HOW GRAFTERS WERE TRAPPED

DETECTIVE BRENNAN TELLS HOW
DETROIT ALDERMAN SWAL-LOWED THE BAIT.

"HONEST TOM" GLINNAN

Accepted Roll of Bills As Bribe and
When Confronted By Burns Confessed.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—Testimony of W. J. Brennan, a detective, was the feature of the police court examination of "Honest Tom" Glinnan, the first of the eighteen Aldermen recently arrested on bribery charges to be tried. It was Brennan's evidence that resulted in the arrests of the Aldermen and Council Clerk Edwards Schreier. Today Brennan went into details of the trapping of the Aldermen up to the time he alleges that he, representing himself to be an official of the Wabash Railroad, paid Glinnan $1,000 for his influence in granting the railroad's request for the use of a city street for building purposes.

The cases against Aldermen Watson, Ellis, Zoeller, Merritt, Hindle and Skrzycki were today postponed until August 30. Alderman Thelen's case will come up next Friday. Disposition was reserved in the cases against Aldermen Broze, Rosenthal, Lynch, O'Brien and Koenig and the examinations of Aldermen Diemel, Mason, Ostrowski, Tossy and Walsh will follow that of Alderman Glinnan. Clerk Schreier also has been remanded for a week.

Brennan explained that his right name is Walter B. Burns, and that his home is in Boston. He told of coming to the city in April and taking offices as a representative of the real estate department of the Wabash Railroad. He also engaged an adjoining office and had "New England Historical Society" printed upon its door.

The detective then told of getting acquainted with Aldermen, of impressing upon them the urgent desire of the railroad for the improvement of the street and of the opposition to the proposal that was expressed by several councilmen. Finally, he testified, Glinnan came to his office and arrangements were made for closing the street.

"Glinnan told me at that time that he wanted to use me as a pipe line to St. Louis," said the detective. "He had wanted for years to get on the Wabash Railroad, he said, and thought he could serve the company by looking after its taxes and other matters in the city hall. He said he would want about $100 a month for his services."

"I interrupted to say," Alderman, this street closing case has been referred back to the committee and I guess there is some difficulty, isn't there?"

"Yes, but I guess we can adjust it," he replied.

"He then gave me a list of Aldermen. He said he would see them and pay them. I already had arranged to give him some money for the passage of the resolution on closing the street. The amount that we decided upon at the time was between $1,700 and $2,000."

The witness then went into details of further talks with Glinnan. At last he said all arrangements were complete for the payment of the bribe money. It had been planned for Alderman to go individually to Brennan's office and get their share. Glinnan was to go last and get what was left which Brennan had told him would be at least $1,000.

BALE TO THE ACRE FOR THIS FARMER

Young County Men Here to Employ
Pickers—Says Young County Will
Have Better Than 30,000
Bales.

A bale of cotton to the acre is practically a certainty in Young county, according to Joe Johnson, one of the well known farmers of that county. Mr. Johnson is in the city today trying to get pickers. He has eighty-five acres in cotton, all cultivated by himself and his young son and he claims eighty-five bales of the eighty-five acres, though some of his neighbors predict he will make more.

Young county will raise between 30,000 and 35,000 bales of cotton this year, according to estimates, and Mr. Johnson says the outlook was never better. He has two years' feed on hand and with eighty-five bales of cotton waiting to be picked, he considers himself almost on easy street; there are a number of others in Young county equally well off. Mr. Johnson's farm is twelve miles north of Graham.

PANHANDLE ODD FELLOWS MEET

SEVERAL HUNDRED REBEKAHS
AND ODD FELLOWS IN CITY
FOR ANNUAL MEETING.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR

Visiting Delegates Will Be Entertained
By Local Lodge and Citizens at Lake This Evening.

Several hundred Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from Lower Panhandle lodges are in the city to attend the district convention of I. O. O. F. which convened here this morning.

More than a score of towns are represented but the largest delegations registered this morning were from Memphis, Chillicothe, Harrold, Iowa Park. A large number of delegates are arriving on the afternoon trains and it is believed the attendance will be the largest in the history of the Association. The sessions will continue two days.

The opening session which was open to the public was held in the Wichita theatre at ten o'clock this morning. Mike Newman, an officer in the local lodge presided. Following a prayer by Rev. Walters, Mayor Bell delivered the address of welcome. He said he delivered the address as an official duty but that it was both an honor and a pleasure to extend a welcome to the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows. He said their presence here would leave an impress for a better moral sentiment and higher ideals.

G. W. Backus, of Vernon, president of the Association, in responding to the address of welcome paid a very high compliment to Wichita Falls and her citizens and to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs here. He was especially complimentary to the Rebekahs whom he said were as dauntless and fearless as they were captivating.

W. H. Walker of Dallas, Grand Secretary was the next speaker. He discussed the principles of the order and told of some of the good work it had done. He said the order was founded on the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man, limited to the Caucasian race because in that race were embodied a higher manhood and a purer and nobler womanhood. He said that this idea was the hub from which radiated every spoke in the wheel of American Odd Fellowship. He went back to the origin of the fraternity and told of its growth. He cited instances where the tenets of the order had been exercised in time of calamity and need. In concluding he said the order did not depend upon these great epochal examples for proof that it was living up to its purposes but rather to daily examples where the order sits today at the bedside of sickness, tomorrow smooths the pillow of death and cares for the widowed and orphaned.

Other speakers were Mrs. Mary Bennett of Memphis and Mrs. Dale Brown of Iowa Park. Adjournment was taken following a solo by Mrs. Rosa which was one of the most appreciated features of the session.

This afternoon the regular order of business was taken up at 2 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall.

Serious Shortage in Years.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Aug. 21.—Chairman Mayfield of the Texas railroad commission has issued an address to the shippers and consignees of Texas, in which he says that indications point to a more serious freight car shortage this fall than in previous years.

He declares that while the railroad companies ought to attempt to remedy this condition, yet aid should come from the shippers and consignees also. He asks shippers to load cars as rapidly as possible and as near to capacity as possible. He also asks that consignees unload cars immediately upon placing and notify railroad officials that cars are released.

SHERMAN SAYS WILSON IS ONLY A PEDAGOGUE

dent Accepts Re-nomination.
Pleads for Constitution.

By Associated Press.
Ulster, New York, Aug. 21.—Vice-president James S. Sherman in accepting the vice-presidential nomination of the Republican party before a great crowd here today, declared that Mr. Wilson is a pedagogue and not a statesman. He said:

"We near the end of President Taft's first term, with our government at amity with all foreign powers, amid domestic tranquility and with our people blessed by prosperity. Confident that the American people are not willing to destroy and discard the constitution which has stood the test of more than a century, that they have not yet forgotten the direful result of the mistake of 1892, we calmly await the issue of November."

FAILED TO PASS OVER TAFT'S VETO

APPROPRIATIONS BILL REPASSED IN HOUSE BUT FAILS IN THE SENATE.

SALARIES HELD UP

President By Veto Stopped Own Salary and That of Many Other Federal Employees.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—President Taft again today vetoed the legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill because the bill carries an amendment abolishing the commerce court, which the House and the Senate insisted upon including in the re-framed measure.

The provision to limit tenure of office of civil service employees to seven years which was an additional reason for the president's first disapproval, had not been included in the bill the second time.

Within an hour after President Taft issued his second veto today, the House repassed the bill, 154 to 53, over his veto. It now goes to the Senate.

The legislative appropriation bill failed of repassage in the Senate over President Taft's veto. The motion to re-pass received 34 votes, to 27 in the negative, but the two-thirds necessary to override the veto was forty-one. By vetoing the bill, President Taft has held up his own salary and that of the cabinet officers and every member of Congress and every judge and all employees of the federal courts.

When advised of the Senate's refusal to pass the bill over the president's veto, Chairman Fitzgerald of the House appropriations committee announced that the House would appropriate for the commerce court until March 4, then would resume the fight against the court when Congress convenes in December.

Prospects are for adjournment of Congress on Saturday.

Himself.

By Associated Press.
New York, Aug. 21.—That part of Broadway known as the Rialto was the scene of another shooting early today when a young man who registered at a local hotel as A. W. Rogers of Jackson, Mississippi, suddenly remarked to a young woman with whom he had spent the evening, "You go along, I'm tired of this thing. I'm going to kill myself."

As the girl fled, Rogers drew a pistol and sent a bullet through his brain. The police believe the name Rogers was assumed. He came here about a month ago. He was evidently a man of means for much jewelry and a large roll of bills was found in his clothing.

plane and Extinguishes Blaze
Before Damage Is Done.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Aug. 21.—An aeroplane fire department was created at a moment's notice yesterday at the Cicero flying field. As a result Chicago claims the credit of being the first city in the world to put the flying machine to this use. A. C. Beach was preparing to ascend in a biplane at the south end of the field when his motor caught fire. The blaze attacked parts of the wings and supports and the smoke was seen at the field house half a mile away.

Andrew Drew, field director, called Max Little to jump into another machine and at the same time place a chemical extinguisher in the hands of Little's mechanic and pushed him into the seat by the aviator. The run was made in less than a minute and the flames extinguished before serious damage was done.

COL. ROOSEVELT IS ATTACKED

SEN. WILLIAMS SAYS HE IS UN-
WORTHY TO UNITE SHOES
OF THOSE HE CRITICISED.

THEFT FROM POPULISTS

Quotes Ex-President As Saying Populists Were Adverse To Paying Just Debts.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Col. Roosevelt was attacked for his published criticisms of Thomas Jefferson and other historical figures in the Senate today by Senator Williams of Mississippi. Senator Williams declared the former president had criticized a long line of predecessors "the latches of whose shoes his late excellency Theodore Roosevelt is unworthy to untie."

Mr. Williams declared he would not have attacked Col. Roosevelt had not a general campaign been started against Woodrow Wilson based upon every "immature or early expression of opinion he ever wrote."

Senator Williams said the Republican National committee had gathered many quotations from Gov. Wilson's books and was preparing to send them out. Williams said:

"But Col. Roosevelt never attacked any one so bitterly as he did the old Populists, although his new Progressive party has stolen every one of its planks from the old Populist platform."

He read from works in which Col. Roosevelt had characterized the old Populists as suspicious of anyone who bathed frequently. Senator Williams referred to Col. Roosevelt's criticisms of William Henry Harrison and Old Rough and Ready Zachary Taylor as "small presidents" and of Fillmore and Tyler along similar lines.

"In his love of extreme utterance," Williams said, "the ex-president refers to Tyler as a politician of monumental littleness and then as if to add perfume to the violet, he says that to call him a mediocre man is unwarranted flattery. References to Populists were read by Williams from Col. Roosevelt's works and from a pamphlet he claims the colonel had written, from one of which he quoted:

"Payments of debts like the suppression of riots, is abhorrent to the Populist mind. I should not doubt if that was his real opinion today of the people with whom he is at present co-operating who are historically and politically the receivers of Populist goods, although called Progressives."

BOAT SURVIVES ICEBERG SHOCK

CORSICAN REACHES LIVERPOOL
AFTER COLLISION OFF NEW-FOUNDLAND COAST.

STORIES ARE CONFLICTING

Officers Deny There Was Any Panic,
But Passengers Disagree—Struck
Berk In Fog.

By Associated Press.
Liverpool, Aug. 21.—The Allen line steamer Corsican which struck an iceberg east of Belle Isle near Newfoundland on the afternoon of August 12, arrived here this morning. The fore part of the vessel was protected with collision bulk-heads, "but otherwise she showed no signs of damage."

Captain Cook, commander of the Corsican, said: "The weather was hazy when the Corsican collided with the iceberg on August 12. She was traveling at dead slow speed, when the iceberg was sighted right ahead. The engines were immediately put astern but the Corsican touched before she could be stopped. She suffered no damage below ten feet of the water line. The crew was as once called to station and the boats were swung out—but were again taken back again. All water tight doors were at once closed."

Most of the passengers say there was no panic at the time of the collision. Two Cambridge students named Duffel and Stevens, however, say they were almost thrown out of their bunks by the violence of the impact. They also assert that a number of passengers were panic-stricken and that one woman called on everybody to kneel and pray. The students assert that a hundred tons of ice fell on the ship's deck and that there was fifteen feet of water in the hole last Sunday. The crew they say were unable to sleep in the forecastle after the collision. Several of the passengers had narrow escapes.

Stevens said: "Several Italians on board were seized with panic and grabbed their bags and jumped into the boats. If we had taken to the boats, there would have been no chance of being picked up, as the fog bank was said to be one hundred miles wide. As a matter of fact, we did not sight a boat for two days."

The captain declares the Corsican did not ship any water.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR STATE OFFICES ARE FILED.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 21.—Already Governor Colquitt's office is being flooded with letters from those seeking public office during his next term. It is against the law for the governor even to indicate what he will do as to appointments before the November election, but that matters not to the office-seekers. They are sending in their applications that they may not be overlooked. At the San Antonio convention there was a small army of them trying to discuss the matter with the governor there.

The applications cover everything from the large state offices to places on board of institutions, etc. Some think that there may be a change here or there and they want to get in on the ground floor. The applications are being filed.

Meanwhile he will live in one of the town's best hotels.

Detective William Burns talked of his graft investigation today with the district attorney. It is said the detective has dug up startling information against disorderly houses and the men who lined the subterranean between them and the authorities.

The Youngest Mayor In America

According to a very interesting article in the September American Magazine, the youngest mayor in the United States is a cripple named Joe F. Sullivan, who is mayor of Imboden, Arkansas. Sullivan was under age during his campaign. He is now twenty-one years old, and has been in office since May. Following is an extract from the article:

"Mayor Sullivan assumed office on May 6th, 1912, just after his twenty-first birthday. His campaign was conducted while he was still several months under age. But his youth was by no means his only handicap, as he's a cripple. At the age of four he was stricken with paralysis which deprived him of the use of one arm and both legs. Since that time, in all these years, he has never taken a step. His only way of getting about is by driving a tricycle or a team of trained Angora goats, which have been to him for the last five years what feet are to those who walk."

"Five years ago Joe decided upon journalism as his life work and after frequent disappointments, finally made good. He is now correspondent from his city for numerous papers, editor of the Imboden Gazette and a writer of short stories."

"Like a good many other newspaper men, when he entered the field of journalism he became quickly interested in politics, and it was not long before his articles in his paper on the political situation of his own town attracted attention. But nobody imagined that the youthful Joe was a suitor for public office. He kept that to himself until he was ready and then quietly one day he started out and drove his goat cart down the main street, stopping here and there at the various business houses to tell their proprietors and clerks that he was a candidate for mayor, and that he desired their votes."

"To attract attention something original must be done, and Joe quickly devised a plan of campaign. His first move was to appoint twelve pretty schoolgirls less than sixteen years of age with whom he had attended school and whom he had known all his life, as his campaign managers. The girls took up Joe's cause with a vigor and energy which surprised everyone. He was their hero."

"On a bright winter day, unannounced they started out from the office of the Imboden Gazette laden with arms full of posters which they laced up on trees, telegraph poles, and wherever vacant space of prominence could be found. These posters requested the citizens to 'vote for Joe Sullivan as mayor.' Next the girls distributed circulars to passers-by in the streets announcing that on that evening Joe would address the voters at the town hall. Everybody was cordially invited to be present. Especially the ladies. His opponents also were urged to be present."

"When the night arrived the city hall was crowded to overflowing with persons eager, through curiosity, to hear what Joe had to say. He held the crowd for an hour. The tide was changed. The voters were convinced that he was not joking. He was a real candidate for mayor. Two prominent and aged business men were announced as his opponents. The boy editor, however, went right ahead with his campaign and when election day came he and his girl campaign managers were still busy. When the polls closed that night the boy with the billy goats had defeated all opponents. Moreover, he had received more votes than the two other candidates combined."

TWO YOUNG GIRLS WERE THE VICTIMS

Two Men Are Held At Mobile On Charges of Violating White Slave Law.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 21.—To await the action of the Federal grand jury for the middle district of Alabama at Montgomery, Lamar Keller, son of a well to do farmer residing near Savannah, Ga., and E. R. Zipperer, a machinist from the same city, both well dressed young men, were each held in $500 bonds by United States Commissioner Richard Jones, Jr., here late yesterday on alleged charges of violating the Federal white slave traffic act. Their alleged victims are Annie May Lee and Frankie Cowart, aged fifteen and seventeen respectively. The girls were held in $250 bonds each, as Federal witnesses and surrendered into the custody of the United States marshal until their parents give bond. Keller and Zipperer and the girls were arrested Tuesday morning while traveling as men and wives. The men admitted bringing the girls from Savannah to Montgomery for a "lark." From Montgomery they came to Mobile. The Cowart girl is said to be the daughter of a machinist. The parents of both girls are said to be estranged.

IN WICHITA FALLS.

Mrs. Mary Beck, 712 Seventh street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "Although I really do not like the idea of my name being used publicly, I feel that it is my duty to let every one who is suffering from kidney trouble know what a blessing Doan's Kidney Pills were to me. For years I suffered from kidney trouble, having pains in my back and side and irregular action of the kidneys. I steadily grew worse and about three years ago the trouble reached a climax when I had to take to the bed. For three months I was helpless and six local physicians said that I had Bright's disease. I was discouraged. About that time a friend suggested that I try Doan's Kidney Pills. I confess that I had no faith in them but as a last resort I took them. From the first I began to improve and by the time I had taken the first box, I was much better. Four boxes entirely cured me. That was three years ago and since then, on several occasions, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. It gives me the greatest pleasure to publicly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Common Sense.

"You can't pull watermelons from a gourd vine," either can you expect to be properly fitted in a suit of clothes by a man who doesn't know his business.

Most any ten year old boy can put a tape measure around your waist and tell you exactly what you measure, but that is such a small part of the game. If you want your clothes to look right "in the eyes of the man who knows," then you'll have to go to a man who has some knowledge of clothes, who would know the very style garment that would be best suited to your particular build.

Just any "Tom, Dick or Harry" who pops up with a bunch of samples can't possibly have any idea of the kind and the style garment you should wear, they can give you a pair of pants with two legs and the coat will have two sleeves and a tail, and they can take your money all right, but the thing is, do you look right. Think about these things, it's certainly worth your while to do so, if you want to appear just as well as you should.

We want you to know that we went through the entire spring and summer season without one single misfit or even a twenty-five cent alteration. We sold clothes to the best dressed people in Wichita Falls.

We sold lots of them their second and third suits. Why? Simply because they were satisfied, because their clothes fit them like a gentleman's clothes should fit and we can do the same thing for you, we know exactly what we are doing, we take all the responsibility, we don't ask that you allow us to alter and cut up a garment trying to fit you.

There are more than EIGHTEEN HUNDRED PIECES of new fall woollens in our house right now, ready for your inspection, the prices range from $20 to $50.

We don't carry any cheap stuff. We are more than satisfied for the other fellow to carry the low grades. When a man is particular enough about his appearance to go and select his cloth and have his clothes made up just to his liking, he is going to expect something in return. He wants service and style and he certainly will never be able to get either of these necessities out of a "$15.00 so-called tailored suit," there is nothing to it but dissatisfaction and regret.

Give us a trial is all we ask, and if we fail to make good these statements, you'll be the first man and the only man so far to go on our dissatisfied list.

Ask the best dressed man in Wichita Falls who made his clothes for him and he will sight you to

CARRIED TO STRANGE LANDS DURING TRANCE

Missouri School Teacher During Cataleptic Trance Is Captured By Monkeys.

St. Louis, Aug. 21.—From the dream depths of a weird cataleptic trance Miss Bessie Stewart, daughter of a Missouri farmer, utters prophecies and foretells events so unerring that all Northeast Missouri is amazed. In the grip of these cataleptic states she describes deathbed scenes in far off cities hours before the wires bring the news to relatives of the dead in her neighborhood. She is able to foretell accidents days and weeks before they befall those she describes as future victims. When she emerges from the trance state she remembers nothing of what she has said.

Miss Stewart is the daughter of a well to do farmer living a few miles from Wellsburg, Montgomery County, Missouri. Three years ago she was graduated from a Missouri normal college and became a teacher. The family and friends of Miss Stewart have known her to shut herself up in a darkened room and play the most difficult piano selections for hours, compositions that she had never seen before and had never heard. At other times she has submitted to having herself blindfolded and has read page after page and column after column of books and newspapers brought into her presence, and which she could not possibly have seen. Fits of dancing come over her and she will dance for hours through rhythmic mazes that are unknown to the simple folk of her neighborhood.

Yesterday she apparently was an African explorer battling with savage Kaffirs, wounded with assegais and beaten with knobkerries. When under this influence she talks with an English accent, uses a negro dialect with ease and is worried over camp fevers and hostile savages.

In a letter written under the date line of Albanian, Africa, she tells of being held captive for days by a tribe of walling monkeys in the Congo River region. Alternating with these and a dozen other personalities is that of a cave woman who made her skirts by sewing together bird skins with deer sinews and who catches fish with a stone spear. In one of her personalities to which she has as yet given no name she becomes an Oriental, turbaned and mystical. She sits crosslegged on a rug and insists that she is smoking the hookah or hubble bubble, the water pipe of the Far East.

HOW OPPENHEIM WRITES A NOVEL

Pacing Up and Down in the Study of His English Home, the Author Dictates to His Secretary.

National Magazine.

At this time there probably is no more popular writer of fiction than E. Phillips Oppenheim. His stories have the ring of interest. They divert the mind; they entertain and have an underlying subtle purpose that reveals the master hand.

Mr. Phillips Oppenheim, as many know, is an Englishman, related to American by marriage, since his wife is a Massachusetts woman. Truthfully speaking he is a cosmopolitan in the broadest sense, since he long since lost the usual insularity of the Englishman. Perhaps his wife is partly to be praised for this; perhaps his occasional visits to America and his frequent trips to Paris and the Continent were important factors in his acquirement of world knowledge.

At any rate his books dealing usually with international plots and intrigues, show a wide acquaintance with the various centers of European life, with diplomatic methods, and with all grades and classes of people. Yet he says, in an autobiographical sketch, "so far as regards actual influence upon my work, I would be perfectly content to spend the rest of my days in London. Half a dozen thoroughfares and squares in London, a handful of restaurants, the people whom one meets in a single morning, are quite sufficient for the production of more and greater stories than I shall ever write."

"The real centers of interest of the world," he says again, "seem to me to be places where human beings are gathered together more closely, because in such places the great struggle for existence, whatever shape it may take, must inevitably develop the whole capacity of man and strip him bare to the looker on, even to nakedness. My place as a writer, if I may claim one, shall be at a corner of the market place."

His travels, then, are for pleasure rather than to get "atmosphere," for as soon as a story is in his publisher's hands, he takes a mental stretch and yawn, and then starts off on a short trip, invariably returning, however, with the germ of a new plot snugly tucked away in his mind. Most of them he admits to "picking up" in Paris, and not a few have been confided to him by a chance table acquaintance, or a friendly waiter. Although more than twenty of his forty-four years has been largely devoted to novel writing, Mr. Oppenheim declares that the fun and excitement of the work has never waned. He approaches each story with the same unflinching zest.

Given the glimmering of a plot, his wonderful imagination starts with the precision of a machine and almost before he realizes it he has built up his story. Back and forth he tramps in his study, dictating as fast as his secretary can take it in shorthand. As soon as the typewritten sheets of the first draft are handed to him, his real work begins, for then comes the revision, the smoothing and the polishing and the new dictation of the tale in its final form. The bulk of the work is done at home in Sheringham, where the breeze blows fresh from the North Sea, always in sight. His comfortable, typical English cottage bears the Indian name of Winnisimmet, after his wife's native city of Chelsea.

TY COBB BELIEVES WILSON WILL CARRY MICHIGAN

New York, Aug. 21.—Ty Cobb, Georgia's favorite son as well as one of Detroit's well known citizens, believes that Governor Wilson will carry Michigan by a substantial plurality, according to Major John S. Cohen, managing editor of the Atlanta Journal, who arrived in the city today on an auto trip from Cincinnati.

"We stopped at hotels, garages, and clubs on the trip," said Major Cohen today, "and asked every man we saw what the political outlook was. Every man we talked to in Ohio said Wilson would carry the State. When we reached Detroit, like every loyal Georgian, we looked up Ty Cobb. He said that from what he could learn Wilson would carry Michigan."

"The much I do know outside of the cities and villages in the farmhouses along the country roads, the only pictures we saw were those of Governor Wilson."

Voice May Be Used Improperly (London Globe)

Improper methods of using the voice lead to certain affections of the throat, chief among which is that popularity known as "clergyman's or teacher's sore throat." The first symptom of the trouble is usually a sensation of dryness in the throat, with a disposition to expectorate. There may also be hoarseness and difficulty in swallowing, followed by inability to depend on the voice for any unusual use of it. There is rarely any actual pain, but rather a constant sense of discomfort.

In most instances constitutional treatment is required, in addition to local treatment of the throat. A tonic is often beneficial, and rest from vocal effort is frequently imperative. A spray may be used with advantage and the diseased follicles should be painted with some application that will have an absorbent effect. Anyone who suffers from this form of sore throat should take a course of instruction in the proper use of the voice.

Why Soup is Beneficial.
(Family Doctor)

Physiologically, soup has great value for those who hurry to and from their meals, as it allows an interval of comparative rest to the fainting stomach before the more substantial beef and mutton is attacked, rest before solid food being as important as rest after it.

When the body is weary the stomach must be identified with it, and cannot therefore stand the shock of some ill masticated, half pound weight of beef. But if a small plateful of light soup be gently insinuated into the system, nourishment will soon be introduced and strength will follow to receive more substantial material.

The call being made by the managers of the National Democratic campaign for funds with which to finance the campaign does not seem to appeal very strongly to the Democrats of Wichita Falls and Wichita county. So far only fifty-three dollars have been subscribed, and fifty-three dollars out of a county that has more than 1800 Democratic voters is a very poor showing. If you are a Democrat and approve of the plan of raising money to pay campaign expenses, contribute your dollar now and let it get busy.

A Wichita Falls man has just produced a watermelon with blue meat, and he announces that he can produce melons any color of the rainbow, so to speak. That will be all right, Mr. Farmer. Just go ahead and make 'em any color you wish, but we would suggest that you not make any more blue ones. We have enough to be blue at as it is—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

We grow all sizes and shapes and occasionally a blue-meat melon may be found. In fact, the melon crop is so abundant in the Wichita county this year that some farmers are selling their melons by the yard, and stacking them up like cord-wood. A watermelon produced in Wichita county this year that does not weigh over 50 pounds and it not at least a yard long is regarded as a nubbins. Come to Wichita.

Police Lieutenant Charles Becker of New York was a good business man. He received a salary of $2250 per year, but managed to save $68,845 in eight months. This is doing almost as well as some county officers in Texas who are presumed to draw $2500 per annum for services rendered, and after spending half of the amount in a campaign, manage to save up $40,000 or $50,000 during a four year term—Denison Herald.

There must be something in office holding other than the salaries attached to them. We often have point-blank evidence of men paying out more money as campaign expenses than the salary for the entire term amounts to. It may be that being an officer naturally qualifies them for money-making, but without the office, or rather before the time they became officers, many who are now thirty found it an exceedingly difficult matter to finance the monthly grocery bill.

the feminine gender who seemed to attach undue significance to that well meant adoration 'ladies first, please.' He then goes on to say that while in line at the box office women would force themselves ahead of the men in line without saying as much as 'beg pardon.' The same thing occurs at the railway station and other public places, and calls loudly upon the proprietors of the theatres, and railways to post signs like this: 'Ladies take your turn, please.' But, it occurs to this paper that a warning like that is all unnecessary. Ladies do not need to be thus warned. If at any time a lady who finds it necessary to transact business at the box office of a theatre, at a railway ticket office, or at any other busy place where lines are formed and the rule is: 'First come, first served,' it will not be necessary for her to crowd herself in ahead of the men if she will only treat them with the commonest kind of courtesy by simply asking permission. Not one man in ten thousand would withhold it. But the kind that shove and push themselves are the ones that should be taught how to be civil. Generally speaking, they are far from 'slow, anyhow, and it would really be of great benefit to them to be taken down or humiliated occasionally.

CULLEN THOMAS AT THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

In the September number of the American Magazine, we find the following, which will be of interest to Texans, especially those who attended the Baltimore National Democratic convention. The gentlemen who put Mr. Fitzgerald out of business and forced him to leave the platform by asking and insisting that he should answer, was none other than the Hon. Cullen Thomas of Dallas. The delegates, joined by the galleries, applauded his act generously and perhaps over-enthusiastically, very much to the discomfort of the gentleman who was attempting to make a speech.

The September American Magazine contains some extraordinarily good reading about the Baltimore and Chicago conventions. Following is one of the stories. It is about a Brooklyn congressman named Fitzgerald, who started to make a speech at Baltimore. He held the audience for about a minute. Then he commenced a sentence: 'A conspicuous Democrat'—and paused for an instant. Up jumped a lean, delegate from the Panhandle of Texas, with a voice that had had some practice in quelling bunches of loosed steers, and, pointing a finger at the speaker cried: 'Air you the conspicuous Democrat who voted for Cannon?' The gallery gave a great shout of joy. The Brooklyn congressman lost his head completely. He turned white with rage, shook his fist at the Texas man, danced around the platform, supplicate the police to protect him and otherwise acted like a man whose regularity had been punctured at the heart. His voice was overwhelmed by the roar of the galleries rocking in excessive merriment. The madder he grew the louder they howled, which is a way the galleries have. Every time they quieted down a little theavenging voice from Texas rose again: 'Answer me, Air you the conspicuous Democrat who voted for Cannon?' And away they went again. After the unfortunate oratory had given them a painful but most enjoyable five minutes' exhibition of calisthenics, he left the stage with his speech still unspoken.

'I knew,' said a Tammany man afterward, 'that Fitzzy was gone when he turned pale. A man by that name oughtn't to get white when he's mad.'

RAILROAD RATE REGULATION HAS PUT AN END TO REBATES.

A very interesting article in the September American Magazine shows how rate regulation has really brought prosperity to the railroads. Following is an extract:

"O, all ye widows and orphans, see what regulation has done for the railroads. It made wars to cease. With the steady hand of Wall Street on one side and the restraining fear of the government on the other, slashing of rates has stopped. Publicity of accounts, plus open books has removed the element of suspicion that precipitated many a conflict in the old days. For instance, the railroads would all get together and patch up a copper riveted truce. Shippers would nose around and find new openings in the wall. Presently three or four heavy shippers would concentrate all their freight on the Something or Other, a weak line with a reputation for skull-drugger. Rival agents began to beg for their share of the traffic, not all of it, you understand, but enough to satisfy the Old Man, who must be placated. The shippers would look wise and hint at special terms. By this time the agents were running in circles, each one frantically suspicious of the others. And that was the end of any other perfectly lovely truce. Publicity has removed suspicion as a cause of rate wars. Rates are not to be cut recklessly if the reduced rate is prima facie reasonable. Rates are not to be lowered lightly when, with a general tendency toward standardization, that will be quoted against the railroad that makes the low rate, on every part of its system.

'Regulation has put an end to rebates. It has been said that not one-fourth of the traffic on any railroad in the old days moved according to the published tariff. It is a matter of record that for years there was a rebate of forty per cent on all first-class freight between the Atlantic seaboard and Kansas City. This rebate is not cited as sporadic,' says Commissioner Lane, 'such reduction was given to all the largest shippers of this class of traffic. And notice what happened: when the railroads began to collect for the first time the full rate, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered a reduction of six per cent; and the railroads fought that order, keeping it in suspense by injunctions during nearly its entire life. That is characteristic. They endure cheerfully voluntary beggary; they cease not to cry out against compulsory prosperity. The rebate aforesaid was just about universal; now, whatever else is the case, the schedule is adhered to. Railroad men used to plead their absolute helplessness. They knew it was wrong, but the naughty shippers made them give rebates, and what could a poor railroad do? As when little Susie said, 'Get thee behind me, Satan,' and be pushed here right into the berry patch. In the old days the big shipper bamboozled the struggling railroads to a fare-ye-well. Under the law now they can look any man in the eye and tell him to go to."

What If All Advertising Were Eliminated?

In the September Woman's Home Companion appears an interesting editorial on advertising, an extract from which follows:

"Can you imagine what existence would be like if all advertising were eliminated?"

"It would mean more than the absence of advertising in the pages of periodicals and newspapers. It would mean that the grocer would not have his name or his business printed over his door or on his window. The drug stores would not display the globes of colored water. The minister would not announce the topic of his next sermon, nor the mid-week meetings, from the pulpit. There wouldn't even be signposts at country crossroads, nor on the street corners in towns and cities.

"If you should visit a strange community where there was no advertising whatever, you would realize how absolutely dependent you are upon advertising. If you wanted to go to a store, particularly the best store, no one could direct you, for that is advertising—word of mouth advertising, which is sometimes as important and as valuable as any other. Frankly, you would find it practically impossible to live without advertising, although you might manage to exist after a fashion.

"A mere child could tangle us up in about a minute. If his insatiable curiosity were directed to advertising. To this first question we could promptly and truthfully reply that a man advertises to make money. But for the next logical inquiry, 'How does he make money by advertising?' the answer isn't so easy. Possibly the childish mind might be satisfied with the explanation that advertising increases the volume of business, which is true, of course, but it is neither comprehensive nor final.

"You may follow it through ever so many ramifications and in the end you will find that advertising pays for the simple reason that it renders a service to you and me and to the man and woman next door.

"The great agents of civilization are those which save time and increase the comfort and convenience of people. These are the things that make the railroad and the many applications for electricity—the telegraph, the telephone, light, power—so enormously valuable. Advertising belongs in the same category. There is no way of estimating its capacity for saving time, for increasing comfort."

A COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT IS UNDER FIRE

Official in an East Texas County Charged With Selling Examination Questions.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 21.—State Superintendent of public instruction, F. M. Bralley, today cited to appear before him August 24, a county superintendent of an East Texas county to show cause why his certificate as a teacher should not be cancelled. This action is taken following the report from several portions of the state that there has been trafficking in examination papers for applicants for teachers' certificates.

Superintendent Bralley attaches to the notice of the hearing and citation six affidavits and a statement, all witnessed.

The affidavits come from negroes, who either took the examination or intended to take it in September in 1911 and later. According to the notice served upon this county superintendent these affidavits tend to show that the county superintendent was selling the questions.

In each affidavit the price of $100 is mentioned as the terms upon which the examination questions are said to have been sold.

'Failure to respond to this notice or to appear at the time and place herein designated, will be accepted as a confession of guilt, in which case I shall proceed to cancel your certificate,' says Superintendent Bralley.

One of the affidavits says that the superintendent was to place the questions near his residence and that the purchaser found them there. There also was an allegation—that there were threats to kill or have killed those persons obtaining the questions if they told of the transaction. One affidavit says that the superintendent declared that if they 'ever divulged anything, the shotgun would come next.'

PRESIDENT TAFT CONGRATULATES SHERMAN

Declares He is Proud To Be Joint Standard Bearer With Vice Presidential Nominee.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—President Taft sent a telegram to Vice-President Sherman congratulating him and saying: 'I congratulate you and the party on your nomination. The Republican party continues to be the party of the Constitution, the defenders of our guarantees of civil liberty, private property and pursuit of happiness and other civil rights, the upholder of law and order, the opponent of socialism and the supporter of high compensation for wage earners and our industrial success through a protective tariff. I am proud again to be a joint standard bearer with you for that party of conservatism, sanity and progress.'

POLITICAL ETCHINGS

Supreme Audacity.

No man more than Theodore Roosevelt ever so closely observed the famous Danton maxim: 'De l'audace, encore de l'audace, et toujours de l'audace'—audacity, again audacity and always audacity. He doesn't do this as a disciple of the French revolutionists, or of anyone else, but because it is his nature to. He was born that way and has cultivated and encouraged the trait until it has become a very pronounced part of his character.

About the most audacious thing Mr. Roosevelt has ever done was to make George W. Perkins his campaign manager, after proclaiming himself 'the champion of the people against "malefactors of great wealth," and his party as the only salvation of the popular rights from the greed of the predatory interests.

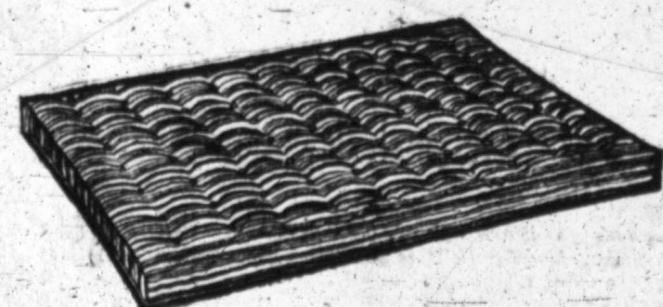

Mr. Perkins is the head of the harvestor trust and largely interested in the great steel trust. He is conspicuous in that system of interlocking directorates that Woodrow Wilson, in his speech of acceptance, aptly called 'vast confederacies' and said were 'bigger, more subtle, more evasive and more difficult to deal with' than the trusts.

Mr. Perkins was, furthermore, for some years a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., and is still one of Mr. Morgan's close personal friend and financial allies. He is largely interested in the extensive corporate concerns known as the Morgan interests.

The system of interlocking directorates, it has been shown by congressional investigation, puts the greater part of the mining and manufacturing industries, the transportation lines, the banks and the great insurance companies under the control of a few men in New York, and Mr. Perkins is one of those men.

NEGRO BOY IS STABBED BY ANOTHER IN FIGHT

Dispute Over Alleged Debt of Twenty Cents Results in Scrap—Pocket Knife Is Used.

As the result of a fight that had its beginning in a quarrel over an alleged twenty cent debt, a negro named Norford is in jail today, and another negro named Jackson barely escaped death by being stabbed over the heart with a pocket knife. Neither of the boys are more than fourteen years of age.

The trouble came to a head yesterday afternoon about five o'clock near the negro school house in the eastern part of town. The Jackson youth, who is said to be slightly larger than the Norford boy, alleged that the latter owed him twenty cents, which debt Norford is said to have repudiated. Jackson then started in to take the money "out of Norford's hide," and according to witnesses, the fight was waxing warm when Norford pulled a pocket knife and stabbed his adversary over the heart.

NEW DRAPERIES AN IMPORTANT ITEM

Still Soft and Clinging They Fall In Long Ripples and Fold In Downward Course.

New York, Aug. 21.—By far the most important item to be noted at present has to do with the new draperies, for they have a strong influence in all modes. They are peculiarly graceful. Still soft and clinging enough not to interfere very seriously with the slender silhouette, they fall sometimes in long series of ripples, sometimes in well defined folds, and in either case generally they take downward course toward the neck.

The ways and means of effecting draperies are many and various, and remembering that successful draperies appear always to have fallen into place of their own accord, they are extremely interesting.

The bodies as well as the skirts come under the spell, evening gowns particularly very pertinently suggesting Grecian dress, except that the folds are held in place more firmly. In fact, one of the chief aims and charms is to have the draperies assume as much of a flowing effect as possible, at the same time following very closely the lines of the figure.

In the model illustrated, a black charmeuse, the drapery is started at the left side, swung very low, so low that it drags about the foot, and brought up to the belt line in back in precisely the same manner. Across the left side a second section of the material is gathered evenly across and caught two-thirds of the way down so that it pouches a little all the way along. From there the length is completed by two sections, one curving to the right to fall in with the first drapery and the other to the left to meet the back section. The upper portion of the blouse is of black chiffon over white, long, tight fitting sleeves cut in one with it, while the lower part is cut to form two points in front and out in the back, with a row of black satin buttons between them.

The frills are of white chiffon. Entirely new are the glove sleeves that are made very tight fitting, with ruffles to finish them at the wrist and completed from just below the shoulder with the charmeuse.

A few months ago women were shuddering at the thought of draped tunics and plaited skirts again. Those possessed of a certain avoirdupoise still resent the intrusion of these features, but I venture to declare that before the winter season is fairly under way those who have denounced most vehemently the added fullness will be loudest in praise of the new regime. It is a mistake to imagine draperies, at any rate draperies of the character the designers have evolved now, are only for the slender person. On the contrary, it is entirely a matter of adjustment, and under the manipulation of a draper who knows her business the soft folds may rather be made to produce long lines.

GEN. ROLLER OPTIMISTIC ABOUT WICHITA FALLS

Prominent Virginian Interested Here Believes Oil Activity Is Just Beginning In This Section.

"I believe the biggest part of the oil activity in Wichita county, is just beginning; it won't surprise me much to come back here some of these days and find sky-scrapers like those in Houston going up here. When a city can withstand successive droughts like Wichita Falls, her growth is assured. I firmly believe she is destined to be the gem city of the plains."

Gen. John E. Roller of Harriadsville, Virginia, owner of considerable land in Wichita county, had this to say of Wichita Falls today. Gen. Roller gets back to Wichita Falls once or twice a year and every time he says he finds it a better town than before. He has some tracts towards which the oil scouts are casting long eyes, but has not put any of it under lease as yet. He left today for his Virginia home.

He is very optimistic of this city's future and has an almost unbounded faith in Wichita Falls.

Gen. Roller is a Confederate veteran, but acquired his present military title since the war as an officer of the Virginia militia. He was only twenty years old when the war ended but was a captain at that time, being one of the gallant band that has been called "first at Bethel, farthest at Gettysburg and last at Appomattox." He is a very loyal Virginian, but is scarcely less loyal to Wichita Falls, which, by reason of his extensive interests here, enjoys the relation of foster-child in his affections.

Beware of the Pitfalls of Fashion. Grace Margaret Gould, editor of the fashion department of the Woman's Home Companion, gives the latest fashion news in the September number of that periodical. In the course of her talk she says:

"Beware of the pitfalls of fashion. When we do see ahead, be sure that we see ahead clearly. We want to look at a style at its best and not at its worst."

"Beware of going too far or of going astray; in each case you will have to come back. Beware of choosing too much; you don't want to look like an animated Christmas tree. Beware of forgetting your age, for inappropriate clothes will call attention to it. Beware of the extreme draped skirt unless your figure is just suited to its odd-lines. Beware of the Robespierre collar unless your neck is long and your throat is smooth and white. Beware of looking with too sudden favor on the large pointed Directoire revers unless you are broad-shouldered enough to carry them with grace and distinction. Beware of the stripe because if you are given to embonpoint, it would be a tragedy to look like a topi."

MISS CHICAGO WILL BE QUITE DEMURE

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Chicago have planned a campaign against "modern tendencies" which will make the boldest hold her breath. Miss Chicago is to be nothing if not demure, unless all the plans of this society, which advocates temperance in all things, go away. Special objects of the crusade will be:

—Smoking circles and the vicious cigarette.

Nipping in the afternoons in shady restaurant retreats.

Mixed bathing at the beaches, declared to be a "naughty French habit."

Flirting on the streets, most dangerous of all pastimes.

The wearing of tight dresses—injurious and disgraceful; peek-a-bo waist—a brazen disregard of common decency.

Low shoes and silk stockings, the wilful lure of men.

Short skirts, immodest; large hats, ridiculous, and last, but not least, rouge, powder and the eyebrow blacking brush, which do not give things their proper face value by any manner of means.

ware of looking with too sudden favor on the large pointed Directoire revers unless you are broad-shouldered enough to carry them with grace and distinction. Beware of the stripe because if you are given to embonpoint, it would be a tragedy to look like a topi."

are right. They are the best that can be sold for the money. They are kept right and sold so fast that today we have not a cigar that has been in the house sixty days. There is a great difference in smoking a cigar fresh from the moistening vaults and the one that has been allowed to become bone dry from lack of attention. The dry ill-kept cigar is the one that soon gets full of bugs, while a cigar properly kept is never attacked by insects. We give our cigar department the best attention of anything in the house. If you are a connoisseur of the weed let us tease you with a smoke that always hits the spot.

BETTER REPUTATION FOR TEXAS EGGS

State Chemist Says Some Eggs Sent to Market From Lone Star State Have Been "Bad."

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 21.—The Texas state chemist's department has started a campaign which it hopes will gain a better reputation for Texas' eggs in the markets of the world. Assistant State Chemist E. H. Golaz, who is in Dallas, declared this morning. It hopes to do away with the practice of wholesale houses buying eggs with so much "off" for the bad ones and substituting the practice of buying only eggs that are sound pure. With that purpose in view, the chemist's department is making a rigorous campaign against bad eggs and will file complaints against any seller of damaged hen "fruit."

"The reason why damaged eggs get to the ultimate consumer," said Mr. Golaz this morning, "is that the farmer and country store keeper hold them too long before selling. The temperature of a hen is about 95 degrees. In Texas during the summer the thermometer runs that high and higher. Eggs kept in hot places by the farmer and country grocery store thus become partly spoiled before they are sold to storage houses. It does no good then.

"We are trying to get the wholesaler in an attitude where he will candle all eggs and buy only good ones. If he does this the middleman between him and the farmer will do the same thing. This will force the farmer to place his eggs in cool places where decomposition will not begin. The result will be that Texas eggs, a most important by-product, will gain a higher reputation and the man who wants good eggs for breakfast can get them."

Mr. Golaz is in Dallas looking over the local egg situation.

The Trials of a Traveler.

"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Youngs, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy. For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequalled. Only 25 cents at all druglists."

City Attorney William N. Bonner returned late last night from a business trip to the Eeds oil well near Electra. He left this city yesterday morning in company with Mr. and Mrs. Eeds, and in the afternoon assisted Mr. Eeds in leasing one hundred acres of his farm for ten thousand dollars to A. G. Reed, Clint Wood and associates. Judge Bonner says that a number of wells have been contracted to be drilled at once and that at the present time oil men from all over the country are investigating the territory surrounding the new well. The Eeds well, in the opinion of some of the best informed men who were there yesterday, will pump better than three hundred barrels per day, and most of the largest companies have prominent officials on the scene, said Judge Bonner.

M. C. Pontenneau, alias Frenchy, the negro janitor for the office at the Northwestern shops near the city, says that he has a remedy that will cure all ills which trouble the human body. According to Frenchy, a tablespoonful of common gasoline taken when one is feeling ill, will cause the patient to immediately forget his sickness and will be the means of a cure many times when medicines have failed. Pontenneau, who is from the swamps of Louisiana, says that where he was born gasoline was a well known and often used remedy. He was sick a few days ago, he said, and was cured by the gasoline treatment, which according to his statement, has never failed. Local physicians, however, advise caution in the use of Frenchy's new remedy. They say that gasoline is poisonous to the system, and is likely to produce a severe illness if taken as medicine.

A committee from the Young Men's Progressive League is at work today enlisting recruits for the trip to be taken up the Northwestern on Thursday of next week. About twenty-five volunteers turned their names in to Secretary Gaston and it is believed that there will be little difficulty in securing many times that number. Those desiring to make this trip are requested to notify A. L. Huey or H. W. Gaston.

The Lehman Hebert Stock Company have been drawing good crowds to the Dreamland theatre this week. It's a good show, deserving really of a better patronage than is being given it. Last night the title of the play was "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie," in which Miss Virginia Ogden as Miss Babbie, took the leading part. It was a story of the old South, before the war, and was appreciated to the limit by the audience. The play for tonight's performance is entitled "The Peacemaker," a comedy drama in three acts.

"LEFTY" MULLINS WON HIS GAME HANDILY

Former Driller Pitched For Dallas Against Fort Worth Tuesday and Won

"Lefty" Mullins of the Drillers pitched for the Dallas team against Fort Worth yesterday and won his game handily, allowing only four hits; with better support, the papers state, he would have secured a shut-out.

Lawrence has not again appeared in the Dallas line-up and it is not known what disposition has been made of him, if any. The names of Kizlar, Baxter and Myers have not yet been seen in the Houston line-up although all three are still with that team.

Napier of the Sherman team pitched his first game for the St. Louis Browns recently and is credited with a victory, due to errors of the opposing team.

OIL NEWS.

THORNBERRY WELL MAY BE ABANDONED SHORTLY.

Plans for the Benson and Little well at Thornberry, which a few weeks ago was the center of considerable excitement and the subject of numerous rumors, are indefinite. Mr. Little stated this morning that the hole was dry at 1900 feet and that he did not yet know whether any effort would be made to go deeper. It is not unlikely that the casing will be pulled and the well abandoned.

MAY PUT DOWN ANOTHER WELL AT BACON SWITCH.

It is reported that another well will be sunk at Bacon Switch, where a dry hole was discovered several months ago. Some oil men believe that the well on the Schmoeker farm at Burk Burnett marks the northern edge of the field and that the pay sand lies to the south and west of the Burk Burnett well. Upon this theory, it is said, the new well will be put down in the Bacon vicinity.
