Badly-Needed Rains Drench Hereford Area

Around Town

With The Brand Staff

The other day Mrs. Bess Werner started cleaning up an accumulation of many years, and discovered that she had many items of interest—enough, in fact, to make a museum, so she accordingly opened one in her barn, five miles west of Hereford, which is open to the public (for a small fee) from 2 until 5 o'clock each Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Merlin Kaul has a story about the museum in her "here and there" column in this issue.

Forty-two hospitalized veterans at the Amarillo VA hospital Monday evening were entertained by the Hereford American Legion and Auxiliary. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ott, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkins, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Lurine Smith, Mrs. Gladys Smith, Mrs. Grant Hanna and Miss Joette Hanna.

Little League boys will meet at the ball park Saturday, June 20 at 9 a.m. to sell candy, it was announced by Mrs. Dennis Lomas, chairman of Little League Mothers, Saturday. The boys were asked to be in uniform and to bring along a box in which to carry the candy. Money will be used to help defray Little League expenses. The boys made $250 in a recent bake sale.

Texas State Teachers Association members in Hereford were informed Saturday that the word "white" had been eliminated from qualification for membership in the organization, subject to approval of the House of Delegates.

Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce has reported these new members: Reuben Asland, Roland Barton, Wendel Maloney, Jerry Shipman, and Dr. Dale H. Wynn.

Hereford Municipal Airport is to have a new sign soon, welcoming visitors to the port, says Roy Faulstich. The new sign, now being lettered, will be installed soon.

The annual membership meeting of the Hereford Cemetery Association will be held Tuesday at 2:30 in the Community Center. Everyone interested in the progress of West Park Cemetery is urged to attend this meeting to elect board of directors for the coming year. Reports of past years' progress will be read.

Summer Day Camp for all Hereford Blue Birds will begin next Thursday, with registration.

"HEY, THAT'S MY DOLL"—Annette Thomas seems to have some idea that she should be able to play with her doll, but Lucy, the dog, seems to have a different idea. Lucy took the doll over last week and will not let anybody touch it. (Brand Staff Photo)

Doggone Dog Is In Love

By Phil Duncan

"Spring Fever" has hit the Buster Thomason residence, 13 miles Southwest of Hereford.

Cupid's arrow struck a member of the Thomason household, that no one expected could really fall quite so hard.

Lucy, a two-year-old female Chihuahua, has fallen head-over-heels in love with a small plastic doll belonging to the Thomason's daughter, Annette.

Mrs. Thomason first suspected the affair when she found the doll in the box, which Lucy sleeps in.

Assuming that Annette had put the doll in the box, she picked it up and placed it in a play-pen nearby.

For days Lucy whined around the play pen, almost crying, and for no apparent reason. The Thomason's could not remember the dog ever acting like this before and were worried about the strange behavior.

Finally, Mrs. Thomason walked into the room, where the play pen is placed, and noticed Lucy pawing through the webbing in an attempt to get the doll out.

She gave the doll to Lucy and she immediately ran under the nearest bed and would not come out for several hours.

For days anyone who came near the doll was subject to a fight with the protective lover.

After a few days, members of the Thomason family were able to get the doll, but it certainly made Lucy depressed.

Any stranger will certainly receive bitter warnings from Lucy before going near the doll, and according to the Thomason's it is just best to leave her alone with it.

Well, they say these "spring fever crushes" are soon forgotten, but it appears, as far as Lucy is concerned, this one is for good.

Sugar-Making Is 'Old' Industry

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Since Hereford soon will have "home-made" sugar from locally-produced sugar beets when the Holly Plant under construction is completed, the following article was prepared to give the history of the sugar beet industry. It is a companion article to a 10-part series now running in the Thursday Brand.)

Perhaps a subject even more involved and interesting than that of sugar beet processes is the history of the beet sugar industry.

Like all other new ideas, it was not accepted at once by the people when it was introduced. The first promoters of the beet sugar ideas were ridiculed and looked upon as idiots by the townspeople.

The process of extracting sugar from sugar cane was known in India and the Orient long before the Christian era and the people appeared satisfied with this expensive, complicated process of extracting sugar from cane.

The first actual proof that beet roots contained sugar was given by Andreas Marggraf, a German chemist, in 1747. He obtained the sugar by slicing, drying and pulverizing the beets. Eight ounces of the powder was boiled with six ounces of alcohol, filtered and the liquid placed in a flask and allowed to stand for several weeks. He demonstrated that crystals formed which seemed identical in all properties with sugar-cane crystals.

The King of Prussia, Frederick Wilhelm III, became interested and advanced funds for the erection of the first beet-sugar factory at Clemen, Silesia. Operation started in 1803 and was partially successful. Then France erected two factories, both of which failed due to lack of technical knowledge.

The French were engaged in the Napoleonic wars and the English blockade cut imports of West India cane

Lamms To Attend Demo Conclave

Deaf Smith County Democrats will send Mr. and Mrs. John Lamm to Houston as their official delegates to the State Democratic Convention, which opens Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamm will leave today for Houston. Considerable fireworks may result before the state delegates have completed naming their delegates to the National Democratic convention to be held in Atlantic City in August.

Expanded Recreational Program Urged By PEP

Planning and Evaluating for Progress, Deaf Smith County's "PEP", has recommended an expanded recreational program which will include such things as lighted softball fields for adults, an enlargement of the municipal golf course and the possibility of a YMCA for Hereford.

The recommendations were made by PEP's committee on recreation, headed by L. B. Russell, to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

After Russell had completed his report, the directors approved the suggestions and referred the project to its recreation committee.

The report said, "The committee considers that there is a real need for softball diamonds, lighted and available for teenage and adult use." A similar need was cited for girls also.

The committee "further recommends that more study be given to providing lights on the high school baseball field, so that facility may be better used during the summer months."

At present high school baseball games must be played during the daytime, which prevents many persons from attending who might otherwise witness the high school affairs, it was pointed out.

As a second recommendation, the PEP committee on recreation suggested that consideration be given "at an early date" to the need for expanding the municipal golf course to 18 holes.

No timetable was attached to that recommendation, but the committee added that an 18-hole golf course here "is definitely a need of the community, especially when tournaments are staged."

Another recommendation which the committee made was that "the possibility of interesting the Young Men's Christian Association in a program for

CC Seeks Rentals

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is "sorely in need" of rental listings. The office said Saturday that "far more calls for rental property are received each week than we can supply."

Hereford's expanding population is taxing housing facilities, it was pointed out, and each day, "Many persons call at the office to see if we have any listings," a spokesman said.

Lack of rentals available is attested to by the fact that many persons working in Hereford, especially on construction jobs, are commuting each work day from Canyon, Amarillo and even as far away as Plainview, it was pointed out. Some of these people—perhaps most of them—would move to Hereford if housing were available, it was explained.

One man told the chamber he had been working in Hereford since last November, but had been unable to find housing for his family. Accordingly, he has been driving from Clovis, N. M., each week. One week recently when one of his children was ill, he commuted each day, "and that," he declared, "gets old!"

A further example of the lack of rentals is shown in a recent Brand issue which contained not a single house rental. Only two rentals were listed, both for business property.

Anyone having any type of house, apartment, or room for rent, has been asked to call the Chamber of Commerce, EM4-3333.

considered. Need for such a program here was cited, especially in view of the vast number of young men who have moved to Hereford recently to work in Hereford's expanding industry.

Many towns of this size, it was pointed out, have a YMCA program, and some have buildings of their own.

The PEP committee on recreation also looked into the future as Hereford continues to expand. In the long-range planning of recreational needs of the community, the committee said, "consideration should be given to the eventual employment of a full-time recreational director during the summer months."

It was pointed out that many West Texas towns have full-time recreational directors, some on an around-the-year basis. Kermit, for example, has a full-time director and a youth center, both supervised by the school system.

The group also recommended a small neighborhood park to meet the needs of "our growing city." The committee said such parks "should be provided."

Two other recommendations, one concerning development of Veterans' Park and one concerning the need for a year-round swimming pool, also were mentioned in the report. These recommendations, it was discovered by the board, "were found to be in the process of accomplishment by other organizations and so were not acted upon by the board."

Police Arrest Six For Gaming

Six persons were arrested shortly after 1 a.m. Saturday by members of the Hereford Police Department and charged with gaming.

The arrests took place at 320 Lake Street in Hereford.

Police had a slowdown in the usual rash of car collisions, as only one accident was investigated by the department.

Cars driven by Leola Peters, 519 Blevins, and Ivan Hopkins, 213 N. Roosevelt, were in collision at intersection of West First St. and Jackson St. shortly after 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Peters was cited by the investigating patrolman for negligent collision by failure to yield the right of way while making a left turn.

Damage to Mrs. Peter's vehicle was estimated at $125 and damage to the truck was negligible according to investigating patrolmen.

Crops Boosted; Deluge Halts Grain Harvest

Badly-needed rains that dumped up to 2.5 inches of moisture on parched Deaf Smith County, boosted pastures, aided vegetables and knocked the props out from under a heat wave that earlier in the week had spiraled the thermometer to just under the century mark. The downpours postponed wheat harvest for several days at least.

It took three evenings in which to accomplish the job, but generally speaking, the sundown wettings were of untold benefit to the area. Here in Hereford, the official weather station reported 1.48 inches for the three nights — .33 Wednesday night, the same amount Thursday night and .82 inch Friday night.

Little or no damage was done here from high winds, which swept part of the Panhandle, including Amarillo, although farther west, funnels popped in and out of the clouds both Thursday and Friday evenings, and extensive damage was reported in the Friona-Bovina region of Farmer county.

Amounts varied considerably, even in Hereford itself. Six miles west of Hereford, farmers reported rain measured up to 2.5 inches, and one farmer north of Summerfield said his gauge "ran over" at 5 inches.

Vegetables were helped here since the rains were fairly gentle and were accompanied by no damaging hail. Only pea-sized hail was reported here, a smattering coming down in Friday night's heavy downpour. Streets were flooded for a short time, but runoff was quick.

Bulk of the rain both Thursday and Friday nights was centered in the Bovina, Muleshoe, Friona and Farwell regions in far West Texas. In southern Bailey county, five-inches of rain were reported by the Lubbock water reservoir instrument seven miles east of Muleshoe and Muleshoe itself received 2 inches of moisture Friday night. U. S. 84 and 70 were both flooded in the vicinity of Muleshoe.

Numerous reports of funnels were received from the western Farmer county area. Thursday night, for example, twisters struck Clovis, Bovina, Texico and Tula, causing considerable property damage. A Tula home lost the family, the Bruce Farmers, escaped serious injury.

Livestock were killed Thursday on farms near Bovina after a funnel sat down on a farm north of there, and considerable damage also was done to homes in Bovina itself, although no one was reported injured.

NO HARVESTING TODAY — Combines were about ready to roll in the Hereford Area Friday, but deluges, coupled with rains Wednesday and Thursday nights, brought such operations to a standstill. Here's a combine parked on a muddy lot Friday night after .82 inches of rain had fallen. (Brand Staff Photo)

Roof was lifted from a barn in that vicinity also.

Another small tornado on the New Mexico-Texas line Friday night was reported, and Jim Ferguson estimated that $7000 worth of damage had been done at his farm 20 miles north of Texico. A house trailer was turned over.

Two tornadoes also were seen near Farwell late Friday, the first around 4:30 p.m., but they climbed back into the skies and disappeared, apparently without striking the ground.

In general the rains followed U.S. 60, moving from southwest to northeast in the usual West Texas pattern, moving along the highway at a speed of 20 to 25 miles an hour.

Nearest a funnel came to Hereford was Dawn; one was sighted, H. H. Miller reported. The tornado apparently touched ground, but no damage was reported Saturday from the touch-and-go funnel.

A highway patrolman in the area also said he saw the funnel but that it disappeared almost as quick as it came.

Canyon received .5 inch, the rainfall apparently growing smaller as the storm moved east. By comparison, Grady, N. M. got a 2-inch downpour from the same cloud which spread over that area three hours earlier.

Three funnels were checked by Bailey County sheriff's department, but none apparently touched ground Friday night.

Thursday's twister in the Clovis-Bovina-Farwell area accounted for $54,000 damage in that region, Richard Legitt at Clovis said.

Friday night's downpour forced a temporary closing of U.S. 84 east of Muleshoe, traffic being routed around through Needmore and east, and Friday's deluge at Bovina sent water sprawling over U.S. 60 four

Two DWI Pleas Heard In Court

Two persons entered pleas of guilty to separate charges of driving while intoxicated this week.

Harry E. Cayler entered a plea of guilty, before County Judge H.C. Williams, to the DWI charges and was fined $50 and court costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail.

Primitivo M. Garcia was fined $75 and costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail after he entered a plea of guilty to a similar charge.

Driving privileges were automatically suspended for a period not to exceed six months, according to Judge Williams.

persons have died in traffic as compared with 871 for the same period of 1963. This 18 percent increase is very alarming, and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture. There is an increase in all types of accidents throughout the state, and it is something that merits our greatest concern."

Castro county had three fatal accidents during May and Packer and Potter Counties each had one fatal crash. Swisher county reported nine accidents, but no deaths.

Sgt. Wells asked the cooperation of the driving public. "The public must assist in the reduction of this trend if we are to turn it downward. Otherwise our death count at the end of the year will far exceed the record number of 2729 deaths in Texas traffic during '63."

May Accidents Kill One, Hurt Four In County

Accidents in Deaf Smith county, outside the city of Hereford, killed one and injured four during the month of May. Highway Patrol supervisor for this area, Sgt. W. E. Wells, reported Saturday.

Property damage amounted to $3227 in the 10 accidents investigated by the patrol.

May's 10 crashes brought the total for the January-through-May period to 41 with one person killed, 23 injured and an estimated property damage of $18,512.

The sergeant expressed serious concern over the increase in fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents throughout the state. He explained: "For the first five months of 1964, 1025

New Home of the Don Robinsons

Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson To Build Home In Green Acres

Don Robinson, Representative of American Founders Life Insurance Company, who moved here recently from Abilene, Texas, will be the first to start construction of a new home on Liveoak Street in Hereford's exclusive Green Acres Estates.

Robinson's home, a 4 bedroom with 3 car garage structure, will be located on the corner of Liveoak and Harrison Highway.

Robinson will also be one of the first to actually own membership in the private swimming pool corporation, owned by residents of Green Acres Estates, and operated by its membership. Outside membership will be screened by a special committee comprised of the members themselves, and memberships in the pool will be transferable, upon approval of the committee.

The new swimming pool at Green Acres Estates is now nearing completion with construction of the bath and clubhouse portion of the pool is now underway. The pool itself is almost completed and it won't be long before area residents will be enjoying the comforts of a private, heated swimming pool, according to Reuben Aasland, developer of the Green Acres addition.

"This facility will be strictly deluxe," says Aasland, "and we hope to have it completed in the very near future." The pool will be heated and will also have a club house along with the bath houses for the convenience of the residents. The entire facility will be enclosed with an 8 ft. high solid block fence. "There's nothing in Hereford like it," says Aasland, "and we want everyone to know that memberships are now available by invitation." Residents outside the Green Acres addition interested in membership in the pool are invited to fill out the coupon below and mail to Hereford Development Co. The number of memberships will be limited however, and those interested should contact Hereford Development Co. for further information.

"We believe that a pool serving only members will be an asset to this end of town," Aasland said, and stated that the pool will be equipped with the finest filtering system made, guard during the season. "We've overlooked nothing to make and will be staffed with a life-guard."

"In fact," says Aasland, "we encourage you to have your own contractor build your home here." He pointed out that lots were available to reliable contractors and to individuals, but asserted again that homes built in the area would have to meet deed restrictions and be "constructed to stay."

This area will also be the first in Hereford to include a complete network of underground utilities. "If we could find a way to put the TV antennas underground, we'd do it," Aasland said. However, the absence of electrical utility poles will be "something new" for Hereford. Parties interested in purchasing lots in the subdivision for future use, or those wanting to construct homes now are urged to contact Reuben Aasland for details.

"Lots will be sold on installment plan to those qualifying," he said.

A limited number of memberships are now available by invitation. For detailed information, fill out the blank below and return.

Sugar...

Indians considerably before 1800. Translations of manuscripts show that certain tribes of the Sierra made quantities of sugar from beet roots which grew wild in this land.

James Ronaldson of Philadelphia made the first serious attempt to establish a beet-sugar industry in the U. S. in 1830. He was the president of the Franklin Institute and he interested some friends in the project and sent James Pedder to Europe to study methods of manufacture. In 1836, Pedder set sail and visited factories at Calais, Arras, Valenciennes, Brastille and other towns.

On his return, Pedder wrote a report which was the first known contribution by an American author on the subject. The article recommended the mixing of feeds with beet molasses for cattle food.

Most of the efforts of the society failed, partly because of lack of money and partly because of ignorance of agricultural technology.

Another early enterprise was at White Pigeon, Michigan, where in 1838 a factory was built by sugar-hungry pioneers. The first aid from any state congress was loaned to this factory in the sum of $5,000. The approved bill authorized the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Michigan to loan to the White Pigeon Beet Sugar Company the sum of $5,000 out of funds arising from the sale of university or school lands. Although the White Pigeon group failed in their efforts to establish a permanent industry in the U. S., their efforts were commemorated as the first cooperative attempt to establish the culture of the beet for sugar.

Brigham Young began the next attempt to produce beet sugar which was desperately needed in the newly established Mormon community in Salt Lake City, Utah. Phillip De LaMare, a converted Mormon and a young engineer, was sent to France where a study of the new industry at Arras was made and favorable conclusions were drawn.

The Deseret Manufacturing Co. was organized and in 1851 orders were placed and $12,500 worth of equipment was purchased.

Plans were made to ship the equipment to New Orleans then overland to Salt Lake City. A severe blow was dealt the dimming finances of the enterprise by the levy of $5,000 import duty at New Orleans.

After further delay the equipment began the long overland journey and it was discovered that the wagons purchased by De LaMare were inferior and began breaking down. After other wagons were obtained, four grueling months were spent crossing the desert. Four ponderous Santa Fe wagons, each drawn by multiple ox-teams carried the tremendous load.

The train arrived at Provo, Utah, where it had been planned to build the factory. The funds of the Deseret Company being completely exhausted, part of the machinery was brought to Salt Lake City, where it was set up for a short test run, with the help of public works officials of the church. The entire crop for the summer of 1852 was gathered and used in the test run—the result was a small amount of molasses which was unfit for food. At this point the Deseret Manufacturing Company passed out of existence, and its obligations were assumed by the Mormon Church.

In April of 1853 the sugar mill was started. As with the previous attempts in the U. S., the venture was handicapped by lack of experienced sugar technologists. The apparatus had been shipped disassembled, and when unloaded from the wagons onto a large pile, it was a confusing mass of parts.

Some months later instructions were given to suspend operations which were never restarted. The machinery was, unit by unit, converted to other uses.

First Financial Success
A wealthy engineer and chemist, Dr. Lewis S. Ware of Philadelphia spent large sums of his own money in the distribution of literature and the importation and distribution of seed, to convince the farmers of the country that the sugar beet was desirable crop.

Efforts had been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to extract sugar from corn and grain sorghum. Dr. Ware said that this was irrational and succeeded in convincing E. H. Dyer and Claus Spreckels that a successful operation could be maintained.

Dyer established the first paying factory at Alvarado, Calif., in 1879, after no less than four bankruptcies and reorganizations.

After Dyer's success at Alvarado and Spreckels' at Watsonville, Calif., nine other factories sprang up rapidly.

The beet sugar industry began to grow in leaps and bounds after it was determined that a successful operation could be maintained.

Companies sprang up almost overnight and appeared to have some success in their venture.

In 1905 Holly Sugar Co. was formed and the first factory was built at Holly, Colo. The capacity of the mill was 600 tons of sugar annually. In 1915 the factory was rebuilt and the machinery was moved to Sheridan, Wyo.

Swink, Colo., was the next site picked by Holly Sugar Company. A 1,200 ton capacity factory was built there in 1906. In 1916, the factory was acquired by Holly Sugar Corporation and the present capacity is estimated at 2,000 tons annually.

As the Holly Sugar Corporation flourished, so did many other beet sugar companies.

History showed many obstacles had to be overcome and the men in the beet sugar industry invested, and in some cases lost, millions of dollars to prove the future of the beet sugar.

Perhaps one of the largest obstacles which had to be overcome by the sugar makers was the lack of acceptance of beet sugar. "Old-wives tales" said the beet sugar was inferior to cane sugar. After much explaining that "sugar is sugar, no matter whether cane or beet" the success of the industry became apparent by the growth.

The industry is still advancing as means of extracting sugar from beets change from plant to plant—indeed, the beet sugar industry is a growing industry.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to grow cotton in France at the end of the 16th century.

 Lloyd Shultz flew to Fairfield, Calif., Saturday, to visit his brother, Ray Shultz. Mrs. Shultz took him to Amarillo to meet the plane. Mrs. Ray Shultz was critically ill and Lloyd went to be with the family. She was much improved by Monday, when Lloyd returned home.
 Miss Donna Day, Abilene, spent the weekend here visiting her fiancé, Walker Parris, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris.

First Exchange Student Returns
 Miss Jean Chapman of England, first high school exchange student in Hereford under the American Field Service supervision, is returning to Hereford Monday for a month's visit with friends.
 With her will be her friend, Miss Rosalind Kramer, also of England. They will be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred, 129 Avenue D, while they are here.
 The young ladies are on tour of the United States, having already included in their itinerary points in Massachusetts and North Carolina, and Houston, Texas.
 Several informal affairs will be planned for the visitors.
 During Miss Chapman's year in high school here, she lived with the Edgar Telchiks.

Miss Allred Visits Abilene Friends
 Miss Clydene Allred, daughter of the Jimmie Allreds, is visiting friends in Abilene this week. She will be house guest of Miss Dee Motteler there.
 A 1963 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, she has been a teacher in the Lubbock Public School System during the past year.

DENTON PARK

Here And There...

with Mrs. Merlin Kaul
Carolyn Aven, 1964 graduate of Hereford High School, is enjoying one of her many graduation gifts this week. This one, more unusual than most, was a trip by jet plane to Arcadia, Calif., to see the California sights and points of interest in that area and to be the guest of her donors, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cooper.

Carolyn Aven

Upon her return home Carolyn, her mother Mrs. Leroy Aven, and her sister, Mrs. D. R. Carter, will prepare to leave June 22 for New York City. They will spend two days enjoying the New York World's Fair.

Carolyn will then join a group of U. S. students known as the Swiss Holiday Group of the American School in Switzerland and all will fly to Lugano, Switzerland, for a summer of study and tour in Europe. The group will leave June 26.

At Lugano, the students will attend school for one week for a series of lectures preparing them for the country which they will tour. They tour for 10 days, then return to Lugano for another week of lectures, and another 10 days in another country. They will study and tour 6 different countries.

Carolyn is scheduled to return to the States August 28 and plans to attend Trinity College in San Antonio this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Utley, Buena Park, Calif., were guests last week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Earl Head. They came to attend the wedding Saturday of her niece, Helen Head, to Bobby Kirkland. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Head received telephone calls Friday night from their daughter, Mrs. Bob (LaVera) Light, Lafayette, and from son Jimmy, Pocatello, Calif., and from a son, Franklin, a beautician in New York City. Franklin called in his congratulations to his sister Helen upon her approaching marriage and also announced his own wedding which had occurred at 7:30 that evening. None could be present for their sister's wedding on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Durham left the first of the week to visit in the home of his brother Blake Durham at Snyder and in Dallas to visit in the home of their daughter, Mrs. David Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Durham had just received a picture of their grand son, Dennis Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Durham. Dennis was three weeks old when his parents moved to Perth in western Australia. He is now 3 years old. His father is a Church of Christ minister in Perth. While we here are in the beginning of summer, Australia is in mid-winter. The Durhams plan to return to the States after another year.

Perhaps it was all the talk about having a museum in Hereford that was the incentive, but when Mrs. Bess Werner began checking up on all the antiques she had inherited and collected throughout the years, she decided that her house was too small to house them all. As a result, assisted by her son George and his family including wife Johnnie and the daughters Janet, Carol, and Patti, they began moving them out.

The big tin barn on the farm not being in use at present soon became the home of enough articles to include a bedroom, kitchen, and dining area. Articles of clothing, guns, books, telephone, and many others coming out of garage, basement, and from walls, and closets, have made up a fine collection.

The collection was first shown last Sunday in the "Grand Opening". A small fee is charged for the showing, the girls sell cold drinks to their customers, and pony rides are available for small children. The museum hours are tentatively set for each

AWARD WINNER — Gerald Witkowski of Hereford, right, displays awards won at the Texas 4-H Club Roundup held recently at Texas A&M University. He won high honors in the Farm and Ranch Management Demonstration contest, sponsored by the Production Credit Associations of Texas. In the center, Adult Leader Mrs. Earl Plank and on the left is Lin Warthan of Corsicana, PCA contest chairman, who presented the awards.

Gerald Witkowski, Hereford 4-H Member, Wins Area Prize

Gerald Witkowski of Hereford was presented awards for best individual effort and for first place in District One in the individual Farm and Ranch Management Demonstration contest, held at the Texas 4-H Club Roundup at Texas A & M University June 2-3.

Witkowski, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Witkowski, 215 North Texas Street in Hereford, and is a sophomore in Hereford High School. He presented a demonstration entitled "Farm Expansion."

The contest was sponsored by the Production Credit Association of Texas, including the Amarillo Production Credit Association, serving 12 Panhandle counties, including Deaf Smith County.

Mrs. Earl Plank, Hereford, adult leader, served as demonstration coach.

Mrs. Forrest Ricketts and children, Tulsa.

Miss Mona O'Dell, Amarillo, is spending several days visiting here in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Saulcy on J Street. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy O'Dell.

David Combs, Amarillo, is spending the summer here and working. He has been a student at Bethany Nazarene in Oklahoma City, for the past three years. His father is pastor of the Central Nazarene Church in Amarillo.

David will help fill the pulpit at the Nazarene Church here while the regular pastor, the Rev. Burle DeBord and his family, are on a vacation trip to Idaho, Portland, Ore., and Seattle, Wash. The DeBords left on their trip this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Means were hosts for a group of relatives at their home on K Street on Tuesday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bell and her sister Miss Frances West of Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wallings of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. George Fulks and Dolle, Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Nix and daughter Tana of Hereford, Mrs. Ruth Miller of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams Judy and Marty Means of Hereford.

$10,000 Bond Set For Local Man

Bond for Wayne Sandlin, 33, Hereford, was set at $10,000 Saturday morning after he was arraigned on a charge of statutory rape before Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles.

Sandlin was arrested Friday night by sheriff's deputies. Victim officers say, is a 14-year-old girl.

Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Days are to be assigned for individual showings for anyone having collections which they would like to have exhibited. They can contact Mrs. Bess Werner or anyone at the George Turrentine residence.

The Museum is located at the George Turrentine Farm on Highway 1058 five miles west of Hereford.

25% DIVIDEND

To Eligible
Texas Motorists

That's right, Texas motorists have come to expect dividend savings from State Farm Mutual's famous 25% dividend plan. Nine out of ten motorists have saved more than $30,000 over the past 10 years. State Farm's present 25% dividend rate makes the net cost of car insurance lower than that of most other companies. For more complete details see me soon!

DEAR FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF PRECINCT 3

May I express my appreciation for the support you gave me in the election. I know of the efforts of many of you but there were many more who spoke a good word in my behalf to whom I can only say "Thank You" by this means.

Our present commissioner has served us faithfully for many years. He deserves our gratitude and will need our continued support for the remainder of this term.

We live in a day of rapid change; in an area of remarkable progress. With it, a complex of largely unwanted problems are thrust upon us demanding a realistic approach. I entered the commissioners race out of a strong desire to effectively and actively serve our people. If I am to succeed I must have your advice, cooperation, friendly criticism and support. Together we must strive to preserve the fine qualities of local administration we now possess and carefully advance the mutual benefit of us all.

I deeply appreciate the confidence you have placed in me. I will try very hard to merit it.

Thank You
Bruce Coleman

Eastern Star Installs Officers

Rosalee Worthan became new Worthy Matron of Hereford Chapter No. 312 Order of Eastern Star at Open Installation of new officers Saturday evening, June 6, in the new Masonic Temple on Country Club Drive.

Installing Officer was Argen Draper; Installing Marshal, Opal Roberson; Installing Secretary, Myrtle Witherspoon; Installing Chaplain, Belle Hromas; Installing Organist, Vivian Major.

Newly inducted officers include Worthy Patron W. C. Hromas, Associate Matron Norma Coffey, Associate Patron Marvin Coffey, Secretary Nell Culpepper, Treasurer Frances Deavenport, Conductress Marie Cline, Associate Conductress Beatrice Hutson, Organist Rose Marie Robinson.

Also Irene Holt, Marshal; Beatrice Noland, Adah; Linda Straw, Esther; Lee Parris, Electra; Bessie Sauley, Warder; and Joe Deavenport, Sentinel.

To be inducted later are the absentees: Johnnie Sanders, Chaplain; Clara Brown, Ruth; and Virginia Vandell, Martha.

Present for this event with "Faith, Hope, and Charity" as its theme, was Nell Culpepper, Hereford, District Deputy Grand Matron.

As past Mother Advisor of Hereford Rainbow Assembly Mrs. Worthan chose this motto as her theme, emphasizing the chosen Scripture: "And now a-bide in Faith, Hope, Charity, these three; but the greatest of these is Charity." (1 Cor. 13:13) She adopted the Bible within a star as her emblem, and selected the rose as her flower.

Her aim, she set forth, is "to reflect the golden rays of the effulgent sun, thus bringing sunshine into the lives of others."

Decorated with the new Worthy Matron's chosen colors of azules, gold, and white, the initiation hall displayed bouquets of pink roses.

Dorothy Noland, retiring Worthy Matron, opened the Chapter. Others participating in the ceremonies were Norma Coffey, Marie Cline, Catharine Moore, and Norman Moore.

Intermission music was presented by Vivian Majors. Rainbow girls presented in musical selections were Sharon Worthan, daughter of the Worthy Matron, Wanda Gayle Holt, and Jo Frances Deavenport.

All Rainbow girls and their Mother Advisor, Mrs. James C. Mercer, were recognized. Introduced to the Chapter were members of the Worthy Matron's family, including her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rice of Fort Worth.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table by the hostesses: Dorothy Worthan, Dorothy Noland, Emma Noland, Irene Latham and Louise Ferguson.

CARD OF THANKS

Since we are unable to thank each of you personally we would like to take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to each of you for the many kindnesses, expressions of sympathy, flowers and food during the illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Hubert White. We especially thank Dr. Hicks, Dr. Mims and all of the nurses.

There's one thing for sure about this country. You know it's going to rain sooner or later... and as has been the case this year, it's been much, much later. But never-the-less the moisture received will be beneficial to many crops. In fact the dry-land farmers out West may even be able to plant milo now. That is, if it quits raining long enough to plant.

We had just about given up hope at the end of May. Old timers tell us that it always rains in May. You can count on it. But this year we almost drew a blank, having just enough moisture to measure. And if there had been a fly in the rain gauge, he might have soaked up that which we received.

But it looks like we're getting off to a good start in June, and if this year is anything like the last, we have a couple of wet months ahead.

Naturally, just about the time farmers are going into the fields to cut wheat, the rains come. But chances are, it won't delay them long.

Even the Deal Smith County Commissioners will be happy to see the rain. It has been too dry to drag roads, and it seems that the county roads were beginning to get in pretty bad shape.

And if the rain continues, perhaps the water level at Buffalo Lake will rise a little. Understand that it has been down somewhat, which makes it a little rough on the sportsmen of the area.

Current trends suggest that share-croppers will be almost nonexistent in the state by 1970. Only about 1 farmer out of 100 is expected to be in this category by then.

Other tenants including cash renters also are decreasing rapidly, and only about 16 out of every 100 farmers will be renting in 1970, according to projections.

Part-owners, those who own part and rent part of the land they operate, are the fastest growing class. All this is according to William G. Adkins, in a pamphlet prepared by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

It seems the 14 Section farmer has slipped by the way-side, while his 14 section counterpart is fast fading also. In other words, the family farms have become a thing of the past, being replaced by the highly mechanized operator who controls 1 or more sections of land.

G. D. Calson now has plans for his new restaurant. We understand that he is as quick to show it as a brand-new grandpappy when invited to produce the picture of the grandbaby.

Calson's new restaurant will be located just west of Jones Texas Service, in the proximity of the intersection of U.S. 60 and 385. According to Calson, it'll be the nicest in the Southwest. But then, he's biased in his opinion.

Vacationers continue to leave... and it looks like the New York World's Fair is still the Number 1 attraction. But if you're heading in that direction, better go well healed. A recent issue of a leading magazine has taken the fair to task over the exorbitant prices charged for everything from food to rides. This, plus the civil rights disorders have apparently not shaken the prospective customers, who keep coming in droves.

"We don't dispute the fact that the basic economy of this country is sounder than ever. It's just that a lot of us still don't have any money," says Fred Sparks in the Saturday Review. Amen.

The dream of telephones that see as well as talk has moved closer to everyday reality. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company plans to start "Picturephone" service between New York, Chicago and Washington in mid-June.

Mrs. Panceira Heads Women's Church Group

Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church held their annual installation coffee Wednesday morning in the Fellowship Hall of the church with 30 women present.

Likening the church group and its officers to the various instrumental sections of a symphony orchestra, Mrs. Eugene Brink, advisor, installed the newly elected officers. Included in the new slate are Mrs. Ted Panceira, re-elected president; Mrs. Kendall Williams, vice-president; Mrs. Louis Woodford, secretary; Mrs. P. L. Carmichael, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Veigel, worship director; Mrs. Jack Allen, study director; Mrs. Ivan Block, service director; Mrs. W. E. Dameron, membership chairman.

Group leaders elected are Mrs. Bert Brown, Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, Mrs. Bob Gray, and Mrs. William Z. Penn.

Chairmen of the standing committees named include Mrs. Walter London Jr., local church concern; Mrs. Carl Williams and Mrs. Ira Scott, sanctuary flowers; Mrs. F. S. Smith, card concern; Mrs. Nona Jowell and Mrs. Clyde Rush, food concern; Mrs. Harold Morton, nursery.

Mrs. Panceira conducted a brief business meeting in which reports of the various departments and committees for the previous year were heard. The new budget for the year beginning July 1 was adopted.

Mrs. Bob Gray assisted in leading worship for the group. Mrs. Panceira was hostess for the coffee hour preceding the program.

Hereford Girls Invited To Party

All graduating senior girls of Hereford and surrounding area are cordially invited to attend a forum and cake party at Amarillo's Tascosa High School Commons at 3 p.m. today.

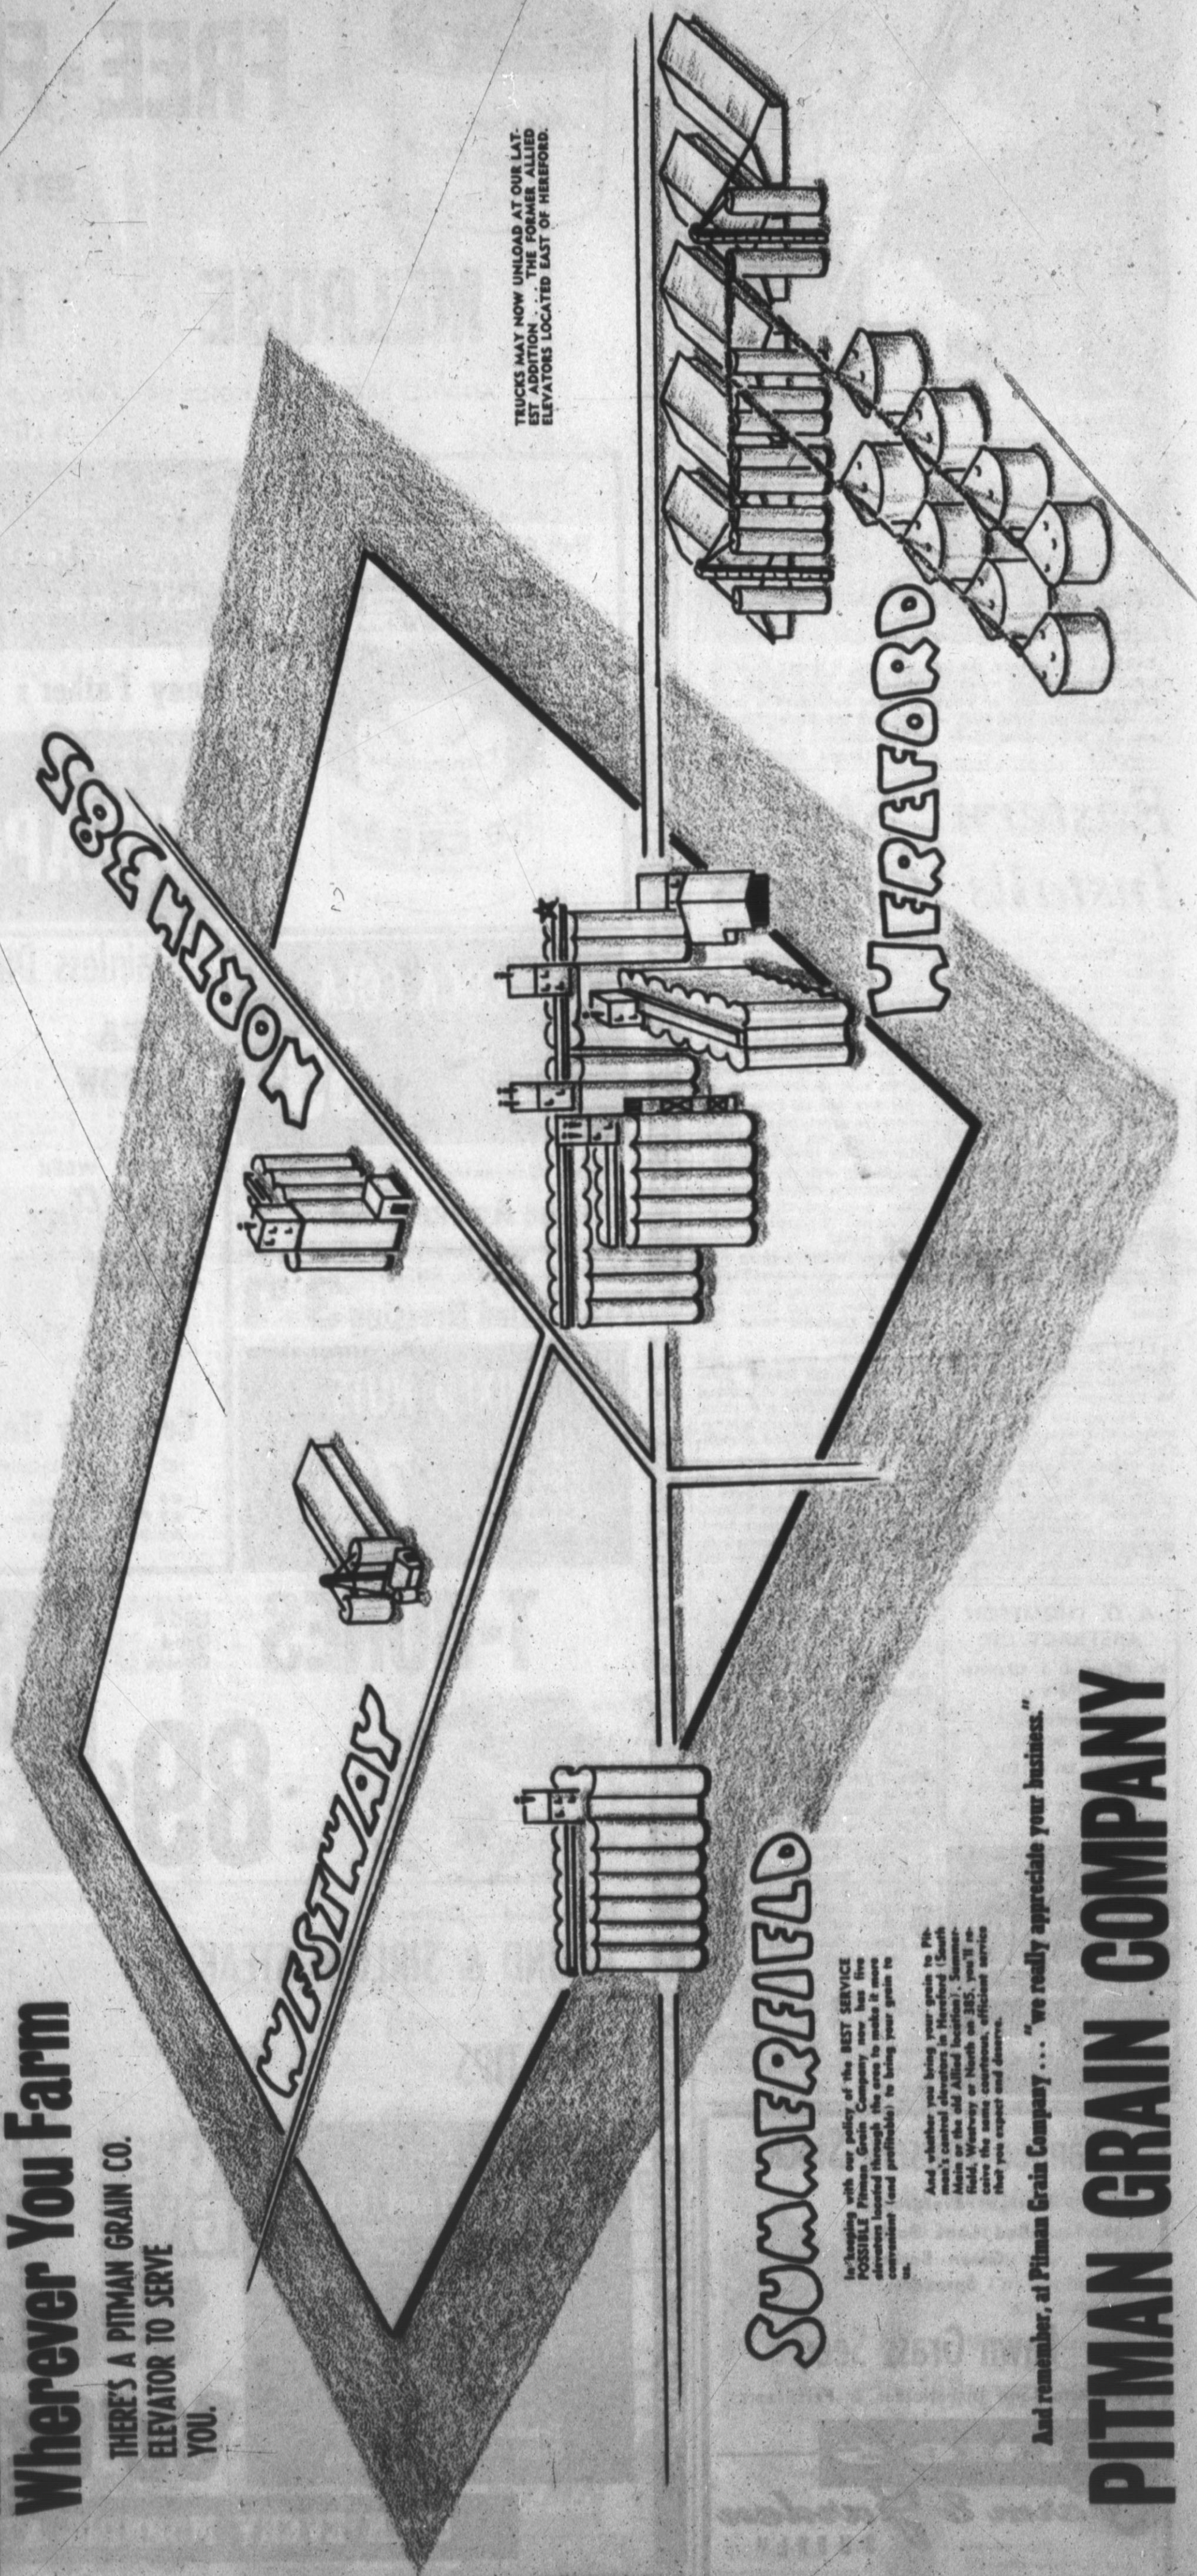

Hostesses for this event are Amarillo City Panhellenic Council, composed of 19 organized sorority alumnae groups of the city.

This will be in no sense a "rush" party. It is simply designed to acquaint girls with sororities and college life. Girls from several area colleges will be there to speak about various aspects of college life and sorority membership announces Mrs. William A. Clarke Jr., Amarillo Panhellenic publicity chairman.

Bobby Kirkland, Miss Head Wed

Bobby Gene Kirkland and his bride, the former Miss Helen Louise Head, left on a wedding trip to Brownwood and surrounding points after their wedding Saturday afternoon, June 6, in Avenue Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Head, Route 1, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirkland, Route 3.

The Rev. Clarence F. Powell officiated at the double ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before an archway of candelabra entwined with orange blossoms and greenery. Baskets of white gladioli marked each side of the altar.

Mrs. J. R. Allison accompanied Miss Ruth Ann Allison's singing group's "I Love Thee," followed by "O Perfect Love." She presented the traditional wedding music and played Dunlaps "Wedding Prayer" as background music for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white wedding satin. The controlled bell skirt was topped by a jacket of re-embroidered lace, with jewel neckline and bracelet sleeves. She wore a single strand of pearls. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white fuchsia carnations.

Her honor attendant was Miss Cynthia Eller, whose gown of pale yellow satin was identical to the bride's styling. Candelighters Vinita Pitts and Kathy Eller wore pale yellow dresses. Serving as best man was Gary Burnett, Billy and Walter Kirkland, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

Mrs. Head, mother of the bride, wore a beige dress of silk shantung with beige accessories and white hat. Mrs. Kirkland, mother of the groom, wore yellow Italian silk with black accessories and white whimsie hat.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church reception hall. The young couple and their parents formed the receiving line, with Miss Kay Kirkland and Miss Sue Kirkland, sisters of the groom, assisting in greeting guests.

Miss Kathy Eller, Miss Vinita Pitts, and Miss Barbara Gholson presided at the serving table. Covered with white lace over yellow satin, the table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, with appointments in crystal and silver. The three-tiered wedding cake carried small garlands of yellow roses and was topped with miniature bride and groom.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece suit of beige and white corded daeron. Her white carnation corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Hereford High School. He is presently employed at West Texas Drilling, Inc.

Gladys Setliff Leads Program For B&PW Club

Miss Gladys Setliff was in charge of the program on Personal Development for Business and Professional Women's Club at their June 1 meeting in the Friendship Room of First National Bank. Emphasis was on pointers for self-improvement.

Miss Lucille Park, president, presided at the business meeting.

Miss Sue James sent refreshments, although she was unable to attend. Assistant hostesses were Marie Sears and Mrs. Ruby Lee Hickman.

Among those present were Mrs. J. K. Baker, Mrs. John N. Jacobsen, Jr., Mrs. Kent Snare, Mrs. C. Ora Cockrell, and Miss Della Stagner, Miss Mary Bourn, Miss Setliff, Miss Park, Mrs. Sears, and Mrs. Hickman.

They will be at home at Route 3, Hereford.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirkland, Jr., and sons, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kirkland, Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones, Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Utley, Buena Park, Calif.; and Mrs. John Eller, Portales, N. M.

Also Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lindsey and daughter, Becky Jo, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hodges, Lubbock; Mrs. Claude Hicks, Adrian; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vinton and daughters.

WTSU GRAD — Dale Oliver Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Carter, 209 Ave. K, received his bachelor of business administration degree in graduation exercises May 24 at West Texas State University. Carter, a 1959 graduate of Hereford High, has been employed for the past four years at American National Bank in Amarillo and is now with Texas Oil Co.'s executive branch. Dale, 23, and his wife, Janice, a teacher in Amarillo schools, have a 1-year-old daughter, Cheryl, and live at 430 Gable, Amarillo.

Miss Higgins Weds In Church Ceremony

Miss Wanda Leone Higgins became the bride of Dwain K. Coody in a Saturday evening ceremony in Temple Baptist Church. Elder W. L. Bolinger of the Primitive Baptist Church, Lubbock, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert LeRoy Higgins, 308 Avenue B. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard K. Coody, Dimmitt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant gown of Chantilly lace and embroidered crystal over tulle. The fitted bodice featured a square neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and rhinestones. The bride's jewelry was a single teardrop pendant.

Mrs. Leslie Sharp, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Loretta Higgins, sister of the bride, and Miss Donna Coody, sister of the groom. They wore street-length dresses of blue peau de soie, styled with bouffant skirts, high midriff, soft cow front neckline tapering into scooped back line.

They carried bouquets of white feathered chrysanthemums.

Flower girl was Mary Coody, sister of the groom. She wore a full skirted dress of blue peau de soie, designed with high midriff and neckline dipping low in back.

Mrs. Albert Ricketts presented traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. LeRoy

Smithers in her solos, "Wedding Prayer" and "Because."

Mrs. Higgins, the bride's mother, chose a blue Irish linen suit with white accessories. Mrs. Coody, the groom's mother, wore a beige dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white chrysanthemums.

The bride and groom and their parents received the guests at the reception in the church fellowship hall. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ray Bolinger, sister of the bride. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mike Schacher, sister of the groom, and Miss Elva Leen Martin.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a white sheath with jacket having three-quarter sleeves trimmed with white fur. Her corsage of white mums was lifted from the bride's bouquet.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School. She has been secretary with the Dawn Co-operative Grain Co. After attending school in Dimmitt, the groom served three years with the U.S. Armed Forces. During the past 18 months he has been stationed in Germany.

The young couple will make their home in Dimmitt.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Neely Richardson, Floydada; Mrs. J. J. Summerall, Hale Center; Mrs. A. J. Moffitt, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Hap Perrin, Post; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Higgins, Earth; and the Rev. W. L. Bolinger, Lubbock.

Three Attend Flower Judges' Zone Meeting

Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr., Mrs. John N. Jacobsen, Jr., and Mrs. A. L. Manjeet attended a special session of North Zone, National Council of Flower Show Judges at Garden Center, Amarillo, Tuesday.

These members of Hereford Garden Club are national judges of flower shows. Each had a responsible role in the Saturday Flower Show of Hereford Garden Club in Community Center, while other national judges passed on the entries here.

At the Amarillo meeting they studied abstract arrangements under the instruction of Mrs. Vera Blackwell Hurlock, who brought the chief lecture. Participating groups of judges brought arrangements that were studied, judged, and criticized.

Another special feature for the zone judges was a demonstrated discussion of horticulture by Mrs. B. C. Elliott, Amarillo. She explained and showed procedures for growing chrysanthemums to produce exhibition blooms. Controlling features were pruning, disbudding, and pinching. This is the month for pinching chrysanthemums, she pointed out, with August to be the month for feeding the plants.

"Chrysanthemums do not like wet feet," she declared, as she warned against overwatering in this dry season.

Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Jacobsen, and Mrs. Manjeet were the national judges of the Annual Flower Show of the Nara Visa, N. M. Garden Club, May 14.

Joe Evans Hosts At Church Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans, 132 Texas, entertained the Ruth and Banner Sunday School Classes of Temple Baptist Church with a supper at Jim Hill Hotel, Monday, June 8.

Those enjoying this informal occasion were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Beulah Dobbins, Mrs. Norma Curtisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindsey, J. L. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simpson, Mrs. Georgia Holliman, and the hosts, the Joe Evans.

Witherspoons Return From Arizona Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Witherspoon, 201 Jackson, returned recently from Scottsdale, Ariz. There they attended Baccalaureate service and the graduation of their granddaughter, Mrs. Jo Ann Hennington, who received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Arizona State University.

The same night Mrs. Hennington's daughter, Suzanne, graduated from grade school.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Witherspoon and son, Neil, Albuquerque, returned to Hereford with the Vern Witherspoons to attend Pioneer Day.

They left for their Albuquerque home the following Sunday.

Drakes Honeymoon In Old Mexico

El Paso and Old Mexico were the honeymoon destinations of John Bob Drake and his bride, the former Miss Diedra Evelyn Thomas. The newlyweds will live at 307-B Avenue I.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas, Jr., Westway. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Drake, 307 Avenue I.

Officiant of the Monday evening ceremony in the First Methodist Church, Hereford, was the Rev. Herschel L. Thurston. He read the double ring ceremony before an altar centering a sunburst of emerald greenery. Resting on short pedestals at either side were Grecian urns filled with yellow gladioli. These were flanked by spiral candelabra topped with votive candles, the standards entwined with greenery and white blossoms.

From the white satin covered kneeling rail, the aisles were marked by votive candles and greenery.

Mrs. John Sims, organist, presented a medley of nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of embroidered silk organza over white silk-faced peau de soie fashioned with Empire waistline and bell skirt. The short sleeves were designed with applique tracery. Her shoulder-length pouf veil of silk illusion was caught to a white organza rose. She wore shorty gloves of French silk and carried a bouquet of feathered white chrysanthemums encircling a cattleya orchid. The bride's jewelry was a single diamond pendant, gift of the groom.

Miss Deborah Thomas was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Don Heddins was matron of honor. Their identical yellow cotton satin sheaths were designed with overskirts of yellow organza. Their headpieces were circles of yellow tulle caught to matching yellow roses. Yellow satin slippers complimented their costume. They wore white gloves and carried yellow gladioli.

Troy Don Moore served as best man, and Joe Shultz was groomsmen. Ushers were Bud Thomas, brother of the bride, Richard Culp, Dennis Hodges, and Don Warrick.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Ward Parlor of the church. Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. Lee Drake and Mrs. Bill Drake, sisters-in-law of the groom; Miss Sandra Thomas, cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Otis Lee.

The bride's table was laid in white linen damask, the sheer net cover having a floor-length skirt ruffle. The centerpiece was an arrangement of four-branched candelabra with white tapers, all encircled by white daisies. Yellow punch in crystal bowl and wedding cake topped with yellow and white roses carried out the bride's colors. Appointments were in silver and crystal.

Judith Morrison, aunt of the bride, registered guests.

For her going away costume, the bride wore a navy blue suit with white dotted swiss blouse and navy accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from the bride's bouquet.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Hereford High School. Drake graduated from Hereford High School in 1962 and attended West Texas State University, Canyon. He is associated with Summerfield Fertilizer Co.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thuet of Post, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. W. W. Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Floyd, aunts of the bride; Jerry and John Johnson, all of Post; Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morrison, Amarillo.

'Games For Trip' Form Subject For Club Meet

"Car Games for a Trip by Car" was Mrs. Tony Hoffman's program topic when North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Clyde Smithers, 200 East Gracey.

"If you plan a long trip with children, you will need something to pass the time away when they become tired," she declared. Her list of games included How Far? (guessing distance of objects ahead and using the speedometer to check); and team games using car licenses or models, animals, schools, churches, or the alphabet, such as capital letters from roadside signs.

Mrs. Hoffman suggested also surprise bags of small toys, chewing gum and penny candies. Story telling included allowing one person to talk until he hesitates or makes an error, when another picks up the thread of the story.

Mrs. O. L. Williams read the poem "Friendship" for opening exercise, and she conducted a game for recreation at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Smithers presided at the business meeting, when the club voted to participate in the American Legion Auxiliary June 25 picnic for Amarillo Veterans Hospital. Mrs. Ira Ott had made the request on behalf of the auxiliary at the last Home Demonstration Council meeting.

The club had the report of the Council meeting given by Mrs. Hoffman. She announced the delegates elected to attend the State THDA meeting in Houston in September are Mrs. Orville Galley, Mrs. Alvis Jolly, and Mrs. A. L. Hollingsworth. Alternates named were Mrs. C. F. Homfeld, Mrs. Clyde Smithers, and Mrs. Ira Scott.

Final club meeting of the year, will be with Mrs. John Gooch for a luncheon June 17. Mrs. Jean Beene will give the program.

Club guests were Mrs. R. L. Campbell and Mrs. Marvin

Kendrick.

Club members present were Mrs. A. A. Hare, Mrs. A. E. Hodges, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. LaFever, Mrs. Leroy Smithers, Mrs. O.C. Williams, Mrs. O. L. Williams, Mrs. J.R. Watson, Miss Roberta Campbell, and the hostess, Mrs. Clyde Smithers.

Hereford Literally 'Rolls Up Carpet' After 7 P. M.

"There just isn't anything to do around here!"

How many times have you heard this statement, especially from the younger generation? More important, have you given it any thought?

Recently we had occasion to come downtown around 7 p.m. and we see what they mean. Hereford is unquestionably the dearest place in the Panhandle, once the stores lock up shop and the people rush to their homes. A few drive-ins, several restaurants, the theatres, bowling alley — and that's about it. Unfortunately, however, very few of these places are located in the downtown area. Take a good look downtown, and you will get a mental picture of what folks mean when they say that a town "rolls up its carpets."

What to do? We don't know. We built a nice swimming pool. We have one of the best community centers in the whole country. We sponsor community sports, and have always stood at the head of the list when it came to general progress. However, the fact still remains: Hereford is a drab, uninteresting place after 7 p.m.

Maybe this is the way we want it. Maybe this is the way it should be. However, we are living in a jet age, filled with people who have come to accept the impossible as routine. A trip to Europe, once big news of a lifetime, now classifies along with the importance folks used to attach to a visit to Palo Duro Canyon. Any local entertainment must always compete with the world's best, which may be had by merely turning the dial on the modern television set — and we were talking with a man the other day who drove all the way to Dallas just because he wanted to eat a special meal at a specific place.

While the older generation generally adjust themselves to conditions, such is not always true with youngsters, who still have a lot of vim and vigor at the end of the day.

Consequently, the entire nation has undergone a tremendous surge of removal of population into cities. And we are inclined to attribute much of this circumstance to the drabness of small-town life after 7 p.m. To say the least, the condition is far from being strictly local. It is even possible that appetites have been whetted to point of being insatiable, and perhaps there is no practical answer to the problem. It is equally probable that many of these people are running into much the same thing after they move to the cities and population centers.

Anyway, the problem does exist, and more especially in the smaller towns of our nation. We doubt if it will solve itself, and we do not think that it is even recognized by most of our population. Nevertheless, it remains with us, and should give folks something to ponder over in those drab, dull hours after 7 p.m.

Baseball Makes Local Comeback

Hereford's 1964 high school baseball team closed the season in a post-school game this week and, although they missed the finals by a narrow margin, they did reflect credit to the entire community by fielding one of the better teams in the Lone Star State.

Of perhaps more importance was the tremendous interest which the squad stimulated here in the game of baseball. Local stands were usually filled during the season, and large delegations followed the boys in their play-off games. All of this is quite a contrast to a few years back when many observers were predicting that baseball, generally accepted as America's national pastime, was on the way out. Today, most sports enthusiasts are noting an upsurge of enthusiasm for baseball on the high school level, and a predicting that the trend will carry on into college sports.

All of these things are good, because baseball is one of the cleaner, less dangerous sports and it is one which develops native ability along with physical fitness. The complete reversal of American thinking on the sport can most likely be attributed to general acceptance and growth of the Little League program which swept the country by storm a few years back. Such at least, has pretty well been the case in Hereford as the Little Leaguers advanced on into high school and from the type of competition we have met, it has likely resulted in the same fashion all over the state. Televised big league games, too, have created much interest in baseball, especially among the women, who are frequently found among the most enthusiastic fans.

Without question, the comeback of baseball should be welcomed with open arms on the American scene. Shorter work weeks, changing interests and other 20th century developments demand entertainment — and baseball is one of the best.

Computers Vs. Average People

A lot of people are getting excited over the forecasting of election results with computers. Chief object centers around the fact that many voters are inclined to "get on the bandwagon" once a trend is established.

Congressman Walter Rogers recently did an extensive article on the subject, but concluded that government interference would possibly conflict with constitutional freedoms. Other politicians, far and wide, are generally inclined to agree.

To us, there is the possibility that there may be no problem at all. In the first place, if our voters are so shallow as the politicians seem to think, we have no right to consider ourselves electors. If we vote with the crowd, rather than for leadership, basic principles, and fundamental honesty — then we are already wasting our time. Frankly, we cannot imagine H. M. Baggarly, the Tulsa liberal, voting for Goldwater under any circumstance — much less than for the mere reason that Goldwater happened to be leading in some given computer forecast — and we think it would work the same with conservatives.

We think that people do, and should, vote on the basis of ability and principles; what's more, we think they will keep right on voting in the same pattern.

At least a similar problem arose back in the early days of political polls. The Literary Digest, once a leading weekly publication, was credited with folding up as the direct and indirect results of erroneous forecasts. We also seem to recall that Harry Truman upset the apple cart with equal vehemence a few years back when the pollsters went completely haywire.

And if the problem is so great as the politicians seem to believe, it has a reverse counterpart in the old days of our country when it was always weeks — and often months — before the average American learned who had been elected president. The Pony Express made the first dent in this situation, and it has been improving ever since.

We feel that the situation will take care of itself, if there really is any problem. Meanwhile, we are still inclined to give the American people credit for having more than a mere ounce of brains and, if we are wrong — if people do vote merely to get on the bandwagon — we cannot see where our elections are honestly serving any practical purpose.

Nugget

With increasing demand for improved packaging and other processing and servicing conveniences, the farmer's share of the food dollar has dropped to about 37c this year, against 47c a decade ago. This trend, too, is not likely to change so long as consumers seek more services and federal programs keep supply and demand from regulating production.

Except for the added taxes it pays to finance 7 billion dollars yearly spent by U.S. Department of Agriculture — no small cost — the public is the beneficiary of food bargains.

That a day of reckoning is sure to come is not likely to keep consumers from enjoying today that for which they must pay more tomorrow.

Rayburn Office Building Is Nearing Completion

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, June 11 (U) — The $100 million Rayburn Office Building now is partially occupied but scores of construction workers still are on hand to put the finishing touches on the mammoth edifice.

Several House subcommittees, including the Government Operations subcommittee headed by Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont, have moved into the structure. These first inhabitants of the newest House office building, named for the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, formerly had office space in the nearby George Washington Inn. The wreckers' iron ball has demolished the old inn which many a congressman called his Washington home. The site soon will be another congressional parking lot.

One of the employees on Brooks' subcommittee is Dave Allred, former Texas newspaperman and a son of the late Texas governor and federal judge, James V. Allred.

He came to Washington several years ago to work for Sen. Ralph Yarborough, served for a while as correspondent here for the Houston Post, then again became a congressional aide. Before coming to the capital he had worked on the Corpus Christi Caller Times and the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

Sam Houston Allred, another of the late governor's sons, has quit as entertainer at a Washington night club. He held the job while studying voice. Allred, an accomplished pianist and vocalist, is to play a leading singing role in "My Fair Lady" at theaters throughout New England this summer.

Olin E. (Tiger) Teague, D. College Station, naturally was the star of the occasion when a portrait of him was unveiled in a recent ceremony in the office of the House Veterans Affairs Committee of which Teague is chairman.

But his cute 21-month-old grandson, Jimmie, almost stole the show. As House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and others finished their speeches lauding his grandfather, little Jimmie sauntered on the platform, clapping his hands.

The portrait, painted by Ralph Chase of Washington, under commission of Texas veterans organizations, will hang in the Committee's hearing room along with those of others who have served as chairman.

Rep. Bob Poage, D-Waco, vice chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has a green thumb.

The back yard of his white brick home, a stone's throw from the Capitol, reflects his interest in the trees and plants he finds both here and abroad.

The yard, similar to those behind other "row" houses in the block, measures 19 feet in width and 60 feet in depth. Part of the lawn is covered with "monkey" grass he obtained in Istanbul years ago. It has a dark blue blade and actually is not a grass, but a lily. Among a dozen or more trees are fig, cherry, peach, catalpa, and pine. Shrubs and flowers include boxwood, rhododendron and azaleas.

Lee Palmer, president of the Outdoor Entertainment Association, announced this week that plans were progressing nicely for the annual celebration here July 2, 3 and 4, but that it would take lots of work and the cooperation of everyone the remaining three weeks to make this one of the best. He reported that a number of beehives have already been donated for the free barbecue July 4 and approximately 18 beehives should be lined up by the end of this week. The crowd for the free barbecue will, in all probability, be even larger than any previous celebration.

A dollar may not go as far as it used to, but what it lacks in distance it makes up in speed. We don't know what they will think of the rest of the nation, but a full bus load of college students from Tokyo, Japan, got the real Texas treatment here last Wednesday night. They stopped off here enroute to Dallas. The hour was close to midnight, but among the first citizens the group stumbled into was Major Bud Duncan, complete with boots, Stetson and booming voice. Bud, never one to miss an opportunity to boost Texas in general and Andrews in particular, towered by two feet over the tallest of the Japanese. Bud was never in better form. He had those people convinced they were in the last stronghold of the old Wild West, and really clinched his case when two deputies walked in the cafe, complete with Stetsons, boots and hoglegs.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm reflects on certain job opportunities in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

For two of the easiest jobs I can think of, I'll nominate public opinion poll taking and long range weather forecasting.

Take public opinion surveys. Out in California last week these experts, after going through their complex soundings, were predicting how the Californians would vote in a presidential preferential election, and they said that considering only the voters who had made up their minds, Rockefeller would beat Goldwater.

This is what I'm talking about. As everybody knows, it was the other way around when the votes were counted, but the public opinion pollsters were left untarnished because they'd already said they weren't predicting how the undecided voter would vote.

On this basis, I can sit here on this Bindweed farm and take a public opinion poll of any place on earth, and can predict for example that Casius Clay will be elected dictator of Cuba, excusing the 99 per cent of the voters who haven't made up their minds yet.

Or take long range weather forecasting. I got hold of two different farm magazines yesterday and one of them said June will be wetter than usual, the other that it'll be drier. It's hard to see how they both can be right.

If I could get a job predicting the weather for both magazines, dry for one and wet for the other, I know I could be right 50 per cent of the time, and that's pretty fair predicting in any league. In half a day, I could draw up predictions for every month in the year for the next 20 years, and any time I can do 20 years' work in half a day, I'm in favor of it. It's even better than taking 20 years to do half a day's work.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Gary Van Stagner

Hereford Boy At Boys State

The American Legion Boys State started Monday as 718 high school boys from throughout the state began registration, Attorney General Waggoner Carr, chairman of the youth program, has announced.

Among those registering was Gary Van Stagner, Hereford, who was sponsored by local American Legion Post.

Upon arrival at the University of Texas Campus, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties — the Longhorn or Pioneer. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party; he attends its conventions, caucuses and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Wednesday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Wednesday evening.

Outstanding speakers scheduled to appear are Department

Commander John E. McKelvey, Electra; Dr. Harry Ransom, Chancellor, The University of Texas; Zolite Steakley, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; American Legion Auxiliary President, Mrs. Harold J. Cooper, Beaumont; National Vice Commander of The American Legion, Harry Wright, Mexico City; Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Texas and Dave Shanks, Austin American Statesman.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 10,406 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Bill Woodford Receives Law Degree At TU

Bill Woodford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Woodford, who was graduated with honors from the University of Texas School of Law May 30, is remaining in Austin to study for the Texas Bar examination to be given June 22-24.

He served as attorney general of the University of Texas Students' Association this past year, and at the end of his year's work with the student court, he received a certificate of award for his outstanding work as defense counsel.

During the autumn semester, Bill was one of six students elected to the "Chancellors", the highest honor a law student can receive. This is an honorary society which exists only at the University of Texas, its purpose to honor and reward by election those law students who, by a combination of consistent scholarship, personality and achievement, have shown themselves most likely to succeed and become a credit to their professions, it was explained.

Dinner Follows Rehearsal For Church Wedding

Miss Diedra Thomas and John Bob Drake, whose marriage was solemnized Monday evening, were honored at rehearsal dinner by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Drake Sunday following the wedding rehearsal in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church.

The dinner was held at Western Wheel Inn with principals of the wedding party and close relatives as guests.

Decorated in the bride's chosen colors of yellow and white, the table was laid in white linen and centered with an arrangement of yellow carnations and white daisies.

Attending the dinner were Miss Thomas and Mr. Drake, the bride and groom; Miss Kathy Boston, Miss Jerre Bea Noland, Miss Brenda Shelton, Miss Sharon Sumner, Miss Deborah Thomas, Troy Don Moore, Joe Shultz, Bud Thomas, Dennis Hodges, Don Warrick, and Richard Culp.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Don Heddings, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Drake, the Rev. Herschel L. Thurston and Mrs. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas, and the hosts, the Herman Drakes.

board of directors presented Bill a bound set of the Texas Law Review, consisting of 41 volumes for his contributions to Law Review. Considered were both the quantity and quality of the work he had done, it was pointed out.

At this program he also was one of 12 students who were presented a "Consul Award" in recognition of distinguished leadership, coupled with outstanding personal service to the law school.

Couple To Marry In Garden Ceremony

Miss Jerre Bea Noland and Joe Shultz are planning an August garden wedding to be held at the Summerfield home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Noland have announced the engagement and wedding plans of their daughter.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Shultz, Country Club Drive.

Both Miss Noland and Shultz are graduates of Hereford High School and have attended South Plains Junior College, Levelland.

DOES Initiate New Members

Mrs. Gladys Casey, Mrs. Bill Huddleston, Mrs. Sylvia Wilson, and Mrs. Gladys Zinn are new members of B.P.O. DOES No. 176 initiated at the Monday evening meeting in Elks Hall.

Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, Hereford Drove President, was assisted in the initiation by members of the Clovis and Amarillo Doves. Mrs. Rosene Evans served as initiation conductor, with Mrs. Bernyce Massey as outer guard.

Mrs. Marge McCullough of Clovis, N. M., Supreme Junior Counsellor, presented an initiation review of "Do's and Don'ts for Members." She gave instruction to new members and reminders to other members. She told of a new Clovis home being built for "unfortunate children" in the Clovis area.

Hereford Drove then voted to give the Coin March for this worthy cause.

Visitors from Amarillo Drove No. 128 were Mrs. Eunice Pool, Mrs. Bobby Johnson, Mrs. Pearl Jones, Mrs. Diz Wallis, and Mrs. Peggy Johnson.

From Clovis Drove No. 108 came Mrs. Marge McCullough, Mrs. Sesella Colson, Mrs. Rosemarie Lower, Mrs. Bea Newman, Mrs. Eunice Cummings, Mrs. Ruth Haas, Mrs. Neoma Summers, Mrs. Kay Adams, and Mrs. Frances Burkett.

Members present included the initiates, Mrs. Betty Wiggins, Mrs. Betty Boggs, Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Ann McCullough, Mrs. Marie Dillard, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Mary Munsen, Mrs. Joyce Pool, and Mrs. Bernyce Massey, Friona.

The club will have its next regular meeting July 13 at Elks Hall.

Wisconsin Rites Planned for Couple

Elim Lutheran Church, Range, Wis., will be the setting of the wedding of Miss Gloria Jean Stream and A/IC Roger Kelly McQuigg, Saturday afternoon, June 27.

Parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stream, Turtle Lake, Wis., have made the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Robert McQuigg, 311 Avenue J, are parents of the prospective bridegroom.

Miss Stream is a 1964 graduate of Turtle Lake High School.

McQuigg is serving with the U.S. Air Force and is now stationed at Goose Bay, Labrador.

U. S. To Promote Livestock Sales

COLLEGE STATION. — An intensive campaign is presently underway to promote the sale of U. S. livestock products, beef and other meats and meat products in Western Europe and in the United Kingdom. The program was actually initiated May 26 when Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, acting on behalf of the entire U. S. livestock and meat industry, signed a cooperative market development agreement with the American Meat Institute.

With the overall objective of developing an expanded export market, this program is being carried out through joint financing by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and U. S. agricultural and trade groups, with USDA's contribution coming from Public Law 480 market development funds.

Countries included in the developmental program are the United Kingdom, West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands, and Spain. Meat supplies are currently lower than normal in each of these countries and prices to consumers are unusually high. Marketing prospects in these countries have been reported as good in the months ahead.

The market development agreement authorizes a wide range of activities on the part of the cooperator and associated U. S. livestock and meat groups. Among them are the following: making market investigations to locate potential markets for U. S. livestock products; providing both U. S. suppliers and foreign buyers with marketing information; arranging visits to the U. S. of teams of potential buyers; conducting U. S. meat exhibits and trade conferences at international trade fairs, specifically in Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 14-23, and Paris, France, Nov. 8-16; and carrying out other related promotions, including distribution of promotional materials abroad and obtaining the cooperation of foreign meat trade and industry interests.

"Today we have an unusual opportunity to get back into the stream of world trade," Freeman commented. "We have the supplies to sell, provided we can get together on prices and other conditions." "The purpose of the present program is to service this good market in such a way that we do get together and sales are made," he added.

Purple Leaves In Sorghum Due To 'Cold' Soils?

By W. F. Bennett, Agronomist

Most grain sorghum in the area is showing purpling in the leaves. This purpling is a typical phosphorus deficiency symptom. However, purpling in grain sorghum plants at this time probably is not due to a phosphorus deficiency.

Instead, it is primarily due to the relatively low soil temperatures we have had, plus the fact that growing conditions have not been too good. Soil temperatures increased very little during May. As soon as we have some good growing weather and soil temperatures increase, the purpling should not be present in newer leaves. Let's hope that we have good growing conditions by the time this gets printed.

If the purpling persists and is still present when grain sorghum is 12 to 16 inches tall, it is an indication that the plant may be deficient in phosphorus. There would still be time to sidedress some 7-21-0 but it will do much less good than if it had been applied earlier.

The purpling in maize or corn

Kershens' Sons And Daughters Gather Here

By Mrs. Merla Kaul

The Andrew Kershens have had all their children "at home" the past week as well as other relatives.

Their daughter Margie, who graduated two weeks ago from Mt. Scholastica High School in Fort Smith, Ark., returned home with them to spend the summer. Sister Mary Faith, Boonville, Mo., came for a two-weeks' vacation here. Kaye, a nurse at Brooks Medical Center in San Antonio, came for a week. Drew, a student at Notre Dame University, spent this week here before leaving for Old Mexico with 17 other students from Notre Dame to work with the CIA, a school organization to help improve conditions of living in Old Mexico. He will spend the summer down there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kershens and sons, Umbarger, and Lois of the home, completed the family "reunion."

Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kershens and family, Albuquerque, N.M., and Sister Mary Clea, sister of Mrs. Kershens, who is administrator of Villa Maria, a home for elderly citizens, in Wichita, Kan.

Mrs. Andrew Kershens took Kaye and Sister Mary Faith to Marienthal and Scott City, Kan. a couple of days last week and they visited the girls' grandmother, Mrs. Teresa Eder. Kaye left Thursday morning to return to her work at San Antonio. Her brother Drew, accompanied her to Austin where he will join his school group to continue on to Mexico.

Sister Mary Faith left Sunday to return to her work in Boonville, Mo.

Connie and Kathy Walker,

plants is due to an accumulation of a red pigment called anthocyanin. This pigment accumulates when the plant cannot convert sugars into other plant compounds. Hence, an accumulation of anthocyanin can occur when plant processes are stopped for any reason.

Any number of factors can be responsible for stopping this metabolic process of converting sugar. Cool nights or cool weather can do it. A shortage of phosphorus is necessary for the conversion to take place. Watering maize down the row can shock the plant and cause the pigment to accumulate.

Hereford, were guests of Carol Turrentine Tuesday. They were interested in the newly established museum at the barn at the Turrentine farm.

Mrs. Joe Wagoner and son, Joe Bob, were visitors in the David Seal home in Childress last weekend. They attended a barbecue sponsored by the Cee Vee Roping Club and also attended the Bible School closing exercises in which Dennis and Vickie Seal participated. Mrs. Seal is a daughter of the Wagoners. She is the former Gail Wagoner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moody, Kellogg, Idaho, have been visiting this week in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer Rudd. They were enroute home after visiting the Bad Lands in South Dakota, points in Arkansas and relatives in Gainsville. Mrs. Moody had not visited here since 1946 and was interested in the many changes that have taken place in this area.

Mrs. Gail Borland and daughters spent last week with Mrs. Borland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitworth, at Junction. The girls, Randa, Renee, Kim, and Kathy, remained for a longer visit with their grandparents. Gail Borland, who has been on tour with his cutting horse is home for a few days.

Mrs. Roland Hairgrove and children spent Wednesday in Friona where they visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U.S. Akens. Mr. Akens is owner of the Piggy Wiggy Store in Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morrison, Amarillo, were visitors last week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison. They left Tuesday to move to Decatur where Ralph will be employed and Mrs. Morrison will care for her brother's children. They attended the wedding of Ralph's niece, Miss Dieder Thomas, Monday night at the First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Douglas and family went to Plainview Wednesday to spend the day in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Douglas, who has been working at the farm here, returned to his home there. Mrs. Douglas, who teaches south of Clayton, N.M., had returned home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas, Dan and Debora, went to El Paso Thursday to attend the Rodeo there. They were joined there by Mr. and Mrs. John Drake who were on their wedding trip to points in that vicinity.

Sgt. and Mrs. Day Ridgeway and children, Martha, Tom, and Mark, who are stationed in San Antonio, were guests last Tuesday and Wednesday in the homes of Mrs. Bess Werner and George Turrentine. Sgt. Day is a nephew of Mrs. Werner and a cousin of George Turrentine. He and his family are on a month's vacation, which they plan to spend touring the western states. Sgt. Day has made the army his career, and after one more year, plans to retire and return to his home town of Jackson, Miss.

Jim Northcutt and his family are visiting this week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Northcutt. Jim has received his discharge from military service and plans to continue his college work at Texas Tech this autumn. He was stationed in Germany most of his service time and married his wife, Inga, while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Axe have moved from their trailer house here at the farm to a home in Hereford. Edwin was ill last week with a throat infection.

Larry Kaul attended an area meeting of Red Barn Chemical Distributors in Clovis Friday night.

Trio's Hitting Leads Latinos To Easy Victory

Timely hitting by Joe Hernandez, Jimmy Collier and Paul Torres, gave the Hereford Latinos a big 12-11 win over the Amarillo Lobos in a hard fought game that went ten complete innings last Sunday.

Norheut started in the mound for Hereford but ran into trouble in the second, an interference put a runner on, the next three batters had consecutive hits, two more walks and that was all for Norheut as Lupe Ramirez took over and the first batter to face him sept a double to left scoring two more runs making the score 5 to 0, Amarillo's favor. The next three batters were retired in order.

At their turn at bat the Latinos scored two runs on hits by Jimmy Collier, Rudy Martinez and Longo Cuellar. In the third Al Salinas and Jake Suarez scored a hit by Goose Thomas, Paul Torres followed with a hard hit line drive over left field fence with Thomas on to make the score 6 to 5, Hereford. Joe Hernandez led off in the fourth with another homer over left field. Salinas scored later in the fourth.

Ramirez allowed one run in the fifth and three more in the seventh on a homer by Dave Sanchez, with two men on bases to tie the ball game at 9-all. Amarillo scored two more runs in the ninth on errors by Salinas, Hernandez, Torres and Martinez.

The Latinos came to bat trailing 11 to 9 in the bottom of the ninth. With two outs and two strikes against Joe Hernandez he clouted his second home run of the day with one man on base, tying up the ball game.

In the tenth inning, Ramirez had trouble as the first batter double, the next one singled. Collier replaced him with runners on third and first. Collier struck out his first opponent, the next batter, Paul Tenorio, a dangerous hitter was intentionally walked to load the bases.

The next batter was struck out for out number two, then Quintero, a pinch-hitter for Amarillo had a sure hit going to shallow left, but Shorty Salinas raced back and dived catching the ball as it was going to fall for a hit and that retired the sides.

In the bottom of the tenth, Thomas grounded out to first. Collier singled and on a hit and run signal, Paul Torres sent the ball against the right center wall scoring Collier to win the ball game 12 to 11.

Collier was the winning pitcher for Hereford. Sal Martinez was charged with the loss for Amarillo.

Hereford pitchers allowed 11 hits, walked six and struck out 15.

Amarillo allowed 22 hits, walked two and struck out five.

The Latinos will host Farwell-Textco Twins here next Sunday in the first game.

The Hereford Rebels host the Friona Tigers for their first game of the season and second of the afternoon.

LP-Gas Safety Clinic Planned For Area Dealers

LP-Gas safety clinic will be June 22, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., in Roney's Restaurant, announced J. B. Burns, president of the Texas Butane Dealers Association. The clinic is for liquified petroleum gas dealers in Hereford and the surrounding area.

LP-Gas dealers who have not been contacted and are interested in attending may obtain details about the clinic from Jimmie Allred of Hereford Butane Co., coordinator of local arrangements.

The Clinic is one of a series sponsored jointly by the Texas Butane Dealers Association and the Texas Railroad Commission in conjunction with Pan American Insurance Co. of Houston. According to advanced information, the clinic will be the most comprehensive and extensive joint safety effort attempted by the industry in Texas.

Instructors for the meeting will be furnished by Gas Equipment Co., William Wallace Co., Pan American Insurance Co., Squibb-Taylor, Inc., Texas Railroad Commission and Texas Department of Public Safety.

Leaflet Gives '64 Oil Facts'

DALLAS — It takes a lot of millions, billions, and trillions to measure the Texas petroleum industry, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, which this week published its annual "64 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas."

The annual leaflet, which rounds up frequently-used statistics about the state's oil and gas operations, included these among the 64 selected this year: Texas has produced 26.7 billion barrels of oil, or 36.3% of U.S. total.

Texas produced 973,097,000 barrels of crude oil in 1963; 35-4% of U.S.

The value of Texas crude oil, natural gas and gas liquids in 1963 was $4.1 billion.

Texas has 18.6 billion barrels of oil reserves — 14.6 billion in crude oil; 4.0 billion from natural gas liquids.

Texas drilling in 1963 totaled about 63 million feet of hole. Texas royalty owners received $450 million from oil and gas production in 1963.

Texas operators spent $714 million drilling in 1963; $262 million lost to dry holes.

Texas had 118 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves at end of 1963 (42.7% of U.S.).

Texas petroleum industry employs some 216,023 persons (about 1 out of every 17 Texas workers); with wages of $1.3 billion annually.

Texas petroleum industry's 1963 tax payments to STATE government were $223 million.

Galveston, Texas, is located on an island connected to the mainland by two causeways.

In 1900 Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio was the largest military establishment in the United States.

Leonardo da Vinci designed the first power loom in 1490, although it never was built.
