Terrorists Give 6 p.m. Death Edict

Diplomat's Life Hangs In Balance

MONTREAL (UPI) — The price on the life of kidnaped British diplomat James R. Cross boiled down to one thing Saturday—immediate freedom for 23 French-Canadian Separatists held in Quebec jail.

The kidnapers, in the "final communique" Friday, vowed to kill Cross if the government did not release their jailed comrades by 6 p.m. EDT.

The government was preparing to announce its decision momentarily. "The documents are being studied very carefully in the operations center," a spokesman said, adding that External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp was "closely involved and in touch with Quebec Justice Minister Jerome Choquette." Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who has indicated a reluctance to give in to the ransom demands, was being kept fully informed.

In a weeklong series of moves, conducted through public announcements by the government and communiques sent to a Montreal radio station by the kidnapers, the original lengthy list of seven ransom conditions had narrowed down to the single freedom demand.

The kidnapers asked that the released prisoners be provided with an airliner to take them to sanctuary in Cuba or Algeria with any members of their families who wanted to accompany them.

They named three "observers" to accompany the released prisoners into exile—a lawyer and two newsmen—and said Cross would be released "in 24 hours following the return to Montreal of the observers who accompany the political prisoners."

Cross, 49, the senior British trade commissioner in Montreal—a rank equivalent to consul—was rousted from his bed Monday morning by machine-gun-carrying gunmen of the Front de Liberation du Quebec (FLQ), an underground terror group seeking independence for French-speaking Quebec province.

It was Canada's first diplomatic kidnaping, and presented the Trudeau government with one of its gravest crises.

The Windsor, Ont. Star, said Saturday morning it had been learned from sources in Montreal that the decision had already been made to release the prisoners. The sources said the jailed Separatists and their families would be flown into exile in a Department of Transport plane from the Montreal international airport "under complete secrecy."

Department of External Affairs spokesman Ross Francis quickly replied that "the Windsor Star story is without foundation. The Star tried to confirm it with us before publication, and we told them that at that time the story was without foundation." The Star's story came from its Montreal correspondent, Spiros Debono, a veteran Quebec political reporter.

Authorities Abort Plot To Blast Plane For Return Of Prisoners

THREATS RAMPANT

Security Tightened Bombings Continue

By United Press International

An explosion rocked a courthouse in New York City Saturday, and police tightened security at public buildings and airports on the West Coast, in the face of an unprecedented wave of bomb threats.

At Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif., a threat to bomb the football stadium Saturday during a game with the University of Southern California caused police to closely examine spectators' belongings. The stadium was searched before the game.

The National Guard in California announced it had received information from undisclosed sources that beginning at 10:30 p.m. PDT Friday night "the Weathermen will start attacking throughout the weekend every public building, aircraft installation, aircraft and military building throughout the state."

In Washington Friday the Pentagon advised National Guard units to be prepared for possible terrorist attacks.

As security was heightened in several states, a bomb blew out the second floor front of a New York City courthouse at 1:20 a.m. EDT Saturday.

A warning was telephoned by a purported Weatherman a half-hour before the blast. Nobody was injured.

Bomb threats were received by police, newspapers and other agencies throughout California. In San Francisco one threat was made against a Catholic church in Chinatown. Another caused cancellation of a plane-side press conference for Cambodian Chief of State Cheng Heng on Friday. Some of the threats obviously were from pranksters.

Letters from several Weatherman groups claimed credit for explosions in pre-dawn hours Thursday causing extensive damage at a courthouse in San Rafael, Calif., a National Guard armory in Santa Barbara, Calif., and an ROTC building in Seattle.

The messages came from groups named the "Purple Sunshine clan," the "Quarter Moon Tribe," the "Weatherman Underground" and the "Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society."

The letter from the Perfect Park group, located in Santa Barbara, said: "Everywhere the people are moving against pig Amerika."

All the Weatherman letters referred to the nation as "Amerika." All were photostatic copies, a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

F111 Tail Shaft Found Faulty

FORT WORTH (UPI) —General Dynamics investigators have found a break in the tail pivot shaft of an F111E fighter-bomber during a ground test.

"We have already tested 160 aircraft in the cold chamber," John McDowell said Friday. "They all passed the test clean. Operation of the F11s already inspected and flying will not be affected by this development."

Inspection and testing for structural soundness has been going on since the controversial F111s were grounded by the Air Force because of a series of crashes.

McDowell said the horizontal tails are removed from the aircraft before proof loading. The shaft is fitted to the proof load fixture. The cold chambers simulate extreme temperature encountered in an aircraft's flight.

"The break occurred at -40 degres Fahrenheit," McDowell said.

Hilarity And Sincerity Spark Luncheon For County Sheriff

By TEX DeWEESE
News Staff Writer

Members of the Gray County Bar Association mixed levity and seriousness at an appreciation luncheon for Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan Friday in the Crown and Shield Room of Coronado Inn.

It all came as a surprise to the sheriff who has been in the law enforcement business for 26 years, nearly 20 of which have been spent as head of Gray County's sheriff department.

As one of the lawyers at the luncheon said: "this has long been overdue."

Accolades came from many sources as various members of the bar stepped to the podium to first "roast" and then pay tribute to Sheriff Jordan.

David Holt, president of the county bar, opened the program and introduced Atty. Jimmy Thompson as a substitute speaker for an out-of-town dignitary who failed to show up as keynoter of the bar's first general luncheon meeting of the year.

Then the hilarity started.

Thompson was interrupted by Atty. Ben Sturgeon. Their banter moved into politics. Thompson is a Democrat, Sturgeon a Republican.

Sturgeon finally got the floor and read a resolution of appreciation which was mingled with ridicule and praise for the sheriff. He wound it up with a part of which can be printed. It went something like this:

"And then Rufe Jordan had a shootout with Piston Pete;

Sturgeon made a presentation and then Atty. Harold Comer took over with another "award." This time it was a wig which Comer stated members of the bar thought Jordan could really use.

Atty. Don Cain next presented the sheriff with some unmentionables and Atty. Aaron Sturgeon followed with more of the same.

Next came Atty. Rowdy Bowers with words of questionable praise for Jordan and then sincere words of appreciation.

The frivolity ended at this point and Atty. Bill Waters took over for a serious presentation to Sheriff Jordan, a gold watch.

Waters concluded with:

"The members of the Gray County Bar want to express our appreciation for your outstanding service to the cause

Drama Ends After One Person's Shot

TEHRAN (UPI) — Three Iranian students brandishing pistols and a stick of dynamite hijacked an Iranian jetliner Saturday, shot one of the persons aboard and threatened to blow up the plane at Baghdad airport in an abortive plot to force the release of political prisoners.

The drama ended when Iraqi authorities in Baghdad persuaded the hijackers to leave the plane and then arrested them. The pilot, Capt. Ross de Spenza of San Francisco, resumed the flight and none of his passengers was hurt.

The plane carried 44 passengers, including the three hijackers, and seven crew members.

The only casualty was the chief steward, Armen Ovanessian, who was shot once just below the heart when he approached one of the hijackers. He was taken to a Baghdad Hospital where he was reported in serious condition.

Capt. De Spenza, who has lived in Tehran for 12 years, said the hijackers struck as the Boeing 727 flew from Tehran to Kuwait.

"They jumped up and screamed hands up in English," De Spenza said. He said two smashed into the cockpit while the third remained in the rear of the plane and threatened to blow it up if anyone moved.

Stewart Ovanessian apparently did not hear the order and moved toward one of the hijackers, who fired a single shot.

De Spenza said the two hijackers yelled "Baghdad! Baghdad!" when they burst into the cockpit. They disabled the radio.

Once on the ground in the Iraqi capital, one of the hijackers shouted at the passengers: "You don't know what you're in for. There are time bombs on the plane and it will be blown to smithereens."

Iraqi officials negotiated with the hijackers for about 30 minutes, and they permitted some women and children and the wounded steward to get off. They finally left themselves and were placed in custody.

The hijackers were identified as Ali Reza Khia Bani, Hassan Eahami and Mohammed Mahmudi. Officials said they ranged in age from 20 to 25.

The Mahmoudis are brothers.

Iranian authorities identified the three youths as Communsts and said that was the reason they had been arrested by the anti-Communist Baathist regime in Iraq.

The youths had demanded the release of 21 political prisoners in Iran but a spokesman for the Iranian Ministry of Information said there were no such prisoners.

Agnew In Amarillo Monday

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will address a $100-a-plate dinner Monday night in the Amarillo Civic Center. A social hour at 6 p.m. will precede a 7 p.m. dinner and Agnew's talk at 9 p.m.

Five dollar gallery seats are available at the center's box office for those unable to attend the dinner.

Agnew is appearing in Amarillo at a dinner for GOP senatorial hopeful, Congressman George Bush of Austin. Congressman Bob Price, gubernatorial candidate, Paul Eggers, and 31st senatorial candidate Malouf Abraham are also expected to be on hand for the festivities.

Tickets for the Agnew dinner are available locally at GOP headquarters, corner of Kingsmill and Russell streets.

Ex-Mayor Of Amarillo To Guest Speak At Directors' Installation

New officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce for the 1970-71 year will be installed at a directors' meeting Tuesday night in Coronado Inn.

F. V. Wallace, former Amarillo mayor and now president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be the installing officer.

New officers to be installed are Kay Fancher, president; Roy Sparkman, vice president, and Jerald Sims, finance director.

Directors to be installed include Ray Duncan, Warren Fatheree, Dale Greenhouse, Newt Secrest, Jim Stallings, A. W. Bassett, Robert Rasmussen and C. D. Zlomke.

The new officers will take over at the chamber's 45th annual banquet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20, in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Cafeteria.

The speaker wil be Dr. Quinn McKay of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the chamber offices in the Hughes Building.

Cambodian Troops Resist New Thrust Of Communists Attack

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Communist troops attacked for the fifth consecutive day Saturday in an attempt to break up a 10,000-man Cambodian task force dug in 48 miles north of Phnom Penh. Field reports said 3,000 fresh North Vietnamese were thrown into the offensive.

In South Vietnam, U.S. headquarters disclosed that the entire fleet of CH47 Chinook helicopters has been grounded pending an investigation into possible defects into the twin-jet aircraft. One of the big choppers crashed last month, killing several GIs.

A separate Saigon report Saturday said the U.S. Air Force is using supersonic F4 Phantom jet fighter-bombers to fly low level runs over Communist supply routes in Laos and northern Cambodia to spot targets for attack. The Phantoms can cover more ground and are less vulnerable to Communist antiaircraft defenses than other American planes.

Increased Losses

Four Cambodian soldiers were reported killed and more than 20 wounded in the attack on the Cambodian task forces Saturday, raising losses this week to 13 killed and at least 122 wounded.

Slain Teacher, Dallas Model May Share Same Murderous Fate

DALLAS (UPI) — Police theorized Friday a pretty model may have met the same fate as a Richardson school teacher who was found murdered Aug. 10 on a little traveled Kaufman County road.

Investigators disclosed they were seeking the whereabouts of Deborah Dianne Palmer, a blonde, green-eyed model, who disappeared 30 days ago.

Miss Palmer, 19, has not been seen since she returned from a California vacation. Two suitcases she had with her on the trip were found by a motorist north of Richardson, a Dallas suburb, 11 days ago. Police searched the area but found no other clues. A purse, an overnight case and an electric hair curler set Miss Palmer was known to have carried were not found.

Miss Palmer's mother, television and movie actress Ann Palmer from Germany, said she believed her daughter was abducted by someone the girl knew.

"If she was murdered, it was by someone she knew," Mrs. Palmer said. However the mother said, "As long as her body has not been found, there is one ounce of hope she may be alive somewhere in the world. As a mother, I would feel a void in my heart if she was dead."

Miss Palmer was born in Dallas, but grew up in California. She arrived at Dallas Love Field Sept. 7, and stayed with Dallas friends at an apartment complex and planned the following evening to go to Terrell.

Monthly Date For Collecting Starts Nov. 1st

Beginning Nov. 1, Pampa Daily News' carriers will go on a monthly collection basis.

During the last week in October, the young businessmen will be bringing their pay-weekly-and-bi-monthly collections up-to-date, so that during the first week in November, they can collect for the month of November; be finished with that phase of their service for the month and have the remaining Saturdays free.

Thereafter, newspaper collection will be during the first week of the month.

The advance collection system, which applies to Pampa only, hopefully will alleviate the drain on a newspaper carrier's profits. When a family moves, the carrier salesman is often forgotten. The new system insures carrier profit.

CONCERT PATRONS

First Presentation Of New Season Monday

Members of the Bayanihan Phillippine Dance Company were scheduled to arrive in Pampa tonight for their appearance in concert Monday night in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

The attraction will be the first in a series of four performances to be offered in the 1970-71 season of the Pampa Community Concert Association.

The dance company of 27, with its 12-piece orchestra, since its first appearance in Manila in 1956, has achieved worldwide acclaim for its exciting and beautiful performance.

The Bayanihan style is diverse in tempo and color and the company's fabulous costumes also reflect the Philippine folkloric diversity in religious customs and ethnic influences. From the authentic mountain tribal costumes to the swirling Spanish aprons and scarves, the stage is awash with brilliant colors of the islands.

Tomorrow night's stellar attraction is expected to give the Concert Association an auspicious start to a full season of outstanding concerts.

Admission will be by association membership card only and there will be no box office sale of tickets. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Christine Jorgensen Asks Apology

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Christine Jorgensen Saturday demanded an apology from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for linking her name with Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y. She said she did not want to become involved in "dirty politics."

Agnew last Thursday termed Goodell "the Christine Jorgensen of the Republican party" while telling New Orleans newspaper editors that Goodell had deviated from the GOP and the Nixon administration. Miss Jorgensen was surgically transformed from a man to a woman 20 years ago. Miss Jorgensen sent a telegram to Agnew, who is spending the weekend in Palm Springs, Calif., asking for an apology for the "blatant use of my name in connection with your political feud."

"I am proud that I was born a United States citizen and I resent an implication that I am in any way lending aid to any radical or subversive group" the telegram said.

Contacted by telephone, Miss Jorgensen said:

"I don't see anything funny about it. I think it is charming when Bob Hope mentions my name, but it is not necessarily funny when the vice president says something about me."

Agnew was spending a quiet weekend in Palm Springs at the home of friends. The vice president had both tennis and golf scheduled for the day.

His only commitment was a reception Sunday for California State Assemblyman Victor Veysey.

Vocal Artist To Kickoff Dinner Series For Knife And Fork Club

THOMAS L. THOMAS
. . . K & F speaker

He was born in South Wales when his family emigrated to the United States and settled in Scranton, Pa. He has since toured almost all of the world. . . and he is coming to Pampa to be the guest artist of members of the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club at their meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday, at the Coronado Inn.

He became an American citizen He is Thomas L. Thomas; and he has arranged a special program for this occasion that is non-classical, non-long haired, and said by those who have heard it as "just right" for this specific event.

Naturally, music plays a part of the Thomas L. Thomas program. It just couldn't be a Thomas program without it, for music has been the life and the career of this baritone heard by millions of persons throughout the world in personal appearances, on record, and on television programs, such as "The Firestone Hour", and others.

Thomas will be introduced by J. E. Gunn, with invocation by Calvin Whatley. Dinner music will be furnished by Mrs. Sue Higdon at the organ.

Club members are urged to purchase dinner tickets which are now on sale at Malone Pharmacy, before the deadline, which is Wednesday noon, Oct. 14, according to Harold Barrett, K&F president.

Probe Into WSU Crash Will Be Thorough

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's sweeping investigation of fly-by-night airline charter operations touched off by the Wichita State University crash will get off to a slow start.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe ordered the probe Friday claiming that "no effort, time or resources' will be spared.

President Edward Discoll of the National Air Carrier Association, a trade organization representing the major charter airlines, indicated he expected the investigation to turn up widespread abuses.

But it was expected to be slow going because :

—The man appointed to do the job has only a skelton staff.

—The National Transportation Safety Board, the government's air accident investigation agency, has no safety statistics on small airline charter operations.

—The Federal Aviation Administration, whose job it is to enforce the charter safety regulations, will be a part of the investigative task force.

Volpe's announcement of the investigation came exactly one week after a charter flight carrying members of the Wichita State University football team crashed near Loveland Pass, Colo. Thirty persons died in the wreck.

The FAA disclosed Friday that one of its inspectors grounded a charter flight scheduled to fly a college soccer team from Miami to Nassau on the same day of the Wichita State Accident.

Industry sources said that one of the reasons for the charter violations of safety rules was the inability of the FAA to police the industry properly since it had only 700 inspectors to enforce the rules on the 100,000-plane general aviation fleet.

Rubella Menace On Its Way Out

Until recently Rubella (German Measles) was regarded as a relatively mild disease characterized by inflammation of the nose and air passage, fever, malaise and a rash lasting two or three days.

But in 1941, it was noted that a high number of birth defects followed an outbreak of rubella It was discovered that many women who contract the disease during the first three months of pregnancy, give birth to abnormal children.

Among serious defects traced to rubella are hearing loss, heart disease, eye disease, brain damage and mental retardation.

The hunt for an effective vaccine against rubella was successful in 1962 when researchers at the Harvard School of Public Health and the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, succeeded in isolating the virus.

Pampa residents helped to finance the discovery of the vaccine through donations to the March of Dimes to research and subsequent discovery.

The most recent rubella epidemic in the United States occurred in 1964-65 and was responsible for as many as 15,000 spontaneous abortions, up to 5,000 infant deaths and between 20,000 to 30,000 birth abnormalities.

Handicapped children born as a result of the disease and during the epidemic are now coming of school age.

To prevent such a halocaust again, the Gray County Medical Association and Auxiliary, The Gray County March of Dimes, Pampa Independent School District are sponsoring a "Rub Out Rubella" Clinic Tuesday.

The clinic is for children ages one through 10 and is administered free of charge.

School children will receive the vaccine from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. at Travis, Lamar, Austin, and Baker Elementary Schools and from 10:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. at Mann, Houston and Wilson Elementary Schools.

The Pre-Schoolers, ages one through five, will be immunized from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at Carver Center.

Permission slips are necessary for all children. Slips were sent home by school children on Tuesday and must be returned to school by Tuesday, Oct. 13. Permission slips for pre-school children may be taken to Carver Center, 321 W. Albert. A slip for pre-schoolers accompanies this article.

WEATHER VAIN?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Another American tradition is dead. It's no longer the "Weather Bureau," it's "The National Weather Service."

The Commerce Department, which created the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA pronounced noah) to coordinate all agencies concerned with air and water environment, rechristened the Weather Bureau.

Water Treater Bids Due For Acceptance

Acceptance of equipment bids for Pampa's plant to treat Canadian River water is scheduled at Tuesday's regular meeting of the City Commission.

City Manager B.M. Wofford said Saturday it is estimated the low bid of $1,302,550 by the A.E. Mitchell Construction Co. of Dallas may run approximately $75,000 lower than the original figures.

Coupled with the low bid by Foran Construction Co. of Borger at $133,907.90 on the transm ssion line this would bring the total cost of the water treatment plan project to approximately $1,361,400 instead of the original anticipated total of $1,436,400.

In other business scheduled for Tuesday's session the commission will:

Consider staff recommendations on group hospitalization proposals.

Receive City Traffic Commission recommendation's regarding changes in traffic controls.

Consider approval of routine to be opened Nov. 10 for the purchase of a 4-door sedan.

Approve a surety bond for the city manager.

Consider approval of routine salary changes for September and approval of monthly bills.

The commission also is expected to move the next regular meeting date from Oct. 27 to Oct. 29 at which time it will canvass the Oct. 24 election returns on a proposed $800,000 bond issue for Pampa's proposed $1,200,000 civic auditorium.

of law enforcement in Gray County."

It was on Jan. 1, 1951, that Waters became 31st judicial district attorney and Jordan first took office as Gray County sheriff.

Waters declined several years ago to run for re-election and Sheriff Jordan still hold his office.

Sheriff Jordan made the last of several acceptance speeches.

"I feel honored to stand in your presence,' Jordan said, "It was my ambition to be a lawyer, but I wound up being just a cop. I want you to know I appreciate you as attorneys and as friends and especially am appreciative of the honor you have bestowed upon me today."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) —What the world needs is another new adult board game. This one is called "Presidential Commission."

The rules:

Each player receives a scroll designating him as a member of a presidential commission. Then he draws a button marked "preconceived notion." The button is placed on top of the scroll and both are placed on the space marked "go."

In a series of moves the player now advances around the board through areas marked "public hearings," "drafting report" and "findings and recommendations."

The object is to move through all of these areas without losing his "preconceived notion."

An Example

If, for example, while passing through the "public hearings" area he lands on a space marked "evidence to the contrary," his "preconceived notion" will be in jeopardy.

In order to avoid losing it, he must play a defensive card marked "closed mind."

A player also risks the loss of his "preconceived notion" while passing through the "drafting report" area. Should he land on a space marked "persuasive counter argument," he must protect his "preconceived notion" by playing another "closed mind" card.

As play progresses, each player tries to form power blocs with other players who have similar "preconceived notions." This increases the chance that his "preconceived notion" will match the "findings and recommendations."

When a player reaches the "findings and recommendations" area, he may discover that it already is dominated by another power bloc.

May Take Alternate Route

In that event, the player may protect his "preconceived notion" by taking an alternate route marked "minority views."

Movement around the board is determined by drawing "progress" cards. Some of the key cards are:

—Commission's findings leak to press before final report is completed. Advance 3 spaces.

—President repudiates commission's findings before final report is completed. Go back 3 spaces.

Happiness is what I sell.

Perhaps you've never thought of life insurance as "happiness." But it is in many ways. It helps you get rid of financial worries so you can live a little! Each dollar you put into cash-value life insurance works like four. It works as a protection dollar. As an emergency dollar. As an opportunity dollar. And as a retirement dollar. Four ways. Ready money whenever you need it. That's a lot of happiness!

Pampa Youth and Community Center

GIRL's JUDO — For the first time in Pampa the Pampa Youth Center will offer a judo class for girls. This will be for girls who are 12 years of age or older. Classes will be taught on Monday and Thursday nights from 7-8:30 p.m.

The class will be for fathers and mothers also, but sons and daughters moy take the ccurse without their parents. The boys age limit is 8 yrs. of age. The classes will be conducted by our resident judo instructors Sam and Paul Mo t. In this day and time defensive judo is a very handy thing to know and could save your life or yourself from bodily injury.

Interested persons who want more information should come to one of the meetings. The only qualification financially is that you be a Center member.

SWIM CLUB— The Dolphin Swim Club has been reorganized now and boys and girls ages 8-18 who are interested in competitive swimming may join. They need only be a Center member to participate.

The Club meets on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays from 6-7 p.m. We had some 29 swimmers who originally showed interest, so be in the in crowd and come swim.

SWIM LESSONS — The swim lessons for the months of November and December are listed below and parents should consult this list and enroll their children at an early date. Our pool is indoors and heated so there is no fear of the cold weather.

Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesday during the school year. All classes will be taught by Jackie Marlar, our resident water safety instructor. Enrollment is free to Center members and $4 for non-members.

TV In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There is little doubt that the hottest weekly lineup of network television shows this season once again is CBS-TV's Monday night schedule: "Gunsmoke," Lucille Ball, "Mayberry R.F.D." Doris Day and Carol Burnett.

It was the lineup to beat last season, and the early ratings for all five series this semester continue to be rather fantastic, with the entire quintet finishing very high.

Furthermore, regardless of the claim of some competitors that the CBS-TV Monday lineup appeals mainly to the rural audience, early ratings dispute this theory. For "Gunsmoke," Miss Ball, "Mayberry R.F.D.," Miss Day and Miss Burnett all finished very high not only in the national rankigns, but also in the ratings that focus on the major cities.

The only other weekly network lineup that comes even slightly close to matching CBS-TV's Monday schedule in end-to-end ratings power is ABC-TV's Tuesday programming of "The Mod Squad," "Movie of the Week" and "Marcus Welby, M.D."

Legion Can Have Parade

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston's able to hold its Veteran's Day dowtown parade Nov. 11 after all, thanks to the generosity of a bearded Vietnam War veteran who makes his living manufacturing peace posters.

Jerry W. Jones, 31, owner of the Houston Blacklight & Poster Co. and a former member of the Army Special Forces, paid the $2,500 parade permit fee for the Legion Thursday.

The $2,500 is required by a city ordinance originally passed to discourage parades by anti-war groups. When it was discovered this week the ordinance also applied to American Legion and other such parades, the City Council began a diligent search for loopholes.

Offers Down Payment

One councilman offered to take a downpayment on the parade fee, when the Legion said it would not be able to raise the money on time. Councilman Lee McLemore suggested repealing the ordinance just before the Legion parade and then re-instituting it immediately afterwards.

"There are a lot of ways to skin a cat," councilman Frank Mann said.

But City Attorney William Olson told the councilmen of the federal court decision this year banning arbitrary denial of parade permits.

Jones said he paid the fee for the Legion because "I believe a group of Americans wanting to parade down Main Street is a patriotic thing, and I believe they should be able to do it."

Jones said he would not call himself a hippie. He said he is not a member of the American Legion either. His firm sells peace posters and bumper stickers "to kids and supermarkets."

Texans Warned Of Wording On Amendment

By ANN ARNOLD

AUSTIN (UPI)— Texans should approve an amendment to provide liquor by the drink to narrow the generation gap, according to Sen. Joe Christie, D-El Paso.

Christie is chairman of a committee promoting the amendment which will appear on the Nov. 3 general election ballot. He warned voters not to be misled by the wording of the proposed amendment.

The referendum reads "for or against repeal of the prohibition against open saloons."

Christie said supporters of the amendment are not advocating open saloons, although "We have open saloons in Texas" already.

"We had to accept that wording to pick up one vote from a senator who habitually voted dry to get legislative approval," Christie said Thursday. "We're trying to explain to the people that what they're really voting on is simply the authorization to the legislature to pass a local option mixed drink bill."

Christie also said Baptist officials in Dallas who formed an organization to defeat the proposal were lying to the public. He said pamphlets passed out by another organization contained information that was false and misleading.

Christie also said "hypocritical liquor laws" in Texas contributed to the widening of the generation gap.

"I see a great deal of correlation between the hypocrisy of our liquor laws and the disenchantment of our youth," Christie said. "Our present liquor laws do more to engineer disrespect for all our laws than any other single source.

"We have open saloons in Texas" despite the present prohibition outlined in the state constitution, Christie said. He said state liquor law enforcement officials have not been able to do anything about "so-called private clubs" that serve all customers as "guests."

"Twenty-six per cent of the so-called private clubs are operating in dry areas contrary to the wishes of the people in those areas," the senator said.

Christie said, "paid prohibitionists" are trying to mislead voters on the meaning of the proposed amendment and the possible effects of permitting the sale of mixed drinks.

Christie said an organization called "Texans Who Care" mailed out literature in which it said the FBI connected drinking liquor to crime.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Water District Manager

In just 12 short years, the states of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana have added a new financial plum to the enonomy of the area. Raising catfish for the food market has grown rapidly, with the three states. Currently producing 80 percent of the entire commercial catfish supply in the entire United States.

The High Plains of West Texas has been so absorbed with the growth of the fed cattle and fed pork industry that we have hardly noticed the work by Texas A&M University and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to bring commercial fish production to Texas.

Marvin Webster of Pampa who farms in both Gray and Carson counties was by the District office of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District. He informed me that he had crossed the the catfish raising area of both Arkansas and Mississippi, while on vacation last year. He was amazed at the extent of the fish farming there. He and his wife are planning another trip to the area during the coming year.

In our column last week we carried a portion of the address by Ernest C. Bradshaw on "Bank Fishing In the 70's" at the 1969 Fish Farming Conference at Texas A&M University. Bradshaw is Vice-President of the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Dumas, Arkansas. His bank has backed the fish farming industry from the beginning. Bradshaw listed a number of ways to secure loans to get started in the catfish industry.

Bradshaw took note of a trend in national circles to push a type of farm-retirement program to solve the plight of our agricultural system. He stated that he was in favor of a system that would change the production habits of farmers. He believes that the catfish industry in Arkansas affords such an opportunity. Recognizing that the catfish industry has unsolved problems he feels that our federal government could spend more time, effort, and money in helping the new catfish industry. He is convinced that the industry could employ many thousands of people, and thereby, slow the exodus of farmers to the cities.

In a further portion of his address Bradshaw stated, "Insurance companies and our Federal Land Bank representatives are trying to convince their companies that the catfish industry is profitable and is here to stay. Another potential source of financing is from the Small Business Administration. I have discussed this matter with our state office in Little Rock, Arkansas and find that they can make loans to farmers for construction, production and for processing plants. It is my understanding that these loans are not available directly through the Small Business Administration but that they must go through commercial banks. The banks participate with a guarantee by the Small Business Administration.

Another source of financial assistance is through your local Farmers Home Administration. I refer to an operation loans pamphlet No. PA-182, distributed by the Farmers Home Administration. The Farmers Home Administration makes fish operating loans accompanied by technical assistance for operations of not larger than family-size farms. These loans are primarily to assist them in making adjustments and improvements in their farms and home operations necessary for successful farming. Operating loans are made only to farmers who are unable to obtain the credit they need from other sources with reasonable rates and terms. These funds may be used to buy fingerlings, equipment, and generally, to finance the production of catfish under controlled conditions in ponds.

In no case will a farmer be advanced more than $35,000, which is the limit for Farmers Home Administration operating loans. The present rate of interest through the Farmers Home Administration is 6 ⅝ percent. Information on this type of loan can be secured through your local Farmers Home Administration Office.

Rubella Can Shut Out The World

Medical authorities, citing the tragic effects of Rubella (German Measles), ventrue: "A stricken mother gets over Rebella in three days, but her unborn child .. not ever!"

This is why Gray County Medical Association and Auxiliary, the Pampa Independent School District, and the Gray County Chapter of the March of Dimes are making an all-out effort to immunize all children between the ages of one and 10.

The sponsoring organizations have set up a one-day clinic for Tuesday, Oct. 13 in the elementary schools and Carver Educational Services Center to administer free vaccine to children.

Permissions slips were sent home Tuesday and should be returned to school by Oct. 13 by school children. Permission slips for pre-school children was printed in the Wednesday edition of The Pampa Daily News. These should be filled out and taken to Carver Educational Services Center.

"I have found deafness to be a much greater handicap than blindness. Deafness, by fettering the powers of utterance, cheats many of their birthright to knowledge." These words by Helen Keller have a profound meaning for educators and parents who daily prove their deaf children are not "dumb."

Rubella has been one of the main causes of deafness.

Currently, three Pampa children are in regular attendance in deaf education classes at the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center of which Mrs. George Cree, Jr., is a member of the board of directors. Two childern are being sponsored by the Junior Service League who also makes possible the annual pre-school speech and hearing clinic.

Mrs. Jack Curtis, chairman of last year's clinic, estimated that some 30 children with speech disorders were served by the Amarillo Center.

Without the sense of hearing, the deaf baby is unable to imitate the speech that comes so naturally to most children. This staggering deprivation of communication and expression is one of the primary concerns of the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center. The foundation, whose director is S.S. Buddy Stephens, was organized in 1959 for the purpose of oral training for the deaf and for providing diagnostic and therapeutic services for language disorders.

The increasing importance of a child's first years is constantly being emphasized. The early training a deaf child receives is critical, states Mrs. Spencer Tracy, director of The John Tracy Clinic in Los Angeles. "Not only only does the teacher of the deaf encounter the problem of teaching the sounds of speech, but perhaps the greatest barrier to the deaf is that of language. With the help of skilled personnel, the deaf child learns that concrete objects have names and with much devoted training, he is able to understand abstract concepts such as emotions and other intangibles that the hearing world expresses and experiences everyday."

Patience is the essence of teaching a deaf baby to speak. Lipreading is achieved only after seeing a word spoken a thousand times or more. In addition, the child is taught tongue placement, the difference in breath and voice sounds, and learns to use the feeling of vibrations in his effort to reproduce a given sound.

Specialized training, such as that given to the deaf child, would lose much of its effectivness if it were not reinforced at home. The Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center believes the children whose parents were educated about deafness and who work diligently at home progress more rapidly. Weekly mothers' meetings are held, and parents must observe the nursery program which includes individual as well as group work.

Students in the school age program are placed according to age, degree of hearing loss, achievement level and previous training. Testing of all children and adults is done within the Center's audiological laboratory which serves a five state area.

An adult lipreading program is offered to persons who have acquired a hearing impairment after normal speech and language have been attained. The Center is also the home of the Cleft Palate Team and serves some thirty one hundred people a year with its varied services.

Partial support for the Center comes from the Amarillo Public Schools and The United Good Neighbors of Amarillo. However, to meet the need of the large area it serves, the Center seeks the support of individuals, corporations, and foundations through contributions, memorial gifts, and sponsored projects. The Center would appreciate any inquiries which may be addressed to the Executive Director, 3108 S. Fillmore, Amarillo.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) —Even with the substantial market recovery which the stock market has relized since last May, the Dow Jones industrials are still underpriced in relation to corporate equity, earnings and dividends, Wright Investor's Service believes. "Today's prices per dollar of equity capital are about 35 per cent below their highs of five years ago," the firm says.

"As the market goes, so goes the economy" would be an appropriate saying for today, the Neill Letter of Contrary Opinion observes. Because of the extreme collapses in numerous stocks and sharp losses of many traders, "a recovering stock market will do more for sentiment and buying-impulse than all the forecasts the Commerce Department can dream up," it adds.

As evidenced by its recent partial correction of the current advance, the market is displaying a good deal of resilience, E. F. Hutton & Co. says. The firm views it as "a market being propelled largely by its own internal forces that still has some unfinished business on the upside.

Cotton Crops Has Ups, Downs

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., issued a joint prediction Tuesday of 1,852,800 bales of cotton output for October.

The forecast calls for the largest cotton crop since 1965, which would pump $340 million into the agricultural economy of the 25-county Texas South Plains area around Lubbock.

The estimate was up 6,000 bales from a month ago and up almost 12,000 bales from the August.

A crop of that size would compare with ginnings of 1.4 million bales a year ago. It would be the largest since 1965 when 2.3 million bales were produced. The all-time record crop of 2,461,861 bales was ginned in 1961.

The size of the crop still depends, however, on when the first killing frost comes. Agricultural officials said such a freeze before Nov. 1 could damage both yield and quality.

"We think the new crop estimate is conservative," said Clyde Day, executive vice president of the exchange "That first freeze is going to be a key factor. Cotton has been popping like popcorn. What we really need is three to four weeks of warm, sunny weather."

"Although cool temperatures the last two weeks in September brought a marked slowdown in crop maturity, cotton has come along real well," said Dr. L. L. Ray, coordinator of cotton research at the Texas gricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock.

Sales on the Lubbock spot market, third largest in the nation, have been made during the past week to Sweden, Germany, Belgium and Italy for November and later delivery.

4-H Corner

County Agriculture Agent

The narcotics team panel will meet Tuesday, Oct. 13, for a training session. They will be honored to have assistant Police Chief George Wallace from Pampa to conduct the meeting. The group intends to update their presentation before starting programs this fall. If anyone desires a drug program, please contact our office.

The Gray County 4-H Council had a bake sale Saturday at Gibson's. We wish to thank everyone who supported this function.

The Teen Leader's Meeting has been changed from Oct. 12, to Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Bowling Alley. We urge all teens in 4-H, 14 and over, to be there for a good time.

National 4-H Week came to a close this week with its motto "WE CARE". We hope all of you saw the posters placed in various locations around the town. Those were done by the 4-Hers themselves, and I think they did a fine job on them.

The Horse Club met last Friday. Officers that were elected were as follows: Joe Richardson president; Jody Freeman vice president; Cindy Horton secretary-treasurer; Punkin Kelly, council delegate; Janet Smith, reporter. The club has set its horse show for Oct. 17, open to everyone 9 to 19 years of age. 4-H rules will be used. Trophies will be awarded to first place in each event plus a trophy to the high point boy and girl.

It is really going to be a good show, so don't miss it. It will start at 1:30 p.m. at the Rodeo Grounds. Oran Barnes will be the judge.

BREWOOD, England (UPI) —Vicar Rolf Schottelvig of Brewood has challenged his parishioners to write a better Sunday sermon than he can. The winner will get a prize: The chance to become vicar for a day. "I want to see how people would express what the church should be teaching," Schottelvig said.

Agriculturally Speaking

The average first killing frost is November 1st. With thirty degree temperatures on the night of October 7th this means we are twenty three days early. It is difficult to assess the damages from this early freeze. Much of the milo was not hurt but a pretty sizeable acreage needed the three more weeks. The last few days of September and the first few days of October were perfect on the milo.

We have heard of a few people in the Groom vicinity that were harvesting seven thousand pound milo crops. G.M. Walls has harvested some milo that exceeded 7000 lbs. in yeild. We can safely say this year's crop will out do last years by 1500 lbs. per acre or better. A lot of irrigated milo made less than 5000 lbs. last year. It looks like the price of milo will be pretty much the same as last year.

Sometime ago Bill Stockstill mentioned to me that we should encourage farmers to plant barley. There is an excellent demand for it by our feedlots. Much of it comes out of Oklahoma.

Recently I received a report of the yeild of irrigated barley from the Bushland Experiment Station. The yield report was most impressive. Zora barley made 95 bushels per acre; Rogers made 93 bushels per acre; Will — 90 bushels; Cordova — 82; Era — 76; and Harrison—74; Carstens (two-worowed) made 72. All varieties averaged 83 bushels per acre. There might be many that would have a place for barley in their program.

There are some new oat varieties that might also interest you since oats could be planted in many cases without affecting your Government Alloted Crops. Below is how the cat varieties yielded under irrigation at Bushland.

NORA — 159 bu.; NORWIN — 135; PENNLAN—133; Cinarron — 131; FRAZIER — 125; NEW NORTEX — 117 and BRONCO — 89 bushels. The average was 127 bushels per acre.

We have been asked to give the same program we presented at the Chamber of Commerce Membership Luncheon to a group of farmers and ranchers at McLean on the occassion of the annual election of a District Director for the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the McLean Cafe on Tuesday evening, October 13th.

Anyone that would like to attend is very welcome.

Your Horoscope

FOR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1970

Your birthday today: A year of diligent readjustments begins. You must add more activities and somehow fit them into an already full schedule. Much depends on the intensity of personal relationships, how you fill your obligations. Sentimental experience includes many memorable episodes. Today's natives generally show a very hospitable, friendly nature. Their friends and well-wishers are too numerous to count.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Consider what you can do for your world and promise to do whatever is possible. This is not primarily a matter of money, but of doing and being.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Put on your finest apparel, enjoy being alive and sociable today. Share in the week end customs of your community. The evening is for meeting new people.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Progress is so relatively easy today that you may neglect to make full use of it. Seek out and negotiate with important people. Pleasure is at hand, needing no special search.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Mentally relate to those near you. Look with deliberately naive eyes to see and accept reality. Doing business or trying for future advantage spoils matters.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Gather friends, find some common ground for improvement of your local situation. Although financial prospects are looking up, the main object is spiritual togetherness.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Spend most of the day in as much company as the situation reasonably affords. Trade opinions, get some activity started.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Social activities thirties around, but think about long-care of your health. Extra work and responsibility comes to you in the later hours today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Share in the customs of your community. Gather friends and young people for congenial pastimes. The evening winds up with something unplanned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This Sunday is a good opportunity for business entertaining, particularly if you are new in the neighborhood. Invite people from distant places for a fresh perspective.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be somewhat less serious, somewhat more sociable. Get out early, make the rounds, find out what is going on all about you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You can't avoid ideas today, even in solitude. Be alert and sociable, a visitor or two should be available for questions and answers.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A favor is coming your way, one you hadn't thought likely. Your finances are headed for more activity. Plan to set aside a little extra for your savings.

FOR MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1970

Your birthday Monday: Discovery, a socialite with this date in history, is the keyword for your coming year. Latent talents are disclosed by chance encounters, casual experiments. Psychic sensitivity manifests itself in subtle expressions in your chosen field. It is a year of reasonable prosperity, flawed only by possible unfair tactics by competitors. Emotional developments are quite happy. Monday's natives almost always seek some personal specialty, such as navigation; exert considerable energy.

ARIES (March 21-April 29): Discretion; keeping a straight face is essential. Annoyance expressed would upset your projects throughout the day, perhaps some future venture in preparation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Expect some people to exhibit tensions built up over the week-end, having nothing to do with you. Try to minimize the temporary moods and trends.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Settle home chores early, get everything squared away, then go resolutely into your appointed business efforts; use tradition and the resources of older people freely.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some matters go very well Monday, others go awry for no apparent reason. Just drift with the tide for the time being, but neglect no chore or duty.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Take a conservative approach, expect to be out-bid on some venture. Vigilance regarding your resources will pay off well. Do something nice for your loved ones in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Wait for changes to proceed a bit further before making monetary promises. Special caution around tools, machinery, vehicles is advised.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You encounter resistance. Be glad that it is visible so you can take it into account. Add something to your savings account. Revise your plans in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 12): Impersonal friendships are under pressure, easily estranged, deep emotional ties, however, thrive on the flow of nervous energy. Aside from this, your owrk produces good results.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Prepare for conflicting claims on your time. Work and social contacts are not compatible just now. Let people know where your allegiance lies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Expect interruptions and excitement. Deal with family tension as fully as you can; misunderstandings are not safely neglected.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't let a wave of optimism open the door for any speculative new program Monday. Stay busy and cheerful. Evening brings information, curiosity, challenge.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): It may seem that everybody gets his own way until it's your turn and then you don't. A deeper understanding of what is going on brings better results later. Wait it out.

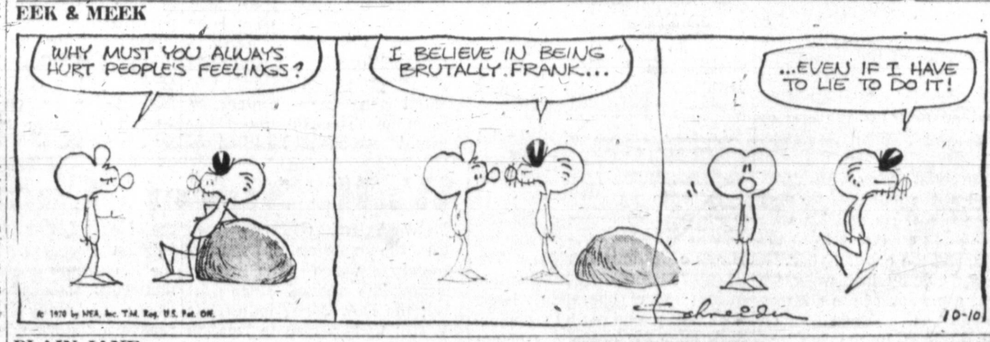

THOSE FRENCH have done it again. This is a two-piece do-it-yourself ensemble seen in Paris. It's made up of small plastic squares fastened together like a child's toy. A fashion-conscious woman with a creative mind and 100 squares can wear a different dress every day.

AMMONS RACKS UP 4 TOUCHDOWNS

Harvesters Jolt Canyon 26 To 3

DALE AMMONS (15) was thrown for a loss by Canyon Eagles James Boyce (61), Kelly Tinsley (75), John Lewis, (89), and Bob Gregg (50) as Harvesters Mike Brister (21) and Billy Watkins (37) block, Pampa went on to beat Canyon, 26-3.

By HARLAN HYSMITH
News Staff Writer

The Green and Gold victory bell rang for the fourth time in five games last Friday night as the Fighting Pampa Harvesters ran over the Canyon Eagles, 26-3 in Harvester Stadium.

The game was highlighted by the excellent all-around team effort that enabled junior quarterback Dale Ammons to score all four of Pampa's touchdowns.

Ammons scored from scrimmage on runs of one, two, and 12 yards. He brought the home town fans to their feet when he took a Canyon punt, got great blocking and ran 60 yards and the touchdown in the third quarter.

Head coach "Swede" Lee said, "Our offensive backs did a good job of blocking. They were able to make the option work. Defensively, everyone played real well. I wouldn't try to single anyone out for individual honors."'

Defensive back Frank Belcher, 155 pound senior, set up a score for Canyon with 8:14 left in the first quarter. Belcher picked off an Ammons pass and carried it back to the Pampa five. Junior Eagle quarterback Chuck Wright called on right halfback Cliff Prichard who hit the center of the Harvester defense three times for a total gain of two yards to the Pampa three.

Facing a fourth and goal, Canyon sent in their field goal specialist, junior Edwin McBride who booted Canyon into a 3-0 lead. It was the forty-sixth point scored against Pampa's Iron-Man defense in the past five games.

Pampa came alive offensively late in the first quarter. Quarterback Ammons hit split end Mike Reddell for 21 yards to the Canyon two yard line. Ammons ran the ball in on the next play off a quarterback option. David Cash kicked his ninth consecutive extra point to make the score 7-3, Pampa.

Canyon staged a drive in the second quarter but was stopped by a penalty. Pampa got the ball on downs when Eagle running back Rick Edmondson was unable to convert a fourth and one situation into a first down. Pampa took over on their own 24 with 49 seconds left in the first half. Monroe Woods gained six yards to the Pampa 32. Richard McCampbell, the Pampa B-Team Shocker's scoring sensation, made his first appearance in a varsity uniform. McCampbell ran the ball to the Pampa 21. Time ran out with Pampa leading 7-3 at the half. The Eagles made only one first down in the first half.

Canyon kicked off to start the second half. The kick was shrt and Dewayne Glover, defensive linebacker, took the ball and ran to the Pampa 43. Nine plays later, Pampa found themselves on the Canyon nine-yard line with a first and goal.

Ammons mixed his plays well and, behind the running of Billy Watkins and Monroe Woods, put the pigskin on Canyon's one-yard line with 6:21 left in the third quarter. On the next play, Ammons crossed the goal line. Cash's kick was wide but Pampa led 13-3.

With 5:31 left in the third stanza, Dan Hood intercepted a Canyon pass on the 50 and returned it to the Canyon 45. Eagle Jeff Gunter intercepted a Pampa pass on the next play, but Canyon was unable to move the ball. McBride kicked the ball for Canyon.

Ammons caught the ball on the Harvester 40, turned up field, and scored. Coach Lee tells it like this:

"Dan Hood gave a good block to give Ammons time to catch the ball. Tom Watson then blocked in close and Ammons cut outside behind the block. Mike Cummings, knocked another Eagle on the ground. Larry Knutson knocked a man to the outside and Ammons was off. Alvin Ferguson, Dewayne Glover, and Jim White levelled three men on the way to the goal line. Ammons crossed the goal line because he got good blocks and used them well."

A total of seven Canyon Eagles were knocked down on the 60-yard punt return. Cash kicked the extra point and Pampa led 20-3.

The third quarter ended with Pampa on the Harvester 42. Ammons kept the ball on the ground as he carried the ball himself and called on the broken-field talents of Johnny Roth, Watkins, and McCampbell.

Ammons broke two tackles to score from the 12 eight plays later with 9:18 left in the game. The kick was no good but Pampa led by the convincing score of 26-3.

Billy Lemmons, sophomore kickoff ace, got his foot into the ball and sent it one-yard deep into the end zone. Canyon bent Pampa's defense back to the Pampa 34 before the Harvesters held. There was 3:06 letf in the game. Pampa couldn't move the ball so Ammons kicked. Canyon took over on the Eagle 22 and staged a last minute attempt to score a touchdown. They were unsuccessful and the game ended with the Harvesters in possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line.

Baltimore Wins Opener

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles stung Gary Nolan for homers by Boog Powell, Ellie Hendricks and Brooks Robinson Saturday to overpower Cincinnati's heralded "Big Red Machine" 4-3 in the first game of the 1970 World Series.

But the Orioles needed the help of a controversial decision by National League Umpire Ken Burkhart, who called Bernie Carbo out at the plate in the sixth inning with the score tied to create a heated argument as the crowd of 51,531 booed.

The Orioles, outhomered 191 to 179 by the Reds this season, fell behind 3-0 at the end of three innings as the Reds' Lee May hit a two-run homer in the third inning.

But Powell's two-run homer in the fourth and Hendricks' solo shot in the fifth tied the game 3-3 before Brooks Robinson, who was 1-for-19 in last year's World Series, homered on an 0-1 pitch with one out in the seventh to win the game.

Jim Palmer, who allowed five hits in 8 2-3 innings, survived a rocky start and gained the second series victory of his career. He was lifted after walking Pete Rose on four pitches with two out in the ninth and Pete Richert came on to retire Bobby Tolan on a soft liner to shortstop Mark Belanger to end the game.

The Orioles won the first game of last year's series but then lost four straight to the New York Mets.

The Reds got only one hit over the final six innings but that one hit—Tommy Helms' hit-and-run single with one out in the sixth—put runners on first and third with one out and the score tied 3-3 and set up the most talked about play of the game.

Ty Cline, a hero of the Reds' three-game sweep over Pittsburgh in the playoffs, then was sent up by Manager Sparky Anderson to bat for shortstop Woddy Woodward.

Cline hit a chopper that bounced high in front of the plate on the spongy, wet astroturf (this was the first series game ever played on an artificial surface) and Carbo—who had walked with one out—streaked to the plate as catcher Hendricks waited for the ball to come down.

After he grabbed the ball, Hendricks spun and dived towards the plate in an attempt to tag Carbo, who was trying to slide around him. Burkhart, who was working behind the plate, stumbled as he fell back away from the plate and ruled that Hendricks had tagged Carbo out.

Carbo immediately jumped on and started screaming at Burkhar, with his arms waving up and down. Anderson dashed from the dugout, pushed Carbo away and then continued the argument. The Reds tossed towels from the dugout but Burkhart remained firm in his decision.

The major leagues umpires agreed to work the series this week when they signed a four-year contract that ended a long dispute.

Burkhart's decision left the score tied 2-2 with runners on first and second with two out and pitcher Nolan coming up.

Houston Behind Heiskell

STARKSVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Fullback Ted Heiskell scored three touchdowns Saturday to lead the Houston Cougars to a 31-14 victory over Mississippi State and spill the Bulldogs' hopes of avenging last year's embarrassing 74-0 loss to the Cougars.

Heiskell, a 222-pound senior, got two touchdowns in the second quarter on runs of five and two yards and picked up another in the third quarter on a two-yard effort.

Tailback Tommy Mosisek raced 39 yards in the explosive second period for another Cougar score and quarterback Gary Mullins passed four yards to end Riley Odoms in the final quarter to wrap it up.

Tailback Lewis Grubbs, a 173-pound sophomore, scored both touchdowns for the frustrated Bulldogs on three-yard runs in the first and third quarters. Quarterback Jeo Reed passed to fullback Dick McElroy for a two-pointer following State's second touchdown after the initial conversion attempt failed.

The win was the second of the year for the favored Cougars against one defeat. It was the second loss against three upset victorys for Coach Charley Shira's Bulldogs.

State, anxious to make amends for Houston's 1969 rout, marched 60 yards in nine plays for the first score of the game with Grubbs driving the final three yards for the touchdown. The try for the extra point failed vwhen the center was fumbled.

The Cougars, sparked by the running of Heiskell and Mosisek, came charging back in the second quarter and held an 18-6 edge at halftime.

Houston's first TD came on the first play of the second quarter with Heiskell running five yards to climax a 63-yard drive. A 26-yard sprint by Heiskell helped set up the score.

Mosisek raced 39 yards to climax a 63-yard drive a few minutes later for Houston's second touchdown. Heiskell then scored again on two-yard run after Mullins hit end Elmo Wright on a 45-yard pass.

Houston wetn 81 yards in eight plays for its fourth touchdown after getting a 27-yard assist on a pass interference call. Heiskell took it in.

Mullins hit on 11 of 16 passes for 173 yards and a touchdown while Heiskell carried 27 times for 89 yards and three touchdowns. Reed completed 21 of 44 passes for 208 yards for State.

Southern California's Trojans Finally Succumb To Stanford

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—The Stanford Indians, emotionally charged by their coaches and led by the daring running of Jackie Brown and the clutch passing of Jim Plunkett, ended 12 years of frustration Saturday with an upset 24-14 victory over fourth ranked Southern California.

"Our kids were really high for this game and they played that way," said head coach John Ralston minutes after his Indians had handed him what he called "his nicest victory."

Brown scored two touchdowns on fourth and one situations and Plunkett, a prime Heisman Trophy candidate, connected on 19 of 31 passes for 275 yards and a touchdown as the Indians scored their second Pacific-8 Conference victory and fourth of the year overall.

The loss was USC's first in Pac-8 play since a 3-0 setback to Oregon State in 1967 and the first defeat overall in 25 regular season games. To achieve it Stanford beat the Trojans, now 1-1 in conference play and 3-1-1 overall, every way possible in what Ralston called "a complete team victory."

"We made third down plays when we had to, Plunkett was outstanding in his passing to Randy Vataha, and our defense kept Southern California under pressure throughout the game," Ralston added.

Plunkett combined with tight end Bob Moore on a 50-yard scoring play the third time Stanford got the ball for a 7-0 lead and Brown added his two clutch TDs in the second and third quarters. Steve Horowitz closed things out with a 36-yard field goal with 1:36 left.

The Trojans, winners of the Pac-8 title the last four years, scored their points on a one-yard smash by third string running back Rod McNeill and a 17-yard pass from Jimmy Jones to Bob Chandler.

Clarence Davis, USC's fine running back who had piled up 403 yards rushing in four previous games, was held to only 30 by the fine Stanford defense, keyed by linebackers Jeff Simeon and Ron Kadziel and tackles Bill Alexander and Dave Tipton.

"I can't say enough about our defense," Ralston summed up. "They were simply superb against a team which still ranks among the top five in the country."

The victory snapped a USC 12-game winning streak over Stanford, which last beat the Trojans in 1957. While many among the 86,000 who saw the game, despite a bomb threat, viewed the victory as the clinching one for a Rose Bowl berth, Ralston said "no sir."

"Now the pressure really begins for us," he explained. "Everyone will be pointing for us and we have five conference games to go, starting with Washington State next Saturday. Sure, this was a big one but not necessarily the clincher."

Moore scored his touchdown at 10:24 of the first quarter after Eroi Cross set it up with a 10-yard return of a short punt. It became 14-0 5:54 into the second when Brown dived in from the one on fourth down. Cross set up that score as well by running back a punt 47 yards to put the Indians in business on the USC 19.

The Trojans finally scored 6:04 into the third quarter when McNeill, pressed into service because Davis, Sam Cunningham, Charlie Evans and Lou Harris couldn't do the job, smashed one yard.

Brown got that one back before the third quarter ended with his second clutch TD but the Trojans came right back, marching from their own 40 to the three. But on fourth and one Kadziel spilled Jones on a keeper play at the five.

Still, the Trojans were not finished. Bruce Dyer picked off a Plunkett pass at the USC 45 and five plays later Jones, who hit on 21 of 36 passes for 277 yards, threw 17 yards to Chancler to close the gap to 14-21.

The Indians took the following kickoff and went to the USC 19 before bogging down. Horowitz came on to boot his clinching field goal and the Indians and Ralston had their biggest victory in many years all sewed up.

Tech Raiders Dump Texas A&M 21-7

By DARRELL MACK
UPI Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Quarterback Charles Napper completed 12 of 14 passes, two for touchdowns to tight end Johnny Odom, to lead Texas Tech to a 21-7 victory over error-prone Texas A&M in a Southwest Conference game Saturday night.

Napper hit Odom with a 20-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter and a two-yard toss in the third quarter to give the Red Raiders a 21-0 lead. Halfback Miles Langehennig, a last minute starter, scored Tech's other touchdown on a two-yard run in the second period.

Halfback Steve Burks scored A&M's only touchdown on a six-yard run with 7:18 to go in the game. Pat McDermott converted.

Napper completed his first pass, missed his second, had his third intercepted and then hit 11 in a row from midway in the first period to the end of the game for 116 yards.

The 6-0, 180-pound signal caller from Dallas also did an outstanding job finding holes in the A&M line in sending a bevy of Tech backs through the porous Aggies.

Lagehennig led Tech with 88 yards in 21 carries, while Larry Hargrave made 83 in 19 tries and Doug McCutchen made 58 yards in 16 attempts.

The Aggies could never generate an offense, and did not make a first down until 4:53 was left in the first half. They made only 47 yards during the first 30 minutes.

Their first drive was stopped by a pass interception on the Tech 18, and their second drive was halted by an interception on the Tech 15.

The Tech touchdowns came after a fake A&M field goal went awry, a 20-yard punt and a pass interception.

The field goal attempt backfired for A&M on the Tech 38, and Napper marched the Raiders 62 yards for the first Tech touchdown.

The short punt gave Tech the ball at midfield, and it took Napper 10 plays before he sent Langehennig around left end for the score.

The final Raider touchdown came after linebacker Mike Watkins intercepted a Lex James pass on the Tech 15. Napper guided the Raiders 85 yards in 16 plays.

The win gave Tech a 4-1 record on the year and left the Raiders at 1-1 in league play. A&M is now 2-3 for the season and 0-1 in SWC action.

Sunday Voting By Players Will Decide WSU's Season

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Wichita State University footballers meet on campus Sunday night to vote on whether to continue their 1970 schedule after a plane crash which killed 30 persons, including 13 WSU starters.

A spokesman for the school's athletic department said the players would vote on the issue at 7 p.m. (CDT) "somewhere on campus."

J. Robert Seaman, 38, an assistant coach, was named Friday as head football coach at the university, succeeding the late Ben Wilson, who was among the 30 plane crash victims.

Seaman was picked to finish the 1970 season and to start a 3-year contract beginning the 1971 season.

Announcement of Seaman's selection was made by Dr. Robert Holmer, professor and chairman of the school's athletic department.

"We feel it is in the best interest of the university and the program to have selected someone who was already in the program and understood it," Holmer said at a news conference late Friday.

"It was a unanimous recommendation by the football staff and the corporation that Bob Seaman be appointed to finish the 1970 season and then be given a 3-year contract," he added.

Holmer concluded, "The hiring of Seaman as head football coach does not indicate as yet whether W.S.U. will continue."

Seaman said that if the players decide to complete the 1970 season, "we will attempt to reschedule the Cincinnati game for Oct. 31 in Wichita and reopen our season Oct. 24 in Little Rock against Arkansas University."

Wyoming Beats CSU

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI) —Sophomore quarterback Scott Freeman, starting his first game, threw for one touchdown and scampered four yards for another Saturday as the University of Wyoming stopped mistake-riddled Colorado State University 16-6.

Freeman hit split-end John Griffin with a 42-yard first period touchdown pass, and scored himself on a four-yard keeper in the final quarter as the Pokes took their first win in four games.

Falcons Whip Tulane

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) — Air Force quarterback Bob Parker, harassed by Tulane's tight secondary and icy temperatures, Saturday passed for 159 yards to carry the seventh-ranked Falcons over the Green Wave 24-3.

Parker intercepted only once this season prior to the Tulane game, had four passes picked off. But he passed once to Mike Bolen for a 23-yard touchdown and hit Bolen for 17 yards to set up another. The pass to Bolen was the first aerial touchdown that Tulane had allowed this season.

W. Texas Wins Squeaker, 24-22

DEKALB, ILL. (UPI) —Ralph Thompson scored two touchdowns and Stan Hansen ran a pass interception back for another as the West Texas State Buffaloes put together a ground attack that overpowered Northern Illinois 24-22 Saturday night.

Northern tried to catch up and scored two touchdowns within 43 seconds in the last quarter, but the Huskies could not get into field position for another score bfore time ran out.

Thompson, a senior halfback who went across from the two in the second period and again from the four in the third quarter, gained 84 yards in 17 carries for West Texas State.

Fullback Ramese Faleafine was the power behind the Buffalo attack, rushing for 161 of their 286 yards on the ground. Northern, by contrast, managed only 102 yards rushing.

Hansen intercepted a Northern pass in the third quarter and ran 21 yards to the end zone to push the West Texas State lead to 17-7. His scamper came after Matias Garza had booted a 53-yard field goal for a West Texas State school record and a field record here.

Thompson's second touchdown pushed the Buffalo margin to 24-7 in the final quarter. Then Norm Nuzback returned the kickoff 56 yards to set up a four-play scoring attack in which Northern sent Bob Rudecki over from the one for a touchdown. Terry Drugan caught a pass from Steve Goenl for a two point conversion.

Pitt Downs Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Senior Joe Spicko kicked his first field goal of the year, a 22-yarder, to give the University of Pittsburgh a 10-8 comeback victory over Navy Saturday.

Dallas Meets Atlanta Today

DALLAS — Coach Tom Landry hopes to make the odds makers look silly in their pick of Atlanta to defeat the Dallas Cowboys in their clash here this afternoon.

Landry said he expects his team to "come alive" today in their second home game of the young pro season.

"We have a better team than the record shows so far and today's game is pretty vital to us,' Landry said.

Texas Drubs Okla. In 41-9 Rout

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI)—An alert Texas defense set up four easy touchdowns with three fumble recoveries and an interception Saturday and Eddie Phillips guided the second-ranked Longhorns to a 41-9 victory over archrival Oklahoma.

It was Texas' 24th win in a row.

Phillips scored once with a 10-yard sprint, tossed seven yards to tight end Deryl Comer for another and fed the ball to Jim Bertelsen, Terry Collins and Steve Worster for touchdown runs of 9, 13 and 3 yards. Sub Steve Felming got the other on a two-yard lunge with 3i seconds left in the game.

The Sooners, losing for the 12th time in its last 13 meetings with Texas and for the 42nd time in the 71-year-old rivalry, jumped in front with a 51-yard Bruce Derr field goal, but couldn't get on the board again until reserve fullback Leon Crosswhite crashed through from the one against Texas subs with 3:39 left in the game.

The first half was close as fumbles and poor field position after booming Oklahoma punts kept Texas at bay for the first 25 minutes.

But the Longhorns started rolling and were out in front by 14-3 at halftime. They broke the game wide open in the third period.

They had to move only 25 yards for their first touchdown after a fumble recovery and Bertelsen made it in from the nine on the fifth play of the series.

A 28-yard punt return by tiny Dean Campbell set up Texas' second drive of 52 yards, which Phillips capped with his toss to Comer with just 19 seconds left in the half.

Texas had to move only 21 and 13 yards for its third period touchdowns after a fumble recovery on the first play after the kickoff and a Ray Dowdy interception. Phillips was untouched on his 10-yard run after the fumble recovery, while Collins burst up the middle for the entire 13 yards on the first play after the interception.

Worster got his touchdown on the second play of the final period and then reserves took over for the Longhorns.

Worster rumbled for 81 yards and Phillips fo 75 yards while completing three of his six passing attempts for 25 yards.

The Longhorns lost their top pass receiving threat in the third quarter when Cotton Speyrer suffered a broken left arm while trying to haul in a Phillips bomb.

OSU Cowboys Cage TCU Frogs

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — Oklahoma State's sophomore quarterback Tony Pounds passed for two touchdowns and ran one yard for a third Saturday as the Cowboys defeated Texas Christian 3-20 Saturday.

Fullback James Williams scampered 12 yards into the end zone for OSU's fourth touchdown and Uwe Pruss and Matt Clapp each added a field goal.

The Horned Frogs, held scoreless in the first half, came back for three touchdowns after the intermission, including an 89-yard punt return by defensive back Danny Colbert.

Runningbacks Larry Harris and Raymond Rhodes each drove across from the one yard line for the other TCU touchdowns.

Lee Stover intercepted a TCU aerial on the Oklahoma State 20 yard line and returned it to the 15 to spark the first Cowboy scoring drive.

Fullback Pat Brown drove through the line for three yards, then Williams scampered through the left-side line for 12 yards and the touchdown. The second Cowboy touchdown came with only eight seconds left in the half. Pounds went over from the one yard line to climax a 51-yard march in five plays.

A 31-yard pass to Hermann Eben set up the touchdown, and set a school record for pass reception yardage. Eben's mark of 1,498 yards broke the record set 24 years ago by Neil Armstrong.

The final two Cowboy touchdowns came on passes by Pounds, 30 yards to tailback Bobby Cole and eight yards to tight end Tom Dearinger.

Pruss booted a 41-yard field goal in the second period and was taken out of the game with an injured right ankle. Kickoff specialist Clapp hit a 49-yard three-pointer in the final period.

The first TCU touchdown was set up when right tackle Ken Steel blocked an OSU punt. The Horned Frogs took over on the six yard line and drove in to the end zone in three plays. Steel partially blocked another punt to set up final period scoring drive of 50 yards in five plays.

Cowboy fullback Pat Brown led the rushing attack by gaining 72 yards on nine carries. Wililams added 65 yards to the OSU round attack in 16 carries. Rhodes was the leading Horned Frog ground gainer with 61 yards in 15 carries.

Pounds picked up 199 yards on 16 passes while the Poke defense limited TCU quarterback Steve Judy to 71 yards on eight passes.

White Deer Batters Claude 26-0

WHITE DEER — The White Deer Bucks rolled out the victory banner for homecoming defeating the Claude Mustangs 26-0 Friday night.

White Deer's coach J. T. Hill is out of action for two weeks due to an ulcer operation and two weeks ago they lost their starting QB Rick Hoskins.

Phil Miller, starting for the Bucks as signal caller made a fine showing in his winning decisions. His passing arm is still a little stiff only hitting two for nine but both were point passes.

Danny Guinn, in the backfield, ran the hardest for the most touchdowns: He placed the Bucks first two TD'S on the scoreboard. Pat Hudgins completed a 13 yard Miller pass for a two point conversion making the halftime score 20-0. Jerry Urbanczyk came back in the second half to score the other Buck TD.

Ohio State Still No. 1

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Substitute quarterback Ron Maciejowski, good enough to be the starter for nearly any other team, greased up a squeaky Ohio State machine with two short touchdown runs Saturday as the top-ranked Buckeyes overpowered stubborn Michigan State 29-0.

Fullback John Brockington also scored twice as seemingly sluggish Ohio Staet, held to seven first downs and only a 9-0 lead in the first half, wore down Michigan State in the second half in the Big Ten opener.

Michigan Rips Purdue

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Eighth-ranked Michigan, held to a lone touchdown for three periods, exploded for three more and added a field goal in the final stanza Saturday to shellack Purdue, 29-0, in the Big Ten football opener.

The victory was the fourth for the unbeaten Wolverines this season while the loss snapped Purdue's record 13-game home winning streak. It also was the first time Purdue, upsetter of then fifth-rated Stanford just a week ago, was this year.

Penn State Wins

BOSTON (UPI) —Penn State used seven pass interceptions to throttle the Boston College attacka and converted one of them into a one-yard scoring plunge by Franco Harris for the winning touchdown Saturday in a 28-3 win over the Eagles.

Kansas In 21-15 Win

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Kansas turned a fumbled snap on a punt attempt by Kansas State into a 16-yard touchdown run by Steve Conley for a 21-15 upset Big Eight Conference victory Saturday.

Kansas State's John Duckers dropped the snap near the end of the third quarter, picked it up and futilely tried a pass that fell incomplete, giving Kansas the ball on the Wildcats' 16.

On the next play, Conley, a 205-pound junior from Arlington Heights, Ill., bolted over tackle and dashed into the end zone with seven seconds left in the third quarter.

Conley"s score marked the

Shamrock Racks Up Fifth Straight With 34 To 0 Victory Over Guymon

The Shamrock Fighting Irish came back from a scoreless first quarter to hand Guymon, Okla., a 34-0 defeat Friday night in Guymon.

Shamrock's offense piled up 459 total yards while the defense held Guymon to 213 yards. Shamrock is now 5-0 for the season.

At the end of the first quarter, wingback Donald Rhodes showed the Irish fans he could do something else besides run and catch passes. Rhodes took a lateral pass from quarterback Lynn Ramsey and then uncorked a 30-yard aerial bomb of his own to end Con Allison. Allison got to the Guymon one-yard line before he was stopped, Ricky Gragg plunged over from the one but the two-point run failed and that made the score 6-0, Shamrock.

Gragg ran 51 yards around left end to score the second Irish touchdown on the next series of Shamrock plays. Donald Rhodes ran the two-point conversion. Rhodes then scampered 34, 22, and 25 yards to set up the third Shamrock touchdown. Gragg ran around right end for the score. The two-point conversion was stopped. The Irish led at the half, 20-0.

Rhodes, who runs the 100 yard dash in 9.9 seconds, scored touchdowns of 55 and 78 yards in the second half. Gragg ran the two-point conversion and Shamrock won the game, 34-0.

Perryton In 20-13 Loss To Liberal

Coach Don Smith's Perryton Rangers lost, 20-13 to a tough eleven from Liberal, Kansas, last Friday night in a game played in Liberal.

Quarterback Danny McWhorter threw a 35 yard pass to Steve Gobin for the Rangers' first score. Jay Key kicked the extra point. David Flowers ran the other touchdown for Perryton from six yards out. The kick was no good.

Perryton plays next at 8:00 Friday night against Woodward, Oklahoma, in Woodward.

Canadian Willdcats Whip Wheeler, 14-0

By STEVE BOHLANDER
News Staff Writer

CANADIAN — The Canadian Wildcats increased their victory column to an impressive five wins and no losses. The Wildcats were led by quarterback Bill Lynch who scrambled for 74 yards rushing and 13 yards passing. Lynch was assisted in the Wildcat 14-0 victory over Wheeler by Jim Martin (149, back) who plowed through the Mustang defense for a total of 119 yards rushing.

The Mustangs couldn't seem to score after several drives deep into Canadian territory. Roy Don Chick, (165, HB), who usually runs up yardage was held to minimal gains in the Canadian stadium. His opposition came chiefly from Wildcat's Tom Hill and Randy Fiel.

The first quarter ended in a scoreless draw with a Wheeler drive to the Canadian eight at the whistle. The Mustangs drove into the tough Canadian defense but could manage only three more yards. Canadian took the helm at their five and came back out to the 33.

After almost 70 yards of steady drive the Wildcats scored on a five-yard dash by Lynch over the goal. Lynch carried for the two-point conversion.

In the second half Canadian lost the ball twice in the third quarter to Wheeler but the Mustangs weren't able to capitalize on the Wildcat mistakes.

The fourth quarter started with a touchdown by Canadian Center, Don Radar. Radar recovered a Wildcar fumble in the end zone giving Canadian a 14-0 lead. Wheeler could not keep control of the ball and the victory was given to the Wildcats.

Dunivan Passes Give McLean 31-13 Victory Over Groom

The McLean Tigers crushed Groom 31-13 Friday night to win their homecoming game. The Bengals were led by the sure handed Tommy Dunivan in the quarterback slot. Dunivan passed four touchdown lobes for a total of 202 yards passing and TD throws alone.

Groom scored their TD's in the first half with an 85-yard kickoff return by Larry Clark. Danny Britten's kick attempt was off target making the score 13-6.

Another Groom score was made by Clark in the second quarter on a 2 yard jump over McLean's right guard. Britten was on target with his extra point making the score 25-7 at halftime.

ALL LEAGUE POLL

Beach Receives 486 Votes

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For the second straight season, catcher Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds is the top vote-getter in the annual All-Major League team poll conducted by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

All players on the 24 big-league clubs participated in the voting.

The 23-year-old Bench, in only his third season in the major leagues, has already established himself as one of the finest catchers the game has known. A nail, it is said, has been hammered into the wall in Cooperstown and just waits to accommodate his Hall of Fame plaque.

But for today, Tom Seaver, New York Mets' star pitcher, said, "If you were to start a team from scratch, you'd have to take Johnny Bench first as the man to build it around."

Bench, outfielder Henry Aaron of Atlanta and relief pitcher Ron Perranoski of Minnesota were the lone repeaters from last year's team.

Following Bench in the voting for catcher are two other crack young catchers, Manny Sanguillen of Pittsburgh and Ray Fosse of Cleveland.

Bench's voting superiority was demonstrated by the total of 468 ballots for him. Sam Guillen was next with 130.

Bob Gibson of St. Louis was next best vote-getter with 446, for starting pitcher.

The All-Player All-Major League team includes Boog Powell of Baltimore, first base; Glenn Beckert of the Cubs, second base; Tony Perez of Cincinnati, third base; Luis Aparicio of the White Sox, shortstop; Billy Williams of the Cubs, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston and Aaron in the outfield; Bench, catcher; Gibson, starting pitcher, and Perranoski, reliever.

In voting for NEA and (Pampa Daily News), the men crossed league boundaries to select the 10 finest players in the game, and wound up picking four American Leaguers and six from the National League. Last year, it was just the reverse.

The Cubs and the Reds were the only teams to place two men on the team.

Interestingly, the Pirates, who won the Eastern Division title in the National League, failed to place a man on the team. Their catcher, Sanguillen, and their standout right fielder, Roberto Clemente, did make the second team, however.

The second best vote-getter was Bob Gibson, who finished the season with a 23-7 record. After a wide margin, Dave McNally of Baltimore, Seaver and Mike Cuellar, also of Baltimore, followed Gibson in the voting.

NEW SECURITY HEAD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank A. Tropey, a former FBI agent, Wednesday was named head of the National Hockey League's new security division.

According to NHL Commissioner Clarence Campbell, Tropey and his staff of representatives will guard against, "intrusions into the sport by any gambling or underworld elements."

The closest voting was for relief pitcher. Perranoski edged Wayne Granger of Cincinnati. Perranoski had 338 votes to Granger's 322.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —Controversial Richie Allen, dealt to the Los Angeles Dodgers this week, said Wednesday, "I couldn't have been traded to a better organization."

The Dodgers gave up second baseman Ted Sizemore, the 1969 National eague Rookie of the Year, and minor league catcher Bob Stinson for Allen Monday.

Allen, 28, said, "The fans in Los Angeles have always treated me great. I hope I can justify the confidence these people have shown in me."

He was hospitalized here with minor surgery.

Asher Is Replaced

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys activated wide receiver Magene Adkins fom the taxi squad Friday to take the place of rookie tackle Bob Asher on the roster. Coach Tom Landry indicated Adkins will be used against Atlana Sunday on kick-off returns. Asher was placed on the "move" list, which means he cannot be activated for at least two weeks.

Lefors In 20-16 Win

The Lefors Pirates overcame a 45 pound-per-man weight disadvantage to beat the Erick, Okla., Bearcats, 20-16, Friday night in Lefors.

Erick started the scoring in the first quarter when fullback Eddie Kirkpatrick (225) took the ball in from the two yard line. David Evans ran for two points.

Lefors was able to hold the Bearcats throughout the second and third quarters but not in the fourth.

Erick quarterback Norman Rushing, guiding a straight T formation, carried the ball for two yards on a quarterback sneak. Evans again ran the two point performance.

Lefors' in tial score also came in the first quarter. Richard Harkcom, halfback, ran for six from the three yard line. The kick was no good and the first quarter ended with Erick leading 8-6.

Lefors exploded for 14 points in the second quarter behind the passing of quarterback David White.

White hit right end Ronnie Sims twice on passes of 15 and 25 yards. Mike Robbins kicked the extra points. Lefors led 20-8 at the half.

Erick was forced to play catchup football but the stout Pirate defense limited the Bearcats to one score in the fourth quarter.

Lefors head coach Scott Dunnam said, "This is a real big victory for us. All of our kids played a real good game, both on offense and defense."

McLain Goes To Washington In Eight-Player Swa p By Short

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

CINCINNAT (UPI)—Bob Short, the Washington Senators' owner and Denny McLain's new boss, has a skeleton of his own in the closet.

He used to be an unregimented, wide-eyed hero-worshipper as a kid.

Get him off alone sometime and he'll tell you he still is.

"Big names," he says, his blue eyes lighting up like a kid with a stack of new baseball cards. "You've got to have a Williams, a Howard, a McLain, a face ballplayer or else forget it. You can't sell tickets with Joe Shmo pitching for you."

The Senators' owner says he learned this a long time ago, long before he ever got into baseball two years back, and if you check his background you discover he was merely following a pattern when he pulled his earthshaker by getting McLain from the Detroit Tigers in an eight-player swap.

Short always goes after the biggest name available and usually winds up getting him.

When he bought the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association in 1956, he looked for the biggest basketball name he could find and at that time they told him it was big George Mikan.

So Short named him coach of the Lakers.

One year later the biggest name in the game was Elgin Baylor of Seattle, Short caught a plane to Seattle. He had to stay up all night due to a bad plane connection, but he got what he came after —Elgin Baylor.

When Short bought the Senators for $9 million two years ago, he said he wanted one of two men as manager — Joe Dimaggio or Ted Williams. He got Williams where nobody else ever was able to before.

That was right after McLain had won 31 games and sure enough, Short set his sights on him, too.

Dubs McLain Best

That was two years ago. Things change. Bob Short doesn't. Suspensions and all, he wanted McLain more than ever now, because he's having financial problems in Washington and says he may be faced with bankrupcty if he doesn't get a better lease at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium.

Short knew he had to do something, and quickly. So he dd it. He went to the Detroit people again and asked them about McLain. Only this time he did it differently. H asked them what they'd take for their trouble-prone pitcher.

"How good a pitcher do you think McLain is now?", a newsman asked Short about the 26-year-old right-hander whose record was 3-5 this year and whose suspension had to be lifted by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn before the Tigers could trade him.

" think he is today the greatest pitcher in baseball," Short said.

Nicklaus Wins Piccadilly

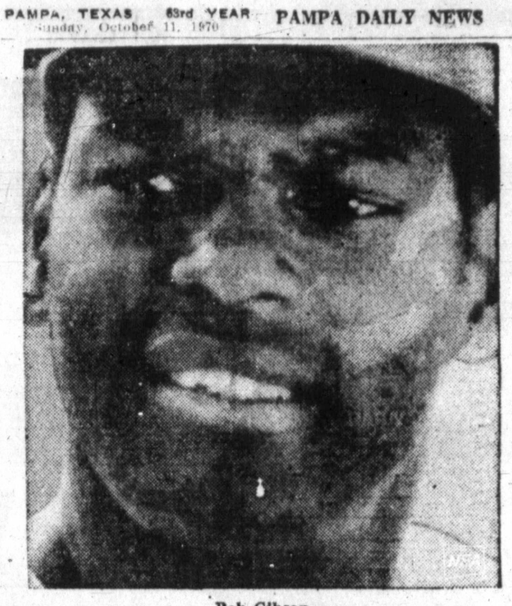

WTENWORTH, England (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus beat Lee Trevino 2 and 1 today in an epic birdie battle to win the 36-hole final of the Piccadilly World Match Play Golf Championship.

But despite the quality of play, the match ended in something of an anti-climax when Trevino, after fighting back magnificently from a seemingly impossible position, brought about his own defeat with one wild shot.

The 31-year-old Mexican from Dallas, Tex., fought back from five-down with nine to play to be only one hole in arrears as they came to the 17th tee, the 35th of the match.

Then, Trevino hit his tee shot out of bounds on the 555-yard, par-five hole—the ball trickling only some nine inches the wrong side of the boundary. His second tee shot finished in light rough and the best Trevino could do was play short and get on the green with his fifth, including two penalty shots.

Nicklaus had only to play safe to take the hole and the match. He played an iron off the tee and was on the green in three. Trevino conceded him the match after missing a 25-footer.

Janitor Seeks Block Against Michigan-Michigan State Football

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— A former University of Michigan Daily sports editor filed suit Thursday to stop the Oct. 17 Michigan-Michigan State football game because he said it would be just as much a public nuisance as a rock festival banned by court order last month.

Joel Block, 22, said the game would be a common nuisance because it permits illegal use of alcohol and drugs and disturbs neighboring residents.

"I am not against football but I am for equal law enforcement," Block, now a U-M janitor and shop steward, said. "If the law applies to rock festivals, then it should apply to football games."

Block's suit used language similar to that used by Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce Barton last month when he obtained an order prohibiting a rock festival scheduled for Sept. 6 at controversial Geose Lake Park. Thousands of young persons attended an earlier rock festival in August and drew widespread criticism because of drug abuse.

Nita Williams Exchanges Vows With James Silcott

MRS. JAMES A. SILCOTT
. . . nee Nita Kay Williams

Nita Kay Williams repeated marriage vows with James A. Silcott in an evening wedding ceremony Oct. 3 in Phillips United Methodist Church. The Rev. Jack Ellsey officiated as the couple exchanged vows and wedding rings.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K.C. Williams of Phillips. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Silcott of 1301 E. Francis.

For the candlelighted service, twin candelabras were accented with white satin bows. The bride was escorted to altar between family pews marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Grace Wendell, organist from Phillips, accompanied Mary Beth Sprow as she sang "More," "Twelfth of Never," and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in an Elizabethan style gown of candlelight white satin which was designed with three lace tiers on the sleeves. Her floor-length chapel train was accented with embossed roses.

She wore illusion veil attached to a candlelight white triple bow. She carried a wedding bouquet of feather mums with red roses designating "true love," and English ivy as symbols of "good luck."

Before the ceremony, red rose buds were presented to the mother of the bride, and after the ceremony were also presented to the bridegroom's mother.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Dan Hobbs of Borger, matron of honor, wore an Elizabethan style gown of floor-length aqua blue and carried a colonial type bouquet of orchid mums. Her headpiece was a triple bow veil of aqua blue.

Other bridal attendants, Mrs. Dick Weatherly of Amarillo and Miss Pat Silcott of Pampa, a sister of the bridegroom, were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Paula Williams of Phillips, sister of the bride and Bruce Silcott of Pampa, brother of the bridegroom, lighted candles.

Larry Taylor of Pampa, performed duties of the best man. Wedding attendants were Paul Wills, student at West Texas State University and Lucky Williams of Vici, Okla. ushers, and Dick Weatherly and Jim Williams both of Amarillo, groomsmen.

The bride's mother was dressed in a navy blue costume with long sleeves and wore white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rose buds. The bridegroom's mother wore a gold ensemble accented with silver and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

RECEPTION

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Phillips Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Dywane Yeager of Phillips served cake as Lizabeth Silcott of Wichita Falls assisted at the punch service. Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. R.G. Beinroth and Carol Sue Burba. Sonya Watson of Amarillo registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., the bride traveled in a pink shirtwaist dress with orchid corsage and white accessories.

The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue and white flowers and was placed on a tablecloth crocheted by the bridegroom's grandmother.

Out-of-town guests were Sonya Watson, Dr., and Mrs. Mitchell Jones, David Butler, Mrs. Doug Tominson, and Pam Wyrick, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Hank Williams, Miss Jackalyn Williams, of Vici, Okla., Mrs. Norma Wills and Kathy of Burkburnett; Mrs. Larry Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Weatherly, and Mr. and Mrs. John Killion, all of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Burba and family, and Mrs. hCarlie Noe, all of Wellington, and Miss Carol Sue Burba of Dallas.

REVIEWING INSTALLATION PROCEDURES are four new officers of Pampa Panhellenic, seated from left, Mrs. Fred Neslage, president; Mrs. Jack White, vice president; Mrs. James Cunningham, secretary, and Mrs. G. M. Martin, treasurer. Mrs. Wilmeth, standing center, was installing officer for the program held in the Crown and Shield Room of the Coronado Inn. Las Pampas DAR Has Flag Program

At a recent meeting of the Las Pampas Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution which was held in Furr's Cafeteria, Mrs. P.R. Britton chose for the topic of her talk, "Our Flag—A Symbol to Unite".

For thousands of years, she said, "Groups of people have had some sort of banners, standards, ensigns, colors or flags to show what group they belonged. This was the symbol around which they rallied, the symbol which served to unite them in times of need."

She mentioned that the first settlers brought with them the flags of the countries from which they came. They used these, altered, them or made new ones. As each new colony or district was formed they adopted a new flag of their own so that when the war of independence came there were 13 different flags. "The first flag which represented the rebelling colonies was the one which was raised on the mast of the ship Albert, by John Paul Jones, Dec. 3, 1775. This flag was also used over General George Washington's headquarters at Cambridge, Mass. This flag had 13 stripes, seven red and six blue stripes and the canton contained the Cross of St. Andrew and St. George which represented the union of Ireland and England.

When the rebelling colonies united in a common cause there was a need for a flag of their own. There were two contenders for the honor of having designed the first flag. Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and designer of the seals of the State Department, the Treasury Board and a naval flag laid claim to the honor. However the accepted legend has it that Betsy Ross, a seamstress, made the first flag in June 1776, at the request of a committee composed of George Washington, Robert Morris and George Ross, an uncle of Betsy. This flag had 13 red and white stripes with a field of blue with white stars. As each new state has been added a new star is placed in the blue field. In closing she said, "The flag has no life, no voice but it represents the Soul of America".

Mrs. Henry Merrick, regent, presided and Mrs. Katie Vincent, chaplain, gave the invocation. Mrs. John Skelly in her Defense Committee report expressed concern over the

Panhellenic Sponsors Officers Installation

Pampa City Panhellenic sponsored its annual banquet and installation of officers recently in the Crown and Sheild Room of the Corondo Inn with Mrs. Darrell Liston of Dallas as guest speaker.

New officers for 1970-71 are Mrs. Fred Neslage, president; Mrs. Jack White, vice president; Mrs. Jim Cunningham, secretary, and Mrs. G.M. Martin, treasurer.

Mrs. Liston is a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority and is serving as the National Panhellenic Area Collegiate Advisor. She serves the state of Texas and visits 19 schools.

In her program, she said "The test of the fraternity system is that sororities must be leaders in orderly and constructive change. They can provide student leadership and offer new opportunities of service. They convince school administrations of their worth when they provide guidelines for their members to learn differences between what is trivial and what has real worth, between simple pleasures and true happiness; between good grades and scholarship, between defeat and compromise and between a sheepskin and a real education."

"Panhellenic needs to be strong today," Mrs. Liston said "The number of sororities is increasing rather than decreasing, despite that on some large campuses, they are not active," Mrs. Liston said.

A Fall theme with artificial fruit and candles was placed on a gold cloth for the serving tables. About 40 members and guests attended.

Pampa girls who have pledged sororities this Fall are Jan Elder, Chi Omega, and Debbie Veale, Kappa Alpha Theta, at Texas Christian University; Linda Chase, Delta Delta, Delta, at Baker, and Debbie Juenger, Delta Gamma, Cindy Cambern, Kappa Alpha Theta, Pam Martin, Carolyn McKinley and Gail Wilson, all Pi Beta Phi at Texas Tech. All are freshmen except Miss McKinley, who is a sophomore.

Their parents are Dr. and Mrs. J. Foster Elder, Dr. and Mrs. James Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Juenger, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Veale, Mr. and Mrs. G.M. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Cambern.

Cotillion Members Review Mysticism

Twentieth Century Cotillion Club met in Mrs. Gene Hall's home, 2511 Mary Ellen, recently as Mrs. Ralph McKinney, president, presided for the program on "Christian Mysticism."

Mrs. Bill Fraser introduced The Rev. Sam Hulsey who spoke on the program topic, "Christian Mysticism". others participating in the program were Mrs. Charles Walsh, secretary, and Mrs. Jack White, treasurer.

"All of us are uncomfortable with things we do not understand. Someone else has said that 'anything worthwhile must be explained,' but in "Christian Mysticism" things coannot be thus explained," Rev. Hulsey said.

"The 13th and 14th Centuries contained many great mystics. A mystic is a person who has some desire to unite himself with whatever is greater than Himself. He has concern for and puts emphasis on God and His actions. A mystic experiences five steps at one time or another. These are awakening of one's self—a concern of who he is; being cleansed or purified; a withdrawal from negative influences; illumination, a feeling of getting somewhere with God; is a learning experience; dark night of the soul, a time of depression, varying in time from days to years, and finally, union with God, a time of rejoicing at death. There is no perfect way to development in mysticism, but fellowship with like-minded people, prayer and periods of daily quiet," Rev. Hulsey said.

Mrs. Hall served refreshments to 10 regular members.

Mrs. Jim Hughes will be hostess for the next meeting at her home, 2373 Aspen, at 2 p.m. Oct. 20.

Calvary Baptist WMU Has Study

Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary Union met recently at the church as Mrs. Bert Mitchell began the program by reading the Prayer Calendar for Southern Baptist missionaries.

Those participating in the program were Mrs. L.A. Laverty, prayer; Mrs. Jack Roberton, WMU director, who presided, and Mrs. Viola Matthews, dismissal prayer.

Austin PTA Has Measles Program

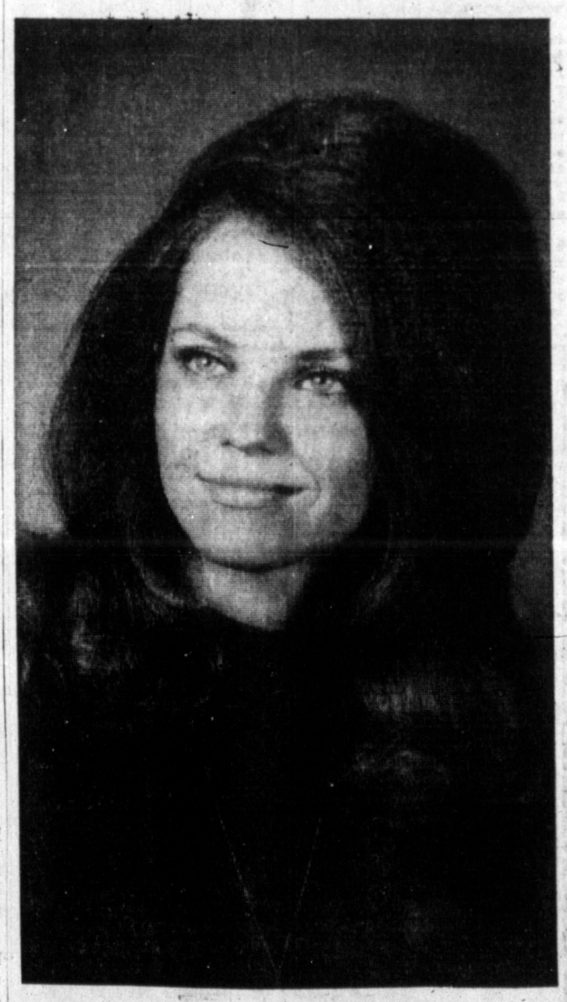

Stephen F. Afistin Elementary School Parent Teacher Association met recently at the auditorium for the begining of its 14th year of organization, the youth group of First Baptist Church presented the Spiritual Thought In Song.

Mrs. Carl Williams, president, presided for a business meeting, as Mrs. Jim Stallings, secretary, drew names for the prize, a cake baked by Mrs. Alvin Agan. Mrs. Sharon Rose won the cake. Mrs. Bruce Riehart presented the amended budget. Members and John Warner of the Jaycees discussed the Blue Star Homes project.

Mrs. Robert Steger, school nurse, announced the Rubella measles vaccine will be administered to children ages one through 10 free of charge Oct. 13.

"This type of measles causes numerous birth defects to unborn children contracted by a pregnant woman," she said.

D.V. Biggers, principal, introduced teachers and all parents attendign. More than 300 persons attended.

Teresa Kathleen Mertel

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie F. Mertel of McLean announce the engagement of their daughter, Teresa Kathleen Mertel, to Gary Warner Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Phillips of Lake McClellan. They plan a Dec. 19th wedding in the United Methodist Church of McLean. Miss Mertel and her fiance are attending West Texas State University where she is a student of elementary education and he is a student of business administration. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Phillips of Pampa.

TEEN WINNER—Excellent workmanship and coordination of fabric and pattern brought top honors to 17-year old Phylis Holthaus, Littleton, Colo., in the teen division of the National Grange Cotton Sewing Contest. Her entry was an easy-fitting dress and coat ensemble with curved seaming in coordinated cottons.

PARTY IDEAS by Elaine Abbott

Consumer Information Director

Family Fun At Halloween Time

HALLOWEEN is the most auspicious occasion for a true family party—one where several families can enjoy themselves and each other. Invite over several of your closest friends, plus offspring, immediately after the youngsters have completed their trick-or-treat circuit.

To begin with, sheetclad adults can read to wide-eyed young ones from the spook literature of Edgar Allen Poe and Mark Twain . . . by lantern light. The surprise appearance of an adult-size ghoul or vampire will delight youngsters.

For the children, who will already have eaten an overdose of confection, serve a stomach-settling carbonated soft drink or ginger ale punch. Each glass can be brimming with assorted rubber "things," such as spiders, worms, and other insects.

Rubber insects are just fetching when hung from tree limbs by black thread. Additionally, you can assemble a 3-minute ghost — and without sacrificing a good sheet. Round out a plastic bag by stuffing it with newspapers and tying the top; fold a sheet diagonally, off-center so that corners do not meet; drape bias fold around the bag and secure with large pins or masking tape.

For hollow eyes, tape on black ovals of cloth or construction paper. Hang the ghost by the plastic bag stem and black string from a high limb or the eaves of your house.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have a sister who is 62, attractive and still working. She owns her own home and a nice car. She has been widowed for a number of years and has always said she didn't care to marry again.

She recently met a man whom she recognized as someone she had known in her girlhood. He is 75, but looks and acts much younger. He doesn't drive, so sister gives him chauffeur service. We don't know if he is poor or just stingy as he has never given sister any kind of gift, and when he takes her out to "dine" it is always to a cafeteria. He is of another faith and is not in good standing with his church.

It appears to us that he is looking for someone to take care of him in his old age. What can we do to keep sister from marrying him and making a mess of her well organized life?

ANXIOUS SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: There's just an outside chance that sister enjoys this gentleman's company, doesn't mind chauffeuring him around, and finds dining with him at the cafeteria a real treat. And she may even enjoy the prospects of "taking care of him" in his old age. A man who is 75 but "looks and acts much younger" sounds like pretty good company to me.

DEAR ABBY: My pet peeve is the boss in an office who calls his "girls" by their first name, but expects everyone to address him as "Mister."

I think it is simply a matter of mutual respect, and if he wants to be called "Mister," he should call the women "Miss" or "Mrs."

On the other hand, if he prefers a less formal atmosphere around the office, and calls the girls by their first names, he should also be called by his.

What do you think?

MRS. J

DEAR MRS. J.: If I worked in an office and called my boss "Mister" — which I surmise about 99 percent of the "girl's" do — I wouldn't object to my boss calling me "Abby." But if he did, I would solve my problem faster by telling him about it than writing to Dear Abby.

DEAR ABBY: The other day while visiting at a friend's home for the first time, I found it necessary to take my three-year-old daughter outside for some "correction." A few minutes later I had to discipline her again; using, as before, a thin paddle (it's actually a paint mixer) to spank her bottom.

My friend's husband, whom I had met only minutes before, came tearing after me, red in the face and trembling, demanding to know "what that baby did!" His tone was so loud and abusive that my child was frightened half to death, and I was dumbfounded.

I am not in the habit of explaining my actions to strangers, but I simply said she had disobeyed me, whereupon he accused me of "beating" her. I thought the poor man would expire on the spot he was so furious.

Naturally I didn't stay much longer after that. Abby, do you think he had a right to berate me before my own child and cause her to wonder if I had a right to discipline he in that manner? I was unaware of his attitude toward spanking a child. Should I have apologized to the man? I wasn't sorry I spanked my child as I try to be consistent in matters of discipline.

SHOOK

DEAR SHOOK: You owed this man no apologies. Perhaps he was "shook" that a child should be paddled with something other than a hand, but he was out of line for having made an unpleasant scene even more unpleasant.

Sewing Club Has Wheeler Meeting

WHEELER (SPL)—The Stitch and Chatter Club met in the home of Mrs. Fay Patterson for their regular monthly meeting.

During the business meeting it was decided to start working on a quilt top at the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to the following members. Ruby Ford, Gordie Reid, Agnes Trayler, Nola Wright, Clara Childress, Myrtle Lane, Ida Mae Anglin, Lucile Whitsley, Bessie McCartney, Sue Ivey, Grace Burks, Florence Wilson, and the hostesses, Mrs. Faye Patterson. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Gordie Reid.

SCHOOL LUNCH WEEK

Think of a lunch featuring chicken; a homemade biscuit and butter, green peas, crisp coleslaw, cranberry jelly, an oatmeal raisin cookie, and ice cold milk.

That's the nationwide menu that will be served in thousands of schools across the nation one day next week during National School Lunch Week (Oct. 11-17).

"Universal Menu"

The so-called "universal menu" was first tried last year during school lunch week observances and it proved to be an excellent way of drawing attention to the scope of the school lunch program. Too many people, I am told, still look upon the school lunch program as "a bowl of soup and a cup of milk." Actually, school lunch is both nourishing and an educational experience.

Children study in the classroom about nutrition and proper food choices. But what better way to supplement that learning than to serve children each school day an example of how they should eat. Merchandisers go to great lengths to get people to sample their wares. It works in education, too. Children eating good meals at school will as adults more likely practice sound eating habits.

And then there are children who may get poorly planned meals at home. School lunch could be the best meal they get all day. In poverty areas it may be the first meal of the day. That's why the Federal government is pushing, through the Child Nutrition Act, new breakfast programs as well.

But back to National School Lunch Week as it will be celebrated this year. The theme is "School Lunch Supports Effective Education." That summarizes the point I made earlier about school lunch being an educational experience

Posters, menu cards, bookmarkers, and lapel buttons featuring a photograph of three children being served a Type A school lunch, will be used in many schools and communities. In many areas, school lunch week will also feature special programs on TV, radio, and publicity in newspapers. It's a subject we all have a stake in.

Special Invitations

In many school districts special invitations to share the nationwide school lunch menu one day next week have been sent to Board of Education members, to newspaper, radio and TV reporters, state legislature representatives and other governmental dignitaries, as well as to physicians and other members of the health professions. If some such plans have not come to your attention in your community, perhaps it's not too late to suggest it to school authorities, or to your PTA leaders.

You couldn't help push a better cause.

Prevent Accidents With Golden Rule

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the home, on the highway, in the office, on the sidewalk, the magic formula for accident prevention combines courtesy and common sense.

Through 25 years of preaching accident prevention, that formula is the one that works best, according to Mrs. Marjorie May.

Mrs. May, who this year marks a quarter of a century as head of the Greater New York Safety Council's Education and Home Division, made that point in an interview.

"Courtesy is the safety guard," she said. "The old Golden Rule, if you will. If you stop to consider the other person, for example, you won't shove and elbow your way in a crowd, you won't follow the I'm first' way of driving—an approach frequently implicated in auto accidents."

Mrs. May was a health educator with the New York City Health Department before joining the safety council. Her master's degree is in safety, earned at the New York University Center for Safety.

She is somewhat dismayed to note that regard for the Golden Rule seems much less in contemporary times than it was 25 years ago.

'Nobody seems to give a darn about anybody these days," she said. 'It's a case of rudeness begets rudeness."

Much of the preachment about home accident prevention has gotten through. If the level of safety awareness had remained at the 1928 rate, last year there would have been roughly twice as many fatal accidents in the home.

Mrs. May isn't satisfied, since most accidents are preventable. Reading directions on new products, using common sense and following the Golden Rule more could further reduce accidents on the homefront.

The number of public deaths, deaths outside the home from other than motor vehicles, incidentally, was exactly the same in 1969 as in 1928—21,000. But the rate, based on incidence per 100,000 population, was different. It was 17.4 in 1927 and 10.4 last year—so there was some improvement.

Vinegar will do a good job of removing objectionable cooking odors from pots and pans. Pour a cup of vinegar in the pan and simmer for a few minutes. Then wash in the usual way. The pan should be odorless and fresh again.

Service Guild Studies Mexico

Wesleyan Service Guild of First United Methodist Church, met at 2346 Aspen in Mrs. Vernon Langley's home, with Mrs. Sherman White as cohostess. Members were reminded to attend the Wesleyan Service Guild District meeting Oct. 25 in Perryton.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Dyeing Synthetic Wig Is Not Recommended

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Mrs. J.D.B, that no dye of any kind will lighten her synthetic wig. I am a professional beauty operator who had a synthetic wig and found that nothing would penetrate the shafts of thhe synthetic hairs. There is a product available to beauticians that will lighten or darken human hair wigs. I am sorry to discourage Mrs. J.D.B. but , personally, have tried for weeks to successfully change the color of a synthetic wig.

—MARGARET

DEAR POLLY And Mrs. J.D.B. — I darkened a synthetic hair piece to match my auburn hair by using a commercial dye, such as used on clothes. I did not even rinse but blotted the wig dry. It shines like before the dye job. I think one could lighten a wig the same way by using the product that removes color before dyeing and then dye again if need be.

—MRS. W.J.B.

DEAR GIRLS— The professionals I talked with say such dyeing cannot be done successfully. But Mrs. W.J. B's letter states that she did it.

One person I called said it could be tried by dyeing as one would a nylon garment but it is not recommended and should be done knowing it is a great risk and there is a chance of having a ruined wig. If one is of the venturesome type and has a wig that is of no use as it is, this could be tried, but remember it is a gamble.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY— The center of a two-piece angel food cake pan makes a good wig stand.

S.E.H.

DEAR POLLY — When the carpet was laid in a new church in our town, some of the men saved the leftover strips and glued them in the bottoms of the hymn book holders, thus preventing that ugly noise when the books are returned to these holders.

—MRS. C.P.

Miss Brenda Dyson Weds Mark Zybach

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Brenda Dyson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dyson of Sayre, Okla. became the bride of Mark Zybach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Zybach on October 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church near Sayre, Okla.

She was given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" vow. Matron of Honor was Jan Ramsey, sister of the bride. Best man was Erick Zybach, brother of the bridegroom. Flower girl was Sandy Sanders, cousin of the bride, Ring bearer was Kim Dyson, sister of the bride. Jan Ramsey, sister of the bride, sang two songs with Becky Sanders, cousin of the bride as piano accompaniest. She also played other traditional wedding music. Ushers were brothers of the bride, Russ and Rickey Dyson. Candle lighters were sisters of the bridegroom. Trudy and Stephene Zybach.

The bride wore a white street length dress with seed beads. The matron of honor and others in the party wore pink dresses. The couple had a double ring ceremony.

The couple will be at home in Sayre, Okla. where both are students of Sayre Junior College. A reception was held following the wedding.

Mattress Firmness Myth Challenged

CHICAGO (NFS)—"If it hurts, it must be good for you" seems to have become a common misconception among people buying mattresses. And it's no more true than the old notion that medicine has to taste bad to make you well.

So says sleep consultant Sally Ames, who suggests that people who insist on hard bedding are acting against their better nature.

"The problem is partly a lack of definition of what constitutes 'firmness' in a mattress," she said. "But it's also a matter of applying the Puritan ethic to sleeping comfort; that is, anything that feels comfortable must be sinful."

Ever since man came down out of the trees, he has been a comfort-loving creature, according to Miss Ames, who advises a mattress company in Chicago. Sleeping first on animal skins, later on bags filled with husks and shavings, then graduating to featherbeds and innerspring mattresses, man has always sought comfort.

"To demand firmness at the sacrifice of comfort can lead to trouble," she noted. 'A' mattress with an unyielding surface that pinches off the body's surface blood supply merely causes the sleeper to toss and turn more often to restore circulation. In addition, it's been found that a board-hard mattress can produce or add to back problems."

There's something amiss, in Miss Ames' opinion, when a person wakes up feeling full of aches and pains—and claims that it must be good for him because he slept on a hard mattress. The fact is that sleep is supposed to be a restorative, not a strain.

While there are valid arguments for the hard, orthopedic-type mattress when medically prescribed for a special back ailment, there's no reason for the normal person to subject himself to discomfort for the sake of health, according to the consultant.

Mobeetie TOPS Attends Program

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Mobeetie TOPS Square Shooters met at the Lions Hut with Mrs. Mickey Mixon, leader in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Murrel Trout led the collect and Mrs. Rayburn Corcoran led the pledge. They reported 13 attended the salad supper. Mrs. Rayburn Corcoran presented the program on a trip she and Margaret Trout took to the ARD meeting in Hereford.

Queen for the week was Mrs. Rayburn Corcoran with Angel of the Month being Mrs. Velma DeSpain. They have one new member Mrs. Dale Corcoran.

The group will hold a salad supper once a month on the last Monday of each month. The one for October will be the 26th at the home of Mrs. Rayburn Corcoran. Anyone interesting in the TOPS Club is invited to bring a salad and come.

Teenage Mothers Find School Aid

NEW YORK (UPI)—This year 200,000 junior and senior high school girls will become mothers.

Many will be told to leave school once the pregnancy becomes known. But the trend in one out of three school districts is to help mother, child and sometimes, the out-of-wedlock teen-age father-to-be.

In Azusa, Calif., the Citrus Laboratory and Continuation High School runs the most unusual program. It includes after-care for the baby.

Mothers may bring their infants to school. Fathers may come, too, regardless of the couple's marital status.

Each classroom has a living area with nursery furnished with bassinets, playpens, toys and diapers. During the school day, the young moms and dads put schoolwork aside to feed their babies, change diapers and play with them.

Other school systems, according to a report in "Today's Education," journal of the National Education Association (NEA) are involved in meeting educational, medical and social needs of students in a family way.

More than 100 such programs now exist, but they serve just about 30,000 of the pregnant teen-agers. One operates at Webster girls' junior-senior high in Washington, D.C. Girls admitted continue their education receive guidance about health needs and personal problems. If necessary, free medical care is provided.

The Webster program originally was a demonstration project set up with a grant from the children's bureau of the department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW)

Less forward-looking school districts offering help to the pregnant teen-agers simply provide homebound instruction.

The right of a pregnant girl to remain in school has been defended by the National Council of Illegitimacy, community action groups, and the American Civil Liberties Union. That is, the girl has the right, say these groups, unless her presence does, in fact, disrupt or impair the educational progress.

The reasons pregnant girls are urged to leave school are illogical, according to a report from the Atlanta adolescent pregnancy program, funded also by the children's bureau.

Experience with girls in the Atlanta program shows that many schoolmen are wrong in their view that pregnant girls ought to be kept out of school for their own protection since other students will be "cruel and unkind."

In Atlanta, it has been found that the peer group is supportive to the pregnant students and that the "cruel and unkind" thing to do to these girls is to expel them.

Cut calories with the right snacks. For after school, before dinner or nightcap snacks, keep handy a supply of carrot cuts, celery curls or fruit.

Ski in fashion and comfort in Spinnerin skiwear. This coordinated collection covers most of the ski necessities for both men and women. An exciting collection of sweaters in fine wool follow the trends of ready-to-wear with their close to the body fit and sportwear air. Warm-up pants, ski helmets and jumpsuits also are included

Veterans' Auxiliary Schedules Dinner, Buffet Luncheon

Women's Auxiliary to Pampa Post 1657 Veterans of Foreign Wars met recently in the V.F.W. Hall with Mrs. C.D. Malone, president, presiding.

During the business hour, plans were made for the dinner on Oct. 13, Tuesday, to be held with the Post, with the auxiliary furnishing the program. All members were asked to bring either a salad or dessert. Poppy sales in Pampa will be held Nov. 6-7.

Announcement was made on the District Nine convention to be held in Amarillo Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. Delegates elected to attend were Mmes. C.D. Malone, W.E. McWhirter, Georgia Mack, Tony Smith, Vernon Stuckey. Alternates were Mmes. Clyde Gray, Sam Steadman and Carl Wright. Members reported ill were: Mrs. Clarence Upton, Mrs. Leon Hinton and Mrs. Iva Lemmon.

Mrs. Jeannie Garrett, Canyon, District Nine president, spoke on "How to make a special effort to attend district and state meetings." Mrs. Diala Orles, senior vice president of District Nine, accompanied Mrs. Garrett to Pampa.

Loungewear featured in the first New York showing by the Korean Association of Fashion Design Artists included a multi-striped ensemble in satin. Its sleeveless top, showing bare midriff, was teamed with wide-legged pants.

Collegiates Invade Homes For Peace

NEW YORK (UPI)—Be you a dove, hawk or "mixed bird," it's a good bet you'll face a confrontation with college students out on the peace trail this fall — if you stay home evenings.

They will tap the front doors of single-family homes and apartments.

Thousands of them, campaigning for peace candidates or seeking signatures on peace petitions intend to invade the homefront in a systematic way.

Many expect to know something about the family inside before knocking. They expect to learn it either from neighbors or from a stroll through the area before calling on you. They will know from this intelligence work whether to talk to you plain or fancy.

The modus operandi designed to convince you to join the peace campaign is in a new manual, "Canvassing for Peace." It is meant to maximize the peace crusade.

Authors Robert F. Abelson and Philip G. Zimbardo are psychology professors at Yale and Stanford universities, respectively.

Published by the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues (Robert L. Kahn, University of Michigan, president), the booklet helps orient peace lobbyists to:

A Ben Kahn fur collection — with Valentino exclusives — featured the new longer length in a narrower fur silhouette with large collar and longer waistline. The collection included sporty Sherlock Holmes trench coats in black seal, ranch mink, hornback Swakara and puma.

—The psychological situations they will encounter while canvassing; specific peace issues and arguments; detailed alternative canvassing strategies which can be effective in vote getting.

The students are reminded to dress neatly and comfortably; that the best times to call are between 7 and 9 in the evening. The worst: after nine at night, during the dinner hour or Sunday morning. Saturday and Sunday afternoons are good, oo.

The students are urged to learn about the people and the neighborhood by talking to barbers, cleaners, cab drivers, grocery store employees, bartenders, and by reading letters to the newspaper. Also, they are supposed to look around.

"For example," the authors said. "consider what a block full of American flags may mean. It does not necessarily signify right-wing stands on every issue, but it obviously suggests that critical remarks about America will make a very bad impression."

In the face of hostility, the canvassers are advised to retreat in a polite manner.

Fresh Flower Tiaras Make Regal Brides

WASHINGTON (Spl) — There is a legendary splendor about weddings with brides luxuriantly crowned with real, fresh flowers. Every bride is a radiant queen — but all the more so with a headdress of real camelias and stephanotis blooms.

The great magic in the bridal crown, of course, is the flowers' freshness. And their fragrance. In ancient Greece and Rome, in the days of Camelot — in fact, in all of Europe throughout the Middle Ages, fresh flower crowns were common. Now, after a popularity lapse of several hundred years, they are an exquisite new dimension on the bridal scene.

The bride who loves traditional white can select from an impressive number of blooms that lend themselves gracefully and dramatically to her wedding crown. Asters, Camelias, carnations, chrysanthemums, cymbidium and phalaenopsis orchids, daisies, gardenias, lilies of the valley, narcissus, roses, stephanotis and stock are a few!

There is only one guideline to follow in selecting your own special flower or combination of flowers, and even this rule is not universally true: large flowers for the headdress worn by the tall bride, smaller blooms for the petite bride.

At a recent Washington, D.C., wedding the petite bride wore a crown of seven fresh camelias and 50 stephanotis blooms — a dazzlingly beautiful exception to the flower size rule.

The bride's veil and gown of silk organza were of simple victorian design. The simplicity of the gown and the beauty and originality of the headdress focused full attention upon the radiant face of the bride.

ENGAGED

Rita Green

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Green of Pampa announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Rita Colleen Green to Paul Aaron Christian, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Christian, of Canadian. The couple will exchange wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 5 in the United Pentecostal Church, 600 Naida. Miss Green will graduate in April through the American School. Her fiance graduated from a Canadian High School, attended Texas Bible College in Houston and is employed at Canadian Mill-work.

The Fall—Winter hostess uniform for one airlines includes a bell bottom pant suit topped by a gray tunic. Worn alone, the tunic becomes a stylish mini accented by knee-length vinyl boots. The airline says it is the first to adopt a pant suit ensemble as part of official in-flight fashion.

This season marked the arrival of an exciting afternoon and evening wear manufacturer. Don Luis de Espana's first collection for spring is manufactured in Spain and flown to the States for immediate delivery. The designs are by the talented Felix Arbeo. Gypsy patchwork look in rayon crepe de chine (left) is softly printed in shades of orange, tan, navy and white. Plum chiffon (right) is draped into pleats that form an asymmetric hemline. Tiny self-covered buttons close the front and full long sleeves have barrel cuffs.

Two Chins Are Signs Of Aging

MIAMI SPRINGS, FLA. (SPL)—Can there be anything more aging than a double chin? Even the suspicion of two chins adds years to a woman's age.

Drill your chin into shape, train it to keep its place, educate it into conforming to good habits...only then will you be able to ensure that you retin a smooth, youthful chin line.

Practice these two easy chin exercises whenever you think about them during the day:

Sit in a back-supporting chair and drop your head backwards as far as possible. Now place the palm of your right hand on your forehead, pushing down firmly at the same time as you endeavor to raise your head forward into upright position. Give your neck muscles enough resistance to get them working...and in so doing you strengthen the muscles beneath the chin as well. Repeat 10 times.

For the second exercise lie down on your bed and raise the upper part of your body by leaning the weight on your elbows. Allow your head to drop loosely backwards. Now try to raise the head slowly, but keep your chin pointed towards the ceiling all the time. Relax the head and repeat the exercise 10 times.

Sleep without pillows and if you find this impossible, try to make do with one small, very flat pillow instead.

Treat a sagging chin by massaging it every night with an isotonic vitalizing night cream. Slap the chin briskly with the backs of your hands all along the jawline as you use your night cream.

Apply blusher high on your cheeks and slightly in towards the nose if you want to effectively camouflage a double chin. Another trick for concealment is to place just a touch of blusher beneath the chin itself.

Keep shirt sleeves from tangling with other wash in your washer by buttoning them to buttons on front of shirt.

CASUAL—Vivid colors contrast and complement each other in this easy-going three-some of comfortable cotton knit. A figure-trimming tunic and long-sleeved body shirt top straight stem pants in a dot 'n dash jacquard pattern. By Koret of California.

Couple To Say November Vows

WHEELER (Spl)—Mr. and Mrs. A.O. Vanpool of South Alan Bean Blvd. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Becky, to Larry Garrett of Amarillo. The wedding is being planned for Nov. 29 at the First Baptist Church. Miss Vanpool is a graduate of Wheeler High School and has been employed in Amarillo.

After the party, get rid of cooking odors and cigarette smoke in minutes by burning a candle in each room.

Couple Announces Engagement Plas

WHEELER (SPL)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Sims of Canyon announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon LaRue, to Gilbert Mark Jolly, son of Mrs. Nadean Jolly of Canyon and M.A. Jolly of Panhandle. The couple is planning a Nov. 1 wedding in Faith Chapel of Canyon.

Graduates of Canyon High School, the prospective bridegroom and bride-elect attended West Texas State University. He was a member of the ROTC. Miss Sims is a niece of Clarence Robison and Mrs. Minnie Starkey.

Eastern Star Has Mobeetie Meeting

MOBEETIE (Spl) — The Mobeetie Order of Eastern Star No. 554 held its regular meeting at the Masonic Lodge building with Mrs. Jess Patterson, Worthy Matron, in charge. Regular business was conducted.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Galmor, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Caldwell, Mrs. Edith Flangan, Mrs. Laura Fern Selby, and Mrs. C.W. Burch. Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Jess Patterson. The next meeting will be held Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Physician Creates Loungewear Firm

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gerald Lundahl had four cute children, a wife who was a college beauty queen and brainy enough to start her own loungewear business and a brand new medical practice which was just beginning to thrive.

Then he contracted polio.

In the three months he spent in the hospital recuperating, his patients found new doctors, his children went to live with relatives in Utah because his wife couldn't afford to feed them and the lingerie business fell apart.

But part of Lundahl's therapy turned out to be taking over his wife's business and putting it back in the black.

That was nearly 10 years ago and now Jer Marai is a leading lounge and sleepwear firm, with sales reaching $9 million last year.

"That man was amazing," said his wife, Marlene, now vice president of the firm.

"He couldn't even stand up because he was so weak, and he'd sit and watch the girls sewing on lace and he'd say, 'I think you can do that faster.'"

Mrs. Lundahl said once out of the hospital her husband would go into the plant at night to figure out how to cut out steps in production and then he'd show the girls.

"We were $80,000 in the hole and he pulled us out in 18 months," she said.

The business has gone so well that Lundahl never has gotten back to practicing medicine, although he treats employes who may get hurt on the job.

"I stitch them up and send them back out to their sewing machine in half an hour," he said with a laugh. "If I sent them to the hospital they'd lose several hours from work."

Their gimmick is their sales method, reaching the consumer in at-home fashion shows in the same manner that many other firms sell directly through the home party method.

The Lundahls, now the parents of 10 children, hold two-week training programs for their distributors, teaching them how to run the at-home shows.

Six out of seven customers who come to the parties make a purchase, Mrs. Lundahl said, and many order later from catalogs they take home with them.

Currently, 65 to 70 per cent of Jer Marai's volume is in California. Distributorships also have been opened in Washington, D.C., Hartford, Conn., Cleveland, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Des Moines, Chicago, Detroit, Denver, Houston and Fort Worth.

increasing military power of Russia which has placed the United States in the deplorable position of second place. "This," she said "is cause for alarm."

Mrs. Twila Daugherty explained the use and meaning of the DAR insignia. She said that each active member is entitled to wear the recognition pin which is a gold spinning wheel set on a platinum distaff. There are 13 gold stars set in the blue enamel of the wheel. This insignia symbolizes the DAR motto, "Home and Country".

Miss Minnie McKnerney of Los Angeles was a guest. Members present, were Mmes. Henry Merrick, W.S. Dixon, Albert Walker, John Skelly, Twila Daugherty, V. L. Hobbs, W.A. Rankin, Katie Vincent, P.R. Britton, John McKnerney, H.T. Kirby, Doyle Osborne, A.D. Hills and the Misses Mellie Bird Richey and Ruth Huff.

If apple pie turns out too dry, cook up a simple syrup, add a dash of rum or cognac, and pour it through the slashes in the crust. This should make it juicy and tasty.

Enjoy this Guaranteed Dryness

—even if you perspire freely.
Why does Nina stress guaranteed dryness? Because millions of women have failed to find anything that keeps them really dry. Because they have found promises of "extra dryness" and such phrases to fall disappointingly short of real dryness.
Especially, women who perspire freely.
So Nina Anti-Perspirant is guaranteed. Because it really works. It contains far more anti-wetness agent than it is possible—chemically possible — to put in an aerosol spray can. Any aerosol can!
And for women who perspire moderately, Nina Anti-Perspirant is so effective, many find they need use it only every third or fourth day, regardless of bathing, and still enjoy luxurious, confident dryness.
With all this, Nina Anti-Perspirant is entirely safe for normal skin and clothing. It is certified safe for fabrics by The American Institute of Laundering. And fully effective as a deodorant, too.
And for good measure, Nina Anti-Perspirant—liquid or cream—is guaranteed. If you are not entirely satisfied, return the unused portion to your retailer. He is authorized to refund full cash price.

Touch-apply Liquid/Cream $2.50

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary ARC

The Red Cross Board will meet Oct. 13, in the Coronado Inn at 7 a.m. with all members urged to be present. Gilbert Gribble, water safety instructor-trainer on the National Staff, will give the program. Gribble will also be on Staff Breakfast at 9:30 a.m. telling about the work of the Red Cross with Safety Services work.

The Red Cross Youth will hold a breakfast meeting of the principals and teacher-sponsors Wednesday morning Oct. 14, at 7 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. Plans for the coming year will be mad e and all principals and their teacher-sponsors are urged to be present. Floyd Sackett, principal of Baker School, will be the newly-elected Red Cross Youth chairman and will on Tuesday and Thursday in the Red Cross Office with two other preside at the meeting.

The ditty bags for the servicemen in Vietnam from Donley and Gray Counties were mailed this past week via Parcel Post. Boys in the military with APO San Francisco 96349 will receive our bags this year. All Red Cross chapters are mailing bags to our servicemen in Vietnam for Christmas. We think that this is a fine way to show our appreciation to the boys who are doing so much for our country.

Mrs. Travis Winegeart will have held two classes of the Mother and Baby Care Classes classes to follow the coming week on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. There is no charge for this class.

Mrs. Donna Searl, LVN who is teaching the Mother's Aide Class in the Red Cross Office to Girl Scout Troop No. 41 will hold the second lesson Monday evening, Oct. 12. Eight girls were registered for the first lesson. The Red Cross has ordered booklets for this class which we believe will be a great help to the girls. Mrs. Echol Jackson is the leader of the girls and they seem real interested in this work.

We received a nice "thank you" letteer from the leader of Girlstown thanking us for the school supplies given to the girls. Several bars of soap were without wrappers but were new bars, also pencils were sharpened and these articles were in the office and could be used by the girls. We are glad to pass them on to these deserving girls.

That's why The Pampa Daily News is changing to ADVANCE COLLECTION!

WHAT WILL THIS MEAN . . .

To You, As A Subscriber?

It will mean that your Carrier will knock on your door only once a month and collect a steady $1.75 instead of a varying price of $1.60 to $2.00 depending on the number of weeks in the month. It will make every subscriber feel better knowing that he is helping his carrier realize the full profit from his route. For most boys, this is their first business venture.

To The NEWSPAPER BOY?

It will mean he will have time to do the things a boy is supposed to do. 52 weeks a year your newspaper carrier has to spend Thursday and Friday nights collecting and then Saturday he comes to the office to pay for the papers that he has received during he last week. He will now have 40 "free" Saturdays under the new system of collection.

THE CHANGE WILL BE EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 1, 1970.
WILL YOU HELP YOUR CARRIER BE A SUCCESS IN THIS?

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Only Two Alternatives

"Jack and Jill went up the hill to get a pail of water. Jack, stubbed his toe, fell down and Jill, forgetting that they, too, are human, went running to the government for succor."

The parody of the old nursery rhyme pretty well describes the reaction of too many people today who, trained to duck the consequences of their own actions, tend to look everywhere except to themselves for the solutions of their own problems. And, apparently, according to James Reston of the New York Times in his syndicated column, the conclave of lofty domes who met at Aspen, Colo., recently under the aegis of the "Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies" was no exception.

Reston, dredging up that old socialist mind befogger, "human rights versus property rights," in the best tradition of the southpaw Times, reported that some of the "widely held beliefs" examined by the assembly were:

—That air and water are free commodities.

—That most land and the resources in it and under it may be used in accordance with the unrestricted desires of its private owners.

—That economic development should proceed along lines largely determined by private initiative.

—That economic decisions in America should be left primarily to the interplay of market forces.

Considering the afct that what the personages gathered at Aspen were really considering was governmental slavery versus human freedom, a bit of comment is in order.

"Widely held beliefs" to the contrary notwithstanding, there is nothing free in the real world of Nature who is ruthless and uncaring in the prices she demands. Even the air we suck into our lungs in the assumption that it is "Free," must be bought and paid for in the coin of expended energy.

We know of no knowledgeable market advocate who would even suggest, much less argue, that privately owned land and other resources should be used in accordance with the "unrestricted" desires of its owners. The very hallmark of private property and the human right of its owners to make use of it as they desire exists in the recognition that such use must not violate the property boundaries of others.

And this is precisely the point at which the fallacy of "public ownership" stands stripped and exposed. The so-called share of the individual in "public property" cannot be bounded; therefore, wherever such a share in the "public domain" is imagined to exist, it is, by the very nature of collective "ownership," bound to be subjected to continuous trespass and violation.

As for the other points examined by the "humanistic" assembly, we suggest that they should have considered the only two alternatives possible:

1. Either property will be managed and economic decisions relating to that property will be made by the individuals who earned it and own it, subject to the discipline imposed by the much maligned "market forces"—which means the patronage given or withheld by individual consumners.

2. Or, else, property will be managed and economic decisions will be made on the basis of undisciplined whim by individuals in government who neither earned it nor own it.

Property rights ARE human rights. There are no others.

Brink Of Servitude

Saturday, May 9, 1970 was a most unusual day, although most people attached no particular significance to it at the time.

That was the day this year when the average American tax payer finally quit working for the government and began working for himself. Fron Jan. 1 until May 9—over four months—every dollar he earned was taken in taxes. Stated in another way, the average American tax payer will work two hours and 49 minutes out of every eight-hour working day of the entire year just to pay his taxes. (Note: Added to this is the further hidden tax of inflation whose total cost of the average tax payer defies accurate calculation.)

If this is not mind chilling enough, consider the following facts and figures:

Half of the federal individual income tax in the United States is paid by persons earning between $5,000 and $15,000 a year.

It took the U.S. government 186 years to reach its first $100 billion annual budget—and only nine years, from that point, to reach $200 billion.

The yearly interest on the national debt today is $20 billion—more than the entire operating cost of the federal government only 29 years ago in 1941.

State and local government tax exactions are going up at the rate of approximately 12 per cent a year, and at the present rate, will double in less than seven years.

The federal $201 billion budget for 1971 will cost every individual in the United States, from the newborn baby to the oldest centenarian, almost $1,000. Add to this figure the tax takes of state, county, and other local governments.

In spite of all this, the old fallacy still persists in the secret minds of most people that a handout from Uncle Sam or some other governmental entity is for free.

'Well! Turn It On!'

The Rearview Mirror

By TEX DeWEESE

THE PAMPA City Commission has authorized an $800,000 bond election for Saturday, Oct. 24.

As you know it's in connection with the proposed $1,200,000 civic auditorium to be built as a memorial to the late M.K. Brown, Pampa pioneer and philanthropist who died in 1966.

However, this bond election is different from any other in Pampa's history.

This one is for free. It will cost the taxpayers nothing. It is to be paid off by income from the Brown Estate.

Already on deposit from the M.K. Brown Foundation is a $400,000 contribution to the City as a starter on the auditorium.

The $400,000 gift, of course, would be returned to the Foundation and lost to the City if the bond issue is not approved at the polls on Oct. 24.

It often is the tendency of voters to stay away from the voting places when they feel certain the issue will carry and their "one vote won't make any difference."

★ ★ ★

IT WOULD be an appropriate tribute to Mr. Brown if — at this bond election on Oct. 24— there would be an unusually heavy turnout of voters.

Mr. Brown wanted Pampa to have a much-needed civic auditorium. He so stipulated in his will and the current funds and future income being made available from his estate for that purpose make it possible to carry out his desire in that respect.

The Brown Foundation is giving the auditorium to Pampa at no cost to taxpayers. The least Pampans can do is turn out on election day and pay tribute to the memory of the man who made it possible. Fill the ballot boxes!

The bond election is nothing more than a legal technicality necessary to make the auditorium a municipal project. But, it is necessary.

★ ★ ★

IT ISN'T often a member of the Pampa police department turns in a letter of resignation that contains kind words.

But, it has happened. Rookie patrolman Gary K. Hargrove, a member of the force for about three months, resigned several days ago to take a deputy's job with the Lubbock County sheriff's department:

Here's what he wrote to Chief Jim Conner:

"I would like to thank the City of Pampa for giving me the chance to serve with their fine police department and express my appreciation to Chief J.B. Conner and the department officers for their patience, guidance and instruction in the field of law enforcement.

"Pampans should take pride in their police department and the fine work it does in the community. A sense of duty and dedication exists among all members of the department. This is brought about by the great knowledge and capability of Chief Conner, and the leadership abilities of the lieutenants and sergeants."

Now, how's that for a letter of recommendation? You can't hardly get them kind of letters no more.

★ ★ ★

PAMPA DAILY News subscribers probably have heard already that beginning Nov. 1 The News is switching to a new system whereby its newspaper carriers will collect one month in advance for home delivery.

In other words, subscribers will pay their carrier before the month's newspapers are delivered rather than at the end of each week in which delivery is made.

There is just one simple reason for the change. Our circulation department has no other reason in mind than to protect the boy who delivers your newspapers.

Those young independent businessmen pay for the papers they throw. Some people have been taking the full month delivery service and then moving away without paying the carrier what they owe him.

When that happens the carriers lose both their investment and their earned profit. Here at The News we feel they deserve a better system.

Advance collection isn't anything new. For the same good reason many other Texas newspapers have gone to it. It doesn't cost the subscriber one penny more. But it does protect the newspaper carrier and it does keep him from coming out on the short end of the deal.

★ ★ ★

THERE WILL be a new stage image for Pampa concert-goers when they attend tomorrow night's first concert of the fall-winter season in Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

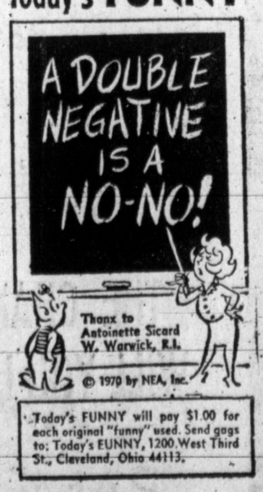

A new front curtain, drops and other accessories have been installed on the auditorium stage. The stage will no longer have that weather-beaten look. It's something long overdue.

Incidentally, that first performance of the Pampa Community Concert Association's new season will be the Bayanihan Philippine Dance Company, a youthful group of 27 dancers and 12 musicians.

ABOUT THIS time come October each year we are bombarded with questions about when in the heck do we turn the clock back so folks don't have to get up in the middle of the night. Well, it won't be long now. The clock can be turned back one hour at 2 a.m. (turn it back to 1 a.m.) on Sunday, Oct. 25 and you will be on Central Standard Time again. Thank goodness!

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

Avocados Sparingly

Q—As avocado growers, my husband and I object to an article listing foods recommended for heart care as written by a Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb, and under the foods to be "avoided or used sparingly" he placed the avocado. Dr. X has written an article recommending avocados for most everything as a low-calorie, high-protein, low-in-unsaturated-fats food. He recommends it definitely for heart patients, vascular diseases, and many others, just the opposite of Dr. Lamb's recommendations. We would appreciate very much if you would pass this information on to Dr. Lamb with a request that he review the nutritonal value of the avocado and possibly correct his "Fat Controlled Diet Suggestions."

A—The indignant avocado grower is going to have to convince a lot more people than just me. The recommendation to avoid avocados or use them sparingly is from the American Heart Association's "Fat-Controlled, Low-Cholesterol Meal Plan" and I can not claim any originality for the recommendation. Although I strongly endorse it for the reason given by the AHA: "Olives and avocados are very high in fat calories."

It would help if our unhappy avocado grower knew something factual about the food content of the avocado. According to the U.S. Agriculture Department they are not low in calories. A 3½-ounce serving contains 167 calories of which 150 calories are derived from the fat content. Far from being a high-protein food, they contain little or no protein. If you limit your fat intake and wish to get enough protein in your diet you cannot eat a lot of chiefly fat foods of any type. You will need your fat allowance from meat, fish, poultry and foods that provide the necessary protein for a healthy diet.

Regardless of what Dr. X says about the fat content of avocados, it is mostly of the unsaturated variety, not saturated. That is a point in favor of the avocado but does not avoid the problem of its high fat content.

I have received my share of letters from irate individuals in industry and I don't mind adding avocado growers to the list. Incidently, I haven't gotten any friendly letters from poultry raisers or people in the fish marketing industry, although I usually recommend these foods.

One wonders if these letters from individuals in the food marketing industry are stimulated by some personal interest in marketing their product. I don't mind ruffling the food industry's feathers if it results in better health for the public. The American Heart Association is not in the business of selling butter, pork, coconuts, avocados, whole milk or eggs. Their interest is strictly in promoting better health and preventing heart disease. Now I wonder if that has anything to do with the differences in point of view.

H. L. Hunt Writes

FREEDOMISTS IN THE MAJORITY

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Gus Hall, boss of the communist party in the United States, probably do not agree on many things. But they have in the past come up separately with the estimate here are about 12,000 hard-cor communiss in the U.S. So the communists are outnumbered by a ratio of 17,000 to one.

Tnis does not include an uncounted number of fellow-travelers, most of whom may be described as persons wanting to be "where the action is," even if on the wrong side. These fellow-travelers, being free from apathy, are uniquely susceptible to being converted to the right side by ingenious patriots. Once converted, they make good advocates of freedom and may be even more dedicated and may accomplish a great deal more than someone who has always been on the right side.

The patriot faces no more potent enemies than apathy, ignorance and blind refusal to think. In combatting these enemies, a spirit of crusade may be required, but panic is not called for. The turn to the right, which has been noted strongly in recent months, proves that we who are non-communists need only answer the knock at the door.

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

Well, another million dollars of you little fellers' taxes have gone up in smoke at a "Smoker's" clinic in San Diego.

This "Clinic" was set up four years ago with a Grunt of $250,000 annually for the stupid purpose of finding out ways to stop people from smoking. You'd think that anybody with an ounce of brains would be able to see before hand that it would be a flop — but not our esteemed bureaucrats.

What this high flying programme was supposed to do was get people to come in and talk about their smoking habits and by so doing they would amazingly be able to quit . . . .

But Dr. J.T. P. Cudmore, medical director in charge says, "We got too many odd-balls in here with other problems looking for help." What did they really expect? That clear-headed, self-thinking people are going to waste their time laying on a couch and bare all, relating their experiences with "shooting butts" and rolling cigs from leftover stubs?

At any rate, Cudmore has finally throwed in the towel. He should have done it after the first meeting, when 50 persons showed up, then less than half that, and finally none.

Of course, when it comes to government grunts, it don't matter whether there is a chance of success or failure — it's how you play the game and waste the money . . .

How Now, Mr. Nader?

Having killed the Corvair, Ralph Nader would like to bury the body, or bodies.

He wants the federal government to recall all 600,000 automobiles still on the road, which apparently constitute the greatest danger to Americans since the British began arming the redskins with muskets.

Unfortunately, the safety crusader didn't offer to help compensate Corvair owners with the $425,000 he won from General Motors in settlement of his invasion- of- privacy suit, which arose out of his celebrated attack on the Corvair.

How Bright?

"They are bright enough to know that serving in the army is a drag. But they are not bright enough to know that if their fathers had not been as bright as they are, they themselves would have baked in ovens." So says Al Capp, cartoonist of "Lil Abner," as he explained that he was sick of hearing that rampaging students are the brightest ones on the campus.
