Labor Truce Conferences Are Started

FDR Seeks To Cement Peace For Industry

Capital And Labor Standing With Swords Crossed Over President's New Proposal; First Parleys Are Held

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. — With capital and labor standing with swords crossed over President Roosevelt's industrial peace proposal, White House machinery was turned today in an effort to cement the projected truce.

Presidential aides reported that individual conference between Mr. Roosevelt and leaders of both groups already had started, their topic the proposed "specific trial period of industrial peace." One industrial leader, Joseph R. Grace of the Grace lines, was closeted with Mr. Roosevelt at length. It was assumed this topic was discussed.

Situation Clarified

So widespread was the debate over how Mr. Roosevelt would go about having employers and their workers lay aside their usual methods of conflict that the White House was prompted to issue an informal statement clarifying the situation.

Contrary to the general feeling, it was said the president would not hold a general conference with the two groups, nor any regulated series of parleys with representatives or either side.

Instead, he will meet with individual leaders from time to time, just as he has in the last several weeks, with no set time for any particular conference.

Not A Short Cut

The plan broached by the president on Sunday night, the White House emphasized, was not intended as a short cut for collective bargaining nor an interference in any way with the labor guarantee clauses of the recovery act.

While officials stressed that part of the speech where the president said he would not ask either group "permanently to lay aside the weapons common to industrial war," they denied reports that the proposal was designed to stave off several strikes in major industries this winter.

It also was declared that Secretary Perkins was not en route to San Francisco to outline or urge the armistice proposal to the American Federation of Labor convention. She addresses the convention Friday.

Fair Trial Is Aim

Declining to be drawn into a discussion of what agreements the president would seek from the two sides, officials said Mr. Roosevelt at this time knew only the objective of his plan—a full and fair trial of existing voluntary and federal bar-

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2. (AP) — Resolutions designed to forward the social and economic program of the American Federation of Labor were presented at the annual convention here today.

One resolution suggested President Roosevelt be asked to have an "impartial investigation" made of the alleged hostile attitude of Clay Williams, a member of the newly appointed NRA board, toward recovery codes.

The outlawing of company unions was demanded in another resolution. Legislation was asked prohibiting employers from interfering with efforts of workers to organize. Relief and age benefit suggestions were numerous.

World Series Party Planned

Once more the Avalanche-Journal invites its readers to attend the annual series of World Series parties, beginning at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

A ball-by-ball, play-by-play broadcast will be made from the front of the Avalanche-Journal building each day during the series. While the teams are at Detroit, the broadcast will begin at 12:30 o'clock; when they move to St. Louis, the party begins at 1:30 p. m. daily.

Governor Moore Thinks New Jersey Can Convict Alien On Charge Of "Snatching" And Killing Baby Lindy

BULLETIN!

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 3. (AP) — (Wednesday)—The Newark Ledger says today it has exclusive information that an accomplice of Bruno Richard Hauptmann is being held incommunicado by New York police, and that this man has confessed he held the ladder for Hauptmann when the Lindbergh baby was stolen from its crib at Hopewell on March 1, 1932.

The bureau of investigation, department of justice, at New York, denied through Agent Sisk, who has been in charge of the government agents assigned to the Lindbergh case, that it had been informed a prisoner was being held by the New York police.

The new prisoner, the Ledger says, was picked up in Manhattan, taken to an outlying precinct station and there questioned for 36 hours before he confessed to police and department of justice agents.

The prisoner, the Ledger says, told authorities Hauptmann climbed through the nursery window, and while climbing back to the ground fell when the rung of the ladder broke. The fall killed the baby, the prisoner asserted.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 2.—An unknown friend of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, who rushed to the aid of the Lindbergh kidnap suspect when he aroused a lumber yard man's suspicions with a $10 gold note that may have been part of the ransom money, today became the quarry of a police manhunt.

Hauptmann has been "positively identified" from a photograph by William J. Reilley, the Bronx lumber yard superintendent, as the man who tendered the gold bank note last February in payment for a 40-cent wood panel, Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, revealed.

Failed To Return

When Reilley began to scan the gold note carefully, Schwarzkopf reported, the German carpenter's companion hurriedly said, "never mind," and quickly proffered the exact change. Hauptmann who said nothing, took back his banknote and the men left in haste, not to return as promised for delivery of the wood later in the day, Schwarzkopf related.

'American Tragedy' Case Reviewed In Death Trial

(By The Associated Press)

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 2. The love of Freda McKechnie for Robert Allen Edwards—young mine surveyor on trial for her "American tragedy" murder — was told amid sobs today by her mother, Mrs. George McKechnie.

Calm, but intent, Edwards stared at the witness stand as the commonwealth, hoping to send him to the electric chair, set forth to prove its contention that Edwards, in love with another, slugged his neighborhood sweetheart as they swam the stormy night of July 30 in Harvey's lake—pleasure resort of this coal countryside.

It was only a week before that Freda called at the office of Dr. E. L. Myers. She had been ill.

Tersely Dr. Myers told of this visit.

"What was your diagnosis, doctor," asked Assistant District Attorney Harold Flannery.

"Pregnacy. About two and a half months."

Even during her illness, Mrs. McKechnie told the jurors, her daughter had been happy.

"Bobby had come back from school," she related. "Freda was happier than ever. She imitated the funny people you hear on the radio. She had dresses

Mobilization orders for six infantry companies and General Camp's military "flying squadron," organized during the recent textile strike to combat squadrons of strikers, were issued today by the adjutant general after the request for troops had been received from Sheriff O. L. Betts of Floyd county and Judge James Maddox of the Rome judicial circuit.

The troops, mobilized and held in readiness at their armories at half a dozen middle Georgia towns and cities during the day, began arriving here late tonight in trucks hastily provided by the state highway department.

All Available Relief Monies Are Exhausted

Texas Funds Are Wiped Out As Checks For $1,260,000 Prepared For Distribution Over The State

Await Bond Sales

Most Of Financial Allotment Is Earmarked For Drouth Aid; Canning Plants And General Relief Get Remainder

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. — All available funds at state relief headquarters were wiped out today as checks for $1,260,000 were prepared for distribution over the state.

Adam Johnson, relief director, announced there would be no further distribution of relief money until the $1,000,000 in bonds recently authorized by the legislature was sold or until new funds had been received from federal sources.

Most For Drouth Aid

The final allotment was earmarked as follows: drouth relief, $1,018,000; general relief, $50,000; Texas Relief commission beef canning plant payrolls, $192,000.

"This represents all the money we have on hand," Johnson said, "and there cannot be another distribution of funds until cash can be realized on the million dollars worth of bonds authorized to be sold by the Texas bond commission or until Washington grants the application of the governor for $2,000,000."

Relief headquarters previously had stated that applications for various relief projects totaling approximately $6,000,000 had been made to federal agencies. However, it was not known when these applications would be acted on.

To Use For General Relief

Officials indicated the drouth relief money would be used for general relief purposes at this time, because of the emergency, and the drouth funds would be replaced with general relief money at a later date. More than 200 counties were represented in the drouth fund allotment.

The $192,000 for canning plant payrolls will be distributed in 20 counties where clients have been employed on a budgetary basis.

Lamesans Guests Of Seminole Club

SEMINOLE, Oct. 2 (Special) — More than 100 Lamesans were guests of Seminole Luncheon club at a banquet program here tonight. The Dawson county residents, with a 27-piece band directed by Conway E. King, came in automobiles.

S. L. Forrest, owner of lumber yards, was master of ceremonies. Alton Freeman, formerly of Lamesa, welcomed the visitors, and Carl Rountree of Lamesa replied. V. Z. Rogers, Lamesa superintendent of schools, said the invocation and led a sing-song.

The program swept along hilariously with a black-face stunt by Miss Margie Ferguson of Lamesa, a hog-calling contest between Dr. J. M. Harrington, S. M. Mitchell, and Philip Yonge of Lamesa and W. A. Cox, B. B. Curry, and R. W. Pittman of Seminole, and a liars contest between A. L. Duff of Seminole and Louis B. Reed of Lamesa. Local hog callers won, but Duff was beaten by Reed in the second event. A duet was sung by Mrs. A. G. Bernard and Guy Weeks of Lamesa.

Lubbock Insured Fire Loss For Nine Months Shows Jump

Total insured fire loss in Lubbock the first nine months of this year was $38,506.46, D. A. Forbess, City fire marshal, said.

The 12-month loss in 1933 was $25,452, he said.

This year's figure was hiked appreciably when flames destroyed the Economy mills Sept. 19. Insured fire loss there was $26,600 or about half the estimated total loss.

Insured loss in a fire which resulted in damage Sept. 16, of stocks of Ruth's Dress shop, cperated by Julius Leberstein, at 907 Broadway, was $808, the fire marshal said.

Supreme Court Ends Move To Bar Allred As Party's Nominee

Spectators Barred From Gloria Vanderbilt Case; Wild Parties Described

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Sensational disclosures by a witness concerning Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt and an Englishwoman of title led Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew late today to order private hearings on the fight over the custody of Mrs. Vanderbilt's 10-eyar old daughter, Gloria.

Spectators and reporters were barred from the courtroom immediately after Maria Calliot, former personal maid to the mother of the $4,000,000 heiress, testified to alleged misconduct by Mrs. Vanderbilt and Lady Milford-Haven in a hotel at Cannes, France.

Buries Her Face

"In view of the nature of this testimony," Justice Carew asserted, "the future sessions in this case will be taken in private."

Mrs. Vanderbilt, seated at the counsel table with her sister, Consuelo, wife of Benjamin Thaw, jr., buried her face in her handkerchief as the maid testified.

Her attorney, Nathan Burkan, demanded to know whether Miss Calliot had told anyone else of the alleged incident.

She replied she had told Herbert C. Smyth, counsel for Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, paternal aunt of Gloria, who is fighting Mrs. Vanderbilt's efforts to obtain possession of Gloria and contends his sister-in-law is an unsuitable custodian.

"So you told Mr. Smyth about it and he forgot to ask you when he was questioning you before?"

Judge Questions Maid

"Oh, no I didn't." Smyth declared jumping up. "But I didn't think it proper to bring out any matter of that sort."

Justice Carew questioned the former maid for 20 minutes after clearing the courtroom, and then adjourned the hearing until tomorrow.

As Burkan left the courthouse he said he "would have to get Lady Milford-Haven over here" to refute the testimony and added he would ask Justice Carew tomorrow to open the hearing to reporters.

In his chambers the justice declared he would consider the situation overnight and enter a ruling tomorrow as to whether newspaper representatives would be admitted to further sessions.

He added that he would also

Puckett Held In Hobbs Case

Coroner's Jury Holds Former Lubbock Man Responsible For Fatal Shooting Of His Partner In Business

(By The Associated Press)

HOBBS, N. M., Oct. 2. — A coroner's jury today held J. H. (Blondy) Puckett, 45-year-old coowner of the Palace bar and cafe, responsible for the fatal shooting last night of John L. Fields, 40, his partner in business.

Puckett, who is being held in the Lea county jail at Lovington, is alleged to have shot Fields four times without any warning or comment.

Quarreled Over Business

The two men had formed a partnership several months ago with Fields operating a bar and Puckett a cafe. They are alleged to have quarreled Sunday over business matters, but appeared to have settled their differences.

At the inquest today little additional information was learned by officers about the shooting. A bystander took Puckett to Deputy Sheriff W. Kerley after the shooting and the officer took him to Lovington. On the way to jail Puckett is alleged to have told the deputy sheriff he knew he was going to "have to kill him," but did not divulge the reason for his action.

Fields Unarmed

Fields, it was brought out at the inquest, was unarmed. He had lived here for several years and is survived by his widow and several children, the youngest of which was born today.

Puckett came here from Lubbock, Texas, a few months ago. He is married. No date has been set for his preliminary hearing.

Puckett had operated restaurants in Lubbock for a number of years. He is a son of D. W. Puckett, sr., local attorney, and has a number of relatives in Lubbock.

Three Airmen Die In Crash

Fourth Member Of Crew Bails Out As Army Bombing Ship Falls And Catches Afire In Rugged Mountain Area

(By The Associated Press)

BISHOP, Calif., Oct. 2. — Three army fliers were killed when an army bombing plane crashed and caught fire in the rugged mountain country eight miles north of the Mammoth ranger station in the Inyo National forest today. A fourth member of the crew bailed out.

The plane was one of 20 from March field in a massed practice flight over the Yosemite area.

Wing Crumples

"A wing of the ship crumpled and it fell between 2500 and 3000 feet, crashing into a mountain," said Douglas Robinson, district forest supervisor.

"The squadron flew over this district about noon. When I learned of the accident I immediately organized a searching party of about 30 men. We first found the man who had jumped from the falling ship and escaped death in a parachute. He received only a sprained ankle.

"He helped direct us to the plane wreckage, which was about a mile from the dirt road. The plane's gasoline tank was exploded and the the bodies of the three men were slightly burned. They had been killed in the crash, however, for the plane was a wreck of metal."

The dead were:

Capt. Robert E. Selff, 39; Second Lt. Clifford L. Huffman, 25, and Private Leroy Hitchcock, 21.

Cadet Fay W. Olmsted bailed out of the plane.

Clues In Santa Fe Slaying Case Are Followed In City

Texas and New Mexico officers Tuesday night were following clues here which they hoped would lead to the slayer or slayers of 50-year-old Mrs. Josefita Tapia at Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 4.

Assistant District Attorney C. R. McIntosh of Santa Fe, Gilbert Beckner, New Mexico motor patrol member, and John C. Keller, Texas highway patrolman, were working on the case here last night.

Stains found on a yellow Chevrolet coupe here have been identified as made by blood. Additional analysis must be made to determine whether the blood was from a human or an animal.

A suspect, originally identified as of Greek descent, a former Santa Fe, N. M., cafe employe, who had been held at Midland, has been released, Mr. McIntosh said.

Parachute Jump Saves Life Of Student Flying Officer

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2. (AP) — Second Lieutenant Edward Joseph Hale, Kelly field student officer, saved his life today when he leaped from his disabled plane at a 4,500-foot altitude and landed safely by aid of a parachute.

He landed, uninjured, about 12 miles northwest of Kelly field. He jumped from the plane when it went into an inverted spin from which he was unable to extricate it.

Yaqui Tom-Toms Boom After Statue Destroyed

(By The Associated Press)

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 2. — Tom-toms of the fighting Yaqui tribesmen were booming in the Sonora hills tonight, signifying the displeasure of the Indians over the burning of a statue of St. Francis Xavier, patron saint of Sonora, and other recent anti-religious developments.

There were indications that government officials, who described the burning of the statue as the death-knell of superstition in the state, were on the alert for possible trouble. The federal garrison at Magdalena was reinforced.

For decades the statue, standing at Heermosillo, the state capital, was the object of peon adoration and regular pilgrimages by Catholic Indians.

Catholics protested the burning of the statue as an act of desecration of church property and usurpation of religious rights.

Yaqui tribesmen, whose fighting reputation is a part of Mexican history, recently asked that the cathedral at Magdalena be turned over to them for religious purposes next Thursday, which is San Francisco's day. It was learned Governor Rodolfo Elias Calles had refused the request.

This cathedral, formerly the

Burkett Plea For Rehearing Is Overruled

Democratic Candidate Is Not Surprised When Political Litigation Thrown Out By Highest Texas Tribunal

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—The supreme court today definitely ended efforts of certain San Antonio plaintiffs to bar the name of James V. Allred, from the general election ballot as the nominee of the Democratic party for governor.

The supreme court overruled a motion of the plaintiffs for permission to file a petition for mandamus compelling the court of civil appeals at San Antonio to hear their motion by which they sought to reopen the Allred case.

"Not Surprised"

"I am not surprised," Allred said, commenting on the decision. "It is gratifying when the supreme court sustained me on six grounds and stated that was only a few reasons why the suit should be thrown out."

The fourth court of civil appeals recently dissolved a temporary injunction granted by a district court restraining certification of Allred's name on grounds he had spent more money in his campaign than authorized by law. Subsequently it restrained the plaintiffs from further prosecuting the case.

Action Held Correct

As attorney for the plaintiffs, Joe Burkett of San Antonio asked the supreme court to compel the fourth court of civil appeals to consider their motion for rehearing, claiming they had been denied a statutory right of filing motion for rehearing within 15 days.

"All actions of the court of civil appeals appear to have been correct," the opinion, written by Associate Justice Thomas B. Greenwood, said. "The motion for leave to file the petition for mandamus is therefore overruled, and the clerk of this court is directed to file no motion for rehearing."

Concurs In Opinion

The court concurred in the opinion of the fourth court of civil appeals that the statute limiting campaign expenditures of candidates for governor is unconstitutional.

"The question here is simply whether a nominee had been rendered ineligible under a statute adding to the tests of eligibility specified in the constitution," Justice Greenwood wrote.

"The court held in Dickson vs. Strickland, supra, that the constitutional tests of eligibility to hold

Four Members Of Samuel Insull's Jury Are Chosen

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—A grocer, a dairy farmer, a young insurance salesman and a garage keeper were accepted today as the first four members of the jury which will decide a $143,000,000 mail fraud charge against Samuel Insull, sr., Chicago utilities magnate and 16 associates.

Selection of the four took up the first day of Insull's trial. Adjournment found the federal government's prosecutors in tentative agreement on four more jurors, with the prospect the jury would be completed tomorrow.

Samuel Insull, sr., deposed head of a system of power and light plants valued at $4,000,000,000 sat chin in hand, drowsing occasionally, while the three government attorneys and the eight defense counsel went through the battle for a sympathetic jury. His son Samuel, jr., chewed gum vigorously.

Mrs. A. E. Herring Is Hostess At Covered Dish Luncheon

Uman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER

WATCHING the Wah-Wah-Taysee drum corps from McMurry go through their clever maneuvers between the half at the game last Saturday night brought memories of those gone but not forgotten Arena-Ritas, Tech's bid toward a girls' pep squad.

About the last thing we remember concerning the Arena-Ritas was the occasion when the girls marched out on the field to be followed by a gentleman who was slightly inebriated to say the least. In fairness to the unwelcome addition to the squad it must be said that he caught on rapidly to the designs and did he bring down the stadium with cheers? He did.

What we have been wondering is why doesn't Tech have another pep squad? The costumes could be colorful and there are certainly a variety of lovely girls to choose for such a drill. They would add interest to the games and might do something toward helping louder cheers to resound across to the Matadors' ears.

TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

SOMEONE should tell the junior high school youngsters what is the meaning of those red and green lights strung up over Fourteenth street at Avenues T and V. Then if necessary, they should give them a few lessons in traffic rules for pedestrians and bicycle riders. If this is not done there are going to be tragedies such as have occurred in past months when boys ran in front of motor vehicles.

Those signal lights were placed there after the pressure of public sentiment led the City Commission to act. They are protection for the children who so thoughtlessly scamper across in defiance of their warning.

WE SAW THEM

TUESDAY afternoon we parked near Fourteenth street and Avenue T and watched the rush after school let out. Ten bicycles in as many seconds flashed by on a red light, while two boys "jay-rode" and several boys and girls ran across on foot. One car driver applied screeching brakes and another honked furiously.

We talked to one woman who goes up that street every day at noon and she said that the same situation has been true since school opened this year. Just Tuesday she narrowly avoided hitting a small boy who ran in front of her car as she started again after waiting for a light. She was still excited over it when we talked to her late in the afternoon. She said that if she had run over the child she would have never forgiven herself and yet would it have been her fault?

WHEN we're in a traffic jam and some one yells, "Hey, turn to the right!" we are at an utter loss as to which direction to turn. Why is it women don't know their left from their right in directions? We've observed this many times. They wave their hands or mutter, "My right, my left," and cause male companions to grit their teeth and wonder why they are along.

This is one of the few faults that women have in common but let us tell you one that most males possess. It's inability to find articles. Tell a man to look on the left side of the top shelf in the pantry and bring you a jar of pickles and he'll come back in about forty minutes with the excuse that you've moved them. "All right, you come and find them," he will yell. You look and of course they are there.

It's true with clothing, papers, books, cigarettes, the milk and the evening paper. We have four brothers and a father who are definite proof that women are here partly to make discoveries of lost articles for mankind.

Ask Your Doctor First, Mother

Before You Give Your Child an Unknown Remedy to Take

According to any doctor you may ask, there is one duty every mother owes her child. The duty of asking him before giving her child an unknown remedy to take.

Yet, unthinkingly, every day mothers violate this simple rule. Take the advice of unqualified persons — instead of their doctors' — on remedies for their children.

If they knew what the scientists know, they would never take the chance.

Doctors Say PHILLIPS' For Your Child

When it comes to the very frequently used "milk of magnesia," authorities stand solidly together.

Ask your own doctor about this. For over 50 years, doctors, whose life work it is to study the safety and quality of drugs that go into the home, have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia for your child."

For "Phillips'" is the result of over a half century of continuous laboratory experiment. And is rated among the finest products that science knows in its field, the kind of product your child deserves.

So Always Say "Phillips'" when you buy. And see that your child gets what you ask for — Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Do this for your own peace of mind.

Also in Tablet Form:

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Next Congress Expected To Be Asked To Aid Drouth-Hit Cattle Indust

Cattlemen And Solons Active

Government Purchase By Farm Administration Of An Additional 2,500,000 Head Is Asked By Ranchers

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—The next congress may be asked to aid the drouth-hite cattle industry by cattlemen and their representatives in the house who now are seeking government purchase of 2,500,000 additional head by the farm administration.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex), of the house agriculture committee, told reporters he "hoped" the administration would be able to find sufficient funds to continue cattle buying "on the scale needed without the necessity for action by congress."

"Cattlemen Frantic"

While the Texan declined to amplify the statement, it was interpreted as notice that he would go before the house for more money, and for direct authorization for continuing the program, if the farm administration could not or would not provide the relief sought for the length of time cattlemen contend it is needed.

"The cattlemen are justifiably frantic," Jones said, adding:

"There is no grass in important grazing sections of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico, and the same situation is reported to obtain in parts of the northwest. Men are having to pay $45 a ton for concentrated feeds and they say they simply cannot carry such a burden.

"Good cattle are going to die on the range unless something is done to take care of them."

Panhandle Represented

Cattle raisers representatives who are here, asking that 2,500,000 head be bought above the number to be taken from the range in quotas expiring October 13, include P. E. Mollin of the American National Livestock association, E. B. Spiller of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, J. Taylor, Grover Hill and Julian Bivins, all leaders of the industry in the Texas Panhandle region.

They arranged renewed discussions with Chester Davis, AAA administrator.

It became known after their first conference yesterday that the administration has decided to extend indefinitely the purchase campaign provided officials are convinced their movement to provide feed for all drouth areas will not be sufficient to assure against stock losses.

Direct government purchase of feed has not been ordered yet, but such a step may be taken if a current survey indicates it is necessary.

No Promise Given

Taylor, after the cattlemen's morning conference with Davis, said the administrator was unable to promise any material additional purchases for the near future, except to say efforts would be made to boost the number by about 200,000 above the recent supplemental quota of more than 500,000.

Taylor said his group would attempt to obtain presidential authority for an additional appropriation, probably through Representative Jones. He likewise disclosed that Davis hoped to take up the whole matter with the president's emergency council if possible.

Discussing the fact that the administration has privately decided not to halt the purchase program provided it becomes evident that the feed clearance campaign will not meet the emergency, Taylor said there were two difficulties in that connection.

Immediate Relief Needed

"One is that we need relief immediately and cannot wait until the results of the feed program are known," he explained. "The other is that although the feed program will be excellent so far as the feed lot centers are concerned, it will be impossible to get sufficient feed to the ranges themselves."

The Texan said about 1,400,000 head of cattle in his state alone now are listed for sale to the government and he estimated that in Oklahoma the number at least 100,000

Detroit's Stage Is Set For Grand Opening Of Baseball's Heaviest Drama

He's First Man Up Today; Remember Him In '31? Mr. Cochrane Does!

Hit the Dirt! Pepper Martin, third baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, has hit the dirt safely more times than any other player in the National league this year. In the world series of 1931, he stole five bases against Catcher Mickey Cochrane of the Philadelphia Athletics, and turned those stolen bases into victory for the Cards. Now Mickey Cochrane is manager of the Detroit Tigers, champions of the American league, and the Cardinals will oppose them in the world series.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.(AP)—John Leonard Martin, who took up stealing as a profession and made a fortune at it, has done what he can to filch the National league pennant from the New York Giants.

No common thief is John Leonard Martin. Before Mickey Cochrane and 40,000 persons three years ago he stole five big square bases and led the St. Louis Cardinals to victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series.

Even the late John McGraw, who was not given to superlatives, condescended to say of Martin's performance, "It was the greatest individual piece of work I ever saw on the diamond." But Mickey Cochrane drew little consolation from this statement. By many he was blamed for letting Martin run wild. Even when he came to Detroit this year, the question was generally whispered, "How's his arm?" Martin would like to answer this in the world series.

ALL THE world except Mickey Cochrane loves a base stealer judging from the way "Pepper" Martin was received after his rout of the A's. Through the mails came sacksful of letters — letters from women, from vaudeville agents, from manufacturers. The first offered marriage, the second and third money. Pepper took the money.

But strange things have happened since then. Mickey Cochrane has had three birthdays, has been traded from Philadelphia to Detroit, and has led the Tigers to victory in the 1934 American league pennant race. But poor old Pepper hasn't even had three birthdays. Being a leap year baby, he has had only one, but this is a minor tragedy compared to the others. In 1933, accidents and illness hounded him. His batting average dropped to .238 and he was ridiculed everywhere around the league.

But in 1933 Martin started back. He moved from the outfield to third base, when Sparky Adams got too slow for the position. Before the session had ended, he was chosen to play third base for the National leaguers in the all-star game at Chicago, and he led the league in runs and stolen bases.

EVEN this has been a checkered year for Pepper. He has been at third base again all year, but down the stretch he has not been at his best because of a collision with Shanty Hogan, Boston Braves' catcher. This injury kept him out of the game, necessitated shuffling the Cards about in the infield.

Martin has tried all sorts, football, baseball and the others but his heart still lies in the Oklahoma country where he was born 30 years ago and where he loves to spend the off season hunting. There he will go with his wife and his daughters, Allyne and Vergiana Lee, when the world series is over.

Cardinals And Tigers To Fly At Each Other

Managers Maneuver For Points Of Vantage And Refuse To Name Starting Pitchers In Today's First Game

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

DETROIT, Oct. 2. — Amid the gathering tumult of baseball's annual big show, the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals — twin powerhouses of the major leagues — moved rapidly and with defiant gestures tonight in the direction of a head-on collision in the opening game of the World Series before a capacity crowd of 48,000 spectators in Navin Field tomorrow afternoon.

Hub of the baseball whirl after a lapse of 25 years, with a new set of heroes to pick up where Ty Cobb and the bygone Bengals left off, Detroit and its frenzied populace challenged the expert majority favoring a triumph for the rampant Cardinals, shook off the first few twinges of apprehension at the arrival of the fabulous Dean brothers today and mobilized for a fight to the finish behind Mickey Cochrane's truculent Tigers.

All Set But Pitchers

All that the opening drama needed to be ready for the big blowoff was the roles to be occupied by its central pitching figures, but it remained to develop tomorrow on the field of battle whether Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean was just a stalking horse or actually the choice of the Cardinals for the first-game flinging assignment.

Despite the widespread conviction and popular expectation that the Dean boys, Jerome Dizzy and Paul Daffy, are the logical "one-two punch" of the St. Louis pitching staff and, therefore, the logical choice to work the two games here in sequence, Manager Frank Frisch's continued silence tonight forecast the strong possibility of a change in his plans.

If Dizzy takes the mound tomorrow, it will be his third starting assignment within six days, and Frisch apparently is among those juggling the obvious risk of placing so much strain on even so strong-armed a performer as the elder of the famous brothers. Dean himself wants the starting job and pleaded today with Frisch to let him have it but there's a growing hunch the Cardinal boss will send the seasoned "Wild Bill" Hallahan, his "undercover" southpaw, in quest of the first Tiger scalp.

Crowder vs. Dizzy?

Cochrane performed his part of the juggling act today by making the flat statement that if the elder Dean starts for the National League champions Alvin (General) Crowder, right-handed veteran, will be in the box for the American League pennant winners. Otherwise, against Hallahan or any of the remaining Cardinal sharpshooters, Cochrane will start his giant young right-handed ace, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe.

Thus, like a couple of America's Cup skippers, both managers maneuvered for a strategic advantage or a "smart move" before moving across the starting line. Cochrane's decision was in keeping with his plan of operations all season, during which he seldom shot the Schoolboy wonder against the opposition's best bet. Frisch, on the other hand, was withholding his decision only because of a question as to the stamina of the lanky star who rolled up 30 victories during the National League campaign.

Meanwhile the baseball issue of the day has appeared to grip popular imagination and interest more briskly than any world championship since 1924 when the great Walter Johnson emerged from the shadows to pitch the Washington Senators to triumph over the New York Giants.

Fans To Crowd Park

For the first two games scheduled here tomorrow and Thursday, as well as any subsequent continuation of the battle in the world's motor-car capital, Navin Field is a complete sell-out so far as reserved seats are concerned. Speculators demanded and got boom-time prices for anything they could get their hands on, with the premium running as high as $50 a pair for pasteboards of $11 face price. Bleacher lines started early tonight outside the park, where some 20,000 will be admitted at $1.10 per head tomorrow morning.

After two games here, the warring forces move to the old familiar battleground of Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, where the Cardinals clinched their 1931 victory over the Athletics in the series featuring the wild romp of Pepper Martin, now the third baseman of the Red Birds and the lead-off man in tomorrow's opening skirmish. Three games are scheduled in St. Louis, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, after which the teams return to Detroit if necessary to decide the winner. The series is on the best four-out-of-seven basis and it shapes up as a battle that may well go the limit.

Detroit Turns Out For Dizzy

Other Baseball Greats Overlooked In The Rush For A Glimpse Of The Great Diz; Begs For Starting Job

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Oct. 2. —Detroit got its first eyeful of the celebrated Dean boys today, Jerome Dizzy and Paul Daffy, and the hilarious twirling twins positively stole the show in the preliminary guest performance of the invading St. Louis Cardinals.

Pop-eyed crowds waited for hours for a glimpse of them at their hotel, brushing aside such momentarily forgotten heroes as John "Pepper" Martin, 1931 wild horse of the Osage: thin-thatched Frankie Frisch, with his record of seven previous World Series; "Ducky-Wucky" Medwick, the clouting youngster; and even Lefty "Wild Bill" Hallahan, the red-hot tip about town to pitch the first game Wednesday.

Daffy Trails Along

Dizzy was good in all his appearances, with brother Paul trailing him silently like a faithful stooge, but he gave his absolute best at the ball park when the Cardinals, fresh from their overnight ride here from St. Louis came trudging in as the Tigers wound up their last practice.

Schoolboy Rowe, the 6 foot 4 inch youngster who carries most of Mickey Cochrane's pitching hopes, was finishing up his chore for the cameras on one side and Hank Greenberg, equally young and gigantic first baseman, was giving a sedate demonstration for the motion pictures of how a ball should be hit.

Into that gentle scene whooped Dizzy, in street clothes, leading the Cardinal pack. He grabbed a bat and pushed Greenberg from the plate.

Breaks Prize Fungo

"Heave me a few, fella," he yelled to Del Baker, Tiger coach who was helping the situation along by pitching to Greenberg. The startled Baker could do nothing else. Dean slashed a half dozen balls to left field. Then there was a sharp crack.

"I done broke this all to pieces," grinned Dizzy, looking at the bat.

"Why you great big stiff," roared Baker from the mound, "that's my best fungo stick."

Dean wouldn't take a practice swing, just for the benefit of the

Westerners, Seriously Handicapped By Lack Of Safe Playing Field, Prepare For Long Trip And Next Game

The Westerners today will take a final workout prior to their departure for El Paso where Saturday night they meet the Austin High school Panthers.

Thursday noon the squad will leave by bus. Thursday night will be spent at Carlsbad, N. M.

This week the Westerners have drilled among the trash and debris left on their field by fair throngs.

When blockers rise after a fall to the earth they shake from their shoulders tickets stubs and charred paper that once sheathed sky rockets.

Field Is Torn Up

Also lying in the grass there are the remnants of outdoor lunches, there are cigaret packs, decaying program sheets, cigar butts and a large variety of mute yet interesting things.

Yesterday there were men digging into the gridiron for some pipe. These men were digging along the southeast sidelines, and where once there was only smooth turf on which the schoolboy backs might run there is now mangy, torn sod in which an ankle may be turned or a leg broken with a snap.

Practice sessions this week have been occupied with the so-called fundamentals. Yesterday it was tackling, today it was blocking. Body checks that resolve with the blocked one prone after a resounding thud were sought and sometimes obtained during the drill by Coaches Chapman, Huffman and McWilliams. High and neat cross-blocking was particularly recommended.

Practice Light Today

The chores at Fair Park this afternoon are to be light and the boys are not being "steamed up" over the impending conflict. But this does not indicate that the Westerners are taking the game in a mood of frivolity. Both the teams have this fall played Big Spring. Lubbock soundly trounced Big Spring while El Paso fell victim to the Steers attack. But the summary shows that Big Spring was licked by the Panthers in every department save that essential one of scoring touchdowns. Austin almost doubled the Steers efforts in tabulating first downs.

The Westerners will be in vastly better physical condition this week than last Friday when they faced Ranger, Woodrow Aycock and Charles Calhoun, ailing regulars, last week, came out of the fray with the Bulldogs, apparently, feeling better than when the game started.

Chick Hafey lost a ball game for the Cincinnati Reds this season when a fly ball which would have retired the Pirates in the ninth and won the ball game ripped through the web of his mitt.

Aggies, Longhorns Off For Distant Gridirons

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 2. (AP) Headed for Philadelphia for Friday night's game with Temple, 34 Texas A. and M. football players entrained this afternoon, ready to "shoot the works," as Coach Homer Norton explained to the student body as the train pulled away.

"We're going up there determined to win and not just make a good showing," was the way Cal Hubbard, line coach, expressed the Aggies' determination.

The squad will work out tomorrow night at Indianapolis and Thursday night at Philadelphia.

CHEVIGNY PREDICTS BATTLE

AUSTIN. — The University of Texas may not defeat Notre Dame in an intersectional football clash Saturday at South Bend, but the Ramblers will know they have been in a football game, Coach Jack Chevigny predicted today as the Longhorns concluded practice for the game.

Chevigny, a former Notre Dame star under the late Knute Rockne, will lead his charges northward tomorrow for their greatest intersectional tilt since the ill-fated trip to Harvard in 1931 when Texas was handed a stinging defeat.

"I rate Notre Dame on paper, about four touchdowns better than Texas," Chevigny said. "It may be different on the field. I expect Texas to put up a good showing and Notre Dame will know it has been through a football game. We will be no early season set-up for Notre Dame."

FROGS LOSE CENTER

FORT WORTH.—Marion (Sandy) Hagler, reserve center from Cleburne, has been ruled ineligible for Southwest conference competition with the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, it was announced today. The promising sophomore was dropped from the squad through lack of the required number of scholastic credits.

The loss of Hagler leaves the Frogs with only Heard Floore in reserve at center.

Although Hagler will be sorely missed, today's announcement of his ineligibility did not dampen the Christians' spirit in their preparations for the opening conference tilt with the Arkansas Porters here Saturday afternoon. They drilled on defense.

Otis Clingman Featured Here In Mat Battle

World's Title Contender And Jack Van Bebber To Mix In Main Go; Lew Mueller Gets Rough Tex Watkins

The bleachers have been moved back from Fair Park to the Auditorium, and arranged to accommodate a large gathering of the faithful tonight when Promoter Sled Allen stages his regular weekly wrestling show.

It promises to be a good show, featuring the return of Otis "Squeeky" Clingman, probably the greatest middleweight Texas has ever produced, in the main event with Jack Van Bebber, local idol.

Van Bebber Improves

Van Bebber has been slipping. His popularity has diminished considerably because his showmanship has failed to improve. Last week, however, he staged a drive that won back for him considerable of his lost prestige. He lost the main event last Wednesday night, to Charley Carr, but he put on one of his best professional performances.

Clingman, always a heavy drawing card here, has defeated Van Bebber in previous meetings, but the former Olympic and national amateur champion has clamored for another chance so loudly that Promoter Allen has granted his wish.

Last week saw Clingman make a gallant try for the world's middleweight belt, but after 2 hours and 15 minutes of terrific grappling he had not thrown the champion, Gus Kallio, and had himself been pinned once.

He has never failed to please the local fans, Clingman hasn't, and it is a safe statement that he will give the folks a show this evening.

Watkins vs. Mueller

The South Plains' gift to professional wrestling, terrible Tex Watkins, for two years champion of the U. S. navy, successor to Clingman in that respect, makes his second appearance in the local ring tonight. He faces Lew Mueller, clean-limbed German from Salt Lake City who pleased the patrons here last spring and summer. Mueller has been touring the country, and comes back where the grappling is as tough as it is in any part of the nation.

Capable of being extremely rough when the occasion demands, Mueller is likely to find the occasion tonight, because Watkins is by no means a pansy. He is, in fact, one of the roughest and most illegal of the tribe, and is sure to resort to ungentlemanly tactics tonight.

Newcomer To Show

Promoter Allen will introduce a newcomer tonight in the persons of Henry Hill, who claims Portland, Oregon, as his home and who is claimed to be well versed in the ways of professional grappling.

Hill meets Eddie O'Shea, the wild red-headed Irishman who made his debut last week in a reckless match with Cyclone Mackey. O'Shea is far from being a quiet, even-tempered grappler, and does not hesitate to go beyond the limits of orderly conduct to gain a point or a victory.

TIME MOVED UP

Beginning tonight, preliminaries on the regular Wednesday night wrestling card at Sled Allen's Auditorium will start at 8 o'clock. Through the summer, when the days were long, the matches started at 8:30 o'clock, but, winter rules regarding starting time will be inaugurated tonight.

Veteran Bruins

Texas Tech boasts no tacklers as well acquainted with the Tech system as Baylor's Wilfong and Weathers are with the Baylor system, and when the Bears come to Lubbock for their annual tilt with the Matadors Friday night these two will assume regular places in the lineup. Line Coach Smith of Tech says he has no tackles as well prepared as are the above young giants.

Dallas Youngster Defeated By Champion In National Women's Golf Tournament

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2 (AP)—The British lion on the union jack flying above the White Marsh Valley Country club roared with pain today as all but one member of John Bull's Curtis Cup team was evicted from the 38th women's national golf championship.

While Wanda Morgan 1931 English women's champion, remained the golf survivor of the foreign challenger, six of the American cupsters reached the third round. Their three youngest teammates fell by the wayside.

Golden-haired Diana Fishwick, 1931 British champion and the most feared of the British empire invasion, was side-tracked in the second round in a stunning surprise spring by the husky 16-year-old Dorothy Traung of San Francisco.

Betty Jameson, 15-year-old Dallas holder of the Southern championship, defeated Diana Plumpton of England, 3 and 2, in the round, but the plump Texas ster's victory was short lived She collided with Champi injury Van Wie of Chicago second round and was the of the worst punishment out thus far.

Injuries Keep Matador Stars Out Of Battle

Tech Gridders In For Hardest Game On Remainder Of Home Schedule When Baylor Plays Here Friday Night

From September 10 until Monday of this week, activity on the Texas Tech campus was confined to the football field.

The Texas Tech Matadors were "a team without a college" for three weeks, and played two scheduled games without the loud support of a student body on the sidelines.

But school has opened again, and the football boys aren't the only students on the campus. They have a college now, and should have plenty of student support Friday night when they face the Baylor university Bears in what looms as the hardest test remaining on the home schedule.

About Time

Coaches and fans are hoping that the return of the students and their presence at Friday night's game will properly inflame and stimulate the gridsters to greater deeds of valor, that the change will help promote the necessary spark or something that has been lacking in the two preceding games.

If that's the case, school couldn't open at a more propitious time, because indications are that the Matadors will need all the support and all the natural ability, steam and power they can muster for Friday night's contest.

Declared by Line Coach Dutch Smith, who scouted them last Saturday night when they defeated Edwards, 33-0, to be a forty per cent better club than the team which lost a 13-0 game here last fall, the Bears certainly will offer more resistance than they have the last two years.

To Start Regulars

Coach Pete Cawthon announced yesterday he would start his team against the Bears Friday night. Once before he made the announcement, then changed his mind at the last minute in favor of the shock troops.

But he does not intend to take any chances with the shock troops this time, he said yesterday, and will start the best and strongest lineup at his command. Against the shock troops Saturday night the McMurry Indians marched right down the field, only to be stopped after the regulars took their places after a wholesale substitution.

The injury jinx is pursuing the Matadors this week, and at least three of the "regulars" may not see much service.

Captain Moon Martin played less than five minutes against McMurry. At that, it was the hardest work he had done all last week. An old knee injury came to the surface in the Texas game, and kept him out of uniform most of the week.

Pelicans Win Dixie Pennant For Second Straight Time As Galveston Fails To Tie Up The Series

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. — The New Orleans Pelicans won their second successive Dixie baseball championship here today, defeating the Galveston Buccaneers 5 to 4 in the sixth game of the series.

Denny Galehouse, young right handed speed baller, twirled the Pelicans to victory, holding the Buccaneers to nine hits while his mates were pounding out some 14 knocks. Galehouse scored the winning run in the eighth inning after Galveston had rallied to come from behind and knot the score at 4-4.

Several bits of juvenile fielding nearly lost the game for the Pelicans but Galehouse decided all at once to win his own ball game and doubled neatly to center in the eighth. "Boze" Berger, New Orleans second sacker, singled to bring in Galehouse with the winning marker.

Walkup Is Walloped

The veteran Jim Walkup, who troubled the Pelicans so sorely in the second game in Galveston under the arc lights, couldn't do much towards stopping the Birds today and was hit freely in all but the eighth inning. Galveston warmed up several pitchers in the bull pen during the course of the conflict but the 40-year old hurler stayed on the mound for the entire nine innings.

New Orleans won the series handily, four games to two. Had Galveston won today it would have tied up the series, making necessary a deciding game tomorrow.

lensmen.

"I ain't hittin' at no wind this series," he insisted. "Throw me a ball."

Dizzy has been sitting in Manager Frisch's lap, figuratively, ever since he clinched the pennant for the Cards Sunday with his second shutout of the Reds in two days, pleading for the right to start the opening series game tomorrow. Frisch won't tell him yes, definitely. Meanwhile he's dying several slow deaths in his anxiety for the word.

Better Than Rowe

"I wan't at 'em" he said, "right away. That Rowe is taller than me, I guess, but I'm the best pitcher."

And the town is full of stories of this colorful madman, who's the sanest man on the premises with a baseball in his hands.

A promoter, notorious for bad check passing, wanted him to sign for 15 exhibition games. His mates warned Dizzy away.

"He owes me two bucks. Diz insisted.

So he saw the man, returned with $1 cash, and a check for $1,500 for his share of the tour, and a promise of the other dollar.

"I know it's a good check," he insisted. "This fellow's all right. He said he'd give me a check on any bank I wanted to name, so I picked my own."

Matadors Hurt

is not getting around with his usual alacrity, and will not be used against Baylor if there is any getting around it.

Williams, McElroy Out

Bert Williams, regular tackle, is another on the injured list. He did not wear a uniform last week until the McMurry game, and did not play. Neither is D. M. McElroy, fastest halfback on the squad, likely to play much this week. He was in for a minute or two last week, but is sufering from a leg injury.

With these three out of it, Baylor's chances are greatly enhanced, although reserves at Tech are showing up better this week.

The starting backfield probably will consist of Ed McKeever, outstanding backfield star, on Tech's side, against McMurry, who will call signals from the right halfback position; Adrian Clark, lightest man on the force and the best punter, at quarterback; Gwynn Dowell, huge line bucker who looked good in the McMurry game, and Winford Baze, who seems to have replaced big Bear Curfman as the regular fullback.

Braxton Gilmore probably will start at one wing position, with Sam Jones at the other. G. B. Morris and Alvin Katrola may be the tackles, with Walker Nichols and Juicy Owen at guards and Larry Priddy at center.

Tickets continued to go swiftly yesterday, and Bo Williams, in charge of sales, predicted a grandstand sell out before game time. Fans, apparently, are as interested in this game as they were in the Texas battle.

It will be Tech's last home stand until November 9 when they meet the Texas College of Mines Muckers here. This week's probably will be the last night game here played by the Matadors.

COLUMBIA WINS AGAIN

TORONTO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Big Ed Heusser shut out the Toronto Maple Leafs with two hits tonight while the Columbus Red Birds won the fourth game of the Little World Series 4 to 0. The victory gave the American Association representatives a 3-1 margin in games as the teams ended their stay in Toronto. A homer by Mickey Heath brought two of the Columbus runs.

Merger Seen For Baptists

Missionary Association And General Convention Groups Express Favor Of Unification Of Two Bodies

DALLAS, Oct. 2. (AP)—Representatives of both the Baptist general convention and the Baptist Missionary association expressed favor of a unification of the two bodies today at a meeting here of a joint committee of 50 and there were indications that they would recommend to their general conventions next month that such a step be taken.

Speakers emphasized the fact that the meeting had no authority to take action other than to recommend or report adversely on the merger. The general convention will be held in San Antonio Nov. 6 and the missionary convention in Dallas Nov. 12.

Dr. White Speaks

Dr. W. R. White of Fort Worth, one of the speakers, expressed belief that both groups strongly favored unification, with the method in which it was to be achieved the only point undefined. He gave an interpretation of the beginning of the two groups and for what principles each stood.

Significance was attached to the remarks of the Rev. J. O. Hearn of Waxahachie, a representative of the Baptist Missionary association, who was a participant in the original split of the two groups 35 years ago.

Reverses Stand

He said he had opposed the merger for years but now had reversed his stand and explained that his entire life would now be dedicated to promotion of peace between the two bodies.

Other speakers were: Dr. W. H. McKenzie of Austin and the Rev. A. O. Hinkle of Lockhart, co-chairmen representing the general convention and the B. M. A., respectively, and T. C. Gardner, head of the Baptist young people's organizations in Texas.

Improved Roads To Be Taken Up At Meeting In Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 2. (Special)—Improved roads will be discussed at a meeting of Panhandle-Plains good roads boosters here Friday at 2 p. m. The conference will be conducted in City auditorium.

Delegations are being invited from every county in the Panhandle-Plains territory from Lubbock north and Vernon west. This section of the state has a large percentage of unpaved gaps of the state and federal designated highways in Texas, as rapid progress has not been made on the paving program in this section as has been in other parts of Texas.

At the Plainview meeting definite plans will be worked out and perhaps an organization set-up to present this matter to Governor-Elect Allred and Highway commission. Efforts have been made in the past to secure the paving of these gaps, but seemingly to no avail; while in other parts of the state funds are being expended and contracts on new roads let over almost the identical route with existing paved roads.

Former Residents Of Jack County Will Hold Reunion

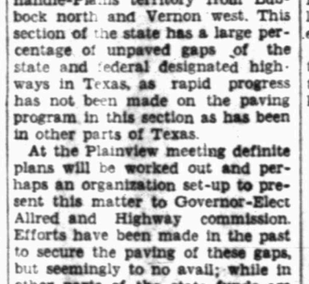

Former residents of Jack county, now living on the South Plains, will meet in a reunion at City park, near the swimming pool, Friday, Oct. 12, at 3 p. m.

Forming of a permanent organization will be one object of the reunion. The meeting was called by Pink L. Parrish and George W. Foster. Persons attending will carry their lunch baskets with them. Letters of invitation are being sent to known Jack county ex-citizens.

Iowa Farmers To Voice Sentiment

DES MOINES, Oct. 2. (AP) — The farm administration's question—"do you want to continue controlled agriculture? — is being answered by Iowa farmers at the polls this week.

The poll is a part of the national referendum which the AAA is conducting to obtain direct farm sentiment on whether another agricultural adjustment program is wanted.

The AAA is asking farmers to vote "yes" or "no" to two questions: "Do you favor an adjustment program dealing with corn and hogs in 1935?" and "do you favor a one-contract per farm adjustment program dealing with grain and livestock to become effective in 1936?"

Iowa's answers to these questions, although they will not actually determine the future course of the farm administration, are expected to bear great weight with the AAA, since this is the nation's largest corn and hog producing state.

Farmers in general apparently favor the production adjustment idea, although many have objected to the administration's methods of accomplishing it.

The Fate Of The NRA

ONE of the pressing questions wherever people meet today is "what's going to happen to the NRA?"

You hear it in the industrial centers where workingmen meet.

You hear bankers, even doctors and lawyers ask it; and were we to listen in on a meeting of directors of some great enterprise we'd likely hear it there.

NRA is going to undergo a change—and probably a drastic one—despite the stories carried on yesterday's news wires from the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco.

Mr. Green and his organization not to the contrary, NRA will be revamped and Mr. Roosevelt, its patron saint, knows it better than anybody.

Only one other thing is certain. And that is Senator Glass' plea for an outright and complete repeal will not be listened to for long.

DISCUSSING the question the Dallas Times Herald comments at length and it seems to us, comments sagely. Says the Times Herald:

"If the NRA were abolished, the anti-trust laws would, of course, go back into full effect. Combinations that many industrialists favor to regulate production and to eliminate cut-throat competition would become illegal.

"Observers like Mark Sullivan, who say that big business fathered the NRA are not far wrong. The new scheme was welcomed as a relief from the drastic anti-trust laws. But the new regulations were more elaborate than big business desired.

"Naturally, men like Senator Borah, and even Senator Glass, will insist that the anti-trust laws be kept on the statute books. Therefore, those who have found these laws obnoxious will defend the NRA rather than see all its features thrown overboard.

"The chances are that most of the several hundred codes will be abandoned. Far too many codes were put into effect. But some industries will desire to keep their new regulations, and they will be permitted to do so. Such industries will be chiefly those that carry on, unquestionably, an interstate business.

"Even before the NRA was created, congressional committees were studying plans for revising the anti-trust laws. Repeal of the new setup would restore the need of revision. Naturally, these laws of thirty years ago are not entirely appropriate to modern conditions.

"Unless a certain degree of co-ordination on the part of separately-owned units of industry is allowed, the absorbing of small business by large businesses through the merger process will continue. Of course any rules adopted by an industrial group for promoting common effort must be somewhat like an NRA code."

THAT dissertation upon the part of the Dallas paper is the fairest and most far-seeing NRA commentary The Morning Avalanche has seen anywhere.

Just because the radiator cap doesn't fit is no reason to discard a serviceable automobile, altogether.

And just because NRA hasn't been perfect from all angles is no reason for chucking the whole program into the wastebasket.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

FRIENDLY sources in the middle predict it won't be long before that minor Roosevelt-Lindbergh difference, dating back to the air mail cancellations, is neatly patched up.

The inner rounds have word that Col. Lindbergh feels rather badly about the manner in which he was advertised as being rude to the President of the United States and would like to come here for a heart-to-heart talk with FDR.

Look any day now to see Lindy dropping in at the White House—where he will be received with open arms. There isn't any desire at this end either to nurse petty grievances.

To refresh your memory, at the time President Roosevelt dramatically cancelled all air mail contracts and turned the job temporarily over to the Army, Lindbergh mailed in a very erudite and pointed letter of criticism.

This letter was made public in New York before it reached Washington. The White House secretariat fell back on an old rule that no letter was worthy of formal recognition which had been publicized before the President had an opportunity to reply.

Informally, it was inferred that company lawyers had actually drafted the note—using Lindbergh's signature because of the public's affection for him.

A few days after this episode Lindy appeared before a Senate investigating committee. His hair-trigger replies, display of aviation knowledge and fluent command of English quickly convinced those who heard him testify that the disputed letter was his own brain-child—written in the utmost sincerity. If he hadn't done it in a hundred ways before, America's premier flier finally demonstrated that day how close to his heart was the future of commercial aviation.

Meanwhile letters had been deluging the White House and newspaper offices—and, no doubt, the Colonel also—taking sides in the controversy. As many censured the President as Lindbergh.

Now both men would like to shake hands and forget the whole episode.

JUICE: Public Works loans to municipalities for the building or improvement of municipal power plants have resulted in heavy slashing of rates in at least six instances.

PWA makes it a condition for such loans that the municipal plant shall charge a lower rate than the prevailing private rate. Otherwise the project would not have "social desirability"—and chances of collecting would be poor.

So far PWA has helped about 75 such plants for a total of $75,000,000, almost all of them in small communities.

Administrator Ickes' attention has been called to the counter-thrusts of private companies in half a dozen spots where loans are now in process of negotiation. The private interests have ascertained what rate the municipal plants promise to charge if federal aid is extended and then have cut their own well under that figure.

All of these cases are in small towns in the mid-west where the utilities once were part of the Insull empire. In each instance the private company has been put through the wringer and had enough water squeezed out to enable it to cope with municipal competition in this way.

What concerns Ickes is that several of the municipalities want to engage in a rate war and cut under their private opposition still a second time. PWA hardly can countenance this but the general picture is swell for the consumer—particularly if the idea should get sufficiently widespread.

JUMPER: Horatio Alger or the success magazines should start paging J. Howard Ardrey, who has just emerged from retirement to become a chief deputy of the Federal Housing administration.

Ardrey got his start in life in Gobley, Texas, a very small spot on the map, where he was station agent and postmaster and found time to set up a bank in his spare time. Outgrowing Bobley he moved to Dallas and went into bigger-league banking. Again the urge to grow hit him and Ardrey jumped to New York. He became a vice-president of the National bank of Commerce and at the time of his retirement was executive vice-president of the Guaranty Turst.

This canny Texan has three sons. Two are vice-presidents of New York banks and the third is vice-president of a brokerage house.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

KEEP your eye on the newly-formed Association of American Railroads. It's a lot more important than either of the predecessors from which it was merged—the Association of Railway Executives and the American Railway association. No other American industry has ever tried such a drastic form of self-imposed dictatorship.

The organization's main object is to fight aggressively for the rights of private capital invested in railroads and especially to try to head off direct public ownership. To that end an effort will be made to weld the roads into a well-disciplined group which will act as to unit in matters of policy. Competitive backbiting will be eliminated so far as possible.

Curiously the dictator of this militant body is a mild-mannered diplomat. J. J. Pelley—recently of the New Haven—is anything but hard-boiled. He would much rather talk things over amicably with an opponent than sock him on the jaw. The railroad's choice of a leader contrasts sharply with the Edison Electric Institute's selection of the pugnacidus Tom McCarter.

Insiders understand that General W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania was the original nominee for the job. He's a two-fisted battler of the McCarter type. But Atterbury wasn't keen to take it and felt that his Republican affiliations would handicap the organization in its dealings with the administration. He is reported to be the one who first suggested Pelley. The Pennsylvania's stock interest in the New Haven had made him familiar with Pelley's methods.

SKEPTICS: The utilities are pinching themselves to see if they're really awake. Two recent government moves—the President's failure to approve the electric code and PWA's refusal to appropriate for a public-owned power project on the Rio Grande—seem to indicate a much friendlier attitude. Moreover word is being passed around that federal pressure on the utilities will be eased still further.

The boys are appreciative of the gift horse but incline to inspect its molars closely. One executive remarks: "It's all very nice but I'll believe it if it continues after election."

FRANCE: The French political volcano is due to erupt in a big way this month. Insiders interpret Premier Doumergue's bold stand in favor of remaining on gold as the prelude to trouble. If he elects to stake his cabinet's life on that issue he may be out before November. The stress of deflation has rapidly stepped up the internal demand for the abandonment of gold in the last few months.

If Doumergue falls it will be a free-for-all scramble for the reins—probably violent.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE EAR OF DIONYSIUS

Dionysius I., tyrant of Syracuse (430-367 B. C.), kept a large number of Greek and Carthaginian captives whom he confined in the stonequarries (latomiae) near Syracuse. In order to be able to spy on their whispered conversations, he constructed a remarkable acoustic grotto, shaped like an ear, about 75 feet high. This "Ear of Dionysius" magnifies the voice about 50 times. A whisper is magnified to the proportions of a peal of thunder. Words are endlessly repeated. Dionysius sat at a small opening high up in the cavern, and as the embittered whispers of his slaves reached his ears through this curious loud speaker he would mark the whisperer for death.

THE MOST MIRACULOUS CURE-ALL

Sylphium, the most miraculous plant in antiquity, grew only in Cirenaica. In ancient days the plant was a source of great wealth to the country, being so valuable that the King himself would guard its shipping and weighing. Likenesses of the plant were engraved on the gold coins of the country, and the list of ailments it was purported to cure have been recorded on the authority of Pliny and Younger and others. Never in history has there been a drug of such miraculous renown. It is now extinct. The last specimen was discovered in the days of Nero, and sent as a gift to the Emperor.

Veal Manly Discusses Suit To Keep Allred's Name Off Ticket As Democratic Choice

Editor, The Avalanche: I have been watching the feeble efforts of certain citizens of our state to prevent J. V. Allred's name from being placed on the general election ballot as the Democratic nominee for governor, on the charge that he overstepped the statutory limit for campaign expenses in his race for the nomination. Of course we all knew they would never get anywhere with it, although it is the concensus of opinion that it cost $20,000 or more to nominate him.

It is interesting to watch the game as it is being played, and see how dexterously the defense is keeping the issue from coming to trial. It might make another interesting chapter in Texas history if it could be brought to trial and all the evidence should become public property.

We have made history in the last 15 years that our neighboring states have not looked upon with admiration nor with envy. It is a matter of history, and that not very ancient, that a Senator-elect from one of our northern states was barred from membership in the U. S. Senate, after a long hard fought legal battle on this very same charge. But that was not Texas.

We can brook anything in Texas. If a case can run the gauntlet and get by the instructed verdict to the jury, and they can't possibly acquit, the suspended sentence comes in quite handy. But if the character of the accused will not permit that, and he must go on to the pen, it is just possible sometimes, of course it is very seldom, that he can get a full and unconditional pardon and so be free.

But I suppose all these sidetracts are necessary in order to keep our penitentiary population down to capacity.

Yours for justice if it takes the hide off.

Veal Manly,
Lubbock.

Resigned Foreign Minister Of Rumania Not To Return

BUCHAREST, Oumania, Oct. 2. (AP) — Nicholas Titulescu, resigned foreign minister of Rumania, refused today to return home from Switzerland to become foreign minister again.

His action intensified the government crisis, for it left Premier George Tatarescu, all of whose ministers resigned yesterday, without the services of the veteran statesman.

If Titulescu persists in his refusal to serve with Tatarescu again, the premier may appoint Prof. Mircea Djuvara as under-secretary for foreign affairs and acting minister.

Speaker For VFW Flays Capitalism

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 2. (AP)—Determination to scrap those capitalistic influences which he said made for the present economic conditions was expressed by Representative Martin L. Sweeney of Cleveland before today's session of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Memorial auditorium.

Sweeney asked for support of laws to impose tax levies in the higher brackets upon those who have accumulated wealth and income; increased gift and inheritance taxes; unemployment insurance and old age pensions; a limitation of wealth and absolute prohibition of a concentration of wealth in the hands of few.

"By government action," he declared, "we can destroy the opportunity for 5 per cent of the people of this nation to own and control 95 per cent of the wealth."

Features of the capitalistic system that the congressman expressed hope of saving were: Opportunity for a saving wage; to own homes and save them from foreclosures; to send children to the best schools; to take out life insurance in sound institutions for the protection of families. Sweeney said it was necessary to retire billions of tax-exempt government bonds and securities.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE, No. 15 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At the bottom of the gorge, von Harben found the meadowland was treacherous and impassable, but he and Gabula finally discovered firm footing in the bed of the river. As the water reached only to their waists, they were able to walk, for a great distance, feeling their way cautiously.

Presently they came to a clump of papyrus and von Harben started to clamber to the solid footing of the roots. But just then a canoe shot from behind a mass of floating plants and von Harben and Gabula found themselves covered by the weapons of a boatload of ebon warriors.

The spears the savages carried were unlike any von Harben had seen in modern Africa and their swords were exactly like the swords of the Imperial Legionaries of ancient Rome that the young student had seen in museums. "You are prisoners!" the leader said.

Surprise and incredulity were reflected on von Harben's face, for the black spoke in Latin. Further conversation revealed that it was Latin corrupted by a Bantu dialect. The prisoners were ordered into the dugout, where they were seized by the savages and hurled to the bottom of the craft.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—The early October frost melted moderately in today's stock market but the chill of yesterday's reaction was still felt.

Market analysts were encouraged by the fact that the downward move appeared to have been halted.

The dullness of the proceedings found the ticker tape silent for minutes at a time. Transfers totaled only 371,170 shares, the smallest volume for a full day since Sept. 4. The Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 selected stocks showed a net gain of two-tenths of a point at 73.1.

Equities held in the face of further heaviness in grains coincident with a wide open break in wheat prices at Winnipeg and Liverpool. At Chicago wheat closed 7-8 to 1 1-4 cents a bushel lower. All options of the major cereal ended below the dollar mark at the lowest levels since last July. The Canadian government was reported contemplating virtual suspension of the Winnipeg grain exchange as the result of charges there had been excessive selling pressure due to the market being held at a big premium.

Cotton lost 5 to 35 cents a bale. Bonds were listless and unable to make any progress. U. S. government securities were mixed, the treasuries doing a little better while the guaranteed issues eased.

The foreign exchange department proved of paramount nterest to the financial sector. The British pound recovered a cent or so, but some banking quarters were still inclined to believe that this currency is pointing toward the old dollar parity of around $4.86, although it was conceded that intermittent rallies might intervene. The European gold currencies were generally lower.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2. (AP)—A total of approximately 41,000 cattle were received at eleven mid-western markets as compared with 43,915 actually counted in last Tuesday and 45,531 the same day a year ago. No material change was registered in prices of slaughter steers and yearlings. Better grades fed kinds were fully steady to strong while short feds and grassers steady to weak. Although replacement stock has moved more readily this week, prices are steady to 25 under last week's closing levels with the better grades steady. Best steers offered at Chicago realized 10.25. Fed heifers upward to 8.25. Most straight western grassers cashed within a spread of 2.85@4.75 with some westerns from 4.85@5.75.

Hog receipts numbered 63,000, an increase of 3,000 over last Tuesday's figures. A loss of around 5 to 15 continued the trend of recent sessions. The demand for underweights was inadequate, prices on this class showing a sharp break. At Chicago, the best price was 6.35 with most desirable 220-290 lbs. butchers ranging from 6.25@6.35.

Steady prices prevailed on killing classes of sheep. Feeding lambs were cleared at stronger rates in an active trade. Best native lambs scored 6.75 at St. Louis and Chicago with most better grade feeding lambs at the latter point 5.50@5.75—with sorted blackfaces to 6.10.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2. (AP) — Demand was rather slow for the light offerings on the grain market here Tuesday. Estimated receipts were: Wheat 20 cars; corn 1, and oats 1.

Prices quoted:

Wheat No. 1 hard 1.09@1.10 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 89@91; No. 3 nominally 87@89. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.80@1.83; No. 3 milo nominally 1.78@1.81. No. 2 kafir nominally 1.75@1.77; No. 3 kafir nominally 1.73@1.75.

Corn No. 2 white 1.03@1.04; No. 2 yellow 98@99. Oats No. 2 red 59 1-2@60 1-2; No. 3 red 58 1-2@59 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Wide-open 5-cent breaks in Winnipeg wheat quotations, with the Liverpool market smashing the season's bottom price record, pulled Chicago wheat values downward today.

Reports were circulated that the Canadian government contemplated virtual suspension of the Winnipeg grain exchange because of alleged excessive selling there which had cost Canada's treasury an immense sum. It was intimated huge amounts of Argentine wheat had been hedged in Winnipeg, and that undue selling had also been done in Winnipeg both by British interests and American, a course made possible owing to the Canadian government artificially maintaining the Winnipeg market at a big premium over prices elsewhere.

Wheat in Chicago, after a maximum setback of 2 1-4 cents, closed nervous, 7-8 to 1 1-4 under yesterday's finish, Dec. new 99@99 1-8, corn 1-8 off to 3-8 up, Dec. new 76 3-4@76 7-8, oats unchanged to 5-8 lower, and provisions showing 10 to 15 cents decline.

For the first time in more than two months, all Chicago wheat futures went below $1.00 a bushel. A big trade at the reduced prices that resulted was witnessed here. Domestic mills, however, were active buyers on the declines, and this helped to cause rallies. The collapse at Winnipeg was attributed to the Canadian government withdrawing at least temporarily all buying support.

Corn, oats and rye displayed stubborn resistance to selling that accompanied breaks in the wheat market. Country offerings of corn to arrive were meager.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. (AP)—The cotton market was moderately active today and prices fluctuated within a range of 10 points, developing no particular trend. The market eased off 6 to 7 points during the morning on poor cables, weakness in wheat and some hedge selling, but recovered a good part of the decline in the afternoon on shorts covering. The close was steady with prices net unchanged to 3 points up for the day. Some interest was shown in the opening of bids for so-called pool cotton tomorrow.

December closed at 12.30, or net unchanged for the day, March 12.42 or 2 points net up and May 12.51 net 3 points up.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow about unchanged.

Port receipts 44,533, for week 132,352, for season 1,257,864, last season 1,916,787. Exports 35,023, for week 92,357, for season 735,859, last season 1,344,590. Port stock 2,827,886, last year 3,497,914. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 99,685, last year 136,898. Spot sales at southern markets 30,812, last year 53,266.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Cotton resumed its downward movement at the opening today, but the trend was later reversed as a result of trade buying and covering. Rallies were not fully maintained but prices held barely steady in the later trading.

December contracts after selling off to 12.23 at the start, advanced to 12.34 or 4 points net higher and closed at 12.20. The general market ended steady at net declines of 1 to 7 points.

The opening was 4 to 8 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and overnight selling orders, including a fair number from the south, and some pressure through houses with foreign connections.

The market steadied on trade buying which was later supplemented by some long operations for a rally.

The better tone of the stock market and reports of a firm spot situation in the south contributed to a more favorable sentiment. Buying was checked by the action of the grain market and after showing net gains of 2 to 4 points, the market eased slightly in the late trading under renewed liquidation and some southern selling.

Exports today 35,023 making 746,387 so far this season. Port receipts 44,533. U. S. port stocks 2,824,473.

Petitions Ask For Election On Stonewall Bond Issuance

ASPERMONT, Oct. 2. (Special)—Petitions asking for an election in Stonewall county for issuance of $50,000 in bonds to secure right-of-ways for state highways are in circulation here.

Members of the state highway commission are said to have advised county commissioners they would construct a paved roadway for highway 18 across the county when a right-of-way is furnished. The court says it has no other way of securing money for purchase of a right-of-way other than by a bond issue.

Of the proposed $50,000 issue, $30,000 would be used for No. 18 and the remainder divided among the four precincts. Part of the larger sum would be used to help connect Old Glory and Peacock, both off the main highway, with the new route.

made."

These dresses, termed Freda's wedding gowns by the prosecution, were brought into court. Edward's face maintained, without a change of expression, his studious stare.

Freda's pathos and heartaches when the young surveyor's love apparently had cooled were told by the mother.

The romance, she said, "sort of dwindled" when Bobby went away to college.

In low, halting tones, Mrs. McKetchnie — wife of a coal mine "boss" — said one week-end, Boby was home from school and told her that Freda knew he did not love her; and that he wanted to marry Margaret Crain, a music teacher.

"I said 'Bobby, is there anything wrong with Freda' " Mrs. McKechnie related.

And Bobby, she said, replied: "Of course not. Freda and I are only pals."

"I told him then," the mother added, that "'Bobby, you are breaking our hearts.'"

British "Redeal" And American "New Deal" Differ In Tempers Of People

LONDON, Oct. 2. (AP) — Methods by which the United States and Great Britain attacked their national problems differed largely in "the tempers of the people," one authority said today.

Comparisons of America's "new deal" and Great Britain's "redeal of cards" are popular here following President Roosevelt's address Sunday night in which he paid tribute to England's economic and social program.

"Programs Similar"

"Things can be done one way in a nation of this size and type, which must be attacked from a different viewpoint, although perhaps on the same general basis in the United States," the authority added.

Nevertheless, Britain's "redeal," beginning with the election of a national government and drawing support from most parties, in many ways has been along the lines of the American program.

As far back as July, 1933, one of the leading cabinet ministers, who may be characterized as "Britain's General Johnson," said "we have done everything Washington has done except ballyhoo." British statesmen, he said, are "congenitally opposed to whoopee."

Another high source said today British methods are "more orthodox" than America's but at the same time complete "redeal" here is recognized for what it is—a change in traditional methods of aiding rehabilitation.

Still Work To Be Done

There still is extensive work to be done to bring England into the full rays of the economic sunshine—the conservative party's official statements say that. Unemployment is still a problem—about 2,136,000 are without work — and the future of the foreign trade program appears uncertain.

Britain's "redeal" included abandonment of the gold standard, of the ancient free trade policy in favor of tariffs, agreements with dominions for the extension of empire trade, trade agreements with various nations and loan conversions.

Despite the closing of the cathedral to worshipers the annual pilgrimage to Magdelena has begun. The Papago Indians from Arizona have begun crossing the border for the fiesta. Yaquis have been converging on the town.

Dr. Holden Tells Of Yaqui Resentment

Yaqui Indians of Sonora were extremely resentful over removal of their patron saint, St. Francis Xavier, from its shrine at Magdalena, Mexico, when Texas Technological college's scientific expedition was in Mexico last month.

That statement came last night from Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the expedition, after he learned Yaqui drums were booming the displeasure and anger of the superstitious Indians.

Attitude Held Serious

The statue, which was reported to have been burned at Hermosillo, Sonora capital, was removed from the Magdalena cathedral about a week or 10 days before the Lubbock residents arrived. There were reports then it had been burned.

Several Yaquis asked the Americans to verify the report of the statue's destruction. Doctor Holden described their attitude as "extremely serious."

The expedition head said the Magdalena shrine was to northwestern Indians what the Virgin of Guadalupe shrine at Mexico, D. F., was to Indians of central Mexico. They felt that dire disaster would follow its removal.

Rumor of trouble came to the Americans from at least one drunken Indian, less discreet that his fellows. The expedition members understood the Mayos, Yaquis, and Papagos had conferred and sent an ultimatum to Mexican federal authorities demanding return of the statue by Thursday, Oct. 4, in time for their ceremonies.

Man Who Was Swimming With Girl Who Drowned Is Sought

WACO, Oct. 2. (AP)—W. B. Mobley, sheriff, said today he had been informed that a Waco resident who left the city yesterday told friends he was swimming with Adelaide German, 14, when she drowned in the Bosque river in spite of his efforts to save her life.

The sheriff said the man fled and, fearing officers would discover his connection and question him, finally left Waco. A description of the man and his automobile was telephoned to other cities.

Francis Bauerle, assistant district attorney, said he knew of no criminal charge that might be filed if the facts are as the man related but "I sure would like to talk to that man."

Funeral services for the girl were held yesterday at Gholson, near Waco. Members of the American Legion have started a subscription to defray the funeral expenses.

Commission Not Called To Consider Bacon Resignation

Mayor Ross Edwards last night said no special meeting of City commission had been called to consider resignation of Commissioner John F. Bacon.

Neither the mayor nor Commissioners A. J. Richardson and W. B. Price had statements on the resignation tendered Monday. Mr. Bacon explained that policies advocated by the three new members of the commission were disapproved by him and caused his ...ment.

A charge against the man probably will be filed with United States Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey. The man was released on his own recognizance. Raiders were Constable L. H. Holt, Deputy Constable G. Hauptmann known associates of Hauptmann seem to be eliminated as the German's companion of the lumberyard visit, for Schwarzkopf said that Reilley has been unable to identify the second man among the photographs of Hauptmann's known friends and acquaintances.

The linking to Hauptmann of mysterious companion who apparently knew that the former German machine gunner was allegedly passing "hot" ransom money headed for the day a list of developments which included:

Murder Conviction Predicted

Announcement by Governor A. Harry Moore that he was satisfied from evidence available that "we can convict Hauptmann on a charge of murder and that New Jersey's investigations in the case would be completed "in a few days."

Disclosure by authoritative New Jersey sources that notations in a notebook found in Hauptmann's Bronx home were considered as evidence the German carpenter was directly linked with the kidnaping.

Disclosure of evidence indicating the Lindbergh kidnapers boldly spirited the baby away over the main road leading to the Sourland mountain estate, rather than through the woods in back of the Lindbergh home there, as first believed.

Bronx District Attorney Samuel B. Foley's statement, after conferring with New Jersey authorities, that he would proceed with his plans for placing Hauptmann on trial on an extortion indictment in New York by asking for a special jury panel tomorrow; and

A story in the Washington Star that two secret witnesses have shattered Hauptmann's alibi that he was not the "John" of the Lindbergh ransom negotiations and payment.

New Jersey investigators, Col. Schwarzkopf revealed, were in a rear room of the office of the Cross, Austin and Ireland Lumber yard in the Bronx, "about Feb. 14" last, when Hauptmann and his associate appeared in the front office to arrange with Reilley for the purchase of the wood panel.

The investigators were State Police Detective Lewis Bornman, and Arthur Koehler, wood expert, who "happened" to visit the yard that day in their efforts to trace the wood used in the ladder down which the kidnapers took the baby from his crib. The wood was subsequently traced to another Bronx lumber yard, the National Mill Work and Lumber company, where Hauptmann, doing odd jobs about the yard, could have had access to it.

the governor's office could not be altered by statute."

One of the grounds given for refusing Burkett's motion was that the district attorney of Bexar county had not joined in the motion for rehearing of the decision of the court of civil appeals.

"Since the statute is to be enforced for the benefit of the state and the public at large, and since the district attorney refuses to join in any proceeding in the court of civil appeals or here, the motion can not be granted for want of the necessary party plaintiff," the opinion stated.

Time Insufficient

The court held further that the relators petition failed to mention Allred and "fails completely for necessary parties defendant." It declared, "the judges of the court of civil appeals have no real interest save to see the law righteously enforced."

"The mandamus must be denied because the judges of the court of civil appeals have offered to consider the very question relators seek to make them consider, which is relators right to file a motion for rehearing," the court further said.

Finally the court held the fourth court of civil appeals was correct in declaring the case moot, in other words, that there was not sufficient time for trial on its merits before the election.

"The supreme court has too often declared this proceding to be summary for relators to have the only alleged right to which to base their motion and petition, to wit: The right to the ordinary statutory time for trial and appellate court procedure, including the time allowed for filing motion for rehearing in the court of civil appeals,' the opinion stated.

"This claim, if sustained, would necessarily have made relators suit moot from the moment they filed it. Because it is evident the statutory times for trial, appeal and writ of error must have been exhausted before the election."

Missing Fort Bliss Officer Believed "Taken For A Ride"

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 2. (AP) — Lieut. Col. Isaac E. Titus, 53, of Fort Bliss, Tex., was missing tonight and police feared he was "taken for a ride" and robbed.

His car was found yesterday on a residential street, locked and parked, and neighbors said it had been there since 9 p. m. Saturday.

Two Persons Are Convicted Here

Lathan Walker was convicted of theft from person, and J. B. Blackmon, negro, of burglary by 99th district court juries Tuesday.

Walker was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He was charged with snatching a purse and running. Blackmon's five-year sentence was suspended. Each had pleaded guilty.

Trial of Lewis Rockamore, a negro, charged with murdering a negro woman, Mary Gould, at a Juneteenth celebration near Grovesville, was continued until today because of absent witnesses.

Negroes who saw the Gould woman shot to death said that she died as a peacemaker in stepping between Rockamore and a negro man at whom he supposedly fired.

Several other cases will be called for trial today if the Rockamore case does not take up too much time. Those cases included:

G. L. Compton and J. C. Christopher, robbery with firearms; S. E. (Slick) Melton, liquor law violation; Erwin Sheffield, negro, charged with murder; Howard Jones, driving while intoxicated, and Tommie Bleecker, liquor law violation.

Vanderbilt Case

consider giving Lady Milford-Haven the right to take the stand in regard to the maid's testimony.

Miss Calliot had been on the stand virtually the entire day, and declared her former mistress frequently was intoxicated, drank liquor before breakfast, gave cocktail parties daily and entertained at all night revels.

She related a vivid story of her five years in Mrs. Vanderbilt's menage, an era of gay life in the American colony in Paris.

"Every story they've told about me is a pack of lies," Mrs. Vanderbilt, widow of the late Reginald C. Vanderbilt, said in an interview during a recess. "There is not a word or a syllable of truth in anything they have said about me.

"I'll have plenty to say when I get my day in court."

Mrs. Benjamin Thaw, Mrs. Vanderbilt's sister, Consuelo, termed the testimony "pointed piffle maliciously arrived at—stories so ludicrous that they were more ludicrous than lewd."

Miss Calliot, her eyes flashing at the counsel and the court, was asked in detail about her mistress' personal habits.

"Did you ever see Mrs. Vanderbilt drunk?" she was asked.

"Yes, sir, sometimes," Miss Calliot replied in precise, French-accented words.

"Often?"

"I don't remember."

"More than once?"

"Oh, yes."

"Many times?"

"Many times."

"Many, many times?"

"Not many many times, but many times drunk."

"Was she under the influence of liquor as often as once a week?"

Nathan Burkan, counsel for Mrs. Vanderbilt, jumped to his feet with objection, saying:

"You'll have my witness saying my client was drunk every day if you keep on like that."

Miss Calliot testified her mistress regularly stayed in bed until noon and as late as two or three in the afternoon except when "she slept all day," that their Paris home was the scene of cocktail parties almost every afternoon and that two or three times a week her night entertainments lasted until five in the morning.

Blaring bands played in relays at Mrs. Vanderbilt's all-night parties, the maid declared, frequently awakening the entire household, including Gloria, who was in ill health.

Mitchell Sees Japanese As "Our Most Dangerous Enemy"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP) — A former assistant chief of the army air corps, outspoken, colorful Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, informed President Roosevelt's aviation policy planners today that "our most dangerous enemy is Japan and our planes should be designed to attack Japan."

Reading from copious notes, the head of the A. E. F. air forces and a leader for a unified air service, told the aviation policy commission he thought the United States should prepare for its aerial defense.

Farmers Will Cast Ballots

Lubbock County Persons Who Signed Corn-Hog Reduction Contracts Are To Vote On Continuance Of Program

Lubbock county farmers who signed corn-hog reduction contracts are to meet in their respective school houses Thursday night at 8 o'clock to vote on continuance of the program in 1935, it was announced yesterday by W. M. Ross, president of the Lubbock County Farm association.

Only farmers who signed contracts are eligible to vote. Ballots will be tabulated and reported to the secretary of agriculture.

Two Proposals Up

Two proposals are to be voted on, County Agent P. T. Montfort explained. They are:

"1—Do you favor an adjustment program dealing with corn-hogs in 1935?"

"2—Do you favor a one-contract per farm adjustment program dealing with grains and livestock, to become effective in 1936?"

Six crops of grain would be included in the proposed one-contract, wheat, barley, rye, corn, grain sorghums and flax.

Only farmers who raise grain sorghums, and who signed the 1934 corn-hog contract, are eligible to vote on the inclusion of grain sorghums in the proposed 1936 program.

Notices Are Mailed

Individual notices were mailed to each signer of contracts advising them of the meetings. There are 29 communities in the county and approximately 550 farmers signed contracts.

The meetings are of a series scheduled to be held in all Texas counties where there are corn-hog contracts in effect. Dates for the series were set for October 1-6 by B. M. Regenbrecht, College Station.

Lubbock Rainfall Is Below Normal

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station and weather observers, yesterday said that rainfall to Oct. 1 was only 60 per cent of normal for the first 9 months of 1934.

Precipitation was 8.89 inches as compared with a normal of 14.81 inches. The deficiency was 5.92 inches.

"While the two rains, one on the 14th and the other on the 23rd, fell slowly as a whole, and penetrated the ground, they were too late to be supply of roughage and furnish excellent seedbed for the sowing of winter pasture grains."

Precipitation for the month was 1.86 inches, a deficiency of .64 of an inch from normal September rainfall.

Maximum temperature was 100 degrees, minimum 44 and mean mean, 73.5. Maximum relative humidity, 76 per cent; minimum, 28 per cent; mean, 56.9 per cent. Wind run total, 5,037 miles; normal wind run, 4,337 miles. Total evaporation, 6.892 inches.

There were 18 clear days, three cloudy days and nine partly cloudy days.

Suits To Enjoin 25 East Texas Refineries On File

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Suits to enjoin 25 East Texas refineries from alleged violation of a Texas Railroad commission order prohibiting the storage of crude oil in open earthen pits were filed in Travis county district court today by the attorney general's department.

District Judge W. F. Robertson set the applications for injunctions for hearing October 12.

Storage of more than 1,250,000 barrels of oil in the Kilgore-Gladewater refining area in violation of the commission's rule was alleged in the petitions. Amounts charged against particular refineries varied from 200 to 650,000 barrels.

Prohibition of open, earthen storage of oil was ordered by the commission to lessen fire hazard and prevent waste of crude.

Refining companies named defendants were Foshee, Pelican, Condor, Guldoor, Artex, Rio, Tyreco, Shoreline, Pennant, La Pren, Arrow, Roco, Goldman, Southport, Keystone, Union, Lone Star, Lake, Consolidated Texas and Century; and Gilliland Gasoline company, Inc., Ocean Petroleum Corp., Frair's Topping and Refining company, and Texas Oil Products company.

Coaches Talk At Lions' Luncheon

With two snappy, interesting talks by Weldon Chapman, head coach Burl Huffman, assistant coach, and with other members of the Lubbock High school coaching staff as guests, the Lubbock Lions club yesterday noon was "wised up" on high school gridiron dope. Dr. E. L. Hunt, program chairman, presided.

Coach Chapman expressed appreciation of the support given the team by the club. Huffman talked about future games on the schedule and discussed the probable strength of traditional opponents, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview and Borger. He closed with a tribute to Weldon Chapman as the "best high school coach" he had worked with.

Guests included: Rose Ayres, Benny McWilliams, E. J. Lowrey, business manager, and Captain Blackie Young.

Four Lion Cubs, John A. Matthews, Fred Allen, R. C. Young and Virgil Ballard, were inducted into full membership in a ceremony conducted by F. A. Kleinschmidt. It included presentation of membership pins. The four cubs were seated at a table in the center, with three nursing bottles filled with milk.

Dan Blair urged Lions to support the Salvation Army drive for funds which begins October 9. Rev. W. R. Vivrett, Christian church minister, asked support of a Sunday school parade Saturday afternoon.

Dr. F. W. Standefer will be the chief speaker next week, President John Mitchell announced.

Another Extra Session Looms

Governor Ferguson Keeping Ear Closely Attuned To Agitation For New Meeting Of Texas Legislature

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson kept an ear closely attuned today to agitation for another special session of the legislature.

Soon after the last session adjourned, her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, said the reaction from legislators after they had re-contacted their constituents would determine the governor's final attitude.

Bombarded With Advice

Since then Governor Ferguson has been bombarded with advice on the subject; advice overwhelmingly in favor of another session, if external evidence can be believed.

She has talked to a number of legislative members, although most of these have gone home. Local newspapers have been full of editorials advocating another extraordinary session. Mayor Tom Miller of Austin has urged the governor to lose no time in getting the lawmakers together again.

Cline Urges Poll

It is understood that Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, chairman of the executive committee of the Texas centennial, has asked mayors of many cities to poll their senators and representatives on the question of a special session.

Through it all Governor Ferguson has remained silent, at least in so far as making known her decision. She and Mr. Ferguson previously had indicated, however, that they were dissatisfied with some results of the last legislature session.

Texas CCC Camps Will Use McKinnon Athletics Plan

A program of mass athletics proposed by Lt. James G. McKinnon, of the 9th infantry reserve, and used at the Lake Worth camp of the Civilian Conservation corps, when he commanded it, has been adopted for the 33 CCC camps in Texas, he said Tuesday afternoon.

Lieutenant McKinnon was here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. McKinnon, 808 Avenue R.

After leaving the University of Texas, where he was a varsity trackman, McKinnon coached high school athletics.

The CCC program has the 100-yard dash, 12-pound shotput, running broadjump, and an officers' 50-yard dash as events. A meet would be conducted simultaneously at each camp and the averages compared by mail or telepragh.
