DEFENDANT TOSSES CHAIRS, BITES OFFICERS DURING DEMONSTRATION

McGee Stuns Court With Wild Outburst

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

PANDEMONIUM reigned in the 72nd District Court room here Friday afternoon when Richard W. McGee, 24, on trial for the slaying of a Lubbock grocery executive, leaped to his feet, flung chairs about him and began screaming loud enough to be heard outside the courthouse.

It took several law enforcement officials ten minutes to subdue McGee and place handcuffs and leg chains on him.

The incident occurred during a short recess at 3:40 p. m. The jury had not been brought back in but counsel for both sides were moving toward their seats. Judge Dan Blair had just stepped to the rostrum and a hush had fallen over the crowded room.

When McGee screamed the entire audience came to its feet and stood frozen in awe at the scene being enacted before it.

Officer Suffers Wound

First to reach the 24-year-old defendant was Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank who had been sitting a few feet behind him. Dodging a chair that was thrown in his path Eubank tried to get his arms around the youth's body.

Col. E. A. Simpson, Amarillo, one of the two defense attorneys, tried to grab one of the youth's arms but had to let go when McGee bit him on the right hand. Simpson was given first aid for the wound.

Close behind Eubank was Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton who grabbed McGee around the waist. Horton was also bitten in the scuffle. Deputy Sheriff Frank Mitchell and Lubbock captain of detectives Pat Davidson ran across the room and added their efforts in the struggle. Mitchell had first aid for a small wound on his ankle which he believed resulted from being kicked.

Although McGee used almost superhuman strength in fighting the officers and in trying to escape none of the men who tried to hold him used any blackjacks, fists or excessive force.

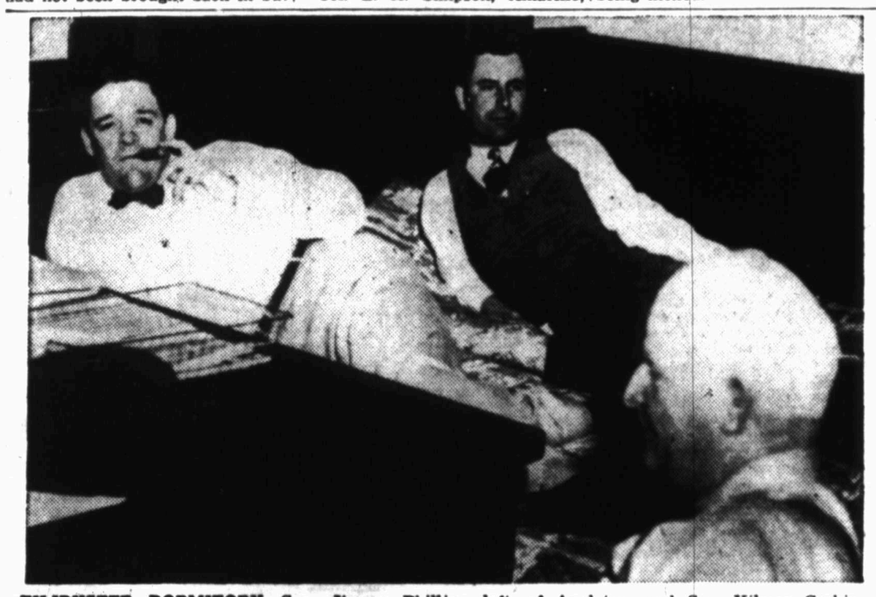

All the while he was struggling McGee kept up a stream of incoherent babbling the only audible word of which was "Joe." Neither of the attorneys nor immediate members of the family knew of anyone of Richard's aquaintances with that name.

After McGee had been subdued he was picked up by five officers and carried bodily out of the court room. He was taken downstairs in a waiting elevator and then to his cell in the jail. Doctors were called in to examine him for injuries and to administer drugs to relax him.

No Trial Delay Seen

There was no indication yesterday afternoon that the demonstration would bring a halt to the trial. The consensus was that attorneys for both sides wanted to continue examining witnesses and carry the trial on from the point where it had been interrupted. Judge Blair did not make any statement as to whether the incident constituted grounds for a

FUGITIVE CAUGHT AT BROWNFIELD

Lubbock Man Is Recaptured After Fleeing Work Detail

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, April 22 — A 21-year-old Lubbock man who had ducked away from a work detail at the Terry county jail this morning, a brief time before he was to have gone to trial on two indictments charging burglary, was recaptured here early this afternoon.

The fugitive was Robert Lee Davis, who is under two concurrent five-year sentences for burglary from Lubbock county.

"Razz" Renfrow, a Texas ranger stationed in Lubbock, and Deputy Sheriff Buel Powell had just "shaken down" a huge pile of brush—a product of elm tree pruning here—and Renfrow had started a patrol in his car when he saw the fugitive crossing the street about four blocks from the courthouse.

Renfrow slowed and stopped.

"Where do you live?" he asked.

"Lubbock."

"What's your name?"

"Morgan."

"It couldn't be Bob Davis, could it?"

Powell said the fugitive smiled and answered:

"Could be."

The court reporter of the 106th district had gone home, so judge Louis B. Reed, presiding, reset the case for next Wednesday, officials said.

Powell and Sheriff Ocie Murry said they were not certain where the prisoner had hidden since he slipped into the courthouse and left by a west side door about 8:45 a.m. when the sheriff's attention momentarily was diverted by the arrival of parents of another prisoner. Davis and four other prisoners were removing garbage from the jail, which was in the

Chinese Reds Near Capture Of Nanking

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, Saturday, April 23—This tottering capital of Nationalist China was abandoned by its officials and its garrison today as Communist troops smashed across the river and reached its gates.

Red troops, apparently cracking the Nationalist defenses on a wide front, seized broad areas on both sides of the capital.

Best reports here said the latest crossing came from Pukow, across the Yangtze from Nanking. Red veterans were said to have landed near Nanking's railway station, just outside the city's walls.

TWO U. S. WARSHIPS SAIL

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 22.—(INS)—The light cruiser Manchester and the heavy cruiser St. Paul sailed for "Western Pacific stations" with a large force of Marines aboard today. It was widely reported in San Pedro that the warships are bound for China.

Looting began in Nanking, from which all high government officials presumably had fled along with the garrison. The city was a no-man's-land, with both soldiers and police withdrawn.

Troops In Retreat

Mobs broke into shops and carried all manner of merchandise to their homes and the countryside.

Dirty and disorganized troops, believed withdrawn from Pukow, streamed through the city.

Among those fleeing the capital were a number of foreigners. They went on the same planes which carried off high government officials including Premier Ho Ying-Chin.

An estimated 100,000 Nationalist troops reportedly clogged the roads in disorderly retreat from Nanking. They fled south along four main highways.

'Fight To End' Resolved

In the hour of Nationalist China's extremity, "retired" President Chiang Kai-Shek joined in Hangchow yesterday with acting President Li Tsung-Jen in declaring that they were resolved to "fight to the end."

Hangchow, the meeting place for Nationalist leaders, is 150 miles southeast of Nanking. Li's home in Nanking was among those looted by Chinese mobs. He was said to have left Nanking early today for an unknown destination, but this could not be confirmed.

Plan To Dispatch Planes Reported

LONDON, April 23. (Saturday). (INS)—The British air ministry refused today to confirm reports it intends to dispatch RAF fighter planes from Malaya to the scene of the Chinese Communist shelling of Royal Navy ships.

The ministry was asked about the report shortly after Viscount Hall, first lord of the admiralty, denounced the Communist action as "inhuman and unprovoked."

The temper of the British public was reflected when Communist party Secretary Harry Pollitt appeared at Dartmouth and discussed the action by the Chinese Reds. An enraged mob broke up the Communist meeting and Pollitt only escaped danger through quick police action.

Would Have Long Flight

Viscount Hall's statement was the first utterance by a high British government official on the incidents in which Chinese Communist shore guns on the Yangtze river crippled four British ships and inflicted scores of casualties.

A spokesman for the air ministry pointed out that movement of planes in the Far East remains at the direction of Air Marshal Sir Hugh Lloyd, headquarters commander in chief at Singapore.

He said aircraft presently in Malaya include Mosquitos, Beaufighters and Spitfires but pointed out they would have a 2,400-mile flight to Shanghai which would have to be made in easy stages.

Air Force To Take Over Base Soon

Move To Bring Hundreds Of Persons To City; Planes To Fly By Nov. 15

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK today will step up plans to "welcome home" the Air Force.

Preparations for return of the Air Force were given an official okay Friday with the announcement that Lubbock Air Force Base will become a unit of the nation's vast peacetime training program in the near future.

Civic leaders were already at work late Friday to start the complex task of providing housing and meeting other stipulations laid out by the Air Force as prerequisites to reactivating the base, located 10 miles west of Lubbock, as a pilot training school.

ECONOMIC BOOST

City's Leaders Approve Move

Lubbock businessmen and civic leaders Friday night were in hearty agreement that re-establishment of Lubbock Air Force base will be invaluable to Lubbock.

Most of them recognized problems for which solutions must be found. But all were in agreement that economically, reactivation of the field is one of the four or five most significant events in the history of Lubbock.

Expressions from civic leaders and businessmen included the following:

Mayor W. H. Rodgers—"Reactivation of the base might mean success instead of failure for Lubbock in later years.

The Air Force Base and other institutions, like Texas Technological college and the Veterans administration regional office, will be great stabilizing forces in Lubbock."

Spencer A. Wells, chairman of the Air Force Base committee of the Chamber of Commerce—"It is one of the biggest things that has happened to Lubbock in recent years from the standpoint of the longtime future. Of course, it carries with it many obligations that the entire citizenship has to recognize and undertake to assist in fulfilling. This has not only to do with the reactivation of the base but will be a continuing responsibility after the base is opened to make the Air Force people feel at home and feel a part of us. It is my understanding that early next week the entire citizenship will be brought into the picture with a request for their unstinted assistance in all different angles. The picture presented to us by those in authority indicates a personnel of between 3,000 and 3,500, which in itself is a tremendous increase in the monthly payroll coming into Lubbock."

Retha R. Martin, president of Dunlap's Department stores—"I think it's a great thing for the town. It gives us a steady source of income and a stabilizing influence."

E. J. Parsons, manager of J. C. Penney company—"I am tickled to death about it. The more people we get here the

MISSING PLANE SOUGHT

PORTLAND, Ore., April 22 (AP)—Some 30 search planes scanned a wide area near here today for trace of an Air Force B-26 missing since yesterday. The plane, with three aboard, reported shortly before noon yesterday that it was within three minutes of Portland on a flight from Hamilton field, Calif. No further word has heard.

Economic Impact Noted

The vast economic significance of the news was echoed by a majority of the city's business and civic leaders. The reactivation of the base will bring to Lubbock a payroll of five to six million dollars a year. In addition, official purchases of such supplies as gasoline and food, equipment and other commodities are expected to total nearly that much annually.

The effects of this on the economic structure of the city will touch every business and, directly or indirectly, almost every resident of Lubbock and the surrounding area in the same ratio of suddenly transplanting a new city into the section.

The announcement from Air Force Headquarters in Washington Friday afternoon revealed that Lubbock Air Force Base will be reactivated on a permanent basis "as soon as possible."

The base will bring to Lubbock 2,700 officers, airmen and aviation cadets, and 650 civilian workers. Early estimates indicate that including families, 5,000 to 6,000 persons will move to Lubbock as a direct result of the reactivation.

The additional personal buying power that Air Force and civilian families will bring is beyond any possibility of estimate at this time.

The Air Force will start letting construction contracts July 1. All families now living at the base must be out by August 1, when first permanent air base personnel will arrive in Lubbock.

By Sept. 20 the first students, as an advance unit, will be at the base. By Nov. 15 planes will be flying.

The Air Force notified Senator

Federal Credit Rules Relaxed

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The Federal Reserve board today lengthened to 24 months the time limit for completing installment purchase payments and simultaneously cut the down payment to 10 per cent for everything but automobiles.

The new regulations will become effective April 27, marking the second time the board has relaxed credit controls in less than two months.

The new 24-month time limit replaces the 21-month limit that has been in effect since March 7. The 10 per cent cash down payment replaces a 15 per cent requirement also in effect since March 7.

Could Revive Controls

In addition, the board exempted from control requirements furniture, radios and refrigerators and other now-controlled items costing less than $100. Previously, the only exemption was for articles costing less than $50.

Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the board, declared that any increase in credit which may result from this new relaxation "would not under present circumstances be a significant element in reviving inflationary pressures."

"If, however, such a condition were to arise again, I am sure the

Regional Meet, Judging Contests Set

Thousands Expected For Events At Tech

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

SEVERAL thousand visitors and high school students from some 200 West Texas schools are expected to swarm into the city today for four events on the campus of Texas Technological college.

The day's program at the college includes the annual Region One Interscholastic league literary and athletic meet, the annual Area 1 and 2 Vocational Agriculture high school judging contests, and the 17th annual Tech Engineering show and the 13th annual Home Economics Open house. The latter two events got underway Friday.

Many Attend Exhibits

The Engineering show and Home Economics Open house opened at the college at 2 p. m. Friday, and continued to draw record crowds until 10 p. m.. The doors will open again this morning, and greater crowds are expected to attend the showings today than yesterday.

A total of 6,412 persons were counted at both the Engineers show and Home Economics open house by closing time last night. Officials said 3,547 visitors poured through the Engineering displays while 2,865 persons visited the Home Ec exhibits. Both figures surpassed opening day totals last year, and today's figures are expected to be much higher.

Approximately 1,000 students from some 200 high schools in West Texas are to participate in the literary and athletic contests of Region One of the Interscholastic League.

One-Act Plays Given

Region One covers all of the South Plains and Panhandle area, and extends as far west as El Paso. Director general of the regional meet is Sam Leifeste, member of the Texas Tech faculty.

The first event of the regional meet, the Conference AA one-act play contest, was conducted last night in Senior High school, with top honors carried off by the play and cast of Lubbock Senior High school. The only other competing play in the contest was that of Amarillo High school.

The Lubbock one-act play, entitled "Jazz and Minuet," was directed by D. M. Howell. Anita

Seven Men Injured In Refinery Blast

EUNICE, N. M., April 22. (AP)—An explosion at Skelly Oil company's new refinery here today injured seven men, two critically.

Plant Supt. C. C. Coffey said a leak in a natural gas line probably caused the blast. It occurred at 9:55 a. m. CST as the line was being connected in the engine room. The gas presumably was touched off by a spark from equipment there, Coffey said.

Doctors reported one of the workmen, B. J. Lee, 39, of Eunice, was near death. Lee and Entis Reese, 37, of Eunice, also in critical condition, both were placed under oxygen tents.

Others brought to Barzun hospital here, all with second and third degree burns, were R. W. Beck, 47, and C. H. Bethany, 35, likewise of Eunice, and C. Z. Ward, 37, of Monument, N. M.

(In Lubbock Friday night, Mrs. Marguerite Stiles, executive secretary of the Lubbock County Red Cross, said that the chapter had been asked to send nurses to Eunice, N. M. to help treat the blast victims. Mrs. Stiles was making an effort to obtain nurses, she said.)

West Offers New Plan To Germans

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—An ace American trouble-shooter, Robert D. Murphy, rushed overseas tonight to sell a "compromise" plan of limited self-government to balking Germans and thus prevent Russia from winning a big round in the cold war.

The compromise was offered by the big three—the United States, Britain and France—after the powerful German Socialist party turned thumbs down on a big three offer for a federal German state with limited powers.

In the compromise, made public tonight, the three powers gave in slightly to the Socialists' demands for more centralized control of the finances of the proposed West German regime.

Secretary of State Acheson picked Murphy, his top expert on German affairs, to put the compromise across. Murphy is American political adviser for the occupation.

The urgent reason for the move was this: If the Germans should finally reject the Western Allies' offer to create a German government in the western zones, it would be a big diplomatic victory for Russia.

Big three atempts to agree on a

Abernathy Youth At Boys Ranch To Undergo Spinal Treatment

DALLAS, April 22 (AP)—Tommy Abney is in Dallas for treatment of a spinal ailment and his pals at Boys' Ranch, near Amarillo, are mighty concerned about it.

Tommy, 16, went to the ranch recently from Abernathy. Three brothers also are at the ranch.

The Texas Society for Crippled Children paid the expenses of bringing the boy here and Dallas specialists are going to treat him free.

Tommy was examined by Dr. Albert D'Errico, who said:

"It doesn't look good at all."

Tomorrow, Dr. H. H. Beckering will examine him.

It will be two days or so before a decision will be made on whether Tommy needs an operation. Cal Farley, president of Boys' Ranch which is maintained by public subscription in the Panhandle, brought the boy to Dallas.

GRAIN STORAGE ISSUE AIRED

Truman Accused Of Deceiving Farmers In Election Campaign

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22—Sen. Williams (R-Del.) today accused President Truman of "deliberately" deceiving farmers on the grain storage issue in last fall's presidential campaign.

Williams in a Senate speech declared this was "planned political strategy" on the part of Mr. Truman and Agriculture Secretary Brannan.

Unexpected Republican defeats in normally GOP farm states were attributed at least partially to Democratic assertions that the 80th Congress curtailed government storage bins.

Democratic campaign speakers argued that farmers were having to sell their bumper 1948 grain crops at below support prices for lack of storage bins.

Williams levelled his charges as the Senate debated a bill to revamp the set-up of the huge Commodity Credit corporation, the federal agency which buys farm produce to support prices.

The bill would specifically permit the CCC to acquire grain bins.

Williams read a letter from Harker T. Stanton, assistant counsel of the CCC, who held that under

Truman Asks Congress For Compulsory Medical Insurance Plan To End 'Unnecessary Suffering'

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22—President Truman asked Congress today to help end "unnecessary human suffering" by approving a compulsory medical insurance plan which, officials said, might cost $6,000,000,000 a year.

Workers pay checks and employers payrolls would be taxed to finance the program.

Declaring that "good health is the foundation of a nation's strength," Mr. Truman appealed anew for adoption of the broad 10-year health program he previously had outlined to the lawmakers. This calls for a vast expansion of the country's medical services and hospital facilities, plus increased numbers of doctors, dentists and nurses.

But the President laid major stress on the compulsory health insurance program in his 3,000-word message to Congress. This proposal, first advanced in 1945, already has become a subject of controversy, not only on Capitol Hill but also among the medical profession itself, with opponents contending it will mean "socialized medicine."

Mr. Truman, however, pointed to the recent spread of voluntary medical insurance plans as "proof that our people understand the advantages of health insurance and desire its extension."

"Unfortunately," he added, "voluntary plans have proved inadequate to meet the need." He said that while some 50,000,000 Americans now have "some form of health insurance" only "three and one half million of our people have insurance which provides anything approaching adequate health protection."

Brushing aside opponents' charges that the federal insurance project would be too costly, Mr.

FORGERY REVEALS NEW TECHNIQUE

A new twist in forgery techniques has been reported to the sheriff's department in connection with a check passed at Shallowater.

A magazine salesman, according to reports, had written a subscription for a Shallowater person, then had traced the subscriber's signature on a check for $10 which was passed at a Shallowater store.

Burglaries, Thefts Reported

Five pounds of bologna, two or three cartons of cigarets and an unknown amount of gasoline were taken in a burglary of premises of A. J. Strader, who lives on Thirty-fourth one mile east of Five-Point drive-in theater, Strader informed the sheriff's department Friday.

Police said there also had been a burglary yesterday morning of a used car lot at 1939 Texas Ave.

R. W. Caruthers, in reporting theft of a two-tone 1948 Chevrolet aero sedan off the lot, said the office had been ransacked.

Second Car Stolen

Another automobile, a 1949 maroon Ford club coupe, license AP 7538, was reported stolen from A. A Browning of 1924 Thirteenth, police said.

Still another burglary, of a packing company here in March of 1948, was closed with conviction of one of three suspects who went into Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court and pleaded guilty. He was Billy Eugene Johnson, 21, of Lubbock. A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney said three-year sentence was sus-

Arlington Feed Dealer Frees Rooster From Bottle Prison

ARLINGTON, April 22. (U.P.)—"Big Jim" had something to crow about today.

"Big Jim" is a roosted who gained his freedom after being confined in a five-gallon water bottle for seven weeks.

The barred rock rooster's liberation was credited in large part to Mrs. A. H. Brady, secretary of the Tarrant County Humane society. She protested to W. B. Lindsey, Arlington feed store manager, when she first heard about it.

"I asked him how he would like to be cooped up in a bottle," Mrs. Brady related. "He told me he wasn't a chicken.

Mrs. Brady threatened to file a complaint for cruelty. But Lindsey decided to free "Big Jim" rather than drag the rooster into court. So he broke the bottle.

Today, the rooster was following Lindsey around "like a pet dog."

Lindsey said he put the rooster into the bottle when the fowl was very young. His idea, he said, was to show that a chicken confined without greenery and eating only chicken food would outgrow chickens having the run of the barnyard.

At his liberation, "Big Jim" weighed three pounds seven ounces. Lindsey said that was three quarters to a pound more than the weight of a comparable rooster with freedom.

WORK HALTS ON NAVY SUPER SHIP

U.S. May Scrap Plans To Build New 65,000 Ton Aircraft Carrier

By ROBERT G. NIXON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22. (INS)—It was learned today that all work on the Navy's 65,000-ton super-aircraft carrier has been ordered stopped pending a final decision on whether it should be constructed.

Secretary of Defense Johnson is expected to make the administration's decision known Monday in a clarifying statement.

The final decision on whether to build the super-carrier, or possibly even a larger carrier, will depend on the outcome of a study now being made of the possibilities of the weapon by the joint chiefs of staff.

Study Conducted

Secretary of Defense Johnson, it was learned, has taken no positive stand on the carrier. His decision, and President Truman's will be made on the outcome of the study being made by the chiefs of staff.

A high authority said the reason for the study was that the new fast-as-sound rocket and jet fighter aircraft have so revolutionized flying that the use of aircraft carriers for the new types of superfast aircraft must now be considered in a completely new light.

The jet aircraft require a very lengthy run for take-offs and landing.

Space Requirements Change

Whether carriers of the future will be able to handle the new 700-mile-an-hour jet fighters and bombers is the big question now being explored by the chiefs on orders of the President and secretary of defense.

Another major problem of strategy involved, it was explained, is whether it may be necessary in future air warfare to use carriers for take-off aircraft, though the aircraft could not reutrn to the carriers because of the lengthy landing space required.

One of the puzzling phases about the proposed super aircraft carrier was the announcement last Monday that the keel of the ship had just been laid. A photograph was released showing the keel of the vessel.

Investigation Ordered

It was learned on highest authority, however, that actually the keel of this super carrier was laid 90 days ago, before Johnson became secretary of defense.

Johnson ordered a complete investigation of the need for such a carrier when he learned of the revolutionary problem set up by the latest type of jet aircraft.

The carrier would cost at first about 180 million dollars.

This was described as being "just a drop in the bucket" on what the final cost of the carrier might be.

The question in the mind of some defense authorities is whether that money could be used to better purpose in the defense plans now.

Texan Who Aroused Wrath Of Yankee Judge Is Out Of Jail

AMARILLO, April 22. (U.P.)—Louis Bob Conley, A Texan who brought down the wrath of a Yankee judge last year, was out of jail again today, awaiting action of a federal court on his application for a writ of habeas corpus.

He is charged with flight—to Texas—to avoid prosecution — in Massachusetts—on a variety of charges, ranging from beating his mother-in-law to failure to provide support for his wife and child.

The Conley case precipitated a "north-south" uproar last year when a Brocton, Mass., police court judge observed that it proved his contention that northern women should not marry southern men.

Borger Defeats Hubbers, 9-7

Club Blows 2-1 Lead In Ninth

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Don't look for the same type of excitement tonight that existed at Rosenthal Field for two hours and 49 minutes last night when the Borger Gassers outlasted the Lubbock Hubbers to take a 9 to 7 victory in 10 innings.

If they only could have called the game after eight innings, 1,000 fans might have gone home entirely satisfied. Instead, they saw the Hubbers, holding a 2-1 lead going into the top of the last frame, blow victory just as it seemed securely within their grasp.

Cotton Russell, the losing hurler, hadn't exactly baffled the Gassers for eight innings, but they had made their seven hits good for only one run in this period. Russell, though, usually has one bad inning and last night he chose the ninth in which to have it. As a result, the Gassers put together a walk, a double and four singles to fashion four runs.

Prince Gets Double

The Hubbers came right back t tie it up when Jim Prince, Hubber star last night, drilled a double to left centerfield. Chick Fowler singled to left, and J. I. Petersen came in to relieve Coleman Robison. Nelson Davis, hitless to this point, greeted his first pitch with a single that scored Prince and after Charley Willis had lined out, Royce Mills drove a double into rightfield and the score was tied.

But prosperity was too much for - ssell, who promptly got himself into trouble. He fanned Billy ᐯ nns for the fourth time, only to feed a blooper single to Petersen. Jack Crowe sweated out a walk and Verdon Gilchrist singled to load the bases.

Manager Eddie Carnett, an old hand, worked Russell for an Annie Oakley to force in one run and then sent Clayton Fries, a southpaw pitcher, in to hit for Gordon Nell. Fries pumped a single to center and Crowe and Gilchrist dented the rubber.

That was enough for Manager Jackie Sullivan — and Russell. Herby Pitts came on without enough time to warm up and Ken Sears introduced him to the game with a single to left that scored Carnett. Pitts settled down to fan James Littlejohn, hit Bob Ferguson and induced Wynns to ground out to end the agony.

Meet Again Tonight

It wasn't over yet and the dwindling fans remained. Mike Dooley beat out a double to left and Sullivan was safe on Gilchrist's error. Carnett came in to hurl at this point and fed a single to Prince. But the runners advanced only one base when it appeared that the ball might be caught in rightfield and that might have been a turning point.

Fowler fanned on a called third strike, and Davis skied to center, but Willis kept the rally alive with a sharp hit to left that scored two runs. The game ended seconds later when Mills popped to the catcher.

The same two teams meet here again tonight at 8, with Charles Willis the probable Hubber hurler.

Yanks Cop 5-3 Win Over Bosox; Giants And Braves Tie, 6 To 6

Rizzuto's Single Starts Yank Rally

BOSTON, April 22 (AP)—The undefeated New York Yankees, with strange faces in many positions, won their fourth consecutive game today and at the same time spoiled Boston's American league home opener by whipping the Red Sox, 5-3.

Boston pitchers doled out nine bases on balls and Yankee hurlers gave eight.

Tex Hughson made his first start of the season and didn't do too well. The tall righthander, who went to Texas to pitch in the hot sun last season after two arm operations, walked six Yankees and was rapped for five hits in six innings.

The loss, however, was charged to lefty Earl Johnson, second of four Boston hurlers.

Allie Reynolds, starting and winning New York pitcher, wasn't much better as he walked five and was banged for all seven Red Sox hits.

The Yankees scored three times at Johnson's expense in the seventh.

Phil Rizzuto started the rally by rapping a single to center. Johnny Lindell and Tommy Henrich walked, filling the bases.

Rizzuto scored as Yogi Berra forced Henrich, Billy Johnson then lashed a safety to center, scoring Lindell and driving Earl out of the game.

Dave Ferriss got Gene Woodling on a fly to center but Dick Kryhoski blasted a two bagger into center field to score Berra from second with the third run of the inning.

CARDINALS BLAST CUBS, 9-2, BEHIND AL BRAZLE

ST. LOUIS, April 22 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals found their batting eyes today and blasted the Chicago Cubs, 9-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Al Brazle. The victory was the first of the young season for the Cards and opened the National league season here.

KINER'S HOMER GIVES BUCS 5 TO 4 WIN OVER CINCINNATI

PITTSBURGH, April 22 (AP)—Ralph Kiner, the Pittsburgh Pirate slugger, belted a grand-slam home run today as the Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind to win their home opener, 5-4, from the Cincinnati Reds. Kiner's homer tied the game in the third inning and the Bucs scored the winning run in the fourth on Clyde McCullough's triple.

Lamesa Edges Amarillo, 4-3

LAMESA, April 22 (Special)—Lamesa's Loboes came from behind in the eighth inning to tie the game and then pushed a run across in the bottom of the ninth to win the first of two games from Amarillo Gold Sox, 4-3, in a West Texas-New Mexico league baseball contest.

E. Mellilo was the hero of the hour, getting credit for batting in the winning run. After Leo Rheingans struck out to open the inning Frank Calo was hit by a pitched ball. He scored all the way from first base when Mellilo hit a long double to left field.

Lefty Bill Jones, the leagues leading pitcher in 1947, but ineffective last year, flashed his old time form in his first 1949 start, striking out five batters and giving up seven hits—all singles. He might have done better except for streaks of wildness, walking eight men and loosing two wild pitches.

Darwin Dobbs, Amarillo hurler, pitcher a fine ball game but received poor support. However only one run was unearned.

Morris Cowser was the batting star of the night with four singles in four trips to the plate for Amarillo.

Defensive stars for Lamesa were Rheingans, making two sensational running catches, and J. Haney who took a fly ball and threw a perfect strike to home plate to catch a man trying to steal home in the fourth inning. Haney was ejected from the game in the eighth by plate umpire Crann for questioning a called strike.

The game tonight was the first of a two game series for the two clubs, and a crowd of 1,150 persons witnessed the tilt. Probable pitchers tomorrow are Jim Reynolds, Amarillo, and Paul Cooke, Lamesa. Both are righthanders.

The game starts at 8 p. m.

Westerners Take Doubleheader From Brownfield, 19-3, 12-1

Benny Day Holds Cub Nine Hitless

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High school's Westerners took two steps in the right direction—the south half championship—Friday at Chapman field by defeating Brownfield in a District 1-AA baseball doubleheader, 19-3 and 12-1, for their third straight district win. The first tilt was seven innings and the second five.

Lefthander Benny Day set the Cubs down without a hit in the second tilt and the only run scored after getting on base via the walk route. The young southpaw struck out eight batters and walked three. The first three men to face him went down swinging.

Jimmy Richards, converted fielder, held the Cubs hitless into the fifth inning of the opener before giving up a hit, and Brownfield went on to make six safeties. Glenn Gorby pitched the first game for the visitors, and Jimmy Billings pitched the finale.

Galey Leads Lubbock

Kenneth Grawonder and Ray Carter led the hitting for Brownfield in the first tilt, getting two hits apiece in three trips to the plate, and Grawonder scored twice while Carter made the other tally.

Leading the Westerner attack with two hits in two times at bat was Second Baseman Charles Galey, knocking a two-run homer in the third and beating out a bunt in the sixth. Jessie Fullerton, hard-hitting first baseman, had two base knocks in four trips. He and Galey each scored four runs. Every player in the lineup scored at least one run in the first tilt.

Errors contributed greatly to the large score in the games, the Cubs making 12 in the opener and seven in the finale while the Westerners were responsible for only three in the two games. Two balks, five wild pitches, and two passed balls also helped Lubbock.

Juniors Do Okay

The third inning of the opening game the Westerners batted around, scoring five runs on three hits and three Brownfield miscues. One of the blows was the homer by Galey. Neil Sikes and Richards made the other hits.

Fifteen men paraded to the plate in the fourth inning as the local nine made 10 runs on three hits, three errors, eight walks, three wild pitches, a passed ball, and a balk. The Brownfield team could do nothing right as the Westerners scored at will, and the last two innings were bunting drills for the home teams as they tried to rush the game along.

Coach Fred Taylor started all boys with at least one more year of eligibility in the second game, and the juniors did all right. The six hits were distributed among Dan Adkisson, Powell Hinson, Morris Turner, Bobby Brown, Jimmy Sexton, and Garnet Reeves.

Henderson-Mougin Fight Ducats Available For April 26 Bouts

The Bill Henderson-Jean Mougin lightweight boxing match is only a few days away, and the Jaycee-sponsored fight card will be held April 26 at Chapman fieldhouse. Tickets are available at the Jaycee box in the Hilton hotel lobby.

Henderson and Mougin will tangle in the main 10-round event Tuesday night, and the match should be a good one. In the previous meeting between the two Mougin emerged the victor after a ninth round KO of Henderson in his only setback in 16 professional fights. Since that time Henderson has had one fight, and he scored a TKO over Paul Guerrera of Juarez, Mex., when the latter suffered a broken nose and could not answer the bell for the seventh round.

Another local boy, Gene James, will be on the program, and he will be opposed by Dickie Brown of Amarillo whom he decisioned last year before turning pro. James won his first fight by a TKO in his only professional performance. The two boys are heavyweights and will fight a four-rounder.

Also matched are Sammy Galvan of El Paso and Chino Alonzo in the semi-finals match for six rounds. Both fighters are expected to weigh-in at approximately 134 pounds.

Two more bouts are expected to be arranged before fight time. One will be four round match, and another six round bout will be made. The matchmaker is Dickie Griffin of El Paso, who matched Mougin and Henderson in the El Paso fight last month.

Henderson will be going through roadwork and sparring with Galvan and Alonzo the next few days.

Cooper Nine Drops Wilson

COOPER, April 22 (Special) — Cooper High school beat the visiting Wilson High school baseball team here this afternoon 3-1 before a large Parents Day crowd.

Buddy Ward, winning hurler, went the route for Cooper and fanned 14 men, allowing only three safeties. Bednarz gave up nine safe hits and fanned six for the losers.

Cooper jammed over the winning two runs in the third inning, after Wilson scored once in the top half of the frame for a short-lived lead.

Vern Ehlo, catcher, walked to open the inning. Bobby Dodd singled him to third and Ehlo scored on Bobby Joe Henderson's double. Dodd was caught off third for the first out and after Ward singled, Henderson was nipped off third for the second out.

But Eugene Hindman and Eugene Hamilton hit successive singles and on the latter Ward crossed the plate to win his own game.

Weldon Howe, Cooper shortstop, turned in a good game and his coaching at third helped the winning cause.

The line score:

COOPER	002 001 x—3 9 2

Phelps Says Game Broadcast Stopped

BORGER, April 22 (AP)—Wayne Phelps, manager of Borger radio station KHUZ, says a KHUZ broadcast of a Pampa-Borger baseball game at Pampa last night was stopped by the owner of the Oilers.

He says E. L. Edmondson, owner and operator of the Oilers and the Oilers' park, has forbidden KHUZ to broadcast games when Borger plays in the Pampa park.

"I think that baseball fans are getting the rough end of the deal," says a statement by Phelps.

"I thought that the West Texas-New Mexico league had an agreement made Dec. 7, 1948 in Amarillo, Tex., whereby they would allow out of town radio stations to broadcast games.

"I do not intend to invade any man's private enterprise.

"We intend to abide by Mr. Edmondson's edict . . .

"We will do all in our ability to continue other road game broadcasts . . ."

Region One Track, Field Meet Slated To Open Today At Tech

Over 325 Athletes Expected For Event

The second Region One track and field tournament with competition in Class AA, A, and B will get underway at 9 a.m. today at Texas Tech track. Finals are at 1 p.m.

Entries from 18 districts, including three from AA, five from A, and 10 from B, should boost the number of teams to almost 100, and the individual entries are expected to go beyond the approximate 325 figure participating in the South Plains Relays last week.

Perfect track weather has been very much in presence the past few days, and another good day would help the athletes in their bids for new records.

Last year was the first time that the Texas Interscholastic league ran the regional meet in three separate divisions. Until then the Class AA, A, and B schools all competed against one another in their bid for a berth to the state meet. Under the rules the first two boys placing in each event deserve to compete in the state meet in Austin May 6-7, just two weeks away.

Same As State Meet

The meet today will be run in the same manner as the state meet. Every event will have the finals in the senior AA division, followed by A and B, before the meet moves on to another event. This is the same way the big track meeting at Austin takes place.

Winner last year was Lubbock, and Amarillo took second place. Seminole, sparked by their great cinderman, Val Joe Walker, won the Class A team championship, and Panhandle was the winner in Class B, topping second place White Deer.

Several records should go by the boards today in Class A. The 120-high hurdles mark of 14.3 seems less likely to be broken than any of the present marks. It was set last year by Bill Howton of Plainview.

The 100-yard dash mark of 10 set by Carl Mayes, Pampa, was equaled last week in the South Plains Relays and appears in jeopardy.

George McCormick set a new mark in the 440-yard dash and then equaled it in the finals last week at 52.2. The regional mark of 52.6, set by J. Johnson of Lubbock seems a cinch to be broken with a good day and a fast track.

Lubbock's Chances Slim

Last week Charles Seiber, Amarillo, tossed the discus 148 feet, 8½ inches, good enough to break the regional mark of slightly less than 143 feet. And the shot-put mark of 46 feet, 9 inches is in a position to be broken, either by Seiber or another Amarillo product, Robert Whiddon, who heaved the shot 48 feet last week to a new meet record.

The mile relay record of 3:33.1, set by Childress last year, was matched last week.

Lubbock is given little chance of winning the meet this year although it took first place the preceding five times in succession.

An admission price will be charged in the afternoon with 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

HUNT BOYS WIN

Hunt Junior High school boys beat McWhorter school boys in softball yesterday afternoon 6-5, but the McWhorter girls softball team licked the Hunt girls 24-13. Both games were played at the Hunt school grounds.

CUB MANAGER AND PRIZE—Charlie Grimm, Chicago Cub manager, hands a bit of advice to Dwain Sloat, young pitcher formerly with the Dodger chain at Fort Worth. Sloat is regarded as one of the better prospects in the National league this year. He came to the Cubs via the draft route.

723 TOP ATHLETES ARE ENTERED

Well Balanced Field Expected As Kansas Relays Get Underway

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 22 (AP)—One of the better balanced fields in the history of the Kansas Relays will scrap for individual and team trophies in the cinder meet tomorrow.

Bill Easton, for years director of the Drake Relays, says the field for the meet tomorrow is "the kind that makes for great competition and possible records."

Easton, now in his second season as Kansas track coach and Relays director, cites the pole vault as one of the nip-and-tuck events.

At least four entries have cleared the bar at 14 feet or better. Beefus Bryan, of Texas, set the record at 14 feet 2 inches in 1939. Harry Cooper, of Minnesota, Warren Bateman, of Colorado, Bill Carroll, of Oklahoma and Wisconsin's Tom Bennett each appear capable of bettering that mark.

Several other field events and a number of the track tricks shape up as even contests.

The "Glenn Cunningham" mile run should see a gruelling fight involving tiny Jerry Thompson, now a Texas graduate student, who won the mile in 4:12.3 in the recent Texas Relays.

Wisconsin, Texas A. and M. and Texas in the university class, and East Texas state in the college division appear best of the relay teams.

A total of 723 athletes representing 19 schools in the university group, 28 in the college division and nine junior colleges, are entered.

Wellman Wins Two Firsts In Tourney

MEADOW, April 22 (Special) — Wellman High school won two first places to top entries in the District 9-B softball and volleyball meet here today.

Wellman competitors won first places in the girls softball and in the boys volleyball. Other first places went to Sundown boys in softball and to Meadow girls volleyball.

Eight schools competed in boys softball, with Sundown beating Brownfield 13-8 for first place. Brownfield finished second, Meadow third and Bledsoe fourth. Others in the division were Ropesville, Whiteface, Union and Wellman.

Wellman girls won the softball division by beating Meadow 12-6, Meadow taking second and Brownfield finishing third. Other entrants included Ropesville, Whiteface and Sundown.

Meadow boys won the volleyball division by beating Union two games to one. Union was second, while other teams were Wellman, New Home, Ropesville and Bledsoe.

In the girls softball division, Wellman beat Ropesville two games to one for the championship. Ropesville finished second and other teams entered included Union and Meadow.

Dallas Whips Fort Worth

DALLAS, April 22. (AP) — The Dallas Eagles whipped Fort Worth twice here tonight, 10-5, 4-1 to stretch their Texas league victory streak to nine games.

An overflow crowd estimated at 13,000 watched the Eagles blast out 18 hits in the first game, including two home runs, then come from behind to take the nightcap.

Ward And Stranahan Advance In Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., April 22. (INS)—Harvie Ward and Frank Stranahan advanced to the finals today of Pinehurst's North and South Amateur Golf Tournament. They did the same thing last year.

Ward, who beat Stranahan last year 1 up, defeated former National Amateur champion Dick Chapman this afternoon 3 and 2.

Stranahan had earned the championship playoff by overwhelming Arnold Palmer of Wake Forest college, 12 and 11.

Ward was 4 up at the turn after shooting birdies on the fifth and eighth. Chapman took the 11th and 15th to cut the lead to two down. Then Ward shot an eagle on the 472-yard 16th to take the match.

Stranahan took five of the seven holes played this afternoon and closed out his match with even par for the seven and two over for the round.

Ward was five over par when his match ended.

TWENTY-FOUR TEAMS TO COMPETE

West Texas-New Mexico Bowling Tournament Gets Underway Today

The first balls of the West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament will be sent down the Lubbock Bowling club lanes at approximately 5 p.m. today, and from that time on pins will be flying.

Twenty-four teams will compete tonight, with eight-team shifts at 5, 7:30, and 10 p.m. Entries from such towns as Midland, Tucumcari, N. M., Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger and Dumas will be aiming for high scores.

Amarillo leads the list of first-day bowling with 15; Lubbock, Tucumcari, Borger and Dumas have two each; and Midland has one.

The total amount of entry fees for the tournament has reached approximately $4,500, E. A. Christensen, owner of the local club said Friday. Of this amount approximately $3,000 will be paid in cash prizes to the winners.

How It Works

Under the rules of the bowling association, at least one place must be paid for every five teams entered, or in case of singles or doubles, one place for every five individuals or doubles teams.

When a team is entered an entry fee is paid to meet expenses and to provide prize money. Every man in each event of Class A is assessed $5, and those in Class B and C pay $4 entry fee. Those wishing to compete for the all-events award pay $1 extra.

In Class A are the better bowlers, and anyone may enter. Class B is composed of those with averages between 150-170, and bowlers with averages below 150 are in the lower Class C.

A breakdown of the entries shows that 26 teams are entered in Class A, 35 in Class B and 10 in Class C. Therefore the number of places to be paid in Class A will be five, Class B seven, and Class C two. The number of entries in singles and doubles is not known, but the prizes will be distributed along the same lines as the team prizes.

Laughlin To Attend

Attending the tourney the three weekends of play—April 23-24, April 30-May 1, and May 7-8—will be John Laughlin, president of the WT-NM Bowling association and vice-president of the American Bowling congress.

He will help in the running of the tourney and will preside at the annual breakfast meeting of the association on May 1 at which time new officers will be elected and a site for the next tournament will be selected.

Sponsor of the fifth annual tournament is The Avalanche-Journal, and the newspaper will present prizes to the three first place winners in each class and to the all-events winners. The trophies arrived in Lubbock Friday.

Fretz Hurls Texas Aggies To 2-0 Win Over Oklahoma Tech

COLLEGE STATION, April 22 (AP)—Bobby Fretz pitched his first shutout today as the Texas Aggies blanked the Southwestern Oklahoma Tech Bulldogs, 2-0.

Southpaw Bob Henry of the Oklahoma nine had the Aggies baffled in all but the first and sixth innings. Guy Wallace doubled to left and Wally Moon singled him home in the first. The Cadets added a run in the sixth when John DeWitt doubled to left, stole third and came home on Bil McPherson's squeeze bunt.

Golf Meet Set For Amarillo

The first monthly meeting of the Panhandle Men's Golf association will be held at the Ross Rogers Municipal course in Amarillo Sunday, with golf matches following in the afternoon.

Play will be under handicap conditions and no golfer has to be a par shooter to enter. All entries and known handicaps should be forwarded to Amarillo before Sunday afternoon.

The tournament in the afternoon will be under the direction of Joe Houck of Borger, professional.

Each team entering the tournament must have at least six handicap golfers, along with a pro. Six lowest net scores will win the tournament prizes.

This is the first tournament of the year and expected to be present will be two clubs from Lubbock, two from Amarillo and one each from Borger, Pampa and Plainview.

Air Force To Reactivate LAFB For Training Program 'Soon'

Lyndon B. Johnson that the base will be reactivated "as soon as possible." It said the advance twin engine school of the Air Training Command now stationed at Barksdale field, Shreveport, La., will be moved to Lubbock in November.

The Air Training Command headquarters and the 47th Strategic Bombing Group will remain at Barksdale. The Shreveport base will be further utilized by the Strategic Air Command, although its units to be moved there have not been announced, the Air Force told Johnson.

Must Meet Needs

Now facing city officials and other agencies is the task of complying with "minimum requirements" of the Air Force for re-establishing the former Lubbock Army Air field on a permanent basis.

These stipulations were enumerated after Cong. George Mahon, Undersecretary of Air Eugene M. Zuckert, Major General Robert Harper and other high-ranking Air Force officers visited the field and the city earlier this week.

The terms under which the Air Force agreed to reactivate the west base are these:

1. All agencies and families which are now at Lubbock Army Air field, with the exception of Air Reserve units, must be off the base by Aug. 1.

Buildings To Be Restored

2. The buildings they were occupying must be restored or rehabilitated by Federal Public Housing authority or the Veterans administration in accordance with previous agreements.

3. One hundred units of non-commissioned officers quarters at a maximum rental of $40 per month, of acceptable standards, must be ready and available by Nov. 15.

4. Two hundred fifty units of officers' quarters at a rental of $80 to $100 per month must be ready and available by Nov. 15. The units will be made available through private construction.

5. The Fourth street extension must be paved to the base.

6. The Air Force must have the use of South Plains airfield (Municipal airport) for use as an auxiliary airfield, not to interfere with operations of commercial air lines. No farming between runways or chicken farming must be permitted.

7. The City of Lubbock or other agency must guarantee adequate bus service to and from the field.

8. Abernathy auxiliary field must be returned to the Air Force for use as a second auxiliary landing field. The field is now owned by the City of Abernathy.

City officials and members of the Chamber of Commerce Air Force base committee unanimously agree that the terms can be met without undue difficulty and are already engaged in efforts to meet them.

One of the first big jobs to be done is to provide substitute housing for the approximately 400 families, mostly of G. I.'s, who now live at the field.

Officials Already On Job

Working on that job already are officials of the City of Lubbock, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock Housing authority, Texas Technological college and private businessmen.

Announcement that families living on the base will have to vacate should come as no surprise.

They pay from $20 to $32.50 a month for housing, depending on the size of the quarters.

When Lubbock Army Air field was built, it was built with the aim of eventually becoming a permanent base. At the end of the war, when housing was extremely acute, the Chamber of Commerce secured permission from the Air Force to use some of the buildings on a temporary basis for housing of G. I. families.

For at least a year, the families have know that the move would come. First announcement of that possibility was made early last summer.

Tech Seniors Included

Of the 400 families, approximately 80 are of Texas Tech seniors who will be graduated in June and probably would move anyway.

City, college, and chamber of commerce officials and the Lubbock Housing authority were not caught "flat-footed," nor are they any more than duly concerned about the task of providing additional housing.

Several solutions can easily be employed to provide 400 housing units of a standard comparable to that where the G. I. families are now living.

The question is which solution will prove the most desirable, and expedient.

Until a decision is made, authorities decline to elaborate on any of the contemplated methods by which immediate housing facilities will be provided.

Moving in of housing units of acceptable quality and size is considered the most likely answer.

The re-opening of the field as Lubbock Air Force base will open another chapter in the distinguished history of the field.

It was late in December, 1941, that the first large number of military personnel arrived at the field from Brooks field, San Antonio, as a security detatchment. In the early weeks of 1942 the first class of cadets arrived and started the intensive training routine which led to their graduation as pilots and commissions as second lieutenants.

Men who trained and received their wings at LAAF flew the bombers, Flying Fortresses, Liberators and B-26's, the fighters, the P-47's, the transports and cargo planes over such targets as the Ploesti oil fields, Berlin, Rome, Naples, Mersburg, Hamburg, Tarawa and Iwo Jima, Wake Island and Guam, the Philippines and Okinawa, the Hump and Burma and the emperor's palace in Tokyo.

Early in 1944 the field completed its mission of training pilots and began turning out instrument pilots, a job it continued until the field was closed on Dec. 31, 1945.

It had turned out a total of 7,008 bomber, fighter and transport pilots and 1,718 instrument pilots.

Second Oldest Training Base

LAAF was the second oldest training base in the vast AAF Central Flying command during the wartime expansion era.

During the four-year history of the field the post had five commanding officers: Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, who served from Nov. 19, 1941, until March 23, 1943; Col. Ralph E. Holmes, March 23, 1943, until June 27, 1944; Col. Howell M. Estes, jr., from June 27, 1944, until about Nov. 15, 1945; Col. Harold N. Holt, from then until about Dec. 15, 1945; and Lt. Col. William G. Snaith, during the closing weeks of the base.

The west base officially became "a sub-base of Goodfellow field at San Angelo, as of midnight Dec. 31, 1945," it was announced by Lt. Col. William G. Snaith, the fifth commanding officer, at the time.

A total of approximately 100 military personnel, officers and enlisted men, and 60 civilians completed the process of sending out records and supplies.

After the "temporary inactivation" was carried out, a standby force of three or four officials and three enlisted men remained along with about 60 civilians to maintain the field as a sub-base.

Lt. Col. James M. Hunter of Salt Lake City, Utah, who served several months in the Iceland command, was the standby commanding officer of the sub-base, and had six or seven military men to help him.

In the fall of 1945 the AAF released a list of permanent installations which did not include LAAF, and the inactivation originally was ordered for Nov. 15, 1945, but it was held up three or four times until the final date.

Lubbock Leaders

more business we will all do. I think it is a wonderful asset to Lubbock. I think the citizens of Lubbock should do everything possible to make these people feel at home."

Homer D. Grant, president of the Chamber of Commerce —"Economically, I think it is the greatest thing to come to Lubbock since the bases were originally located here. The task imposed on Lubbock is tremendous. The citizens of Lubbock have never failed in any assignment and they will not fail on this one."

W. G. McMillan, general contractor—"We have a personal interest in the base because we helped built it at the start of the war. It's a wonderful thing for Lubbock in that it will bring a tremendous payroll in. It is one of the best constructed bases of its type, because it was built just prior to the war, and I feel that it will be economical to the Air Force because it will require a minimum of upkeep and maintenance, especially since it has been well maintained in the past few years."

W. C. O'Mara, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co.—"I think it is going to mean a lot to all of us. That many people, the new homes and the payroll will have an immediate effect in uplifting business conditions. We have a big problem of finding living quarters for the families who are out there now. This and the excellent crop prospects promise a record-breaking fall."

Clyde G. Tatum, president of the board of trustees, Lubbock Independent school district—"I think it's grand for Lubbock. I don't know what it will do for the schools, but I think the schools will take care of the problem. We have recently purchased a new school site near Five Points with just such an idea in mind. I think for this year we will be able to take care of the increase."

Homer G. Maxey, housing developer and member of the Air Force Base committee—"I think everybody agrees that it is a fine thing for Lubbock. There is no doubt that it will increase the housing problem and housing development, but Lubbock has always provided housing adequate to its needs when materials have been available, and I feel sure we will do it this time."

pended during good behavior, upon application of the defendant's counsel, L. A. Howard of the firm of McWhorter, Howard and Cobb.

James Thomas, of 2810 East Ave. L, reported to the sheriff's office that a suit had been stolen from his home.

Police said corporation court judgment of $25 had been taken when David Harry Rathjen, 19, a student, pleaded guilty of theft of gasoline from the car of Richard Nunn, another student, early today on Texas Tech campus. Police said they held a jug and a hose in connection with the case.

Bond of $750 was set by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, in binding Edward Franklin Youngblood to grand jury investigation of a charge of desertion of four minor children.

In county court, Wayman Bush, 22, pleaded innocent of liquor law violation and posted bond of $500, the sheriff's department said.

New Trial Denied In Liquor Law Violation

County Judge Walter Davies announced Friday afternoon that he had denied a motion for a new trial for Robert White, 43-year-old Slaton negro, who was fined $500 and court costs and sentenced to one year in jail a week ago after he pleaded guilty of possession of liquor for the purpose of sale.

Hearing on the new trial motion was held Wednesday afternoon. The motion, filed Monday by Buck McNeil, attorney for the defendant, set out in part that White had been given a "supersonic, jet-propelled trial held so quickly as to deprive him of the rights under the law."

The state had asked for the enhanced penalty for White, setting out one previous conviction of liquor law violation.

Five-Month Drop In Living Costs Halted

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—Living costs have gone up a little after falling for five straight months.

The government reported today that its latest consumers price index rose 3/10 of one percent from mid-February to mid-March. It had fallen steadily since the record high of August and September.

The index is prepared by the Labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics as a measure of retail prices for goods and services bought by moderate-income families in large cities.

Nanking Abandoned

led to belief that their commanders temporarily had lost control. Military quarters said the 26th army, which was ordered to move into Nanking last night to defend the capital, never arrived.

The city gates are open and unguarded. Desertion of Nationalist troops was reported at many points. The defecting troops simply sat down and waited for the Communists.

Volunteer militia seemed to be bringing the looting slowly under control.

Soldiers were stopping cars on the street trying to commandeer them.

Defense Ministry Flees

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has resolved, with acting President Li Tsung-Jen to fight "to the end."

The foreign office formally advised foreign diplomats that Canton was the seat of government and urged them to move there.

U.S. Envoy Stays

A U. S. embassy spokesman said that so far Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart had received no new instructions from Washington that would cause him to leave Nanking.

The British embassy, also still in Nanking, announced that Communist artillery again during the day had hit the crippled British sloop Amethyst, in the river 60 miles east of Nanking. It had no word on whether fresh casualties resulted.

Health Program

Truman said "the truth is that we all will save a great deal more than it costs." He asserted that Americans already are paying about four per cent of the total national income for medical expenses. Based on last year's income figure of $224,420,000,000, that would be about $9,000,000,000.

Not even the staunchest backers of the President's plan would predict its approval this session. The subjec is packed with controversy and scores of other important legislative problems remain to be settled.

McGee In Wild Demonstration

"mistrial."

Doctors who examined McGee in his cell in county jail last night said he was quiet and showed no unusual or abnormal activity.

The drama came as a complete surprise to deputies who have had McGee in their care at the county jail for more than nine months. During that time they said he had been well behaved and rational, causing little or no trouble.

While most of the spectators remained frozen on their feet some rushed out of the few available

COCHRAN CASE POSTPONED

Judge Dan Blair, 72nd District Court, announced yesterday that he had advised the district clerk and sheriff in Cochran county that he would not be able to hold the trial of I. G. Golden, charged with murder, in Morton on April 25 as per schedule. The McGee trial in Lubbock would require his presence here, Judge Blair stated. He has ordered all jurors to be notified of the postponement.

doors. The boy's mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, Pampa, became hysterical after she got into the hall where she worried over the possibility of her son or some of the others in the room getting hurt.

Mrs. Ethel Allston, whose husband, R. L. Allston, was shot by Richard McGee on the afternoon of July 7, 1948, although sitting only a few feet from the berserk defendant, got to her feet calmly and left the room to be with some of her family. She appeared composed at all times.

Up until the break yesterday afternoon McGee has been sitting silent and glum in his chair at the counsel table. Most of the time his eyes have been closed and his head has been resting loosely on his chest. He had shown no emotion or interest in the proceedings and had only occasionally shifted in his seat.

After the incident occurred several members of the Lubbock police force were called in to aid in restoring and maintaining order. They remained at the doors of the courtroom until Judge Blair announced at 5:00 p. m. that court would be recessed until 9 a. m. Saturday morning.

Doctor Takes Stand

When the court was convened at 1:40 the first witness called was Dr. David L. White (no relation to Dr. Paul White called earlier). Dr. White was a resident physician at the San Marcos hospital in 1941. In October of that year, Dr. White said, he had treated McGee for a head injury.

When asked to describe the nature of these injuries, Dr. White said, "When McGee was brought to me he was suffering from a severe head injury resulting from a fall of 42 feet through the roof of a schoo' house."

Dr. White further described the injury as a concussion in which the brain tissue was damaged, more or less permanently. He said that it caused amnesia and disorientation.

Attorneys Clash Heatedly

Upon cross-examination, Dr. White admitted that in his experience at least 50 per cent of the persons so injured are successfully treated and never have any reoccurring difficulties. He added that he thought McGee's injury had been of permanent nature.

Fireworks and friction between District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and George Dupree, special assistant, on one side and the defense attorneys, Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, and Col. Simpson on the other, arose when Sheriff Jack Gary San Marcos, was brought to the stand by the state. Order was waived by the defense to allow Gary to testify and return to his home.

Upon being asked whether or no. in his opinion he thought McGee was insane, Sheriff Gary replied:

"That boy puts on a pretty good act."

Laughter broke out in the courtroom and Judge Blair rapped for order. He threatened to clear the room at the next such outburst.

Attorney Burks jumped to his feet and asked that the remark be stricken from the records. The prosecution objected to the defense arguing with the witness. The objection was sustained.

Borger Man On Stand

Upon being questioned as to previous conversations with Richard's mother, Mrs. Stull, Sheriff Gary stated that he believed Mrs. Stull had him confused with someone else and that he had only been a deputy sheriff at the time McGee was supposed to have been under his care in 1941. At that time McGee was a student in San Marcos high school.

The last witness to be called before the dramatic break was John Gikas, 26, who declared that he had been a close personal friend of the accused man since early boyhood when both were living in Borger, Texas.

"I was the one who hired the lawyer for Richard when he was faced with a sanity trial back in March, 1942," Gikas testified. Gikas said that often as boys they would sleep together and "Richard would act strange." In defining this he said that Richard would often talk continuously all night long in a disconnected manner.

"Sometimes he would fly into an uncontrolled rage and beat me with his fists. I never did try to fight him back although he was two years younger than me," Gikas continued.

McGee, who was later in military service, and Gikas did not see each other again until Gikas returned from duty with the merchant marine. At that time the two young men were living in Pampa.

"I often saw Richard put chewing gum in his mouth and chew it without removing the wrapper," Gikas said. When he questioned McGee about such actions he said that McGee answered,

"Oh! It tastes just as good that way."

Gikas admitted that he testified under oath in 1942 that McGee was sane and had been, at that time, normal in all respects.

Two other defense witnesses and two depositions from witnesses who are now residing in other states were presented to the jury in the Friday morning.

Banker Testifies

The first witness to be heard was Elmer East, vice-president of the Lubbock National bank. East, who is also trust officer of the bank and a licensed attorney, stated that he had been named the financial guardian of Richard McGee on May 12, 1948. He stated that this did not mean that he was the boy's physical guardian.

"I only saw the boy one time before the shooting," East said. "That was on July 7, 1948, just a few hours before the crime was committed."

"McGee came to me about 11 a. m. that day," East testified, "and asked to be given some of the pension which the bank was to handle for him. As we did not have any money of his at the time I had to turn him down. His conversation was normal and his actions appeared to be the same."

Tried In 1942

The other witness was K. H. Dally, Borger, former county attorney of Hutchinson county. Dally said he was prosecutor of a case in which Richard W. McGee was tried for lunacy back in 1942. The charges, he said, had been filed by the boy's mother.

The trial lasted all day, Dally said, and the jury returned a verdict that the boy was sane and he was released.

The trial took place at Stinnett while McGee was a student at Borger high school. The state brought out in the testimony that at that time McGee was an exceptionally good student and his classmates testified in his behalf. McGee himself was on the stand for an hour during the trial.

The first deposition was that of Dr. J. Lloyd Morrow, Passaic, N. J. Dr. Morrow had been in charge of the more severe mental cases at Darnell General Hospital, Danville, Ky., during 1944 and when McGee was brought there as a military patient.

Served In Italy

McGee served about one and one-half years in the Army Air Force. Seven months of this time was with the 723rd Bombardment Squadron in Italy.

"McGee was insane on July 9, 1944," the deposition read.

"It was impossible to say exactly what type of insanity McGee suffered but he had delusions, was generally confused, had hallucinations and a persecution complex," Dr. Morrow said in the written statement.

The defense attorneys, Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, and Col. E. A. Simpson, Amarillo, also introduced and read the Army records of McGee.

The discharge papers which were issued shortly after McGee was released from the Darnell Hospital read; in part,

"Honorably discharged for reason of dementia praecox unqualified incurred while in service and in line of duty. Such mental disease was not present at the time of enlistment."

Father Was Patient

The other deposition was from Dr. George W. Jackson, superintendent of the State Hospital, Little Rock, Ark.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and special prosecutor George Dupree, objected to the majority of question and answers in this deposition on the grounds that Dr. Jackson admitted his information was based on incomplete records and on recollections. It was let out that the father of Richard, one Gerdis McGee, had been an inmate of this mental institution sometime during the 1920s or 1930s.

Some historians believe that the first American coffee house was opened in 1689 in Boston.

Ray Ellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ellison, of 1917 Fifth, left Friday morning for Topeka, Kas., where he will preside at the meeting of National Distributive Education clubs, of which he is president. The meeting, which begins Sunday, will continue through Wednesday.

Approximately 200 persons attended a pie party Friday night at Shallowater Community clubhouse. Auctioneers Kenneth Bozeman, Coleman Cowan and Clarence Mathes sold a total of $425 worth of pies at the party, Earl Fine, coordinator of Lubbock county vocational schools, said. The money is to be used in building a farm shop in Shallowater for the Veterans' agriculture class there, Fine said.

J. A. Fortenberry, of Levelland road, late last night remained in serious condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital, an attendant there reported. He was admitted to the hospital several weeks previously after suffering a heart attack.

courthouse, at the time.

Quick work by the officer and his deputy succeeded in getting information of the escape to officials in surrounding towns. A watch was set up on key roads and streets. Davis probably went into hiding near where he was arrested, it was believed. He was heading southeastward toward the highway when arrested.

Howard county will accept custody of him when Terry county has disposed of his case.

Three other Lubbock men were sentenced to five and a half years in the penitentiary here this morning for burglary, in companion cases to Davis' They were Chester Wayne Morgan, 17, of 1614 Main; Ferlon Dwain McCreary, 20, and J. B. Jackson, 19, officials said. Five years of the time will run concurrently with two five-year concurrent sentences recently assessed against them for burglary in Lubbock county.

It had been planned to dispose of Davis' case similarly.

"I will make strong recommendation that whatever punishment is given at Davis' trial here be served cumulatively, not concurrently, as a result of what has happened," Sheriff Murry told newsmen.

Earlier, he had warned officials to be cautious in their manner of arresting Davis.

The four youths, or some of them, have admitted at least five burglaries and two car thefts, officials had said.

Big Spring authorities will transfer Morgan, McCreary and Jackson to Howard county and, after Davis' case is disposed of, will come here for him and try all the youths on a charge of burglarizing a Big Spring liquor store, it was announced.

Lubbock Couple Returns From Crime Movie, Finds Home Looted

A Lubbock couple who returned home last night from a movie entitled "I Killed Jesse James" found that a real crime had been committed within their own home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graves of 1924 Ave. N told police that a burglar had entered the house through a bedroom window, ransacking the place.

Two piggy banks were looted of $35, and two silver dollars and a fifty-cent piece were taken from a chest of drawers. they said.

Williams cited such campaign statements of Mr. Truman as "the Republican Congress has stuck a pitchfork in the farmer's back."

He argued that the President's statements were "deliberate misrepresentations" and wholly without foundation.

Some 74 high schools had entered one or more judging teams in the contests by Friday afternoon, deadline for entries. However, officials estimated that total number of schools with participating teams would be between 75 and 80, since it is anticipated that additional schools not yet heard from had mailed their entries before Friday afternoon's deadline.

Now, if the Germans themselves should scorn the plan it would put the big three on an awkward spot and officials fear it would encourage the spread of Communism.

USDA Potato Crop Payments Average $20,000 In Some Areas

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Some farms obtained an average of more than $20,000 for surplus 1948-crop potatoes sold to the government under its grower price-support program.

This figure was disclosed today by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan in a report which said the total cost of the 1948 support program for this crop already has approached $200,000,000. The average of more than $20,000 was reported for Rhode Island farms.

Similar potato support programs cost the government $90,000,000 in 1946 and $50,000,000 in 1947.

The secretary said these figures "show clearly some of the shortcomings of the present method" of supporting prices. He said he believes a new farm plan he laid before Congress April 7 would serve farmers as well as the present one — at a fraction of the cost to the public and without wasting potatoes.

Under the present method, the government buys from eligible producers who are unable to obtain the price-support rate in the market place.

By states, the number of farms eligible for price supports and the average amount paid each of these farms for surplus potatoes up to Feb. 22 included: Oklahoma 63 and $238; and Texas 130 and $3,931.

National Polio Group Aids Lubbock Chapter

The heaviest demand in the history of the Lubbock county chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has been experienced during the last 12 months, chapter officials announced.

The result was that the chapter not only used all funds raised locally but had to call on the national foundation three times for additional aid. This week, a check for $11,660 was received. In two previous calls, a total of $8,161.67 was received.

The money received this week will be used to pay hospital and doctor bills already accrued in the care of infantile paralysis patients.

During the last 12 months, the chapter has assisted 35 patients who were victims of the dreaded polio. At present, five of the children being aided by the chapter have been in hospitals for months and likely will remain months longer.

Following its March of Dimes campaign this year, the Lubbock county chapter kept more than $5,000 and sent more than $5,000 to the national foundation. The check received this week represents more than double the amount turned in from the county to the national organization this year.

Texas University To Acquire Austin WAA Plant For Research

Chinese Red Army Advance Seen As Threat To French Indo-China

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Paul Reynaud, former premier of France, says that the advance of the Chinese Communist armies creates a "very dangerous" situation for French Indo-China and other Far Eastern countries.

He says Chinese Communists are pouring across the frontier to help rebellious natives in Indo-China, and pose an ultimate threat to Siam, British Malaya, Burma, India and Indonesia.

French troops (of which there are more than 100,000 in Indo-China) have beaten off initial attacks, Reynaud adds, but his remarks indicate they cannot be expected to hold on forever.

Military Balance 'Precarious'

Reports from Indo-China already showed that the French had attained no more than a precarious military balance.

Ho Chi Minh's Viet Nam government has not been stamped out. Ho is not a follower of the Cominform line. He wanted to keep his revolution private. But as the Communist offer him the only important outside support, he will not refuse it.

Observers have wondered for some time how long it would pay France to oppose the independence movement. Indo-China produces vast quantities of rice and cheap coal for export, but hardly seems worth the $30,000,000 a month the armed occupation costs.

Any juncture between the Communists in this area and those in Malaya would present a serious problem for Britain. The Malayan Communists who, ironically enough, were mostly armed by British parachutings during the war against Japan, have mostly been beaten back into the jungles. But to clean them out still represents a serious task.

Burma, where three more or less Communist groups are contending for power, already have given western observers a taste of what can happen throughout southeast Asia.

Religions May Halt Reds

In speaking of India, Reynaud is looking a considerable distance into the future. Moslem and Hindu religions present strong barriers against Communism there.

With China conquered, Communism will have spread over nearly 800 million people. Territory which may be considered aligned in the western camp embraces perhaps 650 million.

This leaves the opposing factions in the cold war to contend for the allegiance of nearly a billion Asiatics. The stakes in the Far East are rapidly assuming a value comparable to those in Europe.

House Takes Action On Minor Legislation

Senate Takes It Easy After Feud

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 22 — The House made a small dent in its calendar this morning and then milled around two hours after noon until it got enough members present to vote to adjourn until Monday.

The Senate rested after a long filibuster. Oldtimers said it was the longest in modern Texas legislative history.

Four bills were passed by the House this morning. Twenty-five more were waiting on the special calendar but were left by the wayside.

House Doors Closed

"Hogtie, box, crate and pistol whip these members to get them back in," Rep. Tom Cheatham of Cuero demanded.

"Get the highway patrol out and get these members back here," Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake declared.

When the House convened at 2:30 p.m. the roll call showed 67 present. The doors were closed to keep those there from getting out and the sergeant at arms was instructed to bring in absent members.

Those present voted to stay there until 5:30 p.m. to get a quorum. But at 4:25 p.m. a vote showed 102 members, a quorum, present. The vote to adjourn till Monday came immediately.

Senators went home at 9:55 p.m. Thursday after a filibuster against the basic science measure ended on a compromise. They had been in continuous session since 2:30 p.m. Wednesday—31 hours and 25 minutes.

Four Bills Approved

House bills passed and sent to the Senate this morning were those:

1. Establishing a standard measurement for natural gas.
2. Regulating the use of 2,4-D, a weed killer.
3. Permitting tax remissions totaling $200,000 for two years for the flood control district within Dallas county.
4. Allowing towns of 2,000 population or less to accept donated telephone systems and issue bonds to improve the systems.

An omnibus tax bill was to be brought up in a hearing before the House Revenue and Taxation committee Monday. Its author, Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth, said today he was still hopeful the legislature would be able to trim its spending to fit income but he wanted work to begin on the bill "just in case."

The natural gas measurement bill defines a cubic foot of gas.

"Some opponents said this was an attempt to raise prices," said

Home Economics, Engineering Events Continue Today

Large Crowds See Tech Shows

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Existing attendance records were smashed Friday as the largest crowd ever to attend the first day of the annual Home Economics Open House and Engineering Show at Texas Tech visited the campus.

Large crowds of high school students from the surrounding area who are at the college for the Region One Interscholastic League meets and the Vocational Agriculture judging contests which will be held at Tech today added to the large attendance of visitors.

Andrew Willingham, publicity chairman of the Engineering show and Rosalyn Schreier, publicity chairman of the open house said a total of 6,412 persons attended the two events Friday. The open house will continue through 5 p. m. today with the Engineering Show scheduled to close its doors at 10 p. m.

Friday's crowds saw an excellent display of the various equipment and classroom facilities that Texas Tech has to offer students seeking an education in engineering or home economics. The main engineering building was the scene for exhibits from the departments of civil, industrial, electrical and mechanical engineering. The departments of architecture and allied arts also had exhibits on display in that building.

Paintings On Display

Visitors were greeted outside the building with a small radio controlled car that electrical engineers had built. One of the interesting exhibits featured by the civil engineers was a giant Olsen Testing machine used to determine the strength of concrete. The machine is capable of exerting a force of 200,000 pounds.

Outstanding art students had many paintings on display. The Texas Fine Arts association had several of its prize winning paintings hanging for public inspection. A model paper mill producing a continuous strip of paper was popular with the crowds. Students in industrial engineering operated and explained the mill to visitors.

An antique music machine which was invented in 1912 has been restored to operation by a Tech student and it was featured by the electrical engineers. Mechanical engineers had a mechanical hula girl for visitors to wonder at.

Textile Mill In Operation

From the main engineering building visitors were shown through the textile building which had its complete textile mill in operation and the Military building which the R.O.T.C. unit at Tech occupies. The R.O.T.C. had many modern weapons on display with several outstanding displays of model bridges and road building operations which showed just how closely the R.O.T.C. is connected with engineering.

In the chemistry building visitors saw a magic show which included a candle which burned under water and the many uses of liquid oxygen. Also in this building, the physics department featured Madam Electron, an automatic fortune teller and a giant tesla coil which threw an electrical current between two coils.

Oil Equipment Shown

The petroleum engineers had deep well pumping units and well cementing units on display outside their new building. On the inside descriptive movies on various phases of oil field work ran continuously. There was also scale model structures of an anticlinal oil reservoir and many cutaway exhibits showing oil field equipment.

Visitors to the open house put on by the senior home economics students at the college were es-

AIR TRAFFIC HERE RANKS HIGH

Pioneer Air Lines Joins In Battle Against Erosion In West Texas

How an airline can help fight the battle against one of West Texas' major problems—soil erosion—is being demonstrated day in and day out by Pioneer Air Lines, its president, Gen. Robert J. Smith, said in Lubbock Friday.

The general and Harding L. Lawrence, Pioneer vice president, were here on one leg of an annual "spring housecleaning" tour of five cities.

No inconsiderable weight in focusing public attention on conservation problems is being exerted by the crews of planes in flight, Mr. Smith explained.

"People like Dr. Paul Walser of the Soil Conservation service at Fort Worth are invited to speak to pilots and hostesses of our planes. Through these talks and literature pilots become familiar with examples of good conservation and extreme erosion."

"When the pilot, in the course of a flight, sees one of these examples, he passes a flight program to the hostess, who points out the scene below, thus giving passengers a bird's-eye-view instead of the so-called worm's eye view."

"It's amazing how much interest is generated this way. Just recently Harry Miller, a Brady oil man, came to see me in Dallas to talk about conservation after one of these flights."

Pioneer employes recently heard a talk by Louis Bromfield, noted author and soil conservationist, during Bromfield's visit to Houston.

"We of the Airline feel that we have a responsibility to contribute to the community, not just to serve it," Smith asserted. "We plan to stay a long time and to shoulder our responsibility of rendering service.

"I think that is a basic philosophy of the United States, to give more and more service downward and outward to more and more people. That's what we are trying to do. And I think that is what happened when rural free mail delivery, farm-to-market roads, rural electrification, and laws like the pure food and drug act were established."

At a luncheon meeting of American Business club Friday in the Hilton hotel, Gen. Smith discussed that philosophy.

He had other good news. Last year Lubbock ranked fifth among the 25 cities Pioneer serves in number of arriving and departing passengers. Ahead of Fort Worth, Lubbock was exceeded only by "The rabbit show turned out to be a bigger thing than we anticipated," said L. E. Settle, show secretary, at the end of Friday's judging.

"We are scheduled to run Saturday and Sunday," he continued, "but it is doubtful if the judging will be complete, since over 350 rabbits have been entered."

AT RANGER-RANCHER DAY PROGRAM—Students at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school Friday revived the spirit of the Old West with their first annual Ranger-Rancher day observance. Practically all the school's 545 students and teachers were clad in Western attire for the event. Shown above are eight students who took leading parts in the day's activities. Standing, left to right, are Virginia Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter, 3003 Thirty-first, general chairman; Francelle Bingham, daughter of Mrs. C. B. Jones, Brownfield highway, "most typically Western-dressed boy;" Nancy Lynne Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Shepherd, 3111 Twenty-first, chairman of the afternoon assembly; Marian Hampton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hampton, 3312 Twenty-second, party chairman; and Jerry Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Red Cross To Type Blood In Ralls Today

Plans were made Friday by Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross for typing of blood in Ralls today.

Mrs. Pauline Watkins, volunteer worker with the Red Cross in Ralls, is making arrangements for typing of blood from 1 to 3 p. m. today in the Southwest Public Service Co. offices. Representatives of the Lubbock county chapter will type blood of prospective donors.

A banquet was conducted in Lorenzo Thursday in the First Methodist church, with 110 persons attending. Mrs. W. B. Agee, co-chairman of the Lubbock blood bank committee, was the main speaker. Bob Edwards, blood bank technician, and Miss Irene Pipes, technician at St. Mary's hospital, and Mrs. C. E. Davis, motor corps chairman, attended from Lubbock.

The Lorenzo Lions club sponsored a blood contribution project there Thursday. Leon Pierot, Ralls chairman of the blood donor service there, will arrange for persons to come to Lubbock to give blood as needed.

WESTERN CELEBRATION HELD

J. T. Hutchinson School Observes First Annual Ranger-Rancher Day

The Old West in all its glory was revived for one fleeting day at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school Friday as 545 students of the school staged their first annual Ranger-Rancher day celebration.

The students, clad almost without exception in full Western regalia, put on a colorful program featuring two assemblies and a three-hour, after-school party.

Highlighting the day's activity was the naming of Francelle Bingham and Truman Jones as the school's "most typically Western-dressed girl and boy." The selection was revealed at the beginning of the afternoon assembly.

'Western' Luncheon Served

Miss Bingham, an eighth-grade student, is the daughter of Mrs. C. B. Bingham, of 3016 Twenty-ninth. Young Jones, a ninth-grader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones of Brownfield highway.

Jay Gordon, school principal, estimated that at least 90 per cent of the students and teachers wore appropriate Western dress for the occasion.

The day's program opened with a morning assembly, "Western Varieties."

At noon, the school cafeteria served a special Western-style menu.

The afternoon assembly was in the form of a Western quiz, in which participating students were asked questions about ranch subjects.

Each room of the school had candidates in the "most typically Western-dressed" contest. Contestants, in addition to the winners, included: Catherine Wilson, Clell Spann, Frances Cate, Roland Ponce, Patti Hill, James Lewis, Shirley Rankin, James Green, Marian Hampton, Carol Collins, Robert Heath, Nolan Vincent, Virginia Carr, Billy Hollingsworth, Tommie Wynn, Clyde Tatum, jr., Carla Maxey, Helen Benton, Eldon Sterling, Carolyn McCorkle, James Taylor, Alan Stone, Sandra Stone, Don Boles, Jackie Fortune, Ann Heatley, R. G. Box, Betty Bartlett, Lola Peticolas, Gayle Smallin, and Billy Pressley.

THE DALLAS PLAN:

Worth Investigating

THE celebration a few days ago of the first anniversary of the removal of the Chance Vought Aircraft plant from Connecticut to Dallas might suggest an opportunity to the residents of most Texas cities interested in securing larger industrial payrolls for themselves.

The removal was a gigantic lock-stock-and-barrel job—said to have been the largest undertaking of its kind in history. It involved the shipment of about 875 freight carloads of machinery and equipment and the transfer from Connecticut of 1,300 key employes and their families. Approximately 4,000 additional employes were hired in Dallas.

The enthusiastic consensus of everyone involved appeared to be that the maneuver is a huge success. Executives and transplanted employes, as a whole, like Texas much better than Connecticut for many reasons.

It is reasonable to suppose that operators of factories of many kinds in New England and in other parts of the country have watched the Chance Vought venture with intense interest. The further supposition is more than logical that the spectacular success of the undertaking has caused such operators to give increasingly serious thought to the desirability of moving to Texas themselves. Some of them unquestionably already are looking around for sites in this State.

The probabilities are that numerous factories now located in the more northerly regions will be moved to Texas within the next few years. As a general proposition, the cities which get them will be those which go after them hardest. The possibility appears definitely to be one to invite thorough investigation by every interested community—including those of the South Plains which possess many advantages unsurpassed in Texas for numerous types of industry.

A Booby Trap

IF THE dictators of the Soviet Union actually are plotting war upon the United States and the Western democracies, it is to be hoped they will accept at full face value the declaration in Paris this week of Paul Robeson, the negro singer and one of the most rabid American Communists, that American negroes never would fight the Russians. Robeson's statement was made at a Communist-sponsored world "peace conference."

If the Russians should count on the support of American negroes in a war against the democracies, they are going to get one of the biggest surprises of their lives. True, there are some radicals among the colored people just as there are among the whites.

But as any American of average intelligence will attest with absolute confidence based upon personal contacts, American negroes will be in there fighting just as hard as any others if the Communists should force a showdown. It isn't necessary to go outside of Lubbock for the proof that the responsible colored people know Russia for what it is, along with everyone else of discernment.

It will do no harm, however, to encourage potential enemies to believe the Robeson fallacy. The shock of their awakening won't help their morale in either the plotting or the conduct of war when they discover they have counted upon support that won't be there.

Down Memory Lane

Cars are needed for the trip, it was said.

THELMA LOOMIS turned her spotlight up on the timber archway and read the twig letters carefully. Then she clicked off the spot and urged the car forward up the curved driveway. The Bar C Ranch house was dark, a somber bulk in silver moonlight. She braked the automobile in front of the door. On the parking lot were two cars—a convertible coupe and a grey sedan.

Miss Loomis moved quickly. From her big plain purse, she dug out a snub-nosed silver revolver. Expertly, she flipped the cylinder out and examined the shiny brass shells protruding from every socket. Satisfied, she eased out of the car and stuck the revolver in the wide belt of her policeman uniform.

Her flashlight probed over the other two cars, then swung back to the gloomy house. Thelma Loomis walked the length of the low porch slowly, her practiced feet making only the faintest noise on the tile. Above her hung dark stalactites of bridles and branding irons. Nothing stirred.

"Uh-huh," she murmured and clucked her tongue thoughtfully. Ignoring the brass knocker, she punched the button beside the door and stood listening to the distant loneliness of chimes. When the last tone had died, she tried the latch. The heavy door swung away from her on oiled hinges. Her flashlight cut a round hole into the blackness beyond. Lightly, she stepped after it and closed the door behind her.

THERE wasn't a soul in the house. Thelma Loomis was ready to stake her professional reputation on that.

But somewhere there had to be people. The evidence of the two cars pointed that way. Of course, Lieutenant Lay might have been wrong about Robottom.

She opened the back door and let herself out into a little patio, where galvanized-iron trash cans and an electric garbage disposer kept silent vigil. Outdoors was brighter than ever after the inky interior of the ranch house.

Miss Loomis went around the corner and headed for the higher boxlike building a hundred yards away. Suddenly, she stopped short, her hand fumbling for the snub-nosed revolver. Midway between the house and the other structure, something dark huddled on the ground, something that might have been a man. A darker blob crouched beside it.

"Good grief!" she ejaculated. The second shadow had moved. Thelma Loomis was staring at the outline of a huge cat, its ears erect, its eyes gleaming brightly at her. Her hand shaking, she tried to level the muzzle of her .32 at the giant animal.

"You nearly surprised me," the cat purred. "Not quite. Nearly."

Miss Loomis took a firm grip on herself to keep from breaking and running. She forced her legs to carry her forward, up to the cat.

"Nice kitty," she said unsteadily. The cat stood up on its hind legs and stretched.

MOONLIGHT poured over the face of Faye Jordan and the blonde woman began to understand the cat disguise. She had forgotten that she, too, was in costume. Her nerves unwound slightly and she chuckled softly.

"You're a policeman," Faye Jordan remarked.

"That's right," Thelma Loomis felt her smile slackening as she scanned the other, the unmoving shadow, with professional interest. "You certainly surprised me. Both of you."

"It's pretty fur, don't you think?" Faye said and preened the wooly material of her costume contentedly. "It zips down the back so I can get out. But I don't want to get out. I want to wear it all the time."

The other woman kneeled on the sandy ground and looked at the man huddled there.

The dark hawk face was relaxed and babyish. The man's head was lopsided with swelling under one half of the mussed silver hair. By Sagmon Robottom's ear rested a discarded stirrup iron.

Robottom's chest rose and sank regularly and an eyelid twitched.

"He didn't believe I was a cat." Faye crouched on the stable floor. Her mouth contracted viciously but the rest of her face was puzzled. "I think he said I mustn't use my claws. I don't like people who order me around."

"Would you like to go for a ride?" Thelma Loomis suggested soothingly. "Just the three of us. I know somebody you'll like to talk to, Faye. A man."

"Oh, that's a good idea." Faye bobbed her head excitedly "I like to talk to men!"

MR. TRIM howled with laughter. His mouthful of irregular teeth was a wide circle and his shoulders shook. But the sound was thin, not carrying far enough to spawn an echo from the rock walls.

He stopped suddenly. "Shock can certainly produce a variety of comical expressions," Trim said with a final chuckle "And yours rank with the finest in my collection. First, however—" his voice turned sharper "gently toss that .45 back to me, Conover."

John Henry made his paralyzed hand reach for it.

"Gently. Not that I trusted you with a loaded gun—but, on the other hand, you might now be tempted to club me with it."

Carefully, John Henry lobbed the automatic to the other man. Trim snatched it deftly from the air and put it in his belt. Without shifting his gaze, he pounded his wooden pistol down sharply on the saddle horn. The painted toy shell shattered. He peeled the broken pieces from around a short black revolver and flung them to the canyon floor.

"No need for masquerade any longer, is there?" he commented.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

EVERY now and then I throw out my chest, say hrrumph three or four times and decide that I am going to dash off a column of world-shaking importance.

BRANDEIS

"Every body else is doing it, so why not I?" I say to myself.

So then I set out to write a column on Russia and how to end the cold war in five hundred words.

I take the day's dispatches and look at the news pictures that have come through.

What do I see?

"Russ Shift in Germany Seen as Peace Feeler."

There, that is certainly important.

Then I look at the picture of General Vassily I. Chuikov, the new commander of the Russian zone of Berlin, and right away I revert to writing piffle.

In the first place, the name Chuikov strikes me funny, just as that of his predecessor, Sokolovsky, did.

Both names just cry out for puns. However, since the pun is notoriously the lowest kind of humor I am not going to resort to any. I shall leave that to Milton Berle and Fibber McGee and Mollie, masters of the pun.

Then I look at Chuikov's picture.

A fierce face. Bristling hair. Eyes that pierce you with their sharpness.

But then—

What is all that stuff on his chest? And on his stomach? And on his shoulders? And probably on his posterior, only the picture doesn't show that.

Medals. Tinsel. The very same little gewgaws that children love so well and that decorate our Christmas trees.

Baubles. Fancy ribbons. Gold braid. Stars, crosses, circles and curlicues—yes, just like a Christmas tree or a nursery.

Do they light up at the push of a button? I wonder.

If those things go all around him, how does he sit down?

Another look at the picture. Why that enormous handle on his sword? If the whole sword is in proportion to the handle, how can he ever use it? How can he ever manage to walk with the darn thing tied on to him? Doesn't it get caught between his legs and trip him?

SO you see, how can you feel so important about events when the men who shape them are such children?

How can you be impressed by the action of men when the men themselves are so vain and infantile?

Unfortunately, however, children can do an awful lot of harm as I told you the other day when I described the holocaust the little girl brought into our house over the weekend.

Even a baby can light a match that may start a fire which burns down a house.

The human race has improved everything under the sun except itself.

And yet, with all that, I'd rather be a human being than anything else.

GAMES BIG BUSINESS

Las Vegas Wide Open

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—The sturdy people of Nevada boast that they live on "the last frontier," and they intend to preserve their raw and unspoiled way of life insofar as bluenoses here and elsewhere will permit.

A party of Eastern newspaper correspondents, touring the West to study the more serious irrigation and power problems of this area, took a few hours off to broaden their viewpoint by a visit to this wideopen gambling capital, where every variety of games of chance is operated twenty-four hours a day, with the largest and gayest crowds bending over the roulette, blackjack, poker and craps tables in the early morning hours.

TUCKER

They saw a finely dressed woman, who was obviously not a professional, throw ten sevens for a total winning of $15,000 in less than half an hour. They looked on while housewives in kitchen clothes dropped nickels and dimes into rows on rows of slot machines standing in military formation.

Even the drug and grocery stores are equipped with these one-arm bandits so that shoppers may gamble with their change after purchases.

GUIDE: The city's appearance is as bizarre as the interior of these palaces. There are more bright lights in proportion than Broadway can flash, but these are more dazzling because they shine from the first instead of the eighteenth floor of a skyscraper.

"The Golden Nugget's" neon is said to radiate more heat than any other sign in the United States. Army jet pilots in training near here guide on it from as far as eighty miles away. The flat, desolate desert surrounding Las Vegas accentuates its glow.

A California gangster, alleged to have been linked with the late Bugsy Siegel and Frank Costello's underworld syndicate, arrived during the day to balance a divorce with immediate marriage. A Canadian financier likewise had established a forty-two day residence, and his lack of American citizenship did not prevent him from taking advantage of the easy divorce laws.

SLACKS: The night clubs range from rough imitations of Deadwood Dick's primitive day to establishments which rival New York's best, except that they are not so stuffy. Even in the swankiest places, colars, ties and coats are not required. The most prevalent feminine garb is slacks.

The floor shows are elaborate and beautifully costumed. The Western steaks, mountain trout and game are excellent. Although there is plenty of drinking, with guests permitted to wander from table to table with a glass in their hands, there was no sign of rowdiness. They seem to take their gambling too seriously to be riotous and uproarious.

AIMS: Although Las Vegas has a fairly rich agricultural hinterland, and the state hopes to lease the tremendous rambling magnesium plant operated by Henry J. Kaiser during the war to several small industries, gambling is the principal economic activity.

"Vegas," as the natives call it, aims to outshine Reno as a place of pleasure, and they have engaged "Steve" Hannegan of New York, who publicized Miami so successfully, to win it headlines. He keeps a staff of aides here, and they meet all movie actors and actresses even before they step off incoming trains and planes.

VICE: The reformers have succeeded in banning the ancient system of legal prostitution, which was dying out anyway. But the people are weary of outsiders who level the finger of shame at them for what they call their "honesty" in tolerating indulgence in the human vice of trying to win something for nothing.

As the editor of the Review-Journal at nearby Boulder City puts it in an indignant editorial, many other states—Washington, Idaho, California, New York—wink at gambling even while they receive revenue from widespread violation of the law.

"According to those who reside elsewhere," he says, "our whole theory of living is cockeyed. Our marriage laws are all wrong. Our divorce statutes do not conform, and our gambling ordinances are 'horrid.'

RECORD: "The whole world may put the curse of shame on the state of Nevada for being above board on the gambling situation. However, there are few places in the world which can claim a record in its gambling as the state of Nevada does.

"Here we admit gambling will be done, no matter what the laws are. We try to see, and have done a pretty good job so far, that there is no corruption, either of officials or patrons. Can 'other states say the same?"

VETERANS: The writer receives many letters from World War I veterans in want, asking if their economic status and condition entitle them to allowances or pensions from the government:

Answer: Since there are so many different classifications for veterans of this and other wars, it is impossible for me to answer each communication individually, or to check up on so many cases. Best advice for an ex-soldier is to tell his story to the regional Veterans Administration office, if there is one handy. He may discover that he is entitled to benefits he is not drawing.

Next best is to consult an adviser at the headquarters of any of the recognized veterans' organizations—the American Legion, Disabled Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Veterans' committee.

SPAIN: "What would happen in Europe today, if Spain fell under the domination of Russian Communists? Our country seems to be pursuing the Russian pattern by treating that nation as an outcast. Why can't we choose between the lesser of two evils?"

Answer: To this question by M. A. L. of Ebensburg, Pa., there is only one answer: A Spain dominated by Moscow would imperil all of Western Europe, and probably doom effective operation of the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Pact. Under such circumstances, France, Portugal and Italy might easily become satellite countries. The Mediterranean might become a Red lake.

Domestic political considerations have blocked recognition of Spain so far. Foreign Minister Bevin fears adverse reaction among labor groups. President Truman ditto concerning Americans for Democratic Action. It would also give the Molotov-Vishinsky chorus a chance to yap-yap again about our "imperialistic" policies. Nevertheless, eventual reestablishment of relations with Madrid seems assured.

Note of caution to the bride living in a newly constructed small house: Be careful not to make hubby angry; in a huff he might slam the door on the way out and shake the house down.

Believe It Or Not - - By Robert Ripley

PLAN CLAIMED NOT TOO DRASTIC

Social Program Is Given Boost

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, made a very penetrating and intuitive statement when he appeared this week before the House Ways and Means committee to endorse expansion of the social security system as proposed by President Truman.

"We need only to look back to the estimates made in 1935 when the first plans for a social security system were made to see how seriously sincere and able men can underestimate the dynamic character of our economy," he said.

"What we thought then were bold and generous plans now appear to be timorous and feeble gestures. I venture the same will be true again when another 14 years have gone by."

Now Face Actual Job

What is projected in the current Truman "fair deal" program, which now is beginning to move in Congress, contains nothing new beyond the program of a decade and more ago of which Mr. Green spoke. It is either an expansion of principles established by law then, such as now embodied in social security, Wage-Hour act and housing legislation, or embraces principles in measures then advocated but not yet realized, such as federal aid to education and health insurance, the latter a repetition of the pay-as you-go pattern of social security.

The task before Congress now is implementation.

That is sometimes overlooked. Often forgotten also are the long hard legislative battles of that other era that were necessary to write into law the basic principles of the New Deal, which are the basic principles likewise involved in the Fair Deal. All required months; some, years. All were subjected to compromise, for President Roosevelt asked much more than he got out of Congress, as will be President Truman's experience. But there will be progress.

The fighting was long and hard because basic principles were involved. We had to discard old principles and devise new ones to cope with problems that were raised by the serious breakdown of our economy in 1929, which showed plainly that its benefits were not widely enough distributed to keep it going and on an even keel.

If production is going at high gear, as it must if everybody is to have jobs, then it must have markets to absorb it and markets depend upon income widely diffused. That is fundamental, though some people still don't realize it.

But new principles were established during those years. That is sometimes forgotten, too. Quarreling with them now is futile, though it continues. For the nation took a new direction in that era, to which the AFL president referred, into a regulated and modified capitalism which is here to stay, as Senator Taft of Ohio, for example, sees so much more clearly than do some of his Republican colleagues. If they don't catch up in the years immediately ahead they will be slowly weeded out of places of power and influence, as quite a number were in the last election who failed to understand what has happened to our nation and among our people.

Example Is Noted

When Mr. Green talked of how the dynamic character of our economy was underestimated, he had in mind the constant Cassandra outcries during that other era that the measures adopted were going to bankrupt the country and change the form of our government. We have, to the contrary, enriched our economy, as events have proved, among other things by the development and utilization of our natural resources as well as our human resources. That must continue if we are to continue a strong and healthy nation.

It is bound to continue. What makes this sure is frequently overlooked, and William Green, himself, was a symbol of it as he sat before the House committee. What makes it sure is the organization of the producers of the nation since 1929, not only labor but farmers.

With that organization has come education as to the mechanics of our society and how it can provide blessings for all, and with that education has come the determination that the 1929 collapse will not be repeated. People are going to demand that the benefits of our great productive system be equitably distributed, and nobody is going to get into a bread line willingly any more.

It was the failure to understand the meaning of the awakening of the nation's producers and their subsequent organization for their own protection, which is the outstanding political fact since 1929, that led so many otherwise astute observers to miscalculate the last election in advance, and still leads some to misinterpret it after the fact.

Airline Head Speaks

Houston, Dallas, Midland and Austin.

But a fond hope of many Lubbock citizens—that Pioneer would establish headquarters in Lubbock—appeared to be smashed.

Gen. Smith said he understood that the adjutant General of the Air Force a few days ago inspected Ellington field, the line's current headquarters, and announced it was probable that the headquarters would not have to be moved.

Lubbock, like many other cities, had extended a hearty welcome to Pioneer in the event the headquarters had to be moved.

"Things like that are most gratifying and we are happy to have had these indications that we would be welcome," the general remarked.

With eight flights arriving and departing here daily, Smith said he hopes even better service can be established. An application is pending for a line joining Amarillo, Pampa, Enid, Ponca City, Bartlesville, Tulsa, McAlester, Okmulgee, Denison Sherman and Fort Worth.

But giant airliners for Pioneer? Not likely, Smith says.

"We feel that we can be of greater service by continuing with DC-3's, expanding by increasing the frequency of our service rather than by going to larger planes. Eventually we will replace DC-3's with later planes of comparable size."

Smith was asked his opinion regarding the squabble between Dallas and Fort Worth over the new Fort Worth International airport, which threatens to make Love field in Dallas a thing of the past.

"We naturally want to serve the airport closest to both towns" he replied. "The problem will resolve itself when the new airport is built to serve both cities, and like the other airlines, we will use it."

His record of running a successful new air line is equaled only by a distinguished war record. He was commander of the North African division of ATC during the war, with headquarters at Cairo, Egypt. At present he is commanding general of the 309th Reserve Bomb division. He has been in military and civil aviation since 1917 and has been head of the aviation department of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce as well as an official of American Airways and Braniff International Airlines.

The current tour is taking the general to San Angelo, Midland, Odessa and Big Spring as well as Lubbock.

Pay Section Is Defined In Test In Scurry County Humble Well

The Canyon pay section has been defined at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Huddleston, second producer for the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County.

After flowing commercial amounts of oil on a drillstem test to 6,715 feet in the Canyon, casing was run and the prospector drilled ahead beneath pipe.

A core was cut from 6,717 feet to 6,743 feet, recovering 18 feet of lime with slight oil stain.

A two-hour and 33-minute drillstem test then was taken at 6,715-6,743 feet and showed gas in 13 minutes and fluid in 65 minutes. The well cleaned to pits for 40 minutes, then was turned to tanks for 45 minutes.

Flow Is Recorded

It flowed at the rate of 13 barrels of fluid per hour, which was 85 per cent salt water. Gas-oil ratio was 650-1.

On last report, preparations were being made to attempt squeezing off the water.

The prospect is 660 feet from south and 573 feet from east lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey.

No shows resulted from a drillstem test at Humble No. 1-B Edmondson, wildcat one and one-quarter miles west of the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county and 760 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey.

The tool was open one hour at 7,111-35 feet, with a small blow of air for 40 minutes, and recovered 25 feet of drilling mud. There were no signs of oil, gas or water.

The venture was drilling ahead beyond 7,160 feet in lime and shale.

Two Tests Made

A deep unidentified lime formation in Northwest Scurry County underwent two drillstem tests by Humble No. 1 Edmondson, wildcat eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

The first examination, for 50 minutes at 7,980-8,080 feet, and a slight air blow for four minutes and recovered 20 feet of drilling mud.

A second drillstem test of the horizon was run at 8,079-8,118 feet, with the tool open one hour. A fair blow of air held at the surface for 30 minutes. Recovery was 90 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

This venture, 330 feet from north and east lines of section 327, block 97, H&TC survey, was drilling ahead beneath 8,129 feet in lime.

An outpost has been staked to the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County by Cities Service Oil Company.

It will be the concern's No. 1 Jolly, spotted 1,980 feet from west and 467 feet from north lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey, about nine miles north of Snyder. Drillsite elevation is 2,450 feet.

Oil Is Indicated

It is to be a 6,900-foot rotary exploration to test into the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian. Operations are starting by April 25.

Lone Star Producing Company drillstem tested its No. 1 Maule, North Scurry County wildcat, for one hour at 8,091-8,115 feet in an unidentified lime and chert formation.

A 2,250-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket slightly cut with oil, gas and drilling mud. More hole was being made.

Location is three miles east of Dermott and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed its No. 1-4 J. W. Brown for commercial production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in the North Snyder of North-Central Scurry County.

On an initial production test, the well flowed 24 hours through a 12/64-inch choke to make 441 barrels of 44-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,051-1. No water was present on the test.

Production was natural from the canyon open hole zone at 6,666-6,848 feet. Top of pay was picked on 66,56 feet.

This new producer is 680 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of the lease in section 441, block 97, H&TC survey.

Fort Worth Legion Posts Join In Fight To Keep Rent Controls

FORT WORTH, April 22. (U.P.)—American Legion posts in Fort Worth today were joining the fight for extension of rent controls here.

Bill Wills, chairman of Bothwell Kane post's committee for extension of controls, said the Liberator village Legion post has passed a resolution offering to aid the Bothwell post in its fight.

The Blackstone post also passed a resolution urging the state Legion executive committee to request Texas congressmen to try and obtain a five-year extension of the Mead-Lanham act. The act calls for shutting down all temporary housing projects by Jan. 1, 1950.

Authorities Continue Probe Of Met Opera Singer's Death

ATLANTA, April 22 (AP)—Atlanta police said today they are investigating "a possibility" that sexual perversion was involved in the pre-dawn slaying of Metropolitan Opera tenor John Garris.

Lt. M. M. Coppenger, homicide chief, said the investigation has produced "many reports" of unnatural sex activities.

"Naturally we are checking that angle," he said.

Dr. Herman Jones, Fulton county criminologist, said police are working on a theory that sexual perversion "might have been the whole thing behind it."

"That's about all we've got to go on now," Dr. Jones added.

Otherwise, police said, they are probing into a dark curtain of mystery. They had no definite suspects.

Bus Fare Hike Denied Wichita Falls Line

WICHITA FALLS, April 22 (AP)—The city council refused today to grant the Wichita Transit company an increase in bus fares, ignoring a strike threat.

City bus drivers are expected to walk out early tomorrow.

The council also hired Frank Wood, 43, a Fort Worth and Big Spring real estate dealer, as city manager. The job will pay $9,000 a year.

The council voted unanimously on both issues.

The transit company had asked a fare increase to ten cents straight and five cents for school children. Present fares are 7½ cents, with four tokens selling for 30 cents.

Transit officials said they could grant no wage increase to drivers without a higher fare. The drivers are asking $1 an hour. They presently get 92½ cents. They belong to local 1409 of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL).

The transit firm and drivers' union had agreed on a ten days truce which expires at midnight. The union called a meeting for 1 a.m. Saturday. A strike vote is expected to be taken then.

Texas Youngster Survives Fall Into Abandoned Well

DENISON, April 22. (AP)—Richard Jeanguenot, 3, fell in an abandoned 35-foot well near Aubrey, Texas, and has only a few cuts and bruises to show for his experience.

The child, son of Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Albert Jeanguenot of Denison, was playing on the top of the boarded up well yesterday when the planking caved in.

A few inches of water and the well's muddy botton broke his fall. Richard was rescued by the use of a well rope and bucket taken from a nearby well.

He was taken to Celina, then to Denison, for emergency treatment.

Artist Completes Portrait Of Lubbock Methodist Minister

When Tom Hall decided to paint a portrait of Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, he lost no time doing it.

He painted 18 to 20 hours daily and on Monday night finished the portrait in eight days. [illegible] presentation was made to Dr. Robinson Tuesday morning at the Methodist Men's Coffee club meeting in Fellowship hall of the church.

Hall, who lives at 2020 Main, used as model a photograph obtained from Mrs. Robinson.

A former student in Lubbock public schools and in New Mexico Military institute, Hall has won prizes for art at various times since he was in the third grade in school. Recently, a portrait, "Ruth," which he painted won in the professional class of an exhibit sponsored by district women's federated clubs.

The painting will be exhibited in the parlor of the church Monday afternoon at a tea following the Woman's Society of Christian service meeting.
