America 'busy being born'

Carter proclaims 'new mood'

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter today returns to Georgia where his giant-killer campaign began and where he'll map plans to capture the White House in the Nov. 2 election.

Carter and the other half of his Blue-Gray ticket, Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, closed out the 1976 Democratic National Convention with tandem acceptance speeches Thursday night that proclaimed "a new mood in America."

Before leaving New York, where delegates approved his nomination, stamped a platform drawn to his taste and endorsed his running mate with more harmony than Democrats have seen in a decade, Carter scheduled his first post-convention strategy session and meetings with Democrtic National Committee leaders.

"Nineteen seventy-six will not be a year of politics as usual," Carter told the convention. "It is a year of concern, and of quiet and sober reassessment of our nation's character and purpose — a year when voters have already confounded the political experts.

"It can be a year of inspiration and hope. And I guarantee you it will be the year when we give the government of this country back to the people of this country."

Carter opened his speech with the line which mostly brought chuckles when he started using it 19 months ago, "My name is Jimmy Carter, and I'm running for president."

Poking fun at the Republican division in the nomination race between President Ford and Ronald Reagan, Carter predicted a victory with his relatively youthful Democratic ticket, "no matter which Republican party they decide to send against me."

"We are a new generation of leadership," Mondale said. "We are strong. We are experienced. And we're ready," Carter is 51, Mondale, 48.

Carter criticized the present administration for acting as if the United State's best days are behind us and quoted singer Bob Dylan in pointing out that "America is busy being born, not busy dying."

The 1976 Democratic National Convention ended with the Rev. Martin Luther King, father of the slain civil rights leader, declaring, "Surely the Lord sent Jimmy Carter to come on out and bring America back where she belongs."

After today's meetings here, the Carter caravan was to head for the family home at Plains, Ga.

As he introduced Mondale as his choice for running mate, Carter said, "The first duty that Sen. Mondale will have will be to help win the election in the fall."

Carter said Mondale and his staff would be asked "to put forward their own proposal about what areas of the nation he should visit most, what particular states he would find most compatible with his own campaigning, and to share responsibilities for major events."

Carter said there would be staff meetings following up today's meeting between the two candidates.

Carter's speech was perhaps the most comprehensive display yet of his stands on the major political issues, although it generally reflected the party platform which his delegates were instrumental in writing.

The Carter campaign headquarters will remain in Atlanta in keeping with his non-Washington approach to the election.

Carter said he wanted jobs for all who were able to work, comprehensive tax reform, universal voter registration, a national health program, an end to racial and sex discrimination, firm law enforcement and an end to "the double standard of justice in America.

"I see no reason why big shot crooks should go free while the poor ones go to jail," Carter said.

Carter told reporters later he could accomplish his goals within four years of moving into the White House.

While Carter denounced "the disgrace of Watergate," he did not mention personalities. But Mondale went further by bringing up President Ford's pardon of Richard Nixon for Watergate offenses.

"We have just lived through the worst political scandal in American history and are now led by a President who pardoned the person who did it," Mondale said.

On foreign policy, Carter's speech was reminiscent of John F. Kennedy's inaugural address 15 years ago. He called for "a sustained architectural effort to shape an international framework of peace within which our own ideals gradually can become a global reality."

Shaws comin' home

'Poor President' joke

Special to The Herald

NEW YORK — Why does everyone keep picking on our poor President?

Didn't he answer his own question?

Barry Goldwater has selected his candidate for President this year.

Obviously, it's Ford, although in your heart you know it would be Barry, if he had a chance.

THESE ARE TWO jokes enjoyed by Carter delegate Delano Shaw, Big Spring, and his "big brother" Larry Shaw, Howard County farmer, at a "giant blow out" staged by New York delegates for Texas delegates last night.

The two West Texans sparked the party by telling a New York Times reporter how wonderful New Yorkers have been to them and the fantastic sights they were seeing in "fun city."

Texans were invited to the party by New York Mayor Abraham Beame following the "crowning" of Jimmy Carter and Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota in the finale of the Democratic National Convention.

"A Texan gave Mayor Beame a straw hat," Larry Shaw said. "He looked like Yosemite Sam. The mayor seemed to be enjoying himself and shouted, 'I can hear, but I can't see.'"

"THEY HAD A band that played "The Eyes of Texas" and there were all kinds of dancing. The party was held in the Rainbow Room atop Rockefeller Center. They say it is the most elegant place in New York City. You could sure see the lights of the city."

State GOP Chairman Ray Hutchison said the selection of Sen. Mondale as Carter's running mate suggests to him a Democratic campaign slogan: "Carter: Southern Fried McGovern."

"The people of Texas will remember that Sen. Mondale is not new to the State," Hutchison said in a statement.

"HE IS THE same fellow who came to Texas within recent years and encouraged the farm workers — strikers — to let the cantaloupe rot in the fields. The farmers, indeed all the people of this state need to take that into account."

When told of Hutchison's statement, Larry replied:

"MONDALE'S ON the agricultural committee. He understands problems of the farmers. He received a lot of applause from the Texas delegates."

U.S. Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson also labeled Mondale "too liberal." However, Burleson feels the ticket of Carter-Mondale will return Democrats to the White House.

The Shaws plan to wing out of New York City at 12:40 p.m. Saturday.

"The convention has thrilled me," Delano said. "Would you please contact my mother in Big Spring and tell her about the party in the Rainbow Room?"

We did.

Special investigator for DA appointed probation officer

District Judge Ralph W. Caton Thursday appointed H. Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, as chief probation officer for Howard County's 118th District Court.

Talbot will replace John Dibrell, probation officer since Sept. 1, 1957, effective Aug. 1.

Asked if he had made a decision about a probation officer for county court, County Judge Bill Tune said: "That'll be up to commissioners court."

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III was asked about the vacancy in his office. "I intend to announce a replacement sometime later next week," Moore said.

In a letter to County Commissioners Court, Talbot stated in part:

"You, the commissioners and the district attorney have always supported my efforts to establish professional law enforcement and equality regardless if those charged were rich or poor, or politically powerful in the community.

"It is my intention and desire to organize the adult probation office into a full functioning professional office which will offer the probationer the full opportunity of rehabilitation as stated by the laws of the State of Texas.

"I will further endeaver to honor the wishes and desires of the Court and to work faithfully within the governmental system."

Dibrell, who served as probation officer part-time, was not immediately available for comment.

Talbot has been serving as Dibrell's assistant in addition to being special investigator.

He will be assisted in the probation office by Jeanette Nichols, a former bank employe and for five years deputy district clerk.

Talbot's salary will be $925 monthly plus $125 for automobile allowance. Mrs. Nichols will be paid $491 monthly.

26 youths missing, feared kidnaped

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-six children and the driver of their school bus who vanished on their way home from a swimming outing apparently are the victims of a mass kidnaping, the Madera County sheriff said today.

Deputies and police searched the San Joaquin Valley farmland through a windy, rainy night split by lightning and thunder for some clue to the whereabouts of the children, who ranged in age from 5 to 15.

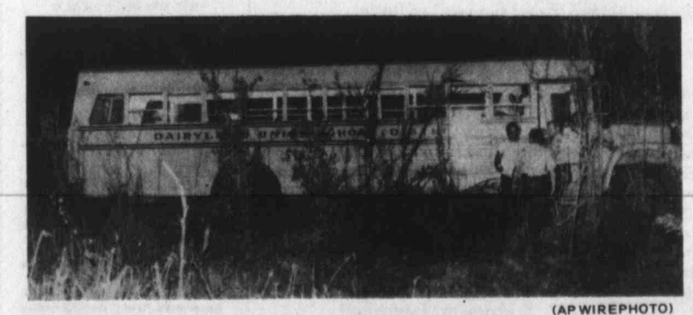

The bus in which the children had been riding was found in a dry canal Thursday night.

"It appears to be an abduction," Sheriff Ed Bates told reporters. "We are waiting to be contacted."

Bates said his investigators found two sets of tracks superimposed on the bus tracks, suggesting that an abduction "would have to be planned, it seems to me." The tracks showed that "somebody left the area after the bus was parked."

The bus, which was to have returned the children from the Chowchilla fairgrounds, was found abandoned in a dry canal during a search from the air. It was hidden in a heavy stand of bamboo in the flat farmland about 35 miles northwest of Fresno.

The sheriff said he couldn't "think of any other possibility" but a kidnaping. "There's no blood, no evidence of foul play at the bus. I'm at a loss for words about this one. I absolutely can't figure it. We can't find anybody who has a motive."

SCHOOL BUS FOUND — Police and parents inspect the Dairyland Union school bus after it was found Thursday night near Chowchilla with all 26 students and the driver missing. Agents request $44 average hike in Howard County auto insurance

Harte-Hanks News Bureau

AUSTIN — If increases in automobile insurance rates are adopted as requested Thursday by the Texas Automobile Insurance Board, the typical Howard County policy holder will face a $44 increase in his individual premiums beginning Oct. 1.

Premium increases were proposed to the state board of insurance, which will have a staff evaluation of insurance company requests on August 4, before it decides which rates to authorize. New rates take effect October 1.

INSURANCE COMPANIES are asking a 27.9 per cent average increase in premiums. Premiums vary according to types of coverage in 40 rating territories in the state, but the industry's estimate of the increase in individual policies is based on a "typical policy holder."

A typical policy holder is defined as a male between 25-65 or a female between 21-65 who owns a late model Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth and carries minimum liability, bodily injury coverage of $10,000 per person and $20,000 per accident, with $5,000 property coverage, plus full coverage on comprehensive, and $100 deductible on collision.

IN HOWARD COUNTY, the requested premium change includes a $22 increase for bodily injury and property damage, $4 decrease in full coverage comprehensive and a $26 hike for $100 deductible collision.

That figure is only slightly less than the $49 average increase requested in Texas as a whole. The county of Harris (Houston) has the highest request with $85 and Waller County has the lowest with $20.

Scurry, Midland and Ector Counties have the same requested hike as Howard. Martin, Dawson, Borden, Mitchell, Sterling and Glasscock are lower, with a request of $37.

Action/reaction: Webb, Iranian rumor

Q. I heard on a television station that Webb AFB might not be closing because the Iranian government wants to continue training its pilots here. Is this true?

A. This is a rumor that has been going around Big Spring for the past three days. The television station apparently picked it up.

The Herald has asked the Associated Press to check this rumor, and the AP reported back that neither the Pentagon nor the Iranian embassy in Washington knew anything of this matter.

It is true that the pilot production has been outstanding since the Iranians have been at Webb, and local officials wouldn't be surprised to learn that the Iranians are interested in keeping the program intact.

But at this stage, it would have to be classified as merely a rumor.

TODAY

Director band performs at Webb AFB Officers' Club about 8 p.m. Friday.

SATURDAY

Cub Scout swim meet for the Lone Star District will be held from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. Saturday at pool no. 1 at Webb AFB.

Offbeat: Rousing adjournment

NEW YORK (AP) — A hush fell over the Democratic National Convention as the black Baptist minister demanded silence.

Then, in a booming voice, the Rev. Martin Luther King began the benediction ending the four-day convention late Thursday:

"Surely the good Lord is in this place... Surely the Lord sent Jimmy Carter to come on out and bring America back where she belongs."

Standing at the podium where Carter and his running mate, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, had delivered their acceptance speeches, the Rev. Mr. King said that as he listened to the candidates' addresses "I took a trip up to heaven."

"Amen," the delegates shouted.

The Rev. Mr. King, father of the assassinated civil rights leader and long a Carter supporter, told the Democrats to close ranks, forget any anger and "if you have an unforgiving heart, get down on your knees."

Thousands of delegates and convention visitors joined him as he clasped the hand of his son's widow, Coretta Scott King, and sang, "We Shall Overcome."

Then, the delegates erupted into a prolonged, foot-stomping, hand-clapping "Happy Days are Here Again" jubilee.

At 11:42 p.m. EDT, the 37th Democratic National Convention adjourned.

Arbabi; and Jeff Brown.

Amarillo pair indicted

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — An Amarillo, Tex., couple was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury on charges of cheating a telephone company through a scheme to avoid long-distance charges.

Authorities said Clayton J. Logan, his wife Lucille and their trucking company, Logan Motor Lines, Inc., were named in an 11-count indictment charging them with defrauding the General Telephone Co.

The indictment charged that in the scheme interstate drivers for the company would place collect calls to a terminal in Macomb, but the person answering would refuse to accept the charges.

Then the driver would leave a message to call back, including an area code, which would disclose the location of the driver and indicate whether he needed to speak to anyone at the terminal, according to a spokesman for the FBI.

Maximum penalty upon conviction is a $1,000 fine or five years in prison on each count, the spokesman said.

$2 bill idea to aid Uncle Sam

Alert Ambulance was trying to help the federal government get the $2 bill distributed.

Red Hiltbrunner, owner of the business, issued his payroll today in $2 bills to his employees. "If several people would do this — pay their employees with $2 bills, we'd get that money moving," Hiltbrunner said this morning.

County budget work booked

Another work session on the 1976-77 county budget is scheduled for County Commissioners Court Monday.

The court also will:

Appoint presiding and alternate election judges.

Consider changes in election precincts.

Discuss establishing a central counting station for the election.

Confer about installing a used two-way radio in the Gay Hill fire truck.

Confer with County Engineer Neel Barnaby and approve bills.

Liaison officer at Webb assigned to Lackland AFB

Lt. Col. Mahmood Saleh Birjandi, liaison officer at Webb Air Force Base, has been assigned as senior country liaison officer for Iran at Lackland Air Force Base.

In this position, he will be in charge of all the Iranian liaison officers in the U.S.

Wednesday night, a going away party for Col. Saleh and his wife, Betti, was hosted at the Big Spring Country Club by Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Brown and 1st Lt. and Mrs. Marvin James.

The party also introduced Col. Saleh's successor, Maj. Mehdi Arbabi.

Maj. Arbabi, who was born in Tehran, arrived at Webb July 10 for a two-year tour. He is a bachelor.

The liaison officer at Webb helps students with language problems, flying problems and personal problems as well as being a liaison between various military staff agencies and personnel.

During his tour of duty at Webb, Col. Saleh has assisted in the graduating of 50 trainees in the T-37 and 22 trainees in the T-38.

He and his wife have been active in community affairs. He participated in a foreign training information tour to Washington, D.C., and assisted in making the soccer tournament at Webb successful.

Col. Saleh was born in Mashhad, Iran, which is still his hometown. He and his wife have four daughters. The two older daughters, Soraya and Sohayla, attended Big Spring High School this past year, while younger daughters Homayra and Ramona attended Marcy Elementary School.

The daughters could not speak nor understand English when they arrived in the U.S., but now they both do very well.

The family, which is Moslem, had never been away from Iran before coming to Texas. They say that although Iran is fairly cosmopolitan for the East with movies and Cokes, the customs, religion, language and everyday living is entirely different here. The climate in Iran, however, is very similar to West Texas, they note.

Last October, Col. Saleh, his family and his studenhs hosted a party with 300 civilian and military guests in honor of the Iranian Shah's birthday. The Officers' Club celebration was complete with live music and dancing and a six-tiered birthday cake.

In March, the Iranian New Year was celebrated by Col. Saleh, his family and students hosting a party attended by 400 military and civilian guests.

The going-away party was attended by about 50 persons, mostly those who had worked closely with the liaison officer during his stay at Webb. He and his wife were presented several gifts, including a book about Big Spring, and short statements of appreciation were made by Col. Harry A. Spannaus, wing commander at Webb, and Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate.

Harte-Hanks News Bureau

A recently-completed brochure on business regulations in Texas will be released in Paris, Tex., today at the regular quarterly meeting of the Texas Industrial Commission.

A. B. (Stormy) Shelton of Abilene, a member of the commission and publisher of the Abilene Reporter-News, will accept the first copy of the brochure on behalf of Harte-Hanks Newspapers, which provided a $15,000 grant to prepare it.

The brochure offers a guide to potential investors on rules and regulations involved in establishing a business in Texas cities.

Copies of the brochure can be obtained by writing the Texas Industrial Commission, Capital Station, Box 12728, Austin, Tex., 78711.

Variety of opinions aired at 11th Place extension meet

A public hearing was held Thursday night in the city auditorium on the proposed 11th Place extension route, with citizens allowed to express opinions on the proposed routing of the street.

Funds are being provided for the construction of the extension of 11th Place to Gregg Street by the federal and state highway department system under an urban program. The City of Big Spring must purchase the right of way and pay for curbs and gutters.

Both the city and the highway department in a public hearing in 1975 recommended a route that would curve northward and come out onto Gregg Street at the intersection at 10th.

Other routes presented included one which curved to the south and one straight. If the proposed route is adopted, the project would probably begin in September 1977 after going through condemnation, and placement procedures. If another route would be selected, there would be a delay for additional paper work, and the project might never get off the ground.

Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Polly Mays spoke in behalf of the route to 10th Street, pointing out that they considered it a safer entranceway onto Gregg.

This was due, according to the spokesmen, to the hill at 11th and 11th Pl. as well as the number of accidents in that area.

Dr. P. W. Malone, speaking for the Malone-Hogan Clinic, said their main concern was that some route be approved as soon as possible. Ernest Welch, speaking for Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home objected to the approved route, due to noise and drainage problems in that area.

Joe Pickle, speaking as an individual citizen, pointed out that he has always approved of the straight route as "best for the city in the long run."

Keith Gill, owner of Gill's Golden-N-Crisp Fried Chicken told the group that they had understood the street would open up at their building on Gregg Street at 11th Pl.

Dr. Carl Marcum asked what the difference in cost to the city would be? It was pointed out by Roger Welsch, district highway engineer, Abilene, that the question would have to be directed to the city.

Tompkins said after the meeting that the difference in right of way costs on the two different routes was probably around $100,000. It was indicated that the city might have to abandon the project and lose the highway funds, if the more expensive route was selected. However, this was never incorporated as a direct part of the hearings.

The discussion at the hearing simply revolved around proposed routes and possible problems.

Highway officials also displayed maps, charts, gave a slide presentation and distributed pamphlets to any persons attending who might become displaced home owners.

The recommended route would include two homes that would be demolished. Around 45 interested persons attended the hearing.

Highway department officials, other than the district engineer, who took part in the presentation included W. R. (Riley) Walker, state department of highways and public transportation in Abilene; Joe Smoot, resident engineer in Big Spring and Fred Stacy, relocation officer.

Tax return deadline near

Saturday, July 31, is the last day for employers to report and pay Social Security and withheld federal income taxes for the third quarter of 1976.

According to the Internal Revenue Service, employers have until August 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return," if they have deposited the entire quarterly tax liability on time in a Federal Reserve Bank or authorized commercial bank.

Employers who received the preaddressed Form 941 in the mail should use it to file their report. Those who did not receive the preaddressed forms can obtain forms from their local IRS offices.

IRS Publication 15, "Circular E — Employer's Tax Guide," is available free from local IRS offices to provide more information for employers.

Wedding ring stolen

Local police had another fairly quiet day Thursday.

Johnny Moore, 1311 Princeton, reported that sometime Thursday thieves took a diamond-studded, gold wedding ring from the glove compartment of his car. Value of the ring was $125.

Employes of the Lakeview Laundry, 700 Wyoming, reported that someone threw a baseball through a plate glass window on the southside of the building. Damage from the incident, which occurred sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 6:55 p.m. Thursday, was estimated at $50.

Sandra Woods, 705 Ohio, reported that housebreakers tore down the back door of her home and made off with a record album. Total loss was estimated at around $20.

Jane Mauldin, 1000 Hearn, reported that vandals threw a piece of firewood through the front window of her residence. The incident occurred around 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

Four fender benders were reported Thursday.

Cars driven by Noe Luevanos, 506 11th, and Michael Boyd Carroll, Route 1, collided at 8th and Gregg, 8 a.m.

Cars driven by Mildred Aken See, 2205 Johnson, and John Welch Furqueron, 1004 E. 15th, collided at FM 700 and West Highway 80, 10:16 a.m.

Cars driven by Donna Shelton Walker, 3902 Hamilton, and Irene Solnik Meynarez, 222-A Langley, collided at FM 700 and Wasson, 11:33 a.m.

Another accident occurred at the same location when a homemade trailer pulled by a car driven by Robert Glenn Smith, 4206 Walnut, lost a wheel at 10:37 a.m.

Juvenile probation officer gets raise

The juvenile probation board Thursday afternoon granted Ed Cherry, juvenile probation officer, a 5 per cent pay raise and $25 more monthly in car allowance.

Cherry will be making $12,240 per year with the pay increase and drawing $125 per month in car allowance plus $25 for advanced law enforcement certification.

Cherry was not requesting the same salary as the sheriff as reported earlier in County Commissioners Court.

Work sheets for the county budget listed Cherry as being considered for $12,850 yearly, about $1,000 less than the sheriff's salary.

The costs of the juvenile probation office, which consists of a secretary shared with a welfare worker and Cherry, is paid by the county (40 per cent), city of Big Spring (40 per cent) and Big Spring school system (20 per cent), County Auditor Virginia Black told the board.

When the board meets in September, juvenile detention facilities at the courthouse and city jail will be inspected.

Bill Etchison, executive director of the YMCA, told the juvenile probation board about consideration given to rehabilitating youths before they commit serious crimes.

"We really haven't decided on any program," Etchison said. "I don't think we are interested in dealing with hard-core delinquents."

$8,190 suit filed here

Montgomery Ward & Co. Thursday filed a suit in 118th District Court against another victim of truck tire thefts discovered recently.

Bill Hanson doing business as Bill Hanson Trucking, 1610 E. 3rd St., is the defendant.

The suit is for payemnt of $8,190 worth of merchandise and attorney's fees.

Donor day successful

The Big Spring Community Blood Donor Center again had a successful donor day Wednesday due to the dedication of 15 area residents.

Those giving the "gift of life" were: John Morrow, Thomas Orenbaum, Vearl Green, Scott McKnight, David Guinn, Donald Anderson, Thomas Justice, Richard Carmichael, Charley Nickle, Ronny Wood, Robin South, Charles Arbuckle, Walter Slate, Bert Wristen and Rose Davis.

'Together we can do it'

BSSH volunteers lauded

The annual summer luncheon of the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteers was held Thursday at noon in the gym of the hospital campus.

Staff and volunteers enjoyed a meal, lively entertainment, awards presentations, and the words of guest speaker, Paul Southern, the vice-chairman, Region I, of the volunteer services state council.

Curt Millins, vice chairman of the local volunteer services council, presided over the quarterly business session, and recognized individuals who had served the hospital.

Junior volunteers Delaina McQuerry, Shana Anderson, Alen Mince, Tono Pettitt and Wakenda Payte were all recognized for their contributions.

Margaret Baum, head of volunteer services presented certificates of appreciation to Hubbard Heard and Charlie Sanderson of the plant maintenance department for "services beyond the call of duty."

Dr. Southern, from Abilene, presented a rousing talk entitled "Together we can do it."

Southern said that the state doesn't pay for the services volunteers render to the hospitals because the people wouldn't stand for the tax increases, so he indicated the only alternative is "Volunteerism."

"America has always been a nation of volunteers," said Southern. He also stated that "emptiness syndrome" which he feels is prevalent in today's society can be improved by acts of volunteers.

Southern said the hospital doesn't need "compulsive do-gooders," and he defined dedicated volunteers as "persons who care."

"What we do for ourselves dies with us," Southern said, quoting some unknown philosopher, "but what we do for others remains, and is immortal."

The luncheon concluded with the benediction by Chaplain Lee Butler.

Volunteer services and items are still needed at the hospital. They are as follows:

—Someone to come once a month to teach basic good grooming to the girls on the Adolescent Unit.

—Several people to take a shift to answer the phone on Unit 11.

—Someone to help with outdoor activities, such as volleyball, softball, horseshoes, miniature golf.

—Volunteer or group of volunteers to have a monthly birthday party on one of the units. This includes providing cake and serving.

—Operation "Adoption" — someone to take a patient to lunch or out for a ride, to send him correspondence and to come visit him.

—Someone to assist Unit 9 with mail-out of seminar announcements each month. This would involve addressing and stuffing envelopes. Could be done at home.

Items Needed:

—Cosmetics — all kinds.

—Games that can be played out-of-door

—Bingo prizes

—Money — The general fund is slowly dwindling.

Centenarian sheds blame for population explosion

"I hope they don't blame me for the population explosion," Mrs. Cleo Akers, 100, said in a telephone call to her daughter here yesterday.

Mrs. Akers will celebrate her 100th birthday in Boise City, Okla. Saturday and close to 85 descendants are expected to attend.

Of her 10 children, six survive, including Mrs. Johhny (Elizabeth) Johansen of Big Spring. She has 28 grandchildren, 52 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

The party will be held in the community room of the Methodist Church. All of her children are active in their respective churches and one of her sons is a minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Johansen of Big Spring and their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Johansen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johansen and Dr. Betty Johansen all plan to attend.

SECONDS BEFORE DEATH — A sobbing holdup man who said he could not surrender to police because of prior cases pending against him shot and killed himself Wednesday night after holding several persons hostage for three hours in a small bar near downtown St. Louis. The man, identified as Gregory Moore, seemed to be on the verge of surrendering when he placed the gun to his right temple and fired as police, reporters and bystanders watched. "He told us he was going to shoot all of us if any policeman came in," said one hostage. "He kept telling me he would rather die than go to jail."

Sheriff siezes police records

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Hundreds of city police department files were in custody of the sheriff's department today in a seizure ordered by the Caddo Parish grand jury.

The jury issued subpoenas for the records. Eight deputies invaded city hall with the subpoenas Thursday and spent the next three hours sifting through and confiscating material.

The jury is investigating the department run by Public Safety Commissioner George D'Artois, who has been indicted.

Subpoenas were served simultaneously on Police Chief T.P. Kelley and five other police officials, Court Clerk Ed Crump and City Marshal John A. Edgar.

City officers found themselves with no place to record arrests when the deputies carted off all the arrest books since 1970 from central booking.

The object of the subpoenas was records relating to 25 men named in the subpoenas. Among those named was city detective Leemon Brown, but officials would not explain why Brown's name was included.

The subpoenas ordered deputies to confiscate all arrest, bond, court, evidence, fingerprint and other records of the men.

There was no indication that the seizure was linked with the shooting death last Friday of public relations executive Jim Leslie.

Leslie was felled by a shotgun blast as he walked to his car at a Baton Rouge motel. He had accused D'Artois of trying to pay Leslie's Shreveport advertising firm with a city check, the substance of one of the indictments against the public safety commissioner.

Leslie had also directed the media end of management's successful campaign to secure passage of a right-to-work law in Louisiana.

Piranha in fish tanks

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Some man-eating piranha — outlawed in Florida — are swimming around in some home fish tanks today. They were mistakenly sold as docile little red pacus to four pet shops. Piranha are outlawed in Florida because of the potential danger if they happened to be released in the state's subtropical fresh waters.

Lebanese evacuation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The U.S. Embassy announced it is shutting down most of its operations Monday and arranging another evacuation Sunday for Americans in war-torn Lebanon. The embassy strongly urged Americans to leave the war-torn country and warned it "will no longer have the capability to effectively provide protection for the American community" after Monday. In Washington, the State Department said it had not been decided whether the evacuation would be by U.S. Navy ships, American military planes or a road convoy to Damascus, Syria.

Reign of terror in Uganda

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Foreigners fleeing Uganda report that President Idi Amin has unleashed a reign of terror following the Israeli commando raid that freed more than 100 hijacked hostages. Kenyans returning to their homeland reported Amin's soldiers were slaughtering Kenyans living in Uganda, and a Canadian who arrived from Kampala said many whites who want to leave are afraid to go to the airport.

Panel to help food producers deal with salt water woes

LUBBOCK — An international conference drawing participants from 20 countries and seven southwestern states, Aug. 16-20, at Texas Tech University will help food producers deal with the global problem of increased amounts of sale in irrigation water.

Seven cooperating organizations are supporting the conference on managing saline water for irrigation and planning for the future. They are the International Society of Soil Science's Subcommission on Salt Affected Soils, the Soil Science Society of America, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and U.S. Salinity Laboratory and three universities, Texas Tech, Texas A&M and New Mexico State.

Dr. Harold E. Dregne, director of Texas Tech's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies, is chairman of the organizing committee.

Although attendance is expected to be limited to about 100 persons, Dregne said that professional persons concerned with the management of irrigation systems are welcome and will find many sessions of the conference useful.

"This conference is important worldwide," he said, "because the increased need for food demands that more and more of the marginal agricultural lands be brought into production. Many of these will be dependent upon saline irrigation water."

In West Texas and all of the American Southwest, he said, agricultural production is becoming increasingly dependent upon irrigation with salty water.

He used the Rio Grande River experience as one example.

Water that begins fresh and relatively salt free in Colorado, he explained, becomes saltier as it is drained off for irrigation and then returned to the river. It picks up salts from the soil it irrigates and returns this time and again to the stream.

In West Texas, in another instance, the layer of water underlying the diminishing Ogallala aquifer, he said, is saline, but, as the Ogallala water disappears, farmers will become more dependent upon the deeper strata.

"Farmers in Hale and some other West Texas counties already are using this saline water," Dregne said, "and this conference should lead to better management practices for them."

Two field trips for as many as 45 participants are planned.

Farm markets

The market at Sweetwater Livestock auction had a run of 750 head of cattle, at its sale, according to Cecil Sellers.

All classes were from $1 to $2 higher with stocker calves $3 to $4 higher with the local demand stronger.

Other samplings include:

Cows: fat, 27-32; cutters, 24-27; canners, 20-24. Bulls: bologna, 30-35. Stocker Steer Calves: choice, 40-45; good, 36-40; medium, 33-36. Stocker Heifer Calves: choice, 37-41.50; good, 34-36; medium, 32-34. Feeder Steer Yearlings: choice, 37-39; good, 34-36; medium, 32-34. Feeder Heifer Yearlings: choice, 34-36; good, 32-34; medium, 30-32. Cows & Calves: good, 255-335; plain, 200-255.

Playday looms barring rain

Barring any more rain, the Howard County Youth Horsemen Club will sponsor a playday this Saturday, July 17 at the arena on the Garden City Highway.

Registration begins at 6 p.m. and events start at 7 p.m. Entry fee is 50 cents per event. Events include barrels, poles and flags.

Jury 'fed up' with CB thefts

FORT WORTH (AP) — A Fort Worth jury that gave the maximum prison sentence to a man convicted of burglarizing a car in order to steal a Citizens Band radio reflects the "fed up" feeling of the community, a prosecutor says.

Jurors in criminal district court here Thursday assessed a 10-year prison sentence to Roy L. Choice, 34, who had been charged with burglary of a motor vehicle with intent to commit theft. The maximum sentence under the law is 10 years and a fine up to $6,000, but Choice was not fined.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Marvin Collins said, "I think this verdict is a reflection of two things. One, it's a reflection of the policy of this office to really get tough on CB thieves. And secondly, jurors are representative of the community and this verdict represents the attitude the community has come to regarding CB thieves.

We hope you will enjoy 'Leisure'

When you look for your old TV This Week pullout in Sunday's issue of the Big Spring Herald, you won't find it.

What you will find in its place is a new tabloid magazine called "Leisure."

We at the Herald think that you're going to find the new product much improved over the old one.

THE FIRST change you will notice is the cover. "Leisure" will feature a cover story on either an important Big Spring happening coming up the following week, such as the Boots Randolph performance at the Webb Air Force Base Officers' Club, or a Big Spring area personality.

These cover stories will, for the most part, be in the leisure time area. The cover may be a spread on Campus Review at Big Spring High School, or it might feature a play upcoming at Howard College. At other times, the feature will be on hobbies or recreation of area participants in the broad and varied fields of art and music.

THE SECOND difference you will notice is that the television logs changed — much changed. Instead of the boxes where readers can never really be quite certain of the exact program times, a chronological listing will be used with the times and channel numbers at the side.

All the information you want to know about the show or movie will be there in one spot, so you won't have to flip through the magazine looking for a synopsis.

The new logs won't end at midnight when there are four more movies shown later, or they won't fail to give you a brief summary of a key network show just when you needed it.

The new TV logs are computerized to be the most up-to-date, most accurate available anywhere in the erratic world of television broadcasting.

GRANTED, these logs are different. But once you become accustomed to reading this format, you'll never want to go back to the old box method. This is the same sytle that "TV Guide" magazine proved and built into a national empire.

It is the clearest, most readable and most reliable method of keeping up with television programming. The stations will be listed by their real channel numbers, not by cable numbers. In most cases, the cable number and the channel number are the same, but there are a couple of exceptions in this area. For newcomers to the area, a conversion chart from channel number to cable number will be on each page.

"LEISURE" also will feature other spare-time features. One will be Danny Reagan and James Werrell's column "Two for the Road" which tells of things to do on weekends in West Texas. Another feature will be "Nashville Sounds," a country music column. The magazine will contain AP writer Jay Sharbutt's television column, plus a guide to entertainment events in this part of Texas.

I think in your leisure time, you'll really enjoy "Leisure."

Look for it in D Section (not B Section) of Sunday's Big Spring Herald.

King Carter

William F. Buckley, Jr.

NEW YORK — They still don't quite know what hit them, but the preliminary response by Democrats from all over the country has been gratifying. The Democrats tend to recognize power, and in Jimmy Carter they came upon it, and are settling down without Major demonstrations of resentment. One reaches for symbols . . . Jimmy Reston's references to Carter are now uniformly deferential . . . Mayor Daley, whose iron grip over the Illinois delegation was not challenged this year, instructed the delegation to vote for Carter.

ONE DISSENTER said he would not along. Daley replied in characteristic fashion: "We'll report the delegation as unanimously for Carter without you." Logically, that is a circle-squaring expedition. Mayor Daley has the same trouble with language that Sam Goldwyn had. It is bound to go awry whenever it is suggested that in order to constitute a unanimous vote, anything else is needed than his own. What is significant is that it was only four years ago that that kind of thing shocked. Only four years ago when they denied Daley himself a seat in the delegation. Now he occupies not only his seat, but everybody else's seat: in service to Jimmy Carter.

Now from the Democrats' point of view, it would appear that they made a good choice. Carter is presentable. He is a master politician. He has great natural dignity, a sense of gravitas through the chorus-girl smile. Only six weeks ago, Governor Brown came into New York for a fund-raiser and was introduced to a salon full of fashionable people with the statement: "We all know that 62 per cent of the Democrats in this country are anti-Carter." Where are these Democrats now? In line to pay Carter homage. It is most definitely Carter's season with the Democrats. He said to them: "Trust me." It isn't at all plain that they do trust him, but it is absolutely plain that they recognize there is no alternative than to trust him.

AS FAR AS the general public is concerned, one can only hope that behind Carter's back his fingers are crossed, when he says: "Trust me." Nothing personal, but it is a formidable American tradition that one does not place blind trust in political leaders. Jefferson's phrase about the danger of putting trust in men — better to "bind down their hands in the chains of the Constitution" — is a part of our patrimony. Jimmy Carter, who came out strongly against right-to-work laws when Governor of Georgia, has come out in favor of right-to-work laws while running for President.

He is four-square in favor of the usual contradictions: husbandry and plenty, anti-inflation and pro-public spending, a reduced military budget and an imposing military presence, against busing and against anything that would end busing, against abortion and against any impediment to abortion. One can only hope that, if he should be elected, we could trust him to put aside the ways of politicians, and behave like a statesman. But of course, that's blue-sky speculation.

Virus waits to be 'turned on'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm sure you've heard this problem many times. But I don't think any case could be as bad as mine — fever blisters.

I get them once or twice a month, sometimes one batch of blisters popping up after another one has healed. It is embarrassing because I am a secretary.

I try to eat a well-balanced meal. My doctor says there is nothing to be done. Can you help? — E. R.

This subject turns up in my mail with regularity. I would certainly like to be able to tell the folks there is some magic way to prevent these fever blisters or cold sores (take your pick), but there is none.

The sore is caused by a virus (herpes simplex) that lurks at the nerve root waiting for whatever "turns it on." Some persons' bodies can suppress the outbreaks, others' can't. Any subtle change in the system — as with menstruation, fatigue, a cold, possibly an allergy, can cause them to appear.

It's helpful if you can anticipate an outbreak, the earlier the better. The minute you feel a sore developing apply ice to the spot. Or you can daub rubbing alcohol on it and repeat several times a day. Ice is not very practical, but you can keep a small bottle of alcohol in your desk drawer.

It might work. It might not. In fact, whenever I mention a method that might help I'm besieged by mail. Some of it is of the "baloney-it-won't-work-try-this" type. I don't mean to belittle such suggestions. If it works, fine — just so long as it doesn't hurt.

You say your outbreaks occur on a rather regular monthly schedule, so you might look to some activity pattern or to events such as menstruation as causes.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband gets this swelling in his face, apparently for no reason that anyone knows of. Sometimes it is his tongue, at other times his lips, and still other times one side of his face (cheek). Once in a while it is his hand. It itches, but doesn't break out, just swells a little.

He has been to a very good allergist and he is not allergic to anything. Do you have an answer for him? I am desperate for an answer. — Mrs. C. S.

With allergies ruled out, all that is left as a possibility would be his nerves or possibly some medication he's taking —even aspirin. If he is under pressures at work or at home, they can suspected as a cause.

While allergy may have been ruled out by routine testing, nonetheless his symptoms suggest what is called "angioneurotic edema" — allergic swellings or wheals. I would suggest he keep a food diary to detect any food, condiment or drink that may have been consumed 24 hours before the swelling occurs. You may thus find a common offender that can then be avoided.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a 28-year-old male (who has admitted he is a homosexual and has been for 10 years) to become "straight" again? He despises his lifestyle, but feels there is no hope. He married five years ago and is now divorced.

How does one go about finding a psychiatrist and handle this discreetly? The man is relative. Please advise. — Anon.

If it is the young man's desire to become "straight" again, he might be helped by psychiatry. I read recently some encouraging reports of psychotherapy with regard to homosexuality.

Psychiatrists handle personal problems such as this with discretion and he need not be anxious about that. The local medical society could supply names of qualified psychiatrists, and he could arrange an appointment with a minimum of fuss.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wear dentures and I use an adhesive to keep them in place. When I remove my dentures for cleaning there is very little adhesive left on the dentures.

Naturally, I have swallowed it. Could this in any way be dangerous? — M. S.

It won't harm you unless you are sensitive to it. If you were you would have symptoms such as stomach upset. My dental consultant suggests your dentures are probably not properly fitted. Have this checked.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life. For this reason Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Pays for jokes?

Around the rim

John Edwards

Why would a concrete fence reinforced with steel crumble creating a hazard by the Sacred Heart Catholic Church?

Pressure was not equalized on both sides, County Engineer Neel Barnaby explained to the County Commissioners Court, which decided to help the church and city eliminate the hazard.

DAMS ARE built according to a circular design like the concave bench behind which members of the court sit, Barnaby continued. That keeps the pressure equal.

With warnings of possible financial problems and department heads asking for larger appropriations, the comparison seemed ironic later.

"If revenue sharing is ever just jerked out from under us, we've really just had it" — County Auditor Virginia Black.

"YOU LOOK at that budget, and it kind of gives you a chill up and down your spine" — Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas.

"We have had more requests than a DJ on the hit parade" — Commissioner Ikie Rupard.

The parade of elected officials proposing more and larger county expenditures led Commissioner Jack Buchanan to another observation late Monday.

"I think Carter would make a good President. He'll work for peanuts."

AS TWILIGHT neared Wednesday, Buchanan digressed again: "You have 50 bucks and 50 sows. What have you got? One hundred sows and bucks."

"What do you do? Subscribe to a joke service?" Commissioner William B. Crooker Jr. wanted to know.

County Judge Bill Tune and District Judge Ralph W. Caton seemed to have different attitudes about criminal justice.

JUDGE TUNE told commissioners he didn't grant court-appointed attorneys for defendants who post bond.

Judge Caton does appoint attorneys for defendants claiming poverty and then requires those given probation to repay the amount.

The district judge places defendants on five and ten-year terms of probation for felonies and requires them to pay $5 per month in probation fees.

The county judge sets shorter, mostly six-month terms, for misdemeanor violations such as first-offense drunken driving but sets $10 per month probation fees.

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

While in Big Spring for several days, I noticed an article in your paper concerning the Howard County Airport. Being from Austin, usually the disagreements among local government factions do not get my attention; however as a pilot and member of the civil air patrol, problems at the airport have affected me and other pilots flying into Big Spring.

On most of my trips to Big Spring, some problem has occurred at the Howard County Airport. The problems have varied from the airport beacon not being turned on at night, no response on their unicom radio, to my plane not being refueled when requested.

During my last trip here over July 4th holiday, I was astonished by the extremely poor service I received from the local fixed base operator. It is standard and highly recommended by the FAA, that in order to prevent water condensation in fuel tanks, all planes should be refueled as soon as possible after landing.

On my last landing at the airport, this request was ignored and my plane was not refueled; plus I was told over the phone by an employe of the FBO that the plane had been refueled. When inspected, I found the tanks still half empty and had been that way for 3 days. The hour delay in getting the plane refueled resulted in my having to postpone returning to Austin until the following day.

I have never been into an airport where employes render such unfriendly and unresponsive service. Is this the image of Howard County the taxpayers want their airport to display? One would think that an airport with by far the most expensive gasoline that I have found in Texas, could at least keep their restrooms clean. My wife found the women's restrooms at the Howard County Airport to be the filthiest, unkept, and most disgusting she has ever seen in any airport we have visited.

I know and care very little about the ownership of the FBO operations at the airport; however something needs to be done about improving the present operations there; if for no other reason, at least from the standpoint of flight safety. If the county officials responsible for the operations there, cannot improve the conditions at the Howard County Airport, I only hope the FAA or Texas Aeronautical Commission will step in and get the job done.

Sincerely,
B. F. Brooke

Dear Editor:

As much as I dislike any public discussion of our business, your continued slanted news articles and misinformed editorials require that I suggest you owe an apology to me, Big Spring Aircraft and the Chamber of Commerce.

Your most recent articles are filled with implicit erroneous statement and implications.

John Edwards' article of Tuesday was false insofar as it stated I expressed disapproval of the Chamber's resolution. In fact, my statement was that it was a resolution everyone could support. My expressed displeasure was that the Transportation Committee met on this subject with Miller (attorney for Rosenbaum) being present and without Jack Cook or Bill McClendon (who are members of the committee) being informed.

Edwards' article further missed the point and gave an incorrect impression in that the whole crux of the matter was not a rent increase (although some rent increase is certainly appropriate), but that (1) they are being required to pay their rent in advance, which is, of course, customary, and (2) they will not be permitted to utilize the space sublet from us to compete with Big Spring Aircraft in charter service or other fixed base operations.

As stated repeatedly at this meeting, we have never opposed giving a fixed base operation to Rosenbaum because that is simply not our prerogative or responsibility. Also, we have repeatedly said that we are quite willing to continue leasing the terminal space to TRA for scheduled airline passenger services. Of course, you have never bothered to mention these facts.

With respect to your editorial of Wednesday, I believe it is also probably false in quoting Clyde McMahon in the context you put it. The fact is that Clyde McMahon publicly stated during the meeting with the commissioners that he did not blame Big Spring Aircraft for being unwilling to lease to Rosenbaum the most desirable space in the terminal building to be used by him to compete with Big Spring Aircraft in fixed base operations. Again, you failed to note this.

You also failed to note that at the meeting with the commissioners, I made it quite clear that we are receptive to any suggestion or offer from Rosenbaum so long as it is understood that the terminal building will be used by him only for scheduled airline passenger service. Instead, you indulged in cheap shots at me and Big Spring Aircraft and further stirred up the controversay as you have from the beginning.

If you exercised even a small amount of intelligence, you would know that if you and the other media had not given voice to every complaint of R. E. McClure and injected yourselves into private business negotiations, there would, in all likelihood, have never been any problem that could not have been worked out between the parties.

For your further information, and to demonstrate again the unfairness and inaccuracy of your editorial, if you had simply bothered to try to determine the facts before editorializing, you would have known I had written the enclosed letter to Rosenbaum which rather definitely demonstrates the reasonableness of our position.

You may, however, be sure that we are quite firm on one thing, and that is if we can do so, we will prevent Rosenbaum from using the space we have leased to go into competition with us.

As I have many times before, I implore you to cease your public expressions on matters concerning which you have no basic expertise and concerning which you have not made any factual investigations.

Very truly yours,
Guilford L. Jones

P.S. Out of some 2,000 volumes in my library, I do not have the book you mentioned, though evidently you have. Ludicrous though it may be to suggest I could intimidate anyone, it beats hell out of trying to win through falsehoods and innuendos.

My answer

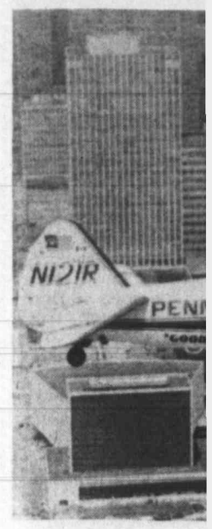

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I hear so many discussions lately about what the Holy Spirit is supposed to be doing in our lives as believers in Christ. Can you tell me simply? — M.C.

DEAR M.C.: It was God's plan that when Jesus left this earth following His resurrection, His spirit would be given to His followers. Paul calls that a "mystery" in Colossions 1:27. He says it is simply "Christ in you, the hope of glory."

So the Holy Spirit, the Third Person of the Trinity, has a variety of assignments. He is to be our "Comforter" — that is, our Friend (John 14:16). He is a teacher who leads us into truth (John 14:26). The Holy Spirit helps us in praying (Romans 8;26). In Acts 10, the inference is that the Holy Spirit opens doors of witness for us. He also is the means by which peace and joy and love fill our heart (Galatians 5:22).

Today, there's much debate over the gifts of the Spirit, as outlined in I Cor. 12. But don't let that chapter be the occasion for argument.

Aggie killed in Brazil land feud

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Surviving members of an American rancher's family appear determined to stay on their 250,000 acres in northern Brazil despite the slaying of the head of the clan and two sons in a land feud.

Squatters ambushed John Weaver Davis, his sons John Mallory, 33, and Bruce, 29, and two ranch hands on a jungle road July 4. The sons and the hands were killed on the spot; the father died Monday in a hospital in Belem.

John Mallory was a graduate student at Texas A&M University.

A native of Alabama, the father was sent to Brazil 30 years ago by the Presbyterian Church to help farmers improve their production of cattle. He bought his huge spread in the Amazon jungle in the 1960s, where such land sold for 50 cents an acre or less and access to it was difficult. Cattle and timber were the ranch's chief products, but Americans in Belem say much of the property has not been cleared.

Vast landholdings in Brazil are not uncommon. Davis and other landholders like him were pioneering in the jungle. Living was reminiscent of the Old West in the United States.

But as the Belem-Brasilia highway was improved, impoverished squatters moved into the area. They are a familiar part of Brazilian life. Shootouts and killings between landholders and poor farmers were common until the military coup in 1964.

The government has some programs to help poor farmers, but little has been done to parcel out the land. Poverty-stricken peasants still move onto land they do not own and try to make a living using primitive farming methods.

There were about 200 such families — about 1,300 people — squatting on the Davis land. He was accused of taking land illegally, but the U.S. Consulate in Belem said his title was clear. The family was threatened, and there were thefts and acts of sabotage. The local press was unsympathetic because they were foreigners.

Davis' widow, Emma, her three remaining sons — John Weaver Jr., James Harley and Daniel, and her daughter, Emma — were at the family ranch near Vila Rondon, in Para state. Military police are guarding them, and 30 persons have been arrested in the investigation of the ambush. An investigation was continuing.

Judge panel upholds indecent exposure law

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel upholding Texas indecent exposure laws has prompted at least one nude dancers' club owner to cover up his employes, but the statewide effect of the decision is uncertain today.

Ted Robbins, owner of the Lubbock club whose dancers were involved in a suit challenging the law, said Thursday he still thinks his dancers have the right to dance totally nude but there will be no more bottomless or topless dancing at the club.

"I plan to go strictly by the law," Robbins said. "We are not going to try to appeal this ruling."

Robbins said he feels the opinion will set a precedent statewide. He said cities may cite the opinion to stop nude performances at places where no alcoholic beverages are sold.

In addition to calling the state's indecent exposure law constitutional, the judges also lifted an injunction which had allowed six dancers to continue their line of work without clothing or fear of arrest by police since the case was filed in November.

The opinion was filed late Wednesday by U.S. District Court Judges Halbert O. Woodward of Lubbock and Robert W. Porter of Dallas and 5th Circuit Judge Thomas Gibbs Gee of New Orleans.

The judges' opinion only dealt with contentions by just one of eight plaintiffs that the state's penal code dealing with indecent exposure is unconstitutional and that local police's arrest procedures "created a prior restraining and chilling effect" on the right of free expression.

Joyce Prisk is the only one of the plaintiffs who does not have legal proceedings still pending from incidents that prompted the suit against City Atty. Fred Senter, police chief J.T. Alley and Luke E. Robinson, then administrator of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The other plaintiffs except Prisk may still claim the state's law is unconstitutional as a defense in their respective municipal proceedings, according to the judge's opinion. The judges could not rule on the other plaintiffs while their cases were pending in municipal courts.

But the decision has virtually ruled out their opportunity to challenge the law in federal court other than the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Texas statute is aimed primarily on "conduct," the opinion said, and only has incidental impact on "speech."

Alley was pleased by the opinion of the panel. "We always felt that the law was a good one. I'm glad that it was upheld by the panel," he said.

The police chief said his officers will make a concentrated effort to observe night clubs in other places in the city to see if the law is being violated.

Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant scheduled

The Miss Rodeo Texas and Miss Rodeo Texas "Teen" Pageant will be held Sept. 1 through Sept. 5 in Stephenville in conjunction with the Erath County Livestock Association's PRCA Championship Rodeo.

Nine judges have been chosen for judging. The winner of the Miss Rodeo Texas division will be sent to the Miss Rodeo America Pageant to compete for the title in December.

Headquarters will be at the Ramada Inn in Stephenville and each entry must be sponsored by a Chamber of Commerce, City, Riding Club, or Rodeo Association. She must bear a title. A contestant cannot be sponsored by a commercial entry.

For information concerning the pageant and for entry information, interested sponsors and contestants may write to: Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant, P. O. Box 909, Stephenville, Texas 76401, or call: A-C 817-968-3600 or 965-5323.

Ford using Indians for publicity?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has invited about 200 American Indian leaders to meet with President Ford, but some tribal leaders fear Ford may be trying to use them to drum up campaign publicity.

Ford, eyeing both Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan, planned to discuss legislative commitments with Chief Goodbear, Chief Greenfeather, Chief Driving Hawk and 200 others representing various tribes.

Charles Trimble, executive director of the National Congress of American Indians, said the Indian leaders hope to direct Ford's attention to the Interior Department's "lack of performance in dealing with litigation that affects Indians."

Also, they want assurance that Ford will not veto a large Indian health care improvement act, Trimble said.

But he noted the White House had invited the Indians to wear their traditional native costumes when they arrive for the conference and that some of the Indians are concerned they are being used for political purposes.

"They worry that they are spending tribal money to fly to Washington to give Ford publicity," Trimble said.

Ford is in a tight race with Reagan for the GOP nomination as the last of the party delegates were being selected this weekend in Connecticut and Utah.

A lot of wooing of 172 uncommitted delegates was under way. Ford now has 1,032 delegates to Reagan's 999, according to Associated Press tallies. The total needed for nomination is 1,130.

Ford on Thursday congratulated Jimmy Carter on becoming the Democratic presidential contender. Acting like a nominee himself, Ford told Carter, "I look forward to a good contest this fall."

Press secretary Ron Nessen said Ford thought he and Carter would give the American people "a real choice."

Theodore Maars, an aide who helped coordinate Ford's meeting with the Indian leaders, said Ford planned to discuss new White House initiatives in dealing with Indian affairs. He said Ford planned to discuss the problem of "self-determination," or how much power and control Indians should have over their own social services.

After briefings by Interior Secretary Thomas Kleppe and other officials who deal with Indian affairs, the Indians will go to the East Room to hear an address by Ford. A reception will follow.

Maars said he has had about 200 meetings with various Indian groups over the last 18 months and called today's White House-initiated session "a response meeting rather than a listening meeting."

Duane Jordan, executive tribal administrator for the Navajo tribe in Arizona, said he believes the meeting is "an effort to mend the wounds between the American Indians and the President."

Chief Goodbear represents Oklahoma's Cheyenne-Aarapaho Indians; Chief Greenfeather is from the Eastern Shawnee Indian tribe in Oklahoma; and Chief Driving Hawk is of the Sioux Indian tribe in Rosebud, S.D.

FARMINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Cathleen Kowalski, 24, of Danbury, Conn., recently became the second member of her family to be graduated from the University of Connecticut School of Dental Medicine.

Her older brother, Chester, took his dental degree from the school in 1974.

A younger brother, Kenneth, is due to graduate from the dental school in 1978.

Thunderstorms douse state, rivers full

By The Associated Press

Dousing thunderstorms dumped deluges over the Edwards Plateau and Central Texas Hill Country and sent angry flood crests boiling down a number of streams today.

On the headwaters of the Sabinal River the National Weather Service reported as much as 4.60 inches of rain at Utopia in Uvalde County and 3.68 inches at Vanderpool in Bandera County. Showers loosed smaller amounts in many areas from the Texas Panhandle to the coast.

Coupled with steady rains in the past week, the new downpours dumped sudden rises into the Frio, Sabinal, Medina and Guadalupe rivers and tributary creeks. A 6-foot rise on the south fork of the Guadalupe above Hunt closed Texas 39 near Kerrville.

Official observers warned campers in the affected area to seek higher ground and warned motorists to be wary at low-water crossings. Owners were advised to move livestock. Flooding was expected to continue for several days.

In early morning showers were widespread across the south half of Texas from a line linking Junction and Temple toward the coast. A 100 mile-wide band of moisture stretched from Lufkin and College Station in the east to Palacios and Victoria on or near the coast.

Another broad belt of rain extended from around Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas and Greenville southward to near Junction and Austin, and another from around Henderson and Center eastward past Longview and Marshall in East Texas.

Still other areas of moisture dampened the Panhandle-Plains sector, moving south from around Plainview and Memphis; from near Abilene into Southeast New Mexico, in North Texas from Paris and Mount Pleasant into Oklahoma and Arkansas, and along the Rio Grande from Del Rio to Laredo.

A weak cool front entering the Texas Panhandle was expected to stall across the South Plains by late in the day and exert little effect on the state's weather pattern. Forecasts promised more cloudy weather with extensive showers and thundershowers throughout the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 79 degrees at Palacios on the coast down to 63 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Wednesday's top marks went as high as 93 at Longview.

Reagan gains little, blasts Demo ticket

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Ronald Reagan says he would like to debate the Democrats' nominee for president, Jimmy Carter, and talk about the cost of the Democratic party's platform.

The former California governor told Pennsylvania delegates to the Republican National Convention on Thursday that he would compare his record as governor with Carter's gubernatorial record in Georgia, and show himself as the true foe of big government and deficit spending in the presidential race.

Reagan met all day and much of the evening Thursday with uncommitted Republican delegates and delegates pledged to President Ford.

Reagan's campaign chief in Pennsylvania, Gordon Hoffman, said his candidate gained 16 delegates in the long series of private sessions, and several uncommitted delegates predicted Reagan gains of 10 to 15 convention votes from Pennsylvania.

But by the end of the day, Reagan had added only one publicly committed delegate to his list of five in Pennsylvania, and one of Ford's 72 delegates switched to the uncommitted column.

An Associated Press survey, before Thursday's switching in Pennsylvania, showed Ford with 1,032 of the 1,130 required for the nomination, Reagan with 999, with 172 uncommitted, including 25 in Pennsylvania, and 55 to be elected today and Saturday in Connecticut and Utah.

Today, Reagan planned a sight-seeing tour of the Civil war battlefield at Gettysburg before taking his campaign to Utah.

The issue of a Carter-Reagan debate came up in a question-and-answer session at a reception attended by about two-thirds of Pennsylvania's 103 delegates.

"I'd be delighted to debate Jimmy Carter," Reagan said. "I don't know whether he would be willing to debate me, but I'm going to publicly state it so he has a chance if he wants to debate.

"I believe he's vulnerable. There is that Democratic platform... They're not changing their tune at all. It's all more government programs.

"And wait 'til they have to put a price tag on it. I think the only way he's going to be able to pay for it is if the tooth fairy comes around."

Reagan was warmly received by the Pennsylvania delegates. Most of the 36 delegates who met privately with him in seven different groups before the public reception said he made a good impression.

One after another, the delegates who emerged from those meetings said they were personally still uncommitted, but that they expected half or more of the other delegates who attended those sessions to vote for Reagan.

"I was leaning to Ford. Now I'm straight up and down. I'm unleaning," said delegate James Stein.

Friends urge lady to fill that gap

DEAR ABBY: Suppose you had a friend who had a tooth missing right in the front of her mouth, and she kept saying she plans on getting it fixed, but it costs too much money.

This friend is always buying presents for others, but she keeps putting off getting a new tooth. Everyone keeps urging her to get that missing tooth replaced, but it's been years and she still hasn't done it.

Abby, how do you tell a person that even though she may be used to going without a tooth in front, those who have to look at her can't get used to it, and they wish she'd get it fixed?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If the sight of a missing tooth bothers you, that's YOUR problem and it's up to you to handle it. (P.S. Perhaps if enough friends can't stand to look at it, they'll take up a collection for the dental work. Since you seem so concerned, I nominate you to head the project.)

DEAR ABBY: A ring is not positive proof of anything. I am a single woman who wears a wedding ring to work. Why? To keep the married swingers from bothering me. Pass the idea along. It works.

PROTECTED

DEAR PROTECTED: There's only one drawback to your idea. It keeps the SINGLE men from bothering you, too. But if you don't want to be bothered by anybody, it's a good idea.

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls who works where I work is getting married next Saturday. Everyone else who works here received a printed invitation to the wedding and reception three weeks ago. They all gave her gifts.

She gave me an "invitation" this morning by mouth, and I can't make it. Must I give her a gift?

SLIGHTED

DEAR SLIGHTED: Give her a gift "by mouth." Say, "Best wishes."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were kidding around, and we agreed to tell each other our fantasies.

First I told him about mine, and he got so mad he started to yell and call me all sorts of names.

After he calmed down, I asked him to keep his part of the bargain and tell me his, and he said all his fantasies were about me. (Do you believe that?)

I don't really have a problem, Abby. The real reason I wrote is this: If a married woman ever writes and asks you if she should tell her fantasies to her husband, tell her not to. It's the dumbest thing I ever did.

Workshop in Odessa for persons in child care

ODESSA — Odessa College and the Day Care Licensing Division of the Department of Public Welfare are co-sponsoring a workshop for persons who work in child care centers.

The workshop is slated Aug. 21 and some 300 to 400 area persons are expected.

The workshop is open to persons in the Permian Basin who work in the care of young children. Such workers in public schools, day care centers, and related fields would benefit from the workshop, according to Genelle Felio, child development instructor at Odessa College, who is assisting with planning the workshop.

Preregistration will open today and continue through Aug. 10.

Persons interested in attending the workshop can preregister by contacting Lela McClug, licensing worker for the Odessa Department of Public Welfare. Preregistration fee is $2. A $3 luncheon ticket is optional.

The all-day conference will begin at 8 a.m. and run through 4 p.m.

Certificates will be issued to persons completing the workshop, designating six clock hours of participation. Continuing Education Unit credit is given for the workshop, Mrs. Felio notes.

Participants will have numerous choices on sessions to attend. Topics will include "Teaching Children Safe Ways to Play," "Do's and Don'ts for Small Aches and Pains," "Keeping the Mess Outdoors," "Using Room Arrangements to Aid In Discipline," "Helping Children Learn to Talk," "Helping Children Like Themselves," "Fun Ways to Help Small Muscles Grow," and "Helping Children Become Independent," plus others.

New neighbors welcomed

A neighborhood get-together was given by Mrs. Auriel LaFond to welcome four new families to the community of Hillside.

The coffee, held in Mrs. LaFond's home, 703 Texas Blvd., honored Mrs. Steve Childress, Mrs. Henry Bell, Mrs. Grady Wilbanks, Jr., and Mrs. Daniel Johnson.

Officers' wives bridge results

The Officer's Wives Bridge Club announced its winners today. They are Diane Gelatka and Bernie Brown, first place; Mary Tokar and June Daughterty, second place; Diane Geltka and Bernie Brown, slam; and Marlene Missman and Candi Garrison, low.

Baby born

A baby boy was born to Linda Craver at 4:15 p.m. July 2 in the Medical Arts Clinic. Shawn Paul Craver weighed five pounds and three ounces at birth and measured 18½ inches.

Europe, Vegas, Alaska big spots for Big Springers

Now that vacation time has rolled around, residents of Big Spring are making the most of it around the globe.

The big vacation spots this year for people in this area, according to Darlene Crawford, an employe for the past year at Skipper Travel Agency, are Europe, Alaska, Hawaii and Mexico.

Another of the most popular areas not too far away is Las Vegas, Nevada. Asked why she thought people were going there, Ms. Crawford said "I guess they want to gamble." A knowledgeable deduction, under the circumstances.

In Europe, the hot spot is London, although there are many couples taking more extensive trips, stopping along the way in Holland, Belgium, France and Italy, said Ms. Crawford.

Charters are probably the least expensive way to go, said Ms. Crawford, but the drawback is that reservations have to be made 60 days in advance. A charter flight including hotel and air fare for seven days from Dallas to London costs approximately $600 per person.

An extensive charter tour of 11 countries, everything included, is about $1600 for two people. A large trip like this is usually planned at least 60 days in advance and gives the travelers the added assurance of having their accomodations made for them. Often foreign hotels can be very difficult and expensive when the proprietor realizes he is dealing with an amateur agent.

Alaska, which is not cold this time of year, makes an unusual and stimulating state for a summer vacation. Most people, said Ms. Crawford, take the inside passage cruise which leaves from either Vancouver or Seattle. The inside passage is a trip through the islands off the coast of Canada.

The Alaska cruise costs about $1,600 per couple and lasts two weeks. This price includes everything except air fare to and from Vancouver, which runs about $220 per person.

A round-trip flight to Las Vegas from Midland is about $160 per person, although most people get a package deal, said Ms. Crawford. These differ she said, because rooms in the various hotels there range anywhere from $30 for two nights and three days, including a show and drinks to $100 for the same amount of time in the MGM Hotel. A person can go to Las Vegas easily on $200 each, she said.

A lot of people are going to Hawaii, too, said Ms. Crawford. That trip depends strictly on the package as far as costs are concerned. A seven-night round-trip vacation on Continental including accomodations transfer flights, a lei greeting, breakfast, sightseeing and a guide, runs about $380 per person.

An alternative in Hawaii is the two-island trip which has charters out of Dallas and costs about $479.

Mexico is a popular spot all year round because of its beaches, but most people prefer to leave from San Antonio because the air fare is so much cheaper, said the agent. Round trip to Acapulco from San Antonio is $160 per person.

X-ray screening may be halted because of risk

WASHINGTON (AP) — An outside panel of experts wants the National Cancer Institute to halt routine X-ray screening of healthy women under age 50 for breast cancer. The panel contends the risks of the radiation may outweigh the benefits.

The tests, called mammography, have been given to about 250,000 women since 1972 under a program run jointly by the NCI and the American Cancer Society.

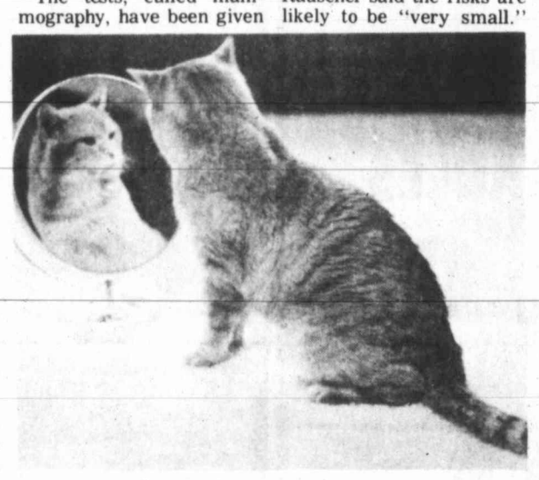

Health officials disagree about the risks of mammography. They plan to take up the issue at a meeting Monday.

NCI Director Dr. Frank Rauscher said the risks are likely to be "very small." But he said the benefits of screening "may not be as great as was thought when the project started."

However, an official of the American Cancer Society said Wednesday the society would be "extremely reluctant to discontinue projects that are bringing about the early detection of breast cancer in women, including women between 35 and 50."

The screening program combines both X rays and physical exams.

Most breast cancer occurs in women over 50. The disease, which is expected to kill 33,000 women in the United States in 1976, can be treated if detected early.

IN A CAT'S EYE — Regarding perhaps reflections of grandeur, this little tabby is not in the least modest.

Clubhouse

Installtion of Rebekahs held

An open installation of officers was held by the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 53 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lodge Hall.

Officers elected for the next six months were installed by the District Deputy President Carynne Cunningham and her staff.

The staff were Sarah Griffith, deputy marshall; Rosa Lee Hill, deputy chaplain; Dottie Adcock, deputy warden; Janell Awtry, deputy outside guardian; Jewel Fields, deputy inside guardian; Gracie Lee Grider, deputy musician.

Officials elected were Terry Vigus, noble grand; La Verne Maddox, vice grand; Hazel Lamar, recording secretary; Juanita Hamlin, financial secretary; LaVern Rogers, treasurer.

Sixty-three members and guests attended along with three out-of-state visitors. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reynold of Golden Link R. L. No. 135, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Mrs. David Jones of Germany.

Next Tuesday July 20, the lodge will honor the charter members of the group. Trustees Elma Martin, Charles Luk, Garland Land, and W. C. Cole were presented to the lodge.

Lightning flashes across the sky. Thunder unleashes its ominous rumblings. The first spatter of rain falls briskly on a nearby row of rocks.

The wind begins an eerie song high above in the swaying tops of tall pines. Sullen banks of clouds blanket the pale moon.

The creatures of the woods scurry to their dens to wait out the approaching storm. Every living thing in the forest seems to be holding its breath . . . in anticipation . . . or in fear.

And this is the way of the world. There will always be anxiety . . always fear — even in the heart of man.

And where does man go for refuge? To what or to whom does he look for comfort and safety?

For centuries the Church has offered him protection against the adversities of life. It even offers him miracles. Certainly it promises solace and peace when grief and fear beset him.

Come to the House of the Lord . . . while the storm is raging . . . and forever thereafter.

First Methodists vote to remodel

The church conference of the First United Methodist Church voted in favor of the proposal of the building committee.

The committee is to continue its work with architects for more detailed study and the development of detailed plans and drawings.

A reliable and detailed estimate of cost shall be developed by the committee and then a final presentation will be made and a charge conference will be held for final approval of the project.

The presentation made by the committee to the church conference included the construction of a new Fellowship Hall, new offices, a bride's room, a conference and library room, remodeling the chancel areas of the sanctuary, remodeling the youth room and choir rooms and some extensive remodeling in the present church school plant.

The present fellowship hall is to be changed into classrooms and the entire nursery-kindergarten divisions of the church will be placed on the first floor.

Classroom space will be provided on the second floor for children according to grade levels and some adult classes will be placed on that floor and also on the third floor.

The majority of the third floor will be used for the youth of the church.

In the new fellowship hall, there will be space for seating 500 persons at tables as well as an adequate kitchen and a parlor and one classroom and storage area.

This fellowship hall is to be constructed on the south side of the sanctuary on what is now a parking area.

Pictures and sketches of the plans have been displayed in the foyer of the sanctuary.

At the church conference, there were 163 members attending with 156 voting. Of this group 130 voted for and 26 against.

Anderson Street church sets meet

The Anderson Street Church of Christ will hold an areawide lectureship from July 19 through July 24.

Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each night and the public is invited to attend.

Among the speakers will be Mike Davis, Carl Street Church of Christ on Monday. Eugene Cardinal of 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ will speak on Tuesday.

Wednesday will feature Charles Bull of Anderson Street Church of Christ and Thursday will be Gage Robinson from 14th and Main Church of Christ.

On Friday, Howard Adams from N.W. 3rd will speak and on Saturday, the series will be completed with Jerry Yarbrough of 14th and Main as the speaker.

Each preacher has selected his own topic and the entire series is expected to be both interesting and informative, as well as inspiring according to members of the church.

Baker's Chapel Church sets special celebration

The Stewards of Baker's Chapel A.M.E. Church, headed by Walter Green, will celebrate their annual day on Sunday afternoon starting at 3 p.m.

A short program will precede the main message, which will be delivered by the Rev. Mrs. Clay, of Abilene.

The speaker is well-known among many West Texas congregations. Local persons who have heard her speak urge everyone to come hear the speaker Sunday.

Captains for the afternoon include Mrs. Viola Merritt, Mrs. Lucy Bell Robinson, Mrs. Freddie White and Mrs. Bessie Lankford.

The special officers will include Walter Green, president and Willie Graham, chairman of the board. Other helpers include Hosa Yanny, Jasper Evans and Charlie Merritt.

The public is invited to attend the special service at 3 p.m.

Unique church

WARRENTON, Tex. (AP) — St. Martin's Catholic Church is open only once a year when Mass is celebrated on All Soul's Day.

Ackerly Church of Christ history began around 1926

The early meetings of Church of Christ members in Ackerly took place in homes in the community long before a church building was constructed. Preachers from various parts of Texas came and held gospel meetings at various times during the year.

Amont those who held very early meetings were: H. M. Hayhurst, who baptized Mr. & Mrs. T. L. Reed, Mr. & Mrs. E. C. McHaney, Mr. & Mrs. S. D. Moore and others in 1926. This meeting was held in the Methodist church building. M. L. Vaughn held a meeting in 1927 and J. W. Bandy preached in 1928. His pay was "a little fat pig."

Many meetings were held in the Soash school building which was located two miles south of Ackerly on the Reese Adams land. The old Soash school building was torn down and moved to be annexed to the Ackerly school building in 1929. Leonard Bankhead then held a meeting in the school auditorium.

W. A. Koreville, Bro. Little, and Bro. Wise held meetings in 1930, 1931, and 1932 respectively, with 18 being baptized by Bro. Wise, Bro. Knight and Jack Uneing held revivals in 1933 and 1934; the only preaching done here in 1935 was by the elders, but John Burkhart of Wilson, Texas held a meeting in 1936.

A new home for the Ackerly Church of Christ, a building 60'x24' was built in 1937, with Prime Bankhead preaching every Sunday.

A home for the preacher was built in 1943, with Raymond Boyd as the first preacher to live in the parsonage as a full-time pastor. Allen Brown, 1944, Alton Hughes, 1945 to 1947, and Doyle Kelcy were our next pastors. During the time Bro. Kelcy was in Ackerly 80 people were meeting each Sunday. He stayed until June 1952, during which time a new building — the present one — was constructed.

Roy Phemister came as full-time preacher in Sept. 1952. In the spring, under his guidance, the first lecturship was held and various people held cottage meetings in their homes. Elders in 1952 were: E. C. Mahaney, E. M. Reese, J. I. White, J. L. Kidd, E. G. Murphy. The deacons were: A. J. Lewis, Leo Batson, J. L. Billingsley. The record for Bible classes in 1952 was 107.

Preachers who followed Bro. Phemister were: James Eubanks, 1954, Bro. Chism, 1946 who preached in and around Ackerly until his dath in 1959; E. P. Gardner, part-time until Bro. John Greason came for full-time from 1959-Sept. 1962. He was instrumental in having a new parsonage built.

The elders at this time were: Leo Batson, Jess Billingsley, and E. G. Murphy. The average attendance for morning worship was 116 during this time.

Bob Cates and A. C. (Art) Latson preached part-time for about 1 year. Bob Harris preached 1962 to Dec. 1963 and Bro. Leon Davis, June 1964 to Aug. 1968. He moved to Loop from Ackerly and was killed there in a car wreck. Charles Burk preached Aug. 1968 to Aug. 1969. While in Ackerly, he authored the book "Behold the Man." Four new classrooms were built in May 1969. Bro. Wallace Bradberry Sept. 1969 to Aug. 1972. The church had the first Youth Rally while he was here. Bro. Leo Batson who had led the singing in our church for many years moved away during this time.

The auditorium in the church was remodelled in 1971. O. H. Tabor preached part time Aug. 1972 to Jan. 1973. Darrel Knote, Jan. 1973 to Aug. 1974. Roy Phemister returned in 1975 and is present pastor. (1976). Rex Zant is song leader; elders are: Jess Billingsley and Cecial Allred, while deacons are: Gus Cowart, Bob Hunt, M. B. Maxwell, Benny Foster and Wayne Webb.

Some of the first elders in the Ackerly Church of Christ were: Bro. Dillard, Bro. Day, Bro. Britton and Bro. Demet.

Christian Science began early

Interest in Christian Science movement first began in Big Spring in 1910. A few years later services were held in private homes until the number of the group increased and a move was made to the Odd Fellows Hall.

Later services were held in the City Federation Building, then located on the Court House Square.

In 1934 the group of Christian Scientists began meeting in the Settles Hotel and was formerly organized as — Christian Science Society.

The society purchased the corner lot in the 1200 block of Gregg Street site of the new church to be built. When this group disbanded in 1940 the property was transferred to a Board of Trustees until they began meeting again in 1942 at the Settles Hotel.

In 1943 there was a reorganization, which was recognized as a Christian Science Society and services were held at 217½ Main Street. Construction of the new church was started July 16, 1950. The first service in the new church at 1209 Gregg Street was held November 5, 1950.

As is the custom, Christian Science churches are not dedicated until entirely free of debt, and dedication services were held December 16, 1951, seventeen months after construction was started.

Over 1800 expected to attend Glorieta Baptist Training Unit

GLORIETA, N.M. — Over 1,800 church workers and their families are expected to attend the Church Training Leadership Conference, Aug. 7-13, at Glorieta (N.M.) Baptist Conference Center.

The week will provide leadership opportunities for staff members, associational workers, general officers, and age-group leaders in church training, as well as in Sunday School.

Other opportunities include a writers' conference for potential writers of church training materials; evening worship services conducted along a different theme each night; a Bicentennial Church Training Street Fair, to include age-group displays, drama and a "senses show" in the Media Center; separate Bible study sessions for youth and adults and Youth Bible Drill.

Special guests for the week are Ralph Langley, pastor of Willow Meadows Baptist Church, Houston, as worship leader; William M. Pinson Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church, Wichita Falls, Tex., as adult doctrinal leader; Lavonn Brown, pastor of First Baptist Church, Norman, Okla., as youth doctrinal leader; William J. Reynolds, secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Board's church music department, as choral director; and Cynthia Clawson, recording artist from New York City.

The conference is directed by Phillip B. Harris, secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Board's church training department, and coordinated by field services staff consultant Norman E. Hodges.

DPS seeking area applicants

MIDLAND — Major E. K. Browning, Jr., regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety's 49 County West Texas Region, announced today that an intensive effort is being made to recruit men and women for a school to begin at the Department's Academy in Austin, Sept. 14.

Major Browning said the department has been successful in recruiting women and persons from minority groups to the position of trooper, and efforts to recruit from these groups are continuing for this school.

All persons making application for the position of trooper must be between 10 and 35 years of age, and have visual acuity no worse than 20-40 correctable to 20-20. A person must be of good moral character, excellent physical condition and must have a minimum of 60 semester hours of college credit.

Persons selected as recruits will be assigned to Austin for a 18-week training school beginning Sept. 14, at the Homer Garrison, Jr. Law Enforcement Academy. Successful graduates will be assigned to either the Highway Patrol Service, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service or the Driver License Service, according to the needs of the DPS and consideration of personal preference.

The salary during training will be $820 per month. Room and board while at the Academy will be approximately $60 per month.

When a person is commissioned as a trooper, his salary will increase to $936 per month. After six months a trooper's salary increases to $1,000 a month and after 12 months to $1,068 a month. Troopers also receive longevity pay after five years of service, a monthly uniform cleaning allowance and travel expenses when away from their home stations.

Recruits must furnish their own uniforms which consist of khaki shirts and pants, black shoes, and belt. When commissioned as a trooper, uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and related equipment are furnished.

Group life and hospitalization are paid for the employee, and dependent coverage is available at reasonable rates. Troopers participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas, as well as Social Security. Vacation, holidays and sick leave are provided.

Browning said interested men and women should contact any DPS office or Trooper for an application. After completing the application, it should be presented to the DPS office either in Midland, Abilene, San Angelo or El Paso for processing. Browning urged persons interested in attending the September 14 school to contact the department immediately.

Energy

REFLECTING ON A HOT DOG ROAST — Kristeen Trimmer of Lansing, Mich., waits for the sun and this solar reflector to roast a hot dog in Augusta. It takes four to five seconds to roast if the sun is out. The reflector is in Augusta on exhibit by the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration's solar laboratory. The lab is in Maine for this week and next.

Bank robbers sought in Central Texas

THORNDALE, Tex. (AP) — Two men who locked employes of the Thorndale State Bank in a vault before escaping with an undetermined amount of money are still at large today, Department of Public Safety officers said.

The DPS said one of the men apparently was armed with a small-caliber pistol, but no one was injured during the robbery Thursday.

Reports said the two men, wearing ski masks and coveralls, escaped in an automobile but authorities had no description of the vehicle.

Thorndale is in Milam County near Rockdale, in Central Texas.

Permian Basin Oil Show scheduled at coliseum

The last call call has gone out to potential exhibitors of this year's Permian Basin Oil Show scheduled October 20-30 at the Ector County Coliseum complex in Odessa.

Due to unprecedented demand for exhibit space in this year's Permian Basin Oil Show, the board of directors has made available another building for inside exhibitors to be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

Directors earlier authorized the opening of the Ector County Coliseum to exhibitors for the first time during the 1976 Bicentennial Permain Basin Oil Show. This space has already been sold out and many potential exhibitors remain on the waiting list.

When the Permian Basin Oil Show swings open the gates on Wednesday, October 20, to those persons actively engaged in the energy industry, the show will feature the products and services of approximately 500 companies to make it one of the largest expositions of its kind in the world.

The approximately 500 exhibitors will be spread over a 20-acre paved area, and those visiting exhibitors inside the coliseum and exhibit buildings will get the red carpet treatment at this year's show as all aisles will be carpeted for the comfort of both visitors and exhibitors.

"The enthusiasm generated by this year's Permain Basin Oil Show has been staggering," commented Jay Alvey, executive director of the show and vice president of Odessa's First National Bank. "The exhibitors who have already signed up for this year's show represent every phase of the industry and come from throughout Texas, 23 other states and Canada."

J. W. (Bill) Hall, vice president of Loffland Brothers Co. and 1976 oil show president, said this year's show would include many new features for the convenience of the exhibitors and for the accessibility of those engaged in the production of the nation's oil and gas as well as other forms of energy.

"The Permian Basin Oil Show has always been billed as the working man's oil show because it is down in the trenches of the industry where most of the decisions began to be made," Hall said, "and the board of directors is doing everything possible to see that the right people will be afforded the opportunity to see the equipment and services that are available to the industry."

The 1974 Permian Basin Oil Show attracted in excess of 400,000 visitors through the main gates of the Ector County Coliseum grounds, and that figure is expected to go well past the half-million mark in October. A concerted effort is being made to encourage top officials of major companies to attend this year's show and bring with them their purchasing agents as well as the men in the field.

As an added service to exhibitors the oil show office is currently taking requests for housing accomodations, as hotel and motel space is already at a premium in the Odessa-Midland area.

Outpost planned

John L. Cox, Midland, No. 1 Foster is planned as a nine-mile northeast outpost to the Big Salute (Canyon) Field of Sterling County.

It is projected to 8,400 feet and spots 660 feet from south and 990 feet from west lines of Section 28, Block 22, H&TC Survey, 11 miles west of Sterling City.

HMH Operators of Midland completed No. 2-C Ross Foster as a sixth Glorieta well in the Parochial Bade, East Field of Sterling.

The 24-hour potential test was for 12.4 barrels of 31-gravity oil and eight barrels of water, producing through perforations at 2,124-27 feet. The pay was treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Location is 1,730 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of Section 23, Block 22 H&TC Survey, eight miles west of Sterling City.

When the century turned

with Marj Carpenter

Mrs. Sam Wilkinson said she arrived in Martin County when the century turned, and then finally admitted that 1900 was her birth date and that she was born in Martin County.

She was a Tom and a lot of people already know how very much the Toms contributed to the history of the area. Her brother, Ellison Tom lives in Midland and her sister, Mrs. Ernest Epley used to live in Pecos and now lives in California.

Mrs. Wilkinson was Villa Tom. It's difficult to sort out all of the Toms. There was Charley Tom, who with his wife, Zora came in 1894 from Brady to Martin County. He filed on four sections of land two miles north of what is now Lenorah. Charley was county sheriff until 1908.

(Photo by Marj Carpenter)

SAM AND VILLA
. . . from two early families

HIS BROTHERS, George and Peter and their sister Mary came to Martin County in 1895 to join Charley. They also filed on land in the county. Peter's land was west of Cal Houston's. George's land was south of Peter's. Mary's land was east of George. Do you have all that straight?

Villa Wilkinson's father was George Tom. Their land included Ranger Hill, which was said by many to be the lookout camp for the Texas Rangers and was the highest point in the county.

In 1897, George married Irene Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Flanagan. Their children were Angela, Villa, Ellison, Ilamae, Glen and Maxine.

Maxine is Mrs. Wedges and lives in Fort Worth. Glenn (Hoot) Tom, who was born in the old adobe hospital in Stanton, has died. Angela, who became a Catholic nun has also died. Ilamae is Mrs. Epley. Ellison is in Midland and Villa is Mrs. Wilkinson.

SAM WILKINSON is also from an old Martin County family. His father, W. M. Wilkinson was born in Tarrant County and in 1879 he drove a herd of longhorns to Ft. Dodge, Kansas. He even at one time knew Col. Goodnight.

The family moved to Martin County in 1906 and Wilkinson ran a grocery store in his latter years.

They had eight children — in the group, in addition to Sam in this part of the world is Mrs. Lorena Lynch of Big Spring and Mrs. Bertha Rae Cox of Garden City.

Now Sam made a few cattle drives himself. He made four drives for a rancher named F. C. Oxsheer. Sam still ranches now, leasing the Quinn ranch which is located between Stanton and Big Spring.

Sam recalls that some of the early ranch families, in addition to their own, include the McDowells, the Houstons, the Lewises, the Dixons, the Glasscocks, the Epleys, the Sales, the Orsons, and many, many more.

THE EARLY RANCH families must have been pretty happy about it when they got to Martin County and Glasscock County and the eastern edge of Howard County. Because they stayed and stayed — lo unto the third and fourth generation.

I met the Wilkinsons at the Old Settlers reunion over in Stanton last Saturday. And if they aren't old settlers, there aren't any.

Between the two of them, their families have ridden every fence around.

I hope I have it even halfway right: I know Ellison (Sonny) Tom Jr. and his wife in Andrews are special friends of mine as are their sons, Snuffy, now in banking in Odessa, and Bill, still in college.

So I'd really hate to mess up on a story about the Tom clan — when I'm out ridin' fence.

Official says pressmen indictments fixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A union official, charging that grand jury indictments against seven Washington Post pressmen were fabricated by the Post and U.S. Atty. Earl Silbert, says Silbert turned "a labor dispute into a criminal matter."

Everett Forsman, president of Local 6 of the Newspaper and Graphic Communications Union, said Thursday that the indictments are part of a conspiracy to destroy independent unionism at the Post.

The pressmen were charged by a federal grand jury Wednesday with rioting and destruction of property during a strike at the Post last fall. More indictments are expected next week.

Silbert said it was "ridiculous" to suggest there was any collusion between his office and the Post. "There was undisputed evidence of criminal conduct and it was the duty and function of the grand jury to investigate and return indictments where appropriate."

Post officials were unavailable for comment.

The strike began Oct. 1 with an early-morning walkout in which the Post's printing equipment was sabotaged and a foreman was roughed up. The union is still striking the Post, but the newspaper has continued to publish with the help of nonunion pressmen.

At a news conference, Forsman said that the Post, after trying for five years to oust the union from the pressroom, "fabricated ridiculous and extensive charges over a minor incident."

Area grants announced

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Bob Krueger has announced a grant from the Community Services Administration for $22,937 to go to area counties. The counties served by the grant are Dawson, Upton, Martin, and Glasscock.

According to Krueger, "Part of this grant will help develop plans for action to achieve increased participation of the poor, as well as developing more efficient fiscal management policies."

Portions of the grant will also go to general community programming, including self-help education programs such as cooking, canning, and sewing classes for 75 families, and child care and first aid for 60 families.

In addition, the grant will also provide information and referral services in manpower, education, housing, job placement and training for a total of 120 families and-or individuals.

Electronics mart

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fiberglass plastics used in electronic products will increase from 5 million pounds of laminate in 1973 to 25.4 million pounds by 1980, according to Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp.

Trudeau losing favor in Canada

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's venture into Olympic politics apparently has hurt his already dwindling popularity among Canadians while worsening further his country's less-than-happy relations with the United States.

At a time when opinion polls put Trudeau at his lowest level of public esteem since taking office in 1968, aides admitted Thursday that letters, telegrams and calls about his attempt to keep Taiwan's athletes from competing as representatives of China are running against him. The same trend is reflected in newspaper editorials and in man-in-the-street contacts.

The U.S. Embassy was clearly irritated by the Canadian government's reaction to President Ford's comments supporting the Nationalist Chinese. Foreign Secretary Allan MacEachen accused Ford of "political interference," but the Americans were understood to be more annoyed by MacEachen's suggestion that Ford was motivated by domestic political concerns.

"I don't think the U.S. would be particularly happy if some expatriate Americans decided that they were going to participate in games under the name of the United States of America," Trudeau commented Thursday. "...If the Palestine Liberation Organization athletes wanted to come and say they represent Israel and Palestine, obviously we would object and so would the Americans."

The political consequences for Trudeau are difficult to calculate, since his Liberal government does not have to seek re-election until 1978.

But a Gallup Poll in May found 49 per cent of the Canadians questioned were dissatisfied with the job he was doing and only 33 per cent approved. It virtually reversed the figures two years ago when the Liberals were re-elected.

Trudeau has had to buck several scandals involving some of his cabinet ministers, his own flip-flop on a campaign promise not to put on wage-price controls and dissatisfaction in the English-speaking provinces with the government's program to foster bilingualism.

One political analyst said the prime minister's Taiwan action could be more dangerous to him than he could have imagined because it is giving the country its first real dose of adverse publicity. "No More Mr. Nice Guy Canada," said a headline in a Montreal newspaper. A Canadian Press survey of foreign reaction reported, "No issue in recent history has aroused such hostility against the Canadian government."

Andrew Brewin, spokesman for the New Democratic Party, the country's third largest, said he thought the issue might be forgotten by the time the Olympics end. But the former Conservative prime minister, John Diefenbaker, said in an interview:

"If Trudeau went to the people today, he couldn't get in. There is a deep sense of resentment across the country... There's a general condemnation of him."

Headrick earns masters degree

COLUMBIA, Mo. — The names of 3,024 graduates are found on the official spring list of graduates announced by the University of Missouri-Columbia.

Roy Wayne Headrick, RFD 1, Box 610, Big Spring, earned his master of science degree at the University and was among the graduates.

In addition to the May graduates, 1,371 students earned degrees in December and 955 last August, increasing to 5,350 the number of UMC graduates for the academic year.

May graduates included 261 who earned the title of "doctor" for having earned Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Veterinary medicine, Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Education degrees. Another 485 qualified for master's degrees for studies beyond the normal four-year curriculum.

Clouds have cleared

Taiwan problem unsolved, however

MONTREAL (AP) — The clouds cleared from Montreal today and two facts stood out bright and clear. The Olympic Games will go on and the United States will compete in them.

The Americans abandoned their idea of possibly pulling out in sympathy with the Taiwanese. One of the first to hail the decision was C.M. Yang, coach of the Taiwan team.

"I would have felt terrible if the United States had pulled out, because it would be such a disappointment to all their athletes, and all because of us," Yang said.

The Taiwanese problem still was not finally solved. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) still had to persuade the Taiwanese to drop the name "Republic of China" in the opening parade, though the Canadian government has now backed down and said they can use their flag and anthem.

But the decision by the United States to go ahead and compete removed a fear that the Games might disintegrate.

Philip O. Krumm, of Kenosha, Wis., 69-year-old president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, who has been at the center of the Taiwan crisis all week, announced the decision to keep the team in the Games.

Krumm has been the peacemaker between the idealistic IOC, iron-willed Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and the proud Taiwanese delegation. He backed the IOC to the hilt in its defense of the Olympic charter, but tried to persuade the Canadian government and the Taiwanese to give a little.

More than 40 Taiwanese have been held up in the United States, denied entry visas because they would not bow to the Canadian demand to drop their name, flag and anthem.

For two days Krumm thought his mission was heading for failure. Neither the government nor the Taiwanese would give an inch.

But Trudeau, after weeks of refusing to change his position, suddenly gave way Thursday and said the Taiwanese could use their flag and anthem.

Krumm had been holding a club over Trudeau, saying the U.S. team might pull out if the Taiwanese were not allowed to take their place in the Games.

It was a strong weapon. Nobody can picture an Olympic Games without the United States taking part. There were fears that if the Americans pulled out other countries would follow, and the Games, which Montreal has planned for six years at an estimated cost of $1.5 billion, could fall apart.

Krumm and Lord Killanin, president of the IOC, were in complete harmony on one point. They thought of the athletes first. "We feel the athletes, who have given so much time and dedication to preparing themselves for these games, deserved consideration," Krumm said. "We had that in mind in deciding not to withdraw."

Killanin has insisted all along that the 10,000 athletes expected to compete at Montreal are the first consideration. He said that was why the IOC stopped short of cancelling the games, or withdrawing its recognition, in the face of what he has bitterly denounced as political interference by Ottawa.

The IOC hoped the Taiwan affair would be solved Friday. First it had to vote to change its rules and allow the Taiwanese to march in the opening parade as "Taiwan" and not as the Republic of China. A two-thirds majority among the 69 IOC members present is needed.

Then the Taiwanese had to be persuaded to accept the idea. There was a precedent at the Rome Olympics in 1960, when the Taiwanese marched as "Formosa" but unfurled a banner saying "under protest."

White and Graham lead golf Classic

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Carlton "Slugger" White and David Graham would figure to be breathing easy today after shooting eight-under-par 63s in Thursday's first round of the $300,000 Westchester Golf Classic.

No such luck for the 27-year-old White, a comparative unknown on the Professional Golfers Association tour, and Graham, a five-year veteran who hasn't won since 1972.

Instead of a three-or four-stroke margin, White and Graham went off in the second round with just a one stroke lead over Tom Watson and Mike Wynn, and only two strokes ahead of Mike Hill and Bruce Listzke.

The pro just ate up Westchester Country Club's 6,603 yard course. Of the 168 starters, 23 played in par and 55 lowered the 36-35—71 regulation figures. The scorers almost ran out of red numbers to indicate birdies. There were two at 66, one 67, seven 68s and sixteen 69s, in an incredible round of shooting.

The Westchester tournament is a PGA designated event, which means all the tour's stars have to play. So all but the ailing Lee Trevino are in the chase for the $60,000 first prize in the 72 hole test. The field has the appearance of a U.S. Open, although obviously they are not playing an Open course.

Three strokes off the pace in the second round were 44-year-old Gay Brewer, who shot a 34-32—66, that included nine birdies and four bogeys, and Fuzzy Zoeller, low qualifier in the 1974 PGA school, who finished a 34-32—66 with five birdies.

Hubert Green, who has won three tournaments this year and leads the money winners with $187,427, shot 33-34—77, carding four birdies and the rest pars.

Johnny Miller, who last week won the British Open, shot par 77, missing two putts inside three feet.

"I'm not tired, but there is a definite letdown," said Miller. "For a player, the hardest round to play is the first round you play after you win. This time zone is hard too, coming back from over there. My body is a little mixed up."

Arnold Palmer shot a two under 69, and said he felt he was playing much better. He was encouraged by his putting.

Jack Nicklaus was at par 71, and expressed the opinion that despite the 63s and 64s, the tournament was far from over. He said he was playing well, but in recent weeks has been unable to put his game together. He lamented about a lost stroke here and a lost stroke there.

Other tour leaders still in the chase were Ben Crenshaw and Al Geiberger at 69, Hale Irwin and J.C. Snead at 70, and Don January in at 71.

He wants Super Bowl, joins Houston Oilers

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Strong safety Mike Weger, one of the new faces in the Houston Oilers roster, says he wanted one chance to play in the Super Bowl and that's why he played out his option at Detroit and came to the Oilers.

That, and the reputation of Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips.

"Houston was the talk of the league last year," Weger said. "I'd heard how Bum runs his camp and how he treats his players. Everyone seems to be a vital part here, from the guy who cleans up the dressing room to the stars.

"You've got to credit his philosophy. He knows how to handle men."

Weger, 31, was the first veteran to report to the Oilers' training site here, where he'll try to beat out former Lions teammate Willie Germany for the starting position.

Weger said he had not unresolved problems with his former team. He said the Lions aren't headed toward the top anytime soon and the Oilers are.

"That's why I came here," the 6-2, 200-pounder said. "I wanted one real shot at the Super Bowl."

"With Detroit, I considered retiring in what I felt was the prime of my career because I wasn't having fun," he said.

Chicanos golf Sunday

The Chicano Golf Association will hold a tournament Sunday at Municipal Golf Course.

The event will get underway at 10 a.m. with a shotgun start.

Merchandise for winners will be given away.

Teenage Red Sox win

The Hi-Noon Optimist Red Sox laundered the Saunder's Company Angels, 13-12.

The winning pitcher was Kevin McLaughlin, and the losing hurler was Jimmy Brown.

The Red Sox had ten hits, five of which came off the bat of David Manley, including three singles, a double and a homer.

Ronald Sundy, McLaughlin, Johnny Mize, David Clanton and David McKenzie also had hits for the Sox.

Jimmy Brown collected two of the three hits for the losing Angels, and Mike Evans chipped in for the third.

The Red Sox are now in a tie with the Knights, both teams with a 12-2 record, and the championship playoff game is scheduled for 8 o'clock Saturday night, at Johnny Stone park.

Larry Smith, left-handed JV hurler, will be pitted against Mark Harris, (7-0), southpaw ace for the Knights.

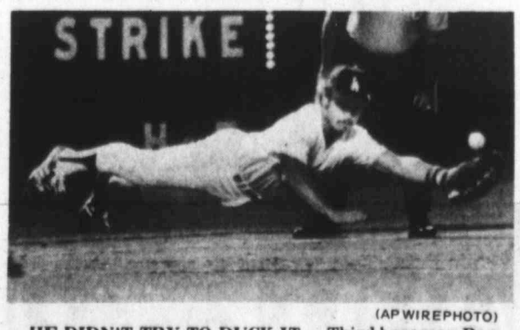

Knights fall on Angels

The Angels of the Teenage League knew that chivalry was dead when the Knights edged them out 1-0 Thursday night in the final game of the regular season.

The Knights defense was effective, as Freddie Martinez pitched a one-hit shut-out, despite four errors. This was the ninth straight win for the Knights, who finished in a tie with the Red Sox for the league crown.

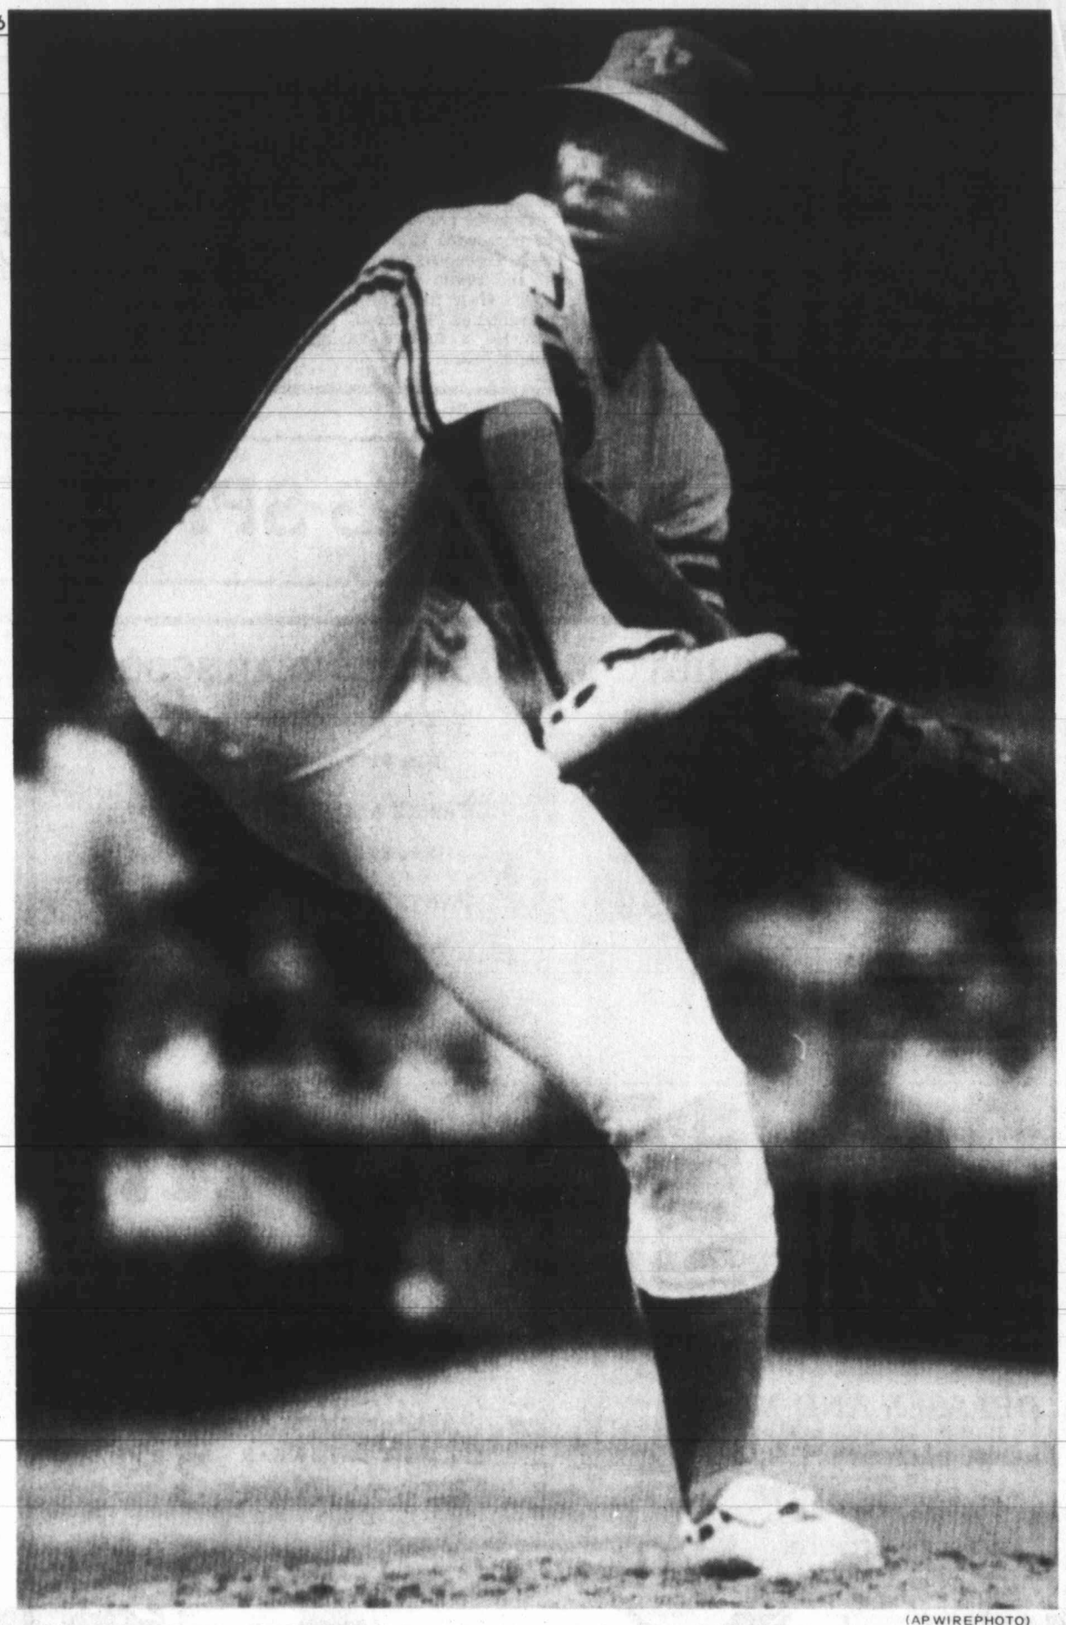

Hitting for the Knights was Ricky Myers, with two, and Wayne Shipmand with the other. The lone hit for the Angels came off the bat of Ysa Rubio.

Mike Evans was charged with the loss for the Angels.

HE DIDN'T TRY TO DUCK IT — Third baseman Ron Cey of the Dodgers makes an almost-successful dive to catch the liner by the Cubs' Mick Kelleher in the third inning in Dodger Stadium Thursday night. It went through, and Kelleher got a hit.

LOOKING FOR 100 — Oakland A's pitcher Vida Blue was trying for his 100th career victory Thursday night, but instead got his 62nd career loss due to an 11th inning error by center fielder Bill North. It gave the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 victory.

Baker's slump over?

Dave Kingman is in the groove

By The Associated Press

Dave Kingman is in the groove; Dusty Baker hopes he has found one.

"My home runs come in bunches," said Kingman, who smacked his 31st of the season — tops in the majors — Thursday night in leading the New York Mets to a 3-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

Baker finally connected on only his second four-bagger of the year in helping the Los Angeles Dodgers defeat the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

"It's the longest time I can remember going without a home run," Baker said. "I had a streak last year of eight weeks and I couldn't believe that."

Baker, who also hit a run-scoring single, last hit a home run in the opening game of the season.

In other National League games Thursday, Philadelphia defeated San Francisco 5-3, Pittsburgh crushed Atlanta 13-1, Montreal nipped Cincinnati 4-3 and St. Louis edged San Diego 2-1.

Kingman's fourth homer in his last four games came after John Milner walked and wiped out Houston's 1-0 lead.

Dodgers 5, Cubs 2

The Dodgers struck early when loser Rick Reuschel opened the bottom of the first by hitting the first two batters. Los Angeles went on to score four runs as winning pitcher Doug Rau scattered five hits.

"Everybody played relaxed," said Rau. "Really, it's the first time we've had any days off."

Phillies 5, Giants 3

Tim McCarver, who sees only spot action, drove in three runs to give the Phillies their victory over San Francisco.

McCarver's single in the sixth broke a 3-3 tie, giving lefthander Steve Carlton, 10-3, his fifth straight decision.

Pirates 13, Braves 1

With Bill Robinson providing the most muscle — a two-run homer — Pittsburgh exploded for 12 runs in the first five innings to crush Atlanta. Sloppy Atlanta fielding aided the Pittsburgh onslaught as Darrell Chaney bobbled a two-out, bases-loaded grounder in the second and four runs followed. The Pirates also sent two runs across the plate in the third, one in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the eighth.

Expos 4, Reds 3

Larry Parrish's two-out single in the eighth off Cincinnati relief ace Rawly Eastwick snapped Montreal's seven-game losing streak and handed the Reds their third loss in a row. Steve Rogers, 3-8, who needed relief help in the ninth, scattered six hits to notch his first victory since May 9.

Cards 2, Padres 1

A one-out double by Joe Ferguson in the ninth broke up a 1-1 deadlock and sparked St. Louis Cardinals to victory over San Diego.

Ferguson's double scored Don Kessinger from second base, handing the Padres their fifth straight loss.

St. Louis' Al Hrabosky relieved in the bottom of the ninth to abort a Padres rally and record his eighth save of the season.

Carlos May's three-run homer and Mickey Rivers' three hits and two runs batted in powered the Yankees to victory in the opener despite a shaky seventh inning during which relief ace Sparky Lyle faced three batters and walked them all, forcing in two runs. But with the bases loaded and New York's lead down to one run, Dick Tidrow came on and got Roy Howell on an inning-ending grounder.

Tidrow also picked up a save in the second game, coming on in the 10th inning to get the final out after Sandy Alomar's two-run homer — his first home run of the season — put the Yankees on top.

Tigers 3, A's 2

A's center fielder Bill North dropped his second fly ball of the game with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th inning, allowing pinch-runner Mickey Stanley to score with the winning run.

The Tigers loaded the bases in the 11th on a hit batsman and two walks. Oakland relief ace Rollie Fingers got Alex Johnson to bounce into a forceout and then struck out Aurelio Rodriguez. Pinch-hitter Dan Meyer lofted a fly ball to center and North — who dropped one in the third inning to let in one run — midhandled it as Stanley came home.

Twins 5, Indians 2

Twins infielder Roy Smalley, who went into Thursday night's game with a .212 batting average and just 14 runs batted in, collected three hits and knocked in three runs. He cracked a two-run triple in the second inning and squeezed home another run with a bunt in the fifth as Minnesota dealt Cleveland its ninth loss in the last 10 games.

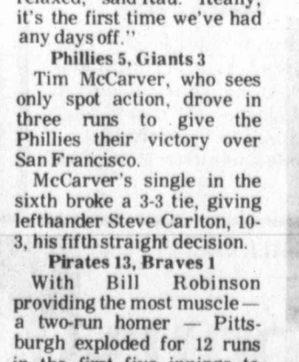

White Sox 5, Brewers 3

Ray Sadecki relieved Milwaukee starter Jim Slaton with two out in the 10th inning and Pat Kelly greeted him with a two-run homer to the upper deck in right-center, giving Chicago the victory in a game in which all the runs came in on homers. Earlier, Chet Lemon had a solo shot and Jack Brohamer a two-run blast for Chicago while George Scott hit a three-run homer for Milwaukee.

Royals 12-1, Red Sox 5-2

Bob Stinson drove in four runs and Jaime Quirk knocked in three in the opener as Kansas City pounded four Boston pitchers for 16 hits.

The Red Sox came back to take the second game, scoring both their runs in the sixth inning and then hanging on behind the pitching of rookie Rick Jones and Jim Willoughby.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day and evening to think out a new plan of action under which you can gain advancement in the future. If conditions are right, you could make rapid progress towards attainment.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have fine ideas that should be reduced to a practical level, otherwise they are not feasible. Look to higher-ups for the backing you need.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Analyze your desired aims and know what has to be done to bring them within your grasp. Take needed health treatments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A new approach at a long-sought ambition sees you being successful with it now. A good friend can give you the help you need now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to do some civic work at which you can be most adept. Make the evening a social one you will long remember.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for making a short trip, whether for business or pleasure. Obtain the data you need from the right sources. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Any obligations you have can now be handled cheerfully, provided you use a different angle. The evening is fine for entertainment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An excellent day for reconciliation with one who means a great deal to you. Take time to engage in your favorite hobby.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can now easily handle duties that are difficult to do during the busy work week. Be careful of one who has an eye on your assets.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Engage in the recreations that will relieve you of any tensions. Show true affection to loved one and get right results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Strive to have more harmony and happiness in the home by right thoughts and actions. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Good day to visit persons you like and have a fine time. Learn to communicate better with others. Don't neglect correspondence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Handle monetary affairs wisely and set up a better budget for the future. If you need advice from an expert, go after it early in the day.

Army resumes nerve gas disposal

DUGWAY PROVING GROUND, Utah (AP) — After seven years, the Army's chemical warfare test station here finally is getting rid of some lethal scrap — rockets with warheads containing nerve agent.

The nerve agent, GB, is better known as nerve gas, though Army scientists insist it really isn't gas. It's in warheads of partially destroyed M55 rockets that Dugway began burning — the approved method of disposal then — in 1967.

The work was halted in 1969 when the Army declared a moratorium on open air release of toxic chemicals. Lethal chemicals were blamed the year before for the death of 4,500 sheep.

The 36,000 rockets, all burned at least once, have been in unsealed pits since then, and the Army estimates 569 still have warheads intact, each containing 10.5 pounds of nerve agent.

The rockets, designed for offensive, antipersonnel warfare, became obsolete with United States policy against offensive use of chemical and biological weapons. As post-Korean War hardware, destruction was required because time corrodes warheads and makes seals imperfect.

Dugway officials say some of the six-foot rockets have had minor leaks of nerve agent, but that constant monitoring has shown no effect on the environment.

A new disposal technique was worked out and cleared through federal environmental channels after the Army formed its Chemical Demilitarization and Installation Restoration Office in 1972.

One by one, the 61 pits, each about 100 feet long and seven feet wide, are being sifted and cleared, the land restored. Crews working from airtight armored personnel carriers use long, movable arms to lift the rockets piece by piece for examination.

If a piece contains nerve agent, it is set aside to be neutralized, or "demilitarized," by soaking 24 hours in steel tanks containing a sodium hydroxide solution.

Army spokesmen acknowledge civilians around Dugway were not generally aware the rockets were in open pits awaiting destruction. But there was no reason for them to be, an Army spokesman says, because the "monitoring system confirmed that off-post population need not be concerned."

The tiny town of Callao, 27 miles to the Southwest, is nearest the disposal area. The area's population density is extemely low.

Cost of the cleanup, scheduled to be completed by Oct. 31, is estimated by the Army at $4.3 million.

After the operation is complete, Dugway still will have disposal work to do. There are 1,560 nerve agent bomblets clamped in steel chests yet to be disposed of, and about 60 dud rounds that did not go off during the open air tests halted in 1969.

NERVE GAS DISPOSAL — A personnel carrier, specially armored against explosions and designed to be air-tight, lifts part of an old nerve gas rocket from a pit at Dugway Proving Ground, Utah, for disposal. Some 36,000 rockets in 61 pits at Dugway, a few of which still contain nerve gas, are being finally disposed of after the work was interrupted seven years ago due to environmental concerns. Dugway officials say there is no threat to anyone.
