Big Four Near Agreement On Berlin Vote

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager INS

PARIS, June 3.—Western delegates reported "some progress" tonight in the first secret session of the Big Four foreign ministers struggling over the Berlin problem.

This was the first really encouraging report since the ministers convened in Paris May 23.

American informants said the Russian delegation displayed an extremely amicable attitude in discussing U.S. Secretary of State Acheson's five-point plan calling for new citywide elections in divided Berlin and limited four-power control over the German city government.

West Surprised

Although no break came on the vital issue of veto rule in Allied control, the informants said Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky indicated willingness to agree to free elections under four-power control.

They said the ministers even reached a point in discussing a date for such elections. There was no decision but the western delegates were surprised at such "apparent Russian willingness" because it is considered certain that the Communists will take a licking in any free elections.

One French delegate said today's developments moved "at a snail's pace but at least there was a little progress and not a complete deadlock such as in previous discussions."

Limited Accord Seen

Informants close to the Soviet delegation predicted an eventual limited accord on the Berlin dispute.

A brief communique on the 3½ hour meeting merely said the ministers discussed both western and Soviet proposals and will meet again in secrecy at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

A French informant said these secret meetings permitted what he termed "avoidance of propaganda speeches."

Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky, who has held out for rigid four-power control in Berlin and throughout Germany, presided today, and Acheson will do so tomorrow.

Compromise Favored

The Western Allied delegates who suggested the closed session hope to find out from Vishinsky if he has any compromise which might make further discussion feasible.

Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin, and French Foreign Minister Schuman again met separately for nearly an hour before they joined Vishinsky.

Authoritative informants said

Red Request On Strike Rejected

BERLIN, June 3 (INS) — The Western Allied commanders in Berlin rejected tonight a Soviet proposal that they withdraw West German police from strike-bound rail stations.

The commanders met with Soviet Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov for the first time in nearly a year after the formal July 1, 1948, break-up of the four-power Kommandatura.

Kotikov himself requested the meeting in an ostensible effort to solve the paralyzing rail strike of nearly 15,000 anti-Communist workers. The strikers demand full payment in western-issued marks which are more valuable than the Soviet-issued currency.

Atmosphere "Excellent"

Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, U. S. commander, said no progress was made at the meeting lasting three hours and a half although "the atmosphere was excellent."

The Western Allies ordered the West German police into the rail stations in their sectors last week after Communist-organized squads trying to break the strike touched off violence which killed three persons and wounded hundreds.

Howley said Kotikov made "quite a number of proposals" which were rejected. The Russian in turn rejected the western demand that the Soviet-controlled rail directorate negotiate directly with the striking workers of the UGO union group.

The strikers last night overwhelmingly rejected the rail direc-

JUST A PUPPY—Little Shirley Larsen, only two years old, welcomes home the "puppy" her daddy told her about some time ago. C. E. Larsen, a merchant mariner, purchased Duke shortly after the dog was born at the St. Bernard Monastary in Switzerland. From there they went to Genoa, Italy, and later landed in New York. Larsen was transferred to another ship so he requested a friend to bring the dog to Larsen's wife when the ship reached San Francisco. For a time the dog was lost, finally showing up in Manila with another friend of Larsen's. Duke finally arrived in San Francisco and ended up in the SPCA pound. About 20 people bid on him as an auction, the lucky buyer turning out to be Mrs. C. E. Larsen, wife of the dog's original owner. (NEA Telephoto.)

Grain Men Say Still More Space Needed

Pantex Is Opened For Wheat Storage

(By The Associated Press)

STORAGE space for six to seven million bushels of wheat was made available today to the Texas Panhandle.

But at Amarillo, grain men estimated the space would do little to relieve congested facilities.

It is in the igloos and buildings of the sprawling Pantex ordinance plant, 18 miles east of Amarillo.

The Amarillo Grain exchange said the Panhandle harvest will start within a week or 10 days.

Storage Situation Tight

Eastward—in the North Texas counties of Wichita, Archer and Clay, the harvest was 10 percent complete. If the weather stays good it should end there June 15 to June 20.

The harvest was 30 to 35 percent complete in Knox, Haskell, and Throckmorton counties and 20 to 25 percent finished in Baylor, Wilbarger, and Foard. Only five percent of the grain in Young county had been combined, but estimates put the harvest end there about June 20.

Storage continued tight in that section. At Wichita Falls the cash price Friday was $1.50 a bushel compared to the government loan figure of $1.87.

Area Harvest Underway

To get a government loan a farmer must have approved storage for his wheat.

The harvest was already underway at a few scattered points on the South Plains. One load sold Monday at Brownfield for $2.

Lubbock reported storage a major problem despite a new 2,000,000 bushel capacity elevator which is to open in a few days. Forty percent of the space in other elevators was estimated as available for this year's crop.

Major movement in the South Plains was expected in two weeks.

Prices on the Lubbock cash market Friday—though no wheat was offered—would have been around $1.55.

Also posing something of a problem on the South Plains will be the storage of grain sorghums, also a heavily planted crop in some sections where cotton and wheat are not planted.

Other Sources Sought

At Amarillo the cash price was $1.51, trucked to the elevator. Some grain men thought that the present government loan figure

'Western Week' To Boost Boys Club Rodeo Opens Today

Better dig out your blue jeans, boots and 10-gallon sombreros, folks, because Western Week in Lubbock starts today!

The Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce—which is sponsoring Western Week to help along the cause of the ABC Boys club rodeo on June 8 through 11—plans to make merry with the local citizens and life miserable for any tenderfoot caught without some article of western regalia.

Group To Levy Fines

The Jaycees are setting up a jail, court and judge on the corner of the courthouse park at Broadway and Texas Ave., and a duly elected sheriff and deputies will be on hand each day through Wednesday from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. to bring non-conformers before the bar of justice.

Those found guilty of failure to observe Western Week in the proper spirit will be fined the price of a ticket to the rodeo or a cash donation to a fund for the Boys club, the Jaycees announced.

Meanwhile, ABC boosters who Friday toured the western part of the South Plains and points in eastern New Mexico on behalf of the approaching Boys' club rodeo, wound up a series of booster trips which have been made this week by members of the local American Business club.

The group, under leadership of Frank McElroy, left

AIR SECRETARY DENIES RUMOR

Report Symington To Resign To Head Plane Firm Branded 'Lie'

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 3—Air Force Secretary Symington today angrily branded as "a lie" the report that he would resign to head a "huge aircraft combine" controlled by Wall Street financier Floyd O. Odlum.

Symington struck back vigorously at Rep. Van Zandt (R-Penn), a Naval reserve officer, who has demanded a congressional investigation of what he termed "ugly, disturbing reports" involving Symington, Odlum, Defense Secretary Johnson and the purchase of the giant B-36 bomber.

The Air Force chief denied that Odlum, his associates, or "any other plane manufacturer" ever discussed with him a proposal to head an aircraft combine. He stated:

"It never happened. The report is a lie."

He also termed untrue other reports mentioned by Van Zandt in a House speech May 26 in which the Pennsylvanian asserted:

"I do not say that all of these reports are true, but . . . they are so prevalent and so persistent as

Solon Presses Atomic Probe

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 3—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) insisted today that there still is a possibility of espionage in the loss of uranium 235 from the Argonne National laboratory in Chicago.

The senator dismissed as "without proof" the contention of the Atomic Energy commission and Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) that all evidence points to mishandling of the vital atomic bomb material rather than theft.

At the same time, the senator expressed doubt that the bottle recovered from the waste matter at the Chicago lab ever contained the 28 grams of U-235 reported "lost" in February.

Espionage Said Possible

The AEC contends that all but one-eighth of an ounce of the U-235 has been recovered in waste material.

McMahon later told newsmen that there "is no question in my mind" about the bottle dug up at Chicago being the one which originally contained the fissionable component.

Hickenlooper, in commenting on discovery of the bottle that allegedly contained the uranium, asserted:

"The possibility of espionage cannot be discounted. There is no conclusive evidence to support the theory that the material was dumped by mistake into a waste container."

Red Claimed Employed

The AEC explains that one-eighth of an ounce of the U-235 is still missing, and that more than seven-eighths of an ounce has been accounted for.

Meanwhile, congressional investigators said that a Communist party member was employed in the wartime atomic energy program for more than four years before detection by the FBI and subsequent dismissal.

McMahon, chairman of the congressional "watchdog" Atomic committee said that the Communist w employed in 1943 while the program was being operated by the Army's Manhattan engineer district.

McMahon did not identify the discharged employe but indicated that the matter will be broadened when public hearings are resumed

Soviet Plan On A-Bomb Refused

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 3 (INS)—The United States formally rejected in the United Nations today a Soviet attempt to force the immediate disclosure of U. S. atomic secrets and destruction of atomic bomb stockpiles.

U. S. Delegate Frederick Osborn declared before the working committee of the Atomic Energy commission that Russia's proposals for the simultaneous outlawing of atomic weapons and international controls were "inadequate" and "premature."

Osborn told the 11-nation group that the Soviet scheme provided no assurances that nations destroying their atomic bombs in "good faith" could be confident that nations which were "not acting in good faith also destroyed theirs."

New Charges Hurled

The American representative pointed out that the Soviets' plan would force nations to give up atomic secrets and weapons before the establishment of "effective" international controls.

He added that there was "nothing new" in the idea of simultaneous conventions to warrant discussion by the commission.

Britain and China joined to support the U. S. contention that the Soviet proposals were a mere rehashing of demands already rejected by the General Assembly at its third session in Paris last November.

Lies Admitted By Chambers

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 3.—Whittaker Chambers admitted today that he lied under oath to the same federal grand jury that indicted Alger Hiss on a charge of testifying falsely.

Chambers said he told the grand jury he had no direct knowledge of Russian spy activity.

"Then you admit now that you testified falsely and committed perjury before the grand jury in this building?" he was asked.

"That's right," Chambers replied.

Past Is Exposed

The government has based its perjury case on Hiss' denial of Chambers' charges that Hiss passed government secrets to him. Chambers has admitted he was a courier for a prewar Soviet spy ring.

Hiss has said that Chambers lied.

Under a merciless courtroom attack, Chambers spoke in soft tones as cross-examination exposed his own past.

He stepped down from the witness stand late in the day, self-described as a liar, a one-time potential traitor to his country, and a godless, immoral, furtive former Communist.

The defense launched the attack on Chambers' character in its attempt to shake Chambers' story that Hiss used the position the government bestowed on him to steal secrets for Russian spies.

Deal Described

If convicted, Hiss, one-time honored official in the Roosevelt administration, faces the possibility of prison and fine.

Chambers testified yesterday that the deal to steal the secrets was made by himself, Hiss and Col. Boris Bykov, an alleged Russian spy, at a Chinatown restaur-

Two Killed, Two Hurt In Midland Wreck

MIDLAND, June 3. (AP) — Two persons were killed and two injured in a truck-auto collision five miles northwest of Midland at 7:15 p. m. today.

Clarence J. Reed, 43, Jal, N. M., oil compay employe, was killed instantly. His wife, Nola, 40, died in a Midland hospital shortly after the crash.

Their daughter, Jane, about 20, suffered a fractured arm. She was in Midland hospital. James E. Hill, jr., 33, Midland rancher, suffered a head injury. Doctors said he was not hurt critically.

The Reed family was in an automobile. Hill was alone in a pickup type truck.

Jane Reed told officers her party was traveling toward Midland and were on the way to Abilene.

Turbulent Weather Seen For Area Today

Amarillo Lashed By Heavy Rain, Winds

TURBULENT weather returned to the Panhandle again last night as a "dust devil" hit the Amarillo air field during a brief, but terrific, thunderstorm, and heavy rains fell at numerous other points over the Panhandle section.

The Weather bureau at Lubbock, meanwhile, said late last night that the thunderstorm activity, apparently caused by a cool front in the New Mexico area, would continue today and would spread into the South Plains with scattered thundershowers at some points.

The possibility of heavy local downpours with some hail and possibly strong winds was foreseen for Lubbock and the South Plains section this afternoon and tonight, the Weather station said at midnight. There was an outside chance some thundershowers would hit early this morning, but most of the activity was expected later in the day.

Two Buildings Damaged

Amarillo reported that two buildings were broken up by the small twister which struck there about 6 p.m. Friday and TWA airliners on incoming flights were without communications, the Associated Press said. TWA's transmitter building and a barracks building at the field were damaged by the "dust devil," the Associated Press added. A "dust devil," the Weather bureau explained, is a small twister just between a strong whirlwind and a tornado.

The thunderstorm which hit the Amarillo area brought more than half an inch of rain in ten minutes, followed by five minutes of heavy hail. No reports of damage to the maturing Panhandle wheat crop had been received late last night. Roswell reported a heavy rain and some hail last night.

Rains Hit Wide Area

No rains were reported on the South Plains up to midnight Friday, although an overcast had started moving over the area at that time. Strong southerly winds which reached 4 0miles an hour steady with gusts to 45 miles an hour, whipped up dust over the area most of Friday.

Rains Soak Panhandle

Heavy rains hit most of the Panhandle late Friday afternoon. Some points also had hail.

At Spearman Editor Bill Miller of The Spearman Reporter summed up the attitude of Panhandle wheat farmers:

"We're ready to have this water cut off."

The start of the harvest is a week to ten days off in the Panhandle.

Mexican Official Shot At McAllen

McALLEN, June 3 (AP) — The chief of state police in the Mexican state of Nuevo Leon was shot to death here today. A long-time friend was charged with murder with malice aforethought in the slaying.

Brig. Gen. Heron Ramirez, 49, was shot down as he walked across a lawn in an exclusive residential district. He died 15 minutes later in the McAllen city hospital of four bullet wounds.

Estban Garcia, a relative of Ramirez and a prominent South Texas rancher, gave himself up shortly afterward at Edinburg 12 miles north of here. District attorney Jack Ross filed the charge. Garcia later was released on $10,000 bond.

Pistol Is Found

Ramirez, whose headquarters were at Monterrey, Mexico, was a member of a pioneer family at Reynosa, Mexico, across the border. He owned a large ranch—Rancho de Periquitos (little parrots)—south of Reynosa, his birthplace.

A .38 caliber Smith and Wesson pistol found near the scene contained five empty shells, police said.

When Garcia gave himself up at Edinburg he was accompanied by Dario V. Guerra, prominent McAllen rancher on whose lawn the shooting occurred and an intimate friend of both men. Guerra and Garcia are brothers-in-law.

Tornadoes Hit Near Oklahoma Towns

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 3 (INS) — Tornadoes were reported to have struck at two widely separated points in Oklahoma tonight.

State Highway patrol headquarters in Oklahoma City said a twister dipped down near Leedey in northwestern Oklahoma and another near Bartlesville in the northwest.

Damage was believed to be slight at both places. At Bartlesville the wind just missed the airport, according to the highway patrol which has a unit out checking the area around Leedey.

Compromise Plan Sought

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 3—President Truman's forces in the Senate abandoned their Taft-Hartley repeal bill today and actively worked for a compromise.

Vice President Barkley went before a conference of Senate Democrats and was reported to have said that he and Mr. Truman have decided to take what they can get in the way of a new labor bill.

And when the conference finally broke up tonight, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader of the Senate, told reporters that he personally favors a series of five amendments to the Truman bill which were proposed today.

Earlier Lucas said that "certainly" the bill is going to be amended in the Senate labor debate which starts Monday.

Plant Seizure Favored

He said tonight that the meeting "made progress," that about 40 of the 54 Democratic senators attended, that nearly all of them talked, that there was a lot of disagreement and that "we are not through" and will probably meet again early next week.

Among the five amendments he favors is a plan for federal seizure of plants—up to 90 days—in national emergency cases.

Unlike the Taft-Hartley act, the seizure proposal would not specifically authorize injunctions to delay strikes. But the courts have held that the government can always seek an injunction against the employes after seizing a company.

Significantly, all five of these amendments have bipartisan support. They will be introduced in the Senate by two Democrats, Senators Douglas (Ill) and Hill (Ala), and two Republicans, Senators Aiken (Vt) and Morse (Ore). Aiken and Morse have refused to go along with a Republican bill backed by Senator Taft (Ohio) and others.

HST's Stand Not Clear

Still other amendments were discussed at the all-day conference.

What the Truman Democrats were trying to do was this: Accept some parts of the Taft-Hartley law in order to win enough

Stolen Auto Is Recovered Here

An automobile reported stolen from E. P. Bean at a tourist court on Avenue H was found abandoned late last night in 2200 block of the same avenue, police announced. A search had been underway since earlier in the night.

The sheriff's department announced the arrest of four juveniles—ranging in age from about 8 to 14—and the recovery of a radio, electric iron, clothing, a flashlight, a life preserver and other property taken Thursday from the 3138 Fourth residence of W. R. Isbell.

Deps. Sheriff Frank Mitchell and Tom Cannon tracked the boys to their homes. They allegedly had alternately dragged and carried a cotton sack stuffed with the clothing and part of the other loot.

In county court it was announced that Arroll J. Redman, 44, of Lubbock had pleaded guilty of check law violation and been fined $5 and court costs.

Redman was held in county jail pending posting of $2,500 bond on a grand jury indictment charging child desertion, the sheriff's office said.

THREE-STATE SEARCH ON AFTER BREAK IN WEST VIRGINIA

Fourteen 'Dangerous' Criminals Escape

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY
INS Staff Correspondent

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 3. Fourteen "dangerous" criminals broke out of the pre-civil war West Virginia state prison today and armed posses combing the highways of three states discovered tonight an abandoned stolen car contained a prison cap.

The car was located at Short Creek, near Wheeling, W. Va., and authorities expressed fear that the jail-hardened convicts may be attempting to carry out a five-year-old threat of vengeance.

Tonight authorities reported two of the men were seen this morning in Bellaire, Ohio, just across the Ohio river from Moundsville.

A girl in a confectionary store identified John Valeko, 36, a lifer, from a newspaper picture. A woman employe of a dry cleaning establishment said that a man she later identified as Gerald Noland, 19, had asked her for money for his "wife and six kids."

The men, using crudely fashioned drills and hacksaws, broke out of their cells in the early morning and then cut the bars of a window and jumped to the ground outside.

They overpowered the single guard in their cell area of 600 men and bound him.

The time of the escape was 3:33 a.m. and it was discovered at 3:45. Hundreds of other prisoners saw the break but none gave the alarm.

In 1944 two of the prisoners, Otto Neff, a lifer, and Holly Stretcher, serving 10 years, escaped from the Brook county prison after slugging a deputy sheriff.

Later they kidnapped a Wheeling patrolman and fled in his cruiser car but were captured by other policemen.

Up for sentence, the two men vowed they would "come back to Wheeling and kill a cop for this—any cop."

Tonight, all Wheeling police were alerted against the possibility that the escaped prisoners may make an attempt on their lives. They were told to keep their guns handy when off duty.

Warden Orel Skeen of the Moundsville prison said the convicts wouldn't hesitate to "kill their own mothers" to keep their freedom.

The convicts, six of them lifers and the others sentenced to 10 to 30 years, were in "solitary" at the time of their mass escape.

Shortly after the escape a Carroll county, Ohio, couple were found shot to death in their home

DEFENDANTS HELD IN CONTEMPT

Three Top Communists Ordered To Jail After Court Flareup

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—Three top U.S. Communists on trial in federal court were jailed today by Judge Harold R. Medina, who held them in contempt in a bitter courtroom row.

The shouting, confused scene erupted after Medina had ordered defendant John W. Gates to jail for 30 days for persistent refusal to answer prosecution questions on cross-examination.

All of Gates' 10 co-defendants jumped to their feet.

Court Procedure Assailed

Henry Winston, husky negro who is party organizational secretary, was heard to shout something about "lynching."

The judge said to him: "I direct that you be remanded."

Gus Hall, bulky Ohio State chairman of the party, roared he had seen "fairer justice" in police courts.

Medina eyed him through his spectacles.

"Let's see, that's Mr. Hall," he said. "You are remanded for the balance of the trial."

Remanding means that the defendant's bail is revoked and that they must remain in jail all the time except when court is in session. All have been free in $5,000 bail while they were tried on charges of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Taken To Jail

The judge repeatedly stated that Gates, 35-year-old editor of The Communist Daily Worker, could purge himself of contempt by agreeing to answer U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey's questions.

The judge denied all requests to stay his remanding orders pending appeal to a higher court or to revoke them.

Several days ago Medina warned another defendant, City Councilman Benjamin Davis, jr., that he was subject to being jailed.

Gates, Hall and Winston were manacled together as they were taken to the federal house of detention when court quit for the weekend.

Gates, a short, sharp-featured man who fought with the Republican army in the Spanish Civil War and with the U.S. Army in World War Two, balked at questions which would have required him to tell names of some of his party associates other than his co-defendants.

He told Medina he would become a "stool pigeon" if he gave the information.

U. S. Price Support Program Affects Record Amount Of Corn

WASHINGTON, June 3. (U.P.)—The largest amount of corn in history is under government price support, the Agriculture department reported today.

The department said farmers by April 30 had placed 346,581,191 bushels of the record-smashing 3,600,000,000 bushel 1948 crop under price support loans and purchase agreements. The largest amount placed under price supports before was 302,000,000 bushels during the 1939-40 marketing year.

The department said that 131,000,000 bushels were under support in Iowa alone.

Buses in Dublin, Eire, carried fewer passengers after a recent fare increase.

ABC Plays Host For Ladies' Day Meeting

"Ladies Day" added a lot of color to the regular meeting of the American Business Club Friday at the Hilton Hotel. Wives, daughters and sisters were special guests of the club. The majority were dressed in western styles to help advertise the Boys' Club rodeo to be shown June 8-11.

President George Dale announced a special meeting for Tuesday evening to formulate plans for handling the many special problems arising in the final week before "the world's best rodeo" gets under way.

Two Men Ducked

Rodeo Manager Harry Van Horn said that committees who will be assigned the duties of car parking, crowd handling, first aid, etc., will have to plan their work not later than Tuesday night. The various concessions will be handled by the Lubbock Lions club as in the past.

Failure to appear in western clothes at last week's meeting brought a ducking in ice-cold water for Firman Williamson and Walter McNabb. Both men elected to take the ducking in a large galvanized can rather than pay a fine meted out.

In addition to the many ladies, special guests were: Rodeo Queen Shelley Furr; Burt Nelson, her escort; Sol Gross and Paul Riner, Big Spring ABC members; Mrs. Ben Slaughter, San Antonio; and Mrs. Briggs Irvin, president of the ABC Dames. Mrs. Irvin announced the opening of seven ticket offices in the downtown area to be operated by the distaff members.

He was a member of the Baptist church, the Masonic lodge, Scottish Rite club, and was a Shriner.

Survivors include his wife; four daughters, Miss Dorothy Jeffreys, Mrs. Lois Jenkins and Mrs. L. S. Everett, all of Austin, and Mrs. Alvin Haag of Midland; two brothers, J. N. Fort Worth 'Comfort Club' Opens New Membership Drive

FORT WORTH, June 3. (U.P.)—Some 3,000 active members of the original "Male Comfort club" today took their coats off, loosened their ties and went to work on their annual membership campaign.

"No coat, no tie, no suffocatin'" is the club's slogan.

Two principal forms of membership are open: Class A, which is for men who wear neither coat no tie from June 1 to Labor Day; and class B, for those who still cling to their ties.

The club was founded four years ago by Walter R. Humphrey, editor of The Fort Worth Press, through his "Home Towner" column. Since then, several other chapters have been founded in the Southwest, and requests for membership cards have come from all parts of the country.

Area National Guard Units To Go To Camp

Boarding a special train at 10 o'clock tonight, 112 men and eight officers of the three Lubbock units of the National Guard will go to North Camp Hood for the annual field training program, scheduled from Sunday through June 19.

A unit from Brownfield also will board the train in Lubbock.

The 132nd field artillery Battalion, of which Col. Ross Ayers of Lubbock is commander, includes the three Lubbock units and one at Plainview and one at Big Spring. The Plainview and Big Spring units will go to camp on other trains.

The entire 36th division is to be assembled in the camp by 6 p. m. Sunday. Training will open Monday.

An advance detachment of 33 men and one officer, Lt. John R. Bell, left Lubbock Thursday morning to assemble supplies and make necessary administrative arrangements for the Lubbock units.

Two Men Confess Planting Bomb On Philippine Airliner

MANILA, June 3. (U.P.)—Two men have confessed planting a time bomb on a commercial airliner which exploded, killing 13 persons aboard, government investigators said today.

The confessions were handed to authorities in Daet, Camarines Norte province, who were requested to draw up criminal charges against the pair and two others reportedly implicated.

The two men, one a convict, the other an ex-convict, were paid $92.50 to put the bomb on the plane, authorities said.

The plane, a Philippine Airlines craft, disappeared May 7 while en route from Daet to Manila. It apparently exploded in flight while over the sea. Ludvig Sunoeen, 48, a mining engineer who once lived in Litchfield, Minn., and Richard Parker, 25, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., were aboard.

Chapel Echoes

How gloriously nature is smiling these days on the high plains. The sunshine, the blue sky, the green mantle of foliage upon the earth, the bountiful fields of wheat; all these and many other things are reminding us of the goodness of our God. I wonder if we are appropriately grateful? Are the churches filled with crowds of eager worshippers, and are the prayer-meetings better attended; or are many staying away from meetings because they are too busy? Once it was the depression—we hadn't suitable clothes, nor enough gasoline to go to church, just wait till we had more money. And now we are so busy, so prosperous. We can't spare the time for the things of God.

Let me ask each reader to be frank in answering this question—just how must God deal with us before we'll take time for Him? He speaks in prosperity, He speaks in times of trial and sorrow, He has spoken in Infinite Eternal Love through His Beloved Son, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. And we are never truly satisfied until we heed His Voice and receive Him unto our hearts.

At Grace Chapel next Lord's Day morning the subject, God willing, will be "Twice-born Men" and at night "The Heart of an Apostle."

GRACE CHAPEL, 18th at Ave. N
A hearty welcome await you.

Labor Is Adequate In Some Counties

The Texas Employment Commission has issued a bulletin in which it advises transient harvest labor to avoid many Texas counties where the harvest is now in progress.

Although few counties have completed more than 30 or 40 per cent of the cutting, all have more than an adequate supply of labor. Heavy surpluses of men have piled up in some areas and have added to the burden of unemployment, the report indicates.

The use of more modern combines and machines has reduced the demand for workers. Some areas have been able to absorb the incoming trucks to haul the grain to storage.

Counties reporting an over-supply of both men and machines are, Knox, Haskell, Throckmorton, Baylor, Wilbarger, Foard, Wichita, Archer, Clay, Hardeman, Collin, Taylor and Jones. Collin reported that 12 to 15 late model self-propelled combines moved into Knox county on May 25.

In some counties the combines are operating from 9 a. m. until 3 a. m. the following day, or for periods of 18 hours. Rains have delayed the cutting in many sections but the few recent hot days have ripened the wheat rapidly and it has headed out well.

In Coleman and Runnels counties more oats is being cut than wheat to date. The harvest is only about 5 per cent complete in these counties.

World's 'Richest Gold Strike' Is Reported In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, June 3. (U.P.) Reports reached here today of what the promotors called one of the richest gold strikes the world has ever known.

The report electrified the gold market. Gold mining shares shot sky high. Fortunes were made in a matter of minutes.

The strike was reported made on a farm 15 miles from Odenaalsrur, where a rich strike was made three years ago.

The Union Free State Mining Finance corporation said confirmation of the original assay showed that the new vein contained abundant gold grains.

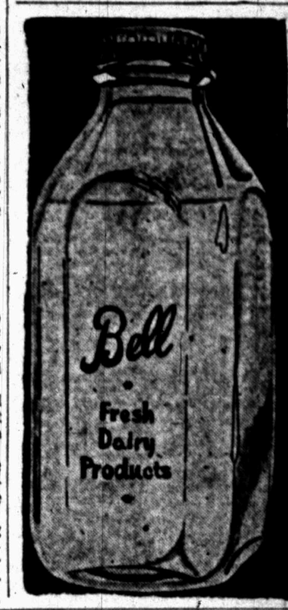

FPC Okays Increased Exports Of Electrical Energy To Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 3. (U.P.)—The Federal Power commission has authorized a 4 million kilowatt-hour annual increase in exports of electrical energy from the United States to Mexico, it announced today.

The export will be made over facilities operated by Servicos Electricos De Piedras Negras, S.A., a Mexican corporation. Central Power and Light company, Corpus Christi, will deliver the power to the Mexican company at a point near Eagle Pass.

The commission also released a presidential permit authorizing the Mexican company to install and operate additional facilities for the transmission of the energy across the border.

The two companies previously received FPC authorization for Central Power to deliver up to 8 million kilowatt-hours annually to the Mexican company. The new authorization permits a net increase to 12 million kilowatt-hours but at a rate not to exceed 2,500 kilowatts.

Favorites Advance Toward Sunday Finals In Hobbs Meet

Cherry Still Paces Field

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

HOBBS, N. M., June 3.—All the top favorites except one, Red Roden of Odessa, still were in the thick of the battle today as the Hobbs Country club Invitational Golf Tournament moved into its quarter final round.

Roden fell before George Paulowsky of Hobbs, 1-up, in the final match on today's schedule for the tourney's first major upset.

Still pacing the pack was Don Cherry, Thursday's medalist, but the wiry Wichita Falls ace had to stage an amazing back nine comeback to beat 17-year-old Ross Mitchell in the match which drew the day's biggest gallery.

Cherry Rallies

Two down at the turn in the face of Mitchell's sub-par 35, Cherry blossomed on the incoming nine with a torrid six under par performance that simply overpowered the game Lubbock youngster. On the final nine holes Cherry pieced together two eagles, two birdies, and two pars on the first six holes to take a 1-up edge on the fifteenth. He then won 16 with a par 4 and halved 17 to close out the match. Mitchell led most of the way before bowing to Cherry's blistering back nine barrage. Young Ross dropped the opening hole, but bounced back to win the second and third to take a lead that he did not give up until the twelfth green. He then captured 13 with a birdie 3 only to have Cherry regain the lead with successive birdies on 14 and 15.

One South Plains Golfer

After today's opening two rounds only one South Plains representative remained among the championship flight contenders. R. S. "Bob" Cryer, an unheralded long driving Denver City entrant scored successive upset triumphs over Guy James, Hobbs southpaw, and W. G. White, veteran Lamesa linksman. Cryer faces Tommie Roberts, the diminuitive Roswell youth in Saturday morning's 18-hole quarterfinals. Roberts ousted E. C. Nix, jr., of Seminole, the defending champion, in today's first round, 1-up, in 19 holes.

Four Lubbock men survived the opening round, but all bowed out in their second matches of the day. Mitchell, before losing out to Cherry, had defeated Jack Hord of Alpine by the days widest margin, 8-6. Bill Tatum, who like Mitchell was a Lubbock senior high links star, staged a game uphill battle to outlast Dr. W. A. Schaal, Tahoka, 1-up in 21 holes, but then Tatum fell before Jack Williams, a pre-tourney favorite from Plainview, by 6 and 4. Little Lindsay Telford of Lubbock beat his fellow townsman, Jack Trammel, 3 and 2, but then lost to Joe Stoltz, Hobbs, 2-1. Bob Ewerz, another Lubbockite, easily ousted Dr. G. V. Lillie, Odessa, 4-3, only to lose by the same margin to Bobby Maxwell, Abilene, in the afternoon round.

Success In Other Flights

In other flights Lubbock and South Plains golfers enjoyed great success. The South Plains still had two representatives in the first flight, four in the second, and one in the fourth.

Scores today were higher than those posted Thursday because of a stiff south wind which played havoc with tee shots and lofty approaches. Both Cherry and Jack Williams were four under par when their matches ended for the day's best efforts.

Quarter finals and semi-finals in the championship flight are scheduled Saturday with the 36-hole finals Sunday. In all other flights, the quarter-finals will be held Saturday with 18-hole semi-finals and finals Sunday.

First Round Results

First round results in the championship flight saw W. G. White, Lamesa, upset Charles Townes, Tahoka, 2-1, and R. S. Cryer, Denver City, outlasted G. C. James, Hobbs, 1-up in 19 holes. Bobby Maxwell, Abilene, edged out T. E. Patterson, Lubbock, 1-up in 19 holes by running down a 35-foot putt birdie 4 on the nineteenth hole to take the match. Bob Ewerz, Lubbock, defeated Dr. G. V. Lillie, Odessa, 4-3.

Jack Williams, Plainview, downed Fenner Tubbs, Lubbock, 7-5; Bill Tatum, Lubbock, turned back Dr. W. A. Schaal, Tahoka, 1-up in 21 holes; Ross Mitchell, Lubbock, swamped Jack Hord, Alpine, 8-6; Roy Cooper Lubbock, bowed to Joe Stoltz, Hobbs, 6-5; Lindsay Telford, Lubbock, won over Jack Trammel, Lubbock, 3-2; A. B. Holton, Lubbock, fell before George Paulowsky, Hobbs, 1-up; Houston Trammel, Lubbock, was beaten by Red Roden, Odessa, 3-2; and Dave Lawson, Lubbock, lost to Billy Maxwell, Abilene, 2-1.

First Flight Winners

In the first flight Weldon Counts, Lubbock, was beaten by Billy Walker, Hobbs, 1-up; Hugh Anderson, Lubbock, ousted Lynn Kincaid, Hobbs, 4-3; Jack Markham, Lubbock, lost to Ross Elliott, Breckenridge, 4-3; George Canon, Lubbock, won over Lee Long, Hobbs, 2-1.

I nthe second flight Al Allison, Levelland, defeated John West, Hobbs, 4-3.

First Round Winners

First round winners in the second flight included Don Mitchell of Lubbock, who defeated Weymond Newton of Lubbock, 6 and 5. John Markham of Lubbock beat Dick Tucker of Lubbock, one-up in 19 holes, while Bobby Layne of Lubbock was defeating Levelland's Sam Woods, one-up. Al Strawn of Hobbs dropped L. G. Raney of Lubbock, one-up; and Dick Hocker of Monument, N. M., gained a win over George Carter of Lubbock, one-up.

In the third flight, George Westbrook of Hobbs defeated Bernie Marlow of Denver City, 4 and 3; Truman Hutson of Lubbock

DETROIT, June 3 (INS)—Lefty Hal Newhouser ended a three-game losing streak and posted his fifth victory of the season today by pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 conquest of Philadelphia and a sweep of the three-game set with the A's.

A homer by Sam Chapman in the fourth inning with none on and one by Eddie Joost in the seventh with one aboard accounted for all the runs off Newhouser.

Meanwhile, Detroit had picked up a run in the first inning on George Kell's first home run of the season off Rookie Alex Kellner, and jammed three more in the fifth on four singles and a wild pitch.

CLEVELAND, June 3 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored six runs in the first inning after two outs today and went on to beat the Boston Red Sox 8 to 1. Musial Says His Cards Will Win

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 3—Loyalty is a wonderful thing, although sometimes it covers a multitude of doubts. The "my dad can lick your dad" boast often is based on hope rather than conviction.

Anyway, we are tempted to believe Stan Musial is talking with conviction when he says he thinks the St. Louis Cardinals will win the National League pennant.

Stan Musial is the Cardinal hitting star everyone has been worrying about, but unlike many a ball player in a batting slump he doesn't mind being asked what has been the matter. His answer would be a genial "nothing."

"If I had been hitting as good as my restaurant business I'd be batting over .400," he says. "I have only a small restaurant and have had more business than I could take care of."

Ted Williams remarked when asked about Musial's inability to get started that all good hitters get going June 1, and that Musial would too.

Musial grins at the report he might be sent to Pittsburgh.

"I go to Pittsburgh every winter," he says, meaning he passes through there on his way to his home in Donora, Pa.

He and Williams, generally rated the two best hitters in the game today, have much in common.

Every spring, or whenever their paths cross, Stan and the Red Sox slugger get together to talk batting, and have discovered their theories have much in common. Both, for example, follow the ball only from the time it leaves the pitcher's hand, and are not confused by tricky windups.

As to his rating of the Cardinals in the pennant chase, Stan figures the Cardinals have the best pitching staff in the league, and a sound team to back it up. Naturally, being an extremely modest guy, he wouldn't admit that much depands on the hitting of an outfielder named Stan Musial, but you don't have to be a brain to figure that out.

To show how modest he is, if you ask him whom he considers the best hitter in baseball he will say Ted Williams. If you ask Ted Williams the same question he will say Stan Musial. It's all a little confusing.

Exporters Win Again, 8-0

SAN ANTONIO, June 3 (AP)—The San Antonio Missions went down to their fifth straight defeat tonight dropping an 8 to 0 decision to the lowly Beaumont Exporters.

It was Beaumont's third straight win over the Padres.

Ernie Nevel allowed the Missions just four hits and permitted only one San Antonio runner to get as far as second base.

Beaumont collected 12 hits, including Bill Burgo's homer in the seventh with the bases empty, off Al Gerheauser, Hoot Gibson and Johnny Crocco.

The Sports also wrapped up a game that was curtailed at eight innings on April 28 with the score 9-8. A double play halted a Buff bid in the ninth and left the score as was.

It was "let's climb night" and a crowd of 7348, second largest of the season, was on hand.

DALLAS, June 3 (AP) — The Dallas Eagles' luck ran out tonight, and their pitching corps was unable to halt Oklahoma City, which handed them a 10-8 defeat.

The locals used three pitchers, about par lately, and the Indians used a similar number.

But the visitors racked up 12 hits; compared with 10 for the Eagles, and took the edge needed to win.

The Pirates got off to a good start in the first inning, scoring 21 runs before the side was retired. J. Vaughn paced the winners with three hits in three times at bat, and Nelson Starr collected two for two for the Dodgers.

The Pigmy Pirates also found the Dodgers vulnerable, winning 13-9. Richard Corrigan knocked two doubles and a single in three times at bat for the Pirates, and Dodger John O'Haugherty singled three times in three times at the plate.

In the Junior league, the Exchange club defeated the Jaycees, 14-4, as Jerry Shipp collected two hits in three trips. Jerry Stanford's home run was the best effort by the Jaycees.

The next games at Boys club will be on Monday.

Lubbock Hubbers Rained Out At Pampa; Single Game Tonight

Hubber Averages On Downgrade

PAMPA, June 3. (Special) — Rain washed out the scheduled game here tonight between the Lubbock Hubbers and the Pampa Oilers of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Instead of making up the game tomorrow as part of a double-header, the game will be played later in the season.

Rain washed out the scheduled game at Albuquerque, where Clovis was playing the league leaders, and at Amarillo, where Borger was slated to see action. Albuquerque and Clovis play a twin bill Saturday, while Amarillo and Borger meet in a single game.

Hubber Averages Drop

Hubber averages took a sharp drop during the week ending June 2, a look at the unofficial statistics disclosed today.

Nelson Davis went down from .337 to .325; Manager Jackie Sullivan went down from .280 to .273; Mike Dooley went down from .294 to .292; Bo Dempsey went from .320 to .297; Al Duarte went from .363 to .320; Charley Willis went from .293 to .247.

But Jim Prince raised his average from a solid .391 to a grand .423; and Joe Wisniewski went from .234 to .264.

Haskins Wins Two

Among the pitchers, there was little change. Royce Mills lost a game to go from 4 and 2 to 4-3 and John Myers lost a game to go from 1 and 3 to 2 and 4.

Chris Haskins won two games, Cotton Russell, Bill Grafton and Myers each won one game.

During the week the Hubbers, playing seven games, collected 74 hits and scored 50 runs while winning five and losing two. They pounded out 11 doubles, five triples and six home runs for a total of 37 runs batted in. The team batting average neither went up or down, remaining at a steady .299 point.

Prince Heavy Striker

Individually, the Hubbers had been banging the ball pretty hard. Dooley held on to the lead in doubles with 15, three more than Prince has gotten. Sullivan leads in triples with four, one more than Davis and Dooley each have. Davis and Dooley are tied in the Hubber home run parade with seven each.

No one is close to touching Prince in the important runs batted in division, the big first baseman driving home 48 runners, 10 more than Davis. Davis climbed into a tie with the injured Buddy McCallum in base thefts, each with eight.

Ray Reichelt is the only unbeaten pitcher with two victories, but Haskins has the next best record with four wins and only one loss.

Cotton Belt League Schedules Full Slate Of Games Sunday

Four games are on tap at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Cotton Belt baseball league, composed of small town independent teams in this area, and in the top game Lubbock will play host to Shallowater in a game at Mackenzie park.

Other contests schedule Wolfforth Eagles at Ropesville; Cooper at Meadow; and Smyer at Wolfforth against the wolves.

Lubbock is leading the league at present, having won three games and lost none; Wolfforth Wolves and Cooper are tied at two won and one lost; Ropesville has won one and lost one; Meadow has a 1-2 record; Smyer has a 0-2 record; and Shallowater and Wolfforth Eagles have lost one game each.

Gil Guerra Makes Impressive Debut

Sox Whip Lamesa Loboes Again, 6-3

Husky Righthander Gil Guerra, making his first start, twirled a neat six-hitter as the Abilene Blue Sox whipped the Lamesa Loboes, 6-3, here tonight in the second of a three-game series played before a sparse crowd of 600 fans.

Loboes On Skid

The loss was the eighth in a row for the skidding Loboes and maintained Abilene's mastery over Lamesa in six games of the current season. The Blue Sox have taken all six encounters.

Eulis Rosson suffered his third loss and was the victim of shoddy support by a makeshift lineup. Rosson spaced 10 hits and allowed only one earned run. He fanned eight batters and walked but two Abilene players.

Lamesa went ahead in the first inning of the tilt on Hank Melillo's leadoff triple and Ed Melillo's long fly to left. The Sox tied it up in the second on Mike Feduniak's three-bagger and Joe Wessing's double.

Abilene went ahead to stay in the third with three unearned markers on Bobby Fernandez's double, Wessing's single, and two Lobo errors. The Sox counted twice more in the four on a pair of Lamesa miscues and singles by Danny Concepcion and Jerry Rodriguez.

Lamesa scored once in the sixth without a hit on an error and two walks and Glen Selbo's fly to centerfield, and added a final tally in the eighth with Jim Sinovick's single, a walk to D. C. Miller, and Selbo's two-ply wallop.

Selbo Leads Losers

Abilene's Joe Wessing and Lobo First Baseman Glen Selbo shared hitting honors with three blows each. Mike Feduniak collected a triple and double for the Sox. Selbo's hits were half of the Lamesa total of six hits.

The two clubs conclude their three-game series and Lamesa's current home stand Saturday night at 8:15 p.m.

Abilene Ace Rudy Lorona will oppose Manager Jay Haney for Lamesa. Haney will be after his third win against one loss. Blue Sox Manager Hayden Greer was at Lobo park tonight on crutches due to an injury to his left knee which is expected to keep him sidelined about two weeks.

Wilcox Rides Bench

Jackie Wilcox, Lamesa shortstop, who was spiked in the game Thursday night, is riding the bench but is expected to be back in the lineup in a few days.

Lamesa announced the outright release of Bob Finley, rookie catcher, and the naming of Walter Buckel, former Lobo shortstop, as the official scorer.

Westerners Are Licked By Lamesa

'Tune Up' Tilt Is Dropped, 6 To 4

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

The high-flying Lubbock Westerners had their wings rudely chopped off by the Lamesa Junior American Legion baseball team at Chapman field yesterday, dropping a tune-up contest, 6-4.

The defeat was the fourth for the Westerners in 23 starts and came after completion of the regular season while the Lubbock team was waiting for the beginning of the state tournament in Austin June 6-7-8. The Lubbock team will leave by bus Sunday morning and meet Austin in the first game Monday.

Three Hits Apiece

Each team was able to make only three clean hits, but errors popped up unexpectedly to mar what otherwise would have been a close, evenly matched game. Ten costly mistakes were made by Lubbock, and Lamesa had only two. Pitcher Royce King, who came on in the sixth to relieve starter Bill Hart, gained the victory, and Jimmy Richards was charged with the loss. Richards was the third Lubbock pitcher.

Jimmy Hamilton started the contest, giving up two runs on no hits, but three errors and two walks allowed Lamesa to score in the third. Lefty Benny Day gave up two hits and no runs in three innings, striking out six men, and Richards came on in the seventh with the score tied at 2-2. He gave up one hit, but five walks and five errors cost him the game.

Galey Leads Losers

Charles Galey was the leading hitter for the Lubbock team, knocking a long triple in the fourth inning which pushed Bobby Brown and Powell Hinson across the plate with one out to tie the score. In the fourth he doubled and advanced to third on a balk with one out.

Galey was left stranded after reaching third base twice with one out and the score tied at 2-2. The first time was in the fourth inning after he had tripled to knock in two runs. Dean White, rightfield, was at bat and struck out, and Jesse Fullerton, first base, followed White with a strike-out.

Miss Chance To Score

Another chance to move ahead came in the fifth after Galey had doubled and moved to third on a balk. But White flew out to the pitcher, and Fullerton went out to the first baseman. Either time a well-placed bunt would have brought Galey across the plate with a run that would have put the Westerners ahead.

Lamesa opened the scoring in the third inning, getting two runs on three errors and two walks. Jim Bob Booth, catcher, walked, and Hart sent a long fly into right-centerfield which Dean White allowed to bounce off his glove and the runners pulled up on second and third. Bobby Hawkins, third baseman, walked to load the sacks, and Delbert Dickenson popped out to Charles Galey. Galey threw to Bob Brown at second attempting to catch Hart off base, but Brown dropped the ball.

Bad Throw Hurts

Hawkins was forced out at second, Brown to Galey, on Lenual Kidd's grounder, but the runs scored on a bad throw by Galey. Pat O'Neal popped out to Catcher Morris Turner to retire the side.

Lubbock countered in the fourth with two runs, but Lamesa scored one tally in each of the seventh and eighth innings to go ahead.

Lubbock Rallies Again

A rally in the bottom of the eighth by the Westerners brought them abreast of the visitors, but Lamesa iced the contest in the ninth on a combination of wildness on the part of Richards, who walked in one run, and an error.

In the eighth frame Lubbock's Brown opened with a sharp single to center field, and Dan Adkisson got on safely on an error by Jerry Millsapps, Lamesa second baseman. Turner and Galey went out to first base, and White reached first safely on an error by Hawkins and took second on an overthrow to first, both runers scoring.

EAGLES SIGN BROWN

DALLAS, June 3 (AP) — Lindsey (Red) Brown, former manager of Sherman-Denison in the Big State League, was signed today as a full-time scout for the Dallas club of the Texas League. Brown left immediately for a tour of South Texas where he will look over prospects in the Rio Grande Valley League.

THE END OF A RALLY—Two Lubbock runs had crossed the plate in the bottom of the eighth inning at Chapman field yesterday before the above action took place at first base to end the inning and leave the score tied at 4-4. But Lamesa pushed across two more runs in the top of the ninth to take the contest. Above, left to right, Pitcher Royce King watches as First Baseman Larry Martin steps on the bag and tags Berry Allen, Westerner first sacker in an unassisted play. Dodgers Trim Cardinals 5 To 2; Giants Win; Reds, Phils, Split

NEW YORK, June 3 (INS) — Relief Pitcher Paul Minner of the Brooklyn Dodgers won his own game today against the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 2.

Brooklyn, trailing by two runs in the seventh inning, tied the score on a single by Gene Hermanski and a homer by Gil Hodges. Carl Furillo tripled, Bruce Edwards was passed intentionally and Minner snapped the tie when he greeted Relief Pitcher Ted Wilks with a single. A single by Pee Wee Reese drove in the fourth run of the inning.

The Dodgers scored another run in the eighth on a single by Duke Snider, an error and two passes.

Nippy Jones fashioned both St. Louis runs with a homer in the fifth.

Gerald Staley was the starting and losing pitcher for the Cardinals. Joe Hatten, Brooklyn's starting pitcher, pulled a shoulder muscle in the sixth inning and will be sidelined for a week.

The Cards won the series, two games to one.

Give Away Programs At Ball Parks Draw Ire Of Court Judge

ST. LOUIS, June 3. (U.P.)—A circuit court judge today severely criticized the conduct of professional baseball generally, the St. Louis Cardinals in particular and charged that the "flags of true sport are at half mast."

Circuit Judge Francis E. Williams delivered his philippic to a retiring grand jury which he had earlier directed to investigate "give away" contests at Sportsman's Park, home of the Cardinals.

In what he said was a reference to Fred M. Saigh, jr., Cardinals president, Williams said:

"The new king has brought in strange gods. He is building a shrine to Lady Luck and kowtows to an old cuss named Chance.

"Verily the new king knows not the Cardinal spirit. And alas! He knows not that he knows not."

The Cardinals' office here said any comment would have to come from Saigh, now with the club in New York.

Marshall Brown Hired As Coach Of Basketball At Tyler School

TYLER, June 3. (AP)—Marshall Brown, former coach at Leverett's Chapel and last year with Kilgore in the East Texas league, today was named head basketball coach and end coach in football at Tyler High school.

L. E. Champion, track coach and line coach in football, resigned to accept a position with the Tyler Youth Foundation and Ed Irons, basketball coach and end coach, was moved into Champion's position. Thus Brown was hired to replace Irons.

LOST STREET FOUND

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (U.P.)—This Berkshire city has found a street it never knew it owned. It is Gulf Road, 300 feet long and formerly believed to be owned by the neighboring town of Dalton. A survey disclosed, however, that it belongs to Pittsfield and—badly needs repairs.

SWC Favored In Track Duel

KANSAS CITY, Kas., June 3 (AP) — Stirring competition in the middle distance runs and sprints is in prospect for the third "duel of champions" between the Southwest and Big Seven conference track forces here tomorrow night.

The duel, matching the first three placers in the respective conference meets last month, is scheduled for 8 p.m. (CST) on the Wyandotte High school cinders.

Samuels Not On Hand

Preliminaries will be held only in the hurdles and there because the 20-foot track is too narrow to accommodate six barriers.

The 100-yard dash record of 9.5 seconds, set by Perry Samuels of Texas at Dallas last year, may come in for alteration in event of good weather. Samuels will not be around to defend his title, but Colorado's Don Campbell, Big Seven champ, who has been clocked in two 9.5 second jobs and once at 9.4 seconds this spring, might break Samules' mark.

The Southwest lost potential points in the sprints when Charlie Parker of Texas was scratched because of leg injuries.

Mile Duel Seen

Stonie Cotton of Baylor, and Arthur Brown of Rice, representing the Southwest, and the Big Seven's Rod McClay of Kansas State and Milton Vanet and Bob Schuster, both of Missouri, must also be fired in the sprints.

The mile and two-mile runs will show three of the better middle distance men in this section. J. D. Hampton, the Southwest champion in both events, is expected to get all the competition he can handle from Kansas' Bobby Karnes, double champion of the Big Seven, and Bill McGuire of Missouri.

SWC Holds Edge

Either Hampton or McGuire appear capable of breaking the meet mile record of 4:18.3 set by mite Jerry Thompson of Texas in 1947.

Karnes will run only the two-mile and figures to battle Hampton into a faster race than the record of 9:22.2, also set by Thompson, in event the Aggie ace limits his work to that distance.

The Southwest came up with the first winner two years ago by virtue of victory in the mile relay. It gained a tie by winning the same event last year. The foursome of Texas A. and M.'s Ervin Bilderback, Don Mitchell and Ray Holbrook, plus Tom Cox of Rice, will go after the 3:16.2 mark set by the Southwest last summer.

Joe Louis Warned That He Will Be Held In Contempt On Charges

CHICAGO, June 3 (INS) — Retired heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis was warned today he will be held in contempt of court if he fails to answer by June 24 a series of questions in connection with a half-million dollar alienation of affections suit.

The suit involves a 26-year-old model, Carolle Drake Faulkner, wife of a 52-year-old Atlanta minister who claims Louis stole her love.

Louis his former wife, Marva Trotter Louis, and Mrs. Faulkner all denied the Rev. Matthew Faulkner's charges.

MAURICE SHOP IMPROVED

Sunbeamers Play At San Angelo Tonight In Rugged TSL Game

SAN ANGELO, June 3 (Special) — Lubbock's defending champion Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers play at San Angelo against Maurice Shop and Stamford visits Abilene for a series with Mackey Co. in Texas Softball League headliners this Saturday.

Added strength is expected to make the San Angeloans capable of giving the rugged Sunbeamers a real test in their doubleheader. Hurler Cecil Ellis of Waco, Catcher Barnet Malish and Outfielder Clovis Oisak will play with San Angelo for the first time.

Possibilities Named

Stamford could take over second by sweeping the series with Mackey or the Abilenians could move into first place with a twin win.

Last week San Angelo divided with Crane, losing 1-3 and winning 1-0. Lubbock took two from Fort Stockton, 3-0, and 2-0, with G. W. Warden getting a no-hitter in the nightcap.

In mid-week Crane took a single tilt from Fort Stockton, 3 to 0. Crane plays Stamford an exhibition Friday night and moves into Dallas for a Saturday doubleheader exhibition.

Wally Fowler of Lubbock took over the loop batting lead last week with a .373 while Joe Goodwin of Crane dropped from .458 to .367.

Warden continues to be the top hurler in the loop with five consecutive victories, two of which have been shutouts, one of which, in turn, was a no-hitter. John Kight of Brownwood has two victories without defeat, while Red Denham of Crane and Warren "Stringbean" Pope of Lubbock are tied with four victories and one defeat.

Tourney Next Week

Curly Hays of Stamford and Roy Butler of Lubbock were tied for third in the batting crown race. Hays and Butler each have collected six hits in 19 plate trips.

Fowler held the lead in triples with three and David Williams of Crane still retained the lead in home runs with two.

If Lubbock gets no better than a split out of the twin bill in San Angelo Saturday, the Sunbeamers will have clinched first place in the western division for the first half.

Next week all teams are idle in order to take part in a three-day tournament which probably will be conducted in San Angelo. League play will resume June 18.

English Jockey Arouses British

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—Veteran Jockey Gordon Richards rode five winners in succession at Epsom Downs yesterday and today and kindled hopes that his luckless record in the Derby will end tomorrow.

The champion jockey will ride favored Royal Forest against 32 rivals in the 170th renewal of the famous racing classic inaugurated by the 12th Earl of Derby.

No mightier cheer could come from the great crowd massed on the downs tomorrow than if Gordon and Royal Forest should win the English Derby for England.

France Two-Time Winner

The last native-bred victory was that of Grey Airborne in 1946. For two straight years the honor has gone to France via the speedy hooves of Pearl Diver and My Love.

More rain fell at Epsom, 16 miles south of London in Surry, and the going will be on the easy side tomorrow over the rolling course.

One horse which will like it that way is Hindostan, the undistinguished son of the 1938 Derby winner, Bois Roussel. Hindostan will try to capture the race for the Aga Khan, who has won the Derby four times, including last year.

One of the best backed colts is Numbus, which won the 2,000 guineas one-mile classic in April in the silks of Mrs. Marian Glenister. If the son of Nearco can nab the Derby, he may go on to become the "Citation" of 1949.

Pantex Will Be Used For Grain

may rise two or three cents.

War assets administration, which announced release of the Pantex works for wheat storage, also disclosed the world's largest dirigible hangar may be used for the same purpose.

The hangar is at Hitchcock, Tex., about 20 miles west of Galveston, the Gulf port through which much of the vast wheat exports must pass.

Back at Amarillo an official estimate showed 47.7 percent of Amarillo storage facilities occupied by last year's crop.

An Amarillo elevator official said very little grain is being removed to make room for the new crop.

Half For Loan Wheat

WAA estimated the Pantex plant would provide 5,000,000 bushels of storage space. But C. E. Weymouth of Amarillo, who negotiated with WAA, was even more optimistic. He estimated the ordnance buildings will hold six or seven million bushels.

The war-time ordnance plant had been turned over to Texas Tech college of Lubbock for educational purposes. WAA permission for its use for wheat storage was necessary under the national security clause included in the property transfer.

Weymouth, member of Tech's board of directors, announced that the college has decided more than half the storage space must be used for "loan wheat"—wheat which farmers want to store under the government loan price, $1.87.

Applications Taken

It is such storage space which farmers particularly seek as the Texas harvest picks up speed. Many farmers have refused to sell at the market price, well down from $1.87, but have been unable to find the qualified storage space necessary to obtain the government loan.

Weymouth said the college decided on requiring that 50 percent of the space be used for loan wheat in an effort to serve the area and prevent speculation on a low cash grain market.

Applications for storage at the huge plant already were being taken at Amarillo today. Arrangements were made with the Santa Fe railroad to rehabilitate trackage on the property the first of next week. The railroad expected to complete the work in time for early movement of wheat.

Hangar Is Huge

WAA said the storage definitely will meet Commodity Credit corporation standards for storage under government loans.

There was no estimate how much wheat could be stored in the towering dirigible hangar. The tremendous structure, a landmark visible from miles around, has 300,000 square feet of floor space. It stands 189 feet high.

The dirigible hangar was built in about 1942, WAA said.

Hickenlooper, ranking Republican member of the House-Senate committee, said he is developing evidence to support his charges that "numerous persons with strong Communist leanings "have infiltrated into the atomic program.

Hickenlooper said he is prepared to go into detail on the matter of AEC personnel clearance to back his assertion that security has been lax under Lilienthal's administration.

Franco Family Escapes Harm In Barcelona Cathedral Blast

BARCELONA, June 3. (INS)—A bomb exploded at the Barcelona cathedral tonight a few minutes before the wife and daughter of Generalissimo Francisco Franco were scheduled to attend a special mass.

The bomb went off in one of the shaded walks of the courtyard adjoining the cathedral and a number of early arrivals suffered severe shock.

The generalissimo's wife and daughter, Carmen, were visibly shaken by the blast.

Franco, who usually attends such religious services, which commemorate the Catalonians who fell fighting Napoleon, was prevented from going to the cathedral because of the pressure of work.

Police redoubled precautions around the city after authorities asserted that anti-administration agitators are endeavoring to arouse the people.

Peacock's Nocturnal Scream Rouses California Neighborhood

OAKLAND, Calif., June 3. (U.P.) Hundreds of Lake Merritt area residents heard the women's screams in the early hours of the morning.

It started low, choked off, and then transformed to a piercing shriek which put gooseflesh all over the startled listeners.

Two squad cars were sent to the area. Five minutes later the policemen were telling the small groups of pajama-clad people to go back to bed, that nobody was being murdered.

Convicts Escape

60 miles from Moundsville. Police speculated at first that the convicts may have committed the murders but later gave little weight to this theory.

The auto of the dead couple, Virginia and John George, both about 45, was missing.

Warden Skeen said, however, that the stolen car found near Wheeling was not the George's. He said the cap found in the other stolen car was from Moundsville.

Fifty West Virginia state policemen and prison guards who had been searching for the prisoners all day with bloodhounds returned tonight to Moundsville. They had tracked them to the water's edge at Short Creek where the stolen car was found.

Short Creek is about 12 miles north of Wheeling and Wheeling is some 25 miles from Moundsville.

Motorists Warned

The police said a skiff was missing from the bank of the creek and added that the underbrush had been trampled, seemingly by several men.

The sheriff's office at Brook county said four girls reported they had been molested tonight by four men and police said the men may be part of the convict gang.

The incident took place near Collier where the brother and sister of Stanley Sheftic, one of the escaped prisoners, live.

Every available policeman in West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania was pressed into the hunt for the 14, who made the greatest mass break in 35 years at the fortress-like state prison.

Police were without a definite trace of the fugitives who sawed their way to freedom and overpowered an unarmed guard.

State police issued pleas to motorists not to pick up any hitchhikers in the three-state area. Residents were also told to lock doors and windows.

The life-term convicts were identified as Otto Neff, 38; Jack Heeney, 47; Mike Adles, 34; Wilmer Tichnell, 28; Stanley Sheftic, 33, and John Valkeo, 36.

The other fugitives were listed as:

Holly Starcher, 37, serving 10 years; Charles P. Ross, 38, 30 years; Dennis P. Taylor, 27, 25 years; Everett Starcher, 23, and Gerald Noland, 19, both 10 years.

Last Rites Are Conducted Friday For Billy Faulkner

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon in Rix Funeral home chapel for 10-year-old Billy Sam Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Faulkner of 3012 Twenty-first, who died about 11:30 p.m. Thursday at the residence.

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated at services. Interment was in Tech Memorial park cemetery.

The youth had been ill two weeks. He had returned to his home Wednesday from St. Mary's hospital, where he had been a patient eight days.

Survivors include the parents; one sister, Mrs. Mae Jean Chandler, and two brothers, Paul Faulkner, jr., and Eugene Faulkner, all of Lubbock, and one aunt, Mrs. Earl Miller of Tulsa.

Pallbearers were announced as Ross McWhorter, Lawrence Bacon, Joe Wood and Charles Young, active, and John Cochran, Roy Gamble, Bob Rodgers, W. G. Hearn, Dr. S. C. Arnett, Dr. C. C. Mansell, Walker Stanton, Leroy Paulger and C. R. (Pat) Pattison.

Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik flung new charges of U. S. "bad faith" on the question of atomic controls and charged that American representatives were paying only "lip service" to the prevention of an atomic war.

The committee deferred consideration of the Chinese proposal to reject the Soviet plan until its next meeting next Tuesday.

Strike Plea Refused

torate's compromise offer of 60 percent payment in West marks. The offer was not actually made to UGO, because the Communist controlled body does not recognize it. Instead it was made ostensibly to the FDGB, Russian-controlled union which is not even involved in the strike.

Howley said Kotikov read a prepared statement which condemned what the Russians termed "Allied interference in the strike which primarily was caused by provocateurs and political agitators of the German city council."

West Proposals Rejected

Howley said the Russian turned down all western suggestions, including establishment of an arbitration court as called for under a directive of the four-power Allied Control council. The Russians declared the control council dead a year ago and now wants it revived.

Howley said the western policy presently will be one of "patient waiting" in a hope of eventually settling the strike which has indirectly blocked Western Allied shipments to Berlin. He said no future meeting was set.

The Russians wanted today's meeting held in the old Kommandatura building, but the western commanders refused on the ground that they wanted no action tending to officially revive that body while the issue is being debated in Paris at the foreign ministers' conference.

The session instead was held in the heavily-guarded Berlin headquarters of the French military government.

Moving Mural On Wall Poses Problem For New York Artist

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 3. (U.P.) When Gerry Sturm decided to move, he had more than the usual problems. A five-by-nine foot wall, to be exact.

Sturm, a professional display painter, awoke one night with an abstract idea. The next day he started the modernistic mural in the living room of his rented apartment.

"The landlord was nice about it," Sturm said, but there was the question of whether the next tenant would like the mural.

Last heard from, Sturm was planning a transfer print, more than 45 feet square and something of a record for transferring pastels and soft chalk.

Gallant 10-Year-Old Victim Of Gasoline Fire Is 'Improved'

(By The Associated Press)

VERNON, June 3.—There was good word from Donnie Woodard's doctor tonight: Ten-year-old Donnie definitely is improved.

The 24th day of the lad's battle since his body was burned accidentally by flaming gasoline was passing as Dr. Jack Restivo gave this picture of his condition: Still critical. But he may be on the road to recovery.

Seventy percent of Donnie's body is covered with burns. If he continues to improve plans are to fly him to a plastic surgeon at Dallas or Galveston within the next three or four days. Then will begin the big job of grafting on new skin.

Report Branded 'Lie'

to require a congressional investigation without further delay."

The House Armed Services committee, of which Van Zandt is a member, voted last week to conduct an investigation into the charges and directed Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), its chairman, to ask the House for subpoena powers and $50,000 to finance the probe.

Companies Named

Van Zandt asked that Congress investigate "all circumstances and facts" regarding "the connections" of Johnson and Symington with aircraft companies and "the 1948 political campaign contributions that may have been made by these companies or their officers."

Among the companies named by Van Zandt was the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation, manufacturers of the six-engine B-36. The company is controlled by Odlum. Johnson formerly was a director.

Van Zandt pointed to reports that Symington was "a frequent weekend visitor" at Odlum's Palm Springs, Calif., ranch.

Symington said he had visited Odlum's home twice, once in 1947 and again in 1949. He added that Johnson "had no part whatever in the establishment of any part of the B-36."

Denies "Revenge" Motive

The Air Force secretary added: ". . . These accusations (of Van Zandt) are damaging to the good name of the armed services, to the morale of the patriotic men who serve in them and to the national interest, and I trust it will prove possible when they have been fully explored to trace them to their source."

Van Zandt denied that he had been prompted by Navy sources to press for an investigation. The Navy and Air Force have long feuded over the roles and missions to be assigned their planes.

Recently, Johnson ordered the Navy to halt the construction of its 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier, on the recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff. It was reported that the Army and Air Force combined to "sink" the aircraft carrier.

Some 20 persons made the westward tour Friday by private automobile.

Chambers On Stand

ant in New York in 1937.

Hiss, in the fourth day of his trial, managed to smile occasionally at his wife, Priscilla, as he watched Chambers answer the bitter, searching questions of grey-haired defense attorney Lloyd Paul Stryker.

From the outset of the trial, Stryker has branded Chambers a "moral leper" whose testimony against Hiss cannot be trusted by the jury of 10 men and two women.

Suppressed Facts

Chambers testified that when he broke with the party he "repented" and tried to see the late President Roosevelt to tell him what he knew of Communism in America.

Instead he said he saw A. A. Berle, then assistant secretary of state in 1939. He called Berle "the President's man in intelligence matters."

But, Chambers admitted under questioning, he did not tell Berle he had conspired with Hiss to turn State department papers over to Bykov.

"Having these facts, you suppressed them, is that true?" Stryker asked.

"That is right," Chambers said.

U. S. Enters Dispute Between Marine Unions, Shipowners

WASHINGTON, June 3 (INS)—The government today entered negotiations between shipowners and three CIO unions in an effort to avoid a mid-June strike that might cripple American coastal shipping.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation and conciliation director, asked parties to the negotiations to meet with him in New York and San Francisco next month.

He acted at the request of the unions, the National Maritime union, the American Radio association, and the National Marine Engineers Beneficial association.

The unions' contract with the American Merchant Marine institute and the Pacific-American Shipowners association expires June 15.

Negotiators have been unable to reach agreement on wages or the National Maritime union's policy requiring union operation of hiring halls.

TANKER STILL ADRIFT

MIAMI, Fla., June 3 (AP)—A parted towing hawser tonight halted efforts to move an oil tanker to calmer waters so her 65-man crew could safely take to lifeboats. The Coast Guard cutter Blackhaw reported to the Miami coast guard that the hawser parted and the 10,803-ton tanker flagship Sinco still wallowed in the swells some 75 to 100 miles east of Jacksonville.

Rare Persian Gold Added To Collection Of Chicago Institute

CHICAGO, June 3. (U.P.)—A royal treasure of Persian gold from the period 500 B. C. has been purchased by the University of Chicago's Oriental institute.

University officials said the valuable collection was bought from a European art collector for an undisclosed price. It is the only collection of its type in the western hemisphere.

Thorkild Jacobsen, director of the Oriental institute, said the treasure consists of 53 separate pieces of gold, each exquisitely carved. He said it is an example of the art of the last oriental empire before Greece and Rome took over cultural leadership.

It is from the period of the Emperors Darius and Xerxes and survived the looting and plundering by soldiers in the time of Alexander the Great.

As Good As Today

Intricately designed, the gold medallions are believed to have been adornments for the vesture of royal personages. They are the work of Persian goldsmiths and Jacobsen said they rank in craftsmanship with what the finest modern jewelers could do today with improved tools and microscopes.

He said the treasure represents an art supported by unlimited wealth.

How the gold survived the last 2,500 years is supposition. But historians believe that some Persian prince, fleeing from Alexander's men, may have buried the treasure for safekeeping.

Rare Work of Art

One piece is a complete necklace consisting of 98 separate pieces—20 lion heads, 53 granulated beads and 23 other beads made of two parts.

The most prized single piece is a four-inch winged and horned lion. The ribs, muscles and feathers are chiseled to form the body. Experts said it is a rare piece of relief art work, the lion having been cut away from the medallion by hand.

The university said a microscopic examination showed that small rings on the back of the medallions, for the purpose of sewing the medallions to clothing, had been soldered with the same quality of gold as the jewelry.

Bachelorhood, Lack Of Habits Credited By Man For Long Life

HUNTINGTON, Mass., June 3. (U.P.)—Don't develop a craving for luxuries if you want to live a long time, Samuel Gibbs advised as he celebrated his 94th birthday.

Gibbs credited his own longevity to the fact he never developed any habits, bad or otherwise.

"Used to have a cup of coffee every morning," he said. "Found it was getting to be a habit so I cut it out.

"Used to like going to dances, too," said Gibbs, who neither drinks nor smokes. "Found that was getting to be a habit, so I stopped. Been a bachelor all these years and never regretted it."

Truman Forces Drop Repeal Bill

southern and Republican votes to repeal most of it.

The personal position of President Truman was not clear. But a month ago when his House leaders, including Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), made the same sort of effort, Mr. Truman steadfastly expressed opposition to all compromise.

The five amendments backed by Douglas, Hill, Aiken and Morse, would do these things:

1. Require unions to bargain in good faith. The Taft-Hartley act does this, but the Truman bill—like the Wagner act—would require only employers to bargain.

Oaths Would Be Asked

2. Specifically guarantee freedom of speech in labor relations. The Taft-Hartley act does this. The amendment would prevent a mere non-coercive expression of opinion—for example, if an employer says a union is a bad union—from being considered an unfair labor practice.

3. Require unions to file annual financial reports before they could get any help from the National Labor Relations board. The amendment is similar to the Taft-Hartley provision on this, but wouldn't require the filing of quite as much information.

4. Call on union officers, and employers as well, to sign oaths that they aren't Communists, Fascists, or supporters of totalitarian organizations. The filing would be necessary before the union or company could get any NLRB help. But a union would not have to file if its constitution or by-laws banned Communists and other subversives from office.

5. Establish a new procedure for handling strikes or lockouts in vital industries.

Amarillo Lashed

inches of rain and some hail; Borger reported an inch and a half; Dalhart a quarter inch; Perryton a tenth of an inch.

There was a light sprinkle at Pampa and Wellington. Rain also fell at Dumas, Spearman, Higgins, and Follett.

The hail at Amarillo was small, from a quarter-inch to three-eighths in diameter, but there was a lot of it, the Weather bureau reported.

The thunderstorm hit Amarillo just before 6 p.m., Heavy rain fell for about ten minutes, and was followed by five minutes of heavy hail. The wind blew in a westerly direction about 30 miles per hour. But the Weather bureau said it blew in gusts and was much stronger at times.

Blackening skies in the Wink and Marfa area indicated other West Texas points may get thunderstorms during the night.

Temperatures in Texas continued high Friday with Laredo and Salt Flats reporting marks of 97. Other high marks for the day were Austin and Del Rio 93, Alice and Waco 94, Dallas 92, Palestine 88, Texarkana 91, Midland and San Antonio 93, Abilene 91 and Lubbock 87.

Amarillo's 82 was the low maximum for the day.

Partly cloudy weather was predicted for most of Texas Saturday with a few widely scattered thundershowers continuing in the Panhandle and South Plains.

nosa, one of four brothers surviving the Mexican general, arrived here shortly after the shooting. He said he could not understand what could have caused the shooting and said the two men had been fast friends since childhood.

Neighbors Hear Shots

Neighbors reported hearing shots and then seeing a man lying on his face on the Guerra lawn, trying to get up. Ramirez, bleeding heavily, was taken by ambulance to the city hospital.

The hospital reported he had multiple wounds in the arms, chest and abdomen. He died 15 minutes after arriving at the hospital.

Garcia is one of the largest land holders in this South Texas area, holding ranchland in both Hidalgo and Starr counties.

Friends said Garcia had breakfast this morning with Guerra, on whose lawn the shooting occurred. Police Chief Clint Mussey said he was called to the scene at 9:05 a.m.

Ramirez was a career man in the Mexican army, working his way up through the ranks. He was a colonel for 18 years at various posts in Seventh Mexican military zone in northern Mexico before he was appointed to a brigidier general about 17 months ago. President Avila Camancho named him director of the Nuevo Leon state police three years ago. His appointment was renewed by Miguel Aleman, present Mexican president.

West Virginia Woman Keeps Date For Son Killed In War

BRIDGEPORT, W. Va., June 3. (U.P.)—Joe had promised to meet his English fiancee, Muriel Martin, when she arrived in New York. But his mother was there instead; Joe had been killed in France in 1944.

After his death, Muriel kept corresponding with Joe's mother, Mrs. Mary Eniez, in Bridgeport. Then when plans were completed, Muriel came to visit America for an indefinite stay.

"The country here is wonderful," she said, "and different. There is so much food and the people are so much kinder and friendlier than back home."

But she added, "It was terrible not to meet Joe when I got off the boat. He always said he would be waiting for me."

Mankind's Oldest Quest Stirs World

Man's Desperate Search For Security Blamed For Jitters

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 3—The big grab today is for security.

Individual men want it. Nations want it. The world wants it.

And that is why, perhaps, men, nations and the world are all nervous, touchy, irritable. They all have the jitters—emotional as well as political and financial jitters.

Every person and every group wants to feel safe from life's multiple disasters. It is as true of a railroad porter in Omaha as it is of a Wall Street broker or that man in the Kremlin.

The broker looks under his bed to see if a Communist is lurking there. Joe Stalin looks to see if a capitalist spy is hiding under his crimson cover.

Man's Oldest Dream

The lover worries whether his true love will stay true to him. The poor man worries whether his job will last. The rich man worries whether he can hold his riches, and he thinks the masses are leagued in a plot to take his money.

And all of them worry whether they can keep their youth, their beauty, their strength or their teeth — and none of them can.

Security isn't a goal of just the classes or the masses. It is the goal of all. The search for security is mankind's oldest quest, his eldest dream. He has sought it since he was exiled from the Garden of Eden.

But security is an odd thing. The faster you chase it the faster it flies from you. The more you want to be secure, the more insecure you feel. For security to the average man means keeping what he has—or getting what he hasn't. He wants to make himself a changeless island in a world of change. And that is rather hard to do on a globe where men are born, grow old and die.

No Security In Life

Death is the final negation of the hope for security on earth. Heaven — and all races pray to a heaven of some kind—may be the positive answer. For this answer we must wait and yearn—and earn, if we are wise.

The one sure thing is there's no security while you're alive. And there never has been. Therefore it is foolish to expect it.

Kings and clowns lose their crowns or their sense of humor. And disease at last will take a lady in the lowest hovel. War and famine, these have been always with us, too, twin nightmares that ruin our long dream of peace and plenty.

The earth, our wonderland, renews its beauty. We aspire and pass, never to walk this same old path in the same old way again. But why should this fact be a ticket to despair?

Woman Found Answer

I know a millionaire who is deathly afraid of Communism and the atom bomb. He built himself a subterranean shelter and stocked it with food enough to last him and his family for years. Is that security? If it is, he doesn't feel it.

I know of a woman who also was afraid of the atom bomb. Figuring that New York would be a primary target in the event of another war, she bought a house in New Mexico. Then she learned it was near Los Alamos, a capital of American aton. bomb secrets.

She moved back and bought a home in Long Island. No sooner was she settled in it than she discovered that in nearby Brook Haven was another government atomic power laboratory.

So she came to this conclusion:

"To hell with the atom bomb. It is part of our living, so I'll face it."

And she has. She hasn't found security. But she has found a finer formula: That you can't meet life by running away from it.

CORSICANA, June 3 (AP)—Funeral services were held today in two cities—Corsicana and Calvert—for Tom L. Tyson, secretary of the State Democratic executive committee.

Democratic leader and an outstanding Baptist layman, Tyson died of a heart attack at his home here yesterday. He was 44.

Dr. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor of the First Baptist church of Corsicana, conducted funeral services both here and at Calvert. Tyson was buried this afternoon at Calvert, his birthplace.

The auditorium of the big cream-brick Baptist church here was filled with an audience estimated at 700. The auditorium was banked high with flowers.

Dr. Cartlidge called Tyson "a Christian and churchman and a good man."

Gov. Beauford H. Jester and other ranking members of the Democratic party attended the services here.

'World Tension' To Extend Service Of British Draftees

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—Defense Minister A. V. Alexander said today continuing world tension makes it necessary to go on keeping Britain's draftees in uniform 18 months instead of 15.

Alexander gave this view in a written statement to the House of Commons. He now is on an inspection tour in the Middle and Far East.

Drugs Used To Curb California Grandmother's Gambling Craze

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 3 (AP)—Defying the laws of chance, authorities are trying to drug a gambling grandmother back to normalcy.

Suddenly stricken with a craze for the finer points of poker, Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, mother of seven and grandmother of seven, has been placed under treatment with injections of glutamic acid.

And it seems to be working, says Dr. Marcus Crahan, county jail physician.

After six-weeks treatment, Dr. Crahan said that a brain wave recording yesterday of Mrs. Stimson "shows improvement."

Protein derived, glutamic acid is capable of building up brain tissue, tending "to correct toward the normal in a psychomotor disorder," Dr. Crahan declares. It is not a panacea and "certainly not a specific cure for gambling."

The idea is to restore Mrs. Stimson to the grandmotherly character she was before 1948 when the poker tables of Gardena began to take on fascination.

Respectable for 29 years, she lost her household savings in a short time and soon began writing bad checks to cover losses and keep playing, police said.

Mickey Rooney Married Third Time In Hollywood Ceremony

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 3. (AP)—Mickey Rooney married Martha Vickers today and commented on his third marriage: "If this one doesn't work, there must be something wrong with me."

The wedding ended a hectic day for the onetime Andy Hardy of the screen. After being turned down by two churches because of the couple's divorces, he was accepted by the Christ Memorial Unity church in North Hollywood.

Rooney, 28, paced nervously before the church while waiting for his tardy bride. She finally drove up a few minutes after the scheduled wedding time of 5 p.m.

The vows were given by Pastor Herbert J. Schneider, who recently married Audie Murphy and Wanda Hendrix.

The boisterous Rooney was formerly wed to Betty Jane Rase, former Birmingham, Ala., beauty, and to actress Ava Gardner. Miss Vickers recently shed movie press agent A. C. Lyles.

Chicago Physicians Announce New Drug To Relieve Pain, Crippling Effects Of Arthritis

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 3 — Existence of a new drug which relieves the wracking pain and crippling effects of arthritis with dramatic speed was announced today by a group of Chicago physicians.

The drug is known as ACTH and is tediously and painstakingly extracted from the pituitary glands of swine.

ACTH—its technical name is pituitary adrenocorticotropic hormone—was developed in the laboratories of the Armour & Company, meat packers.

Like the recently announced compound E, which also is effective against arthritis ACTH is a hormone. Compound E is found in the adrenal gland.

The new drug was unveiled by the Northwestern University Medical School Arthritis clinic at Chicago's Wesley Memorial hospital.

Dr. David Markson, director of the clinic, said it has been used experimentally on 18 patients at Wesley, the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., and Harvard university.

The drug was developed by Dr. Edwin Hays, director of biochemical research for the Armour laboratories, and J. D. Fisher, a research chemist.

One patient who has been treated with ACTH was introduced at a news conference today. He is Walter A. Swanson, of Chicago, retired president of the Automatic Canteen Company of America.

Swanson said he had suffered from arthritis for 10 years and spent thousands of dollars in an attempt to find relief from the excruciating pain and crippling effects of the disease. He was given his first injection of ACTH May 21 and within 48 hours got relief.

He demonstrated his ability to walk upright without a cane and doctors said he has achieved 30 to 40 percent increase in ability to flex his arm and leg muscles since treatment began.

Dr. Hays said the drug still is in the testing stage and is not available to the public. It is unknown whether relief is permanent or whether the drug must be taken regularly—like insulin in diabetes.

He said no estimate of the cost of the drug is available, but guessed that it was "quite high." He said the pituitary glands of 400,000 swine are needed to make one pound of ACTH. Large scale production is expected to begin in about two months.

Researchers, he said, decided to try the drug against arthritis because of the suspicion that the adrenal gland is the source of the disease. The pituitary gland is the so-called "master" gland of the body, and it was found that the hormone derived from it stimulated the adrenal gland, and checked arthritis.

A camel doesn't feel the pangs of thirst for five days after drinking.

Dog Plays 'Mother' To Five Young Rabbits In Sweetwater

Inky persists in digging the little critters out at mealtime. To mama rabbit, the little rabbits, Inky and her puppies it's an entirely happy situation, the Winfreys said.

Mrs. Hammitt is the guest of her brother, Ed Mitchell, at Levelland.

Police said they had received a telephone call from a McAllen hospital seeking to communicate with Loy Lay, described only as driving a maroon 1939 Chevrolet with Arkansas tags. Lay's father is in serious condition in the hospital there, police said they had been informed. Lay was believed in this section.

Texas Realtors Offer To Aid Sufferers Under Rent Decontrol

DALLAS, June 3 (AP)—Any tenant "unjustly or severely treated" if rents are decontrolled in Texas can call on the Texas Real Estate association for aid.

The group went on record yesterday as ready to fight for any abused tenants.

President Chester R. Seals of Wichita Falls said real estate men would even find houses for tenants with legitimate complaints about rent boosts.

Seals said he is worried about decontrol's chances in the Texas legislature.

"Three weeks ago I was sure it would pass," he said, "but, you remember, Housing Expediter Tighe Woods came down here after he heard decontrol was about to go through, and organized the opposition.

"There's no doubt but that a lot of tenants groups have formed in the past weeks. We still have quite a fight on our hands."

FCC Ruling Allows Radio Stations Right To Broadcast Opinion

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—U.S. radio stations have won their eight-year fight for the right to express their own opinions on public issues over the air.

It is something they have been restrained from doing since 1941, when the Federal Communications commission—which holds life and death power over radio stations through control of their operating licenses—said that broadcasting stations could not "editorialize" or "advocate" anything.

Objections Raised

The commission amended this policy late yesterday. It said that a station of either the listening or looking (television) variety, could speak out, in its own name, for a political candidate, or a political party, or in any controversy—provided it does not prevent the airing of views opposed to its own.

Four men on the seven-member commission revised the rules. Two of this bare majority voiced loud objections to some features of the new policy.

Commissioner E. M. Webster said it was "an involved, academic, legal treatise" which left the individual station owner as confused as before.

Commissioner Robert F. Jones said bluntly the commission should have done something about radio commentators.

Industry reaction was cautious. Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters which spearheaded last year's drive to abolish the sidetaking ban, said the FCC statement would require detailed study before he could comment.

However, Board Chairman William S. Paley of Columbia Broadcasting system, welcomed the decision as "a step forward." He said CBS will in the future "broadcast radio editorials in its name."

Two Fort Worth Men To Face Robbery Charges In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 3 (U.P.)—Charges were expected to be filed in circuit court here today against two Fort Worth, Tex., men in connection with a $1,692 safe robbery at North Little Rock early yesterday.

Pulaski prosecutor Edwin E. Dunaway said charges would be filed against Dan Westfall and Carl E. Wiggins. The pair was arrested shortly after a safe at the Warden's service station, Rose City, was forced open and robbed.

North Little Rock police said a bag containing the money was found under a tree where officers flushed Wiggins. The two men were captured in a field not far from the scene of the robbery after two North Little Rock detectives noticed an unoccupied parked car on highway 70 about 200 yards south of the service station.

NEED FOR ADJUSTMENT STRESSED

Tech President Cites Education's Role In Society In A.&M. Address

COLLEGE STATION, June 3. (Special)—"It is not the function of education to save the world," Dr. D. M. Wiggins told the more than 1,200 Texas A. and M. college graduates Friday night. The president of Texas Tech spoke before a huge crowd in Kyle stadium and the largest graduating class in the history of the college.

Dr. Wiggins said, "It is the business of education to assist in every conceivable manner in adjusting man to the society in which he lives and to act as a balance to society in developing those phases which may in turn produce leadership. Sound education," the speaker pointed out, "constitutes the underpinning of the social and economics fabric."

Degrees Conferred

Dr. F. C. Bolton, president, conferred the degrees and G. R. White, president of the board of directors, presented the diplomas. Dean M. T. Harrington presented the valedictorian, William Paine Ryman of Matagorda.

"Our early schools were the products of the needs of society," Dr. Wiggins said. "The very genius of the American system springs from its ability to quicken to the needs of American society. Colonial America gave dignity to the individualism, and this concept received powerful emphasis with the coming of the westward movement in American civilization. The birth of private enterprise and the American concept that a man may be whatever he desires if he strives hard enough is indigenous to the American ideal.

'Loose Talk' Assailed

"In this era we hear much loose talk of the passing of the golden age of private enterprise and of the need to regulate and plan individual life. Such philosophy is not American and runs counter to the foundations of our American way of life.

"The American schools have glorified individualism, and in them the spirit of the individual has been synonymous with the American way of life. There cannot continue to be the proper evaluation of individualism without free enterprise and without strong competitive business. They must all be free of the shackles of bureaucratic control. To falter in the quest for the glorifying of individualism is but to lead to the decay and the softening of individual freedom and the democratic idea.

Responsibility Important

"If free enterprise and free institutions are to remain free and dignified, then certain very positive responsibilities must be assured. To strengthen individualism there must of necessity be a clear-cut willingness to assume sympathetic understanding toward the problems of social institutions in a complex world.

"There can be no freedom in the true sense of the word except through responsibility," Dr. Wiggins declared. "To be free men

Lubbock Steps Up War Against Disease Dangers

Drive Is Speeded On Polio Threat

City-county health authorities Friday stepped up their war of prevention against insect carriers of diseases, spurred by the polio epidemic in San Angelo.

But, to make the local campaign most effective, residents of the entire community will have to cooperate, according to Gerald E. Jarvis, city-county director of public health and welfare.

He suggested methods by which the most effective cooperation can be given following a conference with City Manager Steve Matthews and other city officials.

PRECAUTION URGED

Pointing out that 26 cases of polio were recorded in Lubbock county last year, O. L. Byrd, chairman of the Lubbock county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, urged close attention to precautions recommended by the foundation.

"We need to take every precaution and, as the basis of prevention," he said, "We know what is happening in San Angelo and the only things we can do are promote sanitation and individual use of precautions to avoid polio. If we get started now, before we have cases, then I think we've done all we can do."

No cases diagnosed as polio exist at present in Lubbock county, according to health authorities.

Steps To Be Taken

The cooperation asked is not difficult. It involves nothing more than getting rid of weeds and trash, emptying tin cans and other junk in which water might be stagnating, pouring a little kerosene or other disinfectants on puddles of water and simple disinfection of garbage cans.

All of these places provide breeding places for flies, mosquitoes and other insects which are believed by health authorities to be carriers of polio and many other diseases.

Also, Jarvis emphasized, persons who have outdoor toilets on their property should use lime or kerosene to kill flies.

Another place which requires watching, and should be disinfected, he said, are air conditioners. In many types, water stands long enough for flies and mosquitoes to hatch. Jarvis believes these were the worst source of insects last summer. DDT or other solutions, he said, would eliminate this hazard.

Fogging Machine Busy

Meanwhile, he reported, the health department is busy.

The city's motorized DDT fogging machine is kept in operation about 12 hours a day seven days a week. This activity is under the supervision of Gayle Gaither, director of pest and rodent control.

The fogger already has made one complete round of Lubbock suburbs, Jarvis said.

It is in the process of making a second round now. It fogged the Texas Tech campus today. Tomorrow it will be operating in the

Cleanup Is On At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 3 (AP) — San Angelo put an insect-fogging machine to work today in a sanitation drive against a polio epidemic which has seen 63 cases here since Jan. 1.

Two of the cases were reported today. Elsewhere, San Antonio, which has had 51 cases and six deaths this year, passed its third day this month with no new polio cases reported.

There have been four deaths at San Angelo. The number of cases under hospital care is 40.

The cleanup drive was in force here as the state health department at Austin said there were 72 polio cases over the state the last week in May—nearly double the number reported the previous week. Tom Green (San Angelo) and Bexar (San Antonio) led the state in the number of cases this year.

Cases At New High

"It is also significant to note that the 306 cases reported to date this year is more than has ever occurred during the first five months of any preceding year," the department's weekly report said.

San Angelo coupled the work of the fogging machine with a drive for individual treatment of fly-breeding open privies. Its city commission closed schools, movie houses, churches, and the municipal swimming pool yesterday.

National Guard airmen will continue at San Antonio to spray areas not yet covered in a campaign which has been underway there. Thus far 15,000 gallons of DDT solution, weighing 115,000 pounds, have been used at San Antonio.

Insects Blasted

Lackland Air Force and Leon creek areas military officials estimated 80 percent of the insects there has been killed by spraying.

There have been some complaints at San Antonio that the solution is killing gold fish and other fish in ponds.

At Abilene, Hendrick hospital reported 21 patients, all convalescent, with only Bonnie D. Wolverton, 32, of Odessa in isolation.

Big Spring reported one current polio case, with one 1949 death on the records. Plainview reported two mild cases. Two cases were under treatment at

Lists For Soap Box Derby To Be Announced Sunday

Sponsors Assigned For Derby

Assignment of sponsors to boys in Lubbock's second annual Soap Box Derby, to be run here on Monday, July 5, is being made this week and will be announced Sunday.

List of sponsors and entrants will be published in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

Letters will be mailed to each sponsor, informing him of the boy he is sponsoring and giving the youth's address and telephone number, and to each boy telling him who is his sponsor and suggesting that he contact him within the next few days.

Boys Building Cars

The big race is being sponsored by the Lubbock Exchange club in co-operation with The Avalanche-Jounral and Kuykendall Chevrolet company.

Most of the boys entered in the Derby have made good progress on construction of their tiny racers and the next three weeks will find them completing their cars. Preliminary inspection of the cars will be conducted at Kuykendall Chevrolet company the last week in June with final inspection scheduled for Saturday, July 2.

Every car entered in the local Derby and every champion's car at the National finals in Akron, Aug. 14, will be subjected to a rigorous exacting examination by experienced officials.

The inspecting officials make every effort to ascertain that all contestants have lived up to the letter and spirit of the rules. The official rule book is the guide to inspectors, who also are ever mindful of the factor of safety in every car.

In order that inspection practices will be the same for every boy, they are standardized throughout the country in every race, and at the Akron finals. Thus each contestant, no matter where he races, will be subjected to the same standards as every other contestant, and the champions from all cities will meet in the National finals on the same footing.

Car Must Be Boy-Built

Primarily, the inspection committee is alert to see that every car is boy-built. This is one rule to which there can be no exception. If there is any suspicion that the boy contestant has had adult help in his car-building, the inspection committee, locally and at Akron, is severe. Remember that adults — your father or older brother, your friends or school teachers—may give advice only.

The new rule banning the use of power tools or paint sprayers will be subject to the closest scrutiny by the inspectors, who may question contestants about construction details on the car.

This rule was imposed by the National Rules committee to make it more certain that all boys will have an equal chance. Rule changes of 1948, still in force, also were designed to this same end.

The committee decided against the use of power tools by those few boys to whom they were available because they gave them an unfair advantage over boys who had no way of obtaining such tools.

Power Tools Not Necessary

And remember, boys, just because you cannot use power tools does not mean that your racing car won't be as good as the cars of previous years. You know that most of the finest products of American workmanship were done by hand.

Remember, too, that the early inventors had nothing but hand tools, ingenuity and manual dexterity in making their products.

Another new rule which will change inspection techniques is the one which governs weight. In the 1949 rule book it is stated that the only weight limit is 250 pounds on car and boy combined. Previously the car itself was limited to 150 pounds.

This means that a lightweight boy may build weight into his car, if he thinks it will make the car go faster, to make the total weight approach the 250-pound limit. Inspectors will still be strict, however, in determining that there is no added weight "which is not necessary in the construction of the car and is used primarily to increase car weight."

$325,000 SYSTEM PROPOSED

Parks Bond Issue Comes Up For Vote In Hockley County Today

LEVELLAND, June 3. (Special) Hockley county voters Saturday will go to the polls over the county and accept or reject a parks bond issue.

If the election carries, it will authorize the issuance of $325,000 in bonds for the purpose of establishing a Hockley county park system to consist of park units at Levelland and Sundown.

The Sundown park, which would receive $50,000 of the total, would consist of a swimming pool with concession stands and bathhouse.

The main park, which would receive $275,000, would be located somewhere toward the center of the county, probably near Levelland. It would be made up of swimming pool, bath house, and other recreational facilities, including a large plot earmarked for picnic grounds.

In a similar election held several months ago, the measure was defeated by 101 votes. The original proposition called for establishment of parks at Levelland, Sundown, Ropesville, and Anton. The second proposition has been scaled down considerably.

Levelland Jaycees, who are in large measure spearheading the drive for a county park system, are seeking to get out the voters for Saturday's election.

Sixteen voting places will be open Saturday, including boxes at Levelland, Sundown, Ropesville, South Smyer, Cobeland, Pettit, Pep, Whitharrel, Anton, Smyer, Oklahoma Flat (East Pettit), Hodges, and Dean.

New Pastor To Assume Duties At Spur Methodist Church

SPUR, June 3. (Special)—Newly named pastor of First Methodist church, Rev. Cal Wright of Albany is expected here this weekend.

He succeeds Rev. L. L. Hill, who goes to Wellington Methodist church.

Rev. Wright has been pastor of the Albany church the last two years. He previously served at Sweetwater, Stamford and Big Spring.

Test Slated At Borden Wildcat

Sinclair Oil & Gas company No. 1, Williams, prospective discovery in northwest Borden county, was drilling ahead past 10,005 feet in a dolomite formation.

It is understood that the venture is to dig to about 10,035 feet, and take a drillstem test.

This exploration showed considerable oil in two drillstem tests between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet. No oil flowed out at the surface while the tester was in the hole. However, the drillpipe unloaded oil and gas while being pulled after each of the investigations.

Salt Water Found

A drill stem test at 9,945-10,000 feet, flowed 20.75 barrels of 34 gravity oil in 30 minutes, and when the tester was pulled there was 1,300 feet of salt water in the bottom of the pipe. Origin of that water has not been determined.

The hole was reamed to bottom, after the completion of the drillstem test, and drilling was resumed.

At last report it had reached 10,005 feet and was continuing to make hole.

Some observers think that the section below 9,945 feet is Ellenburger. Others are skeptical of that call. Most of the doubters are inclined to the idea that the zone entered at 9,945 feet is probably Devonian or Silurio-Devonian. There is no official information available on that subject.

It is rather generally agreed that the zone at 9,830-9,928 feet is in the Mississippian.

Oil Signs Logged

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 2 Winston, one-half mile east of the discovery well of the Kelly field in central Scurry county, four miles southwest of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and west lines of lot 71, section 11, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, encountered a drilling break at 6,840 feet in Canyon lime.

Some oil signs were logged in drilling down to 6,861 feet. Operator is now taking a drillstem test at 6,840-61 feet.

It is understood that No. 2 Kelly is approximately flat, geologically, with the same company's No. 1 Winston, the opener of the Kelly field.

Third producer in the Sharon Ridge-Canyon pool of southwest Scurry county has been completed at Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-B Huddleston, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 161, block 97, H&TC survey, 13 miles houtheast of Snyder.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 22/64-inch choke to make a potential of 324 barrels of 43.7-gravity oil, with no water and gas-oil ratio 1,037-1.

Production was through perforations at 6,700-6,723 feet in Sta-

Mr. Brannan's Plan

DISREGARDING other fine qualifications presumably possessed by Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan, he clearly is very much a novice in coping with the practical aspects of politics and government. His lack of realism in these particulars appears the most logical explanation for his farm legislation proposals which are so revolutionary and far-reaching that he seems likely to end up by getting nothing at all.

First he wanted—and still wants—what would amount to a blank check to guarantee minimum prices, which his department would establish, for all agricultural products. He has resisted all efforts to supply as much as his guess on what such a program might cost. But one fact of which every American could be certain is this: Mr. Brannan's program would mean regular government checks for nearly every farmer and rancher in the land, representing money paid by all the people.

Now he is asking unrestricted authority to impose at his discretion whatever controls his department might deem advisable over acreage, production and marketing of all products of the farm and ranch.

Secretary Brannan unquestionably means well. No one apparently doubts his sincere conviction that his program would be good for the nation. Perhaps it would be good if it were possible to assume the program would be administered efficiently, economically and fairly. Experience will not permit such assumptions. The expectation would have to be inefficiency, waste and policies shaped by political bias and prejudice.

Someone should tell Mr. Brannan that he might get more from Congress if he would ask for less. Certainly there is no prospect that Congress will approve, or that Americans would submit to, committments more extravagant and drastic than the darkest days of the war obtained.

A Lesson In Action

OFFICIALS of the Lubbock Postoffice did exactly right in refusing to wait any longer while members of the City commission fiddled with the problem of providing an orderly naming system for the streets in Lubbock and the many unnamed thoroughfares in suburban areas.

We agree, unreservedly, with Postmaster Amos Howard and his personnel that it was unfair to delay improved mail delivery service to several thousand persons simply because the commission couldn't seem to make up its mind about names. We approve, unreservedly, the postal officials' action in providing names which were described as necessary before the improvements in mail deliveries could be made. The Postoffice has, at least, done something. That's more than can be said for the City Dads.

The action doesn't mean the temporary "postoffice names" cannot be changed. "We are agreeable to whatever the City commission may decide," said Postmaster Howard. So are we.

Judging by past dawdling, the prospects of a commission decision are not encouraging. One never will be reached if the members intend to defer action until someone comes up with a plan which is entirely without flaws and to which no one will object.

But the hope seems reasonable that the forthright action at the Postoffice may drive home the realization in the commission that the way to get a job done is to haul off and do it. And street-naming is not an impossible task—as Lubbock postal authorities have proved.

Count Your Blessings

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Bea Cosgrove, unsatisfied that one of her companions on Spoare Island, Lilly Warren, committed suicide, has been carrying on an investigation. Henry Gough Harding, owner of the isle, has told her his reasons for wanting to escape the world and establish a "New Eden." He has been in search of a woman like his mother, he says, and wishes to create a "living monument" to her. Harding asks Bea if it would be nice to ask Mollie Stark to be his wife. Mollie, ship-wrecked there a few days before, seems to Bea to be dim-witted and mercenary, but it is obvious she has Harding under her thumb. Bea conceals her thoughts and tells Harding he must answer the question himself. As Bea leaves Harding she passes through Mollie's room. Mollie sneers at her.)

MABEL JONES had outdone herself in the production of indestructible pancakes, and the breakfast bacon still held traces of mold on the raw spots between chars.

Harding stood up at last. "I'd like to talk to you, Miss Stark," he said. He smiled at her and the smile remained forgotten on his face.

Mollie jumped to her feet. "Well I don't want to talk to you! I won't talk to you. Not after what you've done!" She raced to the tower room and slammed the door behind her.

Harding strode from the room in silence. Mabel Jones began clearing away, rattling dishes to cover Nona's humming of "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Bea Cosgrove found him at the sheep pen, arms resting on the barrier. He looked at her blankly.

"How many sheep are there supposed to be?" she asked.

"There were 20," he said. "Miss Cosgrove, what's the matter with her this morning? I don't understand it. I wanted to talk to her, ask her to marry me, and she acts like she did. Do you know what ails her?"

"She's jealous. She was awake when I came down from the tower last night. She saw me."

"But we didn't do anything to make her jealous!"

"Does she know that? She saw me coming down. Have you ever taken her up there?"

"Of course not!" Harding snapped. "I wouldn't ask a girl like Mollie to go alone to my room!"

Bea let it pass. "Well that's what ails her."

"Jealous!" Henry Harding said. "So that's it!" He beamed. His chest expanded. "The poor girl. Why that's wonderful." He hurried toward the house.

FRED SILLWELL sauntered around the room, made his way eventually to stand beside Bea Cosgrove at the front window. "Well?" he said softly.

At the table when she had given Sillwell a covert signal, she had determined to let his acuteness control her future actions. If he made an opportunity to talk to her, she would follow a certain path.

"I think I have something for you."

"Spill it," Fred said.

"Meet me in the storeroom, by the funicular early in the morning. Daylight."

At dawn she slipped on her dress, carried her shoes in her hand as she went silently down the stairs and around the house to the storeroom entrance.

Fred Sillwell waited for her. "This better be good," he snapped. "Go ahead. What you got to show me? We have to be quick before the others are up and about."

"It doesn't matter if they are," Bea said. She put on her shoes. "As long as they didn't see us come down here, it'd be better if they're all stirring."

"What're you going to do?"

"Blow all the alibis sky high," she answered.

"How?"

"First help me load a few pieces of rock in this car."

Sillwell looked at the gondola of the funicular. "I don't get it," he said. Bea did not answer.

When they had put a half dozen pieces of rock in the gondola both were dripping.

Miss Cosgrove took hold of the starting lever, as she had seen Harding do. She hesitated, then moved it. The car moved silently out into the growing light. She held her breath until it dipped over the steeper part of the incline and disappeared from sight. She knew it could still be seen from above, or from the upper windows. Anyone's idle curiosity, or a chance look in the right direction could spoil her plan.

"I didn't come here to watch the little cars run," Fred snarled. "And your pal Harding'll be sore if he sees you playing with his train."

"Yes," she admitted. "If he sees."

"But it's in plain sight."

"Wait," she ordered.

They stood in silence until the other car popped over the edge and moved silently toward them. There was a sharp click as it hit the automatic block. The lever moved by itself. The car stopped.

"All right," Fred said slowly. "It stops itself."

"There wasn't enough blood in the gondola where Lilly was found. There's a wet spot back in one of the storerooms where something was cleaned up. There is a hand truck for moving anything—heavy."

Sillwell's eyes were glittering.

"A shot wouldn't be heard back in the tunnel. The cars are in sight only two minutes."

"You've been earning your dough," Fred said. "It's a chance, though, that someone would have seen."

"What's the difference?" Bea asked. "The person who started the car wouldn't have had to stay."

Fred nodded thoughtfully. "And Harding said he searched all four of you women when you came ashore here?"

"That's right," Bea said. "He found my gun and threw it away."

The man nodded as if already aware of the fact. "It's enough! I've got him now."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

FAR be it from me to criticize the President of the United States.

But here is something which deserves criticism.

BRANDEIS

It is cheap. It is undignified. It is tricky.

Mind you, President Truman is not the first one who has done it.

It is neither a Democratic nor a Republican trick.

But it is a trick, and tricks on the part of men in high places are unworthy of their position.

When a President, or any other responsible official or any leader in any branch of human endeavor, makes a mistake, he should not accuse the Press of having made that mistake and call it a "typographical error."

This is not a political column. I do not deal with politics but with human beings.

As a newspaperman who is proud of being a member of the Press, and as a human being, I resent it when the Press is used as an alibi for mistakes, and when stupidity on the part of a man is called a "typographical error" on the part of a newspaperman. Particularly when that accusation implies deliberate perversion of statements of facts.

This particular case has to do with the failure of Congress to please the President quickly enough in doing away with the Taft-Hartley Act.

The details do not matter here. Suffice it to say that the President sent to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen a letter which offended Speaker Rayburn and other House members who had opposed him.

A statement was issued by the White House Secretariat, saying that the President had been misquoted. The alleged misquote involved only two words.

I read both the original and the official correction carefully.

There was not the slightest difference, in my opinion at least, in the effect, and the whole thing impressed me as nothing but a cheap and tricky alibi.

ALIBIS have always been one of the easiest and least courageous ways of getting out of tight squeezes.

Everybody who has ever employed two or more people knows how common and how prolific alibis are.

Only last week our cleaning woman splashed furniture polish all over our living room wall, and naturally the place where she splashed it looks awful.

She was simply careless, and there would have been nothing serious about the incident—if she had admitted her carelessness instead of trying to wiggle out of it.

But by hiding behind an alibi,

"We couldn't find the life net, chief!"

ON LABOR LEGISLATION

Taft Looks To Future

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Senator Robert A. Taft recently delighted a small newspaper group—and himself—by exhibiting the current bulletin of the ultra-reactionary National Association of Manufacturers in which he was denounced as a "radical" because of the twenty-eight changes and concessions he has made to enact a compromise version of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The supposedly humorless Ohioan actually giggled as he flashed the document at an off-the-record luncheon conference at a downtown hotel.

He admits that he does not see the need for some of the amendments to which he has agreed, but he accepts them in order to appease the Ives-Aiken-Morse group, the so-called Republican "liberals," as well as Democrats who oppose outright repeal of the existing law.

TUCKER

Mr. Taft's revision, however, incorporates several provisions which he regards as essential if there is to be orderly conduct of relations between labor and management — namely, a legal requirement that unions shall be both "responsible and liable" for any action that constitutes "unfair practice."

QUESTIONABLE: Strange as it may seem, Mr. Taft does not place too much faith in the provision for use of the injunction and seizure of plants even when a strike threatens national industrial paralysis. He includes it among his twenty-eight amendments, but he doubts whether it would be effective in a showdown.

The Senator believes that the revised bill, which has the approval of the "liberals" on his side of the aisle, will be acceptable to the Senate. It is expected that all but three or four Republicans will vote for it, and that at least fifteen Democrats will support it.

How the amended measure will fare in the House, where the more conservative Martin-Halleck-Brown-Taber leadership may rebel against the Taft concessions, is both questionable and dubious. But it is believed that there are enough Republicans and Democrats in the lower body to send it along to the White House for presidential approval or veto.

SPOT: Prospective enactment of a new Taft-Hartley Act, which will eventually emerge as the Thomas-Lesinski Law, will place both President Truman and Senator Taft on a hot political spot.

Will Mr. Truman sign it, in view of the ban on secondary boycotts (except in unusual circumstances), on the closed shop and provision for injunctions and seizure of plants in a nation-wide strike?

The Administration measure abolishes these restraints, which are opposed violently by the American Federation of Labor, the CIO and the United Mine Workers.

If the White House wants an end to labor strife, it is believed that Mr. Truman will approve the compromise.

If Mr. Truman wants to preserve the labor question as an issue for the 1950 Congressional elections and for the presidential duel in 1952, he will veto any Taft handiwork.

However there is general belief that, if this bill reaches his desk, he will sign it under some protest, and probably join with the N.A.M. in berating Mr. Taft.

PERSONAL: Mr. Taft hopes that Congress will pass and President Truman sign the proposed revision, thus redressing the balance between labor and management and removing this issue, as prohibition was eliminated in 1932, from the dirty field of partisan politics.

The Senator from Ohio has a personal interest in the question, since labor unions have made his defeat in 1950 their major objective. For, no matter what kind of labor-management legislation is finally placed on the statute books, it will always be regarded as a "Taft" product.

Mr. Taft, who is a kindly, tolerant and open-minded individual, and not at all the ogre he has been pictured, wants an end to this question. But, being an astute politician, he has set himself to meet the issue in 1950, no matter what shape it assumes.

CANDIDATE: Here is the Taft thinking on this issue:

If President Truman signs the bill with the Ohioan's amendments, thus giving Democratic blessing to the Senator's product, there will be no need or incentive for labor to oppose Mr. Taft next year, except for unionists who won't forget.

Mr. Taft should win easily, and become the only outstanding candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952, if he and Martha want it. They will.

SURE: On the other hand, if Mr. Truman should veto the Taft-Ives compromise, the far more restrictive Taft-Hartley Act, which the Ohio Senator admits is too harsh in some respects, will remain on the books. Labor's rank and file, who have not suffered seriously under the existing legislation, might not agree with their bosses in approving a Truman disapproval.

But should the President negate the compromise at the behest of William Green, Phillip Murray and John L. Lewis, Senator Taft will be able to make the reelection argument that his political and union labor enemies insist on a "rule or ruin" policy.

If I were in Bob Taft's spot, and if I were a selfish, scheming politician, I would pray that the President veto the bill. The "rule or ruin" issue is a sure daily double winner. But, regardless of the White House action, Senator Taft is almost sure to win, anyway. And it's two to one, as of the moment, that he will be the Republicans' presidential nominee in 1952.

The Gaekwar of Baroda, eighth richest man in the world and ruler of 2,800,000 people, is expected to be a monarch in name only after his country has fully merged with Bombay Province in the Dominion of India.

A golfer in Bloemfontein threatened to sue a golf club because "one of the best shots of his career," straight down the fairway, disappeared into a crack caused by the prolonged South African drought.

Mrs. L. F. Whittaker, of Bergville, South Africa, was awakened by a noise and saw a big ringhals (poisonous snake) atop her dressing table hissing at its image in the mirror.

In London, the mother of two children, haled into court on charges of being unfit to be a mother, voluntarily underwent sterilization—said to be the first such case in Britain.

New South Wales may preserve for all time the oldest house in Australia—Elizabeth Farm House, near Sydney—built in 1793 by John MacArthur, founder of Australia's wool industry.

In Blackburn, England, three people who say they saw the spectre of the "White Lady" in the 300-year-old mansion, Samlesbury Hall, have asked permission to try to photograph the ghost.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

RIGHTS OF MANY IGNORED

Handling Of Investigations Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The essence of our democracy and our democratic way of life is a belief in the dignity of the individual and the freedom of the human spirit. Or, to put it in plain American, we don't like to be kicked around for what we think or what we say, or have anybody prying into our minds.

Because of certain threats to this way of living it is time to take stock of our democracy from that standpoint.

STOKES

Currently it is not too good. An incipient police-state atmosphere is evident in certain signs in this capital city of our nation, as elsewhere in our country. It is yet only a mood. But you get it very distinctly as you go about this city and look and listen. It is evil of itself and evil because of the influences that produce it and exploit it.

Past Probe Recalled

It is, for instance, a stifling and uneasy experience to sit and watch the current "trial" of David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, in that gaudy caucus room of the Senate office building.

A similar experience it is, though less acute, to another a year ago in the House office building caucus room across the capital plaza. There are the same trappings, in klieg lights that focus constantly on the witness, the same photographers popping up and darting about. But there is more orderly procedure here—for senators put more store on dignity—than in that screeching inquisition by the House Un-American activities committee where witnesses were actually pushed around physically. There is not here, either, the same mean and leering spirit.

But there is something insidious about it, in the endless probing, probing, probing, by three or four members of the joint Atomic Energy committee to fish up, if possible, some Communist who may have worked his way into the giant Atomic Energy organization somewhere, so that they can stand up and announce the discovery of a Communist "plot." As the probing goes on, as there rises up before the imagination the great federal police network that is busy night and day, as the web of suspicion and fears is woven, you suddenly get the feeling that everybody in the country is suspect and being watched. Such a feeling seems to have translated itself to the man who started this "trial," Senator Hickenlooper (R-Ia), for he finally blurted out:

"I think the overwhelming majority of Americans are trustworthy."

This confession, itself, under the circumstances, told a lot about the atmosphere gradually created in this big room.

You become conscious, too, of the influences involved here behind the scenes. Atomic energy creates a weapon, and the military wants to get control of it again. It is also a source of power which the government will control under existing law. Private interest would like a relaxation of the law so they can get hold of it. You become conscious also of an attempt to create a political issue for next year's elections. Nor is this a straight party matter. For these interests, which work through politics, have their agents in both parties.

In other directions the police-state atmosphere is manifest in measures now before congressional committees of the type known historically as "sedition bills" which, though aimed at Communists and Communism, are so broad that they could be used against innocent persons and members of progressive political groups.

Workers Also Under Fire

And, unknown to you of the public, harried and harrassed government employees are sitting anxiously in secret sessions of "loyalty" boards, unable to find out who made charges against them or the basis of them, and in this procedure a number of injustices have been done.

In one case now going through the loyalty mill here, the government employee, a twice-wounded and decorated war veteran, was asked his views about the Marshall Plan, the Truman doctrine, racial segregation, the Spanish revolution and the embargo on arms to Spanish Loyalists, whether he was for China in its war on Japan, whether he favored the present draft act, what his ideas were about European aid prior to 1939, what distinction he drew between Communism and Fascism, and how many government bonds he bought!

Members of Congress differed about the issues raised.

An attempt to blow up a fake issue about Communism in the last election failed when a majority of voters agreed with President Truman's "red herring" label. The American people naturally dislike the prosecution and persecution complex. They don't like to be kicked around or have their dignity as human beings offended. Politicians and their backers who are counting on using the issue again may be fooled.

'Less Interest In Peace' Is Basis Of Russian Strength In Cold War

By JAMES A. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Bedell Smith, former U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, quotes Prime Minister Stalin as saying that "we do not want war any more than the West does, but we are less interested in peace than the West and therein lies the strength of our positon."

The timing of the Marshal's statement is not given. Stalin may have learned since then that the West, too, has limits beyond which it may prefer war to peace.

Stalin's statement is no new expression of Communist attitude. From its very beginnings it has accepted civil war as the natural climax of its efforts to extend its sway over the world.

Action Taken For Talk

The writings of Lenin and Stalin and the cominterm's textbooks for revolution all preach it. The steps to be followed are well defined. First comes propaganda, beginning with simple, transitional slogans. When progress has been made; the slogans become concrete, and the actual attempt is made to organize the masses for attack on the bourgeois state. Worker control of industry, seizure of landed estates, etc., are played up. This is accompanied by strikes and demonstrations; then armed demonstrations, and finally the general strike and armed insurrection. Those are the words of the comintern.

Since the war this formula has been varied to take advantage of new circumstances. Under the protection of the Red army in eastern Europe the Communists have been willing to work through coalitions in which other parties proved digestible. But the coups have not turned into civil war only because the armed action committees, with Red Army backing, have been bowed to by governments which were unwilling to order out their small postwar armies in a losing and bloody fight.

Communist propaganda also has made it amply clear that the Red army is now considered a part of the revolutionary force anywhere, that it and the fifth columns are part of one system, and that its strength will be thrown in if feasible whenever the day of insurrection arises.

Drillstem Test Set

inch casing set on bottom at 6,725 feet.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company is starting by June 6 on a second outpost to the Landon-Devonian field of south-central Cochran county.

It will be the concern's No. 1 C. H. Grollman. The drillsite is 660 feet from west and 407 feet from south lines of section 4, block L, psl survey.

The Devonian is expected above 11,700 feet. Drilling will be with rotary tools.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Doss, central-east Gaines county deep wildcat, 10 miles southwest of Cedar Lake, and 4,620 feet from east and 7,430 feet from south lines of league 292, Lynn county school land survey, had reached 13,791 feet in a lime and chert, and was running a Schlumberger survey.

Some observers think the project is in the Ellenburger. It is probable that the electric log is being run in order to check on the identity of the formation.

Up to now this prospector has not logged any signs of oil or gas in any quantity.

Magnolia No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat in southwest Andrews county, two miles east and slightly south of the Dollarhide field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey, kicked off on perforated section at 11,000-026 feet, in the upper Fusselman of the Silurian and flowed 18 barrels of new oil in two and one-half hours, by heads, through a one-inch choke.

The flow then died. In the next three hours operator swabbed out 19 barrels of new oil. The well would flow following the pulling of the swab.

There was 4,800 feet of oil in the hole. Swabbing was continuing.

The section making the oil had been treated with 1,000 gallons, 3,000 gallons and 6,000 gallons of acid. A lower section of the Fusselman showed for a small flowing production and the Devonian is due to make good oil yields, when it is tested.

The invocation was given by Rev. James Moudy of the Christian church and the benediction by Rev. James F. Fowler of the Church of Christ, College Station. The A. and M. band played at the ceremonies.

MARKET AGAIN SLUMPS

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—The stock market gently sank today to the lowest average level since February last year.

Not in two years has the price level been lower.

Key stocks lost fractions to around a point, a few declines running up to 3 points.

Trading activity was slack throughout the session. Only 700,000 shares changed, which was a trifle above Thursday's 670,000 shares—but far from a satisfactory day for Wall Street.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 4 of one point to 60.3. The industrial and railroad groups showed fairly large losses but the utility section held unchanged.

At 60.3 the 60-stock average equalled the 1948 low established on Feb. 10. The average has not been below 60.3 since late May of 1947 when it stood at 59.9.

The present position of the market, therefore, is regarded in financial circles as highly critical. Wall Street is divided into two camps on the question of whether this so-called resistance level will be decisively broken.

Of the 944 issues bought and sold today, 530 declined and 205 advanced.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP) — Cotton futures were lower today in slow trading. Liquidation and hedging extended losses to 50 cents a bale, although the market later improved on trade buying and short covering. There was some switching from nearby July to the October, 1949, delivery. The lag in exports and textile sales curbed interest in futures, along with favorable weather and crop reports from the cotton belt.

Late afternoon prices were 5 to 30 cents a bale lower than the previous close. July 32.26, Oct. 28.77 and Dec. 28.57.

Cotton futures rallied into late dealings, with some deliveries making new highs for the day on more active trade buying and short covering.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower than the previous close.

Lewis In Threat To Halt Talks

By PHILLIP J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., June 3—Coal contract negotiations between John L. Lewis and southern mine owners ran into trouble on their opening day today and Lewis hinted that he will quit the parley.

A 16-man committee of operators and United Mine Workers representatives held two closed-door "bargaining" sessions today and then recessed until Monday afternoon.

However, the UMW chief told newsmen that he was leaving for Washington tonight to "fill some engagements" and added:

"Whether I'll be back Monday is uncertain."

Charges Are Hurled

Lewis said only that some UMW representatives would be present next week when the discussions are resumed.

If the bushy-browed union leader personally withdraws from the negotiating conference, it clearly is doomed to failure. There is no belief that his subordinates could negotiate an agreement to replace the contract expiring June 30.

The UMW president's threat to "walk out" came after an apparently stormy negotiating meeting in which the operators virtually accused Lewis of "stalling" and demanded that he get down to "good faith bargaining."

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, told Lewis:

"Time is short . . . Southern coal producers' association is doing all in its power to insure continued coal production. We call upon the union to do the same."

San Angelo Drive

Wichita Falls; Port Arthur reported one case.

Scout Camps Canceled

The state health department said that in South Texas, where the disease hit hard last summer, new cases for the last week in May included:

Cameron county 4; Hidalgo 5; Jim Wells 2, Nueces 7, San Patricio 3.

San Angelo Boy Scouts camps scheduled to begin June 12 at Camp Louis Farr near Mertson and Camp Sol Mayer near Menard, were postponed indefinitely because of polio.

The city of San Angelo was promised $40,000 in emergency funds from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to handle the present case load for 60 days.

Dr. R. E. Elvins, San Angelo health officer, cited an estimated 2,000 open privies in suburban areas around San Angelo as "suspect" in the polio epidemic. He ordered sanitarians to show residents of those areas how to clean up and spray the outdoor toilets.

Equipment Secured

With aid of the infantile paralysis foundation the 40 patients in San Angelo hospitals are getting the best treatment available.

John R. Loughlin, Southwest Texas representative of the foundation, secured several nurses through the American Red Cross.

Seven Red Cross graduate nurses, specialists in treatment of polio, will be on the job here Monday. Five others are being requisitioned.

Loughlin has secured from equipment pools 26 hot pack machines, four iron lungs, 25 hospital cribs, and other supplies.

Dr. Elvins has quoted local doctors as saying the incidence of permanent paralysis will be "very low." Not over 10 and possibly as low as 5 percent," he said.

The fogging machine was secured from Abilene pending delivery early next week of a new machine bought by San Angelo.

area east of Avenue Q and south of Nineteenth street. Sunday it will cover the territory south of Thirty-fourth street.

The mixture is stronger than that used in previous years, Jarvis said. This is being done because of the opinion of some authorities that some of the insects are developing degrees of immunity to the poison.

Not Injurious To People

Jarvis said his observations do not indicate this condition to be true in the Lubbock area. But, to avoid chance-taking, health authorities are spraying a fog of heavy DDT content and also containing other chemical ingredients deadly to insect life.

The health director emphasized, however, that the fog is not injurious to people or pets, and won't damage property. When the fogging machine comes around, he said, people will be wise to open their doors and windows so that it can penetrate the interior of homes. The fog won't hurt draperies or the family wash hanging on a line, he assured.

Attached to the fogging machine this year is a power spray, Jarvis related. This is being used to disinfect garbage cans. But the cans should be disinfected before the fogger gets around, he advised. Lime or kerosene will help. A good washing with the hose will be better than nothing.

Lake Areas Treated

City mowing machines will be busy the first of next week getting rid of weeds on vacant lots, he reported.

Puddles and other accumulations of water are being treated as they are reached. In the "lake" areas, Jarvis said, containers are being rigged up from which a drippage of disinfectant is continuous. Jarvis hopes this will maintain an oil film on the water surfaces which will kill living insects and prevent others from hatching.

But he emphasized that the most effective campaign of prevention requires the help of the citizenship generally.

Failure to cooperate, he warned, adds to the danger that Lubbock might be forced to adopt extreme measures like those in San Angelo, where schools, churches, theaters, swimming pools and similar places were reported closed because of the polio outbreak.

Symptoms Cited

Suggestions from the state health department recommend that when suspicious symptoms such as headaches, undetermined fever, vomiting, drowsiness or stiffness of neck or back appear, a physician should be called at once.

In addition to use of spraying machines, the City-County Department of Public Health is giving attention to other public health measures recommended as safeguards against polio and other diseases, such as supervision of eating and drinking establishments. Regular inspections are made of such establishments.

Lubbock was the first city to be placed on the milk honor roll since the war.

"We're adequately controlling food supplies and doubling every effort to maintain good conditions," Jarvis said.

Record Cotton Crop Predicted In Valley

HARLINGEN, June 3. (AP)—Barring calamities, the Rio Grande valley may harvest a record cotton crop of almost 500,000 bales this year.

That's the opinion of J. A. Alderdice of the State Department of Agriculture.

"The cotton crop has made wonderful progress in the past week," Alderdice said, "and barring calamities, the valley is going to come mighty close to a crop of 500,000 bales. It looks to me like it's going to be the best crop I've seen in the 30 years I've been in the valley."

INCREASES FOLLOW DECONTROL

Cities 'Go Slow' In Exercising Right To Discard Rent Ceilings

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—American cities are going slow in using their "home rule" right to discard rent ceilings. Where they have decontrolled, rent levels have risen.

An Associated Press survey showed that tenants are paying increases ranging from "barely perceptible" up to 100 per cent, in a few cases, in communities which have scrapped controls under the federal rent law signed March 29. Many rents have stayed put.

Only one state, Nebraska, has wiped out ceilings statewide, effective by next November 1. According to landlords' plans already announced, some Omaha families will be paying 10 per cent more rent; at least one will pay 73 per cent more.

Large Increases Reported

In certain cases, it developed, property owners have used steep increases to get rid of unwanted tenants. Elsewhere property owner groups have agreed voluntarily to go easy—so as not to set back the decontrol movement.

Under the new law, a city, town or village can throw off rent ceilings if the state governor consents. A legislature con decontrol a whole state.

Or Housing Expediter Tighe Woods can order decontrol from Washington; in such a case, he can recontrol if rents zoom.

The AP survey showed:

Seventeen of the several thousand communities under ceilings have decided to decontrol themselves and have the governors' approval. Most of the 17 are small. Three are sizeable—Knoxville, Tenn., Amarillo, and McAlester, Okla.

Decontrol Voted

At least 10 cities and towns have voted to decontrol but have not yet obtained the governor's consent.

Most of the decontrol moves are in the South and Southwest.

Though decontrol is so recent in most places that information is scanty, The Amarillo Globe-News reports that most increases there have been "a conservative 20 to 25 per cent." However, some increases up to 100 per cent were reported.

The landlords of Corsicana, a home-rule decontrol city, signed a pledge not to raise rents for six months.

A state decontrol bill is being fought in the Texas Senate, after passing in the House. Four state legislatures have rejected similar bills—Iowa, Tennessee, North Carolina and Oklahoma.

Jap Bullets In Marine's Back Undiscovered For Eight Years

EL TORO, Calif., June 3. (U.P.)—Lt. Col. Herbert C. Freuler, executive officer of Marine Air Group 12, learned that he has been carrying two 7.7 mm. Japanese machine gun bullets in his back for the past eight years.

The discovery was made by Dr. Robert King when the colonel reported for a routine check-up and X-ray. Freuler was wounded while flying in the defense of Wake island in 1941, but a medical examination at that time gave no indication that the bullets remained in his body.

Local medical authorities said the bullets probably never will bother him and very likely will not to be removed. Lt. Col. Freuler was a prisoner of war of the Japanese for more than three years after the fall of Wake island.

Women Drivers Use Less Gas Than Men, Car Builder Says

CINCINNATI, June 3. (U.P.)—Women drivers get more mileage per gallon out of an automobile than men because they are more inclined to drive within a speed range of 20 to 40 miles an hour, where an auto's best mileage is attained.

Commenting on the tendency of male operators to drive at erratic speeds and "punish" the accelerator, Powel Crosley, jr., said those faults can cut auto efficiency as much as 40 percent.

The Crosley Motors head cited industry tests showing that a heavy car which gets 20 miles per gallon at a speed of 30 miles an hour usually gets only 14 at 60. Corresponding tests of lightweight cars, he said, show 40 miles per gallon at a steady pace of 30 miles an hour and 30 m.p.g. at mile-a minute speed.

Woman Distributes College Education Over Three Decades

PITTSBURGH, June 2. (U.P.)—Mrs. Loyal G. Butler of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., finally has completed the college course she started in 1918.

Mrs. Butler finished her freshman year at the Ohio Wesleyan before her marriage in 1919. Through the years she continued intermittent study at the University of Pittsburgh and Indiana State (Pa.) Normal college, meanwhile raising three sons and teaching in rural schools.

In 1943, she returned to Pitt, taking a light schedule of night classes. Now that she has won her degree, she plans to write and study history and spend a little more time with her boys, L. Glenn, jr., 23; Gerald, 14, and Teddy Gordon, 12.

County To 'Restore' Run-Down West Virginia Farm In One Day

RIPLEY, W. Va., June 2. (U.P.)—Everyone has been invited to gather on the Jackson county-owned farm, Sept. 15, to see what can be done to restore a farm to its proper uses in a single day.

Soil conservation experts, farm machinery manufacturers and some 1,000 workmen will co-operate in the "land-use day" demonstration. Radio chains will broadcast direct from the farm as the day's work progresses. Forty acres of adjoining farm plots will be provided for parking facilities.

New York Burlesque Queen Bows Out To Play Summer Stock

By JOHN ROSENBURG
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 3—The clarinets will wail and the muted trumpets moan when the nocturnal citizens of 52nd street hear about their beloved Sherry Britton.

Swing Street's sultry darling of the dance plans to cover her extraordinary curves with clothes and go dramatic in the conventional manner. Not only that, she hopes to lose her identity entirely.

Miss Britton has been the favorite on 52nd street, the mecca of torchy balladers and exotic dancers, for the past decade. She enjoyed the longest runs, the best spots and probably the noisiest audiences.

Miss Britton, whose anatomical gyrations often earned her as much as $3,500 a week, said she was "simply tired" of exposing herself to night club fans.

"I've got a job in summer stock," she said. "I won't say where, because I want to make good on my ability and not my reputation. I've also changed my name to help hide my identity. Only the manager of the company I've signed with really knows who I am."

Miss Britton, who began her career in burlesque and enjoyed success equaled only by Gypsy Rose Lee, said she hoped everyone would soon forget who she was.

"From now on, I want people to know me as an actress," she said. "It's going to be tough, I know. But I'm sure I can make good. I've already played in the Equity Library theater and I know I'll succeed. I plan to play Broadway this fall and do radio and television."

How long it will take audiences to discover Miss Britton in her new role remains to be seen. Her 42-inch tresses, the longest in show business, piquant face and shapely torso have been generously displayed in night clubs from coast to coast.

In the war years, her managers received requests from more than 500,000 GI's for her pin-up picture.

Trucks, jeeps, and airplanes were named after her. One airplane bearing her name and a caricature of her figure made the Doolittle bombing run over Tokyo.

Miss Britton's departure from the night club circuit not only will cost her an appreciative, if unique, audience, it will cut her income considerably. Instead of the $1,000 she averaged with her "specialty numbers," she'll draw $75.

"But it doesn't matter really," she said, "because I'll be doing what I always really wanted to do."

Oklahoma Investigators Report No Reds Found Among Teachers

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2. (U.P.) An Oklahoma legislative investigating committee has found no Communist sympathizers among Oklahoma college and university teachers.

The only evidence of Communistic activities the committee found concerned a small group of students at the University of Oklahoma. The committee said this should be no cause for alarm, since it is watched constantly by the FBI and OU officials.

HST's Arkansas Trip First Since Vacation

WASHINGTON, June 3 (U.P.)—President Truman's visit to Little Rock, next week will be his first major public appearance outside of Washington since his election in November.

The occasion of the trip is one close to his heart—the annual reunion of the 35th division, the outfit in which he served as an artillery battery captain in World War I.

He has not missed one of the reunions since the end of that war. He makes a point each year of participating fully in the gathering of his buddies, particularly the men of Battery D which he commanded.

His public appearances outside of Washington since the election have been confined to vacation trips to Key West. This spring he made a side trip from Key West to Winter Park, Fla., where he accepted an honorary degree from Rollins college.

Mr. Truman's speech in Little Rock has been described by his staff as a "major" address. The President will fly to Arkansas next Friday afternoon aboard the "Independence."

Texas Masonic Worker Dies At Hospital In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, June 3. (AP)—Wilbur Keith, 72, widely known as a Texas Masonic worker, died in a hospital here today.

The hospital said death came at 12:45 p.m.

Keith one was city editor of the Dallas News. For years he served as executive secretary of the committee on education and service of the Grand Lodge of Texas. He visited hundreds of Masonic lodges throughout the state during that time.

After leaving Masonic service he worked for the Social Security board. He retired a few years ago.

South Pacific Veteran Makes 'Island' Jewelry In Kansas

LYONS, Kan., June 3 (U.P.)—Those war years are paying dividends now for Thomas L. Davis.

Davis spent some time on Manos Island. He looked for souvenirs to send home but decided he could make better stuff than the natives.

So, with metal from ammunition boxes and island mother-of-pearl, Davis fashioned a pearly inlay bracelet. His tools were a file, tin snips and a nail.

His buddies admired his work so much they asked him to turn out souvenirs for them, too.

When he returned to his home town, he set up a shop and invented dies and machines to mass produce the articles he'd made on Manos. He imports mother-of-pearl from Tahiti and combines it with either stainless steel, yellow, rose or white gold to produce jewelry of unusual simplicity and beauty.

Now his shop is turning out thousands of bracelets, watchbands and key chains.

Famous Banking Leader Claimed

SAN MATEO, Calif., June 3 (AP)—Amadeo Peter (A.P.) Giannini, who rose from boy produce peddler to head of the world's richest bank, died in his sleep this morning. He was 79.

Founder and chairman of the big Bank of America, Giannini died at his San Mateo home, "Seven Oaks." He had been ill for nearly a month with a cold. Doctors said the illness put too much strain on a weakened heart. A solemn requiem mass will be held Monday at San Francisco.

Giannini retired in 1945 from chairmanship of the bank, a six billion dollar corporation. He was promptly named "founder-chairman" by its directors.

Owned Huge Company

His only son, L. M. Giannini, succeeded him as president of the bank. He also leaves a daughter.

Giannini also served, until his retirement in 1930, as president of Transamerica corporation, a vast holding company affiliated with Bank of America.

Giannini was a fighter in the world of business. He battled California banking interests with one hand and government regulations with the other. Transamerica corporation even now is embroiled in government accusations of policies which have a monopolistic tendency.

His career constantly verged on the spectacular. Two years after he opened his bank (then the Bank of Italy) it was burned out by San Francisco's great fire of 1906. Giannini hauled its cash and records to safety—hidden under a cartload of produce. With this stake he reopened his bank and was strong enough to weather the 1907 panic.

A successful produce merchant, Giannini first went into the banking when he inherited from an uncle a seat on the board of directors of a San Francisco bank. But he got into a fight with other directors over expanding into outlying areas, to go after the "little" depositor.

Giannini, angered, pulled out and started the Bank of Italy. His idea of branch banking was immediately successful.

Every branch of his bank survived depression and panic, and now Bank of America's 500 branch banks serve more than 3,000,000 depositors in 300 California cities. Resources total more than $6,000,000,000.

OLIVIER ACCEPTS 'OSCARS'—Actress Jane Wyman congratulates Sir Laurence Olivier after he was presented two Motion Picture Academy "Oscars" and a British Film Academy award for his motion picture "Hamlet" in ceremonies in London. TO NAME OFFICERS

SAN ANTONIO, June 3 (AP)—Election of officers Saturday will climax the 34th annual convention of the Texas State Elks association, now in progress at the Elks club. Saturday activities will also include announcement of the name of the champion ritualistic team. Seven teams, which administer rites of the order, participated in a contest Friday. The first general session of the convention was held Friday.

Howard Hughes Buys Helicopter Rights

WASHINGTON, June 3 (INS)—An Air Force spokesman asserted today that plane-maker Howard Hughes has been given a development contract on a huge helicopter designed to lift heavy artillery, tanks and trucks.

Driving the giant "Flying Pinwheel" will be a single, jet-propelled horizontal propeller measuring 136 feet from tip to tip.

The mammoth helicopter is expected to hover above tanks and other heavy equipment when an armored unit encounters rough terrain. It is designed to lift the equipment in huge talons over mountains, swamps and other short distances.

Under the contract Hughes is authorized to build only a non-flying test model of the helicopter.

Hughes bought the development rights on the helicopter from the Kellett Aircraft corporation, of North Wales, Pa.

Use of both jet engines and propeller is a new principle in helicopters.

Twin jets in the center of the plane will pump compressed air to the tips of the propeller, and the air will mix with fuel at the tips and be fired there. The motor will turn like a pinwheel.

The spokesman declared that this will eliminate what aviators call "torques"—a tendency to tip the plane in the direction the motor is operating—and will increase its efficiency.
