Safety Tips Given On Gasoline Cans

DALLAS (SpI) — Fishing, painting, and mowing the grass are standard summer activities for most American men. These pursuits often involve the use of gasoline or kerosene, and the need for safety precautions.

"Service station operators who fill the customers' containers with gasoline or other petroleum products are legally responsible for making sure the containers bear appropriate labels and warning statements," according to Director Sam D. Fine, of the Dallas District Food and Drug Administration. Regulations for appropriate warnings on the labels have been established under the federal hazardous substances labeling act.

Many manufacturers of home-size containers are including "built-in" labels on their cans. Oil companies are cooperating, too, by providing labels which may be applied to the customers' containers when they are filled.

"After the gasoline or kerosene is taken home it should not be placed in a glass container which is easily broken," said Fine.

Storage out of the reach of children is important. Kerosene alone is responsible for a great many injuries. During a recent two and one-half year period reports show that 1,600 persons who accidentally drank kerosene were injured.

Labels on hazardous substances are required for public protection. Reading and heeding them can help keep summer safe.

CLARK WANTS HOUSE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., wants the government to buy the house in Philadelphia where Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence — it's now a hot dog stand.

In a statement prepared for submission to the Senate Interior Committee today, Clark said a pending bill would permit the National Park Service to acquire the building, known as the Graff House, at Seventh and Market streets for about $200,000.

He said a group of private citizens planned to put up the funds to reconstruct the house as a national historic site.

California Primary May Set Course for Republicans

By RAYMOND LAHR

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California Republicans vote Tuesday in a presidential primary expected to set the course for the GOP in 1964 and perhaps for years to come.

It is a two-man contest of Arizona, hero of the Republican conservative wing, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who is appealing to liberals and moderates in the party. The prize is 86 national convention votes. Write-in votes for other candidates cannot be counted.

Victory for Goldwater, who has collected most of the national convention delegates chosen so far, would almost insure his nomination at the Republican convention in July.

By winning in California, Rockefeller would make himself a formidable candidate, at last, but the victory would not insure his nomination. Despite his election twice in the pivotal state of New York, he is considered "too liberal" by many Republicans. His divorce and remarriage also are still regarded as a serious political handicap, offensive to many women voters.

Rockefeller Favored

Toward the end of the California campaign, Rockefeller found himself in an unfamiliar role. He was favored to defeat Goldwater, who had long been judged to be in front.

Three developments contributed to this drastic change in the outlook:

— Rockefeller gained momentum from his upset victory in the May 15 Oregon primary, the only 1964 contest in which all major contenders were entered on an equal footing. Six names were on the ballot.

— Republicans trying to draft Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam,

Students Storm US Java Building

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesian students apparently spurred on by Communists, stormed the U.S. Information Service building at Surabaya, East Java, on Wednesday and burned films, books and magazines, it was reported Saturday.

No one was injured and the building was not damaged, the U.S. Embassy reported.

The embassy said about 150 students from the Surabaya school of education burned American books while their instructors looked on. They also destroyed USIS stocks of Indonesian language magazines on American life and culture and burned films.

Communists have been agitating for the past several months for a ban on publication and distribution of the magazines and have sponsored a boycott of Hollywood films.

OU Schedules Graduation

NORMAN, Okla. (SpI) — The University of Oklahoma will confer degrees on 2,021 graduates in the Class of 1964 at commencement exercises this spring. Commencement for 1,932 degree candidates will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at Oklahoma Memorial Stadium on the main campus. Eighty-nine candidates who will receive Doctor of Medicine degrees will be graduated June 14 at Holmberg Hall auditorium.

Dr. George L. Cross, OU president, will preside at the regular commencement May 31. Graduates will be welcomed to the Alumni Association by Jack A. Taylor, Oklahoma City, association president. Response for the class will be given by Stephen Lawton, Norman, senior class president.

The class of 1964 includes 60 students receiving the doctor of philosophy degree, 77 the bachelor of laws, 380 the master's degree, 12 the doctor of education degree and 4 the bachelor of liberal studies degree.

Estelle B. Osborne of Pampa will be among those receiving a masters of science degree.

FT. HOOD SOLDIER DEAD

TEMPLE (UPI) — One Ft. Hood soldier was killed and another injured early today in the crash of their motorcycle and a car.

Anthony J. Gazarek, 24, of the 108th Finance Co. died shortly after the accident on a Temple street. Thomas G. Gorman, also of Ft. Hood, was taken to the base hospital.

threw their support to Rockefeller. Their tactical goal was to stop Goldwater. The explanation was that Rockefeller delegates in California would be more likely than Goldwater's to support Lodge, if and when released.

For example, Eisenhower gave his description of the ideal 1964 Republican presidential nominee in a statement last weekend. While still declaring himself neutral, his statement seemed to be timed to influence the California primary. And no other Republican leader can approach Eisenhower in commanding the respect of the Republican rank and file.

Goldwater and Rockefeller each tried on the Eisenhower tailoring and each found that it best fitted him. But the statement was widely interpreted to be that Goldwater was not favored by the ex-president.

Boosts 1960 Platform

Goldwater criticized before and after its adoption. Eisenhower comments on the United Nations, foreign policy, civil rights and Social Security also appeared at odds with Goldwater positions.

Friends of Eisenhower believe he is unenthusiastic about both Goldwater and Rockefeller. However, a Rockefeller victory in California would improve the chances for nominating Lodge, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William W. Scranton or others

Goldwater are particularly concerned about the party organization and are worried that a Goldwater victory would enable extremist groups to take control.

also in a Lotus, led for seven laps but had to go out in the 47th lap when his machine developed suspension problems.

That was the signal for Foyt to take over and the Texas tornado held the lead for the final 145 laps. He made two evenly-spaced pit stops, both times for fuel, after the 73rd and 140th laps, as other contestants dropped out.

At the end, there were only 12 cars out of the original 33 still on the track. It was the lowest number since 1961, when Foyt beat Sachs by just eight seconds. Behind Ruby was rookie Johnnie White in fourth place and Johnnie Boyd in fifth.

The yellow caution light was on for a total of 18 minutes and 15 seconds after the race resumed following the Sachs-MacDonald crackup and it was on at the very end when Bobby Grim spun into the southeast turn.

"Offys" Vindicated

It was a grand victory for Foyt, who has won every U.S. Auto Club big car race this year. It was also a vindication for the old-fashioned "Offys," the traditional kings of the Speedway which have been hotly challenged by the new-fangled rear-engine Lotus-Fords.

High winds, possibly a tornado, ripped up the gymnasium at Belcherville high school early Saturday near the Oklahoma-Texas border. Windows were knocked out of one home by hail and a butane gas tank was blown away.

Jacksboro reported 7.39 inches of rain in a monsoon-like downpour in the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. Saturday.

Up to eight inches of rain Saturday night collapsed a wooden bridge at Mirror Lake Park, marooning 600 persons attending a company picnic near Spring in Harris County.

The park is about 15 miles north of Houston.

Harris County sheriff's deputies were hindered in sending aid because parts of U.S. Highway 75 were under as much as 2 feet of water.

The forecast for Pampa and vicinity calls for more rain through tonight with considerable cloudiness and continued cool weather.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUTH AND PARENTS

(Editor's Note: — The following is one of a series of brief, informative articles to be published daily in the News. PETTY THEIEVERY

Petty thievery is a serious problem among children. Young children often "find" things that don't belong to them. Parents should be alert to unusual possessions their children may have and be conscientious about the return of stolen articles. Most common theft are items from school desks and lockers, bicycles, bicycle parts or accessories, automobile hubcaps and small items from stores. Early attention to an understanding of the property rights of others is a vital part of every child's home training.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Coleman & Co. believes "the consolidation phase of the market probably will continue until early summer."

"Rotational activity, among groups," Coleman says, "will continue as nervous investors switch out of securities they feel are potentially vulnerable into others that seem more attractive. It could be a good trading market."

Baehre & Co. feels that, in view of rising machine tool orders and reports on capital spending, the long term outlook for the market continues to be favorable.

Analyst Elliot Janeway says that by the time this summer produces 1964's spring crop of earnings reports and by the time next spring brings the news of full 1964 earnings, "a good deal of the present worry about high price-earnings ratios will seem exaggerated."

Soybean Called Ideal Late Crop

Soybeans look like real "comers" on the Plains. Not only are they usually a profitable crop in their own right, but they also have an advantage in their late planting date. According to Area Extension Agronomist Billy Gunter, soybeans are fast gaining acceptance as a "catch crop" in their own right, but they're too late to replant.

Gunter points out that soybeans are recommended for planting on the Plains between June 1 and June 20. However, they can be planted as late as July 1 in the southern portion of the Plains if required, says county agent Foster Whaley.

Another advantage of the late planting date is in weed control on weedy fields. Mechanical tillage can be practiced up until the time beans are planted. In the last few years, soybean acreage on the Texas High Plains has mushroomed. From 18,000 acres in 1956 to a record approximate 90,000 acres in 1963, this crop has boomed in planted acreage. Gunter says over 90 per cent of the total Texas soybean acreage is on the High Plains. While 40-45 bushels are not uncommon, average yield last year for the Plains was approximately 32 bushels an acre. Support price for soybeans on the Plains this year will be around $2.17 a bushel. In recent years, market price has been higher than the support price.

The bulk of soybeans on the High Plains are grown within a 35 mile radius of Plainview. Producers outside this area should check with local elevator operators to see if they can handle soybeans, advises county agent Foster Whaley.

To grow soybeans successfully — for both high per acre yields and high net profit — an ample amount of management knowhow is needed, continues Gunter. He outlines recommendations for soybean production as follows:

Varities: Hill and Lee varieties are recommended for the High Plains. The variety Hinn looks promising, but at present is available only to certified seed producers. Soybeans are well adapted to all major soils of the High Plains. The only exception is where chlorosis shows up in grain sorghum.

Planting: Seed one bushel (60 pounds) per acre. Use good quality seed and place them two inches deep in the soil. Plant with a shallow bed to assure getting cutter bar of the combine below bottom pods. (On the last cultivation, lay by so cutter bar can still get under lower pods.)

Irrigation: For maximum yields, three to four summer irrigations are required. However, 30 to 35 bushels are frequently made on only two summer irrigations. The first irrigation should normally be made when bloom buds begin to appear. The last irrigation is normally in September — and can be the most important watering. Though not recommended for dryland, an occasional producer has made good yields on dryland.

Fertilizer: Soybeans are a legume and supply their own nitrogen — when properly inoculated. An exception to this is when they follow a high residue crop such as grain sorghum. In such situations, Gunter recommends adding about 20 pounds of nitrogen to act as a "starter." Soybeans are also heavy feeders on phosphorus and a soil test is recommended to learn if a phosphorus deficiency exists.

More information about soybean production can be obtained from County Agent Foster Whaley.

Bill Crisp who farms north of Alameda has completed 3,000 feet of 1½-inch underground plastic pipe for livestock water. Bill has also completed a new mill. He can water two pastures from this mill by putting in the underground pipe. Sometimes it is much cheaper to put in underground pipe than to dig another well. Bill is carrying out a complete conservation plan under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

D. W. Swain has completed 37 acres of graded borders. He will put bermudagrass in these borders. Elmer Balch has just completed 10 acres of graded borders on the farm he operates southeast of Pampa. He plans to sprig these borders to bermudagrass. Balch also plans to sprig his waterway to bermudagrass. Charles Cooke sowed 118 acres to weeping lovegrass on his ranch north of McLean. Tony Smithman sprigged 20 acres to bermudagrass on his farm south of McLean. It cost about $23 per acre to sprig and fertilize an acre of bermudagrass. John Haynes is shaping some gullies on the Mullanax farm southwest of McLean. Haynes is carrying out a complete conservation plan on this farm under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Brush Control — The following have sprayed sagebrush and shinners: Tony Smithman, John Rice, Mrs. James Noel, Harvey Hudgins, Billy Davis. Several others plan to spray if it rains.

Stubble Mulch Farming — It will not be too long till wheat harvest on most dryland acreage. Since we appear to be in a dry cycle it would be a good idea to use stubble on our wheat stubble. Stubble mulch farming is the best way to get moisture into the ground. It is also the best insurance you can get against soil blowing.

Wheat Plan Ups Income

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Department economists predict that the government's new wheat program would put farm income from the 1964 crop at $2.2 billion.

This is $100 million below the farm value of the 1963 wheat crop. But it is $500 million above the figure predicted for 1964 before passage of new wheat legislation last month.

Before passage of the bill, officials had said it would limit the drop from 1963 wheat income to $150 million. The estimate forecasts a decline of $100 million.

The new wheat program offers price supports and acreage-diversion payments to growers who voluntarily comply with federal acreage controls. The price supports give co-operating farmers an average return of about $1.72 a bushel compared with the originally scheduled 1964 rate of $1.26. The 1963 wheat supports are $1.82 for most farmers, and $2 for those who reduced acreage below their regular allotments.

An Agriculture Department report also predicted another decline in the wheat surplus during the 1964 marketing season. Department officials said the 1964 crop is now estimated at 1.2 billion bushels. This is about 45 million bushels below current estimates of demand during the coming marketing year and means buyers will pull about 45 million bushels out of the government's wheat surplus stockpile. Experts say the cut would be even greater if the new wheat program reduces production below current estimates.

Area Farmers Make Ag Tour

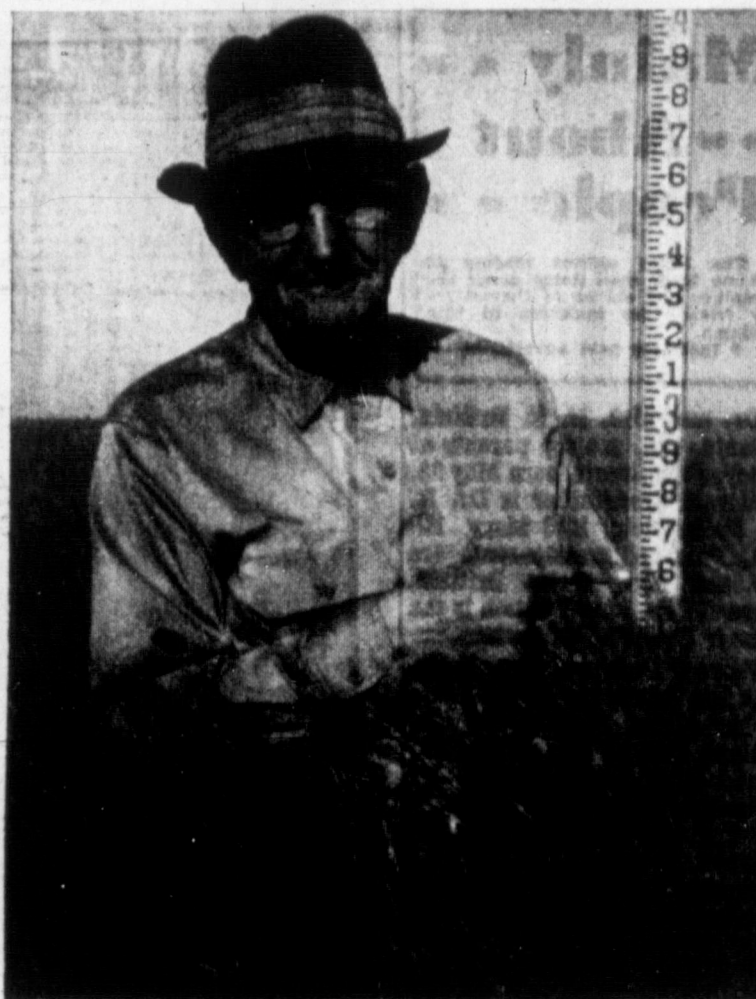

Some 40 persons attended an agricultural tour of Dumas on May 8, sponsored by the Golden Smead Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America and the Moore County Soil Conservation District. Among those attending were members of the society, as well as a group of ministers from Dumas and several farmers and ranchers. Those attending from Gray County were L. Duane Bartee, Arnel Scott, Jack Williams and Van Mills.

The group met in Dumas at 9 a.m. The morning program began with a talk by Delbert Timmons of the North Plains several interesting and pertinent items about underground water, such as its nature, amount, where located and how measured. The group then was shown a film which was followed by a discussion on harvestore, a new type of sealed silo being tried in this area.

The group visited the Gifford-Hill Pipe Company in Dumas where they saw a demonstration on laying concrete irrigation pipe. Jim Burkes, manager, explained and showed various pipe installations and supplies that are available. From here the tour proceeded to the Dietrichsen and Son commercial feed lots north of Dumas. Their operations and set-up were explained by Howard Dietrichsen.

A noon meal was provided the group, courtesy of the Phillips Petroleum Company, at the Cactus Plant near Etter. Hosts were A. L. Cole, administrative assistant of the Phillips Plant and Mack Netherton, sales manager. After lunch, a short meeting was held by the Society, followed by an interesting talk by Bob Parrish of Phillips on fertilizers and agriculture. R. M. Bretz, technical superintendent and others conducted the group through the Phillips Ammonium Nitrate Plant.

The tour was concluded with a visit to the North Plains Research Field Station which is located just north of the Phillips Plant. Dr. James Wehrly of the USDA, gave the group a progress report on the experimental progress being made.

IRRIGATED WHEAT — Roy Tinsley is shown in a field of irrigated wheat on his farm, two miles east of Pampa. Tinsley put on 60 pounds of nitrogen last fall before planting and top dressed another 60 pounds on this spring.

EXAMINING WHEAT — Dr. Robert Berry, plant pathologist from Lubbock, left, and Jerry Harland, assistant county agricultural agent are shown examining a wheat plant on the Bill Stockstill farm for wheat streak mosaic, a disease of wheat that has been prevalent in this area.

Commission Lists Harvest Conditions

Harvest is getting under way in the North Central Texas area and yields are from average to good in most fields. No effective rains have fallen in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains and dry land acreage continues to deteriorate. Irrigated acreage is considered normal for this time of year.

The following reflects the latest reports on area conditions:

Wichita Falls, Henrietta and Archer City: Harvest operations just getting underway, but too early to determine production.

No shortage of men or equipment.

Vernon, Crowell and Quanah: Harvest just getting started but too soon to determine production. There is a surplus of men and machines in this area.

Childress, Paducah, Clarendon, Memphis, Wellington, Matador and Guthrie: Harvest just getting started and should be in full swing by May 28. No shortage of men or machines.

Littlefield, Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Farwell and Hereford: Dry land acreage that has not been abandoned continues to suffer from lack of moisture. Irrigated wheat considered to be normal for this time of year.

Plainview, Tulia, Lockney, Floydada and Silverton: Half of the dry land acreage has been abandoned and even more will be lost if moisture is not received immediately. Irrigated wheat continues to look good and a good yield is anticipated. Heavy irrigation continues. Harvest should begin in this area about June 15.

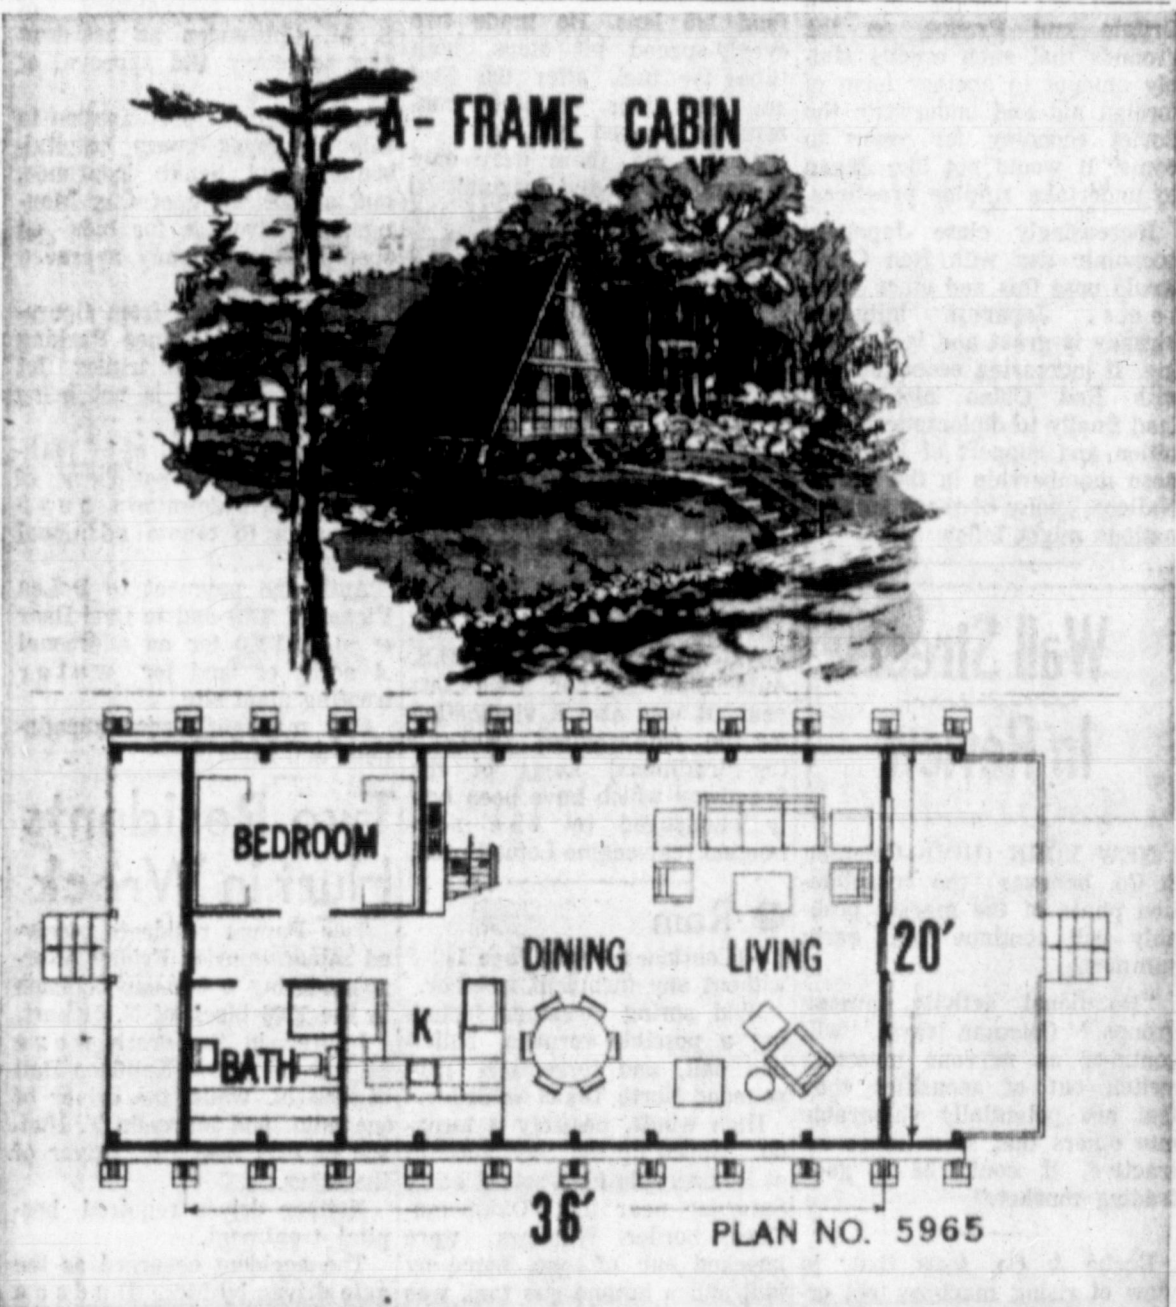

Amarillo, Vega, Canyon, Pampa, and Claude: An estimated 75 per cent to 80 per cent of the dry land acreage has been abandoned and this figure is increasing daily. Irrigated wheat continues to make satisfactory progress and an average yield is expected when harvest begins about June 15.

Pampa, Miami, Canadian, Lipscomb and Shamrock: Wheat yields expected to be from average to below. Some moisture has been received around Pampa, but other areas continue to suffer from the drought. Wheat now in dough stage and rain would help fill grain out.

Dalhart, Channing, Stratford, Spearman, Borger and Perryton: Practically all dry land wheat has been abandoned due to lack of moisture. Irrigated acreage looks good and should produce an average or above average yield when harvest gets underway about June 12.

Earnest Vanderburg of the Grandview Community inquired about how to rid a farm pond of undesirable fish. The answer to this is through the use of a chemical called Rotenone. This will kill your desirable fish also. But usually you are better off to kill them all out and start over.

Use five pounds of 5 per cent Rotenone powder to each acre foot of water (1 surface acre, 1 foot deep). If water temperature is well above 65 degrees, three pounds of Rotenone per surface acre usually is sufficient.

Specific instructions on how to apply the chemical can be obtained by calling the County Extension Office and asking for B-213 — "Farm Fish Ponds." Other excellent information is contained in this publication.

Under one heading — Fishing the Pond — "If a pond is not fished heavily, the fish population will rapidly deplete the food supply, resulting in stunted fish. Research studies show that an acre of pond water needs from 300 to 500 man hours of fishing each year to keep fish production at a maximum."

If you get behind on your fishing, run you an ad and I'm sure some help will volunteer.

Irrigation For people that have cattle and irrigation wells to, we would highly recommend the planting of a sorghum-sudan hybrid to be used as temporary pasture. A very few acres will run a tremendous number of cattle. One rancher was by my office last week who plans to develop two wells that will be used exclusively for this purpose.

Castroites Announce Slaying 'CIA' Agents

HAVANA (UPI)—The Castro regime announced Thursday the firing squad execution of four Cubans described as "central Intelligence Agency agents."

The official note said the four men had been captured on the north coast of central Las Villas Province while seeking to infiltrate. The date of their capture was not announced.

The men were identified as Felipe Vidal Santiago, Ladisao Gonzalez Benitez, Elias Rivera Bello and Alfredo Valdes Linares.

The note said the men were executed at dawn after their conviction by a war crimes tribunal at Cabana fortress and rejection of their appeal.

It claimed the sabotage infiltrated from Key Biscayne, in Miami, via Cape Anguilla in the Bahamas. It said they were spotted by Cuban fishermen who notified the Castro coast guard.

When captured, the note said, the four men threw their arms overboard including a 20-millimeter cannon with which their fast boat was armed.

The note identified the men as members of Manuel Ray's exile group and said the leader

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
When Dr. Arturo Umberto Illia took office as president of Argentina last October it was with the fervent hope of the electorate that he could apply to the country the same soothing balm he once had administered his patients.

For most of more than 30 years the country had been in the hands of the military who when not actually running things had kept the nation in such a state of uncertainty that forward progress became impossible.

Illia's own election had followed such a period, including a short-lived revolution in April, and the state of the economy was such that grass literally grew in some of Buenos Aires' crumbling streets.

The first seven months of Illia's regime have produced some of the desired results, mostly, according to some of his critics, because the white-haired former country doctor has done nothing.

He carried out a campaign promise to cancel foreign oil contracts in which U.S. firms had invested an estimated $375 million and then allowed the matter to become lost in the courts, with the oil companies doing business as usual.

Turning Corner
There were other, more positive signs, that Argentina might be turning a corner.

The military remained quiet. After years of chronic trade deficits, last year showed a trade surplus of nearly $400 million which this year is expected to run between $400 and $500 million, at least partly as result of holding down imports and new, stiff foreign exchange controls.

The upturn also reflected the growth of Argentina's small but important steel and automobile industries.

Argentina turned out 900,000 tons of steel last year and around 80,000 automobiles.

Altogether, Argentina's economic growth this year is expected to be around six per cent, a respectable figure anywhere.

Sore Spots Remain
But sore spots remained. Illia had promised government austerity but the government was, in fact, spending more.

Out of a population of 21 million, more than 700,000 were unemployed, with a heavy percentage centered in Greater Buenos Aires.

Fearful of a sharp drop in beef exports because of a worrisome decline in cattle production, Illia had announced plans to impose on meat-eating Argentinians two meatless days per week.

In the face of mass protests, he quietly dropped the plan. In addition, there was the fact that living costs in Argentina were rising sharply, about 20 per cent since last December.

And, around Buenos Aires' outskirts, there still was the tangle of "Villas Miserias," the miserable shacks where even some of Argentina's better wage earners must live because of a severe housing shortage.

Tower Blames LBJ for Killing Beef Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., Saturday blamed the Johnson administration for "killing any chance for beef import legislation this session."

The junior Texas senator said administration pressure had succeeded in defeating the Hruska amendment, which he said was the key to streamlining the nation's beef importation program.

Tower made the statement in his weekly radio report.

The amendment, introduced by Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., would have established annual import quotas equal to the five-year average prior to and including 1962.

Tower said he and Sen. Milward Simpson, R-Wyo., introduced a bill Jan. 28, 1963, which would have curbed imported meats. Since that time, he said, Democratic leadership in the Senate has blocked passage of any import legislation.

"There is a great deal of scurrying around now, by many people, in an effort to make it appear that progress is being made in this regard," said Tower.

"But the end result is likely to be no legislation this session that would limit or restrict the flood of foreign beef, veal, lamb and mutton that has driven farm prices down and has resulted in the loss of millions of dollars to Texas farmers and ranchers," he said.

TIPRO Chief Urges Protest On Oil Import

AUSTIN (UPI) — E. Bruce Street of Dallas, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Saturday urged oilmen to protest further increases in foreign oil imported to California.

Street reported that Interior Secretary Stewart Udall said in a meeting last week that West Coast imports may be raised 98,000 barrels per day for the last half of this year.

"Domestic oil must get part of this increased U.S. demand," Street said. "By no later than Oct. 1, at least 50,000 barrels a day of Texas oil could be moved economically through existing pipelines to the West Coast."

Street urged oilmen to ask their congressmen to tell Udall and President Johnson that they "will not understand any further increase in imports into California."

Russia Reported to Reject Britain's Appeal on Laos

By United Press International

Soviet Russia Saturday was reported to have turned a deaf ear to an appeal from Britain aimed at easing the Communist-provoked crisis in Laos which threatens to engulf Southeast Asia.

The report came from London as Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew into Bangkok for urgent talks with American and Thai officials on the deteriorating situation in the neighboring strife-torn kingdom of Laos.

Rusk will go to Honolulu for a meeting of top U.S. foreign policy and defense officials on Monday and Tuesday that will range over both political and military aspects of Southeast Asian affairs.

In London, the Foreign Office announced that Britain called Friday on the Soviet Union to join in an appeal to the pro-Communist Laotians and their foreign backers to stop aggression in Laos "at once."

Want Actions Condemned

Britain also proposed that Russia join her in a "decisive condemnation" of the Communist attacks and warned that the Pathet Lao and the North Vietnamese must bear responsibility for threatening the breakdown of peace in Southeast Asia.

Britain and Russia are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference which settled the Indochina war and guaranteed the neutrality of Laos. The British move followed consultations in London with U.S. presidential envoy William E. Bundy on steps to restore the situation in Laos.

While there was no official Soviet reply to the British proposals, the initial reaction was said to have amounted to flat rejection by the Kremlin.

Continue Efforts

Britain at the same time continued efforts to bring about consultations in the Laotian administrative capital of Vientiane next week of the 14 Geneva conference powers to work out an immediate cease fire in Laos.

The United States and Thailand joined other pro-Western nations in accepting the British proposals but the Communists, led by Red China, were adamantly opposed. Peking instead pushed a counter demand for a foreign ministers conference in Geneva or Phnom Penh, Cambodia, presumably to take up the entire Southeast Asia situation, and not the question of Laos alone.

Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos also made another overture toward his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Pathet Lao. Souvanna appealed to the so-called Red prince to meet with him either in Vientiane or the royal capital of Luang Prabang to discuss the crisis.

Souphanouvong is expected to reject the bid.

Governor Proclaims 'Texas 65 Weeks'

AUSTIN (SpI) — Gov. John Connally has proclaimed June 1-15 as Texas 65 Weeks, in observance of the second open enrollment period for Texas 65 health insurance.

During the first two weeks in June, all Texans 65 years of age and past, will again be eligible to purchase Texas 65 insurance regardless of age and without the necessity of a physical examination.

In his proclamation, Connally noted that over 50,000 Texans were enrolled during the first Texas 65 enrollment last October, and since that time over $1 million has been paid in claims to 4,500 senior citizens.

The Texas 65 Health Insurance Association was authorized by unanimous vote of the 1963 Texas Legislature and has the endorsement of Connally and other state officials as private enterprise's answer to the need of voluntary health coverage for the aged.

The steering committee of the governor's committee on aging has announced its unanimous support of Texas 65 and has commended the insurance industry for making the plan available to all Texans over 65, according to an announcement by Sen. Walter Richter, chairman of the committee.

The unique health insurance program offers three plans to the senior citizen.

The basic plan pays a maximum of $12 per day for a hospital room up to 31 days, a part of the costs of doctor's hospital visits, surgical fees up to $200 and miscellaneous charges up to $125. Monthly premiums for this plan are $9.

The major medical plan costs $10 per month and covers hospital expenses up to $5,000 during any calendar year, or about 80 per cent of all hospital, surgical and nursing home expenses after the first $75. This plan is designed primarily for those who have some basic health insurance or who are financially able to meet the costs of basic coverage.

The third plan is a combination of both the basic and major medical plans and costs $19 per month.

The basic or major medical plans may be purchased separately or in combination under plan three.

Texas 65 will be available during the first two weeks of June from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in Texas.

Wildcatters Complete 12

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas wildcatters completed 10 oil and two gas wells last week to bring their totals for the year to 164 oil and 341 gas finds, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

In the same period last year, wildcatters had 155 oil and 287 gas discoveries.

Regular drillers completed 159 oil and 38 gas wells last week, giving them 3,655 oil and 1,168 gas completions compared with 3,744 oil and 1,105 gas wells in the same period in 1963.

Oil discoveries were four in the Corpus Christi district, two in the Kilgore district and one each in the Houston, San Angelo, Midland and Pampa districts.

One of the gas finds was in the San Antonio district and the other in the Pampa district.

KERMIT MAN KILLED

HOBBS, N.M. (UPI)—A Kermit, Tex. man was killed and four other Texans injured Thursday in a two-car collision 10 miles west of Hobbs. The victim was identified as Horace Doyle Bryant, 58. Injured were Glen D. Hord, 40, Lloyd G. Brown, 18, Rayburn H. Byrom, 36, all of Kermit, and Billy Douglas Parker, 34, of El Paso.

There were no casualties reported but authorities later found two unexploded bombs in the plant.

It was the second act of violence directed at the British in less than 24 hours. Friday night, a Greek Cypriot mob stormed and stoned the British-owned Harbor Club at Kyrenia on the north coast.

Officials said the damage at the pumping station was not serious and was expected to be repaired next week. Meanwhile the base received water from the other sources.

Brown Miler In Upset 1C4A Win

VILLANOVA, Pa. (UPI) — Dave Farley of Brown, coming from nowhere in the final 100 yards, breezed past the leaders Saturday and won the mile by four yards in 4:06.6 in the 88th IC4A track and field meet.

The Brown miler, 1963 indoor champion, came from behind while the crowd watched Tom Sullivan, Villanova's 1964 indoor champion and George Germann of Seton Hall, in a side-by-side stride-by-stride duel.

Farley collared both and raced past, with Sullivan just beating Germann for second and Tom Welling of Manhattan fourth and Paul Minehan of LaSalle fifth.

Farley's time was two-tenths of a second off the meet record, and came after Vince McArdle of Manhattan missed equaling the meet record by one-tenth in the 440 hurdles.

McArdle beat Tony Lynch of Harvard with Ken Reynard of Penn third and John Bethea of Morgan State fourth and Bryan Westfield of Cornell fifth.

Wendell Mottley, the Yale star from Trinidad, barely made it to the tape winning the 440 yards over Nick Lee of Morgan State, with Steve Lamb of Maryland third.

Mottley, leader throughout, was challenged by Lee in the final strides and just sprawled under the tape with enough to win in 47 seconds flat.

SIGNING UP — Tommy Lindsey signs on the dotted line for a bonus contract with the Chicago Cubs, watched on the left by his father, Lige Lindsey, and on the right by Cub scout Bill Capps. The former Borger High all-district, now a resident of Pampa, was named most valuable player at Oklahoma University this spring.

Lindsey OKs Cub Contract

Tommy Lindsey of Oklahoma University, Borger and Pampa, yesterday signed a professional baseball contract with the Chicago Cubs for an undisclosed sum reported to be in four figures. Lindsey will leave tomorrow to begin play with St. Cloud, Minn. in the Class A Northern League.

Lindsey was signed by scout Bill Capps of Dallas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Lindsey of 1813 Evergreen. Tommy had just been named winner of the first annual J. D. Young award as the most valuable baseball player at the University of Oklahoma. The award, named after a former OU baseballer killed in a plane crash last fall while en route to a Sooner football game, was voted Lindsey by his teammates.

Lindsey was an all-district third baseman for Borger High, and batted .345 while playing the hot corner for the Sooners this year. Tommy said that he will go back to OU in the fall to finish his last semester of college.

Lindsey, happy at the opportunity of moving up with Chicago, reported that he was the second former Tri-State League and OU player to sign a professional baseball contract in the past week. Terry Morton, former Liberal pitcher, having signed with the Washington Senators Thursday. Morton will play for Geneva, N.Y. in the New York-Pennsylvania League.

Capps said that St. Cloud had already played about 20 games this season and were currently in fifth place in the loop.

Pascual Notches Seventh Triumph

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Camilo Pascual became the first American League pitcher to win seven games today as the Minnesota Twins jumped on Boston's Dave Morehead for a five-run, sixth inning and a 7-3 victory.

The Twins' rally included Bernie Allen's two-run homer. A poor throw by first baseman Dick Stuart allowed Zoilo Versalles to slide home with the tie-breaking run to ignite the outburst.

Pascual settled down after Boston's two-run fourth and curve-balled the Red Sox into submission, although he ran into some difficulty in the ninth. He gave up a home run to Stuhling.

Cards Clobber Reds, Keane Out

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals knocked out six extra base hits, including a triple and a two run homer by Ken Boyer, to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7-1, Saturday in a game in which Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane was ejected.

The rhubarb came in the eighth inning when winning pitcher Ernie Broglio objected to umpire Stan Landes' call of a pitch to Pete Rose. Broglio insisted that it was a strike and Keane joined in the argument until Landes called him out.

Drysdale Roms Past Pirates

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers backed Don Drysdale's pitching with their heaviest scoring barrage of the season, including a five-run first inning, for a 10-3 rout over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

The Dodgers, who have been in a hitting slump, pounded four Pirate pitchers for 11 hits as they scored their highest mark of the season and the most runs since they defeated San Francisco 9-1 May 10. Maury Wills, Jim Gilliam and Willie and Tommy Davis drove in two runs each with Wills getting his first homer of the year in the eighth inning.

Drysdale went the distance to pick up his sixth victory in 10 decisions and snap a three-game losing streak. He was rarely in trouble until the seventh inning when Pittsburgh scored all its runs. Dick Scholfield drove in two Pirate runs with a two out-triple to left after Don Clendenon had singled and pinchhitter Manny Mota had walked.

Cubs Take Pair From Milwaukee

CHICAGO (UPI) — Relief specialist Lindy McDaniel saved rookie pitcher Sertling Slaughter's first major league victory Saturday as the Chicago Cubs shut out the Milwaukee Braves 2-0 in the second game to win both games of a doubleheader.

The Cubs, behind Bob Buhl, defeated the Braves in the opener 4-2. In the first game, Buhl scattered six hits and struck out seven to record his fifth triumph. He aided his own cause with a fourth inning single that helped the Cubs take the lead for good.

White Sox Win With Big Fourth

DETROIT (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox parlayed four singles, two walks and an error into a six-run fourth inning Saturday to whip the Detroit Tigers, 10-4.

The American League leading Sox scored an unearned run off Hank Aguirre in the first, then upped the count to 7-0 in the fourth off Aguirre and Phil Regan. Chicago sent 10 men to the plate in the inning and only three balls were hit out of the infield — singles by Pete Ward, Floyd Robinson and Gerry McNertney.

Mets Stay Hot, Clip Giants, 6-2

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets, enjoying the best month in their history, clipped the San Francisco Giants for the second straight day, 6-2, Saturday behind the six-hit pitching of former Giant Jack Fisher.

The victory was the 12th of the month for the Mets, who never had won more than 11 in any month in their three-year existence.

Daddy Wags Tops Cleveland Win

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leon Wagner rapped out five hits, including two triples Saturday, to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 10-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

The Cleveland slugger's perfect five-for-five atoned for a first-inning throwing error that set up the two Washington runs. Wagner's first three-bagger in the fifth led to two runs which erased 2-1 Washington advantage. Fred Whitfield drove in Wagner with a double and scored himself on John Romano's single.

Randy Will Not Play Basketball

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
Randy Matson, Texas A&M's great freshman track star and former all-state basketball player at Pampa High, yesterday stated that he would not go out for the Aggie basketball team next year.

Matson, in for a column interview upon his return home from college, said he would definitely not play basketball next year.

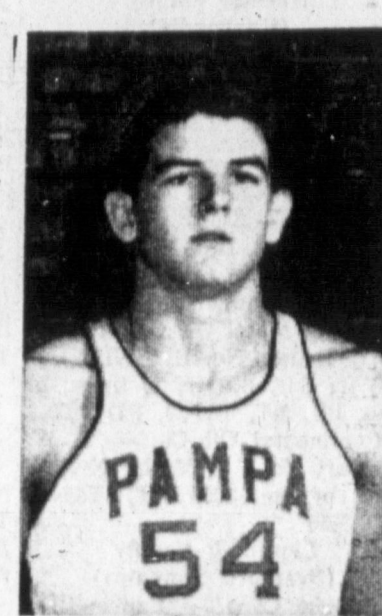

"I told coach Shelby Metcalf that before I left school," said the 6'6", 244-pound Pampa Giant. "I had planned to go out for basketball following the 1964 Olympics if I made them, but I believe I will pass up basketball this year. I might play basketball some day, but right now I am not sure."

Matson, a high school All-American in track as he set prodigious shot put records with both the 12 and 16-pound shot, was also an All-State cager as his height and tremendous jumping ability dominated the backboards against every foe, leading the Harvesters to a district title in his senior year.

Matson had been equally sought as a basketball player and a trackman, being cultivated by innumerable college in both sports.

Randy had expected to go out for basketball following the 1964 track season, but his tremendous improvement, which moved him to a throw of 64-10 1/2, making him the second best shotputter in the world and an odds-on favorite for an Olympic berth, have caused him to change his plans.

"I'm not thinking of basketball as much," admitted the soft-spoken young Aggie. "If I went out next year, I would miss the entire indoor track season and also would miss my weight training. (Matson credits much of his improvement, tremendous physical development and ability to the weight program he has gone on in college.)

"I definitely won't play next year. For one thing, I have put on about 25 pounds since my playing days. However, I will admit that I think I could play a better game of basketball now. My speed is the same or faster, I believe I could run the 100 in 10.2 now, and I can jump much higher. . . my weight program has made my legs stronger. I noticed this last Fall when I was working out in the gym practicing basketball, I could go even higher above the rim. Nevertheless, I'm not going to play basketball, at least not next year."

Colts Washed Out Again, Reb Play Today Doubtful

Continued rains mean joy for farmers in the Top O' Texas, but mean misery to local baseball teams, as the Pampa Colts were washed out again last night for the second time in a row, and all indications are that the same thing will happen today to the Pampa Rebels.

The Colts, who begin Tri-State League play this week, have gotten in only one practice game to date, with the Stinnett Roadrunners, and a scrimmage with the Rebels when the Rebels were rained out at Stinnett themselves. Last night's game with the Roadrunners at Pampa was rained out, as was one the previous Wednesday night.

The Colts are slated for league action Wednesday night at Borger, according to the official schedule, but the Borger newspaper reports that the game will be played there on Tuesday night. Manager Tom Glover said "We're perfectly willing to play either night. I've got almost all the ball team in from college and we're ready to go." Glover will verify the date with Borger before the game.

With the return of Keith Gregory and Mike Stewart from TCU and Royce Harnsberger expected in from Wayland College today, Glover's lineup is about set, especially with the addition of Pampa High's all-district catcher, Larry Gregory.

Gregory, who was slated to play again with the Rebels this year, informed Glover this week that he had decided to move up to the Colts, and is slated for the number one catching job as Mike Stewart was advised by his baseball coach at TCU that he would be playing full-time outfield next season. Glover also reported that several Texas A&M football players will be trying out for the team, one recommended by former Colt Carl Shreiner and another, Jerry Stewart, by his Rotan High teammate, Howard Van Loon.

The Colts will try to get in one more practice Monday afternoon, weather permitting.

Probable starting pitcher for the Borger game will be Mike Clark, the rotund former Pampa High ace. Jerry Glover and Wallace Matthew may also see pitching action in the opener. Glover will take first base, with Harnsberger taking over when he is pitching. Gregory will be behind the plate and Merle Terrell at second base. Matthews will start at shortstop with Cotton Hargrove backing him up.

Probable starting outfield will have Stewart, Harnsberger and Jerry Layne, with Chuck Bennett and Gary Hill also slated for action.

Rebel coaches Harold Gregory and Jeff Cohane will have a double-barrelled problem, due to the rained-out games and the loss of Larry Gregory. The opening games were to be a test for the final roster of 16 players to be carried. If today's games against Amarillo at 2 p.m. are washed out, a game Monday afternoon at Tascosa will be the testing ground.

Gregory, who was slated to play again with the Rebels this year, informed Glover this week that he had decided to move up to the Colts, and is slated for the number one catching job as Mike Stewart was advised by his baseball coach at TCU that he would be playing full-time outfield next season.

Glover also reported that several Texas A&M football players will be trying out for the team, one recommended by former Colt Carl Shreiner and another, Jerry Stewart, by his Rotan High teammate, Howard Van Loon.

with the Rebels coming home to host Woodward, Okla., Wednesday night and then opening district play with a doubleheader at home against Canyon and Perryton Saturday and a game at Borger Sunday.

The prime candidates to replace Gregory behind the plate are Ricky Maynard, Larry Daniels and Roy Harper. Maynard was the second-string catcher last year, but was figured for full-time outfield duty this season. Sophomore Daniels is already slated to take over third base with the loss of over-age Claude Middleton, to the Colts as well as being used as a relief pitcher. Harper was also figured for a pitcher as well as playing behind Ricky Stewart at second base. Most likely possibility is that Harper will take over at catcher, with Daniels moving in from third or Maynard from left field when Roy is pitching.

Ronnie Oler will come in from center field to take third when Daniels is pitching or catching, with Jerry Simpson or James Matney replacing Maynard or Oler.

The pitching switch will probably have Buddy Hammons moving up as the fourth starter along with Jerry Garrison, Jim Arthur and Carl Harnsberger, and Harper and Daniels taking relief behind Ronnie Curlee.

Hammons, Harper or Daniels will probably start tomorrow at Tascosa, Garrison Wednesday night, Harnsberger and Arthur or Curlee Saturday and Arthur or Garrison Sunday.

New Coach Named for Lefors BB

LEFORS (Spl)—Bobby Golphene of Millsap was announced this weekend as the new basketball coach at Lefors High School by Superintendent of Schools Harry Garrison.

Garrison said that Golphene would replace Dale Prescott, long-time coach who recently resigned to take an administrative position in Oklahoma, as the head basketball coach for both boys and girls.

Golphene has coached both sports and been assistant football coach at Class A Millsaps for the past two years. His boys ran up a 28-4 record last year, his girls team posted a 33-6 record as they won district, then lost in regional play to state champion Baird by six points.

Golphene is 28, married, with two sons. A basketball star at Yakima, Wash. Junior College, Golphene went into the army and finished his college at Abilene Christian College in 1962, moving from there to Millsap.

The new coach and his family will arrive in Lefors this week. Garrison said "We are real happy and feel very fortunate to have a man with these outstanding qualifications at Lefors. I know coach Golphene will do a great deal for our basketball program."

by JEFF COHANE

AN AMIABLE young giant strolled into the office Friday afternoon and introduced himself as Howard Van Loon, the greatest high school shotputter in the state and possibly the nation.

Van Loon of Rotan, who is the only other Texas high schooler besides Randy Matson to ever put the shot over 60 feet, and who broke several of the Pampa Giant's high school marks this year, is working in Lefors this summer, and will be throwing for the Pampa Track Club in open meets. In addition, Van Loon, an all-state tackle as well, will join Pampa's Kenny Hebert in the Big 33 All-Star football game in Hershey, Pa., Aug. 1.

VAN LOON will be working at the Champlin Oil Company this summer, leaving him time to work out with Matson when he is home, and with junior high prodigy Doc Cornutt. He will join Randy at Texas A&M next fall, and is eagerly looking forward to working under Randy's high school coach, Norm Phillips, with the PTC.

Van Loon was scheduled to work in Odessa this summer, but when PTC assistant coach John Hale, a Rotan native, told him of the club and the chance to work with Randy and with his coach, he was overjoyed to get a chance to work in this area.

The track and football champion said that there were the primary reasons why he was heading to Aggie land. One was the presence of Randy, and the other, "I want to beat Texas and A&M can do it!" Asked why the desire to beat the Longhorns, he grinned and said "I just like to knock off the top ones."

SIX - FOOT - ONE and 238 pounds, Van Loon still hopes to grow even bigger, and admitted to growing a little more lately. Van Loon, who won the state meet at Austin in the shot with a throw of 63'6", threw 64-5/4 at the Lubbock Red Raider Relays, the best mark of his career with the 12-pound shot, breaking Matson's meet record.

His best discus throw was the 175-3/4 which won the state meet, but Van Loon admitted that he was only a "weekend shotputter." The Yellow Hammer hurler is definitely a shot put man by choice, and said that he worked out with it exclusively and threw the discus only at meets on weekends, still finishing as the best in the state. He has been hitting the 57-foot mark in practice with the 16-pound shot, and will work out with both the 12 and 16 this summer. "I really am looking forward to the Pampa Track Club season," said Van Loon.

"Randy has told me about his coach and he's bound to be good, the way Randy turned out."

HOWARD WAS ALSO definitely a football standout, being the only Class A gridders chosen to play on the Big 33 team, which is composed principally of AAA and AAAA stars. He figures to be a main cog in the Aggie forward wall for the next four years, and then hopes for professional football.

Van Loon pointed out that there was one goal he had before pro football though, and that was to emulate Randy in competing in the 1968 Olympics. "If I'm lucky and make my goals, everything will work out just right for me," he said modestly. "I'll be able to compete in the '68 Olympics when I get out of school and then go on to pro ball that fall."

THE NEW LEFORIAN also expressed interest in working out with Cornutt, the Lee Junior High prodigy who has broken Randy's ninth grade shot records. "I don't know if I can help him any," he said, again modestly, "but it should do both of us good working out together. I prefer it to working alone."

Van Loon found a ready reception for him here. Coach Phillips setting up workouts for him at PHS and Lefors Superintendent of Schools Harry Garrison offering Lefors facilities, iron balls and weights. Van Loon said he had brought "only" 235 pounds of weights up with him, having to leave some home for his younger brother, Larry. The slow - talking giant who shrunk from admitting his own merits, went all out in praising his little brother, whom he described as another Matson in the making. He's an eighth grader and already has hit 51-8 in the shot and 154 in the discus. "That is further than Randy or I threw it in eighth grade. He's a pretty good little horse," Van Loon finished proudly.

VAN LOON climaxed his visit by requesting to work out with Cornutt and when Doc was reached and informed that Howard Van Loon wanted to know if he could throw with him, all he could do was gasp excitedly. "Sure, sure!" Arrangements were made for workouts to begin starting Monday evening and Van Loon was also informed that Randy was due home the following day and would probably want to work out with them until leaving next Thursday for a meet. Howard grinned again and said, "Randy throwing the 16-pound shot, me throwing the 12 and Doc, the eight ought to make a pretty good competition, huh?"

The greatest college shotputter in the nation, the greatest high schooler and probably the greatest junior high heavier all on the same field on the same time... it sure should!

Martin entered professional baseball in 1924 with the Greenville, Tex. club of the old East Texas League. Enroute to the National League he played in 1927 and 1929 at Houston in the Texas circuit, jumping to the St. Louis Cardinals to stay in 1931 after a tremendous .363 year at Rochester, N. Y. of the International League in 1930.

He batted an even .300 in his first full year with the Cardinals and was a sensational performer in the World Series as St. Louis upset one of Connie Mack's greatest Philadelphia Athletics teams. Pepper hit an even .500 (12-24), stole five bases and completely demoralized a Philadelphia club shooting for its third consecutive World championship.

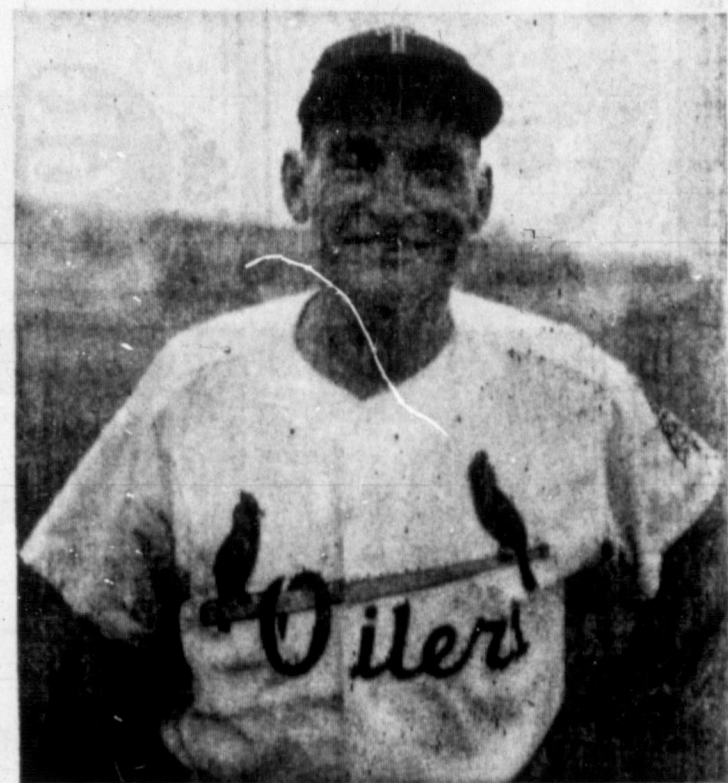

Martin came back again to star again in 1934, in a dramatic seven-game World Series. This time it was the Cardinal "Gashouse Gang" against Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers and Pepper batted .255. His composite batting average for three World Series appearances (15 games) was .418.

In all, he spent ten years with the Cardinals and three times (1933-34-36) he led the National League in stolen bases. He started managing with the close of his active National League career and has directed clubs at Miami, Fla., Sacramento, Cal., Macon, Ga., and Des Moines, Ia. In 1956 he served as a coach with the Chicago Cubs, and in 1958 was a coach for the Tulsa Oilers.

The name "Pepper" was given to him by Blake Harper, business manager of the Fort Smith, Ark., club for which Martin performed in 1925. It is a fitting tribute to his devil - may-care style of play that made him one of baseball's top drawing cards during his active career. Always a person of boundless energy, the Baseball Register lists Martin's hobbies as follows: "Hunting, woodworking, machinery, racing cars and playing the guitar."

His off-season activities in recent years have been concentrated in a ranch he owns near Quinton, Okla.

Last year "Pepper" returned to his first love, baseball, as a coach for the Tulsa Oilers. He is also conducting junior baseball clinics throughout the Southwest and broadcasts the Tulsa games.

Bowling

"Games called on account of rain." Believe me, the rains are welcome, and that is one thing that we never hear in bowling. Drastic winter weather at times, such as we had one week this winter can disrupt schedules, but never the rains.

League bowling is still sparse this week, but next week our summer season will be in full swing. I made a little prophecy last week about expecting some good scores, but I wasn't planning on this one. Jimmy Adkins, I guess was showing off a bit to his girl friend, and in the first nite of bowling in a mixed league, started out with so

I might add that there was an oversight last week. Jimmy wasn't mentioned as aiding in the Exceptional Children's Bowling instructions, and in this, he was very active.

Nothing came close to this fine series, but Margaret Jones, bowling for the first time in a Pampa League had a nice 533—with fine games of 177-175 and 181.

Charlie Sinclair had a nice scratch series of 188-198-313-599 in the singles.

Johnny Carson with even games of 191-181-182-555. Lonnie Harmon had 197-191-213-601.

Johnny Pierce—224—Ralph Chisum 213-556—

Probably at the top of the list should be Virginia Mitten with a nice little 230 game and a 507 series. Several gals just missed the 200.

Naomi Hennig—199—Norma Morgan—197—Wanda Ensey 196 and constant Wylene Patrick with a 518. Pat did beat her this time, by two pins, with a 520.

With one ear glued to the radio, and the "500", I just can't think, except that I probably missed many hilites this week, but don't forget—Beginners Classes, Advanced Classes, and all the fun, at all the lanes—all summer long—even in rain or shine. So see you all bowling—

Couple Recites Wedding Vows In St. John's Catholic Church

Delores Ann Bollig became the bride of Lynn Don Garner Friday night at 8 o'clock in St. John's Catholic Church in Borger. Father B. A. Erpen officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hank Bollig, Borger and Mrs. R. E. Smith, 2217 N. Dwight and the late Mr. Alvin Garner.

Altar bouquets of white gladioli, stock and peonies graced the altar and arrangement of candles lighted the wedding scene. Mrs. H. L. Wendell presented wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Eldean Reed who sang, "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an all-over gown of silk faced taffeta fashioned with a florentine neckline, applique with venetian lace and pearls. A basque bodice with long petal point sleeves accented the sheath bouffant skirt with motifs of venetian lace appliques. Back interest was added with a butterfly bow at the waistline. The skirt fell into a court train. Her tiered veil of illusion was secured with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of white stephanotis with orchids as a bridal bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Linda Bollig served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in blue peau de soie sheath fashioned with matching overskirt. A baby blue rose secured her headpiece, a circular veil. She carried a nosegay of blue and white pom-pom mums.

Dressed identically to the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Dennis Lee Holt, Lubbock; Miss Angarad Bransford, Borger and Miss Paula Mauldin, Borger. Terri Wolfson, cousin of the bride, Walla Walla, Wash., was flower girl and Terry Garner, nephew of the bridegroom, Pampa, was ringbearer.

T. L. Garner, brother of the bridegroom, Pampa, attended as best man. David Baldwin, Lanny McCrary, Johnny Ellis and Charlie Martin, Pampa; Kent Peoples, Canyon and David Lee, Denver, served as ushers and groomsmen.

Mrs. Bollig chose a baby blue lace dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Smith wore a beige lace dress with matching accessories. Both costumes were accented with white gardenia corsages.

RECEPTION

Borger Country Club was the scene of a reception in honor of the couple following the service. Guests were registered by Miss Patti Kelly. Members of the house party were Miss Vicki Selfridge, Mrs. LaJuana Pool, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. T. L. Garner, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Bill Dunn, Miss Marilyn Polach and Miss Janice Pool.

The bride's table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake decorated in white and topped with a miniature wedding couple.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore an ivory knit sheath with matching coat trimmed in navy blue.

The couple will reside in Canyon where Mr. Garner is a student at West Texas State University, majoring in accounting. He is a 1956 graduate of Pampa High School and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Mrs. Garner is a 1960 graduate of Borger High School and attended Texas Tech in Lubbock. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wygal, Mrs. Elizabeth Bollig, Mrs. Margaret Wolfson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunn, Mrs. Joe Polach and Miss Marilyn Polach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meloche

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—Miss Sue Biggers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Biggers, of Skellytown and Army Spec. 4 Joseph Arthur Meloche, son of Mrs. J. A. Meloche, 313 Davis, Pampa, were wed in a double ring ceremony April 28 performed by Rev. Bill Penland, pastor of Skellytown First Baptist Church.

The wedding took place in the home of the bride's parents in Skelly camp east of Skellytown.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bud Biggers. The bride wore a white embroidered cotton street length dress with white accessories. She wore a small white hat with a white veil and carried a bouquet of baby white mums.

Attendants were Miss Linda Kay Snapp, maid of honor, who chose a light blue knitted suit with white accessories. Best man was Dan F. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Biggers chose for her daughter's wedding a warm brown eyelet one-piece dress with white accessories. Mrs. Meloche chose a pink cotton dress with white accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room, the table was spread with a white lace cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of red roses. Mrs. James Franks poured the punch and Miss Linda Snapp served the cake.

For a short wedding trip, Mrs. Meloche chose a white dress and her flowers were lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Meloche was a junior in White Deer High School. Her husband attended Pampa High School and received his diploma after entering the armed services. He will be stationed at Schaffnerberg Germany.

Dear Abby....

Find Another Spook If He Fails Before Hallowe'en

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: Ten years ago a very attractive 19-year-old girl divorced her husband shortly before her baby was born. She then proceeded to support herself. She is now almost 30. Two years ago she met a well-to-do, 42-year-old bachelor who became interested in her immediately. He occupied every spare minute she had, took her on trips and bought her expensive gifts. But he has never mentioned marriage. This young woman does not want to go with him indefinitely, and if he will not eventually marry her she doesn't want to waste any more time on him. What advice would you give this woman?

CLOSE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I would advise her not to give him up until the 4th of July. If he still hasn't mentioned marriage, she should put a firecracker under him in the form of a direct question. And if he doesn't marry her by Hallowe'en, she should find herself another spook.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman, 44 years of age. I was married but my husband died. I own my own home and have no children. My brother, 36, has shared my home for the past four years. He is a rather shy person and doesn't go out much. My problem is this: For the past two years I have been keeping company with a gentleman of whom I am very fond, and he insists it is morally wrong for my brother and me to live together! We argue constantly about this and it makes me very nervous. My brother and I both work and I can't for the life of me see what's morally wrong in our living together. It's a very large house and there would be no reason for my brother to take a room elsewhere when I own this empty house. He also takes care of my lawn and I don't have the worry of living alone.

QUESTION MARK
DEAR QUESTION: Your friend should get his mind out of the gutter. Could it be that your brother's living with you has cramped your friend's style because he'd prefer that you be completely unchaperoned? When one sees dirt, it's sometimes in one's own eye.

DEAR ABBY: I happen to be one of those STINKERS who has been a heavy smoker for over 40 years, and I have enjoyed every puff. I got three clippings in the mail of your column where that person wrote in to say that people won't quit smoking because of lung cancer fear, but they might quit if somebody told them that all smokers just plain stink! I never knew that I stank. How can I find out who sent those clippings?

D.S.S.
DEAR D.S.S.: It's hardly serious enough for the FBI. Just assume the clippings were sent by someone who WASHINGTON (UPI)—Your weight depends on the balance between the energy you get from food and the energy you use in activity. U.S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists report.

When food gives you the same amount of calories as you use, your weight stays the same. When it gives you less than you use, you lose weight. When it gives you more, you gain. For every 3,500 calories you don't use in activity, you gain a pound. Just an extra 100 calories a day adds up to 10 pounds gain in a year.

Vows in Groom

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Jackson

Irene Elizabeth Baggerman became the bride of Thomas E. Jackson in a candlelight ceremony read by Rev. M. W. Reynolds in the First Methodist Church of Groom on May 16.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Baggerman of Groom and Mrs. Harry Hackathorn, Martins Ferry, Ohio.

The double ring ceremony was read before a setting of white mums, green palms and candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. Max Faulkner was organist and accompanied the vocalist, Gene Carter, as he sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

BRIDE

Escorted by her brother, Vernon Baggerman, and given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a three-piece beige suit designed with three-quarter length sleeves and a soft pleated skirt. White accessories complemented her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink orchids on a white ribbon.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Sue Neal was maid of honor. A colonial bouquet of pink carnations complemented her costume, a two-piece pink suit and white accessories.

Ruben Baggerman, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Nace Baggerman, brother of the bride; O. J. Miller, brother-in-law of the bride; and George Collinsworth, brother-in-law of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a royal blue crepe dress with black accessories, and corsage of white carnations for her daughter's wedding.

RECEPTION

Mrs. Vernon Baggerman, sister-in-law of the bride registered guests attending the reception following the wedding ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with white lace and centered with a pink and white carnation arrangement flanked by white tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. O. J. Miller, sister of the bride, served pink punch from a crystal bowl and Mrs. Curtis Whatley, sister of the bride, served the wedding cake.

PANHELLENIC TEA — Plans have been completed by members of Pampa Panhellenic for a tea in honor of senior girls this afternoon at Lovett Memorial Library. Members in charge of arrangements are, from left, Mrs. Melvin Dennis, chairman of name tag committee; Mrs. Quentin Williams, refreshment committee; Mrs. Jack M. Dennis, decoration committee and standing, Mrs. Howard Greenlee, program chairman and invitation committee chairman. Senior girls interested in attending college and taking part in sorority activities are cordially invited to attend.

GLASS GETS NOD

NEW YORK (UPI) — When storing provisions, glass will tell. Will tell — what's in the jar and how much is left.

Home economists singing the praises of glass containers for summer picnics point to another advantage: the containers have tight sealers that keep out moisture which can damage the contents. Also, perfectly sealed, the food in glass jars is bugproof.

Gauchos, or South American cowboys, played an important part in the development of Argentina and Uruguay.

Pioneer Models Note Profession Changes

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) —When Anna M. Stevens, 85, and Ethel Allen, 77, were pioneering and modeling profession more than half a century ago their weekly salaries were less than what today's mannequins will average for an hour.

There were no trademarks of the model's job such as today's outsize tote bag to hold hair spray, extra shoes, extra jewelry, makeup and appointment books.

No eyeliner and inch-long false eyelashes — they were permitted no cosmetics except a little lipstick. No waist cinchers which is a must for today's mannequin. But then, neither one needed them—not with a waist measurement of only 18 inches.

Nor was there a model's gait of tummy forward, shoulders wavy back. A girl stood and walked straight. Modeling wasn't the sophisticated, envied job it is today, either.

"Matter of fact, it wasn't considered decent," said Mrs. Stevens. "I answered an ad to model without my family's knowing it."

Model At Exposition
Both Miss Allen and Mrs. Stevens, whose husband, Frederick, is deceased, were modeling when the St. Louis Exposition was held in 1904. Mrs. Stevens remembers that a portrait of her with her flaming red hair set against green was exhibited at the exposition.

Those were the days when the starting salary for Mrs. Stevens was $25 a week with a New York garment manufacturer. Miss Allen said her starting salary of $40 a week was "considered pretty good pay then." Today's top clothes horses earn anywhere from $40, $50 and $60 up for an hour.

Those were the days, too, of skirts to the floor for daytime; of wide-brimmed hats with great swirls of ostrich plumes which both women remember with affection; of four and one-half inch heels which they would as soon forget; of bathing dresses covering the figure and no one even dreaming of a bikini.

All Wear Hats

They were the days when no woman would be seen on a street without a hat and everyone dressed for dinner or the theater.

"I still don't approve of going hatless," said Mrs. Stevens. "I think some of the elegance went out of fashion when women stopped wearing long gowns for evening," said Miss Allen.

The two women talked of the "then" and "now" in modeling as they came out of retirement briefly.

They participated Friday in a fashion show at Riverside Church, a show given for residents of homes for the aged by the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, Inc.

BIG TOWN HONESTY

NEW YORK (UPI) — When it rains, it pours a testimony to the honesty of New Yorkers, reports the management of a Fifth Avenue exhibit center where anyone, in a down-pour, can borrow an umbrella strictly on the promise of returning it.

Sony Corp. of America started its special service a month ago. So far 187 umbrellas have been borrowed. The score on returns? 187.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Why Quibble Over Mere $50 Billion

Do you know how much you owe?

Think you could find out? We've been trying to find out about how much the federal government owes and what its "debt limit" is.

United Press International says, "Under present law, the current $315 billion temporary debt limit would drop to $309 billion on June 30, and then to the permanent level of $295 billion the next day. The public debt now totals about $25 billion more than the permanent ceiling (of $270 billion)."

Newspaper Enterprise Association says: "By law the federal government may not go into debt beyond $275 billion. This year the Treasury expects the debt to amount to $311 billion by June 30, which is the last day of fiscal year 1964. This is $2 billion above the last temporary (nine-months) ceiling reluctantly granted by the lawmakers."

Congressional Quarterly News Service says: "The current legal debt limit is $315 billion; it will drop to $309 billion on June 30 and to $295 billion on July 1. The actual debt, about $309 billion in mid-May, was expected to rise to more than $315 billion during the government's 1965 financial accounting year."

You figure it out.

Every year—or several times a year—the U. S. Treasury must come to Congress asking for a temporary lifting of the ceiling. Congress always raises the roof, in more ways than one.

Salute to a Great Man

With all the present furor over granting "civil rights" to some groups, even at the expense of infringing upon rights of others, it is interesting to read how some individuals reached pinnacles through their own efforts, without special privileges.

"Concise Dictionary of American Biography" (Scribner) includes the biography of Booker T. Washington, the outstanding Negro teacher.

Born in slavery, he was taken by his mother after emancipation to West Virginia. He worked in a salt furnace, studied at night and eventually attended classes after work. His mother's employer encouraged him to attend Hampton Institute, where he worked his way through school. After graduation, he taught in a Negro school, and later had charge of the night school at Hampton. In 1881 he was named principal of a newly established Negro normal school at Tuskegee, Ala., which he opened with 40 pupils in a "dilapidated shack."

"Acting on the theory of first things first, he taught his students the dignity of efficient labor and how to live 'on the farm off the farm.' He also stressed the values of cleanliness and a proper diet. By the time of his death, Tuskegee had grown to remarkable strength in plant, endowment, faculty and reputation. Washington also started many forms of rural extension work and established the National Negro Business League and a number of conferences for self-improvement. In great demand throughout the country as a lecturer, he stressed the necessity of providing an education useful in life, the need of keeping close to nature and of cultivating the respect of one's neighbors.

"Booker Washington's views were opposed by Negro intellectuals who felt that he did not sufficiently emphasize political rights and that his stress on industrial education might result in keeping the Negro in virtual bondage. However, he was more interested in the immediate improvement of his race from a material point of view and in making it worthy of the franchise. He opposed agitation. . . . A man of high character and devoted to spiritual values, he made a number of memorable observations including his characteristic saying: 'No man, black or white, from North or South, shall drag me down so low as to make me hate him.'"

We pause to salute a great man.

WASHINGTON:

Hope in Laos Crisis Lies in Force Plan

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Key State and Defense Department officials are convinced that only a show of force by the United States in Southeast Asia — preferably in Thailand — has any chance of stopping the Reds in Laos if the Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese have set their minds on a military take-over now.

American planners are making preparations for another landing of U.S. Marines or infantry in Thailand and for moving U.S. naval vessels to the Gulf of Siam. These landings and naval demonstrations would be carried out if the Red advances continue and if U.S. diplomats secure an O.K. from Thailand.

Officials here hope the threat would be enough. They have no present plans for moving U.S. troops into Laos. They hope the Communists, however, wouldn't be certain of what the United States might do.

These officials believe diplomatic pressure on Mao Tse-tung's Red Chinese government will have no effect. Nevertheless, the United States is using whatever meager pressure is available. This pressure includes veiled suggestions of U.S. action in Southeast Asia.

Diplomats also believe appeals to Nikita Khrushchev will produce no results, though they're making these appeals.

Even if Khrushchev should be willing, for reasons of his own, to try to halt the fighting, the current feeling here is that his power and prestige among the Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese have sunk to a new low.

The danger, of course, is that the Pathet Lao would pay no attention to the next-door presence of U.S. troops. Some officials worry the Reds might advance so rapidly that American forces couldn't arrive in Thailand in time to do any good.

There's strong belief among the military-diplomatic analysts here, however, that the Red troops are not planning a complete take-over of Laos now.

These analysts hold that the Reds are simply moving their troops into stronger positions at key points along the old battle lines and fighting to secure control of key military-geographical areas outside their lines.

Their aim, it is reasoned, is to put their forces in more threatening positions. With the result of strong military posture, the Pathet Lao might be able to force any Laotian government to bend to its will.

These U.S. planners believe the Reds have been set off by the growing unity between the so-called neutralists and rightists groups in Laos and by the Communist loss of prestige among the neutralists, non-Communist leftists and nationalists.

When the original three-part Communist-neutralist - rightist government was set up by East-West agreement, it was believed in Communist countries and feared in the Defense and State Departments that the Communists and neutralists would get together in Laos for a Red take-over.

Instead, the left-wing neutralists have found it impossible to get along with the Communists, even though the neutralist premier is the half brother of the head of the Red Pathet Lao.

The Almanac

Today is Sunday, May 31, the 152nd day of 1964 with 214 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1907, a flotilla of "taximeter cabs" imported from Paris, arrived in New York, the first "taxis" to be seen in an American city.

In 1913, Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan declared the 17th Constitutional Amendment in effect. It provided for popular election of U.S. senators.

In 1951, Radio Moscow claimed that television was first invented by a Russian in 1907.

In 1962, Adolph Eichmann was hanged in Israel for his part in the mass murder of six million Jews during World War II.

A thought for the day—Irish playwright Richard Sheridan said: "There is not a passion so strongly rooted in the human heart as envy."

Allen-Scott Report

President to Push His Drive to Hold Price Line By Joint Business-Labor White House Dinner

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is undertaking a new personal appeal to business and labor to hold the line on wages and prices.

This latest plea will be made at an unusual gathering — a joint dinner for some 80 or 90 business and union executives at the White House, followed by Cabinet briefings and discussions.

Invitations to this unique management-labor get-together under direct presidential auspices are going out this week.

This dinner is a follow-up on two others the President already has held — separate black-tie affairs for businessmen and laborites. At each the President urged the crucial necessity of averting strikes and increases in wages and prices.

Before deciding on the joint dinner, the President discussed the matter with auto-maker Henry Ford and AFL-CIO President George Meany. Both voiced hearty approval.

Indicative of the importance the President attaches to this exceptional affair is that it is being arranged by Clifton Carter, his top political lieutenant.

Also, Defense Secretary McNamara, former head of Ford Motor Co., and at the President's behest working quietly to forestall an auto strike, is in charge of the briefings by Cabinet members and other key officials.

A special report on the national economy and outlook will be presented by Walter Heller, head of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

MORE POLITICS — A spectacular publicity splash is slated by the Democratic $1,000-a-member "President's Club."

It will take the form of a 24-page tabloid-sized color supplement that will be part of the Sunday, June 14, editions of 14 big-city newspapers in various parts of the country.

This unique political ad, titled "Mr. President: The Office and the Man", is being paid for by the "President's Club." Democratic chiefs are uncommunicative about the cost, but newspaper sources estimate it at "several hundred thousand dollars."

The supplement was prepared by a Washington advertising firm, and personally approved by President Johnson.

At this week's big fund-raising combination dinner and gala in Washington, more than 800 $1,000-a-plate tickets were sold for the "President's Club" dinner — at which the President and Mrs. Johnson were the stellar guests. For a similar affair in New York Thursday night, more than 1,000 "President's Club" tickets at $1,000 a plate have been sold.

Mrs. Johnson's enthusiastic participation in these affairs is a significant portent of things to come.

The First Lady will play a leading role in the fall election, and is busily preparing for that.

She is being briefed by selected authorities and experts on a wide range of domestic and foreign subjects.

On international matters, Mrs. Johnson already has had briefings by McGeorge Bundy, White House special assistant in this field. He is also arranging for other specialists in foreign affairs and intelligence to meet with her.

Mrs. Johnson is evincing particular interest in the Sino-Russian feud and its effect on critical areas throughout the world.

"MEDITERRANEAN CUBA" — Russia is secretly arming leftist-ruled Algeria to the teeth.

President Ben Bella's army is now known to have around 150 latest-model Soviet tanks, several squadrons of MIG-21 jet fighters, and a large number of heavy field guns and mortars. Russian technicians and specialists are training Algerians in the use of this equipment.

At the huge May Day celebration in Moscow, Ben Bella was the top foreign guest, filling the role taken by Fidel Castro last year. Like the Cuban dictator, Ben Bella was presented a high Soviet decoration.

Particularly disturbing to NATO authorities is the strong possibility that Algeria may acquire SA-2 high-level anti-aircraft missiles.

Intelligence has reported that a number of these powerful weapons were loaded at a Black Sea port recently. The French navy is keeping a close watch on the destination of these rockets — suspected to be Algeria.

So far, only four countries are definitely known to have these deadly Soviet missiles — Cuba, the United Arab Republic, Indonesia and Red China. Except in Cuba, where the SA-2s are still largely manned and controlled by Russian crews, the rockets are operated by native personnel.

So large has been the Soviet armament build-up in Algeria that U.S. military authorities now refer to it as the "Mediterranean Cuba."

President De Gaulle, who has been going out of his way to play footsie with the Reds, is reportedly greatly perturbed by this development. Privately, French military officials are making no secret of their concern.

Significantly, U.S. and French intelligence are working closely in keeping a close scrutiny on this sinister Algerian situation.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rice University will begin charging tuition in September, 1965, for the first time in the 52-year-history of the privately-endowed school.

The board of governors announced Thursday that tuition of $1,200 a year will be charged all undergraduates entering school then; but that almost 60 per cent of the new students would receive scholarships.

CAPITOL EYE:

GOP Funds Low As 'Fat Cats' Hedge

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Republicans who know what they are talking about fear that this may be one of the worst money-raising years in the party's history.

In the view of one who has rustled funds for a long string of campaigns, there is one overriding reason:

Many Republican "fat cats" simply are not willing to bet their bankrolls that President Lyndon B. Johnson can be beaten in November. And some, whatever their public stance, are not particularly eager to see him defeated. He is the most "comfortable" Democrat they have had around in a long time.

Party fund-raising veterans think they already observe signs of a severe 1964 dollar drought. They believe that by midsummer the full weight of the problem will be upon them.

Sen. Barry Goldwater has had money difficulties in his campaign for the nomination, but some party men have sought to explain this on the ground that some contributors do not want to kick in twice in the same year. Others say the senator's troubles are symptomatic of the general prospect.

If, as expected, Johnson declines to meet the 1964 GOP presidential nominee in a series of televised debates, Republican financial matters could take an even grimmer turn. The party's choice would lose a large amount of free television time coast to coast. And he may be needing all the exposure he can get.

Those who are worrying over the prospective money crisis doubt that it can be exaggerated. They believe everybody in the party should be fretting over it.

Generally, it can be said that the worriers are not in the camp of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. But most feel that the wealthy governor is the one man who, as nominee, could see to it that the 1964 campaign bills will be paid.

The judgment is that fund-raising would be hardest if the GOP nominee is either Goldwater or Richard Nixon, usually rated the most likely compromise choice.

One of the ironies in this situation is that in a number of key states men who HAVE contributed to Goldwater's nomination fight may apply maximum pressure on delegates to put Barry over quickly at San Francisco.

One midwestern leader guesses that in his state such pressure might be worth 20 first ballot votes to Goldwater. Says he: "If the money men are tough enough, they could get those added votes. But I know these delegates. If left to their own devices, they won't go that way."

In at least two nearby states the story is similar. The party power setup differs, but the pro-Goldwater contributors neverspeed. The reason for it was the car had no gears like the present-day transmissions. . . . Headline in the Chicago (Ill.) AMERICAN: "Turkish Baths Pick Up Steam With Health Angle."

Bet you couldn't get the Cyriots steamed up over that.

Dear Editor:

The serpent of proscription which has crawled down from the Dark Ages has wrapped its scaly coils around the pillars of American justice and thrust its forked tongue into the face of the Goddess of Liberty. Any man who will proscribe another because of race, religion or profession is not familiar with the principles of American Liberty.

If and when some elected officials quit destroying our Constitution, and return individual liberty, this nation will again be regarded as morally and economically superior. The curse of the country is too many laws. There is not a lawyer or a judge in this country who knows what is prohibited until he spends two months looking it up in the statute books.

We have drifted from a democracy and representative government by bureaus and commissions which operate on the basic principles of socialism and paternalism and it is creating much dissatisfaction among genuine Americans.

Law, to be respected must be respectable. It must be just and reasonable. Its purpose must not be to enslave, but to define and protect natural rights. The great object of American Government is not to resist but to foster liberty. From city councils to our congress.

When officials give the oath of office, to uphold our Constitution and immediately sit at the conference table and vote to destroy the liberty of the minority in favor of the majority, the irony is symbolic of biblical history and will accomplish one of two things, — people will turn either against their lawmakers or against the Constitution itself. A strange historical fact, indeed, when history teaches nothing.

Sincerely,
LeMoyne Browning

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

You may wish to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses:

(FEDERAL)
Rep. Walter Rogers, House Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.

(STATE)
Rep. Grainger McIlhenny, House Bldg., Austin, Texas
Sen. Grady Hazzwood, Senate Bldg., Austin, Texas

theless hold a commanding place.

More than a few of these, mindful of their stake in the senator, exhibited considerable anger when asked about his recent defeat in the Oregon primary at Rockefeller's hands.

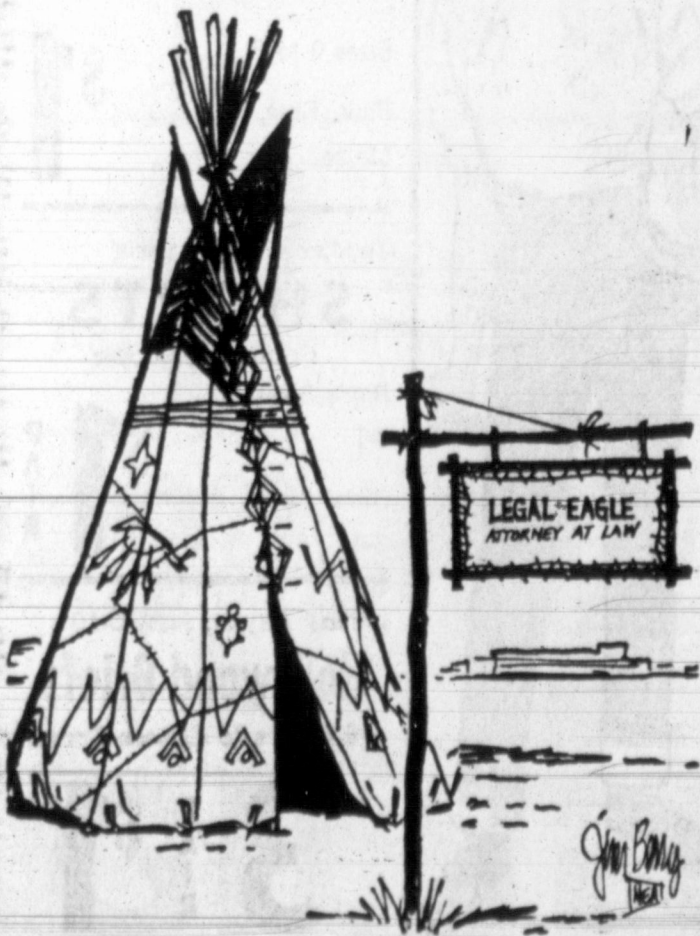

It is conceivable, then, that money may talk strongly in the final delegate push for Barry at or before the convention.

But, again, what haunts some experienced Republicans today is the prospect that when the real election show begins, the crackle of crisp currency will be heard all too little on the GOP side of the line.

'Love' Still Top Word In Pop Song Titles

CHICAGO (UPI) — "Moon," "Spoon" and "June" may be out of style but "love" is still an important word in the tunesmith's vocabulary.

Songs with "love" in their titles ran one-two-three in this week's popularity poll, a survey by United Press International showed Saturday.

Leading the field is "Love Me Do" by the Beatles. Second is "Chapel of Love" by the Dixie Cups and number three is the Ray Charles sing with "Love Me With All of Your Heart."

Louis Armstrong's "Hello Dolly" dropped to fourth place. Billy Kramer's "Little Children" moved up three places to fifth, and another "love" title, "World Without Love" by Peter and Gordon is sixth.

The top 20, with position last week and number of weeks in survey in parenthesis:

1. (1-5) Love Me Do. Beatles. Capitol.
2. (4-4) Chapel of Love. Dixie Cups. Red Bird.
