Plane Search

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — An electronic crash signal was located today in the Olympic Mountains of western Washington where a missing Air Force Military Airlift Command aircraft with 16 persons aboard was last heard from late Thursday, officials say.

The signal was reported in an area 40 miles northwest of Seattle.

Air Force rescue officials say they have not yet determined whether the signal is coming from the missing C141 Starlifter which vanished from radar screens only minutes before its estimated arrival time at McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, some 30 miles south of Seattle.

The plane was last reported near Mt. Deception, elevation 7,798 feet, in an area reporting low clouds and rain at lower elevations and snow at higher elevations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief U.S. Postal Inspector William J. Cotter says in testimony released today that he was ordered in 1969 to allow the Central Intelligence Agency to continue monitoring private mail to and from the Soviet Union even though he tried to halt the practice.

SECRET SESSION But Cotter said he did succeed in getting the practice halted four years later.

Cotter told the House civil rights subcommittee in a secret session last Tuesday that former Postmaster General Winton Blount, after meeting with then-CIA Director Richard Helms, ordered him to allow the CIA inspections to continue in 1969.

But Cotter said he finally told the CIA to "get superior approval for this thing or discontinue it" by Feb. 15, 1973.

"They suspended it, and that's the end of the project," Cotter said. "And that's the story."

Cotter said he understood that when he first objected then-Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell also "was briefed and thought — I understand — the project was fine."

Cotter also said he thought the White House knew of the CIA mail surveillance over the years, but that he did not know for sure.

COPIED

The CIA has said it inspected mail to and from some Communist nations for 20 years, starting in 1953, and Cotter testified that former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and J. Edward Day were told about it.

However, Cotter indicated that he did not think that Summerfield and Day knew that some of the letters would actually be opened.

CIA agents went through sacks of U.S. mail to and from the Soviet Union at what is now John F. Kennedy International Airport and opened and copied some of the letters, Cotter said.

The CIA also monitored mail to and from mainland China at San Francisco but were not authorized to open any letters, Cotter said.

He said it is possible foreign mail was monitored by the CIA in other cities as well but that he does not know for certain.

Cotter, a former CIA agent, told the subcommittee that he learned about 1955 that letters were being opened by the CIA at the New York airport and that he began trying to halt the operation when he became chief U.S. postal inspector in 1969.

Cotter said he told Helms he wanted the mail surveillance either approved by high authority or halted.

Three days later, he said, Blount called him and said, "I had a meeting with your former boss and carry on with the project."

"I'M AMAZED" Cotter said he finally told the CIA in 1973 to "get superior approval for this thing or discontinue it."

"They suspended it, and that's the end of the project," Cotter said.

CIA Director William E. Colby, in disclosing the operation earlier this year, said it was conducted from 1953 until February 1973.

Jury Convicts Ex-Hunt Aides

DALLAS (AP) — Sentencing has been set for April 18 for two former aides of late oil billionaire H.L. Hunt who were convicted Thursday by a U.S. District Court jury of three counts each of mail fraud.

John W. Curington and John H. Brown pleaded innocent to charges that they took kickbacks from Hunt's HLH Products Co., a dummy food brokerage firm. The charges resulted from allegations that the men received $5,000 in checks through the mail from fake brokerage firms.

Both defendants testified during the four-day trial that they had received more than $300,000 through the dummy companies, with Hunt's blessings, so he could pay them lower salaries.

But Assistant U.S. Attorney Jim Rolfe said the pair had "seriously Subcommittee Chairman Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., announced Thursday that he planned to release Cotter's testimony today if the Justice Department supplied no substantive objection.

Long Hair Rap Axed By Army

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army today dropped charges against a lieutenant who refused to obey an order to cut his long hair.

The Army said it called off the trial of 1st Lt. Matthew R. Carroll, 27, of El Paso, Tex., after he offered to leave the service on an honorable discharge.

The Army also agreed to give him $3,600 severance pay and let him continue to wear his hair long during the three weeks he is being processed out of uniform.

"It's a very great personal victory," Carroll told newsmen. "The haircut question has not been answered, but I've done everything I can do except to go to jail."

He said he requested the discharge because "I have a family and certain responsibilities I cannot ignore."

"I am sure soldiers won't leave the hair issue alone," he added. "In fact, I'd like to throw out the ball for them to carry on with it."

Pretrial proceedings for Carroll started in December, but his case had not come to trial before a general court-martial.

Senators Vote To Retain 55-Mile Speed Limit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senators have voted to go along with a congressional mandate to continue the 55 miles per hour speed limit, but next week promises plenty of jousting with the House over the subject.

The bill passed the Senate on voice vote Thursday and returns to the House, which probably will request negotiations over a Senate amendment — seemingly innocuous — that requires the Texas Highway Commission to review the need for the limit every 120 days.

Both houses must approve the bill by a two-thirds vote to place it in effect by April 1, the date the current speed law expires, and keep Texas foursquare with federal law requiring the limit.

Failure to continue the supposedly energy-saving limit would lose Texas some $300 million a year in federal highway aid.

The Senate amendment was added in the hope that the House ultimately would give the bill the needed 100 votes when it comes back up on a conference committee report after negotiations with the Senate.

House members deliberately refused to give the bill that two-thirds majority. They wanted to use their power over the bill as leverage to obtain Senate approval of a House bill minimizing penalties for speeding between 55 and 70 m.p.h. The bill would limit combined fines and court costs to $25 and prohibit the use of such tickets on one's driving record or to raise his car insurance rates.

Tax Break For 'Poor'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears on the verge of passing a $30-billion tax cut bill designed to stimulate the economy while providing some immediate and long-term tax relief to most American families.

OIL TAXES After removing parliamentary roadblocks and voting higher taxes on major oil companies, the Senate aimed to pass the bill today. That schedule would allow a Senate-House conference to work out final details of the bill and have it sent to President Ford for his signature by Wednesday.

After opening the Senate at the unusually early hour of 8 a.m. today, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield accused White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen of sowing "turmoil and confusion" between President Ford and Congress.

Mansfield, D-Mont., objected to Nessen's comment Thursday at a briefing for reporters that the President feels it is strange that senators who are about to go off on vacation ... have not taken a vote on the tax cut. The Congress seems to be playing to the gallery."

IVORY TOWER Mansfield pointed to totally empty galleries in the Senate chamber and said: "I would suggest to Mr. Nessen that he leave his ivory tower

Farm Bill Is Pushed In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee, acting with unusual haste, approved today a farm bill that opponents say could raise the prices of dairy products by $495 million within a year.

The Senate panel used a measure passed less than 24 hours earlier by the House as the basis for its bill. It accepted most of the House bill but raised government support for the dairy and cotton industries.

It also made the bill effective over three years, rather than one, as in the House measure.

By acting quickly, the committee hoped the bill could be taken up by the full Senate early next week, before it begins an Easter recess.

Because the Senate version differs from that approved by the House, there was little likelihood that a bill could be approved by a conference committee before the recess began delaying its delivery to President Ford.

and come up and see how full the galleries are he says we're playing to."

Later, Mansfield told a reporter he believes Nessen "is trying to create turmoil and confusion between the two branches when by and large the desire of Congress is to cooperate with the President."

The tax relief would be felt by mid-May, when the Treasury Department would mail 1974 tax rebates of up to $240 to taxpayers across the nation.

Senators planned to consider a dozen amendments to the bill today, but the final Senate version of the tax cut is expected to provide:

—$10 billion in rebates on 1974 taxes, with almost all families assured of a minimum $120 check and a maximum $240.

—An additional $1.7 billion refund for working families whose earned income totals less than $8,000 this year. This "earned-income credit" would be 10 per cent of taxable income up to a maximum credit of $400.

3 Cosden Workers Injured In Blast

Three Cosden employees were injured in an explosion of an air line in the W.R. Grace and Co. ammonia plant around 6 p.m. Thursday.

Garrison Walker is in the most serious condition, suffering from second and third degree burns to his arms and legs and posterior portion of the body. He is in Medical Center Hospital and will be transferred to the new Malone-Hogan Hospital Saturday, and is in isolation to avoid infection.

A company spokesman said that Jimmy Hooper received burns on his ankles, just above his shoe tops, and is also hospitalized. Both of these men were working outside on the line when it exploded.

M.O. Roberts was inside the control room and received a cut on the lip when the glass shattered. He has been treated and dismissed.

The explosion caused a loud noise, a flash fire and stirred up a lot of dust. It was quickly brought under control when the unit and valves were shut off, because there was no fuel feeding the fire. Cosden officials stated: "There was to be a full investigation of the accident today."

Jack Smith, public relations representative for Cosden stated, "We are thankful that there were no more serious injuries in the accident."

Cosden is contracted to operate the unit for Grace and Co.

Water Board Sets Proposed Rates

By TROY BRYANT COAHOMA — The Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 adopted a set of water rates and regulations "just in case we go into the water business", at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors Thursday night.

Some citizens of the Sand Springs community formally requested that the board take over the sale and distribution of their water from the City of Coahoma.

The water district is currently attempting negotiations with the City for the purchase of water lines and meters in the Sand Springs area.

Water district rates set were $4 minimum rate for the first 3,000 gallons and $90 per 1,000 gallons thereafter. Regulations call for an additional $4 minimum for meters serving two houses.

The City of Coahoma is currently charging $5.50 minimum for 2,000 gallons and $1 per 1,000 gallons thereafter.

In other action the board: — Selected Dorothy Baker, water district office manager, as an alternate delegate to the Tax Appraisal Board.

— Voted to annex three half section areas to the district at the request of property owners in those areas and set a hearing for April 24 in the water district office to determine if an election on the matter will be held.

The water district buys treated water from the City of Big Spring and sells it to the City of Coahoma, who distributes it inside the city and in the Sand Springs area.

The World At-A-Glance

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP) — Super-loud rock music is a health hazard and may be illegal under certain conditions, according to safety consultant Randall Davidson, who heads a private firm here called the International Safety Institute. He says he has measured the sound levels at hundreds of nightclubs and discotheques across the country, where he says bands often play at a decibel level between the rumble of a subway train and the roar of a jet plane at takeoff. In numbers, that comes out above the allowable limit of 115 decibels for 15 minutes specified under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Standards Act of 1970, he says.

NEW RIVER, Ariz. (AP) — Nine-year-old Terry Bruhn, suffering pain and disfigurement from leukemia, has found acceptance among other residents of a nudist colony here. "Nude people accept you for what you are," said Terry's mother, Mrs. Dallas Bruhn, 32. "Like when Terry's hair came out — they couldn't care less about Terry's hair. But when you go out on the outside, people just stare." Terry, thin, but alert, is losing her hearing and eyesight. She knows she is dying from acute myeloblastic leukemia. "I won't be here for my birthday (June 1) because I am going to die," she said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In only one week, U.S. intelligence has drastically changed its Vietnam assessment and now believes the North Vietnamese offensive is having a devastating effect on South Vietnam's military position. Reflecting the changed view, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said Thursday the North Vietnamese army is embarked on a major offensive and is "proceeding to invade at a very high pace."

SAN DIEGO (AP) — C. Arnholt Smith, once a powerful banker and backer of Republican causes, has been convicted of two counts of instigating illegal campaign contributions to former California Republican Sen. George Murphy.

The offenses are misdemeanors. He could be fined $5,000 on each. The six-man, six-woman jury which convicted Smith Thursday failed to reach a verdict on two other counts involving alleged corporate contributions to former President Richard M. Nixon's campaign.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA is believed to have recovered at least two nuclear torpedo warheads in its effort last summer to raise wreckage of a Soviet submarine that sank in the Pacific Ocean, The Washington Post reported today.

REFUGEES INJURED IN STAMPEDE — A Vietnamese family injured in a traffic stampede in the Hai Van Pass Thursday receives aid at the side of the road. More than 60 persons have been killed and an unknown number injured in traffic accidents as tens of thousands of refugees pour south in the wake of the abandonment of South Vietnam's two northern provinces.

Bartlett, assistant chief of police at Brownfield, will replace Chief J.P. Bobo who has resigned effective March 31.

NTSU Math Program Suspended

DALLAS (AP) — Admissions to a doctoral math program at North Texas State University at Denton were suspended after two state reports revealed enrollment and grade manipulations, the Dallas Times Herald said today.

The Legislative Budget Board (LBB), one of the investigators, recommended the doctoral program be phased out of NTSU's curriculum. The recommendation supported an earlier report by the state auditor's office.

Among the findings of the investigators were:

- Some students were recruited for the program to bring enrollment to the mandatory five "with no particular expectancy the student would really attend the class."

- At least one student was given a grade of "A" despite lack of attendance because he normally made the high grade in other classes.
- Some students who signed up for the program took a different class but were given a grade in the course for which they registered.

"With such a small enrollment, the department had to resort to student manipulation in order to be able to offer necessary organized classes, meet small class requirements and justify the existence of the program," the LBB said in its report.

Ezzell Opposes Utility Board

AUSTIN — State Rep. Mike Ezzell, Snyder, said Wednesday that he is leaning against the formation of a statewide utility regulation commission at this time.

He is one of 17 legislators on the State Affairs Committee which will hold two weeks of hearings on proposed utility regulation bills beginning March 26. He said, "It has the potential of becoming another government bureaucracy."

Ezzell said, however, that a bill with a "local option feature," giving a city the opportunity to submit to state regulation voluntarily, might receive a more favorable estimate from him.

"The problem," he said, "has been that smaller cities don't have the expertise to deal with the utility industry."

He has heard very little from his own constituents on the matter. Only about a half a dozen letters have been received, all supporting the measure.

How does life look to your child?

Your child may be seeing life exactly the way it is. But he could be getting a completely distorted view and never know the difference. That's because he's never looked at life any other way.

You simply can't take good vision for granted. Regular professional eye examinations are as important as routine physicals. And the time to find out if your child is seeing life as he should is before he starts back to school.

If eyewear is needed, depend on TSO to fill the doctor's prescription to the exact specifications. And you can choose from a wide variety of good-looking frames that are as durable as they are stylish. The cost is reasonable, too.

We know you want your child to see life at its best. So do we. At TSO, we care how you look at life.

Flowering Vines Add Interest

One way to add color and variety to your home landscape is with annual flowering vines, says one expert in landscape horticulture.

"All that is needed to grow flowering vines is a wooden lattice, woven wire fencing or string to support the plants," says Everett Janne with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "These vines can be used to shade a porch or add color and interest to a particular area."

Among annual flowering vines that are attractive in home landscapes are morning glories, cathedral bells, moonflowers, nasturtiums, canary birds, gourds, cypress vines and black-eyed Susans.

The morning glory is colorful with white, blue or red flowers. It grows to a height of up to 15 feet.

Start the vines in four-inch pots and transplant them two or three weeks after the usual last frost date. Be sure they are planted in a well-drained, sunny location, emphasizes Janne.

"Don't plant morning glories in rich soil or use fertilizer, as this will produce vigorous vines but few flowers," says the horticulturist with the Texas A&M University System.

Cathedral bells grow up to a height of 20 feet and produce bell-shaped, blue or violet flowers. "These vines are free of insect and disease problems and can be planted in either a sunny or shady spot," says Janne.

The moonflower vine is also tall-growing and produces large white fragrant flowers which open during the evening. It also has large heart-shaped leaves that provide a dense shade.

Nasturtiums are bushy vines that grow four-to-five feet tall and produce fragrant red or yellow flowers. They prefer a well-drained soil of low or average fertility.

COMPANION PLANTING — Tall Snapdragons and medium and dwarf marigolds make a colorful, long lasting companion planting.

Diseases, Pests Come Alive In Warm Weather

Cold weather won't destroy organisms that cause plant diseases. They just wait until warm, wet spring weather comes, then go back to work. Just as the plants they attack become dormant in winter, so do the diseases.

You can get rid of some by knowing where and how they spend the winter. Among the most common wintering places are fallen leaves and dead or drying twigs.

Remove and destroy or compost plant tops and surrounding leaves or spade them under. However, do not compost diseased plants because you might end up putting the same disease back in your garden. Remove and destroy badly diseased plants.

In fall and winter cut out and destroy dead wood and all tissues showing signs of disease, cutting well below injured areas.

Your clean-up campaign should include removal of decayed fruit, nuts and other debris along with leaves and twigs.

WEED CONTROL

It is well worth controlling weeds after garden crops have been harvested. Keep up the eradication effort as long as weeds continue to grow. Otherwise, you are making it easier for weeds to take over next spring.

In small gardens, you might find the best way to get rid of weeds is through cultivation with a hoe or garden tiller. In larger gardens, cultivate with a disc, harrow or plow to battle weeds. If you use chemicals, don't plant vegetables for at least six months.

Our Extension agent suggests weed control along the edges of the garden. This can help prevent seeds from being blown into the garden.

CHECK HOUSEPLANTS
When you brought your houseplants indoors after their refreshing summer in the garden did you check them for insect pests? If you didn't you may have some unwelcome house guests, such as ants, aphids, spider mites, springtails and whiteflies.

If you let them get established on your plants, getting rid of them may be troublesome. Ants may invade plant pots and damage roots by burrowing. If your plants are infested with aphids, mealybugs or scale, ants may come along to feed on the honey dew the other insects secrete.

Aphids usually cluster on the undersides of leaves where they suck juices from plants, causing poor growth, stunting and leaf curling.

You may not notice tiny spider mites until they cover a plant with silky webbing. You'll find them on the underside of leaves first; then they fan out. They also feed on plant juices. Signs of injury are whitish or yellowish speckled areas on leaf tops. Then the leaves appear yellowed or bronzed and may drop from the plant. Plants heavily infested become stunted and may die.

Recommended for white flies, spider mites and aphids is spraying or dipping plants into a malathion solution.

Thoroughly wash or clean infested plants. You might have to give some plants several chemical baths. To eliminate ants and springtails treat the soil and plants.

To treat the top of plants, turn the plant upside down and dip into the solution for a few seconds. To hold the soil in the pot, fashion a cardboard disc.

Best Fruit Trees Here

For your guidance, a two-page sheet at the county agent's office will tell you about fruit and nut varieties for this area.

For instance, some of the best pecans are Apache, Choctaw, Mohawk, Western Schley, Wichita.

Early peaches include Springold (climber mid-May), Dixired (climber, early June), Ranger (free one, late June), Redglobe (freestone, early July), Redskin (freestone, late July).

Plums include Bruce for early yield, Methley for early June, Santa Rosa (large red fruit) in late June.

Grape varieties are Thompson seedless, Fredonia, Schiebel 9110. Pears are Orient, Garber, Kieffer.

Apricot are Bryan and Wilson.

Apples are Holland golden or yellow delicious.

Book Tells What To Put On Your Lawn

Knowing when to put what on the lawn is a problem for many homeowners, faced with the myriad of products available today. To reduce confusion and help the shopper get more value per dollar spent, O.M. Scott & Sons has published a concise eight page booklet, "1975 Guide to a Better Lawn."

A free copy is available at most retail stores carrying Scott's lawn products. Or it can be obtained by writing to Scott's, Dept. LG, Marysville, Ohio 43040.

Fertilizing? Find Out What Your Soil Needs

Thinking about fertilizing? There's always one good starting point — a soil sample to find out what — if anything, your soil needs.

If this can't be done, then you can hardly go wrong on barnyard manure or other natural fertilizers. Some types such as chicken or sheep manure are more apt to burn and should be well rotted and applied in moderation.

You need to know, also, what the label on the fertilizer bag means. Most will have the letters N (nitrogen), P (phosphorus or phosphates) and K (potassium or potash). If the label on a 50-lb. bag says 12-12-12, it has 36 lbs. divided nutrients, equally. If the label says 10-6-4, that means 20 pounds of the nutrients in the 50-lb. bag. Other elements (hydrogen, oxygen, extenders, etc. make up the other weight).

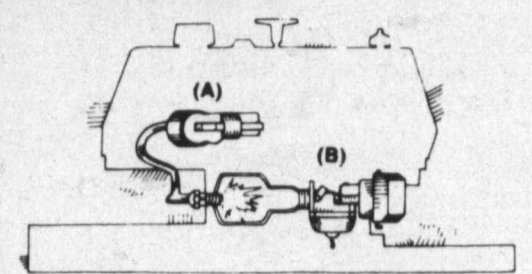

But suppose the bag says apply 100 pounds to the acre. Then you can pick up a folder at the extension service office which is entitled "Fertilizer Conversion Tables," for lawns, gardens and flower beds. Thus, the 100 pounds per acre is converted to 2½ pounds for 1,000 square feet or ¼ lb. for 100 square feet. Another table will convert the label rates from square feet to linear feet of rows (of varying widths).

More for Lesh

By CLARK LESHER

Leadership helps mold a championship club. The Steer baseballers fall into that category.

Lawrence Byrd started talking it up in the fourth against Abilene here Tuesday. Big Spring bats were heard loud and clear in the fifth. Four runs thundered home.

Big Spring head coach Larry Horton has confidence in his club. The Steers have confidence in themselves. Tied 6-6 in the sixth against the Eagles, Horton asked Pat Carroll before Barry Canning completed his sacrifice bunt, could he swing away with authority. Carroll said, "Yes." The pitcher-second baseman stepped to the plate and doubled in Albert Alvarez for the winning run.

Horton says his club has the drive to make a run for the 5-4A flag. A win over Midland here Saturday would certainly put Big Spring in the pole position.

If the weather is favorable, the Steer Park stands should be filled to capacity. The game with Abilene High in Steer Park was watched before the largest crowd in three years. Steer fans must sense a champion in the making.

Snyder's Speedy Moffitt, who has coached Snyder baseball for over 20 years, says the 5-4A league looks pretty evenly balanced. Besides playing Big Spring, the Tigers have gone up against Midland High, Midland Lee, Abilene Cooper and Abilene High.

Jack Barber, district Little League administrator for Big Spring, Midland and Lamesa, is attending an International Baseball Congress meeting today through Tuesday in Chicago.

The area covers the United States and 31 foreign countries. Barber is one of 574 administrators present. His work is volunteer. Barber's elected term is for three years.

John Arrick announces plans are being made for the annual Easter Seals Invitational Basketball Tournament tentatively agreed on for March 27-28-29.

Teams expressing interest include five from Big Spring, besides San Angelo, Abilene, Midland, Lamesa and Coahoma. Arrick said Coahoma definitely wanted to enter a team.

San Angelo took home championship laurels last year.

The City of Midland swim team recently purchased a school-type bus for travel engagements. In the past, COM swimmers traveled in rented buses or family cars.

University of Texas — El Paso junior center Gary Brewster of Midland was named to the first team All-WAC conference team.

Brewster lead the Miners in both rebounding and scoring while helping the team to a 20-6 overall mark, including an appearance in the NCAA first round playoffs.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPT — Sportscenter Joe Gargolia said, "I don't care if they call me 'baldie' and 'chrome dome.' God took an eraser and brushed my head clean. It's me. I'd rather be bald on top than bald inside."

Girl Thinclads To Canyon Reef

Christy Price's Big Spring girls track team, Seminole Invitational champs last weekend, will be a threat for honors at the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder Saturday.

Big Spring scored four first places. The 880-yard relay foursome crossed the finish line ahead of the field as well as Michelle Couvillion in the 220, Connie Jackson, triple jump, and Michelle Cox, shot and discus.

Big Spring scored 19 second to seventh place finishes and will enter the same number of entries in Snyder.

Entries include: 80-yard hurdles: Liz Warren, Libby Lee, Ithy Brashears; 40 — Becky Ragan, Warren, Day Williams; 80 — Jackie Jackson, Sheri Hoggard, Chris Smith; 220 — Michelle Couvillion, Brashears, Jennifer Brien; 440 — Andia Long, Judy McCormick, Cindy Wiley; 880 — Linda Lester; 440 relay — Couvillion, Ragan, Williams, Jackson; 880 relay — Couvillion, Ragan, Lester, Jackson, mile relay — McCormick, Wiley, Brien, Andia Long; high jump — Ragan, Vicki Jenkins, Suzanne Johnson, triple jump — Jackson, Ragan, Grashsears; long jump — Jackson, Jenkins, Brashears.

DISTRICT LEADER BS Out To Place Muzzle On 'Dogs

Big Spring, standing on top of the 5-4A baseball standings with a 1-0 record, will be out to enhance its flag chances here at 1 p.m. Saturday in Steer Park. The named opponent is Midland High. Big Spring's head coach Larry Horton will start Mike Harris, 0-1. The Steers surprised pre-season forecasters by bouncing Abilene High, 7-6, in the opening game of the 5-4A season. For the year, Big Spring stands at 5-5, and will be working toward three wins in a row. Midland, 8-7, lost its 5-4A opener to Permian, 3-2, Tuesday. All runs on both sides were scored on errors. A total of 10 were committed, five on each side.

Permian deciding runs were plated in the fifth. The crucial Mojo blow came on an outfield bobbie. Permian is defending champs.

Alex Kager was credited with the Permian decision.

He has been an all-district pick for the past two years. Kager recently struck out 21 Monahans batters, but lost to the Class AAA Lobos, 8-7, in 11 innings.

Clelland Pearce, shortstop and catcher Terry Copeland lead the Bulldog offense with .356 and .347 averages. First baseman Karl Brosig is hitting at a .341 clip and Bruce Smith shows a .340.

Ray Don Box's bat is the hottest among Steer batters. He is smacking the ball at .444, followed closely by Barry Canning and Kent Newson, .333 each.

Pat Carroll, 3-1, sports the best Steer hurling record. In other games played pre-season favorite Cooper nipped San Angelo, 7-6, and Midland Lee bounced Odessa High, 13-5.

Saturday's schedule: Midland at Big Spring, San Angelo at Lee, Permian at Abilene, and Cooper at Odessa.

Westerners Head Into Semifinals

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Southern Idaho faces Utah, Miss., and Western Texas battles DeKalb in Georgia in tonight's semifinals of the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

Two of the clubs advanced in Thursday's action. Jarvis Reynolds put DeKalb in tonight's show by tipping in a basket with one second remaining for a 77-76 triumph over Arizona Western.

Western Texas made the grade by ripping San Jacinto of Texas 79-70 behind Bob Miller's 35-point performance.

Utah and Southern Idaho both were idle Thursday. All other action Thursday involved scraps for consolation honors. Hutchinson routed Essex of New Jersey 99-75. Anderson, S.C., tripped Housatonic of Connecticut 78-69. Grandview of Iowa beat Waukesha County of Wisconsin 92-78, and Westchester of New York ousted Vincennes of Indiana 70-54.

Consolation games today sent Hutchinson against Lake Land, Anderson against Grandview and San Jacinto against Arizona Western.

Seven seconds before Reynolds' winning shot, Al Green put Western out front with a free throw. Green was the game's high scorer with 31 points. Mike Dickerson had 28 for DeKalb.

Miller, playing for Western Texas, connected consistently on 20 and 30-footers against San Jacinto, the tourney's No. 2 seed. Ray Williams made 26 points for San Jacinto.

Larry Rhodes was the big man for Westchester, hitting for 23 points and collecting 11 rebounds. Dale Slaughter made 15 points and Ron Raylor had 11 rebounds for Vincennes.

Meeting Slated

Frank Rubio, manager, announces that the Big Spring Cardinal semi-pro baseball team will meet Saturday at 4 p.m. at 621 N.W. 4th.

Coaches and players are urged to attend. First game for the Cards is scheduled for April 6th, against Odessa Angels, there.

Step Up Rabbit Chasing

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz recently chided writers, consumers and congressmen, contending they have been chasing the wrong rabbit on food prices. Farmers get only 39 percent of the consumer's food dollar while 61 percent goes to pay for the spread between the farm price and retail price. Secretary Butz says we should chase the 61 percent rabbit.

He's got a point there. If you are going to do any significant cutting on anything, you have to whittle on the big end.

But perhaps we ought to keep after both rabbits, and one way is by stepping up research and development. The R&D budget this year is around $20 billion, but it's more like $13 billion in dollars of 1967 when the R&D outlay was $16.5 billion.

Agriculture has been getting less and less of the R&D dollar. In 1940 when a mere $74 million was spent in research by the federal government, 40 percent went to agriculture. By 1964 this had dropped to 1.5 percent of an estimated $15 billion.

It is estimated that $150 billion is spent annually for food in this country. One third goes to the farmer; one third for physical distribution; one-third for non-physical aspects of marketing and distribution.

Certainly we need to step up, rather than diminish, our agricultural research that not only will lead to greater and more efficient productivity, but equally important the preservation of our soil resources which are the foundation of it all. We must keep the farmer in business.

Also, more research needs to go into lowering the spread necessary for distribution and for marketing. More direct or more efficient delivery systems may offer hope of lesser food costs without making the farmer bear his historic burden.

In the 20-year period ending in 1972, farm prices rose but 4 percent, yet retail food prices climbed by 27 percent. Thus, 96 percent of the rise in food prices was due to the marketing costs or margins. Everyone knows from experience at the market that it's worsened since then.

We had best step up our rabbit chasing.

It's As Simple As That

A fundamental fact of business life was enunciated recently by Leonard Woodcock, president of United Mine Workers, in the NBC Meet The Press program. Wouldn't cutting prices stimulate sales?

Woodcock hedged, but he said that the answer would have to be a "probable yes, but it can't be done on a loss basis."

Even though prices had been advanced sharply, he observes that "the margins (profits) aren't there out of which to do this (cut prices). That is why I think they are taking the rebate course rather than a permanent cut."

"You can't cut prices over too long a term if you are losing on every car that is sold."

It's as simple as that. Any enduring or real cuts will have to result in lower costs, which includes materials, labor and other factors. Something's got to give somewhere.

My Answer

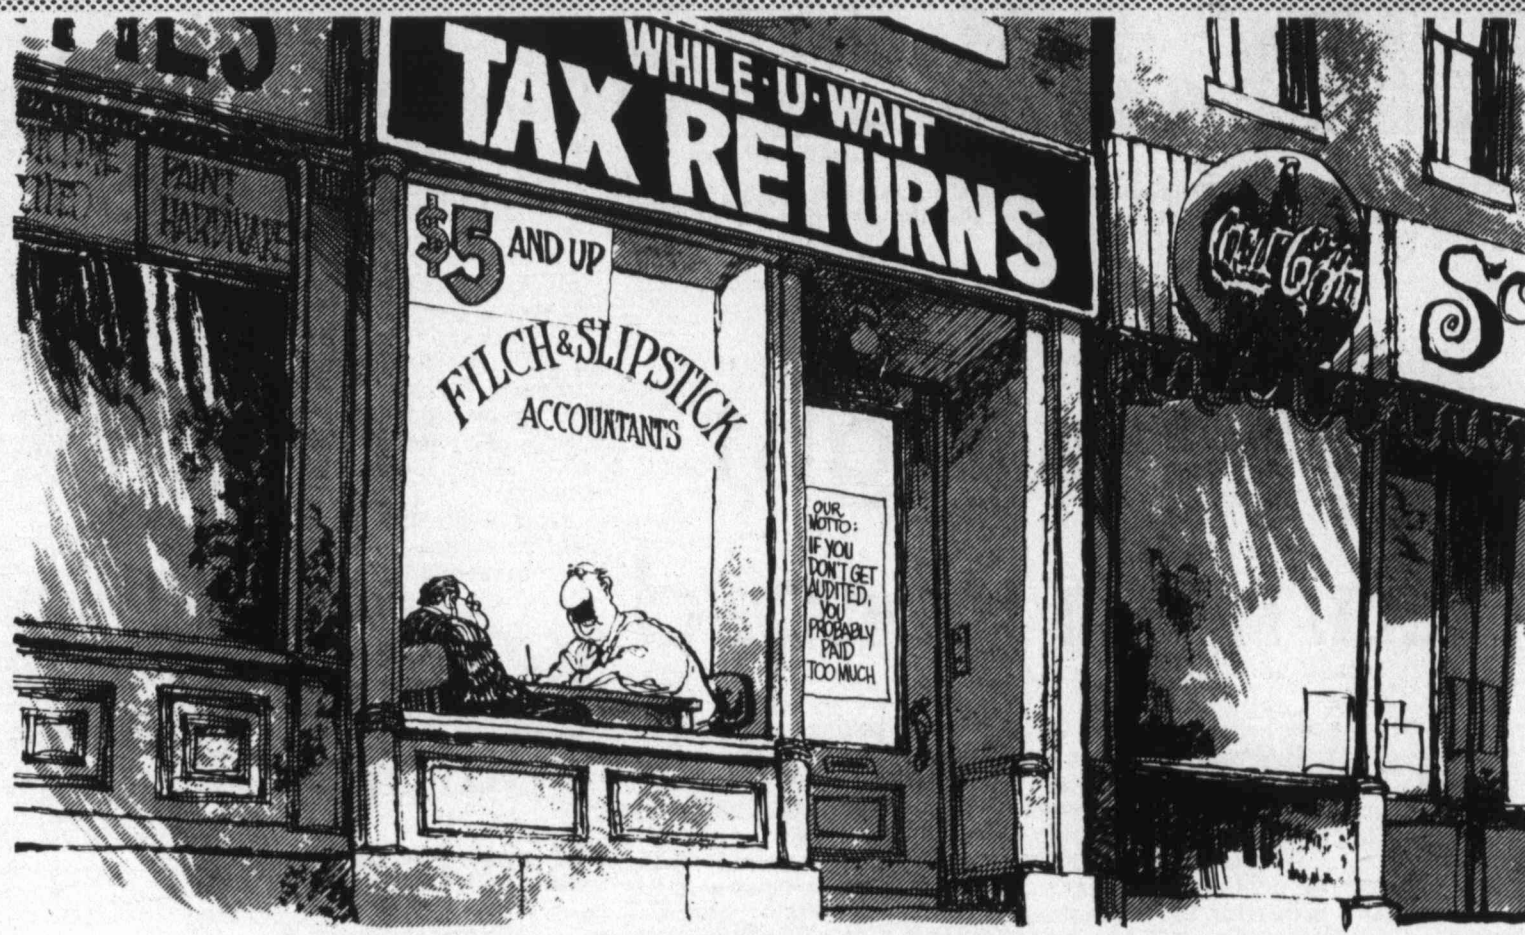

Billy Graham

Something has puzzled me for quite a long time. The Bible says that first God created light, and later created the sun. Now in my school science class, we learned that the sun produces all the light and heat we know. Now who's right?

The evolution of the cosmos was accomplished by a series of divine works which extended over a period of six successive days, however we define that last term. In these labors, there is a progression apparent that culminates in God's saying that with the creation of man, "it was very good." (Genesis 1:31).

How about assuming that the cosmic light created on day one — and which had continued like a luminous atmosphere, was subsequently broken up — for adaptation to the purposes of man's existence. On the fourth day (Genesis 1:14-19) then, the light originally produced was concentrated and permanently fixed. There were now stars, and the sun and the moon.

Remember, however, the object of Biblical revelation is not to teach astronomy but faith in Christ. There is no clash, however, between true science and true faith. Make it a

"I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN—LISTEN, SOMETIMES EVEN I GET CONFUSED BY ALL THESE NUMBERS AND THAT FEDERAL GOBBLEDYGOOK.... NOW WHAT'S YOUR BUSINESS ADDRESS, MR. GREENSPAN?"

Two Trails

Robert Novak

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — While Gov. George C. Wallace's political operatives methodically prepare for Democratic presidential primaries, they are also working backstage to insure he can be on all 50 state ballots as nominee of his old American Independent Party.

THIS REFLECTS the two-track Wallace strategy. Track No. 1 seeks Democratic convention delegates, mainly through primaries. Since his nomination even for vice president remains remote, Track No. 2 comes into play: leaving the Democratic convention in high dudgeon to accept the American Party nomination.

Moreover, the reality here contradicts wishful thinking by national Democratic leaders, that Wallace's campaign is disorganized, his attitude dilettantish and his health deteriorating. He has never been better organized politically, he is determined to make a serious campaign and his health — except for paralysis — is excellent. Thus, Wallace is a deadly serious factor, further disturbing the embattled two-party system.

WALLACE'S NATIONAL operation, with plush headquarters in downtown Montgomery, bears no faint resemblance to his pollock 1972 campaign. His organization is further advanced than any other Democratic candidate's, with 23 state chairmen selected.

In 1972, Wallace entered primaries on hunch and whim. Today, Wallace campaign director Charles Snider will soon hire a "political manager" — somebody with graduate degrees in political science who will comb voting statistics to find which primary states have the best Wallace constituencies.

NONE OF THIS will make Wallace the Democratic nominee for President. He would accept the vice-presidential nomination, but even that is highly unlikely. The massive effort in the primaries is really intended to send Wallace into the Democratic convention as front-runner, enabling him to claim that liberal Democratic leaders flouted the people's will and to enter the American Party convention where he would be nominated by acclamation.

Wallace's most influential supporters — particularly stock-car racing impresario William France of Daytona Beach, Fla. — have long pushed Track No. 2. Wallace himself seems headed that way. "The hierarchy of the Democratic party has a bias against me," he told us in his state capital office. "If they keep it up, they'll have to suffer for it."

TO GET ON PRESIDENTIAL ballots if he bolts the Democrats, Wallace must rely on what remains of his old American Independent Party. Since he ran as its presidential candidate on 50 state ballots in 1968, the party has split in two: the American Party, controlled by the John Birch Society, and the more moderate, and smaller American Independent Party. Together they retain a presidential spot on some 33 state ballots.

Snider is privately making two hard points to the rival splinter parties: first, Wallace will not run unless he is on all 50 ballots; second, the two American Parties cannot get back on all 50 unless they work together. Blocking such cooperation is domination over the larger American Party by Tom Anderson, the anti-Wallace Birchier from Pigeon Forge, Tenn. But Wallaceites may soon force him out.

Sought Shelter

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — A goat recently was caught inside the Chaves County Courthouse by city police.

The animal first was spotted running around the courthouse lawn one Sunday in downtown Roswell. Two officers said they almost had the fleet-footed animal corralled when it jumped through a courthouse plate glass window and ran around the building's basement area.

Finally, the goat was cornered and taken to an animal shelter to be claimed by its owner.

'Transfer Payments'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — A term called "transfer payments" tells a lot about the recessed condition of the U.S. economy, as well as the increasing role being played by public enterprise.

Transfer payments are probably what you think they are — transfers of public money to persons or groups for which no goods or services are received in return. They're increasing swiftly.

Last month these transfer payments rose $6.7 billion, reaching an adjusted annual rate of $165.3 billion. Social Security is the big factor, of course, but jobless benefits now are accounting for much of the rise.

Last month unemployment benefits rose $2.7 billion. Life insurance dividend payments to veterans were speeded up, adding another $1.9 billion. And a cost-of-living increase to retired federal employees tacked on $500 million.

Meanwhile, private enterprise payrolls were falling, reflecting the deepening recession. Nevertheless, because of transfer payments the statistical category called personal income actually rose. Rose, that is, even though the goods to pay for those incomes were never made or sold.

In all, transfer payments have risen close to 30 percent in one year, simultaneously with the decline in production and prospects for the biggest federal budget deficits ever.

The trend need not be viewed as entirely negative, although many people, mainly those who feel the money is being transferred from their paychecks, are understandably inclined to that perspective.

What it demonstrates clearly, among other things, is that the American economic system is resilient — that it can respond to social need and shifts of fortune, and do so almost automatically.

What free enterprisers especially fear, however, is that whenever private industry weakens, government enterprise is strengthened. They fear that too much transferring is going on at the expense of production.

The argument isn't nearly that simple. In fact, production increases might in fact depend upon transfers of money to consumers, who then presumably will be in a better position to go out and buy the goods of production.

For this and other reasons, transfer payments are also called automatic stabilizers that temporarily can make up for deficiencies in incomes and even geographical imbalances, as in farm price supports.

While the philosophical arguments over transfer payments might never be put to rest, there is an immediate, practical and important question that can be asked: Are transfer payments mere stabilizers, or something more?

Based on experience, they seem destined to continue growing. Temporary measures always have a tendency to perpetuate themselves, if only because a bureaucracy and constituency builds up to support them.

Eventually, however, transfer payments cannot continue to exist without productive work to support them.

Glands And Skin Quality

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me how hormone imbalance affects the skin? — H.R.

There are many ways. I can list a few of the important ones.

For example, acne, as we know, occurs in young people mainly because at the time of puberty the body's glandular system, including the sebaceous glands in the skin and the hormones that control them, begins a period of heightened activity. These glands which secrete an oily substance are controlled by the pituitary gland, which also triggers activity of the sex glands. So you can see that already you have a fairly complex network of glands that are affecting the skin.

The quality of skin, hair and the nails is affected by the thyroid gland. Low thyroid function (hypothyroidism) can cause the skin to be dry and coarse. Overactivity (hyperthyroidism) can make skin extra moist and smooth.

Underfunctioning of the adrenal glands as in Addison's disease is featured by a brownish pigmentation of the skin. In diabetes, an imbalance of the pancreas's secretion of insulin can cause localized skin color changes, even ulceration of the skin, particularly in the lower extremities.

Another skin change due to hormone imbalance is the so-called "mask of pregnancy," or chloasma. In this the face seems shrouded by a brownish mask. It can occur in some women during pregnancy, and in others taking the contraceptive pill. The discoloration disappears with discontinuance of the pill and the estrogen contained in it.

Finally in old age — when the same hormonal-glandular network which became active at puberty becomes sluggish — there can be a wide array of skin problems: dryness, itching, tingling, and the numbness that so many oldersters experience.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a condition called "reflex esophagitis." When I have an attack the symptoms are the same as those of a heart attack. Can you explain this condition? — R.B.

Reflux (not "reflex") esophagitis is a condition where stomach fluid splashes up into the lower gullet, whose tissues are not accustomed to the highly acid contents. Irritation from this can produce symptoms similar to heart attack. The condition often accompanies hiatal hernia. If you haven't already been checked for this possibility, you should be.

Reflux esophagitis is often caused by a loss of muscle control due to faulty nerve action. If not treated, the continued splashing can cause ulcer in the gullet.

The medicine you mention your doctor having prescribed is to ease the problem by reducing stomach secretions. In an acute attack, a glass of milk or one of the antacids helps. You should elevate the upper part of your body in bed to avoid as much of the splashing as possible.

Meanwhile, take the same precautions you would wear if you told you had an ulcer, including a bland diet and small frequent feedings. If you have a hiatal hernia, weight reduction would help you. Surgery to repair it is usually a last resort.

Ways To Steal

Around The Rim

John Edwards

A man arrives at a bank with two checks.

The teller sends him to a bank officer, who "okays" cashing one check for a small amount.

BUT, WHEN THE CHECK passer returns to the teller, he presents another check for a larger amount. The second check bears a forged "OK."

This is one of a number of ways which have been used to steal with checks, according to "White Collar Crime," a paperback publication of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. The booklet is available free of charge from the district attorney.

Among the other schemes are these two: When local merchants called a "company" about payroll checks, they were told the man was an employee. But the "company" was phony and the checks bogus.

A TRAVELER'S CHECK thief carefully forged countersignatures on all but the top check. Then, when attempting to pass them, he countersigned the top one and faked the motions of countersigning the rest. All but the top check were handed over.

Tip-offs of check fraud include: Handwriting not consistent with the passer's age or character. Misspelled words. Oddly shaped numbers indicating the face value might have been changed.

A juvenile presenting the check. A check written in pencil, post-dated or bearing an old date. The person cashing the check distracting your attention and trying to rush you.

ADEQUATE identification being unavailable, the personal description differing from actual appearances of the patron or a home town differing from that of the bank.

With traveler's checks, the pamphlet says to look for these symptoms of fraud: Many being cashed at one time, not the typical pattern.

Previously countersigned checks. Signatures at the top of the check with a felt pen, making forgery easier.

Use of a free hand to keep you from seeing him countersign. Purchase of an inexpensive item with a high-denomination check.

'Foreplay' Funny?

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — From blacklist to playing the president of the United States, the achievement gives Zero Mostel a rare sense of pleasure.

The bulgy comedian is one of the survivors of that period of American history when performers were denied work because of their political views.

After years of inactivity, he returned to star on Broadway ("A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," "Fiddler on the Roof") and in films ("Forum," "The Producers").

Now Mostel can be seen in an outrageous comedy, "Foreplay," in which he plays dual roles as president and a Mafia chieftain.

How outrageous is the movie? Well, the plot has the Mafia kidnap the president's daughter. They will release her only if her parents have sex relations on prime time television.

"It's the first time they've had sex in 20 years," Mostel related. "They enjoy it so much they continue for six days and the first lady (Estelle Parsons) dies of terminal orgasm."

Such black, not to mention bawdy, humor would scarcely have been permitted until recent times, Mostel admitted.

In fact, 20 years ago all of us would have gone to jail because of the movie," he added.

It is hard for today's generation to understand the events of the red-hunting 1950s, although the Streisand-Redford film, "The Way We Were," touched upon them.

Famous figures suddenly found themselves unable to work because their names had been mentioned before congressional committees as being Communists or "com-symp."

Zero Mostel was one of them. He had been earning $5,000 a week as a nightclub comic and was a successful character actor in films ("Panic in the Streets," "The Enforcer").

Then he was branded as a Red sympathizer, even though he now says, "I don't believe in any parties — Republican, Democratic, socialist or Communist."

His protests went unheard. He recalled reporting for an acting job at Warner Brothers only to be told he would be dropped unless he went to the FBI. Mostel declined, and he was paid off.

At Columbia he arrived for a role and was "treated like a pariah."

Again he was paid off. Then the jobs stopped coming. "The whole thing was so ridiculous," he said. "How could we have been dangerous? Could we have given secrets to Russian actors? Could we have blown up a building with a script?"

Curiously, Mostel refused to become embittered, nor is he now.

"I was the happiest man on the blacklist," he remarked.

"If I couldn't work as an actor, then I would paint. I did a lot of painting in those years. I know that the blacklist wrecked some lives, but I'm not easily wrecked."

Hit Him With The Money

PORT ELIZABETH, South America (AP) — A city official delivering the equivalent of over $25,000 in cash to a local bank foiled an attempted robbery by bashing the would-be thief over the head with the money bag.

The thief escaped not knowing that the official, Ronald Edge, was being followed by another employee of the city's Treasury Department carrying over $22 million in checks.

Taxed To The Limit

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The governors have come and gone, the mayors have come and gone. Their plea was identical: Please send money quick because, if we are not bankrupt, we soon will be.

IT WAS PUT vividly by Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco, chairman of the Conference of Mayors, who said that if you live on the edge of a volcano you have more knowledge of when an eruption is likely to occur than if you live at a distance. He was talking, as did the other mayors, about the threat of the coming summer with unemployment in the center cities among the minorities and the young up to 20 percent or more.

The mayors were lobbying for $5.7 billion in federal aid to provide jobs and to avert a breakdown of services with policemen and firemen lopped off of payrolls that could not be met.

The $2 billion President Ford has requested to create an additional 760,000 summer jobs and the extend the present program falls far short of what the mayors believe essential to avoid an explosion in another long hot summer.

THE URGENT plea of the governors and the mayors comes at a moment when a grim awareness of stern reality is beginning to take hold. At both the federal and state levels we have been living beyond our means.

The whole structure of pensions, welfare, benefits of one kind and another, has gone beyond the taxing capacity already under great strain. In several instances the cracks are beginning to show, not least of all in the huge federal deficits coming up.

THIS REPORTER was recently in New England where the unemployment rate in many areas is considerably above the national average. It is there that cracks in the taxing-spending structure are painfully apparent.

Take Vermont, surely one of the most beautiful and tranquil states in the union, as an example. While Vermont is 40th in the standing of the states in per capita income, it is third, behind only Alaska and Hawaii, in state spending as a percent of that income. The state debt will reach $1,000 per capita this year. As elsewhere, the taxing power, income, sales, property and you name it, has been stretched to the point of diminishing returns.

THE ONLY WAY OUT is to cut the cloth to fit the income available in current taxes. This should be done without turning the state over to land developers who would cut it up into small pieces and destroy the beauty and the tranquility that are Vermont's heritage. One way is to attract industry as against the ski and recreation projects that take so much land and provide so few jobs.

A warning signal of trouble came when New York's Urban Development Corporation, initiated in 1968 by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, defaulted on $110 million of its bonds.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Love is patient and kind; love is not jealous, or conceited, or proud." (1 Corinthians 13:4-7)

PRAYER: Father in heaven, we would be each for the other in all our relationships with people and all for You. Truly, You are the one who is all for us from the beginning of life to its end. We thank You, in the name of Jesus. Amen.

IT'S HOW YOU SAY IT Tattletale Machine

HOUSTON (AP) — It's not what you say, but how you say it that talks to the tattle-tale machine of Dr. Harb Hayre.

Dr. Hayre, a professor of electric engineering at the University of Houston, has developed a device which he says can analyze the voice and tell more about a person than words alone.

DRUNK DRIVER
Properly applied, says the professor, the machine could:

—Detect a drunk driver;
—Tell who is lying and who is telling the truth;
—Determine if a pilot is too tired to fly;

—Tell the precise condition of a mental patient;
—Or determine if a person is under the influence of drugs.

Exactly how the machine works is a patent secret, but Dr. Hayre said it analyzes general different qualities of the voice to probe the inner workings of the mind.

And, he claims, his device would be more foolproof and accurate than tests and systems now used.

The voice, said Dr. Hayre, is like a test probe into the body and mind of a person. By measuring the precise qualities of the voice—no matter what is said—the device can determine the mental and physical state of the person.

NOT THE SAME
"This device follows a natural individual system impairment determination," said Dr. Hayre. "It says, 'Hey, you're not the same. Your system says so.'"

The voice, he said, takes on different qualities as the body and mind are put under different stresses.

"It is more than one item in the voice that changes—it is not only the tone, not only the frequency, not only the shift—it is much more complex," he said.

Because of this, said the professor, "we can separate different types of stresses. Alcohol would be one, lying another and fatigue another."

Dr. Hayre visualizes the day when a highway patrolman can stop a driver, ask one question and determine immediately if the driver is drunk.

VOICE PRINTS
The patrolman would be carrying a small device that could analyze the voice for intoxication stress effects, and register on a dial or gauge the instant results.

Unlike present drunk tests, said Dr. Hayre, the device would measure the motorist's ability to drive, not just the alcohol content in his blood stream or urine.

"None of the current tests are measures of impairment, which is really the factor in safety," he said. "You couldn't care less how much you drank. You are about how able you are to handle the car. All the current devices measure how much you took in. The voice will measure the actual impairment."

The same technique can be applied to pilots.

Dr. Hayre said a device analyzing the voice of a pilot over a period of time can determine when he reaches a point of fatigue unsafe for flying.

It might also help doctors better understand and hence provide proper care for mental patients.

"They're very much interested in how uptight a person is in a mental institution," he said. "With this system, they can follow his mental state from hour to hour and day to day."

TELLING LIE
The device could revolutionize court trials, he said. According to Dr. Hayre, there would never be a question about whether or not a witness was lying.

"A person telling a lie is going through a psychological stress to tell something other than the truth," he said. "This is a uniquely different strain that shows up in the voice and can be identified."

George O'Toole, ex-CIA agent who has written a book about the John F. Kennedy assassination, claims tape analysis of Lee Harvey Oswald's voice proves he told the truth when he said he did not kill the President.

Hayre said he is familiar with the machine of which O'Toole talks but says the Hayre equipment is two or three steps more advanced.

Police know that a sociopath or a pathological liar can beat the polygraph (lie detection machine) or make its readings inconclusive.

Dr. Hayre said the voice system is much more accurate than polygraphs which depend upon changes in pulse, respiration and perspiration.

He said pathological liars or sociopaths can lie without major physical changes but still will be betrayed by their voice.

"Even though the lying would not cause physiological symptoms, it would affect the voice," said Dr. Hayre.

Dr. Hayre said to establish a truth baseline for the individual, the first question could be anything he would answer truthfully, such as his name. Then, the sticky questions could start.

Awesome Power Of IRS Agents

By JAY SHARBUTT

(AP) TELEVISIONWRITER
NEW YORK (AP) — Most of us now are sweating over federal tax returns. So, with excellent timing, ABC's "Closeup" unit tonight is airing a show that will increase one's sweat — and anger — at the taxman.

It's a well-researched, well-edited study of the awesome power of the Internal Revenue Service and the potential for abuse of that power, be it by White House officials or overeager IRS agents.

Save for a few taxpayers' horror tales and a surprising list of persons and groups closely scrutinized by a Nixon era intelligence unit, there's little in the show that already hasn't been written about.

Yet ABC's study is well worth watching because of the way it logically threads together stories ranging from White House taxpayer-watching to "jeopardy assessments" into a comprehensive package that has impact.

Sometimes it strains a bit for impact, particularly in its effort to show that "any administration" — not just Richard Nixon's — is tempted to use IRS power for its own political purposes.

It cites "confidential memos" of the Kennedy administration it says show that the White House and the Justice Department pressured for close study of the tax-exempt status given "extremist organizations."

Most of those groups, the show says, "were conservative." It asks Mortimer Caplin, IRS chief in the Kennedy years, if the IRS then was being asked to focus on "rightwing organizations."

"Let me say this," replies Caplin. "We felt it was not proper ... to look into one segment. We found that the history of the prior (Eisenhower) administration had been heavily geared toward left-wing organizations."

End of query. But if you don't listen carefully, you may feel that Caplin is somehow justifying political tit-for-tat in taxation. He's not. He's just making a frank non-admission of engaging in it.

The show is on sturdier ground in studying the operations of a since-disbanded IRS "Special Service Staff" formed in 1969 to gather intelligence on "dissidents" and "extremists."

It reveals that one triple-S list, containing names of 8,000 persons and 3,000 organizations, includes such folks as former Eisenhower aide Sherman Adams and performers Julie Andrews, Connie Stevens and Jose Jimenez (his real name is Bill Dana).

The program doesn't succeed in learning why these names were listed. But it does succeed in showing that the confidentiality of tax returns is shaky indeed, and that audits can be triggered by a simple, anonymously-written "sneak letter" even IRS agents can get put in the mail.

No doubt the IRS will complain that these and other abuse-of-power problems studied by "Closeup" are overblown. But ABC's show is a valuable alarm bell for citizens and the Congress alike. Both should see it.

Lobbyist Gifts Net Warning

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Bill Clayton has warned state representatives that they might be breaking the law if they try during the legislative session to raise money to pay off their campaign debts.

Clayton issued a statement after conferring with Austin Dist. Atty. Bob Smith and representatives of the attorney general and the secretary of state's office.

A fund-raising dinner for Rep. Calvin Rucker, D-Cedar Hill, raised the issue. Rucker reportedly sent an invitation to John Duncan, lobbyist for the Texas Civil Liberties Union, accompanied by a request for a $10 to $100 donation.

Smith contends such solicitations violate a provision of the 1973 Penal Code against legislators seeking benefits from persons who are interested in pending bills.

Clayton issued a statement saying: "If such fundraisers take place, the members might subject themselves to possible charges of soliciting prohibited contributions from lobbyists ... We feel the matter can be clarified in due time if fundraisers and appreciation dinners are postponed until after the legislative session."

Opening lead: King of ♠.

At England's Eastbourne Congress, the Omar Sharif team, which included Boris Schapiro, Claude Delmouly and Leon Yallouze, won the Hamilton Cup. This hand almost cost them the title, reports the captain.

When North raised his partner's two diamond response, South immediately launched into Blackwood. Had North shown only one ace, South would have passed five diamonds.

West led the king of clubs, and when dummy came down declarer was reasonably satisfied with the contract. He won the ace of clubs and cashed the ace of diamonds. Then he tried to run the hearts. Unfortunately, East ruffed the third heart. Although declarer discarded his club loser on this trick, he still had to lose a spade. He could set up dummy's fifth heart for one spade discard, but that was not enough.

This was a particularly bad result, for at the other table the contract was three no trump. With the diamond finesse succeeding, declarer had little difficulty in making eleven tricks.

Naturally, our eagle-eyed readers will quickly spot an alternate line that would not require a trump finesse. Consider what would happen if declarer were to start playing hearts at trick two, postponing drawing a round of trumps for a while.

East can still ruff the third heart, but declarer overruffs. Then he cashes the ace of diamonds, dropping the king. It is now a simple matter to establish a long heart. He enters dummy with a trump and ruffs a heart, felling the jack, crosses to the ace of spades and discards a club on the good heart. Now he concedes a spade, and can ruff his remaining spade loser in dummy. One spade trick is all the defense will get.

"Who was the declarer? Why, I was. And I leave it up to you to decide which was the better line."

time out for GOD

top of the hill

The hill spreads out in front of them, stretching up and up; they can't see over the top. There may be clouds in the distance; but just now they are oblivious to them. They are together, and for the moment, that is all that matters.

Together, the mood, the romance it evokes, are a part of life. But so is that uphill winding road. Traveling through life, you often can't see over the top. You can only give each step along the way the best that is in you.

Fortunately, this is a journey that none of us has to make alone. Your Creator is reaching out to you and the doors of His Church are forever open. If you haven't passed through those doors for a long time, or if you have never passed through them at all, give it a try next Sunday! You will not be alone, and a new perspective may be yours.

We've noticed it. Our best carriers seem to be above-average students. Perhaps it's because in the daily management of their routes, they apply the lessons they learn in the classroom. In any case, if your grades are A's and B's, we want to hear from you. We can show you how to build a savings account that can be a great help. Why not get started today . . . by calling us. CHAPEL SINGERS
due Sunday

Chapel Singers Set At Wesley United

The Chapel Singers of First United Methodist Church in Richardson will appear at 7 p.m. Sunday, March 23 at Wesley United Methodist Church to present a musical, "Discovery" by Otis Skillings and Floyd Hawkins.

The singers are made up of approximately 70 high school young people. They are responsible for the music for the early morning worship service the year round.

All of the young people in the Big Spring area are cordially invited to attend this "exciting worship service" according to Wesley United officials.

This group sang for Ministers Week at Perkins School of Theology during February. They have sung for a number of church music clinics including the Chorister's Guild for the past several years.

Ackerly Revival Scheduled

The First Baptist Church of Ackerly will have a revival meeting March 23-30. Dr. T.A. Patterson will be the evangelist and James Kinman will be directing the music.

Services will be at the regular time on Sundays. There will be morning services Monday through Friday (March 24-28) at 10:30 a.m. and evening services Monday through Saturday (March 24-29) at 7:30 p.m.

James Kinman is music director of the Crestview Baptist Church of Big Spring. The Rev. Don Long, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Ackerly invites the public to attend.

Knott Baptists Schedule Revival On March 23-28

The First Baptist Church in Knott will host a spring revival from Sunday, March 23 through March 28. Services will be held at 8 p.m. nightly with Joe C. Knowles as evangelist.

Murray Vise of Big Spring will lead the singing. Pastor Bob Hamilton invites the public to attend.

Joe C. Knowles is presently pastor of College Heights Baptist Church (located across the street from Wayland Baptist College) in Plainview, Texas. He is a native of Borger, Texas, born July 31, 1940.

Academic education has been completed with graduation from the following institutions including Borger Senior High School, Borger, Texas; Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, Texas; Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

Former pastorates include Allendale Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, First Baptist Church of Tipton, Oklahoma and College Heights Baptist Church of Cleburne.

He also served as president of the Baptist Student Union of Frank Phillips Junior College. He was awarded Citizenship Award from Borger Senior High School. Associational service has been rendered in the following capacities, chairman of evangelism, camp director, advisor of youth, trustee at Plains Baptist Assembly Camp.

First Methodist Plans Noon Meets

For the past five weeks, members of the First United Methodist Church have been meeting in small groups in the home, and in a larger group at the church each Monday at noon where Delbert Downing, a layman extraordinary, has drawn a steadily increasing number each week.

This past week, Downing spoke on the Holy Spirit to a large group of Christians from a wide variety of denominations.

The next phase of the New Life Mission of which Downing is the resource person is that of proclamation, or preaching services.

Dr. George G. Hunter of Perkins School of Theology, SMU, Dallas will be the speaker twice daily for four nights and three days, March 23 through the 26. A sandwich lunch will be served at 12 noon enabling those who must get back to work by 1 p.m. to attend.

Dr. Hunter is a recognized theorist and practitioner in a "progressive" Protestant evangelism. He professes to "stand on the shoulders of tradition. But the person I want to engage is the outsider, so I'm not wedded to ecclesiastical jargon and I'm willing to begin with people where they are — their hopes, fears, yearnings and deepest human motives."

He attempts to speak to "anyone who is willing to take his life and the world seriously. I want to speak to youth who are looking for a credible banner to march under. I want to speak to doubters who aren't sure what to believe but will take a second look at Christianity. People looking for acceptance, or love, or a worthwhile cause, or a deep meaning in their lives will find, I hope, that my speaking is on their wavelength. And I desperately want to speak to doubters who are disenchanted with the church, who want to see it rise out of its institutional selfishness and live for humanity." Dr. Hunter's work in Christian evangelism has been featured in magazines, radio and television, including Art Linkletter's House Party. He is the founder of The Academy for Evangelism.

Big Springers are familiar with the Holy Week services traditionally held at First Methodist, and they are cordially invited to attend. That's Sunday, March 23 at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m., and Monday through Wednesday at 12 noon and 7:30 p.m.

MISSION CRUSADERS
...due at Nazarene Church

First Christian Sets Holy Week

In keeping with the spirit of this special season of the church year, Holy Week Services are planned at First Christian Church. On Palm Sunday there will be a pancake breakfast served in Fellowship Hall to members of the congregation and guests at 8 a.m.

A special pancake day during Lent is a longstanding tradition of the church. Morning worship services will be held at 10:50 a.m. memorates Jesus' initiating the Lord's Supper in the Upper Room in Jerusalem with his disciples in the final hours of his ministry. The chancel choir, under the direction of Jack Bowers, will sing "Shall I Crucify My Savior?" by Stewart Landon. Other special music will be "Were You There?" sung by Karyl Thames and Jerry Dunne. Accompaniment will be by Mrs. Bob Simpson. The Rev. Bill Smythe is minister.

On Thursday, March 27, special Maundy Thursday services will be held at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church to which the public is invited. A candlelight service incorporating the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, or Communion, and the sacrament of Christian baptism will begin a twenty-four hour period of prayer. Following the candlelight service, during which candidates for baptism will receive communion, members of the congregation will maintain a twenty-four hour prayer vigil in the church prayer chapel.

Court Says Ballard Will Be Retried

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has refused to change its mind a second time over the murder conviction of Witmer Jean Ballard, 49.

Ballard is serving a life sentence for the Dec. 3, 1970, murder of a prominent Glasscock County rancher, Steve Currie.

After a change of venue, Ballard was tried in district court in Alpine.

The appellate court first affirmed Ballard's conviction and then, on a motion for rehearing, remanded the case for retrial.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III filed a second motion for rehearing. Now, the Austin appellate court has rejected his motion, and Ballard must be retried.

Ballard was indicted also for robbery of the Currie home, but the robbery case is pending in the district court in Lamesa, Moore said.

Moore helped then District Attorney Wayne Burns and special prosecutor Gil Jones prepare for the murder trial.

State Guard Action Slated

Guard members will take part in a simulated plan for action in flood disaster.

Other units participating will be from Brownwood, Brady, Coleman, and San Angelo, according to 1st Lt. Gene A. Morris, local commander.

The charge was brought by the Federal Energy Administration.

Forsan Woman To Head CF Campaign

Mrs. Loretta Yarbrough, Forsan, has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, according to Chuck Laurent, president of the Lone Star Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Mrs. Yarbrough will lead local volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema."

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C-F. It is believed that one in twenty persons or 10 million Americans may carry the C-F gene, usually without knowing it.

Current research funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Cop Resigns

Patrolman Dub Anglin has resigned his post with the city police and leaves today for Lottsburg, N.M.

Anglin has joined the Border Patrol with his first assignment in New Mexico. He came to Big Spring from attending Sul Ross in Alpine some nine months ago.

Water Bond Debt Noted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas taxpayers have had to pay $26.42 million in interest on Water Development Bonds, despite assurances by supporters of the bonds in 1966 that the program would pay for itself, says the Texas Committee on Natural Resources.

And another $13.25 million will have to come from the General Revenue Fund to pay the debt service in 1976-77 on $165 million in bonds sold so far, Ned Fritz, committee chairman, said Wednesday.

In seeking votes for the bonds in 1966, Fritz said, the Governor's Water Committee for Constitutional Amendment No. 11 promised that "Any call on general revenue of the state will be intermittent and temporary, and ultimately will be repaid by purchasers of the water."

The amendment was approved, raising the limit on the bond program from $200 million to $400 million.

County Judge Bill Tune presented awards to Jake Glickman, Social Worker of the year; and Tom Henry, outstanding citizen of the year.

Glickman, a Big Spring native and Chief of Social Services at Big Spring State Hospital, is president of the local Welfare Association. He was voted Social Worker of the year by other social workers in the area.

Henry is principal of Cedar Crest School, is active in many phases of youth work in Big Spring, including the Boy's Club, West Side Community Center, and has actively supported the establishment of a Child Welfare unit here.

Charles Scruggs of Dallas said, however, dormitory life has changed.

Sen. Betty Andujar, R-Fort Worth, asked him about visitation rules—meaning, for example, are girls allowed in boys' rooms?

Best he could tell, Scruggs replied, is that "anyone can visit anybody anytime they want to."

Scruggs, who is being reappointed as a regent, said Tech administrators had been asked to see how many hours a day each room on the campus is being used, but the "cost is too dear and too high" to have unused space.

"We've built marble palaces (on too many campuses) that sit there cold and dark 22 or 23 hours a day," he said.

The nominations subcommittee approved Scruggs, Don Workman of Lubbock and Robert Plueger of San Angelo after 25 minutes of questioning without controversy.

The two were charged with intent to extort and threatening with intent to victimize. Bond was set at $100,000 each.

Federal agents said the pair was arrested Tuesday near a money-filled briefcase that had been placed at a highway sign 20 miles east of here.

Extortion Try Fizzles

HOUSTON (AP) — FBI agents said two men have been arrested in connection with a $100,000 extortion attempt of Eastern Airlines.

The FBI identified the two men as Billy Charles Nolan, 42, and Robert Perry Guinn, 32. They gave their home as Rockmont, Ga., agents said.

The two were charged with intent to extort and threatening with intent to victimize. Bond was set at $100,000 each.

Man Gets Ten Year Probation

Manuel Renteria, 18, 1200 Grafa Ave., was given 10 years of probation Thursday for the March 8 burglary for a car belonging to Robert Gordon Moon.

He pleaded guilty to participating in the burglary which occurred while the car was parked by the Big Spring Bowl-A-Rama.

Flier Serious After Mishap

Oscar Whatlington, who was injured when he attempted to fly off Scenic Mountain late Tuesday when strapped in a hang-glider, is reported to be in serious condition at a Midland hospital.

Whatlington shattered both legs in the accident and is in the intensive care unit, according to local friends of the injured man.
