Second Test Starting

Whitten Well Completed For 2.1 Million Cubic Feet Daily

The Whitten well, 2½ miles northwest of Eldorado has been finaled for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2.1 million cubic feet of gas per day, according to figures revealed early this week. Gas-liquid ratio is 27,000-1. Translated in terms of barrels this figures out at over 80 barrels of distillate per day. It is the Delta Drilling Co. and Pauley Petroleum Inc., No. 1-A Whitten, located 467 feet from the south and 2,200 feet from the west lines of section 35-LL-TCRR.

Production was through perforations between 6,193-6,750 feet, which had been fractured with 35,000 gallons and 50,000 pounds of sand. Gravity of the liquid was 64.8 degrees.

Drilled to 7,210 feet, it was plugged back to 6,834 feet. where 4½-inch casing was set.

The following tops were picked on derrick floor elevation of 2,373 feet: Strawn lime, 6,847 feet; detrital, 6,955 feet; and Ellenburger, 6,990 feet.

Operator suggested the field be designated as Eldorado (Canyon).

Second Test

Work on a second test in this same area is now under way. It is located on a T. K. Jones section (36) and is three locations east and one north of the Whitten gas discovery.

Delta was moving in a rotary from New Mexico this week to start operations. The large rig used on Whitten was dismantled last week and moved to Odessa. Gas from the new Whitten well is to be piped to the Jones location and used in drilling the new test.

Wagley Wildcat

Five miles to the northeast Chambers & Kennedy, Midland, will drill a 6700-foot Pennsylvanian wildcat, six miles northeast of Eldorado and 1⅝ miles west and slightly south of the Hulldale, South (Pennsylvanian) field. It is the No. 1 Joe Wagley.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of 73-LL-TCRR. Ground elevation is 2,356 feet.

Rotary rig used on the Steen test was moved last week to Wagley and drilling operations are already under way there. The Steen test was abandoned as a dry hole.

Standard Oil Co., of Texas No. 1 Henderson, some 20 miles northwest of Eldorado, set casing last week at a depth of around 6800 feet; have run logs and are preparing to perforate and sand-frac. The rotary has been moved and a work-over unit is moving in.

Texaco Corporation No. 1 Jackson was rigging up pumping facilities this week. This is the 850-ft. prospector on Edwin Jackson's about four miles northwest of town. No report as yet on its production.

Good Friday Service Is Set For Tomorrow

The Ministerial Alliance of Eldorado will sponsor an interdenominational Good Friday service tomorrow night at 7:30 at the First Baptist church.

Arrangements have been made for the service with all members of the Alliance taking part. The Rev. Kenneth Vaughan will preach and arrangements for the music will be made by Frank O'Banion.

Other ministers who will participate will include Dan Sebesta, C. M. Nyquist, and Johnny Griffith, of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Assembly of God churches respectively. Roy Tharp of the First Christian church has also been invited to participate.

The choir of the First Baptist church will sing "He Carried the Cross for Me" directed by Mr. O'Banion.

Following the Good Friday service, the Baptist young people will be host to all Jr. High and High School youth at a get-together on the church lawn where group games will be played, followed by serving of refreshments.

Everyone is urged to come out and attend this Good Friday service.

House Burns In Colored Community

Local firemen were called out Monday night to Eldorado's colored community where the Adam Fay house, occupied by "Preacher" Morgan and "Fish" caught fire from an oil stove in the kitchen.

The fire had a good start by the time the firemen reached it, but prompt action extinguished it. The house and contents were a near total loss.

Also stored in the house at the time of the fire were the furnishings and piano of the colored church and these too were lost.

John Stigler has agreed to accept donations of clothing for the two men who were left only with the clothes they had on Monday night when the fire occurred.

Any churches with surplus pews or other furnishings could also see if they can be used at the colored church.

Tuesday morning, the firemen were called out to extinguish a blaze on the city trash truck.

School Election Quiet

Trustee election for Schleicher Independent School District Saturday saw all three incumbents returned to office with no opposition. Henry Moore received 43 votes, Sam Henderson 42, and Jim Martin 44. In election of county trustees, Arch Mittel and Henry (Possum) Speck received 43 votes each. A feature of the election was that no write-in votes were cast.

Post Script

Rusty Gibson's Southwest Fence Co. continues to grab off jobs in neighboring towns. He made a deal last week with Dick Abbott of San Angelo to do all the fencing on Abbott's amusement park at Lake Nasworthy. It will involve about 1,000 feet of outside fencing in addition to considerable amount of cross-fencing inside the grounds.

Clyde and Faye Estes are now getting the Success at Sterling City, box 694. "On March 1st 1963 we moved to the hotel in Sterling City, to run it. Mr. Estes is working on ranch for Mr. Hilderbrand. I am running the hotel," Mrs. Estes wrote in ordering the Success sent to them.

Recent renewals received included those of T. J. Bailey at Ozona, and Mrs. W. B. Means of 5503 Valerie, Houston 36, Texas. The latter was entered by Mrs. Truett Stanford.

From a retail grocer's bulletin:

Big Deal

The Vice President of a big company collected 25c from each of the 2,000 employees to purchase a gift for the President who was getting married. With this $500 he purchased 2,000 packages of Raleigh cigarettes—removed the coupons and traded them for a silver serving set for a gift for the boss. Then he gave every employee a package of Raleigh cigarettes for the two bits he had donated, thus no one was out a red cent. When the big boss learned of this satisfactory deal, he wanted to compliment the Vice-President but was told he was on a fishing trip—trying out the fishing gear he had received from the trading stamps he got when he purchased the cigarettes.

Barbara Clark, "All Around Champion Cowgirl" at the 14th annual San Angelo College Rodeo, held at West Texas Boys Ranch at Tankersly, Friday, was erroneously credited to Eldorado. Actually, she is from Sterling City—— and residents of that town were more than a little outdone that she was "given" to Eldorado by Saturday's San Angelo Standard-Times.

"Get Out of the Way When the Fire Siren Sounds!" That is the plea sounded again by firemen in reminding local residents that fire trucks have the right of way when answering a call.

At the fire Monday night, the roads were so obstructed that the third and fourth trucks had to weave in order to reach the site of the fire in the colored community.

More paving in prospect:

County crews have graded and widened out the cut of road from Doc Sofge's to Glendale and are preparing to surface it with blacktop.

Another paving project will be in the works for the west side of town. It will start on the street near Lum Davis's residence, continue up around the swimming pool, north to the Episcopal church and then east to Godwin residence.

The new Western Motel has installed a large neon sign on Divide street on the Java Junction corner. Both motels here report an increasing number of units being rented to oil men lately.

Million Dollar Rain

Some called it "a million dollar" rain and some called it a god-send, but whatever you want to call it, it came just in the nick of time.

For five months there had been no rain to speak of and many were beginning to have a feeling of despair. Sure, there was that snow back in February and one nice little rain, but it was followed by weeks of drying winds which promptly used it up.

So when last Thursday morning dawned with a drizzly rain coming down, everyone sort of held their breath wondering if it would continue. There was only four-tenths of an inch in the gauges early Thursday, but showers continued intermittently throughout the day and on into Thursday night. Taking stock on Friday it was revealed that Eldorado had had about 1½ inches and that the county as a whole averaged just about that amount. Some places in Bailey Ranch had slightly over an inch, while the Reynolds community had from 2 to 2½ inches.

"Now we can really go to farming" was a statement expressed by more than one farmer. With clear weather Monday and temperatures up in the 80's, a stock farmer was heard to remark that "the country sure is looking pretty," referring to pasture grasses which were growing by leaps and bounds.

After talking it over—up and down and round and round—and finally exhausting the subject, they usually wind up with that typical West Texas obserbation, "Now, if we can just get another one!"

City	1.50
Jess Koy	1.50
Henry Speck Ranch	1.50
Possum Speck	1.70
Parker Bros., Bailey Ranch	1.10
Claude Doyle	1.25
Leonard Lloyd	over 2.50
Reynolds community	2 to 2.50
Forrest Runge	2.00

This ought to hold us for awhile.

Funeral Held Saturday For Robert Sproul, Crash Victim

Robert Sproul, 66, livestock commission buyer and long-time resident of Eldorado. was killed instantly about 2:45 p.m. last Thursday in a blinding head-on crash on Hwy. 277 about 8 miles north of Eldorado.

Funeral services were held at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, at the First Baptist church conducted by the pastor, Rev. Kenneth Vaughan. Pall bearers were E. H. Sweatt, Jack Etheredge, B. L. Blakeway, Pat Finley, W. T. Green and Gerald Nicks. Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Robert Sproul was born in Schleicher county December 3, 1896, and had been a resident of Eldorado for over 30 years. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Robert Sproul Jr. of Arlington, Va., and C. R. Sproul of Rankin; three daughters, Mrs. Preston Hunnicutt of San Angelo, Mrs. Calvin Gutherie of Temple and Mrs. R. B. Sessums of Monte Vista, Col.; three sisters, Miss Ora Sproul of San Angelo, Mrs. Hal Knight of Sterling City and Mrs. Lewis Bruton of Waco; two brothers, Floyd Sproul of Sweetwater and Bill Sproul of Menard; and nine grandchildren.

The crash which took Mr. Sproul's life occurred about 2:45 p.m., last Thursday on a straight stretch of highway some distance south of the Blaylock bridge. The day was cloudy and rainy and the highway was wet. Sproul was traveling south apparently returning to Eldorado from San Angelo or Christoval.

Traveling north was Joe V. Luce, 47, of Rocksprings. Luce apparently attempted to pass a slow-moving car or truck and pulled into his left-hand lane, meeting Sproul head-on. Tire marks, according to observers, showed that Sproul tried to give clearance by moving out on the shoulder but was unable to escape the oncoming vehicle.

Gov. Proclaims April Cancer Control month

Austin.—The designation of April as cancer control month by Governor John Connally officially opened the 1963 Crusade of the American Cancer Society in Texas. The educational and fund-raising drive by more than eighty thousand Texas volunteers will aim at reaching every Texas family during the month.

In his official proclamation, Governor Connally noted that one half of the twenty-three thousand cancer patients who will be diagnosed for the first time in 1962 could be saved with present scientific knowledge and medical skill, through earlier diagnosis. One of three are presently being saved.

He also pointed out the need for the greater intensity of research which will be needed to save those for whom there is now no cure available.

"Through collective efforts of volunteers of the American Cancer Society, and broad programs of research, education, and service," he said, "significant gains are being made in the fight to bring final victory over cancer. Every such gain immeasureably benefits our families, our economy, and our state."

The proclamation also recognized the "Year of the Volunteer" now in progress as designated by the national Society, calling active volunteers the "vital and growing force which has so dramatically lowered the tragic toll of this disease in the past 25 years."

More than half of the funds contributed during the current Crusade will be spent for cancer research in Texas institutions, and for public education to increase the saving of lives. Additional amounts which will be spent for professional education and for service to cancer patients will help bring the total to be spent in Texas to more than ninety cents of the dollar contributed.

The Society is currently supporting research at three University of Texas centers, in Dallas, Houston and Galveston, and at Baylor University centers in Dallas and Houston. Texas grants currently in effect total more than $400,000.

This includes some of the important research in the leukemia field, where the most substantial progress has been made in recent years. Nationally the Society made 64 grants in 1962 related to leukemia in the amount of $2.029,-047. This is more than for any other form of cancer, and more than the support given by any other voluntary agency.

Other current research is being financed on lung cancer, breast cancer, and cancers of the uterus, liver, bladder, stomach, thyroid, colon and rectum, prostate, and pancreas.

A parade of ignorance describes a succession of outbursts by witnesses who last week testified against a one-year extension of the bracero program. The extension bill (which would not help ranchmen) tries to spell out some changes designed to curb the flagrant administrative abuses that have been applied to the bracero program by the Labor Department.

Spearheaded by the AFL-CIO, the list of professional do-gooders and deliberate distorters, displayed unusual ignorance in their puny and almost fraudulent portrayals of misinformation. CIO was aided and abetted by spokesmen for the National Council of Churches, National Catholic Rural Life Conference, and Commission of Social Action of Reformed Judaism, and a few others that are often associated with the lunatic fringe.

"Colonialism!" screamed AFL-CIO's Andrew Biemiller, a professional labor leader. " . . A tragic blot in our national economic life!" howled Arnold Mayer, of the Meat Cutters Union.

It would probably be a safe bet that neither of these swivel-chaired, manicured gentlemen know which end of a cow gets up first. They know about as much about farming and ranching as a blind sow knows about Venus. And they probably care less.

They insist there is no labor shortage in the ranch and farm belt—that the only reason employers have problems is because they want to exploit the poor workers and under-pay them! And if you want to know anything else about the operation of a farm or ranch, just ask one of these agricultural experts.

The simple fact is that braceros are not wanted unless there is an actual shortage of local labor. And the law prohibits their employment in any community unless the Secretary of Labor certified to the local shortage. And the law further prohibits any wages for braceros lower than prevailing wages in the community where they are hired—determined by the Secretary of Labor.

Yet, these fuzzy-thinking experts (who get paid for giving such testimony) brandishing straight faces, make a big splash with the ignorant and the lunatic fringe.

Irrigation Water Management Demonstrated At Parker Brothers Farm

Level borders, adequate water supply, no loss of water to field, applying water when needed and in amount needed, means proper irrigation water use.

By Lloyd B. Johnson, S.C.S.

The completion of bench leveling on 35 acres of irrigated cropland has put Glenn and W. T. (Pete) Parker a step closer to efficient water use on their irrigated land. The completion of the 35 acres in March brings the total to 45 acres that has been bench leveled on the Parker Brothers irrigated land. Cost share assistance was received through the Schleicher County Agriculture Stabilization Conservation office in bench leveling the 45 acres.

The bench leveling was considered by the Parkers to be one of the first soil and water conservation practices needed, to attain efficient use of irrigation water, and to make the best use of rainfall received. Better irrigation will result from the land leveling. Better crop stands, improved crop yields, and savings in irrigation water, labor, and other expense. These gains are in addition to preventing erosion and saving soil fertility.

Benches on 10 acres of the steeper part of the field were spaced to accommodate 8 rows 40 inches wide. The borders on the 35 acres recently completed were spaced to accommodate 12 40-inch rows. The amount of water being delivered to the field, the intake rate of the soil and the type of equipment to be used were the factors used in arriving at the number of rows between each border. Also, the 8 row borders on the steep slope lessened the cut to be made to remove the side fall between borders.

With the benches leveled from side to side and from end to end, the field can be wet to the right depth throughout the entire field. Low spots that were overwatered and high spots that were underwatered now receive the proper amount of water.

Part of the Parkers' field has underground irrigation pipeline and the remainder is watered from portable pipe. With water loss reduced to nothing by use of pipeline, and by efficient use of the water within each border, maximum use can be made of each gallon of water from the well. Regardless of how little water might cost, that is used for irrigation, it is still more profitable to make the most efficient use of all the water. The Parkers received cost share assistance through the Great Plains Conservation Program in installing the underground pipeline.

In designing, layout and checking the land leveling the Parkers were assisted by Soil Conservation Service technicians. Pete served as rodman and chainman throughout the land leveling operation. Due to the fact that Pete assisted throughout the land leveling operation, he will have a better understanding as to how the system will function. Also, by being present he could concur on any changes that were necessary to make.

The bench leveling done on the Parker place 10 miles southwest of Eldorado is the first land leveled by this method, in the Schleicher county part of Eldorado-Divide S. C. D. Also, the underground irrigation pipeline installed by the Parkers last year was the first installed in Schleicher county.

The land leveling and underground irrigation pipeline are among several needed soil, water, and plant conservation practices included in the Parkers' conservation plan. The basic objective of the plan being to use each acre of agricultural land within its capabilities and to treat it according to its needs for protection and improvement.

W.S.C.S. Program

Tuesday of last week the Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist Fellowship Hall with Mrs. Ed Hill, president, presiding. Following the business meeting, members of the Dorcas circle presented a very impressive program.

To the quiet strains of "Why Should He Love Me So?" members and guests were seated at a table arranged in the shape of a cross. Mrs. Grady Turner offered prayer of thanksgiving. Lighted candles on the table also formed a cross. The table was arranged and foods were prepared by Mrs. W. G. Godwin, Mrs. Sandy Donaldson, and Mrs. R. S. Boynton. On the table were foods such as may have graced any table in Bible times: dates, olives, almonds, grapes, cheese, unleavened bread & grape juice.

During the silent sacrificial meal Mrs. Rodney Hammond and Mrs. Elton McGinnes narrated the Easter story beginning with the Last Supper and continuing thru the resurrection. Interludes of appropriate music were furnished by Mrs. Albert McGinnes. Mrs. C. M. Nyquist pronounced the benediction.

Twenty-one members and guests were present.

The program consisted of the Pledge of Allegiance, the Brownie Promise and the Brownie Smile Song. Some of the girls' handwork was on display.

Cake and punch was served by the leaders. —Rep.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

About a year or so ago, people were thrilling by the millions to the drama and excitement of the literally out of this world orbits of Lt. Col. John Glenn. And now comes a part of the less spectacular findings of such flights but at the same time, the developments are highly practical. After his flight some one asked this question, "If foods in tubes are fit for astronauts, why not for babies?" The same research for meals in space has been applied to baby feeding. Strained baby foods now come in tubes. And to make the situation even better—there are tiny spoons attached to the screw caps on the tubes.

And—we might as well face it; a lot of people are never going to use those spoons. Pretty neat.

It's just too bad about the way the average home maker uses her appliances, or maybe I should have said, the way she doesn't use them is too bad. I'm thinking right now about a most wonderful appliance, the blender.

You may do these things with your blender, and many more: chop bread crumbs. chop nuts, whip cream, make the most wonderful hollandaise sauce, and even make cream cheese from cottage cheese.

The chopping technique is one which bothers most blender users. Don't expect to chop too much at one time. About a cup full of pecans, for instance, is the right amount for one go. Switch the motor to low speed and instantly switch it off. Do this four or five times and the job is done.

I chopped 4 cups of frozen cranberries in a few minutes not long ago and they worked fine. Even if you don't have a blender try freezing cranberries before running them through the food chopper; no juice dripping and no soft berries refusing to go through the chopper. Chopped cranberries are best for gelatin salads, breads and muffins.

Low calorie substitute for sour cream:

Mix one small container cottage cheese, ½ cup buttermilk and juice of ½ lemon. Blend for 3 or 4 seconds. Tastes good.

April is Cancer Crusade month. The newspaper, radio and television stories and announcements remind us daily of the fact.

Some things are an individual's responsibility. Disease is the great leveler of mankind and is one of the responsibilities. None is exempt from the possibility of being stricken. Our responsibility is to give time and money so that the great cripplers of our age may be studied; research may be carried on and facts be gathered concerning the dread diseases.

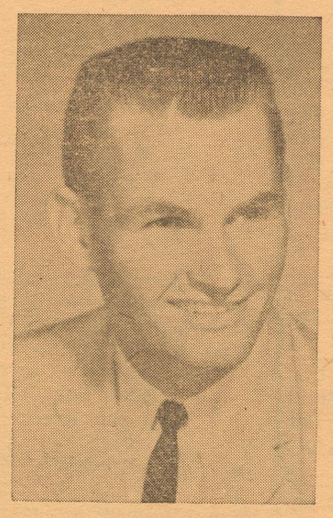

Many reading this now, remember the horror which the word "small pox" created years ago. And not so many years ago the coming of summer meant one thing —— the fear of polio epidemics. Those days are gone because science and the researchers who knew what to do with scientific facts, used the money contributed by the people—not the Federal government——to produce preventives which make us free today.

I have talked to 15 or 20 people, asking them to help with Schleicher county Crusade which has been set for April 16. Not one person has refused without an understandable reason. The willingness to accept their personal responsibility has been heartening.

If you would like to be a volunteer worker, be at the Memorial Building this afternoon, Thursday, April 11, from 3:00 until 4:00. Assignments will be made as to specific blocks and areas which will be worked. If you have wanted to do something for someone and didn't know what to do—this is your chance. This could well be the most unselfish gesture you will make this year.

Cancer Crusade to Be Held Here Tuesday

For the second straight year, the American Cancer Society's annual Crusade slogan will be "To Cure More, Give." This year's Crusade began in Texas on April 1 and a canvass of Eldorado will be made this coming Tuesday, April 16th.

"Cancer is an emergency problem," said Mrs. Vida Kreklow, county Crusade chairman. "Every day lost in finding a cure for all cancers—or a cancer vaccine—or better methods of detecting early cancers—all of which are subjects of active research——means lives not lost. Unless we go all out on these and other essential projects, we are losing vital time."

"This is one of the reasons we say 'To Cure More, Give More,'" said Mrs. Kreklow. She announced that the long-time slogan of the American Cancer Society, "Fight Cancer With a Check-up and a Check," would be retained as a companion slogan.

"Basically, however," Mrs. Kreklow said, "we are going to concentrate on 'To Cure More, Give More,' which mirrors our stepped-up drive to —reach more people with the life-saving facts about cancer

—give more physicians the latest life-saving facts on detection and treatment of cancers

—give more service to cancer patients, to ease the burden on them and their families."

Pointing out that cancer cures in the past 25 years have risen from fewer than one in five cases to one in three cases—Mrs. Kreklow urged all residents of Schleicher county to make the 1963 Crusade the best ever so that more lives can be saved.

In the 1962 Crusade more than $39 million was raised, for a new Crusade record. "We must try to exceed this total in 1963, for it is a fact that cancer progress goes hand in hand with the amount spent to fight the disease," Mrs. Kreklow said. "Your contribution will help conquer a scourge which will, if present rates continue, eventually strike 46,000,000 living Americans. That is why we say 'To Cure More, Give More'."

Be ready when the Cancer volunteer calls on you Tuesday; or you may mail your check to Mrs. Kreklow.

Junction Laymen To Give Easter Pageant

Junction's 13th annual Easter Pageant will be presented Saturday April 13, 1963, at 10 p.m. on the eve before Easter Sunday, in a natural amphi-theatre on the hillside below The Everburning Cross, one mile south-east of Junction.

Presentation is by four-score Kimble County people, all laymen, women and children in colorful costumes, typical of the dress of Biblical times. Here they will re-enact Jesus Christ's last Days on Earth, so timed that the Scene of the final Ascension will take place shortly after midnight on Easter morn.

This Holy Spectacle will be presented in pantomime, supported from a broadcasting booth by readers and background music. A dozen stages have been arranged among the rugged rocks of the hillside, and changes of scenes are effected by the shifting of spot and flood lights.

The production is entirely amateur and non-commercial. Members of the cast are all local people, with no professional or paid actors. The cast contains men and women from many walks of life; clerks, lawyers, barbers, ranch men, bankers. teachers, mail men, housewives, merchants, mechanics —who take time from their business for several weeks to participate in this consecrated service.

Mr. and Mrs. Delwood Blair and Larry and Mrs. James Burdette of Phoenix, Arizona, who is visiting with them and other relatives here, took Miss Zelma Griffin home after visiting here for about two weeks, and visited Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Griffin at Boerne last weekend.

Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ottaberry celebrated their 41st anniversary and Mr. Ottaberry's 60th birthday very quietly Tuesday. That night they were surprised when friends began to come in for a celebration that their daughters, Mrs. Jesse Cavness of Eldorado and Mrs. Vernie Logan of Fort Stockton had planned for them.

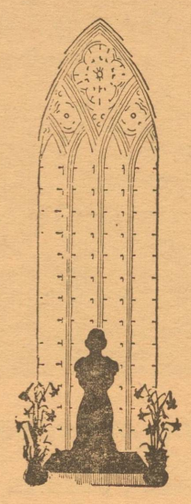

Guests present besides the daughters and their husbands and families, and bringing gifts, were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Sofge, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Faull and Mrs. L. T. Wilson. Coffee and cake were served.

Landis Lee is new in Eldorado and living in a Crosby apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens returned Tuesday from Leander, near Austin, where they had been the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Keeney returned Monday from a trip of several days to Nacogdoches and other points in East Texas. They report pastures and trees coming out in profusion in that part of the state.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY
FORD SWEPT THE FIRST
FIVE PLACES AT DAYTONA...WHEN YOUR '63 FORD IS STILL GOING STRONG YEAR AFTER YEAR

Daytona's big, banked oval puts unbelievable stresses and strains on engines, steering gears and frames. The Fords that won at Daytona took all the punishment this famous track could dish out over 500 miles of grueling competition without missing a beat.

In this toughest of all stock car events, mechanical failures claimed over fifty per cent of the starting field. But of twelve Fords entered, nine went the distance. Ford took six of the first ten places.

Five-hundred-mile events like Daytona are a public demonstration of toughness, reliability and sheer engineering excellence that are part of the new generation of Fords. A test like this can't be duplicated on anybody's testing grounds—it's run right out in the open. Any car can enter. But only the car that has the best total combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension can win . . . that's what we mean by total performance.

Visit your Ford Dealer before you buy any other new car. Here's what you'll find: a new kind of total-car durability, a new kind of handling ability, a suspension that is startlingly smooth yet sticks to the road like tar. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember, if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance!

Austin.—Clean up the roadsides is a message being delivered by the Texas Good Roads Association and the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce. Project is described as an "important contribution to the pleas of Governor Connally and the Legislature to seriously and systematically promote tourist travel into and through Texas."

Texas Junior Chamber will encourage its members to join in a project to remove debris and litter from city streets, county roads, and state highways.

Texas Good Roads Association will give the junior chambers money prizes for the best local progress to make their areas more attractive to visitors of Texas.

Water

Final legislative action is near on the bill by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen to set up machinery for the state to help out financially on big water projects.

Both Houses have adopted the bill, with a small difference. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall added an amendment to give county commissioners courts approval power on recreation facilities planned at reservoirs built under the program. Since no county money will be involved, the House took out this provision.

Voters approved the plan last November by which the Texas Water Development Board will be allowed to use up to half of its $100 million borrowing power to pay for, or contract to pay for, the building of added height on dams to be built by local or federal agencies.

Highly complicated procedures were written into the bill to safeguard the money. Cash from future sales of water or storage space will repay the state bonds issued to finance the projects.

Industry Plan

State loans would be available for building new, or expanding old, factories in Texas, if the House and the voters approve a plan by Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin.

Dies got the Senate to approve his plan for a $200 million state bond issue from which loans would be made.

Theory is that the industries would repay the loans with interest, and this would repay the state's debt, also with interest. State's borrowing power is such that it would have lower interest rates, and the difference in interest would pay costs of administering the program.

Tax Cut

While legislators begin consideration of tax increases to help finance state government activities, mainly the growth in higher education, two industries are about to get tax cuts.

Both Houses of the Legislature passed a bill to reduce the tax on sulphur producers.

House also has passed, and favorable Senate action is expected, on a bill to exempt state banks from the sales tax and the corporation franchise tax.

Both groups are putting up persuasive arguments. Sulphur lobbyists say that Louisiana's tax on sulphur is only $1.03 a ton, so Texas should cut its rate to that level.

Owners of state-chartered banks argue that national banks are exempt from state sales and franchise taxes, so state banks ought to be, too.

Apparently, the tax program of Gov. John Connally for the rest of Texans is gathering support. It calls for expansion of the new sales tax by eliminating exemptions on low-cost clothing and farm implements, and for extending the corporation franchise "surtax" which has been in effect on a "temporary" basis for four years.

Criminal Laws

Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo piloted through the Senate a 389-page revision of the code of criminal procedure——the first complete revision in a long, long time.

Purpose of the code, as drafted by a State Bar committee and revised by Hardeman, is to remove some of the loopholes and uncertainties in present criminal procedure.

House action is expected, since lawyers from all sides of criminal practice are agreed that reforms are needed.

A&M University?

House State Affairs Committee heard testimony on a bill to change the name of Texas A&M College to Texas A&M University.

Speaking for the bill were A&M Chancellor M. T. Harrington, President Earl Rudder, former student president and new director L. F. Peterson. student Joe Easley and Century Council Director Bob Hunt.

Only opposition was from Baylor and University of Texas ex Sam Collins. He talked about Aggieland traditions.

Harrington and Rudder told the Committee that A&M could attract more outstanding faculty members if the institution were called a university.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the State Affairs Committee and a Baylor ex, named an all-Baylor subcommittee to study the bill.

School Law

Texas has come a long way along the road to an attitude of normalcy on racial desegregation.

That's what Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth told the House State Affairs Committee. Gladden's bill, co-sponsored by 49 House members, would abolish the law passed in 1957 requiring that school districts get voter approval before desegregation. Under that law, districts which do not call elections before integrating face the loss of state funds. The bill is in subcommittee.

Padre Action

Both Houses of the Legislature have passed, and Governor Connally has signed, the bill to give the state's approval—and some of its land—to the Padre Island National Seashore project.

U. S. Dept. of Interior will build a vast recreational area, designed to preserve 81 miles of Padre Island in its natural state. Texas had to give about 40,000 acres in Laguna Madre as a part of the project.

Congressmen

The House spent a long day of back-and-forth debate on the bill by Rep. Rayford Price of Franksston to reapportion Texas for congressional purposes.

Major points in the bill are the abolition of the fourth district in North Texas—long represented by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn—and the creation of a second congressional district in Dallas county.

Under the House version, a new South Texas district, with no present congressman, would be formed.

U. S. Reps. Wright Patman of Texarkana and Ray Roberts of McKinney would be placed in the same district. Otherwise, present congressmen may have their districts altered somewhat, but still will reside in their present districts.

Handicapped

Lawrence R. Melton of Dallas, chairman of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, and A. A. Alexander of Dallas, Commander of the Department of Texas Disabled American Veterans, issued a joint statement commending high school principals and teachers whose students participated in the "Ability Counts" contests sponsored by the two organizations.

Statement said, "We think this contest has brought about a greater understanding of the problems of the handicapped in Texas. This understanding has contributed much to the successful rehabilitation and employment of the handicapped in gainful occupations throughout the state."

Slant Drilling

An additional 14 civil penalty suits for alleged slant oil well activities were filed in Travis County District Court by Attorney General Waggoner Carr. Suits ask $1,000 per day penalty for alleged violations of the rule and regulations of the Railroad Commission.

Pooling Bill Progresses

Controversial oil & gas pooling bill by Rep. Wayne Gibbens of Breckenridge was approved by the House Oil, Gas and Mining Committee. It is now on the House calendar.

Mrs Curtis Stockton, Jr., and new baby son of Longview are here visiting her parents, the L. D. Munds, and other relatives. Mr. Stockton may join them here during the week end. Mrs. Stockton is the former Jeanie Mund.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart and Quinton, Teresa and Cloris of Pampa spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wimer. They left Monday morning to return to Pampa.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Winter temperature has been very favorable for a good fruit crop. There being 840 hours during the winter of 45 degree weather or under, and not over 55 degrees. Fruit trees were in complete dorminance.

To insure your fruit crop this should be done to control insects and disease. To each gallon of water add:

9 tablespons of wettable sulfur,
1 tablespoon of malathion.

Spray the trees at two-week intervals from setting of blooms until fruit is of fairly large size.

Important: When a Screwworm Case Is Found, A Producer Should Do Two Things:

1. Collect about 10 worms from the wound; place them in water or alcohol. (Vials are furnished by the county agent).

2. Report the infestation to eradication officials by calling collect to JUstice 5-1646 Mission, Texas. No telephone call should be made unless a sample is available.

1. Name.

2. Address and telephone number where producer can be contacted.

3. Date when samples were taken.

4. Location of farm or ranch where samples were taken.

5. Location of wound on animal.

Calls will be received 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Eradication officials will instruct you to either mail the sample or hold it until picked up by a livestock inspector.

Should you case a screwworm case, sterile flies will be released.

* * *

* * *

Thirteen screwworm cases were confirmed from Texas. Counties reporting were Hilalgo 3, Starr 2, and one each from Kinney, Wilson, Liberty, McMullen, Bee, Duval. Zapata, and Kenedy.

Samples identified as non-screwworms were 218.

Producers should be especially vigilant within the next few months and treat and spray all marking wounds and sheep cuts out of the shearing pens.

Do all in your power to prevent a screwworm case from developing.

4-H club boys are working after school on range judging and grass identification. Two teams will be selected next week to compete in District 7 competition April 20 at San Angelo Junior College. Should they win at district they will represent District 7 at the 4-H club Round-Up June 5-6-7.

These youngsters will be shooting for a 14th consecutive win.

Producers planting for summer temporary pastures should be reminded that there are four groups from which to select. Sudangrass, sudan-johnsongrass types, sudan-sorghum hybrids and pearl millet.

Sudangrass includes such varieties as Common, Sweet, Tift, Green Leaf and Piper. The Sudan-johnsongrass types are Sorghum Alum and Perennial Sweet Sourgrass. Varieties of Pearl Millet are Gahl-1 Starr, Texas No. 7, and Common. Su-Graze, Grazer, Sudax II, Su-Tex, Hi-Dan 37 and 38 and Sor-Graz.

The sudan and sudan hybrids and types rank in yield as follows: (1) Sudan-Sorghum hybrids, (2) Sudan-Johnsongrass types, and (3) Sudan varieties.

The larger stalks of the Sudan sorghum hybrids do not appear to result in a palatability problem. They should be planted at the same rates as for sudan in rows.

'Rear Window' To Have Return Show Saturday

"Rear Window," the 1954 movie directed by Alfred Hitchcock, that starred Grace Kelly and James Stewart, was reissued recently for showing as one of the best of Hitchcock's films, and it is to be shown Saturday night at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre.

Princess Grace appeared in two Hitchcock pictures, "Rear Window" and "To Catch a Thief." The story of the former, as a good many people know, involves a news photographer (Stewart) confined to his apartment with a broken leg and the shenanigans of his neighbors whom he observes through the rear window of his apartment —and among other things, murder.

Mrs. Keno Ogden has Bob Evans at work this week on the interior of the Dora Oliver house she bought a while back, and has moved into. Evans is painting, and doing other repairs in the house.

The Bill Oglesbys and Bill Rozeans spent the week end at Lake Buchanan where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Henderson.

The city of Dallas ought to be ashamed.

We were in Dallas last week end locating the graves of five Civil War officers the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and the Texas Civil War Centennial Commission want to mark in an appropriate way. While there we stumbled on the little Confederate cemetery located at Reed Lane and Electra Street in South Dallas and came away feeling sad that apparently no one cares for the place any more.

The iron gates are falling off their hinges, brush grows around the fence, and some of the stones are so eroded the inscription is barely visible. Bottles and cans are strewn along the approach to the gateway.

Apparently the cemetery at one time was THE place where Confederate veterans would like to be laid to rest, but through the years, the place has been neglected. Oh, the inside is clean this time of year with no weeds or brush growing from the graves, but someone should be interested enough to fix the gates, clear the fence and gateway of brush, cans, and trash once in a while.

We looked up the grave site of Major John Henry Brown who for a time was editor to the Belton Journal and who later served as mayor of Dallas. Major Brown wrote a two volume history of Texas which still stands as one of the finest pieces of work of this kind and also wrote "Indian Wars and Pioneers of Texas," a book which now sells for upwards of $100 per copy, depending on the condition of the book.

We were surprised to find that no one now cares for the grave, that the stone is so eroded that you have to read the inscription with your fingers and that some of the markers in the family plots are falling down and becoming scattered.

The other famous Confederates we looked up in Dallas cemeteries have graves that are well cared for, but not a single one of the markers make note of the Confederate service of the men who lie here.

These are Gen. William Lewis Cabell, grandfather of the present Dallas mayor; General Richard M. Gane; Colonel N. H. Darnell, one-time Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of the Republic of Texas; and Captain John J. Good, the organizer of one of the most famous of all Civil War artillery batteries, Douglas' Texas battery.

It occurred to us that the work of taking care of the Confederate cemetery and seeing that these Confederate heroes are properly credited with the service they rendered would be a good project for the Civil War Round Table of Dallas, the local chapter of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, or some other civic or patriotic organization.

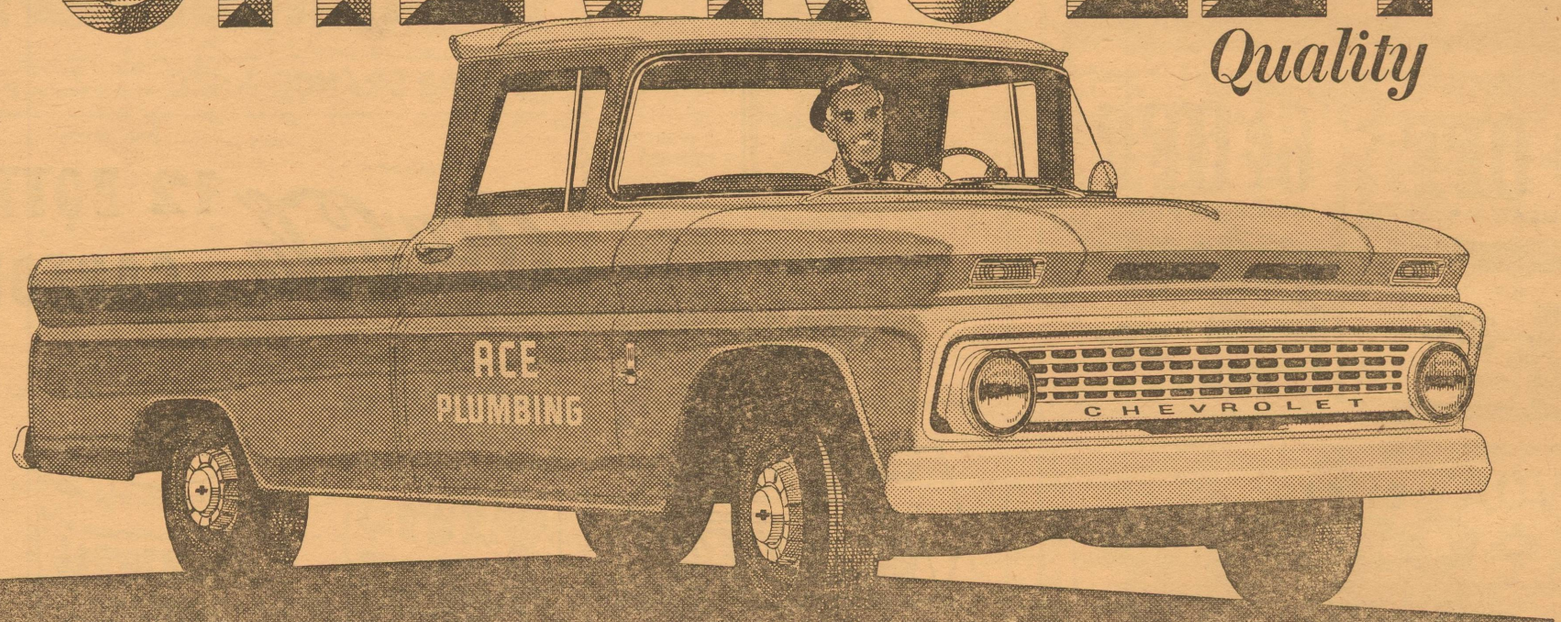

We hope some of them will see the need and take over the project.

The book is available from Mrs. Green whose address is Box 358, Edna, Texas.
