Enemy Fighters Score On B-29s For First Time

Yanks Knock Out Enemy Defenses On Northern Leyte

(By The Associated Press)

Loss of two and possibly three American Superfortresses in a major air battle with Japanese sky fighters over the big Omura plane building base within the Nippon homeland Tuesday, was reported by the U. S. 20th Air command today.

The announcement said none of the B-29s was lost in simultaneous strikes against Shanghai and Nanking, in China.

Japs Claim 63 Downed

The communique disputed fantastic Japanese propaganda claims that 63 of the Superfortresses were shot down or damaged.

In an earlier announcement the 20th Air command said the B-29s shot down a score of the Japanese fighters, probably bagged 19 others and damaged 22.

Two of the Superfortresses were lost to Rising Sun fighter planes. One unreported so far leads "to the presumption it is lost."

It was indicated the aerial battling over Omura was the largest in which the B-29s have participated. It was the first time Japanese fighters have scored against the Superfortresses in their eight strikes against the Nippon home islands.

Enemy Defenses Battered

Mud-caked American infantrymen knocked out Japanese defenses on northern Leyte island piece by piece today as official communiques added to the mounting enemy losses of men, ships and planes in the western Pacific.

Thirteen more Nipponese ships were sunk, ranging from a cruiser, blown up at the Brunei naval base on Borneo, to a schooner. Another warship, perhaps a cruiser, was also hit at Brunei. Five warships have been bombed there in four days.

Nearly 9,000 more Japanese were killed or captured by U. S. marines and soldiers mopping up in the Marianas and western Caroline islands. A total of 63,388 dead enemy troops have been counted and 3,267 taken prisoner on Saipan, Guam and Tinian of the Marianas and Peleliu and Anguar of the Palau group.

40 Jap Planes Downed

At least 40 and possibly 57 more Imperial aircraft were destroyed. Of these, 20 confirmed and 16 probables were shot down by Superforts over Japan's Omura aircraft center during the first major test of B-29s in combat in eight strikes at Nippon proper. Adverse weather prevented observation of the precision bombing and diverted some Superforts to raids on Nanking and Shanghai.

Reshuffling of about a dozen high ranking officers in the Imperial army, topped by a change in the command of all invading forces in China, was reported by Tokyo radio.

The war ministry announced Gen. Yasuji Okamura, commander in North China, has replaced Field Marshal Gen. Shunroku Hata as commander-in-chief of all

Death Toll In Explosion, Fire Up To Seven

Denison Tragedy Occurs When Gas Truck Explodes

(By The Associated Press)

DENISON, Nov. 22.—Two more deaths today brought to seven the number killed in an explosion and fire here which followed the collision of a butane gas tank truck and an automobile.

Six of more than 27 other persons injured when blasts rocked a block in Denison at 4:57 p. m. yesterday were in the hospital.

Chief of Police Paul Borum, whose department was investigating, called it "the worst tragedy in the city's history."

Warehouse Blown To Bits

A small grocery warehouse was blown to bits, and trees and residences in the block suffered fire and explosion damage.

John Marshall, Sherman, Tex., real estate man, and Austin Jordan, Denison taxi-driver, died this morning.

The other dead were:

W. L. Sweeney, Kansas City, Kans.

Mrs. W. L. Sweeney, Kansas City.

F. L. Nix, Denison.

H. F. Hammond, Sherman.

Lonnie Iker, Denison.

Listed as the remaining most critically injured were Mrs. C. A. Bass of Denison; Mrs. John Marshall of Sherman, and Mrs. R. B. Marshall of Dallas.

Marshall was believed to have been in the car which figured in the accident. Jordan was a half block away in his car when the explosion occurred. He tried to back it away, and saved the car, but his clothes were burned off.

Knocked Cap From Tank

Eyewitnesses said a butane truck driven by Jeff Whitfield of Denison and an automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall and Mrs. R. B. Marshall collided in the northeast part of town. The collision apparently knocked the cap from the butane tank.

Whitfield said he leaped from his truck and ran, shouting for others to get away from the scene. He escaped serious injuries.

Lewis Henry of Denison said Earl Vick, a butcher at a grocery store nearby ran to the sidewalk and screamed for the crowd to get away from the truck. He warned that it might explode.

"Nobody moved away," Henry said.

Terrific Explosion Occurs

A train passed near the scene. Automobiles moved by. There was a terrific explosion. Police specu-

U. S. Soldiers To Eat Turkey

PARIS, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—The United States Army was prepared today to serve turkey dinners tomorrow to an estimated 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 Americans in six countries, including Germany, and Thanksgiving services were scheduled from the battlefront to the great cathedrals of Europe which the doughboys helped liberate.

More than 3,200,000 pounds of grade "A" turkey reached France in a refrigerator ship and has been dispatched to troops throughout the European theater.

Everywhere possible soldiers will be given an opportunity to attend Catholic, Protestant or Jewish divine services.

American Thanksgiving services were planned at Westminster abbey in London, Notre Dame cathedral in Paris and the Reims cathedral in Reims.

Chaplains with combat troops along the battle front and in small towns will conduct non-sectarian services for their units.

In Cherbourg, first large French city liberated, French civilians and British troops will join Americans in a Thanksgiving festival at the municipal theater.

"E" Bond Sales Near 400 Million Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (U.P.)—War finance division officials said today they expected that sales of "E" bonds would pass the $400,000,000 mark for the second day of the Sixth War loan which began Monday.

The first official figure on bond sales was issued yesterday and showed $391,000,000 deposited to Uncle Sam's account from Monday's sales of "E" bonds alone as recorded by the federal reserve banks or other U. S. Treasury depositories.

First 'Selective Service' Group Left 4 Years Ago

Four years ago today fifteen Lubbock county men were given a 'send-off' of band music and speeches at the Santa Fe station. They were the first to enter the armed forces under the then new Selective Service act. All were volunteers.

What has happened to these men? The Evening Journal thought it would be interesting to find out. A painstaking survey was conducted and the findings are included in a story on page 2 of today's Journal.

CIO Planning To Continue Political Role

Future Of PAC Is Under Study At Convention

BY HAROLD WARD
Associated Press Labor Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 — The CIO, already appreciative of its winning role in the recent political election, looked for an opportunity today to formally vote permanence to its PAC and stage at least a little back-slapping.

On the whole, the convention, in its third day, has taken the CIO's political successes with conservative enthusiasm, although Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Vice President Wallace and other speakers have glowingly praised labor's part in President Roosevelt's election to a fourth term.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP) — Unanimously and amid applause, CIO convention delegates adopted today a resolution expressing a "feeling of comradeship" for rank and file members of the United Mine Workers of America while taking a verbal whack at "the self-imposed and dictatorial leaders" of the UMW.

Resolution Prepared

A resolution to continue the Political Action committee was prepared for action today, although President Philip Murray said he was only "hopeful" that it would be brought before the 600 delegates before tonight.

The resolution, to be chiefly advocated by Sidney Hillman, chairman of PAC, was one of the major proposals for the 7th annual conclave.

It enumerates the "immediate political tasks of CIO" as being: "1. To maintain and to stimulate the activities of existing political action committees established in state and city industrial union councils and local unions and to establish such bodies where they are not now organized.

Local Activity Stressed

"2. To maintain, extend, and stimulate the activity of community organizations formed under the leadership or with the participation of CIO.

"3. To promote united action in the political field in collaboration with other organizations of labor, progressive groups, and forward looking leaders of the two major political parties.

"4. To continue and intensify the work of securing the fullest possible exercise of the right of franchise by organization for a maximum registration and vote.

"5. To carry on the work of political education through the publication and distribution of pamphlets, servicing the labor press, the use of the radio, and

House Passes Bill On Crop Insurance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — Reversing a 1943 stand, the House today passed a federal insurance program to protect the nation's farmers from future crop losses.

By a roll call vote of 254 to 16 the House sent to the Senate a measure endorsed by both major political parties providing immediate insurance for wheat, cotton and flax crops. Eventually its terms will be extended to protect practically all grain, fruit and vegetable growers.

The bill itself contains no financing and sponsors said they couldn't estimate the cost of the program. The House killed a limited crop insurance program last year because members said it was too costly.

Rep. Sumners (D-Tex) fought the bill, saying "the question is whether we are going to move more federal power into a great big federal bureaucracy."

Gov. Stevenson Explains How Regents Picked

Investigation Of Medical Branch Set Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 — Governor Coke R. Stevenson revealed today that Mayor Otis Massey of Houston had recommended appointment of Dr. Judson Taylor to the board of regents of the University of Texas and that Fort Worth physicians similarly had recommended Dr. C. O. Terrell.

The governor said that he had not asked either appointee how he stood on the university administrative controversy which is now the subject of a Senate committee investigation.

He spoke at a press conference at which it was recalled that Dr. Homer P. Rainey, deposed president of the university, had told Senate investigators he felt that it was an "interesting coincidence" that both Dr. Taylor and Dr. Terrell served on a committee which had recommended appointment of Dr. Chauncey D. Leake as vice president and dean of the university's medical school branch after the regents had taken administrative control of the medical branch away from Dr. Rainey.

Committee Not Mentioned

The governor said that no one had mentioned to him that either physician had served on the committee and that he did not inquire of either appointee as to how he stood on the university situation.

He said that in the case of Dr. Terrell, Dr. Webb Walker had telephoned him to inquire whether the late Dr. H. K. Aynesworth of Waco had resigned from the board of regents. The governor said that he had not. Dr. Walker told him, the governor added, that the medical profession felt that a physician should be on the board to succeed Dr. Aynesworth and that Fort Worth physicians favored Dr. Terrell and added that Fort Worth had never been represented on the board of regents.

Houston Asked Representation

In the case of Dr. Taylor Stevenson said Mayor Massey recommended him and explained further that Houston felt it should have board representation because the dental school and university's cancer research hospital are located in Houston.

Dr. Rainey testified yesterday that Dr. E. W. Bertner, acting director of the cancer research hospital, had been active in the selection of regents.

At his press conference the governor declared that Dr. Bertner had never consulted with him on appointment of regents.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22 (AP) — State headquarters of the Ohio Federation of Telephone workers reported today as a 10 a. m. (EWT) War Labor board deadline passed that the group's strike against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. "is still on and will continue pending further developments."

The national WLB ordered members of the independent labor organization to end their walkout

Strike To Continue

Mrs. Margaret Farina, vice president of the Ohio Federation of Telephone workers, an independent union, asserted the six day strike would continue "unless further word is received from the WLB, or the government takes possession."

He underwent a gastric resection Nov. 6 and later developed pneumonia. He is survived by his wife.

The body was taken to Portales by a funeral home from that city. Funeral arrangements were not known here early this afternoon.

Enemy Front In Alsace-Lorraine Is Shattered

French Reported Driving In 19 Miles Of Strasbourg; German 19th Army Imperiled; Part Of Staff Captured In Mulhouse

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 22—Mulhouse and Metz fell today to Allied armies driving swiftly upon the Rhine through the shattered German front in Alsace-Lorraine and the Paris radio said the French were within 19 miles of Strasbourg.

The Paris report said French troops and captured Saverne, in the gap leading from fallen Sarrebourg to Strasbourg, capital of Alsace-Lorraine and largest French city still in enemy hands. Headquarters advices placed the U. S. Seventh army 23 miles away. Gen. Eisenhower's communique said Allied infantry and armor were plunging east "against crumbling resistance on a wide front."

The last German resistance dissolved in Metz and the official fall of that fortress city was announced while troops of four American divisions of the Third army were cleaning their guns. Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, jr., became the first commander since Attila the Hun to capture the city frontally. Attila did the trick 1,500 years ago. Metz, a city of 83,119, is 80 miles northwest Strasbourg and was rimmed by 40 or so forts which made it one of the strongest positions in the world.

The whole German 19th army of 70,000 or so survivors was in imminent peril; part of its staff was captured at Mulhouse by the French First army.

YANKS CAPTURE TOWN

ESCHWEILER, Germany, Nov. 22 (AP)—Eschweiler is in American hands tonight — a sodden ruin of smashed and damaged buildings.

de Gaulle said in a broadcast report recorded by the Federal Communications commission. Colmar, a city of 46,000, is capital of upper Alsace, the center of six roads and 40 miles south of Strasbourg.)

Ninth Army Gains

The U. S. Ninth army hacked out important but less spectacular gains within sight of the Roer river on the Aachen front. In bitter weather and against savage resistance, Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's new captured high ground overlooking Linnich and Julich on the Roer. Berlin said a tank spearhead has reached Bourheim, 25 miles from the western limits of the ruins of Cologne.

The breakthrough of the U. S. Seventh and the French First armies on the southern end of the western front erased a definite German front along the northern slope of the difficult Vosges mountains, encrusted in snow.

More than 1,000 prisoners surrendered with the staff officers at Mulhouse, normally a humming industrial city of 96,697, 61 miles southwest of Strasbourg. Once a free city of Alsace, it lies nine miles from the German frontier on a tributary of the Rhine.

The drive on Strasbourg (193,000) carried through German defenses before the Saverne gap and ten miles beyond the French communications center of Sarrebourg, where three railroads and 11 highways converge.

Progress Slow In North

Slow and painful progress was reported in the Aachen sector. In the north, where Americans fought nearly a half mile into industrial Eschweiler and drove the Germans back against the Roer river, first major terrain obstacle on the Cologne plain.

Melancholy German broadcasts said great tank battles were being fought all the way from Aachen to the Swiss border and "exceed in violence anything hitherto known since the invasion of Europe."

"Von Rundstedt's armies have to cope with a task of the greatest magnitude but notwithstanding some local successes of the Allies, the positions of the German forces in the west are still very strong," Berlin said.

Street Fighting Continues

Violent street fighting continued in the southern part of Belfort and a French communique said "the fall of the citadel is imminent."

It was estimated that 70,000 Germans were sealed back against their homeland border south of Strasbourg in positions of rising peril. With the Nazi line collapsed in Lorraine, only three bridges were reported intact along a 40-mile stretch of the broad and swift Rhine south of Strasbourg.

The Germans were reported hastily massing barges and boats in an attempt to organize an escape to the Siegfried fortifications on the east bank.

Spur Through Mulhouse

French forces spurred on north through Mulhouse toward Colmar, 22 miles ahead.

The Germans threw a few Tiger tanks and some infantry across a 12-mile sector of the French corridor between Courtelevant and Bisel, but the French kept supplies moving toward the Rhine over secondary roads. The French fought to clear the German dent and to prevent Germans from driving to the Swiss border for internment. Heavy artillery duels were fought.

Its left flank collapsed, the endangered German 19th army hurled what strength it could into a counterattack against French units

RAF Raiders Unload 7,000 Tons Of Bombs

U. S. 15th Air Force Heavies Bomb Munich And Salzburg

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP) — U. S. 15th Air force heavy bombers based in Italy struck today with Lightning and Mustang escort at targets in Munich and at railyards in Salzburg, about 75 miles to the southeast.

The raid followed a night attack by upwards of 1,000 RAF bombers from Britain which smashed at rail and oil targets in the German Ruhr.

An estimated 7,000 tons of explosives were dropped in last night's assault, the second large-scaled Allied blow against Germany's war vital oil reserves within 12 hours.

Fighter Fleet Sets Record

The night assault followed a daylight attack by 1,250 American heavy bombers escorted by a record fleet of more than 1,100 fighters. Forty bombers and 17 fighters failed to return from the American operation, but some were believed to have landed away from their home bases.

In addition to the Ruhr oil plants, the RAF bombers hit Aschaffenburg, railway junction 25 miles southeast of Frankfurt.

The American daylight force met fierce opposition from the Nazi air force in battering refineries at Hamburg and Harburg and the large Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg with 4,000 tons of bombs.

The Americans blasted 73 German fighters out of the sky and destroyed six more on the ground.

Two States Classed "Unfair' By AFL

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—The states of Arkansas and Florida will be classed as "unfair" and "anti-labor" if a proposal being considered by the resolutions committee of the American Federation of Labor is adopted. The AFL is in the third day of its 64th annual convention.

Amendments adopted in the Nov. 7 election by Arkansas and Florida outlawing the closed shop brought about the resolution. "The adoption of such amendments," the resolution said, "reflects a hostile and unfair attitued towards organized labor," and it proposed that all AFL publications devote space to inform members as "to the names and sources of supply of the products of such states and the trade names of such products."

The proposal was submitted by delegates from the International Typographical union.

Also being considered was a complaint that "discriminations" against negroes had lost many members to the CIO, and a plea that the AFL adopt a "more liberal stand" toward its negro membership.

Girls Cut Classes, Do 'Shopping' Early

Bobbysockers Who Shoplift For Fun Baffling Juvenile Officers

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22 (AP)—Bobbysockers who shoplift for fun are baffling juvenile officials here and have Portland retailers walking on their heels.

Young girls, who seem to skip classes to shoplift as casually as boys play hookey to go fishing, have been arrested from nearly every high school and grade school in town and from some of the city's better homes.

Thefts On Increase

The thefts — practically all for personal use, not for sale—have been increasing for two years. The bobbysock brigade seems to be doing its Christmas shoplifting early, and police say it beats anything they've ever seen.

A 12-year-old was caught with $150 of cashmere sweaters, beads and bracelets in a shopping bag. A girl of 17 admitted stealing $700 worth of goods in seven months to send as gifts to her sailor sweetheart. At one glove counter a detective caught five girls, each with a stolen pair of gloves in her size.

Hold Up Inventories

One department store official said shoplifting has run into so many thousands of dollars that his auditors held up inventory reports, thinking there must have been a bookkeeping error. "I've seen nothing like it in 34 years," he said.

Police Capt. Elizabeth Moorad opined that the youngsters look at shoplifting as a fad—not a crime. It's like boys tearing down street signs on Hallowe'en. "I guess it is stealing," one tearful teen-ager confessed. "Only I didn't think of it that way. It was an adventure, sort of. The other girls were doing it."

The stores are doing something about it. Detectives have been increased. School officials have begun patroling department stores, to challenge school-age youngsters who drift in during class hours.

Appropriations For Non-War Agencies To Get Drastic Cuts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — The "most drastic money cuts" in congressional history for non-war agencies were predicted today by Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House appropriations committee.

Cannon said he foresaw no immediate sharp curtailment in war spending, which in the last two years has soared to a record high, but predicted total congressional appropriations for the 1945-46 fiscal year would be below the $67,000,000,000 provided for the current twelve months.

Cannon said in an interview that the fact that most capital outlays already have been made for the War and Navy departments should result in lower totals for those two agencies next year.

"It now is largely a matter of maintaining and keeping going what we already have provided," he said.

"The non-war items must be severely curtailed," he continued.

By "non-war items," Cannon explained, he meant "all those items which cannot be proved to be directly connected with the prosecution of the war."

First Draftees Left 4 Years Ago Today

By JEANE ENGLE
Journal Staff Writer

Four years ago today—Nov. 22, 1940—the first group of Lubbock county men to enter military service under the Selective Service act were given a send-off of band music and speeches at the Santa Fe station.

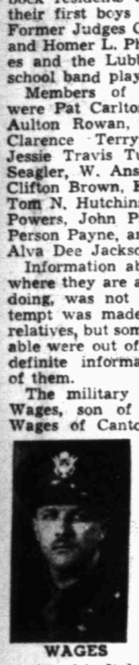

There were 15 in the first contingent, all volunteers. Since that time their military adventures have taken them to strange parts of the world.

Four years ago tonight, Lubbock residents turned out to see their first boys off to Fort Bliss. Former Judges Clark M. Mulligan and Homer L. Pharr made speeches and the Lubbock Senior High school band played.

Members of that first group were Pat Carlton Porter, Charles Aulton Rowan, Orland Wages, Clarence Terry, Earl Hughes, Jessie Travis Tucker, George G. Seagler, W. Anson Sewalt, Ewell Clifton Brown, Earle E. Williams, Tom N. Hutchinson, Woodrow M. Powers, John Pat Bowen, David Person Payne, and one negro boy, Alva Dee Jackson.

Information about all the boys, where they are and what they are doing, was not available. An attempt was made to contact their relatives, but some addresses available were out of date. But here is definite information about eight of them.

The military career of Orland Wages, son of Mrs. Della Mae Wages of Canton, sounds like a Cook's tour of the Mediterranean area, only much more exciting. In fact, Orland was a cook in the early stages of his service at Fort Bliss but he has gone a long way since that time. He is now captain in the Air Corps stationed in Italy.

WAGES

But to begin at the beginning, Wages joined the 7th Cavalry at Fort Bliss as a private and later became a sergeant and second cook. In January, 1941, he transferred to the Air Corps, trained at the pilot replacement center in San Antonio, attended Officer Candidate school in Miami Beach, Fla., and received his commission as second lieutenant June 14, 1941.

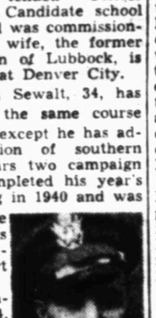

He was assigned to combat service and sailed in August, 1941, landing in England for a brief time before being sent to the North African campaign. He participated in the Tunisia and Sicily campaigns and is now a veteran of the Italian engagement.

George G. Seagler, 27, First Lieutenant, son of Mrs. C. G. Seagler of Morton, has been in the South Pacific area the last 10 months. He is executive officer of his company in ordnance of the Army.

SEAGLER

He finished basic training at Fort Bliss, attended Officer Candidate school in Maryland and was commissioned in 1942. His wife, the former Miss Nola Eaton of Lubbock, is teaching school at Denver City.

Lt. W. Anson Sewalt, 34, has followed about the same course as Capt. Wages except he has added the invasion of southern France. He wears two campaign ribbons. He completed his year's military training in 1940 and was on the reserve list three months before being called back to Fort Bliss.

SEWALT

He was commissioned July 4, 1942 after attending OCS at Fort Francis E. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo., and was stationed in New York until May of 1943 when he shipped to Africa. From there he went to Sicily with the invasion forces, remained a year in Italy, and last August moved into southern France with the first troops.

Lt. Sewalt, who is in ordnance of the Army, is the husband of the former Miss Mary Anna Wood of Lubbock, 1505-A Ave. L, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sewalt of Roby.

S/Sgt. Pat C. Porter, 28, son of Mrs. Oma Lee Tolman, 2614 Ruby, is serving as an instructor in the infantry at Camp Butner, N. C. where he has been since last May. Upon completion of his year's military training, he was discharged and then recalled in January of 1942. His wife, Mrs. Sylvia Porter, lives in Pueblo, Colo.

PORTER

Representing the first Lubbock county contingent in the invasion forces of Normandy was Cpl. Woodrow M. Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Powers, formerly of Lubbock and now of Austin. Cpl. Powers was sent to England late in 1942 as a member of the Signal Corps.

POWERS

In a recent letter to his parents he wrote. "We are still slipping through the dew over here (France and Belgium). We have a better line and a faster backfield than Adolph and he doesn't know what to do about it."

If you have ever wondered what the boys think about our proposed V-D celebrations, here it is in Cpl. Powers' own words: "I have a personal gripe against all the talk about victory celebrations back home. That sounds silly as hell from this point."

Upon induction four years ago today, Cpl. Powers was sent to Fort Bliss where he served a year on the induction desk. After war was declared, he was transferred to Camp Wolters where he escorted recruits to various camps over the nation. Late in 1942 he refused an opportunity to attend OCS, choosing instead to attend a special school for three months at New York City college.

He was graduated from Lubbock High school and received a degree in geology from Texas Tech in 1940. He has a brother, Joe B. Powers, who is a pharmacists mate 3/c in San Diego Naval base hospital.

Cpl. John Pat Bowen, son of E. D. Bowen, sr., of Lorenzo, spent the first three years of his Army career in Fort Bliss where he had the honor of driving a car for military personnel. He has been in New Orleans over a year and during that time has served as chauffeur for a colonel, worked in the Army post office and is now in the supply division. His sister, O'Dell Bowen, lives in Lorenzo.

Probably one of the most versatile soldiers of the county's first group of men is Sgt. Earle E. Williams, brother of Mrs. Hill Wright, 1625-B College. Besides being a veteran of the Aleutian campaign and the battles of Cassion and Anzio in Italy, Williams accomplished all of the commando tricks, became a ski trooper and qualified as a parachutist.

After the first year in service, he volunteered for the First Special Service Force about which little was known publicly until recently. The force was born during a visit by General George C. Marshall to Prime Minister Churchill in 1942. Out of 8,000 volunteers, only 1,800 were chosen for the first force. He was lucky enough to be in the latter group.

The new force was made up of U. S. regular Army men, half were Canadians and the rest were U. S. Citizen soldiers. They were armed and clothed with U. S. equipment, drilled in English style and saluted either as the British soldier or in the GI fashion. Every enlisted man was a non-com. They wore their own shoulder flash (a vertical "Canada" lettered on an arrow, topped by a horizontal "U.S.A."), and had their own branch insignia (Crossed arrows).

Williams is now a patient in McCloskey General hospital for treatment of injuries suffered when he stepped on an anti-personnel mine while returning from a combat patrol at Anzio. He lost his right leg and his left leg was nearly blown off, but luckily enough remained for a good patching job.

He expects to spend the Christmas holidays here with his sister. He lived with her several years before going into the service. Mrs. Wright says her brother has had his artificial leg only six weeks. He is able to drive a car, ride a bicycle and kick a football.

Tom N. Hutchinson, 30, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson, 1519 Broadway, has been a civilian ground instructor since January at Avenger field, Sweetwater. He served a year's military training at Ft. Bliss and was released from the Army in 1941. Between 1941 and 1943 he was associated with the North American Aviation corporation at Grand Prairie. His wife lives at 1916 Seventeenth, Lubbock.

His wife, the former Northa West, is expected to arrive in Dickens Wednesday.

Arms Delivery Said Key To Nazi Defeat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — Terming 28 per cent of the munitions program "critical," J. A. Krug, today said General Eisenhower has notified Washington that his progress against Germany will be paced by delivery of arms.

"The big push now on against the west wall is entirely dependent upon the flow of materials to those six armies," Krug, chairman of the War Production board, told the National Press club in an address.

"Not long ago General Eisenhower laid it flat on the table," Krug said. "He cabled us saying: 'You tell us what you can deliver and we'll tell you when the war will end.' "

Air Forces Develop 'Good' Robot Bomb

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Nov. 22 (AP)—The Army Air Forces disclosed today it had developed a "good" robot bomb that could be used "if we need it" and said the weapon had been in test flight since Oct. 11.

It is a version of the German V-1 which was loosed on England last summer, the Air Technical Service command said in relating how it raced to reproduce the Nazi terror weapon in 60 days and then sent it skimming jet-propelled through the skies a month later.

Furthermore, its launching ramp is better than the Germans' the ATSC said. It can be built in four days whereas the Nazis required two weeks. The ATSC did not disclose the location of its proving grounds.

Maj. Gen. Bennet E. Meyers, deputy ATSC director, asserted that reconstruction of the bomb was proof that engineers left "no stone unturned."

"We may never need the robot bomb," he declared, "for the Army Air Forces do not go in for indiscriminate bombing attacks. But if we do need it, we've got a good one."

A month ago, Meyers reported that models of the "buzz" bombs had been constructed but did not disclose that they had been test-flown. Today's ATSC's account of the robots answered many of the questions which heretofore had been shrouded in military secrecy.

Ran Wind Tunnel Tests

Morton Alperin of Wichita, Kas., a civilian specialist, worked 20 hours a day running wind tunnel tests and shrank from 140 to 120 pounds.

The morning of July 4, Meyers called in a group of aviation's ablest experts and said the Air Forces wanted an exact copy of the V-1, wanted a lot of them, and fast.

The men went to work and divided up the task among various war plants. On July 9, Lt. Tom Wigglesworth (address ungiven) flew in from England with sections of unexploded but badly-battered bombs. The experts settled down to their assignment, the ATSC said, despite the fact the V-1 is a complicated weapon at best and that—with its jet engine, air-driven gyros and control—it would have been a difficult job to copy them even in good condition.

Hidden In Building

The battered pieces were hidden in a building here and 15 drawing boards set up. Engineers and draftsmen from industry arrived and went to work on design and analysis.

Meanwhile, the recovered junk went through the laboratory and technicians found it to be made of simple materials—low carbon steel, similar to automobile fenders, and a small amount of aluminum in the radiator. The welding was standard, workmanship of the highest quality, the ATSC said.

It took just 10 days to put the first model in the huge wind tunnel, and a deadline of Oct. 1 was set for the first flight.

Exactly 17 days after the fragments had arrived from England, an engine was running. It had some German parts and some American, and it worked.

On Oct. 11, just over a week behind schedule, the first bomb was launched.

Speaker Rayburn Discovers Strange Notes In "Mailbag"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — About the only thing that didn't jump out of the mailbag in Speaker Sam Rayburn's office today was a two-headed horse.

There wa sa letter from an unpronounceable place in India, addressed to "the secretary of the parleyment, U. S. A." obviously complaining about something—in some strange heiroglyphics.

There was another letter from Kansas City in which the writer said he wanted an investigation.

"Somebody," he wrote, "is controlling my thoughts with power waves. I am being robbed."

There was a third letter, from a resident of Kansas, asking an immediate inquiry into the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He said the FBI "conspired with malicious intent to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate" him and his wife at Grand Rapids and Water Sweet, Michigan. He said moreover that agents searched his home at Grosse Point, Mich., nine years ago "illegally."

The eyebrow-raiser came at the end of the letter.

The writer gave as his signature:

No. 48370, U. S. penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Post-War Plans Discussed At Meet

DALLAS, Nov. 22 (AP) — Post-war farm plans for the Southwest are being mapped by the regional agricultural postwar planning committee which opened a two-day conference yesterday.

Farm employment, income post-war slack in spending and sale of surplus military property were discussed yesterday.

Bushford W. Allin, bureau of agricultural economicts, Washington, said if there is full employment with jobs available for 60 millions, farm prices will stand at parity without government price supports. If there are as many as seven million unemployed, cash income to farmers will drop sharply. If there are as many as 17 million unemployed, farm prices will stand at about 60 per cent of parity.

James G. Maddox, also of the bureau, told planners private enterprise must take up the slack in spending that will come when war expenditures stop.

Roosevelt Nominates Two For Board Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — President Roosevelt today nominated former Governor Robert A. Hurley of Connecticut and Lt. Col. Edward Heller of California as members of the Surplus Property Disposal Board.

The nominations did not include the name of Senator Guy Gillette (D-Iowa). Gillette is expected to be named the third member of the board, but it was explained that legal restrictions prevent his nomination to an office created by congress while he remains a member of the Senate.

This situation forecast the early resignation of Gillette, who was defeated for reelection by Governor B. B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, Republican, and thus would leave office when the new Congress meets.

Grandma Switches Millions of Mothers To Her Idea of Mutton Suet and Medication

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Colds' Muscle Tightness—Coughing, Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pain, Chapped Lips and Nostrils, Simple Bruises and Sprains and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma was a great one for "rubbing" the miseries of chest colds and many other simple pains and aches of her family. The rub she used was medicated in her own way but she insisted that it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in the skin to relieve pain.

Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve with a base that contains old fashioned mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Now mothers everywhere are praising this newer relief and thanking Grandma for her idea that is switching habits of long standing. During this season of colds, Penetro is so helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, soothing chest rawness, loosening phlegm and relieving coughs. Rubbed on chest, throat, back it melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways—(1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors.

Many households call Penetro a real friend in so many other ways, too—as it eases neuralgic and rheumatic pain, takes sting from chapped lips and nostrils, acts as soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. No wonder mothers today are praising Penetro and druggists everywhere are recommending it. So clean, so white, so easy-to-use and such a comfort-bringer for so many simple every day home needs. Do as millions are doing—today get your jar of economical Penetro.

100 OCTANE GASOLINE won't grow wings on a car

EXPECT NO MIRACLES from your present car if the tank were filled with 100-octane gasoline.

Its motor was engineered specifically for the gasolines which were available at the time you bought your car. To secure the benefits of very high octane fuels, post-war motors will have much higher compression ratios, will be smaller and lighter, and will deliver greatly increased power and extraordinary mileage.

All this will be possible because of the super gasolines to be made available for motorists in the post-war period. And you have every reason to expect that Phillips will be among the first to offer these vastly improved motor fuels soon after victory.

Why? Because Phillips is today one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline. Phillips is also one of the leaders in the war production of butadiene for synthetic rubber.

These achievements are a direct result of Phillips long years of peacetime research to extend the frontiers of knowledge concerning hydrocarbon chemistry. Other accomplishments, which cannot now be told for security reasons, flow from Phillips wartime exploration of the limitless possibilities of chemical production of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

This is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Bonding Of Cotton Growers Not Valid

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (U.P.) — The state agricultural commissioner lacks authority to bond growers of cotton in pink bollworm regulated areas, the attorney general's department held in an opinion today.

Commissioner J. E. McDonald said the present regulating program lacks strength and unless it is buttressed the pink bollworm may spread over the cotton belt as the boll weevil did 35 years ago. McDonald said there had been recent infestation in the Lower Rio Grande valley.

University of Texas Auditor C. D. Simmons was advised that regents may pay the ex-students association $5,000 a year for furnishing addresses, vocations and accomplishments of students or ex-students.

Wages Due To Remain Stable

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — President Roosevelt expressed belief that the tendency will be to keep weekly wages — "take home pay" — at wartime levels when working hours shorten with return to civilian production.

The President at a news conference Tuesday described as awfully good a recent statement by Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, that his company intends to maintain employes' earnings as far as possible when a 40-hour work week is resumed.

A lot of others are thinking the same way, Mr. Roosevelt declared, adding that the number is growing.

Two-Point Policy Shaping

The President's remarks rounded out a pattern of a two-point administration wage policy apparently taking shape from recent developments:

1. To "hold the line" with the "Little Steel" formula and keep general wage increases down to 15 per cent above the January, 1941, level at least until Germany is defeated.

2. To allow "straight time" increases high enough to maintain approximate existing weekly wages once war production is scaled back and a 40-hour week restored for workers now putting in longer hours and getting overtime "bonus pay."

One reason workers are quitting, Mr. Roosevelt remarked, is because of fear they won't have jobs after the war. But not only the government but industry as well is working awfully hard to see that they do have jobs, he added, and referred to Wilson's statement.

Soviet Marshal Is Relieved Of Duties

MOSCOW, Nov. 22 (U.P.) —Marshal Klementy E. Voroshilov, chairman of the Soviet defense council and one of Russia's foremost military figures, has been "relieved of his duties" on the council, it was revealed today.

News of the marshal's removal from office was disclosed in an official announcement published in the Soviet press this morning.

Voroshilov is a member of the Red army general staff and accompanied Premier Marshal Josef Stalin to Teheran for the "Big Three" meeting with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Voroshilov was Soviet war commissar at the outbreak of the Russo-German war but his duties were taken over immediately by Marshal Josef Stalin.

Voroshilov is not believed to have played a major role in Soviet military operations during the war, the direction of the Red army at all times having been handled personally by Stalin while the leadership of the general staff and combat forces has passed largely into the hands of young commanders, many of them developed in the present war.

Unrest Spreads In Germany

LONDON, Nov. 22 (U.P.)—A Swiss newspaper said today that Nazi authorities at Cologne machine-gunned crowds demonstrating for peace recently and killed more than 220 persons.

Some in the crowds even cried, "long live the Allies," the Basel Arbeiterzeitung said in a dispatch reported by the British exchange telegraph agency.

The dispatch appeared less than 24 hours after disclosure that German prisoners taken on the American First army front before Cologne had confirmed reports of disorders inside the city.

The prisoners were quoted as saying that the gestapo was hanging civilians in Cologne for disobeying Nazi official orders. Earlier Swiss dispatches said 21 persons had been hanged there in a single day.

Other Cities Restive

The Basel newspaper said peace demonstrations also had occurred in many other Rhineland cities and towns. Posters were said to be appearing nightly on the walls of bombed cities appealing for action against the Nazis and threatening the government if it insisted on continuing the war.

Hopelessness and dissatisfaction has reached even the army, particularly because of poor quality and insufficient weapons, food and clothing, the newspaper said. Deserters were increasing at such a rate that soldiers have been warned that the Allies "cut off the arms and legs of every living German soldier captured," the dispatch said.

Millions Homeless

It estimated that 16,300,000 Germans have been left homeless by Allied air raids and said the whole county was "yearning for peace, cost what it may."

Workers and peasants were "waiting for the opportune moment for action," the newspaper said.

Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler was tightening pressure in an effort to keep the country under control it went on, but "even the Nazis admit the Third Reich has lost the war."

Search Is Continuing For Hit-Run Driver

Lubbock Highway Patrolmen Tom Laws and J. R. Whitmire were continuing this morning a search for the hit-and-run driver of a car which struck three persons Tuesday night as they stood on the highway observing the results of a truck and car accident about three miles west of Ralls.

The first mishap occurred when a car driven by "Uncle" Billy Smith, aged Ralls man, and a truck driven by Buck Squyres of Crosbyton sideswiped as they traveled in opposite directions.

Neither Smith or Squyres was considered injured seriously, although great damage was done to Smith's car. Both suffered innumerable bruises and cuts.

Injured by the hit-and-run driver's car were Charles Spence of Floydada, Bobby Reece, 13, of Ralls and a Mr. Tidwell of the Robertson community in southwest Crosby county. Highway Patrolman Laws said Spence, about 56, probably was the most severely injured of the three. He was in a Floydada hospital with a serious head injury. Reece and Tidwell received emergency treatment at Ralls and Crosbyton for minor injuries.

The hit-and-run car was believed either a Ford or Chevrolet of dark color.

Patrolman Laws was assisted in the investigation by Sheriff Roy Hillin of Crosby county and Rangers Raymond Waters and Norvell Redwine of Lubbock.

Patrolmen issued an appeal to the public to refrain from stopping at the scene of accidents. The aforementioned persons, they said, were needlessly hurt by such a practice.

Agriculture Machine Program Threatened

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (U.P.) — War Food administration officials expressed fear today that the manpower shortage now hampering output in critical war plants may also curtail the 1945 farm machinery program.

WFA yesterday removed the last item of farm machinery — corn pickers—from the ration list and ordered county rationing committees disbanded.

However, Frederick B. Northrup, chief of WFA's office of materials and facilities, reported that the supply of farm implements will fall below demand, even if currently authorized production rolls out of factories on schedule and he added that he was "pessimistic" that scheduled production would be met in view of the developing manpower problem.

V-2 Launching Site In Holland Bombed

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A V-2 launching site in enemy occupied Holland was divebombed furiously Tuesday by a squadron of Australian pilots in Spitfires that power-dived into the target from 8,000 feet.

Thousands of tons of bombs were dropped on V-1 platform but this was the first announcement of an attack on the V-2 rocket launching sites since it was disclosed they had hit England.

Oft forgot was the spare

But now'days it gets air

War forced closest attention to every motoring detail. And this habit of thoughtfulness has grown on car owners.

You'd only be testing human kindness by changing to a half-flat spare and setting out for the next air hose. Where a forgetful man actually tries it, a good Samaritan generally drives up alongside, pointing a helpful warning. America has become as thoughtful as all that toward her indispensable cars. And of all the examples of car-care the greatest single one you can follow is to have your engine OIL-PLATED. In that way—by changing to Conoco Nth motor oil for Winter—by changing to this patented oil that OIL-PLATES—you'll give your engine's insides the nth degree of protection from acid corrosion.

All engine combustion creates corrosive acids. They're bad enough even when "exhaled" fairly well, but from now on they won't be! Winter's extra-low mileage and cool operation mean acids at their worst. Patented Conoco Nth oil, however —thanks to costly pioneer research—brings the special ingredient whose magnet-like effect OIL-PLATES your engine's fine inner finish, to cope with corrosion. Attached as closely as protective chrome plating could be, the internal OIL-PLATING keeps up its steadiest possible hindrance to direct contact between acids and engine parts....Then down go the chances of corrosion, just as soon as you change to popular-priced Nth oil for Winter, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. GALVESTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — The faculty of the University of Texas School of Medicine here today released a statement in which they expressed confidence in the "judgment and wisdom" of the university board of regents. The statement was drawn up at a faculty meeting held yesterday and authorized for publication today by State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, chairman of the senate committee investigating university affairs. It was signed by John C. Nolan, secretary of the faculty, and attested by Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, vice president and dean of the medical college.

It was also announced today by medical college officials that the faculty had chosen Dr. C. T. Stone and Dr. Raymond Gregory to represent them before the senate investigating committee. The two doctors will meet with the committee in Austin next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Copies of the faculty statement went to the board of regents and to Gov. Coke Stevenson, and a copy of the minutes of the faculty meeting was sent to Dr. T. S. Painter, acting president of the university.

Members of the medical college faculty expressed their desire to assist the senate investigating committee in any phase of the investigation with particular reference to the medical branch, officials of the college said.

Farmers' Draft Rules Outlined

At a meeting Tuesday in Lubbock hotel of selective service and USDA War board members of 19 counties of the Lubbock district, Lt. E. E. Benedict, of the state selective service headquarters in Austin, warned that before an agricultural worker can be reclassified, answers to four questions must be given to local boards.

These four questions are: (1) Is registrant necessary to agricultural occupation or endeavor? (2) Is he regularly engaged in agricultural occupation or endeavor? (3) Is the agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort? (4) Is suitable replacement obtainable?

Boards Determine Case

Lt. Benedict pointed out that USDA War boards are charged with the responsibility of determining what is essential to the war effort. He said further that it is ridiculous to leave a boy on the farm to plant a crop and then take him off before the crop is harvested. "If the boy is absolutely irreplaceable on a farm that is absolutely essential to the war effort, then that boy will be left on the farm. However, there are too many who do not try to get replacements; they wait for the replacements to come to them," he said.

Members of War boards were warned against basing reports on records one or two years old that are on file in their offices. "Get the actual facts," urged Lt. Benedict.

Calls are going to be increased each month, Lt. Benedict predicted, and every available source of manpower for the armed forces will be drained. Even older brackets will likely be called, he said.

Lt. Benedict was introduced by E. R. Davis of Lubock, member of the county USDA War board.

Non-War Building Hopes Killed By WPB

DALLAS, Nov. 22 (AP) — A. L. Langford, district director for the War Production Board, said here today that demand for 31,000 construction workers on emergency construction jobs for expanding war plants in northeastern Texas and Arkansas has blighted hopes for non-war construction permits in Dallas and northeast Texas.

Langford said war plant construction at Shreveport, Texarkana, Karnack, Harrison county and Camden, Ark., will need 31,000 workers. To assure that the labor will be available, men must be drawn from many small construction jobs in the region, he added.

The production urgency committee, which Langford heads, will meet at Shreveport next Friday to study the situation and in Dallas on December 1.

Westerners Polish Offensive Plays

Team Hopes To Be In Top Condition

Mapping plans for a potent scoring offense, the Lubbock Westerners spent most of their workout time Tuesday afternoon to polish the team's offensive plays for Thursday afternoon's annual classic with the league champion Amarillo Sandies at Tech stadium.

The club ran through the entire list of plays, and polished up some new ones designed for this game, and turned in early.

The Westerners hope of being in top condition for the Sandie battle was given a big boost Tuesday afternoon with the okay from the doctor that Billy Bob Harris, letterman end, would be in shape to go at full speed against the Sandies.

The team was given a boost in personnel with the assigning of five boys from the Cowhands Black team to the Westerner squad, and will report today to Coaches Davis and White.

Arthur Rampy and Don Austin, backs; Paul Waters, tackle; Dan Burkhalter, guard, and Louis Hawkins, end, were the ones named to step up from the Cowhand squad.

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools, said Tuesday night that a few tickets still remained in Sections A and U, and would be on sale again this afternoon at the Hilton hotel lobby.

Spur, Floydada To Clash For Title

FLOYDADA, Nov. 22 (Special)—Decision on the championship of District 4-A has been postponed until the battle in Spur on the afternoon of Nov. 30 at which time the Spur Bulldogs battle the Floydada Whirlwinds.

The game was originally scheduled for Nov. 23, but was changed to Nov. 30 by agreement of school officials when it was learned that Nov. 30 will be observed generally by schools of the district in setting the Thanksgiving holidays.

In the season's play, Spur had won five, lost one and tied one while Floydada has won four, lost three and tied one. Each have won over Paducah, Lockney and Matador in conference play.

In the region one playoff lineup, only one champion has been named, this the Phillips club in District 2. Phillips won nine and lost one in the regular season, losing a 13-0 opener to Class AA Pampa, then sweeping nine in a row.

In District 1, Hereford and Friona are tied for the top, each with four wins and one loss, with Tulia in second place with three and one. In District 3, the bi-district foe of the winner between Floydada and Spur, the powerful Wellington Skyrockets are leading the conference with six straight wins, and play Wheeler this week, a team with six straight losses, and the win would clinch the pennant for Coach Al Duncan's 'Rockets.

Littlefield Wildcats Going All-Out For Bi-District Tilt

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 22 (Special)—The Littlefield Wildcats, champions of district 5-A, are going all out for Thursday afternoon's bi-district grid battle at Denver City, and football is the chief topic of discussion every time as many as two people get together on the streets of this little South Plains city.

The local butcher, baker and candlestick maker are going around town in a daze, trying to figure out the plays for Thursday's ball game. The Littlefield team, which was the first team in the state to win a district title, brought Littlefield it's first pennant in eight years.

Big Surprise Team

No one here knows how they got that way. A bunch of the kids are still around who helped to win one game and lose seven in 1943. The Wildcats did not play at all in 1942. The kids are not big, and are not fast, and it's still a mystery hereabouts how they keep running up big scores against teams that are supposed to beat them.

In nine games, the Wildcats have amassed 309 points to their opponents 44, an average of 34 points to opponents 5.

The Wildcat scoring has been well scattered between five backs and two ends, and they have no star. Perhaps the greatest scoring punch of the team is the passing combination of Billy Lyman, a back, to Homer Peel, an end, a combination that has worked for one or more touchdowns in each of the nine games.

Other Stars Shine

Oscar Arend, 140 pound halfback, has run wild in some games. Walter Sewell, 170 pound fullback., has powered his way over for several counters. Junior Graham, 145 pound blocking back, has sneaked over a few points. Eugene Carter, who subs for any position in the backfield, has made his share of the counters. He reached his climax against Tulia, when he intercepted a Tulia pass on his own 20, and squirmed and sidestepped 80 yards for a touchdown.

The Wildcat line features a pair of "watch charm" guards in Gene Pratt and Kenneth Ware, 130 and 140 pounds respectively. Sidney "Mamma" Buell, center, is the big boy of the team at 195. Buster Owens, rangy 150 pound end, catches a pass now and then, and boots extra points. Dal Brandon and Sabin Hendrickson at 156 and 170 respectively, man the tackle positions. The team averages 155.

Coach J. Fikes, coaching his first year in Littlefield, has his charges in fair shape for the bi-district game despite the rugged battle with Tulia last Friday. Kenneth Ware, who injured his back in this game may not be able to play. Sewell, who did not play last week because of a leg injury, will probably be ready.

Raiders Brush Up Defense

Battle With SMU Slated Saturday

Coach Dell Morgan and the Texas Tech Red Raiders turned their attention on a defense designed to stop the Southern Methodist university Mustangs here Saturday afternoon in a Homecoming battle at Tech stadium. The kickoff will be at 2:30 o'clock.

The Mustangs upset the Arkansas eleven last week with a surprising show of power that has the Red Raiders wondering what they will face in the annual homecoming battle Saturday afternoon.

Morgan "Aims To Win"

Coach Morgan has set his sights on winning this game to even the score with Southwest conference teams for the season, as well as making the Saturday outing a huge success for the homecoming Tech exes who will be in the stands.

Morgan also spent some time in polishing the punch of the team on goal line plays, and put the boys through a lengthy session of opening those important holes on the goal line. This weakness in the Red Raider attack was brought vividly into the limelight last week in the New Mexico battle here.

With the team already crippled for the game, Morgan took on no rough work Tuesday, and avoided the chances of additional cripples before the big battle of the season on the home field.

Cowhands Black Win 48-12 Over Ropes

Coach George Philbrick's Cowhands Black team closed the grid season in a blaze of glory Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field, romping to a 48-12 victory over a game eleven from Ropesville.

Arthur Rampy and Don Austin led the touchdown parade, each with two counters, and Austin set up another with a brilliant 45 yard gallop. Craig, Squires and LeMaire scored the other touchdowns.

Rampy turned in the longest run of the game, a 55 yard gallop for a touchdown, and threw a long 30 yard pass to Squires, in the end zone, for another tally.

After the game, members of the team presented Coach George Philbrick with a leather billfold in token of their appreciation for his year's work with them.

Hunt Pioneers Romp Over Guadalupe, 24-0

With an impressive show of power, Hunt's Pioneers romped over the Guadalupe eleven Tuesday afternoon at Dupre field to win a 24-0 victory in a Lubbock grade school touch football game.

Kenneth Young passed to Bobby Sexton for the first touchdown, caught passes from Wayne Stroud for the second and third scores, then capped off the afternoon by intercepting a pass and running 25 yards for the final score.

Schoolboy Grid Race To End In Seven Districts This Week

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The campaign ends in seven districts of Texas schoolboy football this week with championships on the line in six of them. The other one—district 8—decided a title several weeks ago with Sunset (Dallas) to again wear the crown.

Districts ending the schedule this week-end in addition to Dallas are:

4. El Paso High vs. Austin (El Paso). Austin can win the title with a tie or victory.

Paschal Holds Edge

7. Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth). Paschal can win with a tie but North Side can take the championship with a victory, although having lost one game.

11. Tyler at Marshall. Marshall can win the title with a tie or victory.

12. Henderson at Lufkin. Lufkin can win the title with a tie or victory.

14. Port Arthur at Goose Creek. The winner becomes champion.

15. Austin at Kerrville. Austin can win teh title with a tie or victory.

Amarillo Could Lose

In other districts the picture is like this:

1. Amarillo at Lubbock. Amarillo still has Brownfield to play and could lose or be tied for the championship.

2. Wichita Falls at Vernon. Vernon still has Electra to play but Wichita Falls finishes the schedule. The teams are tied for the lead.

3. Abilene at San Angelo. San Angelo still has Sweetwater to play. Abilene finishes the schedule and can win the title with a tie or victory.

Greenville, Paris Tied

5. Greenville plays Bonham and Paris meets Gainesville. Tied for the lead, Greenville and Paris play each other next week.

6. Highland Park (Dallas) and Sulphur Springs, tied for the lead, play McKinney and Arlington respectively this week; they meet each other next week.

9. Breckenridge, undefeated, still has Mineral Wells and Cisco to play and could lose the title by losing both games.

10. Waco and Temple, tied for the lead, play each other next week. This week they play Ennis and Corsicana respectively.

13. Lamar (Houston), leading the race, still has Milby (Houston) to play after meeting Austin (Houston) this week and could lose the title by dropping both games.

16. Brownsville and McAllen are tied for the lead. Brownsville ends the schedule this week but McAllen has Edinburg to play after meeting San Benito Friday.

Orange Bowl Teams Named

Georgia Tech To Clash With Tulsa

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 22 (AP)—Now that Georgia Tech and Tulsa have been signed for 1945, it'll take quite a hunt for the Orange Bowl to find any more New Year's day football precedents to smash.

In their quest for teams which will stage a sparkling show, promoters of the Miami game knocked over just about the last of the bowl traditions yesterday by:

Naming Tulsa and Georgia Tech for a replay of their exciting battle in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans last Jan. 1 when Tech put over a late touchdown to win, 20 to 18; and,

Announcing the selection of teams each of which has two regular-season games yet to play.

Once-beaten Tech, conqueror of bighty Navy and probable champion of the Southeastern conference, still must tackle Notre Dame and Georgia.

Arkansas and the University of Miami are the remaining opponents for a Tulsa eleven which has lost two high-scoring encounters.

No bowl ever before has arranged a return engagement of two elevens which appeared in a rival attraction the year before.

And available records do not list another instance when the participants in a Jan. 1 game were named so early.

JIM CROWLEY SIGNED

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (U.P.) — Lt. Cmdr. James "Sleepy Jim" Crowley, one of the famed "four horsemen" of Notre Dame and formerly head football coach at Fordham university, today had a five-year contract to serve as commissioner of the all-America conference, a newly organized professional football league.

Undefeated Dupre Downs K. Carter

Keeping up their undefeated, untied, unscored on pace, the Dupre Dogies rolled over the K. Carter Coyotes, 18-0, Tuesday afternoon at the Dupre field in a Lubbock grade school touch football league game.

The Dogies took the lead in the first quarter when Norman Lindsey rifled a 20 yard pass to Dick Lowrey for the first score. Lindsey passed for 10 yards to Johnny Tatum in the third quarter for another score. In the final period, Lindsey and Lowrey alternated at running the ball down to the one, then Lindsey passed to Lowrey for the final score.

At the half, Captain Johnny Tatum presented Misses Mary Virginia Carr and Johnnie Sue Corcorran, football sweethearts, and Mrs. Mary V. Powers, coach of the team, and each were given a corsage, Tuesday night, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Corcorran at a banquet.

Jones Leads Central Ward To 16-0 Win

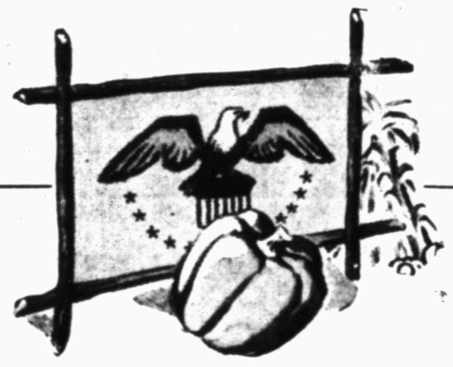

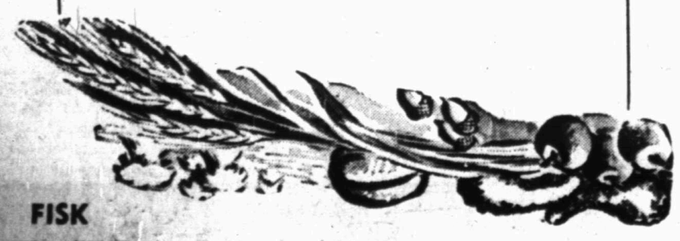

Don Jones set a fast pace in leading the Central Ward Spurs to a 16 to 0 win over the Bean Bronchos Tuesday afternoon in a Lubbock grade school touch football game at Dupre field.

Jones passed to Kenneth Meals for the first touchdown, and ran over for the second. Gene Bragg tackled Carl Ince behind the goal line for a safety, then Ince was rushed another time by the entire Spur line for another safety.

The fossil record of man covers a span of about a million years.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

. . . was an expression of gratitude for a few simple comforts in a free land.

Today let's join in giving thanks to those who are working and fighting to preserve our freedom. We can never repay them for the job they are doing, but we can show our sincere appreciation. Let's do it.

This bank will not be open on Thanksgiving Day.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

WELL, Lord, it's Thanksgiving time again and a lot of us Americans who fancy ourselves too busy to offer up thanks to You day-by-day, as we should, will get around to it today. It's too bad, of course, that most of us are so eternally wrapped up in our petty, selfish affairs that "we haven't got time" to render unto You the things that are Yours until some special occasion reminds us of our higher responsibilities.

But it's no use telling You these things, Lord, because You know better than anybody here on earth the frailties of human nature.

To those of us who stop to think extra hard on our blessings this Thanksgiving Day, Lord, will come some sort of realization — maybe only a glimmer, but a little understanding, anyway — of what we owe You, especially in this generation.

Here we've been in a war for nearly three years, Sir, and with the sole exception of Canada among our allies, our nation is the only one in actual full-scale combat that is yet unscathed on the home front.

All our cities still stand, Lord. All the buildings in them are still whole. Our farmlands, too, are, as they always were, lush and bountiful—unmarked by fire and unpitted by bombs. But what is even more important, and for which we owe You so much more, Lord, is the fact that our children and our old people have been protected against the ruthlessness of mass murder here at home.

If we hadn't a single other blessing to count besides that one, we'd still owe Divine Providence a debt greater than we ever could pay.

BUT we have many other blessings to thank You for today, Lord, because for some reason or other — sufficient unto Your knowledge—You've had Your arm around us, as a nation, ever since our shores were settled by people who came over here so they could worship You as they wanted to.

If it hadn't been for You, we could already have been beaten in this war we're in.

If it hadn't been for Your benignity, we could have had several crop failures in a row and by this time have been starved out, right here at home.

If You hadn't willed it otherwise, Lord, the Japs could have gone right ahead the day of Pearl Harbor and taken over the Hawaiian Islands; Hitler could have jumped over the channel after Dunkirk and overrun the British Isles — and in either event things surely would have been different here today.

But You didn't let those things happen, Lord. And for that, we Americans are truly thankful today, as we should be every day.

Back on last June 6, Lord, when our men drove across from England to France, nobody knew for sure whether victory or complete annihilation awaited them.

It could be, couldn't it, Lord, that You saw to it that the enemy wasn't able to stave us off, even though he had years to build his defenses

A lot of us down here think that maybe because Gen. Eisenhower took time off to talk with You at that time played some part in the fact that the invasion was successful and started us well on the trail to eventual victory and world peace.

WE Americans, individually and collectively, could go on for a thousand years, Lord, and never get caught up in the thanks which we owe You today.

But, human like, we still aren't satisfied with the blessings our country has received for more than 300 years and we want some more blessings from Your inexhaustible supply.

As we render our puny thanks today, we'd ask You for Your continued support, on the battlefronts until the enemy is forever vanquished, and then here at home and in our dealings with the rest of the world in the days to come.

A lot of us aren't big enough, or grateful enough, to say it out loud, but we know, Lord, that unless You continue on our side we won't be able to do anything much by ourselves.

We hope You will guide those in places of authority among us, from the President on down, in the troubled years to come, but we hope, too, that you'll also save some guidance, Sir, for the great majority of us, who are lowly.

We want You, if You will, to strengthen us every one so that our little bit, whether it be in the prosecution of the war or in the building of the peace, will contribute and not detract from the worthy things.

Most of us don't amount to much individually, but collectively we can swing a mighty sword for the right things—always assuming we have Your help.

We wouldn't be presumptuous, we Americans, Lord, but in our innermost hearts we'd like to ask You to spare as many of our boys to us as You possibly can.

You see, as badly as we need them on the fighting fronts today, we're going to need them on the fronts of peaceful endeavor tomorrow. They are the cream of our country, Lord, as You well know, and we would like not to have to do without a single one of them if You can see it that way.

We are powerless, of course, to save a single drop of blood, or to maintain a single breath of life, but You, who marks even the sparrow's fall, can do whatever You will is the best.

So as we thank You today, we Americans hopefully, pleadingly, Sir, beseech You to remember most our men in uniform as You chart the trend of the world through the years ahead.

HERE at home, Sir, we know You have taken cognizance of the fact that greed is rampant and it is uglier now than ever before, because it is selfishly fed and maintained at a time when better men are dying in an effort to make the world a happier place.

There is much trouble among us; there is confused thinking; there is even lack of any sort of thinking sometimes, Lord, and we'd like You to sort of help up out there, too.

The clashing ideologies which today torture so many, and which act as a drag against quick victory and hopes for a perfect peace, are all based upon selfishness and result from this group and that seeking more than a just share of the good things.

We know You're busy, Lord, with more important things, but we hope some day, when You think best, You will put a stop to all this pulling and hauling and back-biting and teach us, by Divine guidance, that, after all, those who would walk in the paths of righteousness first must be meek and humble.

You wouldn't have stayed with us all these years and generations had You not known full well that 'way down deep all of us would like to do the right thing, the honest thing, the forgiving and the tolerant thing.

You have told us in the Book, Lord, that some day — although we know not when —all hatefulness shall disappear from the earth and the lion and the lamb shall lie safely side by side.

"Thy will be done," we often pray, Lord, and we still bow to that will. But we hope that in Your infinite wisdom You'll begin soon permitting us to prepare for the time when good will shall live forever.

We'll never, of our own strength, be ready for that, Sir. As in all other things, Your direction is our salvation.

YES, Lord, this is Thanksgiving time again and a nation You have permitted to become great bends its knee before You; offers up its gratitude to You; sends up its supplications to You—always, like its founders did, leaning on Your everlasting arms.

Rash, profane, thoughtless, weak though we are, we are "Thy people and the sheep of Thy pastures." So, to You, Lord, our Thanks for Your benevolences, now and forevermore.

Amen.

MILLETT

A GROUP of young mothers, all of them college graduates, were confessing their own feelings of inadequacy when it came to the problem of child training. They all said that for all the years they had spent in classrooms, they hadn't been taught anything that really made them feel adequately prepared to bring up children.

They blamed the educational system for their predicament — pointing out that they should have been learning child care while they were, instead, concentrating on such things as getting the exact meaning out of a line of poetry or dissecting frogs.

But, actually, it would be hard to give girls of college age sound, training. The average girl isn't interested in such problems until she is confronted with a child who refuses to eat vegetables or throws temper tantrums.

The whole problem of child training seems so simple to anybody who isn't actually responsible for the care and training of a child.

SCHOOL FOR WIVES

WHAT this country probably needs, in every town and city, is some kind of public educational program for young wives and mothers, that would allow them to go back to school and learn how to meet the daily problems that confront homemakers and mothers.

The numbers of child study clubs throughout the country ought to be an indication that women are becoming aware of the fact that just having a baby doesn't make a woman a good mother.

A democracy's system of public education ought to meet the need for training women to be good homemakers and good mothers.

TEXAS BANKS AND TEXAS FARMING

If Lubbock and South Plains bankers seem to be walking with a sprightlier step these days, if perhaps their chests are sticking out a little farther than they usually do, it is because they have played an important part in the winning for Texas banks of the "1,000-Plus" award offered by the American Bankers association.

For the seventh consecutive year, more than 800 banks of Texas have done such a good job working with farmers on worthwhile agricultural projects that they have brought to this state the "1,000-Plus" award. Ninety per cent of the state's banks are credited with performing an unusual service in this field. That's important, because even though Texas has many natural resources and varied industries, the very economic lifeblood of our state flows from the soil.

Texas' banks are not content with serving today's farmers and stockmen, either. They are looking ahead and working ahead. Sixty per cent of them are actively engaged in promoting some sort of Future Farmer and 4-H club work and over 50 per cent are laboring at projects to prevent soil erosion and reclaim lands previously damaged by weather, or bad farming practices.

C. E. Maedgen, Lubbock banker designated to speak for the Texas Bankers association in this regard, says the men in the banking field here and everywhere over Texas are carrying on a campaign against wartime speculation in farm lands; helping their farmer customers do a better job on their "book work" by distributing account books and helping them make out income tax reports, etc.; and collecting information to pass on to farmers so the latter may develop better projects in the field. In 1943, for instance, Texas banks advanced credit to 219,000—or 52 per cent—of all the farmers in the state and on July 1, 1944, $276,982,000 of bank credit was in force among the Texas farmers.

The bankers of Texas, we think, may be forgiven if they, themselves, point with pride at their activities connected with agriculture. They have done a good job; They are doing a good job and, propaganda to the contrary notwithstanding, the state could not do well without them.

The banks, it is true, are in the business of lending money and unless they lend it they can't stay in business. But the fact that bankers in this state are contributing extra service, in addition to making interest-bearing loans, to the great Texas agricultural empire is of immense value to the state now and will continue to be in the future.

Let Texas farmers and Texas bankers continue to work hand-in-hand, not only for the benefit of bankers and farmers, but for the benefit of us all.

Something IS Wrong With Adolf Hitler

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — Allied Intelligence has done its best to solve the mystery of what has happened to Hitler, but his fate and whereabouts remain one of the most carefully kept secrets of the Reich.

Here are the only reliable facts that have been pieced together. It has been established that Hitler did go to Vienna for a throat operation about two months ago. He suffers from a chronic throat ailment, somewhat like Secretary Hull's, and he has had several of these operations.

Prior to this Vienna operation, it was known that Hitler had become more and more domineering, more unbalanced, more inclined to shout down anyone who tried to talk to him. He was always inclined to be this way, but word leaking out to neutral countries is that he was much more so this past summer.

The supposition is, therefore, that Hitler has been quietly put away by Himmler and the party leaders, probably confined to a sanitarium.

It has been noticeable to Allied military men for some time that Hitler was not at the helm. German military operations have been too well directed. There have been no eccentric moves such as when Hitler was muddling up the command.

It is not believed that Hitler was seriously injured by last July's attempted assassination. The hand grenade which exploded was in a briefcase in the middle of the room, while Hitler was at one side. Only a splinter of shrapnel is reported to have entered his hand.

As far as more skilful military operations are concerned, Hitler's absence will help the Nazis. Otherwise, it will be a more serious blow to Germany than most people here realize, for the lower ranks of the German Army worshipped Hitler. Prisoners interviewed after capture have indicated that they were fighting for Hitler, not so much for Germany.

FDR AS C-IN-C

ONE of the most controversial issues during the late lamented campaign was whether F. D. Roosevelt really exercised much influence as commander in chief, or whether the war was run solely by the military. An interesting letter in this connection, in which Roosevelt in effect overruled the military regarding food supplies in Italy, has just leaked out.

His letter, dated Oct. 31, 1944—the very climax of the campaign — was addressed to Secretary of War Stimson, and read:

"I have had before me the shipping difficulties in getting supplies to the civilian population of Italy and I note that we have been building up some reserves for use when Northern Italy collapses.

"In the meantime, it seems to me that the situation is so acute, from the point of view particularly of food in Southern Italy, that some risks must be taken regarding supplies at the time of the collapse in Northern Italy. That collapse may well not come until Germany itself collapses, in which case the shipping situation will be much less acute.

"Under the circumstances, I have determined to assume the responsibility for asking General Wilson to increase the ration to 300 grams throughout all of Italy that our forces occupy."

COMMUTERS between Washington and Baltimore the other day may have wondered why their train stopped just west of Laurel until two other trains whizzed past. Reason: The safety of the President . . . Plenty of money came in from outsiders to help re-elect Nye, but money couldn't do it.

GOP PLANS

DESPITE discouragement over Dewey's defeat, GOP leaders already are laying plans for 1948. First step will be further revitalization of Republican headquarters, enlistment of a crackerjack staff to pep up party machinery.

Republican Chairman Herbert Brownell, who has been resting in Arizona, wants to resign, will call a national committee meeting shortly after the first of the year which promises to be turbulent. Several factions will be gunning for Dewey, may try to seize control of the party machinery, set the stage for "Stassen in '48."

One key man in the post-election GOP set-up is shrewd, popular publicist Lee Chesley, who joined the campaign late, is now in charge of national committee publicity. Chesley, one of the brightest press agents on the Washington scene, is anxious to slug it out toe to toe with Democratic publicist Paul Porter. Chesley's Washington predecessor, Carlisle Bargeron, handled publicity for the powerful Pennsylvania GOP machine during the campaign, and plans to continue working for Boss Joe Pew now that the balloting is over.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

BRITONS are now organizing "Fan Clubs." Bing Crosby, Glenn Miller and Dinah Shore clubs are sprouting all over England . . . The presence of American troops has brought a Western-story boom to England. "Daniel Boone" is now a big seller . . . Americans can expect some new slang expressions when the boys come home. One new one is, "Now he's scrubbed," which means "He's all washed up!" . . . One explanation for Governor Dewey's low soldier vote was Sen. Bob Taft's ridiculous ban on political propaganda to soldiers. The bill provided for equal publicity for both candidates, which gave a big break to Roosevelt. Many GI Joe's had never heard of Dewey, couldn't find out much about him from the skimpy news the Army was permitted to send out under Taft's soldier-vote bill . . . All knew about Roosevelt, had been hearing about him for years.

FDR May Make A Few Changes, But No Millenium Anticipated

Don't Expect Much Improvement In Cabinet

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The one thing everybody talks about in Washington these days, though nothing else is being done about it, is whether President Roosevelt is going to reorganize his administration, weed out some of the obvious weak figures, and tighten up the machinery.

This discussion recognizes two related circumstances.

Stokes

One is that the Roosevelt regime is admittedly flabby in administration, as was emphasized effectively by Governor Dewey, and so well demonstrated publicly by the noisy and spontaneous reaction he got every time he promised a "housecleaning" in Washington.

The other circumstance involves a personal situation of Mr. Roosevelt, himself. This is undoubtedly his last term as President. That being so, and there being no reason for him to operate with personal political motive, it is suggested that he might do everything necessary to put a grand finale on his unprecedented career in the White House.

Virtually free of political restraints, he might strike out boldly, it is said.

Appeasement Doesn't Work

There may be some wishful thinking in all of this, but the occasion certainly justifies that. To do it, the President would have to break some old and seemingly ingrained habits which are not conducive to the best administration. He, himself, pleads guilty to them privately, according to his friends.

Well known is his disinclination to fire anybody. Instead he tries to placate antagonisms, to smooth out irritations, by a sort of soothing sirup, now-you-fellows-get-together method. It never works. The word always gets out, and Washington witnesses one of those nasty flare-ups, beginning with rumors in the newspapers, and finally breaking into the open, with the public calling names on each side. Examples are the Henry Wallace-Jesse Jones feud some time ago and more recently the Donald Nelson-Charles E. Wilson embroglio in WPB. The history of the administration is unpleasantly littered with them, going back several years.

THE President's stock solution, as in those two cases, is to drop both parties, or have them drop out in disgust or ennui, without any resolving of the basic policy issue. Such usually is involved beyond any personality clash.

There is a clash of philosophy inherent in the talk now in some quarters about possible changes in top places, as well as a sincere and objective desire in others merely to get better and more efficient administration.

New dealers, for instance, are saying it is essential, in carrying out the mandate of the election, to get rid of some conservative figures they feel are not in sympathy with the New Deal. At the top of this list always is Jesse Jones who exerts considerable influence from his numerous posts having to do with business and finance. The "Jones-Must-Go" movement is whipping up nicely. The New Dealers won't believe that Mr. Jones did not have some behind-the-scenes part in that Texas "revolt."

After Byrnes, Too

Other mentioned include James F. Byrnes, War Mobilization director, who presumably is leaving anyhow after the end of the war with Germany, though his name is being mentioned among possible successors should Secretary of State Hull retire, chiefly because of Mr. Byrnes' influence in the Senate where the big fight over the postwar international organization will come.

Mr. Byrnes was moved into the top civilian command, along with other Southerners —Marvin Jones of Texas and Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky —in the veering to the right which President Roosevelt took some months back to conciliate conservatives in anticipation of renomination for a Fourth Term.

NEW DEALERS want to reverse that process now.

They also want a place for retiring Vice President Wallace. It is reported he has his eyes either upon the State department or the Commerce department, the latter now one of Jesse Jones prerequisites. The theory on the latter is that the Vice President would build himself up with businessmen, presumably as an aid to seeking the 1948 nomination.

Always, of course, there is "Miss Perkins," Secretary of Labor, who has been parked on a side road for a long time now. She is always mentioned in connection with any report of a cabinet shakeup. This time the project is to put a strong figure at the head of that department and reorganize under it the numerous independent agencies dealing with labor.

As a tip, look for some few changes, but no millenium.

Youth Center Here Named

Duplicate prizes were awarded Mayona Cardwell and Earl Lockhart, Lubbock High school students, for submitting a prize-winning name, The Corral, for the Youth center located at Sixteenth and Ave. J, it was announced Wednesday morning by Mrs. Grace Dyess, city recreation director.

The name was selected by the judging team as most appropriate to carry out western motif decorations in the Youth center and to lend the club a more casual and carefree atmosphere, Mrs. Dyess said. Name chosen as second was La Cantina, submitted by an adult who didn't want to be considered a contestant. The Big Top was third place winner, entered by Leroy Deardorff.

To Get Year's Pass

First-place winners will be awarded a year's pass to all charge programs of the Corral. Presentation of awards will be made at the Thanksgiving dance, to be held from 9 to 11:30 Thursday night at the Corral. Mrs. Arthur Jenkins is chairman of the arrangements committee for the dance. Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. George Berry, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pharr, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hardwick, and Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

It was decided to make a door charge to help defray expenses when an orchestra plays at a meeting of the teen-agers assembly recently. Admission will vary with the size orchestra engaged, but it is hoped the price will never exceed 25 cents, Mrs. Dyess said.

The name judging committee was composed of Mrs. Grace Morris, Mrs. R. S. Underwood, Mrs. C. L. Truly, Mrs. Durwood H. Bradley and Milton Butler.

Thanksgiving Events

W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock Public schools, announced.

In connection with Thanksgiving week, Lubbock Senior High school National Honor society will present a holiday program at 1 p. m. today for high school students. Deane Pierce will be featured in the role of commentator and Mrs. Emmett Burford, sponsor of the society, will direct the program.

The Lubbock Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies will meet at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in Texas Tech stadium to play the traditional football game. In honor of the event, the Westerner-World Lubbock high school paper published a sports edition, midget size, today.

Students Observing Day

Students are observing all-Westerner day today, preceding the big game, as has been the custom for several years. Symbolizing loyalty of the student body to the team, students are wearing the school colors of black and gold. Climaxing event will be the big pep rally at 7 p. m. tonight in the auditorium.

A formal dance for men in service will be given tonight at 8:30 by the Lubbock USO, at the service club.

Majority of Lubbockites are planning to spend a quiet day at home Thursday with few out-of-town visitors expected. However, many are anticipating the arrival of friends and relatives in the service who are the only ones expected to travel over the holidays.

Thursday has been officially designated as official Thanksgiving day for closing of stores of members of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association and all stores in the city will be closed. Banks, county offices and the post-office will also be closed.

Passion Play Crowds Total 7,500-8,000

Between 7,500 and 8,000 persons attended the seven performances of the internationally famous Black Hills Passion play which was presented Tuesday night for the final engagement to a capacity crowd in the Lubbock High school auditorium, it was announced by Dr. Marshall Harvey, secretary of the Lions club which sponsored the play.

Recepits were not immediately available as the Lions club auditing committee is working with the company auditors. Dr. Harvey said total receipts would likely be announced Monday.

Large audiences witnessed each performance of the play which centers around Josef Meier's portrayal of the Christus. Four performances were staged before a sell-out house.

STOCKS IRREGULAR TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP) — Stocks irregular today after a firm opening in which the general run of leaders extended Tuesday's advance by fractions to around a point.

Near the close the market still had a generous quota of plus marks but these remaining gains were narrow and a number of industrial pivotals were slightly lower.

Volume was around 800,000 shares.

With the Thanksgiving holiday just ahead there was a fairly widespread move to lighten speculative commitments.

A sharp break in Briggs & Stratton in the late proceedings followed news that the company had omitted the usual quarterly dividend of 75 cents.

A little improved in the final hour were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Eastman Kodak, American Can, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Anaconda and Texas Co. Hiram Walker climbed about 3. Losers included Chrysler, Sears Roebuck and Westinghouse.

Curb stocks at higher levels included American Cyanamid, Cities Service, Cuban-Atlantic Sugar and Transwestern Oil.

Ghost Fleet Of Jap Ships In Manila Bay

ABOARD U. S. CARRIER FLAGSHIP Off Luzon Island, Philippines, Nov. 19 (Delayed)—(Via Navy radio) (AP)—A ghost fleet of 100 war-crippled Japanese ships lies dissolutely in the calm shallow waters of Manila bay.

Carrier pilots sweeping over the bay today found few targets in the crowded harbor worth bombing. Most of the ships were small craft already strafed into uselessness by repeated U. S. carrier attacks in recent weeks.

Attacking pilots found at least three usable ships and added them to the wreckage.

Lt. Monroe S. Doss, of Seminole, Tex., and Ens. Charles Esnad of Centerville, La., scored confirmed hits on this ship.

Lt. Charles C. Taylor, Corpus Christi, Tex., blew up some radio towers.

Army Chaplain Unit To Have 2 Generals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP) — The Army Chaplain corps for the first time will have two generals, if nominations submitted today by President Roosevelt are approved by the Senate.

Brig. Gen. William R. Arnold, chief of chaplains, was nominated to be a major general. Chaplains never have been headed by a major general and it took a special act of Congress to permit this promotion. Col. George F. Rixey, who will be deputy to Arnold, was named for promotion to brigadier general.

Mr. Roosevelt also nominated today Brig. Gen. William J. Donovan of the cavalry reserve, head of the office of strategic services, to be a major general; Maj. Gen. Wilhelm D. Styer of the engineers to be a lieutenant general and David Sarnoff, colonel in the Signal corps reserve and chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, to be a brigadier general.

In all, the promotion list included 23 new major generals and 72 brigadier generals.

University Inquiry

gation turns next week to the medical branch of the university.

The group concluded the first phase of its inquiry here yesterday and recessed until Monday to hear in Austin members of the Galveston medical faculty.

Meantime, the board of regents of the university meets in El Paso Friday and Saturday, the first meeting for four new members, three of whom replace regents who resigned after Dr. Homer P. Rainey was discharged as president.

Re-Instatement Possible

Members voting Nov. 1 to discharge Rainey who are still on the board are Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, D. F. Strickland of Mission, H. J. Lutcher Stark of Orange and W. Scott Schreiner of Kerrville.

Possible re-instatement of Dr. Rainey who made a second appearance before the investigators recessed, was touched upon briefly in testimony but not fully developed.

Dr. Rainey told the committee before it recessed he felt that "definite forces had been working over a long time toward my removal and in such an atmosphere I had little opportunity to work effectively."

The committee recorded voluminous testimony from Rainey, faculty members, students and ex-students on the long standing controversy between Dr. Rainey and board members as to proper spheres of authority and responsibility of the administrator and the governing board.

Dobie Criticizes Regents

J. Frank Dobie, professor of English lately returned from a year's guest professorship at Cambridge university, England, testified that the regents had attempted to stifle liberal thinking by faculty members, that the board had built a Maginot line around the institution for the purpose of keeping out of ideas.

He made a reference to "big corporation ideas on labor" and Sen. Wardlow Lane interrupted him to declare that "some of the fellows on Dr. Rainey's side have corporation interests."

"I know it," said Dobie. "I make no challenge of big corporations and oil men as such. There are liberals among them. There is a big capitalistic element in this country, however, that has eyes in the back instead of the front of its head.

"They fear modern men of which Dr. Rainey is a fine example."

Dobie said the real issue was not academic freedom as much as it was freedom of mind.

Dozie qualified his testimony to say that the university was the last tax supported institution in Texas that had any freedom of speech. He said that the faculty at Texas Technological college had been "squelched" and that 16 months ago when he visited Texas A. & M. college he found faculty members there greatly worried over their freedom.

Freedom of speech continued at the university, he said, because "Dr. Rainey and others refused to submit."

Dr. Rainey was recalled by the committee to rebut testimony by Bullington who had asserted the president had not been diligent in selecting a director for the university's cancer research hospital at Houston.

Dr. Rainey told committeemen that a long and careful search had narrowed to two men, one who could not obtain a release from the U. S. Public Health service and another who declined appointment.

The declination, he said, came from Dr. Grady H. Twombly of New York.

Denison Explosion

lated the blast was set off by the passing train or by the exhaust of an automobile.

The Denison Herald said there were two explosions, the second being the more severe of the two.

Flames engulfed homes and buildings more than half a block away. Homes were rocked over a much wider area.

An elderly man who was waiting for a bus began running but flame from the second explosion, said the Herald, enveloped him more than half a block away and set his clothing afire.

Clarence Scott, former mayor of Denison, was among the eyewitnesses.

People "Flying Through Air"

"People," he said, "were flying through the air."

Borum said Hammond, who later died, was blown 20 feet and fell with his clothing in flames.

"It seemed that people were just standing there dazedly watching while human torches ran about screaming for help," Borum said.

Willie Mott, a maid at the home of Mrs. Ed Kilgore who was among the critically injured, said: "Everybody seemed to be running and everyone seemed panic-stricken Everybody had their clothes burned off."

A horse in a barn a block away from the explosion was blown out of the barn and through a fence.

"Too Stunned To Act"

"The explosion and the blaze were over so quickly that everyone was too stunned to act," Borum said. "It was several minutes before the bystanders could comprehend what had happened. It was almost necessary to use force to get the uninjured to help the injured."

Firemen, using a special preparation for burns, gave first aid to a large number of injured who were then rushed to the hospitals.

Firemen battled flames in the area for an hour. Damage varied. Homes were seriously damaged, a larger number were scorched.

Doctors from Perrin field, basic flying school at Denison, assisted local physicians in caring for the victims. Plasma from Perrin was used. Nurses aides from nearby Sherman were called to help nurses aides from Denison at the two hospitals.

Citizens Offer Blood

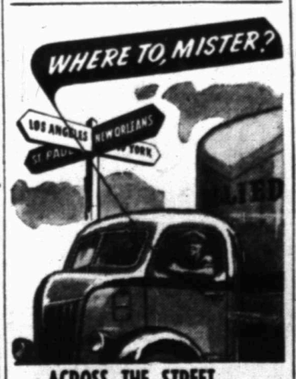

Prospective donors besieged Denison hospitals last night, offering blood for the victims.

A partial list of the critically injured follows:

Mrs. John Marshall, Sherman; Mrs. R. B. Marshall, Dallas, wife of R. Bart Marshall, vice president of Lyon-Gray Lumber company and manager of the Dallas yard of that company; Mrs. A. H. Ahlers, Sherman; H. F. Allen, Sherman; Lonnie Joe Hammons, 12, Denison; Mrs. Ed Kilgore, Denison; Mrs. C. A. Bass, address unknown; an unidentified elderly woman.

Two of the victims, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney, were visiting in Denison.

To train one aviator the U. S. Navy spends $27,500 and the plane the pilot flies after he finishes training may be a $90,000 fighter or a $200,000 flying boat.

Reds Imperil Rail Network

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 22 — The Red army drive for control of northeastern Hungary's rail network was captured Verpelet, eight miles southwest of Eger and is edging closer to the strategic rail junctions of Miskolc and Hatvan, Moscow advices said today.

Still another threat to the Germans in that general sector was seen in a Berlin announcement that the Russians had uncorked a fresh push in Czechoslovakia southwest of Ungvar, 75 miles northeast of Miskolc. The Nazis said seven to eight Soviet divisions had ripped several holes in German defenses between the Ung and Latorica rivers.

German Forces Pocketed

A Moscow communique said German forces pocketed in Southwest Latvia had made 40 vain counterattacks in a single day below Jelgava, losing 13 tanks, but the announcement still did not confirm Berlin assertions that the Russians had begun a major offensive Sunday.

The Russians, however, did announce the virtual clearance of the Baltic island of Saare (Osel) guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Riga.

Six hundred Germans and Hungarians were reported killed at Verpelet. From Nov. 14 through Nov. 20 the Russians captured 4,220 German and Hungarian soldiers, bringing the total since Nov. 8 to 11,900, the Russians announced.

There was no new word on the continuing siege of Budapest from points south and southeast of the capital.

expeditionary forces in China. Both have recently been reported in South China where Hata this week completed his successful campaign of bisecting the country and eliminating advanced U. S. air bases. Hata becomes inspector general of military education.

Jap Attack Repulsed

In the Philippines campaign the Japanese made another futile counterattack against a U. S. 24th division road block on northern Leyte in a costly attempt to reach Limon and relieve the crack imperial first division which Gen. Douglas MacArthur said is being sacrificed "in a desperate effort to retain this critical position."

The U. S. 32nd division continued hammering at interlaced defenses north of Limon, crux of the campaign. MacArthur commented "the rugged terrain of the mountain pass, ideally suited to defense, compels time-consuming, piecemeal destruction of enemy pillboxes, entrenchments and pockets of resistance in order to minimize our losses."

British Closing In On Faenza Junction

ROME, Nov. 22 (U.P.) — British troops of the Eighth army, closing in on Faenza, next important junction on the Rimini-Bologna highway, captured the fortified village of Castiglione and advanced to within 500 yards of the Cosina river while on the Adriatic patrols pushed up the main coastal highway to within two and a half miles of Ravenna, it was announced today.

Farther to the west Polish troops of the Fifth army captured Monte Fortino, from which they were driven by a German counterattack Saturday and pushed on against strong resistance to seize Monte Piano, less than five miles south of Faenza.

Fierce fighting against German infantry and armor continued in the Monte Piano sector.

Ministers Group To Apologize To FDR

GLENDALE, Calif., Nov. 22. (U.P.) —Plans were underway today for an assembly of the Glendale Ministerial association to apologize formally to President Roosevelt for reproving him over his reported blashemy on election day.

Dr. J. Whitcolm Brougher, sr., association president, apologized yesterday on behalf of the group and said he hoped to get the members together Friday for a formal apology.

Roosevelt stated that when his voting machine stuck he said, "the damn thing won't work," but did not take the name of the Lord in vain, as was indicated in a magazine account.

News Brief

Promotion of two officers of the 39th Battalion, Texas State Guard, with headquarters in Lubbock, were announced today by the Adjutant General's department of the state of Texas. Those receiving promotions were Major B. C. McCasland, commanding officer of the battalion, to rank of lieutenant colonel, and Capt. Thomas B. Craig, battalion executive officer, to rank of major. The promotions, which were effective Monday, were among those put out in the state guard to bring the guard up to regular army organization status.

Conditions of H. L. Chapman and Johnnie Shelton of near Levelland, who suffered second and third degree burns in the explosion of an oil rig near Whiteface Tuesday, were said to be serious by West Texas hospital authorities early this afternoon. Both men suffered burns about the face, arms, legs and body.

Search for a negro soldier presumably had not resulted in arrest, in the case of Napoleon Holmes. Holmes, a negro, was stabbed and cut severely Tuesday night, allegedly at the residence of Jessie May Stevens, 26, a negro woman who was held today by police in connection with investigation into aggravated assault. Holmes was in a hospital, where he was treated for a deep abdominal wound and cuts and bruises of the face, neck and arm.

Police said they had been able to apprehend no one fitting description of an assailant who "grabbed" a young girl about 10 o'clock Tuesday night in 1700-block Twenty-fourth. She screamed and the man ran.

Cleo Norcross, a minister of 2105 Eighteenth, was treated for cuts and bruises at midmorning after, police said, his automobile was struck at Eighteenth and Ave. Q by a car driven by Sgt. T. E. Burg, 25, of South Plains Army Air field. Both cars "ended up" in an adjacent yard, badly damaged.

Lt. James Qualia, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Qualia, who recently returned to the United States to convalesce from non-combatant injuries received in Italy last July, was flown from Miami to Temple and is now at McCloskey General hospital, he telephoned his parents. Lt. Qualia was partially paralyzed from a spinal injury. He was a bombardier on a B-24.

A Thanksgiving message was delivered by Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, at the luncheon of Kiwanis club today in Lubbock hotel. Also on the program was the a cappella chior of Lubbock Senior High school under the direction of Mrs. Mary A. Ware. J. H. Beasley and H. D. Woods had charge of the program. Club President T. E Buckner presided.

A pre-Thanksgiving formal dance will be held at the Lubbock USO tonight beginning at 8:30 o'clock to the music of the South Plains Army Air field Swing-Combo band. The Aerodonnas will be hostesses, the holiday motif is being used for refreshments and decorations. All men in uniform are invited.

Mrs. James David McKnight, the former Huguette Coffer of Cairo, Egypt, related her experiences to Lubbock Rotarians at the Hilton today noon of her travels from her native land to the United States last September to become a student at Texas Technological college. The charming and beautiful brunet, who met and married her husband, a former Tech student now an officer in the American Army in Cairo, compared various customs and living conditions of her former home with those of "the States" in an informal talk which featured the luncheon program. She was introduced by Freelan Groce, program chairman. Preceding her talk, Jerry LeMond, a high school student, told of the teen age canteen and urged support of the townspeople in the project. Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: Bill Blakney of Abilene, W. A. Yeager of Midland, E. T. Stearns and B. C. Arthur of Fort Worth, and Jim McLain, Jimmie Rankin and Will Marr of Ralls.

Raging Fire Destroys 7 Greenville Stores

GREENVILLE, Nov. 22 (U.P.) — Fire of undetermined origin which raged out of control for more than two hours today destroyed seven Greenville business establishments in the heart of the downtown section, causing damages estimated between $125,000 and $200,000.

The blaze was discovered about 2:30 a. m. in the one-story building housing the McVay cafe, and soon spread to the three-story Collins Furniture store and adjoining buildings housing the Si Murray Clothing store, Edelman jewelers, Thompson Meat market, Shofner grocery and the Rita theater.

A barber shop and sandwich shop adjacent to the theater were damaged.

The theater's heaviest damage resulted from the falling walls of the furniture store, the seats of the movie house being pounded into the ground by the force of the falling brick.

The fire, which was still burning at mid-morning, disrupted downtown power service.

all other appropriate means.

"6. To prepare the groundwork for effective participation in important local elections of 1945 and in local, state, and national elections in 1946."

The resolution also contained a formal rejection of the third party principle, asserting that:

"The experience of this election campaign has fully confirmed the correctness of our decision to abstain from and discourage any move in the direction of a third party. A third party would serve only to split and divide the forces of progress at the very moment when unity is our greatest need."

Say Republicans Supported

It was PAC's contention that Republicans as well as Democrats were supported in the past campaign, and a survey by CIO News, official organization publication, said that at least 110 members of the House who had been endorsed by PAC were elected. Another 17 candidates supported for the United States Senate were seated, it said.

While PAC provided the most publicized resolution, the convention also will be asked to express its unswerving demand for revision on the present wage policy, exemplified by the Little Steel formula, which limits pay increases to 15 per cent above January, 1941 levels. The CIO, like the AFL, is urging the President to grant general revision of the policy.

May Strike In Michigan

Michigan Bell telephone employes voted their "willingness to strike" in support of the Ohioans, but withheld a strike call pending final WLB action.

The strike began Friday in Dayton. Federation members said it was in protest against payment of an $18.25 expense bonus weekly to more than 100 operators transferred from out-of-town to help handle Dayton telephone traffic.

Operators in 28 other communities joined in "sympathy walkouts," and telephone maintenance men in several cities voted to recognize picket lines at exchange buildings.

Mulhouse And Metz Captured

moving northward along the west bank of the Rhine.

There were no immediate details at supreme headquarters on the strength, exact focal point or initial gains, if any, of the enemy counterattack. First reports indicated that it was thrown in from the direction of Colmar southwestward past Mulhouse against the flank of the French First army armored drive out on the Belfort pass area.

Every Road Jammed

The enemy thrust apparently was aimed in the general direction of Suarce and Delle—the thinneest spot in the reinforcement line where every road is jammed with more men and supplies moving up to the Rhine.

Between the two flanks of the 75-mile southern front, the Germans pulled back toward the Rhine as the Allied offensive tore through the snowy valleys of the Vosges. The Allies were 10 miles beyond the communications center of Sarrebourg and past Nazi defenses in front of the Saverne gap, a northern corridor to the Rhine plain.

Perhaps the most severe battle on the entire western front was in progress in the German area beyond Aachen, where the American First army dug almost half a mile into the industrial town of Eschweiler, rooting out the Germans one at a time. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique said his troops "penetrated some distance into Eschweiler."

From north to south, the front looked like this:

The British Second army captured Maasbree and moved to a point four miles west of Venlo. It reached the outskirts of Baarlo, four miles southeast of the Dutch border town of 27,000, and reached the eedge of Sevenum, six miles northwest of Venlo.

The U. S. Ninth army gained up to more than two miles, overrunning nine towns yesterday, and then kept right on overnight, adding two more miles. The Ninth battled its way into Fronhoven, three miles northeast of Eschweiler. High ground overlooking both Linnich and Julich, fortified towns on the Roer barrier, was captured and the Americans moved within sight of the river itself.

The American First army was fighting a hard battle in Eschweiler, strongpoint six miles north east of Aachen.

The American Third army was running into a harder crust of German defenses inside Germany—minefields, road blocks, anti-tank barriers and a curtain of artillery in the forefield of the Siegfried line. The Third has an 11-mile line inside Germany. Some points held are three miles inside the Reich from Luxembourg.

Chief Of Patrol Is Visitor In Lubbock

W. J. Elliott, chief of the Texas Highway patrol, was in Lubbock today in connection with a West Texas visit with personnel of the Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene, Amarillo and Wichita Falls patrol districts.

He said his appreciation of the Lubbock district's personnel "for its ability to function so excellently under conditions of reduced manpower." He said its record was "one of the best for any Texas patrol district."

Thanksgiving 1944

" THE LORD HELPS THOSE WHO HELP THEMSELVES"
The old philosopher responsible for this time-honored expression wrapped up a lot of meaning in a few words. He meant that we should pray . . . yes . . but that while we pray we also should direct our efforts and our energies toward the accomplishment of the things for which we are praying.

It is entirely correct and proper that our prayers on this Thanksgiving Day should be devoted to thanks and gratitude for the blessings which have been visited upon us during the years since the Pligrim Fathers first observed the occasion. At the same time, we should be looking toward the things which will make possible future Thanksgiving Days . . . Victory over our enemies, Peace, Security . . .

And, that "The Lord help those who help themselves," we must first help our sons and husbands and fathers, our daughters and wives in the Service of our Country by furnishing the things they need at the time they need them.

The Sixth War Loan provides that opportunity. Buy Bonds.

Allies Need Breaks For Yule Victory

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

This column preached a sermon yesterday against over-optimism about when the European war will end, and later your columnist felt a certain smugness when it developed that General Eisenhower had been saying much the same thing at the same time.

Today you're invited to help examine this matter of optimism further and see if we can find an answer to the big question of the moment: Is it still possible for us to have a "white" Christmas, with only five weeks left in which to force surrender? Nazi propagandists are telling their people that the Allies are going all-out for victory by Yuletide—that is true.

German Spirits Low

One of the most important aspects of the situation is that the Germans, although not broken in morale, already have accepted the inevitability of defeat. Their spirits are low. They realize that their war effort is irreparably shattered — by severance of communications with other countries and by the awful destruction which the Allied air fleets have wrought. Eisenhower summed the thing up grimly yesterday when he declared that German leaders were faved by a critical shortage of manpower and supplies and were stripping the Reich bare to continue the war.

The 450-mile German battleline in western Europe is stretched as taut as a bow-string — so that strands of it are snapping. The Nazis have no way of repairing this damage. All they can do is hang on desperately in the face of Allied forces that are vastly superior numerically and in equipment.

Allied Pressure Growing

This terrific Allied pressure isn't something that remains the same so the Hitlerites can bank on its consistency. It's growing. General Ike says his plan is to increase pressure steadily all along the front until the Germans are crushed. He didn't add what we know to be true — that he has unrevealed striking-power up his sleeve. The Nazis can't strengthen their resistance as a whole. They can only increase it on one sector by taking strength from another, and this lays the weakened area open to fresh attack.

If General Ike gets supplies and if the weather is favorable, I believe it's militarily possible (I say "possible") for the Allies to achieve victory by Christmas. However, that's not a prediction. I'm no prophet crying in the wilderness. The war will run into 1945 if the Allies don't get the breaks.
