PANHANDLE TO HAVE AVERAGE CROPS--REPORT

State Officials Believes Section Is Fairly Well Off

COTTON TO BE GOOD

No Sign of Boll Weevils But Hoppers Likely, He Says

"Prospects for 'Row' crops in the country from Wichita Falls to Abilene north to Amarillo, and in the Panhandle generally, are as good as in several years," was the comment of George M. Morris, of the state Feed Control commission, who is spending a few days in Wichita Falls in connection with the work of the commission in northwest Texas.

"Cotton is up and in fine condition, growing fast and chopping is in progress in most parts of this section of the state. The territory around Memphis (Hall county), Quanah (Hardeman county), Lubbock (Lubbock county), and Crosbyton (Crosby county) is showing the best for cotton. This section has had plenty of rain and there is every indication so far of a good crop. There have been no signs of the boll weevil here as yet, though of course this pest may appear later. The grasshopper is causing some trouble all ready, but a poisoning campaign that is taking shape in many counties should help in combatting this menace.

"The worst place in northwest Texas so far as the crops are concerned, I believe, is in the extreme northern part of the Panhandle around Perryton, Spearman, and Dumas, where a lack of rain early in the season has seriously hampered plant growth.

"Wheat it just being cut over most of the Panhandle. As nearly as I can get there will only be about a 20 per cent normal crop. Dry weather in the early spring is responsible for this shortage so far as wheat is concerned. The territory around Broom in southeast Carson county looks the best for wheat. There is promise of a good harvest around Tulia and Happy in Swisher county, also.

"The Wichita Falls area is somewhat further advanced than most of the other sections mentioned, that is, there is more harvesting going on here."

Mr Morris will be in Wichita Falls the rest of the week.

Cotton Belt Lands Increase in Value Since 1923, Claim

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—Despite the boll weevil and negro labor migration farm land values in the cotton belt have averaged an increase since 1923, L. C. Gray, farm land value expert of the department of agriculture, declared today.

In fact, he asserted, during the heavy post war deflation land values in the cotton belt showed less loss than any other farming community and much less than the wheat belt. As an illustration he added, for the five-year period beginning with 1920, land values in the United States as a whole decreased 20 per cent, in Iowa 38 per cent and in the cotton belt only 18.6 per cent.

Since 1923, he said these losses have been lessened with the United States as a whole showing a decrease of 5.3 per cent, Iowa 11.8, while the cotton belt shows an actual increase of 7.3 per cent.

By states, the statistics show that for the two-year period beginning with 1923, land values in Texas increased 13.6 per cent, Mississippi decreased 7.7 per cent, Alabama increased 7.7 per cent, Georgia decreased 3.8 per cent, South Carolina increased 8.6 per cent and North Carolina showed no change.

Although a greater number of negroes are moving from the south to the the north than from the north to the south, Dr. Gray declared this movement of negro labor does not appear to curtail cotton acreage. He said in 1923 when the negro exodus from the south was at its peak thirty-six million acres of cotton was picked which was two million acres more than the average picked for the five previous years.

Infantry Is Sent To Canadian Strike Area

SYDNEY, N. S., June 14.—(AP)—Movement of infantry and artillery detachments from here to New Aberdeen, in the Glace Bay area and word that James Murdock, minister of labor in the dominion government was on his way from Ottawa to make an attempt to mediation, were the only developments today in the situation arising out of clashes between striking miners and forces protecting the property of the British Empire Steel corporation. The troops sent to New Aberdeen were stationed at the power station of the steel corporation.

In a telegram to the executive of the United Mine Workers of America, Mr. Murdock anounced he was leaving for Cape Breton where he would make every attempt possible to effect mediation.

Nebraskans Find "Farmers' Sand" at 5,141 Feet and Complete Deepest Oil Well in Mid-Continent

A REAL farmer's sand has been been found in Oklahoma. It is way below any previously known pay horizon, and was found because farmers refused to become discouraged. The K. D. Oil company of Hastings, Neb., in No. 1 White, southeast of the old Billings pool, and north and west of Perry, had sand from 5,141 to 5,147 feet, and looks like a good well.

When the pay was tapped it made two big flows of oil, gas and water, the latter being in the hole when it hit pay.

The K. D. test was first reported on Dec. 17, 1921, when Frank P. Kelly and associates built a rig there. On Jan. 19, 1922, they had from two to three million feet of gas at 695 feet. At 2,470 feet, after setting the 6⅝-inch casing, Kelly quit the propositio nand thereafter the K. D. Oil company appeared. Most of its stockholders are Nebraska farmers, led to believe that "somewhere" they would find oil.

The K. D. Oil company first appeared on the scout reports April 5, 1924, and the past year has been a constant drain on their resources, but in some way the money came in. Much of their holdings have been sold for money to supplemeut what the farmers contributed.

Granite Ahead?

"The Farmer's Sand" is the way oil men and geologists characterize the producing startum that the K. D. Oil company is producing from. In this respect it recalls that in most wildcats when the known strata are tested and found dry and the well is plugged, the landowners invariably declare that a new sand would have been found lower on. This hoped for oil sand has convinced oil men that it is futile to assert that when the Wilcox and Turkey mountain sands are passed by that nothing but granite is ahead.

Unofficial reports say that the wildcat flowed 350 barrels in a nine hour period from 9 p. m. Thursday to 7 a. m. Friday.

BAR MAY ASK SCOPES BE NOT HELD TO TRIAL

Meeting of Tennessee Lawyers Is Called for Memphis Soon

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 14.—Information has reached here through Nashville channels that at the coming meeting of the Tennessee Bar association at Memphis a resolution take action originated at Nash-Frank M. Thompson, state attorney general, refuse to prosecute the case against Prof. John T. Scopes, Dayton, Tenn., high school teacher accused of violating the state anti-evolution law should it reach the supreme court.

Call It Collusion.

Reason for the proposed action of the state bar is based on the theory that the evolution case was brought about by collusion, was not instituted with the idea of correcting an illegal situation and in the vernacular of the legal profession is moot.

It is understood that the movement to have the state bar association take action originated at Nashville and has been discussed at informal gatherings of lawyers in various cities of the state.

Commissioner Will Frazier of Dayton conferred with Commissioner Ed Barron of Chattanooga by telephone and made arrangements for ten police officers from Chattanooga to assist in maintaining order and directing traffic during the trial of Scopes. One Chattanooga fire department also is to be brought here.

Don't Need Militia.

The state militia offered to send 100 men here to preserve order but the offer will not be accepted.

Superintendent Walter White of the Rhea county schools and prosecutor in the Scopes case, directed a letter to Congressman J. Will Taylor at Knoxville asking him to introduce in congress a bill refusing aid to schools teaching evolution. His letter says:

"I wish to urge you to introduce a bill in the next congress that will withhold financial aid from any college or university that teaches any theory of evolution that denies the Biblical origin of man.

'You will be serving your country by taking this step."

Holliday Plans To Incorporate Town

Holliday, 14 miles southwest of Wichita Falls, is going to incorporate and become a real city. Plans will be discussed at a meeting to be held Wednesday night. The Wichita Falls chamber of commerce has been requested to supply speakers, who will attend the meeting. AUSTIN STILL BUILDING

Dry Weather Fails to Deter Growth in Permit Totals

AUSTIN, June 14.—Continued dry weather and impending drouth has not caused a depression in building, figures compiled at the city hall on building permits shows. On the contrary, the past week saw the greatest amount of building started in any week since the opening of the year.

The week's building figures show that 20 permits valued at $46,200 were issued during the period from Monday morning to noon Saturday. Since June 1, a total of 28 permits or more than two a day have been issued.

Fiancee of McClintock To Take Stand Against Alleged Germ Murderer

CHICAGO, June 14.—(AP)—Miss Isabelle Pope, fiancee of young Billy McClintock, and recipient of an $8,000 annuity under the will drawn for McClintock by William Darling Shepherd, his foster-father, will be the principal witness for the prosecution tomorrow in Shepherd's trial for the murder of the wealthy youth.

Others on Hand

State's Attorney Crowe said she said tonight that several other witnesses important to the state would be on hand for the resumption of the trial tomorrow morning.

Among them, he stated, are Robert White, important witness against Shepherd before the grand jury, whose mysterious disappearance and dramatic return were the basis of scathing recriminations between prosecuting and defense attorneys and William Derrick of Houston, Texas, formerly postmaster at Bayview, Texas, who knew Shepherd in his youth.

Miss Pope was engaged to marry McClintock at the time of his death, and her story of her relations with Shepherd during the youth's illness was an important part of the inquiry which culminated in Shepherd's indictment.

To Consume Day

State's Attorney Crowe said she probably would be on the stand most of the day. Other witnesses will be called, he said, to tell of the circumstances surrounding the probating of the will of McClintock's mother several years ago and of attempts which McClintock made on his own behalf to dispose of some of his property, which were obstructed by his guardian.

YEGGMEN TAKE TAILOR'S SAFE OUT OF STORE

About $150 Is Taken Out of Safe When Cracked In Pasture

Yeggs broke into the Up-to-Date cleaning and pressing shop at 811 Ninth street some time shortly after midnight Sunday morning and escaped with a small steel safe containing something better than $150 in currency. The safe was taken to a pasture about nine miles west of Wichita Falls, opened and robbed of its contents, it being found there early Sunday morning by officers.

The robbery was discovered by Sidney Wood, owner of the shop, on coming down Sunday morning, and the police immediately notified. The entrance to the shop had been managed by prizing open two back doors and carting the safe away in a small car which had been driven up the alley. Little was left to establish the identity of the burglars, and police reported last night that little progress had been made in apprehending them. The loss, including the safe, which is a total wreck, approximates $300.

Oldtime Settlers In Dallas County Hold Home Coming

DALLAS, June 14.—Three hundred old settlers and residents of the Pleasant View community, near the old Greenville road a short distance beyond the city limits northeast of Dallas, gathered at the old historic Pleasant Valley Baptist church today and held a homecoming celebration. The present pastor, the Rev. R. M. Richards, and two former pastors, the Rev. G. W. Good of Farmers Branch and the Rev. W. H. Day of Rice, Navarro county, were among those to address the gathering.

The Pleasant View church is the oldest Baptist church in Dallas county, having been organized as the First Baptist church of Dallas in 1847 in an old log cabin on the site where the present church is located, according to J. E. Huffman, one of the oldest members of the church.

BOSTON, June 14.—(AP)—Commander Donald B. MacMillan declared that "find Amundsen first" will be the slogan of his coming Arctic expedition when he imparted his final instructions to his crew at the Ingram club in the Charlestown navy yard.

The explorer showed his crew eight thousand feet of film, depicting his last dash into the Arctic and pointed out to them that the coming expedition will follow the old route. ## ANOTHER DIES IN CHICAGO'S WAR ON GANGS

Police Start Raids in Effort To Abolish Gang Law

CHICAGO, June 14.—(AP)—While gangland writhed and staggered from the most terifftic blow in Chicago's gang-ridden history, guns blazed again this morning in the roadhouse fringe of the southwest side, sending one man to the hospital with dangerous wounds and intesifying the police drive to exterminate the menace of gangdom.

Charles Tremblay, habitue of the Blue Goose Inn, was the victim of unknown assailants whose violence called Sheriff Peter M. Hoffmann from the all night round-up of police characters precipitated by yesterday's desperate street battle between gangsters and police. A taxicab driver who hurried Tremblay to the hospital, the only one of more than 50 witnesses of the fracas taken by the authorities, was unable to describe the incident, and Tremblay told conflicting stories.

Meanwhile, Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, under special orders from Mayor Dever, and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, consolidated their forces with those of the sheriff in waging a drive against violence which in certain sections reached the stage of house-to-house searching for beer runners, gunmen and hangerson.

"By Monday every gangster must be behind the bars," Chief Collins told his lieutenant at a special strategy meeting this morning. More than 200 suspects already were held for questioning at the criminal court building.

French Minister On Way From Morocco After War Review

RABAT, Morocco, June 14.—(AP)—M. Painleve, the French premier, who has been visiting the zone of hostilities in French Morocco, left Rabat this afternoon by airplane for Malaga, Spain, on his way back to Paris.

"I will make a full report of my visit to Morocco to parliamen Tuesday afternoon," M. Painleve informed the correspondents previous to boarding the airplane for Malaga, where he will sleep tonight.

Premier Satisfied.

The premier expressed satisfaction with the morale and health of the troops, but explained that the Moroccan warfare was being conducted along entirely different lines than those set for the European war.

"Modern instruments must be adapted to this style of guerrilla warfare," he remarked—"tanks are likely to play an important part in future operations and they are just beginning to arrive here. We are trusting to the new type of seventy-fives and guns o fthe mountain type and high artillery of 80 milimeters. In a few days our soldiers will know how to handle these new weapons."

M. Painleve then requested General Jacquemot, chief of his military staff, to give the correspondents a few more technical details, "from a military viewpoint."

Says Conditions Good.

The general said: "We are in a very favorable situation. There is nothing to fear for the safety of Fez or even Taounat.

"We have sent for tanks to help out the action of the infantry, and our aviation will be strengthened both as to personnel and material. It is very difficult for pilots to fly through this country of uncharted mountains and precipices, but special tuitions will be given them."

False Assertions Made by Renters Of White Brutality

HANKOW, June 14.—(AP)—During the anti-foreign rioting at Kiu-Kiang yesterday, in which the British and Japanese consulates were wrecked and the buildings of Japanese and British concerns burned, no lives were lost.

The building destroyed by fire was the Japanese bank.

The body of a student, Bayonetted by a soldier because he was accused of inciting to riot, was transported to Wu-Chang exhibited in the streets as an example of the bruitality of foreigners.

Early this morning Chinese troops were guarding the borders of the foreign concessions to prevent a resumption of last week's rioting. Behind wire barricades charged with electricity landing parties from several foreign war ships awaited possible attacks by coolies until after midnight. The coolies and students, incited by fantastic stories of slaughter of Chinese by foreigners, still are in an ugly temper.

The Chinese employes in Japanese shops in the Japanese concessions have gone on strike, demanding the removal of the electrified entanglements, which they claim killed a Chinese woman and a boy this morning.

Students Parades Without Disorders

TIENTSIN, June 14.—(AP)—Thousands of students and representatives of other classes took part in a parade here today. The great demonstration passed without disorder. The city was calm this morning.

The foreign concessions observed a watchful attitude during the day. The Chinese authorities took every precaution against trouble. Armed troops patrolled the main streets of the Chinese quarter, and machine gun detachments guarded the entrances to the concessions.

While satisfied that no large bodies would break in, the authorities feared isolated agitators might filter in and cause trouble. Hence a detachment of the gendarmerie from Fengtien headquarters was admitted to the British concession to co-operate with the police in suppressing possible rioting or anti-foreign demonstrations.

Yuannanese Troops Constantly Beaten

CANTON, June 14.—(AP)—Since Saturday's capture of Canton by the Kwang-Tung and Cantonese forces, Chinese civilian whenever they find Yunnanese or other persons speaking the Mandarin dialect beat them and throw them into the river. Street orators today were engaged in delivering fiery speeches.

Mob in Raid On British Consulate

LONDON, June 14.—(AP)—A Reuter dispatch from Shanghai, confirming the rioting in Kiu-Kiang, says a crowd of 1,000 students, workmen and other disorderly elements started minor riots in Kiu-Kiang Friday evening. They did not become serious until Saturday morning, when a mob rushed the British concession.

The municipal council warned the Chinese that they must restore order.

The authorities accepted responsibility for the situation, but took no action for two hours. Meanwhile the wrecking and burning of buildings took place.

The dispatch adds that no further disturbances have been reported up to 1 o'clock Sunday morning when the last wireless message was sent from Kiu-Kiang. One Japanese was seriously injured during the disturbances but there were no other foreign casualties. The British gunboat Gnat has left Hankow for Kiu-Kiang.

THE WEATHER

"I don't know any real swear words except darn and gee whiz and cumbustion."

LYRICS OF LIFE
By Douglas Malloch.
Lord Willin.

WHEN does a mortal get his sense?
Well, some say now, and some say then;
The measure of experience
Ain't all the same in all of men.
But me, I figger any man
Has got his sense when every plan
He puts one great promise on
And says, beginnin' every dawn,
"Lord Willin.' "

Men don't wake up some certain date,
Some special birthday, stated year,
And say, "I'm twenty-one, or—eight,
Or sixty-five, or ninety near,
And so at last my sense I've got,"
No, friends and neighbors, that ain't what
Will show that men have learned the way
To look at life—it's when they say,
"Lord Willin.' "

Youth plans, and never doubts a dream,
Or doubts its dreaming will come true,
But there's some fault in many a scheme
That no man saw, and yet God knew.
Some great ambition may be man's,
And wisdom comes to sire or son
When every journey is begun,
But sometimes God has other plans;
"Lord Willin.' "

PERSONAL TAX TOTALS IN '23 SHOW BIG GAIN

Income Figures Report A Billion Dollar Gain In Year

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Taxable personal incomes in America in 1923 were shown tonight by the internal revenue bureau to have amounted to $26,336,337,843, or almost a billion dollars more than the 1922 total.

The bureau's figures made public in its annual analysis of personal incomes disclosed that 7,698,321 persons filed returns in the year covered by the statistics while in the preceding year there were 6,787,481 returns; 1,675,791 in 1923 contributed $703,692,165 in taxes to the government which was approximately $157,000,000 less than the taxes paid in 1922, largely as a result of the 25 per cent refund voted by congress.

On the basis of the census bureau's population estimate for July 1, 1923, returns were filed in 1923 by 6.94 per cent of the nation's citizenship, while in 1922, the proportion was 6.2 per cent.

Incomes in the class of $1,000,000 and over in 1923 numbered 74, the highest point since 1917 and the third highest in the history of American income tax collection the number in 1916 having 206. Sixty-seven persons reported incomes of a million dollars or more in 1922. The 74 who had incomes in excess of a million dollars in 1923 paid a total of $35,788,475 in taxes.

PRESIDENT OF MEXICO SAYS INSULT GIVEN

He Stamps Kellogg's Statement As Threat to Republc's Soveregnty

DENIES A REVOLT

New Political Leader Declares Insinuation Casts Alarm in the World

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—President Calles of Mexico in a statement issued today by the embassy here, asserted that Secretary Kellogg's statement last Friday contained a "threat" against Mexico's sovereignty and that the implication that Mexico stood "on trial before the world" in the guise of a defendant "in essense, would only mean an insult."

Furthermore, President Calles added Mexico "does not accord any foreign country the right to intervene in her domestic affairs, nor is she disposed to subordinate her international relations to the exigencies of another country."

Conscious of Duties.

Mexico, the statement continues, is conscious of her international obligations and is determined to comply with them as a proof of which it mentions the establishment of claims commissions for consideration of claims held by foreigners against Mexico for losses sustained during revolutions.

President Calles also regrets that Secretary Kellogg mentioned in his statement reports of an impending revolution in Mexico, "since this last affirmation tends to cast some alarm in the world in regard to the conditions of my country."

"The statement that the government of the United States will continue to support the government of Mexico only so long as it protects American interests and lives and complies with its international engagements and obligations," he declares, "embodies a threat to the sovereignty of Mexico that she cannot overlook and rejects with all energy."

Not on Trial.

Citing that "the statement under reference also affirms that the American ambassador succeeded in protecting American as well as foreign interests," President Calles says that 'if he has thus succeeded, he has no right to charge Mexico with failure to

PUTTING THE FIRST LAST AND THE LAST FIRST.

In his Memorial day address President Coolidge touched yet again upon the duties of the states and local governments in law enforcement and in the general maintenance of the American political system. One gem of thought is found among the mass of ideas he presented in the course of his remarks which should have been made the keynote of his address, but unfortunately, appears disconnected and solitary, such was its superiority to every other expression the president used.

"Our country," declared Mr. Coolidge, "was conceived in the theory of local self-government. It has been dedicated by long practice to that wise and beneficient policy. It is the foundation principle of our system of liberty. It makes the largest promise to the freedom and development of the individual. Its preservation is worth all the effort and all the sacrifice that it may cost."

From the vigorous expression of this exalted sentiment it might be expected that the president would have gone on to develop his argument from liberty to law and order, from the duties of the states to their citizens to the duties of the national government to the people of the United States. But such was not the case. Mr. Coolidge abandoned an excellent position almost as soon as he assumed it. He proceeded to speak as though liberty were conditioned upon the due observance of law instead of law observance being dependent upon the preservation of liberty.

The difference here is striking to any one who will stop to consider the right relation of liberty and order. Enlightening in itself is the maxim of "liberty with laws, and taxation without oppression." Liberty is given the primary place, and law attends upon it. Taxation is given first consideration, as no government can exist without the power to tax, and that it should not be oppressive follows as a qualification. Without liberty we could have no order as we would have no reason to maintain an organized state of society. Without order liberty would be an unrealizable fantasy. Each is necessary to the other, but unquestionably liberty comes first as it constitutes the reason for the existence of order as order is in turn its practical realization. If, however, liberty were conditioned upon order and strict observance of law we would never be free, for there would be a necessity to prove our right to freedom in each particular case. Liberty would be purely phyothetical and so long as it remained in the realm of discussion and speculation in this way, we could enjoy no lasting nor genuine order.

Mr. Coolidge matched his error in putting the first last and the last first in respect to liberty and order by making the states little more than subordinate law enforcement districts under the federal government. He thought that the states should assume their full duties for fear of further encroachments from the central government. He seemed to believe that the federal authority was inevitably gaining upon them, and that wherever they failed to meet a demand it was justified, and compelled, to step in and wrest from them a few more of their powers.

While assuming this extraordinary attitude the president made an eloquent plea against centralization. Pointing out that this country is too big to be administered from a single fount of authority, he fairly contradicted himself by saying that "We may go on yet for a time with the easy assumption that 'if the state will not the nation must.' But that way lies trouble." True enough, but if the principle be admitted that the federal government must continue its encroachments or that the states must so perfectly perform their duties as to give no opportunity for invasion, then local self-government will necessarily sicken and die as a doomed thing without the hope of reprieve.

If Mr. Coolidge would accomplish anything in the way of inducing the states to resume their full duties he should recast his argument, placing the emphasis where it belongs and avoiding confusion. There is a good prospect of the states winning back a great deal of their lost sovereignty. They are encouraged to make the effort by the people frowning on further attacks upon their authority. The craze for amendments to the federal constitution seems to have passed, and with it the tendency to try out paternalistic schemes appears to have died. Temporarily the central government has ceased to be menacing, and because of this the states are hopeful of exercising those powers secured to them by the founders of the republic. But if circumstances were different they would not make an effort to discharge more of their duties than they are presently doing.

McADOO IN A NEW ROLE.

William Gibbs McAdoo and associates have purchased a famous hotel and pleasure resort near San Bernardino, Cal., for a consideration in excess of one million dollars. Political propagandists say that the former secretary of the American treasury is as ambitious as ever and that his hat will be in the ring as a contender for a presidential nomination in 1928.

Regardless of this all the signs of the times indicate that there will be many new Richmonds in the field in 1928 and that a dark horse may win the prize. All the old war horses of democracy are passing and in 1928 William Gibbs McAdoo will be 67 if he is in the land of the living.

New alignments will be made before the coming of 1928, new issues will be to the fore and new leaders may be the trainers of the historic delay.

A RAPID CLIMBER.

Frank C. Lowry of New York is a sugar broker. He started his career in the sugar trade as a clerk at seven dollars a week and this not many years ago. Just the other day he was asked to become president of the American Sugar Refining company at a salary of $100,000 a year and declined the offer.

He must be a $100,000 a year man or he would not have been offered the $100,000 a year job, but he lives in a city where the wealth of the world flows and where big concerns are more numerous than big men.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE.

Going Through.

I recently spent a week in one of the greatest cities of the world which was sweltering under the worst hot spell it had ever known.

Day after day the temperature was eighty degrees above Fahrenheit when the sun rose in the morning, and climbed till a hundred or more during the day.

The humidity was high. Even breathing seemed difficult.

Yet the millions of people in that city were going through the routine of their work very much as if nothing had happened.

Newspapers were being edited and printed and delivered, good supplies poured into the railroad stations and were regularly distributed through the usual channels to the consumers, the sick were cared for in the hospitals, and the police patrolled the streets or regulated traffic just as usual.

Everybody more or less was suffering. But nobody worth mentioning was shirking.

We grumble and complain a great deal, but we usually go through and get our work done, and only partly because we have to, for the possibility of shirking is always present.

People function from force of habit very much as do bees in a hive.

If the hive is destroyed the bees immediately remove their queen, to another place—the handiest one they can find, and set about building a fresh set of cells and gathering a fresh supply of honey.

A visitor of mars who came today, after not having seen the earth since the world war, would be astonished to find how "business as usual" has been revised, and how most of the damage incident to the great struggle has been repaired.

There is something comforting in the knowledge that whatever happens, there is a certain persistence in our nature that will force us to carry on, and that neither storm nor heat nor cold nor tempest can deter us very much in our efforts.

We are sometimes sporadic in our achievement, we are sometimes given to working by fits and starts, and we are often a prey to discouragement and sometimes despair.

But in the main we keep on going through, getting our work done, and probably doing it a little better all the time.

It is for this reason that the human race has accomplished superhuman results since it began its climb toward the civilization that will at last be achieved.

If neither war nor stress of weather nor disaster can stay that dogged determination to get the day's work done, to keep on going as we have always gone, there is real hope for tomorrow.

Millions fail by the way as we go on, but the survivors, though shocked by the loss of friends, continue to do as they have been doing.

Small quarrels may grow into wars, and wars may devastate whole nations, yet when they are ended cities are rebuilt, some sort of international friendship renewed, and the world goes about its work once more.

To the man who is discouraged by only his little troubles, this is a comforting thing.

For nations are but as individuals, and in both there is a compelling urge to rise out of the ruins of hopes and ambitions, take the road and once more be on the march.

TEXAS BECOMES LEADER AMONG THE STATES.

Cotton shipments totaling more than a half a billion dollars in value have put Texas in the lead among the states in the export trade of the country. By a slight margin of six million and a fraction this state nosed out New York in the 1924 commercial competition, taking the leadership through rapid gains in the last three months of the period, after having lagged behind in second place for three-quarters of the course. Officials of the United States department of commerce, which announced the figures for exports by states for the first time, were so much impressed by this dramatic happening that they predicted that Texas would soon be a billion dollar state commercially as it is already a billion dollar state industrially and agriculturally.

Fulfillment of this prophecy is not very far in the future since Texas' exports last year were valued at $737,218,927. A gain of but little over a quarter of a billion would make this a triple-billion dollar state with the three economic branches of agriculture, manufacturing and commerce perfectly balanced. Aso cotton shipments constitute more than two-thirds of the state's exports increase even beyond these estimates is quite possible. Cotton production here is gaining at a tremendous rate. New areas are being brought under cultivation. With our vast amount of tillable lands this process is practically unlimited. Along with increase in acreage has gone an increase in production per acre. Agricultural output can be greatly boosted from this source. With the rise, on a large scale, of textile manufacturing in the state, industry will gain even more rapidly. Manufactured goods among our cotton exports will enhance their value many times.

With a prospect of well rounded economic development in view Texas' rise to first place among the exporting states of the country will not prove to be temporary. New York may be out-distanced by only a few million dollars in value of exported products, but the gain will be held. Texas has for a long time occupied second place while New York has held her former lead from almost the beginning of the nation. Texas cannot fall below the position she has enjoyed as all the other states, with the exception of New York, are hundreds of millions of dollars behind in the value of exports. New York can hardly recover from her setback. Her products are chiefly manufactured articles with the ultimate value which the manufacturing process gives. It is not likely that they can very readily attain to a higher estimate, while Texas' products, being mainly raw stuffs, can easily gain the added value of manufactured goods.

WHAT WALL STREET GROWERS SAY.

Wall street cotton growers of the bullish kind the predicting that the 1925 crop in America will be close to fifteen million bales. Cotton growers who are not of and for Wall street will be satisfied if the American crop touches the twelve million bale mark.

Of course crop condition was 72.3 per cent of normal in May this year and the condition May for the same date last year was only 64.4 per cent.

There are large spots in the Gulf Coast country where there will be no crop gathered this year but in West Texas the increased acreage has been very great and there is no telling what may happen when the picking and ginning season comes.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

Business failures in the United States in May were fewer than in April and fewer than in May a year ago. There were also the smallest for any month since last November. Isn't the cotton grower a business man? If he is in a drouth district and loses his all doesn't he count?

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE.

Gemini.

The planetary aspects of today indicate that you will experience a high sense of enthusiasm and elation, all things will look bright, and optimism will reign supreme. Courage to tackle any problem will be felt, even though it may have been at other and more normal times, deemed impracticable and impossible. Under such conditions, no intelligent effort much be decried, but more than usual care must be exercised in order to avoid excessive hopes creating false illusions, and, in such an atmosphere of mental effervescence, it must not be imagined that there is a royal road to success, as only lasting material progress can be achieved by persistent and diligent work. All speculation and risk should be scrupulously eschewed.

It is quite difficult to prognosticate the possible ewelfare of children born today, as the signs are complex. Indications point to the fact that, while a girl will experience normal health, a boy is liable to be weak, and subject to serious troublesome ailments. It can, notwithstanding, be inferred that both will attain physical normalcy. The aspects show that their temperaments and character will, after making due allowances for those inherent to sex, be smiliar. They will be cheerful, bright and happy. They will be subject, to a large extent, to outside influences, will always be careful of appearances, and never do anything to occasion criticism or cause misgivings.

If today is your birthday, you possess little sense of humor, are ponderous rather than light, and take yourself very seriously; so much so, that, without being conceited or vain, you give yourself an importance that neither your ability nor intelligence merit. You are lacking in emotion, and your one ambition is to achieve material success, for which you are willing to strive "in season and out of season." As a result of your diligence and unfailing perseverance, you will, undoubtedly, succeed in realizing your ambition to become independent. You will, however, miss most of the finer and worthier objects of life—its emotions an dits romance, as well as its responsibilities. Material wealth brings much less happiness in the sunset of life than the spiritual wealth of happy reminiscences and the ties of family and friendship.

Irrigation

GRASSHOPPERS AND IRRIGATION

One of those gentlemen who can never be convinced that irrigation will ever amount to anything in this valley sprung a new one on us recently.

"Just wait," he said "until all this land gets under irrigation and see how the grasshoppers come then. There will be a thousand where we only have one now."

This man is mistaken. Irrigation does nto breed grasshoppers. These pests lay their eggs in the ground where they pass the winter waiting for warm weather to hatch them out in the spring. Where ground is plowed or cultivated the eggs are largely destroyed.

Under irrigation, it is to be hoped that our unplowed lands, the great pastures, will decrease in size. It is in these lands that the grasshoppers breed now. The farmed and cultivated areas produce only a minimum supply of the insects.

It is not only the hoppers which are destroyed by plowing and cultivating, but also many other insect enemies. Many of the bugs and beetles which damage crops spend a portion of their lives under ground. Cultivation destroys multitudes of them.

Outside of mosquitoes and chiggers we do not now recall any insects which will be increased on account of irrigation. These two pests can hardly be said to be injurious to crops no matter how much of a nuisance they may be to the owner of the crops.

HOW IT STARTED

Pall-Mall.

Pall Mall, the great club and mansion lined street in London, is famous the world over. It is one of the first "sights" the traveler to London wants to see.

And delving into the mystery of its origin reveals the fact that the famous and magnificent promenade had its beginning and its name from an old English game. For Pall-Mall was originally plain Pall-Mall alley, pall-mall being the ball and mallet game which became so popular during the reign of Charles I. that space was set aside in various parts of London where it could be played. This space was called a pall-mall alley. And it was on the site of such an "alley," whose name it bears, that one finds the now famous London promenade, "Pall-Mall."

In its early days Pall Mall was a surburban promenade, but during the close of the seventeenth century it became a London street. Many important historical literary personages have lived along its borders, and today most of the famous clubs in London and several palaces line its side.

More Truth Than Poetry

THERE'S A LIMIT

A college, I always believed,
Was a place, where, by training severe
An earnest young person received
The skill to carve out a career,—
A sort of first aid to the youth of the land
In making distinguished successes,
So they might, on departing, join ranks with the band
That is basking in Fortune's caresses.

I have known many lads in my day
Who, as soon as they got their degrees,
Have merrily entered the fray
And conquered the world like a breeze.
I thought that inside the collegiate pale
Lay counsel and aid for all comers,
Who but for its succor would falter and fail;—
But wherefore a college for plumbers?

When a plumber is twenty years old,
His fortunes already are ripe,
He wallows in money, I'm told
His job, so to speak, is a pipe.
As the years amble onward his labors grow less;
His work—when he wants it—is steady,
So why spend four years in pursuing success—
When he's gone out and got it already?

If untaught, he can get where he is,
It ought to be perfectly plain
He'll be rather too much of a whizz,
If allowed to develop his brain.
They are selfish, perhaps, but I know lots of folk.
Who feel in their bones like the writer,
That they'd find this existence is far from a joke
If the plumber should get any brighter!

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

IF YOU WOULD MAKE A SUCCESS OF MARRIAGE, DEAL WITH YOUR HUSBAND AS HE IS, NOT AS HE SHOULD BE, AND SO SAVE YOURSELF HEARTBREAKS

I wish I could make every young girl who gets married a present of a handsomly framed motto to hang on the wall above the mirror of her dressing table, where she would be compelled to see it every time she put on or took off her complexion, or repaired the Cupid's bow of her lips.

On this motto in gorgeously illumned words would be these sapient words of President Cleveland:

"It is a condition and not a theory that confronts you."

I can think of no other advice in the world that would be such a lamp to guide the feet of any young woman who is starting to blunder down the rough road of matrimony, as this cold, hard, unimaginative assertion of a simple fact. It brushes away with one gesture of common sense all the dreams and romances and fairy tales of courtship, and leaves a woman facing the reality of matrimony, which is never as she thought it would be. It just is as it is.

If women would only abandon their theories about what matrimony should be, and how husbands should act, and deal with them as they are, it would save barrels of tears, innumerable broken hearts, hundreds of cases of nervous prostration, and put the divorce courts out of business. Furthermore, that women are mostly right in their contentions, and have logic and justice on their side, doesn't alter this aspect of the situation at all.

For instance, womans' perpetual grievance against her husband is his indifference. She wails out that he inveigled her into matrimony under false pretenses because from the ardor with which he wooed her, he led her to believe and expect that he would be an eternal lover and would spend a large part of his time telling her how beautiful and wonderful she was, and how he adored her.

Instead of making good on this antenuptal propaganda, however, he stopped all of his lovemaking at the altar with a suddenness that parred her wisdom teeth loose, and in place of being a lady love, she finds herself merely a household convenience.

Millions of women make themselves miserable because their husbands never make love to them, never pay them a compliment, never give them any sign or appreciation, never take them to any place of amusement, never give any indication that they still care for them and want them to be happy.

These suffering sisters could save themselves nearly all of their woe if they would just throw their rosy dreams of how a husband should treat a wife into the discard, and accept the truth that very few men are sentimentalists. Most of them feel like fools when they are lovemaking, and so they get the ordeal over with as quickly as possible. They consider that when a man marries a woman, and undertakes her board bill and shopping ticket, that he has given a proof of devotion strong enough to draw money on at the bank, and there is no use in saying anything more about it.

Also they feel that the fact that they selected the women they did for wives showed that they admired them above all other women, so why harp on that string?

And, of course, they want their wives to be happy. What else do they toil for except to doll their wives up, and give them cars and houses and trips to Europe?

So the wife may be very happy and contented who has philosophy enough to take her husband as he is, good kind and generous, even if he is a dumb lover, apparently more interested in his business than he is in her. She realizes that he says it with checks instead of with flowery phrases, and that if she is starved emotionally she is sure of her daily roast beef and potatoes.

Then there is the matter of adjustment between a man and a woman. Every bride dreams an impossible dream of a husband who is chilled steel to all the balance of the world, but putty in her hands. Experience blows this fair dream to the ends of the earth, and she finds that she can no more alter her husband's habits and prejudices than she can the laws of the Medes and the Persians. He has his ways, and she can either give in to them or fight over them. He has his set opinions, and she can side step them or go to the mat with him about them.

She can either use tact and diplomacy in handling him, or else be in a perpetual quarrel with him, and she protests that this isn't fair or just. She says that it is just as much his place to give in to her as it is hers to give in to him. That it is just as much his business to deal subtly with her, as it is her business to deal subtly with him.

Of course, the woman is right, but being right doesn't help her a bit in getting along with her husband. It is a condition and not a theory that confronts her. If any harmonious relations exist between her and her husband, she has to furnish the harmony. If there is any adapting, it is the wife who must do the adapting.

Women likewise complain that it is unjust that they should have to do practically all of the work of making a happy home. They say that it is just as much a man's business to be a little ray of sunshine in the home as it is a woman's; that it is just as much up to a husband to wear the smile that won't come off as it is the wife's.

They say that there is no more reason why they should read up on subjects that interest their husbands so as to be able to hand out a good line of conversation than why their husbands shouldn't read up on fashion journals so as to be able to discuss intelligently with them the length of skirts and the latest hair bob.

True. But again it is the condition and not the theory of matrimony that confronts them, and unless the wife makes the happy home it isn't made.

It is when women forget what matrimony should be, and deal with it as it is, that they make a success of it.

Spudders Take Old Time Biffing Match From Bear Outfit, 21 to 16

Warring Aggregations Clip 19 Base Knocks Each

By BLONDY CROSS

Help!
Succor!
Assistance!

Agitated wails of overworked score keepers and par one operators, also which if put in stronger lingo may have been heard intermittantly in the outer regions of the Spud citadel Sabbathday.

Bob Coleman's barbaric horde of bustin' Bruins biffed it out to a bloody finish with Bud's cohorts. Ran the legs off outfielders. Ruined the lives of several of the Texas league's most enterprising slabsters. Bruised, mauled, and shook up the outfield fences until R. O. Harvey and company will be forced to get into the market for more lumber, and that muy pronto.

She was a chaotic afternoon. The kind that drives the honest baseball bug into a wild-eyed frenzy, and murders the fellow who's constiution may not to be the strongest.

The growling Grizzlies, coming up from the rear late in the affray, tore into Carl Williams, the Trojan, lacerated the veteran starboarder, pulverized his every offering, rousted him from the hilltop,and before the brutal uprising could be quelled steam rollered over the pan for eight counters in a single inning.

Just a Small Matter

But that's only a small portion of the story, strange to say—just one chapter, so to speak. Four our noble Spudders had unlimbered on Lefty (Babe) Heiztman early for such a substantial lead that this sudden and vicious comeback did no more than throw a meager scare into the fair sized mob of customers on hand.

Slugging like the Spudder machine of old, the Tanner outfit smothered Southpaw Babe and then jumped on Collard, a right hander, for 19 base wallops, five of which were of the non-stop variety and seven for two sacks each.

Long after the riot had subsided, and a battery of adding machines had been swung into action a computation of 21 to 16 was arrived at, but not until after checking, cross-checking, and re-checking.

Yessir, our proud Spudders turned back the arrogant Bear juggeranut 21 to 16. And cash spectators got their money's worth.

George Gets Reckless

Gorgeous George Distel opened the Wichita Falls drive in the first stanza with a homer slam over the port pailings. Turgeon got on on error in the second and Willard Carl knocked him to the paying counter with a two-cushioner to center. Then Cap'n George came up, toed in deep, and stepped into another for round-trip passage. Moke Meyers, the San Antonio center fielder had poled a homer with the paths unobstructed in the same round, so the count stood at 4-1 Spudders.

Miscue, walk, and a double by the inevitable Danny Clark clicked the talley station for a pair in the San Antonio third. The Spudders loaded the hassocks, but failed to get away.

Bouncing Bruins tabulated one in the fourth on a bingle, force out, another bingle, a walk, and sacrifice aviation. They hadn't oughta done it, for that knotted the score, and the home talent became excited. After there was one away, the domestics broke out with a crackling cannonade which combined with errors afield netted eight golden scoring nuggets. Bing-banging Bears were aghast. The hitherto somewhat docile Spudders jumped Heitzman for seven ringing wallops, and peculiar as it may seem, not a one of the quintet of homers swatted by the gang came in this couplet. Couple of jungle heaves by short combined with doubles by Distel, Golvin, Jonnard and singles by Tanner, Fitzgerald, Dorman and Turgeon compiled those eight counters. Dorman's blow was a hair raising slam to right of the box that nearly took a foot off Umpire Fanning.

Ping and Pete

A wonderful stab by Golvin of Booe's bullet drive and then a quick throw to Distel on the keystone to double off a runner stopped an impending Bruin uprising in the fifth. Whilst our proud Spudders busted back at Collard, who had taken up the mound chores, for three runs. Bodie introduced the newcomer to Spud fandom with a rattling rocket over the left field fence. Fitz aviated to center. Dorman bounded out to second, and then Golvin drew a life when Booe bobbled slightly low throw to the bag by Brovold. None other than Pete Turgeon, the mighty midget, followed up with a four-base clout to port.

Collard found Coleman on first by virtue of a pitcher's coupon in the sixth. He promptly nicked a homer to left. Carl got the next three out.

They couldn't keep the bunch away from the scoring column. Tanner's outfit checked four in the sixth. Distel walked, and the skipper sent him in with a two-bagger to right center. Wild pitch put Buddy on third. Bodie hoisted to center. Skipper probably would have scored after the catch, but there wasn't any catch. He scored anyhow, and Ping was safe on the muff. Fitzgerald shot one to the left field jungles, scoring Bodie ahead of him.

That Terrible Eighth

Collard got another homer in the Bear eighth. He was first up. Williams then walked Brovold. Gonzales doubled to the left center boards. Rosenthal singled between second and first. Then Nason and Clark doubled. Carl went out and Lefty (Breezy) Winn inherited the flinging duties. Distel bobbled and then threw low on poke by Myers. Booe doubled to right. There wasn't anybody out yet, but Coleman came to the Spudder rescue by grounding out to second. A runner scored on the play. Collard, up his second time, struck out. Brovold hoisted an infield pop, but each Spudder decided to let the other have it. The pellet fell safe. Gonzales walked. Rosenthal was called out on strikes by Hill, ending the agony. Out of the melee it was found the Bears had cracked seven safeties, and scored eight times. All of which meant little to Rosy for he didn't get to play any more. He indulged in a bit of verbal conflict with the arbiter over that third strike and, of course, lost the argument. Collins went to right field.

Two-baggers by Fitzgerald and Golvin with a single injected by Dorman scored two in the Spudder half of the eighth inning.

Nason led away in the ninth with a double to the center boards, and scored on singe to the same sector by Clark. Winn went out Suthland came in and walked Myers. Booe singled, filling the bases. Coleman hit into a double play, Distel to Turgeon to Golvin. Clark scored, but it was a life saver. Collard popped out to second.

Another such game and we strike. But they're at it again this afternoon. It's "ladies' day," and Dick Morgan probably will pitch.

HEREFORD MAY LIGHT UP.

Propose Strong Lights for Big Water Tower in Texas Town.

HEREFORD, June 14.—Electric lights will be placed on top of the water tower in Hereford if a number of the citizens who are agitating the move have their way. The lights would serve as a beacon to tourists coming into the town from all directions and would be a great advertisement for Hereford, it is pointed out. The tower is 140 feet above ground and lights could be seen for a distance of 20 to 40 miles. Local citizens will make an effort to put this over within the near future because they believe it would be a great investment for the town purely from a publicity standpoint as well as a guide for tourists.

Norton Captures Texas State Net Singles Honors

International Tennis Star Defeats White In Straight Sets

SAN ANTONIO, June 14.—Bryan I. C. Norton of St. Louis and international net star, won the 1925 Texas state singles championship Sunday afternoon, in the tournament held on the clay courts of the San Antonio Country club. He put his final opponent, Lewis White of Austin, out of the way with a score of 6-1, 6-2 and 6-0.

It did not require an eagle eye to discern that White was very nervous at the beginning of the match, as his servings were off and he made several double faults to give the first game to Norton. Norton won the second on his own service, accompanied by several exhibitions of his famous handwork. The third game also went to the St. Louis star, as well as the fourth. Until then neither had been returning the ball, winning points on cut-balls and hitting the net. The fifth game found White a little more calm and each point witnessed a long volley before being made. White took the fifth game but lost the sixth and seventh, also the match.

Norton Steady.

Norton continued his steady play in the second set and took the first game but lost the second to White. White played hard for his game and more than earned it, duecing the score many times with pretty tennis. Norton annexed the third and fourth while White came back to win the fifth and second of the set. His teeth were closed tightly and he was slashing the ball with a mighty stroke that made his servings famous. Several of these passed Norton and the latter was unable to get them back over the net. White was inaccurate on this style of play and had to ease up a little. Norton took the remaining two games and the match.

The Austin player was beaten after the final game in the second set, coming back in the third with little or no opposition, which Norton took easier than the first two. Time and again White's strokes were interfered with by the net. Five straight games went to Norton, the fifth by four aces, when White returned the winner's servings into the bottom of the net. White came back with a little more life in the final game of the match, and after the score was deuced twice gave up by driving the ball out of the court.

The largest crowd of the tournament watched the match with little hope of seeing Norton defeated, after the first three games of the initial match. Norton went through the whole tournament defeating his opposition in straight sets.

Women's Title Monday.

A mixup caused an important correction in the ladies' consolation matches. Miss Elizabeth Browning of San Antonio beat Miss Ezma Taylor of Dallas, Saturday, for the lower bracket finals instead of the championship. Mrs. R. E. Brent of San Antonio, a member of the doubles team, had refused to play two games in one day and allowed Miss Browning and Miss Taylor to play their part of it out and promised to meet the winner. The title will be decided Monday, as both Mrs. Brent and Miss Browning were in the women's doubles championship match Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ed Moser, champion of the state tennis tournament, won added laurels by taking the doubles finals, aided by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Browning, from Miss Pat De Hymel and Mrs. Dick Brent, 6-2, 6-0. All four of the contestants are local players.

The racquet work of Mrs. Moser and the consistent covering of Miss Browning was the greatest factor in the match. Miss Pat De Hymel and Mrs. Brent made a gallant comeback to take the next two games and tie the first set at 2-all. This was the last of the scoring for the losers, however, as the Moser-Browning pair won the next ten games and the state championship. This is the second time the quartet has met for a title, playing not long since for the city championship, with Miss Browning and Mrs. Ed Moser coming out on the long end of the score.

FRENCH NETSTERS WIN.

Davis Cup Competition With Italians Swept Clean.

PARIS, June 14.—France made a complete sweep over the Italians in the Davis cup elimination contests, winning both of the finals singles matches today. On Friday the Frenchmen took both of the singles matches and on Saturday won the doubles event.

Today in the two singles matches Jean Borotra defeated Baron DeMorpurgo 6-2, 2-6, 12-10, 6-2, and Paul Feret from C. Colombo, 8-6, 3-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Western Clubs Make It Hot In National Race

Browns Still Flash Mean Drive in American League

NEW YORK, June 14.(AP)—Subjected to a concerted attack by four Western clubs, the National league standing last week underwent its most thorough shakeup of the season. Only one team—the leading New York clan—was sufficiently fortified in its position to withstand the outbreak and even the Giants felt the tremor which shook the circuit almost from end to end.

Pittsburgh, jostling the McGraw entry after the pacemakers had been tossed uncertainly in rough voyages through Chicago and St. Louis, bludgeoned its way past hesitating Brooklyn and took second place. The St. Louis Cardinals inspired by the new leadership of Honrsby, raced all the way from the cellar to fifth place; Chicago stepped from seventh to sixth place, while the Cincinnati Reds although failing to climb more than a single peg as the result of six straight wins for the week, tonight were crowding the Robins for third. The jamming of the western wing, reulting in 19 victories out of 26 starts against the invading eastern nines, found the Phillies paying heaviest. Six consecutive defeats hurled Fletcher's team from fourth to seventh place, while the Braves slumped back into the cellar and Brooklyn gave up the challenge shelf to the aggressive Pirates.

Smart playing and timely enough but particularly heavy hitting worked the upset. Cincinnati's staff, which turned in such an impressive series of mound performances early in the season, came back brilliantly against Boston and Philadelphia, while the Corsars and Cardinals were likewise favored by steady and effective hurling.

The American league was not immune from uprisings as the quake passed through the National. Maintaining a heavy batting assault on Yankee and Red Sox pitching, the Browns led the outfits of the junior circuit with the week's best performance at four victories and two defeats, overtaking and passing Cleveland to occupy fourth place. Detroit, still suffering from weak pitching, experienced a slight hitting slump and as a consequence sacrificed sixth place to New York. The Philadelphia Athletics, unable to get first class pitching out of its reserve material, could obtain no better than an even break for the week and tonight found its advantage over Washington shaved to a half game.

De Paolo Wins, Re-Check Shows

ALTOONA, Pa., June 14.—Following the protest entered by Frank Elliot over the award of the 250-mile speedway classic here yesterday, to Tommy Milton, officials of the contest board of the American Automobile association today checked up the official tape of the race with the result that the entire standing as given out yesterday was changed.

Under today's revision Peter De Paolo, who won the Indianapolis race on Memorial day, and who was reported yesterday to have finished second is declared the winner, with Elliott in second place and Milton third. It was discovered that in the close finish of the race that the scorers had become mixed and had failed to give Elliott credit for a lap he made. The time remains unchanged.

TEXAS LEAGUE STANDING HAS FIRST CHANGE

Buffs Move Ahead of Bob's Bears Into Second Place

SPUDDERS TENACIOUS

Waco Finally Finds Team It Can Beat, Sinking Exporters

DALLAS, June 14. — (AP) — For the first time in nearly a month the relative standing of Texas league clubs underwent a change last week When Houston displaced San Antonio for the runner-up position. And Dallas vacated the fifth position in favor of Waco.

The Buffaloes, who next to Fort Worth are playing the most consistent ball in the league, forged into the role of chief Panther challenger, largely as a result of San Antonio's set-back at the hands of the Panthers. The Panthers took the measure of the Bears in three games out of four in Panther park, including a double victory on Friday, and all but eliminated the Bears from the running for the time being. Saturday night found the latter seven and one-half games removed from the top, while Houston roosted a game and a half atop them.

Although the Bears lost three out of four to Fort Worth, they had the satisfaction of winning their lone game by the top-heavy score of 14 to 2, thus gaining a measure of revenge against the Panthers for the overwhelming defeats the latter inflicted upon them at San Antonio recently. Incidentally, this victory of the Bears marked the end of Johns' winning streak which had reached nine straight. The stocky southpaw was batted from the box for the first time this season. However, he came back against the Bears in the last game and beat them, 8 to 2.

Buff Twirling Good.

Due mainly to the fine twirling of their manager, Marvin Goodman, the Buffaloes closed the week with only one defeat to mar their record. For the second time this season Goodwin essayed the role of iron man and got away with it. His opponents in the latest case were no other than the hard-hitting Bears who were completely baffled for 16 innings by his moist delivery. Goodwin crowned his week's work by beating Dallas on Saturday.

Despite their good record for the week, the Buffs are still six games from the top rung. The Panthers went through the week with but one setback and were enabled to entrench themselves more firmly than ever in first place because they found Wichita Falls easy picking while the Buffs were forced into idleness on two days by rain. The Buffs and Panthers meet in a crucial series this week at Panther park which will include at least one double header. The outcome of this series will determine in a large measure the question of another split season.

A severe reverse for Houston would undoubtedly cause the club owners to consider a split, as Fort Worth would then have a lead so commanding as to decrease interest in the race with a consequent decline in gate receipts. Although the slumping Bears experienced one of their worst weeks of the season, winning only two games, and dropping to third place, they are in little immediate danger of sinking farther. They are seven games to the fore of Wichita Falls, who clings tenaciously to the lower berth of the first division. The Spudders could win no more games than they lost, but at that they drew up out of danger of the horns of the Dallas Steers, who turned in but one victory during the week as against five defeats, including a 22 to 0 massacre at the hands of Fort Worth on Sunday.

Waco at last found in Beaumont a team they could beat and laid it on the hapless Exporters in a two-game series. Shreveport made a move as if to go somewhere when they downed the Steers on two successive days, but lost this advantage by dropping two out of three to the lowly Exporters.

Eddie Kollman, pitcher of the Wichita Falls Electric company nine in the Twilight league, dropped a hard luck battle to the Travelers Sunday in the first game of the last half of the split season by the total tabulation of 6 to 4. None of the Travelers' runs were earned off the Electric heaver. He allowed fur four scattered bingles, two of which came in the seventh. Hatton of the Travelers allowed eight hits. These were well scattered through the nine innings also.

Johnson and Riley of the Electric company divided half of their team's hits between them. Each colected a coupe of safe ones. Riley Rawls and Elmo Johnson featured in the field with several flashing plays. Blue, Whatley, Hatton and Johnson each hit for the circuit. Lesley collected the only hit made off Kollman for the first six innings when his grounder took a bad hop over Thurman and bounced into the outfield for three bases.

Both Score in First.

Both clubs scored in the first. Norwood went to second when Andy Taylor ehrew out to first. He took third when Hicks tried to pick him off second, but threw wild. Thurman flied out to Rawls who held Norwood at third. Coolidge hit to Belcher who tried for Norwood at the plate, but the Electric company skipper was safe.

The Travelers opened their half when when Ramsey spilled Hefner's higfh fly. Kerr sacrificed him to second. Hefner stole third and scored on Rawls' sacrifice fly to deep center.

Blue's home run put the Electric company in the lead in the fourth frame. Whatley's long home run to center added another to the lead in the first of the second.

Electrics' Defense Blows.

In the last of the second Kollman's support broke down. Rawls was safe on Whatley's bobble. Woods forced Rawls at second, third to second. Taylor was passed on four wide ones. Belcher hit to Kollman, who threw to the second baseman. Thurman threw to first to complete what appeared to be a double play. Umpire Shamburger ruled that Thurman was off the base and called Belcher out at first. Woods took third. Murrell hit to Thurman who threw low to first. Woods and Taylor scored. Hicks smashed a clean double to center sending Murrell to third. Hatton poled a long home run to deep left scoring Murrell and Hicks ahead of him. Hefner grounded out third to first.

Johnson opened the ninth for the Electric company with a home run over the left fielder.

HEREFORD BUSINESS GOOD.

Postal Receipts Show Fair Increase Over May's Receipts Last Year.

HEREFORD, June 14.—Business is holding up surprisingly well in Hereford as is shown by the postoffice receipts for the month of May. There was only a 4 per cent decrease in postoffice receipts during May as compared with April, accordi.. to J. A. Wear, local postmaster, who states that this decrease is due to the fact that farmers are unusually busy in their crops rather than because of the increase in postage rates. The receipts for May, 1925, show a fair increase over the business done in May, 1924.

TEXAS LEAGUE

WACO 8; FORT WORTH 6.

FORT WORTH, June 14.—Don Brown beat the Cats here today in the first game of the series, when he broke up a thrilling rally with a sensational catch of Billy Mullen's line drive, with the tying runs on base, and the top of the batting order coming up. The final count was 8 to 6 in favor of Waco. Trailing the Cubs by six runs, the Cats started in the eighth to overcome the lead, and when Doc Smith, pinch hitter deluxe, doubled with the bases full, and Pate singled with the cushions again crowded, it looked as if the Cats would win. But Brown's great stop saved the day. Jack Calvo, Cat Cuban outfielder got into the lineup for the first time when he pinch hit for Moore in the eighth, drawing a walk to fill the bases after Smith's double had scored two runs. SHREVEPORT, June 14.—The southpaw offerings of Lefty Barnes were easy pickings for the Sports and the Buffs dropped the opening game here Sunday afternoon 5 to 2. The locals made four runs off Barnes in the second and third innings and drove him out of the box with two singles in the fourth. Benge relieved him and a sacrifice fly scored a runner Barnes had put on base. In the last four innings Benge retired Shreveport in order.

DALLAS 8-0; BEAUMONT 1-2.

DALLAS, June 14—Dallas divided two games with Beaumont today, winning the first game 8 to 1, with batting support behind Brown's fine mound work, while for the second time this year, Fillingim shut out the Steers, 2 to 0, in the after-piece. Both games were well played and well pitched. In the opening game, Umpire Daly parked Bernsen, Woehrs, Foreman and Lewis and then cleared the Beaumont bench. The second game was played under protest by Beaumont when Daly refused to permit Bernsen back on the bench. Score:

DEAF SMITH IN GOOD SHAPE.

Audit of Books Shows Everything in Tip-top Condition.

HEREFORD, June 14.—The books of Deaf Smith county have just been audited by J. S. Oglesby, public accountant of Dallas, who states that the books are in first class condition. The records show a cash balance of more than $60,000 while a number of the counties are borrowing money at present to pay current expenses. This is the first time the Deaf Smith county books have ever been audited by a public accountant.

President Says Insult Given

protect such interests, and attention should be called to the fact that said ambassador does not represent any other foreigner but his own fellow citizens and Mexico could not admit that without her previous authorization, the American ambassador should act in behalf of persons or interests alien to those of his own country."

"If the government of Mexico, as affirmed, is now on trial before the world," he says, "such is the case with the government of the United States, as well as those of other countries; but if it is to be understood that Mexico is on trial in the guise of a defendant, my government absolutely rejects with energy such imputations, which in essence would only mean an insult."

Sent to the Press.

The Calles statement, like that of Secretary Kellogg, was directed to the press and therefore was not an exchange between the two governments. Nevertheless some officials were astonished over the Mexican executive's use of such words as "insult" and "threat to the sovereignty of Mexico," in setting before the public his side of the matter, although it was recalled that the Kellogg statement was also uncommonly blunt.

In the absence of Secretary Kellogg tonight, who was one of President Coolidge's guests on a week-end cruise aboard the Mayflower, accessible officials were inclined to view the Mexican statement as representative of Presiednt Calles' interpretation of the Kellogg statement. They did not believe that the secretary of state at any time intended to threaten Mexican sovereignty nor to "insult" the Mexican government nor people. The statement issued by Mr. Kellogg Friday was said to contain all that he intended to say, at least for the present and to "speak for itself." It was not communicated to the Mexican government, and so far as is known, there has been no official exchange between Washington and Mexico City since that time to which the state department has been a party.

Under these circumstances, it was said tonight, Mr. Kellogg upon returning to his desk tomorrow probably would ignore the Calles statement, preferring to let the controversy rest rather than prolong it by issuing further statements and continuing arguments in a public fashion. Should the Mexican executive, however, officially address a statement to the secretary, the affair at once would take on a different aspect and Mr. Kellogg undoubtedly would send an acknowledgment through official channels.

Knows the Inside.

In the background of the statement issued Friday by the secretary, is a wealth of information given him by assistants charged with the conduct of Mexican affairs. Much of this information has been laid before President Coolidge and revealed to Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, and Senator Smoot of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, before Mr. Kellogg's statement was made public. Others who were informed at the same time as to the contents of the reports regarding Mexico, said later that the secretary's language struck them when they read the statement as being both cautious and moderate.

Included in the mass of information before Mr. Kellogg are numerous reports of cases in which property owned by American citizens in Mexico has been seized by so-called agrarians who have occupied the lands without legal porceedings. Disregard for the agrarian laws by natives is said, in this connection, to have become so flagrant that the supreme court of Mexico recently presented a memorial to President Calles calling attention to the fact that its decisions in cases involved in interpretations of agrarian laws are ignored practically throughout the country by local authorities as well as by individuals.

Representations Made.

The Washington government has made numerous representations to the Mexico City government and other appropriate authorities in attempts to have squatters ejected from American-owned lands by Mexican federal troops and have the troops stationed close by the scenes of such disturbances to protect the land owners. This situation is giving the Washington government serious concern, particularly since it has lately reached the point where even authorized expropriations are being made without compensation to the owners in any known case.

Another problem now causing some anxiety here is said to be the labor situation in Mexico. An illustration of the extent to which labor influences have been extended is noticed in the case of a British tramway manager, who the reports said, was suddenly threatened with expulsion from Mexico because he refused to recognize a syndicate of striking workmen.

The Calles administration does not appear to have established a labor policy. By recent decree it placed all railroad employes under the secretariat of communication, automatically making them government employes without the irght to strike. At the same time, it seems to be taking a somewhat conflicting course of encouraging the formation of a national union of workmen.

58 Homers Hit In Majors Past Week

CHICAGO, June 14.—Home run tickets were attached to 58 base hits that thundered out of major league baseball parks during the last week. They included two hammered out by Babe Ruth, idol of bleacher fans, who got the range and was off in pursuit o fthe leaders under a handicap of 15 homers.

In the week's total of four-ply blows, National league batsmen had the better of their rivals in the junior circuit by a margin of thirty-three to twenty-five. The Chicago Cubs rang out nine for the highest total in both leagues, while the Philadelphia Nationals, whose galaxy of hitters in the home run class is the highest of all clubs, collected just one circuit blow.

Manager Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals stretched his total to seventeen and captured the individual home run leadership, including games of today. It broke his tie of a week ago with Bob Meusel of the New York Americans.

KAY IS PROUD OF WICHITANS' GIVING SPIRIT

Summer Weather Fails to Hit Attendance At Lecture Much

Hot summer weather never cut as heavily as might have been expected yesterday morning into attendance at Judge Kay's Bible lecture; 369 answered present.

The lecture in part follows:

"It is a mighty big thing to live in Wichita Falls. For some reason, for many reasons, we have been blessed above any people that I know, and it is my belief that this is the best town to live in, and to make a living in, and to raise a family in, that I ever knew. One of the things that has made Wichita Falls great is the liberality of our big men. They are not selfish. They pour out money like water here, on any kind of a call for the public good, and I think that is one of the chief things that has made Wichita Falls. I have got a curious doctrine about that. I believe that a man, if he hasn't got but one dollar, he ought to give away some little part of it. I do. Because, it is written: "Cast your bread upon the waters, know ye not that it shall return unto you many days hence? Give a portion unto six and also unto seven, for ye know not what evil shall come upon the earth." A man ought to be afraid and ashamed to keep all the money that he gets hold of.

"I heard a man talking about another man not long ago. And, he says, "that old duck has got ninety cents out of the first dollar he ever made." A man like that is just encumbering the earth, and breathing up good air that some other better man ought to be breathing; and eating up food that could be used for a better purpose, and drinking water that he ought to be drowned in. Let us go on with liberality.

Doesn't Know Greek.

It has been one of the painful regrets of my life that I never knew Greek. The Greeks had a better way of putting things than anybody else. When they needed a verb to exactly express themselves, they knew where to find it. The English language is very poor. In a great many instances we have to go out and borrow words. The Greeks had a word wherever they needed one. This word "scattered;" that is, that these apostles, disciples and Christians were scattered from Jerusalem, doesn't mean just got out of town, ran away, escaped, fell here and fell there.

It used to be, and some of us remember it, even some of us that are not old, that a farmer used to take a bushel basket on his arm and sow wheat, and, that's what that word "scattered" meant; that seed were sown, and that seed brought forth a mighty harvest.

Antioch was a fine town, the second or at least the third Roman city. A wonderful place, lots of good and lots of bad in the city. And, these people were up there, and they needed help, and I come in sight of my second text, "And it came unto the ears of the church" that these folks needed some help up there.

"Has a church got an ear? Are there some things that a church ought to hear? Are there, indeed, some things that the church must hear? I don't know about a church. I never tried to run one. They never sent for me to run one. But, it does seem to me that the church fails to hear a great many things that it ought to hear.

A Church So Fine.

You can build a church so fine that nobody will go in it. Lots of great, fine churches are built through pure vanity. "We are going to have the biggest and the finest in town!" I saw one in Baltimore, Md., that the roof was made and covered with hammered gold, and, when the morning sun lit up these two gold domes of that church, a man could almost imagine that the new Jerusalem was not far to seek. But, after all, did that do anybody much good?

"Do you know what I think the church ought to hear with its ear? Here's some widow down here, with three or four children, that needs a sack of flour, and some money to pay the doctor with and to buy some medicine with, and to pay the house rent with: A church that fails to hear that is, in the eyes of Heaven, deaf to my mind. Here's a fellow up here in jail. Now, a fellow in jail, to you and to me, is a pariah, he is an outcast.

Many Don't Go.

"It ought to come to the ears of the church in Wichita Falls that there are multiplied thousands of men and women here that never see the inside of a church. It ought to come to the ears of this church, and of all the churches in Wichita Falls, that the church's mission is evangelism, and that its only object, and its only reason, and its existence, is that the souls of sinners may be cured. Because, that is its only office, its only great office, at least. Now, let's get a little practical application of that. We ought to go out in the highway and byways and in the hedges, any place, every place, and get,—a bunch of nice fellows to come in here? No! A bunch of wise men? No! We ought to go out and get just any man to come here to our Sunday school, no matter what his occupation, or his dress, or his character, or his history. We ought to go out and get him because he is made in the image of his God, and because the cross was created on Calvary for him, as for all.

Then, it must come to your ears, I say, that God's people ought to be a consecrated and a peculiar people, different to all other people. Because if there is no difference, then there is no christianity.

These things I have said to you, this morning, because, to my mind, christianity is not an easy, indifferent, happy-go-lucky, hit or miss proposition, but it requires a good head, and a stout heart, that will stand up in every kind of temptation and storm, and say that —"My life, and my body, and my soul are consecrated to the Master."

VARIETY IS MOVIE CARD

Enough Shows in Week's Program to Please Everyone's Taste

Variety again, that's the card at the Wichita Falls moving picture houses this week. "Chu Chin Chow" at the Strand, "Any woman," at the Olympic, or Weber and Fields' "fiendly Enemies" at the Mission—there is in the group one show at least to suit every taste.

Arabian Night Fete

The Strand's "Chu Chin Chow" is a picturization of the musical comedy which enjoyed an extensive booking over the entire nation recently and sustains a reputation as one of the best shows ever sent west from Broadway. The story is in the main that of the old Arabian Night, the story of Ali Babi and the treasure cave, and of the 40 thieves. There is an additional love story of the beautiful Zahrat, pride of a desert village, whose nuptals with Omar are interrupted by the entrance of the desert's shiek. Zahrat becomes the bandit's slave, Omar his captive. Omar escapes while Zahrat is lodged with Salim, rich miser of Bagdad, whose gold the bandit covets. The Bagdad miser sells the beautiful Zahrat to Chu Chin Chow who is none other than the bandit chief in disguise.

Abou, the bandit releases Zahrat and tracks her to Omar's hiding place. He brings the two back to his secret cave in the desert and leaves them to live forever afterward as captives "amidst countless riches."

The story of the rescue is the story of the Arabian nights, mare the more beautiful by reason of the extraordinary charm and beauty of Betty Blythe, as the captive Zahrat.

The picture filled the first of a three-day run yesterday.

Alice Terry Is Star

Alice Terry is the Olympic's star in "Any Woman." Alice is too good looking to be a working girl. Her employers won't leave her alone. She is unavoidably thrown into a compromising position with one of them and only with the utmost difficulty extricates serself from a resultant scandal which looms when the wife in the case insists on a divorce.

The third person, a nice looking chap, is the solution to the dilema. Both employers deside that after all their wives are best, and the story ends more than happily.

Weber and Fields, inimitable and everlasting comedians of the first water, break out in something new in the Mission's "Friendly Eenemies," on the most laughable mirth provoking pictures that has come to Wichita Falls in months. The Mutt and Jeff aspect of the two comedians makes a story worth telling in itself. Anyway if you want to laugh away all the day's worries go to the Mission for inspiration.

The Palace and Garden both offer wild west pictures again. Jack Hoxie is at the palace in "Riding Thunder." Beginning today the Palace will also have a new musical comedy, "The Garden of Mirth," scheduled as one of the best Palace offerings this season. The Garden offers "The Forbidden Range," a Neal Hart western production, for one day more in addition to Andy Gump in "Oh, Min," and the second installment in the great circus mystery.

METHODISM IS LIVING RIGHT-- S. M. U. DEAN

Vice President of Dallas College Speaks Here Sunday

"You cannot go to church on Sunday and forget about it during the week; in other words you have to live Christianity to be a Methodist." That is the doctrine of Methodism in a nutshell," declared Dr. H. M. Whaling, vice-president of the Southern Methodist university of Dallas at the Floral Heights Methodist church yesterday morning.

Pastor of Many Churches.

"I have been a pastor of churches of several denominations. These include everything from Congregational organizations to a Dutch Reformed church in Patterson, N. J. Among these churches I have found people who are just as devout and sincere in their beliefs as in any Methodist church.

"Division among the protestant churches dates back, contrary to the belief of many, to a dissension in the Church of England where different groups found different portions of the New Testament as a basis. There is no question but that grounds exist for any of these beliefs; for different modes of church government. Methodism, different from any of the other protestant churches, was not founded on this basis, however.

"John Wesley never actually withdrew from the Church of England. He preached a doctrine of living Christianity, stating that mode of government and other forms were immaterial by comparison. The criticism against Methodism that it is too strict is a compliment to the doctrine rather than a slam. It merely shows that the people professing Methodism are living up to their stated belief that Methodists shall partake of no amusement into which they cannot bring the Lord Jesus Christ."

Group of Societies.

Dr. Whaling stressed the fact that Methodism is not a church but a group of societies, into which a member of the clergy of any other church may come and preach. He mentioned that Methodists have never been allowed this privilege with other churches. He dwelt at length on the history of the Methodist groups. His sermon, delivered in a pleasing conversational manner, was pronounced yesterday as one of the best doctrinal sermons ever heard in Wichita Falls.

Dr. Whaling occupied the pulpit at the Floral Heights church again last night, leaving immediately afterward for Dallas.

N. Texas Hospital Fourth Per Capita

The North Texas Hospital for Insane, located in Wichita Falls, had the fourth lowest per capita cost of all eleemosynary institutions in Texas during the month of May, according to reports issued from Austin. The Wichita Falls institution spent a total of $25,920 during that month or an average cost per patient of $16.27. The three institutions making a better record were less than a dollar under the North Texas Hospital for Insane. The Girls' Training school at Gainesville was the highest of all state institutions, the per capita cost of operation being $78.93.

The record established by the officials of the Wichita asylum is a very creditable one and bespeaks highly of the business management established by the officials.

C. C. FRAZEE IS EMPLOYED CITY PLAY DIRECTOR

Nine Junior College Boys To Aid in City-Wide Work in Summer

WORK OVER CITY

Parks and Fire Stations To Be scene for Recreation

An organized program of playground work is to be offered the youngsters of Wichita Falls this summer under the direction of C. C. Frazee, physical education director of the Junior college, who has been retained by the city council to devote full time to systematic conduct of out door recreation.

Mr. Frazee and a corps of nine young men familiar with his methods will start Tuesday morning on work that will last until the first week in September. Those who will assist Mr. Frazee are: LeRoy Richardson, Roy Reeder, Pierpont Brand, Truman Seals, J. C. Cumley, Shumake Baber, Jack Liggett, Marland Ross, Sidney Martin, Leland Miller and Ralph Woodson.

Outlines His Plan.

In an outline of his plan, submitted to the council Monday night, Mr. Frazee indicated that his activities would extend through all the larger city parks where playground apparatus is available; through community centers; at the fire stations and elsewhere it might be conducted to advantage. Playground games which include everything from marble and horseshoe tournaments on down will be supervised. Athletic contests of varying nature are being arranged; a city wide marble tourney will be staged; another city-wide horse shoe pitching contest is contemplated; group and ensemble folk-dances; calesthenics and physical exercise and community singing will be offered.

Supervisors winll be stationed at the larger parks and assurance is given that parents may leave their children there for periods of constructive and beneficial training.

Has Had Wide Training.

Mr. Frazee has had wide training in this line of work. He is a graduate of the Fort Worth public schools and studied at T. C. U. later at the Y. M. C. A. college, Chicago, and at the Y summer camp at Lake Geneva, Wis. He studied professional dancing at the Clindenon school, St. Louis and has had other instruction. ## 800 To Picnic Until "Tired Out" As Guests of the Salvation Army

WICHITA FALLS may have seen big picnics in its day—picnics that have been impressive both in point of numbers and enthusiasm—but probably has never seen one the equal of the 800-ply session of rampant fun that will start at Scotland park today when the Salvation Army is host to 800 or more Wichitans.

A Whole Day of It.

The whole day will be devoted to entertainment of those who, without the help of the army, might see a whole summer come and go without the blessing of an ice cream cone, a tin cup of lemonade or a swing on a giant stride. That it will be a hilarious one from first to last is already a foregone conclusion.

Fun will start promptly at 9 o'clock when the whole group will leave the Salvation Army citadel on Seventh street. Automobiles are to be provided by the Lions club, and the city police department will have motorcycle cops on hand to keep the street clear and to lead the parade. The cars will leave the citadel and go to Scott and Seventh, south on Scott to Ninth, east to Indiana, north to Seventh, east to Ohio and then north on Ohio and through North Wichita and Scotland addition to Scotland park.

Merchants Give Prizes.

Through the generosity of Wichita Falls merchants and business men an imposing array of prizes have been gathered for presentation to victors in the various contests. These include, for the most part, useful articles. Nail driving contests, races for fat ladies and lean ladies, potato races, sack races and other events will be run off at various times in the morning and afternoon. A detailed list of these will be found below.

Wichita Falls is to become headquarters for the fourth company of its kind in the United States in the establishment here by J. H. Murphy and D. I. Morgan of a bridge and foundation corporation. This announcement was made Monday by Mr. Murphy who is well known in Wichita Falls.

Extensive successful experience in the work of building bridges and foundations is back of the new Wichita Falls concern. Mr. Murphy, formerly of Dallas, has done practically all of the Frank Kell bridge work, work at the Garza dam, at Lake Kemp, the local street car bridge and bridge work at Waurika.

As indicated above there are at the present time only three foundation companies in the United States, none in Texas and only one bridge company in Texas.

THE WEATHER

"Our baby is soft on top of the head, but Mamma says it will get hard if it takes after Papa."

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch, Pain and Sweat.

FUSHIN' the Cedar in the spring,
Or down along Duck Crick,
Down where the brambles may be thick,
And thorns on everything.
Although the brambles tore my clo'es,
I says, says I, "I don't suppose
That any trout was landed yet
Without a little pain and sweat."

Fishin' the Cedar in the May,
Or down along the Duck.
You learn that life ain't so much luck
As some folks seem to say.
The berry bushes tear your hide,
There's deadfalls by the water-side,
But nothin' man will ever gain
Without a little sweat and pain.

Fishin' the Cedar all the years,
And Duck Crick and the rest,
I often found the fishin' best
When the gray sky appears.
On cloudy days they seem to bite;
From fishin' I have learned a sight;
God sends us blessing's lots of ways,
And lots of 'em on cloudy days.

Fishin' the Cedar in the spring,
Or Duck, or where you will,
I hope you keep on fishin' still
Through thorns, through everything.
You'll maybe learn the truth of life,
That victories are won with strife,
And nothin' good you ever get
Without a little pain and sweat.

County to Enforce State Law Officials Know Nothing Of

COUNTY officials here may soon be confrontde with the necessity of enforcing a law the provisions of which they know nothing about.

The new state headlight testing law, applicable to lights on all automobiles, becomes effective June 19, but so far no copies of the statute have been received here and nothing is known as to what it requires. County Attorney Wayne Somerville said Monday efforts had been made to secure a copy of the new rules but that none had been found as yet.

The law passed by the last legislature and pertains to the glare and lighting properties of lights on motor cars.

Further efforts will be made to secure a copy of the statutes, Mr. Somerville indicated, and proper information will be given out at that time.

JAMAICA JAKE TO BE BANNED IN THIS CITY

Ginger Sale Believed To Be Cause of Much Drunkenness

Believing that promiscous sale by drug stores of Jamacia ginger is by far the greatest contributing cause to drunkenness in Wichita Falls, Mayor R. E. Shepherd with support of other members of the city council plans a law prohibiting sale of the drug for any purpose. An ordinance outlawing the potent "jake" will probably be drafted in a short time and made operative at once. It will have "teeth" sufficient to make its sale by druggists too costly a proposition to experiment with, it was stated.

The mayor learned not long ago that the city of Los Angeles had recently won a case in the United States supreme court wherein the constutionality of a prohibitory law in California was upheld. Los Angeles, it seems, passed a measure several years ago forbidding sale of Jamacia ginger in any form. Druggists of the west coast fought it through all the courts of the land, and not until recently was the legality of the rule upheld by the nation's highest tribunal.

Mayor Shepherd has written for a copy of the Los Angeles law and has indicated that when it arrives, which will probably be the latter part of this week, he will take steps to secure passage of a similar measure here.

Police department records show, Commissioner Frank Queisser has said, that an overwhelming percentage of intoxication cases are caused through "jake" drinking. He is supporting the mayor wholebeartedly in the plan.

No state law prohibits sale of the ginger, and while a federal law limits its sale to two bottles per person, this is sufficient to produce a glorious jag. Convictions on violations of the federal law has always been a difficult matter, also.

Amundsen's Ship Entered U. S. Port Illegally Years Ago; Is Still In Harbor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Anchored fast in the sand dunes where Golden Gate park in this city faces the Pacific ocean is Amundsen's ship, the Gjoa, which it was pointed out today, arrived in this port illegally 19 years ago and still retains its illegal status.

The Gjoa was attested by the Norwegian consu to have arrived at San Francisco from the magnetic north pole, but it was brought to this port with no clearance papers "signed by a proper officer" of the sailing port.

Consulted as to this violation of the maritime law, collector of the port, W. B. Hamilton, said today that California, like the rest of the world would welcome Amundsen again and that San Francisco is probably the only port in possession of a ship which "cleared" from the North Pole.

M. A. MAUPIN'S EYESIGHT GIVES MUCH CONCERN

Prominent Wholesale Grocer Suffering From Impaired Vision

HOPE IS FOR BEST

Friends Hear That Medical Science Believes Correction is Possible

It became known Monday that what is believed to be the effect of a nervous disorder upon the optic nerve has brought about a condition in the eyesight of Milt A. Maupin of Blair and Maupin, wholesale grocers of Wichita Falls, which is causing much concern. In fact, persons associated with Mr. Maupin stated last night that whether or not Mr. Maupin would fully recover his eye-sight "is problematical."

It was stated, however, that Mr. Maupin at present has not entirely lost his vision.

One Eye Affected.

Mr. Maupin's ailment for a number of years has affected the sight of one eye seriously, it was stated. It was on last Wednesday while about his work at the company offices here that sudden affectation of the other eye resulted and physicians were called to attend him immediately.

Constant medical attention was given Mr. Maupin on the following two days at the end of which time he left for the home of his brother, E. H. Maupin, in Dallas where business associates last night stated he was remaining for the present. It is possible that he may return to Wichita Falls either today or Wednesday.

"We are much concerned over Mr. Maupin's condition," a close friend stated to the Record News last night, "but his vision has not entirely left him and in that fact there is much to be hoped for the best. We are told that it is believed medical science knows the cause of Mr. Maupin's condition and that in case the diagnosis proves correct there is every reason to hope for the best, but in case the diagnosis does not prove correct the results are problematical."

Ran Down Theft Ring.

Others pointed out that they believed Mr. Maupin's nervous ailment had been greatly enhanced by discovery recently of a theft ring which had operated at the Blair and Maupin company to the extent of stealing over $3,000 worth of goods. Charges have recently been filed against nine men. It is known that Mr. Maupin worked night and day on the case when suspicions were first brought to his attention, he having resolved to leave no stone unturned until the theft ring was broken.

Mr. Maupin is one of the best grocery merchants in Texas. He resided in Quanah for a number of years connected with the old Blair-Hughes company, coming to Wichita Falls when he purchased the interest of Mr. Hughes in the present business. He is about 50 years old.

"Didn't Say 'Mit Me King!" Declares Des Moines Man Who Shook George's Hand

NEW YORK, June 15. — (AP)—John H. Cownie, glove manufacturer of Des Moines, Iowa, who shook hands with King George and introduced his little son at the Wembley exhibition last month without going through the usual formalities, arrived today on the Adriatic, vastly amused at the furore of his unconventional act caused.

"I didn't say 'Mitt me, King' in the first place," he said, "nor did I push my way through a crowd to meet him as some of the newspapers reported."

What actually happened, he said, was that the king happened to stand near him and his son at one of the booths.

"I looked at the king and nodded," he related, "and he in turn nodded back, cordially. I said, how do you do' and asked him if he would like to shake hands with a young American, meaning my son.

"The king said 'certainly' and said it as if he meant it and shook hands with both of us. After chatting with us several moments he passed on to another booth, expressing the hope we would enjoy the exhibition and our stay in England."

The episode stirred the English papers to protest against the king's being subjected to informal greetings while in public.

Stops Wife's Nostrils With Cotton While She Is in Drunken Sleep, Then Slays Her With Lethal Gas

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 15.—(AP)—Careful planning of a pre-mediated murder was charged to Dr. Thomas W. Young, dentist in the evidence produced late today at the coroner's inquest on the body of his wife, Grace, former widow of Patrick Grogan, olive millionaire.

At the conclusion of testimony the coroner laid the death of his wife at Young's door, naming the means as "administration of lethal gas and strangulation."

Tells of Meditation.

Charles Riemer, district attorney's investigator, took the stand in the investigation into the death of the woman whose body was found encased in concrete in a cistern at the Young cottage in Beverly Glen, near here, and detailed the high lights of Young's confessed preparations to cover his tracks before the killing took place as follows:

The pair had had frequent quarrels, including one the night Mrs. Young disappeared, February 21 last, in which she slapped her dentist husband's face breaking his glasses.

They drove in their car from the roadhouse, where this occurred, to his office. There he plied his wife with liquor until she became confused. In this state he induced her to write a letter and a post card addressed to him, which he had a friend to mail in the East later to indicate that she was still alive February 21.

To Get Her Fortune.

The dentist also had her sign blank pieces of paper for use he said in obtaining $100,000 in liberty bonds which he had given her a short while before.

Then they left the office, but not before he had pocketed a quantity of lethal gas, a cone and tube for administering it and some cotton wadding.

Mrs. Young fell asleep in the car and as they drove towards the Beverly Glen cottage, he placed the rubber tube in her mouth, adjusted the cone, poured in the lethal fluid and stopped her nostrils with the cotton.

When the dentist pulled up his car at the cottage door, his wife was dead beside him. He got a wheel barrow and trundled her body into the house.

Later he put it into the cistern and covered it with tar paper and a layer of concrete.

Makes Confession.

There it was found Saturday after he had made his first confession following his detention by district attorney's investigators.

Young Grogan upon his return to the district attorney's office after the inquest over his mother, erased his last faith in his stepfather when he destroyed a will bequeathing $1,000,000 to Dr. Young.

The youth told investgators he had made the will to his stepfather at the latter's instance, June 9, nearly three months after Mrs. Young met death, because he "had faith in Tom."

Upon advice of District Attorney Keyes the document was destroyed by the law who was told that in event of his sudden death the fortune would go to Dr. Young.

AUTO DEALERS HAVE BANQUET MONDAY NIGHT

Judge J. S. Dickey Speaks Before Big Crowd Of Men

Taking the history of the automobile from the time of its beginning when the high-wheeled buggy-like body was the latest model, to the time when the newt eight cylinder, four-wheel brake, disc wheels, stream line, automobile is not late enough, Judge Joseph S. Dickey painted a vivid picture of the auto industry and its influence on man, before the banquet of the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers association at the Wichita club last night.

He painted a word picture first of the car as it was conceived in the mind of the inventor; of the first model made in a carriage shop; of the second model so radical that the people would have none of it on to the time of the present day car, which in spite of its speed and latest fixtures is always behind the times, so rapidly is the industry growing.

DUNCAN YOUTH GOES ON TRIAL FOR ASSAULT

Waurika Trial Begins Monday, Jury Still Incomplete

WAURIKA, Okla., June 15.—The trial of Harry Sledge, charged with assault committed upon the person of Ethel Sreways, February 21, 1924, was begun today, the case having a change of venue from Duncan, Stephens county. Implicatd with Sledge are Ted Elliott and Bill Brown, all of Duncan, but a severance of the case has been granted and each defendant will be tried alone, with District Judge M. W. Pugh of Marlow, on the bench. Juddge Pugh this morning overruled a motion for continuance of the case because of two witnesses for the defense not being located. The afternoon has been given over to the selection of a jury and at 5 o'clock tonight all indications are that the panel of 48 will be exhausted and another venire required.

An Array of Counsel.

Representing Sledge are D. M. Bridges of Waurika, R. H. Brown and H. W. Sitton fo Duncan; for the state J. H. Long, county attorney of Stephens county; Ben F. Sayre and P. D. Sullivan of Duncan. All three of the boys implicated come from among the best families of Duncan, young Sledge's father being a Stephens county capitalist.

The girl in the case, Ethel Sreywas, is a modest, retiring little brown-eyed, brown-haired girl of 18, of French-American birth, whose father is dead and who has made her home with the family of R. B. McClure of Duncan, for the past several years.

The crime was committed Saturday night February 21, when the Sreywaus girl was invited by three boys, accompanied by another girl, Billy Morrison, to the Sledge home, which is one of the best homes in the city of Duncan.

To Tell of Attack.

Instead the girls were taken to the Sledge cottage on one of the farms near Duncan, where the crime was alleged to have been committed, after a bitter struggle and fight in which the Sreywaus girl was beaten in a most horrible manner, and choked into submission.

BILLY'S FIANCE RELATES HOW DEATH'S HAND CHEATED LOVE

Isabelle Pope Testifies For Prosecution in Shepherd Germ Trial

SAYS DEFENDANT LIED

Accuses Him of Misleading Her Regarding Marriage License

CHICAGO, June 15.—(AP)—The long awaited great human interest element in the Shepherd murder trial was thrust dramatically into the spotlight late today when Miss Isabelle Pope, who waited with a marriage license while "Billy" McClintock died, took the witness stand.

Still wearing the diamond engagement ring, presentation of which, the state contends, was the signal for William Darling Shepherd to perpetrate the final deed in a 16-year-old plot to obtain the $1,000,000 McClintock estate, the fatal administering of typhoid germs to "Billy," the frail demure young woman added her bit to the mesh of circumstance the state is seeking to weave about the 50-year-old lawyer.

Much of Miss Pope's array of accusations against the man who prevented her marriage to young McClintock was kept out by defense objections, and her story was not completed at adjournment.

Stopped Being Nice.

The Shepherds were "nice" to her, testified Miss Pope, until it became apparent that Billy's intentions toward her were serious.

It is the contention of the prosecution that Shepherd decided upon slaying the youth who for sixteen years had been his foster son when he realized that marriage would deprive him and Mrs. Shepherd of a luxurious life obtained by the guardianship of the boy and also would break the will he had made upon becoming 21 years old and which named Shepherd as the chief beneficiary.

The pretty young woman's testimony sped smoothly through her childhood acquaintance with Billy McClintock, the love into which it ripened and their engagement. When she sought to explain what caused friction with the Shepherds, her testimony was broken by successful objections by the defense and Miss Pope was forced to eliminate anything which concerned Mrs. Shepherd.

Miss Pope said she had not dis-

KAY IS PROUD OF WICHITANS' GIVING SPIRIT

Summer Weather Fails to Hit Attendance At Lecture Much

Hot summer weather never cut as heavily as might have been expected yesterday morning into attendance at Judge Kay's Bible lecture; 369 answered present.

The lecture in part follows:

"It is a mighty big thing to live in Wichita Falls. For some reason, for many reasons, we have been blessed above any people that I know, and it is my belief that this is the best town to live in, and to make a living in, and to raise a family in, that I ever knew. One of the things that has made Wichita Falls great is the liberality of our big men. They are not selfish. They pour out money like water here, on any kind of a call for the public good, and I think that is one of the chief things that has made Wichita Falls. I have got a curious doctrine about that. I believe that a man, if he hasn't got but one dollar, he ought to give away some little part of it. I do. Because, it is written: "Cast your bread upon the waters, know ye not that it shall return unto you many days hence? Give a portion unto six and also unto seven, for ye know not what evil shall come upon the earth." A man ought to be afraid and ashamed to keep all the money that he gets hold of.

"I heard a man talking about another man not long ago. And, he says, "that old duck has got ninety cents out of the first dollar he ever made." A man like that is just encumbering the earth, and breathing up good air that some other better man ought to be breathing; and eating up food that could be used for a better purpose, and drinking water that he ought to be drowned in. Let us go on with liberality.

Doesn't Know Greek.

It has been one of the painful regrets of my life that I never knew Greek. The Greeks had a better way of putting things than anybody else. When they needed a verb to exactly express themselves, they knew where to find it. The English language is very poor. In a great many instances we have to go out and borrow words. The Greeks had a word wherever they needed one. This word "scattered," that is, that these apostles, disciples and Christians were scattered from Jerusalem, doesn't mean just got out of town, ran away, escaped, fell here and fell there.

It used to be, and some of us remember it, even some of us that are not old, that a farmer used to take a bushel basket on his arm and sow wheat, and, that's what that word "scattered" meant; that seed were sown, and that seed brought forth a mighty harvest.

Antioch was a fine town, the second or at least the third Roman city. A wonderful place, lots of good and lots of bad in the city. And, these people were up there, and they needed help, and I come in sight of my second text, "And it came unto the ears of the church" that these folks needed some help up there.

"Has a church got an ear? Are there some things that a church ought to hear? Are there, indeed, some things that the church must hear? I don't know about a church. I never tried to run one. They never sent for me to run one. But, it does seem to me that the church fails to hear a great many things that it ought to hear.

A Church So Fine.

You can build a church so fine that nobody will go in it. Lots of great, fine churches are built through pure vanity. "We are going to have the biggest and the finest in town!" I saw one in Baltimore, Md., that the roof was made and covered with hammered gold, and, when the morning sun lit up these two gold domes of that church, a man could almost imagine that the new Jerusalem was not far to seek. But, after all, did that do anybody much good?

"Do you know what I think the church ought to hear with its ear? Here's some widow down here, with three or four children, that needs a sack of flour, and some money to pay the doctor with and to buy some medicine with, and to pay the house rent with: A church that fails to hear that is, in the eyes of Heaven, deaf to my mind. Here's a fellow up here in jail. Now, a fellow in jail, to you and to me, is a pariah, he is an outcast.

Many Don't Go.

"It ought to come to the ears of the church in Wichita Falls that there are multiplied thousands of men and women here that never see the inside of a church. It ought to come to the ears of this church, and of all the churches in Wichita Falls, that the church's mission is evangelism, and that its only object, and its only reason, and its existence, is that the souls of sinners may be cured. Because, that is its only office, its only great office, at least. Now, let's get a little practical application of that. We ought to go out in the highway and byways and in the hedges, any place, every place, and get,—a bunch of nice fellows to come in here? No! A bunch of wise men? No! We ought to go out and get just any man to come here to our Sunday school, no matter what his occupation, or his dress, or his character, or his history. We ought to go out and get him because he is made in the image of his God, and because the cross was created on Calvary for him, as for all.

Then, it must come to your ears, I say, that God's people ought to be a consecrated and a peculiar people, different to all other people. Because if there is no difference, then there is no christianity.

These things I have said to you, this morning, because, to my mind, christianity is not an easy, indifferent, happy-go-lucky, hit or miss proposition, but it requires a good head, and a stout heart, that will stand up in every kind of temptation and storm, and say that —"My life, and my body, and my soul are consecrated to the Master."

VARIETY IS MOVIE CARD

Enough Shows in Week's Program to Please Everyone's Taste

Variety again, that's the card at the Wichita Falls moving picture houses this week. "Chu Chin Chow" at the Strand, "Any woman," at the Olympic, or Weber and Fields' "fiendly Enemies" at the Mission—there is in the group one show at least to suit every taste.

Arabian Night Fete

The Strand's "Chu Chin Chow" is a picturization of the musical comedy which enjoyed an extensive booking over the entire nation recently and sustains a reputation as one of the best shows ever sent west from Broadway. The story is in the main that of the old Arabian Night, the story of Ali Babi and the treasure cave, and of the 40 thieves. There is an additional love story of the beautiful Zahrat, pride of a desert village, whose nuptals with Omar are interrupted by the entrance of the desert's shiek. Zahrat becomes the bandit's slave, Omar his captive. Omar escapes while Zahrat is lodged with Salim, rich miser of Bagdad, whose gold the bandit covets. The Bagdad miser sells the beautiful Zahrat to Chu Chin Chow who is none other than the bandit chief in disguise.

Abou, the bandit releases Zahrat and tracks her to Omar's hiding place. He brings the two back to his secret cave in the desert and leaves them to live forever afterward as captives "amidst countless riches."

The story of the rescue is the story of the Arabian nights, mare the more beautiful by reason of the extraordinary charm and beauty of Betty Blythe, as the captive Zahrat.

The picture filled the first of a three-day run yesterday.

Alice Terry Is Star

Alice Terry is the Olympic's star in "Any Woman." Alice is too good looking to be a working girl. Her employers won't leave her alone. She is unavoidably thrown into a compromising position with one of them and only with the utmost difficulty extricates serself from a resultant scandal which looms when the wife in the case insists on a divorce.

The third person, a nice looking chap, is the solution to the dilema. Both employers deside that after all their wives are best, and the story ends more than happily.

Weber and Fields, inimitable and everlasting comedians of the first water, break out in something new in the Mission's "Friendly Eenemies," on the most laughable mirth provoking pictures that has come to Wichita Falls in months. The Mutt and Jeff aspect of the two comedians makes a story worth telling in itself. Anyway if you want to laugh away all the day's worries go to the Mission for inspiration.

The Palace and Garden both offer wild west pictures again. Jack Hoxie is at the palace in "Riding Thunder." Beginning today the Palace will also have a new musical comedy, "The Garden of Mirth," scheduled as one of the best Palace offerings this season. The Garden offers "The Forbidden Range," a Neal Hart western production, for one day more in addition to Andy Gump in "Oh, Min," and the second installment in the great circus mystery.

METHODISM IS LIVING RIGHT-- S. M. U. DEAN

Vice President of Dallas College Speaks Here Sunday

"You cannot go to church on Sunday and forget about it during the week; in other words you have to live Christianity to be a Methodist." That is the doctrine of Methodism in a nutshell," declared Dr. H. M. Whaling, vice-president of the Southern Methodist university of Dallas at the Floral Heights Methodist church yesterday morning.

Pastor of Many Churches.

"I have been a pastor of churches of several denominations. These include everything from Congregational organizations to a Dutch Reformed church in Patterson, N. J. Among these churches I have found people who are just as devout and sincere in their beliefs as in any Methodist church.

"Division among the protestant churches dates back, contrary to the belief of many, to a dissension in the Church of England where different groups found different portions of the New Testament as a basis. There is no question but that grounds exist for any of these beliefs; for different modes of church government. Methodism, different from any of the other protestant churches, was not founded on this basis, however.

"John Wesley never actually withdrew from the Church of England. He preached a doctrine of living Christianity, stating that mode of government and other forms were immaterial by comparison. The criticism against Methodism that it is too strict is a compliment to the doctrine rather than a slam. It merely shows that the people professing Methodism are living up to their stated belief that Methodists shall partake of no amusement into which they cannot bring the Lord Jesus Christ."

Group of Societies.

Dr. Whaling stressed the fact that Methodism is not a church but a group of societies, into which a member of the clergy of any other church may come and preach. He mentioned that Methodists have never been allowed this privilege with other churches. He dwelt at length on the history of the Methodist groups. His sermon, delivered in a pleasing conversational manner, was pronounced yesterday as one of the best doctrinal sermons ever heard in Wichita Falls.

Dr. Whaling occupied the pulpit at the Floral Heights church again last night, leaving immediately afterward for Dallas.
