Probers Clear Bishop Of Red Membership

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities voted Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam a clean bill of health early today so far as any record of Communist party affiliation is concerned.

But a grueling, sometimes short-tempered hearing that dragged on after midnight brought charges by some members that the Methodist clergyman's zeal for social reform—plus what one congressman called "muddled thinking"—had led him into suspicious company.

And Chairman Velde (R-Ill) said it was "impossible to make any definite conclusions" until the bishop has submitted further information he promised.

The marathon affair, held in a packed committee room mostly filled with ready-to-demonstrate Oxnam supporters, left in doubt the question the bishop asked it to settle: Would the committee alter its files on him or, better yet, halt the practice of giving out unverified and unevaluated information on anyone.

Bishop Oxnam

Velde did say that "some of the facts possibly should be considered . . . with a view toward establishing procedures enabling us to continue the search for subversives and provide more protection for individuals."

Ranging far and wide in a dozen directions, the unusual afternoon-into-morning session produced one unexpected development—sworn testimony from a previous secret hearing that two clergymen once in the public eye were active members of the Communist party.

They were named by the committee as Dr. Harry F. Ward, retired member of New York's Union Theological Seminary faculty, and Jack McMichael, said to be still in the Methodist ministry somewhere in the West.

Both have been mentioned before in connection with Red front investigations but Oxnam called this new testimony "quite amazing."

He promptly challenged the committee to put its evidence before church courts which, he said, will expel them from the ministry if Communist membership charges are proved.

As for himself, Oxnam said he'd make no apologies to anybody for working in good faith with now-suspect organizations he was associated with in the belief they were dedicated to human progress.

He acknowledged, though, he'd investigate some of them more carefully nowadays and maybe wouldn't join quite so many.

Oxnam, gray-suited and portly, settled into the witness chair at 2:35 p. m. and launched into a 15-minute statement accusing the committee of bearing "false witness" against him.

The spectators later applauded some of his mild witticisms and stirred restively when the questioning of the churchman seemed aggressive. Velde once threatened to have any further demonstrators thrown out.

It was 12:20 a. m., 9¾ hours later, when the 61-year-old bishop, perspiring but still firm-voiced, called it quits.

A few minutes earlier the committee adopted without dissent a motion by Rep. Doyle (D-Calif) saying its files show "no record of any Communist party membership or affiliation" by the bishop.

The motion was seconded by Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif)—the same man who helped precipitate the hearing by saying on the House floor that Oxnam had "served God on Sunday and the Communist front for the balance of the week."

After the hearing Velde told reporters he couldn't say, at least until the committee held an executive session, whether there would be any "reconstruction" of the files.

FIREMEN BATTLE FLAMES

Firemen play a stream of water on a flaming gasoline trailer, after the tractor which hauled them collided with a gravel truck in Grand Rapids, Mich. Later officers played a carbon dioxide "fog" on the blaze, which burned through two telephone cables and entered the sewer system, popping manholes from the street. The driver of the truck was takn to the hospital with severe burns.

Rhee Charges U.S. Has Destroyed Compromise

Hits Secret Deals Made With Reds

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee and his foreign minister issued threatening protests in public statements Wednesday against a Korean truce that appeared only days away.

Shortly after the Korean leaders in Seoul sounded off angrily against reported U. N. assurances to the Reds at Panmunjom, President Eisenhower said in Washington he is still hopeful and reasonably confident a truce will be signed soon.

And at this truce village, United Nations and Communist staff officers believed to be hammering out a military dividing line worked past Wednesday midnight. They began their unprecedented marathon session at 10 a. m. Wednesday and had taken only short breaks since.

It was learned the new line will show in Communist possession the ground the Reds won in their recent Kumsong bulge offensive and at Berlin and East Berlin Outposts, wrested from American Marines Monday.

Rhee issued an angry statement, in response to questions by newsmen, that South Korea will give a post - armistice political conference only 90 days to "persuade the (Chinese aggressors" to pull back into Manchuria.

"If their efforts fail," the President, 78, asserted, "we shall be at liberty to follow our own course of action."

His foreign minister, fiery Pyun Yung Tai, made an even stronger statement. He said the basis for American-South Korean compromise had been destroyed by the recent secret discussions at Panmunjom.

Pyung, the most violent critic of the armistice terms, warned South Korea would act independently unless the United States repudiates some assurances given the Reds as disclosed last Sunday by the Communists. The assurances opened the way for a quick armistice.

An authoritative source said in Tokyo Wednesday South Korea has been given all the assurances it is going to get, indicating the U. N. Command will sign a truce as soon as remaining details are worked out.

One of the details is how to handle the Indian troops who will come to Korea to take over from the U. N. command the guarding of 14,500 Chinese and 8,000 North Korean prisoners of war listed as unwilling to return to their Red homelands.

Rhee's sudden statement came as the U. S. State Department sent a secret note to Rhee. It presumably deal with South Korea's role in the armistice. Pyun said the note contained "nothing new."

How the Reds will react to Rhee's ultimatum was the big question as staff officers continued work at Panmunjom on final details of a truce. There has been speculation that an armistice would be signed within the week.

Pyun, considered Rhee's closest adviser, declared, "The United Nations is now trying to illegalize any action on our part to achieve our unification."

He said Rhee made "actually no" pledges in his talks with Walter Robertson, U. S. assistant secretary of state. They were aimed at soothing South Korean resistance to the truce.

Rhee said the major problem blocking "real peace" was the withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops from North Korea after a cease-fire.

A political conference is to open 90 days after an armistice is signed, and Rhee said South Korea will wait another 90 days for the Chinese Reds to agree to leave North Korea. If they don't agree by that deadline, he said, South Korea will follow its "own course of action."

"I must say that we have asked the United States either to jointly resume with us military operations to accomplish our common objectives, or to promise to give us moral and material support in our efforts to carry on our fight unilaterally," Rhee said.

The ROK President said he was awaiting approval from Washington of agreements made with Robertson in the secret talks earlier this month.

South Korea "is trying to cooperate all we can," Rhee said, but "if the United Nations does not consider our desire for survival, we cannot regard the understanding as binding."

QUEEN GIVES CONSENT

Way Is Being Cleared For Margaret To Wed Captain

LONDON (AP) — The government indicated today Queen Elizabeth II has given permission to her sister, Princess Margaret, to marry a divorced man.

The man is Group Capt. Peter Townsend, British air attache at the embassy in Brussels. He is 38, the Princess 22.

The acting Prime Minister, Richard Butler, told Parliament the government proposes to introduce legislation to amend the Regency Act of 1937. A change in the act would make it easier for Margaret, if she wants to marry the divorced air hero.

Opposition leader Clement Attlee asked if the contents of the proposed bill was agreeable to all members of the royal family. Butler said yes and said the personal feelings of all concerned should be respected by everybody and "the present deplorable speculation and gossip brought to an end."

Under the present act, Princess Margaret would become regent if the Queen died before Prince Charles, 4, was able to take the throne.

Townsend brought a divorce action against his wife, on grounds of misconduct. The Church of England frowns on remarriage of all divorced persons.

Margaret must have her older sister's permission to marry. She is third in line to the throne. As the Regency Law stands, she would become the Regent (acting monarch) if Queen Elizabeth died or became incapable of carrying out her duties before Prince Charles reached 18.

Butler did not go into details but presumably Margaret's responsibilities as Regent would be transferred to the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen.

Any change in the Regency Act requires all the Commonwealth countries except India to make similar changes. India recognizes the monarch only as head of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth prime ministers meeting shortly after Elizabeth's coronation June 2 discussed in secret the proposal to change the act. The subject has been under discussion since 1950. It took on new meaning in the light of stories on Margaret's romance with Townsend.

Laborite Marcus Lipton sought an assurance that the bill to amend the Regency Act "was not being held up by the desire of some ministers and their advisers to interfere with the wish of members of the royal family in their private and personal affairs to live their own lives."

Butler answered:

"Such a matter has never even required ministerial advice and has never come before the cabinet, and I think I voice the opinion of all members when I say the personal feelings of all concerned should be respected by everybody, and present deplorable speculation and gossip brought to an end."

HIGH COURT APPROVES PROBE OF ALICE JUDGE

AUSTIN (AP) —The Supreme Court agreed today to investigate removal charges against Judge Woodrow Laughlin of the 79th District in politically - troubled South Texas.

It appointed Judge D. B. Wood of the 26th District as a master in chancery to take testimony.

Eleven lawyers who practice in Laughlin's district asked the court to oust him on charges that official acts made him as unfit.

Among other things they charged he had ordered impounded ballot boxes delivered to the sheriff of Duval County, then a nephew of George Parr, known as the political boss of a large South Texas area.

Another charge was that Laughlin obstructed a Jim Wells county grand jury's investigation of the "murder by mistake" slaying of Jacob Floyd Jr., son of a Parr foe.

Floyd alleged his son was slain from ambush with bullets intended for him.

Laughlin's attorneys denied all the charges, asserting they were politically - motivated and insufficient to warrant further investigation.

The court unanimously overruled the motion by Laughlin's attorneys to dismiss the case.

It upheld Laughlin's objections to four of the 12 alleged causes for removal. These were that he had abused discretion in a divorce case, that he had sold his second-hand law library to Jim Wells county, and that he had named grand jury commissioners in Jim Wells and Duval counties who would try to avoid embarrassing political leaders there in naming grand jurors.

The court refused to throw out the ballot box allegations, the charge that Laughlin had obstructed the Floyd investigation, and that he had dismissed 68 Starr county indictments including 60 based on allegations of fraud and irregularity in the July primary.

Also slated for further investigation was Laughlin's exchange of benches with Judge E. D. Salinas of the 111th District for trial of two criminal cases involving Laughlin.

Wood, who will take testimony for later study by the entire court, is from Georgetown.

Anti-Parr forces in the Legislature had failed to start a full-fleged investigation there. Removal by the Supreme Court is a method of ousting a district judge.

The court order gave Wood authority to take and report evidence at hearings in Austin or elsewhere. It directed him to finish the job by Oct. 1.

The master was directed to conform as nearly as possible to the rules of practice in civil suits, to keep order and punish for contempt committed either in or out of his presence," and to require witnesses to produce written evidence such as records, vouchers and documents bearing on the case.

Houston Cop Kills 2 With Shotgun Blasts

HOUSTON (AP)—A West University police captain shot to death two safe crackers on a supermarket rooftop early today.

Two blasts from his double-barrelled shotgun killed:

Edward Martin, 26, twice a convict.

Earl Rucker, 33, three times a convict.

The captain who ended the careers of Martin, a Navy veteran, and Rucker, recently pardoned, was R. J. Bugg, 35.

He shot each man once. Rucker was killed at once as buckshot tore into his chest.

Martin died within ten minutes, after gasping:

"We tried to knock off the safe but we didn't knock off this place before."

Two previous safe blastings of the store have been reported.

Bugg fired the fatal shots after two other West University police missed with three shots from their revolvers.

The safe crackers, surprised after setting off a nitro charge in the store safe, had fled to the rooftop.

They clambered there through a hole in the ceiling and roof they had apparently ripped to gain entry.

They were unarmed, it was found later.

Record High Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that rising food prices forced living costs to a record high between May and June.

Besides higher food costs, canceling out most of the grocery store price declines which took place earlier this year, price boosts were reported for housing, medical care and such things as cigarettes and beer in some cities.

The index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics rose four-tenths of one per cent between mid-May and mid-June. This put the index at 114.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Reds Frantic About West's Food Gifts

BERLIN (AP)—A million packages of free Western food threw East Germanys' Communist rulers into a frenzy today.

Soviet High Commissioner Vladimir Semyenov, in a bristling diplomatic note, called the mammoth relief program a U. S. plot to "enlist Fascist hirelings and criminal elements" for a new anti-Red revolt in the Russian zone.

He demanded that U. S. High Commissioner James B. Conant immediately stop food gifts to hungry East Germans because these were "illegal and incompatible with the elementary demands of maintaining public order."

But in West Berlin, thousands of workers were set to wrapping the million-fold packages of foodstuffs for delivery on the Iron Curtain border here beginning next Monday.

The supplies came from a West German government reserve maintained in this isolated city since 1949 to protect it against a new Russian blockade. The reserve will be replenished by donations from the United States, where President Eisenhower offered 15 million dollars worth of free food to hungry East Germany on July 10 and stuck by it after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov denounced the offer as "a clumsy propaganda maneuver."

A high American official said the Russian protest would be rejected flatly.

West Berlin welfare workers who pushed 3,900 free food parcels through the Iron Curtain yesterday expressed fear the note meant Russian tanks and troops soon might seal off East Germany so that no Western relief at all could enter.

Semyenov's wrath today centered on the relief market set up last week in West Berlin's Kreuzberg borough by Mayor Willy Kressman. It dispensed milk, potatoes, and fruits to 25,000 Soviet sector residents at one-fifth normal cost. It was replaced this week by larger similar projects operating in seven West Berlin boroughs.

Semyenov contended the Kreuzberg low-cost market was staffed by "Fascist agents in the disguise of food vendors and was shut down because of the mass protests of West Berlin unemployed and the populace of East Berlin."

Smaller Force Hits UN Line In Bulge Area

SEOUL (AP)—About 1,000 Chinese Communists, attacking along a one-mile front, today hit five South Korean positions in the Kumsong Bulge sector of central Korea, scene of last week's big Red assault.

The 8th Army said three prongs of the attack were beaten back before dawn. But at the other two points the Reds attacked again after being hurled back. Last reports from the front said sporadic fighting continued.

Elsewhere along the rain-soaked battlefront three dozen or more small-scale fights flared briefly in the predawn darkness.

Allied fighter-bombers flew through heavy clouds and drizzling rain and dropped nearly 500,000 pounds of high explosives on Red front-line positions in the Kumsong Bulge area, the 5th Air Force said.

Radar equipped B26 bombers maintained their 'round-the-clock pounding of Red battlefront positions with night and daylight attacks.

Other B26s dropped 25,000 pounds of explosives on a Communist railroad yard at Hwangju.

Communist night fighters made six nonfiring passes at 18 U. S. B29 Superforts which attacked a Red airfield at Uiju in northwest Korea for the second consecutive night.

On the ground the Reds struck with small probing jabs at outposts near Luke the Gook's Castle on the Eastern Front, Sniper Ridge on the Central Front, northwest of Chorwon and at other points on the East-Central Front.

All were beaten back in brief rifle and machine-gun battles, the 8th Army said.

The U. S. cruiser Manchester and the destroyer Radford bombarded Communist coastal defense guns near Wonsan on Korea's east coast, Navy headquarters reported.

Hot Weather Is Back

Clear skies with bright sunlight drove the mercury up to 101 degrees in Snyder Tuesday as showers over West Texas missed Scurry County. A low of 72 degrees was recorded early today by Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, and by 7:30 the temperature had risen to 78 degrees.

Potential Test On Fisher Well In Caddo Lime

B. M. Hester & Son of Wichita Falls and Norwood Drilling Co. of Wichita Falls and Midland are taking potential to complete the No. 1 Gena Dooley in Southwest Fisher County as a discovery from the Caddo lime.

This field opener had flowed at the rate of 30 barrels of new oil per hour from perforations at 6,786-802 feet. That interval was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. The flow was through a quarter-inch tubing choke. Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 6,811 feet, with total depth 6,812 feet. No water has been shown.

The No. 1 Dooley is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 176-3-H&TC, three miles northwest of the Claytonville - Pennsylvanian field and four miles northwest of Claytonville. The wildcat had flowed oil at the estimated rate of 50 barrels per hour on a drillstem test from 6,778-812 feet.

HOWARD FAILURE

Herman Brown No. 1 Hagge, a stepout from production in the North Luther-Canyon field of Howard County, is preparing to plug and abandon.

A drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian reef lime from 8,299-259 feet recovered 1,800 feet of slightly gas-cut salt water with no shows of oil. The tool was open one and a half hours. Electric logs are now being run preparatory to plugging.

DRILLING REPORT

In Northwest Scurry County, Humble No. 1 Annie Jones is perforating for new tests. Perforations at 2,670-760 feet were treated with 3,000 gallons of acid and swabbed dry with no shows.

Zonne and Coronet No. 1 E. G. Browning, three miles northeast of Fluvanna, is drilling in shale below 6,444 feet.

Gulf Oil No. 1 Canon, Borden wildcat, is conditioning hole for a second drillstem test from 8,420-625 feet. An earlier test on this zone failed.

Texaco No. 1 Jones, Northeast Borden wildcat, is drilling in shale below 7,726 feet.

Magnolia No. 1 Eiland, West-Central Dawson wildcat, is drilling in lime and shale below 11,130 feet.

Herrall and Williamson No. 1 Smart, 16 miles northwest of Lamesa, has drilled out the plug to 4,986 feet and is preparing to acidize and test in San Andres lime.

U. S. Smelting & Refining No. 1 Sandidge, Dawson wildcat, is drilling in lime and shale below 7,894 feet.

Tri-Service Drilling Co. No. 1 Grantham, Dickens wildcat, spudded Tuesday and is drilling in red beds below 497 feet.

Magnolia No. 3-D Conrad, East Borden test, is swabbing out load oil from perforations and has reported no new oil. This project is in the J. B. Thomas lake bed.

Foreign Aid Cut 'Too Much'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he thinks the billion dollar cut in foreign aid funds approved by the House Appropriations Committee goes too deep.

The house was to open debate on the trimmed down bill.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower believes the program can operate successfully under the lower figure. The President said he had been doing a lot of study about the matter and thinks the cut is too heavy.

The cut figures out at close to $1,100,000,000.

The committee voted to give the administration $4,428,678,000 in new money and permission to carry over $1,758,010,179 from unpledged past appropriations. A vote is scheduled in the House later in the week.

No 'Paupers Oath' Trouble In Administering Drouth Aid Here

Local drouth relief committeemen will continue the emergency stock feed program "the same as usual" here, acording to Glenn Tate, head of the committee and also chairman of the Production & Marketing Administration county committee.

Gov. Allan Shivers had complained to President Eisenhower that cattlemen were having difficulty getting relief because of too strict eligibility requirements. Protest by some cattlemen were that they were virtually required to sign a pauper's oath in order to become eligible to buy feed at cheap prices.

Tate said that recent instructions from the federal PMA did not indicate any need to stop selling low-priced feed to cattlemen here and that the committee will not cut off supplies to ranchers unless notice is given at some future date.

The instructions from the federal PMA, which had been forwarded here by the state drouth committee, said, "Advise county drouth committees immediately as follows: Purpose of drouth feed program is to maintain basic foundation herds for those bonafide farmers and stockmen who do not have the finances to purchase feed at prevailing market prices to maintain such herds and remain in livestock business with reasonable chance for successful operations.

"For this purpose, basic foundation herds will consist of cows, bulls, nursing calves, and such heifers as may be kept to replace over-age and other undesirable cattle culled from the herds.

"To be eligible for feed at reduced prices, a farmer or stockman must (1) have less than a 30-day supply of feed to supplement the roughage for the foundation herd when such cattle, other than feeders in feedlots, will be marketed not later than Sept. 30, 1953.

"(2) Not have the financial ability to remain in business and maintain his herd in a relatively satisfactory condition in view of present drouth conditions, unless he can purchase feed at prices substantially below prevailing market prices. Feeders in the feedlot are not eligible.

"To avoid any undue hardships, county committees should use reasonable descretion in carrying out these instructions."

Tate said that the statements in the instructions are very broad and that the committee, in a meeting yesterday, could not see that it would cause much change here.

The committee head said that no new supplies of feeds have arrived but that four cars of oats are en route from Chicago.

President Eisenhower said today, according to an Associated Press report, that regulations governing administration of drouth relief are being "clarified" in instructions to state drouth committees.

Eisenhower's message to Shivers said the distribution of feed to cattle growers is largely the responsibility of local committees.

Members of the drouth committee here are Tate, Oscar Fowler, county agent; Robert Deaton, Farmers Home Administration supervisor; Max West of the Snyder National Farm Loan Association, and H. W. Cargile, vice-president of the West Texas State Bank.

Bank Robbed By Young Man

COMFORT, Tex. (AP) —A youth turned down for a bank loan took $1,730 at gunpoint yesterday from the Comfort State Bank.

Bank President Lawrence Goforth said the robber was in his middle twenties and about 5 feet 10 inches tall. He fled in a yellow auto toward Kerrville, 18 miles away.

Goforth said the man was wearing khaki trousers and a blue shirt. He talked to him and Vice President Albert Faltin about a loan when he entered the bank late in the day.

He said he wanted to open a cafe in this small town 46 miles northwest of San Antonio.

Goforth said the robber started to leave the bank after he was refused the loan. He reached the lobby but turned back.

"Well, I've got to have the money," he said as he drew a small pistol from his shirt.

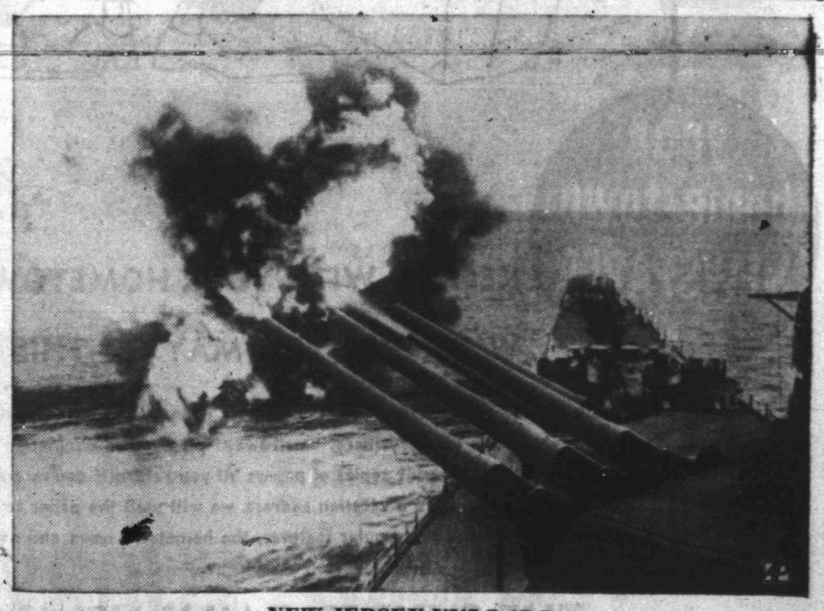

The bank president said he told the man, "Put that thing away. You are going to get money."

Faltin gave the money to the gunman who left hurriedly. About five persons were in the bank.

Shaky Bridges Lie Ahead In Path Taken By Republicans

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is putting off until next year what it didn't do this year. From the standpoint of lawmaking, this was an undistinguished year. There's no guarantee next year will be any more productive.

This year's legislative dreariness was obscured by the lightning flashes of personality which illuminated the Capitol from time to time and gave it a liveliness otherwise lacking.

There was the picture of President Eisenhower, new in his job, trying to push and pull his Republican-contolled Congress along the road he wanted it to travel while still learning how to deal with the lawmakers.

Individuals like Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) looking for subversives and aging Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) fighting against extension of the excess profits tax lent color to the show.

There was also the very human drama of Eisenhower and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who had been rivals for their party's presidential nomination in 1952, learning to work together in 1953.

If the congressional performance was slow this year, it could be excused on the ground that a new administration was trying to get adjusted to its new responsibilities, and was feeling its way along.

Next year it will have no such excuse. Next year the Republican administration can be fairly judged on its performance. And it will have a particularly good reason for wanting to put on a satisfactory one in 1954.

Next year is an election year, the first time the Republicans have had to face the judgment of the voters since taking office in January 1953. All 435 House seats and one-third of the 96 Senate seats are at stake in the elections of November 1954.

At present the Republican majorities are so hair-thin that a few changes in the 1954 election results could give the Democrats control of Congress.

This would mean for President Eisenhower, still in charge of the executive branch of the government, that for the following two years he'd have to depend upon a Democratic-controlled Congress for the sucess of any programs he offered.

It is one of the political legends, not necessarily true at all, that members of Congress, more conscious of the voters, always do more in an election year.

Actually the 1954 election results may be determined by factors not at all connected with the record established by Congress—perhaps by events not even dreamed of at this moment.

For instance, if the elections were being held this November, and if the Eisenhower administration had managed to get a truce in Korea, the Republicans probably would be swept back into office.

The same may not be true in November 1954. For in that year the results of the truce—possibly drawn out, frustrating peace negotiations and even ugly developments—might sway the voters the other way.

So Eisenhower will have his hands full in 1954, not only in trying to lead his Republicans in Congress to a good showing, but in making a record for his Republican administration in foreign affairs as well.

This year the biggest single piece of controversial legislation was on giving the states rights, out to their historic boundaries, to the oil in the waters off their shores. And Eisenhower suceeded, after a bitter struggle, in getting the excess profits tax extended another six months.

He seems reasonably sure, before this session of Congress ends, of getting the reciprocal trade agreement program extended another year. And before it quits this year Congress has some other pieces of "must" legislation on its books: admission of perhaps 240,000 European refugees over a three-year period; authority for Eisenhower to send surplus food abroad in an emergency.

But put off until next year, with no certainty of achievement, are extension of social security; changes in the Taft-Hartley Act; the question of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

And the Republicans will have to find ways of raising money to meet government expenses and deciding whether to scuttle foreign aid, a step which might wreck Eisenhower's foreign program.

Polio Shots To Bristol Area

BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn. (AP)—Nearly 15,000 children of this Virginia-Tennessee border region were slated for gamma globulin inoculations today and tomorrow as health authorities sought to check an outbreak of polio that has reached the epidemic stage.

Four clinics were set to begin operation today following the arrival by air yesterday of 106,000 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin, the antipolio vaccine that is not a cure but which is used to cut down the number of polio cases and lessen the effects of the disease.

Even as the vaccine arrived, three new cases of polio were reported, bringing to 54 the number since the start of July in an area of 150,000 persons that includes Bristol, Va. - Tenn.; Washington County, Va.; and Sullivan County, Tenn.

Children of Bristol and Washington County only were due to be "needled."

Washington County has been hardest hit with 27 cases. There have been 8 in Bristol, Va., 13 in Bristol, Tenn., and 6 in Sullivan County.

While this area began its inoculations, there was some cheering news on gamma globulin from Lenoir, N. C., where polio showed a marked decline in the first indicative week since the mass inoculations.

The week ending July 19 resulted in only nine new cases—less than half the 21 cases reported the previous week. There were 26 new cases the week before that. A total of 124 cases of polio have been reported in Caldwell County, N.C., since the middle of April.

Although gamma globulin was given part of the credit, Dr. William Happer, county health officer, noted also that the history of polio in North Carolina showed the disease usually tapers off the latter part of july.

Rag auctions have been held at Dewsbury, England, for more than 100 years.

Senate Passes Bill To Sell Rubber Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed 65-16 last night a bill to get the government out of the synthetic rubber business but it attached an amendment some senators declared might prevent sale of the government-owned 29 plants.

The measure, asked by President Eisenhower, now goes to a Senate conference with the House, which approved it in a form lacking many of the Senate provisions.

The amendment which supporters of the bill said might be fatal was sponsored by Sen. Russell Long (D-La) and adopted 47-35, with Democrats supplying most of the "yes" votes.

Long's amendment would permit either branch of Congress to veto any of the sales individually. As reported by the Banking Committee, the bill would have required the Senate or House to accept or reject the disposal program in one package.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), Banking Committee chairman, argued that the Long amendment would keep private companies from bidding on the plants. He said they would fear Congress might turn down some of the sales, and thus leave part of the plants under government operation in competition with private business.

But Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told him, "You can walk out any entrance to this Senate chamber right now, and you will find plenty of people who want to buy these plants."

The 29 plants were built in World War II at a cost of 518 million dollars.

Boy Scouts In Love With Big Movie Stars

JAMBOREE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Jamboree Boy Scouts went back to their scoutcraft activities today full of chuckles and memories of a big Hollywood show last night that brought them Bob Hope and a full lineup of film talent.

Master of ceremonies Hope set the pace for the fun night of the third National Boy Scout Jamboree in a big outdoor arena on this Southern California ranch. When he looked out over the 45,000 scouts and leaders, including 66 scouts from 23 foreign lands, he quipped:

"This is the United Nations in short pants."

The hillside jammed with boys in regulation jamboree short pants roared, and Hope continued:

"I love the Boy Scouts. But I wish they wouldn't help me across the street."

Other samples of Hope:

"I was a Boy Scout myself once but I didn't like the short pants. The boys kept rubbing my knees together to start fires."

"Oh, yes, and Bing Crosby was a scout, you know; a member of the dinosaur patrol."

Jane Powell, accompanied by a Marine Corps band, sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

Debbie Reynolds, favorite of the teen-agers, sang a couple of songs, joked with the boys and responded to their whistles with: "Sounds like the wolf patrol."

Director Al Rogell and a film crew reproduced a few minutes from the working day on a Hollywood sound stage, four swordsmen in a spirited "Three Musketeers" fencing scene.

There followed a stagecoach scene, other comedy and singing acts and the introduction of a parade of stars, including Danny Kaye, Dick Powell, Preston Foster, George Montgomery, Vera Ellen and Rory Calhoun.

Jamboree officials estimated that counting visitors and scout leaders, approximately 100,000 attended the show.

Before the event some of the Hollywood celebrities took a look over the 3,000 acres of the jamboree site. Miss Reynolds was a great favorite with the boys.

Two wide-eyed Ohio boys asked her to autograph their neckerchiefs and she complied, saying with a laugh: "You'll probably trade them for skunk skins." The boys were Kenneth Zellers, 12, of Troop 45 in Hartville, and Tom Schmeltzer, 13, of Troop 32 at Canton. The boys were shy but Kenneth murmured an "Oh, boy!"

Menu Changed Slightly

HALIFAX, N. C. (AP)—Prison officials explained the sudden change in the menu at the Halifax prison camp this way:

The menu called for corn on the cob.

The cook, Austin Robert Robinson, was sent out to the prison cornfield to gather the corn.

He may have gathered it.

But that was three days ago and he hasn't come back yet.

The robin-sized ouzel "flies" under water in mountain streams of the west, seeking waterbugs and shellfish.

TV Fires Not Like Those Set In Barns

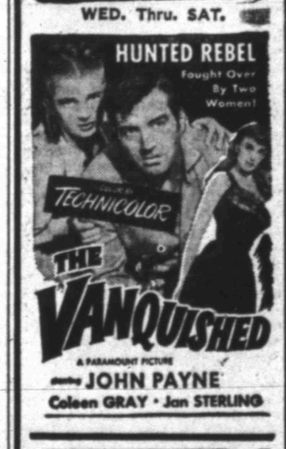

HILTON, N. Y. (AP)—A 10-year-old boy saw a television show on how to put out a fire with a blanket and burned down a barn when he tried it himself, a sheriff's deputy reports.

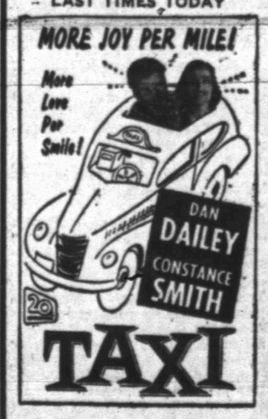

Deputy Alfred Newell of Monroe County said the lad, whose name was withheld, started the fire and ran away when he was unable to douse it with a burlap bag.

The loss was estimated at $5,000. No charge was placed against the boy.

E. H. Stelling pours worms into a shipping carton. He is sitting on the corner of the bed which is under the shade of an arbor behind his home at 1300 Fifth Street. Besides their worm ranch the Stellings spend time in the garden from which Mrs. Stelling is canning food

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Stelling's Worm Ranch Keeps 30,000 Wrigglers

By DOLORES KETCHERSID

Although Snyder can't claim to have a typewriter artist, professional pogo stick rider or flagpole sitter, it does now have an unusual ocupationalist in E. H. STELLING who is getting well under way with his worm ranch.

The ranch now has one bed which is about 10 feet long, four feet wide and three and one-half feet deep. It houses about 30,000 red wriggler worms in a mixture or about half soil and half fertilizer.

Mr. Stelling said he spent most of his first 14 years in Minnesota with a "fishing pole in one hand and a shotgun in the other." He first got interested in raising the worms because he still likes to fish. He never uses artificial lures. He said he didn't believe in them.

The worms are hard to find in the summer time due to the heat and dry ground. Therefore Mr. Stelling listened attentively when he heard a friend mention the particulars of operating a Tennessee worm ranch. There are costs to getting started just like in any other kind of business, Mr. Stelling said. His biggest amount of money went toward building the bed and stocking it.

The bed has a foundation of a layer of gravel, a copper screening, other layer of gravel and then [illegible] inch layer. Next comes a six-inch layer of corn cobs or spoiled hay. A frame over the bed protects it and keeps the soil from drying out. Two boards are laid on the surface of it to keep moisture in and also to make it easier to find the worms, since they come up under it.

The bed is housed under an arbor of posts and chicken wire over which Mr. Stelling has placed a protective covering of bear grass. The bed has to be shaded at all times and drenched with water about once each day, he said.

Beside the arbor he has built a bed in which vegetable tops are buried and allowed to decay. The decay is mixed with fertilizer and black dirt to make worm food which is placed over the bed about one-half inch deep every two months. The worms get most of their food from the soil, Mr. Stelling said.

The Snyder man said he doubted if he ever raised any kind of worm other than the wrigglers, but that he might sell brown angles some day. There has already been some demand for the latter kind, but "if they ever fish once with the red wrigglers they will forget the others," he said.

According to Mr. Stelling the red wrigglers are about the toughest kind to kill. He said if a fisherman is reasonably careful he could take them to Alaska and back. Among the don'ts on his list are don't keep them in any hot compartment of the car such as the luggage compartment and don't leave them exposed to the sun while fishing.

Although the Stellings only sell the worms retail this year, they hope to do mostly wholesale business next season. Their current prices are 25 cents per dozen or $1 per hundred. There's a new occupation. If you get bored with your present job, you might try your luck hiring out as a worm counter.

The worms are packed in peat moss and worm food for shipping. Mr. Stelling said he will have facilities to ship them to any place in the United States, Canada, Alaska, or Mexico.

CALIFORNIA JAUNT

Mr. and Mrs. MILTON MAPES and children, 1917 Coleman, returned recently from a two and one-half weeks vacation in California. The family swam in the ocean, sprawled on the sand at Long Beach and visited relatives in Hollywood (none of whom are film stars). They ate at a Chinese restaurant, and Mrs. Mapes has full intentions of preparing similar food in Snyder. The family were guests of Mrs. Mapes' parents near Pasadena, Cal.

Mrs. Mapes is a firm believer of all the tales of California drivers. She refused to drive all the time they were in the cities there.

Jackie Bishop Feted At Party

Jackie Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bishop of Knapp, was honored with a birthday party last Wednesday at the C. U. Bishop home at 1204 Twenty-sixth Street.

Cake and ice cream were served. Those present were Charlott and Diane Rose, Carmon and Ronnie Grant, Wesley Bishop, Kay Callaway and Glena Cohee. From out of town were Rickey Hester, Cuthbert, and Connie and Karen Roberson, Knapp.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mapes, 308 Twenty-third Street, visited recently in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Nute Wardlaw, in Waco.

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5486.

I have raised some leaf herbs. How do you prepare them for winter use? They are about ready for harvesting. A. F.

The specialists say the tender-leaf herbs such as basil, tarragon, lemon balm and mints which have a high moisture content need rapid drying to hold the color and flavor and prevent molding. The less suculent leaf herbs such as sage, rosemary, thyme and summer savory can be partially dried in the sun without affecting their color, but too long exposure should be avoided.

For drying, cut stems two or three inches from the tip. If leaves are gritty or dusty, wash in cold water and drain thoroughly. Tie the twigs in bunches and hang up to dry. Or spread them thinly over a screen in a dark airy place. As soon as the leaves are thoroughly dry, separate them from the stems and pack in tight containers away from air to prevent loss of the essential oils that give them flavor and fragrance.

While macaroni is cooking, combine 1½ cups shredded American cheese, ¼ cup chili sauce, 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Add macaroni. Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in skillet. Add macaroni mixture and heat. Makes 4 servings.

The electrician may not feel that it is important, but insist on a conveniently high outlet for ironing. It will prevent the cord from dragging or catching on the board, or pulling across clothes being ironed.

The best place for the outlet is above and to the front of the board and at least 36 inches above it. The most convenient location is on a wall faced by the worker, or on a wall at the side. The cord itself should be about 5½ to 6 feet long.

Low Salaried Heart Throb Is Sure He's In Big Dough

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here's news. Robert Wagner, No. 1 boy with the bobbysoxers and star of his studio's biggest pictures, earns a paltry $350 a week and isn't complaining.

Of course, $350 a week may seem like a sizable chunk of change to you and me, but it's small potatoes in the movie world. Especialy for a lad like Bob Wagner.

He is currently the top man on all the fan magazine polls. The malt shop set goes for him with a devotion that recalls the palmiest days of Van Johnson and Frank Sinatra. His studio, 20th Century-Fox, has taken a tip from the teen-agers and put Wagner in top properties. He recently finished "12 Mile Reef," a wide-screen epic of sponge fishing filmed entirely in Florida.

Now he's playing the title role in "Prince Valiant," a super-budget Cinema-Scope film in which he'll be surrounded by Janet Leigh, Debra Paget, Sterling Hayden, James Mason and a flock of top-notch actors. All of them will doubtless be making more money than the star of the film.

"I'm not complaining," said the handsome, 23-year-old actor. "I'm grateful to the studio. When I came here four years ago, I didn't know the first thing about acting. They took a chance on me, and I couldn't have had better training.

"Every picture I have been in has been a top attraction, with the exception of two. That's the kind of buildup you can get only at a major studio."

But don't get the idea that young Wagner is going to allow himself to be exploited. He's too hep to let that happen.

"I could probably get a new deal from the studio right now," he remarked. "But time is in my favor. My next option period is in April. By that time, '12 Mile Reef' and 'Prince Valiant' will be released. Then I will be in a better bargaining position.

"'Prince Valiant' alone is worth five million dollars to me, as far as my future career is concerned. It is a natural, the kind of picture that comes once in a lifetime for an actor."

So while Bob is waiting for the big money to roll in, he is learning how to be a movie star and live on $350 a week. That's harder than it sounds, according to him.

"By the time I pay my agent's 10 per cent, rent, insurance, clothes taxes and other expenses, I find I have nothing left," he remarked. "And for 12 weeks out of the year, I don't earn any salary."

He decided he needed a manager and consulted the business agent who handles such stars as Humphrey Bogart and Dick Powell.

"If you can't save any money on $350 a week, you probably couldn't save on $60,000 a year," the moneyman told him. "Do you realize that some judges earn as much as you do and yet are able to maintain nice houses and cars, put their children through school, etc.?"

Bob hired the man to take care of his pay check and now he's on a strict budget. "I couldn't get an extra quarter to see an earthquake," the actor sighs.

But he doesn't have to worry. Despite present-day economy, his bosses will probably be coming up with a new contract soon. Reason: so the studio will have seven more years of his services, instead of the present four.

"That's all right with me too," said Bob. "When the new contract is over, I'll be 30. If I have continued to grow, I'll be in a position to knock off really big money as a free lancer."

No doubt about it, here's a kid who's going to get ahead.

Simmon's Lawn Mowing Is Proving Fatal To Philadelphia

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The team that wins the National League pennant this year ought to give its members little lawnmowers to remind them of why the Philadelphia Phillies didn't win.

The Phillies might still pull the big surprise, but it gets more unlikely by the day, particularly the days when Curt Simmons pitches and loses.

This looked like a great year for Simmons. During the first month of the season he and Robin Roberts formed the most feared left-right pitching combination in the majors.

But one sunny day in early June, Curt decided to cut some grass and he ran his power mower over his left foot. Part of his big toe had to be amputated. He was sidelined a full month.

He's been back in action 2½ weeks now, but not with anything like his early success. In four starts he has won just once.

Last night the Phillies threw Roberts and Simmons at the Milwaukee Braves. Roberts won his 16th game with ease 10-0, but Simmons didn't make it, giving up five runs and eight hits in six innings. The final score was 7-3.

So, instead of gaining ground, the Phils still are seven games out of first place and three behind the Braves.

Roberts fanned six, scattered seven hits and drove in two runs in the first game. Walker Cooper's three-run homer, his first of the season, was the big blow off Simmons, whose record now is 8-7.

Both the Phils and the Braves lost half a game to the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers, who trampled Chicago 15 - 4. St. Louis whipped New York 10 - 6 and climbed back into first division at the expense of the Giants. Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 7-2.

The Cleveland Indians finally beat the New York Yankees in Cleveland 8-3 with Bob Lemon winning his 13th game. Detroit shaded Washington 8-7 in 10 innings. Rain washed out night games in Chicago between the White Sox and Boston and in St. Louis between the Browns and Philadelphia.

Cleveland's victory, a 13-hit assault on three New York pitchers, cut the Yankees' lead over Chicago to 5½ games and moved the Indians back into third place, 10 games back.

Al Rosen, who makes a specialty of first-inning home runs, put the Indians in front with a two-run blast off Johnny Sain. Bob Kuzava came in when Cleveland poured across three runs in the fifth and Ray Scarborough finished up.

Washington appeared to have its game won against Detroit at least twice only to have the Tigers come back, first to tie, and then to win on Don Lund's two-run double in the 10th. Mickey Vernon put the Senators ahead with a three-run homer in the ninth but Matt Batts evened things for Detroit with a ninth-inning homer. Then Washington scored one run in the 10th.

The Cubs used six pitchers in a futile attempt to silence the Dodgers bats but only ancient Dutch Leonard met with any success. He pitched three scoreless innings. Against the other five, including starter and loser Warren Hacker, the Dodgers piled up 15 runs.

The Cardinals scored four runs off Sal Maglie in the first inning at New York, the biggest opening frame they've had in a month. Two of the tallies came on a home run by Stan Musial. Rip Repulski contributed a three-year homer in the fourth. Gerry Staley had to have help to get the final out when the Giants scored once and loaded the bases in the ninth but he got credit for his 13th victory.

Crafty Ken Raffensberger gave the Pirates 10 hits but only one of them—Frank Thomas' two - run homer—was damaging. The Cincinnati left-hander more than balanced Thomas' blow with a three-run home run of his own.

2 Pony Loop Teams Take Up First Place

The Courthouse Tigers, who led the first half of the Pony League, and the Lions Club Phillies, who ran third, took the lead in the second half of the league schedule last night.

The Tigers edged the Scurry Butane Dodgers 6-5, while the Phillies downed the Von Roeder Red Sox 13-7.

After the Tigers had taken the lead, the Dodgers went ahead in the fourth inning when Milton Ham knocked a home run with two men on base. That gave the Tigers a 5-3 lead, but the Tigers managed to bring in three more runs during the next two innings.

Tommy Pritchard, winning hurler, fanned eight, walked only two, and allowed only three hits. The Tigers got nine hits and five walks off John Partain, who struck out nine.

The Phillies led their game all the way. Robie Robins homered in the fifth with two men on.

Mickey Craig was winning hurler, fanning three and walking four. He was relieved in the sixth by Don McNew, who walked two and fanned four. Both allowed five hits.

Robert Dabbs, losing hurler, got no strikeouts and walked four. He was relieved by J. T. Myers, who struck out 11 and walked five. The two gave up 10 hits.

Tomorrow night, the Dodgers will meet the Red Sox at 7 o'clock and the Phillies will play the Tigers at 9 o'clock.

Heavyweights Fight To Get Chance At Marciano's Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Dan Bucceroni tonight meets Tommy Harrison in a 10-round heavyweight bout at Chicago Stadium that both fighters hoped would be a stepping stone to a championship match.

Bucceroni, of Philadelphia, has ranked No. 5 in heavyweight ranks.

Harrison, of Los Angeles, has won 20 fights, lost 7 and had 1 draw. He is ranked No. 6.

The bout will start at 9 p. m., EST, and will be televised nationally by CBS.

Bucceroni, a 2-1 favorite, has fought two matches with Roland La Starza, Champion Rocky Marciano's opponent in September. Bucceroni won one and lost one. He also was defeated by Dick Wagner and Bob Murphy.

The winner tonight probably will be rematched with Bob Satterfield of Chicago, who scored a first-round knockout of Bob Baker in the last stadium show.

Too Many Williams For Cops To Handle

CLEVELAND (AP) — There were two men named Williams in city jail. William Williams was a shoplifting suspect and Doyle Williams was held for intoxication.

Doyle Williams was to be released yesterday, but was asleep when Patrolman John Unateny called his name into a large cell which also held William Williams.

So William Williams signed Doyle Williams' name to a waiver slip and walked out to freedom.

Yanks Back In First Place Of Little Loop

Only one chance remains in Little League to prevent the Legion Yanks from taking undisputed championship.

The Yanks, who moved into the lead alone last night while the Kiwanis Braves, who had tied the Yanks, dropped to second, must play one more game. That will come at 7 o'clock Friday night when they meet the Braves. If the Yanks win, they will hold the championship, because they led the first half of the schedule. If the Braves win, the two teams will again be tied for first.

The Braves fell from the top spot last night when the Optimist Cardinals downed them 5-1.

Johnny Griggs, Card hurler, struck out 17, while he gave up only two hits and walked only four. Chuck Warren, losing pitcher, fanned five, allowed three hits, and walked five.

The Yanks had to go nine innings with the Quarterback Giants, last place team in the league, to maintain their first place spot.

By the end of the fourth inning, the two teams had tied up 6-6, and they remained in the tie until the end of the sixth. They ran three innings over before the Yanks finally scored. Richard Mahan, who had walked, went to second when Coleman John walked, then he stole third and went to home on a wild throw by a Giant player.

Norman Gladson pitched three and two-thirds innings for the Yanks, fanning eight, while John struck out seven during the rest of the game. Both allowed seven hits. The Yanks got only four hits off Barry Walker, who pitched three innings, and Tommy Blakely, who huried six for the Giants. Walker struck out two and Blakely fanned 10.

At 7 o'clock tomorrow night, the Lions Cubs, fourth place team, will meet the Holder Indians fifth place. At 9 o'clock the Cards will meet the Giants.

City Softball Loop Nears End Of Season

Standard of Texas downed Magnolia 4-2 in last night's play of the city softball league.

The Standard team is one of the top five in the league, as is Magnolia. Ted Masters was winning hurler, and Birch Raley was loser.

Scheduled to meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night is Humble, which holds undisputed first place in the league, and Magnolia, Friday night, Texaco, another of the top five, will play Hermleigh.

Next week, the top four teams will play in a double - elimination tourney for the championship of the league.

Little League All-Star Team Is Picked

Members of the Little League all-star team to enter playoffs was chosen yesterday by the league managers.

The team will be headed by Skipper Joyce, manager of the Legion Yankees, who won the first half of the league schedule and are now holding first in the second half, and Mutt Herod, head of the Lions Cubs, who ran second in the first half and are now standing third.

Joyce and Herod held the team's first workout this morning and will work with the team in practice until Monday night, when they go into their first playoff game.

The playoff game will be held here at 8 o'clock Monday night. The Snyder team will meet the Sweetwater league's all-stars in an Area 2 playoff. Rotan, the other member of Area 2, drew a bye in the playoff schedule and will meet the winner of Monday's game at the winner's field Wednesday.

The winner of that game will go to the district finals Aug. 3-8 at Plainview, competing in a tourney with three other areas reaching from Midland to Childress. The district winner will compete in section finals at Bryan Aug. 10-12, from which the winner will go to regional finals at Austin Aug. 17-19. The regional champ will go to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 25-28.

Speedy Moffett, president of the league here, said that umpires for the Monday playoff will probably be from the Colorado City league. Each player on the all-star team will wear the uniform of his own team.

Members of the Snyder team are Johnny Drake, Kenneth Drake, and Gene Wiggs of the Lions Cubs, Dick Hayes, Richard Mahan, Coleman John, and A. L. Minica, all of the Legion Yankees, Gayle Courtney and Johnny Griggs of the Optimist Cardinals, Tommy Blakely of the Quarterback Giants, and Neil Boyd of the Holder Indians. Alternate team members are Harold Brown, Jr., of the Yankees and Gene Bruton of the Cardinals.

All members of the team are 12 except Mahan, who is 11, Moffett said.

Tyler Spreads Out Its Lead

By The Associated Press

Tyler defended its Big State League lead Tuesday night with a 3-2 triumph over Paris. Second-place Wichita Falls, in losing to Bryan 3-2 in 13 innings, dropped back one and a half lengths.

Three games were extra-innings contests. Texarkana took a 5-4, 10 inning contest from Temple. Longview went to 11 innings to drop Austin 3-1.

Tyler put together two runs in the bottom of the ninth to whip the Indians. With two out relief hurler Ernie Sadler singled to score Jim Kirby with the victory run.

The Bryan Majors, the league's extra - inning champs, broke through their five game losing streak to edge the Wichita Falls Spudders.

Frank Scarpace opened the last of the 13th with a triple and after John Goodell and Bob Saulsberry were intentionally passed Bob Cullins drove out a long fly to score Scarpace and win the match.

Jim Heisner went the full distance for the Spudders, allowing seven hits. Harry Young pitched a 13-inning six-hitter, to win it.

Texarkana kept its third - place tie (with Bryan) alive by skimming past Temple with an unearned run in the 10th inning. Walt Dunkovich got into scoring position on a Temple error and came home on Bob Signaigo' single.

Al Gerheauser was the victor.

Negro Team Wins In Midland, To Play In Anson Friday Night

The Negro women's softball team downed a Midland women's team 20-18 Sunday.

The win was cinched by four home runs, hit by Rosanell Walker, Bernice Walker, Ruth Archie, and Ernestine Green.

Rosanell Walker was winning pitcher. The win brought the team's record for the season to six won, four lost.

The team is scheduled to go to Rotan for a game Friday night.

Houston Lad Wins Bout

HOUSTON (AP)—Johnny McCray of Houston came back from a first round knockdown last night for a unanimous decision over Anthony Arnone, 143, of New Orleans.

Arnone put McCray down for an eight count in the first round with a left hook. McCray downed Arnone in the third and fourth rounds. The Alabaman, now fighting out of Houston, has won 24 of 25 professional fights and had one draw.

Texas League Lead On Line Again Tonight

By The Associated Press

Shreveport puts its half - game Texas League lead on the line Wednesday night when it opens a three-game stand in Dallas with the second place Eagles.

The crucial series finds both clubs "up".

Tuesday night the Sports dropped Fort Worth 5-3, sweeping the two-game set from the Cats. Dallas won it's third straight, 6-4 from Beaumont.

Tulsa gained on third place, blanking Houston 5-0, and San Antonio took the measure of Oklahoma City 7-2 in 11 innings.

Shreveport's money - players, Veteran Mel McGaha and right-hander Hugh Sooter pulled off the triumph in Fort Worth. McGaha doubled at the start of the eighth inning, starting a three - run rally that cracked a 2-2 tie. Sooter held Fort Worth to seven hits for his 11th victory.

Pete Wojey, winner of seven of his last eight, was the loser.

Beaumont's Don Fracchia and Wayne McLeland, biggest winners (13-5) in the league, squared off at Dallas. The Eagles won with a three-run eighth inning. Dallas used four pitchers and Pete Mazar was declared winner.

San Antonio bowled over Oklahoma City with a five-run 13th inning, snapping a 2-2 tie that carried over from the seventh. In the top of the seventh the Missions scored once, routed Bill Greason on "Bill Greason Night" and tied the game.

Rocco Ippolito's double drove in the first 13th inning score and started the rout.

Ed Grenkoski pitched his second shutout and his sixth victory, blanking Houston, 5-0. He allowed the Buffs seven hits.

The win put the oilers half a game behind third - place Fort Worth. Tulsa is five and a half from the top.

The schedule shift Wednesday night puts Tulsa against San Antonio, and in good position to gain ground on the top three clubs. Fort Worth entertains Beaumont and Houston goes to Oklahoma City.

Southern Playoffs In Semi-Pro Baseball

SINTON, TEX. (AP)—Corpus Christi Naval Air Station meets Huntsville, and the Plymouth Oilers play Refugio tonight in the National Baseball Congress Semi Pro Baseball Tournament for the Southern Division title.

The Air Station Comets downed Randolph Air Force Base 5-4 last night. The Victoria Rosebuds beat the Huntsville Merchants 10-2. The second defeat for Randolph AFB eliminated the team from the tournament. Randolph lost to the Plymouth Oilers Monday.

TEAM TROUBLES

With All The Great Sports Records, Baseball Still Tops

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan rides up Broadway, wrapped in ticker tape. . . . Native Dancer romps home by nine lengths. . . . Rocky Marciano goes to camp. . . . the heat breaks the old Olympic record. . . . but the guy next door still talks baseball.

With the All-Star Game in the record books and only 10 weeks to go before the World Series, it's time to take a midseason inventory of last April's major league stock.

Taking the National League first:

Brooklyn—Showing its expected power with signs that the pitching finally is coming around. . . . Jackie Robinson settled down in left field after making the grand tour of third base, second base and first. . . . Billy Cox back on third and Gil Hodges on first. . . . Junior Gilliam, benched for a few days, playing a flashy second base.

Milwaukee—Still the big surprise of the year, although slacking off from torrid early pace . . . Charlie Grimm sweating it out awaiting for Del Crandall's injured hand to mend. . . . Warren Spahn threatening Robin Roberts' position as No. 1 pitcher in the league.

Philadelphia—Mr. Roberts doing his usual job although Curt Simmons, sidelined by that lawnmower accident, still has that [illegible] mark . . . Jim Konstanty flashing his old M.V.P. form with 10 victories.

New York—Rolling in high gear now that Leo Durocher has made his big decision on the infield, putting Daryl Spencer on short and Al Dark on second. . . . Monte Irvin bombing with his old '51 form, fighting for the batting lead.

St. Louis — Harvey Haddix and Gerry Staley winning about half the games . . . Stan Musial still hovering around .300 and not among the top 10 batters.

Cincinnati — Rogers Hornsby clicking with a fine job . . . Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell knocking down the fences.

Chicago—Crippled again by Hank Sauer's injury . . . Ralph Kiner hitting his home run stride after his trade from Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh—Bonus babies at every turn . . . Branch Rickey wishing Dal Coogan could come back from service to play first base for an all-Irish infield with the O'Brien twins and Danny O'Connell.

In the American League:

New York—Winning 18 straight, losing 9, letting an 11½-game lead slide to 4 and then bouncing back by winning 2 at Chicago . . . Stengel blowing up and barring the clubhouse to newsmen during bad streak . . . Mickey Mantle hobbling on a bad leg.

Chicago—Hustling all the way with the go-go spirit of Paul Richards . . . Virgil Trucks making a fine comeback . . . Harry Dorish the best relief pitcher in the league.

Boston — The kids making it a first division club . . . George Kell, playing with a bad back, leading the league . . . Jim Piersall proving he could shake off his troubles and play major league ball.

Cleveland—Falling apart after one solid spurt . . . Al Rosen bombing . . . Luke Easter letting in almost as many as he drives in . . . Bobby Feller proving he still has something.

Washington — Slick field, no punch and solid pitching from Bob Porterfield, Frank Shea . . . Chuck Stobbs disappointing . . . Mickey Vernon in the batting race.

Philadelphia — Crippled by injuries that have Jimmy Dykes talking to himself . . . Loss of Bobby Shantz for half the season worst blow . . . Gus Zernial's homers and Pete Suder's consistent batting the bright spots.

St. Louis—A good bet to beat out Detroit for last place . . . Playing out the string with an eye cocked toward Baltimore.

Detroit—Pitching soddy, defense poor but hitting fair—fans still loyal despite steady cellar gait . . . Front office spreading bonus cash to cover up bad trades.

Record Total Production In Nation In 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's boom economy in 1952 rang up a record total production worth some 348 billion dollars, according to the Department of Commerce.

Individuals spent more for food alone in 1952, the government report said, than the total dollar value of all goods and services the nation produced in any of five depression years 1931-35. However, the depression dollar was more valuable than the 1952 dollar.

Measured by the dollar's purchasing power in 1939, which the department took as a yardstick, the country's gross national product in 1952 was nearly three times what it was at the depression low in 1933. The gross national product is the total value of all goods and services produced.

Without adjustment for the difference in the purchasing power of the dollar before and after 1939, the nation's 1952 output was more than six times that of 1933.

And, the Department of Commerce report released yesterday said, government spending in 1952, without adjustment for the changed dollar, was nearly 10 times what it was in 1933—77½ billion dollars in 1952 compared to somewhat less than 8 billions in 1933.

National income reached $291,600,000,000 in 1952, a 5 per cent advance over 1951. More than two-thirds of this was wages and salaries. And personal income was $269,700,000,000, a rise of 6 per cent over 1951.

Like gross national product, national income and personal income also hit record peaks in 1952, the Commerce Department said. Spending by individuals also topped all previous records.

Farmers Here Look To Grains And Peas

Late rains, which have opened the way for crops in many parts of the county, have started a large number of farmers here planting early - maturing grains.

Oscar Fowler, county agent, recommends the planting of several types of grains, including some combine maize, milo, and kafir which bloom in 60 to 70 days for market crops.

Government price supports on the grains stand at $2.38 per 100 pounds this year, Fowler said.

There is still time for planting the grains to allow maturity before the first killing frost, Fowler said. The average killing frost over a 26-year period is Nov. 3. The earliest during that period was Oct. 5 in 1932. It came as early as Oct. 7 in 1952.

The grains could be planted by farmers on land that did not have ample moisture to plant earlier this year or on land where crops were ruined by the drouth, the county agent said.

Fowler listed several feeds that could be planted late, explaining that dates listed from planting to blooming were figured from early plantings and will bloom several days earlier during late summer.

Listed by Fowler were double dwarf Sooner milo, both yellow and white, which bloom in 60 days; kafir 60, 60 days; 7078, a combine maize which blooms in 67 days, redbine 66, 66 days; and Martin maize, 67 days.

Most farmers here treat seed with ceresan before planting, he said. This controls kernal smut and lessens damage from seed rot and blight.

In addition to market crops, Fowler named early hegari for for age and possible grain crops and red top cane for forage only.

Fowler said he received a letter this week from Plains Food, Inc., at Plainview urging farmers of this area to plant black-eye peas. There will be a market for the peas the firm said, adding that it would not quote a definite price other than saying it was "good."

The Plainview firm said the peas reach the "snapping" stage and can be picked for canning 60 days after planting. They can be planted until the end of July if moisture is sufficient.

Apparently farmers here are planting both the late-maturing grains and peas, according to seed dealers here.

Both Lindy Clark of Clark Feed & Seed and Bentley Baize of Von Roeder Seed Farms say farmers are buying the hegari, maize, cane, and peas as fast as they can get them here.

Both dealers say black-eye peas are short. Baize said many of the peas for planting usually come from South Texas and that production was probably small in that area this year.

A recently invented device, the sonic fathometer, has located so many unknown mountains and chasms under the oceans that chart-makers have a hard time keeping up.

Old Man Is Still Kicking Around Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Stickel who recently returned to his family after a 50-year absence, has gone again.

His daughter, Mrs. Pearl Luning, said today the family was "certainly hoping that he would make good on a promise to "be back for Christmas."

Stickel, a spry, little 84-year-old man, went off to Detroit just six days after reappearing from his half century hegira.

"He's lived out there (in Detroit) for 40 years you know," Mrs. Luning said equably in reply to a reporters questions, "And one can't just go away and leave things. He certainly knows we want him to live with us."

A somewhat different viewpoint was expressed by Stickel when the New York World-Telegram and Sun reached him by telephone in Detroit.

He admitted missing his family all right and said it "might be nice if they came to live with me out here."

However, the newspaper quoted him, he hasn't made up his mind whether to return again to the East Elmhurst home where his 86-year-old wife Clara lives with their son, Clarence, and the Lunings.

"I like Detroit better than New York anyway," he added. "It's less congested."

Mrs. Luning said she had also talked to him by phone once since he returned West last week and her mother has received three letters from him.

Only the family knows what caused Stickel to leave his family first back in 1903.

"We never talk about that," said Mrs. Luning.

Bricker Would Limit Treaty Making Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today he will "slug it out" with administration leaders in an effort to force adoption next year of a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty powers.

Bricker said in an interview he had told Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Brownell at a closed meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee yesterday he knew the administration could prevent him from getting the necessary two-thirds Senate vote for approval of his measure in this session.

"The administration has the jobs to give out and they can get one-third of the Senate to go along with them now," Bricker said. "But after some of these senators hear from the country, it may be a different matter next January."

Jones Rites Today In Fluvanna Church

Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Frances Jones, 97, who died early Tuesday morning at her residence in Fluvanna, were held this afternoon in the Fluvanna Baptist Church.

Burial was in Fluvanna Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, Dr. J. T. Jones, who died in 1936. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Clark Says He Will Be Best Man At Rites

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark said today he and Mrs. Clark hope to attend their son's wedding ceremony in New Orleans Aug. 3.

"If circumstances permit and the armistice is signed," the Far East commander said, "we plan to attend. I'm going to be best man."

The general's son, Maj. William D. Clark, will marry Mrs. Audrey Caire Loflin, a fashion model and former swimming star.

Upstairs Bull Loose

PIERA, Minn. (AP) — Missing his Holstein bull from its pen in the barn, Ed Otremba was startled by strange noses coming from the haymow. He investigated and found that the animal had climbed the stairs and was nonchalaintly munching hay.

Only trouble was that the bull hadn't figured out how to climb downstairs. It took the farmer and his three sons four hours of pushing, pulling and persuading to get the animal out of the loft.

Snyder Among Top Cities In Sales For '52

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has released figures rating Scurry County fifteenth in the amount of buying power and sixteenth in actual sales of 132 West Texas Counties during 1952.

The figures show that Scurry County had a spendable income of $46,919,000 and sales in the county reached $35,645,000. In Snyder alone there were sales of $32,491,000.

Cities of comparable size, Sweetwater and Lamesa, each rated about $10 million under Snyder in sales. Nolan County (Sweetwater) showed a buying power of only $30,477,000, some $16 million less than Scurry County.

Dawson County (Lamesa) showed a buying power of $30,997,000. Sales in Lamesa for that period ran to $23,999,000. Sales in Sweetwater ran $22,910,000.

Other figures showed that with 33 per cent of Texas' population, West Texas retail sales in 1952 amounted to 34 per cent of the state's total, although the three largest metropolitan centers with more than one-seventh the population are outside its borders.

West Texas had 16.5 presons per square mile, according to the 1950 census. The state average was 29.4.

The average per capita income for West Texas was $1,381, while that for all the state's 254 counties was $1,077 and for all counties in the United States it was $1,477.

Average per famliy income in West Texas was $4,864 as against $3,864 for the whole state and $5,086 for the United States.

Arrests Made On Dope Raps

LUBBOCK (AP) —Officers made narcotics raids in three West Texas cities last night and early today in what they called "another chapter in our fight to track down the dope distribution traffic spreading from Mexico to the United States.

Eight persons were arrested in Lubbock, Slaton, and Odessa and charged with possession and sale of marijuana. Six Negroes were arested in Odessa, one Negro in Slaton and one Latin American in Lubbock.

Similar charges were filed against two Latin Americans held in the Lubbock County jail in leiu of $5,000 bond each on previous narcotics charges. Officers said it was believed the eight arrested last night were distributors for one of the men held in jail.

One of the men held in jail is Frank Garcia, Lubbock cafe owner and the other is a resident of Juarez, Mexico.

'Wife Fearers' Organize

ISOBE, Japan (AP) — The occupation brought Japan something new —the henpecked husband. Only in Japan he is called "honorable wife fearer."

The occupation engineered a family revolution in Japan. Before the occupation, husbands were lords and masters of the home. The occupation brought woman suffrage, hen-pecked husbands—and "kyosaibyo" clubs.

"Kyosaibyo" is a new Japanese word meaning wife-fearing complex. Clubs of such men began meeting over a cup of sake, a Japanese rice wine. With tongue in cheek, the men decided to set up the obelisk in "memory of the reigns of our queens at home."

Recent visitors in the Bruce Evans home at 2801 Avenue Y included her sister, Mrs. G. E. Heart, and her two children of Sand Springs, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jenkins and two daughters from Wink and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alvey of Coleman. Mr. Alvey and Mrs. Evans are brother and sister. and Mr. Jenkins is her nephew.

Mickey Mouse Does In Peddler Of Narcotics

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Police say they trapped a drug peddler by taking a leaf from a Mickey Mouse book.

Detectives reported they trailed a known drug addict to an East Side house yesterday. He emerged with two capsules of heroin wrapped in part of a page from a comic book, they said.

The officers raided the house and arrested Joseph L. Stokes, 25. He was reading a Mickey Mouse book and the wrapping matched a missing page, the detectives said.

Stokes was charged with possessing and selling narcotics illegally.

Lockhart Funeral Is Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Leslie Clyde Lockhart, 50, of 500 Thirty-third Street, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Bill Lewis.

Mr. Lockhart, a Snyder resident three years, died Monday night in his home following a heart attack.

The body is to be taken to Pampa, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon preceding burial in a Pampa cemetery. Local arrangements were directed by Bell Funeral Home.

Eyelash Curler Firm Is Sued By Model

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An eyelash curler ruined her wink, a free-lance model charges, and she's suing the manufacturer for $25,000.

Mrs. Lainie Coonan of Milwaukee yesterday filed suit in federal court against the Kurlash Co. of Rochester.

She claimed that "the rubber edge of the curler was missing" and that when the curler was removed all the lashes from one eyelid went with it.

Mrs. Coonan alleges she was defaced for "a long period of time" and required medical care.

Nagiller Services Will Be Held In Burnet

Funeral services for Forest Herman Nagiller, 58, found dead at his residence yesterday morning, will be held in Burnet, Tex.

An autopsy showed that Mr. Nagiller died of pneumonia, W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace, said. He had been a resident of Snyder for about three years.

Mr. Nagiller is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Craddock of Burnet, a former Snyder resident. The body was prepared for shipment by Bell Funeral Home.

Money Demand Getting Big

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The demand for money grows and the supply is tightening again.

Bankers expect the demand for credit and for new capital will reach new heights in a few weeks. They say the easing in the money supply which came in June after the Federal Reserve Board lowred bank reserve requirements has been soaked up as a result of the recent U. S. Treasury borrowing of about six billion dollars.

Banks were forced to get up reserve balances to support their subscriptions to the new issue. Money became tight again.

The financial story, as the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland sees it, is the "very strong current and prospective demand for credit from both public and private borrowers." This tends "to outrun a large supply of savings available for investment."

The Treasury isn't the only one looking for more cash these days. The Cleveland bank forecasts that mortgage debt may expand this year by nine billion dollars. A similar expansion in mortgage debt incurred in excess of repayments took place in 1952.

The Department of Commerce says the demand for mortgage money continues high, even though there was some slackening off in new home starts in May and June.

Business firms have told the department they plan to spend a record amount this summer and fall in expanding their plants and buying new equipment.

Fishermen Pull In Slots

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Fishermen in the Little Scioto River hit the jackpot yesterday.

They pulled in some one-armed bandits—slot machines apparently tossed in the river when Ohio's anti-slots law went into effect in 1951.

Some of the 15 machines fished out still contained change.

Get The Best Of The Bargain At A Country Antique Auction

By The Associated Press

You can spend a delightful vacation at summer auctions. And don't let your husband talk you out of it. Better still, don't let him in on it until you arrive at the vacation resort. When he's planning the vacation (or thinks he is) take a good look at the road map. Make sure that the road he chooses is on the "antique circuit." And invariably you'll find you're on the country auction beam.

When you team up with the going-going-gone set, you'd better learn what gives. Neophytes can be gypped. Some of them pay more for a used item than it is worth new in the store today. It will take lots of visits to auctions, antique shops and junk shops to recognize old things. But in the meantime you can have fun if you remember this: Only buy what you can use, what is cheap at the price you must pay and is sturdy enough to hold up for resale eventually if you decide to part with it. Here are some general tips to remember:

1. Unless you are an expert, never buy anything on which you expect to make a profit.
2. If an auctioneer describes an articles as being "of the period" and he is asking "antique prices" don't bid.
3. In spite of all you hear about knotty pine, old pine pieces have few knots in them.
4. Unless you have an excellent eye, never buy anything you have not inspected closely before the sale.
5. Old chairs should look it. Slat back and ladder back chairs should be worn where the chairs have rubbed against the walls for years.
6. Pressed glass is being reproduced and even the popular daisy-and-button pattern is hard to distinguish from old glass.
7. Old Dresden and Staffordshire is being faked so that only an expert can tell the difference .
8. China stamped with a country origin is not antique. The marking of imports was begun only a little more than a half-century ago.

Modern end table—an old spool chest.

Ten-dollar bid — marble and walnut washstand.

Rare find—a sandwich glass candlestick.

9. Backboards of 18th century chests should not have modern-type circular saw kerf marks.
10. Old lacy Sandwich cup plates, tiny as they are, have a resounding ring when tapped with the finger.

* * *

You can corral interesting pieces which are not antique but will give you great pleasure and take your home out of the ordinary class.

Several of my most cherished pieces were very inexpensive. An old fashioned spool and cotton case bought for $10 (the kind that graced trimming store counters) was refinished to reveal a lovely walnut inlay and shiny greenish gold brass. It is a prefect complement to the low French love seat it serves as an end table. Its 6 shallow draws are perfect for housing living room paraphernalia.

Two interesting walnut washstands with red marble tops serve as bureaus in a dainty guest room which was furnished in its entirety for $85 less mattress and spring. That included a blanket roll bed, serpentine-front bed table, rose rocker, Victorian chair, a small collection of cranberry glass.

You will not want to keep all that you buy, perhaps, and interesting things may always be sold. My prize find was a rare Sandwich glass candlestock with a base in the figure of a woman. It should belong to someone who wants a pair. But in the meantime it serves us well indeed, and it is a joy to look at.

Pool Is Filled 1st Time Free

Scurry County will not pay for the first filling of the swimming pool at Towle Memorial Park, according to County Judge Edgar Taylor.

Taylor said the initial 400,000 gallons of water in the pool, which would cost about $140, has been donated to the county by the city and the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

In a letter to Taylor and the commissioners court, Jack Shelley, city manager, said "I am happy to inform you that the City of Snyder and the Colorado River Municipal Water District have made the neeessary arrangements to take care of the initial expense in filling the swimming pool with water.

"We know that the many citizens of the community are enjoying the new park and pool and we are happy to have helped in this small manner."

The pool is filled only once a year. After the pool is full, the water runs through a purifying unit and back into the pool. Only evaporation losses require more water in the pool.

Two Men Sue Each Other

Litigation began this morning in civil district court in combined damage suits of C. D. Boone and J. W. Robinson.

Each man had filed suit against the other. One suit was styled C. D. Boone vs. J. W. Robinson, and the other was styled John W. Robinson, vs. Collin Boone.

The two suits grew out of a collision at Camp Springs Jan. 15, 1952, of a 1948 Ford dump truck owned by Robinson and a pickup owned by Boone.

Robinson is represented by Tom Webb of the Abilene law firm of Shultz & Webb, while Boone is represented by C. F. Sentell of Snyder.

In Same Army Now

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — At nearby Fort MacArthur, Pfc. Ortwin Kullman, Army reservist, stepped up before Capt. Wallace G. Aitchison to answer questions.

"Were you a German soldier in World War II?" asked the captain.

"Yes, sir," said Kullman.

Finally, Aitchison discovered Kullman had surrendered to his own platoon outside of Berlin. Now, eight years later, the prisoner met his captor.

Of the ex-German soldier, his American commanding officer said, "He's a good, thorough, well schooled soldier."

INVASION DISCUSSED

SINGAPORE (AP) — Japan's "China expert" and ambassador to Formosa, Kenkichi Yoshizawa, said in Singapore General Chiang Kai-shek can invade the China mainland, now, but might not do so for some time.

If Chiang launched an invasion, his forces might be assisted by United States naval and air forces, he added.

On a tour of Southeast Asia studying Chinese economy and political thought, Yoshizawa said he believed the United Nations would act should the Chinese Communists attack Formosa after signing of a Korean armistice.

Fund Raising Plans Set By Lions Tuesday

At a business meeting of the Lions Club yesterday four money raising activities of the club for the coming year were briefly outlined by the Rev. Ronald Hubbard, first vice president.

Mr. Hubbard said that the board of directors of the club decided that the number of different activities for this year would be reduced; and that an attempt to more compietely exploit each activity would be made by the club.

The activities outlined are: a minstrel show to be put on jointly with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a radio auction sale, a corn show, and guest artist to be sponsored by the club.

Of the corn show, Mr. Hubbard said, the corn show will be "strictly corn, and we believe that the club has the material for it."

Details of the fund raising activities have not been worked out, nor have dates for them been set.

Nine club members who have had a perfect attendance record for the past year were presented club pins at the luncheon. They were the Rev. W. W. Adcock, Dr. John Blum, J. J. Dyer, Glynn C. Snyder, John Eckstadt, B. J. Weaver, Lee Smyth, and Charles R. Wolfe. Wolfe and Weaver were not present for the presentation. Club rules permit missed attendance at luncheons to be made up by attendance at committee or directors meetings within a week of the date absent from the luncheon.

Two new members, Dan Cotton, and Gene Richardson, were inducted into the club by Stanley G. Hill, membership chairman. Cecil Brown sponsored Richardson, and J. P. Nelson sponsored Cotton as new members of the club.

One of several guests present at the club was Robert Clinton, newly hired director of music education for the Snyder school system. He was introduced by Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools.

Clinton was director of music education at Cisco Junior College until taking the position here.

Felony charges have been filed against four men in the Tuesday morning burglary of Texas Auto Parts on the Post Highway.

Real Concern Over Latest Of Rhee's Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) —American officials were obviously deeply concerned over today's new South Korean threats to the conclusion of a truce. The first public reaction was tight-lipped silence.

Privately officials said the American plan at the moment is to go right ahead, assuming the Communists are willing — with the signing of a cease - fire agreement at the earliest possible hour.

It is fully realized that new utterances from South Korean President Syngman Rhee and Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai, if carried into action, constitute real threats both to agreement itself and to keeping a truce in force.

Rhee's statements put on the open record South Korean reservations which had been less firmly set out earlier after his long talks on truce plans with Walter Robertson, assistant secretary of state and President Eisenhower's emissary to obtain Rhee's cooperation.

The aged South Korean President said his country would feel free to "follow our own course of action" if 90 days of the post-truce conference fail to meet his demands that the Communist invaders get out of North Korea. Rhee said his agreements with Robertson were "conditional."

Pyun went further, asserting the basis for American - South Korean compromise has been destroyed.

Pyun said South Korea will act independently unless the United States repudiates some assurances which the Communists said last Sunday they had been given. It was on the basis of those claimed assurances that the Reds agreed to go ahead with truce arrangements.

Bomber Of Negro Home Gets Minimum Sentence

HOUSTON (AP) —Carl D. Davis received a two year sentence, the minimum penalty, from an all - white jury that found him guilty yesterday of bombing a Negro home in Houstons Riverside Terrace residential addition, a white neighborhood.

The hangyman, 51, who escaped the 20 year maximum penalty for arson by explosion, vowed he would testify for the state against his co-defendant, George Howell, when the 56-year-old insurance man comes up for trial.

Davis was charged with setting off a bomb on the porch of the home of Jack Caesar, a Negro cattle buyer, before dawn April 17. Howell lives nearby.
