Queen Of The Lone Star Bonus Army

"Queen of Texas' 'bonus army'," was the title bestowed on Mary Arnold, 23, pretty brown-eyed wife of C. S. Arnold, Atlanta, Ga., World War veteran, when she enlisted with her husband for the march to Washington. She is the only woman known to be with the "army." Here you see her, attired in overalls, smiling a farewell to Dallas, Tex., when the long trek started by box car. At her right is her husband, a war-time dispatch rider of the 116th field artillery. They abandoned a placer mine in Arizona to join the "march," making their first hitch by refrigerator car.

Walker Termed "Unfit" To Hold Office

Seabury Gives An Outline Of All Testimony

Committee Counsel Satisfied That Evidence Must Warrant Removal From Office Of New York Mayor

Makes No Charge

Malfeasance Is Cited During Reign; Declares Walker Has Failed To Properly Execute Duties As Official

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 8. — Mayor Walker was termed "unfit to continue in office by Samuel Seabury, who dispatched tonight to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt an analysis of testimony by the mayor for such action as the governor "may deem just and proper."

Seabury said he had "no request or petition to make in reference to this matter," but he made it clear he was satisfied the evidence would warrant removal of the mayor.

Acts As Citizen

The record was sent to Albany in the care of a personal representative of Seabury, who said he was acting as a citizen and not as counsel for the Hofstadler legislative committee before which the mayor appeared.

The matter consisted of a transcript of the mayor's testimony, an analysis of the testimony and a letter by Seabury containing 15 conclusions which he said he had drawn from the testimony.

Not Formal Charges

"This record," said Seabury, "is presented to you by me in my individual capacity as a citizen of the state of New York and not as the representative of, or as counsel to, the joint legislative committee. My duty as counsel to this committee has been to adduce the facts that could be ascertained. That duty I have performed. I submit the record to you, as I did the record in the Farley case, not as formal charges, but for your information so that you may determine what shall be done."

Seabury announced his intention of submitting an analysis after

Oklahoma Bank Has A Unique Plan Of Defense Against Bandits Of State; Displays Warning Sign

(By The Associated Press)

STONEWALL, Okla., June 8.—The First State bank of Stonewall, which officers said was marked for robbery today by Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, has placed a sign in its front window reading:

"Notice to bank robbers: There is not enough cash in this bank to be worth the risk of robbing it."

After four robberies, P. S. Case, president of the bank, determined upon a plan of defense, approved by depositors. The bank now keeps all except a small amount of its cash in Ada bank vaults. Only enough money is on hand to care for an ordinary day's business, and if a customer presents a large draft, an employe takes him to Ada, 10 miles away, to cash it.

Case remarked that if robbers had raided the bank today, "they'd have had to borrow money to get out of town."

Night Session Of Court Held Wednesday; Web Of Finance Is Featured In Case; Bank Affairs Are Aired

The tangled web of financial difficulties that has enclosed Hale county and its citizens, is being slowly unfolded in United States district court here as a jury and Judge William H. Atwell hear testimony in the case of the county through its county judge against the American Indemnity company of Galveston and other concerns.

But two witnesses were on the stand Wednesday during the day sessions. Further evidence was heard at a night session starting at 8 o'clock. Witnesses were: E. C. Abernathy, county judge and F. A. Blankenbeckler, receiver for the closed Plainview National bank, one of the defendants.

County Seeks Bond

The county is seeking to recover on the bond which the bank has posted it as surety for being named county depository. The bank was so named in 1929 and again in 1931, but defendants claim that the bank never qualified for the second two year term. Hence their bonds, for the term starting in 1929, do not hold, they claim. Amount involved is approximately $300,000.

A group of out of town attorneys represent the several bonding companies involved. These include: Crozier Gowan, M. M. Chrestman, Albert B. Hall, Webster Atwell, Nath Lechman, A. S. Rollins, Allen Wight and E. L. Elliott of Dallas and Joyce Cox of Galveston. W. D. Girand of Lubbock represents the receiver.

Pro Question Holds Center Of Spotlight

Franklin Roosevelt Comes Out To Emphasize His Advocacy Of Repeal; GOP Action Now Is Being Awaited

(By The Associated Press)

Expectation the Republican platform will declare for prohibition resubmission was enhanced last night by the view in responsible Republican quarters that President Hoover favors such a plank.

While Washington waited for official espousal or disavowal of that position by the president, Franklin D. Roosevelt at Albany took occasion to emphasize his advocacy of repeal.

Expect Clear Plank

The Democratic platform, on which he hopes to be chosen to stand for president, is expected by him to point a clear and quick method for altering the national prohibitory laws.

In three states meanwhile—Louisiana, Florida and New Jersey—prohibition stood forth in the political news of the day. The Louisiana legislature assured a November referendum on the amendment.

Wets were reported leading in all four contests for Democratic nomination to the house from Florida. Governor Roosevelt was by all odds the voters' preference for presidential nomination.

Approve Referendum

The legislature of New Jersey approved a state referendum on whether the state enforcement act should be retained.

Republicans were all ears for certain information as to Mr. Hoover's leanings. Some of his aides already have begun heading for the Chicago scene, leaving behind the distinct conviction among their as-

Veterans Grin At Evacuation Orders Issued

Police Persuasion That Army Pack Up And Go Home Fails To Move Thousands Camped At Washington

Waters In Charge

Vets Lay Plans For Acceptance Of Food From Outside; Two Trucks To Leave Today For Baltimore Base

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The ragged veterans army demanding bonus payment calmly grinned tonight in reply to police persuasion that it pack up and go home.

Walter W. Waters, Portland, Ore., elected the fourth commander-in-chief in 48 hours, after a stormy committee session, said his 8,000 charges had decided to "disregard" a police invitation to evacuate tomorrow.

Wait For Vote

"Whenever the bonus is voted, we will be very glad to accept the police offer of free truckage out of the city," Waters said.

He was the originator of the marchers movement and resigned once as commander-in-chief.

Having received charge of their commissary, the veterans laid plans to accept proffers of rations from outside. Two trucks will leave tomorrow for an unknown destination in Baltimore, Md., for donated supplies.

Headquarters Established

A "national headquarters" was established in a vacant apartment building loaned by the owner. The Anacostia river encampment—largest of the camps—was reorganized on a military basis, and its nearly 6,000 inhabitants sought stray lumber to build more shelters. From tonight on the army will be its own boss, with police on the sidelines to keep order.

An order by Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford offered the accommodation of free rides of fifty miles or so in every direction. The thousands here are from every state.

A few had left today, but the Expense Slash Of Government To Aid Budget

Democratic Leaders Declare That Hoover "Wrecked" Bill By "Butting In" To Put His Plan In Effect

Savings Are Pared

Robinson Brands Senate Vote As "Signal And Disgusting Failure;" Furlough Item Is Adopted After Fight

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 8. — Amid Democratic charges that President Hoover had "wrecked" the national economy bill, the senate approved the measure tonight after cutting its total savings by about $100,000,000.

Instead of the $238,000,000 reduction in governmental expenditures recommended by the senate's bipartisan economy committee, the bill in its final form variously was estimated to save from $120,000,000 to $159,000,000.

President Blamed

Accusing the president of "butting in" to put over his "furlough plan" in place of a flat cut in government salaries, Democratic senators called upon the chief executive to take the responsibility for recommending new taxes to make up the difference.

The bill was passed after the senate had reversed its action of yesterday and substituted the Hoover plan of furloughing federal employes without pay for the flat 10 per cent salary cut recommended by the committee.

Savings Reduced

Opponents of the furlough plan contended this reduced the saving by many millions of dollars.

Estimates differed widely, some opponents of the furlough plan asserting it would not come within $70,000,000 of saving as much money as the straight salary slash, while its proponents placed the difference at about $27,000,000.

Yesterday the senate threw out of the bill more than $48,000,000 in savings represented in the committee's recommendations for tightening the restrictions on allowances and hospitalization of veterans.

Relief Plans Of Democrats Before Senate

Garner Measure Is Ignored By Banking Committee; Hoover Veto Is Feared; Program Is Made Into Two Bills

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—A $2,000,000,000 Democratic relief program was put before the senate today in the face of a prospective veto from President Hoover.

Ignoring the Garner $2,300,000,000 bill which passed the house yesterday, the senate banking committee voted out the plan presented by senate Democrats, including the controversial provision for a $500,000,000 public works bond issue.

Program Is Divided

Meanwhile Democratic leaders were preparing to call up for action in the senate the emergency bill approved by the banking committee yesterday to authorize the reconstruction corporation to lend $300,000,000 to states for direct relief to the jobless.

The action of the banking committee today placed before the senate the entire $2,300,000,000 program recently approved by the Democratic steering and policy committees.

The committee however, divided the program into two bills. The first, providing the $300,000,000 for direct relief, was advanced as an emergency program, the second as a long range proposal.

There is little controversy over the $300,000,000 bill, as President Hoover has approved it in principle, and Democratic leaders hoped to shove it through quickly.

Tech Enrollment Continuing Gain

Paid enrollment at Texas Technological college for the first summer term totaled 1,102 last night, Dean James M. Gordon said. College officials are closing some classes and offering others to students now registering.

Some classes are larger now than they have ever been, the dean declared. Besides the students paying their fees, there is a larger number awaiting financial aid before registering late this week.

A reception for summer school students will be held Saturday night on the south lawn at the administration building, with Dean Margaret W. Weeks in charge.

"June is not the hottest month of the year here, but it does have the warmest individual days," Mr. Jones said. Previous high reading was 92 degrees.

Wichita Falls Area Hardest Hit; Two Men Injured

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, June 8.—The Wichita Falls municipal airport was partially wrecked in a windstorm which struck here early tonight. Two attendants at the port, E. O. Derryberry and Jack Bryant, were slightly injured. Four planes were partially wrecked and the total damage was estimated by Fulcher Armstrong, manager, at more than $12,000.

The wind varied in intensity from 45 to 80 miles per hour, according to wind guages in the city and at the airport, where the storm centered. Numerous small houses were unroofed, windows blown out, trees uprooted and telephone and light poles blown down. Streets were littered with debris from trees, signboards and buildings. More than half an inch of rain fell during the storm.

Storm Is General

Reports to the Record News showed the high winds and rains general within a radius of 100 miles of Wichita Falls. Call Of Adventure And Daring Led Dowling To Sea And He's Sticking

THAT selfsame fire which burns in the hearts of all normal boys—the call of adventure and daring—led Captain O. C. Dowling, U. S. N., to the sea.

Unlike the usual lad, who settles down to one of the professions, Dowling's fire never burned low, and Tuesday he will report in San Diego as commander of 12 United States Navy destroyers. His next promotion would be to the rank of a rear admiral.

Captain and Mrs. Dowling, enroute overland from New York, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Canon, 1618 Avenue Y, Wednesday evening. Theirs is a friendship of years standing, the captain and Doctor Canon having been in the service together.

Reading of naval history fired young Dowling's imagination, and "I stuck to it," he declered here last night at the Canon home. Seeking the best training the nation had, Dowling secured an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, from which he was graduated with the class of 1902. He served during the Philippine insurrection, the Cuban pacification, the Mexican campaign, and during the World war.

The captain's words are crisp, snappy; his voice full and deep, but far from gruff. Despite his 51 years, his gray eyes are keener than those of the average man of that age; his brown hair barely is flecked with gray.

His face bears scars suffered in the terrific explosions which devastated the naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., in July, 1926. Lightning

Benefit Party Will Be Today

Garden Party Is Compliment To Graham Visitors; Camp Fire Guardians Are To Be Hostesses Today

Visitors in the city have been the inspiration for a number of parties during the week, two of which were given Wednesday. In compliment to her niece, Miss Martha Dee Brownfield, of El Paso, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson entertained with bridge in the afternoon and Miss Frances Campbell was hostess at a garden party in the evening honoring Misses Sadie and Juanita Prideaux of Graham.

Interest of those concerned with work in the Camp Fire organization is centered this afternoon in a benefit bridge and forty-two party at the Hilton hotel beginning at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Maurine Henderson is chairman of hostesses.

Funds are to be used in sending representatives to the national Camp Fire training course at Lake Worth in Fort Worth, June 17-20.

To Appear In Recital

Invitations have been received by friends of Misses Frances Campbell and Wildring B. Sherrod to attend a piano and expression recital at 8:30 o'clock this evening at Hotel Lubbock.

Larkspur was used for floral decoration at the bridge party given by Mrs. Wilson in her home at 2201 Broadway.

Miss Mary Lee Bardwell scored high in the games and Miss Nancy Ruth Leaverton made high cut. They and the honoree were presented with favors.

Guests were Misses Brownfield, Sue Michie, Roberta Myrick, John Anna Boyd, Marjorie Eaton, Bardwell, Katherine Klett, Frances Burns, Rosemary Leaverton, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Frances Snyder, Edith Phipps of Marlin, Kathryn Weaver, Mary Thomas, Elizabeth and Marguerite Spencer and Lenore Brownfield of Brownfield.

Baskets of flowers were arranged on the refreshment table in the Campbell yard for the garden party given by Miss Campbell last evening from 7 until 8:30 o'clock. Those in the house party were Mrs. Campbell, Misses Wildring B. Sherrod, Nannie Jo Haymes, Charlotte Ratliff, Vondelle Prideaux, Pauline Yeager, Eloise Smith and the Misses Prideaux from Graham.

About forty guests called.

Two visitors from Shiner, Misses Mae Hughes and Amy Louise Plageman, were special guests at the Wednesday Contract Bridge club party given by Mrs. W. M. Petticolas, jr., 1923 19th street. Mrs. A. B. Cole was also a guest. High score was made by Mrs. L. R. Gamble.

Paved gardens, made of cinder blocks a few inches thick and nine or ten inches wide are predicted for the future. Plants would grow in spaces between the blocks.

provements are of such a nature that they can be transferred to another house when a move is made. Yet, with all of that they manage to have liveable rooms in their country homes. The other afternoon we were in one of the homes where the woman was working in the contest. What she had done with a closet 18 inches deep was astounding. A high shelf had been built across the top and an old pipe had been swung there as a rack for dresses and coats. With scraps of lumber, she had built shelves across the ends of the closet and under these she had built a box with a side opening in which she kept overshoes her sons' tennis shoes and such as that.

The door was covered with cloth cases she had made from scraps of print material and these were arranged to hold laundry, shoes, hose and miscellaneous articles. She had even made cases out of flower sacks for her linens that were stacked on the shelves. These were serving the double purpose of keeping things in place and protecting them from the sand. And, on all these cases she had worked button holes—dozens of them to keep the things together!

With some paint, figured percale for curtains and scarfs and an old box that she had made into a dressing table, she was completing her bedroom and making out of it a comfortable and colorful place. It was the sort of room that magazine editors photograph and the cost of improvement was amounting to virtually nothing.

Bulletins Are Being Mailed

Information On Scout Camp Is Contained In Correspondence Sent South Plains Leaders In Scout Work

Information dealing with the site of the annual summer camp of scouts of the South Plains Area council near Post about the middle of July is contained in a bulletin being mailed by Executive D. T. Jennings of Lubbock to members and leaders in this section.

After considering many locations in the fall of 1925, K. N. Clapp, L. S. Harkey, and H. B. Palmer, Lubbock scout leaders, favored the present site, the bulletin said.

"These men, aided by South Plains citizens, began negotiations for a half-section of land, centering at the old C. W. Post ranch headquarters. They were generously given this plus another strip of land, which brought the total to 420 acres.

"More than a few historical spots and happenings set the camp forth as more than a mere plot of rough wild country. On the camp site is the old ranch headquarters, built in the early 80's by the late C. W. Post.

"The material used in its construction was freighted from Colorado City. In this house, the first baby girl born in Garza County, came into the world. A short distance from the house, a rock filled cleft marks the location of the first road off the Cap Rock. A few miles to the south, through what is now called Cooper's Canyon, the Old Spanish Trail once found its descent to the levels below. Nearby on the edge of the canyon was a small dug-out post office, the first in Garza county. Its outlines are still visible to the careful observer. At the time, the country was full of Comanche Indians, who often raided the ranchers, plundering their homesteads ruthlessly.

"The primitive pioneering atmosphere still exists around the estate despite the advances of civilization and newer and more interesting facts are discovered about the camp site every year the boys camp on it."

King Of Hoboes Orders Members To Keep Away

CINCINNATI, O., June 8. (AP) Jeff Davis, "king of hoboes," sent word to "jungles" and "tanks" throughout the nation today for hoboes to stay out of Washington, and give world war veterans free rein in seeking payment on their bonus certificates.

The orders are to be passed by word of mouth.

His instruction, Davis said, followed word from Washington that Dan Brien, calling himself a hobo, had issued a call for the wanderers to gather in Washington and demand "good food and clean beds."

"The hoboes are contented; the hoboes are satisfied," Davis protested. "We believe the soldiers should get their bonus. We don't want to see the soldiers become hoboes, too, but we don't want to see anybody else butting in."

Davis is president of the intinerant Workers' union. Hoboes of America organized 24 years ago. Fifty years old, he has been a hobo for 38 years.

New Station In Mexico Planned

EAGLE PASS, June 8. (AP)—Construction work was begun today on a 75,000 watt radio station in Mexico nine miles northwest of Piedras Negras, just across the Rio Grande from the recently completed hydro-electric plant in Maverick county. Its call letters will be "XEPN."

C. M. Bres of Piedras Negras, and W. E. Branch, radio engineer, are chief stockholders in the company in back of the project.

Plans call for completion of the station by September 15, on which date it will go on the air.

Fifty workmen were busy today clearing a ten-acre tract for the plant. It will be necessary to build a private road to the station from Piedras Negras.

The station will have two studios, one in the casino at Piedras Negras and the other at the Yolanda hotel in Eagle Pass.

A permit has been granted for the station to operate on a frequency of 885 kilocycles.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD
This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

Sport Outcast Defeats Tyler

Beaumont Extends Win Powers To Beat Cannibals; Sports Beaten By Former Mate Who Went To San Antonio

(By The Associated Press)

TYLER, June 8.—George Harper, Sport outcast, came here today with the San Antonio Indians and drove in three runs with a home run and a single to tie the score, and on Baker's single to left, he scored the winning run against Tyler. The final score was 4 to 3.

Harper was released two weeks ago by the Sports and immediately was signed by the Indians.

Coming up in their part of the ninth behind 6 to 2, the Indians staged a desperate last inning rally and scored two runs. Hall, the first man up, doubled and Harper singled, scoring Hall. Zaepfel was walked purposely and Baker singled to right, scoring Harper. The next man up struck out to retire the side.

The Sports attempted a rally and even after two men walked two pinch hitters failed to deliver.

House and Bigs who started for San Antonio and Tyler on the mound, both were relieved in the ninth inning.

Cardinals Hit Brave Hurlers 20 Times; 15-8

Cubs Regain Top Notch In Win Over Dodgers As Braves Go Back To Second; Giants Win Over Reds To Go Ahead

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, June 8.—The St. Louis Cardinals today came out of their batting slump and captured the series opener by pounding four Boston pitchers for 20 hits and a 15-8 victory in a weird game that lasted almost three hours.

The defeat pushed the Braves into second place in the league standing, the Cubs regaining the lead with a 14-inning victory over Brooklyn.

The world champions tied the score in the third and in the weird fifth session blasted four Boston pitchers for seven more tallies. They added to their lead in each of the last three games.

The Cardinals used three hurlers, Jim Lindsey getting credit for the victory. Al Stout, however, was the most effective of the trio, giving the Braves but three hits in the last four and a third innings.

Frankie Frisch, still limping from his charley-horse, returned to the Cards' lineup and made a terrific impression against the opposing pitching. The fielding gem was turned in by "Pepper" Martin, who robbed Wes Schulmerich of a double, at least, by making a leaping catch of his drive three feet from the fence.

Gene Sarazen Goes Into British Open Lead When Youth Of England Fades

Chunky New York Pro Clips Par By 4 Strokes

SANDWICH, England, June 8.(AP) The spectacular spurt of Britain's youth faded today before the grand golf of a chunky New York professional, Gene Sarazen, and the United States once more took command of the British open championship.

In the qualifying rounds, Sarazen hammered out a brilliant 70, four strokes under par and led the field of 109 by a single strike.

There were six 73's in the first round of the 72-hole medal play, sixteen 74's and sixteen 75's, and among the latter was Tommy Armour, defending champion and third of America's major hopes.

Although Britain was deeply disappointed that the youngsters who sparkled in the qualifying rounds had wilted under the strain of title play, there was considerable satisfaction in the great display of the American they had made the favorite.

Six Teams Reported Entered In Woodrow Baseball Tourney

Six teams had registered yesterday for the Woodrow baseball tournament which begins tomorrow afternoon, according to one of the tournament directors, Garland McWhorter of Woodrow, and others were expected to enter by noon tomorrow.

Heading the list of entrants and rated as one of the favorites for the $50 first prize was the Wolfforth team. Levelland, Meadow, New Home, Shallowater, Woodrow will enter teams in the tournament.

The tournament, based on two-game eliminations, begins at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and will continue through Sunday with three games each afternoon.

Teams from Petersburg, Union, Brownfield, Tahoka and Lubbock have been invited to enter. Managers of these teams are urged to get in touch with McWhorter by noon tomorrow.

Eddie Moore Goes To New Orleans; Cats Get Catcher

San Angelo Is Scene Of 8th Annual Joust

Edmisson, Bryant, Daniels, Ed Doherty And McMillan Leave For Tourney Site; Charles Quails Defends Title

Lubbock golfdom will be represented by at least five of the game's exponents at the eighth annual West Texas Golf association tournament beginning at San Angelo today. At least three other players will indirectly represent this town.

John Edmisson, Bays Bryant, E. T. Daniels, Edgar Doherty and W. G. McMillan left yesterday for San Angelo and will enter the qualifying round this morning. Edmisson, Bryant, Daniels and Doherty, the latter a member of the Lubbock High school team and one of the low scorers here, registered from Lubbock Country club, and McMillan from Meadowbrook.

Billy and Lyle Holmes and Walter Pendleton, Texas Tech students and members of the Meadowbrook club team, probably will enter the tournament, although they may be billed from Shamrock Country club.

E. T. Daniels of Lubbock Country club is a member of the board of directors of the W. T. G. A. He has never missed one of the West Texas tournaments. Jo Dick Slaughter of Lubbock Country club is another director, but did not make the trip to San Angelo.

The 1931 tournament was held at Lubbock over the Country club course. Charles Quails of Post defeated L. T. "Bobby" Burns of Wichita Falls in the final 36-hole match for the championship after nosing out Frank Rose of Lamesa in a semi-final match. Quails is in San Angelo to defend his title.

Cream Of West Texas Golfers At Tourney

SAN ANGELO, June 8. (AP) — The cream of West Texas golf talent swings underway Thursday morning in the qualifying round of the eighth annual championship tournament of the West Texas golf association. The meet is to be staged on the Country club course.

Charles Quail, of Post, is the defending champion.

Among the leading contenders are two San Angelo golfers, Nallerecent tournament. Gregory, city champion, and John Marston, ex-city champ. Neither has competed in a West Texas association tournament before, but both are veteran campaigners and naturally are familiar with the home course.

Among other outstanding contenders is the left-handed Bob Scott of Colorado, and the youthful Jack Satterwhite, of Big Lake.

A heavy contingent of Fort Worth golfers is on hand, but the 19th hole dopesters do not figure any of these entries as very potent except possibly in the Calcutta pool outlay.

Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette university sprinter, has a record of never having failed to survive trial heats in any event he has entered.

Billy Howell's kid brother, Tom, is a golfer too. He shot an 88 in a Wrists are very important in the golf swing. They form the hinges that connect the body and its action to the club.

If they are tight it will be impossible to cock them at the top of the backswing, and this will be disastrous. Without cocking the wrists at the top of the backswing, no power can be obtained as the clubhead meets the ball. Tight wrists will cause the muscles of the right side to become tense and cause one to lunge at the ball.

Many golfers have a habit of uncocking the wrists too early in the downswing, spending punch before the clubhead is in a position to hit.

Notice the illustration of "Long Jim" Barnes, showing where the wrists uncock and the right hand whips the clubhead through.

Several new records were set at the sixth annual Tuskegee relays.

ACKNOWLEDGING THE TRUTH

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

THE Gillette Safety Razor Company feels called upon to make a confession and a statement that are undoubtedly unique in the annals of American business. It is with deep regret and no little embarrassment that we do this in order to tell you frankly what actually happened when we introduced a new Gillette razor and blade.

Soon after this was done, we found that, although the great majority was pleased, some users complained quality was not up to standard.

We learned why. Our equipment had not been equal to the task of producing millions of blades at high speed without a certain variation in quality that affected a small portion of our output. As a result some blades that left the factory were not as good as you had a right to expect. Immediately we directed our principal effort toward the achievement of uniformity. Everything within our power was done to end variation. More than this—impossible as it seemed of accomplishment at the time—we set out to develop or find a better production process, having as a major requirement the elimination of varying quality.

We discovered and purchased for our exclusive use and at the cost of millions of dollars a manufacturing process that was amazingly superior to our own.

By this method, modern and automatic, millions of blades can be made at top speed without variation in quality.

We incorporated refinements of our own invention and installed the new machinery, throwing out all of our old equipment.

Now we announce today's Gillette blades, made by the new management. The usual superlatives have no place in this sincere statement of ours, so we will let the quality of the blades speak for itself. The green Gillette package remains unchanged, but the blades are new in every respect, quality, performance, and method of manufacture.

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package. Cellophane wrapped.

You can try today's Gillette blades without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are superior, return the package and your dealer will refund your money. Our reputation depends upon the proof of these claims. Being absolutely certain of the quality of these Gillette blades, we do not hesitate to make this statement over our signature.

Action By Congress Legalizing 3 Or 3½ Per Cent Beer And Wine Is Advocated As A Revenue Measure

KANSAS CITY, June 8. (AP)—Action by congress to legalize 3 or 3 1-2 per cent beer and wine of "limited alcoholic content," was advocated today by former Senator James A. Reed, as an immediate tax raising measure.

James Reed

He declared beer and wine could be brought back by congress "acting fairly within the limits of the constitution."

Missouri's favorite son candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination estimated that the federal government could thus raise from half to three quarters of a million dollars by an excise tax and that state and municipal revenues could be increased correspondingly.

"From all I have heard," he said, "the Republican leaders have already prepared a plank, which is either a complete straddle of the question, or which proposes the adoption of a scheme which will postpone any definite action for two or three years."

"Acting fairly within the limits of the constitution congress could permit the use of a sufficient amount of alcohol in beers and wines so as to make them palatable and healthful, and at the same time, not intoxicating in the proper sense of the term," Reed said.

"A three or three and one-half per cent beer could be permitted, and wine with a limited alcoholic content could be allowed."

The former senator said the time had arrived for the Democratic party to "undertake to submit a plank of resubmission or repeal."

"And I hope that both political parties will see the light, as Mr. Rockefeller has—to give the people relief from a law which has been productive of crime, and has burdened our people with a tremendous and unnecessary expense."

Byrd Buys Bear For Polar Cruise

Once more the valiant former Coast Guard cutter Bear, noted for many Arctic adventures, is to spread her sails and nose her way through polar ice floes. The historic craft, pictured above, has been bought by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, inset, who plans to sail in her next autumn to the Antarctic. The city of Oakland, Calif., was preserving the vessel for a marine museum, but decided to give it to Byrd. The law prevented the gift, so an auction was held and the Bear passed to the explorer on his $1000 bid. A shipwrecker who made a higher bid was prevailed upon to withdraw his offer.

J. Evetts Haley More Interested In People's Attics And "Catch Alls" Than In Their Parlors; Does Much Research

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 8. — J. Evetts Haley sees more of people's attics and basements than he does of their parlors; would rather go through their woodsheds and backyard "catch alls" than inspect nicely trimmed lawns and hedges and converse more with junk dealers than with persons of wealth.

Because it is in these places and through these contacts that he finds that which he seeks—direct and authentic information of early Texas history.

Now His Vocation

What formerly was a hobby now has become his vocation. As a research worker in the historical folklore of Texas, Haley has uncovered and deposited with the archives of the University of Texas numerous valuable documents throwing light on conditions and events in the early days before Texas separated from Mexico and became an independent nation. He also has gathered important data and many exhibits during and after the time of the Texas Republic.

For the past three years he has been carrying on research through a grant from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Foundation. For three years preceding his work for the Rockefeller Foundation he did research for the Panhandle Plains Historical Society

Defendant In Suit

Haley recently was a defendant in a libel suit for $2,000,000, brought as the result of his publication of a book, "The XIT Ranch," written for the Capitol Reservation Lands of Chicago. Plaintiffs in the case alleged statements in the book cast reflections on pioneer Texas families. The trial was held at Lubbock.

Several valuable collections of early Texas families of prominence have been made available for use of state historians by Haley, among them being the collection of papers of Dr. James H. Starr which Haley obtained after three years of negotiations.

The collection consists of an unbroken file of papers and letters concerning east Texas from 1830 to 1890.

The Governor Henry Smith papers; extending through three generations, from the late 1820's to 1903 were obtained by Haley. Smith was the first provisional governor of Texas.

Other Documents Preserved

Other important papers procured and saved include those of Henry W. Smith, pioneer Texas surveyor and a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence; Philip Nolan, an early Texas historical character; Captain B. B. Paddack, founder of the first daily newspaper in Fort Worth; W. F. Cummins, early Texas geologist and C. U. Connellee, among the first of the West Texas surveyors and a member of the house of representatives.

Haley stated it was a "tradegy" that the research work and data gathering was not started 50 years ago because of the large amount of material that would have been available then but which since has been destroyed. Many documents and papers of great historical value have been destroyed because persons having possession did not recognize their worth. Every day valuable material is being destroyed because of lack of room, Haley said.

The historical collector recommended that the Texas legislature enact a law preventing county officials from destroying old papers and files until first examined by a competent historian. When storage rooms become crowded and overflowing, county officials in many instanceshave ordered the old records burned.

A portion of the records of Bell and San Augustine counties have been destroyed because of a lack of storage space, Haley said.

Most of the old records of Matagorda county were saved by Haley after they had been hauled away and stored in a barn and later given to a carload of the papers and docuthe junk dealer, Haley learned that a carload o fthe papers and documents had been shipped to Houston. Much of it was recovered.

Temperance Head Favoring Repeal

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP) — James A. Crain, Indianapolis, national secretary for the board of temperance and social welfare of the Christian church, told the state convention of Texas Christian university today that he favors a referendum on the liquor question.

This referendum, he explained, would be favored provided those dissatisfied with the eighteenth amendment will outline a constructive substitute. That substitute then would be taken before the public, along with the prohibition amendment, and the people could decide which they want, he said.

Crain said he is safe in making such a statement because the wet forces simply want to repeal the amendment and will offer no substitute that will satisfy the drys.

He called upon Texans to organize 250,000 voters pledged to support prohibition and to oppose race track gambling "and other social evils."

First Of Series Of Scout Meetings Staged Tuesday

First of a series of city-wide outdoor scout meetings Tuesday night near the power plant at the north end of the Texas Technological college campus was attended by about 50 Boy Scouts, adult leaders and parents.

An outdoor meeting of all troops is planned for each Tuesday night this summer. Troop No. 8, supervised by James White, assistant scoutmaster, had charge of the first program. Troop No. 7 will direct next Tuesday's program.

California Army Leaves Saturday

LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP) — Southern California's "bonus army," expected to number well over 2,500 unemployed World war veterans, will begin its long journey to Washington, D. C., possibly Saturday.

Twenty-five hundred veterans already have enlisted at the headquarters on the old circus grounds near the down town business section, leaders announced, and others from all parts of Southern California are arriving hourly.

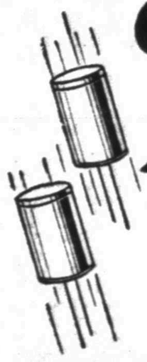

The exact date of departure is indefinite due to uncertainty of transportation. The State will be asked, the leaders said, to furnish trucks as far as the state line.

Veterans have pledged themselves to remain in Washington until the veterans' bonus is paid.

Silence may be golden

... but is that why other cigarette advertising is generally silent on this question?

WHEN the truth hurts—it's only natural to avoid the subject! Inhaling has long been an "untouchable" topic in cigarette advertising. And no wonder! In every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, every smoker inhales some part of the smoke from his or her cigarette, Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Their victory assures Lubbock of least one unusually large gathering during the year ome and likewise should act as a spur to other groups as they go out to seek their own convenis the everlasting "keep on keeping on" that we in Lubbock—and everywhere else for that mat-in times like these, when the natural thing to is to quit everything. The example set by the is a good one—not only from that angle but the standpoint of stimulating extra business Lubbock in the year that is to come.

The Morning Avalanche, as you should already w, favors payment of the Soldiers bonus as first in the inflation which is needed to spur lagging iness. However, we are not in sympathy with the alled "Bonus Expeditionary Force" for the simple on that we regard it as extremely dangerous as as entirely ineffectual.

It would not surprise us in the least should a small grow out of the ranks of the "B.E.F.", either in shington or some other principal city through ch the ex-service men march.

A country already beset with worries, trials and or problems has no extra time in which to en-e in further difficulties.

The ex-soldiers could have aided their cause more staying at home.

Viewed from this doubtful point of vantage it uld appear that the Republicans will emerge from ir National convention with spirits aroused, a ling of harmony and ready for the fray, while Democrats will likely wear themselves to a frazzle, ish their convention with internal dissention and a disadvantageous position for the two-party fight. ready the wings of Democracy are girded for battle. against the other, and the coming convention Chicago bids fair to run over an almost endless ain of argumentative days.

With the best chance of victory since 1916, the mocratic party must eliminate, as far as possible, y chances that internal friction will hamper its vember drive. At least, that should be the hope the rank and file Democrats such as we who re-e on the South Plains.

Add Bright Spots: The largest day's enrollment any summer session of Texas Technological college s chalked up here on Tuesday, which should make bbock business people, as well as Tech authorities, tremely happy. Extra business brought to Lubbock summer school students is not to be sneezed at; ther is the influence of Lubbock and the South ins upon the hundreds of serious young people who nually trek here.

This is something to be remembered in the future, the light of rumor to the effect that some authori-s of the college view Tech as purely a technical in-tution, and therefore should not offer summer sions in liberal arts.

Tech needs the summer session. So does Lubbock. rtainly the citizenship which has contributed so ely and generously to the success of the college entitled to some consideration.

Practical Health Problems

VEGETARIANISM

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

UST why anyone becomes a vegetarian has never been certainly established. In some instances it ems to be merely a desire to be different from the ajority.

On the other hand some people are so sensitive garding the sight of flesh or blood that they simply nnot eat meat because they see it exposed in the tcher shop. Other vegetarians are actually so con-rned about pain caused to the lower animals that ey avoid animal food for that reason.

Vegetarians eat milk, eggs and cheese which, of urse, are animal products as much as the flesh of e animal.

Dr. Adolphe Abrahams of the Westminster Hospital London points out that the intestinal tract of an is incapable of manipulating a sufficient amount vegetable material to insure receipt of the caloric lue needed for good health. If, however, cheese, gs and milk are included, the minimum amount n be had.

On the other hand, there is plenty of evidence at meat protein is superior for tissue building to getable protein, regardless of caloric value. An casional vegetarian distinguishes himself as an thlete or strong man.

This does not prove that everyone who is a vege-rian will be an athlete nor does it indicate in the ightest that other athletes will do well on a similar et.

There are plenty of notions regarding the training athletes that have never been established scien-fically. One recent writer on athletics has suggested at long distance runners eat such things as will ve power of endurance and increased nerve force, nd that hammer throwers take food and liquids hich would make flesh and bone.

Such statements are absurd as there are no such oods with which specific qualities. In the older days the time of John L. Sullivan athletes never kept training, but immediately after a match dropped restrictions and took vast quantities of beer and eats and put on weight.

It, therefore, became necessary for them on going to training to adopt the most rigid of diets. This ought about the notion that certain foods were not itable for athletes.

The argument has been made that the modern phisticated diet of man leads to gastric ulcer, can-r, Bright's disease and similar disturbance. Recently study was made of two native tribes—the Kikuyu d the Masai.

The Kikuyu live entirely on vegetables; the Masai meat, blood and milk. Neither of these savage bes averages the European height, but the average ight of the meat eater is five inches more than of the vegetable eaters, and their strength is 50 cent greater.

It was found, furthermore, that gastric ulcer, sts and practically every disease, except intestinal truction, was more frequent among the vegetable ers than among the meat eating tribe.

Program May Pass Veto

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 8. — Chairman William P. Connery of the house of representatives' labor committee will vote for a smaller amount if a smaller amount is all he can get, but he considers $5,000,000,000 the minimum sum actually needed for unemployment relief.

What seems likeliest to receive the approval of congress is a compromise between Senator Robert F. Wagner's plan in the upper chamber, and Speaker John N. Garner's plan in the lower one.

Due to President Hoover's denunciation of it as "the most gigantic pork barrel" ever proposed, the public is perhaps better acquainted with Garner's program than with Wagners. In the financial allowances which they call for, however, the two are not far apart.

THE WAGNER BILL, quintuply sponsored by the New York solon by whose name it generally is called, and by Senators Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Key Pittman of Nevada and Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio (all Democrats), contemplates:

A $500,000,000 federal bond issue for immediate construction of already authorized national improvements.

A $1,500,000,000 increase in the Reconstruction Finance corporation's capacity, to encourage, through loans or the underwriting of loans, to a total of $1,460,000,000, "self-liquidating" enterprises by states, counties, cities and private interests, while expending the remaining $40,000,000 in the development of export outlets for farm products.

A $300,000,000 fund for loans to states, for emergency relief.

Totals—$2,300,000,000.

THE GARNER PROJECT includes:

A $1,209,084,337 federal bond issue, to be met by a gasoline tax, for national improvements on a larger scale than suggested in the Wagner bill. This item, originally $1,000,000,000, was increased by the revival of various old authorizations, once made but subsequently lapsed.

A $1,000,000,000 increase in the R. F. C.'s capacity, for encouragement of "self-liquidating" enterprises and farm exports, as per the Wagner bill.

A $100,000,000 fund at the president's disposal for emergency relief.

Total—$2,309,084,337, an increase from an original total of $2,100,000,000.

PRESUMABLY the senate will adopt the Wagner measure, the representative the Garner plan, and an adjustment between them will be effected in conference.

"And undoubtedly," says Labor Chairman Connery, "it will get my vote.

"Personally I favor a $2,000,000,000 federal improvement program, a $2,700,000,000 allowance to the R. F. C. for 'self-liquidating' enterprises and a $300,000,000 presidential emergency fund.

"Five billions all told!

"Substantially it is the Hearst plan, with the adoption of Garner's gasoline tax to offset bonds as far as possible.

"Incidentally, strict provision should be made for a five-day week and a six-hour day on all federal government work and under all contracts by borrowers from the R. F. C."

THE ADMINISTRATION, as has been well advertised, bitterly opposes a bond issue, attributing the depression in no small part to the national debt, which will be approaching the $20,000,000,000 mark by the end of the fiscal year.

"Pooh!" answers Chairman Connery.

"If we were proportionately as deeply in debt as England, our obligations would run to $48,000,000,000, and I think it generally is agreed that Britain is economically rather better situated than America today."

Nevertheless it unmistakably is the impression on Capitol Hill that President Hoover would veto even such a plan as either Senator Wagoner's or Speaker Garner's, to say nothing of the $5,000,000,000 program outlined by Congressman Connery.

"No doubt," nods the labor chairman, "but I feel fairly confident that we shall be able to pass a relief bill over his veto.

"Regardless of party, congress simply dare not go home with no step taken to improve the workers' condition. It is only by the mercy of providence, which sent us a mild winter, that we escaped widespread riots and bloodshed last season.

"To tempt fate again would be nothing short of inviting revolution."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE ONLY UNCHANGED BASEBALL RULE:

Why were the lines between bases of a baseball diamond made 90 feet? The explanation takes baseball history back 87 years to 1845 when Alexander J. Cartwright of New York organized the first baseball club and laid out the first diamond.

As it was not customary to measure in yards or feet to any extent in those days, Cartwright simply stepped off 30 paces—which proved to be 90 feet—as the distance between bases, and let it go at that. Little did he or his associates realize that the distance of 90 feet would always be satisfactory, and that the distance so carelessly stepped off would remain unchanged for 87 years. Any other distance than 90 feet would have ruined the game and baseball would be unheard of today.

THE BILLION-YEAR-OLD TREE:

In 1869 a disastrous flood raged in the vicinity of Gilboa, New York. The waters carried away some of the upper rock strata near the village, exposing what seemed like the realization of a paleobotanist's most extravagant dream.

Deep in the bed rock was found imbedded an entire petrified forest. The forest had flourished in the Upper Devonian Era lying back approximately 1,000,000,000 years. When these trees sank out of sight, the greater part of what is now the State of New York was still the bottom of a vast inland sea. The tree fossils were very ingeniously restored. The giant Lepidodendron stands today in the New York State Museum exactly as it had stood in the primeval forest approximately 9,995,000 centuries before Adam.

the MAN HUNTERS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SUSAN CAREY, 20 and beautiful, has become engaged to ERNEST HEATH, 45, her former employer. She has done so partly to provide for the future of her aunt who is ill and partly because she despairs of ever winning the man she really loves, BOB DUNAR. DENISE ACKROYD, a debutante, dislikes Susan and causes trouble between her and Bob. BEN LAMPMAN, a former admirer of Susan's shoots at Heath and then turns the gun on himself. He recovers and the affair is hushed up. Susan realizes she doesn't love Heath enough to marry him but can not tell him so. She sees Bob at the theater and this awakens old memories. Denise tells Bob that Susan is a "gold-digger" and he becomes very angry. JACK WARING, Heath's assistant, warns Susan not to marry without love.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XL

DENISE sat before her taffeta-skirted dressing table, intent on the arduous business of making up. Her costume for the George Washington ball foamed over a chair and her powdered wig lay on the brocaded bed spread. Her mother's English maid, pressed into duty for the occasion, hovered behind. Presently Denise stood up, satisfied at last with the effect she had produced, and, slim and supple in her single, diaphanous garment, permitted herself to be arrayed in the pale blue frock with huge panniers and lacy underskirt. This done, she adjusted the wig over her own shining tresses. The effect was marvelous. Instantly her gamin prettiness was transformed into spectacular beauty. She was as dignified as a lady in an ancient portrait.

She tried the effect of an infinitesimal patch near the corner of one eye and liked it. Then she seized an atomizer and sprayed herself causually with scent.

"I think it's stupid the club committee insists on everyone wearing masks," complained Mrs. Ackroyd, watching the performance with interest. Stevens, the maid, slipped Denise's black mask into the pocket of her white fur wrap.

"No, not there. Give it to me now," the girl demanded impatiently. "I may as well put it on before I start." She tied and adjusted it with care. The effect of the mask added piquancy to the whole costume.

"You are a picture, miss," Stevens declared, with enthusiasm. Denise snatched up her fan, allowed the wrap to be adjusted around her slim shoulders, and hurried downstairs. There a young grandee in biscuit colored satin breeches and waistcoat of the same color with lace frills at his wrists and buckled shoes on his feet awaited her. He, too, was masked.

"Come along. We're late," the girl said petulantly. The well-modeled lips of the young courtier curved in what seemed to be ill humor.

"Whose fault is that?" he demanded. "I've been waiting for hours."

This Denise ignored. "It's going to be a poisonous party anyhow. I'm sure of that," she rattled on, fluttering down the steps and managing with difficulty to insert her beruffled self within the confines of the waiting motor car.

"Everything's poisonous," muttered her escort, slamming the door.

"What did you say?" She eyed him suspiciously.

He growled, "Nothing at all," and subsided into his corner.

"You haven't a cigaret hidden about in all that lingerie, I suppose?" Denise wanted to know.

FOR answer the boy reached into the pocket of a coonskin coat slung over the back of the seat. He was an incongruous figure at the wheel of the big car, with his powdered wig and trappings of a blood of the late eighteenth century. It was strange to see him guiding this devil-machine of the twentieth century through the dark night. They should have had a coach and four.

No stranger was the sight Denise offered presently, a cigaret hanging limply from one corner of her elaborately rouged mouth.

"Why did you say everything is poisonous nowadays?" she demanded.

The man in the driver's seat threw her an annoyed glance. "I thought you missed that," he muttered.

"Me? I never miss anything." De-

FIRE AT MORTON

MORTON, (Special).—Fire of unknown origin threatened twice the Morton Trading company's property here. The fire was first discovered about 9 o'clock in the evening and was extinguished after a short time. A Miss That Never Misses

Those who consider that the vaunted performance of William Tell was something to write home about should see Wah-Netahe Red-Rock, full-blooded Algonquin Indian, from Hudson Bay, Canada. The 23-year-old Indian maid is shown as she demonstrated her skill with bow and arrow, using a human target, at New York. The visitor astounded archery experts with her unerring accuracy with the ancient weapon.

...se told him airily. "I think I ...now what's griping you."

"You're smart," said Bob Dunbar ...ith sarcastic intonation.

"Aren't I, just?" She blew a cloud ... smoke in his direction. "Let me ...ll you one thing, young fellow-my-...d. Daddy and your father have ...en getting together and they've ...ided they don't like the way ... behaving."

"...o what?" the young man wanted to know.

"It was distinctly understood," ...enise told him with dignity, "that ...e were engaged last summer. Oh, ...know it wasn't announced or anything like that but you knew and ...addy did and—well, everybody.

The boy moved restlessly. "Last ...ummer is a long time ago," he reminded her.

"Oh, yes?" Denise's voice took on a tinge of shrewdness. "Well, you ...n't get away with what you've ...en doing lately. We Ackroyds," ...ere she tossed her head with that ...miliar gesture), "we have our ...ide."

"What's all this got to do with ...e?" Bob muttered rebelliously.

Denise's manner changed. Into ...r tone crept the cooing note of ...e mourning dove. "What's the use ... quarreling the way we do?" she ...ked. "You can be nice and so can ... We team well together. Everybody's always said so. We like the ...me things and run with the same ...ng. The way I look at it, it all ...ils down to this. We have a bet...r chance of making things go ...an most of the people we know. ...addy's awfully keen for it and so ... your father."

"As if I didn't know that," growled the boy.

"Well, then, why not let's be sensible about it? Let's please everybody and surprise them, and stop ...is ridiculous rowing we've been ...ing all winter." She was enjoying ...r role of peacemaker now.

"I'm willing to bury the hatchet ... you are," Denise went on. "If ...u like we needn't have a big wed...g but just gallop away some ...ce and have a justice marry us. ...at would be fun."

The man shrugged. "You've got ... all worked out, haven't you?"

"That's because I know what's ...t for both of us," said Denise ...h sweet reasonableness. "I'm ...lling to overlook all the times ...u've been nasty to me and start ...h a clean slate."

"I guess you're the doctor," Bob ...d, compressing his lips. The girl's ...aret described a wide arc as she ...ng it from her. They were curv... into the drive of the country ...b now. She reached over and ...ted his shoulder possessively.

"That's my own sweet boy," she ...ed, holding up her lips for a kiss.

THE music struck on Susan's ear ... a blow. The scene was one of ...redibly brilliant color and move...nt. The shifting patterns which ... dancers wove reminded her of ...kaleidoscope. She was thankful ... the mask which had been sent ...h her costume. Thus furnished ...h anonymity, she felt braver, ...onger. Why had Ernest insisted ... her coming? It was odd. She had ... expected to brave the terrors of ... neighborhood on the north shore ...ll she was safely his wife. But ...k Waring, in Heath's absence, ... informed her that the message ... come over the telephone from ...w York. Heath had not been able ... reach her before going into ...ne on that land business. He ... said he wished Waring to es... Susan to the George Washing...ball. Her costume would be der...ed to her.

...usan ran her fingers over the ... apricot of her spreading skirt. ... knew the color became her ut...r. Waring had come dressed as ... Indian tribal chief. He was mag...ent with his headdress of tea...s, the glaring colors of his plan... Yet it was odd he had chosen ...ress this way, escorting a lady ...powdered wig.

"...don't understand it at all," Susan said to herself. "But how beautiful it all is. I'm glad I came."

She felt excited and happy. Some dancers swayed in a minuet at the end of the great ballroom. How lovely it was to watch the measured, stately steps, the curving and pirouetting. She forgot herself completely as she watched.

Then a jazz piece broke this interlude into fragments and the guests were ordered to swing about in a "Paul Jones." Susan looked about, bewildered, for Jack Waring. He was nowhere to be seen. As the orchestra stopped abruptly she found herself facing a cavalier in biscuit colored jacket and breeches. Tall he was and very erect. Without a word, she slipped into his arms.

THE tempo of the music quickened and the girl's heart beats with it. This was magic—dancing like this. Her partner was a complete stranger, someone she would never see again probably. She gave herself up to the enjoyment of the moment.

When the music ended she murmured involuntarily, "Oh, I'm sorry." At the words, her partner bent a bright, searching gaze upon her.

"Say that again."

She stared at him through those small slits in the wisp of black cambric.

"What did you say?"

Her partner put a firm, gentle hand on her arm and led her out of the melee of flushed and laughing revellers. As one in a dream Susan went with him.

"Now, then!"

They were hidden from the throng by the plush curtains of a little alcove. The music came to them muted and wraithlike.

The cavalier in biscuit-colored satin untied Susan's mask with strong purposeful fingers. She dared not—indeed, she never even dreamed of opposing him.

"Ah!"

The monosyllable roused her to realization of what was happening. Rich color flooded her pale cheeks. She clasped her hands in a sudden tragic gesture.

"You!" she cried.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 9. (AP)—Cotton was rather sluggish and erratic today with prices showing a downward tendency, and closing at net declines for the day of 10 to 11 points.

The market eased off on a very favorable weekly weather and crop summary and on a decline in wheat and stocks and made new lows for the day at 5.04 for July, 5.26 for Oct. and 5.41 for Dec. or 9 to 10 points under the highs.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—An early decline in cotton was followed by partial recoveries but prices eased again in the later trading under a renewal of liquidation and scattered selling promoted by the favorable average of weather and crop advices and the easy ruling of the stock market.

After selling off to 5.31 at the start, October rallied to 5.37 but broke to 5.27 in the last hour and closed at the lowest, with the general market barely steady at net declines of 11 to 13 points.

War Veterans

vast majority was determined to stay and see the outcome of the vote Monday when the bonus-payment proposal comes before the house.

A considerable section of the tattered army is still firm in its determination to "stay until 1945" unless the bonus is paid.

A move to reduce the interest rate of bonus loans, which is rapidly consuming many of the certificates, was made today in the house.

Bill Is Approved

The ways and means committee approved the Bacharach bill which would make the interest rate on the certificates four per cent. The veterans administration estimated this would cost the government $140,000,000 before the certificates mature in 1945.

Food which the veterans receive at their encampments today was the last to be purchased with funds administered by the police and the leaders were preparing to solicit donations to supply their self-administered commissary.

Tactics Changed

Rough handling by the veterans themselves caused communist agitators to change their tactics in working among the veterans. The communists today attempted to distribute a mimeographed sheet called "daily notes." A small negro boy was taken in hand and given trial by the veterans as he sought to pass the sheets about the Anacostia camp. Because of his size, he was allowed to leave unmolested after a warning not to come back.

The "daily notes" were couched in careful language and devoted much space to race discrimination. Many of the veterans in the encampments are negroes.

Original plans of the veterans' leaders had called for a "monster" demonstration today, but failure to secure proper permits changed that plan. Next it was decided to attempt to present a petition to Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Garner at the capitol Friday, but late in the day this plan was changed and a decision made to try again for a parade permit.

Economy Bill

lough plan after a short fight led by Senator Moses (R., N. H.), and a Republican independent, La Follette of Wisconsin.

It provides in brief that civilian federal employes working on a yearly basis be furloughed for a month without pay and those employed by the day be placed on a five-day week.

Robinson, in moving to recommit the bill to the committee to recommend new economies, said "it must be apparent to all of us that the so-called economy program has broken down."

Seen As Failure

He said the senate had cut from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 from the bill, leaving $140,000,000 to $150,000,000 but Byrnes said the figure was really $120,000,000.

Robinson characterized the senate's action as a "signal and disgusting failure in view of all the talk that has occurred on this subject."

"It not only appears that we have done little," he added, "but it is also apparent that we do not know what we have done.

"It's a deplorable failure and one that will reflect itself in disappointment throughout the country."

Stocks Make Heavier Drafts On Last Week's Gains; Small Advance Remains

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Stocks made heavier drafts on last week's gains today and when the market closed little more than a point of that advance remained.

Trading was quiet, but failure of support to appear during the third successive day of declining prices somewhat discomfited brokers who watch for technical symptoms. Bonds eased, yet maintained a relatively steady undertone.

Trade news was on the debit side. Also, some tape students thought uncertainties in which federal relief and economy measures appeared to be involved had acted as a damper, it seemed on the whole, that prospective buyers were awaiting signs of business gains before going to market with their money. Foreign exchanges were firmer for a time tended to favor dollars in the later dealers.

to Dixson, who admitted in a statement to the county attorney, that he was in the machine at the time of the collision.

Dixson, in his statement, said he had stopped his car and that the machine was struck by the coupe.

"After they hit me I drove up or back up out of the way and then got out of my car and pried up the fender to get it off the wheel," he said.

Police still are searching for the driver of a car which struck the Rev. Bradner J. Moore at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q last week. The Episcopal minister was not seriously injured.

Crisis Described By Club Speaker

John Lee Smith, grand chancellor of Texas Knights of Pythians, told Lubbock Rotarians Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock that citizens of America face a crisis today just as serious as the one "our forefathers deliberated in Philadelphia." Dr. G. H. Ater, deputy district grand chancellor, was in charge of the program.

"We've reached one of those crossroads of history," Mr. Smith said, "where men must act to preserve the traditions and institutions of their country. Institutions which we have considered permanent are being threatened and forces are being unleashed which attack the foundations of our civilization, forces which have been leashed only through the compelling power of an orderly civilization.

"Things are happening right now in our country which need your attention and mine. In Washington, thousands of men are marching in demonstration of their wants for legislation. I read an editorial in a paper this morning, condemning in caustic terms those men. No man has a right to condemn them, it is just as un-American as the act of the men themselves.

"We have long-since lost the American republic to the lobbyists," Mr. Smith continued. "They have directed and controlled legislation and are still doing so. Until we condemn the modern sleek lobbyist who has a $20,000-a-year expense account and a like salary, we certainly have no right to condemn the humble citizen who marches for legislation in his behalf. It's a problem facing us, a problem whether or not the people will have charge of the government or whether we will have a bunch of paid dummies in our law-making bodies who do as lobbyists order them.

"You and I face a crisis that is serious to those of the future. That little group of 125 men, no larger than the one here today, are honored for their actions. I wonder if those in Washington now or this group here today will be done likewise. Our crisis is just as serious as the one facing them."

Lucius Halbert of Plainview, S. M. Melton of Cuero and I. R. Witt of Post were visiting Rotarians.

Vaughn Wilson of the Lions club appeared before the club and made a challenge for a baseball game between the two clubs. J. A. Raley accepted the challenge for a game to be played next Wednesday.

Texas Storm

and bringing a heavy rain in its wake.

The windstorm struck Wichita Falls at 5:30 p. m. and reached Fort Worth at 7:30 p. m.

Plane Is Held

Experiencing some of the difficulty of a ground crew mooring a dirigible, a dozen men at the municipal airport tonight kept a tight grip for 45 minutes on a tri-motored plane that almost left the ground in the sudden gale that blew up a moment after the ship landed.

The big plane, American Airways ship from Brownsville to Dallas, seemed to bring the windstorm on its wings. The storm broke just as the passengers climbed out and the pilot turned to get their luggage.

W. G. Fuller, airport manager called to every available man when he saw the plane pigeon-hop in the wind. They held it, moored it at every point possible, to stakes in the ground, attached ropes and began the tedious task of holding on to them until the storm passed. It was not for 45 minutes that they could relax their hold and safely trust the ship to stay on the ground.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP)—Demand was good for all grains on the Fort Worth cash grain market Wednesday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 ordinary hard milling 32 1-2@33 1-2; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 33@34; 14 per cent 34@35; 15 per cent 35@36; 16 per cent 36@38.

Barley, No. 2 nominal, 30@31.

Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo and No. 2 white kaffir 69@70 per 100 lbs.

Delivered Texas common points or group three:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@39 1-2, No. 2 white 39@39 1-2, No. 2 yellow 44 1-2@47 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points:

Oats, No. 2 red 32 1-2@33 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP) — Smashing downward below 50 cents a bushel for the new 1932 crop, wheat today went under any prices ever reached here excepting only last October.

Purchase power dwindled to almost the vanishing point, especially demand that usually comes from speculators.

Wheat in Chicago closed nervous, 7-8 to 1 3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 1-2 down, oats at 1-4 decline to 1-4 advance, and provisions varying from 15 cents setback to a rise of 3 cents.

Sterling Defends Attitude Of Ely

AUSTIN, June 8. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today that "a fellow is likely to say things under fire that he would not give expression to normally," in declaring he was not offended by testimony given by W. R. Ely, chairman of the highway commission at Palo Pinto.

Ely, testifying in a suit for injunction to restrain the commission from building the so-called Weatherford cutoff of the Bankhead highway, referring to the attitude of Governor Sterling opposing the project at this time, said he would not permit a governor to dictate to him.

"Judge Ely has done too much hard work for Texas for me to criticize him and I know he did not mean any reflection on me," Governor Sterling said. "Having been chairman of the highway commission once myself I know just how difficult Ely's job is. He has done fine work on the highway commission. There are absolutely no differences between us. I merely do not approve of building the cutoff at this time because I am not in favor of expending any public funds whatsoever unless it is absolutely necessary."

Governor Sterling said he believed there were more people who favored construction of the cutoff than there were opposing it.

Mayor Walker

Governor Roosevelt in a statement last Friday said "if the evidence in any case now before the legislative committee in their judgment or that of their counsel warrants it is time for the legislative committee and their counsel to stop talking and do something."

Promptness Claimed

The governor also said "I act in each case definitely, positively and with due promptness."

Whether the governor would consider the matter from Seabury to be tantamount to formal charges and appropriate for action as such was not known.

Apparently Seabury was of the opinion the governor would follow the procedure that led to a hearing for and the subsequent removal of Sheriff Thomas Farley, Tammany leader, for he said in closing his letter:

"From the record submitted, and after a hearing, you can determine whether the public interests and the maintenance of decent standards among public officials require that the Hon. James J. Walker should be removed from the office of mayor of the city, and can take such action as may be just to Mayor Walker and the people of the city of New York."

Generalizes Case

Seabury generalized his case against the mayor in two conclusions which were:

"That he has failed properly to execute the duties . . . which it was incumbent upon him to discharge, that he has acted in his official capacity as to prejudice the best interests of the people of the City of New York; that, in the course of his official conduct he has been actuated by improper and illegal considerations; that he has, while holding the office of mayor, been guilty of gross improprieties, and that his explanations of circumstances seriously reflecting upon the manner in which, as its chief executive, he has conducted the affairs of the City of New York, have been either so incomplete or so unworthy of credence as not to constitute acceptable explanations . . .

". . . Generally since he assumed office the mayor's conduct has been characterized by such malfeasance and nonfeasance in disregard of the duties of his office as mayor, and he has conducted himself, to the prejudice of the City of New York and its inhabitants, in a manner so far unbecoming the high office which he holds, as to render him unfit to continue in the office of mayor."

Group Of Women Pickets At Mine Routed By Guardsmen

CAMBRIDGE, O., June 8. (AP) — Routed by an Ohio national guard airplane after a hand-to-hand encounter with deputy sheriffs, a group of women pickets were dispersed at Harriett mine, near here, and two of their number held under arrest today.

When the officers' tear gas supply was exhausted an Ohio national guard observation plane piloted by Lieutenant Karl E. Bushong appeared over the mine and released tear gas bombs, routing the women and striking men who had joined in the melee.

The women, the sheriff charged, hurled stones at the automobiles of workmen.

Texas Tech Graduate To Substitute As Subject For Hypnotic Exhibition

Miss Helen Jackson, 1931 Texas Technological college graduate of 2024 Ninth street and an English instructor last year in Morton High school, will be hypnotized by Dr. de Zita at the Palace theater Thursday night, Miss Billie Gray, previously booked to appear, has gone to Tulia to attend an ill sister-in-law.

"I thought it would be a very interesting adventure," said Miss Jackson, who is 20.

"She is very calm and steady-nerved," Dr. de Zita said in praising his subject. "It takes an intelligent and broad-minded person to be hypnotized. Miss Jackson meets those requirements."

From the Palace theater, Miss Jackson will be driven in a Rix ambulance to a window in the Plains Furniture company where she will remain. Friday's schedule calls for: Breakfast furnished by the Glorieta at 10 o'clock with the hypnotist; beauty work by Lubbock Beauty shop operators at 11 and a tea and conversation with de Zita at 4 o'clock. All these events will take place while Miss Jackson is under the hypnotic spell.

In his blindfold drive Friday de Zita will drive a Pontiac automobile west from the Palace to Avenue Q, thence south to Broadway. Aunt Of Death Victim Says Suicide Attempt Was Designed Only As Bluff

Earl Thornton, 27, for whom funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at Slaton, did not intend to wound himself fatally when he fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his chest Sunday night, his aunt, Mrs. O. K. Taylor, 2205 Twentieth street, said Wednesday.

The day before his death, Earl Thornton, 27, for whom funeral services were conducted this morning at Slaton, told his wife that he had not intended to wound himself fatally when he fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his chest, his aunt, Mrs. O. K. Taylor, 2205 Twentieth street, told The Journal today.

Thornton told his wife at the sanitarium Monday afternoon that he had shot himself to frighten her and so to gain her back, the aunt reported. Before Thornton's death Tuesday morning his wife, who said they had been "partially separated" a week, asserted that they had eliminated all differences between them, and that Thornton had said he wanted to live. The bullet punctured a lung.

Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church here, conducted the funeral at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church at Slaton. Burial was in a Slaton cemetery.

Thornton shot himself Sunday night in his room at his aunt's home. The aunt said she and other relatives had thought from the first that Thornton had not intended to wound himself fatally.

Besides his widow Thornton is survived by his father, J. R. Thornton, a Slaton gin operator; his brother, L. B. Thornton of Slaton; and Mrs. W. H. Johnson of Slaton. Funeral arrangements were made by Foster funeral home.

Capt. Dowling

struck a TNT cache, it detonated and set off two others in succession, and the depot soon was destroyed. Twenty men and two women were injured fatally.

For carrying on his duties under dangerous and trying conditions at the time of the blasts, Captain Dowling received the distinguished service medal.

Questions pertaining to the service Captain Dowling answered readily last night; but he declined to discuss any matter connected with politics.

Should the air forces be separated from the navy and army?

"I am not in favor of separation of the air force," he said.

Is the present national defense adequate?

"That's in politics," he said quickly. "I keep clear of that. At present, the government is curtailing expenses. The military takes what the civil government gives it and carries out orders. They do not want those of us in the service to talk; Washington does that for us."

At present, Captain Dowling is detached from the naval ammunition depot at Iona Island, N. Y., over which he had charge. He is to command the third destroyers squadron, an advancement from his last service at sea. His last command was the U. S. S. Vestal, repair ship of the scouting fleet. His first command was the U. S. S. Pastores during the World war. He made one round trip voyage, returning with a load of American soldiers.

Doctor Canon, who left the service in 1928, and Captain Dowling served two years on shore together while the government was prospecting in the Matanuska coal fields in Alaska. The latter's visit to Lubbock was to renew that friendship and to have the doctor fit him with new glasses.

"I remember more strongly my duty in north Russia during the war," the captain explained, "because we had a little more action. British, French, Polish, American, Italian, and Serbian troops were combined in that service, but the navy had little part in the expedition and I never was in action."

Does the navy still hold its attraction for him?

"I have no thought of retiring," Captain Dowling answered readily, explaining, "Sixty-four is the compulsory retirement age."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Grant, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Standefer, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stangel also were guests at the Canon home last night.

BILL IS PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — A house bill authorizing the Boca Chica Bridge company to build a toll bridge over the Rio Grande river at Boca Chica, Texas, was passed today by the senate and sent to the president.

NEWS BRIEFS

An old vacant frame house at 408 Avenue L virtually was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The front walls and porch were left standing.

Theft of several valuabel dogs, including Boston screw tails, at Abilene has been reported to Lubbock police. The Abilene department expressed opinion the dogs were being carried to some other town and sold. Rewards of $20 to $25 each are offered.

Five district candidates addressed a small audience at Shallowater Wednesday night. Speaking were George S. Berry, Franklin D. Brown and Dan Blair, candidates for district attorney, and W. P. Walker of Crosbyton and Robert H. Bean of Lubbock, candidates for 72nd district court judge. County and district candidates will speak Thursday night at New Hope.

A 20-year-old Lubbock youth, arrested Tuesday night, still was being held last night in city jail as a suspect in the theft of more than $9 from the home of Mrs. Rabbit Williams.

Police said the youth's younger brother first was questioned as a suspect, and blamed the theft on the older boy, who denied that either of them had taken the money.

Hale Trial

court.

Judge Abernathy was the opening witness for the plaintiff and spent an hour and a half on the stand Wednesday morning in direct testimony. He spent an hour again in the afternoon on direct testimony and then was cross-examined by several defense attorneys for another hour.

The receiver was on the stand for an hour and a half.

Documents Introduced

More than a score of documents were introduced by the plaintiff as evidence, including bonds, minutes of the court, agreements and the like. Some of these were objected to by defendants but the court overruled objections.

Receiver Blankenbeckler introduced the minutes of the board of directors of the closed bank and other bank records.

Most of the questioning of Judge Abernathy, by Mr. Williams, covered the meetings of the commissioner's court relating to its attempts to secure some of the monies it had on deposit in the bank when it closed. He delved deeply into the surety bonds as well as the negotiable paper put up as security by the bank for being a county depository.

Bonds Were Posted

Bonds, including liberty bonds, county warrants or script and other paper, amounting to $107,500 had been posted as surety. The court and bank receiver is said to have compromised on a $79,531.56 settlement. Following his testimony a severe cross examination followed first with M. M. Chrestman, followed by Allen Wight, A. B. Hall, Nath Lechman, Crozier Gowan and Webster Atwell.

Wight secured the admission that $23,000 in liberty bonds and $11,000 in federal farm loan bonds, allocated to the escrow account, when sold, did not have the proceeds applied on the escrow account.

C. C. Crenshaw handled the direct examination of Mr. Blackenbeckler, starting with the reading of the minutes of the directors meeting when the directors voted to close the bank and place it in the hands of the comptroller of the currency.

Figures on the balances in the several county accounts in the bank, on certain dates, were asked by the examiner and read by the receiver. These included April 9 and September 12, 1931 as compared with March 20.

Mr. Blankenbeckler said receiver's certificates had been issued covering settlement of the county's account and one had been delivered and the other was being held up. He also identified time certificates cancelled by the bank. Details of how he arrived at a value for the bonds turned over to the county, were given.

Judge Atwell dismissed the remainder of the jury panel during the afternoon. Previously Arnold Davis of Fort Worth, assistant district attorney, had appeared in court. It had been indicated that there might be some pleas of guilty in connection with a recent raid in Plainview but this did not materialize.

Members of the jury chosen were: W. H. Robertson, W. P. Schroeder, Tom Sims, L. A. Lewis, C. W. Avery, L. C. Green, Sam Powell, C. E. Powell, Ben Hansker, D. P. Yoder.

Fellowship Given To Tech Graduate

IOWA State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ames, Iowa, has awarded a teaching fellowship and scholarship to Maurice P. Vannoy, of Lubbock, graduate assistant to the school of agriculture of Texas Technological college last year.

In addition, Vannoy has been elected to the Southern Scholarship Society of the South. A representative of the Tech school, in speaking of the Iowa appointment, declared it to be a "coveted honor."

P. S. Shearer, professor in animal husbandry at Ames, in writing Vannoy, said that the appointment is subject to the approval of President Hughes "but there is little question about its approval."

"Your teaching duties," Shearer wrote, "will be some substitute teaching, some paper work as it is assigned to you and possibly teaching a section of judging during the winter quarter. This appointment is effective Sept. 20."

Vannoy's duties in Tech have been similar to the ones he will have in the Iowa college.

sociates that he wants the question put up to the people. But the White House last night refused to say "yes" or "no."

The ranks of Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith stood stiffly yesterday in readiness for whatever next turn their conflict over the Democratic nomination will take. It was made clear again in New York that Smith backs John J. Raskob's proposal for prohibition repeal and a return to state control of liquor.

"Jim" Reed, the former Missouri senator who is h's state's "favorite son" choice to top the Democratic ticket, estimated up to three-quarters of a billion dollars could be raised by legalizing and taxing 3 or 3 and 1-2 per cent beer and wine of limited strength. He, too, called for speedy action to change the dry laws.

Noted Surgeon For A Half Century Dies At Age Of 95

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. (AP) — Dr. William Williams Keen, who served his country in three wars and humanity in a brilliant half-century career in medicine, died at his home here last night at the age of 95. He had been ill for some time.

Dr. Keen entered the service first in 1861 as assistant surgeon of the first Pennsylvania regiment, Massachusetts volunteers. He served in the Spanish-American war and was appointed by President McKinley on a commission to investigate the conflict but was obliged to decline. His World war service won him decorations from France and Belgium. It was largely due to his efforts that American soldiers were innoculated with paratyphoid serum.

American Captain Tells Of Terrors As Bandit Captive

SHANGHAI, June 8. (AP)—Charles Baker, American steamboat captain who was abducted by Chinese brigands last winter, arrived in Shanghai today and told his story of five months of terror in which he was threatened with death fifty times.

The captain, 30 pounds underweight as a result of exposure and filthy food—all he had to eat was half cooked rice and fish—will remain in Shanghai to get back his strength and then he will join his family in Oakland, Calif.

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Mrs. Edward B. McLean, estranged wife of the Washington Post publisher, took the witness stand today to tell a jury her strange story of being swindled by Gaston B. Means of $104,000 she paid him to recover the kidnaped and murdered Lindbergh baby.

Dick Grout Leads Field In Texas P. G. A. At 36th Hole

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP) — Dick Grout, professional at the Glen Garden Country club here led the field in the annual state P. G. A. tournament through the first 36-holes of play today. He listed a 74-73 for a total of 147 to hold a one stroke advantage over his brother, Jack Grout of the same club and Ted Longworth, Texarkana, both of whom had 148.

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Whatever Republicans on capitol hill may believe to be the case, it was declared emphatically at the White House tonight that President Hoover has had no prohibition resubmission plank submitted to him and has agreed to none.

T. B. Taylor and H. F Hodge

At the night session Blankenbeckler completed his direct testimony and was then subjected to a cross examination by several attorneys having three quarters of an hour. He answered questions relating to the case from records of the bank.

Mrs. M. Magee, county treasurer of Hale county was on the stand for more than an hour. Frank R. Day led her in direct testimony, she identified deposit slips, her own checks as treasurer and other papers. The cross-examination was very thorough.

Judge Atwell adjourned court shortly after 10 o'clock until the same hour this morning.

Cotton — Cotton Trading Rather Erratic
Livestock — Livestock Trade Is Less Active
Grain — Wheat Values Again Go Down

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 8. (AP)—Cotton was rather sluggish and erratic today with prices showing a downward tendency, and closing at net declines for the day of 10 to 11 points.

The market eased off on a very favorable weekly weather and crop summary and on a decline in wheat and stocks and made new lows for the day at 5.04 for July, 5.26 for Oct. and 5.41 for Dec. or 9 to 10 points under the highs.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—An early decline in cotton was followed by partial recoveries but prices eased again in the later trading under a renewal of liquidation and scattered selling promoted by the favorable average of weather and crop advises and the easy ruling of the stock market.

After selling off to 5.31 at the start, October rallied to 5.37 but broke to 5.21 in the last hour and closed at the lowest, with the general market barely steady at net declines of 11 to 13 points.

War Veterans

vast majority was determined to stay and see the outcome of the vote Monday when the bonus-payment proposal comes before the house.

A considerable section of the tattered army is still firm in its determination to "stay until 1945" unless the bonus is paid.

A move to reduce the interest rate of bonus loans, which is rapidly consuming many of the certificates, was made today in the house.

Bill Is Approved

The ways and means committee approved the Bacharach bill which would make the interest rate on the certificates four per cent. The veterans administration estimated this would cost the government $140,000,000 before the certificates mature in 1945.

Food which the veterans receive at their encampments today was the last to be purchased with funds administered by the police and the leaders were preparing to solicit donations to supply their self-administered commissary.

Tactics Changed

Rough handling by the veterans themselves caused communist agitators to change their tactics in working among the veterans. The communists today attempted to distribute a mimeographed sheet called "daily notes." A small negro boy was taken in hand and given trial by the veterans as he sought to pass the sheets about the Anacostia camp. Because of his size, he was allowed to leave unmolested after a warning not to come back.

The "daily notes" were couched in careful language and devoted much space to race discrimination. Many of the veterans in the encampments are negroes.

Original plans of the veterans' leaders had called for a "monster" demonstration today, but failure to secure proper permits changed that plan. Next it was decided to attempt to present a petition to Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Garner at the capitol Friday, but late in the day this plan was changed and a decision made to try again for a parade permit.

Economy Bill

lough plan after a short fight led by Senator Moses (R., N. H.), and a Republican independent, La Follette of Wisconsin.

It provides in brief that civilian federal employes working on a yearly basis be furloughed for a month without pay and those employed by the day be placed on a five-day week.

Robinson, in moving to recommit the bill to the committee to recommend new economies, said "it must be apparent to all of us that the so-called economy program has broken down."

Seen As Failure

He said the senate had cut from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 from the bill, leaving $140,000,000 to $150,000,000 but Byrnes said the figure was really $120,000,000.

Robinson characterized the senate's action as a "signal and disgusting failure in view of all the talk that has occurred on this subject."

"It not only appears that we have done little," he added, "but it is also apparent that we do not know what we have done.

"It's a deplorable failure and one that will reflect itself in disappointment throughout the country."

Avenue K And Broadway Is Site For Ferguson Rally

Former governors James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson will address Lubbock residents at Avenue K and Broadway instead of at Avenue Q and Broadway, as previously reported, J. A. Humphries, local Ferguson backer, said here Wednesday.

The Fergusons will bring their gubernatorial campaign here Friday, June 17, Mr. Humphries said.

Stocks Make Heavier Drafts On Last Week's Gains; Small Advance Remains

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Stocks made heavier drafts on last week's gains today and when the market closed little more than a point of that advance remained.

Trading was quiet, but failure of supports to appear during the third successive day of declining prices somewhat disconcerted brokers who watch for technical symptoms. Bonds eased, yet maintained a relatively steady undertone.

Trade news was on the debit side. Also, some tape students thought uncertainties in which federal relief and economy measures appeared to be involved had acted as a damper, it seemed, on the whole, that prospective buyers were awaiting signs of business gains before going to market with their money. Foreign exchanges were firmer for a time but tended to favor dollars in the later dealers.

to Dixson, who admitted in a statement to the county attorney, that he was in the machine at the time of the collision.

Dixson, in his statement, said he had stopped his car and that the machine was struck by the coupe.

"After they hit me I drove up or back up out of the way and then got out of my car and pried up the fender to get it off the wheel," he said.

Police still are searching for the driver of a car which struck the Rev. Bradner J. Moore at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q last week. The Episcopal minister was not seriously injured.

Army Fliers To Land In Lubbock

Ten to 20 United States army airplanes will land at Lubbock municipal airport Friday on a flight from Fort Sill, Okla., the fleet consisting of pursuit ships piloted by cadets and officers on a cross-country training flight from San Antonio.

The flight will be the second to visit Lubbock this month, and one other is scheduled Friday, June 17. Twenty-one ships, including 18 observation craft handled by cadets, stopped here last week after taking off at Fort Sill. This week's fliers are expected to begin arriving at about 9 o'clock.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, June 8. (AP)— Most markets reported a less active trade on fed steer yearlings, fed heifers and mixed yearlings as compared with yesterday, but values were generally considered steady. Crisis Described By Club Speaker

John Lee Smith, grand chancellor of Texas Knights of Pythians, told Lubbock Rotarians Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock that citizens of America face a crisis today just as serious as the one "our forefathers deliberated in Philadelphia." Dr. G. H. Ater, deputy district grand chancellor, was in charge of the program.

"We've reached one of those crossroads of history," Mr. Smith said, "where men must act to preserve the traditions and institutions of their country. Institutions which we have considered permanent are being threatened and forces are being unleashed which attack the foundations of our civilization, forces which have been leashed only through the compelling power of an orderly civilization.

"Things are happening right now in our country which need your attention and mine. In Washington, thousands of men are marching in demonstration of their wants for legislation. I read an editorial in a paper this morning, condemning in caustic terms those men. No man has a right to condemn them, it is just as un-American as the act of the men themselves.

"We have long-since lost the American republic to the lobbyists," Mr. Smith continued. "They have directed and controlled legislation and are still doing so. Until we condemn the modern sleek lobbyist who has a $20,000-a-year expense account and a like salary, we certainly have no right to condemn the humble citizen who marches for legislation in his behalf. It's a problem facing us, a problem whether or not the people will have charge of the government or whether we will have a bunch of paid dummies in our law-making bodies who do as lobbyists order them.

"You and I face a crisis that is serious to those of the future. That little group of 125 men, no larger than the one here today, are honored for their actions. I wonder if those in Washington now or this group here today will be done likewise. Our crisis is just as serious as the one facing them."

Lucius Halbert of Plainview, S. M. Melton of Cuero and I. R. Witt of Post were visiting Rotarians.

Vaughn Wilson of the Lions club appeared before the club and made a challenge for a baseball game between the two clubs. J. A. Raley accepted the challenge for a game to be played next Wednesday.

Texas Storm

and bringing a heavy rain in its wake.

The windstorm struck Wichita Falls at 5:30 p. m. and reached Fort Worth at 7:30 p. m.

Plane Is Held

Experiencing some of the difficulty of a ground crew mooring a dirigible, a dozen men at the municipal airport tonight kept a tight grip for 45 minutes on a tri-motored plane that almost left the ground in the sudden gale that blew up a moment after the ship landed.

The big plane, American Airways ship from Brownsville to Dallas, seemed to bring the windstorm on its wings. The storm broke just as the passengers climbed out and the pilot turned to get their luggage.

W. G. Fuller, airport manager called to every available man when he saw the plane pigeon-hop in the wind. They held it, moored it at every point possible, to stakes in the ground, attached ropes and began the tedious task of holding on to them until the storm passed. It was not for 45 minutes that they could relax their hold and safely trust the ship to stay on the ground.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP)—Demand was good for all grains on the Fort Worth cash grain market Wednesday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf port, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 33 1-2@33 1-2. No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 53@54; 14 per cent 54@55; 15 per cent 55@56; 16 per cent 56@58.

Barley, No. 3 nominal, 30@31.

Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo and No. 2 white kaffir 69@70 per 100 lbs.

Delivered Texas common points or group three:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@39 1-2, No. 2 white 39@39 1-2, No. 3 yellow 46 1-2@47 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points:

Oats, No. 2 red 22 1-2@23 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP) — Smashing downward below 50 cents a bushel for the new 1932 crop, wheat today went under any prices ever reached here excepting only last October.

Purchase power dwindled to almost the vanishing point, especially demand that usually comes from speculators.

Wheat in Chicago closed nervous, 7-8 to 1 3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 1-2 down, oats at 1-8 decline to 1-4 advance, and provisions varying from 13 cents setback to a rise of 2 cents.

Sterling Defends Attitude Of Ely

AUSTIN, June 8. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today that "a fellow is likely to say things under fire that he would not give expression to normally," in declaring he was not offended by testimony given by W. R. Ely, chairman of the highway commission at Palo Pinto.

Ely, testifying in a suit for injunction to restrain the commission from building the so-called Weatherford cutoff of the Bankhead highway, referring to the attitude of Governor Sterling opposing the project at this time, said he would not permit a governor to dictate to him.

"Judge Ely has done too much hard work for Texas for me to criticize him and I know he did not mean any reflection on me," Governor Sterling said. "Having been chairman of the highway commission once myself I know just how difficult Ely's job is. He has done fine work on the highway commission. There are absolutely no differences between us. I merely do not approve of building the cutoff at this time because I am not in favor of expending any public funds whatsoever unless it is absolutely necessary."

Governor Sterling said he believed there were more people who favored construction of the cutoff than there were opposing it.

Mayor Walker

Governor Roosevelt in a statement last Friday said "if the evidence in any case now before the legislative committee in their judgment or that of their counsel warrants it is time for the legislative committee and their counsel to stop talking and do something."

Promptness Claimed

The governor also said "I act in each case definitely, positively and with due promptness."

Whether the governor would consider the matter from Seabury to be tantamount to formal charges and appropriate for action as such was not known.

Apparently Seabury was of the opinion the governor would follow the procedure that led to a hearing for and the subsequent removal of Sheriff Thomas Farley, Tammany leader, for he said in closing his letter:

"From the record submitted, and after a hearing, you can determine whether the public interests and the maintenance of decent standards among public officials rquire that the Hon. James J. Walker should be removed from the office of mayor of the city, and can take such action as may be just to Mayor Walker and the people of the city of New York."

Generalizes Case

Seabury generalized his case against the mayor in two conclusions which were:

"That he has failed properly to execute the duties . . . which it was incumbent upon him to discharge, that he has acted in his official capacity as to prejudice the best interests of the people of the City of New York; that, in the course of his official conduct he has been actuated by improper and illegal considerations; that he has, while holding the office of mayor, been guilty of gross improprieties, and that his explanations of circumstances seriously reflecting upon the manner in which, as its chief executive, he has conducted the affairs of the City of New York, have been either so incomplete or so unworthy of credence as not to constitute acceptable explanations . . .

". . . Generally since he assumed office the mayor's conduct has been characterized by such malfeasance and nonfeasance in disregard of the duties of his office as mayor, and he has conducted himself, to the prejudice of the City of New York and its inhabitants, in a manner so far unbecoming the high office which he holds, as to render him unfit to continue in the office of mayor."

Group Of Women Pickets At Mine Routed By Guardsmen

CAMBRIDGE, O., June 8. (AP) — Routed by an Ohio national guard airplane after a hand-to-hand encounter with deputy sheriffs, a group of women pickets were dispersed at Harriett mine, near here, and two of their number held under arrest today.

When the officers' tear gas supply was exhausted an Ohio national guard observation plane piloted by Lieutenant Karl E. Bushong appeared over the mine and released tear gas bombs, routing the women and striking men who had joined in the melee.

The women, the sheriff charged, hurled stones at the automobiles of workmen.

Texas Tech Graduate To Substitute As Subject For Hypnotic Exhibition

Miss Helen Jackson, 1931 Texas Technological college graduate of 2024 Ninth street and an English instructor last year in Morton High school, will be hypnotized by Dr. de Zita at the Palace theater Thursday night, Miss Billie Gray, previously booked to appear, has gone to Tulia to attend an ill sister-in-law.

"I thought it would be a very interesting adventure," said Miss Jackson, who is 20.

"She is very calm and steady-nerved," Dr. de Zita said in praising his subject. "It takes an intelligent and broad-minded person to be hypnotized. Miss Jackson meets those requirements."

From the Palace theater, Miss Jackson will be driven in a Rix ambulance to a window in the Plains Furniture company where she will remain. Friday's schedule calls for: Breakfast furnished by the Glorieta at 10 o'clock with the hypnotist; beauty work by Lubbock Beauty shop operators at 11 and a tea and conversation with de Zita at 4 o'clock. All these events will take place while Miss Jackson is under the hypnotic spell.

In his blindfold drive Friday de Zita will drive a Pontiac automobile west from the Palace to Avenue Q, thence south to Broadway. Stops along his route east on Broadway and through the city will include the Glorieta, the Lubbock Beauty shop, Levine's, the Avalanche-Journal, Drexel Tire service, Scoggin-Dickey Motor company, Rix funeral home, the new federal building, the courthouse, the city police station and thence back to the Palace.

Aunt Of Death Victim Says Suicide Attempt Was Designed Only As Bluff

Earl Thornton, 27, for whom funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at Slaton, did not intend to wound himself fatally when he fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his chest Sunday night, his aunt, Mrs. O. K. Taylor, 2205 Twentieth street, said Wednesday.

The day before his death, Earl Thornton, 27, for whom funeral services were conducted this morning at Slaton, told his wife that he had not intended to wound himself fatally when he fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his chest, his aunt, Mrs. O. K. Taylor, 2205 Twentieth street, told The Journal today.

Thornton told his wife at the sanitarium Monday afternoon that he had shot himself to frighten her and so to gain her back, the aunt reported. Before Thornton's death Tuesday morning his wife, who said they had been "partially separated" a week, asserted that they had eliminated all differences between them, and that Thornton had said he wanted to live. The bullet punctured a lung.

Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church here, conducted the funeral at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church at Slaton. Burial was in a Slaton cemetery.

Thornton shot himself Sunday night in his room at his aunt's home. The aunt said she and other relatives had thought from the first that Thornton had not intended to wound himself fatally.

Besides his widow Thornton is survived by his father, J. R. Thornton, a Slaton gin operator; his brother, L. B. Thornton of Slaton; and Mrs. W. H. Johnson of Slaton. Funeral arrangements were made by Foster funeral home.

Capt. Dowling

struck a TNT cache, it detonated and set off two others in succession, and the depot soon was destroyed. Twenty men and two women were injured fatally.

For carrying on his duties under dangerous and trying conditions at the time of the blasts, Captain Dowling received the distinguished service medal.

Questions pertaining to the service Captain Dowling answered readily last night; but he declined to discuss any matter connected with politics.

Should the air forces be separated from the navy and army?

"I am not in favor of separation of the air force," he said.

Is the present national defense adequate?

"That's in politics," he said quickly. "I keep clear of that. At present, the government is curtailing expenses. The military takes what the civil government gives it and carries out orders. They do not want those of us in the service to talk; Washington does that for us."

At present, Captain Dowling is detached from the naval ammunition depot at Iona Island, N. Y., over which he had charge. He is to command the third destroyers squadron, an advancement from his last service at sea. His last command was the U. S. S. Vestal, repair ship of the scouting fleet. His first command was the U. S. S. Pastores during the World war. He made one round trip voyage, returning with a load of American soldiers.

Doctor Canon, who left the service in 1928, and Captain Dowling served two years on shore together while the government was prospecting in the Matanuska coal fields in Alaska. The latter's visit to Lubbock was to renew that friendship and to have the doctor fit him with new glasses.

"I remember more strongly my duty in north Russia during the war," the captain explained, "because we had a little more action. British, French, Polish, American, Italian, and Serbian troops were combined in that service, but the navy had little part in the expedition and I never was in action."

Does the navy still hold its attraction for him?

"I have no thought of retiring," Captain Dowling answered readily, explaining, "Sixty-four is the compulsory retirement age."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Grant, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Standefer, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stangel also were guests at the Canon home last night.

Hale Trial

court.

Judge Abernathy was the opening witness for the plaintiff and spent an hour and a half on the stand Wednesday morning in direct testimony. He spent an hour again in the afternoon on direct testimony and then was cross-examined by several defense attorneys for another hour.

The receiver was on the stand for an hour and a half.

Documents Introduced

More than a score of documents were introduced by the plaintiff as evidence, including bonds, minutes of the court, agreements and the like. Some of these were objected to by defendants but the court overruled objections.

Receiver Blankenbeckler introduced the minutes of the board of directors of the closed bank and other bank records.

Most of the questioning of Judge Abernathy, by Mr. Williams, covered the meetings of the commissioner's court relating to its attempts to secure some of the monies it had on deposit in the bank when it closed. He delved deeply into the surety bonds as well as the negotiable paper put up as security by the bank for being a county depository.

Bonds Were Posted

Bonds, including liberty bonds, county warrants or script and other paper, amounting to $107,500 had been posted as surety. The court and bank receiver is said to have compromised on a $79,531.56 settlement. Following his testimony a severe cross examination followed first with M. M. Chrestman, followed by Allen Wight, A. B. Hall, Nath Lechman, Crozier Gowan and Webster Atwell.

Wight secured the admission that $23,000 in liberty bonds and $11,000 in federal farm loan bonds, allocated to the escrow account, when sold, did not have the proceeds applied on the escrow account.

C. C. Crenshaw handled the direct examination of Mr. Blankenbeckler, starting with the reading of the minutes of the director's meeting when the directors voted to close the bank and place it in the hands of the comptroller of the currency.

Figures on the balances in the several county accounts in the bank, on certain dates, were asked by the examiner and read by the receiver. These included April 9 and September 12, 1931 as compared with March 20.

Mr. Blankenbeckler said receiver's certificates had been issued covering settlement of the county's account and one had been delivered and the other was being held up. He also identified time certificates cancelled by the bank. Details of how he arrived at a value for the bonds turned over to the county, were given.

Judge Atwell dismissed the remainder of the jury panel during the afternoon. Previously Arnold Davis of Fort Worth, assistant district attorney, had appeared in court. It had been indicated that there might be some pleas of guilty in connection with a recent raid in Plainview but this did not materialize.

Members of the jury chosen were: W. H. Robertson, W. F. Schroeder, Tom Sims, L. A. Lewis, C. W. Avery, L. C. Green, Sam Powell, C. E. Powell, Ben Hanker, D. P. Yoder.

Fellowship Given To Tech Graduate

IOWA State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ames, Iowa, has awarded a teaching fellowship and scholarship to Maurice P. Vannoy, of Lubbock, graduate assistant to the school of agriculture of Texas Technological college last year.

In addition, Vannoy has been elected to the Southern Scholarship Society of the South. A representative of the Tech school, in speaking of the Iowa appointment, declared it to be a "coveted honor."

P. S. Shearer, professor in animal husbandry at Ames, in writing Vannoy, said that the appointment is subject to the approval of President Hughes "but there is little question about its approval."

"Your teaching duties," Shearer wrote, "will be some substitute teaching, some paper work as it is assigned to you and possibly teaching a section of judging during the winter quarter. This appointment is effective Sept. 20."

Vannoy's duties in Tech have been similar to the ones he will have in the Iowa college.

Pro Question

sociates that he wants the question put up to the people. But the White House last night refused to say "yes" or "no."

The ranks of Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith stood stiffly yesterday in readiness for whatever next turn their conflict over the Democratic nomination will take. It was made clear again in New York that Smith backs John J. Raskob's proposal for prohibition repeal and a return to state control of liquor.

"Jim" Reed, the former Missouri senator who is his state's "favorite son" choice to top the Democratic ticket, estimated up to three-quarters of a billion dollars could be raised by legalizing and taxing 3 or 3 and 1-2 per cent beer and wine of limited strength. He, too, called for speedy action to change the dry laws.

Noted Surgeon For A Half Century Dies At Age Of 95

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. (AP) — Dr. William Williams Keen, who served his country in three wars and humanity in a brilliant half-century career in medicine, died at his home here last night at the age of 95. He had been ill for some time.

Dr. Keen entered the service first in 1861 as assistant surgeon of the first regiment, Massachusetts volunteers. He served in the Spanish-American war and was appointed by President McKinley on a commission to investigate the conflict but was obliged to decline. His World war service won him decorations from France and Belgium. It was largely due to his efforts that American soldiers were innoculated with paratyphoid serum.

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Whatever Republicans on capitol hill may believe to be the case, it was declared emphatically at the White House tonight that President Hoover has had no prohibition resubmission plank submitted to him and has agreed to none.

T. B. Taylor and H. P. Hodge

At the night session Blankenbeckler completed his direct testimony and was then subjected to a cross examination by several attorneys having three quarters of an hour. He answered questions relating to the case from records of the bank.

Mrs. M. Magee, county treasurer of Hale county was on the stand for more than an hour. Frank R. Day led her in direct testimony. She identified deposit slips, her own checks as treasurer and other papers. The cross-examination was very thorough.

Judge Atwell adjourned court shortly after 10 o'clock until the same hour this morning.

First Tinge Of Color Is Brightening The Bud Which Will Flower Into Big Convention Of Nation's Republicans

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—The first tinge of color today began to brighten the bud that will flower into a Republican national convention next week.

It lit up alike the dusky interior of the convention hall and the highly ornamented halls of the Congress hotel as decorators started unfurling the miles of draperies that will swathe these two centers of convention activities.

About the Congress, where most of the work of the Republican national committee will be done, there was an air of expectancy. The clamor of hammers filled the stadium.

The first scouts were arriving for the convention battle of 1932. Virtually all of the members of the national committee were settling down in their quarters pepaatoy to smoothing out disputes that have arisen in six delegations. They will take these up tomorrow and hear the contesting claims raised in Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee.

On the suface, the political waters were smooth. Incoming national committeemen and delegates voiced confidence that Hoover and Curtis would be renominated promptly and harmoniously.

A majority of the newcomers believed the platform would contain a resubmission plank.

These were not questions that worried the committee on arrangements. However. High up in the hotel, a tall, heavy, gray haired man with a ruddy face was wrestling with the multitude of problems of tickets, contracts, job-seekers and newspapermen. And less than a quarter of those who called at the suite of Ralph Williams, hard-working vice chairman of the Republican national committee, passed beyond the desk of his secretary in an outer office.

Amarillo Judge Enters Race Against Congressman Jones

AMARILLO, June 8. (AP)—Henry S. Bishop of Amarillo, judge of the 47th judicial district, has filed for a place on the ballot opposing Congressman Marvin Jones, up for re-election from the eighteenth district. Bishop, who has been on the district court bench for 14 years, entered the congressional race as a surprise. He has two more years to serve as judge.

Strictly Disagreed

It was a surprise for New York's Broadway and Park Avenue when Eleanor Post Hutton, society heiress to $50,000,000, over-rode her family's wishes to marry Preston Sturges, playwright best known for his long-run comedy, "Strictly Dishonorable." Now their romance is to end, according to reports from Paris, where Sturges is said to have been served with papers preliminary to a suit for annulment of the marriage. The picture shows them in happier days.

Texas Courts Place Seal Of Approval On Incorporation Of Fredericksburg

AUSTIN, June 8. (AP) — Texas courts today placed their seal of approval on the incorporation of Fredericksburg, founded in 1846 in the hill country and for many years considered the biggest unincorporated town in the commonwealth.

The third court of civil appeals upheld a decision of the Gillespie county district court finding the picturesque little town's special election of 1928 when a majority voted to incorporate valid.

That election was the fourth in which an effort had been made to create a municipality. Three former attempts had been rejected by the voters.

The case on appeal was in the nature of a quo warranto proceeding. It had been tried once before and taken to the supreme court. In that appeal the higher court held that the district court, where the case originated, had erred in sustaining general demurrers to the contestants' pleading instead of trying the cause on facts.

The appeal that time came up through the San Antonio civil appeals court, but was brought to the Austin appellate tribunal this time through an equalization of civil appeals courts dockets.

Contestants claimed that those who fixed the boundaries of the proposed municipality had acted fraudulently and arbitrarily in excluding certain territory.

M. B. Blair, associate justice of the civil appeals court, said this probably was the first instance in history where an incorporation contest had been based on "too little territory" included rather than too much.

Engine Being Erected Here

Capacity Of Municipal Light Plant In Lubbock Soon Will Be Increased By Installation Of New Unit

Capacity of the Lubbock municipal electric plant will be increased by 1,000 kilowat hours per hour with the installation of the new 320,000-pound Nordberg Diesel engine now being erected at the plant, C. N. Larsen, company erecting engineer, is aiding in location of the huge piece of equipment.

The engine was purchased on bids by the city commission in December and will cost about $52,000, F. O. B. Lubbock. One additional carload of the engine parts is to arrive yet, Larsen said.

Present plant capacity is about 2,300 KWH per hour, J. J. Graham, superintendent, said. Two 200-KWH engines will be retired from service with the completion of the new unit, leaving the city's capacity at about 2,900 KWH.

Normal day time consumption is between 1,200 and 1,300 KWH per hour and the peak load at night often touches 1,900 KWH. "Thus, the city will have a margin of about 1,000 KWH," Graham said.

The new engine, capable of 1,390 horse power, has an enormous crank shaft which was forged in one piece and which weighs more than 16,000 pounds, Larsen said. Base for the equipment was being completed yesterday.
