Senate Votes Approval Of Housing Bill

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22 — The Senate today passed and sent to the House the multi-billion-dollar Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. It is designed to encourage the building of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958.

Senate passage of the hotly disputed measure by voice vote came quietly in sharp contrast to the wrangling over the bill during a week of debate.

House Fight Seen

But the earlier scrap is certain to be revived in the House. The House Banking committee stuffed into a pigeonhole a similar bill passed by the Senate in 1946. And there is plenty of opposition in the committee to some parts of the new bill.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), chairman of the House Banking group, told a reporter the committee will hold "full hearings," starting probably the first week in May. He predicted Congress will pass "some sort of a housing bill," but declined to comment on the Senate measure.

Just before the Senate voted it adopted two amendments.

Veteran Aid Included

One sponsored by Senators Young (R-ND and Russell (D-Ga), added a $250,000,000 farm housing program to the bill. This replaced a provision for only a study of the rural housing situation.

The other amendment, offered by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), authorizes the government to pay half the cost of homes for severely paralyzed veterans confined to wheel chairs. However, the federal grant could not exceed $10,000.

The bill also provides, among other things, for:

1. Extending the federal housing administration's home loan insurance program 11 months through March 31, 1948. The agency could insure an additional $2,000,000,000 worth of loans, including $400,000,000 worth covered by a stopgap law now on the books. Half of the total would be earmarked for houses to rent.

Loans Liberalized

2. Home loan terms generally would be liberalized. For example, after next March 31 there would be available to low income families a combination of 90 per cent loans 30 years to pay and interest at four per cent.

3. To spur construction of rental housing, there is a program of 90 per cent loans over 40 years at

Court Showdown Set In Austin Today

Tech's Backers Ready For Amendment Test

By CHAS. A. GUY
Avalanche-Journal Editor

AUSTIN, April 22.—A group of West Texans gathered here tonight on the eve of a David and Goliath act with legal setting, awaiting the opening of 126th District court in Austin tomorrow.

They were here as litigants, attorneys and just plain onlookers in connection with a hearing before Judge Roy C. Archer, in the Travis county courthouse of a suit in which the legality of a constitutional election, held over Texas last August, is questioned.

First Test On Issue

Friday's hearing will be, at the very least, the "first go-round" in an effort on the part of friends of Texas Tech to legally restrain the University of Texas and Texas A&M from barring Tech and 16 other state-supported institutions of higher learning from going before the state legislature—in traditional manner — for building funds for the next 30 years. During the next 30 years, if the university clique has its way, these two institutions will be "in clover" from a building standpoint, while Tech, and the other state-supported colleges, will "get what the little boy shot at."

The legal battle starting tomorrow can be described as a "David and Goliath" act, because through its inception a handful of Tech friends challenge the politically and financially powerful university clique from carrying out its program, which plaintiffs allege, "won by a hair" last August because of insufficient advertising of the election in accordance with the law, and by illegally presenting in one proposal plans which, under the law, should have been separately presented on the ballot.

Lubbock Group On Hand

In Austin to be on hand when court opens Friday are three of the four plaintiffs. They are Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock merchant and former Tech director; Clarence Whiteside, former Tech student and now a Lubbock city commissioner; and Homer C. Maxey, former Tech student and now a Lubbock contractor. Absent is H. E. Speer, of Dallas, whose only interest is that of the "average tax-

'Quick Trial' Seen In Suit On College Building Dispute

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—A speedy trial is forecast in the suit set for tomorrow in 126th District court against the state's $60,000,000 College Building constitutional amendment.

Trial opens eight months after three Lubbock taxpayers and one Dallas taxpayer threw the amendment into court.

The amendment, adopted in a close vote at the polls in August, was to have provided a 30-year building program for 16 state-operated colleges and universities. West Texas interests had fought the measure through its passage by the legislature and popular election.

Legality Questioned

The suit, contesting the legality of the election at which the measure was adopted, was filed shortly after the election by Clarence W. Whiteside, Spencer J. Wells and Homer Maxey, all of Lubbock, and H. E. Speer of Dallas. They named Secretary of State Paul Brown as defendant.

The contestants claimed election irregularities in numerous counties and faulty advertisement in six counties.

Most of the delay in bringing the suit to trial has been occasioned by an attempt to reach an agreement on facts in the case between attorneys for both the state and contestants. That agreement has been reached.

Without speculating on the outcome, Joe R. Greenhill, assistant attorney general representing the state, says he expects the trial to last only "a few hours." Trial is set for 9 a. m. tomorrow.

MAY RETURN TO U. S.

Narcotics Taken In Amherst Loot

AMHERST, April 22 (Special)—Burglars escaped with a large amount of narcotics from the South Plains Co-operative hospital here last night.

The loot consisted of 2,815 tablets and 400 capsules of narcotics including 750 tablets of dilaudid in 1/16-grain size; 1,500 tablets of morhpine and atopine, of 1/4-grain size; 25 cocaine tablets of 2¼-grain size; and 400 metapon capsules.

Nurses On Duty

The list was compiled by C. M. Coffer, business manager of the hospital, who said the intruders slit a screen over a back window, unlatched the window and entered when "eight to 10 nurses were on duty," and burst into a narcotics closet and took the narcotics and a steel box that contained them.

Tracks indicated to Lamb County Chief Deputy Sheriff Prentiss Graham of Littlefield, who was the first investigator to arrive, that the burglar had arrived after the first of several showers, and that rain fell after they had gone.

Tracks In Mud

There was mud on the window sill, and tracks in mud outside the window had been almost obliterated by subsequent heavier downpours.

The burglars had stepped onto a chair from the window sill, and it too had mud on it.

BANK IS ROBBED

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 22 (INS)—Three men and a woman were taken into custody tonight three hours after a "nervous" gunman robbed the Bank of Canada of $10,000 in Sault Ste. Marie. Edward Gresciuk was held on suspicion of being the gunman, and Mrs. Marjorie McClean as the blonde woman who drove the holdup car from the scene. The other two men were not identified immediately.

Truman Again Offers Troops

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22—President Truman expressed today this country's willingness to furnish its share of men for any international police force organized by the United Nations.

A reporter told Mr. Truman at a news conference that some members of Congress have said the President does not have the right to order troops to serve outside this country.

The President said he wonders what those who take this position know about the authority of the commander-in-chief and his rights to send troops anywhere.

U. S. Offered Troops

Questioned about a statement by Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the United Nations, that this country is willing to supply troops to help enforce trusteeship in Palestine, Mr. Truman said:

The United States offered to furnish its share of troops under a United Nations police force.

He said he referred to a police force organized by the U.N.

A reporter asked if he meant a permanent UN police force or a special force for Palestine.

Mr. Truman replied that would depend on the contingency.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) told the Senate today that the President probably has authority to send U. S. troops to maintain order in Palestine without consent of Congress.

JEWISH FORCES WIN CONTROL OF HAIFA; ARABS LEAVING

HAIFA, April 23 (Friday) (INS)—Jewish forces won complete military control of Haifa last night and today 60,000 Arabs began a mass evacuation from the great port city on Palestine's northwest coast.

(The London Daily Mail said the Arab decision amounted to a "surrender by evacuation.")

The Arabs were reported to have agreed to yield their arms to the Jews before leaving Haifa—the richest plum in the current Arab-Jewish war.

(A Reuters dispatch said a breakdown of truce negotiations brought renewal of Jewish attacks on Haifa's Arabs which had been suspended Thursday after an all-out offensive began Wednesday. (The Reuters dispatch added

City To Tackle Water Problem

Acting on a variety of matters, Lubbock City commission spent six hours in session Thursday afternoon at City hall but will have to meet again in a special meeting Monday to transact pressing business facing them.

High on the agenda is the matter of providing additional water wells to take care of an expected increase in consumption again this summer. Mayor W. H. Rodgers stressed the water problem several times during Thursday's session and said he would call for prompt action on the part of the commission to authorize the drilling of new wells at once so as to provide enough water to meet domestic needs by June 1.

"We can't go through another summer without a sufficient water supply," Mayor Rodgers said. "We've got to get these wells started right away so that the new reservoirs which will be put into use by June 1 will not stand half-filled with water."

Right-O-Way Cases Talked

Occupying a lot of time Thursday afternoon was right-of-way matters on the Avenue A sector of the new traffic dispersal system being constructed in the city. Indications were that all right-of-way cases hanging fire would be cleared up in time for the letting of the contract on the Avenue A route from the traffic circle south of Lubbock to as far as the entrance of Mackenzie State park. Only a few cases remain yet to be settled.

Approvals for settlements with Joe Telford, Mrs. A. W. Mast, B. B. Barron, M. D. Scott, and V. N. Voegeli were given by the commission.

ELECTION IS SET

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 22 (AP)—Western Germany will provide the next election test of Communist strength in Europe. It will come next Sunday in community elections in the American states of Bavaria and Hesse. There is no likelihood that the Communists will win or even come close. But the voting should show whether Communism is gaining or losing ground in American-occupied Germany.

Red 'Uprising' In Italy Is Put Down

ROME, April 23 (Friday) (INS)—Italian police said today that they had smashed an attempted Communist uprising in four Alban hill towns near Rome last night before it could get rolling.

The towns were identified as Lanuvio, Genzano, Olavona, and Cecchina.

It was the first reported Communist flareup in the aftermath of their election defeat. Veiled hints of possible Communist disorders had been dropped throughout Italy's tense election period.

The disorders were reported a few hours after Premier Alcide De Gasperi warned the Communists to cease their threats. He said Italy would seek participation in the western European union against Communism.

Police officials said "numerous" arrests were made in the Alban hill towns.

CALIFORNIA SPEECH SET JUNE 12

Truman To Open Presidential Drive With West Coast Trip

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22—President Truman will launch his campaign for four more years in the White House with a journey to the Pacific coast early in June.

The White House announced today that the President has accepted an invitation to address the June 12 California university commencement at Berkeley.

Other authoritative sources reported that Mr. Truman will travel west by train and make at least three other speeches on a trip that is expected to take him away from Washington for at least two weeks.

The President declined to expand on the subject of his trip at his news conference, at which Democratic National Chairman McGrath was present.

A reporter asked Mr. Truman whether his California journey was part "of a much larger trip." Mr. Truman replied that California university had invited him to address the commencement, and that at first he did not know whether he could go.

Then the President, with some emphasis in his tone, told newsmen when he gets ready to announce any trips they all would be

Panhandle And San Angelo Areas Report Rain

Showers Continue To Fall Over South Plains; Other Areas Hit

SCATTERED showers continued to fall over the South Plains section Thursday and Thursday night as reports of moisture from over the Panhandle and surrounding area gave added hope to farmers looking forward to the planting season. However, considerable more moisture will be needed, agriculture agents said, to assure favorable planting conditions.

Heaviest rainfall reported last night was at Ralls. W. C. Mann, secretary of the chamber of commerce there, said that 1.3 inches of rain had been measured up to 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

Heavy Shower Falls

Rain recorded up to 8:30 a. m. Thursday measured .53 inches, he said, but a new downpour, starting at 4:30 p. m., poured more than .50 of an inch upon the city in little more than an hour. Mann indicated that the rain appeared to be general in the Ralls trade area, with the heaviest fall south of the city.

Lubbock received only an additional .05 of an inch moisture yesterday, according to the Weather buearu station five miles north of the city at midnight.

Total precipitation for Wednesday and Thursday in the city area was .33 of an inch. Rainfall for the year was still .98 of an inch short of normal.

The second Lubbock Hubbers and Cloyds Pioneers baseball game was cancelled last night due to weather conditions as well as softball contests scheduled here.

More Rain Forecast

Hopeful farmers had the prospect of another round of light showers this afternoon, but the weather station forecast that these would likely be confined to the eastern part of the South Plains.

Fog and a light mist had settled over Lubbock shortly after midnight and was expected to continue until after sunrise.

Partly cloudy and warmer was the forecast for today and Saturday. The temperature was predicted at a maximum of 75 degrees.

Other South Plains points reported beneficial moisture during the past two days although most of them received less than one inch.

FLOYDADA—Homer Steen, publisher of the Floyd County Hesperian, reported that .88 inches of rainfall had been measured there within the twenty-four hours up to Thursday evening. Approximately .70 inches was measured Wednesday afternoon and night and showers yesterday afternoon brought an additinal .18 inches. Steen said that Cone, between Floydada and Ralls, received little rain Wednesday night, but showers Thursday were heavier in that vicinity. Southwest Floyd county was reported "muddy" following "good rains" there Wednesday and yesterday. Reports indicated that rains were general over the county, tending to be lighter toward the north and east.

BROWNFIELD—Total rainfall Wednesday and Thursday was reported to be about .30 of an inch. Only light showers fell in the immediate vicinity of Brownfield yesterday. However, the newspaper there said that farmers from northwest of the city had reported scattered showers which brought somewhat more than one inch of rain in spots of that vicinity.

O'DONNELL — Reports from O'Donnell Wednesday night indicated that 2 inches of rain had fallen there Wednesday afternoon and night. However, official measurement Thursday revised that figure to 1.45 inches, with an additional .05 of an inch falling in light showers Thursday.

LAMESA — Rainfall was estimated to be about .35 of an inch. Enough rain fell Wednesday afternoon and night to leave water standing in the streets Thursday morning, it was reported.

Two Persons Die In Truck-Bus Collision

SWEETWATER, April 22 (AP)—Two persons were killed and three were injured seriously when a passenger bus and a transport truck collided at a curve on wet pavement ten miles east of Sweetwater at 5:15 p.m. today.

The dead were James W. Hamilton, 18, of Mesquite, Tex., who was a sailor on leave from San Diego Naval Base, and Ulah Broadway, 42, of Route one, Summerton, Ark.

The injured included the truck driver, Louis T. Hammond, 40, of Texarkana; Clarence Gore, 20, Morcelina, Mo. and Brown Long, 17, Montgomery, Ala. Gore and Brown were sailors from San Diego.

The bus, operated by All American, was driven by W. J. Mooney of Dallas. It was headed east. The truck was headed west. Mooney said that as the bus was turning at the curve its rear end skidded on the wet pavement and the truck, operated by United Transport, struck the rear of the bus.

First Test Of Dual Rocket To Be Made At White Sands

EL PASO, April 22 (AP)—The first test of a dual rocket will be made at White Sands Proving ground, N.M., within one month, Maj. J. B. Dickey, public relations officer, said today.

The "two-stage" rocket is a combination of a "modified A-4 German V-2" and the American-built WAC missile.

Dickey said the first firing would not try to set a new altitude record, but would be the first test of separation of the two stages of rocket while in flight.

JURY TO GET CHARGE TODAY

Dillard Testifies In Own Defense In Surprise Move

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

BREWSTER E. Dillard took the witness stand in his own defense Thursday afternoon.

A 99th district court jury and a courtroom packed to the rafters heard the slight and dapper 36-year-old defendant relate his version of the fatal shooting Nov. 1 of Carlon Douglas Weaver.

He declared that one shot was fired from his gun after he had fled from Weaver to his own automobile and was attempting to get his car started so that he could leave Weaver's service station at 2707 Texas Ave.

Ran To Car

He said Weaver—described as 10 inches taller than the defendant and outweighing him 40 to 50 pounds—was attempting to "drag me out of the car when I reached into the glove compartment and got the gun."

He said Weaver a moment earlier had threatened him by uttering a "dirty remark" and "come up out of his chair" in the station.

"I hit for my car—five or six feet away" outside the station door.

"Got My Pistol"

"He grabbed me around the waist. I stuck my feet up against the steering column of the car and tried to keep him from pulling me out.

"I reached for the pocket of the car, the glove compartment, and got my pistol, somewhere in the scuffle. I was lying over and he was pulling on me, about pulled me out.

"I couldn't tell to save my neck how, but I heard the gun go off.

"He released me and staggered in (the station door) around the table and to a chair."

Evidence Closed

Before that moment, which followed the testimony of three reputation witnesses who testified that Weaver's reputation was known to them as a dangerous man, the state's case relied strictly on circumstantial evidence. The defense had qualified jurors on circumstantial evidence, laying a predicate for that defense pending the presentment of the state's case.

Both sides closed evidence at 4 p. m., and Judge G. V. Pardue,

Truman Still Willing To See Stalin If He Wants To Visit U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Truman reiterated today his willingness to meet with Premier Stalin in Washington, and his unwillingness to leave the country for such a conference.

As he has said many times before, the President repeated again to a news conference that he would be glad to see the Soviet leader any time Stalin wants to come to Washington.

A reporter asked whether he was willing to see the Soviet leader here or anywhere else.

Mr. Truman replied that he did not expect to go outside of the United States to attend any conference.

He said again that he would be glad to see Stalin if the latter came to this country.

Demos Offered Plan For Unity

By MAC ROY BASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 22—Recommendation that Texas' delegation to the national Democratic convention be instructed for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today came from Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Golliad, vice chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

The recommendation, contained in a prepared statement to the press, came on the heels of separate barbecues sponsored by dissenting factions of Texas Democrats who chose sides on the explosive question of whether Texas should have a pro-Truman instructed or an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

Seeks "Unity" Programs

The statement also came less than 24 hours after the executive committee in Fort Worth yesterday voted to support every nominee of the party. The organization leaders have previously beat drums loudly for an uninstructed delegation.

Mrs. Thompson said it was her desire to offer a program on which all Texas Democrats can unite.

"This is a specific program; it is to instruct our delegation at Philadelphia to vote for General Eisenhower on the first ballot," she said.

"It is my firm belief that if

Tech Engineering Show, Home Ec Open House To Start Today

TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL College plays host today and Saturday for the annual Engineers' Show and the Home Economics Open House in a program which enables the public to see for itself the facilities and equipment available and the work being done by students in the two respective divisions.

Both programs open simultaneously at 2 p. m.

The Engineers' show will remain open from 2 until 10 p. m. today and Saturday and the Home Ec open house will continue from 2 until 9 p. m. today and from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Saturday.

When the doors finally close on both shows, it is predicted that more than 10,000 people will have viewed the exhibits and demonstrations offered by the Engineers' show and 5,000 or more will have attended the Open House. No admission is being charged for either show.

The Engineers' show will incorporate all engineering departments, including mechanical, electrical, industrial, chemical, petroleum, textile, architecture and applied arts and civil engineering as well as the military science, physics and geology departments.

Union Leader Scores Move

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, April 22 — The U. S. Steel Corp. today rejected wage increase demands by the CIO United Steelworkers but slashed prices by about $25,000,000 annually in what the corporation said was an effort to halt rising living costs.

The surprise announcement by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the corporation, broke off current wage negotiations with the union but CIO spokesmen said no strike will result.

Price slashes, effective May 1, cover a wide range of the firm's products used for manufacturing goods from nails to refrigerators. Fairless said the move was taken "in an endeavor to aid in halting further advances in living costs." He pledged no price increases would be made during the "trial period" of unspecified length.

To Honor Contract

Philip Murray president of both the CIO and the Steelworkers' union, promptly declared the price cuts "picayune" but added:

"The union has agreed to a two-year no-strike contract. We will live up to that contract."

Current wage negotiations were held under a contract clause which provided for re-opening the two-year pact on wage issues.

"The corporation professes to believe in fairness to its workers and a long range spirit of cooperation with our union," a statement by Murray said. "We leave to the forum of public opinion whether these professions are borne out by the corporation's adamant and unjustified refusal to grant an equitable wage increase."

Negotiations Underway

The union claims about 150,000 members in six U. S. Steel subsidiaries covered in the wage negotiations. These subsidiaries of the nation's biggest steel producer include Carnegie-Illinois Steel, National Tube, Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad, American Steel & Wire, Columbia Steel and Geneva Steel.

Similar negotiations have been underway between the union and other producers. All told 650,000 workers are involved in such wage talks.

The average hourly rate in the steel industry now is $1.55. The

1,150 Expected In League Meet

On basis of results of district contests certified to him for the Region 1 Interscholastic League meet, Dr. Ernest Wallace, regional director-general, estimated late Thursday that approximately 1,150 students would compete at Texas Technological college today and Saturday.

All events will be conducted Saturday except the tennis class A and B drawing and preliminaries today.

Area Is Expanded

The territory in Region 1 has been expanded since last year and now is the largest ever to be represented in Interscholastic League contests here.

Literary events will be debate, declamation, extemporaneous speech, ready writers, typewriting, shorthand, number sense, slide rule and one-act play.

Some of the contestants coming from long distances to compete in Saturday contests will arrive in Lubbock today.

UAW Official Is Held For Investigation In Reuther Case

DETROIT, April 22 (INS)—Detroit police tonight held for further investigation an official of United Automobile workers Ford Local 600 who allegedly boasted to friends that he knew the identity of the triggerman in the shooting of UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

He is Nelson Davis, 32-year-old minor official of the Ford local.

Davis was one of four left-wing leaders of the local picked up by police today as the investigation moved deeply into the ranks of Reuther's own union.

Communists In Far East Seen As Continued Threat To Freedom

By ARTHUR M. GOUL
United Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, April 22—Communists are working hard in all countries of the Far East to consolidate their aims before American aid can be used to halt Chinese Communism.

Information from several authentic sources suggests that if Communism in the Far East achieves its ultimate goal, it would aim not only to subjugate China but would build a ring around American possessions and interests from Bering Strait to the Philippines.

To that end the Communists are active in Korea, Manchuria, China, Indo-China, Hongkong, Malaya, Burma, Siam, India and the Philippines.

Americans in Shanghai, as well as Chinese and Dutch sources, warn that China is the keystone.

See Last Chance

United States aid to China, they agree, is the last chance to halt Communism's march across the Orient.

Once China were subjugated to Communism, they argue that the other pieces of the pattern soon would fall into place. Not only the United States, but France, Great Britain and the Netherlands, along with the newly-created governments of India, Pakistan and Burma, would be affected.

In most all areas of continental Asia and in the South Sea and the Philippines, Chinese Communists are among the leaders in organizational work, according to documents which detail their activities.

Chinese Communists are particularly active in the Philippines, Indo-China, Burma and Hongkong.

Evolve In Philippines

In the Philippines, their organization has evolved from the "Chinese Detachment" which fought against the Japanese. Then it became the "Resistance Army," and finally the "Great Democratic League," now forced into the underground by Filipino authorities.

In Indo-China, the two leading Red organizations are the Indo-China Liberation League and the Chinese Democratic League.

In Indonesia, the Chinese Communists are a full-fledged party, with offshoots in the form of the Workers Party and the Socialist Youth Party, which they are seeking to weld into an amalgamated Leftist Front Party.

In Burma they operate as the Burmese Marxist League, the Free League, the Socialist Party and the People's Volunteer Group.

Active In Siam

In Siam, the South China Bureau has a base of operations. About half the Burmese Communists are local Chinese residents.

There are two major Red organizations in Malaya. One acts openly as the "Whites," and the other, a secret organization, calls itself the "Red" Communists. The dominating influence in Malaya likewise is Chinese.

The seeds for the Red program in India and Pakistan were sown in the recent Far East youth conference held in Calcutta. The Chinese Communist radio made no secret of its support of the conference. Daily, its broadcasts to the world were concerned with the progress, aims and purposes of the conference.

In Hongkong, the Communist South China League had its headquarters. Most of the Communist political and propaganda strategy for Malaya, Burma, Siam and the other South Pacific areas is mapped in Hongkong and distributed from there.

The evidence of Communist activity from the Arctic Circle to below the equator has been brought up to date, and through reports from one city after another runs the thread of Chinese Communist domination and leadership.

It is this tie, qualified sources point out, that links the problem of American aid to China with the puzzle of how to contain Communism in the rest of the world.

A study of these reports, they say, will reveal the position in which the United States would find itself if Red encirclement is completed. Only isolated outposts of the Western Allies would remain—in South Korea, Japan, Guam, Okinawa and the Ryukyus, all securely contained within the prongs of the Communist arc.

Moonshiners Revel When Moon Shines Bright In Orient

TOKYO, April 22 (U.P.)—They are brewing doboroku by the light of the Honshu moon these nights.

Doboroku is a Japanese illicitly-distilled rice wine. Ever since local hill billies killed a government agent at Kawasaki the men with badges travel in groups.

It took 300 police in 20 prowl cars to raid the moonshine center of Fukuroda, 100 miles northeast of Tokyo, last month. They could not take away all the evidence—there was too much of it. So agents smashed 100 stills and turned the village streets into rivers of untaxed wine.

Camps Abound

The Tokyo financial affairs bureau, which is revenue agency for most of Honshu island, estimates there are at least 200 moonshine camps in nine prefectures around and including Tokyo.

Each camp has one to three stills. A still costs about 50,000 yen, or $250 black market, which is the only rate moonshiners go by.

In fact, a Japanese moonshine mill breaks twice as many laws as its American counterpart. Unlike plentiful corn in the United States, rice and malt used to make the native brew is bought on the black market as well as illegally sold as a finished product.

Three Gallons A Day

The average illegal distillery—which usually operates in the open turns out three gallons of moonshine daily. It sells for about 1,000 yen a gallon.

Last year 2,900 cases of bootlegging were unearthed by authorities, who levied 10,000,000 yen in fines and seized 15,000 bushels of black market rice and 65 bushels of black market malt.

It's a hard racket to stop.

As in the United States, moonshining is a mountain industry. And 84 per cent of Japan is mountains.

HELICOPTER DOES JOB

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (U.P.)—A helicopter was pressed into service by the New York State Electric and Gas Corp. to inspect 250 miles of lines in southern New York and northern Pennsylvania. The job took four days.

Business Men Urged To Help Save Derelicts On 'Skid Rows'

CHICAGO, April 22 (U.P.) — The American Business Men's Research Foundation says that derelicts on the nation's "skid rows" should be salvaged because of the "shot-in-the-arm" they could give United States industry.

"If industry conducted a campaign to save human scrap as it does to collect metal and rags," the foundation asserted, "thousands of workers would be added to American enterprise and the demand for goods would be increased sharply."

The organization, which represents more than 10,000 business men and some 50 industries throughout the country, cited Chicago as a good example.

It said if the 80,000 down-and-outers in Chicago could be rehabilitated, "the wealth of the country could be increased by $100,000,000 a year."

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Ex-Naval Officer Granted Membership In YWCA Group

RICHMOND, Va., April 22 (U.P.)—Dick Gibbs has just done something no other male has ever been able to do—join the Young Women's Christian Association. His entry was approved by the national board of the Y.W.C.A.

Dick, an ensign on an aircraft carrier during the war, dropped into the Y.W.C.A. here to finish up some research looking toward a degree in social work. He soon became a favorite with the staff and members.

So it was suggested that maybe he would like to stay on with the Richmond branch as teen-age director, the first male to crash the sacred portals for a full-time job.

Now he is recreation leader, dance coach, juke box attendant, vocational counsellor, man-of-all-talents and friend to the young girls of Richmond.

Truman Signs Reciprocal Trade Treaty With Czech Government

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22—President Truman today issued a proclamation putting into effect a new reciprocal trade treaty between the United States and the Communist government of Czechoslovakia.

The President acted in the face of strong protests by Republican members of Congress because of Czechoslovakia's status as one of the Russian satellite states opposed to the Marshall plan for European recovery.

Secretary of State Marshall, however, has taken the position that American condemnation of the Communist coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia has not affected the legal obligations of the United States under the general traffic and trade agreement concluded at Geneva last October.

Shipments Are Controlled

Czechoslovakia was a party to this agreement together with 22 other countries.

The State department, in announcing that the Czech treaty is effective as of April 21, pointed out that any of the concessions granted by the United States can be withdrawn if increased imports from Czechoslovakia cause or threaten serious injury to domestic producers in this country. The State department said:

"In addition to this safeguard with respect to import, the United States also exercises export controls to protect the American economy generally, to promote the objectives of foreign policy, and to safeguard national security.

"Since March 1, 1948, no shipments to European destinations, including Czechoslovakia, can be made without appropriate license. These export controls prevent shipment of goods contrary to the national interests of the United States."

The Czech government, in a statement filed with the United Nations a month ago, was the tenth of the Geneva signatories to give effect to the general agreement. Other countries which have taken similar action include Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Canada, Australia and Cuba.

Under the general agreement, the United States makes tariff concessions to Czechoslovakia representing approximately $22.7 millions in terms of 1937 trade. The concessions cover about 64 per cent of American pre-war imports from Czechoslovakia, including household china, table and kitchen glassware, jewelry, shoes, gloves and hops.

Czechoslovakia grants concessions to the United States of approximately $31.6 millions in terms of 1937 trade. These cover about 80 percent of Czechoslovakia's total pre-war imports from the United States.

STATE JURISTS ENTERTAINED—The Chief Justice and five other members of the Texas Supreme Court and the head of the Sixth Court of Civil Appeals are shown above at Longview, Tex., April 16 with Carl Estes, newspaper publisher, who entertained them. Even Seven Constables Unable To Evict New Orleans Woman

NEW ORLEANS, April 22 (U.P.)—The seven constables in New Orleans who evict people have a problem in a woman with a 92-year-old mother.

Every time they go to evict the woman, she disappears through the back door, leaving her mother to face the constables.

"Time after time we have been in her house to serve the notice," one constable said. "Every time she was gone. We would find her mother in bed naked. We couldn't put the old lady out like that and we couldn't dress her.

Honor System Works Okay In Michigan Cripple's Cafe

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 22 (U.P.)—Customers make themselves at home in the restaurant operated by Pauline Enz.

Miss Enz, a cripple since childhood, for three years has run her cafe on the honor system. The customers not only wait on themselves, but take their dishes back to the sink and punch the cash register.

She started the honor system three years ago when help became scarce. "Everyone likes it so much better this way," she said.

New River Tow Expected To Cut Freight Costs By 50 Percent

St. Louis, April 22. (U.P.)—Longer than the Queen Mary and expected to cut river freight costs by 50 per cent, the revolutionary "integrated tow" devised by the Federal lines was being completed today for its maiden voyage on the Mississippi river.

The "integrated tow" is a unit 1200 feet long composed of the towboat Harry Truman and nine barges which fit compactly to form one long streamliner vessel. The towboat itself deatches in the middle and creates a spoon-shaped bow at the front end of the unit while the living quarters and portion housing the two 1600-horsepower diesels remains at the rear of the tow.

Following a test run by the Harry Truman on its own, the complete unit will get its trial on National Maritime day at New Orlans May 22.

Barge lines officials said the tow will have a capacity of nearly 12,000 tons or the equivalent of five 100-car trainloads of freight. However, maximum streamlining and absence of "breaks" along the sides will make it the fastest tow on the river, capable of better than 10 m.p.h.

Veteran San Antonio Policemen Claimed After Brief Illnesses

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (U.P.)—Two San Antonio policemen with a combined service record of 35 years died today after brief illnesses.

Vic R. Gallagher, 38, superintendent of the city police radio, died of pneumonia. He had been ill only a week.

A heart attack claimed the life of Sgt. Ted Suche, 49, chief jailer, who had been on the force 19 years. Gallagher had a 16-year service record.

Consumers Asked To Select Meatless Day

WASHINGTON, April 22 (U.P.)—The government today dropped "meatless Tuesdays" but asked consumers to select their own meatless day each week.

Meatless Tuesdays were started last fall as a voluntary conservation measure.

Meanwhile, the Agriculture department appealed anew for voluntary food conservation. It said continued efforts were necessary to help check inflation in food prices, to conserve food for export and to build up food reserves.

It said that housewives, by using a new department booklet "money-saving main dishes," could cut perhaps as much as one-third off their weekly meat budget costs. Officials said the department had printed 2,500,000 copies of the booklet.

Some 1,000,000 copies will be given to congressmen for distribution to constituents, officials said. The rest will be distributed upon request by the department and by some retail grocery stores.

Manila Elks Club Will Erect Building Over Jap Corpses

MANILA, April 22 (U.P.) — The new $200,000 Manila Elks Club will sit on a foundation of concrete and corpses.

The bodies of an estimated 200 Japanese infantrymen are buried under rubble in the basement of the former clubhouse at the corner of Dewey Boulevard and Luneta Drive. The new club is going up on top of them.

"We've decided that the easiest thing to do is simply to pour the basement full of cement," said the Manila Elks President, W. H. Phillips. "It would take a good six months to pry those bodies and all that junk out of there."

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

MRS. J. W. Walker, who is one of the best looking women on the South Plains as well as one of the most capable speakers, presents a challenging address, as the 300 women who heard her yesterday afternoon at the City Federation tea could tell you.

She is a woman with a vision and what is better she is one who can impart that vision to others. When one hears her in such an address as "What Women Can Do to Win Peace" she realizes if women do not work toward a betterment in the life of the world, then our era is not making its right contribution to history.

• • •

JUDGING from some of the current messes the world has managed to evolve in the immediate as well as distant past, anything that augers for the better is worthy of a thoughtful pause don't you think?

Chiding those who would argue that "it's impossible to get along with Russians and the only way out is war," Mrs. Walker believes that we must continue to struggle toward universal understanding or face an atomic war and annihilation.

We wish that she could be a good will ambassador to brighten up civic and study club gatherings with her looks and her gift of oratory which is spontaneous and delivered without notes When one hears her he is encouraged to go out and do his best to spread the whole truth about our democratic process and to work to bring all men in to appreciation of this American way of life.

CHINESE DISH

AFTER the dinner First Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild [illegible] Wednesday night with Mr and Mrs. Joe Ma, Chinese students attending Texas Tech college as guests, Joe arose and complimented the group on the attractive oriental table decorations and [illegible] on the chicken chop suey [illegible].

"My wife and I were especially interested in the chop suey, because it is the first time we have eaten it," he explained. They liked it, he added.

That tasty melange that is served in Chinese restaurants, as you perhaps know, is an American's idea of a Chinese dish.

APRIL CONVENTIONS

LUBBOCK club and parent-teacher association members and many are in both organizations, are going to be busy next April. For Lubbock is to be host to two district organizations in that month. The 14th district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will convene here.

Right now club women are concentrating their energies toward ticket sales and program plans for the Gainesville circus to be here May 7-8. Three-fourths of the proceeds will go toward the building fund for the Lubbock Women's clubhouse. Who knows but that enough money might be raised to insure the building becoming a reality before the district women meet for their conventions.

It's something to think about.

SEWING HINT—It's not difficult to add new charm to an old suit; in fact we've seen it done quite successfully. Buy a little extra yardage when you buy blouse material. Then add the ruffler attachment of your sewing machine to make extra material into a ruffle to sew onto the hem of your skirt.

Peeking out like a petticoat, it adds a gay decorative note.

HUNGER WON'T WAIT

EVERY club has committees focusing on some phase of gardening and planting. Yet, along with the beginning of gardening in this country, comes an extended challenge to help miraculously with gardens overseas. A number of Lubbockites who have relatives and friends in Europe already have sent seeds to create gardens that will provide vegetables such as Americans have always seen on their tables throughout the summer.

With the knowledge that Europe is vastly in need of help where food is concerned, the National Council of State Garden clubs, Inc., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York 18, N. Y., is sponsoring Seeds of Peace and has invited any interested person to write to that address for information.

For fifty cents you can send a garden unit of 13 kinds of vegetables—enough to plant a garden 40 by 20 feet. The vegetables have been selected by experts who know what will grow in countries where the seeds will be sent and also what the people like to eat. There are standard-sized packets and are guaranteed to meet government standards.

One of these garden units will provide fresh vegetables enough for a family of five for four months and with good ground conditions may yield more for winter storage. The small garden can be worked with few tools and without burdensome labor. Employed workers, old people, women and children—all can maintain Seeds of Peace gardens for the extra calories that are desperately needed to permit them to work, to grow and even to live.

City Federation Culminates Activities

"Every Woman's Tea" Honors Outstanding Club Members

Culminating the season's activities, City Federation of Women's clubs entertained Thursday afternoon in the Hilton hotel ballroom with its second annual "Every Woman's Tea" and presented Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview in an address on "What Women Can Do for Peace." Outstanding women of the member clubs sat on the platform and were introduced at the close of the program by Mrs. Bryan Edwards, retiring Federation president, who gave the welcome and presided.

In an earnest plea for understanding and good will, Mrs. Walker, who is chairman of the Texas division of Woman's Action Committee for Lasting Peace, began her lecture with a few searching questions and the declaration that "we must go on and achieve one world or we face annihilation."

"An enlightened and Christian people must find the way and then show others that way to understanding and good will," she said. "Women of the United States have leisure time in which to instruct themselves. What do you read? What do you study? What do you talk about to your family at the breakfast table?" she asked.

If women insure the preservation of peace they must be informed, they must be tolerant, they must be understanding and they must make democracy work, she pointed out.

"Does it not follow, she questioned, "that the most powerful, the richest nation in the world has the greatest responsibility of any people? What will we women do with this power?"

Present Musical Program

Mrs. Lloyd Croslin arranged a musical program that preceded the talk. These numbers were: Vocal solo, "Indian Love Call" (Friml), Mrs. D. E. Ing, accompanied by Mrs. Marlin R. Smith; violin obligato, Mrs. H. J. Steinhoff; piano solo, "Gardens in the Rain" (Debussy), Mrs. Leon Cavaness; violin solo, "Souvenir" (Drdla), Mrs. Steinhoff, accompanied by Mrs. Don Mitchell; vocal solo, "The Love Pipes of June" (Day), Mrs. Ing, accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

Outstanding club women who were honored and the organizations represented were: Mesdames W. A. Glover, Allegro; A. W. Young, Athenaeum; A. F. Rasor, Business and Professional Women; C. A. Spencer, Clement-Sorosis; William Bradbury, Delphian; Ivy Bushyhead, District 18, Texas Graduate Nurses; Ernest Conley, Ex-Newcomers; Tom Foster, Junior Twentieth Century; Lewis Mills, Lubbock Study; R. C. Badgett, Lubbock Garden; William G. Dingus, Sorosis; J. H. Brock, Lubbock Junior Garden.

Also Mesdames Garland Newsom, Lubbock Woman's Forum; W. B. Sides, Lubbock Woman's; A. W. McKee, Lubbock Music; Marie Owens, Las Vistas; D. B. Pope, Garden Study; Byrnes Temple, Pierian Sorosis; Gordon Sanders, Progressive Child Study; E. J. Lowrey, Shakespeare; G. E. Dawson, Sunshine Child Study; Mrs. Leroy T. Patton, Twentieth Century; Lubbock branch, American Association of University Women, Miss Grace Padley; Bud to Blossom, Miss Zera Dopson.

Introduces Officers

Mrs. Edwards introduced the incoming officers who will serve a two-year term: Mesdames L. D. Marshall, president; Russell Denison, first vice president; J. D. Hinson, telephoning secretary; Jimmie Cunningham, treasurer; Garland Newsom, parliamentarian.

Others elected on alternate year were: Mesdames Clarence Whiteside, second vice president; Raymond Painter, recording secretary; Gordon Treadaway, auditor and Aubrey Edwards, historian.

Tribute to the officers and committees who had worked with her was paid by Mrs. Edwards in closing remarks. "Each of you has served in an official capacity, as well as a regular member of the Federation, and has become a treasured friend," she said.

Mrs. Marshall, in accepting responsibility of the office, asked the group to look forward with vision instead of being content to rest on past laurels.

Woman's Forum, Clement-Sorosis and Lubbock Junior Garden club members were hostesses for a tea hour. Mesdames J. G. Keyes and Clarence Whiteside presided at the refreshment board which was arranged in U-shape and covered with a yellow cloth.

A maypole of gardenias and pastel daisies from which extended pastel ribbons was main decor and the table was garlanded with fern and gardenias.

Three hundred women were in attendance.

Chinese Student Is Guild Speaker

The need for brotherhood in promoting world peace was discussed by Joe Ma, student from China at Texas Technological college, for Wesleyan Service guild at First Methodist church Wednesday night. He spoke also on the influence of Christian colleges in his country.

The meeting, which was the monthly dinner meeting of the guild, was attended by approximately 85 members and guests. Hostesses were Misses Lucille Finley and Ann Kelly, Mesdames Faye Cogdill, Tom Cannon, C. A. Burrus, W. P. Garvin, H. I. Robinson and A. F. Rasor.

"In this present day, we cannot live alone as if we were the only country in the world," Mr. Ma said.

He said the first Methodist missionary to China left the states April 15, 1847, arriving there almost five months later on Sept. 4, 1847. Now, the boat trip can be made across the ocean in 14 days and the trip can be made by plane in 48 hours. He cited that as an example of manner in which the world is being brought close together.

Only by promoting understanding among peoples can the world be good, he said.

Appreciate Missionaries

He said the Chinese truly appreciate what missionaries have done for the people there. He said that most of the higher type Chinese families, even if not Christians themselves, want their children to go to Christian schools.

Mentioning civil war and efforts of the communists in China, he said that in comparison to China, American living is "like living in paradise."

He said only Christianity can prevent war.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Genelle Wilhite, program chairman. Mrs. R. S. Bearden, guild president, presided. Mrs. Lillian Butler played piano selections, including China's national anthem, and "A Chinese Quarrel," and accompanied Mrs. Ma, a special guest with her husband, as she sang "This Is My Father's World" in Chinese.

At the dinner, conducted in Fellowship hall preceding the meeting in the chapel, table decorations were iris and items from China. Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor, gave the invocation.

Special guests included Miss Frances Urban, former member of the guild here and now on the faculty of Ohio State university in Columbus, who is visiting here, and Mrs. E. N. Scarlett from Throckmorton. Members of Wesleyan Service guilds of Asbury and Pioneer Methodist churches were among guests.

PROBLEM SOLVED

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.) — Mrs. Lillian Yarbrough got a letter from a friend at Trenton, N. J., the stamp held onto the envelope by paper clip. The stamp didn't have any glue on it.

P.-T. A. Units Have Thursday Programs

Dr. Richard Sloan who was guest speaker at a Thursday afternoon meeting of Central Ward P-TA at the school discussed "Personality." He was introduced by Mrs. Harvey Dunn.

The program was opened with a prayer by Miss Martha Mathis; Mrs. Sam Allred presided. A play on health was presented by fifth grade pupils of Mrs. Ance English and guitar numbers were played by Sammy Mack, assisted by I. D. Dunagan.

Alfred Smith, principal, presented a life P-TA membership to Mrs. Allred.

The district P-TA meeting held in Anson last week was reported by Mrs. D. M. Beach and the Central Ward scrapbook which won first place at the meeting was displayed.

Attendance count was won by rooms of Mrs. J. T. Shaver and Mrs. English.

GIVEN TALENT SHOW

A Mother's Day talent show was presented by the following pupils of George M. Hunt school for the P-TA:

Marsha Brock and Mary Jane Hartley played piano solos; Billie Gray Haney, Sandra Pritchard and James Pritchard gave vocal solos; Bob White and Sybil Sue Marion gave a vocal duet; Peggy Jim Owens read a poem; and the entire group sang the song, "Mother." Tommy Anthis was master of ceremonies, Mrs. Lattie Rankin directed the program and Mrs. Jeanette Jenkins played the piano.

"Discipline of the Child" was discussed by a guest, Dr. R. C. Douglas. A prayer was offered by Mrs. J. C. Burns.

Mrs. Ross Tillinghast, president, reported the district P-TA meeting and presented certificates to 33 parents who have completed courses in states procedure, parliamentary law, home improvement and visual aid and to 12 teachers who have completed an adult education course. The P-TA won third place with its history book and honorable mention with its publicity book at the district meeting.

Seventy-three persons attended the afternoon program; Mrs. Rankin's room won the attendance count with 24 present.

PUPILS PERFORM

Following a program given by sixth grade pupils of Mrs. Beatrice Comer and Miss Grace North for Sanders P-TA, a member of Alcoholics Anonymous spoke on the subject, "Which Path Will Our Children Follow."

A cake sale for May 1 was planned and Mesdames Cecil Thomas, Winnie Flynt, Eubanks and C. H. Tisdel were placed on the committee in charge of arrangements.

Room count was won by the rooms of Mrs. Grace Smith and Miss North.

MRS. GREEN SPEAKS

A program for Dupre P-TA given at the school cafeteria included a talk by Mrs. Nancy Green on "What the Tuberculosis Association Is Doing In Lubbock" and numbers by the Dupre orchestra.

Mrs. L. L. Miller installed officers for 1948-49.

Afterwards, a tea hour was held with Mrs. E. B. Kelly in charge. The retiring president, Mrs. Alfred Crosby, and the new president, Mrs. Bruce Craig, presided at the tea table which was decorated with spring blossoms.

27 Trappist Monks Relax Rules During Three Day 'Voyage'

GLORIETA, N. M., April 22 (INS)—A three-day "adventure" ended today when a silent group of bearded men carried their scant baggage from a train at Glorieta, New Mexico flagstop.

The 27 travelers were members of the Roman Catholic Cistorian order, founded more than eight centuries ago in France, and more commonly known as Trappists.

The Trappist brothers are vowed to silence and poverty and do not eat meat, fish or eggs except during illness or on a long "voyage."

The stern rules of the order were suspended briefly to enable the long journey from the monastery at Cumberland, R. I., to New Mexico.

They traveled on pullmans, ate ham sandwiches and a spokesman said even the rule of silence was relaxed.

New home of the Trappist monks will be Our Lady of Guadalupe abbey, until recently the largest dude ranch in New Mexico. The luxurious furnishings have been removed and the suites divided into tiny stalls in keeping with the code of the religious order.

At the new abbey, near Santa Fe, the monks will resume their cloistered life, rising each day at 2 a.m., for prayer and simple farming chores.

SAVORY STUFFED VEAL CHOPS
(5 servings)
Giving veal this double appeal will get you a flock of compliments! And chops fried sizzling crisp with Crisco are sure to be digestible.
5 large veal chops, 1¼" thick
1 cup well-seasoned bread stuffing
1 egg, beaten · ½ cup fine crumbs
Crisco for frying
All Measurements Level: Make a deep slash in outer side of each chop. Fill each "pocket" with 2 to 3 tablespoons of stuffing and fasten with toothpicks. Coat chops with seasoned flour, dip in beaten egg and then in fine crumbs. Fry until brown in hot Crisco. (No unpleasant smoke or smell when you fry with Crisco!) Cover pan and cook slowly until chops are tender—about ½ hour. Serve with apple rings sautéed in Crisco. (And the whole family can eat their fill—9 out of 10 doctors say foods fried properly with Crisco are digestible.)

Texas Farmers Show Increasing Interest In Use Of Fertilizers

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22—Texas farmers are becoming increasingly conscious of the value of fertilizers—and of the fact that the supply won't meet the demand.

Studies just concluded by the House Agriculture committee uncovered these figures:

The average consumption of fertilizers in Texas from 1935-39 was only 79,251 (short) tons annually. The consumption in 1941 was up to 142,666 tons, and each year since then it has increased steadily until the amount used in 1946 was 396,202 tons. That is the latest year on which figures are available.

South Realizes Need

As the decades roll by, the soil wears out and farmers find fertilizers more and more useful to increase production. That is why in the old southern states where the land has been tilled nearly 200 years longer than in Texas they long recognized the need for enriching the soil.

In North Carolina, which leads all states in fertilizer consumption, the amount used in the 1935-39 period was 1,119,246 tons annually. This was increased to 1,717,353 tons in 1946. The comparative figures for Virginia are 405,742 and 684,919.

Committee Makes Report

Based on its investigations of the fertilizer situation throughout the nation, the committee has drawn up a report setting forth these points:

1. Civilian production of basic fertilizer materials will be a little larger than last year.
2. Exports from civilian production will be a little smaller than last year.
3. Transportation difficulties will be less severe than during the last planting season—unless strikes or other unpredictable delaying factors come up.
4. In spite of these favorable conditions, the demand of American farmers is expected to exceed supply by 10 to 20 per cent.
5. The worst shortage will be in solid nitrogen material for top dressing and this will fall most heavily on southeastern parts of the country where this type is widely used.

Oppose Heavy Exports

Texas farmers who know that large quantities of the basic ingredients of fertilizers are produced in their state hate to see that production go not only out of Texas but out of the country. But it's part of an over-all foreign policy—increased production abroad cuts down on relief food shipments.

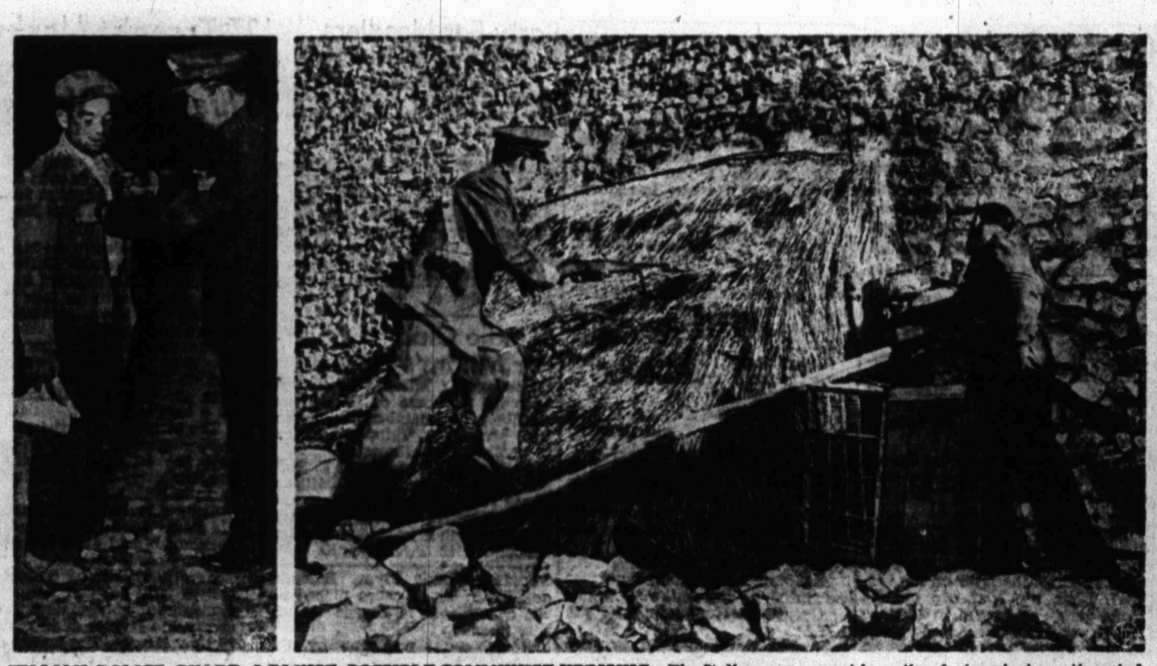

An example of this is the big Cactus Ordnance plant near Dumas and Etter in the Panhandle. It is owned by the government. The Army is currently negotiating with four different companies who want to operate it under lease. One of the big conditions which the Army is insisting upon is that the output shall go entirely or at least largely into export to step up food production in foreign countries.

New York Police Irritated Over Emergency Stork Call

NEW YORK, April 22 (U.P.)—Police got an emergency call from a man who explained in broken English that their help was needed at an impending birth.

When officers arrived, they found Willie Thompson, a Chinese, excited over the condition of his black cat. A few minutes later an ambulance arrived on the same errand.

An examination showed, however, that it would be some time before the kittens were born. Police advised Thompson to call the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals next time.

ITALIAN POLICE GUARD AGAINST POSSIBLE COMMUNIST UPRISING—The Italian government is on the alert against an attempted coup by Italian Communists after the critical elections. Italian police search everywhere to prevent Reds from accumulating arms. At left, a Carabinieri officer searches a worker in Montecelio. Noted Conservation Authority Dies Fighting Grass Fire

BARADOO, Wis., April 22 (AP)—Dr. Aldo Leopold, 62, nationally known conservation authority, died yesterday while helping to fight a grass fire near his summer home.

It was not decided officially tonight whether Dr. Leopold suffered a fatal heart attack or was burned to death. His body was found lying on a patch of burned over marsh grass but was not badly charred. It was reported he had received medical treatment recently.

Dr. Leopold was a member of the Wisconsin state conservation commission since 1943, and was a professor of wildlife management on the faculty of the University of Wisconsin for the last 15 years. He was a past president of the American Wildlife society, served on President Roosevelt's special committee on wildlife restoration in 1934 and the author of several books and magazine articles on forest and game management.

Lubbock High School Girl 'Adopts' War Child In England; To Aid In Support

Announcement that 15-year-old Nancy Dealey, sophomore in Lubbock High school, has "adopted" Gwendoline Jones, 13-year-old girl in England, has been received here from Mrs. Edna Blue, international chairman of the Foster Parents Plan for War Children, Inc., which has American headquarters in New York.

Happy over the adoption plan under which she will contribute to support of the British girl, the Lubbock student wrote her first letter Sunday to the girl in England.

She had applied before Christmas to "adopt" a girl under the foster parents' plan and was notified recently of the arrangement.

Miss Dealey is the daughter of Mrs. Harriett B. Dealey of 1647 Thirteenth.

In her notice of arrangements for the adoption, Miss Dealey was told that before the war the Jones family lived a peaceful, comfortable existence, with Jones working as a mechanic with a salary in pre-war Britain which was sufficient to support his wife and four daughters.

Mrs. Jones had been a semi-invalid many years and during the war could not obtain nutritious foods and medicines that she needed. In 1945, she became gravely ill and died late that year. Jones has been in ill health since his wife's death and unable to work steadily. When he did work, he had to leave his four young daughters at home alone. He appealed to the Foster Parents' Plan for assistance and arrangements were made for Gwendoline and her sister, Caroline, to enter the Linton colony operated by the Parents Plan organization.

The notice to Miss Dealey stated that, "We are confident that plan aid and the knowledge that she has a foster parent will succeed in restoring Gwendoline to her natural high spirits. We think that you will enjoy becoming acquainted with Gwendoline, and we know that she will find a great deal of comfort and pleasure in having you as her foster 'mother'."

The child formerly was sponsored by a foster parent who no longer is contributing to her support.

The Foster Parents' Plan for War Children operates projects in France, England, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Poland and China and cares for children of 15 nationalities. After a person applies to be a foster parent, he receives a photograph and brief history of the child and pays $15 a month for support.

Foster parents include Mrs. James Couzens, Tallulah Bankhead, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Fred Allen, Jack Benny, Kay Kyser and Mary Pickford.

FIGHT HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The American Trucking Association is considering a national drive to enlist 6,500,000 truck drivers in a highway safety movement. Edward J Buhner, president of the eastern region, warned that the volume of road accidents would increase greatly this year unless immediate action is taken.

MRS. G. J. LEATHERS

COULD HARDLY WALK ACROSS ROOM; FINDS RELIEF IN RETONGA

"No One Could Have Been More Weakened and Run-Down Than I Was," Says Mrs. G. J. Leathers, a Mother of Eight Children Who Found Great Relief In Retonga

"I suffered so much for so long I don't see how I'm here to tell about the wonderful relief Retonga brought to me," states Mrs. G. J. Leathers, well-known resident of 300 Crumley St. S.W., Atlanta, Ga. The mother of eight children, Mrs. Leathers was born and raised in Fanning county, but has lived in Atlanta for the past 14 years. She gratefully tells about her case:

"It was awful the way I suffered from acid indigestion. I had no appetite for the little food I did manage to force down, and for a year or so I had to live on soft foods, soup and broths. Gas would form on my stomach so bad that the pressure at times seemed to cut off my breath. I felt so weakened and jumpy that I didn't seem to have the strength to walk across the room. Just the least noise would wake me up and I didn't know what a good night's sleep was. I had to take strong laxatives for constipation. Every muscle in my body ached and pained me. No one could have felt more worn out than I did. Many times I just gave up and stayed in bed.

"Thanks to Retonga and the relief it brought, I am now able to do my housework and I feel so good I help my husband out several hours a day with his restaurant business. My nervous indigestion has been relieved. I have a good appetite and eat anything I want without a particle of worry about it. I sleep sound and restful and those awful muscular aches and pains have let up. My friends all want to know what I have done, I look and feel so much better. It is a real pleasure to recommend Retonga to them."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute—insist on the original. You can get Retonga at Mark Halsey Drug Stores and all other good drug stores. Adv.

Defense Secretary To Appear Before Legion Security Group

BEAUMONT, April 22 (AP)—Defense Secretary James Forrestal will appear before the American Legion's National Security commission Tuesday in Washington, as the veterans' group lends its efforts toward helping to solve the problems of armed forces unification, Perry Brown of Beaumont, commission chairman, announced here this afternoon.

The Legions' National Security commission, which the Beaumonter has headed for four years, will be in session Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Washington. In his appearance Tuesday, Secretary Forrestal will be accompanied by his top aides in the Department of Defense, Brown said.

Forrestal will be asked for any recommendations he may have for any possible modifications in the unification law, Brown said.

"We are deeply interested," Chairman Brown added, "in doing whatever is possible to eliminate internal bickerings in our new national Defense department. It is only natural that strong differences of opinion should arise between the various branches of Army, Navy and Air forces, for we must remember that these departments have been pursuing their respective ways for many years."

During the three-day session the Legion commission will enlist also the aid of Senator Vandenberg and Senator Connally, leaders of the Senate's Foreign Affairs committee, according to Brown.

"It is just as important—perhaps more so—that we present a united front on foreign relations as we do among ourselves at home," he asserted.

As chairman of the American Legion's National Defense commission, Brown directed the efforts of that organization toward a unification of America's armed forces under one leadership. He worked on this subject for three years. The bill as adopted by Congress closely followed the principles of the plan adopted by the American Legion, he said.

U. S. Ambassador To Philippines Will Sail For Home Wednesday

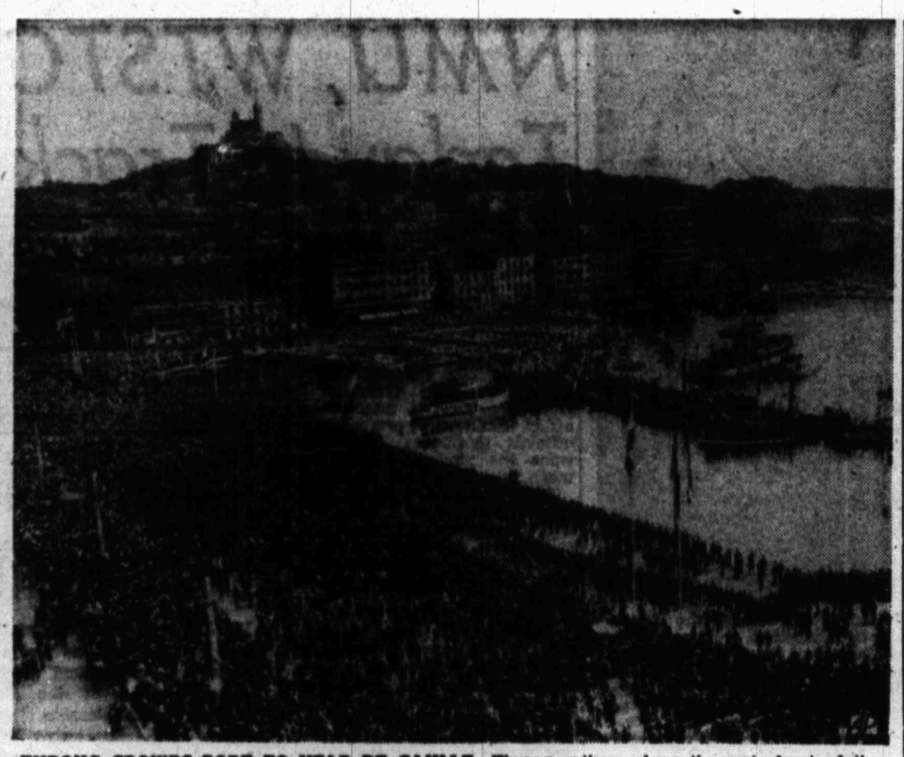

MANILA, April 22 (INS)—U. S. Ambassador Emmet O'Neal will sail from Manila for the United States aboard the liner President Cleveland next Wednesday.

O'Neal announced today that he plans to confer with President Truman and State department officials in Washington.

This Sunday the American ambassador will make an address at the funeral of the late Philippine President Manuel Roxas who died of a heart ailment April 15.

MAN KILLED IN WRECK

CLEBURNE, April 22 (AP)—Earl N. Lacewell, about 50, Rio Vista farmer and rancher, was killed today when his pick-up truck was hit by the southbound Santa Fe streamliner, the Texas Chief, at Pownetta crossing, five miles south of here.

Utah-Idaho District Chooses Rotary International Governor

BOISE, Idaho, April 22 (INS)—Gordon M. Baxter of Ogden, Utah, was chosen today as Utah-Idaho district governor of Rotary international for 1948 and 1949, succeeding Theodore M. Wegener of Boise.

Baxter, the only nominee for the post, will not be formally elected until the international convention at Rio De Janeiro in May. He was chosen at the district convention at Boise, which ends tonight.

About 300 delegates today heard Dr. Marvel Beem, past 107th district governor of Los Angeles; Glenn Culp of Salt Lake City and Dr. H. Aldous Dixon, president of Weber college at Ogden.

C. C. Brownfield Of Roscoe Dies After Long Illness

After a long serious illness, C. C. Brownfield, 92, of Roscoe died Wednesday afternoon at his home.

Surviving are his wife, a son, W. A. Brownfield of Lubbock route 6; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Eades of Lubbock route 4; two grandsons, Andrew and Berry Brownfield of Lubbock, and numerous grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending on arrival of relatives from California.

WAA Sales In Hawaii Cleared

HONOLULU, April 22 (INS)—A trio of congressional investigators ended their probe of war surplus sales in the Hawaiian islands tonight and gave the War Assets administration a clean bill of health.

Edmund Donahue, chief counsel for the house of representatives surplus property sub-committee, said that there was no truth to rumors of "irregularities" in surplus sales in Hawaii.

Donahue also declared that he found nothing to substantiate reports that war surplus property in Hawaii was going to Soviet Russia. He reported that a load of aviation oil was shipped out of Honolulu for Vladivostok in Siberia last year but that "nothing of government stocks in Hawaii had gone to Russia. The aviation oil was part of private company stocks.

No Unusual Violations

Other members of the investigating party besides Donahue are James Falvey, sub-committee chief investigator, and Otis Ellis, WAA legislative representative to Congress. They plan to return to Washington tomorrow.

The trio spent more than a month in Hawaii going over records of millions of dollars in surplus sales.

Donahue said:

"There won't be much in my report about wrongdoing in the sale of government surplus in the Hawaiian islands. In only a couple of instances were we able to find anything that might hint of collusion between buyers and government agents. Even in those possible instances, the amounts involved were negligible."

Donahue said the biggest problem faced by WAA men in Hawaii was returning certain material to the armed forces. He explained that much material previously declared surplus has been called back.

SHIP TO RETURN BODIES

ANTWERP, Belgium, April 22 (AP)—The U. S. Army transport Lawrence Victory left Antwerp today carrying 2,000 American war dead from the European theater. The Lawrence Victory is enroute to New York via Cherbourg, France, where she will take aboard 2,300 more dead from American war cemeteries in France.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blot disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

NMU, WTSTC, Tech Compete Today In Track And Field Meet

Texas Tech holds its second track meet of the home season this afternoon in the old football stadium, with University of New Mexico and West Texas State Teachers college furnishing the competition.

Officials at Tech were informed late yesterday that the Texas School of Mines track and field squad, originally scheduled to make the meet a quadrangular affair, would not be present. Miner officials said that they didn't want the students missing too much time from their classes.

Last week, when Tech, Texas Mines, New Mexico A. and M. and West Texas State Teachers college ran a quadrangular meet at El Paso, the Red Raiders came from behind to squeeze out the Miners.

WTSTC Squad Small

Coach Maxey McKnight again looks for a strong showing by the track portion of the Raider squad, with any unexpectedly good showing by the field men a definite help. If the field men can gain several points, they will make it that much easier for the cinder-path runners to add the clinching points.

West Texas' Buffaloes probably will not bring down enough men to threaten the Raiders and the Lobos, with the meet turning into a dual match of strength. It also will be a good indication of both the Raiders and Lobos probable strength in the Border Conference meet in May.

Charley Reynolds of Odessa again will spearhead the Tech team's fight for first place, with able assistance from Charles Pinnell and Ed Clepper in particular. These three men scored the majority of the Raider points at El Paso and promise to be the strongest threats for individual titles at the Border loop meet.

Other help will come from such men as Moon Mullins and Seth Murphey in the dash events; Ernest and Edgar Hawkins in the quarter and distance races; Costin Bufkin in the 440-yard dash and relays; and James Cruser in the distance events.

Clepper, Pinnell and Dingy Davis form the main Tech threat in the field events.

Three Westerner Golfers Score Tourney Victories

DALLAS, April 22 (Special)—Three members of the Lubbock High school links squad entered the second round of the state schoolboy championship golf tourney with impressive first round wins today over the Cedar Crest layout.

Medalist Ross Mitchell defeated Billy Hise of Abilene, 3 and 1, in one of the feature matches of the day, with Billy Tatum winning over Dick Vallot of Freeport, 2 up. George Canon chalked up the third Lubbock win with a 1 up triumph over Bob Carpenter of Sunset High of Dallas.

Only Lubbock player to be defeated was Edward Bean, who lost a 3 and 2 decision to Rex Munger of Thomas Jefferson, San Antonio.

Pairings for the second round Friday send Mitchell against Dickie Crabtree of Crozier Tech, Dallas; Tatum will battle Don McCormick of Amarillo; and Canon is slated to meet Edwin Kizer of Austin.

Wrestler Facing Battery Count After Fan Suffers Injuries

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (INS)—Martino Angelo, professional wrestler, faced a battery charge today after he applied his grunt-and-groan antics to a spectator outside the ring.

Angelo's victim, 6-foot Cecil Bandy, said that Angelo jarred six teeth loose and inflicted head wounds.

Boys Club Will See Cue Expert In Exhibition

Tonight at 7:30 at the Lubbock Boys club, billiard fans will be treated to an exhibition by one of the masters of the cue, Andrew Ponzi former world's champion and holder of several other championships.

Ponzi, an instructor to college men and women, will demonstrate for an hour and a half tonight and the public is invited to attend. No charge will be made.

To Demonstrate Art

The billiard artist, who holds the world's record high run of 153 in match play, will demonstrate three principals in billiards. First he will show how to enjoy the game, which is one that can be enjoyed throughout life. Then he will explain six fundamentals of billiards, demonstrating with shots. And his third point will be to give helpful hints to bring each individual's game up to intercollegiate tournament caliber.

Ponzi's appearance is being made possible by the Association of College Unions, the Billiard Association of America and the Boys Clubs of America. He also will give free personal instruction in billiards.

CARDINALS OPTION DIERING

ST. LOUIS, April 22 (INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals tonight released Outfielder Chuck Diering to Rochester of the International league on option. Diering is subject to recall on 24-hour notice.

LARSEN GOES WESTERN—Larry Larsen, general manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, who is from the East, is tall enough to be seen above the crowd, but he'll really be conspicious from now on if he wears the Western hat and boots presented him by the Lubbock Jaycees at the West Texas-New Mexico opening game here Wednesday night. Larsen, left, is pictured receiving the big hat and boots from Joe Holmes, sporting goods store owner, center. Jim Black, KCBD sports announcer, who was master of ceremonies is at the right, holding the microphone. The gifts were given the Jaycees by an anonymous donor. (Dallas-Miller Photo).

Hub City Squad To Tangle With Borger Tonight

Rain and wet grounds combined last night to prevent the Hubbers from going after their first victory in the West Texas-New Mexico League race, but barring accidents between now and 8 p. m., the Hubbers will go after it at Rosenthal Field against the Borger Gassers tonight.

Manager Jackie Sullivan is sticking with his choice of Billy George "Cotton" Russell to hurl tonight, hoping that the 18-year old Fort Worth blond-top has one of his better nights.

Fries On Mound

Russell hasn't pitched since last week, when he hurled a six-hit, 7-4 victory over Big Spring here. The youthful Hubber flinger is beginning to show signs of rounding into a valuable chattel and his first league test tonight will try him farther.

In the spring home exhibition games, Russell has earned three victories without defeat, throwing a total of 25 innings. He has walked 16 men and struckout 24 during this stretch, while giving up 30 hits good for 25 runs. He has hit two batters and uncorked three wild pitchers, but seldom has been extremely wild.

Borger probably will pitch Clayton Fries, a southpaw, who last year won 17 games against the loss of 12. Fries is one of the most effective hurlers in the league and, when he is right, is hard to beat.

Gassers Unimpressive

Borger finished sixth last season and they will bring virtually the same team to Lubbock tonight. Manager Eddie Carnett, who is playing center field, has a good double play combination in Verdun and Larry Gilchrist at second and short respectively. Carnett himself boasts a strong throwing arm.

Otherwise, the Gassers have not been impressive in the two games they have played in Lubbock so far. They have a fair hitting team, not much balance and not much in power, but a batting order that can be treacherous with shorter hits.

Loboes Swamped By Dukes, 24-4

LAMESA, April 22 (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes prayed for rain tonight and they were rewarded—the Albuquerque Dukes showered 24 base hits all over the diamond for a 24-4 victory and revenge for their opening day defeat here yesterday.

Three Lobo hurlers were unable to stem the tide of base knocks flung out by the Dukes and Manager Sturdivant almost tried the batboy in an effort to halt the carnage.

Net Matches Today To Open Region 1 Competition Here

Class A and B tennis hopefuls will open competition this morning in the preliminaries of the Region 1 Interscholastic league meet, with the drawing for pairings slated at 8:30 o'clock at the Tech gymnasium and play scheduled to get underway at 9 o'clock.

Girls will play their matches on the Tech courts, but boys divisions will be unreeled at the Dupre courts and at Wagner park in southwest Lubbock. Both A and B contestants will compete in the same division, officials said, but the Class AA net bracket will be run off separately Saturday.

14 Schools Entered

Fourteen schools will have representatives in the A and B meet today, with Wichita Falls, Electra, Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock battling for honors in the Class AA division. Winners will be qualified to compete in the state Interscholastic league meet at Austin May 7-8.

Approximately 150 cinder path teams from the Panhandle, South Plains and southwest Texas will tangle in the three-way track and field carnival preliminaries at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Tech oval, officials have announced, with finals slated at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The regional track and field meet will be conducted in separate divisions for Class AA, A and B teams, under the new TIL organization setup, and individual performers must win one of the top two places in an event to qualify for the state meet. Previously, all contestants were grouped in one division at the regional and state events, regardless of classification.

Lubbock High's Westerners will be shooting for their fifth consecutive Region 1 championship Saturday, with Pampa's potent Harvesters rated as the strongest challenger. The Lubbock team is well-balanced and features some of the top sprinters and one of the best mile relay quarters in West Texas, but the Pampans boast speedster Carl (Red) Mayes and a crack sprint relay group.

Seminole Crew Is Strong

Mayes is considered certain to cop the 100 and 220 yard dash crowns and first place in the broad jump, which will give the Harvesters an opportunity to win the meet title if some of the other AA schools—Amarillo, Plainview or Wichita Falls—take enough points away from the Lubbock representatives in other events.

Seminole looms as an odds-on favorite in the Class A division, although Andrews, Pecos and Lefors all are rated as strong contenders. Seminole is sparked by a speedy group of sprinters, headed by dependable Val Joe Walker, but the Lefors delegation will be headed by Joe Ogden, who has chalked up a 9.9 century this year.

Sturdy Jack Young of Andrews will be favored in the broad jump and hurdles and Pecos will depend on ace dashman Bill Fairley.

BUMS TAKE THREE HOURS TO WIN

Dodgers Beat New York, 6-3; Braves Rout Phillies, 10-4

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Harry Taylor pitched himself in and out of trouble for eight innings today and finally let Hugh Casey finish the job in Brooklyn's 6-3 victory over New York.

It was a typical Dodger-Giant game, requiring three hours and 12 minutes before the 21,198 National League customers could go home.

Bases Empty

For eight innings the Giants' power was confined to home runs by Whitey Lockman in the third and Jack Lohrke in the fourth. As has been the case in all six of their homers this season, nobody was on base each time.

A's Win Three-Game Series With Boston

BOSTON, April 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics hit one ball into right field today to sweep a three-game series with the winless Boston Red Sox by a 5-3 margin.

The only drive the A's lashed in that direction was a routine fly driven by Barney McCosky in the ninth with two on base. Sam Mele lost it in the sun and it went for a two-bagger that drove in Relief Pitcher Bob Savage and Eddie Joost to break a 3-3 tie.

Dom DiMaggio drove a grounder that First Baseman Ferris Fain bobbled and, after stealing second, made third on Catcher Buddy Rosar's poor throw. Johnny Pesky then scored him with a fly to left.

All Lubbock sports fans will "have their fingers crossed" until they hear the result of the Lubbock Westerner-Borger Bulldog District 1-AA baseball game tonight, since the tilt holds special importance for the local schoolboys. The tussle will be the first conference game of the season for the Westerners—everyone realizes what an initial victory can do for the morale of a squad—and the Lubbock nine must defeat Borger to join Amarillo at the top of the loop standings. A defeat tonight would not mean that the Westerners would be out of the running, but in the close race that is predicted a single game may mean the difference at the end of the season.

• • •

Coach Fred Taylor, a newcomer to the Westerner coaching staff, has done a good job of getting the squad in condition and in fitting each player into the over-all setup. But how good the team is, or what fans may expect the Westerners to do in the flag chase, will be shown tonight at Borger and Saturday night at Amarillo. If the team wins, or even shows ability while losing one of the tussles, there is every reason to expect that it will be in the thick of the race.

• • •

If veteran diamond fans are correct, the experience gained by many of the Lubbock schoolboys in American Legion baseball competition may be the difference in the Westerner nine and some of the other district clubs this season. The old refrain of, "there's no substitute for experience," is just as true in baseball as it is in any other sport. And in the experience department, few teams in this area will be able to match the Westerners. Jack Alderson, Westerner center fielder, has had three years of Legion play; Dwight Moore, left fielder, has played two years of high school ball; Denny Davidson, ace hurler, has pitched in three Legion campaigns; and numerous other players, including Dorrance Guy, Jackie Cook and Bill Wylie, played in the junior loops before joining the Legion and High school nines.

• • •

Amarillo's Golden Sandies will be the team to beat for the District 1-AA championship, but if there's any nine that will upset them, it will be the Westerners.

Weather on the South Plains is usually unpredictable, but Texas Tech's tennis team is sure that they are the special victims of its whims. Just before the scheduled Raider-New Mexico university matches Thursday afternoon, a light shower soaked the courts. The undaunted Techsans swept the courts off, with much trouble and labor involved, and started their matches. Just as the first three boys finished their singles sets, another shower started and drove the players to cover. "I give up," one disgruntled Raider said, "theres' always sand and wind—and now rain."

High blood pressure, a major cause of heart trouble, affects young as well as old adults.

Westerner Nine Plays Borger In District Opener Tonight

NMU, Tech Golf Teams Deadlock

Elmer H. McKinney's medal 68 went to no avail yesterday afternoon, as the Texas Tech golf team and the University of New Mexico divot diggers toured the Lubbock Country club course to an 18-point total apiece deadlock.

McKinney, in addition to firing the medal low for the day, also took individual scoring honors with six points, one more than Jim Frost and Roger Martin each had for the Lobos. McKinney teamed with Jerry Stoltz to win their low ball match with a 64 and three more points for the Red Raiders.

Stoltz Fires 73

If Ted Forsythe and E. C. Feagan had not been held to a split in their low ball match with Frost and Martin, the Raiders might have come in with another victory. If either team had captured the low ball play, it would have meant victory in the match.

Following McKinney in the medal play was Stoltz with a 73. Bob Carriveau and Frost had 74s, Martin had a 76, Feagan a 77, Forsythe a 78, Jim Boyle of NMU a 79, and John Trout, Tech, and Gene Zylster, NMU, 80s.

For the Raiders, McKinney's six points was tops, followed by Trout with 3, Stoltz, 2½, and Feagan and Forsythe, 1 each.

For NMU, Frost and Martin each had five points, followed by Carriveau with 3½, and Zylster, 3. Boyle was whitewashed.

The next match for the Raider golfers will be Monday morning at 10, when the Texas Christian university linksmen visit the Lubbock Country club to oppose Tech.

BROYLES, IVY PACE TECH NET TEAM TO VICTORIES OVER NM

Texas Tech's highly-rated tennis team, bolstered by the return of aces Jake Broyles and Glenn Ivy from the River Oaks Invitational tourney at Houston, swept three singles matches from New Mexico university netters Thursday afternoon at the Tech courts before rain halted the dual meet.

Steady-stroking Jake Broyles drubbed New Mexico's David Ong in the No. 1 singles match, 6-2, 6-1, with a series of sharp placements and a more consistent forehand. Ong copped three games during the two sets with his well-placed service, but was never a serious threat.

Glenn Ivy trounced Joe Palaia for the second Tech triumph, 6-1, 6-2, using his strong forehand to squelch the visiting netter. Ivy also used a cut service to good advantage against the lanky Palaia.

Carl Schmidt, holding the No. 3 slot on the Tech team, chalked up the final win over Bill Ross, 6-1, 6-2. Schmidt had trouble with his placements early in the initial set, but rallied on a sparkling forecourt game to coast to the victory.

All schoolboy diamond teams of District 1-AA will swing into action this afternoon and tonight in the first three tilts of a five-game weekend schedule, with the Pampa Harvesters battling the Plainview Bulldogs at 3:30, Brownfield invading Amarillo at 4 and the Lubbock Westerners tangling with Borger at 8 o'clock tonight at the Bulldog field.

Amarillo's Golden Sandies defeated Borger, 23-9, in the district lid-blaster Tuesday night, but today's games mark the first full-scale loop competition.

Local Hurler Hurt

The inexperienced Brownfield nine faces the toughest task in meeting the always-strong Sandies on the Amarilloans home grounds, since the Potter county nine was rated as one of the top contenders for the district crown in pre-season predictions. The Sandies are sparked by a group of boys who played with the "Golden Outlaws" last year and boast a hard-hitting team.

Lubbock's Westerners, with ace hurler Denny Davidson still on the injured list, are due to meet rebounding Border in another spotlight contest. The Westerners are rated as championship prospects on the basis of experience and stellar mound performers, but the absence of Davidson and expected "first game jitters" should make the tussle too closely-matched for Coach Fred Taylor's comfort. The clash will also be the first game under the lights for the Lubbock schoolboys, while Borger has already played one tilt under the arcs.

Pampa is scheduled to journey to Plainview for the third district game at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, but officials said last night that the contest was still in the doubtful stage because of the wet playing field. If the sun dries out the field this morning the game will probably be played, officials announced, but more moisture will definitely cause a postponement.

Westerners Leave Today

Coach Taylor and a 22-player Lubbock squad will leave from the Chapman field clubhouse at 8:30 o'clock this morning by chartered bus for Borger, then will return to Amarillo tonight following the game with the Bulldogs. The Westerners meet the Golden Sandies Saturday night at Gold Sox park, but plan to return to Lubbock immediately after the game.

The Westerners' starting lineup, according to Taylor, will probably include Bobby Griffin at third base; Royce Jones in right field; Jack Alderson in center field; Charles Galey, second base; Jackie Cook, shortstop; Dorrance Guy, first base; Dwight Moore, left field; and Bill Wylie, catcher.

Hurling assignments had not been made last night, but Taylor said that he would probably give sophomore Jim Wilson or veteran James Wilson the nod at Borger, with Lefty Jackie Martyn and Denny Davidson to face the loop-leading Sandies Saturday night.

The probable lineups and batting order:

Probe Ends In Boxer's Death

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 22. (INS)—District Attorney William J. McCauley tonight closed his investigation into the death of boxer Jackie Darthard with the comment that "this was just one of those things."

Darthard, a 19-year-old Negro middleweight from Kansas ranked fifth nationally by The Ring Magazine, became the seventh boxing fatality in the last 61 days when he died this morning of a brain hemorrhage 10 hours after losing consciousness in his corner during a bout with Bert Lytell.

Lytell Is Released

"As long as you have boxing," McCauley said, "you are bound to run into accidents like this one."

Lytell, third-ranked middleweight who had been held in technical custody pending this afternoon's investigation, was released. The mother and sister of the dead fighter arrived in Milwaukee to take the body home, and Lytell promised "a benefit fight—anywhere—any time" for them and for Darthard's widow, who remained in Kansas City in a state of collapse.

Terry Scores Golf Ace At Local Club

O. A. "Terrible" Terry, 2111 29th Street, became the second Lubbock golfer this spring to join the famed "Hole-in-one" club, when he blasted an ace yesterday afternoon at the Meadowbrook Publinx club.

Terry, using a No. 8 iron, lofted his tee shot onto the 95-yard No. 2 hole. The ball bounced once, then disappeared into the oval.

Witnesses to the hole in one were C. H. Cale, H. G. Gantz and Judge Homer Pharr. The foursome were able to get in only two more holes before rain washed out their match.

Stymie And Armed May Compete In Dixie At Pimlico May 8

BALTIMORE, April 22 (AP)—The turf's two biggest money winners, Stymie and Armed, probably will cross paths in the 44th running of the $25,000 Dixie Handicap at Pimlico on May 8.

Trainers of Stymie and Armed have said they are pointing their thoroughbreds for the Dixie so a renewal of their dual is certain, barring accidents.

It would be the second meeting of the track kings in the Dixie. Two years ago, Armed carried 130 pounds and beat Stymie with 124 at Pimlico.

"BIG 'IF' IS THE WEATHER"

SWC Squads Compete This Week End In Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Ia., April 22. (U.P.)—Stiffer competition in the Drake Relays may force Harrison Dillard to break his own unofficial world hurdle record set only last week.

That was the major topic today as a field representing 65 universities and colleges from the Midwest, West and South gathered for the 39th running of the Relays tomorrow and Saturday.

In addition to Clyde Scott of Arkansas, who finished behind Dillard last week, Bill Porter of Northwestern will be in the lineup.

Ohio State's Lloyd Duff, co-holder with Dillard of the indoor American 70-yard low hurdle record, and Bud Cartiser of Missouri also will be in the running.

Only two of the 10 individual titles will go undefended. New champions are assured in the 100-yard dash and the javelin throw.

Charlie Parker of Texas seems likely to succeed as 100-yard dash king. The big sprinter has been clocked in :09.5 twice this season.

Frank Guess, Texas, is the leading claimant for the vacant javelin throwing crown. Bob Loflin and Bob Lowther, both of Louisiana State, may challenge for the Drake title.

A crack Texas sprint relay team of Perry Samuels, Charley Tatom, Lawler and Parker will attempt to set a new Relays 440-yard record by beating a mark already only a half second behind the world figure. The same outfit also is aiming at the 880-yard record of 1:25. which Texas holds jointly with Ohio State.

Ohio State, holder of the mile relay mark of 3:14.1, will run Mal Whitfield, Russ Owen, Ed Porter and Harry Cogswell in defense of its 1947 championship. Chief challenger will be Michigan State, anchored by the brilliant Jack Dianetti.

Harvie Ward In Semifinals Of Pinehurst Meet

PINEHURST, N. C., April 22. (INS)—Harvie Ward, Jr., of Tarboro, N. C., came from behind today to upset Walker Cupper Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, 2 and 1, in the quarterfinal round of Pinehurst's 48th Annual North-South Amateur championship.

Tourney favorite Frank Stranahan, sharp-shooting Toledo, Ohio, golfer, defeated J. A. Fownes of Orlando, Fla., 7 and 6.

Joining Stranahan and Ward in the semifinals tomorrow were C. A. Snow of High Point, N. C., and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa. Snow stroked past Walter S. Cisco of Louisville, Ky., 3 and 2, while Palmer was eliminating Ray Taylor of Greensboro, N. C., 5 and 4.

RENICK TO PILOT OILERS

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 22 (U.P.)—Jesse (Cab) Renick, former Oklahoma A. & M. basketball star and a guard on the Bartlesville Oilers, national amateur champions, was named today to succeed Bud Browning as coach of the Oiler squad. Renick will assume his coaching duties next season.

Defendant Takes Witness Stand In Own Behalf In Murder Trial

presiding, informed the jury a charge would be ready at 1:30 p. m. today, after which arguments will commence.

Probable Charge Indicated

Judge Pardue indicated he would give a charge on murder with and without malice; on accidental homicide, as well as self-defense. Further, he indicated that, in regard to Dillard's cross-examination admission that he had been convicted in 1936 of car theft in New Mexico and had served a sentence in the New Mexico penitentiary, the jury would be instructed that that evidence can be considered only for the purpose of its effect on the credibility of the defendant as a witness.

The court indicated he also would instruct the jury to take into consideration in determining the defendant's right of self-defense the previous relationship between the defendant and Weaver, as well as the relative size and strength of the principals.

Coin Matching Told

There would be no charge on circumstantial evidence.

On direct examination of J. E. Vickers, who with Burton S. Burks is defense counsel, Dillard told the jury he had lost more than $500 matching coins in Weaver's station a short time before the shooting, including $300 he had borrowed from Weaver after giving up his wrist watch, ring and stickpin as collateral.

He said he attempted to cash an $81 check signed by Mate Jones of Lubbock, but that Weaver declined. Whereupon, he related he left to "get some money." The three articles of jewelry were valued at approximately $1,025, he said.

He said he was gone a brief time, and returned with two $20 bills. He said Weaver was the only person in the station when he returned in his car and that Weaver said, "I'll match you for the check."

Offered Check

Dillard said Weaver was sitting across a desk from where Dillard stood just inside the doorway. "We," he said, "had just had a drink together."

Dillard said he offered the check and a $20 bill "against my watch—I had planned to take up the watch, the ring and the pin later that day, anyway." He said Weaver agreed and that "I won the watch. He gave it to me and I put it on.

"Then I offered to put up the check and $20 and match for the ring or the pin. He said we'd match for the pin.

"I put down a coin and had my hand over it, but he had his coin between his fingers and turned it over.

Gun Dropped In Car

"I said, 'Garlon, you can't do that to me.'

"It all happened fast then. He came up out of his chair with a dirty remark: 'You dirty little ——, you can't get away with that.'"

It was then, the defendant said, that he, keeping his check and $20 bill, "hit for the car."

Dillard, asked if he was "in or out of the car when the shot was fired?" replied, "half-and-half, I'd say."

"What did you do with the gun?" Vickers asked.

"I dropped it in the front seat of the car."

"What was your object in going to the car?"

"I was trying to get away."

"How long was it before he followed you?"

"He was instantly behind me."

Sizes Compared

"Why did you go for your gun?"

"Because he was after me—and mad."

Dillard was asked about his disparity of size and weight. He replied that he was 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighed 130 pounds. He said Weaver was about 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighed approximately 180 pounds. "I'm 36 years old, and he was about 38 or 39," he said.

"Did you make any effort to shoot any more when you were released?" Vickers asked

"No—I didn't shoot necessarily the first time."

"What did you do after the shooting?"

Sheriff Is Called

"I got on the phone and called the sheriff. They were there in four or five minutes. Mr. Hawkins (C. M. Hawkins) came in first. I also called an ambulance as was on the phone when Hawkins and two deputies arrived."

He said he assisted in placing Weaver in the ambulance.

"When he (Weaver) came after you, were you afraid for your security?"

"Naturally I was."

"Was that the reason for getting the gun?"

"Yes."

"Did you previously have information of other difficulties Weaver had been in?"

Fights Are Seen

"Numerous times."

The defendant said, "I knew he was a pretty rough character. I've seen him numerous times, been in his house, seen his gun, and seen him in two or three fights. He got me in one in California. I knew about him and Jake Weaver (a brother) getting killed and Garlon getting shot in the stomach two or three times." The defendant said he had heard "all those stories" of "other trouble."

He was asked if he knew Weaver's "disposition when drinking."

Relations Friendly

"He was overbearing and thought he could whip anyone in the country," Dillard answered.

He said he never had "previous trouble" with Weaver—"always we'd had friendly relations."

L. A. Howard, a special prosecutor, took the witness for cross-examination.

"You thought enough of him to bring him whisky and beer from Dallas?" he asked.

The witness said Weaver "paid me."

Dillard was questioned again in regard to whether he had on the watch when arrested, and about the alleged quarrel with Weaver.

Statement Denied

"When you fired the fatal shot, what position were you in?" Howard asked.

"I didn't fire the fatal shot," Dillard said. "I can't say—I don't know."

"Did you say to Hawkins when he came in that 'this man has fainted'?"

Dillard said he couldn't remember saying that.

"Didn't you tell George Eubank (depty sheriff) he had fainted?"

"No, I didn't make that statement."

Convictions Admitted

Dillard denied the statement, also that he had told the officers Weaver had been "shot."

At that stage of cross-examination, the defense asked that the jury be retired while counsel sought a ruling of the court as to admissibility of Dillard's past record as an ex-convict.

The jury out, Howard adduced from the witness statements that Dillard had been convicted of auto theft in New Mexico and in the state of Washington, having served a reformatory term in 1929 for the Washington offense. He said he was convicted of misdemeanor assault on a woman in 1940, on the west coast.

Jury Returned

The defense objected that only the 1936 conviction was admissible, and that only for impeachment purposes as it might affect credibility of the witness. The court agreed. The jury was returned and Howard resumed his cross-examination.

Dillard admitted he had been convicted of the New Mexico felony offense.

Whereupon, the defense rested and, soon afterward, the state made similar announcement.

Witness Subpoenaed

The reputation witnesses called by the defense were J. F. Watson and Mrs. Nora Watson, his wife, both of Odessa, William Edgar Walls and B. H. Jester, both of Lubbock.

Jester was subpoenaed in the corridor of the courthouse after he, a member of the special venire, had disqualified himself by prejudice uttered against Weaver when under examination as a prospective juror.

Victor H. Lindsey, the other special prosecutor, will open arguments for the state, and District Attorney Lloyd Croslin will close.

Both Vickers and Burks will make arguments for the defense.

Eight Witnesses Called

They were Ernest (Buddy) Tice, Dep. Sheriff F. H. Bolen, C. M. Hawkins, Dep. Sheriff George Eubank, Dep. Sheriff Carl Francis, Jack Cooper, and Miss Jane Larson.

Tice testified that he was in partnership with Weaver and Weaver's brother L. F. (Pete) Weaver on Nov. 1.

Tells Of Drinking

He said the Panhandle Service station at 2707 Texas Ave., where Weaver was found shot, had been closed since 7 p. m. Oct. 31, and that several persons, including himself, Garlon Weaver and Dillard were there at various times up to midnight, drinking beer and whisky.

He said he and Dillard got to matching coins for money—first for $1, then for $5 and successively for $10, $20 and $50. He said he won more than $500 from Dillard in the game, including $300 that Dillard borrowed from Weaver upon his tender of a wrist watch, a ring and a stickpin as collateral.

Wanted To Cash Check

Tice, 24, said Dillard then wanted to cash an $81 check he had in his pocket, and that both he and Weaver declined. He said Dillard appeared "not to like it." Dillard left the station, Tice testified, saying he would be back. He indicated he was going after more money, Tice said.

Tice said he left about the same time as Dillard, "and I never returned to the station."

Upon cross-examination, he admitted that his memory in some respects that night could not be relied upon.

Bolen said he was on duty at the jail and that a call came in soon after midnight from a person identifying himself as Bruce Dillard and asking that officers be sent to the station.

Slumped Over Desk

Eubank testified that he and Francis answered the call and found Weaver sitting in a chair and slumped over a desk in the station. He said Hawkins, a used car dealer associated with his half-brother W. L. McArthur two blocks away, was bathing Weaver's face with a wet rag.

He said Weaver's face had a greenish tinge, possibly due to the rag used, and that he said, "This man is dying."

"He can't die," he quoted Dillard as saying.

He said Dillard appeared very nervous when he made the remark.

Eubank said he told Dillard, who had explained upon arrival of the deputies that Weaver had "fainted," to call an ambulance.

The ambulance, driven by Cooper, arrived and, Eubank testified, Dillard said Weaver had been "shot."

Bleeding Was Internal

Until then, the deputy said, none of those in the station had realized that Weaver had been shot. His bleeding had been internal in the main, or had been trapped by his clothing, he and Cooper said.

Eubank testified that he asked: "Bruce, where is the gun you shot him with?"

He told the jury that Dillard answered:

"George, if I was an officer, I'd look in the front seat of my car."

Eubank said Francis went to Dillard's Buick automobile, parked in front of the station, and found a revolver with six cartridges, one of them having been fired.

Francis' testimony was much like that of Eubank's.

Drove To Hospital

Cooper testified that he drove the victim to Lubbock Memorial hospital and that he died soon afterward.

Dr. Mayfield testified as to the gunshot wound. He said he conducted the examination hours later, in absence of Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer.

He said the bullet entered the lower left chest, and that it emerged approximately five inches lower on the back side.

Miss Larson testified that she was night supervisor the night Weaver was taken there. She said she removed from him a stickpin and a ring. She said she turned them over to the sheriff's deputies.

Miss Larson's testimony was given to show "legal custody" of the personal effects referred to as collateral.

Objections of the defense were constant.

At one stage, the electrically-charged atmosphere produced an arcing flash between the defense and the court.

Burks made a series of objections to the state's direct examination of a witness, and Judge Pardue cautioned him against contempt sufficient for jailing.

Burks retorted with a request for an exception to be noted in the record "against the court's threat to put a member of counsel for the defense in jail."

The defense pattern in cross-examination was to bring out "disparity" in size of the victim and the defendant.

Tice, for instance, said Weaver was approximately 6 feet 2 inches tall, Dillard "close to 5 feet."

But, Tice said, Weaver was "ill." He indicated, on cross-examination," that Dillard might be well able to take care of himself against Weaver physically, as a result.

Steel Prices Are Cut

two-year contract, expiring April 30, 1949, provides in the wage reopening clause that current rates remain in effect if no agreement was reached by April 30, 1948.

Cuts Effect Disputed

Union wage demands were phrased only as a "substantial wage increase." The present contract provided a 15-cent package, covering a straight raise, plus various fringe benefits.

Murray and Fairless were in dispute on what the price cuts meant. Murray declared the price cuts did "not even equal the $28,433,197 increase in certain of its products which Mr. Ben Fairless testified would result from the increases made in February, 1948, alone."

The CIO leader referred to boosts of about $5 per ton by U. S. Steel and other firms for semi-finished steel.

U. S. Steel Sets Pattern

That jump followed several scattered price hikes in tubing and variety of specialty products. A congressional probe followed at which Fairless testified that the increases were justified.

In making this suggestion, I do not question the sincerity of Woodville Rogers (leader of pro-Truman Texas Democrats) or of any person who is supporting President Truman.

"I do doubt the advisability, however, of nominating a Democratic candidate who cannot be elected.

The Eisenhower boom had been encouraged by Gov. Beauford H. Jester early in the Truman-Dixie fuss over civil rights but the titular head of the Texas Democratic party had subsequently cooled in his enthusiasm over the Texas-born retired general.

Jester and his party leaders lately had apparently favored no particular candidate in opposition to Truman but had wanted an uninstructed delegation who could "bargain" at the national convention.

Plumbing And Heating Dealers Entertained At Company Show

Seventy-two plumbing and heating dealers of Lubbock were entertained at the Hilton last night by the Morrison Supply company, distributor for the Day and Night Manufacturing Co., Monrovia, Calif.

A film and stage presentation of Day and Night gas water heaters, gas wall heaters and water coolers followed a buffet dinner and refreshments. Lubbock is the third stop on the itinerary of a show team, now on tour to 60 cities where the firm's products are sold. Amarillo is the next stop.

L. Cole, Morrison supply manager, was in charge of the arrangements. He introduced Monty Graham, local Day and Night representative.

Attempted Burglary Thwarted By Return Of Store Proprietor

An attempted break-in of a store at 806 Main was thwarted about 9 p.m. yesterday when the proprietor entered the establishment causing the burglars to flee. The suspects apparently had broken into a nearby cleaning shop but nothing was found missing.

Virgil E. Skaines, owner of Fair Price Shoe Shop & Hardware Store, said that he heard a noise at the rear of the building when he came in the front entrance. He also heard someone running away.

Glass had been broken from the back door and a piece of it laid on a bed, according to police.

They said that large footprints were traced to Kleenit Cleaners, at 804 Main, which had been entered. The owner, Sam King, was contcated, and a preliminary check showed nothing missing.

A woman is being held at Phoenix, Ariz., in conection with a forgery charge here. She is listed by officers as Mrs. Frank Conway, alias Retha Jones, alias Retha Ahers, who is charged by indictment accusing her of forgery of $35 check passed to Vernice Weatherford, officials said.

A "hold order" has been placed for her by Sheriff Grady Harrist.

Police said H. Ped Read, 16, of 1626 Ninth had escaped injury when his 1948 automobile was struck yesterday morning, at second and Ave. M, by a Santa Fe train of which Sed Meadows was engineer.

Two persons, 26, of Kermit and 23 of Seagraves were fined, $25 and $50, respectively, for disturbance in the police station and reckless driving.

Tech To Be Host

The entire show will be housed in several buildings over the campus with all exhibits and demonstrations being complete within themselves. All laboratories used by students in the engineering division will be open to inspection by the public. Printed programs will be available in each building explaining the location, purpose and function of each exhibit it contains.

Includes Several Buildings

The Open House will be on a conducted tour plan with guides stationed along the route to direct traffic to the various exhibits and demonstrations. The tour will begin at the main Home Economics building, proceed from there to the Applied Arts laboratories in buildings X25 and X26, from there to the nursery school south of the main building, and finally to the Home Management house located east of the main building.

Parts of the engineers' show will be located in the following buildings: Chemistry, X17, main Engineering building, Military Science building and area, and the Textile Engineering building. Visitors to the Chemistry building will have a chance to see chemical, physics and geological exhibits. In the auxiliary building X17 will be found petroleum engineering exhibits with the field equipment displayed on the east side of the building. These departments are highlighted by the plastic ash tray operation of the chemical engineers, the Van de Graaf generator of the physics department, and the model of an anticlinal oil well shown by the petroleum engineers.

The Main Engineering building will contain exhibits of the civil, electrical, industrial, mechanical, and architectural engineers. Attractions in these departments will include an operating model paper mill, material testing operations, demonstrations of various types of engines, a radio controlled car and demonstration of a Link trainer.

The military science building and grounds will contain weapons and equipment of that department, most of which will be in actual operation, and captured enemy war equipment.

The making of cotton cloth from raw cotton, completely through the dying process, will be featured at the textile engineering department and all equipment in the department will be in actual operation to be viewed by the public.

The Home Management department of the Open House is featuring gas as a fuel in the home and the latest gas equipment. Gas ranges, refrigerators, clothes driers, hot water heater, floor furnace, wall panel heating, and interesting displays on year-round air conditioning will be featured in Annex K of the Home Economics building.

Among other interesting exhibits will be playground equipment for the average home, books on marriage and family relations, demonstrations and exhibits on dress making, furniture restyling, constructin of tiered draperies, decorative designing, silk screen printing, cake decorating, and food preparation. The lack of an adequate diet and its effect on the body will be demonstrated and moving pictures on various subjects will be shown.

Automobile traffic directions and parking areas have been set forth by show officials and are as follows: Visitors are asked to observe the 15 mile per hour speed limit on the campus, travel around the circle to the left at all times and observe the various signs provided for the direction of traffic.

Parking areas will be as follows: For the Chemistry building, the area between the library and the Chemistry building; for the main Engineering building and the military science area, the space immediately south of the main Engineering building and the area behind that building; for the Textile Engineering building, the area across the street south of the gymnasium.

Parking areas for the Home Economics area will be the lots directly in front of the main Home Economics building, behind the book store and south of the administration building.

Managers of the two shows have stated that more preparation has gone into the 1948 events than for any show in the past and due to new developments and equipment, they should be bigger and more interesting than ever before.

Accord Near On Induction Ages

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The Senate committee studying a draft bill has virtually agreed to inducting men 19 through 25—the same age limit proposed in a bill now before the House.

Senator Gurney (R-SD) also said today the sentiment on his Senate Armed Services committee is in favor of the administration's new compromise 66-group air force.

However, the committee took no formal action. It is still working on a temporary selective service-universal military training bill requested by President Truman as a part of his preparedness program.

The House Armed Forces committee also is working on a similar bill; its chairman, Rep. Andrews (R-NY) offered his own draft bill to the House Tuesday.

Agree On Age Limit

Andrews' bill and the Senate committee's tentative proposal agree on the age limits of men who will be called on to serve in the armed forces—19 through 25.

But Andrews suggests an age limit of 18 through 30 for registration, compared with the Senate's 18 through 25. Earlier, the Senate group was talking about an 18-through-44 registration age.

Tech's side of the litigation will be presented by R. Grady Carter, who graduated from Tech in 1928 and is now a member of the Dallas law firm of Carter, Gallagher and Barker. He will be aided by Waggoner Carr and Dudley Brummett, Lubbock lawyers.

Also here from Lubbock as members of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Tech affairs are W. B. Rushing and State Rep. Preston Smith, long a foe of the amendment under fire.

WTCC Officials Attend

Manager D. A. Bandeen and an assistant, Joe James, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, also are here from Abilene. The West Texas Chamber was active in fighting passage of the questioned amendment last summer.

Joe Greenhill, an assistant state attorney-general, will carry the legal ball for the state, but reports were current in Austin Thursday night that Attorney General Price Daniel also would be active in the case. Daniel was one of three top state officials who threw the weight of their offices behind passage of the amendment, although the question had nothing to do with their offices. The other two officials were Gov. Beauford Jester and Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers. They, like Daniel, were surprised when the vote disclosed that they weren't exactly on the overwhelmingly victorious side of a statewide argument.

Paper Backs Opponents

The Daily Texan, student publication of the University of Texas, Thursday inadvertantly supported the contention of the amendment's opponents when it came out with a quotation from C. Read Granberry, assistant to the president of the university.

Said the Daily Texan, not realizing it strengthened charges that the amendment was "cooked up to build the university at the expense of other state schools": "C. Read Granberry, assistant to the president of the University of Texas, said the failure of the state to win the suit will drastically retard the University's building program."

Judge Archer's decision—almost certain to be appealed no matter which way it goes—is not expected at the conclusion of Friday's hearing. Several days, perhaps a week o more, likely shal pass before the judge renders his official view.

the city called for bids on approximately 95 blocks of paving only to find that no bids had been submitted. The paving will probably have to be continued through employment of city crews as has been the case in the past several years.

Contract Change Studied

A low bid by J. R. Fanning for surfacing and seal-coating of approximately 38 blocks of partially-completed paving and existing paving at various points throughout the city was approved. The bid was $43,371 base bid for a complete job.

Other matters considered during the lengthy session included:

Decision to discuss with members of the Airport board a recommendation that the contract with Pioneer Airlines be amended so that 2 per cent of the gross revenues derived from passenger, freight and express receipts be paid to the city in lieu of the present landing fees;

Renewal of the appointment of Dr J. W. Rollo as city health officer for a two-year period from Sept. 19, 1947, in order to comply with state requirements;

Granting of a two-car loading zone at 1211 Main street for Brooks-McKenzie Wholesale Dry Goods;

Two Men Appointed

Approval of paving of Ave. F from Fifteenth to Sixteenth; Ave. U from second to Third street; Ellwood street from Ave. X to College avenue and in the alley from Eighth to Ninth in Block 88, original town.

Approval of the change of the nine parking meters on the east side of the Citizens National bank from one hour to 20-minute periods;

Purchase of two model No. 23 Tulsa wenches from the Commercial Truck company on a low bid of $564.97;

Approval of a $15 monthly increase in the salary of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Banks, caretakers for the Old Folks home;

Appointment of W. C. Wood and Raymond Burford as directors of the Board of City Development to fill the terms of S. L. Forrest, deceased; and E. K. Hufstedler, jr., elected a member of the commission; R. L. Stewart as a member of the Water Resources board to fill the unexpired term of Forrest; and W. B. Rushing as a member of the Housing Authority of the City of Lubbock; and Rejection of an offer for purchase of a portion of the old sewer farm in southeast Lubbock as a site for a co-op cotton compress.

Mayor Rodgers presided and present were: Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler; City Manager Marlin R. Smith, City Secretary Lavenia Williams and City Attorney Vaughn Wilson

Eight Tech Cowhands To Enter H-SU Rodeo

Eight contestants from Texas Technological college, who have proven their worth in former rodeos, will be on hand to defend last year's championship when the second annual Hardin Simmons university Intercollegiate rodeo opens at Abilene at 2 p. m. today.

Six men and two women from each have entered various events in the competition which includes representatives of 13 colleges and universities from four states in the Southwest. Those from here entering the rodeo include Betty Franks, Rocksprings; Helen Calcote, Rankin; Leon Jones, Enochs; Guy Tom Cowden, Midland; Tommie Bell, Valentine; Joe Boone, Seymour; Jack Buchanan, Big Spring and J. H. Heath, Holly, Colo.

Girls Enter Two Events

The two girls will enter the goat tying and wild cow milking contest and the men will enter several of the other events. Guy Tom Cowden was elected All-Around Cowboy at the second annual Texas Tech All-College rodeo held April 16-17 at the Panhandle South Plains Fair grounds. All the other Tech entries in the Abilene contest also competed in the all-college rodeo.

The rodeo performers will be matched against each other individually and as team members. Each school may use six of its contestants to win team points. All contestants must be enrolled in a Southwestern college or university and in good scholastic standing. Schools having entered are Baylor TCU, Texas A&M, Texas A&I, John Tarleton, McMurry, Texas Tech, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma Baptist university, Hardin-Simmons, Ranger Junior college, and North Texas Agricultural college.

Showers Fall

tion there reported that .62 inches of rain had fallen there Wednesday, and an additional .05 of an inch fell Thursday to bring the total to .67.

PLAINVIEW—The airport estimated that one inch of rain had fallen there up to last night, with the largest precipitation occurring in two showers at 10 p. m. Wednesday night and at 3 p. m. Thursday.

LITTLEFIELD—The radio station th re said that rainfall over Wednesday and Thursday had totaled about .35 inches, with very little moisture falling Thursday.

LEVELLAND — A Levelland newspaper indicated that the overall total rainfall in Hockley county would measure approximately .75 inches Wednesday and Thursday. Scarcely any rain fell there yesterday, it was reported.

TAHOKA—Drizzled off and on during the day Thursday with about .10 inch estimated for the town. However, reports from the Central church vicinity, 12 miles east of Tahoka and near Grassland, indicated about 1.5 inches fell there. Most of Lynn county has been spotted this week with moisture ranging from light showers to nearly two inches.

OTHER PARTS OF STATE RECEIVE GOOD RAINS

(By The Associated Press)

Scattered rains, heavy in some places, Thursday gave badly needed relief to parts of the Texas Panhandle, South Plains, and the San Angelo ranch country.

The showers fell on sections where crops and ranges already were being damaged by a prolonged drouth.

San Angelo, Irion county, Robert Lee, Ozona, Sonora, and Paint Rock had rain. Sonora reported one inch. Heavy showers fell at Big Lake, Sterling City and Rankin. Shewers fell at Abilene.

Plainview, Pampa, Borger, Amarillo and Clarendon reported soaking rains Thursday morning.

Groups From Many Area Towns Attend Seagraves Program

A demonstration library program held at Seagraves High school Thursday afternoon was attended by approximately 150 librarians and school officials from about 15 towns and cities in this area, Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, president of district 4-A of the Texas State Teachers association, reported.

The Seagraves demonstration, which is one of 11 demonstrations in the state, is part of a movement sponsored by the Texas State Department of Education to make libraries the centers of educational life in the schools, Jackson said.

Jackson Is Speaker

Miss Mattie Ruth Moore, director of State School Libraries, made the principal talk of the afternoon, outlining the history and aims of the library demonstration movement in a speech entitled "Why Demonstration Libraries?"

Jackson, professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college, spoke on "The Future High School Library."

The Seagraves school library had been completely remodeled in preparation for the demonstration. New books were added to the library's collection, walls and book cases received a new panting, floors were refinished and venitian blinds and fluorescent lighting was installed.

The program started officially at 3 p. m. and lasted until about 5:15 p. m., Jackson said, with a luncheon being served in the high school cafeteria after the program ended.

Attending the demonstration from Lubbock were Jackson, Thomas F. Murray, director of elementary education, Mrs. Ruth Carter and Leo Warren, both principals of Lubbock schools.

Delegations were present from Abernathy, Andrews, Brownfield, Denver City, Litlefield, Lubbock, Pettit, Post, Seminole, Whiteface, Sundown, Wellman, Idalou and Levelland.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Moore of Lubbock route 3 on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 8 ounces at 5:40 a. m. Thursday in St. Mary's hospital. The father is a merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Mershon of 1002 Ave. X on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 8 1/4 ounces at 4:31 a. m. Thurs. in West Texas hospital. The father works for Ben E. Keith company.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Brown of 805 Ave. C on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 12 ounces at 1:35 a. m. Thurs., in West Texas hospital. The father is employed by the city.

Last Rites Set For Snyder War Veteran

The body of Sgt. Earl B. Bavousett, 37, of Snyder, a former Tech student, will arrive at Snyder at 6 a. m. Tuesday, April 27, it was reported here last night.

He was a member of the 90th division and was killed in action in Normandy, France, July 3, 1944.

Services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 28, at Snyder.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Bavousett, of Snyder, two sisters, Miss Oma Bavousett, of 1015 Ave. T, and Mrs. Richard Crume, of 2703 Thirty-fifth, and two brothers, Roe, of 2627 Twenty-third, and Scott, of 3203 Ave. H, all of Lubbock.

SHREWD DEAL IN TEXAS REVEALED

Attractive, Blue-Eyed Woman Leading Iron, Steel Jobber

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—An attractive blue-eyed woman in her early thirties is one of the nation's leading iron and steel jobbers.

She is Miss Alice G. Hansen, blonde president of Pittsburgh Mill Steel Co., Inc.

For seven years she has quietly gone about a business usually associated only with men.

Yesterday, she appeared in the limelight for the first time when Eugene B. Germany, president of the Lone Star Steel corporation of Dallas, Tex., told his stockholders how she was going to make $2,000,000.

Woman Flustered

Germany said in his annual report "a Miss Alice Hansen" agreed to buy 105,000 tons of pig iron from Lone Star and planned to resell it at a profit.

Alice Hansen's telephone has been ringing constantly since the deal was publicized. She can't understand why anyone is interested. The furor has her all flustered.

She said the pig iron received under the Lone Star deal is being resold to "representative American industries."

The $2,000,000 deal is the biggest single contract she has negotiated.

Business Fascinating

She explains the details simply with:

"I just thought it was a good investment and a good product."

Miss Hansen is five feet, five and weighs 120 pounds. Her age—"the early thirties."

Her employes says she's a swell person to work for; a grand boss. Her competitors respect her and she asks no favors in a highly competitive field.

Her home is in Scarsdale, N. Y., and her father, a retired banker, died many years ago.

Miss Hansen said she always found business fascinating and that her mother encouraged her in her interest.

Started In 1941

She went to Columbia and New York university and studied economics and business administration.

Then, she became fascinated by the life and work of Andrew Carnegie and read everything on steel that she could get her hands on.

In September, 1941, she started the Pittsburgh Mill Steel Co., Inc. How much money she put in at the start and how much the business has grown, she wouldn't discuss, but the current investment, she admitted, runs to six figures.

She has a three-room office on Madison avenue, about the size of the place she started out in. She does most of the buying herself.

She says business is a matter of commor. sense and ethical practice and she aspires to "gain national prominence through good hard work."

She has another aim in life, too—she wants to do something for underprivileged children.

"They need a lot of love and care," she says.

Germany, in disclosing details of the contract to stockholders yesterday, said the agreed purchase price was the "Cleveland base price," approximately $40 a ton. Pig iron prices have soared since, and Daingerfield is selling at $75 a ton on the open market.

Called "Donation"

Germany said that Miss Henser 's contract originally called for one-third of the plant's production capacity, but that she has been persuaded to accept 10 per cent of production until the contract is filled.

"Besides this tremendous donation of the stockholders for the benefit of this woman we are plagued with another very serious difficulty in that in many instances where we are negotiating with the sale of our product at $75 per ton she goes to the same customers and under-cuts us a few dollars a ton, thus making the problem of marketing our product and making firm contracts extremely difficult."

The contract was negotiated before Germany became president last year.

John W. Carpenter, former president and now chairman of the board, defended the contract and a similar, but smaller deal made with Harry Gale of Washington, D. C., in a speech to the stockholders. He reminded them that pig iron prices were much lower a year ago and that the contracts were made at a time when Lone Star needed orders on its books to help its negotiations with the War Assets administration for use of the plant.

The contracts were negotiated by Dr. George H. Anderson, then a vice president of Lone Star. Germany told the stockholders that Anderson is not now active in management.

Gale contracted to buy 24,000 tons of pig iron with a scheduled delivery of 2,000 tons a month. Germany told the stockholders that at present prices "if we were able to make full delivery, Mr. Gale's potential profit would be about $400,000."

He said that "after much negotiation we were able to get Mr. Gale to accept a scheduled rate of delivery."

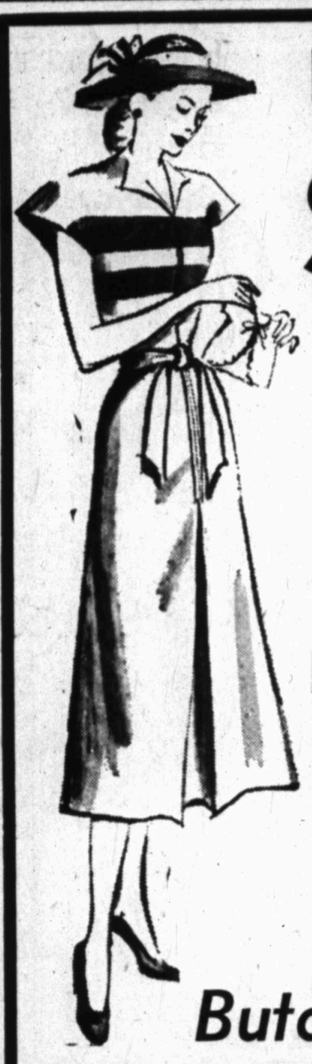

Of Miss Hansen Germany said: "To handle this deal she invested no money with us, bought no stock, no debentures, and advanced none of the purchase price for our use. Why she was given such a contract we have been unable to determine."

Truman's Popularity Among Voters Shows Sharp Drop In Latest Nationwide Survey

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 22—At the end of Harry S. Truman's third year in the White House his popularity with voters is at a low ebb. However, President Truman once before staged a dramatic comeback in public approval. Can he do it again?

The answer to that question will have an important bearing on the national party conventions two months from now.

GALLUP

Today 36 per cent of voters in a coast-to-coast survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion say they approve the way Mr. Truman is handling his job as President. This compares with 35 per cent who felt that way last October.

The Truman popularity chart looks for all the world like the blueprint of a roller coaster. Starting at a high of 87 per cent shortly after Franklin D. Roosevelt's death in 1945, it nosedived to a low point of 32 per cent just before the November, 1946 elections. Then began an even sharper upward climb in voter favor; At the end of two years as president Mr. Truman's job was approved by six out of ten voters throughout the nation.

Aid Plan Backed

Three comments on the President's present standing with voters seem pertinent:

1. Mr. Truman has tended to gain favor with rank and file voters when he had taken strong stands on vital issues. Coming events may give opportunity to recoup lost ground as he did a year ago in successfully accepting John L. Lewis' challenge to the government.

2. Cardinal points in the Administration's policies enjoy overwhelming support from voters of all parties, namely military defenses. As far as voter sentiment is concerned he stands on firm ground also in urging Congress to pass some sort of anti-inflationary measures.

3. A great many Democrats who now say they do not like the way Truman is handling his job probably would not desert their party affiliation in November to vote for a rival party's candidate. Thus, the popularity figure does not mean that only 36 per cent of the voters in the nation would vote for him if, as is expected, he is nominated by the Democrats. Much will depend on the Republican chosen to run against him and events between now and election day.

4. The current Institute survey is an up-to-the-minute check of voter sentiment, the final ballots being counted only three days ago. Thus, it reflects what possibly may be the peak of ill-feeling against the President in the South on the civil-rights issue and in other sections on his Palestine partition stand.

5. After considering all these points, however, the fact remains that the performance of the Democratic Party's most likely candidate is approved by fewer than four out of ten voters, with the election less than seven months off.

Even among Democratic voters only one out of two give the party chief a nod of approval. Fewer than one out of two voters who call themselves Independents approve of Truman's performance; this is the group, amounting roughly to one out of every four voters, which contributed so greatly to Roosevelt's victories.

Truman's major sources of strength still are among the farm and worker groups. Geographically, the lowest ebb is in the Southern section and highest in the West Central.

Presidential popularity is based on the answers to the following question:

	Approve	Disapprove	No opin.
July, 1945	87%	3%	10%
Feb., 1946	63	22	15
July	43	45	12
Oct.	32	53	15
Jan., 1947	35	47	18
Feb.	48	39	13
Mar.	60	23	17
July	54	33	13
Oct.	55	29	16
TODAY	36	50	14

The following tables show results of the latest poll by occupation, geographical section and party affiliation:

BY OCCUPATION	Approve	Disapprove	No opin.
Prof. & Bus.	30%	62%	8%
White Collar	31	58	11
Farmer	39	45	16
Manual workers	40	42	18
Union Members	41	43	16
Veterans	37	52	11
BY SECTIONS
N. Eng. & M. Atl.	35%	50%	15%
East Central	33	53	14
West Central	42	44	14
South	30	58	12
West	39	48	13
BY PARTIES
Democrats	50%	37%	13%
Republicans	24	63	13
Independent voters	32	54	14

Main reasons for disapproval of the president's job are that he is not strong enough, does not have necessary leadership qualities, and is inconsistent. Voters approving his course say the president is conscientious, practical, honest and sincere.

Picnic Planned For Former Grayson County Residents

An all-day rally and picnic at Mackenzie park will be held Sunday, May 2, for all former residents of Grayson county who are now living in West Texas, it was announced Thursday.

The meeting is to be held near the barbecue pit in the southeast portion of the park, in the vicinity of the East Broadway entrance. The announcement said barbecue and pop will be on sale, and those attending may use this or bring their lunches as they choose. Lunch is to be spread by families or parties, and a program, not yet announced, is scheduled.

Stevenson Files In U. S. Senate Race

HILLSBORO, Tex., April 22 (U.P.)—Application of former governor Coke R. Stevenson for a place on the ballot as a candidate for U. S. senator in the July Democratic primary was received here today by state Democratic Chairman Robert Calvert.

Calvert said the 60-year-old ranchman of Junction sent with his application a check for $100 to cover filing fees.

Although Stevenson had announced he was retiring from politics when he left the governor's office at the end of 1946, his application for a place on the ballot as the opponent of Senator W. Lee O'Daniel had been expected for some time.

The former governor had declared his intentions of making the race on New Year's day.

Senator O'Daniel has made no statement of his intentions to seek re-election, but observers awaited his return to Texas to make a speech in Fort Worth next Monday.

Those who have announced include George Peddy of Houston, Jesse C. Saunders of Orange, Otis C. Myers of Dallas and Dr. F. B. Clark of College Station.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, April 23, 1948

Kiwanis Honors Dr. H. G. Gantz

Kiwanis club members meeting Thursday noon at Hotel Lubbock paid tribute to Dr. Hallie G. Gantz, club member and past president, who was attending his last meeting before leaving for Tulsa where he has accepted the pastorate of the First Christian church.

Tribute was paid through presentation of a club letter by John C. Reynolds, immediate past president, addressed to "Hallie G. Gantz, Kiwanian," praising his work with the club and his value to the city as a whole.

Speaks Briefly

Following fitting introductory tributes by Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, Episcopal rector here, Dr. Gantz briefly recounted his early life, his futile efforts to enroll in then young Texas Tech, and said the reason for leaving this city was not that he and his family felt they would enjoy their work and associations more at Tulsa, but that he was answering what he believes is a call into a different field.

He paid glowing tribute to Lubbock as "the finest city in America," setting out "some of the wonderful physical facilities," but he paid special tribute to the western spirit of friendliness and the spiritual atmosphere which he said has kept the city clean and wholesome.

Dr. Gantz is to assume his duties at Tulsa on May 1.

A Kiwanis club check for $1,750 was presented by Dr. O. W. English as spokesman to Mrs. A. L. Henderson, chairman of the House comimttee of the Girl Scouts council here. The funds are to be used for expansion of Girl Scout work and was "only a start on Kiwanis club help in the work," Mrs. Henderson was told.

Thanks Expressed

She responded with thanks "on behalf of the nearly 400 adult workers," and "those precious little girls who will receive the major benefit."

Mrs. S. E. Gillispie, president of the Girl Scouts council, spoke briefly also in thanks for the gift, and said the money would be used to enlarge the Little House for expanded activities among the approximately 70 troops now active.

Club President L. E. (Jack) Davis announced that the hotel had notified the club that effective May 1, the luncheon price will be increased from 85 cents to $1. Invocation was by Dr. Gantz.

Rich Oil Producer Discovered In Wertz Pool Of Wyoming

TULSA, Okla., April 22 (U.P.)—Sinclair Wyoming Oil co. announced today that it had found "prolific" oil production from a third sand deeper than two other production horizons in the Wertz pool in Wyoming.

One well at the north end of the pool which previously was a small producer from the Tensleep sand has been deepened to the Madison lime zone at 7,185 feet, the company said. The well flowed 757 barrels of 36 gravity crude oil in 19 hours. The test is continuing.

Sinclair earlier had announced it had found good production in the Amsden sand, below the Tensleep horizon. Amsden production averaged 500 barrels daily, the company said.

Value of the Wertz pool has been slacking off recently, oil circles here pointed out. The well now tapping the Madison lime had not been a paying producer at the Tensleep horizon.

Dana H. Kelsey, vice president of the concern, said the discovery of Madison lime production would indicate that similar deepening in other sections of the field would prove profitable.

About 25 wells are now producing in the field from the Tensleep sand under a pressure maintenance system agreed upon by the owners.

IN PEACE HOPES

Words Outweighed By Deeds In World

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

I have always campaigned against the visionary who sells corner lots in a mirage.

He will do more harm in the extended tour than an idiot in a switch-tower.

I refer to the soft-boiled do-gooder with a song in his heart, vine-leaves in his hair and his sox dragging.

We would make the world over nearer to his whim's desire. But this works is too corrugated for a semi-baked philosopher. And I say with Kipling, the gods that you took from out of a book, be with you Tomlinson.

• • •

Let's go back to the well-intentioned Kellogg Pact of August, 1928. It is just twenty years old if an egg can celebrate its birthday after it is cracked.

The Kellogg Pact was a multilateral treaty and they sure mutilated it. Back in 1928, fifteen of the world's most persistent nations swore by all that was pledgeable and all that was redeemable to outlaw war.

Standing in solemn conclave they testified in alphabetical dignity that they would hereinafter settle all arguments by pacific means.

They validated one item in that dignified codicil. The Pacific is where things busted open.

Kellogg was a sincere citizen who wanted the lion to lie down with the lamb without diminishing the visible supply of mutton.

But the Kellogg Pact went overboard in 1939 like garbage on a Mississippi house-boat. And how about the Atlantic Charter, the Mediterranean Certificate and the other whimsical parchments? Do they amount to more than marginal notations on a tattooed lady?

Do not forget my rather agitated definition that a peace treaty is a complaint blank brought up to date. It sets forth the symptoms without the cause and diagnoses the results without the cure.

It would be wonderful if words out-weighed deeds. But the hum of a hive is louder when it is empty than when it is full.

Shaareth Israel Will Observe Biblical Festival Of Freedom

Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q, will conduct a Seder service tonight at 6:45 o'clock, the service being a part of the observance of Passover or Biblical Festival of Freedom by Jewish congregations of the world from today through next Friday.

The festival commemorates the Jewish declaration of independence and exodus from Egyptian slavery under conditions related in the Bible. The main feature of the festival is the celebration called Seder, religious and ceremonial meal which is conducted as a home celebration and sometimes as a community service such as that planned here tonight.

Rabbi Kerman will conduct the Seder service. He will deliver a Passover sermon at 10:15 o'clock Sunday night over KCBD.

Plans For Pioneer Flights Are Given

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The flying governor of Texas will be up in the air most of Saturday and Sunday.

Helping Pioneer airlines to celebrate expansion of service from Texas into New Mexico, Gov. Beauford H. Jester will follow this schedule this weekend (all times Central Standard):

Leave Austin by plane at 7:20 a.m. Saturday.

Arrive Midland 9:30. Dedicate Midland airport 10.

Arrive Lubbock 11:30 to take on a delegation.

Fly to Clovis, N. M. arriving at 12:10 p.m. for a 45-minute stop and picking up Gov. Thomas J. Mabry and U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson.

Make air hops from Clovis to Tucumcari, to Las Vegas, to Santa Fe, to Albuquerque airport from 9 to 10 a.m. Sunday.

Jester will return to Austin by plane, arriving about 4 p.m. Sunday.

Littlefield Van Horn Bond Issues Are Approved At Austin

Two bond issues, one for the Littlefield Independent school district and the other for waterworks improvements at Van Horn, have been approved in Austin, according to announcements from the attorney general's office yesterday, the Associated Press reported.

The school bonds for Littlefield total $126,000, and the issuance of $50,000 in bonds at Van Horn was approved for extension of the waterworks system there.

Former Cong. McClintic Of Oklahoma Is Death Victim

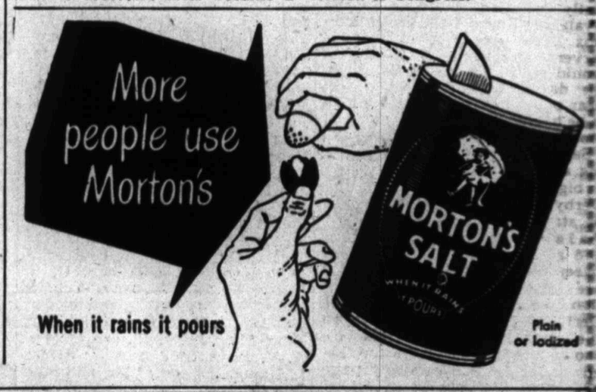

CHICAGO, April 22 (INS)—Former Oklahoma Congressman James V. McClintic died today on a Chicago & Northwestern train as it entered Chicago.

McClintic, who was 60, had been in ill health for some time.

The ex-congressman represented the 7th Oklahoma district from 1915 to 1935. He later became a special assistant to the Secretary of the Interior.

During his congressional career McClintic introduced legislation to insure all bank accounts. The measure evolved finally into the Glass-Steagall bill of 1933.

McClintic was born in Bremond, Tex., and later moved to Snyder, Okla. He served in the Oklahoma house of representatives and the Oklahoma senate before being elected to Congress.

Soap Box Derby Show Planned Saturday For Boys 11 To 15

With a total of 54 entries officially recorded Thursday in the Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, many interested observers predicted that entries would reach 100 before Saturday, the day when contestants will hear plans concerning the big race to be held here on Monday, July 5.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, a big Soap Box Derby show will be staged at the Palace theater and all boys between the ages of 11 and 15 years are invited to attend. In addition to a full explanation of the Derby and a motion picture on the Derby, a comedy will be shown and free ice cream furnished by the Borden company passed out to the youngsters.

Club Wants Sponsors

In the meantime as the boys sign up for the derby at the official headquarters booths in the showroom of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1901 Texas avenue, members of the Lubbock Exchange club, joint sponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall in staging the race, are out seeking sponsoring firms for boys entering the race. The sponsor has to pay a fee of $17.00 which will pay for all the parts and materials fo reach boy's car. The boy must build the car himself, and materials, exclusive of wheels, axles and steering gear, must not cost more than $6.

Entries Wednesday afternoon and this morning included: William Davis Ingram, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ingram, 2411 Twenty-fifth; Jerry Tom Williamson, 14, son of Mrs. Beatrice Carr, 2409 Ave. K; Stanley Carroll Jones, 14, son of E. R. Vet Gets Probationary Term In Removal Of Atomic Films

CHICAGO, April 22 (INS)—Removal of pictures from the files of the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic energy project brought a year-and-a-half probationary term to a Chicago veteran today.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes sentenced Earnest D. Wallis, 26, after the former army man declared he did not steal the pictures but that they were mailed to him following his discharge.

Wallis, who operates the Paul Stone Baymor studies here told the jurist he had not intended to use the films for personal gain or unpatriotic use.

Three Scout Camping Periods Scheduled At Post This Summer

Camp Post, scout camp located 2½ miles southwest of Post, will be in operation during three periods this summer, Scout Executive W. R. Postma has announced.

Only 125 scouts can be accommodated during each of the three following periods: May 30 to June 5, June 6 to June 12, and June 13 to June 19.

Each troop will have the opportunity to select the camp it wishes at attend provided its reservations are made soon enough, Postma stressed. A reservation fee of $1 per scout must accompany each application for a reservation. Reservations should be made at the council office, 410 Myrick building, with no reservations accepted after May 25.

POW WOWS PLANNED

The South Plains council will offer again during the summer the popular Cub-Dad Pow Wows, according to W. R. Postma, area scout executive. These father and son camps will be offered at Camp Post June 5 and 6 and again on June 12 and 13.

Each camp will start with the evening meal on Saturday and end after the noon meal on Sunday. Reservations should be in the scout office by June 1 for the first Pow Wow and by June 7 for the second Pow Wow; however, Postma stated that if dads find they can't come until the last minute, they should feel free to attend.

Cost $10 Per Camper

If troops are accompanied by their adult leaders, the cost for the week's outing will be $10 per camper, Mr. Postma said. Camp will open each week on Sunday afternoon and close following the noon meal each Saturday.

Each troop will be expected to plan its own program while in camp; however, the council will offer the following special sessions at each camp; fire building, outdoor cooking, knife and axe work, first aid training, physical fitness, activities, elementary and pioneering rope work, indian lore, archery, marksmanship, compass and mapping, nature lore and bird study.

The council will maintain a camp director, program director, two chefs, a rangeman and a specialist in handicraft and nature subjects to be of assistance to unit leaders in their program activities. Arrangements have also been made for a trading post and for complete medical service including hospitalization in the city of Post in cases of emergency.

Questions concerning the camp will be answered at the council office, or by phoning 7242.

Council Scouts To Hold Annual Camporee At Camp Mammy Haynes

Camp Mammy Haynes, 10 miles northeast of Silverton, will be the scene of the annual spring camporee of Boy Scouts from the eight northern counties of the South Plains council today, Saturday and Sunday.

The camporee, which will feature troop contests in eight fields with streamer awards to winning patrols and a beef barbecue by the scouts themselves on Saturday night, is expected to attract a much larger group than last year's Easter jamboree, which was attended by 19 troops and 318 scouts.

There are about 310,000,000 cubic miles of water in the oceans of the world.

Longview Publisher Offers To Buy "Suckers'" Steel Stock

DALLAS, April 22 (AP)—Carl Estes, Longview publisher, said today he had placed a "substantial order" for Lone Star Steel corporation stock at $10 a share with Rauscher, Pierce and co., Dallas brokers.

He told a reporter at the same time:

"Anyone who sells his stock at $6.75 a share is a sucker and anyone who sells it to me at $10 a share is a bigger sucker.

"However, if you must sell yours, I want you to get at least a fraction of its true value."

Estes, a leader in promotion of Lone Star, declared that "a statement issued in Dallas Wednesday that the stock was selling over the counter in Dallas for $6.75 per share could have had the effect of driving the stock down."

He added:

"East Texas has a gold mine—this time it is the Lone Star Steel corporation. Fourteen years ago, certain big oil interests drove the price of crude down to five cents a barrel. When I fought them for a seat at the market table of the oil world, those who fought with me today are riding in Rolls Royces and Cadillacs and their wives are wearing mink coats and diamond rings as big as ice cubes.

"I see in the present battle a direct analogy. They are building skyscrapers in Dallas largely on East Texas oil money. They'll be building them a few years hence on East Texas ore money."

365 Church Additions Reported Since Baptist Revival Opened

Addition of 365 new members has been reported by 19 churches of Lubbock Baptist association since opening of the district-wide simultaneous revivals April 11, 185 members joining by baptism.

Dr. C. Y. Dossey, assistant director of evangelism for the Southern Baptist convention, reported more than 1,000 persons had joined Baptist churches in District 9 and that figure represents the number reported by less than half of the 109 churches in the district.

Slogan for the revivals is "Christ for the Crisis."

Dr. Dossey is conducting services at the First Baptist church here.

Less U. S. Food To Be Shipped To Europe, Aid Official Says

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Americans will be asked to share less of their farm products with consumers abroad during the first year of the European Recovery program than during the past year.

So reported Agriculture department officials today after Paul G. Hoffman, European aid administrator, gave the congressional committee a tentative breakdown on expenditures for food and other farm products.

Officials said the value of agricultural exports—both under the recovery program and commercial shipments—may be from 15 to 20 percent below the $3,900,000,000 shipped during the past year.

Grain, Cotton Included

Hoffman's tentative list of purchases of farm products for the European aid program totaled roughly $2,000,000,000. It included: Grains 957,200,000; cotton $511,300,000; tobacco $110,200,000; food fats and oils $131,900,000; oilcake and meal for livestock feed $60,200,00; meat $83,600,000; dairy products $133,500,000; eggs $12,000,000; dried fruits $6,700,000; rice $34,600,000; sugar $117,900,000, and other foods $20,000,000.

Hoffman explained that this list is subject to change. Department officials said improved European crop prospects indicate that the continent will need less American food—particularly grains—during the coming 12 months.

Hoffman's list was made up with the aid of agricultural officials.

The sugar would come largely from Cuba, which will have much more than this country will require from her.

The planned exports of food fats and oils would be more than offset by imports of Philippine copra and other Far Eastern vegetable oils.

Western States Would Welcome Anyone Who Can Kill Cougars

WASHINGTON, April 22 (U.P.)—The West would welcome anyone who wants to shoot mountain lions, Interior Department officials report.

Because of the lack of hunters during the war years, the predatory animals have increased in number to about 6,000. That isn't many compared to the days of the wild west, officials say, but livestock in the Southwest is suffering more than usual.

Mountain lions, or cougars, kill sheep, colts and sometimes even full grown cattle. As many as 30 sheep have ben slain by one of the tree-cats as the result of a direct attack or a stampede provoked by an attack.

Most mountain lion hunting is carried on by federal and state game control men who kill for a salary. Some western states offer bounties. Colorado, for instance, will pay $50 a head.

Convention Groups To Be Encouraged To Act And Not Look

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 22—The man who will entertain many of the delegates to the Democratic and Republican National conventions in Philadelphia is against too much frivolity.

He says that in this hour of national emergency he plans to keep everybody's mind on the job of picking a president.

"I could fill the town with beautiful chorus and showgirls, not to mention dancers with or without veils," said pleasant little Frank Palumbo. He is the inventor of the Click. He made it click.

"I could have had the pick of the nation's lovlies," he continued. "But I figure this isn't the time for looking. It's the time for acting. So I got plans all laid out for entertainment that will never clash with the serious business before the conventions."

Sinatra Is Answer

And what is Palumbo's solution? In two words, Frank Sinatra.

"Yes," he said seriously, "Frankie is one of my big reliances. He's got that soothing kind of voice that won't jangle the nerves of a delegate after a hard day on the convention floor. Frankie will keep them calm and reasonable—which is what the nation needs today."

Palumbo said he also had Xavier Cugat rounded up.

"Cugat is playing ball with us. He will give out with his less violent tempos. Nice medium rhumbas and things. I wouldn't want a dislocated sacroiliac to be blamed on me. One vote either way may mean a lot."

Palumbo dropped into New York from Philadelphia to pick up more entertainers and, coincidentally, to see how his psychological warfare against New York night clubs is going. Smack in the Broadway white light district is his sign: "If You Wanna Have Fun Come to Philly."

"I'm putting one up on Picadilly in London and on the Rue de la Paix in Paris," he said. "Philadelphia figures in plenty of vaudeville jokes like Flatbush and Brooklyn, but we can prove our night life is better than any of them now."

Palumbo owns a string of clubs and restaurants but his "depression proof idea" is his pet.

"It's like a telescope," he said. "Business is good—then we open up full. On duller nights we retract a few sections. It's hard to lose that way."

DOESN'T ADD UP

WILSON, Kan. (U.P.)—The Mothers' Club of Wilson is in financial difficulty. The club has 14 members. Last fall it voted to give each member who had a new baby a gift to cost $3. Five members are expecting. The treasury has a balance of only $6.56.

Parrot Is Unofficial Star Witness In Tennessee Case

ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn., Apr. 22. (U.P.)—A four-year-old parrot was chief exhibit and unofficial star witness in a case heard by Judge W. R. Pearson.

The bird was involved in a suit filed by Raymond West against Robert L. Smith. West was trying to regain possession of it.

West bought the parrot in Florida and turned it over to an Elizabethtown woman to keep for him. She apparently thought West had given her a present.

She turned it over to another woman, who gave it to Smith.

During the parrot's court experience, it was questioned briefly in the manner of a witness. Asked its name, it replied: "Polly."

West was given custody of the bird by the court. And now, Smith is trying to buy the parrot. It seems he has become "attached" to it.

Kaiser-Frazer President Urges Women As Automobile 'Salesmen'

WILLOW RUN, Mich., April 22. (U.P.)—The time is coming when almost every automobile dealer will have at least one woman car "salesman."

That's the belief of Joseph W. Frazer, president of Kaiser-Frazer Corp.

Frazer urged the 4,000 dealers attending a spring sales meeting at the Willow Run plant to take the lead in training women to sell cars.

"They proved during the war that they could do almost any man's job," he said. "Now they're showing that they often can beat men at selling cars. I'd like to see every dealer have at least one woman on his sales staff."

The time has come to sound a sweet note or "jam session." So, here's a fanfare for Mrs. W. E. Chaney of Dallas, who wins $10 with:

For a quickly made and easily handled jelly bag, snap the top of the cloth bag between a pair of embroidery hoops.

Jelly Step No. 2: Snap stout cord into hoops along with jelly bag; suspend bag by cord from a cabinet door handle over container for juice . . . clearer jelly.

With egg prices still in the top roost, wasting leftover yolks is enough to make Plymouth rock . . . but $10 to Mrs. Wm. W. Reed, Brownsville, Texas, for the answer:

Leftover egg yolks will keep perfectly for several days in your refrigerator if MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING, melted and cooled, is poured over them in a small bowl. When you are ready to use them, the shortening lifts off in one piece leaving yolks intact. If all are not used, repeat the process.

Join the parade of Postal Pot Luckers with your home-help or recipe. $10 from Mrs. Tucker if printed. Send to Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers' Dept., Sherman, Texas.

FUNNY CAKE
(or, now you can have your cake and eat pie!)

1st Part	2nd Part
½ cup cocoa	¼ cup MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING
¼ cup sugar	¾ cup sugar
⅓ cup water	1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla	½ cup milk
	1¼ cups cake flour
	1 teaspoon baking powder
	½ teaspoon vanilla
	½ teaspoon salt
	1 unbaked pastry shell

Pour cake batter (2nd part) into unbaked pastry shell. Pour warm cocoa sauce (1st part) over batter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes or until cake springs back to touch and pastry is nicely browned. Cool and serve in wedges.

(When "Funny Cake" is baked, the sauce is between the cake and the pastry; leaving the cake light in color. It is best served within 24 hours of baking, preferably as soon as thoroughly cooled.)

Hot bread made with MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING is practically an order with home-made jelly. And next to your jelly . . . you'll like MEADOLAKE MARGARINE best. MEADOLAKE'S wholesome, melt-in-your-mouth flavor is a pure case of food flattery. NO. 13

CONDON CASE REACHES CLIMAX

House Demands Secret Loyalty Letter Written By FBI Chief

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22—The House demanded today that the secretary of commerce surrender a letter dealing with the loyalty of a leading government atomic scientist and President Truman immediately challenged the legislators to enforce their demand.

The lower chamber by the overwhelming vote of 300 to 29 approved a resolution directing the cabinet official to "transmit forthwith" the letter, written by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and referring to Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards.

A few hours later at his news conference the President, asked for comment, quoted a remark by President Andrew Jackson about a ruling by Chief Justice John Marshall in a case involving the Cherokee Indians. Mr. Truman quoted Jackson:

"The chief justice has made his decision—now let him enforce it."

The House resolution is simply an expression of sentiment and does not have the force of law.

After the Condon matter stirred up considerable furore, the President on March 13 ordered "frozen" all loyalty information in government files. He directed federal agencies to ignore any subpoena or demand by a congressional committee for confidential records, unless he approved.

Climax To Long Battle

The Hoover letter was addressed to W. Averall Harriman as commerce secretary, and dated May 15, 1947.

Harriman was named yesterday by Mr. Truman as roving United States ambassador to the 16 Marshall plan nations. The President appointed Charles Sawyer, Cincinnati lawyer and former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, to succeed him as commerce secretary.

The House action climaxed a long battle between leaders of the House Un-American Activities committee and the executive branch over publication of the Hoover letter on Condon. The letter contains a detailed account of the "associations" of Condon.

An Un-American Activities subcommittee charged several weeks ago that Condon had been acquainted with alleged Soviet agents and was "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

Actress Sues For $100,000 After Old Film Is Televised

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (INS)—Paramount pictures and others were named defendants of a $100,000 suit filed today by actress Blanche Mehaffey who charged that her televised screen performance was "distorted, uncomplimentary and damaging."

The suit climaxed the televising of Miss Mehaffey's 1931 film, "Mystery Trooper," which currently is released to television studios by Paramount pictures and Guaranteed pictures.

The actress said that when she made the picture television was a thing of the future and that there were no television clauses in her studio contract. The suit will be a test case to determine actors' rights to share in profits of motion pictures now being televised.

B-29s STAGE 'RAID'

WIESBADEN, Germany, April 22 (AP)—A fleet of American Superfortresses based in Germany staged a mock raid today on Port Said, at the mouth of the Suez canal. The non-stop round trip covered 3,600 miles.

Forests Overstocked With Hunters, U. S. Officials Complain

By VINCENT BURKE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22—Forest officials fear that the national forests are becoming overstocked with hunters.

If the boom in hunting and fishing continues as expected, they predict the supply of game in many areas soon will be too small to meet the demand.

Lloyd W. Swift, chief of wild life management for the forest service says the total supply of game animals in national forests still is increasing. But for the first time in many years, the rate at which sportsmen are taking game from the forests is increasing faster than the rate of increase in game animals.

Last year 4,650,000 persons hunted the 152 national forests or fished their lakes and streams. That compares with the pre-war high of 3,540,000 in 1941. This year an even bigger turnout is expected.

Increase Declines

As recently as seven or eight years ago the supply of game was doubling every 10 years. Now the rate of increase has declined to about one-third of that. The limitation of the land is beginning to show up. Some forests are fully stocked; a few are overstocked.

"The only answer is to make better use of what we have," Swift said.

He hopes for changes in state game laws to reduce the "bag limit." Gradually, Swift believes, sportsmen will become more concerned with the "purely recreational aspects" of the forests and less with killing game.

"In the past we were meat hunters," he said. "We wanted to kill game for food and we wanted to demonstrate our prowess as hunters.

Hunters Choosy

"But nowadays many veteran hunters won't shoot at run-of-mill deer. Unless they can get a prize specimen, they're content just to get a kick out of looking at wild game. Many of them are carrying cameras."

The problem is more easily solved when it comes to fishing. Many fishermen fish only for the sport and throw back the fish they catch. In some areas in the national forests state laws prohibit "removal" of fish that are caught.

"That way the same fish can get caught many times in one season," Swift said.

But the system won't work when it comes to hunting, Swift pointed out. Once you shoot an animal, you can't "throw him back" for some one else to shoot.

If forests and streams should get to the point where they are "crowded" by sportsmen, Swift figures the trend may reverse itself to some extent.

"Many sportsmen would give up and start going to football games and movies instead—or maybe they'd take up poker playing as a substitute," he said.

Pupils in Scotland have to get through about three times as many books in the school year, as do London school children.

Rich Iowa Farmer's Plan To Give Away Million Hits Snag

LE MARS, Ia., April 22 (INS)—A $25,000 suit was filed today against Herman R. Schultz, the 75-year-old Iowa farmer who announced last week that he is giving away a million dollars worth of property.

The plaintiffs, William and Viola Rieken, reported that they leased land from Schultz from 1930 to last March 1. They said all checks for produce were made out to him or to Schultz and Rieken jointly.

They alleged that Schultz promised to account for all the money if this procedure were followed.

Now the Riekens claim that Schultz is trying to dispose of all his property to avoid the obligation.

States Taking Increasing Toll Of Taxes, Group's Survey Shows

NEW YORK, April 22 (U.P.)—Tax Foundation, Inc., said today that the 48 states took $5,774,000,000 directly from the taxpayers last year and do not need the additional federal assistance except under unusual circumstances.

The foundation, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, is a body endowed by several philanthropic organizations to survey the tax picture. In its first report, it said the various states could ease the tax burden in two ways: by lowering their own tax rates and by dropping their demands on the federal treasury.

The report said:

1. State tax collections in 1947 were 58 per cent, or $2,129,000,000 more than in 1941. The increase is more than the entire tax collection by the 48 states in the depression year of 1930.

2. Some of the south's so-called "poor states" now have a higher per capita revenue than the industrial and rich farm states of the north.

Fostered by Depression

"This great increase in state revenues," the foundation said, "has far-reaching implications. The depression fostered the habit of asking Washington for money in the 1930s. Further federal assistance should be re-examined carefully."

The present trend in state taxation is toward assessments on earning and spending. Hence, general prosperity increases the flow of taxes into state treasuries. The 14 principal sources of state revenue listed according to productivity are:

General sales taxes, gasoline, motor vehicle licenses, corporate income, individual income, alcoholic beverages, property, tobacco, insurance companies, death and gift taxes, public utilities, general corporation taxes on franchises and special privileges, pari-mutuel betting and severance taxes on the removal of natural resources.

Cuts Suggested

Regarding state tax rates, the reports said:

"The post-war tendency of the states to add new taxes and to raise tax rates also seems to warrant close scrutiny. Without much question, a part of the additional revenues sought by the states was for purposes which would be considered unnecessary or extravagant in more normal times. It is pertinent to inquire . . . whether certain tax reduction cannot be made."

In the six-year period since the start of the war, the State of Washington increased its tax collections 148 per cent to lead the nation with a per capita tax income of $70.83.

Southern states along the Atlantic coast are collecting 93 per cent more taxes than before the war, the report said. The increase for south central states is 69 per cent against the national average of 58 per cent.

Oklahoma, with a 107 per cent increase, now has a $51.09 per capita annual revenue; Louisiana $50.07, up 52 percent; Mississippi $34.60, up 121 per cent; Georgia $29.78, up 83 percent; Alabama 29.14, up 63 per cent. Those compare with $29.79 per capita for Pennsylvania, which has held its increase to nine per cent, and $29.26 for Maryland, up 11 per cent in the six years.

New York, despite forgiving a large part of its income tax each year, had a 33 per cent increase in revenue. New York's per capita revenue is $45.83, or less than several of the southern "poor states."

Largely responsible for the increased revenue were taxes which rapidly reflect prosperity such as the general sales tax collected in 23 states, individual and corporate income tax. The sales tax, the biggest revenue producer, is returning 108 per cent more than before the war; gasoline is producing 22 per cent more revenue, to stay in second place, followed by corporate income taxes, up 142 per cent, and individual income taxes, up 78 per cent.

Alcoholic beverage taxes now produce more revenue than property taxes, and tobacco taxes almost as much. Alcoholic beverages yielded $412,000,000 last year, property taxes $257,000,000 and tobacco taxes $245,000,000.

Municipalities have jumped on this gravy train. Local property taxes increased $680,000,000 between 1941 and 1946, the last year tabulated and in 1946 amounted to $4,904,000,000.

Making Faces In Mirror Seen As Definite Aid To Stutterers

MINNEAPOLIS, April 22 (U.P.)—It isn't unusual to see students making strange faces in a huge mirror at the University of Minnesota.

It is one of the newer methods the school is trying out to cure stuttering.

Each year, the university treats about 60 stutterers and about 300 others who have speech defects. The reason for the mirror is that it reflects habits students have developed in their fight not to stutter, such as deep breathing, hard swallowing and whistling through their teeth.

In all, nearly 1,000 students and several non-students are treated with clinic facilities each year. Many of them are hard of hearing and, because of injuries or other reasons, never have heard correct pronounciation of words.

INS Expands Service Over Wide Section, Latest Report Shows

NEW YORK, April 22 (INS)—Inauguration of the first complete television news programs, establishment of direct high-speed radioprinter service to overseas capitals, and an all-time high in the number of INS clients at home and abroad featured the annual International News Service report made public today.

Seymour Berkson, vice president and general manager of INS, made the report to business executives of the news agency at a meeting held in connection with the American Newspaper Publishers convention in New York.

Expanded Domestic Service

Mr. Berkson pointed out that INS has further expanded its domestic and foreign news coverage facilities during 1947 and the first three months of 1948.

With the addition of many newspapers and radio stations to the INS client list since the beginning of 1947, the number of INS subscribers has reached an all-time high—the highest total since the news service was founded, he announced.

Mr. Berkson added:

"INS news dispatches and special features now reach directly on its own teletype and wireless channels and indirectly through network and other tieups a grand total of more than 2,400 newspapers and radio stations throughout the world.

"It is estimated today that through its various clients INS dispatches are made available daily to an audience in excess of 250,000,000 people around the globe.

"In keeping with this global expansion, the news service has steadily expanded its news gathering facilities at home and abroad."

In his resume of INS television activities, Mr. Berkson stated that in January of this year INS joined forces with Internation News Photos and Telenews Productions Inc., to produce the first complete television news service.

The three organizations now provide a daily service of newsreels, still news photos, and teletype news specifically tailored for television. Operations have been completely co-ordinated for a full three-way coverage of world events.

HE'S FOR TRAFFIC COURTESY

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Downtown traffic court officers received a letter signed by "A Citizen" which read: "I saw this tag attached to an out-of-town car, but I took it off." A traffic ticket was included and the letter went on to deplore such treatment of a visitor.

Waterways Program For Texas Gets Boost

$30 Million Is Set For Work

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—The full Senate Appropriations committee today adopted without change a subcommittee's recommendation for a waterways construction program containing more than $30,000,000 in projects for Texas.

The program is for the 12 months beginning July 1. The full amount of the bill is $641,067,000.

Senator Gurney (R-SD), chairman of the subcommittee, announced the full committee's action. He said the vote was 16-3.

Projects Listed

Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas-Red river levees below Denison dam, $1,000,000. Oklahoma and Texas-Denison reservoir $500,000. Belton reservoir $1,000,000 (includes $76,000 allowed by House for planning); Garza-Little Elm reservoi $1,000,000 (includes $115,000 allowed by House for planning); Texarkana reservoir $3,350,000; Benbrook reservoir, $3,200,000; Lavon reservoir $2,800,000; Grapevine reservoir, $3,300,000; Whitney reservoir, $4,000,000; Hords creek reservoir, $280,000; San Angelo reservoir and floodway $4,000,000; Brady creek $300,000.

Rivers and harbors projects affecting Texas include: Brazos island harbor $325,000; Trinity river, Anahuac-Liberty $750,000; Neches and Angelina rivers, $1,818,100; Sabine-Neches waterway, $480,000; intracoastal waterway, Apalachee bay, Fla., to Mexican border section, (Galveston district) $2,119,000; Houston ship channel $500,000.

Increase Proposed

The committee's figure proposed an increase of $101,377,900 in the amount approved by the House several weeks ago for the Army corps of engineers. The recommendation, however, is still $25,415,800 short of the budget estimate submitted by President Truman.

The Senate committee's figure of $640,253,200 compares with $415,553,300 granted by Congress for the current year and $205,000,000 spent each of the last two years preceding World War II.

The measure will now go to the Senate. After passage there, the bill will go to conference with the House for agreement on the changes. After that the final form of the bill will again be acted upon by the House and Senate.

Later Chairman Bridges of the full committee told reporters those who voted against the bill included himself, Senators Reed (R-Kan) and Ferguson (R-Mich).

Rodeo Planned Here In June

Various plans for the Boys' club rodeo to be conducted June 9, 10 11 and 12 were made by rodeo committees from the American Business club Thursday at a luncheon at Mexican Inn.

The luncheon was called by Alton Taylor, general chairman of the rodeo committee, and Lewis Kerr, vice chairman, in conjunction with the president, B. Watkins.

Purpose was "to map out strategy and general procedure planning one of the biggest and best rodeos we have ever had here," a spokesman said.

Tech Arena Discussed

The general rodeo committee, in addition to the chairman and vice chairman, was announced as Harry Van Horn, Johnny Corcorran, Porter Garrett, Jimmie Wilson, Lambert Eaton, Henry Buell, O. B. Ratliff and J. Ray Dickey.

Chairmen of various committees planning for the event are Douglas Adams, Guy Gilstrap, Ernest St. Clair, Grady Knight, J. D. Chastain, Ed Hambright and Preston Johnston.

Arrangements were discussed for construction of an arena inside of Texas Technological college stadium, parking, a parade preceding the rodeo, advance ticket sales, publicity and advertising, and plans for presence of dignitaries.

New Mexico Political Foes Expected At Clovis Festival

CLOVIS, N. M., April 22 (INS)—Clovis may be the scene of a "political festival" tomorrow as well as the scheduled cattle festival.

Among the state political leaders expected to be present are Gov. Thomas J. Mabry; his primary opponent, Lloyd Bloodworth, and the opposing senatorial candidates, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and former governor John J. Dempsey.

State Education Group To Visit City

Study Of Work In School Is Planned

A thorough evaluation of Lubbock Senior High school instruction methods, faculty, administration and guidance is set for April 26-28 when a 13-member state education committee representing the Southern Association of Affiliated Schools will visit here, Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education here, announced Wednesday.

The three-day inspection tour of the high school will afford local teachers and administrative officials an excellent opportunity to compare their own evaluations of improvements and needs in the high school with the findings of the state committee, Miss Lomax said.

The inspection committee, which is to be under the supervision of Dr. Hob Gray of the University of Texas, will visit classrooms during the first day and a half for the purpose of rating teaching efficiency, instruction methods and courses of study. The committee will work with local education officials and teachers in evaluating every phase of work at the high school.

The evaluation is to be made as result of a ruling passed in the spring of 1947 by the Southern Association of Affiliated Schools which require that a complete evaluation of all affiliated high schools be made each five years. Last similar inspection at Lubbock High school was made in 1940.

Made Own Evaluation

Local education officials, under the supervision of Floyd Honey, principal of the high school, and Miss Lomax, began a self-imposed evaluation system for the high school in November, 1946, for purpose of self-improvement.

Since the local inspection system was launched, eight committees have been set up in the following fields: administration, school plant, guidance, pupil activity program, curriculum and courses of study, instruction, outcomes of instruction and school staff.

Hope For Recommendations

Miss Lomax, who has acted as coordinator of local study in much the same capacity as Dr. Gray will act for the visiting committee, expressed the hope that the state committee will be able to make recommendations which the local group may have overlooked because "we are too close o ourselves."

Members of the state committee are: Dr. Gray, a member of the education faculty at the University of Texas; John Bishop, principal of San Angelo Senior High school; E. H. Boulter, deputy superintendent of state department of education in this area; Joe Reed, area supervisor of vocational arts; Mrs. Elton Fuller, former supervisor of libraries in Waco public schools and now a resident of Lubbock.

Others On Committee

H. D. Fillers, former superintendent of public schools in Wichita Falls; Miss Ruth Hillyer, teacher in San Angelo Senior High school; Miss Ione McAlister, teacher in Big Spring Senior High school; Dr. R. E. Garlin, head of the department of education of Texas Technological college.

J. T. Shaver, associate professor of education at Texas Technological college; R. A. Selby, director of curriculum and guidance at Amarillo Senior High school; Knox Kinard, superintendent of public schools at Pampa; John Humbert, teacher at San Angelo Senior High school.

Through several visits to the local high school, Dr. Gray has in effect directed the local self-study program and will be in a position next week to witness and evaluate the progress of the overall program and the eight committees, which are composed primarily of senior faculty members.

Foreign Pilots Invited To Participate In Bendix Race

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (INS)—Foreign pilots were invited today to participate in the annual Los Angeles-Cleveland Bendix air derby this year.

It will mark the first time that forgign entries have been invited to compete in the race. Lawrence E. Therkelson, chairman of the Bendix race committee, said that foreign entries will be required to first obtain approval of the National Aeronautical association.

Judging Teams To Vie Saturday

Over 70 high schools have entered a total of 209 teams in the twenty-fourth annual vocational agriculture judging contests to be held at Texas Technological college Saturday.

Of the 209 teams, 58 have entered the livestock judging, 56 have entered the dairy cattle judging, 37 in the poultry contests, 29 teams will judge crops, 10 will judge cotton and 13 have entered the judging of dairy products.

Three In Each Team

Each team is comprised of three members, bringing the total individual contests to 627 students. Entries were supposed to close at noon Thursday but L. M. Hargrave, associate professor of agricultural education, indicated that several more schools would undoubtedly request entrance today and that they would be allowed to enter.

The contests are sponsored each year by the college chapter of the Future Farmers of America at Texas Tech with no limit to the area from which contestants may enter. So far entries have been receivec from as far away as El Paso, Ballinger and Alpine. Several New Mexico high schools have also entered the contests.

A great many awards will be made with blue ribbons going to the five boys making the highest score in each division, blue and gold banners to the three highest teams in each division, a gold medal to the highest individual in each contest, a sweepstakes banner to the highest team in the entire contest and a gold medal to its coach.

A school can enter teams in as many divisions as it so desires but cannot enter the team in the same division the following year.

Competition will be interrupted at noon for a sack lunch, prepared by the Texas Tech FFA chapter and the Lubbock Cooperative Oil Mill will give a picnic dinner for all contestants, guests and officials in Aggie Grove in the evening.

Results of the various contests will be announced at about 6 p. m. in the stock pavilion at the college.

POISONED WATER KILLS LIVESTOCK—Dead cattle litter the farm yard of T. J. Boone near Sweeny, Tex., after they drank poisoned water from a small stream near the farm. Several hundred cattle and horses were reported dead in the area after a railroad tank car filled with an arsenic compound used to kill weeds was dumped into the stream by mistake. Heavy loss of wild game along the stream was also reported. (AP Wirephoto).

Four-Hour Test Made On New Mexico Well

Midcontinent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Santa Fe, prospective discovery for commercial oil production from a deep lime zone in extreme northeast Lea county, New Mexico, is credited by unofficial sources to have run a four-hour drillstem test at 12,181 to 12,214 feet.

A 3,000-foot water blanket was used, and the drill pipe is said to have kicked out some fluid before the tester was closed. It is understood that some fluid bubbled out of the pipe as it was being pulled and racked.

Total recovery was said to have been about 9,700 feet of free, 43-gravity oil, and 13 stands of water. The water was thought to have been partly water blanket and partly drilling water. Interested observers said that an anlysis showed that none of the water was from the formation.

The possible discovery is about six miles east of Crossroads, 20 miles north of Tatum, and 660 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the east line of section 27, block 9S, survey 36E.

Robin Creates Traffic Problem With Nest At Chicago Home

CHICAGO, April 22 (AP) — A mother robin has created a traffic problem in the Stuart Grau home in suburban Norwood park.

WEED KILLER DUMPED INTO CREEK

Cattlemen Suffer Heavy Losses From Arsenic Polluted Stream

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 22.—Brazoria county residents today hastily constructed two earthen dams across the little Linville creek today to prevent further loss of cattle from the arsenic polluted waters of the stream.

Cattle losses alread, have been placec at 500 head following dumping of 6,000 gallons of an arsenic weed killer chemical in the creek a week ago.

Other Streams Free

The dams were thrown up in the Boone settlement area, some 15 miles from where the water first was contaminated, to stop the flow of the sluggish stream.

A water treating plant also was being installed to free the water of the poison.

The arsenic as yet has not been found in the big Linville creek, into which the little Linville empties, or Caney creek, into which the big Linville flows.

H. T. Mayne, Brazoria county game warden, today said total losses may be between 500 and 600 head of cattle.

"It's a bad situation," he said. "We can't tell yet what the total loss will be."

Creek Banks Littered

Mayne said the slow progress with which the small stream moves toward the big Linville probably accounts for the saving of the lives of many head of livestock.

The banks of the creek also are littered with dead ducks, squirrels, coons, fish and snakes.

At Austin, Howard, Dodgen, executive secretary of the State Game, Fish and Oyster commission, said no state controls on fishing in the area are necessary.

Dodgen said fish in the stream that have come in contact with the poison will be dead and that any live fish caught will be edible.

Cattlemen's Losses Heavy

Largest single loss resulting from cattle drinking the polluted water involves a $25,000 prize Jersey bull owned by James Abercrombie, Houston oilman.

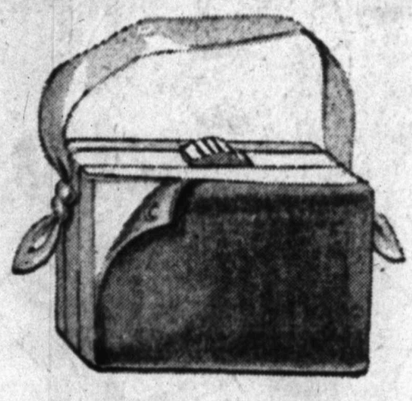

John Bash, Sweeney stockman, reported losing approximately 200 head of cattle from a herd of 265. Included in the losses were 20 bulls. Bash said he had been offered only recently $1,000 for one of the bulls, $750 for another, and $500 each for the others.

J. T. Reeves was reported to have lost about 30 head of cattle and Tom Boone several head of cattle and horses.

Some Wander Away

Some of the cattle, after drinking the water, wandered into the thickets and it may be several days before they are found.

The arsenic poisoning was traced to the dumping of 6,000 gallons of weed killer solution into a disposal system which empties into the little Linville.

Former War Secretary Defends Stilwell's Role In CBI War

NEW YORK, April 22 (U.P.)—The history of World War II in the China - Burma - Indian theater is described by Henry L. Stimson as "principally the saga of Joe Stilwell fighting heroically against overwhelming odds."

Stimson has written an eloquent defense of General "Vinegar Joe" as a "matchless soldier and patriot." The former Secretary of War sees Stilwell as one who had to fight not only the Japanese but the efforts of Chiang Kai-shek, aided by American and British generals, to discard his strategy. The story appears in Stimson's memoirs "On Active Service in Peace and War," published by Harper and Brothers.

The book discloses many previously unpublished details of the war. It reveals persistent British efforts to divert military power to the Mediterranean in 1942. The move so angered Washington that Stimson and Gen. George C. Marshall wanted to threaten "to turn our backs on them and take up the war with Japan."

Raps Chennault

Stimson said the Burma campaign, culminating in the capture of Myitkina, was "a triumphant vindication of Stilwell's courage and sagacity." He noted in a report that Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, who he described as "tactically" opposed to Stilwell's strategy," has been given almost twice as much in the way of equipment over The Hump as he asked for and yet he is now failing abjectly to stop the Japanese.

"On the other hand," Stimson wrote. "Stilwell fighting against all these obstacles, British incompetence and sluggishness, Chinese disloyalty and lack of supplies over the Hump line which Chennault's demands made necessary has proved the only success in the whole horizon."

Stimson said Chiang Kai-shek's interference and opposition to Stilwell's plans prevented the building up of a powerful modern Chinese army. He mentioned Chiang's "intense preoccupation with the perpetuation of his own power" as a "still further limitation" on China's part in the global war effort.

FDR Criticized

Stimson said one of the sadder phases of the Burma campaign was that President Roosevelt was "tied by personal sympathy to the support of Chennault" and that for his information on China he "relied on 'personal representatives' who were usually easy dupes of the wonderfully charming circle around the throne of Chunking.

"He thus never gave to Stilwell the freedom of action and automatic backing which he so courageously accorded to his commanders in other theaters," Stimson observed.

Stimson, discussing Army-Navy troubles during the war, said they were mainly due "to the peculiar psychology of the Navy Department, which frequently seemed to retire from the realm of logic into a dim religious world in which Neptune was God, (Admiral) Mahan his prophet and the United States Navy the only true church."

STUDENT VETERANS WARNED

NEW YORK (U.P.) — David P. Page, deputy veterans administrator for New York and Puerto Rico, warned veterans attending technical schools under the GI Bill of Rights that they should be sure their schools are of high standing. He said some veterans found they were unable to get jobs in their chosen fields after spending one or two years in poor schools.

Paul Bunyans Will Compete In Oregon Logging Carnival

ALBANY, Ore., April 22 (U.P.) —Lumberjacks from all over the United States are expected to be on hand July 2, 3, and 4, when Albany's annual timber carnival is held this year.

In the championship matches, Al Firchau, Lebanon, Ore., climber, said he will defend his record climb set last year, when he spiked his way up a 100-foot pole and down again in 50 seconds. He believes he can cut the time to 45 seconds.

Championship matches will be held aslo for three felling, log bucking, log rolling or birling, wood chopping and flapjack flipping.

Jealousy-Crazed Man Kills Wife And Self After Row At Altar

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (INS) —A jealously-crazed man dragged his wife from her prayers at mass today, shot and killed her in the churchyard and then fatally shot himself.

The slaying and suicide occurred before the horrified eyes of Father Thomas G. Hayes. The priest knelt in the rainswept courtyard of the Church of our Lady of Guadalupe and administered extreme unction to the dying couple.

The pair was identified as Jose Jiminez, 36, and his wife, Sara, 25.

Witnesses said that Mr. and Mrs. Jiminez knelt in prayer and then began to argue noisily during the mass.

HAT PROVES POOR BANK

MINNEAPOLIS (U.P.) — If S. D. Stocking had socked his money away in his stocking instead of in the band of his hat, he would be $150 richer, While eating in a cafe, Stocking picked up the wrong hat.

Mexico Labor Groups Will Meet To Form New National Union

MEXICO CITY, April 22. (U.P.)— Three of Mexico's most powerful labor unions will meet in June or July to form a new national labor union, potentially the strongest in Mexico, Eulalio N. Ibanez, secretary general of the petroleum workers union, said today.

He said representatives of the miners and the railroad workers union, as well as of the petroleum workers, would participate in the meeting. The three unions announced a "labor solidarity pact" last January, but they have not formerly allied themselves otherwise.

The Mexican Federation of Workers (CTM) long has been Mexico's strongest labor union.

Growing Group Of Europeans Are Accusing U. S. Of 'War Hysteria'

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is a growing cult of Europeans who, even as some Americans, go around accusing the United States of "war hysteria," "panic" and the like.

A British editor said recently after a trip to the United States that the war scare which is going on there is not only terrific, but almost terrifying. I tried to explain to them that we do not share their worst fears. Americans are in a bigger flap than our foreign office was (over the Berlin Crisis)."

Antagonism Mounting

The latest contribution in this campaign to convince Americans that they don't need preparedness, etc., was made by Dr. Rene Sand of Belgium, president of the International Conference of Social Work.

He said Europe viewed American behaviour as "hysteria" and "exaggerated," although he did admit there was real danger in Russia. He said Europe was not so "scared" as America.

Then he went on to say:

"Antagonism is mounting. But we are accustomed in Europe to great political strifes. There has always been disunity. We are also very busy reconstructing our economic life. Also we are confident that if we were invaded the United States would help us."

U. S. Recalls Other Wars

Perhaps the good doctor answered himself. If Europe is complacent about "great political strifes," and if they are depending on the United States to defend them, perhaps there is some justification for a little "flap" on this side.

The United States is "scared". Two experiences in rescuing Belgium and other European nations from wars which they themselves declined to take seriously until it was too late have made us "scared."

We remember very well the troubles we have had because of Franco-British unpreparedness.

The title of rabbi is accorded Jewish scholars of eminence, as well as the ministry..

NLRB Gets Recommendation That Printers' Union Be Required To Change Policies

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22 — A trial examiner recommended today that the National Labor Relations board require the AFL International Typographical union to change its constitution and nationwide policies to conform with the Taft-Hartley act.

The NLRB examiner, William Ringer, found the ITU guilty of violating the new law by coercing its Baltimore members to follow certain illegal collective bargaining policies.

He found Baltimore local No. 12 guilty of refusing to bargain in good faith with the Graphic Arts league, which represents 22 commercial printing firms in Baltimore.

To File Exceptions

An attorney for the ITU, Gerhard Van Arkel, said the ITU "certainly will file exceptions" to Ringer's report.

That means the five-man board must review the case and make a decision.

Though the case was begun by the Baltimore firms, Ringer's far-reaching recommendations, if adopted by the board, would apply to the ITU nationally.

NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham has issued complaints against the ITU but this is the first one to be reported on by a trial examiner.

Local Is Blamed

In fact it is one of the first trial examiner reports in any case involving labor practice charges against a labor union. The Taft-Hartley act made unions subject to such charges for the first time.

Though Ringer said local 12 committed an unfair practice by refusing to bargain, he refused to uphold the same charge against the international union. He said local 12, not the ITU, was the bargaining representative for the Baltimore printers.

But he found both local 12 and the ITU guilty of two other unfair practices:

1. Coercing or restraining employes. Ringer said this was done by requiring employes to be ITU members as a condition of employment. He also said the ITU coerced the Baltimore local to refuse to bargain in good faith.

2. Trying to cause employers to discriminate against non-union printers.

The Denham complaint also charged local 12 and the ITU with coercing employers in the choice of foremen, but Ringer recommended dismissal of this charge.

DeMille To Continue Fight Against Levies By Unions

HOLLYWOOD, April 22 (INS) —Veteran Film Producer Cecil B. DeMille said today that he will continue his fight for the right to refuse to pay a political assessment levied by a union.

De Mille returned to Hollywood after the United States Supreme court refused to review his case. The dollar assessment which De Mille refused to pay was levied by the American Federation of Radio Artists to fight a "proposed anti-labor amendment" to the California constitution.

The Supreme court decision, De Mille said, "shows only that more than ever we need a law to protect the right to work."

The producer, who lost a $98,000-a-year job as director of a radio program in refusing to pay the dollar assessment, declared that he will return to Washington May 11 to demand passage of a law to protect the right to work.

Chicago Italian Receives Papal Recognition For Election Aid

CHICAGO, April 22 (INS) — Adolpho Renucci's efforts to aid in the defeat of the Communists in the Italian elections have been recognized by the Vatican.

The Chicago restaurant owner proudly displayed a cablegram today sent by a member of the papal secretariat. The message to Renucci, a native of Fernaci, said:

"Fernaci won a brilliant Christian Democratic victory. The town is having a grand jubilee."

JIMMY WAKELY
Americas Favorite Singing Cowboy

Jimmy Wakely, star of Monogram Western movies and Capitol recording star, will headline the big stage show at the Arcadia Theatre Sunday, April 25. With Jimmy Wakely will be Cannonball, considered by fans the funniest comedian in Western pictures. Cannonball was formerly featured as a comedian with Wild Bill Elliott, and now appears in the same role in all of JimmyWakely's pictures. In addition to these two sars, the show will include an outstanding western band and featured entertainers. Wakely will sing many of the hit songs which he introduced in his movies and on Capitol records. Cannonball, in addition to his comedy, will prove that he is as great a musician as he is comedian by his sensational playing of the xylophone. This theatre has been selected as one of the very few on this limited tour, as Jimmy Wakely and Cannonball must be back in Hollywood shortly to begin work on another series of western pictures. The engagement at the Arcadia theatre is limited to one day only.

JIMMIE WILL HAVE AS HIS GUEST IN LUBBOCK, JAKE MILLER, WELL KNOWN LUBBOCK BAND LEADER.

'STOP RUSSIA' PLAN IS OFFERED

Scientist Suggests A-Bombs Be Supplied 'Trustworthy' Nations

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 22—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, professor of physics emeritus at the California Institute of Technology, today urged that the U. S. supply "trustworthy" foreign nations with atomic bombs as a safeguard against future aggression.

Using Czechoslovakia as an example of a nation which would have been able to remain Democratic, "if it had been in possession of the A-bomb," the celebrated 80-year old scientist suggested that the world might soon be forced to divide itself into two spheres to preserve Democratic principles.

TO SPEAK AT TECH

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, will be the principle speaker at the Parents' Day recognition services at Texas Tech Sunday, May 2. He will give the first of four lectures he will deliver at the college from May 2-5. The nationally known scientist will speak at the recognition program on "The Two Supreme Elements in Human Progress."

Must Okay Controls

Russian participation in the Democratic sphere should be encouraged without restraint, the scientist added, but asserted that the U.S.S.R. must first show its good faith by abiding by the precepts of the so-called Baruch plan for the control of the atom through impartial inspection of its atomic research.

Dr. Millikan, cited in World War I for his work in developing the first U-boat detection device and in World War II for his rocket development, agrees with his juniors in the field of nuclear physics that the A-bomb, indiscriminately used, would quicken the collapse of civilization.

Peaceful Uses Needed

"But warfare without the A-bomb can also eventually destroy civilization," he warned. "The A-bomb is simply a continuation of the development of weapons capable of destroying the world. Some of the German cities were obliterated by standard bombs much more conclusively than the A-bombs destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki."

If civilization is to survive, the world's limited stores of uranium must be turned to peaceful pursuits, Millikan asserted. Uranium's chief function, he declared, should be directed toward biological and medical research.

"It will never replace coal and oil as the source of heat and energy," the octogenarian said in sharp contradiction to prevalent opinion in atomic research circles. "There just isn't enough of it. There isn't thirty thousand tons of the matter on earth—I mean Uranium-238—and, of course, only a portion of that, the Uranium-235, could be used with success.

Supply Is Limited

"The world has enough coal and oil to last another four thousand years. If we switch to the infinitely more expensive uranium as a source of heat we'd use up the earth's store of it in about 40 years. We'll choose the cheaper medium and, when it is finally used up, we will have learned to understand and utilize the greatest and most efficient atom-smasher of them all—the sun."

The elderly but still chipper scientist, sitting in the lobby of the Commodore hotel and talking above the din of a swing band and the squawk of a nearby television set which was receiving a Giants-Brooklyn ball game, chuckled when he mentioned the sun.

"You newspaper fellows write a lot of things about the 'dawn of the atomic age.' The atomic age began the moment the sun was made. There would be no life on earth without the sun. The crudest windmill or waterwheel runs by atomic energy—the energy of the sun which creates heat to stimulate wind and regulates that heat so as to permit the existence of water.

"Did you know that without the sun a farmer who owned a single acre would need a million tons of coal a year to heat his little patch of ground? Our future lies with thermo-electric energy, not the little energy which can be drawn from the tiny bit of uranium in the world. The place for an atom-power plant is, let's say, the middle of the Gobi desert, where it is difficult to transport coal or oil, which are little more than bottled sunlight."

Dr. Millikan students, especially Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, had much to do with the development of the A-bomb. Millikan himself remained with rocket research during the war, heading a staff of 4,700 technicians which produced 90 per cent of the rockets used by both Army and Navy.

In World War I Millikan helped organize the National Academy of Science, only research department the armed forces had, and was forced to pursue his work for several months with private funds. The subsequent development of a U-boat detector saved the Allied cause, he told us.

"The British lost 900,000 tons of shipping in the month of April, 1917," he stated. "Neither they nor the French would have been able to weather more than three or four more months of war if the U-boats had not been stopped."

Dr. Millikan is visiting New York briefly, conferring with his publishers, Prentice-Hall, who will present the scientists autobiography this fall.

Vandenberg Winner Of 'Nomination' At Student Meeting

LEXINGTON, Va., April 22 (U.P.)—If the Washington and Lee university mock Republican convention guessed right (and it usually does), Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan was assured of the GOP presidential nomination today.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts won the students' Republican vice presidential nod.

Have Good Percentage

Washington and Lee has held its mock conventions for the challenging party every eleciton year but two since 1908. The student delegates have predicted the eventual choice correctly five out of eight times.

The Michigan senator swept to the nomination on the crest of a late-developing boom, just as his supporters had predicted. He trailed far behind Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio until the sixth ballot.

Then he jumped into second place behind Dewey, and after the ninth ballot, in which he carried 977 of the 1,094 votes, Vandenberg's nomination was made near-unanimous by an acclaim vote.

Only one delegate, Howard Fender of Fort Worth, Tex., dissented. Fender nominated Gen. Douglas MacArthur and voted for him to the end.

After the eighth ballot, Dewey's "campaign manager," Ben Haden of Houston, Tex., announced that the New York governor was yielding to the "inevitable."

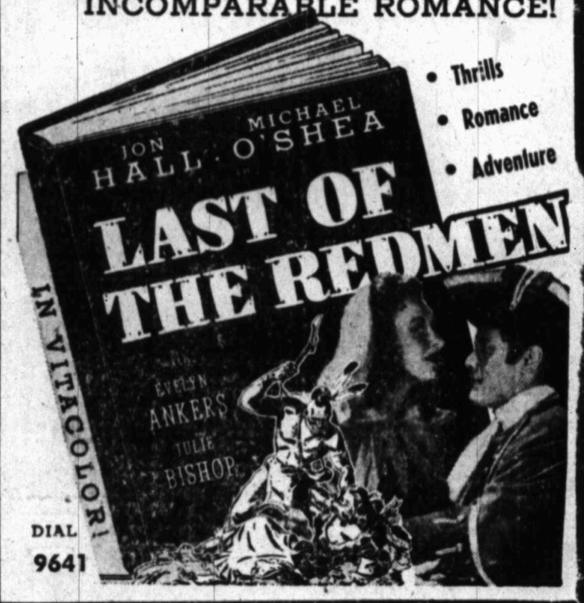

In a dramatic speech, Haden declared that "it is evident that there is no lack of leadership in the Republican party as there is in the Democratic."

HONORS DESERVED

Worthwhile Events

SPECIAL events on Sunday and Tuesday, next, in which honor shall be paid two longtime members of the Texas Tech faculty, are worthwhile in every respect. We refer, of course, to the Sunday afternoon reception honoring Dean James M. Gordon, and the Tuesday night Aggie club banquet at which Dean Arthur H. Leidigh will be similarly honored.

These two men, both deans emeritus, are still a force for good on the campus of Texas Tech. They have been a force for good since the college first opened its doors; the work they have done over the years shall continue to be a force for good for many years to come.

Like thousands of Lubbock and West Texas citizens, The Morning Avalanche joins in congratulating Deans Gordon and Leidigh—not because they are being justly honored, but because their long and valuable service to the college dictates that they should be so honored.

Attack On Reuther

THE cowardly attack on Walter P. Reuther is one which all Americans, in and out of the labor movement, will decry with all their might and it represents a crime which must not pass without conviction of the guilty parties.

Mr. Reuther, president of United Auto Workers, long has been a leading figure in the American labor movement and his courageous fight against Communist elements in his union—which he won at the last convention—has marked him as an outstanding defender of democratic processes.

Whether or not Mr. Reuther's fight on Communist elements in his union is connected with the attempt to assassinate him is a matter not known at this writing. But it is entirely possible that there is a connection.

There is no place in American life for assassination, or attempted assassination—in politics, the labor movement, or anywhere else.

All right thinking Americans will agree with this credo and will throw their weight behind the conviction and punishment of guilty people involved.

Command Task?

WE see by the papers that Moscow doctors have worked out a new method of treating stomach ulcers by injections of human and animal blood.

They probably had to work out something of that sort—or lose their heads in traditional Communist custom.

After all, the Italian elections must have been pretty hard on the ulcers of the "Marshal" and his boyfriends in the Kremlin!

"If you want to be popular, just be yourself," advises a columnist. That depends. It's the pursuance of just such a poicy that accounts for the unpopularity of many persons.

Boys, Boys! Do You Have To Be So Frank?

As Long As I Live

by Ione Sandberg Shriber
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Ann returns home to find the house empty. She has made up her mind to finally confide in Rush. Mr. Stark's letter will be proof of her fears. She looks for it in her room. It has disappeared. She goes downstairs. The whole house is dark now. She hears someone coming. She's certain it's Tommy, coming to kill her).

XXII

SHE closed her eyes against a wave of pain and, from the doorway, Rush said, "Ann. You're home."

She was across the room and in his arms before he'd finished speaking, before he'd finished saying "Ann. You're home," in that queer flat voice. She was in his arms and her face was buried again; his coat and he was holding her close to him just as she had known he would.

"Rush, Rush, it's so horrible," she said and that wasn't the way she'd meant to tell him at all.

"I know, dear."

"I couldn't believe it—I really didn't believe it." She raised her tear-strained face a moment. "It's just one of those things that's so completely awful you can't believe it! Do you know what I mean, Rush?"

"Certainly I know what you mean, darling."

Her lips were working.

"Rush, would it—do you think it would be all right if—if I had a drink? I'm—I feel so cold—and I've this awful headache . . ."

"Sure. Sure, I'll get it." He helped her to the couch and then went to the cabinet and poured her a glass of brandy.

"That it should be Tommy—" she said and again the incredibility of the whole affair swept over her and she just shook her head, choked with emotion.

"I know," Rush said. "It's damnable."

"That's exactly the right word," Ann cried eagerly. "Exactly. Oh, Rush, it's so wondeful to be with you—to be able . . ." The tears were starting again, she leaned her head back against the back of the sofa.

"Finish your drink," Rush said and he held the glass to her lips.

She choked on the stuff and said, coughing, "My hanky. Wait a minute, Rush. It's in my bag in the hall."

• • •

SHE went to the console table and got her handkerchief, got her cigarets too. Rush hadn't said anything about any of the others—where would they be at this hour? Out of habit she glanced up at the landing to see what time it was.

"Rush" She tried to scream his name but she didn't even recognize her own voice in the croaking sound that issued from her lips.

He was beside her instantly. His eyes followed her shaking finger as she pointed toward the landing.

"Rush! The clock! It's gone!"

His arms tightened like steel bands around her shoulders, dismay showed plainly in his eyes.

"But—Ann. Of course it's gone. You—"

"Of course it's gone . . .?" she repeated unbelievingly. "What do you mean, Rush? Why 'of course'? Where is it? What happened—" She swallowed and without finishing the sentence she knew. But she had to hear Rush say it. "What happened to the clock, Rush?"

He met her eyes miserably.

"It was—an accident," he said unsteadily. "I thought you knew. When I came in you said—something about—"

"It seems we've been talking at cross purposes," she said and she wanted to scream at him to hurry, to say it, get it over with. "I was frightened because there was no one here—the house was dark—"

He nodded.

"Well, you see, Ann, it was time to wind the clock and you weren't anywhere to be found. So Tommy took it upon himself to wind it for you. He knew you'd simply forgotten because of—because of not feeling well."

And?" She shouted so insistent but she couldn't help herself.

"Yes, Rush, of course I remember. What about it? What happened? Where is the clock?"

"I'm trying to tell you. It — the clock—it fell, Ann."

• • •

HE wouldn't look at her. She couldn't make him look at her. And she couldn't say anything. Nothing at all. She could only stand there and look at him, dazed and apprehensive.

"He—Tommy tried to get out of the way." The words came anyway, even though she tried to close her ears, tried not to hear them. "Susan was in the hall and she said he'd started up the steps when she remembered how the door always stuck, but by that time he was at the clock and gave it a hard tug and—"

"And," she heard her voice as from a great distance, "it fell."

"Yes."

"Did it—" she wasn't sure just how to say it. "Is Laurie with him, Rush?"

"Yes, Gay too. Gay's seeing to things. I wanted to bring Laurie with me but she wouldn't leave him. She's—" He shook his head and his voice was flat again. "I was worried about you and I had to go to the sheriff's office before I could come back out here and—"

"Sheriff?" The horror was sucking at her, pulling her under She swayed on her feet and Rush steadier her. "Because—there was an accident, is that why you had to see she sheriff, Rush? Rush! The clock hit Tommy, didn't it?" She grasped at his arms, shook him. "Tommy's in the hospital, isn't he? Isn't he, Rush?" Her voice was stretched thin with hysteria.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

DO you overeat?

Do you suck your thumbs?

Do you get drunk?

"In these patterns there exist frustrations which are managed by some kind of activity, which in turn leads to deformity, illness or accident."

BRANDEIS

So say two psychiatrists of the University of California Medical School in the Journal of the American Medical Association, and they blame most of our present-day chronic diseases—from which, by the way, some 25 million Americans are suffering—on the stress and strain of modern living.

The trouble, according to the two authors, is that too many people lack "adaptive behavior" and cannot adjust satisfactorily to social changes.

Persons in the lower middle classes (whatever that means) too often are social climbers and worry so much about achieving success in that effort that they develop ulcers.

Hysterical women who love themselves more than their husbands are quite apt to become invalids, and self-love in women leads to a high divorce rate.

According to the two doctors, the youngest child in a family is subject to chronic illness more often than the older ones.

• • •

Please remember, I am quoting all this, and no money will be refunded if you don't like the statements of the two experts.

"It is known," they state, "that people with chronic disease and psychologic invalidism have many characteristics of the middle class.

"They are conformists and their repressive tendencies are great. They have difficulty in expressing anger and managing tension.

"The lower middle class, with its tendency toward compliance, is more gullible and tends to accept more readily everything at its face value, which features obviously handicap adaptive behavior."

• • •

If you do, it shows that you are more intelligent than the average.

Personally, however, I prefer to be stupid and not to have ulcers or chronic disease than to be a highly intelligent invalid.

By the way, speaking of intelligence, it has been definitely established that people who do a lot of intellectual work are subject to baldness more frequently than their less intelligent fellow citizens.

Isn't it lucky, he said, that your hair falls out by itself and that the falling out is entirely painless?

I don't know whether social climbing really causes ulcers.

I wish they would remember that a frog in any puddle, big or small, is still a frog.

TAFT IS NEXT TARGET

Stassen Pushes Fight

By Ray Tucker
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Harold E. Stassen's spokesmen here now boast that they will duplicate their feat of knocking General Douglas A. MacArthur out of the presidential nomination race by eliminating Senator Robert A. Taft when the Minnesotan and the Republicans' Senate leader battle it out in the Ohio primary on May 4. Thus that contest may be decisive in determining whether the son of the former President will make the political grade at Philadelphia.

TUCKER

Charging that the Stassen people are "pouring money into the state," the Taft faction evidence their worry but discount their rival's more gradiose predictions.

• • •

SELECTED: Mr. Stassen has carefully selected his spots in the Ohio battle, realizing that it may have a greater effect on his fortunes than either of the so-called "cornstalk contests." He is campaigning for only twenty-three of the fifty-two delegates—twenty-two district representatives and one at-large.

Representative George H. Bender of Cleveland, the virtual head of the G.O.P. organization in that section of the state, maintains that Mr. Taft will emerge with all fifty-two of the delegates. But other friends of the Ohio entry concede that their man's opponent might corral as many as seven, possibly nine.

Should the Minnesotan obtain fifteen or even twelve delegates, there will be a disposition to write off Mr. Taft's chances for first place. But should Mr. Stassen get only five or seven, in view of his intensive campaigning—he will spend four days in Ohio just before the balloting—and the bandwagon boost which his Wisconsin and Nebraska triumphs have given him, it will not be regarded by national politicos as a crushing defeat for the Senator.

• • •

SURVIVED: Nor would a Stassen sweep of twelve or fifteen remove Mr. Taft as an influential figure at Philadelphia. He will show up there with a firm batch of delegates, regardless of the Ohio result.

By throwing them to Governor Dewey at the proper time, provided he cannot make it, he might stymie Mr. Stassen. Or he could prolong a stalemate so long that the big bosses might choose a less controversial figure than Messrs. Dewey, Taft or Stassen.

Incidentally, the Taft forces take heart from the result in the recent Republican Illinois primary. Although the C.I.O., A.F. of L. and other labor elements joined hands in an attempt to defeat every Republican Congressman who had voted for the Taft-Hartley Act, all survived.

• • •

EMBARASS: The G.O.P.'s legislative strategists on Capitol Hill have devised a Civil Rights program of their own which is designed to aggravate and embarass President Truman almost to the day that the Democratic convention meets in Philadelphia. Their failure to seek an immediate vote on anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-discrimination measures is the result of deliberate political timing.

It is planned to press for action in the House on the first two proposals. As they have been in the past, they will undoubtedly be passed through a combination of northern Democrats and Republicans.

Then they will be shunted along to the Senate where the G.O.P.-controlled committees may hold exhaustive hearings so as to provide a stage for anti-Truman attacks. Or they may report them to the Senate, and force Southern members to resort to their customary filibuster to prevent passage.

• • •

SCHEME: Meanwhile, the part of the President's program which particularly revolts the South—a revived Fair Employment Practices Committee—will originate on the Senate side. It will be reported to the floor almost simultaneously with the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills, thereby providing a three-ring circus toward the close of the session.

The basic, Machiavellian scheme is to keep the racial question on the front pages on the eve of both political gatherings. There is no expectation on either side of the aisle that any of them will become law.

Simile: As cautious as an office-holder before election year.

PARTY PLANS ARE UPSET

Stassen Threat To 'Old Guard'

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — There's been a good deal said in this critical presidentiel election year—and with evidence to back it up—that the people are weary and wary of the stock political figure and are looking for something different.

That would seem to explain, at least partly, the General Dwight D. Eisenhower boom which flourishes in both major parties without regard to political ties or labels. There's plenty of the "plague on both your houses," too, in the Henry A. Wallace third party movement.

STOKES

And now Republican party leaders have discovered suddenly that they have a "new look" problem of their own by two rather convincing demonstrations in the space of a single week. Reference is to the way Harold Stassen has captivated rank and file voters in successive primaries in two Midwestern states—Wisconsin and Nebraska. The tall, strapping fellow looks about upon a battlefield strewn with the shattered shields of some stalwart hopefuls.

• • •

Voters Back Stassen

By this acid test, which is the test by voters, in representative states, the forty-one-year-old Minnesotan has pushed himself into a position more closely approximating that of a "people's candidate" in his party than since the late Wendell L. Willkie swept into the nomination eight years ago.

The latter, however, did not triumph through primary tests but by the sudden hold he got on the imagination of so many people through a beautifully-timed and well-promoted publicity campaign that he helped along by his own beguiling personality and his ability to say things in a new way. Harold Stassen has worked for what he has got, but has reached about the same favorable position about the same time before the convention. • • •

By bowling over candidates much more acceptable to the G. O. P. old guard—and by the voter test—Harold Stassen has made one thing quite certain, and it is a healthy thing for the party and for the people of the nation. He has made it very difficult, if not impossible, for a G.O.P. old guard boss-dictated convention. Such a prospect had been feared because of the demonstrated weakness of the Democratic party. Victory for Republicans seemed so sure that it had been taken for granted in many quarters that most anybody on the Ruplican ticket could win.

Harold Stassen represents the more progressive element in his party, both on domestic and international issues. He has big drawing power among younger Republicans and veterans. Because of his proved popularity with the voters, he can now speak with authority at the convention. The probability of his own nomination is now greatly enhanced. But, even if he doesn't win the nomination, he is in a strategic position to throw his weight against the nomination of a candidate not in keeping with the times and to influence the adoption of a forward-looking and progressive platform. He can prevent a "smoke-filled room" selection by the bosses.

• • •

Bosses Suffer Setback

The G.O.P. suffered it most severe rebuff to date in the poor showing of its favorite, Senator Taft of Ohio which happened despite the energetic efforts of the Republican state organization controlled by Senator Butler.

This strengthens Harold Stassen's chances in the convention, as well as his influence there. Incidentally, the triumph over the Butler organization was a piece of sweet revenge for Mr. Stassen. The organization was out to get him because he invaded the state two years ago to campaign in the senatorial primary for former Governor Dwight Griswold, now administrator in Greece, against Senator Butler on the international issue.

• • •

Senator Taft proved what the polls have been saying and what his G.O.P. backers have feared—that he just is not a vote-getter. The Nebraska primary also demonstrated conclusively what the Wisconsin primary had indicated very strongly as to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. He has vacated the role of champion Republican vote-getter to Harold Stassen. It must be remembered, too, in assessing the week's results, that it was a double-bill victory for Tom Dewey in Wisconsin and Nebraska four years ago that clinched the 1944 nomination for him. Governor Dewey now seems out of the contest.

Harold Stassen has vindicated the gambler's chance strategy that he adopted to cope with old guard hostility to his candidacy. He boldly went over the bosses to the people, a strategy that was found very successful by a gentleman named Franklin D. Roosevelt. The wiseacres scoffed when Harold Stassen announced frankly far in advance that he was a candidate.

CENSORSHIP IS IMPOSED

Correspondent Ousted By Reds Claims Planned Campaign Set

EDITOR'S NOTE: Robert Magidoff, American correspondent, for NBC and McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. returned to New York Thursday just a week to the day after he was ordered out of Moscow on charges by the Russian government that he was a "spy." In the following article, Magidoff declares that the allegation made against him was simply part of a Soviet campaign designed to "prove" to the Russian people that they are in constant danger from the western world. Its a campaign, says Magidoff, from which not even American diplomats in Russia are safe.)

By ROBERT MAGIDOFF
(Distributed By INS)

NEW YORK, April 22—No foreigner in Moscow, including diplomats who have immunity and correspondents who don't, is safe from Russian charges—ranging from speculation and dealings in black market rubles to wrecking and espionage.

It's anybody's guess who'll be next on the list, but in recent weeks, Americans have been the most vulnerable.

There are numerous indications that Soviet authorities instigated charges against (this) Moscow representative purely for internal propaganda purposes and that they had no incriminating evidence of any kind.

Censorship Is Imposed

The fact is that Soviet authorities are making an all-out effort to prove to their people that there are two worlds and that their brave new world is in constant danger from the other world.

"Keep your powder dry, Soviet people, who are the hope of humanity and to whom the future belongs." This is the central theme of Russia's domestic propaganda.

The corollary is this: "Be vigilant and patriotic, and above all, multiply your efforts in the fields, factories, railways, and all construction jobs, whether secret or not."

Under conditions like these, the task of handling industrial coverage is the most difficult part of a correspondent's job in Moscow today. Recent restrictions have tightened rules that were already incomprehensible to people in a major part of the world. And the new rules have made anyone trying to cover economic and scientific fields subject to suspicion.

McGraw-Hill (publishing firm represented by Magidoff in Moscow), even though bending backward to apply an exclusively standard procedure, is faced with censorship irrationalities that are beyond comprehension to the average American. It is now practically impossible in Russia to use normal background material.

Can Quote Soviet Papers

Whatever appears in the Soviet press today can usually, but not always, be reported. But after a brief time elapses, the same material, if used to round out a story, is likely to be killed by the censor.

Thus, for example, when the industrial plan for 1947 was published, I was allowed to report it. But when I tried to cite it at the end of the year, when its fulfillment was announced, the censor killed every reference to the original plan. Such examples could be multiplied ad infinitum.

The Soviet censorship is frequently impossible to fathom because the overwhelming bulk of material which correspondents are forbidden to report is contained in publications available to all embassies in Moscow and abroad by a Soviet organization called "Mezhkhiga," the abbreviation for "International Book."

The most vivid example of this strange blindness is the fate of a report I had prepared on a recent book covering the projected construction of a giant metallurgical plant in the Leningrad area. Th book was written by an outstanding metallurgical expert, academician Ivan Bardin.

My report on this book was killed by the censor in Moscow, although I informed him that a number of copies already were available in the U.S., including the Library of Congress in Washington and the McGraw-Hill office in New York. I told the censor that McGraw-Hill could do the report itself but preferred to have me write it because of my experience in Russia.

Plan For World Government Seen As Curb Against War

HOUSTON, April 22 (U.P.)—A plan for world government may succeed in preventing World War III, Cord Meyer, Jr., president of the United World Federalists, said in Houston last night.

Meyer, a leading advocate of world federation, said his organization proposed to establish world government by amending the United Nations as it is now established.

"Our survival depends upon its preservation," he said, "but I don't believe that the United Nations can be preserved under its present structure."

Terming the UN "a weak league of sovereign armed states preparing for war with each other," Meyer said the United Nations must have the power to make enforceable law binding on the individual.

The Roman emperor, Caligula, provided his favorite horse with an ivory manger and a golden drinking goblet.

COUGH DOES IT

PASSAIC, N. J. (U.P.)—Doctors at St. Mary's Hospital X-rayed a bobby pin lodged in the bronchial tube of 19-month-old Theodore Leo and informed his parents that the only way it could be removed was by an operation. Just then Theodore coughed. Up came the pin.

State Of Conditions In Zoo At Syracuse Cause For Worry

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 22 (U.P.)—Mayor Frank J. Costello is concerned over the state of the Syracuse zoo.

"The leopard was bought 20 years ago," he said, "and at that, second-hand.

"The puna died in October.

"The jaguar is the only lively animal up there, and he bit the tail off the leopard.

"We have rabbits in the lion's den and turtles in another cage.

"Something has to be done."

MARKET TRADING BOOMS
NEW YORK, April 22. (AP)—The stock market was in a bullish mood today. In the fastest trading since December 1946, prices advanced on the average to the highest level since last July. Individual gains ranged from fractions to more than 2 points.
A few minutes before the closing bell rang, a last surge of buying power entered the market and lifted many prices to the day's tops.
News of U. S. Steel Corp.'s $25,000,000 price cut and the corporation's stand that wages should not be increased, slowed the market for more than an hour while traders digested possible implications. Evidently they decided it was good news.
Oil and railroad stocks were in front of the advance and thereby repeated a historical pattern. In December 1946 the market rushed ahead in response to settlement of a coal strike and a boost in railroad freight rates.
Issues which finished higher, some at peaks for 1948 or longer included Sinclair Oil at 22, Superior Oil of California at 223 (up 10), Gulf Oil at 73 ½, Nickel Plate 65, Atlantic Coast Line 53, Union Pacific 179½, U. S. Steel 77½, Youngstown Sheet 76½, General Motors 58, Chrysler 61½, International Harvester 95, Douglas Aircraft 64½, American Telephone 154⅛, Western Union 23¼, Anaconda Copper 38⅜, Cerro De Pasco 24¾, Union Carbide 113¾, and Owens Illinois 61½.
Out of the 1,094 issues traded, 572 advanced and 290 declined. Sales stepped up to 2,330,000 shares from 1,670,000 Wednesday.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Cotton futures were easy in moderately active dealings today under the influence of May liquidation, commission house profit taking and hedging. Losses extended to $2.00 a bale before the market recovered with old crop deliveries firm on mill buying and short covering. Selling was influenced partly by technical reason following the recent sharp advance.
There was sentiment in some quarters that the full exports schedule for Europe in the next 10 days may not be fully taken up by consuming countries. Some exports believed foreign buyers would defer some of their cotton purchases until cheaper new crop supplies are available here.

Gum Firm Loses Anti-Trust Case

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—District Judge J. Harris Gardner today assessed a $10,000 penalty against the Ford Gum and Machine Co., Ins., of New York in an anti-trust action brought by the state.
Ford's attorney, Ogden K. Shannon of Ft. Worth, announced he would not appeal the case if the state would allow payments of the judgment to be made in installments during the remainder of the year.
The trial was the first in a series of anti-trust suits filed by Attorney General Price Daniel in January.

Milk Firm Trials Due

State's evidence introduced in Judge Gardner's 53rd District court alleged that the New York corporation had operated automatic gum vending machines in several West Texas counties under contracts limiting the retailers and machine operators as to the type of gum which could be sold and set up exclusive territories in violation of the Texas anti-trust laws.
The court assessed the full amount of penalty recommended by the attorney general.
Daniel said that his staff is now preparing for early trials in the other suits filed in January against 10 milk companies in El Paso, Fort Worth, and Dallas. Investigations are continuing he said, into other alleged price fixing agreements, including gasoline, bread and butane gas.

DALLAS MAN CLAIMED

DALLAS, April 22 (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday morning for C. F. O'Donnell, president of the Southwestern Life Insurance company of Dallas, who died in an Oklahoma City hospital early this morning. O'Donnell, 66, suffered a stroke in Oklahoma City Tuesday while attending a regional convention of the American Life convention.
