Sims PTA Will Present Guest Speaker In Clarendon Schools

Mr. Charles Flurry will be presented by Sims P.T.A. as a guest speaker at an assemblage of Clarendon students, ranging from 6th grade through college on Friday morning, April 27, at 8:30. The meeting will be held in the college gymnasium, the theme of which will deal with Alcohol and Narcotic Education.

Mr. Flurry is a noted lecturer on this and other related subjects. A native of Mississippi, he was educated at Howard College, Alabama; Washburn University, Topeka, Kansas; and at the Institute of Scientific Study for the Prevention of Alcoholism, Loma Linda, California. He holds a B.D. degree, Elementary and High School Teaching Certificates, and 108 class room hours of post graduate work in Narcotics.

For two years, Mr. Flurry was Director of Alcohol Education in the State of Kansas. He has served as Director of Alcohol and Narcotics Education of the Louisiana Moral and Civic Foundation, Inc., since July, 1954, and currently makes his home in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. Flurry is a brilliant speaker, and has an excellent mastery of the scientific facts about alcohol, narcotics, and the problems they present to society. He gives these facts to youth with great clarity, cogent illustration, flashing humor, and high voltage inspirations conducive to youth's own voluntary choice of an alcohol-free way of life. His message is not one of negatives and denunciations; it is affirmative. He is a teacher; a character-builder. He respects youth's own powers of self-discipline.

Following his appearance before the student body, Mr. Flurry will conduct an informal question-and-answer period for all interested adults in the community. This meeting will be held in the school cafeteria at 10:00.

Our community is extremely fortunate in securing such an outstanding speaker. Everyone, students and adults alike, will want to take advantage of this opportunity and be present to hear these enlightening programs.

Majority Approves New July 4th Policy

Bill Porter, president of the Outdoor Entertainment Association, reported this week that he received a good response to the questionnaire printed in the Leader some three weeks ago in regard to the policy of charging for the barbecue July 4th and giving a rodeo ticket for good measure instead of making it free to everyone. Seventy-two of the slips were received with 69 in favor of the new policy and 3 against. Three hundred persons were contacted in a personal poll and only five out of the 300 were not in favor of the new policy, Porter stated.

Plans are progressing nicely at this time for the annual event and it will not be long before we will be calling on lots of folks to help with the various committees, he added.

Discussion On Brucellosis Program Is Slated For April 30

Flip Bredlove, County Agent, says that the Donley County animal health committee will meet in his office on the night of the 30th of April to start work and plans for the brucellosis program for Donley County. Spencer Sitter, rancher from McLean, will preside at the meeting. Mr. Sitter is chairman of the board and all members of the board are urged to attend. The meeting will be at seven thirty p.m.

Stockmen voted at the Agriculture Clinic held in Clarendon on the 2nd of April to go into this program. Most of the State of Texas is now in the program or in the process of organization. Bredlove, secretary of the association, says that seventy-five percent of the livestock owners in the county must sign the petitions, representing fifty-one percent of the cattle, before the program will go into effect. After the petitions are signed then we have a ninety day waiting period before the Animal Health Commission starts their work.

Ranchers expressed their opinions at the Agriculture Clinic after Dr. Upchurch, project leader for the brucellosis program in Texas, stated that breeding cattle must be tested for brucellosis before shipment into the brucellosis free counties. Members of the board will be advised of the meeting by letter from the office of the secretary of the association. Board members will also discuss the current screwworm control program now in progress in the State of Texas.

BOYNE CITY, MICH., CITIZEN: "Babies, once fondly prized as additions, are now prized — as deductions."

82nd Legislative District

When I became a candidate for Representative from the new 82nd District which now includes counties in the old 88th District it was my expectation that the campaign would be devoted to matters connected with the State Government. But since my opponent, Mr. Alex Ben Saied of Childress, has published unfounded charges that insinuate improper conduct on my part as a public official and as a citizen, it seems appropriate to call attention to certain facts in Mr. Saied's record.

1. Records in the District Court of Hood County for the April Term, 1951, show that judgment was rendered against Mr. Saied for personal injuries suffered by the plaintiff in an automobile accident, the amount of the judgment, including costs and interest, was $3,017.42.

2. The record further shows that on the 30th day of April, 1955, the holder of the judgment against Mr. Saied transferred to five doctors in Tarrant County a portion of the judgment. The amount of the transfer was $620.35 and was to be satisfied out of the first money obtained in execution of the judgment.

On May 10, 1956, Mr. Saied filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court in Amarillo. In the sworn statement accompanying the petition Mr. Saied stated he had sold during the month of December, 1955, to Morris Higley the following securities: 50 shares of National Founders Life Insurance Company stock for $100, eleven shares of American Trust stock for $7.50 per share, and ten shares of ICT stock for $5 per share.

4. In the above mentioned petition Mr. Saied listed his assets, which included a contract of purchase with the Veterans Land Board on which a down payment of $153.53 had been made, a $2,000 life insurance policy with a surrender value of $64, a 1955 model Cadillac automobile and unspecified personal effects. The Cadillac was valued at $3,500. (The referee in bankruptcy held that no equity existed in the land purchased from the Veterans Land Board and that the Cadillac and personal effects are exempt by law from execution for the payment of debts of a bankrupt).

5. Mr. Saied declared in his bankruptcy petition in 1956 that he had no money and no bank account and that his total income of the two years preceding filing of the petition was $42.50 per week as a clerk.

6. Claims against Mr. Saied listed $550.00 in fees owed to a Childress attorney, $300 to a resident of Childress for a loan obtained in 1955, $1,200 for indebtedness for losses sustained in a partnership business in Duncan, Okla., $3,000.07 judgment for injuries inflicted in the Hood County accident, and $275.00 for car damage in the same accident.

Voters of the 82nd Legislative District might be interested in knowing how Mr. Saied was able to own and operate a late model Cadillac automobile, meet payments on a land purchase and maintain the living standards of a successful business man and outstanding civic leader on a total income for the two years preceding his voluntary bankruptcy petition of only $42.50 per week.

Another matter which Mr. Saied might explain to the voters is why should a man of his reputation file a petition in bankruptcy when the major claim against him was in settlement of a judgment for injuries to a young girl and could have been settled for less than the sworn value of his Cadillac automobile.

FOR TOP SORGHUM YIELDS
APPLY LIQUID NITROGEN!

Sorghums have an appetite—just like corn. And, like corn, top yield response will be obtained only if the sorghum's appetite for plant nutrients is fulfilled.

A timely application of nitrogen frequently results in dramatic yield increases—and turns that sorghum field into a profit maker. We have seen check strips in sorghum fields that weren't even headed out in mid-August, when the rest of the field, fertilized with nitrogen solution, sported big heads and looked pretty as a picture.

Why not apply nitrogen to your sorghum land—and see the difference! We have the nitrogen—Spencer URA-GREEN liquid nitrogen—and we're anxious to show you what URA-GREEN can do for your sorghum crop. Call us today about a pre-plant application.

SURE GETTER-UPPER

Nothing is more exasperating than to oversleep and miss the early-morning golden hours of fishing.

If you're camping out — open the valve of your air mattress as soon as the alarm goes off. It won't take long for the air to leak out.

Have you ever tried sleeping on a deflated air mattress?

KNOW THE "TRUTH"

That moral integrity is needed most — things are more rotten in Austin than in Washington.

ALEX SAIED entered this race with a pledge to an OPEN and HONEST campaign BASED ONLY on the FACTS.

CHALLENGE: If my opponent, Bill Heatly, will submit to a polygraph (lie detector) test given by an officially approved operator on the following subjects and can pass the test in accord with his own campaign claims and propaganda, ALEX SAIED hereby offers to withdraw from the race.

1. You have used the name of Teacher's Associations and their officers to try to convince the public that you have been a friend of Public Education in Texas. — HAVE YOU BEEN HONEST?

2. You have used the name of the Farm Bureau and their officers to try to convince the public that you have been a friend of the farmers — HAVE YOU BEEN HONEST?

3. Have you been an honest foe of Pari-Mutual horse racing in Texas? Did you not on or about April 27, 1961, fly to El Paso to meet with horse race gambling representatives? And did you not go from there to Mexico City and appear at the race track on or about Saturday afternoon, April 29, 1961?

4. You claim to have been a friend of R.E.A. Will any authority support you on the claim?

5. While claiming to be opposed to liquor, is it not true that you serve intoxicating beverages to your wet friends in the penthouse atop the Commodore Perry Hotel in Austin — furnished you by one of the wealthiest financial special interests in Texas?

6. Do you have a record for drunkenness?

7. Are you on a retainer for a railroad?
Are you on a retainer for a Utility Company?
Are you on a retainer for an Oil Company?
Do you not have retainers from other large monopolies?

Can you or anyone else be free to represent their district and vote their convictions under such circumstances?

CHALLENGE: ALEX SAIED further challenges his opponent to a mutual showing of income tax statements and all sources of income.

The MOST dangerous man is he who tries to hide behind a false cloak of righteousness to fool the public.

ALEX SAIED is not conducting a campaign by whispers, unsigned and anonymous letters.

It is obvious to anyone who checks the record that Alex's opponent has not represented the people of this district (ask those who know) and his only hope of re-election is to try to discredit Alex Saied and keep the public's mind off the REAL DIFFERENCES between the 2 contestants.

ALEX SAYS: "What Is Morally Wrong Cannot Be Politically Right."

AUSTIN — Next week some 2,500,000 Texans will make up their minds whom to cast their ballots for among a huge list of candidates for local, district, state and federal offices.

Prime interest is in the governor's race, where five democrats and two republicans are hoping to replace Gov. Price Daniel. The governor is working hard to see that they don't.

Down the list, to the office of precinct chairman, there are more candidates than in many years. This is due primarily to the "open races" for the major state offices . . . namely those of attorney general and lieutenant governor. These openings have allowed those down the line to try to move up while at the same time leaving lesser offices open.

Also on May 5, the two parties will hold precinct conventions. They will name delegates to county conventions. County delegates, in turn, will name delegates to state conventions to be held in September. This is where party platforms will be written.

Big side-bar issues on May 5 will be the referendums on horse race betting and poll tax repeal. These will appear on both the republican and the democratic ballots. Also on the GOP ballot is the question whether Padre Island should be developed as a state park. Results of the balloting on these referendums are not binding. But they provide a public opinion poll and legislators are likely to follow the mandates set out by the voters.

DANIEL BACKS IMPORTS LIMIT — Governor Daniel sent telegrams to the governors of the other 31 oil-producing states, and asked them to join him in supporting an oil imports limitation amendment. U. S. Congressman Tom Steed of Oklahoma introduced the proposal. It would require oil imports to be cut to the 1956 ratio with U. S. production.

At the 1957 Governors' Conference, Daniel was successful in getting 32 gubernatorial signatures on a petition to Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower, urging mandatory import controls. But he feels that nothing has been done to prevent imports from supplanting domestic production.

Daniel said that the recent schedule of eight-day allowables in Texas has resulted in a loss of more than $100,000,000 in tax revenue for the State. May will be another eight-day producing month.

AGRICULTURAL WAR ON — About 40,000 bushels of sweet potatoes worth $100,000 are in danger of being ruined by the sweet potato weevil, according to State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. Some 1,200 growers in 10 counties plan to join the state in a two-month battle against the pest.

About $15,000 will be spent to dust sweet potato crops and some 100 storage houses in Anderson, Cherokee, Houston, Leon, Madison, Nacogdoches, Rusk, San Augustine, Shelby and Trinity counties.

White says the war against the Kaphra beetle, which devours grain, has been won at a cost of $100,000. But every precaution is being taken to prevent another invasion from out-of-state.

On the positive side of the planting problems, the agriculture commissioner said South Texas cotton farmers have been given a 10-day extension — to midnight April 30 — to plant, or replant where seeds failed to germinate because of unusually dry weather.

NO SECRETS ALLOWED IN SCHOOLS — A Texas law that says the public school authorities can suspend or expel a student who solicits members for a fraternity, or other secret society, also prohibits other organizations from doing so. Attorney General Will Wilson has so ruled.

The law allows the formation in schools of Boy Scouts, Hi-Y Girl Scouts, DeMolay, Rainbow Girls, Pan-American clubs, scholarship societies, and other "kindred education organizations sponsored by state or national education authorities."

But any "public welfare" group which isn't on the list of specifics is forbidden.

BOAT TRAFFIC BIG PROBLEM — As warm weather inspires the owners of 177,082 motor boats to launch their crafts on Texas' lakes and streams, the problem of boat safety comes to the fore. The boat safety committee of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas plans to study the matter with Rep. Ben Atwell on April 27.

Atwell has been directing questionnaires to all sportsmen's clubs to determine where and how boating accidents occur. Survey is to see if the Boat Safety Act passed by the 56th Legislature contains practical plans for accident prevention.

Henry J. LeBlanc, Sr., president of SCOT, called a meeting of the board for the same day in Fort Worth. There members will review the McGee Bend Dam project and other U. S. Corps of Engineers' plans which

LET'S RE-ELECT BILL HEATLY

DEMOCRAT FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE
82nd District

As a senior member of the Legislature Heatly has served as chairman of the State Affairs Committee and the Appropriations Committee, probably the two most important committees in the Legislature. He has also represented Texas many times at the meetings of the Southern Regional Education Board. Bill Heatly's experience and effective service will stand him in good stead in representing the people of the 82nd district.

Bill Heatly is the recognized ardent foe of Legalized Gambling. He succeeded in his fight to curb this unwholesome growth during the last Legislature.

Bill Heatly is the leader in the struggle to equalize the tax on beer with cigarettes and gasoline.

Cigarettes pay 27½% sales tax
Gasoline pays 18% sales tax
BEER PAYS ONLY 3% sales tax

Bill Heatly's untiring efforts in this matter is gaining the support and recognition of Texans from all walks of life.

Bill Heatly is one of the authors of the Farm to Market road bill that was passed during the last Special Session, and has maintained an outspoken record of voting for ALL constructive legislation affecting the farmer, cattleman and merchant.

Bill Heatly has at all times voted to maintain the operation of Rural Electrification.

because it would have been less expensive to administer, fewer loopholes and more convenient for the merchant to collect, Bill Heatly supported a 1% across-the-board sales tax.

Bill Heatly states that there are inequities in the insurance rating system and after a report from the study committee corrective legislation should be introduced.

Bill Heatly states that 85% of every tax dollar spent by the Legislature goes to EDUCATION (both public and higher levels), HIGHWAYS, MENTAL INSTITUTIONS, WELFARE, PENAL AND REFORM SCHOOLS. Bill Heatly has supported all constructive measures which have aided in elevating the standards of both the Public Schools and colleges and will continue to support such measures.

Bill Heatly points with pride to his work on our hospitals and special schools in elevating them, thereby helping many of our unfortunate citizens who have become afflicted. He is particularly proud of his support of the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston which is responsible for the care, treatment and research of cancer.

ings include evergreens and low shrubs, which more effectively hold wind.

Research has shown the value of windbreaks. The Lakes State Forest Experiment Station conducted experiments in Nebraska and Kansas. Exact fuel requirements were recorded in identical test houses. One house was protected from north winds only. The other was exposed to the full sweep of the wind. A constant house temperature of 70 degrees F. was maintained in both houses. The experiment showed that the amount of fuel used in the house protected from north winds was 20.2 percent less than that used in the unprotected house.

Research done in states adjoining the Texas Panhandle found that cattle wintered out doors during a mild winter in natural brush and tree shelters gained 34.9 pounds more per head than those kept in a shed lot. Both groups were fed identical rations. In Nebraska and South Dakota 86 cattle feeders figured that a windbreak saved each of them $800.00 annually.

A well located windbreak protects buildings and livestock from north and west winds. Such evergreens as Red Cedar, or Chinese Arborvitae and such shrubs as Tamarisk, Russianolive or Desert willow should be grown in the windbreaks with Chinese elms or other deciduous trees.

If you are thinking of putting in a windbreak of any kind contact your local Soil Conservation Service office, they can help you determine what species of trees to use, how to plant them and where.

CONSERVE SOIL & WATER

The following article appeared in the April 3rd issue of the Abilene Reporter News and we feel it of importance to us in that perhaps it might stimulate our land owners to do more to conserve our Soil & Water.

"Overgrazing, not eagles, is the range problem in West Texas," writes Ian McMillan, a California rancher and conservationist, in a recent issue of Audubon Magazine.

McMillan said he toured Texas and other Southwestern states last year to study land conditions. In the West Texas region where eagles are shot down by hired gunners from airplanes, the basic agricultural problem is not too many predators but overgrazing," he wrote.

He did not specify in which particular area of West Texas hired gunners from airplanes were shooting down eagles.

It has been 48 years since some native West Texans have seen eagles flying free over the prairies.

And 48 years ago the grass wasn't too bad in West Texas.

But, let the California rancher and conservationist have his say: "Throughout the West, the attempted extermination of predatory animals is an incriminating hallmark of range abuse.

"As overgrazed land deteriorates, perennial vegetation gives way to annual, seed-producing shrubs and weeds. Rodents multiply on the abundance of seeds, bringing an increase in the predators that feed on rodents.

"Ranchers then mistakenly blame the predators for their troubles, whereas the basic cause is their abuse of the land.

"What we saw in West Texas," McMillan wrote, "was a far cry from the fabled cattle country of our expectations. On the ranges where once fabulous herds of Texas Trail fattened in grass up to their bellies, we found an economy of goat and sheep-raising eking out a miserable existence on the remnants of a ruined grassland.

"Where Davy Crockett and his heroic band rode on to the Alamo through a 'sea of grass,' we found a thorn-scrub wasteland, the final outcome of continued overgrazing.

"It would only be in keeping with this welter of depletion and devastation that the native eagle, too, would be marked for extermination so a few more goats or sheep might complete the work of ecologic ruin."

Many regret the "extirpation" of the eagle. However, some of these "same ones" do not place all the blame for the eagle's destruction on over-grazing.

Fifty years ago, there were people living in the frontier areas of Texas who heard stories, and believed them, that eagles had been known to swoop down on small children, grasp them in their talons and soar off to a nest to feed their young on human prey.

Many eagles were destroyed because some people believed these tales of eagles preying on small children.

Then only a part of the blame for the extermination of the eagles can be placed on "the abuse of the land."

THE OTHER SIDE

Washington correspondents tell us that this Administration will use all of its formidable resources in attempting to persuade Congress to pass the bill which would provide medical services to everyone drawing social security benefits.

The Administration is entitled to this welfare state idea, but the arguments against it are many and compelling. For instance:

It is based on the principle of compulsion. All concerned would have to pay whether they wanted to or not — and the already high social security tax would rise sharply.

It pays small attention to the vital element of need. While people of wealth can, and do, draw social security payments it would leave out in the cold the millions of elderly people who are not within the social security system, and many of whom are genuinely needy.

Other, and more sound tools, have been provided to deal with the problem of medical aid to the elderly. The Kerr-Mills bill — which establishes a state-federal system of help for the needy, with strong emphasis on local administration where administration belongs — is one. And now, a jointly sponsored plan by the American Medical Association and the Blue Shield organization, soon to come into effect, will provide the low-income elderly with a wide range of medical services at extremely moderate cost.

Finally — and perhaps most important — if the government is to provide, on a compulsory tax basis, medical services for one age group, why shouldn't it do the same for other groups? The end of this road is clear as crystal — socialized medicine. This has cost Britain and other countries heavily, and has inevitably reduced standards of medical care.

- KNOW THE "TRUTH" -

Due to some of the untruths being used against ALEX SAIED, one being that his own pastor is not for him, here is a letter from his pastor, Rev. Graham, who desires that everyone sees the letter which appears below that was mailed by him to all ministers in this district last month. Rev. Graham further desires that it be known that he has voted absentee — FOR ALEX SAIED.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

317 N. COMMERCE
CHILDRESS, TEXAS

Rev. Edgar H. Graham, Minister

Dear Fellow Ministers,

On May 5th there is an election of State Officers. This letter is to introduce to you ALEX SAIED who is a candidate for STATE REPRESENTATIVE from the 82nd District of Texas. Childress is his home town.

Alex is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and the Church has made him a Deacon. Behind Alex is a family of wonderful people whom I have known in my Church for the past five years. I have been in their home under many circumstances and I know that the family sets a high standard of example — not only in the home but also in the community.

Alex has been an outstanding citizen in Childress. Just last year he was selected THE Outstanding Citizen of the year. I have seen him organize and develop the Elks Christmas Party for the under privileged Children of our town, both white and colored. I have seen him organize and develop the Green Belt Bowl activities and parade which were the best we have had. I have seen him work on projects of the Chamber of Commerce and in the Rotary Club. In these and other activities he has set the highest standards of morality and personal example and Childress has accepted him as the outstanding person that he is.

I do not ask you for your vote or for your influence in the coming election — because I do not believe that is what I am to do as a minister. All I want you to have by this letter is the kind and type of character that he is — and then for you to make up your mind and vote for the best man in the race.

Alex Saied is my friend and if you knew him as I do you would be proud to own him as your friend too.

Enclosed you will find a statement by Alex which I hope you will read.
With very best regards, I am

Sincerely,
(s) EDGAR H. GRAHAM

By JOHN PAYNE

The Little League is progressing very rapidly now as we have 7 teams for Clarendon holding workouts during the week.

The Cubs are to be the first team in a special series that we are to give to the readers in order that they may become better acquainted with these youngsters on the various teams.

The Cubs are coached by Dub Tyler and Bill Hicks. As of now, they have 15 boys in contention for berths in the starting lineup.

The tentative starting team is: David Taylor, catcher, 10 years old — David is a very diligent worker and is really coming along fine.

Mike Sloan, pitcher, 12 years old — Throws the ball hard and has fair control.

David Easterling, first base, 12 years old — Also pitches some. Good hitter and fielder.

Larry Kidd, second base, 11 years old — Good hitter, fair fielder.

Don Mooring, third base, 11 years old — Good arm, fair hitter. A good competitor.

Jim Moore, shortstop, 11 years old — Good speed, fine fielder, fair hitter. A good solid ball player.

Charlie Smith, right field, 12 years old — Charlie could develop into a good ball player before the season is over.

Screwworm Outbreaks Increase In Texas

County Agent Flip Breedlove says that over 200 new screwworm cases developed in southern Texas last week with outbreaks ranging from Brazoria County on the Gulf Coast to the Pecos River in Terrell County.

Although sterile flies are being released in all infested areas, the continued cooperation of local livestock producers is essential. Breedlove said. Animals should be checked often and specimens of larva found in wounds should be submitted to their county agent who will have them analyzed and identified.

In addition, Breedlove urged all livestock owners to spray animals with an approved insecticide to hold down the screwworm population and permit better use of the limited number of sterile flies available. Fly production at this time is approximately 15 million per week. Authorities say that by April 24 they will be producing 20 million per week.

A target date in early July has been set to have the 75 million per week capacity sterile fly plant open in Mission. One sample of worms was sent in from Donley County. It was not screwworms.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bain spent Easter Sunday with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bain, at Waco where Jim is a student at Baylor University.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

ACP PROGRAM

Any time during the year farmers and ranchers who have approvals for ACP practices and do not intend to complete the practices, should cancel the approvals as soon as possible. By cancelling an approval, the money will then become available to other producers who would like to carry out an ACP practice.

Funds are available for cost-share payments for performing approved conservation practices on your farm. The Summer Legume practice for which cost-sharing is offered on diverted acres and other land begins May 1st. Producers who wish to carry out this practice must file a request prior to the time work is begun. Let the ASCS office help improve the soil on your farm. Don't forget ACP cost-share assistance is available for seeding.

Guar, Chinese red peas, New Era peas and cowpeas (other than Chinese red and New Era.) Cost-share assistance is 50% of actual cost of seed, not to exceed $3.00 per acre to drill or broadcast and 50% of actual cost of seed, not to exceed $1.50 per acre for seeding in normal rows.

WOOL PROGRAM

April 30, 1962, is the final date for filing application for incentive payments for wool or unshorn lambs for the 1961 marketing year.

1962 COTTON PROGRAM

You have been notified of your revised cotton allotment. The County Committee wishes to thank you for 1419.9 acres of cotton released to them. This cotton was reapportioned to farmers who requested and who will plant the acreage. The cotton history for the county will be maintained. We also received 650.0 additional acres from the State office, which will be reapportioned along with the cotton released from Donley County farmers.

Remember — any cotton planted and destroyed before the reporter measures your farm is counted as cotton so be sure and show him the acreage planted and destroyed as that will help to preserve your cotton history. Be sure and plant the reapportioned acres given you by the County Committee, so that our county and State will be able to keep this cotton history acreage.

BEING A FARMER IS A DANGEROUS JOB

Farming is one occupation which is truly dangerous when one considers the many odd jobs the farmer performs, daily. He is constantly dealing with tractors, motors, hoists, shellers, pickers, threshing machines, and other types of machinery. He is likely to be injured also while handling animals or riding machinery. Fortunately, most injuries he receives are not fatal or entirely disabling.

It is no wonder that statistics show the farmer is not as healthy as his suburban neighbors even though he enjoys the most helpful environment.

SKIP-ROW PLANTING AND DIVERTED ACRES

If cotton is planted four normal rows cotton, and four normal rows idle, the fallowed rows may now be designated as diverted Feed Grain Acreage, provided the minimum acreage requirement is met. This is important to all cotton and feed grain producers. Under this new ruling, everyone should be able to comply with the Feed Grain Program, and maintain their Grain Sorghum history.

Uncle Zeb

To me nothing is more glorious than motherhood, and no earthly love greater than that felt as a mother prays for that baby to be. The following prayer seemed so beautiful to me. It was clipped from an old Kansas City Star.

A WOMAN'S PRAYER

God, I am going down to find a little soul, a thing to be mine as no other thing in the world has been mine. Keep me for my child's life. Bring me through my hour strong and well for the sake of my baby.

Prepare me for real motherhood. Preserve my mind from all doubts, and worries, and all fear—some misgivings, that I may not stain my thoughts with cowardice, for my child's sake. Drive all anger and impurities, all low and unworthy feelings from me, that the little mind that is forming may become a brave clean wrestler in this world of dangers.

And, God, when the child lies in my arms, and draws his life from me, and when his eyes look up to mine: to learn what this new world is like, I pledge Thee the child shall find reverence in me, and no fear; truth and no shame; love strong as life and death, and no hates and petulantcies.

God, make my baby love me. I ask no endowments for excellencies for my child, but only that the place of motherhood, once given me, may never be taken from me. As long as the soul lives that I shall bring forth let there be in it one secret shrine that shall always be mother's.

Give the child a right, a clean mind, and a warm free soul. And I promise Thee that I will study the child, and seek to find what gifts and graces Thou has implanted, and to develop them. I shall respect the child's personality.

I am but Thy little one, O Father. I fold my hands and put them between Thy hands, and say: "Give me a normal baby, and make me a normal mother."

... Amen ...

We want to say a most sincere Thank You to Mrs. Cliff Vincent, Chairman and all the other fine ladies who are members of the Fine Arts Club of Panhandle. We felt honored to be their guest and to have each one take home a copy of our book. Someone will surely say that there must be a deep mystery behind Uncle Zeb meeting with a club dedicated to Fine Arts. But, we have the record to prove it.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION
PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES

HERALD: "One of the problems with the income tax laws today is that no two experts can agree on how the various provisions and rulings and interpretations should be applied to a given set of facts. Even more dangerous is the fact that what was a legal deduction for the taxpayer when he filed his 1960 return a year ago may not be a legal deduction when he files for 1961, thanks to a new 'interpretation'. This amounts to 'ex post facto' legislation — laws passed that make an action illegal AFTER it has taken place. Such ex post facto laws are expressly prohibited by the Constitution."

Mrs. D. C. Peden of Goodnight ordered her second copy of Plowin' Out The Corners and also sent along the following little thought which we think well worth repeating.

"The baby helped snap beans today. She saved the waste, threw the good away. I thought how patient God must be. When I help Him as she helped me."

One lady complained that the price of these short skirts which women wear wasn't the worst part of the problem; it was the upreep.

The only trouble with doing your Christmas shopping early is knowing who will be our friends that far in advance. Our good friend, Tom Henry Miller, remarked that perhaps even fair weather friends should be treasured more dearly because after all the weather is good most of the time.

Not long ago we attended a very important meeting. There were two good rounds of applause. One on a report that the government had made a very substantial grant to a local project. The other cheer came in favor of a resolution against federal spending.

BILLIONS FOR DEFENSE—

—but not a cent for tribute. These immortal words originally read "millions for defense but not a cent for tribute." At the time they were originally uttered, reference to "millions was probably more expressive than the word "billions" today. Whether this is due to the advance of civilization, technological advancements, scientific accomplishments, inflation, or simply increased Federal spending, would make the subject of an excellent debate.

In any event, the House of Representatives last Wednesday passed H.R. 11289, making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1963. The final vote was 388 yeas, with no nays. Fifty Members were recorded as not voting, but this does not mean that there might have been votes against the bill. In fact, this bill would, in my opinion, have received unanimous support from every Member of the House of Representatives. On several occasions in the past there have been situations where a few Members voted against this defense measure. They are no longer Members of the House of Representatives. The bill, as finally passed, contained appropriations totalling $47,839,491,000. This means that approximately sixty cents of every tax dollar paid by the taxpayers of this country will go for the actual current defense needs of this nation. This figure does not include appropriations in other associated areas of defense and veterans' benefits. When these are added, the total tax requirements for past wars, present defense needs, and future preparedness, amounts to approximately seventy cents of each tax dollar. The amount of money involved in the defense appropriations bill staggers the imagination. In fact, it is almost impossible to conceive of that amount of money. It is indeed most difficult for the human mind to fathom the many and intricate expenditures involved. Tremendous sums of this money will go to private corporations and individuals in the form of contracts affecting every segment of our economy. It is impossible to fully and completely spell out the exact requirements as to many of the objects and services to be obtained. Hence, much faith must be vested in the discretion of the military components of our nation. Great confidence must be entrusted to those charged with the handling of our defenses in the field, both in our own country and in foreign countries. The amounts of expenditures to be made will in many cases be the result of negotiations between the Defense Department and private contractors. There is no doubt much room for criticism of the Congress in making available vast sums in order to meet possible needs. However, the Congress is faced with two alternatives: we either make available the necessary funds to meet unforeseen as well as foreseen needs and depend upon the integrity of our military establishment, or we refuse to entrust these people with any discretionary powers, and thereby run the risk of too little and too late. It is true that money alone cannot constitute defense. However, Congress would, in my opinion, be derelict in its duty if it did not make available adequate sums to meet the defense requirements of this country. By the same token, the Executive Branch of the government would be derelict in its duty if it did not watch each and every expenditure of the taxpayers' money with a vigilant eye. Almost all of the mail which I receive condemning Federal expenditures begins from the predicate that the writer is not against spending all necessary sums for defense. I think we are all in agreement on that philosophy. The issue is the word "necessary." It is in this area that great responsibility lies on the shoulders of the military. The Congress and the people of this country must depend upon those in the military establishment, both the civil servant and the military personnel, to so conduct their operations that waste will be reduced to a minimum. It would be much better if all expenditures could be determined in advance, to the penny; but that is not possible in a fast-changing world. It is only by constant vigilance and coordination between the Congress and the military establishment that substantial savings can be effected. It has long been my hope that a watchdog committee of the Congress, with proper staff, could be organized to work along with the military establishment, both during the budgeting period and, as well, during the expenditure period. Such a procedure would, in my opinion, result in measurable savings that could produce reductions in expenditures and, in turn, reductions in taxation. The expenditures in this measure were divided into four titles: 1. Military Personnel, receiving $12,901,890,000; 2. Operations and Maintenance, $11,551,473,000; 3. Procurement, $16,525,770,000; and 4. Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation, $6,860,358,000. These sums were distributed between the services as follows: Army, $11,546,567,000; Navy, $15,081,570,000; Air Force, $19,177,634,000; and Defense Agencies, $2,033,720,000.

If the defenses of this nation are at any time insufficient to meet the threat of Communism

LICENSELESS FISHING TOPS ARREST LISTS

AUSTIN — This is fishing season, and too many are going fishing without buying licenses, according to arrest reports of game wardens for the month of March.

There were 94 arrests for fishing without a license during the month. In all, game wardens arrested 257 persons, and the courts assessed fines and costs amounting to $8,889 for the month.

Although the deer hunting season has been closed since December 31, 1961, a number of arrests were made for killing deer in closed season, killing does, and hunting at night. In fact, there were 36 arrests made in connection with night hunting. The licenses were suspended on 18 violators, and some of them paid fines amounting to $200.

A fishing license is required of all persons between 17 and 65 who fish outside their home county or who fish with rod and reel or other winding device any place in the state. The price is $2.15 for either resident or non-resident.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CARLINVILLE, ILL., ENQUIRER: "Commenting on the recent discontinuance of publication of the Alexis Argus, Paul Vannier said last week in his Bluffs Times: 'It's unfortunate for any town to lose its newspaper — especially a town of 900 people in a wealthy agricultural area like Warren county

... Once a community loses its public voice, in this day and age, it is gone forever. What inducement can the merchants of Alexis offer a newspaper when they failed to support the one which served them well for 88 years? Too often, too few people in small towns realize that when they order their advertising and printing out of town — that's where they are ordering their local newspaper and its employees."

In his book "Exodus" Leon Uris gave a brief account of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising. In "Mila 18" he writes the full story of this, "The most unequal struggle in the history of mankind."

"Mila 18" is fiction but the story it tells about what happened to the Jews after Germany captured Poland is very much a fact. The real names of the leaders of the Warsaw uprising were Zukerma, Lubetkin, and Blumenfeld instead of Androfski . . . Eden . . . Brandel."

Author Uris did a lot of research as history tells us that the Jews did fight the Germans, with all of their guns, tanks, planes, etc., to a stand still for over four weeks with only a few weapons and most of them home made.

The author does not make heroes of all the Jews. Some of them are weak, cowards, etc., some even work hand in glove with their Nazi captors against their own people.

"Mila 18" tells again of the heroism of the peoples of other nations, the Danes and French to name two, who time and again risked death to help Jewish people escape to Sweden and other neutral countries where they would be safe from the Germans. It is to the eternal credit of all these brave countries and their peoples that this was so.

Quoting from a review: "Powerful . . . intensely dramatic . . . Mr. Uris makes authentic history live in human terms . . . given vivid and haunting impact through the thoughts, emotions and actions of the people involved, people whom the reader comes to know intimately. This novel like its subject will not be forgotten." Boston Sunday Herald.

It is hoped that they are right but if history repeats itself they couldn't be more wrong as one Nazi officer said, "We can be thankful that the world has such short memories."

We had better remember and teach future generations what life was like under Hitler and that his atrocities were not confined to the Jewish race but to the peoples in any of the countries captured by the Nazis as well as many Germans.

Hitler is gone but living under a dictator is the same whether he be Nazi, Fascist, Communist or any other "ist."

FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION - 1961

In 1961 Farmers Home Administration advanced a record $502 million in loans to farm and non-farm families living in rural areas to provide the resources for needed farm adjustments, better rural housing, and soil and water conservation and development. Secretary of Agriculture Freeman announced recently. This was a 47 percent increase over the amount loaned in 1960.

183,000 families used credit from the agency during the year, including those who received loans in previous years.

The current rise of 47 percent above the 1960 total was due mainly to three factors: Broad expansion of Farmers Home Administration programs under the Agriculture and Housing Acts of 1961; a more vigorous policy, inaugurated early in the year, of helping family farmers in need of credit to meet the growing costs of farming; and an increase in loan funds available.

Farmers Home Administration programs in 1961 gave thousands of farm families whose equities had been wiped out by the low net returns of recent years an opportunity to obtain much-needed financing.

Following are some highlights of the agency's 1961 lending program——Operating loans for equipment, livestock and other expenses totaled $271 million to 81,890 farmers.

—6,373 farmers received a total of $95 million to buy, develop or enlarge farms or refinance debts, $61 million of this was advanced by private lenders under the agency's insured loan program.

—11,444 loans totaling $89 million were made to farm families and others to build or repair dwellings and other buildings.

WE WORK FOR ALL INDUSTRY

in the Center of the Southwest

Modern industry is a complex structure. Manufacturers rely on others to supply many things, among them raw materials, machinery, power, containers, transportation.

West Texas Utilities Company is both an industry and such a supplier. The product we make — electric power — is used by other industries in our service area.

We are proud of this close relationship. It is our job to provide a plentiful supply of electric power today. It is our obligation to increase the supply as present industries expand and new ones come in. Our current expansion program anticipates continuing industrial growth. One example is our new Oak Creek generating station pictured above, with another and even larger plant already on the drawing boards.

To aid in industrial development, we will continue to tell the Nation's industrialists that "...in this area lies opportunity," as evidenced by the many industries thriving today in the CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST.
