

SOIL SAVING BIG TOPIC AT WTCC MEET

Conservation Service Official Speaker At Brownwood; Abilene And Wichita
Falls Bid For 1938 Conclave

BROWNWOOD, May 11 (AP)—Soil conservation took the spotlight of special activities today as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce moved through the second day of its annual convention.

Wichita Falls and Abilene started vigorous campaigns to win the next convention. Balloting was to start this afternoon.

Louis P. Merrill of Fort Worth, regional director of the soil conservation service, told delegates attending the soil conservation conference at the convention that their greatest industry is the top-soil that is left in their territories.

Whatever else may be said of the importance of local industries, Merrill asserted, the fact stands out that soil is the source of most of the permanent wealth and buying power.

Funeral For Benedict To Be Wednesday

Heart Attack Fatal To President Of Texas
University

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP)—Texas mourned today the death of one of its greatest educators, Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the state university, who was stricken by a heart attack on a street near the campus of the school late yesterday and died within a few minutes.

Funeral services for the man who guided the destinies of the university for the last ten years will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Gregory gymnasium, conducted by Dr. T. W. Currie, president of the Austin Theological Seminary, and burial will be in Austin. Prior to the services, the body will lie in state for two hours.

Dr. H. T. Parlin, dean of the college of arts and sciences, was elected chairman of the administrative council of the faculty and will act as directing head of the school until the regents meet to choose a president pro tempore.

Collapsed At Car
Sixty-seven years old, Dr. Benedict had left his office to go to the state capital for a conference with a legislative committee on school finances. As he stepped into an automobile, he collapsed, and death wrote an end to his long career as he was carried into a hospital room.

Among his survivors were Mrs. Benedict, the former Miss Ann Stone, who arrived at the hospital just after his death, a son, Harry Yandell, Jr., a junior high school student; and a brother, C. P. Benedict, of Midland. Another son, Carl Stone Benedict, was killed in the World war.

A resolution of tribute was adopted by the house of representatives, the senate adjourned in respect. Governor Allred expressed deep sorrow and messages of condolence poured in from many quarters. The flag was ordered at half-staff on state buildings.

Eorn in Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11, 1909, Dr. Benedict was brought to Texas as a boy.

He was the first alumnus of the school to be chosen its president, and to thousands of students and former students was affectionately known as "Dean Benny" for his never-failing wit and good humor and kindly supervision as dean.

CITY COMMISSION CONVENES TONIGHT

City commissioners convene today at 8 p. m. for their regular semi-monthly meeting.

Scheduled for consideration are city park concession bids, if any are submitted. At noon, none had been filed with City Secretary H. W. Whitney.

It was learned that Merle J. Stewart, auditor of the city books for 1936-37, had completed his report and will place it in the hands of the city in time for study at the meeting.

MONDAY RING SALE HAMPERED BY RAIN

Heavy rains in the northern part of the county Monday reduced crowds and amount of stock at the Howard County Marketing association second ring sale.

Reports from producers who had promised to list stock for the sale disclosed that several trucks of stock were mired in the mud en route here.

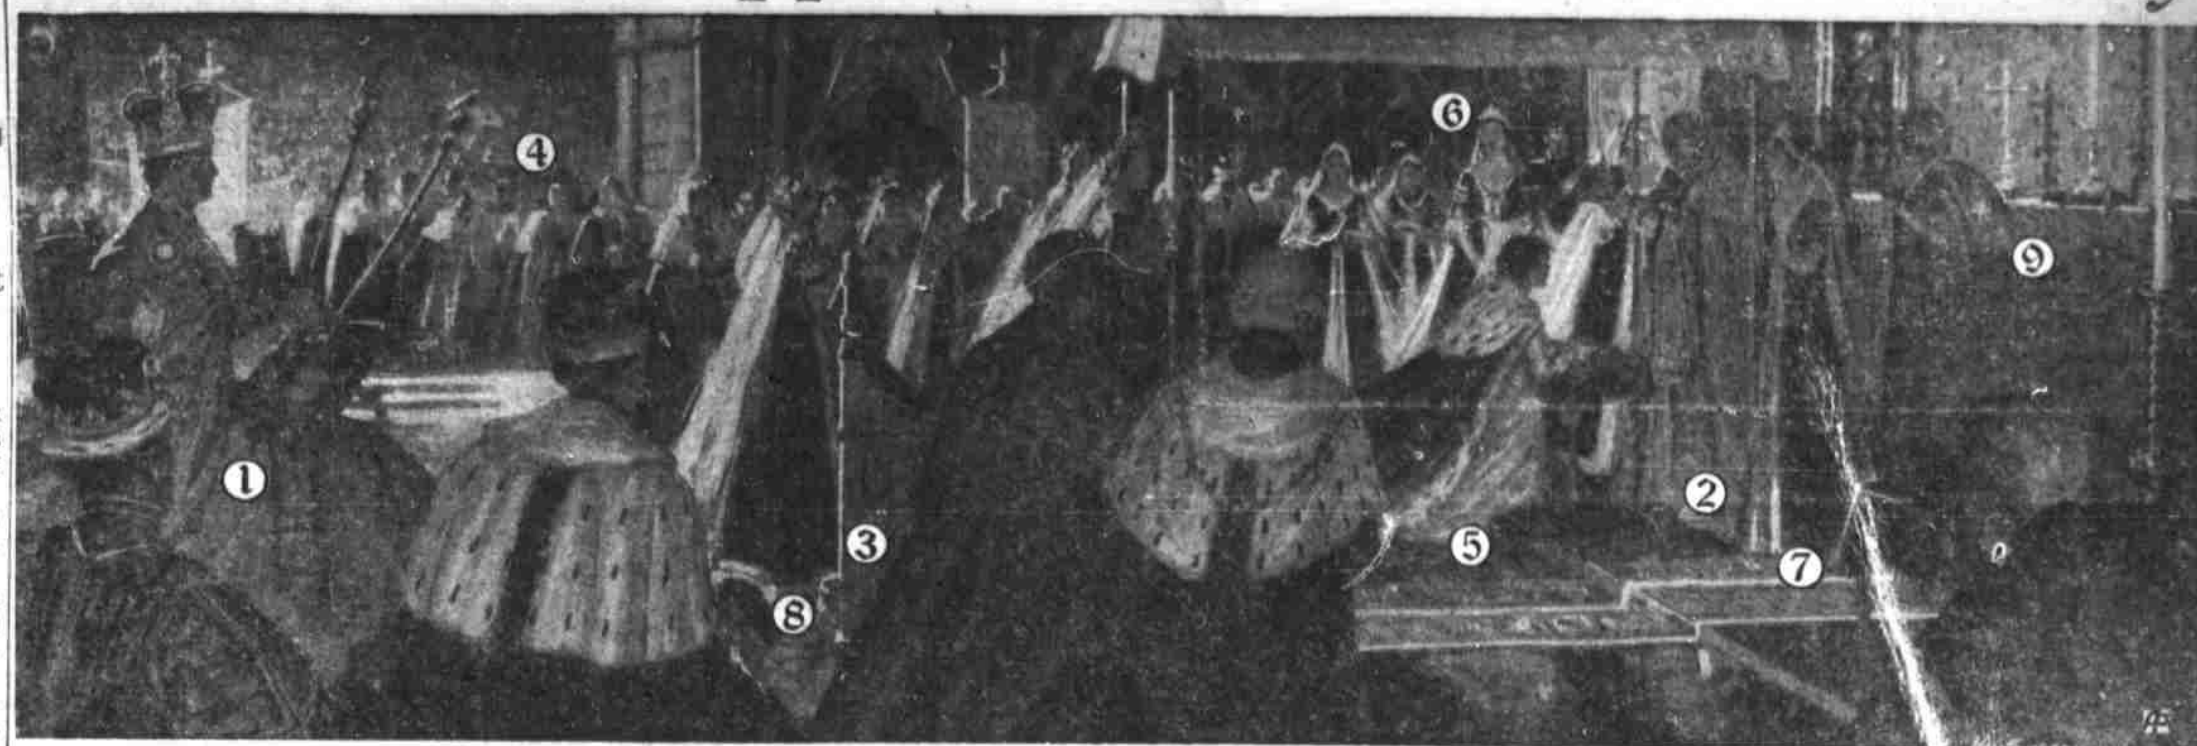

Volume for the day was estimated at half the opening sale, May 3, which was listed at $2,000.

Next sale will be held May 17, J. W. Allen, who has been in charge of the sales for the marketing association, said.

This Is What Happens In Westminster Wednesday

If you were to be lucky enough to have a place in the grandstand—the royal box—at Westminster abbey next Wednesday, this is the eminent spectacle that you could expect to witness. In the AP feature service artist's conception of the coronation theater, George VI (1) has just been crowned King of Great Britain by the Archbishop of Canterbury (2) and has moved from the St. Edward's chair (3) to his own throne. While the king, peers and peeresses (4), bishops and princes of the blood (foreground) all watch, Queen Elizabeth (5) kneels at Canterbury's feet to receive her crown.

Among her attendants is a mistress of the robes, (6), four duchesses, each supporting a corner of the canopy (as No. 7 is doing), and a group of train bearers (like No. 8). Assisting Canterbury is the Dean of Westminster (9). Yes, folks, it's quite a show.

Gain Shown In County Funds For Month

Officers' Salary Item Is Only One To Show A Deficit

County balances showed a good gain over a month ago, yet a pronounced loss from the same month a year ago, the April financial statement approved by the county commissioners court showed Tuesday.

The balance at the end of the month for all funds was $83,670.99 as compared to $82,843.87 the preceding month and $94,556.50 at the end of April 1936.

Only one fund, the officers salary, ended the month on the wrong side of the ledger with a deficit of $983.97.

The road and bridge fund finished the month with a balance of $4,932.89 by virtue of a sizeable transfer from the highway fund, a division of the road and bridge.

Expenditures from the road and bridge fund amounted to $20,564.77 in the face of $626.11 receipts for April. At the beginning of the month the highway fund was cleaned of its $30,769.59 balance in favor of the road and bridge fund.

Includes in road and bridge expenditures was the repayment of a $5,000 warrant to George White, $2,500 to Fred Stephens, $2,500 to Mary E. Wilson on a loan made during January, and $5,300 to the J. E. Adams company for new road machinery. Otherwise routine disbursements for the fund were about $1,000 under March.

General Fund
General fund demands totaled $1,630.69 for April against $494.60 receipts. Of the disbursements, $310.28 went for direct charity; $200 to the Howard county welfare association, $4.15 for groceries.

Insurgent Threat Follows Air Raids On Out- skirts Of Crowded Basque Capital

BILBAO, May 11 (AP)—Eleven insurgent air raids within less than five hours blasted the outskirts of Bilbao today.

The first armada of German-made bombers appeared over the city at 6:30 a. m. By 11 a. m. successive fleets bombing the fringes of the city had kept the refugee-swelled population of more than 500,000 in a steady scurry for shelter.

Although the most densely inhabited sections of the center of Bilbao were unscathed, alarm spread that the air raids were a dress rehearsal for Gen. Emilio Mola's warning that insurgent forces would "bomb the city by land, sea and air without mercy unless Bilbao surrendered by Wednesday (tomorrow)."

A heavy artillery bombardment, covering the operations of a reported today to have slowed up the insurgent encroachment north of Amorebieta.

While woeful caravans of women and children continued to stream into the city, seeking evacuation, government reports said General Emilio Mola's insurgent forces gained ground in their push on Bilbao only by sacrifice of hundreds of lives.

Basque leaders expressed confidence the city would not capitulate—pointing to Madrid's resistance to six months of siege—even though the insurgents reach the very outskirts.

Word was received from Austin that a bill appropriating $1,634,000 for two such hospitals had been passed by the house. The senate previously had acted, and the bill now is on the governor's desk for signature.

The other proposed hospital would be located in East Texas. The appropriation measure was so drawn that the chief executive could veto one of the $817,000 appropriations and let the other stand. It was considered probable that he will approve at least the establishment of the West Texas institution.

Big Spring is one of several West Texas cities making a bid as the site of the hospital. The board of control will make the location. Briefs have been prepared for the chamber of commerce here in furtherance of the Big Spring bid.

SLAUGHTER FIGURES IN MAGAZINE STORY

Sheriff Jess Slaughter is mentioned prominently in a story in the current issue of Startling Detective magazine. It was Slaughter who furnished information which led to the identification of Elda McCollum, whose body was found in a feed shock in Oklahoma 30 days after his slaying, Bethel and Jack Brown, had been arrested and released in Feb. 1936. Slaughter made a trip to Oklahoma to furnish a description of McCollum who had called at the office here inquiring after a local character.

NO FINGERPRINT RECORD OF MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Chief hope of identification for a middle aged man who was killed beneath a train here Thursday faded Tuesday with word from the federal bureau of identification at Washington that the victim's fingerprints were not on record there.

Justice of Peace Joe Faucett, seeking identification of the man, had not heard from his only other lead, a report that the victim was an escapee from an Arizona institution.

Chieftains Of Dominions Pay Their Homage

Weather, Transportation
Problems Confront
Crowded London

LONDON, May 11 (AP)—"I stand on the threshold of a new life," King George VI told the prime ministers of his dominions and the representatives of India and the colonies today on the eve of his coronation as king-emperor.

His public servants had come through driving rain formally to pledge the allegiance of the half billion British subjects they represented.

To Carry On
With his Scottish Queen Elizabeth by his side in great Buckingham Palace, the king received the loyal greetings and addresses of each representative and pledged himself to service of the empire.

"Heavy are the responsibilities that have so suddenly and unexpectedly come upon me—but I give me great courage to know I can count on your unfailing help and affection," he said.

"For my part I shall do my utmost to carry on my father's work for the welfare of our great empire."

The heavy morning rain, which drove first hardy enthusiasts from their seats outside the palace on tomorrow's coronation route, forced Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to cancel a garden party to honor visitors which was to have been held at 10 Downing street this afternoon.

The weather report for tomorrow was "chilly, overcast skies."

Transportation Tie-Up
Transportation problems beset the metropolis as a strike of 25,000 bus workers, tying up 5,000 of London's familiar red omnibuses, threatened to spread to subways and street cars.

Executive transport workers called a special meeting to determine whether to call out trolley men to the streets.

President Concludes His Fishing Cruise Boards Train Fort Worth, With Stops At Houston And College Station

HOUSTON, May 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt arrived here at 11:30 a. m. today en route to Fort Worth from the Texas coast, where he had been on a fishing trip the last 11 days. The scheduled stop here of the special train was 10 minutes.

GALVESTON, May 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt left here by special train at 10 a. m. today for Fort Worth. He will spend the night there at the home of his son, Elliott, and leave tomorrow evening for Washington where he is due to arrive Friday morning.

The president had landed a short while before from an 11-day golf fishing cruise and motored through several miles of crowded streets of this island city en route to the train.

Brief stops at Houston and Texas as A. and M. college were planned on the way to Fort Worth.

A large reception committee headed by Gov. James V. Allred greeted the tanned chief executive as he walked smilingly down the ramp from the top deck of the 165-foot vacation vessel onto the dock.

Two navy planes roared overhead.

Mayor Adrian L. Levy of Galveston and Elliott Roosevelt were also in the welcoming group. Shortly after landing the president rode in an open car through the city en route to his special train for the trip eastward.

The last 11 days of fishing off the Texas coast was spent trolling near the Brazos river mouth yesterday, Col. Edwin M. Watson, military aide, was the hero of the day with a catch of a 24-pound amberjack from the Potomac's deck.

Sixteen tarpon were caught during the trip which started from New Orleans April 29. The president landed two, one a 77-pounder.

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT
Ridings Dopes
S'West Track,
Field Meet

BY TOM BEASLEY

THE ANNUAL Southwest Conference track and field meet comes off this week-end in Austin. All of the advance performances indicate that the Rice Owls will fight it out with the Texas Longhorns for supremacy—with the Owls having just a shade the better of it on paper. The Aggies should take third place in the meet and the Horned Frogs fourth.

Not many conference records appear to be in danger in the 1937 conference meet. On a fast track, with good luck and hot competition, either one of the Rice relay teams might hang up a new conference record. Patterson of Rice was clocked in 14.5 for the high hurdles in a meet with LSU recently. If he could repeat, he would set a new Southwest record. Victory of Texas (high jump) and Weichert of Rice (pole vault) might easily better the conference marks they set last year, if conditions are right. These are the events most likely to produce new records, if and do. On the other hand, someone else might have a particularly good day and do the unexpected. The conference record in the javelin, for instance, is not too high but that some competitor is going over it before long.

J. Willard Riding, chief of the T.C.U. news service, has "doped" the S.W. track and field meet, picking the winners like this:

- 100 yard dash—Reeves, Texas.
- 220 yard dash—Moser, Rice.
- 440 yard run—Stashley, Rice.
- 880 yard run—Bell, Rice.
- 1 mile run—Thomas, Texas.
- 1 mile relay—Rice.
- 440 yard relay—Rice.
- 2 mile run—Strother, A. and M.
- 120 yard high hurdles—Patterson, Rice.
- 220 yard low hurdles—Herzik, A. and M.
- Broad jump—Atchison, Texas.
- High jump—Vickery, Texas.
- Pole vault—Weichert, Rice.
- Discus—Stout, Arkansas.
- Shotput—Hall, Texas.
- Javelin—Wilkinson, T.C.U.

And the final wind-up will find 'em like this—says Ridings:

Team	Points
Rice	53
Texas	53
A. and M.	25
T.C.U.	20
S.M.U.	9
Baylor	4
Arkansas	11

RUMOR HAS IT that one of the Ricecut twins is a hospital patient in Denton—victim of an auto mishap.

LLOYD RUSSELL, recently elected assistant coach at Baylor university, is playing his last season in the Green and Gold spangles of that institution. When the Bears oppose the Texas Christian Frogs in their diamond finale, Russell will bring down the curtain on a brilliant athletic career at Baylor university. A four-letterman, the fleet Dallas youth is regarded as one of the outstanding athletes in Southwest conference history.

IT'S THE "Cardinal Gashouse Gang" now, Jess Rodgers tells us. Showing all the characteristics that made their parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals, famous, the Midland boys have been fighting for every point, charging the turn-pike en-masse on questionable decisions, going into bases with spikes high and in general making themselves thoroughly disagreeable to the other teams in the West Texas-New Mexico league. Manager Joe Davis has already been chased from one game and drew a reprimand from President Milton Price, and more than one of the Midland boys have narrowly escaped being chased from the Midland park.

Paul Runyan Has High Hopes Of Winning 'Met'
NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—The little man with the big name is going to leave no stone unturned in his quest for one of the four vacancies on the United States Ryder Cup team.

And, as one of the stories which he believes are turning, Paul Runyan has high hopes of winning his second Metropolitan open championship at the Forest Hill Field club, Bloomfield, N. J., this week. Runyan first won the "Met" in 1934, when he was leading money winner, took the P.G.A. championship and in general was the big noise of the links.

The following summer, lanky Harry Picard, a long and straight shooter from Hershey, Pa., took the "Met," followed last summer by Byron Nelson, who today is one of the outstanding younger cardinals for the Ryder Cup team.

A'S CLING TO FIRST PLACE IN AMERICAN CIRCUIT

MACKMEN BEAT OUT TIGERS, 9-5

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

All but one of their winning pitchers are strangers to the major leagues, in only three of their fourteen games has a starting pitcher finished—yet today the Philadelphia Athletics, frequently lampooned this season as ragged-trousered urchins clinging to Connie Mack's hand, remain deadlocked with the Cleveland Indians at the head of the American league.

While the Indians were winning their fifth straight yesterday, 6-5, because Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox heaved a double play ball wild in the eleventh inning, the A's kept step by turning back the Detroit Tigers, 9-5.

The victory was the second for Luther Thomas. Two victories each also are credited to Almon Williams, George Carter and Harry Kelley. Of the four, only Kelley has big league background. He won fifteen games for Mack last year, a 30-year-old "rookie" who is a minor league veteran.

Defeat for the Tigers, their third in a row, though Gerald Walker extended his hitting streak to 10 games, combined with the Yanks' 7-0 shutout of the White Sox as Monte Pearson hurled the first one-hit game of the season, brought the two into a tie for third place.

Pearson got able assistance from Joe DiMaggio, with his first two homers of the year; and George Selkirk, with his fifth.

Dickey Injured

The only disturbing note to the Yankee cause was an injury to Catcher Bill Dickey. Hit in the arm by a pitched ball, the hard-hitting receiver may be out two weeks.

In the other American league game, Julio Bonetti shut out the Senators with two hits for eight innings, was clipped for three hits and as many runs in the ninth, but lasted to lift the Browns out of the cellar with a 6-3 triumph, his first of the year.

The Pirates kept up their terrific pace in the National league, no-bases-on-balls pitching set back the Bees, 4-1, made it three straight for the Bucs and four successive whalings for Boston.

Handsome pitching also marked the other National league battles. Van Mungo stopped the Cardinals with four hits and so inspired his Dodgers' matter they played error-free ball for the first time this season and stole five bases to win 5-2. Bucky Walters tamed the Reds with four hits as the Phillies came out of a four-game losing streak with a 10-3 triumph over Cincinnati, and Clyde Shoun, with home run assistance from Augie Galan and Ripper Collins, pitched the Cubs to a 4-3 decision over the Giants.

FORSAN TEAM DRUBS REBELS

FORSAN, May 11—Twice interrupted by rain, the Continental Pipeliners went on to defeat the Co-Op Rebels, 8-2, Sunday afternoon, and stamped themselves as the favorites in the Hardbelt baseball league which opens play next week.

The Forsan outfit jumped into a three-run lead in the opening stanza when two errors and base hits by Smith and Parker put Loper, Cunningham and Smith across.

The Pipeliners managed to increase that advantage to five runs before the visitors were able to tally and coasted until weather conditions put an end to the game at the end of the eighth frame.

"Windmill" Brown limited the Rebels to three scattered hits, two of which came off the bat of Leonard Morgan, while the Continental crew was getting to Melvin Boatman for nine bingles.

GORILLA POGI FEATURED STAR IN MAT SHOW

Snappy Action Expected in Special Event

Five of the boys appearing on Herman Fuhrer's wrestling card last Tuesday, are scheduled to appear tonight, and one of the best bouts of the evening looms as the special event encounter between Victor Webber, the blond-headed product of the Bronx, and Ace Freeman, young Jewish "bone buster."

With the twenty-minute time limit, Fuhrer believes it will be the most exciting match, and will certainly be the only scientific match of the evening. Vic, who played for the Bees, was a 4-1 decision over the Pirates.

Jack Terry, from up Kitchener, Ontario, will make his debut here against the very rugged and durable Joe Kopecky who went to a draw with Gorilla Pogi. Terry is said to be a more pleasing performer than his adversary, but the cagy Texan knows his way around, having been in the wrestling game for many years.

Gorilla Pogi, who once held the middleweight championship of South America, returns as the featured star, mixing with Jerry Bennett apart last week with the pump-handle hold. Good jarring rights, speared with well placed kicks, gouges and choke holds, are preferred by the main eventers.

The time is 8:30 in the "open air" arena west of the Crawford Hotel.

Cliff Pirtle Holds Monahans To Four Hits

ROSSELL, N. M., May 11—Cliff Pirtle, home town boy, held Monahans to four hits here Monday while his mates collected 17 off Horn as Roswell took the first game of a series, 15 to 4.

Pirtle set some kind of a record as he hit three batters with three pitched balls in the second inning to fill the sacks and then retired the side scores.

Pitching Sensation Prefers Facing Gehrig To Physics Exam

VAN METTER, Ia., May 11 (AP)—Bob Feller, 18-year-old baseball idol of thousands of American youngsters, opened a campaign today for a high school diploma.

Before the graduation exercises Friday night the Cleveland Indians baseball pitching sensation must take examinations in physics, psychology, literature and history.

"I can't figure out which will be tougher—facing Lou Gehrig or taking that physics exam," he said as he prepared to catch the orange and black Van Meter consolidated school bus that comes past his farm home.

Kampouris, Bartell Lead In Home Runs

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP)—It's there in cold figures but the major league home run picture doesn't look right these days.

Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Fox? Today it was Dick Bartell, the New York Giants' shortstop and Alex Kampouris, the Cincinnati Reds' little second baseman, with six apiece. The names of Gehrig and Fox didn't even appear in the list of sluggers with four or more round trip belts to their credit.

Not only that, but the American League—the "hitters' league"—was trailing the National, or "pitchers' league," in total homer output for the season. The junior circuit was trailing 54 to 68.

George (Twinkie-Toes) Selkirk, the man who patrols Babe Ruth's old right field territory for the Yankees, and Gerald Walker, the Detroit Tiger who has been a ball of fire at bat this season, each had five homers.

DALLAS ACE TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

HOUSTON, May 11 (AP)—Golfers from all over Texas flocked to Houston today for the annual state amateur tournament which opens with an 18-hole round tomorrow on the par 35-36-71 River Oaks course.

An entry list of around 125, including Don Schumacher, of Dallas, the defending champion, was expected. Coming with Schumacher from the star-producing Dallas sector were Reynolds Smith, Walker Cup player; Harry Todd, former state champion and recent winner of the Texas open; O'Hara Watts, David (Spec) Goldman, and Jack Munger.

Other places, including San Antonio, site of last year's tournament, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Austin were well represented. Wilmer Allison, famed tennis player from Austin, indicated he would enter the tourney, his first.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—It's a bit early for football, but you can chalk up a victory for the University of Mississippi. Ed Davis at Oxford they're celebrating because Leslie Dodson of Columbus, one of the best backs ever turned out by a Mississippi high school, has voted to cast his lot with Coach Ed Walker's Rebels. ... Lou Ambers wants Pedro Montanez and will cancel that European jaunt if they can get an outdoor shot here.

An old familiar headline appeared in an Ogden, Utah, paper the other day. ... It read: "Mathewson Turns In Fine Game." ... The kid tossed for the Lewis junior high school nine at Ogden. ... Sure, they call him "Christy." ... Those Dodgers—players and directors—continue to pull fast ones. ... A day or so ago the front office announced Outfielder Eddie Wilson had been shipped to Jersey City. ... Three hours later Wilson was sent in to pinch hit against the Cubs. ... (Yeah, same old Dodgers.)

John Henry Lewis began training for Patsy Perroni yesterday at Doc Bier's camp at Pompton Lakes, N. J. ... They're trying to polish up big Jack Torrance at the same spot. ... That tonil operation didn't help the Joe DiMaggio situation much. ... He's hitting hard but still having throwing trouble and the Yankees are worried. ... Lloyd Lewis, sports editor of the Chicago Daily News, must think pretty well of the Cubs' chances. ... He's got a staff man traveling with the club.

EIGHT TEAMS IN NEW LEAGUE

Ben Daniel To Head New Baseball Circuit

By HANK HART
Knott and Sparenburg joined with six other teams Sunday in forming the Sand Belt baseball league.

Luther, Continental of Foran, Brown and three local teams—the Anderson Devils, TP Shoppers and Co-Op Rebels—organized last Friday night.

Ben Daniel will head the newly formed loop and will serve as manager of the Anderson outfit. There will be three games opening day, Sunday, May 16. The other teams, TP and the Rebels, will combine to meet a strong team from Carlsbad, N. M.

Twin Bills On Holidays
Doubleheaders will be played on three summer holiday dates. Decoration Day, May 30, Independence Day, July 4, and Labor Day, September 5, will find all teams engaged in twin bills.

The old Howard county circuit operated two years ago with only six members. The Big Spring Giants defeated Knott for the championship that year. A trophy will be awarded the championship team this year. (Note—Latter team in schedule is the home team.)

Bucs Defeat Houston For Second Place

Valenti Slams One Over Fence In 9th To Give Pirates 4-3 Win

By the Associated Press
TODAY'S GAMES
Galveston at Dallas (night).
Houston at Fort Worth (night).
Other teams, off day.

Galveston's surprising Buccaneers moved into second place in the Texas league today on the heels of a Frank Merriwell stunt by Joe Valenti, Pirate third baseman.

While Beaumont's Exporters maintained their lead over the field with a 10-9 victory over the San Antonio Missions, Valenti stepped up to the plate in the ninth inning with one out and the score tied and slammed the ball over the fence to give his team a 4-3 victory over Houston.

Mike Cvergros, veteran southpaw, went the route and allowed but seven hits—but that was one too many. Bubba Jonard gained his third straight relief role victory on the mound.

Beaumont staged a garrison finish to now out the Missions. San Antonio scored seven runs in four innings on 11 hits before Beaumont scratched the scoreboard but the Shippers counted four in the fifth, five in the seventh and one in the ninth for victory.

The Fort Worth Cats had two big innings to down Tulsa 13-4. The Panthers scored seven runs in the sixth and six more in the eighth. Twenty-nine hits were made on both sides, the Cats getting 18. A rainstorm cut the game to eight innings.

Rain caused postponement of the Dallas-Oklahoma City game.

JAMESON TO GEORGIA
SAN ANTONIO, May 11 (AP)—Betty Jameson, local school girl who recently won the Texas Women's Golf association tournament for the second consecutive time, left today for Atlanta, Ga., where she will compete in the Southern tournament beginning Monday, May 17. Kay Pearson of Houston accompanied her.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE OIL FIELD COMMUNITIES

A Spanish play, "The Gay Senorita," will be presented as the annual senior and junior class play this year on Friday night, May 14, at 8:30 in the Foran high school auditorium. Supt. L. L. Martin is directing the play. Musical numbers will be presented between acts. "The Gay Senorita," a light comedy, in which Daniel Benjamin, a wealthy widower, played by Lloyd Loper, promises to settle a quarter of a million dollars on his son Arnold, played by Luther Moore, when he marries Senorita Costa de la Torriente, played by Myrtle Dietler. But Arnold is in love with Vera Stewart, played by Kathryn Cowley, so he persuades his friend, Larry Moore, played by Wesley Yarbrough, to impersonate the Senorita, whom he wires not to come. Larry makes a "Gay Senorita" by scandalizing and disrupting the household with his violent love making, when suddenly, a lovely Senorita appears. Others in the play include Elizabeth Madding, Rose Ann, Florence Lewis, Ray Thompson, and Raymond Moreland.

A "Mother's Day" program was presented in the Baptist church at the 10 o'clock hour Sunday instead of the Sunday school service. The devotional was by L. L. Martin; musical reading by Mrs. L. H. Hayes; one number by the mixed quartet, Mrs. O. L. Bradham, Mr. Carl Blackwelder, Mr. I. L. Watkins and Mr. L. L. Martin; a song, "Mother," by Marjory Oglesby, Buddy Norman, Junior King, Rosella Norman, O. L. Butler with the word MOTHEK spelled by each child carrying a letter, readings by Ruth Brown, Beanie Ruth Hale, Warda Marti and J. B. Hicks. Mrs. Carl Blackwelder played the accompaniment for the musical numbers. Miss Edna Earl Bradham was flower girl. Rev. A. Short delivered the Mother's Day sermon following the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blake attended a family reunion dinner given by Mrs. Blake's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Burns at their home in Big Spring Sunday. Other guests at the dinner were Mrs. J. L. Graves, mother of Mrs. Blake; Mrs. Bill Burns and daughter, Edna of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Phillips and children; Rev. and Mrs. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. H. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Burns and son Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Burns and daughter, Jan; Mrs. C. C. Edmonson and son and daughter, Cecil and Homer McCarty, superintendent of the Humble Oil and Refining company, has returned from a ten-day inspection trip to East Texas, New Orleans, La., Beaumont, where he visited the Oquirri Coast fields, Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi, Houston, and Fort Worth. McCarty was fishing at Aransas Pass at the same time President Roosevelt was on his fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. A. M. Loper, owner of the Loper Hotel, left Sunday for St. Joseph, Mo., where she will make her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Graham. Earl Loper, son of Mrs. Loper, has purchased the hotel and will take possession this week.

Arnold Bradham, who attends school at Texas Tech in Lubbock, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bradham, over the week-end.

Mrs. Foy Johnson, Mrs. Nora K. White and daughter, Wilda Ray, visited in Lubbock with relatives over the week-end.

Bill Henry Campbell, of San Angelo Business college, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Campbell of the Continental.

Mrs. J. Saffell and daughter, Muri, of Weatherford, visited with her daughter, Mrs. E. D. Tucker in the Humble Camp, S. E. day en route to Odessa, where Mr. and Mrs. Saffell will make their home.

Mrs. Vera Harris and daughter, Myra Nell, motored to Stanton Sunday afternoon where they visited with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Coulson, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Watkins, were visitors in Sterling City Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Nix were called to the bedside of Mr. Nix's father, of Stephenville and are expected to return this week. Mrs. L. L. Watkins is substituting for Mrs. Nix in the Foran school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rippey visited Mr. and Mrs. Cathey and Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs of Abilene Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Baker and sons were guests of Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Lubbock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Smiley, Billy and T. D., visited relatives in Blanco Sunday.

Miss Julia Brown, her mother and brother, Mrs. L. R. Brown, and Mr. J. E. Brown; and Miss Lita Bell Fulton returned from a trip to Bandera and San Antonio Monday. Mrs. Brown has been visiting a daughter, Mrs. S. W. Stephens in Bandera and Mrs. Salinger in Harlingen.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards of El Paso, who have been visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Grant returned to their home this week.

Mrs. J. H. Spratt was hostess to the Jolly Jokers bridge club this week, honoring Mrs. George Nedy as a guest of the afternoon. High scores were won by Mrs. Frank Tate, Mrs. W. H. Dunn, Mrs. C. E. Chaffin and Mrs. C. W. Harlan. Refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches, strawberry icebox and fruit juices were served to Mrs. Lloyd Burkhardt, Mrs. I. L. Watkins, Mrs. Bob Thompson, Mrs. Earl Loper, Mrs. M. M. Hines, Mrs. R. L. Carpenter and Mrs. J. D. Leonard.

Mrs. Louis Tisdale and son, Louis Junior of McQuay, Tex., Lloyd Cuth and Merrill Glass were guests in the C. L. West home over the week-end.

CONTINENTAL USES NEWSPAPERS IN A NEW AD CAMPAIGN

PONCA CITY, Okla., May 11.—Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium of merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales of Conoco germ-processed motor oil following past newspaper advertising campaigns, Continental Oil company is again launching a large scale advertising campaign in some 1,400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation. The campaign will continue into September and will be distinguished by the fact that it will feature the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

Surveys conducted by Continental's advertising department showed two factors which decided the nature of the forthcoming campaign. First, it was ascertained that the best sales results followed the use of newspaper advertising; and second, that the average motorist is far more concerned with the mileage he obtains from his motor oil than any other single factor.

Correlating this information with the fact that Continental distribution is now conducted entirely through local independent dealers, the advertising campaign will stress that each dealer is a "mileage merchant" who, in order to retain his customers and gain new ones, must sell mileage in the form of a motor oil which will give efficient service.

A shattered propeller with one of its blades rising from the ground was higher than any other part of the shattered "Hindenburg." This photograph shows the forward end of the huge ship as it rested on the earth.

Herbert O'Laughlin (right), 38-year-old resident of River Forest, Chicago suburb, escaped death in the explosion of the Hindenburg by leaping from the blazing craft before it hit the ground. Not until the day after did the ground crew at Lakehurst, N. J., take time out to nurse their own injuries. Shocked by the horror of the Hindenburg tragedy, they immediately tried to rescue whom they could, giving first aid to the injured. Here Gano Ferguson of Temple, Tex., civilian member of the ground crew, is having his injured arm bandaged by F. J. Remus, of the navy crew.

"NEIGHBOR TO THE SKY," by Gladys Hasty Carroll. (Macmillan; $2.50).

Although Gladys Hasty Carroll's third novel is rooted in the Maine soil at each end, it swings free of Maine through much of its course.

Luke Gilman was one of those men born in tune with his surroundings. His father told him once that knowing a trade was an anchor to windward, would make him independent. Luke learned carpentry, and although he never left the home place he had, at the age of 28, became one of the pivots of life in the village. When he went into a kitchen it was not as a visitor but as one of the family. It had not occurred to Luke to be "ambitious" in the worldly sense, for living his life was enough for him. But it was not enough for the school teacher who came into the village, and was brought to the Gilman house as a boarder by Luke's brother, Margery Lee was a strangely self-contained girl, but it was not until she had definitely sent Luke's brother away that Luke himself knew why this was so. Margery had not come from much, and she was going somewhere.

She was perfectly frank about her ambitions, and she gradually interested Luke. Luke was not quite sure that Margery was right, but he was sure he loved her, and that he could try to make a place for himself in her own scheme of living. So, with Margery, Luke returned to school. So he went on until he was teaching in a mid-western university.

It is here that Mrs. Carroll does a really important social service in exposing rather gently, but very effectively, the research "racket" in our colleges. This has become a problem in more ways than one, and Mrs. Carroll has a better grasp on the problem and its dangers than a good many writers of learned reports.

It is her own story, from the moment Luke becomes the research director of this particular institution, and it is not fair to tell in advance. But it should be said that this is a somewhat different novel for Mrs. Carroll, and a very fine one.

Business And Study Meetings Held By Baptist Circles

Missionary circles of the First Baptist church held business and study meetings in the home of members and at the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. George Gentry was hostess for the Lucille Reagan group who were led in study of Christian life in the home by Mrs. J. C. Loper and Mrs. J. A. Coffey. Mrs. E. T. Smith gave the devotional. Mrs. Coffey was program leader of the afternoon.

Present were Mrs. Ira Powell, Mrs. L. A. Mayfield, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Tom Cantrell, Mrs. Loper, Mrs. Coffey, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. Horace Reagan and the hostess.

Members of the Central circle were led in opening prayer at the church meeting by Mrs. C. E. Scarborough who also was leader for the study of showing kindness taken from the mission text, "Royal Service."

Parts were taken by Mrs. Souders, Mrs. H. J. Alexander and Mrs. Scott Cook. Afterward a special offering was taken for the West Texas unitarian in Abilene.

Attending were Mrs. F. G. Gary, Mrs. H. C. Burrus, Mrs. Souders, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. C. E. Cloyes, Mrs. Scarborough, Mrs. J. F. Laney, Mrs. W. R. Douglas and Miss Myrtle Stamps.

Plans for the program for next Monday's missionary meeting at the church, and the circle program were made by Florence Day members when they gathered at the home of Mrs. R. V. Jones.

This circle is in charge of the program arrangements for the general meeting of the circles at the church next week. Questions from the Bible were outlined and will be presented at the circle meeting that will be held in three weeks.

Taking part in the discussion were Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. L. M. Gary, Mrs. R. C. Hatcher, Mrs. R. V. Hart, Mrs. L. H. Fuller, Mrs. J. P. Dodge and Mrs. Jones.

Lazy, bored, grouchy
You may feel this way as a result of constipation

Constipation is an enemy of pleasure. It dulls your enjoyment of the best entertainment and the best friends.

To neglect constipation is to invite serious trouble. For your health's sake, take Black-Draught at the first sign of constipation. You'll soon feel better.

Here's a laxative that is purely vegetable, prompt, and reliable. Try it!

Coronation Inspired

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 345

The coronation was the inspiration for this unusual fillet centerpiece. It makes an especially attractive tea cloth or table piece. Measuring 42 inches in diameter, when made of No. 30 mercerized crocheted cotton, it is worked round and round in fillet crochet, and is finished with a lacy edging.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with block and space diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need. To obtain this pattern, send for No. 335 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Modern Ark Dwellers Beat Rent And Taxes

Californians who live in rent-free arks over the tidelands enjoy all the comforts of home—even mail which is felt regularly in the rough-hewn letter boxes.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10 (AP)—Noah paid no rent or taxes and neither do several thousand modern ark dwellers of the California tidelands.

By building their homes on stilts over the water they avoid owning real estate, yet some of the houses are large, modern and almost luxurious.

The submerged land is owned in most cases by the state and the builders have only precarious "squatters' rights. The shacks, however, are commercially useless and nobody seems to object. In a few cases private owners assess their uninvited guests a dollar a year.

Many a modern Noah not only avoids rent and taxes but by fishing from his "front porch" keeps food bills down.

Cheaper Homes For Working Man Demonstrated By U. S. Agencies

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—The Roosevelt new deal reported progress today in its drive to build the American working man a decent home at a price he can afford to pay.

It listed its accomplishments—on the floor of the North American Homes exposition which opens in Madison Square Garden Wednesday and closes May 23.

The chief exhibits are: (1) A model house for a family of four, costing $2,500 to $4,500, including the price of land. It can be purchased on monthly payments no larger than those of workmen now pay for rent, government officials said.

(2) Low cost apartment house projects, built for low income workers who cannot afford to buy homes. They are designed to rent at an average of $6 a room.

The model house was the result of action by the Federal Housing administration. In a booklet published in May of 1936, on "Principles of Planning Small Homes," the FHA offered plans for small, simply designed dwellings which it said could be built at a cost ranging from $1,200 to $3,600.

Industry raised a chorus of dissent. To test how well these plans would work out in practice, the National Association of Lumber Manufacturers and Dealers built four such homes at Bethesda, Md. The plans ran true to form, and the houses were so popular among visitors that a national campaign was decided on.

Answers To Many Questions Are Found In Latest Carnegie Book

Do you know six ways of making people like you? Twelve ways of winning people to your way of thinking? Nine ways to change people without giving offense or arousing resentment? Seven rules for making your home life happier?

The answers are to be found in a currently popular book, "How To Win Friends and Influence People," which will be reviewed here Thursday evening by Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas, professional literary critic who has established a reputation in Big Spring through earlier appearances. Miss Oppenheimer is to be here again under auspices of the 1937 Hyperion club, in an engagement in the Settles ballroom, beginning at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Author of the success work is Dale Carnegie, a well-known instructor of New York whose book has brought him national prominence. For many years Carnegie has trained business and professional men, offering courses for executives, salesmen and those in all walks of business life. His book has been called an efficient working manual for people in solving their daily problems in human relationships.

Miss Oppenheimer is thoroughly versed in the Carnegie work, having reviewed it numerous times, in Dallas and other Texas cities.

Three Women Take Parts On Methodist Missionary Program

Three women took parts on the interesting mission study program Monday afternoon when the First Methodist Women's Missionary society met in the church parlors to study the third chapter of Congo Crosses under the leadership of Mrs. H. G. Keaton.

Mrs. Keaton gave the devotional and Mrs. Fox Stripling gave the first part of the chapter, the subject of which was "The Cross Upon the Back." Her topic was on African women, crossbearers, while Mrs. V. H. Flewellen spoke on African girls, and Mrs. C. E. Thomas discussed African babies.

The circle count was No. 1, seven; No. 2, four; No. 3, four; No. 4, four. Registered were Mrs. Walter Cundiff, Mrs. C. R. McClelleny, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. N. W. McClelleny, Mrs. Flewellen, Mrs. W. E. Plunkett, Mrs. W. C. Myers, Mrs. Arthur Woodall, Mrs. C. E. Shive, Mrs. B. E. Freeman, Mrs. Carl Williams, Mrs. Stripling, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Mrs. W. A. Ricker, Mrs. C. A. Bickley, Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Mrs. I. S. McIntosh, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. J. C. Waits, Sr., Mrs. Fred Arrington, Mrs. R. L. Warren, and Mrs. J. R. Manion.

The society will meet at 3 o'clock next Monday at the church to continue study.

The day marked the eleventh wedding anniversary of the host and hostess, the twenty-second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Campbell, and in addition was Mother's Day.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Lulu Blocker, grandmother of Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. J. W. Blocker, mother of the hostess, Mr. Blocker and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blocker and family, Ray Martin, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bickley, the hosts and their daughter.

Catholic Study Units Hold Joint Meeting At Vines Home

Joint meeting of two study clubs of St. Thomas Catholic church, St. Theresa and St. Catherine, was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Vines Monday evening when Mrs. W. E. McNallen led the group in a study of the last public appearance of Christ taken from chapters of the text, "The Life of Christ."

Mrs. Charles Vines, Mrs. J. D. McWhirter and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins assisted Mrs. McNallen in the program. Others present were Mrs. L. L. Freeman, Mrs. A. S. McMahon, Mrs. W. D. Willbanks, Mrs. Kathleen Williams, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, Mrs. P. J. Morgan, Mrs. Glenn Golden, Miss Mary Reedy and Rev. Joseph Dawn.

The St. Theresa unit will meet at 7:45 next week at the home of Mrs. L. L. Freeman to study the crucifixion.

Mrs. George Grimes Is Hostess To New Whirl Wind Club

The recently organized Whirl Wind Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. George Grimes Monday evening for games at which Mrs. Lloyd Williamson was the only guest.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Williamson who was lowest scored and to Mrs. Frank Johnston who scored highest. Refreshments were passed to the prize winners and Mrs. Warren Bush, Mrs. Jess Hush, Mrs. Ray Shaw, Mrs. Freddie Maddox, Mrs. Richard Young and the hostess.

South American Theme Is Used For Banquet

STANTON, May 11 (Sp)—In a setting gay with the green, red, yellow and blue of the flags of South American countries, the annual Junior-Senior banquet of the Stanton high school was held in the dining room of the Methodist church Saturday night. The Pan-American theme which is being developed in commencement exercises this year was featured in banquet accessories and in the evening's program.

White-covered tables in double-T shape were laid with quadricolor runners of the four chosen colors. Down the center, vari-colored candles alternated with small flags of the South American countries. Dancing girl and musician figures held place cards and red cups held assorted candies.

Programs were in the shape of a map of South America and tied with red and green bows. Pillars supporting the roof of the dining room were wound with red, green, gold and blue and narrow bands of the same color crepe paper crisscrossed the windows. Colored balloons added a final festive note.

The following program was presented:

Invocation—Supt. W. C. Glazener.
Welcome—Elmer Long.
Responses—J. D. Poe, Clara Heston, Nadine Kelly, Quartet—Annie Marie Bullock, Dorothy Edis, Marguerite Brothers and Elenia Reid.
Class prophecy—Pauline Cox.
Spanish song—selected voices, Juniors and Seniors.

E. 4th Baptist Young People Entertained With Hay Ride

A hay ride was given for 15-year old members of the BYPU pres. union of the East Fourth Street Baptist church Monday evening by 16-year-old members. Club sponsors were Mrs. Presley, Mrs. Beattie Wood and Mrs. A. W. Page.

Present were Durward and Horace Deering, Lawrence and Ferman Presley, Jackson Craig, Christine Bird, Margie and Eldred Ely, Mildred Thompson, Floyd Williams, Helen and Pauline Henry, Dalton Johnson, Gerald Woods, Gean Jackson, William Scarlett, Berlie Fallon, Wendell Wood, Maybelle Bly, Marcelle Martin, Vera and Virginia Garrison, Ed Tyson, Bill Jones, Burl Gambury, Floyd Dixon, Johnnie Williams and Alphonse Page.

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work."

Mrs. Herman Futrell, 905 W. Oak Ave., Jonesboro, Ark.

Tests prove that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Celebration Is Held For Brazilian Festa

Presbyterian Women Offer Programs To Raise Funds For Brazilian School; Decorations Lend Impressiveness To Affair

Members of the First Presbyterian auxiliary Monday afternoon celebrated the Brazilian Festa birthday party with a beautiful affair at the home of Mrs. T. S. Currie. Throughout the entertaining rooms the Brazilian and American flags were arranged to portray friendly feeling that exists between the two countries.

The members and guests were greeted at the door by Misses Mary Louise Wood and Inez Knaus. Mrs. D. A. Koons presided at the registry book.

The program was arranged to acquaint the members with the meaning of the festa which has been organized to raise money with which to complete the building of the Agnes Erskine school in Recife, Pernambuco, Brazil.

Mrs. W. C. Barnett was leader of the afternoon and gave the devotional from the 11th chapter of Proverbs which is the favorite of the Brazilians. Afterwards Mrs. D. F. McConnell offered several piano selections. Mrs. J. B. Little led in prayer.

In the introductory talk Mrs. Emory Duff listed the three objectives of the festa. They are: To aid in completion of the school; help the Cayua, Indian mission; to benefit in holding biblical conferences, institutes and schools.

A colorful pageant in which all women appearing wore costumes was particularly impressive. Mrs. S. L. Baker acted the part of the Brazilian president and presented flowers from her country to America. Others who took part were Mrs. H. H. Moser, Mrs. N. M. Agnew, Mrs. Tom Donnelly, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. L. E. Morris, Mrs. H. G. Foonsee and Mrs. R. V. Middleton.

Following the program Misses Knaus and Wood took collection that amounted to $23.61.

The dining room was profusely decorated with flowers and also the flags of two countries.

The dining table was laid with a lace cloth over green and the Brazilian colors of green and gold were used throughout in appointments.

The table was centered with a cake shaped as the Southern Cross and was topped by 25 lighted candles to denote the 25th celebration of the festa. Individual cakes were topped with three stars to signify the three objectives and also held miniature Brazilian flags. Mrs. C. W. Cunningham poured and was assisted by Mrs. Koons, Mrs. A. A. Porter, Mrs. Currie, Mrs. Raymond Dunagan and Mrs. R. T. Piner.

Others attending were Mrs. George Neill, Mrs. Elolise Arnold, Mrs. Neill Hilliard, Mrs. T. M. Lumley, Sr., of Cushing, Okla., Mrs. James Little, Mrs. T. M. Lumley, Jr., Mrs. N. J. Allison, Mrs. E. O. Ellington, Mrs. W. W. Barker, Mrs. G. D. Lee, Mrs. E. C. Hostler, Mrs. James Lamb, Mrs. L. S. McDowell, Mrs. H. W. Caylor, Mrs. Lorin McDowell, Mrs. Frank Knaus, Mrs. Hugh Dubberly, Mrs. L. B. Dudley, Mrs. Boyd McDaniel, Mrs. Herbert Corra.

Gorgeousness Is Theme Of Coronation

LONDON, May 11 (AP)—The curtain will be rolled up tomorrow on the fashion splurge of a century.

Jewels enough, to fill a hundred coffers, silks glittering with pearls, diamantine and embroidery, gold and silver lace, velvet, ermine and gem-studded turbans of Mahara-jahs will be mingled in one scintillating pageant which already has left its mark on fashions from Maine to Buenos Aires.

How lasting this effect will be is another question. London fashion leaders predict it may start the greatest renaissance of elegance of the 20th century with elaborate embroideries, colors of crimson purple and gold established as evening fashions for the next two seasons.

A swift reversion to stark simplicity, however, was expected by some experts as modern fashion moves to aid in completion of the Elanantne, sequins, diamond necklaces and blazing tiaras combine to make costumes which it would be virtually impossible to wear in any country where there is no court.

Mrs. Max Jacobs Speaks On Garden Of Eden For Sisterhood Members

Mrs. Max Jacobs spoke on the Garden of Eden before members of the Nettle Fisher Sisterhood in the home of Mrs. David Merkin Monday afternoon when the group continued study from the Book of Genesis.

During the business session the women settled matters of business pertaining to the confirmation expenses and also discussed purchasing books for the sisterhood that deal with Jewish life.

Attending were Mrs. Julian Eckhaus, Mrs. Joyce Fisher, Mrs. Bernard Fisher, Mrs. N. Brenner, Mrs. M. Prager, Mrs. Scher, Mrs. Merkin and Mrs. Jacobs.

'IN-LAW' GATHERING

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Patterson were guests of their children in Crane Sunday when other in-laws of the children were present. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Jarvis in the Patterson home. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Holland of Waco, parents of Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Jarvis of Crane.

ME Seniors To Present Play On Wednesday

Senior department of the First Methodist church will present a comedy, "Elmer Waits Outside," at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday in the church basement. Proceeds will be used for various department activities.

Principal players in the production are two cranky attorneys, between whom has been a feud for years; two upper chasemen and a freshman from college, and two office helpers. The mix-up comes when the boys seek donations from one of the lawyers, and through the ingenuity of the freshman succeeds in reaching both attorneys and eventually effecting a reconciliation.

Moore String band will furnish music for the occasion. Several musical readings are scheduled. Those carrying roles in the play are Sam Atkins, Joe Lusk, Jean Hardy Flewellen, Frank Wentz, Richard Thomas, Billie Robinson and E. C. Bell.

Tickets are on sale by members of the department.

GUESTS TO HOMES

Weekend guests of Mrs. Della K. Agnell had returned to their homes today. Here for a family reunion were a brother and sister of Waco, William H. Russell and Mrs. T. E. Bowman; two sons, P. W. Agnell of Austin and Alvin Agnell of Corsicana, and a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rowen of San Angelo. Friends who were guests of Mrs. Agnell were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newton Clark of Oklahoma City.

THE TEST OF EDUCATION

Effect of employment in the Civilian Conservation Corps, commonly called the Three-C, will be to put a number of men twenty-three or twenty-four years old into the beginning of business life at the end of their terms, in the opinion of a syndicate writer who has made some study of conditions. He says his conclusion was reached after conversation with some officers in charge of CCC camps over the country. He thinks that these men will be too old to begin at the bottom and work their way up.

That will depend upon what sort of business the young men expect to enter. There will be room for many of them in forestry and allied occupations, for soil conservation work, for concrete and other construction; all these are taught in CCC work. But if their expectation is to step into a white collar job they may find disappointment.

The writer cites the situation related to him by an elderly couple whose grandson had graduated from a university and the only jobs he could find were working in a filling station, driving a laundry wagon or "jerking" soda water at a fountain in a drug store, and the old folks thought that was "a wonderful outlook for a young man today," speaking of course ironically.

What is so bad about a job in either of the occupations mentioned by the grandparents? All are honorable and necessary occupations. A college graduate, engaged at a filling station, need not remain there the balance of his life. If his education has been of any use it will enable him to impress his mentality and ability on some of his customers that would probably lead to better employment. And so in each of the other lines mentioned. Not all college graduates can expect to step into high-class well paid jobs while the ink on the diploma is yet damp. The test of their education is not to secure a job, but to keep a job and advance to others better.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Broadway show girls and chorus girls, the fetching ones who seriously pursue their careers behind the footlights, are not pleased when there bursts on the front pages of the nation new episodes in the serial of "Broadway Butterfly Murders," such as happened in the reporting of the mysterious death of Veronica Gedeon, voluptuous model.

Their complaint (being practical as well as beautiful) is that most of the principals in these "butterfly murders" have been play-actors, and a perusal of the records indicates that very few indeed were stunningly prominent in stage careers. Louise Lawson, Dorothy King and Vivian Gordon were show girls—but not stars.

Marion "Kiki" Roberts, sometimes a brunette but often a redhead, was a chorus girl in the Ziegfeld "Follies" until she held a rendezvous with the gangster, "Legs" Diamond, a few hours before he was shot to death.

It was not long after this that the real Mrs. "Legs" Diamond appeared in a sketch at a Times Square burlesque theater, and the following week she was succeeded by "Kiki" herself with her cute Dutch bob. The employer of both was William Minsky, burlesque producer, who was, curiously, the 12th man chosen on the jury that convicted "Legs" Diamond when he was sentenced to four years for conspiracy to violate the prohibition amendment.

There was, however, in the luxury lanes of Butterfly Row one girl who was very close to stardom when death mysteriously cut short her career. She was Bobbie Storey, a blond-haired, blue-eyed barmaid from London halls. As a barmaid she served royalty and nobility, and she was happy in her hidden, friendly life among the Haymarket stubs.

It was Charlot, the French musical revue producer, who saw her there one night drawing steins of beer and decided that she should be a star in his new show. She accepted the sum he offered, of course, and forgot her ambitions to remain London's prettiest barmaid.

"Understand, though," she warned him, "it is a mistake for me to do this. Show business is not for me. It will kill me." Having made this prophetic utterance, she became a featured artist in his show and then came on to New York for leads in "Vanities" and the "Follies."

But New York, with its champagne and gay parties, never gave her the lust for life that she knew when she was only a girl who served beer to the trade in the London pubs. She found it not to her liking, and the fragile featured girl who had so charmed Charlot slipped into a melancholy state of mind that deserted her only at rare intervals.

You know, of course, what happened. They found her one night in the apartment of a friend, dead. It was a strange ending for one who had come so far. Her body was clad in a black lace nightgown, and clasped tight in her hand was a nickel.

NEWS

BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL

MALLO

Copyright, 1937, Paul Mallon

Britain expected to regain supremacy in Europe. Spanish war costs Italy. Germany self-assurance. Re-armament gives England chance to force peace. "Little world war" shows old weapons improved.

Gun Powder

WASHINGTON, May 11—England is rejoicing over the good business of her coronation, while launching her tremendous armament program. Mussolini snubs mighty Britannia by withdrawing his London news agencies and staging an empire day of his own in military fashion. Hitler lays low, but he and Mussolini secretly are pushing to end their joint Spanish war while the British are busy celebrating. This is 24 hours of news from Europe, full of kings, dictators, displays and guns.

Military men may be inclined to overestimate the importance of their profession, but their practiced eyes measure the importance behind most of this news (and news that is likely to come from Europe) in terms of guns more than kings, dictators or displays. To them, international relationship has been based on gun powder during the recent era, and is already changing on the basis of still more gun powder.

Change

Their hasty glance inside the situation guns like this:

Britain is likely to reassert her supremacy in the European diplomatic world as soon as her tremendous re-armament program gets well under way. (Mussolini will not snub her 12 months hence, they say.) The dictators got ahead of her in armaments during the last few years. The Ethiopian and Spanish affairs found her unable to assert herself aggressively.

But grave technical weaknesses have lately also developed among the forces of the dictators in Spain, crippling their self-assurance to such a degree that they are unlikely to start anything serious. They will continue to bark, but cannot afford to bite.

The most serious thing that has happened to them is the swiftly developed superiority of the Russian air force. General staffs in Berlin and Tokyo are said to stand in awe of it at present, which may account for the lack of belittling news from both capitals lately.

What may come of it all in the end is not the most obvious thing, war, but the things now considered least possible, disarmament. If Britain gets herself into a position to force peace, disarmament will again become a popular subject.

Thus, the crazy cycle of events may yet end at the beginning.

Rifles

The Spanish war really showed the experts as many deficiencies as advances in the art of war. It proved an effective new weapon of death have been developed since the world war, but tremendous strides have been made in improving the old ones.

For instance, it has become evident in recent Spanish fighting that the French have developed an automatic rifle for infantrymen. The gun is believed to be somewhat on the pattern of a new rifle just introduced in the American army. The recoil has been reduced so that a soldier can shoot the eight bullets without changing his sight, or shifting the bolt to reload.

Aircraft

Anti-aircraft weapons have been greatly developed. The Germans had the most effective ones in Spain, but the real secret of their effectiveness seemed to be that they were manned by experienced German. Spanish flyers are using French guns, which probably are nearly as efficient, but their weapons are not so well handled.

It is estimated that about 80 per cent of all airplanes brought down by the rebels were shot down by anti-aircraft guns. This probably is a high tribute to the Russians who were flying for the loyalists.

Tanks

The Italians and Russians stand out even in their development of tanks. The Italians have a light fast model which will scout over almost any type of ground. The Russians have a heavier one which carries guns large enough to penetrate the Italian tanks. The Germans have spent much time lately in improving their tank. They have a high-powered automatic gun which, in fact, is a super-machine gun. It will penetrate even the heavy Russian tank, which is immune to ordinary rifle and machine gun fire.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Filmland's glamour girls labor in vain over many subjects, but once in a while they turn out a Gail Patrick.

Hollywood and Margaret Fitzpatrick's intelligence can take a bow for Gail Patrick. The difference between Margaret Fitzpatrick and Gail Patrick is the difference between just any pretty girl and a movie actress.

Gail Patrick. In 1932 Margaret Fitzpatrick arrived, a regional contest winner who had no hopes of being chosen as the "panther woman." She was a nice, pretty young woman from Birmingham, Ala., a college graduate and a law student. She had good family background, a good head, some natural beauty, an open friendly manner.

Self-Conscious About Height
By Hollywood's standards she knew little about wearing clothes. You wouldn't have picked her out of a crowd for "smartness." She was tall—5 feet 7—and self-conscious about her height. She wore low-heeled shoes.

At first she took her Hollywood visit as a vacation. So did the test. But Marion Gering directed a test anyway. Executives didn't look at it until they heard another studio was interested. Then they looked and signed her at $50 a week. I believe it was an "Oh-might-as-well" basis.

She did bits, and pretty soon the glamor girl started in. She wore her hair long, a knot at the neck. Lenore Sabin, the hairdresser, began experimenting. She tried one coiffure and another. When Gail was cast in "Death Takes A Holiday" and the studio wanted her blonde she refused a bleach. She compromised on a blonde wig—over a bob. Dot Pondell, who does Dietrich's make-up, did things to Gail's studio designers took her in hand, showed her how to "wear" clothes, made gowns especially for her. They put her in high heels and she learned how to look stately instead of "too tall." She took dictation lessons and minimized her southern accent. She studied acting.

Publicity Helped
The publicity machine went to work, too. Gail had a good "angle," pretty law student's ambition to be Alabama's governor. When she told about it, you believed her. If

EARL WILLIAMS NEW CASINO ENTERTAINER

Appearing as a featured personality at the Casino night club, with Ken Allen and his band, is Earl Williams, who peeps up the entertainment as a genial master of ceremonies, a singer and a "hot" clarinetist. Williams opened a special engagement at the Casino Monday night.

He comes here from Dallas, where he set some sort of a record by playing more than 50 weeks at the Trocadero, downtown night spot in Dallas. Williams sings and plays request numbers.

DATES ARE SET FOR CHOMA GRADUATION

COAHOMA, May 11—George Boswell, superintendent of schools, said Tuesday that commencement exercises for the senior class would be held the week of May 20.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered on that date by Rev. B. E. Long, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Graduation exercises will be held June 2. State Sen. G. H. Nelson has been invited to be the speaker.

Sixteen seniors will be graduated from the Coahoma high school this year.

EVIE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDEMER.

Chapter 37
IT'S LOVE
Eve did miss George—intensely. She might not be in love with him as she had been with Denny. No, not as she had been with Denny—that was what had betrayed her. She missed George as if some part of her was gone. A lack as enormous and unbearable as starvation, as deprivation of breath and light.

She laughed aloud, with the incredible delight of it. She loved George! More than that she was a part of him, of everything he was and said and did, a she was of her. That was why the Kay girl had thought they were married. In a thousand ways they were married, as much as they ever could be. In this summer they had spent together welded by their pleasures open a drawer. It was full of sheets covered with notes in George's small upright hand. She looked down at it, dreaming. The papers would eventually go into a filing cabinet, she knew; but the cabinet would never go to Mrs. Cleveland now. Some day children would use it again for a storehouse and playhouse.

Anne Gardner rapped on a pane, and she ran out to her. Presently she was lying with the group in the late afternoon sun. They were her guests no more than was George's. "Eve, I've Done It!"

They went on talking and playing. She lived on in her mist of excitement and anticipation. George would be back tomorrow night. Maybe tomorrow afternoon. . . . It was earlier even than that. Eve heard the car while she was working at the kitchen table late and duties, by their mutual interest and care for the child and the old man, they had grown as close as most people do in five married years. And they would go on all their lives as close as this, wonderfully closer than this; their children, their work and play, building a oneness more and more effortless and complete.

She leaned there, dazzled and breathless against the laden boughs, understanding. This was why she had so swiftly forgotten Denny. Why—she had not really loved Denny, she saw now. The hurt of his desertion, wounded pride, had been a great part of her grief. If love was needing a man as you needed sun and air and food and water and sleep, she had never loved Denny; it had been thrill, excitement, kisses and laughter. There would be more of these with George—but how much more?

"How much more!" she said aloud, sobered and reverent, pacing down the orchard trail. And then smiled a little, planning how she would tell him when he came back. . . . And what a stupid idiot she had been! Why, no wonder he had been angry with her! He had asked her again to marry him in those few heartening words last night by the hissing fireplace. And she must have seemed to ignore, to evade, to well, she'd make it up to him!

She had never once said to him, or to anyone, anything about Denny. But she thought they must know. Two months had gone by now without her seeing Denny or hearing from him. Uncle Henry had a countryman's watchfulness about small happenings and she knew talked most things over with George. They discussed her welfare affectionately. She knew that from Judge. Besides, with George's mother at a Southampton hotel, and Miss Power in a house there, it wasn't likely he didn't know. None of which mattered at all.

She planned the words in which she would tell George—a dozen ways, as lovers will, as she walked singing down the path.

STEEL SHIPMENTS HIGHEST SINCE '29

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—United States Steel corporation today reported April shipments of finished steel were 1,343,644 tons, highest April since 1929 when shipments were 1,498,330 tons.

The total was a decrease of 70,755 tons from the preceding month, but an increase of 305,737 tons over April, 1936.

AMERICANS IN LONDON FOR CROWNING EVENT GREETED BY FAMILIAR COLORS

LONDON, May 11 (UP) - Americans pouring into London today for the start of coronation week can't help but feel at home despite the fog and rain that settled down normally after unusual London sunshine.

The theme colors of the decorations smothering the west end where the king and queen will parade Wednesday are red, white and blue, against a riot of purple, yellow, green, orange and what have you.

Fourteen liners, headed by the Queen Mary with 2,000 passengers, brought reinforcements into London, mostly from America, totalling between 7,000 and 8,000.

Rudy Vallee, hopping between night clubs and cabarets, was seen a couple of days on the way over. They tossed a blighter who boomed him at the Holborn Empire, a vaudeville house, right into the street.
