Many messages and personal visits by municipal officials and community leaders of other towns have conveyed congratulations to Snyder for being named an All-America City, but Wichita Falls took a more impressive course.

A delegation from that city just south of the Red River presented their own plaque during a visit here Wednesday, and they probably made as thorough a tour of Snyder as any visiting group ever has.

Another group was in town Thursday, and there have been other telephone calls and letters inquiring about the possibility of making visits here to look over community improvements.

The delegation which visited here Thursday came from Pecos, and there will be others in the near future.

Such activity no doubt is part of the objective of the All-America City contest, which is sponsored by Look Magazine and the National Municipal League. With the interest of others being stimulated, the All-America cities must stay on their toes and keep abreast of the time, or else they will be overtaken.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has issued a report on a transplanting project it initiated over a decade ago.

In 1957-58, 44 aoudad sheep were released in the Palo Duro Canyon area. Now, the department reports that the original 44 have multiplied to a total of 600. Thus, the aoudad sheep, a much sought after game animal apparently is doing well in the Texas Panhandle, which is far from its native Atlas Mountains in North Africa.

During the past five years, the department has issued 330 permits to land owners in the Palo Duro area, and 78 sheep have been killed.

A scarcity of game animals in Palo Duro Canyon had been a matter of some concern. Before the aoudad sheep were released, there was little in the canyon to hold the interest of hunters. A few mule and white - tailed deer which lived around the perimeter of the canyon represented the total game colony.

The aoudad sheep offer a challenge to hunters, since the imported animals seem to thrive on rugged terrain, making trophies difficult to obtain.

Today In History

Today is Sunday, May 4, the 124th day of 1969. There are 241 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1626, the Dutch colonizer, Peter Minuit, landed on Manhattan Island. Minuit bought Manhattan from the Indians for trinkets worth $24.

In 1942, the Battle of the Coral Sea began in the Pacific war.

In 1945, German troops surrendered in Denmark as the European war neared its end.

In 1961, a biracial group — the first of the so-called Freedom Riders - set out by bus from Washington to New Orleans to test segregation barriers.

Ten years ago —Sir Winston Churchill arrived in Washington for a visit with President Dwight D. Wisenhower.

Five years ago — The Pulitzer Prize jury announced in New York it would not award 1964 prizes in the fields of fiction, drama and music.

One year ago — The Soviet government announced ratification of a consular convention with the United States after four years of bickering and delay.

STUDENTS ON RAMPAGE

More Campuses Closed

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the four major units of the City University remained closed today, one following student rampages Friday and the other as lengthy negotiations continued between administration and students.

More than 500 policemen cleared the Queens College campus Friday after 4 Negro students marched through three buildings, smashing windows and overturning furniture. The college president, Joseph P. McMurray, suspended all classes through Monday.

At Brooklyn College, acting president George A. Peck ordered the 26-acre campus cleared after students occupied a dean's office, ransacked the office files and marched into the main library, where several small fires broke out and smoke bombs were thrown.

One black student was charged with first degree arson in connection with a fire in Whitehead Hall.

Brooklyn College reopened today, a spokesman said.

City College remained closed as its president, Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, negotiated with black and Puerto Rican students who have barricaded half the campus.

Hunter College in Manhattan is the one major City University institution that has remained open during the current wave of campus turmoil.

Friday was the second straight day of violence at Queens College. On Thursday, Negro students had smashed windows in the faculty cafeteria and had overturned card catalogues in the library.

President McMurray called the police Friday after a group of Negro students ran from building to building, declaring they would attain demands they are seeking "by any means necessary."

They smashed windows in the social science and administration buildings, then ran into the cafeteria and began hurling chairs through plate-glass windows as lunch-hour diners sought safety in a corridor.

McMurray ordered the campus closed down and called the police shortly before 2 p.m. They arrived about an hour later in buses, patrol cars and paddy wagons.

A scuffle between about 20 Negro students and 100 whites broke out at the college's Reeves Avenue entrance before the police arrived. Punches were thrown and rocks were hurled before campus security guards closed a tall chain-link fence between the whites, who were on the campus, and the Negroes, who were locked outside.

Meanwhile, 200 white students who had occupied the college's 13-story administration building since Monday marched out with raised, clenched fists, singing "Solidarity Forever," as soon as they heard the police were coming.

Withdrawal Talk Revived

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A top deputy in the U.S. Command met Fridaynight with President Nguyen Van Thieu, reviving speculation about American troop withdrawals. Thieu said today, however, any U.S. withdrawal depends upon the buildup of his forces.

Maj. Gen. Richard F. Shaefer, whose staff prepares contingency plans for mutual and unilateral U.S. troop withdrawals, met for 1½ hours at the presidential palace with Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. Shaefer is a deputy to Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Today is the first anniversary of President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement that preliminary talks had been arranged with North Vietnam. Informants said the Friday session in the presidential palace was to discuss results of the latest session of the enlarged Paris peace talks and to map strategy for next week's session.

"There are a lot of propositions going on in Paris," said one source, "like developing positions and the problems and mechanics involved in mutual troop withdrawals, the matter of American prisoners of war and our position on the demilitarized zone."

American military sources said today any cutback in the 541,000 U.S. troops stationed in Vietnam hinges on three conditions.

They are:

—Some breakthrough at the Paris peace talks.

—A greatly reduced infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into the South.

—Improvement of South Vietnam's armed forces.

"Any change in American troop strength would require one or all three of these conditions," said one senior officer.

The intensity of the Viet Cong's spring offensive, now in its 11th week, has dropped off sharply. For the second night since Feb. 23, the U.S. Command reported no significant rocket or mortar attacks on allied towns and bases.

"Things are slow, unbelievably slow," said a spokesman.

VFW Meet Opens Here

Veterans of Foreign Wars of District 8 and members of their Ladies Auxiliary were gathering Saturday afternoon in Snyder for their annual spring district convention.

Social events were on the schedule for Saturday afternoon and evening. A memorial service is set for Sunday morning at the VFW Hall, after which the VFW will hold its business session there and the Auxiliary business meeting will be held at the American Legion Hall.

District officers will be elected at the business sessions.

Principal speaker for the convention is F. M. (Robbie) Robinson, assistant Department of Texas Adjutant.

District Commander J. B. Estess of Brownwood was presiding over the VFW session and Mrs. Buster Fowlers of Snyder, district president, was presiding at the Auxiliary meeting.

Snyder Has UIL Champ

Snyder High School had a state champion and two runnersup in University Interscholastic League contests Friday at Austin.

Ralphene Neal took first place in girls informative speaking.

Joe Wilson of Snyder High placed second in boys prose reading, while Otis Archie placed second in boys poetry interpretation.

Four Killed By Blast In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — At least four persons were reported killed and 11 injured—most of them schoolchildren—when an explosion ripped through a warehouse in suburban El Molinito Friday. Two persons were missing, the Red Cross said.

ATTEND DEDICATION — From left, Hugh Boren, Jr., Mrs. W. C. Fargason, W. C. Fargason, Bill Hairston, Mrs. Clyde Gilmore, Clyde Gilmore, Mrs. Wayne Boren, Theo Soules (standing behind Mrs. Boren), Dan Cotton and Ross Williams appeared on the program at the dedication of historical markers for Pyron and the old Snyder Cemetery. The program was held at the Pyron cemetery Friday afternoon. Also included among those present was Scurry County Judge Sterling Taylor (not pictured).

HISTORICAL MARKER DEDICATED

Progress Made, Erased Pyron

The town came into being because of progress and it disappeared because of progress.

That statement by Dan Cotton, Snyder attorney, summed up the story of Pyron, a town that came into being in the southeast part of Scurry County in the latter part of the 19th century. An historical marker in commemoration of the town was dedicated at the Pyron Cemetery Friday afternoon in ceremonies conducted by the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee.

Pyron was originally settled by a rancher of that name. Located near the Santa Fe Railway Co. tracks, the town began to grow and had a school, a two - story hotel, a cotton gin and other businesses by 1920. When a major highway by-passed the town, it began to decline, and the post office was closed in 1952.

A few farmers still live in the area, but about the only reminder of the town is the cemetery where several persons are buried.

Theo Soules, an early resident of the community, recounted some of the past history of Pyron. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gilmore unveiled the marker, and it was accepted on behalf of the county by Commissioner Bill Hairston.

W. C. Fargason discussed the RAMPS program of the state and county historical survey committees. His wife is secretary of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, and she read a poem of her own composition in memory of Pyron.

Mrs. Wayne Boren gave a history of the "old Snyder graveyard" in the east part of town. The ceremony also included the official dedication of a marker for this cemetery.

Ross Williams, president of the Pyron Cemetery Association, was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by Rev. Fred Boatman, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Hermleigh. Included among the guests were Scurry County Judge Sterling Taylor and his wife.

The dedication program was a highlight of a regular meeting of the Pyron Cemetery Association. Members and guests participated in a cemetery working, and enjoyed "lunch on the grounds."

Twister In San Antonio

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The police said there was considerable property damage but no known loss of life or injuries.

A part of the city was without electric power for a time.

1st Graders' Parents To Visit Nurses

Parents of children who will be starting to school for the first time next September are being urged to visit the school nurse of their individual school during the coming week.

The following immunizations are required for all students entering the first grade: DPT, smallpox and tetanus. Those who have completed these should bring the immunization record to the nurse when they come for conference.

The schedule for visits with nurses is as follows: West Elementary, Mrs. Nell Spence, school nurse, Monday and Tuesday; Northeast Elementary, Mrs. Eula Williams, School nurse, Monday and Tuesday; East Elementary, Mrs. Nell Spence, school nurse, Wednesday and Thursday; Stenfield Elementary, Mrs. Eula Silliams, school nurse, Wednesday and Thursday; Central Elementary, Mrs. Eula Williams, school nurse, Monday, May 12, and Tuesday, May 13; North Elementary, Mrs. Nell Spence, school nurse, Monday, May 12, and Tuesday, May 13.

THE WEATHER WEIGHS HEAVILY

Skipper Joyce A Free Agent

"I would have to say it was the weather. It affects so many things in this business."

That was the reply of Fla (Skipper) Joyce to the question: What caused you the most worry in your 16 years of work in the Snyder Public Schools maintence department?

Joyce, who announced in February that he planned to give up the position of Director of Maintenance for the schools, has now fully carried out his avowed intentions. He became a "free agent" the first of the month.

"I don't know what I will do," Joyce said. "I really haven't looked for anything yet, and I may not look too hard for a while." He said he hoped to align himself with something that would demand less time and less responsibility than the school position he has held a number of years. He emphasized that he was not retiring, but rather giving up a strenuous position because he was tired.

Joyce began his association with Snyder Public Schools in 1953 when the present senior high building was first opened.

SKIPPER JOYCE

Three new elementary schools also had been opened recently, those at East, West and North. Joyce was hired as school engineer, in charge of building maintenance. Three years later, he was elevated to the position of director of maintenance when Elmer Taylor retired. Joyce held the top post in that department of the school from that time continuously until his recent resignation became effective.

His comments on the weather brought out some of the problems the maintenance department faces 24 hours a day. There always is the concern about heating systems in the school buildings in cold weather, leaks when it rains, cracks in roofs when it doesn't rain — all of which can be serious problems.

"I can't appreciate a good snow," Joyce confided. He also

Abernathy Plans To Lead March

By DON McKEE
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, released after a week in jail, says he will lead a march Sunday in behalf of striking Negro hospital worker sand that the Poor People's Campaign "may just move to Charleston."

Abernathy was released Friday night after $500 bond was posted by a Charleston supporter.

His arrest in an April 25 demonstration for violating a court order limiting pickets at two hospitals was followed by a call-up of National Guardsmen and, two nights ago, by the start of a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew.

Despite the curfew, the city was plagued again Friday night by sporadic window-breaking, rock-throwing, fire bomb attempts and other vandalism. The curfew was extended through tonight at request of county officials.

A police car was stoned, smashing the window, and a vacant building was set afire.

Only minutes before the 9 p.m. curfew, Abernathy left the county jail, the bond posted by a Charleston supporter. Two hours later, Abernathy held a news conference to pledge continued efforts to gain union recognition and higher pay for the 400 striking orderlies, nurses aides and food service workers at the South Carolina Medical College Hospital and the Charleston County Hospital. Their present pay is $1.30 to $2.05 an hour.

Abernathy said he still was hopeful President Nixon would step into the six-week dispute which has brought 600 arrests for picketing violations, continuing minor violence, and a sharp decline in this seaport's tourists trade and convention business.

"I am totally surprised that the President of the United States could sit idly by at this moment in history when a crisis does exist and fail to intervene," said Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). Earlier Friday he appealed to Nixon to intervene.

DEAR ABBY: Every Sunday our mother serves dinner between 1 and 3:30 and 4:00. Recently, certain relatives have been coming to visit us at exactly that time. Before we know it, they have their coats off and they stand there. Naturally, Mom asks them to stay for dinner. They have six in their family and we have seven in ours. What kills us is that they know perfectly well that we have our Sunday dinner around that time.

Abby, we are writing this for our Mom because she is such a sweet, kind - hearted person she wouldn't say anything to hurt their feelings, but feeding SIX extra people every Sunday is getting too much for her. Can you give us a solution

MOM'S KIDS

DEAR KIDS: Sitting down at a table for 13 every Sunday, especially when preparations have been made for only seven, can be pretty unlucky for the hostess. But if she's too timid to speak up, there's nothing you can do. (P. S. After a while these "unexpected" guests become expected.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why are so many educated, well - bred people so sloppy about R. S. V. P. invitations?

Several of my friends have gotten married recently, and beautiful engraved "R.S.V.P." invitations were sent, and the number of responses they received was pathetic!

One of the girls had 296 acceptances, and over 400 guests showed up! (She assumed that those who didn't respond were not coming.)

Another friend of mine had to make over 100 telephone calls to find out who were planning to attend.

I simply cannot understand why people will not take a few minutes to write a short note or make a telephone call. Please print this. I have a feeling I am not alone.

APPALLED

DEAR APPALLED: You are not alone. Those who ignore R.S.V.P. invitations are lazy, disorganized, thoughtless, or careless.

DEAR ABBY: Someone gave me this little piece, which I think is just about the most precious thing I have ever read. She said you wrote it. Did you?

"FLYING FOR WESTERN"

DEAR FLYING: No. But I wish I had. I shall publish it with the hope that if anyone in my reading audience knows the author he will share it with me.

"Woman was created from the rib of man.

She was not made from his head to top him.

Nor out of his feet to be trampled upon.

But out of his side, to be equal to him,

Under his arm, to be protected,

And near his heart, to be loved."

Amherst Advises President

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — College unrest will not quiet down until the political leadership of the country addresses itself to the major problems of society—the war, the draft and the needs of the poor—Amherst College has told President Nixon.

Amherst President Calvin H. Plimpton expounded the views of the Amherst College community in a letter to Nixon, saying it was based on two days of discussion and debate early this week between students and faculty while classes were suspended.

He said the Amherst community took issue with the views that campus disorder is caused by a small minority of students and that unrest would quiet down without substantial changes in American political leadership.

"Until political leadership addresses itself to these major problems," the letter said, "the concern and energy of those who know the need for change will seek outlets for their frustrations."

JOYCE

recalled mopping water out of gymnasiums (those floors buckle easily) and repairing boilers and plumbing installations.

However, during his entire career, Joyce recalled only one day of school missed because of a heating problem and that occurred in the Head Start program. He admitted that Travis Junior High students "got a little cold one day when a steam pipe broke," but it was repaired in three or four hours and they never missed any classes.

"You've got to go out and hunt trouble and settle it before it starts," Joyce declared in commenting on building maintenance. He said that often he could merely walk into a school building around midnight and sense immediately if something is wrong. It might be a water leak, or a piece of mechanical equipment not functioning properly. These things are readily noted in the quiet of night to the practiced ear.

Joyce also has been responsible for keeping school buses going on 21 routes covering some 1,200 miles daily. Approximately 1,000 public school children here ride the buses, and the maintenance department must keep them moving.

When Joyce became director of maintence in 1956, there were five elementary schools, one junior high school and one senior high school. Northeast and Stanfield Elementary Schools, Lamar Junior High and a High School section for what was then the Abraham Lincoln School, were built within the following three years.

Now, there are 12 buildings, including the Humble - Smith School and the administration building. Also, there are football fields and their auxiliary buildings at the senior high and at Travis Junior High. These keep the maintenance department humming.

For example, Joyce noted that there are over 100 motors in the senior high complex alone.

It all adds up to 130 acres with a dozen buildings and 50 vehicles, including buses, pickup trucks, cars and tractors. When Joyce began the job as director of maintenance there were some 20 to 25 employes in that department. Today there are 39.

Bus safety was mentioned as a close rival with the weather as source of worry. However, Joyce recalled only one bus mishap, that one an overturned vehicle, and nobody was injured. The weather, of course, affects bus safety as well as building maintenance.

"Sometimes you get to where you don't exactly want it to rain," Joyce admitted.

Joyce came to Snyder 40 years ago, and he observed that his knowledge of the area was a big asset in his job with the schools, particularly in mapping school bus routes.

"My family being in the ginning business around here for about 27 years helped me a lot, because I knew where the farms were," he explained.

Joyce had a varied experience before his association with the school system here. He once worked for a magnesium plant at Austin as a millwright inspector and while there he learned to drive a locomotive owned by the company. The firm extracted magnesium from dolomite mines around Burnet. He also had a brief fling at operating a cedar oil mill at New Braunfels. It was the biggest cedar oil mill in the world, but seven workers turned out only two barrels of cedar oil per day. It sold for $400 per barrel, however.

Experiences in these other fields stood him in good stead for his work as school maintenance director, Joyce said.

Joyce said he probably would miss the stress and strain of the job for a while, but mostly it would be the people that he would miss. He has worked under four school superintendents and with a number of school personnel and trustees.

"There's a lot of good people among them, and I'm going to miss the association with all of them," Joyce concluded.

George Minot officially became the Director of Maintenance on March 1, with Joyce remaining as a consultant until the end of April.

E. T. PATTERSON

Patterson On Board

E. T. (Pat) Patterson, president of Hillside Memorial Gardens, has been named to the advisory board of the National Association of Cemeteries, according to word received here today. The appointment, was made by Lynn French, board chairman, from Whittier, Calif.

Patterson will represent the state of Texas on the board. Only one cemetery director from each state is appointed to the board. Patterson will help formulate national policies for the Association.

Hillside Memorial Gardens, located southeast of town on the Colorado City Highway, has made steady improvement under Patterson's direction and now has a fulltime staff of five maintenance workers. It is a perpetual care cemetery.

Cranston Asks Clean Fight On Job Corps Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of congressional opposition to the planned cutback of Job Corps sites has called on the Nixon administration to release all records of the centers — good and bad, he said, to fight clean.

"I'm ready to wage a non-partisan, clean battle and I trust the administration will do the same," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

His comment followed disclosure Friday the administration has confidential files on rapes, homosexuality, narcotics use and extortion at Job Corps sites available as trump cards in the cutback dispute.

Cranston, who introduced a Senate resolution asking President Nixon to postpone closing the 57 centers, said Congress has had difficulty getting records.

But he said disclosure of the documents did not uncover anything new to those familiar with the Job Corps.

"These kids are not angels and no one expects them to be," he said. "We recognize if those kids are turned back into the streets there will be more crime, not less of it."

Administration officials denied that investigators' reports were used to decide which centers to close.

The files pinpoint such troubles as narcotics use at Kilmer Center for men at Edison, N.J.; homosexiality at Poland Spring women's center near Lewiston, Maine; and racial fights at Parks men's center at Pleasanton, Calif.

Stamped "Administratively Confidential," the papers are summaries of case studies prepared by investigators from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

A spokesman or the OEO's inspection team said he was dismayed the reports had been leaked. "If anyone has revealed those documents for political purposes I would consider it highly unethical," he said.

One report said homosexuality at the Poland Spring womens center had been so persisten "that the termination of the center is in the best interest of the government and the enrollees."

The director of the center, Robert G. Lake, denied there was a serious problem with homosexuality while testifying earlier this week before a House subcommittee. "Our problem has been with rumors," he said, "not with an instance of homosexuality."

A report on the Kilmer men's center quoted a physician there as saying "narcotics are rampant."

In response to publicity on the report, a spokesman at Kilmer said 60 per cent of the camp's enrollees come from New York City where drug abuse is a serious problem and "it is not surprising that some of them have been exposed to narcotics . . . Every effort is made to identify the undesirables and get them out."

Acting Director Robert Emond of the OEO's inspection office refused to show the original studies of the centers when told that summaries of them had been seen. He said the studies were intended to improve the centers.

"We send in investigators and they poke, poke, poke, until they hit a soft spot, find something rotten," he said. "Then we lance it.

"We've fired administrators, cleaned house, put in new staffs and as a result many of these camps have been well run."

Chairman Carl Perkins, D-Ky., whose Education and Labor subcommittee has been studying the planned closures, said he felt use of the reports was "a flimsy excuse and distasteful."

"This is expectable of the kind of youngsters we are trying to rehabilitate," he said. "That's the job of the Job Corps."

Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Wis., a member of the subcommittee, said he felt it was incorrect to say the administration was using any of the files as trump cards in the dispute.

"Only one center, Poland Springs, was closed for reasons other than the criteria used by the Labor Department," he said. "And the issue of homosexuality was not considered in the decision to close Poland Spring."

SMU Said 'Better' For Confrontation

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist University officials say they "have a better university" as a result of a confrontation with black students who occupied President Willis Tate's office and refused to leave for five hours.

The 34 students, members of the Black Leaders for Afro-American and African College Students, walked out of the administration building single file Friday afternoon past about 200 cheering, clapping onlookers, mostly white.

The black leaders met earlier Friday with Dr. Tate and other SMU officials to hear late reveal the findings of six administrative task forces, which had studied the students' demands.

"It was a very constructive and healthy discussion," said SMU Vice President Thomas E. Broce. "We feel, and the students feel, that we have a better university for it."

Tate reviewed the task force reports and discussed the black students' demands for about 1½ hours and then left the meeting. Shortly before noon, the black students said they would not not leave the president's office until their demands were met.

East Texas Staff Includes Two Mayors

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — East Texas State University may be the only college in the country with two mayors on its staff.

Dr. W. J. Bell, head of the department of journalism and graphic arts, is serving his second term as mayor of Commerce.

Fletcher Warren, retired career diplomat and ambassador-in-residence at the university, has just been elected mayor of Greenville. Greenville is 15 miles from Commerce.

MUSIC WEEK PROCLAIMED — Mayor Bobby McCormick signs a proclamation calling attention to observance of National Music Week, May 4-11, as Mrs. Wayne Bethel, local Music Week Chairman, looks on.

Music Week Events Set

The 46th annual observance of National Music Week begins today (Sunday) and continues through Sunday, May 11.

National Music Week is sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, of which the Musical Coterie of Snyder is a member.

The theme for the week's observance this year is, "Music Enriches Life."

Objectives are to create an understuding and appreciation of the value of music in the home and community as a common bond among all people and to create an understanding of appreciation of music as an instrument of world peace.

The first celebration of National Music Week was in 1924, under the guidance of the late Charles M. Tremaine. Since 1924, when President Calvin Coolidge served as the first Honorary Chairman, each of the nation's chief executives has given his moral support to an annual observance of National Music Week.

May 4 — Voice recital at Martha Ann Woman's Club, featuring Kathleen Mott, Soprano, and Richard Becker, piano, at 2:30 p.m. Both are graduate students at the University of Texas.

May 5-9 — National Guild Piano auditions at First Baptist Church, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Mrs. Wallace Gates of Artesia, N. M., will be the judge.

May 8 — Martha Ann Woman's Club will present members of the Musical Coterie in "Piano Festival" with a silver tea honoring Life and Founder members, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Musical selections will be played in appreciation of National Music Week daily from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Snyder Day Camp will be held June 9th thru 13th at Camp Ila Rue. Mrs. Bill Campbell will be Day Camp Director this summer and Mrs. Jack Chastain will be her assistant.

Day Camp training will be held on Monday, May 5, and on Tuesday, May 6, at the Girl Scout Hut, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Bring a sack lunch. We need leaders and assistants to train for Day Camp; also volunteers (not necessarily registered) will be accepted for training.

A fee of $2.25 for each girl will be charged for Day Camp. Mrs. Jack Chastain, 210 Thirty-eighth Street, will accept registrations. Let's get together and help Snyder have a good Day Camp. This is a very important part of Scouting.

Junior Troop 327 (Mrs. G. J. Nunley, Jr., Mrs. Bill Meyers, and Miss Marsha McGlaun) met Tuesday, April 29, at the Girl Scout Hut. Cydney McDonald brought refreshments.

Charlie Brown Patrol had opening ceremony.

Karen Gordon showed her chart for Housekeeper Badge. Lynn Bollinger showed pictures she had drawn. Jane Ann Womack told how Snyder got started. Kim Nicholson showed her pet dog and told about it. Kellye Campbell and Mrs. Billy Crenshaw told about two current events.

— Cecile Pruitt, Reporter.

Junior Troop 168 (Mrs. Bill Prince) met at the Girl Scout Hut on April 18th to have their picture taken for selling the most Girl Scou tcookies in Snyder.

We are working on headbands and starting to make hatchets for our India nLore Badge.

—Charlotte Barrett, Scribe

Cadette Troop 266 (Mrs. Franklin Prultt, Mrs. Wesley Graves, and Miss Gayle Beckham) visited the Scurry County Courthouse recently.

Mrs. Beverly Ainsworth showed us her office. Christi Meynig's birth certificate was duplicated for her to take home.

We went to the County Courtroom for a "make believe" court session. Then we visited the Sheriff's office. Mr. Collier made a "mug" shot of Jo Ann Hudson and Karen Cross.

Jo Ann Hudson and Roxanna Ainsworth received their Emergency Preparedness Challenge pins and the Travelers Badge.

On April 18, Mrs. Pruitt showed slides of Camp Boothe Oaks.

On April 25, the following badges were awarded:

Good Grooming Jo Ann Hudson, D'Ann Fisher, Suzanne Peek, Deborah Pruitt. Homemaker Jo Ann Hudson. Hostess D'Ann Fisher.

—Roxanna Ainsworth, Scribe.

* * *

Junior Troop 85 (Mrs. Geo. Stewart, Mrs. Joe Solari, Miss Lou Head) met at the Scout House on April 17. They viewed the slides of Camp Boothe Oaks and worked on badges.

On April 24 Troop 85 filled out permission slips and made a list of needs for their trip to Six Flags on April 26. The patrols checked the First Aid Kit, made a list of needed items and did the purchasing. They also planned and did the buying for their breakfast and drinks for their lunch. They planned their budget for their meal at Six Flags, insurance and gasoline fo rthe bus trip. A list of "Travel Conduct" was also made.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Fagin, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Runnels sponsored the trip. Many thanks to them for helping with the fun and work — from the twenty girls who made the trip!

Junior Troop 85, Mrs. George Stewart and Mrs. John Fagin) met May 1. Opening was "When the Saints Come Marching In." We discussed requirements on My Troop and Active Citizen badges.

The Scribe, Ruth Ann Fagin, sent thank-you notes to our "over-night" helpers.

We made invitations and planned our Mother's Day dinner to be Thursday, May 8th, at 6:3 at Towle Park Pavilion. This is the "group cooking" the girls need to do for their Backyard Fun badge.

Closing was "This Land is Our Land."

Brownie Day was April 19 at Camp Boothe Oaks. On that day about 900 Brownies from West Texas Council explored our Camp. Cadettes from Troop 266 who acted as guides for Brownies on that day were: Roxanna Ainsworth, Lynn Leavell, Michele Graves, Suzanne Peek, Diane Chastain, Deborah Pruitt, Annette Young, Sharon Devers, Dianna Solari, Ginger Burk, and D'Ann Fisher.

About 90 Brownies and 15 adults from Snyder visited the Camp.

Many thanks to Mr. Emmet Hall for driving the bus; also to Gayle Beckham and Mr. Ollie Peek for furnishing transportation for the Cadettes.

* * *

Late Wednesday evening a group of leaders and several members of Cadette Troop 266 gathered at the Pruitt home to honor Miss Gwen Marks. Miss Marks is moving to California and we will miss her visits to Snyder. Lots of luck, Gwen!

TO WED IN JUNE — Mr. Bill Herring of Dermott has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Sue, to Weldon Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lloyd of Snyder. Vows will be exchanged at 8 p.m. on June 10 at the Fluvanna Church of Christ. Miss Herring, a 1964 graduate of Fluvanna High School, attended Lubbock Christian College and graduated from Abilene Christian College. She is a teacher in Lubbock Public Schools. Mr. Lloyd is a former paratrooper who saw service in Vietnam. He is now attending South Plains College at Levelland.

Insects In Weeds

Weeds growing behind your garage or along fences are breeding places for harmful insects. Cut the weeds to cut the pests.

Insects lay eggs on the weeds, spend the winter on them, and in spring the insects hatch to feed on your flowers and vegetables. Burn weeds that have visible insect eggs on them.

The Himalayan kingdom of Mustang contends with more than its share of demons, the National Geographic Society says. Some 416 evil spirits of land, sky, fire and water plague the Lo-bas, as the people call themselves.

Synthetic rubber's share of total U.S. rubber consumption is expected to be about the same as 1968, or 77 per cent, according to the International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers.

"I'm interested in franchising. Could you write on this?"

A — The "dough or die" aggressiveness of franchise people has made franchising one of the largest and fastest growing businesses today. What is franchising? It's an arrangement where by an organization (the franchisor) which has developed a successful retail product or service sells individuals (the franchisees) the right to operate a business under the franchisor's name.

This is a cradle-to-grave industry in that it includes so many different businesses — from baby sitting to mausoleum operations. A few: automotive services and food and motels, temporary maid and office help, health clubs, discotheques and medical management services, laundry and cleaning centers, rental stores and ready-to-wear shops, tax preparation and computer service centers. Now there are even franchises being offered for vacationers' camping parks.

HARD WORK. Most franchisees work long hours, many earn a good income and some have become quite wealthy. Others have flopped. No valid study of franchise failures has yet been made, contrary to dubious statistics you may have seen, but it is generally thought that the failure rate is much less for franchises than for non-franchised businesses.

CAPITAL. Investments of from $5-25,000 will start you in many operations; the broad range is a few hundred dollars to $100,000 and up. It is often possible to finance a big part. Other than loans from banks, relatives of friends, the Small Business Administration, a federal agency, has been authorized to make or guarantee loans not exceeding $25,000 for 15 years. Sometimes the franchisor will help with or provide financing. In addition to the franchise fee, or in place of it, you may pay royalties based on a percentage of your sales — it varies by industry. Your planning must include reserve money to maintain yourself for at least six months.

RECESSION SECURITY? Since most franchised businesses play to the mass market with budget - watcher prices, some might actually benefit from an economic dip, gaining new customers from higher-priced establishments.

WHAT HELP? From a franchisor parent you should expect: (1) A proven record of success (get his list and spot check at least three operations). You're paying for a success formula, and if he doesn't have one, who needs him? (2) A good reputation and financial stability (Better Business Bureau, Dunn and Bradstreet, etc.). Bypass fast operators offering too - high returns and those giving little information. (3) Training — qualified personnel to give you schooling, field training, "nurse-maiding" through the first couple of months, continued support through new ideas, advertising, materials, regular seminars, and so forth. (4) Merchandising assistance — with good products or service at competitive prices; help with site selection, construction or remodeling, lease negotiations, government licenses, bookkeeping systems and related factors.

There's a great deal more you need to know if franchising interests you, and you could easily spend a year becoming knowledgeable before investing . . .

SEND FOR MORE INFORMATION. I have prepared a "Franchise resource sheet" of books and other publications offered by various publishers and organizations. If you want a copy, send 10 cents and a long, white, stamped, return envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

SHOULD YOU GO INTO FRANCHISING? The right franchise and the right franchisor can offer you independence if you want to be your own boss, security against inflation if you're retired, and a way to compete with big-chain merchandisers if you're a small businessman. But please — probe before you plunge. And consult a lawyer. Franchising is a gamble but what in life isn't?

Churches Ask Exemptions Be Lifted

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the nation's major church organizations have asked Congress to lift the traditional tax exemption for church-owned businesses.

The proposal from the National Council of Churches and the United States Catholic Conference got high praise from Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which is writing a tax reform bill intended to lift the exemption anyway.

"That's fine that they did that," Mills said. "That's my line of thinking and we intended to have that."

The proposal also appeared to be in line with the Nixon administration proposal that tax exemptions be eliminated for unrelated businesses operated by all nonprofit organizations.

Thes church statement was presented to Mill's committee Friday.

"Such exemption makes available to churches a potential advantage over tax-paying organizations engaged in commercial business activities," the statement said.

But many church-connected businesses—such as The Christian Brothers wines corporation operated in California by the Roman Catholic order of the same name—are tax-paying ventures.

The present tax exemption is for businesses operated directly by churches and church congregations. And there is some question how many of those exist.

A number of Protestant church-owned businesses are likely to be affected said a spokesman for the National Council of Churches.

"We don't know how many," said Bruno Kroker, a council public relations officer. "I would say quite a few—all across the country."

The United States in 1785, was the first nation to adopt decimal money.

Boys Club Awards

Two youngsters received special awards Friday night at the annual directors' awards and appreciation banquet of the Scurry County Boys' Club.

Jay Brandon received the Boy of the Year award, while Richard Garcia was the recipient of the award for "most improved" boy.

Mickey Nunley, outgoing president of the Boys' Club, praised both youngsters for their accomplishment and their leadership in the Boys' Club program.

Nunley also received a plaque for his service as president of the Scurry County Boys' Club for the past two years. He was officially succeeded as president at the banquet by Doug McGlaun.

Dr. Wilton N. Jones was master of ceremonies for the banquet. He had praise for the Boys' Club program, noting that the work of such organizations is among the foremost attributes of an All - America City.

The Rev. John Bollinger gave the invocation and presented the plaque to Nunley.

New officers beginning their terms of office, in addition to McGlaun, are Floyd Allmand, first vice president; Jerry Rice, second vice president; Guy Sullivan, secretary; Buster Anderson, treasurer.

Also introduced at the banquet was the new executive director, Jack McGlaun.

A highlight of the evening was the appearance of several members of the "Swingers," a mixed choral group from Snyder High School. They drew enthusiastic applause.

WRITES BOOKS — Jessie D. Faulkenbery Sr. and his wife, Elizabeth, relax in the living room of their home. He became a writer through his interest in history and theBible. His first published book, "Gathering The Past," tells of interesting events of the Civil War, early-day Texas and Scurry County.

Snyderite's First Book Ready; Two More Coming

Snyder's newest author is Jessie D. Faulkenbery Sr., 511 Seventeenth Street, who says he's "not old yet," although he will observe his 79th birthday soon.

His first published book, "Gathering The Past," refers to Faulkenbery's recollections of stories told him by his father, the late James Marcus Faulkenbery. The book describes some of the experiences Jessie's grandfather had during the Civil War as well as his father's experiences with some famous early - day Texas outlaws.

Faulkenbery and his wife, the former Elizabeth Mills of Erath County, have lived here since 1925. Several events of his own life, including his days as a professional wolf hunter, also are described in the book. Persons who like to read about early Texas History and who are interested in the history of Scurry County will find "Gathering The Past" of particular interest. It is both entertaining and informative.

Discussing the book, he said, "Some of the outlaws my father knew were killed in a bank robbery. They aren't mentioned by name in the book since several of their descendants are living today. They know me, and I know them, and I wouldn't want to say anything that might embarrass them." The episodes involving the outlaws were written in such a way as not to offend their offspring.

Two hundred copies of the 50-page book were produced from the original printing by Raun's Publishing Company of Snyder. The book will be priced at about $2, and anyone interested in purchasing a copy may contact Faulkenbery at home or Ron Stoltz.

Faulkenbery has written another book that has not been published yet, and he still is writing a third book that he began when he was 12 years of age. Both volumes are about the Bible. The one already completed is called "Four Great Bible Wars." The book he still is working on contains Faulkenbery's interpretation of various scriptures from the Bible.

"I don't claim to be a prophet," he says, but I can interpret what they wrote."

He said he has been intensely interested in the Bible and religion since he was a small boy. He says that he is a St. Paul Baptist" because he believes in the Baptism of the Holy Spirit."

Two of Faulkenbery's daughters — Mrs. Perry Rodman and Mrs. Dick Fowler — live in Snyder and another one, Mrs. Beatrice Davis, lives in California.

Sen. Scott Asks Troops Withdrawn

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. Hugh Scott, the Republican whip, has changed his stated position on the Vietnam war and urged President Nixon to unilaterally withdraw 25,000 to 50,000 U.S. troops.

Scott said a beginning of a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam would "prod the North Vietnamese out of the sea of propaganda and onto the high ground of real bargaining sessions."

Such comments were criticized recently by President Nixon as harmful to the U.S. peace negotiators in Paris.

"I urge the withdrawal of a substantial number of American troops from Vietnam," Scott told a university alumni group in Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday night.

"I hope that the White House will announce such a move in the near future," Scott added.

"By a substantial number I don't mean half," Scott said, departing from his text. "I mean 25,000 to 50,000 should be replaced by trained South Vietnamese forces."

Explaining the reason for his new position, Scott said: "A wise man changes his mind often but a fool never."

Scott's speech was the second in two days by a prominent GOP senator calling for a start on withdrawing troops. Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., the ranking Republican in seniority, urged Thursday the start of "orderly withdrawal."

Lady Wants Town Clean

EDMORE, N.D. (AP) — When you elect a woman as mayor, as Edmore did, you can expect to have a good spring housecleaning.

Mrs. Rodney Sparks has been the mayor of this town of 400 residents the past three years. Ever since she took office, she's insisted that Edmore be clean.

"During May, we'll have to get out and clean up again," said the mayor as she drove around Edmore the other day. "It won't take long this year. We've got things pretty well picked up here in the past few years."

The big cleanup was in 1966. Some 400 truckloads were hauled to a dump ground.

"We worked 11 nights," the mayor recalled. "We carted off old out-houses, car bodies, old fences. We took everything that was laying around ... you know, this town had never really had a good cleanup."

Lone Star Asks Hike

AUSTIN — Lone Star Gas Company today filed with the Texas Railroad Commission on application for an increase in the intracompany gate charge for residential, commercial and distribution unaccounted - for gas.

The company asked an increase from the present gate charge of 35.4 cents per thousand cubic feet of gas to 44.8 cents per thousand cubic feet.

When the Railroad Commission establishes the new intracompany gate charge, specific computations will be made for each Texas town. In those towns where earnings are deemed inadequate, individual rate action will be pursued with each town's ruling body.

Ex-Midland Man Dies In Brazil

SALVADOR, Brail (AP) — Civil engineer George Louis Cutsiner, formerly of Midland, Tex. died Wednesday night when his car overturned about 65 miles from this coastal city, authorities said Friday.

Cutsiner came to Brail in 1966 to work with the Brazilian oil agency Petrobras.

New Way To Handle Runaway Bulls

CRESSON, Pa. (AP) — Vernon Wilder has found a new way to keep them down on the farm —roaming bulls, that is.

The director of the Cresson State School and Hospital ended the three-day romp of a runaway bull Friday with one well-aimed spray of chemical mace.

Wilder said the bull rolled its eyes and fell "like a ton of bricks" about 30 seconds after the paralyzing spray hit its face.

'Cinco de Mayo' Events Underway

Latin - American residents of Snyder were celebrating "Cinco de Mayo" this weekend with a variety of festivities.

The celebration was to begin Saturday night with the presentation of the duchess, Mary Solis; the princess, Nita Rodriguez; and the queen of the Fiesta, Celia Reyes.

On Sunday morning the religious ceremony, "The Queen's Mass," will take place at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church, with the Most Rev. Thomas Tschoepe, D.D., Bishop of San Angelo, officiating.

Following the Mass, the Latin American Center and the new Guadalupe Chapel will be dedicated by Dr. Tschoepe.

After the blessing of the buildings, a Mexican Dinner will be served at the center, with the Queens of May presiding.

The traditional Cinco de Mayo parade is set for 6:30 p.m. Sunday. The procession will begin at Thirteenth Street and moved down Avenue S to the downtown area, then follow Twenty-fifth Street to Avenue E and on to Thirteenth and back to the Latin America Center.

The crowning of the queen will take place at the center following the parade.

The coronation ball will be the closing feature of the Cinco de Mayo festivities. Music for the ball will be provided by Cruz Carrasco and his Steamraisers from Odessa.

The general public is invited to attend all of the Cinco de Mayo activities.

Chimp Can Talk In Sign Language

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Two psychologists say they have taught a chimpanzee to communicate with them with dozens of hand signs designed for deaf humans.

Dr. R. Allen Gardner and his wife Beatrice reported to their colleagues at the University of Nevada Psychology Department Friday about training a 3½-year-old female chimp named Washoe. They have kept the wild-born animal at their home for three years, spending about 13 hours a day with it.

"Washoe uses over 70 signs and understands more than that," said Gardner. "I'm hoping for something more like conversation with more extended phrases." He said Washoe strings as many as four signs together.

Director Honored

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP — George Boyd, associate director of the Center for Meteorite Studies at Arizona State University in Tempe, has received the Austin College Distinguished Alumnus Award for this year.

Art Sale For Clinic

LUBBOCK — The third Annual Art Sale for benefit of the areawide Crippled Children's Clinic will be held May 9 and 10 at St. John's Methodist Church, Fifteenth Street and University Avenue.

Local and area artists will exhibit and sell their paintings, sculpture, and crafts outdoors and in the church Fellowship Garden room on Friday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. On Saturday, the sales-exhibits will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The public is invited, according to Chairman Tom Mills.

Feature of this year's Art Sale is that visitors and buyers will have an opportunity to see the Crippled Children's Clinic while it is in operation on Saturday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

West Texas artists have been invited to exhibit and offer for sale their works from Lubbock, Big Spring, Denver City, Floydada, Grand Prairie, Hobbs, Lamesa, Odessa, Muleshoe, Plainview, Snyder and other towns. They will contribute a major portion of their commissions to the Crippled Children's Clinic fund. Some artists have donated their works to the Clinic Art Sale.

Problems Aplenty In Zany Air Race

By DONALD M. McNICOLLS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — About 400 contestants take off Sunday in a zany air race that poses more problems on the ground than up above.

The idea is to get from the top of the Post Office Tower in London to the Empire State Building in New York or the other way around as fast as possible.

To beat congested downtown traffic in the two cities, the fliers will resort to helicopters, speedboats and even a rickshaw.

London's Daily Mail, sponsor of the race, has offered two prizes of $12,000 each for the shortest time each way. Other firms have added special categories with additional prizes totaling some $144,000.

The 21 categories range from supersonic jets entered by the Royal Navy to 80-mile-an-hour light aircraft. There is even a slot for ordinary airline passengers who let others do their flying for them.

Not all contestans will fly off at once. They have until next Sunday. The first to take off will be Anne Alcock, an 18-year-old niece of one of the pioneers of the first non-stop transatlantic flight.

She will descend from the top of the Post Office Tower in an elevator going 600 feet a minute. After that it's up to her how to get to the airport.

The race marks he 50th anniversary of the first non-stop transatlantic flight by Sr. John Alcock and Lt. Arthur Whitten Brown in 1919. They completed the 1,880-mile flight from St. John's, Nfld., to Clifden, Ireland, in 15 hours 57 minutes, flying a Vickers Vimy.

Britain's navy hopes to set a New York-London speed record in the race.

The navy has entered three Phantom supersonic jets built by McDonnell in the United States. They have extra-power Rolls- Royce engines, giving speeds around 1,400 miles an hour.

The Phantoms are 3-1 favorites with British bookmakers.

Phillips In Net Finals

AUSTIN (AP) — A&M consolidated's boys doubles team was favored to win the Class AAA singles title at the state meet today after upsetting the defending champions in the opening round.

Consolidated's Billy Hoover and Paul Oxley whipped the 1968 titlists, Ronnie Cofer and Robbie Cook of Corpus Christi Flour Bluff, 6-1, 6-2, in the semi-finals Friday.

Consolidated will play Consicana, which beat Andrews for the title.

The defending AAA boys singles champ, Mike Mills of A&M Consolidated, beat Lee Jennings of Kerrville, 6-0, 6-2, to meet John Phillips of Snyder for the title. Phillips defeated Henderson's Jim Phenix, 6-2, 6-2.

Another 1968 runnerup, Judy Tenery of Mission advanced to the final round by defeating Joyce Scott of Wichita Falls Hirschl, 6-2, 6-4, in girls AAA singles.

In girls AAA doubles, defending champions Barbara Bramlett and Cynthia Bramlett of Seminole defeated the Sulphur Springs team, 6-0, 6-0. The West Columbia team, which was the runnerup last year, gained another chance by beating Falfurrias, 6-2, 6-4, to meet Seminole for the championship.

The AAAA boys singles finals will match Houston Lamar's Jim Bayless, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 winner over Chuck Black of Corpus Christi King, and Ron Touchon of Amarillo Caprock, 6-2, 6-1 winner over Bobby Hagerman of Dallas Highland Park.

In AAAA doubles semi-finals, San Antonio Alamo Heights beat Houston Memorial, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, and El Paso Irvin defeated Wichita Fallas Rider, 4-6, 8-6, 6-2.

The Midland Lee AAAA girls doubles team beat Brownsville, 6-3, 6-1, to advance to the finals against Wichita Falls Rider, which beat Houston Spring Branch, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2.

Cathy Beene of Harlingen won her AAAA singles match over Christy Guess of Amarillo Tascosa, 6-1, 6-3, and Daryl Gralka of Houston Spring Woods beat Janet Percell of Longview 7-5, 6-2.

Boys and girls' singles and doubles titles in all classes will be determined today.

Japanese Jeweler Completes Studies

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A young Japanese jeweler who came to the United States to learn the trade, Mitsuzi Okuno, has completed an 18-month jewelry craft course at Paris Junior College this week

Okuno then headed to UCLA for advanced jewelry designing, then will return to Japan to decides to take a job offered ecides to take a job offered him as a jeweler at Saks Fifth Avenue.

The son of a jewelry store owner and university instructor in Mye Pref, Japan, Okuno came to Paris Junior College because of the reputation the school's jewelry craft and watchmaking department has gained there.

Don Bosch, who hit .171 for the New York Mets last season, came up as a pinch batter for the Montreal Expos with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning at Shea Stadium in the third game of the season. Bosch flied out to center field and his former teammates won 4-2.

Canadiens Dominate Ice Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — With the Montreal Canadiens on the threshold of a record 14th National Hockey League Stanley Cup championship, speculation is beginning to build over who will win the Conn Smythe Trophy, awarded annually to the most valuable player in the playoffs.

Last year, when the Canadiens swept St. Louis in four games, goalie Glenn Hall of the Blues won the trophy and the $1,500 bonus that goes with it.

But the Blues lost each game in that series by just one goal and twice took Montreal into overtime, with Hall making some unbelievable saves. This time around, it has been all Montreal and the Smythe Trophy will almost certainly go to one of the Canadiens.

The leading candidate seems to be Jean Beliveau, the captain, who has five assists in three games against St. Louis and a total of 13 points in 13 playoff games.

Beliveau, whose sudden-death goal in the second overtime finished off Boston in the semifinals, goes into Sunday's fourth game against the Blues with 154 career playoff scoring points, two away from the all-time record held by Detroit's Gordie Howe. Beliveau has appeared in 141 playoff games and Howe has been in 150.

Right behind Beliveau in the scoring is left winger Dick Duff, who has 13 points on six goals—four of them against St. Louis—and seven assists.

Duff has served almost as Beliveau's straight man on most of his goals. He waits for the center to make the play and then finishes it with a flourish by snapping the puck into the net.

Goalie Rogatien Vachon, who recorded his first shutout in 17 playoff games Thursday, has allowed just two goals in three games against St. Louis and did a masterful job after taking over from the injured Gump Worsley halfway through the semifinals against Boston.

Dallas Lincoln Sets Sprint Relay Record

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — San Antonio Wheatley proved Friday night that being No. 2 isn't so bad if it can win you the state schoolboy Class AAAA track title.

Without a first place to their name, the Lions slipped on the crown before 6,500 fans in Memorial Stadium with second places in the 440 and mile relays and a fourth in the long jump.

Lubbock Cooper grabbed the Class A title.

It took a weird set of circumstances for San Antonio Wheatley to get its 36 points. Dallas Lincoln with 34 points could have wrapped it up in the 100-yard dash but ace Gene Pouncy scratched with two false starts.

Then unknown Lars Allen, who didn't qualify in the regional but made it to the meet as an alternate when Phillip Lusk of Corpus Christi Moody was injured, picked up four vital points in the long jump.

The bizarre windup overshadowed a national record in the 440-relay by Dallas Lincoln in a blistering 40.7. Pouncy anchored the win to beat Fort Worth Kirkpatrick's 41.1 set in 1968. Then Pouncy turned from a hero to goat in the 10 won by Kenneth Curl of Houston Worthing in 9.6.

In all, there were seven state records set, one tied and one national mark broken.

The Class AAA, AA and B squads fight for their championships today on the fast University of Texas track.

Curl was high in AAAA division with 21 points, and Willie Blackmon of Houston Wheatley second with 15.

In Class A, Carl Swierc of Falls City piled up 20 points with firsts in the 120-yard high hurdles and 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Lubbock Cooper, showing all-around depth edged White Oak with 38 points to 32 for White Oak in the Class A battle.

State records were set in both the Class AAAA and A pole vaults. David Roberts of Conroe vaulted 15 feet 2 inches to break the old mark of 15-1 set by Dickie Phillips of Galena Park North Shore in 1966.

Stuart Johnson of Tidehaven set the A record with a vault of 14-2 to snap the old record of 14-1 by Rickey Parris of Abilene Wylie in 1968.

Other state records included Ron Washington of Dallas South Oak Cliff with a 13.6 in the Class AAAA 120 high hurdles, Mike Cronholm of Lake Highlands with a 37.6 in the 33 hurdles; Houston Wheatley with a 3:13.5 in the AAAA mile relay; and Hugo Robles of Dilley with a 4:23.5 mile.

AFTER FIRST ROUND

Tiger Golfers Lead State Tourney Field

AUSTIN — Snyder High School's golf team took a 1-stroke lead in the state golf tournament by firing a team total 313 on the tough par 72 Morris Williams Municipal Course here Saturday.

The Snyder boys aren't used to playing on this course with the "big greens and long putts," but apparently they made the most of a practice round here Friday.

Jay Kidd, medalist winner at regional, and Benny Ward each fired a 77 to pace the Tiger team. Two strokes back was Phil Ator with a 79 while Glenn Rambin fired an 80 and Mitch Rambin carded an 85. The scores of the four boys who shoot the best 36 holes will count in the scoring.

The Bengal performance on the City Course here was especially impressive considering the fact that the team card of 313 was one stroke better than the Tigers' best round at regional in Odessa on more familiar terrain. It was enough to give them a one stroke margin over A&M Consolidated in the fight for the Class AAA crown.

Consolidated's Dosier led in the contest for medalist honors with a 72. The other regional champions — Stephenville and Gatesville — apparently were too far behind to be considered serious contenders for the crown. Stephenville carded an opening round 338 while Gatesville posted a 355. The final 18 holes began at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

"We've got a good chance," said Snyder Coach J. P. Ward, obviously pleased with his team's performance.

Ben Crenshaw, Austin city titlist and international Junior Jaycee champion, fired a five-under-par 67 Friday to take the lead for medalist honors in AAAA and pace Austin to a team total of 294.

Trailing were Beaumont Forest Park, the AAA champion last year, with 297, Odessa Permian with 299 and Fort Worth Arlington Heights with 32.3

In AA Daingerfield took the first-round lead with a team total of 313, followed by Big Lake Reagan County with 340, Columbus with 345 and Carrizo Springs with 348.

Weimar's team total of 317 in Class A led McLean, which had 328. Albany was third with 39 and Groesbeck fourth with 376.

In Conference B, Bronte took the team lead with 351, followed by Anna with 382, Hico with 400 and Alief with 406.

Al Lopez Resigns Post At Chicago

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Al Lopez, one of baseball's most successful managers, resigned Friday from the helm of the Chicago White Sox because of a prolonged stomach ache.

The surprise announcement was made during an off day prior to the opening of a two-game series with Minnesota and Don Gutteridge, a long time Lopez lieutenant, was named his successor through the 1970 season.

Lopez, who led the Cleveland Indians to the American League pennant in 1954 and repeated with the White Sox in 1959, first retired as Sox manager after the 1965 season and was replaced by Eddie Stanky.

Stanky led the club to a pair of fourth place finishes and barely missed winning the 1967 pennant only to have the club go into total collapse last season after opening the campaign with a 10-game losing streak.

Stanky was fired and Lopez resumed the managerial reins July 14. He quickly brought back most of his coaching staff, including Gutteridge.

Shortly after his return, however, Lopez underwent an appendectomy and was sidelined most of what remained of the 1968 season as the White Sox struggled to finish eighth in the 10-team league.

Lopez and the Sox had high hopes for the 1969 campaign but the end for the 60-year-old Lopez came as the Sox faltered with an 8-9 record and lost their last two games to Kansas City, an expansion team.

Speed Reading Course Scheduled for Snyder Area

Arrangements have been made to Conduct a SPEEDREADING COURSE here in Snyder, to be taught in evening classes. The Average person today reads between 150-300 words per minute and comprehends about 55 to 65 per cent. This course guarantees that it's graduates will read at least 1,000 Words per Minute and with a marked improvement in comprehension. However, the Spokesman said "the Guarantee is a bare minimum, because the average person can increase his speed TEN TIMES with a profound improvement in comprehension and concentration". "The average graduate of this course should be able to read 1,000-3,000 Words per minute and attain the 80 Percentile in comprehension. This means, after graduation, a person should read books of average length in 45 to 60 minutes and understand, enjoy, and remember them better than ever. Those who Enroll will attend one Class Per Week, for nine weeks and will receive a DIPLOMA upon completion.

Those who are interested in Further details may attend one of the free, one hour, orientation lectures that have been scheduled. At these meetings the course will be explained in detail, including Requirements, Tuition, and Class schedules. A person may attend one of these meetings without obligation to enroll. These meetings will be held at the Snyder Savings & Loan community room - 2619 Ave. S at the following times - Monday, May 5th 6:30 & 8:30 p.m. - Thursday, May 8th 6:30 & 8:30 p.m. and Friday May 9th at 6:30 & 8:30 p.m.

This course offered by Accelerated Education Schools of Amarillo, was created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, a Ph. D. in psychology and has over 10,000 successful graduates.

If you are a professional person, or a college student or a college bound high school student and want to keep up with our rapidly changing world, be sure to attend one of these most informative meetings — There is no obligation. Classes are limited to 18 students and class places will be reserved on a First come - First served basis only. Be sure to attend one of the Early meetings for a wider schedule choice.

Beard Out Front After Second 67

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Jack who?" muttered Frank Beard when he looked at the pressroom scoreboard after two rounds of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open and saw he had been tied for the lead by Jack Harden Jr.

"Who's he?" said Beard, who had just toured Lakewood Country Club's 7,020 yards in 67 strokes for the second consecutive day. No one seemed to know.

Two hours later Jack Harden Jr. hooked his tee shot into a trap on his 18th hole of the day and wound up with a bogey five —his first, incidentally, in two days. It gave him a 67, five under par, and left Beard all alone at 134 for the first 36 holes.

"I'm just unconscious," said Harden a few minutes later as he sipped a soft drink in the press room. Harden and tempestuous Davey Hill, who had a 68, were tied for second with 135s.

Harden hasn't had many moments of glory on the tour, but he handled a barrage of questions with all the coolness of a Jack Nicklaus, who, by the way, didn't make the cut for the final 36 holes after rounds of 74-70—144—which missed it by a stroke.

"This is a strange experience," said Harden, who is 27 and comes from a golfing family. His father and two uncles are club professionals.

"I don't know whether I'll choke or not. I've never had a chance to choke before."

Harden, an assistant pro at Houston's plush River Oak Country Club where his father is the head man, barely got in the field of 144 who teed up for Thursday's first round. He was the first alternate after Monday's qualifying play by non-exempt pros and when defending champion George Archer, Masters titlist who badly burned his hand lighting a cigarette, pulled out at the last minute, it left a spot for Harden.

Harden, who got his Class A PGA card—granted after five years—last fall, worked with his father at Denver before they moved to Houston and also as an assistant for a year under Dow Finsterwald. He had a golf scholarship at Texas-El Paso—after finishing high school.

Harden's 67 Friday included an eagle three on No. 10 plus four birdies. Front-runner Beard, who claims he has to keep finishing high constantly in order "to pay Uncle Sam," had a near flawless round although he claimed he wasn't "real sharp."

After Beard, Hill and Harden, came John Jacobs, the movie star—handsome younger brother of Tommy Jacobs, and veteran Johnny Pott at 136. Each had 68s.

Nat's Bosman Hurls One-Hitter At Tribe

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Carl Yastrzemski might finally be ready to pick up where he left off the past two seasons as the American League's top hitter, but Dick Bosman is taking big strides toward forgetting his past as one of the league's worst pitchers.

Bosman is trying to erase the memory of last season's dismal 2-9 record with a 3.69 run average with Washington. He is well on his way, if Friday night was any indication.

The 25-year-old right-hander, in only his second full major league season, hurled a one-hitter as the surprising Senators whipped Cleveland 5-0, raising his record to 3-1 and lowering his ERA to 2.10.

The only hit off Bosman was broken bat single by Tony Horton just over the outstretched glove of shortstop Ed Brinkman in the second inning.

Yastrzemski, who won the triple crown in 1967 and added his third batting title last year, raised his average to a still unrespectable .227 by slamming two solo homers and a run-scoring double for all of Boston's runs in a 3-2 victory over Detroit. Yaz had been hitting a meager .202 entering the contest.

In other games, Mike Cuellar pitched Baltimore by the New York Yankees 5-1, Oakland held off Seattle 8-7 and Kansas City took a doubleheader from California 9-4 and 3-2.

Not scheduled were Minnesota and the Chicago White Sox, whose manager, Al Lopez, quit during the day because of ill health.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 6-4, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 7-4, Houston shaded San Francisco 3-1, Pittsburgh defeated Montreal 7-3, Philadelphia stopped St. Louis 7-2 and San Diego topped Cincinnati 8-5.

Bosman, who only allowed three other base runners on walks, struck out seven in saddling Luis Tiant, a 21-game winner last year, with his fifth defeat without a victory. Bosman also singled in two runs in the fourth inning to make it 3-0 as the surprising Senators retained second place in the East Division.

The Senators, at 14-11, are off to the best start of any Washington team since the 1952 club was 14-10.

Yaz hit his first homer in the opening inning and then tied the score at 2-2 with his double in the sixth. He settled the verdict in the eighth with his sixth homer and 14th RBI of the season, saddling Dick Radatz with the loss.

Maybe more thankful for his hitting resurgence than Yaz himself was Sonny Siebert, who pitched into the ninth for his first victory since coming to Boston in the Ken Harrelson trade.

Cuellar, 3-2, followed his 6-0 shutout over the Yankees last Sunday with a four-hitter, allowing only an unearned run in the sixth inning.

The Orioles, winning for the 16th time in 22 games while New York dropped its fourth straight, beat Fritz Peterson, 3-3, with three runs in the fourth. Boog Powell's looping double drove in two runs and he scored on a sacrifice fly by Dave Johnson.

Danny Cater, who singled in a run in a four-run first inning, broke a 6-6 sixth inning deadlock for Oakland with a two-run bases-loaded single off former teammate Jack Aker, 9-2.

But the A's needed reliever Paul Lindblad, 1-0, to preserve the victory. He entered after Rich Rollins doubled home Seattle's final run in the seventh and got the last out in that inning, and then retired three straight hitters in the ninth after Tommie Harper had opened wih a triple.

Paul Schaal broke a 2-2 tie with a run-scoring hit in the fourth inning and Bob Oliver followed with a three-run homer to give Kansas City its first game victory behind rookie Steve Jones, 2-1.

Oliver then ended a 1-1 deadlock in the fourth inning of the nightcap with a single and Schaal followed with a decisive run-scoring hit in the three-run inning.

Dick Drago, 1-0, pitched a five-hitter, outdueling Andy Messersmith, 0-2, who gave only three hits—all in the fourth—in eight innings.

Wynn, Astros Poke Giants 3-1

HOUSTON (AP) — "We've had some tough times," said Jim Wynn of the Houston Astros," but we still have team spirit."

Wynn showed his spirit Friday night by blasting two home runs to lead the Astros to a 3-1 National League decision over San Francisco.

The homers, his third and fourth of the season, scored all of Houston's runs and gained the Astros their second consecutive victory after eight straight defeats.

"It just felt good to hit—period," said Wynn, who connected with a man on base in the first inning and gain in the sixth off starter Gaylord Perry.

"This is the best I've felt in three weeks since I hurt my back," said the 5-foot-9 outfielder. "I feel comfortable at the plate now, something I haven't felt before."

Righthanders Tom Griffin and Jack Billingham teamed to stop the Giants on seven hits. Griffin left in the fifth when he tore the skin off a blister on his pitching hand.

Willie Mays gave the Astros the most trouble with three hits, including a double in the fifth for the only San Francisco run. The hits raised his lifetime total to 2,842, putting him in 20th place ahead of Charley Gehringer, the former Detroit second baseman.

Wynn, who last collected two homers in a game Sept. 22, 1968, said he anticipated what Perry was going to throw.

"I think it's because I bear down more against him," Wynn said of his home runs. "I know he has his good sinker, or whatever you want to call it, and I'm looking for it."

Joe Morgan leaped up from second base in the sixth to grab a wild toss from Billingham and prevent Jack Hiatt from scoring for the Giants.

Hiatt had walked and, with one out, moved to second on a single. Hal Lanier slapped a ball back to Billingham and sent Hiatt to third before Perry grounded into double play and ended the inning.

Houston pitcher Larry Dierker (2-3) will face Bob Bolin (1-1) of the Giants tonight in the second of a three-game series.

Has Best Derby Seat

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dr. Larry Scanlan has one of the best seats in the house on Derby Day but he's never seen a Derby finish.

"I'm right above the quarter pole in the starter's stand," said Scanlan, the Churchill Downs veterinarian and the medical eyes of the track's all-powerful racing stewards.

"That's where the horses begin to make their moves, when they turn into the stretch," he said. "It's where Derbies are won and lost."

Scanlan checks for lameness and other physical problems as the horses thunder past and reports to the stewards via direct communication. He misses the critical stretch drive because he's whisked off to the unsaddling area to check the horses when they finish.

On Derby Day, he stands at the starting gate until the field goes off and then switches to his perch above the red and white quarter pole.

Before the races, Scanlan's car cruises around the barns behind the backstretch like a mobile drugstore. The trunk is filled with a hundred bottles and tubes ranging from salt tablets to sulphur.

Pete, Paul Agree On 13-13 Pro Plan

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's 26 club owners were on their way home today after another session of realignment meetings that proved inconclusive but at which there was enough significant movement to satisfy even Paul (The Crusader) Brown.

Brown, the most outspoken of the American Football League's owners on the subject of realignment in California was far more reticent in New York, leaving no doubt he had left the arena in favor of Pete (The Persuader) Rozelle.

Brown left the arena with only trophy he insisted on—a decision favoring a 13-13 re-structuring of the 16-team National Football League and 10-team of implementing that to the commissioner of both leagues.

Rozelle thus becomes the focal point for the complex problem that has evolved, finding three NFL teams to move to the AFL, by anyone of the many methods at his disposal: Talking. Talking more. And talking still more.

"We came here committed to get a 13-13 arrangement," Brown pointed out. "That's reasonably settled. Now we're just sitting tight to see what their (NFL) program is, give our opinion and then cast our vote. The 13-13 was our big objective.

"Pete Rozelle has a very difficult job and we certainly should give him the time he needs to accomplish it. I know his aims are the same as the Bengals. Pete is trying real hard to bring it all off and in the final analysis I have every confidence it will be consummated."

It is the marriage of three NFL teams to the conference that will also house the current 10 teams in the AFL. Rozelle has had private talks with five or six teams and in the next several days will continue to talk privately, possibly even enlarging the circle.

Rozelle said the owners had decided to adjourn Friday and reconvene in about a week because they felt "the time could best be spent in private meetings. Our intent at the next meeting would be to stay until we get it done."

"The AFL is in the position of waiting to find out how the NFL is going to approach moving three teams," Brown said. "I know for a fact they (the NFL owners) feel there's been some progress made. We've talked primarily about television markets.

"I would have preferred we stay right at it and conclude our business, but I can understand wanting to take a break. Some owners probably want to go home and confer with other coowners. I know in the same position I would want to."

Among those who may be doing the most conferring are those teams generally consdered most likely to be involved in the talks with Rozelle—Baltimore, Philadelphia, Atlanta, New Orleans, Minnesota and St. Louis.

Astros To Use Grease?

HOUSTON (AP) — Manager Harry Walker of the Houston Astros, still upset over Cincinnati pitcher Jim Maloney's no-hitter, says he is going to tell his hurlers to use the greaseball.

"It's ridiculous how many pitchers are using it," Walker said Friday. "I'd guess about a third of the pitchers in our league use it with varying degrees of frequency."

Maloney blanked Houston 10-0 Wednesday night with his no-hitter. The Astros retaliated Thursday night when Don Wilson hurled a 4-0 no-hitter against the Rexs.

Walker said one of two things should be done with the greaseball—abolish it by legislation or make it legal so that everybody can use it. The practice consists of smearing hair oil or other foreign matter on the ball to make it move erratically.

Pawn Shop Busy Place

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It's been another profitable Derby week for one of the most thriving enterprises in the Churchill Downs neighborhood —Uncle Miltie's pawn shop.

"We lent some and we sold some," said Uncle Miltie, a conservative little man with spectacles and a smelly cigar.

Uncle Miltie, or Milton Brooks, is operator of the Brass Ball, Emporium at Fourth and Central, a spitting distance from the site of the world's most famous horse race and long a barometer of the nation's economy and betting luck.

"They bring in everything from guitars to rifles, watches and jewelry," said Uncle Miltie. "If things go well, many redeem the articles right after the races. Sometimes it may be weeks or months, depending on their luck."

The percentage redeemed is about 80 per cent, the loan shop operator added.

"Sometimes they come in with their pets, even their wives and kids," Uncle Miltie said. "I tell them I don't make loans on anything that moves or eats."

"Sometimes I'll sell a man a $100 watch and then I'll loan him 50 per cent—or $50—on it any time he brings it in," he added. "In the course of a year I may handle it half a dozen times."

Uncle Miltie said one man brought in a belt made of silver dollars. Frequently people come in with precious coins, Kennedy half-dollars and silver dollars.

"I give full value on these things," he said, "And on gold sometimes double and triple its value."

Strangely, the day of the Derby itself is one of Uncle Miltie's slowest days.

"They can't park around here," he said, "and they get so interested in the race that they don't come around. We're closed by the time the big race is over."

Hypocrisy Blamed In Unrest

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Hypocrisy causes student unrest, and television spreads it, says a University of Texas behavorial scientist who heads a national committee studying the phenomenon.

Dean Wayne H. Holtzman of the College of Education lists two unsettling factors for students: "Uncertainity of their own careers and the hypocrisy of the country going along with business as usual during an unpopular war."

"This one is longer than Korea. All the other wars were popular—or patriotic in the sense that war was declared. You're either lucky enough to stay out of it or you get caught, and you see certain segments profiting from the war, as there always are," he said.

"Instant news (on television) makes it a contagion," he said.

More detailed information on "casual factors giving rise to student protests" is needed, however, and Holtzman heads a committee advising an American Council on Education project to get that information. The first year of the projected three-year study is financed by a $114,400 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

Holtzman's committee meets in Washington, D. C., Tuesday and Wednesday to draw up specific proposals on how to study the causes of student unrest.

"We have to have faculty members who really want to study the problem objectively," he says. "My personal preference would be for interviews—case studies of 20-30 students on each of half a dozen campuses.

"We probably would develop a network of informants to tell us of something happening that would be interesting and different than on other campuses."

One of the big needs is to have objective people documenting controversial campus activities as they happen, he said. For example, what did UT Philosophy Prof. Larry Caroline really say at the capitol grounds rally on Oct. 20, 1967?

Caroline called for a "new American revolution. But some reports (not the AP) said he called for a "bloody revolution."

"All the things that go to heighten the level of unrest are present and not many that reduce it," Holtzman said.

The specific goals of radicals, such as the demands of Afro-American groups, are impractical, he said. "They don't expect them all to be met, but they are pleased to get the publicity," he said.

Unlike previous generations, this one believes in confrontation instead of debate and persuasion, he said.

Holtzman blamed this on the failure of the civil rights movement to accomplish as much as students wanted it to. Another reason, he said, is the striking down by violence of their heroes—the two Kennedys and Martin Luther King.

Campus disorders in previous generations were rare. There was one at Texas in 1917, when students went on strike after Gov. James Ferguson demanded that six faculty members be fired. Ferguson said he didn't have to give a reason for wanting them fired.

The governor answered the protests by vetoing appropriations for the university.

The six-month-long controversy ended finally in Ferguson's impeachment and conviction.

In 1944, Texas students struck again when a conservative board of regents fired liberal President Homer P. Rainey.

The American Association of University Professors and the Association of American Universities censured the school, but the firing stuck.

Holtzman calls this generation "a little more idealistic" than its predecessors.

"They work in slums. They raise money for the poor," he said. They have "a tremendous amount of energy," and are willing to pour it out in this kind of work "even at the expense of their own future careers."

Only 1 or 2 per cent of college students are militant radicals, he said, "but on a campus of 30,000 that means 300 or more." These come from liberal, affluent families, he said. Most student rebels in the past sprang from labor union families, he said.

Behavorial scientists are expecting a counter movement of rightists to develop, but so far there is little evidence of this.

Young Americans for Freedom (YAF) organized a chapter on the Texas campus last year, but after several months had only 15 members.

On April 23, fraternity men and athletes stormed the administration building at American University in Washington, D.C., and kicked out a group of students for a Democratic Society (SDS) that had occupied the building.

According to Holtzman's theory, more of this kind of reaction can be expected.

Is Green Revolution To Stay?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "green revolution" is what some farm experts call new seeds and technology that may be paving the way for hungry nations to feed themselves.

Remarkable advances in food production have been reported the past two years, notably in Asia where improved varieties of rice and wheat have boosted outputs.

Is the green revolution here to stay?

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin says major breakthroughs have been made and that the trend toward self-sufficiency is permanent.

Hardin cautions that setbacks are bound to occur, and until the increased food production pattern is firmly set the United States must keep up its programs to hasten self-help.

Evidence of "setbacks in localized areas" was indicated last week in a review of Far East agriculture by the Economic Research Service.

Total farm production in the Far East—excluding Red China—gained about 3.5 per cent last year, but there were some wide variations.

Drought cut into rice crops of much of the area. This emphasized that despite marvelous advances in seed and methods weather quickly and frequently is the deciding factor.

The National Association of Wheat Growers, alarmed at lagging U.S. exports, particularly shipments of wheat under Food for Peace, proposed recently that the United States de-emphasize programs aimed at making deprived countries agriculturally self-sufficient.

The Association proposed that the United States help boost the earning power of people in those countries so they could buy more food—which could be supplied, in part, by American farmers.

Last week the department published comments by Hardin in which he rejected the proposal for a change in U.S. food-aid policy.

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANETS

QUESTION: How come life started on the earth and not on some other planet?

• • •

ANSWER: Let's consider the solar system. The outer planets — Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto — are considered to be so far away from the sun that life could not exist. Our picture shows the four inner planets. For our kind of life, a planet must have a heavy enough covering of atmosphere to protect it from the sun's fierce heat by day and hold some of the heat by night. Atmosphere also provides vital air and water. Consider Mercury, (1). It has no atmosphere; it is heavily covered with clouds. But in 1967, our space probe Mariner V showed that the surface was too hot to allow for life. Mars (3)? Chances for life are better, but the thin atmosphere does not protect the planet at night; experts think only the lowest forms of life could exist. What's left? Earth (4)! We have the necessary things: good atmosphere, medium climate, lots of water and air. P.S. Let's all join in the modern effort to keep the earth livable by purifying our water and air.

Realtors To Give Awards In New Art Show May 25

A $100 purchase prize for an original painting representative of Snyder or the immediate area is being offered in the Snyder Board of Realtors' Art Competition to be held May 25-June 6 at the Snyder Savings and Loan Association Building, under the sponsorship of the Snyder Palette Club.

Three honorable mention certificates will also be awarded, according to Forrest W. Beavers of the Snyder Board of Realtors, and Mrs. Gaither Bell, Snyder Palette Club president.

The winning painting in the local competition will be exhibited with those from other Texas areas at the Texas Association of Realtors convention in Fort Worth June 4-7. Members of the TCU art faculty will judge the state-wide selections for additional awards. The Snyder entry will then become part of a permanent collection at the new headquarters building for the Texas Association of Realtors now nearing completion in Austin.

The other entries in the Snyder competition will remain on exhibit at the Snyder Savings and Loan building through June 20.

Paintings for local competition must feature recognizable subject matter and be representative of Snyder or the surrounding region. Examples of possible subjects suggested by the Snyder realtors are industrial, agricultural or ranch scenes, city views, parks, or general landscape.

All artists are invited to submit two framed works each in any medium. Size may vary from a minimum of 16 x 20 inches to a maximum of 60 x 84 inches. It is not necessary to be a member of the Snyder Palette Club in order to enter the competition.

Entries will be accepted at the Snyder Savings and Loan Building 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 24. Awards will be announced at a public reception at 3:30 on Sunday, May 25. Entry blanks may be obtained from Happy Homes Realty or the Snyder Palette Club. Forrest W. Beavers is the president of the Snyder Board of Realtors.

New Type Loans Allowed Farmers

The Farmers Home Administration can now make loans to farm and ranch owners or tenants for outdoor income producing recreational enterprises, according to Charles H. Henderson, County Supervisor.

Loans to individuals can be made to convert all or a portion of their farms to recreational facilities. The recreational enterprise may supplement regular farm income or, in some cases, replace farm income by converting the entire farm to recreation.

Public recreational areas are increasing in number each year; however, the demand for such facilities still exceeds what is available. The purpose of this loan program is two-fold in that it will provide more recreational areas and help farmers and ranchers to increase their income, stated Henderson.

Loans may be made for camping, picnicking, and hiking facilities, swimming, boating, skiing and fishing facilities, golf courses, riding stables or many other forms of outdoor recreation. Funds can be used to purchase necessary materials, supplies and animals, acquire and develop land and water resources, construct or improve modest essential buildings, and to purchase and install needed equipment and fixtures.

Each loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period not to exceed 40 years at 5 per cent interest. Interested individuals should contact Charles H. Henderson at 3423 venue T for further information.

Wilson's Leadership Challenged

By FRED W. COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — British Cabinet stalwarts are supporting Prime Minister Harold Wilson but he faces a serious challenge to his leadership of the Labor party and the House of Commons.

Parliamentary sources said 60 to 70 of the 348 Labor members in Commons support a campaign to replace Wilson. They said the next week could prove crucial.

Three Cabinet ministers in public speeches Friday night appealed for an end to the "wave of near-hysteria" surrounding the "Wilson must go" campaign and called for sober judgment.

Backers of the drive said these loyalists were admitting deep concern over the "Oust Wilson" movement.

But Wilson went to Chequers, his official country home, for the weekend and was reported to be unconcerned.

The immediate issue that brought the backbench rebellion to a climax was Wilson's determination to press ahead for reform in labor-management relations, including strike control laws. These measures are detested by the trade unions that form the backbone of the Labor party's political support.

It was the latest in a series of grievances that alienated Wilson from important factions in his party. Many Labor MPs fearful of losing their seats cite the consistently dismal ratings the party receives in public opinion polls.

These dissidents are arguing that Labor's best chance is to ditch Wilson, blame past troubles on him and prepare for the next national election in 1971 by choosing a new leader now.

Britain's parliamentary system allows this, and the opposition Conservatives used such a technique a decade ago.

But a prime minister who refuses to quit under parliamentary pressure holds a trump card. He can dissolve parliament and force new elections. Should Wilson do this now, polls indicate some 200 Labor MPs would be almost certain to lose their seats.

Wilson Rites Set At Dunn

Graveside rites and burial have been set for 3 p.m. Sunday for Joe R. Wilson, 81, a former Scurry County resident who died at 10:55 p.m. Friday in Jal, N. M. Mr. Wilson had moved to Jal 35 years ago. He was a native of Scurry County.

Funeral service will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Jal, after which the body will be brought to Dunn for burial, with Bell-Seale Funeral Home in charge of arrangements here. Mr. Wilson had been a member of the Dunn Masonic Lodge for 50 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Allen Williams of Jal and a son, Wayne Bryan Wilson of Monahans; a sister, Mrs. Sam Bullock of Colorado City, and a brother, Frank Wilson of Dunn. Three grandchildren and three great - grandchildren also survive.

2 Mishaps Are Logged

Parked cars were involved in separate motor vehicle mishaps that occurred Friday.

The first one occurred at 12:30 p.m. on Whitfield's parking lot in the 4000 block of Avenue S. One of the motorists involved fled the scene after his car struck the parked 1969 Model Rambler of A. B. Linville, 218 Thirty-sixth Place, causing $40 damage.

The second mishap occurred at 1:40 p.m. Friday in the 1800 block of Twenty-fourth Street. It resulted from a parked vehicle rolling into another one. Involved were the 1965 Model Chevrolet pickup of H. B. Carter, 215 Thirty-sixth Place, and the 1960 Model Ford stationwagon of Adam Magana Rios, 214 Thirty-second Street. Damage to the pickup was placed at $75, and damage to the other vehicle was set at $50.

Soil Stewardship Week May 11-18

The nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week is May 11-18. This is a week set aside so Americans can take a closer look at their responsibility to the land that gives strength to all.

The responsibilities for the conservation of these resources is by law given to the Soil and Water Conservation Districts and their Supervisors in Texas, thus they are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week. The supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Water Conservation District encourage all of the churches in the district to participate in Soil Stewardship Week.

The conservation and development of Texas soil and water resources is essential to maintain the economy of the state. It cannot afford the loss of land, waste and pollution of water and other abuses to natural resources.

Each individual is dependent upon the soil, whether he dwells in the country, town, or city, or whatever his vocation may be; its blessings and its demands touches all alike.

Conservation is the preservation of natural resources for food, fiber, economical use and for the preservation of the American way of life.

"It is altogether fitting that we should set aside a week when we express unto God our gratitude for his blessings upon our land and our willingness to be faithful to our stewardship," Soil Stewardship Week sponsors said.

"For the people of God, stewardship of natural resources is based upon the word of God. The Bible plainly sets out that ownership of the resources is God's. Stewardship, including use and conservation, is man's responsibility. In Deuteronomy 8: 6-11, we find these words: A land where in thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass. When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the land which He hath given thee.' "

Rites Held For Ortegon Infant

Funeral rites were held at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church for Joel Ortegon, six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ortegon. The child died Friday afternoon in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Fr. Herman Valladares officiated at the funeral rites at 5 p.m. Burial was in Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell - Seale Funeral Home.

The child is survived by the parents and six brothers.

Anti-Smut Crusade Grows

By JACK KNEECE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's call for a "citizens crusade against the obscene" and new laws to battle smut in the mails has some ready supporters in Congress where two members already have compiled graphic evidence of the problem.

Reps. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., and Glen Cunningham, R-Neb., have assembled files which demonstrate what the President was talking about Friday when he proposed steps to block mail which is "unsolicited, unwanted and deeply offensive to those who receive it."

The congressmen have an array of pornographic literature forwarded to them by irate constituents who want such material kept out of the mails and out of the hands of the young.

"I've been around and I'm not easily shocked, but this stuff is terrible," Ichord said of the examples he received.

Nixon said Friday his administration will send three proposals to Congress shortly which would:

—"Make it a federal crime to use the mails or other facilities of commerce to deliver to anyone under 18 years of age material dealing with a sexual subject in a manner unsuitable for young people." A first violation would be punishable by up to five years in prison and a $50,000 fine.

—"Make it a federal crime to use the mails, or other facilities of commerce, for the commercial exploitation of a prurient interest in sex through advertising." The penalty would be up to five years and $50,000 fine for first offense and double that for subsequent convictions.

—"Extend the existing law to enable a citizen to protect his home from any intrusion of sex-oriented advertising — regardless of whether or not a citizen has ever received such mailing." This would fortify a 1967 law enabling any citizen to have his name taken off the mailing list whenever he receives material he regards as "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

Much of it was aimed at teenagers and children by mailers who obtain lists of young persons through purchase of mailing lists, school directories and use of alluring ads.

There were a number of brochures of high print quality advertising sexual manuals. The implication was that the hundreds of photographs used were scientific illustrations.

"That is just a ruse to get the stuff in the hands of teenagers," said Cunningham.

CHOIR OFFICERS AND PLAQUE — Officers of the Snyder High School Choir display the University Interscholastic League first division plaque earned in the 1969 contests. SHS STUDENTS APPLAUDED

Choir In Successful Tour

The eighty-four voice choir from SHS has returned from it's 1969 All-America City Tour. The choir received tremendous responses from each audience and a spectacular "standing ovation" from a large student body of 1,000 thrilled listeners.

The audience watching the All-America City Choir totaled approximately 3,500 persons. At each performance, the choir displayed the large All-America City shields which had been donated by the City Hall.

The first day of the tour included: a rehearsal and lunch in the Breckenridge Boys Choir hall, a Six Flags visit of four hours, and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra - North Texas State University Grand Chorus performance of the Brahm's Requiem at Southern Methodist University.

On Sunday morning the students attended the churches of their choice and visited Love Field Air Terminal before giving two evening concerts at the 7,000 member Cliff Temple Baptist Church. The choir presented a Sacred Concert in the cathedral-type structure for some 1,800 persons, followed by an informal Hootennany in the fellowship hall for approximately 200 persons. A Dallas newsletter, The Temple Trumpet, said of the Snyder Choir, "a most inspiring and enjoyable experience, a real thrill to hear a high school choir that can present a program of religious numbers of such obvious high quality in such an outstanding manner."

The students stayed in homes provided by the church on Sunday evening.

One old timer said "that was the finest music we have had in our building in my 25 years here"

On Monday the students could have been found singing for an audience of approximately 500 in the downtown campus of El Centro College of Dallas. The hour concert of entertainment received much applause and comment by the faculty and students of the college. Monday's schedule included a 45 minute visit to the 50th floor observation deck of the Dallas First National Bank. The clear weather allowed the students to see Fort Worth - 40 miles away. A visit to the Texas State Fair Grounds and the Historical Wax Museum and the Dallas Bronco Bowl concluded the activities.

Tuesday the singers performed two full concerts and did a lot of traveling. Duncanville High School was the scene of the most responsive audience, as the 1,000 student audience gave long periods of applause between each section of the program and concluded with an overpowering "standing ovation" that thrilled the Snyder students and adults alike.

After departing Duncanville, the students visited briefly the campus of the Dallas Baptist College before going to Denton and North Texas State University. After lunch at the Student Union Building, the SHS singers presented their final concert in one of the best accoustically designed recital halls in the Southwest. Here too, the choir received enthusiastic applause from the gathered faculty and music students. Following the coke time served by the NTSU school of music, the choir returned to Snyder. A quote of one of the drivers seemed to sum up the tour, "I've been driving chartered bands and choirs for fifteen years, and I've never seen a group receive such a fine reception and loud applause."

The home concert will be Thursday, May 15, at 8 p.m.

Church Panel Takes Stand On Mid-East

By BENET M. BOLTON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Christians in the United States stood scolded today by a national religious body as being "too exclusively" pro-Arab or pro-Israel in their Middle East sympathies.

The general board of the National Council of Churches (NCC) wound up a two-day meeting Friday with a statement that also chastised Israeli and Arab nationalists who think their cause is backed by divine mandate to own the disputed biblical lands.

"Extreme and ultimate claims on both sides are unacceptable to us as Christians," said the 250-member board.

It turned down an original draft statement on the Middle East that criticized religious nationalism here in much stronger terms. The final statement said:

"Nationalisms exist, in Israel and elsewhere, which stem in part from religious roots and which contain, in the present situation, powerful political implications.

"One form of such nationalism connects the promise of God to the Jewish people with the land of Palestine, holding that the will of God and the future of the Jewish people require that the Jews possess Palestine as a homeland . . . .

"An Arab religious nationalism also exists, among both Muslims and Christians, which regards Palestine and Jerusalem as part of its sacred ancestral lands.

"We affirm our respect for and fellowship with those who hold these religious faiths, and ask them to understand that our concern is because of the tragic political consequences of all religious nationalisms."

The board, which meets three times annually, sets policy for the NCC, whose 34 Protestant and Orthodox denominations count 40 million persons as members.

Contractors Close Project

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

TORONTO (AP) — Building contractors shut down $2 billion worth of office and commercial building projects in Toronto today and put 25,000 construction workers out of their jobs.

The lockout was called by the Toronto Construction Association in retaliation for a strike called Thursday by the 2,800-member International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The policy of the contractors' association is to shut down the industry if one union goes on strike.

The electrical workers called the strike after rejecting a two-year contract offer that gave wage increases of $1.20 an hour and 8 cents an hour in fringe benefits. The offer would have brought weekly wages to about $219 in the second year of the contract.

The union is demanding a one-year contract with an hourly increase of $1.08.

Court Costing More Than The Robbery

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After appearing in court seven times as a witness, Larry Mazeppa told the judge, "I'm losing more money here than I did in the burglary."

Mazeppa owns a laundry from which $20 in quarters was taken in January. He told the judge that when he has to take time out from business to come to court it costs him money.

The judge called the situation inexcusable and said he would personally find out why policemen failed to show up the seventh time—thereby making it necessary to schedule an eighth appearance for Mazeppa.

EX-CONVICT IS KILLED

Wild Chase Ends In Ambush

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Ila Faye Dent was in jail today after a 300-mile chase in Southeast Texas that ended with the death of her ex-convict husband, felled in a hail of gunfire.

Robert S. Dent, 22, suffered fatal shotgun and pistol wounds moments after he followed highway patrolman J. Kenneth Crone into an isolated farm house Friday. The couple had held Crone hostage five hours in his patrol car during the chase.

"They held a gun on me most of the time, one in my side for a while and one in my neck for a while," said Crone, 27.

Mrs. Dent, 21, was charged by justice of the peace J. Paul McNeill with robbery by firearms and placed without bond in the Jefferson County jail.

Dent, convicted in 1964 and 1966 on charges of breaking into coin-operated vending machines, was shot in the face, neck and right arm after officers sprang a trap in the farm house at Wheelock, north of Bryan.

It started when Port Arthur police reported they had chased a speeding sports car after midnight. Crone and other police sought the car for several hours.

When they spotted the car they halted it with gunfire, but the couple inside—later identified as the Dents—fled into the woods. Bloodhounds were used in a search that was nearly halted when Crone received a call from a rancher about the couple.

Crone went to the ranch near Anahuac to answer. He said the couple had told the rancher that two hitchhikers had robbed them and stolen their car.

But the Dents drew weapons on Crone.

"They made me get into my car, "the patrolman said. 'I was driving at first, and they treated me okay until the cars (other law enforcement vehicles) started closing in on us.

"Then they threatened to shoot me.' "

More than 50 patrol cars followed the couple and Crone during the chase that followed. The vehicles reached speeds of 95 miles per hour on narrow farm-to-market roads.

A Chambers County sheriff's deputy tried to ram Crone's car between Beaumont and Houston but only nicked the rear end.

Authorities pursued the patrol car through Dayton, Houston, Cleaveland, Navasota and Bryan. At one point Dent demanded on the radio that food be left near Navasota. Meat, bread and water were placed alongside the highway.

"I told him (Dent) he would be better off giving himself up," Crone said. "I told him he didn't want to get into any murder scrape. But he said he might as well. He didn't have anything to live for."

Dent stopped for gas at Bryan and took over driving. Talking incoherently at times, Dent threatened to kill the patrolman if officers approached too close.

He said he would free Crone if allowed a 15-minute visit with his stepchildren staying at the home of Mrs. Dent's parents near Bryan.

Officers had been waiting for about 45 minutes when Crone's patrol car rolled into the dusty farm house yard.

"I walked in first," Crone, a bachelor, said. "I was handcuffed. I saw a man behind the door to my right with a shotgun. As soon as I saw him, I ran to my left and out the back of the house.

The shotgun blast knocked Dent back out the door, off the steps and onto the ground.

"Oh, my God, you've killed him," screamed Mrs. Dent.

"I motioned him (Crone) out of the way and fired," said Sheriff E.W. Elliot of Robertson County who said he stood about eight feet inside the farmhouse door with a 12-gauge shotgun. FBI agent Bob Wiatt had his .38-caliber pistol leveled at the entrance.

Dent died about an hour later in a Bryan hospital.

Market Ends Week With Sharp Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market wound up a volatile week Friday with a sharp gain.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 7.95 points to 957.17, pushing its rise for the week to 33.17 points.

The climb on Friday was a comeback after a pause on Thursday following big gains in the previous two sessions. The Dow industrials had spurted 16.08 points Wednesday and 9.02 on Tuesday.

Of 1,584 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, 770 rose and 559 fell.

Volume declined to 13.07 million shares from 14.38 million Thursday and 19.35 million Wednesday.

Lincoln Exhibit Opens In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of Japanese lined up outside Tokyos' Isetan department store today waiting for the opening of an Abraham Lincoln exhibition.

The exhibit, designed to acquaint the Japanese people with "the life and philosophy" of the 16th president of the United States, was opened by acting U.S. Ambassador David Osborn. Among the items on display are the original copy of the Gettysburg Address, a model of Lincoln's log cabin at New Salem, Ill., historical illustrations, photographs and personal belongings.

Buys Young Wife To See Him Through

KOTA BELUD, Malaysia (AP) — The groom was twice as old as the bride's father. His 14-year-old wife cost him 10 buffaloes, seven multi-colored rugs and $66.

Haji Alik Bin Sapi, 72, a farmer and shopkeeper, married 14-year-old Kungam Binte Sakil in a Moslem ceremony Thursday.

The new groom commented today: "I have got someone to look after me until the end of my days. I expect to live for another 20 years yet."

WANT TO BE MOVIE STAR?

It Helps To Be An Athlete

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — You may not have to be a football hero to get along with a beautiful girl, but it sure helps if you want to be a movie star.

Professional athletes, often praised by admiring fans for their histrionics on the field, are profiting from their flair for the dramatic by taking a swing at professional acting.

Perhaps it is the incomparable exposure modern athletes get through the mass media, particularly television, in this electronic age. Their names and faces are as well known as their exploits on the field — and Hollywood likes nothing better than a "name" which can help sell its product. The acting part comes later — sometimes much later.

This is not altogether new, of course. Johnny Weissmuller, the Olympic swimming champion, was a durable movie star of the Depression days, debuting in 1932 in "Tarzan the Ape Man."

Many other pro athletes made thespic appearances through the years, playing themselves.

But few times in the history of sports — or acting — have there been as many professional athletes turning to the screen for strictly dramatic purposes as there are now.

Jim Brown, among football's greatest running backs, leads the actor list, far ahead — as he was on the field —of all his athlete-actor competitors. The former Cleveland Browns great has set his fierce determination on learning to be an actor and already has made more than half a dozen films since his debut in 1964 in "Rio Conchos."

Brown's films have been of the Western or action-adventure type, including "Dark of the Sun," "The Dirty Dozen," "Riot," and currently he is heating up the screen with another great figure, Raquel Welch, in "100 Rifles."

A number of others of the finest off the football field have followed Brown's thespian footsteps.

Roosevelt "Rosey" Grier, the 300-pound former New York Giants and Los Angeles Rams football bulwark, has been signed to the regular cast of television's "Daniel Boone" series and will act with Lee J. Cobb in the movie version of "Liberation of Lord Byron Jones."

Shelly Novack, former San Diego football player, makes his film debut in "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here," opposite Robert Redford and Katharine Ross, and will then appear in "Airport." Jack Snow, former All-America end at Notre Dame and now with the pro Los Angeles Rams, has a dramatic role in "Marooned," which stars Gregory Peck.

Woody Strode, former UCLA football hero, has made several films, including "The Professionals" and "The Scalphunters."

But the film field is not limited to football heroes.

Rafer Johnson, former Olympic decathlon champion, has made several films and will portray a sports commentator in the upcoming "The Games," a film with an Olympics background.

Bill Russell, pro basketball's great center, got some television acting exposure in "Cowboy in Africa," and yet another Olympic swim champ, Murray Rose, had a small part in the movie, "Ice Station Zebra."

Boxer Archie Moore did a fine acting job in "Huckleberry Finn," among other dramas; Rocky Graziano has been seen in both the wide screen and the home screen.

Chuck Connors, formerly of the Los Angeles Dodgers, starred in "The Rifleman" TV series after he quit baseball and soon will appear in the movie, "Captain Nemo and the Floating City," with Robert Ryan. His former teammate, Don Drysdale, has made several TV Westerns.

Whole teams are getting into the act, too. The football Detroit Lions appear in the film version of "The Paper Lion," and the New Orleans Saints back up Charlton Heston in "Pro."

Farmers' Milk Prices Show Gain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Milk production during the first three months of 1969 declined 1.5 per cent from a year earlier, but farmers' prices were up 5 per cent, the Agriculture Department reported Friday.

The drop in total production was about what department officials had estimated two months ago. Officials said in the latest report that output during the second quarter probably will continue below a year earlier.

Officials noted that March milk output per cow increased little from a year earlier, despite an 8 per cent gain in feeding of grain and concentrates.

Cow numbers were down 3.25 per cent during March, the smallest rate of decline for the month since 1962, the report said.

Prices dairymen received in January through March averaged $5.44 per 10 pounds for all milk, a gain of 5 per cent from a year earlier. The rise was attributed to higher government supports for manufacturing grade milk, and increases in federal marketing order prices for Class I or bottling milk.

The department reported on April 21 that prices paid to producers for bottling milk during the month averaged $6.7 per hundredweight for major markets, 35 cents a hundredweight more than a year ealier.

But despite the higher price averages, officials noted in the latest report, dairymen this year may not make larger profits.

"Cash receipts from farm marketings of milk and cream were nearly $6 billion in 1968, up four per cent from a year earlier," the report said. "Despite prospective lower production this year, increased prices likely will raise gross receipts again. But production costs also are rising and net cash receipts may not gain."

Four Monkeys Die During Space Tests

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Four pigtail monkeys have died during tests for a month-long earth orbit flight in June.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said three of the animals died "in recent weeks" at Cape Kennedy and one inside a Bio-satellite space craft undergoing testing at Valley Forge, Pa.

"One succumbed, unexpectedly, apparently as a result of an untoward response due to a change in feeding regimen. He ate too much," a spokesman said Thursday.

"Two others have been sacrificed at Cape Kennedy for investigation of their tissues," he said.

NASA declined to elaborate on the cause of the death of the fourth monkey, which died in a long-duration test in a Biosatellite capsule at the Valley Forge plant of General Electric Co. But sources said the monkey was overcome by noxious fumes from a fluid containing chloroform used to clean the monkey's space suit and harness.

"Loss of these experimental test subjects in no way affects the readiness of the Biosatellite mission," NASA said.

Some 20 male pigtail monkeys are now living at a Cape Kennedy. One of them will be selected to blast off in mid-June for a 30-day flight in earth orbit.

The experiment, called Biosatellite 3, will attempt to answer questions about the effect weightlessness and prolonged confinement on man.

Not A Burglar — Just Busy Armadillo

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Lamar County lawmen got a hurry-up call to Brookston, where a resident reported a burglar.

They checked. No burglar.

Then someone heard a bumping noise, and discovered the intruder—a busy armadillo, digging underneath the house.
