IT'S COLD! LOW OF 10 IS RECORDED

Mercury Tumbles;
Icy Blast to Stay
Through Friday

McLean and the entire Panhandle were slammed into the deepfreeze Tuesday, when a frigid cold front crossed the area and left the coldest weather of the season in its wake.

The mercury here plunged to a low of 13 degrees Wednesday, and sleet and snow put an icy glaze on highways and streets.

Temperatures climbed only as high as 20 degrees Wednesday before dropping back again Wednesday night and hitting 10 early this morning.

The cold is expected to remain at least through Friday.

Moisture content of the sleet and snow amounted to no more than a trace.

Harvest Interrupted
Still, there was enough moisture, coupled with icy temperatures, to halt the cotton harvest and many other outdoor activities here.

High for the week was 71 degrees last Thursday.

Moisture for the year remains at 14.83 inches in McLean, compared to 19.57 to this date in 1962. The last measurable rainfall was 14 inch on Nov. 21.

Lose to Lefors in Finals

Tigers Take Second In Shamrock Meet

Coach Derral Davis' McLean Tigers took second place in the Shamrock Invitational Basketball Tournament last week, losing to Lefors 38-32 in overtime in Saturday night's finals.

The Tigerettes of Coach Lloyd Hunt were unable to make the win column in two tournament games.

Boys' local teams are entered in the Samnorwood Tournament opening today. The girls face Samnorwood at 7:30 p.m. today, and before this—at 6 p.m.—the Tigers are due to meet the winner of a first-round game between Southside of Oklahoma and Samnorwood played this morning.

Other teams in the tournament are Memphis, Kelton, Ron, Shamrock, Quail and Clarendon.

The Lefors Pirates threw a defensive screen around McLean's Derrith Welch, and played a ball control brand of basketball to knock over the Tigers at Shamrock Saturday.

Shooting only when certain they were in range, the Bucs were content to merely control the ball and take no chances on Welch's deadly accuracy.

10-2 Quarter Lead
They were successful early in the contest, and led 10-2 as the first quarter closed. Lefors was still ahead at the half 14-10.

But McLean overtook the Pirates in the final period and even led for a time before Lefors deadlocked the count at 30-30 just before regulation time ran out.

In the three-minute overtime the Pirates were able to pull their victory out of the fire.

Welch finished up with 21 points in the game—and also became the only Tiger to place on the All-Tournament Team.

Welch scored 38 points in each of the first two games in the tournament, as McLean beat Wellington on opening night 56-46 and thumped Briscoe 60-39 on Friday.

Other scoring by the Tigers against Wellington were: Eddy Windom 5, Jim McCarty, 6 Glen (See TIGERS, Page 7)

ANGUS RANCH SALE MONDAY

98 Head of Cattle
Due to Be Sold

Saunders Angus Ranch of McLean will hold its production sale next Monday at the Tri-State Fairgrounds, W. M. Gouley Sales Arena in Amarillo.

The event is actually a joint production sale with G. W. and Ada C. Caldwell of Harlan, Kan.

Twenty bulls and 78 females are to be sold during the day, starting at 12:30 p.m. Sale manager is to be Phil Ljungdahl of Dodge City, Kan., with sale headquarters at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

George Saunders said that one of the feature attractions of the sale will be the identical heifer calves which were sired by Eileenmere 1818 Jr., outstanding bull owned by Saunders, G. W. and Ada C. Caldwell and Sam and Gyra Wagner of Harlan.

Eileenmere 1818 Jr. was grand champion bull at the Colorado State Fair, the Nebraska State Fair, the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo and at the Texas State Fair in Dallas.

He is recognized as having been the "winningest" bull in the Midwest through the fall shows.

Saunders invited all interested persons in this area to attend the sale.

MD Fund Drive
Re-Set for Dec. 19

The annual Muscular Dystrophy Fund campaign conducted in McLean by the volunteer fire department will be held on Thursday, Dec. 19.

Boyd Meador, fire chief, said that bad weather prevented the drive as scheduled last month, but firemen plan to make their house-to-house solicitation next Thursday "rain or shine."

The campaign begins at 6 p.m. This will be the final year firemen will conduct the drive for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund.

In the future, the firemen's fund-raising efforts are to be devoted to the Cancer Crusade.

Santa Claus Due to Visit In McLean Saturday Afternoon

Santa Claus comes to McLean for the first visit this season Saturday afternoon, and a host of youngsters from throughout this area are expected to be on hand to welcome him.

Saturday is "Santa Day" in McLean, sponsored each year by the Lions Club.

Every child in the area is invited to attend the festivities marking Santa's only pre-Christmas trip here.

The Lions Club has issued special invitations to children in Alnored and Kellerville, as well as to all those living in the rural areas, to join the small fry from McLean in greeting the visitor from the North Pole.

Santa Claus and his Lions helpers will be in the downtown area starting at 2 p.m. to distribute nut and candy treats—and to listen to requests for toys and other Christmas gifts.

Each child will have an opportunity to visit with Santa.

No Movie Planned
The Lions Club announced this week, however, that no movie will be shown Saturday, as at previous Santa Days. Arrangements for showing a special film for the kiddies could not be made.

J. W. Meacham is chairman of the Lions' Santa Day committee. Other members are Dr. W. D. Maxwell, Ted Raines and George Saunders.

The Lions also will distribute Christmas baskets of food and other treats to a number of underprivileged families here before Dec. 25.

Recipients of the baskets will be decided by ministers of the McLean churches.

The club is now selling Christmas trees in the old Post Office building, with proceeds from the sales designated to pay for the Santa Day and Christmas basket projects.

School Plan Study
Tonight at Alnored

The Alnored board of education will meet at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss plans for the new school building.

Attending the session in the school cafeteria also will be representatives of the architectural firm which designed the new building and John H. Jones, Clarendon contractor who submitted the low bid on the structure.

George Smith, Alnored superintendent, said the group will go over proposed changes in plans for the building.

Bids were opened on the new building recently, but the lowest was above the $100,000 bond issue voted earlier this year.

The public is invited to attend.

MOD COMING UP IN CITY

Several Activities Stated in January

Activities are being planned for the annual March of Dimes held in McLean and throughout the nation each January.

George Terry is MOD chairman in McLean.

Terry said Wednesday that the yearly Bucket Brigade's tentative schedule for Jan. 4.

Lions Club members will conduct the Bucket Brigade, collecting contributions from travelers along U. S. Highway 66 in downtown McLean.

Mrs. Creed Lamb Jr. has been named chairman of the Mothers' March, a house-to-house solicitation made each year by the P-T-A.

Dance Jan. 4
Terry said the date for the Mothers' March will be announced later.

A dance at the American Legion Hall also is being planned tentatively for Jan. 4, with all proceeds going to the MOD.

The drive chairman said local restaurants and drug stores will be asked to hold Coffee Days, and the dates for these are to be announced soon.

Other activities to raise money for the March of Dimes probably will be planned before the drive gets underway early next month, Terry said.

Community Singing Is Sunday Afternoon

There will be community singing at the Assembly of God Church Sunday afternoon, Dec. 15, starting at 2:30.

The public is invited to attend.

Just Between Us

The afternoon could mark the first floor plan for McLean's hospital receives approval.

The Gray County commissioners scheduled a meeting for 3 p.m. today in Pampa to look over the architect's drawing for a hospital, and perhaps stamp it on one of two plans being considered.

The calls for the construction of a 20-bed hospital; the other would raise this number by four to 24.

Without saying that the people of McLean and southern Gray County would prefer the larger of the two plans, a copy of which is on display at city hall.

The McLean city commissioners went on record at its meeting Thursday night as strongly favoring this plan.

A resolution was adopted by the commission urging county commissioners to approve the 20-bed plan. The resolution was to be presented to the court by Mayor C. E. Haynes.

It was pointed out by the city commission that voters had been asked when they overwhelmingly passed the $150,000 bond issue in July.

The old bugaboo, money, is no longer a problem. When the bond issue was called, it was felt that the $150,000 would be sufficient to construct the hospital building and leave some for equipment.

Now appears the amount of the bond issue is far short of the cost.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

No prudent businessman is a big giver to charity if he owes his bank more than he can possibly repay in a reasonable length of time.

That perhaps explains better than anything else the strong opposition to the lavish foreign give away programs that have so far cost the American taxpayer over $100 billion.

For the fact is that the United States today could not cash in C.W. Harder even across the board. With nation's gold supply down to about $15 1/2 billion dollars, foreign nations and individuals hold about $20 billion dollars for which they can demand gold.

Under the law, some $12 billion of this gold reserve must be kept on hand to back up the currency. However, this is not the true fact, either, because also under the law, the Federal Reserve Board, by declaring an emergency without going to Congress, can put the entire gold reserve up to cover foreign obligations. But even this action would not cover the balance that can be demanded.

Foreign aid has been the chief dissipator of American dollars abroad, and enough of these dollars have been cashed in for gold to bring the U.S. stock down to a peril point.

It is quite a paradox that India, a heavy recipient of the U.S. foreign give away programs, is embarrassed by big stocks of gold held within that nation. In fact, in order to discourage the practice of paying as much as 50% premium for gold, the Indian government has by edict made it illegal for Indian jewelers to use gold purer than 14 karat.

Experts estimate that the more affluent Indians hold about $7 billion in gold, or almost half as much as is presently held by the United States treasury.

Actually, this gold situation has put the United States squarely behind the eight ball in all negotiations abroad.

For example, in negotiating for tariff treaties, the U.S. is at a disadvantage. The whole world knows the U.S. needs to sell more abroad to recapture those dollars without giving up more gold. But unless the U.S. agrees to lower tariffs on many import items, Europe can erect tariff barriers so high that it is impossible for the U.S. to trade anything overseas to recapture these loose dollars.

Of course, it is quite unlikely that these foreign dollar holders would ever press their demands for payment to the point where the U.S. would be bankrupt, because free world currencies would suffer. But it is not beyond the realm of possibility that the U.S. government may be forced to borrow heavily overseas to avoid losing all gold reserves, on interest rates and terms set down by the foreigners. And this would perhaps be the greatest irony of all time when the American people would have to pay heavy foreign interest on dollars that were given away in the first place.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

CONGRESS WILL FOLLOW REGULAR, ORDERLY PROCEDURES

It is customary for a President of the United States, charged by the Constitution to "from time to time . . . recommend" to the Congress "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient," to assign priorities to the legislative program proposed by his administration.

President John F. Kennedy placed top priorities on the tax bill and civil rights legislation. It was to be expected that President Lyndon Johnson, who had worked closely with the late President in formulating the administration recommendations, would restate those priorities when he addressed the joint session of Congress last week.

But this does not mean that Congress, in the wave of reaction to President Kennedy's assassination, will put aside its traditional processes and rush to enactment those measures the late President so strongly advocated. By now it is clear that this will not happen. Congress will not do this for the very sound reason that it can't without abrogating the foundation strength of our legislative process.

Congress brings together 435 members of the House of Representatives and 100 senators who, coming from every section of America, represent a diversity of views about what should be done in the exercise of legislative power granted by the Constitution.

Reaching a consensus in such large bodies as the House and Senate is never easy. It is a most difficult process when legislation of sweeping impact—like the tax bill and civil rights bill—is laid before Congress for its deliberation and decision.

Basically, the congressional process requires that reasonable men find a way to reconcile their differences and decide upon a common course of action. In committee study and floor debates in the two Houses, the elected representatives of the people hammer out legislation that, if approved by a majority, is thus determined under our system of government to be acceptable to a majority of our citizens.

But under our system, the majority is not permitted to have its way until the minority has had its right to express its position. This system, traditionally so well respected in the House and Senate, permits those who dissent from a legislative proposal to exercise every last measure of their parliamentary right to be heard and to advocate another course.

In the wake of President Johnson's address to the joint session, editorial writers who understand and respect less well than the President the methods and means of congressional action renewed their attacks on Congress for alleged "foot dragging." One editorial complained that Congress is "one of the most lethargic legislative establishments in the history of democratic government."

Congress needs no defense from me or from any American who respects the responsibility imposed on Congress to deliberate fully before acting. Congress should be judged by the quality of its acts—not the quantity of them. There is often more significance in what Congress does not enact as in what it does pass into law, and I would assure everyone that it is often more difficult to keep bad bills from becoming law than it is to pass good ones.

However, for those who are more interested in the quantity than the quality of congressional action, I cite these statistics: Since Jan. 9 when the first session of the 88th Congress convened, through Nov. 30, 10,938 legislative measures were introduced in the House and 2,779 in the Senate; 838 bills were reported by House committees and 731 by committees of the Senate, and 189 public and 197 private bills enacted into law.

Criticism arises because national attention falls on a few measures such as the tax bill, the civil rights bill and appropriations bills.

The tax bill merited the extended study it received in the House Ways and Means Committee, which amended it measurably before sending it to the full House for thorough debate before it was passed. It is receiving the same careful deliberation in the Senate.

The civil rights bill was highly controversial when it was being considered by the House Judiciary Committee; it is highly controversial in the Rules Committee.

where it is now pending; it will be bitterly controversial when it is debated by the full House.

Appropriations bills have required lengthy consideration because of the efforts of many to effect substantial cuts. None of these measures will clear the Congress because of emotional pressures. They will be handled in the regular and orderly manner, as they should be. If this is "foot-dragging," let those who would criticize it make the most of it.

Unlike the 2,500,000 men and women who man the agencies and departments of the government's Executive Branch, the 435 House members and 100 senators (and the 7,000 or so men and women of their personal and committee staffs) are directly accountable to the people of the United States through the elective process.

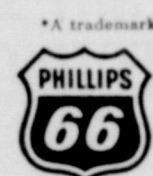

I would urge Americans to remember that only one form of government brings quick action directly applied as a result of any problem laid before it—a totalitarian dictatorship. I'll take, and I know you would, our system.

NEW SUPER BATTERY FOR U.S. SUBS...

We read of a revolutionary storage battery, containing 28,896 lbs. of silver. It is designed for use in the Navy's new killer submarine. The silver equals 14 1/2 tons of dimes and quarters. Such a battery is hardly fit for your car . . . but you do want the dependability of silver in your battery. The extensive use of silver in Phillips 66 Trop-Artic Batteries helps assure dependability. Use of silver prevents bad effects resulting from over-charging, which is the commonest cause of battery failure.

Let us take care of your car's present battery. We'll supply it with water, check the terminals, give it loving care. When you need a replacement, we'll supply a new Phillips 66 Trop-Artic Battery. Drive in at any station displaying the Phillips 66 Shield.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

NEWS OF CONSERVATION

John Spearman plans to install about 1,600 feet of irrigation pipeline on his ranch northeast of Pampa.

Mrs. Elsie Groninger is constructing a pond on her place north of Lefors.

R. W. Adams has completed two diversion terraces on his place northeast of McLean.

Increase Profit by $16.63 per Acre
Contouring and terracing, two of the oldest conservation practices known, have increased lint yields of cotton at the Spur Experiment Station. The following results were obtained over a 29-year period:

Where the rows ran down the slope the yield of cotton was 104 pounds of lint per acre. Where the rows ran on the contour with the terraces the lint yield of cotton was 172 pounds per acre.

The advantage of contour farming would amount to $16.63 per acre. It pays to keep the water where it falls.

It was recently observed in the McLean area where cotton rows were running up and down the slope that the best cotton was at the end of the slope where the water stood.

Much of the water went into the bar ditches and into the draws. Contour farming could have prevented this waste of water and soil, and at the same time increased production. The same thing is true in grain sorghum production.

S. K. Roach of Groom has gotten good results from farming on the contour with grain sorghum.

Atomic Energy Merit Badge Is Offered

The Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters at Pampa, announced today that all Second and First Class Boy Scouts and Explorers are now eligible to earn the Atomic Energy merit badge—the 105th in the series.

Brown-McClellan Wedding Dec. 31

Mrs. R. William Brown of Wheeler announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Billie V., to John Clay McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClellan of McLean.

The wedding ceremony will be in the Wheeler Methodist Church at 7 p.m. on Dec. 31.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Miss Betty Pearson of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pearson.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, himself a former Life Scout with 25 merit badges, took part in a ceremony in New York when he honored 34 Boy Scouts and Explorers of four states who were the first to qualify for the new merit badge.

Irving Feist of Newark, N. J., international commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, read the names of the 34 recipients in a ceremony witnessed by members of the American Nuclear Society and the Atomic Industrial Forum at a special session of their joint annual meeting.

Merit badges are provided in the Boy Scout organization to encourage boys to increase their skill in things they like to do. They give boys a chance to try out new activities that may result in new interests.

money needed for the project.

Sub—We can only hope the county commissioners will be understanding and a little sympathetic when they decide the issue.

They have in the past given us assurance that they wanted McLean to have a hospital, realizing the need is great.

In meetings preliminary to the bond election the commissioners never failed to attend, and all showed keen interest in our problems here.

Sub—We always enjoy getting notes from McLean News subscribers like the one we received the other day from Mrs. E. H. Kramer, a former resident who can't forget this wonderful place.

Along with a check renewing her subscription to the News, Mrs. Kramer wrote:

"Please keep our McLean News coming. It is just a great big long letter from home."

"McLean will always be home to us. We look forward to the mail man on Saturday. The McLean News is sure to be in the mail."

The Kramers live at 3733 South-east 23rd in Oklahoma City.

Sub—We can be thankful for one thing anyway—McLean's rainfall, while off considerably, isn't down as far as that of our hometown of Perryville, Ark.

There the moisture total for this year is 22 inches below normal, or was, anyway, when we were there for Thanksgiving. Could be farther off now.

Why, if the rainfall was this far below normal in McLean we would be showing a minus 0 in precipitation.

Sub—This is a bit belated, but it's never too late to say "thank you."

G. P. Folley brought one big and tasty muskmelon by the office to give to the Sheltons several days ago.

Margaret commented about what a large "cantaloupe" it was, and Mr. Folley quickly corrected her. It was not a cantaloupe, but a muskmelon.

Anyway, it was a big melon.

Sub—Dorris Wadon can't understand—ditto with us—why the McLean basketball Tigers don't have as much following as the football Tigers.

Crowds are always meager for the cage games, but tremendous for every football contest played by the locals.

It is a mystery to us, for McLean is the home of the District 2-A basketball champions, two years running, and of one of the finest players in the United States.

It was real satisfying to us last Saturday night when all eyes seemed to be on Derrith Welch in the finals of the Shamrock Basketball Tournament.

In the crowd around us at the game, we heard one fan after another declaring "there's Derrith Welch."

Lefors managed to defeat the Tigers in an overtime to take the tournament championship. The feat was accomplished by placing a double guard on Derrith Welch.

He had scored 38 points in each of the first two games the Tigers played in the tournament, and the Pirates knew they had their work cut out.

A man can't live a full and satisfying life until he is prepared to accept the unexpected as an opportunity instead of a possible source of trouble.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT
TEXAS A & M COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

By FOSTER WHALEY
COTTON HARVEST

Nine hundred fifty-seven bales have been weighed in at the McLean Gin. Today's weather and tomorrow's forecast sound like things will be shut down for a while.

According to K. M. Voelkel of the Memphis cotton classing office, a total of 101,876 samples have been classed to date; 22,625 were classed last week, the most of any week since the season began. Two additional cotton classers were added to the Memphis office last week to keep pace with the increased volume of cotton.

Voelkel also reports the quality of the cotton was somewhat lower than that ginned earlier. This is following the usual seasonal pattern.

Recently I got a copy of the 1963 Yearbook of Agriculture which is just off the press. It is entitled "A Place to Live."

This issue departs sharply from issues in the past which have dealt largely with subjects related to agriculture. This yearbook was written, according to the editor, for the purpose of informing all Americans about the effects of urbanization and industrialization on rural America and the need for plans and actions so that people will have a proper place to live.

Your congressman, Walter Rogers, gets a quota of these yearbooks and as long as they last he will send you a free copy. Drop him a post card and I'm sure you can get a copy of this very attractively bound 584 page book.

Here are a few of the topics discussed: Older People and Their Problems, Water Pollution, A Public Concern, Farming on the Urban Fence, The Family Farm in Transition, Problems in Local Government, The Use and Value of Open Space, Plans for Smaller Places, Small Water Sheds as Units for Planning.

If you care to write for a copy the address is listed below:
Hon. Walter Rogers, New House Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.

BRUCellosis
At a meeting in Pampa on Monday night of this week we discussed the status of the brucellosis program in the state.

Very recently Carson County and Hutchinson County to our west petitioned to the Texas Animal Health Committee to become a brucellosis free area. This will leave only five counties in the Panhandle of Texas that have not been tested. It is my understanding that Carson and Hutchinson have either gone through the test program or will do so shortly.

Patter County in the central Panhandle is an isolated county surrounded by counties that are either brucellosis free or will be shortly. Gray, Roberts, Hemphill and Wheeler are the other four remaining ones in the east portion of the Panhandle. A portion of Hansford County has already been tested, so I am told, and the remaining is to be tested in the near future.

Several local cattlemen have ranches in other counties and have had their Gray County ranches tested also. This gives them free access to both places without the complications that would be caused if they did not test both places.

Next week I will go into more detail on the status of the brucellosis program and discuss its present and future effect on this county.

4-H Club Awards Are Presented At Achievement Banquet

The Gray County Achievement Banquet was held last Friday at Pammel Hall, Celanese Plant, in Pampa.

The Automotive Award was presented to Stan Friend by Dennis Taylor of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and John Spearman and Bill Skaggs were presented the Beef Cattle Awards by Jerry Harland, assistant county agricultural agent on behalf of E. I. DuPont Co.

Mrs. Erval James, representing Coates and Clarke, presented the Clothing Award to Phyllis Atwood, Jennifer Cunningham, Willa Pearl Friend and Jan Osborne. The Dress Revue Awards were given out by Mrs. Bernard McClellan, representing Simplicity Pattern Co., to Connie Burger and Kathy Davis.

David Webster received the Field Crop Award, donated by Allied Chemical, from Harland. The Recreation Award, given by Gabe Crossman of John Deere, was received by Jim Craig, Jim Reeves, Ted Reeves and Andy Cole received the Swine Awards, donated by Moorman Manufacturing Co. and presented by Harland.

Mrs. Janitta Channell, assistant county home demonstration agent, presented the girls' Gold Star Award to Kathy Davis, and Bill Skaggs received the boys' Gold Star Award from Harland.

Five-year Service Awards were received by Mrs. Keith Davis and Mrs. Dean Burger from Mrs. Channell.

Joan Flowers 11 and Jan Bailey 9, Bailey and Goldston got 19 each in the Mobeetie game, and Flowers picked up 11.

On Tuesday night of this week the Tigers and Tigerettes split a pair with Shamrock in the local gymnasium—the boys winning 54-44 and the girls losing 42-38.

Welch led the Tiger scoring with 22 points, followed by Windom with 14, Green with 11 and McCarty 7.

Goldston paced the Tigerettes with 13, while Bailey and Flowers got 12 each and Marshall had one.

Two nights of action are set by the local squads next week. On Monday they entertain Groom at 7 p.m., then the following night they go to Pannhandle to close out play until after the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

City Stores to Keep Late Saturday Hours

Late Saturday hours will be in effect at several stores in McLean until Christmas, it was announced this week.

The firms decided last weekend to remain open each Saturday past the usual closing hours, in order to give employees of Marie Foundations factory and others more time to do their Christmas shopping.

Plans are to keep the stores open as long as there are customers, instead of closing at the usual times of 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Firms announcing they would observe the later closing times include:

Parsons Rexall Drug, Louella's Ladies and Children's Shop, Martel's, McLean Hardware and Furniture, Crawford Furniture Store, Mullanax Men's Store, Johnnie Mertel's Boot, Leather Goods and Shoe Repair, Mertel's Store, Corinne's Style Shop, Veral Lynn Gift Shop, Williams Appliances and McLean Variety Store.

Carolyn Willoughby, McLean, showed the grand champion heifer and Lee Pulse, Pampa, had the reserve grand champion dry lot steer.

In the heavyweight milk-fed steers, Jakey Hess, McLean, placed fourth. Jakey also placed third in the lightweight class, with Carolyn Willoughby fifth and Toni Willoughby eighth.

The Gray County group also won reserve champion on the group of five steers, from each county.
