G.T. Stephens, Longtime Quail Leader Dies

George T. Stephens, a member of the Quail School Board that in the mid-1930s was responsible for the consolidation of a number of small districts into the Quail Rural High School District, died in Hall County Hospital, Memphis Sunday, April 2. He had been in ill health several years.

He was 79 years old and had lived in Collingsworth County 71 of those years.

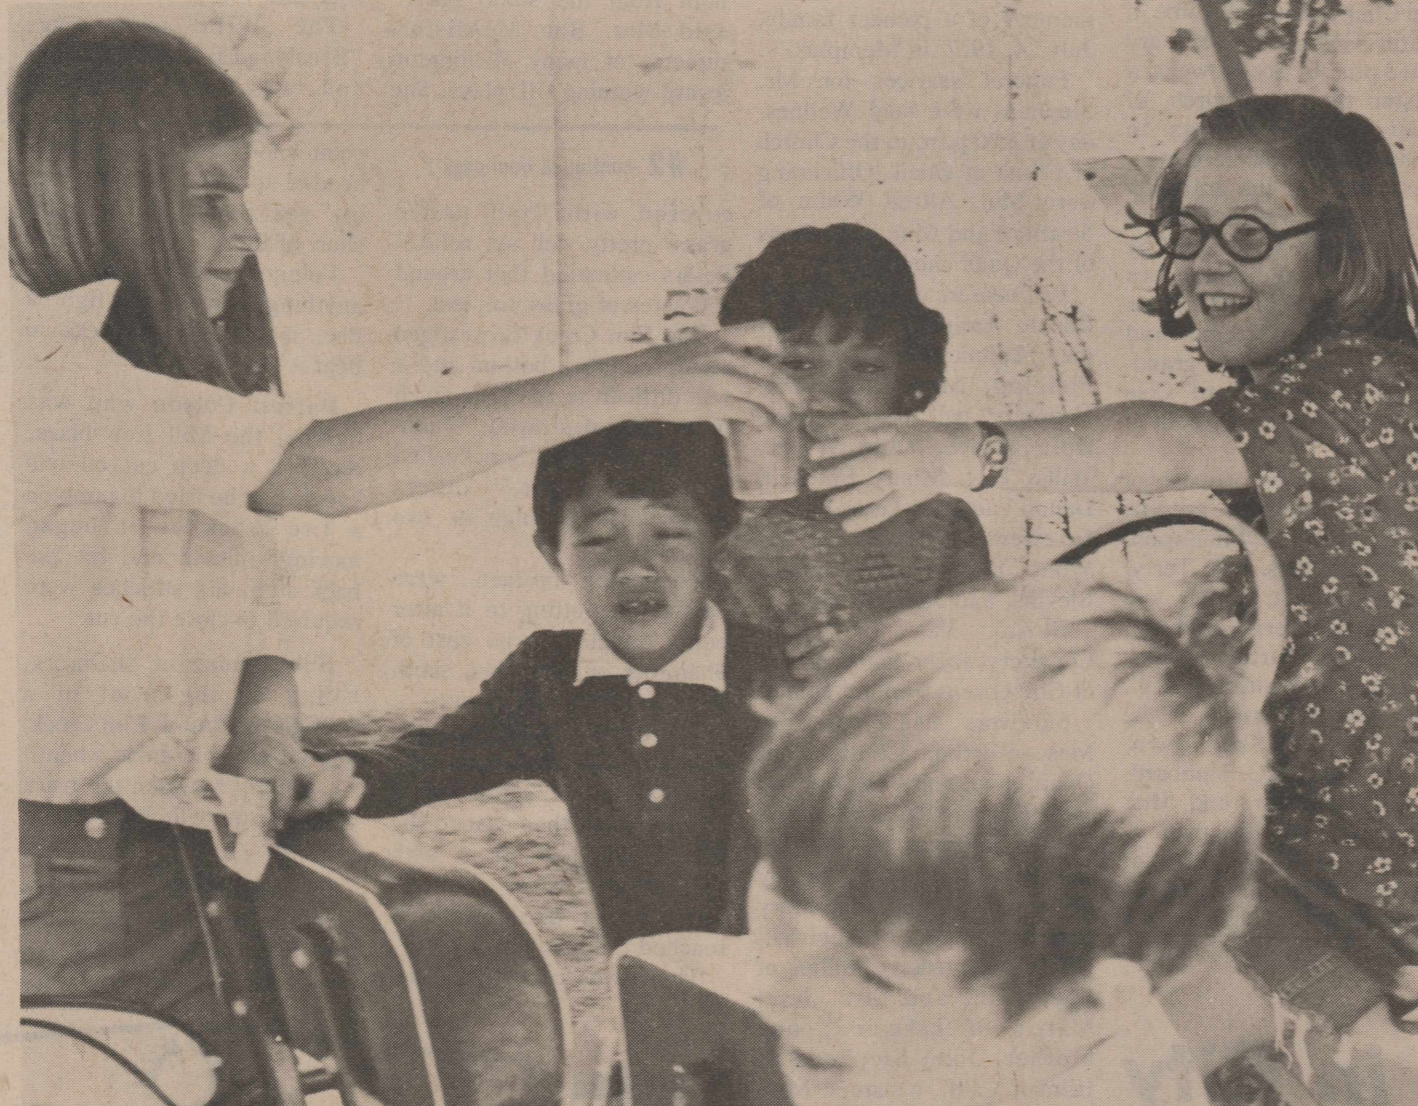

Mr. Stephens served two two-year terms, 1942 to 1946, as commissioner of Precinct 3, which then included approximately the southwest one-fourth of the county. His service spanned almost all of World War II. Although it had a heavy burden of problems, the commissioners court looked beyond to years of peace and Mr. Stephens was one of the four men who voted the first post-war road improvement project that brought surfaced FM roads to each part of the county.

Only a few years ago Mr. Stephens recalled how he and the other two members of the Quail School board drove every road in the west part of the county, no matter how deep the sand, to urge school consolidation. Their work was effective and consolidation carried. This was mid-way in both depression and drought, yet Quail area had its largest population. A few years later, Mr. Stephens saw the school he helped establish enroll around 600 students.

For so many years that he lost count, Mr. Stephens was election judge at Quail.

He was a member and elder of the Church of Christ, and for more than 25 years, he belonged to the Masonic Lodge, until it moved from Quail.

SPRING BREAK

These youngsters in southeast Wellington took advantage of the spring school break to set up a cold drink stand in a Jeep parked at curbside. Deeda Seal hands Robi Lu Mabery a cup to give to a customer. Other workers were Reginald Perez, Freinde Perez, and at front, Derek Seal.

First Funnel Clouds Sighted Monday

The storm season came early to Collingsworth this year, with confirmed sightings of small twisters that touched the ground Monday, April 2. These were on a direct line between Quail and Samnorwood, and the cloud from which they were seen to drop went on a northeasterly course across open country.

The three county schools were notified by the Sheriff's Department. Wellington was out of the storm path, and students of Quail School, who should have been the most jittery of all, were on their spring break.

Samnorwood students were quickly evacuated to the storm cellar on campus.

First sightings were in the Quail area, and the Sheriff's Department and Fire Department were notified. Wellington had its first storm alert of the season.

Bill Lindsey, who was plowing in the Lillie community, reported seeing one twister as it hit Salt Fork River. There were other confirmed reports of sightings south of the river.

North of Salt Fork, Tom

Cunningham of the Plymouth community reported a definite sighting of a funnel that had touched the ground.

At Samnorwood there were two sightings of twisters to the west, possibly in the vicinity of Salt Fork.

North of Lutie, a Highway Department employee reported what he thought was smoke rising several miles away to the southwest. This is now believed to have been one of the funnels sighted west of Norwood.

All members of the Sheriff's Department and Department of Public Safety were stationed to the west and north of town on storm alert.

Sheriff John Rainey said a hard rain fell west of Quail and P.P. Fielding reported .7 at Quail. It rained for about 10 minutes at Samnorwood.

There was an unconfirmed report of a funnel that touched ground near Quail Tuesday night as heavy rain clouds approached.

The rain was general in the southern part of the county, varying from one-half to three-fourths inch. Only a shower was reported at Samnorwood and in reports from the northeast part of the county.

After Monday afternoon storm clouds had passed, one comment was heard a number of times: "It looks like we're going to have a long summer."

Lightning Sets Fire In Two Ranch Areas

Two grass fires set by lightning burned simultaneously in different parts of the county Saturday, April 1, destroying several hundred acres of grass. In a third community, lightning ignited a hay stack.

Two men fighting the fires were injured.

Firefighting units from Shamrock and McLean were called to help.

The first fire was set about noon as a thunder cloud passed along Elm Creek about five miles east of highway US 83.

The blaze started on the W.H. Walker land and firemen fought until 4:30, according to Ed Schaffner, Shamrock Fire Chief.

Another grass fire was set by lightning a little farther east, but this was put out by a brief hard shower accompanied by small hail in a limited area.

The other major fire started about 2:00 p.m. at the boundary of the Mill Iron Ranch and Kelly Pigg farm 5 miles east and one north of Wellington, Fire Chief David Peters said. Firemen brought a rural unit from Elm Creek, then road supervisor Chester White and Earl Parker brought in county maintainers to help contain the fire.

"The maintainers did more good than anything," Peters said. He described the area as

Farmers Co-op Dividends Top $600,000 Figure

When the Farmers Co-operative Society No. 1 closes its 51st annual meeting Saturday, April 8, it will have put more than one-half million dollars in circulation in the community.

It is paying the largest cash dividend to members in its history--$639,389.41, after ginning the largest number of bales in its half century and one year. That is just under

The stockholders meeting will be held at 2:00 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center.

The guest speaker at this year's meeting will be a representative of the Plains Cotton Co-op at Lubbock, who will explain the Telcot system of marketing cotton, and also the means by which farmers can contract their cotton over Telcot, Johnson said.

Farmers Co-op has two Telcot viewers in its office.

In brief, forward contracting by Telcot enables a farmer to put a designated number of acres in "firm offer," whereby he says how much over the loan rate he will contract his cotton for. The process is much the same as a "firm offer" by a farmer offering to sell cotton just ginned, Glasgow explained.

Buyers look over the contracted acre offer, and if he wants it he makes an offer.

New directors will be elected and after the membership meeting, the board will organize and elect officers. The present board includes Dan Henard, Jr., president; Louis Alred, vice-president; C.G. Lewis, Secretary-treasurer; Carl Wischkaemper, Jerol Morris, Richard Fourmentin and Troy Thomason. Mr. Johnson is assistant secretary and Mr. Glasgow assistant treasurer.

Glasgow gave other figures that point to this as a banner year for the Co-op.

The dividends paid Saturday represent $19.33 per bale on the average. It will vary if a grower didn't sell his cottonseed or didn't sell his cotton through the gin.

Besides the money paid in dividends, the gin retained $50,000 as a good business practice.

"Our payroll in the last year was $348,518.81," Glasgow said. The rebates and the salaries account for almost $1 million put into the economy of the county.

Then there is the additional money for fuel, parts, supplies bought locally. The gin paid $57,000 for trucking this year's crop to the Memphis Compress, he added.

"Many people think we don't pay taxes," he continued. "We paid over $34,000 to income taxes, ad valorem taxes and payroll taxes during the last year." The Co-op year runs from March 1 to March 1.

In the course of handling this year's record crop, the gin ran day and night for 74 consecutive days, from the day it got behind with ginning until the day it caught up, according to Johnson.

"We'd have been in a bad fix without the old plant," Glasgow said. On March 1, when the gin's fiscal year ended, the Co-op had ginned 34,575 bales. That is the figure it will show for the season. Enough cotton was brought in after that to raise the figures to just under 35,000 bales actually ginned.

Although the gin is closed for the season, part of the crew remains on the payroll the year around and spends the summer repairing the plants.

A Samuel Jackson humidifier will be installed in each gin to kill static and cut down the hazard of flash fires. The cost of these will be $7,900 each, Johnson said.

Wellington Hosts 2-A Tennis Tournament April 11 and 12

The District 2-A UIL tennis tournament returns to Wellington for 1978 competition Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11 and 12.

All matches will be on Ellison Park Courts, starting at 8:30 a.m. both days. There will be two divisions, varsity and freshman, with boys and girls doubles and singles in each. Coach Ronnie Glenn, tournament director, said.

Because a few entries were still out Tuesday evening, the brackets had not been drawn, Glenn said.

Under UIL rules, students cannot play in more than three matches a day. All preliminary games, therefore, will be played Tuesday and the finals are scheduled Wednesday. These probably will be finished by noon, according to Glenn.

Holding the Class A tournament spotlight will be Texas No. 1 schoolgirl player--Sonja Hutcherson of Memphis. After winning the girls single title here a year ago, when she was only a freshman, Hutcherson went on to win the state title.

She started her sophomore year in top form by winning the girls singles of the AA-A-B division of the fourth annual Amarillo Girls relays Tennis Tournament. Here, she picked up where she left off a year ago, but this time she dispatched all her opponents in straight sets, losing only 9 games in 5 matches. In part of these matches, wind hogged the show.

Hutcherson is not the only fine player Memphis will bring, for the Cyclone has two strong girls doubles teams.

Wellington is not to be put down. Debra Norris will represent her school and Coach Glenn considers her one of the top 2-A players. "If she plays up to her ability, she ought to make it to the regional," he said. First and second places are qualified for region.

Wellington will not have a girls doubles team.

The boys classes are less clear-cut. Memphis has put its two best boys into a doubles team, and Shamrock has done the same. These four boys competed in the singles last year.

Clarendon has a strong doubles team which won the freshman division year before last.

Wellington's No. 1 boys singles player is Carl Taylor. It was to be determined Tuesday afternoon if Stacy Urban or Lyn Hurst will be the second player in the singles or if the two will enter as a doubles team. If they are not in the doubles, Wellington will not be represented in that class.

There will be three Wellington players in the freshman division, Sandy Morris in the girls singles and Scott Ingram and Clint Bergvall in the boys singles.

Representative Candidates Due At FU Rally

Three candidates for State Representative from the 66th District will square off Friday, April 14 in a Collingsworth County Farmers Union candidate rally at 7:30 p.m. in the Bura Handley Community Building.

Democrats Glenn Conrad and Foster Whaley and Republican Bill Hale have agreed to participate, Kirby Campbell, FU president, said. Candidates for other offices have been invited.

The meeting will be open to the public.

A pie and cake auction will be held in conjunction with the rally, Campbell said.

House-Senate Committee Opens Way For Higher Loan, Target Prices

The House-Senate conference committee passed out legislation Tuesday that would raise loan rates and target prices for wheat, grain sorghum, corn and cotton and sent the bill to both houses for approval.

The bill provides for a sliding scale under which farmers would be eligible for higher target prices if they take more acres out of production--up to 100 percent of parity if they idle 50 percent of their acres.

U.S. Representative Jack Hightower said "I am pleased that the conference committee has approved a form of flexible parity. I am very disappointed that the bill is only for one year, though. And I feel that the specified loan rate was very low."

"I hope everyone will write the President and urge him to sign the legislation," Hightower said. Hightower's legislative aide Claiborn Crain told The Wellington Leader that the Senate might take up the bill as early as Friday and the House on Monday.

Crain listed the following major provisions of the bill:

Wheat-sets the loan rate at $2.55 per bushel; target prices of $3.50 per bushel for 20 percent set aside; $4.25 per bushel for 35 percent set aside; and full parity of $5.04 per bushel for 50 percent set aside.

Corn-sets the loan rate at $2.25 per bushel; and target prices of $2.40 per bushel for 10 percent set aside; $3.05 per bushel for 35 percent set aside; and full parity of $3.45 per bushel for 50 percent set aside.

Grain sorghum loan rates and target prices will be tied to an index of wheat and corn prices, but exact figures were not available.

Cotton-sets the loan rate at 48 cents per lb.; and target prices of 60 cents per lb. for 0 to 20 percent set aside; 72 cents per lb. for 35 percent set aside; and full parity of 84 cents per lb. for 50 percent set aside.

Two other provisions encourage the development of the use of grains for making fuel, sometimes known as gasahol, and increased the borrowing authority of the Commodity Credit Corporation which provides loans for commodities going into the loan program and loans to countries which qualify for export programs.

Incumbent, 2 New Trustees Elected

One incumbent was returned and two new trustees were elected by Wellington Independent School District voters Sunday, April 1.

Kirby Campbell was elected to a regular term by a vote of 207. This is his first time to serve on the board. Frank Coleman, the only incumbent running, was returned for another regular term. He received 203 votes.

Harold Wayne Moore was elected to fill the one-year unexpired term, a place that had been vacant for several months.

Six candidates sought regular terms. Other candidates included Earl Lynn Bartlett, 193 votes; Robert Powell, 174; Rodney Kane, 108 and Bill Lindsey, 53.

Other candidates for the short term were Paul Spillman 139 and Denzil Lacy 117.

Ag Movement Considers A Man in Washington

American Agriculture will discuss farm legislation now before the House and Senate and will consider collecting money to keep full-time representatives in Washington at a meeting at 8:00 p.m. Friday, April 7 at the Greenbelt Electric Directors Room.

Texas American Agriculture supporters are asking farmers to donate $100 each to a trust fund that would be used to keep a farmer in Washington full-time to "keep the pressure on the Congress and the President," Denzil Lacy, an American Ag supporter said. "If 1,000 farmers donate to the trust fund, the program will go into effect," he said. If the goal of 1,000 farmers is not reached, checks will be returned to donors.

In other American Agriculture activities, 3,000 farmers are currently in Washington lobbying for passage of the Emergency Farm Act which cleared the House-Senate conference committee on Tuesday. No Collingsworth County farmers are in that group, however.

Lacy said that Collingsworth County American Agriculture supporters were urging citizens to write or telegram the President in favor of passage of the farm legislation. "Passage of the farm bill would benefit the economy and everyone in Collingsworth County," Lacy said.

Hospital Renews 1-Year Contract with Dr. Perez

Collingsworth General Hospital Board at regular board meeting Monday, April 3, extended for one year its contract with Dr. Reynaldo Perez under which the hospital district provides his office with services and facilities to "promote the general health and welfare of the citizens of the district."

The board voted unanimously for the contract which specifies that the district shall furnish Dr. Perez with office space, equipment and staff and pay one-half of his professional liability insurance. The contract runs from April 1, 1978 to April 1, 1979. The agreement is contingent upon Dr. Perez maintaining "proper medical credentials" and "residence within the hospital district."

In other action the board voted unanimously to turn over $2,539.36 in bad debts to a collection agency.

The board also discussed but took no action on the possibility of contracting with a respiratory care firm that would provide respiratory therapy for the hospital's patients. The firm would employ a technician who would live in Collingsworth County and would provide all equipment.

Administrator Charles Floyd told the board that changes had been completed in the surgical suite's electrical system that brought it into complete compliance with the Life Safety Code under which the hospital operates.

The board also heard a report that the hospital census for March averaged 12.35 patients.

Terry Lee Cole Dies in Accident

Terry Lee Cole, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Cole of Rt. 1, Panola Road, in Ellenwood, Georgia, was killed instantly in an automobile accident on February 10.

Taylor also reported that he and several city employees are working after regular hours to build greens at the new golf course. Five were completed last week, and shaping the greens will be completed this week.

On questioning, he said the men receive pay for this overtime work from the city and the city is reimbursed by the Wellington Country Club.

WHS One Act Play Wins

Wellington's entry in the UIL One Act Play contest was named one of the two "advancing plays" at Clarendon Tuesday, April 4.

Then came an unprecedented honor: both the best actor and best actress were picked from the WHS cast. They were Allen Murcock and Kandi Ford.

"It is rare for judges to pick both from the same play," said Mrs. Bob McAlister, director of many Wellington award-winning UIL plays. She explained that the top two plays are designated "advancing plays" without indicating which is first and which is second. Wellington and Claude will represent District 2-A in the area contest at Wayland College, Plainview Friday, April 14. The Clarendon entry was picked as the alternate should either of the winners be unable to compete.

The WHS entry was "Breaking Up Is Hard to Do," and was seen by home audiences on the Night of One-Act Plays.

It tells the story of three couples in three age groups who find it hard to break up. Both Murdock and Miss Ford had the roles of the elderly couple.

Others in the cast were Dickie Moore, Roy Cardwell, Kathy Mote, Kelly Ferguson, Susan Kimbro and Lyn Hurst.

Stage crew members were Carol Ann Daves, T.J. Roberson and Chuck Darter.

covered with "tall native grass, pretty well set solid." Peters estimated that around 150 acres of grass was lost.

The Elm Creek fire raged along the creek bottom and it was difficult to tell how much grass was destroyed, Shamrock firemen said. Some called it "quite a bit," others estimated it as high as two sections.

Wellington firemen were delayed in getting to it after being directed to go east of Shamrock on I-40, then south into the Elm Creek country.

The driver of one firefighting unit who knew the area went north of Lutie on a country road, then east to the fire. Wellington's truck with the largest water capacity blew out a tire before it reached the fire.

There was concern at one point when the blaze appeared headed toward some producing gas wells, but stopped short of them.

Volunteers appeared with anything available to fight a fire, including tow sacks to beat it out.

Darrell Colson who was fighting the Mill Iron blaze, received a deep cut on one knee when he tried to jump on a fire truck as it began moving, missed and hit the back step. Six stitches were required to close the cut.

Billy Bonner of Shamrock, riding on the front of a firefighting unit at Elm Creek, injured his right ankle when it was caught between the truck and a mesquite limb they were passing.

Firemen had to stop work to take him to the hospital, and reported the blaze almost got out of hand while they were away. Bonner was released from the hospital Monday morning.

Lightning struck a haystack 100 yards from where Mrs. Dudley Coleman and her son Le Ed were planting a garden west of Samnorwood about 2 p.m. Saturday.

The stack, which was about 75 yards from her house, burst into flames and Mrs. Coleman called the Shamrock fire department. A unit which had been fighting the Collingsworth County grass fire answered the call.

Additional Siren Approved in City

A new siren will be installed in the extreme southwest part of town so it can be heard by people living in that area.

This action was taken on a unanimous vote of the City Council Monday night, April 3, after Carroll Nunnelley had complained to members that he and his neighbors are unable to hear the present siren when it is sounded. This was true, he said, of the storm alert Monday afternoon.

Although there are two sirens already in the south part of town, people have complained for several years they cannot hear them if they are in their houses with doors closed. These complaints grow as the storm season begins. Some come from people as close as two blocks to the sirens.

Councilmen discussed possible reasons: prevailing winds from the southwest, better insulation in the newer homes over much of this area, television use, and others. Two councilmen who live in the south part of town said they couldn't hear them either.

The two sirens, one in the Cocks Addition and the other at the school, will remain when the new one is in place. Motion to install the siren was made by Tom Wilkins and seconded by Lyndon Crelia.

Members canvassed the city election held April 1, and noted that 478 votes were cast.

Again council members were unanimous in approving a $500 chain link fence and $250 in new concrete work at Marian Airpark Ball Park, which was agreed to in the March 20 meeting. Wayne Cudd made this motion and Tom Wilkins seconded it.

Dismissal of a $120 paving lein against the property of Gladys and Durwood Downs, dating from 1956, was approved. Although the lein is mentioned in the property deed, it is not recorded with either the city or county. It is one of the series of paving leins that periodically comes before the council as property owners seek to clear title. These are dismissed if it cannot be determined whether it has been paid.

In discussing day to day work at the landfill, Councilman Wayne Cudd suggested that a different type vehicle be used to move garbage in order to cut down on the cost tires cut by running over debris.

Trash, uprooted dead trees, and other large debris are piled high at various points in northeast Wellington and arrangements are being made

Running Gun, Ghost Riders Win YH Volleyball Tourney

Friday night, the Renegades defeated the Six-Shooters, Ghost Riders won over the Gangbusters, and the Chargers won over Quail men.

Spring Auction Slated Here April 14-15

Announcement of the spring consignment sale, with Cruce and Long as auctioneers, was made this week, to be held April 14 and 15, according to E.S. Hale, Jr., local coordinator. The location will be the Co-op Gin Yard on Highway 203 east of Wellington.

Included in the auction will be farm machinery, shop equipment, and many other items.

Buyers are expected from several states, and consignments will come from throughout the local area as well as western Oklahoma. Those needing help in unloading equipment should contact Mr. Hale, as a winch truck will be furnished, he said.

This is scheduled to be one of the largest auctions held in the eastern Panhandle this spring, Cruce said.

Cruce and Long hold auctions throughout the Panhandle and South Plains, Southwestern Oklahoma, and through the Oklahoma Panhandle and into Kansas, James G. Cruce said this week.

In addition to farm machinery and equipment, the company also handles livestock and real estate auctions.

UNIFORMS THROUGH THE YEARS

These are as many different uniforms worn by the Wellington High School Band as can be located. After the high school band had worn each issue for several years, they were handed down to the junior high band which wore them more years. At left is the current uniform, and the others, with approximate date of purchase were 1962, 1941 (these had a pair of red pants and a pair of blue pants), 1936 and 1930. When the band was organized, school colors were black and gold.

You can make a delicious side dish by chopping leftover lima beans and mixing them with corn, peas, fresh carrots and radishes. Add a little French or Russian dressing or sour cream and season with herbs.

Whaley Opposes State Income Corporation Tax

Foster Whaley, Democratic candidate for 66th district State Representative, spoke Friday, March 24 to a group of supporters and answered questions on state issues.

Whaley said he would oppose state income and corporation taxes. "I think one of the reasons Texas is growing is that we have no state income or corporate income tax," Whaley said. But Whaley said he realized that if court rulings that the ad valorem tax is unconstitutional are upheld, then some other form of taxes will have to be found to finance the schools.

Whaley said he was opposed to the Equal Rights Amendment, and that he would introduce legislation for Texas to rescind its ratification.

He said he opposed any gun control laws and supported Texas "right to work" laws.

Whaley said he would suggest the state and federal government put more money into wind and solar energy

Foster Whaley, candidate for state representative from the 66th District, will appear on Hot Line to Politics over Channel 7, Sunday, April 9, at 1:00 p.m.

Whaley was a county agent for 26 years in Armstrong and Gray counties and has received the distinguished service award from the National Association of County Agents in 1968 and was named by the national magazine "Farm Technology" as one of the top 10 county extension agents in the nation in 1967.

The First Band Uniform Comes Home

When Bob Willoughby of Uvalde, a member of the first Wellington High School Band, came for its 50th anniversary March 18, he brought the uniform he wore—the first band ever had.

It wasn't red and white—it was a black wool cape lined with gold satin. Those were the first colors of the Skyrockets. His mother, the late Mrs. Homer Willoughby of Greenville had the cape packed away.

He gave it to the band, which had lost all hope of locating one.

"This is a highlight in my life," he said of the banquet and visiting with friends over the week end. His wife accompanied him.

Willoughby has returned only a few times since he graduated in 1931, and that for only a day or two. The last was to attend the funeral of a brother about 1950.

He liked Wellington's appearance, but he was quick to note that many of the farm homes are vacant and falling down.

"The highways have changed the looks of the country. It took us nearly an hour yesterday to find the house where we lived east of town," he said. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long drove the Willoughbys over the country.

Willoughby has farming, ranching, banking and investment properties in and near Uvalde.

It was different when he left Wellington to attend Decatur Baptist College.

"I carried everything I had in a 98 cent suit case and I had $2.00 in my pocket, and that was in change," he remembers. The depression had settled over the country.

After two years, he transferred to St. Mary's University in San Antonio and later coached there a year.

"I went with General Motors in 1937. They made me an offer I couldn't turn down. $115 per month, a car and an expense account. I couldn't think of ways to spend all that money," he remembered. He was stationed at Corpus Christi and Victoria and Alice, where he met his wife, the former Floy Davis.

By the time he was 25, he was a branch manager. He began to look around. Most of the branch managers were men of 45 or 50 years.

"We didn't have the Equal Opportunity Act. The company paid the older men more than they did me. It furnished them Cadillacs. It gave me a Chevrolet," said Willoughby. The upshot was, he quit.

He was already raising hogs on the week end with his father-in-law, now he became a full time hog raiser."

In 1942, a new irrigation project was opening 22 miles south of Uvalde—the famous Winter Garden area. Willoughby and his father-in-law got in on the ground floor and Davis bought a thousand acres.

In 1948, Davis and four other men built the first gin in the Winter Garden area and started raising cotton. "They let me pick the site," Willoughby quipped. Davis was the first president. His grandson, Robert B. Willoughby, Jr., is the current president.

Bob Willoughby owns 1648 acres of irrigated land in the Winter Garden and several hundred acres of dry land for farming and pasture 1.6 miles out of Uvalde.

He grew the first hybrid corn in the Winter Garden for Watson Seed Co. And when one of its representatives came by to look it over, it was Maurice Dickson, from Wellington.

The Willoughbys added more investment properties and in 1972 began buying bank stock. Now, Bob and Floy Willoughby are the largest individual stockholders in the Uvalde Bank. Their children and grandchildren own additional stock.

His competitor one block down the street is the Bank, in which Governor Dolph Briscoe is the principal stockholder.

"We are competing with one of the most modern, most beautiful banks in the country. Until you have seen it, you haven't seen a bank. It's a monument to Dolph Briscoe," said Willoughby. He speaks highly of this competitor, whom he has supported in his races for governor.

Cotton and corn are Willoughby's principal crops, and he is growing them on some of the richest land in Texas. "We could make three to three and one-half bales (per acre) if we wanted to; but on the last half bale, you don't make anything."

"We shoot for a bale and a half or two bales. That's where we make the most money, with expenses like they are," he said.

He recalled a cotton crop in Collingsworth he planted on the fourth of July. "It was the best cotton crop we made while I lived here."

The Willoughbys feed cattle, using commercial feedlots. He also trades on the commodities market.

"I have served on one or everyone of the boards, such as ASC and Soil Conservation District, in the three counties of Jim Wells, Uvalde and Zavala," he said. During the late 1940s and early 1950s, he helped to organize Farm Bureau in a 15 to 20 county area.

He was a charter member of the Southwest Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is a deacon in Uvalde First Baptist

The Willoughbys have two children, Judith Ann Knight, who is in the trust department of the Frost National Bank in San Antonio, and R.B. Jr. a partner with his father in the two family companies, R.B. Willoughby and Son. There are four grandchildren.

Willoughby believes there is still opportunity in this country for everyone who is willing to go after it and put plenty of hard work into it.

"In 1931, I bought the Saturday Evening Post. It cost a nickel and you got a thick magazine. J.P. McAvoy had an editorial every week, and once he said:

"Don't spend money on things you don't need to impress people you don't like." That may be corny but I think it's pretty good advice. I've tried to live by it."

It has paid off for Wellington's Bob Willoughby.

Two former families live at Uvalde—The Charles Griffins and the R.E. Byroms. Both men were with the ASC office in Wellington and Griffin married the former Dorothy D. McDowell. He operates grain elevators and other enterprises. Bryom is superintendent of Uvalde Schools.

Conrad Describes Work in Guatamala

Glenn Conrad, Democratic candidate for State Representative from the 66th District, told Wellington Kiwanis Club Friday, March 31 that his experience as a Peace Corps volunteer in Guatemala made him proud to be an American.

Conrad served on the south coast of Guatemala from 1965 through 1967 after a period of rigorous training in the United States. The training included such diverse items as slaughtering chickens, rock climbing and survival training.

Guatemelans were being relocated from the highland farm areas to the low coastal areas when he was in that country, Conrad said. His job was to help them improve their farm techniques. "We were helping people help themselves," he said.

The highland people had come from an area where fertile land was extremely scarce. They had farmed terraces on mountains so steep that they had to rope themselves to trees to work the land, Conrad said.

These people needed new techniques to learn to farm in the lowlands and Conrad helped start a cooperative experiment farm for the people of his area.

Conrad said one of his proudest moments came when work was finished on the first windmill on the south coast of Guatemala, a project that he spearheaded. Conrad said he found 237 crated windmills in Guatemala that the U.S. government had shipped there, but that no one had ever bothered to uncrate. He instructed and helped the Guatemelans to set up the windmills to provide a steady source of water.

Conrad said that living in conditions considered normal in other countries had given him a greater appreciation of America and the American economic system.

They used to say in parts of England that biting off the first fern seen in spring would keep one free from toothache all year.

Ex-Student Reunion Plans Started

Work has started on the 1978 Wellington Ex-Students Reunion, which will be almost a month earlier this year, according to the president, Mrs. Calvin Mitchell (Patsy Harper).

The new date is Saturday, July 22. The change was made at last year's reunion because the August date has been too near the opening of school for many ex-students.

The first phase of work will be on updating ex-student addresses and getting addresses of those the association has never had, and on getting suggestions for reunion activities.

"We need addresses," Mrs. Mitchell emphasized. "If you have changed your address, or if you know someone who has moved, please let us know."

"We need suggestions for something different for this year's reunion," she continued. "If you have some, call me and we will try to work them into our program."

One which has been suggested is that the ex-students who have published books and there are several or other material be honored.

Several classes are planning individual reunions. "These people are working on getting their class together for special reunions. Please help them if you know the addresses of someone of these years."

The class of 1928 is the golden anniversary class. Mrs. Donald Curry (Thelma Masten) is spearheading plans. She will call on as many local members as she needs for help.

Other classes will be:
1937, with Mrs. Keith Smith (Dora E. McClaskey)
1938, Nita Hughey White
1943, Jean Light Cudd
1946, Mrs. John Wolf (Bethine Atkins)

1948, Dr. Peggy Riggs Wildman will head the planning and will call on as many other as are needed.

1953, Mrs. Doyle Wayne Ingram of Amarillo (Sue Harvey) is heading the planning committee.

1957, Mrs. Frank Roberts (Anita Savage of Albuquerque, N.M. and Sandra Smith Ketchum of Wichita Falls are working on plans. "We are working on a form to send classmates whether they graduated with us or not. We hope to compile all our information into a newsletter to give the ones in attendance in July," said Mrs. Roberts.

At present, they need addresses of all those who were ever members of the class of 1957, and who are not listed with the Ex-Students Association.

1958, Vada Bell Wood
1963, Peggy Shanks Hendrix
1968, Vikki Saunders and Freida Minatrea Hartman.

1973, Joy Jesse Belew
We always need new addresses. If a friend or relative has moved in the past year, please let us know so we can send them a letter," said Mrs. Mitchell.

"If you are an ex-student and would take a list of your ex-classmates and work on updating addresses, please call me and I will be glad to get a list to you."

"To have a successful reunion, we need your help."

Mrs. Mitchell may be contacted by calling 447-5755 during the day or 447-2489 after 5:00 p.m.

1946 Graduates to Hold Class Reunion

The Wellington High School graduating class of 1946 will hold its own class reunion Saturday, July 22, at the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room, Bethine Adkins Wolf, secretary announced.

This is a luncheon and is held in conjunction with the annual Wellington Ex-Students Reunion.

The hours will be 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Letters have gone out to each of the 84 graduates and others who were members of the class at some time while attending school.

"Our class formed its organization, not pulling away from the main group, in any way, but to strengthen our own class," said Mrs. Wolf. Since this was a one-year trial period, only the secretary was named. Dues are $2.00 per year, used for postage, building cost and other expenses.

"Our group voted to hold a mini-reunion each year and a whing-ding every 5th year. With 53 graduates in the class, our mailing list added 16 former classmates last year and 7 this year. We are seeking addresses of 8 more. Seven are deceased.

Only one graduate has not been located, Ruth Jesse, daughter of Mrs. Otis Jesse. Mrs. Wolf is asking that anyone who knows her current address to contact her at 1401 Arlington St., Wellington.

Eleven of the class still live in the county; Marshall Peters, S.B. Jackson, Kay Carter Feemster, Nettie Beth Gulley Green, Willie Talbot Henard, Lenora Turner, Gary Reeves McAlister, Billye Tension Castleberry, Bettye Hunt Conant, Fay Bullington Horton and Bethine Adkins Wolf. One former teacher, Miss Bonnie Willis, has joined the association. Guests at each year's meeting include parents of class members who are still living here.

'68 Graduates Plan 10-Year Class Reunion

The 1968 Wellington High School graduating class will hold its 10-year reunion during the annual Ex-Students reunion Saturday, July 22.

Freida Minatrea Hartman and Vikki Saunders are in charge of plans.

Seventeen members of the class still live here, and this group is asked to get in contact by May 1. They are asked to indicate if they are willing to help with the class reunion. One of the first decisions to be made is selection of a reunion location.

This was one of the larger classes of recent years, and Miss Saunders has been able to get the addresses of all but two members.

A letter telling of the reunion plans will be mailed when plans are completed.

Letters from all class members are needed and should be addressed to: Mrs. Ronnie Hartman, Route 1, Wellington, Texas 79095.

Ex-Student Worker Meeting Saturday

Directors and all interested in helping with the 1978 Wellington Ex-Students Reunion on July 22 are asked to meet at the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative directors room Saturday, April 8, at 10:00 a.m., Patsy Mitchell, president, announced.

This is a planning meeting. "All classes planning special reunions who would like information in the news letter please contact me and give me the details," Mrs. Mitchell said. Her phone number is 447-5755 day and 447-2489 after 5:00 p.m.

Add Exercise To Routine

COLLEGE STATION-Incorporate more exercise into everyday routine-and get physically fit, says one health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Such common excuses as "not enough time" and "I don't like sport" are no longer valid, Carla Shearer points out.

Try these easy suggestions for physical-as well as mental-health:

-Walk. Instead of looking for the parking space closest to the office, seek out one at some distance. Or, walk to the office.

-Use a bike for errands such as going to the grocery store, post office or cleaners.

-Take a brisk 15-minute walk during work break instead of snacking or smoking.

-Use stairs instead of elevators at the office, factory or living facility.

-When picking up things around the house, place feet apart and bend slowly from the hips to retrieve it, keeping the knees straight.

In other words, instead of looking for the easy way-look out the hard way to do things, Ms. Shearer advises.

Carter and Farm Legislation

The Carter administration noticed last week that the country had a problem. And the problem, they decided was inflation. Fortunately, the President had a solution to the problem: kill the Emergency Farm Act and make the nation's farmers subsidize government-caused inflation.

While Carter was sightseeing in South America and Africa, he trotted out Vice President Mondale and Secretary of Agriculture Bergland to say that the country just couldn't stand the drain on the Treasury and the inflation that the bill would cause.

The administration's opposition to the Emergency Farm Act is interesting on both fronts—the cost to the Treasury, and higher food prices.

As for the cost to the Treasury, the Carter administration is currently running about $60 billion per year in the red and has supported everything from an $8 billion urban program to increases in defense appropriations. To try to balance the budget now out of the farmer's pocket is unreasonable and unfair.

As for the inflationary spiral, the Carter administration just a few weeks ago was doing everything within its power to assure coal miners higher wages. And those wage increases (with which we don't disagree, by the way) will add to the cost of everything from electricity to automobiles. To ask the farmer to step off the inflation escalator while the rest of the country continues upward is ridiculous.

What is even more interesting is that a recent Harris poll indicated that a majority of the American people understand the farm problem and are willing to pay 5% more in food costs to see that the farmer gets parity for his crops.

This leaves us with this situation today: the farmers understand the problem, the Congress understands the problem, and the American people are beginning to understand the problem. Only the Carter administration has yet to see the light.

Carter has threatened to veto the Emergency Farm Act if the Congress sends it to him. Anyone interested in expressing his opinion to the administration can send a Western Union mailgram simply by calling toll free 800-325-5300. A personal opinion mailgram costs only $2.00 and it can be charged to a person's phone bill. ## Our Library Is a Good Resource We Should Improve

One of our untapped resources is the Collingsworth County Library, which is receiving more attention now than at any time in the past.

This is the first time the librarian is not working alone to improve the library or even see that it holds its own. Friends of the Library, just now getting organized, is making itself felt. This is the local chapter of a national organization dedicated to improving and updating libraries. It is especially well suited to towns like Wellington.

It is already sponsoring a paper collection project to raise money, and magazine and book collections to enrich the library. We will hear more of these Friends.

A major boost came when the library was accepted into the Texas Panhandle Library System, and thereby, as a part of the Texas Library System.

It is already paying off in the books and other material which this library can borrow through the Panhandle system, whose resource center is the Amarillo Public Library. Blocks of books are had for 6-months loan. Individuals, through the library, may borrow books and other materials that covers anything from leisure reading to in-depth study. You or your organization may borrow films and slides. Many Collingsworth groups are doing this.

On the other side of the coin, if we are to secure permanent state certification, we must add approximately 2,000 volumes to our library in the next 18 months. The total required is 10,000 books. This is the immediate challenge and the immediate goal of Friends of the Library. We must remember, a public library must serve the variety of tastes its readers will have.

This is National Library Week, and it is a good time to look at what we have. But it is more important that we look at its needs every week and join forces to improve it.

The notation "q.v." stands for the Latin "quod vide," meaning "which see."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Public Utility Commission will begin hearings May 22 on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's request for a $214.3 million rate increase.

PUC, at a pre-trial hearing, directed staff members to submit their conclusions on Bell's financial needs by May 15.

Attorney General John Hill and the Texas Municipal League were given authority to participate in the case as opponents of the proposed rate hike.

Meanwhile, George Cowden, PUC chairman, told Bell to provide information desired by the opposition.

Bell last month filed its new rate request. In September 1976, the company asked for a $298.3 million increase, but PUC went along with only $57.8 million, and courts consistently upheld the finding.

The increase would mean a 75 cents to $1.20 advance in residential rates, varying by size of the city served. It also would add on gross receipts tax levies ranging from two to four percent in most cities. Business phone rates would go up from $1.60 a month to $3.80, and installation charges would advance substantially.

Bell claims it cannot cope with demands for expanded service and make a fair rate of profit on its investment without substantial rate relief.

Foes Give Up

An Austin district judge refused to issue an injunction to block a May 6 Democratic primary referendum vote on whether the 1979 legislature should approve increases in interest rates for loans under $5,000.

Attorneys for loan companies which attempted to block the referendum indicated they would throw in the towel after the ruling and not appeal as they originally planned.

District Judge Herman Jones said the State Democratic Executive Committee had used its discretion in electing to put the issue on the party ballot.

"I do not find a basis for a court injecting itself into it," Jones stated.

The loan companies maintained voters almost certainly will vote against raising interest, and that the referendum, therefore, will prejudice the legislature against their bill to increase rates next year.

Probe Launched

The House General Investigating Committee has launched a new inquiry into operations of the State Insurance Board.

Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, the committee chairman, said a Travis County grand jury recommended the investigation.

"We are interested in a lot of things, not criminal—but perhaps poor administration of a state agency," said Hale.

The Travis County grand jury indicted former Insurance Commissioner Joe Hawkins last June for lying about rides on an insurance company airplane. Hawkins in February pleaded no-contest to a lesser misdemeanor charge that he accepted the plane ride illegally, and got a one-year probated sentence and $2,000 fine.

The House committee went into closed session to hear complaints by former insurance agents from Houston. Hale also invited two members of the grand jury that began the insurance probe to brief the committee.

Courts Speak

The U.S. Supreme Court asked for new arguments in a case involving diversion of natural gas now produced and sold in Texas to the interstate market.

The state seeks to overturn a Federal Power Commission ruling holding California should keep getting gas from a Gulf Oil lease in Crane and Ector counties of West Texas, though leases expired in 1975.

SHINNERY SCHOOL SINGERS

In 1937 Shinnery School won the choral singing event in the "county meet", the predecessor of today's UIL literary events. Schools from all over the county participated in the contests in Wellington each year. Members of the Shinnery group, in grades one through seven, were first row left to right, John Henry Ward, Louise Ward, Joyce Hayes, Jeralene White, Gay Reeves, Wade Welch; second row, C.E. Welch, Polly Blanford, Noma Lee Hively, Herville Keese, Lee Hughey, Jr., unidentified; third row, Valerie White, unidentified, Oleta Welch, Reda Jane Hughey, Audie Hively and Mrs. Arthur Wells.

When the leases expired, the company holding mineral rights to the property attempted to sell the gas to a Houston industrial supplier, but FPC blocked the sale.

Audit Scores

The troubled Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs was rapped by State Auditor George McNeil for its handling of federal manpower training funds.

McNeil also found the agency to be understaffed. Gov. Briscoe said many of the shortcomings pointed up by the audit have been corrected.

McNeil said there may be a need to strengthen technical assistance, monitoring and evaluation to prevent future irregularities in spending and performances at sub-contractor levels of training programs.

Approval Delayed

Gov. Briscoe and two other high officials delayed approval of purchase of an $8 million, 6,741-acre tract of land in the Rio Grande Valley for a new state prison.

Briscoe, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and James Windham, chairman of the Texas Department of Corrections, pointed to differences between appraisals of the land value and purchase price and raised legal questions.

The Department of Corrections wants to buy the land from Big Five Farms, a five-man partnership, with an option to purchase twice as much next year for $6 million more. Briscoe noted State Land Office and Texas A&M appraisals of the property at about $6.8 million. The governor also pointed out the legislature appropriated money for a "West Texas" prison site, and suggested an attorney general's opinion on legality of the purchase.

Short Shorts

Texas Commissioner of Higher Education Kenneth Ashworth criticized methods of distributing property tax funds for college campus construction as "archaic."

David A. Witts, chairman of Texas Aeronautics Commission, blasted a congressional sub-committee's vote to outlaw state regulation of the commuter airline industry within state borders and of intrastate airlines certified by Civil Aeronautics Board as absurd and destructive.

Deputy county clerks are covered by the county civil service act, according to a new attorney general's opinion.

The Tractor Specialist sells more "up-time"

When the land is ready, a farmer's tractor had better be ready to go. That's why a Case dealer franchise just makes good common sense.

As a Case dealer, you're a tractor specialist. Everything you do—selling, servicing, parts—has one target: the best in farm power. You and your tractors are backed by an industry "first"... a sound marketing program: Assured Availability. It tells your customers that if, for any reason during warranty, the tractor they bought from you isn't ready to go, they'll have a free replacement. And Case backs you up!

Case backs you up with other strong marketing help: including the Demo/Rental and Commitment to Quality programs.

If the franchise is open in your territory, you may also be eligible to sell and service light construction power. For information on the full potential of a Case franchise in your area, write or call.

Friends of Library Push Fund Project

John McConnell, owner of the Ritz Theatre, has made available to Friends of the Library the south front office of the theatre building.

This will serve as headquarters for the Friends' newspaper, magazine and book collection projects, said Miss Bonnie Willis. The newspapers are sold and the money goes into the organization's funds for library improvement.

Needed magazines and books are added to the library shelves. Others will go into a future book sale.

The office will be opened as soon as it can be cleaned and hours designated.

Friends of the Library will hold a regular meeting Monday, April 10, at 4:00 p.m. in the library. Mrs. Don Tarver of Quail, president, will be in charge of the meeting. The major piece of business will be selection of a meeting hour that is convenient to most members.

Guest speakers scheduled for later meetings are Mrs. Glen Steiner of Childress and Virginia Browder of Memphis. Both have had extensive experience in working with library development.

Rockettes 12th At Amarillo Rélays Sat.

The Rockette track team scored 12 points to place twelfth in the fourth annual Amarillo Girls Relays Saturday, April 1. Bovina won the relays with 102 points. Wellington and McLean were the only schools in this area to place.

Competing in the AA-B division, the girls had their first experience in the Amarillo event.

The Wellington team placed sixth in the 440 relays with a time of 54.3. Team members are Kathleen Reeves, Mary Sue Thompson, Pam Ingram and Laura Gragson.

Wanda Thomas was fifth in the 880 in 66.3 seconds.

In the 220, Laura Gragson was third with 27.2 time and Kathleen Reeves was fifth with 28.3.

Square Dance Class Planned

Texas Twisters Square Dance Club will sponsor a class beginning Tuesday, April 11, and consisting of 20 lessons.

Classes will be held each Tuesday and Thursday nights at 8:00 p.m. in the American Legion Building, according to Jackie Isaacs.

Nicky Boone of Hollis will be the caller.

Those wishing additional information may contact Maxey or Judy Baker, who head the club, or any other members, or they may come to the lessons.

Mrs. Isaacs said that clogging lessons will be given later and it is not necessary to know how to square dance to enroll in the clog classes.

Farmers Co-op Gin Finishes Season

When Farmers Co-op Gin ginned the last bale of the season on Wednesday, March 29, it was just five days short of six months after the first 1977 bale was ginned.

That last bale came from green boles. The last "regular bale" was ginned the day before, a few days after one of the Co-op's customer had brought it in from his farm.

Both Webb Johnson, manager, and J.N. Glasgow, office manager, agreed that the quality of the cotton was all right.

There have been years when the gin had a few bales in April, but those were also years when the ginning season started later.

Norwood Returns 4 Board Members

Four incumbents were returned to the Samnorwood School Board Saturday, April 1, with a 107 votes cast.

Richard Bentley received 83 votes, Jim Ray 82 and Rudie Tate 67 for regular terms.

Gary Oldham, an appointee filling an unexpired term, received 92 votes for the remaining one year of that term.

Intentions to Drill Filed in Blocks 22, 23

Intentions to drill four wells in northwest Collingsworth County (East Panhandle Field) have been filed with the Pampa Office of the Railroad Commission by Dilley Production Co.

All of these are on land owned by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hawkins Bowie and are located 10 miles northwest of Samnorwood.

The proposed depth of the four wells is 2850 feet.

The legal description is: Well No. 3: 1420' from the south and 1320' from the east line of section 126, block 22.

No. 4: 1500' from the south and 1320' from the west line of section 126, block 22.

No. 5: 1420' from the south and 700' from the west line of section 5, block 23.

No. 6: 1320' from the north and west lines of section 5, block 23.

These leases were given to Texas Trust Co. in August 1976, and a correction lease on the northwest quarter of section 126 was filed in the county clerk's office in August 1977.

Four Hospital Board Members Returned

Four incumbent members of the Collingsworth County Hospital Board, who were running without opposition, were returned to their places by county voters Saturday, April 1.

Bill Janes polled the largest number of votes, 520, while Tom Cunningham of Samnorwood received 513; Otis Emmert of Quail 509 and Lyman Daniel 503.

Seventeen different people received write-in votes of one or two each. These were: Mrs. Hubert Bowen, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Rodney Myrick, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, John Carson of Quail, C.T. Hubbard, Tom Caldwell, Bill Beall, Douglas Coleman of Dozier, Coy Vaughan, Denzil Lacy, Dan Henard, Jr., Gary Oldham, Herman Oldham and J.H. Oldham of Samnorwood, Tommy Powell and Steve Owens.

The board held its first meeting after the election on Monday, April 3.

Larry Oldham Moves to Midland

Larry C. Oldham has been transferred from the Dallas office of Dorchester Exploration, Inc., to its Midland office, his mother, Mrs. W.W. Oldham, said this week.

Mrs. Oldham is also employed by an oil company.

Lonnie Oldham, a brother, also lives in Midland.
