Messrs. Anton, Division Superintendent of the Santa Fe, and Hill, District Manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., will be in Lockney Monday, to meet with the Chamber of Commerce at the noon luncheon at the Brewster House.

Mr. Hill, comes at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, to discuss the telephone situation in Lockney, in regard to better service, a manager for this station, also a linesman, and the caring for long distance calls at this office, stopping the necessity of having Plainview handle the Lockney business.

The Chamber of Commerce invites every citizen of the community to be present at this time and talk these matters over with these gentlemen and they especially ask that every business man and member of the organization be present.

Remember the meeting is Monday, February 9th, at noon, at the Brewster House, in Lockney, and be there.

GREATEST FLOW IN FIELD IS BELIEF

BURK BURNETT DESERTED AS WORKERS FLOCK TO CARSON COUNTY

Plainville, Feb. 3.—The biggest well in the Panhandle oil field, the Americans Refining Company's No. 2 well in the heart of the Burnett pasture came in last night with a production estimated considerably above 2,000 barrels a day.

The exact flow of the well cannot be ascertained at this time, but local oil men agree that it will be above the 2,000 mark and some think the well will produce 4,400 barrels of oil daily.

On a six-hour test this morning the well is reported to have flowed from 750 to 1100 barrels in that period.

Three weeks ago the well was doing better than 500 barrels, and in swabbing out and drilling deeper, tools became hung. The tools were extracted and the well drilled twenty feet deeper. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the flow was stronger than eight hours before.

The well is located in the SE quarter, Section 115, in Block 5, Carson county and is owned by a company composed for the most part of Wichita Falls capitalists. It is in the heart of a large proven territory.

Renewed interest and buying accompanied the completion of the six-hour gauge here Monday morning.

The well is an off-set to Texas No. 4 and is close to the Texas No. 1 which made 1,500 barrels for a long time for the greatest production recorded in the field. The depth is estimated at around 3,200 feet.

SIMPSON HOME BURNED AT SILVERTON

Mrs. Gene Simpson of Silvertown was in Lockney Tuesday trading, and reported the complete destruction of her home by fire on Monday at Silvertown. She stated that she had filled a stove with what she had bought to be kerosene, and then had filled a lamp out of the same can, and when she lit the lamp it exploded, immediately the flames covered the entire house, and causing those in the house to flee in order to save their lives. Everything was destroyed by the fire, including the house and household effects, and Mrs. Simpson had a very narrow escape, having her face badly smoked and her hair singed.

Opens Barber Shop

Geo. Adams and family have moved to Lockney from Floydada, and are now living in a house belonging to T. J. Thomson, on the east side of town. Mr. Adams has opened a barber shop in the old Ayres building, and states that he has had 23 years experience in the barber business, and especially solicits the patronage of the ladies, as well as men, of the community.

C. OF C. PETITIONS FOR BOND ELECTION

ASK FOR BOND ELECTION TO BUILD CITY HALL AND FIRE STATION AND SEWERAGE SYSTEM

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce met in regular weekly meeting Monday noon, ordered a petition presented to the City Council asking for a bond election for the purpose of building a city hall and fire station, and the installation of a sewer system throughout the town. The City Council the past week has purchased a $3,600 fire truck, which is to be delivered at once and a local fire company will be organized to look after the protection of the town in this way. Lockney has a first class water system, owned by the city, that is being extended to all parts of the town as fast as it is possible for the city to make the extensions.

There are many private cess pools in the town at present but a regular sewer system is badly needed.

The fire fighting equipment has been inadequate to care for the needs of the town and there is no city hall in the town at present, the city council using a room in the city jail for their meetings, or else meeting in local stores, to transact business.

It is the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce, through the City Council, to build a modern city hall and a first class fire station, thoroughly equipped with fire fighting equipment, and to organize a first-class volunteer fire company, for whom they will provide sleeping quarters in the second story of the city hall and fire station.

There is an urgent need in Lockney for the city hall and fire station as well as a complete sewer system, and the city council is being urged to submit the bond issue to the voters at the earliest date possible.

The proposition of adequate telephone service was again discussed, and as the district manager had failed to keep his engagement with the Chamber of Commerce at a previous meeting, it was decided to instruct the secretary to write the general superintendent at Fort Worth, putting the proposition before him, and if something was not done at once in the matter, that steps would be taken to organize an independent telephone company in Lockney.

The mail service committee of the Chamber of Commerce was instructed to confer with the division superintendent of the Santa Fe Railway, this week, in regard to getting a double daily, seven day week service, from Plainview. A motor car is asked to be run from Plainview to Lockney both morning and afternoon, making connections with the mail trains at Plainview.

Warning to Autoists

Mr. A. J. Crager, justice of the peace, asks the editor to give warning to those who have paid their taxes on cars and have not put the new numbers on their cars, and those who have not secured licenses to look after these matters at once, as he does not desire to have to fine them for violating the auto tax law. Auto owners should see about these matters at once and save trouble and expense.

H. A. BROTHERTON GETS LEG BROKEN BY KICK

H. A. Brotherton happened to an accident Tuesday evening about dusk, getting the small bone in his left leg broken just above the ankle. In some way a team became frightened and ran away and in an effort to stop them he was kicked by one of the horses on his left leg breaking one bone. Dr. N. E. Greer set the broken limb, and Mr. Brotherton was resting well at last reports.

SHOULD INSPECT CHILDREN'S WORK

GOOD YEAR FOR LOCKNEY PUBLIC SCHOOL IS IN PROCESS OF MAKING

The first semester's work in the Lockney High School closed on Jan. 9, 1925. The reports have been completed and we are now settled to work on the second half of our school term. On the whole, we are very well pleased with the progress being made by the student body, but there is plenty of room for improvement.

We told you at the opening of school that if you turned us loose and did not co-operate with us that your school would be a failure. We want to thank you for the hearty co-operation you have manifested all along and we want to ask for a continuance of this co-operation during the next term. No child will make the proper progress in school unless there is whole hearted co-operation between parent and teacher.

If your child is not making progress as he should, come and talk to us about it. There may be something we can do to help him, and there may be something you can do. Let's work for a higher plane of efficiency in our school system.

The report cards are going out this week. Please be sure and examine yours. We want you to see what your child is doing. If he is conditioned in a subject, please help us remove that condition by the end of this term so that he will make all his work this year and not be forced to work off failures doing the summer or repeat the course next year.

I have found that one of the great needs in our school work is more home preparations. The way we have our daily schedule arranged very few pupils can make a creditable grade on their work without from one and one-half to two hours work at night. If your child is in high school and is not doing this much work at home for five nights in the week, please insist upon it and see if his grades are not raised next term. We assure you that we have the welfare of your boys and girls at heart and we are doing our very best to make this year work a success.

The following students in the high school have done creditable work during the past term and deserve special mention on the high school honor roll:

Freshmen—Hazel Joe Anderson, Thelma Arterburn, Evelyn Green, Hazel Gruver and Bessie Holland.
Sophomores—Grace Feagans, Katie Lou Mays, Irene Williams, and Nila Jo Green.
Juniors—Eva White.
Seniors—Eutha Barnett, Willie Belieu, Lucile Carter, Lillian Collier, Lois Cope, Johnnie Mae Harris, Lester Lankford, Tommie Merrick, Jim Spilman, Pauline Stevenson, Velma

CITY BUYS NEW FIRE TRUCK

NEW SIREN WILL BE PLACED ON TOP OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At a call meeting of the city council on last Friday, the city officials closed a deal for an International truck fully equipped with fire fighting appliances. The truck is the very latest in fire trucks and is modern in every respect, and is equipped with two 35-gallon tanks of chemicals, two 1-gallon Pyrenes, 150 foot chemical hose, hooks, ladders, etc. The fire department has 1250 foot of water hose that will be added to the truck. The old truck went in as first payment on the one, the new truck and siren costing $3,600.

The two 35-gallon chemical tanks will enable the fire department to fight fire that is out of reach of the water plugs, and the two 1-gallon Pyrenes will be used to extinguish fires on the inside of buildings.

The big fire siren will be placed on top of the First National Bank, so as to be handy for the telephone central office to turn in fire alarms when reported.

The chemical tanks can be recharged in five minutes, making it easy to charge one of them while fighting fire with the other.

The new truck and siren are contracted to be installed in Lockney by the 15th day of March.

This equipment was very badly needed and will do considerable toward cutting down the insurance key rate of the town.

BURIED TREASURE; DAYS OF '49 COME BACK

Several Thousand Dollars Worth of Hidden Bandit Loot Located; Start Frenzied Search for More

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 3.—Buried treasure, amounting to thousands of dollars in gold bars, has been found near Ciudad Guerrero, on the road to Nuevo Laredo. The treasure apparently is the buried hoard of some bandit chieftain who years ago plundered these regions, and is deeply buried. It consists of gold ingots, which were taken from a mule train in the days of that means of transportation to large cities.

With the finding of this treasure, a fever of gold seeking, comparably only to the days of '40 and the Yukon dash has set in.

Daily scores of men, loaded with picks and shovels, carrying from a week to ten days' provisions on mules, are setting out for the mountains in the North of Mexico, where fabulous treasures, results of long years of plundering by bandits, are supposed to await them.

Still, Ruby Threet, Virgil Threet and Bert Wells.

BUILDING A GOOD BAND

Many people in Lockney are beginning to realize that a good band is an asset to the town, and as a consequence Prof. Collum is instructing a number of men and boys, that are, and some have already, become excellent musicians. The band has two practice nights each week, besides Prof. Collum does a great deal of instruction in the way of private lessons, and as a consequence when the spring opens up Lockney will find that it has a band second to none in all West Texas.

Lockney was proud of her band last year on the trade excursion and the boys were ready and willing to let the people know about Lockney

The Free Traders

By VICTOR ROUSSEAU

Back of the love story, back of all the mystery and excitement of this new story by Rousseau, is a fine picture—a picture of the Northwest and of the part being played in its development by Canada's soldier-police, the Northwest Mounted.

The author, one of the most industrious of the romantic writers of the North, is thoroughly at home in all his scenes and amidst all his characters. He brings the near-arctic to our doors and in this case shows its summer phases.

and responded in every way to make the trade excursion a perfect success. At Lubbock they put Lockney on the tongues of more than 10,000 people, and advertised the town to the world as a wide-awake enterprising city in the center of the very best part of the Plains. They will do more for Lockney in 1925, they will play better music and will be better organized, and it is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce and band to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting at Mineral Wells, where the band will compete with all West Texas for prizes and honors, and advertise the Lockney country as it has never been advertised before. The band must have uniforms before the convention at Mineral Wells. Many of the boys will secure their own uniforms and the others must be supplied with uniforms. This can be done by the people of Lockney doing things to help the band and its members along. Money can be raised in many ways for this purpose and the donor will not miss the small amount paid out from time to time for the support of the band. At present the boys are paying the big end of caring for the expense of the band, as each one is paying regular monthly tuition, and the town as a whole is not giving the band more than $35 or $75 per month. The band is worth $5 a month to every business man and wide-awake citizen in the town, and is worth thousands of dollars to the town as a whole during the open months (spring summer and fall) of the year. It should be the business of every Lockney booster to help make the band an asset in every way possible. Get in behind the boys and encourage them. Attend the band practices once in a while and show them your appreciation of the work they are trying to do. A visit will help you and make them feel that they are trying to do something worthwhile.

WILL GET TELEPHONE SERVICE

Lockney has long suffered from lack of proper service from her telephone system, and every year there is an urgent demand upon the telephone company to do something to better the service. So far nothing more than promises have been given, and those promises have done nothing to make the service any better. Three weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce invited Mr. Hill, district superintendent, of Amarillo, to meet with the organization and talk the matter over. Mr. Hill promised he would either be here or let us know before the meeting following the invitation. Since the invitation was extended we have heard nothing from the gentleman and he failed to show up, although three meetings have been held since that date. At the meeting last Monday the secretary was instructed to write to the general manager of the Southwestern Telephone Company at Fort Worth, and lay the proposition before him, and see what could be done, and if we cannot get a satisfactory service through this medium, to take steps to organize an independent telephone company in Lockney. As the situation stands today Lockney has no telephone manager, has no lineman, all long distance calls are handled through Plainview, and the paraphernalia here is insufficient to care for the business of the town as it should be. The town really would be no worse off if it had no telephone office at all is the view taken by the members of the commercial club. It is up to the Southwestern to put a local manager and lineman in Lockney, to handle Lockney's long distance business in Lockney, and to add sufficient equipment and employees to properly care for the telephone business of the town, or let another telephone company have a trial at the job.

WANT CITY HALL, FIRE STATION AND SEWER SYSTEM

The Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Monday to petition the city council to order an election to vote bonds with which to build a city hall, fire station and sewer system. That Lockney is in need of these three things is not in any way questionable. The city has no place for the city officials to meet or have offices, no place to hold court or carry on the business of the town. There is no fire station in the town and no fire company or fire fighting equipment to care for the needs or protect the town from being destroyed should a fire breakout that could not be handled by a bucket brigade. There is no sewer system in the town, and the unsightly and unsanitary outhouses are a detriment, disease breeding and offensive places.

Lockney people are desirous of forging forward and building a larger and better town, and to do this it becomes necessary to build the city substantially and care for the sanitary conditions. Good health is one of the greatest assets of any community and sanitary conditions are the very backbone of good health, and the sewer system does more to bring about sanitary conditions than any other thing. Every city should have ample quarters in which to care for the business of the city, and should have sufficient fire fighting apparatus to keep down the insurance rates and take care of the fires that come from time to time, and should have a well organized fire company, with sleeping quarters where they can be of service night and day.

It is the intention of the city to build a city hall and fire station in connection and have it so arranged that several firemen will be on hand both night and day to respond to any calls of conflagration.

The city council will be presented with a petition for the bond election, at which time they will decide on the amount necessary to carry on these improvements, and submit it to a vote of the citizens living in the corporate limits of Lockney. Every person should consider how much these improvements are needed, and how small the additional taxation each year will be in order to receive these benefits. People who have had such conveniences you know the real value they are to a community.

The ground hog saw his shadow Monday. Six weeks of winter is due. But this means nothing to the Plains country as February and March are considered winter months, anyway.

YOUR INCOME TAX

If you are single and support in your home one or more persons closely related to you and over whom you exercise family control, you are the head of a family and entitled under the revenue act of 1924 to the same personal exemption allowed a married person, $2,500. In addition, a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is either under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Such dependent need not be a member of the taxpayer's household. For example, an unmarried son who supports in his home an aged mother is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 plus the $400 credit for a dependent, a total of 2,900. If from choice the mother lived in another city, the son, although her chief support, would be entitled only to the $1,000 exemption, plus the $400 credit. The mother not living with him, he is not considered the head of a family.

An exemption as the head of a family can be claimed by only one member of a household. The $400 credit does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

MATTHEWS AND OVERSON LIBRARY PROPOSITION

The firm of Matthews & Overson, lawyers of Floydada, have this week made known a proposition which should be of interest to every rural school in Floyd county. They propose to give a $25.00 library to the school that wins first place in an oral spelling contest. The contest is to be held in conjunction with the county interscholastic league meet, (which will probably be the latter part of March). Each school may enter two contestants either boys, girls, or both. The words used will be taken from the junior list of the interscholastic league, and if this list is not sufficient the senior list will then be used. Pupils are eligible up to and including the ninth grade only.

The contest will be held at a time which will not interfere with other contests. It will be open to the public. Three judges will assist the pronouncer. The winning school will be determined by the last speller left upon the floor.

Matthews & Overson are planning to make this an annual affair. The library list will be selected by the firm, with the assistance of the county school superintendent and the principal of the school winning said prize.

This is in our judgment, a most magnificent proposition. We sincerely trust that many of our schools will enter this contest. This is a great opportunity for some school to win a handsome library, for the library becomes the permanent property of the school that wins the oral spelling contest.—Price Scott, County Sup't.

EXPERIMENTS AT SPUR SHOW TEXAS CATTLE DON'T HAVE TO BE SHIPPED FOR FATTENING

Spur, Jan. 31.—The most important experiments ever made at the Spur substation of Texas Agricultural Station is in the feeding of milo maize, kaffir, fescuita, Egyptian wheat and other grains to livestock. Much of this work has been done in the past by private aid to the experiment station. Very few head of Texas livestock now go to Texas factories in the form of fat stock, but as it is well known most of Texas livestock is shipped in range condition to Middle Western points, there to be fed and fattened and then sent to slaughter houses in the Middle West.

The experiments made at Spur under the management of R. E. Dickson, superintendent, have demonstrated that sheep fed on milo maize and other sorghum grains, to which a small percentage of cotton seed has been added, have put on flesh equal to practically 100 per cent of the flesh production based on Indian corn fed sheep.

It is therefore felt important that adequate appropriations be made by the State Legislature for the continuation of this work. Thousands of head of livestock are now leaving Texas that would otherwise be fattened in Texas, and not only would it increase the demand for Texas feeds, but it would also enhance the State's reputation as the producer of a high type of grain-fed meat products.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been asked to assist in securing adequate appropriation for the continuation of this important work.

WILL MAKE AWARDS IN EVERY STATE

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 2.—The average housewife of today may be familiar with only a very few cuts of meat as revealed by a recent government survey, but Mrs. Housewife of the future is to be far better equipped in this behalf if the National Livestock and Meat Board has its way.

Results of the survey, which was conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, have prompted the Board to launch a new project of meat education among high school students of home economics, says a statement issued today by the organization's headquarters here. This project will be known as the Second National Meat Story Contest, full particulars concerning which will be in the hands of high school home economics instructors and their students in the very near future.

The first contest of this sort was held during the Spring of last year in co-operation with the home economics departments of the nation's high schools. The Board explains the initial effort as being for the purpose of stimulating the study of meat through offering an incentive for the student to write upon this subject. The new contest is a continuance of the original idea, the need for which has been accentuated by the findings of government investigators.

The Board points out that home economics instructors in all parts of the country heartily endorsed the first contest as an aid to education and many urged further work be done along this line. It is said that approximately 12,000 high school girls representing every state in the Union competed and it is expected that a much larger number will become interested in the present event. Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, served as chairman of the judging committee in the first contest.

The incentive for students to enter is offered in the form of cash prizes totaling $2,500, the National Championship prize being $300. Awards will be made in every state.

FACULTY BEING SELECTED FOR TEXAS "TECH"

Lubbock, Jan. 31.—Faculty appointments for the first year of the Texas Technological college will be made when the regents of the school hold their next regular meeting, which will be in the middle of March. Dr. Paul W. Horn, president, stated. Allowance for forty faculty members have been made.

Doctor Horn is already in correspondence with a number of school men who wish to be placed on the Tech faculty. About half of the forty teachers have already been selected but will not be contracted for until the board of regents passes on their names. Those who have been selected represent the heads of the various departments in almost every case, the president said. In many cases selection of assistants will be made by the heads of departments themselves. Practically all of the deans have been chosen.

An additional appropriation of $25,000 will be asked from the state to be used in the construction of a modern dairy barn. According to Doctor Horn the dairy department will be one which will be of great help to farm and dairy people of the vicinity, and will be manned by the best men available.

GRAIN ELEVATOR FOR PLAINVIEW TO BE 30,000 BUSHELS

Plainview, Feb. 2.—A new 30,000 bushel grain elevator will be built here to replace the 20,000 bushel elevator of the Farmers' Elevator Company recently destroyed by fire. A. G. Cox, manager, announced Monday that construction on the new elevator will begin in the next thirty days and that the building will be completed in time to handle the 1925 wheat crop of this section. The warehouse and office departments of the elevator building will likewise be considerably larger than those of the burned structure. Cox stated. Controlling interest in the company is owned by farmers living near Plainview.

Freight rate schedules covering ocean and rail shipments from Atlantic seaboard territory to points west of the Mississippi River in Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Missouri, which carriers first proposed to make effective in June, 1924, were ordered canceled by the commission.

The rates would have increased freights from 10 to 30 per cent on shipments of almost any commodity moving over the routes. The commission held they were not justified. The increases were held up at the time of filing to await an investigation.

PRAIRIE CHAPEL WINS SEMI-FINALS BASKETBALL

8 Schools Compete in Tournament Here Saturday—Lockney Team Sick List

Although Floydada and Lockney High Schools did not compete in the basketball tournament here Saturday to determine county championship among Floyd county schools, the tournament was full of pep and snap, eight schools furnishing the series of games. Prairie Chapel Consolidated school in the north part of the county proved to be the class of the meet and easily won the semi-finals and the right to meet the winners of the Floydada-Lockney game scheduled to play Wednesday of this week. Lockney and Floydada were matched to play in the tournament but Lockney's team had four men on the sick list and didn't want to get in with such a handicap. County Athletic Director J. C. Wester set Wednesday because the championship must be determined by Saturday night of this week. Prairie Chapel will take on the winner of the Floydada-Lockney game here Saturday.

Prairie Chapel, Fairview, Center, McCoy, Antelope, Lakeview, Roseland and Sand Hill were the schools entered in the tournament. Prairie Chapel drew Fairview in the first round, Center drew McCoy, Antelope drew Lakeview and Roseland drew Sand Hill. Prairie Chapel won 40 to 1, Center 19 to 14, Antelope 19 to 17 and Roseland 37 to 4.

In the second round Prairie Chapel won from Center 18 to 10 and Roseland beat Antelope 14 to 3.

In the semi-finals Prairie Chapel walked away from Roseland 27 to 9. Prairie Chapel had the two high scorers in the tournament in the persons of Teaff and Cooper who were unerring in their field throwing as well as in free pitching. Smitherman of Roseland also made a good record as a scorer. He made 21 of the 37 points against Sand Hill in the first round of eliminations.

The winner this week in this county will be pitted against the winner of Motley county for bi-county honors Saturday, Feb. 7th.—Hesperian, Jan. 29th.

LIVESTOCK IN THE UNITED STATES DECREASES

Washington, Feb. 4.—Reduction of the numbers of swine by almost 12,000,000, compared with a year ago, was the outstanding feature of the Department of Agriculture's annual estimate issued yesterday on the number and value of livestock on farms and ranges in the United States. The unusually large number of hogs a year ago and the poor corn crop last year, reducing the number of hogs that can be fattened, were declared the principal causes of the decrease.

The value of farm and range livestock was placed at $4,834,512,000, as compared with $4,906,587,000 on Jan. 1, a year ago. The average farm price of milk cows and dairy heifers dropped $1.96 per head in the year; mules dropped $3.58 per head; horses $1.50 per head, and other cattle 57c a head. The average farm price of sheep increased $1.66 per head, and swine prices were $2.59 a head higher than a year ago.

There were decreases in the number of all classes of livestock, excepting milk cows and sheep. Drouth in the range states, particularly west of the Rocky Mountains, caused a general reduction in livestock in that section together with low prices for beef cattle, as compared with those of dairy products, mutton and wool. Continued low prices for horses and mules caused reduction in the number of colts raised. The increasing number of automobiles, trucks, and tractors on farms has also caused a slight reduction in the number of work horses in some states.

The number and aggregate value of the different farm animals on Jan. 1 this year and comparison with that date a year ago, were:

Horses 17,589,000, decrease 470,000, value $1,107,248,000, decrease $56,666,000.
Mules 5,411,000, decrease 35,000, value $436,122,000, decrease $22,000, value $436,122,000, decrease $22,000.
Milk cows 25,319,000, increase 532,000, value $1,278,714,000, decrease $140,222,000.
Other cattle, 39,009,000, decrease 2,111,000, value $970,117,000 decrease $75,406,000.
Sheep 39,134,000, increase 834,000, value $372,909,000, increase $71,454,000.

Swine 54,234,000 decrease 11,896,000, value $669,402,000, increase $24,906,000.

The number of such animals not on farms, but in cities and villages, is not estimated yearly, but their number in 1920, as reported by the census was:

Horses 1,705,611, mules 378,250, cattle 2,111,527, sheep 450,042 swine 2,638,389.

The total value of all animals in previous years was: 1923, $5,180,725,000; 1922, $4,815,936,000; 1921, $6,051,202,000, and 1920, $5,165,194,000.

DEMAND FOR BEADS CONTINUES TO RAGE, EVERY VARIETY OFFERED AT VARIOUS PRICES

New York, Jan. 30.—Savage or civilized women of all ages have demanded beads. And the wild women of the cities today are no less willing to receive them as legal or illegal tender than their sisters of the jungle and teepee. Of all the beads, pearls continue unquestioned favorites. Apparently it makes no difference whether these adornments are produced by an irritated oyster or a socialistic workman, or whether the wearer calls them "pearls" with a back bay intonation or "poils" with an Oliver Street ol". All buy them, beg them or covet them.

There are three strings of pearls in the United States today each worth over a quarter of a million dollars. They are the Princess Anastasia's pearls, a purchase of the Leeds tin plate millions, the Dodge pearls, result of automobile industry and the Thiers necklace, owned once by the wife of the former president of France. There are dozens of strings almost as valuable but for every one of these there are 100,000 strings being worn today which cost from $1.50 to $150.

Cleopatra would have had a hard time shaking up her famous vinegar and pearl cocktail if she had taken ingredients from a modern string worth about $50 for these are known as indestructible and are warranted to resist even synthetic gin.

The artificial pearls are now made in a variety of shade and some of the new necklaces are composed of orchid, pink or gunmetal beads alternating or of one or two rows, each row composed of beads of one of these tints. Bracelets are constructed of similar strands, the beads ranging in size from a pea to a hazel nut. Lattices pearls, which form a tight loop around the neck with the end dangling are also a novelty.

Costume jewelry outside pearls has attained a prominence in women's dress which has carried prices to a point where there is little difference between the real and the false. The latest manifestation is a single flexible diamond anklet. One may obtain these as low as $29 or spend as much as $29,000. Of course the wide open spaces free of germs in the former are duplicated in the more expensive types when the ankles which the latter clasp are thick.

Practically every precious stone is to be had in the less expensive imitation, but there has been no falling off in demand for ivory, jet, jade, crystal, topaz, or fligree gold and silver beads. Some of the crystal strings are so long that they are worn over shoulder and under one arm and if any girl is lucky enough to have a long string, it is perfectly proper for her to trip over it whenever she thinks the occasion demands it.

Costume earrings are nearly as long as some of the strings of beads, but ears are bearing up wonderfully under the strain.

BANDITS DEFEAT LAW; HOUSE IS BARRICADED

Surrender at Last Minute Before Riddled by Machine Guns

Denton, Tex., Feb. 3.—Webb Martin and Yancey Storey, who barricaded themselves in a house here yesterday following exchange of pistol shots with Tarrant county officers, surrendered today at 12:40 o'clock to Capt. Tom Hickman of the Texas Rangers and Sheriff Carl Smith of Tarrant county, upon the assurance that they would be protected and given an opportunity to make bond.

W. A. Martin and Yancey Storey, against whom charges of assault with intent to murder have been filed, remained barricaded in a house near the campus of the College of Industrial Arts at 10 a. m. today. Denton county officers continued to watch the building. Telephone communications with the men was said to have brought replies they were not inclined to surrender. Officers hesitate to make and attack because of the thickly populated neighborhood and also because members of the family of one of the men are said to be in the building.

The trouble started late yesterday after Fort Worth officers had arrested N. A. Storey in connection with the alleged theft of an automobile. The Fort Worth officers and sheriff W. A. Frye of Denton were on the public square of the city when an automobile passed. Shots were fired from it at the officers, one bullet grazing the shoulder of Ed. M. Smith, a Fort Worth detective and other bullets striking the clothing of another officer. The automobile sped away as the officers returned the shots.

Later Martin and Yancey were found barricaded in a house on Oakland avenue. Fort Worth officers and Captain Tom Hickman of the State Rangers hurried to Denton on advice of Sheriff Frye. No effort was made to storm the building. The local peace officials watched the house all night. Captain Hickman who now has instructions to do what he can, is expected to return to Denton today.

LUBBOCK ARCHITECT PENS 5,047 WORDS ON POST CARD

Curiosity lead Walter E. Taylor, architect at Lubbock, to write 5,047 words on the reverse side of a postal card. And on the back of a 1-cent postage stamp he wrote the Ten Commandments. The penmanship is so legible every word on the postal and stamp can be read by a person with extra good eye sight. Those who can not see so good can read the sentences with the aid of a magnifying glass.

While Taylor does not claim world championship honors for his pencraft, he does admit that he has never heard of a person writing as many perfectly readable words upon a postcard or stamp as he has done.

Says He Can Do Better
And what is more, Taylor says, if he is forced to, to maintain his reputation as a "fine" writer, can trace 6,000 words on a postcard.

It was just curiosity, just to see what he could do, with a steady hand, clear eye and good ink, that induced Taylor to indulge in his freak writing. Some time ago he noticed in a Lubbock paper a fine word contest. It interested him. He "took his pen in hand" and wrote 600 words on a postal. He thought that was good work. Then he saw in an Oklahoma paper where a boy had written 700. Not to be outdone by a youngster, Taylor again took his "pen in hand" and when he got through counting the words on the postal, found he had written 1,200. In Missouri some one wrote 1,300 and Taylor set out to beat that record, and penned 1,700 words on a postal.

Sets New Record
By that time Taylor had become so interested in this freak writing that he set out to see just exactly how many readable words he could put on the reverse side of a postal. His final achievement was 5,047. The composition describes a rain drop in its route from the clouds to the sea. There are 103 lines on the card, with 49 words to the line. Taylor spent four hours a day for three days on the task, completing it on July 6, 1923.

The month before that Taylor wrote a description of the wild turkey on the back of a postal. It consists of 1,516 words. And in three hours, on July 12, 1923, Taylor wrote the Declaration of Independence on the reverse side of a card. It contains 1,300 words.

It was then that Taylor turned to the Bible, hunted up the Ten Commandments, and penned them on the reverse side of a postage stamp. That only took him two hours.

Hands Must Be Steady
Taylor says it requires a very steady hand, a clear eye and ink that flows thin but steadily to accomplish these feats. Ordinary ink will not do; it must be of a certain consistency, that it will flow just so fast from the finest pointed pen obtainable. Taylor has been an architect, for 35 years, 10 years of which he spent in Fort Worth, 1904 to 1914. Although he is advanced well in years.

Lone Star Home Demonstration Club

The Lone Star Home Demonstration Club will meet Tuesday, Feb. 10, there will be no change in our meeting date, through all the year we will meet each second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, at the school house at 2 p. m.

Orman has returned to his home place northeast of Lockney, where he claims he is trying to reform and re-earn the honor of being one of the people of the county once more. Mr. Orman states that during his term of office that he found the people as a whole honest and honorable, asking only for the things they deserved or believed they were entitled to, and that it was now his desire to become one of the honest and honorable citizens and try to again make a nice little home for his wife and himself on the farm.

Mr. Orman has served his people well during his years in office and he will be kindly remembered by the many friends he has made in his fair treatment in an official capacity, as well as those who have known him only as a man, and not an official.

State Park Board Plans to Have 180 Parks in Confines of State; Fifty Already Accepted

Plainview State Park, containing 44 acres, is included in the fifty State Parks to which the State of Texas has accepted deeds. It is the plan of the State Park Board to have 180 parks in Texas to be maintained by the State for the good of the public.

The park in Plainview includes the tourist camp ground and the land adjoining it which was acquired from Dr. J. H. Wayland.

Former Governor Neff has asked the legislature for $50,000 to be used in the general expense of the board in completing its tours of inspection for improvement of the parks and other expenses.

DRIED BUTTERMILK FOR WINTER EGGS

Almost all poultry raisers bemoan the lack of eggs during the winter. Of course, this general condition brings on market shortage and egg prices climb. In fact, an egg laid in the winter is worth, in actual market price, two eggs laid in the spring. If this is true, the added fare and feeding necessary to get eggs during the winter months returns big dividends.

There is one fact that most poultry raisers overlook, that hens cannot lay eggs in winter when given the same feed as in the spring, when new sprouts and other food elements are plentiful. To get more eggs in winter, there is one rule to remember.

Feed Determines Egg Production

Hens have more work to do in order to lay eggs in winter than any other time of year. For one thing, feed must furnish fuel for keeping them warm. To manufacture white, yolks and shells of eggs requires a healthy body supplied with certain food elements which hens naturally pick up in the spring and summer.

One of these important food elements, or rather a number of them, have been found to be contained in buttermilk.

Lactic acid, milk proteins, vitamins and similar food elements are easy to supply in the laying mash by the addition of 10 per cent or more of dried buttermilk.

A ration consisting of 25 pounds wheat bran, 25 pounds standard middlings, 30 pounds corn meal, 5 pounds bone meal and 15 pounds dried buttermilk has given fine results. In feeding, the laying mash should be kept before the flock all the time and should be supplemented by feeding scratch grain twice a day.

Many poultry raisers who have provided warm houses and have been disappointed by no increase in egg production will be surprised by the results given from feeding a good egg-laying mash.

BAD PRAIRIE FIRE

spread over into the Gray ranch. It is estimated between ten and twelve sections of grass was destroyed. Jim Shelton arrived here this afternoon from Amarillo to look over the damage. It started on the L-S ranch and

TIME TO KILL

THE PRAIRIE DOGS

Last summer the commissioners court created a fund for the purchase of material for killing prairie dogs. We bought this material and Mr. Bridenstine of the U. S. Biological survey supervised the mixing of this poison and grain. He also was here several days assisting in demonstrating the proper method of applying the poison bait.

There are several hundred pounds of this poisoned grain in the court house and every farmer who has any prairie dogs should avail himself of the opportunity. This poison bait is being distributed to the farmers at cost, which is eight cents per pound. No individual can make up this poison so cheaply and too this is all mixed evenly according to the regular formula. During these winter months when there is a resting spell and when there is no green grass for the dogs to eat, this work should be done. Any one who is interested in this work should get some of this poisoned grain and if any assistance is needed the agent shall be glad to give it.

Besides being a nuisance these little animals destroy a great deal of the crops throughout the year. They destroy much more than they eat. Most of their destruction is due to their natural instinct to cut down every thing that is growing within a radius of several yards of their burrows. Some farmers are waiting for their neighbors to kill theirs first, and so it goes. The proper way to control this pest is for every one to do his part and then the whole country will be benefited.—County Agent.

PRUNING DEMONSTRATION IN LOCKNEY SATURDAY MORNING

Next Saturday morning the county agent will be in Lockney giving some pruning demonstrations. Those who are interested in this work should be at Griffiths Grocery Saturday morning and we will go from there to two or three places where this work will be done. The writer is very anxious to do as much in every community as possible and by doing group work we can get better and more work done. A large group of people can be shown the proper methods of pruning just as easily as one person. This is true of all kinds of our work. On account of the increasing demand for work by the agent it is getting almost impossible to get to everyone without this group work. Individual work is slow and only a few get the benefit. However, the writer does not refuse to serve individual needs but these wants must be made known to him. It is not the policy of the agent to go around trying to meddle with any one's business and dictating, especially when he does not know what the individual's attitude is.

If any one wants any kind of work done by the agent he should call or write him and arrange an appointment. We are booked up about a week ahead now all the time nearly. Terracing and pruning is the main work being done at this time. Grapes should be pruned this month. Fruit trees may be pruned any time from now till April 1. Fruit trees and grapes may be put out any time from now till April.

For one just putting out some trees an excellent way is to set them around an earth tank. Mr. Pope, who lives southwest of Lockney, has some large apple trees growing around his tank and these trees never fail to bear and the apples are far better than the average. There are several people taking to this method now and there will be great good come from it to those who just want a few trees for their own use.—County Agent.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD SEED FOR PLANTING

Some farmers are using good methods in selection and caring for good planting seed, while the majority do not take enough thought about this work. By securing good seed in the beginning and then keeping it up by selection and roguing one can not only keep his planting seed up to a high level of purity but can often improve upon it and make it even better than imported seed. Careless methods can not improve seed nor keep purity up. In Lubbock and some other counties there are pure seed associations whose purpose is to improve upon the seed and to check upon imported seed as to its reliability. Floyd county should have such an organization. When we keep check on our local producers and distributors as well as the foreign seed houses we shall have a higher standard of crops and get more money from them.

There are a few farmers in the county who have some good maize and kaffir seed and should be distributed over the county to other farmers, but we need still more grain sorghum seed imported. We are planning to order some seed from people who have pure seed and any one who wants to order some should give their names to the county agent and the kind and amount wanted. The best way to buy maize seed is in the head so that one may see what he is getting and then hand thresh it. By getting a small quantity of these heads we can get a start and then soon have the whole crop from it.

We have better cotton varieties here than is found in some counties, but we can still improve upon our cotton seed by making use of the more careful methods in handling the local supply. We are very fortunate in having reliable men who have been furnishing the cotton seed at a very reasonable rate and these men have been trying to get the very best varieties for this country. But after we get a good variety of seed we can, by the use of more care in catching these seed and by picking and ginning separate, maintain a higher standard of cotton which is adapted to this particular locality. Seed which is grown locally if properly handled and kept pure should be better than imported seed. In some counties where one variety of cotton is adapted and grown exclusively as a community proposition their cotton has been improved and they are now getting a better price for their staple.

The farmers of Floyd county should be very careful in their selection of wheat seed. We have a hard wheat section and we are getting a standard price for these hard varieties. We should not allow soft wheat to be introduced into this section as it will eventually get mixed with our standard wheat and cause a loss in marketing on account of these mixed percentages. Some growers are now planting some soft varieties and it is not only detrimental to our country from the standpoint mentioned above but these varieties will not make here as well as the standard hard varieties. It does not pay to experiment with these other varieties. By asking those who have tried them and by getting the information which the experimental stations have been putting out one can not be misled.—County Agent.

BROWNFIELD TO GET NEW COURT HOUSE

Brownfield, Jan. 31.—Another West Texas wooden building of widespread note will give away to a more modern structure of stone and brick as the wave of progress sweeps onward if the present plans of the officials of Terry county materialize. Peters, Haynes and Singleton, Lubbock architects, have been named to draw up plans for a new courthouse to be built in Brownfield, at a cost of more than $100,000 when fully equipped.

Ever since Terry county was organized as a bonafide part of the State of Texas the business of the county has been carried on in a frame building of two stories. The new building will add to the efficiency of the officials as well as to the appearance of the bustling town of Brownfield.

DECISION IS MADE ON EXPRESS RATES

Railroads Demand Injunction to Restrain Lowering of Tariff

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—Western and Southern railroads are denied a temporary injunction to restrain enforcement of lower express rates in their territories in a decision of the United States District Court filed here Wednesday. The case may go to further hearings on its merits or the railroads may appeal directly to the United States Supreme Court if they desire to take further action, but representatives of affected roads here said the course of action in the future has not been determined upon.

The railroads, in opposing the lower rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, declared it would reduce their revenue $8,000,000 annually without affecting the income of the express company, as the commissioner order equalizing increases in Eastern territory.

Final arguments on the application for the temporary injunction, which was asked pending final hearing, were heard in St. Louis Jan. 19 and 20 and decision of the court arrived last last week.

CRAWFORD GETS FIVE YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Dallas Slayr Is Jailed Pending Move For Appeal—Given Five Years Saturday

Dallas, Jan. 31.—William Lester Crawford, convicted of manslaughter as the result of the killing of Paul O'Day last September, and given five years here this afternoon, is in jail pending formal action on his application for a new trial.

Motion for the new trial was formally filed, immediately after the verdict was returned. It will be within the next 10 days, according to his attorneys, that the amended petition is presented to Judge Charles A. Pippen of Criminal District Court No. 2. Should the motion be refused, an appeal will be taken to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Crawford was held without bail at his preliminary hearing, but prior to the trial, had been released under $20,000 bond, following a habeas corpus hearing.

"Not So Bad," He Says
"It wasn't so bad," was his comment on the verdict. He occupies a cell on the fifth floor of the Dallas county jail the same in which he spent six weeks prior to the habeas corpus hearing.

The verdict was reached at 11:30 a. m., but was not revealed until an hour and a half later, because of the absence of Judge Pippen from the court house. Shortly before 1 o'clock he strolled back and the jury was brought in.

According to Foreman Switzer, the verdict was reached on four ballots.

"At no time was there a ballot for acquittal," he said. "On the first ballot to assess punishment there were four votes for a murder conviction."

The verdict was delivered with the courtroom packed to the doors. "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of manslaughter and assess his punishment at five years in the penitentiary," the foreman read.

Crawford, who had been watching the judge intently, betrayed no sign of emotion. His lips tightly compressed, and his pallid face haggard from fatigue and strain, he made no motion and uttered no sound until the jury had been dismissed.

Attended by Surgeon
Not until the verdict was read was it learned that the defendant was suffering from the effects of an operation for hernia he underwent a month ago.

The surgeon's incision reopened several days ago and he has been sitting in the courtroom in great pain, according to his attorneys. He was attended Saturday afternoon by his surgeon in his cell. The surgeon was called immediately after Crawford was taken to jail.

New Method Heals Pyorrhea

Ten Year Bad Case Completely Healed In a Short Time Writes Florida Woman

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 year's suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment: "worth its weight in gold." Using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently, I was told there was no relief, and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet, and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Moore. Simply write the Moreham Co., 2174 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or pay, postman the $2 with a few cents postage. Use the treatment 7 days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect, and your $2 will be returned at once.

ELECTRIC POWER INDUSTRY MUST EXPAND IN 1925

During 1925 the electric power and light industry will be called upon to expand more rapidly than in 1924 because of increased use of electricity in the homes and industries. The program of interconnection of transmission systems will be pushed to the end that electric service may be maintained continuously and economically in the face of local or regional interruptions. Electrification of farms will be pushed by committees who are studying methods and means to that end, says the Texas Public Service Information Bureau.

In material progress several new records were established in 1924. During the year 1924 more than $1,200,000,000 was raised by the electric light and power companies of the country. One billion of this went to the building of new generating plants and transmission and distribution systems and extensions to existing systems. The balance was for refunding purposes and represented but one-sixth of the total. The total amount raised in 1924 exceeded by $300,000,000 the previous high record of 1923, and is indicative of the healthy growth of the industry. The total amount now invested in the industry is $5,600,000,000.

Expert opinion predicts that the demand for electrical service will double within the next five years. Without allowing for increased economies of operation, this will bring the total investment by 1930 in the neighborhood of $13,000,000,000, although economies through engineering skill and scientific research will probably shave down this figure considerably. In fact, as a promise of this, great economy in fuel consumption was made last year through increased efficiency of fuel-burning generating stations, and also through wider interconnection of generating and distributing systems.

The depression felt last year by a number of the essential industries was in a degree reflected in central station production by a slight falling off in the progressive yearly increases here in electrical current which have occurred since the beginning of the electrical industry. In 1924 over 54,000,000,000 kilowatt hours was the output, an increase of 6 per cent over the preceding year. The gross revenue of the industry during last year was $1,350,000,000, an increase of 5.2 per cent over 1923.

This relation of 6 per cent increase in kilowatt hours, with increase of 5.2 per cent gross revenue, plainly indicates the downward trend in the cost of the current to the using public.

The addition of approximately 1,900,000 new customers in 1924 brings the total to 16,377,605 customers enjoying electrical service. Of this number 599,915 are industrial power users, 2,524,705 are commercial users and the balance are domestic customers.

At the close of the year the country was served by 6,355 electric light and power companies. The considerable majority of these were privately owned and operated plants, which furnished 95 per cent of electrical service to the country.

MARVIN JONES.

FUN POKED AT PLANS TO HELP FARMER

Washington, Jan. 31.—Ridiculing the Farm Commission recommendations, Representative Marvin Jones of Texas, in addressing the House Saturday, declared they would not afford relief, but tend merely to hamper existing co-operative associations and create a new horde of federal inspectors. President Coolidge himself did not escape, the Texan poking fun at his picture taken during the campaign showing the Chief Executive pitching hay.

"Strange to say," Jones said, "it appears from the picture that he is wearing some overalls drawn over a pair of black dress trousers, and on the side the black trousers appear in bold relief. He also is wearing a white shirt and is hatless. Imagine a man making hay in the burning sunshine without any hat.

 "Shades of the pioneer farmer in the great prairies of the West—those on whose brave shoulders rests the commerce of this country—without any hat. The article which appeared in most of the country newspapers says the president reached the hay field in a limousine, that there was not much work to be done for most of the hay was already gathered, but that they had thoughtfully left a small amount for the president's benefit.

"I may add in this connection that continuously for 26 years—not a single intermission and insofar as I have been able to ascertain, he has never been notified of his nomination without being caught pitching hay, milking a cow, mending a farm wagon, fixing a fence, greasing the harness, cutting cockleburrs or chopping jimson weeds.

"It seems passing strange that in all these years of continuous holding of office he could never be caught at his desk on such occasions.

No New Ideas
 "Perhaps this is just a fall of his, but in view of the background it would seem appropriate that the commission appointed by him to relieve the farmer's distress should submit a report of generalization without a new or original idea or combination of ideas and should wind up with expressions of sympathy for the farmer.

"One recommendation is that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be directed to take steps to relieve the raw products of agriculture and livestock from their disproportionate share of transportation costs. As a matter of fact the House and Senate at the last session passed the legislation and the day before the commission made its report the conference report on the same was adopted so that this recommendation means nothing as the legislation already has been passed.

"The report is full of generalizations and at the only point where it gets down to real substantive matters, it bristles with recommendations the principal effect of which would be to create new federal jobs and add additional expense and additional burdens and additional divisions of burdens to the already overburdened taxpayers and the already overgoverned country.

Special Privileges
 "It is recognized that special privileges are being given to certain classes in this country and instead of offering something to cure the situation tends to widen the circle which receive special privilege as to include another class. The sad part of it is that these recommendations if followed would not extend the privileges but would only seem to, and would still leave the farmer at the mercy of those who would exploit him.

"This is but one of the many commissions that has been appointed which, like all the rest, fails to offer a solution for the real problems, to-wit, the establishment of a better system of marketing, so that the farmer may secure a larger portion of the price for which his product ultimately sells, and the removal of special privileges now allowed to those who exploit the farmer."
