Yellow River Spreads To Increase Disaster

CHINA'S SORROW MAY BE JAPAN'S TOO—This map shows at a glance how the ominous rise in the Yellow river, for centuries known as "China's Sorrow," may at last help in hamstringing invading Japanese. The shaded area shows territory occupied by Japan; the black area shows the approximate spread of the disastrous flood.

SHANGHAI, June 16 (AP)—The Yellow river flood fed by a steady downpour of rain unraveled a ribbon of death and disaster 10 to 20 miles wide and 90 miles long across the flat plains of Honan province today. Chinese and Japanese armies locked in combat on the Peiping-Hankow front fled before the torrent which Japanese now estimate will take a toll of 50,000 lives.

Advices from Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital, said the relentless flood surging southeastward from torn dikes had penetrated beyond Fukow, 70 miles south of Kailfeng on the Lungshai railway and 90 miles south of the Yellow river.

Sweeping over thousands of acres of farmland, driving peasants and armies before it, flood was declared by Japanese war dispatches to have affected 2,000 villages with an aggregate population of 500,000. Japanese bombing planes, temporarily diverted from their death-dealing activities, dropped thousands of empty bags, ordinarily used for trenches and machine-gun nests, into the flood area for use of Japan's army engineers in repairing breached dikes.

While the main course of the flood was southeastward, another peril was reported north of the river where Japanese said Chinese troops were fleeing westward from Chengchow had cut new holes in the dikes of the Tsin river.

Way Is Cleared For Adjournment

FD's Veto On Farm Loans Overridden

Both Houses Vote To Continue Low Interest Rates

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—A bill to continue low interest rates on certain federal farm loans became law today, despite objections by President Roosevelt.

Senate Joins House The senate, following similar action in the house yesterday, voted to override Mr. Roosevelt's veto of the legislation. The house vote to override was 244 to 87. The senate vote was 57 to 180.

The legislation, sponsored by Senator Gillette and Representative Biermann, both Iowa democrats, will continue through June 30, 1940, the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate on certain land bank loans and the four per cent rate on land bank commissioners' loans.

In vetoing the bill, Mr. Roosevelt said it could cost a total of $208,700,000.

Senators Sheppard and Connally of Texas were among the democratic senators voting to override the president's veto.

Benefit Payment Plan Accepted WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The senate accepted today a house-approved formula for distributing $212,000,000 of farm benefit payments provided in the spending-lending bill.

Only one or two minor points in the big bill remained to be smoothed out when the farm payments were finally agreed upon.

The objective of writing the farm fund in the measure was to assure farmers 75 per cent of a "fair return" on their major crops. The $212,000,000 is in addition to the $300,000,000 previously voted for soil conservation payments.

Large Crowd Due Here Sunday For Song Convention L. E. Raper, Plainview, president of the Plains-Panhandle Singing Convention, advised the chamber of commerce Thursday that he was confident hundreds of singers from over all of West Texas would be here Saturday night and Sunday for the annual meeting.

The event, he said, had been well publicized over the plains area by press and radio.

"The municipal auditorium won't be able to hold the crowd," he said. The auditorium seats 1,500 people and Raper felt that it may be much too small.

MRS. CLINGAN IS CRITICALLY ILL Mrs. D. H. Clingan was reported Thursday to be critically ill at her home, 804 Lancaster. A sister, Mrs. Gertrude Freeman of Waxahachie, and a daughter, Mrs. E. M. MacPherson of Los Angeles, have arrived here to be at her bedside.

ATTORNEY DIES ST. LOUIS, June 16 (AP)—Forrest G. Ferris, first assistant circuit attorney of St. Louis, died today after suffering a relapse following an abdominal operation two months ago. He was 77 years old.

W. Lee O'Daniel Shows Something New In Campaigning—And Shows Also That The Crowds Like It

W. Lee O'Daniel, the new Moses on the political horizon, came to town Wednesday evening and did something to somebody's political playhouse.

What it was he had, the political wisecracks were trying to figure—but "it" he had for fully 2,500 people crowded on the east side of the courthouse lawn to hear the man who is running on a platform borrowed from the old Moses—the Ten Commandments.

Hundreds of the people in the crowd had waited patiently since before noon to hear the voice that had come over the air to their radios in town and in the hinterlands. When his white bus pulled in at 5 p. m., it was the signal for a strange demonstration.

His mixture of music and forensics was strange, but it was whooping good politics, not withstanding O'Daniel's disclaimer to political ability. For before his short stand here was concluded, he had pulled every proven political trick out of the bag—and a few new ones, too.

This "hill billy" candidate did something even foxey Jim Ferguson could never do at the height of his political stumping. He took up a collection, and not only kept his crowd but had a few women punting and showing to drop their "mites" into the kegs as their contributions to the cause.

What did he say? Not many could remember, but "it was grand." The occasional cheers, laughter and rebel yells, the size of the crowd at this early stage in the state race foretold that W. Lee O'Daniel is to be a factor in the current gubernatorial race.

The Fort Worth man, who sky-rocketed to fame on the radio with his homely, simple program, climbed aboard the "professional politicians" and gave them a good riding.

McCall Impassive As He Hears He Must Die For Cash Kidnaping

MIAMI, Fla., June 16 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair for the kidnaping of Jimmy Cash, Jr.

Cautioning the crowded courtroom to keep quiet, Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson called the minister's son to the bench.

"You plead guilty to the offense as charged of kidnaping and holding James Bailey Cash, Jr., for ransom. What have you to say for yourself?" he demanded.

McCall merely shook his head. "I find you guilty as charged in the indictment," the judge continued, "the same being a capital offense under the laws of Florida, and I sentence you to be held until such time as you shall be delivered to the superintendent of the state penitentiary to be held safely until a death sentence shall be carried out."

The judge said the governor would fix the date for the execution, specified the prisoner was to be put to death by electricity and concluded with the customary, "May God have mercy on your soul."

He made no further comment in court on the $10,000 ransom abduction McCall confessed to having perpetrated at Princeton May 28, but remarked privately that "it was the most cold-blooded thing I ever heard of—there were no mitigating circumstances in this case."

Nothing More To Say McCall heard his doom without flinching. His face was impassive and he looked straight ahead. Afterwards, under heavy guard, he was taken to an elevator and returned to his cell.

Jack Kehoe, the defense attorney appointed by the court, said he thought McCall had received a fair trial yesterday and that there would be no appeal. He said he had followed McCall's instructions in representing him and that he conferred with the defendant this morning and McCall declared he had nothing more to say.

McCall told the court at a hearing yesterday how he carried out the kidnaping.

"No one else ever had money tempt them that much," he said. McCall sat with eyes downcast while James Bailey Cash, Sr., father of the dead boy, and Mrs. Cash, identified pajamas worn by their son, but maintained he never intended killing the boy.

He told of entering the Cash home after cutting the screen of a back door.

Used Handkerchiefs "I picked Skeegie up in my arms," he said, "and placed two large, white, clean handkerchiefs over his face. I went out the back door. He appeared to be sleeping. I carried him in both arms and held the handkerchiefs over his mouth and, I guess, over his nose, but I didn't know it."

McCall related he walked to his home in the darkness, placed the child on a bed and tried to awaken him.

"I tried artificial respiration," he said. "I had heard it sometimes worked with people who had been strangled. I got cold water from the icebox and bathed his face but he didn't wake up."

"I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do." With no particular place in mind, McCall said, he took the body into the woods and left it in a tangle.

He then told how he went home and got the ransom note he had prepared five days before. He also told of delivering two other notes, the last of which he himself pretended to find.

More Oil Mill Stock Listed

Time Limit On City's Subscription Extended

Approximately $15,000 had been subscribed Thursday toward a cotton seed oil mill here, chamber of commerce officials estimated following a check on a drive to secure local stockholders in a projected industry by a large concern.

Deadline for subscribing $85,000 in stock by Wednesday was reported shaved back for a few days.

Raising of the $85,000 in stock was given as a prerequisite of the establishment of a $100,000 plant here, according to reports.

WILL MARK CARS ON SATURDAYS

Police said Thursday that they will mark cars for overtime parking regularly on Saturdays in the future.

The step is being taken in an attempt to further relieve the congested traffic conditions on Saturdays. Several weeks ago police started regular tagging on alley parking.

Agreement Is Reached On Fund Bill

Senate Completes Action On Spend-Lending Program

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—A joint senate-house conference committee agreed today on a compromise deficiency appropriations bill, clearing the way for adjournment of congress tonight.

Quick Compromise The conference group worked out the compromise on the $290,000,000 bill in less than four hours shortly after the senate had almost completed action on the administration's $3,738,000,000 spending-lending program.

As prospects for a quick adjournment improved, President Roosevelt moved up to about 7 p. m. the time of his planned departure for New England where he will attend the wedding on Saturday of his son, John.

Disagreement over provisions of the deficiency bill involving only about $10,000,000 of appropriations were the chief obstacle to adjournment.

When the two branches agree how much of that $10,000,000 shall be left in the bill finally passed, the weary congressmen can go home.

Already out of the way were most major pieces of legislation. The wage-hour bill awaited President Roosevelt's consideration. Even controversial flood control legislation, over which a filibuster threatened yesterday, was at the White House.

Farm Plan Approved Action on the $3,738,000,000 spending-lending bill was almost completed when the senate approved a formula, previously passed by the house, for distribution of $212,000,000 of farm benefit payments carried by the measure.

Subsequently the senate agreed to a $700,000 compromise of the rural electrification authority administrative allocation, also contained in the bill, and this was sent to the house for action.

The senate joined the house in overriding President Roosevelt's veto of a bill continuing lower interest rates on government farm loans. Its vote of 87 to 18 against the veto made the measure law.

Some legislators, weary after night and early morning sessions, were hopeful of adjournment by dinner time tonight. Others, cognizant of the possibility of a last-minute outbreak of speech-making, abandoned such hopes.

COAST GUARD PLANES PRESS SEARCH FOR RUNAWAY YACHT ON WHICH THREE YOUTHS SAIL TO SEEK TREASURE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 16 (AP)—A coast guard plane was ordered aloft today in a renewed hunt for the $25,000 yacht Tara, supposed leader of the runaway boys, was known to have chartered a course.

Lew K. Foote, owner of the missing craft, said Tara and his crew—James Henning, 17, and Bill Grace, 16—probably would have encountered no trouble except with navigation. Tara had a library book on the subject to guide him.

The Tara was stocked with six weeks provisions, 300 gallons of water, and enough fuel to run the auxiliary diesel engine for 300 miles. Seas have been calm and the 32-foot sailing craft was perfectly seaworthy.

The boys' adventure has caused Mrs. William R. Tara, mother of Lyle, "many sleepless nights."

"They have me worried," she said, "but if they get on one of those lonely islands in the south sea it may be a long time before they found them—and I don't think they'll give a clue to their whereabouts by writing home."

Locomotive Plunges Off Weak Bridge

Car Swept Into Swollen Stream, Others Reported Lost

By The Associated Press Five persons were missing, a train was wrecked, railroad tracks were washed out and highways inundated in the eastern Texas Panhandle Thursday when torrential rains sent brown floods down normally-dry creek and river channels.

Automobiles Sought Three passenger automobiles were sought near Wellington after highway department officials there feared they might have plunged through a washed out bridge over the Salt Fork of the Red river between Wellington and Shamrock.

A father, mother and child identified as Mr. and Mrs. Bert Freeman and son of Wichita Falls were feared drowned when a sudden rise in a creek swept their automobile from a bridge near Clarendon.

M. V. Griggs, engineer, and C. E. Burton, fireman of a Fort Worth & Denver freight train were missing after the locomotive plunged through a bridge washed out into the Salt Fork near Wellington. Dick Brown, brakeman on the train, fought the current in a five-mile swim to safety despite a badly injured chest.

Searching parties attempted to determine whether Griggs and Burton were trapped in the cab of the locomotive or were unable to make progress against the swift current.

They were trapped in the cab of the locomotive or were unable to make progress against the swift current. They were trapped in the cab of the locomotive or were unable to make progress against the swift current.

Three in Family Lost A wrecker was en route to the scene and railroad officials said they hope to drag the engine from the center of the stream to quieter water at the edge. They held out little hope for the lives of the missing trainmen.

Freeman was feared to have lost his life near Clarendon when he attempted to rescue his wife and child. Elmer Kennedy, farmer who lives near the wreck, said Freeman left his automobile on a bridge, and that a quick rise—characteristic of West Texas "dry" streams—evidently carried it with his wife and child into the flood. Kennedy believed Freeman had tried vainly to reach them. A man's shoe, a pair of trousers, and the flood-battered automobile were found by searchers at daylight but there was no trace of the missing persons. Kennedy said Freeman came to his door about midnight seeking shelter for the family.

The rainfall near Clarendon ranged from an inch to three inches. Highways were under water and sections of railroad track were washed out. There was a light rain at Amarillo, and the eastern section of the Panhandle and the Oklahoma line appeared to be hardest hit by downpours. Rains of from two to five inches damaged bridges and highways northwest of Halls, Okla.

Lubbock, on the South Plains of Texas, reported a wind-driven rain over much of the territory last night which will cause considerable replanting of cotton and grain sorghums. Some hail was reported.

CZECH PREMIER IS CONTINUING TALKS WITH MINORITIES PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, June 16 (AP)—After more than 24 hours of intensive discussion of the German minority's nationality demands, Premier Milan Hodza prepared today to begin similar negotiations with Hungarian and Polish groups.

At the same time persistent preparations for all possibilities of war were offset by patient exploration of the paths to peace.

Collection of a $35,000,000 defense fund in voluntary contributions was proceeding satisfactorily.

WANTS FARMERS TO PAY WHEAT STORAGE WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Secretary Wallace declared today that if he has his way farmers who pick up wheat as collateral for forthcoming wheat loans will have to foot the storage bill.

The government, he said, should not be required to pay for such storage. Agriculture department officials said the customary charge for storage of grain in commercial elevators was a cost of about a cent a bushel a month.

New Move For Charges Filed Disarmament? After Crash

Britain Indicates U. S. Considering A Program J. R. Malone Named In Complaint On Woman's Death

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that the United States government had intimated it was preparing to make definite proposals to secure world disarmament.

Aided by Arthur Henderson, labor member, if Britain were willing to "join with the United States government in making definite proposals with a view to securing a halt in the arms race," Chamberlain replied tersely.

"The United States government have suggested they are going to make an attempt."

Chamberlain is known to favor the "qualitative" type of disarmament such as abolition of the most deadly kinds of weapons—perhaps bombing planes.

This, he believes, is the type of disarmament most likely to escape evasion.

Britain herself is in the midst of a gigantic rearmament program and recently has taken no lead in attempts at disarmament in view of unsettled world conditions.

HULL'S VIEW WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The state department said today no communications had passed between the United States and Great Britain on the question of world disarmament.

Officials expressed the belief Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's intimation in the house of commons that definite disarmament proposals might be forthcoming from the United States were based entirely on a recent speech by Secretary Hull at Nashville, Tenn.

Hull said then: "With the world groaning under the burden of mounting armaments, we are prepared to join with other nations in moving resolutely toward bringing about an effective agreement on limitation and progressive reduction of armaments."

Grain Yield Estimate Is Cut Down

Considerable Crop Damage Reported During June

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—The nation's brilliant harvest prospects of a fortnight ago dimmed somewhat during the first half of June, a survey of the farm belt disclosed today, but large crop production still is expected by grain experts.

Whereas an all-time record wheat production was forecast officially two weeks ago, most authorities believe now a big harvest comparable with average yields of recent satisfactory growing seasons is more likely, unless further unlooked-for crop damage occurs.

Because of spreading black rust, wet weather and discovery of frost damage inflicted earlier in the year, many experts revised June 1 estimates of winter wheat production, some cutting as much as 100,000,000 bushels from their figures. The June 1 government forecast was 761,000,000 bushels.

Harvest has revealed shriveled and unfilled wheat heads in many southwestern localities where conditions already have been working. This situation, attributed partly to freeze and rust, has stirred up trade discussion as to how much of the wheat threshed would be millable.

Following are some aspects of the crop situation by states:

Kansas—Mrs. E. H. Miller reported wheat from St. Joseph west to Maryville and southwest to Salina very spotted and yield materially reduced by freeze and rust; much wheat already breaking down, straw drying before maturity of berry; much will test light.

Texas—Progress and condition of wheat good to excellent, with harvest delayed somewhat by rain; some damage from hail and rust in Abilene area.

Oklahoma—Rain delayed harvest with considerable wheat downed by wind and rain; wheat near El Reno, Clinton and Hydro reported down.

GOLD PURCHASES IN LONDON HEAVY

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—Abnormally large purchases of gold were recorded again today in the London market as hoarders hedged against rumors of dollar devaluation or a possible increase in the United States gold price of $35 an ounce.

Repeated official denials of such inflationary steps and lack of any confirmation for reports involving the homeward trip of United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who sailed yesterday, apparently had some effect.

Debutante Gives Up Inheritance To Wed Clerk

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—A pretty New York debutante, daughter of millionaire parents, calmly gave up her inheritance of "close to a million dollars" today to marry the man of her choice, a $21 a week clerk in a county home.

The ceremony was performed in the home of the groom's mother and brother here as the bride's parents made last-minute efforts to halt the wedding.

The bride is Rosemary Webster, 21, daughter of Dr. David H. Webster, prominent New York and Connecticut physician, and Mrs. Webster, a cousin of the late Major General Elwell Stephen Otis.

The groom is Paul Gilson, 23, of Canton, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gilson, a clerk in the St. Lawrence county welfare home, he was described by the girl's mother as "a poor ignorant boy."

"I will never accept him in my home," said the mother, Mrs. David H. Webster, who spoke by telephone from Stamford, Conn.

A marriage license was issued to the couple.

The girl's father, also expressed his disapproval, and said in New York that his daughter stood to lose "more than a million dollars" should she marry Gilson.

Meal By Hypodermic Is A Reality Under New Injection Process

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16 (AP)—A full meal by hypodermic needle—an improvement on the old idea of a meal in a pill—becomes reality under a discovery announced to the American Medical Association here today.

The discovery enables a doctor to inject proteins, the "ham, eggs and milk" of menus, directly into the blood. Heretofore the needle has been confined to injecting sugars, water and salts.

The needle meals will save the lives of persons whose stomachs refuse food. This happens not infrequently after surgical operations. While the patients do not directly starve to death, their partial starvation weakens them so that other complications kill them.

The protein injection leaves only fats and vitamins out to complete the "ideal diet" by needle. Some of the vitamins already are in pure form which can be injected, and fats can be dispensed with for some time in the starvation cases.

Solution of the protein injection puzzle was reported by Robert Elman, M. D., of Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis. He injects the amino acids, of which proteins are made. This amounts to a detour around nature's own methods. When meat, eggs, milk and other proteins are eaten, the human body does not use them directly, but breaks them into amino acids. These acids it rebuilds into the proteins peculiar to the human body.

Changing political sides, from the republican to the democratic party, or vice versa, should require a cautionary visit to the doctor. It may cause ill health, by upsetting colonic digestion, according to a paper by Elmer G. Wakefield, M. D., and Charles W. Mayo, M. D.,

Lewis Pushes Labor Fight

Campaign Dates Back To Industrial Wars Of '36-37

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—John L. Lewis' dramatic effort to force congress to strengthen the Walsh-Healey bill was traced today by labor experts to the industrial wars of 1936 and 1937.

Those years encompassed the major offensives in Lewis' militant C. I. O. campaign to organize mass production industries along industrial union lines.

Among the toughest opponents the C. I. O. encountered were big firms which did considerable business with the government. Lewis' proposed amendments to the Walsh-Healey act were aimed at such firms.

They would require all companies having government contracts of $2,000 or more to observe certain wage-hour standards and to accept decisions of the national labor relations board. Non-compliance would "blacklist" such firms when future federal contracts were awarded.

In a desperate effort to push the measure through the house, Lewis established temporary headquarters in Speaker Bankhead's office Monday and summoned several congressmen to hear his demands. The house rules committee refused, next day, to send the bill to the floor.

The heavyset labor leader went back to Capitol Hill yesterday, accompanied by several aides. Speaker Bankhead, however, refused to demand for a vote under suspension of rules, and the C. I. O. chief left with a denunciation of "cowardly congressmen."

Representative Cox (D-Ga) reported that the rules committee would "continue to throw his (Lewis) out on his ear."

Jap Planes Shot Down

Canton Elated At News Of Defenders' Victory

CANTON, China, June 16 (AP)—An official proclamation that six Japanese bombing planes attempting an attack on the Canton area had been shot down today started joyous celebrations in this much-bombed city.

The announcement, by the local government, asserted Chinese pursuit planes met and defeated the invaders. Canton's remaining population, which has suffered death-dealing Japanese air attacks almost without respite for three weeks, received the news ecstatically.

The proclamation said the Japanese again bombed the railway north of Canton, after which 13 Chinese pursuit planes set out and caught them at Lokchonghalei, about 200 miles north of the city near the border between Kwangtung and Hunan provinces.

The Chinese planes then "flew rings around the slow-moving death engines," said the proclamation, "machine-gunning and shooting down the bombers one by one."

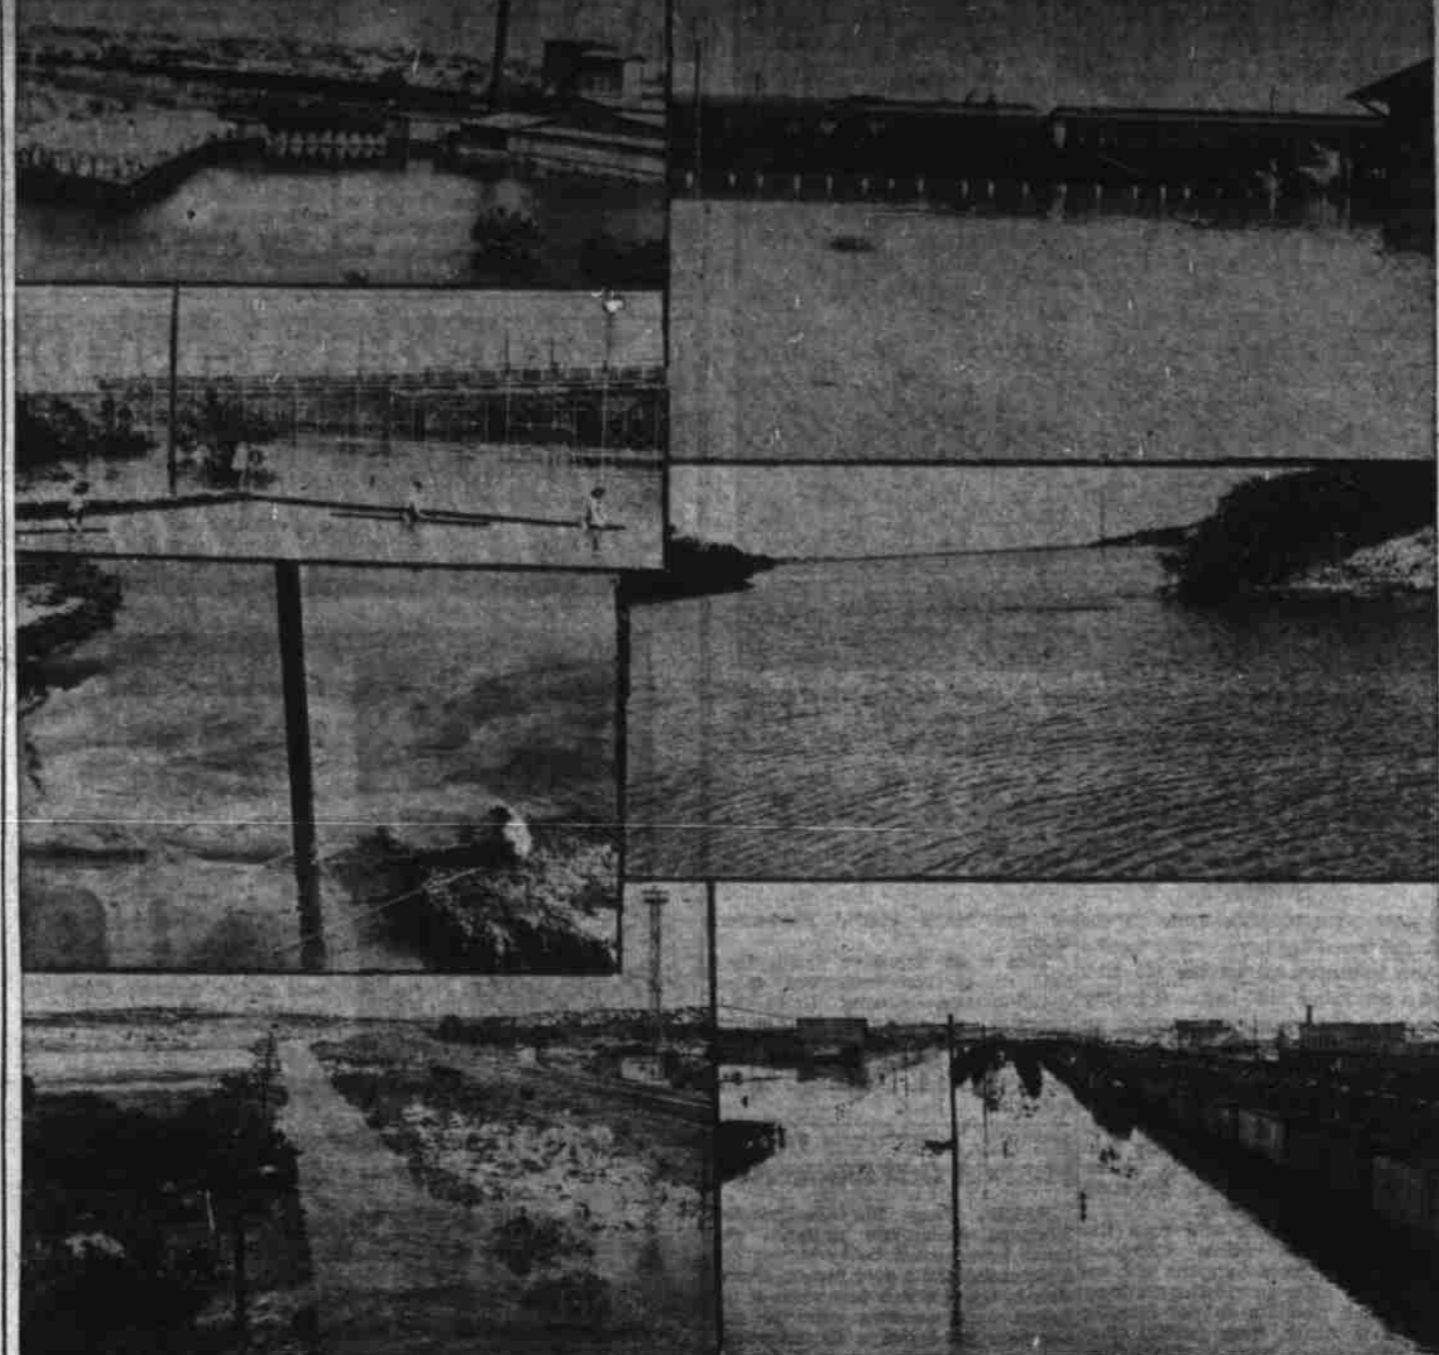

The Japanese in bombing the railway were attempting to block the northward shipment of munitions. Hitherto, Japanese air raiders have met no real resistance over Canton, and the unexpected Chinese defense strengthened reports that the Chinese high command had sent 30 French-made planes to the Canton area since the present series of Japanese bombings began May 25.

SEMI-MILITARY UNITS RAPID BY VFW

WACO, June 16 (AP)—A resolution opposing semi-military organizations acting "under orders or suggestions promulgated by foreigners" was in the records of the Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars today.

The organization, closing its annual encampment here yesterday, passed that resolution and selected Amarillo for the 1939 meeting. D. A. Dunlavey of Port Arthur was elected state commander.

LAKE OVERFLOW WATERS GIVE BIG SPRING A GOOD SAMPLE OF FLOOD

Big Spring got a glimpse of more water than it had seen in 15 years Monday when overflow from the chain of lakes west of town coursed through the lowlands in the center of the city. Upper left, the Big Spring Compress Co. looks much as if a steamboat might come around the bend at any moment and dock at the loading platform. In the view immediately below children engage in rare sport of "boating" on improvised rafts and bridge timber just in front of the waterbound Southern Ice and Utilities Co. The ice docks of the company may be seen in the background. Upper right passengers have to be hauled by car from passenger coaches to dry land on E. 1st street while water stands in the depot, Hughes (T.&P.) lake, just south of town, is shown in the center right view pressing at the top of the dam, pictured in the distance half a mile away. Back waters have leveled the 30-foot arroyo that was once the "big spring" for which the town was named. The man in the picture, third from top on the left, may not have caught any fish, but he had two poles out in the swirling current just west of the Benton street viaduct. In the lower left view, force of the current carrying off the flood waters is indicated in the channel east of the Benton street viaduct. In the distance may be seen the inundated pasture lands and the tower of radio station KBST. Lower right, a graphic view is shown of the T.&P. yards, covered by waters spreading a quarter of a mile in width.

French Debate Develops Into A Clash

Guards Summoned Into Chamber Of Deputies

PARIS, June 16 (AP)—An alarm signal summoning guards to clear the hall sounded today in the chamber of deputies for the first time in a decade as communist and rightist deputies fought over France's policy toward the Spanish civil war.

The two extreme factions mingled in a free-for-all over the communists' demands that France end her policy of nonintervention and open the way to aid for the Spanish government.

Two rightist deputies, Fernand Claudet and Francois Peugeot, were injured and were escorted from the chamber with blood dripping from their faces.

Edouard Herriot, president of the chamber had suspended the session for the second time during the day in an effort to halt bitter shouting between the right and left sides of the amphitheater.

During the suspension a group of communist deputies approached the right and clashed with nationalist members. The fighters were quickly dispersed.

Trouble arose after communist spokesmen protested what they called "unilateral" application of the European nonintervention accord, referred to Italian and German aid to the insurgents, and insisted on immediate discussion of their demands for ending France's neutrality.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN N. M. FOREST FIRES

SILVER CITY, N. M., June 16 (AP)—New forest fires today swept through timberlands in the Gila national forest and the Mesalero Indian reservation, destroying several thousand acres of timber and harrying fire fighters wearied by two weeks of battle on the fire lines.

In the drought-burned Pinos Altos mountains and in the Black Range the fire hazard was undiminished, while smoke plumes rose over the mountains visible for 50 miles.

Two of the new fires were in the Pinos Altos. The third and most severe raged over an estimated 900 acres in the Black Range before being brought under temporary control today.

MILITARY PIECES TO BE DISPLAYED AT GETTYSBURG

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Amid ruse of weather-beaten, cast iron muzzle-loading "cannon"—relics of the long ago conflict between the North and South—the army will mobilize 3,000 troops here next week for the 75th anniversary celebration of the battle of Gettysburg.

Practically every piece of armament and motor conveyance now in service in the army will go on display in a stubble wheat field near where Lee and Meade met in the crucial battle of '63, said Paul Roy, secretary of the commission planning the observance.

WEALTHY ATTORNEY CLAIMED BY DEATH

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Thomas L. Chadbourne, 66, whose skill at corporation law helped him amass a fortune at $15,000,000, died in a hospital last night shortly after suffering a heart attack on his yacht.

Chadbourne was board chairman of the International Mining Corporation and a director in about 50 other corporations. Known as a "radical capitalist," Chadbourne was a pioneer in advocating labor's right to bargain collectively and to share in corporation profits.

DOOMED NEGROES DENIED CLEMENCY

HUNTSVILLE, June 16 (AP)—Two negroes probably will die in the electric chair at the state prison early tomorrow for criminal assault.

Tommy Wells, 25, Monroe, La., and Mark Henry Calhoun, 18, of Dallas, were both refused clemency by the state pardon board yesterday.

Wells was convicted of criminal assault on a Texarkana white woman. Calhoun was given the death penalty for criminal assault on a 13-year-old white girl.

Seek Revival Of Markets For Cotton

Permanent Organization Launched In The South

CLEVELAND, Miss., June 16 (AP)—Oscar Johnston, Scott, Miss., cotton planter and former head of the government cotton pool, began organizing the cotton interests today into a national cotton council to restore the world markets for cotton.

A meeting of some 200 producers and processors from the Southern states here yesterday voted Johnston temporary head of the council and gave him full authority to go ahead with permanent organization.

Governor Hugh White of Mississippi assured the cotton men that he would ask the Mississippi legislature, called into special session June 27, to lend financial support to the council and other speakers pledged support of their states in the movement.

Johnston outlined the objectives of the council primarily to develop and enlarge world markets for the South's principal crop and to encourage scientific research to develop new uses for cotton and increase its consumption.

He also said the council would sponsor legislation to promote consumption of cotton and cottonseed products throughout the world and seek to coordinate producers, ginners, oil mill operators, warehousemen and cotton merchants into a cooperative effort to improve the cotton industry which has been losing export trade.

GOVERNOR ON CARS?

AUSTIN, June 16 (AP)—Commenting today on proposals that motorists be required to put governors on automobiles limiting their speed to 60 miles an hour, Gov. James V. Alfred said that "it looks like that may be the only way to solve the speeding problem."

The chief executive said he was highly pleased with the large attendance and enthusiasm at the state-wide traffic safety conference yesterday at Fort Worth.

Vet Photographer Given Honors By University

CLEVELAND, June 16 (AP)—It was Andy Krafft's day off, theoretically, as the veteran Plain Dealer photographer mumbled a little as he arrived to cover Western Reserve university's commencement convocation.

"Here we are, another commencement, and we ain't got no diploma yet," said Krafft, setting up his camera. Then a doctor in cap and gown asked the photographer to come forward. Puzzled, Krafft complied.

"Andrew Levand Krafft," said Dr. Winfred G. Leutner, Reserve president, "from this immemorial you have been picturing the activities of the university."

Dr. Leutner handed the dazed Andy a certificate. It read: "In recognition of thirty-four years of service as photographic interpreter to Cleveland of the life and work of its religious, philanthropic and educational institutions."

Andy returned to his camera.

New Grocery Opened Here

Rufus Davidson Operates Gregg Street Concern

Davidson's Grocery & Market, 200 North Gregg street, Big Spring's newest food and meat market, has opened for business, with Rufus Davidson, well-known Big Spring business man, as manager and owner. Mr. Davidson, who has resided in Big Spring for the past thirty-one years, is an experienced grocer. He recently resigned as manager of the grocery department of the Co-Operative Gin & Supply company, having held that position for the past nine years. Associated with Mr. Davidson is Ben Stuteville, also well-known in Big Spring, who will be in charge of the market department.

The new food market opened for business earlier in the week, but finishing touches are being put on the new building, 22x34 feet on North Gregg, facing the compass. Mr. Davidson cordially invites the people of Big Spring and vicinity to visit his new store.

The building is owned by Andrew Merrick of this city. Construction was done by C. & B. Construction company of this city.

SENTENCED FOR REVOLT

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 16 (AP)—Two officers and eleven midshipmen of the Brazilian naval academy have been sentenced to 32 months imprisonment each for complicity in the unsuccessful fascist revolution of May 11. They were convicted by the national security court yesterday.

HOUSES WRECKED BY JAPS

Once a fine home in the Tungshan district of Canton, China, this house presents its ruined facade for the hall of death and destruction that had been pouring down on Canton for nearly two weeks. The airman's bomb made quite an artistic effect when it left these balconies hanging down forlornly.

Says Germany Not Obligated To Meet Austria's Debts

BREMEN, Germany, June 16 (AP)—Economics Minister Walther Funk declared today that Germany was not obligated to acknowledge state debts of annexed Austria either from the viewpoint of international law or on economic or moral grounds.

He added, however, that Germany was trying to come to an agreement with Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief economic adviser to the British government, "in a spirit of mutual understanding with the aim of compromise that will meet the interests of both parties."

The economics minister, speaking at a celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of historic Schuetting House, headquarters of Bremen's chamber of commerce, branded the United States as "virtually the center of disturbances" in world economics.

He extolled Germany as the opposite of America in the matter of economic stability.

The economics minister held that delay in Anglo-American discussions seeking a new trade pact was due to the world economic crisis.

WOMAN AND LOVER CHARGED IN HER HUSBAND'S DEATH

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., June 16 (AP)—A rural lover's blurted assertion that "denial" led to a statement from the widow that she ordered the drowning of her middle-aged husband, County Attorney R. K. Harris said today.

Led before Justice of the Peace E. E. Heyl late yesterday, the widow, Mrs. Essie Matthews, 37, and her admitted lover, Leonard Overcast, 37, were charged formally with the murder of Benjamin Franklin Matthews, 32, who died in the muddy waters of a slough on his farm near here Sunday.

The pair waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held without bond for district court.

Harris said the widow told a story of living for a time with her nephew, Jimmy Matthews, then deserting him for Overcast at Oklahoma City, later returning to her husband.

LEASE SETTLEMENT SATISFIES ALLRED

AUSTIN, June 16 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred expressed complete approval today of the settlement entered in the controversy between the state and the Venmex Oil company of Wichita Falls over title to approximately 345 acres of riverbed land near Wichita Falls.

"We recovered about 60 per cent of the land conveyed to the Venmex in the lease renewal by Land Commissioner William H. McDonald," Allred said. "I figure the state is at least $1,000,000 better off than it would have been if Mr. McDonald's renewal had been allowed to stand."

The governor said the mineral board probably would meet in the near future to take steps toward leasing that portion of the Big Wichita riverbed recovered by virtue of the settlement.

Everett L. Looney of Austin, special representative of Governor Allred, worked with the attorney general's department in obtaining the agreed judgment.

The governor pointed out that consummation of a settlement was necessary to obviate high receivership costs.

Wrangling Goes On In Newark 'Free Speech' Trial

NEWARK, N. J., June 16 (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and opposing counsel resumed their heated wrangling in the federal court "free speech" trial today over questioning about Jersey City's absence from the list of cities whose records for crime are published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Morris L. Ernst, of counsel for the plaintiff CIO and American Civil Liberties Union, sought to show that the records of the Hague domain were omitted by the FBI because they were "dishonest and untrue."

The mayor, shaking his forefinger at the New York attorney was cut off repeatedly by Ernst, who insisted on answers only to his questions.

The session, also was interrupted by the appearance of Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, who was deported from Jersey City April 30 when he attempted to speak there without a permit.

"Here comes the hero in," remarked Hague from the witness stand, when Thomas walked into the courtroom.

Ernst asked Hague if he did not pride himself on the record of Jersey City for absence of crime. Hague said he did.

Ernst then asked if the witness knew that Jersey City was the "only city in the United States" whose criminal records were not included in the FBI reports.

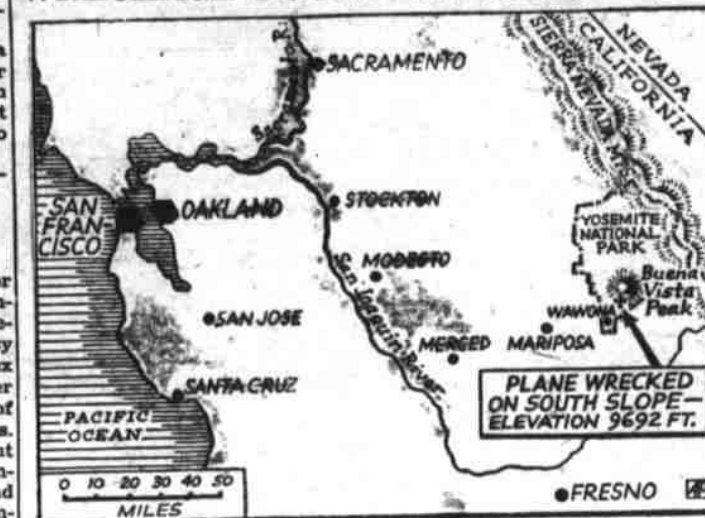

"I want to explain that," Hague said. "I just want to know if you know," Ernst fired back.

LAD OF 13 OPENS DAILY SUMMER 'SUNDAY SCHOOL'

YORK, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Edward McCoy, who spends his summer vacation conducting his own daily "Sunday School," swept out his father's garage today for another term.

Edward, an eight-grade student, distributed leaflets to parents in the neighborhood inviting them to send their children to the first session Monday, and said he hoped this summer's attendance would be as large as previous ones. "Thirty five boys and girls came to his Sunday school last year to hear him preach and discuss religious topics."

Gallery Visitor Adds His Word To Debate On Fine Arts Bill

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Congress had its best laugh of the session in the closing week—a one-act farce in which a gallery visitor had the punch line.

The scene began with a discussion in the house yesterday of a bill by Rep. Sirovich (D-NY) to establish a federal bureau of fine arts.

Rep. Short (R-Mo.), whose rich voice was groomed in Ozark mountain pulpits, took the floor, spread his arms and pirouetted.

"All we need to do," he shouted, "with 12,000,000 people out of work, is to teach toe dancing so we can restore prosperity. "God knows I have never enjoyed Puccini on an empty stomach. I can't see how anybody could enjoy Mendelssohn with the seat of his pants out."

Rep. Taylor (R-Tenn.) declared the bill was designed to collect "these terpsichoreans, thespians and people in one gigantic bureaucracy."

"What protection is there for Charlie McCarthy?" demanded Rep. Maas (R-Minn.).

As the laughter died away, Sirovich defended the value of culture and the "glory of the frozen poetry of architecture."

Replying to the charge of bureaucracy, he said: "You can't regiment drama, the plastic arts and literature in a democracy."

It was the cue for a bronzed tourist in a tan summer suit. "Why?" his voice boomed from

Mail Service Into Effect

Motorized Carriers Travel Extended Routes

Motorized carriers delivered mail Thursday morning for the first time on the extended routes which now make free delivery available to virtually every home in the city.

Two carriers, A. C. Preston and Archie E. True, completed the round shortly before 2 p. m., Assistant Postmaster Elmer Boatler announced.

In the future, unless as many as 80 per cent of the homes along the extended route fail to comply with requirements by not erecting curb mail boxes, the route will be operated six days a week, exclusive of holidays, said Boatler.

The assistant postmaster urged residents previously not served by free mail delivery to insure continuation of the service by erecting boxes at the curb and notifying the postoffice of change in address so that the mail may be delivered to their doors.

MRS. PHILLIPS WINS IN AMARILLO PLAY

AMARILLO, June 16 (AP)—Coolly and calmly, Mrs. R. E. Winger, Fort Worth two-time champion of the Women's West Texas Golf association and medalist in yesterday's qualifying rounds of the fourth annual tournament, advanced today in quest of her third straight title with a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. D. H. Culton, Amarillo.

Miss Anna Bland Thompson, medalist in the recent Fort Worth city tournament, advanced through her first round match with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. George McGrath, Amarillo.

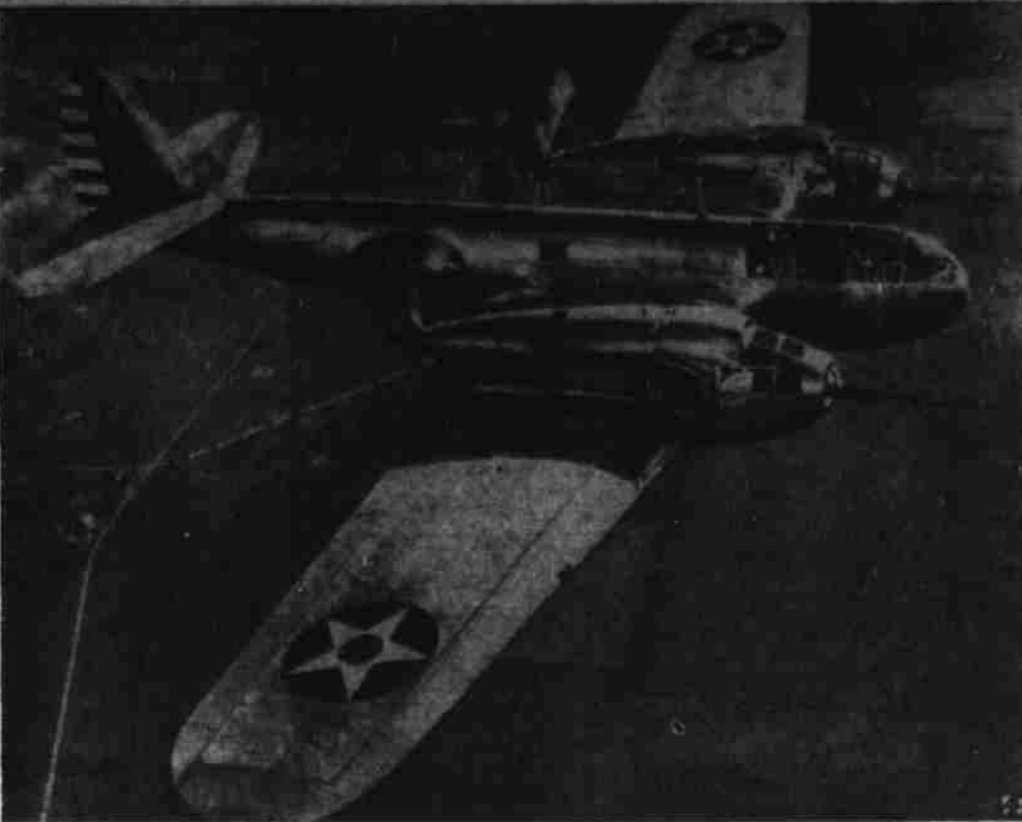

Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Big Spring, eliminated Mrs. C. E. Worrell, Farwell, 4 and 3.

One of the pre-tournament favorites, Mrs. W. K. Powell of San Angelo, fell victim to Mrs. J. W. Ross, Amarillo, 5 and 4.

SPY CONVICTION UPHeld BY COURT

NEW ORLEANS, June 16 (AP)—The United States fifth circuit court of appeals today upheld the 4-to-12 year prison term given John S. Farnsworth, former lieutenant commander in the navy, for conspiracy to divulge military secrets to Japan.

Farnsworth, in his appeal sought through habeas corpus action to gain his freedom from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. The Northern Georgia district court denied his plea.

YOUTH ARRESTED AS EXTORTIONIST

BOZEMAN, Mont., June 16 (AP)—West Yellowstone tavern owners said beer down the bar with a steady hand today, free from bombing threats following the arrest and confession of an 18-year-old youth who sought "protection" money to finance air-school training.

Sheriff Lovette I. Westlake announced last night that Kyle Podoll, 18, Pocatello, Ida., signed a confession that he fashioned the crude explosive that blew a hole in one of the four buildings he admitted he threatened in extortion notes to the owners.

THEY FIGHT A DREAD DISEASE

Featured in the new drama, "Yellow Jack", booked at the Elita theatre Friday and Saturday are Virginia Bruce and Robert Montgomery. "Yellow Jack" is a powerful dramatic story of man's campaign to eradicate yellow fever, with emphasis placed on the scientific program in Cuba after the Spanish-American war. Lewis Stone, Andy Devine and Buddy Ebsen are others in the cast.

FAVORS EFFORTS TO BOOST TRADE

OTTAWA, Ont., June 16 (Canadian Press)—Canada cannot afford to attempt economic self-sufficiency, Finance Minister Charles D. Dunning told the Canadian house of commons today in his annual budget statement.

Such an attempt, he said, would bring increased production costs and a permanent, substantial lowering of the Canadian standard of living.

On the contrary, he declared, Canada should attempt to lessen international friction and political tension and cooperate "in all efforts to reopen the markets of the world to the normal interchange of goods and services."

Mexican Oil To Germany?

Rumors Heard After Conferences At Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—Fritz Stanley, representing W. R. Davis, New York oil operator, conferred at length today with Finance Minister Eduardo Suarez in what was reliably reported as negotiations to buy Mexican oil for resale to Germany.

Most oil circles understood that Davis proposed to buy 10,000,000 barrels of the output of an industry that became wholly a state business when the government expropriated foreign oil properties March 18.

One usually well informed source, however, said Davis wished to buy only the output of wells which the government owned before the expropriation—about 18,000 barrels daily.

It was recalled that two months ago Davis said he was ready to purchase the product of the old government properties but would not touch oil from the expropriated properties until the situation were clarified.

Whichever output was concerned in today's talks, it was learned that Davis would pay 40 per cent cash and cover the remainder of the purchase with credits he has frozen in Germany as a result of operations of his Hamburg refinery and distributing plants.

It was reported the deal already had been approved by President Lazaro Cardenas with only the sig-

STEEL WORK FINISHED ON AP'S NEW HOME

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—The traditional "topping-out" ceremony, the raising of an American flag on the topmost girder, today signalled the completion of steel work on the 18-story Associated Press building in Rockefeller Center.

More than 6,000 tons of steel have been riveted into place in 29 working days on the structure, the twelfth of the Rockefeller group.

It is expected to be ready for occupancy Dec. 1.

MEXICAN CAPRICE

3 tomatoes
1/2 cucumber
1 bunch radishes
2 bunches green onions
Green pepper
Lettuce
Salt

FOR YOUR PICNIC

Slice the tomatoes. Peel the cucumber and run the tines of a fork down the side, scalloping the edges and slice. Cut the top from a pepper, remove the seeds and slice, making several pepper rings for garnish and dice the rest. Make radish roses by peeling small parts of the radish, skin almost to the base of the radish, in form of small petals. Place in ice water to let the head under cold running water to separate the cloves. Use the heart of the lettuce for the salad.

Assembling the Salad

Line the sides of the bowl with lettuce leaves, and toss the ingredients lightly together. Add salt. Mix gently with Sun Spun Salad Dressing. Garnish the top with tomato, cucumber and pepper rings and radish roses. Place green onions, with their tops — in the side of the bowl. Serve with assorted crackers and cheese.

Sun Spun Salad Dressing is made by the largest manufacturer of salad dressing in the world and is guaranteed to please.

O'Daniel

"We are going to have a business administration with a directors table in the governor's mansion for business men to sit around and counsel," he promised.

His tax program, O'Daniel said, would center on a "complete inventory" of the state with the view of "equalizing the tax burden," and he predicted that when this is done, "the rate will have to be lowered a lot lower than it is now."

Turning to the old age pension, a favorite move for all the candidates, he declared it to be the "burning issue of the campaign."

"$30 for Everybody"

The pension, O'Daniel declared, "is an honest and just debt voted by the people of Texas, so why argue about it? I'm in favor of paying it in the way it was voted. I mean $15 by the state and $15 by the federal government to every person 65 years or over."

A master of ridicule, O'Daniel poked fun at the old age assistance commission and its staff of investigators, suggesting that if one of the "gumshoe men finds grandma has an extra piece of chewing gum on her bed," her allotment is cut.

Ner did the state highway patrol escape his caustic blasts, for he intimated that a truck of tomatoes was halted and the driver fined for being "three tomatoes" overweight. This, he said, meant that "there is a screw loose somewhere."

He vaguely attacked regulatory measures, venturing that "pretty soon they might put a meter on each of us and make us pay so much for breathing."

O'Daniel stood for a program of decentralized industry throughout the state and said there was "no reason why we can't have these factories."

He charged "professional politicians" with attempting to write a platform for him—"a third carbon copy of the platform for the other two candidates (presumably Bill McCraw and E. O. Thompson)"—and of hiking the price on his radio broadcasts.

The man who composed "Beautiful Texas" turned an old trick in political channels when he suggested the chain letter system as an aid to his campaign.

Turning at long last to his Ten Commandment platform, he said he appreciated the "W. Lee O'Daniel Prayer Club" a poor woman organized on his behalf in Houston.

After it was all over, O'Daniel gathered his Hillbilly Boys under his wings, shook many hands, absorbed a legion of "God bless you's" and rolled on to Colorado and another big crowd.

EQUALIZATION WORK BEING CONTINUED

BERLIN, June 16 (AP)—The government today decreed more severe restrictions on Jewish commerce and finance in Nazi Germany.

A decree published in the official Reichsgesetzblatt defined more closely than ever what shops, businesses or other commercial undertakings are to be regarded as Jewish.

The decree aims to make certain that bans against Jewish or part Jewish stores or concerns shall be observed to the fullest extent as far as members of the Nazi party and the entire German civil service are concerned.

County Attorney Vernis Fulmer filed a charge against King of aiding a prisoner to escape.

The break had been set for tonight, officers believed.

Squat, baldish, heavy-jowled Sarraut is again minister of the interior, which makes him responsible for the protection of the British monarchs, just as he was responsible back in 1924 for the protection of King Alexander of Yugoslavia.

But at Marseille, King Alexander was assassinated by a foreigner.

As a result of that assassination, Sarraut had to resign his post. Now, back on the job again, he has seen to it that all foreigners living in France must obtain an identity card well in advance of King George's arrival. Foreigners who can't give satisfactory reasons for staying here must leave.

RE-ELECT C. V. TERRELL

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

Democratic Primary July 23, 1938

The need for continuing the services of an experienced man on the Railroad Commission of Texas, should insure the re-election of C. V. TERRELL, its present Chairman.

His policy of oil and gas conservation has added millions of dollars to the permanent school funds, and should not be disturbed.

His successful efforts for lower freight rates on livestock, cotton, and other commodities have greatly benefited Texas.

Thousands have profited from his orders lowering gas rates to the consumer.

His honesty and efficiency in office are unquestioned.

His devotion to the cause of Texas education has characterized his entire public career.

Ernest Thompson For Governor

Against Tax Increases

He is against any new taxes, including a sales tax, until a sound savings program is put into effect, and until it is determined whether the Social Security program, as outlined above, can be financed out of savings.

Organized Labor

He is in favor of Organized Labor and of collective bargaining. He is in sympathy with all the efforts of labor organizations to improve the wage, hour and living conditions of laborers and their families.

War On Unemployment

The real problem of labor is that of unemployment, and the real problem of the State Government is that of unemployment. Thompson pledges an active and continuous program of encouraging new industries and the development of natural resources in Texas to the end that more jobs can be provided for Texas citizens.

Higher Prices for Farm Products

He is for all sound programs designed to raise the prices of farm and ranch products. The farm must be given an even break with industry. Will lend the influence of the Governor's office in co-operation with all agencies seeking to better farm prices and further the conservation movement.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Due To Rebound

When a team drops as many slots by losing one game as did the Big Spring baseball crew (a slip from second to fifth place), a rebound can naturally be expected. It may start today or it may wait 24 hours but, as long as the team plays the brand of ball it is playing, no fan should have a kick.

Here's a last plea. Come out and help the Barons win this afternoon and do your part in keeping the pro game here.

Determined not to slip back below that .300 batting average mark he attained after so hard a climb, Joe Saparito added some six or seven points to his hickory mark on the last Barons road trip.

Clouting .320 after he had finished with Bill Terry's offerings at Lubbock Wednesday, Jo-Jo bids fair now to rise even higher in the league race.

In the first game of the double header against the Hubs Tuesday the Little Italian swung into a home run, a double and two singles and, after going hitless in the aftermath, returned yesterday with a double and a single to come home feeling right chipper.

Two Clouters Are Opening Up Now

Another bright spot in the dark cloud was the improved slugging of Harry Siebert and Al Berndt, first sacker and catcher, respectively, of the local crew. Al rapped out his initial four base ply of the season in the finale with Lubbock, the blow coming with the bases crammed while Harry "saturated" the platter balls of three Lubbock twirlers for a total of seven hits in three days, including two doubles in the opener of the Tuesday

Vandermeer Hurls Second No-Hitter In Four Days

Brook Victim Of Red Ace's Mystery

Only Pitcher In History Of Game To Record Two In 1 Year

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Vander Meer moved into baseball's hall of fame last Saturday. Now he owns it. That's something not even the Mathewsons, the Johnsons, the Youngs ever did.

In all baseball history, only ten pitchers ever have turned in two no-hit games over their entire careers. None ever had come through with two in one season.

Last Saturday, pitching against the Boston Bees, he hurled the first nine-inning National League no-hitter since Daffy Dean turned the trick in 1934. Last night, he repeated against the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-0, before a sellout crowd of 33,748 which packed Ebbets Field to see major league night ball inaugurated in the metropolitan area.

Eight men reached base, all on walks, as his mates fielded perfectly, but Johnny pitched his way out of every pinch. Even in the ninth, when, with one out, he loaded the bases on consecutive walks to Babe Phelps, Cookie Lavagetto and Dolph Camilli, the Dodgers' "murderers' row," he got hold of his control again to finish the job. In that spot, he forced a runner at the plate for the second out and got Lippy Lee Durocher to fly to center on a two-and-two pitch to end the game.

Except for that one inning, only one other Brooklyn runner got as far as second base against the six-foot, 190-pounder and his fireball, as he posted his seventh win of the year against two defeats.

Had A Hunch
As early as the fourth, Johnny had a hunch he might repeat his no-hit job. There must have been something in the way the Brooklyns were swinging, or possibly it was because his father and mother were in the stands, and "Pop" was seeing his first big league game. "My arm felt as fine as the finish as it did at the start," he said after the game, and then left for his parents' home in Jersey.

No-hitters are nothing new to Johnny. During his sandlot days around home, he pitched five in one season, three of them in succession.

His class performance, which was made easier when Buck Mc Cormick's three-run homer put the finishing touches on a four-run game winning rally in the third inning, completely overshadowed two other first-rate pitching jobs on yesterday's program. Jim Tobin, the Pittsburgh Pirates' young right hander, hurled a five-hitter in whitewashing the New York Giants, 2-0.

Leaders Dta in AL
The defeat, however, didn't cut the Giants' lead any, since Deacon Danny MacFayden duplicated Tobin's trick against the second-place Chicago Cubs to give the Boston Bees a 2-0 victory. Not a man passed first base against Danny.

Over in the American League the Cleveland Indians retained their half-game lead over the New York Yankees when both came from behind to score victories. The Tribe snapped a five-game losing streak to top the Senators, 6-4. The Yanks stretched home as the Athletics made it two straight over the Tigers, 7-4. Jimmy Foxx walloped No. 19 to pitch the Boston Red Sox to a 7-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The Cardinals collected 16 hits to win a 9-7 slugfest from the Phillies.

EX-GOPHER WINS OVER SAVOLDI

LOS ANGELES, June 15 (AP)—Two ex-football stars met in a wrestling match here tonight and after one fall Bronko Nagurski, 220, ex-Minnesotan, was declared the winner over Joe Savoldi, 215, formerly of Notre Dame.

Savoldi hurled Nagurski against the ropes with a drop kick and then essayed another. He missed his mark and crashed into the ropes, falling back on his head. Nagurski pinned him to the mat and it developed the former Notre Dame fullback was so badly hurt he was unable to continue.

Devils, Chevy Crew Tangle For Honors

Games With Lamesa Called Off Due To Rain

Ben Daniel's Anderson Devils and the Lone Star Chevrolet company's softball aggregation traveled to Lamesa Wednesday evening to appear in exhibition games only to be sidelined when rain started falling at dark.

Both teams were repaying a visit Lamesa teams made here earlier in the season.

Tonight at the Mundy diamond the Lone Star crew and the Devils tangled in the final game of the first half race of the Industrial league schedule. The game will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The Devils need the victory to clinch the leadership. Schedule for the next half of the season will probably appear in Sunday's edition of The Herald.

TYLER LOSES 7th STRAIGHT GAME

By The Associated Press
The leaders held the pace in the East Texas league last night but the Henderson Oilers proved the big noise by climbing into fourth place on the strength of a streak of six victories in seven starts.

The top-hand Marshall club won over Tyler, 13-5, taking advantage of the weakness of Trojan hurlers in the early innings and clubbing the ball lustily the remainder of the way. It was Tyler's seventh straight loss.

Second place Texarkana ran over Longview, 15-4, bouncing three Canby pitchers for 18 hits. Henderson's 3-0 win over Jacksonville brought the Oilers within 25 points of the thick-skinned Cannabala.

Greg Lippold held Jacksonville to four hits and rarely was even threatened.

Palestine beat Kilgore, 5-3, behind the steady pitching of Frank Narbut.

Oldtimers Shine In Texas Loop Race; Many Individual Leaders

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, June 16 (AP)—Overlooked, perhaps, by fickle fans who scan their box scores to keep tabs on the up-and-comers, is a little bunch of Texas Leaguers in the evening careers spotted with diamond drama.

Baseball's breaks, the kind that sent Schoolboy Rowe and Daffy Dean back to the Texas League a decade too early, landed some of the old-timers in the circuit. Others started, and are finishing, on the same ground.

Warm weather and blazing sunshine, the tonic that keeps some of the veterans going, isn't even available for the ancients. Night baseball is their lot.

Only yesterday, it seems, freckled Wiley Moore, the nervous Texan who started out in the old Texas-Oklahoma league in '22, was hurling the New York Yankees to world series triumph. He's 41 now; closing up shop with Oklahoma City. A great pitcher was Cy Moore.

Fort Worth Haven
Haven for veterans is Fort Worth. Wizened, crafty Jackie Reid confesses to being 40. He's probably older. But his floating sinker is still good and he's won eight and lost six. At least 37 is Ed Greer, but he ranks second in innings pitched and can wear out most of the youngsters. Only a few night ago Manager Homer Peel '36, streaked across left field to the edge of the bleachers for a foul that ended the ball game; gave his Cats victory. Last year he was the batting champion.

Who can forget Lee Stebbins and his bulging tobacco quid? He's still doing a great first base job for Fort Worth at 35 and hitting better than .300 to date. But the veteran of them all, Dick Whitworth, the railroad brakeman, finally ended his 16 years in baseball. Fort Worth cut the 44-year-old hurler adrift recently after years of memorable relief pitching.

Thirty-four years is past the baseball opportunity but Ash

Alice Phillips Meets Worrell

AMARILLO, June 16 (AP)—Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth, seeking her third straight championship, tangles with Mrs. D. H. Culton of Amarillo in the first round of match play today in the fourth annual golf tournament of the Women's West Texas Golf association.

Mrs. Winger yesterday won medalist honors with a 79 to lead a field of 64. Mrs. Culton qualified with an 89.

Other first round matches included: Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Big Spring, 91, vs. Mrs. C. E. Worrell, Farwell, 88; Mrs. J. W. Ross, Amarillo, 84; Mrs. W. K. Powell, San Angelo, 91; Mrs. Harry Stalcup, Big Spring, 94; Mrs. F. M. Carr, Amarillo, 89.

Ace Thrilled On Congrats From Idol Ruth

MIDLAND PARK, N. J., June 16 (AP)—Johnny Vander Meer went fishing today, "mighty pleased" over his two straight no-hit, no-run pitching performances, but happier than all get-out over personal congratulations from Babe Ruth.

"The Babe's 'nice going, kid,' and handshake was the first greeting Johnny received when he finished his 6-0 no-hitter for the Cincinnati Reds against the Brooklyn Dodgers last night.

"And the Babe has always been my idol; believe me, that was the biggest kick of all," said this quiet youngster, who hasn't changed much from the kid who parodied the "typical American boy" in a baseball movie a few years ago.

Johnny's home town fans in Midland Park, who lifted the local curfew and stayed up most of the night to celebrate his success, really got him his turn to pitch last night. They wired McKechnie that they wanted to make a "Johnny Vander Meer Night" of it in Brooklyny, and would be please let Johnny pitch. Some 600 of them went over to see him. All agreed they got their money's worth.

Hobbs Boosters Come To Town For 3-Game Stand

CATCHES JOE OPEN

Champion Joe Louis was wide open for a left to the face when this picture was taken. A sparring partner, Leonard Dixon, thereupon poked the champion, not squarely, but then Leonard isn't as good as Max Schmeling, who will meet Louis in a title bout in New York June 23.

Odds Lengthen On Joe Louis

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—The professional gamblers, impressed by a number of things, have jumped their odds from 8-to-5 to a juicy 11-to-5 that Joe Louis will retain his heavyweight championship in his 15-round fight with Max Schmeling next Wednesday night at Yankee stadium.

That is somewhat disconcerting to those of us who already are well on the Schmeling limb, even though the odds-layers lately have been dead wrong more often than right.

The previous odds of 7-to-5 and 8-to-5 were no more than the customary "feeler" quotations offered in almost any champion's favor, but this 11-to-5 money means that Louis will enter the ring a pronounced choice of the wise boys, maybe as high as 3-to-1.

What caused the firming of the figures mostly was the fact that Louis finally opened his mouth the other day and said on his very own initiative that he intended to knock Schmeling out quick, perhaps in two rounds.

"That's enough to suit me," said one of the big bookmakers. "All I wanted to know was how Louis was really felt about it. They've finally got that boy mad. That's the one thing he needed."

Bears were common in England until the time of Henry II.

FIGHT NOTES

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 16 (AP)—Joe Louis is starting the last intensive ring work of his training campaign for his bout with Max Schmeling.

The negro heavyweight champion will box six rounds today and also work in the ring Saturday and Sunday. He loafed yesterday, entertaining visiting newspapermen and pitching horse shoes. Joe weighs 204 and expects to weigh about 200 when he climbs into Yankee stadium's ring with Schmeling Wednesday night. Max Schmeling took a rest today.

The German challenger will rest again tomorrow night and then work Saturday, Sunday and Monday with his sparring partners. He went six fast rounds yesterday with Butch Rogers, Al Albin and Joe Mack and showed uncanny punching accuracy.

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—With only three more ring drills scheduled before he climbs into Yankee stadium ring against Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis Wednesday night, Max Schmeling took a rest today.

ASSUMES DUTIES
SAN ANTONIO, June 16 (AP)—Mike Williamson, San Antonio, was signed by Guy Airey, president of the Texas Valley Baseball league, as an umpire for the South Texas circuit. It was announced here today. Williamson will officiate this afternoon in Harlingen.

Locals Beaten By Lubbock Again, 8-6

Al Berndt Clouts Out Home Run With Bases Loaded In Second

On the arm of a southpaw who hurled a victory in the opener against Clovis last week will depend the Big Spring's Barons chances of returning to the first division in the WT-NM League when the locals open their five day home stay against the Hobbs Boosters at 4:30 this afternoon in Barons park. That wrongheader is Frankie Jacot who showed a return to form in helping the charges of Manager Charles Berndt repel the Pioneers Saturday, 13-5.

The Barons dropped out of second and into fifth position Wednesday afternoon as they dropped their fourth game in a row to the loop pacing Lubbock Hubbers, 8-6, over the ten inning route.

Come From Behind
The Lubbockites got "hot" in the seventh frame to tie the count after the Barons had taken a four run advantage in the first three innings, then won out when Pinch Hitter Hack Miller walloped an offering over the pailings in the tenth with a man on base.

Johnny Soden, twirling for the Big Springers, pitched good ball through most of the route but he suffered a letdown at the crucial moment and faded away.

The Barons took their long lead in the second frame when hard hit

MANGRUM, TEXAN NOW SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

ST. LOUIS, June 16 (AP)—Ralph Guidahl and Ray Mangrum, tied for the lead, battled ear shoulders to shoulder today to win to the final 36 holes of the Western Open golf tournament.

They were teamed up in the pairings, thus making certain that the home stretch of the 38th annual event would be anything but a yawn.

Mangrum, lanky Dayton, Ohio, pro, eased into the spotlight virtually unnoticed yesterday by carding his second straight 72, one over par, for a 144 total at the half-way mark. Guidahl, who topped the field with a par 71 at the 15-hole mark, meanwhile slid to a 73 in his second round.

SERIOUS STUDY NEEDED FOR SERIOUS PROBLEM

Flood control in West Texas would seem far fetched were not the picture of the lowland section of Big Spring inundated by overflow waters fresh on the minds of people.

Spasmodic showers in the right locales have proven conclusively that the town is liable to damage by high waters; yet this is not the worst of it.

Farmers face the dreary prospect of replanting, of entering into fields swept level and creased with ditches to the hard pan—a certain portion of their good soil irrevocably gone.

It is too much to hope that something might be done to prevent the costly toll of rushing waters on city streets, on railroad tracks and equipment, on industries and homes in the lowlands, on the soil that is the backbone of the country's wealth. But it is not too much to hope that something might be done to reduce the amount of damage done by these waters.

To this end it is well to consider measures by city, county and federal government to control rampant waters commensurate with sound economy and good engineering.

The problem obviously is not solely one for the city. Small portions of the water damaging property within the municipal confines fell in the city itself. It came from the upland sections and from rich farming areas to the southwest, and in a small measure to the north.

Naturally this is a matter of concern to the county, for water held in check in these areas would not only do considerably less harm, but would aid immeasurably in the production of crops and the retention of soil.

While the picture of high water and damaged fields, washed streets and damaged property is still fresh on the public mind, it would not be amiss in the least for authorities to commence a serious study of the problem.

Urges Closer Ties In The Family

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Advice from an expert: "If your wife can't cook, don't scold—take her out to dinner."

Dr. Robert C. Bernreuter, professor of psychology at Pennsylvania state college offered this yesterday at the sixth annual school of family relationship.

He urged wives to quit worrying about promotions and father pay checks for hard-working husbands, adding:

"Don't hear down on your husband to inspire him to do better at the office. He realizes his limitations and constant nagging impresses him still further he is a second rater. Instead of hearing down, become coy so he may think himself first, in his wife's eyes at least. x x x

"Remember that some men are happier and are better husbands and fathers when demoted in position rather than promoted because of the relief from responsibilities that made them nervous and irritable."

Washington Takes On Mellow Air

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The hubbub at Capitol Hill was like the last day of school yesterday—summers in the air and the talk was of home.

Buses and bundles crammed congressmen's offices, and the halls were full of farewells—some members will return next year and some may never be heard of in Washington again.

An atmosphere of melancholy settled over places where bitterness and strife had been. Two senators spoke to each other for the first time in months. A democrat and a republican walked arm-in-arm from the capitol to the house office building.

Certain freshmen lawmakers will go home after congress adjourns tonight far wiser in the ways of politics. The young man who came to congress intending to make a speech that would electrify the galleries and stamp him as a statesman hasn't made it yet, or if he has, it didn't electrify.

Look over this arena of American politics, and questions whizz through your thoughts:

Is there a man down there who is to be president some day, a fellow you know so well you can call him by his first name?

Some are first who will become cabinet members. Some are to become world-war veterans. ... Who are they?

Catholics Of US Fortunate, Says Houstonian

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—R. H. Kelley of Houston, general counsel of the Missouri Pacific railroad, told a graduating class at Catholic university here today the Catholic church was nowhere more fortunate than in the United States.

The religious freedom enjoyed by the church in this country is due to the country's form of government, Kelley said.

There are trends like overspending and a tendency to enlarge the sphere of the national government at the expense of state power, which needs analysis, Kelley warned.

"Over-spending will destroy any institution, domestic, industrial or governmental. If we hope to survive expenditures must be brought and kept within receipts," he said.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—Skilled politicians matched their talents against White House amateurs in the Iowa campaign and the tip-off of the political battles of the season.

It is noted in these parts that a cluster of political youngsters led by 36-year-old Tommy Corcoran have put their noggin together to "purge" the senate, and perhaps the house, of members who have not been too joyous in support of the New Deal program.

Notable among the so-called "elimination committee" besides Corcoran are Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator; Joseph E. Keenan, assistant attorney general; Ben Cohen, associate of Corcoran in White House advising, and Jimmy Roosevelt. Sometimes Secretary Ickes is included because he put his foot successfully in the Oregon primary, although he is hardly a political "youngster."

In Fall Cry

Yet of this cluster not one has whetted his horns in active battle for elective political office. Nevertheless they boldly entered the Iowa primary. Hopkins and Jimmy Roosevelt expressed friendliness toward Rep. Otha Wearin as a candidate for the senate. Wearin had boasted that he had supported and would support more New Deal legislation than anyone else in the primary. Against him was Senator Gillette, who, like Wearin, had floated into congress in 1932 atop the Roosevelt wave. But he had taken time out to express his independence and to vote against the court bill.

Barely had Hopkins voiced his simple words of encouragement to Wearin than the professionals in congress took after him. Probably if Hopkins could have met them blow for blow on the senate floor he would have come off a bit better because he is no Singer midget when it comes to exchanging verbs and adjectives.

But he couldn't, and by the time such an expert as Senator Wheeler of Montana had finished with him, Hopkins was published in the country round as one who had prostituted relief for politics.

Only very recently Hopkins had sent circulars far and wide advising WPA workers that they didn't have to listen to anybody when voting time came around. When he, at the top of the WPA organization, spoke a word in favor of a candidate the expert politicians would see nothing else. Probably if Hopkins could have met them blow for blow on the senate floor he would have come off a bit better because he is no Singer midget when it comes to exchanging verbs and adjectives.

Now, Children...

It was shrewd political workings on the part of the professionals and before it was over the senate came within a finger length of passing a measure which would have cut-out political activity by WPA. Coming right after Hopkins' outburst, it would have been considered a senatorial vote of censure by all those who chose so to consider it—and in these times of hot-glow primaries there are many who would choose.

One never knows what these Congressmen may be up to next but the decisive defeat administered to Wearin after their first important venture into the big national game could be discouraging, no end.

There are many who would say that President Roosevelt had no hand in the Iowa affair, but so close are the ties between the members of the "elimination committee" that he could hardly escape some of the disadvantageous fare-back. It would not be surprising now if he grinned wryly at his boys, and then told them not to play with fire, so flippantly.

Washington Takes On Mellow Air

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The hubbub at Capitol Hill was like the last day of school yesterday—summers in the air and the talk was of home.

Buses and bundles crammed congressmen's offices, and the halls were full of farewells—some members will return next year and some may never be heard of in Washington again.

An atmosphere of melancholy settled over places where bitterness and strife had been. Two senators spoke to each other for the first time in months. A democrat and a republican walked arm-in-arm from the capitol to the house office building.

Certain freshmen lawmakers will go home after congress adjourns tonight far wiser in the ways of politics. The young man who came to congress intending to make a speech that would electrify the galleries and stamp him as a statesman hasn't made it yet, or if he has, it didn't electrify.

Look over this arena of American politics, and questions whizz through your thoughts:

Is there a man down there who is to be president some day, a fellow you know so well you can call him by his first name?

Some are first who will become cabinet members. Some are to become world-war veterans. ... Who are they?

Suppress New Outbreak

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—Federal troops Wednesday had suppressed the first outbreak of rebel activity in the state of Hidalgo. A report last night said an armed band had been reported in an attempt to take the town of Mexico.

Go Home To Fight

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—Antonio Pena, Spanish consul, notified the foreign office today he was returning to Spain. He said he had been recalled by the Barcelona government to fight in the civil war.

Catholics Of US Fortunate, Says Houstonian

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—R. H. Kelley of Houston, general counsel of the Missouri Pacific railroad, told a graduating class at Catholic university here today the Catholic church was nowhere more fortunate than in the United States.

The religious freedom enjoyed by the church in this country is due to the country's form of government, Kelley said.

There are trends like overspending and a tendency to enlarge the sphere of the national government at the expense of state power, which needs analysis, Kelley warned.

"Over-spending will destroy any institution, domestic, industrial or governmental. If we hope to survive expenditures must be brought and kept within receipts," he said.

ADVENTUROUS BIRDS

BROCKMAN, Mont., June 16 (AP)—Flamer William McGinley is driving carefully these days. Mechanical greasing his automobile found a new coil spring these days. McGinley was returning to his home.

Man About Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Owen Davis is the most prolific playwright of the century. He's credited with about 300 plays. That's some seven-and-a-half million words.

But alongside Frank and Anne Hummert, Davis is a slugging boy just fitters away his time. The Hummerts head an advertising agency and in that capacity, conceive, write, direct and produce 500 radio programs. That means something like 75,000 words a week or the equal, in two years, of Davis' lifetime output.

Of course, if you are going to pin us down, the Hummerts don't write every word. They have a staff. But by the time they get through outlining original ideas, editing, revising and polishing, there isn't a word in the scripts that doesn't belong to them.

The Greenwich, Conn., estate of this couple is a pleasant enough place if it weren't that the Hummerts keep it humming so. It's a beehive. There's no croquet, badminton, or bridge going on either. It's work. There are half a dozen secretaries and a small battalion of assistant scriptwriters around.

The Hummerts use the Alexander Dumas method. They hurry around pushing papers at their hired help, saying: "Develop this." Frank grabs a script from another, scans it, says: "How about doing it this way?" And jots down a whole new scene. Anne grabs a completed first draft and starts rewriting. That sort of thing goes on and on until you get exhausted just watching. But what "that sort of thing" puts in the savings account isn't chicken feed.

Frank is from New Orleans; Anne from Baltimore. Both have done their newspaper stint. ... Anne on the Paris (France) Herald, where she interviewed and became friendly with such international dignitaries as Queen Mary, the former Prince of Wales, Lloyd George and Premier Delandere.

Did Frank meet some interesting people, too? He grins.

"I did meet a few, but not exactly the drawing room type like Anne's friends. I rode with the Texas Rangers along the Mexican border for two years. There was, for instance, Bill McDonald, whom President Roosevelt called 'the bravest man in the world.'"

"I started reporting at 30. A friend who had a small advertising agency called me in to do some copy-writing and before you could say 'Etiket-Sample-Hummert,' I was in the business." (That's Frank's firm; he got in the plug before I could stop him.)

"How did I meet Anne? Well, I needed a secretary. Mr. Sample recommended a young newspaper-woman. I employed her. Her name was Anne Ashenurst. I never could remember it, so I changed it to Hummert."

Frank smiles across at his charming wife. That may have been how it was, but I doubt it.

M-men in New York are really musical detectives. They look on theaters and nightclubs to see whether sparks for tunes are being played. The names work for ASCAP, which means the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers. If they catch one playing said tunes, it could get

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"Blockade" is the movie news of the week—and for timely significance, of the year.

The setting is war-shattered Spain of today. The hero (Henry Fonda) is a simple country boy who, instead of fleeing his native soil when threatened, rouses his fellows to resist. The heroine (Madeleine Carroll) is a girl without a country unwillingly involved as a spy in war-fostering machinations of an international intrigue artist (John Halliday).

Producer Walter Wanger, by refraining scrupulously from accuracy in uniforms, place names and any other slips which might identify the combating forces as loyalist or nationalist, presents a neutral front—and yet the chance of "Blockade" for exhibition in certain countries are slight indeed.

The film through exciting drama and finally through a direct appeal from screen to audience via Fonda's impassioned fade-out speech, is a powerful denunciation of modern warfare—the bombing of cities, the murder of civilians, the starving non-combatants. Grief Fonda: "It isn't war—it's MURDER!... WHERE is the conscience of the world?"

A Current Statement

The screen, hampered by fear of international market complications and reprisals for future product, has never gone so far in frank statement of this theme. There have been many anti-war pictures (most notably "All Quiet on the Western Front") but until now there has been none to grapple with a conflict currently at its bitterest. It is one thing for the screen to agree with Sherman concerning the late World War, and another for it to speak right out in meeting concerning what goes on in Spain—or indirectly, for that matter, in China.

That is why "Blockade," product of an industry which day after day wars on the folly of crime, the invincibility of true love, and other of its assorted axioms, seems startlingly courageous in its plea against wanton slaughter.

Directed for maximum dramatic and emotional effect by William Dieterle—the parade of peasant misery—faces is unforgettable as "Blockade" is aided by the serial-type performances of its stars, by the smooth work of Halliday, the lightning influence of Leo Carillo, fine supporting performances by Reginald Denny and many others, and especially by the musical score of Werner Janssen. John Howard Lawson's screen play, of course, is exceptional.

Back To Routine

Back in the everyday grind of movies, the week offered also "Three Blind Mice" and "The Toy Wife."

The former is a cleverly contrived bit of entertainment featuring Lonetia Young and Joel McCrea, with David Niven, Marjorie Weaver, Pauline Moore, Stuart Erwin and Binnie Barnes in the other principal roles. It's about three Kansas farm sisters who invade a California resort, masquerading as an heiress and attendant, to ensure a rich husband for at least the "heiress" among them. Binnie Barnes runs away with comedy honors, but the whole cast is in gratiating, and the total effect pleasant. William Seiter directed.

"The Toy Wife" is Luise Rainer in the old New Orleans which later was to foster Bette Davis' "Jezebel." Where Bette's Julie caused a lot of havoc by sheer coquetry, Rainer's Frou-Frou does it by being so frivolous and such a poor keeper of Melvyn Douglas's old colonial home that sister Barbara O'Neill, a noble character, keeps it for him. Thus poor Frou-Frou dies to the arms of Robert Young, putting that capable young actor in line for the fate that has been his in too many recent films—death by shooting.

Honeymoon On Skates

WACO, June 16 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyland, professional skaters, will honeymoon on roller skates when the 18th annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars closed here Wednesday.

Hyland, a World War veteran, and Miss Pauline Allison of Houston, were married last night by the V.F.W. departmental chaplain, Rev. E. F. Williams.

They said they'd "go skating around awhile" on their honeymoon but planned to visit in Houston soon.

Chapter 35

THE SWEET WITH THE BITTER

"Pam!" Peg Boone called from the kitchen. "Pam, where are you?"

"I've got to go," Pam said hastily. "She wants—"

"I do," Tim was replying to her housemaid question. "I do, do. I. What nice hands you have, I'm so sick of painted claws. Look, what's this about ambergris? Is it like verdigris, or a variation of amper-mand? I'm sure I ought to know, it's probably something I should be teaching the youth of America, but my mind's a blank. What are ambergris? And—oh—"

Peg Boone walked over to them and eyed them both rather curiously. Pam felt herself turning red again.

"Something's—definitely wrong with the Spanish cream, Pam," she said. "I can't tell if it's too Spanish, or too creamy, but it's not as it should be."

"I'll be right in," Pam said. Timothy watched Peg stride back to the house.

"What," he said, "does she do around here?"

"What do you mean, what does she do?"

Tim shrugged. "Every time I manage to haul you off for a nice long chat, up she pops. She reminds me of Aaron's clocks. Just as you forget them, they strike."

"She's nice," Pam said. "She's a friend of ours."

"I suppose she is," Tim said with a sigh. "Well, I'll just have to take the bitter with the sweet, I suppose. You won't like lots of our friends either. We know a tea taster who wears a coral bracelet around one ankle, and sandals with a thong next his big toe. I'll tell you what—we'll introduce him to Peg. Maybe they'll marry. Isn't it wonderful how problems disappear, if you just put your mind to work? And," he added before Pam had time to speak, "where did Aaron get those clocks, anyway? With shaving soap?"

"Ambergris," Pam said. "He got the first ones by accident, and then it got into his blood. He slinks around attics, hunting them. Why don't you like—"

"Gran's that way about elephantiasis," Tim said. "She buys—look, do you really have to see about the Spanish cream? I thought it was one of those things you couldn't alter afterwards. I mean, either you hit it on the head, or you don't."

"I know," Pam said. "You're what they call an extravert. You—"

"The things I draw on phone pads," Tim said, "are as normal and healthy as can be. Well, let's cope with the Spanish cream, but don't let's ask the Boone to stay on indefinitely—"

Pam stopped short. "Why ever not, Tim? What's the matter? Why don't you like her?"

"If I were a woman," Tim dropped his bantering tone. "I'd say it was just my intuition. I don't know why I don't like her. Do you warm up to her much, yourself?" Pam hesitated.

"Her eyes don't smile," Tim said. "But I do like her," Pam said. "She's been awfully decent to me. I'm not violently enthusiastic about her. I've known her too long and too well, and besides, I don't often get violently enthusiastic about people. What is it you have against her?"

"Nothing," Tim took her arm. "Come on—"

"You have," Pam said. "I want to know before we go in."

"Well, you asked for it," Tim said. "It's just that she's so damn hearty, but her eyes don't smile. I feel the same way about your brother-in-law. God knows no one would ever accuse him of being hearty, but his eyes are such fishy things. Like cod on ice in a fish market window. And then every time I get myself up to the pitch of telling you about Marina, she appears on the scene. That's worse than her eyes."

"What about Marina?" Pam said. "I was married to her," Timothy said. "Before Lorne. I—no, please don't say anything about it. Not till you've considered how much we have in common. It's what she did—now, tell me about ambergris. Is it either portable or valuable?"

"Both," Pam said in a small voice.

"Really," Tim said. "Tell me all about it—"

He remembered, as they went into the kitchen, all the questions Assey had put to the troopers about the harrow and the cartings that had gone on the day before. And he remembered that Peggy Boone had helped his grandmother repair the flower beds. It isn't Marina, is it?

"All about it," he continued, still avoiding Pam's eye. "Ambergris One, an Introductory Course."

While Timothy was being told about ambergris, Assey parked his car in front of the Pochet hospital, and went in to see Roddy's pilot.

"I was just going to call you," the nurse on duty said. "Susan asked me. Brigham's doing nicely. He really shouldn't have any callers, though, so you won't get him excited, or stay too long, will you? Dr. Carter sent you his regards, by the way, and says he's coming down for a sail before his vacation's over. I'll show you the room."

"How's Earl Jennings?" Assey asked as they walked down the

Valencia Raided Three Times By Insurgent Planes

MADRID, June 16 (AP) - Insurgent planes now with a base less than 25 minutes from Valencia with Tuesday's capture of Castellon De La Plana, raided Valencia three times today between midnight and noon.

The first two raids were made during the night with destruction of 25 buildings along Mediterranean beaches at suburban Zazara and El Cabanal Y Malvarrosa. The third raid was on Valencia proper but the populace, adept by this time at scurrying underground at the first alarm, escaped with but few casualties.

Hundreds of children, however, fled screaming across the sands at El Cabanal Y Malvarrosa, when bombs fell close by a children's home. None was hurt.

Orphan babies were carried by nurses to the comparative safety of the beach. About 100 bombs were dropped thereabouts.

Blasphemy is still a crime in most states.

SCHOOL PROJECT IS GIVEN APPROVAL BY REGIONAL PWA

Approval of a supplemental project on the school building job here has been given by the regional PWA office at Fort Worth, school authorities said Thursday.

The application now goes to Washington where it will be up for final approval and permission to proceed.

Covered in the application are the demolition of the condemned wing of the high school building to the ground floor, reworking of the remaining section into classrooms, and erection of a small storage room out of surplus materials from the job.

If approved, the application carries provision of a 45 per cent grant from the federal agency for the work.

POSTMASTERS TO BE MADE CAREER MEN

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP) - Congress had decided postmasters in first, second and third class offices shall become "career men" who may hold their jobs for life.

Legislation extending the civil service to these offices, previously filled largely by political appointees of the party in power, was enacted yesterday and sent to the White House.

The bill would permit incumbent postmasters-nearly all of whom are democrats-to retain their posts by taking a non-competitive civil service examination when their present four-year terms end.

Dean Leader In Dallas Steer Victory

Paul Chalks Up First Pitching Triumph Of Year, 4-3

By the Associated Press

The embattled Tulsa Oilers swept back into the lead in the rousing Texas League race last night but a couple of ex-big league pitchers, one of them battling for another chance under the main top, stole the show.

Paul (Duffy) Dean, who made baseball history with the St. Louis Cardinals, pitched Dallas to a 4-3 victory over Shreveport. It was Dean's second eight-hit game since joining the Herd but went into the books as his first win under the Dallas banner.

Dean was sent to Houston this year in an effort to regain his effectiveness after an ailing arm dropped him out of the minors. He won one game and lost four for Houston and was turned back to the Cardinals who in turn sent him to Dallas.

Moore Stars Again

Old Wilcy Moore, another former star in the big leagues, rescued the Oklahoma City Indians from the San Antonio Mission, his relief pitching stopping the Padres with one hit in the last five and two-thirds innings as the Redskins won 5-4.

Tulsa took the last two games of the series from caumont to recapture the league lead. Last night the score was 2-0, Mike Christoff slushing a homer in the first inning with a runner on base to sew up the battle. Vern Olsen pitched five-inning ball for the Tulsaans.

The aging Ed Greer made it a big night for old-timers by turning in a six-hitter against Houston as Fort Worth won the game, 3-0. Greer allowed but one batter to get as far as second base.

MEXICAN RAILWAYS GET RATE BOOST

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (UP)—The government gave its approval today to an increase in rates of the employe-administered Mexican National railways.

The increase of 5 to 20 per cent on many articles, ordered yesterday by Salvador Romero, the railway general manager, was approved by the communications department's rates commission which earlier had opposed any increase.

Toledo Manager Thrifty

TOLEDO (UP)—John N. Eddy saves Toledoans money by filling the posts of city manager, safety director and finance director, but his triple official role is not approved by the court of appeals. The city manager has sole authority to name the directors, but the court held that he could not personally perform the duties.

Move To Provide Fair Return On Farm Crops

WASHINGTON, June 16 (UP)—Congress took steps today to assure farmers 75 per cent of a "fair return" on their major crops.

This was its objective in placing in the spending-lending bill a $212,000,000 fund for farm benefits in addition to the $300,000,000 previously voted for soil conservation payments.

Only senate acceptance of a house formula for distributing the $212,000,000 among major crops was needed to send the measure to the White House.

A "fair return," congress has said, is a price which would give farm commodities purchasing power, in terms of non-farm products and services, equal to that which they possessed in the 1909-14 period. During those years farm and non-farm goods and services were declared to have been a basis of price equality.

For example, in May the farm price of cotton averaged 8.4 cents a pound. A "fair" or parity price would have been 16.1 cents, economists say. A 75 per cent "fair" price would have been 12.07 cents.

MAG IMPRESSED WITH NEW TONY GALENTO STORY

By EDDIE BRIEZE

NEW YORK, June 16 (UP)—Max Baer has just completed a movie short in Hollywood and is heading east to watch Louis and Schmeling, one of who he hopes to see still a little more in September.... Three top flight golfers—Johnny Revolta, Ralph Guldahl and Denny Shute—have bought permanent homes in Florida.... One New York magazine was so taken in with that spectacular story that Tony Galento might fight the gorilla Gargantua that it called the Hippodrome to see if anything definite had been done about it.

More than 100,000 persons flocked to the flag-decorated capital for the anniversary and cheered the monarch as he rode in an open carriage this afternoon to Stockholm where he accepted "citizen homage."

TUNING-UP CONTINUES

TYLER, June 16 (UP)—A tuning-up process for the Texas Open golf championship and sectional P.G.A. qualifying rounds, opening here tomorrow, continued today over the par-74 Willowbrook Country club course.

Many of the Lone Star state's best professionals found the course defying their efforts. Yesterday only Henry Ransom, young Bryan pro, and Morgan Baker, of Houston, were the only two turning in par or better cards.

Ransom had a 73 and Baker a 74.

Billy Cappa, new third sacker, didn't set any parks afire but he did get three home runs Tuesday.

Oldsters who are doing their share in the WT-NM loop circuit are saying that the game in this section is faster than in 90 per cent of the D Class leagues in the entire country.

Two veterans of last year's race, Bobby Decker and Jo-Jo Saporito, are of the opinion that the circuit is playing 25 per cent better ball than was witnessed in the band last season.

One reason the league fans are seeing such improvement is due to improved pitching. No Johnny Soden or Jerry Blanchards were seen in action around these parts in 1937.

Too, the fielding is better. Players still make plenty of errors but they're looking better on the defensive side all the time.

The Lubbockites will probably lead the other teams of the circuit by a dozen or more games when August and the finish of the season rolls around but the Shagbushy playoff will be something else again. There the pace setters will have to fight and fight hard for the opportunity of remaining in the argument.

Lions Addressed By Spence; Club To Enter Parade

Progress and financial solidarity of the municipal government were reviewed before the Lions club Wednesday in a "City Day" program.

City Manager E. V. Spence was the principal speaker and devoted a great portion of his time to an explanation of the current budget for the city.

Before entering into the program proper, the club voted unanimously to enter a float in the July 2 parade. Virgil Smith was named chairman of the float committee and was instructed to go after first prize.

Jess T. Thornton was introduced as a new member.

Among items recited in a schedule of figures accompanying the talk was the paving of 82 blocks of city streets in addition to financing $18,000 of the property owners share not yet repaid; $44,000 cash payment for state park land and the airport; $50,000 bond issue for sewer lines to the state hospital; relief projects releasing $130,000 in federal funds here; extension of police radio service to 24 hours; acquisition of the cemetery; two more wading pools at a cost of $1,000; six more automatic traffic signals; $15,000 for extension of water and sewer lines to the state hospital; reduction of water rates from $2 to $1.60 minimum; reduction of tax rate from $1.55 to $1.30 per $100 valuations, which are now based on unit system.

Spence explained the fiscal budget, taking the document up by departments and touching hastily on personnel, equipment, duties and anticipated requirements. Total revenues for the current year, figured down sharply from last year, are done so intentionally, said the manager, in order to produce a margin of safety.

Tests in Tokyo show that an average of 24 tons of dust falls per square mile every month.

FUNDS SET UP FOR WATER PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, June 16 (UP)—The army engineers allotted $122,455,846 of war department funds today for expenditure in the next 12 months on rivers and harbors and flood control projects.

Of the total allotted, $61,708,980 was for new work and maintenance of existing rivers and harbors improvements and $60,746,866 for flood control work.

Under President Roosevelt's instructions, immediate expenditures will be concentrated on projects likely to provide most employment, officials said.

Funds Given To Fight Infantile Paralysis

STOCKHOLM, June 16 (UP)—Sweden today gave her monarch, 80-year-old Gustaf the Fifth, a birthday gift of 5,000,000 Kroner ($1,250,000) to help fight infantile paralysis in the nation.

Premier Per Albin Hansson handed the check to Gustaf in the presence of members of the government, foreign royalty and representatives of the church, army and navy.

Serio-Comic World Faces Graduates

That's The View Of The Famed Poet, Carl Sandberg

HARBERT, Mich., June 16 (UP)—This year's crop of college graduates, Poet Carl Sandberg said today, was being turned out into a "crap-shooters' world" which would give it few breaks.

Interrupting the work of putting the finishing touches on his complete life of Lincoln, the famous humanist writer called the situation in which most June grads found themselves "serio-comic."

"There are no prospects for many of them but little jobs in the WPA," he asserted, "and if there were jobs the bulk of the students wouldn't be qualified for them."

"College students are being graduated without the slightest knowledge of the true political, social and economic life of their communities or of the nation."

"The old taboos still operate in the college environment. It is still considered the better way to whisper about certain things, to shush up unpleasant subjects, to pretend that something you don't want to believe doesn't exist."

If the graduate has literary ambitions, said the poet, he's in line for stiff jolts of disappointment and disillusionment, especially if he chooses the short story as his medium.

"To be successful," Sandberg continued, "the short story now must have a kind of mediocrity. It is next to impossible to write out of one's self and make a go of it. Anton Chekhov probably was the greatest short story writer who ever lived, but he wouldn't get anywhere in the United States today."

The spectacle of unemployment, of human labor being "utterly wasted," and of what he described as the paradoxes, inconsistencies and credulities of American life prompted Sandberg to say, "when I finish my Lincoln book I may go back to writing nonsense stories."

"You trade a lump of coal for a piece of ice, the ice melts and you haven't anything. We save money—and for what? To buy a sack of smoke. And when we need money and try to sell the sack of smoke we're told nobody wants to buy smoke. So we open the sack and let the smoke out, and we're right back where we started.... They aren't fables, are they?"

Earl's Brother Likes U. S.

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—Cecil Howard, younger brother of the Earl of Suffolk, one of England's oldest noble families, has announced his intention of buying a ranch in the San Gabriel valley and settling down here. He plans to enter the aviation industry and will establish a private airport on his ranch.

WASHINGTON, June 16 (UP)—Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.), has introduced a bill to establish federal credit and savings associations in the rural areas of the country.

Membership in the federally chartered associations would be limited to persons living in farming communities or towns of 2,000 or less population.

The association would make loans to members and provide savings facilities for them. Loans could be made without security up to $50 at a low rate of interest.

'HOPPER CONTROL PROJECTS OK'

WASHINGTON, June 16 (UP)—Texas members of congress were advised today the president had approved Works Progress administration projects, as follows:

For handling, mixing and distributing materials for control and elimination of grasshoppers, $82,908. Project to operate in Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stoneval, Glines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Hardeman, Ford, Wilberger, Wichita, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Clay, Montague, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Wise, Jack, Shackelford, Stevens, Palo Pinto, Parker, Tarrant, Callahan and Eastland counties.
