Ford To Seek Military Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is expected to ask Congress in a major foreign policy speech tonight for more humanitarian and military aid for besieged Indochina.

He declined to make public the exchanges but declared that "in substance, the private exchanges do not differ from what was stated publicly" by Nixon and others at the time. Nessen referred to several of Nixon's public statements as evidence of what he said was in the "confidential exchanges."

In his address to a joint session of Congress, Ford will appeal for a bipartisan approach to foreign policy and ask for "a strong working relationship" with Congress on international matters.

'It Was Nightmare,' Kin Says Of Death

By JOHN EDWARDS
"It was just kind of a wild nightmare," a local relative of a Tulsa kidnap-murder victim said today.

Earl Edward Bell, 62, night manager of a downtown Piccadilly Cafeteria, was kidnapped in Tulsa and killed last week.

He owned and operated a Big Spring cafe called the Quick Lunch at Second and Main Streets for six years starting in 1956. Mrs. Russell L. Christenson, Big Spring, sister of the victim's wife, said.

Bell was kidnapped as he left work the night of March 30. His supervisor, Vernon Dennis, got a call from the kidnapers at 9:50 p.m.

"REAL UGLY"
Doris Marie Bell, 14, answered a second call from the kidnapers while her mother and older sister, Mrs. Celia Nading, looked for Bell.

Those were the first of several phone calls. "The man who called was real ugly to my sister," Mrs. Christenson said.

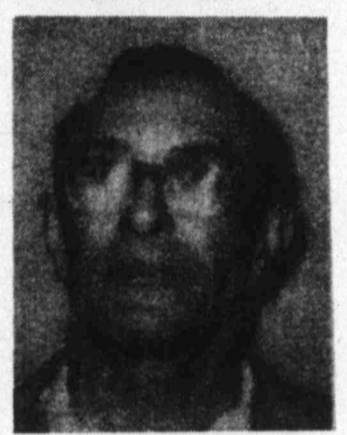

Mrs. Nading, accompanied by police, made money drops at several locations to meet the kidnapers' demands. The kidnapers failed to show each time.

They wanted $20,000 ransom from the victim's wife, Loretta, and his supervisor.

On April 2, Bell's partly clad body was found on a country road. He had two bullet wounds in his head.

Law enforcement officers had arrested four suspects and were seeking a fifth.

Mrs. Christenson praised Tulsa police and the Federal

EARL E. BELL

Bureau of Investigation for their work. Police maintained guards inside and outside of the Bell residence while Bell was missing.

Returning to Big Spring last Wednesday, Mrs. Christenson stayed with the family last week.

After selling his cafe in downtown Big Spring, Bell worked for Gandy's Dairies Inc., here for one year before moving.

SURVIVORS
The Bell children attended Forsan Schools from 1957 to 1963, a school spokeswoman said. Steve Bell, the oldest, was graduated in 1961. James Bell, a second son, also attended Howard College.

James works as a lineman for an Odessa electric company. Steve married the former Miss Reta Carol Hardy, a 1963 graduate of Garden City High School. Now, Steve owns and operates a radiator shop in Desota and attends college.

A native Oklahoman, Bell was a veteran of World War II and a member of the First Christian Church.

'Help, Help My Friend Is Shot!'

MIAMI (AP) — "Help, help my friend is shot!" Domingo Guterrez cried after an afternoon swim by five boys in a private pool ended in the fatal wounding of one of the youngsters.

Domingo, 12, said he and four friends slipped into the pool of a private apartment building Wednesday to escape the 80-degree heat. He said Maria Otero, owner of the building, got angry at them.

"She screamed for us to get out of the pool, and we were going to," he told newsmen later. "We started running away, and she shot at us and hit Johnnie."

Several hours after the incident, Mrs. Otero, 56, surrendered to police. She was charged with first-degree murder and is being held without bond.

Police said Mrs. Otero refused to discuss the incident. She is scheduled to appear at a magistrate's hearing today.

Neighbors said the shot, fired from a fifth-floor balcony, struck Johnnie Perez, 13, in the head. He stumbled across the street, then collapsed face down on the grass.

A neighbor said Domingo ran to his friend's aid.

"He was crying, and blood was just pumping out of the back of the other boy's head," the woman said.

Doctors were able to keep the Perez boy alive for about 90 minutes, but he was pronounced dead at a local hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Neighbor Kathleen Leger, 21, said Mrs. Otero had chased the youths away from the pool several times previously.

"The kids usually go from one building to another so they can swim somewhere," Miss Leger said. "Just last week, I saw Mrs. Otero chase them from the building."

Hilda Sanabria, a neighbor, said Mrs. Otero is a "very kind woman who is always inviting our children to come and swim in her pool." But she said Mrs. Otero didn't like the children to come uninvited.

Accord Between Cosden And Union Is Reached

A strike of members of International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826 at Cosden Oil & Chemical Company's local complex was averted 15 minutes before the 8 o'clock deadline this morning, when negotiators emerged from a meeting to announce an agreement had been reached on all contested issues. The conference had gone on continuously since 9 a.m., Wednesday and was the fourth such meeting over a period of ten days.

"This was an honorable settlement," Kenneth Howell, manager of Local 826 said, "we're happy with it and we feel like officials of the company are, too. I would like to express appreciation on behalf of the union for the spirit of cooperation shown in the talks by Ron Medley, Eb Boulioum and Wally Whittington."

Medley is the manager of chemical maintenance and operations at the refinery. Boulioum is manager of plant services, maintenance, industrial relations and purchases while Whittington is the refinery superintendent.

The strike was originally called for 7 a.m., today but the deadline was extended one hour when it appeared a settlement on key issues was near.

The contract has now been extended until next Tuesday in order that members of the union can complete a ratification vote of the new offer. The balloting is due to be completed by Monday night. If the union does accept the offer, and there is little doubt that it won't, the pact will extend for two years, according to Howell.

Both sides made some concessions in the talks, it was disclosed. Overall, the refinery lab will be manned by five fewer men, the polystyrene unit will get along with four fewer people. Cosden, it was previously revealed, wanted 15 jobs eliminated.

Personnel at the refinery will get full retirement benefits at age 60 and the company accepted what was described as "the oil industry package."

In addition, union members will have an immediate 75 cents per hour wage increase, retroactive to Jan. 8, will benefit from another four percent wage boost July 1 and qualify for an eight percent pay hike effective Jan. 1, 1976. The union is also in a position to reopen talks anytime cost of living expenses exceed five percent. The 25-year service award, wherein workers qualify for bonuses amounting to a month's pay, was also retained in the new contract.

The union now boasts 485 members. When a strike vote was taken recently, 96 percent of the members balloted to support the walkout.

Cosden's problems would have had no immediate effect upon either the Sid Richardson or Cabot carbon black plants, although both firms depend heavily upon materials produced by Cosden.

Cabot likely will curtail production within the immediate future, however, which means a layoff of some personnel, but its problems can be traced to a slackening demand for its products rather than a shortage of materials.

The slump that hit the automobile business months ago was a long time in being felt in the Southwest and more specifically in the carbon black plants which supply products that go into the manufacture of tires and other materials.

Cabot officials said they did not know how many people would have to be laid off and estimates by neutral observers have varied. At the present time, Cabot employs 107 people. Union officials say more than 20 could be placed on inactive status.

Fighting Outside Xuan Loc

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Fighting for Xuan Loc, the provincial capital 40 miles east of Saigon, raged on today and government officials claimed another North Vietnamese attack was repulsed. Other sources reported heavy fighting outside the city.

Military analysts said it was still too soon to say whether the repeated attacks on Xuan Loc, capital of Long Khan Province, were the prelude to a drive or Saigon. Nor could they say whether the resistance being shown by the defenders of the city meant that the South Vietnamese army was stiffening after the debacle that cost it three-fourths of the country and would now stand fast and fight.

On the political front, police broke up a small antigovernment demonstration by about 30 Buddhist youths in suburban Gia Dinh city. The protesters carried banners calling for President Nguyen Van Thieu to resign and an end to the draft. They passed out leaflets reading: "Vietnamese lives must not be exchanged for American dollars."

In other Indochina developments:

—South Vietnam will allow 219 more Vietnamese orphans to be airlifted to the United States on Friday, said Betty Tisdale of Columbus, Ga., who has been lobbying for the airlift for two days. "I am not going to let the Communists have these children," she added.

—South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Vuong Van Bac flew to Saudi Arabia on Thieu's instructions and will meet Saturday with King Khaled and hold meetings with Saudi leaders "on matters concerning the two nations."

Political Clout May Be Shifting

By TROY BRYANT
The political axis in eastern Howard County appears to be shifting a bit to the west.

Although Sand Springs is not an incorporated town, the community has been electing an increasing number of residents to various boards. One reason for this is that there are 802 registered voters in Sand Springs, while Coahoma has only 602. Also, Sand Springsers seem to have been voting alike to a greater extent than those in Coahoma.

Last Saturday Sand Springs residents were named to three out of four places to be filled.

Both places on the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 board were filled by Sand Springs residents, which means that all five board members still reside in that area.

One of three Sand Springs individuals listed as a candidate for the Coahoma Independent School District was elected to one of the two posts open. Three of the board members now are Sand Springs residents.

Perhaps another reason for the Sand Springs clout is that they are having better election participation. In two elections Saturday 47 per cent of the potential voters in Sand Springs; in Coahoma an average of only 45 per cent turned out.

Coahoma did send a good turnout of voters to the School Board election, however, as 55 per cent of the voters voted in that election, re-electing Wendell Shives.

They failed to elect the other incumbent David Barr, Vincent.

Sand Springs resident Don Myers picked up only 67 votes in Coahoma and six votes in Vincent, but he gathered 304 votes in Sand Springs to win election to the school board.

Myers and Shive join carry-over School Board trustees Rodney Brooks, Johnny Justiss, and Donald Webb, all of Coahoma and Carroll Choate and Bill Fryrear of Sand Springs.

In the water district race, Marshall Day and Carl Gray polled 263 and 269 votes in the Sand Springs box and only 19 and 15 votes in the Coahoma box, but won anyway on the strength of the Sand Springs voter turnout.

The Coahoma residents Pete Banks and Bobby Roman polled 174 and 170 in their home box and picked up 80 and 60 votes in the Sand Springs box. Absentee ballots brought the totals up to 293 and 294 for the Sand Springs candidates while the Coahoma candidates polled 264 and 239 votes. One other candidate, J. B. Hall, who lives between Sand Springs and Coahoma, polled a total of 84 votes.

Three other Sand Springs residents, Oscar Cagle, Theo Ernest, and Owen Johnston hold the remainder of the Water Board posts.

One thing Sand Springs residents haven't been able to agree upon, however, is whether the community should be incorporated. Attempts have either lost out or generated so much heat they were withdrawn.

The World At-A-Glance

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Some people have long contended that modern art has gone to the dogs. Now they have proof. Dogs in the Mississippi Valley around Rock Island have been invited to submit their creative works in a competition Sunday sponsored by the Quad-City Dog Obedience Club. "We got the idea when Alexis Boyar, Afghan hound, won the $50 Valley Weaver's prize at the Mid-Mississippi Valley Show in Davenport last October," club president Judith Masat said. "The art community was somewhat stunned when Alex's chewed mitten won the prize," she said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Longterm Senate "hawks" and "doves" remain divided on the future U.S. role in the Vietnam war as Congress awaits President Ford's recommendations tonight. In a replay of previous themes in debates over Southeast Asia, some senators who were active earlier in opposing U.S. involvement in Indochina now advocate limiting further aid for South Vietnam to humanitarian and rescue efforts. By the same token, some of those who supported the U.S. war effort before American troops were withdrawn in 1973 appear generally willing to supply more arms aid to South Vietnam.

Today's Bright Spot

The number of outpatients who sought treatment at the Big Spring VA Hospital has almost doubled in the past five years. There were 7,943 outpatients in 1969, as compared to 14,469 in 1974.

'I WILL NEVER TALK WITH THE ENEMY AGAIN' FBI Itching For Shootout?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Phillip K. Shinnick, the latest radical sports figure slated to be quizzed in the Patricia Hearst case, will decline to answer the questions of a federal grand jury, his attorney says.

The stand is the one advocated by his friends Jack Scott and Bill Walton.

Shinnick's session with the grand jury was scheduled for today. Scott and his wife, Micki, emerged Wednesday from hiding. With Walton at their side, they told newsmen they would not answer questions about the Hearst case.

They said the U. S. government is "morally bankrupt" and added, "We believe a position of total non-collaboration with this government is our moral responsibility."

GUNNED DOWN
Walton, of the Portland Trailblazers of the National Basketball Association, said he was sorry he had spoken with the FBI and "you can rest assured that I will never talk to the enemy again."

James Larson, Shinnick's lawyer, said the onetime Olympic long jumper "had already decided that he's not going to answer any questions."

Mrs. Scott said she and her husband went into hiding because they had fears of being "gunned down by some triggerhappy agent."

after they were linked to Miss Hearst, 21, the daughter of Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner.

HIDEOUT
She was kidnaped on Feb. 4, 1974, by the Symbionese Liberation Army. She later allegedly joined her captors.

"From the moment she was kidnaped, her life was threatened because the FBI was itching for a shootout with the SLA," Scott said during a news conference at which the Scotts refused to answer questions.

Six members of the SLA were killed in a blazing shootout with Los Angeles police in May 1974. Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris are believed to be the only members of the terrorist group still at large.

The Scotts did not mention the Pennsylvania farmhouse they reportedly rented last summer — a spot pinpointed as a possible hideout of the fugitive heiress.

LOVED ONES

"Our actions of the past year are completely defensible," said Mrs. Scott. "If we somehow acted to avert bloodshed and killing, we certainly find nothing to apologize for or be ashamed of."

"We have chosen to surface so the harassment of our loved ones will cease," she said, referring to grand jury subpoenas of friends such as Shinnick and of Scott's parents. His father and mother, John and Louise Scott of Las Vegas, resisted testifying and have been excused by the Hearst grand jury.

Scott, 33, a former athletic director of Oberlin College in Ohio, has been known for his criticism of the values motivating professional athletes. Walton, 22, shared many of Scott's views.

"I would like to reiterate my solidarity with Micki and Jack Scott and also to urge the people of the world to stand with us in our rejection of the United States government," said Walton.

SCOTTS AT NEWS CONFERENCE — Jack and Micki Scott are shown at a press conference in San Francisco Wednesday where they appeared with their attorney to explain why they have been hiding from the FBI in its investigation into the Patricia Hearst case. "We have decided to surface so the harassment of our loved ones will cease," Mrs. Scott said.

To Review Suicide Judgment

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court agreed today to review a judgment against Exxon in the suicide of an Abilene truck driver 34 months after he was injured at a refinery.

Oral arguments were set for May 14 on five of Exxon's 15 alleged points of error.

A suit was filed for damages in August 1971, and this was combined with a plea of "wrongful death" after William Brecheen Jr. left a note on the kitchen table and walked out to his garage, where he shot himself with a rifle in December 1972.

A Harris County jury granted damages to his widow, Sue, who had remarried by the time of the trial in 1974. In its points of error, Exxon said the Houston Court of Civil Appeals should have reversed the conviction because of the remarriage.

Court records show that Brecheen signed a statement releasing Humble—which changed its name to Exxon—from liability when he drove his Oil Transport Co. truck into Humble's Baytown plant March 10, 1970.

While he was there, a three-inch loading pipe came loose and a stream of oil hit Brecheen flush in the face, knocking him down.

The next night, his wife said, he went out of his head and she had to call for help to hold him down. He kept trying to put on his clothes to go to work in the middle of the night, she said.

Brecheen later was diagnosed as having a "residual type schizophrenia" and was treated at the West Texas Medical Center and Timberlawn Psychiatric Hospital in Dallas. The prognosis of Timberlawn's director, Dr. James Peden, was "short term-favorable, long term-guarded."

In regard to the release, the appeals court said the relationship between Brecheen, his employer—which did 90 per cent of its business with Humble—and Humble was such that the "disparity of bargaining power" made the agreement void.

Charter Revision Goes To Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Only a final Senate vote and seven months stand between Texans and a decision on a new state constitution.

The document, resurrected from the failure of the 1974 constitutional convention, cleared its last major obstacle Wednesday when the House finished its article-by-article debate.

Senators had passed the document first, and must take a final vote—with a two-thirds majority required—on whether to accept several amendments added in the two-day House debate.

Approval of those amendments—none of them controversial—would send the constitution to the voters for a final decision at a Nov. 4 statewide election.

AUTOMATIC RIGHT
Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said the Senate constitutional revision committee would check the amendments first, and the full Senate would vote on them next Tuesday.

"We have achieved the unachievable, in the eyes of some," declared Speaker Bill Clayton following the House's 135-12 vote on the final article, which gives the people an automatic right to call a new convention in 30 years.

House members, whose chamber served as convention hall, rose and applauded when the electronic tally board flashed that last vote, showing well over the required two-thirds majority.

A sponsor of the constitution, Rep. Ray Hutchinson, R-Dallas, gave much of the credit to the 30 new representatives who did not serve in the all-legislator convention.

"Without their support, it would never have passed," he said.

In fact, there were several close roll calls, including Tuesday's 103-39 decision with just three votes to spare for the education article.

Wednesday's closest decision was 109-37 for the general provisions article after considerable debate on a section spelling out the legislature's implicit power to outlaw gambling, along with a proviso enabling lawmakers to exempt church bingo.

Rep. Ronald Coleman, D-El Paso, sought to change the word "bingo" to "games," but failed, 39-98. "I think it is time we got rid of the trade name bingo in the constitution," Coleman said.

Rep. Neil Caldwell, D-Angleton, said making any change in the gambling section—carefully worded during the convention to appease various church groups—might endanger passage of the general provisions article by the voters.

STRIP POKER
Besides, he said, if all "games" of chance are allowed as fund-raisers for churches and charitable organizations, "we will have permitted roulette, punch boards, poker—even strip poker."

The voters will vote separately on eight propositions, one for each article, except the separation of powers, executive and legislative articles, which were incorporated into a single item.

Rejection of any new article would automatically retain the corresponding article of the 1876 constitution.

'VANDALISM SURTAX'
Estimated 70,000 Teachers Assaulted

WASHINGTON (AP) — American taxpayers are billed an estimated $500 million each year as a "vandalism surtax" for damage done to the nation's schools, a Senate subcommittee reports.

In addition, teachers are the victims of an estimated 70,000 serious physical assaults each year, and "literally hundreds of thousands of students are assaulted," the report said.

"The ledger of violence confronting our schools reads like a casualty list from a war zone or a vice squad annual report," said

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee's juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

The subcommittee's report was based on a survey of incidents in 757 of the nation's largest school districts from 1970 through 1973.

Bayh said there were 100 students murdered in 1973 in those 757 school districts alone.

Using projections based on the nationwide survey, the subcommittee reported that in the three-year period there was a 77 per cent increase in assaults on teachers and an 85.3 per cent increase in assaults on students.

In the same period, there was a 36.7 per cent increase in robberies of students and teachers, a 40.1 per cent increase in rapes and attempted rapes, and an 18.5 per cent increase in homicides committed in schools.

The number of weapons confiscated by school personnel increased 54.4 per cent.

"There was no area of the country unaffected by these problems," Bayh said. "School violence and vandalism respects no boundaries whether it be regional, racial or economic."

Bayh's subcommittee has scheduled hearings on the school vandalism and violence situation, and Bayh has introduced legislation to provide financial aid to school districts to map out alternative education programs and security plans "to reduce delinquency and crime in and against our public schools."

Daniel Jr., who was president of the convention, issued a one-page statement from his home in Liberty commending the legislature for salvaging the work of the seven-month, $3 million convention.

DEADLOCKED
The convention, deadlocked mainly over emotional side issues that would have submitted separately on the ballot with the constitution, failed by three votes to send the people a document.

"I am pleased and proud of the action taken by the House of Representatives today and the Senate last week on the important issue of constitutional revision," Daniel said. "I can and will support approval by the voters of the document that will now undoubtedly be submitted to them at the general election in November 1975."

Senators passed to the House on voice vote a bill authorizing the state to assist the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in keeping the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway clear.

Six Lawyers To Appeal Contempt Of Court Raps

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Six South Texas lawyers say they will appeal to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans a contempt of court citation issued by a federal judge for their refusal to answer questions before a grand jury.

Judge Ben Connally held the six lawyers in contempt Wednesday after they refused to answer certain questions during a grand jury probe concerning employment of lawyers handling marijuana cases.

The six attorneys were identified as Robert Izaguirre and Arturo Guerra of McAllen, Rudy Garza of Corpus Christi, Knox Jones of McAllen, Ramon Garcia of Edinburg and Jose Antonio Canales of Corpus Christi.

About 20 lawyers from South Texas have been called this week to testify before the grand jury. The six attorneys who refused to answer questions said they would not testify because to do so would be a violation of the privilege between attorney and client.

Judge Connally asked Frank Maloney, attorney for the six lawyers, and Asst. U.S. Atty. Ronald Tonkin to seek agreement on some questions which might be asked that would not force the lawyers to make disclosures which would violate the attorney-client relationship.

Beginning in May, the duchess plans to greet up to 30 people every Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday from 6 to 8 p.m., show them the house with rich decorations that include a painting by Thomas Gainsborough.

Champagne will be served in the dining room where the duchess has entertained J. Paul Getty, David Niven, ex-King Umberto of Italy and Marlene Dietrich, among others.

American Urged To Plant Seed, Skip Meals April 17

By LOUISE COOK (Associated Press Writer)

Americans are being urged to plant seeds, study and skip meals on Thursday, April 17, in a nationwide "Food Day" campaign to focus attention on global problems of hunger and nutrition.

The effort is sponsored by the nonprofit Center for Science in the Public Interest of Washington, D.C., and has a list of backers including several congressmen, clergymen and consumer advocates.

Governors of six states — Connecticut, Nebraska, Kentucky, Colorado, Vermont and New York — have proclaimed April 17 as Food Day and the governor of Massachusetts is expected to issue a similar declaration next Thursday.

A spokesman for the science center said the chief goal of the campaign "is to get people thinking about food issues as a whole."

Activities at the local level are being organized by a variety of groups, including Oxfam-America, a sponsor of last November's "Fast for a World Harvest" when many Americans skipped meals and sent the money they would have spent to charities to alleviate starvation and improve agricultural production in developing nations.

Oxfam spokesmen say the November fast raised $232,000 and predict that "this event will be much more successful." There is no breakdown available of how the $232,000 was spent, but Oxfam officials say administrative costs account for about 13 per cent of funds raised.

The current Oxfam campaign has been dubbed "Plant a Seed for Change" and is designed to focus on the producing, rather than the consuming, end of the food problem. Oxfam is calling on everyone who can to plant seeds and send an equivalent amount of money to antihunger programs.

Other events range from public school teach-ins sponsored by the Department of Consumer Affairs in Louisville, Ky., to $100-a-plate "nondinners" in Los Angeles and Sacramento, Calif., featuring a menu of speeches only.

Food Day organizers say problems of production, nutrition and prices are interrelated. They are conducting an educational campaign aimed at telling people more about the nutritional value of what they eat.

The science center has prepared a controversial list of the "Terrible Ten" — foods that allegedly "epitomize everything that is wrong with the American food supply." The list includes some breakfast foods, a soft drink and prime grade beef, "fattened on grain that could otherwise be consumed by hungry people."

The list has come in for some criticism including attacks from nutrition experts who say it is arbitrary

PLAN TO AIRLIFT ORPHANS FROM CAMBODIA

It's Phony Political Ploy?

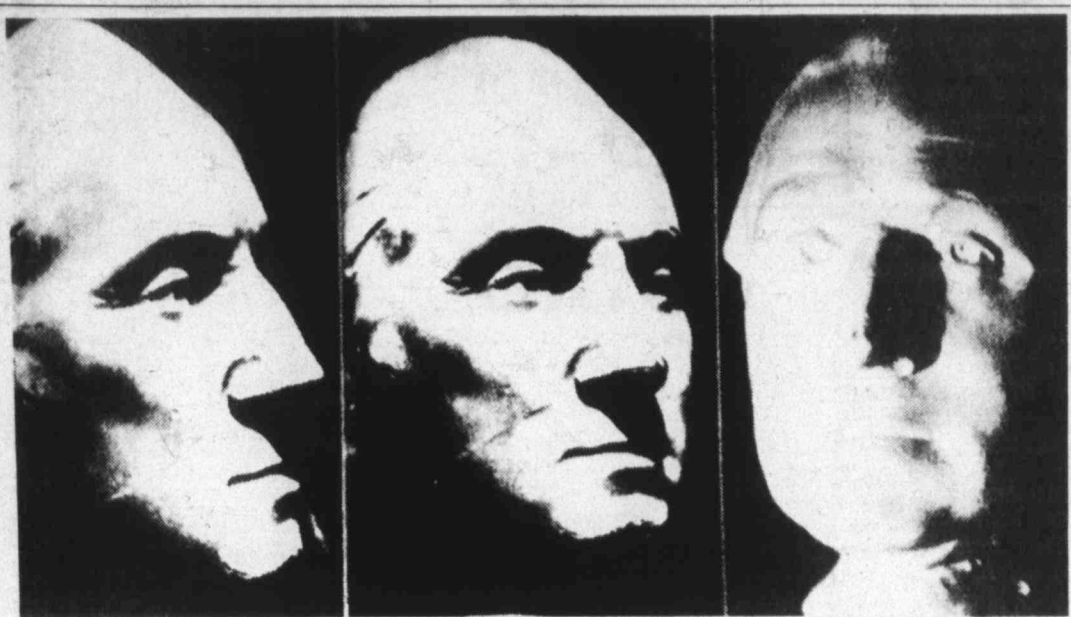

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Plans are being made to fly hundreds of Cambodian orphans to the United States and Australia amid vehement criticism from American diplomats that the Indochina babylifts are a "phony emotional issue."

World Vision, a U.S. relief agency, is planning to send more than 200 children to families waiting for them in the United States. Two freelance American journalists, Denis Cameron and Lee Rudakewych, are trying to organize an airlift of at least 350 orphans to Australia.

So far only 22 children have left. A U.S. Embassy spokesman stressed that the only part it is going to play is to provide transportation out of the country for the journalists' babylift. He said the Embassy had not intervened with the Cambodian government for permission to evacuate the orphans.

Reliable U.S. sources said the Embassy agreed to help Cameron and Rudakewych only after explicit instructions from Washington. "It's a phony issue to take people's minds off the real events here," one U.S. diplomat said. "The American people have to get some phony emotional issue. That was the same with the POWs and now they have manufactured the orphan issue."

This attitude was shared by other Western officials here. Several key U.S. Embassy officials regard the babylifts

BICENTENNIAL PROJECT — As its major Bicentennial effort, Washington State will try to purchase for $375,000 this life mask of George Washington, created in 1785 by the French sculptor Jean Antoine Houdon. If the fund drive is successful, the life mask will be unveiled July 4, 1976, in the State Capitol rotunda.

Area Grants Approved By Planning Group

By MARJ CARPENTER

A continuation of a City of Big Spring grant to study and train personnel was given favorable comment by members of the board of directors of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission at their monthly meeting at Terminal Wednesday.

Aviation Administration and $32,742 from the Texas Aeronautics Commission for construction of a runway along the present alignment of the graded, unpaved strip now in existence. Local matching funds in the amount of $32,741 make a project total of $261,934.

Nabar Martinez works under Fatout's supervision here in Big Spring. Approval was also given the Permian Basin Aging plan. Ernie Crawford, executive director of the council, told the group that three cities received final approval to apply for HUD funds out of the original 21 who requested.

The request is for $15,000 from the Civil Service Commission for the implementation of a personnel services project. Local funds amount to $3,750. The objective of the project is to improve the quality of the city's service through improved personnel administration in certain key areas and functions. Another objective is to provide guidance materials in how to improve standards of personnel management.

Other projects approved included $61,529.60 for the Midland Community Action Agency for five mini-buses to use in the counties under their program. These include Midland, Ector, Dawson, Reeves and Pecos. The buses will be used in taking the elderly to various activities and will include equipment to place wheelchairs in the bus.

They include Grand Falls who are allowed to request $100,000 for improvements of a leaky gas line into the city. They were given priority number 18. Fort Stockton was allowed to apply for $200,000 for drainage problems, listed as number 22 and Big Spring is allowed to apply for $300,000 funds for water and sewer lines and housing demolition in low income areas and were given the priority number of 49.

STANTON AIRPORT The board also gave their stamp of approval to the request from the city of Stanton for airport construction and improvements. The city is requesting $196,451 from the Federal Matching funds come from the Permian Basin's Human Service Delivery System which was set up last year. The West Texas Education Center had a $20,300 grant approved for obtaining information on education projects, such as the Salt Lake City Reading program and providing information to local educational agencies. Dr. J.A. Donaldson of the education center, appeared before the group.

Among board members from this area of the region who attended were Harold Hall, Big Spring city councilman who is secretary of the board; Judge Leslie Pratt, Lamesa and Judge Carroll Yater, Stanton.

Three Attend Port Hearing

Big Spring had three representatives at the Texas Aeronautics hearing at Lamesa today, in which they were reviewing needs of airports in Howard, Dawson, Martin, Gaines and Terry Counties.

Representing Big Spring were Adolph Swartz, Ralph McLaughlin and Terry Hansen, representing the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and Industrial groups. The county was unable to send a representative.

The county airport here was among those shown on film at the meeting, with brief talks about the needs and conditions of the various airports in the region.

Election returns will be canvassed and new directors installed at the board meeting of Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 at 7 p.m. today.

TSTA Rally Is Planned

AUSTIN — A giant-size rally of public school supporters is scheduled for Saturday, April 26, in Austin under sponsorship of the Texas State Teachers Association.

DIRECT HIT — Robert L. Van Fossan Jr., wipes banana cream pie from his face after being struck by Pie Face International during a birthday celebration given by friends last week in Washington. Pie throwers stalk their targets in all sorts of places, pushing pies in the faces of unsuspecting citizens.

The local unit of the TSTA is attempting to send a busload of teachers to the rally. This will be discussed, along with other items about teacher legislation at a TSTA meeting at the high school cafeteria at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Pie-Throwing Fad Spreading

By the Associated Press

Splat! Here come the pie throwers. Stalking their targets in classrooms and cafes, on campus and maybe even on Capitol Hill, they are pushing pies in the faces of unsuspecting citizens.

Minister of Refugees Kong Orm said the cabinet had recently passed a special measure allowing the orphans to depart without the usual formalities.

The fad started almost a year ago with the establishment of Pie Kill Unlimited in New York. Rex Weiner, the organizer, was a former political prankster who decided that "politicians shouldn't have a monopoly on dry tricksters."

"The only solution is to let them go," he said. "We favor this evacuation to countries like the United States, Canada, Australia or Europe. These countries can take care of them."

For a fee of $40 and up, Weiner and his crew threw pies in offices and at conventions and parties. The practice appears to have spread, with some of the pie throwers operating on an amateur basis and others organizing into money-making groups.

Pollard Named To Directorate

HOUSTON — Bill Pollard, of Pollard Chevrolet in Big Spring, was recently elected to the board of directors of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association at its 58th annual convention held in Houston.

Most of the victims apparently take their faceful of pie filling or shaving cream in good humor, but a few have filed charges. Bruce Vallone, 20, of Cranston, R.I., was charged with assaulting a teacher at his former high school after he and three other young men entered Cranston High School and tossed a pie at Albert J. Gambardella. Vallone has pleaded innocent.

Four Are Held After Spree

At least one person was arrested after a spree which four young adults held on Howard College campus in the early morning hours.

A teacher at Wilson Junior High in Glendale, Calif., made a citizen's arrest after her glasses were knocked off when a 14-year-old girl, who was moving to Florida the next day, took aim with a cream pie. The girl was released in her father's custody and left town as scheduled.

Gas Pilferers Arrested Here

Two runaway youths from Plainview, ages 13 and 15, were caught red-handed by a Veterans Administration Hospital security officer stealing gas from vehicles at the hospital Wednesday night.

Two Groton, Conn., high school students were charged with breach of the peace and reckless endangerment when they threw a shaving cream pie at a science teacher. Officials decided not to prosecute one of the students and the other case was expected to be dropped. The principal said the incident "started out as a joke and backfired" when the teacher struggled, cutting his knee and tearing his clothing.

Tommy Deaton Is Promoted

LAMESA — New Police Chief Lee Bartlett Jr., promoted Tommy Deaton to the rank of sergeant and named one new patrolman this week in revamping of the department.

The pie throwers pick their targets carefully. A group called Pie in the Eye, Inc., at the University of South Carolina, said it would throw pies at anyone if the price was right. The group turned down an offer of $75 to hit Gov. James B. Edwards, saying the fee wasn't high enough "considering all the possible consequences."

AS PEOPLE SCRAMBLE TO ADOPT VIET WAR ORPHANS

American Children Homeless, Helpless, Alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — As people scramble to adopt Vietnamese war orphans, thousands of American children remain orphaned and ignored. Government officials estimate that there are between 100,000 and 120,000 children in foster care homes and institutions around the country. Many are victims of parental neglect. Others are caught in legal snarls and have never been freed for adoption. Most are members of minority groups, a factor that makes them less attractive to some foster parents. And many have physical handicaps, emotional problems or come only with brothers and sisters in a package deal. Most are no longer infants while many prospective foster parents desire only infants.

"We must do everything possible for American children," said Ursula M. Gallagher, an expert in child adoption in the Children's Bureau within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. "Some Americans think we have a greater responsibility to Vietnamese children fathered by American soldiers than to those children already here," she said. But Miss Gallagher said she has reservations about some of those offering to adopt Vietnamese children. "It seems to me the reaction to the Vietnamese children is an emotional response in a crisis," she said. "Many people haven't thought through what it will mean to them if they adopt one of these children.

"They must be aware of the different needs the child will have in respect to his identity, his biological parents and his homeland. Many people who are reaching out haven't thought about the psychological and financial problems. They're reaching out to children who need the most, but children here need homes, too." Adoption experts explain that the number of American babies available for adoption has been declining steadily for the past few years because of the increased number of abortions, improved contraceptive methods and a general interest in smaller families. It also has become more socially acceptable for unwed mothers to keep their children. Social workers express delight that the recent focus on the Vietnamese orphans has sparked a general public interest in adoption. "We've received 3,500 calls in the last five days," said Mrs. Lenore Campbell, director of the Los Angeles County Department of Adoption in California. "A lot of people are interested in the Vietnamese children because they want infants, and we simply don't have them.

5-4A Track, Tennis, Golf Set Friday

A 27-man Big Spring High thincad delegation will travel to the District 5-4A Track & Field Meet Friday at the Midland Stadium. Rod Carter is head coach assisted by Tommy Moss.

Preliminaries and field events will unwind at 1 p.m. Finals are listed for 8 p.m.

Ablene High is favored to win the league championship.

The one-mile race rates a one-two toss-up between Big Spring Ricky McCormick and Lindon Dugan of Permian.

Ricky has faced Lindon three times this campaign, withstanding pressure on each occasion. The Steer senior harrier's best time is 4:23.9 set in Andrews.

Three weeks ago, Ricky beat Dugan in 4:23.9 breaking a 10-year old record of 4:29.4 set in 1965 by Westbrook of Pampa.

Last Friday, Ricky switched from his mile specialty and finished fourth in the two-mile race in 9:28. His time broke the old Big Spring record of 9:45, recorded by Walter Campbell.

Competing in the San Angelo Relays last weekend, Big Spring failed to land a single point. Kim Wrinkle qualified for the finals in the mile but finished 12th. Dugan won the four-lap event in 4:26.

James Coffey was just short of scoring in the Top Six in the shot, heaving the iron ball, 49-9. He has the possibilities of landing a spot in the district finals.

Kenneth Coffey could surprise district followers in the 5-4A high jump as his 5-8 at San Angelo finished shy of scoring a point.

Big Spring's 440 relay foursome of John Finley, Jerry Marquez, Danny Ferrell and Bobby Huff stand a good chance of placing high in the final results. They boast the 19th best West Texas area time of 44.5.

Steer entries: 440 relay—Finley, Marquez, Ferrer, Huff, 880 Kirk Wrinkle, Terry Ramsey, Greg Halfmann; 1200 Hi-Ron Coffman, 1500 Ferrell, Mike Coffey, 440 Gary Cole, Steve Hughes, Loy Long; 330 intermediate hurdles—Finley; 220 Huff, Coffey, Junior Mathews; mile McCormick, Kim Wrinkle, Larry Duron; mile relay Finley, Cole, Huff, Ferrell, shot James Coffey, Frosty Reynolds, discus Kyle Neighbors, Bill Stark, Ed Petrowski, pole vault David White, Robbie Wegner, Bobby Morrow; High jump Ricky Schreengost, Kenneth Coffey, Emzie Woodard; long jump Finley, Reynolds, Kenneth Coffey.

Rangers Tripped
ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Minnesota gratefully took advantage of Texas Rangers sandlot-style charity Wednesday night and served notice it has some stout relief pitching to go with an ace starting staff.

The Twins tripped the Rangers 3-2 thanks to a throwing error by Texas pitcher Jim Bibby on a routine grounder to the mound in the sixth inning and sterling relief work by Tom Burgmeier.

The Ranger also aided the Twins' cause with some strange base running. This included Willie Davis being thrown out trying to steal, killing a ninth inning rally.

Rangers Manager Billy Martin was asked if Davis, acquired in the off season from Montreal, had been given the steal sign and the fiery skipper snapped, "Don't ask me that question!"

After 20 seconds or so of silence, Martin added, "Just say he got a sign."

Martin slammed a towel down in the dugout while Davis was somewhat timidly trying to explain his version of what happened on the play.

At any rate, Martin called in third base coach Frank Lucchesi and another assistant coach, Merrill Combe, for a closed door discussion. Davis wasn't available for comment.

Asked if he was surprised that Davis tried to steal, Twins Manager Frank Quilici said, "I think Billy was more surprised than I was."

More or Lesh

By CLARK LESHER

While it took the mind a few seconds to absorb how the name of Bragan stood out brightly in the major league world years ago, Danny Valdes, Herald photographer reminisced about his association with the Texas League resident.

This on the spot review took place before the scheduled Milwaukee-Chicago baseball exhibition Sunday in Midland. Standing by was Edmund B. Fitzgerald, Brewers' chairman of the board. Fitzgerald puts in as much sky time as possible to observe all Milwaukee away games.

Danny recalled his playing days with Bragan in AAA baseball in Cuba. The former controversial major league manager was highly respected by Danny.

The "one more time" photographer knows Bobby gave baseball a much needed shot in the arm. Whenever More or Lesh mentioned Bragan's name, Danny's face beamed. "He had a unique way of getting the player's attention," said Danny.

Quick to speak about his current loop affiliation, Bragan, cigar in hand, said, "The Texas League has long been regarded as the top AA circuit in the land. We feel that the players you see in action are as exciting as any in professional baseball. The average is about 21 years of age."

Lamesa friends learned of the death of F.T. (Ted) McCollum last Friday in Waco. He had lived there for the past two years. "Mr. Ted," a Baylor athlete, moved to Lamesa in 1924 as high school principal. He became the first coach of the Tornadoes and propelled them into one of the toughest area teams before laying aside his coaching duties.

McCollum left Lamesa in the 1940's and settled in Clifton.

The West Texas Running Club will sponsor a two and five mile cross-country run Saturday in Dry Creek Park, located in the North Concho Lake area in San Angelo.

Starting time is 10 a.m. Awards will be given to four group classifications, open high school, and under, 30-39, 40-49, and over 50. A special two-mile novice run is listed for any harrier over 25 who has not competed in a race during the prior year.

Entry fees will be $1 for club members and $2 for non-club members. Entries will be accepted until race time. For additional information, contact Bob Peiser, meet director, at (AC) 815-942-2035 or Otto Tezloff, at 815-942-2244.

Glen Blackwood, a 6-0, 165-pound defensive back from San Antonio Churchill, has signed to play the gridiron sport with the Texas Longhorns. Blackwood's brother, Lyle, started for TCU after growing from 140 to 180 pounds while at Blinn Junior College. Their father, Lyle Sr., was a star at Baylor.

Brewers Blast Red Sox, 7-4

The Texas Rangers, Manager Billy Martin's pick to dethrone the Oakland A's as baseball champions of the American League West, are going about it in strange ways... like ralkilling baserunning, costly errors and, most of all, losing.

The Rangers made it two batters in a row when they bowed to the Minnesota Twins 3-2 Wednesday night. Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox rallied for three runs in the ninth inning and defeated the A's 7-5, the Kansas City Royals edged the California Angels 7-6 on Hal McRae's RBI single in the ninth and the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Boston Red Sox 7-4.

Minnesota capitalized on two Texas throwing errors and Tony Oliva's second home run in as many games in edging the Rangers, who had a 10-3 record last April but are 0-2 in 1975. "I guess you can say we're off to a slower start," said pitcher Jim Bibby.

Eric Soderholm's sacrifice fly in the second inning and Oliva's homer in the fourth gave Minnesota a 2-0 lead. The Twins scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth. Soderholm singled with two out, stole second and continued to third on catcher Jim Sundberg's wild throw. Steve Braun followed with a routine grounder back to the mound but Bibby threw wildly to first, and Soderholm scored.

Brewers 7, Red Sox 4
George Scott and Robin Yount drove in two runs apiece for Milwaukee. Scott gave the Brewers the lead in the third inning with a two-run single off loser Bill Lee and Milwaukee raked Lee for three more runs in the fourth on Sixto Lezcano's doubles, singles by Darrell Porter, Pedro Garcia and Yount and Bob Coluccio's sacrifice fly.

Yount drove in another run with a sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Signing Set For Friday
The Texas Teen-Age Baseball League will sign up players Friday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday, from 2 to 7 p.m. A meeting will follow Friday's registration. All managers, coaches and directors are urged to attend.

TWO-HIT BEAUTY Cards Shutout Montreal, 4-0

Bob Forsch has a pretty good baseball job. When he's doing it right, a full day's work only takes one hour and 58 minutes.

That's all the time the St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander needed Wednesday to dispatch the Montreal Expos 4-0 with a two-hit beauty.

"Everything felt real good," said Forsch, who faced the minimum of 27 batters. "I felt just as strong at the end as I did at the beginning."

Both the hits that Forsch allowed were erased on double plays. Thus the 6-foot-4, 200-pounder was able to keep from working up a sweat in his first start of the year.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 and the Houston Astros crushed the Atlanta Braves 14-2. The San Diego Padres' season opener against the San Francisco Giants was rained out for the second day in a row.

Forsch, extending his winning streak to five games over two seasons, allowed just one hit to the Expos in the first six innings, an infield single by Barry Foote. Gary Carter then hit into a double play.

The only other hit of the Cardinal pitcher was a single to center by Gary Scott leading off the seventh. Scott was wiped out when Foote hit into a double play. Between the second and seventh innings, Forsch retired 12 straight batters, most of them on fastballs.

Forsch got all the support he needed when the Cardinals scored two runs in the first inning on an RBI single by Reggie Smith and a sacrifice fly by catcher Ted Simmons. Simmons drove in his second run of the game with a double in the seventh inning and Ted Sizemore's RBI hit in the eighth wrapping up the St. Louis scoring.

Reds 4, Dodgers 3
Darrel Chaney and Dave Concepcion lashed run-scoring singles in the ninth inning off relief ace Mike Marshall to lead Cincinnati to its second straight victory over Los Angeles, the defending National League champion.

Down 3-0 at one point, the Reds rallied with a run in the sixth on a double by Ed Armbrister and a single by Joe Morgan, then scored again in the seventh on a sacrifice fly by Chaney. Marshall came into the game when Dodger starter Andy Messersmith faltered in the seventh.

Bulls Clip Kings

CHICAGO (AP) — "We give each other the blues whenever we match up, but I got them the worst this time."

That was Nate Archibald of Kansas City-Omaha speaking softly after being held to 12 points by Chicago's Norm Van Lier as the Bulls outlasted the Kings 95-89 in their National Basketball Association playoff opener here Wednesday night.

The best-of-7 series now moves to Kansas City for the second game Sunday afternoon.

Even though Van Lier, scoring 20 points himself, hounded Archibald to far below his regular season average of 26.5, the Bulls had difficulty wrapping up a game that several times seemed on the verge of a runaway.

The Bulls enjoyed a 14-point lead much of the first half, but cooled off in the second half when the Kings nearly closed the gap before a Chicago Stadium crowd of 15,433.

It took a 38-point performance by Bob Love, matching his playoff record high, and clutch scoring in the final 1:23 by Love and Van Lier to set up the first opening-game playoff victory in Bull history after the Kings had pulled to within two points at 89-87.

Love's 16th basket of the contest and a pair of Van Lier free throws finally salted it away with 12 seconds left.

Love, starting his hot night with 14 points in the first quarter, said "I was moving wed, hitting my shots and also moving well without the ball. Then, too, I was getting some great passes from everyone."

With Archibald handcuffed, Kings' scoring honors went to Larry McNeill with 22 points, including 10-for-10 at the free throw line.

Three playoff games are on tap tonight with a pair of wild card teams on the verge of extinction.

The once mighty New York Knicks host the Houston Rockets in game two of their best-of-three series.

PRETTY LINGUIST CONVINCED Deaf People Work Harder

DALLAS (AP) — The tall, willowy brunette silently took charge. It was 2:30 a.m.

Ringed by policemen standing on Elizabeth Carlton's front lawn, a man stood rooted in his own world of silence, fear and apprehension carved in his face. A police radio beckoned officers to other dramas, large and small. But the man didn't hear. He was deaf.

Mrs. Carlton's fingers went to work, flicking this way and that like a reaper mowing down communications barriers. Through the sign language of the deaf she asked questions relayed through her hands by police. In moments, the anxiety had left the suspect as he explained his innocence.

The police car pulled away from the curb with its deaf passenger and Elizabeth Carlton, tired and sleepy, returned to her bedroom. In three hours she must be up again.

As director of adult deaf services at the Callier Center for Communications Disorders, the oft-repeated episode is just a part of her job.

"I don't want to lose that one-to-one contact," she says, despite her job and participation in nine hearing disorders organizations.

She also is adjunct professor at a college and a university, interprets news on television each morning for the deaf before going to her own office, lectures at the Dallas Police Academy and carries a full counseling load at Callier.

On Sundays she rests — after interpreting televised church services for the deaf.

"I've been to the jail three times this week already to communicate to the deaf," she said. "Sometimes if I'm just really beat, I have police officers bring people to my home. I stand out in the yard, NOW LOOK HERE — Mrs. Elizabeth Carlton, director of adult deaf services at Callier Center for Communications Disorders in Dallas, demonstrates her ability to communicate with persons using the sign language. at all hours, interpreting for someone they may want to question."

Mrs. Carlton, a native of Houston, is the daughter of deaf parents. Her head-turning good looks might have taken her to Hollywood. But dedication to problems of the deaf led her into deep involvement in a world most people can't fathom.

"It's the most isolating form of handicap," she said. "I hate the expression, 'You don't know unless you've been there,' but in a way I guess it's true that you can't really understand what it's like to be deaf."

Mrs. Carlton subconsciously uses words like "we" and "us" when speaking of deaf persons.

"I never thought about that. I guess I do identify with them strongly. The deafness of my own parents made me extremely aware and sensitive to the problem.

Their deafness, the deafness of people, has made me keenly aware of a lot of things about life."

There are, she says, a half million "profoundly deaf" persons in the United States and an infinite number of people with hearing impaired to lesser degrees.

Mrs. Carlton, 35, has two daughters, one of whom has entered her mother's field in a limited, professional way.

"I'm very proud of her," Mrs. Carlton says.

"Is there more to come?" "Yes," she says, emphasizing her concern that deaf persons in minority racial groups have been shunted too far into the background.

"In many instances, deaf people prove to be better employees than persons with no hearing disorders. You must agree that a deaf person has fewer distractions from his immediate work. And, besides, they try harder. This is a new fact of my work that I want to get into more deeply.

"I have argued and hassled with people over this and I think, at long last, I've started to get through to them. There is some recognition of the problem of deaf employment now and maybe things will start to improve," she said.

"Lord, I don't know where the time goes. I'm up around 5:30 or so every morning, work till late at night then there are always the emergency calls during the night," she said.

A telephone rang. "Put 'em on hold, I'll be with them in a minute," she said.

RIB-STICKER ROLL-UPS
Fill up the Family

Hearty Pancakes With Ground Beef

A concerned cook almost needs a checklist to choose a main dish that combats inflation! Is it expensive? Is it easily prepared? Is it nutritious? Is it filling? These questions must be asked if ever the battle of the budget is to be won on the kitchen front.

These Rib-Sticker Roll-Ups stand up well under scrutiny. A pound of ground beef, economically extended with quick or old fashioned oats, stretches into 18 meatballs. They're wrapped, three to a serving, in two homemade pancakes which are especially enjoyable enlivened by the grain flavor of enriched corn meal. The vegetable sauce moistening the main dish is easily mixed from a can of condensed mushroom soup and a package of frozen mixed vegetables.

RIB-STICKER ROLL-UPS
1 cup enriched corn meal
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 1/4 cups milk
1 egg, beaten

Meatballs
1 lb. ground beef
3/4 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1-3 cup catsup

Vegetable Sauce
1/2 cup chopped onions
1 T. butter or margarine
One 10 3/4 oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
One 10-oz. pkg. mixed vegetables, cooked and drained

For corn meal pancakes, sift together dry ingredients. Add milk and egg, stirring lightly to mix. Make 12 four-inch pancakes by pouring about 2 T. batter on hot, lightly greased griddle (if electric, set at 400 degrees F.). Turn pancakes when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once. Keep warm.

For meatballs, thoroughly combine ground beef, oats, salt, pepper and catsup. Shape to form 18 meatballs. In large skillet, brown meatballs in small amount of shortening over medium heat, about 8 to 10 minutes; turn frequently to avoid scorching. Drain on absorbent paper. In saucepan, saute onion in butter until tender, about 5 minutes. Add mushroom soup, milk, salt and pepper; mix well. Stir in mixed vegetables. Add meatballs. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil.

To serve, place two pancakes on each plate with one edge of each touching. Place 3 meatballs on each set of pancakes. Spoon about 1 T. vegetable sauce over meatballs. Overlap pancakes to cover meatballs; secure with a wooden toothpick. Spoon remaining vegetable sauce over pancake roll-ups. Serve immediately. Remove toothpicks before eating. Makes six servings.

Pork Spareribs And Tangy Sauce

Pork spareribs with a sweet, pungent sauce are a favorite anytime of year, whether they are baked in the oven or roasted on the grill. Jams, jellies and preserves used as the foundation for the sauce give tasty results with minimum effort.

ADAM'S TANGY SPARERIBS
4 lbs. pork spareribs
1 1/2 cups jam or jelly sauce (recipes below)

For easy handling during cooking, leave the ribs in one piece but have them partially cut through and cracked by the butcher for separation into single or double sections after cooking.

Brush ribs with selected jam or jelly sauce; place in a plastic bag and refrigerate several hours or overnight, turning occasionally. When ready to cook, brush sauce from ribs into saucepan and reserve.

Place ribs on a rack in a foil-lined roasting pan and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until fork-tender, turning once. Or, place ribs on a grill 6 to 7 inches from coals for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, turning frequently. During the last 30 minutes of cooking, brush ribs with reserved sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SWEET AND PUNGENT GRAPE SAUCE: In saucepan over low heat, cook 1 cup grape jelly, 1/4 cup tomato sauce, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 tsp. minced onion, 1/4 tsp. allspice and a dash of garlic powder, stirring constantly, until jelly melts and sauce is well blended. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

SPICY PEACH SAUCE: In saucepan over low heat, cook 1 cup peach jam or preserves, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup water, 2 T. corn syrup, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. each cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, stirring constantly, until jam melts and sauce is well blended. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

For a snappy ginger sauce, try this one:

GINGER ORANGE SAUCE: In saucepan over low heat, cook 1 cup orange marmalade, 1/4 cup water, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 T. soy sauce, 2 tsp. prepared mustard, 1/4 tsp. ground ginger and a dash of garlic powder, stirring constantly, until marmalade melts and sauce is well blended. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Cherry Ham

Serve baked smoked ham or a broiled ham slice with a kling cheery cherry sauce in honor of George Washington on his birthday. For the sauce, drain 1 can (16 ounces) tart red cherries and add enough water to reserved juice to make 1 cup. Combine 1/4 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch and stir in liquid to blend. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thick and clear. Stir in the cherries and 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring and serve hot with the ham.

Beef Eaters Have Chance At Good Buy

COLLEGE STATION — Beef eaters should "jump" at low prices to replenish freezer supplies, one observer advises.

"Currently, farmers are selling off record numbers of cattle at low prices — often far less than it costs to raise them, but prices cannot stay so low indefinitely," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, cautioned.

"Best buys include sirloin and rib steaks, round steaks and roasts.

"Also, rib roasts, boneless roll roasts, chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef and liver," she said.

"In poultry sections, fryer chicken prices are higher, while grade A, large-size eggs offer the best quality and economy for your egg money."

Pork specials are few, with scattered features on end chops, quarter loins cut into chops, pork steaks and liver.

At fruit counters, strawberry supplies are short due to rain in some growing areas, and grapefruit prices are rising as supply diminishes, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Orange prices are stable, and cantaloupe is coming to market, but prices remain high.

Stew Meat With Spices And Wine

This high-protein entree is rich in essential food elements needed by active Texans during the summer, is lightly spiced in the French manner, and requires a minimum of last minute preparation which will "heat up" the kitchen and the homemaker.

Hamburgers, Onion Rings

Next time hamburgers are on the menu at your house, team them up with these Easy Onion Rings. They add a new flavor dimension to the familiar hamburger — great with steaks and other meats, too!

EASY ONION RINGS
1 large onion
3/4 cup enriched corn meal
3/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
1 egg, beaten

Slice onion horizontally into 1/4-inch slices, separate to form rings. Let stand in cold water for 15 minutes. Combine dry ingredients. Add milk and egg. Drain onion rings, coat each with flour and dip in batter, draining off excess. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees F.) until golden brown, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with salt. Serve hot. Makes four servings.

which can be prepared in the morning, and the wine and parsley added during a 15-minute just-before-dinner reheating, this recipe serves 6:

BEEF NORMANDY
1 pound lean beef stew meat, cut in inch cubes
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 T. cooking oil or drippings
4 T. (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
1 small clove garlic, mashed
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 small can tomato sauce
1 small bay leaf
1 tsp. sugar

1 small can mushrooms, stems and pieces
Dash red-hot sauce
Dash red pepper to taste
3 T. chopped parsley
1/4 to 1/2 cup, red cooking wine (if desired)

Brown beef cubes in fat in iron skillet. Remove meat from skillet, add butter or margarine, chopped onion and celery. Cook until vegetables are tender and clear, but not brown. Add tomatoes and tomato sauce, then mashed garlic. Cook slowly for 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, except parsley and wine. Return meat to sauce and simmer for 45 minutes to 1 hour — or until meat is tender.

If desired, wine may be added for last 15 minutes of cooking. Add parsley last 5 minutes of cooking.

Easy To Cook Veal Breast

Thrifty recipe for a main dish.

STUFFED VEAL ROLL
2 cups dried bread cubes
1/2 cup (1 stick) corn oil margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 pound (about) veal breast, boned

Place bread cubes in large bowl. In a Dutch oven melt 2 tablespoons of the margarine; add to bread cubes; toss well; mix in spinach, salt and pepper. Place veal flat, inside surface up; remove any excess fat. Gently press spinach mixture over meat surface. Roll veal up lengthwise, tucking in ends; tie securely.

Melt remaining 6 tablespoons margarine in Dutch oven. Brown veal well on all sides, about 15 minutes, turning carefully so as not to lose stuffing. Reduce heat; slowly add 1 cup water. Simmer, covered, for about 1 hour and 35 minutes or until veal is fork-tender. Add water as necessary to maintain original level.

Turn roll occasionally to prevent sticking. Transfer veal to warm platter. Strain drippings and use to make gravy. Untie veal; cut into crosswise slices; serve with gravy. Makes 4 servings.

To Measure
If you need to measure sticky liquids, oil the cup with cooking oil or use the cup to measure the oil first.

Sauerbraten Chuck Steak For Change

Bone-in chuck, cooked sauerbraten-style, shows how spices can help make budget foods tastier.

SAUERBRATEN CHUCK STEAK

1 T. mixed pickling spice
1/2 cup white vinegar
7 T. water, divided
1 T. brown sugar
3/4 tsp. salt
2 1/2 pound bone-in chuck steak
1 cup beef bouillon
3 T. flour

Tie mixed pickling spice in a cheesecloth bag. Place in a small saucepan. Add vinegar, 4 T. of the water, minced onion, brown sugar and salt. Heat to boiling point; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 5 minutes; cool. Place steak in a snug-fitting bowl or baking pan. Pour cooled marinade over steak. Cover and refrigerate 24 hours, turning once. Place steak and the marinade that clings to the steak in a large skillet. Add bouillon. Cover and simmer until steak is fork-tender, about 45 minutes. Remove steak to a heated platter. Blend flour with remaining 3 T. water. Stir into skillet. Cook and stir until thickened. If desired, add 1/4 tsp. bottled brown sauce to gravy. Pour over steak. Serve with cooked noodles, if desired. OVERDUE DEBUT — A smiling Beverly Sills is shown at New York's Metropolitan Opera Monday evening where she performed in Rossini's opera, "The Seige of Corinth." Miss Sills' appearance in the role of Pamira marked her debut at the Met, and the end of a 20-year feud during which she became a star at home and abroad, but not at the Met.

Dear Abby

Widow Dislikes Being Left Out Of Visiting

DEAR ABBY: I read your column all the time and usually agree with you, but the answer you gave the mother who had a running battle with her teen-age children because they wouldn't keep their rooms picked up is wrong. Dead wrong!

I am a 16-year-old boy who came to live with my father and stepmother last summer. Before I came here, I had to jump from my door to the bed (if I could see it). Now, my room is so neat and orderly, it looks like the operating room of a hospital.

I fought it as long as I could, but my stomach and my stepmother finally won. I got no breakfast until my bed was made. She put a clothes basket in my closet, and nothing got laundered unless it was in that basket. Everything left on the floor went into a "mess box" in the garage, and I had to go there to retrieve it, which was a lot of trouble. On my day for the car, unless my room was vacuumed, no keys!

I'm glad my stepmother didn't do what you advised that other mother to do ("Say no more, keep their doors closed, and enter their rooms only to change the beds, and rake it once a week. When they get tired of living in that mess, they'll clean it up. Until then, don't let them aggravate you. It's not worth it.")

Want to know something, Abby? I've come to like it this way. I can take my friends into my room now. PROUD OF ROOM AND WELL-FED

DEAR PROUD: Since your stepmother's formula worked with you, it's worth recommending. Thank her for hatching the idea, and thank you for sharing it.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that widows aren't asked over to their sisters' homes for a visit now and then? Are they afraid we might steal their husbands?

Nonsense! I don't want anyone's husband. But I notice that when someone in the family has a birthday or a shower, I am first on the list. I am called and asked to please pick up this or that because "you have the time."

It would be so nice to be invited over just once for a visit (I don't mean for dinner) on a Sunday or an evening just because someone wanted my company.

I never thought this could happen to me, but it did. Then my sister said: "If anything happens to my husband, I'll move in with you."

I thought: "NEVER!" ANOTHER WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: If she says it again, why don't you say it aloud? It would do a lot of good to say it. And her, to hear it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old. Last year I fell in love with a young man who was 20. Our relationship gradually became more serious. We talked of marriage, but made no definite plans.

He was recently killed in an auto accident. It was then that I learned to my great surprise that he had taken out a life insurance policy and made ME the beneficiary. (The amount I am to get is $50,000).

All the family he had was a mother and two brothers. Some people feel that I should sign the money over to his mother.

I don't think I am being selfish, but I think since he left it to me, I should have it. Neither his mother nor I is financially handicapped.

Who do you think the money belongs to? "WAITING"

DEAR WAITING: Since it was left to you, it belongs to you.

Display Of Turquoise Climaxes Gem Study

The 1970 Hyperion Club's study of gems was concluded Tuesday with a program on turquoise by Roy Peet, guest speaker, at the home of Mrs. Pat Tucker. Peet is owner of a local gift shop, Inland Port.

"The three main sources of turquoise are Persia, Mexico and the United States," said Peet. "Most Americans want American turquoise because the matrix, or veins, give added interest to the stone."

Colors of the stones vary greatly, with as many as 10 different colors coming out of the same mine, but 99 per cent of turquoise is blue while the rest is green. Peet said that two years ago, turquoise was the subject of an article in the Wall Street Journal and, shortly thereafter, it was declared a precious gem. It has been gaining in popularity ever since.

In conjunction with his talk, Peet showed a display of cut and uncut stones, labeled as to their origin, type and name, along with pieces of jewelry from his shop.

He explained the techniques of styling used by Indian craftsmen and told the value of necklaces, earrings, bracelets, rings, belts and watch bands made by various tribes. In some instances, he said the items are "fetish" jewelry; carved into the shape of birds, turtles, frogs, bears and beavers, traditional religious symbols to the Indians.

In conclusion, Peet noted that turquoise from the Bisbee mine has increased in value because the mine was closed in 1957. He added that other types of crafts, such as petit point, needlepoint and inlay items are becoming more valuable because they are getting scarce; one reason being that the Turks are buying these items in such quantities that they are in short supply.

Mrs. Sharon Massengale presided for the business session as Mrs. John Wallace and Mrs. Pat Butler were accepted as members of the club. Elected as officers for the 1975-76 season were Mrs. Mary Raines, president;

Mrs. Pat Tucker, vice president; Mrs. Pat Johnston, secretary; and Mrs. Cookie Hanslik, treasurer.

The officer installation will be held May 13 following a salad luncheon in the home of Mrs. Marion Locke. Guests will be invited.

Tentative plans were made for a planning meeting in July at the home of Mrs. Massengale in Midland.

Mrs. Marg Nardone was hostess for the meeting.

Film Explains Views On Nursing Education

Mrs. Gayle McCoomb, director of nursing service, West Texas Home Health Agency, Lubbock, was guest speaker for the annual dinner meeting of Texas Nurses Association, District 24, Tuesday evening at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. McCoomb, a member of the Texas Joint Practices Commission, narrated a slide presentation in which she said a national study of nursing education was undertaken in 1970 with the interest of the American Nurses Association and the National League of Nurses, but completely independent of those organizations.

Jerome P. Lysaught was director for the study, the objective of which was "how to improve the delivery of health care to the American people, particularly through the analysis and improvement of nursing and nursing education."

In the Lysaught report, one of the recommendations was that a "national joint practice commission with state counterpart committees; be established between medicine and nursing to discuss and make recommendations concerning the congruent roles of the physician and the nurse in providing health care, with particular attention to the rise of the nurse clinician, the introduction of the physician assistant, the increased activity of other professions and the paraprofessions in areas long assumed to be the concern solely of the physician and/or the nurse."

The joint commission has been established and Mrs. McCoomb stressed that it is a means of planning and communication between doctors and nurses to define the role and functions of the Registered Nurse and to permit them to function at the "maximum of their ability."

Officers elected for District 24 were Mrs. Patty Warner, first vice president; Mrs. Esther Trantham and Mrs. Ann Griffin, new board members; and Miss Audrey Elmore, secretary.

Utilities Debate Boiling

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — It would be a "tragic mistake" to place gas utilities under the supervision of a newly-created state utility commission, the head of Houston Natural Gas Corp. said Wednesday night.

Joe Foy, president of the Houston-based firm, told the House State Affairs Committee that the Texas Railroad Commission has done a good job for 40 years in regulating gas utilities.

Foy said the Railroad Commission's "constructive influence should not be diminished by reducing their regulatory jurisdiction."

Wednesday night's testimony concluded the five nights of hearings on five bills calling for some form of state regulation of utilities. Four of the bills say natural gas utilities should be regulated by any new commission.

Foy said his company was neither for or against the creation of a commission to regulate telephone or electric utilities. But, he said, any commission should not "create bad principles affecting adversely the operations of the existing state commission which regulates gas."

Saunders Gregg, senior vice president of Entex, as gas distribution company, said gas utilities "are currently regulated by a capable state commission and this form of state regulation should be continued rather than changed."

Gregg said he was in favor of some form of continued local utility regulation.

"I cannot imagine a single commission being able to make good decisions for all utilities in Texas," Gregg said.

Earlier Wednesday Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, committee chairman, told the House he hoped to have a utility commission bill out of his committee by at least April 30 and possibly as early as April 28.

Gregg said he was in favor of some form of continued local utility regulation.

"I cannot imagine a single commission being able to make good decisions for all utilities in Texas," Gregg said.

Earlier Wednesday Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, committee chairman, told the House he hoped to have a utility commission bill out of his committee by at least April 30 and possibly as early as April 28.

Border Land Bill Pushed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill which would permit the Texas governor to help implement a treaty designed to settle border disputes between Mexico and the United States has been approved by a Senate committee.

The State Affairs Committee Wednesday sent to the Senate floor a measure by Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, that would allow the Texas governor to grant state-owned land to the U.S. government.

Santiesteban said under the treaty, which went into effect in 1972, the two countries agreed to settle boundary disputes and maintain the Rio Grande and Colorado River as the international boundary.

Santiesteban said his bill applies only to state-owned land which the governor cannot transfer without permission from the legislature.

GRANT IMMUNITY TO WITNESSES State Textbook Hearings

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas senators voted 20-11 Wednesday to grant special legal immunity to state textbook witnesses.

Another vote must be taken, however, and the bill's sponsor, Sen. Betty Andujar, R-Fort Worth, plans to wait until Monday.

Sen. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, protested that the bill would permit a person to lie about a textbook and still be immune from prosecution.

Imported More From Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Agricultural exports from Kenya to the United States rose 34 percent — to $28.6 million — in 1974 over the 1973 figures, the Agriculture Ministry reported here.

Major imports were coffee up 58 percent, tea, pyrethrum, molasses and dehydrated vegetable products.

American farm exports to Kenya were down 43 percent last year.

Lubbock, protested that the bill would permit a person to lie about a textbook and still be immune from prosecution.

The measure was inspired by a $30 million lawsuit by an Oklahoma publishing house, The Economy Co., against three Texas women who criticized six of the company's readers at public hearings.

Economy contended that Mrs. Billy Hutchison of Fort Worth, Drusilla Bearden of San Angelo and Linda Eichblatt of Clear Lake City conspired to libel the books, causing the State Board of Education to reject them for use in Texas' public schools.

Mrs. Hutchison filed a $600,000 countersuit in the names of all three women, alleging that two Economy officers libeled them by telling reporters, "We (Economy) were the victims of malicious half-truths, innuendoes and in some cases outright lies," and that "the objections to the textbooks were racially inspired."

Mrs. Andujar's bill, would make textbook witnesses "immune from civil liability for libel, slander or other injury" as long as the witnesses followed education board rules in testifying.

Her bill, she claimed in a written statement, "might be called the 'Citizens Right to Speak Bill.'"

She said the $30 million suit was designed "to eliminate criticism, to remove from Texas citizens their freedom to speak before their own State Board of Education. What family can risk the mental anguish, the financial drain of fighting such a malicious suit?"

"The only possible conclusion is that this suit is one to blackmail the people of Texas."

Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, contended that "truth is an absolute defense against libel and slander" and that the women did not need the bill to fight the suit.

"I don't want to see us creating special legislation for special people."

"We won't be intimidated by a mammoth publishing company," said Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

"The eyes of the nation are on Texas in this matter," said Mrs. Andujar.

Golf Course Talks Slated

A committee was to meet at City Hall this morning to discuss regulations and upkeep on the Municipal Golf Course.

Jack Bowers and Jack White were to represent the golf association with Jerry Forsyth, parks superintendent, Harold Hall, councilman, and other city administrators to attend the discussion meeting.

Homos Get License

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Two homosexuals have been granted a marriage license by the Boulder County clerk's office.

Clerk Clela Rorex said she believes it was the first time a marriage license had been issued to a couple of the same sex in Colorado.

Dave Zamora and Dave McCord, both 27 and both of Colorado Springs, sought the license after being denied a license at the El Paso County clerk's office.

Zamora and McCord, who have been living together for about 4 1/2 years, were married in a religious ceremony Oct. 28, 1973, at the Faith Metropolitan Community Church in Colorado Springs.

McCord said they needed to obtain a marriage license for legal reasons. He did not elaborate.

Bill Wise, an assistant district attorney, said the state legislature apparently has never contemplated the legality of issuing marriage licenses to persons of the same sex, since no statute existed governing the practice.

DOWN AND OUT — Gery Benedetti, in bow, and Terrance Kelly practice for an upcoming canoe race by shooting the rapids of the icy Green River at Williamstown, Mass. It's back to the drawing boards as they try to save their canoe in the surf.

Lingerie Line Moved West

LAMESA — Doty Dan president, Dick Griffin, announced this week that the lingerie line of the firm now manufactured in the Groveton plant has been transferred to Lamesa.

The transfer was motivated by the available labor market here. The company, a division of Magnatex Corp. is currently operating plants in Brownfield, Stanton and Seminole, in addition to the Lamesa facilities.

NET INCREASE IN STATE FUNDS OF $516 MILLION A YEAR Tax Would Drive Refineries Out Of Texas?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The sponsor of a bill calling for a tax at the refinery level says the levy would greatly increase state revenues while reducing taxes for Texas residents.

Rep. Chris Miller, D-Fort Worth, told the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Wednesday that her measure, which would impose a one cent a gallon tax on refined motor fuel, would provide income to the state for "a long time to come."

Rep. Miller's bill was one of four considered by the committee that would place taxes at the refinery level ranging up to about two and a half cents a gallon.

Fred Dennstedt of Houston, vice president of refining of Exxon Co., U.S.A., said, however, such a tax would be a major deterrent to processing crude oil in Texas.

Dennstedt said because of current federal price controls any state tax would have to be absorbed completely by Texas refiners.

Rep. Miller's bill would drop the tax on gasoline at the pump from five to four cents a gallon.

Lynn Moak of the state comptroller's office said Rep. Miller's measure would tax—to export state taxes to out-of-state customers—realistically cannot be achieved by taxation of refining processing.

Dennstedt also said the tax "would put Texas refineries at a severe economic disadvantage compared to those in other states."

conservative estimate is that some 50,000 to 60,000 jobs might eventually be affected by refining cutbacks resulting from the tax on motor fuels.

James has been accepted into the Navy's advanced electronics field and will be seeking a position as a navy electronics technician. He will spend approximately 36 weeks of ET school subsequent to recruit training in Orlando, Florida.

James is the son of Maj. and Mrs. James H. Rogers. Maj. Rogers is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Lusk Is Bound For State Pen

Roy Rogers Lusk, 31, formerly of 708 Pine St., was picked up Tuesday by a Texas Department of Corrections bus bound for prison.

Lusk was sentenced to three concurrent, 10-year terms for two counts of forgery and one of burglary.

Board To Hear Suggestions

The staff and facilities utilization committee of the public schools met again Monday night and came up with concrete recommendations in connection with the Big Spring school's use of buildings and staff.

The recommendations will be presented in writing to the board of trustees at their regular April 28 meeting.

Col. Robert Meisenheimer has served as chairman of the committee, which includes a large number of citizens as well as school administrators.

Board To Hear Suggestions

Dr. Charles McClure Jr., a Rice University economics professor, said the tax will probably result in the eventual destruction of the refining industry in Texas.

Dr. McClure, who appeared in behalf of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, said the tax cannot be exported to non-resident customers because Texas refineries account for only about one-fourth of the nation's refining capacity.

"Certainly it does not appear that Texas now enjoys the market dominance necessary to shift a refining tax to consumers, if it ever did," Dr. McClure said.

Dr. McClure also said "a

In a statement prepared for presentation to the committee, Z.D. Bonner, president of Gulf Oil Company-U.S., said the tax makes it appear doubtful that the refining industry in Texas can remain healthy.

"If this tax is enacted, a refiner could not be expected to stay around these parts any longer than it takes him to salvage what he can and relocate," Bonner's statement said.

Rep. Joe Wyatt Jr., D-Bloomington, chairman of the committee, said the bills would be sent to subcommittee.

BACK FROM PORTUGAL — Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., meets with newsmen in Washington Wednesday where he spoke on his trip to Portugal. Brooke said that clumsy American tactics could cause the Socialist-leaning Portuguese government to take even more steps toward the left.

Rape Rap Reversal

AUSTIN (AP) — The rape conviction of four San Antonio men was reversed today because District Court Judge Preston Dial refused to grant a trial postponement to a legislator-lawyer in the case after a special legislative session was called.

The trial of Richard Cuellar, Guillermo Duron, Leonard Guerra and Raymond R. Castillo already had been delayed for one special legislative session in the summer of 1972.

The day after the trial began on Sept. 11, 1972, another special session was called by Gov. Preston Smith. Rep. R.L. Vale, one of the defense lawyers, asked for another delay, but the judge denied his motion because the trial was under way.

The appeals court said the legislative continuance law applied to all "pending" cases within 30 days before and after a legislative session, and a case is pending until final judgment.

Duron was sentenced to 12 years; the other men to 10 years each.

The case was sent back for a new trial.

The alleged victim "stated that during the attack and as she was being ravished by (defendants) Guerra and Duron, she heard her sister scream three times but never saw her sister alive after the third scream," the appeals court said.

The sister later was found drowned in the Medina River.

Portions of an alleged statement by Castillo were read to the jury. Castillo reportedly said the two women were trying to catch a ride beside a road leading to a night club on the night of Nov. 17, 1971.

He did not pick them up, he allegedly said in the statement, but later met them at the club.

Interracial Marriage Suit

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — An Arlington justice of the peace's refusal to perform an interracial marriage March 24 has prompted a University of Texas at Arlington professor to file a complaint with the FBI.

Dr. Daniel Georges alleged a violation of civil rights and assault and battery in connection with Peace Justice John Forbes' refusal to marry Georges, a black, and his white fiancée.

Herbert Grubert, assistant special agent in the Dallas office of the FBI, said Georges' complaint will be forwarded to the Justice Department, which will decide whether an investigation shall be conducted.

Forbes issued a statement that he refuses to perform both under-age and interracial marriages because statistics show such marriages have a higher incident of failure.

The UTA assistant professor of urban studies and criminal justice included the assault and battery charge in his complaint because he claims Forbes pushed him as they were discussing the interracial marriage.

Something Must Be Done

The advance copies of the FBI statistics on serious crimes bring more bad news; the rate of this type of crime was up by 17 percent last year. This is especially disturbing when you consider that Attorney General Edward H. Levi estimates that about a third of the serious crimes committed go unreported. That doesn't necessarily increase our percentage gain, but it does provide more staggering totals in considering the real picture.

We are so preoccupied with our economic and our international affairs, that we have not yet directed the weight of our efforts toward combatting this trend that the situation demands. It is possible to rationalize that lighter economic conditions contribute to more crime because some people without work opt for getting a piece of action outside the law. There is some validity to this, although serious crime has experienced just as steep a gradient in times of peak employment as it has in recession. The hard fact is that we have not yet found a sound way to cope with this alarming problem.

There are those who would do away with the penal system, since they say incarceration does not (and the record might tend to support it) deter crime, that prisons are training schools for more serious crimes, and that the rehabilitation program is woefully weak.

But what are we to do? Give up and admit that those who commit serious crimes are beyond the ability or desire of society to do something about it? Or are we to seek somehow to deter or even reverse the trend? This is really a necessity for our survival as a stable society; this is an obligation that we owe to the victims of serious crimes.

It is aptly said that justice delayed is justice denied; it also likely is true that crimes unpunished lead crimes unchecked; that criminals undetained are criminals undeterred.

So detention seems to be the one facet that needs to be bulwarked, while at the same time trying to do those things which will separate the various categories of offenders, and to strengthen our rehabilitative processes. Until something better is established, removal of offenders from the stream of society for a time appears to be a practical, even if costly, means of exacting a price for misdeeds. Individuals and society are due some recompense for their sufferings.

Humanitarian Aid

Apparently the Pentagon concedes there is nothing more this nation can do to prevent the fall of the Saigon government, short of military intervention — which is out of the question.

Hopefully a political settlement can still be arranged. Necessarily the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces can largely dictate the shape of a settlement; eventually it would mean Communist control of all Vietnam. Unfortunately that now seems inevitable, thus a settlement short of the destruction of Saigon would at least save lives.

If we can no longer determine the destiny of South

Vietnam, we can still try to alleviate the suffering of its people. President Ford says he will ask Congress for humanitarian money; Congress should comply with that request.

Vietnam is a land torn apart by decades-long war. Its people face perhaps years of recovery and hardship. Refugees clog its cities, and they are in need of the bare necessities to sustain life.

Perhaps we have some obligation, in view of our past involvement, to see that humanitarian aid is not denied, even though we are dismayed by the turn of events.

You Live Longer

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Some things that happen remind you of something that occurred earlier in your life.

I was a judge in a 5-AAAA debate in Midland Friday and Saturday and listened to team after team of excellent debaters debate the subject of how to change the method of the selection of the presidential and vice presidential nominees of the United States.

THAT IS NOT THE EXACT debate title, but that is the idea. And those students have really done their research. They can tell you what was wrong and what was right about nominating conventions for many different years.

Many of the teams kept coming up with the examples of the selection of McGovern by the Democrats in last election and the selection of Goldwater by the Republicans back in the 60s as not representative of the people. That is debatable and there are those who would debate either one of those subjects all day long.

But when one San Angelo debator mentioned that there were many old-party Republicans who did not want Goldwater but wanted Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania, my mind said, "That's right" and immediately a memory flashed into my thoughts.

Back in 1964 when Goldwater was headed for San Francisco for the GOP convention, so were a lot of other people. On one private plane was Gen. Eisenhower's brother and nephew. They were going from Pennsylvania to San Francisco and their plane developed trouble over Pecos, so they stopped to spend the night.

THE NEXT MORNING I was drinking coffee in the coffee shop of the motel in which they had stayed — unknowingly to me. The waitress said, "General Eisenhower's brother stayed here last night." "What?" I said, setting my coffee down suddenly. "He just left to go out to the airport . . ." and I just left throwing 50 cents at the cashier for coffee and sped to the airport.

They were still there. I took a picture of them boarding their plane and talked to them and they said in no uncertain terms, "If Goldwater is nominated, the GOP will suffer a great defeat. We must make them see that Scranton should be the candidate." And off they flew. History tells us they were not successful.

Another memory came to mind this week with the news of the fall of the Duke of Duval. And great was the crash. Probably those who take his place will operate in much the same manner, which is typical politics down around San Diego, Hebronville, Freer, Rio Grande City and like areas: Crystal City, for instance.

But 13 years ago, I was a brief visitor in the home of Nago Alaniz, who was Parr's attorney. While we were there, the Duke informed Alaniz that his wife was giving him a good many problems. Said the attorney, "You haven't been married long enough for her to give you any real problems yet, but she probably will later on." And that was a prophetic statement.

THE OLD CHICAGO WARD BOSSES could probably take a few lessons from some of those hard-core political bosses in the prickly pear belt that ranges from the western edge of the Rio Grande Valley upward through the area between there and Old San Antonio.

I understand that a state senatorial candidate drove into San Diego last year and couldn't locate the party chairman so he went to the courthouse. He still couldn't locate who he needed, so he asked a young secretary as she came tripping out of the courthouse.

She looked at him wild-eyed and said, "My Mama, she say, don't talk about these politesses to anybody and you leave a lot more days."

And that's the way it is in the prickly pear belt.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Your brother's testimonial of his love for our Saviour, and you his brother, was the most powerful testimony I have ever heard. My younger brother and I have been alienated for 45 years. How can we be reconciled?

J.M.J.
My brother and I have always been close — particularly after we both yielded our lives to Christ. I think few relationships in life are more satisfying than brothers or sisters united in a bond of respect, trust and love. I'm sorry that there's been this rift in your family, but it can be changed.

There are many names for Christ — but one could certainly be the "Great Reconciler." 2 Corinthians 5:19 says: "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself . . . and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation." You can see that as men and women draw nearer the cross of Christ, they also draw nearer each other. This is the phenomenon of redemptive love.

Probably, you'll have to take the initiative in going to your brother, acknowledging your own fault in letting this situation develop, and asking his forgiveness. If there's any restitution of any kind needed, by prepared to offer it. Pray before you go, that God will guide your words, and go expecting reconciliation. A

I SEE WE'RE STILL YEARS BEHIND THE CIA IN THIS DEEP SEA RECOVERY BUSINESS...

45-year alienation shouldn't be permitted another day of existence.

Banks Can Make Or Break

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Gardiner Greene is an exponent of small business which, he believes, is experiencing more than its share of frustration from the banks. The banks, he laments, aren't what they used to be.

In the old days the banker was a man who obtained his wealth by hard work and business risks in his earlier years. He was a successful man in various endeavors, and he wanted — and knew how — to help others attain success.

Today, says Greene, a highly successful small-business man, "he is a semicivil servant working in a secure job in a regulated, organized, socialistic system." His bank, too, might be only a branch. He might have no power of decision.

"Chances are you wouldn't let him work for you. He works for the bank instead of doing something on his own."

And so Greene, who founded Browning Laboratories, a Laconia, N.H., company that makes what it calls the Rolls-Royce of citizen band two-way radios, wrote a book, "How to Start and Manage Your Own Business," published by McGraw-Hill.

In it he casts bankers as obstacles to the development of small business. "Bankers may indirectly put more companies in bankruptcy than anyone else . . . Banks help small business stay small . . . If you don't need money banks will try to loan it to you."

With venture capital all but dried up, however, small businesses have little choice but to deal with banks at some point, and so Greene, in an interview, gave some pointers on handling bankers.

1. "If you get turned down, the best thing to do is broadcast it all over town," says Greene.

"It's human nature to be embarrassed if you're refused a loan, but if your business is a worthy one, the bank is the one that should be embarrassed. It might smarten up some of them."

2. "Walk in with a victorious attitude and be prepared with all the information you might need. Go in with complete statistics and fill up his file with everything you can think of."

3. Never specify how much you want on the initial visit. "If you walk in and say $10,000 you've fallen into a trap, then he has a sum he can attack and cut. When he asks 'How much do you want?' you should reply, 'Come on over to my place.'"

"On the way to your place sell him on your business. Then negotiate. Suggest a sum more than you need. He'll cut it back and be a hero."

Greene believes it is essential to understand these techniques because, almost inevitably, nearly every small business at some point and probably for all time, needs bank financing. Banks can break or make an entrepreneur.

To Greene, this amounts to a tragedy, because he believes a lot that is wrong with the country results from the erroneous attitude that the logical route to personal and national success is through big business.

Small business, he maintains, is the backbone of the economy, the largest single economic group in the nation, including unions.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

In response to the large "Help Stop E.R.A." ad in Sunday's edition, I would like to state the position of the proponents for the Equal Rights Amendment on some of the issues covered.

Neither women nor men have a right "not to work" — but rather this is something to be decided by the individual or as between husband and wife. Furthermore, anyone who considers the many tasks of the housewife and the obvious value of her services as a wife, could not say she does not "work" within the meaning and intent of the word. The Chase Manhattan Bank, in a survey, released their figures on the value of a wife and homemaker, if hired on the open job market, as $13,500 a year. Most husbands and families, if they recognize the true worth of a wife and mother in her everyday care, would have to agree.

Further, while there is no more important job than raising children, many women must do both — and do not get paid equally for equal work outside the home.

As far as the statement "if a wife fails to support her husband, he can use it as grounds for divorce" — under Texas law, and most other states, a husband can divorce a wife, or vice versa, just because they've decided they don't like blue eyes, red hair, etc. Also, divorced women do not under the law have the "customary right of child custody, support, etc., but rather custody is awarded to the party considered to be for the best interest and welfare of the child — which is the way it should be and at the present time is. It should be stated here, however, that most Courts do recognize that women are temperamentally better suited for child raising because of their background and training. Certainly a bad mother should not be given custody of a child or children, as against the father, just because she is the mother.

Texas does not have alimony, but rather is a community property state, but as to child support, I think parents should share equally for the financial responsibility of their children. I believe women share this belief with me, and if the time should come when women make equal or more money than men (which is a long way off), I'm sure women feel equally responsible, providing they are given the means to do so. I'm sure most people are aware that there are many women raising a family by themselves, for various reasons, and they deserve equal pay for equal work — one of the main issues urged by the proponents of E.R.A.

As a matter of law, the wife and children are not presently required to wear the name of the husband and father. They may, presently, choose any name they wish — but it is true this would create confusion. I cannot imagine how the passage of an amendment such as this would lend itself to more mass confusion in government than we already have. The mere passage of a law does not break down all of the customs and heritage people have lived by for many generations.

The one last statement that "E.R.A. is unnecessary" merely contradicts all of the prior statements against it in the preceding paragraphs — by in effect saying we already have the rights to do all of the ridiculous things complained of. In which event I wonder why somebody would spend all that money on an ad telling us Texas should rescind its ratification??

Yours very truly,
Mary Thomas

Dear Editor:

I read the advertisement opposing ERA. I am 13 years old and go to Goliad Junior High and in the eighth grade. I am for equal rights all the way. I have listened to both sides instead of getting excited over one view. I would rather have equal rights than to be thought of as a second-class person. I do not think it's right for a female to have to work twice as hard to get into the field of law or medicine. Even in school, in our track team, boys have more training equipment and first aid equipment — and the only reason seems to be that boys do better than girls. I wish people would sit down and study ERA instead of getting scared by one view.

Unprocessed Milk

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I know a young mother who is giving raw milk to her baby. Is bringing milk to the boiling point enough to kill bacteria?

Please describe undulant fever and tell me if there is now a definite cure for it. Other children and adults in this family are drinking raw milk. I am so concerned.

G.E.B.
Raw milk is not, in and of itself, dangerous — only raw milk from cows (or goats) infected with the brucella germ. Cows from registered herds are checked carefully and rather frequently for the disease, so if the milk is from a registered animal you can cool your concern.

Undulant fever is associated with the brucella organism. It is usually acquired by drinking the infected milk or by persons handling infected meat (beef, pork or lamb). The infection route here is through breaks in the skin.

It is not a pleasant disease, and the little to be saved monetarily from drinking unpasteurized milk is not worth the risk.

The disease is not easy to detect, but a positive diagnosis can be made with appropriate blood tests. Symptoms include fatigue, headache, and rises in temperature that abate in the early morning, then recur in the afternoons.

Treatment is with antibiotics (tetracycline) which are effective in most cases.

If the folks you refer to are using milk from an unregistered family "bossie", then they should take the precaution of doing their own pasteurizing, a simple matter of heating the milk to 140 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes, then storing it in a cool, sanitary place before using.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife, now 66, has had yawning spells for several years, but for the past two years they have been more severe. She has a shortness of breath.

Her doctor can find no cause for it. Please comment. I am sending 25 cents to you in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope, for your booklet on diverticulosis.

L.F.M.
Yawning is one of the pleasant little respirations no one has been able to explain satisfactorily yet. There has been speculation that it signifies a deficiency of oxygen in the body, but this doesn't explain why one person will yawn because someone nearby has done so, or why it is associated with being weary or bored.

Anemia, or possibly low thyroid function, might be investigated.

Beyond this, I can only suggest, frankly without very much confidence, that your wife's yawning and her shortness of breath may be related to a possible lung problem.

WASHINGTON — Something is happening in Washington. For the first time newspapermen are becoming more famous than the people they write about. I don't know if you can credit Spiro Agnew or the Nixon White House gang for the trend, but it's having a tremendous effect on the business, and some journalists are finding it difficult to handle their celebrity status.

AS SOON AS BURT BRILLO broke the story on the break-in of the Wesley Heights Taco Hut, he was besieged by other reporters wanting to do profiles on him. Brilllo, who happened to be a police reporter at the time, achieved stardom overnight by discovering that the Taco Hut had been used by the CIA to feed their midnight-to-8 a.m. shift. While this in itself would have been enough to make it a front-page story, a source whom Brilllo has yet to name leaked the fact that two of the employees of the Taco Hut had entered the United States illegally from Mexico.

BESIDES GETTING a book contract to write the story of how he broke the story, Brilllo was also signed up for a lecture tour and was interviewed by Barbara Walters, Mike Douglas, Dinah Shore, Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson — all on the same day.

Through his press agent I managed to get an interview with Burt in his ranch house overlooking Capitol Hill. I didn't know what to expect when I rang the doorbell, but I was pleasantly surprised to find Brilllo a warm, sensitive human being who hadn't allowed all the adulation to go to his head.

WE SAT BY THE swimming pool and a Japanese manservant brought us gin and tonics.

"Most people," he said, "think that newspapermen are different. But actually I'm just like anyone else except I live better and pay more taxes. Sure, I was lucky in the Taco Hut break-in, but I find in this business you're only as good as your next story."

"Oh, I've been offered lots of reporting jobs, but they're all junk — bank robberies, embezzlements, espionage trials and even a war or two. But I'm not about to rush into anything. I have to think of my future."

"MR. BRILLO, there was a rumor that Omar Sharif was going to play you in the movies. How do you feel about that?"

"Omar tried to buy the story, but I don't think he'd be right for it. I told the producers if they could get Al Pacino or Steve McQueen, I would be interested. I don't want to make the error Woodward and Bernstein did by having two nobodies like Robert Redford and Dustin Hoffman portray them."

"What's the toughest thing about being a successful newspaperman?" I asked.

"The lack of privacy. I can't go out to the store without being mobbed by my fans. Of course, they're the people who made me and I shouldn't complain, but sometimes I wish I was back to being just plain Burt Brilllo again."

"I GUESS YOU'RE bothered by a lot of female admirers, too."

"What investigative reporter isn't? But after a while the thrill wears off and you wish you could find someone who would love you for yourself and not just because you're the author of the Taco Hut story."

What Others Say

More than 14 million individual Americans own nine-tenths of the common stock of the six largest U.S. oil companies. These people represent 6.5 per cent of the population.

A survey by the American Petroleum Institute found that, after the elimination of all duplication, 2,300,000 people distributed throughout the 50 states are direct shareholders in Exxon, Gulf, Mobil, Standard of California, Standard of Indiana and Texaco. More than 11,750,000 other persons were counted as indirect shareholders because of their purchase of mutual funds and insurance stocks, through participation in pension and profit-sharing or retirement plans, through life insurance annuities, etc.

The API sponsored the survey to correct the notion that the oil companies are owned by a handful of millionaires.

This is not to say that no millionaires own stock. They do. But the median family income of these shareholders is about $16,400 a year. Some other facts of interest about the shareholders:

They are significantly older than the rest of the U.S. population. Half are over 60 years of age; eight out of 10 are over 45 years of age.

Women outnumber men, 54 per cent to 46 per cent.

Retired persons make up 46 per cent of the total, with a median age of 70.6 years and a median family income of $14,000.

Next time you think of "Big Oil," think about how many of your neighbors may be "Big Oil" company owners. — Amarillo News

Hearing Date Announced

AMARILLO — The Texas Railroad Commission has issued an order setting a June 2 statewide hearing to examine the facts pertaining to the use of natural gas as a boiler fuel in Texas.

K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president, pointed out that Pioneer is in a favorable position with its present long-term gas supply. Further, it has geared its exploration and production program and gas acquisitions to maintain the industrial growth of the company's service area. He said he feels that with the acceleration of drilling and exploration that is taking place, new sources will be found and reserves will be adequate to continue to serve all of Pioneer's customers.

Want House Gallery Divided During ERA Hearing April 14

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Leaders of both sides of the controversial U. S. Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) issue want the House gallery divided during testimony April 14 on a resolution to rescind Texas' ratification of the ERA.

Tuesday Rep. Ray Hutchison, R-Dallas, chairman of the Constitutional Revision Committee, set out rules to be followed at a hearing on the resolution. The rules include prohibitions against banners and placards in the House chamber as well as demonstrations in or near the chamber.

Mrs. Barbara Vackar of Austin, state coordinator of Texans for ERA, said the gallery should be divided into three sections—one for the anti-ERA people, one for ERA supporters and one for neutral spectators.

"If people on both sides of the issue have to wait in the same line for a gallery seat, they may be fighting tooth

Woman's Story Substantiated

A member of a Texas and Pacific rail crew verified the sighting of a tornado after midnight Sunday by a Sand Springs woman.

He said evidence in a field one half block south of the railroad about 1/2 mile east of the Carbon Black Plant showed that the twister had actually touched ground at that point and gone back up into the clouds.

Mrs. J.S. Phillips sighted a funnel which dipped down twice. She said it appeared to come close to the ground and to back into the clouds.

Drilling Loses Bit Of Margin

Oil will drilling, while still higher than a year ago, is losing some of its earlier margin. According to the April 7 report of the Hughes Tool Company to the International Association of Drilling Contractors, there were 1,585 rigs turning in the United States. This was 187 more than a year ago, or 18.71 per cent. Texas had 619 rigs going, up 146 for the year, or 30.86 per cent. The Permian Basin had 179, up 27 or 17.76 per cent.

BS Woman Is In Accident

ODESSA — A Big Spring resident, Cathy S. Waddill, 19, was released from Medical Center Hospital Emergency Room Tuesday after receiving treatment for a bruised right leg, an injury she suffered in an early-morning auto accident.

She was returning home at 3:45 a.m., traveling east on University about three miles west of town, when her car left the road and overturned twice, investigating officers said.

The woman was not thrown from the 1974 model auto.

No other person was involved in the mishap.

When a bad trump break occurs, the reaction of some declarers is instant paralysis. South was so unnerved when a defender showed out on the first round of trumps that he succeeded in reducing ten sure tricks to eight.

As the fates would have it, declarer can make eleven tricks at no trump by finessing the eight of hearts after East shows out. However, North-South glided into a four heart contract in a perfectly natural manner, and the auction cannot be faulted. West led a spade, declarer ducked in dummy and last won the queen. He shifted to the jack of clubs, taken by declarer's ace. A trump to the jack brought a diamond discard from East, and declarer was visibly shaken. He decided that he had to pick up West's trumps, so he crossed back to his hand with the queen of diamonds and finessed the eight of trumps. Then he cashed the king.

Declarer now tried to return to his hand with the jack of diamonds to draw the outstanding trumps. Unfortunately, West ruffed and returned a spade. Declarer was helpless. He won the ace, but was locked in dummy. Whatever he played, the defenders were bound to score their two black kings and another diamond ruff in the bargain for a two-trick set.

Declarer forgot that the main object in rubber bridge is to make the contract. Instead of worrying about West's five trumps, declarer should simply have concentrated on taking ten tricks. The sure-fire line is to draw four rounds of trumps, leaving West with the master trump, and then start on diamonds. West is free to ruff whenever he chooses, but declarer will be able to discard one of his black-suit losers on dummy's fourth diamond—the ace of spades is still on the table to serve as an entry. All South will lose is one trump trick and two tricks in the black suits.
