Tanks Provide Steel Guard For Infantry In Bloody Retreat

As The Allies Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 31.—Two divisions of the Frencn rearguard for the Allied retreat from Flanders have fought their way to Dunkerque, it was announced at this afternoon's ministry of information press conference.

These divisions, numbering perhaps 30,000 men in all before they underwent the shattering attack in Flanders, were said to have reached the channel port—exit from the northern battle zone—just as Germany's mechanized legions laid siege to the town.

Armored columns smashed at the Dunkerque gateway and slashed around the French rearguard which covered itself in the manner of Caesar's forces—boxed in by armored phalanxes.

Tanks Guard Sides

The French infantry and artillery kept to the middle of the moving rectangle while tanks guarded four sides.

The divisions, said to be commanded by General Rene Jacques Adolphe Prioux (whom the Germans say is their prisoner), battered a path part way through the German lines of envelopment during the night and completed the bloody retreat in daylight.

A ministry of information spokesman said Prioux' men fought a "marvelous battle" and their losses are "relative" rather than "catastrophic."

Abbeville Area Cleaned Up

A military spokesman said the Abbeville sector had been "completely cleaned up, after several days of Allied operations which had yielded several hundred German prisoners and many weapons and supply trains.

The French estimated their losses there at only a few men killed and one tank destroyed.

Earlier, the spokesman had said

Bulk Of Army Now Will Be Released For Any New Task

As The Germans Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 31.—The main body of the French forces in the Flanders pocket has been dispersed or captured and the blasting attack on remnants of their British comrades-in-arms is progressing, the German high command declared today, adding ominously that the bulk of the Nazi divisions "now are released for new tasks."

It remained to be seen whether the "new tasks" would be another steamroller drive onto the new French line along the river Somme, 70 miles north of Paris, or an attempt to invade England, some 20 miles from the blood-won channel coast—or both.

Brief Respite Given

Overcast skies in the channel region brought respite to the battered British and French that still lived and fought on the coastal plain or within two tiny pockets on the fringe of the trianguar trap.

The murky sky, however, did not shield the Allies entirely. The German communique said Dunkerque's "harbor facilities again were raided."

Germany's mosquito fleet of torpedo speedboats chalked up another Allied destroyer. The high command said it was sunk off the Belgian coast.

Attack In Progress

"The attack against the remainder of the English army in the flat country only a few kilometers deep protected by the rising waters of the canals along the coast between Furnes-Bergues and west of Dunkerque is in progress," the communique said.

"The opponent here is stoutly resisting in order to rescue as many soldiers as possible on ships if necessary, even without equipment."

The French forces, apparently in worse position for withdrawal to the coast, were said in the main to have been dispersed or captured but the high command acknowledged some

Dan Moody Is Being Drafted

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, May 31.—A petition signed by Georgetown friends of former Gov. Dan Moody is due to reach state Democratic Chairman

TO CONSIDER REQUEST

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP) — Former Governor Dan Moody said today he would give consideration to a request that he run or governor again.

E. B. Germany at Dallas today, "drafting" Moody as a candidate for governor again. The required filing fee was sent with the petition by mail.

Resolutions calling on Moody to run were adopted at a mass meeting held at Georgetown and brought to Austin by D. W. Wilcox and Robert W. Cooper.

Drafted For First Race

Moody was drafted for his first race for governor in 1926 at a similar mass meeting in Georgetown. Moody then lived at Taylor, Williamson county. Georgetown is county seat and Moody had practiced law there as county and district attorney before being elected attorney general of Texas.

The meeting that drafted Moody in 1926 was held on Texas independence day. Moody married on April 20 of that year at Abilene and opened his successful campaign for governor on May 8. He defeated Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson who was seeking re-election. Mrs. Ferguson is again a candidate for governor this year.

"Dan's the man," popular campaign slogan of 1926, was revived

Italian Forces Are To Strike Very Swiftly

Greece Assured Of Safety; Peace In Balkans Sought

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, May 31.—Italians close to the government said today that any announcement of Italy's entrance into the European war probably would come only after the Italian forces already had moved and that the world probably would learn of the first actions from points outside Italy.

Widespread belief Italian participation was imminent came from Premier Mussolini's call for a cabinet meeting next Tuesday to discuss "important matters."

Greece Gets Assurance

Italy assured Greece five days ago that her neutrality would be safe from any Italian attack, a competent source disclosed.

Italy's assurance of her desire to keep peace in the Balkans, however, was understood reliably to depend on the success of those states in maintaining their neutrality against the Allies who have been accused of seeking to spread the war there.

Fascist authorities, keeping their plans secret, closely watched British and French activity in Greece where, they said, an Allied move toward Salonika would bring an immediate Italian invasion of the Balkans. One informant said Italy would refrain from taking the initiative there, however.

To Carry Out Pledges

Italians assumed that in replying to President Roosevelt two weeks ago Mussolini made plain his intention to carry out his pledges to Hitler under the year-old German-Italian military alliance.

Il Duce's reply still is kept secret, but Fascists said it undoubtedly contained a frank statement of Italy's position.

A Fascist close to the government expressed the opinion there was little that America could do to influence Italian policy at this stage of events.

English Soil Looks Mighty Fine To War-Weary Troops

(By The Associated Press)

A SOUTHEAST COAST PORT IN ENGLAND, May 31.—German bombing planes raiding the Allied retreat from Flanders "attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor," a soldier of the British expeditionary force said on his arrival here today.

"I never expected to get back alive," he said. "Our work was carried out in a blizzard of bombs and machinegun bullets. Jerry attacked in waves every 10 or 15 minutes. Still they kept coming.

English Soil Looked Good

"The fun began when we were about six miles off the coast. That's where we had to run the gauntlet. The bombers not only dropped their loads but attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor. Though the Royal Air Force constantly was taking a tremendous toll of Nazi planes, English soil looked mighty good."

As the streams of battle-scarred Tommies, as well as some of their French and Belgian allies, continued to pour into reception ports today, it was noticeable there were fewer wounded among them. This indicated the majority of the casualties had been given precedence in the retreat and embarkation.

Women Provide Food

While the men waited to board the long troop trains ready to speed them to the haven of the flowering English countryside, bakers worked overtime providing food. Women

Chaos And Disaster Yet To Come In Huge Doses For Europe; Italy In War Would Prove Menace But Allies Could Take It

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

If you would have a concrete illustration of whether the Anglo-French determination to prosecute the war has been weakened by adversity in the battle of Flanders, it is to be had in two brief sentences taken from the A.P. report today:

Paris—A second British expeditionary force had arrived in France, it was announced yesterday, to take over the Somme salient.

Berlin—Meanwhile the great and bloody fighting attending the Allied evacuation from Flanders, chiefly through the port of Dunkerque, continued with unabated fury.

War Is Going On

So the war is going on, Flanders or no Flanders, and let no one doubt the magnitude of the stake. It is nothing less than to determine whether empires shall survive.

When I arrived in the New York office in the early morning hour, I greeted one of the printer attendants with "well, who's winning the war?" He looked at me speculatively for a moment and then replied:

"I guess maybe nobody's winning."

Disaster Yet To Come

And I guess maybe he is right. The unprecedented death and destruction which already has descended on Europe out of the fury

Scurry County Times Proves The Power Of Newspaper Ads

SNYDER, May 31, (AP)—The Scurry County Times, published by Willard Jones, yesterday proved the pulling power of newspaper advertising.

It issued an edition with a double page spread advertising for a half-inch rain within a week. It was sponsored by about 50 merchants, who were not to pay if it failed to produce results.

The paper came off the press at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rain began falling at 7, five hours later. Precipitation measured .91 inch.

Treason Is Blamed In Nazi Successes

PARIS, May 31 (AP) — A French military spokesman declared today that German military successes in Belgium were "directly due to treason."

"Without this treason," he said, "we would most probably still be fighting on the line of the Albert canal."

He spoke of an incident, in which only one officer knew how to blow up a bridge which the Nazi forces were able to cross over the Belgian canal fortifications, as "distinctly unmilitary."

"It is unbelievable" that no one under that officer's command of 50 men knew how to blow up the bridge, the spokesman said, adding:

"Anyway, the French soldiers who attributed the German advances to the French high command mistakes now know where to place the blame."

Speedy Action Necessary To Build Defense

FDR Asks Power To Put National Guard In Active Service

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Roosevelt submitted to Congress today a supplemental emergency defense program, involving "over a billion dollars," and asked for action without delay.

This latest enlargement of the military program is necessitated, Mr. Roosevelt said in a message to the legislators, because of "almost incredible events" in the past two weeks of Europe's war—"particularly as a result of the use of aviation and mechanized equipment."

Must Defend America

"No individual, no group can clearly foretell the future," the chief executive asserted. "As long, however, as a possibility exists that not one continent or two continents but all continents may become involved in a world wide war, reasonable precaution demands that American defense be made more certain."

The one most obvious lesson taught by the conflict raging overseas, Mr. Roosevelt said, "is the value of the factor of speed."

"There is definite danger," Mr. Roosevelt said, "in waiting to order the complete equipping and training of armies after a war begins.

Speed Is Essential

"There, I suggest the speedy enlargement of the program for equipping and training in the light of our defense needs."

The president mentioned no specific figure and gave no breakdown of the new program, which follows by 15 days his original emergency request for $1,182,000,000 for expansion of the nation's armed forces and shoves the defense bill total to more than $4,300,000,000.

Details of the supplementary program were left for representatives of the war and navy departments and other government agencies for presentation to the appropriate congressional committee.

Would Call Guard

One specific recommendation concluded the president's message. That was that Congress authorize him to call into active service whatever portion of the national guard may be deemed necessary "to maintain

Strike Delays Ship Building

(By The Associated Press)

KEARNY, N. J., May 31. — Six thousand workers struck at the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company, today, halting work on six warships included on the United States' rush defense program.

Among $46,000,000 in naval contracts held by the company are a cruiser and two destroyers on the ways, two destroyers in the fitting basin, and a cruiser on which only preliminary work had been done.

Others Also Affected

Also affected by the strike were three cargo vessels and two tankers.

Strikers picketed the plant while their leaders, who had argued against the walkout, negotiated on their behalf with company officials. The men are members of local 16, Industrial Union of Maritime and Shipworkers of America (CIO).

John Dempsey, local president and national vice president, said he had opposed the strike but now "fully sympathized" with the action taken. The naval work was ahead of schedule and would not suffer, he said.

A ten-cent an hour wage increase and an annual week's vacation with pay were asked by the strikers

Texan Is Killed In Collision Of Trucks

CHOTEAU, Okla., May 31 (U.P.)—Loren Benton Anderson, 27, of Bowie, Tex., was killed today when his heavy transfer truck collided with another truck at a highway intersection here.

His truck, belonging to a Waco, Tex., firm and southbound with a load of household furnishings, was demolished.

By coincidence, the other truck, taking a load of empty beer bottles to a Missouri brewery, was from Waco, driven by G. W. Goolsbee, jr., 21. Goolsbee was not injured but his helper, James Cox, 17, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., received cuts and bruises.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Eaves on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 14 ounces at 4:14 o'clock this morning in Lubbock sanitarium. Eaves is postmaster at Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Odus Waymon Carwile of 1805 Avenue S on birth of a daughter weighing 8 1-4 pounds at 1:11 o'clock this morning in the residence; reported by Stewart & Benson clinic. The infant was named Odus Faye. The father is employed by Baldridge bakery.

Holiday Death Toll Over Nation Drops

(By The Associated Press)

Seventy-eight Memorial day fatalities were counted over the nation today in what was apparently one of the safest holiday observances in recent years.

The loss of life was only fourteen greater than the National Safety council's normal average of 64 traffic deaths alone on an ordinary Thursday in May.

Accidents involving automobiles killed 50, an Associated Press survey showed. There were 28 other violent deaths throughout the country.

Decrease In Slaton Population Reported

Slaton's decrease in population for the past decade, 293, represented 7.6 per cent loss, according to population figures announced this morning by Robert H. Bean, district census supervisor.

Population as of April 1 this year was 3,583, compared with 3,876 ten years ago.

Amherst also showed a decrease in population, dropping from 964 ten years ago to 760 this year. The loss, 264, represented 27.4 per cent.

Rochester, in Haskell county, increased 49 for the decade. In 1930 population was 562, compared with 611 this year.

All figures are tentative, based on preliminary reports and subject to correction when figures are completed.

New Recruits Called For Army In India

SIMLA, India, May 31. (AP)—General Sir Robert Cassels, British commander in chief in India, announced today 100,000 additional men would be enrolled in the Indian army and that the Indian airforce would be quadrupled.

General Cassels said the present situation in France indicated "a definite danger" of a spreading of the war which "might mean India would cease to enjoy immunity from enemy action."

GENERAL IS KILLED

PARIS, May 31. (AP)—General Gaston Billotte, former military governor of Paris, was killed in an automobile accident three days ago while commanding a group of armies in the field, it was announced today. No details were given.

American Fliers To Organize In France

PARIS, May 31 (AP) — A "Lafayette Escadrille of 1940" soon will be created with American fliers and money to fight for France, Humbert J. Clemente, commander of the Paris American Legion post, announced today.

It will be the successor to the famous American air squadron of the World war.

Press reports said French pilots in nine American-made Curtiss planes had held off a wave of 42 German Heinkels attempting to bomb a railway station. The French were said to have brought down six of the Germans as against a loss of two of their own.

Half Million Nazis Dead In Fighting

PARIS, May 31 (AP) — The semi-official Telefrance agency asserted today that the Germans had lost half a million men since they began their invasion of the low countries May 10.

This figure "finds itself written in authentic German documents," the agency reported, without giving additional details.

Plains Projects For Two Areas Ordered

Works Projects administration projects in Dawson and Floyd counties were announced by state office in San Antonio this week.

In Dawson county a Lamesa street improvement program will be carried out; WPA funds $67,012 and city funds, $65,270. Workers to be employed will number 128.

Road improvement near Floydada is planned for that county. WPA funds will be $13,209 and county funds $10,515. There will be 103 workers employed.

Lubbock Residents Will Seek $160,000 Estate In Hearing

She's only 6 months old, but she will join her Lubbock parents in court litigation before the highest court of the land.

"She" is Hibernia Nevitt, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Nevitt only recently moved to Lubbock and established their home at 2323 Fifteenth street.

The baby will represent the future Saturday when a twentieth century skyliner roars off the runway at Love field in Dallas and points its shiny nose toward Washington, D. C.

The infant will be accompanied by her 75-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Marion Kiernan White, also of Lubbock, on the fast trip east.

Supercargo will be faded court documents.

Occasion for the journey, according to Mrs. White, is a June 11 hearing before the supreme court on a 15-year-old legal request by her that a lower court's decision be reversed and that she be given the $160,000 estate of a deceased sister-in-law.

After business matters are settled in Washington, she and

Simple Jacket Is Necessity

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 31 — You don't say, "Oh, I wish Agatha had asked us for next weekend instead of this. I bought country clothes to wear to Jane's last weekend and now I have to go right out and buy something for the beach."

Not at all.

If you're half as good at planning a wardrobe for summer weekends as we think you are, your clothes will be right for beach or country and the suburbs as well.

You'll start by buying one of the new weekend coats. Nothing so practical has been created by designers since we don't know when.

Your weekend coat may be cotton corduroy or lightweight chinchilla cloth, or gabardine or linen. It may be scarlet (the favorite), navy blue, white or honey beige. But, regardless of its fabric and color, it will be brief and boxy and unlined. And it will go over everything you'll need for a weekend, from slacks or shorts to dinner dresses or evening gowns.

In Clothes, Hope For Two-Timing

You'll wear your weekend coat over the town print or sheer in which you arrive by car, train or plane. From then on, you'll keep it handy to wear after tennis, while walking in the woods, sitting on the cool terrace after a swim, riding in a rumble seat, driving to a neighbor's farm for dinner and so on and on and on and on.

Once you have the coat you'll look for slacks and a shirt which are every bit as appropriate in the country as they are on the beach. The play suit which has a matching skirt is a more practical bet than the one which includes only shorts and a shirt or halter. The former, plus the skirt, can double as a dress. And you'll see that it does—often.

Your scarves and other accessories won't be so laden with embroidered anchors and sea-going motifs that you'll feel silly in them anywhere except on a beach. Everything you buy will be wearable every weekend — at anybody's house.

The increasingly popular "weekend coat" is shown here in bright red pinwale corduroy over trousers and shirt of white hopsacking. It's equally smart over day dresses and summer dance gowns. Notice that the trousers are much less voluminous than last season's slacks.

Mrs. B. H. Meskimen Will Present Piano Pupils

A number of pupils will appear in piano recital at 8 o'clock tonight at Seaman hall. Mrs. B. H. Meskimen, teacher, has announced the program as follows:

Little Attic of Dreams (Gray), Margaret Klaus and Donna Rampy; Swans on the Lake (Thompson), Lynn Marie Ryan; Twilight Lullaby (Haines), On Wings of the Morning (Lloyd), Barbara Jean McPherson; Non Stop Flight (Hibbs), Margaret Klaus; The Mill by the Brook (Schmitt), Lynn Marie Ryan; Barbara Jean McPherson; Home on the Range (folk song), Lynn Marie Ryan and Mrs. Meskimen; Rose Petals (Lawson), Heads Up (Lloyd), Jean Eisenberg; Might Lak' a Rose (Nevin), Veil Dance (Wright), Mrs. Kline Uail; Knight Rupert (Schumann), Marie Louise Klaus and Betty Eisenberg; Castanets (Rebe), A Swiss Merry-Go-Round (Belden), Donna Rampy; Ballade (Burgmuller), Two Flowers (Koelling), Betty Eisenberg; Minuet (Jaydn), Benny Rhodes and Mrs. Meskimen; Springtime (Haven), The Swimming Pool (Adler), Marie Louise Klaus; Contentedness (Schumman), Spain (Thompson), Benny Rhodes.

Zana Lee Jones, La Ruth Hall and Barbara Klaus will serve as ushers.

Demonstrator Digs Lily Pool In Back Yard

Mrs. C. C. Heatley, a cooperator in yard improvement in the Arnett-Benson Home Demonstration club, has dug a small lily pool in her back yard. It is irregular in shape and deep enough at one end that fish will not freeze in winter. It is plastered inside and has a bank of rocks at the back. She plans to plant lilies. The pool makes an attractive center of interest and gives variety to the outdoor living room.

Mrs. Heatley has added a rose-bed and beds of annuals and perennials. A privet hedge has been planted to screen the outdoor living room area from garage and vegetable gardens and to give more privacy to the grounds.

Posey Community Couple Works To Improve Farm

The Willie Wilkes in the Posey community will have all the elm seedlings they want to plant next spring if nothing prevents. In April Mr. Wilke planted three gallons of seeds he had gathered from trees in the yard. He used a two-row planter with a cotton seed plate in planting them. This is just part of the things they have done toward improving their farm home as whole farm demonstrators.

About 100 trees were set in a windbreak this spring and others will be added next year. A new cellar was dug, large enough for canned and sorted food they will have, beside a bed for refuge in case of storm. They filled in an old cellar that had caved in, have built cabinets along the north wall of the kitchen and have built a wardrobe in the bedroom.

Chaos And Disaster

volunteers regardless of fatigue and long hours cut mountains of sandwiches and served rivers of tea at makeshift canteens for men who hadn't had a square meal for nearly a week and only snatches of sleep for the last two weeks.

A lieutenant-commander in charge of one of the naval vessels bringing home troops said:

"I don't think we have a crumb of food or even a cup of cocoa left in the ship. My men have been magnificent—uncomplaining in the face of bombing and machinegunning. We are quite determined that not a man shall be left behind for want of a ship."

Soon Got Used To It

One of the French soldiers among those brought to English shores said that in the withdrawal toward the coast, "we were machinegunned so often we almost got used to it."

"We always were ready to jump into the nearest ditch to avoid German planes sweeping low and mowing down refugees and others indiscriminately," he continued. "Always there were some who did not rise again. One simply gets used to that, too."

It was announced today that the battle-worn troops will be given a well-earned rest. A short lease will enable the military authorities to get them reassembled.

Only One Rescued

One French soldier reaching safety said he and 21 comrades were in a French ship which struck a magnetic mine and sank. He alone was rescued.

Some rescued men were in such a state they had to be met at the ship of the war give ample warning of chaos and disaster to come, no matter which side may be able at the end to raise a battered hand in token of "victory."

In any event the jubilant Hitler is busy with plans for following up his great initial success. And the Allies have turned grim faces straight toward the storm.

There are several directions in which Hitler might strike against England direct, against the heart of France, or even in the Balkans. But there is no clear indication of his intention.

Italy Is Next Danger

Perhaps the greatest immediate danger which could beset the Allies would be an onslaught by Italy against France itself while they are weakened and considerably disorganized as a result of the defeat in Flanders.

Hitler and Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels have been reported conferring at Hitler's headquarters at the front. One usually well-informed Berlin quarter said they were preparing to proclaim Italy's role in the war.

Informed London observers said they expected Hitler to try to divide the Allies by separate offers of peace and to threaten Italian entrance into the war to force acceptance.

However that may be, the Allies certainly have plenty of reason to believe that Mussolini may be getting ready to take some sort of hand in the bloody game. Whether the British and French could shoulder that extra weight successfully is, of course, a matter for trial, but there is no doubt that they would give an excellent account of themselves. I think we might go a step further and put it this way.

Time Favors Allies

If the Allies can hold the blitzkrieg in hand from now on for a brief space, time will be playing in their favor and it's a fair gamble that they would indeed be able to handle an additional enemy.

We shall know a lot more about the prospects when we learn how badly the Germans have suffered in the blitzkrieg thus far. Their casualties and consumption and loss of materials undoubtedly have been staggering.

Herr Hitler's problem is that he cannot stand a long war because of lack of resources. If the Allies can hold him off now, their road will grow immeasurably easier in the near future.

In any event, if Mussolini comes into the war he will be making a pretty stiff gamble himself. It is understood that Italy won't reach the peak of war preparedness for another two years. She also is short of vital supplies.

News Briefs

Brown Gets Position—Appointment of J. L. Brown, for the past year an engineer and superintendent of construction in Carlsbad, N. M., for Haines & Strange, Lubbock architects, to be city engineer there was made by the city council according to word received here. Brown was formerly with the Texas highway department and with the city of Fort Worth. He begins work Saturday.

Plugs Are Drilled—Plugs in 7-inch pipe cemented at 4,900 feet in the Ray A. Albaugh No. 2 John Robinson Dawson county oil test were to be drilled with standard tools according to word received here. Change was made from rotary to standard equipment to complete the test in northwestern Dawson county.

New Terry Location—Honolulu Oil corporation announces location of its No. 1 W. G. Frazier as 440 feet out of the southwest corner of section 30, block X, public school land, in Terry county. It is to be a south extension of the Slaughter pool, most of which is to the north in Hockley county, south and west of Levelland. On the same area Gulf No. 3 Mallett was to have been spudded in with rotars after having been located recently.

Five Writs Issued—Orders directing five defendants to appear in 99th district court at 9 a. m. on June 10 to show cause why they should not be judged in contempt for alleged violation of a writ issued by Judge E. I. Pitts last May 17 were issued this afternoon. The orders of May 17 forbid the defendants from engaging in the sale of beer. Those named in the papers issued this afternoon were E. W. Green, I. J. Ford, Walter Williamson, Leon Weaver and Clara Ryan.

Testimony Taken — Action of Methodist Episcopal church (negro) against John Fair, in which litigants seek to determine title to an apartment house, was underway this afternoon in 99th district court. The church claims Fair, a negro, bought the church and converted it into the apartment house after the church had experienced difficulty in paying for lumber that had gone into the church's construction.

Off On Vacation—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin T. Porter of 2606 Avenue S will leave late this afternoon on a two-weeks vacation visit to Milwaukee where her parents and other relatives live. A sister will be married and Mr. and Mrs. Porter will arrive in time to attend the ceremony. Porter is a bank teller and Mrs. Porter is employed by a firm of attorneys.

Treated For Fracture—Fracture of the left elbow was suffered by Hazel Ray McNeil, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey McNeil, of 2410 Seventh street, Thursday afternoon when she attempted to jump from a porch at the residence. She was dismissed from West Texas hospital after treatment.

Mrs. Johnson Treated—Mrs. H. H. Johnson of 1630 Third street was dismissed from West Texas hospital after treatment Thursday afternoon for fracture of the right forearm suffered in a fall at the residence.

Tardy Theft Report—A. B. Ohlenbusch of Ohlenbusch Oil company at 2408 Avenue H, told police this morning he had discovered theft of $71 in tires, tubes and wheels from his company but that he suspected the theft had happened several days ago. Billy Murfee of 1615 Seventeenth street said his bicycle had been stolen. Walter Posey, banker, reported someone stole a license plate off his automobile. A bicycle license 1211 was found in 1200-block Main street and was being held for its owner at the police station.

Dear Mack of Slaton—Whatever your last name, if you forgot your bicycle and left it in the truck of J. S. Lister, you will find it in Lubbock police station. Lister discovered the bike in his truck, took it to the station here and told police he would write you—only he doesn't know your last name. Describe it to the cops and it's yours.

Loesel Is Speaker—Rev. W. G. Loesel, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church, spoke on "Evolution in Creation," before a group of National Youth administration members Thursday night in the men's dormitory at Texas Technological college. Misses Louise and Jean King sang two solos. Jennings Lewis, assistant district NYA supervisor, spoke. Miss Laura Hard, supervisor of the girls' project and a number of her girls were guests.

Son Is Born—Mr. and Mrs. Truman J. Green of Spur are parents of a son weighing 7 pounds, 14 ounces born in St. Mary's hospital at 12:10 o'clock this morning. Green is city manager of Spur.

Cases Appealed — The vogue of carrying corporation court convictions on appeal to the county court was mirrored further this morning when 11 such appeals found their way to the records. Seeking to set aside corporation court judgments were the following and the charges naming them: J. C. Rowan, drunk; T. G. Knight, drunk; Cleli Wright, drunk; Jack Lucas, drunk; Louis Espitia, drunk; Walter Fowler, drunk; Frank Wilson, disturbance; G. B. Thompson, drunk; D. C. Harmon, theft; J. D. Bracy, disturbance, and Ernest Huff, drunk. Houston Barker filed an appeal from a justice of peace conviction on a highway law violation complaint. Sully Johnson, a negro, was charged with aggravated assault on P. W. Williamson. Williamson charged the negro struck him on the head with a hammer.

Music For A. B. C.—Bundy Bratcher of Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys furnished a musical program for an American Business club luncheon today in Hilton hotel. Verlon Bigham and Grady Knight were co-chairmen, Hugh Anderson, first vice president, presided.

our position of neutrality and to safeguard the national defense."

Coupled with that proposal was another that the president be given authority to bring reserve personnel into the active armed service.

In peace time, the chief executive can call out the national guard only with the consent of the governors of the various states.

Mr. Roosevelt stressed the necessity of undertaking immediately the "training and re-training of our people, especially youth, for employment in industry and in the service of the army and navy."

Requirements To Be Great

Obviously, he said, requirements of industry and the expanded armed forces for persons with experience in mechanical and manual fields will be great.

He emphasized, too, the necessity for "the immediate creation of additional production facilities to meet possible future emergencies as well as present deficiencies in the making of munitions, such as guns, ammunition and fire control equipment."

The increased gravity of the situation indicates, the president declared, that there should be no delay, especially since a long time is required to create necessary facilities and reach quantity production.

Needs Are Urgent

Mr. Roosevelt described the amounts involved in the new program as large but he said "I believe that for national safety the needs are urgent."

The problem of defending national institutions and territorial integrity is no longer one for men equipped only with an indomitable determination, he asserted, adding:

"Modern defense requires that this determination be supported by the highly developed machinery of our industrial productive capacity."

Speaking of the need for training men, the president asserted that there was a shortage of individuals trained for the tasks which lie ahead if our defense is to be assured.

Confronting the nation, he said, is the task of training a large number in the skills and semi-skills required by modern production in industry and a highly mechanized defense force in the army and navy.

Commission At Work

As he completed his second extraordinary message to Congress within two weeks, the new national defense commission began work on short cuts that would push the program to a production peak in less than half the time required for the enormous World war effort.

The commission, Mr. Roosevelt made clear, was clothed with all the authority of its World war predecessor, and he said each of the seven

Stock Market

GAINS ARE REDUCED

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Steels and aircrafts, buoyed by prospects of growing domestic and foreign armament demands, provided the main bullish leadership in today's stock market.

It was far from a one-way trend, however, and gains running to 2 or more points for favorites in the forenoon were reduced at the close and numerous issues were about even to down a shade.

Transfers approximated 550,000 shares.

War news was hardly to the liking of speculative forces, although some voiced hope a stronger Allied stand would be made following the retreat from Flanders. Many traders inclined to stretch their Thursday recess through the week-end on the theory developments abroad might take a spectacular turn before Monday.

Of especial interest to Wall Street was action of the president in asking Congress for a supplemental defense appropriation of "over a billion dollars."

Stocks in front the greater part of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Dupont, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck, Anaconda, Texas Corp., N. Y. Shipbuilding and Electric Boat.

Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific were sluggish despite a slightly more than seasonal upturn in last week's freight loadings.

Backward also were U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Standard Oil of N. J., Philip Morris, and U. S. Gypsum. Motors and utilities were virtually at a standstill.

Bonds were selectively higher and commodities mixed.

Hitler Peace Offer Hinted

ment and people concentrated their attention on the "fifth column" menace.

From some quarters came a demand that General Sir Edmund Ironside, commander-in-chief of the home forces, be given plenary powers to coordinate military and civil defense measures — under martial law, if necessary.

To make sure that any invading forces dropped from the air would find no effective help from within the country, Scotland Yard pressed its hunt for fifth-column equipment —arms, munitions and uniforms. Police went through every wharf and warehouse along the Thames, carefully searching furniture and other goods stored there by refugees from the continent.

Suspects Are Arrested

In early-morning raids in several London districts, an undisclosed number of fifth column suspects were arrested and held for internment.

While Home Secretary Sir John Anderson and Health Minister Malcolm MacDonald warned the nation of the very real and near danger of German bombing attacks — power of which the people saw in the battle-scarred transports that brought home weary B. E. F. survivors — Vice-Admiral Sir John Somerville assured Britons their defense forces were prepared to meet any attempted Nazi landing, whether from the air or from the sea.

The home secretary warned there was "every prospect of an early call upon the civil defense forces" and urged those forces to keep "fully manned, in a state of readiness and efficiency."

The ministry of health said England's "front line" areas along the east and southeast coast probably would have to be broadened, necessitating withdrawal of a large number of children to safer areas.

In 15 coast towns 39,000 children (61 per cent of the school population) already have been registered for shipment to districts farther west.

Instructions were issued to civilians on air raid precautions.

The public, saddened by the plight o the B. E. F in the Flanders trap, got some cheer from the reports that thousands of soldiers were being withdrawn successfully. But they prepared calmly to accept hard tidings.

The families of soldiers lost in action informed their friends through brief announcements in newspaper classified columns. Usually they added the request:

"No letters, please."

Ellis of Levelland, for second vice president, and Arch L. King of Lubbock, for re-election as three-year director. Other candidates may be nominated from the floor.

It was urged that all persons planning to attend make reservations this afternoon if possible and that only those coming from a long distance obtain their tickets late. Price of tickets is 75 cents. They are being sold in the alumni office, information office and engineering library at the college. Former students may reserve tickets by calling the alumni office. In addition, Hazlewood said former students whose telephone numbers are available in association records are being telephoned.

Members of this year's graduating class may obtain membership in the association for $1 rather than the customary $2, if they pay dues before leaving college, said Hazlewood.

Boy's Aspirations Are Given Setback

A 16-year-old youth Thursday was restrained from setting up a business at low initial cost.

He was arrested here in possession of a new sedan stolen at Olney. When taken in custody at a travel bureau here he was attempting to obtain passengers and was planning to go to California, Sgt. C. E. Tabor said.

The car is the property of J. H. Benson of Lathrop, Mo. Officers here had been informed of its theft and asked to watch for the car and driver.

Officers instituted further investigation when a sack of "weeds" was found in the automobile. A sample was sent to Austin to determine if the contents are marihuana.

Benson came here Thursday night with E. C. Pruitt, Olney chief of police, to return the car to Olney.

Pruitt accepted custody of the youth and returned him to Young county.

Arrest was made by Sergeant Tabor and Tom Majors, patrolman.

Enrollments Coming In To Scout Camp

Enrollments are coming in for the week's encampment starting Sunday at Camp Post for troops in the north and northwestern district of South Plains Boy Scout council, according to information given at council headquarters here this morning.

It will be the third of five camping periods comprising the summer program at Camp Post, officials said.

George A. Holland, field executive with headquarters in Plainview, will be business manager of the camp and Joe Hutchinson of Sudan will be camp director. Troops in Plainview, Dimmitt, Silverton, Kress, Tulia, Petersburg, Muleshoe, Amherst and Sudan are to be represented.

The present encampment, for Lubbock scouts, will close Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a court of honor, according to Jack O. Stone, council executive, who is spending the week there.

Stone reported that nine of the campers were chosen for membership in the Order of the Arrow, honorary campers' organization, at a campfire ceremonial Thursday night. They are Wendell Addington, Maurice Hood, Howard Lanford, Alfred Spence, Billy Crawford, Howard Schmidt and Gene Marquart, Boy Scouts, and Ceril Batton and Harold Holmes, adult leaders.

The council executive also reported that 14 boys are enrolled in the life saving class offered during the encampment.

INSTALL FURNITURE

ANDREWS.—J. M. Bickley of Houston is installing new furniture and office equipment in the recently completed Andrews county courthouse, on a contract. The building is being occupied and a formal dedication is announced for June 12.

COME EARLY - BIGGEST EVENT IN OUR HISTORY

Hiram Evans Faces Charge

ROME, Ga., May 31 (AP)—A federal grand jury investigating charges of "taxpayer swindling" in Georgia's state government, today indicted Dr. Hiram W. Evans, Atlanta contractor and former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, and John W. Greer, jr., former state highway purchasing agent, on charges of mail fraud and conspiring to violate the Sherman anti-trust act.

The jury also returned indictments charging the following firms with violation of the anti-trust act: The American Bitumuls company, the Shell Oil Company, Inc., and the Emulsified Asphalt Refining company.

Promoted Sales

Doctor Evans told the Georgia legislative committee last year that he "promoted" asphalt sales business for the state with these three concerns.

In the five-count indictment against Greer and Evans, the government alleged that:

"As a result of the operation of the scheme by defendants, the state of Georgia during 1937 and 1938 purchased 4,422,166 gallons of emulsified asphalt from companies owned or represented by Evans, and paid $456,427.42, alleged to be $90,000 in excess of the price which would have been paid on competitive, independent bids."

Fee Of $40 Will Be Charged In Course

A fee of $50 will be charged those who enroll in the summer flight training program at Texas Technological college, according to information given Thursday by Robert P. Vail, director.

Persons interested in applying may visit Vail's office in the main engineering building, where he will interview them concerning qualifications and will give them application blanks.

The ground training will include 48 hours' study of navigation and meteorology, and, as developments since the original announcement have revealed, 24 hours of study of the air traffic rules, primary flight maneuvers and inspection of air crafts, air engines and instruments.

Students must have reached their 18th birthday and not passed their 25th birthday, as of Oct. 1, 1940. The training will be offered between June 15 and Sept. 1 and will lead to private pilot's licenses.

There will be two flight operators instead of one. Clent Breedlove was the flight operator during the long session flight training program and will serve during the summer program with another operator. There also may be other flight instructors.

Massey Funeral Is Held At Lakeview

FLOYDADA, May 31 (Special)—Funeral services were held in Lakeview Baptist church, 11 miles southeast of Floydada, Thursday for "Uncle Bash" Massey, 92, who was credited with being the oldest active cowboy in Texas when he retired four years ago.

Service was read by Rev. George W. Duff, Floydada Baptist minister, and burial was conducted by Curry Funeral home of Crosbyton.

"Uncle Bash," as he had been known since coming to Floyd county nearly 30 years ago, died Wednesday morning in Crosbyton after several months illness.

In 1936 he was given an all-expense trip to Fort Worth to attend the Frontier celebration during observance of the centennial of Texas' independence. At that time he was the oldest active cowboy in the state.

He worked several years on the M-Bar ranch near here but had lived in Crosbyton during the period of failing health.

There are no immediate survivors. Mrs. R. B. Smith of Lubbock is a niece.

Air Base For West Texas Is Planned

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—Major W. F. Long, head of the Dallas aviation school, today began search for a site in North or West Texas for a new primary training unit for army air corps pilots.

Major Long said he had been notified to establish the training base, handling classes of 120 cadets every ten weeks, by October 15 and to have all data in Washington by June 9.

The major said many North and West Texas cities were seeking the air base, which is to be built under the defense program.

Belgian Army Said Cut To Bits By Fire From Nazis; Surrender Is Explained

BERN, Switzerland, May 31—(AP)—An eyewitness to the battle in Flanders, who arrived here through Germany, said last night the Belgian army had been cut to bits and that there was no reason to wonder why King Leopold had capitulated.

"If that was not enough to bring a surrender, the troops' morale was shattered by the presence of masses of refugees literally on the army's skirts.

"German bombers striking at Belgian supply lines struck the refugees, too—Belgian refugees.

"Many Belgian soldiers seemed stark mad, torn between a desire to continue the fight and the inability to avoid bringing German fury on refugees who shared their camps."

Hospital Plan Wins Approval

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—A $60,000,000 hospital construction program, recommended by President Roosevelt and supported in its final revised form by members of both major parties, won unanimous Senate approval Thursday.

The legislation, authorizing a six-year program of direct federal expenditures and grants to states and communities, now goes to the House.

Under the set-up $10,000,000 would be authorized for the year ending July 1, 1941 to be spent by the federal works agency for building hospitals which would be leased to states or communities making application for the projects.

In each of the ensuing five years an additional $10,000,000 would be authorized for grants for state and local hospital construction, the grants being limited to a maximum of 25 per cent and a maximum of 90 per cent of the cost, exclusive of land.

Senator Murray (D-Mont) said the program would provide an estimated 25,000 or 30,000 additional hospital beds, primarily in rural and "economically distressed areas." The amount sought was "small in comparison to the recognized need," he contended.

Reunion Is Attended By About 125 Persons

CROSBYTON, May 31 (Special)—The second annual reunion of Crosby county pioneers was attended by approximately 125 old timers at Old Emma Thursday.

R. L. Travis of Ralls, former county commissioner, was a speaker. Rev. F. W. West, retired Methodist minister, also appeared on the program.

A basket picnic dinner was served at noon.

There is no organization associated with the annual reunion although Mrs. J. J. Spikes is actively engaged in sponsoring the event each year. She moved to the county in the early 1890's.

Old Emma formerly was the Crosby county seat. Estacado was the first county seat when the county was organized shortly before 1890. When it was discovered that Estacado was in Lubbock county, the seat was moved to Old Emma.

It remained county seat until about 30 years ago when Crosbyton was chosen by popular vote.

Little Luxembourg Is Organizing An Army

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—Little Luxembourg, taken over by German troops the first day of the invasion of the low countries, is forming a legion in France to fight back.

The Luxembourg legation in Paris called on all citizens of military age in France to join and "contribute as much as they can to the success of the Allied cause."

The grand duchy, four fifths the size of Rhode Island, had an army of only 250. It was undefended and neutral under international agreements dating back to 1867.

When Royal Air Force aerodromes are mowed, the grass is saved for conversion into cattle feed.

Cotton Market Will Be Pared

SAN ANTONIO, May 31 (AP)—A further reduction in markets for cotton, the south's largest cash crop, was predicted today by E. A. Gastrock of New Orleans, chief of the chemical engineering division of the southern regional research laboratory.

Gastrock read before the joint convention of the National Oil Mill Superintendents association and the Oil Mill Machinery Manufacturers and Supply Men's association a paper prepared by himself and Dr. K. S. Markley, chief of the oil, fat and protein division of the research laboratory.

Cotton Suffering

He stated that cotton, which provides a livelihood to more people in the United States than an other crop, is suffering from an acutely curtailed export market brought on by the adverse economic situation prior to the present war and the war itself.

Touching upon the crop surplus problem facing the nation today, Gastrock said this problem was accentuated by the last World war in which the American farmer was encouraged to produce more and also by the improvements in agricultural practices.

On the brighter side, Gastrock said that the cottonseed oil industry in the past 60 years has grown from a serious economic waste disposal problem to the most important of domestic vegetable oil industries.

Short Jail Terms Given Three Men

Short jail sentences were imposed on three men and fines upon two of them in 99th district court Thursday after Judge E. L. Pitts had held them in contempt of court order restraining them from selling beer.

Russell Ercambrack was ordered to jail for three days and fined $100 in each of two cases. E. Webb received the same penalty in one case. Marie Lattimer was sentenced to one day in jail.

Similar proceeding resulted in dismissal of charges against L. L. (Red) Ford because of insufficient evidence.

A jury in 99th court answered 21 special issues favorable to the plaintiffs in damage action of J. A. Turner and others against George E. Smith and others. Judge Pitts had not signed a judgment but the jury, of which J. G. Wilhite was foreman, ruled the plaintiffs were due $754.

Counsel for Turner had asked judgment of $4,000 in connection with injuries suffered by 14-year-old Julius Turner last Nov. 5.

Population Increase Seen At Brownfield

Increase of 110 per cent in the population of Brownfield and of approximately 25 per cent in that of Terry county since 1930 was reported here Thursday.

The count showed a county population of 11,025 as compared with 8872 in 1930. Brownfield's population is 4003 as compared with 1907 ten years ago.

TEST OF PLANE TANK—Taking a hint from the European war, U. Above, a gunner fires .30 caliber tracer machine gun bullets at an old style gas tank. See it in the sandbagged dugout.

HOW FUEL IS LOST—Water streaming through bullet holes in this old style gasoline tank, pierced by .30 caliber machine gun bullets at a Baltimore test, shows how gasoline might be lost by a plane in flight. The test introduced a new gasoline tank for planes, in which a rubber-like exterior casing "seals up" or "clots over" holes made by the bullets.

UP IN FLAMES—Riddled by machine gun bullets during a test at the Glenn Martin plant in Baltimore, this old style airplane fuel tank, which held 40 gallons of gas, burns merrily, illustrating the ever-present danger of plane explosions and fires. Engineers now seek a fuel tank in which the chances of leaks and explosions from bullets are minimized.

WAR'S SILHOUETTE IN LONDON—Not a new skyscraper going up, but an ancient cathedral, protected against bombing. This beautiful yet grim silhouette at sunset is presented by the protecting scaffolds thrown around the towers of London's famed Westminster Abbey.

Forty Per Cent Of German Equipment Said Destroyed

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP) — Well-informed House members said today Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, told a House appropriations subcommittee it was estimated that 40 per cent of the German army's mechanized equipment had been destroyed in the Nazi's desperate drive to the English channel.

Members said this estimate gave rise to speculation that the tide of Europe's battle might turn in the near future in favor of the hard-pressed Allies, since it seemed that Germany's acknowledged superiority in mechanized equipment could not be maintained in the face of such terrific losses.

Army Is Disturbed

Committee members said the army also was described as disturbed by reports of Nazi activities in South American countries, particularly Brazil and Uruguay, as well as in Mexico.

They said army reports on the subject were borne out by published reports from Montevideo which said the president of Uruguay had asked the Congress there to adopt measures for dealing with "fifth column" dangers and to strengthen the army and navy.

Chairman Snyder (D-Pa) of the appropriations unit said the most reliable information available indicated there were "good sized Trojan horses" in Brazil and that with "all due respect to the Mexican government" it was feared similar conditions existed in that country without the government's knowledge.

Man Spends His Memorial Day In Jail For Decorating Grave

UNION, Pa., May 31 (AP)—Charles Bryner, 52, spent this Memorial day in jail because he decorated the grave of his father, a Civil war veteran.

Bryner and a cousin who was fined $25, were charged with trespassing on a state game preserve in Dunbar township in which Bryner's father was buried several years ago. The Bryners once owned the tract. The two men were arrested by Deputy Game Warden George Spangler.

Never Bothered Before

"We go to the grave every year," Bryner said in his jail cell. "Nobody ever bothered us before. I don't understand yet what it's all about."

Bryner and his cousin, Gibson Bryner, were taken before Justice of Peace C. K. Hawk of Dunbar who imposed a 28-day sentence on Charles and fined Gibson.

District Attorney H. Vance Cottom of Fayette county, declared "I've never heard anything like this before in my life," and added he would assist the Bryners in an appeal to the county court.

Tech Students To Attend Y Parley

Southwest regional conference of the YM-YWCA in Hollister, Mo., will be attended by seven students and Miss Allene Atkinson, secretary of the YM-YWCA of Texas Technological college, who plan to leave Saturday morning.

The students are R. E. Willis and Florence Stone, Muleshoe; Foster Lindley, Seminole; Wanda Kimbrell, Idalou; Wayne Liles, Slaton; Tommie Rutledge, Childress, and Douglas Hardy, Lubbock.

The group will go by chartered bus with a party from West Texas State Teachers college in Canyon.

The conference will be conducted Sunday through June 11.

Speakers Listed

Miss Atkinson and Ted Ledeen, secretary of the University of Texas YM-YWCA will lead one of the discussion groups.

Speakers will include Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas; Dr. Henry N. Wieman, professor of philosophy of religion at the University of Chicago; Lynn Rohrbough, director of the Cooperative Recreation service, Delaware, O., and T. Z. Koo, one of China's outstanding Christian leaders.

A student government seminar will be conducted for college student officials and will be led by Sidney Reagan, president of the University of Texas student council, assisted by Margaret David, president of the University of Oklahoma Association of Women Students.

Maybe The Hubbers Are "Fed Up" On Losses; Anyhow, They Copped Anoth

Pampa Oilers Are Swamped By Basehits

Paramount question in the West Texas-New Mexico league this afternoon is: "Have the Hubbers had enough—and if so, what are they going to do about it?"

Indications of the past two night's performances are that the charges of Manager Charlie Engle finally got in the same mood their many fans were—fed up—and decided that now was the time for every good man to come to the aid of the cause and win a few games.

Nothing Is Cinch

Regardless, tonight at 8:30 o'clock, when the series finale starts at the "Home of the Hubbers" on College avenue, Pampa's second place Oilers will not be so definite favorites as many would think.

Not that two games make a ball club, but there has been something in the coordination with which the Hubbers measured the Gassers and then Thursday night swamped the Oilers, 16 to 8, that brought material optimism to the forefront. Twelve full games behind the flying Amarillo Gold Sox, the Hubs have a long, hard row to hoe if they are to be championship contenders, however.

Stack Will Hurl

And the phrase "defending champion" is just an invitation to trouble in baseball nowadays.

Seeking to stretch their winning "streak," Manager Engle has shifted his pitching order somewhat for tonight's fray, sending in big Gene Stack to inaugurate mound duties against the Oilers come 8:30 o'clock and the "play ball" signal.

Over the rest of the league, the finales of two-game series will be played, teams swapping Saturday for single tests before squaring off in regular Sunday double headers.

Midland Takes Sox

Manager Claude Jonnard's loop leaders waded into the wrong corral in Midland last night, and when proceedings were over, the Waddies had registered a 7 to 5 surprise. The veteran Red Hay played a prominent part in the Cowboy victory, scattering eight base blows over the route after getting in deep water and a five run splurge by Amarillo in the sixth.

Clovis' continually improving Pioneers unleased 13-hit assault in the Baron premises to blast Big Spring, 3 to 2. Hogan handling hurling chores with an 8-hit performance.

Leboes Drop Gassers

Down in Dawson county, the Lamesa Leboes, now rocking along in a third-place tie with Midland, shut down a late Borger rally and played errorless ball to squeeze out a 7 to 6 decision over the fifth place carbon city crew.

From the first frame onward last night, the Hubbers looked like potential champs. Easily, the performance was one of the more impressive ones of the entire season.

Hubbers Start Hitting

Against some of the best twirling the Pampans could muster, including that by the old master himself, Manager Grover Seitz, the Hubbers blasted the local orchard with 16 booming blows. Lefty Rex Dilbeck, one of the better southpaws in the WT-NM loop had the Hubs swinging wildly for awhile, then succumbed under a heavy barrage in the seventh in favor of the Oilers' major domo.

Seitz finally managed to end the fray, but not before his charges were handed one of their worst lickings of the entire season.

Sparr Sparks Fielding

Big guns in the Hubber attack included almost everybody in the lineup, Ray Sparr perhaps turning in the top exhibition afield. The hustling second baseman handled a total of 19 chances for his position, making seven putouts and ten assists, and figured prominently in a double play.

After taking a quick three-run lead in the first, then rocking along until the fifth, the Hubs forged back ahead to stay, increasing the advantage in the sixth when they batted around to count five times, knocking Dilbeck from the mound in the seventh when four tallies crossed the platter and adding the final touch in the eighth.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Charley Howard's Kayak II is insured for $125,000. So when the colt went off his feed at Pimlico recently, the insurance companies had high priced vets flying to his "bedside" from all directions . . .

Today's Guest Star

Sam Greene, Detroit News: "In less than four months Roy Cullenbine's value in the baseball market has declined from $25,000 to $7,500 . . . The first figure was paid for signing with Brooklyn last winter . . . The $7,500 is equivalent to the waiver price which is theoretically what Cullenbine drew when placed on sale by Brooklyn."

Burgess Whitehead who was signed to one of those "conditional" contracts, has been given a new one calling for the same dough he got in 1938 in return for his fine work at third for the Giants . . . Rogers Hornsby, No. 1 in the baseball unemployed line, is keeping his 30 hand in playing occasional games with semi-pro nines . . . Co-eds at Bates, Illinois U., Kansas, Colorado State, Wyoming State, Oregon State and Arizona have gone in for billiards in a big way. Cues is the slogan.

Beg Pardon

Recently we reported that "Put Put" Wright of the San Quentin prison team remained in stir an extra day to help the team through an important game . . . "Put Put's" admirers at Folsom prison want it known he is a graduate of that institution, not San Quentin . . . "His departure left a big void here," wrote the Folsom rooters.

Estelle Lawson Page, the golferette, wouldn't let her home town admirers finance a trip to the coast for the women's national . . . And speaking of golf, Charlie Waters, 17, celebrated his graduation from the Luling (Tex.) high school by stepping around a 9-hole course in

They've Got Some Friends

By Collier Parris

BOYOBOYOBOY, the way they're going now you'll be hearing the cry. Break up the Hubbers!"

We wouldn't be a "fair weather friend" or a "can't-take-a-licking" guy, but it sure is swell to see them Hubbers snap out of it and play some hustling baseball.

Maybe it's true that the boys are going to live up to all the flowery things said about them before the season started and early in the campaign—all of which, of course, has long since been forgotten by the parties concerned—and start getting the job done.

Let us repeat: It isn't a major tragedy for the team to lose one, or a lot of games—as long as they show some hustle and desire to win. If they look good losing, it's not so bad as when they look bad winning, and of course not nearly so bad as when they look bad losing. Baseball fans can take a licking as long as their favorites are hustling and trying to win. And so can we.

COMES A LETTER that fits in very well along about now, and we're glad to get it, despite the fact that the writer, or writers (he, she or they neglected to sign his, her or their names) takes a crack at Sportometer.

We're especially glad to get the letter, because it is the first one we've had which defended the Hubbers. Previous seasons have brought many letters, phone calls and personal visits by fans who took umbrage at our remarks. So it is with considerable pleasure and appreciation that we receive the following which is addressed "To Whom It May Concern." We reproduce it exactly as it was written, spelling, punctuation marks and all.

"This is a funny world," the letter begins, "in which we live. The whole world (encluding Lubbock) talks about Hitler; Who talks about the Hubbers??

"Hitler is gradually meeting his defeat; day by day he slumps a little under the depressing propaganda (and he needs it) but, also, day by day the Hubbers slump for the same reason (and they don't need it).

For the past two years Lubbock has had a winning team. We are justly proud of it—Those boys had their chance with the whole of Lubbock behind them and moved on to various leagues leaving the positions here open for Rookies to fill. They came down here eager to fulfil the positions and keep up the winning team but from the beginning they have had very little support. On regular nights, the faithful few attend the games, afraid to root 'cause they mite git find, who knows, on ladies' night there is a few more who attends, on out of town games, practically nobody attends.

"The radio talks about them, the paper talks about them, the supposedly fans talks about them to their faces, they get it on every corner. Who peps the team up? Charlie Engle and Joe L. Brown along with a few others.

"Maybe they are a happy-go-lucky bunch but they have to hold their chins up because no one else will for them.

"Stretch your imagination and you can see a club of fine personalities linked together with the common aim to WIN, and who could stand a little support. Every member of the club encluding shortstop and pitchers (the center of criticism) is pierced by every word of criticism and pepped up by every word if commendation.

"As loyal baseball fans we would like to see more encouragement and support given the Hubbers.

"We're for them, 'Win or Loose'.

"Signed,

"Always a group of fans."

Maybe the readers can make something out of the foregoing. About all we get is that somebody, or some group of persons unknown to us, is strongly for the Hubbers, and that is just about the most encouraging news we've had since we got back from the Jonesboro spring training camp.

We challenge anybody, including Frank Blake and Buck Harbison, to "beat us out" for the No. 1 baseball fan position in Lubbock. It's mighty encouraging to all three of us to know that somebody else is on our side, and we hope more folks come around. They will, as long as the Hubbers hustle.

Those were swell exhibitions the Hubbers staged Wednesday and Thursday nights against Borger and Pampa; the boys hustled and looked good. They'd have looked good even if they'd lost, and they were in a good position to lose last night because Lefty Dilbeck was really pitching some good baseball up there to the Lubbock batters. Until the Hubbers, using their thinking caps and taking their cuts, caught on to his stuff in the last one-third of the game, Dilbeck was pitching some ball that nobody could miss.

In the stands last night was Herman "Hank" DeBerry, official talent scout for the New York Giants. DeBerry is making the West Texas-New Mexico circuit, looking over every player in the league, and taking notes. What he thought or wrote about the Hubbers and the Oilers last night is known only to himself.

But DeBerry is one of many talent scouts who cross the circuit at regular intervals, or irregular intervals. No manager or player knows when a scout will buy a ticket and sit in the grandstand as an ordinary spectator. This fact should serve to keep the boys on their toes at all times.

The average rainfall on the earth is about 16 million tons a second.

Baseball Fans Given Plenty Of Thri

Hubbell Drops Dodgers With One Lone Hit

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two of baseball's great heroes fittingly memorialized Memorial day for nearly a quarter million fans massed in the major league parks by producing pitching performances such as are reserved only for special occasions.

Foremost on yesterday's program was a one-hit game pitched by Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' apparently tireless veteran, before a screeching crowd of 34,548 fans in Brooklyn's Ebbets field.

Faces Only 27 Batters

The lean, screwballing southpaw came within one single of a perfect game. In the third inning, Johnny Hudson of the Dodgers singled. A double play immediately eliminated him and no other Dodger reached first. Thus Hubbell faced only 27 batters in winning 7-0 and pushing the Dodgers out of the National league lead.

The other outstanding offering was a two-hitter by Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees in shutting out the Boston Red Sox 4-0 before the third largest crowd in baseball's history, 82,437 at Yankee stadium.

Just The High Spots

There were just the high spots of a program of 14 games that drew 237,828 fans. A doubleheader at Pittsburgh was rained out.

The Giants exploded eight runs in the 12th inning to win, 12-5, the second game with Brooklyn.

Ruffing's triumph ran the Yankees' winning streak to six games, but the Red Sox won the nightcap 11-4 and preserved a game margin at the top of the American league.

In taking over the National league lead, the Cincinnati Reds swept two games from the Chicago Cubs. Paul Derringer's pitching and Harry Craft's hitting enabled the Reds to march to a 4-2 decision in the opener, but they had to go 12 innings to take the second 9-8, with Johnny Rizzo sending the winning run across on a single.

The Phillies and Boston split the other show in the senior circuit. Kirby Higbe allowed five hits to take the first game 5-1. Boston battled back in the nightcap for a 5-1 victory.

Indians Down Sox

The Cleveland Indians cut down the Chicago White Sox twice by identical scores of 3-1.

Tom Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe were the Detroit Tigers' winners. Bridges pitched eight scoreless innings after the first and beat the Browns 2-1. The Tigers ripped out a 15-6 decision in the nightcap for Rowe's third victory without defeat.

The Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics divided their doublebill. The A's nosed out the first game 7-6 after Frank Hayes homer tied the score in the ninth. The Senators stormed back to win the second game 14-2 before darkness halted play at the end of the seventh.

Week's Schedule To Be Concluded Today

The week's Business-Professional twilight softball league competition will be concluded this afternoon with three games booked, two in the American division, a single tussle in the National circuit.

Texas Tech's undefeated and untied Faculty crew takes the afternoon's spotlight in the American division, tangling with the hustling Courthouse gang on Field No. 1. Another unblemished record, that of the Federals, will go on the block in the other American division game, Horn Bible class challenging on Field No. 2.

Asbury Plays Faculty

The steadily improving Asbury ten meets the Public School Faculty on Field No. 3 in the lone National division tussle.

Top attraction on Thursday's four-game card was the Jaycees' 10 to 3 decision over the Union Carpenters. Homer Hensley tossed for the winners, thus keeping their record of no defeats intact.

The other National division game saw A.B.C. and Lions battling to a 7 inning 14-14 deadlock, the Lions counting seven runs in the last stanza to knot the count. It was the second tie game the Lions have played this week.

Lawyers Lick Doctors

Bob Crawford, with two homers that accounted for four tallies, paced the A.B.C. nine. Dale Vannoy and Clark Wood tossing and catching for the Lions. Hud Wright and Noel Stalnaker led the Lions' parade.

American division tilts found the Lawyers, behind Ralph Brock's effective hurling, smothering the Doctors, 16 to 9. A. V. Weaver homering with one on for the winners; and the Baptists jumping the Christians for an 11 to 7 decision. Hester Lynch tossed for the losers, Archie Marchant catching. L. H. Barley handling the hurling chores and J. D. Haygood catching for the victors.

Triple Header Set In Softball Play

Lubbock's Softball Association takes charge again tonight at Fox Park.

A triple header, pitting some of the more bitter rivals of respective circuits, will be reeled off, first game to get under way at 7 o'clock, the other two follow at regular intervals.

Borden's Meets McIlhaney

Initial game on the night's program will send the Borden's ten against McIlhaney, two of the faster clubs sometimes overshadowed by the leaders. Second tilt will pit Corcorran's against Central Labor's hustling crew, one of the powers in the association last year but not up to par in comparison this season thus far. The night's concluding number will see Hemphill-Wells and Sash & Door tangle.

The park last night was scene of another double header attraction in the Lubbock County Amateur Baseball league, Sudan and Ropesville taking rather easy decisions over Lubbock Co-Op and Lubbock Wholesale Grocery, respectively.

Minyard Stars Again

Behind the baffling mound pace set by Earnest Minyard, the Sudan squad smothered the Co-Ops, 20 to 5, while the Ropes visitors trounced the other local nine, 15 to 5.

Minyard, who hurled a no-hitter last week, again was in fine fettle, giving up but three singles and striking out eleven during the four innings of play. The winners touched three Co-Op flingers for eleven base knocks, including home runs by Minyard and Tuffy Lumpkin. Lumpkin also singled to pace the onslaught, batting in four mates.

Ropesville's entry in the fast circuit hammered out 12 solid blows from the offerings of Frank Smith. Euel Exum proved to be the big gun with four extra base hits in as many trips to the plate. He slammed out a home run and three triplets for a perfect evening.

Auto Racing Opens Sunday

Thrill seekers in the city and over the South Plains whose tastes cater to speed will have their appetites satisfied come Sunday afternoon and the season's initial auto racing show at Auto Speedways, new track one and one-half miles north of the city on the Plainview highway.

Under sponsorship of N. C. Gaither, who produced a series of the faster type of contests last summer, Sunday afternoon's event is of the "open" variety—anyone anywhere may compete.

Track Is Fast

And indications this morning were that a choice field of local and visiting talent would be on hand to launch the weekly affair. Located on property formerly occupied by an airport, the track measures a little over a quarter-mile, is flat and fast. There is plenty of parking space for spectators all around the oval, and a judges stand has been erected in the center.

Time trials begin at 2 o'clock in two ten-lap heat races. There'll be a consolation race for the non-winners, a special short race, and a 25-lap main event, the entire program taking up a big portion of the afternoon.

Promoter Gaither said that five local owners or drivers, one from Monahans, one from Amherst and six from Wichita Falls already have sent in their entries for Sunday's races.

Benson To Compete

Corky Benson, well known Wichita Falls racer who appeared here several times last year, is coming along with five others from that city—Claud Gorin, Roy Goodwin, Russ Franks, Joe Magro and Howard Ritchie.

Sam Wolf of Monahans and Ed Morrison of Amherst, well known in racing circles, have entered, and from Lubbock, L. E. Fulton, John Chauncey, Red Jones, L. B. Gaither and Cline Brown have entered cars.

WAR COMING CLOSE TO HOME—Britons know the war is getting close to home when they witness scenes like this on the very water's edge of their "tight little isle." As the boom of cannon-fire rolls across the English Channel, members of a Scottish regiment build a sand-bagged machine-gun post on an east coast beach.

Advance Units Reach Safety

he could not confirm the recapture of the town of Abbeville itself.

French and British warships pushed evacuation of the weary, war-worn units which had been fighting off furious Nazi onslaughts.

New Supplies Landed

At the same time, the vessels landed new food and war supplies for French divisions still fighting at the northern end of the corridor to the sea.

The Prioux units, a military spokesman said, reached Dunkerque with war equipment they succeeded in saving from the Germans.

(German reports said that General Prioux, his staff and an undetermined number of his men were captured.)

The situation for French troops still inside the Nazi pocket, with German infiltrations threatening them, remained "grave but not desperate," the spokesman said.

French Hold Advantage

With the "line of mounts" salient, which the Germans established yesterday fractured, the French apparently held an advantage for maintaining the breach.

The Germans, however, still held Mount Cassel.

Nazi advance units pushed furiously to "Mount Des Cats," near Godewaersvelde, one of a series of French-Belgian frontier hills about 500 feet high.

South of the ridges studding the Flanders plain, the rest of the Prioux army continued to fight.

Is Held Solidly

Dunkerque was described as an armed camp" held solidly.

Strong anti-aircraft batteries spouted destructive fire at German air squadrons seeking to blast the Allied entrenchments and break up naval convoys that were bringing in supplies and carrying out withdrawing troops.

Like an ancient fortress, Dunkerque is protected by a semi-circular moat of muddy water several miles wide which rushed in from the sea when the Allies opened the canal locks.

Strips connecting the port with the Flanders pocket from which the Allies are withdrawing are reported firmly held by French and British units.

Germans Halted

Military sources said that Germans advancing from the southwest had ground to a halt at the water's edge.

On the northeast side of the port, they said, the Nazis have not yet reached the water barrier and the Allies are combatting them in the area between it and the Yser canal.

The air above Dunkerque has been literally forbidden" to German planes by the hot fire of naval anti-aircraft guns cooperating with British chaser squadrons operating from bases in England only a few minutes away, a military spokesman said.

The anti-aircraft batteries protected Allied entrenchments and convoys which were bringing in supplies as well as carrying out withdrawing troops.

French and British troops, supported by shell fire from warships, maintained their positions along the eastern and western walls of the corridor protecting Dunkerque.

Units in Calais were said still to be fighting despite violent German attacks.

Localized patrol and artillery action spurted along the Somme-Aisne-Meuse front.

The spokesman said the Allied fleets kept a continuous shuttle service moving in and out of Dunkerque, carrying in supplies to the armies and carrying out tired and wounded soldiers.

Flying Courses For Students At Texas Tech Are Complete

College and Civil Aeronautics authority officials this morning hailed virtual completion of a 35-hour flight instruction course which was "even more successful than had been expected."

Thirteen collegians Wednesday and Thursday completed flying tests and have been raised to the status of private pilots.

Two others will take their tests next week—to account for 39 out of the original 40 signed for the course.

One student, the only one who, it is indicated, will not complete the course for a private license, had to leave college before the end of the term.

George D. Childress of Dallas, CAA inspector, assisted by Clent Breedlove, director of the CAA program in Lubbock, checked the following students this week:

Francis Gilbert Woodside, Elbert Vernay Boynton, jr., George Olen Ross, Cloyd Benton Caswell, Weldon LeRoy Simpson, J. Clifton Armstrong, Robert Alda Stuart, jr., William Gardiner Fuller, jr., William Warrenney, Jess Moscow Love III, and Harry James Thompson.

James Carroll Pitts and Billy Baskin will take final tests next week.

All did satisfactory work in ground instruction prior to soloing at the end of eight hours. The rest of their 35-hour time was in solo flying.

A summer class will take up where the long session group left off, it is indicated in information from the office of Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president. Arrangements have been discussed with officials of the CAA and more definite announcements will be forthcoming in a few days.

Hibernia will continue to East Aurora, N. Y., for a visit with another of Mrs. White's daughters, Mrs. Frank Kirsch, the grandmother said.

The sister-in-law died more than 15 years ago in New Orleans and left her property to cousins, Mrs. White explained to a Dallas newspaper reporter.

"I protested in Louisiana courts and they decided in my favor," she said. "But the decision was contested and since that time it has dragged on from one year to the next."

It recently was reopened by her nephew, Peter Kiernan, an assistant to New York District Attorney Thomas Dewey, Mrs. White said.

Another page from yesterday that will surround the page from tomorrow being written by Hibernia will be in the person of Mrs. White's legal counsel—Judge C. H. Talavabau of Louisiana. He officiated at the marriage of Mrs. White 49 years ago.

by the Georgetown meeting in launching a new candidacy for Moody. Resolutions declared: "An honest, strong and experienced executive is needed, and in our judgment 'Dan's the man' to meet the emergency."

Under the state primary election law an application for a ballot place in the state Democratic primary may be filed either by a candidate or by a group of 25 voters who wish him to be a candidate. The Georgetown petition carried 49 names.

Final date for filing of candidacies for the primary election is Monday. Last expected filing is from Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

Others In Race

Already in the race either through filing or by announcement are Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Highway Commissioner Harry Hines, Rep. Albert Derden, A. B. (Cyclone) Davis and Alexander Boulton of Palestine.

Thompson recently designated himself as a candidate for governor in answering a questionnaire sent out by the Texas State Teachers' association. He was runner-up in the race for governor two years ago.

Moody when informed of the action that had been taken declined immediate comment:

Declines To Comment

"I want to know more about what has been done before I say anything," he said.

Moody has taken little part in politics since retiring from the governor's office after two terms. He addressed the state Democratic convention at Waco this week. It was the first state convention he has attended in eight years and it was the first state Democratic convention he has addressed in 10 years.

At Waco he said he did not "seek" any office.

King Leopold Now Prisoner Of War

BERLIN, May 31 (AP) — King Leopold III of Belgium is a prisoner of war, an authorized German source disclosed today, and it is unlikely that under that status he will be permitted to name a new Belgian government.

The statement was made in response to questions concerning Leopold's status in view of the disagreement with his emigre government.

GERMANS ARRESTED

CALCUTTA, May 31. (AP)—Eighty-five Germans, including women, most of them recently released from internment, were arrested today in a police roundup of "undesirable elements."

Campbell On Stand Today

Dr. J. F. Campbell, 69, pioneer West Texas physician, took the stand in United States district court this morning in his own defense against a charge of violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act and when adjournment for noon came he was still on the stand.

The government rested just before 11 o'clock, Clyde O. Eastus, district attorney, announced after V. C. McCullough, narcotics agent of the treasury department, had been recalled to testify as to the number of narcotic prescriptions the physician is alleged to have written since in 1935. McCullough testified that 1,028 prescriptions had been written and that he had removed them from the files of drug stores in O'Donnell, Lamesa, Tahoka and Lubbock. Of those, he stated, 69 were not dated.

Other Witnesses Heard

Other government witnesses were W. E. Vermillion and M. J. Whitsett, O'Donnell drug store owners, who identified prescriptions which McCullough had taken from their files.

Dr. Campbell testified he had graduated from Louisville, Ky., Medical college in 1893 and had practiced in Texas ever since, with the exception of four years spent in Oregon. He practiced in Nolan county 20 years prior to going to Oregon in 1920 and had been in O'Donnell since 1924.

C. C. Crenshaw conducted the direct examination. The physician told of the visits of the two narcotic addicts used as government informers and related both apparently were suffering intense pain when they sought relief through an opiate.

Reputation Called Good

Dr. J. T. Krueger, of Lubbock sanitarium, testified as to the general reputation of the defendant as a medical practitioner in this section, saying it was "good." Defense counsel objected to the argumentative type of questioning of the district attorney.

Five government witnesses testified Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hughes, government informers, Dr. Edgar E. Finley of the U. S. public health hospital at Fort Worth, McCullough and J. H. Boone, a Lamesa druggist. Thursday's sessions were marked by frequent objections by defense counsel to the line of questioning by the district attorney.

with uniforms before they could land.

"Before our troops made their retreat," said a British officer, "they have in almost every case succeeded in blowing up gasoline dumps and leaving nothing useful to the enemy. They stayed to do this at the risk of capture or being shot."

The Tommies said word of the surrender of the Belgian army ordered by King Leopold III, which exposed their left flank to the Germans, first came as a rumor which no one believed.

A young gunner remarked that "we realized this one was the real thing a few hours later, when the Germans suddenly appeared all around us.

"They were firing at us from what had been Belgian lines until a short time before. The order was given to retreat. There was nothing else to do."

One of a group of five Belgian officers, who said they were astonished at King Leopold's order to surrender, said "we do not intend to stop fighting on orders of Leopold—and there are thousands of other Belgian soldiers of the same opinion."

Describing the difficulties of the Belgian campaign, the Tommies said the country was "overrun with spies" who tipped off nearly every move they made to German bombers.

Business Urged To Aid Recruit Drive

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—Thousands of business men are being asked by the war department to aid the renewed drive for army recruits in a manner which officials said today was without precedent.

Through some 350 trade associations, requests have gone out to include in newspaper and other advertising this or a similar statement:

"We favor adequate preparedness for national defense and recommend enlistment in the U. S. army to eligible young men."

The puzzle of the animal world is the platypus. It swims and walks but cannot fly, lays eggs but suckles its young, swims with it front feet but the male has poisoned spurs on his hind legs. It has a duck-like bill, webbed feet and fur coat.

Advertisers should check their ads on first day of publication and immediately notify the Classified Department if any mistakes occur. Classified Advertising accepted until 5 p. m. on week days and Saturdays.

For classified display advertising information—

PHONE 12, 14, 15 OR 16

TO DISCONTINUE AN AD

Notice to Discontinue an Ad must be given after 8 a. m. and before 5 p. m. to some member of the Classified Advertisement Department. We cannot be responsible for notice given before or after these hours and to members of some other department.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The Avalanche-Journal is a member of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers which includes leading Newspapers throughout the country and has as its aim the elimination of fraudulent and misleading Classified Advertising.

TEXANS TURN TO F.H.A. HOMES UNDER $3,000
Texas families in ever increasing numbers are turning to FHA financing facilities in building or purchasing homes costing $3,000 or less, officials of the FHA report. So marked has been the increase in the demand for these homes, which may be bought on payments of $25 a month or less, that we have recently placed on the market a number of ideal building sites which are suitable for homes of this cost. Let us show you some ideal lots in 55 and 60 foot frontage that will meet every requirement of the FHA and we will get your FHA loan for you, then your housing worries will be over. Call us for appointment to explain in full. There is no obligation.

Candidates Urged To Quit And Back F

McNutt Openly Gives Support

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Third term advocates, heartened by Paul V. McNutt's open declaration for renomination of President Roosevelt, called on other potential Democratic candidates today to "withdraw", and declare for the chief executive.

Some Democrats, however, expressed the view that all presidential aspirants should feel free to push their campaigns for the president. Others continued to voice unalterable opposition to breaking the two-term tradition.

Statement Is Issued

McNutt, federal security administrator and former Indiana governor, issued a statement late yesterday saying:

"The nation's welfare, now dependent upon total preparedness to avert the threat of total war, requires that President Roosevelt continue as the chief executive. It is my sincere hope that he will accept renomination for the presidency."

McNutt, who had said repeatedly he was a candidate only "if the president does not run," did not actually announce withdrawal, an omission some senators interpreted as a desire by the security administrator to leave the way open for his nomination for vice president.

Two Definitely In Race

The only candidates who have said they were in the presidential race unqualifiedly are Vice President Garner and Postmaster General Farley. Neither could be reached directly for comment.

Farley was understood to have told friends a few days ago he expected his name to be presented to the convention. Garner's candidacy recently took on the reservation it was not a "stop-Roosevelt" move, but his managers insisted the Texas "harmony" agreement meant no let-up in the vice president's campaign.

STORE EXPANSION MADE—Mark Halsey's Drug Store No. 2 at Broadway and College avenue, which has recently been expanded into twice its original size is to be formally opened tonight with a big political rally at which ten candidates for state offices have accepted invitations to speak. Hop Halsey, left, who is a candidate for the legislature himself, will be co-host with his father, Mark Halsey, right, owner of the stores in the party. The program will start at 8 o'clock and the candidates' talks will be broadcast over KFYO. Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys will furnish the music.

Two English Actors To Return For Duty

NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier, English actors now playing on Broadway in Romeo and Juliet, were summoned home by the British government today to enter war service.

The screen and stage stars said they recently volunteered, in letters to the British ministry of information, to serve, in any available capacities.

They announced they would close their Broadway run on June 8 and take the first homeward bound ship.

Industrialization Of State Is Discussed

AUSTIN, May 31. (AP)—Methods of promoting industrialization in Texas were discussed at a conference called by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel Thursday and attended by 11 representatives of industry and five educators.

Opening the executive meeting presided over by W. L. McGill of the University of Texas, coordinator of O'Daniel's industrial program, the governor reiterated his desire to bring new industry to Texas and outlined progress made with the cooperation of 226 city committees.

CAMERA DOESN'T LIE

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—The American flag was unwittingly hoisted upside down on the local postoffice. Nobody noticed it. The first complaint came from a photographer. He had taken a picture, and detected the upside-down flag when he developed the negative.

News Briefs

Mother Dies Thursday—Mrs. H. P. Winkelhake of Columbia, Mo., mother of Miss Elizabeth Winkelhake of Lubbock, died Thursday morning in Columbia, Mo. Miss Winkelhake, assistant professor of home management at Texas Technological college, left Thursday afternoon for Columbia.

Services Planned—Services will be conducted at 8 o'clock tonight at the Tabernacle Baptist church, Fifteenth street and Avenue N, and ex-service men are to be guests. A special service will be conducted at 6:45 o'clock tonight at the 7-Up Panhandle company, 1945 Nineteenth street, where the management will serve refreshments. Three members were added to the church rolls Thursday night, bringing the total of members joining since the revival started to 94.

Form Contracts Mailed—Form contracts for construction of a storm sewer in the southern part of the city have been forwarded to Williams and Whittle, inc., Dallas contracting firm, whose bid of $166,978 was accepted by the city commission Tuesday night, according to information given at the city hall this morning. As soon as the contracts are returned along with a performance bond, officials explained, they will be ready for the signatures of Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary.

American Wages Show Increase Over 1939

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—American wages and other income were $1,147,000,000 higher in the first four months of 1940 than in the same period of 1939, the commerce department estimated today.

A department statement noted, however, that the rate of increase over last year had been declining since the first of the year.

The American Public Works Association reports that according to a recent experiment in Boston, traffic congestion increases gasoline consumption on short city trips by 50 per cent.

Southern Division In Texas Carrying Edge

(By The Associated Press)

If the standings tell the true story the southern teams of the Texas league carry the edge this season.

The top three clubs thus far are from that division—Houston, San Antonio and Beaumont.

A couple of the southern teams battled 22 innings last night and, for a change, Houston was the loser. Tulsa won the first tilt—a 15-inning fracas—5-4. The nightcap ended in a 2-2 tie in seven innings, when the Houston squad had to catch a train.

The Dallas Rebels, flirting with the first division, posted a 4-1 victory over San Antonio.

Third-place Beaumont split with Oklahoma City. A five-run rally in the eleventh won the opener on Beaumont, 7-2. The Redskins bounced out a dozen hits to take the nightcap 8-2.

Jack Brillheart's relief pitching gave Shreveport a 5-4 victory over Fort Worth, shoving the Panthers further into the cellar.

Marshall Comes Back To Wallop Longview

(By The United Press)

Marshall thumped its closest rival in league standing, Longview, 7 to 5 Thursday night, and maintained a slight lead in the win column. Winters was the winning pitcher.

Texarkana and Tyler played a closely contested game under the arcs, Texarkana winning 6 to 5.

Palestine was winner over Kilgore by a 9-3 decision. Barbola was credited with the win.

Henderson and Jacksonville battled 14 innings, the Henderson nine using two pitchers, Crow and Copp, to win a 9-6 victory.

Last night's results leave Marshall, Longview, Kilgore and Palestine in the top bracket of league standings.

Nevada's Greatest "Home On The Range" In Hands Of A Receiv

Taylor Empire Is In Lawsuit

By NICK BOURNE
United Press Staff Correspondent

RENO, Nev., May 31.—Nevada's greatest "home on the range," 101,000 acres of it, has gone into the hands of a receiver.

Little Joe, the wrangler, and hundreds of other cowboys on the John G. Taylor ranching empire have changed their tune to "I'm riding the range for the receiver," as the great land-holdings, valued at $2,000,000, became part of a California political controversy and lawsuit.

Besides actually comprising 101,000 acres, the ranch, now known as the Allied Land & Livestock company, leases 500,000 acres from the Southern Pacific railroad, and has a series of individual ranches, including ranch houses, buildings and equipment, one of which cost $150,000.

Of one place, the ranch extends from Lovelock, Nev., to the Idaho state line, more than 300 miles north and south. The ranch stretches over three counties from which its cipal ranch houses from which its widespread operations are directed.

Ranch Dates From 1886

John G. Taylor, owner until 1932, started the ranch in 1886. He came to America from Scotland when he was 18 and began his career as a sheep-shearer and cowpuncher in California. Crossing the lofty Sierra-Nevada mountains in 1886, he leased a few hundred head of sheep on a share basis, starting a ranch which he built up to more than $2,000,000 before he lost it.

During the boom of 1929, Taylor reportedly refused to sell for $2,500,000. The crash came and prices of land and livestock shrank. His efforts to keep the vast domain were futile and the Reno National bank receiver took it over in 1932.

The receiver operated it for several years, then the Pacific States Savings & Loan association of California bought it and changed the name to Allied Land & Livestock company. The state of California took over Pacific States after some difficulty in management, and petitioned the Elko, Nev., court recently to appoint a receiver to handle the empire.

George Russell Receiver

George Russell, jr., of Elko, Nev., was appointed and his bond set at $200,000.

The ranch has 8,000 head of cattle, 30,000 sheep, 400 horses, including many imported from Belgium. It prdouces 6,000 to 7,000 tons of hay a year.

At 83, Taylor is still hale and hearty, is an official of the Nevada Sheep and Wool commission, and is back in the ranching business again, owning 900 cattle, 8,000 sheep, and ready and anxious to duplicate his early feat of organizing Nevada's greatest ranch.

It cost Taylor $3,000,000 to get the ranch together. Each of the 10 ranching units is complete, with two principal headquarters located at Lovelock, Nev., for winter operations, and two counties eastward, at the large Columbia ranch, for summer operations.

Other units are at Oreana, the Nelson ranch, Lower Clover, Upper Clover, the IL, the VN, the Winters and at Desert.

The ranch leases every other section from Lovelock to Winnemucca, Nev., along the Southern Pacific railroad transcontinental tracks, a distance of 76 miles, from the railroad.

The sheep and antelope play over the vast acreage, but Pacific States Savings & Loan association, operated by the State of California, has settled down to serious investment in the ranch. Nevada residents alone hold more than $170,000 of Pacific States certificates.

Mud Gun And Rat Hole; That's Every Day Talk In Oil Field

By JAMES J. DOWNING
United Press Staff Correspondent

TULSA, May 31.—She blew out and was flowing by heads over the crown block until we stabbed a Christmas Tree on her and finally got a potential of 700 for first hour at a million feet. It was high gravity stuff, too.

In the oil country, where mud guns bull plugs, sucker rods, slurries and rat holes figure high in conversation, the foregoing monologue would be lucid talk. Few industries can compare with the petroleum business in weird nomenclature.

The driller speaking means that an oil well went wild and was spurting oil over the top of the derrick until the crew connected a complicated series of valves to the top of the well and shut off the flow. When tested the well was found capable of producing 700 barrels of high quality oil an hour with 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Changes By Locality

Much of the oil country "slanguage" is local in nature but some of it is widely used. The greater part is as strange to the uninitiate as the foregoing quotation.

To a farmer, fishing is a relaxing pastime. In the oil fields it is one of the most expensive and irksome operations drillers encounter. When a crew is fishing it is dangling tools deep in the ground—sometimes as far down as 12,000 feet—trying to recover a drill bit or some other piece of apparatus that has stuck in the hole.

Drillers can take a brief vacation when they're "wooding." The word has been concocted from the initial letters in the phrase "waiting on cement to set."

When crude oil (none but newcomers or college professors call it "petroleum") is distilled into its various component parts, it is "run to stills," "cracked" or plain "refined." Sometimes the products have to be "sweetened" or "doctored" to make them marketable.

"Duster" Is Dry Hole

A housewife cleans furniture with a "duster." To an oil man a duster is a well that failed to produce oil or gas. It also may be called a dry hole.

Pipeline builders use "scabbing sleeves" for cleaning pipe.

"Wildcat"—a term that for some reason causes a dubious reaction among laymen—is applied to a man or company seeking new oil pools in previously untested areas.

"Casinghead gas" or plain "casinghead" is a volatile type of gasoline obtained chiefly from natural gas. It is taken out of the gas in some fields by means of "drips."

"Mud" or "slurry" is circulated by means of a "slush pump" through a well during drilling to carry off drill cuttings. The mud may contain Fullers earth, cottonseed hulls, cane fiber, or cellulose flakes to give it the required density and viscosity.

A "mud gun" keeps the drilling slurry agitated to prevent its settling while lying in tanks.

"Sucker Rod" Used

A "sucker rod" connects the top of an oil pump with the pumping mechanism far above on the surface.

A "bull plug" closes off the end of a pipe. A "swage nipple" reduces the end of a pipe to permit its being coupled to a smaller pipe or opening.

Picturesque and sometimes queer names are given oil or gas producing formations in the earth. They include the Bundaree, the Cockfield, the Canizzo, Cook Mountain, Cypress, Paint Creek, McClosk, Benoist, Waterburg, Gatchell, Kreyenhagen, Terminal and La Merced.

Still more picturesque are the names borne by oil fields, many of which were named after their discoverers. Oklahoma has the Boxiegs field and the Lone Mound, Slick and Wildcat Jim field. Wyoming has a Lost Soldier field, and a Lance Creek, Texas lists a KMA field and a Vacuum field.

WHERE MEN WERE MEN

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, P. — How things have changed in Alaska is revealed by a recent want-ad in the Fairbanks News-Miner, the continent's northernmost daily newspaper. The owner of Stampede Inn, at Platinum, Alaska, site of one of the world's newest mining bonanzas, bought space to announce that his inn is for sale and that it is "an ideal location for cocktail bar."

Infernal Machine Is Only Beer Bottles

EL PASO, May 31. (U.P.)—A perturbed El Paso housewife sent a hurry-up call to El Paso police informing them that an infernal machine had been left on her doorstep.

Detective Captain W. C. Wolverton hurried to the scene, and collected a heavy, well taped carton which verified, in his estimation, the suspicions of the housewife.

At the police station, where the dangerous package was taken, officers held a consultation. However, departmental experts could not completely agree on a course of action.

Finally, a small hole was hesitatingly bored through the specially-prepared wrapping. Nothing happened, so a large hole was made, disclosing the side of a glass container.

At this point the captain of detectives had a hunch. Ripping off the remaining wrappings, he disclosed two bottles of beer, of a new type which is just being introduced to this area. Relieved, he notified the worrying housewife, now the "infernal" advertising stunt is stored for safe keeping in Capt. Wolverton's ice box.

Price Of Drunk In Dumas Gets Higher

DUMAS, Texas, May 31. (U.P.)—It costs more to get drunk in Dumas now.

Justice of the Peace C. H. Taylor used to charge "$1 and costs." Last week he hiked the assessment to $10 and costs.

SEEMS LOGICAL

TOPEKA, Kans. (AP)—The usual penalty for declining to testify in court is a stretch in jail or a fine. But recently, a non-talking witness who came into Judge Warren Shaw's court got away with it. He was a convict, "borrowed" from state prison. "You can't send a man to county jail for contempt when he comes from the penitentiary," ruled the judge.

STORY WITH A POINT

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Morton Adelanski, a deaf-mute newsboy, took personal pride in selling the Richmond News Leader when "his story" appeared in print. Adelanski startled the paper's employes, recently, when he rushed in gesturing wildly, pointing across the street, making motions of filling his pockets, and pointing to a telephone. The idea went over. Police were called and the paper got a first hand account as officers nabbed persons robbing a filling station.

Granting of patents on plants was not authorized by Congress until 1930, when the Townsend-Purnell bill was enacted.

lish Refugees In Hungary Have Hard Time Reaching The Allies

Pressure ttened

EY T. GORRELL
Staff Correspondent
, May 31—Polish refugees are finding it difficult to reach Allied territory because of German control on the Hungarian-Rumanian border, reliable sources in Budapest were advised today.

The alleged arrival of volunteers in Norway already was advised of German representations with the result that the order of army age from through Yugoslavia and has ceased.

Budapest aided and Paris were under- in touch with the ment seeking an agree- Poles now may go through Yugoslavia and understood there are Polish refugees in whom approximately Whether many able to obtain documentary to leave the doubtful.

German charge that in April evacuated left Hungary by this Hungarian official quarters deny this.

of Poles here were rejected German suggestion return to Poland ing agricultural work offer was communistic Hungarian authorities to civilians and former the Polish army and it about 1,000 agreed to their country. Hungary will not force the others with the German wish, their upkeep is costly ment a great deal.

Approximately 17,000 former the Polish army who went as refugees following occupation by Germany are housed in military camps, divided of about 500 each. Officers permitted to stay in hotels in Budapest and in most of them having given word of honor not to escape. Poles with whom correspondent has talked indicated satisfied with their in the Hungarian government.

Aid in Budapest

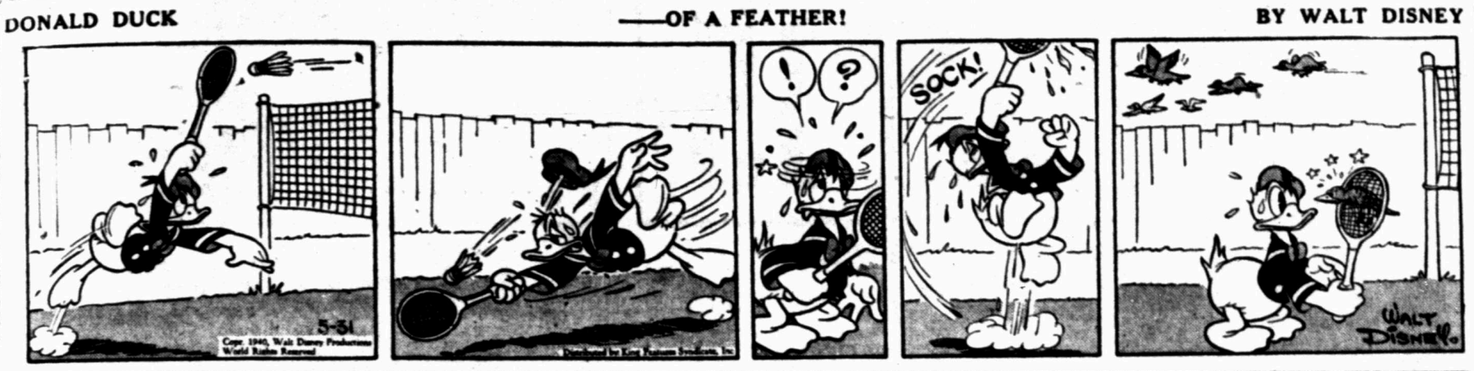

Among Polish refugees in Hungary are largely in Budapest. Many of them, still having funds, are living in small apartments or pensions. The less fortunate receive 2 pengo, 50 filler daily (about 50 cents) for their food. Lodging generally is free, being provided by Hungarians of the upper middle-class and the aristocracy. One aristocrat in Budapest is providing food and lodging out of his own pocket to six destitute Polish women.

The American Red Cross is contributing much to the comfort of refugees there, having distributed thousands of blankets, shoes, suits, overcoats, dresses, etc.

Many Polish aristocrats are living here under assumed names. For instance, a young Polish prince until recently was helping in the canteen of a Polish relief center, doing odd jobs such as peeling potatoes. He has now been made a clerk in the employ of the Hungarian Relief organization.

All Poles here are under constant police surveillance as a precaution against pro-Allied espionage. A few days ago police in Budapest raided the headquarters of a group of Polish officers, arresting all present and seizing all documents found. It was charged that these officers had been facilitating the escape of Polish refugees through falsification of passports.

Girls' Posture Faults Put In Five Groups

SEATTLE, Wash., May 31. (U.P.)—Feminine posture, according to Elizabeth MacDonald, lecturer of New York City, can effectively — if unflatteringly — be divided into five classifications.

Any number of college girls, she said here, can be pegged as follows: (1) Collapsed stomach; (2) "Tummy-ache" posture; (3) Barrel shapes; (4) Stomach wrinkles; (5) swallowed watermelon postures.

Miss MacDonald's college lectures have proved effective. Carefree, coeds listened in silence while she listed what's wrong with them.

Sergt. York May Run For Congress To Keep The United States Out Of War

PALL MALL, Tenn., May 31. (U.P.)—Sergt. Alvin York, who was one of America's greatest heroes in the World war, may run for Congress on a platform designed to keep the nation from entering the European conflict.

It was some 25 years ago that the big, broad-shouldered mountaineer threw a rifle over his shoulder and marched to a recruiting office to join the army and fight for Democracy. He went overseas with the 82nd division and became famous one winter night in the Argonne forest when he captured more than 100 Germans soldiers single handed.

A few months later the Armistice was signed and York came back to the United States to be acclaimed a hero. Congress awarded him the Congressional Medal of Honor. He was cheered and feted. But soon he came back to his home here in the Tennessee hills, married a native mountain girl and dropped from public sight.

Now York wants to run for Congress and use his influence to prevent the United States from entering another "war to end wars."

"I am seriously considering making the race," he said, "but have not decided definitely yet."

York declared that the United States should stay out of the present war but should be strong in national defense.

If York does make the race, he will oppose Rep. Albert Gore, D., Tenn., who is representing the 4th Tennessee congressional district.

York claims credit for helping the people of his community in many ways during the past 20 years. He has led the fight for new roads and new public schools. He has organized and built his own Bible school here where the teaching of evolution is barred.

The principal thing which stands in the way of his making the race, York said, is the Hollywood project to make a motion picture of his life. Producer Jesse L. Lasky has had several conferences with him recently about the proposed picture. "The Life of Sergeant York."

If the picture is produced this year, Lasky wants York to go to Hollywood for a few months as adviser to the director.

York and his wife are the parents of seven children. The oldest, Alvin York, jr., 19, is married and a farmer of this community.

York at present is serving as superintendent of the Cumberland state park near Crossville, Tenn.

THE WIND BLOWS UP

MATADOR, Tex. (AP)—Out in the Texas Panhandle they say the wind never rests—but recently it did for two weeks. Windmills ceased twirling—at a time of year when ranchers usually tie them down to keep the wheels from blowing away. Thirsty cattle bawled and gasoline engines chugged away through still nights to give them drinking water. Wind-charging electric plants were idle. Many farmers were without lights as their batteries went dead because of the load placed upon them.

get the LEMONADE WITH MEALS habit

Your whole meal will be more enjoyable—and beneficial

There's a new health-habit in many American homes that comes as a delicious treat for the whole family. It's lemonade —lunch or dinner.

This grandest of thirst quenchers has just the zip and tang that's needed to make good food taste better. Everyone who tries it votes it the finest mealtime drink of all!

But lemonade has more than deliciousness in its favor. It adds so much to the healthful balance of the meal.

Aids Health Too

Lemons aid digestion. Lemonade makes it easier to consume the amount of liquid nutrition authorities suggest.

It gives you additional vitamin C—as well as B₁. These two vitamins are not stored in the body. You need them daily for the best of health.

And lemons are the only known source of citrin (the newly discovered vitamin P). This may explain many of their special health benefits, scientists say.

Get a dozen Sunkist Lemons today. (They are California's juiciest and finest.) Make a big pitcher of tart lemonade for the family's dinner. Drink it instead of plain water. See if you don't discover a capital way to get more pleasure from your meals—with benefit!

Shelter Belt Aids Wildlife

BY FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 31. — The first nationwide bird census has disclosed an unexpectedly large increase in the number of birds and other wildlife in the 11,000 miles of "shelter-belt" trees in the Great Plains.

The census taken by the Forest Service of the Agriculture Department showed increases ranging up to 500 per cent in many areas of Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

The more than 125,000,000 trees planted in the six states were intended only as windbreaks to stop the blowing of soil and to conserve moisture. But benefits from insect-destroying birds may be almost as great.

Sampling Tests Made

The census was taken through questionnaires sent to owners of the farms in some areas and through counts by Forest Service men of birds and nests in other areas. The first count was on a "sampling" basis, but a more detailed census is planned now.

The Forest Service reported that not only have the windbreaks attracted numerous insect-eating birds but that many small fur-bearing animals have found homes in the small forests that streak the plains.

Replies to questionnaires covering 55 field windbreaks in Kansas indicated insect fighters such as brown thrashers, wrens, blue-jays, meadow larks, swallows, orioles and field sparrows well in excess of 10,000.

Game Birds Increase

The owners all stated that such a concentration was unknown on their farms in pre-windbreak days. The Kansas replies also told of increase of game birds, reporting some 250 pheasants in 48 windbreaks, 1,400 quail in 53 and 4,300 mourning doves last fall.

A summary of Texas reports showed 2,000 or more quail inhabited about 47 miles of windbreaks. One farmer reported 150 prairie chickens in his three-mile belt. Few birds of any description occupied the area prior to start of the tree-planting in 1935.

Reports from other states showed similar increases. Nebraska farmers were said to be especially pleased by the increase because the birds destroy grasshoppers, which have caused considerable damage to crops in recent years.

The shelter-belt forests were believed to have saved the lives of many birds during the past severe winter. Many birds which ordinarily fly south during the winter stayed in the shelters, farmers reported.

DRIVER MISSING—Among a number of American youths driving ambulances in the French war zone feared lost since the German invasion is Lawrence A. Jump of Oakland, Cal. A member of the Gen. Pershing section of the American of American Volunteer Ambulance Corps, he has been missing since his ambulance was shelled on May 16 near Sarreguemines.

OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT

FULTON, Ky. (AP)—When William H. Stafford of Bradford, Tenn., and Miss Odean Weatherspoon of Rutherford, Tenn., stepped into a Fulton shoe store all they wanted was information about where they might obtain a marriage license. But J. T. Powell, owner of the store, persuaded them to have the ceremony right there. The couple got their marriage license, found a justice of the peace and returned for the marriage.

Navy Surgery Far Advanced

By REUEL S. MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 31. — Many lives may be saved in sea battles during this war that would have been lost in the World war as a result of facilities for blood transfusion.

Equipment is available on all larger warships for transfusions. On board each vessel prospective blood donors have had their blood tested for type so that the ship's surgeon immediately can call upon a donor with the proper blood for an emergency transfusion.

No attempt has been made to ascertain the blood type of everyone in the navy, but experts recognize such a record would be useful. With such a record it would not be necessary to make tests to determine the blood type of a casualty requiring a transfusion at the time of his injury.

Reserves of blood of different types are held in storage on hospital ships and at various bases.

During the World War the only means of assisting a sailor suffering from loss of blood was the administration of a saline solution made of one teaspoon of salt to a pint of water. While this was helpful it was far less effective than the transfusion of blood.

In other respects medical and surgical facilities of the fleet are advanced far beyond those available in previous wars.

The naval medical service includes a long list of specialists. There is a special psychiatric unit to deal with nervous cases. The term "shell shock" is no longer employed in the service. More specific and technical terms are used.

Exemplifying the lengths to which the British navy goes to care for its wounded was the attention given to one of the Exeter victims. An orthopedic surgeon was sent from Britain to the Falkland Islands after the Graf Spee battle to treat a difficult fracture.

Loan Interest May Be Pared

WASHINGTON, May 31. (U.P.) — Agitation in Congress and administration agricultural circles is building up toward important changes in farm lending policies to encourage increased ownership of land by those who till it.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Farm Credit Administration Governor A. G. Black have pledged full support of the "reform movement" to lower interest rates and reduce the farm mortgage debt of $7,000,000,000.

The movement has two main objectives: (1) to halt the increase in farm tenancy and day labor, and (2) anchor farmers to the land and stop the migration to California, Florida and other states for seasonal labor.

Vast Change In 60 Years

The rapid increase in farm tenancy, share-croppers and day laborers is regarded by agricultural officials as building up an American "serfdom." Sixty years ago four out of every five farmers either owned or were buying their farms. Now only a few more than half have any equity in the land they till.

During the past six years, approximately 300,000 families, comprising more than 1,000,000 persons, have abandoned their farm homes to wander over the country in search of day labor, living in trucks, tin shacks and tents.

Report Made To Congress

A committee on farm tenancy and unemployment in Congress, headed by Rep. Usher L. Burdick, R., N. D., has recommended the enactment of laws to "reduce burdensome farm mortgages and high interest rates." And solution of the farm tenancy problem, the committee said, should include:

1. Maintaining the present farm owner in his status of ownership.
2. Aiding the present part-owner and tenant to acquire ownership of a farm large enough to support his family.
3. Taking action to alleviate the conditions of unemployment and migrant farm laborers.

Interest At 3 Per Cent Urged

The committee urged that Congress consider:

1. Amendment of the Farm Credit act to provide an interest rate of 3 per cent on farm mortgages, readjustment of debts and limitation on foreclosures.
2. Insured loans by private lenders or the government to enable farmers to purchase and own farms.
3. Adequate relief appropriations for Federal aid to migrant workers and for "recognition of drouth, floods and other scourges which destroy crops as national calamity disasters which should receive consideration from Congress."

In normal times, theaters in London operating on Sundays are required to pay 10 per cent of their day's earnings to charity.

By the way. What ever became of sanity?

ONE of the most serious, if almost publicly unrecognized, situations growing out of the horrors and passions of the European war is that which has to do with hysterical gossip and rumor, either innocent or purposely vicious.

As was the case prior to this nation's entry into the World war, all sorts of stories are being bandied about concerning "spies," pro-Germans, "traitors" and now "Fifth Columnists." Few citizens who circulate among their fellows to any extent have failed, even this early in the game, to hear wild tales being told about others.

The other day, an American citizen of German ancestry came to The Plainsman with a copy of the Abilene Reporter-News.

In the Abilene paper appeared a statement, issued by a relative of this citizen, denying rumors which connected his family with subversive leanings and which charged members of the family were Nazi sympathizers. The citizen who visited us said a similar statement had been carried in other papers at the request of the family, after the rumors had spread like wildfire in the Abilene section. He further said the rumors were both malicious and without foundation and asked The Plainsman to print a similar statement. We agreed to print the statement as a letter to The Plainsman, but advised the man against making the statement, since apparently no such rumors were in circulation to any extent here.

ON the same day the disturbed citizen came to our office with his problem, the front page of the Big Spring Evening Herald carried a two-column boxed and blackfaced article, approximately four inches deep.

Signed by six Big Spring and Howard county officials, including the district attorney and sheriff, as well as by the Legion commander there, this article set out to refute and brand as wholly false what it called "malicious and slandering talk" about a Big Spring professional man. Those who signed the statement pointed out that the man in question had been a law-abiding, respected and respectable citizen of Big Spring for a period of 19 years. The statement also said those signing it had personally investigated the rumors and there was no truth in them.

From what we get from the statement in the Big Spring Herald, the only basis for the stories told about the professional man is the fact that he has a Germanic name!

In connection with the Big Spring incident, members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars there issued a statement aginst the circulation of gossip, whether malicious or otherwise.

Attacking "the threat of groundless fears and hysteria affecting many people," and calling for "a middle-of-the-road course" by the public, the two organizations said:

"We believe in common sense and preparedness. We are banding together to assist our duly constituted authorities in combatting spies, 'Fifth Columnists,' and all enemies of our government. We are also banding together to urge reason in consideration of all reports, and to call for an end of panic and hysteria that bring on extreme talk and action.

"If word of a questionable case reaches you, don't spread it around, but notify the proper authorities. That is the way to be American and to be co-operative. We are as determined as any American group to quell undermining influences, but we are also determined that malicious and idle gossip should stop."

IT occurs to The Plainsman that the ex-service men's organizations of Big Spring have taken a sensible and highly necessary stand; that they have moved to do their part in helping control a dangerous and ugly situation.

Many of us old enough to remember events at home during and preceding the World war, remember numerous shameful attacks of one kind or another upon persons wholly innocent of wrong-doing.

We remember how reason fled, in many cases and in many communities, and that crimes, high and low, were committed by hot-heads in the name of patriotism.

In the light of our past experiences, we should not permit those things to happen again.

In this connection, it seems to The Plainsman that every community of any size would do well to have within its confines an unpaid committee of persons whose duty it is to receive stories of subversive activities, ferret them out, and then pass the information along to constituted federal authorities.

For instance, suppose in Lubbock we had a committee composed of one district judge, the sheriff or the chief of police, two well known, intelligent and conservative business men selected by the ex-service men's associations, and an able, intelligent woman.

To any of those committee people any citizen could go, present what he believed was information essential to the well-being of the nation and its defense.

The committee, as a whole, would consider the information, have it run down by the police, the sheriff's department, or other official groups such as the rangers or the highway patrol, and then go over the information returned by the investigating officers.

If the story were well founded, the committee could then pass the case—together with all the information pertaining thereto—to the proper federal authorities who then would act as justified.

But if the story were found to be idle gossip and rumor, the committee would merely close it out.

Under this system, each community would be protected against the threat of espionage, subversive activities and "Fifth Column" shenanigans, yet at the same time, bandying idle gossip and rumor would be held to the minimum.

The Plainsman would be interested in getting the reaction of the ex-service men's organizations to this suggestion.

FOR want of something better, we wisecracked here the other day that there is nothing more ungraceful than a woman with her head poked into a car window from the outside, and one foot resting on the runningboard.

The remark got quick results.

Before the ink on the paper was dry, Hugh DeWitt "Judge" Landis, the chief of KFYO's yah-yah boys, called to say he knew of another pose more incongruous.

"You should see a woman raising up a car's trunk top, grabbing a handle on each side and with her feet spraddled out," he said. "That really is some picture!"

Then in the mail, in a round feminine hand, came this anonymous postcard:

"I am one of the fair sex who props her foot on the runningboard, etc., which is bad. But isn't stooping in the yard—the front one, at that—with rolled hose, etc., a lot 'worser?'

"Yours for better postures!"

We must rule with the anonymous feminine correspondent that she has dug up the "worstest" pose of all—and one that's familiar to everyone.

Also to her goes our unbridled thanks, admiration and gratitude for writing us on a subject other than war and Wilbert Lee O'Daniel, pro-and-con!

It proves some people do occasionally think about something besides blood and baloney!

YESTERDAY: Jan assures her brother that she doesn't think Derek is a criminal. She plans to get her salvaged man a job on Cap Tuttle's fishing barge.

Chapter Seven
Allergy To Work

Norma told herself this man was Jan's business, not hers. She heard Frank coming down the stairway with Lance and went to meet them.

Silently Jan handed the small package to Derek, noticing for the first time how he looked in the clothes she had bought. The trousers were several inches too short and the shirt was a bit tight, yet he wore them with a manner of careless indifference which made you know he was accustomed to better.

"How tall are you, anyhow?" she asked, perceiving her small straight nose was about in line with his solar plexus. "Those were the longest trousers in the salvage store."

"Six-three." He mocked, whimsically. "I'll have my tailor alter these morning trousers at once. Say, what's in this package you handed me?"

"Open it and find out, and those trousers happen to be 'all day' affairs!"

He inspected the items she'd purchased and flushed. "Why did you bother?"

"I didn't want to hear Johnny's howls when he discovered someone sharing his razor. Now, young man, take that scrubbing brush over there and get busy on these carrots!"

"I feel a spell of allergy to work coming on."

"The best cure for that is going hungry!" she snapped. "Carrots," he deplored. Nevertheless he picked up the brush. She had to show him how to slice off the feathery green tops, scrub them, and cut them into thin slivers for cooking. While she bustled about the kitchen preparing potatoes, fish and salad, setting the big breakfast table, he kept watching her from the corner of his eyes. He finally asked, "Why don't you eat in the dining room?"

"If you want to set the table and carry the food back and forth, it's all right with me. I just have too much to do, that's all. Cooking, cleaning, marketing, caring for Lance, trying to make an artist of myself—" She halted. She hadn't meant Derek to know she painted. She had a fair intuition he knew a great deal about many things and wouldn't hesitate to be critical of her work.

"So you want to be an artist?" he asked, momentarily intrigued. "Let me see some of your work sometime, will you? Do you sketch, do crayons, or use oils?"

"All three, and water colors," she said shortly. "But I won't show you anything. I'm not very good."

"Art school?"

"Too much, perhaps. Let's talk about you. It's perfectly ridiculous for me not to know your name. I'm not going to hire a detective to look you up and report on your past."

Smith Or Brown

"I'd like to believe you, Jan," he said, his voice free of the mockery she had come to dread already. "But others may not be so reluctant to inquire and a lie might weigh too heavy on your undoubtedly honest soul. My name is Derek. As for the surname—make it Smith, Brown, White—to your questioners. I like my present status of anonymity. I don't want to talk about myself and I refuse to. Sometime you'll find out al labout me.' He hesitated and when he spoke again the harshness was once more in his voice. "It may disappoint you, but I'm still ungrateful to you for saving my life. I don't want it any more today than I did yesterday and I don't care what you do with it or about it. I'll work, if you say so, it doesn't matter. I won't go back where I left off, that's all."

"You sound like a whipped pup," she goaded, hoping resentment would betray him into confidence.

"Ignored pup is a better appellation," he mocked, "I was never important to anyone, least of all to my parents."

"Then it's a plain case of hurt ego!" she declared. "It's always a lot of fun to go around feeling sorry for oneself. I'd enjoy it if I had time, Derek—White."

"Heres your darned carrots," he said violently. "I'm going upstairs and shave."

Johnny came in while they were eating dinner. He glowered at Derek. "So you're still here. Well, don't use my razor again! You've got a beard like barbed wire."

Without looking up Derek said mildly, "I rinsed your toothbrush in nice hot water, though."

Johnny looked as if internal combustion would blow him apart. Norma giggled and Lance coughed behind his napkin. Jan interposed, "Oh, Johnny, for goodness' sake, he's joking!"

"I wouldn't put it past him to use my toothbrush," that young man declared. "What can you expect?"

Just what do you expect?" Derek questioned, neatly popping a succulent bit of fish into his mouth.

Johnny stamped out, his shoulders rigid in the tight, pin-striped coat of light gray. "You mustnt bait him like that," Jan chided Derek. "He's a good friend, also a paying guest."

"I see. And as yet I am neither," There was laughter behind his eyes; lurking, mischievous mirth.

Neptune relieved the strain by rising up on his hind feet and batting Jan's elbow. A mournful, pleading howl emerged from his pink throat. "You spoiled darling," Jan said, putting some fish in a saucer and setting it on the floor for him.

Derek watched her, a glow arising from the excellent food he'd consumed, suffusing his lean length. He decided he liked eating in a kitchen. At any rate, this kitchen. The walls were painted ivory, the woodwork light green, and the crisp, ruffled window curtains were daffodil yellow with green borders. He thought it likely Jan had painted it herself. She was, without doubt, the most competent young person he'd ever known.

Voicing his admiration, he asked. "How old are you, Jan? And do you realize you're a most remarkable person? Is Jan short for Janet?"

Lance answered. "She's twenty, she's truly remarkable and she's named after the best Norwegian cook Dad ever had on the Singapore Moon."

Sorry Knight

"I am not," she contradicted, flushing. "I'm named from the abbreviation of January because the calendar was the first thing Mother saw after I was born!"

"Anyhow," Lance went on, "Mother named me after the gallant knight, Lancelot, I'm glad she does not know what a sorry knight I turned out."

Norma reached over and squeezed his thin, nervous hand. "You're braver than Lancelot and King Arthur put together!"

"Oh, this is a lot of rubbish!" he said in irritation. "I wish Frank would come and take me upstairs. I don't like it down here, it depresses me."

"I'll take you upstairs," Derek offered.

Lance seemed to shrink in upon himself, hating, Jan knew, this kindly meant offer which only drove home his helplessness. A proud man, continually erecting defenses against pity from others, he would suffer no one to touch him but Frank and Jan. By determined practice he now could manage most everything for himself: bathing, dressing, shaving, moving from the bed to the chair, dragging his helpless limbs like so much dead weight.

"I should have warned Derek,"

CONNALLY'S COUNSEL WISE

Another evidence of the stature of Sen. Tom Connally of Texas as a statesman in the most exacting definition of that term was supplied by his successful leadership against the proposal to create a congressional committee on national defense.

Senator Connally argued correctly that in time of national peril someone who would be the President, must be given authority to act. He recognized that the individual given such authority might make mistakes. But his obvious reasoning was that occasional mistakes could be no worse than such division of authority that paralysis of all action would result.

A congressional committee, composed of numerous members, would mean a division of authority. It necessarily would be composed of men who could not see alike in all matters. It might create an agency which would debate at a moment when circumstances demanded instant action; at a moment when a mistake in action could be no more costly than complete inaction.

Mr. Connally's position was one of opposition to an action which would have enhanced the power and the position of the Congress of which he is an outstanding member. It was a position which required unselfishness. But it was one which demonstrated that he is an American first, a senator second.

FDR May Propose Reorganization Of National Defense

New Department May Replace War, Navy

By BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 31 — It would be no surprise if the administration offered a sweeping new reorganization plan in the interests of national defense before Congress adjourns.

Catton

Nothing, as a matter of fact, would be very surprising these days. The government is in something of a dither, and almost any rumor can get believed. But the story of a possible reorganization seems to have something back of it.

One possibility, according to inside gossip, is a proposal for a new department of national defense to replace both the war and navy departments. It would have three subdivisions, or bureaus, covering army, navy and air force.

Another possibility is a separate air force, to be placed in its own department with a head of cabinet rank.

If either of these plans should be presented to Congress, specific legislation would have to be sought. The changes could not be made under the reorganization authority delegated to the President a year ago.

Thousands To Go On Payrolls

Vast expansion of army and navy civilian payrolls is just ahead.

The navy figures it will add 15,000 workers almost immediately, and upward of 50,000 eventually, mostly in the navy yards and at various shore stations. The army says it will hire "thousands" but doesn't know just how many.

In connection with the army program, a joker that would open a fat lot of new patronage to deserving politicians was slipped into the military appropriation bill by Chairman May, of the House Military Affairs Committee. Joker is a clause saying that additional personnel may be hired "without regard to civil service requirements" at the discretion of the secretary of war.

National Civil Service Reform League has protested sharply, pointing out that existing law already permits the President to exempt personnel from the requirements in time of emergency.
