Two Boys And Three Girls Accused Of Robbing Brady Bank

Daylight Raid in West Texas Town Results In Loss of $5,000

YOUTH IDENTIFIED

Bank Clerk Recognizes Boy Who Leads Robbery With Daring

BRADY, Texas, March 21. (AP)—Five youthful alleged bank bandits, three of them girls, were in jail here tonight charged with robbery with firearms and another girl was under arrest as the aftermath of a daylight robbery of the Farmers and Merchants State bank here today.

With the arrest and filing of charges against Irene Curtis, 20, of Brady, tonight, officers believed they had rounded up all who participated in the daring robbery. A girl arrested with Miss Curtis probably will not be charged, officers said. She was from Beaumont.

Charges previously had been filed against Lucille Awalt, 24, Brady; Miss Billy Ballard, 20, said to live in Austin, and their companions, R. C. Turner, 21, and Coy Nigh, 18, both of Brady. None of the estimated $5,000 loot has been recovered.

Turner Identified

Turner was identified by Harold Johanson, 19, bank bookkeeper, as the man who entered the bank shortly after noon today, talked with him about a dance, then returned a few minutes later wearing a handkerchief which partially concealed his face.

The robber, Johanson said, brandished a pistol and demanded all available cash. Johanson said he handed over a bundle of currency.

"That's enough," the bandit told the bookkeeper, turning and striding out to an automobile where, officers assert, three girls waited.

Steno Gives Alarm

Miss Flora Currier, bank stenographer, rang an alarm and Johanson summoned police.

The bandit car sped south, reversed its direction a short distance from the outskirts of town, and went to a meeting place where officers believe the four joined Nigh, driving another car.

A hastily organized posse found the abandoned sedan which figured in the holdup. Later they met Turner and Nigh driving another automobile a mile south of town. The pair was unarmed and offered no resistance. The girls were arrested at a residence here.

ESCOBAR AND MOSELEY TALK

Rebel Chief and U. S. General Hold Conference

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—Miss Oline Gregory of Van Alstyne, Texas, has been informed that her brother, the Rev. E. J. Gregory, missionary in Mexico since his graduation from a seminary in 1923, is held captive by Mexican rebels at Culiacan, Sinaloa, Mexico.

Miss Gregory is a student at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary here, from which her brother was graduated.

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 21 (UP) Gen. Jose Gonzalo Escobar, plump, mustachioed commander-in-chief of the Mexican revolutionary armies, announced here today that he planned shortly to make an intensive drive against the federal army of Plutarco Elias Calles, now advancing northward.

General Escobar arrived here early today on a special train from Jimines, where he left his main army after evacuating Torreon. He denied that he had fled the city.

Two-Hour Parley

Brig. Gen. George Van Horn Moseley, commandant of Fort Bliss, Texas, conferred with General Escobar this afternoon for almost two hours in the drawing room of the rebel chief's private car. After the parley, spokesmen for both generals denied that peace negotiations had been discussed. General Escobar stated positively there will be no overtures from his side for a truce.

Escobar was immaculately groomed and presented a stately appearance in moleskin riding breeches and boots, a soft khaki shirt and a

U. S. War Department Has No Hot Reports

WASHINGTON, March 21. (UP)—Reports to the war department regarding the Mexican situation have disclosed nothing alarming, Secretary of War Good said today. He explained the department would take any action necessary, however, to protect American lives along the border.

Good said the war department had no information regarding reports that American guns had been drawn up along the border in the vicinity of Naco, Ariz.

Son of Aguirre Hears Report Of Dad's Capture

CHESTER, PA., March 21. (US)—A 15-year-old student was called into the private office of Col. Frank K. Hyatt, vice president of the Pennsylvania Military college today.

He stood at attention, Colonel Hyatt said:

"We have received word that your father in Mexico has been captured."

Colonel Hyatt paused. The boy said nothing, and the colonel continued:

"There has been no official confirmation of the report that—that"—

Colonel Hyatt groped for a word, but the boy apparently didn't notice his superior's hesitancy.

"Of the report," the colonel went on, "that your father, General Aguirre—is dead."

The boy's lips tightened.

"That General Aguirre," said Colonel Hyatt, "has been executed."

Tears glistened in two youthful eyes.

"Yes, sir," the boy said.

He saluted the colonel.

Leon Umberto Aguirre, son of the executed Mexican rebel leader, didn't flinch.

"If it is true," said the colonel, "that your father has paid the supreme penalty, you, his son, must bear up under the tragedy like a soldier."

"Yes sir," answered the boy.

"Remember," continued Colonel Hyatt, "you must act as a father for your mother and sister in Mexico."

"I will, sir."

And the boy turned on his heel and left the office.

Youth Kills Sweetheart But Gets Forgiveness

AURORA, Ill., March 21. (UP)—In dying whispers, 22-year-old Margaret Wiesmantel today forgave her jealous sweetheart who fatally wounded her and then began a race with death to a hospital.

A weak "I do" in answer to a plea for forgiveness brought little relief to Theodore Freeman, 23, who shot Margaret because she refused to say those same words a few hours earlier when he proposed marriage.

Mexican Given Death for Slaying Mason Sheriff; Negro Gets Chair

MASON, Texas, March 21. (AP)—Found guilty of the murder of Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county, Ofilio Herrera, Mexican, was sentenced to death by a jury here tonight.

DALLAS, March 21. (AP)—Ardell Landers, negro, was tried, convicted and sentenced to death here today for the murder of Joe Piccola, grocer, while a jury in another room of the court house still was deliberating the fate of M. L. Lacy, negro, alleged companion of Landers in the crime.

Landers' trial was one of the speediest in the county's history. It was the fifth death penalty inflicted by juries here since the Christmas holidays.

The 12 men deliberating Lacy's case apparently were deadlocked tonight after more than 24 hours' deliberation. Lacy, 18, testified Piccola was killed by Ardell Landers and that he was an innocent witness.

Committee Adopts 32 Charges Against Supreme Tribunal Heads

UP TO HOUSE TODAY

Lawmakers to Hear Report Of Testimony Taken By Probers

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21. (AP)—Thirty-two charges against three members of the state supreme court—Chief Justice Charles W. Mason, and Justices Fletcher Riley and J. W. Clark—were adopted by the house of representatives general investigating committee in executive session today and probably will be reported out to the house for consideration tomorrow. Homer Paul, Garvin county member of the sub-committee which has been investigating the court, announced late today.

Paul said 11 charges were adopted by the general committee to be reported out against each of two of the justices, and 10 charges against the third. Various allegations were made, he stated, the charges differing as to each justice.

The sub-committee of which J. A. Patterson, Seminole county Republican is chairman, took testimony in connection with the supreme court for almost two months. More than 6,000 type written pages of evidence were said to have been taken during the course of the questioning, most of which was done by O. O. Owens, Tulsa county Republican and a member of the committee.

Public hearings ceased about two weeks ago, and a partial report of the most important evidence was placed before the parent committee.

Only yesterday, the senate ousted Gov. Henry S. Johnston.

Chief Justice Mason and Justices Riley and Clark were members of the court which, in 1927, held the eleventh legislature had no authority to convene in special session to investigate Johnston, then governor, and state departments.

Foch Burial To Be Paris' Greatest Tribute Since Services For Napoleon

PARIS, March 21. (UP)—Maimed and blinded war veterans and the widows and orphans of those who died for France wept today at the bier of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, victor in the world war and leader of the mightiest army in history.

France will pay him formal tribute on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, when he will be given a public burial unequaled since Napoleon's body was brought back from St. Helena, but the intervening time has been given over to the plain people of France.

Soldiers of every grade from private to general passed before the catafalque in the mansion in the Rue de Grenelles, presented by a grateful government to the nation-al hero. Tears coursed down the cheeks of men as well as women. Gray-haired pollus, some of them pitifully crippled, hobbled past in their threadbare blue uniforms to take a last look at their leader and murmur a prayer for him.

The long columns filed past the bier all through the day, as long as daylight permitted the people to identify the worn features of the savior of France. With darkness, the doors were closed and two nuns took up the vigil, to pray through the night.

The public will be allowed to enter again tomorrow, but on Saturday the doors will be closed to permit the marshal's family to mourn him alone.

Then on Sunday the national emotion will reach its height when the body will be laid in state beside the unknown soldier under the Arc de Triomphe, the most imposing arch in the world, built by Napoleon to celebrate his military conquests. Foch is regarded by the French as a military genius equal to Napoleon, but of a different order—a liberator, not a conqueror.

Besides the poor remains of a brave Frenchman typifying the thousands who laid down their lives under Foch 11 years ago on the blood-drenched fields across the hills to the east, the marshal's body will lie for a brief space while representatives of most of the civilized nations on earth pay him tribute.

MOAD'S DEATH STILL MYSTERY

Finding of Autopsy Over Electran Withheld

GALVESTON, March 21. (AP)—The findings of an autopsy on the body of Lewis O. Moad, 35-year-old life insurance salesman of Electra, found in a dying condition on the sea wall last night, were withheld today pending an inquest probably tomorrow.

Moad was found by a policeman with his head hanging over the sea wall, and was rushed to a hospital, where he died.

Justice of the Peace John R. Harris said Moad had been ill several days and had planned to start for his home as soon as his automobile was repaired.

PASTOR LEAVES TO TRANSFER BODY

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, March 21.—The Rev. C. C. Klingman, pastor of the Christian church here, left tonight for Galveston, where he will take charge of the body of Lewis Moad, Electran, who died under strange circumstances there last night.

Moad, an insurance agent here, was found in a dying condition, with his head dangling over the seawall on Galveston beach, according to Associated Press dispatchers from the gulf city. He died before he could be taken to a hospital.

The body, according to Mrs. J. J. Cabe, his mother-in-law, who lives here, will be taken to Monett, Mo., the home of Moad's mother. The Rev. Klingman, she said, probably would accompany the body to its final destination.

Cause of Moad's death had not been learned here Thursday night. It was reported from Galveston that the justice of the peace would withhold the inquest pending an autopsy.

Mrs. Cabe said Moad left Electra last Monday for Archer City in an automobile and had not been heard of until today.

In addition to his mother-in-law, he leaves his wife here.

MOAD KNOWN IN WICHITA FALLS

Lewis O. Moad, reported in a dispatch from Galveston as having died under peculiar circumstances at that city Wednesday night, was well known to a number of Wichita Falls people. On the day when he is reported to have left his home in Electra, he was seen at the Kemp hotel here, and talked with two acquaintances, one a member of The Record News staff. During that conversation Mr. Moad appeared to be in excellent health. Upon leaving he did not mention his destination.

Coolidge Hides Out While in New York

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—For all that New York saw of Calvin Coolidge on his first day in town since he left the White House he might as well have been in his little flat in Northampton, Mass.

The former president remained in seclusion. What that business was remained Mr. Coolidge's secret, and that of Frank W. Stearns, his friend, who spent the day with him.

Princess Martha's 'Ya' Seals Vow Of Her Marriage to Prince Olaf

Thousands of Norwegians Acclaim Marriage of Heir to Throne and Norwegian Maiden

OSLO, March 21. (US)—Princess Martha of Sweden answered "yes." The Princess rendered this monosyllable, which is always a sure-fire hit in the "Yon Yonsen" shows of our own American middle-west, in a high, clear voice, which carried to the farthest urches of the ancient church of Our Savior here at noon today.

Again that "ya" was a sure-fire hit, not only with the 1,600 guests in a colorful array, but also with the waiting thousands lining the route of the royal wedding procession.

"Ya" Seals Vow

For when this dark-haired niece of the Swedish king laid her hand in the hand of Olaf, crown prince of Norway, and said "yes" to the question asked by the Bishop of Oslo, Bishop Johan Lunde, of whether she was willing to take the marriage vows, that simple monosyllable sealed a breach between the two strong northland peoples which has lasted for nearly a quarter of a century.

Tonight, this quaint little capital is all "en fete" because a tall, slim girl, with strong features and a level glance, who represents the blood of kinsfolk across the boundary lines, has walked into the heart of their idolized prince as well as into the heart of the whole nation.

Probably there have been more splendid royal weddings—more piling on of pomp and circumstance—but never one in which the populace stood so close to the altar on which the love troths were plighted.

People's Bride

By the time Princess Martha with her father, brother to the Swedish king, drove the length of the crowd-packed mile to the church a few minutes before noon, until the frenzied thousands had their last look at her and her new husband standing on the balcony of the palace, this bride belonged to the people of Oslo.

A choir of 100 tuneful Norwegian voices thundered the stirring Swedish national anthem as the princess entered the church on the arm of her father, Prince Karl.

Thousands of children, dismissed from school, scattered flowers along the route of the wedding procession between the unique columns of melting ice. The short, barking Norwegian cheer was evident everywhere, and the tolling of the bells and the booming of cannon told this "silver princess" she had been adopted into the heart of Norway.

Many American millionaires have spent 10 times the money for church decorations when buying a dukedom for their daughter, than King Haakon allowed spent on the interior of the church of Our Savlour, which was almost bare save for the white lilacs and lilies at the altar.

Willacy County Man Seeks Court Reversal

AUSTIN, March 21. (AP)—An application for permission to file a motion for mandamus to compel the San Antonio court of civil appeals to reverse a decision of Willacy county district court was filed in supreme court by R. W. Huff of Willacy county today.

Huff alleges that on Oct. 24, 1927, he filed his petition in Willacy county seeking to recover $50,000 damages from J. O. Reber for alleged slander, and that thereafter the court held against him. He appealed to the fourth court of civil appeals and it affirmed the district court.

BODIES OF 21 MINERS FOUND

Rescuers Report Success In Search for Victims

PARNASSUS, Pa., March 21. (AP)—Bodies of 21 miners, all badly burned, were found in the Kinloch mine tonight by rescuers. They were located at the foot of the main slope, scene of a disastrous gas explosion this morning. Rescuers continued to push forward in an effort to find six missing men. Two hundred and twenty-three others saved themselves by making their way out of an old entry, five miles from the main drift.

The rescuers, who located the 21 bodies, said they were burned so badly it would be difficult to identify them.

They reported that at the foot of the main slope and back several hundred yards, the mine was wrecked, indicating that the origin of the explosion would be found deeper in the mine. They encountered no cave-ins, and said that the work of bratticing, so as to carry in fresh air, was progressing rapidly.

Children Forced to Eat Corn, Father Says in Trial for $1 Check Deal

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, March 21.—Admitting that he had forged a name to a $1 check to buy food after his family had been reduced by hunger to eating raw kafir corn, a 60-year-old man Thursday morning won a two-year suspended sentence from a jury in the 97th district court here. The suspension was unopposed by W. J. Glasgow, county attorney.

The aged defendant, making a simple plea of guilty to the jury, said that he and his family of several children had come to Henrietta in a truck, looking for work and better times. Hungry and penniless, they had stopped at a wagon yard while the father sought in vain for work, offering in desperation to try any kind of manual labor for 50 cents a day. When the children were so hungry that they ate raw kafir corn found around the wagon yard, the father wrote a fictitious name to a $1 check in the hope of buying food.

The smallest sentence possible under a plea of guilty to forgery and suspension were returned immediately by the jury.

Before the morning was over another plea of guilty to a similar charge and a suspended five-year sentence was given to a second defendant not so old, but the father of eight children, who had been in want, he told the jury, when he raised a $3 check to $30 in an attempt to provide for his family.

Youth Lures Girl From Library With Fake Note From Mother

An attempt to kidnap Dorothy Bash, 12-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Allan Bash, 907 Travis street, shortly after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon was frustrated when the would-be boy kidnaper, thinking he heard footsteps approaching within the Episcopal church building, where he had gagged and tied the struggling girl, fled from the scene.

Many Hunt Assailant

The boy kidnaper Thursday night was the object of a search instituted by both county and city police, to whom a full description of the boy, said to be about 17 years old, was given by the girl. Dorothy, uninjured by the experience, was able to further assist officers by giving a detailed account of what happened.

The girl was lured from the steps of the Kemp public library to the Episcopal church building, at Tenth and Burnett street, by a youth who, she said, told her he bore a message from her mother. As she came out of the library, Dorothy said, the boy approached and said that her mother had left a box at the Episcopal church, and that Dorothy was to get it and bring it back home with her.

"I didn't think anything funny about that," Dorothy said. "Since my father is a preacher, I thought he, or my mother, might have left something there for me to bring home, and I went with the boy to the building." Dr. Bash is pastor of the First Christian church, and is prominent in religious circles here.

"We got to the church," Dorothy said, "and he led me to a back room. There he started acting strange. He asked me if I knew what kidnaping meant, and he said that was what he was going to do to me.

"I started crying. He told me to quit making so much noise, but I couldn't stop crying because I was afraid. Then he found some ribbon in the room, and stuffed my mouth with it, and tied some of it around my face to gag me. He tied my hands too.

"Then he said 'if you'll say you'll kiss me I'll turn you loose.' But I wouldn't say that. Then he said, 'well, I'll count four, and if you don't, I'll kill you.'

Threatens Death to Child

"He started counting. He got to three, but said he'd start over again.

"Then he counted again. He got to two this time. Then he threatened again to kill me.

"Then he thought he heard someone coming. He led me from the rear room, into one of the corners of the church. He looked out of the window, and becoming afraid again, he hurried off.

"I still had my hands tied, and my mouth gagged, so I couldn't scream. I found one of the side doors unlatched, and ran from the building across the street, where I saw a little girl on the front porch. She untied my hands, and took the gags from my mouth."

The home Dorothy ran to, she said, was that of a Mrs. Mills, who lives opposite the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Mills, Dorothy said, came to the door, and seeing the child in this condition, took her into the house, and called police officers. She also notified Dr. and Mrs. Bash.

When the police came, Dorothy said she went with them to the church building, and described what happened. Police attempted to secure fingerprints from the doorknob of the rear room, and from furniture, but such a crowd had assembled when news of the incident spread that traces of the youth's prints had been ruined.

Aids Police in Search

Dorothy then accompanied police to the police station, where she related the story. There she was

BONE-DRY SHIP CHANGES TACK

Anti-Saloon League Revises Policies

By EDWARD L. RODDAN

WASHINGTON, March 21. (US)—Radical change in policy has been decided upon by the Anti-Saloon league of America as a result of recent changes in the dry situation.

Believing that national prohibition now faces its "greatest opportunity," the league has decided to give the Hoover administration a free hand in working out enforcement details.

The league will neither oppose nor favor the proposed transfer of the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department. It will make no effort to influence the scope or membership of the Hoover law enforcement commission. It will make no recommendations for administrative changes in the federal enforcement machinery.

This new policy, decided upon at a recent meeting of the league's administrative committee in Pittsburg, was announced today by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent. He said:

"The fact that the president has spoken out on prohibition makes the situation interesting and unique. This is the first time in this country and perhaps the first time in the world that the chief executive has spoken out in this manner."

In the minds of dry leaders, the whole prohibition situation has undergone a complete change during the last few weeks. A new "psychology" in favor of prohibition has been built up, they believe, by passage of the Jones law, increased appropriations voted by congress, and the attitude of President Hoover on law enforcement.

McBride said that the league entertained great hope of effective results flowing from the Jones law. The drastic penalties it provides will give the government just the "club" it needs to deal with the big violations of prohibition, the bootleggers who are reaping commercial profit under present conditions, he declared.

In an effort to "back up the government," the league will revive its local committees throughout the country and form new ones to help build up local sentiment in favor of law enforcement. It will concentrate its efforts on obtaining state and municipal enforcement as an aid to the program of the federal government. In doing this, league officials believe, it will be bringing out that "concurrent" enforcement spoken of in the 18th amendment.

'LIFE FOR PINT' LAW WEAKENS

First Step Taken to Kill Drastic Rule

LANSING, Mich., March 21. (UP)—In passing the Cuthberton bill, fixing penalties for dry law violators, the Michigan senate today took what was predicted as the first step in setting aside the so-called "life for a pint" law.

The bill, as passed in the senate, provides a mandatory sentence of from one to four years imprisonment for bootleggers and gives judges the option of a $50 to $2,000 fine or 60 days to four years sentence for minor violations.

As it came from the house, the Cuthberton bill carried a five-year maximum for commercial violators, bringing such convictions under the fourth felony life sentence provision of the habitual criminal code, which it is proposed to amend.

Re-passage of the bill in the house and passage of the criminal code amendments in the senate, will abolish the "life for a pint" law. It is generally conceded that both bills will be passed.

Preceding passage of the Cuthberton bill today, Senator Herbert J. Rushton, Escanaba, official spokesman in the senate for Gov. Fred W. Green, launched a vicious attack upon the Anti-Saloon league and R. N. Holsaple, superintendent.

The superintendent's lobbying tactics during consideration of prohibition measures this session have come under the fire of legislators, several dry members joining in voicing protest.

Eaker, army airplane pilot who failed in two attempts to make a dawn to dusk flight from Brownsville, Texas, to France field, Panama, received orders today to return his plane to the Boeing factory at Seattle, Wash., where it will be equipped with machine guns and converted into a standard pursuit ship.

The army flier expects to leave Kelly field for the west coast tomorrow.

STENOGRAPHY TO MUSIC IN DES MOINES SCHOOLS

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 21. (INS)—"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party."

"The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog."

Take a good look at them. Because it's probably the last time you'll see those sentences, if a plan of teaching typewriting in Des Moines schools becomes widespread.

For embryo stenographers are being tought rhythm in typing to music.

And astounded visitors, hearing a phonograph strike up Bizet's "Toreador Song" or "Rule Britannia" in the classroom are assured that it's not another outbreak from the younger generation—it's just a typewriting class taking a lesson.

Concentration and speed in typing come from rhythm, according to Clay D. Slinker, head of the business department of Des Moines schools. And music develops rhythm better than any other method tried so far.

Mexico-Bound Mail Routed Via Brownsville

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The postoffice department on the request of the Mexican government and after a conference with the state department has ordered all first-class mail to Mexico to be routed by Brownsville. Other class mail will be sent by El Paso.

The mail previously has been going through Laredo, but the outbreak of the revolution so handicapped its movements from the border southward that the Mexican government felt that it could be expedited if contact with the Mexican mail service was made at El Paso and Brownsville.

NEW IDEA FOR BIRTH CONTROL

Compulsory Quota System Is Suggested

BERKELEY, Calif., March 21. (US)—Compulsory nationwide birth control, limiting the population of both negroes and whites under a quota system comparable to that limiting immigration from foreign countries!

This is the startling suggestion of Dr. Samuel J. Holmes, professor of zoology and noted biologist at the University of California.

He said:

"Ever increasing negro births in this country will form an added incentive for nationwide adoption of birth control measures, which will limit population to both negroes and whites under a quota system comparable to that now limiting immigration from foreign countries.

"If population growth can be brought under a system of wise regulation for a nation as a whole, then whatever procedures are found effective might well be applied to determine the proportionate recrescentation of its component racial elements.

"In other words, in countries where incomers through birth are subjected to numerical restriction, it might prove feasible to introduce a quota system."

The colored birth rate is higher than the white, Dr. Holmes continued, and the death rate is steadily decreasing through acquired immunity to inspiratory diseases. He cited China and India as countries with high birth rates which have brought misery and suffering in their wake.

Press Radio Body Loses Injunction Plea

WASHINGTON, March 21. (US)—The National Radio Press association, which recently demanded all 40 domestic and foreign short waves reserved for use of the American press, was today refused a temporary injunction in equity court restraining the Federal Radio commission from assigning any of the short wave channels.

Justice Jennings Bailey, who heard the case, intimated that his decision as to a permanent injunction will be ready by Monday.

Reapportionment Comes Up Again

WASHINGTON, March 21. (US)—Reapportionment legislation at the forthcoming extra session of congress was put squarely up to to the senate by house leaders today.

"The house passed the Fenn bill to reapportion the house of representatives, as called for in the constitution, and it is now up to the senate to act," declared Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican floor leader.

The senate leaders are disposed to press for passage of a reapportionment measure at the short session, was the indication from Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican floor leader.

A new drive has been launched by Representative McLeod, Republican of Michigan, for the house to act on reapportionment.

After conferring with President Hoover on the legislative program for the extra session, Tilson announced that legislation will be limited to tariff revision, farm relief and possibly reapportionment.

Beaumont Company Asks Radio Permit

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The Kidd Russ Trunk and Bag company of Beaumont today asked the federal radio commission for a permit to construct a broadcasting station at Beaumont to operate daily to 9 p. m. at 1,360 kilocycles on 100 watts power.

The applicants were given two weeks to present to the commission affidavits showing public necessity for such a station.

The commissioners said Texas already has more than its share of radio facilities and indicated the chance for granting permission to erect another station in Texas was slim.

RIVERA AND HIS KING AT PEACE

Monarch and Dictator Get Along Well

PARIS, March 21. (US)—King Alfonso of Spain and Primo de Rivera chatting cordially in the royal palace as they puffed contentedly at their Cuban cigars, was the picture brought to Paris from Madrid today by one who had just seen the monarch and his dictator on the most intimate terms.

The first-hand description was given quite casually in personal conversation by the eye-witness, and directly contradicted the recurring and oft-inspired reports seeking to create the impression that the pair were distinctly at odds.

One incident described occurred during a visit to King Alfonso by an English tailor, for a fitting. When the tailor appeared, the king and primo were informally gossiping.

In the course of the tailor's visit, the king laughingly remarked to his dictator, "this man would be a good tailor for you. His clothes improve anybody's figure, and you know yours could stand improvement."

The dictator laughed at the reference to his own well-known solidity of appearance.

Beautiful Policeman Spent Too Much For Face Creams, His Wife Charges

CHICAGO, March 21. (US)—Michael Burke may be a good policeman but as a husband—he's too beautiful and too mean.

This all according to a bill for divorce filed today by Mrs. Marian Burke, who deposes and says, to-wit:

"He beat me.

"He broke up our dishes and furniture.

"He uses four kinds of cold cream and two kinds of rouge.

"He spoils the pillow-cases by too lavish use of cold cream at night.

"He failed to provide money to run the household."

Mrs. Burke elaborated saying:

"He took his pay to the corner drug store. He brought home cold cream, lemon cream, vanishing cocanut cream and lotions. He bought rouge, lip rouge, hair ointments and manicuring tinting liquids.

"He got up and hour earlier each morning to arrange his face and when he was beautifying himself he passed his time by beating me and breaking up our dishes and furniture."

Dairy Show To Add New Feature

Special to The Record News

PLAINVIEW, Texas, March 21.—To stimulate interest between counties of the Panhandle-Plains area in the breeding of purebred animals, a county herd department has been added to the second annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview, April 2-5.

Three hundred dollars will be given as premiums in this department divided among the three breeds of dairy cattle, Jersey, Holstein and Guernsey.

Several counties are in the competition. Prominent among them will be Floyd, Hale Lubbock, Swisher, Randall, Dawson, Terry, Lamb, Carson, Deaf Smith, and possibly Briscoe. There may be other entries in this department as the time of the show rolls round.

The county herd department is a new idea in livestock shows. This past year the state fair of Texas had its first. Hale county was a contestant with a large herd shipped for that purpose.

The list is representative of nearly every phase of the agricultural problem and indicates the broad scope of the hearings contemplated by Chairman McNary.

So Society Editor Lends Halliburton Dime for His Taxi

By MRS. L. N. CASON
Society Editor, The Record News

The audience which heard Richard Halliburton Wednesday night, listened with interest to the tale of his adventures and saw him moving as swiftly as he talked. That he moves swiftly always is not doubted by three of us who waited Thursday morning to keep an appointment with him. No one could keep track of him, though we glimpsed him now and then. However, a card finally reached him and he came buoyantly, smilingly, to meet us, telling us in the first breath that of necessity he had disconnected his phone, so had received no word.

I remember his mother, a sweet, dignified blonde woman of unusual musical and literary ability, and tried to see her in her son. But he is like none of his family. Ruddy haired, bright eyed, alert, he stands alone. It would be difficult to find brighter eyes or more expressive face.

Credit to Mother

Wednesday evening, he referred to the father who had told him brave tales of ancient civilizations and planted in him his thirst for adventure. Asked if the mother did not deserve credit, he said laughingly that she, perhaps, was entitled to more thanks than anyone else. As a writer, he said, his mother had been both inspiration and critic; in fact, so much his critic that she leaned backward she was so afraid of his becoming self satisfied. When he sent her some chapters of his new work, she had written him that it was the worst work he had ever done; almost the worst anyone had ever done. But remembering her, I know the pride she must have in this son.

Richard Halliburton says he receives numerous letters from boys (and girls) who wish to follow in his footsteps. His secretary writes them to wait until they are prepared. Halliburton started his education with the life he is leading as the end in view. He studied the languages, the ancient glories, became thoroughly familiar with the lands he intended to visit. His was a cultural education.

We asked him if he intended marrying. "Oh, who can tell what one will do five or 10 years from now?" he said, talking with his head and hands as much as his voice. "One never knows how he will change." He said he was a wanderer and the thought of being responsible fairly frightened him; that there was no practical side to him.

I laughed to myself, remembering standing at the foyer door at the Forum Wednesday night and seeing Mr. Halliburton jump bareheaded from a taxi (by the way he is always bareheaded), and start for the wrong door. I opened the right one and called, "Mr. Halliburton!" He turned and came swiftly: "Are you Mrs. Guest," he asked; "No, I am—" but he interruped, "L-l-loan me a dime," he said. Taxi fare is $1.15 and I've only got $1.10."

Busy Life

My, but I've something pleasant to remember; lending a dime to this famous young man whose first stories I saw when they came out in his home paper, the Commercial Appeal of Memphis, Tenn., so many years ago. And it makes him seem nearer kin to every day folks to know he suttters very slightly when hurried in speech.

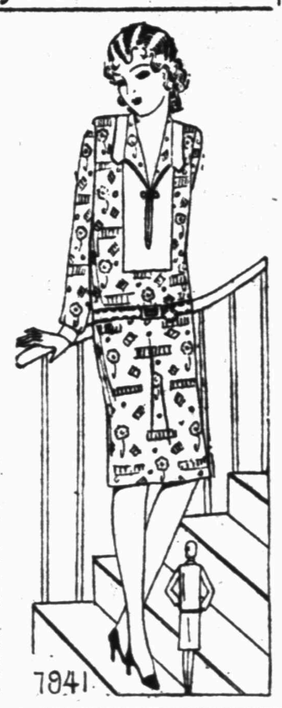

He is going to leave the lecture platform, he says, because he is afraid he will grow stale and lose interest. But, loving music (there speaks the mother again), he may spend a year resting and studying in some conservatory.

In the meantime, lecturing every night, he writes every day on the new book that will come out as a serial in the Ladies' Home Journal this fall. And we may look forward to following with him the trail of Columbus; to going again with him td those ancient civilizations whose glory will never die.

Pattern 7941

Extremely simple and yet decidedly lovely, is this house dress model. Design 7941. The square vestee and oddly shaped collar are interesting details that add so much to the beauty of the style. The narrow belt may be made of the trimming fabric, or may be leather.

A gayly printed wash fabric such as percale, gingham, dimity or rayon, will prove delightful for this dress. Colorful figures of red, green, yellow or blue on white grounds will create morning frocks that are crisp and clean looking. White pique is used for trimming.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20.

Size 14 requires 2½ yards 40-inch material and three-eighths yard trimming.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranted.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipts of fifteen cents (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Out latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of ten cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern department, 243 W. Seventeenth street, New York City.

Former Chicago Man Takes Part In New Little Theater Production

H. O. RUPNOW

Among the new faces being introduced to the Wichita Falls public this spring through the Little Theater movement is that of H. O. Rupnow, formerly of Chicago, who opened an office of the Investors' Syndicate of Minneapolis here a few weeks ago.

Mr. Rupnow was active in public entertainments in Chicago during his residence there. He was the director and manager for one of the largest outdoor programs ever given in Grant Park there when a cast of more than 400 persons presented "The Battle of St. Mihiel," under the auspices of the Sol-Sai-Mor post of the American legion. The production required several hours for presentation, and was said to have been witnessed by 25,000 persons.

The character of "Scrubby," shipsteward, will be interpreted by Mr. Rupnow in "Outward Bound," to be given Monday night at Woman's Forum by the Little Theater.

Bum Robs Benefactor As Latter Slumbers

HOUSTON, Texas, March 21. (AP) —J. H. Austin is one Houstonian who probably won't re-enact the good samaritan role unless he knows whom he is befriending.

Austin recently met a man who claimed to be broke. He looked the part, and Austin took pity on him to the extent of feeding him and giving him a place to sleep.

When Austin awoke the next morning, the man was gone, and so were his leather boots, lumberjack, keys, knife and $2.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, March 21.—Anything that makes for fewer domestic wrangles is welcomed in the home. The men of the country are delighted that the inward protest of every one of them, against eating stubborn head lettuce with a fork, has been voiced by a superman with the courage of his convictions.

The announcement is this. It is now correct to cut your lettuce with a knife and jewelers are manufacturing salad knives.

Most men like to be "nice," and a few enjoy being stylish. Ninety-nine percent of them want to be kind and the rest like head lettuce; they want to eat it and they can't eat it with a fork. So the ultimatum was issued and now one more subject for dispute is eliminated from the home.

The candy-cigaret war brings out the news (if you believe it) that sugar is now being made of fruits and isn't fattening, so our dieting sisters can go ahead and eat all the candy they want.

The result probably will be bigger and bigger women.

But whether or not sugar is sugar, sez I to myself, as I witnessed a 200-pound femme eating chocolate sauce on her ice cream, the fact remains that honestly, if not gramatically, pigs is pigs.

The ranee of Sarawak says that women are never satisfied with their husbands, and if they were perfect they would be even less satisfied. Her statement is propped up somewhat by the fact that when women got their "rights" and could be economically independent, they began to build bigger and better hotels in Reno.

If us girls could see the slinky, slithery Julia Hoyt, who has a form like a drink of water, eat candy, over and over again, that would be an advertisement. When Julia turns sidewise, she is no more undulating than when she stands front face. A gift from the gods.

John Langdon Davis writes a book urging folks to abolish clothes. It's nice to pick something at which you are pretty sure to succeed. He must read the pictures in his magazine advertisements, and those out today have girls with two garments on. Only it is silly to call them garments. One is an abbreviation of bathing beach trunks and the other is a thingamy with a rosebud, a bow of ribbon, a half yard of lace and a couple of hooks.

An Australian advertises that he wants the mayor of San Francisco to find him a girl there who is poor, lonely and homely.

Anyone who was ever in San Francisco knows there isn't any such thing.

Stop Rheumatic Pain With Prescription A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else as good to drive out rheumatism.

WIFE'S PRICE ABOVE RUBIES

Women Now Can See How Much They're Worth

"If the Domestic Woman Could Prove to Her Husband and Family Just What Her Work Is Worth In Dollars and Cents She Would Cease to Be Regarded as a Scab Laborer."

What is a good wife worth? According to the Bible, the price of a good wife is above rubies. In the estimation of a large number of men, a wife is barely worth her board and keep, and she is not entitled to any money whatsoever for her labor in the home.

The department of agriculture has been investigating this phase of domestic economics and has just issued a bulletin showing the busy housewife how she can determine what her work is worth in dollars and cents per hour. And prove it to her husband. She has only to take some set task that she performs daily, such as cooking the meals, or sweeping the house, or washing the dishes, and time herself at it. Then hire someone else to do the same chore. At the end of the two trial periods she compares the two totals, and by a little judicious subtracting and multiplying she discovers just what her time is worth. And just how big a pay envelope she would have, if she could get it.

I heartily recommend this experiment to those unfortunate sisters who are married to men who, when the subject of an allowance for Friend Wife is being discussed, always say:

"Gosh, but you've got it easy! I wish I had some good, kind person to support me. Why, you've nothing on earth to do but keep the house and look after the children. You should have to work like I do, then you would know what a cinch you've got."

The queer part of it all is that the man honestly thinks what he says. He really believes that his wife's 14 or 15-hour job is easier than his eight-hour job and that she is not entitled to any compensation for her labor. Of course, he concedes that it is right and nothing but just and fair for the woman who works in an office or a store or a factory to be paid good wages, but for the woman who works in the home, for her own family, to expect any pay envelope is ridiculous. Just nonsense. Why, she doesn't do any real work that is worth paving for. Housework and rearing children is just a light diversion that married women engage in when not otherwise amusing themselves.

In this theory husbands are borne out by the popular attitude to the value of woman's work in the home. Being a wife and mother is not rated among the learned professions, though it deserves to be, nor is making a home considered a trade, though upon a woman's expertness in it depends the health, happiness and prosperity of her family. Housewifery is not listed among the gainful occupations, as it certainly is not, but it is the work to which nine-tenths of the women devote their lives without ever being repaid in either money or thanks.

Perhaps if the domestic woman would follow the suggestion of the department of agriculture and prove to her husband and her family just what her work is worth in dollars and cents, she would cease to be regarded as a scab laborer who isn't worth anything more than what she eats and a few clothes, and she would be entitled to join the ranks of regular workers with a union card and union wages and union hours and double pay for overtime.

The trouble would be that it would take a mathematician, even more expert than those sharks who can work out the problem of how much you owe the government on your income tax, to figure out what would be coming to mother at the end of the week. It would take Mr. Einstein and those other geniuses who are on speaking terms with the fourth dimension to do it.

To begin with, there would be the matter of overtime, for mother's day begins an hour before that of the balance of the family, and it runs along into any old time of the night, and often all night long if Johnny is restless, or Mary is running a temperature, or the baby has a pain in his little insides.

Then there would be the matter of settling the part-time service, what mother should be paid for cooking three meals a day; how much for washing the dishes; how much for making the beds and sweeping the floors; how much for scrubbing the bathroom; how much for her services as child's nurse and sick nurse; how much for sewing and patching and mending.

How much for expert's shopping, haggling over butcher's meat, and tramping the basement in department stores in search of bargains; how much for tutoring the children; how much for doing the laundry work; how much for her services as doctor, judge, teacher, religious instructor and nursery governess to her children; how much for being social secretary, adviser, brake, savings bank account and a standing excuse for all she does or does not do for her husband.

This does not take into account the qualities for which the commercial world pays its highest salaries—the loyalty, the devotion, the trustworthiness, the putting of one's whole heart and soul and mind into pushing the good of the firm and making the head of it a success. These the wife throws in with her labor for good measure.

A pretty bill it would all run up. A bankrupting bill it would be if a man had to pay some other woman for the services that his wife renders him and his children every day. Yet there are plenty of men who think that the woman's work in the home is worth nothing, and who never give their wives, as their wages, a dollar of the money they earn.

It is when a man's wife dies and he has to hire half a dozen other women to do the work she did that it dawns on him that a wife's labor is worth something after all. Then he begins looking around for another wife who will work for her board and clothes and to whom he can refuse to give an allowance.

Foard Residents Pleased at Visit Here

Letters Thank C.-C. for Tour of Wichita

Entertainment of visiting delegations from other towns in this section of the state was being commended Thursday by chamber of commerce officials as an especially effective method of selling Wichita Falls to the citizens of such nearby places.

Last Saturday, March 16, a group of more than 100 persons from Crowell, headed by Fred Rennels, county agent; Claude Calloway, Foard county tax assessor, and Mack Boswell, chamber of commerce secretary, visited Wichita Falls on an industrial and agricultural tour. The party arrived unannounced, but was at once supplied with officials of the local chamber of commerce as guides, and spent the day visiting places of greatest interest to them, including the Johnson Poultry ranch, the Weeks little farm community, and were also entertained at a dinner.

For the last three days letters from Crowell High school students who were members of the group have been coming by two's and three's to the office of O. K. Barnes, agricultural agent of the chamber of commerce, expressing gratitude for the hospitality shown them in this city and for the interest displayed in conducting them on their tour of inspection. Not only the text of the letters, but the unusually good composition, have been the object of much favorable comment here.

Letters have been received thus far from Misses Ines Johnson, Arrie Felta Beidleman, Jewell Mullins, Edith Schooley, Bernice Coffey, Dorothy Coffey and Virgie Lee Johnson; Ralph Cogdell, Weldon K. Cogdell, Fred Rennels, Claude Calloway and Mack Boswell.

ESCOBAR AND MOSELEY TALK

chamois skin hunting jacket. His picturesque ensemble was topped by a large white campaign hat.

As the generals came out on the platform at the conclusion of the conference, a large crowd cheered lustily.

Pleasant Visit

"I have just had a pleasant unofficial visit," said General Moseley.

General Escobar ended the cheering with a gesture and addressed the crowd in flawless Spanish.

"I have just had a very cordial visit with my old friend, General Moseley," he said, "and we have reached a friendly understanding as to the status of my people. General Moseley understands that we are not rebels in the old sense of the word implying guerilla warfare."

Unofficially it was understood General Moseley reached a full and complete understanding with General Escobar relative to fighting along the American boundary, which might endanger American lives.

"I am not fleeing from Calles and I never have fled from him," General Escobar said in his headquarters at the Rio Bravo hotel, storm center of the recent seizure of Juarez by rebel troops.

Doubts Execution

The rebel leader expressed his complete disbelief in dispatches reporting the execution of Gen. Jesus Aguirre, commander of the Vera Cruz rebels.

"The officials of the federal treasury and local directors of banks were called into conference and given assurance that every penny would be returned upon the success of the revolution," he said.

"General Calles himself is looting the federal treasury to carry on a losing fight against our movement."

After visiting his wife here, inspecting the Juarez rebel forces and arranging for shipment of additional supplies south, General Escobar said he will return to the front.

(By The Associated Press)

The long-heralded counter-offensive seemed about to sweep down on the federals Thursday with arrival of troops under General Iturbe before the defenses of Mazatlan, key city in the west coast campaign.

For the first time, the federals were awaiting attack from a strong body of rebels.

Reinforcements for Mazatlan from the main Calles army at Torreon were promised by Mexico City authorities, who announced that 6,000 men under General Cardenas would be sent to crush the rebel movement in Sinaloa. Meanwhile, the government thought that General Carrillo could hold Mazatlan against the 3,000 rebels besieging it.

Stray shots were fired Thursday morning after the rebels had summoned the city to surrender, but telegrams from General Carrillo then reported that the rebel main attack had not materialized.

Rebels claimed to have captured a town 100 miles south of Mazatlan.

By road, federal reinforcements face 100 miles of forced marches over the mountains to reach Mazatlan, difficult of access from Torreon, in conjunction with a railroad journey through the state of Durango. By rail and without marching, they have a journey of nearly 1,000 miles.

General Escobar, rebel commander-in-chief, arrived yesterday at the border city of Juarez. At the same time federals defending the border town of Naco, Sonora, were on the alert for a rebel attavk. General Escobar conferred with his chiefs in the north and planned to return immediately to his headquarters at Jiminez.

Governor Signs Bill Extending Court Term

The March term of the 78th district court having jurisdiction in Wichita county, and now in session, has been extended to include the month of May by the terms of a law just signed by Gov. Dan Moody, according to a telegram received here Thursday by Judge W. W. Cook, author of the bill.

The March session of the 78th court formerly ended on the last day of April, making a four months term immediately following the short two month session, Judge Cook explained. By the terms of the new law, the 78th court has four three-month terms during the year, equalizing the work of the court, the attorneys and recorders, and making the court more generally and more expeditiously accessible to litigants.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

NEWS

DENVER, March 21. (AP)—Well, here it is. A man bit a dog.

Years ago Charles A. Dana, editor and proprietor of the old New York Sun, told a cub reporter "If a dog bites a man, that's not news, it's common—but if a man bits a dog—that's news."

The expression became famous in the editorial world.

Now comes Francis M. Eckhart, 26, who bit a police dog in the ear with such success that the dog, which had attacked Miss Dorothy Hamm, was unable to stand up under the competition, and fled ignominiously.

Walter Nelson Jr. was appointed as chairman of a committee to make preparations for a program to be given next Friday night. T. J. Waggoner is chairman of the reception committee, and Joe Bailey will be in charge of entertainment.

Fifteen directors will be elected from a list of 30 nominees whose names will be submitted by a nominating committee headed by Paul Pearson. The sale of tickets for the banquet is in charge of Pat Hardage.

FLOOD RELIEF PLANS DRAWN

Hoover Parley Reveals That 30,000 Are Homeless

WASHINGTON, March 21. (UP)—Following a conference requested by President Hoover which revealed that 30,000 persons have been driven from their homes in Alabama, Georgia and Florida, Red Cross officials today began outlining a relief and reconstruction program for the affected areas.

President Hoover reviewed the entire flood situation in the conference with Secretary of War Good, Red Cross officials and members of the Alabama delegation.

According to Red Cross surveys, in Alabama alone the homeless number 23,000. It was estimated that $500,000 would be required immediately to re-establish those who have been driven out by the waters.

The Red Cross announced that after immediate emergency needs have been met the organization will turn the full force of its efforts toward reconstruction. This program will include assistance to families in repairing or rebuilding homes. The Red Cross will supply through its relief chapters farm implements, livestock, poultry, and feed, in addition to clothing, medical aid and other items which will be needed by both city and rural dwellers.

The federal bureau of roads will make a survey of damage to highways and will contribute to their reconstruction so far as possible without calling upon congress for additional appropriations.

PULLING DEAD TEETH TO LENGTHEN SPAN OF LIFE

PHILADELPHIA, March 21. (INS)—"By removal of all pre-disease causes," the span of human life may be lengthened, is the theory of Dr. William Ernser, Temple university dental school alumnus.

In explanation of his theory, Dr. Ersner advocates the extraction of all dead, nerveless or devitalized teeth in marked contrast to the practice of many dental experts. "The dead or nerveless tooth is the greatest pre-disease factor in the dental field," insists Dr. Ersner.

The two Van Alstyne banks are across the alley from each other and one of the gunmen was stationed in the alley awaiting the marshal. When the marshal asked the man what he was doing, the latter was shot twice. The other three guarded the interurban station and a bakery in case the night workers at these places might try to block the robbery or the gunmen's flight.

The automobile found near Pottsboro was identified as stolen from Eugene Martin of McKinney.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

Table Linen Demands Hand Washing

Caressing White Hands Every Woman's Right

Wash Linens This New Way—Keep Hands Satin-Soft

SPOTLESS table linens—soft as only hand washing can make them—are as much a mark of social knowledge as good manners.

To have them—impeccable and flawless—and, at the same time for the housewife to have caressing, white hands is a problem that has now been solved an interesting, new way.

Use any kind of soap, soap powder or soap flakes, in washing linens. But add a teaspoon of CLIMALENE to the water.

This enables you to use ONE-FOURTH the usual quantity of soap. For it softens the water instantly, so that far less soap is needed. Thus avoiding any danger of "soap cat" or fading, so fatal to fine fabrics.

Then by blind cleansing elements IN ITSELF, CLIMALENE acts to gently DISSOLVE any food stains, grease or dirt in things being washed. Thus they emerge soft, spotless, utterly without fading.

Containing superlative SKIN WHITENING and SKIN SOFTENING ingredients—used by scores of beauty specialists—it leaves the hands soft and lovely beyond words.

Women are flocking to it. It costs only a dime at grocers. Try it. Just ask for CLIMALENE.

Most Expensively Dressed Woman To Be Seen in Court

NEW YORK, March 21. (UP)—Court fans may have a look at the splendor of Mrs. Tillie Loeb Leopold, despondently described by her 60-year-old husband, Joseph Leopold, millionaire quarry magnate, as "the most expensively dressed woman in America," when her separation suit is called for hearing Monday.

Supreme Court Justice Valente, upon whose calendar the case appeared today, set the date for hearing. Mrs. Leopold, who is 30 years younger than her husband, is getting $900 a month temporary alimony, but this would appear not half enough to buy her clothes, for her husband declares her annual outlay for apparel is as follows:

Dresses, $10,000; hats, $1,500; shoes, $2,000; stockings, $1,000; step-ins, $1,500; perfumes, $1,000, and gloves and handkerchiefs, $1,000.

GOOD BUSINESS REPORT MADE

Lamont Says Industry In Excellent Shape

WASHINGTON, March 21. (INS)—Business conditions in the United States are good, Secretary of the Interior Lamont declared today.

Reviewing statistical reports of business for the first two months of the year, he reported that automobile truck production for the first two months had increased 100 per cent over 1928, and that passenger car production has increased 50 per cent.

The agricultural output for the first two months of 1929, he said, has shown a large increase over that of a year ago.

The only decline shown, Lamont asserted, is in the building construction industry. This dropped 14 per cent for the opening two months of 1929 as compared with a year ago. Lamont said this was probably caused by increased rates on borrowed money.

ON TOWARD MILLENNIUM!

Daily Editorial

LIKE THE bantam rooster who found an ostrich egg and rolled it home to show his hens, no one wishes to make invidious comparisons, but here are a few recent developments, "to let you know what the neighbors are doing."

Dr. Fischer, of Munich, after a 17-year quest, discloses synthetic hemoglobin—a substitute for deficient iron-carrying corpuscles, which clear the lungs of spent oxygen. Sufferers from anemia, take note.

Dr. Banting, of insulin fame, now hopes to locate the secret of indefinite longevity in the "royal jelly" on which queen bees feed.

Bio-chemistry, in partnership with mathematics, has evolved a precise formula to pre-determine and pre-establish the sex of children.

Professor Esau, manifestly not a descendant of the pottage-eater, has invented a miniature wireless device to anpihilate germs and insects—even small vermin—with short-wave "death rays."

Civilization, at bay against Japanese beetles and other crop destroyers, will not stint laurel wreaths or glory to the genius that snatches tomorrow's food supply from blight and pest.

And, if his machine keeps its promises, every household will soon have its radio rat-trap.

Word that Sergius, of Heidelberg, extracts oil from lignite coal is balanced by news that Dr. Rittman produces bituminous from the by-products of Kansas crude oil.

Rittman, indicentally, is the young gentleman who made a free gift of his gasoline-cracking process to the whole refining industry, because he has 'ideals as well as ideas."

Since he is a professional worker, the income tax, however, exacts a higher percentage of his earnings than it takes from self-benefiters without either.

PROFESSOR HARDING, of Boston Tech, provides importers with a transatlantic shade-matcher, with which any tint in the spectrum can be wirelessly ordered, as per sample, in a split eye-wink.

And the English Marconi company warms diplomatic hearts by perfecting a method to safeguard code messages from listeners-in.

Beyrillium, twice as strong as steel, half the weight of aluminum, and hard enough to cut glass, will, according to Dr. H. I. Jones, make possible 400-horsepower aeroplane motors that the average man can tote under his arm.

But all tidings aren't so cheerful. Warnings are rife against the increase of industrial diseases. Progress isn't entirely beer and skittles. We pay heavily for some of our short-cuts.

Efficiency brings perils as well as profits in its wake. And the newest menace to factory hands lurks in chromium-plating, whose vapors ulcerize the membranes and even eat holes in nasal cartilage.

But, turning from dark clouds to silver linings, American agriculture will be pleased to hear how explorers, watching jungle birds build their nests, happened upon a weed in British Guana which yields a staple very similar to cotton.

It is being so successfully grown through several English counties, that Midland mills believe that they will soon have a domestic fiber sufficient for all coarse weaving requirements.

Wizardville-on-the-Hudson (alias Schenectady) exhibits a lamp that alternately delivers illumination or sound.

And the California Grape Growers' association is signing contracts for ethyl alcohol, cream of tartar, phosphates and fertilizers, reclaimed from vine-prunings and former wastes.

How God does help those who help themselves!

GENEVA, March 21. (UP)—Elihu Root, the American jurist who was chiefly responsible for the revision of the world court protocol in the hope that it will permit entry of the United States, believes that present indications justify the hope that the revised document will be acceptable both to the court and to the United States senate.

Speaker Shanahan of the Illinois house of representatives was given the job of appointing a committee of seven to investigate what state legislators are on other payrolls. People who think being speaker of the Illinois house is a pretty nice job seem to be slightly wrong.

An Item for Housewives

WICHITA FALLS truck growers, recently organized, have selected a site for a public market here, and are going about the business of securing a membership sufficiently large to assure a thorough test of the plan. Here is a project that needs the early support of the housewives of this city, and deserves such support as a movement which will mean much to the prosperity of Wichita Falls.

A central public market, from which the housewife may supply many needs in fruits and vegetables almost as if from her own garden, should prove convenient and decidedly attractive from the culinary standpoint. Such produce, gathered near Wichita Falls, made easily available and open to inspection, by all means should be able to meet in quality the produce shipped from other sections and other sections and other states. From the viewpoint of economy, prices should of course be no higher than of other truck, and quite likely will be available at far cheaper rates on the average.

To the producer, the public market may supply an essential feature of any plan of successful operation. He must have a market, and what better market than one at home? If the plan proves successful, and a fairly steady outlet for produce is provided, then much will have been added to the wealth and prosperity of the Wichita Falls section. In the view of this newspaper, few projects have been launched here which seem more deserving of public support, or more likely to bring widespread benefit to every class.

Growing Crops Under Paper

WICHITA FALLS has received its first car of mulch paper, and the shipment is now being distributed by a local firm to farmers and truck growers in this section. While the story of the success or failure of this experiment here will written later in the year, the fact that producers here are turning to new methods and new ideas is encouraging.

Use of mulch paper has been strongly advocated by Charles Weeks, leader of the little farms development, and it is through his influence that the paper will be given a thorough trial this year on many Wichita county farms, as well as on the Weeks plots. The paper was first used in the growth of pineapples, and almost revolutionized the industry in the greater production and finer quality obtained. The plan has been subsequently tried on almost every type of farm crop, and found to result in heavy increases in yield. Its success in the Wichita Falls area will hinge of course on other factors than of yield, but indications are that it may prove suitable for general adoption.

Use of mulch paper is merely an indication of the wide influence here of Charles Weeks. The famous Californian, with his project only a few months old, must already be credited with awakening an interest in new methods of farming which is noticeable to even the most casual observer. Judging from the care with which residents of this area are studying improved methods, and the eagerness with which they adopt Weeks methods, the bringing of the noted expert to Wichita Falls will prove of immense public benefit, even if not a single foot of land is ever sold.

Golf for Farmers

TOWNS which make it interesting and attractive for residents in their vicinity to trade and visit their boundaries inevitably forge ahead, it is commonly agreed. If this holds true, then Walters, Okla., Wichita Falls' lively neighbor city, is due to cut a wide swath in Southern Oklahoma trade with golf club memberships for farmers.

According to a news dispatch from The Record News correspondent at Walters, farmers of the section will be given the privileges of the excellent Walters golf course for the small sum of $2. It is expected that not only will this develop a wider interest in golf but will indirectly react to the benefit of the town.

On first thought it might seem that the last thing the average farmer needs is a game of golf. He is quite likely to get a sufficiency of walking without taking on a golf course tour. But then it must be remembered that the ancient game numbers iron workers, baseball players, track men and others among its devotees, as well as office workers and persons of leisure. No other sport has ever had such a rapid advance in popularity as that which has marked the spread of golf within the last few years.

Little more than a decade ago few believed the automobile likely to become a farm necessity, or good roads an adjunct to success in agriculture. Yet, the farmer without a car and the community without reasonably good roads are today the exceptions. Walters' program of expansion may be a little unorthodox, but there is nothing to indicate that Cotton county may not become famous for its golfing farmers.

A Nomination for the Game Commission

RESOLUTIONS adopted by the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walton league, and addressed to Gov. Dan Moody, urge the appointment of Ben G. Oneal as a member of the state game and fish commission. It is doubtful if the governor could make a more happy selection, on one that would meet with more widespread approval not only in West Texas circles, but among sportsmen of the entire state.

Appointment to such a commission calls for more than an interest in the tasks at hand, and an ability to execute them. The men who make up the commission should be of the type known to be willing to give their time, abilities, and energies to a work for the public good. They should have a sympathetic understanding of the state's problems of game and fish conservation and propagation.

Mr. Oneal, as president of the local Izaak Walton chapter and as an officer in the national organization, has shown himself admirably fitted for membership in the board which will dictate the policies of the state in matters of game and fish conservation and protection. Governor Moody will please an amazing number of sportsmen and citizens, as well as perform a real service for Texas, if he carries out the recommendations of the Wichita Falls chapter.

SMALL FOR GOVERNOR

We do not know whether it is a little early for such talk to be circulated, but we do know that should Senator Small choose to run for the office of chief executive of this state in 1930 that his candidacy would be widely heralded throughout the state and present indications point to the fact that it would take a might good man to beat him. West Texans are of the opinion that it is about time a man from this section of the state "carried on" in Austin. The choice rests indubitably with Senator Small. He has proven that he is a big man and it takes such a person to really qualify as this state's governor.

Negro Suspect Held In Hatchet Murder

GARY, Ind., March 21. (UP)—A giant negro, in whose room was found a hatchet matted with blood and hair, was arrested today as a suspect in the murder of Josephine Adorizzi, 20. The girl's body, with the head crushed, was found in a vacant lot gully by schoolboys yesterday. She had been missing since last Sunday.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 21.—Three of England's foremost newspaper men are in town these days. They are Viscount Rothermere, Lord Beaverbrook and Harold C. Harmsworth, all of the London Times, successors to the late Lord Northcliffe, whose personality and abilities made the Times known as "the Thunderer."

Today, according to Harmsworth, the people of England still look to The Times as the champion of individual rights and it remains the custom of an Englishman, whenever he becomes indignant with the state of things, to send his opinions to The Times.

The three visitors were greatly impressed with American newspapers and their power in American life. Just what they thought of New York night life, I don't know, one reason being that they paid no attention to it.

While seeing a friend off to Europe the other night, I observed a group of famous writers all bound for Europe on the same ship. They were Beverly Nichols, the youthful English novelist, Sylvia Warner, Albert Payson Terhune, the writer of dog stories, and Somerset Maugham, author and playwright.

Maugham, in spite of his many successes, both with the play and the novel, has one regret. The one thing that he regards as his greatest contribution to literature has found little favor with the general public. I refer to "Of Human Bondage," a thorough and brilliant study of a human being. The public applauded his "Rain," "Moon and Sixpence" and other startling manuscripts but Maugham nurses his regret. Terhune, by the way, only recently recovered from a serious automobile accident; Miss Warner, I understand, always goes away when one of her new novels is just published, and Nichols is just a young fellow from Europe who didn't "ring the bell" loud enough to be a success in America.

The push cart men on Broadway and Seventh Avenue in the mumbling thirties. At about noon and after 5 o'clock, when traffic is at its worst, these men, engaged in delivering suits and cloaks and furs from wholesale establishments to stores, clutter up the sidewalks and streets, giving a sort of old world touch to modern New York. Their carts can't be classified either as roller skates or as vehicles and so they're never quite sure whether to use sidewalks or the street.

I've learned of a new wrinkle in the bootlegging business. Of course the idea of manufacturing facsimile labels and packages for miscalled pre-war Scotch and Rye is now a general practice, but this has been enlarged upon.

Now the bootleggers—the canny ones, at least— taking advantage of the popular assumption that everything comes off of a boat is genuine have hit upon a new scheme. After making up their package of cellar-distilled liquor, they sometimes succeed in having it placed on board a newly arrived steamer. And then this liquor is sold off the boat as stuff "straight from Europe."

According to geologists, the footprints of huge, pre-historic animals called dinasaurs have been found on the New Jersey coast not far from New York City. Four distinct footprints of a three-toed monster with a foot larger than an elephant's and with a five-foot stride are said to have been uncovered.

Such revelations always make me wonder. Of course, it is not up to me to quarrel with the findings of scientists who go in for such things, but it would seem that those dinasaurs strolled about pretty heavily when they left such vivid footprints on the sands of time. I think I'll start an investigation and find out if any elephant's footprints can be found on the site of the old Madison Square garden building, now occupied, by the way, by the beautiful New York Life Insurance company's skyscraper.

Or, perhaps, a careful study of the subway tracks might bring to light the footprints of queer underground animals that used such passages in order to make quicker time from the Battery to the Bronx a couple of million years ago.

Park avenue, according to gossip has come out against white weskits with dinner coats. They came into vogue about 15 years ago, although the more conservative stuck to the black silk.

Another unflexible rule is that a girl in evening dress must be accompanied by a gentleman with a tail coat—tuxedos being only for stag gatherings or with a young lady in semi-evening clothes. The hi's silk hat also is recommended.

However, most of us will continue to wear our moth-eaten dinner jackets and, lacking them, there is no local ordinance against appearing even in some of the most exclusive night clubs in street dress. If you have money you are welcome most anywhere no matter what garb you display, even if it comprises a pair of knickers, a hunting jacket, a brown derby and a couple of riding boots with spurs attached.

There are many young men in New York who, with possible fame in the offing, are marking time and making a little money through rather menial jobs. In a downtown department store, one of the largest in the city, is an Oxford graduate who is running an elevator, thus earning his way through law school.

I know a number of office boys in local editorial rooms who are writing short stories and novels on the side. The newspaper office boy is a type distinct from others of his profession. He ranges in age from 15 to 25. Sometimes he is a college student, usually a high school graduate and in most cases a young fellow who wants to be a writer and chooses the editorial room because of its inky atmosphere.

One False Move Ends Career Of 'Human Fly,' Says Babe White Here

Thrill seekers of Wichita Falls will be given a chance to satisfy their desire for excitement Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and 7:30, when Babe White, famous human fly, scales the Holt hotel building.

In addition to climbing the building, White will do numerous aerial stunts on his way up the structure.

"There are times in a human fly's life when a cold fear grips his heart and death stares him in the face and when these times come he becomes weak and his life really is in danger," White said.

"A false move, just one little mistake and the career of a human fly is over. We have to take many chances and there are times when, as we hang from a window sill high in the air, we wonder if we'll ever climb again," the famous human fly said in speaking of his profession.

White will make his way up the side of the building with his bare hands without the aid of climbing devices. In case that the feat is postponed because of weather conditions, White will scale the building on the following day.

Texas Train Plows Another; 5 Injured

SEALY, Texas, March 21. (AP)—Santa Fe passenger train No. 20, running late, plowed into a Katy freight train which had stopped across its right of way before the depot here today, hurled four box cars from the track and injured five workmen standing on the station platform.

The crash was blamed by railway officials on a heavy fog which obscured vision at the crossing. None of the passengers was injured, although all were shaken up and members of the crew narrowly escaped injury.

Girl Escapes Kidnaper Here

joined by her father. Police officers were dispatched to various sections of the city immediately, and the girl, with her father, accompanied the officers for a time, so that immediate identification would result in case suspects were apprehended.

The police department enlisted the aid of the sheriff's and constable's department in the search, and the city was well patrolled Thursday night by authorities engaged in the hunt.

The search, at a late hour, was fruitless. Night Chief of Police Glenn reported his men had arrested two suspects, who had been immediately released, as it was clearly apparent that they were not implicated.

Dorothy, a pupil in the seventh grade, brilliant for her age, showing self confidence in the flash of her deep brown eyes, was none the worse for the experience, though she trembled when she recalled what she described as the repulsive appearance of the youth who had tried to kidnap her. "He was dressed in light, slightly dirty trousers and a light colored, soiled shirt. His hair, brushed back in a pompadour, was blond."

"I saw him first," Dorothy continued, "near Eleventh street as I was on my way to the library. He followed me all the way to the library, but I didn't think much of that. When I went into the library door, he passed on. I was in the library a good while, and when I came out, there he was. It was then that he came up and said that my mother had left a box at the Episcopal church, and that my mother had told him to go with me to get.

Russ Traps Girl

"I thought maybe it was something that had to do with the church, and that he had been sent to tell me which box to get, and so I didn't think he was the kind of boy who would hurt me."

Dr. and Mrs. Bash were not in early Thursday night, and Dorothy was with her grandmother at the Bash home. "It is a frightful thing," the latter said, "that a young school girl can't go within a few blocks of her own home, these days, without danger of some kind. And a girl of Dorothy's age, too. However, we are so glad that she came out of it harmed so little. I hope the police will do their utmost to find the young man who would do such a disgraceful thing."

Dorothy, though she cried as she fought the attacker, was not crying four hours later. Bravely she told what had happened to her, her hand occasionally rubbing a red streak on her neck, a tiny red crease in her flesh caused by the ribbon which had gagged her. This was her only injury.

Police officers and others who aided in the search had much to say of her bravery and self control in spite of her terrifying experience, and praised the girl for her courage in the affair.

Retired Publisher Takes His Own Life

ORINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kiddeys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralise the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Adv.

Moore was partially blinded by torture, it was said. He also had a gash on his head.

35 Hit "Sawdust Trail" at Revival

Men must be born again for people cannot be educated or trained into God's kingdom, Rev. B. B. Crimm, cowboy evangelist, declared Thursday night when he preached on "God's Remedy for Sin."

For the first time since he opened the meeting at the corner of Twenty-second and Yale, Crimm made a "call" Thursday night and more than 35 persons walked down the "sawdust trail" to profess Jesus Christ.

Judas made a much better trade for Jesus Christ than some people in Wichita Falls are doing, the evangelist said. He got money, but some of the folks here are selling him for only trash, Crimm stated.

Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, led the congregation in prayer.

"What Can I Do to Be Saved?" will be Crimm's sermon subject Friday night.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held in the following homes at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon: Mrs. M. T. Brookbank, 1520 Wilson; Mrs. C. L. Wilkerson, 1519 Keeler; Mrs. E. L. Lockley, 2500 Holliday; Mrs. R. E. George, 1406 Sibley; Mrs. J. L. Arnhold, 2217 Broad; Mrs. C. E. Shannon, 1423 Thirty-sixth; Mrs. L. R. Wall, 1207 Underwood; Mrs. A. A. Winter, 1408 Fifteenth.

BENEFITS ARE REMARKABLE

"Orgatone' Has Certainly Helped My Mother and Has Done Her More Good Than Anything Else," Said Wichita Man.

Another wonderful endorsement for Orgatone that will be read with interest was given recently by D. O. Fancher, of rural route 3, Wichita Falls, Texas, and talks about his mother's case.

"Orgatone is nothing short of a wonder, and I've never seen its equal in my mother's case, he continued, "she began having stomach trouble and indigestion three or four years ago, and has kept getting worse and she took nearly every kind of medicine and treatments we would hear of, but nothing did her any good until she took Organtone. Her stomach got so weak and out of order there was very few things she could eat at all and what she did eat didn't seem to do her any good, for it soured on her stomach. The gas pressure was so heavy on her heart at times she could hardly breathe, and she had terrible headaches, and we thought perhaps she might have heart trouble. Her nerves were completely shattered, she could hardly sleep at all.

"My mother has been under doctor's care for the past year and they told her she had low blood pressure and a very weak heart, but since taking Orgatone she is completely relieved. She sleeps perfectly every night, and can eat anything she wants without the slightest trouble afterward. She isn't bothered at all with indigestion or gas forming on her stomach and she isn't bothered with nervousness, and is honestly better and stronger than she has been in a year. Orgatone has done her more good than all the doctors and medicines she has ever tried. We are glad to give this statement."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone nurse, who is meeting the public daily. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25.—Adv.

Banquet to Follow State Survey of Sale

Representatives of the state railroad commission and officials of state organizations of the auto bus industry will be in Wichita Falls Friday in connection with a hearing on the proposed sale of the Vernon-Amarillo bus line to the Wichita Falls Bus company, and as speakers at a banquet for owners and operators which will be held at 7 p. m. at the Kemp hotel, according to local officials.

Burglars Get Clothing Worth $1,500 in Raid on Cleaning Plant

The slight activity of local house prowlers during the early part of the week ended with a bang Wednesday night when burglars escaped with clothing valued at $1,500 from the Broadway Cleaners at 705 North Broadway, according to reports received at police headquarters Thursday.

The thieves gained entrance to the shop by crashing through a side window.

An automobile battery was reported stolen from an automobile owned by Homer McGregor at 1715 Elizabeth avenue, while the City Tire company reported the loss of one casing.

The Panhandle Steel Products company reported that burglars had escaped with a quantity of valuable brass fittings and machinery from their plant. J. O. Ammann, 1704 Pearl street, had a casing stolen off of his automobile.

Crimm Tells Rotarians Of Thrills From Dogs On Chase

The friendship of a dog for his master, the music of the barking of hounds in full chase, and the friend-making possibilities of hunting were extolled by Rev. B. B. Grimm, evangelist, in an address to the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

The Rev. Mr. Grimm told numerous dog stories, and stated that he hunts frequently with a large pack of dogs. Their loyalty teaches great lessons to men, he said.

Park Department To Expand Summer Program of Shows

A series of "bigger and better" free vaudeville and moving picture shows will be staged this summer by the city part department if plans for free recreation which are now under way materialize, C. O. Bunnenberg, park superintendent, said Thursday.

The free programs which are staged by the department will be held in seven different sections of the city this summer. Four sites have already been designated by Mr. Bunnenberg as locations this summer for the shows. They are Bellevue park, Scotland park, Grant street playground and the Carrigan school ground.

The other sites will be selected as further methods of recreation for the summer months are found, Mr. Bunnengerg said.

The vaudeville programs which met with such widespread success last summer will be put on again, it was assured by the park superintendent.

Apple Branches Grafted On Native Mayhaw Tree

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 21. (AP)—Although apples have never been grown successfully in the gulf coast section, Homer Walker, a farmer of Jefferson county, believes he has discovered a method by which their culture may be successful.

The plan tried by Walker is to graft apple branches on the native mayhaw, which is a branch of the apple family, and which thrives in this section.

The experiment was tried on 100 trees last year, and of these the cuttings on from 25 to 30 "took," and bid fair to produce fruit, Walker said.

Latin Tournament to Be Held at Canyon April 12

CANYON, Texas, March 21. (AP)—Students of the Canyon public schools and the West Texas Teachers college refuse to believe that Latin is a dead language, and they are working to make the annual Northwest Texas Latin tournament here on April 12 a very successful affair.

A banquet on the night of the tournament will be given, at which prizes amounting to more than $50 will be awarded to the winners.

Among schools competing will be Amarillo, Canyon, Hereford, Childress, Memphis and Clarendon.

Two thousand ballots will be printed and returned to the city Monday.

Candidates for the four aldermanic positions whose names will appear on the ballots are C. E. McCutcheon, place No. 1; J. M. Spoonts, place No. 2; R. O. Harvey and M. McCormick, place No. 3.

Old Texas Fort Site To Be Commemorated

ANAHUAC, Texas, March 21. (AP)—The old Anahuac fort site here is to be commemorated with a suitable monument as a result of a gift of five acres of land on the site by John Eneison of Pittsburg.

It is now the only fort of importance in Texas history that is not suitably marked, according to A. W. Marshall, who is sponsoring the movement to erect the monument.

SIX SUITS HERE SEEK $79,100

Claims for Damages Filed In District Court

Six damage suits, asking for sums ranging from $800 to $35,000 and aggregating $79,100 were filed Thursday in the office of Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk. The petitions added to a $45,000 suit brought by L. D. Kinkead against the Texas Electric company Wednesday made a total of $124,100 sought through the district courts here within the past two days.

The small sons of two mothers who were killed in an automobile accident near Chillicothe, in Hardeman county, on Nov. 29, 1928, are involved in the suit of G. A. Shelly, guardian, against C. M. Swafford, guardian, asking $10,000 for Kenneth Dare Shelly, four-year-old son of Mrs. Loretta Shelly, one of the victims of the accident.

Mother Killed

According to the story told in the petition, Mrs. Shelly was the guest of Mrs. Callie Love who was driving the automobile at the time of the accident. In attempting to pass another car, Mrs. Love lost control of her own machine, which went into the ditch and overturned, killing Mrs. Shelly instantly and fatally injuring Mrs. Love, the petition asserts. C. M. Swafford is made defendant in the suit as the guardian of Raymond Stewart, named as the only heir to Mrs. Love.

In the name of his ward, Mr. Swafford also filed suit Thursday, seeking the collection of an $800 policy from the Automobile Insurance company, the claim growing out of the same accident.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tracy, widow of C. H. Tracy, who was killed in an explosion at the plant of the Wichita Ice company on June 14, 1928, Thursday filed suit for $35,000 against the company. Mr. Tracy, the petition says, was killed when he was sent to repair a gas leak at the plant. The widow asks $25,000 actual damages, and $10,000 exemplary damages, alleging that the negligence claimed against the company was "wilful and malicious."

Traction Company Sued

In a suit filed against the Wichita Falls Traction company, Mrs. C. J. Hunter alleged that she suffered internal injuries which have permanently impaired her health when a bus operated by the company ran into a curb between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth street on Princeton on March 5, 1929. She asks $10,000 damages.

Claiming a commission alleged to have been due him out of a $368,000 deal here, Ed Mulligan entered suit against the Omar Gasoline company for $18,000 alleged damages.

Milton J. Gaines is named defendent in a $5,350 damage suit filed by G. W. Touchstone and wife, growing out of an accident at Fourteenth street and Lamar avenue on Dec. 23, 1928. The car owned by the plaintiffs, valued at $350, was demolished, and injuries suffered, for which $5,000 damages are asked, the petition says.

Welfare Workers Back From State Meeting

Wichita Falls' delegation of five welfare workers who attended the Texas Conference of Social Workers held in Fort Worth this week returned Thursday morning.

Members of the delegation were Miss Myrle Neely, executive secretary of the Community Chest; Mrs. Maude Prince, of the Travelers Aid society; Mrs. Effie McHam, executive secretary of the Family Relief association, and Mrs. Katherine Henricle and Mrs. Chris Jensen, both of the Children's Aid Society of West Texas.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It
There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Popularity... begins with a Clear Skin

IT'S the person with a clear, smooth, lovely complexion that usually wins.

To be sure, not much is said openly about skin eruptions, but secretly they influence many important affairs. Personal likes and dislikes are quickly formed.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. A clear skin makes everyone more attractive.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of those unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood makes the body strong and resistant to disease.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders or if the count of your red-blood-cells is low, take a few bottles of S.S.S. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the remedy, which is made from fresh vegetable drugs, and has stood the test of over 100 years.

S.S.S.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

SPUDDERS PLAY NINE INNINGS TO DRILL FOR OKLAHOMA CITY

DICK SULLIVAN GARDEN BIDDER

Fitz Hits Homer; Payne In Near Hurling Form

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

A new contender has entered the list of those seeking the fourth Spudder outfield berth. He is Richard Joseph Sullivan, and the young man gave evidence yesterday of no little baseball playing ability. Sullivan isn't a newcomer, that is, he has been here all spring. But Garland Orr and Cameron Best have had the call for duty with the regulars in practice tilts to date while Sullivan's work with the yannigan's has been indifferent.

Dick is a hot weather ball player and the benignant rays of old sol and balmy breezes yesterday were to his liking, and the peppery Irishman displayed some real class at bat and on the bases in a regular-colt game. Dick hit the ball hard and showed some heads-up work on the base lines by twice stealing second.

Good for Batting Eyes

Skipper Jim sent the athletes through a nine-inning pastime with the regulars beating the yannigans 11 to 8. It was a beneficial session following a satisfactory drill in the morning, and helped the tossers attune their batting eyes for the games here tomorrow and Sunday with the Oklahoma City Indians of the Western league.

Howard Fitzgerald, who is ready right now for the start of championship play, smashed a home run over the wall early in the game for the regs. Dallas Clements continued the hard hitting he has shown recently by clouting a three-base smack.

George Payne tossed five innings, the first the screw-ball master has worked this spring. George took it easy for three frames but was bearing down before he yielded his place as chucker for the rookies.

Bell, Martin and Ross, young righthanders, did the throwing for the regulars and Fred Stiely, the stocky lefthander, finished on the mound for the yannigans.

How They Lined Up

Lawrence did the receiving for the colts, with Cox and Bean at first; Lewis, second; Gordon, third, Andrews, short and Brown, Sullivan and Nebel comprising the garden trio.

The games with Oklahoma City and five contests next week will give several tossers who have not played at all or for only a few innings in previous games a chance to get into the lineup. Fans here are particularly anxious to have a look at Ed Taber, the bespectacled southpaw from the Eastern league. Ed was ill when he reported and has approached condition slowly but soon will be ready to take his turn on the hill.

Garms and Rabbit Benton are expected to do some short-stopping, after George Spiers played such fine ball against the St. Paul Saints. Brick Eldred, who has been taking his time acquiring condition, also is ready to go a few innings now. However it probably will be some time before Brick does more than routine work as there is no question of his clouting and his absence from the right garden will provide the foreman opportunity to see his youngsters under fire.

M'Larnin And Miller Ready

Jimmy Has Weight Margin In Fight Tonight

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, March 21. (UP)—Ray Miller, the blonde Chicago lightweight who meets Jimmy McLarnin from the far coast, in a return 10-round bout in Madison Square garden Friday night, possesses perhaps the most deadly left hook in present day pugilism.

It was with this devastating punch that Miller cut an artery under McLarnin's left eye in their first exchange out in Detroit last November. Weakened from the loss of blood, McLarnin was not allowed to answer the bell for the eighth round and the first knockout of his career was credited against the baby-faced Irish boy.

Jimmy's Second Chance

Ignoring an offer of $22,500 to meet Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, at the dedication of Chicago's new $7,000,000 stadium, Miller agreed to give McLarnin an opportunity to wipe out the K. O. against his record.

Miller, who can easily make 130 pounds, is spotting McLarnin about eight pounds, the Vancouver, B. C. boy being allowed to come in at 140 pounds. They finished training today and are ready for the bell.

Regardless of the outcome of this second match with McLarnin, Miller is quite likely to face Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, in a title bout at Detroit or New York this summer. Detroit promoters, Jack Dempsey and Humbert Fugazy among others are dickering for the match. It is figured a Mandell-Miller title bout will draw more than $200,000.

Six Major Leaguers Are Still Holdouts

NEW YORK, March 21. (UP)—Only six major league players are unsigned, a check-up by the United Press revealed today.

Paul Waner, Pittsburgh outfielder, is the most prominent of the holdouts. He is demanding a salary of $18,000 from the Pirates.

Other unsigned players are Frank McGowan, St. Louis Browns' outfielder; Bill Clarkson, Boston Braves' pitcher; Ernie Orsatti, St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder; Val Picinich and Hugh McMullen, Cincinnati Reds' catcher.

REBUILDING ON AT CLEVELAND

Process Slow and Indians Far From Contenders

(This is the second of a series of articles on the coming American league baseball campaign).

By BILL SLOCUM

NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (US)—Rebuilding a ball club is a slow, and generally a disappointing, operation. This has been proved many times in the past, and is now being demonstrated by the Cleveland Indians. It may be four years, and it may be longer, before a team which has taken the big drop is able to rescale the heights.

Billy Evans and Roger Peckinpaugh, in charge of the rebuilding task at Cleveland, will realize after a year of effort that even an unlimited bankroll cannot do the trick.

It is pleasant to realize that millions are behind them—and not too far behind, either, when opportunity presents itself to strengthen the club—but so far the money has failed to tempt the other American league club owners who have been sounded out on the purchase of outstanding players.

The Indians finished seventh last season and it is difficult to picture them getting any higher in the season about to begin. When the bell rang last September, Peck's sad boys were less than five games out of last place, and six full games behind the sixth place Tigers. They had missed a first division by the margin of 13 games. Quite some ground to make up in a year!

Veterans Sent on Way

Quite a few of the 1928 Indians have been sent on their various ways since last fall. George Uhle, almost a landmark at Dunn field, was traded to the Tigers. George Burns, Homer Summa, Garland Buckeye, Chick Autrey and Emil Levsen were released after spending several seasons with the club. Billy Bayne, Gerken, Langford, Harvel, Walter Brown and Bruce Caldwell of the 1928 team are gone.

The chief replacements are Jack Tavener at shortstop, Bib Falk in the outfield and Ken Holloway in the box. All are major league veterans who have been around for some time. From the minors come three expensive purchases—Pitcher Jimmy Zinn from Kansas City, Outfielder Dick Porter from Baltimore and Outfielder Earl Averill from San Francisco. Of course there are several other acquisitions from the minors, but these are the outstanding players of this group.

The infield shows two players out of the positions which they formerly played. Joe Sewell goes from short to third, and Urban Hodapp from third to first base. Both men were showing marked adaptability in strange surroundings during the closing weeks of the 1928 campaign, but neither may yet be classed as a success defensively. Their hitting makes their presence highly desirable in every game. Lind at second base and Tavener at short have no pronounced opposition for these posts.

Outfield Satisfactory

Peck should be able to pick a pretty good outfield from the material at hand. The veteran Jamieson and Bib Falk are known quantities. The work of Porter and Averill in the top class minors indicates that they must be high grade performers. Eddie Morgan, a holdover and a good hitter, also is available. Three other youngsters—Dorman, from the lone star league; Gill from the Three-I, and Tucker from the Southern, are also fighting for recognition. Dorman was the sensation of the American league last September, when he hit .364 in 25 games.

Luke Sewell, one of the game's leading backstops, will again do most of the catching, with Glenn Myatt in reserve. Shaute and Hudlin, two very capable pitchers, head the mound staff with Miller, Grant, Miljus and Harder as the other holdovers from last year. Holloway and Zinn, of the new group, are being counted on for regular duty.

Poor defense, which includes both pitching and fielding, sank the tribe to its low estate last year. The Indians were third in team batting, showing a better punch than the Browns, Senators, White Sox and Tigers, who finished higher in the race. In keeping down the runs of opposing teams, the Indians were absolutely last in their league.

It is difficult to figure the tribe finishing ahead of any of the clubs which it trailed last season.

BROADCAST DERBY

NEW YORK, March 21. (UP)—The Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs, May 18, will be broadcast over a coast-to-coast network, the National Broadcasting company announced tonight.

Horseshoe Loop To Form Tonight

Barnyard Golf Enthusiasts Plan for Season

All organizations who are interested in entering a team in the Wichita Falls Horseshoe Pitcher's association are requested to have representatives present at a meeting tonight. Organizing and discussing plans for the summer are purposes of the meeting in the office of Charles Bunnenberg, at Memorial auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock.

Teams competing last year were First Presbyterian church, Ray Sheet Metal works, Municipal Gas company, Continental Oil company, M-K-T railroad, and Texas Electric Service company.

It is hoped that a number of teams will enter this year. The local association is affiliated with the state horseshoe pitching tournament, the finals of which will be held in Dallas this fall.

Pulling Power

The scientific side of the art of self-defense always slips into the background when a pair of punchers drift along. There may be a world of science in boxing and the artistic appeal may be heavy, but they both get crowded back when a McLarnin and Miller begin starting a few from the floor.

This age, whatever its other faults, is in motion. There is a lusty demand for action and you can get more action from two offensive machines than you can from two defensive parties. Maybe this is not as it should be, but that happens to be the way it is. A battle between Loughran and Emanuel might be one of the most skillful exhibitions of the year, but it won't draw within range of a Loughran-Walker meeting, because Walker isn't out on a petting party when he starts throwing a right and left. McLarnin and Miller proved in Detroit that the main idea of the evening was decapitation, if possible, and this idea is as popular in New York as it was in the Midwest.

What W. Johnson Could Use

Acting as Washington's manager, Walter Johnson could find a lot of use this season for some one like another young fellow who came on for carfare 22 years ago.

This young fellow's name was Walter Johnson, who pitched more shutouts and fanned more batsmen than anyone else—who thought nothing of winning 30 or more victories without much of a ball club to carry him through.

Johnson may not have been the fastest pitcher that ever worked, but at least he is the only pitcher who could have more than half a ball club reporting on the sick list upon the day he worked. He was at least dreaded more than any other pitcher that ever lived.

On the day when Johnson was due to work back in his prime, old-time managers will tell you that as many as four or five of their regulars would report some form of illness and ask for a layoff. There isn't much fun in hearing a fast one whizz by without being able to see it. A singing bullet might be 10 or 20 feet away, but it always sounds a lot closer.

And what Johnson buzzed over the plate was as close to bullets as the lead from an automatic.

There are old-timers who believe that Amos Rusie was just as fast. There are modern ball players who say that Dazzy Vance can match Johnson's best speed of 15 years ago. But the fact remains that neither Rusie nor Vance could send half a ball club seeking the shelter of the sick list.

Footwork and Golf

A golf student writes in to say that in his opinion the weight should be almost evenly distributed on both feet at the top of the swing. "You're all wrong," he says, "when you suggest that on the back swing most of the weight should go to the right foot and the right leg." No chance to be wrong this time. The law of balance proves it. The same thing holds for pitching or for batting or hitting a tennis ball.

On the back swing in golf most of the weight shifts with the back swing to the right foot. On the down swing all this weight must come forward. No one can get any real power hitting in one direction when his body is going in the other. If you study the slow motion pictures of the best golfers you will find that at the top of the swing the left heel is dropped to have the left leg ready to catch the brunt of the down swing. Proper footwork in golf means a transference of the weight to the right foot first on the back swing and then to the left foot on the down swing. And it is one of the surest methods of testing a correct swing. For if this works in the right way the rest of the swing is pretty certain to work with it in the right way.

The weight can't stay on the left foot and then come forward to the left foot on the down swing. It must go back to come forward. Balance means motion under control—not rigidness.

Sports Writers Favor Athletics

Four-Cornered Race Forecast in National

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—It may not be altogether significant when the experts and the "wise money" disagree, but it is at least worth looking into.

The New York Yankees are coupled with the Chicago Cubs in Wall street as co-favorites to win the major league flags but on the face of early returns, there is a tendency among the newspaper critics to swing over to the Athletics in the American league chase.

This drift may not last, nor may it be considered just yet as entirely representative, but it is too pronounced now to be overlooked. It may be almost startling to supporters of the Yankees to discover that an average of four out of five experts so far casting their ballots have selected the Athletics in preference to the world's champions.

There has not been any substantial shift in Wall street views, but the latest quoted odds make it clear that a two-club race on the American league and four-club scramble in the National is anticipated by the "wise money."

The Athletics are indicated as the chief threat of the Yankees while the Giants, Pirates and Cardinals are bracketed as equal threats to the favored Cubs.

BUCK STANTON IS RECOVERING

Operation Successful And George to Play Soon

Special to The Record News.

ST. LOUIS, March 21.—George Stanton, young first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, will be able to play ball within a month or six weeks. A recent operation on Stanton to remove a chipped bone in his knee was highly successful and the brilliant young first sacker from Wichita Falls, who is figured as understudy to Lu Blue, is expected to return to the game with his underpinning as strong as ever.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician of the Browns, performed the operation here.

Other former Wichita Falls players are making favorable impressions at the Browns' camp at West Palm Beach, Fla. Tom Jenkins has been hitting the ball hard and probably will be retained for utility and pinch-hitting purposes, if he does not land a regular place.

Herb Cobb, a young pitcher, also has shown promise.

Segrave Captures World Speedboat Championship

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21. (UP)—The international speedboat racing title went across the seas to England today as the result of a race entirely devoid of the element of competition.

Major H. O. D. Segrave added the water title to his automobile racing laurels when he sent his patched and leaking "Miss England" creeping across the finish line on Biscayne bay this afternoon five minutes behind Gar Wood's "Miss America VII."

He was officially credited with winning the two-heat race with three points, as against two for the American speedboat kind.

Heap into a flat baking dish, but do not smooth over or pack down. Sprinkle with melba toast crumbs and place in a hot oven until lightly browned. Serve in the dish in which it has baked. Sweet potatoes may be prepared in the same manner, except that they should be boiled in their skins, plunged into cold water for a minute and the peelings slipped off while still hot.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Peritonitis

Question—M. C. L. C. asks: "Will you kindly explain peritonitis? What is the cause, and is there a cure?"

Answer—There are many causes of peritonitis. Peritonitis means inflammation of the peritoneum which is the smooth covering lining inside of the abdomen. Various diseases of the intestines or other abdominal organs may induce a spread of inflammation to the peritoneum. The cause is always found in one or more of these inflamed organs and never starts in the peritoneum itself. Therefore a diagnosis is necessary to find the cause.

Dulse

Question—J. L. H. writes: "When I was in Scotland I was given a plant called dulse to eat and I rather enjoyed its flavor, but I have not found any in this country. Can you tell me if it is obtainable here?"

Answer—Dulse is an edible seaweed which may be eaten raw, either fresh or dried, or boiled in water and served as a vegetable, or it may be roasted by twisting it around red hot tongs. Seaweed is one of the most abundant of nature's products and is used in many parts of the world for food. It, however, contains very little in the way of nutritive qualities, although it is rich in mineral elements, especially sodium, iodine, chlorin and potasium. Most of the seaweeds possess gelatinous properties and are used for thickening soups and making jellies. Dulse is quite abundant along the New England coast and probably most seashores. Other seaweeds sometimes used for food, are: agar-agar, for its laxative properties; carragheen or Irish moss, for making blanc-mange or jelly; and laver, known in Scotland as sloak, which is boiled and spiced and served with cold meats.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: Big Boy, I got an idea.

MACK: Whose it is?

MORAN: We is goin' to be soldiers.

MACK: My share of th' war is over.

MORAN: There is trouble in Mexico.

MACK: I can find it nearer than that.

MORAN: No, this ain't yo' trouble.

MACK: Whose is it?

MORAN: Th' Mexicans'.

MACK: They kin keep it.

MORAN: Don't yo' want t' be a hero?

MACK: I'm a hero now. But congress won't admit it.

MORAN: There's fightin' in Mexico.

MACK: I prefers my fightin' in Madison Square garden.

Egghead has about as much chance of getting Big Boy into a war as a snail has of leaving the ground. The only place Big Boy is going to march is in a bread line.

VENEZUELAN FIELDS CHIEF WORRY FOR OILDOM, GEOLOGIST SAYS

EXPERT CITES BIG BARRIER

Texans Describe Deepest Well in World

FORT WORTH, March 21. (INS)—Any study of present [illegible] oil conditions must take into account the production of oil in Venezuela, H. J. Wasson of New York, consulting geologist, declared today in a paper read before the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, in session here.

Cheap water transportation, large acreage and the large reserves of operators will make Venezuela a hard competitor in world markets, Wasson said.

He declared that Venezuela production is the greatest barrier to peace in the oil world today. Wasson said he opposed a tariff on crude oil in view of the fact that the United States is primarily an old exporting country.

The competition of Venezuela oil will be felt least by California, West Texas and the Texas-Louisiana coast fields, Wasson said.

Dr. E. H. Sellards and Waldo Williams of the bureau of economic geology of the University of Texas read papers on the Texon well in West Texas, the deepest well in the world, its depth being more than 8,000 feet.

The well has opened new possibilities to the oil industry, the papers stated. It is now producing more than 2,000 barrels of high-gravity oil daily.

The association will end its convention Saturday. Excursions to nearby oil fields have been arranged.

Thomas B. Slick To 'Begin Over'

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., March 21.—Having reached the pinnacle as an individual operator, Thomas B. Slick, is now wondering how long it will take him to repeat. To some close friends he has made a bet that in a year's time he will again be the industry's leading individual oil producer.

Mr. Slick has just sold his oil production and properties in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas to the Prairie Oil and Gas company for a sum said to be near $37,500,000. In addition the Paririe has taken a 50 per cent interest in all of the undeveloped holdings of Mr. Slick, said to approximate 525,000 acres in 10 oil states. Mr. Slick reserves the right to operate the undeveloped acreage.

Close friends say that Mrs. Slick and other relatives had much to do with Mr. Slick agreeing to sell to the Prairie. They have wanted Mr. Slick to take a rest and vacation for a long time, but they had to plead with him a long time before he agreed to their wishes.

Mr. Slick did not sell his royalty interests, which in Oklahoma alone netted him sufficient to pay the state more than $40,000 in the last quarter of 1928, under the three per cent gross production tax. He owns in fee more than 25,000 acres of land in oil territory.

It has also come to light that a number of big firms were seeking the Slick production. The Standard Oil company of Indiana, through a subsidiary, offered $28,000,000; the Standard Oil company of New Jersey $30,000,000 and the Standard Oil company of New York for $32,000,000, while a number of others were willing to negotiate on similar bases.

'Miss Hungary' to Appear In Black at Pageant

BUDAPEST, March 21. (AP)—When "Miss Hungary," the prize-winning beauty of Europe, contends at Galveston in May for the title of "Miss Universe," she will present the jury with several embossed copies in English of the much-hated treaty of Trianon which reduced Hungary to one-third its former size.

In making this decision, the Hungarian league for the revision of the Trianon treaty has arranged to have "Miss Hungary" draped in black when she appears alongside of the other world beauties as an expression of the national grief over dismemberment of the kingdom.

"Miss Hungary" also will wear on her costume in large embroidered letters Hungary's national oath, "No, No, Never!" which refers to the acceptance of the Trianon treaty.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Opening advances in response to relatively firm cables and apprehensions of less favorable weather in the south were followed by reactions in cotton today, but prices steadied up again in the late trading on covering or rebuying. May contracts, after selling down from 21.02 to 20.82, closed at 20.99. The general market closed very steady at net advances of 7 to 20 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 12 points on the cables. Active months sold about 12 to 14 points net higher during the early trading on covering. March sold up to 21.12 and the new October contract to 20.35 on this buying. But the advance to the 21-cent level for May seemed to bring in renewed old-long liquidation, while demand tapered off.

Reactions followed under reselling by some of the early buyers, who seemed to be disappointed by the market's response to bullish features in evidence on the early advance. Prices sold back to or under yesterday's closing quotations during the early afternoon.

March declined to 20.91 and the new October contract to 20.23, making net declines of about 5 to 10 points on the old crop positions. The market firmed up in the late trading on private reports that the rains had spread into the Mississippi valley.

New crop positions were relatively firm on the late advance, making new high prices for the day, with October selling up to 20.43. There was covering or rebuying in near months which sent back prices to within a point or two of the early high levels.

A few March notices were issued at the opening, but offerings were readily absorbed and March closed 10 points over May, compared with a difference of 6 points at the close of the previous day. Trading in the current March position ends at noon tomorrow.

Private cables said covering and continental buying had absorbed local realizing in Liverpool.

Exports today 21,879, making 6,696,329 this season. Port receipts 7,257. U. S. port stocks 1,504,501.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (AP)—Although cotton prices developed an upward trend today, selling by Wall street interests and by speculators forced several sharp reactions. July after advancing to 20.40, declined 18 points to 20.22, then recovered 15 points and closed at 20.37, or 7 points net up. The general market closed steady at net gains of 7 to 10 points.

As Liverpool cables were relatively steady and the weather map indicated a return of bad weather to the belt, the market opened higher. First trades showed no changes to 5 points up and prices continued to advance after the start until May sold at 20.30, July 20.35 and October 20.16, or 3 to 5 points net up.

After some trifling reactions on profit-taking, the market strengthened again on the bad weather prospects and on private reports of rain in the central belt. On the subsequent bulge May traded to 20.35, July 20.40 and October 20.21, or 8 to 10 points above the previous close.

In the early afternoon the market sagged rather sharply under selling said to be for Wall street interests coupled with offerings which were reported to be thrown on the market in an effort to force a reaction. Prices traded to new lows for the day, with May at 20.17, July 20.22 and October 20.08, or 13 to 18 points down from the highs and 5 to 8 points under yesterday's close.

Offerings appeared absorbed at the decline and enough covering developed in final trading to carry the price level up 14 to 16 points from the lows and the market closed at or near the top.

Fear of Increase in Brokers' Loans Causes Sharp Selling of Stocks

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 21. (US)—Stocks sold off sharply in the last half hour today in anticipation of a report of an increase in brokers' loans to a new high record figure.

General Motors and Continental Can had been the outstanding features, rising steadily while the rest of the list simply backed and reflected the uncertainty of the trading community. Both held part of their gains in the closing weakness, with General Motors closing 2 points higher and Can gaining 5. Byers advanced 6 and Electric Power and Light 2, but other active issues all closed from 1 to 3 points lower.

Call money held at 9 per cent throguhout the session, while the turnover held around the 4,700,000-share level. There appeared to be a larger supply of funds available, although no particular easing was expected tomorrow, as the banks make adjustment with the reserve tomorrow afternoon.

There is good absorption of Steel evidenced at times of general weakness in the market. Those usually most familiar with the affairs of the corporation do not take seriously the talk of opposition to the planned recapitalization. They maintain that the important stockholders are with the management and proposal to issue new stock to retire bonds will be approved by overwhelming majority. Stockholders opposed to the plan want extra dividend rather than have the bonds retired. By selling their rights, it is pointed out, they will receive the equivalent of an extra cash dividend. With the bonds retired and demand for steel products such as to keep plants running at close to capacity, it is pointed out, there is reason to expect extra disbursement late in the year.

The "big ten" work in General Motors produced as was expected. Influences to the buying were pointed out here during the last several days and consist mainly of expectations of extra dividend and knowledge of the plans of the management for further expansion of foreign activities. The Texas Gulf advance was due to pool work based on expectation of a favorable quarterly report to be issued soon. Yellow Truck enjoyed a good demand for a while in anticipation of a better market after issuance of the report for 1928, which will show deficit of about a million. Union Bag and Paper is being quietly picked up due to knowledge of improved earnings outlook.

International Mercantile Marine was more active for a while. Foreign advices told of successful outcome of the visit of President Franklin and his conferences with British interests. He gets back soon and on his return resumption of work on refinancing plan is expected.

The oils rather disappointed, as they failed to follow through, although news from trade sources indicated the leaders of the industry were in harmony as to holding down output. Houston has been taken in hand by a group that has been among the most successful in quick plays recently.

Continental Can's rise to a new high reflected realization of the improving earnings position of the company first pointed out here several months ago. American Home Products was the subject of a special analysis by a leading stock exchange firm affiliated with insiders.

There may be no leak from the reserve bank, but there is a surprising accuracy to estimates as to brokers' loans around the street after 2:30. Three different sources estimated increase of $160,000,000 as the list started declining a half hour before the close. A few minutes after 4 o'clock the reserve bank issued its "official statement," showing a gain of $166,000,000 to a new high record of $5,793,000,000. Just before issuing the statement the directors sent out word there was no change in the rediscount rate. They took a little longer to reach their decision than usual this week, as the huge gain in loans showed that the reserve has failed to correct the speculative credit situation, although a month has passed since its "warning." The amount of the increase gives food for deep thought to traders and is likely to offset the maintenance of the rediscount rate at 5 per cent to some extent.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—The receipts of cattle and calves at Fort Worth today were very small in volume. The cattle run brought in two cars of slaughter steers, about eight cars of slaughter yearlings and the rest of the supplies consisted largely of mixed butcher classes. Calves on sale mostly weight averages.

The two loads of slaughter steers received were good fed grades in a weighty average that brought $12.00. This price was considered fully steady. Slaughter yearlings and other classes of cattle and calves wanted at steady to strong figures. One load of choice 830-pound yearlings made a top of $13.50 and other sales of desirable fat yearlings reported at $12.85, $12.00 and less. A short load of good fat cows changed hands at $8.50 and some butcher grades around $7.00 to $8.75. Low cutters represented in the receipts only by sorts from shipments of mixed cattle. Most of these low cutter sorts sold around $5.25 to $5.50. Bulls too scarce to permit a test of values.

Very little business transacted in stock cattle on country account, owing to the pronounced scarcity of stockers in the receipts. One load of choice light stock steer calves sold at $13.00, fully steady.

Slaughter calves scored a further advance of a quarter to half dollar, the short supply making good early clearance. Two loads choice heavies on short yearlings ordered sold at $12.60 and other weighty averages reported around and under $11.00. CHICAGO REVIEW

CHICAGO, March 21. (AP)—With winter wheat in the southwest and west apparently escaping peril of high winds, wheat prices today underwent an easing down. The general run of crop reports from most sections of domestic wheat territory was favorable.

Final quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅜@½c to ⅝@¾c net lower. Corn finished unchanged to ⅜c up, oats unchanged to ½c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

Relative weakness of Liverpool quotations had more or less bearish influence. Besides, advices were received that abandonment of winter wheat acreage now was expected to be about normal in nearly all European countries, and that contrary to expectations Argentine wheat shipments for the week had enlarged, totaling 7,534,000 bushels, against 5,604,000 bushels a year ago. Word that seeding of spring wheat had started in Illinois also was construed as a bear factor.

In contrast, with the bulk of wheat crop news current today was a report from a widely known authority who telegraphed that from Herrington, Kan., to Wichita, wheat was in poor condition. Some good buying ascribed to eastern sources resulted from this report, but rallies which ensued failed to hold, and the market gradually worked lower, closing at the day's bottom level.

Corn values today developed strength, but future delivery trade was light. Oats paralleled the action of corn prices, and comment was made that Kansas seeding of oats was later than usual.

Provisions were firmer owing to upturns in the value of hogs.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, March 21. (AP)—Hog trade around the 11-market loop was fairly active at prices unevenly 15@40c higher. Packers were liberal buyers at the advance. The day's extreme top of $12 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 85,300, an increase of 13,700 over last Thursday but 23,500 short of the same day a year ago.

Moderate activity prevailed on most killing classes of cattle at steady to slightly higher prices. Demand for the in-between grades of weighty steers continued slow. Lightweight steers and yearlings command an appreciable premium over the weighty steers with fed dogies in the beef almost as high as choice heavy steers. Replacement cattle held on a firm basis. Light dairy calves are arriving in fairly liberal numbers at northern markets and sharp declines were enforced at several points around the circuit on vealers. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 24,200 as compared with 22,125 a week ago and 23,509 the corresponding day last year.

Fat lambs were firm to slightly higher at most markets, some weakness developing at Kansas City on fed wooled offerings. Aged stock at some points registered further upturns. Choice fed lambs in Chicago brought $17.50, while in Kansas City the first Arizona spring lambs of the season scored $20.50. The supply approximated 42,000, a decrease of 13,400 from a week ago and 7,000 less than a year ago.

Wichitan Buys Meat From Stock Show Winners

Succulent steaks and tender roasts from the certified bluebloods of beef-producing cattle herds of the southwest are now being offered to Wichita Falls people at the Marantz store on Indiana, according to the management, with the arrival of part of more than 4,000 pounds of meat from fat stock show winners at Fort Worth last week which was purchased by Mr. Marantz.

Exhibits of stock at the annual fat stock show brings animals from all over the southwest, including practically every breed and variety. In that part of the display which is devoted primarily to meat-producing cattle, the Hereford is predominant almost to the exclusion of other lines, it was stated. Animals selected for showing there represent the specially fed, choice stock of scores of leading cattle breeders, and include also many individual entries from members of boys' clubs, who have centered their attention upon the feeding of especially selected calves.

When the judging of exhibits has been completed, animals which have been awarded ribbons are auctioned to the highest bidder. The meat sells ordinarily at a considerable premium, and is in great demand. The steers from which Mr. Marantz selected more than two tons of meat ranged in age from one to two years, and were bought at the auction by Armour and company.

CAST OF 300 TO TAKE PART IN "DRAMA OF LIFE" HERE TONIGHT

CITY'S TALENT IN PAGEANT

Man's Struggle for Divine Heights Depicted

Final preparations were completed Thursday night for the presentation of "The Drama of Life," a dramatized allegory, at the Memorial auditorium Friday night, when a cast of more than 300 persons chosen from Wichita Falls' best dancing, vocal and dramatic talent will depict the age-long struggle through which the soul of man seeks to rise to divine heights.

Story of Production

The story of the pageant, which was adapted by Miss Genevieve Gilbert of Los Angeles from the book, "The Invisible Fulcrum," by her cousin, J. John Gilbert, seeks to portray the influence of the emotions upon the progress of civilization. Miss Gilbert, who is a dramatic soprano of unusual merit, began her public career as an operatic singer. Traveling constantly from one part of the country to another, meeting always with new groups in varying circumstances Miss Gilbert became more and more impressed, she stated with the universal longing of human beings for the realization of a higher plane of living.

"The many emotions natural to humans," she stated, "are the same the world over, and have been the same in every age of history. Certain of those emotions contribute to the happiness, the peace, the refinement of human life; others are destructive and whatever progress civilization may have made must be measured by the triumph of man's finer emotions over his baser ones."

The development of that constructive theme forms the basis for the work which now claims Miss Gilbert's talent. "The Drama of Life" is presented in five parts, four distinct episodes and a finale. In the first, man is pictured as having been created in harmony with nature and with faith in God. The emotions of love, hope, charity and courage are shown as aiding truth in perfecting human nature. The second episode introduces the devastating action of greed, hate and jealousy, with accompanying misery and crime. The awakening of love and beauty, as shown in the third part, draws mankind to a deeper consciousness of its divine aspirations. The struggle for religious freedom follows, together with the pioneer movements by which men have covered the earth. The ultimate elimination of strife is suggested in the finale which brings the entire cast together, representing the nations of the world, in a united chorus of praise.

Elaborate Settings

Work on the production began about a month ago, Miss Gilbert having been assisted by Mrs. J. S. Pitman casting director; Mrs. Maurice J. Smith, who has arranged the continuity musical score; Miss Elizabeth Howell, Mrs. James Bowen, Baldwin Montgomery and other local leaders in dramatic affairs. Elaborate settings and brilliant lighting effects have been evolved to lend a background of unusual beauty to the unfolding pageantry. Miss Marguerite Fisher will act as prolocutor, reading the poetic motif of each episode. The representations of various nations will include a number of solo dancers, while musical number are to be given by members of the Woman's Choral club and Dr. L. D. Parnell's mixed chorus of 40 voices.

The production is being given for the benefit of the Municipal zoo, the formal opening of which has been set for Easter Sunday, March 31. Tickets are on sale at the Kemp hotel at $1, and there will be no reservations made. The performance is scheduled to begin at 8:15 o'clock Friday night.

Hawaii--Dark Eyes--And 'Not Guilty'

Jury Acquits Her of Stealing Own Clothes

A dark-eyed maiden of the Hawaiian Islands, stranded here with a troop of traveling players, Thursday afternoon told her troubles to a jury in the county court at law and was acquitted on a charge of stealing her own clothes.

Speaking in halting, broken English, the dusky dancer told of how her brief stay in the United States had finally brought her, one of a group of five entertainers, to Wichita Falls early in January. Her manager, she said, had charge of all arrangements, paid all bills, and allowed her only an occasional dollar for spending money. Once, she said, she had had a big $10 bill all for her own, but that was in the halcyon days.

The plaintive music of the ukuleles and the rhythmic, shredded-wheat dances of the troop finally palled upon audiences here and even the spending money was stopped, she explained. Then it was that her board bill, formerly handled by the manager, fell due.

An irate landlady claimed her baggage, she went on to explain, although the manager has always declared that he was responsible. Back from a futile journey in quest of work and cheaper rooms, the girl went to her old rooms, found them unlocked and her baggage within, picked up the luggage and went her way, only to be stopped by the stern minions of the law.

A few hours later she was called to trial, and it needed only her story, enhanced by animated gestures of despair, to win a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Martin announced late Thursday afternoon that the 89th district court will be ready to receive motions according to setting formerly made Friday.

CITY OFFICERS SEIZE LIQUOR

Three Men, Two Women Held After Raids Here

The bootlegging profession in Wichita Falls was given a neat rap Thursday night when W. P. Belcher and Ellis Summers, city officers, arrested two women and three men and confiscated 42 gallons of whisky and 15 pints of beer in raids on two residences here.

One of the men and the two women were arrested after the man had been caught in the act of delivering nearly a gallon of liquor. The officers searched his house on Austin street on a warrant a few minutes later and confiscated 40 gallons more.

The second raid netted the officers two men, more than two gallons of whisky and 15 pints of beer when they searched a house on Scott avenue.

The two raids came in quick succession, with the officers nabbing both establishments within two hours. The persons arrested were being held pending the filing of federal charges Friday.

N. Y. Cotton Exchange Tightens Credit Rules

The board of managers posted a notice today announcing that beginning May 15 members shall not extend credits to customers amounting to more than $5 a bale or to a maximum of more than $10,000 to any one customer.

PUTS AN END TO BUNION PAINS

No Need to Suffer Another Day

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflammation of swollen toe joints and help get them down to normal and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning.

Ask Allison Drug Store or any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if one bottle of Emerald Oil does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. —Adv.

Wichita Asks Three Counties To Join in Drive on Predatory Animals

Council of Agriculture Urges Farmers to Join in Protecting Cattle, Poultry and Sheep

Plans for a sweeping, region-wide drive to exterminate coyotes and other predatory animals were formulated Thursday night at the monthly meeting of the Wichita County Council of agriculture.

County Agent G. C. McGown was requested to seek the cooperation of Clay, Archer and Wilbarger counties in a campaign to eliminate from the animals that, according to members of the council, are causing increasing damage to cattle, poultry and sheep. The federal government's cooperation can be obtained in the drive. Poisoned baits of a tempting and deadly variety will be used.

Not only coyotes, but skunks, 'opossums and mink are reported increasing in numbers in this section. Mink, which had almost disappeared, have become more numerous since the operation of the irrigation ditches.

Steps were also taken at the meeting for a number of rabbit drives in Wichita county. The jack rabbits are doing considerable damage in some parts of the county, and in other parts of the county, where drives were held last year, they are reported pestiferous enough to justify concerted action.

The council meeting was held at the Y. W. C. A., where the members were guests of the chamber of commerce at supper. Solon Downing, president of the council, presided.

H. J. Flusche gave a report on the dairying trip to Wise county. It was announced that as one direct result of the trip, a meeting had been called for next Monday evening at the Flusche farm, for the purpose of organizing a bull circle. It will be the first in this county. Mr. Flusche said the trip had convinced its participants of the value of a cow-testing association and that this sort of organization should be undertaken in connection with the bull circle.

County Agent McGown reported that satisfactory progress was being made in the organization of boys' calf clubs. These clubs are being formed in the schools in the Electra district, boys between the ages of 10 and 18 being eligible. R. E. Scheurer, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Electra Chamber of Commerce, is cooperating with Mr. McGown in forming these clubs. Each member of the club is allowed to give his note for a registered Jersey heifer calf, as his own. He must agree to plant five acres of cotton to pay for the calf.

The council discussed the feasibility of a live stock marketing association for this county, members agreeing that it would be of value if there was sufficient stock to be shipped each month.

Pity the Man "On a Diet"

Just To Look at a Good Appetizing New England Boiled Dinner Raises a Riot in His Poor Dilapidated Stomach.

When certain kinds of food upset your stomach and cause indigestion, sourness, gas and general misery why punish yourself by going "on a diet."

Why not start to rebuild your broken down stomach—Why not make your weak stomach so strong and vigorous that it will be able to digest and assimilate even the heartiest foods?

You've probably tried a lot of "relievers" that help for an hour or so and then leave your stomach in as bad a condition as ever.

Why not try the sensible plan of taking a remedy that not only brings almost instant relief, but has the power to tone up your disabled stomach and put it in such a clean and splendid condition that it will soon be able to digest anything you eat, without a particle of distress?

Such a medicine is Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant, palatable elixir that Allison Drug Store and up to date druggists anywhere in America are perfectly willing to sell on a basis of money back if it doesn't give the fullest measure of satisfaction.—Adv.

Four Million, Five Hundred Thousand Automobiles, of the total production, were consumed by individual purchasers last year in the United States.
