Wreckage Of Plane Found On Mountain

(By The Associated Press)

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 13—A search plane reported today that it had sighted a smashed Shanghai-to-St. Paul airliner, which vanished last night with 30 persons aboard, on an Alaska mountainside.

There was no sign of life at the scene.

The Army Public Relations office said a searching party aboard a C-47 spotted a Northwest airlines insignia in the wreckage at the 8,500-foot level of Mount Sanford, a 16,208-foot peak 200 miles northeast of Anchorage.

Area Is Rugged

Sighting of a fire on the south slope of the peak had been reported last night, shortly after its last radio contact with the Civil Aeronautics administration station at Gulkana.

The missing plane was a specially chartered Northwest airlines four-engined transport. It was chartered to fly 24 seamen from the tanker S. S. Sunset home from Shanghai. They had sailed the vessel from New York.

The plane carried a crew of six.

Army officers said the mountainside where the wreckage was sighted is so rugged that it will be impossible to drop a ground party by parachutes. They said a rescue party will have to make its way to the spot by foot.

Rescue To Be Hazardous

The 10th rescue squadron is expected to undertake the difficult and hazardous task.

The pilot of the Army plane from which the wreckage was sighted was Willard B. Jenkins of Monticello, Ark. The discovery came after half a day of aerial searching by more than a dozen planes and a helicopter.

The observers reported seeing the wreckage from an altitude close to the crash.

The airline reported members of the crashed plane's crew included: Capt. Robert Petry, pilot; John Stickel, co-pilot, and a navigator named Worsley all of St.

Anderson To Seek Senate Post From New Mexico

Southern Governors To Oppose Truman's Bid For Nomination

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 13 — Trouble doubled for candidate Harry S. Truman today.

Six southern governors banded together to fight his nomination for President this summer.

A few hours earlier, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced he is quitting the President's cabinet to run for the Senate.

Both moves, although not totally unexpected, added up to bad campaign news for Mr. Truman.

To Quit In Summer

Anderson has been counted a political asset in the cabinet, with his farm and Capitol Hill links. The secretary plans to enter the New Mexico Democratic primary in June and leave the cabinet when Congress quits, possibly in July.

Anderson told a news conference of his plans. He aspires to the Senate seat being vacated by Democratic Senator Carl Hatch.

The southern governors pledged themselves to fight the nomination of any presidential candidate who advocates the civil rights proposals of Mr. Truman: Anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, anti-segregation and anti-job discrimination laws.

Governors Outline Plan

The governors, meeting here, recommended that the southern states withhold their electoral votes from any candidate following the Truman civil rights pattern.

Joining in the recommendation were Governors Wright of Mississippi, Jester of Texas, Folsom of Alabama, Thompson of Georgia, Thurmond of South Carolina and Laney of Arkansas. Governor Lane of Maryland said he refrained from voting "because any recommendation on my part, to the Maryland Democratic convention, to which I probably will not be a delegate, would be resented."

Hatch Not To Run

Anderson's announcement stirred some expressions of surprise in New Mexico, although he had mentioned he might run for the Senate.

Hatch already has said he will be available for an appointment to the federal court bench if it comes to him.

Anderson, appointed by President Truman to succeed Claude P. Wickard on June 30, 1945, said he is taking the step "reluctantly."

The cabinet member said he feels that he can "best serve New Mexico and the interests of the nation in the Senate."

He said if Mr. Truman is willing he will stay on the job until Congress quits to press for adoption of permanent farm legislation to take the place of the expiring price-support program.

Eben Ayers, a presidential press aide, said Mr. Truman "will accept Secretary Anderson's resignation with great reluctance when it is offered."

Associates said the President has not yet had time to cast about for a successor. Anderson said he hasn't the slightest idea who might succeed him.

Led by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), Republicans immediately read into Anderson's decision a fear on the

DRAFT 'IKE' MOVE WITHDRAWN

Young Demos Support State Leaders On National Issues

(By The Associated Press)

TYLER, March 13—Committeemen of the Texas Young Democrats went down the line with senior party chiefs in Texas today, slamming Truman's civil rights program, National Democratic Committee Chairman McGrath and federal claims to tidelands.

The session of the state executive committee here brought frequent clashes.

The group elected Fred Korth of Fort Worth as national young Demo committeeman, succeeding Roy Baker of Sherman, now national president.

Harlingen was selected for the next committee meeting, April 24. A resolution by Larry Blieden of Houston asking that former General Eisenhower be drafted for Democratic nominee and that James A. Farley be drafted for vice president brought a hard fight and the resolution was withdrawn.

Universal Training Endorsed

Resolution approved included:

1. A protest against President Truman's civil rights program.

2. Commended Gov. Jester, Attorney Gen. Price Daniel, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and members of the Texas delegation in Congress for their stand on the tidelands question.

3. Asked that the "two-third rule" be renewed in the national Democratic convention.

4. Condemned the Republicans in Congress.

5. Asked that the Texas Democratic delegation to the national convention be uninstructed.

6. Endorsed universal military training.

7. Endorsed the Gossett bill, which calls for direct election of the United States president.

8. Asked that a person with a "broader concept of the Democratic party be sought for national Democratic committee chairman." (The present chairman, McGrath, was not mentioned by name).

9. Determined that the Texas Young Demo organization would support the Democratic party nominations.

WALLACE SUPPORTERS TO MEET AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP)—Plans for a state convention to organize a third political party—the Wallace for President party—will be made here next Sunday, March 21.

The preliminary meeting is being called by "The Committee to get Wallace on the Ballot in Texas," a group made up of representatives of various pro-Wallace organizations throughout Texas.

Notice of the March 21 meeting was received through the mail today by several Austin citizens. Carrying the signature of Pat Lunsford, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Goose Creek, the letters called for immediate action to create a new party machinery in the state.

KERR SEEKS SENATE

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 13 (AP)—Former Governor Robert S. Kerr today formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator and said he would retire as his party's national committeeman from Oklahoma.

Bill Voted In Drama-Filled Night Session

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14 (Sunday)—The Senate approved the first $5,300,000,000 authority for the European recovery plan early today by a resounding 69 to 17 roll call vote.

The voting on the history making plan began at 11:58 p. m. (EST) Saturday night before galleries jammed with spectators.

The result was announced officially at 12:07 a. m. after a careful double-check of the vote by Senate clerks.

Blow At Communism

The action which sent the measure to the House came at a dramatic night session after more than 11 hours of debate.

Advocates of the program declared it offers the best chance of saving 16 western European nations from Communism and economic collapse.

Opponents attacked the measure as a costly outlay which might undermine the American economy and permit Russia to shove its iron curtain to the shores of the Atlantic.

Funds Are Authorized

The vote marked the first approval by either House of the plan outlined by Secretary of State Marshall in a Harvard commencement speech last June 5.

The measure, which authorizes funds for the first year's operation from April 1, faces new assaults in the House. Passage there is expected, but strong efforts may be made to reduce the dollar outlay and to add other foreign aid funds to the bill.

The actual appropriation bills are yet to come.

The authorization measure left the Senate without substantial change from the form in which it was introduced by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and Senator Connally (D-Tex) the ranking Democratic member of that committee.

Clash Seen In House

In going to the House, the Senate measure clashes with a single "package" foreign relief plan worked out by Republican leaders.

The House version, now being worked out by the Foreign Affairs committee, would wrap up in one package economic aid to Europe, economic and military aid to China, and military aid for Greece and Turkey.

The administration has asked $570,000,000 in economic aid alone for China, and $275,000,000 for

Byrnes Urges Draft Revival

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 13—James F. Byrnes, former secretary of state, said today the United States should promptly revive its wartime draft to back up a new warning that this country is against further Russian expansion by force.

Revival of selective service "will contribute greatly to the preservation of peace," he added.

And the United States should "act," not just make a new protest, if Russia threatens the independence of Greece, Turkey, Italy or France, Byrnes declared.

New Draft Urged

The iron curtain has already gone down on Czechoslovakia, Byrnes said. Russia's demand on Finland for a defense treaty would be followed shortly by complete political and military control of Finland's government, he predicted.

A new draft is needed, he declared, to bring the Army up to its authorized strength of 669,000 soon. This first step to restore American military power should be coupled with increased air power, he said.

Byrnes, as secretary of state, championed a "patient but firm" postwar policy toward Russia. He declared any action to curb Soviet expansion should be "within the spirit and letter of the charter of the United Nations," but he added:

"Knowing the Soviet habit of taking over a government and then announcing there is nothing to discuss, we must let the Soviets know we will act immediately to preserve the status quo until the Security Council has an opportunity to investigate the threatened aggression."

The Truman doctrine already pledges the United States to protect the independence of France, Italy, Greece and Turkey, Byrnes said.

"It will be unfortunate if the Soviets are misled into believing we will not carry out the solemn pledge of the President," Byrnes asserted.

Police Investigating Reported Hit-Run Accident On Avenue N

Police were informed of a hit-run accident last night about 9 o'clock at 1951 Ave. N.

K. M. Howard reported that a car traveling north on Ave. N. had hit the left rear of his automobile which was parked in front of his residence. He said that cream-color paint was marked on the fender, and that a hub cap possibly from a 1942 Ford was knocked off the speeding car.

An investigation was being made by officers.

Two other accidents investigated by police last night involved three and four vehicles approaching an intersection. The hindmost of the cars failed to slow down in time and rammed the others together. Minor damage was reported in those cases.

1,000 Attend Annual Exhibit At Tahoka

Winners Named In Lynn County Show

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

TAHOKA, March 13 — People from all over the South Plains gathered in Tahoka today for the annual Lynn County Fat Stock show, staged for the first time in a new 100 by 100-foot show barn, which turned out to be the most successful in history.

More than 1,000 persons visited the show barn throughout the day where 30 fine baby beef calves, approximately 100 hogs and a dozen or more dairy cattle were on exhibit.

Winners Are Impressive

When the last ribbon had been handed out and the last check of $320 in prizes distributed to 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America boys, spectators at the show predicted plenty of close competition from Lynn county for other South Plains boys at the approaching South Plains Fat Stock show in Lubbock.

A fine Hereford calf, weighing 960 pounds, exhibited by Gene Carpenter, 19, of route 2, Post (but who lives in Lynn county) captured the grand championship of the baby beef division of the show. He nosed out another good calf from the light-weight class for the top prize. This calf was shown by Finis Botkin, Tahoka FFA boy, and won first in the light class and the reserve championship of the show.

Tahoka Man Wins

Grand champion barrow of the pig show was exhibited by Leroy Edwards also of Tahoka. Reserve champion went to Harold Mires of O'Donnell, who also exhibited the best three barrows in the show.

Animals were judged by T. L. Leach of Texas Tech. County Agent W. B. Griffin was superintendent of the show; Claude Wells, baby beef superintendent; Ward Eakin and Roy Botkin, fat pig superintendents; Randal Cook, breeding hogs superintendent; and Cleve-

Plans Pushed For Stock Show Here

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Entry lists in the calf and pig divisions of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show at the fairgrounds here March 22-24 will be among the largest in the 15 years history of the event, General Chairman Vernice Ford predicted Saturday.

Entries closed officially at midnight Friday but those postmarked before that time will be accepted. No report can be made on the total number of entries, Ford explained, until Monday's mail has been received.

Record Already Set

But, with tabulations still incomplete, officials said the lists already exceed the 201 calves and 295 pigs exhibited last year. Whether the 68 lambs shown in 1947 will be exceeded is more uncertain, since only 31 entries had been tabulated. Officials said, however, that the last mail usually contains numerous entries.

The quality of the animals shown unquestionably will be the best in the history of the event despite unfavorable growing conditions during a large part of the present winter, officials said.

While other preparations were nearing completion, members of the finance committee continued their drive for funds to guaran-

Jerusalem Is Rocked By Series Of Blasts

JERUSALEM, March 13 (AP)—A series of violent explosions rocked Jerusalem tonight and heavy fighting was reported in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area.

Two thundering blasts, almost as heavy as the explosions which smashed the Jewish agency building on Thursday, shook the Katamon district of the Holy City. Heavy clouds of smoke were seen.

The government said the explosions were touched off by Jewish squads which penetrated Katamon from the Rehavia quarter. One apartment building was destroyed and a second was damaged, the government said. Five lesser explosions also were heard.

Intensive gunfire was heard following the explosions resulting in one of the heaviest nights of fighting in Jerusalem in recent weeks. Near midnight the firing appeared to be dwindling out.

Britain Warned Of Red Threat

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—Britain's leftist Labor government is determined that a Red coup shall not happen here.

So bitter has become the anti-Communist campaign led by party and government officials that newspapers, politicians and other observers are speculating that the next move may be a "purge" to clear Socialist ranks of fellow travellers and Communist apologists.

The campaign has taken on a new urgency with the fall of Czechoslovakia.

Czech Coup Was Shock

It by no means indicates any surrender of Socialism's leftist ideas, but it makes it increasingly clear Communism and Socialism cannot live together in Britain.

The coup on Prague was, perhaps, the severest shock the Communists have given the Labor government.

Many British labor leaders regarded Czechoslovakia a progressive model of Socialist democracy.

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison emphasized the increased campaign against Communism tonight warning the British people they are facing "the same sort of nightmare of aggression we thought we had banished by disposing of Hitler."

Addressing a meeting of the British Jewelers' association at Birmingham, he said:

"If we demonstrate a working model of a healthy Democracy based on a healthy economic, so-

Rent Official Reported Fired For Seeking To Extend Curbs

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods said today he has fired Henry J. Zetzer, Cleveland regional rent administrator, because of indications that Zetzer attempted to "influence" legislation to extend rent controls.

Woods, who also is federal rent administrator, told a news conference he acted upon evidence presented to him by a Senate Banking subcommittee headed by Senator Cain (R-Wash).

Cain gave reporters a copy of a letter which he and Woods said Zetzer had circulated to area rent directors, area rent director-attorneys and all rent chief attorneys in the Cleveland rent region.

Residence Building Increases In City

Residence building during the past week hit the fastest pace of 1948 despite the midweek blizzard, City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross reported Saturday.

Permits were issued for 30 dwellings, accounting for $258,094 of the $274,350 in new construction authorized during the week, he said.

Since Jan. 1, according to building records, 240 new residences costing $1,460,628 have been authorized. During the first three months last year, 164 such permits were issued representing a value of $826,981.

Six residence permits were issued Saturday, as follows: George Vaught, 3307 Twenty-eight and 3304 Twenty-ninth, $8,500 each, and 2603 Thirty-first, $7,100; Ned Bradley, 2409 Ninth, $7,000; Roy Pate, 2711 North Fifth, $6,200, and Mrs. Payne Wood, owner, and J. P. Lynch, contractor, 3403 Twenty-fifth, $7,000.

Also approved but not issued Saturday was a permit for a business building costing $29,500 at 2107 Broadway to Marvin Collier, owner, and Max Tidmore, contractor. It will have a 52-foot front and a depth of 100 feet. The front portion will be one story and the back 29 feet two stories, according to the specifications.

Grains Show Gains As Government Gets Back Into Market

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 13—Grains spurted ahead today on news the government has started to buy wheat for export at the rate of a million bushels a day.

Some of the buying fever spread to the New York Stock exchange in the final hour of trading. Fractional gains predominated in all classes of stocks, although the market was down slightly for the week as a whole.

Cotton futures were strong, advancing as much as $3 to $3.35 a bale at times. Closing prices were $2 to $2.25 a bale higher in New York and up $2 at New Orleans.

Miners To Study Pension Demand

PITTSBURGH, March 13 (AP)—John L. Lewis' fight for miners pensions gathered new steam today with the United Mine Workers chieftain putting the issue before the rank and file.

Lewis sent circulars to union local officers of some 400,000 bituminous miners in 28 states, telling the diggers that operators had "dishonored" the current contract by not agreeing to pay pensions to miners. He asked locals to hold meetings to determine their reaction to his stand.

Sessions To Be Held

John P. Busarello, president of UMW district five in western Pennsylvania, said locals received the circulars today and that many of them would hold sessions immediately.

Lewis had demanded that $100 monthly pensions be granted miners 60 years of age or more, who have 20 years' service in the pits. Although the current UMW contract does not expire until June 30, either side can terminate it on 30 days notice. No such notice has been given the operators.

Warm Weather To Continue In Area

With spring only one week away, Lubbock and the South Plains was given a preview of what may be ahead Saturday when the temperature jumped to a comparatively warm 69 degrees. And officials at the Weather bureau at midnight foresaw little change in the outlook for today.

Saturday was the warmest day since February 19, the weather station said. Partly cloudy and not much change in temperature was the forecast for today with similar conditions existing Monday plus the added feature of possible showers.

The temperature early this morning was expected to be slightly above freezing.

The Weather bureau at Dallas said mild and partly cloudy weather would be the rule over most of the state today. As temperatures rose the state shook off the last traces of the three-day norther which caused extensive crop damage when it struck earlier in the week, the Associated Press reported. The Weather bureau north of the city said the official time for the beginning of spring will be 10:57 a. m. (CST) March 20.

GILES GARNER REFUSES REWARD

Snyder Man Who Found $40,003 On Curb Finally Locates Owner

(By The Associated Press)

SNYDER, March 13 — It took Giles Garner almost a year to find the owner of $40,003 he found on a sidewalk of this West Texas town last May 15.

Not until last week — after months of steady hunting—did he find the man who had lost it. The money has been returned, he said, to Karl Gring, of Dallas.

Here's the story:

Garner, 65-year-old resident of Snyder, a paving contractor, stepped out of the Snyder postoffice that day last May and saw an envelope on the curb. He picked it up. Inside were seventy-eight $500 bills, five $100 bills, ten $50 bills and three $1 bills.

He didn't say a word to anyone—just went over to the Snyder National bank, rented a safety deposit box and put the envelope in it.

Then he went to Dallas to confer with a cousin, John H. Garner, a director of the Mercantile National bank.

"He was worried about how to get it back to the person who lost it," John Garner said in Dallas today. "He was afraid if he told how much money he had found, everyone might be claim-

PANHANDLE OUTLOOK BRIGHTER THAN SOUTH PLAINS

Texas Wheat Country May Strike Gold Again If Favorable Weather Smiles On This Year's Crop

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE Texas wheat country may have another gold strike this year second only to the 1947 bonanza, if the weather man helps.

An Associated Press survey this weekend showed that the Texas Panhandle stood a good chance for high production, but some South Plains areas were in difficulty.

But nowhere were there indications that Texas would harvest 124,000,000 bushels, as it did in 1947. Even that year, farmers didn't expect a repeat performance.

Preliminary estimates indicate that the Panhandle may harvest half of its 1947 total, while the South Plains section may harvest around 25 per cent.

The Santa Fe railroad's agriculture department said, "Production may not be more than 50 per cent as large as that of 1947.

The greatest Texas wheat crop before 1947 was in 1946 when 62,916,000 bushels were harvested.

Despite recent price drops, wheat still was selling at a very profitable price. With the government easing back into the market after the drop, some of the recent losses may be regained.

Key to just how much wheat Texas will grow depends, as usual, on the rainfall. Then later comes hail and diseases to be reckoned with.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said that last week's severe freeze in the wheat growing area of Texas did no damage. However, the prolonged cold spells this spring have slowed growth.

But the picture now is brighter than last fall.

MISDEMEANOR BUSINESS BRISK

Careless Car Accidents Boost Police Fund As Drivers Fined

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

The short month of February was a hectic one, traffic-wise, for city police with a 31 per cent boost over January in the number of automobile accidents reported within the city limits and the number of injuries in those accidents skyrocketing by 500 per cent. One death was also reported in a February accident.

The number of 'wrecks' during the past 29-day month hit a grand total of 151 compared with 116 in January. Persons injured in those accidents, according to police records, were 24 in February in contrast to only four the previous month.

Negligence On Increase

February traffic violations and accidents were not only more costly in injuries to the people involved, but the increased price in fines assessed by police further hiked the payoff.

The price in the amount of fines assessed during the past month went up by 37 per cent over the month of January. Fines assessed in February totaled $3,857.50, including $69 served in the city jail. The comparable amount for January was $2,820, including only $22 laid out in jail.

Although the increase in amount of fines was 37 per cent, there was a smaller jump—22 per cent—in the actual number of fines collected.

One type of traffic violation in particular, which recently has received a great amount of publicity, is reflected more vividly in the police report of fines.

Negligent collisions investigated by officers numbered 57 in fines assessed during February in contrast to only 22 in the month of January, a longer period with three additional days.

This sudden 159 per cent spurt in negligent collisions, definitely established, may be attributed in part to two factors: (1) A crackdown by city police in the enforcement of traffic regulations and (2) Icy weather conditions when vision through car windows was somewhat obscured.

Police Check Trend

The concern of city police over this short-range trend of negligent collisions is apparent and is indicated by at least one fact. These accidents are no longer included with miscellaneous violations on reports but are treated separately, in addition to continued individual case analysis.

Probably the greatest consumer of traffic tickets is the overparking violation. A total of 474 such tickets were given in February with 149 fined; 630 were given in January with 163 fined.

Other too numerous offenses which build up the police 'fine fund' and often result in personal injuries and property damage are speeding, failure to heed stop signs, failure to stop on red lights, and improper parking.

The first two months of 1948 was also a brisk business period for police in the misdemeanor department.

Topped by fines for drunkenness, January was high with 157 persons fined, while February trailed with only 156 persons 'stuck' for appearing in a public place while intoxicated. Other misdemeanor offenses were more or less neck and neck: gambling accounted for 27 fines in February, and 28 in January; disturbance, 25 in February and 26 the first month; and for vagrancy, 12 in February and 29 in January.

Misdemeanor offenses resulted in fines of $2,826 in January, with $1,432 served out in jail. A mere $17.33 was paid off behind bars the second month, and a total of $2,178 was collected in standard U. S. currency.

Wild Onions Prove Headache In Trades On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Wild onions exist in this city today as they did more than a century ago when Indians named the area "Chicago," meaning the smell of wild onions.

But today's wild onions don't grow along the banks of the Chicago river. Instead, they exist on a blackboard at the Chicago Mercantile exchange, where traders deal in onion futures.

What is wild about these onions is their antics. The March future closed this week at $5.70-5.67 a 50-pound sack while last year at this time the price was $1.60. Trading set a one day record this week at 475 cars, which compares with a normal turnover of less than 50 cars a day last year.

Situation Is Explained

These onions are bringing tears to the eyes of those who, many months ago, thought prices would decline. They are the traders who went "short" in March contracts—promised to deliver onions by the end of this month.

The hub of the situation is this: At the start of business yesterday traders on the "short" side of the market had contracted to deliver 387 cars by the end of this month. It's generally agreed there aren't that many cars of onions in Chicago warehouses.

This would provide all the elements for squeezing monetary juice out of an onion, except for two facts:

First, there are onions stored on Mid-Western farms and they could be brought here to make delivery on futures contracts.

Second, the price is so high that if the "shorts" can get hold of onions, and deliver them, those who accepted the onions might be stuck with a commodity so high priced it couldn't be sold without a mark down.

GOVERNOR THUMBS RIDE

SALEM, Ore. (U.P.)—Gov. John Hall of Oregon thinks hitch-hiking is easy. While on his way to Salem from Portland his car had a blowout. After inquiring at three farm houses, he could find no telephone, so he stuck out his thumb and hitched a ride to the capital. "It's a cinch," he commented.

Telegram Is Studied In Mystery Slaying

FORT WORTH, March 13. (U.P.)—Detectives are studying a cryptic telegram received by Lon Holley less than three weeks before he was slain mysteriously here, it was disclosed today.

The telegram was sent to Holley Feb. 19 from Belton, Tex., and was signed only by two initials. It read:

"Mr. Pavine coat tail is getting longer all time from being jerked at."

Officials were doubtful that it would link anyone with the underworld slaying. Holley, a robbery suspect, is believed to have been murdered because he knew too much about certain underworld characters.

Gas Well Comes In With Roar; Opening Of New Field Is Seen

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Mar. 13. (AP)—A gas well registering 18,000,000 cubic feet a day came in with a great roar this week in Ritchie county, and the event may signal the opening of a new gas field, it was learned today.

Ralph Jackson, a veteran oil and gas operator at Petroleum, Ritchie county, said the well came in Wednesday.

Jackson, who said he was drilling in anticipation of striking a small oil well, reported that when he struck gas it came in so strongly that it blew all his equipment out of the hole.

When he finally got a cap on the well, Jackson reported, it first registered 24,000,000 cubic feet a day, but later dropped to 18,000,000 and has been at that reading since.

Jackson said the well was to be cut into the Home Natural Gas company lines today.

TAKES PUPILS FOR RIDE

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Earah, 303 N. 12th St., McAllen, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds as I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite druggist today.

TO HELP CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Easter Seals To Be Mailed To Residents Over County Today

Fifteen thousand sheets of Easter seals, bearing the message, "Help Crippled Children," will be mailed to residents of Lubbock county today, R. F. Hinchey, chairman of the Easter seal committee in Lubbock county, announced.

The Lubbock County Crippled Children's council, which during 1947 assisted 36 crippled children, is distributing the stickers, which are in gay colors, and picture a small girl on crutches.

Aid Is Outlined

Purpose is to obtain support for the council's work in treatment and rehabilitation of crippled children. The nature of assistance includes securing admittance to hospitals for surgery, furnishing of transportation to and from hospitals, obtaining artificial limbs and hearing aids, purchase, of medicine, clincal examination, purchase of wheel chairs and braces and other types of aid for crippled children in Lubbock county and sometimes in communities in adjacent counties.

The Crippled Children's council was active in plans for creation of a treatment center for victims of spastic paralysis. The center is to be established as soon as a nurse trained in physical therapy is employed. The Lubbock Rotary club is to help finance the center.

Some of the funds from sale of Easter sales will be used in that project.

Letters Accompany Seals

Children with any type of crippling impediment are aided and there is no restriction on race, color or creed.

The local seal work is a part of the 15th annual Easter seal sale sponsored by the Texas Society for Crippled Children, Inc.

In the letters accompanying sheets of seals to be mailed today, Hinchey states that, "If the boy or girl nearest to your heart had an injury or sickness which left him crippled, you would learn the true meaning of Easter seals." The letters state that the sheet of seals is $1 or "as much as you would like to contribute." Addressed envelopes in which contributions may be mailed are enclosed.

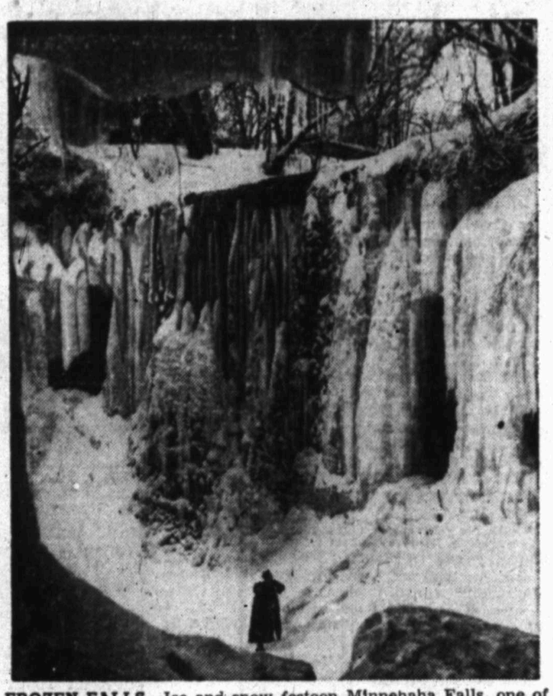

Contributions may be mailed to J. J. Wiley, Box 1121, Lubbock.

Members of the Easter seal committee, in addition to Hinchey, are John W. Broome, director of publicity; J. J. Wiley, treasurer, and the following others: J. B. Maxey, George P. Kuykendall, O. J. Sexton, Neil H. Wright, sr., Alex McDonald, Retha R. Martin, Dr. J. E. Loveless, A. I. Glassman, Luther Godwin, Dr. Martin H. Benson, Gradie W. Bownds, Dr. M. M. Ewing, Dr. Arthur W. Young, L. G. Kammerdiena, Clifton H. Cummings, Dr. J. W. Rollo and J. E. Maisen.

The local group is an affiliate of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

CONFERENCE TO ADJOURN

HAVANA, CUBA, March 13. (AP)—The United Nations trade conference today fixed March 24 for adjournment. A full session of the conference also adopted the form of the final act to be signed by representatives of the 59 nations at the meeting which opened here Nov. 21.

Filing Deadline On Taxes Not Changed

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—The chance of a cut in taxes on 1948 income does not relieve taxpayers of filing by Monday midnight estimates of how much their 1948 income tax will be if the cut doesn't come.

The March 15 deadline holds good for the several million taxpayers who must estimate 1948 income—because the withholding system doesn't cover all the taxes they owe—as well as for all who haven't filed final 1947 tax returns.

Treasury officials said today they expect 55,000,000 returns on 1947 incomes, establishing a tax liability of about $20,000,000,000—both new highs. Most of the tax already has been paid through wage withholding and quarterly payments.

Texas Grapefruit Facing New Test On West Coast Shipments

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 13 (AP) — Texas grapefruit which began moving into California again last month after lifting of a quarantine face a new test.

Growers and packers have protested to State Department of Agriculture Director A. A. Brock that the Texas product is coming here in containers different from those required of Californians by state law.

A hearing has been set for Sacramento next Thursday at which the department will hear the complaints. It would be possible, said H. W. Poulsen today, for the department to rescind its order permitting the Texas grapefruit to enter in boxes different from those used here. The law permits such an exception, providing the boxes are marked.

If that were to be done, said the Bureau of Fruit and Vegetable standardization chief, Texas grapefruit could only enter California in boxes like those used in this state. The boxes were standardized by the last legislature to facilitate movement of the fruit to consumers.

Texas grapefruit began coming into California again after inspectors found no trace of citrus disease feared here and the Texans agreed to treat their product as a precaution.

Europe Doctors To Receive Help

CINCINNATI, March 13 (U.P.)—Neuro-surgeons throughout the country have organized a fund to send food and clothing to their colleagues in Europe.

Dr. Joseph P. Evans, associate professor of surgery at the University of Cincinnati, and secretary-treasurer of the fund, said in announcing it that many Europeans, not just the neuro-surgeons, are desperately in need of American help. His appeal is in addition to the current nation-wide American Overseas Aid and United Nations Appeal for Children.

Dr. Evans, who returned recently after teaching newest medical techniques to physicians in Austria with a medical mission sponsored jointly by the Unitaran Service Committee and World Health Organization (United Nations), described the plight of the people, as he saw conditions in Austria, as "really terrible."

"Poverty is everywhere in Austria," he said. "Most people haven't the things we think of as even ordinary amenities."

He recalled an encounter with a Viennese countess who asked him for knitting needles and wool so that she could earn a little pin money on the side.

Many Lack Clothes

"Superficially, the clothing situation in Austria does not appear as bad as it is," Dr. Evans remarked. "Actually, the people who do not have clothing—and they are numerous—do not venture out on the streets. Some children are forced to miss school because they have literally no clothes to wear."

One result of inadequate food and clothing is that sickness is on the increase, he said. Dr. Evans especially noticed the increase of tuberculosis. While he was in Graz, the university hospital there lost the services of four house officers in a single week from tuberculosis.

The neuro-surgeons' fund was initiated at a meeting of the Academy of Neurological Surgery. A general appeal has been made to all neurological surgeons of the United States and Canada.

"Union-Busting" Charges Are Denied By New York's Papers

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—New York's 14 daily newspapers assured their 2,500 printers today the closed shop and "other historic rights" now banned by law would be restored to future work contracts should they become legal again.

The offer was posted on bulletin boards in the composing rooms of all 14 papers. It was made, William Mapel, vice-chairman of the publishers' association of New York City said, "to dispel once and for all charges that the publishers are 'out to bust the union.'"

The "union-busting" charges were made by the printers' AFL International Typographical union after the newspapers filed unfair labor practice charges with the National Labor Relations Board. The union was accused of refusing to bargain for a legal contract.

The contract between the union's local and the newspapers expires March 31.

Supreme Court Orders Release Of Union Men From Hunt Jail

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP)—A temporary writ of habeas corpus ordering the release of three union laborers from the Hunt county jail in Greenville was granted today by the State Supreme court.

The men were jailed yesterday after Judge Newman Phillips of 62nd judicial district court at Greenville, Hunt county, ruled the men were in contempt of court.

Judge Phillips held that Kenneth Greer, Leo Henry and J. E. Martin, all of Greenville, had violated a temporary injunction restricting them from picketing within 100 feet of a railroad spur leading into the Greenville Cotton Oil company.

Trains Held Up

Local 22453, American Federation of Grain Processors, AFL, of which the three men are members is striking against the company. Because of the picket line across the spur, sympathizing union railroad men refused to bring trains into the company plant for loading.

Following an informal hearing here today, the Supreme Court issued the temporary court order freeing the union men until final hearing on a petition for a permanent writ of habeas corpus is held April 21. Bond for each of the three men was set at $500.

Otto Mullinax of Dallas, a member of the law firm serving the State Federation of Labor as general counsel, assured the Supreme court there will be no further violation of the injunction by either the American Federation of Grain Processors or its members.

Union Recognition Sought

Former Gov. Dan Moody represented the cotton oil company when O. B. Fisher, Paris attorney, failed to arrive in time for the hearing. Fischer reportedly was trying to reach Austin by plane before the hearing began.

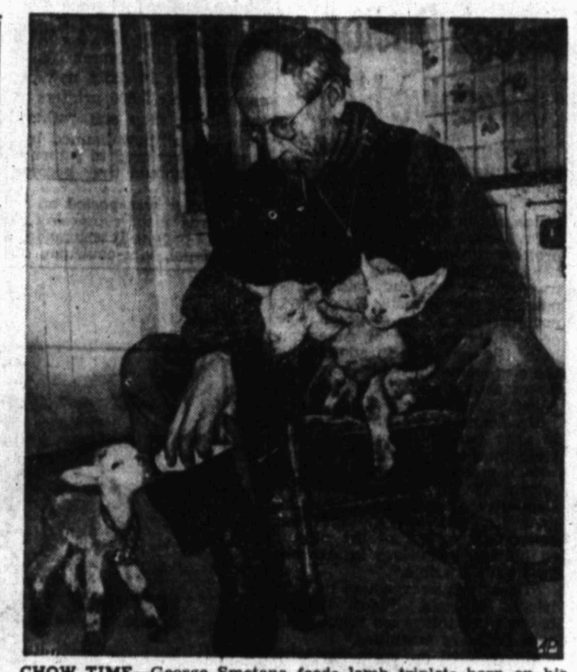

The strike against the cotton oil company was initiated by the grain processors local union in an effort to force its recognition as the bargaining agent with the company and to secure time-and-a-half pay for overtime work, Mullinax said.

Mullinax believed Judge Phillips issued the injunction on the theory that picketing across the spur violated the anti-secondary boycott law enacted by the 50th legislature last year.

That law, commonly known as Senate Bill 167, was introduced by Sen. Ben Ramsey of San Augustine. Conviction of violating its provisions against establishments of a secondary boycott carries penalties of six months in the county jail or a $500 fine, or both.

The men made bond at Greenville and were released this afternoon.

Americans are using about 582 gallons of oil products a year per capita on the average.

Evidence Of Seeds Of Cancer Located

ATLANTIC CITY, March 13. (AP)—Evidence that seeds of cancer may be planted in the very young, and even before birth, was reported today to the American Association for Cancer Research.

These seeds are invisible. They appear to be only a tendency that somehow gets into living flesh. They were shown in mice, by Drs. W. E. Smith and Peyton Rous, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York City.

The seeds were sown by injecting mother mice, before birth of their young, with urethane, a chemical compound known to be able to cause cancer in animals. Why this substance causes cancer is not known.

When the mothers had been injected, many of their young developed cancers. Sometimes one of these baby mice showed a cancer within a few days after birth. Sometimes not for weeks.

But mostly the young mice had cancers much earlier than those whose mothers had not received the cancer-making injection.

There is much evidence that cancers, both in animals and men and women, may not show up until years after the mysterious thing known as the cause of cancer has set the stage. The Rockefeller tests show that it is possible to shorten the time between seeding and appearance of a cancer. That suggests a possibility of learning what may speed human cancer and how to avoid this.

Dr. Valy Menkin, Temple university school of medicine, Philadelphia, reported a new extract, which he calls necrosin, that destroys cancer in Swiss mice. The extract is obtained from dogs. It is one of a series of such cancer destroyers that have been found for animals. Menkin's necrosin attacks only one kind of cancer.

Man Says He's Ready For Death, Dies Minutes Later From Attack

GILBERT MINN., March 13. (AP)—Erick Sandstrom, 82, Iron Range pioneer, has been a close follower of the Gilbert basketball team this year. His grandson, David Sandstrom, is a member of the squad.

Last night Erick listened to a radio account of the Gilbert-Cloquet game in the Region Seven tournament. Gilbert won, 53 to 34.

Hearing the result, he turned to other members of his family and said:

"Now that Gilbert has won, I can die."

Three minutes later he died from a heart attack.

Double Vote In Britain Fought

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—A bill to abolish plural voting in Britain has been introduced in Commons by the Labor government in an avowed attempt to obtain a one-man one-vote rule.

The measure, called the People Bill, includes a proposal to abolish university franchise and to reduce the number of members in the House of Commons from 640 to 608.

At present university graduates may vote both at the university and in the town where they live. Business men also can vote at home and at their place of business.

Labor party members have long advocated the "one-man one-vote" principle.

The current measure proposes to remove from Commons at the end of this parliament the 12 members who represent the seven university constituencies in the United Kingdom. At present there are 228,700 registered university voters.

The bill also proposes to eliminate the plural votes cast by 65,400 persons who utilize the business premises franchise.

The "city" of London as a parliamentary constituency would be joined with adjacent metropolitan boroughs of Finsbury and Shoreditch, reducing Commons representation from two members to one. London representation as a whole would be reduced from 62 to 40.

This will give England 489 seats, Scotland 71, Wales 36 and northern Ireland 12.

Dueling Not Thing Of Past But It Has Taken On New Features

SAN ANTONIO, March 13. (U.P.)—Although dueling is not entirely a thing of the past, it seems to have taken on some new angles.

A Kelley field corporal and another soldier had an argument at a tavern last night. They decided to settle it outside—with pistols.

On their way outside the tavern, one of the duelers grabbed a passer-by, Henry Ward, and used him as a shield while he took a couple of shots at his opponent.

Ward managed to free himself from the first gunman, only to be grabbed by the second, who returned the two shots fired by the other man.

Officers arrived on the scene, arrested the duelers and held them for investigation.

Only casualties of the shooting fracas were one of the gunman's legs and Ward's steady nerve.

Aren't these the facts you need to choose a washer wisely?

No general words... no vague statistics... but actual, unretouched photographs* SHOW THE BENDIX METHOD IS MORE THOROUGH!

At last it's possible to know in advance what results to expect from the washer you buy. No more disappointments if you read and heed the results of tests just completed by America's largest independent testing laboratory.

The Bendix outwashed all others tested for both soil and germ removal.

Matched against three leading non-automatic washers in two-way tests of washing thoroughness, the Bendix did a much better job than any of the others, according to reports from the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory.

In soil removal tests, the Bendix automatic Home Washer removed 23.5% more soil than the "next-best" machine tested.

In germ removal tests, the Bendix did 10 times as good a job as the other washers tested!

Best way is also thriftiest and easiest!

According to the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory's report, the do-everything Bendix used 40% less soap than the average of the other washers tested, and averaged 10 gallons less water for a single load of clothes! Get the whole story and see a demonstration at your authorized Bendix Dealer's.

How the Tests were Made

The soil removal tests were made in accordance with the Test Manual of the American Washer and Ironer Manufacturers' Association, with water temperatures of 160° for the automatic machine and 125° for non-automatic type machines as specified by the Manual.

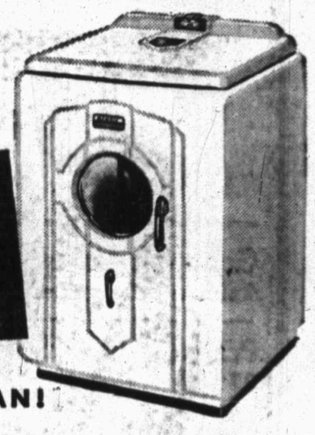

For the germ removal tests the washing procedure as above was supplemented by a pre-determined rinse procedure established from contact with authorities in the field of home laundering including the manufacturers of the machines used. The Bendix was used in accordance with the manufacturer's published instructions. Staphylococcus aureus bacteria (bacteria commonly used for test purposes) were used to measure efficiency of germ removal.

The four washers used, three non-automatic and a Bendix automatic Washer, were purchased in the open market by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory.

INVESTIGATION IS ASKED

Two Newsmen, Photographer Say They Were Attacked By Klan

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 13 (U.P.)—Two reporters and a photographer charged today that approximately 200 Ku Klux Klansmen held them for some time last night, forced them to drink an excessive amount of whiskey and gave two of them injections with a hypodermic needle.

Reporters Jim Bellows and Carlton Johnson and Photographer Joe Talbot of the Columbus Ledger said they went to "cover" a Klan meeting on Pine mountain near Manchester, Ga., last night.

Were 'Roughed Up'

They said they were nabbed by Klansmen shortly after they stepped from their car and were "roughed up" some. About 200 members of the Klan were attending the meeting, they said.

The newsman said Klansmen forcibly made them drink enough liquor to make them drunk. Talbot said somebody stuck a hypodermic needle into his leg with some kind of injection and Johnson said he got the same treatment in the arm.

They said they were then taken to a street in Manchester and put out. They were picked up by police and charged with being drunk. They were released today on bonds of $8.66.

Police Chief G. P. Keeble said their arrests were "routine." They were under the influence of whiskey, he said.

A Columbus Ledger management spokesman said today that Attorney General Tom Clark had been asked to investigate the incident and the FBI was requested to look into the alleged use of narcotics.

Talbot and Johnson were being given thorough physical examinations in a Columbus hospital today to determine if a harmful injection was used on them.

Dr. Samuel Green, Grand Dragon of the Klan in Georgia, said in Atlanta the report was news to him. He said he attended a meeting of the Manchester Klan last night but saw no reporters or anyone with a camera.

Green said the Columbus papers had fought the Klan bitterly for years and that in 1926 one of them won a Pulitzer Prize for doing the most to kill the organization at that time.

Green said the meeting at Manchester was "routine" and was attended by a crowd so large all the Klansmen were unable to get inside the meeting hall on Pine Mountain.

Lawyer Says ITU In Anarchy Against Law

INDIANAPOLIS, March 13 (AP)—A government attorney said today the International Typographical union in the past has been pointed to with pride as a model "but now they are in anarchy against the law of the United States."

He called for a federal court injunction against the union.

The attorney, Winthrop Johns, representing the general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, summed up the government's case this way:

1. The evidence has shown that the ITU "has embarked upon a no-contract" policy.

2. That it has mainly done so for the purpose of maintaining closed shop conditions under the Taft-Hartley act.

3. That this has brought "chaos" into the labor relations of the newspaper industry, with about 15 strikes already and others "probable" in Detroit and Cincinnati.

Johns told Federal Judge Luther M. Sygert:

"The evidence has shown a very startling picture. It has shown the labor relations in an entire industry have been suddenly disrupted because a labor organization did not want to conform to national law and policy."

Johns spoke as the 11-day hearing of the government's injunction case against the ITU drew to a close.

One Injured And Windows Are Broken In Minor Explosion

HOUSTON, March 13 (U.P.) — A minor explosion broke windows and rattle ddoors at a wholesale grocery today and one employe was treated for first and second degree burns.

An ammonia pipe in the basement of the Sidney Myers grocery exploded in the refrigeration system, officials said.

George H. Jones, 29, a shipping room foreman, was injured.

Dream Of Robbery Becomes A Reality

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13 (AP)—A tavern owner dreamed he was being robbed. He checked up—and by George, he was.

George Stavarkas, owner of the Radolph grill, told police he dreamed about the robbery and when he awoke at 4 a. m. today he went to his restaurant to investigate. He saw three men inside.

Stavrakas went back home, a block away, and got his pistol. He also hailed a passing police car.

Behind the tavern they spotted three men getting into a car. After a chase in which bullets flew, the three were captured.

Part of the loot, consisting of 10 in change and $40 worth of whisky, was recovered.

City Finds It Will Be Cheaper To Do Work Than Abandon It

INDIANA, Pa., March 13 (AP)—The city of Indiana is going to have an airport because it would cost more not to build it than to do so.

Plans for the airport were completed some time ago after the city, state and federal government agreed to divide the cost. Contracts were let and grading began March 1.

City council then received a petition from 1,200 taxpayers demanding work be stopped because the city couldn't afford to spend $40,000 on the project.

But Borough Solicitor Thomas Barbor told council last night that it would take $40,750.86 not to finish the job. That was how much it would cost the city for machinery already installed at the port, and other expenses without state or federal aid.

Council decided to save money. Orders went out to resume work.

THRILLED AT 88

FARMINGTON, N. M. (U.P.)—Mrs. Elese Hunt, 88-year-old great-grandmother, took her first airplane flight from the local airport and saw everything without the aid of her glasses. Upon landing, her comment was: "You folks don't know what you're missing."

Portugal Proposes That Spain Be Included In Recovery Plan

LONDON, March 13 (U.P.)—Dispatches from Madrid said today that Portugal had proposed that Spain be included in the European recovery program conference opening Monday in Paris.

A British foreign office spokesman said no word had reached official sources in London of such a Portuguese proposal. He said he believed it "highly unlikely that such a proposal would be adopted."

The dispatches said Foreign Minister Jose Caeiro De Mata of Portugal, acting on direct orders from Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar, contended that Spain's inclusion in the ERP must be effected at once.

Ham Sells For $33 Per Pound At West Virginia Swine Show

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 13 (AP)—Ham sold for $33 a pound here yesterday.

The proprietor of a Ripley restaurant paid $404.25 for a 12¼-pound ham judged the grand champion in the Little Kanawha regional council ham and bacon show. The winner was entered by John Hoff of Spencer.

Gene Penoz, the restaurant operator, said he planned to serve the meat as ham and eggs on Easter morning in his establishment.

Ed Knight, president of the West Virginia Purebred Swine Breeders association, said the price paid for the winner was the highest ever paid in the state, and, as far as he knew, in the nation.

Vaccination Of Dogs Urged By State Health Officer

AUSTIN, March 13. (U.P.)—Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, announced today 1,099 rabic animals were discovered by laboratory examination in Texas last year.

Cox, urging the annual vaccination of all dogs as a rabies control measure, pointed out that "there were undoubtedly many more rabic animals running loose which were never examined."

"Since most of the animals are dogs, children," he said, "are especially vulnerable to this disease."

Defective Rail Is Blamed For Train Derailment At Monterrey

MONTERREY, Mexico, March 13 (U.P.) — A defective rail today was blamed for the derailment of the No. 1 passenger and mail train nine kilometers north of here while enroute from Mexico City to Laredo.

No one was injured, railroad officials said.

The engine, mail car, three chair cars and one pullman were derailed but did not overturn.

Passengers were taken to Monterrey and were scheduled to continue to Laredo today in a special section as soon as the track is cleared.

Thief Poses As Guard, Walks Out With $26,000 In Cash

DENVER, March 13 (U.P.) — A thief posing as a guard for an armored car service walked out of a store today with a money bag containing $26,000 in cash and $4,000 in checks.

Saturday shoppers crowding Daniels and Fisher store and employes, including those who handed over the money bag, were not aware of the theft until 15 minutes later when a regular messenger for the armored car service arrived.

By the time police arrived the thief had disappeared into the downtown shopping crowd.

TWO SEEK MAYOR'S POST

Absentee Balloting Will Start Wednesday In City Election

Absentee balloting for the biennial city election next April 6 will be started Wednesday and will continue through Friday, April 2, city officials announced Saturday.

Ballots may be obtained from Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, on the second floor of the City hall and will be cast in her office.

In all previous city elections, officials said, absentee ballots have been cast at the county clerk's office in the courthouse. This has been changed under a recent revision of the city election ordinance.

Two Running For Mayor

The only contest shown on the printed ballot is between Mayor C. A. Bestwick, who is seeking a second term, and W. H. Rodgers, former city manager and now operator of Buffalo Lakes. E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and Clarence Whiteside are unopposed for the two places to be filled on the City commission.

Separate ballots have been ordered for voting on five proposed amendments to the city charter.

One of these eliminates the requirement that an appointee as Lubbock city manager must have been a resident of Texas at least a year. Another relieves the mayor of the necessity of signing individual city payroll checks. A third empowers the City commission to extend the city limits to include adjoining areas even when residents or property owners there may object. Two prescribe the procedure required in attempting to recover compensation from the city for personal injuries or property damages.

Supply In Radio And Rubber Industries Surpasses Demand

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Industry's race to satisfy post-war demand came a little nearer the finish line this week.

Rubber manufacturers lined up behind radio makers to become the second major industry to reach the point at which supply outweighs demand.

The results: unemployment or a reduced work week, competition which promises to become more and more fierce, new products, and lower prices.

European Nations To Study Organization

PARIS, March 13 (AP)—With a hopeful eye cocked on the United States Congress, statesmen of 16 Western nations converged on the French capital today to create a permanent European organization.

Their meetings begin Monday afternoon.

For the first time since the war, German political leaders from the western zones probably will sit with representatives of the Western allied powers in studying European economic problems, French officials said.

Five of the participating nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg—enter the sessions newly bound by the pact of Brussels to continuing military, economic, political and cultural coordination among themselves.

Local Persons Attend Meeting Of Mental Hygiene Association

Several Lubbock persons attended a meeting of the Texas Mental Hygiene association Thursday and Friday at El Paso.

Dr. Agnes True, associate professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college, is a member of the executive committee of the association and presided at one session. Miss Sannie Callan, head professor of child development and family relations, also attended.

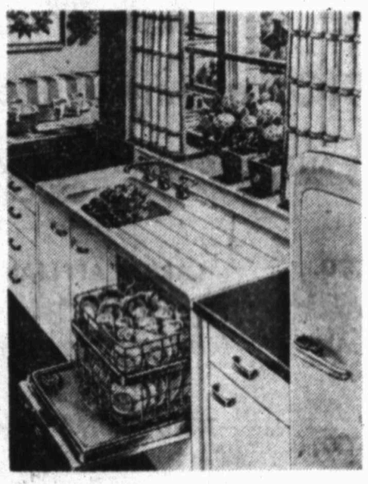

Miss Grace Padley, director of guidance and dean of girls at Lubbock High school, was present.

The regional office of the Veterans administration was represented by George Heath, chief of vocational advisement, and Ross Ayers, special adviser.

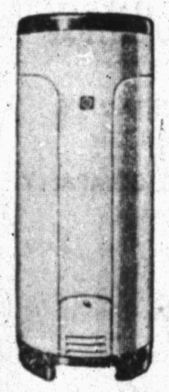

You'll whistle while you work . . .
When you have abundant hot water

Most women still wash dishes by hand. For those who do, the task is immeasurably lightened and speeded when there's plenty of really hot water. It loosens stubborn food particles more quickly, kills more germs.

And for sparkling glassware, shining china and gleaming silver, there's nothing like a good rinse in steamy hot water.

When automatic dishwashing machines are used, it is an absolute "must" to have lots of really HOT water. Furthermore these marvelous machines require a considerable quantity of hot water in a short time. Whether you wash dishes by hand or by machine, see your gas appliance dealer and get a big, dependable, automatic Gas water heater.

Climb Of Wages In U. S. Shown

WASHINGTON, March 13. (U.P.)—The average factory worker earned $11 a week when President Taft created the Labor Department 35 years ago today.

Since then his average weekly earnings have risen to $52.

That has meant a 100 per cent increase in "real wages", the department said in a birthday review of its activities. In other words, although the $52 does not buy as much as $52 would have in 1913, it does buy more than $22 worth of goods at 1913 prices.

The reason weekly income does not buy more is because of current high prices, the department said.

The Labor Department doesn't claim the credit but it is the agency that keeps the records.

Actual weekly wages fluctuated considerably in the 35-year period. The rise in their purchasing power has been steady, in contrast. The record spans World War I, the 1920 depression, 1926 boom, 1930 depression, 1935 recovery, World War II, and the current boom.

Keeping statistics on earnings and employment has been one of the major functions of the department since its establishment.

President Taft signed the law creating the cabinet office as his last official act before putting on his high silk hat and driving to the capitol to turn over his office to Woodrow Wilson.

The new president named William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania, a member of the United Mine Workers, as the first secretary of labor. James J. Davis, another Pennsylvanian and one-time member of the Amanlagmated Steel, Iron and Tin Employes Union, filled the post under Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

Three Other Secretaries

Since Davis' resignation in 1930, the position has been filled by William N. Doak of North Carolina, Frances Perkins of New York and Lewis B. Schwellenbach of Washington.

In 1913 the department consisited of four bureaus—immigration, naturalization, labor statistics and children's. Today its bureaus and divisions consist of labor statistics, labor standards, employment services, veterans' reemployment rights, women's wage-hour, and apprentice training.

Outside of its jurisdiction are the powerful National Labor Relations Board, Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, and the National Mediation Board. All of them handle various kinds of labor-management disputes.

Lights Turned Off In Midst Of Wallace Rally At LSU

BATON ROUGE, La., March 13 (U.P.)—The lights were turned off last night in the midst of a Louisiana State university rally for Henry A. Wallace.

Dr. Mitchell Franklin, Tulane university law professor and state chairman of the Wallace-for-president committee, had to read part of his speech with a flashlight.

The lights went off through an entire building, reportedly because the fuses were pulled out, and it took some time to restore them.

Irving G. Broussard of Lafayette, L. S. U. student leader of the rally, said, "there are indications the lights were turned off on purpose." But he said he thought it was a "prank" rather than maliciousness.

CIO Oil Workers Plan To Take 'Hard Way' If Talks Fail

PORT ARTHUR, March 13 (U.P.)—CIO Oil Workers today decided "to take the hard way" should negotiations fail to accomplish wage increases for union employes of the Texas Co.

The decision of the nationwide council of the CIO Oil Workers International union was announced by President O. A. Knight of Fort Worth in an address before Sabine area union members last night.

The oil workers are demanding a 30-cent hourly boost.

Meanwhile, 35 delegates representing 16 Texas Co. OWIU locals from throughout the nation resumed study today of unified demands for contract revisions and a program for a "master wage ment" to be a model for 50 contracts the OWIU has with the Texas Co.

Baytown Calm After Explosion Scare At Humble Oil Plant

BAYTOWN, March 13. (U.P.)—Things were calm in Baytown today after an explosion at the Humble Oil & Refining Co. plant yesterday injected fear into the city's residents.

"I thought maybe this was going to be another Texas City," said D. H. Pitts, a painter who was working nearby and jumped from his second floor paint shop to the ground.

About 100 workers scattered when the explosion occurred at a new unit of the refinery. They returned later, however, to help firemen fight the resulting blaze. It was believed the blast was caused by a leaking solvent tank.

New Warning Sounded Against Threat Of Inflation To Nation

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Cries of "the consumer is coming into his own" are echoed throughout today's news.

Earl Owen Shreve, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, sounded the cry, of warning, at the national marketing conference in St. Louis.

"The time now is near when the customer will do the telling" to the store clerk and the manufacturer's salesman, Shreve says.

Jay D. Runkle, Detroit, chairman of the National Retail Dry Goods association, is even more biting. He says many manufacturers are trying to maintain the present high price levels and adds, "this is the stuff out of which booms and busts are made."

Anti-Inflation Drive Urged

Inflation is on the wane, the President of the New York State Savings & Loan League says. DeWeese W. DeWitt tells the midwinter meeting here that a "disturbing trend" in upstate New York and in the Midwest has been sighted toward an increase in mortgage delinquencies. He adds that retailers and utility men tell him "money is very tight" and delinquencies rising. He urges the banks to jack up their collection departments.

The New England council urges a nationwide anti-inflation drive by business men to keep prices down by not bidding against each other.

Department store sales on a country-wide basis were up 4 percent in the week ended March 6, compared with a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reports. That's not enough, say many store managers, in view of the higher prices this year than last and the early Easter which should be sending shoppers out in flocks, but isn't. They note, too, that sales in New York City stores were 3 percent below last year.

How the unit volume compares with the dollar volume is shown by some doodlers as follows: The average store selling $100,000 worth of house furnishing and textile goods last year would be selling $104,000 this year, on the 4 percent gain the federal reserve reports. But the Bureau of Labor statistics reports prices on house furnishings is up 13.9 percent from a year ago and on textile products up 6.2 percent, or an average of 10 percent. That means that what sold for $100,000 last year brings $110,000 this year. Since the store actually sold only $104,000 worth, it had a "real" decline of 6 percent in sales volume. This sort of figuring, of course, is only a doodle, but is one way of guessing just how much less volume of goods is being moved from the shelves.

INSIDE STORY OF A HEP CAT—Mrs. E. C. Goodwin, of Newington, Conn., never has to let her pet cat, "Nonny," in at night. The cat's too hep. She leaps up (left), rests her weight on the colonial latch and scrambles until the door opens. Then Nonny noses the door open, as at right. But there's one bad feature to Nonny's clever trick: She leaves the door open and lets in the cold.

Inland Sailor Plans A Voyage As Starter On His Education

JACKSON, Mich., March 13 (U.P.)—An ocean-going vessel is sitting hundreds of miles from navigable water here, but it's all part of Theodore Conover's plan to go to college.

The young ex-sailor plans to sail his converted whale boat down the Ohio River to the Mississippi, thence via the Gulf of Mexico to Tampa, Fla., and his goal, the University of Tampa.

A year ago the bogey of expenses thwarted Conover's idea of attending the southern college. There was the problem of transportation as well as housing.

So Conover got a 28-foot ex-Navy whale boat at an auction for $130. Since then he has converted it into a sleek, power-driven cabin craft.

Interested townspeople pitched in to help the disabled veteran in his task. The city water superintendent, D. J. Stellingworth, contributed a discarded impellor wheel from one of the city's deep well water pumps for a propellor.

Conover built a 14-foot cabin containing seats, bunk, table, closet and kitchenette. He installed a new marine engine and a 34-foot mast for sail power. Thirty-seven feet of railroad rail provides a heavy keel.

Conover said that on arrival in Tampa he will anchor his craft near the college and set up housekeeping in style, with the gentle waves to rock him to sleep.

But he has plans beyond the horizons. Secure in his locker are complete charts of Caribbean and South American waters. After college he envisions leisurely trips to far-off places, tropical nights, lecture tours.

But in more sober moments Conover confides that he has just one worry about his boat. He hopes it will float.

Two School Children Chased Up Tree By Maddened Fox

HENDERSON, Tex., March 13. (AP)—Two negro school children were chased up a tree in the Easton community northeast of Henderson by a fox believed to have been mad, Guy Hale, local manager of a public utility, reported here today.

He said the fox later attacked and bit a cow and a hog in that locality.

The entire community formed a hunting party in an effort to kill the maddened animal but late reports said no trace had been found of the fox.

In other areas, mad foxes have been reported. One in the Pinehill section of Rusk county bit a dog that later developed rabies. One bit five white persons before being slain.

Rumors Of Vice Ring Are Heard

SAN ANTONIO, March 13 (AP)—The San Antonio News said today that an army officer was in the county jail and that army, federal and county officers were investigating reports that a vice ring existed among military and civilian personnel at a San Antonio army post.

The News said the investigation was an outgrowth of the death Monday of James L. Mayes, 24-year-old army veteran in Brooke General hospital.

Mayes was found March 4 in a semi-conscious condition by Patrolman C. T. Flanigan in the rear seat of an automobile parked in downtown San Antonio. The driver of the car was identified as an army captain who later was cleared by army authorities of any blame in the death. The News said head injuries suffered in a fall from the car were the reported cause of Mayes' death.

Police reported that they were refused admittance to the hospital for an investigation.

Joe Edwards, sheriff's investigator, said 30 army officers and 10 civilians were to be questioned today.

Mayes' body was sent to Plano, Texas., for burial.

The News story said:

"An investigation by army authorities, which started when Mayes was placed under treatment at Brooke General hospital, is still in progress," hospital officers declared. Police were not refused admission to his bedside by anyone in an official capacity, they added. Any interference which might have arisen was due to the concern of physicians over the condition of the patient, it was declared."

Woman Doctor Is Happy As She Is Assured Haven In America

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Assured a haven in this country under a bill signed by President Truman, a Romanian woman doctor said today "I am the happiest girl in the world. I feel newborn."

Dr. Gisela Perl, a gnecologist, had faced the prospect of returning to Romania until approval yesterday of a bill introduced by Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY) permitting her to remain as a permanent resident.

In her New York hotel room, Dr. Perl bared her left arm with the tattoed number "25404.".

That, she recounted, "stands for so much suffering" like the time at Auschwitz when she reported a good many women pregnant during first weeks of her service as a camp physician.

"Then one night, they threw 169 pregnant women into the crematory. After that I performed abortions with my bare hands, and every morning I reported no women pregnant," she said.

Packinghouse Workers Set For Nationwide Walkout Tuesday

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, March 13. — The nation's big meat packers began preparations today for a nationwide packinghouse strike which would shut down about one-third of the industry.

Packers cut down on their livestock purchases and planned to complete slaughtering operations by tonight. Many of the big cornbelt stockyards notified farmers not to ship animals to market unless they contact the buyers first

Set For Tuesday

The strike is scheduled to begin at 12:01 a. m., Tuesday. It would involve 100,000 members of the CIO United Packinghouse workers at about 100 meat industry plants across the nation.

As the strike deadline neared, federal labor conciliators continued their meetings with representatives of the union and the packers in a last-ditch attempt to head off the walkout.

The union has asked for a 29-cent-an-hour pay increase, but indicated it would settle for a boost of 19 cents. The packers have offered to raise wages 9 cents an hour.

HST May Step In

Conciliators here said they were keeping their Washington headquarters informed of developments. Under the Taft-Hartley law, there still was a possibility that a strike could be averted by referring the dispute to President Truman.

The decision whether to turn the dispute over to Mr. Truman would be made by the Washington headquarters of the conciliation service. Mr. Truman then could ask the attorney general to get an injunction delaying the walkout for 80 days while a fact-finding board investigates the issues.

The union's 27-man national strike strategy committee met last night to draw up final plans for the walkout, which would be the first big strike of the year.

Third Pipeline To East Coast Asked

WASHINGTON, March 13 (U.P.) —The owners of the Big and Little Inch pipelines now want to build a third and bigger pipeline to carry natural gas from Texas to the Eastern seaboard.

The proposed $151,131,000 line would almost double the volume to be carried through the other two when improvements on them are completed.

The Federal Power commission announced late yesterday the application of the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., to build.

With the new 26-inch line, to run alongside the Big Inch, Texas Eastern would swell deliveries to shortage - ridden Philadelphia, New York and New Jersey and New England areas to 933,000,000 cubic feet a day.

The 24-inch and 20-inch lines—known as the Big and Little Inch respectively—which the company bought from the government last year, now carry less than 300,000,000 cubic feet a day.

The power commission has pending an application from the Trans-Continental Gas Pipeline Co., Longview, Tex., to construct a $150,000,000 pipeline. It would carry 325,000,000 cubic feet a day from the Texas gulf to the Eastern seaboard.

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Buoyed by mounting commodities and bullish thinking along other lines, stocks generally enjoyed recovery today although showing a slight average market decline for the week.

From Monday on dealings were relatively negligible, predicted on worries over critical international affairs and deterioration of business at home.

In the final three sessions there was professional short covering and other bidding on revived hopes for tax cuts, passage of the European relief program and belief that list was in good technical shape.

In the concluding proceedings radio stocks pushed upward on sizable blocks as talk of spreading television demand was heard.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Cotton futures were strong today with prices at times advancing as much as $3 a bale.

A heavy accumulation of buying orders came into the ring at the opening and boosted prices sharply higher. The extreme advance, however, encountered hedging and some week-end profit taking and prices yielded a portion of the rise.

The heavy buying was stimulated by belief that the early passage of the Marshall plan would result in increased shipments of cotton to needy nations. An additional stimulant was announcement by the Dept. of Agriculture that it would resume buying wheat for export.

Futures closed $2.00 to $2.25 a bale higher than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 13 (AP) — Heavy general buying in cotton futures here today raised prices as much as $3.35 a bale, before profit taking and week-end long liquidation pared the gains.

The market closed very steady $1.60 to $2.35 a bale higher. The heavy demand for contracts followed predictions from Washington that the Senate would adopt the Marshall plan today.

This involves the export of large quantities of cotton to Europe.

Trading was active in the short session and some of the buying was done on reports from the belt of slow preparations for the new crop. Strength in other markets also was a buoyant feature.

Middling 15/16 inch spot cotton advanced $2.00 a bale to 34.10 cents a pound. Spot sales at New Orleans amounted to 4,348 bales.

Warning From Grave: America Is Told To Get Tough Or Reds Will Not Stop

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is Jan Masaryk's advice to America on how to keep Russia in line. It comes to you after his mysterious death in Prague, through a previously off-record interview with Hal Lehrman, who recently gave the world a previously unpublished interview with Czech President Eduard Benes. Lehrman is author of "Russia's Europe" (published by Appleton-Century).

• • •

By HAL LEHRMAN
Written for NEA Service

"Look, you fellows are just about beginning to realize your own strength. America is a giant, and Russia respects giants. If I were an American, I'd go all out for a tough policy toward Russia. That's the only way for you to keep her in line: get tough."

The speaker was Jan Garrigue Masaryk, Czech foreign minister—son of the founder of the Czech republic, Thomas G. Masaryk, and Charlotte Garrigue of Brooklyn, U.S.A.

Off-The-Record

The scene was his apartment in Czernin Palace, from which he hurtled to his death from a second-story window on Wednesday.

Speaking frankly because his remarks, so long as he lived, were off-the-record, Jan gave me what amounted to his political testament and his feelings regarding America's role in international affairs. The interview took place June 20, 1946, long before most Americans were talking about a tough policy toward Russia. His words today are a warning from the grave.

"We Czechoslovaks," he said, "aren't in the giant league. We can't get tough. All we can hope is that the Russians will know we can do them more good as their friends than as their puppets. (President Eduard) Benes and I are going to have our hands full with the local comrades. It'll be a hard fight all the way. We've got maybe a 50-50 chance."

He Lost His Bet

Two weeks ago, when the Communists grabbed Czechoslovakia, Jan Masaryk lost his bet. Early Wednesday morning, Masaryk lost his life. His tragic passing cancels the pledge of secrecy and "releases for publication" these notes of a conversation.

I had just arrived in Prague from a year and a half of reporting in eastern Europe when Jan talked with me. During all that time I had been watching the Communists and the Red Army operating in totalitarian style over half a "liberated" continent.

As soon as he could see me, I visited the Foreign Minister. I had known him well since the wartime years. Most of us correspondents called him Jan, because that was the kind of a man he was. The Czechoslovak people's pet name for him was Honza—Little Jan. He was tall and sturdy, but for them he was always old Thomas Masaryk's boy, and they loved him.

U.S. Only One Left

I told the Foreign Minister something of what I had seen. He listened hard, and then said:

"America is the only country left in the world that can make the Russians go slow. This war we've just finished is the first one you've really put your muscle into. Some of the things you guys accomplished were amazing. And you're finally beginning to understand that you are a great power. That realization is coming just in time.

"Don't worry about Czech feelings toward America. Disregard all the hollering in the Communist press. Don't pay any attention to the way I speechify and the way I vote with the Soviet bloc at international meetings. What else can I do? If I stood up against Russian policy publicly, it would be like belching in church.

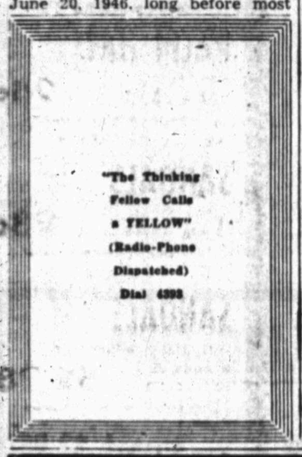

"But way down, deep down, we all love America. Ask General Eisenhower. When he came to Prague on a visit recently, the ovation he got bowled him over. Right here in this room the General told me, with tears in his eyes: 'I've never had a reception like this before. I wish my mother could have seen it.'

"But you know," Jan went on, "we love Russia too. Not the Soviet Union particularly, but Russia. It's in our blood. We're instinctively pro-Russian. Why, I was reading Turgeniev before I'd ever heard of Shakespeare. My first governess was Russian. Right from the cradle I was taught to think of myself as a Slav. And the same goes for the rest of our people. We're never going to do anything to hurt Russia. I think the Russians know this. That's why I can live with hope. That's why I'm glad I survived Hitler."

Jan said he was willing to rely on Soviet "horse sense." He felt the Russians understood "they have everything to lose and nothing to gain by destroying our democracy."

"If the Communists get out of line here," he told me, "there will be a helluva lot of disorder. We won't take it lying down. There isn't a country in the world, including the USSR, that can profit from trouble here. The Russians realize that, with our technical equipment and ability, we can do a great deal for their economy. To build up our industries, we need peace and quiet. That's another reason I'm hopeful."

Jan Masaryk has found final peace—if not hope.

Senate Passes Foreign Aid Bill

military aid for Greece and Turkey.

The ERP bill cleared its last major obstacle when the Senate rejected a substitute world RFC plan by a vote of 68 to 22.

Earlier the Senate beat down another attempt to make a major change in the bill by rejecting a proposal to create a new veto-proof world agency to block the spread of Communism.

HOW SOLONS VOTED

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—In the vote by which the Senate tonight passed the European recovery program bill:

Senator Connally of Texas and Senators Chavez and Hatch of New Mexico voted for the bill.

Senator O'Daniel of Texas voted against it.

Substitute Beaten

The substitute measure, sponsored by Senator Capehart (R-Ind) called for an outlay of $5,000,000,000.

Capehart proposed to use the Reconstruction Finance corporation as the agency for dealing with foreign recovery.

The proposal to set up a veto-proof international agency against Communism was rejected by a voice vote. It had been put forward by Senators Ball (R-Minn), Hawkes (R-NJ) and Wherry (R-Neb), and was offered as an amendment to the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

Veto-Proof Agency Asked

The Ball-Hawkes-Wherry amendment called for the United States to take the lead in establishing a supreme council "capable of defending all member nations and peoples against aggression or subversion threatening their independence or freedom."

Ball declared that adoption of the proposal would "bring a showdown with Russia and her satellites to see if they really want peace."

Vandenberg, opposed the amendment at the time of its introduction. He said it would permit other nations to push the United States into war without the consent of Congress or the people.

He objected specifically to a provision in which all signatories to the supreme council would have agreed to make their armed forces and resources available to the council when it was decided their use was necessary to maintain peace or defend the freedom of a member nation.

Surplus Produce Okayed

In the early stages of the debate, the Senate:

1. Approved by voice vote an amendment to send surplus farm products to Europe as part of the aid program. Senator Williams (R-Del), who opposed the move, said it would add $44,000,000 to the cost of the program, and backers did not dispute him.

The amendment was offered by Senators Aiken (R-Vt), Barkley (D-Ky), Morse (R-Ore), Cordon (R-Wash), Thye (R-Minn), George (D-Ga) and Magnuson (D-Wash).

O'Daniel Plan Defeated

2. Rejected, 73 to 13, an effort by Senators O'Daniel (D-Tex) and Johnston (D-SC) to write into the bill a provision to give American old age pensioners an additional $21 a month.

Vandenberg called for the amendment's defeat. He said it was "completely extraneous to the present bill."

3. Approved by voice vote an amendment by Senator Reed (R-Kan) requiring that not less than 25 per cent of the wheat products sent abroad under the program be in the form of flour.

4. Rejected 78 to 8 an amendment by Senator Pepper (D-Fla) authorizing the United States to contribute an additional $250,000,000 to the United Nations international children's emergency fund.

The amendment would have had the effect of increasing the $5,300,000 authorization to $5,500,000,000.

Pepper warned that disaster is ahead unless the United States and Russia revise their present foreign policies, and expressed regret that the present bill is limited to western Europe.

Thirty Feared Dead

Paul-Minneapolis, and Robert Hazlet, Seattle, purser.

The last radio report from the airliner was at 1:03 a. m. (CST) today. It was then flying over Gulkana at 11,000 feet. Gulkana is the site of a Civil Aeronautics station, 50 miles from Mount Sanford and about 150 miles from Anchorage.

Occupants Feared Dead

The Civil Aeronautics board in Washington said one of its accident investigators, Fred Powell, reported that the aircraft had apparently struck the side of the mountain at 11,000 feet altitude and then the wreckage had slipped back to 8,000 feet.

"Rescue efforts appeared impractical as all the occupants were assumed dead," Powell advised Washington.

The accident area, he said, is covered with 60 feet of snow and surrounded by glaciers and crevasses.

Sailors aboard the plane were employes of Overseas Tankship Corp., shipping subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of California and the Texas Co. It owns more than 30 tankers and operates more than 50, largely from California-Texas Oil Co. Ltd. The latter firm is the foreign marketing subsidiary of the Bahrein Petroleum Co., Ltd., another subsidiary of the two major firms.

Wheat Crop Outlook

arrived, the greater part of the wheat country was so dry that farmers "dusted in" their grain—planted it in dry ground hoping rain would bring it up.

Wheat Situation Mixed

Others relied on volunteer wheat—which grows without planting from unharvested seed left on the ground.

Reports from the Panhandle this week indicated this had caused a mixed situation.

In a 32-county block in the Panhandle, which produced 83,000,000 bushels last year, a survey by the Amarillo Globe-News showed last January that almost a third of the acreage was in volunteer wheat.

Of 4,558,045 acres under cultivation—roughly last year's acreage—1,544,780 acres were volunteer and 2,919,720 acres sowed.

Stand Is Varied

Volunteer wheat is unpredictable. Crop experts of the Santa Fe railroad say "the history of unsowed wheat shows a satisfactory yield in only two or three years out of 10."

This weekend, no general statement can be made on the stands of wheat in the Panhandle. It varies from field to field and county to county.

The prolonged fall and early winter drouth has accounted for late germination, poor stands, short roots and scant top growth.

In some fields of the Panhandle today, David Rasco of the Amarillo Globe-News reports, one observes just slight "needles" of green. Other fields are in the "crown" stage—ready to bush out—but at a standstill because of the cold.

WHEAT OUTLOOK IN COUNTY UNSETTLED, AGENT SAYS

Dave Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, indicated that prospects for a bumper wheat crop in the county are not nearly so good as last year. Only about 8,000 acres of wheat have been planted in the county in comparison with the 20,000 or more acres in wheat last year.

Last year's wheat acreage averaged about 15 bushels to the acre at harvest time, he said, but the yield this year is too uncertain to be predicted as yet. Dry land wheat is coming up pretty slow, but irrigated wheat is doing fairly well, he stated, the difference being, of course, the amount of moisture. The late freeze this year probably did not kill much wheat, he indicated, but it did hold the crop back considerably.

With not too much moisture in the ground at present, the wheat outlook for Lubbock county this year will depend almost entirely upon the amount of rainfall in coming months, plus the other factors of weather involved, he believed.

Money Is Returned

ing it. He decided to run some newspaper advertisements."

So Giles Garner began advertising, in big city papers and West Texas weeklies, mostly the latter. His ads just stated that he had found "an amount of money." He asked that the loser tell how much and give a description of the envelope.

Reward Is Refused

Numerous persons went to Garner or wrote to him, claiming to have lost the money. None could tell him how much or describe the envelope.

Then last week, Karl Gring went to Snyder, found Garner and gave, Garner said, "a perfect description."

Gring asked Garner what sort of reward he wanted.

"Not a cent," Garner replied. "Mr. Gring I've tried to be honest all the 65 years of my life, earning my own way, and I expect to continue doing just that."

He took no reward.

Garner was asked how Gring happened to be carrying such a large amount of money.

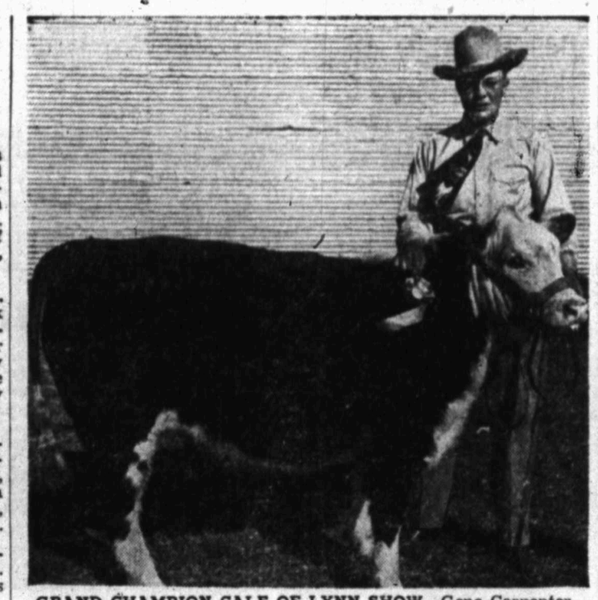

"I didn't ask him," the Snyder man replied. "I figured it was none of my business."

"My cousin is honest," John Garner said today.

"I'm sleeping better now, and breathing easier, too," Giles Garner said.

Gring could not be located in Dallas tonight.

One out of every six persons in the United States is physically handicapped, according to survey.

G. C. Beard, 62 Is Claimed By Death

G. C. Beard, 62, of four and a half miles northeast of Lubbock, died of a heart attack about 9 o'clock last night in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he had been admitted a few hours earlier.

But Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) retorted that this isn't true.

Some Democratic officials strongly urged Anderson to take the step, believing that only his entry could prevent a New Mexico primary fight that might weaken the Democratic senatorial nominee in November.

Homer Hunt, chairman, said about half the $2,500 to $3,000 fund has been secured, with reports from workers less than half complete. He urges members of the committee to complete their assigned tasks so as to make their final reports by the middle of the coming week.

The show will be worth about $4,000 in price bonuses, premiums and special awards to 4-H club and FFA exhibitors from 29 South Plains and Eastern New Mexico counties.

Special awards include $45 by the Lubbock Kiwanis club to the county 4-H club or FFA chapter with the neatest and most attractive exhibits. First, second and third prizes of $6, $5 and $4 will be paid in each of the three divisions of the show.

Entertainment Is Planned

Entertainment will include theater tickets the night of March 22 for the exhibitors, and a barbecue at 6:30 o'clock the next night in the judging pavilion at Texas Technological college. Robinson Paces Waco Cagers To Second Victory

DALLAS, March 13 (AP) — The Baylor Bears defeated Arizona, 64-54, here tonight to win their way into the Western Regional NCAA basketball tournament at Kansas City.

Baylor, Southwest conference titlist, made it two straight over Arizona, Border conference champion, in the playoff to determine the district 6 representative in the tournament next week-end.

2,500 View Game

A crowd of 2,500 watched Jack Robinson, slender Baylor guard playing with a game leg and a bump on his head, pitch in 20 points to lead the Bears to victory.

Texas Beat In NIT Cage Tilt

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Dick Kor, an unheralded substitute pitched in a one-hander with six seconds to go tonight to give New York University a 45-43 victory over a fighting Texas team in a quarter-final contest of the National Invitation Basketball tourney. A capacity crowd of 18,400 saw second seeded NYU move into the semi-finals of the tourney.

The Garden was in a tumult as the game rapidly turned from a NYU rout to a tooth-and-nail contest. The Longhorns trailing through most of the tilt, rallied midway of the second half and soared into a 43-39 lead with 7½ minutes to go.

NYU Rallies

The score held that way until three minutes were left as the deliberate Texans held the ball. Then in rapid succession big Dolph Schayes and Fred Benantis dropped in sensational one-handers to tie the game with 1:20 to go.

With only ten seconds to go and Texas in possession, Kor, who made only three field goals all season, stole the ball, got it back after two passes and then pitched in his sensational left handed hook shot.

NYU Was Favored

The Violets, with a 20-2 record, were seven point favorites over the Southwesterners who boasted a 20-4 slate.

For three-quarters of the tilt NYU looked every bit as good as was predicted. But then the Longhorns, paced by their three little men, Al Madsen, Slater Martin, and Chick Zomlefer, especially the former, caught fire.

Trailing by 38-31, the Longhorns rallied for 10 points. Madsen, fighting furiously and driving in rapidly, connected for five of the tallies and it was his three-point play that put Texas in front, 39-38. He drove in for the basket, and sank it as he was fouled by John Barry. Madsen calmly cashed in the charity shot.

Longhorns "Freeze"

Madsen followed up with another drive to lay in a two-pointer and Martin came through with another bucket from close in.

With a 43-39 margin and three minutes to go, Texas decided to freeze. The icing was good for one minute and ten seconds. Then the ball game broke wide open.

Martin was fouled and when he missed the free throw NYU gained possession and Schayes pulled the Violets within two points. Benantis tied it up and then Kor, a little used sub, pitched in his game-winner.

"FIRST In Lubbock—FIRST On The South Plains"

Lubbock, Texas, Sunday, March 14, 1948

LAVERN ROACH—LaVern Roach falls to the canvas as he takes a left from Marcel Cerdan of France which ended their fight in the eighth round of the middleweight bout at Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night. Roach was unable to continue, and the referee stopped the fight, awarding the decision to Cerdan.

Roach Not Disgraced By Cerdan Defeat

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Marcel Cerdan, the European middleweight champion who stopped young LaVern Roach in the eighth round Friday night, will continue in May his campaign for a shot at the world title.

Roach, an ex-Marine of 22, did not disgrace himself in failing to last the distance for the first time in his brief career of 26 professional bouts. The scrap had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

The Texas youngster, scaling 156 pounds to Cerdan's 156½, won the first round and rallied surprisingly to take brief command in the fifth. He cut Cerdan's mouth, gashed his right brow, and raised plum-colored bruises on both cheekbones.

Between The Lines . . .

By Joe Kelly

The sports phone tinkled Friday night. The call was for this writer. After he had said hello, a feminine voice inquired, "Have you heard the decision on the Roach fight?" The writer replied, "Yes, ma'am." And then the voice, turning colder than Wednesday's weather, declared vehemently, "I hope you're satisfied, you dirty idiot!"

• • •

We must be idiotic, for we immediately tried to figure out what she meant and, so far, we have made little headway. Apparently something we've said upset the little lady, or else she was, like so many of us on the South Plains, shocked and numbed at LaVern Roach's loss to Marcel Cerdan. We felt sick at heart at the defeat, although it was not entirely unexpected, all things considered. Yes, we know that only Friday we predicted that he would win and even went so far as to say it might be by a knockout in the late stages.

• • •

But sober thought brought the hard fats that LaVern was overmatched. Ring Magazine seldom makes mistakes and, when they ranked Cerdan fourth and Roach tenth, it was a good indication of their relative strength. Cerdan was a veteran of 105 ring fights; Roach, of 26. Roach's only advantage was a 10-year age span, but the wily Frenchman from Morocco more than offset that with a punishing right hand and much more ring experience.

• • •

The tremendous display of sheer guts by the Plainview boxer has earned him nothing but profound respect from sports writers and men close to boxing. Although courage alone is not enough to win fights, it is a quality hard to measure and LaVern showed that he has more than an A plus amount. This tenacity is a great asset and, as he becomes wiser in the ring and develops a potent punch of his own, will stand him in good stead in the rocky road ahead.

• • •

The Plainview fighter suffered no disgrace in losing. In fact, from the stories on the wire Saturday, he gained the respect and plaudits of the fight world for his miraculous recovery after that bitter second round. It is safe to say that this defeat was a setback to his title aspirations. Had he beaten the Frenchman, his stock today would be close to the top. But taking his opponent and the fight that Roach fought into consideration, the setback was only a temporary one.

• • •

At 22, LaVern Roach is far from through, as some people might lead you to think after Friday night. Being an intelligent lad and having smart managers, LaVern will profit tremendously from his defeat in badly-needed rink knowledge. He will be a better fighter because of his loss. He lost no stature in facing Cerdan and being beaten, for he showed that he could take blows remarkably well; and the man he faced is rated high in the middleweight class. He was overmatched, a fact that was discovered only after the fight was well under way.

• • •

Not everything is accomplished in a short time. Roach will have to go into additional training, he will have to fight a lot more men, but better men than in the past. He primarily will have to learn to develop a punch that has dynamite in it. We think that he can do it and that, from this point on, the tide of fortune will turn for the better. LaVern's youth is a great asset and instead of being on the skids, he actually is on his way up. He probably needed this defeat. Coming when it did will help him by educating him.

• • •

So far as killing his appeal to boxing fans of the South Plains, the defeat will make his appearance here in June or July attractive. First of all, we're still proud of him. Secondly, he still is a South Plainsman and now, more than at any other time, he needs the support of the people back home. And thirdly, a good bout here three or four months from now, with his own people watching, would be the first good step on his way back up. We still want him, we think, the South Plains still want him.

• • •

An announcement of his probable appearance here was expected yesterday, but failure to receive it does not mean that the fight will not be staged. In fact, there is a better chance of it now than if he had won from Cerdan. If he had beaten the Moroccan ex-Marine, Roach would have been aiming for an even bigger fight. Since he lost, he will have to begin his climb again. And nothing would please his people back here more than to have him start his ladder-climbing in his back yard. Come on home, LaVern, we want you here.

Murray Quintet Cops Cage Tourney Crown

AMARILLO, March 13 (AP)—The Murray, Okla. State Aggies won the Southwest Regional Junior College Basketball tournament here tonight with a 59-51 victory over the Tyler Junior College Apaches.

The Sooners combined a lightning fast break with ball-control to lead all the way. The halftime count was 32-24. Murray started stalling tactics with six minutes to play and Tyler pushed up to a 48-50 deficiency.

Acker Hanks, brilliant Tyler forward, was high point man with 17 tallies.

Wayland of Plainview won third place with a surprising 45-41 victory over Cameron, Okla. Aggies. Amarillo won the consolation bracket, out-scoring Lon Morris of Jacksonville, 89-62.

Westerners Second In Abilene Meet

Reds Claim Roach's Defeat Struck U.S. Capitalism A Blow!

PARIS, March 13 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan's victory over La Vern Roach in Madison Square Garden last night was headlined today in all the French press.

Communist newspapers claimed the victory was a "blow to American capitalism" which had been counting on a Roach victory.

(Ed's Note: "American capitalism" was struck such a resounding blow that thousands cleaned up a neat wad of cabbage betting on Cerdan at 11-5 odds. As a Brooklyn "capitalist" might say: "If dis is capitalism, dat's fer me.")

Dillard Breaks Hurdle Records In Tech Relays

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Baldwin-Wallace's Harrison Dillard smashed both the American indoor 70-yard high and low hurdles records and Northwestern's Bill Porter matched Dillard in the lows in the 17th Illinois Tech Relays tonight.

Dillard scissored the 70-yard high hurdles in :08.4, shaving a tenth of a second from the American indoor record.

700 Athletes Entered

The :08.4 clocking was the same as Ohio State's Lloyd Duff recorded in the Big Nine championships last week. The accepted American indoor mark, however, is :08.5, shared by Bill Porter of Northwestern and Bob Wright of Ohio State.

The meet drew more than 700 athletes from 51 midwestern universities and colleges to the University of Chicago field house.

In the university division 70 highs, Porter triumphed in :08.5, getting a close battle from Missouri's Bud Gartiser, Big Seven champion.

Beat Own Record

Dillard, defending in both the college 70 lows and highs, got away perfectly in his record-breaking low hurdle performance. He gradually widened his lead over the field and was fairly flying when he hit the tape.

Dillard also smashed his own Tech record of :08.6.

Entries Mount In Mitt Meet

PLAINVIEW, March 13 (Special)—Fifty-three entries had been received late tonight by officials of the Plainview Jaycee Invitational boxing tournament, scheduled in the city auditorium March 26-27, and meet directors immediately announced plans to extend the program for an additional one or two nights.

Entries in the open division include Roy Seany, Gotto Petty, Joe Weaver, Frank Loflin, Randal Hinkle and John Adams, all of Wayland college; and Coyt Thompson, Frank Stanton, Howard Kirkpatrick, Hollis Black, Winifred Johnson and J. W. Bruington of Petersburg.

Bill Mills of Brownfield; Harold Vernon of Plainview; Buddy Watson and Bill Quisenberry of Lockney; Willis Hawkins and Clinton Williams of West Texas State Teachers college; Doug Beedy of Floydada; Bill Hickey of Memphis; Jack London of West Texas State Teachers college and Gene James of Lubbock are other early entries.

Kirkpatrick Entered

Entered in the high school division are James Forbes of Brownfield; Kenneth Kirkpatrick, Icee Kirk, H. Surratt, J. McCall, Randal Stanton, B. Floyd, D. Holloway, J. Hefner, all of Petersburg; and Elmos Sams and M. Posy of Memphis.

Representing Lockney will be D. Reecer, N. Hall, Bill Bybee, Ted Livesay, L. Samples, R. Daniels, R. Beedy, C. Pyle, B. Hammitt, J. Adams and R. Quisenberry. James Witt and Jimmie Williams of Lubbock are slated in the high school bracket.

Fighters who plan to enter the tourney are urged to contact Bud Dean of route 2, Lockney, as soon as possible.

109 3-Year-Old Thoroughbreds Nominated For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 13 (AP)—Few in numbers but high in class, 109 three-year-olds were nominated for the 1948 Kentucky Derby, Col. Matt J. Winn announced today, pointing out that more than 37 per cent of the eligibles either won or placed in stakes last year.

Calumet Farm's juvenile champion, the colt Citation, and its brilliant filly Bewitch, headed the smallest number of nominations since 103 were entered in 1938, but practically every outstanding two-year-old of the 1947 season was included among them.

Citation Is Best

Citation, judged the best youngster to race last year regardless of sex, recently concluded a successful winter campaign in Florida by winning the Flamingo Stakes. Although betting commissioners will not release their winter books odds for several days, Citation was touted as favorite for the 74th running of the Louisville classic which will be run on May 1.

Only once was Warren Wright's champion defeated in his 13 races in which he has earned $158,155. Bewitch turned the trick in the Washington Park Futurity last summer and went on to become the leading juvenile lady of the year. She is the only member of her sex entered for the Derby and her chances are slim on the basis of the records. Regret won for Harry Payne Whitney in 1915, the only filly ever to grace the winner's circle in America's premier horse race.

Other Champions Listed

The champions from the other winter racing centers—the Fair Grounds in New Orleans and Santa Anita in California—also were entered. S. W. Sabrot, Jr.'s, Bovard, winner of the Louisiana Derby was a strong contender from the Pelican State but Ben F. Whitaker's My Request headed the nominations from that area.

William G. Helis' Salmagundi who went to Santa Anita a maiden and left with it's most coveted three-year-old prize—the Santa Anita Derby — headed the West Coast contingent.

Hubbers Will Launch Pre-Season Exhibition Series Next Month

First Regular Game Scheduled April 21

The Lubbock Hubbers, 1947 pennant winners in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league, will play a 10-game exhibition schedule before the start of the regular season on April 21, Business Manager Karl H. (Larry) Larsen announced yesterday.

Larson said that the schedule, only tentative at the present time, calls for two games out of town, with the other eight contests being played at Rosenthal Field.

Series Begins April 21

A home-and-home series with the Amarillo Gold Sox, Lubbock's closest rival last year, will highlight the 10-game pre-season firing.

The Hubbers, with an advanced detail training with the Dallas Rebels of the Texas League in Dallas at the presen. time, are scheduled to open their exhibition season on April 3. On that day the homeward bound Hubbers will stop off in San Angelo for a night tilt with Borger.

The champs will return to Lubbock to open the Rosenthal Field season on April 4, playing host to Pampa here in a night game.

The following night the Hubbers will entertain Odessa, a fellow farm club of the Rebels, for a two-night stand.

Holiday April 6-11

There will be a hiatus from April 6 until April 11, when Amarillo will send its diamond crew here for the first encounter between the two clubs of the 1948 season.

In between the Odessa and Amarillo games, the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians will play an afternoon exhibition game at Rosenthal Field on April 9. This will be the feature of the 1948 exhibition season.

Borger will pay a visit to the Hub City on April 13 for a night game, with another open date following their appearance.

Big Spring will play Lubbock here at night on April 15, to be followed the night of April 16 by Pampa again.

Play Amarillo April 17

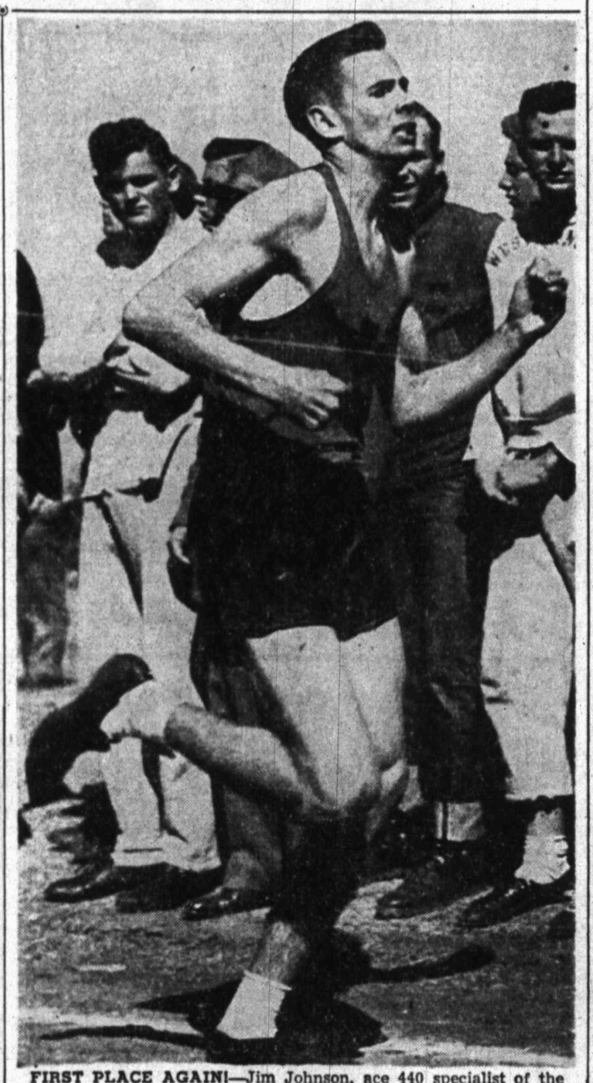

The Hubbers will go to Amarillo for an afternoon game starting at 4 p. m. on April 17.

The final exhibition game on the Spring schedule will be played April 18, when Borger returns for another struggle.

After that, Manager Jackie Sullivan will be busy putting the finishing touches on the 1948 ball club that will open the season on April 21. The Clovis, N. M., nine will furnish the opposition and the Hubbers will be after their third consecutive opening day crowd trophy. Trophies won the last two years, according to Larsen, will be on display in the windows of the Hub Clothiers within the next few days.

Ticket Sales Brisk

Larsen also said that season reserved seat tickets were selling briskly and that persons wishing to have reserved seats for the season should put in their order immediately. The sooner they reserve seats, Larsen declared, the better their choice will be.

FIRST PLACE AGAIN!—Jim Johnson, ace 440 specialist of the Lubbock High track squad, is shown above as he crossed the finish line in first place in the first annual Abilene Invitational meet Saturday at the McMurry college oval. Johnson, undefeated this season, chalked up a time of 53.2 seconds to win the quarter-mile event. The Westerners took second place in the meet. (Avalanche-Journal Staff Photo.)

Manager Of Hubbers Expresses Optimism

DALLAS, March 13 (AP) — This could be the best Lubbock Hubber baseball team Jackie Sullivan ever managed, if the astute young second baseman is to be taken at his word.

"The boys looked great today in the first batting practice of the year," Sullivan grinned. "It looks as though this might be the best ball club I ever managed in Lubbock."

Sullivan Jubilant

Sullivan, who only has six men to work with in Spring training, was jubilant about the initial showing of his charges here today, although it was only the first batting practice of the season. He said that he just had the feeling, after seeing the players in action, that this might be a really great club.

There isn't too much that Manager Sullivan can do at the present time, outside of sharpening his own batting eyes and brushing up on his fielding.

Replacement Needed

The popular Irishman must wait until the Dallas Rebels, who have Odessa and Austin farm clubs here also, decide to unload some of their excess players. This won't be for several days yet, but in the meantime Sullivan is looking around and hoping.

Manager Sullivan's principal worry in camp is in finding a player to fill the twinkling toes of Bill Serena, who merely smashed 57 homeruns in league play and added 13 more in playoffs. If the Hubbers can find someone with the ability to break up tight games, as Belting Bill did, much of Sullivan's worries will be imaginary.

Billy George "Cotton" Russell, the ex-Poly High school hurler from Fort Worth, already is showing signs of bolstering the Hubber mound staff. The 18-year old rookie has shown signs of blazing speed and fine touch control in the few drills staged so far.

Frank Boothe, whom the Hubbers acquired during the winter, is expected to fill some of the slack left on the firing line by the departure of Serena. The stocky fielder is reputed to be a slugger and, with some outside assistance, might step into Serena's shoes quickly.

Sullivan may be able to find out what aid he will get from Dallas by the showings the team makes this week. The Rebels are slated to go through heavy batting and fielding drills and off these results much of the prospective Hubber strength will be known.

LANDS BIG FISH

PARIS, March 13 (AP)—A 48-pound buffalo fish was pulled out of Humble Lake near Talco this afternoon by Gale Burnham of Talco. Burnham said he hooked the fish with a Black Bomber lure on 15-pound test line.

Former Hubber Hits Homer On First Day In Rebel Practice

DALLAS, March 13 (Special)—Bill Serena, who smashed out 70 homeruns for the Lubbock Hubbers last year, showed no signs of diminishing his output in the Texas League.

Facing Double A hurling for the first time, Serena today belted the first heave of batting practice high and wide over the left field fence.

The blow, longest of the day, came on the initial day of batting practice for the Dallas Rebels and their three farm teams of Lubbock, Austin and Odessa.

Moreover, Serena reported to the Dallas camp late due to car trouble, but didn't miss but one workout, the Rebels' squad being forced indoors Monday, Wednesday and Thursday by damp grounds and cold weather.

The fence-busting ex-Hubber played shortstop on the 1947 pennant-winning Hubbers, but probably will be made into an outfielder with the Rebels.

Mesquite Six Wins Girls' Cage Title

HILLSBORO, March 13 (AP)—Mesquite, a longshot entry, won the Texas State Girls Basketball championship here tonight, defeating Maydelle, 37-35.

The Dallas county girls team staged its second upset in as many nights by taking the lead from Maydelle in the final minutes of play and holding onto it.

Nan Thompson scored 19 points to lead the Skeeters to victory, with Dora Davis turning in a fine game at guard.

The score was deadlocked 31-all going into the final quarter and the lead changed hands six times at one point in the second half within five points. Thompson's field goal put the Skeeters ahead with one minute and 40 seconds to go and Mesquite then froze the ball for more than a minute.

At the half, Mesquite led 23-22,. Maydelle was ahead, 11-10, at the end of the first quarter.

East Chambers, last year's champion, defeated Stanton, 40-25, for third place in the tournament and Fredericksburg won the consolation championship, 29-21, from West Columbia.

Coach S. H. Shipley of Mesquite said his team would go to Des Moines, Iowa, March 27 for a game with the Iowa State Girls champion.

Eagles Take First Place

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

ABILENE, March 13—Abilene's potent Eagle track squad, sparked by a speedy group of hurdlers and relay teams, nosed out the Lubbock High Westerners for the championship of the first annual Abilene Invitational track meet here today by a narrow two and one-half point margin.

The Abilene group tallied 40 13/18 points on three first places and numerous runner-up spots in events, while the Westerners chalked up 38 2/9 points on five first places and scattered "show" positions. Big Spring copped third place in the final standings with 29 points and Brady trailed in fourth spot with 24 2/9.

Relay Team Falters

Although the Lubbock performers stole the meet spotlight with triumphs in nearly half of the program events, it was the lack of strength in the hurdles and the relays that cost the Westerners the title. The Lubbock 440 relay quartet, which has turned in several faster times than the winning effort here today, failed to qualify for the finals as a result of a dropped baton and the mile relay team was weakened by the use of two regular members in other events.

The Westerner sprinters turned in excellent performances during the meet, with Don Decker grabbing the 220-yard dash and Charley Williams taking second places in the century and 220 races.

Johnson Wins Easily

Jim Johnson, ace Westerner quarter-miler, gained an easy first in the 440-yard dash with a time of 53.2 and Charles Curry took the shot put crown with a toss of 44 feet, four and one-half inches. Lanky Jack Alderson added another first to the Lubbock tally with a victory in the high jump.

Earl Hutcherson provided one of the most suprising performances of the meet by winning the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.3 seconds, an excellent time for his first major test of the season. Hutcherson took the lead at the third hurdle and steadily increased his margin to the finish line.

Other brilliant times were turned in by Charles Lepard of Big Spring, who blazed to a 2:01.9 in the 880, and Billy Rogers of Abilene, who took the 100-yard dash title with a 10.2 despite unfavorable weather conditions.

The meet, conducted at the McMurray college oval, was the first important track event of the season in West Texas and marked the Abilene and Lubbock squads as two of the three top cinder powers in this section of the state. Odessa's powerful Broncos participated at the Border Olympics at Laredo today and could not attend the meet here.

The complete results:

120-yard high hurdles—Edington, Abilene, first; Rickman, Brady, second; Whiteley, Brady, third; Zeizman, Roscoe, fourth. Time: 15.4 seconds.

100-yard dash—Rogers, Abilene, first; Charley Williams, Lubbock, second; Billington, Stamford, third; Gotcher, Brady, fourth. Time: 10.2 seconds.

440-yard dash—Jim Johnson, Lubbock, first; Bates, Abilene, second; Edington, Abilene, third; Little, Big Spring, fourth. Time: 53.2 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—Earl Hutcherson, Lubbock, first; Billington, Stamford, second; Hart, Abilene, third; Turner, Abilene, fourth. Time: 23.3.

Pole vault—Berry of Big Spring and Hoyt of Brady, tie for first; Sam Davis and Joe Scales of Lubbock, Jones of Childress, tie for third. Height: 10 feet, 5 inches.

220-yard dash—Don Decker, Lubbock, first; Williams, Lubbock, second; Millsap, Abilene, third; Gotcher, Brady, fourth. Time: 23.1 seconds.

880-yard run—Lepard, Big Spring, first; Rogers, Childress, second; Adams, Roscoe, third; Mason, Abilene, fourth. Time: 2:01.9.

Mile run—Fannin, Big Spring, first; Smith, Albany, second; Pool, Big Spring, third; Coffee, Big Spring, fourth. Time: 5 min.

440-yard relay—Brady and Abilene, tie for first. Time :46.2 seconds.

Mile relay—Big Spring, first, (Carter, Little, Turner, Lepard); Abilene, second; Lubbock, (Ross, Carpenter, Wilson, Johnson); third. Time: 3.38.4.

Broad jump—Gotcher, Brady, first; Zetzman, Roscoe, second; Whiteley, Brady, third; Wilson, Lubbock, fourth. Distance: 20 feet, 7 inches.

High jump—Jack Alderson, Lubbock, first; Trouman, Abilene, second, Decus, Brady, third; nine tied for fourth. Height: 5 feet, 8 in.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

South Plains sports fans will be happy to know that LaVern Roach, loser to European middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan in the Madison Square Garden feature bout Friday night, apparently did not suffer any serious injuries. Immediately after the bout Choc Hutcherson, Tech student and one of LaVern's close friends, phoned Roach at the Garden. LaVern was in the shower, but his former Marine commander told Choc that the young fighter was bruised but uninjured. LaVern was never actually knocked out in the bout, the associate of the Plainview puncher said, but was groggy after the powerful knockdown punch in the second round. Roach had fully recovered mentally from the battering a few minutes after the TKO was called and talked with friends as he walked back to the dressing room.

When the Lubbock High Westerner gridders trot out on the field at Jones stadium Sept. 10 to battle the Odessa Bronchos in the first game of the season, grid fans are due a pleasant surprise. The local schoolboys will be outfitted with completely new uniforms, including white plastic helmets and gold all-lastex uniforms. The headgear is of the type used by such college powers as West Point and Texas university and assurances have been received that the rest of the equipment will be the best obtainable.

The coaching situations at numerous West Texas high schools, including Brownfield and Wichita Falls, remain unsettled. Both coaching staffs lost line mentors to colleges and have made no decisions on replacements. It seems that good grid aides are extremely hard to find, especially at this time of the year, and there is a definite trend in the state for coaches to leave the hazardous grid profession for a more stable and secure post in private business. There is little doubt that more coaches will adopt a similar outlook as long as a minority groups of "wolves" are able to wield the axe so efficiently.

This is the time of the year that the real fisherman starts serious planning for a full-scale expedition against the finny tribe. A few groups have already opened the season with flying trips to La Pesca, in Mexico, for a go at the waters there and a few others have cast a line into colder waters nearer home on an experimental basis. But within the next 30 days, owners of local sporting goods stores report, numerous parties will journey to the Devil's River, Pecos and some of the lakes in Central Texas for some all-out efforts.

In the meantime it will be wise for housewives to watch out for fish hooks in the living room and fishing line in the kitchen as the anglers indulge in their annual tackle box cleaning-up spree.

Carlis Holt of the Abilene Reporter-News must surely be the most pessimistic sports writer in the business. Friday night, when he was questioned about the ability of the boys on the Eagle track squad, he answered, "Oh, I don't think we have very much. Bill Rogers is pretty good on the 100-yard dash, he was clocked in 9.8 the other day, but I think 10 flat is his usual speed. Another boy ran the 440 the other day in 53.1, but I don't guess he has much chance." What do the boys have to do before Holt calls them real good?

FAR IN FRONT—Earl Hutcherson, one of the top sprinters and hurdlers of the Lubbock High Westerner track squad, is shown above as he started over the final hurdle of the 200-yard low hurdle event Saturday afternoon in the first annual Abilene Invitational track meet. Hutcherson, far ahead of his nearest rival, finished an easy first in a time of 23.3 seconds. Lubbock took second in the meet. (Avalanche-Journal Staff Photo.)

Aggie Grid Squad Has New Look To Head Coach Harry Stiteler

COLLEGE STATION, March 13 (AP)—The Texas Aggie football team sure has changed.

Coach Harry Stiteler, making his start as head coach of the Aggies, has only two members of last year's team in the current No. 1 lineup.

Whether other old hands will join them before the big intra-squad game on Sports Day, March 20, or before the initial game next fall against Villanova, remains to be seen.

At present, only Jim Winkler at left tackle and Odell Stautzenberger at right guard fill the same positions.

AAU MEET OPENS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 13, (AP)—The 20th renewal of the Women's National AAU Basketball tournament opens tomorrow with a majority of the experts predicting a finals battle between the defending champions and the team from whom they lifted the crown a year ago.

Ex-Army End Signed By Football Dodgers

NEW YORK, March 13 (U.P.)—Hank Foldberg of Dallas, Tex., the towering Army end who resigned from West Point this winter, today cast his lot with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the professional All-America Conference.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers also announced that George Strohmeyer, husky Notre Dame center, was interested in playing with Brooklyn and was quitting the Notre Dame team.

The Dodgers said a telegram from Strohmeyer read:

"I have informed Notre Dame officials that I will not be available next year. Would like to play with the Dodgers."

Strohmeyer, a native of McAllen, Tex., played on Notre Dame's undefeated teams of 1946 and 1947. He had one more season of eligibility with the Irish. Foldberg played on the unbeaten Army teams of Blanchard, Davis and Tucker. He resigned from the Academy in February because of financial necessity. His father was killed in action during the war, and his younger brother is a 19-year-old cadet at West Point.

The Dodgers said that they conducted a battle of dollars with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League for Foldberg's services, and the Dodgers won. Brooklyn Coach Carl Voyles, himself a former end, said of the signing, "I like aggressive ends. Hank's not afraid of running into anybody."

Foldberg, fast and with long arms and big hands, the better to catch passes with, played two seasons with Texas A & M before going into the Army and eventually getting a West Point appointment.

AAU Cage Meet Opens Monday

DENVER COLO., March 13 (AP)—First round pairings for the National A. A. U. Basketball tournament were drawn today with strong indications that this year's competition would be just a four-team affair.

The Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., national champions for five consecutive years, will be the automatic favorites in the 50-team field, with the Denver Nuggets the team most likely to end the long reign of the Oklahomans.

Hollywood's 20th Century Fox team, freshened by new men added from West Coast college squads, and the Oakland, Calif., Bitters appear to be the only genuine challengers.

Graham-Hoene of Amarillo, Tex., will meet Southeastern State Teachers of Durant, Okla., at 5:30 p. m. (CST) Monday.

GRID GAME SCHEDULED

STILLWATER, March 13 (Special)—Missouri university will come into the Oklahoma A&M football schedule in 1949, it has been announced. The first game will be played in Columbia with the Tigers returning the visit to Stillwater in 1950.

Longhorn Track Outlook Is Glum

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP)—Don't look for any startling relay times at the University of Texas until the track season is well under way.

It's a patched up spring relay team that works for the Southwest Exposition meet next week-end at Fort Worth and the Texas Relays here April 2 and 3.

Allen Lawler, Coach Clyde Littlefield's blond-thatched dash veteran, underwent the appendicitis operation three weeks ago, and his return to competition is problematical. Doctors currently are hoping that mid-April will find him in running shape. Perry Samuels suffered a badly-bruised leg in Longhorn spring football that has retarded his sprint training, but the coming week should find him beginning full scale workouts.

Among the sprinters — and for his hopes of near-record times in the spring relays—this leaves Littlefield with Charley Parker (for whom he predicts a fine season), and Charley Tatom, the 207-pound combination sprinter and tackle. The newcomer for the year is John Robertson, who was National Collegiate broad jump champ and a promising sprinter two years ago, but who was out of competition last spring. Tentatively, he is expected to be the fourth member of the 440-yard relay crew, when and if Lawler and Samuels are ready to join baton passes with Parker.

Softball Team Offers To Play Hubbers In Exhibition Clash

A challenge to the Lubbock Hubbers, 1947 pennant winners of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league, was issued yesterday by Ralph Bumpass, manager of the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam Laundry softball team, who called on the baseball team to meet the softball nine in an exhibition softball-baseball game, with proceeds going to the Lubbock Boys club.

Bumpass, one of Lubbock's most ardent sports fans, said:

"I wish to issue a challenge to our own Lubbock Hubbers for a combination softball-baseball game. Some civic club could sponsor this game and give the proceeds to the Lubbock Boys club. The game would attract all the softball fans of this area and many of the baseball fans. Of course numerous others would attend because of the oddity of the contest."

To Aid Boys Club

Bumpass went on to say that three things would be accomplished by the game: 1, give the Boys club some much needed money; 2, erase from the minds of many that softball is an old man's game; and 3, it would give baseball and softball fans a chance to compare the merits of their respective sports.

According to the laundry owner, the softball-baseball game is played according to the rules of baseball, most of which also apply to softball.

In a softball-baseball game, the softball team uses a softball and softball rules while in the field. The baseball team uses a baseball and baseball rules while in the field. The softball team bats the baseball and the baseball team bats the softball.

Softball Is Faster

Bumpass declares that rules for baseball and softball are similar in that each sport has nine men on each side, three strikes constitute an out, four balls is a base on balls, the infield fly applies to both types and many other similarities.

He also admits that baseball is the more strenuous, because the distance between bases (90 feet in baseball, 55 feet in softball) is greater. But Bumpass also claims that softball is a faster game, while granting that pitching is equally important to both teams.

The enthusiastic laundryman also points out that last year the Bluebonnet softball team played—and beat—the Levelland Refiners of the Oil Belt Baseball league, 4-0, in a combination baseball-softball game.

PHILLIES' DOUBLE-PLAY—This is the double-play combination Phillies' manager Ben Chapman says is the best in the National league. Shortstop Eddie Miller, traded from Cincinnati, gets high in the air to throw to first base after receiving a toss from second baseman Emil Verban at the Phillies' camp, Clearwater, Fla.

Polly Riley Wins Florida East Coast Women's Golf Tournament

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, won the 20th annual Florida East Coast Women's Golf tournament today with a 4 and 3 victory over Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, in the 18-hole final round.

The victory gave Miss Riley a leg on the Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., Cup and was her first win in two years of Florida competition. She has been selected as the fourth member of the Curtis Cup team which will sail for England in May.

The Roman emperor, Maximinus, of the third century, could eat 30 to 40 pounds of meat and drink seven gallons of liquid daily.

Gray, Freeman Tangle In Mat Go Wednesday

Karl Gray, Milwaukee, Wis., will tangle with Ace Freeman of New York City in the main event at Sled Allen's Wrestling arena Wednesday night.

In the semifinal go, Gil Knutson of Davenport, Iowa, will meet Eddie Gideon of Montgomery, Ala. Both the main event and the semifinal will be for two out of three falls, with a 45-minute time limit on the semifinal match.

In a one-fall twenty-minute limit preliminary, Johnny Carlin of Tampa, Fla., will meet Gorilla Poggi of Argentina.

Freeman, who has been very successful in his matches throughout this area recently, might find the going a little tougher this week. Freeman's reputation got still another boost last week here when he took Al Getz into camp in an action-packed main event.

Gray is expected to give Freeman some trouble. The Milwaukee mauler has had several matches taken from him by disqualification. That came about when Gray refused to obey the referee's break orders, or to quit using illegal holds.

Eddie Gideon, the scrappy Scotsman, returns here Wednesday night after a lengthy absence. His opponent, Gil Knutson, has a reputation for clean wrestling, and a knack for being able to meet his adversary's style. Knutson has not wrestled here, but appeared here once as a referee. The match is expected to pit Knutson's experience against Gideon's aggressiveness.

The prelim bout will see two cagey wrestlers who believe in winning their match in the quickest way possible. This match 'ooks like fans will get to see some rough stuff, with some wrestling science thrown in for good measure.

Tickets for Wednesday's card go on sale at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at Wylie's Drug store.

Odessa Sprinter Ranked As Ace Of Raider Track Squad

Charlie Reynolds of Odessa, Border Conference sprint champion and a leading halfback on the football team, rapidly is becoming the ace of the Texas Tech track team and the man Coach Maxey McKnight will depend upon most for consistent points.

Reynolds already has run a 9.9 second 100-yard dash to show that his speed still is with him and Friday afternoon, without a wind at his back, he lowered this mark to 9.8 seconds.

A Potent Pair

In both races Reynolds, who showed little signs of fatigue, was chased across the finish line by a promising new trackster, Moon Mullins. Mullins hasn't been able to get under the 10 flat mark yet, but with Reynolds showing him the way, the two may make a potent pair of sprinters for the Red Raider squad.

Friday and Saturday afternoons were the best for the Tech squad to date, with warmer weather making the track faster and allowing the cinder aspirants to get into the feel of the track.

Coach McKnight, not entirely happy over the bad weather, brightened perceptibly with the sunshine of the past two days and sent the squad through intensive drills. Only a few days remain for the Raiders to get into shape for the Fort Worth Exposition, when the Techsans will compete against the best in the state.

Briscoe Shows Promise

Another promising Raider candidate is half-miler Henry Briscoe, who Friday afternoon ran a 2:17 880-yard dash. With a little more work, Briscoe is expected to lower this.

Coach McKnight will take 10 men with him to Fort Worth for the season's first test.

Chick Harbert Moves Into Tie With Alexander For Golf Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Chick Harbert of Detroit caught Skip Alexander of Mid Pines, N. C., at the three-quarters mark of the Jacksonville Invitational Golf tournament today and they shared the 54-hole lead with 212.

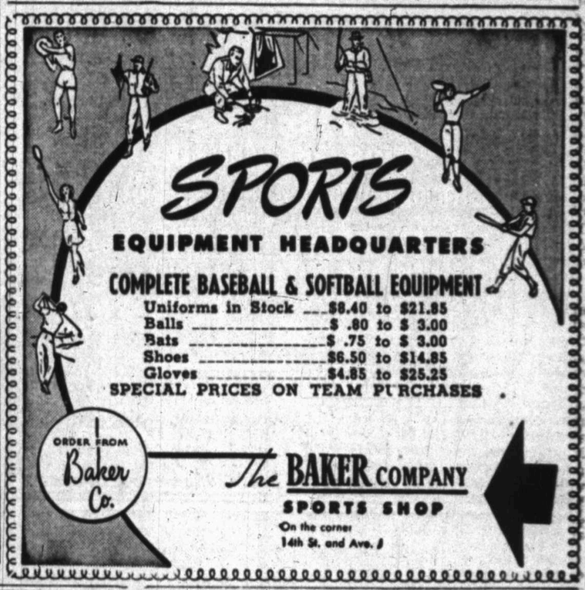

Harbert shaved two strokes off par on the first nine but lost them both when he ran into trouble on the 17th and took a six. He finished with 34-38—72, par for the Brentwood Municipal course.

NEW CONFERENCE PLANNED

GEORGETOWN, March 15 (AP)—Formation of a new Texas Collegiate conference progressed today as representatives of six colleges met here.

East Texas Baptist college, Texas Lutheran, St. Mary's of San Antonio, St. Edward's of Austin, Southwestern university and Daniel Baker were represented.

Defaults On Bond Issues Held On School Funds At Record Low

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 13—The number of defaults on bond issues held by the state's permanent and available school funds is the lowest on record.

Fifty-seven municipal bond issues were in default as of March 1, Ted Alexander, investment adviser to the state board of education, said today in his quarterly report. Their total delinquency was $84,558.

The state of Texas is also in deficit on bonds held by the two funds to the tune of $3,404 585. The state's share accounts for nearly 90 per cent of the total delinquency of $3,769,143.

Only 45 municipal units—school districts, cities, and counties—were in default March 1 some of them being delinquent on more than one bond issue.

Bond Arrears Decrease

There were 466 governmental units, or issuing agencies, in default in 1937 when the position of investment advisor was created to help the board of education and records were started. The number of units in arrears on bond issues has steadily decreased since that year.

The state has failed to pay off bonds issued as far back as 1890 and delinquent as long ago as Aug. 15, 1920. The 43rd Legislature, in a second called session in 1934, authorized the refunding of bonds then past due and appropriated funds for the payment of all interest then delinquent.

But no specific date for the exchange of the bonds was fixed by the act, and a deficiency in the general revenue fund made it impossible to make immediate payment on warrants issued to cover delinquent interest.

Most Default Interest

The state treasurer would not release the bonds without a full liquidation of all matured interest items, so the bonds were not refunded. The interest continued to mount. Subsequent legislatures have failed to take any action.

Municipal bonds owned by the permanent school fund totaled $31,044,428 as of March 1. Default on $384,588 represents a delinquency on slightly more than 1 per cent of the bonds. Most of the default was on interest on bonds, $316,732.

The state permanent school fund, which can be used for investment purposes only, totaled $123,662,653 on March 1. Bonds owned at that time amounted to $109,254,428.

The State Board of Education bought additional bonds approximating $4,000,000 this week.

Income earned by investment of permanent school funds goes into the state available school fund to help pay per capita (the $55 per student being paid to schools this year) and certain other public school expenses.

The bonds held in the available school fund total $372,238.

The largest amount which a municipal unit is in default is $199,666. This is owned by the Ranger independent school district of Eastland county on three issues, the oldest of which was issued in 1920.

SEC May Probe Withdrawal Of Banks From Stock Contract

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—Securities and exchange commission officials talked today of holding a full-scale investigation into the withdrawal of two banking firms from a contract to sell Kaiser-Frazer stock.

Commission agents have been investigating the sudden withdrawal of Otis and Co. of Cleveland, and the First California Co. of San Francisco from a contract to offer publicly 900,000 shares of the motor company's stock at $13 a share.

Hospital Worker Holding On To Job: No Trace Of Lawyer

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Richard Dawson held on to his job as $150-a-month hospital handyman today with no further word about a $200,000 fortune reported to have been left him in Texas.

There still was no trace of the man who is supposed to have left him the money.

Dawson and Providence Hospital officials said a man who identified himself as J. C. Turner, a Dallas lawyer, called there Thursday night to tell the handyman about his inheritance.

They quoted Turner as saying the $200,000 was left to Dawson by a Boun Switzz of Delaware Texas, who died two weeks ago. Turner said the Texan was a patient in a Baltimore hospital 13 years ago and Dawson, as an orderly, took good care of Switzz then.

But in Texas, there was no record of Switzz or Turner in Dallas or in Brown county, where Delaware is located. Turner told Dawson he was coming back to Texas and would send a copy of Switzz's will in 30 days. Dawson doesn't know any more.

Communists Show Surprise Strength In Argentine Vote

BUENOS AIRES, March 13 (AP)—Communists showed surprising strength in rural areas today as the vote count continued in Argentina's congressional race.

Supporters of President Juan D. Peron held their wide lead, however. They seemed assured of maintaining their two-thirds majority in thre Chamber of Deputies.

Despite their showing, it is considered doubtful that the Communists will win any seats.

The number of Americans per dentist in the United States declined from 2,560 in 1900 to 1,728 in 1930, but increased to 1,865 in 1940.

There's New Glamour in the Way it Goes

TAKE the glamour of its tapered gracefulness for granted, if you will. One glance tells you it's tops.

Take an inside peek at its newly fashioned interiors—and see if you're not dazzled by the luxury that greets your eyes.

But wait—just wait—till you learn what makes this banner beauty run off with the year's high honors on the highway. Dollars to drachmas—you'll fairly itch to get in and GO!

For now your right foot commands a Fireball power plant that's as eager as a panther on the prowl—yet is so quieted in purr and pulse you barely sense its telltale throb.

Now you slip through traffic or light out cross-country as relaxed as a baby with his bottle—in a body that's bountifully big, cozily cushioned, and insulated against the usual noises of traveling.

Now you experience the first scientific system ever devised to shield a car's ride against road noise, shake and the vibration build-up that previously took advantage of an automobile's tendency to play sound box.

Now you ride the washboard roads and cobbles as though they were carpet—thanks to coil springs all around — plus extra-low-pressure tires, carried on Buick's own wider, more stable Safety-Ride rims.

And last but best, if a Roadmaster's your choice, you can enjoy the really effortless driving—in a new kind of drive that not only frees you of gear-shifting, but that doesn't even shift itself!

It's Dynaflow Drive*—a drive that's devoid of all halt, lag and hesitation through all speed ranges—because here, for the first time, the power plant itself does what gears used to do.

Fact is, you'll find the new Buick sparkling with more than a score of new advances — in ten brilliant models that span three series and give you your choice of three wheelbases and four power ratings.

So why dally? Here, certainly, is the dilly of the year for smartness and roominess—for the newest in driving ease and riding relaxation—and for all those basic bounties that are forever Buick's.

Place your order with your dealer now — whether or not you have a car to trade—and hasten the day when you'll reach those motoring heights you hanker for.

Madisonville Citizens Now Up In Arms

Scheme To Convince Nation Texas Good Place Backfires

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 13—The Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's association is madder than a tubful of hornets—hotter than a branding iron.

Its scheme to convince the rest of the nation that Texas is a good place to live backfired in 47 states.

With its back to the corral, the association today announced a new campaign:

To Convert Veterans

"We are looking for the out-of-state veteran who trained in Texas who has the worst opinion of the Lone Star State," Dr. J. B. Heath, association president, said. "We're going to fly him back here and convert him."

The celebrated organization was founded to govern the wearing of boots. If you don't own at least two cows and come through Madison county wearing boots, you get dunked in Madisonville's horse trough. Early this week the association announced a contest.

To the offspring of a Texas-trained, out-of-state veteran who writes the best letter on "why my daddy is wrong about Texas," the association offered a free trip to Madisonville and a week's visit on a nearby ranch, climaxed by the designation of honor guest at the association's annual barbecue, May 27.

"Daddy Is Wrong"

"We have letters in reply from 47 states," the tall, lanky, 42-year-old association president said. "Most of them just give us a good cussing out.

"We are gettting letters from more veterans than we are children. So in addition to bringing a youngster to Texas as our guest, we're going to bring a veteran, too—the one with the worst opinion of this state. It looks as though it will be a hot competition."

Dr. Heath said one child wrote that "I know daddy is wrong about Texas—no place on earth can be that bad."

Another said: "I don't know what my father has to say about Texas. He always makes me leave the room before he starts talking about it."

Whole Division Writes

"Who ever heard of going swimming in the morning and wearing an overcoat in the afternoon," a third stated.

A Kansas City veteran griped: "I'm happy to leave Texas to the Texans."

A whole air force division sent a letter from a Pennsylvania air field. It disparaged Texas climate, and Texas distances and added: "You can always tell a Texan by his bragging."

"Now that's unfair," said Dr. Heath. "A Texan shouldn't be blamed for stating pure facts."

But what really burned the cowboys were the letters of sympathy.

"These people wrote they sure were sorry for Texans having to live in such a state," Heath said. "That sure got us."

The population of Madisonville is 3,500. The association has 10,000 members, including Winston Churchill and Henry Wallace.

"We don't mention Wallace any more," the physician commented.

The contest closes May 15. Letters should be addressed to Heath.

Request For Postponement In Meyers Sentence Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The District Court of Appeals today rejected a request by counsel for Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers that the district court postpone passing sentence upon him.

The appeals court said it had no jurisdiction.

Meyers, formerly No. 2 Army Air Forces purchasing officer during the war, was convicted yesterday of persuading another man to tell lies to Senate investigators.

Rockefellers Also Sell Airedale Dogs, New Yorker Learns

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 13—The Rockefellers have been in the oil business for some time.

But did you know they sell dogs, too?

This minor phase of the Rockefeller financial empire was discovered by a friend of ours recently whose pet Airedale had died. His wife was so unhappy that he decided to buy her another dog of the same breed to take her mind off the loss.

Plenty Of Dogs

He called the American Kennel club, and the woman there suggested he get in touch with the kennels of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rockefeller, on the family's Pocantico estate in upper Westchester county.

Feeling somewhat like the man who went to a gasoline station to get his cigarette lighter filled, our friend drove out to the estate.

But he received a friendly welcome from Mrs. Tom Pyle, the kennel master's wife, who showed him about.

"The kennel was a two-story cut-stone building of English type with oak floors in a herringbone pattern," he said. "They had almost two dozen Airedales there, and I don't know how many mastiffs. I didn't get to the Mastiff section."

Mrs. Pyle explained to him that the Mastiffs and Airedales were trained as watchdogs to accompany guards on their patrols around the estate, which consists of thousands of acres.

Our friend paid $75 for a five-month-old pup, and left feeling a little sorry he hadn't got to meet the owner.

Spoiled Chihuahua

Speaking of dogs, a young man we know had a harrowing experience ferrying a Chihuahua back from Florida.

This canine midget — only slightly larger than a South Pacific mosquito—was owned by a rich lady. She wanted to send him back to New York for treatment, but couldn't stand the thought of her pet riding alone in a baggage car.

She offered to pay for a bedroom compartment and all expenses if the young man, who had planned to return here by coach, would agree to shepherd the Chihuahua. He agreed.

"It wasn't long before I began to think I had made a dizzy deal," he said. "Did you ever sit alone, hour after hour, in a compartment on a speeding train looking into the eyes of a spoiled Chihuahua?

"Every few hours I had to send our for a chicken sandwich for the dog. It was on a diet, so I had to throw the bread away and feed it the slices of chicken.

Dr. Ross Appeals Sentence Of Death To High Court

LA GRANGE, March 13. (AP)—Dr. Lloyd I. Ross today appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals from the death sentence given him by trial jury here last Oct. 23.

Dr. Ross was found guilty of murder in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Gertrude York, 43, one of four members of the York family which he is charged with slaying last May 22 in Comal county.

The appeal, citing 51 bills of exception, was filed here with Fayette county district court, Clerk Elo Rohdes said.

The appeal is to be forwarded to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin.

U. S. Soldier Says He's Engaged To German 'Heiress'

BERLIN, March 13. (AP)—Sgt. Paul Ongstad, 21-year-old American soldier from Westport, Ore., said tonight he is engaged to Ursula Bauer, a German girl who claims she is an heir to a vast Philadelphia fortune.

"It was love at first sight," Ongstad said. "And whether she inherits the $18,000,000 dollars makes no difference to me."

Miss Bauer, 23-year-old Berlin secretary, says she is a claimant to the $18,750,000 Garrett snuff fortune.

Ongstad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Ongstad of Westport, a small, Columbia river town 70 miles from Portland.

Verdict Of Accidental Death Given In Louisiana Mishap

HOUMA, La., March 13 (AP)—Coroner J. B. Duval said today that a verdict of accidental drowning had been given in connection with the death of Douglas Eugene McLendon of Fort Worth, on March 8.

McLendon was among a group of three men doing some research work on an oyster experiment in Timbalier bay.

Evidence given a coroner's jury showed that their boat got caught in a swift current and McLendon dived overboard to retrieve an anchor rope.

He recovered the rope but the boat drifed several hundred yards away to an island. Meantime McLendon was seized with cramps and a life preserver was thrown to him.

One of his companions jumped overboard and the two drifted to another nearby island where they were rescued later by the boat.

Artificial respiration administered by companions of McLendon failed to revive him from his exhausted condition.

Services Held For Czechs' Leader; Feelings Are Tense

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Mar. 13 (AP)—Jan Masaryk was lowered into his grave at the side of his father tonight after a day of tense national emotions.

President Eduard Benes made his first public appearance since Communism leaped to power in Czechoslovakia, and openly shed the tears which marked the peoples' grief at the passing of the second Masaryk and the beginning of a new period of their history.

Both the elder, Thomas G. Masaryk, liberator of his country at the end of the first world war, and the younger, Jan, whose broadcasts from exile heralded the second liberation in 1945, slept tonight in the little country cemetery at Lany, 30 miles north of here.

Suspended Sentences Granted In Both District Courts Here

Suspension of a felony sentence was allowed Saturday in each state district court of Lubbock county.

In the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair, John David Duncan pleaded guilty of swindling over $50.

In the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue, Enemensio Armes, a Slaton Mexican, pleaded guilty of embezzlement over $50 from the Morelas club there.

Both assessments were for five years, court officials said.

In the county court of Judge Walter Davies, the following judgments were filed:

Bill Davis, 19, of Seventeenth and Ave. G, $100 and costs on a charge of liquor law violation; W. L. Burkhalter, $1 and costs, check law violation; S. E. Arnold, $5 and costs in each of two check law violation charges; Albert Dan Chester, 28, $50 and costs on a drunk driving charge.

Officers Pursue Car

David had been arrested Friday night, according to city police.

With a companion, he was driving a 1939 Ford coach in the 400 block of Ave. H about 8:30 p. m. and apparently noticed the police patrol car some distance behind him, officers reported. For about that moment the lights went out on the Ford, and it began speeding.

The chase which followed heated the roads through Mackenzie park, back to Ave. H, on to the Plainview cutoff, and then north on a dirt road. That was the end of the chase and the road, which was dead-end, the investigating officers said.

Charges Filed

At the police station, 19 half cases of beer, and 9 full cases were unloaded. Davis was fined $30 on a charge of reckless driving and $10 on a charge of driving without lights, before his case on the liquor violation charge was transferred to the county, records showed.

Police received a call about 8:30 o'clock last night regarding a small-time ambush at the Five-Point Drive-In theater on the Slide road.

The caller declined to give police his name, adding that some of the four or five ambushers 'appeared to be mighty big.'

According to his story, four or five boys drove up near his car, occupied by four or five persons. Then the pranksters let loose with a barrage of 'torpedoes.' Immediately following the impact-explosions, a roman candle was turned on the victims.

"And if the window hadn't been up," he told police, "that candle would'a got hot!"

Mrs. T. G. Williams of Lubbock route 5 complained to police that her purse and its personal effects had been stolen at a hospital here. She described a suspect.

Severe Shortage Of Bread Is Reported On Moscow Market

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Moscow today was reported gripped by a bread shortage so severe that Russians are lining up a dozen abreast for scarce supplies.

On the black market—what Soviets call the open market—the shortage was reported to have pushed prices to near $3.60 a pound.

This information was reported to the State department in official and private advices from the Soviet capital.

The scarcity of bread and probably also of sugar, is blamed in these reports on a break-down in distribution. It is linked in the dispatches with the dismissal on March 3 of Minister of Trade Alexander V. Lyuhimov.

Home Building Program Urged

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—A 15,000,000-home building program was recommended today by the House-Senate committee on housing.

The construction would be spread over the next 10 years. A big share would be rental quarters for low-income families.

The committee recommended a four-year public housing program providing for 500,000 dwellings.

In doing so, it overrode Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and gave a thumping victory for a faction led by Senator Tobey (R-NH). Tobey and McCarthy have been at odds for months—ever since the Wisconsin senator blocked a move to make Tobey chairman of the joint committee.

The committee's recommendations were set forth in a report. Actual legislation remains to be passed upon by Congress.

Two Children Given Treatment For Minor Injuries Saturday

Dorence Richey, about 5, of 2405 Sanders, was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital Saturday afternoon for a slight head injury. He was dismissed after treatment.

Billy Green, about 2, was also given emergency treatment and dismissed. The hospital reported that he had swallowed some iodine.

Alert Is Sounded For Missing Men

MIAMI, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Coast Guard units and shipping throughout the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic seaboard were put on the alert today for an ocean going tug and barge with 18 men aboard which has not been heard from since March 9.

Lt. Comdr. Richard Baxter, head of the air-sea rescue service here, said no search had been launched for the tug and its tow as yet, since heavy weather may have slowed it and knocked out its radio facilities.

Fifteen men are aboard the 123-foot tug McAllister Brothers and three aboard the barge Iroquois, which is 230 feet long, 42 feet wide and is carrying 9,000 gallons of gasoline for ballast.

It is headed for New York City from Port Arthur, Texas. It was last heard from the night of March 9 when it encountered heavy weather and reported by radio that it had lost a hawser.

Wichita Falls Cab Driver Says Forced To Make Trip

SHERMAN, March 13. (AP)—L. H. Whitaker, Wichita Falls taxicab driver, told police here today that he was forced to drive two men here from Wichita Falls.

He said he picked up one man at the airport in Wichita Falls, then another got in the cab about two blocks from the airport.

Police said he told them the two men forced him to drive to Sherman, where they met a third man with an automobile.

He told police he was directed to drive in front of the car down the highway to Gunter. But he said he drove off the road and the cab stuck in the mud. The men then rode off in the automobile, warning him not to "stick his head out of the cab."

Czech UN Delegate To Defy Dismissal

LAKE SUCCESS, March 13. (AP)—The Prague government today fired Dr. Jan Papanbsas Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations, but Papanek defied the Communist-dominated regime he has bitterly attacked.

Ending a three-day official silence, the Prague authorities sent through their Washington office to the U.N. a curt telegram saying Papanek had ceased to be the permanent delegate on the Czechoslovak republic on March 10.

That was the day on which Papanek attacked the Communist government in Prague, accused Russia of aiding the Communists to gain control, and demanded that the U.N. Security Council investigate the coup.

Papanek acted without informing Prague what he planned to do.

As soon as the U.N. received the dismissal notice, Papanek told a reporter by telephone that "I am going on in my position." He said he would bow only to a written recall signed personally by President Benes.

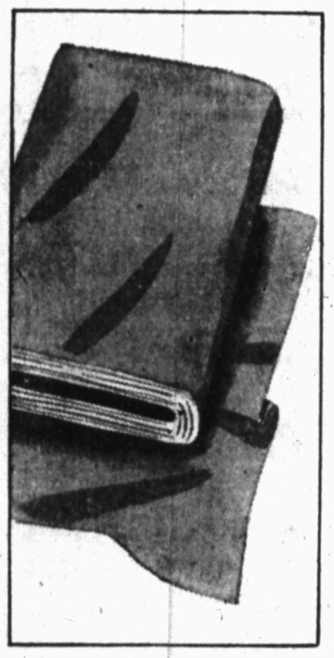

DINGY IS FOUND

MIAMI, Fla., March 13 (AP)—A 14-foot dingy in which Jockey Al Snider and two other men disappeared a week ago yesterday while on a fishing trip in the Florida keys was found empty, but upright today. The other men are C. H. (Tobe) Trotter, Miami horse trainer, and Donald Frazier, Toronto, Canada, businessman.

SCATTERINGS

TO our mind, no homespun topical commentator has ever come within shouting distance of the late Will Rogers. . . . Wonder if comics ever laugh at their competitors' efforts? . . . With Old Man Winter throwing his weight around in these parts, maybe it would be a timely idea to hold a "hot" election. . . . Several readers have called to report annual visits from robins and the warm breath of campaign promises are filling the land. Verily, spring is on the way! . . . Among the prides and joys of the 1938 Maid of Cotton, blonde Matilda Nail of Fort Worth, are 28 pairs of cotton gloves to complement her chic collection that is being displayed on a 33,000 international tour. Since we live in the Cotton Kingdom, why doesn't an astute public relations person set out to show how varied and versatile a wardrobe Lubbock girls and women could have, using cotton as the high-fashion fabric.

An editor of a famous publishing company recently warned neophyte authors that they should write about things they know best. No experience in writing is necessary, he pointed out, but the book should be well written. Here is a hint perhaps: He doesn't think there is a surplus of Texas history and said a great book about the Alamo is yet to be written. . . . Straw hats in toffee or cheese color are highlighting the headlines for spring millinery. . . . Suggesting the feathercut of the short-skirt days is the feathercap hairdo. However, instead of curling upward and out in fluff, the new style brushes short ends under at the back of the head and forward around the face in flatly curled tendrils. It's a style favored by the business woman because it can be put up at home by dividing the hair in the center or on the side and curling in two rows all around the head, turning the pincurls toward the face and brushing into a sleek, soft top.

LOUISE McLANE, beautiful senior music student from Tyler, who captivated the "Rigoletto" audience with her role as "Gilda," has lyric soprano voice that equals, if not surpasses any soprano heard in the summer opera in Dallas. Her ambition is to do radio and concert work. . . . The careful and courteous attention most young people gave to the opera is again proof that students appreciate the fine art. However, perhaps someone should explain that the appearance of the orchestra conductor on the podium is the time for "the lights to be lowered and the audience to become quiet." . . . Miss McCormic says she doesn't mind her students calling her Mary because "it shows they like me." . . . A relay, in the nature of an exchange of speakers, was held Friday afternoon when Dr. A. J. Soddard, superintendent of Philadelphia schools, left by car immediately following his address at a teachers' meeting and a car left Amarillo with W. E. Goslin, superintendent of Minneapolis schools who addressed an educators' gathering in Amarillo. They met in Plainview at 5 o'clock and changed places: Dr. Stoddard going on to Amarillo and Mr. Goslin coming here.

Homemaking Education Aim Given By State Supervisor

HOMEMAKING education should meet the needs of the family and community in the life adjustment program, according to Miss Ruth Huey of Austin, supervisor of homemaking education, who spoke at the homemaking sectional meeting of the West Texas State Teachers association Friday afternoon at Lubbock Senior High school. She addressed an audience of 60 people which included homemaking teachers of this area, Miss Esther Sorensen, area supervisor of homemaking education, Dean Margaret W. Weeks of Texas Technological college, Mrs. O. V. Adams, head of the department of homemaking education at Tech, and other college representatives.

Officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. Katherine Bullock of Roosevelt, chairman, and Miss Denise Cummings of Lubbock Senior High school, assistant chairman. Mrs. Katie Pettyjohn of O. L. Slaton Junior High school presided.

Planned For Family

In her talk Miss Huey stressed the fact that homemaking programs should be planned with the family in mind since the family is the basic unit, holding first place in society. The scope of the program should include all homes in the community, serve both sexes and all ages, and make instruction easily accessible to all in the school and community. Group planning is the ideal way to bring homes and homemaking programs together in order to meet community needs, she stated. This planning group should include persons representing parents, school officials, teacher, pupils, etc.

According to Miss Huey, the largest need in communities is wholesome activity for boys and girls; places should be provided for work and play to promote better understanding and better relationships between boys and girls. This problem may be solved to some extent by homemaking teachers who work in cooperation with parents and school officials, stated the supervisor.

Statistics given by Miss Huey were: "Only 20 per cent of the students who finish secondary schools ever go to college and probably a smaller number finishes college; 20 per cent are trained for special jobs in trades of various types; and 60 per cent never go to college or get special training for any particular job. Therefore, the homemaking program must be planned to benefit all of these students. The teacher should know and understand her students before planning her program; the homemaking program is often miss-named when called "Foods and Clothing," it would be much better to speak of it as "Home and Family Living" because all phases of family life are included in a well rounded program.

Panel Follows Talk

Following the talk by Miss Huey, a panel discussion, "Having a Successful Future Homemaker of America Chapter," was presented by Mrs. Katherine Bullock of Roosevelt; Mrs. Margaret Barrett of Spur; Mrs. Ima Dora Haile of Anton; Mrs. Lucille Ayers of Tahoka; and Miss Denise Cummings of Lubbock Senior High school. Topics discussed by the group were, publicity for the club, fun at the meeting, yearbooks and programs, qualifying for degrees and ways of making club money.

Future Homemakers of America have 603 chapters in Texas with a total of 28,000 members, making it the largest such organization in America.

Homemaking and agriculture teachers who attended the meeting of the West Texas State Teacher association Friday met for a joint dinner at Hilton hotel Friday night. Robert A. Manire, who was unable to attend was replaced as speaker by Miss Ruth Huey. Theme of her talk was "Family Life and Improved Home Living as a Joint Enterprise."

Miss Esther Sorensen, Ray Chappelle, L. M. Hargraves, Dean Margaret W. Weeks, Miss Mabel D. Erwin, Miss Martha Graves, Miss Martye Poindexter, Miss Doris Nesbitt and Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Adams of Tech attended.

Mrs. Katie Pettyjohn and Mrs. Juanita Temple of Lamesa, were in charge of arrangements. The color scheme was in green and white.

Through the Coral Doors

Howdy folks:

While I thawed out before the fire at Decorators Studio, I did some snooping for you and found more goodies than I can possibly describe.

My gals' favorite expressman, Lofland, seems to have outdone himself. He arrived daily with a continous stream of new table appointments for the gracious hostess, as well as fabrics and accessories.

I know many of you ladies will be glad to hear the Studio has received two patterns of gold and white china. There are so many calls for the gold trim and I know you all will find the Del Monte or Arcadia Gold pattern perfect for you.

The first shipment of the new Finnish crystal arrived. It's just as lovely as the girls said it was after seeing it at the Dallas Show last month. The pattern, Karhula, is simple in line and very graceful in shape.

The big shipment of Lexington Rose will please many of you. Whether you are short a piece or two or want an entire service, Anne and Evelyn will be glad to help you.

The highlight of the week was the arrival of three wonderful lamps. One pair is a huge pineapple motif in muted tones of green and gold. The modern ceramic treatment of a new yellow lamp will certainly delight the up-to-the-minute gals. Be sure to drop in for a look-see before these beautiful lamps are gone.

The Studio is continuing to buzz with weddings. Three popular young couples, Miss Ava Ruth Stangel and Clifton Barr, Miss Marion Donaldson and Don Furr, and Miss Negalla Abrams and Orville Alderson are certainly keeping the gift wrapping department busy. The young ladies have chosen (the men helped, too) some mighty smart table appointments. From the oh's and ah's of their friends, I know they all think so, too.

Well, Fredda is back from Wichita Falls with several new sets of blue prints. This means she will hybernate for a few days. Then again several of those perfectly wonderful homes she is noted for will evolve—all planned to the last ash tray.

Gotta help with the gift wrapping, so I'll be looking for you behind the Coral Door at 1202 Ave. N.

See ya'

Series Of Study On Design Continues For Adult Group

The fourth in a series of home and family life education lessons in textile design will be offered this week.

How the homemaker may make her own designs to put on household fabrics will be one of the phases of instruction to be given by students in home and family life education, under supervision of Miss Martha Graves, associate professor of home economics education at Texas Technological college.

One lesson will be offered by Miss Martha Lively from 2 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in Annex G of the home economics building. Another class meeting will be conducted from 1 to 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in George M. Hunt school, under direction of Miss Dorothy Nelson. They are open to anyone wishing to attend.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott, instructor in home and family life education at Tech, originated the lessons. The first was an introduction to the basic principles of design and fabric, the second offered background study of ceilings, walls and floor covering, and the third dealt with window treatment.

Block printing and stenciling on textile fabrics are of value to the homemaker, it was stated at Tech, where belief also was expressed that the homemaker enjoys creating and designing her own linens.

Program Is Released For Dallas Symphony Appearance

Profits Will Go To Lubbock Symphony

Under the musical directorship of Antal Dorati, the 87 piece professional Dallas Symphony orchestra, which ranks among the major symphonies of the United States and has won international recognition, will be presented in concert at Lubbock High school auditorium Thursday night at 8 o'clock under sponsorship of the Lubbock Kiwanis club. All profits will go to the Lubbock Symphony orchestra.

Tickets may be bought at Adair Music stores or mail orders will be filled, applications being mailed to Lubbock Kiwanis club, Box 3, Lubbock. Tickets are $3 and $3.60, including tax.

Notes On Program

The orchestra's program will be: La Gazza Ladra (The Thieving Magpie), an overture by Gioacchino Antonio Rossini, a brilliant concert piece with a gayety typical of Rossini; movements Andante; Allegro con anima, Andante cantabile con alcuna licenza, Valse. Allegro moderato, and Finale: Andante maestoso; Allegro; Allegro vivace from Symphony No. 5, in E Minor, Opus 64, which is one of the few Tchaikovsky symphonies to end triumphantly, it was written at a time the composer was trying to prove to himself and to his friends that he had not "written himself out;" a work by Debussy, Prelude a L'apres-midi d'un faune, which was inspired by a poem of the same name written by the Staphane Mallarme, Debussy explains his prelude thus: the music evokes "the successive scenes in which the longings and the desires of the Faun pass in the heat of the afternoon; and Richard Strauss' Suite from "Der Rosenkavalier" which is marked by typically Viennese folk songs and waltzes and simple melodies reminiscent of Mozart.

Conductor Dorati arranged the concert suite from "Der Rosenkavalier" on this program in the form of a symphonic poem. It presents, musically, the main characters as well as the main dramatic climaxes of the opera. The suite closes with a recapitulation of the great waltz of the opera.

DALLAS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA—Members of the 87 piece professional Dallas Symphony orchestra which will appear here in concert Thursday night are pictured above. The group will appear in concert in Amarillo Wednesday. Their appearance is sponsored by the Lubbock Kiwanis club, with profits going to the Lubbock Symphony orchestra.

Born In Budapest

Director Dorati was born in Budapest 41 years ago and his musical activities have taken him into every corner of the earth. He is now an American citizen and a self-proclaimed Texan.

Graduating from the Academy in Budapest at the age of 19, the young musician immediately assumed duties as conductor at the Royal Opera in that city. Opera and symphony conducting duties kept him busy in Central Europe for several years and at the first indication of what the Nazi regime was to be, Dorati left a remunerative post in Germany and began his career over in Paris. He came to America in the early 1930's as musical director of the original Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Heading the whirlwind reorganization in 1945, Dorati has been musical director of the Dallas Symphony orchestra for more than two years. His duties are tremendous — rehearsing and conducting the orchestra in its busy seasons of concerts, broadcasts, recordings and tours. Several years ago the symphony joined the list of musical immortals in being represented in records which have a tremendous sale.

Wedding Is Read In Rotan Home

ROTAN, March 9. (Special)—In an Easter setting, Miss Lanelle Kingsfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kingsfield, became the bride of Homer T. Fillingim, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Fillingim, in a double ring ceremony read in the Fillingim home in Rotan on Saturday night by Rev. Olie T. Brown, Baptist minister.

Draped triple windows were the background for a wrought iron bridal arch which was accented with ribbon tied sprays of fern and white blossoms. Floor baskets of Easter lilies, fern and trailing branches of huckleberry decorated the altar, which was lighted by an assortment of candles in wrought iron candelabra.

Selections of traditional wedding music were played by Mrs. Marvin Carlton, pianist from Hamlin, and she accompanied Eugene Upshaw of Abilene, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Hary Shelton gave a musical reading, "How Do I Love Thee."

Receiving the wedding guests was Lawrence Ray Smith, cousin of the bride from Uvalde. Candlelighters were Misses Ouida Fillingim, sister of the bridegroom, and Jimiedene Kingsfield, sister of the bride. Both wore identical gowns of pink satin.

Father Escorts Bride

The bride, given in marriage of her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a gored skirt, fitted at the waist and falling into a full train. The bodice, accented with self-covered buttons and matching loops, was styled with a high neckline and small round collar. The leg-o'-mutton sleeves ended in lace edged points over the hands. The bride's fingertip veil of imported illusion was edged with silk embroidery and fell in double circular folds from a matching tiara, embroidered with seed pearls and edged with fluted illusion. The bridal bouquet was an arm arrangement of Easter lilies centered with a single vandia orchid and showered with white satin ribbon and cascading streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Helen Albert, student at Texas university, and matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene Upshaw of Abilene, sister of the bride. Other attendents of the bride were another sister, Mrs. Glenn Phillips, Rotan; Mrs. E. E. Rodgers, jr., Lubbock; Mrs. Frank Elliott, Las Cruces, N. M. Mrs. Upshaw wore a gown of pastel blue satin and other attendents of the bride were gowned in pink satin. Jimmie Hughes served as best man, and Dr. Stanley Gilver, Lubbock; Fortner Morgan, Rotan; and Robert Couch, a cousin of the bridegroom from Andrews, were groomsmen.

After the reception held following the ceremony, the couple left for their home in Waco, where the bridegroom will enter Baylor university to complete his studies interrupted by Army duty. The bride completed her college work at Hardin-Simmons university in Abilene at mid-semester, and will receive her degree with the June graduating class there. Both attended Rotan High school.

FOR RED CROSS—Headquarters for the Lubbock county, Red Cross chapter will be maintained at 1513 Ave. K in the near future and workers are asking for help in furnishings. It was thought that perhaps Lubbock homemakers who recently have refurnished their living rooms might have draperies to contribute. Chintz or monk's cloth preferred, since satin and marquisette draperies will not do. Practical material also is needed to hang at the storage closet door and any large or throw rugs also will be appreciated.

The house will include several room for the proposed blood bank; a kitchen for the technician, executive secretary's office and conference rooms.

If you can contribute to the furnishings, you are invited to telephone the office, 8534.

DESTINY—As someone asked the other day, "Does capacity develop from circumstances or does capacity shape circumstances? "To know the answer to this question might be to know the riddle of the universe.

When Opal Dixon interviewed Mary McCormic the other day, the former opera singe said everyone has a talent for something and, beginning in earliest childhood, if they are encouraged and trained they will develop. Sometimes they get sidetracked by overly ambitious parents who want to see unfilled ambitions realized in their offspring.

Here are some clues on which one might give thought. Mary McCormic wanted to sing from the time she was eight years old. Her successful career as a singer, as a teacher and director of opera are proof that she was on the right track. Bobby Layne ten years old, sat with his step-father Wade Hampton in the Sugar Bowl and told his dad that "Some day I am going to play in the Sugar Bowl game."

And Doak Walker, eight years old, suited up in a red and blue jersey with a big "37" on it, because some day he hoped to wear it for SMU.

And LaVern Roach dreamed of being a fighter from the time he was ten years old.

Perry-Qualls Rites Read In Residence

Miss Jerry Ann Qualls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R Qualls of Idalou, and James Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Perry of Route 3, were married Saturday, March 6, at 6 p. m. in a single ring ceremony read in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Joe Motsenbocker performed the service against a background of peach galdioli, fern and tall candelabra.

Miss Pauline Hightower lighted candles, and traditional wedding music was played by J. C. Hendrick. The bride wore a light blue crepe dress designed with a sweet heart neckline, and brown and white accessories. Her hat had a shoulder length veil of light blue, and her corsage was of gardenias. For something borrowed and old, she chose a rhinestone necklace and bracelet belonging to Miss Joyce Robbins.

Mrs. H. D Vincent, sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore a light grey crepe dress with green accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. H. D Vincent, brother-in-law of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man.

At a reception held after the ceremony, guests were parents and intimate friends of the couple. The serving table held a tiered wedding cake and a punch service Misses Bobby Jean and Buna Faye Donely poured.

For traveling the bride wore a dusty pink suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. On returning from their wedding trip, the couple will be at home on a farm near Lorenzo.

Rail Commissioner Says That Fields Determine Own Output

DALLAS, March 13 (AP) — Oil fields determine their own production, Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray, jr., declared.

He said that when hearings show a Texas field can be efficiently produced at a higher rate than scheduled its allowable will be quickly raised.

But if it is shown that fields are being produced at excessive rates the railroad commission must require reduced allowables.

He told the Dallas Petroleum Engineers club here yesterday that the railroad commission would begin a new series of maximum efficiency rate determinations.

Political School To Teach Ways Of Spotting Fraud Is Conducted

By BETTY HEINEMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—A "school of practical politics" is teaching bewildered Philadelphia voters how to recognize and deal with vote stealing an dother illegal practices of the polling places.

Believed to be the first course of its kind in the country, it aims at teaching the "facts of politics" to the average citizen—even if the truth hurts.

The "teachers" are ward leaders, legislators, party officials, candidates and other practical scientists, rather than "political science professors and orators."

As one speaker told his standing-room-only audience, "First we tell you what the law says. Then we'll tell you what's actually being done in the election polls in this city."

Sponsored By Committee

The course of eight lessons is sponsored by the non-partisan, liberal American for Democratic Action in an effort to "interest a higher type of citizen in going into politics."

It started, sponsors explained, because a group of them decided to run for committeemen and women and realized they didn't know the first thing about how to do it."

The political "babies in the wood" decided to teach themselves, and anyone else who might be interested, how to deal with fraud at the polling places, what their rights as voters and candidates were, and how to meet the professional politician on his own ground.

They hired a hall for a series of two-hour lectures and discussion periods every Monday night and rounded up speakers.

The speakers are "as non-partisan as we can make them," one of the ADA sponsors said, "but it's a little difficult because none of the city hall politicians will come down to talk to us. They're a little shy of what it might lead to."

The overflow audiences, composed of trade unionists, housewives, lawyers, teachers, students and a few professional politicians, keep coming back to have their illusions shattered and learn the rules by which politics is played.

"As a result of this course, we expect to elect 100 new committeemen in the city this spring," an ADA official said. "And that goes for both major parties."

Politics Spoofed

Perhaps one of the reasons for the popularity of the course, which will wind up before the April primary, is the skit which follows each lecture.

One was an "election day at the polls ballet," featuring the misbehavior of one Loophole O'Toole, who tried, without success, to break every law in the election code, including voting twice, giving false names and pretending to need assistance to operate the voting machine.

The average voter's "terror of the voting machine—an affliction peculiar to 'Philadelphia'" — was ribbed in the skit also.

The politician-speaker explained it was a commonly held belief "that the 450-odd levers on the voting machine are going to come to life and smite down the voter when actually it's simpler to operate than a kitchen mixing device, and a lot less dangerous."

Part of the job of the course is to get the timid voter over his fears of the machine — both the voting machine and the other kind.

The entire course of eight lessons costs $2, which prompted the leader of one of Philadelphia's major party organizations to remark, "I never knew you could get anyone to pay to learn politics."

Leaders of the school hope to make it pay in better city government and more active participation. by voters.

Exposition Will Start May 30

FORT WORTH, March 13. (U.P.)—Texas' three regional chamber of commerce, the Texas Association of Commerce and the Texas Manufacturers Association will cosponsor the first annual southwestern industrial exposition to be held here May 30-June 6, it was announced today.

William Holden, executive vice president of the Fort Worth chamber, explained that the idea behind the exposition was to demonstrate with actual exhibits that the Southwest no longer merely was a source of raw material but also was a significant producer of finished products as well.

"We also went to bring manufacturers and purchasers together in an environment which will stimulate business for Southwestern manufacturers," Holden said.

Invitations Are Given

Establishments which manufacture, process or assemble products in the state of Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas are being invited to exhibit goods actually produced in these states.

Managers of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, the South Texas Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have notified the Fort Worth chamber that their organizations will co-sponsor the show. Similar responses have been received from Texas Manufacturers Association, Texas Association of Commerce, the Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce, the Louisiana Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce of the State of Oklahoma.

Site of the show will be the six new all-steel and concrete exhibit buildings of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. No charge will be made for admission.

Congressmen Agree That Most Pigeons Are Dumb, With Exception Of Antwerp Variety

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 13. — Pigeons are the dumbest things. The common, head-bobbing, waddling, corn-crib variety, that is.

Mr. H. C. Burke, an old pigeon man himself, brought up the matter at a hearing before the merchant marine and fisheries committee. He said if a body took a dozen ordinary pigeons from the nearest loft and moved 'em across town, they'd never find their way back.

NICHOLS

"They wouldn't have enough sense," he said.

But take the Antwerps! There's a smart bird for you-all. Antwerps, as if you didn't know, are homing or carrier or racing pigeons. The committee was considering a bill that would make it a federal offense to shoot one.

Rep. Bob Nodar of New York said that was fine. He's a bird lover, too.

How'll You Know 'Em?

But how in the name of the bird house, he wanted to know, is a man going to know a carrier pigeon from the other kind?

Pigeon man Burke gave the congressman up there on the rostrum the old hurt look. Carrier pigeons, he said, flapping his wings, have intelligence. Not to mention personality. They also wear more graceful lines than their common cousins and their feathers are more brilliant. And they are leg-marked with metal bands. The homecomers, he added, fly in flocks, another distinction.

Rep. John Allen of California said it was news to him that people went around killing innocent pigeons.

Well, Mr. Burke said, you may rest assured that people sure do. Every day. Not long ago, he said, he lost a pigeon and advertised the fact. Some jerk mailed him the leg band, just to rub it in.

"The only way you can get the band off a homing pigeon," he said, "is to either chop off the leg or kill the bird."

Carrying Defense Too Far

Committee Chairman Raymond Burke (no kin) of Ohio said a bill like this one came up before Congress and was passed in 1940. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt vetoed it, contending that it was carrying national defense too far.

Maj. Otto Meyers, the chief pigeon officer in the army who wears a gold pigeon in his lapel, said, speaking of war, he'd like to tell some of the things the birds did to help our side.

Once, he said, an American unit lost its bearings and started peppering its buddies in the rear—up ahead. The guys getting peppered didn't like it, naturally, and tied a message saying same to the leg of a bird and turned it loose. The carrier made it and the firing ceased, pronto.

Rep. Allen asked the major how we could tell our own pigeons from those of the enemy? The major opened his mouth to answer but before he had a chance, Rep. Ed Miller of Maryland said he thought he knew how it could be done. And at the same time fix it so small fry with bee-bee guns and farmers who like to pull a bead on a pigeon stealing his grain could distinguish the homing pigeon from the common kind.

Put whistles on 'em that make a noise as the bird wings through the air. They do it in China, Mr. Miller said, and it makes a fine symphony up yonder because each Chinese pigeon has a different tone.

Rep. Allen frowned on that. He said it was all right with him, but he didn't know how the pigeons would like it.

"If I were a pigeon," he said, "and knew I was going to be shot at, I'd want to be as quiet as possible."

Just 18 kinds of insects do an estimated damage of $1,280,000,000 annually in the United States.

Crop Damage In State Reported

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP)—Heavy crop damage in certain areas of the state resulted from the cold wave of March 10-12.

The United States Department of Agriculture issued a special preliminary report today reflecting damage to the following crops as it appears at this time:

Winter oats in central and northern parts of the state were frozen down and badly damaged.

Fruit Damage Heavy

Extensive damage to fruit, particularly peaches, plums, and apricots, was expected This was especially true in central and eastern counties where these fruits were in bloom or heavily budded.

Important commercial peach areas reporting damage were Jacksonville, Tyler and Fredericksburg.

Extensive loss of early cantaloup and watermelon plantings was anticipated

Tomatoes had been set to the fields in the Falfurias area and were severely damaged. Very little acreage was set in the Yoakum area, but many plants were in cold frames, and these were a total loss. the USDA reported.

"At midday on the 12th, it appeared that the East Texas tomato plant supply was a complete wipe out. This freeze in that area may be compared with the March 8, 1932, when everything was lost," said the preliminary report, which USDA said is intended to summarize developments "as they appear at this time."

"The extent of damage to crops cannot be determined with any degree of certainty until sometime after growing weather returns," the USDA added.

Considerable potato acreage in the San Antonio area and as far north as Central Texas was planted and all of it subjected to total loss as cities such as Austin reported sub-freezing temperatures for 41 hours.

Former Convict Shot By Spouse

HOUSTON, March 13 (U.P.) — Mitchell Frankovich, 50, former convict who was wounded in a Galveston gun battle 17 years ago, was in critical condition today after he was allegedly shot by his wife while in a Houston bar.

Frankovich, alias John Mitchell, was wounded when he was struck by two of six bullets fired by the 36-year-old woman shortly after midnight.

It was exactly 17 years ago today that Frankovich was wounded in a spectacular gun battle in downtown Galveston. Four men shot it out and one was killed.

Paralyzed By Bullet

His wife, Mrs. Retha Mitchell, refused to reveal why she walked into the Ambassador tap room No. 2 and fired six shots at her husband. He was paralyzed from the waist down by one of the bullets which struck his spinal cord.

W. R. Miller, 39, night manager of the bar, made a written statement to police in which he said a woman entered the place with a pistol in her hand about 12:10 a. m. today.

Miller said the woman stood about 12 feet from Frankovich, who was sitting near the end of the bar talking with some other patrons. She fired after cursing him.

H. H. Macura, 43, who was sitting at a table, twisted the pistol from her hand and held her until police arrived.

One Was Killed

According to a statement made by Frankovich in 1931, the shooting scrape started when Theo (Fatty) Owens and James Crabb accused him and Clarence (Kye) Gregory of hijacking some liquor shipments from Houston to Galveston. Gregory was killed in the gun battle.

Frankovich was sent to the penitentiary on a burglary charge in 1920, and he served six months on a narcotic charge in 1922. A year later he was sent to a federal prison on a similar charge.

Geo. B. Jones Seeks Second Term In Post Of Constable Here

Geo. B. Jones, who is serving his first term as constable of precinct 1, Saturday made formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the post.

"I am asking for my second term in the office and under the principles of the Democratic party, I believe a man is entitled to a second term provided he has served the people well in his first term," Jones' statement said. "I will promise to step out of the office and not run for a third term.

"I have tried to serve the people of Lubbock county and enforce the law to the best of my ability and I promise, if re-elected, to try to continue carrying out this policy.

"Before moving to Lubbock six years ago, I served as a peace officer in Navarro county approximately 20 years, ten years straight as constable.

"For obvious reasons, it will be impossible for me to see all the voters but I will make an honest effort to see as many of them as possible," Jones said. "If I don't get to see a voter, all he has to do is ask someone who knows about my record or go to the courthouse, where he will find that my record speaks for itself."

Jones is married and owns a home in the Overton addition in southeast Lubbock.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—At 81, Harry A. Lewis enjoys the law "and making others do likewise."

Three Children Burn To Death

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., March 13. (U.P.)—Three baby daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Yarberry burned to death today when the 22-year-old mother left them untended while she went to a neighbor's home to obtain milk for breakfast.

Father of the children is believed to be stationed at the U. S. naval reception center at San Diego, Calif. He enlisted in the navy six weeks ago. The American Red Cross was attempting to locate him to inform him of the tragedy.

Gone Five Minutes

The victims were Doris, three years old, Ruth Lorane, 13 months, and Mary Jean Yarberry, six weeks.

Mrs. Yarberry said she had been gone from the small two-room frame house, located nine miles east of Holdenville, only five minutes when the fire was discovered. She had just started a fire in an oil-burning stove before leaving to get the milk.

A truck driver, whose name was not learned, first discovered the flames. He told Mrs. Yarberry the whole interior of the house was ablaze within seconds after he reached the scene.

Refining Company Is To Rebuild Its Plant

ENID, Okla., March 13. (U.P.)—Champlin Refining Co. will rebuild as quickly as possible that portion of its refinery which was destroyed yesterday in a $700,000 explosion and fire, Superintendent E. J. Slater said today.

"We're going to rebuild as fast as we can," said Slater, who also is a vice president of the concern. "In fact, we've already started rounding up materials. Replacement depends on availability of types of instruments we need."

The company extinguished the blaze without help from public facilities, although it took nearly 10 hours to quell the fire. Slater said refusal of outside firefighting aid was because the company had proper and safe equipment to use in the fighting such a fire while the Enid fire department did not.

The fire broke out at 2:22 a. m. Friday when a heptane tank exploded, and the flames raced through a de-waxing unit which is part of the lubricating oil factory. Not seriously damaged was the refinery's gasoline production units.

Slater said, however, that capacity of the giant refinery would be cut about 70 per cent.

A revolutionary type of match, producing heat but no flame, has been developed. It can be used anywhere, even in wind of gale force, since it cannot be blown out.

Three City Councilmen Will Be Chosen In Lamesa Voting

LAMESA, March 13. (Special)—Three city councilmen will be named in the city election here in April but as yet no one has applied for one of the jobs, city secretary Jack Goodloe reported today.

The deadline for filing a name on the ballot is March 16, Goodloe stated.

Slated to retire from the council are T. F. Vaughn, F. T. McCollum and Sam Richardson who also serves as Mayor under Lamesa's city manager government.

The chamber of commerce recently unanimously adopted a resolution asking the trio to allow their names to be placed on the ballot for re-election.

The resolution, presented by Wright J. Boyd, pointed out that the city is engaged in a large expansion program and stated that "Lamesa needs the experience and ability of these men at this time."

Rabbit Hunt To Be Held Near Tahoka

TAHOKA, March 13 (Special)—Tahoka and Lynn county hunters will take to the fields near here Tuesday in a rabbit hunt that is expected to eliminate a great number of the animals that have been destroying crops in the area.

The hunt will be staged at Tahoka lake, five miles north and two miles east of Tahoka, and hunters will meet at 9 a. m. at the home of G. H. Spears. Lunch will be served for all at noon at the Spears home.

The hunt is an annual affair in this area. Last year more than 500 rabbits were killed and more probably would have been but the hunting party was small. All persons are invited to take part this year. Hunters must be 15 years or older and only shotguns will be allowed.

Unsated Hunger In Naked Display As Chinese Line Up To Get Bread

By A. M. GOUL
United Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 13—If you hadn't known what was going on, you'd have thought another riot was about to explode in the Haining Road Market.

A shouting mob was crowded around the driver of a white-paneled truck parked at the curb in front of the market. It was a Salvation Army truck, come to pass out its monthly quota of bread to the destitute and the refugees of the Haining Road quarters.

"Two in a row, two in a row," he called out.

"Everybody sit down or none of you will get any bread."

Faces Show Hunger

But the hunger that was marked on the faces and in the shriveled bodies of the supplicants does not recognize the conventions. The mob crowded in close.

There were at least 500 there for the handout of "men tou" which the "Sally" periodically makes to Shanghai's homeless and hungry thousands. The truck was surrounded by the mob before it came to a stop. The mob spotted it coming. They met it and chased after it until it reached the market place.

"Shien san, shien san," they cried to the driver. "Mister, mister, we haven't had any men tou for days."

The driver stopped, crawled out, forced his way to the back of the truck, and reached in to haul out one of the four huge baskets piled high with the tough, chewy, dark loaves.

"Line up, line up," he cried "Two in a row, two in a row."

Some lined up, but in rather lackadaisical order, and in rows of fours and fives and sixes—not in twos.

"Sit down, sit down," the bread giver ordered. Some did—a few of those who had already snagged a loaf.

Sitters Stand Up

"Everybody sit down or none of you will get any bread," he implored. "Anybody standing up will get no men tou."

With almost unanimous perversity, those who had been sitting down arose.

It began all over again. Late comers tried to shove forward. The front lines held. Some stuffed their bread inside their blouses and yelled for more. But they weren't fooling the driver. He was a veteran at the game.

A few trustingly passed the bread they had back to friends or relatives, then waited patiently for their own.

Tears At Crusts

Others declined to stand on ceremony, and began tearing at the crust, stuffing huge chunks into their mouths, and chomped away. Some clasped it close to their bony bodies and shuffled away. Three of the baskets were emptied in short order.

But as the driver hauled out the fourth and last, he was swamped. He was shoved aside and for a moment a free-for-all again seemed to be brewing.

But a calmer head near the basket solved the problem and got himself the last two loaves in the basket. He merely raised his bamboo shoulder pole and began a none too gentle cracking of heads of those who got in his way.

A. L. (Perk) Perkins Seeks Election As Constable, Prec. 1

A. L. (Perk) Jerkins Saturday announces his candidacy for Constable, Precinct 1, of Lubbock county.

Perkins was born in 1898 in Anderson county, Texas, and moved to Lubbock county, in 1929. In addition to his experience as an officer, he has engaged in work that required him to serve the public.

"I feel that my experience in dealing with the public, both as a peace officer and in private business, renders me fully qualified to serve the people in a public capacity."

Working For People

He says that public officials who have held public offices for many years lose sight of the fact that they are an employee of the taxpayer.

"In exchange for the vote of the people, I will at all times conduct my office as a place where the citizens may be served rather than treat the public as though they were the servants of the office," Mr. Perkins said.

He states that he expects to put forth a determined effort to make the Lubbock area a clean and safe place for mothers and fathers to raise their children.

Silhouettes Mark Styles For Spring In Advance Showings

By SALLY SWING
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 13—Pierre Balmain, one of Paris' top designers, has pulled two new silhouettes out of his fashion bag for spring.

One, a gently wide silhouette, is achieved by tiers, or "ripples" as he likes to call them, short capes, and long, rather full peplums on suit jackets.

Nowhere is there a plethora of material. Pierre Balmain has just returned from America, and there he saw that women led too vigorous lives to put up with skirts 15 yards wide.

The other, cut specially to hug the knees and hips, is called the "half bias" silhouette

In coats, the slim shape took two trends, one a very thin redingote, with tiny pleated godets in back. The other, worn especially for evening, was slim at the bottom, but had a wide collar which hung down the back in a large fold.

Tailored Suits Practical

Tailored suits were practical, with fingertip jackets slightly flared, pinched-in waists, short revers, and "too short" sleeves. The sleeves were filled out to the wrist with pretty pleated organdy puffs, completed by a lace band around the wrist.

Balmain added many feminine touches, for example on a close fitting gabardine suit he added a pink satin bow at the waist. Another very becoming idea was the white blouse with the front covered by a pastel chiffon gathered scarf.

Another slit skirt in gray gabardine had a skirt which buttoned up with tiny black pearl buttons like a sailor's pants.

Most interesting material used in the collection was dyed suede leather Out of it Balmain fashioned two dresses, one with a pleated skirt and a coat.

A suede dress in cinnamon had a large white pique collar and cuffs on the three-quarter length sleeves.

For colors, Balmain chose navy and black, often combined, coral white, biege, gray and pale robins egg blue.

Most important trend in the collection as far as future development of styles, according to experts, was his series of straight box jackets with straight skirts They are directly opposed to the pinched-in waist, hippy look of last year.

The nicest gadget of the collection was a special umbrella which matched some dress material, with a slit in the handle to carry the gloves.

TWO FOUND DEAD

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico, Mar. 13 (AP) — Two men were found dead in a hotel here last night with a gas heater burning and all windows and doors closed.

The dead men were Juan Soto Garza, 40, and Felipe Ortiz, 28, truckers who carried vegetables from Tampico, Mexico, to Nuevo Laredo.

Settlement Of Labor Dispute At Corsicana Mills Reported

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) —Settlement of a labor dispute between the Corsicana (Texas) cotton mills and local 77 of the Pnited Textile Workers of American, AFL, was announced today by the National Labor Relations Board.

The board approved a stipulation under which the company agreed to bargain with the union as the exclusive agent of all its mill employes. NLRB ordered the mills to desist from "refusing to bargain collectively with the union or its representatives," and from "discouraging membership in any labor organization of its employes by discrimination."

The stipulation also called for a consent decree by the United States circuit court of appeals, to which the dispute had been taken.

No Action Taken On Invitation To Hold Dog Show During Fair

Invitation to hold their second annual show during the Panhandle-South Plains fair next fall was discussed, but with no action being taken, at the regular meeting of the Lubbock Cocker Spaniel Specialty club in the party house at Mackenzie State park. A vote on the proposal will be taken at the next meeting, according to Mrs. G. C. Beard, president.

Mrs. James Baker and Mrs. Harold Ball were speakers at the meeting. W. K. Patterson, show director, reported on preparations for a show scheduled May 16. Refreshments were served.

Battleship Texas Weighs Anchor Monday For The Lone Star State

NORFOLK, Va., March 13. (AP) — The battleship Texas weighs anchor Monday for the Lone Star state, where it is to be permanently berthed as a memorial.

It is to reach the San Jacinto battlefield park near Houston late in April.

Built at the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, the U. S. S. Texas was commissioned on March 12, 1914.

Was Pride Of Fleet

She was a two-stacked, cage-masted triumph and pride of the fleet. Her twin-gunned, 14-inch turrets were of the latest design. Commissioned in the Norfolk, Va., navy yard, she went to New York on her maiden voyage, then began a shake-down cruise to Vera Cruz to join the fleet when trouble broke out at that Mexican Gulf port.

In speed trials that summer she made her designed speed of 21 knots with no apparent strain.

Her only serious accident came in 1917 when, during the mid-watch on Sept. 27, she ran aground on Block island and her engines were unable to pull her off. Her crew worked for three days lightening ship by moving all weight aft or jettisoning it over the side.

Battle Cry Started

Tugs strained to help her full-throttled engines. For a while it appeared she would be grounded permanently. She wouldn't budge. The U. S. S. New York, which was trying to close aboard, then gave birth to what has ever since been the battle cry of the Texas. All hands on the New York were on deck watching. They began to cheer in unison, "come on, Texas." Almost at once the mighty warship began to quiver and, almost imperceptibly, to move. Then the Texas broke completely free and backed smoothly away.

That accident prevented the Texas from taking as big a part in World war one as she otherwise might have experienced. However, on Jan. 30, 1918, after her damaged bottom was repaired, she joined the sixth battle squadron in the Atlantic, along with the New York, Wyoming, Florida and Delaware.

British Deaths Laid To A Mystery Virus

LONDON, March 13 (U.P.) — A mysterious virus which attacks the brain cells was blamed for 12 deaths in Britain during the past few months.

It was mentioned publicly first at an inquest on a month-old-baby at Wednesbury, Staffordshire. A post-mortem examination showed that the child died from acute inflammation of the brain believed caused by a virus of unknown origin.

The same virus was blamed for the death of a Walsall, Staffordshire, policeman, who died within five hours of being attacked.

Walsall General Hospital pathologists, investigating the deaths, said the virus was of the encephalitis group. Little is known about the group, they said.

Frank Cooper, coroner at Wednesbury, said there had been a number of other cases in other parts of the country during the past few months involving deaths of persons of all ages.

"Even with the best brains in the medical profession, no cure has yet been found," he said. "It has not been possible to isolate the virus which caused the disease."

Right To Change Mind Very Costly

HOLLYWOOD, March 13 (U.P.) — Blonde Mrs. Dorothy Burks Stoner's right to change her mind cost her $100,000 today.

Superior Judge William S. Baird said Mrs. Stoner, 25, was entitled to a change of heart about marrying millionaire cosmetics manufacturer Andrew Norman, 64. But the judge ruled she would have to give him back $100,000 in gifts, including a $72,000 house and a $18,000 ring. The decision was handed down yesterday.

Norman said the romance ended abruptly when Mrs. Stoner called him up and told him she was marrying auto dealer Earl Stoner the next day.

LEAVE FOR CANADA

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, March 13 (AP)—A party of 750 Netherlands immigrants, all farm families, left for Canada today aboard the ship Kota Iten.

Singer Jane Froman And Man Who Saved Life Are Married

MIAMI, Fla., March 13 (U.P.) — Jane Froman and John C. Burn, the heroic pilot who saved her life after a Lisbon air crash five years ago, were honeymooning today.

They were married here yesterday in a simple ceremony at the home of friends and left immediately for a two-weeks honeymoon at an undisclosed place.

Discarded Crutches

During the ceremony, Miss Froman discarded her crutches and stood unaided for 15 minutes for the first time since she was thrown from a Pan American clipper that crashed in landing in 1943.

The marriage climaxed a storybook romance that began with the tragic accident, when the singer and the 33-year-old Burn first met.

The blond Burn, a pilot of the plane, landed within 10 yards of Miss Froman when they were both hurled into the cold waters of the Tagus river as the plane cracked up.

He heard the singer cry out for help, and despite the broken back he suffered in the crash, he swam to her and held her up in the water for 45 minutes until rescuers arrived.

Both were confined in a Lisbon, Portugal hospital for three months and they saw a lot of each other when they were allowed to move around.

Since the crash, Miss Froman had undergone 25 operations on her arms and legs and needed crutches constantly to get around. Yesterday her doctor told her she could do without the crutches in two more months and could discard the heavy steel braces on her legs in October.

Burn and Miss Froman kept up their friendship through correspondence during the war and afterwards the pilot made frequent visits to the home where the singer stayed between her Sunday shows in New York.

Mother Plays March

Miss Froman swung easily to the altar on her crutches yesterday as her mother, Mrs. Anna Hetzler of Columbia, Mo., played the wedding march.

The well-known singer wore a pink lace and organdy dress and a picture hat of pink tulle.

The steel brace on her right leg was "something new," she said. It was added only recently to help her walk when she discards her crutches.

Miss Froman was married and divorced previously. It is Burn's first marriage.

Soldier Is Given Two Years Suspended In Traffic Deaths

FORT WORTH, March 13 (U.P.)—Walter Baggett, soldier at a Carswell air base, pleaded guilty to murder without malice and was awarded a two-year suspended sentence yesterday in connection wit a traffic collision last December.

An army truck driven by Baggett collided with a car carrying Earl Clint Burns and his sister-in-law, Miss Nancy Hulsey. Both occupants of the car were killed.

English Family At Home On Ranch Today After A Big Western Welcome Given At Galveston Friday

GALVESTON, March 13 (AP)—The Fred Payne family is at home today—on Doodlebug ranch in La Marque, Tex.

The Greater Galveston Beach association cooked up a darn good western welcome for the three little English boys and their parents yesterday.

Fred Payne, jr., 12, whose wistful letter to a "Texas Cowboy" resulted in the family's moving to Texas, and his brothers, Leonard, 10, and Dennis, 9, were delighted.

But they were puzzled because there were no hills around here—like in the movies—just low Gulf coast marsh land. And they saw more oil wells than cows.

"Where are the cows the cowboys herd?" they asked.

And the Paynes are a bit puzzled about living on a ranch that has no barn and no cow.

"The movies had us fooled a bit," said Fred Payne. "But we didn't come to America to be cowboys anyway. We came to work and be good Americans."

But if there were no cowboys at Doodlebug ranch, there were at the official welcome—in spirit at least.

The shootin', shoutin' cowboys were decked out in the finest western clothes obtainable at this sandle shoes and slack suit tourist haven.

In this wild west setting—temporary—the Payne youngsters rode their first broncs (ponies). They handled a six-shooter and received a complete cowboy outfit. They also were presented three sacks of bubble gum by the Badger quadruplets, Galveston's most famous citizens.

The booted, spurred Texans awed Mr. and Mrs. Payne.

"I never expected such a marvelous welcome," Mrs. Payne said. "You people are wonderful and this is a wonderful country," Payne declared.

All Want To Come

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Weber invited the Paynes to come to Texas after Mrs. Weber heard of Fred's letter. And since then, Mrs. Weber said she had received letters from 2,000 boys over the world.

"They all want to become Texas cowboys," she said.

Charlie McClintic, who also corresponded with the Payne family while they were still in London, was on hand for the reception. He has invited the boys to visit his ranch holdings near Midland, Tex., and in New Mexico.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Weber took the Paynes to La Marque.

The English family will live with the Webers on their three-acre homesite until a house can be built for them. The Webers raise registered dogs on the ranch.

Official Investigation Asked After Man's Home Is Burned

VALLEY MILLS, March 13. (U.P.)—The McLennan county district attorney today had been asked to make an official investigation of a fire which destroyed the $100,000 palatial home of a prominent Valley Mills rancher.

Fred Hall said in making the request that his wife and son and Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. Herbert Roberts, narrowly escaped injury when they were driven into the bitter cold at 1 a. m. Friday.

Hall, who was in Van Horn at the time of the fire, telephoned the request to his attorney, who passed it along to District Attorney Gene Maddin.

ORCHIDS FOR WOMAN DRIVER

CHARLESTON, S. C. (U.P.)—Mrs. Thomas J. Tobias held out her hand for a left turn and got a fist full of orchids. Mrs. Tobias accurate hand signals were spotted by Charleston Junior of Commerce representatives in a traffic safety campaign and she won the orchids as safest driver of the week.

STUDY LAKE MEAD BOTTOM

BOULDER CITY (U.P.)—Tests to determine what a 12-year accumulation of mud has done to the bottom of Lake Mead, world's largest artificial body of water, have been begun here by the U. S. Geological Survey and the Navy. Sampling slit deposits are included in the program.

United Texas Drys Will Hold Annual Convention In Dallas

DALLAS, March 13. (U.P.)—Dr. Walter H. McKenzie, executive secretary of the United Texas Drys, has announced that the group's annual convention will be held at the First Baptist church in Dallas on Oct. 28-29.

Principal speakers will be Dr. W. R. White, president of the drys and president of Baylor university at Waco; Dr. Roy L. Smith of Chicago, editor of the Christian Advocate, and Dr. John L. Hill of Nashville, book editor of the Southern Baptist convention Sunday school board.

IN COMA 2½ YEARS

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (U.P.)—Miss Bertha Myers became unconscious on Aug. 9, 1945 as a result of a fall and remained in a coma ever since. Doctors at Washington County Hospital say her physical condition is fairly good, but she is unable to speak or to recognize anyone.

Petroleum Projects In Garza, Yoakum And Castro Counties Hold Spotlight; New Devonian Producer Completed In Gaines

PETROLEUM development projects in Garza, Yoakum and Castro counties were at interesting stages at the end of the week.

A 5,100-foot wildcat has been staked in southeast Terry county. It will be Bankline Oil company No. 1 F. L. Butler, and is seven miles east of the Adair field in south-central Terry county, and about eight miles north and west of the Welch field in northwest Dawson county.

To Test San Andres

Both those areas produce from the San Andres-Permian lime, the zone which the Bankline venture is contracted to test. It will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12, block C-39, psl survey.

Several dry holes which have been drilled in the areas surrounding the location had interesting shows of oil, but none of them have been able to develop those shows for completion as commercial oil producers.

Three wildcats in the east side of Garza County are all due to run production tests on zones which have shown small signs of oil. Two of those projects have already set casing, in order to do the testing. The third is slated to run pipe in a few days.

Garza Project To Test

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Swenson Land and Cattle company, in northeast Garza county, and 2,307 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26, block 2, H & GN survey, is bottomed at 7,976 feet, in a lime formation, thought by most observers to probably be the Ellenburger.

The project has casing set in cement at 7,975 feet. It is presumed that the operator will shortly drill out the plug and then perforate and test on the section above the total depth, which is supposed to have shown slight signs of oil and gas.

No official information has been released regarding any indications of production which this project may have developed.

Unofficial sources report that in at least one drillstem test, to about the current total depth, a small amount of free oil, and some salt water, was recovered.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-G Humble fee, southeast Garza county exploration, four miles east of Justiceburg, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 136, block 5, H & GN survey, has been plugged back from total depth at 8,357 feet in Ellenburger lime, which showed salt water, and no appreciable signs of oil or gas.

Bottom In Mississippi

The new bottom is at 7,870 feet in the Mississippian. Operator ran a Schlumberger survey, and has now run 5½-inch casing. That has been done in order to run tests on a Mississippian lime interval which had some small shows of oil, when checked on the drillstem while drilling was under way.

Proven Oil company, L. M. Glasco, et al, No. 1 George W. Herd, trustee, three miles south of Justiceburg, in southwest Garza county, and 2,310 feet from north and west lines of section 29, block 6, H & GN survey, is on a total depth of 3,750 feet in middle Permian lime.

Shows Same Streaks

It had some streaks of oil saturation between 3,150 feet and 3,250 feet, from which some sort of production might be developed. The operators are due to run a string of pipe through those horizons, and then test through perforations. That investigating is due to be started by the middle of the week.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Birtie T. Brown, in central Yoakum county, three miles southwest of Plains, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 446, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is on a total depth of 5,192 feet in San Andres-Permian lime, and is preparing to run and cement 7-inch casing.

Possible Production Shown

This project drilled and cored through several streaks which showed signs of oil between 5,165 feet and the current bottom. The section from about 5,185 feet to 5,192 feet, is reported to have the best showings of possible production.

It will require several days for the casing to be run, and for the plug on the pipe to cure. When that has been accomplished operator will drill, ou and test the shows.

This exploration is near a well which has made a small amount of oil from the same formation.

Believed In Ellenburger

Sun Oil company No. 1 Herring, southwest Castro county deep wildcat, five miles south of Dimmitt, and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 46, block T-4, T. A. Thompson survey, was coring from 9,530 feet in dolomite, lime, shale and chert.

Operator has not officially identified the formation. Some observers think it might be Ellenburger. However, up to the time this report was prepared no geologist had been willing to "stick his neck out," and definitely say that formation had been reached.

Hockley Project Abandoned

Ralph Lowe, et al, No. 1 Roch, southeast Hockley county wildcat, seven miles southeast of Levelland, and 440 feet from north and west lines of labor 28, league 26, Wharton County School Lands, developed salt water in a drillstem test in the San Andres-Permian, at 5,167-5,273 feet. It did not have any signs of oil or gas. The project has been abandoned and plugged.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 David Parsons, slated 5,000-foot prospector in central Hockley county, four and one-half miles southwest of Levelland, and 440 feet from north and west lines of labor 25, league 30, Baylor county school lands, had penetrated under 3,717 feet in redbuds and anhydrite and was drilling ahead.

Progress In Other Tests

Fikes & Murchison No. 17-C C. A. Elliott, in southwest Yoakum county, a 7,500-foot wildcat on the west side of the Wasson 5,100 field, and 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey, had reached 4,997 feet in lime and was continuing.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-B F. O. Maston, Cochran county venture to 5,500 feet, 16½ miles southwest of Morton, in the southwest sector of the county, and 694 feet from north and west lines of labor 11, league 133, Armstrong county school lands, had drilled past 4,435 feet, in anhydrite and lime, and was making more hole.

Potential Of 1,589 Barrels

In northeast Gaines county, and three-eighths of a mile southeast of the nearest completed oil well from the Devonian, in the Jones Ranch field, Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1-3 Havemyer & Jenny, has been completed as a good flowing oil well.

The project flowed 397 barrels of 38.3 gravity oil through a one-half inch tubing choke, in six hours, on an official potential test, to give it a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,589.50 barrels of oil. Gas-oil ratio was 293-1. The total depth of the new well, and field extender is at 11,372 feet in Devonian lime. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 11,240 feet.

Checked Low On Anhydrite

The Texas company, Humble Oil & Refining company, and Ralph Lowe, No. 1 Jenkins, slated 12,000-foot wildcat in southwest Gaines county, and 662 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 4, block A-25, psl survey, had reached 4,548 feet in lime, and was making more hole.

This project is reported to have checked low on the anhydrite, to a nearby dry hole. Top of the anhydrite was at 1,880 feet. Elevation is 3,418 feet.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 2 White, et al, one quarter of a mile south and west of the nearest completed producers from the Clear Fork of the Permian, in the North Riley field, of west-central Gaines county, about 13 miles west and slightly north of Seminole, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 404, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, is on a plugged back total depth of 7,002 feet in lime. Casing which had been set to bottom had been perforated at 6,870-6,900 feet; at 6,920-25 feet, and at 6,935-50 feet. The sections covered by those perforations had shown free oil when drillstem tested. Operator expects to complete an oil well from those zone in the near future.

Borden County Test Plugged

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, nine and one-half miles south of Gail, in central Borden county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 47, block 31, TP survey, T-4-N, has been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 9,162 feet in the Ellenburger.

That formation developed sulphur water. The venture then tested sections in the Mississippian, which logged small oil signs, and those intervals also produced water.

The Ohio Oil company No. 1 Jones, southeast Crosby county prospector, nine miles southeast of Crosbyton, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 140, block 2, H&GN survey, had progressed under 8,158 feet in shale and lime, and was continuing.

New Anton-Irish Locations

New locations reported during the past week for the Anton-Irish field in southeast Lamb and southwest Hale counties, include—

Stanolind No. 1 L. A. Harral, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 11, block DT, HE&WT survey.

C. H. Murphy, of El Dorado, Ark., No. 1 D. C. Williams, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 20, block DT, HE&WT survey.

Those two wells are in Hale county.

Stanolind No. 1 I. L. Ellwood will be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 120, block A, R. M. Thompson survey. It is in the Southeast Lamb county sector of the field.

Each of the new pojects are to drill to about 6,200 feet, using rotary tools, and are to start operations at once.

Hufstedler Test Going Deeper

In the Anton-Irish field, Gulf Oil corporation No. 1-T E. K. Hufstedler, had swabbed at the rate of 130 barrels of oil per day from the section at 5,428-5,680' feet, plus 4.7 barrels of sediment. The project is preparing to make more hole.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Garrett, had reached 5,692 feet in lime, and was drilling ahead.

Stanolind No. 1 Arnold was boring ahead past 5,340 feet in lime.

Other Anton-Irish Projects

Stanolind No. 2 Arnold has drilled to 6,112 feet and was to move in a swabbing unit to test and complete.

Stanolind No. 1 Rice had reached 6,102 feet in lime, and was moving out rotary rig and will then test for completion.

Stanolind No. 1 Schoor is rigging up a rotary preparatory to start of drilling.

Anton Oil Corporation No. 4-A Leftwich, was at total depth of 5,600 feet and had set 5½-inch casing at 5,450 feet. It will be drilled deeper.

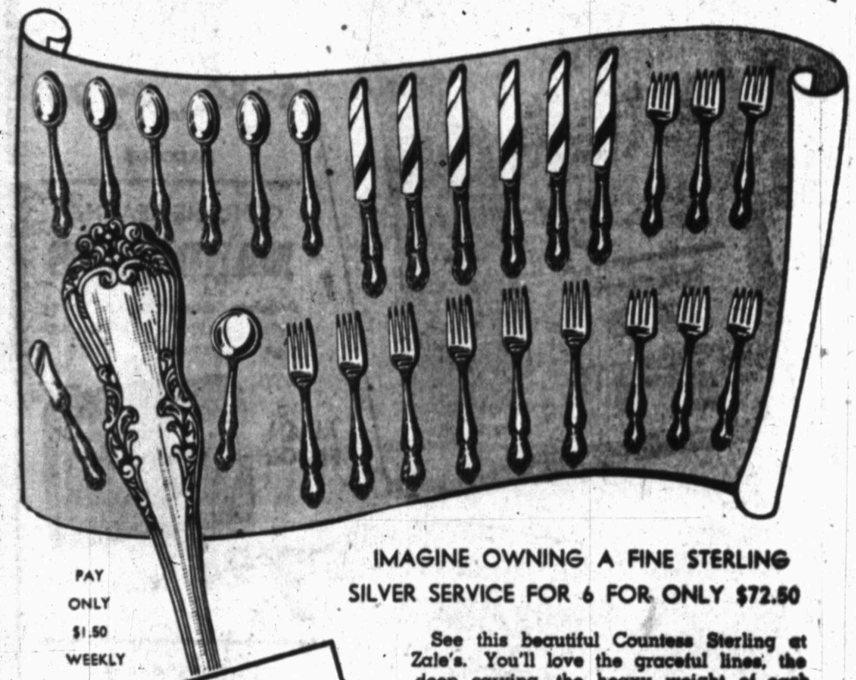

Anton No. 2-B Leftwich is drilling ahead below 6,000 feet, using reverse circulation in lime.

Anton No. 2-A Tucker had swabbed 250 barrels of oil in 24 hours from section between 5,432 feet and the total depth at 6,000 feet, and is continuing to test for completion.

Anton No. 2-B Tucker, has tested for commercial amounts of oil from pay at 5,470-6,048 feet, and its being prepared to be put on production.

The petroleum industry ranks only below agriculture, railroads, and public utilities in capital investment.

Waterway From Oklahoma To The Gulf Of Mexico To Be Studied

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) Army engineers have been asked to study the possibility of building a navigable waterway from Oklahoma to the Gulf of Mexico.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla) yesterday asked the engineers to decide whether a canal could be cut from Lake Texoma to a proposed reservoir on a branch of the Trinity river above Dallas.

Thomas made his suggesiton at a Senate appropriations subcommittee which heard two Texans urge money for flood control and navigation on the Trinity river.

Approval Is Asked

The committee was asked to approve money to start the proposed $21,000,000 Garza-Little Elm dam on the branch of the Trinity by Fritz Lanham, ex-Fort Worth congressman.

He said Dallas is ready to match federal expenditures up to $1,000,000 in the year beginning July 1.

The canal proposed by Thomas would run from Lake Texoma—on the border of Oklahoma and Texas—to the Garza-Little Elm reservoir.

Col. P. A. Ferlinga, army engineer, said "from an engineering standpoint I know it could be done." But he said he did not know whether it would be economically justified.

Appeal Is Backed

Dale Miller, representing the Louisiana-Texas Intracoastal Canal association, backed Lanham's appeal. He also urged the committee to sustain or increase house-approved items for starting work on a $7,000,000 deepwater channel up the river to Liberty.

He also asked for money to complete the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, and for improving the deep water channel from Port Isabel to Brownsville.

Convicts Permitted To Give Their Eyes

CHICAGO, March 13 (U.P.)—Attorney General George F. Barrett of Illinois in a legal opinion opened the way for Illinois penitentiary inmates to will their eyes to society.

His opinion said that 1,500 of the Stateville penitentiary's 4,200 prisoners who volunteered to leave their eyes to an "eye bank" could do so legally.

Under a plan worked out by the John Howard Association, a welfare organization for prison inmates and ex-convicts, the convicts who wish have willed their eyeballs to the "eye bank" maintained here by the Illinois Society for Prevention of Blindness.

Now that the attorney general has said the plan is legal, an eye surgeon will remove the eyeballs of volunteers who die in prison. The Will County chapter of the American Red Cross then will speed them to Chicago in specially-built refrigerated containers.

They will be used to restore the vision of sightless persons.

Statesville prisoners also have participated in donating blood to the Red Cross for plasma; acting as guinea pigs for malaria experiments, and experimental operations for ulcers.

Marshall Field Says He Will Sell His Paper Or Close It

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Marshall Field III said today he either was selling his New York newspaper, PM, or closing it.

He said he no longer would support the publication because of heavy deficits it has incurred since he helped establish it eight years ago.

The paper has been sold to Clinton D. McKinnon of San Diego, Calif., contingent upon McKinnon reaching an agreement with the CIO American Newspaper Guild, which represents editorial employes of the paper, the publisher said.

If no agreement is reached, Field added, it would cease publication March 26. He declined to disclose the sale price. Field also publishes the Chicago Sun-Times.

The transaction first was disclosed last night by Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York City chapter of the Guild.

EXPLANATION IS SOUGHT

State Auditor Puzzled By New Boost In Indian Population

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 13—Not even the state auditor's scouts could find all the Indians in the big thicket of East Texas.

Maybe it was a job for the Rangers.

The fact remains the Alabamas and the Coushattas are on the increase, but State Auditor C. H. Cavness himself says all of it just can't be explained on the usual basis.

Figures Made Public

Total population of the Indians on or around the state Alabama-Coushatta reservation near Livingston jumped from 357 in 1944 to 396 in 1947. (Back in the days when General Sam Houston was befriending them, there were 330 Alabamas, later joined by a few Coushattas.)

Cavness revealed these figures in his most recent report on the tribes whose great white father is the state board of control. It also laid the population puzzler wide open to the public records.

"Increase not explained" was the auditor's notation for a population gain of 11 in 1946 and 14 in 1947.

Where did all 25 of those Indians come from anyway? The auditor just didn't know. He found three births and three deaths recorded in 1946, yet the Alabama-Coushatta's net population gain for the year was from 366 to 377.

Doesn't Agree With Reports

The mystery deepened between 1946 and 1947. There were nine births and four deaths, but the population showed a net gain of 14.

This kind of arithetmic would leave some auditors speechless. But not Cavness. He went on for 44 pages of history, balance sheets, tables of supplies consumed and financial recapitulations that generally showed everything else was okay with the Alabamas and Coushattas. At least, explainable.

He did think the per capita cost of maintaining the reservation ($95.42 per Indian) was a little high in view of the fact "the inhabitants are supposed to be self-supporting." The Indians do not receive groceries, clothing or other supplies from the state, but they do get school lunches and supplies for the little Indians.

These go to school at nearby Big Sandy, where the auditor's operatives were informed they get along fine with the English-speaking children.

The Alabama-Coushattas do a little farming and they raise livestock that ranges in the woods.

"The livestock owned by the Indians is run on the open range and the Indians have very little difficulty over its ownership," Cavness' report said. "Personal differences are usually settled among the Indians themselves without recourse to the courts."

Most of the big game has been killed out of the big thicket on and around the reservation, but there is still plenty of small game and fish. The Indians know what to do about that.

They also like privacy, Cavness noted. They live scattered out in the woods—only one family has a house near reservation headquarters.

The Alabamas and Coushattas also know pretty well whose groceries are whose. In the auditor's own words:

"On one day each week, usually Saturday, a pick-up truck is sent to town for groceries for the Indians. The Indians give their lists to the superintendent, and he and a member of the tribe go to Livingston to make the purchases. Each family's groceries are placed on a platform in the woods near their home—and insofar as we could learn, no Indian has ever accused another of taking the wrong groceries."

If they did, that might account for a net loss in population. But neither Cavness nor anyone else can explain that net gain.

Treasurer Of United States Is Unheard Of By Lots Of People Over The Country

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 13 — Meet the treasurer of the United States, William Alexander Julian. He's been in the job since 1933.

Ever hear of him? Lot of people haven't.

If you haven't, it's because you don't read your paper money—any paper money—down in the left-hand corner.

There it is, his signature: W. A. Julian, treasurer of the United States. He's not Secretary of the Treasury. That's John W. Snyder.

Job Is Described

Julian's job is described in the congresional directory this way:

"The treasurer of the United States is charged with the receipt and disbursement of public moneys that may be deposited in the Treasury at Washington and in the other depositaries authorized by the secretary of the treasury to receive deposits of government funds for credit in the account of the treasurer of the United States."

Which is long for saying: Julian is the big bookkeeper on all the money the government collects and spends. He has a staff of 1,600 people. His salary: $10,000 a year.

Snyder, as Secretary of the Treasury, has a different job. He doesn't have to worry about the bookkeeping. He sets money policies, such as on government loans.

Name On Paper Money

Julian's name is on paper money worth about $27,500,000,000. His office is part of the Treasury department under Snyder.

Back around 1923 Julian retired from business. He was reported then to be a millionaire.

He had been a shoe salesman. Then, as a shoe manufacturer, he built up the fortune reports say he has.

He was also president of a trust company in Cincinnati, Ohio, and director of other banks. When he quit making shoes, he kept his bank directorships.

He Is Democrat

Meanwhile, he was a Democrat. Rumor said he was one of the "angels" of the Democratic party in Ohio. Then President Roosevelt and the "New Deal" came along in 1933.

Mr. Roosevelt appointed Julian treasurer of the United States.

Julian will get a vote for President of the United States when the Democratic delegates go to their national convention in Philadelphia in July to choose a presidential candidate.

The Ohio Democratic delegates are pledged to cast their first vote for Julian. After that they're free to vote for anyone else.

TO START SERVICE

GALVESTON, March 13 (AP) — Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe, said today service of its new streamliner, the Texas Chief, would be started from Chicago April 3, and from Galveston April 4. It will run between Chicago and Texas points.

Daily Worker Correspondent Refused Passport To Palestine

NEW YORK, March 13 (U.P.) — The Daily Worker, Communist newspaper said today that the U. S. State department had refused one of its correspondents a passport to enter Palestine on the ground that it "would not serve the best interests of the United States . . . at this time."

The newspaper said that the correspondent, A. B. Magil, had been informed that his application for a passport had been denied in a telegram signed by R. B. Shipley, chief of the State department's passport division.

In a telegram to Secretary of State George C. Marshall, John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, said the action was an attack on "freedom of the press and the free exchange of information which the United States government continually professes to uphold in the United Nations."

In the early days of railroads, locomotives were regarded with suspicion because many people believed human beings could not stand the speed.

Mexico Makes Effort To Boost Wealth From Oil Production

By REGINALD L. WOOD
Associated Press Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY, March 13.—Ten years after Mexico expropriated her oil wealth she is prospecting for more to bolster national income.

Hard pressed for dollars, Mexico is seeking to increase production of oil which she took over from private owners March 18, 1938.

The success of President Miguel Aleman's six-year self-sufficiency program hinges on her ability to build a place quickly in world trade.

Industry Built Up

Foreign owners, principally from the United States, Great Britain and Holland, built Mexico's oil industry into the fourth most important in the world. Labor difficulties from 1927 to 1937 were blamed for a steady decline in production.

The administration of President Lazaro Cardenas, often called radical, stepped in and took over the foreign oil properties in March 1938. It grounded its action on old Spanish law by which subsoil deposits are national property.

Production declined further.

Banco Nacional de Mexico, S.A., largest and most influential private bank in the country, commented: The people of Mexico "have not yet learned to apply modern methods in this branch of national wealth."

Takes Drastic Action

The bank said "any government unprepared to manage business corrupts the role it is charged with and jeopardizes the interest of society."

President Miguel Aleman named businessman Antonio J. Bermudez last year to put the oil industry on a paying basis. First, Bermudez did away with meddling by labor chiefs.

Labor answered with a "wildcat" strike when he restored management rights.

Aleman backed Bermudez, called out troops to run the oil industry, and jailed 50 labor leaders forcing them to resign from the oil union. Workers went back to their jobs.

Bermudez called in foreign oil experts for advice and announced plans to drill 75 wells a year for the next five years.

Pemex under its new director increased oil production in 1947 to 56,000,000 barrels, 9,500,000 more than previously obtained under government ownership.

Production Is Boosted

The 1947 output was the highest since 1927. It was attained by increasing the production in Poza Rica on the Gulf coast to 90,000 barrels a day. The other three main fields in Mexico continue to decline.

Domestic consumption rose in 1947 to approximately 48,000,000 barrels and probably will increase this year to 53,000,0000.

New fields are being sought in the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, Tabasco, Yucatan, Chiapas, Lower California, Chihuahua State, and the Veracruz valley.

The first test wells are being drilled adjacent to the Texas fields.

Jorge L. Cumming, head of the Pemex Exploration department, estimated 1948 crude production will be 53,700,0000 barrels.

Consumption in 1948 is expected to be 52,000,000 barrels, increasing to 70,000,000 by 1955. Pemex view 1950 as the critical year when calculated 49,300,000 barrels of crude plus stored reserves would not meet estimated needs for 56,800,000 barrels. Production by 1955 providing no new fields are discovered, is expected to decline to 42,800,000 barrels.

Mexico has settled her oil expropriation debt with United States owners for $23,995,991 plus interest. The final payment was made in September, 1947.

British and Dutch claims were settled upon last year.

"ROY BEAN'S COURT"—Mrs. Johnnie Garrett goes on trial in a "Roy Bean's Court" which charged her with "enticing men" during a day of fun in Borger, Texas, March 8 in celebration of the city's 22nd birthday. During the day two deputies picked up "suspicious" persons not clad in oil field apparel and brought them before the court set up on Main street. Those found guilty were fined a dollar. Seated at the left is Walter Allen, who presided over the court.

Stinkin' Ink For Newspaper Sought

FANWOOD, N. J., March 13 (AP)—Chemist Clayton Myers has an order to make some "stinkin' ink" for a newspaper in Richwood, W. Va.

The ink has to be ready for a special edition of the News Leader March 17 to celebrate the annual "harvest of the ramp."

The ramp is a spring herb of the garlic family.

"It tastes good going down," says Myres, "but stinks terrifically after you eat it."

Everybody in Nicholas county, W. Va., eats ramps to celebrate the coming of spring, says Myers so the ramp is pretty important.

Editor-Publisher J. F. Comstock of the News Leader got an idea. The March 17 edition of his paper will be printed with "ramp ink," he says, to commemorate the stink.

Myers observed that "there is a new trend in the publishing field toward using pleasant odors, like pine or roses, to make a publication distinctive."

"This is the first attempt," he adds, "to reproduce an unpleasant odor for publication."

Military Aid From America To Western Europe Union Possible

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain, France and the Benelux nations (Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg) in a remarkably short time have reached agreement at Brussles on a fifty year treaty for political, economic and military cooperation to counter Communist aggression.

DeWitt Mackenzie

Urgency had upon the conference by the Bolshevist rape of Czechoslovakia and the further threats to Finland and Italy.

It is a momentous and far-reaching development which, when formally ratified by the governments concerned, is likely to play a major role in the crisis that has grown out of the battle between Communism and Democracy.

To Invite Others

The other states registered in the Marshall plan are to be invited to join these five—which include four of the world's greatest colonial powers—to form a union of western Europe. Several already have indicated a desire to participate and we may hear from the rest shortly, since the 16 Marshall plan countries are scheduled to meet in Paris Monday to discuss the program.

Back of this sensational Brussels agreement has been the hope that the United States will promise military aid against aggression. Thus far there has been no announcement from Washington on this point.

Union Has Blessing

We do know, however, that a western European union has the blessing of America, and that talk about military aid from the U. S. A. hasn't been discouraged. In fact after yesterday's cabinet meeting in Washington Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told reporters that the western alliance was brought up during the discussion. However, America's policy has been not to decide her exact attitude until it is clear what sort of support the nations in the western union desire.

So far as one can foresee, the next great emergency which the Democracies will have to meet in Europe will come with the Italian election in April. The Reds have made it quite clear that they intend to gain control of this strategic country by hook or by crook.

SAN ANTONIO, March 13 (AP)—A $10,000 damage suit against Alcoholics Anonymous was filled in Judge S. G. Tayloe's 45th district court Friday afternoon by William A. McIlwane, who claims in his suit that he slipped and fell on the floor of the Alcoholics Anonymous' premises at 503½ W. Commerce St. Jan. 16.

McIlwane, who said that he went to the W. Commerce St. premises at the request and insistance of the organization, broke his arm and his wrist when he fell.

Garner Says South Should Have Aggressive Political Program

WASHINGTON, March 13 (U.P.) John N. Garner believes the South should stand up for its rights affirmatively instead of merely trying to stop something.

The former Vice President's views on party politics, government, and economics are quoted by Bascom N. Timmons, Washington correspondent in Collier's. In its current issue the magazine concludes a series by Timmons called "John N. Garner's Story."

Hits Minority Groups

Now 79, the wealthy Texan has been in retirement at his Uvalde home since breaking with the late President Roosevelt in 1940, the year in which Henry A. Wallace replaced him as vice president.

Garner's views as recorded by Timmons were voiced before the recent Southern Democratic rebellion broke out against President Truman over civil rights.

He opposed the two-thirds rule for Democratic presidential nominations, Garner told Timmons, because "the power that rule gave to the South was negative."

He also deplored "demagoguery and the appeal to class animosity." He said "the clamor of a vociferous minority many times drowns out the voice of the submerged majority."

His views on other subjects included:

Presidential tickets—"The presidential nominee should not select his running mate. The delegates to the convention, acting freely, should do that."

Speculation by officials — He never speculated in commodities or securities because "when the average citizen reads of an office holder making money through such dealing it disgusts him and it tends to break down the people's confidence in Democratic government."

Veto overriding — He said the two-thirds vote requirement gives the President too much power. "A majority of the total 96 senators and 435 representatives should be sufficient to override."

Presidential powers—"The executive has too much power now (1947). Under our form of government congress is the people's representative . . . We have had too much legislation by executive order . . . My belief has been in executive leadership, not executive rulership."

Taxes — "I would rather pay high taxes and see the government debt reduced than have lower taxes and a huge public debt."

Depression—"I see no reason why there should be a depression at any time in the near future." But the next depression "is likely to sneak in from a new direction and from a new cause" and may not be recognized for what it is "until it is full upon the country."

Powerful Radio Transmitter To Relay American Programs

MANILA, March 13 (AP)—One of the Orient's most powerful radio transmitters went on the air today to relay Voice of America broadcasts from New York.

The transmitter is located at Malolos, 24 miles northwest of Manila. It operates on 50,000 watts power, 920 kilocycles with directional antennas beamed toward the Asiatic mainland.

A similar station, using short-wave, was put into operation operated by the U. S. Information Service.

Anniversary Is To Be Observed

A week of Bible conferences and evangelistic services with speakers from several churches of the area will mark celebration of the 15th anniversary of the pastorship of Rev. Ben D. Johnson of the Tabernacle Baptist church here.

Rev. Johnson founded the church in 1933 with 18 charter members and during the past 15 years approximately 2,000 members have come into the church. Fifty young people have gone into special work and 21 are preachers, some of them in full-time pastorates now and others attending the Bible Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth, preparing for the mission field and the ministry.

Eight other churches of the area have been established under the influence of the church and pastor. The church owns property worth approximately $80,000 which is debt-free and there is money in the bank to pay for planned improvements.

Others Established

"We are grateful to our friends in the city of Lubbock who have helped to make this work possible and we want to say to all of our citizens that we would like to be a greater blessing and help in every way possible," Rev. Johnson said.

Rev. E. K. Oldham of Grand Prairie will be the evangelistic speaker at services each night at 7 o'clock. Morning services will be at 10 a. m. and afternoon services at 2 o'clock. Other speakers to be here during the week include: Rev. Edgar Tatum, San Angelo; Rev. Porter McDougall, Roswell, N. M.; Rev. Frank A. Goodsoe, Amarillo; Rev. W. O. Goodsoe, Amarillo; Rev. W. O. Majors, Greenville; and Rev. A. L. Patterson, Sweetwater.

Mount Houston Woman Killed When Struck By Freight Train

HOUSTON, March 13. (U.P.) — Funeral arrangements were being made today for Mrs. Dora Bruner, 78, of Mount Houston who was killed last night when she was struck by a freight train.

Mrs. Bruner had been missing since 5 p. m. yesterday. She was struck by a Texas and New Orleans freight train near Bender's switch at about 10 p. m.

Justice of the Peace J. M. Hester of Humble returned a verdict of accidental death. He said she apparently was lost and was trying to find her way home by following the railroad tracks.

Body Of Flier Will Be Buried In City

Body of Lt. Hollis D. Sneed, a pilot who was killed in an airplane accident at Kunming, China, July 8, 1944, will be buried in Lubbock cemetery this afternoon.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 o'clock this afternoon in Blackburn-Shaw chapel in Amarillo with Chaplain Morris Hugh Lively of the Veterans hospital at Amarillo officiating. Rev. T. Edgar Neal is to assist.

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church in Lubbock, will officiate at the graveside service about 4 or 4:30 o'clock, according to information received here.

Sneed formerly lived in Lubbock. He was born Jan. 15, 1917, near Hillsboro and later moved to Lubbock. He went to Amarillo in 1930 and was a 1935 graduate of Amarillo High school, of which he was poet laurette. He joined the Army Oct. 25, 1940.

Surviving include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sneed of 900 Virginia in Amarillo, and a sister, Mrs. Homer Tepe of Amarillo.

The body of Lieutenant Sneed arrived in Amarillo Tuesday, after having been brought from overseas.

He was killed while taking off in a B-24 for his fifth mission. The plane he was piloting lost a motor at an altitude of 500 feet and caught fire. All of the crew except the tail gunner were killed.

Previously, Lieutenant Sneed had had a narrow escape while flying "The Hump" from India to China, when his plane iced up and went into a spin. After the third spin, Lieutenant Sneed righted it and made a successful landing. As far as is known in Army history, that was the first and only time such a feat was accomplished.

Broadway Church Of Christ To Conduct Eight-Day Revival

Elders of Broadway Church of Christ announced Saturday that Trine Starnes, evangelist of the Broadway Church of Christ of Paducah, Ky., would be speaker for an intensive eight-day revival commencing next Sunday and continuing a week.

Mr. Starnes is a graduate of Abilene Christian college. During his student days he became widely known as a lecturer and orator. His oration, "A Plea for Righteousness," won a national oratorical contest. He also was president of the student body and editor of the college paper at ACC.

Since graduation, Mr. Starnes has served six years as minister of the Church of Christ in Mineral Wells, did nation-wide evangelistic service, and has been at Paducah the last six years.

His messages, said Dr. M. Norvel Young, pastor of the Lubbock church, are "designed to meet the needs of young people, as well as of their elders."

Mr. Starnes will speak at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily and at the early Sunday morning worship, at 8:30 o'clock, both Sundays he is here.

Dr. Blitz Devises Aid For String Instrument Players

Keeping fingers from growing calloused presents a problem to many people, so there probably won't be much demand for an instrument designed to keep callouses on fingers, recently perfected by Dr. Julian Blitz, head professor of music at Texas Technological college.

Strange as it may seem, however, keeping his fingers calloused and hard is one of the professor's major problems, as it is with many other people who play stringed instruments.

Dr. Blitz, well known cellist, has created a "dummy" cello from a walking stick, and fastened a cello string along its length. He spends much of his leisure time running his fingers up and down the heavy string, thus keeping them in excellent playing condition.

Oxygen, which makes up 90 per cent of the solid part of the earth by volume, is most highly concentrated in the earth's outer shell. The amount of oxygen decreases with depth into the earth.

Priest Is Rated As The "Best Fireman"

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 13. (U.P.)—The "best darned fireman in the department." That's what Cambridge firemen say about their chaplain, the Rev. Thomas J. Tierney.

The big, square-jawed Catholic priest is one of the city's hardest-working firemen. In the past year alone, he answered 531 alarms.

For 16 years, Father Tierney has been there—cassock, rosary, boots, helmet and rubber coat.

He is as quick and capable as any member of the department, firemen say, at manning a hose line or scrambling over a window sill.

Father Tierney has some sad memories, but none more tragic than his experience at the Cocoanut Grove holocaust in which 491 persons perished in Boston Nov. 28, 1942.

Just as he arrived, two firemen were lifting a chair with "a boy from my parish sitting straight up in it."

"His entire face was burned away, but I knew who he was from the back of his neck," the chaplain says. "I'd looked at the back of that boy's neck many a time in my Sunday school class and on my basbetball team.

"Just that morning he had been married. Not two feet away sat his bride—dead."

WHAT A DIFFERENCE COOK'S PAINT MAKES

Controlled Penetration Makes This Difference

Equal amounts of ordinary paint and Cook's Superwhite Primer were dropped on a test panel. Look at the results!

ORDINARY PAINT
COOK'S SUPERWHITE PRIMER

Ordinary Paint
Note the large amount of oil that is absorbed by the surface. Where this happens, there is not enough oil left in the film to bind the pigment particles of the paint together permanently.

Cook's Superwhite Primer
Here the oil remains in the paint film to bind the pigment particles tightly together. You get paint value of 2 coats—a primer and undercoat—in one coat of Superwhite Primer.

COOK'S PAINTS

You can see the difference that Cook's Paint makes in your house. That's because Cook's Paints are made with the finest modern pigments and specially refined linseed oil. And when you use Cook's famous 2-coat house painting system, you make real savings because you need only two coats.

Yes, 2 Coats Do the Work of 3
WHEN YOU USE COOK'S PAINT
Here's How It Works

"One Coat for the Wood"
First use Cook's new primer discovery, SUPERWHITE PRIMER. It gives you perfect seal and hiding in one easy-to-apply coat of paint. It doesn't soak into the wood, but stays on top to seal, allowing the finish coat to wear . . . and wear . . . and wear!

"One Coat for the Weather"
Now apply COOK'S HOUSE PAINT. See how much farther it spreads and how it leaves a protective layer of paint on the surface to resist the weather. You'll agree here's a 3-coat protection at 2-coat cost.

Sweeping Revision Of Statutes Bearing On Children Proposed

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP) — Will more or even better laws solve the problem of juvenile delinquency? Is not the real problem more basic?

These questions were put frequently at the recent meeting of the Texas Committee on Children and Youth. In the face of these questions, the committee recommended sweeping revision of all the statutes bearing on children, but it put the finger on home deficiencies as holding the key to why so many children begin life short-changed.

One of the first to raise the question and sharply drawing a line of demarcation between the state's responsibility and that of the home was Mrs. Richard J. Turrentine of Denton, chairman of the state board of public welfare.

Fields Are Outlined

After outlining certain fields in which she said the state had basic responsibility in seeing to it that children be born physically and mentally fit, of healthy parents, and into a home reasonably secure economically and socially, Mrs. Turrentine added:

"Health is not a private affair. It follows that to have healthy, happy, well-adusted children we must have healthy, happy, well-adusted parents and a secure family unit. This involves the departments of labor, health, education, and programs of social insurance, adequate housing and empoyment.

"The basis of child welfare upon all levels is the home, a home that furnishes security and affection. There is no substitute for this type of home in safeguarding the child's well-being and promoting his growth into a worthy citizen."

Generally In Agreement

The attitude of many of the representatives of some 70 organizations interested in child welfare was generally in agreement with this. But the conference members felt that while the home was basically responsible, the state should stopgap as far as possible to make up for home deficiencies.

The Texas Committee on Children and Youth has no official status. Its origin was in a committee of the Texas Social Welfare Association, and its aim is to study all the many problems of children and youth, and make recommendations to the organizations represented. Political action, if any, would come from them.

One of the chief exponents of the view that home weaknesses are fundamentally responsible for breakdowns in the process of making good citizens of children was Dr. Harold E. Fey, managing editor of the Christian Century, Chicago.

On Brink Of Ruin

He queted Dr. Edward A. Sticker, chairman of the psychiatry division of the national research council, as saying: "America is on the brink of disintegration because of the increase in divorce and adult and uvenile delinquency. Somewhere along the line we have lost our spiritual values."

Commenting on this, Dr. Fey said that we must recover "our sense of the sacredness of each personality and the sanctity of the marriage bond."

The editor suggested that all persons including children, should be regarded as "ends in themselves, not means to an end; as immortal souls and not simply as taxpayers, customers, potential soldiers, contributors to church budgets, names on a playground roster, or problems for the police or church janitor."

Mexican Consuls General Will Present Reports On Relations

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—Two consul generals of Mexico are screduled to report on Latin-American relations before the Texas Good Neighbor Commission at its next meeting here March 26.

Consul Generals Raul Michel of El Paso and Miguel Calderon of San Antonio are to tell of relations within their respective jurisdictions, a commission announcement said.

The commission is also to hear a plan to combat discriminatory practices against Latin-Americans in Texas centers where they may exist. Jay C. Stilley, executive secretary of the Texas Cototn Ginners' association, is to present the plan.

The virgin hardwood forests of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana grew so thick that a man on horseback often could not ride through them.

THREE BOYS IN AN ELEPHANT—It was just a one-ring circus, but even the performers had a wonderful time. The Wooster School's kindergarten class, in Rocky River, O., furnished the talent, all under five years old. Ringmaster Pat Roberts puts this six-legged elephant through its paces.

Registered Nurses Are Urged To Teach Home Nursing Course

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—Registered nurses are being urged to volunteer as teachers for home nursing courses.

Dixie Carmichael, American Red Cross state relations officer, said 202 of Texas' 251 Red Cross chapters are unable to offer home nursing courses because no registered nurses are available for teaching.

He urged all registered nurses who could find time to teach women to care for their sick at home to call their Red Cross chapters.

Carmichael cited overcrowded housing conditions and understaffed hospitals as particularly increasing need for instruction in home nursing.

Education ranks third among all public expenditures in the United States, according to a survey.

Two Persons Dead In Dallas Shooting

DALLAS, March 15 (U.P.)—Police said today that a Dallas electrician shot and killed his former wife yesterday, then committed suicide in a busy downtown office building.

Mailon Martin, the electrician, walked into the office where his former wife, Mrs. Mary Martin, 42, was working and fired one shot at her at close range. Mrs Martin ran into an adjoining room and Martin followed.

Other workers in the office said they heard four more shots. When they walked into the room, they found the pair lying on the floor. Martin had fired three more times at his former wife, then shot himself in the head.

Martin died en route to the hospital. Mrs. Martin died several hours later.

Most Texans Say Cost Of Living Is Still Major Problem In '48

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, March 13.—An overwhelming majority of Texas continue to hold the high cost of living their major problem today. And the most serious public problem before the state, the largest number of persons believe, likewise the cost of living.

Since the end of the war, inflation has been the chief concern of Texas people every time The Texas Poll has taken a similar survey. The state, however, is not alone. The Gallup poll only last month inquired of a nationwide cross section, "What questions would you like to ask the President about problems here and abroad?" Americans placed the subject of inflation before such international headaches as the Marshall Plan and relations with Russia.

Other Problems Trail

Trailing far behind the high cost of living, the next problems Texans named as facing the Lone Star state were these: racial, education, housing, politics, tidelands, water conservation, industrialization, roads, and juvenile delinquency.

Notable in the results of this recent statewide survey by The Texas Poll was that persons with below average incomes are less concerned about housing than those who are in the middle and upper income brackets. Such a feeling may be due to the fact that the poor have always been faced with the problem of proper housing, whereas those with larger incomes have felt the pinch only in recent years.

Texas Poll interviewers asked, "What is the biggest problem now facing you and your family?" The results, by socio-economic groups:

	Below Ave.	Ave. & Above	All
Personal Problems:
Cost of Living inflation, high prices	77%	68%	74%
Housing	6	13	9
Other	10	15	12
No problems	4	4	4
Don't know	5	1	4
	102*	101*	103*

(* Adds to more than 100% because some people gave more than one answer.)

The second question asked all over Texas was, "What would say is the biggest problem facing Texas?" The answer

	Below Ave.	Ave. & Above	All
State Problems:
Cost of living	22%	20%	21%
Racial	4	10	7
Education	4	10	8
Housing	5	8	6
Politics	5	5	5
Tidelands	2	8	4
Water conservation	5	3	4
Industrialization	x	3	2
Roads	1	x	1
Juvenile delinquincy	1	2	1
Other problems	19	17	18
Don't know	34	18	27
	102*	103*	102*

(*Adds to more than 100% because some people gave more than one answer). (Less than half of 1%).

Note in the above table that people of higher economic standing are more concerned with racial and educational problems than are people of lower levels.

Ex-Sergeant Declares Not All Ex-GIs Are Against MacArthur

DALLAS, March 13. (U.P.)—Ex-Sergeant Lindsay Goldman of Dallas Friday announced his opposition to the Veterans Against MacArthur organization.

"Just some soreheads," he said. "Don't get the idea all Pacific GI's were against MacArthur. . . . not a country mile. He is a great soldier and a great man."

"I saw him stand during a strafing and bombing raid while the rest of us hit the dirt. I respect him, and so do plenty of other GI's," continued Goldman.

In the meantime, a vote-against-MacArthur movement, led by Jim Fisher, former marine, got under way on the Southern Methodist university campus. Fisher said he was circulating petitions requesting that MacArthur not be named a presidential nominee.

The petitions, Fisher said, will be given to Texas executive committees of both Democrats and Republicans.

Approval Is Announced For Bond Issue In Cochran Area

AUSTIN, March 13. (U.P.)—Approval of two bond issues, one for Cochran county and the other for Webb county, totaling $850,000 was announced today by the office of the attorney general.

The Cochran county bnods, in the amount of $500,000, will be used for general road maintenance, while the $350,000 Webb county issue will be used for the purchase and development of lands for park purposes.

FISHIN'S GOOD—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whatley, 3012 Twenty-third, are holding a day's catch of fish pulled out of Sugar Lake, 18 miles into the interior of Mexico across the border from Roma. There are 25 fish in the string, ranging in size from four to six pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Whatley entertained members of Dr. Norvel Young's class at the Broadway Church of Christ with a fish fry last Tuesday night. Several Lubbock parties have fished recently at the new lake.

Prospecting Grandmother Will Start Work On A Rich Claim

RAWLINGS, Wyo., March 13 (U.P.) — A prospecting grandmother who has staked a large uranium deposit claim, announced today that she will work on another multi-million dollar claim to carbon and alum land.

Mrs. Minnie McCormick said the carbon and alum land lies south of Wamsutter, the railroad town near which the uranium claim was staked.

Mrs. McCormick said the uranium ore was discovered years ago when her grandson uncovered some nuggets as he slid down a bank. The carbon and alum claim, she said, was found in 1925.

The widow said she hoped to start work on both mining operations this spring.

MAN FOUND DEAD

SAN ANTONIO, March 13 (U.P.)—William Charges Evetts, 56, of Temple was found dead in his San Antonio hotel room yesterday. He had died of natural causes, police said.

A new record for comet-finding was set in 1947. A final check of new comets discovered, and old ones spotted, shows that a total of 14 were plotted in the 12 months.

War With Russians Within Next Three To Five Years Is Predicted

Ira Eaker Declares Stalin Will Launch Attack On United States

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 13 (AP)—A former army air forces chief of staff has predicted war with Russia within three to five years. Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, now a Houston industrial executive, said here last night Russia will attack the United States as soon as Stalin is certain such action would result in a quick, cheap victory.

He made his predictions in an address before the second annual convention of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners association.

Red Menace On March

"The Red menace is on the march westward," Eaker told the oilmen. "Russian representatives have been at great pains to make certain the United Nations fail in all efforts for world peace."

"Russia maintains a strong fifth column in this country and possesses the world's largest army and air force," he continued. "She maintains these forces for conquest and aggression."

Only four hours before the general appeared at a dinner last night the oilmen had approved a resolution seeking a halt of steel goods shipments to the eastern hemisphere because of a threat of war with Russia.

Instead the oilmen would like the goods to be utilized in the western hemisphere for development of additional oil and gas reserves that would strengthen the nation's defense program.

Horror Is Described

"Such a war will see atom bomb against industrial center and explosive against masses of people," Eaker said.

"It will be Hiroshima magnified a thousand times," he warned. "Every large industrial center in the United States will look and feel like the people of Hiroshima felt that August morning in 1945."

He said the war at present is in the political stage.

"By the German calendar of 1936, it may be three to five years before the shooting starts, but many things could happen to start the shooting sooner," he stated.

Congress Criticized

The general said the United States, in order to meet this threat must have manpower conditioned through universal military training, industrial resources ready to turn at a moments notice to all-out war production; a stock pile of atom bombs, and a disciplined civil populace trained to the requirements of new war.

He criticized Congress for failing to appropriate sufficient funds for creating of a balanced defensive force that should include a strong navy, a mobile paratroop and army with power and speed to destroy an airborne invader, and a long-range air force with speed, power and range to deliver knock-out atomic bombs to industrial centers of the enemy.

"We can easily bankrupt ourselves on obsolete methods and weapons," he warned.

Resolutions Are Passed

Other convention resolutions saw the oilmen protest the federal government's attempt to claim title to submerged tidelands, and call upon the state legislature to authorize voluntary unitization and pooling agreements on oil and gas, and establish an official measurement for a standard cubic foot of gas.

IRA C. EAKER

The association also pledged support of the Texas prison board in providing "an efficient and humane" prison system.

Association directors selected Guy I. Warren, Corpus Christi, as president-elect. He will succeed H. J. (Jack) Porter, Houston, next September.

New officers also include W. T. Beard, r., San Antonio, treasurer; and C. P. McGaha, Wichita Falls, secretary.

F. I. (Tommy) Thompson, Austin, was re-elected executive vice president.

American Legion Anniversary Will Be Observed On Monday

Twenty-ninth anniversary of the founding of The American Legion will be observed formally Monday and Monday night in Lubbock, it was announced by David G. West, publicity director of Allen Bros. post 148.

A breakfast to be attended by the "Fifty Club" will be given at 8 a. m. in Hilton hotel. The 50 persons who attend will work after the breakfast in efforts to obtain new membership. They will visit business establishments here to that end.

Barbecue Dinner Set

At 7 p. m., there will be a barbecue dinner prepared by the Legion auxiliary in the Legion hall. It will be attended by members of the Legion, its auxiliary and potential members of both and their guests.

On a program to be given at that time under direction of Floyd Lebow, there will be dances by the Spanish club of Lubbock Senior High school and a piano-voice routine by Burl Hubbard.

Approximately 300 are expected at the evening program.

The American Legion was "born" in Paris, France, on Feb. 15, 1919, when Theodore Roosevelt, jr., attended a conference with other high-ranking officers of the American Army to form an organization for discharged men of the Army and Navy.

First Charter Granted

One month later, in the United States, the first charter was granted for an organization to be know as The American Legion, with names of 20 men on this charter as members.

Officers of Allen Bros. post are: H. J. McCabe, commander; J. R. Eagan, Elmer Tarbox and John Vickers, vice commanders; Wayne Groce, adjutant; Raymond Partlow, chaplain; J. M. Hall, service officer; and Lynn Shelton, sergeant-at-arms.

Entrance requirements, awards, and invitations to surrounding counties are being prepared, according to H. W. Porter, chairman of the committee.

Other members of the committee are W. E. Denton, vice-chairman, A. C. Ward, A. C. Key, A. D. Quillen, Floyd Stark, Olin D. Mathers, W. L. Patton, County Agent Cline E. Morris, Margaret Galloway, of the AAA office, all of Seminole; T. H. Flippen, S. W. Bryan, both of Seagraves; and W. F. Halbrook and J. I. McCullough, both of Loop.

Fan Clubs Cause Jane's Comeback

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 13—Jane Wyatt is the movie colony's biggest booster of fan clubs. Thirty-two of her clubs stuck by her, she said, even though she was retired for eight years.

JANE WYATT "They stick by their chosen star throug long retirements, through illness and setbacks."

Now that she's back on the screen, Miss Wyatt is finding that loyal nucleus mighty valuable.

"Members of movie fan clubs are among the most loyal people in the world," Miss Wyatt said.

"They're the greatest morale builders in the world for the lucky actress who has them."

Not all the stars are so appreciative, although all have several dozen eager clubs stuffing studio mailbags with compliments and swelling box-office receipts for their movies.

Gave Up Career

"I got married 13 years ago—I have two children now—and eventually decided that a career just wouldn't mix with a marriage," Miss Wyatt said. "So I gave up the career."

The actress, who was a New York stage star and had the lead in "Lost Horizon," devoted herself for eight years to being a wife and mother.

"During those years, 32 of my 50 fan clubs kept on functioning," she said. "There wasn't a day in all that time that I didn't receive a handful of mail from one or another of them.

Fans Hoped For Return

"All the fans hoped that I was happy in my marriage, but also they said they hoped sooner or later I'd go back to movies.

"This constant plugging by a group of loyal people was a large factor in my decision to try a comeback. When you've got people like that behind you, you know you can't lose."

After a highly-praised portrayal in "Boomerang," Miss Wyatt is playing Dick Powell's wife in independent producer Samuel Bischoff's production, "The Pitfall."

"My fans wanted me to make a lot of pictures quickly," she said.

HEADS BIZONIA — Nearest thing to a German chief of state since the end of the war is Dr. Hermann Puender, mayor of Cologne, just elected chief executive or "Oberdirektor" of Bizonia, the combined American and British occupation zones. Former undersecretary of state in the old Weimar republic, Dr. Puender will have charge of all economic administration in Bizonia and be chairman of the five-man "cabinet" of German administrative chiefs.

Pretty Mary Jane Jones Tired Of Being Mixed Up With Others

ATLANTA, March 13 (AP) — Pretty Mary Jane Jones told the Fulton superior court today she's tired of a lifetime of getting mixed up with all the other Mary Joneses in town.

In a petition to change her name she said mail and telephone calls had resulted in a long state of utter confusion. The city directory lists 53 Mary Joneses.

Her attorney asked the court to allow her to change her name to Jan De Wolfe Jones. That would leave her without a competitor in the city and telephone directories.

Criticism Of MacArthur Will Be Allowed In Jananese Press

TOKYO, March 13 (AP)—General MacArthur directed today that the Japanese press be permitted to "carry any American political attacks" against him.

This was announced by Col. M. P. Echols, the supreme commander's public information officer. Several stories, reporting comment on MacArthur's presidential candidacy, had been delayed by Allied headquarters censorship yesterday—although some were passed, including those critical of the general.

The general policy of censorship over the Japanese press has been to delete criticism of MacArthur as a supreme commander under the overall prohibition against criticism of the occupation.

Hollywood Stars Not Created By Touch Of Producer's Wand

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 13—If you think that a Hollywood star is created by the touch of a producer's wand, you can take another guess.

With only a few exceptions, the road to stardom is a long and rocky one, with many detours. Let me illustrated with the career of an ambitious 24-year-old named Peter Lawford:

Stage one—the bit player. Having played smal lroles in English films, Peter came here and had a minor part in "Lord Jeff" in 1938. Hollywood didn't exactly fall at his feet. In fact, for three years he was out of movies and even served as a parking lot attendant in Palm Beach, Fla.

Usher At Theater

Back in California, he was ushering at the Westwood Village theater when an agent landed him a bit in "Eagle Squadron" in 1941. He got a contract at MGM, where he was handed a few minute roles. Up for the role of Irene Dunne's son in "White Cliffs of Dover" (with a meaty death scene), he studied voluntarily for three weeks with MGM coach Lillian Burns. He got the role and that brings us to—

Stage two—the featured player. Lawford was tabbed for the bobbysox trade. "I rode the wake of the same wave that swept Sinatra and Johnson to popularity," he recalls. The studio started to toss some publicity his way and he began to have himself photographed at night-spots with photogenic starlets.

Roles Were Small

His roles were small but important, in such films as "Mrs. Parkington" and "Dorian Gray." Finally, the studio decided he was ripe for bigger things and he was handed a lead in "Son of Lassie."

Stage three—leads in small pictures, second leads in biggies. The Lassie picture clicked and Lawford received more attention. His fan mail mounted and he began hitting the spots with bigger names, such as Lana Turner. Fan magazines gushed over him and columnists kept track of his dates. He played secondary roles in big films like "Cluny Brown" and "It Happened in Brooklyn" and a lead in something called "My Brother Talks to Horses." His biggest break came with June Allyson in "Good News."

Stage four—stardom. Pete hasn't yet made the MGM star list, but he'll get there, if all goes well. He is still being fitted into scripts designed for bigger names ("Julia Misbehaves," "Faster Parade"), but he hopes in a few years to have stories tailored for him. He wants to be like Cary Grant, and no wonder—Grant's latest price is around $250,000 per picture.

A pound of gold is worth about $450.

But when car headlights strike them, below, they reflect the light. The raincoat is trimmed with the beads, too.

SALARY IS HIKED

ABILENE, March 13 (AP)—City Manager Boyd McDaniel of Abilene had his salary hiked today from $8,400 yearly to $10,000. He is former city manager of Big Spring.

DALLAS, March 13 (AP)—Clifford Joseph Ince, 64, general manager of the Gulf division of Western Union, died of a heart attack in his apartment here early Friday.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 13.—Ginger Rogers has that old yearning for a good musical picture. Her agents are running around Hollywood trying to line one up. Strangely enough, Ginger says she doesn't want to do another film with Fred Astaire. Her current ambition is to co-starring musical with Bing Crosby. Another actress who says she'd give anything to make a picture with Der Bingle is, of all people, Greer Garson.

JOHNSON

Laurence Tierney's brother, Jerry, will be starring in a picture titled, "Born to Fight." Shouldn't that have been for Laurence? . . . Add embarrassing moments: Mickey Rooney and girl friend Joy Lansing at a cocktail party when his estranged wife walked in with Buddy Baker. The party was for a new perfume called Shameless.

Rosalind Russell is being paged for the lead in a film version of the Homer Croy novel, "Family Honeymoon." It's a comedy about a widow who remarries and take her three children along on the honeymoon.

Vivian Blaine is abandoning those blonde locks to return to the cherry blonde shade she wore originally in her first 20th Century-Fox musicals. . . . Fibber McGee and Molly probably will make another movie this year. Their last was "He.e We Go Again," filmed almost four years ago.

LATEST GOLDWYNISM

SAM GOLDWYN recently had a story conference with a writer. The writer suggested an idea. Goldwyn turned to his secretary and said, ""Give me a pencil. I want to make a mental note of that."

Martha Vickers was named queen of the Frosh-Soph brawl at UCLA. She's been a favorite of the Uclans ever since she served as mascot of the Michigan team which trounced USC in the Rose Bowl.

Dick Walker will warble on the screen for the first time in "One Touch of Venus." Ava Gardner sings, too—with the aid of a voice double. . . . Two hundred million dollars currently is tied up in new unreleased films, and bankers are tightening the purse strings. "No more big loans," the bankers are telling Hollywood until these pictures have been released.

Bob Hope is thinking about investing half a million into the production of a picture, starring himself, to be made in South America. . . . Speaking of South America, Argentina recently stopped the importation of foreign films. It was a simple matter. They demanded that pictures must first be censored before entering the country. They they sent the censor away on an indefinite vacation.

• • •

INDEPENDENT YEN

GARY COOPER, who recently announced he was through with independent producing, evidently has the yen again. He just purchased the film rights to "Mama Maria's," a novel by Ann Chidchester.

Ronald Reagan takes off on a vacation trip immediately after completing "John Loves Mary." He'll travel in the new car Jane Wyman gave him shortly after their separation. . . . Economy note: Humphrey Bogart can't write a check any more unless his business manager, Morgan Magree, co-signs it. Sometimes Magree is referred to by you know who as "Legree."

Garry Moore and his wife, Nell, went to a movie and later were discussing an actress they'd seen. Garry wondered how old she was. Nell said, "About 40, I think."

"How can you tell?" asked Garry.

"Because," said Nell, "she's started patting herself under the chin instead of on the back."

State Wins In Hot Oil Trial

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP) — The state today had a court judgment for $40,000, the largest "hot oil" suit judgment it has ever won.

The judgment was awarded in 53rd district court yesterday against Richardson Petroleum company and others for alleged violations of Texas' oil conservation and proration laws.

Violations were alleged of railroad commission orders in the Saxet and Saxet-Frio fields, Nueces county, during the period December 1935 to June 1942.

Company Dissolved

The company, formerly of Corpus Christi was dissolved a year ago, according to assistant Attorney General Willis E. Gresham, who handled the case for the state.

Other defendants against whom the judgment was rendered were Richardson Production Co., Inc., James G. McCarrick, W. A. Richardson and A. C. Erwin.

Attorney General Price Daniel said he has assigned Gresham and assistant Attorney General Martin Harris to investigate other similar cases which he said would probably result in suits against other companies in the near future.

Man Asks Help In Recovering Hat—He Had $150 Hidden In It

MINNEAPOLIS, March 13 (AP)—S. D. Stocking, Minneapolis, today asked police to help him recover his hat which he said a thief stole while he was having lunch in a restaurant.

An old hat the thief left doesn't fit he complained. His own fit him perfectly, he said, because he had $150 in bills concealed inside the band.

The cost of medical care for Americans rose from 2.6 per cent of consumption expenditures in 1914 to 4.1 per cent in 1940.

City Grows Conscious Of Hospital Needs; Democratic Leaders Angry

TALK IS GENERAL

Will Action Follow?

THE SPEECH of Vincel Larsen, Salvation Army head here, to the Lions club the other day did more than just call public attention again to local shortages of hospital facilities and of practicing physicians; and of difficulties so often encountered in securing hospital and medical care for charity cases. The speech, and The Avalanche-Journal's reporting of it, also aroused public opinion to a point here-to-fore unequaled and still keeps conversation buzzing.

The reaction was a good thing for this community and we hope the attention drawn to the situation will result in public action which will bring correction and improvement.

That our hospital facilities have not kept pace with the growth of the city and area requiring them, none successfully can deny. Furthermore, the shortage of hospital facilities, bad enough in itself, is the principal, if not the only, factor in the shortage of practicing physicians. Lubbock is notorious as one of the last remaining "closed towns" from a hospital standpoint, which means that more physicians cannot easily be attracted here.

Adding to our hospital facilities will solve not only the need for more rooms, beds and sustaining equipment, but will also bring to Lubbock more good doctors seeking places in which to build prosperous practices. As these additional men move in, and the public can more readily secure medical attention, the current dissatisfaction will disappear.

The shortage of practicing physicians is recognized by all—doctors included. Everyone knows that the demand is so great and the supply so short that youngsters only briefly out of internships have become independent. They can see patients, or not, as their whims dictate—and in their own good time. Therefore, this much we must all realize:

Until Lubbock gets more hospital facilities, and thus more practicing physicians, people shall continue to encounter difficulty in getting doctors to call on the sick; and they shall continue to have to sit for long periods in crowded waitingrooms before their medical needs can attract attention.

* * *

MR. LARSEN'S speech also was in the public interest in that it called attention to the fact that a hospital technically classified as a "non-profit" institution may avoid paying its share of city, school district, county and state taxes, even though it accepts no more responsibility for charity cases than its privately-owned competitor which does pay taxes. St. Mary-of-the-Plains hospital is an example. Although not a charity institution in any sense of the word, that hospital does not pay local or school district taxes, although it does a capacity business at rates higher than the average charged in Lubbock and over Texas.

This condition, everywhere, needs correction by an act of the State Legislature, or by Congress, or, if necessary, by both. It is unfair not only to taxpaying competitors, but also to every individual taxpayer, because when one business is exempted from taxes its share of government and school expenses must be borne, in part, by the rest of the people.

* * *

THE enthusiastic applause which approximately 200 business and professional men gave the Larsen speech is indicative of public dissatisfaction with hospital-medical shortages here, as well as with the difficulties encountered with getting charity cases cared for.

But solving the vexatious problems involved is not the responsibility of the members of the medical profession, alone, although their sympathetic aid and professional knowledge are essential to solution. Instead, it is a job for all of us, working together, because the necessity of having sufficien medical care and hospital facilities is and should be of primary interest to everyone.

What is the solution?

It may be encouraging a group of doctors already here, or practicing elsewhere, to build a hospital.

It may be construction of a hospital, by public subscription, as recently done in El Paso and Midland.

It may be by way of the city-county route.

But whatever the way, there is a solution.

Who—or what group of citizens—will take the lead?

STASSEN, TAFT SECOND; VANDENBERG SHOWS GAINS

Gov. Dewey Maintains Lead Among GOP Voters

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 13—Governor Thomas E. Dewey's victory in New Hampshire and General Douglas MacArthur's statement of availability last week moved the race for the Republican nomination into high gear.

As the campaign starts in earnest, the latest Institute popularity test conducted among Republican voters throughout the country reveals the following current trends:

1. With only four months to go until convention time, Governor Dewey's popularity among rank and file Republicans continues steady and proportionately more than twice as great as the second most popular contender.

2. In the past six weeks there has been an important increase in support for Senator Arthur Vandenberg. Twice as many Republicans today choose the Michigan senator as did late in January. This spurt in strength presumably derives from the public attention his sponsorship of the Marshall Plan in Congress has received and from increasing speculation on his prospects as a compromise candidate for the nomination.

* * *

Stassen, Taft Second

3. All other leading possibilities for the G. O. P. standard bearer are holding their own. Harold E. Stassen and Senator Robert A. Taft practically tie for second place, with only a slight percentage advantage over Vandenberg and General MacArthur. Today's poll was completed just prior to General MacArthur's official entry into the nomination race.

In the current survey a list of eight prominently mentioned Republican presidential possibilities was handed to Republican voters. They were asked to tell the interviewers which one man they would like to see become president.

The following table gives the poll results:

Dewey	37%
Stassen	15
Taft	14
Vandenberg	13
MacArthur	12
Warren	6
Martin	1
Saltonstall	1
No choice	1
	100%

* * *

A SIMILAR nationwide study was made just before General Dwight D. Eisenhower's withdrawal from the race in January. The only significant change since then is Senator Vandenberg's jump in popularity.

In analyzing the meaning of this type of poll two things should be borne in mind. First, the poll shows the attitued of representative Republican voters throughout the country rather than indicating the outcome in any specific state primary. Second, delegates to conventions choose party nominees and not the rank and file party members.

At approximately the same stage in the 1944 race a similar Institute survey showed Governor Dewey holding a lead of better than two to one over his nearest competitor, Wendell Willkie. On February 27, 1944, 45 per cent of Republican voters named Dewey, 21 per cent Willkie and 10 per cent MacArthur. John W. Bricker, Stassen, Warren and Eric Johnston trailed the leaders in that order.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

A number of readers have written recently and asked for my opinion about the future of the United Nations.

"Will the United Nations be another League of Nations?" That is what they ask. "What good is the United Nations when it can't enforce any of its decisions?"

Were I a political columnist or a radio commentator I would have the answer all ready for you.

But being just an ordinary fellow and depending entirely on my common sense and the few things I have learned in school and by experience, all I can say is: "I don't know, but it doesn't look good to me."

A few days ago I took a stroll through that section in New York where the United Nations is supposed to have its magnificent headquarters.

I had seen all sorts of beautiful pictures and read many articles about the gorgeous monument to peace and common understanding that would be erected on the site at the cost of enough millions of dollars to support a million starving Europeon families for several weeks.

What did I see?

Inactivity. Rubble. Disorder. A mess.

The pictures and the articles faded from my mind. Was all this jumble the future of the United Nations?

* * *

This morning there was a picture in my paper.

"Where the U. N. General Assembly Will Meet In Paris" was the caption.

It showed a beautiful building called the "Palais de Chaillot," a classical structure. There were terraces and lovely gardens and all the elegance and chic of which the French are masters.

But what did I see in the foreground?

The colossal statue of a bull, looking ominously at me.

I thought of that old phrase about "throwing the bull" and of the several sessions of the United Nations I had attended here at Lake Success.

I wondered.

Was the bull to be the emblem of the United Nations?

* * *

WILL the United Nations be successful?

Read your newspapers.

Read about the daily insults we get from Russia. Read about the murders in Palestine. Read about what is happening Europe and in Asia and in Africa and in Australia.

Is there any sign, anywhere, that nations are united, that there is peace in the hearts of men, that good will and brotherly love are more than mere phrases to be used on holidays and during election campaigns?

The United Nations is made up of the representatives of disunited nations.

Maybe it will succeed, and I pray that it will.

But so far I see only rubble—and bull.

TRUMAN IGNORS THEM

War Dad Has Advice

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky has been 35 long years in Congress. During ten years of that time he has been Senate leader of the Democratic party and has guided both Roosevelt and Truman legislation through tough congressional debates.

PEARSON

At the other end of the capitol, ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn has served in Congress for 35 years. During part of that time, serving as speaker, he was responsible for piloting scores of important bills through the House.

Both these men are skilled strategists, and FDR used to call them to the White House for conferences once a week. Truman started out by doing this.

But, believe it or not, since the beginning of 1948, neither Barkley nor Rayburn has had one private conference with the President.

All sorts of other people have gone to see him, but not them. This Friday they had luncheon with Truman—but with a lot of other people present. There was no chance to talk business.

No wonder Democratic leaders are sore.

War Dad Gives Advice

President Truman got some straight-from-the-shoulder advice on the United Nations the other day from Seattle's C. Norman Dickinson, president of the American War Dads. The War Dads, a Rotary-sponsored organization of veterans' fathers, has been active in peace and hospitalization work.

"My organization has had a lot to do with the U. N." argued Dickinson, "and like many others, we are convinced it won't work as now constituted. In our opinion, you can follow either of two courses. Either amend the U. N. charter to do away with Russia's veto stranglehold, or form a new organization and start from scratch.

"I think that all friendly nations, desirous of peace, would be willing to get together in a new federation that would bypass Russia and its satellites," Dickinson urged.

Truman, however, didn't agree.

"I have confidence in the ultimate ability of the United Nations to do the things it has set out to do," he told Dickinson. "It will take time. We must be patient."

RAMBUNCTIOUS, left-wing Congressman Vito Marcantonio of New York has long been the "majority leader," "the party whip" and the total membership of the American Labor party in Congress. Whereas the Republicans and Democrats have a whole series of "whips' to get the membership in line on important votes, Marcantonio has had only himself to boss. He has labored alone—a situation perfectly okay witht Vito, for he likes to consider himself a modern David jousting with the "big interests."

But now the American Labor party has two members in Congress—following the election of Representative Leo Isacson, Henry Wallace's candidate, in New York. The other day, newcomer Isacson was chatting with Mississippi's rootin'-tootin' John Rankin, who hates everything Henry Wallace and Marcantonio stand for.

Spotting the two through the door of the speaker's lobby, Marcantonio exploded in mock fury.

"Something ought to be done about this," he told Sam Rayburn. "I've been trying for 12 years to get a 'whip' in Congress, and now that I've finally got one, Rankin's in there trying to steal him away from me."

Note—Rankin is now nicknamed by his colleagues "Mr. Hush" or "The Talking Man."

Military-Training Debate

Secretary of Defense Forrestal was bombarded with some hot questions on the actual need and cost of universal military training in a 90-minute closed-door session the other day.

He stuck doggedly to his guns, however, contending that the compulsory training of 18-year-old youths was vital to our future security.

Committee members demanded to know if Forrestal didn't think that we should now concentrate on building up our air power instead of training ground forces. This is an atomic, not an infantry age, they told him.

The defense chief's answer was an emphatic "no." In supporting his position, however, he produced nothing but brass-hat bromides which Congress has been hearing for years.

"The defense or offense of any country depends upon the integrated action of all three services—air, ground and sea," declared Forrestal. "A strong air force alone is not the answer.

"The proponents of this air doctrine, including Senator Taft, whom I regard highly, are wrongly advised."

He went on to say that it would be useless to have an air force, for instance, in Alaska, our closest frontier to Russia, unless we have ground troops there to guard our installations. However, he failed to answer the argument that the U.S. has around 15,000,000 recently demobilized men, all trained, who could be mobilized again very quickly, if necessary.

* * *

FORRESTAL became somewhat less articulate when Democratic Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia tried to pin him down on the eventual cost of military training. He refused to state even a round figure, contending it was "a question of manpower," depending on the size of occupation forces we might need in future emergencies and where and for how long such forces would have to be maintained.

"Are our present military forces adequate our security?" asked Byrd.

"No, they are not," replied Forrestal.

"Well, we are now spending at the rate of 11 billions a year for the army and navy and you say our forces are inadequate," persisted Byrd. "How much will it cost to make them adequate? Are we going to continue spending until we are busted?"

"My only interest is the country's security," replied Forrestal. "All I can do is tell you what we need from a defense standpoint. It is up to Congress to decide whether it wants to spend the money."

"I'm interested in security also, economic as well as military," asserted the Virginia senator. "If we continue this military spending, the first thing you know we'll have a $50-billion over-all budget every year and go broke. The most important thing for us to do if we want to save the rest of the world is to remain solvent ourselves."

"I'm just as interested as you are in keeping the nation solvent, senator," shot back Forrestal

ARE OUR MORALS GOOD ENOUGH?

Cold Facts In "Life And Morals"

"LIFE AND MORALS," by S. J. Holmes; (Macmillan).

ARE our morals good enough for us today, in 1948?

Once upon a time, and in some opinion even now, a man needed only to be honest, kindly, just and pious; thus he stilled his conscience, felt confidence of the beneficience of his God, and was assured of the respect of his neighbors.

But in the present world of Communism and capitalism, Catholic and Baptist and free-thinker, employer and employee, cosmopolitan and provincial, a man can be "good" in yesterday's sense without being good enough. Holmes claims this is a new, not a hand-me-down, world, and hand-me-down standards do not fill the bill.

Community The Judge

The author, a zoologist, starts out with the consideration of a body cell, which has special functions of its own to fulfill; it is at its best not when it runs riot, as in cancer, but when it does the job proper to it in relation to the other cells. It is "good" when it works within the pattern of its community.

Holmes says the community must be the judge. He claims many inherited or so-called revealed notions of behavior block an intelligent and scientific investigation. He does not believe we should look to the Bible for our judgments about divorce, to ecclesiastics for our judgments about birth control, to romantics for judgments about euthanasia, and so on.

"Immoral solutions of moral problems" are the certain result of depending on theology rather than on "rational and scientific methods," he says in a book which reaches cold-blooded conclusions about very hot topics.

"Son Of The Moon"

"SON OF THE MOON," by Joseph George Hitrec; (Harper).

WINNER of the $10,000 Harper prize for 1948, this novel is about the return of Vijay Ramsingh to the land of his fathers and to his Rajput inheritance.

Vijay, a young pilot, has been in Europe and, his father and mother fear, absorbed too much of the western spirit to suit their eastern traditions. He brings back grandiose ideas, he explains them to his Muslim friend Salim and to his relatives, but his enthusiasm does not drive them to dig in their pockets for the money needed to finance his projects. His longing for Constance, the mistress he left in England, is assuaged with the experienced assistance of half-caste Thelma, yet all the time his parents urge him to marry Chanda.

Emancipation Fails

His emancipation from Hindu ways, though it seemed complete enough while he was abroad, is tested severely by interracial strife, Congress party politics and his subordinate status in a land ruled by the English. It is not distance, but propinquity, which makes his heart grow fonder; the appeal of the old life becomes increasingly insistent until he learns happily that what the Ramsinghs wanted for him is what he himself wants most of all.

Romance vies with local color for the reader's interest. Hitrec is telling us not only what he knows about love but also what he knows about India . . . middle-class India. A death and a funeral, a bustling household, a street fight, a religious celebration, a courtship . . . these are not merely described but fully realized, so that we share the grief, are deafened by the chatter of servants and family, and so on.

But there is a lack of intensity, or in part perhaps of relevance, in the many pages of background material. The longest way around may have been the shortest way home for Vijay, but it is not for Hitrec. When he wants to grip our attention, he does it admirably. He doesn't want to often enough. He sets the stage for nothing less than the incalculable unfolding of India's future, but all that happens is that a boy and girl fall in love.

Occupation Outline

IF the United States loses interest too soon in its thus-far successful occupation of Japan, the Japanese may yet turn to Communism, according to Noel F. Busch.

Busch's book, Fallen Sun (Appleton-Century) is a short, beautifully written outline of the occupation, description of Japanese life and culture and discussion of Japan's future possibilities.

Busch suggests a reason for Soviet Russia's "almost complacent acquiesence in the principle of complete control of the occupation by the United States." He speculates:

"Reasoning from their own experience, the Russians must have remembered that countries where the Soviet Army has been in residence usually hate and fear Marxism. Consequently, they may well have expected that the Japanese, after a taste o fcompulsory democracy, would develop a violent allergy to it, thus simplifying their eventual conversion to Stalinism.

Better Preconditioned

"Accustomed to paternal supervision by an Emperor and authoritarian rule by a military oligarchy, the Japanese are better preconditioned for the kind of dictatorship required by Communism than for competitive democracy and the secret ballot."

Busch's first-hand study of Japan led him to conclude the American occupation army should eventually "be replaced by a group, however small, of first-class administrators and, even more important, first-class sociologists who could determine just how much and how well the Japanese are learning their lessons and how long they are likely to retain them."

Citing Japanese eagerness to copy the ways of Americans, the writer praises General Douglas MacArthur "who, although he was not basically responsible for the Japanese attitude, deserves full credit for diagnosing it correctly and exploiting it to the utmost."

Good War Book

PERHAPS one war book in ten is worth reading, remembering and cogitating upon. If nine may be discarded, the tenth, to be kept, is Alan Marcus' Straw to Make Brick (Atlantic-Little, Brown).

Like a Bell for Adano, Marcus' tale deals with American Military Government. It deals, too, with brass and, bombast, childishness and "chicken" in American Army ranks which every GI knew about.

Marcus, back from Germany, chose to tell the problems confronting an alien army set down to govern a conquered people. He sketches authoritatively the submissive arrogance of the Nazi bootlickers; the abased shame of a great nation in defeat; the chicanery of the wise boys who always know the angles and operate successfully, in victory or defeat.

More than that, he outlines clearly the bungling mismanagement which corrupted the efforts of too many experiments in military government. He brings to life the psychology of Army officials whose interests lay more actively in obtaining a good bargain for a Leica camera than in choosing a constructive burgomeister for a devastated people awaiting rehabilitation.

Marcus writes with a vivid awareness of the cigaret-currency of post-war Germany; of the comical futility of the non-fraternization" regulations; of the frantic avidness of the average American to be redeployed.

Marcus has a love story of course. It is an important, living, love story, but not nearly so important or living as his major theme.

Ancient Stone Relic Reveals Norsemen Were In America 130 Years Before Arrival Of Columbus

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 13. — One hundred and thirty years before Columbus "discovered" America, a party of Norsemen gazed on their dead beside a Minnesota lake and asked the Virgin Mary to "save us from peril."

Fearing the fate of their fellows —massacred by hostile Indians— they inscribed their story for posterity on a piece of stone.

This stone, the Smithsonian Institution said today, is "one of the most significant historical objects ever found in the new world." It measures 31 by 16 inches and weighs about 200 pounds.

Inscription Translated

As translated and reconstructed the inscription, composed in the every-day language of 14th century Norway, reads:

"We are eight Goths (Swedes) and 22 Norwegians on (an) exploration journey from Vineland through (or across) the west. We had a camp by (a lake with) 2 skerries (rocky isles) one day's journey north from this stone.

"We were out and fished one day. After we came home (we) found ten (of our) men red with blood and dead. AVM (presumably 'Hail Mary') save us from peril.

"(We) have ten of our party by the sea to look after our ships and 14 days' journey from this island. Year 1362."

Regarded As Fake

The stone was brought here recently from Alexandria, Minn., for safe-keeping and study by scholars. For years after it was found on a central Minnesota farm near Kensington in 1898, the stone was regarded as a fake.

But in the past half century, the Smithsonian said, "one bit of evidence after another has come to light indicating that the relic is genuine."

From Norse records and other data, Smithsonian archaeologists worked out the story of the expedition. Its members were youths chosen from the Norse King's court to rescue a "lost colony" from Greenland. Its leader was "a certain Paul Knutson."

On Fruitless Quest

But when the rescuers reached Greenland, the settlers long since had sailed southwestward toward the continental mainland. Kuntson's men learned the colonists' course, presumably from eskimos, and followed.

The rescuers, pursuing a fruitless quest, arrived in central Minnesota by way of Hudson bay and various streams. By the lake with the "2 skerries" they met disaster.

The inscription on the Kensington stone apparently was "the despairing message to posterity of a party of doomed white men and Christians who had penetrated almost to the center of this continent more than a century before the first voyage of Columbus."

Edgar Grant Sisson Is Taken By Death

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Edgar Grant Sisson, 72, former magazine editor, newspaperman and co-chairman of the committe on public information during the first World war, died yesterday.

A native of Alto, Wis., Sisson became managing editor of Collier's weekly in 1911 and from 1914 to 1917 was editor of Cosmopolitan magazine.

After studying at Northwestern university, Sisson entered the newspaper field in Chicago, becoming, in turn, drama editor of the Chicago Tribune, assistant city editor of the Chicago American, and city editor of the Tribune.

As co-chairman of the public information committee, Sisson in 1917 was sent by President Wilson to Russia to disseminate the principles expressed by the President in his speeches on war aims.

In 1931, Sisson wrote, "One Hundred Red Days," a book dealing with the Russian revolution.

Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Starts Long Prison Term In Slaying

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP) — A Bible beneath his arm, James Hartmann, 15-year-old convicted slayer, left the county jail today to begin a 26 to 35 year term at the state penitentiary in Joliet.

Hartmann was sentenced to 25 years for murder in the knife-slaying of a minister's wife, Mrs. Gracelyn Bush. He also received one to 10 years on a charge of committing a crime against nature.

Princess Helena Victoria Is Taken By Death On Saturday

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—Princess Helena Victoria, a cousin of King George VI and a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, died in her London home today. She was 77.

Buckingham palace sources said she had been in poor health for some time.

She was the daughter of Princess Christian, third daughter of Queen Victoria.

For many years the princess lived in a London west end apartment with her sister, Princess Marie Louise.

She led an extremely quiet life in her later years and rarely was seen in public.

The CHIROPRACTOR and You

UNABLE TO WALK

Case History No. 868; Age 30; Symptoms; Unable to walk; indigestion; nervousesss; occasional headaches; heart trouble, dizziness; Fever; Constipation

X-RAY PICTURES OF SPINE FIND CAUSE

This case was carried into the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC in a chair. X-Ray pictures of his spine revealed that his top most vertebra next to his skull was badly out of alignment with the skull bone above and the second vertebra in his neck below producing a severe pressure on the spinal cord.

The Neurocalometer (nerve test) analysis revealed a severe and exact amount of nerve interference existing between the brain and the affected region of his body.

SPECIFIC CHIROPRACTIC REMOVED THE CAUSE

Scientific Adjustments corrected the cause of his troubles and the following letter proves beyond dispute what chiropractic has done for him:

"Dear Dr. Stephens:"

"When I first came to your office I was carried in by means of a chair. I was very nervous and was constantly bothered by indigestion. Every thing I ate caused gas which in turn caused my heart to become crowded. I also suffered from the after effects of rheumatic fever. I had not walked in about four or five months. An X-Ray was taken of my spine and you adjusted me accordingly. I began to improve almost immediately."

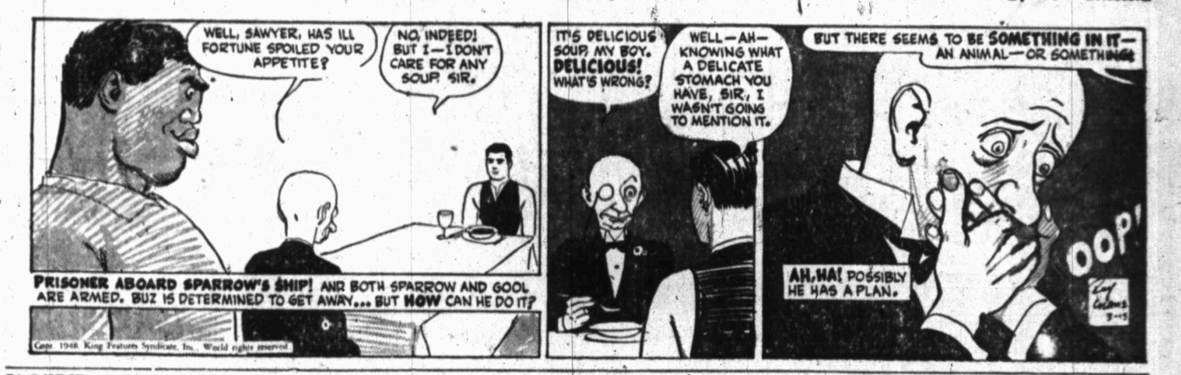

"Now I have been under your care about three months and have had only two adjustments. I was able to walk in about a month after the first adjustment. At present I am able to be up all day and do small chores about the house. I am steadily gaining and believe that in a few more months I will be as well as ever."

"Your grateful patient."

Controversy Continue To Rage Over Ownership Of Tidelands

BY MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, March 13 — The submerged tidelands Washington show has slowed down a bit but participants continue to drop a bit of newspaper headline material.

Former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, in testifying for federal ownership of the tidelands, says former Congressman Hatton Sumners of Dallas first suggested in 1938 the government's tidelands suit against California.

Report Is Denied

Sumners, in Albuquerque, N. M., replied vigorously he never has "entertained or expressed any such view," but, instead, has believed in state ownership.

Former Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana says oil companies stand to gain no matter whether Congress passes a bill giving the states ownership or an administration bill providing for federal leasing of the land.

"The government bill is entirely in favor of the big oil companies as against the little fellows who got out prospecting for oil," Wheeler said.

Officials Back State Fight

Robert Lee Bobbitt, San Antonio, chairman of the state bar's tidelands committee, called upon the administration to leave Congress free to set up a policy for the tidelands.

He said he hopes there will be no interference from the administration "directly or indirectly."

Alabama Rep. Hobbs charged oil companies and big operators are behind the fight to place ownership with the states, asserting the campaign began more than a decade ago during Standard Oil operations in California.

Governors or other public officials from 48 states have testified or indicated support of state ownership.

The excepted states are Missouri and Arizona.

Washington sources says Missouri "just doesn't care."

Arizona's indifference still is to be explained.

Meanwhile, at Marshall, the Harrison county Democratic executive committee, has called upon Dallas-born Tom Clark, U. S. Attorney General, to resign instead of "double cross" his home state by suing for federal ownership of the tidelands.

Charges Are Made

Nebraska's Senator Wherry did not cause much excitement when he made his recent recommendation to President Truman that the Connally hot oil act be suspended.

Said Oklahoma's conservation director Walter T. Pound: "Temporary suspension would have no effect in Oklahoma."

Said Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson: "There would be no effect on Texas production."

Noting that the President has the right to suspend the Connally act when supply and demand get out of balance, the Nebraska senator said the Senate Small Business committee is convinced major oil companies are manipulating production and transportation "to bring about unreasonably high prices."

Thompson said Texas wells are producing their maximum at their most efficient rate.

Strike Vote Set

O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International union, CIO, has announced its national negotiating committee has called for a strike vote among 10,000 Sinclair Refining company employes.

Knight said the action is a result of a breakdown in contract negotiations for a 30-cent hourly wage increase, the third postwar request for pay boosts by the union. The current Sinclair contract expires July 1.

Sinclair's employes comprise the largest OWIU group bargaining for a single contract. Sinclair was the first major company to meet the union's second postwar demand, labeled as a cost-of-living boost.

Crude Output Drops

On the statistical side:

American Petroleum Institute's daily average crude production report for the week ending March 6 was 5,352,900 barrels, a drop of 34,225 from the previous week.

The Oil and Gas Journal estimated the week's daily average at 5,379,620, a decrease of approximately 47,000 with Texas accounting for 32,150 of the drop.

API reported kerosene stocks gained 249,000 barrels during the week for a total of 9,843,000 barrels, with gasoline stocks up 434,000 barrels to 111,474,000, about 7,000,000 above the same period last year. Gas oil and distillate fuel oil stocks, however, continued to drop and totaled 32,748,000 barrels as against 33,836,000 a week earlier.

Refinery operations showed daily average runs to stills dropping 152,000 barrels to 5,311,000. Gasoline production for the week totaled 15,451,000 barrels, down 345,000 barrels.

Continental Oil company has ordered a cost-of-living bonus for salaried employes, ranging from $17.50 to $40 monthly . . . McCarthy Oil and Gas corporation has completed plans for drilling a 12,000 foot test in the Jackson Pastures field in Galveston bay, Chambers county.

Garden City, Kas., has been selected by Stanolind Oil and Gas company as site for its multimillion dollar synthetic plant for convering natural gas in to liquid fuels and chemicals . . . A. C. Rubel, vice president of Union Oil of California, has advised a House subcommittee the West Coast is running out of oil and that commercial production of synthetic fuels from Colorado shale should be started as soon as possible . . . Texas oil well completions through March 5 totaled 1,085 for the year as compared with 766 the same period of 1947; gas wells totaled 125 as compared to 98 . . . Texas Eastern Transmission has asked Federal Power commission for a permit to build and operate a 1,020 mile, 26 inch natural gas pipeline from near Longview to near Wind Right, Pa. The line, larger than the big inch, is to be designed to deliver 425,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

OVERSIGHT REMEDIED

ABILENE, March 13 (U.P.)—Members of the Abilene parks board were genuine city officials today.

They have served for two years —but without taking an oath of office, a reporter discovered.

L. D. Pendleton To Seek Election As County Treasurer

L. D. Pendleton Saturday authorized The Avalanche-Journal to announce his candidacy for the office of county treasurer, subject to the Democratic primaries.

In a formal statement, Pendleton said:

"I was born and reared at Farmersville, Collin county, where I was graduated from high school. I attended Allen academy, a branch of Texas A. & M. college at Bryan, and moved to Lubbock county in 1917.

"I farmed north of Lubbock near Monroe and, later, west of Lubbock on the Slide road, then moved in 1932 to Lubbock.

"Since then, I have engaged in government cotton classing and tax rendition work. I live with my wife at 1713 Thirteenth.

"If I am elected county treasurer I promise to devote my full time to work of the office. I will appreciate the votes and influence of the public in connection with my candidacy."

Mystery Of Missing Jewels In San Antonio Is Solved

SAN ANTONIO, March 13 (U.P.)—The mystery of the missing jewels apparently was solved today.

Detectives arrested a 35-year-old negro woman suspected of stealing $10,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables from San Antonio homes.

The woman, they said, would answer want ads for positions as a maid, take the job, then make off with everything she could find at the first opportunity. The detectives believe she worked the trick at least 30 times.

About three per cent of Americans 18 to 21 years old were in college-grade schools in 1890 compared with 15 per cent in 1940.

Nine Percent Drop In Texas Retail Sales Is Estimated

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—A 9 percent drop in Texas retail sales was estimated today.

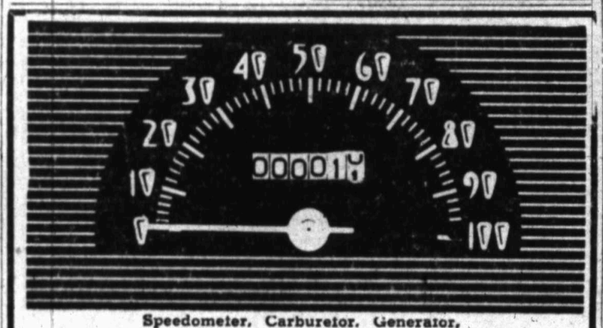

The University of Texas bureau of business research reported that preliminary tabulations indicate such a decline, counter to the seasonal pattern, from January sales.

The tabulations indicated total February retail sales at $358,000,000.
