Funeral services for Mrs. Wayne Kenney will be conducted from First Baptist Church Thursday, March 27 at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Ted E. Gaze, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in Englewood cemetery under the direction of Williams Funeral Home. Survivors include her husband, two daughters, Diane 6, and Suzanne, 14 mo.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Liles, and one brother, Wayne Liles. Mr. Kenney is associated with his father, O. D. Kenney in Slaton.

The Red Cross drive started off this week with an organized set-up of individual solicitation, each worker with a limited number of people to contact. The quota set for Slaton is $3000.00. Don Crow, drive chairman, reports that the workers are busy, with the first report to be made Thursday night. The workers' material has been systematically distributed, according to reports on Tuesday. "Some gifts have been received by mail without solicitation," said Crow. A meeting of the vice chairmen and chairmen was held Friday night, at which time a representative of the Lubbock County Chapter discussed the procedure to be followed. Hobart Trimpa is drive co-chairman. Vice chairmen are Clark Self Jr., Ray Belt, Rush Wheeler, Paul Melton, Hack Lasater, Lee Vardy, Phil Brewer, Melvin Kunkel, Dick Evans and Joe Teague III.

'What Can the Church Do About It' Final Topic of Family Meetings

The study of "A Christian Approach to Delinquency—Juvenile and Parental" which has been held at First Methodist Church on Sunday evenings during the month of March, will be concluded Sunday evening when panels will discuss "What We Can Do About It In The Church." Panel I, which includes those with children in the home, will be led by Mrs. Joe Walker Jr. as chairman. Others on the panel will be Mrs. J. B. Sharp, Mrs. Ted Swanner, Mrs. Joe Teague III, Jack Nowlin and W. C. Williams. Another panel for those with no children in the home will be composed of Mrs. Francis E. Perry, Jack Haliburton, Francis Perry, Mrs. Ray Farley and Mrs. Rush Wheeler. More than 250 people have been in attendance on each of the Sunday evenings for the program which starts at 6 p.m. with a "dine-a-rite" meal in Fellowship Hall, followed by group meetings and the evening service. Outstanding speakers for the series have been Dr. Hubert Bratcher, district superintendent of the Pampa District of Methodist Churches; Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Judge of the 14th District Court in Dallas; and Fred T. Johnston, secretary of the YMCA in Lubbock. Johnston told of the Indian who said "White man know how to build big buildings but not how to build sons." He also said "If a man goes fishing with his son when he is small, he will not have to go hunting him when he is older." He also stated that Slaton was not too small to have a YMCA, that there were many towns smaller than Slaton that had them. His talk dealt with the things the community could do to prevent delinquency. Sunday evening Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the church, will bring the message for the evening service. His thoughts will deal with "What the Church Can Do." The children's group has studied "God's Helpers" and have had as guest speakers a locomotive engineer, R. H. Todd Sr.; a doctor, Dr. Glen Payne; policemen, Joe Martin and Dutch Robinson. Mrs. Jack Nowlin, first grade teacher, will be the guest Sunday evening. Intermediate groups have been led by Mrs. Joe Wicker and Mrs. Rush Wheeler and have been studying "Living With Parents." The senior group has been learning "How to Live With Parents."

Three fun-filled days in which treasurers galore will be beckoning west Texans in the area of Slaton are the exciting prospects of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 3-4-5. The treasurers mark the unique highlight of "Sunny Days," a copyrighted program being brought here by the Slaton Slatonite and local businessmen. The days are doubly opportune because they present exciting money-saving chances for the budget-wise shoppers and because there will be some special thrills for some who are lucky enough to find treasures which might be destined for them. Most business firms in town are participating in the program. Their offerings will represent a total "loot" that would amaze any modern "pirate"—young or old. The treasure hunt really represents a gesture by the businessmen of Slaton whereby they express their thanks to patrons for past favors. Prizes in some cases will be listed in store windows. In other cases gifts will be scattered through the stores. Each firm will advise patrons how the treasure hunt will be conducted on its premises with information on its display windows. Hundreds of prizes seem to be in the offing. A preliminary survey conducted by The Slatonite this week showed an incomplete list of more than $1000 in total value being at stake. In addition to the special budget-pleasing attractions and the fun-filled treasure hunt (to say nothing of the riches to be derived by those who find their treasure), businessmen have a merchandise festival planned which will provide timely opportunity for shoppers of the area to see what's new for this Easter and this spring, as well as to provide a timely opportunity of observing that Slaton usually has the most of the best for the least—as a steady diet for shoppers. Watch for full details in next week's Slatonite! From all indications, the three-day program is going to have a lot of fun and activities and the patrons of the area are invited to plan now to make the most of the extravaganza. Housewives will want hubby to walk to work so they can have the car—or else they should arrange to ride with their neighbors. Watch for all the details on "Sunny Days"—you'll want to be "in" on all three of them. That will be Thursday and Friday and Saturday of next week.

JOE BOB JONES 5th and 12th IN LUBBOCK SHOW

Joe Bob Jones of Slaton won 5th in the heavy Chester White barrow division of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show last week held in Lubbock. Showings were from 29 counties. Joe Bob also won 12th place in the medium weight Chester White barrow contest. He sold his winners for 35c per pound in the sale that followed the show.

Last week I was brazen enough to make a scoffing remark about the new sack dresses, and was promptly greeted by Mrs. Earl Foerster, who came into the Slatonite and wanted to meet the person who disliked the sack dress. Elsewhere in the Slatonite you will see a picture of Mrs. Foerster as she appeared in the latest fashion. Forgive me, Mrs. Foerster, but I still don't dig that rig. Curiosity prompted me to ask a few questions about other people's opinion concerning the sack dresses. Boy, did I ever get some answers. The most practical one came from Bob Huser when he remarked that he had plenty of feed sacks that the ladies could purchase cheap, cut some arm holes and be right in style! One Motley County grandpappy is in favor of the chemise, according to Mrs. Douglas Meador. She claims that he approves the appearance his granddaughter makes in one. "At least she doesn't look like her dress has been sprayed on," he observed. Mrs. Otis Rogers Sr., Mrs. W. A. Dowden, Mrs. I. H. Wilke, Mr. F. H. Griffin and Mrs. L. D. Bruce represented the Cooper Methodist Church at the annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference of the WSCS held in Hereford last week.

Sermon in Song Sunday Evening Westview Baptist

Mr. Oliver states that there will be congregational singing, choir arrangements, and other specials. The public is invited to attend.

Lions Nominate Officers For Coming Year

Gore, tall twister; Bill Baker, song leader; J. Floyd Jordan, Lion tamer; P. L. Vardy Jr. and Bill Smith, directors. The election of officers will be held the second Tuesday in April according to Secretary L. B. Hagerman.

SLATON IS GROWING

TELEPHONES ON INCREASE—Figures from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here indicate that Slaton is growing steadily. In April 1951, total number of telephone instruments in use here was 1,394. In January of this year, the number had increased to 1,883. Pictured above are Miss Dorothy Jones, service representative, and H. H. "Soapy" Gore, plant manager, as Gore was running a check on some of the dial equipment here. (SLATONITE STAFF PHOTO)

TRAGICALLY FOOLISH

There are now two U.S. earth satellites in orbit. A lovely number, two. Especially when it is noted that the Russians, who last fall seemed to have taken over the heavens as their private orbiting grounds, have only one sputnik aloft.

This is one way of looking at the situation, now that a Navy Vanguard has sent up a little globe to join Explorer I. A more sophisticated and sensible view suggests that, once the sweetness of this triumph has been savored, we had better get on with the multiple tasks of assuring free world supremacy not only in rockets but in all aspects of weapons technology. Good sense also dictates that we keep on with our sputnik-inspired re-assessment of the U.S. educational system.

The American people were aroused by the sputniks as they have rarely, if ever, been aroused before. The popular view that no one could ever surpass the United States, technologically speaking, received a sharp blow in the solar plexus. Millions who had never thought much about such matters began demanding superior rocket achievements and an educational system capable of turning out more scientists who would assure us of a technological lead in the future.

That kind of thinking, this ferment of analysis and discussion and demand for improvement, is good for the United States. It is not only good, it is essential if we are not to fall irrevocably behind in a swiftly changing world. To drift off into complacency again, now that American satellites outnumber those of the Soviet Union, would be tragically foolish.

BILLBOARD FIGHT AGAIN

The question whether this country's vast new highway network shall be beautiful as well as efficient will soon receive attention in Congress again. The question, boiled down to specifics, is whether the billboard people shall have free rein or shall be subjected to reasonable federal regulation along highways paid for almost entirely by federal funds.

The Outdoor Advertising Association of America has become expert at advancing all sorts of reasons why there should be no such regulation. Its lobby is working hard to evade regulation, dragging in state's rights and a few other smelly herrings to distract attention from its main purpose. That purpose is to arrange matters so that billboards can be put up just about anywhere along the new highways, and with little or no regard for aesthetic or safety considerations.

The billboard lobby should not be allowed to get away with this. The public which pays for the roads should be allowed to enjoy them—and the countryside.

WASTING MONEY?

When John S. Pemberton, a druggist, prepared a soft drink syrup in his back yard in Atlanta, Ga., using a three-legged iron pot heated by a wood fire back in 1886, he initiated what was to become the most famous of all soft drinks—Coca-Cola.

The first year, only 25 gallons were sold, bringing in $50, of this, Pemberton spent $47 on advertising. The rest of the Coca-Cola story is history.

Remembering the secret of it, Coca-Cola continues to spend huge sums promoting its product. Like some, it could easily have said, "Why, everybody has heard about Coca-Cola—so why 'waste' money on advertising?"

But Coca-Cola is one of the industrial giants that knows what it is doing. Meantime many of its imitators have come and gone. In most instances, they didn't believe in "wasting" money on advertising.

The Coca-Cola story is being repeated every day throughout America by successful businesses, large and small. Despite the fact that without exception all successful institutions promote and advertise, there are some who think they know better than their more successful competition. They are determined to "save" that money others spend on advertising.

The rest of their story also is—or will be—history.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

No! This is one of the shortest words in the English language. The ability to say No and mean it is an achievement that too few people have been able to accomplish. There have been many that lived to regret not saying No and meaning it.

A very wise man said in the book of Proverbs, "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not." Prov. 1:10. A young person should not be embarrassed by turning down a drink, smoke, or anything that he does not want and feels things that are a lot worse than being called a "square." According to Mr. Webster of the word square is, HONEST, JUST, FAIR. No one should object to being either of these. Saying No will not prove that you are weak. Quite the contrary, it will show character.

A person of lesser character will many times do things "Because everyone else is doing it." This should not be true for the young or the old. To be able to follow one's own convictions will make him be held in higher esteem by others.

"Because everyone else is doing it," is a dangerous philosophy to follow. It is good sometimes to go with a crowd, but sometimes it is not. A crowd is not always right. Whether to do a thing or not should first of all be determined in the light of the Bible. Remember, you are the one that will have to live with yourself. What someone will think should mean very little to you when you know that the thing you are being tempted to do is wrong.

You should be ready at all times to do the right thing for your own spiritual progress and for the cause of Christ. But to all things that would hurt you spiritually and hinder the cause of Christ, sound out with a clear and hearty No.

HOW MUCH IN EXAMPLE?
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

How much power is there in example to provide children with character-training that will see them through our complex and contradictory modern conditions? Especially in their teens, when nature makes them particularly unstable?

Do you remember during the war how many people got more gas, coffee, and meat than they were entitled to? And how some even bragged about getting around ration limitations?

Attitudes Are Contagious
The children are bound to know these things. And if parents cheat and get away with it, isn't it all right to cheat at school? ... And then to cheat on property, the law?

If a child hears his mother tell his father an untruth, won't he feel that it's all right for him to fib just a little—and later a little more—if he needs to get out of a tight situation?

The Contagion of Goodness
Just TELLING a child to be honest, to speak the truth, is not enough. Moral-ethical ideals can't be inculcated by education and religion alone. Little effect will be had on behavior, still less on character, unless right attitudes become a part of the individual—that is, unless they have been learned through living—through constant example.

Perhaps all of us need a re-dedication to the old-fashioned virtues—honesty, truthfulness, industry.

Many years ago John Wanamaker founded a business that grew to be one of the largest in its field. The business successfully weathered depressions and slumps—and even prospered in times when competitors found the going too rough.

We think his advertising philosophy had much to do with Wanamaker's growth and want to pass on to others some of his ideas.

CRAZY!

The Big If

If cancer had been conquered only a dozen years ago—nearly 2,500,000 Americans would not have died of cancer, and more than 35,000 children would not have died of cancer. The American Cancer Society is the only voluntary national health organization fighting cancer through research, education, and service. Support of the 1958 Cancer Crusade will bring closer the day when cancer will be conquered.

About 90 per cent of all heart disease is caused by hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever. Research, supported by the Texas Heart Fund, is seeking the causes, cures and preventions of these conditions. Help Your Heart Fund Help Your Heart.

More than 2,000,000 volunteers are serving the American Cancer Society in its 1958 Crusade for $30 million for research, education, and service.

About 16 drugs are now being used to extend life and relieve suffering in certain types of cancer. To obtain these drugs some 35,000 chemical compounds were tested. No chemical has yet been found that will cure human cancer. Chemotherapy, the application of chemical compounds to cancer therapy, is only one of the many types of research which the American Cancer Society helps support.

right sign read: "Subside." This truck passed me on the right side. Was this an illegal pass? A—Not if the right side of the roadway was wide enough for two lines of traffic to move safely. The signs referred to driving off the pavement of a two-lane road to pass on the right side. Such a pass on the right side is illegal.

Q—What is the speed limit for pick-ups outside of towns? A—60 MPH in daytime, 55 MPH at night. These limits apply to all commercial vehicles which have a rated load capacity of 1,500 pounds or less.

Mr. and Mrs. Texas: Do you have a question about Texas traffic? If so, write it on a post card with your name and address, and mail it to Texas Traffic Quiz, Governor's Office, Austin, Texas. We'll answer the most interesting in this column.

angle-parking stall, does a car coming up from behind me have the right-of-way. If it does, how can I get out when traffic is heavy?

A—Yes. A driver starting from a parked position is responsible for the start being made with safety. The best thing for you to do is wait for a break in traffic. If there is a signal light at the intersection behind you, wait until the light is red before you start backing.

Q—If I signal properly for a turn in mid-block, do I have the same legal protection as in making a left turn at an intersection?

A—No. At an intersection, the driver who is meeting you and who is far enough away to slow down safely, is required to yield for you to turn left, provided you have signaled properly. He is not required to yield to you in mid-block. You are permitted to cross the center line to turn left in mid-block only when your vehicle will not interfere with the movement of other traffic. (Some city ordinances prohibit the mid-block left turn, especially in business areas.)

Q—Are blinking lights a legal signal for making turns, the same as hand-signals?

A—Yes, if you are talking about directional signals mounted on each side of the car, front and rear, which a driver can turn on and off. A warning for a turn may be given by either a directional light signal or a hand-and-arm signal, or both. (At night, the directional signal is safer.)

Health Checkups Vital
Many thousands more people could be saved from cancer each year if men and women generally would have a complete medical examination annually, the American Cancer Society says. An ACS survey shows that the number of Americans having annual checkups has more than doubled since 1948.

Big Day Planned At Post Rites

Television stars Danny Thomas and Spring Byington, the mayors of Battle Creek, Mich., and Post, the Wayland College International Choir will head the program list in Post Saturday, April 5, for the unveiling and dedication of a statue of C. W. Post, the town's founder. The statue will be unveiled at 11 a.m. by Post's daughter, Mrs. Merriweather Post of Washington, D. C. The dedicatory address will be by Mayor James L. Minor of Post. Also on the program will be Russell V. Worgess, mayor of Battle Creek, whose city statue of W. C. Post was used to make the replica erected at Post.

The "Danny Thomas with Spring Byington Show" will be presented at 2:30 p.m. in the grade school auditorium. Since the auditorium seats only 600, a closed circuit TV network will carry the show to screens located in other school buildings in the city. Thomas is scheduled to bring a small musical group to Post with him for the show.

"No Time For Sergeants" To Celebrate Second Anniversary of Auditorium

The eagerly awaited stage comedy hit, "No Time For Sergeants," direct from 800 performances in New York, arrives at the Lubbock Auditorium for a performance tonight at 8:00 p.m. and another showing Saturday night at the same time. The hilarious event ran for over two years in New York, and comes here during its cross-country tour. The Broadway cast will present the show exactly as it was seen on the stage of the Alvin Theatre in New York.

All the spectacular stage effects will be seen on the Lubbock Auditorium stage, and the cast is one of the largest ever seen on a South Plains stage. The box office in the lobby of the Auditorium will be open all day today and Saturday, and seats are still available for both showings. Prices range from $2.00 to $4.50.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — New names. New faces. But the same old problems plague the state insurance liquidation division.

Next Legislature undoubtedly will step in and try to assign authority and responsibility more definitely—possibly overhaul the whole system. Latest chapter in the division's history of criss-crossed efforts is the appointment of a new general counsel to the liquidator. He is Cecil C. Rotsch, former assistant attorney general.

Significant aspect of this is that Rotsch was appointed by Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison. Whether the State Insurance Board, which Harrison represents, or judges of the receivership courts have the right to appoint attorneys for liquidation has been at issue for some years.

Last year Austin District Judge Charles O. Betts appointed Renne Allred Jr. counsel for receivership cases pending in his court.

This prompted the Insurance Board to institute a suit to get a Supreme Court ruling. But the high court's opinion didn't help. It said the Board was given authority to name the liquidator's attorney, but that the courts could step in and name one, too.

Which is just about what has happened with both Allred and Rotsch named by different persons to serve in apparently the same capacity.

FEE STUDY SET—Most interesting aspect of the liquidation study is the amount of money involved.

Senate investigating committee was told that liquidation attorney Renne Allred had received in 10½ months $22,350 in fees and $431.08 in expenses. Allred has been in charge of winding up the affairs of several large bankrupt firms, including ICT and US Trust and Guaranty.

Liquidation attorneys, unlike regular state employees, are not paid straight salaries, but receive fees taken from the assets of companies they handle.

Former State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler told the Senate panel that during his 3½ years in the post, the office collected $4,938,927 with an administrative cost of $2,102,590.

Senate committee asked for a list of attorney's fees paid out during the past two years. They said the list would be made public.

US TRUST PAYMENTS—One of the most celebrated bankruptcy cases in recent years has begun to unwind.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts has ordered the state liquidator to pay out $2,181,464 recovered from the assets of US Trust and Guaranty Co. This represents some 31 per cent of the $7,300,000 in claims made by creditors, policy holders of US Trust "investment certificates."

Action was made possible after the Supreme Court made final its ruling that certificate holders had no priority in claims.

DOWN AGAIN—No miracle is yet in sight for the ailing Texas oil industry.

Railroad Commission cut the statewide allowable for April to 2,444,571 barrels a day. It's 120,203 barrels a day less than March. Eight producing days will be allowed, one less than March.

Commission set this lowest-in-history producing schedule after hearing most major oil buyers say they could foresee no substantial increase in demand for oil this year. Commission operates on the philosophy that oil should not be produced unless someone is willing to buy it.

Meanwhile, Texas officials seeking action to reduce importing of foreign oil, received some hope of help in Washington. Prospects are for reduction of import quotas in line with lessened U.S. demand.

MORE GROWTH SEEN — Resession or no, Texas' rate of industrial expansion exceeds the national average and possibly will gain steam and set a new record in 1959.

So says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research in a survey of the state's major industries.

Cited as areas of expansion were chemicals, plastics, aircraft and missiles, electronics, construction materials, metal fabrication, apparel, food processing and furniture.

MORE NEW BUSINESS — In the same vein the Texas Employment Commission reported an increase in new firms launched in Texas during February. Begun last month were 103 new businesses employing 1,273 persons. In January, 62 new firms employing 910 persons.

LANDING FIELDS URGED — There will be 100 more landing strips in the Lone Star State if the Texas Aeronautics Commission has its way.

At a joint meeting of the commission and the State Aviation Advisory Council—representing all phases of aviation from glider pilots to aviation directors—a program for stimulating statewide enthusiasm for the construction of 100 additional landing strips was outlined by Chairman Paul M. Fulks of Wolfe City.

"Business in any town in Texas can be improved by the simple addition of an inexpensive landing field for airplanes," Fulks advised. "It's the commission's plan to advise and assist any town that's interested."

The spiraling increase of interest in flying, particularly on the part of businessmen, has centered attention on more access methods to smaller towns. Even a 2,000 foot grass strip alongside a highway will help, said a number of the airmen.

At present 99 county seat towns in Texas have no airports of any kind.

Also cited by the new commission chairman was the fact that there are 36 towns in the 3,000 and above population bracket; and 33 between 2,000 and 3,000, that are completely shut off from aviation.

NOW IT'S TOO WET—Prolonged wet winter weather is delaying land preparation for spring planting. In some areas the delay is reported becoming serious. Ahead: two more months characteristically wet.

Optimism is plentiful in other farm activities. Cattlemen conventioned in San Antonio in high spirits with beef prices high and pastures green. Prosperous outlook brought 958 new members into the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in advance of the meeting.

Miss Jeanette Burrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burrell, and a sophomore in arts and sciences at Texas Tech was named social chairman of Alpha Phi, national social sorority at Texas Tech. Miss Mandy Moore of Sherman, sophomore math major, was elected president in a recent election.

SHS To Lose Seven Players This Spring

As the 1957-58 basketball season came to a close, SHS realized that very soon it would be losing several seniors this spring—two Tigers, Doug Corley and Tommy McClanahan, and four Tigerettes, Linda Smith, Pam Maxey, Beth Lowry, and Monty Dickson, plus the girl's able manager, Peggy Ray.

But, though the teams will miss these seniors, several players will be back next year. The Tigers who lettered and are coming back will be Jerry Hogue, Randy Sanders, Charlie White, and James Cole. The returning Tigerettes who lettered are Pat Schilling, Linda Buxkemper, Sandra Wells, Vicki Kirksey, and Judy Bishop. The other returning girls will be Eunice Wiley, Sharon Boyd, Shirley Kitten, Gail Huser, Irene Tomlinson, Sara Sue Bickers, Lynn Hurst and Judy Dunn.

The Tigers played approximately 18 games, beginning with December 3. The first game was with Frenship which was lost 47-44. December 5-6-7, the Tigers went to Floydada for the first tournament. December 10 Lorenzo won over the Tigers 55-30. December 13 Ralls was beaten in a very close game, 58-57. December 18, SHS played Frenship again this time winning 65-51. December 19-20-21 the Crosbyton tournament was moved to McAdoo where the Tigers played several games. January 2-3-4 took Slaton to the Dimmitt tournament. Floydada played here January 7. The Tigers lost 68-41. January 10 the Tigers lost to Abernathy 59-49. 50-43 was the final score on January 14 against Spur. Slaton was top over Lockney January 17, 64-51. Post beat SHS in a game January 21 57-48. January 24 saw Spur in Slaton where they beat 57-55. Tahoka edged by the Tigers 34-32 on January 28 and Floydada January 31 won 62-38. The Tigers played Abernathy on February 4 and Lockney again on February 11. The Tigers lost to Post 54-46 and the last game of the season was with Spur February 18 when Spur again edged by SHS 41-38.

Concerning next year's team, which has been practicing every day lately, Coach John Taylor said that more work will be put in and he is "hoping for a better team next year." "But," he says, "we will have to find someone who can make points."

The Tigerettes had a successful season. They tied for third place in district with their 17 won, 10 lost record. The Tigerettes, under the very good coaching of Marvin Smith, took a trophy in every tournament entered. The only first place they made was in the McAdoo tournament. In Dimmitt they Linda Smith made the most took a second place and a consolation trophy in Crosbyton. points during the season—393 points which was an average of 15 points per game. She was followed close by Monty Dickson with 307 points, an average of 12 points per game. Pat Schilling was third with 286 points or an average of 10 points per game.

During the first part of the season, the Tigerettes lost to Ralls; won from Lorenzo; won over Wilson; lost to Idalou; won from Frenship; and won the first place trophy in McAdoo. Slaton's next game was with Lorenzo and lost 51-45. They defeated Ralls by a score of 58-48. They won over Frenship again 33-32.

Then came the Crosbyton tournament where they were defeated by Jayton and won over Petersburg and Crosbyton.

In the Dimmitt tournament they won over Dimmitt. Abernathy forfeited to them and then they met Dimmitt again and were defeated.

In conference play the Tigerettes defeated Floydada and were later defeated by Abernathy and then won over Tahoka Bulldogs 27-11. Lockney and Post were their next victims, defeating them 52-30 and 42-34 respectively. Spur fell before the Tigerettes in a two minute overtime game, 40-38.

In their second game with Tahoka the Tigerettes lost 34-32. They met Floydada again and defeated them 37-34. Their next game was with the district champs, Abernathy, which they lost by a score of 63-43. They then lost to Post and Spur, closing the season.

He also is ballyhooing the city to get a street sweeper. These are suggestions of the City Commission might consider.

Mrs. Bill Chriesman of the Chriesman Floral Company and Mrs. C. E. McCoy attended the annual meeting of the South Plains Florists Design School in Lubbock last week end.

The Southland Order of Eastern Star entertained Friday with a barbecue supper in the school lunch room for its annual friendship meeting.

The Ladies Society of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers celebrated their 25th anniversary and entertained their families and members of the B of LF and E with a dinner Thursday, March 21, at the clubhouse.

Our maid, who constantly quotes a dowager for whom she worked before coming to us, was describing in detail a party her former employer had given for the DARs. I asked her if she knew who the DARs were. "Oh yes," she replied, "they're the ladies that had the revolting ancestors."

Announcement is being made this week of the purchase of the Moseley Grocery and Market by Mrs. C. E. McCoy. The business which is located at 200 W. Garza will be known as McCoy Grocery and Market and the new management promises to feature the best in quality at the lowest possible prices at all times.

The Slaton Implement Company, International Harvester Dealers here, are giving a Dealer's Family Party which is to be held at the High School Auditorium tonight. This party is an annual appreciation event and everything is free to their friends all over this section of the country.

Expanding the business expansion in Slaton the new Bendix Automat Laundry opened this week in the Kidd building on West Panhandle street giving a new and convenient service to the folks of Slaton and this area.

Howard Hoffman and Verne Johnson owners of the Johnson-Hoffman Hardware are the owners of this new business.

A miscellaneous tea shower was given Friday, March 12, in the Slaton clubhouse honoring Mrs. Charlie Brake, the former Miss Louise Gentry of Posey.

Charles Marriott Jr., who is associated with his brother-in-law, Vasker Browning, in the real estate and insurance business, says Slaton needs some new traffic lights as the ones we have do not have the amber color to show between the red and green and that the sudden change is very dangerous.

He also is ballyhooing the city to get a street sweeper. These are suggestions of the City Commission might consider.

The Slaton Elementary Schools Parent-Teacher Association elected new officers at their meeting last Thursday
