The SDN Column

There are a few tricky, or unusual, things about the ballot for Tuesday's general election.

County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth pointed out one of them the other day. And, incidentally, some may have thought the county clerk was promoting a candidate, but such was not the case. She was merely passing along an explanation to voters which had been forwarded by the Secretary of State. It was to explain why the name of one of the candidates for vice president is not on the Texas Ballot. The name of S. Marvin Griffin is listed as the American Party VP candidate in Texas, despite the fact that everybody who has been keeping up with the campaign knows that Curtis LeMay is George Wallace's running mate. It happened because LeMay was selected too late to get on the Texas ballot.

Mrs. Ainsworth said it might have appeared to some that she was favoring a candidate by pointing this out, but she is not promoting anyone in her capacity as county clerk. And it might be pointed out here that the county clerk has considerable responsibility in the running of the election. She is expected to be the authority on rules and regulations, must issue and receive absentee ballots and must receive the official returns at her office during the evening hours after the polls close.

There is something else on the ballot that may cause some confusion. The ballot this time has a little square at the head of each party column. If, for example, you want to vote the straight Democratic Party ticket, you may put an X in the square at the heading of the Democratic Party column. However, if you are going to "split" your ballot, that is vote for some candidates in more than one party, leave that square at the top of the column alone and instead mark the square for the individual candidate for each office that you favor. If you mark the "straight ticket" square at the top of one of the columns and then try to split your ticket, you will mutilate your ballot and it will be thrown out, according to information that has been distributed by various sources.

Some cities and counties in Texas have genuine two - party races for local and district offices, which has increased the tempo of their campaigns this year. Scurry County, of course, has no local contests and the campaigns for state and national offices have been left mostly to the state organization. However, I was remembered by one local group which managed some activity here. A bulky parcel addressed to me and labeled "Care Package," was left on my desk the other day. It contained just about every type of Nixon - Agnew campaign aid you can imagine, including four sizes of lapel buttons. The contributors of this package were not identified, but I later learned that Mary Dulaney had something to do with it. And that was the only active political campaigning here that I came in contact with.

Today In History

Today is Sunday, Nov. 3, the 308th day of 1968. There are 58 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1964, President Johnson swamped Republican Barry Goldwater, in a presidential election.

On this date:

In the year 1561, Julian became the Roman emperor on the death of Emperor Constantine.

In 1868, Republican Ulysses S. Grant was elected president, winning over Horatio Seymour.

In 1833, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was organized at a national convention in Chicago.

In 1900, the first national automobile show opened at Madison Square Garden in New York.

In 1965, a plebiscite in Greece brought about the recall of King George II to the throne.

In 1936, the New Deal received a vote of confidence as President Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected. Republican Alf Landon carried only Maine and Vermont.

Ten years ago — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev said the Soviets had been forced to resume nuclear testing because of intensive testing by the United States and Britain.

Five years ago — The Teamsters Union announced its members had voted overwhelmingly to authorize President James R. Hoffa to negotiate contracts with the trucking industry.

South Vietnam Refuses To Attend Peace Talks

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu, who only a day ago reluctantly approved the U.S. bombing halt over North Vietnam, today showed his independence of Washington by saying he will not send a South Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks next week.

He told a cheering Congress his government would never agree to bargain with the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

The United States had hoped for four-way talks beginning next Wednesday, with Saigon, Washington, Hanoi and the NLF represented. To accomplish this, President Johnson called a complete cessation of bombing over North Vietnam beginning at 8 a.m. EST Friday.

In a deeply emotional speech, Thieu made it clear the Saigon government would send a negotiating team to Paris only when it was assured of direct, serious talks with Hanoi.

"I will never accept to lead the country into a venture that would turn me into a traitor," he said, adding that to accept the NLF as a separate entity in Paris would establish a precedent for the possible formation of a coalition government in South Vietnam.

As Thieu made his speech, a broadcast from Radio Hanoi asserted the United States was forced to call a bombing halt "because it was facing great defeats in Vietnam and increasing pressure and condemnation from the peoples throughout the world."

It added that because North Vietnam had agreed to sit with South Vietnam in Paris this "does not mean that the Democratic Republic of Vietnam recognizes the puppet South Vietnamese government."

Despite such obvious signs of discord, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday the United States will seek at the Paris talks an agreement with Hanoi on withdrawal of all foreign forces from South Vietnam.

"One compromise would be for them (the North Vietnamese) to take their troops home, and for the United States and its allies to withdraw their troops, as they have already declared they would do if the North Vietnamese would withdraw," said Rusk. "It is utterly simple and a very quick road to peace."

The Texas White House and the State Department declined comment on Thieu's refusal to send representatives to the peace talks. Other officials speculated that Saigon eventually will come around and send a negotiating team.

In listing his fears and objections to four-way talks, Thieu said: "Hanoi has yet to show any act of de-escalation in the war. But Hanoi is always stubborn and insists on having talks with the United States in its attempt to separate the war in the North from the war in the South, to pose as victims of the U.S. bombing to camouflage their flagrant aggressive acts in the South."

Twisters Pace Plains Sector

Tornadoes bobbed up a couple of places as violent thunderstorms prowled the Panhandle-Plains sector during the night, and a tornado watch was posted for parts of the state this morning.

The Weather Bureau said there would be a threat of twisters until 3 p.m. in a 140-mile-wide corridor centered on a line from 45 miles northwest of Abilene to 35 miles north of Ardmore, Okla.

The Weather Bureau reported that an aircraft sighted two tornado funnels not touching ground about 40 miles west of Mineral Wells at 8 a.m. About that time, scattered thundershowers dotted the area.

Meanwhile, heavy fog settled on the San Antonio and Austin areas and the Weather Bureau described it as causing zero visibility or nearly that.

This posed problems for the campaign of Republican Richard M. Nixon, making a two-day swing through Texas. He was at San Antonio and had a 9:30 .m. liftoff schedule en route to Austin where visibility also was zero.

The Weather Bureau said the fog was expected to hang around until liftoff time or nearly that.

The tornado watch area included these counties: Baylor, Callahan, Cottle, Dickens, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Jones, King, Knox, Motley, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton, Wilbarger, Archer, Clay, Cooke, Grayson Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto, Wichita, Wise and Young.

Bombing Halt Protested By Local Group

A group of Snyder citizens has protested the halting of "the air cover of our fighting men in Vietnam for political purposes" and telegrams have been dispatched to legislators.

Harry Reed, Gene L. Dulaney and S. P. Hulen said they were among some 30 persons who signed the telegram which was addressed to Rep. George H. Mahon of the 19th Congressional District; U. S. Sen. John Tower, and U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

The text of the message: "We the undersigned citizens of Scurry County, Texas, protest the withdrawing by President Johnson of the air cover of our fighting men in Vietnam for political purposes."

SPECIAL RECOGNITION — State Rep. Renal Rosson (left) of Snyder was honored by the State Bar Association Friday for his work on the criminal jurisprudence committee of the House of Representatives. Here, Charles R. Griggs of Sweetwater, state bar director, presents him with a certificate of appreciation.

Enrollment Limitation Criticized

AUSTIN (AP) — If a school in the University of Texas system limits its enrollment, it will have to keep the percentage of non-Texans at 15 or less if it turns away even one Texan who has "reasonably demonstrated" his capacity to do the work, the UT regents said Friday.

Regents Chairman Frank Erwin has been critical in the past of the enrollment limitation at the University's law school at Austin. He said some qualified Texans could not get in because there were so many non-Texans in the school.

The regents also approved a land use study for the UT medical school at San Antonio.

Projected development of the school is divided into three phases:

—The first phase includes a dental school, a school of nursing and nurses' dormitories.

—The second phase calls for basic science research expansion, a school of allied health sciences, a rehabilitation institute and a neuro psychiatric institute.

—The third phase includes a geriatric research unit, a geriatric care center, a cardiovascular institute, a pharmacology unit, and atmospheric environment center, a center for alcoholism and drug addiction, housing for medical students and additional dormitories for nursing students.

Completions Reported

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported Saturday 95 oil and 28 gas wells were completed in Texas the past week.

New completions bring the year totals to 4,269 new oil wells and 1,827 gas wells, compared with 5,312 oil and 2,104 gas completions in 1967.

Wildcats produced six oil and six gas discoveries. Two oil wildcats were in District 7B and one each was in Districts 3, 4, 8A and 9. Four gas strikes were in District 2 and two were in District 3.

A total of 270 wells were plugged, including 58 dry holes.

Feverish Stumping Throughout Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers campaigned busily today with Richard M. Nixon while his Democratic opponent, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, preceded Eggers into Alice by a few hours for a big rally.

It was a home stretch sprint for all public office seekers facing opposition in Tuesday's general election.

While Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, was winding up two days in Texas with visits to San Antono and El Paso, his running mate for vice president, Spiro T. Agnew, was scheduled to deliver what was described as a major policy speech tonight in Harlingen.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, following on their heels, was due in Houston for a Sunday afternoon rally which Sen. Ralph Yarborough predicted would pack the Astrodome.

Also coming up Sunday was the arrival in San Antonio of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, the candidate for vice president running with George C. Wallace on the American Independent Party ticket. He'll attend a $25-a-plate breakfast there Monday.

Before joining Nixon on the campaign trail, Eggers told an Odessa College audience Friday that Nixon's return for a final swing across the state "will insure him a landslide victory even bigger than currently indicated by the polls."

One Injured In Mishap

Jerry Dean Tate, 17, Route 3, sustained minor injuries in an automobile - pedestrian mishap at the pavilion in Towle Park about 10 p.m. Thursday.

He was struck by a car driven by Leo Don Schattel, Route 2, and carried to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by private vehicle, according to investgiating City Policemen. They said a 1964 Model Ford operated by Rocky Travis Cowan, Route 3, was involved in a collision with Schattel's 1967 Mercury during the same mishap. Damage to the Ford was set at $10 and damage to the other car was placed at $150.

The youth was released from the hospital Saturday morning, and his condition was described as good.

Another collision that occurred on Avenue S at Fifteenth Street at 5:15 p.m. on the same day resulted in $100 damage to the 1960 Model Chrysler of Rita Kay Wright, 1503 Avenue S, and $5 damage to the 1953 Model GMC pickup of Jose Prieto, Route 3.

Stoplights Eliminated

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The last stoplight on the main highway running from Canada to California will be eliminated Wednesday when an eight-mile section of freeway east of here is opened.

Rosson Is Honored By Bar Association

The State Bar of Texas honored State Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder Friday for his work on the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee of the House.

State Bar director Charles R. Griggs of Sweetwater presented Rosson a gold-sealed certificate with citation at a luncheon meeting of the Scurry County Bar Association held Friday at Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe.

"This certificate of appreciation is presented," said the citation, "in recognition of his contribution to the administration of justice through his work on the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, House of Representatives, Sixtieth Legislature, 1967-68."

The committee helped revise the Code of Criminal Procedure, originally enacted in 1965. Griggs also praised Rosson for his work as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

James Rosser acted as master of ceremonies. Griggs was accompanied to Snyder by Jim Wilks, also of Sweetwater.

The presentation was made at a gathering of the Scurry County Bar Association.

Plainview Gets Grant For Migrant Housing

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., informed Plainview officials Friday that government financing has been approved for a million dollar project to house migrant farm workers here.

He said this will consist of $537,000 in a federal grant and $539,000 in a government loan.

Plans call for contracts to erect the complex of 10 buildings to be awarded by December. Officials expressed hope the project can be completed in time to house harvest workers next fall.

Twenty-seven Perish In Japan Blaze

KOBE, Japan (AP) — Twenty-seven persons, including two honeymooning couples and a family of four, perished in a predawn fire that razed a hotel today at Arima hotspring resort in southwestern Japan.

Police said several persons were still listed as missing and 44 were injured.

Hotel officials said 247 guests were staying at the hotel, located in a mountainous area five miles north of Kobe, when the fire broke out. Police are investigating to determine the cause.

Fatalities Increase In Texas Traffic

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety said Saturday 2,643 persons have died in Texas traffic this year, compared with 2,630 in 1967.

Fatal accidents also are up, from 2,156 last year to 2,206.

Service Set For Drowning Victim

Tragedy struck in Towle Memorial Park late Friday afternoon claiming the life of little Terri Lynn McLeod, the 1 year and 11 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McLeod.

The child was found shortly before 4 p.m. in the Towle Park pond and all efforts to revive her were fruitless. After she was taken from the pond by the distressed mother, the child was taken by Snyder Ambulance Service to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where she was pronounced dead after further efforts were made to restore life. Death was attributed to drowning.

The child had gone into the back yard of the McLeod home at 2802 Forty-second Street, just across a narrow park road from the pond, a short time before she was found in the water.

Ken McAllister, a colleague of Jerry McLeod on the Snyder Public Schools coaching staff, heard Mrs. McLeod's cries for help as McAllister drilled the Snyder High Tennis team on the Towle Park courts a short distance to the west. McAllister attempted resuscitation until the ambulance arrived.

Terri Lynn was born on Nov. 28, 1966, in Snyder. In addition to the parents, she is survived by two sisters, Patti 7, and Debbie 6 months old; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McLeod of Snyder, Henry Smith of Washington and Mrs. Henry Smith of Brady; and great-grandmothers, Mrs. M. L. McLeod of Merkel and Mrs. Pearl Underwood of Brady.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. today (Sunday) at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ, with the minister, Pat Abbananto, officiating. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

One Of County's Better Crops Seen

Although late summer estimates tended to downgrade prospects, Scurry County apparently had one of its better cotton crops moving from the fields.

Ginning figures Saturday morning showed a total of 22,993 bales processed by the nine gins in the county. Most estimated that about half of the crop, or possibly slightly more, has been ginned. Most gins had substantial amounts of loaded trailers on their yards waiting for their turn at the gin.

County Agent Billy Roach said the Scurry County cotton crop of 1968 appears to exceed earlier forecasts considerably, both in quantity and quality. It had been feared, especially in late summer, that boll weevils would inflict extensive damage. There was damage from the insects, but it was of far less instensity than expected.

Ginning figures reported Saturday morning included the following: Snyder Paymaster, 3,802 bales; Snyder Co-Op, 4,660; Snyder Planters, 910; Dunn, 1,300; Fluvanna Co - Op, 1,650; Ira Layfield Gin, 831; Hermleigh Planters, 1,562; China Grove, 2,735; Inadale, 5,493.

Election Could Produce A Snarl

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compounded confusion reaching into practically every phase of the nation's affairs could stem from failure to produce clear winners for president and vice president in the Nov. 5 election.

The snarl could boost George C. Wallace to the status of president-maker as holder of the balance of power based on his electoral votes, unless the big parties took unprecedented freeze-out measures.

The juggling could all take place in the Electoral College without reaching the point of an election in the House which is the possibility receiving most public discussion.

And most varations of it could carry over into a House vote if the issue ever got that far. Even that could fail to settle it all.

This is because there is no constitutional requirement that the Electoral College system work the way it has been working for well over a century, with an identifiable plurality winner in each state getting that state's whole electoral vote and with party lines holding.

There have been only rare individual exceptions to the winner-take-all rule in recent years and they have had no effect on the over-all outcome. This year, assuming there is no clear winner at the ballot box, conditions exist for something entirely different.

It simplifies the matter a little to consider it in two segments, first the possibilities in the Electoral College, then the House election.

The first ingredient of the mix is the fact there is no such thing as a direct vote for president and vice president.

Ballots are counted for persons called electors, who, ever since the political party system came into full being, have nearly always run in states pledged to a presidential ticket. That is true even though there are only 14 states that put elector names on the ballot, plus Alabama which lists electors but not the man they back.

In all but universal practice the state winning a plurality casts the whole vote for that ticket. In earlier days split votes were common.

Each state gets as many electors as it has U.S. representatives and senators, ranging from three in the one-congressman states up to New York's 43.

That makes a total of 538 and a majority—270—is required to win.

For practical purposes the electors' function has been purely ceremonial, recording their pre-determined votes and forwarding them to Washington for official counting.

But that was not what the Founding Fathers had in mind. Historians agree they expected an exercise of individual judgment, and did not even foresee the system of slates and popular voting for electors.

State law in most instances now requires voting for an entire unit of electors, but a few states allow selection between listed candidates and write-in entries.

But nothing in the Constitution requires an elector to go along with the popular vote in his state, no matter what he has pledged.

The electors as an organization never do get together. They only meet in their respective states to cast their votes. This year the date is set by law for Dec. 16.

That is six weeks after the result is known, if the electors stick to their pledges—time for a lot of maneuvering.

Arbitrary assumptions best point up what might hapen.

An Associated Press survey last weekend credited Wallace with anything from an advantage to a certainty, as of the time readings were taken earlier in the month, in states with 45 votes. That was on the basis of polls or concessions from opponents. On the same basis Nixon had an indicated long lead but Hubert H. Humphrey forces contended they were gaining fast.

Subtracting the Wallace 45 from the total electoral vote leaves 493 from which a winner would have to get 270. A count of 224 for the runner-up would block such a majority.

If everybody voted as pledged that would put the issue up to the House.

But Wallace has been reported strongly disinclined to give the House or anybody else that much say over his affairs. He said in one interview he was sure he and his backers would always be together. But he did not say just where. And he has predicted that in such a situation the big parties would be "coming to make a deal" with him. He has said, too, that "we might decide to let our votes go to them."

The big parties have been urged not to make a deal with the Alabamian and the candidates have said they wouldn't. There have been such freeze-out proposals as agreement to follow the national popular vote, whichever way it had gone, if it took that to deny Wallace a commanding position.

But in the absence of any such arrangement there apears little doubt Wallace could throw his 45 votes—or the much bigger number he is claiming—to either candidate. He could turn a loser into a winner for his own reasons such as future advantage for his movement, even if he had no deal.

That would settle it unless the electors in general took the unlikely step of picking somebody from outside the list of election winners.

If none of that hapened, the House election would come up.

A federal statute fixes Jan. 6 as the date for a joint meeting of House and Senate to make the official canvass of the votes.

The Constitution provides that if there is no majority winner in that count the House shall proceed at once to ballot on a president, choosing among the three top men in terms of electoral votes.

That would give the task to the new House, elected at the same time as the electors.

A House election would be under special constitutional rules, the principal one being that the vote be by states, not by individual members, with an absolute majority—26 states—needed to win.

The one vote would be decided by caucus within each delegation, a majority determining how that vote goes. If the delegation split evenly, the state gets no House vote at all.

In the present House the 435 seats are divided among 245 Democrats and 187 Republicans, with 3 vacancies.

Democrats have a majority in 29 states, Republicans in 18, with 3—Illinois, Montana and Oregon—evenly divided.

If those proportions stood up through Nov. 5—and if all members voted with their parties—Humphrey as the Democrat would win, no matter how the popular election had come out. He would be in the running even if Wallace had more electoral votes because the House has a choice among three.

There ar e15 states where a switch of one seat to the Republicans would give the GOP either control or a tie. There are a dozen where a one-vote Democratic pick-up would turn things the other way.

If a large number made the swing to a tie situation with no vote for the state, the total House vote would be reduced and a winning majority of 26 would be hard to come by.

Another factor of confusion is a considerable number of Congress members and candidates who have said they would vote, for purposes of a House election, as their districts went for president, or as the national popular vote went. That presents the possibility of still more switches from delegations' indicated party stands.

Wallace's third party has no nominal adherents in the House and none in sight. But observers are inclined at least to speculate on how solid some more of the Democratic or Republican members' stands would be in the face of a heavy Wallace vote back home.

Meantime the selection of a vice president would fall to the Senate, picking a winner between the two men highest in electoral votes for that office.

Since the Senate is already on a basis of two members per state, there is no special voting rule except the requirement for a majority, or 51 votes. The possibility of a tie exists.

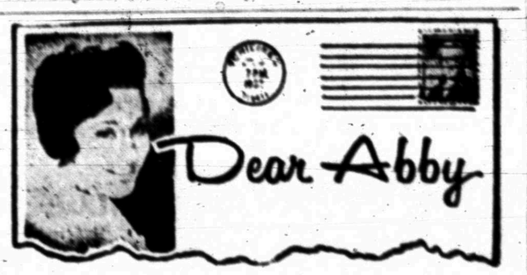

The Senate is now divided 63 Democrats to 37 Republicans and it is hard to find even an ardent Republican to predict that party will come into power in the branch this year.

Thus even if the House picked Republican Nixon for president the outlook would be for Humphrey's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, to be his vice president—or become the acting president.

But a scattering of polls have predicted more electoral votes for Wallace and his running mate, retired Gen. Curtis LeMay, than for the Humphrey-Muskie team.

In that event the second man in the Senate contest, limited to a choice between two, would be LeMay. That would give him a chance at the vice presidency or even acting tenure in the top post.

In the event neither branch of Congress could produce a majority for one of the two posts, the speaker to be elected by the new House would take over as the acting president.

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl at school who can't go to any of the dances because it is against her RELIGION. I think that is just about the dumbest thing I have ever heard.

I have told this to some other kids and they agreed that it must be a stupid religion that won't let their people dance. I can't understand a religion like that. Can you?

DONNAJEAN

DEAR DONNAJEAN: There are some "religions" that disapprove of dancing. It isn't necessary to "understand" the other person's religion. Just respect it.

DEAR ABBY: I have a paper route, and one of my customers went away on a 2-week vacation without telling me, so I kept right on delivering the newspaper as I had no idea how long he was going to be gone.

When the people came home and found 2 weeks' newspapers piled up in front of their door they got very mad at me. I tried to tell the man that since he didn't tell me they were going out of town, I thought the best thing to do was to keep leaving the newspaper. He called me an idiot and threatened to quit taking the paper. If he does, I'll be in trouble with my boss.

Was I wrong to keep leaving the paper when I had no other orders? And what do I do if he reports me?

ALEX

DEAR ALEX: Tell your boss what happened, and ask him what the policy of the newspaper is when a customer leaves town without notice. A collection of newspapers in front of a door is an announcement that nobody is home. This is more helpful to a burglar than a key in the front door. If your customer quites (and I doubt that he will) you are blameless.

DEAR ABBY: Our neighborhood is being downgraded due to one family who own their own home and take no pride in it whatsoever. Why does one family have the right to ruin the looks of a whole neighborhood?

Their carport looks like a junk heap. They never pick up trash or anything else unless it's in the way of their lawn mower, then they just slide it over. I saw a pile of trash that was swept up on their porch 3 months ago, and it's still there.

I hope you publish this so these people will recognize themselves and maybe do something about it. We have tried everything without coming right out and asking them to clean it up. They are good people.

DEAR HAD IT: So why don't you try the most (and probably only effective) course next. Tell them their yard is a disgrace to the neighborhood and to please clean it up.

DEAR ABBY: I am 37 and my wife is 53. We have been married for 25 years. Both our children are grown and away from home. Both the wife and I work at full-time jobs.

After we have a leisurely dinner, I lounge around the house until about 9 o'clock and then I go to bed. My wife drives about 20 miles each way to visit our infant grandson. She comes home and does the supper dishes, tidies up the house, washes a tub of clothes and does a little ironing. She comes to bed about midnight and says she's "too tired." And, boy, am I glad.

Construction Still High In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Despite a 6 per cent decline in September, Texas construction was still 33 per cent higher than it was in September 1967, the University of Texas Business Research Bureau said Saturday.

"The September index of residential construction authorized reached a near-record peak," said Robert H. Ryan, research associate.

"Of all months on record, this September showed higher total authorizations of residential building than any prior months except November 1967 and February 1968."

Ryan said residential building is showing renewed strength "in contrast to last year's situation" although he noted a "slight weakening" in nonresidential construction.

"Present economic conditions point toward further gains for the building industry, both in Texas and nationally. Though Private construction of one-family homes will continue to be sensitive to fluctuations in the money market, it is apparent that there remains a backlog of demand that accumulated during the slow months of 1967 and early 1968," he said.

The value of new building permits issued in September was $176,160,000, compared with $177,064,000 in August, the bureau said. Residential permits totaled $93,647,000, compared with $81,690,000 in August.

For the year as a whole, total construction was up from $1,456,937,000 during the first nine months of 1967 to $1,567,666,000 during January-September 1968.

Ryan said a "very significant part" of the new homebuilding in Texas is taking place in the suburbs instead of the central cities.

Of the $702 million in loans and commitments by the companies during the program's insurance companies.

He also said Texas was leading all other states in the number 1967 by the nation's life through an urban investment program undertaken in September of housing units provided first year, $67.8 million was for 6,078 new housing units in Texas. California got more money but the number of housing units was almost a third lower, Ryan said, because of higher costs and more elaborate designs.

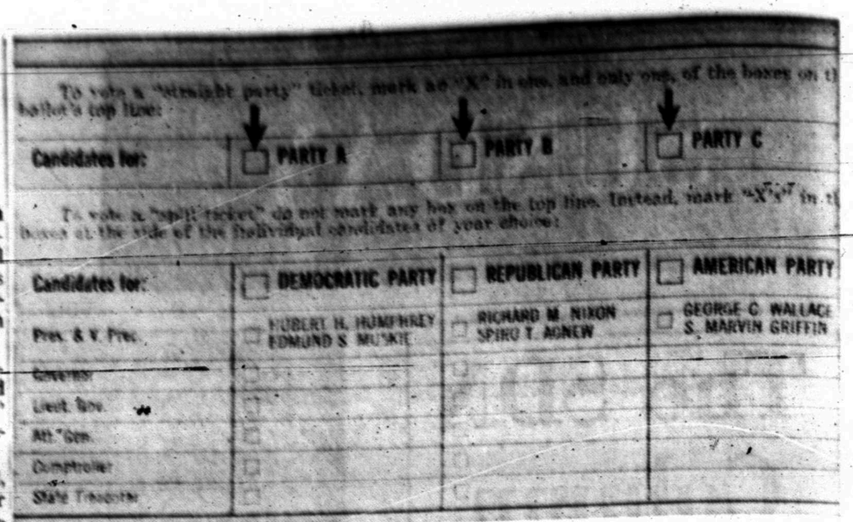

Thefts Reported

Thieves stole a purple bicycle from the front yard at 2108 Forty - first Street, on Halloween night, according to a City Police report. The bike, owned by Bobby Allen, has a white banana seat.

Someone also took an adding machine owned by Mrs. Harold Robbins, 213 Thirty - third Street. It was stolen between 5:50 p.m. Thursday and 10:30 a.m Friday from the office at Merchants Freight Line, 2100 Avenue T.

Fire Is Put Out

City Firemen extinguished a grass fire near Dermott at 3:15 p.m. Friday.

WATCH THOSE X'S ON BALLOT — One thing on the general election ballot which could confuse some voters is the square at the heading of each column for "straight ticket" voting. Persons who wish to vote a "split ticket" should ignore the square at the top of each column and mark squares of individual candidates.

Senate Outcome Vital To Oilmen

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Petroleum's 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance has not figured prominently in the 1968 general election campaign but industry leaders will be very interested in the results of at least 25 U. S. Senate races.

Of the 24 incumbents seeking reelection, 23 have had their positions recorded on roll call votes during Senate debates on unsuccessful proposals to reduce the tax allowance that has not been changed since it was adopted in 1926.

Twelve of those seeking reelection have supported full depletion. Ten have voted for reductions. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., has voted both for and against reduction proposals. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., was not in the Senate at the time of the last roll call vote.

The Arizona race also will be of considerable interest as Barry Goldwater, the former senator and Republican presidential nominee, and Roy Elson, a Democrat, seek the seat being vacated by Sen. Carl Hayden, a veteran Democrat who consistently supported full depletion. Goldwater also supported the tax allowance prior to his leaving the Senate after the 1964 presidential campaign.

The Tuesday results will be of major interest to industry leaders in that there has been strong indication attacks against the full 27½ per cent allowance will be made in both the House and Senate in 1969 regardless of the outcome of the presidential campaign.

Senate opponents have said they will renew their attacks. Several opponents in the House have promised a hearing by the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

Senators who have backed the full 27½ per cent and who are seeking reelection are J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., Birch Bayh, D-Ind., Russell Long, D-La., Alan Bible, D-Nev., Norris Cotton, R-N. H., Milton R. Young, R-N. D., Mike Monroney, D-Okla., and Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Those who have voted for reductions are senators Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., Frank Church, D-Idaho, Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y., Sam J. Ervin, D-N. C., Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Joseph S. Clark D-Pa., George S. McGovern, D-S. D., George D. Aiken, R-Vt., Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Another backer of the allowance, Sen. Ernest Gruening, lost his Democratic bid for renomination but is to be a write-in candidate Tuesday.

Backers of the 27½ per cent allowance have held rather comfortable positions for Senate roll call votes that have seen reduction proposals defeated by such margins as 61-33, 57-35, 57-30, and 50-23.

Most of the proposals that have been defeated have called for a reduction to 20 per cent over a three-year period or for a reduction to 15 per cent on a graduated basis.

There have been some fear withing the industry that a tax reform study now nearing completion could lead to another attack.

The 10 per cent surcharge tax increase bill President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law June 28 requires that the White House submit to Congress not later than Dec. 31 proposals for a comprehensive reform of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Treasurery Department officials have indicated the recommendations will include no attacks on full depletion but some oilmen fear the report could open the door for the opposition.

Curly Hair Styles Grow Up Curvy For Winter Look

Curls grow up into big girl waves for the Holiday - Winter season ahead. And, just as with big girls, the emphasis will be on curves, announces the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

This hair fashion authority of the beauty profession has termed the new look in hair styles, the Curvy Look. A collection of the new Holiday - Winter coiffures was premiered before more than ten thousand hairdressers and cosmetologists from all parts of the nation meeting in New York at the National Hair Fashion Show.

It is apparent from the styles shown, and their reception, that we are all going on a fashion spree of waves during the holidays ahead. A quick glance at the audience showed that the playful, and sometimes rambunctious curls that were so popular during late summer and fall, have been gentled down for winter into a soft sweep of waves that give the head a curvy silhouette, as well as a flowing ease in the movement of wave patterns.

The word "soft" was one of the most frequently used terms describing the general appearance of the new styles. To come on in fashion this winter, your hair style will just have to convey a feeling of softness to the eye of the beholder, as well as to the hand.

Hair partings are definitely established as a part of the fashion picture. They actually play a highly important role in that they allow a complete change in direction of the gently defined wave movements. This gives the textural patterns of your hair style a vitality that still retains an understated elegance.

Essentially, the new hair styles continue the look of the small, neatly poised head, though the hair in the lower crown area has a a fuller look. To establish the classic balance of this look, your hair must be shaped for your particular requirements. In this regard, consideration must be given to the shape of your head and facial structure, in addition to the texture, volume and quality of your hair.

The new styles also need a soft and gentle permanent wave, one that is particularly prescribed for your hair. This will not only help enhance the quality, texture and substance of your hair, but will also give it an ease of care, as well as an ease to style into the Curvy Look.

Bangs appear in many of the new styles, but seem to be most frequently used for day. For evening, many of the waved bangs were combed up and off the forehead to give the eyes a serene brow full sway over the features.

However, where hairline requirements dictate the need for bangs, or where facial features suggest the desirability of their use, bangs continue to be a part of the picture. But, now they are waved bangs, soft undulations that flow across the brow with an invariable flip-up of the hair ends.

Hair lengths continue to be relatively short, since this Curvy Look is a gracefully molded small head look. Nevertheless, hair at the lower crown area is a little fuller, although it curves in to hug the head at the nape.

The crown itself has finally settled home — on the head. Where an increased volume is desired, such as for an opulent look for evening, hair pieces are used with great dramatic effectiveness. These are usually fashioned into compositions of curls or cadogans, such as George Wahington once wore. On most models, these were placed directly below the crown at the back of the head, but when they were worn lower at the nape, the look was newer.

Hair coloring for the Winter-Holiday season has been

Hair coloring for the Winter-Holiday season has been softened into a gentle spectrum of tones that harmonize with the general feeling of feminine gracefulness in the season's fashions. Intensity in all hues has been subdued, but the underlying richness is retained to shimmer in the soft and silky sheen that all hair must have this winter.

In make-up, skin tones will have a fresh quality, reflecting soft pinks and rose, sometimes nearly peach. Eyes have a bright - eyed, lovely open look, but this, too, is a soft look. Lips have equal importance with the eyes, aided by the richness of the bright new transparent colors, ranging from light reds to the true reds.

TEXAS HEARD YOU TALKING, HUBERT!

He Led A Filibuster
Against Texas Ownership Of Our Tidelands.
And Talked . . . And Talked . . .
And Talked . . . And Talked
And Talked. . . . . For An Incredible 3 Weeks

- STRANGE AS IT MAY SEEM TODAY, SOME O FOUR STATE POLITICAL LEADERS WHO ONCE OPPOSED HUBERT HUMPHREY AS A MENACE TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF TEXAS ARE NOW ASKING YOU TO SUPPORT THIS SAME MAN FOR PRESIDENT . . . ! WHY? Their only possible appeal is blind party loyalty. This flimsy call asks you to forget the anti-Texas record of Hubert Humphrey, to overlook his role as chief antagonist of Texas Tidelands ownership. "Party loyalty" in this instance would be blind indeed!
- MANY TEXANS ARE CONSIDERING SUPPORT OF THE THIRD PARTY CANDIDATE because they admire his stand and his statements on some of the major campaign issues. Before making an emotional final decision those who are so inclined should pause and ask themselves if they can count on their Congressman voting for George Wallace. The answer is an obvious "NO!" It follows then as an equally obvious fact that a vote for George Wallace is, in final effect, a vote for Humphrey!
- ALL TEXANS MUST UNDERSTAND THAT, REALISTICALLY, THE ONLY CANDIDATE WHO STANDS BETWEEN HUBERT HUMPHREY AND THE WHITE HOUSE IS RICHARD NIXON! With his running mate, Ted Agnew, Nixon offers Texas friendship along with the wisdom, solidarity and experience gained as vice-president during the eight great Eisenhower years of peace and prosperity.
- STRANGE AS IT MAY SEEM TODAY, SOME OF OUR STATE

Fast Matadors Win 54-0

Boys and girls, let's face it. Estacado has been underrated. They may actually be better than No. 6 in the state. At least, they convinced some of the fans in Tiger Stadium Friday night that they may be the best team in the state after their 54-0 verdict over Snyder.

Operating with fantastic speed, the Matadors struck for two touchdowns in the first period and three in each of the next two frames to sack up their seventh straight District 3-AAA gridiron triumph. Snyder fell to 2-5 for the campaign.

Give the Tigers credit for never giving up. Down 40-0 in the third period, they fought back gamely and reached the Estacado 20 on a 50-yard drive. In the fourth quarter, they stopped the Matadors at the 10. The visitors didn't appear ta have as much physical superiority over the Bengals as Sweetwater did. However, they had a big edge in overall team speed.

Eleven different Matadors carried the pigskin, led by James Mosley, 212-pound junior tailback and wingback. He gained 39 yards on 15 carries and scored two touchdowns. Substitute tailback Jesse Lethridge, a 137-pound sophomore who has 9.6 speed, scored one touchdown, gaining 61 paces on only five carries. First string tailback Larry Miller, who weighs about 190, although he's listed at 173 on the program, contributed 55 yards on 10 efforts, and he sacked up one TD. Fullback Frank Judie, a 182-pound junior, got 37 yards on eight runs the hard way, and he crossed the goal once. The starting quarterback, Kenneth Wallace, only gained 32 yards on six efforts, but he scored twice.

Estacado rolled up 384 yards on the ground with 29 first downs, and the Matadors completed half of six passes for 47 more yards.

The visitors got their first score on a fine defensive play. Mosley charged through from his linebacker post, leaped high in the air, and got a hand on the ball as Snyder punted. Tackle Fred White scooped it up at the 15 and rambled across untouched. Miller kicked point with 5:36 remaining in the first period.

With 23 seconds left in the first quarter, Mosley crashed across left guard from the one and Mosley converted again. Snyder had held Estacado on its first possession, and the visitors had to resort to the aerial game — getting two of their three completions in this drive — to keep the march alive.

David Moody intercepted at the Bengal 28 early in the second period and went to the 4. Miller then carried over. Judie blasted over from the two about three minutes later to climax a 7-play, 38-yard drive set up on a fumble recovery by guard Robert Boykin. A couple of minutes later, Lethridge — the lightning bolt — scooted through right tackle and went 37 yards to pay dirt. Miller converted after the first two second period touchdowns, but he missed after the third one as the count remained at 34-0 at halftime.

Estacado took the kickoff opening the second half and drove 80 yards in 12 plays with Wallace, the signal caller, diving over right guard from the one for the touchdown. Guard J. B. Lemon's kick was wide.

At this point, the Bengals put on their best drive of the night. David McGinnis got it started with a 12-yard runback of the kickoff to the 30. Lee McNair and McGinnis combined on a pass play that went all the way to the Matador 29. The Tigers reached the 20 on a subsequent penalty, but the march fizzled.

A couple of plays later Mosley shot through right tackle and went 63 yards to pay dirt. This time, Lemon's kick was accurate. Estacado then recovered an onside kick with Freddie Stephens, giant tackle, pouncing on the ball at the Tiger 15. They drove in from there with Wallace doing the honors on a 3-yard scamper around right end. Lemon converted again for the final point.

The fourth period was scoreless, but the Tigers nipped a 71-yard drive at the 10 when Ricky Glasscock came up with a fumble recovery.

Snyder also crossed midfield in the second period with a 7-play, 37-yard drive. McGinnis contributed 19 of the yards on three runs, Efrain Cervantez added 10 on one scamper, and Holder connected with Jerry January on an 8-yard toss.

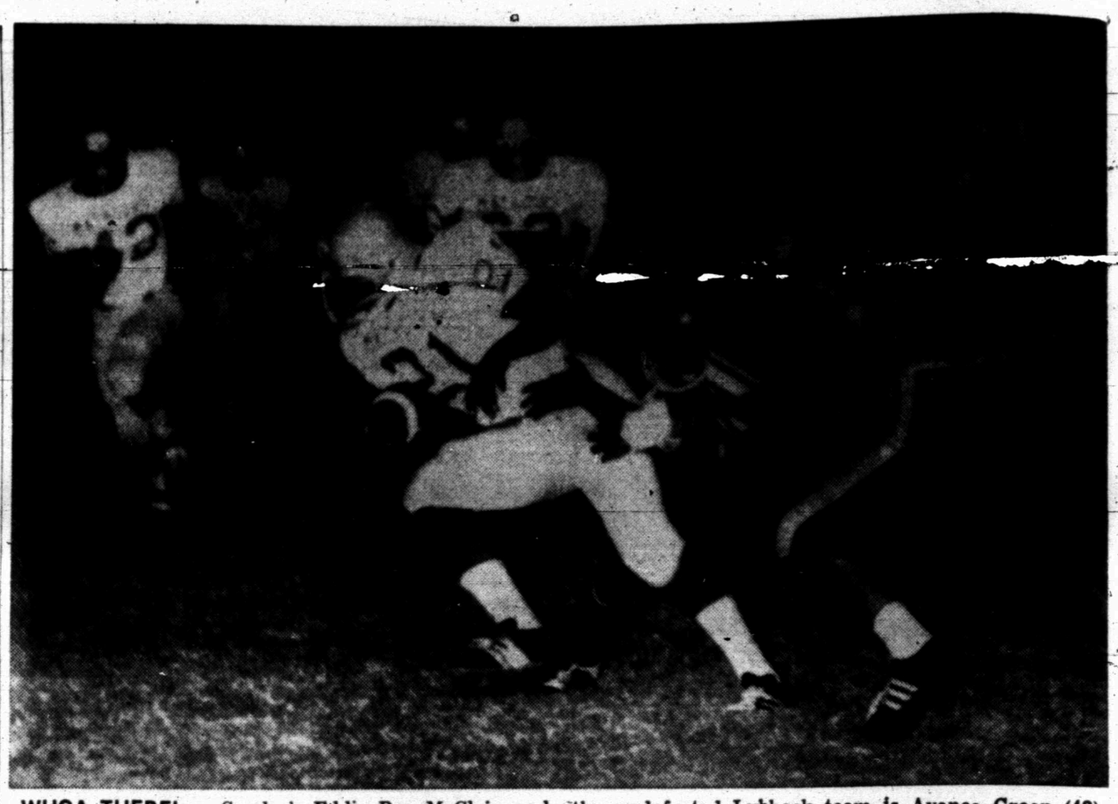

Bengal passers did well under the circumstances. McNair hit 5 of 8, and Holder completed one of 2 for an overall passing gain of 106 yards.

Snyder yielded yardage grudgingly. The Tigers were game, but simply outmanned. Estacado had such tremendous speed that on one down the offside linebacker crossed clear across the field to pull down Cervantez when it appeared he might have a chance to break for a long gainer.

McGinnis, Merce Hernandez, Glasscock, Tom McDorman, Randy Levens and Eddie Ray McClain looked good on defense, but then all of the Tigers put up a good struggle under adverse conditions.

McClain is between Turner and Hernandez. Coming up to lend a hand for the undefeated Lubbock team is Avance Green (42) while Snyder's Ricky Glasscock (33) hurries to get into the action. Turner carried three times and gained 37 yards as Estacado racked up 384 yards on the ground enroute to a 54-0 decision.

Hermleigh Gains Tie With Late TD

WILSON — Dogged by bad luck, Hermleigh's Cardinals refused to accept defeat here Friday night and fought back in the third quarter to gain a 16-16 tie with defending regional champion Wilson.

Tom Chorn was the man of the hour for the Cardinals. With Hermleigh trailing 8-16 late in the third period, Tom ripped off off an 85 yard run for a touchdown, and Burton Sander collected two more points on an end sweep to gain the tie.

Chorn had taken over at quarterback after the starting signal caller, Ronnie Helm, was injured in the second period. On the third period run, he rolled out and went all the way.

Earlier, Chorn had ripped off a 75-yard run for the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter. He went off left tackle, cut to the sidelines and raced to pay dirt. Helm sliced over left tackle for extra points as Hermleigh took an 8-0 lead.

Wilson scored a safety in the second period following a high snapback from center. The hosts tackled Chorn in the end zone for the two-pointer. Later in the period, Woody Follis chugged across from the one to cap a 60-yard drive, and Clinton Martin kicked the extra point to give Wilson a 9-8 lead at halftime.

The hosts boosted their advantage to 16-8 in the third quarter when Moore went across from the one, and Martin converted again. A good punt return and a 35-yard drive set up the score.

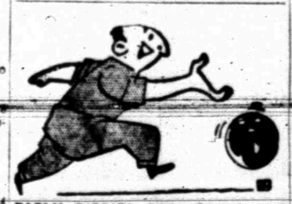

Chorn's second long run of the game occurred later in the period as Hermleigh salvaged the tie. There was no scoring in the fourth quarter.

The Cardinals also lost their big tackle, Raymond Cearley, to injuries in the second period. Wilson had an enthusiastic homecoming crowd on hand for the game.

Next Friday, Hermleigh will be at New Home.

Rampaging Colts Take On Giants In NFL Showdown

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Halloween may be over, but the New York Giants will be subjected to a little haunting Sunday when the rampaging Baltimore Colts make their first appearance in Yankee Stadium in a decade.

Last summer, New York traded Earl Morrell to the Colts, and the ex-Giant backup quarterback has turned out to be more than an adequate replacement for injured Johnny Unitas.

In fact, the Colts' only loss this season—to Cleveland—came when the interception-plagued Unitas made his only appearance this year.

The National Football League showdown is vital to both teams. Baltimore, 6-1, is locked in a first place tie with Los Angeles in the Coastal Division, while New York, 5-2, trails Dallas, 6-1, by only a game in the Capitol Division.

Incidently, the last time New York and Baltimore hooked up in Yankee Stadium was in 1958, when the Colts edged the Giants in that memorable sudden death title game, considered one of pro football's greatest matches.

Dallas will try to atone for Monday night's 28-17 upset loss to Green Bay at New Orleans, 3-4. The Cowboys' Don Meredith has a broken nose, but it's not expected to prevent him from guiding the NFL's most potent scoring attack.

Los Angeles, which had its 4-game victory streak snapped by Baltimore 27-10 last week, plays host to Detroit, 3-3-1. The Lions, who despite their poor record share first with Green Bay in the Central Division, are expected to be without top running back Mel Farr. He suffered a strained tendon last week and missed most of Detroit's 14-7 loss to San Francisco. Running back Tommy Mason was a questionable starter for the Rams.

Green Bay plays host to Chicago, 3-4, in the 99th renewal of the league's oldest series. The injury-hampered Bears got off to a miserable start, but have won their last two games, including a 26-24 squeaker from Minnesota last week.

Cleveland and St. Louis, tied for the Century Division top with 4-3 records, both take to the road.

The Browns tackle San Francisco, 4-3, in the first regular season meeting between the two teams since 1962. It shapes up as a passing duel between Cleveland's Bill Nelson and the 49ers' John Brodie.

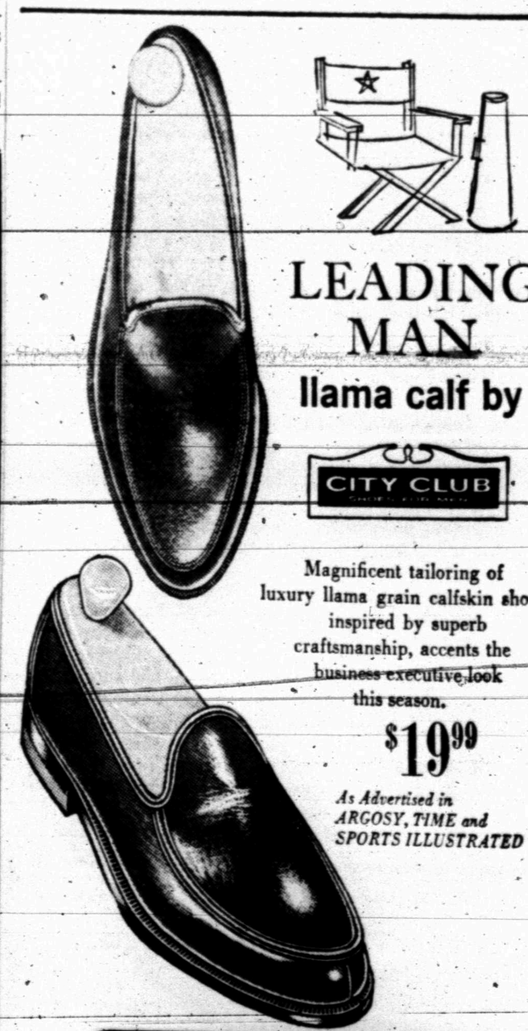

St. Louis is a heavy favorite to hand winless Philadelphia its eight straight loss. The Cardinals, winners of three in a row including last week's 31-17 conquest of New Orleans, report everyone is in top shape, while the Eagles have half a dozen players on the injury list.

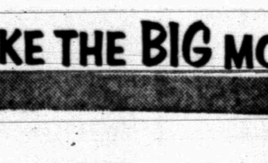

Minnesota, 3-4, and Washington, 3-4, meet for the first time ever on the Vikings' field. Redskin quarterback Sonny Jurgensen is hampered by a cracked rib, but he will use a protective vest and is expected to see considerable action.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, whose only victory this season was a last-minute 6-3 triumph over Philadelphia last week, meet an equally hapless outfit when they travel to Atlanta. The Falcons' only victory in seven games was an upset over Green Bay.

In Sunday's American Football League activity, Kansas City travels to Oakland, Buffalo is at New York, Houston at Cincinnati, Denver at Boston and Miami at San Diego.

SUDDEN STOP — Snyders' Lee McNair (11) came to a sudden stop when Estacado's Fred White (83) and Freddie Stephens (82) ganged up on him during the 3-AAA gridiron affray here Friday night. The Matadors limited the Tigers to 39 yards rushing, but McNair connected on 5 of 8 passes for 98 yards.

Blackwell Romps Past Ira 49-2

IRA — The host Bulldogs got in the hole early and never recovered as Blackwell romped to a 49-2 decision in a Six-Man gridiron battle.

Early in the game, Ira drove inside the Blackwell 15 but couldn't punch across the goal. Blackwell took over and marched steadily downfield, scoring on a screen pass. The visitors recovered a fumble on the kickoff and drove in again to take a two - touchdown lead with the action hardly underway.

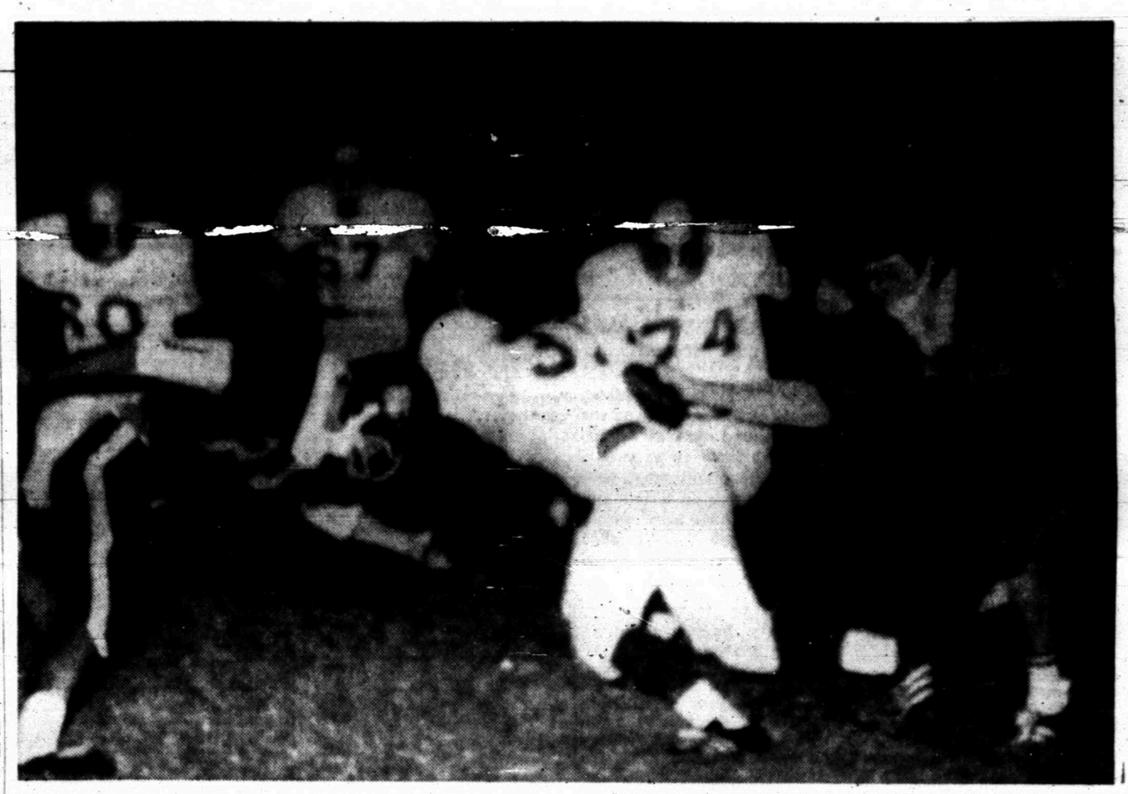

Ira got its only points on a safety when Joe Murphy tackled the visitors' quarterback in the end zone.

The Bulldogs got inside the five yard line twice in the second period, but a penalty and a busted assignment quashed both drives. Ira also completed a pass at the edge of the end zone, but the receiver came down out of bonds.

Blackwell scored a third touchdown in the first half on a short run to cap a drive from midfield to take a 22-2 lead at intermission.

The lack of a scoring punch close in continued to hurt Ira in the second half as the Bulldogs drove inside the five twice more. Blackwell broke the game open on a 75 - yard run, and its momentum carried on into the last quarter.

Ira hosts McCaulley next week.

HARD TO STOP — Estacado's Frank Judie (31) was hard to knock off his feet during the 3-AAA gridiron thriller here Friday night because he drives so low Having a crack at the hard-running fullback are Snyder's Mitch Rambin (24) and David McGinnis (44). Other Matadors in the affray are Bobby Lester (60), J. B. Lemon (67) and William Hall (74).

Chiefs Put Streak On Line

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Diego chargers will have one eye on the Miami Dolphins and the other on the scoreboard Sunday during their American Football League game. And, at the same time, the Oakland Raiders will have both eyes on the Kansas City Chiefs.

The Chiefs put their six-game winning streak on the line against the defending champlor Raiders, who are tied with San Diego 1½ games back of Kansas City.

So, while the Chargers are working on the Dolphins, they'll be extremely interested in how the Raiders manage against the Chiefs. Victories by San Diego and Oakland would create a three - way Western Division snarl but should KC beat the Raiders and the Chargers stumble against the Dolphins, the race would just about be over.

In other AFL action Sunday, Buffalo is at New York, Denver at Boston and Houston at Cincinnati.

In the National League, Baltimore is at New York, Chicago visits Green Bay, Cleveland travels to San Francisco, Dallas goes to New Orleans, Detroit takes on Los Angeles, Pittsburgh is at Atlanta, St. Louis at Philadelphia and Washington at Minnesota.

If San Diego gets too preoccupied with scoreboard watching, Miamia's Larry Csonka, Bob Griese and Karl Noonan could cause the Chargers some problems. Csonka rushed for 97 yards against Denver last week and Noonan caught four passes for 81 yards while Griese passed the 1,000-yard mark for the season.

The Chargers lead the league in passing yardage and over-all offense with John Hadl's 15 touchdown passes.

Kansas City whipped the Raiders in their first meeting using a conventional T offense and throwing only three passes and rushed for 294 yards.

Now, the question Oakland Coach John Rauch must wrestle with is whether the Chiefs will go with the full house of two tight ends and three running backs again. KC could switch to the conventional pro offense with wide receivers Otis Taylor and Gloster Richardson, both healthy again.

New York, with a formidable two-game edge in the Eastern race gets a chance to avenge one of its defeats when it faces lowly Buffalo. The Bills' only victory this season was a five-interception spree against Joe Namath and the Jets last month.

Floyd Little busted loose for 126 yards last week—the second-best rushing day by anyone in Denver history. Rookie quarterback Marlin Briscoe came off the Bronco bench in the second half and scored twice, leading Denver's come-from-behind victory over the Dolphins.

Houston, still hoping to get back in the Eastern race, will have Pete Beathard back at quarterback against the Bengals. Beathard has recovered from an appendectomy.

Cincinnati has dropped five straight but unveiled a strong rookie runner in Paul Robinson, who gained 159 yards against Oakland last week.

Soccer Team To Compete Abroad

CHICAGO (AP) — The North American Soccer League, which operated in 17 cities this year, announced Friday a new format in which one team will represent the league and participate aganst name teams throughout the world.

The decision, subject to approval by the U.S. Soccer Football Association and the Canadian Soccer Football Association, was backed by eight cities, including Atlanta, Baltimore, Ceveland, Dallas, Kansas City, Oakland, St. Louis and Washington.

Under the plan, the eight members will support one team which will compete in North America and abroad. Each member will contribute a substantial sum over a three-year period to support the team.

Bullets Nip Knickerbockers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Bullets, beebees in the arsenal of National Basketball Association teams the past two years, are looking like bombshells this season.

Baltimore, leading the NBA's Eastern Division, won its eighth game in 11 starts Friday night by pounding the New York Knickerbockers 119-103 behind the accurate gunning of Kevin Loughery, Earl Monroe and Ray Scott.

In other NBA action, Boston smashed Philadelphia 118-99, Cincinnati trounced Milwaukee 132-114, Atlanta edged San Francisco 109-105 and Chicago knocked off Los Angeles 114-101.

Miami nipped the New York Nets 11-10 in the only American Basketball Association game.

Loughery fired in 6 of his 33 points in the fourth quarter to ruin the Knicks who had closed the gap to four, 82-78, after three periods as Howie Komives came off the bench to score 13 points in a span of about seven minutes.

Montre contributed 25 points and Scott 20 to the Baltimore attack. Komives led the Knicks with 24 and Walt Frazier got 17.

Boston wrapped up its game with Philadelphia by outscoring the 76ers 32-16 in the second quarter as John Havlicek put in 12 points and Sam Jones eight.

Bailey Howell led Boston with 32 points, Larry Siegfried got 29 and player-coach Bill Russell blocked 13 shots. Billy Cunningham topped Philadelphia with 23 points.

Cincinnati hit 10 of its first 15 shots from the field, built up a 19-point first-quarter lead and coasted against Milwaukee. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati with 29 points and Dave Gambee paced Milwaukee with 21.

Joe Caldwell's layup with 38 seconds left clinched Atlanta's victory over San Francisco. Zelmo Beaty was high for Atlanta with 25 points. Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 28.

Clem Haskins came off the bench to score 24 points and Bob Boozer contributed 21 as the Bulls shoved Los Angeles out of a share of first place in the Western Division. The Laker loss gave idle Phoenix undisputed possession of the top spot.

Wilt Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor led the Lakers with 29 and 25 points, respectively. The 6-foot-5 Baylor grabbed 13 rebounds to give him a lifetime total of 10,102—fifth best in NBA history.

Whitefaces Pull Shocker

Perryton, the state's No. 1 ranked Class AAA football team, was shocked by a 13-12 loss to unranked Hereford Friday night in a highlight of Texas school boy foot-ball action.

Galveston Ball defeated Brazosport 14-7 in the big showdown of Class AAAA. Ball is ranked No. 2 and Brazosport is third.

Iowa Park, the Class AA kingpin, scored an easy 47-7 victory over Childress, and Poth, Class A's top ranked team, blanked Nixon 55-0.

Two mild upsets occurred in Class AAAA. San Angelo defeated No. 7 Abilene Cooper, 20-7 and Midland Lee edged No. 8 Odessa Permian 28-26.

In Class AAA, Henderson and Alvin, ranked 2-3, were idle. All other top 10 teams except No. 10 Donna, were victorious. Donna was defeated by No. 7 Mission, 29-12.

Fourth-ranked Refugio downed Beeville 42-12, No. 5 Ennis whipped Waxahachie 41-6, No. 6 Lubbock Estacado swamped Snyder 54-0, No. 8 Corsicana stopped Waco La Vega 50-6 and No. 9 Silsbee defeated Liberty 39-14.

Hosket Joins Pro Ranks

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — They cheered in admiration for Bill Hosket, who helped the United States win an Olympic gold medal in basketball. Then they watched, obviously with some sympathy, as Hosket made his professional debut.

Past achievements provide personal satisfaction, but they mean little in a National Basketball Association game which often resembles a tableau of nothing but pointed elbows and knees.

Hosket, the rookie from Ohio State who signed with the New York Knickerbockers just last Wednesday, made the big switch from the play-for-fun-and-glory ranks to the world of night in the Knicks' 119-103 loss to Baltimore.

Hobbs Wins Easily, 1-0

DIVIDE — The Hobbs Panthers won a Six - Man district football game here Friday night the easy way, getting a 1-0 forfeit victory over Divide. The Divide team had only seven boys in uniform and two of them were injured. Divide will forfeit all of its remaining games, according to information received here.

Coach John Hale of Hobbs will be without the services of Gill Warren for the remainder of the season. He got married a couple of weeks ago. He was generally considered to be the best defensive player in the district.

Next Friday, the Panthers will be at Blackwell.

BIG KILL — Ralph Rhodes, 211 Thirty-sixth Place, killed a 5-foot and a 4½-foot rattlesnake on the Youngblood Ranch west of Gail Friday morning. He discovered the varmints while staking out a pond and killed them with a soil augur. The biggest viper had 15 rattlers, and the smaller one had 10. Some of the rattlers were missing.

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Carol Hernon, Fullerton, Calif., for her request:

"For a long time I have thought it would be exciting to be a magazine journalist, maybe free-lance. I will be attending college next year and would like to know how much education is necessary to qualify as a professional, and opportunities in this field."

A — Will you have a second income after graduation? If not, it's chancy out on the free-lance limb of the magazine money tree. The Society of Magazine Writers estimates that less than 300 men and women qualify as professional magazine free-lancers — those who make a steady $10,000 or more annually. Free-lancing is dandy for extra money and personal satisfaction, but it's no Swiss bank account.

MAGAZINE REJECTION SLIPS are common — as illustrated by this amusing but revealing Bennett Cerf story. Years ago, the famous H. L. Mencken sought to relieve the monotony of turndowns for a magazine he edited. At last he devised a printed transmittal slip which he attached to rejected manuscripts: "Mr. Mencken has just entered a Trappist monastery in Kentucky and left strict orders that no mail was to be forwarded. The enclosed is returned therefore for your archives."

SNAZZY AND STEADIER ARE THE EDITORIAL STAFF JOBS IN MAGAZINE JOURNALISM. Writers and editors have varied responsibilities and titles, with greater specialization at larger publications. Check a few mastheads and you'll see such titles as editor-in-chief, managing editor, executive editor, associate editor, editorial consultant or assistant, contributing editor, and dozens more. The field can't be described as uncrowded, but there are many well-paying ($10-30,000 ish, some even higher) and zingy jobs at the more than 5,000 U.S. magazines. Starting salaries about $6-8,000.

TYPES OF MAGAZINES: general interest; women's; newsmagazines; opinion and commentary; business; special interest (such as travel, fashion, sports); religious, trade and professional; industrial (house organs and corporate publications). Many are listed in "The N.W. Ayer Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals." Another major reference: "Writers Market." Magazines about magazines are: "Author & Journalist," "The Writer," and "Writer's Digest."

OTHER THAN WRITING AND EDITING, editorial staffs spend much time managing the flow of material, consulting with sources, studying readership reports, participating in conferences about magazine contest, selecting art work and photos and handling other general editorial details.

EDUCATION: A college education is standard — most frequently the major is journalism, English or liberal arts. Graduate work is becoming increasingly desirable.

INTERN PROGRAM: The Magazine Publishers Association will again conduct its summer internship program in 1969. About 30 journalism students who have completed their junior year are paid to work on magazines in New York for 10 weeks. Qualified, interested students should ask their J-school dean about it.

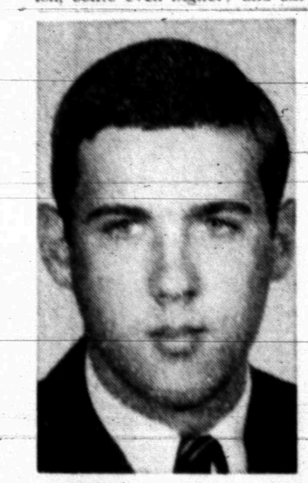

ACCREDITED schools for programs in magazine include: U. of Iowa, U. of Missouri, Northwestern, Ohio U., Syracuse and U. of Texas.

FURTHER INSTALLMENTS: Obtain at libraries, or order from Magazine Publishers Association, 575 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022: (1) "Mags in the U.S.A.," free, but enclose long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. (2) "Mag Journalism Career for Women" (answers many frequently-asked questions for men as well, excellent general reference) (3) "Editor and Writer Relationship" (good for free-lancers). Last two books cost $1.00 each; supplies are limited.

Four Killed At Ackerly

LAMESA, Tex. (AP) — A car-truck collision at Ackerly, 17 miles southeast of Lamesa in West Texas, killed four young people and injured four others Friday night.

State police said the accident occurred as a station wagon carrying nine teen-agers turned onto U.S. 87 from a farm road.

They listed the dead, all from Ackerly, as Albert Franco, Raoul O'valle, Elma Acosta and Johnny Ochoa.

Four other occupants of the station wagon were taken to a Lamesa hospital. Attendants listed them as Enrique Cantu and Lupa Miranda, in critical condition, and Sylvero Cantu, 15, and Domingo Guerra, 16, in serious condition.

Officers identified the drivers as John B. Riddle of Seminole, in the truck, and George Cantu, 16, in the station wagon. Both escaped serious injury.

Teachers To Become Obsolete?

FORT WORTH (AP)—Teachers were told Friday night that they may be in danger of becoming obsolete.

This prospect was raised by an associate executive director of the National Education Association, Cecil H. Hannan.

Speaking at a dinner sponsored by the NEA, he told delegates to the Texas State Teachers Association convention that teachers and the public schools must start to do more than simply transmit information.

"Machines are being developed that can perform that task more effectively," Hannan said.

"For the first time in modern years, people are beginning to question whether the public schools and teachers are now obsolete.

"When an 18-year-old graduates, he has spent more time with television than he has with teachers."

The 1,200 voting delegates were primarily concerned today with measures they will ask state lawmakers to pass during the next session of the legislature.

Of particular interest was the matter of statewide teacher pay raises.

Former Resident, Mrs. Hester, Dies

Mrs. J. L. Hester, a former longtime resident of Scurry and Mitchell Counties, died Friday night in a convalescent home in Lamesa after a lengthy illness. She is the sister-in-law of Mrs. T. A. Rainwater, Route 2, Snyder.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. today (Sunday) in Primitive Baptist Church in Lamesa with burial also in the Lamesa cemetery.

Surviving are the husband, Jim; and several brothers and sisters.

Pleas Are Entered In County Court

Two suspects entered pleas of innocence in county court Friday.

Lelton Hoyle pleaded innocent to two charges of swindling by worthless check. The offenses allegedly occurred April 25 and May 2. Bond of $250 was set on each charge.

Leroy Spires pleaded innocent to a charge of driving while intoxicated, and personal bond of $500 was set. He was apprehended last week in the 2400 block of Avenue S by City Police.

A recent report from the Soil Conservation Service in Temple shows that farmers and ranchers in Texas carried out an enormous amount of conservation work during the 1968 fiscal year.

Some of the work carried out during the fiscal year included 15,392,572 feet of parallel terraces; 9,685,448 feet of level an graded terraces; 5,815 farm and ranch ponds; 1,619,081 acres of brush control; 5,938,516 acres of deferred grazing; 35,302 acres of cropland seeded to grass; 407,663 acres of pasture and hayland planting; 228,473 acres of rangeland seeded to adapted grasses, 33,831 acres of wildlife habitat development; 4,365,133 feet of underground irrigation pipeline; 26,307 acres of irrigation land leveling, and numerous other conservation practices.

Texas farmers and ranchers are to be commended for their stewardship of the land. It is through their effort that people living in Texas should continue to have an abundant food supply and at reasonable prices.

PRESTON SMITH

FOR GOVERNOR
Pd. Pol. Adv. By Preston Smith For Governor Committee
Harold Lacik — Local Chairman

HEALTH CHECKUP — Dr. R. B. Pierce gives Head Starter Davis Rios a health checkup as Mrs. Eula Williams, R.N., school nurse, assists. Other Head Start youngsters standing in line at the Child Development Center are Ricardo Rios, Georgette Rodgers, Jessie Hernandez, Joe Luis Garcia, Rosa Linda Guzman and Jose Lara.

Health, Dental Care Are Important To Head Start

Head Start is a program of many areas and activities. One of the most importnt is the health and dental examinations and corrections. There are four dentists in Snyder who cooperate their fullest with professional aid in dental examination, correction, and instruction in oral hygiene. Each dentist is responsible for one-fourth of the 90 children enrolled. This includes a pre-check in October, treatment, and a post-check in May. Head Start furnishes tooth brushes, dental cream, and instruction in their use.

The medical area includes a complete check and blood anaylsis, and urine analysis. Emergency surgery is sometime recommended and several children have had operations, such as umbilical hernia and chronic, severe tonsilitis. Immunity shots and vaccinations are administered to each child. A full time nurse's aide, Mrs. Myrle Bell, is in charge of dental appointments and daily health assistance. A school nurse, Mrs. Eula Williams, RN, devotes 50 per cent of her schedule time to Head Start.

Needles and finger prickers are not fun even for grown-ups. People in Head Start play the "ouch game." The children don't cry anymore, since they must be ready to out-yell the other children when the needle is injected. They can do a healthy job of "ouching."

April In Paris Ball Big Success

NEW YORK (AP) — The April in Paris Ball by any other name is still one of the most glamous Charity affairs around.

Some 1,000 socialites proved that Friday night when they took over an entire floor of the Waldorf Astoria for the black tie, $350 per couple event, renamed this year Le Bal del Amitie.

Red, white and blue decorations—ostrich feathers, ribbons and flowers—emphasized the theme of French-American unity.

Claudius C. Philippe, who founded the ball 17 years ago with the late Elsa Maxwell, said the name of the event was changed because it was held neither in April nor in Paris.

The "Amitie" of the new title, Philippe said refers not to present French-American relations but to help given to George Washington during the American Revolution by the French.

Before the dinner, guests sipped champagne and tried their luck at charity-benefiting gambling tables, or drooled over goodies at a "Christmas boutique" of jewels by Cartier.

Eighty per cent of the money raised by the ball goes to American charities, 20 per cent to French charities.

A total of $2 million has been raised in previous years.

Student Held In Contempt

WINSTED, Conn. (AP) — A 20-year-old college student who told the Circuit Court judge he should not be forced to wear a coat and tie in the courtroom was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt.

Charles R. Denis of Irving, Tex., was in court a week ago when Judge Yale Matzkin laid down the law that persons in his courtroom should show respect of the law by dressing properly.

Denis, a student at Northwestern Connecticut Community College, arrived in court Friday wearing a pullover sweater without tie or jacket, and told the judge he defied his wishes "because I believe it is a violation of my rights."

Matzkin held him in contempt, and delayed the student's trial on charges of operating a defective motorcycle while he serves his sentence.

Service For Mrs. Barnett

Funeral service was held at the First Baptist Church here Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Sarah Emma Barnett, 85, of Colorado City.

Mrs. Barnett, a former resident of Scurry County, died at 7 a.m. Friday in a Colorado City Hospital. She was a native of Alabama and had lived in Colorado City for the past eight years.

Burial was in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mother Killed While Saving Children

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A mother of nine was killed Friday when struck by a car as she shoved several children out of the path of the auto, police said.

Mrs. Nancy Anderson, 40, of Chester, was pushing a cart of groceries when she saw an oncoming auto in a parking lot. Several youngsters were beside her.

She pushed them aside, police said, before the car struck her and then hit a parked car. Police charged the driver, Charles Davis, 37, of Chester, with manslaughter and drunken driving.

Humphrey To Revisit Houton

HOUSTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey makes his second Houston presidential campaign appearance Sunday afternoon with a speech at a rally in the Astrodome.

Sponsors say there is a good chance President Johnson will attend the rally.

Humphrey will address the rally from the 50yard line about 4 p.m. after a number of entertainers have completed an hour-long variety show. The entertainers will include Frank Sinatra and his daughter, Nancy, and singers Trini Lopez and Edie Adams.

Mrs. Humphrey and many Democratic national and state officials will be in atendance.

The Humphrey-Muskie Harris County headquarters said Humphrey has promised a "major political statement." They said the Astrodome appearance will be Humphrey's final major rally before the general election Tuesday.

The Astrodome will seat 52,000 for the rally.

The rally is free to the public and seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis. The gates will open at 1 p.m.

Humphrey is to arrive about 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Houston International Airport and will go by automobile to the Astrodome. He is to appear briefly at a private reception in the stadium following the speech and then depart about 6:30 for Los Angeles.

Humphrey campaigned in Houston in September when he attended a dinner, met with party officials and went on a downtown handshaking tour.

Four Killed In Graveyard Explosion

CECCANO, Italy (AP) — A supposedly defused bomb used as a graveyard marker exploded Friday, killing four persons and injuring at least 10.

The explosion was attributed to heat from candles lit for an All Saints Day ceremony. More than 100 persons were in the town cemetery for the church holiday at the time.

The Amendments

Following is an analysis of two of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, which will be on the ballot at the General election on Nov. 5, as prepared and distributed by the League of Women Voters.

* * *

AMENDMENT NO. 13

FOR OR AGAINST the constitutional amendment to exempt certain property temporarily stored in a public warehouse from ad valorem taxation.

This proposed amendment would add a new Section, 1-f to Article VIII, Taxation and Revenue, to provide for exemption from ad valorem taxation merchandise, products, goods, or wares in the temporary custody of a public warehouseman, provided: (1) the warehouseman has no financial connection with the owner, shipper, or consignee other than as bailee for hire; (2) the property is shipped to or from the warehouse by regulated or bona fide private carrier; (3) the property is held no longer than 6 months and has an out-of-state destination predetermined at the point of origin; and (4) the books and records relating to out-of-state shipments are available for reasonable inspection by proper taxing authorities.

FOR: Over two-thirds of all states and the District of Columbia, including the states bordering Texas on all sides, have some sort of free-port law. Those states, including Texas, without free ports are limited in potential growth as distribution centers for major manufacturing and processors.

The assessment date of the tax is based on inventory as of January 1. Only minimal revenues are collected, because major manufacturers and processors avoid such tax by moving their goods prior to the January 1 assessment date.

AGAINST: The adoption of this proposed amendment would be an evasion of the "equal and uniform" provisions of the state constitution as related to taxation.

At a time when the state is in great need of additional sources of revenue to meet the demands of a rapidly growing population, it would seem illogical to give up such a source of revenue.

AMENDMENT NO. 14

FOR OR AGAINST the constitutional amendment fixing the time during which members of the Legislature shall be ineligible to hold other offices.

This proposed amendment to Section 18, Article III, Legislative Department, would modify present constitutional restrictions on the eligibility of members of the legislature for other state offices during their legislative terms. The proposed amendment retains the exact language of the present Section 18 with the addition of the following: "provided, however, the fact that the term of office of Senators and Representatives does not end precisely on the last day of December but extends a few days into January of the succeeding year should be considered de minimis and the ineligibility herein created shall terminate on the last day of December of the last full calendar year of the term for which he was elected." Sections 3 and 4 of Article III were amended in 1966 to provide that both senators and House representatives would take office on the day set by law for the convening of the regular session of the legislature, the second Tuesday in January in odd-numbered years, thereby extending the term of office 8 to 14 days into January and overlapping with other elective offices whose terms begin on January 1. This additional 2-year disqualification was obviously not the intent of the amended Sections.

FOR: The adoption of this amendment would negate the brief overlap of the terms of members of the legislature with the terms of office or other elected positions. It would remove any question as to the eligibility of a member of the legislature to run for and be elected to some other office, the term of which begins on January 1 of the year in which the new legislature convenes. This amendment will preserve all the safeguards against the misuse of legislative positions originally intended by Section 18.

AGAINST: The present provisions of Section 18, Article III, designed to prevent a legislator from resigning to take an office that was created, or the emoluments of which were increased, during his term of office, have been included in substance in Texas constitutions since 1845. There should be no modification of the safeguards included in the present Section 18, since it could set a precedent for further modifications in the future.

Market Off After News

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a loss Friday after running up a small early advance on news that President Johnson had ordered a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

Brokers said the bullishness shown at the opening was largely psychological and was not expected to last long. They said reports that there would be a halt in the bombing had been circulating for a long time and had been somewhat discounted by the market.

The Dow Jones industrial average climbed more than 3 points near the start, but then it slid downhill for a loss of more than 6 points. A slight recovery near the end of the session sent the average up and it closed at 948.41, a loss of 3.98 points.

Volume for the day on the New York Stock Exchange was 14,480,000 shares, compared with 17.65 million shares Thursday.

Electrocuted Squirrel Darkens Bay City

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — A squirrel electrocuted himself and in so doing knocked out most of the power in downtown Bay City area for five minutes Friday.

Lowell Shepard, division manager of Consumers Power Co., said the squirrel walked onto a transformer, short-circuiting several power lines.

Loose Dentures Shorten Plate Life

PHOENIX, Ariz. It has been reported that years of denture life can be lost due to loose dentures which slip and slide causing wear and breakage of plates. A new denture adhesive powder has been developed to counteract this slippage called Super-Dent. Super-Dent's "no slip formula" has a base which so closely resembles the feel and action of real teeth that users are calling it "foolproof" Super-Dent is already available in limited supply at HALL DRUG

Las Vegas Is In A Furor Over The Nuclear Thumpers

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The earth jumps, high as a two-story house. More than half a mile below, a great spherical cavern three city blocks across forms as thousands of tons of volcanic rock vanish into vapor, hot as a blazing sun.

For a brief time this man-created hell is contained in a vast glassy bubble. Then, as the vapor cools, the weight of the violated earth above bursts the bubble and a Niagara of rubble cascades through the roof of the cavern.

On the surface, the earth settles heavily, dustily back into the crater formed by the underground bubble's collapse.

Outward from the crater the earth's crust ripples in ever widening circles, lapping at the foundations of cities hundreds of miles away before they subside.

A mere 120 miles distant, in the glittering towers of Las Vegas, tourists clutch momentarily at gaming tables as the floor rocks.

Thrilled and happy—where else could you experience an earthquake guaranteed to be harmless?—they mutter, "man, what a thumper." And as the queasy rolling dies they resume their gambling.

"Thumpers" are underground nuclear explosions in the megaton range, equal to a million tons of TNT.

Two have been set off on the Atomic Energy Commission's testing grounds north of Las Vegas this year, and at least one more is expected by year's end.

Although they add to the excitement of a trip to Las Vegas, where you can rock and roll literally as well as musically, underground megaton blasts are rapidly becoming a major issue.

The trouble is that scientists have just learned, somewhat to their surprise, that large underground explosions are followed by a swarm of small earthquakes, unfelt but measurable on delicate instruments called seismometers.

Since tremors have been known to trigger other tremors with cumulative effect, some experts are beginning to wonder if some day a thumper might trigger disaster.

On one side of the controversy are civic leaders who want underground testing of superweapons halted pending positive proof that it is safe. Ranged against them are makers of government policy who insist the risk is far outweighed by the need to perfect nuclear weapons.

At stake, for Nevadans, is the AEC's $6-million-a-month payroll. They must balance possible loss of the state's second largest industry—topped only by gambling — against the death and damage that could follow a major earthquake. Since Nevada is one of the most quake-prone areas in the country, any likelihood of altering the earth-strain levels is disturbing.

At stake, for the nation, is the urgency to develop warheads for the Sentinel antimissile system, now nearing the deployment stage. If safety requirements—or public resentment—forced the AEC to find a new site for megaton tests, costs would skyrocket.

The price of a nuclear test now ranges from $2 million to $20 million, exclusive of the weapon itself, in Nevada. On Amchitka Island, off Alaska, where the AEC is spending millions preparing to set off devices too powerful to be tested in Nevada, costs are expected to double because of transportation problems.

The thumper that started all the furor came last Jan. 19. Although not the most powerful of the more than 250 underground blasts set off in Nevada up to that time—one in December 1966 had a bit more yield—it unexpectedly jolted buildings as far away as Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. It registered 6.2 on the richter magnitude scale which pegs major earthquakes at 7.

It was called, for some unexplained reason, Faultless.

Like all nuclear shots, Faultless started out as the brainchild of scientists seeking to create nuclear device for special purposes: smaller, lighter and more powerful weapons for bombs and warheads, or cleaner explosives for peaceful uses such as digging canals.

Months were spent in designing the Faultless device and the instruments, many of them buried with it, which would tell distant observers how it performed. Then came additional months of safety checks, as experts tried to calculate the worst that could happen and guard against it.

Eventually the proposal went to commissioners in Washington, D.C., and to the President, who must approve all use of nuclear material. The time and expense were balanced against the need for the weapon and the shot date was set, some two years after conception.

Meanwhile, in anticipation of such a test an incredible hole had been bored 3,200 feet deep in a new proving grounds 200 miles north of Las Vegas.

Before Faultless was set off last January, the AEC said it was a calibration test, mainly to determine if larger shots planned for the area would be safe. It was not expected to be felt in distant Las Vegas.

But soon after the shot, buildings in Las Vegas swayed sickeningly and a rolling motion was felt in San Francisco, twice as far away.

Nonetheless, an even bigger blast 100 miles closer to Las Vegas was set off April 26 at a slightly greater depth, 3,800 feet. It was called Boxcar and had a magnitude of 6.5.

After checking Faultless and Boxcar, Dr. Alan Ryall of the University of Nevada privately circulated a report showing that all explosions of magnitude 5 or greater were followed by an increase in seismicity—earth quake activity—for at least one day and in some cases up to five days.

Seismologist Ryall also found that after five recent explosions the number of earthquakes recorded was at least twice as great as normal.

Ryall's report concluded that effects of continued firing could be cumulative, "possibly resulting eventually in a sizeable earthquake."

Dr. Wendell Weart, the AEC's own earthquake expert and chairman of its ground-shock effects committee, later said that evidence of greater seismicity after blasts had been noted as early as 1964, but the AEC had said nothing "because we weren't sure what it was or whether it was directly related to the shots."

Last Sept. 30 the AEC issued a statement that it "recognizes that some seismic energy releases occur shortly after, and in the vicinity of, underground nuclear detonations."

Weart insisted, however, that he was not convinced that any increased seismicity more than 30 miles from the shotpoint was caused by the blasts.

Weart said he would not hesitate to recommend another Nevada shot in the megaton range.

He saw "no chance" that megaton tests in Nevada could trigger an earthquake along the great San Andreas fault, a crack in the earth's crust that underlies San Francisco and passes near Los Angeles. The closest it comes to the Nevada test site is 170 miles.

Junior Editors Quiz on DEAD SEA SCROLLS

QUESTION: Why are the Dead Sea scrolls so important?

* * *

ANSWER: One day, in 1947, an Arabian goatherd boy named Muhammad Adh-Dhib threw a casual stone into a crevice on a rocky hillside near the Dead Sea. He heard a sound like breaking crockery. Inside a cave were a number of mouldy jars containing rolled up scrolls wrapped in decaying cloth. The boy alerted other Arabs. They took the jars out and sold the scrolls to authorities in Jerusalem. But no one seemed to know what the strange writing on the scrolls might mean until an American expert deciphered them. He discovered they were the records of a religious group called the Essenes, who had established a monastery here, about 100 B.C. This was extremely important, as the period was contemporary with the time of Christ, and the scrolls contained translations of many parts of the Bible. Material in these scrolls has tended to authenticate many things we read about in the Old Testament. Fragments of more scrolls are being carefully studied and are adding more knowledge about this most important time in man's history.
