

Ellis Renamed Red Cross Roll Call Chairman

Field Representative High
In Praise Of Chapter's
Work For Past Year

That Dewey Ellis will again serve this county as Red Cross Roll Call Chairman during 1940 was announced Tuesday when Miss Charlotte Murray, field representative of the Mid-Western Branch of the American Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo., visited in Wellington.

Miss Murray discussed Red Cross matters with the Chapter Board, and went over the work for the year with the group.

"We are exceedingly well pleased with the work here," she said, "and the national organization is gratified at the roll call which you had during the year just ended. The enrollment at this time is almost double what it was a year ago."

Reviewing the Roll Call, Miss Murray stated that the memberships received for Wellington and vicinity totaled 246, for Dodson 39, for Quail 25, for Fresno 4, and for Samnorwood 34. Members from smaller communities are included in these figures. The increase in membership here is in line with the increase throughout the nation, Miss Murray said.

Indian Preacher At Local Church

Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Reynolds of Bethany, Okla., are conducting a week of evangelistic services at the Wellington Church of the Nazarene, which are to continue through Sunday, April 28.

Rev. Reynolds is widely known as the Indian Evangelist, according to Rev. Eugene Woods, pastor of the local church.

"He has had rich and varied experiences in life. Starting as an Indian boy, he came up through the Indian Military school and later through high school and college. Since his graduation he has served the church as a pastor in Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, and as an evangelist throughout the Middlewestern states.

"He is bringing interesting and helpful messages and is creating much interest in spiritual things in Wellington," Rev. Woods said. A cordial invitation has been extended.

County Traffic White Spot In '39

That Collingsworth County was one of the white-spots of the state in 1939 so far as traffic deaths were concerned was revealed recently by the Department of Public Safety.

The county was one of 34 over the entire state that did not have a single fatal automobile death during the year. The local record was better than that of any surrounding county, since the report showed three deaths for Wheeler county, five for Gray, one for Donley, two for Hall, and three for Childress.

Thirteen counties showed more than 20 deaths from traffic accidents during the year, with Harris County leading the list with 111 fatalities.

Playground Ball, Final League Event, Set For Saturday

The final event in the County Interscholastic League Meet is scheduled for Saturday, April 27, when playground ball teams compete in Wellington. B. O. Currin of Quail will direct this event.

All teams have been asked to be present at 8:30 for the drawing, and playing will begin at 9 o'clock. All divisions will be played.

Following this, scores of the various schools in league events will be computed, and the all-winner declared.

Pillars And Mims To Speak At Farm Meet

REV. D. C. REYNOLDS is conducting revival services at the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington during this week. The meeting will close Sunday night.

Cal Farley Is Speaker On Club Youth Program

Boys And Girls Of County
Honored By Rotary
At Annual Affair

Boys and girls, especially those of Collingsworth County, were honored by Wellington Rotarians Tuesday at their regular luncheon, when they entertained a number of local youths, an outstanding youth leader, and three visiting boys.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Cal Farley of Amarillo, who has been instrumental in the development of the Maverick Club for underprivileged boys, and Boys Ranch, for homeless boys. Both these projects are sponsored by the Amarillo Rotary Club.

Each of the three boys, members of the Maverick Club, who accompanied him, made brief talks before Mr. Farley spoke on work among youths in this section of the country.

Mr. Farley explained the work of the Maverick Club and the Boys Ranch, telling the group how these boys without opportunities were sought out and all efforts extended to give them the chances they deserve. Rare talent is often discovered among these youths, he added.

"I think the greatest thing we can teach a boy or girl is to mind," he emphasized.

Music for the program was furnished by Miss Mildred Collins and Miss Rosemary Jones, who gave accordion numbers. Program chairman was Pink Sullivan, while Rev. J. P. Neal was in charge.

Guests of the club included Mr. Farley and the three Maverick Club boys.

Present Comedy At Rolla May 2

"Beads on a String," a three-act comedy, will be presented at the Rolla School Thursday night, May 2.

The cast includes Bennie Davis, played by William O'Rear; Bennie's father, J. H. Davis, R. B. Uelton; Benjamin Davis, Esq., Wallace O'Rear, Jr.; Harold Beam, a friend of Bennie's, Thad Trew; Ab Dinkler, Bill Kelly; Mrs. J. H. Davis, Beatrice Hawkins; Molly Mallerton, Lora Frances Kelly; Jeannette Blue, Fern James, and Cleopatra Oleomargarine Johnson, Verne James.

"Many laughs are furnished this comedy," sponsors of the production promised.

The public is cordially invited to attend. A charge will be made.

All Farmers Of County
Urged To Attend Call
Meeting Friday

Farm problems relating directly to this area will be threshed out when farm leaders from the southeastern section of the Panhandle meet with farm operators and business men from all parts of the county in a meeting of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Association called by B. G. Glenn, president, for Friday afternoon, April 26, at 2:30 o'clock, in the district court room.

Melvin Pillars of Twitty, farm leader, and Percy Mims, county agent of Armstrong County, and former assistant county agent here, have accepted invitations to speak before the body, according to Guy Beasley, vice chairman. Other farm leaders may also be brought here for the occasion, Mr. Glenn said Wednesday morning.

"Every farmer and business man in Collingsworth County, is invited to this meeting. It is not members of the association alone, but due to its vital importance to every farm operator and owner, we are throwing open the meeting to everyone who cares to come," Mr. Glenn urged.

Neither Mr. Pillars nor Mr. Mims have announced their subject. Mr. Pillars is already well known throughout this county, since he has spoken before farm groups here a number of times. In addition to his being an outstanding farmer of this area, he has been one of the group to represent Texas in Washington during the formation days of the federal farm program. Known for his grasp of farm problems and especially those of this section, Mr. Pillars is an interesting speaker as well.

Mr. Mims has hundreds of friends in this county, having served here for several years. He is considered one of the rising young county agents of the Panhandle. His work in this section of the southeastern Panhandle has brought him intimate knowledge of the problems peculiar to this section.

G. L. Stanley Is On Leader Staff

G. L. Stanley, who during the present school year has been principal of the Lone Mound School, began work Monday as advertising manager of The Wellington Leader.

Mr. Stanley comes to Wellington widely experienced in newspaper work. He worked for some time on the Dalhart Texan, then helped to found the Amarillo Times. After selling his interest in this paper, he was with the Tucumcari, New Mexico, Daily American and later the Childress Index.

Since coming to Collingsworth County in September, both he and Mrs. Stanley, who also teaches at Lone Mound, have been active in community work in that area.

Mr. Stanley formerly lived at Wheeler, Amarillo, and Detroit, Mich. He returned to Texas and attended West Texas State College at Canyon, where he was a staff member of the college newspaper and edited the school annual.

For the remainder of the school term, his place in the Lone Mound School is being filled by Mrs. Stanley's mother, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, of Amarillo.

Singing And Pie Supper At House Log Friday Night

A singing and pie supper will be held at Houselog School Friday evening, April 26, it was announced this week.

The singing will begin at 8 o'clock and the auctioning of the goods will follow the singing.

The proceeds will be used to buy books for the Sunday school church. The public is cordially invited to attend this event.

JOHN TEMPLETON, young Wellington man, last week announced his candidacy for the post of state representative from the 122nd district, including Collingsworth, Wheeler, Gray and Donley counties.

Tin-Can Matinee For Kiddies To Help Clean Town

Sack Of Cans To Help Pay
Admission For Saturday
Thriller At Ritz

A tin-can matinee, something new under the sun for kiddies, will be featured at the Ritz Theatre Saturday, April 27, Bill Turk, manager, announced early this week. "Every boy and girl in the county under the age of twelve years can see the afternoon show for a nickel and a sack of tin cans," Mr. Turk explained.

At this time a thrilling new serial, "Overland With Kit Carson," will start, and in addition, the closing chapter of "The Green Hornet" will be shown. Feature of this show will be "Fighting Gringo," starring George O'Brien.

Although coming a week before the regular "Clean-up Week," this matinee is to be one feature in an effort to help clean up Wellington.

"We especially need the boys and girls to pick up the tin cans off the vacant lots in town," Mr. Turk said. "Not only will this be part of the admittance to the show, but everyone doing this will be doing good."

FFA Leadership Contests To Be Held Saturday

Wellington Future Farmers will be hosts to between 60 and 70 boys from other chapters in the Wellington District Saturday for the regular FFA leadership contests.

Events in the leadership contests are extemporaneous speaking, debate, public speaking, one-act play, and junior and senior chapter conducting. Winners in the events here will compete in the area contests, to be held next month.

Representatives are expected from the FFA chapters at Kirkland, Childress, Samnorwood, Quail, and Wellington.

Honor Graduates Are Announced

With less than half a point dividing their grades, the valedictorian and salutatorian of the Wellington High School for this year were announced Tuesday night, following the averaging of the grades of the seniors.

Valedictorian is Hall Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells, while Miss Leota Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Finley, is salutatorian.

Mr. Wells completes his high school work with an average of 94.585, while Miss Finley's average is 94.252.

No other honor students were named, according to Mrs. John Williams, sponsor of the class.

Sanders Given 2-Year Contract At Samnorwood

Work Of Consolidated
School Head Draws
Trustees' Praise

E. G. Sanders, superintendent of the Samnorwood School system, was recently given a two-year contract by the school board of that district, it has been announced here.

At the same time, the board commended highly the work which he has done during the time that he has been with the system.

Mr. Sanders has been superintendent at Samnorwood since the organization of the district six years ago.

Other faculty members have not yet been named, but election of these is scheduled to come up in the near future, school officials reported.

Mr. Sanders has announced the continuance of the extensive expansion program of the school plant. Included in this is the completion of the first unit of the grade school building, which is now under construction.

"We are looking forward to one of the most successful years in the history of the school," Mr. Sanders says.

Manzer Offers $25 FFA Award

The Future Farmer who shows the most progress in qualifying for the best all round Future Farmer between now and May 15, will be awarded $25 by L. A. Manzer, Wellington banker, Ronald Davis, vocational agriculture teacher, announced this week.

Basis for judging the students will be consideration of parents, personal appearance, courtesy to fellow classmates, and scholastic achievement.

FFA Closes Pest Eradication Drive

The pest eradication contest held in and around Wellington under the direction of the Wellington Future Farmers, was closed April 14, with Calvin Adeock as winner of the contest held among the individual members.

Adeock was presented with a rifle for winning this high place. Second place went to Charles Cason. Winner of the third place has not been determined.

"Animals and especially birds killed in this pest eradication campaign were in all cases those which have been found to be harmful to farmers. Useful birds, or those that do no especial harm were not included on the list. The blackbird killed in the campaign were not the regular blackbirds, but the starlings, which have been doing much damage over the country in recent years," Ronald Davis, vocational agriculture instructor, said.

During the contest, over one thousand harmful birds, approximately 500 rabbits, in addition to rats, mice and other detrimental animals, were killed.

Tennessee Valley Boys To Appear At Dodson On Tuesday

The Tennessee Valley Boys, nationally known radio stars, will appear at the Dodson High School auditorium in person Tuesday night, April 30.

Sponsoring the program is the Senior Class.

"An hour and a half of comedy, string music, and singing, will be presented by this highly recommended troupe," Jack Davis, superintendent stated.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock, and a small admission charge will be made. Proceeds will go to the Senior Class.

CARL CHAUDOIN, superintendent of the Quail schools, spoke Thursday on "Guidance on Health and Safety" at the 17th Annual Conference of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, held in Memphis Wednesday and Thursday. He was the only person from this county to appear on the program.

Junior High Sponsors Folk Musical Thurs.

180 Students Take Part
In Program Tracing
American Music

Colorful costumes, youthful singing, and an original plot will be featured Thursday night, April 25, when approximately 180 junior high school students are presented in "The March of Time." This musical program, under the direction of Mrs. Logan Cummings and Mrs. Ernest Elliott, shows the development of music in the United States.

Although many of the songs included are well known, the six scenes of the programs are original, having been built around the talent available among the students.

Every child in the Junior High is invited to attend.

Five Indictments Are Returned By Grand Jury

Non-Jury Cases Set For Second Week; Criminal
Cases, May 6

The spring term of district court convened in Wellington Monday morning, April 22, with Judge A. S. Moss presiding, and by Wednesday at noon, sixteen of the 81 cases had been disposed of.

To this number were added five bills of indictment by the grand jury, which reported late Tuesday. Of these bills, three were felonies and two misdemeanors. One felony returned was for burglary, one for operating a gambling house in the colored section of Wellington, and one for uttering forged instruments. Both misdemeanors were for aggravated assault.

In addition to those bills of indictment returned by the grand jury, the docket consisted of 30 civil suits, fourteen divorce suits, 31 tax suits, and six criminal cases held over from the last term of court.

Eight of the cases disposed of were tried and judgments entered, while eight were dismissed. Court was adjourned Wednesday for the rest of the week.

Next week will be devoted to non-jury cases, and those whose names were placed on the jury list for the second week were requested not to appear for service.

County, City Pass Food Stamp Plan

Resolutions have been drawn by the Wellington City Council and the Commissioners' Court urging that the Food Stamp Plan unit in Hall County, through which WPA clients, old-age assistant clients, and other relief clients may be able to secure their food, be extended to include this and seven other counties in the southeastern Panhandle.

Announcement of this proposal was made several weeks ago, and at present, Judge Woods Coffee of Silverton is in Washington in interest of the plan. Judge C. C. Bishop of Collingsworth County was invited to make the trip, but due to work here, he was unable to do so.

The extension of the Hall County unit would include Briscoe, Collingsworth, Childress, Donley, Armstrong, Floyd, Motley, and Cottle counties. Advocates of the plan believe those eligible to receive food under the plan would secure more food and a better variety of food by purchasing through the stamp plan than in purchasing through the Surplus Commodities Corporation distribution.

It will likely be several weeks before any definite word is received as to whether the proposed plan will be put into operation, Judge Bishop said.

County Students Place In Regional Meet At Canyon Sat.

With results that were gratifying to teachers of this county, students from this section were awarded places in the Regional Interscholastic League meet held at Canyon Saturday, April 20.

Ruth Aaron of Quail placed first in the girls' extemporaneous speech division, after having won places in the county and district meets.

Another first place winner was Virginia Sachse of Loco, in junior girls' rural school declamation. Although this school is not in Collingsworth County, it includes a (Continued on Page Twelve)

Richard Cocke Helps Stop Suit Against State

Assistant Attorney General Asks Removal Of Evidence In Case

Judge K. K. Woodley quashed proceedings in the O. L. Neyland suit against the State of Texas for payment on contract and damages Wednesday morning of last week, when the court instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. The climax to the important $175,000 damage suit came following a surprise move on the part of the defense attorneys, who last Wednesday smashed an impressive mountain of testimony established by the plaintiff by producing evidence that the plaintiff had executed a release of damages and had received payment of funds under said release and thereby estopped to claim damages. The court, upon motion of Assistant Attorney General Richard H. Cocke, sustained and withdrew from the jury all testimony which was covered by the release. At this point attorneys for the plaintiff requested a recess for the purpose of looking up points of law.

The surprise strategy by the defense utterly shook the plaintiff's attorney's case, and following study of the statutes Judge K. K. Woodley notified the defense from Boerne, where he is conducting Kendall County District Court, that he would uphold the State's motion. As a result the action Wednesday morning was merely a formality.

Mr. Neyland's lawyers promptly filed motion for a new trial, which will be considered in a special session Saturday, May 4.

Plaintiff's attorneys included Paul Snyder of Corpus Christi, Pierce Stevenson of Austin and Robert L. Wilson of Kerrville. Representing the State was Assistant Attorneys General Richard H. Cocke and Ross Carlton of Austin, Dent Taylor of Kerrville and H. L. Doggett, assistant claim adjuster for the State Highway Department.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Mlle. Madeleine Charnaux is the organizer of the Corps of Auxiliary Women Aviators, one of the most popular of the present war services in France.

Mrs. Marie K. Brown of Chicago is head of the women's department of one of the country's largest railroads.

Scarlett O'Hara

To Vivien Leigh falls the most coveted role in Hollywood history, that of Scarlett O'Hara in the filmization of Margaret Mitchell's famous story of the old South, "Gone With The Wind," which opens Wednesday, May 8, on the Ritz Theatre screen. Fourteen hundred candidates were interviewed and 90 girls tested for the part before the choice fell upon dark-haired, green-eyed Miss Leigh.

Sunday school and church were well attended Sunday morning. Rev. Vernon Jones filled his regular appointment Sunday. Rev. William Squyres will preach next Sunday morning.

A large crowd attended the Woman's Wedding at Lillie Thursday night at the farm meeting. Charlie Graham was the bridegroom while Thomas McMinn was the bride. John Turley was justice of the peace.

The Lillie Church received their new song books and they invite all singers to be present each fourth Sunday night after the BYPU hour for singing.

The Workers meeting of the Baptist Church, held at Lillie Thursday, was well attended. Every one enjoyed the great spiritual feast.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Horton purchased a car this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gladney and daughter, Adalee, spent the week end in the Bert Gladney home in Roaring Springs.

Thomas McMinn had the misfortune of getting his eye hurt last week. He is still under the treatment of a doctor, but is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Horton, Grandma Horton, Mrs. S. Maxwell and Mrs. Earnest Maxwell were among those who attended the singing at McKnight Sunday evening.

Cliff Allen, who got hurt in the last day of the Lillie gin work, is still having to go to the doctor every day for treatment.

In a contest staged at the dental centennial celebration at Los Angeles, Miss Louise Greenwood of Baltimore won the title of "the girl with the perfect smile."

More than $22,000 worth of tickets for next season's games have been sold already by the Washington Redskins professional football team.

Chicago Man To Canyon College

CANYON.—The nationally acclaimed work of the late Prof. C. Stuart Johnston in the department of geology and anthropology at West Texas State College will be carried on by William F. Read of the University of Chicago, beginning in late summer.

President J. A. Hill announced the appointment after spending nearly a year seeking the best qualified man for the position.

"I believe we have found that man," Dr. Hill said. "I have seldom been as impressed by a young man and his recommendations."

Mr. Read is completing work for his Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago. His dissertation is based on studies of vertebrates of the Permian redbeds near Seymour, Texas,—a subject similar to that which will require much of his time here. His major subject is vertebrate paleontology, a field to which the Panhandle "diggings" are contributing finds of world-wide importance.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolls are pioneer residents of this county, and for a number of years they have spent the winter months in the southern part of the state.

State's Tourist Catch To Reach Over 330 Millions

Texas, always one of the outstanding tourist states in the country, should garner at least $330,000,000 from out-of-state travels in 1940, it was estimated recently by Joe H. Thompson, director of Continental Oil Company's Conoco Travel Bureau.

"Approximately 5,700,000 tourists should cross the state's borders this year," Thompson predicted, "and their expenditure should be about ten per cent greater this year than last."

Thompson's estimate for a ten per cent increase is based on improving economic conditions throughout the country, with rising employment and greater pay-rolls, and on the restrictions to foreign travel which will undoubtedly increase travel over this country both by citizens of the United States and by visitors from South America and other foreign countries. Repetition of the New York and San Francisco fairs is expected to exert about the same stimulus to travel that was felt last year.

Quail Farm Family Will Make Future Home At Mobeetie

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Alexander and their children, who have lived for a number of years near Quail, left Saturday for Mobeetie, where they will make their home for the coming year.

They will live on a farm approximately four and one-half miles from town, where they will raise both cotton and wheat. The wheat at this time is looking good, Mrs. Alexander reports.

"Gone With The Wind" Opens At Ritz Wednesday

Film Termed Greatest In Hollywood History Features Favorite Stars

'Gone With The Wind,' which opens next Wednesday at the Ritz, and continues through Thursday, is undoubtedly the most faithful filmization of a novel in Hollywood history. It is Margaret Mitchell's great story of the Old South without deviation and practically without elimination. After this has been recorded, little more need be said as an unqualified recommendation for the picture. Millions of readers consider the novel one of the greatest stories of all time; a faithful filming of that story must of necessity make the picture of the greatest of movie history.

Two shows will be given daily, the matinee and night performances, each running approximately four hours. This show has not been cut, Bill Turk, manager of the Ritz, said, but is just as it was shown at the Atlanta premier. The box office will open each afternoon at 1:20 o'clock and the show will start at 2 o'clock. The box office will open at 7:15 at night and the show will begin at 8 o'clock. All seats of the night show are reserved. Tickets will go on sale Wednesday, May 1 at the theatre, and no passes will be accepted, Mr. Turk said. This show is being presented at advanced prices.

Screen patrons and lovers of the book will want to know only one more thing: what about the characterizations? They are perfect, from Scarlett and Rhett down to the tiniest bit. Every character lives as Miss Mitchell made him and her live in the book. This is a tribute to the production genius of David O. Selznick and the brilliant direction of Victor Fleming, who has never failed in an assignment, and to the players themselves.

"Clark Gable is, of course, the perfect Rhett Butler. Technicolor enhances his personality, which already is the most amazing personality the screen has ever known. His work is the best of his whole career. Equally brilliant is the work of Vivien Leigh. How any living girl can so closely resemble Scarlett and duplicate that fictional character in temperament and action is astounding. Miss Leigh does all this and more. She turns in one of the screen's greatest performances. She need not be said to be "going places." She is the screen's newest star. Leslie Howard is more than perfect, if such can be possible, Olivia de Havilland has never done greater work and it is difficult to see how she can ever top her Melanie role. Thomas Mitchell is outstanding as Gerald O'Hara. Hattie McDaniel emerges as the greatest actress the Negro race has ever known. Barbara O'Neil, Ona Munson, Laura Hope Crews, Carroll Nye, Harry Davenport, Alicia Rhett, Rand Brooks, Ann Rutherford, Butterfly McQueen, Oscar Polk, Victor Jory, Eddie Anderson, Fred Crane, Geo. Reeves, Jane Darwell and Everett Brown are all brilliant performers," says Mr. Turk.

Cameramen on "Gone With The Wind" have given the screen the most amazing sustained photographic splendor cameras have ever achieved. Many of the scenes are breath-taking. In fact, this can be said of every detail of the picture. "Gone With The Wind" is truly a picture where the use of superlatives is woefully inadequate. To see it is an unforgettable experience; to miss it will be a tragedy in the life of every film lover.

Dodson Home Ec Group To Rally

Representatives of the Dodson Homemaking Department are now in Dallas attending the Future Homemakers Rally, which will be in session from April 24 to April 27.

Attending are Garnetta Cornelius, winner of the second year homemaking contest and Geneva Watts, winner of the first year homemaking contest. The boys' class sends two delegates, Bynum Hightower and Wayne Jones. This is the first year that boys have attended the Rally and they will attend special meetings that have been arranged for them and will not participate in any of the contests. The girls, however, will take part in the regular contests.

Sponsoring the trip are Mrs. Fred Boyd and Miss Helen White.

Future Farmers Attend Childress FFA Encampment

Wellington, Samnorwood, Quail Members Place In Athletic Events

A hundred Future Farmers of America and their vocational agriculture teachers from five chapters in the Wellington district held their first annual encampment at the Childress Fair Park Friday night and Saturday.

Representatives from Kirkland, Quail, Samnorwood, Wellington and Childress FFA chapters were present and engaged in athletic contests under the direction of agricultural teachers.

Quail's team captured the basketball honors in both the senior and junior divisions. Kirkland was runnerup in the senior class.

The softball honors went to Wellington, who won first, and Childress, second place winner. Kirkland won the washer pitching contest, as well as the singles and doubles in ping-pong and tennis. Tug-o-war winner was Samnorwood, who also won the boxing events, while Childress boys proved to be the best in horse shoe pitching.

Plans were made at the encampment for the district FFA leadership meeting at Wellington next Saturday. At the meeting the boys will compete in literary events.

Present for the Childress encampment were eleven boys from Kirkland, nineteen boys from Quail, eighteen from Samnorwood, fifteen from Wellington, and 32 from Childress. Sponsors present were J. B. Warren of Kirkland, G. S. Dowell of Quail, E. A. Peck of Samnorwood, Ronald Davis of Wellington and I. R. Ingram of Childress.

Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds, who made baseball history two years ago by pitching two successive no-hit, no-run games, may be released because of a continued bad arm.

Glamour Girl Wins Screen Test

The secret ambition of every girl was realized by Beryl Ann Longino, Lufkin sophomore at Texas State College for Women, when she was named Denton's Glamour Girl and the winner of a trip to Hollywood, screen test with Warner Brothers, and a three-day visit in the home of Ann Sheridan, Denton movie actress. A tall, slender brunette of 18, Miss Longino is a dramatics student at TSCW and won her title in a contest open to every girl in Denton, including students of the two colleges.

Loco Honor Roll Listed

Fifteen students were listed on the honor roll of the Loco School this week by school officials. This group includes the following:

First grade: Calvin A. Mitchell, Jimmy Prince, Buddy Ray, Mary Nell Guthrie, Catherine Payne.

Second Grade: Burl Brim, Gaston Williams, Juanell Wolf, and Louise Alexander.

Third Grade: Troy Ray and Mary Nell Ray.

Fourth Grade: Virginia Prince.

Fifth Grade: Bethine Adkins, Doyle Guthrie.

Sixth Grade: Betty Joyce Padgett.

Several students have been absent from school recently due to sickness.

Virginia Sachse represented the school at the regional Interscholastic League meet in Canyon, taking part in the declamation contests. She won first place in the district meet two weeks ago in the Junior Girls' Division.

Dorothy Harbin placed third in the district meet in the Senior Girls' division.

A football with a ridged surface to give football-passers and other ball handlers a better grip has recently been devised.

State Officials Visit Homemakers In Meeting Thurs.

Miss Ruth Huey, state director of homemaking education, with Miss Gladys Armstrong, area supervisor, visited in the Wellington homemaking department Thursday, April 18.

Tire Company Begins Spring, Summer Drive

Local Ad Campaign For Season Opens In The Wellington Leader

Opening gun in The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company's Spring and Summer advertising campaign on tires begins this week in The Wellington Leader.

Feature of the campaign, which is timely because it starts at the beginning of one of the largest driving and holiday motoring seasons forecast in the history of the country, stresses safety, urging that motorists avoid trying to save money by attempting to cash in on the last 10 per cent of the mileage in their tires, when they are likely to run into 90 per cent of the trouble they may expect in the product's total life.

In other words, pointed out Dealer W. E. Hall, "the car owner would be much better off and save more, not only in time, and actual outlay of cash, but insure for himself and his family real safety if he would not try to run his present tires out to the last dime-mile."

"We have what we term a 90-10 offer, as our contribution toward reduction of accidents due to tire blowouts," Mr. Hall added, explaining that, "we offer to pay for those danger miles while the car owner can ride on safe new Goodyears."

"Owners should drive in for a free inspection which does not obligate them in the slightest," Mr. Hall declared. He further added that the new tires are guaranteed in writing, not for any specified length of time, but for their full life, without time or mileage limits.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

This column gets shorter and shorter, but later I hope to make it longer. Busy, busy days have been with me since last week. I am working just as hard as I can from morning to midnight every day, and I appreciate more than words what you people are already doing. Thank you, and thank you again. I need all the help I can get, whether a good word outside the county or a can of blackeyed peas to help with expenses. Keep up the good work and we will win.

And while I am thanking you people here, I also want to thank the many papers who have been so kind to me in recent weeks. They have been more than generous as the files in my office show, and I am very grateful.

Students Sponsor Moving Picture On Flower Arrangement

Members of the Senior Class will present a motion picture, "Flower Arrangements," at the high school Friday morning at 9:45 o'clock. This picture is sponsored by the Coca Cola plant. It was shown previously to a group in Wellington and proved unusually popular. The public is cordially invited to attend. A small admission charge will be made, with the proceeds going to the class. Books on floral arrangements will be awarded lucky guests attending.

Razor 132 Years Old Is Owned By Local Resident

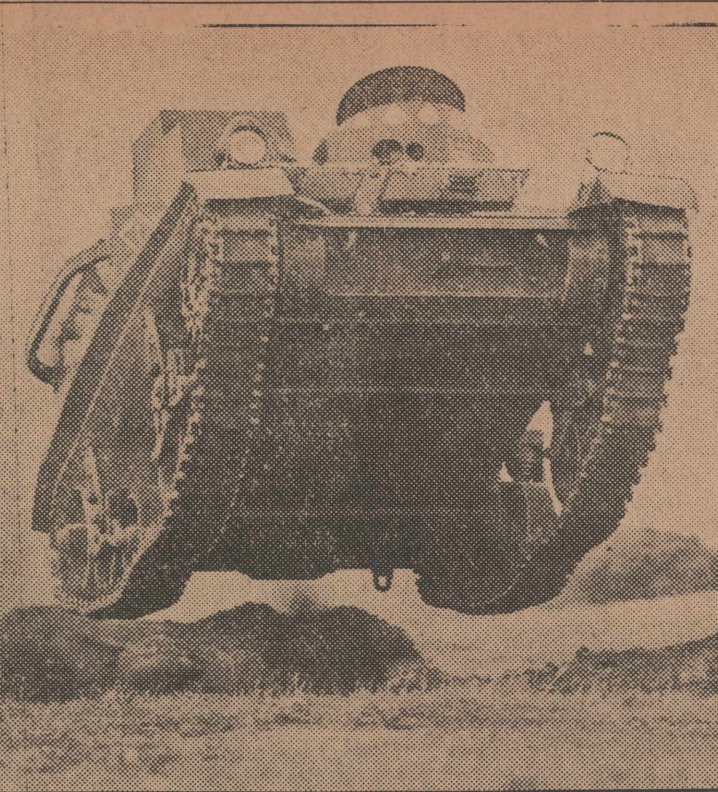

A prized possession of the W. G. Hite family is a 132-year-old razor, which was originally owned by Mr. Hite's grandfather. Although the razor is not used regularly, during Mr. Hite's recent illness, he was unable to shave himself, and a neighbor who came by to shave him, did not use a safety razor, consequently, the old straight-edged one was brought into use. Mr. Hite's grandfather was born during the last year that George Washington served as president of the United States. "He and I have lived under every president this country has had," Mr. Hite commented.

During his two terms President Grant had 33 different cabinet members.

Aviation Mechanics Course Is Offered At West Texas State

CANYON.—A course in aviation mechanics for young men now enrolled in the pre-college NYA here will begin April 15. Twenty-four students will enroll. David Bletner of Amarillo, who was to have been the instructor but has been made state supervisor of aviation mechanics, will name the teacher. The work will continue through the summer and fall. Some of those taking the training expect to obtain jobs in the aviation industry. Olie Brown, N.Y.A. project supervisor, and former Samnorwood resident, says the West Texas State College aviation workshop will be one of the best in the state. The federal government is shipping several carloads of airplane engines, parts and machinery. The shop is rapidly taking form under the football stadium. Concrete floors are being run and partitions placed. The N.Y.A. project is being increased to 72 men, part of whom are studying electricity, auto mechanics, and sheetmetal work. This project is in addition to the Civilian Pilot Training program in which more than a score of college students are enrolled. All of these have soloed.

Best-Dressed Girl Gives Recipe For Distinctive Looks

AUSTIN.—Good looking shoes and hose; a simple dress; a flawless complexion and hair with a sheen—combine and you have the recipe for "well dressed," is the advice of the University of Texas' best-dressed girl, Helen Draper of Pampa.

Miss Draper, member of Alpha Delta Pi, horsewoman, was named by students this week as the campus' best-dressed co-ed. Descendant of Texas ranchers, she chooses simple clothes for school, town, or formal party. She prefers real jewelry to costume, wears hats only when compelled to, and "loves" shoes.

Secretly she has ambitions to design clothes or own a dress shop with the hope that she may influence women to choose clothes which enhance their appearance in preference to those which are merely fashionable.

Health Is Topic Of B. & P. W. Club At Meeting

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening in regular bi-monthly session at the First Christian Church. Chairman of the program on "Health" was Miss Lucille Bennett. Dr. E. W. Jones spoke on the program subject, stressing the need of a yearly health examination. Benefits were derived not only by the individual, said Dr. Jones, but also by the community in which he lived. A health movie was shown on the projector owned by Dr. Jones, who showed a movie of Wellington scenes.

Those present were: Misses Minnie Atchley, Bula Bess Bell, Lucille Bennett, Donnitte Blain, Katherine Boverie, Evelyn Doolen, Margaret Hix, Dora E. McClaskey, Lora Mae McFarland, Margaret Shields, Hattie D. Wells, Aldah Young, Viola Hudson, Rose Erisman, Merle Hays, Alta Kesler, and Mesdames J. B. Castleberry, A. L. Cochran, Bryan Denley, Ella George, Heber Brantley, Dan Henard, Darvin Nix, Fleet Pruden, Jimmie Richards, Pink Sullivan, Dick Wiley, and Cleo Templeton.

Mrs. Stevenson Awarded Prize in Service Work

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and Mrs. Ella George were in Amarillo Wednesday of last week to attend a luncheon given for the personnel and friends of the personnel of the Group Hospital Service, Inc. Mrs. Stevenson was awarded a prize for having the largest group of members in this district of the organization.

Dr. J. H. Groseclose of Dallas, who is president of the Group Hospital Service, Inc., spoke on benefits and organization of the service. Dr. L. N. Markham of Longview, vice president, and Bryce Twitty of Dallas, who is administrator, followed the same trend in their speeches. After the luncheon, guests were conducted on a tour through a newly remodeled Amarillo hospital.

Local Students To Attend S. C. W. Formal

DENTON.—Miss Olivia Templeton and Miss Helen Childress of Wellington will attend the occasions at Texas State College for Women, the annual Senior Formal May 4 when Russ Morgan and his band will play. Only seniors and their guests are part in the affair, considered an outstanding social function of the entire four years of college. A dance will be held in the College Library, and the identity of the 1939-40 class beauties will be revealed when the girls are presented for the first time. Miss Childress is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Childress and is studying home economics. Miss Templeton is the daughter of Mrs. Cleo Templeton and is also studying home economics.

Sweater, Pinafore For Youngsters

Smart for school right now and for a vacation in the mountains later, is the white Tyrolean sweater, left, hand-knit in large diamond pattern. Modeled by Gloria Jean, chic little Hollywood star, the sweater is teamed up with a navy flannel skirt. Floral design on the sweater is in navy and scarlet. At right, Gloria wears a navy broadcloth pinafore over a blue and white check dress. Pinafores—just like the kind grandmother wore when she was a little girl—are big fashion news in children's departments this year.

Mrs. S. G. Henry Is N. M. State Publicity Officer

Approximately 30 Albuquerque members of the P.T.A. organizations attended the annual convention of New Mexico Congress of Parents and Teachers which was held recently in Carlsbad. Among the state officers of the organizations was Mrs. Silas G. Henry, state publicity chairman. Mrs. Henry is a former district publicity chairman of the Texas Parents and Teachers.

Installation Of Officers Held By Ward P. T. A.

The West Ward P.T.A. met Thursday, April 18, for a program and installation of next year's officers. Mrs. Dan Henard's room was in charge of the first part of the program, while Mrs. John Harper and Mrs. W. F. Decker had charge of the second part. Mrs. Roy Mims, present president, presided over the installation of officers. Mrs. Wade Dent was installed as next year's president.

The meeting, which is the last for the year, was attended by the largest crowd this year.

County Trend In Cotton Raising Revealed By AAA

Acreage Planted In 1939 Less Than Half That Seeded 12 Years Ago

That Collingsworth County has less than half the acreage planted to cotton that she did twelve years ago, and during the season just closed raised 32,300 bales less than for the year 1928 was revealed this week from figures compiled in the AAA office here.

C. V. Griffin, ACA secretary, pointed out, however, that much of the acreage cut came with the instituting of the AAA program, and that much of the land which was formerly in cotton is now in soil conserving crops. Too, the years 1934, 1936, 1938, and 1939 have been abnormal as far as weather conditions are concerned.

Cotton statistics compiled here for the last twelve years include the following:

1928 shows 159,000 acres in cotton, 51,600 bales raised with an average of 156 pounds of lint per acre.

1929—planted 169,000 acres, 46,200 bales raised, with a lint average of 131 pounds.

1930—planted 159,000 acres, 37,200 bales raised, with a lint average of 113 pounds.

1931—planted 126,500 acres, 47,500 bales raised, with lint average of 179 pounds.

1932—planted 106,000 acres, 45,300 bales raised, with lint average of 205 pounds.

1933—planted 141,200 acres, 41,900 bales raised, with lint average of 212 pounds.

1934—planted 90,900 acres, 10,300 bales raised, with lint average of 54 pounds.

1935—planted 93,600 acres, 22,800 bales raised, with lint average of 117 pounds.

1936—planted 99,000 acres, 11,200 bales raised, with lint average of 54 pounds.

1937—planted 96,500 acres, 33,200 bales raised, with lint average of 165 pounds.

Mrs. J. D. Staples

who was the former Miss Florence Tucker before her recent marriage. Mrs. Staples is the granddaughter of Mike Capps.

1938—planted 77,100 acres, 20,800 bales raised, with lint average of 129 pounds.

1939—planted 74,800 acres, 18,200 bales raised, with lint average of 117 pounds.

While the ten crop years from 1930 through 1939 show an average of 139 pounds of lint raised per acre, the average of the first five seasons, 1930 through 1934, rises to 156 pounds, while the average for the last five seasons, 1935 through 1939, averages only 115 pounds.

"This county has been paid under the AAA since 1938 on the basis of 152 pounds of lint per acre, which exceeded the five-year average in both 1938 and 1939," Mr. Griffin said.

More Wheat Pay Checks Arrive

An additional 68 wheat parity checks were received in the local ACA office early this week, totaling $1,337.63.

The first of these checks were received last week, when 192 checks arrived, with a total of $3,065.69.

Altogether, approximately 200 checks are expected.

Griffin Named To Head Troop 31

Announcement of C. V. Griffin and Logan Cummings as Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster, respectively, of Troop 31, was made this week. This troop is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Members of the Scout Committee of the club are Bill Turk, chairman, A. J. Butler and John Holton.

"We are anxious to get a number of additional eligible boys in this Scout Troop," Mr. Griffin said. "We are planning an interesting program for the summer months, including overnight hikes, week end hikes, and the organization of a football team."

"The troop meets each Tuesday evening at the Scout House, just south of the Telephone Office, and we are always glad to have as visitors boys who are interested in the work and think they might like to join," he added.

In connection with Boy Scout work in Wellington, Mr. Griffin, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Turk, Mr. Butler, Mr. Holton, and Dr. Chas. B. Jones attended a district meeting in Shamrock Monday where plans were discussed to divide the Pampa District, and to form a smaller district of four counties, including this one.

Missionaries Will Speak In County Churches Monday

Rev. and Mrs. K. Hawley Jackson of Kansas City, missionaries and world travelers, will conduct services at two Nazarene Churches in this county Monday evening, April 29.

Rev. Jackson will speak at the Nazarene Church in Dodson at 8 o'clock, while Mrs. Jackson will speak at the Wellington church at 7:45 o'clock.

"Rev. and Mrs. Jackson have been in every state in the union and in fourteen foreign countries. Their messages are richly illustrated from their many experiences in travel and service," the pastor of the two churches, Rev. E. P. Akin and Rev. Eugene Woods, state.

A cordial invitation has been extended the people of this area to attend one of these services.

GETTING BACK THE LAND

When armies invade, it's guns that drive the aliens away, but the men who pull the triggers have got to be fed, and no nation yet has figured out a way of keeping soldiers alive with vitamin pills.

Food must come from the fields. Whether folks are carrying guns or lunch pails, they've got to keep eating. That's why Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, recently classed preservation of arable soil among the nation's primary defense needs. Keeping the land from blowing away, shifting into streams and rivers, is just as important as launching battleships and building bombers to ward off any possible enemies, Dr. Bennett believes.

Continental United States consists of 2,000,000,000 acres of land. More than half—1,011,000,000 acres—is suffering from accelerated erosion, according to Dr. Bennett. Not a pretty picture, but it's got to be faced.

A good deal of work toward checking this situation has already been done. More is in progress. Soil conservation programs have been extended to about 90,000 farms, covering more than 25,000,000 acres. The idea is to keep the fertile soil where it belongs—on the land. Not in river beds. Not blowing around the central prairies.

It takes a long time to learn things. No one realized 100 years ago that America's rich soil wouldn't hold out forever. No one needed to. Not until it began to disappear. Then farm experts and the Department of Agriculture got busy, figured out ways of getting back the land that was being lost.

It's a bitter way of learning a lesson, but it's a good way. It'll stick. Through consistent efforts of farmers and soil conservation experts, much of the land will be reclaimed. The methods used now, and methods yet to be devised, will be maintained.

Having learned how nature operates, farmers of the nation aren't very likely to get caught short a second time.

The "forgotten man" will probably be found before the census enumerators finish their job.

Unmarried ladies who are prone to procrastinate are reminded that Leap Year is nearly one-third gone.

COSTS OF CITY LIVING

In a recent study of city living costs, a research organization finds evidence that, roughly speaking, the larger the city the more it costs to maintain a given standard of living. Naturally this points to the conclusion that New York is the most expensive city in which to live.

The survey report estimates that an average family with an annual income of $1,000, if residing in a small city, can live as well as those earning $1,500 in New York, $1,400 in Chicago, and $1,200 in the next six cities of the country. The cost of housing and food are chiefly responsible for these differences in the expenditures for absolute necessities of life.

From another source it was recently stated that living costs in Washington, D. C., were even higher than in New York, and that among cities of moderate size living costs were lowest in Mobile, Ala. A great deal depends, of course, on what are considered the minimum necessities of life, and the spending habits of people in various localities.

In the case of wage-earners, it is likely that the higher wages paid for a given kind of work in the larger cities would be found to offset the difference in living costs. This is recognized generally by labor union wage scales, which as a rule are governed to a considerable extent by the size of the city.

While in Southern cities the family expense for fuel and heavy clothing is somewhat less than elsewhere, the prevailing wages are also usually lower, so that the natural advantages of a milder climate are thereby largely wiped out.

NAVY WAR GAMES

Naval maneuvers on a large scale are being carried out this month in the Pacific, but much secrecy surrounds the movements of the big fleet, which is commanded by Admiral James O. Richardson. It is however, that the problems to be worked out are centered about the Hawaiian Islands.

It is said that approximately 140 warships of various classes will participate in the war games, besides some 400 airplanes, with a force of about 42,500 officers and men. Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison will witness at least a part of the maneuvers on board the flagship Pennsylvania.

Admiral Richardson is rated as one of the ablest, as well as one of the best-liked officers ever to command the United States Fleet. He is a native of Paris, Texas, and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1902. He has under his command the strongest naval force the United States has ever had, and the maneuvers now being held are considered of the biggest importance.

The public will have little information concerning what is taking place, as no newspaper men are permitted on board any of the ships while at sea. It is known that the exercises will be concerned with problems the navy would face in the event of hostilities in the Pacific.

It is said that one reason for the extreme secrecy surrounding the maneuvers is that much improved equipment including a new type of submarine net, will be tested.

The only certainties are death and taxes, and unfortunately the taxes come first.

Scouting Calls All Boys

It's fun to be a Scout—and it's easy, too. Wherever you live in America you can be a Scout, or a Lone Scout, if you've passed your 12th birthday.

You'll want to join the Troop nearest your own home. It probably is already meeting in your Church... or school. Ask your pastor or school teacher about it. If no luck, look up the address of the Boy Scout office in the telephone directory, or inquire from the editor of your newspaper.

You and your mother or father should arrange to meet the Scoutmaster who will explain how Scouting works. Ask him for a Boy Scout membership application. Fill it out and have your parents sign it.

Next you'll want to master your Tenderfoot Requirements quickly as you must pass them with the Scoutmaster before you can be awarded your Scout membership card and Tenderfoot Badge. If you're wondering what these Tenderfoot Requirements are, you'll find the answers beginning on page 30 in the "Handbook for Boys," which you can get at any Boy Scout office, at most public libraries or by writing to the Boy Scouts of America.

Of course, you and your parents want to know how much Scouting will cost. All expenses other than fifty cents annual Scout registration fee are completely optional. Most Troops establish small weekly dues to care for expenses incidental to running the Troop.

If there are no Boy Scouts near your home, that need not stop you from becoming a Scout. For full particulars on how to start a Boy Scout Troop, or a Lone Scout Patrol, write to the Boy Scouts of America, Box 718, Pampa, Texas.

Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance

(Editor's Note: The following is the fifth of a series of articles prepared by Dewey Reid, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board field office, to be published in this newspaper. The information contained in the articles is educational and of interest to the public in general and the wage earners in particular. For additional information concerning the federal old age and survivors insurance program, our readers are requested to contact the Social Security Board field office, located at Amarillo.)

MONTHLY BENEFITS

In order to qualify for monthly old-age primary insurance benefits after 1939, a worker (a) must be 65 years old or over; (b) must have worked on a job or jobs covered by the Social Security Act; and (c) must have received a certain minimum amount of pay from such jobs during certain periods of time.

The amount of pay he must have earned to qualify for benefits is $50 or more in each of a certain number of calendar quarters—that is, in the 3-month period beginning the first of January, April, July, and October. Such quarters are called "quarters of coverage."

A worker who has already reached age 65 or who will reach 65 before the first of July 1940, needs only 6 quarters of coverage in order to qualify for monthly benefits. A middle-aged or younger worker must have not less than 1 quarter of coverage for each 2 quarters elapsing after 1936 (or his 21st birthday if it is later) and before the quarter in which he becomes 65 to qualify. An employee who acquires 40 quarters of coverage is fully insured for the rest of his life. Example: A middle-aged mill employee, after working until the end of 1940, leaves the factory to work on a farm. Beginning with the first of January 1937 (when the original old-age insurance provisions went into effect) and counting 4 quarters in each year, makes 48 quarters during the 12 years in which he worked in employment covered by the act. Even assuming he was without work during 8 quarters of that time, he will still have 40 quarters of coverage. And even though he never works again in covered employment, he will be fully insured.

Isaiah Gives Words Of Comfort

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 28.

Text: Isaiah 40:1-11.

Many modern scholars believe that chapters 40 to 66 of the Book of Isaiah were not actually written by Isaiah but by prophets who lived toward the end of the Babylonian Exile.

It matters little who really wrote these chapters. One thing is clear. Whoever the author might have been, he was speaking to a suffering, troubled people, giving them words of hope and comfort.

Let us review the political history of the Jewish people up to this time. The Northern Kingdom, or the Kingdom of Israel, was established by the 10 tribes who followed Jeroboam after his revolt, following the death of Solomon. Two loyal tribes continued the Southern Kingdom or the Kingdom of Judah.

The Northern Kingdom was swept away in 722 B. C. when Sargon, the Assyrian conqueror, overthrew it and carried its people into exile, never to return. It is to this that we refer today when we speak of "the 10 lost tribes." The Kingdom of Judah continued until 586 B. C. when it was conquered by Nebuchadnezzar. The people were carried in exile to Babylon, but the overthrow of Babylon by Cyrus in 538 B. C. was followed by a decree for the return of the Jewish exiles to their homeland.

What the Jews in Babylon suffered during the 50 years of their exile is vividly portrayed to us in the 137th Psalm, beginning, "By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion." There they discovered what they had lost in spurning divine counsels and in turning from the ways of God. The songs of Zion had a new meaning for them when they could no longer sing them either in their homeland or in a strange land.

The comfort that the prophet brings to this afflicted people is no word of shallow optimism. He comforts them through reviving their hope, faith and vision. He assures them that God has not cast them away. They have paid the penalty for their sins.

There is one passage in the lesson that, if the interpretation of a friend of mine is correct, is almost universally misunderstood. It is the reference to the people as having "received of the Lord's hand double for all their sins." The usual interpretation is that it is a strong way of saying that the exiles have paid the full penalty.

My friend, who has traveled extensively in the east, says that the reference is really to the "double," an ancient practice followed everywhere in the east. If, and when, you take your laundry to a Chinaman, he tears a slip in two, giving you one half, while he keeps the other himself. This is the "double," and it is your receipt. The meaning of the passage, under this interpretation, is that God has given the exiles the discharge of a full forgiveness.

Schools In Rural Areas Meeting Needs Of Pupils

There's a lot of "book larnin'" going on in the country today—and much of it has nothing to do with Caesar dividing all Gaul into three parts or trying to figure out what Shakespeare was talking about.

Many of the pupils are grown men and women—folks who didn't have the time to bother with school when they were young because there was work to be done in the fields. Or maybe the schools were so far away it was easier just to forget about the whole thing.

And a great many of the regular schools, especially in the middle west, are beginning to throw in vocational subjects connected with the farm. The three R's are still important—but so is the knowledge that will make a field produce good crops.

Generally speaking, the people who haven't access to the million-dollar brick schoolhouses of the city are getting a better break out of education than they did a few years ago.

Down in Oklahoma, a lot of the people who never had a chance to get inside the Little Red Schoolhouse before are learning to read and write through the efforts of the Works Projects Administration. Adult education classes have been set up among the share croppers, and since W.P.A. first came into the state four and a half years ago more than 30,000 persons have been taught to read and write.

In many sections of the south, local boards of education are striving to cut down illiteracy and to increase the length of the school term for youngsters. In districts where children go to school only four to six months each year, authorities are trying to string the school sessions out to eight, or even nine, months.

What happens when adults learn to read and write is that they begin reading newspapers and magazines, listening to discussions of public interest on the radio. They become interested in politics, economics. And particularly in their own standards of living. They pick up pointers about their health, about managing their homes, running their farms.

All in all, educational campaigns so far undertaken, have tended to make folks resolve to better their lot. And in sections where vocational guidance has been added to the regular school programs for youngsters, authorities believe pupils will be in a better position to earn their living when they leave school.

Homemakers Of Dodson Review Work Of Group

Boys And Girls Classes Present Program At School Thursday

The homemaking department of Dodson School, under the direction of Miss Helen White, Thursday, April 19, reviewed their semester's work. Highlights of the program was the showing of dresses that had been made in class and also those that were made as home project work. The announcing of winners of the various contests was also of great interest to the audience.

This year, the department is sending four pupils to represent it at the Future Homemakers' Rally in Dallas. These include two boys and two girls, Garnetta Cornelius, whose blue and white striped silk dress won first place in the second year work; Geneva Watts, whose blue splashed broadcloth dress won first place in first year work, and Bynum Hightower and Wayne Jones, whose grades were the highest made on an examination that included both semesters' work. Others who placed in the contests were Wandaleene Young, second, and Joann Bowling, third, in second year work; Erma Lee Hunt, second and Wanda Foster, third, in first year work.

This is the first year that the homemaking boys have been invited to attend the Rally and Dodson is proud of the fact that they are able to send these two boys. They will not enter the contests, but will attend special meetings.

The program given Thursday included the welcome, by Zelda Welch, president of the F.H.T. Chapter; Future Homemakers Creed, Erma Lee Hunt; Club song, "Work, Help, Serve," freshman girls; monologue, Wandaleene Young; songs, "Old Black Joe," and "Oh, Susanna," homemaking boys; review of year's work of the boys' class, Hansell Carter; announcer for style show, Garnetta Cornelius; songs, boys' homemaking class, and a special song, by John Lowry; announcement of winners, Miss Helen White.

Others taking part on the program were Mildred Akin, Joann Bowling, Juanita Baird, Dorothy Darnell, Teresa Davis, Lera Mae Milliner, Margaret Nell Wynn, Mayrene Wynn, Winifred Balch, Estelle Adkins, Vinita Carter, Alma Clendenning, Frances Davis, Wanda Foster, Winona Harris, Margaret Hill, Joyce Skidmore, Margie Stogsdill, Evelyn Thompson, Geneva Watts, Joanna White, Velma Carter, Anna Mae Coffey, Jean Fisher, Bernice Anna Hammons, Bernice Riddle, Minnie Belle Scott, Virginia Stewart, Wandaleene Young, Edith Akin, W. T. Hays, Bynum Hightower, Frank Reynolds, Wallace Davison, Odell Roddy, Wayne Jones, Wayne Darnell, and John Lowry.

Miss Jo McKinney rendered special music for the program, and the judges of the dresses were Mrs. Fred Boyd, Mrs. E. J. Smith and Mrs. Ben Webb.

N. Y. A. Places 243 Youths To Private Work During March

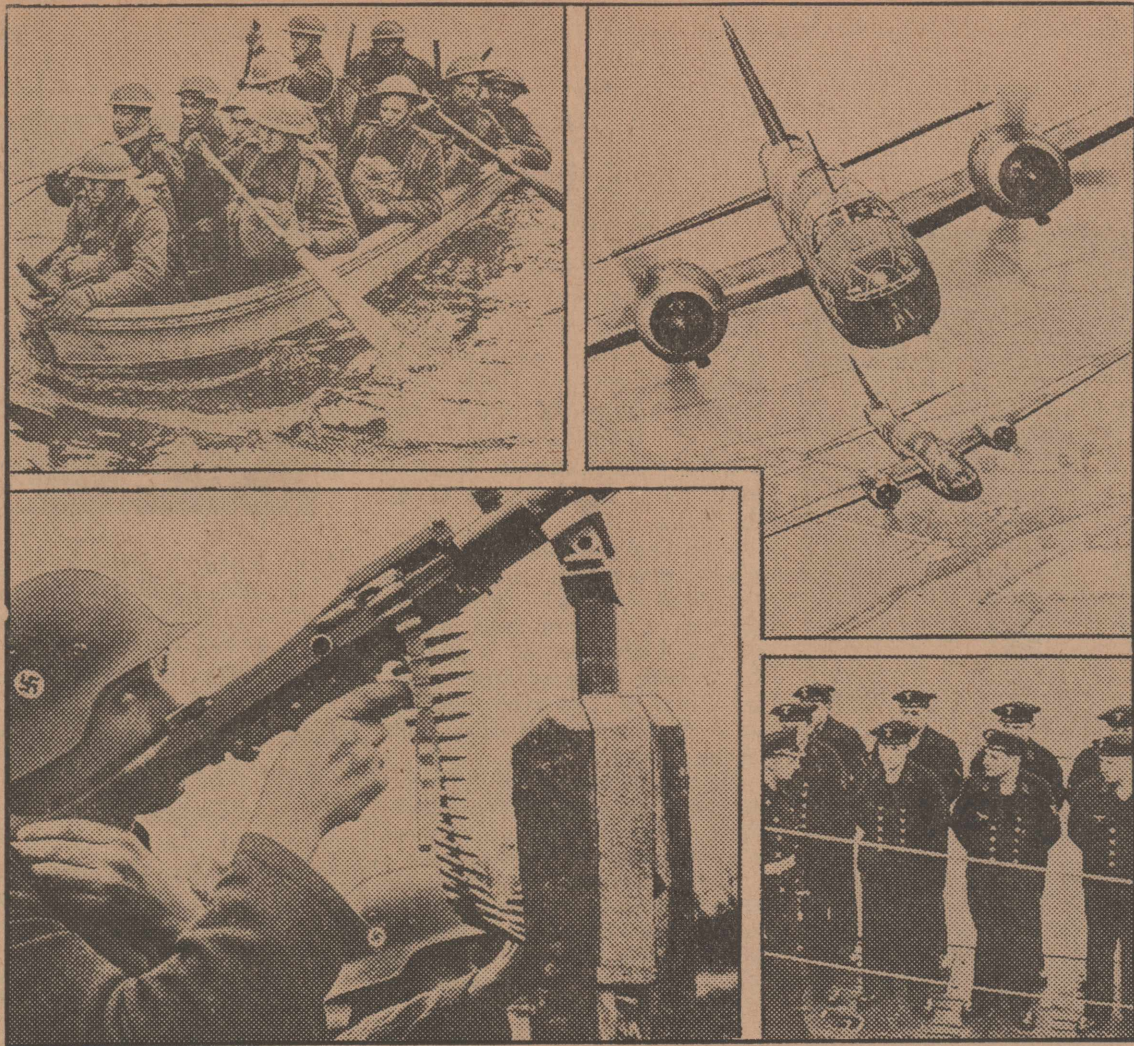

AUSTIN.—Nurse, soda-jerker, advertising writer, apprentice, mechanic, stenographer—these were some of the jobs entered by Texas youth from the National Youth Administration Work Projects over the State during March, according to J. C. Kellam, State NYA Administrator. During that period, Kellam said, a total of 243 boys and girls left the NYA programs for jobs in private employment.

Clerical work took the largest number of the youth placed, with sales work running it a close second. Other types of jobs secured included errand, factory, labor, crafts, professional, and service work. Of the 243 who left NYA rolls for jobs with private business firms 155 were boys and 88 were girls.

"Preparing boys and girls for private employment is a primary objective of the National Youth Administration," Kellam pointed out. Acquiring good work habits is as important as learning how to do a specific job. Out-of-school youth gain work experience on NYA projects which is of material benefit to them in obtaining jobs in private industry today."

Juniors Entertain Seniors With Annual Banquet Friday Evening

Amidst a setting of brilliantly displayed stars and planets, Juniors and Seniors of Wellington High School were entertained Friday night with a banquet. The planet motif was carried out in all of the decorations. The sky overhead was filled with the major planets, stars, the moon, and the center of the room was a sphere made of mirrors which threw a reflection to the sky through spotlights focused on them. Table decorations were carried out in blue and gold, the table cover being of blue with a gold strip down the center. Gold stars were placed under each salad plate and glass. Centerpieces of the planet Mars with comets shooting out in all directions made an attractive display. Rockets, High School emblem, formed the nut cups, napkins were monogrammed with a W made of gold stars, and souvenirs were white book markers with blue rockets and laced with gold ribbons. Individual programs were gold with blue printing and cleverly carried out the planet theme. Blue cornflowers and yellow tulips were the attractive floral decorations.

Hosts for the banquet were the Junior Class with its sponsors, Miss Minnie Atchley and John C. Hooper. Miss Atchley was in charge of the decorations.

Titles of program numbers and the menu were also carried out along the planet theme. Fred Pepper, Junior Class president, acted as toastmaster. Miss Atchley gave the invocation, and Miss Claudine Melton welcomed the Seniors. Boyd Williams gave the response from the Senior Class. "Star Dust," a vocal duet, was given by Misses Mary Clark and Christine Boggs. Miss Zonetta Moore gave a reading. Miss Mary Katherine Hutcherson and Mrs. Jimmie Richards sang two numbers.

J. L. Beard, superintendent, spoke on "A Challenge to the Senior Satellites." Jimmie Cochran read the Senior Class Will. The Class Prophecy was given by Miss Leota Finley and Seniors' parting address was given by Miss Jean Anderson. Music during courses was furnished by an electric victrola.

Those attending were: Miss Mildred Hulsey, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Decker, Mona Faye Easter, Lillian McKinney, Elise Childress, Juanita Fulton, Ruth Brown, Margaret Higdon, Charles Ray Carpenter, Helen Kelley, J. C. Miss Nola Capps To Wed Santa Rosa Man

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Capps announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Nola Capps, to Mr. Walden Gardner, son of the late Mr. R. E. Gardner, of Santa Rosa, California. The couple will be married June 24 at the home of the bride-elect's parents by Minister Guy N. Woods.

Miss Capps, who was graduated at Harding College, Searcy, Ark., has been a member of the east ward faculty of the Wellington schools for the past four years.

Mr. Gardner, also a graduate of Harding College, is employed in Santa Rosa, where the couple will live.

Juniors-Seniors Given Dance On Friday Evening

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary entertained Friday night with a dance for the Junior and Senior classes following the banquet which was held earlier in the evening. The dance was given at the Legion Hut. Mrs. E. W. Jones was chairman of the entertaining committee, and she was assisted by Mesdames Austin O'Neil, Charlie Jones, Lee O'Neil, Clark Anderson, W. E. Maddox, A. L. Cochran and J. B. Stevenson.

Beautifully decorated in the colors of blue and gold, the decorations were carried out along the banquet theme, that of the planets. The punch table was placed in one corner, and was covered with blue crepe paper overlaid with clear cellophane dotted with gold stars. Huge bouquets of cornflowers and yellow tulips were placed on a shelf just above the table. The windows and doors were hung with blue valances, covered with skyrockets. Music was furnished by a nickelodeon placed behind a blue and gold screen.

Fashion Preview

A charming custom that has become popular is the mother-daughter duplicate dressing. For play-time muslins are being worn with little boleros. They wash beautifully and don't have to be ironed. Colors are turquoise, trillium rose, lupin blue or gladiola pink.

Miss F. Tucker Is Bride Of Jack Staples

Announcement was made Tuesday of the marriage of Miss Florence Belle Tucker, daughter of Mrs. Beulah Tucker of Raymondville, Texas, to Jack Douglas Staples.

Mrs. Staples, with her mother, formerly lived here and is a graduate of Wellington High School. The family moved from here about three years ago.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mike Capps and a cousin of Morgan Tucker's. Many other relatives of Mrs. Staples also live here.

Mmes. Moss And Harper Attend Auxiliary Meeting

Members of the Hattie Hunt Auxiliary of Collingsworth-Hall-Childress Medical Society met Friday, April 19, in a Childress hotel for their regular meeting. Dinner was served to the group and their husbands. After a business meeting, bridge was played. Attending from Wellington were Mrs. E. W. Moss and Mrs. J. W. Harper.

Mrs. Harper was appointed at the meeting to present a cash award to Helen Maxwell of Wellington, who won first place in an essay contest recently. "What I Can Do To Prevent Contagion" was the title of the prize-winning essay, and this will automatically place Miss Maxwell's entry in the contest sponsored by the State Medical Auxiliary.

Howell-Moneith Wedding In Clayton

Announcement was received here this week of the wedding of Everett Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howell, to Miss Juanita Moneith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moneith of Clayton, N. M.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moneith was the scene of the wedding Sunday afternoon, Feb. 25, 1940. The ceremony took place at 2 o'clock amid a profusion of flowers and witnessed by relatives and friends of the happy couple.

To the strains of the "Wedding March" played softly on the piano by Mrs. Dick Wight, the bridal party entered the living room. The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Mrs. Sydney Johnson. Mr. Johnson was best man. Miss Margaret Van Pelt sang "At Dawning." Rev. R. L. Willingham officiated, using the ever beautiful and impressive ring ceremony. The bride and groom knelt on a prayer rug.

The bride was lovely in dusty rose with beige alligator shoes and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. The bridesmaid wore a gray suit with wine accessories.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howell, Sr., and is a graduate of Wellington High School. Mr. Howell has made his home on Taos for the past six or seven years and is now manager of the theatre there.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Moneith of Clayton and graduated from the Clayton High School with the class of 1934. She also attended Texas Tech in Lubbock, receiving her degree for "Business Administration." Since that time she has done governmental work.

They will make their home in Taos.

Pre-nuptial Shower

Mrs. Howell was given a lovely pre-nuptial shower prior to her marriage in the home of Mrs. L. L. Martin in Clayton, with Mrs. Ray Wood, Mrs. Dora Plunkett, Mrs. Fred Van Pelt and Mrs. Ethel Wade co-hostesses.

More than eighty guests called to see the display of gifts and wish the bride good wishes.

SAMNORWOOD FUTURE FARMERS BUILD NATIVE PLANT BEDS

By Elton Gulley

The Samnorwood Chapter members have completed two beds in front of the Agricultural building filled with native plants. The boys placed cacti, sage brush and buffalo grass in the beds, placing bricks on ends around the beds for protection. Bear grass is placed as a filler to contrast with the other colors, with one polecat bush. It is thought that sage brush will make a good hedge for the building as it has the very desirable drouth resisting qualities that are needed in this country. This experiment is to be of use to people of this community in knowledge of uses of native shrubs of this section of the country. This is another one part of an objective of the chapter in beautifying the school ground that is completed.

CHAPTER MAKES REPORT TO TEXAS TERRACER CONTEST

By Louis Berg, Chapter Treasurer

This week the chapter has made final reports to the Texas Terracing Contest put on by the Brown Tool Company that is open to all Future Farmer Chapters. Terracing lines were run for the following farmers: Harry Jones, 12,087 yards; Mr. Young of Plymouth community, 10,560 yards; Mr. DeBord of Plymouth community, 8,810 yards; Mr. Blassengame, Lutie community, 11,000 yards; Mrs. C. Clement of Plymouth community, 16,182 yards, and Mr. Ruffin of Lutie, 22,000 yards. In addition the chapter ran lines for contour listing a pasture improvement project for Mr. George Childers of 39,600 yards.

Of the lines run by the chapter the following men are to build terraces: Blassengame, DeBord, Young, and Ruffin. The total points earned in the Terracer contest are 789,469 by the schedule set up for the contest by the State director of the contest.

SAMNORWOOD FUTURE FARMERS COMPLETE PASTURE IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

By Elton Gulley, Reporter

The Future Farmers of Samnorwood have cleaned out all the cacti and prickly pear from Mr. George Childers' pasture land equal to ten acres on which lines have been run for contour listing. This ten acre tract is about six miles west of Samnorwood School on which numerous piles of these western pasture pests are piled to dry and to be burned at later dates. Mr. Childers now has his stock tank staked off ready to be built. The Future Farmers plan to cooperate in construction and completion of the tank as the third unit of completion of the project.

In summing up the project work is completed as follows: 6 1/4 miles contour lines have been run and plowed (2) cactus and prickly pear removed and piled (3) stock tank staked off and ready to build (4) killed all pasture pests including cactus rats, mice, and ground squirrels.

The boys who helped on this work are: First Class, Lafayette Bockman, M. V. Fritts, Bill Hiett, Stanley Hill, G. R. Kirkland, James Kimbro, Kenneth Laycock, Billie Morris, Vernon Sublett, Carl Standifer, C. J. Standifer, M. V. Tenneson, and Bobby Willoughby; second class, Louis Berg, Neal Bradstreet, J. E. Childers, W. L. Green, Elton Gulley, Eugene Morrow, Herman Oldham, Bernice Purkey, Norris Sechrist, James Shaw, and J. W. Sparkman; third class, Jim Bradstreet, Louis Berg, Eugene Carreker, Norman DeBord, Chester Ferguson, Fred Goodman, Jack King, Vernon Kirklin, Dean Marchant, Robert Neece, John Rainey, John Sechrist, Floyd Tate, Billie Joe Whitfield and Gene Whitfield. This is 100 percent of the membership in school at this time.

Dam Engineer Is Killed In Kansas

ELLA
By MRS. CASEY JONES

Bob Shiveley, an engineer with the land utilization division of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, who was formerly employed in surveying the proposed Elm Creek Lake in the northern part of Collingsworth County, was killed in an accident near Oakley, Kansas, Thursday night, April 11, word received in Shamrock recently stated.

No details were given, although it was understood he was driving a government station wagon loaded with engineering instruments at the time of the accident.

For the past two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Shiveley had been living at Wray, Colo., where he was employed on a project.

Mr. Shiveley was known by a large number of residents in the north part of this county.

Indian Creek Home, Outbuildings Burn Saturday, April 13

Fire which started when a chicken brooder exploded destroyed the house, brooder house, car and trailer of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clayton, who live on the Paul Starr farm in the Indian Creek community, Saturday morning, April 13. Approximately 800 baby chicks were also lost in the fire.

Mrs. Clayton, who was working in the house at the time, stated that the alarm was given by a pet lamb belonging to their son, Franklin Clayton, that became frightened at the blaze and rushed into the house, and it was in her attempts to put the lamb out that Mrs. Clayton discovered the fire.

The brooder house, it was stated was located so near the house that it was impossible to keep the latter structure from catching.

They were able to save only a mattress, two pillows, a quilt, rocker and radio from the burning house. Living with the Claytons are Mr. Clayton's father, W. C. Clayton, who is an invalid, and two of their small nephews, Kenneth and Bobby Gullet.

The family was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glenn to the Glenn ranch house, where they are staying until they get located.

Your Most Prized Possessions

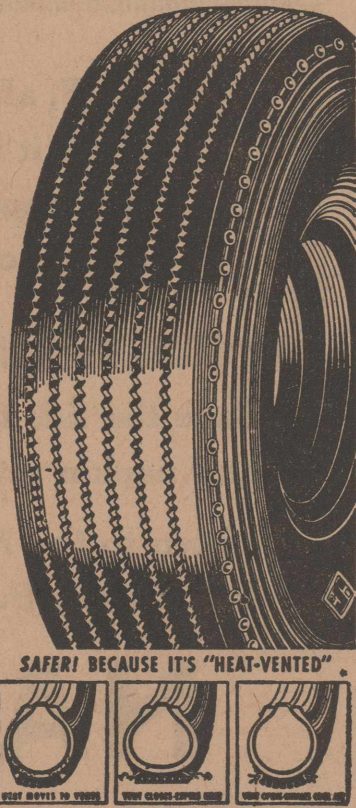

Yes, sir—those nearest and dearest to you—your wife and baby—are the most prized possessions that you have. You'd do anything for them—to protect them against any danger. Why not give them the protection of good tires—a protection that comes from years of research in the world's finest laboratories, the results of which are proven and tested by millions of miles of actual, satisfactory road service.

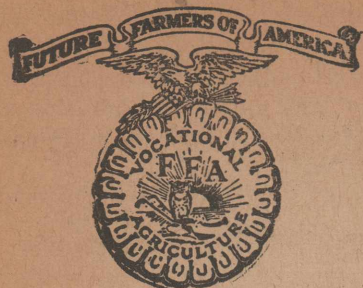

You can buy a more expensive tire than SEIBERLING, it's true—but you can't buy a better tire! Give your family that protection, so when you are all in the car, tire failure, due to faulty workmanship and materials, cannot happen to you! "HEAT VENTS," "Saf-flex" cord, and "Saw-tooth tread" are standard features designed to make safer and more comfortable riding. "Ride in safety on SEIBERLINGS!"

WELLINGTON
By HALL WELLS

Recently, the Wellington FFA Chapter has been contouring and terracing the farm of Mrs. Lucy Wells, located north of Wellington. This affords much valuable training and experience along such lines. In addition, prickly pears and cacti were cleaned off the area. Between ten and fifteen acres were contoured on this farm.

SAMNORWOOD
By ELTON GULLEY

The Samnorwood FFA Chapter visited the Samnorwood farm Wednesday to watch seventy-five head of cattle being dipped. The mixture for the dip was 100 pounds of sulphur and 10 pounds cube per 1,000 gallons of water.

The boys who made this trip were Norris Sechrist, J. W. Sparkman, Kenneth Laycock, Billie Morris, Neal Bradstreet, Elton Gulley, Dean Marchant, M. V. Tennison, Vernon Kirkland, M. V. Fritts, J. C. Standifer, Lafayette Bockman, James Kimbro, John Sechrist, Chester Furgeson, Eugene Carreker, Eugene Morrow, Norman DeBord, Edgar Wischkaemper, Oliver Wischkaemper, Howard Jones, Berbie Peoples, Jim Bradstreet, Bill Hiett, Carl Standifer, Jack King, Bernis Purkey, G. R. Kirklin, Floyd Tate, Robert Neece, Herman Oldham, Bobby Willoughby, Louis Berg, Joe Alex Coleman, Billie Joe Whitfield, Stanley Hill and W. L. Green.

On Friday, April 12, the chapter visited the Wellington Creamery to watch them churn butter. The manager, Paul Jensen, told how the churn and other machinery worked.

We found that the churn is filled about half full of cream and churned about thirty minutes. The churn will hold about 1,200 pounds of cream, and when it is churned there is a block of butter weighing about 500 pounds. When the butter is gathered, the buttermilk is drained off and water is run into the churn. The butter is salted. It is then packed in wooden buckets and shipped to market.

After this, we went to the district court room and saw a picture show on soil erosion, telling how much soil is lost each year. It also showed the building of stock dams and pasture contouring.

Land," the leading roles are taken by Louise Fulcher and Frances Vernon, who visit Story Land and there meet Prince Charming, Madden Tucker, and his herald, Marshall Peters; the fairies, Peggy Fulcher, Nelda Joyce Nipper, Sue Freeman, Nadine Shanks, Pauline Smith, and Elaine Shanks; and the brownies, Earl Wayne Nipper, Jimmy Terry, Clyde Cason and Jon Sullivan. Folly, played by Ruth Blythe, tries to get the children to follow her and forget their duties.

Songs will be given by the choral singers, Newell Van Pelt, Joe Bailey, Jack Cross, Larry Smith, Walter Smith, Calvin Shanks, Jimmy Terry and Wayne Nipper; while three-year-old Nelda Fern Terry will give two solo numbers, "Rubber Dolly," and "Hello."

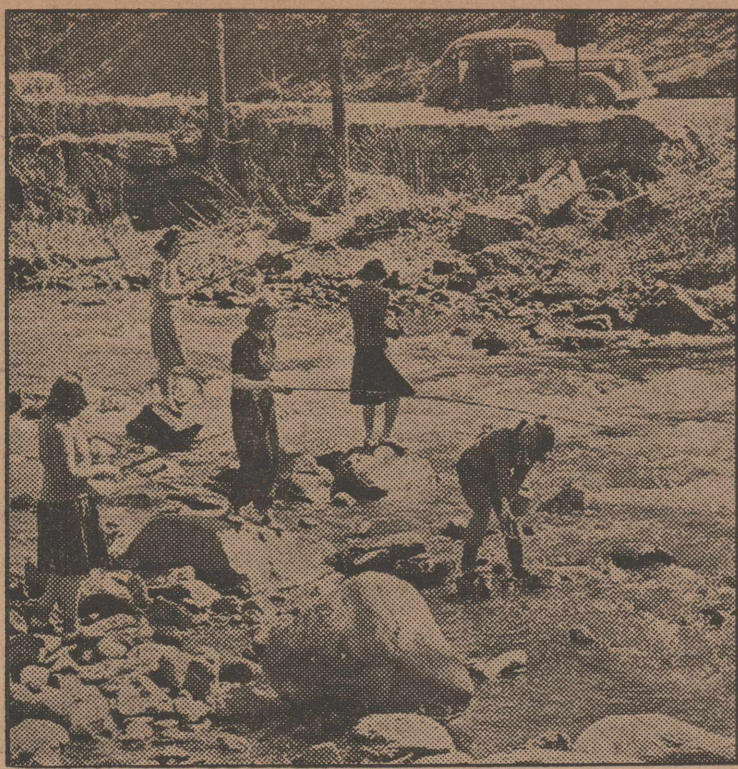

In an amusing 30-minute comedy, "Tommy Takes A Wife," Marshall Peters will take the part of Tommy Stuart, who prevails on a charming book agent to pose as his wife, thereby beginning a series of complications. Peter Stuart, Tommy's uncle, is played by Walter Smith; Eunice West, Tommy's fiancée, Louise Fulcher; the book agent, Frances Vernon; Mr. Crothers, Tommy's partner, Madden Tucker; Mrs. Crothers, Anna Freeman; Millie, the colored maid, Calvin Shanks; and Sam, the colored hired man, Don Van Pelt.

One highlight of the program will be the observance of Tom Thumb's first wedding anniversary. This is the sequel of the Tom Thumb wedding, presented by the school last year. Taking part are, Tom Thumb, Jimmy Terry; Mrs. Thumb, Nadine Shanks; Tom's mother, Frances Vernon; Jennie's mother, Louise Fulcher; school children, Clyde Cason and Peggy Fulcher; the preacher, Don Van Pelt; Mrs. Jones, Anna Freeman.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

At the theatre party on the following day, the group will see Jane Withers at the local theatre.

Two Homes Are Burned Monday

Two homes south of Wellington, one of them almost new, were destroyed by fire during the last week.

Floyd Moore's home in the Arlie community, which was built last year, was burned Monday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, when an oil stove exploded. The house was also newly furnished. All the contents were destroyed.

The house in which Arthur West was living in Loco was also destroyed by fire Monday night.

Further details of either fire were not available.

CLEANING JOBS IN THE KITCHEN

In the kitchen, one keep-clean is better than a dozen make-cleans. For it is less trouble to establish order after every meal, than to spend a whole day scrubbing and scouring after a week of "letting things go." But if you clean as you cook and have a regular schedule for the special cleaning jobs you can keep the kitchen bright and shining most of the time.

While vegetables are cooking or a cake is baking, take advantage of your spare minutes to put supplies back where they belong. Rinse mixing bowls, spoons, the egg beater, and all other pieces of equipment as soon as you are through with them. Clear your work shelf and table as you use them. Wipe the stove after every meal, and whenever food boils over. Keep the sink free from grease and dirt, and see that the refrigerator is sweet and clean all the time.

A handy shelf for cleaning supplies inspires kitchen-cleanliness. Stock the cleaning shelf with a mild neutral soap, and some very fine scouring powder. A metal sponge or fine steel wool is also useful for cleaning stubborn spots.

Pots and pans need little more than the soap-and-water treatment. But to keep your aluminum utensils bright and your iron utensils spotless, rub them lightly with steel wool. Strong soaps and scouring powders that contain alkalis will discolor aluminum. So, if your aluminum utensils become stained, boil a vinegar-and-water solution in them. Steel wool will take rust spots off iron utensils, and a light coating of mineral oil, or other salt-free fat will keep them from rusting again.

For the weekly cleaning of the refrigerator, use mild soap suds with a little soda added to help remove odors. If yours is an ice refrigerator, pay special attention to the drain pipe. Remove the pipe and drain trap, then wash and scald them carefully to kill any bacteria.

Silver needs very special care because it is a soft metal. It will tarnish quickly unless you rinse it

Cotton Queen

Lidia Picton Willey, 21, Memphis, Tenn., debutante, will reign as queen of 1940's cotton festival in Memphis, May 14 to 18. Miss Willey was chosen for south's greatest party by secret committee.

carefully and dry it with a clean towel. When it needs polishing be sure to use a polish that doesn't scratch, and put it on with a soft cloth or brush.

Floors, walls, and wood trim in the kitchen also need frequent cleaning. Plain soap-and-water is the most effective cleaning agent for these surfaces. Use light suds, and rub just hard enough to take off the dirt. Then rinse away every trace of soap with clear water, and wipe dry with a clean cloth. Wash only a small space at a time and use water sparingly.

Additional suggestions for cleaning in the kitchen and in other parts of the house can be found in Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1834. This bulletin, called "House Cleaning Management and Methods," is available free as long as the supply lasts through the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Memphis Baseball Team Here Sun.

The Memphis baseball team will meet the Wellington boys in the first game of the season for the local boys Sunday afternoon, April 28, at 3 o'clock at the old fair ground, Kid Monroe, who is in charge of the local team, has announced.

More than twenty players are now working out for positions on the Wellington team, and prospects at present are that Wellington will have one of the outstanding teams in the lower Panhandle. Several veteran players are included in this group, but a majority of the players are new to the game.

"The Old Fair Ground park is in better shape than in years, and it will be worked into a real playing field soon," according to Mr. Monroe. "Screens will be placed from first base to third base, and stalls will be erected.

"We hope to give all the youngsters a chance in this game, and we believe we can turn out some real talent."

As yet, however, the Wellington club has no name, and the public has been called on to help select a title for the group. The suggested name is to be handed to Mr. Monroe, written on a slip of paper, along with a sentence of 25 words or less telling why Wellington should have a ball team.

The person whose name is selected will be given a season's pass to the games.

is scheduled to begin May 6.

Grand jurors for this session were Lee O'Neil, Gilbert Hunt, Floyd Thompson, W. W. Dubose, George Lewis, Everett Voyles, Wren Hartman, W. A. Starkey, Ernest Wood, A. N. Wiseman, Fred

Yarbrough and F. F. Popwell. The report of the grand jury is as follows:

District Court, Collingsworth County, Texas, April Term, 1940.

State of Texas, County of Collingsworth, To The Honorable Judge of Said Court:

Comes now your Grand Jury duly selected, impaneled and sworn for the April Term, A. D. 1940 of said Court and would make to the Court the following report:

1. We have been in session two days; have examined many witnesses and have returned bills of indictment in all cases where we deemed the evidence sufficient to sustain an indictment. We have found and herewith return into open court 5 bills of indictment, 3 felony and 2 misdemeanor bills.

2. We have found that several witnesses testified that they were put in jail to lay out their fines, but were turned out of jail during the day without food and were ordered to report back to jail at night. We recommend that those confined to jail under orders of the court be confined as provided by law.

3. We wish to thank the Court, the District Clerk, the County and District Attorneys, the Sheriff's and Constable's Department and our bailiffs, all for their assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

We have completed our work and ask that we be discharged or adjourned as to the Court may seem proper.

Done at Wellington, Texas, this 23rd day of April, A. D. 1940.
