Reds Advancing on Pusan

Truman Agreeable To Stand-By Power

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said today he has no objection to enactment of stand-by powers to control wages and prices, and to ration consumer goods.

Mr. Truman set out his position in a letter to Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the Senate banking committee. That group is now working on controls legislation.

The president's nod of consent made it virtually certain that Congress would put in his hands the power to clamp on wage-price rationing whenever he feels they are needed.

Sentiment among the legislators for giving him that authority has been growing ever since Bernard Baruch, a mobilization adviser in two world wars, made a strong plea last week for all-out economic mobilization.

About the same time the White House made public Mr. Truman's letter to Maybank, House Republican leaders came out for handing the president stand-by, but not mandatory, powers in the rationing and price-wage fields.

After a meeting of the House GOP policy committee, Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts told newsmen "the consensus was that the powers should be on a standby basis, with the president having authority to put them in to effect when he thinks they are needed."

Mr. Truman's letter went to Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House banking committee as well as to Maybank.

In it, the president said he refrained from proposing wage, price and distribution controls to Congress "because it seemed more important to obtain quick action on the powers contained in his proposed defense production bill."

That measure asked powers for the government to take over any plants needed for national defense and to divide up scarce materials among manufacturers.

Mr. Truman said that measure (See TRUMAN, Page 2)

COMMANDING — Brig. Gen. Laurence B. Kelsor, above, is listed in official Army records as the commanding officer of the American Second Infantry Division which reached Korea from the U. S. and swarmed to the battlefront.

Fresh Troops Awaited to Defend Port

TOKYO, Wednesday (AP)—North Korean Red forces, exerting heavy pressure in the south, today pushed to within 40 miles of Pusan, U. S. port in southeastern Korea.

Fresh American troops were pouring ashore and moving up to the front. One unit was the fifth regimental combat team from Hawaii.

General MacArthur, in his Wednesday morning Korean summary, said the heavy Red pressure covered the southern front.

But the hardest blows came in the Kogang area, where the Communists were trying to break through to Taegu, South Korean emergency capital. They were about 32 miles southwest of Taegu.

A front-line dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent in Korea, placed the Reds southern thrust 15 miles west of Masan, on the south coast 25 miles from Pusan.

The MacArthur summary, issued a few hours after the United Nations commander returned from Formosa to Tokyo, said U. N. troops were attacking the Reds around Yangdok on the east coast. U. S. pilots reported the Communists in positions 1,500 yards north of the west coast city.

"It is possible that friendly forces have again forced entry into that port city," MacArthur's summary said.

The MacArthur release described the front as running roughly from one mile south of Yangdok to seven miles northwest of An-dong to 10 miles southwest of Sangju, one mile southeast of Kwangju, seven miles northwest of Kunchon, four miles northeast of Chiryu and six miles south-east of Chupju.

The summary spoke of slight U. N. troop withdrawals but said they were not forced and were made to prepared positions.

The push to near Masan in the south represented a gain of about 10 miles since Monday.

Other Red thrusts were developing around Kogang and flanking Hyop-hong in the southern sector and at Anong in the north. But no serious gains had been reported made at these three points.

The Reds apparently hoped to push United Nations troops off the Korean peninsula before sufficient arriving U. S. aid could reach them.

But hour by hour anxiously awaited American troops stepped ashore at a South Korean port. Some rushed to the front to brace battered American and South Korean units who have been shored back for days by the Red hordes.

Five Men Burned In Well Explosion

Five men were burned, four seriously, when an oil well exploded and burst into flames Monday on the Phillips-Harrah Lease, north of Pampa.

Most seriously burned of the victims was Raymond Bernhill, of Pampa, who received severe burns about the face, head, neck and lower legs. Physicians described his condition as "serious but not critical."

Other victims are Raymond Conner, C. J. Panches, Joe Hillbrand and H. O. Koehler. Hillbrand and Koehler, who was treated for minor burns and released.

The other three received serious burns about the face, head and legs.

Authorities listed the condition of the four as good this morning.

The explosion and fire that followed were caused from an accumulation of gas about the surface of the well, according to witnesses. All five of the victims it was reported, were working nearby when the gas exploded and a fire started about the rig.

The Pampa fire department arrived at the burning well and brought the flames under control. Firemen reported that they drafted water out of a nearby pond to fight the flames.

The rig, for all purposes, was destroyed by the fire, an official stated.

Swift Action Slated On Revocation of Harry Bridges Bond

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Swift action is expected on a government request that a federal court revoke the $25,000 bond which has given labor leader Harry Bridges freedom since his conviction last April 10 on perjury and conspiracy charges.

Federal Judge George B. Harris said he will hear arguments on the government's motion tomorrow. The date was set after the bench overruled arguments of Paul Leonard, Bridges' attorney, that more time was needed by the defense to prepare its case.

The Justice Department yesterday asked that Bridges' bond be canceled — an action which would send the left-wing maritime union official to jail.

In moving that the bail be revoked, Joseph Donohue, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, described Bridges as a "direct menace to the security of this country."

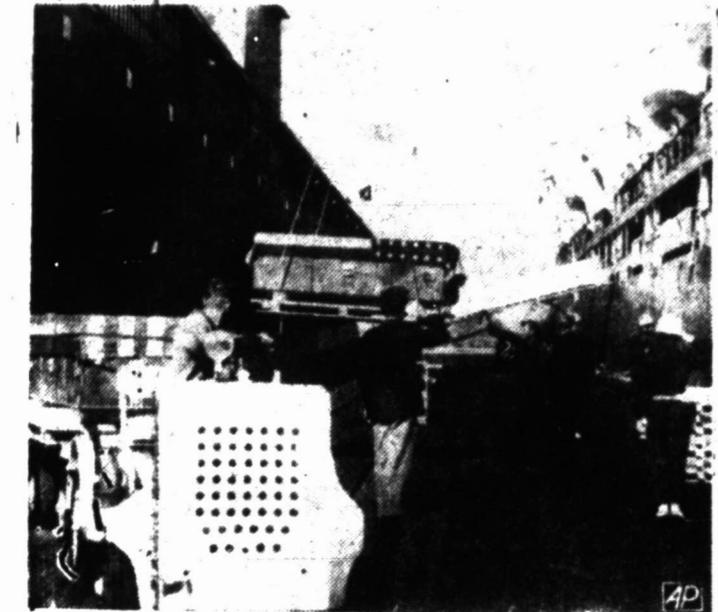

Affidavits filed by Donohue made extensive reference to Bridges' attitude toward the Korean conflict. It was stated that Bridges has been active in opposing United States and United Nations policy regarding Korea.

There also has been considerable friction between Bridges' president of the CIO Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union and other members, over his attitude toward Korea.

His conviction in federal court resulted from statements made when Bridges became an American citizen.

Executive of the Buffalo Elevator Managers' committee said the industry might have to shut down in two days for lack of supplies if the strike called yesterday continues.

Locals 36 and 119 of the American Federation of Grain Millers (AFL) said they would respect the picket lines.

Russian Plan Dims U.N. Peace Hopes

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Russia made it clear today that she will discuss peace in Korea only after the United Nations has considered her renewed demands for seating Red China.

The Russian position was disclosed as Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik prepared to end his seven-month boycott of the U. N. and assume the presidency of the Security Council when it meets this afternoon.

The western nations, headed by the United States, expressed assurance, however, of enough common values to override the Soviet veto in the Korean question at the top of the agenda.

Malik revealed the latest Soviet plan in a proposed agenda for today's meeting, submitted late yesterday and listing the China reorganization issue ahead of the Korean conflict. This dashed the hopes of those who had looked for Russia's return to signal an important change in Soviet foreign policy.

Council delegates generally agreed that a major procedural battle would be waged over any Russian attempt to delay debate on the Korean conflict. Malik as council president for August under the monthly rotation system, submits the peace body's program agenda. But the council majority has the power to adopt any order of work it desires.

The stage was set for such a fight by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin's surprise proposal late yesterday that called for a new condemnation of the North Korean invaders and a new appeal to all countries to halt spreading of aggression.

Austin asked that his resolution be taken up at this afternoon's council meeting.

The Soviet work sheet is worded as follows: 1. Adoption of Agenda. 2. Recognition of the representative of the central people's government in China as the representative of China.

Peaceful settlement of the Korean question. Austin filed his item, which refers to aggression in Korea, U. N. officials appeared to Malik to change his wording, or at least to add a new item which would permit discussion of the U. S. resolution. The Soviet delegate refused.

The U. S., however, was understood to have enough support to override any Soviet objections to revising the work sheet.

Experts were quick to note that in the draft Soviet agenda, the Russians now are demanding recognition of Red China by the council instead of demanding the ouster of the Nationalist Chinese representatives, as they did last January.

The council's rejection of that previous demand resulted in the Russian boycott. Observers believed the new agenda proposal indicated that Malik, as council president, might simply declare that China's seat was vacant.

July Rainfall Total Equals Nearly Half Of Yearly Average

Rainfall during the month of July totaled approximately half of the average year's rainfall.

Total precipitation for July was 8.15, which accounted for all but 1.85 inches of the total from January to the end of June.

These totals were gauged by Fortis Station KIDEN, little rain fell was recorded until April, when 27 fell. In May, three inches fell and in June, 50.

The heaviest rainfall during the month came on Friday, July 21. The total that day was 1.58 inches. On July 2, 1.15 inches fell.

August has made a start with 5.5 inch precipitation.

Truman Power Gets Missouri Vote Test

(By The Associated Press) A Democratic primary scrap testing President Truman's support in Missouri and senatorial support in Kansas drew national attention in primaries today in four states.

Virginia and West Virginia held House primaries only, the latter stage giving top billing to a comeback bid by former Democratic Senator Rush D. Holt, seeking a House nomination as a Republican.

Democratic voters in the president's home state of Missouri, in picking a Senate nominee, had as their main choice State Senator Emery W. Allison, of Rolla, and Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., a former U. S. representative from St. Louis.

Allison had the backing of Mr. Truman, Gov. Forrest Smith, and the James M. Pendergast organization in Kansas. Hennings, also a lawyer, served three terms in the U. S. House. Republican Senator Forrest C. Donnell has three opponents for a second term nomination, but none has statewide political support.

Belgian Parliament Given Leopold's Abdication Offer

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—King Leopold III bowed to the threat of civil war today and offered a slow-motion abdication which threw the thorny royal question back into the lap of Parliament.

Peace-minded Belgians hoped the king's offer would ease the critical tension which had mounted in recent weeks. Many Brussels citizens feared, though, that Socialist leaders of the anti-Leopold movement might not be able to control their forces.

Leopold, in a broadcast statement early today, said he would ask parliament to vote a delegation of his powers to his son, 19-year-old Prince Baudouin. Leopold would remain king in name only.

The king implied a promise of abdication with these words: "This attribution of royal powers to Prince Baudouin seems to me a necessary step towards the solution which ought to clear the way for accession of the crown prince to the throne when he reaches his civil majority (at 21) if, as I hope and desire, the reconciliation promised about my son takes place."

Baudouin will be 21 on Sept. 7, 1951.

Some anti-Leopold Socialist leaders termed the king's offer "satisfactory." However, the Trade Union Federation, which had sponsored widespread strikes demanding abdication, called for its regional committees to meet for a free evaluation of the new situation.

Leopold had offered yesterday to abdicate, then qualified his offer with conditions the Socialists and Liberals termed unacceptable. His latest move came as Brussels already waited behind closed shutters for a great motorized protest march on the capital today by thousands of strikers.

Organizers of the march called it off immediately after the broadcast of the king's message. But the marchers were already in motion and some had arrived in Brussels.

Wardlow Lane Again Governor Pro-Tem

Correspondent William Moore Is Unreported

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA (AP)—Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore has not been heard from since Sunday afternoon when he went to the Chingju battle front.

He last was reported with an element of the 24th division that was split in two by the Red drive. The unit fled Monday morning from Chingju.

Moore left for the Chingju front on the southernmost flank, Sunday afternoon by jeep.

Moore, 40, was born at Nowata, Okla., and worked on the Daily Oklahoman at Oklahoma City. He joined the Associated Press at Denver in 1937, served in the Army from 1942 to 1946, and rejoined the Associated Press in New York.

Moore had served as a major with the U. S. Army of occupation in Korea. He returned there as Associated Press correspondent in April, 1948.

Moore has filed a notable series of dispatches from the front.

Nine other newsmen have been reported captured, missing or killed in the Korean war.

Plane pilots reported the Reds kept steady pressure on the northern front where South Korean troops abandoned Yechon Monday. Yechon is an important link on the east-west highway route across the Hamchang-Andong front.

There was fighting in the streets of Andong at sunset. But the city was still reported in South Korean hands at that time.

On the central front the first cavalry division reported it was under heavy pressure all Tuesday and made a short withdrawal on its north flank. It claimed the destruction of 14 enemy tanks.

The U. S. 9th infantry division also made a planned withdrawal to stabilize its central north sector lines.

I got my eyeballs lightly thumbed, my knee reflexes checked and my ears pulled. Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis kicked, slugged and insulted each other like nifty windmills gone mad.

Martin and Lewis are professional screwballs from the nightclubs. They're very funny fellows if you like your comedy seasoned with insanity. Jerry Lewis, 24, born in Newark, N. J., wears a crew cut and, sometimes, a simian expression. Dean Martin, 33, of Steubenville, Ohio, and Long Beach, Calif., is the dark, good-looking crooner of the pair.

Now they're stars and investors in an independent production called "At War with the Army."

Dean and Jerry began slugging each other at the end of the lunch hour. Jerry explains, "We've been having a lot of fun on this picture." Dean: "I think they're going to shelve the picture and release us."

Jerry spontaneously assumes any character that comes to his agile mind. Suddenly, he was a corny vaudevillian: "A funny thing happened on the way to the studio today. I drove my car to two streetcars. Do you know anybody who'd like a tall, thin Buck?"

Next he was a doctor, tapping my knee with a pencil and fidgeting: "When we work, we really go to town." Dean: "We don't get back, but we go to town." Jerry flicked his cigaret ashes into Dean's hair. Dean, mowingly: "How much can I take?"

All-Star Pilots Named,
Sullivan to Boss South

PAGE 4 PAMPA NEWS, TUESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1950

Record Attendance Enrolled
At School for Texas Coaches

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Texas Coaching School entered its second day with more than 1500 enrolled and more coaches still ready to register. It is the biggest gathering of coaches the Southwest ever saw. Ticket sales boomed for the All-Star schoolboy basketball and football games that are the closing features of the huge clinic, particularly the football. Officials of the Texas High School Coaches Association, sponsoring group for the school and games, said a sell-out was clearly indicated for the football game that matches All-Star teams Friday night at Housh Park, the local high school stadium. With a standing room, a crowd of 12,000 is expected. The stadium seats 11,500. The basketball game, set for Gregory Gym Thursday night, will draw but about 3,000, but that will be the biggest crowd since this feature was inaugurated. Only once has it broken even on expense, that being at El Paso when 2,700 turned out. L. W. McConachie, executive secretary of the association, said 1219 high school coaches had registered for the school in addition to 100 college mentors and about 100 sporting goods salesmen and others, making the total around 1520. The previous high total was 1354 last year at Beaumont. Both the football and basketball squads were holding two-day practice sessions. Yesterday's workouts showed enough that the starting lineups are already about set. Bud Wilkinson, coach of Oklahoma who is coaching the North football squad, indicated that he would have this starting lineup for the kickoff Friday night: Jerry Fouts, Wichita Falls, and George Kendall, San Angelo, tackles; Don Goodwin, Arlington, and Jack Archibald, Highland Park (Dallas); guards, Jethro Cotter, Littlefield, and Don Goss, Sunset (Dallas); center, Joe McDonald, Sherman, backs; B. H. Wagoner, Wichita Falls; J. O. Wilt, Hughes Springs; Jack Newby, Amarillo, and Bob Rollins, Wink. Clarence Munn, coach of Michigan State who is tutoring the South squad, that is one of the biggest in point of pounds in an All-Star game history, was particularly high on the work of Roy Pace of Temple and S. M. Meeks of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), two of his backs. He indicated, however, that he would start Donnie Smith of Kerrville, Max McGee of White Oak, Tommie Ward of Galveston and Pace in his backfield with James Gist of Marshall and James Ray Smith of West Columbia at ends. South Knowles of Waco and Sid Ramos of Beaumont at tackles. Joe Vasquez of San Jacinto (Houston) and Darrell LaFitte, Port Arthur, guards, and J. T. Senholm of Austin at center. The basketball squads are being coached by Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and Henry Iba of Oklahoma A. and M. Rupp, who is coaching the South squad, was impressed with Jack Mosher of Texas City, Earl Tipton of Midby (Houston) and Joe Dan Dickerson of Waco. Iba liked big Henry Ohlen of Paschal (Port Worth), Gib Ford of Amarillo, Joe Abbott of Canyon and Richard Bryant of Crozier Tech (Dallas), particularly the latter.

Majority Football
All-Stars Going to
University of Texas

AUSTIN — (AP) — Where are the All-Stars going? Mostly to the University of Texas, says a poll of the football players in the North-South All-Star game here Friday night. The Longhorns will get 11 of the top-notch gridirons, the boys themselves indicate. Rice and Southern Methodist will get 8 each; Oklahoma 4, Texas A&M 2, and one each to Lamar Tech, Colorado Mines, Texas Christian, Arlington State and Tyler Junior College. Seven are still undecided and five did not reply to the poll. The complete list of the schools the stars have selected is:

Baseball Gives
'Old Scotsman'
Radio Network

DALLAS — (AP) — Known to millions of baseball and football fans as "the Old Scotsman," Gordon McLendon is building an extensive radio network out of baseball. The youthful owner of Dallas station KLFJ, president of the Liberty chain, has done so in the face of suits, threats and appeals to the Federal Communications Commission to ban his baseball broadcasts on the ground they are "fabricated from telegraphic reports and the announcer's imagination." In three years, the 29-year-old McLendon has seen his Liberty Broadcasting System grow to 230 stations in 34 states, largely as a result of his major league broadcasts. He also has built quite a reputation as a sports announcer and authority. To bring major league baseball into the home of the hinterlands, McLendon had to buck a baseball ruling prohibiting broadcasting games at any time of day or night within an area of 50 miles of a minor league club's base without the owner's consent. First of all, McLendon had to figure out a way to get play-by-play reports of major league games to his station. He couldn't buy the service, so he arranged for a man in New York to transcribe the games as they were broadcast over a local station and send the play-by-play via teletype to Dallas. He ran into all kinds of opposition, but eventually the justice department ruled that he had a right to broadcast major league games. It upheld his contention the 50-mile baseball ruling was unjust. The rules of organized baseball were changed. Broadcasts of major league games now can be made at any time except when the local minor league club is playing at home. McLendon does not broadcast major league games at night, thus there is no conflict with baseball in the minors, all of which

Roughies Stopped
In Bid for TL Lead

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff Beaumont's bid for the Texas League lead has been topped and stopped, temporarily. A grand slam home run by Dick Aylward in the last of the ninth beat Beaumont last night. It wiped out a three-run outburst by the Roughnecks had staged in the top of the ninth for a two-run edge. In other games Fort Worth beat Shreveport, 3-2; Oklahoma City blanked San Antonio, 8-0, and Tulsa ran its winning streak to eight games in edging Houston, 2-0, in a game halted by rain after the top of the fifth frame was played. Russ Burns drove in both of Tulsa's runs as Rudy Minarcin gained his eighth victory, a fourth.

Alpine Blanks Foes
1-0 in Winning Title

SINTON — (AP) — The Alpine Cowboys won the Southwest State semi-pro baseball tournament last night as they edged the Plymouth Oilers, 1-0. The cowboys will meet the Wichita Trappers for the state title and a place in the National tournament. Knobby Graves, young Texas Christian University hurler, passed 12 batters during the game, but was able to stop the Oilers when it counted. play almost exclusively at night. He contends that the major league broadcasts actually help attendance in the minors.

Gladewater's Lead Cut in East Texas

(By The Associated Press) — Marshall cut Gladewater's lead in the circuit's overall title in the East Texas League to three tied home runs in the games last night, edging Kilgore, bottom of the ninth and the win 5-4, while the pace-setting Beaks nally followed on a Driller dream. Willie Wielansky spaced seven Tyler defeated Longview, 3-2, hits to win his 16th game.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING It takes a different angling procedure to catch bass in mid-summer when you must fish deep. The time to look for them in deep water is when you can't catch them in shallow water because they aren't there. That time varies. In the extreme North most fish may not have gone down until the end of July, or even sometime in August. Farther south, about all may be in deep water by July 1. Summer bass fishing requires that you seek out the deep spots, generally off weed beds, reefs or points, and learn how to fish them near the bottom. If you're wondering what lures can be used in deep water, Jason Lucas says any lure that will sink at all will go clear to the bottom if you give it time enough. However, those heavy for their size, and especially metal ones, are most convenient to use since they sink faster. Another trick of getting them down is drifting slowly. Bass aren't feeding well in midsummer and they're in no mood to chase something. But if a lure sees a plug moving slowly past him with an occasional pause and twitch to make it seem alive, not mechanical, he's very likely to swim languidly up and bite it. There's another imperative reason for fishing deep lures very slowly, with pauses. If you don't do that, the bow of your line in the water brings the lure right up. So during midsummer, fish your plugs slowly and close to the bottom in deep water. You walleye anglers take a hint from the above. You may have to fish even deeper for them than for bass. But keep your plug very close to the bottom, and work it slowly and jerkily. Don't look for good midsummer bass fishing in a lake that's shallow all over. The best chance of getting bass in it is at night when they come into the shallows to feed because the shallows cool off more quickly.

Yanks Fight for AL Lead, Cardinals Skid to Third

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

First place is the prize tonight as the rising New York Yankees and the slumping Detroit Tigers clash in the first of a "crucial" three-game series.

A capacity crowd of 55,000 is expected at Briggs Stadium to watch the mound duel between southpaw Tommy Byrne of the Yankees and righthander Art Houtteman of the Tigers.

A Yankee victory would put Casey Stengel's men back at the top of the American League for the first time since June 9. It was on that day that the Tigers wrested the lead from New York. They have kept it for 51 days despite some trying times.

Manager Stengel, confident of victory, is leading with his most effective pitcher against the Tigers in an effort to get the jump. Byrne has beaten the Bengals four times without a defeat this season and holds a lifetime 12-3 mark against them.

Houtteman, steady Tiger hurler, has a 5-2 mark against New York for the year. His lifetime mark is 8-5.

There were no games in the American League yesterday but the National League picture changed somewhat when the Boston Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-5.

Walker Cooper's single off Tommy Glaviano's glove in the last of the ninth drove in Earl Torgeson with the run that gave Boston the victory and moved the Braves into second place past the Cardinals. The Braves now trail the pace-setting Philadelphia Philis by three games. The Cards are three and a half games behind and the fourth place Dodgers lag by four and a half.

Warren Spahn went the route for his 13th victory. He gave up six hits and fanned four to increase his league leading strike-out total to 132. Max Lanier was the loser.

The Cubs overcame a 5-1 deficit. They tallied three times in the sixth to kayo starter Dan Bankhead. Two straight hits finished Chris Van Cuyk in the seventh. Rex Barney relieved, gave up three bases on balls and uncorked a wild pitch to set up a four-run inning for Chicago. That was the game.

Frank (Dutch) Hiller, who needed help in the seventh, won his fifth game, three over Brooklyn. Van Cuyk was the loser.

Big Innings Bring Wins in Big State
(By The Associated Press)

Victors in the Big State League last night used big innings to do it.

Greenville beat Austin, 6-5, scoring six runs in the fourth. Texasians defeated Wichita Falls, 4-3, scoring five runs in the fifth; Gainesville edged Waco, 4-3, scoring three runs in the seventh; and Temple beat Sherman-Denison, 4-2, scoring four runs in the first inning.

Lon Goldstein hit two home runs and Charley Schmidt another for Gainesville, while Tom Yanagelas and Irv Carlson hit for the circuit for Waco.

A two-run single by Barney White highlighted Temple's first inning uprising, while four hits and three walks accounted for Greenville's six runs.

"What do you think Joe can make for this fight, Jim—about 225 pounds?" a writer inquired innocently.

"Two-hundred-five?" Norris exclaimed. "He'll weigh no more than 212-13. He'll be no heavier than he was for the second Wascott fight. He really looks good."

"Speaking of condition," said Nat Fleischer of Ring magazine, "I was really surprised when I saw Lee Savold against Bruce Woodcock in London. For a guy of 34 he's in magnificent condition and off what I saw he's a much better fighter now than he ever was before."

"I think Charles will outpoint Louis, be too fast for him. Then I think Charles and Savold might make a very interesting fight."

Blackwell Back In Shape, but His Team Isn't
NEW YORK — (AP) — There is no doubt but that the comeback of Ewell Blackwell is complete.

The fact that the Cincinnati Reds had been cellar dwellers all spring is no fault of Blackwell's. The six-foot-six stringbean who hadn't been himself since 1947 when he won 22 games and just missed pitching two no-hit games, has turned in some sparkling games this season.

One of his best was a two-hit 10-inning victory over the surprising Chicago Cubs. Blackwell permitted only three balls to be hit to the outfield. One of them with a three-run homer by Arny Patko that tied the score at 3-3 all in the ninth.

In the game, Blackwell fanned 14 and walked five. It was the first time he had hurled 10 innings in two years.

It was also the first time this year that Blackwell won two games in succession.

After he beat the Cardinals on May 12 by a 3-1 score on five hits for his second triumph, he lost his next three starts, not because of his pitching but because his mates couldn't get many runs. In those three setbacks the Reds made only two runs.

U.S. Flyweight May Bring Title Home In Battle Tonight

HONOLULU — (AP) — Terry Allen of London and Dado Marino of Honolulu battle tonight for the championship of the little men — the 112 pounders.

It's a match which may return the world flyweight title to the United States for the first time in 20 years.

Allen, the champion, is fast, tricky and only 26. Marino, the challenger, looks the heavier puncher and is a battle-scarred 34.

The bout is scheduled to begin at about 9:15 p.m., Honolulu time (1:15 a.m. CST).

Managers of the fighters say each is in top shape for the 15-round test but neither believes it will go the full distance.

Manager Sad Sam Ichonose predicts Marino will lift the title with a knockout by the seventh.

Manager Johnny Sharpe says the champion will stop the island challenger between the 11th and 13th rounds.

Five More Titles Go on Line Today In Skeet Matches

DALLAS — (AP) — Five more titles go on the line today at the 13th annual National Skeet Shooting Association meet.

Champions will be crowned in five divisions of small gauge competition.

Yesterday — first of the seven day meet — winners in small shooting were determined.

The open championship went to Grant Iseng of Houston, winner in a shoot off with Alex Kerr of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Earl Stoner of Culver City, Calif. The three had tied with scores of 96 x 100.

Kerr and Stoner won the two man championship over Iseng and Bennie Bickers of Dallas. Their score was 192 x 200.

Mrs. Ann Martin of San Antonio won the women's division with 88 x 100. D. Lee Braun of Dallas, Indiana, with 95 x 100, and Dickie Greco, Tampa, Fla., junior, with 91 x 100.

Four Great Passers to Meet In Pro Game at Cotton Bowl

DALLAS — Four of the great passers ever to throw the pigskin in the Southwest Conference will be seen in action when the Detroit Lions meet the Washington Redskins in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Wednesday night, August 30, under auspices of the Salesmanship Club.

Playing for the Lions will be Bobby Layne, formerly a star at the University of Texas, and Gil Johnson and Doak Walker, who wrote athletic history for the SMU Mustangs. Performing for the Redskins will be Sammy Baugh, who was starting for the TCU Horned Frogs when Layne, Johnson, and Walker were just grade school athletes.

Football drama in the Southwest seemed to center around this quartet, for all participated in many never-to-be-forgotten games during their collegiate careers.

Baugh was one of the main attractions when SMU and TCU battled in 1935 to see which team would get the Rose Bowl invitation; Layne returned from the Merchant Marines in 1945 to lead the Longhorns to a Conference championship; and Walker, a red Johnson played featured roles in the Mustangs' title drives of 1947 and 1948.

Although the veteran Baugh has broken professional record after record and has an all-time pro average of 575, he never completed half of his passes in any one of his three years with the Frogs. He compiled his best average with TCU in 1936, when 109 of his 219 tosses were caught, but his three-year average with the Frogs was 458.

Of the four pigskin hurlers, Johnson was credited with the best college average — 587 — and in 1948 he was the leading passer of the country with an average of 509, resulting from 78 completions of 128 attempts.

For their sophomore, junior and senior years, Walker had a three-year average of 574 and Layne an average of 517.

To Layne goes the honor of having the highest average gain for each completed pass, for his record is 15.5 yards, compared to 15.1 for Walker, 13.1 for Johnson, and 12.7 for Baugh.

Baugh's college record shows that he completed 274 passes for 3479 yards in his three years as a Frog, far outdistancing the Lions' trio of passers in these fields.

It was not until his third year with the Redskins that Baugh was able to complete more than half of his passes, but then he began breaking National Football League records. He set the present percentage-completion record in 1945 with an average of .703; and in 1947 he established new records in number of passes thrown with 354 tosses, number completed with 210, and yards gained with 2,938.

Last year Layne completed 155 passes for New York, compared to 145 completed tosses by Baugh, but the latter had a completion average of 569, which was 31 points higher than Layne's average.

But on August 30 averages will mean little, for these four passers will be playing before home-state fans, and each will be attempting to set new records to thrill his supporters.

Jim Reynolds copped the initial whitey, Ed Arthur won the twelfth decision of the year the nightcap. Hank Robbins homered with Jay Haney and in the sixth proved the deciding margin for the Lobos in last game.

BROOKLYN — A Brooklyn Dodger infielder was arrested today, charged with grand larceny. He is accused of stealing a base.

PITTSBURGH — Officials of the Pittsburgh Pirates revealed that they had ordered each player to carry a pick and shovel. They said they were getting ready for a last-ditch rally.

CHICAGO — During ladies' day, a woman fan had a member of the Chicago White Sox arrested for molesting her. She said he was a pitch-hitter, who spent more time pinching than hitting.

Oklahoma City Chiefs Have Rugged Slate

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The Oklahoma City University Chiefs will make an ambitious six-game swing into the East during the 1950-51 basketball season.

Coach Doyle Parrack has announced his Oklahoma City all-college tournament champions will play 30 games, including three Southwest Conference teams. Parrack will have many veterans from last year's squad that compiled the best record in OCU history.

Texas A&M, TCU, and Baylor are the Chiefs' Southwest Conference foes.

Mobilization Would Please Unioners

That some were nice and friendly of AFL boss Green to assure the nation that if the United States goes to mobilization for everybody and everything, his American Federation of Labor sets will fall into line.

And it was equally nice of labor czar about a week ago to organize a nine-man joint labor committee to deal with the National Security Resources Board.

Green and the rest of them are pretty cute. But they are not like to be as subtle as they would like to be.

Judging from the record of the New Deal as set down by the acts of the late President Roosevelt and by Harry Truman, complete mobilization would be just about the same as setting up a twin to the sort of government they have in Britain.

Even John Lewis couldn't find any fault with that kind of setup. His grave team, along with those of Murray, Feather and the rest, would have to put on extra cars.

War and a book of capitalist-hating government officials would make it simple for the unioners to control production and production costs even more than they do now.

They have things lined up just about perfectly to get everything they want from government. Government controls are a cinch to be dictated by union leaders.

Judging from what's happened in the past, their method goes like this: They tell the New Dealers the terms they want. The New Dealers set up those terms in the form of government orders and relay them back to the unioners.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK - The futility of the Korean war cannot be concealed and there is no sensible course for the United States but to save as many of our men and women and our equipment as we can and get out. This certainly would be a defeat in war.

That, of itself, would be no calamity. It would humiliate us but we have got it coming and we can get over humiliation. Now that we have lost our power to exploit the Brown and Yellow races, Russia is preparing to exploit them. Very few Americans have any interest in the Orient and it will be very difficult to persuade our people to make a sacrifice that will be required by a total war effort for the purpose of imposing our political preference on China.

But we will go as the French went in 1939 with lagging feet and the battleground is so far away and the Russian support behind the Orient is so strong that there is faint prospect of victory. We cannot go on until we are willing to put out what it will take.

Eventually, I would abandon the imperial political ambitions of the United States, and withdraw into our own country, which is sufficient to support us with a high standard of living, and meanwhile I would build up a fighting organization in all branches as strong as our brains and human and material resources can make it.

I would "recognize" Spain, the only anti-Communist nation in Europe to refuse to abandon its high standard of living, and respect and self-confidence which were a thrilling spiritual heritage of my people during my youth.

Suppose Spain is a "Fascist" nation? What if it is? Do we object to the United States being a "Fascist" nation? That is what we say but we are shameless liars because the Soviet despotism is infinitely more horrible and is our enemy whereas Spain would like to be our friend although we do not deserve her friendship.

For God's sake do we have to face to our doom like mad animals in a stampede? Why doesn't some leader, some Republican or even a Democrat, summon the courage to warn us that we are in a "heat Soviet" in a war in which Russia always has the initiative and has, in addition, a new industrial and mechanical genius, literally millions of dark people to throw her dictators by.

Under the unioner-dominated system, which Mr. Green et al are anticipating, the manufacturers and other producers would be helpless. If they refused to accept the unioner's terms, they would be boycotted during a so-called "war emergency" they stand a good chance of being flung into jail or shot through the head.

There are two reasons for wanting to get maximum international aid for U. S. troops in Korea. The first is political. The second is to procure and help move all useful supplies into the 5000-mile pipeline that supports the United States command.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON - Secretary Dean Acheson's already shaky position has become even more precarious as a result of Senator Hiram Ferguson's charge that he helped to "withhold evidence" damaging to Alvin Karpis and his associates from a congressional committee.

ADVANCE - Prosecutor Murphy developed the same theme in the 1949 trials at New York. He traced painstakingly Karpis's advance, pointing out that he turned down an appointment which he preferred because another post would have made him more effective in channeling information to Communist agents.

INTELLIGENCE - Disclosure of the "Hiss Plan," Senator Ferguson contends on the basis of his legal and judicial experience, that Hiss was trying to get his hands on every secret, diplomatic paper in sight. He would have become the nation's chief intelligence officer in international affairs.

PLAN - In submitting hitherto confidential documents to support his contention that the Tydings Committee had made only a "superficial" investigation of the McCarthy indictment, Senator Ferguson read to the Senate and White House the "Hiss Plan for Reorganization of the State Department."

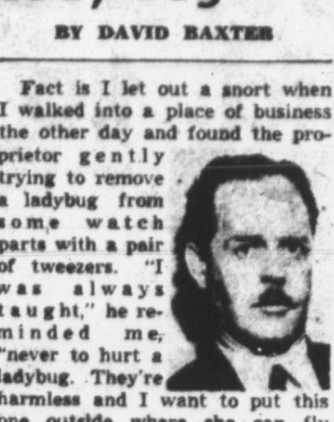

BLOW - This Hiss super-control plan was submitted on March 7, 1946. It may be significant that it was advanced at the very moment when, although the war-time situation had not worn off, the United States and Russia were squabbling over such questions as the use of the U. S. Navy, the seating of new members, and creation of an international police force.

The Pampered Lady-Bug

BY DAVID BAXTER

Fact is I let out a snort when I walked into a place of business the other day and found the proprietor gently trying to remove a ladybug from some watch parts with a pair of tweezers.

For example, a good friend of mine is a school teacher (here we go again). He, too, extends courtesy to ladybugs and is generally a grand fellow. Just a victim of circumstances, that's all.

For instance, should we be independent of him, which we probably wouldn't if we could hire him by our own free choice instead of by force.

Who fought and bled in Freedom's cause? To say nothing of "The Battle Cry of Freedom." Hence, they tend to take freedom for granted.

Little rough on the nerves and rights of mere humans. We survived him, though. I suppose I'd better stop right there. After all, we were discussing lady bugs and public schools.

KING'S COMMENTS

By DR. WILLFORD I. KING, Nationally Recognized Economist, Economics Professor Emeritus, New York University

The Nation's Press

RESTORED? Recently, the newspapers carried a brief statement that William Robertson Coe, one of the active supporters of the Freedom Foundation, had given Yale University half a million dollars to endow an American Studies Program.

Just why has Mr. Coe felt it necessary or desirable to finance a program "to provide for more general understanding of the facts of American history and the fundamental principles of American freedom in the field of politics, and of economics?"

This incident, as usual, set a few of my brain cylinders working and I began theorizing that maybe if human beings had as much respect for one another as some of them have for insects this old world might be fairly tolerable, after all.

When our boys and girls have never heard of Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death"; of Benjamin Franklin's "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately"; of Thomas Jefferson's declaration that "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness"; it is not surprising that their blood does not tingle when they sing "My country 'tis of thee, Sweet land of liberty, or 'The star-spangled banner, Oh long may it wave— O'er the land of the free And the home of the brave."

Probably most of them have never sung "Hail Columbia, happy land, Hail ye heroes, heaven born band, Who fought and bled in Freedom's cause?"

As Mr. Coe and President Seymour see so clearly, there is urgent need to revivify in our youth a real appreciation of the importance of liberty, for the present generation has permitted its freedom to be grievously curtailed. No longer does a man have freedom to work for whom he pleases at the best wage obtainable for the labor monopolies have taken that freedom away. No longer can a man keep what he earns, spend his money as he wishes, and...

COMMENTS

(Continued from Page 6) when he dies, leave his wealth to his heirs, for the tax collectors now take a large part of his property from him. With existing statutes, it will not be long before there will be no one rich enough to give half a million dollars to teach college students the blessings of liberty.

Has this gradual elimination of economic freedom which has taken place during the last 40 years been brought about merely by chance or indifference? Such does not seem to be the case. Some, thirty or forty years ago, the collectivists initiated a deliberate campaign to break down in the schools all respect for the Founding Fathers and for the capitalistic system of laissez faire and free enterprise under which our nation had grown and prospered so amazingly.

And, sad to relate, many of those responsible for educating American youth today are products of this muckraking campaign of misrepresentation and vilification. Some friends of freedom have given up in despair and feel that nothing can now stop our march down "the road to serfdom." But men like William Robertson Coe and Charles Seymour believe that it is still possible to defeat the combined forces that to surrender suddenly. They believe the way to attain success in the long run is to teach correct history and sound economics. No other plan of campaign seems more promising. Therefore, their example should be followed throughout the land.

Business Leader With Great War Record Tells How Hadacol Rebuilt Him Physically

Was run-down, weak, after service in South Pacific due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin

Mr. Donald Hedburg, who resides at 1812 Parker in the fashionable Riverside District of Wichita, Kansas, has been an up-and-coming executive member of the staff of the great Wichita Eagle newspaper for over four years.

Mr. Hedburg has an enviable record of combat with the U.S. Army in the South Pacific in World War II. He is very active in civic affairs. And just as he was anxious to pitch in and do a job during the war—he now wants to help his fellow citizens who (like he was once) are physically run-down and weak due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in their systems.

Many Doctors Recommend It
HADACOL is recommended by many doctors not only to their patients but to members of their own families who have such deficiencies. Before giving up hope—you owe it to yourself to at least give HADACOL a chance to help you. Why keep dragging yourself around feeling "half-alive" when it's so easy to have that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about!

"We made a running fight of it and Shorty got shot in the belly. I told Long Andy I knew there was a new doctor in Wolf Point, so he went to fetch you. But I owe you a lot, Doc. I wouldn't have let Long Andy hurt you."

Doc nodded. "That's one way to pay a doctor bill," he said. "You're going to turn me in to the law?" Doc shook his head. "Not as long as you go straight. I'll find you a job. Nobody need know anything about this deal—and I want if you had a very big hand in it. The horses will all go back to their owners as soon as I can tip off the constable."

"I'll ride back to Wolf Point with you, anyway," he said. "Long Andy might decide to head you off." At that moment Long Andy came out of the cabin with a jug in his hand. He shouted at them in a rasping voice: "Shorty's dead!" The man shook his head. Then he replied: "I'm glad the poor devil's out of his misery. And I think I've had enough."

LONG ANDY took a step toward them, but as the other man loosened his gun in its holster, Long Andy thought better of it and stopped.

"Looks like it wasn't a good idea," Doc said, tilting his head toward the cabin where a man lay dying.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Close-ups and Longshots: Maureen O'Hara will be completely deglamorized—no makeup, high-necked dresses, lines in her face—for the role of a 39-year-old in Republic's "Rio Bravo." Says Maureen: "I'd play a 90-year-old grandmother for a chance to work with John Ford again."

Marjorie Main doesn't think it's going to worry Lana and Ava, but she's getting dolled-up for the first time in a dog's age in MGM's "Mrs. O'Malley and Mr. Malone." Says Marjorie: "I'm kinda dressed up for a change and I like it fine, honey. Even my hair is sorta fancy. I don't worry about my hair in the Kettle pictures, honey. I just wrap it up and let it fly."

Several years ago Ronald Reagan agreed to do a story he didn't like as a "personal favor" to a studio boss. In return the boss agreed to star Reagan in a big outdoor epic if the studio could find the proper story.

Reagan himself found the story and helped negotiate its sale to the studio. The studio released a big announcement saying Reagan would be starred in the film. Other day the picture went before the cameras—with another actor in the starring role. Why movie actors jump off piers.

Young Diver Makes Living Recovering Guided Missiles

OXNARD, Calif. — (AP) — Robert W. Love is probably the only man in the world who earns his living by searching for guided missiles on the bottom of the ocean.

Four years ago, the young deep sea diver began recovering exploded missiles fired into the Pacific from the Navy's test center at Point Mugu, near here. He's been doing it ever since.

Love salvaged $35,000 worth last year. "But that isn't the half of it," a Navy officer explained. "Whole missile programs costing millions may be at stake. Unless they can be recovered for examination of test units, resultant delays could be fatal."

Love works off his 30-foot diving cruiser with one assistant, Frank De Pue. They anchor just outside the firing range, wait for the missiles to fly over, then start retrieving them.

Bob Love is married and the father of two. Nobody will sell him life insurance.

"Scared? Only time was last winter when some 30-foot whales started investigating my air hose while I was down 90 feet," he confided, adding: "Sea lions are the most curious of all. I had to prod one of them out of a wrecked big buzz-bomb missile once. Another missile was so covered with crabs that after we brought it up we ate crab for a week."

THERE was no doubt in Doc's mind that Long Andy intended to shoot him down as he stood there in the doorway of the cabin. "You ain't goin' nowhere!" Long Andy repeated his words, as if he enjoyed tormenting his victim before he shot him. His finger tightened on the trigger.

But Long Andy's companion, who somehow still looked vaguely familiar to Little Doc, moved suddenly. His hand slipped to his side and came up holding a gun. Long Andy may not have noticed the motion, or if he noticed it, he may have thought that his companion intended to back him up in ridding Wolf Point of its only medical man.

But the other fellow didn't turn his gun on Little Doc. Instead, he used it as a weapon against Long Andy. He brought it down with a quick, chock motion across Long Andy's wrists.

Long Andy screamed as his gun flipped from his hand and spun through the air, landing with a crash on the ground by Doc's feet. Long Andy clutched his broken wrist.

"You busted my arm!" "And I'll bust your back with a bullet, Andy, if you try to stop Little Doc. Pick up the gun, Doc, and stick it in with your sawbone tools."

Doc leaned over, retrieved the gun and slipped it into his bag. The other man nodded and spoke again to Andy: "Stay here in the cabin. There's some likker in the jug—take a drink and forget it. If Shorty wants anything, do the best you can. I'll put Little Doc on his horse."

Doc and the other man left Long Andy cursing and whining. Little Doc took a deep breath and looked his thanks to his companion.

THE fellow grinned back. There was something familiar about the man. Doc was sure of it now. He knew too where he had seen the fellow before.

"Come on, Doc," the man said. He led Little Doc to where he had left his horse, behind a clump of thick brush not far from the cabin.

Little Doc paused by the horse. "I'm a tenderfoot," he said, "and I know tenderfeet aren't supposed to ask questions—besides, all this is none of my business."

"What are you drivin' at, Doc?" The man looked nervous and fidgety, just like Doc had seen him once before, but this time he was nervous for a much different reason.

"Just this," Doc said, "if I were in your boots, I'd saddle up my horse and ride away from here as fast as I could. Let Long Andy have that bunch of stolen horses—I'll bet they were stolen if Long Andy had anything to do with them. I seem to recall you've got a wife and a baby to consider."

The man's eyes popped open a little wider. Doc knew he had guessed right. The fellow had grown a heavy beard and his hair needed cutting. He wore a pair of dirty old overalls and an old flannel shirt. His boots were badly worn and his shapeless old hat was stained with sweat.

But there was no mistaking the man. Doc had seen him before on the train that brought him to Wolf Point. He was the man in the shabby brown suit, whose wife had had a baby on the train in the stateroom Doc had paid for with his own money. The man's wife had been Doc's first patient. He was the man who had said: "God bless you, Doc."

The fellow shrugged his shoulders. "I hoped you wouldn't recognize me, Doc. I left the missus and the baby in Chinook. We were flat busted. I was looking for a job punching cows when Long Andy invited me to throw in with his bunch."

"Looks like it wasn't a good idea," Doc said, tilting his head toward the cabin where a man lay dying.

Judy Garland Takes Rest at Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY, Ida. — (AP) — Actress Judy Garland, her four-year-old daughter and a nurse are staying at this mountain resort for what her studio calls "an extended vacation and rest."

U.N. Asked to Halt Attacks From Israel

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — Syria has asked the United Nations Security Council to take action to prevent what it called new attacks on Arab countries by Israel.

The U. N. published a cable from Syrian premier and Foreign Minister Nazem Koudat to Arne Sunds, July president of the Security Council, yesterday. It charged Israel with being a threat to the peace.

Road to Wealth Paved With Debt

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The road to wealth can be paved with debts.

H. J. Crawford of Emelton, Pa., wealthy financier and oil promoter, testifying yesterday at a power commission hearing, said he is 83 1/2 years old and "on Jan. 1, two years ago, I got out of debt for the first time since I was 12."

"Every young man who has pride in himself ought to buy something—and get into debt. He'd spend the money for something else, anyway. That's how I did it."

At the hearing Crawford offered to invest up to $1,520,000 to help finance construction of a proposed natural gas pipeline in Northeastern Ohio.

Don't ever borrow money from Deleria. She expects it back.

Egypt's Queen Mother Says She'll Remain in Country

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Egypt's Queen Mother, Nazi and her love-harassed family don't intend to return home — for the moment, at least — despite the loss of her wealth.

Yesterday, King Farouk I's royal council put Queen Nazli's assets under custody and revoked the queen mother's custody over her youngest daughter, ex-princess Fathia.

Nothing matters to me except the happiness of this young couple," she asserted.

BACKS WHITE
AUSTIN — (AP) — Tom Fairley yesterday threw his support to John C. White of Wichita Falls in the run-off race for agriculture commissioner. Fairley was fourth in the primary.
