Mounties Are Shooting Cows With Disease

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Canadian Mounties went gunning today for livestock infected with dreaded foot-and-mouth disease as Canada took drastic action to save her two-billion-dollar stock industry from an outbreak of the malady in Southern Saskatchewan.

The United States, which got its first foot-and-mouth infection from Canada in 1870, immediately banned all stock and meat imports from across the border. This nipped a trade in breeding animals and meat which last year totalled 130 million dollars.

The action followed announcement yesterday the disease had turned up at 22 farms and municipalities around Regina.

Mounted police began destroying infected animals, which federal authorities said included 1,015 cattle, 193 hogs and 140 sheep. Rigid quarantine regulations were enforced to confine the disease to the Regina area, the only section where it has been found so far.

Officials said they had a good chance of wiping out the disease on the spot. But in British Columbia, Provincial Livestock Commissioner W. R. Gunn said cattle cars which had carried infected cattle might turn up in "Vancouver, Toronto or Chicago, and there might be an outbreak anywhere.'

Howard County Wildcat Staked For Drilling

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., R. E. Fair and Woodward and Co. and others have staked a 9,200 - foot wildcat for immediate drilling in Southeast Howard County.

It is the No. 1 Susie B. Snyder, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 20-30-1ts-T&P, about four miles southeast of Coahoma. It is a twin to a shallow producer one and one-half miles northwest of the shallow Snyder field.

KENT PRODUCER

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. has reported completion of the No. 2-13 as a San Andres producer in the Kent County portion of the Cogdell field.

The No. 2-13 Cogdell pumped 24 hours on the completion for an initial potential of 109.37 barrels of 37.1 gravity oil. Gas - oil ratio was 101-1.

Production is from the top of the pay at 1,516 feet, where casing is cemented, and 1,541 feet, total depth. The open hole was washed with 4,000 gallons of acid.

The project is located in section 78-97-H&TC.

FISHER WILDCAT

Sun Oil Co. No. 2 Peters, Fisher wildcat, is drilling below 825 feet in red beds and shale. It is 1,980 feet from west and 1,873 feet from south lines of section 209-3-H&TC, and will drill to about 6,000 feet unless it gets production in the Canyon reef at a lesser depth.

Sun No. 1 Peters is still testing for completion as the third well in that area. It flowed 119 barrels of oil with no water on a 16-hour gauge. A one-quarter - inch choke was used in testing.

SCURRY TEST

In Northeast Scurry County, Texaco No. 198 Fuller is drilling toward 7,800 feet for another drillstem test. The last test reported was taken from 7,642-7,702 feet in the Ellenburger. Recovery was 3,150 feet of free gas in the drillpipe, with 125 feet of gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water. Tool was open one and one-half hours. Informed sources say the Ellenburger was topped at about 7,000 or 7,620 feet.

NOLAN WELL

Rowan & Hope No. 1 Nemir, North - Central Nolan wildcat, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 214.63 barrels of 44.3 gravity oil. The flow was natural through a 15-64th - inch tubing choke from perforations at 6,156-6,340 feet. This well is in the immediate vicinity of the Canyon field recently opened by Rowan & Hope at their No. 1 Seago.

REFINERY FIRE IN LONGVIEW

Flames and smoke billow from the flash and fractionating towers of the Skelly Refinery east of Longview after an explosion. Plant superintendent J. D. Waddell said the explosion was caused when a high pressure vapor line burst. He estimated damage at thousands of dollars and said the plant would be out of production two weeks.

FUNERAL NOTICE IS FALSE ALARM; HUSBAND CAUGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP)—William F. Reichel, 32, a bus driver, went to his estranged wife's home yesterday presumably to arrange for her funeral and was greeted by two deputy sheriffs and his wife.

"He turned white and looked as if he'd seen a ghost," Mrs. Irene Reichel, 30, told Circuit Judge John T. Dempsey. "And he seemed disappointed.'

Reichel was brought into court for being $675 in arrears on payments for support of the couple's children, Judith, 11, and Gerald, 9. Mrs. Reichel has a divorce suit pending, charging cruelty.

Mrs. Reichel told Judge Dempsey she had just been released from a hospital and was "desperately in need of money." She arranged with friends to telephone Reichel and tell him she had died and he was wanted to make funeral arrangements.

Reichel complained that his wife's "death" trick was unfair. He was released on $1,000 bond and told to pay the $675.

Rayburn's Gag Rule Not To Be Changed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn's sudden announced ban on broadcasting or telecasting of House committee hearings touched off a rolling storm of protests from housewives on up to Congress members today but there was no immediate sign it would be revoked.

While republican congressmen and radio-TV officials complained vigorously against what they termed "raw censorship" and violation of free speech, the house GOP leader, Rep. Joseph W. Martin jr. of Massachusetts, said he doubted anything could be done.

The immediate effect of the ruling, while barring radio microphones and TV cameras from all future sessions of the house and its committees, was to pull the rug out from under arrangements to telecast the opening of House Un-American activities Committee hearings in Detroit yesterday.

The hearing on communism-in-Michigan finally got under way in relative privacy after a three-hour delay, but telephone switchboards were flooded by calls from housewives and others who had looked forward to watching the proceedings on TV.

Rep. Martin told newsmen the House Rules Committee should consider removing the question from the "twilight" area.

Martin said that, while he disagreed with Rayburn's ruling, he did not question the speaker's right or authority to make it. If he were speaker, Martin said, he would interpret the rules to allow committees themselves to decide whether hearings should be televised or broadcast.

Rayburn himself told reporters he is against any change in House rules which he has interpreted to prohibit televising, broadcasting or newsreeling sessions of the house or its committees.

As a matter of practical politics, rules changes opposed by the speakers seldom get anywhere in the houue.

Several Republicans on the Rules Committee privately predicted there will be no serious effort to alter the rules.

Rayburn was represented by colleagues as believing it unfair to require witnesses to face cameras continuously, and as fearing that to open the doors wide to TV and radio might give the House a "circus" atmosphere.

Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) said the shutoff on the Detroit hearings "is one of the rawest examples of censorship ever to come to my attention." He accused the administration of having "teamed up with the left wing to deprive the people of Michigan of all the facts and the blow-by-blow revelation of the activities of the Reds in Michigan."

Freezing Weather And Little Rain Makes Farmer Big Loser

By The Associated Press

A quickie norther that brought fruit - killing temperatures to a large portion of Texas was spending its forces by mid-morning in the Gulf of Mexico. Precipitation, in snow and slow rains, was disappointing.

Blooming fruit trees across North and East Texas were believed to have been the chief victims of a plunge in temperatures that brought sub-freezing weather deep into the interior of the state early Tuesday.

Some farm experts, however, were optimistic.

Rising temperatures expected Tuesday afternoon and tomorrow, forecasts said, probably would mark an end to the cold spell.

Farmers appeared to be the losers all the way around.

The norther had promised drouth-ending moisture, but few places had enough rain or snow to even dent the big deficit in the state's rainfall piled up since last summer.

Instead of bringing moisture in sufficient quantities to help, the biting, raw cold front probably destroyed much of the year's plum and peach crop, already harmed by the continuing drouth.

Ranchers who had worked hard to protect their cattle from the cold were thankful that the rains, slow - moving and soaking, had helped prospects to some extent. Otherwise, the new moisture had aided but little.

Cotton already planted in the Rio Grande Valley was boosted along as were some oat crops in the Palestine-Corsicana area and other East and North Texas localities.

Precipitation in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. included 1.22 inches at Tyler, .84 at Lufkin, .71 at Palestine, .70 at Dallas, .54 at Corsicana, .56 at Houston, .50 at Galveston, .41 at Fort Worth, .39 at Waco and College Station, .34 at Beaumont, .24 at Alice, .20 at Mineral Wells, .19 at Victoria, .12 at Texarkana, .06 at San Antonio, .03 at Brownsville and Wichita Falls, .02 at Wink and Cotulla and .01 at Abilene and Amarillo.

Chinese Won't Even Consider UN's Latest Compromise Plan

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Communists today "categorically rejected" any Allied proposal that would ban Russian supervision of a Korean truce.

The Allies had proposed four neutral nations police the truce instead of six. This would cut Norway off the United Nations list and Russia off the Red nominations.

"We cannot consider it," said Chinese Col. Py Shan.

Staff officers also remained deadlocked on the number of ports of entry each side should be allowed during a truce. The Allies now propose six, the Communists five.

Another group of staff officers devoted their entire session to minor differences in phraseology on arrangements for exchanging prisoners of war.

As truce talks adjourned until Wednesday, each side accused the other of stalling.

The U. N. Command made its compromise proposal on neutral supervisors Monday in an effort to get around the newest road block toward ending the bloodshed in Korea.

It would limit supervising nations to Sweden, Switzerland, and Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. This would get rid of the Russian problem.

"The point is not the number of members on the neutral nations supervisory commission,' Col. Pu Shan said, "but it is the question that one side cannot give reason for objecting to the nominations to the other side."

What he meant was that the Communists could name any nation they wanted to the commission so long as it was not actively fighting in Korea, and the U. N. had nothing to say about it.

The Allies have told the Reds the nominations of each side are subject to approval by the other; and that Soviet Russia is not acceptable because of past participation in Korea. The Red Korean Army is trained, advised and supplied by Russia.

Col. Don O. Darrow told Pu Shan the Allies could not accept the communist method of solving the problem of neutral nations.

Pu Shan replied:

"We cannot consider and will categorically reject any objections without justification to the nominations by our side in compliance with the definition of neutral nations."

Later he added:

"We not only have categorically rejected your proposal of yesterday but also have explained why we rejected it. Any objection without justification to our nominations will be categorically rejected."

The Allies have consistently refused to be drawn into debate over whether the Soviet Union has been neutral in the Korean War.

After the session Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the U. N. Command, said the Reds were "attempting to wring every possible last ounce of concession from the United Nations Command."

He noted North Korean Col. Chang Chun San twice "carefully inserted" the word "final" in reference to the Red compromise offer of five ports of entry. The Allies offer of six is also a compromise. The Reds started with three, the Allies 12.

Court Upholds Death Sentence

NEW YORK (AP) — Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, husband and wife sentenced to die for giving Russia atomic secrets, looked to the U. S. Supreme Court today to save them from the electric chair.

The Rosenbergs are the first American ever doomed for espionage outside a military courtroom. A. U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld unanimously their convictions and sentences.

Defense Attorney Emanuel H. Black said he "definitely" would take the case to the Supreme Court.

If the Supreme Court rules against the Rosenbergs, only a commutation of their sentence by the President could keep them from dying in the electric chair at Sing Sing N. Y. Prison.

Rosenberg, an electrical engineer who will be 34 in May, and his 36-year-old wife were convicted of ferreting out wartime American secrets for the same Russian-bossed spy ring that included imprisoned British scientist Klaus Fuchs.

Another defendant at the Rosenbergs trial a year ago was Morton Sobell, 35, who drew 30 years for his part in the plot.

Little Moisture Here

Snyder's hint of snow yesterday was only enough to measure .01 of an inch, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer.

Added to the .12 of an inch on Jan. 2 and the .17 of an inch Feb. 15, yesterday's moisture brought this year's total moisture to .3.

Temperatures moved down to a low of 18 last night, and the thermometer registered 19 at 7:30 o'clock this morning. High for yesterday was 55.

German Troops Delayed By New Developments

BONN, Germany (AP)—Allied officials said today that the Atlantic army will have to wait at least until 1955 for the 12 German divisions it counts on to help defend the West.

Despite the green light given the European army by the Atlantic Allies at their Lisbon conference, these officials said that recent political developments, especially in France, have set back the previous plans calling for combat-ready German troops by 1954.

The sources here explain the situation like this:

The Germans will need two full years from the starting point to call up, arm and train 300,000 to 400,000 men to serve with the six-nation European army.

The outlook now is that not a single German soldier will be drafted before early 1953 and perhaps months later.

The Germans plan to start their new army with small units of volunteers who later will take over the training of draftees.

Nor do these prospects for German manpower for Western defense take into account a possible change in the West German government. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-rearmament coalition faces an election battle in the summer of 1953 with the bitterly anti-rearmament Socialists.

The Socialists warned last week end that they would continue to oppose German participation in the Western defense system "under present conditions," even if they take over the government next year.

They have demanded immediate elections.

Although the Germans are free to make preparations now for recruiting troops, they cannot put men into uniform until:

1. The six West European nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — complete the draft treaty for the European army.

2. The six Parliaments ratify the treaty.

3. The German Parliament approves a separate conscription bill.

Dean Says He Is Not Hero

PANMUNJON, Korea (AP) — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, highest ranking Allied officer in Communist hands and a Medal of Honor winner, says his aide, not he, was a hero.

The 52-year-old former commander of the U. S. 24th Division said in a letter from Prison Camp No. 6 in North Korea:

"I regret that I am not the hero" newspaper accounts "make me out to be."

The stories of Dean's experiences in South Korea during the month he eluded Communists before he was captured in August, 1950, came from Koreans he encountered and Americans who were with the general just before he lost contact with his troops.

Dean's letter, dated in January, was addressed to Australian-born Wilfred Burchett, correspondent for the Communist Paris Ce Soir. Burchett released it to The Associated Press today.

Agree Germans Should Help Pay For Western Defense Through 1952

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Big Three Western powers and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have agreed West Germany should pitch in with 11¼ billion marks ($2,677,500,000) for Western defense in the next year.

An official source said today a draft of the new agreement had been sent to Bonn for final approval by Chancellor Konrad Adenauers government.

He gave these additional details:

The agreement was drafted last night by Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, who stayed on here after the closing of the Atlantic Pact parley to settle some outstanding German and Austrian questions.

The ministers and their top advisers met again this morning. They also invited in the Benelux ministers to keep them informed.

Before them last night was a message from Bonn in which the federal government said it was ready to accept the figure of 11¼ billion marks as the size of its defense contribution. The amount had been recommended by top Allied planners who were called in to measure Germany's capacity to pay.

But difficulties arose about the precise wording of the terms and form of the German contribution.

The ministers spent nearly three hours last night knocking the text of the agreement into shape, then sent it along to Bonn for Adenauers approval.

If and when it comes out, the agreement will be announced simultaneously in Bonn, London, Paris, Washington and Lisbon.

The German contribution for the 1952-1953 period is expected to cover precisely:

1. Cost of maintaining and defending Berlin, police forces, frontier guards and the like.

2. Cost of getting an armed German force into the field as part of the projected European defense community.

3. Cost of equipping the German soldier, sailors and airmen who are selected for service.

4. Cost of maintaining American, British and French forces in Germany for the 12-month period after the European Defense Community comes into existence. These Allied forces will not formally be occupation troops, enjoying the rights they have held since V-E day. But the Bonn government has agreed to share the expenses of keeping them.

5. Cost of Germany's share in the building airfields, communications, troop quarters and other installations for the common use.

About the whole of the German contribution—less a billion marks (238 million dollars) earmarked for Berlin and internal security—will be paid into the funds of the European Defense Community (EDC).

Bank Robbery Suspect Caught When He Steps Off Airliner

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Less than 15 hours after the crime the FBI arrested an armed ex-convict as he stepped off a transcontinental plane here early today and charged him with a $19,628 Los Angeles bank holdup.

Edward Scheidt, FBI special agent, identified the suspect as John Richard Bayless, 37.

Bayless was sentenced to Alcatraz Prison in 1937 to a 25-year term for robbery of a bank at Mansfield, Mo.

The FBI said Bayless entered the Hollywood branch of the Bank of America in Los Angeles yesterday and, at the point of the gun, robbed the bank of $19,628.61.

He was carrying a .38 caliber revolver in his belt and attempted to use it when he stepped off the plane, Scheidt said.

The FBI chief said Bayless had the gun partly out of his belt when agents who had been waiting at the top of the ramp, near the plane, seized him.

Scheidt said Bayless was carrying the bank loot in a cowhide brief case.

The FBI, which had been tipped off yesterday, had six agents waiting at the airport for the Trans World Airlines plane from Los Angeles.

One of the agents — wearing a TWA uniform—went to the top of the passenger stairway as the plane landed and seized the passenger when he stepped out. The other agents then closed in and quickly took their man away.

A TWA spokesman said the FBI had contacted the airline, made arrangements to meet the plane and gave a description of the man.

The description was radioed to the plane as it flew over Pittsburgh —an hour before landing here— and Capt. B. K. Stuessi, 37, of Kansas City, Mo., passed word to the hostess.

The hostess, Jeri Starr, 21, of Kansas City, spotted the passenger in seat No. 6 and gave a description of him to the captain. This was when the plane was 20 minutes out of La Guardia Field and the hostess was having the passengers fasten their landing belts.

The mans description was radioed back to the FBI agents at the field, and double-checked.

Strike Notices Along Gulf Are Given By Union

BEAUMONT, Feb. 26 (AP)—Six large plants, including all five of Jefferson County's major oil refineries, have been notified they will be struck at midnight Sunday by the Oil Workers International Union.

CIO-OWIU District No. 4 Director J. Elro Brown said yesterday official strike notes have been given to Magnolia refinery at Beaumont, Atlantic and Texas Company refineries at Port Arthur, and the Pure Oil refinery at Nederland. Those notices yesterday were in addition to one sent to Gulf refinery at Port Arthur Saturday.

Shutdown of the refineries on the OWIU strike list will result in a slash of about 60 per cent in the state's refining capacity, industry spokesmen have said. Most motor vehicles are expected to be without fuel within ten days after such a strike is called.

Union officials have promised enough gasoline to keep emergency vehicles such as ambulances, fire and police cars running.

Also receiving a strike notice yesterday was the Texas Company asphalt plant at Port Neches. The B. F. Goodrich rubber plant at Port Neches had not received a strike notice last night.

Meetings to discuss orderly shutdowns of the six plants, employing about 13,000 OWIU members and several thousand other workers, have been scheduled.

Navy Announces Eleven Men Wounded When Ship Takes Three Hits

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Navy reported today 11 men were wounded aboard the destroyer Shelton Feb. 22 by Communist shore fire.

The destroyer, then off the northeast coast of Korea, received three direct hits; two enemy shells burst directly over the fantail. One of the direct hits tore a hole, three feet by four feet, at the water line, causing one compartment to be partly flooded.

Lattimore Hits Investigators Of Persons Serving In Far East

WASHIINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Owen Lattimore accused the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee today of "instituting a reign of terror among our foreign service personnel,' particularly in the Far East.

He coupled a slashing attack on methods used by the subcommittee with a new and emphatic denial that he ever was a Communist or a Communist sympathizer.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor and a Far Eastern affairs specialist, spoke out in a statement prepared for a public hearing of the subcommittee. It is probing for any subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policies.

Lattimore has been a central figure in the group's investigation, begun a year ago with the seizure of the files of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), a private research organization.

He is a trustee of the IPR and from 1934 to 1941 was editor of one of its publications, Pacific Affairs.

DAMAGE TO U. S.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), in his Communism - in - government charges two years ago, accused Lattimore of being Russia's top spy in this country. Lattimore called the charge "moonshine."

Lattimore said today he saw no hope that the subcommittee would "fairly appraise the facts." He accused it of contributing "to the hysteria that has been whipped up in this country by the China lobby."

"The personal damage that has been done to me by the way in which this subcommittee has allowed malicious testimony to be stacked against me is probably beyond repair,' he said.

"But much more important," he continued, "is the damage that has been done to my country x x x and the damage that has been done to the conduct of the foreign policy of our country."

Lattimore said the usefulness of U. S. foreign service personnel "has already been jeopardized by the work of this committee."

This has been brought about, he said, "both directly by attacks on irreplacable personnel and indirectly by impairing the confidence of the nation and our foreign allies in our State Department and by instituting a reign of terror among our foreign service personnel.'

DENIES CHARGES

Lattimore said that "almost all the few men with outstanding experience and knowledge of China have already either been eliminated from the Department of State or are working in other parts of the world, in the hope of keeping them out of the line of fire of a bitterly partisan political fight and out of range of the venom of men who are determined to find evil where none exists."

He declared emphatically he does not believe that "the catastrophe" of China's fall to the Communists "was brought about by the treachery or incompetence of those entrusted with our foreign policy."

As for the testimony about him personally, Lattimore said "all kinds of attempts have been made to depict me as a Communist or a Soviet agent."

"I am not and have never been a Communist, a Soviet agent, a sympathizer or any other kind of promoter of Communism or Communist interests," Lattimore said.

'ACCUSERS NOT TESTED'

He said a "shocking" part of the subcommittee's proceedings has been that "not one of the witnesses against me has ever been asked in examination or cross-examination a question that would test his motives or his reliability."

Lattimore added that "most shocking in this respect has been the suppression or at least the bland ignoring of evidence already of record" in the 1950 investigation of McCarthys charges conducted by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee.

Disaster Loans At $51,305 In Drouth-Hit Scurry County

Thirty - four disaster loans totalling $51,305 have been made in Scurry and Fisher Counties to farmers hardest hit by the prolonged drouth, according to B. C. Drinkard, Farmers Home Administration chief here.

Drinkard said that some 60 farmers have made application for the loans to provide tractor fuel, machinery repair, poultry feed, living expense, and various other expenses required to put the drouth-stricken farmer back on his feet.

Loans already made range from a low of $400 to a high of $8,000, and repayment is due when crops are harvested next fall, Drinkard said.

Drinkard said Scurry is one of 89 counties in Texas designated as disaster areas where farmers may secure the loans.

L. J. Cappleman, state FHA director, reported recently that only one-fifth of the counties in Texas reported adequate moisture and cover conditions. He said that tight credit conditions in drouth-stricken areas prompted designation of the many counties as disaster areas.

Drinkard said that farmers who suffered production losses on crops and livestock may apply for funds to pay for seed, fertilizer and materials for insect control where needed, gas and oil for tractors, feed for livestock, essential farm and home operating expenses, repairs to machinery, and other expenses necessary for crop production.

Family - type farmers who cannot obtain from local sources the funds needed to plant his year' crop may apply at his office in the basement of the county courthouse.

Jr. Livestock Group Meets

Board members of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Association met today to discuss the finding of buyers for the stock to be shown in the association's livestock show on March 7 and 8.

Nolan von Roeder, head of the board, said members are asking several firms in Snyder to bid on the animals shown by the juniors.

Von Roeder said trophies have been provided to award to first place winners in each division. The boys will show calves, sheep, and hogs raised as club projects. Stanley Anderson of the animal husbandy department at Texas Tech, Lubbock, will serve as judge.

Board members said they now have a list of about 270 members in the association.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. K. J. Blalock, 21, 511 Sixteenth Street, was admitted to the Snyder Hospital yesterday with a back injury, suffered in an automobile accident. Her condition was listed as good this morning. Other patients admitted were Freddie Mason, 20, Snyder who strained his back last night; Arthur Kelly, Snyder, medical; Miss Winnie Garner, 2711 Avenue D, medical; Mrs. Charlie Richter, Hermleigh, who underwent minor surgery this morning; and Amos Gordon, Snyder, medical. Dismissed yesterday was Garrett Harrell, 1312 Twenty-eighth Street, medical; Mrs. J. G. Putnam, Snyder, medical; Mrs. O. K. Clark, Snyder, maternity; Tommy Joe Christian, Snyder, medical; and C. L. Massey, Clovis, N. M., medical.

Insurance Co. Takes Over In Oil Property

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States has taken over management of Glenn McCarthy's McCarthy Oil and Gas Corp.

Equitable, third largest insurance enterprise in the U. S., says the action was taken last year to protect privately negotiated loans.

The Equitable move was disclosed yesterday in its 92nd annual report, issued by President Thomas I. Parkinson.

No mention was made of the sums involved in the McCarthy loans. However, the New York Times said today McCarthy owes Equitable $34,100,000.

McCarthy's loans, Equitable reported, have not been in default as to interest; but the society said it "has been obliged to defer amortization payments due during the past couple of years."

Equitable said in 1951 it "protected its security by taking over the management of McCarthy Oil and Gas (Corp.). Equitable added:

"The company is now headed by the society's legal investment counsel, Warner H. Mendel, and it is expected, through the operation of the property, to secure ultimately principal and interest due.'

First liens are held by Equitable against McCarthy Oil and Gas properties and against McCarthy's Shamrock Hotel in Houston, and "much valuable land in its vicinity,' Equitable said.

Flu Cases Drop Here Slightly Last Week

Although the number of influenza cases dropped slightly last week, the toll still ran high as the city - county health unit reported 22 cases for the week ending last Saturday.

That brought the total flu cases for the year to 261, while February's total moved up to 164.

Three cases of pneumonia were reported, as were two of dysentary (amoebic), and two of mumps.

Dallas Attorney Says He Has Uncovered Big Abortion Ring In City

DALLAS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Pete White said yesterday his office had information that a large abortion ring has been operating here with patients from at least 13 states.

White made the statement after four persons, including an osteopathic physician and his chief nurse, were charged with abortion by the use of drugs.

Detective Capt. George Lumpkin, who directed the arrests, indicated other arrests would follow:

"We have only just begun on this case," he said.

Those charged were Dr. Winton L. Welsh, 35, osteophathic physician; Arthur Ray Smith, 41, a grocer who is licensed as a chiropractor in Illinois; Mrs. Evelyn Savage, 32, Dr. Welsh's head nurse; and Mrs. Minnie Gass, 49.

They were charged in Justice of the Peace Glenn Byrd's court.

An elderly rooming house operator was released after questioning.

Dr. Welsh and Mrs. Savage were released on writs of habeas corpus.

Man Sentenced Here On Forged Check Charges

Jessie Leonard, 27, was sentenced to three five - year prison terms by Judge Ben F. Thorpe in district court Saturday.

He was convicted in district court on three charges of passing forged checks on Nov. 10 and 11. The checks were given to Midway Grocery, Overton Grocery, and Dunlap's Department Store.

The checks were written on Snyder Pipe & Supply Co.

Two other persons, a man and a woman, are being held in county jail here in connection with passing of the checks.

Bridge Stuck In Pekin

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—A 75-foot span of the Pekin highway bridge was stuck 100 feet above the Illinois River today, forcing the re-routing of traffic into this Central Illinois community of 20,0000.

State highway engineers said a gear shaft and collar of the bridge was broken. The span would be stuck at least a week, the engineers said.

Clubs Plan To Buy Respirator For Public Use

Representatives of three clubs in Snyder will meet this week to discuss the launching of a drive to complete a $1,255 fund for a portable respirator for community use.

The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Shrine Club will begin the drive to add to about $400 now on hand in the fund.

The respirator was brought to Snyder yesterday by Murel Moddrell, a representative of the Sanberg Hospital Equipment Co. of Dallas, who gave demonstrations on its use to a group of school children yesterday and to the public last night.

Moddrell said the new type respirator is designed to replace the tank iron lung. With this type respirator, he said, patients have more freedom. It is portable, with a battery unit capable of lasting six hours without recharging. Weighing about 110 pounds, it can be carried by hand for use at various places.

The main feature of the respirator, according to Moddrell, is that it is built for dual operation. It can be used for two patients at one time.

Chest shells, which are placed on the patients to aid lung operation, are in six different sizes.

This type respirator will serve just as efficiently as the tank lung, Moddrell said, citing the example of one woman in Denver who has lived four years in the same type respirator.

Seaton Barnes of the Shrine Club said that instruction will be given to police, highway patrolmen, firemen, funeral home employes, and a few members of the veterans' clubs on how to use the equipment.

Railroad Commission Announces New Rules

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission yesterday announced field rules for the TXL Silurian Field, Ector County.

Spacing was set at 1,300 feet between wells and 650 feet from wells to property lines. Other rules included a gas-oil ratio of 2,000 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil acreage and 25 per cent on number of wells.

TEXAS BRANDS

7D

By JOHN M. HENDRIX

Another of the cattle companies established by Eastern capital was the Western Union Beef Company, their land lying along the river from the site of Old Fort Lancaster to the head of Howard Canyon and their headquarters being at Fort Stockton. Mr. N. T. Wilson, presumably an Easterner, was general manager. They maintained a horse camp on the east side of the Pecos River on the site of the present headquarters of the Ben B. Ingram ranch, which was called the 7D camp and ran the 7D brand.

The 7D is persumed, from records available, to have begun operations shortly after 1883; the date of its closing out is not available in the sources being used.

Air Pollution Is Bothering Others Besides West Texans

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—How to clean up the air is the problem. It's being tackled here today by some 250 industrialists and scientists.

And if they come up with an answer it will be a godsend to innumerable housewives who are slaves of the dustcloth and the cleaning rag—and to innumerable sufferers from respiratory infections, which includes almost everyone some time or other.

The Manufacturing Chemists Association is tackling the problem at the moment. But almost everyone who starts a fire, in or out of business, or who stirs up the dry soil in the more open spaces, is involved in a way. The chemists report steady progress is being made, with industry spending millions of dollars to abate pollution.

The problem has two facets: the responsibility of industry to halt or abate the pollution of the community's air, and the need of industry to protect the health of those working in its mills and factories.

The public sits in on it, too, both as a sufferer from pollution and also as the one who ultimately pays for the equipment used to prevent industrial air pollution—since equipment cost affects the price of goods to the consumer.

Modern ways of takling air pollution are pointed out by Dr. Hamnett P. Munger of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio. He tells the chemists' conference today about them as they apply not only to industrial plants but to railroads, public buildings, incinerators and commercial boiler plants.

Three principal types of air contamination are heavy dirt, fine particles and noxious gases. At Battelle, Dr. Munger says, they've just developed a "directional dirt-fall collector' that not only tells how much dirt falls but from which direction it comes.

"The newer techniques make possible the study of the concentration of air contaminants at various altitudes as well as at ground level,' Dr. Munger says. "Farsighted company officials can study metereological conditions above a new plant site before the shovel starts excavating for the building foundations.'

Woman Injured Here In Automobile Wreck

Mrs. K. J. Blalock, 21, of 511 Sixteenth Street, was injured in a two - way automobile accident at Sixteenth Street and Avenue G yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Blalock's injuries are a cracked pelvis and several bruises, Snyder Hospital attendants said.

The injured woman was in a pickup traveling east on Sixteenth Street when it was in collision with a car entering the intersection on Avenue G. The second car was driven by Mike Melendez, 43, who gave his address as Snyder, general delivery. Police investigated.

Oil Well Servicing Truck Damaged By Fire

An oil field servicing truck was damaged by fire about 10 o'clock this morning.

The truck belonged to Brooks & Turner Oil Well Servicing Co. and had an auxiliary motor mounted behind a fuel tank on the truck bed.

Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, quoted the truck driver as saying the fire started from a leaky gasoline line on the auxiliary motor.

The fire occurred at the Pan American Production Co. Effie Ramsey Lease well No. 3, about two miles south of Union.

Much of the paint was burned off the truck and deisel tank, but the fuel in the tank did not catch fire. Damage was estimated at about $150.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hopper, 1508 Twenty-seventh Street, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Elrod of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Z. Brown and daughters. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Elrod and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bowen and family.

Children Are Warned Not To Fly Their Kites Near Electric Lines

Children may endanger their lives by flying kites near electric lines, J. E. Blakey, manager for Texas Electric Service Co., warned today.

Five safety rules which should be observed include avoiding the use of wire or metallic cord for kite strings or metal of any type for kite frames. Kites which become entangled in electric poles or wires should be left alone, Blakey added. No kite flying should be permitted on rainy days, since even cotton cord can become an electricty conductor when damp.

"We had a perfect safety record last year," Blakey said, "and we appreciate the cooperation.

TODAY'S WOMAN

Decorating Where Women In U. S. Miss Farthest

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Staff

Dorothy Draper, applecart-upsetter of the decorating world, says American women, known as the world's best - dressed, produce some of the world's worst-dressed homes.

She holds that most of the mysterious aura surrounding the science of interior decorating is so much hokum, and insists that anybody can do it.

Mrs. Draper is living proof of her theory. Though she has been responsible for changing the whole current concept of decorating, she admits lightly she never studied the stuff at all, knows nothing of period furniture and "really never went to school.'

A brief skirmish with a young ladies' finishing school constituted most of the formal education of this light-hearted tycoon, who now turns out whole housing projects, luxury hotels, modern apartment buildings and private homes in gay, unorthodox colors and functional furnishings.

Mrs. Draper, who gives off enough energy to run an atom-busting machine, say dressing and decorating are two halves of the same apple. She explains:

"Thanks to our fashion magazines, the average 16-year-old girl nowadays is a wizard at planning her own clothes.

"But when this same girl gets married and starts buying furniture, rugs and draperies for her new home, she often goes haywire. She starts out with no definite plan in mind, buys a bed here, a chair there and a lamp someplace else, puts them all together and then wonders why nothing looks right."

Mrs. Draper has some practical advice for the woman starting out to decorate a home or an apartment.

"First she should go out and buy some big brown envelopes—one for each room she's going to furnish. In each envelope goes all the data she has gathered up on the kind of effect she wants—color scheme, fabric swatches and so on.

"Then she should buy a six-foot rule, a supply of soft pencils and some big sheets of paper, which she marks into one-foot squares. On each sheet of paper she locates the necessary items of furniture, and with crayons she blobs in the colors.

"Next she lists the things she must buy. For the living room she will need one divan, two end tables, two lamps, two arm chairs, a coffee table, a rug and pictures for the walls.

"She shouldn't try to conomize too much on the main pieces of furniture. She shouldn't buy anything that later she will want to throw away. It's better to splurge on handsome lamps, for instance, and save on such things as the end tables.

"Her color scheme can be one of three things: (a) sharp contrasts, such as white walls, a red carpet and black accents, for instance; (b) all one color, such as walls, rugs, drapes and furniture (all the same tone of light blue) (c) blended tones of various colors. This is the thing most women try to do, and is by far the most difficult.'

The amateur decorator can't go wrong, however, says Mrs. Draper, if she takes the suggestions of the manufactures of rugs, drapes and such, on coordinated colors, textures and fabrics. These companies are hiring top designers to work out complete room plans that are almost fool-proof.

Mrs. Draper, who believes that everybody needs some color in his life, does everything on a big scale, hates dinky things, doesn't care how many periods are combined, just so they are in scale—'and look right.'

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY SUE HOLMES

One of the newest and brightest colors appearing on the market is "Paint the Town Pink," described as nothing pale or pantywaist. It is a different from a prissy, sissy pink as a carriage from a Cadillac, its makers say. Touch off a brunette with a new "Paint the Town Pink" and find utterly flattering contrast. Decorate a golden blonde with this new lip-and-fingertip radiance and discover how it brings out the fragile skin quality. Underline the flame of a red - head with new sweet-and-hot pink make-up—suddenly she looks delicious as strawberry ice cream on fire! Favorite colors to wear it with are sky blue, grapefruit yellow, ripe wheat, mint frappe, teal blue, fog gray or salt white. That's what the company says, anyway, and we're inclined to want to try it.

Liquor Control Act Is Being Fought In Court

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 26 (AP)—An effort to have a portion of the Texas Liquor Control Act declared invalid has been set for April 21 in 126th District Court in Travis County (Austin).

The lawsuit is styled Joe Neel Jr. vs the Texas Liquor Control Board.

The litigation involves a section of the Texas Liquor Control Act requiring retail liquor dealers to pay for all liquor purchased in cash or on terms requiring payment within ten days after close of each semi-monthly accounting period.

Retail dealers failing to pay for purchases in this manner are prohibited from making more purchases during a specified period.

Neel said outcome of the case would affect all retail liquor dealers in the state.

METHOD: Cut maraschino cherries into small pieces with scissors or sharp knife into bowl. Stir in pineapple, lemon rind, lemon and pineapple juice, sugar, and salt. Roll pastry on lightly floured pastry cloth or board. Line 6 muffin pans with rolled pastry; trim and flute edges. Spoon fruit mixture into each. Bake in hot (425F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes.

ROBBED ONCE TOO OFTEN

Robert H. Bondurant (center) aroused the ire of Middleton, Tenn., citizens when he robbed a bank which already had been robbed three times. He and a hostage were wounded by mass fire by angered citizens as he tried to flee. Here he is held by two unidentified men just after he was subdued by a third wound. Homer Hurley, an amateur photographer who happened to have his camera in his car when he heard the shooting, made this picture.

New Liability Law Is Tested

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 26 (AP)—One of the first suits filed under the new drivers responsibility law has appeared here.

Truck Driver Charles Morgan Ramay filed the suit against the Texas Department of Public Safety and J. B. Alderdice, chief of the agency's safety responsibility branch.

Ramay asked the court to enjoin the state department from suspending his driver's license. Cancellation of the license was ordered effective March 12, 1952, in connection with a minor traffic accident near Wichita Falls, Jan. 1.

Ramay contends he was found innocent in a Wichita Falls corporation court of driving on the wrong side of the road. He maintains that although he was found guilty of speeding, he was not violating any speed law.

The new law requires that each motorist involved in a traffic accident be able to show that he could settle a public liability claim up to $15,000, subject to court judgement.

The act carries a provision for suspension of a driver's license to operate a vehicle.

Mrs. H. C. Denson, 1104 Twentieth Street, visited her parents in Ralls Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley White, 2301 Avenue I, entered a Big Spring hospital yesterday morning.

If Russell Runs He May Split South's Vote With Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP)—A home-state demand may shove Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia into the Democratic presidential race this week.

Russell declined to comment on the action of the Georgia Democratic executive Committee in asking him to become an active candidate.

But friends believe the Georgia senator, who headed the South's unsuccessful rebellion in the 1948 Democratic National Convention, hardly can refuse to permit a state committee made up largely of his political friends to enter him in the race.

Any such entry in Georgia would be likely to galvanise Southern opponents of President Truman and his civil rights program into an effort to swing other state delegations behind Russell.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, among others, already have called on Russell to seek the nomination, and Sen. Byrd (D-Va) has pledged his support.

Russell got 263 votes from 11 states in the 1948 convention, when President Truman won the nomination on the first ballot with 947 votes. Russell did not join in the States Rights movement, which took 39 electoral votes away from Truman in November.

The Georgia senator has been reluctant to head another convention battle.

Some Dixie Democrats apparently have begun to fear that Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) may make inroads and split the South's vote with his active campaigning for the party nomination.

Kefauver isn't the choice of such staunch opponents of the civil rights program as Byrnes, Shivers, Byrd and Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia.

The Tennessee senator has said he is opposed to a compulsory fair employment practices commission (FEPC) law, but would support any platform the Democratic convention adopts. The convention is almost certain to approve a demand for a strong FEPC law.

Kefauver, who has said he is in the race "until the finish" whether Truman runs or not, is expected to pick up Tennessee's 28 convention votes.

Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida is reported to have helped Kefauver pick a slate which will contest for Florida's 24 votes.

Nine Floridians qualified yesterday as candidates for state delegates instructed to vote for Russell at the convention, they were the first to qualify in Florida as instructed delegates. The 24 convention delegates will be chosen at a primary in May. They will be morally but not legally bound to vote for the winner of a preferential primary election

Another Surprise May Be Sprung On Reds In Trial At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The government is ready to spring a third surprise witness on the 15 California Communists charged with conspiracy. Their trial goes into its 15th day today.

U. S. Atty. Walter S. Binns indicated he might produce another FBI undercover man to give a picture of the inner workings of the Communist party in this state.

The prosecution is seeking to prove that the defendants conspired to teach and adocate violent overthrow of the government.

It has taken 14 court days to question and cross-question the first two witnesses.

Strange Clerks Can Be Robbers Sometimes

NEW YORK (AP)—A strange clerk greeted a woman customer last night when she entered a drug store to buy cigarettes.

Unsure of the price, he inquired of the owner, who was tied up at the moment in a back room. The clerk served her and she left.

Then he pocketed the money and left with an armed companion, adding the price of a pack of cigarettes to their $500 robbery.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Valor Of Women Is Greater Than Men's In Small Things

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Civilization would go to pot except for the bravery of women in small situations.

The improvement of a culture depends upon things being done better and better, and it is women who generally insist that they be done better. For this their reward is often blame instead of the praise they deserve.

Neither sex has a monopoly on courage. But they have different kinds.

Man is a sucker for applause. He likes to do the big deed at the big moment with the spotlight centered on him and a band softly playing "Onward Christian Soldier." He wants the hero in him, when it does come out under great stress, to be fully recognized. He yearns for the outspoken appreciation of the herd, and he feels hurt and angry if he doesn't get it.

LONELY COURAGE

But women have the courage to meet the lonely moment, the anonymous valor to cope with the long boredom of such chores as housekeeping, and the firm bravery to fight for her small rights in the face of the public frown.

A man's heroism is usually shown in the midst of noise and bloody battle and memorialized by phrases as "Don't Give Up the Ship, Boys," "Damn the Torpedoes — Full speed Ahead," or "You May Fire When Ready, Gridley."

But for a woman, there are no cheers when she makes up her mind to marry a man nobody would bet on in a horse race, or goes through the valley of agony alone to give birth to a little dolt she knows may grow up and break her valiant heart.

YELLOW STREAK

It takes courage to make these great gambles, but women have still another kind of courage that takes even more character. That is the courage to fight against the inertia of the slovenly, to see that things be done properly, that she gets value received in the small dealings between people that take up most of our lives.

A man may boldly cry "Don't Give Up the Ship, Boys" yet lack the downright guts it takes to tell a waiter, "this veal is undercooked. Take it back." He is a coward when it comes to what he calls "making a scene." No matter what he feels his rights are in small matters, he has a great big yellow streak about demanding them.

Defense Given In Angelo Case

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 26 (AP)—The murder trial of Diego L. Carlino was to continue today after a witness testified yesterday he heard two shots and saw a black sedan leave the place where Vincent Valone was slain.

Woodrow Wilson Bloodworth, who was fined $500 last week for failure to appear in court, said he saw the car and heard the shots the night of July 15, 1949. That was the night Vincent Vallone Sr. was killed in gangland style.

Carlino, charged in the death, has contended that an oral statement he made was given after police beat him and threatened his relatives.

Bloodworth was flown to San Angelo from California last week after he was located there by FBI.

Two Houston Post newspapermen were defense witnesses yesterday. C. W. Skipper, Post police reporter, testified he was with Percy Foreman when the lawyer visited Carline in the county jail.

Irving Stafford, El Campo, the Post's Texas City correspondent at the time, testified he attempted to reach Carlino at jails in Texas City, Galveston, Baytown, Alvin, Angleton, and Liberty.

The state rested its case yesterday after Sheriff C. V. (Buster) Kern of Houston and Pete Reno, called to the stand.

California Taking Precautions To Keep Out Pink Bollworms

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26 (AP)—A lowly insect — the pink bollworm —could end the reign of king cotton in California.

It already has forced some areas to abandon cotton as a commercial crop — Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Cuba, to name a few.

Not a single live pink bollworm so far has been found in California but — it is the most serious insect threat to the state's top money making crop.

Such was the conclusion reached by Gordon L. Smith, assistant entomologist at the University of California College of Agriculture. He made a study of the insect and his report appears in the February issue of California Agriculture, university publication.

Importance of cotton to California and the nation is pointed up by its return of more than $400,000,000 last year to cotton growers. The yield of about 1,800,000 bales is expected to rank California as the nation's second cotton state, next to Texas, when 1951 returns are complete.

TRANSMITTED BY SEED

So, when you are stopped at a state border agricultural inspection station on your next motor trip, don't let it irk you too much. Inspectors are looking for the pink bollworm, or cottonseed, among other things, in the never ending fight to keep the pest out of the state.

The insect has been introduced into new areas in most instances, Smith said, by the transportation of seed. He gave numerous instances, as India to Hawaii about 1909, India to the Philippines about 1906-1907 and Hawaii to the West Indies in 1911.

One or more dead pink bollworms were found in the state last fall in mechanical cotton pickers brought from states which have had some infestation. No live ones, however, have been discovered.

The pink bollworm thrives in arid sections. It has infested cotton in Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Larvae in the seeds and bolls buried in the soil may live in a quiescent state from six to 30 months before changing form and emerging. Destruction of the long-cycle larvae, therefore, is of major importance in a control program, Smith asserted. The larvae will not survive if buried 12 inches in the soil.

The worm develops into a creamish brown moth. These moths have been collected in air currents 3,000 feet above the earth. It is believed winds have carried them as much as 60 miles.

DDT PROVES HELP

Eggs laid by the moths hatch in five days and the worms enter the bolls or unripe pods of cotton immediately. Unlike the corn earworm or cotton bollworm which move about, the pink bollworm remains in the boll to maturity. It does not come in contact with insecticides once it has entered the boll and thus cannot be eradicated by chemicals.

The entomologist's report said, however, that DDT has been found to be the most satisfactory insecticide in control work. It must be applied every week to keep down the insect population because of the rapid hatching of the eggs.

Frequent and heavy applications of DDT year after year, the report said, would prove more costly than eradication by noncotton zones, cultural control and other quarantine measures.

Millions of dollars have gone into eradication work in recent years. From 1917 to 1951 the Federal government spent 21½ million dollars. States spent an additional 2¼ million dollars and farmers, ginners, oil mills and others spent millions more.

Electricity Is Fish Director

SEATLE (AP)—All the little fish in the small white tank jump like they were kicked in the tail when Chuck Volz presses a button that squirts a jolt of "square wave" electricity through the water.

And they all go in the same direction—away from the negative and toward the positive connections.

This should prove something to the scientists of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and it does. It proves positively fascinating. Little else until they get the equipment ready for tests on the rivers and dams of the Pacific North west.

If practical, the use of controlled electrical impulses to guide fish could be of inestimable value in the job of preserving the region's salmon run.

High spillways and turbine tunnels which take a toll of ocean-bound young salmon (estimated as high as 70 per cent in the Columbia River system) could be electrically screened off. Escapement ladders could be electrified to direct the fish to a safe route around the dams—if it works.

But Dr. Gerald B. Collins, research biologist in charge of the experiment, discounts the claim that fish can be "magnetized" with square wave electricity.

The use of electricity in fish screens or to stun or kill fish is not new, says Dr. Collins. The machine, however, "promises to provide control we have never had before," he adds. "With it we were able to control the direction and amount of current and the frequency and duration of pulses.

"The question is: Will it perform in rivers where we have to contend with such things as greater water areas, larger numbers of fish and the rate of water flow?"

Fashion Designer Is Cleared Of Stealng

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Yolanda R. Elliott, red-haired Hollywood fashion designer, burst into tears after being acquitted on a charge of stealing a $2,250 stone marten stole from actress Anne Sterling's apartment.

But she was quickly cheered by actress Jane russell, who rushed up after the jury's verdict was read yesterday and embraced Mrs. Elliott.

"We won,' said Mrs. Elliott. "We did," the actress exclaimed.

Miss Russell, who testified earlier as a character witness for her friend, said she had come to court to "clear the record."

Mrs. Elliott testified during the trial she paid for the fur piece.

Ex-Governor Gets Off Drunk Drving Chrage

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP) — Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama has been cleared of a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The 6-foot-3 insurance man wept when Judge G. O. Boner acquitted him yesterday after a non-jury trial in County Court. His pretty brunette wife broke into a wide smile.

Folsom was arrested Feb. 8 by State Highway Patrolman L. E. Neumann, who testified that the ex-governor's car was weaving from one side of the road to the other, and that he admitted drinking whiskey and beer.

Folsom didn't testify, but defense witnesses said he did not appear intoxicated shortly before and after his arrest.

Illinois Moves Up, But Kentucky Holds

NEW YORK (AP) — The national champion Kentucky Wildcats kept a firm hold on first place in the Associated Press weekly basketball standings today, but if they looked over their shoulder they'd recognize a new pursuer.

Illinois which just about clinched the Big Ten title by upending Iowa, 78 - 62, Saturday, leaped from fifth to the runner-up spot in the latest ratings by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Kansas State and Duquesne, who had enjoyed the honor of breathing down the Wildcats' necks, actually lost little prestige, however, from their upset defeats over the weekend.

The Kansas Staters, surprised by Colorado, 67-57, fell only a notch, from second to third and at the same time shoved Duquesne, its 18-game winning streak broken by Villanova, from third to fourth.

Kentucky picked up 51 of the 133 first-place votes cast and scored a total of 953 points on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second and on down the line.

Actually, there was a remarkably mild shakeup in the top 10 considering the wave of upsets that swept through college basketball ranks the last few days.

St. Louis, with a 20-5 record and an eye on both the NCAA and National Invitation championships, moved from ninth to fifth place and Iowa dropped from fourth to seventh. West Virginia, winner of 21 of its 23 games, wrenched the No. 10 spot from St. Bonaventure, a 65-63 victim of Canisius.

Otherwise, the changes weren't anything to get excited about. Washington, for example, held the sixth position despite a 55-45 loss to Wyoming.

Kansas and St. John's each fell a rung for no apparent reason occupying eighth and ninth in the newest rundown.

Four of the first 10 saw action last night and three came through with victories. St. John's lost to 17th-ranked Holy Cross, 75 - 70, while Iowa whipped Michigan State, 64-52, Kansas downed Missouri, 65-54, and Duquesne turned back Akron, 69-51.

Rookies Look Good At Camps

NEW YORK (AP)—Spring training officially doesn't begin until Saturday but already glowing reports are being received about future Dizzy Deans and Ty Cobbs.

From Vero Beach, Fla., camp site of the Brooklyn Dodgers, the brain trust is singing the praises of rookie pitchers Joe Black and John Rutherford.

Black, a powerfully built Negro righthander, toiled for St. Paul and Montreal last year without exciting the customers but he burned up the Cuban winter league. Rutherford, a little guy, has excellent control and a sneaky fast ball.

Recently at Bradenton, Fla., Boston Braves Manager Tommy Holmes was extolling the virtues of a new double-play combination of shortstop Jack Cusick and second baseman Billy Reed.

"They look very good. They have so much rhythm in their fielding and their double-play work is so smooth that you'd think they have played together several seasons," Holmes said.

Cusick spent most of 1951 on the Chicago Cub bench while Reed played a bang-up game for Milwaukee of the American Association.

New York Yankee officials are drooling over a car load of rookies at their Lake Wales, Fla., boot camp. The top favorite at the moment appears to be pitcher Jim Russel, however, is on leave from the ROTC at USC and has to return to college.

Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox is highly impressed with pitcher Terry Loy, $35,000 bonus freshman from the University of California.

"He's not far from major league ability right now," said Richards at El Centro, Calif., yesterday.

British Made Cycles Winning Datona Races

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—Dick Klamforth, a Groveport, O., farm boy, and British-made motorcycles are becoming perennial champions in the 200-mile Handlebar Derby here.

Klamforth, riding a Norton, scored his third victory in the past four years in the event yesterday. He is the first ever to win it three times.

Less experienced racers take the track today for the 100-mile amateur event.

Klamforth's winning average of 87.77 miles an hour was considerably slower than the record 92.81 he set last year. Klamforth also had won in 1949.

C. A. Farwell, Puyallup, Wash., riding a Norton, was 16 seconds back of Klamforth in second place. He barely nosed out Jim Phillipe, South Pasadena, Calif., who rode a Triumph.

Snyder Beats Winters 42-36 In Fun Game

The Snyder Tigers sailed to victory last night in a practice game in Rose Field House, Abilene, defeating Winters, District 9-AA champ, 42-36.

The squad tallied the win behind the pace of Forward Joe Cargile, who bucketed a high 19 points during the game.

High pointer for Winters was 6 foot, 5 inch Billy Buchanan, who made 14.

Last week, Winters registered a close 35-34 win over Coleman for its district title. The squad will journey to North Texas State College at Denton this week to enter the Region II tourney.

The Tigers will compete with seven other champs in Region I at Lubbock this week, meeting Levelland in the initial tilt at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at Texas Tech. Other district champs participating are Kermit, Tahoka, Quanah, Childress, Canyon, and Phillips.

Climax Today At Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Merrymakers crammed this city of fun and frolic today for a final dose of that carefree madness that is Mardi Gras.

The carnival season reaches its climax today and tonight. It began Jan. 7 and blossomed into full swing Feb. 17 with its first street parade.

Until the stroke of midnight, revelry rules this gay city of the Bayou country. Although midnight officially ends the holiday, many fun-loving visitors and natives alike will continue their hi-jinks into the wee hours Wednesday.

The weatherman promised to keep the skies free of rain for the grand finale, but warned it would be cold, cloudy and windy.

Rex, the monarch of Mardi Gras and the lord of Misrule, topped the list of street entertainment with his extravaganza. But rivaling the parade of the king and queen were the antics of the cavorting Zulu Warriors. The Zulus, a Negro society, are annual favorites with the tens of thousands of howling, jostling observers. Where other parading krewes (clubs) toss candy, gum and small trinkets to the spectators, the Zulus heave heavy coconuts.

The final parade of the season is the torch - lit procession of Comus, God of Mirth, tonight.

Mardi Gras—Fat Tuesday—is the last day before the start of the 40 days of Lent and fasting, and New Orleans always makes the most of it.

Masking is permitted from dawn to dusk and costumes of all types sprinkle the throng which overflows the sidewalks and makes nervous wrecks of motorists.

Louisiana Congressman Blast Wastes In Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hebert (D-La) charges that a "gigantic" and colossal propaganda machine of the armed forces has turned on "all the faucets" in an attempt to explain away his committees "expose of waste in the military."

He called on the Defense Department yesterday to turn over to the House Armed Services Committee "the name and salary paid each civilian press agent, ghost writer and public relations expert and for whom and under whose direction the individual works.

TCU Picks Up Cage Crown In SW Conference

By The Associated Press

Texas Christian University won the Southwest Conference basketball championship last night with a 68-56 victory over Arkansas that was double sweet.

The Razorbacks, in-and-outers during most of the cage season, had been the only conference member able to defeat the Horned Frogs. The victory was the Christian's tenth league victory against one loss and their 20th triumph in 23 starts.

In another game that didn't mean a thing as far as the championship was concerned, Baylor's bears—tail-enders for most of the cage season—trimmed the Southern Methodist Mustangs, 62-45.

The TCU clincher for the championship marked the first time that any Southwest Conference school ever won undisputed titles to both football and basketball in the same season. It was TCU's first undisputed cage crown since 1934, although the Frogs with Texas A&M and Texas were defending trichamps this season.

The league title puts the potent Horned Frogs into the Kansas City regional tournament of the NCAA playoffs next month. They'll meet the Big Seven Conference champ in their first game. The Horned Frogs have lost only to Manhattan College of New York, Oklahoma City University and the Razorbacks this season.

It was a big night in Fort Worth for TCU. Not only did they clinch the SWC crown, but they saw Horned Frog Captain George McLeod, 6-7 center, score 31 points in one of his best performances.

McLeod racked up 13 field goals and five free throws to run his season point total to the 401 mark and take a 27-point lead in the league individual scoring race with a 195 total.

The Razorbacks were barely in the game after the first seven minutes when TCU took the lead and kept it going away. Gene Lambert tallied 17 points to pace the Hogs in their defeat.

Baylor was behind SMU only twice in the game at Waco. They used the victory to climb within a half-game of the third-place Mustangs after spending a good part of the season in the conference cellar.

Torrid shooting by Moon Mullins and Ralph Johnson kept the Bruins out in front.

Tonight, Texas A&M entertains the Oklahoma City University quint at College Station while the Rice Owls play the University of Texas Longhorns in Austin.

Three games will end the conference season after tonight's tussles. They are set Saturday with Texas A&M vs Rice at Houston, Arkansas vs Texas at Fayetteville, and SMU vs TCU at Dallas.

Russians Invited To Come Before Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Russia has been invited to give Congress its views on the 1939 Katyn Forest massacre, in which 11,000 Polish officers were slain.

Previous witnesses have blamed the Russians. The Soviets have publicly accused Germany's Nazis.

Rep. Madden (D-Ind) said the State Department delivered the invitation to the Soviet Embassy yesterday afternoon with a request for a reply by May 1.

Top Bracket Tied In City Loop As C&S Drops Down On Sunray

Members of the C & S Sporting Goods cage squad battled to a tie for top position in the Snyder basketbal league last night as they scored a 54 - 43 win over Sunray.

Still undefeated in play, the C & S squad now ties the Chuck Wagon for first place with three wins.

Play was close during the first two periods of the game, with C & S leading 10 - 9 at the end of the first quarter. Sunray held the lead for a short time during the second stanza, but C & S finally moved ahead to a 26 - 18 halftime score and was leading 40 - 27 as the final quarter began.

Bill Voss sacked 18 points for C & S, while Robert Minton followed closely with 13. H. G. Bishop tallied 13 for the losers.

In the opener, D & H Food moved to a tie with Wade Pipkin Motors for second place with its 31-24 win over Pan American. The D & H squad played to an easy victory, leading 11-2 the first quarter, 13 - 6 at the half, and 20-12 at the end of the third.

Clarence Minton, former member of the C & S squad, scored 10 points and was high pointer for D & H on his first night of play with the squad. C. E. Watson was high with 8 for Pan American.

The Pipkin squad will attempt to hold its place at 7:30 tonight in a meet with the Chuck Wagon five, as will D & H in a match with the Jaycees.

Good Balance Finishes United States In 2nd Place At Oslo

OSLO (AP)—A shift in skiing dominance from Sweden and Switzerland to Norway and Finland up the balance of power in the 1952 Winter Olympic Games and gave the host Norwegians a runaway victory.

When the sixth—and largest—winter carnival under Olympic auspices closed last night, Norway had scored 125½ points in the unofficial, but traditional, scoring table that allows 10 points for a first-place gold medal, five points for second and then 4-3-2-1 for other placings in the first six.

The United States' best balanced team in the history of the winter games, was a surprisingly strong second with 89½ points.

Four years ago at St. Moritz, less than 14 points separated top-of-the-table Sweden and the fourth place Americans. Sweden scored 79 points and was trailed by Switzerland with 71, Norway with 69½ and the United States with 65¼.

This time—leaving out hockey, which didn't count in the 1948 totals—Sweden managed only 25½ points and the Swiss 21.

The change from the deep, heavy snows of the Alps to the thinly covered icy slopes of the Norwegian mountains cost the Swedes and Swiss dearly.

And Norwegian determination to win their own games was not to be denied.

Finland took over third place here with 72 points after running sixth at St. Moritz with 40.

The United States improved in every department except bobsledding. American skiers scored 9½ more points than last time and produced their first winter Olympic double winner—Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence, 19-year-old daredevil from Rutland, Vt.

Ken Henry of Chicago won the 500-meter speed skating, the first victory the U. S. has scored under Olympic rules, which call for a race against time instead of the American massed start.

Dick Button of Englewood, N. J., was the only champion to repeat his 1948 victory. He easily outclassed the field in men's figure skating.

Little Boys Fighting In Golden Gloves Are Finished, On To Heavies

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP)—The big boys take over in the Golden Gloves tonight with a leaf to tear from the book of the little fellows who tossed heavy leather last night.

Of the 109 bouts in the preliminary flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight and lightweight activity, 37 failed to go the three-round route.

One defending champion is back in the four heavier classes which tonight get pruned for Wednesday night's quarter finals. He is heavyweight Ernest Fann of Cleveland.

The other 1951 title-holder, 126-pound champion Ken Davis, Marine fighter for Los Angeles, had a narrow squeak last night.

He won a lustily-booed decision in his first bout from Adell Dukes of Detroit. But then, Davis stopped Milton Hall of Muncie, Ind., in the second round.

Girls' Volleyball Team Will Play Thursday

Snyder High School volleyball girls will meet Big Spring fems in the Tiger gym Thursday in a return match after losing to that team in the first meeting last week.

Last Wednesday night the Big Spring squad downed Snyder's A team 54 - 18 to add to its two years of undefeated competition.

The Snyder B squad lost 40-28, and the freshmen lost 40 - 33.

Playing Sweetwater Friday night the A squad lost 40 - 20, while the Snyder B team swatted out a 52-50 victory.
