Bitter Cold Is Forecast

By The Associated Press
Deep cold spread rapidly over Texas Monday, ending springlike weather, and endangering budding fruit trees and tender vegetation in the northern half of the state.
The Weather Bureau issued a cold wave warning for Northwest and North Central Texas in which it predicted zero temperatures for the upper Panhandle Monday night.
Readings of 18 to 30 degrees were forecast for areas of North Central Texas.
By mid-morning the leading edge of the icy blast was deep within the state.
The thermometer dropped 13 degrees at Fort Worth within an hour—80 to 40 degrees.
Heavy thunderstorms heralded the arrival of the cold blast in Fort Worth and Dallas. Dallas was drenched with 1.16 inches of rain and Fort Worth .71.
Other rainfall included Bonham .57; Crandall .57; Clarksville .72; and Idabel 1.23.
A freezing drizzle at Bowie, northwest of Fort Worth, glazed roads.

The White House announcement Sunday said that some of the money will be used for Argentine economic development projects and some for purchases abroad.

Bids Opened For Community Center

Bids were received by the Commissioners Court this morning for construction of a community center for northeast Scurry County in Precinct 1.
The low bid of $15,500 entered by Home Lumber Co. of Rotan was accepted. Other bidders were T. E. Shelburne & Son, $15,888; Rose Construction Co. of Abilene, $17,400; and Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring, $18,960.
Work on the new center should start within two weeks, and will be completed in 75 working days.
Mrs. Jim Sorrells, Mrs. Raymond Robinson and Wright Hudson presented a petition containing 109 names to the court. The petition stated "We the undersigned feel that we are entitled to and should have a community center in the vicinity of Knapp."
The motion to build the center was made, but was tabled after Commissioner Dabbs voiced his objection on the grounds that his precinct had only one center (the one on which the contract was let this morning) and that Precinct 3 already had one at Ira and a half interest in the center at Union.
Thayne Mebane, Commissioner of Precinct 3, stated that centers should be where the people need them, and that he felt a petition with 109 names demonstrated a need. It was also pointed out that reservations for the centers at Ira

Mrs. Kennedy Postpones Trip Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that, because of a sinus infection, Mrs. John F. Kennedy has been forced to postpone the start of her Indian-Pakistan trip for a week. She is now due to begin the journey March 12.
The White House said the postponement was decided upon at the advice of the First Lady's physician.
She has been suffering from "a low-grade sinus infection for several months," press secretary Pierre Salinger said. The infection has caused an occasional fever, he added, but the fevers have been low.
The First Lady was at the airport in West Palm Beach, Fla., today to see her husband off on the flight bringing astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. and his family to Washington for a day of honors. Sunday she went water skiing and took a dunking.
She did not make the trip back to the Capitol today, staying for a few more days in the sun.
Exact details of Mrs. Kennedy's itinerary have yet to be worked out, but the delay will knock out the first eight days of her previously announced schedule. She will start the trip with a visit in New Delhi, India, and carry on from that point as previously determined, ending the tour at Karachi, Pakistan, on March 26.
This is the third postponement of the First Lady's journey to Asia. Initially it was set back from last November until January, then until next month.
Mrs. Kennedy had planned to leave Rome for New Delhi March 4. It was understood she probably will go to Rome before leaving for India, but not until later than originally scheduled.

Bus Takes A Plunge

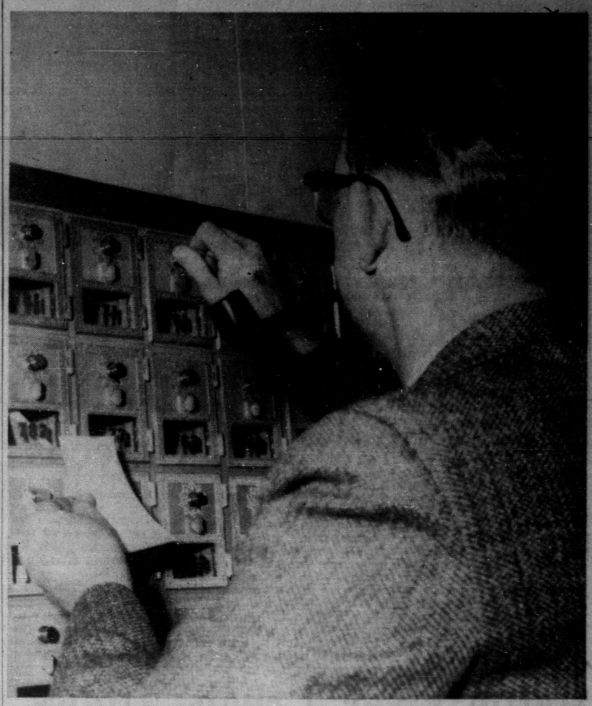

AUBURN, Calif. (AP)—A chartered bus returning to the San Francisco Bay area from a Nevada resort skidded off U.S. 40 freeway in a Sierra snowstorm Sunday and rolled twice, injuring a woman passenger, seriously injuring 21 and bruising 18 others.
The big Greyhound came to rest on its side at the bottom of a 50-foot embankment 30 miles east of here.
Pinned under it and crushed to death was Laverne Smith, 49, of San Leandro, wife of an Oakland fireman.
Driver Alan Maunder, 30, of Oakland and 20 others seriously injured were brought to Highland Hospital here in ambulances and hearses.

Huge Crowd Lines Route

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. rode down the parade route of great heroes today to a ceremonial meeting of both houses of Congress assembled to honor him for his achievement as the first American orbital flier.
Just over an hour after President Kennedy had flown Glenn and his family to the capital from Florida for a day of ceremonies, the astronaut set out from the White House in the presidential bubble-top limousine for the run past cheering throngs.
The weather that had beset Glenn's orbit flight itself interfered with the first welcoming ceremony, driving it indoors in a big hangar at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland. It also shifted plans for a helicopter flight to the executive mansion, requiring a change to an impromptu motorcade.
Despite the weather, crowds lined the parade route.
The President's jet plane, flying from West Palm Beach, Fla., with Glenn and his whole family aboard, landed at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 11:16 a.m. EST.
The landing was made under a low ceiling short visibility conditions in a pouring rain.
The weather drove the open ceremonies, planned for outdoors, into the shelter of a big hangar. As the rain kept pouring down, plans for a helicopter flight to carry the astronaut from the air base were canceled and a motorcade was arranged.
The presidential limousine and a fleet of other cars wheeled into the hangar 15 minutes before the expected touchdown of the President's jet.
Already on hand were Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Castor, Mrs. Glenn's parents, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Hisey of Pittsburgh.
They were flown from Florida, where they had spent the weekend with the Glenns, on an Air Force jet identical to the President's.
They took their place in the area of the hangar floor reserved for "distinguished guests."
It was just as wet downstairs but the harder ones gathered early along the route of the parade from the White House to the Capitol. A few dozen were on hand behind the ropes at the Capitol Plaza two hours before Glenn was due there to appear at a joint meeting of Congress.
A cab driver on Connecticut Avenue told a reporter on route to the White House:

MacMillan Is Ready For Summit - If

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today he is "very ready" to join a summit parley on disarmament if negotiations make progress or run into deadlock.
In a mildly worded note, Macmillan expressed the view that "either of these situations may arise fairly soon."
The prime minister lined up with President Kennedy in rejecting Khrushchev's proposal that heads of government personally should give a flying start to the 18-power conference opening March 14 in Geneva under United Nations sponsorship.
The British leader said he still felt, however, that the Geneva negotiations should begin at foreign ministers' level as he and Kennedy have suggested.
Macmillan's letter was delivered in Moscow today. Seen together with Kennedy's reply it emphasized that British-American differences with Khrushchev on summary bail down to the question of timing.
The prime minister's message, courteously worded, read like an appeal to the Soviet premier's logic.

A STUDY IN CONCENTRATION—Olon Griffith was just one of many Post Office patrons who had to learn a new box combination today. Many also had new box numbers, and the scene this morning was one of good natured confusion. Everyone seemed to feel that the slight inconvenience was more than offset by the improved facilities. Post Office employees moved to the new location yesterday.

Terrorists Kill More Moslems In Algiers

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Armored cars and riot troops swarmed into the heart of Algiers today but European terrorists killed 10 more Moslems, virtually all the eyes of police.
The Algerian nationalist rebels' parliament was meeting in Tripoli and was expected to approve a cease-fire with the French before the day is over.
This was expected to touch off another eruption of violence by the secret army, enemy of both the rebels and the French government.
In its campaign to block Algerian independence and keep the territory French, the secret army Sunday staged one of its most daring attacks to date—a bazooka raid on a French military police barracks in the outskirts. At least 10 persons were reported slain and gasoline storage tanks were set afire.
French authorities retaliated by moving armed forces into Algiers from outlying bases, but still the killings went on in the crowded street of Algiers.
Six Moslems were slain on the Rue Michelet. Police arrested a European and said he admitted one of the attacks.
Four Moslem dead and one wounded were sprawled over a 100-yard stretch of sidewalk opposite the University of Algiers.
An aged Moslem with a pointed white beard and dressed in a flowing robe lay dead across the street from the U.S. Information Service library. A Moslem youth, badly wounded, huddled by his side. A young man who had passed just before the attack said they had been sitting on the sidewalk watching passersby when they were shot.
Over the weekend at least 56 persons were killed in what seemed to be indiscriminate attacks by European and Moslem terrorists. The Saturday toll was 30, and 26 were reported killed Sunday.
Some 800 Moslem students at the University of Algiers went on strike, protesting that police protection against the secret army terrorists was not adequate. Mail delivery men also continued a strike for more protection which they demanded after seven postmen on their rounds were shot last week.
Informed sources said Algerian leaders attending the secret conference of the National Council in Tripoli probably would hold up announcement of their acceptance of peace terms until rebel Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda returns to Tunis, permanent headquarters of his National Liberation Front—FLN.
The French Cabinet already has approved the agreement to end the 7½-year war.
The 54 members of the rebel parliament have been holding secret day and night sessions since their arrival in Tripoli last Thursday. As Sunday night's session ended, Ferhat Abbas, former rebel premier and a leader of the FLN, hinted agreement was near.
In one of their heaviest attacks so far, commandos of the Secret Army Organization fired bazooka rockets into a French military police barracks Sunday night at Maison Carree, a suburb of Algiers, setting gasoline storage tanks ablaze.
Early reports said at least 19 persons were killed or wounded in the attack.
Fire engines summoned to fight the raging fires were blocked by machine gun fire for nearly an hour. The French army rushed six heavy tanks and a score of other armored vehicles into the area.
Firemen finally quelled the blaze which had spread to an ammunition dump, touching off many cartridges. The glow of the fire was visible in Algiers. The exploding bullets could be heard in the city.
Authorities said terrorist commandos in a passing car tossed grenades into the camp during the fire. Guards on duty fired at the car.

Supreme Court Orders Bail For Negro Held In Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today gave Alabama courts five days to grant release to the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth. The prime minister lined up with President Kennedy in rejecting Khrushchev's proposal that heads of government personally should give a flying start to the 18-power conference opening March 14 in Geneva under United Nations sponsorship.
The British leader said he still felt, however, that the Geneva negotiations should begin at foreign ministers' level as he and Kennedy have suggested.
Macmillan's letter was delivered in Moscow today. Seen together with Kennedy's reply it emphasized that British-American differences with Khrushchev on summary bail down to the question of timing.
The prime minister's message, courteously worded, read like an appeal to the Soviet premier's logic.
The Supreme Court said a three-judge court is required only when an injunction is sought on the ground of unconstitutionality of a statute. But it added, "There is no such ground ground when the constitutional issue presented is essentially fictitious."
Involved in the appeal is prosecution of about 220 persons arrested in transportation terminal waiting rooms in Jackson that were reserved for white patrons. They were charged with disturbing the peace.
Last Dec. 18, the Supreme Court refused to order a temporary halt in the prosecutions. It said the three Negroes who requested the halt were not under arrest, were not threatened with arrest, and could not be legally qualified to speak on behalf of the 220 who were arrested.
The Supreme Court added that a federal injunction against state court proceedings, such as asked by the three, was "an extraordinary remedy."
In today's opinion, the tribunal explained that while the three Negroes were not under arrest and could not get an injunction against state prosecution; they could get action in U.S. District Court because:
"As passengers using the segregated transportation facilities they are aggrieved and they have standing to enforce the rights to nonsegregated treatment."

Nehru's Aide Has Big Lead In Vote

By FERRY E. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Defense Minister V.K. Krishna Menon took a big lead today in unofficial returns in the parliamentary race that put Prime Minister Nehru's prestige at stake. Menon had 30,729 votes to 16,424 for J.B. Kripalani, a disciple of Gandhi. Kripalani is backed by a coalition that charged Nehru's left-leaning foreign policy confidante with being pro-Communist. Only 10 per cent or less votes remained to be counted in the north Bombay district. The counting will be completed Wednesday. Nehru took the stump for his aide, running in a north Bombay district, and argued his defeat would mean a setback for the ruling Congress party's development program. The Congress party was off to a running start toward retaining overwhelming control of the National Parliament but there were indications its holdings in the 13 state legislatures might be weakened somewhat. Although Nehru's party took 322 of the first 460 state assembly seats decided, this was a slight drop from the 1957 elections. The Congress party, although favored to win control of most and perhaps all of the state legislatures, had lost 45 seats in 29 new ones. There are 2,930 state legislature seats in all. Loss of assembly seats was not seen as any real setback for Nehru. Indian voters in previous elections have generally supported him in the parliamentary elections and voted on local issues in the assembly races. Nehru's party was returned to power in Madras state, winning 104 seats of the first 140 decided in the 206-member legislature. The Congress party also captured the first three parliamentary seats counted and also picked up three other seats in the 507-member lower house in districts where its candidates were not opposed. Half the nation's 210 million voters were estimated to have cast ballots in the 10 days of voting, the biggest election in the non-Communist world. The Congress party found the going roughest in the Punjab, where there is a strong movement for creation of a separate Sikh state.

Battle Over Urban Affairs Department Far From Dead

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP)—The crushing defeat last week of President Kennedy's plan to establish an urban affairs department at the Cabinet level ended the first big political battle of 1962. But is it really ended? Kennedy called the new department "necessary and inevitable" and said it must come some day. That means the battle will be fought again, probably next year. Northern big city Democrats are planning to hit hard at Republican opponents in this fall's elections on the ground that their votes against the plan were "anti-city" and even "anti-Negro," since Kennedy had announced he would name a Negro, Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, to the new Cabinet post. Republicans angrily denied any implication that they were against having a Negro in the Cabinet. They said they took their stand on principle and took it before Kennedy said anything about Weaver. They accused Kennedy of injecting "racism."

The urban affairs fight shows how a relatively simple political issue can gather momentum through the slow paths of Congress. It is subject to political strikes from one side or other, parliamentary maneuvers and partisan tactics and it is very hard to see the original stone beneath its hairy covering. In fact, the urban affairs fight is almost a textbook illustration of how politics is played in the big league of Washington, circa John F. Kennedy and Ann Domini 1962. As such, it is worth retracing chronologically.

The same day Kennedy surprised the new department "necessary and inevitable" and said it must come some day. That means the battle will be fought again, probably next year. Northern big city Democrats are planning to hit hard at Republican opponents in this fall's elections on the ground that their votes against the plan were "anti-city" and even "anti-Negro," since Kennedy had announced he would name a Negro, Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, to the new Cabinet post. Republicans angrily denied any implication that they were against having a Negro in the Cabinet. They said they took their stand on principle and took it before Kennedy said anything about Weaver. They accused Kennedy of injecting "racism."

No Decisive Battles Seen In Viet Nam
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting Jr., cautioned today against expecting any decisive battle in South Viet Nam's shabby war against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. Nolting told a news conference of foreign correspondents such type of action was "most unlikely."

"Progress will register itself in a gradual and accelerating improvement of the situation rather than by decisive battles," he said. Nolting announced the easing of restrictions on reporting of activities of American taking part in the massive U. S. military assistance and advisory program in this Red-threatened Southeast Asian country. The envoy said correspondents would again be permitted to go on military missions in which Americans participate.

A ban on such coverage was imposed three weeks ago following an Associated Press correspondent's graphic eyewitness account of a helicopter mission.

REMINDER FROM TWINS—Envelope displayed by identical twins, Debbie and Donna Horst, is a king-sized version of the ones left on doorsteps of families who were not at home when their Heart Sunday volunteer called yesterday. The twins, who underwent identical heart operations the same day are 7 years old and live at Elkins Park, Pa.

Heart Fund Drive Exceeds $1,500

With approximately 90 per cent of volunteers' envelopes counted, Scurry County and Snyder's Heart Sunday contributions stood at $1,463.56 Sunday night, Mrs. K. E. Davis, co-chairman of the Heart Sunday drive, said. The remaining envelopes will be opened shortly and their contents tallied along with contributions mailed in by families that were not at home when Heart Sunday volunteers called. A new total will be announced later in the week, Mrs. Davis said. "We earnestly urge all Scurry County and Snyder residents who were not at home Sunday to call today to insert a generous contribution in the 'not-at-home' envelopes left by their volunteers," Mrs. Davis said. "The envelopes are already addressed to the Scurry County Heart Council and need only to be stamped and mailed."

Funeral Rites Set For Former Solon
NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—A funeral service will be held Tuesday for former U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives, a Republican who suffered only one political defeat in 28 years in public life. Ives, who was 66, died Saturday in Chenango Memorial Hospital after a long illness. The funeral will be in Emmanuel Episcopal church. Burial will be at nearby Bainbridge, where the former senator was born. Ives began his political career in 1930, when he was elected to the State Assembly from Chenango County. He was elected to the U. S. Senate in 1946, and served until 1953. His only defeat was in 1954, when Democrat W. Averell Harriman defeated him by a narrow margin for governor.

Fairly Easy Week Faced By Congress
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plans to take it fairly easy this week after last week's slapsdown of President Kennedy's plan to establish a department of urban affairs and housing. Only one Kennedy-requested measure is on the docket in either branch. The House will debate and probably send to the Senate a measure to set up a program of retraining displaced workers for other jobs in industry. The Senate has scheduled for debate several relatively minor bills, putting off until next week consideration of a House-passed measure to increase the temporary national debt limit. Committees in both branches will be busy putting finishing touches on legislation piling up or on investigations. In the Senate, major interest centers on an Armed Services Committee probe of Pentagon censorship of anti-Communist speeches by generals and admirals.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"The Lord God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to till it and to keep it." Genesis 2:15 (read verses 4-17)

When God placed man upon earth, He gave man a specific stewardship. The earth is God's; He created it; He controls its destiny; but to man He gave the job of tilling it and keeping it. Men must not exploit, abuse, destroy, neglect, or otherwise use this earth. Man's job is to make the earth fruitful, make it multiply, and otherwise make it into the garden of God. This is your stewardship of the earth which God has given into your keeping.

Soviet Maneuvers Tough To Follow

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of it is tricky, some of it is propaganda, and some of it seems to make no sense.

You need a scorecard to follow the Russian maneuvers—the soft and tough—on disarmament, nuclear testing, summitry, Berlin and the exchange of spies and relatives.

President Khrushchev's latest call for a summit, and President Kennedy's rejection of it Sunday, at least for the time being, is only the most recent in a mish-mash of events.

If a whole series of friendly gestures had been followed by harsh ones, they could be listed separately and an obvious conclusion drawn: That Khrushchev had established unchallenged the principle of the separation of East and West Germany.

He began a crisis elsewhere. For three years the United States, Britain and Russia had stopped nuclear testing while they talked in Geneva about agreeing to a permanent ban on it.

Then on Sept. 1, with only one day's warning, while the talks were still going on, Russia resumed testing. No nation can test suddenly. So Russia had been planning this for months.

In October, Khrushchev had a mean split with his Red Chinese allies. Whether this had something to do with what followed for months is not known, but from October until this year Khrushchev remained almost silent.

In the meantime, as a friendly gesture, in November he let the son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubel, editor of Izvestia, interview Kennedy and permitted the interview to be published in Moscow.

Things looked calm but not for long. Events picked up after the first of the year.

Despite the Russian resumption of testing the test-ban talks continued in Geneva. For a long time Russia had demanded that these talks be merged with talks on disarmament in general.

Eighteen nations are opening talks March 14 in Geneva on general disarmament.

In January the United States and Britain agreed to the Russian demand to merge the talks. Then suddenly the Russians switched; wanted no part of it; the nuclear test-ban talks continued over years and 353 sessions, broke up Jan. 20.

Just as this was happening, Khrushchev sent his son-in-law back to Washington to lunch with Kennedy, and Moscow invited the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Russia. He declined.

On Feb. 7 Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan suggested the high powers could show they meant business at the March 14 disarmament talks by sending their foreign ministers there.

Three days later, although it had been long in the works, Khrushchev released Francis Gary Powers, the captured U2 spy plane pilot, in exchange for Col. Rudolf I. Abel, the Soviet spy captured here, Moscow itself

16 Deaths From Violence Logged

By The Associated Press. One man died and five others were injured Sunday night when 50 pounds of jellied nitroglycerin exploded at a Midland oil well servicing company.

Mud Slide Traps Three Skindivers

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP)—Three skindivers died Sunday when a mud slide trapped them 130 feet under water in an abandoned stone quarry and their air supplies ran out.

A fourth diver, who made a daring attempt to rescue them, was reported in fair condition at a hospital today, suffering from shock. He knew his own breathing apparatus was defective when he made the rescue attempt.

Dean Delbene, treasurer of the 1,000-member Illinois Council of Skin and Scuba Divers, an affiliate of the Underwater Society of America, called the deaths of the three men "definitely the worst tragedy in the history of scuba diving."

Those asphyxiated were: Jack Lepinski, 27, of Wakefield, Mich., a U.S. Air Force man who had been attending courses at an International Business Machines Corp. plant here; David Lasher, 32, and William Mills Sr., 45, both of this city on the Hudson River.

Under treatment at Benedictine Hospital is Gerry Klemm, 27, of Kingston, who attempted the rescue. Eight members of the Ulster County Skindivers Club went to the quarry, a favorite spot for skindivers because the water—200 feet deep at spots—doesn't freeze in the winter.

Lepinski, Lasher, Mills and Klemm entered a narrow tunnel and made their way to the dark quarry shaft 150 feet inside a hill. The quarry shaft drops off from the end of the tunnel at about 20 degrees from perpendicular.

A number of rooms, more than 100 feet long, lead off the shaft at different levels. Klemm's oxygen regulator did not operate properly, and he remained at the top to hold ropes for the others.

When they failed to give the customary periodic tugs on their ropes to let him know they were all right, Klemm rushed outside and told the other club members to call police. He then sped back into the tunnel, put on his own defective apparatus and dove into the pool to search for his companions, who had a one-hour air supply.

Klemm found them partially buried in mud. The bodies of Lepinski and Lasher were lifted to the surface on ropes. Police and divers tried in vain for two hours to revive them.

The rope attached to Mills' waist broke as the others dived to lift him. In heavier chicks for those who prefer to raise fryers, Ezell-Key offers New Hampshire Reds and Astra-White chicks.

The friendly personnel at Ezell-Key are always glad to help with suggestions for any gardening question or problem. Chances are they have heard the problem before and know how others solved it.

For complete satisfaction with springtime needs, whether they be chicks or garden supplies, people in Snyder depend on Ezell-Key.

More Snow Hits Areas Of Midwest

By The Associated Press. Another snow and sleet storm hit sections of the Midwest today, dumping another blanket of white across the snow-covered midlands.

Wet weather also was in prospect for most of the eastern half of the nation, with snow and rain in the Northeast and rain in other areas outside the Midwest snow belt.

Arctic air from Canada spread into Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota. In Montana, temperatures fell to 26 below zero in Butte, -20 in Drummond, -19 in Lewistown and -17 in Cut Bank.

The snow belt extended from Lake Michigan and Lake Superior into Kansas, Nebraska and southern South Dakota. Heavy snow fell in Iowa, with six inches reported in a six-hour period in Des Moines, making a total of 15 inches on the ground.

Freezing rain and sleet slicked highways in northwest and extreme northern Illinois and the narrow ice belt stretched from the Oklahoma Panhandle to lower Michigan. Heavy snow or glaze warnings were posted for much of Kansas, Nebraska, northwest Missouri, Iowa and sections of Illinois and Wisconsin.

Former Virtuoso Opens Art Show

By JACK C. LANDAU. NEW YORK (AP)—Vincent J. Vita was a piano virtuoso at 31 but a year later he became completely paralyzed and totally blind.

Today Vita opens his first one-man exhibition of oil paintings. Still severely crippled and partially blind, the 36-year-old artist is showing 28 well-executed oils that display a range of style and technique.

His brilliant colors and icy pastels, most of them landscapes, are haunted by his personal sense of loss, his love for music, and his strong will to come back into being as a productive and self-sufficient person.

Born and raised in Brooklyn as one of eight children, Vita was drawn early to study the piano and compose music. At 21, he performed "Fantasia in Three Movements" for the late maestro Arturo Toscanini who was so impressed that he gave the young man his baton.

Vita gave a series of recitals including one in Carnegie Hall. He also performed at private concerts, continued to compose and taught piano. Then he developed a brain tumor. Vita lost all his sight and the use of his body.

Physicians gave him little chance of recovering even partial sight or mobility. He would not believe them. In addition to following a strenuous routine of physical therapy, he underwent several operations which doctors were not at all sure would do any good.

His sight began to return in one eye. Operations restored sight in the other. Now, he has only direct and limited vision. He cannot see his feet.

Sgt. York Pays Tribute To Astronaut

PALL MALL, Tenn. (AP)—The man who became an American hero during World War I has joined the nation in paying tribute to its new hero of the space age.

"God bless you is my prayer," Sgt. Alvin C. York said over the weekend in the telegram to astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. "You have done more to achieve peace than two presidents have done in the last 30 years."

Sgt. York wrote, "As I watched you on television, my mind went back to the battle of Argonne, and I know what you were going through."

The 70-year-old hero of yesterday was referring to the battle on Oct. 8, 1918, when he was credited with putting a German machine gun battalion out of action, killing 25 Germans and taking 132 prisoners.

The Tennessee, then 31, returned from France to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor. The husband of Queen Elizabeth II took a commercial plane over the tricky route and like other passengers made the two-hour trip with an oxygen tube in his mouth.
