DAMAGE FEARED FROM WATER AS WINDS DIE OUT

TULSA PEOPLE FLEE OUT OF LOWLANDS; CAPITAL IS INUNDATED

(By Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, April 13.—Twice smitten within as many days by tornadoes, Oklahoma today faced floods again in its central and northern rivers. One Dies in Tornado A tornado, dipping down to rip a swath some ten miles long through Haskell and LeFlore counties late yesterday and then striking at Fort Smith, Arkansas, was believed to have claimed five lives and dangerously injured a score of persons. One Dies in Tornado Monday night a tornado hurled itself upon several communities in Canadian and Grady counties alike in the center of the state southwest of Oklahoma City, taking one life and critically injuring several. Making its first disastrous appearance near McClure, Oklahoma, late yesterday, a tornado plowed eastward through Milton, the farm region near Brokenoak, and the Liberty community, apparently leaping into the air and pouncing upon Fort Smith. Near McClure it took two lives, at Milton a local man and one more at Fort Smith. Mary Emma Wheeler, 32, it left the wreckage of dozens of farm homes in a devastated belt about a mile wide. From these homes crawled many injured persons, several believed to have been fatally hurt. About fifty houses were demolished in Fort Smith. The known dead in Oklahoma were: A. M. Putman, a Mr. Dozier and Mrs. John Ross. The dead in Fort Smith: Mrs. T. L. Fuller and Mrs. S. T. Hooper. Tulsa Is Threatened TULSA, Okla., April 13 (AP)—Residents of Cedar Island and lowland sections of Tulsa and suburbs were ordered from their homes here this morning following reports of a second flood warning from T. G. Shipman, United States weather forecaster at Fort Smith. The Arkansas river is above 14 feet now. Shipman predicted it would reach flood stage, or 16 feet, during the day. People Flee From Flood OKLAHOMA CITY, April 13 (AP)—Residents of more than twenty city blocks in a thickly populated district on the north bank of the Canadian river here were warned to flee their homes today. A levee, originally six feet wide, had worn to less than a foot during the night and was expected to go out, flooding the entire area. A break in the levee, city firemen who are on guard in the territory say, will cause a flood of proportions of the June, 1923, flood, recognized as the greatest in the history of the city. River Up At Fort Smith FORT SMITH, Ark., April 13 (AP)—Swollen waters of the Arkansas river which reached a stage of more than three feet above flood stage at Fort Smith this morning and 5.3 above at Fort Gibson, Oklahoma, were rising rapidly and will reach a stage of approximately thirty feet within 48 hours, according to the weather bureau. Flood stage here is 22 feet. Damage is estimated at about $250,000. Lubbock-Slaton Bank Case Nearing End Arguments of counsel in the case of the Citizens National bank of Lubbock vs the Slaton State bank of Slaton, on trial in 72nd civil district court here before Judge Homer L. Pharr, seeking collection of $12,000 alleged to be due from the defendant, were practically completed early this afternoon, and the case was expected to reach the jury late today. The case grew out of an act of J. K. Wood, former vice president of the Slaton bank, in lending to the Lubbock institution notes in the amount of $12,000, which said notes have not been collected. Wood, according to testimony and arguments in the case, fled before Judge Pharr, wanted on four indictments charging embezzlement and forgery. Many legal technicalities are involved in the proceedings. A jury verdict was considered probable this evening. Wm. Penn—5 cents—A Good Cigar

Meadow Man Badly Hurt In Accident

George Forcus, of Meadow, who received serious injuries last night when his car overturned near Kress, was brought to Lubbock for treatment today. Mr. Forcus was enroute to his ranch near Happy when driving alone when his car overturned. He was soon picked up and taken into Plainview where he received medical assistance. He was unconscious for about eight hours and his head is severely cut but he is resting well this afternoon and will recover, Dr. O. W. English, friend of the injured man, said this afternoon.

Rotary Governor Lubbock Visitor

W. C. EDWARDS

Traveling in the interest of Rotary International, of which he is district governor in Northwest Texas, Will C. Edwards, Denton newspaper publisher, is in Lubbock today. While in the section he will deliver Rotary chapters to Littlefield and Brownfield. He was a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Texas three years ago.

ROTARY HEARS PLAN OF CITY

Mayor Parrish And Three Of His Commissioners Tell Of Bond Issue

The Rotary club got first hand information of the plans of the City Commission to bring before the voters of the city of Lubbock a proposed bond issue, which will be used to retire a large amount of city indebtedness in the form of warrants, which bear six per cent interest, in regular meetings at noon today. The bonds will bear five per cent, which will make a saving of one per cent on $250,000 per year and the commission has figured this can be done without increasing the taxes of the property owners of the city. Appearing on the program was Walter Posey, J. O. Jones, J. H. Hankins, commissioners, and Mayor Pink L. Parrish. Edwards On Hand The club was honored by the presence of Governor Bill Edwards of Denton, who is head of the forty-first district of Rotary in Texas. He spoke in very pleasing words of the splendid work of the Lubbock club. He said Lubbock was carrying out the functions of Rotary more completely than any other club in this district, and was to be commended for the work certain members were doing in the organization of other clubs in this part of the state. He is enroute to Brownfield, where he will present the charter to that club, and will also deliver a chapter to Littlefield on Thursday night, both clubs are the result of the good work of Nell Wright and other Lubbock Rotarians. Slaton Is Having an Inter-city Meeting Friday night, and the Lubbock club was extended an urgent invitation to have a large delegation attend. About twenty members are expected to attend.

Carroll Faints On Way To Jail Cell

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 13 (AP)—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, enroute to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta today collapsed on the train shortly before reaching here and was removed to a Greenville hospital. Physicians examining Carroll said the collapse was not of a serious nature and that the producer regained consciousness before being removed to the hospital. Marshall W. Pecht, in charge of the prisoners, said the removal was made as a precautionary measure because he wished to take no chances with Carroll's health.

DEFENSE RESTS GERMANY CASE

Counsel Agrees That Order Of Consolidation Of Secretary-Collector Not Recorded

The defense in the J. R. Germany embezzlement case, charging misapplication of $1,743.25 rested its case shortly before 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon following introduction of documentary evidence and agreement between opposing counsel that no other is shown in minutes of the City Commission prior to the date of the consolidation of the offices of city secretary and tax collector. The prosecution indicated that one or more rebuttal witnesses would be called, but it was not known whether or not arguments would be started before Thursday morning. Defense counsel, through G. W. McClure, city secretary, introduced documentary evidence showing that the consolidation order was not contained in the minutes, to which the state agreed. Defense counsel, who opened their side of the case Wednesday morning, were introducing minutes of the City Commission at 2:30 when the announced intention of showing that there never was an order entered on the minutes consolidating the office of city secretary and tax collector, G. W. McClure, city secretary, was on the stand, the second witness at the afternoon session. Defense counsel through R. A. Holland, city tax collector, introduced in evidence a city voucher issued September 1, 1924 marked "tax salary," check stub showing payment of "official salary" to Mayor F. R. Friant, commissioners J. O. Jones, R. W. Blair, Geo. C. Varnish, and Walter S. Posey, and R. A. Sonder, city attorney, all city officials at the time; and the city payroll showing that Mr. Holland was on pay of the city as an official. Holland Said Not Official Earlier in the day, the defense had failed in an attempt to show that Mr. Holland was official tax collector instead of Mr. Germany just prior to the date of the allegation, when Mr. Holland on cross-examination by prosecution counsel (the having been called today by the defense) testified that his every official act during the time was under authority of Mr. Germany. The jury was brought into the courtroom at 1:35, and the delay in starting Wednesday's session was explained by Judge Mulliken as due to arrangement by defense counsel of certain testimony in an effort to save time. Documentary Evidence Given Documentary evidence, concerning officials, wages, and other phases of the city government was introduced, and R. A. Holland, present city tax collector, was called to the stand by the defense after counsel Tuesday had reserved the privilege of further cross-examination at today's session. Documentary evidence introduced ahead of the testimony, including portions of the city charter included: section 16 of article 5, relating to the appointment by the commission of officers of the municipal government, and their removal; section 23, article 5, relating to the power of the commission. IMPROVISED MORGUES SHELTER DEAD IN ROCK SPRINGS WHILE RESCUERS WORK IN WRECKAGE

33 OF 62 DEAD FOUND SO FAR ARE IDENTIFIED AND DEATH TOLL IS EXPECTED TO REACH 82 BY NIGHT; 170 PEOPLE INJURED

THE IDENTIFIED DEAD

J. T. Crowder and wife; Emory Willis and his mother; Mrs. William Phelps; David McKinney; A Mrs. Ferris and her son; Mrs. Ola Pennington and her daughter Nola Mae; H. B. Griffith and daughter Mona; Gus Henderson, wife, son Raymond and two other children; R. Dollahite, editor of Edwards County Leader, and daughter Mattie; Charles Baker; Mrs. P. T. Wittenburg and son, Peter; Burnett Babb; Two children of Joe Billings; Mrs. Walter Adams and son; Rev. Spiery of the Rock Springs Methodist church, wife and two children; A child of the Renfro family; and Charles McMain.

ROCK SPRINGS, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Improvised morgues and emergency hospitals today held 62 dead and 170 wounded, victims of an insane snout of horror which whirled against this isolated south-west Texas county seat town into wreckage last night during the worst tornado in the section's history. Twenty of the wounded are expected to die before night. Only 32 of the dead had been identified. Most of the others are Mexicans. Swollen streams and bar roads hampered efforts at relief measures already made difficult by Rock Springs' situation, 37 miles from the nearest railroad, a narrow gauge lumber affair, terminating at Campwood, where the train was converted into a hospital.

Twister Plays Pranks

The usual sardonic pranks of the twister were in evidence. A baby was hurled fifty feet through the air and landed safely, almost gently. T. K. Newell, an automobile salesman, in the midst of the wind, rushed into the splintering Valentine hotel to save whoever he might. He continued to extricate dying and wounded after the hotel was in ruins. Telephone Girl a Heroine The town's telephone operator, Gladys Lowrey, spent the night in an improvised station, without shelter, merely a telephone instrument which a lineman had attached to an unbroken pole. Lightning was so intense at times the instrument could not be used. Whenever there was a bull Miss Lowrey kept in communication with Korrville and San Antonio. Many survivors, some injured, spent the night in the darkness broken only by lightning. Few buildings were left in condition to house those hurt. With a population of 500, Rock Springs, center of a sparsely settled, coast-raising section in southwest Texas, is one of the most isolated towns of the state, and is located on a dome of 2,000 feet elevation. The native stone construction of many of its buildings is believed to have saved many lives. Relief Workers Busy Relief workers, including physicians and nurses from San Antonio and Korrville and a detachment of troops from Fort Clark, were delayed in arriving with aid on account of storm damaged roads. After the tornado passed, two women, laying side by side, one on the verge of unconsciousness asked: "Are you sleeping well?" "I'll be sleeping in a minute." She died with the last word and her companion lapsed into unconsciousness. The storm came from the northeast with little or no warning just after (Turn on Page 4, Column 2, Please)

ZWEIFEL ASKS COOK RELEASE

U. S. Prosecutor Suggests Five Year Probation Period For Explorer Of Northland

(By Associated Press) NEW ORLEANS, April 12.—United States District Attorney Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, Texas, today applied to the United States circuit court of appeals here to set aside an order releasing Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who claimed to have discovered the north pole, from Leavenworth prison on a five year probation period. Relieves Him of Fine The order, issued recently by Judge Wilson in United States district court at Fort Worth in addition to releasing Dr. Cook on a probation period, also relieved him of a fine of $12,000. The appeal was taken under advisement.

The books are to be out by May 15, he said. Money to finance the book has already been raised by members of the class with plays and other projects. Mr. Green has been assisted in compiling the book by Manell Hall, business manager, and his assistant, Marjorie Green, Miss Sallie Dean, assistant editor, and other members of the class.

Boll Weevil Will Be Prolific, Is Feared

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—The department of agriculture in its cotton boll weevil experience report today said it was too early to predict final emergence but that it was now obvious that the percentage of survivors would probably be greater than in 1925 in many points.

Gang War Takes One Life In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 13 (AP)—An outbreak of gang warfare, the second within a few weeks, early today took the lives of two men. Edwin Callahan, 34, was riddled with bullets from a "pump" gun as he stood on the running board of a speeding automobile about to fire at four pursuers in another machine. The second victim, unidentified, was found propped against an entrance of Lankau hospital, and died a short time later from the effects of heavy blows on the head.

THIRTY-SIX PILGRIMS DIE IN INDIA'S RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

(By Associated Press) HARDWAR, United Provinces, India, April 13.—Thirty-six pilgrims were crushed to death and many injured during a rush to be the first to bathe in the holy Ganges river as part of the Kumbha Mela, or Hindu religious bathing ceremony. The ceremony which has been going on since the first of March, reached its final stage last night when vast numbers of pilgrims entered the water of the sacred river. In the rush which occurred at the wooden barricades erected along the river 21 women and 15 men were killed. Many others were taken to the hospitals, suffering from serious injuries. The Kumbha Mela is a feast of peculiar sanctity which is held every twelfth year.

Brakeman Killed In Cattle Train Wreck

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 13 (AP)—J. M. Williams of Muskogee, brakeman on a Midland Valley freight train, was killed in a cattle train wreck near Myers, 112 miles northwest of here, today. The engine was derailed due to soft track, according to reports to the general offices of the road here.

Area Four Miles Square

The storm area was about four miles square with the town in the center. Every part of the town was in its path. Houses splintered; trees were rammed through brick buildings and people were hurled through the air to death or injury. For a little more than five minutes the night's demon snote at the heart of Rock Springs. G. M. Carson, surrounded by friends and his family, was about to cut the cake of his 62nd birthday. A splintering roof above their heads ended the party. The aged man was blown from the house and more than 100 feet from the wreckage. He was found stunned but otherwise uninjured. After the storm had gone there was only the blackness of night and the cries of the dying and wounded. The dazed survivors stumbled among the ruins, their cries of delirium drowning in many instances the calls of the loved ones they sought. Organization Begins Finally Black Perkins, a county commissioner of Edwards county crawled to a spot left clear by the storm, and shouted. Then others took up the call and made their way to the sound of the first voice. As the central spot the men divided into groups of three or more. Street by street the silent groups stumbled

Relatives Of Man Here Are Victims

O. W. Dollahite, of this city, is a brother of Ripley Dollahite, editor of the Rock Springs Leader, who, along with his daughter, Mattie, was killed in a storm which swept that town last night. Mr. Dollahite left for Rock Springs this morning.

Low Necks, Trick Beadings and Trains Give Dazzling Effects

of gowns for the first warm evenings. Brocades still are strong, although the filmy georgettes, chiffons and soft satins replace the rich, heavy tulle cloths so popular this winter. I note more latitude in the way our evening gowns may be cut than fashion has granted in many a day. The gown may have a trail of gold or red, may mark one gown distinctive, while a bold development in soft lace or intricate beading on panels may distinguish others. Like Moonlight Today I show two of the most alluring importations that spring has brought. La Coqs, with its smart, slim, shimmering like the moonlight on a summer sea when its wearer dances. For it is made of blue, silver and green brocade with exquisite silver lace forming the bottom of the skirt, the V-neck and the top of the train. The train extends clear from the shoulder, strapped with silver galloon. This gown, as named, evening gown, is short, either short or almost touching the floor must be the smart gown. There is no half-way place for evening gowns this season. All Tangerine The other model is a Worth creation. Tangerine Elizabeth cloth is its gorgeous material. Tangerine crystals, rhinestones and silver beads encumber the uneven tiers. Silver outlines the extremely low V back and rounded front neck. Even with its rows of tulle, this gown preserves the slim silhouette. A silver flower, with a tangerine center, tops the left shoulder. The elaborateness of the spring evening gown allows freedom of design as in jewels worn with them. Such gorgeous models as the two shown are stunning enough to really need no jewels to complete their dazzling effects. But jewels, as coliffours, are the individual choice of women.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The heavy artillery of baseball is in action.

Salvos of base hits resounded yesterday in the ball parks of seven cities where the opening games of the big league season were played before some 200,000 fans.

Six home runs marked the opening day, and those were divided between two teams. The Giants gathered three of them in pouncing out a 15 to 7 victory over the Phillies at Philadelphia.

Cardinals Are Beaten
The world's champion Cardinals lost to the Chicago Cubs when the home team unlimbered a few oversize how-

Billy Evans Says:

If you were a major league manager, starting your first year, and was suddenly deprived of your star, a player rated as the best outfielder in the American League, you would feel mighty tough about it.

That's the way Ray Schalk, new pilot of the Chicago White Sox, feels, only more so.

It is doubtful if any team starting its spring training ever received a worse shock than the attempt in the part of Johnny Mostil, Schalk's premier outfielder, to take his life.

I can recall only one similar happening. About 20 years ago, Chick Stahl of the Boston Red Sox, committed suicide because of ill health, just a few days prior to the opening of the season. It so upset the club that the team finished last, if my memory serves me correctly.

Like Mostil, Stahl was a prime favorite with the players and it is a strange coincidence that he was the star center fielder of the club, Mostil's position with Chicago.

Entire Team Serious
It is very apparent that the Mostil tragedy has upset the Chicago club to a marked degree. Usually a care-free aggregation, the Sox seem very serious-minded and I have no doubt but that the Mostil affair has created such a condition.

No one on the ball club has been more affected by the tragedy than Manager Ray Schalk. A great admirer and close friend of Johnny, he has suffered a severe shock because of personal reasons. To this, one must add the worry that naturally results because of Mostil's absence from the lineup.

When Ray Schalk consented to take over the Chicago club as successor to Eddie Collins, the outfield was one part of the club that gave him no great concern. He felt in Bill Falk, Johnny Mostil and Bill Barrett, he had one of the strongest outfielders in the American League, and rightly so. However, the passing of Mostil has completely upset his outfield plans.

Like Boone Gets a Chance
In all probability, it means that Bill Barrett must shift from right to center. Bill had just about learned the intricacies of right field and mastered the sun field handicap that faces the right fielder at Chicago as well as several other American League parks.

Barrett isn't so keen for playing center, but will give Schalk his best. That means that Ike Boone will likely go to right field. Boone can hit, but he is no Tris Speaker as a fielder.

No, instead of having his outfield definitely settled he has two doubtful spots. Randolph Moore, a youngster who starred at Longview, Texas, last year, is a fine prospect, a really great fielder, but there is hardly a chance that he can step in and hit major league pitching with only one year's experience.

Good Pitching Expected
It is just possible that Bill Hunnefeld may solve part of Schalk's worry. Last season he did yeoman service at short second and third and hit mighty well. Maybe he will prove the key to the outfield problem by being shifted to right or center.

Manager Schalk admits that such a thing is a possibility, but that is as far as he would go on that score.

itzers in the hitting of Webb and Grimm. Webb came through with two home runs and Grimm crashed out another. The score was 16 to 1.

Babe Ruth was left behind in the heavy hitting parade when he could not get his eye on the ball as the Yankees met and defeated the Athletics at Yankee stadium. He struck out twice and was benched in the sixth for a pinch hitter.

Cobb Looks Good
In the same game Ty Cobb appeared and showed some of the base running that has made him one of the outstanding figures in the national game for years. He beat out a bunt, got to third by a hair with a hook slide, and later scored. The Yankees beat the McMillenny team of old timer talent by 8 to 3 before a record opening crowd of 65,000.

It was a bad day for pitchers, but a few names stood out, most of them veterans. Old Jess Petty pitched sterling ball for Uncle Bobbie's clan at Boston where the Brooklynites beat the Braves, 4 to 2. He held them hitless through the sixth inning and allowed only seven safeties in the entire game.

Hoyt Goes Well
Another good pitching performance was turned in by Walter Hoyt of the Yanks who turned down the Athletics with eight hits.

The familiar figure of Walter Johnson was not in the box at Washington as the Senators downed the Red Sox 6 to 2, before President and Mrs. Coolidge. But Coveleskie, another veteran, pitched good ball. Grover Cleveland Alexander, the Cardinals' iron man, fared not so well at Chicago and was forced out of the game in the third by the Cubs' heavy hitting.

The teams that won their openings were the Yanks, Giants, Robins, Cubs, Pirates, Senators and Indians. The Pittsburgh sluggers nosed out the Reds, 2 to 1, and the Indians beat the White Sox 3 to 2. Rain prevented the Tiger-Bevons game.

Sixteen Cups in One Family Is Record Of Olivers, Of Georgia

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 13. (AP)—A small sized golf tournament can be held by the Oliver family almost any time.

W. M. Oliver, 46, the father, has played in every game since the organization of the Georgia-Florida Golf League and with Billy, 18, and John 16, two of his sons, holds the low score record of his home course. Each has a 68.

Billy twice has won the championship cup at the University of Georgia and captured the "Piny Woods" tournament at Thomasville in 1925 by beating John. Last year John won the low qualifying score medal in the Thomasville tourney.

W. M. Oliver, 26, the third son, is captain of the University golf team and in 1926 was runner-up in the "Piny Woods" championship.

Sixteen golf cups are in the home, and the golfing family is planning further conquests this spring and summer.

'Battering Babe' Benched For Pinch Hitter As Yankees Win From Macks

Falling irrationally in his first three appearances at the plate in New York yesterday, when the American league champions opened the season with a win over the Philadelphia Athletics, George Herman Ruth, $79,000 per year home-run star, was benched in the sixth inning by Manager Huggins, who sent in Ben Paschal to hit and play for the Sultan of Swat. Paschal made one hit in two trips to the plate while the Big Bam warmed his trousers in the doughnut.

Secrets of 16 Years Successful Pitching

BY GROVER ALEXANDER, Veteran Pitcher of World's Champions

ONLY ONE SORE ARM AND ONE MISHAP REGISTERED IN ALEX'S LONG CAREER

This is my seventeenth season in the National league and I have often been asked how much longer I expect to remain. My future is uncertain. Just like it is with all pitchers.

I have passed my 40th birthday. Judging by the way I feel today I expect to be pitching big league baseball for at least five more years. I believe I will, barring injury.

But pitching arms are not guaranteed against injury. I have been very fortunate in this respect. As for a sore arm, well I have had only one in my entire career.

This was several years ago while with the Cubs. I had pitched a tough game in Cincinnati on a hot day and we caught an early train for Pittsburgh. While sleeping I knocked the covers off my arm and going through the mountains a stiff breeze blew through the berth.

I woke up the next morning with a kink at the right elbow. It was very stiff but instead of having it massaged I rubbed some olive oil on it for two days. Then I found a warm spot at the park and in pitching for 15 minutes the sun just burned out the kinks.

I have had but one serious injury. I blame myself for this, too. While pitching during batting practice to a young fellow named Vogel with the Cubs, we reached the end of our time. I had pitched my last one, when Vogel asked me to give him one more. I did, just lobbing one up to him.

I started walking to the bench when I heard the crack of the bat. The ball was sailing right for my face. I put up my right hand, and the ball crashed against my wrist. Fortunately there was only a minor fracture and I was out only two weeks, the longest time in my entire career.

I know a number of star twirlers who like to fuss around the infield

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED TO BE IN COMPETITION

6 TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA COLLEGES WILL BE IN MEET THIS WEEK

(Special to the Journal)
CANYON, April 13.—More than one hundred athletes from six colleges of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico have already been entered in the Great Plains intercollegiate track and field meet that is to be held in Canyon Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the West Texas State Teachers college. Entries from other schools are coming in daily and it is expected that there will be approximately 200 athletes in attendance at the meet this year. This is the seventh annual resumption of the Great Plains meet and this year bids fair to be the best year in the history of this athletic classic of the central west.

Prizes Are Offered
The directors of the meet are offering first, second and third place medals to the winners—gold for first, silver for second and bronze for third places. As an added attraction a white gold Elgin watch is being offered the winner of the highest number of points. Last year this prize was won by the brilliant Walker of Texas Technological college. This year Walker will be back but he will be hotly contested for high point honors by Keith of West Texas, who beat Walker at Lubbock last Saturday in both the 100 yard and the 220 yard dashes. Keith ran the hundred in 9.9 seconds and the 200 yard dash in 22 seconds flat. Simmons of Southwestern Teachers college of Weatherford, Oklahoma may prove to be the undoing of both of these dash men as he has a record of 9.8 seconds in the century and slightly less than 22 seconds in the 220 yard dash. Simmons is also a broad jumper and shot putter.

Roswell Team Enters
New Mexico Military Institute is the latest school to enter the meet and that bunch are evidently coming to win the whole thing for they have entered no less than thirty-eight men with men in both the singles and doubles tennis matches. The entry of the institute swells the total number of men entered to well above a

School Teacher Gives Alarm In Rock Springs Storm

SURVIVORS OF ROCK SPRINGS TORNADO TALK

DESCRIPTION OF STORM READS LIKE FAIRY BOOK STORY

(By Associated Press)

ROCK SPRINGS, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Crawling through a window of the Valentine hotel, which though partially wrecked gave refuge to sixty persons, and commanding an automobile, Miss Abigail Eastland of Sonora, a teacher in the public school at Rock Springs, drove 20 miles Tuesday night to the Ruby Davis ranch and telephoned to Sandy, the first news of the storm disaster in the Edwards county seat. A youth named Bartley accompanied her on the drive over rain-flooded roads, being the only person Miss Eastland could find whose automobile would operate.

Miss Eastland was standing in the front door of the frame part of the hotel when the tornado suddenly descended, a post whirling by being the first warning of danger. Other guests dragged Miss Eastland inside the new concrete part of the hotel as the original frame building collapsed. The heavy building withstood the storm.

Means of Injured Heard

Dead and injured lay scattered among the debris and cries for help came from all directions when Miss Eastland emerged after the tornado. Its duration was timed by one of the survivors of the hotel at exactly five minutes.

J. W. House, cafe proprietor, discovered the tornado—a black, funnel-shaped cloud whirling upon the town from the north—while in the rear of his place of business, which also was his home. He was unable to close the rear door and grabbed a mattress beneath which he and Mrs. House crouched beside a counter.

Mexican Town Wiped Out

"Suddenly the roof went off from over our heads and we were blown into the street, still hanging to the mattress," Mr. House related. Though bruised and cut, neither he nor Mrs. House was seriously hurt. The cafe was a frame and sheet iron building north of the postoffice off the main square on the road leading to Sonora. Not a trace was left of the Mexican settlement, composed largely of one and two-room huts in the northern part of Rock Springs, where the tornado first struck. Half of the dead are Mexicans. The injured were estimated to number between 200 and 300.

Some of the most seriously hurt were being taken to San Antonio in five airplanes that came from that city. Captain Fred Clark, near Brakenville, in Kinney county, 60 miles distant, are patrolling Rock Springs, directing the relief work and hiring all excess workers. The soldiers brought their emergency hospital and field kitchens.

dark. Fire broke out soon after and the postoffice and a restaurant, two of the shells still withstanding the wind, were burned.

Of the injured, twenty are expected to die before night.

Most of the unidentified dead are Mexicans.

Ambulances Are Busy

Ambulances from Junction, Kerrville, Del Rio and other nearby points, were converging on the injured to Campwood, 25 miles south, in the theater emergency hospital. Additional ambulances are expected from San Antonio and other places.

Swollen creeks between Kerrville and Rock Springs at noon still withheld valuable aid in the form of food, medical supplies and bedding.

Rescue work, which was disorganized immediately after the storm Wednesday morning, was proceeding satisfactorily under a warm sun. All of the dead have been removed from the debris and assembled at one of the town morgues. Some of the bodies were mutilated beyond recognition.

Planes Carry Aid

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Three airplanes took off from Kelly field at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday morning to carry aid to the storm sufferers of Rock Springs and authorities of the training center were prepared to send any other help needed as soon as one of the ships could return with information as to conditions in the devastated area.

One of the planes was the airplane ambulance flown by Master Sergeant E. F. Wendell with Major C. L. Beaven, chief flight surgeon at Kelly field as passenger. Sergeant Wendell was prepared to ferry injured persons to hospitals in San Antonio and Major Beaven carried a field medical kit for use in rendering first aid.

Campwood Aids Survivors

CAMPWOOD, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Campwood today forsook the normal routine of life to minister to survivors of the Rock Springs tornado.

The only motion picture theater here was transformed into an emergency hospital.

At daylight two persons arrived by automobile from Rock Springs, which is 25 miles north of here. They were Mrs. Sam Henry, aged woman not expected to survive her injuries, and Milton Harris, also seriously hurt. More were expected.

Uvalde Is Base

UVALDE, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Uvalde this morning became the base of relief work for the little city of Rock Springs, 77 miles north of here which was swept by a tornado last night, leaving a death toll of at least forty and scores of injured.

With the first flash through the telephone exchange here that Rock Springs had been struck, every able bodied man in the town volunteered to go to its assistance. Within half an hour after the news of the disaster was received, at 10 o'clock forty automobiles, loaded with nurses, physicians and relief workers were enroute to the stricken town.

But ten miles north of here, on the Rock Springs road, Indian creek, normally a small stream, was out of banks from the flood which had accompanied the tornado. Inundated by this obstacle, men waded into the water and pushed some of the cars across the flood tide rising to the seats of the cars. After crossing the cars sped on to Rock Springs, carrying first aid kits and supplies. Some of those relief workers are expected to return here momentarily.

Moody Sends Message

AUSTIN, April 13 (AP)—Governor Moody in a telephone call to his office here from Dallas today directed a message to the county judge of Edwards county in which Rock Springs, razed by a tornado last night is situated, offering aid and sympathy.

"I wish to extend my sympathy to the citizens of Rock Springs and to the families whose relatives lost their lives. Please call for any assistance within my power," the telegram, addressed to C. H. Ginner, county judge, said.

Moody earlier in the morning had communicated with W. B. Gateswood, his private secretary, who has been making investigations in Berger and other oil boom towns.

The nature of his telephone conversation with Gateswood was not learned.

Meanwhile, Representative Roosevelt of Mason county, representative from a district including Edwards county, conferred with Assistant Adjutant General Nicholas and the adjutant's office here. His plea for aid for Rock Springs will be met if it is necessary, it was said.

Baby Dies Near Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 13 (AP)—A baby was killed, several persons injured and a number of houses and outlying buildings were destroyed or damaged when a storm struck the Watson community, five miles northeast of Arlington early today, according to telephone reports here.

Kennedale Is Struck

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—A tornado struck the small town of Kennedale, eleven miles southeast of Fort Worth, about 6:30 o'clock this morning, demolishing two residences, a dairy barn, and the school house. No one was injured, telephone reports said.

A wind storm also struck near Hebron, 30 miles northwest of Dallas early today. Reports from the telephone operator at Hebron stated members of a Mexican farmer's family had been injured and their house destroyed.

Three negroes were injured and two houses destroyed by a tornado which cut a path 100 yards wide and two miles long near Needmore, Oklahoma. Eight miles north of Denison, last night.

Mother Saves Children

The home of Mrs. Albert Wilson at Kennedale was wrecked but Mrs. Wilson led five small children to a storm cellar after the roof of the building had collapsed.

The home of a man named Reynolds also was destroyed.

The Kennedale school house was badly damaged, the roof being lifted off. Had the storm struck two hours and a half later, it would have caught the school in full session.

Storm Near Belton

BELTON, Texas, April 13 (AP)—A twister damaged property in the rural districts northwest of Belton early today. The extent of the damage was unknown here as wires were down.

Storm At Ballinger

BALLINGER, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Trees were uprooted, glass windows smashed and signs demolished here early today by a strong gale and electrical storm. The wind was accompanied by a half inch rain.

Ask Red Cross To Aid

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—National Red Cross headquarters here appealed today to the 215 Red Cross chapters in Texas to donate funds for the relief of Texas tornado sufferers.

Fifteen doctors and thirty nurses were directed to proceed from San Antonio and Kerrville to the devastated area. Arthur Shaw, Red Cross camp director at San Antonio, will organize emergency relief work.

Early Information Sparse

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 13 (AP)—Sparse information trickling through crippled roads about telephone connections early today left estimates of dead ranging from 50 to 150 and mangled bodies in the wake of the Rock Springs tornado, which virtually wiped the little Edwards county seat off its mountainous elevation, 120 miles west of here, last night.

Rescue parties composed largely of physicians and nurses from here and neighboring towns, all distant, were forging toward Rock Springs, which is 20 miles from the nearest railroad line, a lumber branch terminating at Camp Wood.

Until the relief forces reach the devastated scene and complete a check up, actual extent of the casualties cannot be learned.

Lockney Wins First In Scholastic Meet

FLOYDADA, April 13.—Twenty-five class A, class B, and rural schools took part in the annual Scholastic League meet held here Friday and Saturday in which Lockney carried off the county championship cup for class A.

A school from the Sandhill community won the same honor for class B schools.

According to the officials of the meet it was one of the most successful ever held. Ideal weather prevailed both days and the crowd included visitors from several counties. All literary events were held in the high school auditorium and were judged by special judges selected from the staff of the West Texas State Teachers college. The track events were held on the high school grounds on Saturday afternoon.

Although failing to keep possession of the all-round county championship cup through failure to place entries in the junior track events, the Floydada school succeeded in keeping thirteen "boving cups" many of which became the permanent property because of three consecutive wins.

The fair closed Saturday night with the presentation of the cups and the "My Community" contest sponsored by the Floydada chamber of commerce. This contest, although being its first year, proved very interesting and will be continued as long as the consent of the officials can be obtained to do so.

Last School Fund Dollars Are To Go

AUSTIN, April 13 (AP)—Two of the remaining three dollars left in the per capita scholastic apportionment for the Texas public schools will be paid out about May 10, if present plans of the department of education are carried out. The last dollar, which will be number 14, for every recorded school child in Texas, may be paid before the end of the school year, education department officials said. They have until August 31, end of the fiscal year, however, to make the last payment.

A $2 payment made last week to those school qualified to receive it brought the total paid so far this school year to $11.

Warrants were temporarily withheld so far this school year to 144 counties, however, because of their failure to file approved depository warrants with the department of education.

State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs wrote city and county superintendents reminding the latter the department is not allowed by law to issue the apportionment warrants until the bonds have been filed.

CRUDE OIL CUT

PITTSBURGH, April 13 (AP)—Six grades of Pennsylvania crude oil were cut 25 cents a barrel by purchasing agencies here today. Keister crude, in addition, was cut 35 cents to $1.10 a barrel.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—Selling orders were more numerous at the opening of the stock market today, but buyers were limited to frictionless bids from Nash Motors, which fell one point and Dupont 1 1/2. Radio Corporation and Savage Arms touched new minimums for the year. Some substantial advances, however, were registered, including a point each in Southern Railway and Union Bag and Paper and 2 points in air reduction.

Shelco preferred advanced 2 points in reflection of the favorable annual statement, but other oils eaned off under the influence of the 25 cent cut in price of Pennsylvania crude. Buyers of new steel combinations, involving Otis Steel, caused a jump of 3 1/2 points in the prior preferred shares, while the common touched a new 1927 high. Commercial Solvents continued its exceptional rise, jumping five points to 34, a new record, compared with the low of this year of 22, registered in January. American Linsseed preferred moved up 2 points. Warner Brothers Pictures were freely accumulated and jumped 2 points. Sharp declines were noted in Freport Texas, which went down to 64, over 10 points under Monday's best figure, and in United Clear Stores, Universal Pipe, Wm. S. Motors, Texas and Pacific and Missouri Pacific, an overnight jump of 12 points in Spanish gas to 17.61 featured the firm (green), evidence opening Demand sterling ruled around 48.85 and French francs just below 291.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, April 13 (AP)—Corn dropped 1/2 cent to 1.23 1/2, the lowest price which May and July deliveries have reached this season. Wheat, oats and provisions weakened also, being affected by sympathy with corn. Talk was current that Armour grain company difficulties might result in bringing about heavy deliveries of corn on May contracts. Opening 2-8 decline to 1-4 cent advance, corn receded all around. Wheat started unchanged to 1/2 cent up and later showed losses.

MATADORS LOSE POORLY PLAYED GAME TO BUFFS

INVADERS EVEN SERIES BY TEN TO EIGHT WIN OVER HOMELINGS

The West Texas State Teachers College Buffs defeated the Matadors here yesterday afternoon with a score of 10 to 8 in locally played game. It was a slugfest from the initial frame to the concluding one. The Eckhardt men took advantage of the inexperienced hurler of the Matador crew, Atkinson, from Tom Green County and turned seemingly into infield hits, as Atkinson faltered in fielding his position. Although the husky flogger of the Freehand group displayed inexperience in dividing his ability to toss the game is not at all bad, he has lots of stuff but needs constant workouts to develop accurate control.

"Daddy" Gee, former Falls high school athlete and infielder for the Buffs led the hitting procession with five bingles out of five trips including a double and a homerun. "Topper" Rigney, keystone man for the Matador nine, connected with a hard crash in the last session for the full circuit. Marshall, the "Big Bomber" of the Tech crew pulled to deliver with his punch with the bases loaded in the ninth frame; but instead popped out for the last out.

Fielding Is Faulty

The fielding of the Matadors was none too good for the pitcher of the Tech nine. It was not the same all-right hustling shown by the homelings in the opening game.

Two instances of free hitting were turned loose by the Picador swatsmen. In the third and fourth sessions the homelings swung on to the offerings of Jim Strain, Eckhardt hurler, and tallied three runs for each session. "Chubby" DeWitt, former Central high school outfielder, crushed one for three-bases with two men on. Hamilton also connected with one for three rounds.

The Matadors will meet with the Simmons University nine on next Monday and Tuesday at the Cowboy school. The Simmons nine has been going good with the other members of the Texas conference and two hard fought games are being looked forward to by Coach Freehand. The Matadors will leave here Sunday for the two game series with the Cowboys.

GERMANY CASE

sion to fix wages and other orders unless same is otherwise provided for; section 24, article 9, setting out that no warrant can be issued unless Hottel, signed by the mayor, and attended by the city secretary.

Other documentary evidence included portions of the minutes of the City Commission, one of these setting out that Mr. Germany, (the defendant) was unanimously appointed city secretary for two years on April 6, 1924, at a salary of $2,400; that he was instructed by the mayor to secure the services of R. A. Holland as tax collector; and later a report of Mr. Germany to the commission that Mr. Holland would take the place.

Mr. Holland called. Defense counsel then called for Mr. Holland as a witness, and some delay was occasioned while he was seeking up his wanted records. Mr. Holland testified that he had received a check from the city on September 1, 1924, in his new place as collector of taxes, but he said he was not at this time fully empowered as tax collector. He said he talked to Mr. Germany about the place, and was told that he was to work in the department until an audit was made of the books.

When asked by Mr. Laskhart, of the prosecution on cross-examination as to the time he did qualify as tax collector, the defense objected vehemently on the ground that such testimony would be a conclusion and irrelevant in the case. The objection was overruled and the witness answered that he qualified in April, 1924. Minutes of the commission showing the oath of office of Mr. Holland were then introduced as evidence.

He Gives Testimony. Mr. Holland upon cross-examination testified further that he did not ever qualify before this time; that he didn't agree with anyone to act in full capacity before this time, and that all his official acts done prior to April, 1926, were done under authority of Mr. Germany. He said he deposited all receipts of his department under instructions of Mr. Germany.

On further direct examination by Mr. Eckhardt, Mr. Holland, said he had made an effort to qualify for the office prior to April last year, but that he did not qualify due to lack of paper and bond; he said he talked with Mr. Germany about the qualification and with the city attorney, who at that time was R. A. Sowler, and when questioned as to whether he acted as tax collector for over a year without bond, said that he did not act in official capacity.

May Finish Friday. Several more witnesses are in waiting to be used by the defense, but counsel said early this afternoon they did not know how many would be used. When the morning session opened, defense said they hoped to complete their case late today, but due to the delays, it was said this afternoon that testimony probably would not be completed until Thursday. It is the hope of court officials to finish the case by Friday.

The state rested its case at 4:53 Tuesday afternoon, and court was adjourned for the night, after much documentary evidence was given the jury, including: ledger sheets and deposit slips of the Citizens National bank, city depository.

TRUE to his promise to the press District Attorney Banning called Mrs. Seymour Albright to the witness stand immediately after court was declared in session on Monday morning.

"Your name?" Banning asked, in a gentle voice, of the tall, stately, middle-aged, richly dressed woman who occupied the witness chair as if it had been a throne.

"Allice Cluny Albright," the witness answered in a low, clear voice. If she was conscious that two or three staff artists of metropolitan newspapers were sketching her, she gave no sign.

"You were related to the deceased Ralph Winston Cluny?" Banning asked gently.

"He was my father," Mrs. Albright's voice trembled slightly.

"Your mother is also dead?" Banning pursued in a deferential voice.

"My mother died three years ago."

"Mrs. Albright, may I ask if you approved of your father's engagement to the defendant, Cherry Lane Wiley?"

"I did not!" There was well-bred indignation in the witness's voice.

"Now, Mrs. Albright, I will ask you if you recall the date of Saturday, October 2, last?"

"I do."

"Mrs. Albright, will you relate the events of the evening of October 2, insofar as they concern this defendant, and to the extent of your personal knowledge?"

"My husband, Mr. Seymour Albright, and my daughter, Mrs. Wiley, and I were attending the regular Saturday night dinner-dance at the Marlboro Country Club on that date," Mrs. Albright began hurriedly, as if she had rehearsed her story well. "About half past nine my—nephew," she hesitated over the word as if she hated to acknowledge the relationship, "Mr. Robert Hathaway, who is also a member of the Marlboro Country Club, arrived with Miss Lane, Miss Cherry Lane," she amended, a flush staining the delicate pallor of her cheeks, "and introduced her to my husband, my daughter and myself."

"Just a minute, Mrs. Albright," Banning interrupted gently. "Did you know at this time that your father was engaged to be married to Miss Cherry?"

"I did. My cousin, Miss Amelia Peabody, had heard the news and had told me, although my father had not yet taken me into his confidence."

"Go ahead, Mrs. Albright, in your own way."

"About half past ten or maybe it was not quite so late, I went into the library of the clubhouse to rest between dances. I made alone there seated in one of the largest overstuffed easy chairs, and not easily visible from every part of the room, which is quite large, a few minutes after had seated myself, my nephew and Miss Lane entered the room. I did not disclose my presence, since I did not deem it necessary, as the room is a public one. But when I heard the sound of a kiss, I rose from the chair, intending to leave the room to the lovers. It was then that I heard Miss Lane say, 'I'll give you your answer now, Bob. It is yes.'"

"Go right on, Mrs. Albright," Banning urged happily.

"I advanced toward the couple—they were in each other's arms—and Miss Lane broke away from my nephew's embrace, as if confused, and I put my arms about her, congratulating her."

"Just what were your words, Mrs. Albright?"

"I believe I said, 'I'm so glad! I knew there must be some mistake. So it's you after all, Bob! Congratulations!'"

"That is all, Mrs. Albright," Banning dismissed her hastily but courteously. "Your witness!" and he waved an ironic hand toward Churchill.

You Must Eat Proteins To Keep Your Health

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

A PROPER diet contains suitable quantities of proteins, carbohydrates and fats, the mineral salts and the essential vitamins.

Proteins are found in fish, eggs, milk, cheese, beans, peas, oatmeal and wheat flour, as well as in meat. The vegetable substances mentioned are also rich in starch, which is a form of carbohydrate, and contain small amounts of fat and mineral salts.

The amount of protein in the daily diet should be from two to four ounces daily, which is necessary to sustain the body and take care of the loss of protein from wear and tear on the muscles and other tissues. If the diet contains sufficient milk, eggs, fish and meats, amounting to perhaps 75 grams or two ounces per day of actual protein, this proportion will be suitable.

Many dietary fads have grown up with the view to substituting other foods for protein, because it is claimed that protraction in the intestines results from a protein excess. On the other hand, it has been proved that a fairly liberal amount of protein intake is more desirable than a relative protein shortage.

It is interesting to know that the cheaper cuts of meat are as good as the more expensive ones in supplying protein to the body.

Fish, eggs, and milk are the only foods ingested that contain nitrogen, which is essential for life. In a modern scientific hospital many diseases are diagnosed by methods which involve estimation of the amount of nitrogen taken in and the amount of the nitrogen output. If the output is greater than the intake, the body is burning up protein to supply its needs.

For palatability meat protein is superior to vegetable protein. However, not a great quantity of meat is required to meet the demands of the body for protein; a total of 75 to 100 grams per day. If 70 grams, or two ounces of meat are taken, the protein proportion would be a little more hospital many diseases are diagnosed by methods which protein; butter provides no protein, but mostly fat.

As A Woman Sees It

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE HEROIC PIONEER WOMAN

AN Oklahoma oil man is willing to spend $350,000 for a monument to the woman who helped to win the west.

Twelve sculptors have interpreted the pioneer woman in twelve bronze models. Popular vote has given the palm to Bryant Baker. No doubt the colossal figure which will eventually stand on a knoll somewhere on the Western Plains will be patterned after the popular model of Mr. Baker.

Bryant's Pioneer Woman is very young. Be-side her and a little behind walks a little boy whose hand she is holding. Under her arm she carries a Bible. Hooked over the same arm is a bundle of clothes. She is very beautiful—her head is up and she looks fearlessly ahead. Her stride is long and firm. The whole attitude of the figure spells "ideal and future."

MacNeil's Pioneer Woman depicts rugged strength. She carries a baby on one arm and an axe in the other. She is barefoot. She walks with fearless stride and steady gaze ahead. In her there is perhaps more strength but less ideal.

These were the women who braved torture and annihilation by the Indians, cruel hardships of endless journeys, starvation, cold, and the bitter work of bringing up a family without the commonest necessities of life.

Have women deteriorated? Emphatically no. Don't point to beauty parlors and bridge tables and say, "There she is now." Woman is a victim of civilization that has put rents up so high she dare not have a family. A house even is out of the question most of the time in the city. Cooped up in a steam-heated flat with life handed to her on a dumb-waiter, what is she going to do, with her time? She can't sit and go crazy. So she does one of two things. She goes to movies and plays bridge or else she goes out and works. In either case, she's condemned as being selfish.

Given a home and a chance, few women actually fall down on the job. They are good pioneers yet.

KIND OLD LADY: So you are the sole survivor of a shipwreck. Tell me how you came to be saved.

TRAMP: Well, you see, I changed me mind on sailing.

How To Live

William F. Kirk, newspaper columnist, died the other day at Chicago,
Ill. His death is a loss to the world.
The last stanza of that poem is
as follows:

It was a glorious game from the opening bell.
Good plays, had plays and thrills
with all.

The speed of it burned my years
away.
But I thank Great God that he let me play.

With that as his last word to the world he was leaving. Kirk died.

Now that bit of verse is hardly first-class poetry, by any standard. And we know nothing at all about Kirk.
Yet, somehow, we rather enjoy him.

You those lines of innocent literary spirit that is a priceless possession.
Through them you get a glimpse of one of earth's most spectacular and most approaching death without regrets and without fear, looking back on a life that has left in his mouth
an excellent savor.

The chap knew how to live you may be sure. He had during his career as a columnist in that little Wisconsin city, gained an insight that is desired to the most of us. He had discovered that life can have a zest and a tang that are priceless—and that one does not need dollars or high position to grasp those qualities.

Most of us fall in that respect. We regard our little store of energy, our small stock of God-given education, in fighting the world, fighting in a struggle for materialistic prizes; and then at the last we discover that we have missed the point. We realize, however imperfectly, that life can be a high adventure and a joyous quest that no disappointments and no heartaches can totally dim. We sense that merely living can be enough; that the rainbow's end is often enough right at our doorstep; but we find all of this out too late.

Kirk made his discovery early. We may be sure. He got something out of his days that could never be set down in black and white. So at the last he was able to say: "I thank Great God that he let me play."
Just that. No regrets. No vain yearnings to "do it over again." The taste of life was good; it had been well enjoyed—and the end could be met with a smile.

Excitement Coming

It's quite a little while yet before the next presidential campaign, but already the boys are busy.
The latest reports say that Al Smith's backers are trying to split the opposition by fostering "favorite son"
candidates in every state possible.
This being done in the fond expectation that most of these delegations will sooner or later get aboard the Smith bandwagon.

Anybody who would try to predict the outcome now would be a snip of courage; but it seems safe to state that the forthcoming campaign at least will be lively enough for the most exciting. For anything that revolves about Al Smith is sure to be all of that.

The National Game

Various sport writers are discovering, with some surprise, that the baseball "scandals" of the past winter have faded utterly to dim the great American's appetite for the game. On the contrary it seems that the public at large is awaiting the coming baseball season more eagerly than ever before.

It isn't so hard to understand.
Baseball after all is the national game. It is too big a game to be spoiled either by defections of players or by the defection of managers. There is a thrill in that is new every year.

Working baseball would be a job
calling for the services of super-humans.

The next time your friends propose a "snatch" just ask them why a ball never reaches the ground on the first shot and always goes over on the second.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

This marathon business is slowly
but surely driving the Plainsman crazy.
First we had the "Charleston"
marathon, then one for coffee drinking and now comes the "cum-chewing marathon." It's terrible—truly awful.

What this country needs is a "working marathon." Let a bunch of people contest each other to see which can do the most work and stay at it the longest. That will be the only kind of a marathon event that is worth a hoot
to anything or anybody.

Just with the rest of the people who make up the rest of the population who call a "doghouse" number and then just as soon as somebody answers demands
"Who is this?"

Congressman Marvin Jones, who was here recently, opened the Plainsman's
eyes concerning the size of the northwest portion of West Texas as well as the population of one section. Mr.
Jones enjoys the distinction of being representative of the largest district in the United States. His territory, which embraces all of northwest Texas down to Taylor county on the south, New Mexico on the west, Oklahoma on the north and Knox county on the east is larger in square miles
than the state of Ohio and, in addition, embraces a population of more than 2,000,000 people. If that's not plenty of territory the Plainsman will object, but.

Speaking of cleanup week makes the Plainsman think of sanitation. He believes that the public cafes, eating houses, confectioneries and drinking fountains should be regularly inspected and that the proprietors should be forced to operate sanitary places if they do not care to do so of their own accord. I am of the opinion that most proprietors of business houses of this type are just like operators of other businesses in that they are always striving to better their service, their standing and, in direct ratio, their patronage. Yet thinking about the same line I am also of the opinion that regular inspection is necessary to point out needed improvements in many cases and that the rule, which says an outsider can see more things which can be improved than can an insider, holds good in this regard. The spring season is coming on now—carrying with it its every-possible trout of flies. Now is the time to institute the new plan.

WASHINGTON LETTER

M'WHORTER'S GIDDY
BRAIN EVOLVES NEW WAY
TO GET OUT THE VOTE

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 12.—"I see by the papers," announced Senator J. Thomas McWhorter, "that less than 20 per cent of our alleged voters went to the polls in the late election."

"Oh, the shame of it!"
"Senator McWhorter," spoke up your correspondent, earnestly, "the people look to you in this hour. It is time for you to come forward. Someone must devise ways and means to bring the people to the neglected polls. Some one must show us how to increase pluralities and pile up bigger and better landfills. Have you?"

"Say no more," broke in Senator McWhorter, leaping forth from his seat. "The people shall not look in vain."

"I shall furnish the key and Congress, in its wisdom, shall unlock the door," cried McWhorter, 1925, and you shall see the polls besieged like a public peep-hole at a ladies' Turkish bath. Men, women and children will vote early and often and the ballot will be deposited in warehouses instead of boxes.

"You may say for me that come December, when Congress is in session, again assemble. I shall formally propose a constitutional amendment to achieve this end."

"My project, which calls for a comparatively small appropriation, envisions an all-embracing campaign designed to decry all classes of our citizens to the booths."

"In each precinct, we will appoint a paid committee to plan our various appeals. First the committee will spread the word, but excavation is about to begin in a vacant lot next to the polling place and that there is a splendid chance to see a steam-shovel in action. This will insure a crowdy gathering at the outset."

"Then there will be announced an election day a treasure hunt. The clerk will lead directly to that booth.
This will attract the better classes—men, that is, the society people—and before they know it, they will be casting their votes."

"The committee will spread the word that John Barrymore will be present at the polling place, in his char, which will mean that all housewives and working girls will be on hand to make sure of getting every woman
in the precinct, including the blind.
We will also announce that the first woman to arrive will be given a portion of the prize. The appropriation will provide for purchase of potted plants."

"The splendid element will be lured by a promise that fitting prizes will be awarded for lucky numbers on the ballots."

"To get the older men, we will hire agents to paint gilt letters on plate-glass windows. To get the younger men we will announce the opening of billiard, pool, checkers and holiday men will come anyway, when they appreciate the size of the crowd."

"Perfect, isn't it?"
Of course, it is admitted, a certain amount of deceit is involved. John Barrymore can't be everywhere. Still, doesn't the end justify the means if the people can be awakened to a new consciousness?"

"And think of the government jobs
there'll be on those committees!" concluded, Senator J. Thomblom Mc-Whorter.

Plainview Legion Plans Club-House

Blakemore Doug of the American Legion of Plainview, in announcing plans for a new membership home to erect a permanent home and club rooms for the organization, the cost of which fully equipped, will be approximately $25,000, local legionnaires announced today following their return from Plainview Tuesday night,
where they attended the regular meeting of the Post.

Architects preliminary drawings
have been made on the contemplated structure, and legionnaires of Plainview are now casting about for funds with which to erect the structure. The site has been donated, it was said.
The building program would cost about $25,000, and furniture and fixtures

Save Half Hour of Headache

To stop a headache, nothing gives such quick and grateful relief as Capidine. Other pains such as neuralgia, rheumatic pains, periodical pains, headache and high nerve strain yield almost instantly to Capudine. Being liquid, Capidine acts in one-fifth the time required by tablets and powders, which means you can save at least a half-hour of suffering.

Capidine relieves pain by soothing
the nerves—not by sedating them.
It does not upset the stomach and contains no opiates. That is why it is perfectly safe and is approved by physicians and druggists. At all drug stores, family size one, individual size
two. Full directions with each bottle.

DOUBLING OUR POPULATION IN A DECADE

The scholastic census of Hale county indicates a population in the county as of March 21 of 29,225. There is an increase of scholastic population in the Plainview independent school district over the figures of 1925 of approximately five per cent.

At this rate Hale county will double her population in ten years.

There is every reason to believe that the rate of increase of population in this section will accelerate and be ever greater each year. People who are making good in this section will increase their friends in other parts of the country to move here. Great strides have been made in urban and rural development within the last five years. Agriculture here is on a more stable basis than ever before. Business development in the towns has not been out of proportion to the development of the surrounding country.

It's up to every citizen to catch step with the progress that is being made in the Plainview country if we are to reap the full benefit of the development that can be made in this section.

The next five years are years of opportunity for the Plains country.
1927 should be one of the best of these five years if we will but make it that.
Renewed faith and confidence will give us the right impetus.—Hale County Herald.

THE GOOD OF THE COMMUNITY SHOULD COME FIRST

Chief Williams of the Berger police force has resigned.

If this clears the way for re-organization in the enforcement of law
here, Chief Williams is to be commended for sacrificing himself for the good of the town.

As far as The Herald knows, Williams was a brave and efficient officer.

Major John K. Miller and the ranger, captains who are here have issued a complete ban on the enforcement of law, and the city police have been put under the ranger captain's orders.

This should quiet all agitation for martial law in Berger.

If cooperation among city and county officials is not in evidence now, other restrictions should follow at once, for the good of the city and county.—Berger Herald.

Reserve Officers To Meet Thursday

Members of the Texas South Plains chapter of the Officers' Reserve association of the United States will hold their next regular meeting tomorrow in room 209 of the Administration building at Texas Tech. Col. Clark M. Mullean and Capt. N. L. Peters, officers of the organization, have announced.

W. M. Young of the physical department of the college, will be the principal speaker of the occasion and all officers attending are requested to wear their uniforms. Officers who have not yet joined the association are invited to attend and it is announced that tomorrow's meeting will be their last opportunity to become charter members of the association here.

Masons Of Section Will Gather Here

Scottish Rite Masons from all sections of the South Plains are expected to attend the Masonic meeting here Thursday, when the organization will observe Maundy Thursday in commemoration of the Last Supper of Christ and his disciples before the Master was crucified.

C. C. Holman, 32nd degree K. C. C. of El Paso, will be in charge of the services, and every mason on the South Plains who has reached or passed the 15th is asked by the local arrangements committee to be in attendance. The meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple over the Citizens National bank.

FELLS SLEEPING GRIZZLY REVELSTOCK, R. C. A settler near here had the startling experience of killing a huge grizzly bear with the same stroke of an ax that felled a tree.

The tree was hollow and the bear had curled up in it for his winter's nap. The settler's ax sunk into the animal's skull.

New Era Opens In Realm Of Jazz As 'Mere Girl' Crashes Tin Pan Alley

BY VIRGINIA SWAIN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 13.—Tin Pan Alley might as well take its feet-down from the table and begin to watch its vocabulary. It is no longer a purely stag organization.

Since the beginning, it has been as male as moustache cups and football. In the glorious freedom of its womanless domain, it has strummed and lunged and smoked its pipe and cussed, exactly as it pleased.

But along came Mabel—Mabel Wayne.

She launched "In a Little Spanish Town," listed as the biggest hit among popular songs this year.

It was not the first successful song she had written, but it was the song that crowned her queen of Tin Pan Alley.

Enter Feminism

From the advent of Mabel Wayne, jazz writing was no longer a strictly masculine prerogative, as it had undoubtedly been.

Many women had tried their hand at it, of course, but the rhythm, the elusive fascination of true jazz always escaped them. There had never before been a jazz hit written by a woman.

What accounts for Mabel's success? Years of touring the country in vaudeville may be the answer, her publisher believes, and Mabel is inclined to agree with him.

"Jazz is the most unrestrained kind of music, the music most inimical to suppression or conventionality of any kind," she says. "Most women composers, starting out with an inferiority complex, tried following the conventions of music, writing lady-like melodies and patterning after previous successes."

"I lived the hard life of a variety trouper, hitting every big town in the country, appearing before all kinds of audiences in all kinds of theaters, from the very cheap to the very best."

"I did a piano monologue, which is a hard job for a woman. It means carrying the whole burden of the act on your own shoulders, or rather, on your own finger tips. I wrote my own sketches, improvised my own music, learned just what chords and words would bring a smile or a tear from the people out front."

"I learned the folkways of east, west and south, and the moods of every race represented in America."

Treatment, Not Music

"Naturally, when I started to write jazz, I had a store of knowledge to work from."

"Jazz is merely a treatment, not a distinct kind of music. As everyone knows, some of the biggest jazz hits have been only syncopated versions of the old masters."

Russian, French, Spanish, Jewish melodies lend themselves to jazz treatments equally well. But, though Europeans enjoy jazz, only Americans can write or play it.

"I think that is because jazz is made up of three parts, two of which can only be found in America. First comes the melody, which may be of any nationality. But to that must be added American negro rhythm, plus the spirit of New York."

"Practically all of the successful jazz in the world comes out of a little area around Forty-seventh street and Broadway.

Collins Taken To Face Dallas Charge

William Floyd Finley, alias Floyd Collins, who was arrested here by deputy sheriff Vernice Ford early last Saturday morning, left last night in the custody of Dallas county officers for Dallas, where he is wanted to face a charge of theft. He is also wanted in Washington county, Arkansas, in connection with a jail delivery there March 18, in which it is charged he took a leading part.

Finley was taken from a local bakery shop, and a replica of a jail key said to be the key to his cell in Arkansas together with newspaper clippings and other information concerning the jail break, were taken from him.

ACADEMIC GOWNS POPULAR

LONDON—Professors who look for their gowns and hoods for the approaching commencement season may find that their daughters have purchased the garments.

The students' hoods have become very popular with the chic young debutantes of Mayfair and are worn draped over the back just as the professors wear them. Jokesters insinuate it is the nearest approach the wearers will ever make to real learning.

TROLLEYS LOSE TO AUTOS

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Records of the Kansas City street car company tell the story of the automobile's increasing popularity. The company sold 326,676,541 rides in 1922 and only 118,675.00 in 1926.

POLICE ISSUE LAST WARNING

Owners Of Roaming Chickens Will Be Fined If Fowls Bother Gardens, Said

The situation as regards depredations of chickens in gardens, yards and other surroundings of property in Lubbock has reached a serious stage, and police will be forced to take a firmer hand up the matter unless owners of the fowls take it upon themselves to keep them from running loose in the confines of the city. It was said at police headquarters here Wednesday.

Many complaints have come into the office the past few days, it was said, the most of which charge neglect on the part of owners of chickens to make a strong effort to keep the fowls penned up. Police officers cited an ordinance on the city's books setting forth that chickens must not be allowed to run loose in any part of the corporate limits, the ordinance carrying a penalty of from $1 to $25 for conviction. Some seem to be of the impression, police said, that the ordinance covers only parts of the city, and this impression was true until passage of a new ordinance two or three years ago, which extended the boundaries of the zone to the entire corporate limits.

Police said they do not wish to take drastic steps, but that property adjacent to chicken yards is entitled to protection under terms of the ordinance. They ask co-operation of the citizenship in controlling the situation.

Negro Arrested Here In Old Swindle Case

L. C. Hemphill, negro, wanted in Collin county on a charge of swindling, for whom search has been under way for the past two years, was arrested here late Tuesday by Constable J. C. Roberts, and is being held in the Lubbock county jail pending arrival of officers from McKinney, who are expected to come for the black in a day or two.

The negro, who was taken from the "flats", has been a fugitive from justice since January 13, 1925.
