Lions' Fund-Raising Projects Add Up To Community Benefit

If you happen to hear a sound like a circus gone wild coming from the Legion Hut at noon on Tuesday, don't panic. It's only the Lions Club members giving their own particular sign of approval, the Lion's Roar.

That's the date and place the club meets each week to make their plans and discuss the results of their many activities.

In addition, the 45 members of the group enjoy a regular meal, while a pair of "Tail Twisters" collect any free change in late comer's pockets. And while Lion President Joe Turner presides and perennial secretary K. Y. Givens takes notes, the Lions get down to business.

This year, that business resulted in a donation of $450 to the Lions' Crippled Children's Camp in Kerrville, bought eight pair of eyeglasses for needy children, and provided for a new sign on the High School lawn for announcing community events. And in the coming year, plans for sponsoring a foreign exchange student at Olton High School are becoming more definite.

To finance their work, the Lions sponsor five fund-raising events each year, and any other thing they can think of that might benefit the community. Thus far this year, the club has sold brooms, Halloween candy, and held a carnival, while a possible minstrel show and a definite light bulb sale are still in the offing.

And thrown in for good measure each year the Lions Club host a golf tournament, the annual family Christmas night coming up soon, and several dinners at which the "Lionesses" are the honored guests.

The Crippled Children's Camp drew the big share of the Lions' treasury donations this year — some $450 going to the Kerrville spot. In addition, the Lions also sent a youngster from Olton to the summer camp.

Cost for the community sign was the next big expenditure for the group. The sign cost $365 before being installed.

Thrown in on top was the cost of eyeglasses and the upcoming sponsorship of the foreign exchange student.

But A. D. Adams, the Lion who signs the checks and holds the purse strings, has a few thoughts on why the local group has been so successful.

"The Lions Club must express thanks to the city and community as a whole for always supporting Lions' sales, with the money always going for a good cause."

So, probably for most folks listening, those roars from the Legion Hut on Tuesdays are not really terrifying, but reassuring.

Temperature Finally Dips To 31 Degrees

Old man weather tied a mark set in 1934, but no one seems to be rejoicing about it.

The tie-mark was for the latest freeze on record.

The mercury finally dipped below the 32 degree mark Monday morning, Nov. 22, to tie the late date set 31 years ago.

And after the low was finally reached, warming trends were bringing the weather back up to a new possible high for this time of year.

What it all boils down to is that the already late cotton crop may continue to be slowed by lack of a good killing freeze.

A poll of area gins showed that 4,479 bales had been ginned thus far, and ginneries are still waiting for the bulk of cotton to start rolling in.

Last year, when the freeze waited until Nov. 20 to make its appearance, ginning totals had topped the 8,000 mark by this same date.

ENTERPRISE TO BE CLOSED

The Olton Enterprise and Enterprise Studio will be closed Thursday and Friday for Thanksgiving.

Both will be open for business as usual Monday morning Nov. 29.

10-Year Honors Given Rev. Lewis

The Rev. John Lewis, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Olton, and his family were honored with a surprise anniversary celebration by his congregation Sunday.

The reason for the celebration was the 10th anniversary of the Rev. Lewis' stay in Olton.

And the Rev. and Mrs. Lewis were surprised by a visit from daughters JoAnna, a senior at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, and Elaine, a sophomore at Baylor University in Waco, who were both flown in to surprise their parents on the occasion.

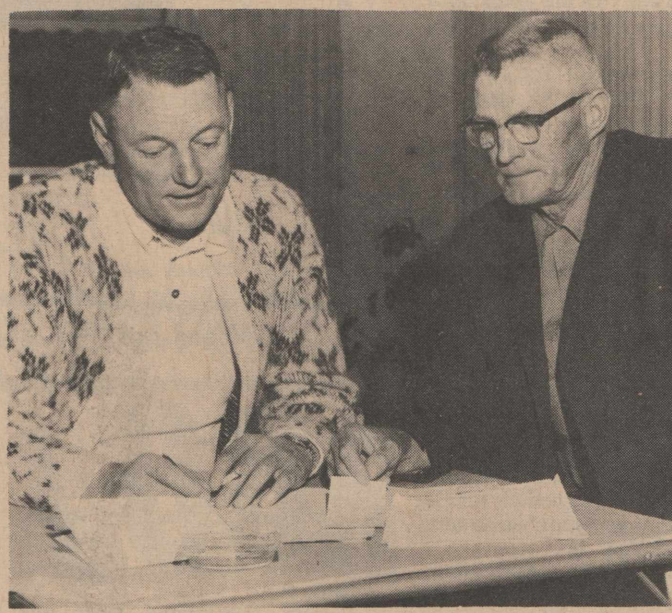

The Church Choir sang a medley of some of the Rev. and Mrs. Lewis' favorite hymns to start the event, and Mrs. William DeBerry, Mrs. Merrill Briggance and Mrs. Gene Cade of Morton, a former congregation member, all gave readings honoring the Lewis family.

Present in the pulpit was a special basket of flowers with a ribbon inscribed simply, "10th."

Also present at the service was Johnny Lewis, the couple's 14-year-old son, and Marshall Lewis, the Rev. Lewis' brother from Lubbock.

Following the service, the group met in the school cafeteria for a luncheon, at which music director Bob Allford presided over a group of testimonials given in honor of the Rev. Lewis.

ORC Re-Organizes, Elects New Officers

NEW ORC PRESIDENT Derwood Copeland, right, looks over records of the previous year's operations with Dan Gregory, 1965 prexy.

Derwood Copeland Is New President

Olton Recreation Center members attending their annual meeting Thursday night gave the go-ahead to several changes in the club's by-laws and a newly organized board of directors named its officers at a session Monday night.

Derwood Copeland, one of six new members of the board, was elected ORC president, succeeding Dan Gregory.

Other new officers are Joe Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Jean Hall, secretary; and Houston Hamby, treasurer.

Copeland, Mrs. Hall, Hamby, Barney Campbell, Owen Jones, and Bobby Copeland are the new directors.

Holdover directors are Joe

Hall and Bill Turner, along with Gregory, who serves as a board member as past president.

Mrs. Derwood Copeland will serve as representative from the Ladies Golf Association and Charles Sullivan will continue as the city council's member.

Changes in the ORC by-laws, as approved at the annual meeting, included:

1. Dues shall be $100.80 for a regular member per year and $144 annually for an associate member.

2. Officers will be elected by the board of directors, rather than the membership as a whole.

3. Directors will serve two-year terms, with four elected each year by the membership.

During the past years, dues were $84 plus 20 percent federal excise tax ($16.80), bringing the total to $100.80.

The federal excise tax, however, will not be in effect in 1966. Members will be paying the same total bill, but the club will receive the money that has been going to the federal government.

This additional revenue, amounting to $16.80 per member, should add about $2,000 to the club's income in 1966, and could mean that the ORC can operate in the black next year after several years of financial problems.

Because of the change in the method of electing directors, six were elected at this year's annual meeting.

Two — Derwood Copeland and Jean Hall — received one-year terms and the other four will serve two years.

Next year, four directors will be elected to two-year terms, succeeding D. Copeland, Jean Hall, Joe Hall and Bill Turner, who will be going off the board. Copeland will be on the board an additional year, however, as the past president.

A financial report given at the annual meeting showed the ORC had $16,676 in income in 1965, compared with $16,588 in expenses. About $150 in current bills and two bank notes of $275 and $784 were outstanding, however.

The note of $275 is for pipe purchased recently and the other note is on the club's building.

This was reduced to $784 after the Ladies Association paid $750 from its earnings on the day of the annual meet. In all the ladies have paid some $2,750 on the building note.

"I don't think we can thank them enough," said President Gregory, as he praised the work of the ladies group. "We certainly would be a long way from out goal without their help."

At the annual meet, another $195 was raised to go toward paying off the note.

Deadline for the payment of the building note is December 31, 1965.

At the board meeting Monday night, directors discussed plans for raising the rest of the money during December.

SANTA VISITS DEC. 18

Christmas Plans Told

Santa Claus makes his first official visit to the Olton area a week early this year, with Dec. 18 set as the day the bearded gentleman will arrive for his first visit.

That's the news from Doug Jones, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, the group sponsoring the red-clad man's visit.

Jones said Santa will be here from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and children will get a chance to ride on his 30-foot sleigh during the day.

CCA members will begin giving away tickets for the rides Monday.

Since it doesn't snow very much in the area, Santa's sleigh will be drawn by six of his favorite Shetland ponies, dressed in chrome-plated harness, red plumes and sleigh bells.

The sleigh, which is eight feet wide, is painted Christmas red, and Santa's official North Pole flag will be prominently displayed atop the sleigh.

And while the children are riding on the sleigh, each one will get a chance to have a personal interview with Santa to make sure his Christmas list is right.

Chamber members are already getting into the spirit of the season by decorating their store fronts with Christmas scenes.

Still in the planning stage by the group are possible prizes to be awarded for the best-decorated homes and for best-decorated stores.

Am-Am Meet Set Saturday

An Am-Am golf tournament has been scheduled for Saturday Nov. 27, at Olton Recreation Center, Fred Pendergrass, golf professional, announced this week.

Registration for the tourney will start about 8 a.m. Saturday, and play will begin shortly after that. Entries will be taken all morning and the early part of the afternoon.

Whittington's Quits Business

Whittington's Inc., in operation here since 1943, will begin a going-out-of-business sale Friday morning.

The store has been closed this week in preparation for the sale.

Originally located across the street from the north side of the square, the store was moved to its present location in 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Whittington have announced that they plan to continue to live in Olton.

They are members of the First Methodist Church here and have three children, Mrs. Gene Trotter and Mrs. Bob Coen, both of Olton, and Mrs. Phil Neinst of Springlake.

BAND WINS 1ST DIVISION

Olton's Mustang band took top honors for the second year in a row at the University Interscholastic League marching contest held in Lubbock Tuesday.

The Olton group, under the direction of Leslie Ross, brought back a Division I rating in the contest.

The place puts the band in a position to bring back a sweepstakes rating this year.

In order to qualify, the band must also pick up Division I's in the concert and sight-reading parts of the contest, which are slated for late spring.

New Column

Appearing this week in The Olton Enterprise is a new column designed especially for the "action" set with news and views from Olton High School.

Written by Sandee Gregory and Jane Ann Duncan, both students at OHS, the column promises to be a lively and entertaining account of youthful activities.

VOICES LIFTED—Music seems to be in the air as this talented quintet goes over a number in the auditorium. All five were recently picked as members of the All-Region Choir. In front, left, is Butch Hudgens, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hudgens, and Harry Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thomas. In the back row, left to right, are J. Curtis Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall, Dale DeBerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. DeBerry, and Bruce Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hines. Hines also won the right to tryout for the All-State Choir in December.

5 Make All-Region Choir, Hines All-State Candidate

Five members of the Olton High School choir were named to the all-regional choir Saturday at Texas Tech with one of the five named a candidate for all-state.

Students are Bruce Hines, Dale DeBerry, Harry Max Thomas, Butch Hudgens and J. Curtis Hall, all tenors.

Hines will go to all-state tryouts Jan. 8 in Canyon, competing with area schools, including Lubbock and Amarillo.

DeBerry and Thomas are alternates for the all-state tryouts.

All-regional choir will sing Dec. 18 at Texas Tech at a clinic, conducted by Gene Kenney, Tech choir director.

Olton was the only AA school to place anyone in the all-regional choir, as well as the only one to have an all-state candidate.

Olton choir director is Mrs. Bob Allford. There are 80 students in the local choir. Other Olton students competing Saturday included Gayle Gunter, Joannie Floyd, Guy Daugherty, Jerry Caddell, and Jackie Harrod.

Participating were students from Monterrey High School, Lubbock High School, Plainview, Littlefield, Levelland, Muleshoe, Floydada, Slaton, Post, Morton, Abernathy and Olton.

THEY SURE DID—Band director Leslie Ross and a group of his pupils look at the lettering on the side of one of the buses the band took to Lubbock to compete in the annual UIL marching contest. The "WE DID IT" was really true, since the band brought back a Division I in the contest for the second year in a row.

Thanksgiving 1965

How swiftly the years and the seasons pass! That may be the truest of truisms, but it is one that frequently enters the minds of all of us. And, probably, it is felt with the greatest weight each fall and winter, as the holiday season approaches.

Now another Thanksgiving is almost here. This, with the 4th of July, is the most thoroughly American of all our holidays. It celebrates the very beginnings of this nation. And, when properly observed, it honors the courage, skills and dedication of long-gone men and women who faced and conquered dangers and difficulties of an unbelievable scope.

This is a year of plenty. Most dinner tables will be piled high with the traditional Thanksgiving feast. There will be, inevitably, an emphasis on the material aspects of the day. Speakers will dwell on the abundance that is known so generally throughout the land.

But abundance is not enough. The strength of peoples and powers lies in the qualities possessed by those who celebrated the first Thanksgiving — independence, a profound sense of individual responsibility, a deep spiritual belief, and dedication to freedom for all.

This is what we should remember Thanksgiving day — and every other day of the year.

For His Soul

The story is told, and is well worth repeating, of two cantankerous old gentlemen who got along like "cats and dogs" in the same small community.

Never, to anyone's knowledge, did a kind word pass between them. They were considered life-long enemies. Then one of them died.

Many hours before the mourners began arriving for the church services, the surviving old man surreptitiously placed a small spray of delicate flowers on the casket and left the church. Later, during the funeral service, he was discovered sitting quietly and prayerfully in the back pew of the church.

The minister, pleased, but as puzzled as the townsfolk by all this, sought out the old-timer somewhat later to inquire what might have brought about his change of heart toward the deceased.

"No change of heart," said the surviving oldster.

"You openly showed your dislike for him when he was alive. Yet, to everyone's surprise, you became very respectful of him at the church. How come...?"

"Well now, Reverend," the old fellow responded, "I must say I'm just a mite surprised that you, of all people, would ask such a question. How I feel about another man's politics or his character has nothin' to do with how I feel about his soul."

"Oh, yes -- of course," said the minister, recovering quickly from his embarrassment. "Quite as it should be. But even so, what about those flowers you put on his casket when you thought no one was around to see you?"

"Knew all along," the old fellow answered, "someone would spot me with the flowers and spread the word. Just wanted to make sure the neighbors wouldn't forget flowers -- not for the old coot, himself, mind you, but for the only good thing about him -- his soul."

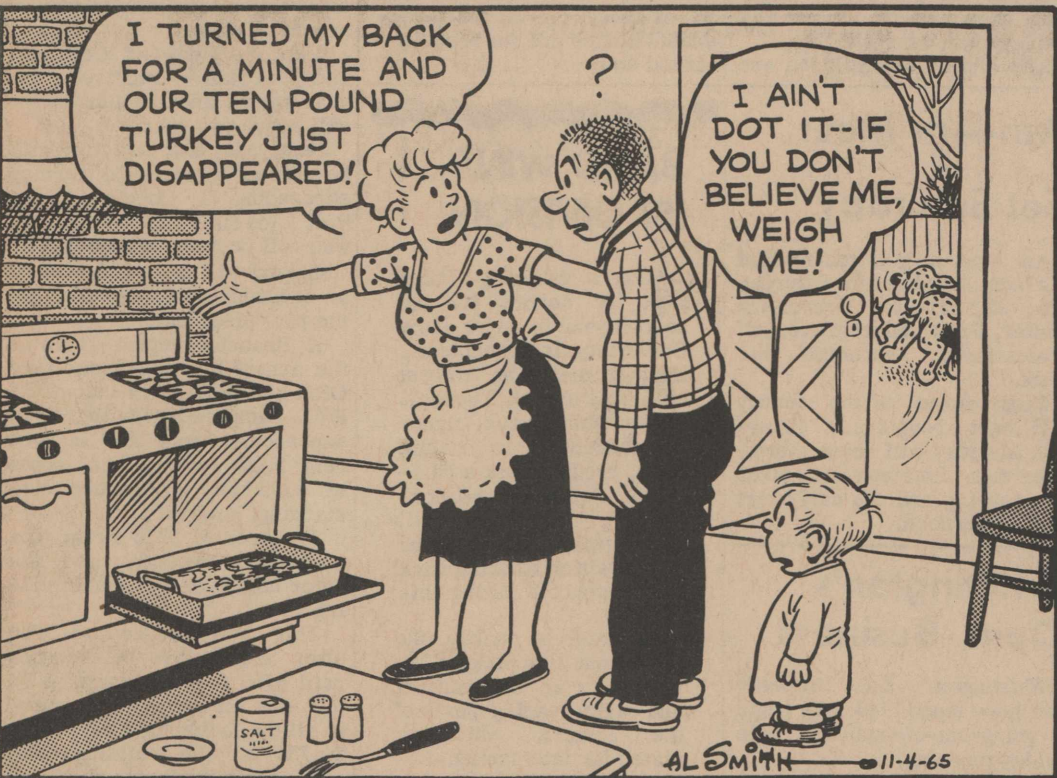

"I personally appreciate your thoughtfulness," said the minister, "because the beautiful flowers contributed much to the service and helped the family; But," he asked, "how could you do something like that when you couldn't find a single kind word to say about the man while he lived?"

"Still can't," said the old-timer, "that's why I bring the flowers."

FIVE AND TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

A near-capacity crowd of onlookers from all reaches of the Panhandle-Plains area is expected at Plainview Stadium this Friday to see the District 2-AA Champion Mustangs lock horns in bi-district play with the Phillips Blackhawks, defending Class AA state champions.

With machined cotton flowing in at a near record pace, Olton gins reported Wednesday morning that they have weighed in a total of 19,868 bales. Most farmers say that the harvest is approximately three-fourths completed.

First and second prizes in the homecoming parade here last Friday were awarded to the FHA girls and the Brownie Scouts, respectively.

Springlake's Wolverines will meet the Stinnett Rattlers in the 1-A, 2-A bi-district play-off at Amarillo Saturday night. Coach Colie Huffman's Wolverines again go into play in the underdog role. Stinnett-like Phillips in AA—is the darling of the Amarillo Daily News sports department.

W. B. Smith Jr., has announced that he is in sales agreement with Ernest Fowler of Floydada for sale of Olton Hardware.

The Olton Mustangs turned in a narrow 13-6 win over the fired-up Dimmitt Bobcats here Friday night before a homecoming crowd of about 2,000 to gain undisputed possession of the District 2-AA title.

FIVE YEARS AGO IN OLTON

The Olton Mustangs will meet Denver City Thursday afternoon as the underdog in the class AA regional game at Brownfield.

Five Olton boys received special awards for outstanding 4-H work recently at a meeting in Littlefield. Honored were Richard Hall, who was given an award for his work with swine; Neal Burrow, achievement award; Billy Carson, agricultural award; Pete Gipson and Ricky Farrar, beef awards.

An FFA District Leadership Contest for Chapters in the Littlefield District was conducted Saturday afternoon at Muleshoe.

An FFA Turkey Shoot was held Saturday in Olton, the first event of its kind to take place here. Another will be held Dec. 10. Thirteen turkeys were won by men shooting the best marksmanship. Total proceeds netted in the project were $42.

The annual meeting of members of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will be held Dec. 2 in the high school auditorium. One of the purposes of the meeting will be to select seven new directors, including one to replace Sidney Allen, who recently resigned.

City councilmen opened nine bids on Olton's paving project Tuesday afternoon and began the long process of going over the figures in detail.

And during the past 10 years, the Rev. Lewis found time to serve the Staked Plains Association by holding a variety of offices in the organization.

Included among the offices he has held are program chairman, 1957; co-operative program and stewardship chairman, 1958-59; budget committee chairman, 1959; resolutions committee chairman, 1959; district board member, 1965; calendar committee chairman, 1962; and associational missions and youth committee chairman, 1962-63.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

NEVER STEP DOWN

Dear Amy:

I am a seventeen year old girl, a sophomore in college and I am going with a wonderful and considerate boy who is a junior in college. I have known him for two months. He likes to park and neck. Please tell me if it is all right to do this? I must know and hope you print this as I'm sure many girls would be interested.

Just Curious

Dear Curious:

A girl of 17 who is a sophomore in college must be extremely intelligent, so I know that the following information will be evaluated carefully before the next time you park.

Many wonderful and considerate boys enjoy necking. This does not mean that because they want to, you have to. Decent, respectable girls, and I hope you're one of them, must draw a line somewhere. I assure you that the boy, if he cares for you, will not like you less because you did not give in to his emotions. Rather, he will admire and respect you for your self-discipline.

Necking in itself will not ruin a girl, nor help her reputation. Its resultant complications, however, can be very damaging. Rise to every situation...but never step down!

Dear Amy:

I am living next door to a three-ring circus. My neighbor is running a beauty shop in her basement which is prohibited by the zoning law. Not only has she a neat set-up, but her children have all the kids in the neighborhood in their yard. Noise, hollering, animals (rabbits and a dog), cars parked all around in and out of the yard.

Who listens to this racket, not she...but the neighbors!

Now comes the best part: When it's bedtime for the average citizen who has to get up and make an honest living, she opens her windows wide, turns up the TV set, some more hollering and yelling by the kids so that it's impossible to sleep. This goes on till after midnight.

So what is an honest man to do? Sell his house or have a nervous breakdown? What would you do?

As usual, I suppose this letter will not even be printed and the violators go scot free while Mr. Honest Citizen suffers.

Disgusted

Dear Disgusted:

If seeing your letter in print solves your problem, you have it made. But where action is necessary, conversation just won't do. If you cannot resolve the problem with your neighbor, see your councilman or attend the next council meeting and air your problem.

You have every right to enjoy peace and quiet in your home and neighborhood if it is zoned as residential. That's what I would do!

Dear Amy:

Last night my sister and I were sitting on the porch with some neighborhood kids. It was about midnight. My mom told us to come in. So we came in about 12:30. Then we ordered a pizza and sat on the porch and ate till around 1:10. Then the kid next door came over and we sat on their chairs in the back yard from 1 to 2:30 a.m. (My mom was in bed.)

She got out of bed, saw us talking outside and she and my dad grounded us. I know it was really late but we were going to sit in the house and stay up that late anyway. My mom said we shouldn't go out and sit, but I said we were only in the back yard talking and not disturbing anyone.

Please give me your opinion. What do you say about being grounded?

Grounded

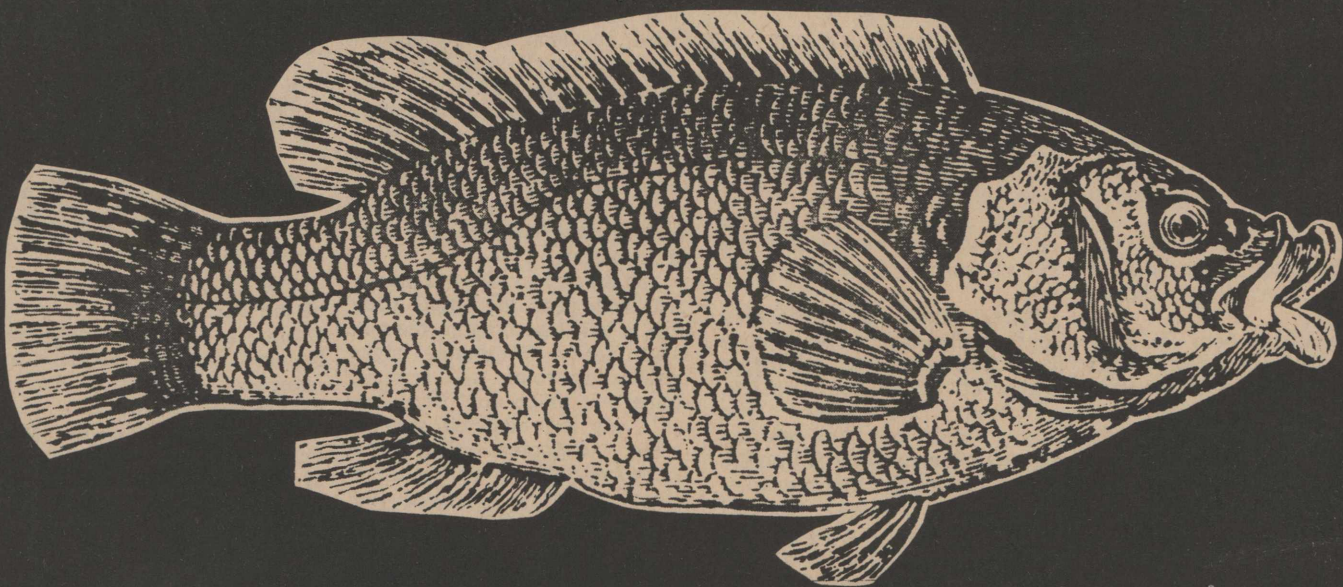

Dear Grounded: A person is grounded when they fail to carry out orders or go A.W.O.L. It's plain to see you and your sister have no grounds for complaint. But cheer up, crew, obey Top Brass, and EARN your wings. Over and out!

Expert Says Good Plan For Paying Tax Is Easy

At least one author has reduced the complex subject of your taxes to easily understood advice with ideas -- some new and some obvious -- that can mean money in your pocket. He is Tax Editor Milton Christie, of the Kiplinger Washington Editor, whose Changing Times Library book has just been released in revised 1966 edition.

Christie writes not only to help the average person meet his April 15 deadline with money saved, but also puts tax saving on a year-round basis to apply both before and after the deadline for filing individual returns.

"You and Your Taxes" is for anyone who would like to make a substantial saving in his budget. The author suggests you probably have not really tried to save in the easiest way of all and goes on to show that is by "cutting the taxes you pay."

After recognizing that just filling out the return is about as close as most taxpayers want to get to the subject of taxes, Christie offers the first of many statements which bring the complex subject down to earth. He knows the average person considers the return confusing the instructions barely understandable, the tax law for lawyers.

"What most people don't realize," points out Christie, "is that the tax law consists mainly of hundreds of pages of special treatments and exceptions to the basic rules."

"The next mistake," he says, "is to assume that these relief provisions are designed mainly for the rich, who can afford to hire high-priced tax advisers to plan for them." Nothing could be further from the truth, according to this authority.

Best of all, regardless of your circumstances, the provisions of the tax law "can be used on a do-it-yourself basis. Constructing a sound tax program for personal use is no more complicated than any other home project. The final result -- no matter how formidable it may look -- is made up of simple parts put together step-by-step."

"You and Your Taxes" shows the steps, including listing of all your deductions, being certain you claim your exemptions, taking advantage of tax angles on investments, knowing what's taxable so you don't overpay and saving with little known features of the tax law.

Planning how to fill in that tax return throughout the previous year is the Kiplinger guide's way to avoid being one of millions who overpay their taxes. The situation that fits now may not fit next month or next year.

Arranged by broad topics -- your income, exemptions, contributions, medical expenses, investments housing and so on -- this book also includes easy-to-follow forms.

But get started.

"The person who does nothing about his taxes until he sits down to fill out his return one evening in April probably is spending more than he has to."

Mrs. Sherman Rides Again, Wins Final Football Event

Ruby Lee Sherman gazed into her crystal ball and got better than the average reception this week to once again take the Enterprise football contest honors.

Mrs. Sherman picked up first prize money for the second time in three weeks, but this win was a little tougher than the first time.

In her first outing three weeks ago, Ruby Lee picked 'em all, the first time this year for anyone to do so.

This time she tied with three other persons, but was closest by eight points on the tiebreaker.

Mrs. Sherman, David Turner, Lois Smith and Michael Trotter all missed five of the contests, but Mrs. Sherman saw it Tech 18, Arkansas 27 to miss by 21 points, good enough for the first prize of $10.

Turner collected the second place prize when he picked it Tech 14, Arkansas 23, to miss by 29 points.

Trotter and Mrs. Smith each missed by 32 points to tie for third place money.

Trotter had it Tech 10, Arkansas 24, while Mrs. Smith picked it Tech 13, Arkansas 21.

The contest was the final one for the year, and if the totals are any indication, the men can take lessons from the women in the guessing department.

In 12 contests, the ladies took the first place spot seven times, and tied for first in one more.

There's always next year, men.

County Goods, Services Set High Economic Record

NEW YORK—The upswing in business, locally, enabled Lamb County to do its part in the past year in moving the gross national product to a new high.

It was made possible, chiefly, by an increase in local consumer spending for goods and services.

The facts and figures are brought out in data released in other marketing studies.

The gross national product (GNP) represents the dollar value of all goods and services produced in this country. It is the generally accepted measure of the state of the economy.

During the past year it broke into new high ground, reaching $629 billion. This was $40 billion more than in 1963 and $68 billion more than in 1962.

Most of the gains were due to greater consumer spending by the American public. Through their purchases, they accounted for no less than 62 percent of the total GNP.

By way of comparison, all Federal spending, together with all outlays by state and local governments and all capital investments by industry came to less than 38 percent of the total.

In Lamb County, consumer spending in the year amounted to $47,608,000, the figures show.

Some 10,948,000 of it went for merchandise purchased in local retail stores and an estimated $36,660,000 for services of all kinds—automobile repairs, beauty parlors, movies, laundry service, living accommodations, sports, amusements, travel and the many others.

The total represents an increase of 29.8 percent over the volume of consumer products

Homes warm with love, and friends who care;

A country beautiful and blest,

Now rich with harvest everywhere.

Keep us, dear Lord, and those we love

Safe under peaceful skies, we pray.

Guard all those rights we hold so dear—

In freedom's name to go or stay,

Voice our opinions without fear,

In our own ways to worship Thee!

Now as we lift our hearts in praise

God help us share abundantly!

Our Pilgrim Forefathers conceived Thanksgiving as a day to stop and take stock of all the good things in life. They had, as we do today, a constant threat of upheaval. They too were beset by problems—but they found time, once each year, to thank God and thank each other for all the good things they enjoyed.

We are thankful for the opportunity we have of being part of a thriving community and for you, our friends and customers, whom we are privileged to serve. We pledge our continued efforts to be worthy of your patronage.

NARROW ESCAPE VEHICLE—This is the auto which Mrs. Frank Basquez was driving when she was involved in a smash-up southwest of Circle Saturday morning. Mrs. Basquez escaped with only a neck sprain in the accident, which almost totally demolished the station wagon she was driving.

Cars Hit, But No One Is Injured

A grinding two-car accident near Circle early Saturday demolished one of the autos involved, but the woman driving the car almost miraculously escaped injury.

Mrs. Frank Eloise Basquez rode her auto through a complete skidding roll which ended almost 150 feet from the original crash site.

The station wagon she was driving came to rest with the hood smashed against a bar ditch.

Mrs. Basquez was headed east on a dirt road a mile south and two miles west of the Circle community, when her car and a pickup driven by George Woods collided at an intersection.

The pickup, headed south, hit the left rear wheel and fender of the Basquez auto, sending it on its long spin.

The station wagon came to rest 150 feet east of the intersection, facing into the south bar ditch.

Only damage to the pickup was a damaged headlight and fender.

Four Traits Are Listed For Career In Medicine

Does your son want to study medicine? Or your daughter?

For the aspiring student, a medical career offers many opportunities—private practice, research, teaching, administration, occupational health, school or college health, public health, foreign service, or the armed forces. Each opportunity requires different talents and abilities. Four personal traits, however, are musts, no matter what specialty a medical student chooses, says a new leaflet of the American Medical Association.

1. Intellectual curiosity. A medical student must expect to be a lifelong student. Modern research and the rapid advances of modern medicine continually challenge a physician's intellectual curiosity. As human horizons stretch into space, medical knowledge must expand accordingly.

2. Concern for people. Concern for people is the dynamic of medicine. A student must possess a compassion for people that includes understanding of human needs and fears.

3. Good health. A medical career, as well as the preparation for it, makes strenuous demands upon a physician. Students must be equipped to withstand the physical and emotional stresses of long working hours and mental pressures. The profession requires good health.

4. Tenacity. A medical student must be prepared to devote ten years or more, with minimal income, to formal education. Only a conscientious, tenacious student can meet these educational demands with high scholastic achievement.

Medical school is the first of many challenges in the medical profession. "Physician" is more than a title that one automatically receives after four years of study and training. The title is earned — by meeting the medical challenges in a community, by serving individual patients, and by discharging obligations to the profession.

Two organizations can give you additional information about preparation for the challenges of a medical career:

The American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 60610.

The Association of American Medical Colleges, 2530 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Ill.

COLD WEATHER DRIVING EXPERT PREPARES FOR WINTER.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around—stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town.

That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger. Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area—including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling.

You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars.

Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!

4-H Family Has Longest Participation In Olton

A 4-H Club family with the longest continuous participation in the Olton 4-H Club is Rheta, Connie and Kathleen Hulsey and their mother, Mrs. D. T. Hulsey.

Rheta Hulsey joined 4-H nine years ago with a desire to learn to cook, sew, to raise a garden and can and freeze the produce, and see the results of doing things. Rheta has entered in local, county and district competition. She has received 20 ribbons on county and district basis. Rheta has received special awards in clothing, garden, canning, frozen foods, total achievement, junior leadership, and has been named Gold Star Girl of Lamb County. Rheta has attended 4-H leadership camp, been a junior leader for three girls in cooking and one in sewing. She has attended electric camp, served on county council one year, been secretary for the local club two years, and served on various committees in the local club. She is now a student at Texas Women's University, Denton.

Connie Hulsey has been a member of the Olton 4-H Club three years. She joined 4-H to learn to cook and sew and gain knowledge of the nutritional value of foods and how to select and construct clothing. Connie has received six ribbons in county competition. She has been given special awards in Clothing, dress revue, and food preservation. She has attended junior leadership camp and served on numerous committees in the club.

Kathlene Hulsey joined 4-H Club to cook and to sew. She hopes to learn the basic food groups and why we need them and to learn to make her own clothes. Kathleen has received five ribbons in county competition and a special award in dairy food.

All three girls have worked at the 4-H concession stands at the swine and sheep sales and helped with other club projects.

Mrs. C. T. Hulsey has been active as a 4-H adult leader. She was the first lady organizational adult leader of the local 4-H club. She has worked with 4-H groups nine years. In individual projects she has worked with 15 girls, including her three girls. These projects included sewing, cooking, freezing, canning and gardening. Some girls from these groups have competed in county and district competition. Mrs. Hulsey has received recognition from the extension office as an adult leader. She has attended leadership camp and courses. She has worked with the concession stand at the local sheep and swine sales four years.

"Working with girls we learn something ourselves and it helps keep us thinking young," Mrs. Hulsey comments.

Kids -- if your parents are threatening to take you to the psychiatrist because you've been acting quite strange the past week -- just explain. If you haven't fussed with your brothers or sisters, laughed without anything being funny, you have helped your parents without being told, or perhaps they have seen you skipping around the house singing to yourself, and they have become utterly horrified -- explain quickly, or you may find yourself on the Funny Farm! Just tell them we have just completed our second six weeks tests, and the Thanksgiving holidays are here! Perhaps that will calm them down some.

Since the tests were completed, "Ahs" and pleasant sighs have been coming from the teachers. All in all, I think the whole school is quite relieved by the tests being over.

Larry Neinast -- I would like some birdseed.
Mr. Walden -- How many birds do you have?
Larry Neinast -- None, But I want to grow some.Mary Bess -- I baked two kinds of cakes today. Would you like to take your pick?
Mrs. Taylor -- No, thanks. I'll use my hammer.

Miss Schreier, how did you like your happy birthday serenade the other day in the lunch room.

Mr. Todd--Where was Solomon's temple?
Jerry Hunt--On the side of his head.

To Sherry Caddel and Mike Bodkin -- Congratulations are extended to them for being chosen Best Citizens for this six weeks. They both really deserve it!!!

1966 Allotment For Cotton Cut

Lamar Aten, Lamb County Office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service has announced that the cotton allotment for Lamb County for 1966 has been reduced.

The allotment, which has been increasing steadily the past years, has been reduced by 834 acres leaving a total allotment for the county for 1966 of 185,268 acres.

The reduction was caused by the revoking of a policy by the Federal Government under which the State Committee was able to transfer a cotton allotment from a county where less than 90 per cent of the allotment was planted to another county where more than 90 per cent was planted.

Aten stated that the ASCS office would determine the acreage cut for farmers in Lamb County on a formula based on the farmer's original allotment last December and that it would be done on a percentage basis with approximately a .2 to .3 cut would be the most suffered by any one farmer.

The acreage cut will be on permanent acreage and Aten stated that the acreage cut was in all probability based on a five year average. Many counties suffered a much larger reduction under the policy change made by the state committee.

"Another contributing factor to the allotment reduction for Lamb County was a decrease in the state's overall allotment," Aten said.

OHS BEST CITIZENS--Selected as best citizens of Olton High School for the second six weeks were Sherry Caddel and Mike Bodkin, both seniors at the school. Miss Caddel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Caddel, and Bodkin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bodkin.

Magazine Gives Report On Teenage Marriages

Teen-agers are flocking to the altar by the hundreds of thousands. One out of two brides this year will be under 20. The same ratio will end up in separation or divorce, according to Changing Times reporting on "What happens to teen-age marriage?"

The chance of success for a teen-age marriage in the U.S. is about a third as good as for marriages of those in their twenties. The fact is that today more girls marry at age 18 than at any other age and this tendency to marry young is one that is peculiar to the United States.

It's not just the women either; nearly half of all American young men are married by the time they are 25, compared with only a quarter in most of Europe and as few as a tenth in Norway and Ireland. Only in Asia do you find a marry-young pattern comparable to that of the U.S.

Interested in improving the chance of success of thousands of marrying teens, Changing Times offers these guidelines: The young married -- particularly the groom -- must understand the necessity of completing high school and, if possible, going on to college or other advanced training.

More needs to be done to help teen-agers understand what marriage entails -- realistic education on what marriage is like, what obstacles must be overcome, why money is important.

More help is needed for married couples in trouble in family counseling, baby care, supplementary education, and general encouragement in making the best of the situation.

And, parents must not cringe at prospects of a teen-age crisis. Wise parents can accept what is and give every support they can.

If your teen-ager wants to marry....tell him or her these facts:

One out of two teen-age marriages ends in divorce or separation.

Teens who drop out of school to marry rarely go back.

Pregnancy occurs early for most teen brides -- ending hopes of career or more education.

Teen husbands average a little over $2,000 a year, but most families need two or three times that to get by.

For teen husbands with limited education job advancement is almost impossible.

Most teens are overwhelmed by the emotional and psychological trials of marriage.

A few years of waiting is the best assurance of a lifetime of married happiness.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

On October 8, 1943 we opened our doors to the public. Since then we have sold everything from a straight pin to a refrigerator. We have always strived to offer our customers quality merchandise and we are still offering it in this sale. We wish to thank all our friends and customers for your business and friendship. We could not have stayed here twenty two years without you. We are retiring from the dry goods business but will continue to make Olton our home.

Thanks Again
