Council voids deal for employee insurance

By Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

City council members voted unanimously to pass an ordinance denying the request of Atmos Energy, Mid-Tex Division for an annual Gas Reliability Infrastructure Program (GRIP) rate increase as part of the company's statewide gas utility system. The move, council members said, was in response to Atmos' reluctance to show a real cause for the increase.

"Colorado City City Manager Paul Catoe said the resolution would require the Atmos submit information showing the increase was necessary and reasonable to the Texas Railroad Commission before any hike would be considered. As part of the resolution, the city also authorized the Atmos Cities Steering Committee—a coalition of cities within the Atmos Energy Corp. Mid-Tex distribution area, to hire legal and consulting services and to intervene in any appeal of the city's action.

The council, in the resolution, claims Atmos' request is unreasonable considering the company recently experienced system-wide cost reductions due to the doubling of its nationwide customer base through the acquisition of TXU Gas, and considering Atmos officials has reported to its investors that it had experienced a significant increase in profits related to its Texas divisions.

Commissioners also stated that Atmos is currently charging rates based on the higher expenses and equity-to-debt- ratio of TXU Gas, not the rates that would be justified based on Atmos' lower expenses and equity-to-debt ratio. That, they said, means the company is

MARCHIN' MADNESS

Colorado High School band could end 30-year drought

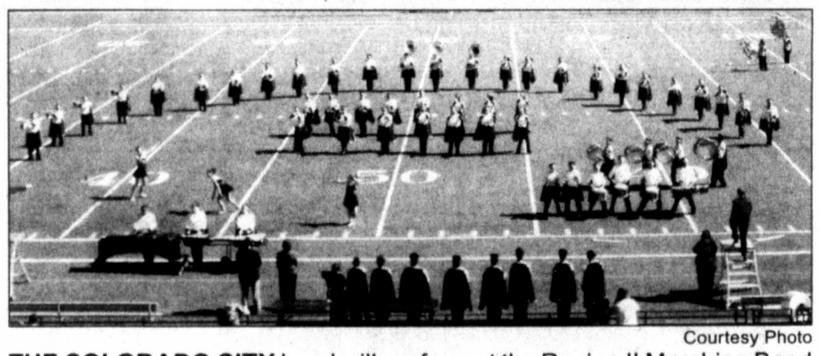

By Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

The last time the Colorado City High School band qualified for the state marching contest, Ronald Reagan had yet to enter the White House, Elvis was still shaking, and the Dallas Cowboys only had one Super Bowl title to their credit.

That could all change this weekend. More than 30 years after their last trip to the state band contest, Colorado City is again within a reach of reaching the band "Promised Land."

"We're very excited right now," said Colorado City Assistant Band Director Misty Hoelscher. "We're really looking forward to this."

The 77-member "Pride of Wolf Country" band is scheduled to join 14 other high school marching bands from throughout the state at the Region II Marching Band Championships in Hurst-Euless-Bedford on Saturday. Teams will compete at Pennington Field throughout the day, with the top three squads advancing to the state contest in San Antonio in November.

Colorado City managed to garner its spot at the Region II contest with a stellar showing this past weekend at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene. The band—one of just eight Class 2A schools at the event--received Division I scores from all three judges and earns its second straight trip to the regional event.

County to unveil its new voting system

By Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

Mitchell County voters will be taking part in a historic event when they travel to the polls on Nov. 8 for the special election. They'll be part of the first-ever optical scan voting process.

"This is the first time we'll have this in Mitchell County," said Mitchell County County Clerk Debby Carlock, noting the new system brings the county into compliance with new federal voting guidelines while also preserving the paper ballot Texas voters have become accustomed to. "We pretty excited about it."

Under the new system, Mitchell County voters will receive a bar-coded paper ballot that they will mark with a special pen to record their choices. In the voting booth, voters should completely darken the designated area adjacent to the name of the candidate or proposition they wish to vote for. Voters will also be able to write-in candidates as they have in the past.

The new system is designed to enable handicapped voters the opportunity to complete a ballot independently. The optical scan ballot makes it possible for the ballots to be counted using the new M650 Optical Scan Tabulator recently purchased by the county with

Carlock said Mitchell County voters who would like to familiarize themselves with the new optical scan voting system can do so at a voting demonstration setup in the courthourse. Voters can become accustomed to the system by utilizing a model by answering simple questions such as "what is your favorite type of car?" or "What is your favorite type of ice cream?"

Other demonstrations are also planned to be held for local clubs, the Wallace Center, Loraine Senior Citizens groups and at the high school.

The new system, which was approved by the Mitchell County Commissioners Court, is the best of the five voting options approved by the federal government.

"I believe this is what is best for our county," said Carlock. "This is the best way we can keep the paper ballots our public seems to like."

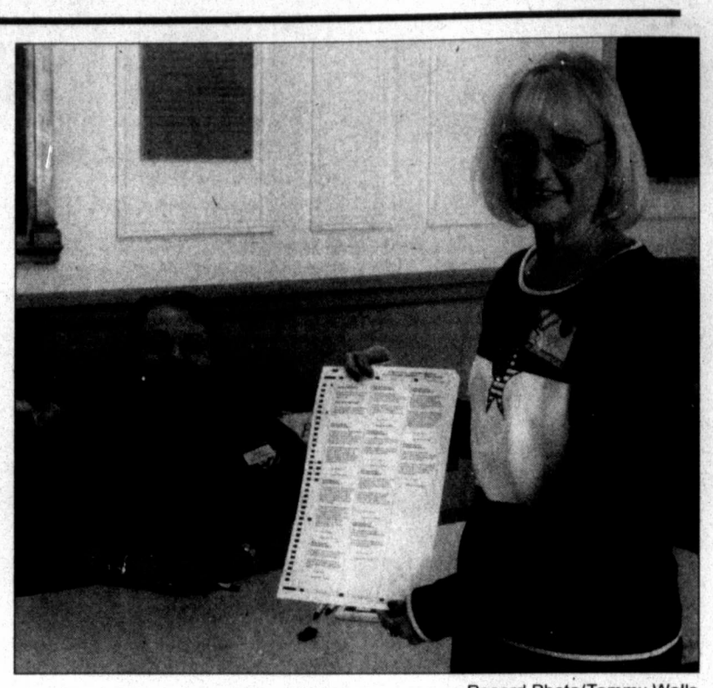

Carlock, too, said she preferred the paper ballot system over those that electronically tabulate voter responses. The paper ballot method leaves a viable audit trail that can be utilized should any questions arise over the validity of an election outcome.

"I really believe we have made the right choice for our residents," she said.

There will be one other slight change in the election process on Nov. 8–although this is one the average voter will not see.

Unlike in previous years, every ballot from the county's six precincts will be tabulated at a central counting site. After the polls close on election night, officials at each polling site will deliver the ballots to the Mitchell County courthouse to be counted by the county's new automated tabulating machine. A public test of the equipment will be held on Nov. 4, at 5:30 p.m., at the courtroom located on the second floor of the courthouse.

over-earning with its excessive rates during a time when Mitchell County residents are about to experience unprecedented increases in the cost of natural gas.

As part of the resolution, Atmos will have to file by Dec. 31, 2005, with the city information sufficient to determine the company's base rate as of June 30, 2005.

In another move Monday, city council members voted to rescind a contract it had agreed to last week with R.H. Administrators of Lubbock for health insurance after questions were raised about the bid process, which did not publically state the city could choose from "lowest bid" or "best value" options. That portion of the process was not published when bid requests were sent out.

"The options would be to go back to using the lowest bid, or say the process we had was flawed," said City Attorney Lois Rockefeller, noting the city's current insurance policy through R.H. Administrators expires on Nov. 1. "You always have the option to reject all bids and then decide what to do from there."

The council agreed, saying rejecting all bids was the right thing to do.

"I think we tried to rush into something too fast," said Bob McNeal. "At this point, I think we should enter into an interlocal agreement with TML (Texas Municipal League) and come back in a year and look at the situation again."

With the rejection of the bids for insurance, council members agreed to enter into an agreement with the Texas Municipal League for insurance services.

In other actions. The council agreed to authorize a city official to sign off on grant applications for the housing authority.

Under new federal laws, the CCHA must undergo an environmental review to receive 2005 capital grant funding. The city will administer the paper work.

City to accept nominations for vacant council seat

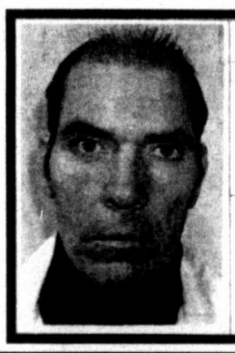

The Colorado City City Council is looking for a few good candidates to fill a vacant seat on the city's governing body.

According to city manager Paul Catoe, the city would be accepting applications from individuals who would be interested in serving the remaining term of former District 6 councilwoman Georgiana M. Porter.

Porter submitted her resignation from the council for personal reasons on Oct. 14.

Individuals interested in applying for the position should contact city hall to determine if they live in the proper district to hold the position. Council members were also asked to submit the names of possible candidates.

Mayor Jim Baum said he hopes a new council member could have a pool of candidates by the middle of November.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

One of the most important parts of National Business Women's Week is recognizing outstanding working women in our community. I was pleased to see three of the ten women recognized this year were on staff at Mitchell County Hospital, Joan Merket, Terri Munoz and Karen Holman. Each was nominated by a different BPW member, for a different reason, but all of them personify the professional, compassionate service we are privileged to have in our local hospital.

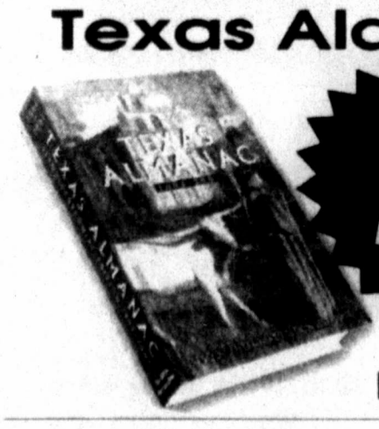

Two other staff members, Linda Mize and Kristi Hanley, presented an educational program on cancer awareness in a very competent and easily understood format.

I am proud of our hospital, the staff, the care they give and the work they do for us. Everyone in Mitchell County should give them a special thank you.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

Robert E. Howard was a literary giant

By Tumbleweed Smith

When I spoke at the Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce banquet last month, some friends told me if I came early, I could tour the Robert E. Howard house. I had heard of Robert E. Howard only as the creator of Conan the Barbarian. I had no idea of his significance or influence in the world of supernatural and fantasy literature.

Robert E. Howard grew up in Cross Plains and sold his first story to a pulp magazine when he was 17 years old. Soon he was making a penny a word and turning out enough stories to be making more money than anyone else in Cross Plains. He was earning more than his father, who was a doctor.

He wrote westerns, boxing stories and poetry, but what he loved most was to write about the fantasy world he created in his mind. Maps in the Howard house show his imaginary empire, complete with borders, rivers, mountains and forests. They all had intriguing, almost biblical, names.

He wrote in a small room adjoining his mother's bedroom. His sparse quarters had a table, typewriter and a bed. He stayed up all hours typing his stories and reading them aloud. When neighbors complained, Robert's mother told them to be quiet, that her son was working.

Robert was extremely close to his mother. When she was stricken with pneumonia and given just a day to live, Robert went to his car and put a bullet through his brain. He died in 1936 at the age of 30.

His books now sell for thousands of dollars. They are printed in 16 countries. Fans from all over the world go to Cross Plains every June for Barbarian Days, an event that celebrates the life and work of the creative genius.

The house where Robert grew up became a rent house. Residents of the house got tired of people standing across the street taking pictures of it and wanting to come inside. When the house went on the market, a local group called Project Pride was formed to buy it and turn it into a museum. Manuscripts of some of Howard's writings are on display. Era Lee Hanke took us through the house. She says during Barbarian Days people want to stand Robert's room and touch the doorknobs and other things that he touched. They want to stand in the backyard and have their picture made.

Arnold Swarzenegger got famous after making the movie, CONAN. Rene Zellweger made her screen debut in a movie called THE WHOLE WIDE WORLD, a movie about Robert's romance with a schoolteacher.

The first book collection of Howard's work was published in 1935 in Great Britain. The first American collection of his stories was published in 1946. His writings reached a wider audience in the 60's after J.R.R. Tolkien's THE HOBBIT and FELLOWSHIP FO THE RING appeared in paperback. Howard's fiction is now a multi-million dollar business, with readers all over the world.

OFF THE BEATEN PATH...
By TOMMY WELLS
EDITOR

There aren't many places where you can go to find the answers to problems that have been plaguing the world since time began. In fact, the truth is there may be just one spot on the planet where every answer is available.

Believe it or not, you don't have to drive far to find it because the "Answer Spot" is right here in Mitchell County. Just drop in at the beauty shop and Lenore will fill you in on the problem, its ramifications on society and a cure-all while she whittles away at someone's scalp. And get this, she won't even ask for an increase in taxes in order to tell you the answer is her mother.

I know you're sitting there wondering how I came to this conclusion. Well, I witnessed it in person last week.

Having just arrived in Colorado City from our home in Nome, Alaska, my wife insisted I have some of my winter ear protection shorn away before I venture in to begin my new position here with the Record. Being the great husband that I am, I dropped in to Lenore's and was immediately ushered into a chair.

Okay ... okay, I'll admit it, I only went in for the haircut because I'm afraid of my wife. You would be too if she threatened to pull a Lorena Bobbitt on you if you ever mention her name in the paper for any reason.

Sometimes you just have to get your haircut.

Anyway, as I was saying, my visit to Lenore's was a pretty amazing experience. At about the same time Amy Wooddell began circling my head faster than the speed of light with a pair of scissors, a water bottle, an apron that also worked very well as a strangling device and a few strips of duct tape, Lenore began talking.

I know I'm not telling any of you old-time Mitchell County residents anything new, but Lenore can talk the ears off a moose at 100 yards.

After about an hour, Amy had managed to cut her way through enough of my hair to determine I actually had ears—and therefore might actually be human--and Lenore and her friend JoAnne had solved almost every major situation on the planet – except for the Jimmy Hoffa and John F. Kennedy mysteries ... which I am fairly sure they solved after I left.

Really, what kind of information can a hair stylist offer? I'm telling you, they know everything ... including some stuff that would make Albert Einstein's head hurt and Dr. Ruth blush.

Teen dating? Lenore knows the answer.

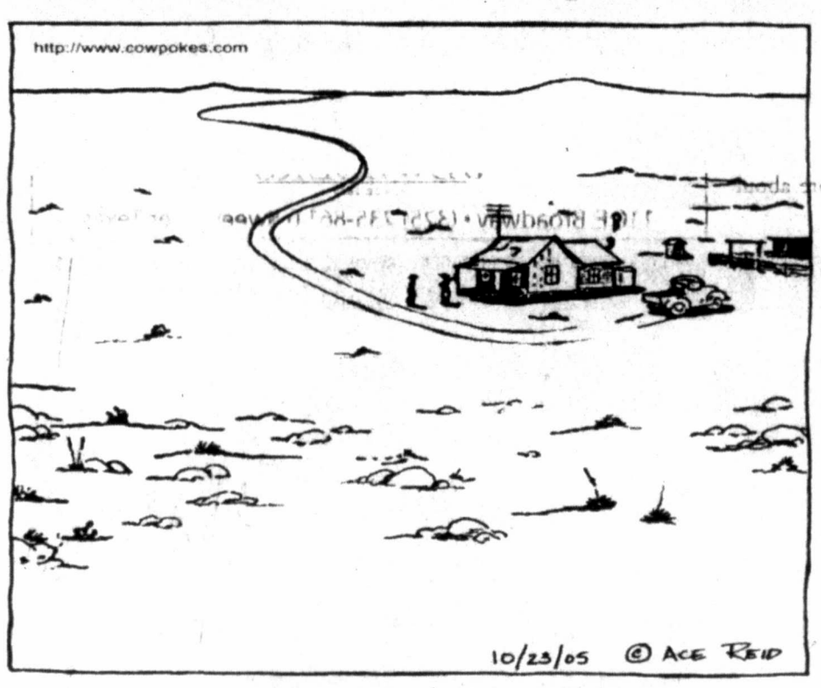

Ironically, the answer to all the three examples above started almost exactly the same ... "My momma would have ..."

As I understand, Lenore's mother was quite the motivator when Lenore was younger. She had several traits that were made famous in the movie "The Godfather." Lenore didn't say her mother was mean, but I'm fairly certain she did refer to her as "Don Momma" a time or two ... and that she ranks somewhere above George Foreman on the list of pugilists.

The amazing thing about the whole encounter is that when I left Lenore's place, I was fairly certain we Americans have elected the wrong person into the White House.

SOCIETY NEWS

Enjoy Halloween with these safety tips

Halloween is an exciting time of year for kids, and to help ensure they have a safe holiday, here are some tips from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP). Please feel free to excerpt these tips or use them in their entirety for any print or broadcast story, with acknowledgment of source.

ALL DRESSED UP:

•Plan costumes that are bright and reflective. Make sure that shoes fit well and that costumes are short enough to prevent tripping, entanglement or contact with flame.

•Consider adding reflective tape or striping to costumes and Trick-or-Treat bags for greater visibility.

•Because masks can limit or block eyesight, consider non-toxic makeup and decorative hats as safer alternatives. Hats should fit properly to prevent them from sliding over eyes.

•When shopping for costumes, wigs and accessories look for and purchase those with a label clearly indicating they are flame resistant.

•If a sword, cane, or stick is a part of your child's costume, make sure it is not sharp or too long. A child may be easily hurt by these accessories if he stumbles or trips.

•Teach children how to call 9-1-1 (or their local emergency number) if they have an emergency or become lost.

CARVING A NICHE:

HOME SAFE HOME:

•To keep homes safe for visiting trick-or-treaters, parents should remove from the porch and front yard anything a child could trip over such as garden hoses, toys, bikes and lawn decorations.

•Wet leaves should be swept from sidewalks and steps.

•Restrain pets so they do not inadvertently jump on or bite a trick-or-treater.

ON THE TRICK-OR-TREAT TRAIL:

•If your older children are going alone, plan and review the route that is acceptable to you. Agree on a specific time when they should return home.

•Remind Trick-or Treaters:
· Stay in a group and communicate where they will be going.
· Carry a mobile phone for quick communication.
· Never cut across yards or use alleys.
· Only cross the street as a group in established crosswalks (as recognized by local custom).
· Don't assume the right of way. Motorists may have trouble seeing Trick-or-Treaters. Just because one car stops, doesn't mean others will!
· Law enforcement authorities should be notified immediately of any suspicious or unlawful activity.

HEALTHY HALLOWEEN:

•A good meal prior to parties and trick-or-treating will discourage youngsters from filling up on Halloween treats.

•Consider purchasing non-food treats for those who visit your home, such as coloring books or pens and pencils.

•Wait until children are home to sort and check treats. Though tampering is rare, a responsible adult should closely examine all treats and throw away any spoiled, unwrapped or suspicious items.

Local group sponsoring upcoming blood drive

The Mitchell County chapter of the Texas Association of Healthcare Volunteers, formerly known as the Pink Ladies, are sponsoring a blood drive at the Civic Center on Nov. 2nd. To make blood donation more convenient for local residents, the drive will begin at 2:30 and last until 6:30 p.m. It will be conducted by United Blood Services of San Angelo.

Although everyone is encouraged to donate blood, there are some qualifications that must be met in order to be a donor. Donors must be 17 years old or older and weigh at least 110 pounds. Parental permission is required for minors. They must show identification containing legal name and date of birth, social security number, United Blood Services assigned donor number or photo ID. A complete list of medications being taken should also accompany identification.

Certain circumstances place restrictions on donating blood. Some restrictions are as follows:

- Have cold or flu symptoms or do not feel well on the day of donation.
- Have taken oral antibiotics in the last three days.
- Have had hepatitis after the age of 11 years.
- Have had close contact with a person who has clinical hepatitis within the past 12 months.
- Have a history of cancer in the past year (except some skin or in situ cancers).
- Have had a tattoo, ear or skin piercing, acupuncture, accidental needle stick or come in contact with someone else's blood in the past 12 months. Ear or skin piercing and acupuncture procedures performed using single use, sterile or properly heat sterilized equipment are acceptable.
- Have received a blood transfusion in the last 12 months.
- Have had malaria within the last three years or traveled to a malaria risk area within the last 12 months.
- Are or have been pregnant in the past 6 weeks.
- Have been treated for syphilis or gonorrhea in the past 12 months.
- Have used a needle to inject nonprescription drugs (including steroids).
- Are at risk for HIV exposure, the virus which causes AIDS.

Approximately 4 million people need blood every year – that's about one patient every 12 seconds.

According to Ernestine O'Dell, healthcare volunteer in Colorado City, the victims of recent hurricanes Katrina and Rita have been and are continuing to be in need of blood. She also reported that United Blood Services supplies blood to the Mitchell County Hospital. They are the only blood provider in this area.

When people think of the need for blood, they generally think of emergencies, but for thousands of American it's a way of life. For example, people who suffer from sickle cell anemia, cancer, heart disease, leukemia or other major illnesses need blood on a regular basis.

If you are an eligible blood donor, come out and donate on Nov. 2nd. One donation can help two to three patients.

Veteran bricks for memorial at hospital currently on sale

Bricks for the proposed Veteran Brick Memorial at Mitchell County Hospital are now on sale.

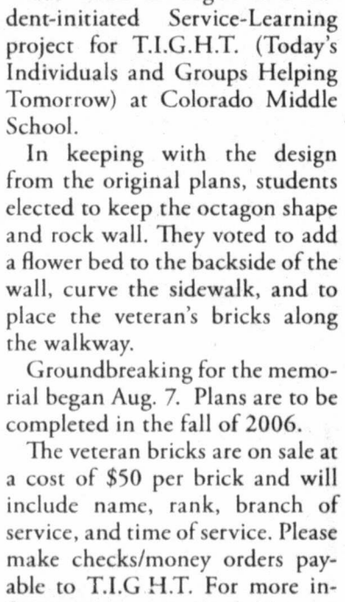

The memorial began as a student-initiated Service-Learning project for T.I.G.H.T. (Today's Individuals and Groups Helping Tomorrow) at Colorado Middle School.

In keeping with the design from the original plans, students elected to keep the octagon shape and rock wall. They voted to add a flower bed to the backside of the wall, curve the sidewalk, and to place the veteran's bricks along the walkway.

Groundbreaking for the memorial began Aug. 7. Plans are to be completed in the fall of 2006.

The veteran bricks are on sale at a cost of $50 per brick and will include name, rank, branch of service, and time of service. Please make checks/money orders payable to T.I.G.H.T. For more information, contact Gayle Younger at 325-728-2673 or Lorena Turnbow at 325-728-1055

If you would like to make a donation to this worthy project, please see the order form on this page.

HUTCHINSON ELEMENTARY TREATED students reaching 25% of their AR goal to a trip to Lake Colorado City State Park last week. Students enjoyed some information programs by park rangers as well as fishing.

Lake day is huge success

On Oct. 21, over 100 students from Hutchinson Elementary traveled to Lake Colorado City State Park for a day of fun and education. In order to qualify for the trip, the students had to reach 25% of their Accelerated Reading goal. While at the lake, students participated in several activities.

Dewayne Wright, state park ranger, gave the students a nature talk, conducted an animal Olympics and took the students on a nature hike. Darla Turner and Carla Merket, Hutchinson paraprofessionals, assisted Wright with the activities.

Game warden Randy Bullard and eight other game wardens from the surrounding counties taught the students how to fish and then assisted them with fishing. Altogether the students caught more than 180 fish and one student caught himself.

Park Ranger Tracy Ferguson and Woody Anderson gave students a ride on pontoon boats. Robert and Janie Henderson brought over their jet skis, and Randy Bullard talked about boat safety. Mrs. Jones and Coach A took a ride on the jet skis until Mrs. Jones threw Coach A off! Coach A demonstrated how to swim back to shore.

The students had a picnic, played four-square and hung out with their friends. Teachers who helped with the event were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Free, Mrs. Godina, Mrs. Matlock, Mrs. Upshaw, Mrs. Gainey and Mr. Hardeman. Paraprofessionals helping were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Gaona, Mrs. Flores, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Merket. Leola Anderson came and took pictures for the yearbook and newspaper. Coach A had the most fun of all.

MEMBERS OF THE WOLVES FOOTBALL TEAM celebrate their 54-12 win over the Stamford Bulldogs last Friday night to clinch their 12th post-season playoff in the past 13 years. The Wolves travel to Stanton this Friday night looking for district win number 4.

Wolves dominate Stamford

By Carl Graham
Colorado City Record Sports

On the Wolves' first possession Brik McGuffin, starting his first football game at quarterback since his injury against Merkel, threw a short pass to wide receiver Frankie Arguijo who found running room enroute to a 73-yard touchdown. Jake Marsh added the conversion to put the Wolves up 7-0 just a little more than a minute into the game.

The barrage continued as the Wolves scored four more touchdowns in the last five and a half minutes of the opening quarter to take a commanding 34-0 lead.

Chris Martinez scored the Wolves' second touchdown on a two-yard run before Arguijo came back to score on a three-yard touchdown reception that put the Wolves up 21-0.

Martinez scored again with a minute and a half left in the quarter on a 19-yard run, but this time the Marsh PAT failed to leave the Wolves up 27-0.

Reserve defensive end Cody Hubbard got in on the scoring parade when he picked up a fumble by Stamford on the ensuing kickoff, taking it all the way for a touchdown. The PAT by Marsh was good to put the Wolves up by a score of 34-0 at the end of the first quarter.

At that point head coach Frank Johnson said that he was able to breathe a little easier.

"I think I began to relax a little at that point," chuckled Johnson. "It seemed like everything that could go wrong went wrong for them. I thought our defense played an outstanding game, and our offense stepped it up a notch. We just need to continue to improve with each week, and stay focused on our goal of winning a district championship."

After a three-yard touchdown run by Martinez with 5:30 left to go in the first half, the Bulldogs got on the scoreboard. Dietrick Mays ran the ensuing kickoff back 76 yards for Stamford's first touchdown, cutting the Wolves' lead to 41-6.

Yancy Burnett intercepted a McGuffin pass with 1:28 left to go in the first half and returned it 46 yards for the Bulldogs second touchdown of the night. The PAT once again failed, leaving the Wolves up 41-12 at the end of the first half.

The Wolves added another Martinez touchdown run in the third quarter on a three-yard score, but Marsh failed in his conversion attempt to leave the Wolves up 47-12.

Tim Atkins closed out the Wolves' scoring with 4:04 left in the third quarter when he pushed his way into the end zone from four yards out. Marsh converted the extra point attempt to put the Wolves up 54-12 which stood up as the final.

McGuffin ended the night completing 11 of 22 passes for 221 yards, and two touchdown passes. Frankie Arguijo was his favorite target as he gathered in three passes for 97 yards, and two touchdowns. Tony Salazar continued his streak by catching three passes for 61 yards.

Martinez was the leading rusher with 90 yards on 21 carries, scoring three touchdowns.

By virtue of the win, the Wolves have clinched their 11th post-season playoff spot in the past 12 years.

This Friday night the Wolves travel to Stanton to do battle with the Buffaloes. Stanton still has a shot at a playoff spot as they are tied for third with Coahoma and Hawley who are all sporting a district mark of 1-2.

Wolves go on the road looking for fourth win

By Carl Graham
Colorado City Record Sports

The Colorado Wolves travel west on Interstate 20 Friday night looking for their fourth district win in a row when they tangle with the Stanton Buffaloes.

The former powerhouse Buffaloes have been down on their luck in recent years after a state championship in 1997, and a semi-final run in 2000 when they lost to state champion Celina.

Second-year head coach Lee McCown posted a record of 5-6 last season, 4-1 in district. The Buffs lost in the first round of the playoffs to Coleman by a score of 21-7.

The Buffaloes lost their all-district quarterback from a year ago when Michael Washington, a 6-3, 200 pound athlete, transferred to Midland Greenwood. They also lost all-district selection Bobby Gutierrez, a running back and defensive end last year.

The Buffaloes still return some good athletes, however, with all-district selections Matthew Ruiz, a first-team selection at defensive back; offensive lineman Marcus Arguello, also a first-team selection, and Sloan Kelly, a 5-10, 210 pound linebacker/fullback. Ruiz caught 16 passes for 364 yards as well as scoring four touchdowns last year. Angel Verasigui, a linebacker, was credited with 116 tackles last year.

"Stanton runs primarily out of the power I," said head Wolves coach Frank Johnson. "They change up quite often, though, to keep teams guessing. On defense they use a 5-2 for the most part, but again, they mix things up on you a lot."

Lady Wolves fall to Denver City, take second in district

By Carl Graham
Colorado City Record Sports

The Colorado City Lady Wolves took on powerful Denver City Tuesday night but lost in three games to the No. 10-ranked Lady Mustangs. Despite the loss, the girls have to get ready to play either the Sanford-Fritch Lady Eagles or Amarillo Bushland in the first round of the state volleyball playoffs.

It was unknown at press time which team the Lady Wolves will face, but head volleyball coach Anita Graham said it would probably be played in Lubbock either next Monday or Tuesday night.

"We played better than the scores indicated," said Graham. "Denver City is playing their best volleyball. They are the best team in the South Plains area right now."

Last Saturday, Daniell Arispe, the only senior on the team, was presented with a bouquet of roses by the team at her last game at home. The team defeated Friona 24-13, 25-18, and 25-16.

Against Shallowater on Oct. 18, the girls won three games by the score of 25-23, 25-21, and 25-19.

The Lady Wolves ended the regular season with a 17-17 record and a 6-2 record in District 3-2A action.

Ronnie Conners and Ray Ellis also fished and both won prizes in the drawing that was held after the tournament. Ronnie won a $75.00 check for the last name drawn.

Three guests of the Colorado City Bass Club fished and fared well. Rodney Merket, son of Bo Merket, won a tackle box in the drawing after the tournament, Rusty McLen, guest of Sam Huffman placed 42nd in the tournament and won a new fishing rod. Jeff Ellis, son of Ray Ellis, was 47th and won a new Berkely fishing rod.

Locally Bo Merket placed first and Sam Huffamn, second for the Colorado Bass standings for the October tournament. The next tournament will be held in November and will take place on Lake Trammel south of Sweetwater.

CMS football wrap-up

7th wins, 8th loses against Stamford

The Colorado Middle School 7th grade football squad ended up in a tie with Stamford last Thursday with the score knotted at 12-12.

J.C. Johnson continued his running prowess with a 60-yard touchdown run. Later he would score on a 15-yard touchdown run.

The 8th grade Wolves went down by a score of 30-20 to Stamford. Standouts were Jesse Guerra, Tyler Higgins, and Jamarcus Denson.

CMS teams play Coahoma, Hawley

J.C. Johnson

The Colorado Middle School 7th grade football team defeated the Hawley Bearcats 18-7 in action played on Oct. 13. J.C. Johnson scored on runs of 64, 70, and 55 yards, accumulating 251 yards on only 10 carries for the Wolves.

All three extra-point attempts failed.

Nick Reyna gained 22 yards on eight carries.

The 8th grade lost their game to Hawley by a score of 33-30.

Jesse Guerra completed five of twelve passes for 175 yards, and three touchdowns.

Guerra completed touchdown passes to Tyler Higgins for 20 yards and to Jamarcus Denson for 74 and 70 yards out.

On October 6th the CMS teams both lost to Coahoma with the 7th losing by a score of 12-8 and the 8th grade lost 8-0.

No. 4 Highland speeds by Loraine, 50-0

The Highland Hornets scored early and often in the first quarter of play Friday night at Johnson Field, scoring four touchdowns to give the Hornets an early 28-0 lead after one period.

The Hornets added two more touchdowns in the second quarter to coast to a 44-0 first half lead.

A three-yard touchdown run by Highland early in the third quarter ended the game by the 45-point mercy rule in six-man football.

The Bulldogs were held to minus 27 yards on 26 carries while Highland ran up 162 yards on 19 carries. Marcus Williams had 10 yards on four carries to lead the Bulldogs.

Highland, ranked no. four in the state, will play Borden County this Friday with the District 7 championship on the line for both teams. Both are sporting 3-0 district records going into the contest.

JV teams lose at home

That touchdown, however, would be the last for the Wolves until the final quarter as Forsan scored five unanswered times to run up a 35-6 lead. Garza scored Colorado City's next TD on a seven-yard touchdown run to cut the lead to 35-12.

"We didn't lose due to a lack of effort on these kids part," said Coach Danny Keeton. "We played hard, but couldn't get anything going offensively."

In the JV Black contest, the Wolves got behind 16-0 before making a huge comeback in the final period that came up just short.

With 1:24 left in the contest White found an open Tanner Borcik in the end zone, hitting him with a four-yard touchdown pass. Once again the conversion run failed, leaving the Wolves down 16-12. Borcik, who didn't play any offensive downs in the first half, caught five passes in the final drive that cut the Bulldogs' lead to four points.

An onside kick attempt did not materialize as the Bulldogs ran out the remaining time to claim the 16-12 win.

"We played them very tough," said Coach Tony Cavazos. "We came on strong in the second quarter, but it was too little, too late."

Speaking of Sports...

By Carl Graham

Well, Texas Tech fans all over the country had to eat a little crow this week. The Longhorns showed they were the superior team. Hey, it could have been us "tea sippers" eating crow, and I don't do crow, quail, dove, or any other bird except chicken.

It seems the Dallas Cowboys can come up with more ways to lose a game than anyone else. Just when you think they have a game sewn up, "pop goes the weasel."

The Houston Astros head back to Houston down two games to none when it should be tied at a game each. There is another team that has learned to perfect losing when it looks like they have a win sewn up. I am hoping they can sweep the three game series at Houston so they will only need to win one when they return to Chicago.

Our Wolves continue to play great football, improving each week which is what you want this time of the season. It is looking like an Early Longhorn-Colorado Wolves battle in the bi-district round if things play out the way they should. We hope that to be the case anyway.

Correction

In the Coahoma and Hawley football stories credit was given to Chris Martinez for the first touchdown in the Coahoma game and the first touchdown in the Hawley game. Credit should have been given to Roland Rivera.

Rivera scored on a 57-yard run against Coahoma, and on a 29-yard run against Hawley.

LORAINE NEWS

GOING TO THE DOGS NO MORE... The City of Loraine has hired a dogcatcher to combat the problem of dogs running at large. Lillian Grissam works a few days a week helping the city keep stray dogs at bay. Pet owners in Loraine are now required to register pets with the city.

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings from Loraine and a happy Halloween to you. May you have all treats and no tricks.

***

Ladies of the First Baptist Church are looking forward to the new Beth Moore study. It will begin Nov. 14th at 6:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Annex Building. All ladies are welcome.

A homecoming parade will take place Nov. 3rd in the afternoon and senior citizens are hoping to enter a float this year.

Plans are not finalized as yet. Call the center if you like to get involved, 737-2711.

Betty Chandler had her friend, Laura Hardaway from Irving visiting with her, and the two of them had lots of fun going out to eat and shopping in Snyder and Sweetwater.

They really had a good time just sitting out on the porch talking girl talk. Betty really enjoyed Laura's visit and Laura enjoyed the quietness of Loraine, since she came from the Metroplex.

It's hard to believe ginning time has rolled around again. In speaking with Pam Chavez Monday, I learned that Mitchell County Gin was in operation Monday afternoon, Oct. 24th.

Viva bumper crops to all the farmers.

***

Millie Rose attended church at Mount Olive in Snyder last Sunday. The sermon was a special message for Women's Day. The regular minister at Mt. Olive is Robert Sweet, but for this program a lady pastor, Rev. Nicky, spoke. They also had a gospel singing and lunch was served following the message. Visiting with Millie Rose Saturday was her son, Sylvester Rose and his wife, Virginia.

***

Jeff Wooddell has purchased the building where the late Jasper Doyle worked for many years. He plans to ready the interior for a barbeque shop. He is accumulating his equipment now but does not have a specific opening date as yet.

Good luck to Jeff.

Homecoming is drawing near and we hope a lot of exes and friends will be able to attend the reunion. Some may have to save up for gasoline this year.

The community looks good. I hope people coming back to the old hometown notice and appreciate the fact that several people have worked hard to spruce up the town of the Bulldogs. Rah! Rah! Rah!

Insurance adjusters have finished assessing the damage to the Taylor-Witta Apartment Complex after a wind storm damaged the roof about two weeks ago.

It will be re-roofed in the near future.

***

We have concerns for Juanice Butler. She is residing at Valley Fair Lodge as most of you know.

Kennie Sue Irwin is staying with her mother much of the time and other family members as well. Our prayers go out to all.

On Wed., Oct. 19th, her sons Wayne and Zack White, along with their wives, Gayla and Lee of Breckenridge paid her a surprise visit and took her to the Sportsman's Club for lunch.

Then on Sat., Oct. 22nd, granddaughters, Cindy Tribble, Becky, Opal and Chelsea and great-grandkids, Addison, Joey, Skyler and a friend, Rita, came and they all went to Sweetwater for Mexican food. Evelyn received several nice gifts and flowers.

***

Doris Peck of Granbury was here for a few days last week visiting her sister, Iva Armstrong.

***

Billie Powell stopped by for a short visit last Monday morning, and she said she was very busy with daily life and taking care of critters, but it does keep her out of the pool hall.

***

Rev. Keifer Cauble and Aubrey Nell returned home after a week's hiatus. They visited with their daughter, Lois Ann and family in Nashville, Tennessee.

They were back in church last Sunday.

Paula Munoz was in the Dallas area recently; spending time with her two daughters, Eva Perry of Arlington and Gary and Mary Thomas of Plano.

Eva's three-year-old granddaughter, Victoria Calderon, spent three days in Plano while Eva was there. Victoria wanted to bake a carrot cake, her daddy's favorite, so she packed her apron for the trip. Her daddy loved it.

Paula enjoyed the visiting and shopping. On Saturday she and her daughters, Mary and Victoria attended the baby shower for Tony and Olivia Alvarez in Arlington.

Later they visited in the home of Art DeLoera and family where a birthday party was being held for Tony. On Sunday, Paula's two grandsons, Christopher and Nicholas came over to help their grandma cook enchiladas, beans and rice.

Paula enjoyed everything. She says she loves to visit but is always happy to return to Loraine.

City and county workers have put a new coat of asphalt on a block of road from the school to the football field which was in need of repair.
