Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

This has been a rather dull week, as far as news is concerned. If we had not had so many track teams, we might have had some empty spaces here and there.

Got a Christmas card this week from a little friend at Sul Ross. I thought it was a joke, but the note inside was a genuine "Merry Christmas, Happy New Year" greeting. Don't know whether she was late for last year or early for this year. I'm sure it couldn't have been the fault of the Postal Department.

This has been a typical windy March, with hints of summer and reminders of winter all mixed together. We have yet to have a late freeze, so guess we can keep our fingers crossed. It would be a nice surprise to find mature fruit on trees this summer.

Of course, I am not counting on it. With the changes in weather we've had, it might be freezing before this paper hits the streets.

Tom and I had a fun weekend. We went down to Cy and Sandy Banner's Fish Farm near Dryden and filled our freezer full of catfish. We were there an hour or so before we had any luck, and I was amazed to see people pulling them in all around us during that time. We were using the same bait. However, when I got the hang of it, I really had a great time. Tom had a good time too, he caught one fish and caught my fishing rod and reel when I threw the whole thing in the lake with an over-exuberant cast. So all in all we had a successful outing.

PROJECTED 4-H CENTER FOR STATE OF TEXAS on shore of Lake Brownwood is high on the priority list for the Texas 4-H Program this year. Leadership for the projected 4-H Center is being provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, but help will be asked of area citizens interested in 4-H. The educational facility will be constructed on a 78-acre site, and will be used by 4-H members all over the state. At least 20 states operate facilities such as this the year round.

4-H Center Planned For State Of Texas

The Texas 4-H program has a goal to construct a State 4-H Center and to involve 250,000 young people in the 70's.

Well-trained, confident adult leadership is vital to youth programs. To enable the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to offer adequate leader training and establish new programs, a permanent facility is needed, a State 4-H Center.

Such a 4-H center is on the drawing board for Texas. Presently about 20 states operate year-round 4-H Centers and others have numerous summer camps.

Leadership for the projected 4-H Center is being provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, but members need the help of all area citizens. "Put it all together with a 4-H Center" is the campaign theme.

The educational facility will be constructed on a 78-acre site at Lake Brownwood. It will offer many new opportunities and dimensions for programs and activities.

A called meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 in the high school library on Crockett County's campaign for a State 4-H Center. All leaders, parents and supporters of 4-H are urged to come and help "Put it all Together."

Bond Issue Passes In Light Voter Turnout

In a very light turn-out Saturday, Crockett County voters went to the polls to pass the half-million dollar bond issue for the nursing home wing by a margin of 411 for and 63 against.

A total of 474 votes were cast out of 2,098 eligible voters in the county, denoting a lack of interest generally on the part of the voting public.

The 40-bed wing will be built at the north end of the existing hospital building.

Results of the balloting by precinct were Precinct 1, 151 for, 10 against; Precinct 2, 60 for, 8 against; Precinct 3, 107 for, 27 against; Precinct 4, 61 for, 9 against; Powell Field, 6 for, 1 against; WTU Power Plant, 2 for, 4 against; Absentee box, 24 for, 4 against.

Second Pay Is Assured in Miller Field

Second pay, the Canyon, apparently has been assured in the Miller (Ellenburger Gas) Field of Crockett County with the flowing of the No. 1, W. M. Allison, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 4.6 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, for an unreported time at the rate of 200,000 cubic feet daily at McCulloch Oil Corp. of Texas and IDS Midland, No. 1-172 Chandler, in 172-0-GH &SA, 22 miles south of Ozona.

Flow was through an unreported choke and perforations at 5,592-747 feet. Testing continued.

Originally slated as a 7/8 mile south outpost to the five-well Miller field, it was drilled to 12,143 feet.

22nd Annual Ozona Relays Set For Sat., 22 Teams Are Entered

The Twenty-second Annual Ozona Relays will get underway Saturday morning with 22 schools entered in the three divisions.

Six of the schools entered have won one or more meets this year, so records should fall in many events provided the weather cooperates.

In class AA the Lions will be heavy favorites, having won every meet they have entered this year. They are also the defending champions.

Teams to watch will be Denver City, with two wins and a tie this year, and Stanton. Stanton tied Denver City last week at Odessa for the team championship.

According to Coach John Richey, the AA field is the strongest yet in the Ozona meet.

Rankin has the best shot at the Class A championship, with Iraan, Marfa and Sanderson ready to snatch the title if the Red Devils falter.

Rocksprings seems to be the team to beat in Class B, on the strength of time and depth. Eden will have a shot at the top spot along with last year's champions Miles. Mertzon cannot be counted out, returning with Sandy Evans who finished second in the State Meet in Pole Vault last year.

Schools in Class AA include Ozona, Denver City, McCamey Coahoma, Crane, Stanton, and Del Rio J.V.

Class A teams entered are Rankin, Iraan, Marfa, Sanderson, Wall, Menard, Junction, and the Ozona JV.

Class B schools are Eden, Miles, Mertzon, Rocksprings, Sterling City, Christoval, and the Ozona Freshmen.

Prelims will start at 9 a.m. with finals set for 2 p.m. OHS seniors will serve a barbecue lunch to anyone who wishes to remain at the track.

Meet Referee is Richard Harvey, head football coach at Sul Ross State University, and the starter will again be Fred Sallings of Miles.

LOOKING FORWARD TO RETIREMENT from the Ozona School Faculty are Mrs. Jewell Bailey and Roy Killingsworth. Both will retire at the end of this school year from Ozona Intermediate School where he is principal and she teaches fourth grade. Mrs. Bailey will retire with 28 years service in the Ozona public schools and Mr. Killingsworth retires with 20 years.

School Faculty Is Rehired, 2 Retirements and 2 Resignations

All faculty members in the Crockett County School System were rehired at a meeting of the school board last week.

The faculty remains the same for the fall term with the exception of two retirements and two resignations.

Roy Killingsworth and Mrs. Jewell Bailey will retire at the end of the school year, and Mrs. Susan Webb, high school girl's P.E. and basketball coach, resigned, along with Miss Linda Anthony, third grade teacher at Ozona Intermediate.

Killingsworth retires after 20 years in the Ozona school system. He came here to teach in Ozona junior high school and became principal of that school 18 years ago. For the past 4½ years he has been principal of Ozona Intermediate School. His wife, Betty, retired from the system two years ago.

Ted W. Cotton will replace Killingsworth at Ozona Intermediate. He has been member of the faculty for eight years. He taught at the elementary level the first two years and has been teaching in junior high since.

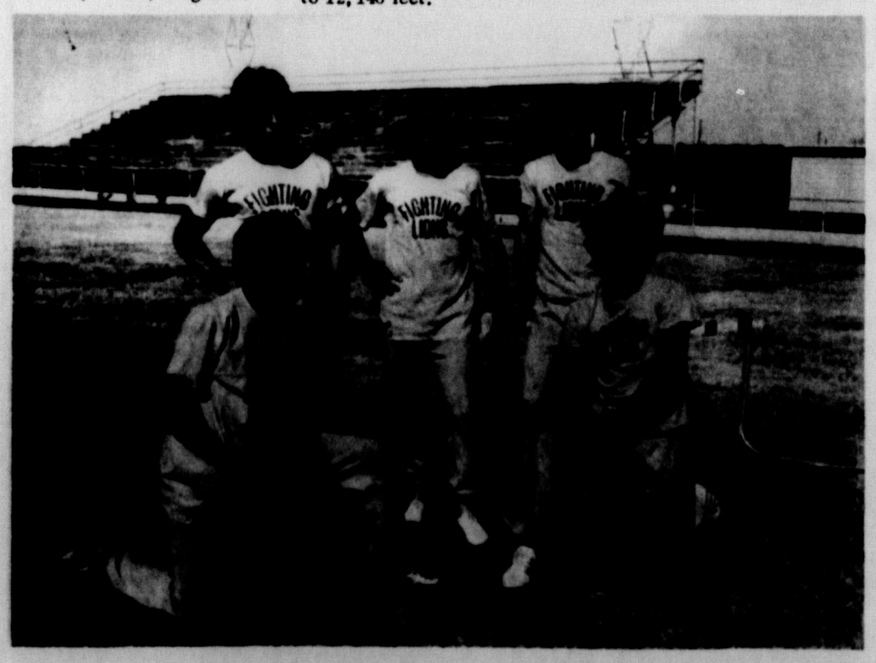

Mrs. Bailey retires after 28 years in the local system. She came here to teach fourth grade and taught English at junior high for a year or so before going to South Elementary (now Ozona Primary) to teach fourth grade. She moved to Ozona Intermediate three years ago, still teaching fourth grade. She and her husband, T. J., plan to travel after her retirement. He retired as West Texas Utilities manager here, seven years ago and has been associated with Trans Pecos Finance Co.

Principals will remain the same at the other three schools, Foy Moody, high school principal; Charles Womack, junior high school principal, and Claud Leath, Ozona Primary.

OZONAN'S MOTHER DIES IN FORT WORTH

Mrs. Gertrude McMillan, 82, mother of E. J. McMillan of Ozona, died Tuesday in Fort Worth.

Services were held Saturday afternoon in Iraan.

THE FATE OF THE OZONA LIONS will rest on the shoulders of this group of young men at the 22nd Annual Ozona Relays Saturday. All five have broken records and set new track records in track meets this year and they are largely responsible for the four championship wins in four meets this year. They, along with one team mate not pictured, Rick Hunnicutt, set seven meet records at Alpine last week. From left to right, the boys are Oliver Payne, Gerald Huff, Timmy Evans, David Sewell and Pete Maldonado.

The Right To Die

The American Hospital Association, the nation's leading hospital association, recently adopted a bill of rights after a three-year study in which four consumer representatives participated.

Some of the major points of the declaration include the right of a patient to die gracefully, if he or she prefers that to temporary life-prolonging expedients, the right to complete medical information concerning one's condition, full explanation of bills, continuity of care, consultation prior to any experimentation, the right to privacy and to pertinent information about other institutions treating one's condition, etc.

The AHA expects its 7,000 member institutions to adopt the new twelve-point bill of rights though this might be optimistic in view of the fact that AHA will not withdraw accreditation from hospitals which do not.

While one would prefer that the bill of rights be made mandatory, it is nevertheless a major forward step in the direction of greater self-determination by, and consideration of, patients.

Television & History

In addition to serious questions prompted by commercial television's reporting of the news, its presentation of U.S. history, in specials, raises basic questions related to the national welfare and future interests of the nation.

Most Americans rightly oppose censorship, oppose bureaucratic interference in television documentaries; nevertheless, television's impact has become so great the output of the three major networks in the field of teaching history can, to a shocking extent, influence public opinion.

Should there be a national commission, composed of eminent historians, to advise producers on the true facts of history--so that Americans would not be taught incorrect history? Is there no way to protect the national interest from inaccurate or misleading or intentionally slanted documentaries, designed perhaps to control public opinion, all billed as objective history?

These are good questions; the answers to them do not come easily. Obviously, few wish to entrust three small groups of commercial network officials with the power to teach Americans history via saleable television programs. Professional historians and scholars in the schools and colleges are better entrusted with this task.

A Restoration

Now that President Nixon has achieved an honorable ceasefire in Vietnam, and the nation is spared further combat deaths and gets its prisoners back, the task of public-minded citizens and officials must be to restore the nation's unity of purpose and spirit, to restore order and respect for others and authority.

The long war has encouraged extremists and many others to undermine respect for the nation's government and leaders. Vociferous campaigns by some newspapers also encouraged extremists, who have compared President Nixon to Hitler. They have accused elected leaders of duplicity, deception, barbarity, etc. (Some of the same newspapers are now sermonizing that Vietnam has changed American life so that it will never again be the same.)

Vietnam has not permanently destroyed the nation's sense of unity or order. It has been a negative factor in the swell of disrespect for government and law. But now that it's over, the restoration of our country can begin.

Many protesting students in recent years, so morally indignant and self-righteous, faced possible service in a brutal war. They had several reasons to protest, one based on the law of self preservation. Others were more interested in the United States focusing its attention on the Middle East (where they are more willing for us to go to war). Others were communist-influenced or motivated, many simply naive and still others conscientiously and honorably opposed to all violence.

The primary cause of this disunity and disruption is now removed. Americans can now concentrate on building a better country, a better functioning society with liberty, justice and equal opportunity for all--and show the world that the American experience--and idea, is right and workable. From this effort every American citizen can enjoy advantages and blessings as great or greater than those offered citizens of any other country in the world.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Lobby Game, which centers around city halls, courthouses, state houses, and the nation's capitol, has become something of a fixture on the American scene. It's a part of the political system, the "right to petition," and serves a useful purpose if properly used. But we must all be on the lookout for those who have axes to grind which might not be in the public interest.

Here in Washington two of the most active lobby powerhouses are John Gardner's Common Cause and Ralph Nader's raider group. Both well-heeled and professional, they seem to engage in a sort of tug-of-war in massive drives for more members and more contributions. While the espouse worthy causes at times, as is true of most lobbyists, they must be judged on each issue they embrace.

Stewart Alsop, the noted writer, finds no difference on issues between Common Cause and the radical Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). "Human Events," a prestigious publication, last year said Common Cause was "a xerox copy of platforms of Kennedy, Muskie, McGovern and the ADA."

Raymond W. Vowell, director of the Texas State Department of Public Welfare in Austin, informs me he would welcome the names and/or auto license numbers of any food stamp users who drive expensive automobiles. In that event he says his department would be most happy "to check them out," and determine eligibility for welfare

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Kitty:

The Stockman has been arriving regularly and I find quite a lot of news in it. When one comments about the paper, "nothing in it," they just need to leave home.

The country here is quite interesting. The city is built among the Mill river breaks. This river used to flow into Hudson Bay, but some eons back an iceberg came down and dammed the river and it changed its course and now flows into the Missouri River which seems to meander all over the state.

We have had snow and zero weather, but it's not so cold now.

Sincerely,
Vera Fussell

Ed. note: Mrs. Fussell, long-time Ozonan, is spending some time with a son in Montana. She has been gone from Ozona for several weeks, and we feel sure she would enjoy hearing from her friends here.

March Is Red Cross Month

March is traditionally Red Cross month across the nation. Bill Cooper, chairman of the Crockett County Red Cross Chapter, urges Crockett County citizens to make donations at the bank or at the Water District office, during the month.

Local citizens who remember the devastation of the 1954 flood in Ozona, will remember the fine work by the American Red Cross here.

The local chapter assists servicemen and their families in times of crisis, sponsors first aid courses, and many safety programs. It is on the spot in times of natural disaster, and able to call in qualified volunteers at a moment's notice.

A house-to-house canvass may be made in the county later this month. If so, the date will be announced later.

OHS Freshmen Set New Records In Crane Meet

Coach Richard Granado's Ozona High School Freshman track team only managed a 6th place at the Freshman meet in Crane Friday, but broke some meet records in the process.

Romeo Perez established a new record in the 1320 yd. run, with a blazing 3:40.1. The old record was 3:47.3.

Ronnie Pearl placed sixth in the pole vault, and Rodney Ruthardt placed sixth in the 70-yd. high hurdles.

Frankie Garza finished fourth in the 330 Intermediate Hurdles, and Gene Castro placed fourth in the discus event.

Bob Lilly, defensive tackle for the Dallas Cowboys football team, is serving again this year as state chairman for the Football Boys' Lily Day for Crippled Children in Texas.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Another reminder that many garden chores should be accomplished in March. In between the windy unpleasant days. Maybe you can get the necessary planting, transplanting and pruning finished.

Peonies are showing new growth, so if you banked them with dirt for the winter, be careful in pulling it away so not to break the buds off. When growth is about six inches high, feed with bulb fertilizer for larger blooms. Protect if weather forcast predicts a freeze. Disbud for single specimens to exhibit at the flower show. Leave one bud to each stem.

Perennials should be divided before new growth is very far advanced. For early blooming, divide, replant and plant dahlia tubers now. For later blooms, do not plant until April or May which gives the best results.

If lily bulbs are to be planted this spring, get them in the ground at the earliest possible date. Bulbs for summer blooming that may be planted outdoors in March are Calla lilies, Gloriosas, crinums, tube roses, cannas, elephant ears, spider lily, montbretias, oxalis and tigredias. Gladioli may be planted now every ten days to have continuous blooming. They should bloom seventy days after planting.

Don't forget to watch roses etc. for early arriving insects. Wash off with strong water spray or use a dust.

If you can grow weeds, you can grow vegetables in good soil and the right preparation before sowing seed. If you don't have room for extensive gardening, border some of your flower beds with salad greens, onions, chives, radishes, beets and other varieties that are attractive.

Cut lawn grasses short to remove all the dead grass. Fertilize now and water well to have a pretty dark green turf. Use fertilizer at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Many of the flowering trees and shrubs are very colorful now, so drive over our city to see the beauty. Also, check any that you would want to add to your landscape, and rush to get them planted for next spring blooming. It has been suggested that everyone plant another red bud.

Debra Says:

By HD Agent Debra Gentry

After such a cold winter, I'm ready for spring. Along with spring comes sunshine, blue skies, trees blooming, and the hustle and bustle of people doing things.

Even with your busy schedule take time to do something special each day. Life will mean more to you.

Studies have shown that individuals and families spend too little time and energy on activities important to them.

Time spent on really important things will show up in the following test. Try it for a day or so.

First, keep track of the way time is spent. How much goes for unimportant things, and how much for special things? Chances are unimportant things take more time. If so, you may want to make some changes.

For example, instead of concentrating on house cleaning, some homemakers spend more time doing things with and for their families. One expalained it this way, "I want my children to remember me as a mother who had time to read stories and bake cookies, not one who kept the house clean no matter what."

To other individuals, quiet reading is important. They set aside some time each day for that.

If necessary, drop out of a club or an organization you no longer enjoy. It might add "new" time to the day.

Take time for special things today---there may be less time tomorrow.

America is a land of bells!
Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells . . . all speak of a country where freedom from tyranny exists.
Chimes also keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.
Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside worry that shackles our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.
Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

Local Sportsmen May Help With New Rules

Texas hunters and fishermen have approximately one billion dollars invested in their equipment, and soon they will have the opportunity to put their voices where their money is.

The opportunity will come when Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials hold public hearings in counties across the state concerning changes in laws affecting fish, game animals and fur bearing animals.

The hearing for Crockett County will be held here in Ozona next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the District Court Room.

Clayton Garrison, executive director for the department, said the hearings are the first step toward setting the coming hunting and fishing regulations. The proposals will be set forth at the hearings, and citizen comments will be invited.

Detailed reports of the hearings will be submitted to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. The reports will be used by the commissioners when they are considering changes in game and fish regulations.

Garrison said department officials are hoping for a good turn-out at the public hearings. "Citizen participation at these hearings is absolutely essential if we are to get a full picture of many variables affecting fish and wildlife programs," he said. "We sincerely urge anyone interested in our fish and wildlife resources to attend their local hearing."

Fire Department Sponsors First Aid Course Sat.

A multi-media First Aid course will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church Saturday from 8:00 a.m. till 5:00 p.m.
