inside his bar Monday night while a number of his Negro customers picketed in front of the small, neighborhood drinking spot.

The pickets, 50 Negroes who want Nazar to hire a Negro bartender, described themselves as customers of the tavern and not affiliated with any integration group.

"We got to thinking," said one picket, Rose Boyd, 29, "if they won't hire colored help, we won't buy here."

Nazar commented: "I don't need any more help. What do they want me to do, fire myself?"

"I only have a little place here," Nazar said. "Me and my wife, Mary, run it and I only have one man. I've had him for two years."

Charles Wilcox, 32, said that "over the years we've been asking him (Nazar) to hire a Negro bartender or any colored help."

The demonstrators formed outside the bar, Mary's Tavern, at 9 p.m. Five hours later, Nazar closed for the night and the pickets left.
