Strawn Discovery In Scurry Is Completed

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 well has been officially completed as a discovery from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian in Central-North Scurry County, with a calculated 24-hour potential of 214 barrels of 43 gravity oil.

The daily potential was calculated from an actual flow of 107 barrels of pipe line oil in 12 hours through a 15/64th inch tubing choke. Flowing tubing pressure was 125 pounds and flowing casing pressure was 875 pounds.

The production is natural, and is without any signs of formation water from open hole in the Strawn at 7,487-7,508 feet.

Is Now On Production

On a subsequent 24 hour test, following the potential gauge, the well flowed through a 10/64th inch tubing choke and made 171 barrels of oil, and no water. Gas-oil ratio is about 200-1.

Flowing tubing pressure on the test test reported was 300 pounds and flowing casing pressure was 1,000 pounds. The new discovery is now on production.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank sub-division of the Grimes Ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

C-E Scurry Prospect Sets Casing To Test

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., and associates, No. 1 Feldman, possible discovery from the Ellenburger in Central-East Scurry County, ten miles east of the town of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 64, block 3, H&G survey, is bottomed at 7,362 feet and had cemented a string of 5 1/2-inch casing at 7,310 feet, and top of the Ellenburger.

Operators will drill the plug and start production tests about the middle of the week.

This exploration had a recovery of 150 feet of very heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud and 4,492 feet of 46 gravity oil during a one hour drillstem test at 7,315-82 feet.

Most of the fluid unloaded from the drill pipe while it was being pulled. Gas volume during the test was at the rate of 320,000 cubic feet per day. No formation water has been developed. Surface elevation is 2,251 feet. This venture was barren of petroleum in the Pennsylvanian.

Wildcat Near Snyder Still Hunts For Reef

Reports that Olson, Glasco, Chambers and Zenne No. 1 Green, Central-North Scurry County wildcat, two miles north of the town of Snyder and about two and one half miles southeast of the nearest producers from the Canyon reef line on the south side of the North Snyder field had entered the reef at 6,506 feet on an elevation of 2,447 feet, appear to have been in error.

The project did encounter a lime streak at 6,506 feet, and drilled to 6,514 feet. The measurement was corrected to make 6,514 feet equal 6,497 feet.

Operator then cored from 6,497 feet to 6,508 feet on the corrected measurement. Recovery was nine feet of shale.

The core hole has been reamed out and operators are preparing to drill deeper.

Apparently the lime section which was penetrated was a lime stringer above the Canyon reef.

This exploration is 680 feet out of the northwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 157, block 3, H&G survey.

SW Kent Prospector To 8,000 Feet Is Set

Drilling & Exploration Company, Inc., of Abilene, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill an 8,000-foot wildcat in extreme Southwest Kent County, two miles southeast of Polar.

It is contracted to test the Pennsylvanian lime, using rotary tools.

The drills will be 680 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 8, H&G survey.

This project was previously reported through unofficial sources as a possibility.

NW Regan Wildcat Is Staked By Bagley

Vina Bagley of Midland No. 1 L. C. Proctor will be a 6,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Reagan County, 15 miles northwest of Stiles.

No. 1 Proctor will be 330 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 4, block C, L&SV survey.

Drilling is to begin immediately. Rotary tools will be used to drill the prospect to the middle Permian lime.

Ellenburger Venture Scheduled In Sterling

Drilling is to be started soon by William Hamm, Jr., and others, at their No. 1 L. L. Ellwood estate, contracted 3,500-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger in extreme Northeast Sterling County, one-half mile from the Coke County line.

No. 1 Ellwood will be 1,363 feet from southeast and 1,300 feet from southwest lines of section 33, block 16, SP&B survey, and seven miles west of the Jameson field in Northwest Coke County.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., Dallas, is to start drilling soon on a 5,300-foot (Continued On Page Nine)

Stork Is Winner In Overseas Air Derby

SHANNON AIRPORT, IRELAND—(P)—The stork raced an American Overseas Airlines pilot over the Atlantic Ocean Monday—and the stork won.

A baby boy was born to Mrs. Darinks Parker of New York City while the Constellation dived at full throttle 400 miles from Shannon. Both the mother and child were reported well. The baby's weight was given as four pounds.

When the crowded transport made its regular stop here the mother and child were taken by ambulance to nearby Ennis Hospital.

The plane was enroute from New York to Frankfurt, Germany, by way of Ireland.

The 30-year-old mother, a GI bride from Bavaria, was quoted as saying: "I hadn't expected the baby for another month and a half." Her husband, still in the U. S. Army, is stationed at Weisbaden, Germany.

In Frankfurt, M/Sgt. James C. Parker had gone to the Rhein-Main Airport to meet his wife. A grinning headquarters official met him, instead, and announced: "You're a father, sergeant."

The 40-year-old father said he was floored by the news. He will ask, and probably get, permission to come to Ireland at once. Parker (Continued On Page Five)

Joan Edwards Has Been Unconscious For Nine Months

Joan Edwards has been unconscious nine months. She entered her ninth month of unconsciousness Monday.

Miss Edwards, an employee of The Reporter-Telegram at the time, was injured in an automobile accident last January 17 near Odessa. She has not regained consciousness since that accident.

She spent 180 days following the accident in Odessa's Headlee Hospital. She then was moved to Dallas, where eminent brain specialists said the damage was irreparable and that she would remain unconscious indefinitely.

On July 8, the paralyzed young woman was taken back to her home in Rankin.

Some Improvement

Recently she has been taking treatments at a San Angelo clinic. She is reported "some better." And her parents are encouraged.

Mrs. Edwards is at her daughter's bedside constantly. The mother believes the young woman has recognized her and a few other persons. She has made signs with her fingers.

She is fed through a nasal tube. "We are hoping and praying," the mother said. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards of Rankin.

Meanwhile, kind-hearted citizens of West Texas have contributed more than $4,000 to help Joan Edwards in her fight to regain consciousness and health.

U. S. Makes Second Start In Tucker Case

CHICAGO—(P)—The government made a fresh start Monday in the multi-million dollar mail fraud case of Preston Tucker and seven co-defendants.

The first attempt to try the present and former officials of the Tucker Automobile Corporation, ended in a mistrial October 11 after a week's run.

Five Million Idle Seen In Steel Dispute

PITTSBURGH—(P)—America's strike idle neared the million mark Monday as 16,000 CIO members struck nine plants of the Aluminum Company of America.

The aluminum workers joined 480,000 striking Steelworkers and 380,000 striking soft coal miners.

More than 55,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off.

Some Steelworkers' members in the fabricating steel industry — which makes everything from hairpins to refrigerators — struck during the weekend. Other fabricators' contracts expire from now until mid-December.

There's still no sign of peace in labor's biggest conflict since the end of World War II.

The government is concerned gravely. The walkouts threaten to knock postwar economy into a cocked hat.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said the steel strike will idle five million persons if it runs to December 1.

So far, President Truman has kept on the sidelines. His mediators are pounding away at the problem—but with little success.

In Lap Of Gods

The mediators tried to head off the steel strike three times. Now they're trying to get industry leaders and Steelworkers' President Philip Murray back to the bargaining table.

"It's in the lap of the gods," Murray said Sunday as he discussed possible strike settlement in a talk at Bethlehem, Pa.

Pensions are the big issue in the Aluminum Company strike, just as they are in the steel strike.

Murray insists industry pay the entire cost of a pension and insurance program—exactly as the presidential fact finding board recommended. Big steel has offered to pay the 10-cent package recommended by the board—but not unless the Steelworkers contribute too.

Selection Of Jurors Is Underway Monday

The selection of a jury to hear the trial of Burnie McDonald, 46-year-old negro charged with murder, was underway when District Judge Paul Moss called the noon recess Monday.

The criminal session of 70th District Court got underway at 10 a.m. A panel to hear the murder trial is being selected from a list of 120 prospective jurors.

McDonald was charged with murder after the fatal stabbing of Arthur Lang, negro, in a tavern brawl in the Latin American sector of Midland.

The fatal stabbing occurred March 19. Lang died instantly of a knife wound in the heart.

Before the schedule change, examinations were given on Monday and Saturday.

Two Midland Negroes Shot; Charges Filed

Police Chief Jack Ellington Monday filed charges of assault with intent to commit murder against James Moore, Midland negro, as the outgrowth of a double shooting in the negro section Sunday night.

Norman King, 45, and Yancey A. Batie, 25, both negroes who gave Midland addresses, were wounded in the three-way affair.

Ellington said Moore was charged on one count.

Moore was shot in the left side and the bullet entered on his right side, according to Captain Jack O'Brien who investigated the incident. He said Batie was shot in the right leg.

Officers were called to the scene about 10:30 p.m. Sunday. The injured were taken to Western Clinic Hospital by ambulance.

Argument Over Loan

Captain O'Brien said the best he could determine the shooting was the result of an argument over a loan. It developed to the shooting stage after the three had been parties to a heated dispute over the loan, he said.

King was held in the Midland County Jail.

King's condition was described as critical by hospital attendants Monday. Batie was not believed to be in serious condition.

Ellington said charges against Moore will be changed if King dies.

House Plot On Farm Bill Is Charged

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two senators suggested Monday that House members may be handling farm legislation so as to allow a sag in farm prices early next year.

The senators, Democrat Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and Republican Young of North Dakota, are members of a Senate-House conference committee which has had a hectic time trying to patch up differences on a new farm measure.

Thomas and Young reasoned that House members of the committee might go through with a let-supports-sag plan in order to force senators to go along with a higher-level price support program later in 1950.

Fifth Meeting Underway

There was no comment from the House members. Representative Face (D-Ga.) limited himself to saying:

"I do not regard the situation as hopeless. There are 14 sincere members of Congress trying to work out their differences, and I still believe they will."

If these 14 members of the conference committee—do not get together and no bill is passed, then the Aiken Act of 80th Congress will go into effect in January. This eventually was the basis for the senators' talk of a possible deliberate drop in the supports, since the Aiken Act in some cases would permit lower levels.

The conferees entered a fifth meeting Monday for another effort to get a compromise after a reported agreement Saturday blew up with a bang.

The main dispute centers around the level of government supports for cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts, five of the six so-called basic crops.

Panhandle Slaying Suspect Still Free

DALHART—(P)—Roadblocks still were up in the Panhandle Monday for Leonard (Lucky) Hawkins, 34, wanted for charges of murder and armed robbery.

Hawkins was reported seen at a liquor store north of here late Saturday night.

He is charged with the fatal shooting of Alfred Clark, 23, Boise City, Okla., whose body was found last Wednesday near Jerseyville, Ill.

Cates Echoes Navy Charge Of 'Sabotage'

WASHINGTON—(P)—Gen. Clifton B. Cates, head of the Marine Corps, accused the Army high command Monday of trying to wipe out the "combat power of the Marine Corps."

Cates told the House Armed Services Committee that the combat morale of his fighting force still is high.

But substantial harm has been done to the national defense, he said, by "crippling handicaps" inflicted on the Marine Corps through Pentagon policies.

Reductions, he said, are "striking into the heart of our combat forces."

Cates was a witness at the House group's hearings on the Navy's policy in the armed services. The Navy is battling against policies which, it contends build up the Air Force at the expense of the Navy.

Admirals argue that in high defense councils the Army and the Air Force have joined up to outvote the Navy 2-1.

Cates and Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, a former commander of Marines, were called as the last witnesses for the Navy. Next the committee will hear the other side of the dispute from Air Force and Army men.

Navy Argument

Broadly, the Navy's argument is this:

First, that present military policy puts too much reliance on the Air Force high flying B-36 bomber and the atomic bomb.

Second, that the other services want to do away with the Marine Corps and naval aviation, reducing the Navy to a transport and anti-submarine force.

Cates said he heartily endorsed everything the Navy has been saying along that line.

For two years, the Marine commandant said, a lot of the time, energy and attention of the Marine Corps leadership has been consumed by resisting "inroads and incursions" against the corps.

Cates said the "Army general staff group" stands today within "measurable distance" of achieving three objectives against the Marine Corps.

War Fires, Banked In Greece, Threaten Again In Far East

By The Associated Press

The fires of war were reported banked for a while in Greece Monday but across the world in Indonesia they threatened to flare up again with new intensity.

The Communist-directed Greek rebel army broadcast an announcement that it was stopping military operations in the bloody civil war, because it didn't want to destroy Greece.

The Greek general staff wasn't impressed. The rebels were stopping, it said, because they were already licked.

The cease fire corresponded with moves in the United Nations to pour oil on the choppy waters of Greek relations with her Communist neighbors.

A special UN group has drawn up suggestions for resolving the fight, based on Greek charges that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have aided the Greek guerrillas.

The broadcast made it clear that the cease fire was linked to the steps being taken at Lake Success.

Said Russia now is negotiating a peaceful settlement of the Greek question.

Explosive Possibilities

In Jogjakarta, Java, the Indonesian Republic's minister of defense expressed fear that open warfare would break out again in Java and Sumatra.

Said Sultan Hamengkumuwono: "The rapidly deteriorating situation in East Java is full of explosive possibilities, and if the Dutch continue to be unreasonable it is feared an armed clash is not only inevitable but will soon spread to the whole of Java and Sumatra."

The Dutch replied with a charge that the Indonesian Republic was putting through a "master plan" to encircle the Dutch Army and accused the sultan of violating the cease fire order by making inflammatory statements.

HOLLYWOOD—Gary Cooper rode to movie stardom as a western hero, but lately he's strayed from the range. Now he wants to get back into a western quick. It probably will be "The Way West," for Jerry Wald at Warner Brothers, points out that the movie is a western, and Cooper is a western hero. He will have a gag climax when he returns to Hollywood. Twenty of his pals will meet him at the airport and each will be armed with a Panda.

Mountain Moonshine
Feud Flames Afresh

DAISY, TENN. — (P) — Daisy Mountain's moonshine feud bids fair to take its place with the famed Hatfield and McCoy squabble in Southern mountain history. Spurred during a dispute over the making of corn whiskey and fanned by bitter hatred, the feud flamed anew over the weekend. Another man was killed on the lonely mountainside—the third to die since the hill country war began two years ago.

Police found William L. (Boots) Parker lying on a muddy slope of the mountain Saturday night, shot three times and bludgeoned with an ax. Raymond Bell, 29, was found at the scene, two ax wounds on his head. Bell and his brother, Ed, 23, were arrested and Chief Deputy Scott Swafford charged them with murder. They face arraignment Tuesday.

Evidence scarce
Officers have redoubled patrols on the mountain but have met with the same tight-lipped silence that greeted them after the two previous deaths. No one knows anything about the slaying.

Evidence has been sparse whenever one of the mountaineers has been tried for a killing. Several persons recently were indicted on murder charges in the first two deaths. Three trials were held and all were acquitted. For a while it seemed there would be peace on the mountain. A representative of each faction appeared on a nationwide radio broadcast (We the People) last December and proclaimed an end to the feud. It evidently didn't take.

Girdle Doubles As Petticoat

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

More freedom from wash-basin laundry chores is a gift a school girl can bestow upon herself. Fewer precious hours have to be taken out from study or play if undergarments and even outer garments which a girl needs to launder can be washed out quickly, need no ironing. That's why nylon slips, nighties and panties are going to school this fall. That's why nylon pullovers and blouses are popular in school girls' wardrobes. To the list of laundry-savers may be added girdles which double as petticoats; reduce by one the number of garments which must be washed out nightly in the dormitory basin. Attached to these girdles with two-way stretch and a set of garters are petticoat flounces of lace-trimmed nylon. Despite the flouncy appeal of the ruffle which can take the place of a slip and eliminates another garment which has to be washed, the "petticoat" launders as easily as a handkerchief and doesn't have to be ironed.

Civic Music Membership Week Opening

Workers who will start the second annual membership campaign of the Midland Civic Music Association Tuesday morning will dine together in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel Monday, beginning at 7 p.m. They will receive instructions and materials for the campaign then. Response from last season's members and persons whose names were placed on a waiting list because memberships were sold out, who were given the first opportunity to purchase the 500 memberships, indicates that all memberships will be sold this season, although the number has been increased to 1,800. Last year's membership limit was 600, the number of seats in the old High School Auditorium. A new auditorium, under construction and expected to be completed by January 1, is to be used for the concerts this season.

Season To Open Late

The larger auditorium not only is expected to meet the demand for more seating capacity, but its larger stage will permit the appearance of musical ensembles, ballet groups and orchestras which could not have been accommodated in the less spacious hall. Waiting for completion of the auditorium will cause the Civic Music season to have a late start this season, but the officers plan to schedule as many programs as would have been done with an earlier start. They decided that the wait would be worth while in order to provide memberships for more residents, many of whom were disappointed when last year's campaign closed on the second day with all memberships sold.

Four Concerts Heard
Last season was the first for the organization in Midland. Concerts were by the Vienna Choir Boys; Gold and Fildale, duo pianists; Francine Falkon, American contralto; and Devy Erih, violinist. Richard Hughton is president of the association this season, succeeding Eric Bucher in the office, and Neil Shaw is secretary. Mrs. J. E. Beakey and Mrs. Albert Kelley are in charge of organization for the membership campaign, which will be directed by division chairmen and captains. Many of the workers assisted with the initial campaign last fall. Downtown headquarters for the campaign will be at Tallorline, 113 North Colorado Street.

Reds May Get More Veto Power

The United States has rebuffed the Chinese Communist regime in its bid for diplomatic recognition. Its decision makes sense.

There are three practical reasons for delaying recognition. None has anything to do with the general policy issue of whether the nation should take a step that would be interpreted as "approval" of the Communist government.

For one thing, Red authorities in China have demonstrated their inability or unwillingness to protect American diplomats in Communist-held areas. More than that, they have on occasion even seized them and inflicted physical injury upon them. Up to now no evidence exists of a change in this situation.

Secondly, the Communists have not assured the American government or any other that they intend to respect China's present international obligations. Until it shows signs of honoring the country's agreements, it cannot expect speedy attention for its recognition bid.

Lastly, the new Red regime cannot yet speak with authority for the whole of China. The Communists currently hold just a little more of the country than did the Japanese at the peak of their offensive.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has made plain that unless the Communist government really controls Chinese territory and will observe international commitments, there is no point in extending recognition.

"We do not establish an embassy or legation in a foreign country to show approval of its government," he said recently. "We do so to have a channel through which to conduct essential governmental relations and protect legitimate U. S. interests."

This country has agreed, however, to consult with other nations on the recognition question. And among those Great Britain unquestionably will seek to hasten the establishing of diplomatic relations with Red China. Britain's trade interests are the greatest of any foreigner there, and pressure already is heavy to create a more normal arrangement to safeguard that business.

But because it is eager to preserve a solid front with the United States, Britain may accept a considerable delay. One prospect is that the United Nations might be asked to send a commission to China to determine whether the Red government or the Nationalist regime is the true authority. And there is a bare chance that recognition might be accorded simultaneously by all North Atlantic Treaty countries.

Barring an unforeseen reversal of fortune for the Chinese Communists, recognition apparently will come to them in time.

After that the Western Powers face an even tougher dilemma: What to do when the Communist government demands China's permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council. This seat carries with it the veto power. Added to Russia's, it would almost inevitably mean more trouble than ever in getting decisive council action.

Yet it is difficult to see how the post can be denied to a government that will have been recognized as the legitimate authority in China.

DREW PEARSON ON 'The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND'

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Admiral Ostie, who calls A-bomb inhuman, once praised it as "main shot in our armament locker." Admiral Gallery advised A-bomb delivery was Navy's chief hope of existence; Admiral Denfeld once OK'd B-36 program.

WASHINGTON — It's a tough job for Mr. John Q. Public today to make head or tail out of the water of headlines and accusations hurled for and against the B-36, the Navy and the atomic bomb.

However, to keep the record straight, here are some statements made by some of the same admirals before the B-36 controversy got so hot:

No. 1—Made by Adm. Ralph A. Ostie to the House Armed Services Committee last week was that the A-bomb was inhuman, barbaric and should not be used.

No. 2—Made by the same Admiral Ostie a year before, June 30, 1948, at the Aviation Writers' Association in New York: "The atomic bomb is the main shot in our armament locker. The delivery of the atomic bomb both should be and probably is a major consideration today in the war plans of the Air Force and of naval aviation."

No. 3—Naval testimony presented before the Armed Services Committee last week was that the A-bomb would do little damage a short distance from the target and that its importance was being overemphasized by the Army, Air Force and Secretary of Defense.

No. 4—Early in 1948, Adm. Dan Gallery wrote a memo which for about a year became the Navy's textbook in its battle against the Air Force. The memo read: "The next war will be a lot different from any previous one. It seems obvious that the next time our Sunday punch will be an atomic bomb aimed at the enemy capital or industrial centers and that the outcome of the war will be determined by strategic bombing. The war will be won by whichever side is able to deliver the atomic bomb to the enemy, and at the same time protect its own territory against similar delivery."

"I think the time is right now," continued Admiral Gallery, "for the Navy to deliver an aggressive campaign aimed at proving that the Navy can deliver the atomic bomb more effectively than the Air Force can."

If the Navy makes delivery of the atomic bomb a major mission, and if we develop the proper ships, planes and tactics, the Navy can become the principal offensive branch of the national defense system—the branch which actually decides the knockout blow."

Following the Gallery memo, the Navy did stage an all-out fight to take over the delivery of the A-bomb. This was what the controversy over the super-airplane carrier was all about. Two vitally important conferences were held to decide this question, and the first meeting, the famous Key West conference called by Secretary Forrestal March 11, 1948, decided the following two basic policies:

1. Strategic bombing, in other words delivery of the A-bomb, should be the responsibility of the Air Force.

2. Anti-submarine warfare should be the responsibility of naval aviation. This latter point has received scant attention, but there was quite an argument over whether the Navy or the Air Force should battle submarines, since most of the sub-patrol work in the recent war was done by land-based planes, and the Army with the Civil Air Patrol had a notable record. But the Navy won out on this, and there was no further argument.

Argument continued, however, regarding the delivery of the atomic bomb. Despite the decision at Key West, the admirals persisted. They were so persistent that another conference was called by Forrestal at Newport, R. I., August 20, 1948, to rehearse the same thing.

Once again it was decided that the Air Force should be responsible for delivery of the atomic bomb. But even then, the admirals revolted, and Secretary Forrestal, desperately anxious for harmony, finally called in General Eisenhower as umpire.

It has been only since that time that the admirals have shifted their tactics and argued that the A-bomb was inhuman, barbaric, ineffective and not a decisive factor in time of war.

Meanwhile the Bikini report, which tells the story of the bomb's effectiveness, continues to be hushed up by the Navy. Scientists say privately that its findings are so sensational as to make surface warships almost useless.

Eisenhower OK'd B-36

No. 5—Admiral Denfeld, chief of naval operations, charged last week that the B-36 had not gone there so sensationally as to make surface warships almost useless.

No. 6—In April Admiral Denfeld joined the other chiefs of staff in OKing continuation of the B-36 program.

This is one of the most significant and least known of the backstage maneuvering between the Air Force and the Navy. Here is what happened:

Louis Johnson, assuming the office of Defense secretary in late March, found that a certain number of B-36's had been ordered and that the final order of additional B-36's had not gone through. Therefore he asked Budget Director Pace to write a letter to General Eisenhower, a copy of which was sent to the joint chiefs of staff, asking whether the resumption of the B-36 program was to proceed.

Eisenhower's answer, by telephone, was that there was no need to reconsider the matter. Simultaneously, the joint chiefs of staff unanimously ruled—and this included Denfeld—that the B-36 program was to go ahead.

No. 7 — By Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee last April: "Persons within the national military establishment on the government payroll are endangering the national security through their efforts to sell the public their own particular views regarding air power."

Chairman Vinson's committee has now become quite a sounding board itself with almost every word cabled to Moscow.

Mrs. Truman Goes Down In History As The Most 'Reluctant' First Lady

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written For NEA Service

I had lunch recently with an old friend, H. Huber Boscowitz of New York City, a former president of the bridge league. He was the first recipient of the Edwin A. Wetzel trophy, given to the person who contributed most to the game of bridge.

Boscowitz is one of the greatest party entertainers in the country. He and Maggi McNellis have written a new book entitled "Party Games," published by Prentice-Hall of New York. There are 31 games for adults and teen-agers in the book. The party host always is looking for games, says Boscowitz. When the bridge game breaks up and the prize is awarded, the crowd enjoys playing a different type of game.

He has a variation of "Twenty Questions" that is very interesting, and "Search Me" is a game that will break the ice at any party. It reminded me of today's bridge tournament a few years ago.

Against the four-spade contract, Boscowitz partner opened the king of diamonds. What should Boscowitz in the North play, the queen, the jack or the three of diamonds?

Most experts agree that you should seldom signal with the queen when you hold the queen and a small card of a suit. They prefer to reserve the play of the queen to show that you have the jack. Boscowitz also knew that if they were to defeat the contract, they had to get a club trick established quickly, so he played the queen, hoping to shed the light on his partner that he held the jack.

(By the way, another of the games in his book is entitled "Shedding Light.")

Now South felt safe in leading a small club suit. Boscowitz led this with the jack returned a club, and now declarer could not establish the heart suit without losing a club trick.

Russia has violated and continues to violate not only the principles and essentials of socialist international law but also those of positive bourgeois international law.

High-Strung, Nervous People Have To Learn To 'Get Along'

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Many people write to say that they are nervous and high strung and have a great many different kinds of pains, aches, or other symptoms. Naturally, they are anxious to know what is at fault and what can be done about it.

It is not easy to discuss this question. No medical text book contains a chapter called "being nervous and high strung." What people mean when they say this is not quite clear and probably they do mean a number of different things. Judging from letters they usually complain of getting excited easily and upset whenever they are frightened, angered or have any other strong emotion.

Quite likely there are many different reasons for an exaggerated reaction to emotions. Sometimes there may be a family tendency to be easily disturbed. While doctors can help, perhaps the only advice which can be given is for them to learn to live with themselves and to ignore so far as possible the unpleasant symptoms which they have. The name of a "highly-strung nervous system."

THE pictures of Tod were extremely flattering—"Tod Duncan, former All-American." And Liz was looking like her usual perfect self, like something out of a fashion magazine.

Jenny didn't blame Tod for feeling badly, after such an experience, and to have received Mr. Conover's job offer on top of it.

They began at once to look for a house. The bright young men in the Conover agency could not live in a musty basement in an obscure and slightly tawdry section of town. Tod would have chosen a house in some exclusive new development, but Jenny found one in a less pretentious suburban neighborhood, a modest colonial with an acre of ground and a small orchard.

It was wonderful to get the twins into the pink and white freshness of a nursery all their own. Nice, too, to be able to buy the things one needed from Max, without feeling guilty.

Max was thinking of selling his shop. Business had declined some and he had always dreamed of buying a trailer and going to Florida. Now seemed an opportune time. He suggested that Jenny go into partnership with Nins and take over the shop.

"But, Max, there's no need now for me to work with Tod's new WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Cancellation of the White House formal social season for the second straight year came as a surprise to most society folk in Washington. Word has gotten around that that was the main reason Mrs. Truman had dieted so strenuously this summer: to look better in the evening dresses she would wear for the big social functions which she and the President were planning to give.

Official excuse for the cancellation was the fact that the White House is undergoing repairs. Actually, at least a dozen suitable Washington clubs, mansions and hotels were offered to the President for entertaining purposes. It was Mrs. Truman's decision to turn them all down.

Instead of the traditional big state functions, the President and his wife will hold only a few small and intimate dinners and receptions this winter. As one society woman puts it, "This insures Bess Truman of going down in history as the most reluctant First Lady."

Whirling Giants

The Air Force has decided to keep large helicopters permanently stationed in Alaska and in the Arctic regions for rescue purposes. It doesn't want a repeat of last winter's experience when 12 airmen crashed on Greenland and were stranded there for more than a week because its small helicopters didn't have the range to reach the men.

It was only a last desperate Air Force effort which got the men off the ice, before the Navy's carrier Saipan, which stood off to make the rescue could get to them. Specifications for the kind of big helicopter needed for the job have been given to manufacturers but are being kept secret from the public.

The latest maneuver of the American Medical Association in its fight against President Truman's national health insurance plan is revealed by the following statement in the Dallas Medical Journal:

"We need to locate the personal physician of every congressman and every U. S. senator . . . and have him send a personal letter to his patient, the congressman, telling him of the danger of socialized medicine."

Health Story

Administration leaders who are pushing the President's health plan predict that it will be a different story in the Senate than in the House. They think that when the congressmen go home, they'll get the word from their constituents to support it. They are counting heavily on this prediction.

Consideration

Herman W. Steinkraus, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, gives the following anecdote as proof of his claim that labor relations is far from an exact science:

"I recall a time when I was in the midst of a very difficult negotiation with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union. Near midnight we arranged to have a club in our town send over hot coffee and sandwiches for us. When it arrived, I thought suddenly of the union men and the employees' representatives in the room below, with the cafeteria closed and nothing to eat since noon. So we divided what had been sent half of it down. I never shall forget how surprised they were when they opened the door and saw what was sent down to them. From that moment on the whole situation seemed to thaw. We found clauses we could agree on. There was no strike."

Slow Motion Candidate

The CIO Political Action Committee is charging Senator Taft with "A plan to steal 100,000 votes" when he runs for reelection in Ohio next year. The PAC says:

"Taft forces are pushing the so-called Massachusetts-type ballot on which the voter must vote for each candidate and is not permitted to vote a straight party ticket. The slower the voting line moves the less inclined to vote are people who have to get to jobs or who are on their way home from work. Voters who can get off in the afternoon are favored."

The Arabian American Oil Company's annual report to the Saudi Arabian government reveals that "the major development in the year was the increase of oil production to a point where Saudi Arabia is now one of the largest oil producing countries in the world." Aramco's officials are saying their trip in Saudi Arabia might serve as a guide for future industrial undertakings under the President's Point IV program.

Don't Worry About It

At every formal affair attended by the President, the stirring strains of "Hail to the Chief" are played as he enters and leaves. When a Scotch newspaper recently wrote to the President asking him more about the tune, which is Scottish, it developed that nobody realized there were any lyrics to it. A check with the Library of Congress turned up words for the tune.

Might Try Smoke Signals

The Democratic National Committee is making a big joke out of the following jumbled news story which appeared in the Kansas City Times Monday, September 12:

"PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 11—(AP)—The Republican Party today is di-18 requires 35.8 yards of 39-inch its cause. Gov. Van Peterson of Nebraska said today."

Commenting on the error, the committee says: "We feel that it is as self-explanatory as most recent GOP policy statements."

CHAMBER DIRECTORS WILL MEET MONDAY

The October meeting of directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in Hotel Schaeffer. President R. D. (Bob) Scruggs will preside.

Several matters of importance are scheduled for discussion and action.

The session was postponed from last Monday.

she might change her mind about going into partnership with Nins. Then Tod one evening mentioned a new account he'd acquired for the firm only that day. "You see Jenny I told you it wouldn't take long to pay for the furniture. The commission on that single account will almost do it. If it hadn't been for Liz."

"You see an awful lot of Liz, don't you?" Jenny said. She tried not to let that note of coolness creep into her voice.

"After all, Jenny," he burst out as he rose from his chair "there isn't any way to avoid seeing a lot of Liz when we work in the same office. But think what it's meant to work there."

Yes, she was thinking, it certainly had changed things. It was as though a magic wand had been waved over them. A month ago they had been in a wretched little ever-mounting bills. But now over the money situation funny how much money really meant. Everyone was always saying, "Money can't buy everything," but that was silly, wasn't it? Because there were few worthwhile things that money couldn't buy.

It brought a comfortable place to live, and fresh air and sunshine and exquisite new outfits for the babies. You didn't have to shop around to save three cents on a dozen of oranges, or spend hours trying to save a few dollars making little overall for the babies out of remnants you'd picked up in a basement somewhere.

THEN came the night of their house-warming.

Jenny was uneasy because Rick was practically the only person present with whom she was acquainted, excepting Liz Conover, of course. She felt uncomfortable, because these people moved in a world she had never known. Jenny and Rick slipped off upstairs to the nursery to look in on the twins. There was so much noise downstairs Jenny was afraid they might wake them. She and Rick were talking in whispers over the crib in the nursery when they heard voices from across the hall. Jenny froze and Rick gripped her arm hard as they listened.

In The U. S. A. They Still Are DP's

After seven years in displaced persons camps in Europe, these eight families sharing the basement of a Ukrainian Orthodox Church in Cleveland, Ohio, find they're still DP's. These refugees, along with 38 others in Cleveland, are homeless because sponsors who agreed to care for some of them changed their minds, and because more DP's came than were expected. Clothes, food and money are provided by church parishioners. Canvas cots, blankets and pillows were supplied by the Red Cross. Although their shipboard dreams of life in the U. S. A. are far from fulfilled, the refugees are thankful to be permitted to stay and hope soon to begin a normal family existence.

Flight Captain John Hennessy of New Town, Conn., radioed the first word of the situation at 5:30 a.m. He told the startled airlines office here:

"Passenger aboard appears to be in labor. Request have doctor available for arrival Shannon. We have doctor aboard to assist if necessary."

An hour and four minutes later Hennessy called in with the news that the baby was born. When it became apparent that the stork was winning the race, Mrs. Parker was taken into the crew compartment of the plane. A fellow passenger, Dr. Fred Henschel of New York City, attended her. The doctor was assisted by Stewardess Mary Jane Hinkley, 28, of Millville, N. J., a registered nurse.

There were 36 passengers aboard the plane. Midland firemen extinguished a trash fire in the 1000 block on West Storey Street Sunday. No damage resulted.

Exploding Sardine Cans Cause Damage

TUCUMCARI—(AP)—Exploding cans of sardines which burned all day west of Montoya caused damage amounting to nearly $30,000. State police said 60 feet of road also will have to be rebuilt. High wind, a flat tire and an explosion of another tire were listed as causes of the fire which totally destroyed a trailer-load of sardines being transported west. Robert F. Earlywine, 41, Hutchinson, Kan., the truck driver, was uninjured.

Earlywine said that after discovering the fire when he stopped for a flat tire, he uncoupled the cab unit and drove it to safety. State police, the Tucumcari Fire Department and State Highway employees could not extinguish the blaze, fanned by a wind which reached 50 miles an hour.

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991—

A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (Taylor 3991).

7:00 Saved my husband's pocket knife with an early call to Cleo. She found it in his nappy pants before she started our family washing.

"Thanks so much for the lift"

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

"...and thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

This is just one morning's record in the diary Mrs. Sivley kept for five days of all the telephone calls she and her husband made and received. Score for the five days was 25 separate conversations, two of them long distance calls from Austin, the rest local calls. Cost per local call—about two cents.

Like most people, Mrs. Sivley had never realized how much she depended on her telephone to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary—"Thanks for a wonderful bargain."

Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail
And It's A Joke

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, had decided to play a joke on people. He decided it this morning early, far away in the Great Forest.

He had a toy which was really a bank to put money in like a cash register. He held it to his ear and shook it just to be sure that it had no money in it. Oh, the bank was empty. The Huffen was sure, because it made no rattling sound when he shook it, but oh what fun to find it again in his closet.

Away he went with it and out in the forest to play a joke on people. Yes, he walked along the Elephant Path until he came to a place with a large bush to hide beneath. He tied the end of a string to the little bank, and then he crawled beneath the bush with the other end of the string in his hand.

The Huffen waited. He laughed and chuckled to himself while he waited, all because of the joke that was about to happen. Yes, and soon it did happen. There came Old MacDonald who was walking along the Elephant Path. He sang to himself as he walked: "Old MacDonald has a farm! Ee I ee I oh!"

Suddenly he stopped. He stopped both his singing and his walking. What was that he saw on the ground before him? Why, it was a bank, a toy bank, to be sure, but maybe one with money in it. He could use some money, too, maybe to buy a present for himself. He stooped to pick up the bank when oops! There the Huffen had jerked it away with the string.

"It's a joke, it is!" called out the Huffen. "A happy, happy joke for fun!" And the Huffen laughed out loud at the happy, happy joke he had played.

Old MacDonald didn't laugh. He was all disappointed that the bank was not to be his with money. Yes, and Old MacDonald hit the Huffen on top of the head with his hand "Kerbong!"

"It's a joke," said Old MacDonald with a laugh. "Kerbong!" And there he had hit the Huffen again. "Ooooooh!" howled the Huffen, but he wasn't hurt, of course, because he really wouldn't want him to be hurt. But it makes me remember to tell you that what is a joke for one somebody may not be a joke for another somebody at all. Happy day!

'Keep 'Em Flying' Slogan Heard Again

Split apart for overhaul of its jet engine, this F-84 looks as if it wouldn't fly for a long time. But the engine change can be finished in 50 minutes.

FALMOUTH, MASS. — (NEA) — The war-time slogan "keep 'em flying" is in full cry again at Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod.

From its runways roar the F-84 jet fighters of the 33rd Fighter Group, a vital link in the network guarding the northeastern approaches to the United States.

And from its hangars comes the clatter of tools as mechanics work on preventive maintenance, the ounce of prevention that keeps the Thunderjets in the air.

The inspection and servicing cycle begins the minute the 600-mile-per-hour jets taxi into parking position. Because jet fighters cover the same distance as piston-engined fighters, but in less than half the time, servicing operations are doubled on flyable days. To meet flight schedules, perfect teamwork is required from the 1,400 officers and men of the 33rd group.

Fighter time out of commission has decreased sharply since the first Republic F-84 was delivered to the Air Force nearly two years ago.

Then, the new Allison J-35 axial flow type, 4,000-pound thrust engine was removed for inspection every 10 to 25 hours of flying time. Today, after 64,000 hours of flying time by five Thunderjet groups, time between engine changes averages 200 hours and, in the case of one group, 300 hours.

In Short Time

Engine change on the Thunderjet can be accomplished in 50 minutes, even though the plane must be split apart and the tail section removed to get at the power plant. The plane is fabricated from 4,850 pounds of aluminum and 1,300 pounds of steel; 315,000 rivets and countless bolts join the 165,000 individual parts into one structure, but only four bolts have to be removed to split the plane for overhaul.

When the new engine is installed, it is tested while the plane is still in two pieces. At night, the operation looks like a giant blow torch as fire bursts from the tail cone at velocities of nearly twice the speed of sound.

Then the Thunderjet is bolted back together again, ready for the pilot to take over for its share of the 33rd Fighter Group's ounce of prevention.

Byrnes May Enter Governor's Race In South Carolina

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — (AP) — Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes says he may run for governor of South Carolina on the principle of State's Rights.

But his statement Sunday did not refer to the States' Right platform on which Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina ran for the presidency last year.

Breaking silence on his political plans for the first time since he resigned from the cabinet two years ago, Byrnes told the Spartanburg Herald in an interview at his home here.

"A very important question (is) whether one as governor could secure the cooperation of other governors in arousing the people of the nation to hold the line against further encroachments upon the rights of states."

Byrnes recently has been critical of what he called a trend in federal government toward a welfare state. He will address the Southern Governors Conference at Biloxi, Miss., on November 21.

Thurmond's term as governor expires in January, 1951.

Pilot Crawls Away When Plane Spins, Crashes And Burns

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Joe Ray Kemble crawled away from a burning light plane his wife saw spin to earth.

"I don't know how I got out of that plane," the Army Reserve liaison pilot told her Sunday. "I guess the Lord helped me."

Kemble was on a routine training flight and was making his landing approach when the plane went into a spin and caught fire.

Mrs. Kemble and their two children were at Tussell Field waiting for Kemble to land.

"I saw him spin down," she said. "I could see the flames, and then I saw the puff when he hit."

W. P. Robertson and his wife saw Kemble crawling through a barbed wire fence. They drove him to the hospital where he was treated for burns on the face and lower legs and for a scorched face.

Land Purchases By Veterans Delayed

AUSTIN — Bascom Giles, commissioner of the General Land Office and chairman of the newly created Veterans Land Board, said it is doubtful if any land purchases for Texas veterans can be completed before December 1.

"The first bonds will be offered for sale October 26," stated the commissioner, "and there is no reason to anticipate that money will be available for our actual use of at least another 30 days."

"The thousands of inquiries we have received," Giles continued, "and other necessary delays are making us later than we had anticipated. We ask veterans and land owners to bear with us until we have secured the money to complete transactions."

Twin Red Drives To Knock Out Loyalist Government Likely

CHUNGKING — (AP) — Canton slipped quietly into the widening orbit of Red China Monday, said Nationalists asked "Where next?"

Some quarters predicted twin Communist drives to knock out the government once and for all—one against Chungking, the new nationalist capital; the other against Kunning nearly 400 miles southwest.

The Reds already threatened several minor Nationalist positions along the east coast. Official reports said the Communists in a big amphibious operation established a beachhead on the northern corner of Amoy Island, about 900 miles northeast of Canton. About 1,200 others landed at Kulansu, between Amoy and the mainland.

British Steamer Fired On

The British steamer Anhui, carrying 1,400 passengers, was caught in the crossfire of an Amoy artillery duel Sunday. It returned to Hong Kong with three Chinese dead and 24 wounded.

Three U. S. representatives arrived here Monday—first foreign diplomats to reach Chungking since its reestablishment Saturday as the capital. A chartered plane brought U. S. Charge d'Affaires Robert Strong; Second Secretary Robert Rinden and Supervisor of Communications Lawrence Norton.

Press dispatches reported that Gen. Hsueh Yueh, governor of Canton's Kwangtung Province, and other high officials of the provincial government had arrived at Hainan Island.

There was no mention of Gen. Yu Han-Mou, Nationalist military commander of Kwangtung, rumored to have gone over to the conquering Reds.

Six Persons Killed In Crash Involving Two Cars And Horse

PEARIDAY, LA. — (AP) — An automobile slammed into a horse, bounced across the highway and crashed into another car Sunday night, killing six persons and injuring another seriously.

The cars struck with such terrific impact they had to be pulled apart to remove the victims.

One of those killed was Cecil Sydney Camp of Baton Rouge, head of the Hydraulics Engineering Department at Louisiana State University. A woman and two young boys killed in the wreck were identified tentatively as Camp's wife and sons.

The other dead were Francis Mitchell of Fayetteville, Ark., an engineering student at LSU, and Leo Jackson of Rayville, La.

Mabel Fussell, a Winsboro, La., nurse, was hospitalized with serious injuries.

Mother Of Pecos, Pyote Citizens Dies

RANGER — Funeral services were held here Monday for Mrs. Pat J. Ready, 60, who died Saturday in a Ranger hospital of a heart ailment. Interment was in the Catholic Cemetery at Clyde.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK • OCTOBER 16 - 22

This Week . . . take a look at the industry behind the service station where you buy gasoline

As an average American, you probably take it pretty much for granted that the oil industry will supply you with dependable gasolines and motor oils for your car.

Your confidence is well placed. In the 90 years since the Drake well "came in" in Pennsylvania, oil has progressed from "rock oil", a medicine advertised as good for man and beast . . . through an age of kerosene, when petroleum fueled the lamps of the world . . . to the great industry which today supplies you not only with gasoline and motor oil, but also with heating oils . . . with rubber . . . house paint . . . insecticides . . . detergents . . .

plastics . . . cosmetics . . . solvents . . . a list of products too long for printing!

This week, October 16-22, the oil industry specially marks the great progress made since 1859—progress evident in the scientific methods used in the search for oil; progress in the production and conservation of oil; progress in oil refining and the development of new petroleum products; progress in distribution which makes oil products available to every American.

The two million men and women of the industry are proud of its accomplishments; at the same time, they recognize an obligation to you as the customer whose needs have made progress possible, and to the nation which provided the encouragement of an enterprising spirit along every step of the way. In the discharge of that obligation, the oil industry looks at today's progress in terms of your needs for tomorrow.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

This is Progress: Extensive pipe line systems have been developed by the oil industry to transport both crude petroleum and refined products at low cost. Last year Humble Pipe Line Company's 5700 mile trunk line systems handled 278 million barrels of crude oil and finished products.

Rice-Texas Go Is Week's Top

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Rice and Texas tangle Saturday and one or the other must face the music Southern Methodist already has heard. A tie isn't expected in this "big game" of the week in Southwest Conference football.

Southern Methodist University lost to Rice Saturday night 41-27 in a stunning upset. Lost its undefeated, untied record; its prestige as the nation's tenth team, and what could be its chances for a third straight conference championship.

The loser of the Rice-Texas tilt will be like Southern Methodist: a team that hopes it will go the rest of the way undefeated and that someone along the line will trip the one it didn't.

That someone could be Baylor, last undefeated, untied team in the conference. The Bears brushed off Texas Tech 28-7 last week in an interconference game and Saturday take on weak Texas A&M.

Texas won its first conference game 27-14 over Arkansas to share the lead with Rice and Baylor.

Decker Is Okeh
Texas Christian dumped A&M 28-6 to keep its slim chances at the title.

This week, Texas Christian faces Mississippi, Southern Methodist takes on Kentucky, and Arkansas plays Vanderbilt.

Kentucky, undefeated, untied and called by SMU Coach Matty Bell "one of the greatest teams in the country," will make the comeback trail rough for the Mustangs.

"Injured feelings" was about all the physical pain suffered by SMU in its loss to Rice. Bell said All-

America Doak Walker, injured in the third quarter when he was tackled into a paraplegic's wheel chair along the sidelines, was "ok."

"They have nothing to be ashamed of," said Bell of his players. "Rice has a great team."

Bulldogs Open Drills For Coming Odessa Game

The Midland Bulldogs Monday opened a two-week training grind for the game of the season—against Odessa's Bronchos. They have an open date this week before taking on the Red Hosses in Odessa October 28.

Both teams absorbed defeats last week, Midland losing to Sweetwater and Odessa taking a whipping from Abilene.

The Bronchos also have an open date this week.

Coach Tugboat Jones has had the Bronchos scouted plenty and will use every workout to manufacture suitable offensive and defensive maneuvers for the com-

Green's New Gulf Coast Loop Slates Second Meeting

LAKE CHARLES, LA.—(P)—The Gulf Coast Baseball League is in the planning stage.

Representatives of six Louisiana and Texas cities met here Sunday and gave definite commitments to have available requirements for fielding teams.

Lake Charles, Opelousas and Crowley, La., Galveston, Port Arthur and Orange, Texas, were represented.

Howard Green, former president of the Longhorn League in Texas and prime mover in the Gulf Coast League's organization, said another meeting will be held here Sunday.

Stanton Man Repeats As Pistol Champion
AUSTIN.—(P)—Jesse N. Woody of Stanton won eleven matches to take the Ada Zilker Robinson Pistol Shoot held over the weekend. It was his second straight victory.

Mrs. Aline Riley of Shreveport, La., won the women's competition.

Hanson Wins WTO
PORT WORTH.—(P)—Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., upset Medalist Marlene Bauer, Los Angeles, Sunday to win the fourteenth annual Women's Texas Open golf tournament 3 and 2.

JayCee Teams Clash In Donkey Classic Monday

1949's most comical exhibition of baseball will be staged at Indian Park at 8 p.m. Monday. It's the Midland JayCees against the Odessa JayCees in a donkey diamond tilt.

Each player on the field will be mounted on a donkey—all but the pitcher and catcher, that is. All base running will be done on a donkey, subject to the base runner being able to get aboard and hold his seat.

The tilt is a benefit affair. Proceeds will go for the purchase of awards for the winning team in Elementary School sports here.

Midland's lineup, including numerous changes which surely will be made, lists: Doc Johnson, Art Joseph, Ed Anderson, Shorty Parker, John Friberg, Tom Brown, Howard Parks, Jim Turner, George Olives, Doc Brady, Troy Morris, Cliff Hogue, Keith Stewart, Dick McKnight and Charlie Post.

Herschel Esell will be umpire-in-chief. JayCees will assist in other phases of staging the game.

Owls Take On New Role As Favorites In Title Scramble

HOUSTON.—(P)—The Rice Owls found themselves in an unfamiliar role Monday—favorites in mid-October to win the Southwest Conference football championship.

Usually they don't start playing for keeps until November.

Ever since Jess Neely came here from Clemson to coach Rice in 1940, the Owls have been known as the best of the best in the last month of the season. Then they run up big scores, ruin other team's chances.

Getting into condition has been one big trouble. The weather here in September is so hot and humid the boys just can't get in enough work. It's late October before they are on an even basis with other teams of the conference.

But this year it was different. The team members took the thing in hand. They couldn't do much about the weather but they could do something about themselves.

During the summer, two of the team veterans—Center Gerald Weatherly and End James (Froggy) Williams—did some letter writing. The letters went to all the returning footballers. Each was commanded to get ready for the season. And the boys did. They worked on their own during the month of August and reporting for practice September 1, they were the best conditioned Rice squad ever to come to Neely.

The boys got together, decided they were a senior outfit and that it was time to win a title for the old man.

Saturday night the Owls made a giant strike toward that championship when they beat mighty Southern Methodist 41-27 at Dallas. Showing what their conditioning meant, they came back in the last half to lick the Methodists going away. They were behind 14-6 at the half.

Quoth Weatherly after the game: "To tell you the truth, we just decided we liked this Cotton Bowl dressing room. We want to come back on the first of January."

West Texans Shine In All Classes Of Schoolboy Grid War
PORT WORTH.—(P)—Bud Rollins of District 5-A Wink and Buck Gibson of Rising Star, District 11-B, crashed the select ranks of the Port Worth Star-Telegram's weekly high school football honor roll Monday along with Amarillo's Jack Newby and Abilene's Eddie Hodges.

Rollins, 190-pound fullback, ran 13, 18 and 90 yards for touchdowns and carried the ball 23 times for a net gain of 273 yards as Wink defeated Seminole 33-0 in a District 5-A game.

Gibson, star of Rising Star, scored six touchdowns as his team whipped Gorman 39-18 in an 11-B conference game.

Jack Newby, the Amarillo phantom, ran through Dallas Forest three times in the first half and kicked the points from placement as the Sandies rolled to a 35-12 victory.

Rough On Bronchos
Eddie Hodges, Abilene tackle, played havoc with Odessa's offense, blocked two of the Bronchos' punts deep in their territory, one for a touchdown, and set up another Abilene tally the second time as the Eagles ripped out a 39-6 victory.

Marvin Tate, Abilene guard, and Robert Jones, end, were just as annoying to Odessa as Hodges.

Buddy Goode, San Angelo back, ran 19, 24 and returned a punt 62 yards for touchdowns as the Bobcats walloped Cisco 70-7.

Wayne Stroud, Lubbock back, ran 19 and 30 yards for touchdowns as the Westerners brushed aside Pampa 33-20.

Joe Brock, Lubbock tackle, played an outstanding defensive game and blocked a punt which set up the 19-yard touchdown run by Stroud.

Portable Blind
New on the market it protects hunters from chilling rain. Packed in a wooden case, which serves as a seat and carries a small stove and kit, the device opens into a circular shelter 12 feet in circumference and 46 inches high.

Look Out, Arthur Murray

Here comes the Stengel Victory Polka. It's Mr. and Mrs. Casey doing a fancy step at party celebrating the Yankees' World Series triumph.

Notre Dame, Army Stand Out As Top Grid Powerhouses

NEW YORK.—(P)—Notre Dame and Army, two longtime rivals who decided to quit feuding with each other, towered like a pair of colossi over the college football world Monday with no immediate downfall in sight.

Since they don't collide, who is to stop these new, powdered editions of fighting Irish and Black Knights of the Hudson being compared with some of the greatest machines of the past?

Notre Dame has the tougher schedule but it should cause little trouble to the team that man-handled highly-rated Tulane Saturday at South Bend 46-7.

In breaking the backs and hearts of the Dixie powerhouse, the fourth-ranked eleven in the country, Frank Leahy's athletes ran to 32 their string of defeatless games.

The Irish rest this week before tackling Navy October 29 in Baltimore. Then come Michigan State, North Carolina, Iowa, Southern Cal and Southern Methodist in an awesome row.

Astronomical Scores
Army, meanwhile, hurled the "hump" of its schedule a week ago when it smashed Michigan, the defending national champion, 21-7. The Cadets won their fourth of the campaign Saturday by blasting Harvard 54-14.

Both the Irish and Cadets rolled up astronomical scores as if jealously defending their No. 1 and No. 2 positions, respectively, in the national standings, rated weekly by The Associated Press poll.

While Notre Dame and Army were improving their national stature, the sectional pictures were getting into sharp focus with the list of unbeaten, untied major teams reduced to 13.

These emerged after the first month as the top teams in their sections: East—Army, Cornell. Midwest—Notre Dame, Minnesota. Southwest—Oklahoma, Baylor, Rice.

South—North Carolina, Kentucky. Far West—California. Minnesota's Gophers established themselves as the likely guest team in the Rose Bowl by routing Ohio State 27-0 for their fourth straight triumph.

Their big test will come Saturday when they play Michigan. Michigan was one of the victims of "black Saturday" that saw Southern Methodist, UCLA and Villanova rocked from the unbeaten ranks in startling upsets and resurgent Navy battered down by Wisconsin.

The Wolverines bowed to Northwestern's twice-beaten Rose Bowl champions 21-20.

Rice shattered Southern Methodist's winning habits 41-27. Santa Clara stunned UCLA 14-0. Tulsa squeezed out a 21-19 victory over a Villanova team that had won four straight.

The California Bears nailed a strong bid to the Rose Bowl by whipping Southern California 16-10. The Bears play Washington this week and then tackle UCLA October 29 in the game that should tell.

Cornell, not on Army's schedule, emerged as one of the powers of the East by subduing Yale 48-14.

Oklahoma, rated the third best team in the country, kept its escutcheon clean by rolling over Kansas 46-26. Baylor is unbeaten in the Southwest Conference, beating Texas Tech Saturday 28-7.

North Carolina won over Wake Forest 28-14. Kentucky racked up its fifth in a row, beating The Citadel 44-0.

McMurry-ACC Tilt May Determine Texas Loop Champ

By The Associated Press

Brad Rowland, setting a torrid pace in Texas Conference scoring, is one of the chief reasons the McMurry Indians will be favored to move past what may be the last barrier in their path to a second straight championship.

The Indians face Abilene Christian College this week at Abilene. Rowland scored two touchdowns in his team's 39-14 victory over Texas A&I last week to boost his total for the year to ten.

The defeat dropped A&I from the undefeated, untied ranks. ACC lined up for this week's big game by polishing off the University of Tampa 38-14.

Sports Sweethearts Wed In California

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(P)—The sweethearts of sports were married Sunday.

Diving Champion Zoe Ann Olsen, pretty and 18, and big, blond Jackie Jensen, 22, former football star for the University of California and now a baseball bonus player, were wed in Oakland's First Presbyterian Church.

Zoe Ann, formerly of La Porte City, Iowa, is the National Women's AAU diving champion. She has won 14 national diving honors. Jackie, a $75,000 bonus player for Oakland in the Pacific Coast League, was sold last week to the New York Yankees.

They met in 1944 at the Athens Athletic Club swimming pool, where Jensen was a lifeguard. After a honeymoon—destination undisclosed—the couple plans to reside in Oakland.

Nehru Exhausted By Six-Day Whirl

NEW YORK.—(P)—A six-day whirl of greetings, hand-shaking and sightseeing on his goodwill tour of America has India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru just a bit worn.

Grinning tiredly, he told a friend: "No one should have to see America for the first time." This is his first visit.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELburne

The Longhorn League bigwigs will go into session at Abilene's Windsor Hotel Sunday. When they get through with business to be handled it may be an all together different loop.

At least five major points will come up for some action. In addition, several lesser pieces of business will be disposed of at the session.

Possible realignment of clubs in the circuit will be the biggest thing on the slate.

Officials of the Abilene Blue Sox have been given a special invitation to attend the meeting. It is possible other West Texas-New Mexico League clubs will be represented.

Abilene is one of the WT-NM clubs which has indicated it might favor a shift to the Longhorn League.

One or two clubs lost money in last season's campaign and there is an outside chance they may not field a team next season.

Sweetwater, it is reported, had a hard row. They have good backing from Cy Fawcett, however, and he may believe in the future enough to keep going in that fine city.

With the new ball park Sweetwater has, they should show an increase in attendance next season.

George M. Trautman, president of the minor leagues, has advocated the switch of Rowell to the WT-NM League.

A point in favor of such a switch is the fact that Allen, manager and part owner of the Rockets, formerly was connected with a club in that circuit. He may back such a change.

Vernon is the other possible change. But Huntley has indicated time and time again he will move his club.

The change of the Longhorn from Class D to Class C will be another major item for action. Some club officials, including A. D. Ensey of Odessa, seem to be in favor of such a change.

President Hal Sayles has indicated he wouldn't be opposed to such action.

Most of the other clubs have remained silent on the subject.

Raising the class man limit will come up for a vote. We believe the number of class men will be raised to four at least.

The league now allows each club two class men, seven limited service men and the remainder must be rookies.

New officers for the league will be elected. There doesn't seem to be much change in order.

Hal Sayles appears a cinch to return as president.

There has been some objection raised to Harold Webb serving as vice president. This subject may get a little fire from Ensey as it did at the last league meeting.

The starting and closing dates for the 1950 season and the baseball to be used will be decided at the meeting.

With all those things due to come up, it looks like the meeting will be a merry affair.

President Hal Sayles evidently expects it to take up plenty of time. He has called the meeting for 10 a.m.

Two Idalou Cotton Farmers Find Way To Get Job Done

LUBBOCK—(P)—Two Idalou cotton growers with 1,000 acres of mature crop have worked out a way to get it harvested despite the labor shortage.

City Judge Joe M. Hill of Dallas last week fined 34 prisoners $100 each, but suspended sentence if they agreed to go with the two farmers to Lubbock County and pick cotton. The men agreed and went with the farmers, Louis Countess and Delbert Mack Sawyers.

It would be hard to find men who are better workers, Countess said. "Why, last Wednesday five men pulled 2,334 pounds of cotton. They got the prevailing wage rates too."

The former prisoners seemed satisfied too. A strapping negro with several fresh knife wounds on his neck and chest said, "They sure have been treating us nice. We have a nice place to live, plenty to eat and make good money."

The men are free to come and go as they please. But most of them stay in the fields from "can-see to can't-see." Many said Judge Hill's warning not to return to Dallas before Thanksgiving was unnecessary. They intend to stay and work.

AWOL 'Gator

This 10-foot alligator at Neptune Beach, Fla., crossed up the naturalists and went for a salt-water swim in the Atlantic Ocean. Town Marshall James Jarboe captured the 'gator, and after lengthy deliberation, sentenced it to the city zoo.

Mexican Lad Real Believer In Good Neighbor Policy

OKLAHOMA CITY—(P)—Dolores, a Mexican lad, adheres strictly to the good neighbor policy.

That's what a young Oklahoma City National Guard flier says about him.

James Rianer made a forced landing recently about 150 miles south of the Mexican border.

He made it to Tampico on horseback and by truck. Before he left he asked Dolores to keep an eye on the plane until he got back.

Dolores took him at his word. Two weeks passed before Army officials ordered the stranded plane picked up by a cargo plane.

When the six-man crew reached the beach-ridden fighter plane, Dolores popped out from the shade of the wings.

He'd been there 14 days. The airman learned that friends brought him food and drink while

Teen-Ager Shoots Brother 'To Put Him Out Of His Misery'

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Police Monday said a 15-year-old boy killed his 10-year-old brother who lay groaning from an accidental bullet wound suffered only moments before "to put him out of his misery." Dead with two bullets in his head is Robert James Elliott, 10. His brother, Richard Manning Elliott, 15, is booked on suspicion of murder. Police Lieutenant Edward Ream gave this account: The two brothers, alone in their home Sunday night, watched a Western movie on television. Afterwards, the older boy showed his brother an old-fashioned 32 caliber revolver he had bought from a school friend for $6 and had kept secretly in his room. As he took the gun from a drawer, it went off. "Robert fell down groaning," Richard said, adding: "I couldn't stand to see him suffer like that. x x x I shot him again in the head to put him out of his misery."

Two Die As Enraged Landlord Goes On Wild Shooting Spree

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—(P)—An enraged landlord killed a woman tenant, wounded her husband and baby, fired on two ambulance drivers and then killed himself Sunday. Police blamed the shooting spree on an argument over heating the tenants' apartment.

Coroner J. L. Hilderbrand called it murder-suicide and said no further inquest will be held.

Detective Captain Marcus Hancock said Frank E. Cheney, 53-year-old postal clerk, killed himself after slaying Mrs. Hazel Greer, 22, and wounding Floyd E. Greer, 26, and David Greer, 11 months. Greer is an aero-mechanics student.

The detective captain quoted Mrs. Cheney as saying her husband "was pretty much crazy, and kept two guns and some dynamite in the house."

"I was afraid something like this would happen," she sobbed.

The law prohibits payment of veterans' benefits unless the school involved has been in operation "on its own" for at least a year, and unless it has been approved by an appropriate state agency.
