U. S. Copter Pilot Has Close Shave

EDITORS NOTE: A U.S. helicopter pilot crash-landed his burning plane into the besieged outpost of Ba Gia this afternoon. He talked by telephone with The Associated Press.

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese outpost of Ba Gia was a smouldering shadow three miles away. For Maj. Irwin Cockett, his seriously wounded co-pilot, and his ship almost out of control, it was a haven.

"There was nothing but Viet Cong under us. We had to make Ba Gia," said Cockett, from Koloa, Hawaii.

Just seconds before, Cockett's armed helicopter had made a pass over a Viet Cong machine gun nest, pumping four rockets into it.

But .50-caliber machine-gun fire tore at them as they rolled left. His co-pilot was hit. Heavy bullets ripped the plane.

A crewman shouted, "the tail boom's burning."

Cockett, 33, as commander of the armed helicopters at the forward air base of Da Nang, was leading a flight to attack enemy positions around Ba Gia.

"We were about 800 feet up, and all the controls were going out on me," Cockett said. "With the tail boom burning, we had little control. Somehow, the ship spun towards Ba Gia."

At 50 feet, the tail boom fell off.

"We fell to the ground with a roar," Cockett said. "The impact threw one crewman out. Flames spewed through the ship. I managed to pull myself out, and so did the other crewmen. The ship blew up with a roar."

The co-pilot died in the blaze.

But worse for Cockett and his men was the situation at Ba Gia itself.

"As we came in, the Viet Cong mortars opened up. There were 81mm shells exploding all over the camp. We could see the dead and wounded lying in th open. Those alive were huddled down in their foxholes," Cockett said.

Cockett's nose was slightly nicked, and his left arm and left leg were slightly burned.

"I was lucky," he said.

When the Viet Cong barrage lifted, a U.S. Marine helicopter slipped into Ba Gia and evacuated the Americans.

Air Action Still Heavy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. officials said that "about 25" B52 jet bombers from the Strategic Air Command took part in the raid today on Viet Cong positions. They came from Guam 2,200 miles away.

The raid was staggered, with three planes in each flight and with each flight moving over the target at intervals of 10 minutes, a spokesman said. The attack on a big tract of jungle 35 miles northeast of Saigon began about 1 a.m.—12 noon EDT Sunday—and continued intermittently until 5 a.m., he said.

The planes dropped about 500 tons of general purpose bombs into the jungle, the spokesman said, and the pilots reportedly felt their bombing patterns had been good.

The spokesman said there were no reports of any of the big planes missing on the return flight to Guam.

He said it would be several days before authorities could assess the effect of the latest raid. No ground operation went into the jungle after the raid, and the spokesman said he did not know if any such operation was planned.

The spokesman said the area hit by B2s today was not the same one hit by B52s June 18.

However, both the June 18 raid and today's raid were in a large, jungled area northeast of Saigon known as "D Zone." The zone is controlled by the Viet Cong, and has been designated for years as a "free bomb zone," meaning combat planes are free to dump bombs and rockets into the area whenever they lack another specific target.

Air operations throughout North and South Viet Nam were heavy today, despite bad weather over parts of South Viet Nam.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said U.S. and Vietnamese planes had flown 202 strikes over South Viet Nam during the 24 hours that ended this morning, killing an estimated 365 Viet Cong and destroying 357 buildings.

In North Viet Nam, four U.S. Navy propeller-driven Skyraiders reported destroying three trucks on Route 101, 15 miles north of the 17th Parallel. The Navy planes reportedly attacked the trucks under the light of flares before sunrise.

Four Navy Phantom jets reported cratering the approaches of three bridges within a 20-mile stretch of Route 7 about 150 miles south of Hanoi. On this strike, pilots reported spotting an unidentified aircraft — possibly an enemy MIG fighter — about 120 miles south of Hanoi.

The unidentified plane reportedly closed to within 10 miles and then veered off to the north. Despite some light antiaircraft fire, all the planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

Three Navy Skyhawk jets reported damaging two trucks with rockets on Route 122, 65 miles south of Hanoi. This attack also was under the light of flares, a spokesman said.

Traffic Toll Mounts At Rapid Rate

By The Associated Press

Independence Day holiday traffic deaths—paced by several multiple fatalities—continued at an alarming rate today on the nation's streets and highways.

The Associated Press counted 410 deaths in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. local time Friday. Of these, 2 persons perished in five separate crashes in five states.

Safety experts expressed deep concern at the rapid death pace which could set a record for an Independence Day holiday weekend.

In a single accident in Colorado, seven persons died. A crash in Oklahoma took six lives. Others in New York cost five; South Carolina four, and Ohio three.

Millions of motorists headed home as the three-day holiday drew to a close. The weather was mostly sunny and pleasant throughout the nation making driving conditions favorable.

But experts at the National Safety Council said the death rate was running about 15 per cent higher than the Memorial Day weekend when 490 persons died on the highways.

If the trend continues, the council added, this could be the worst Independence Day weekend in history — exceeding the 556 fatalities in 1963, a four-day holiday observance.

The council had predicted between 470 and 570 traffic deaths this weekend.

Last year, 510 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents over the Fourth of July. It was a three-day weekend like this one.

The 78-hour holiday weekend period ends at midnight (local time). The council estimates motorists will have driven a total of nine billion miles by then.

A total of 435 deaths were reported on the nation's streets and highways over a corresponding 78-hour summer weekend period not involving a holiday. The Associated Press, for its own comparison, made a count of traffic deaths for the non-holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday, June 18 through midnight Monday, June 21. The total was 363.

The lowest traffic toll for a three-day observance of Independence Day in recent years was 225 in 1947. The record traffic toll for any three-day holiday period was in 1955. That figure was 609 — set during the Christmas celebration.

The record traffic toll for any holiday period was set during a four-day observance of Christmas in 1956 when 706 persons perished.

Citizen Guarantees Suspended In Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The government suspended constitutional guarantees Sunday night as a safeguard against what it termed Communist-inspired terrorists operating in mountain areas inhabited by Indians.

Lightning police raids early today rounded up known Communists in Lima and other population centers, officials reported. They gave no details.

A suspension of constitutional guarantees permits police to make arrests and search homes without warrants. It also bans public meetings and free movement within the country and abroad and permits authorities to expel or exile to other parts of the country persons regarded as threats to security.

Disturbances have been reported in the highland departments (states) of Junin and Huanczvelica.

Shortly before the imposition of the restrictions, Miguel Rotalde, minister of government, charged that the Soviet Union, Communist China and Cuba "are creating agitation among the rural people of the mountain region."

He said broadcasts were being made in Quichuan, language of the Indians of those areas, inciting them to revolt against the government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry of the left-of-center Popular Action party.

Indians make up about half of Peru's 10.6 million population.

They mostly inhabit the rugged Andes Mountains as their Inca ancestors did. But while Inca civilizations flourished, the present day Peruvian Indian lives in poverty.

Child Hurt When Hit By Car In Park

Fay Sullinger, 7 - year - old daughter of Mrs. Juanita Sullinger, 2603 Avenue V, received serious head injuries at about 5 p.m. Saturday at Towle Park.

The child was struck by a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Rita Raye Herring, 3107 Forty-first Street. The mishap occurred just north of the park pavilion on a park road, and officers said the car was moving very slowly at the time.

The child, when struck, was thrown into a metal guard post. She was taken from the scene to Cogdell Hospital by a Bell-Seale ambulance which happened to be returning via the park road from a routine transfer.

The child was then transferred to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital where she underwent brain surgery.

It was reported this morning that she was in satisfactory condition, had regained consciousness, and had recognized her mother. The doctors are said to be encouraged over her progress over the weekend, and have hopes for a full recovery. She will be hospitalized for at least three weeks.

As the Bell - Seale Ambulance was returning to Snyder, it again happened to come upon a mishap at Thirty-fourth Street and Indiana in Lubbock. Officers at the scene stopped the vehicle, and had the driver take two injured teen-aged girls to Methodist Hospital. One was believed to be in serious condition.

Legislators Ask Insurance Session

AUSTIN (AP) — Reps. Carl Parker and J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur asked Gov. Connally today to call a special legislative session "to deal specifically with insurance."

They wrote Connally, saying their constituents have asked that "something be done about the rising costs of insurance."

"These costs are rapidly reaching a level that will be prohibitive for the wage earner in Texas," the legislators said.

The State Insurance Board signed an order July 1 raising statewide auto liability insurance rates by an average of 20.7 per cent Aug. 1.

The new rates provide an average 13.4 per cent increase in premiums for all lines of auto insurance in Texas.

The Port Arthur lawmakers said past proposals to place greater burdens on the uninsured motorists, to adopt a realistic plan under which those motorists actually causing losses would bear a larger portion of the costs, and implementing state-wide driver education, if adopted, "would ultimately lower insurance rates.

"There is also a feeling by some of the members of the legislature that the standards applied by the Insurance Commission in fixing rates should be reviewed," the letter said.

"We believe that immediate consideration of these measures by the legislature is timely and necessary."

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, a frequent critic of Texas auto insurance rates, asked house speaker Ben Barnes last week for an inquiry into the increases. No decision was made, he said, on the nature of the possible investigation.

Young Scientists Burned In Blast

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP — Five young scientists were badly burned early today when an explosion rocked a building housing an electron accelerator operated by Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Police said they had been informed no radioactivity had been unleashed by the blast that ignited a two-alarm fire in the building on Oxford Street.

Arthur C. Reid, 19, of Avon suffered third-degree burns over most of his body and was on the danger list at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Deputy Fire Chief Timothy O'Donnell quoted one accelerator as saying a hydrogen purifier in the machine was responsible.

The roof was blown off and the windows shattered by the impact, and O'Donnell said the building sustained heavy damage.

He said the structure cost $11 million to build in 1955.

Police said the researchers were conducting tests with hydrogen and were using a bubble chamber.

They said Asst. Prof. Joseph Szymanski of Harvard noticed the hydrogen levels had dropped on the control panel's pressure gauges.

The blast occurred as Szymanski turned off the gauges, police said.

Szymanski, 30, of Arlington, suffered a leg injury and abrasions.

Also receiving third-degree burns were Frank Feinberg, 20; Louis Hand, 31, of Cambridge; and Denniss Ehm, 25.

Further information on the injured was unavailable.

5 Of Family Die In Crash

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — "The last thing my wife said to them was, "Please be careful'."

William C. Matthews was recalling the early morning departure of his daughter; son-in-law and three of their children for a July 4 picnic.

A few hours later Matthews and his wife received word from the Colorado Highway Patrol. All five were dead in the burned wreckage of their car on a highway near Loveland north of Denver.

Also dead were two other passengers in the worst traffic accident in the nation on July 4.

Hopes Raised For Congo Hostages

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Hopes were raised today for the lives of an estimated 20 hostages held by the Congolese rebels in the northeastern Congo.

A usually reliable source in Leopoldville said the rebels and the hostages returned to the ungarrisoned town of Bondo after government troops passed through the town in May. Messages received here in the last few days indicated the hostages were alive, the source said.

Sweetwater Boys Burned

SWEETWATER (AP) — Two young boys were burned to death in an abandoned car here Sunday after fireworks exploded in the vehicle apparently set upholstery and rags afire.

Killed were Mark Ellison, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ellison, and A. M. Holland Jr., 5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Walls, both of Sweetwater.

The Ellison youth father suffered severe burns when he pulled the boys from the car.

The boys died shortly after they were taken to a Sweetwater hospital.

Sweetwater assistant fire chief R. L. Summers said today earlier reports that there had been an explosion in the car were incorrect.

He said there was no evidence of an explosion and that the youths apparently were trapped in the tightly shut car after it caught fire.

He said the boys had crawled into the car to set off firecrackers which apparently started the fire.

Fireworks 'Bomb' Falls Into Crowd

DETROIT (AP — Twenty-one persons were injured, two of them seriously, Sunday when an aerial bomb exploded in a crowd of several thousand gathered to watch a fireworks display.

Police said the crowd which they estimated at 3,000, was watching a fireworks show sponsored by the Dad's Club of the Precious Blood Roman Catholic Church when an aerial bomb fired from a mortar fell into the crowd.

Motorists Witness Unscheduled Display

STROUD, Okla. (AP) — Motorists who were held up by an hour-long traffic jam going both directions on the Turner Turnpike east of Stroud here Sunday at least had some entertainment — an unscheduled spectacular featuring $5,000 in fireworks.

The brilliant display was touched off when a truck hauling the merchandise from the OK Fireworks Corp. at Tulsa to Oklahoma City struck a guard rail and overturned, bursting into flame.

The driver of the truck, Calvin Atha, 22, Tulsa, was pulled from the truck unharmed by an unidentified motorist.

Algerians Mark 3rd Anniversary

ALGIERS (AP) — Algeria marks the third anniversary of its independence from France today with a 101-gun salute and five minutes of silence. It will be the first such celebration without Ahmed Ben Bella.

The former president, who dominated Algeria's political life since independence, was deposed in a predawn military coup June 19. He is under army guard somewhere in Algeria and faces a possible trial for "high treason."

The nation's new leader, army chief Col. Houari Boumedienne, was to make his first speech over the state-run radio and television network.

The Information Ministry announced Sunday night he would make public the names of the Revolutionary Council that took over from Ben Bella. The council is headed by Boumedienne. Names of the other members have never been announced.

The ministry also announced that the council had authorized Boumedienne to form a new government. Since taking power, the former defense minister in Ben Bella's government has been trying to avoid looking like a military dictator. He has stressed that he was acting on behalf of the council when conducting official business.

Algerian sources said Boumedienne was making an effort to obtain civilian backing for his regime but there were indications that he had some difficulty finding prominent civilians to join the government.

The scheduled independence day ceremonies were subdued. There were few flags or parades and the main stress was on solemn tribute to the 1½ million Algerians who died in the war of independence against France.

Water Usage Rises Near End Of June

The effect of June rains did not wear off soon enough to stem the trend of increased consumption for member cities during June, but the month went out of a rush that indicated a big month for the Colorado River Municipal Water District in July.

After cool and wet weather during the first half of June turned demands down, consumption by the cities began to pick up. Although the month was down by 11.05 per cent in comparison to the same month last year for the member cities, the last days of the month showed Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder taking water at the rate of nearly a billion gallons a month.

During June they required 840,713,900 gallons in comparison with 945,184,000 gallons in June of 1965.

Odessa used 498,890,000 gallons, down 10.82 per cent; Big Spring 268,807,000, down 11.57 per cent; Snyder 72,016,900, down 10.70 per cent.

Oil companies took 204,870,918 gallons, which was 4.32 per cent more than a year ago, principally due to the increase in the Sun Oil contract with the addition of the Perkins - Prothro leg in northern Coke County. Sharon Ridge, Lion and Tidewater had increases, the others were down.

Rate deliveries totaled the 10 billion mark, mounting to 1,143,584,818, or 6.37 per cent less than June 1964. The cumulative consumption for the year reached 5,231,795,488, off the 1964 pace by 7.05 per cent.

LET'S HAVE IT OUTDOORS, on trays. Serve frozen parfait cake for a refreshing summertime dessert.

Salad Bowl For Lunch Or Supper

Tray meals are a wonderful idea in the summer — for lunch or supper, for family or company. Everyone can carry his own tray out to the back yard or patio and enjoy the nice weather.

Let today's convenience foods help you plan a menu that is quick, easy, and saves you hours in the kitchen: a summer salad bowl prepared in the cool morning hours, golden twist rolls — the brown and serve kind that can be popped in the oven for a few minutes before serving, and frozen Parfait Cake for dessert. The wonderful convenience of Parfait Cakes is that you may keep a variety of them in the freezer and they are all ready to serve.

SUMMER SALAD BOWL
1 cup cooked green beans
1 cup cooked carrot sticks
1 cup sliced celery
¼ cup bottled French dressing
1 head lettuce
1 cup cooked beef or ham, cut in strips
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon horse - radish.

Marinate and chill green beans, carrots, and celery in French dressing 1 to 2 hours. Break lettuce in bite-sized pieces in salad bowl; arrange meat and marinated vegetables over top, then egg slices in circle. In center place mayonnaise mixed with horse - radish. Makes 6 servings.

Here's an easy way to make cheese-flavored bread crumbs for casserole toppings — and clean your grater at the same time! Next time after you grate or shred cheese, run a dry bread crust over the grater. The bread removes sticky cheese bits, giving you flavored bread crumbs at the same time.

WOMEN

Relating Of Year As An Intern

INTERN. By Doctor X.

This is a first - person documentary record of the crucial year in a Doctor of Medicine's training. It reveals far behind the scenes, some things that are frightening to a layman. But it also depicts the rugged courage with which a freshly graduated medical student can go through his baptism of fire as a hospital intern.

The author poured into a tape-recorder the running record of his internship. It happened "some years ago" at an unidentified hospital, and all the private identities have been disguised.

In his introduction, "X" says he believes it has been "unworthy" of the medical profession to keep silence on things the layman should know, and to maintain secrecy over "the work that doctors do, the way they do it, the kind of men they are. . ."

"X" had a rough time. There were only half the normal number of interns in this hospital during the 12 months he describes.

He pours out a whole torrent of examples and case histories that he saw in medicine, surgery, obstetrics, orthopedics, pediatrics and the emergency room. There are a few examples of really serious blunders, and others less serious; but there are also some cases of adroit rescue.

He relates incidents in which experienced physicians, residents and staff members were sniping at each other; but there are other incidents of help and encouragement.

Because so little has been written about this subject, there is a sense in which "X's" story is an expose. The author says his account "may horrify and appall some readers and infuriate others."

Traveling World's Rivers

RIVERS I HAVE KNOWN. By Willard Price.

Variety and adventure — with of course some thrills and dangers thrown in, — mark Price's account of his travels on 11 river systems of the world.

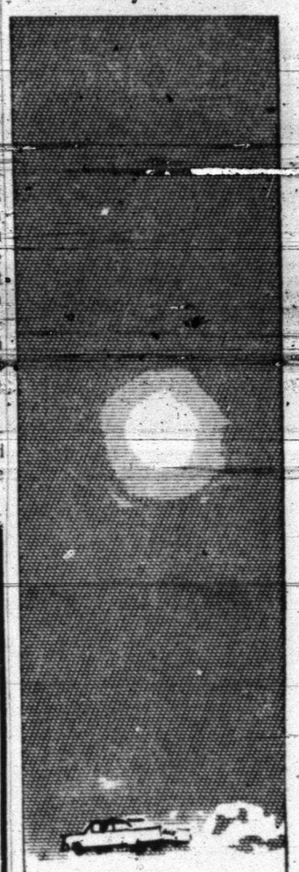

On the Amazon there were the amazing flora and fauna, as well as a scene in which a jaguar was captured with paste. On the Nile, a sudden sandstorm squall nearly resulted in the author's demise. On the Zambesi there were the wonders of Victoria Falls, an episode in which rangers rescued wildlife from the rising waters of a new dam and an angry ostrich kicked a hole in the boat.

One of the adventures on the Congo was when a python dropped aboard from an overhead limb, and there was fresh meat for lunch. During a trip on the so-called Grand Canal of China it was difficult to tell the police from the bandits, and vice versa. The journey on Japan's Inland Sea nearly ended during Typhoon Ruth. But from a houseboat on the Jhelum there were idyllic scenes of the Vale of Kashmir.

In America the author went up the Hudson (visiting the river's last manned lighthouse on the way) to find its source. But he traveled downstream all the way on the Mississippi, and one man he found was the "towboat" that actually was a pushboat.

Price's book is thoroughly entertaining, and well stocked with vicarious thrills for the reader.

Over 700 Carousing Youths Arrested In Resort Town

By The Associated Press

Beer-drinking, carousing youths staged riots and disturbances in five resort towns in Ohio, Missouri, Iowa and New York this Fourth of July weekend, resulting in more than 700 arrests with heavy property damage and a number of minor injuries.

The youths, teen-agers and college students, battled officers with fists, bottles, fireworks and rocks.

At Geneva-on-the-Lake, Ohio, a second straight night of rioting was put down early today by local police before the arrival of National Guardsmen ordered out by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes earlier sent the National Guard into Russells Point, in western Ohio.

At Arnolds Park, Iowa, the National Guard stood ready to move in at the request of local authorities.

Early Sunday at the north Iowa lakes resort, more than 500 beer-drinking youths rioted. At least 60 were arrested. A city ban was placed on the sale of alcoholic beverages through Monday evening.

National Guard units were alerted in seven Iowa communities in case of renewed outbreaks.

Dickinson County Sheriff Bob Baker said officers found maps indicating the Arnolds Park riot "was completely planned."

It broke out as a mob gathered Saturday night when taverns began to close and shouted, "We want beer. We want booze."

Until they were dispersed with tear gas and fire hoses, Baker said, the youths "acted like a bunch of wild men."

At Rockaway Beach, Mo., an Ozark Mountain resort, thousands of beer-drinking youths battled officers and smashed windows. The serious rioting erupted just before midnight Sunday. A total of 175 youths were jailed. An estimated 8,000 youngsters jammed the resort.

Police said the rioting was touched off when they arrested three youths riding on a motorcycle. The crowd protested and began manhandling the officers.

Authorities said the youths brought cases of beer into town and crowded into cottages and cabins. Besides shattering windows of nine business places and automobiles, a police car was overturned. Six injured persons were treated at a hospital.

Police estimated some 2,000 to 3,000 persons took part in the Rockaway Beach rioting. Fines of $15 to $60 were assessed.

The National Guard was ordered into Geneva-on-the-Lake, Ohio, to prevent a recurrence of rioting Saturday night and early Sunday in which 29 persons were arrested at the resort on Lake Erie.

Four hundred National Guardsmen sealed off Russells Point all day Sunday and there was no further outbreak.

More than 100 youngsters — mostly college students — were seized and 72 jailed there early Sunday as the result of rioting involving some 1,500 persons.

Sixty-four persons were treated at hospitals, at least half being cut by flying glass and bottles. Some were cut by firecrackers exploded inside beer bottles.

Junior Editors Quiz on NIAGARA FALLS

QUESTION: Why does so much water go roaring over Niagara Falls?

• • •

ANSWER: Study the little diagram on the upper right and you will get the answer. You will see that the water spills over from four of the Great Lakes — Superior, Michigan, Huron and Erie — then runs downhill into Lake Ontario, from there to the Saint Lawrence River and finally to the sea. Water must always flow downhill, following the attraction of gravitation. Lake Superior is the highest of the Great Lakes, being 602 feet above sea level. Since Lakes Michigan and Huron are lower, 581 feet above sea level, the Lake Superior water spills into them, and from Huron it falls to the level of Lake Erie, 573 feet. From Erie the spillover lake water flows, as the Niagara River, 35 miles toward the lower level of Lake Ontario, which is 247 feet. In passing this 35 miles, the water comes to the sudden drop of Niagara Falls and thunders over it in a world-famous white cascade, 500,000 tons of water plunging down every minute. This great volume cuts and breaks away the rock over which it falls so that Niagara is slowly moving upstream toward Lake Erie. At one part, Horshoe Falls, the rock ledge is being cut back about three feet each year.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: After the Great Lakes water flows through Lake Ontario it moves down the Saint Lawrence River. Once, obstacles prevented ships from passing through to the sea. Look up Saint Lawrence Seaway in an encyclopedia to see how these obstacles were overcome through the cooperation of two great friendly nations. 7-5

(Nick Atalick of Saint Catherines, Ont., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Army Puts Big Vehicles Into Use

By HA BOYLE

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP)—They look like huge metal monsters from another planet as they wheel from ships off shore and then trundle in awesome power across the sands.

They are two new giant amphibious vehicles which the U.S. Army is using in a hasty and massive buildup of a base here in the central Vietnamese lowlands where a desperate, all-out attack by the enemy conceivably could cut the country in two.

The lumbering vehicles are called the Larc and the Barc. They can ferry quickly ashore vast quantities of cargo or large numbers of troops.

"This is the first time Americans have used them in a combat area," said Capt. Thomas O'Donovan, 29, of Boston, Mass., commander of an Army transportation company.

The aluminum-hulled Larc measures 11x35 feet, weighs 21,000 pounds and can carry a load of six tons. But it looks like a pygmy alongside the Barc. The Barc is 19 feet tall, 27 feet wide and 62½ feet long. It weighs nearly 100 tons and can haul from 60 to 100 tons in quiet seas.

"It can land a fully equipped company of 225 men with their combat gear," said Capt. O'Donovan. "It can also bring ashore a medium tank, or any piece of heavy engineering equipment used by an Army division."

The number of Larcs and Barcs being used here is classified.

Lt. Col. Alvin H. Bowles, 45, of Griffin, Ga., was close-mouthed as to the purpose of the base. "It is to give logistic support to the Vietnamese war effort," he said, and declined further comment. It is obvious, however, that this logistic support could soon supply a U.S. Army division.

There is an air of feverish urgency to the work. Hundreds of troops work bare-chested around the clock. Others stand guard, for the city is ringed only a few miles away by guerrilla forces. The province of Bing Dinh, in which Qui Nhon lies, long has been a hotbed of Viet Cong strength.

'Smoker's Dial' Is Provided By Minister

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Rev. Herbert Davis, who says he used to sneak a couple of puffs of corn silk on the way to elementary school, advises Charlotte folks daily how to kick the cigarette habit.

The Rev. Mr. Davis, a Seventh-day Adventist, installed a "smoker's dial" telephone service in his home.

You can dial the number and get a one-minute lesson on how to stop smoking.

Service Held For Louisiana Solon

VILLE PLATTE, La. (AP)—Mourners, including 14 congressmen, gathered Saturday to bury Rep. T. A. Thompson, who started home in his luxurious new car and arrived in a coffin.

Thompson, a Democrat who had represented the 7th District 13 years, was killed Thursday in a highway accident near Gastonia, N. C.

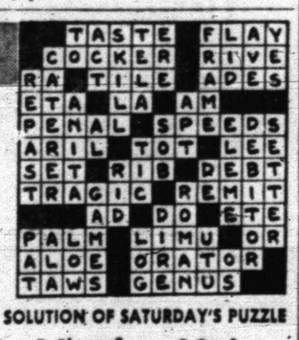

Thompson, his wife, two stepchildren and a maid left Washington early Thursday, en route to Ville Platte. He was killed by a truck as he stood behind his car, talking with a highway patrolman who had stopped him to warn that he was exceeding the speed limit.

Cardinals Surge Starting Late

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember the St. Louis Cardinals?

World champions last year, St. Louis has been bogged down in the second division this season virtually overlooked in the battle for the National League pennant.

But suddenly the Cardinals have started to push forward, extending their winning streak to five games with a 6-2 victory over the New York Mets Sunday and projecting themselves back into the pennant picture.

Still under .500 with a 38-41 record, the Cardinals nevertheless are better off this year than they were at the July 4 break last season. They're currently in seventh place, eight games off the pace. Last year at this stage they were 10 games out with an almost identical 38-40 record.

While the Cardinals were moving up, the Houston Astros' trimmed Los Angeles' lead to one game over Cincinnati by beating the first-place Dodgers 3-1 while the Reds were advancing with a 4-1 victory over Philadelphia.

Elsewhere, San Francisco closed to within 2½ games off the top by belting the Chicago Cubs 7-4 and Milwaukee snapped a four-game losing streak by downing Pittsburgh 5-2.

In the American League, Cleveland defeated Baltimore 4-2, Minnesota whipped Kansas City 5-2, the Chicago White Sox edged the Los Angeles Angels 1-0, Washington topped Detroit 6-3 and Boston took the New York Yankees 5-3.

Tim McCarver, who has hit at a .349 clip for the Cardinals the past month, led the attack against the Mets with four singles and helped load the bases in the second inning as St. Louis struck for three runs against Galen Cisco.

Claude Raymond, 5-3, checked the Dodgers on six hits, allowing a first inning run on a single by Willie Davis and Ron Fairly's double, then pitching shut out ball the rest of the way.

Raymond walked and scored the first Astro run in the third on Joe Gaines' double. Houston then moved ahead to stay in the fourth against Claude Osteen, 6-10, when Walt Bond reached base on Jim Gilliam's error and came around on Bob Aspromonte's single and an infield out.

Joe Nuxhall stifled the Phillies on five hits while Tommy Harper hit a two-run homer and Pete Rose slammed a two-run double, accounting for all the Reds' runs.

Nuxhall, recording his first complete game of the season, struck out nine and boosted his record to 3-2. The loss was tagged on Bo Belinsky, his fifth against three victories.

Jesus Alou and Jim Hart provided the key hits for the Giants, Alou with two triples and a pair of singles and Hart with a homer and double. The two combined to snap a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning, Alou lashing his second triple after Hart connected for a two-out double.

Rice Carty slammed a two-run fourth inning homer and Frank Bolling singled home two additional runs in the fifth as the Braves defeated the Pirates and Vern Law, 8-7. It was Law's second straight loss after eight consecutive victories.

Hank Fischer, 2-0, allowed the Pirates only six hits but two were homers — by Bob Bailey and Jim Pagliaroni.

All-Star Game Won't Be Oldtimers Reunion Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series winners and losers of 1964 can hold an oldtimers reunion while the All-Star Game is played. Not a single St. Louis Cardinal or New York Yankee was named to start in the July 13 game at Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Of course, there will be world champion Cards and Yanks on the list when the managers name the pitchers and the reserves to fill out the 25-man squads later in the week. But unless Gene Mauch picks a Card pitcher or Al Lopez names a Yankee starter, the Series heroes will be dugout or home TV spectators.

Willie Mays of San Francisco and Joe Torre of Milwaukee were the only repeaters from 1964 who were voted to the National League team by the players, coaches and managers. Brooks Robinson, Baltimore third baseman, was the only American League repeater.

The National League's 7-4 victory on Johnny Callison's three-run homer in the ninth at Shea Stadium last year evened the long series for the first time. Each team has won 17 with one tie. The National, outdistanced in the early days of the competition, has won six of the last eight games, with 1961 game at Boston ending in a tie.

Mays, a hardy perennial in center field, easily won a berth for the 12th time with 250 votes to 17 for Vada Pinson of Cincinnati. Actually, Willie got all but five of the potential ballots because players on the Giants, or any other club, were not permitted to vote for teammates.

Torre also won in a breeze, missing on only nine ballots. With the help of Torre's Milwaukee mates, second place Johnny Edwards of Cincinnati finished second with a final score of 246-24.

Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' slugging veteran, was an easy winner in the first base competition 164-33 over Cincinnati's Gordy Coleman. Pete Rose of Cincinnati edged Frank Bolling, Milwaukee veteran for second base, 110-100 in the closest competition. Maury Wills of Los Angeles won over Cincinnati's Leo Cardenas for shortstop 141-87 and Richie Allen of the Phillies took third base over Ron Santo of Chicago 137-85.

Left field went to Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh's home run hitter, by a 194-61 margin over the Cubs' Billy Williams and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee piled up a 204-28 landslide margin over Callison of the Phils for right field.

In addition to Robinson at third base, the American League starters this year include Bill Skowron of Chicago, first base; Felix Mantilla of Boston, second base; Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, shortstop; Willie Horton of Detroit, left field; Vic Davalillo of Cleveland, center field; Rocky Colavito of Cleveland, right field; and Earl Battey, Minnesota, catcher.

The American League reserves will be announced Tuesday and the Nationals Wednesday. The pitching staffs will be released Friday.

Claude Raymond In Fine Showing

HOUSTON (AP)—"Two or three times when I was a kid I dreamed about pitching in the big leagues, and each time (in the dreams) the Dodgers were batting against me," said Claud (French) Raymond.

Those childhood experiences must have been adventures into clairvoyance because the Dodgers are a dream team to pitch against—at least for Raymond.

The Houston righthander set down the league-leading Dodgers, 3-1, on six hits Sunday. The win gave the Astros a 2-1 edge in the three-game series at the Domed Stadium.

A crowd of 47,642—largest daytime crowd ever to see Houston play—increased the season total in the Domed Stadium to 1,228,698, highest in either league.

But the Dodgers, now second in home attendance, have drawn 1,211,877 in 43 games, whereas Houston's total is for 45 games.

Raymond, reminiscing after the game, said the Dodgers signed him to his first baseball contract, but it was declared void and he later signed with Milwaukee.

He achieved his first major league victory against the Dodgers while with the Braves, he said.

Sunday's victory was his fifth of the year. He has lost three.

Los Angeles picked up a run with two out in the first inning on a single by Willie Davis and Ron Fairly's double down the left field line.

Raymond blanked them the rest of the way on four hits.

Houston tied the game in the third inning on a walk to Raymond, and Joe Gaines' double into short right at the foul line.

Jim Gilliam bobbled Walt Bond's high hopper in the fourth, and Bond legged it to third on a hit and run play when Bob Aspromonte singled. Lee Maye hit into a forced play, but Bond scored.

The Astros got their final run in the sixth on a weird play.

Bond singled, and two forced outs later Maye was on first. Ron Brand singled and, when it looked as if the Dodgers would make a play at third to get Maye, Brand headed for second.

But Maury Wills took the relay and pegged to first, catching Brand in a rundown. While they were trying to put the ball on Brand, Maye broke for home and scored when the throw to the plate was too short and too late.

Raymond retired 10 of the last 11 men he faced. Starter Claude Osteen, 6-10, gave up six of Houston's seven hits before being lifted after seven innings.

CORE Schedules Louisiana March

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality will sponsor a mass march in Bogalusa, La., Thursday to protest racial discrimination in general and at the town's largest industry in particular.

CORE director James Farmer announced plans for the march at the organization's annual convention Sunday. In other action, CORE delegates voted to revise their constitution to allow members to seek public office.

Primary target of the Bogalusa demonstrations will be the Crown- Zellerbach Paper Co., which employs 3,000 persons in Bogalusa.

Tennis Tourney Is Large Success

Snyder's annual Fourth of July tennis tournament went off like a rocket and sailed a smooth course as there were over 40 participants in the holiday affair.

Ken McAllister, Mickey Almond, Max Falls and Emily Kincaid won in the singles matches while teams of Kincaid-Diane Hargrove, Almond - John Flynn, McAllister - Ed Dickerson, Gary Gallman - Leland Herod took victories in the doubles competition.

In the men's singles it was top seeded Ken McAllister storming to a victory over Ed Dickerson in the finals by taking two straight sets by the scores of 6-0, 7-5. Both Dickerson and McAllister had little trouble in reaching the finals. Both drew byes in the first round, and took easy wins in the second round to reach the finals. Dickerson and McAllister teamed up in the men's doubles to take honors virtually untouched.

Mickey Almond beat Sandy Wellborn by scores of 3-6, 6-2, 6-2 to take the 18 and under singles match. Almond had little trouble reaching the finals, but had his hands full with Wellborn.

Wellborn was a hard luck loser in the city tournament. Sandy played 152 games by entering both singles and doubles competition, and he reached the finals in the singles and made the second round in the doubles. Most of his set victories were hard to come by, and out of playing the 152 games he could not manage to be the final victor.

Trophies were given by Bullards Athletic Center to the winners of each division in the singles and doubles. Bullards Athletic Center also sponsored the event while Ken McAllister coordinated the spectacular.

A. J. Foyt Makes Comeback In Win

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A. J. Foyt, seriously injured in a racing mishap last January, turned the Firecracker 400 National Stock Car Race into his personal comeback stage, fighting off a major darkhorse bid and saving some prestige for the favored Fords.

Foyt, winner of the Indianapolis 500 and the Firecracker 400 last year, finished — and won — his first race of the season Sunday averaging 150.040 miles per hour over the 2.5 mile high-banked Daytona International speedway.

The Houston, Tex., driver, who spent 45 days in the hospital and several months recuperating after his Jan. 16 accident at Riverside, Calif., collected $12,600 first prize money.

The dark horse was Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N.C., driving a Plymouth Fury. The Chrysler engine was sanctioned for racing on Nascar tracks only two weeks ago. No one figured that the privately entered car had a chance against the strong Ford factory team.

However, Baker, driving under the colors of his father, Buck Baker, finished second, just under the one lap behind the leader.

Pimlico's record daily double payoff is $5,932.20. It occurred when longshots scored in the first two races on Dec. 1, 1955.

Gary Player Is Not Very Predictable

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) —Golf, said 5-foot-7 Gary Player, has no place for the small man.

That, however, doesn't exactly include the little giant from South Africa who won the U.S. Open Golf Championship and is shooting for his second British title.

"Well, you could say I'm unpredictable," Player said then launched a discussion of his favorite subjects — physical fitness.

"The trouble with golf today is that it is the only sport where there are no fixed training habits," he said. "In any other sport they worry about this, but golf players don't.

"I have had to do this. When I started my physical training, they laughed at me. But after all, physical fitness won the American Open for me.

"There is no room today for the soallman."

Player, however, has made room for himself — lots of room. He is one of three men in history to win the big four in a career — the British and U.S. Opens, the PGA and the Masters. Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan are the others.

Furthermore, says player, he's going to be hard to beat in the 72-holes of the British championship that runs Wednesday through Friday. Britain's legal bookies don't completely agree with him. At 8-1, he is the fourth choice behind Jack Nicklaus, 7-2, Arnold Palmer, 5-1, and defending champion Tony Lema, 6-1.

Snyder's Polo Team Whips San Angelo

Snyder's Polo Team beat the second place world championship team from San Angelo by a score of 8-2 last Saturday in Snyder's polo arena.

Snyder now will travel to San Angelo next Sunday afternoon for a return match with the tough San Angelo crew beginning at 2 p.m.

All the games played by the Snyder Polo Team is in preparation for the World Championship competition which will be held in Spur later this year.

Dodgers Take On Buffs In Do Or Die Contest

Pony Leaguers will wind up their regular season as the Dodgers will meet the Buffs in a 'must' game for both teams tonight at 8 p.m. in Towle Memorial Park.

The Buffs lead the league by one game over the Dodgers with a record of eight wins and two losses while the Dodgers are in second place with seven wins and three losses, and will enter this game with a chance to tie the league up with a victory.

If the Dodgers can take the victory tonight over the Buffs, there will be a playoff game set for Thursday at 8 p.m. between these same nines. However, if the Buffs can manage a win tonight, they will be declared the champions of the league.

The Dodgers are managed by O. D. Brewer and coached by Glen Ward while the Buffs are managed by Garland Bishop and coached by Chick Bond.

A Pony League All - Star team will be announced tonight directly after the game if the Buffs should win, or if the Dodgers win, the all-stars will be announced after Thursday's battle

The All-Stars were selected by unanimous choice by the league's five managers, and will carry Snyder's flag in the state's playoff series.

The Stars will first meet Colorado City on July 19 at 8 p.m. in Colorado City in the first game of the best two out of three series set. The second game will be the following night on Tuesday the 20th, and if a third game is needed, Colorado City again will be the host.

The winner of this series will meet the winner of the Abilene-Coleman series.

Fifty Teams Clash In Odessa Pro-Am

ODESSA (AP)—Fifty teams will shoot for 30 places today in qualifying rounds for the $20,000 Odessa pro-amateur golf tournament.

Seventy teams already have been invited and the field will be 100 or more. The low 30 and ties will qualify today.

The tournament, with $5,000 first money, opens Thursday with Don Massengale of Jacksboro and amateur John Farquhar of Amarillo all set to defend their championship.

Play will be over the 6,600-yard Odessa Country Club Course with a par of 72.

After the second round Friday the field will be cut to the low 40 and ties for the final 36 holes.

Emerson And Smith Are Relaxing

By ROBERT JONES
Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Roy Emerson and Margaret Smith, two sun-tanned Australians with the tennis world at their feet, relaxed today after carrying off the Wimbledon singles titles and agreed to take things easy before the U.S. championships at Forest Hills.

Neither can achieve the "grand slam" of amateur tennis — collect the Australian, Italian, French, Wimbledon and U.S. titles in the same year. They both won the Australian singles titles, but failed on the slower courts of the European circuit.

But both served notice they are going to be very difficult to beat at Forest Hills in September. Margaret, Wimbledon champion two years ago, relinquished her crown to Maria Bueno of Brazil last year, but won it back again this year in a match of impeccable style and elegance.

Emerson defeated his buddy Fred Stolle for the men's title with devastating ease. It was his second straight Wimbledon crown.

Like last year, it was a Wimbledon of almost complete Australian domination. Australians won four of the five titles, and in three brackets — the men's singles and doubles and the mixed doubles — provided all the finalists.

The only title they didn't carry off was the women's doubles, in which Maria Bueno teamed with Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach Calif. — the only U.S. winner — to beat Francoise Durr and Janine Lieffrig of France.

Snyder Scene Of Major Independence Day Celebration

COLOR GUARD—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Color Guard headed up the Independence Day parade Saturday in Towle Park. The parade, which formed near the National Guard Armory, followed the park road around the park lake as spectators lined the route. In the VFW color guard are Harry Chapman, Harold Spivey, Rush O. Gray and John Webster.

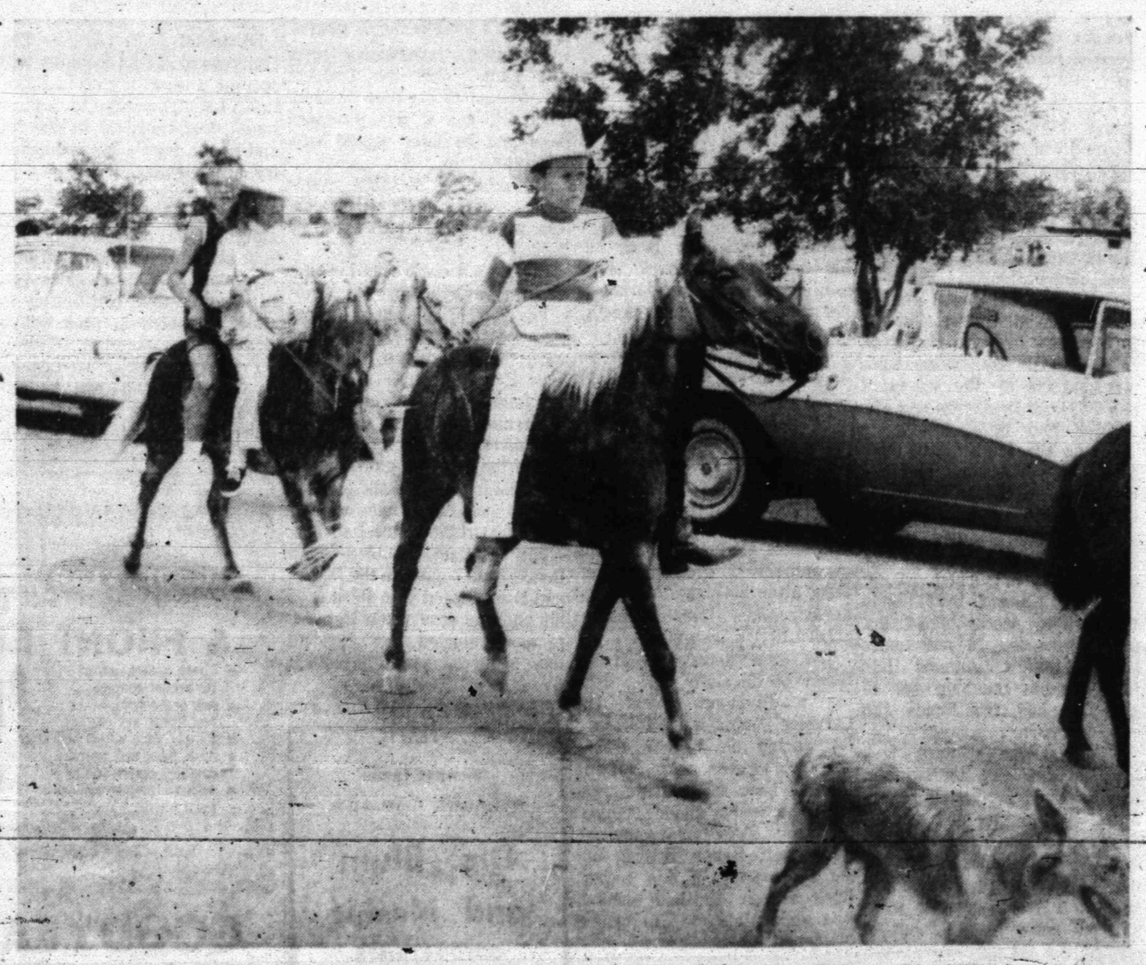

AN EXCITING MOMENT—Probably nothing was more exciting to this group of youngsters than a chance to ride a real fire truck. This unit of the Snyder Fire Department was in the parade, and it was filled with eager passengers long before the procession began. Fire Chief Alfred Kohl was crowed out and had to ride the running board.

TYPICAL SCENE—This was a typical scene in Towle Memorial Park as thousands gathered Saturday for the annual Independence Day celebration. Although a hot sun kept many under the shade of trees much of time, the parade brought them out in the open at mid-afternoon. The crowd began to increase rapidly in late afternoon, reaching its peak during the fireworks display at 9 p.m.

PARK FACILITIES ATTRACTIVE — The lush, well-clipped grass of Towle Memorial Park attracted thousands of Snyder area residents and visitors Saturday. Foot traffic over the park was heaviest during the parade and the fireworks display, but even a torrid sun failed to daunt many at other hours of the day.

ANIMALS HAD THEIR ROLE—Animals were in on the celebration Saturday at Towle Memorial Park. Prominent, of course, were horses ridden in the parade by members of the Scurry County Sheriff's Posse and the Junior Riding Club, and in addition neighborhood dogs were perfectly willing to join in the festivities.

Increasing Need Is Noted For General Rain In State

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Increasing need for general rain to restore surface moisture over much of the state is reported by John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Scattered light showers and heavy downpours in some spots have failed to yield the general moisture needed, he said, and they delayed the wheat harvest in the Panhandle and damaged hay crops in eastern sections.

Hutchison said the overall picture nevertheless continued favorable as open weather made field work possible.

District extension service agents gave this summary of conditions:

W. W. Grisham Jr. at Amarillo said heavy rains put moisture levels at the adequate to surplus stage and, with hail and wind, damaged wheat, delaying the harvest. Dryland wheat is yielding 6 to 15 bushels per acre while irrigated fields are producing 35 to 55 bushels. Most of the area's cotton is up but seedling disease, hail and washing are causing trouble. Ranges are in excellent condition but grain sorghum planting is being delayed. Onion harvest was starting and potato harvest should begin in a week to 10 days.

Heavy rains also hit parts of the Rolling Plains but seven of the 22 counties are short on moisture, James Simmons reported from Vernon. Cotton is still being replanted. Early grain sorghum is heading. Overwintered boll weevils continue to show up and fleahoppers, thrips and grasshoppers are causing damage.

Only scattered showers hit the north central area and farmers got a lot of field work done. Ted Martin at Denton said cotton was in all stages of development, the small grain harvest was near completion, hay was still being baled between showers with some rain damage reported, ranges were above average and livestock was in excellent condition.

Peaches, peas, green wrap tomatoes and some watermelons are being harvested in Northeast Texas, R. S. Loftis reported from Mount Pleasant. Cotton is in all stages of development and condition. Vustures and grain sorghums are doing well. Corn, pecan and sweet potato prospects are good. Early hay cuttings have been rain damaged. The moisture situation is good.

Scattered showers to heavy rains in the Big Bend and Edwards Plateau have improved the outlook in far West Texas, Ray Siegmund said at Fort Stockton. Ranges are improving, cotton is making good growth and alfalfa is producing excellent yields. Livestock conditions are on the mend. Labor continues short.

Surface moisture is short in parts of West Central Texas but cotton and grain sorghums are looking good, Roy Huckabee reported from San Angelo. Pecan prospects are above average with little insect damage. Ranges and livestock are in good condition with some lamb shearing necessitated by needle and spear grass. Twelve cases of screwworms have been confirmed in the district, with nine the past 10 days in Sterling County. Farm labor is short.

John Burleson at Stephenville said moisture was adequate. The weather has permitted completion of the small grain harvest possible and has given cotton, corn and grain sorghums a good start. Lots of hay has been baled. Late cotton is up to good stands but peanut growers in Eastland County are having trouble getting stands. A good rain would enhance the prospects for corn and grain sorghum.

In East Texas, R. J. Hodges at Nacogdoches said moisture is short in the southern part of his district but adequate elsewhere. Cotton and corn are making good growth. Indications point to only a fair crop of peaches and pecans. Pastures are at least average except Jasper County where they are below normal.

Good general rain still is needed to restore surface moisture in the Southeast Texas and upper Gulf Coast district, Joe Rothe said at Richmond. Grain sorghum is nearing maturity. The watermelon harvest has started around Hempstead. Brazos and Jackson Counties report grasshopper damage.

Moisture in South Central Texas ranges from short to adequate, Joe Glover reported from Gonzales. Corn is in the hard dough stage, grain sorghum heads are turning, range and pasture prospects are the best in several years, livestock is in good condition and the market strong. But boll weevils are causing some damage to cotton, weed growth is heavy and the pecan nut casebearer is on the increase. Spraying will start soon for control. Lots of hay has been baled. The volume of watermelons being harvested is increasing.

Russians Savor American Culture

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet people are getting their richest helping of American cutural fare in years, despite the current low ebb of Soviet-U.S. political relations.

Denunciations of U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic in recent weeks have had no visible effect on the import of American artistic works.

American pianist Van Cliburn and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra have had expansive, open-armed receptions from audiences all over the country in recent appearances.

Long lines of Leningraders stretched for blocks to look at the cultural exchange exhibit "Architecture U.S.A."

One of the liveliest showcases for American artistic works is the theater. Among the most talked about productions of the current season has been the Moscow Satire Theater's adaptation of J. D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye". Western residents here felt the classic story of young Holden Caulfield had been handled with great sensitivity.

American jazz has made what looks like a final breakthrough in recent weeks. It is played day and night on radio, television and phonographs that blare forth on hot summer nights from the open windows of Moscow apartments.

Old American movies — the Western, "The Magnificent Seven," "The Toast of New Orleans," with the late Hollywood tenor, Mario Lanza; and the musical "Oklahoma" have been playing to packed houses.

An unusually large number of American movies have been chosen for out-of-competition showing at the Moscow Film Festival next month. Among them are: "Bridge on the River Kwai," "My Fair Lady," "To Kill a Mocking Bird," "It's a Mad, Mad World."

The experimental theater on Moscow's Tanganka Square put on a lively production of "Ten Days that Shook the World," the account by American journalist John Reed of the 1917 Bolshevik Reolution. The show has been hailed here as a completely new theatrical phenomenon — an avant garde melange of vignettes employing modern dance, shadowgraphs, and musical accompaniment.

Other American plays are still playing to sell-out audiences. They include: Arthur Miller's "View From the Bridge," and "Witches of Salem," William Gibson's "Miracle Worker" and "Two on a Seesaw," and an adaptation of John Steinbeck's "Winter of Our Discontent."

There is talk in theater circles of staging next season Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" The play has created sensations in Prague and Warsaw that reached all the way to Moscow.

Young choreographers in Leningrad's Kirov Ballet also are trying something new with a ballet adaptation of John Steinbeck's story "The Pearl."

Modern American writers — Steinbeck, Salinger, Hemingway, F. Scott Fitzgerald, and others — are scheduled for publication this year in Russian translation.

The interest in things American is clearly visible in other fields as well. A Soviet historian, Evgenia Popova, recently created a stir here with a new look at old Soviet dogma about Wall Street monopolists and America's exploited working class.

Tourism Drive Felt Over State

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' drive to attract tourists is helping keep the state's economy well above 1964 figures, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The bureau's index of business activity declined 4.4 per cent during May, but the January-May average is still almost 20 per cent above 1964. The index is based on 20 selected barometers of business.

"A category of non-manufacturing employment which has shown increasing vitality is the hotel and motel industry," the report said. "Texas is making a sustained effort to attract tourists, and there is every indication that this will be a good year for the travel industry in the state. Money brought in by tourists is basic income just as money brought in by industrial establishments is basic income.

"Opportunities for private investment in tourist facilities and in the development of scenic and recreational attractions are numerous. Many potential sources of tourism revenues in Texas have not yet been realized."

The bureau report said the value cannot be overemphasized of such attractions as the Astrodome in Houston, the Six Flags over Texas at Arlington, and Galveston projects including a Sea-a-Rama and Jean LaFitte's Alley.

"Out-of-state interest in the entire Texas coastal area, especially in Padre Island, is increasing," the report said.

"A new bridge connecting Galveston island to Brazoria County will open a vast new area of beach land for recreational and home development.

"Closure of the gates on Sanford Dam on the Canadian River near Borger to form Lake Meredith has resulted in a sharp increase in boat sales in Amarillo. Canyon Lake in the scenic Hill Country near New Braunfels in Central Texas is another attraction certain to prove popular with weekenders and vacationers. New Lakes, such as those under construction on the Sabine-Neches watershed in East Texas and on the Rio Grande near Del Rio, will provide new recreational areas."

Decreased Duty On Safety Pins Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., has urged President Johnson not to lower duties on safety pins.

The Tariff Commission recently reported that major producers of safety pins could adjust to lower tariffs by increasing imports of pins or producing other products.

Ribicoff said lowering of the duties would eliminate the pin industry centered in the Naugatuck Valley of Connecticut.

Quick Raid Nets Seagull A Chicken

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — There's a seagull with a lot of gall—and a full stomach.

The gull swooped into a family barbecue Sunday and made off with a piece of chicken being cooked on an outdoor grill. The bird made the choice so quickly none of the John J. Murphy family could counter the raid.

THE LOBBY OF THE SKYLINE MOTEL is spacious, quiet, and attractive, which is to be expected, since that same description fits all of the accomodations there. Buster Tanner, manager of the Motel pictured behind the registration desk, is proud of what the Skyline has to offer, and welcomes the chance to show folks around.

Skyline Motel Fills Need Here

A clean, quiet, reasonably - priced motel has a very definite place in a city the size of Snyder. As a matter of fact, such a first - class, reasonable facility is a decided asset to the city.

Such a motel is the Skyline Motel, three miles west of Snyder on U. S Highway 180.

Not only does the Skyline provide a desirable spot for tourists to stop, but also has facilities for those who need to spend several days or weeks here.

Sometimes folks need those few days or weeks while they're looking for a house. Sometimes their work here will last only that long.

But whatever the reason, the kitchenettes at the Skyline are the perfect answer to these folks' needs.

Some of the Skyline's "temporary" guests have been there over a year!

That's not surprising though, because The Skyline does furnish what they want. Clean, spacious rooms. The luxury of refrigerated air conditioning, and attractive weekly and monthly rates.

Buster Tanner, manager of the Skyline Motel, said that he has one guiding principle only — and that is to treat people the way he'd like to be treated.

Tanner, a native of Rochester, in Haskell County, came to Snyder last Spring to take over managership of the Skyline. When the opportunity to come to Snyder came along, Tanner said that before he moved here he wanted to see what the town was like.

So, he came to Snyder and spent a week. He liked what he saw. The folks here were friendly, the business climate looked good, and Snyder was obviously a progressive city.

Tanner said that he had no reason to regret the move. But, he added, he'd been too busy to get out and really meet folks the way he'd like to.

He said he hoped people would come by the Skyline and give him a chance to get acquainted, and to let him show them what the Skyline has to offer. Tanner said he would welcome comparison of the Skyline with any similar facilities in town.

Kentucky's second regional health department has been opened in Hazard. It will serve 18 counties in this poor Eastern Kentucky area.

The General Sherman Tree, a Sequoia as tall as a 25-story building, sprang from a winged seed no larger than a rolled-oats flake.

Auto-Train Crash Kills 6

SALLISAW, Okla. (AP) — Two brothers, their wives and three children sharing a holiday picnic outing were in a car which drove into the path of a speeding freight train near this eastern Oklahoma town Sunday.

The crash carried the demolished car three-fourths of a mile from the point of impact where old U.S. 64 crosses the raised Kansas City Southern Railroad track. Six members of the two families were killed. One child was critically injured.

The driver of the death car, was Leonard D. Hudson, 21, of Wichita, Kan. His wife was Judy A. Hudson, 20.

Relatives said they were visiting James R. Hudson, 31, his brother who lived at nearby Muldrow, Okla. James Hudson and three members of his family died in the crash. They were his wife, Mavis Dean Hudson, 28, and two of their children, Pamela, 9, and Terry, 3.

Two-year-old Sheila was hospitalized in critical condition at Fort Smith, Ark.

Cuba Says Sugar Output Increased

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban government has announced 1965 sugar production of 6,050,532 metric tons and called it "an economic victory for the revolution."

The Havana radio broadcast, monitored in Miami, also disclosed the figures for 1963 and 1964, which the Fidel Castro government had kept secret previously.

The broadcast set 1963 production at 3,882,524 tons and the 1964 output at 4,397,781 tons.
