

C-CA Board Sets Banquet For Feb. 18

Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board of directors met in regular meeting Tuesday morning for reports on past progress and to get new work underway.

The board set the date for the annual banquet at Friday Feb. 18 and introduced a new plan for the nomination and election of outstanding citizens.

Both a Woman of the Year and a Man of the Year will be named at the banquet this year.

In the past, only men have been named for the honor.

Nominations for both will be made by the public.

Mrs. Edis Hackler, C-CA manager, said Tuesday that she is now taking nominations of both men and women candidates and that anyone may nominate the citizen of their choice by calling or writing her at the C-CA office.

Nominations deadline is Jan. 15.

Candidates for the honors must be members of the C-CA.

Both Man and Woman of the Year will be elected by the entire membership of C-CA through a ballot which will be sent to each member.

In previous years, election has been handled through a committee.

C-CA members will also elect three new directors from a list of candidates which will appear on the same ballot, to be mailed later this month.

Directors going off the board are Basil Sherman, George Caddell and Walter Lewis.

"We feel this has been an exceptional year," Mrs. Hackler commented, "since we have been able to pay for everything without asking for contributions."

She pointed out that this included Santa's visit to Olton, the Krazy Daze promotion, first bale of cotton and first load of grain promotions.

The Chamber is now conducting a campaign to promote payment of poll tax. A series of ads appears in this issue as part of the campaign.

Mrs. Hackler also noted that the board has agreed to have Santa and his sleigh back to Olton next year.

BANK DEPOSITS SHOW DECLINE

Deposits at Olton State Bank as of Dec. 31, 1965, followed a trend expected across the South Plains, showing a dip from deposits at the same time the year before.

The bank reported total deposits of $7,660,458.04 at the end of the year. At the same time a year ago, the total was $8,506,368.67.

However, the bank reported deposits well over $8,000,000 after the first two days of business in 1966, Monday and Tuesday.

"We will continue to gain at least until Jan. 15th," president Owen Norfleet said.

The banker added that the decline in deposits was due partially to the "lateness of the cotton crop and also to the fact that cotton returns are slightly down."

"In our case," the banker noted, "our deposits report would have been in much better shape had we not had snow and wet weather 10 days before Christmas."

The harvest was at a standstill most of the time the last two weeks of the year.

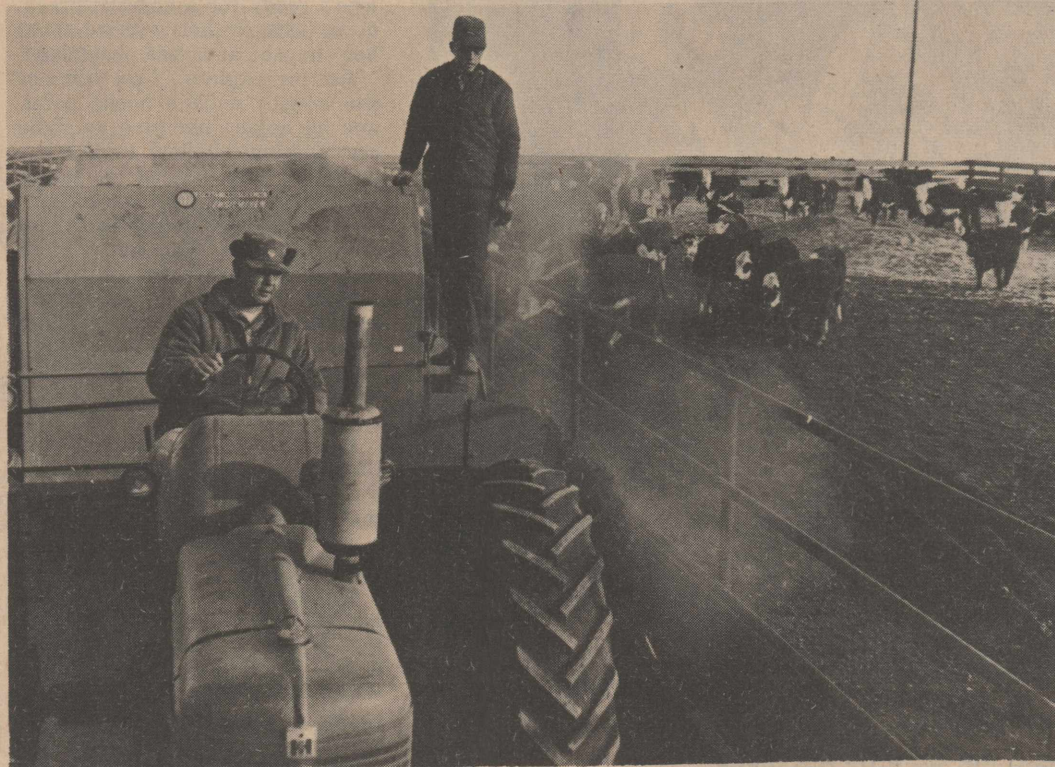

Norfleet said he believes 1966 can be a good year, "but agriculture and farming areas are in a time of stress, and we are going to have to be good managers and more efficient in all our operations."

ORC Re-Hires Pro, Assistant

Directors of Olton Recreation Center re-employed Golf Pro Fred Pendergrass and his assistant, Sherman Davis, at a regular board meeting Monday night.

At the same time, the board called for several improvements at the clubhouse and at number one tee box including leveling and repair of ladies' tee boxes and repair or replacement of ball washers at each hole.

They also authorized placement of signs at the clubhouse and at number one tee box informing all players—members and non-members—to register at the pro shop before beginning play.

NEW FARM OPERATION—Jack Hysinger (driving tractor) and Gary DeBerry (on wagon) are shown feeding cattle on the feedlot started by the pair this fall. Current capacity of the operation is 800 head of cattle twice a year, but they hope to up the operation to 1500 head three times a year starting with the next season.

Small-Scale Feed Lot Showing Promise Here

Two young Olton farmers are working on an operation that may help solve the problem of farm surpluses.

Gary DeBerry and Jack Hysinger had the idea for the project last summer for a small-scale feed lot program, which now is carrying 800 head of cattle.

DeBerry said they first started on the project in August, using corn for ensilage, "to provide another market for our corn."

Building on the feed pens themselves, which are located three miles north and one-half mile east of Olton, started in mid-September.

Still in the planning stage by the pair are another pair of feed lots. They hope to boost operations until approximately 1,500 head of cattle per feeding period may be handled.

The main reason for the expansion is to take care of additional ensilage, which they hope to raise in the face of declining cotton revenue returns.

"Actually the program is not being run as a regular feedlot program," said DeBerry.

Hysinger added that the feeding is a warmup period before cattle are returned to a true feedlot feeding schedule.

"The animals are gaining about one and one-half pounds per day under the feeding program," said Hysinger.

The two said the feeding program includes about 40 pounds of ensilage and two pounds of meal a day for each animal.

Plans now are for two groups of cattle to be fed for 100 to 120 days for each group during the first year.

Next year, along with the expansion in size of the operation, the pair hope to run the feedlot year round, which would allow three groups to be fed. The total would run to about 4,500 head of cattle per year.

Another solution to farming problems the feed pens could hold for area farmers is the question of what to do with land that is too non-productive to use.

DeBerry pointed out that, ideally, land needed for feedlot operation slopes enough for water to run off in case of rain.

Since many such slopes have little topsoil, or may be other wise unsuited for irrigation farming, a feedlot could make much of this land productive in a new sense.

Cost of the operation is not out of the reach of most farmers, since relatively low-cost means of operating the setup were worked out by the pair.

Silage is stored in a pit, which would represent a relatively small initial investment, and require little upkeep.

Construction of the pens themselves would seem to represent the major investment. DeBerry added that the bottom of the feeding troughs themselves had to be made of concrete, along with the apron stretching approximately five feet from the feeding troughs.

But the construction also allows easier cleaning, and savings in maintenance over several years seem to offset the added expense of the construction.

The only other major expense DeBerry said was the ensilage spreader and the truck on which it is mounted.

The spreader is necessary in order to provide the speed needed for the operation.

How many other persons could develop a similar operation?

DeBerry said that several persons in the area had already asked about the operation, and thought within "five or six years" quite a few farmers would be in the feeding business.

Cheryl Yandell Wins DAR Award

Miss Cheryl Yandell, Olton High School senior, has been announced as winner of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizens Award for 1966. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Yandell.

The announcement was made by Mrs. W. K. McCaskill, regent, and Mrs. Dave M. Thompson, chairman of the DAR Good Citizens Committee, for the Mary McCay Baines Chapter of the Plainview DAR.

Miss Yandell will be honored, along with other DAR Good Citizens of area high schools, at a luncheon March 9, in Plainview. She will be presented with a DAR pin and a DAR certificate by the Chapter Regent.

Two of the DAR area-wide winners will then be named as district winners by the Mary McCay Baines Chapter. They will be selected by merit according to their church, community and scholastic participation and their qualification of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Miss Yandell has been listed on the honor roll during all of her four years in high school, and is a member of the Honor Society. She is also a member of Future Teachers of America, Future Homemakers of America, Science Club and Pep Squad.

CHERYL YANDELL

She is a member of the Nazarene Church, where she is kindergarten teacher, member of the choir and program chairman and general secretary of the Nazarene Young Peoples' Society.

REMAINS OF HOUSE—This was all that remained of a rent house on the E. E. Givens farm, one and one-half miles west of Olton, after a Friday fire swept through the building. The fire was one of three that caused heavy damage over the New Year holiday.

Poll Tax Sales Slow Despite Voting Year

Deadline Is Jan. 31

Despite the fact that 1966 is an election year, poll tax sales in Olton are still slow, according to Mrs. James (Billie) Hall at the City Hall.

Although exact figures for Olton were not available, the Olton trend is following a county-wide trend.

Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor and collector, said poll tax receipts are off almost 50 percent throughout the county, compared to last year. The last day to purchase poll tax is Jan. 31.

Four Lamb County officials have already filed for re-election to county posts.

J. B. Davis has filed for re-election as county judge, while Charles Jones has already put in a bid for another term as county clerk.

Ernest Owens is running for district clerk, while C. Roy Stevens is running for re-election to the position of school superintendent.

Also up for election this year are the positions of county treasurer and the county commissioners in Precincts Two and Four.

Dunn said the reason many persons may not be paying poll tax is that they are under the impression a poll tax is no longer needed to vote.

Dunn said that this is incorrect, since the legality of The Texas poll tax has not been decided by a Federal Judge's panel.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Texas has issued a political calendar and a digest of the election code. Among the dates issued are:

JAN. 31—The last day for obtaining poll tax for use in 1966.

FEBRUARY—The Commissioners' Court appoints precinct election judges and alternates.

FEB. 7—Last date for candidates to apply to have names placed on the ballots for primaries.

FEB. 10—Last day for the state chairman to file with the secretary of state, and each county chairman with the county clerk of the county a list of names of all candidates whose applications were filed before deadline.

FEB. 19—Last day for candidates to pay assessments to the county chairman.

MARCH 7—Last day to file application for a place on primary ballot where there is no candidate for nomination due to the death of one who had filed.

MARCH 10—Last day for the tax collector to make a statement to the county clerk showing how many poll tax receipts have been issued and to whom.

MARCH 21—Drawing for the order in which officers and names of candidates for all offices, including statewide offices, will be printed on the ballot.

MARCH 31—Last day for Tax collectors to prepare certified lists of qualified voters.

Included in positions to be filled this year in statewide elections are those of governor, Lt. governor, attorney general, and the U. S. Senate seat currently held by John Tower.

Three Fires Mar Holidays

A fire Friday, the first of three over the New Year's weekend, destroyed a rent house on the D. E. Givens' farm. Also destroyed in the blaze were a refrigerator, freezer, stove and personal belongings of a Negro family.

Mrs. Givens said Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Worsham and their 10 children had recently moved into Olton to live in one of the Federal Housing projects, but had left the possessions behind.

The Red Cross in Littlefield contributed $50 to the Worsham family, the Salvation Army supplied them with clothes, and Littlefield Shoes, Inc. gave the children, who range in age from nine years to eight months, shoes to wear

COTTON COUNT TOPS 50,000

Olton's cotton harvest jumped over the 50,000 mark this week, and a new record total bales may yet be reached. The record of 55,882 bales was set last year, and the total this week from seven area gins was 50,302.

Included in the survey are Circle Gin, Farmers Gin, Jack Straw Gin, Olton Co-Op Gin, Hart Camp Co-Op Gin, Smith Gin and Thompson Gin.

Although the harvest is rapidly winding up in most areas, several gins reported activity is still heavy. While most gin operators thought the harvest to be in its final stages, the same several reported little decrease in bales brought in each day.

FOURTH IN A SERIES 4th Grade Goals Told

Continuing the process of "education" starts in the fourth grade where the third grade ceased.

A program of citizenship, patriotism, manners, courtesy, safety and related subjects are part of the continuous process to help each child live effectively at each age level.

It seems to be the opinion of fourth grade teachers at H. P. Webb Elementary in Olton.

Five teachers, Mrs. Juanita Adams, Mrs. Lea Belle Hooper, Mrs. Mareta Baumgardner, Mrs. Pearl Moore and Gerald Davis gave these opinions concerning the aim of the fourth grade teacher.

Main concerns of the group were the worth and dignity of each individual, the creative talents of youth, good mental health and group relationship, critical thinking and objective appraisal, and ideals of good sportsmanship and fair play.

The main reason for teaching at the elementary level, according to the five, is the intimate relationship the teacher establishes with his pupils.

"In most instances, the elementary teacher becomes all things to the child—friend, counselor, and confident, as well as teacher. The aim of an excellent classroom teacher is to create in each pupil an attitude conducive to achievement and success in all undertakings, — academic, social and personal."

"How do children learn?" This can be answered only in terms of a curriculum that is to be learned. Children learn from the things that they do. The real curriculum is what takes place in the individual classroom.

Understanding Mathematics, is the text being used in the fourth grade at H. P. Webb Elementary School.

The title "Understanding Mathematics", is the very foundation of what is being called "Modern Math"; however, there is no such thing as "Modern Math".

It is the method of teaching mathematics that might be considered new, with emphasis being placed on solving problems on the basis of reasoning and understanding rather than on blind repetition.

Since mathematics is an exact science, stress must be placed on an exact and correct language. It is often this precise language, many terms often new to most of us, that makes the present math program a bit puzzling at times.

The first graders are having no troubles, however; they are growing up with this new terminology for old facts and methods.

In reading, the concern is functional, developmental, and recreational. All in well-balanced proportions are part of a modern reading program.

The fourth grade teacher teaches reading all day long, not only during the instructional reading period, but also at the geography, health, language, and arithmetic periods. Reading skills are developed in each of these areas even though they are taught separately.

There is a continuation and expansion of major skills in work-type reading. These specific study skills need to be carefully taught and practiced as pupils progress through the grades. In teaching these skills there is no substitute for careful teacher planning.

The child is taught to define specific purposes for reading. Skill in locating information, in selecting and evaluating information, organizing materials, using information, and remembering what they read is stressed. They read for purposes such as getting the main thought, following directions, skimming for a specific fact, understanding a sequence of events, and getting exact details.

The older pupils do more independent reading. Reading tastes are more individual. There is more emphasis on content. Children do more reading to get information or to solve problems in connection with other activities.

In spelling, particular stress is placed upon developing independence in attacking new words. By the time the child has reached the fourth grade he should have acquired a spelling

All-Sports Banquet Is Saturday Night

Burl Huffman, Texas Tech freshman football coach and baseball coach, will be the guest speaker at the annual Mustang Athletic Banquet Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Mustang Booster Club, the event will be unreeled at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Coaches will present football and basketball athletes to those present, and the Enterprise will present the Fighting Mustang award.

The award this year will go to the boy who best fulfilled his potential as an athlete during the past football season, and the selection will be made by the coaching staff.

Tickets to the event are $2.

A drawing will be the basis for giving away a color television to someone attending the event.

Money from ticket sales will go to pay for blazers for the athletes purchased last year, and to buy blazers for the girls' basketball team next year.

Tickets are on sale in the office of Joe Turner, high school principal, or may be purchased from boys and girls taking part in high school athletics.

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"In home after dark and leave out before daylight . . . it shore don't take long to spend the night on this place!"

IT COULD HAVE BEEN COSTLIER

Dear Amy:
I have a very dear girlfriend who's ready for a nervous breakdown because she's worried about her house and her boyfriend. Let me explain: Last summer she bought outside house paint, and he helped her pick up some combination windows (which she paid for). He painted her house and put on the combinations. Now he claims if she breaks up with him, he will put a lien against her house for the hours he put in plus take off all the combinations. She never at any time promised to pay him for the job, but he says that doesn't mean anything because he can always submit a bill claiming labor. Can he legally make good his threats? An interesting fact is that she is single and he is a married man!

A Girlfriend's Friend

Dear Friend:
His threats are as phony as he, but tell your girlfriend to total the hours he labored on her house, pay him by check marked "PAID IN FULL" and wash her hands of the entire matter. . . and him.

This friendship could have been costlier. When one toys with 'for-bidden fruit,' they shouldn't be surprised if they uncover a worm!

Dear Amy:
I'm fifteen and want to start to use a little rouge on my cheeks, but my mother says, "NO, it's not proper." When does a girl start to use rouge?

Iris

Dear Iris:
When she stops blushing!

Dear Amy:
I am married to my second husband because I couldn't live with my first husband. To be perfectly honest with you, I'm a gold digger and he didn't have enough money to keep me happy. Now I'm having the same trouble with my second husband. Since my first husband has more money than my second husband, I phoned my first husband and suggested we make up, but he wouldn't listen. What do I do now?

Fran

Dear Fran:
Hold on to the guy you've got.

I doubt that anyone else would want you!
There probably isn't a man living with enough money to keep a dizzy dame like you happy.

Dear Amy:
Once I wrote to you about the washing machine situation in the apartment building I live in. Your answer gave me the nerve to assert myself. Now I have another problem—with the washing machines again—and another neighbor. We have become good friends and are helpful to each other. However, there is one thing that she does which I find very annoying. I usually use two washers on Monday. One for the white clothes and one for colored clothes, and she knows it. She comes down to the laundry room with a few pieces of colored clothes and says, "It's a shame to spend a quarter to wash these few things. I'll just throw them in with yours." I can't stand having anyone wash their clothes with mine. . . friend or no friend. How can I handle this situation without hurting her feelings?

Agitated

Dear Agitated:
Don't be blue over your wash worries. Assert yourself as you did before. If she's a good friend, the friendship won't go down the drain.

Dear Amy:
In France, where I was born, you can find stores where they repair the runs in your stockings. During the eight months that I have lived in the United States, I have been looking and searching for such a shop without success. Could you tell me if all American women throw their stockings (with runs) away, or if they have them repaired.

Nicky

Dear Nicky:
When an American woman's stockings run, she 'darns' them and buys a new pair.

The 'Great Society'

For those who like it, the Great Society may be worth every penny it is costing. For those who oppose it, any price is too high.

The trouble is that both sides of the argument usually have no idea just what the tab will come to. The facts are interesting, no matter how you look at it.

This year's administrative budget -- and this is considerably smaller than the sum total of the Treasury's total expenditures -- was announced at under $100 billion by President Johnson.

However, the best estimates as of now are that by the end of the fiscal year, on July 1, 1966, the Administration will have gone at least $10 billion over what was budgeted. This will give the Treasury one of the biggest peacetime deficits in history.

Only part of this can be dumped in the Great Society's lap.

After all, close to $50 billion will go for defense alone -- and there are such expenditures as foreign aid, a solid $3.3 billion, and other programs begun by previous Administrations.

Great Society programs, for which the American taxpayer will be paying the next five years, add up to some $111 billion in new authorizations.

Of that, $1 billion will go to the Appalachia relief project, $7 billion for a Federal aid to education step-up, and a conservatively estimated $5 billion for the poverty war.

A $20 billion measure, for various Federal subsidies, sits on President Johnson's desk, awaiting his signature.

The International Monetary Fund is scheduled to get $1 billion, and Social Security will cost the Treasury $33 billion more than it did before this year.

The Great Society may be great -- but it's expensive, and to all of us.

A Real Bargain

Rising prices bedevil great numbers of American families. Inflation has cut deeply into the dollar's purchasing power and continues to cut. Yet, there are essentials that all of us buy which can be regarded as bargains today. And one of them is food.

A publication of an eastern food chain system tells the story. In 1912, the average family had an income of $11 a week and spent 40 per cent of it for food. Today, that average income exceeds $125 and only $25 of it goes for food--and it is more and better food.

Comparisons with other countries are revealing too. The American worker's food bill runs to about 19 per cent of his earnings. In England, the figure is 29 per cent; in France 31 per cent; in Italy 45 per cent -- and in Russia, a staggering 53 per cent!

The productive power and efficiency of the American farmer must be given much of the credit for this. But other factors play a major role as well. That is the case with American retailing. Working on the mass distribution principle, typical retailers operate at a profit that is almost unbelievably low. The chain store publication points out that the average family spends $1,170 a year for its food -- and the average retail profit on that sum is just $15. Yes--food is really a bargain.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FIVE AND TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

FIVE YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Mrs. J. T. Mitchell started the New Year with a bang by collecting $1,000 in a bowling tournament at Amarillo. She has been bowling for about a year.

The first baby born to an Olton couple in 1961 was little Miss Janice Gaye Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burgess. Janice Gaye also was the first baby born at the Muleshoe Hospital and Clinic in 1961. Born at 6:20 a.m., Jan. 1, she weighed 6 lbs.

Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's board of directors Tuesday launched an all-out drive for new members. Percy Parsons, C-CA president, stressed the board is seeking both businessmen and farmers to add to the Chamber's rolls, "because the Chamber benefits both the farmer and the merchant."

No cases of diphtheria have been reported in Olton and the immediate area, local physicians said Wednesday. Meanwhile, hopes were high at Plainview, where no cases were reported Tuesday. It was the first 24-hour period since mid-December to pass without the report of a new case.

Olton High School basketball teams are in Hale Center this afternoon competing in the annual Hale Center basketball tournament.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture, conducted in Lamb County last fall, counted 1,636 farms, according to a preliminary report issued by the Bureau of Census, U.S. Department of Agriculture. The total number of farms in the county represented a decline of 151 from the 1,787 county farms in 1954, however a change in the Census Bureau's definition of a farm accounted for 15 of the decline.

TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

C. W. Phillips has been named chairman of the temporary board of directors of a group of farmers seeking to establish a farm labor organization here. The move to formulate such a project was begun when it became known that a U.S. Department of Labor ruling would abolish the Texas Producers Co-Op office here. The ruling became effective Dec. 31.

Olton City Hall will be one of five polling places for an election to be held Tuesday, Jan. 10 by voters in High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. To be chosen are a district director and two county committeemen.

Ernest Fowler and Red Muse this week announced the purchase of Olton Hardware from Bill Smith. The change of ownership became effective Jan. 1.

Thompson Bros. Implement Co. will occupy its modern new building on Highway 70 approximately Feb. 1, it was announced this week by Ed Thompson. Following the move of the John Deere agency into its new building, the present Thompson Bros. Implement Co. building will be demolished, and a modern Thompson Chevrolet Co. building will be erected on the same site, Mr. Thompson has previously explained.

The Olton Mustangs, fresh from a pair of wins over Hereford and Floydada, head for Floydada today to participate in the annual Floydada invitational tournament.

Contributions are being sought here for the annual fund drive of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America. Pledge cards were distributed at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday, and Max Houk announced yesterday that pledges and cash contributions amount to $140 so far.

NEW YEAR'S resolutions, while faithfully made, are seldom long remembered. Most people probably resolve not to make resolutions because they don't plan to carry them out, anyway.

Wouldn't it be nice, though, if we could make resolutions for other people.

Like the weatherman. He could resolve to reduce or eliminate spring winds.

Or to stop hail storms. Or maybe give us rain, but only at the right time.

OR, TAKE ME. If I could make a resolution for other people, I'd have them be nice to newspapermen.

Other people might just as soon the newspaper man would be nice to them.

IF I COULD really keep a resolution, I'd resolve to get organized. If I did that, I'd have a successful year. If I don't, it will be just like the last one.

Wouldn't it be fine to resolve to go to the bank three times a day? That's presuming you'd have something to take with you.

I ASKED ONE FELLOW what his resolution is for 1966 and he answered:

"I don't know my wife hasn't told me yet."

Another fellow I asked said, simply: "You couldn't print it."

ONE THING I thought about for a resolution is that the next time my wife tells me to put on that blue apron and dry the dishes, I'm going to refuse.... I'll put on the yellow one.

I OUGHT to resolve not to worry about who's going to win football games. Let some other guy pick the winners, and then bet against him.

If I could stick to that one, I could probably resolve to give up poverty in 1966.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Huckabee during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Poe, Donnette and Kenny of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Feliciano and Peni of Davis, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Huckabee of Sunray; Mr. and Mrs. George Bickley, Ken and Debbie of Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Autry and Kathy of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ferrell, Ricky, Sheri, Rocky and Lisa of Ft. A few facts about us that can be of value
to you

Many of our farmer friends, on visits here, are amazed at the variety and number of services we provide.

Since you may not have visited us lately, it's time we reviewed for you where we stand today, after 14 years of serving the Olton area.

Lest we be accused of tooting our horn, we hasten to say that the facts below can benefit you. They reflect our promise that you can get real, honest-to-goodness service from a firm that is interested in seeing you make a profit in your farming operations.

Now here goes:

1. We sell and service the top line of fertilizer in American today --OLIN.
2. With our large storage facilities, we are able to deliver Ammo-Phos in bulk or bag at a moment's notice.

3. Our storage and nurse tanks for OLIN Ammonia are all new, assuring you of efficient and safe operation.

4. Our complete line of application equipment includes a new spreader truck with flotation tires.

5. All-new heavy duty ammonia applicators are available, complete with 36-inch stubble mulch sweeps.

6. We stock a complete line of seeds, feeds, irrigation needs, vet supplies, lawn and garden items, and many other types of supplies for farm and home.

7. Our coffee pot makes 36 cups at a filling. We keep the coffee fresh and hot for people like you. Come on by.

If this is horn-tooting, so be it---but it is done in appreciation of our fine customers, who have made the above facts possible.

Recipe Of The Week

Mrs. Emmett Burrows has selected a recipe for this week.

Mrs. Burrows and her husband have been Olton residents for the past ten years.

They are members of the Hopewell Baptist Church, where Mrs. Burrows teaches the adult Sunday school class, and is also sponsor of the G.A.'s

She counts sewing as her hobby, and among other activities, she helps with the Lion's Club luncheon each week.

They have five children, all married, and have 17 grandchildren.

SWEET GERMAN CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 c. white sugar
1 c. shortening
1 c. buttermilk
4 eggs, separated
2 1/2 c. flour
1 tsp. vanilla
1 pkg. German Chocolate
1 tsp. soda

Dissolve chocolate in 1/2 cup boiling water. Beat egg whites until stiff, and cream shortening and sugar, then add beaten egg yolks.

Add 3/4 c. buttermilk alternately with flour. Dissolve soda in remaining 1/4 cup buttermilk. Add pinch salt to mixture of melted chocolate, water and vanilla. Add to mixture and fold in egg whites last. Bake in large loaf pan, cool and ice.

ICING

1/2 pt. whipping cream or 1 c. evaporated milk

1/2 c. chopped pecans
1 c. white sugar
1 c. short cut coconut
3 egg yolks
1 stick oleo
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix together and cook until thick, stirring constantly.

FOURTH GRADE

Vocabulary.

It is important that the child examine the new words to be learned and compare them with words he already knows how to spell.

Functional spelling is no longer regarded as an isolated subject. It is now considered as a part of a total program, using words in context to build well written stories, giving meanings of new words, extending and enlarging word meanings, stressing antonyms and synonyms, and teaching homonyms is practiced.

Dictionary training is expanded. In phonics, the pupil learns how to listen to a word and to identify various sounds that are helpful in spelling the word.

Syllabication, the uses of prefixes and suffixes, and semantics are stressed in all activities.

Steps in learning new words are looking, saying, thinking, writing, checking and practicing.

The acquiring of good language habits in the fourth grade must necessarily be done in relation to the entire program, as children's spoken and written expressions grow out of their interest in reading, science, play and their association with other people.

Fourth graders begin to be most concerned with the reading and writing aspects of language.

Language development is closely related to all other aspects of the child's growth. Although English, spelling, and writing are taught separately, they are grouped together for the sake of unity.

The child is encouraged to express his ideas clearly and correctly in both writing and speaking, to use good handwriting, correct spelling, proper punctuation, good language usage, and develop the skill and understanding of the mechanics of language.

Subject matter taught in the fourth grade includes sentence structure, paragraph study, writing letters and addressing envelopes, how to use the dictionary, reading and writing poetry, giving and writing book reports, outlining, punctuation, using a telephone properly, introducing people properly and word usage.

The study of science is especially important to children today. The present student lives in an age that is using the advantage of a vast amount acquired knowledge in the field of science.

Teachers feel that it is their responsibility and opportunity to prepare children to make a contribution to and adapt to this age of scientific advancement by introducing them to and causing them to develop an understanding of some of the scientific facts that are now present.

The basic goal of the program of health education is the total development of each child. This involves education dealing with social, mental and emotional health in addition to physical development.

The health education program is concerned with each child's development and maintenance of a sound, healthy body, and with building desirable attitudes and practices for healthful living.

These attitudes and practices are related to the physical, mental, emotional and social phase of health, many of which will vitally effect and may determine the individual's way of life for many years to come.

The boys and girls are divided for physical education class. The philosophy and general objectives are the same.

The teachers believe physical education should be taught in a way that each child will develop through physical activity his maximum potentialities physically, socially, and emotionally.

The activities function in the lines of the boys and girls both in and out of school. The activities are adapted to the boys and girl's stage of growth and development.

The activities taught should promote the health and general welfare of all children and guide them in maintaining physical and mental health.

Art provides opportunity for children to draw, paint, model, and make constructions based on their experiences and on things they see.

Water colors and tempera

Mrs. Pearl Moore

paint develop free use and appreciation of color.

Evaluation periods in which children tell about their art lead into discussion of ways of improving their works. Original work is commended and few copied pictures are used.

Some of the objectives of art are to provide an opportunity for the children to try their own ideas, to develop skills and techniques necessary for the effective use of art materials, to provide skill with which children may interpret other school subjects, to provide activities for children who differ in abilities and to broaden the children's understanding of art concepts through visual, tactile and emotional experiences.

In geography, pupils study about places on all the continents. The children get factual descriptions of life in a far away land. They learn to compare and contrast familiar ways of living with unfamiliar ways in different areas of the world.

The children learn to read maps and globes, to skim the text for information, to use the index and table of contents, to use paragraph headings to use pictures to gain concepts and understandings, and to listen. The journey begins in our own country in North America. The students then visit Brazil and Ecuador in South America, Antarctica, Australia, Japan and India in Asia, Egypt in Africa, then Greece Switzerland, The Netherlands and Norway in Europe.

Special New Type Of FARM LOAN

Under the Level Payment Plan, the borrower pays exactly the same amount each payment date, be it an annual or a semi-annual payment loan. This unvarying, or "Level" amount paid by the borrower includes interest and principal, and the best part of it is these "Level" Payments completely amortize the principal of the loan by the time the final payment is made. Taking as a specific example a loan of $50,000 at 5 3/4% interest for 20 years (annual payment basis) the borrowers' required payments would be $4,271.50 each year.

This loan has a big advantage over the balloon type of loan. If you already have the balloon type and would like to change it over to this new type, the rent on 160 acres will just about pay for your payments each year which remain the same.

SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout troop 12 met Jan. 5 for a regular meeting.

The members of the troop discussed ideas as to what the troops will do together, and decided on skating and cooking badges. Future trips for all troops were also planned.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Meinecke to Misses Judy Criswell, Sharon Davis, Debra Graham, Carmen Gonzales, Teresa Griffith, Randie Sue Howell, Sheree Meinecke, Farra Richards, Doniece Ross, Debra Sweatt, Linda Williams and Carol Walden.

Girl Scout Troop 146 met Jan. 3.

The girls studied the sign of the arrow, and discussed the badge they want to work on.

Following the discussion, a patrol meeting was held for the purpose of deciding which craft all the girls preferred to work on next. Plaques were chosen.

Next week, the girls are planning a visit to the home of Mrs. J. Zakka to view her doll collection.

The girls made "some-mores", a graham cracker-candy confection, and Royce Holladay served refreshments.

Girls present were Misses Holladay, Karen Kennedy, Theresa Patton, Susan Mills, Jimmie Graham, Julie Venable, Peggy Raines, Virginia Moss, Jane McGill, Janet Spain, Connie Thomas and Kay Chitwood. Two girls, Donna Muller and Joanie Rivera, were not present due to illness.

VISITORS RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith and children, Dirk and Terese left Monday for their return trip home to Williams, Ariz. after spending the holidays visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith.

CAR DESTROYED IN FIRE—This was the car destroyed in a fire at Edwards Machine Shop in Olton Sunday evening. Robert Edwards, owner of the shop, was working on the car's gas tank when gasoline spilled out and caught on fire, destroying the car and the back part of the shop.

RECENT VISITORS

Visiting Dec. 23 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgle Gray were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lively and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith and family, Mrs. H. J. Flake of Levee-land and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Flake and boys of Joliet, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Flake visited with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Durham in Verona, Mo. on their trip to Olton, and will visit them again on their return trip home.

THREE FIRES---

to replace ones destroyed in the fire.

The second fire in the rash of blazes occurred Sunday evening when a gas tank from a late model car overturned while it was being repaired, and quickly-spreading gasoline flames destroyed the car and an addition to the back of Edward's Machine Shop.

Robert Edwards, owner of the shop, said he was working on the tank to "stop a rattle" that had developed, when gasoline spilled out, caught fire and destroyed the car and the rear of the machine shop before firemen brought the blaze under control.

Only five hours later, another blaze erupted on the L. R. Goynes' farm, a mile east of Olton.

Two small buildings used to house farm laborers caught fire and were completely destroyed. Firemen managed to save another building next to the other two dwellings, although one wall of the structure was severely damaged.

None of the buildings on the Goynes place were occupied when the fire occurred.

Olton Fire Chief Tom Smith said evidently both farm fires started due to an electrical short, although no ruling was made, since both occurred outside the city limits.

Why Did You Use TIDE Fertilizer on Your Crops?

"Easy to Apply"

Carlton Dobbins, who farms south of Hereford says, "I like Tide Fertilizer because it's so easy to apply. Tide's equipment saves me time and labor and this means money to me."

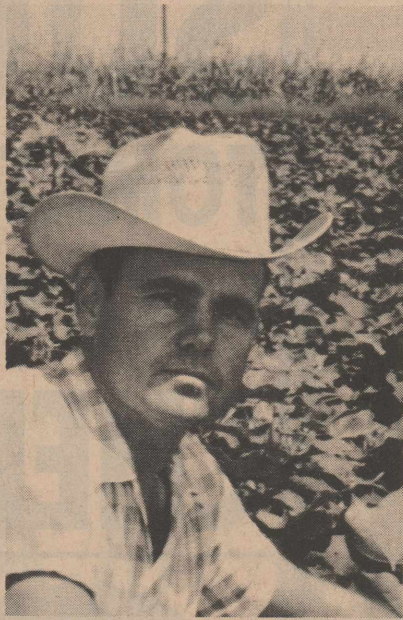

"Service Is Tops"

Melvin Aven, Hart farmer says, "Tide's service is dependable . . . you can count on them. I used Tide fertilizer on my grain and got good results."

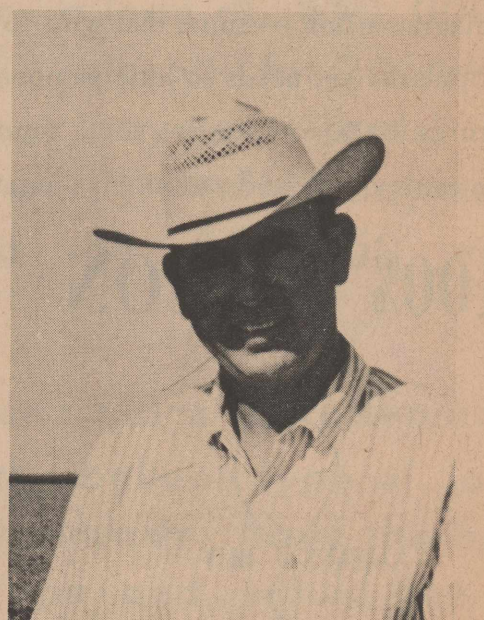

"Personal Interest"

E. D. (Buddy) Bingham, Littlefield grower says, "Tide personnel took a personal interest in my operation and I put on my fertilizer with less effort than ever before."

"Balanced Program"

W. D. Howard, who farms at Farwell says, "I followed Tide's recommendations and had the best balanced fertilizer program I've ever had. I believe I had the most uniform crops as to size, color and yield that I ever had."

"Results"

Carroll Jones, who farms in the West Camp Community south of Farwell says, "Results are what we're after and I believe I can get them with Tide fertilizer."

Hart Camp Happenings

BY MRS. EDWIN OLIVER

A Christmas program was given Wednesday night before Christmas at the Baptist Church. Mrs. M. W. Wheeler, Mrs. Edwin Oliver and Mrs. Blanton Martin were in charge of arrangements. Hart Camp students of the band including Gary Parkey, Brenda Leonard, Lajuana Burleson, Sharon Hendrick and Shirley Leonard played four numbers on their instruments. Patti Muller played "I Heard The Bells" on the piano, Debbie Oliver gave a reading "The Story of Christmas", Kerwin Oliver sang a solo, "O Holy Night". A skit, "White Christmas", was given by Gary Parkey, Lajuana Burleson, Sharon Hendrick and Danny Leonard. The skit was written and directed by Mrs. Edwin Oliver. Following the program, refreshments were served in the educational building and gifts were distributed from the Christmas tree.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells attended a Christmas party a few days before Christmas in the home of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Neinst in Olton. Several other members of the family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ball entertained with a Christmas party in their home Saturday night. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Roper, Olton, Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Sorrenson, Spade and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKeown and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hannah of Lubbock, Bill Johnson and Nancy Ramage.

Visiting in El Paso for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ball and Carolyn Osthus. They visited a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Atterbury and children.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Foster, Pam and Kimmie spent Christmas Day in Falls with Foster's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollums.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ball, Scott and Kent spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Thompson and Mike, Tulla, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dickson, Amherst.

Clayton Named To Committee

Speaker of the House Ben Barnes has announced the appointment of Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake to the Interim House Water Committee.

Clayton is one of five members named to the study group by Barnes. Serving with him will be Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen, who was designated chairman of the group, Rep. Pat Cain of Austin, and two citizen members, Chester M. Grogan of Atlanta and Harold Hinn of Plainview and Dallas.

The committee was created by action of the 59th Legislature this year. It will study the water situation in the state and federal and state proposals relating to water. The group is charged with the duties of holding hearings, reviewing water legislation passed by the 59th Legislature, and submitting suggested changes and recommendations to the Legislature in 1967.

Chit Chat

BY SANDEE GREGORY
AND JANE ANN DUNCAN

Well, that dreaded Jan. 3 finally arrived and all of the students were filled with mixed emotions about that Monday morning. Some were gladly relieved to come back to school because their parents refused to let them have a holiday of just feasting and sleeping. They just didn't seem to realize how important it was to some of the kids to rest their hard-worked little minds.

To a FEW, it was torture to leave their cozy warmhomes and return to the good ole alma mater.

And then the remaining students couldn't care less about coming back or what have you. We had a wonderful Christmas and New Years, and both us hope each and everyone of you did, too.

We're quite sure that everyone did his mid-term studying over the holidays!! Yes, here it is again six weeks tests coming up next week. Only this time they'll be extra hard, 'cause it is mid-term. Good luck, everyone.

If you happen to be walking by a group of teenagers and hear certain unfamiliar words such as choppy, rock, sandbug, cherry tree, maroon, and ginchy, don't get upset -- it's just the "New Slang for '66."

As people in every trade and vocation have their own terminology, so do teenagers. For instance, the word "choppy" refers to embarrassment; a "rock" indicates a 'cool' person; a sandbug is an anti-surfer. This is not all. There's more to come!

"Cherry tree" means to lie; a "maroon" describes a stupid person; and "ginchy" signifies greatness.

If you do happen to hear these and other strange words flying about, don't try to interpret them -- for ONLY the originators know the true meanings!

OHS students, show your appreciation of our athletes by coming out to the all-sports banquet this Saturday night. Besides, it'll be a good chance to dress up in some of that Christmas finery that Santa Claus brought.

Mr. Turner: "I don't believe in the negative approach -- I consider baldness nature's cure for hair."

Fortified with turkey and dressing, candy and every other goodie lying around from Christmas, the varsity girls and boys spent three of their valuable holidays traveling back and forth to play in the Farwell tournament.

After three, hard-won games with Adrian, Farwell and Dimmitt, the girls captured the first place trophy.

The boys lost, though, to Farwell and Anton.

Come on, varsity and 'B' team, beat Farwell!!!

Bi-County PTA Health Program Is Explained

The Lamb-Bailey Bi-County Council of PTA is sponsoring a health supervision program for children.

This project is designed to help provide a long-range educational program for encouraging parents to arrange, with the cooperation of physicians, dentists and all available health facilities in the community for continuous health supervision for their children.

The goals of the program are:

- (1) To increase parents' awareness of the importance and value;
- (a) Of having regular periodic medical and dental check-ups for their children;
- (b) Of carrying out the physician's and dentist's recommendations for treatment of correction of defects;
- (c) Of having children receive immunizations and boosters against diseases.

(2) To encourage the early selection of family physicians and dentists.

(3) To encourage parents to keep a permanent personal health record for each child in the family.

(4) To encourage the use of adequate school health records.

(5) To support the improvement of health education programs in the community.

(6) To increase parents' knowledge of the community's health resources and facilities.

(7) To provide a suitable questionnaire to assist parents in evaluating the health of their children. Further steps will be determined by the local advisory committee. For example, the information gained from the survey should be evaluated by the local advisory committee and efforts made by the cooperating organizations in the community to eliminate deficiencies in health supervision, if such exist.

This continuing program for maintaining health is based on the conviction "that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

We also want to congratulate Sherry Caddel and Laura Akin for being picked on the all-tourney team at Farwell.

Shirley Johnson, weren't you a little anxious to go to school Monday Morning to get ready at 3 a.m.!!

New Year's resolution: something describing the way someone else wishes you were.

FRACTURED RESOLUTIONS

Susan Norfleet vows that she will wait at least two days between visits with George.

Coach Meadows declares she will not wrap more than one angel per day.

Larry Green promises not to talk back to Coach Dennis anymore.

Eulinda Dyer will switch her interests to studying for at least two hours every night.

Joe Fincher will begin his CRASH diet Jan. 1.

Charles A. McClain plans to control his temper on the basketball court.

Eh, Charlie, you rather got off to a good start the other day at the tourney, didn't you?

When asked about her driving, Coach Swart replied that she would abide by the speed limit for a change.

Kathy Kidd is going to treat the basketball with delicate dribbling fingers for the coming year.

During ONE of Dale Gabe-hart's and Steve Exter's friendly debates over religion, we overheard them state that they would compromise their ideas beginning New Year's.

Mr. Williamson promises that he will pass EVERYONE in plane geometry.

"Ice Hockey is my new sport interest for the New Year," stated Jackie Harrod.

Anyone have any information on Ice Hockey?

Karen Hipp intends to wear drip-dry basketball clothes.

Janice Hardaway says she is going to have her birth certificate revised officially to "Beanimo" Hardaway sometime in '66.

Phil Cox decides he will frown a while this year.

Gail Bizzell vows he will use his Christmas present, a bottle of love potion number nine, on all the girls in '66.

Watch out girls!!

Larry Neinstast has but a few history-making words: "I won't be mischievous!"

J. Curtis will use his comb and mirror daily.

Leslie Norfleet, Diana Malone and Kathy Norfleet will try the new SHORT beagle cut for the year.

OHS: Let's resolve, in the year of '66 to support our Foreign Exchange Student Program.

LAST OF THREE FIRES—This was the scene on the L. R. Goynes farm east of Olton after a Monday morning fire swept through two frame farm laborers' buildings. The fire was the third fire in four days over the New Year's weekend.

Symbol of Better Health

MEDICAL EMBLEM OF GREEK ORIGIN

The caduceus, emblem of the medical profession, is derived from the staff carried by the god Hermes in Greek mythology. Among the Greeks it was the mark of heralds and ambassadors... today it heralds better health for the entire community.

DEFENSIVE STANDOUT—Laura Akin, defensive standout for the Fillies all season, steals the basketball from a Cotton Center Ellette during Tuesday night's game. Miss Akin collected six rebounds during the victory, and recently was named All-Tournament at the Farwell Tourney.

TWO MORE POINTS—Susan Norfleet lets fly for two points during the Olton-Cotton Center game. The Fillies collected a 38-22 win in the contest and Miss Norfleet hit the hoop for six points.

Fillies Take Farwell Crown

Olton Fillie basketball fortunes took a turn up during the holidays, and the good luck continued over into the new year.

The girls took three straight games in the Farwell tournament for the first-place trophy during the Christmas New Year's vacation, then took a 38-22 win over Cotton Center Tuesday to put a little frosting on the cake.

Meanwhile, back at the hard luck ranch, the Olton boys were having exactly that, dropping two in a row at the same tournament to be eliminated, then losing to Cotton Center's boys Tuesday night, 52-31.

In addition to collecting the championship trophy, Filly Sherry Caddel was named to the All-Tournament team at Farwell.

In the first game for the girls Dec. 28, Miss Caddel and Karen Hipp both pumped in 23 points, while Susan Norfleet added another six for a 52-35 victory over Adrian.

Laura Akin was the ball hawk on defense for the girls, picking up 12 rebounds and stealing the ball twice.

Francine Struve picked off four rebounds and added three steals, while Iva Tanner, Kathy Kidd and Robbie Langford each took three rebounds in the contest.

In the next game against host Farwell, the feds rolled to a 55-39 win. Miss Hipp had 25 points, while Miss Caddel had 17 and Miss Norfleet 13. Once again Miss Akin collected 12 rebounds, this time with four steals.

Miss Struve collected nine rebounds and two steals, while Miss Tanner had three rebounds and Miss Kidd five steals.

In the championship game with Dimmitt, the Fillies charged from a 24-22 halftime deficit to take a 51-41 win. Once again Miss Caddel was the scoring leader with 23 points.

Miss Hipp was not far behind with 21, while Miss Norfleet added another seven.

In the defensive department, Miss Struve was top rebounder with seven, while Miss Akin had six and Miss Kidd three.

In the low scoring contest with Cotton Center, Miss Caddel

Water District Vote Is Tuesday

Absentee voting for county committeemen and district directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District winds up Friday, with regular elections set for Tuesday.

Absentee ballots for Lamb County residents may be obtained at 620 Hall Ave. in Littlefield, according to Calvin Price, secretary for the District.

Voting in the regular election Tuesday will be at the City Hall in Olton, at Farmers Co-Op in Spade and at the Community Bldg. in Earth.

Election judges will be G. T. Sides in Olton, Douglas Parrish in Earth and C. C. Byars in Spade.

Running for county offices are W. B. Jones and Leon Leonard, both of Spade, who are running for county committeemen, while Weldon Newsom of Morton is trying for the District Director's post.

Also on the ballot is a proposition to reject or approve the annexation of parts of Cochran County into the water district.

To vote in the election, a person must have a valid poll tax and own property within the district.

Pickup Lost, Then Found

A pickup owned by M. G. Fisher disappeared late Saturday night, but the vehicle was found Sunday afternoon parked on Ave. B between 2nd and 3rd St.

Police Chief Emmett Burrows, who found the vehicle, said it contained several hundred dollars worth of wrenches, but none were taken during the theft.

Burrows said the only thing missing from the pickup was the keys.

Burrows said no clues to the theft have been found.

SPENDS WEEK HERE

Visiting for a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Curry were their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bell and daughter, Guyla of Chicago, Ill.

Electric power's role in meeting the municipal water needs of the region are a part of the 1966 improvement program. A 115,000 volt transmission line will be completed during the year to provide the power to pump the water from Lake Meredith to a storage reservoir near Amarillo. The Lake Meredith water is scheduled to be distributed to the 11 member cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, beginning in late 1967.

"1965 was another year in which the average cost of our service to all of our customers was lower than the previous year. As a matter of fact, it was the 13th consecutive year for a decline in the average cost of electricity used on our customers' homes. Our customers have helped make this possible by using more of our service. This enables us to install new and more efficient equipment, the type that will go into service as a result of this 19-million dollar improvement program in 1966. Reddy Kilowatt is still the servant who charges less for each hour the more hours you work him," Watson concluded.

SWPS Announces 1966 Plans For Construction, Improvement

A 1966 construction and improvement program, which calls for the investment of an additional $19,353,000 in new facilities throughout the company's service area was announced today by A. R. "Lon" Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company.

"Comparing our construction plans with a military operation, 1966 could be described as a year when we are going to strengthen and consolidate our position. In other words, this is a year when we are going to build into an already strong interconnected electric system new facilities which will provide even greater service dependability for our customers," Watson said.

New transmission lines, and related equipment, are the largest single investment in the 1966 program, with nearly $7,500,000 of the total construction program designated for the construction and improvement of the electrical highways which bring the power from the generating stations to the areas served by the electric company.

A principal result of this new construction will be that the "backbone" transmission line, or principal electric artery linking the three largest generating stations will become a 230,000 volt line. Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, and Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, N.M. are the three generating stations.

This means that early next year, it will be possible to move four times more power than it is now possible to transmit between these three major plants.

"Let me emphasize that this conversion to 230,000 volts of the 'backbone', or main, line is an addition to existing facilities, and means there will be one more way to move power throughout our system. In other words, there are other transmission routes, in addition to this new one, which can transport the power between all of our 11 generating stations and carry the load in the event of an emergency," Watson reported.

Watson went on to point out that the generation and transmission of electric power is controlled automatically insofar as the principal transmission lines are concerned, and that the changeover to an alternate route is accomplished instantaneously in most cases.

Major construction will begin during 1966 on another 210,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo. This will be the third generator installed since 1960 at this location and will increase the capability of the plant to 435,000 kilowatts. Completion of the new unit is scheduled for mid-1968.

"The continued installation of major electric generating units is, of course, the best kind of evidence of our confidence in the future of our service area. There are many opportunities to attract small industries to this region, and a number of communities are actively engaged in well-planned industrial development programs. The advantages of this area are obvious, with our excellent climate, the optimism of our people, and good local governments,

All of these will lead to new progress for the region," Watson said.

"19 MILLION DOLLARS?
THAT'S A BUNCH!
WHAT'S IT FOR, REDDY?"

"Why, that's easy
Sonny — we're going to insure your electrical future ...

... this year alone, to show our faith in the future of this area, we'll invest over 19 million dollars to insure that you, your daddy and mommy, will have all the low cost electricity you'll need — at the mere touch of a finger to a switch.

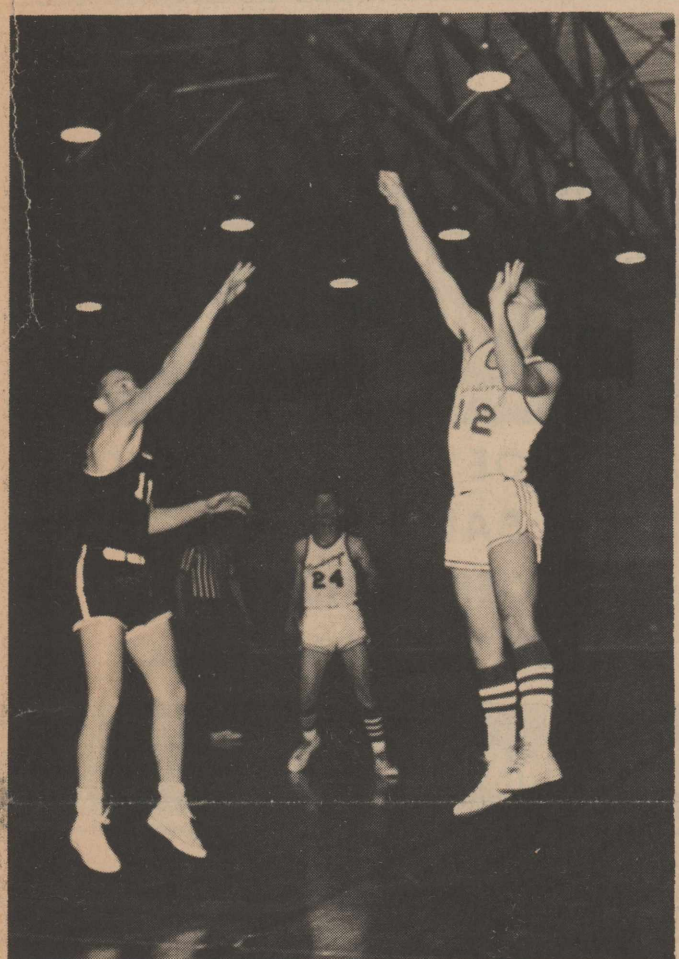

And, as the years go by, we'll continue to improve and when you grow up you'll enjoy electrical conveniences that your mommy and daddy would never dream possible.
