A carnival ride, part of the County Fair, swirls through the night Tuesday at the old golf course east of the National Guard Armory.

County Fair Opens Two-Day Run Fri.

The Collingsworth County Fair, one of the few county fairs left in the Panhandle, opens its two-day run Friday at 11 a.m. when a color guard and That Skyrocket Band lead the big fair parade into downtown Wellington.

It will be an event-packed time until the fair carnival closes and the Randy Barlow - Karen Wheeler country music appearances end Saturday night, Sept. 6, said Mrs. Margaret Vines manager of the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors this big community event.

Fair week events began when the carnival opened Monday night and the All - American Country Musical Festival events on Tuesday night.

Old Settlers will begin registering for their annual reunion at 10 a.m. Friday. They will come to the parade, then return to Senior Citizens center on East Avenue for a covered dish dinner, visiting and program.

Exhibits in the community building will open between 10:30 and 10:45 a.m., as this year's fair parade is scheduled to be longer than those of past years.

Agricultural exhibits and the flower show may be hurt by the hot dry weather, but some excellent examples of what Collingsworth can produce will be there.

Farm exhibits were taken out of competition this year and instead Future Farmers chapters of Wellington and Samnorwood will put up exhibits representing their communities. Dodson and Quail have been invited to place similar exhibits, said Billy Moseley, fair chairman.

The community exhibits will be opened in Bura Handley Community Center at 9 a.m. Saturday and remain open until 5 p.m.

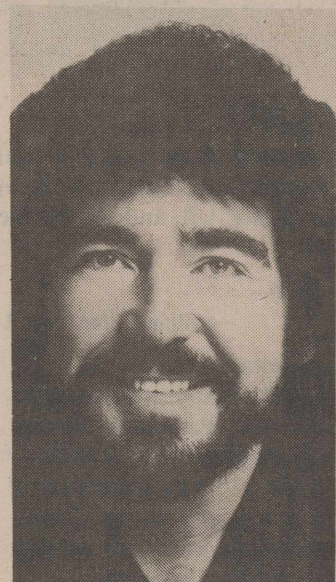

After a lapse of several years, old fiddlers will return to the fair, with their contest slated from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the National Guard Armory. There will be an entry fee which will go toward the $300 prize money to be offered.

On the opposite side of town, boys and girls will begin their Youth Open Horse Show in the VFW arena at 9 a.m. This will continue until the 16 classes of competition have been completed sometime late in the evening according to Bill Wilson, and Kent Holland, chairmen.

Riders will compete in two classes of showmanship, then there will be classes for registered and grade mares, registered and grade geldings, two classes of western pleasure riding, two of western horsemanship, reining, pole bending and barrel racing. Point System C from the State 4-H Horse Show rules will be used.

Barlow-Wheeler Show on Saturday

The All - American Country Music Festival, a part of the Collingsworth County Fair, is bringing two top young Nashville country musicians to Wellington to close out Fair Week.

Randy Barlow has played concerts with Dolly Parton, Dottie West and Conway Twitty. Barlow is a young artist whose career is surging ahead.

Lovely to look at and delightful to hear is the talented Karen Wheeler.

The two will appear at the National Guard Armory in a matinee performance at 2:30 p.m., and an evening performance at 6:30 p.m.

Beginning at 8 p.m., Barlow's back-up band, "Branded," will play for the Fair dance, also at the Armory.

Sharing the stage with these nationally known musicians at both Saturday concerts will be several of the area's talented musicians and dancers.

Karen Goforth, now in North Texas State University, will come home to present a group of modern jazz dances. She is the daughter of the Bob Goforths and has appeared in local entertainments through her high school years.

Earl Lynn Bartlett is scheduled to play his organ.

Returning to Wellington for this appearance is Elvis Sain of Canyon, 31-year-old country singer who has lived most of his life in Dodson and Wellington. With him will be his niece, Donna Faye Holt of Dodson, a freshman in Wellington High School.

Sain, a mechanic, has been performing since he was 14 and his grandfather the late Otho Talley of Dodson, taught him to play

Rockets Open Season Against Hollis Here

Wellington Skyrockets open their 1980 season Friday, Sept. 5, against Hollis Tigers, their traditional first opponent.

This game will be on Texas ground--Powell Field--and since games between these two are governed by the rules of the state in which they are played, the Rockets should have some advantage.

"This one factor will aid us, for we'll be more familiar with the rules we play by."

Game time will be 8 p.m.

The Skyrockets have come out of scrimmages against Stratford and Phillips with their coaches pleased by their performance. Yet in doubt is their capability at kicking and punting, which does not enter into scrimmages.

Hollis, lost a scrimmage to Memphis, then opened their season against the stronger, larger Sayre and although on home ground, lost that on 19-0.

Wellington Head Coach James Williams predicts this will be a "typical Wellington-Hollis opening game although they do have one regular game experience on us."

The Tigers are working hard on their defensive assignments, a point in which there was some indecision due to inexperience earlier.

"I look for a real exciting game, and I'll be real disappointed if our kids don't put on a good show," declared Williams. "They will make some mistakes because its early in the season, but we have the kind of kids who will correct these.

"I know we can play good defense, and if they can move the ball, I look for it to be real exciting.

Coach Williams announced his probable starting lineup.

Brent Long, 234 pound junior, who is coming off last year's B team, will be a center and Doug Gibson, another junior up from the B team and weighing 175 pounds will be at right guard. Paul Estes, 190, who played quite a bit last year, will be at tackle on the offense, alternating at right end will be 150 pounder Jerry Lee, a senior but playing his first season on the varsity, and Lennie Archie, a varsity letterman from last year, now weighing about 160.

The offensive left guard will be Joe Saldana, a senior, weighing 180 pounds; Channy Wood, 195, left guard, a senior; and Calvin Culpepper, left end, a junior at 155.

Jody Coleman, 172 pound senior, will return as quarterback; Tim Anderson, 178 senior, fullback; and alternating at right half will be Kenneth Warren, junior, 160; and Darrel Thomas, 128, a senior. Chris Lynch, 165 pound senior, starts at left half.

"We have some experience there and some pretty good boys who came off the B team.

Most of these will be back on the defense.

David Castillo, who got a

Changes Made in Fair Parade

A big, big parade, a color guard and the lively music of That Skyrocket Band, will roll onto the courthouse square at 11 a.m. Friday, September 5, to open the 1980 Collingsworth County Fair.

It isn't too late to enter a float declares the parade chairmen, Jack and Frankie Campbell. "It doesn't have to be elaborate, but we want business and organization in the county represented," say the chairmen.

Besides the floats in several categories, there will be bicycles, motorcycles, antique cars, horse-drawn vehicles, riding clubs, and single riders and their mounts.

A number of changes have been made in the format, the Campbell's announce.

There will be two locations where cars can be parked and those who cannot stand for the entire parade may watch from the vehicles.

First United Methodist Church has made available its parking lot across the street east of the church.

The City of Wellington is providing the paved area just north of Bura Handley Community Center (where the Kelly Pigg building was raised), and cars may be parked there for those who cannot stand, said City Manager Glen Taylor.

The parade will start on West Avenue, which leads to the southwest corner of the square, but the various divisions will form on the side streets and be fed into the parade in the order that they are scheduled to appear.

Everything must be in place by 10:30 a.m., say the chairmen.

Entry numbers must be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce office by 5 p.m. Thursday. Those from outside Wellington who cannot do this, may pick up their numbers the first thing Friday morning.

Participants lining up on the side streets should face toward West Avenue, said Campbell.

Here is the schedule: Bicycles will line up on 11th Street between West and East Avenues.

Motorcycles: 11th Street between West Ave. and Amarillo St.

Antique cars: 12th St. between West Ave. and Amarillo.

Floats, youth division, 12th St. between West and East Avenues; adult organizations, 13th St. between West and East Avenues; commercial floats, 13th St. between West Ave. and Amarillo St., and miscellaneous floats, 14th St. between West and East Ave.

Horses will line up on 14th between West Avenue and Amarillo on toward Bowie if necessary.

The color guard and Band will assemble in front of the Post Office. The color guard, with the United States, Texas, Collingsworth County and Wellington, flags will lead the parade followed by That Skyrocket Band. Next will be the fire trucks and ambulances. Other participants will be fed in from the side streets.

There will be two groups in the horse division, clubs and single riders. The

Fire Destroys Grass Near Greasy Corner

Volunteer Firemen from three departments fought a grass fire on the Edgar Wischkaemper land two miles east and one-half north of Greasy Corner Sunday, August 24.

Because of the rough country in which the fire broke out and the irregular pattern it followed, it was difficult to estimate the acreage burned over, but Norwood firemen believe it could have been as much as a section and a half, according to Tommy Lindley secretary.

Approximately 20 Samnorwood volunteer firemen responded to their first major grass fire in terrain that was difficult to reach. It was the first time they took their new fire truck into this type of fire, also. They remained at the scene most of the afternoon.

Wellington Fire Department sent one unit and Shamrock had three units, at the fire.

The fire is believed to have started from a welding machine at a gas well being drilled on the Wischkaemper land, and the fire spread quickly since this land had not been grazed and the grass was tall.

"David will catch up real quick and we're not worried because he missed the first part of practice.

Culpepper will be at left half; Jody Coleman and Archie will alternate at safety; Lynch at defensive halfback.

Tiger Coach Larry Palmer considers Danny Soto, 170 pound senior end, as one of his outstanding players so far, as are Ken Whitson, 150 pound senior defensive tackle, and Russell Riley, the Tiger quarterback, a 155 pound senior.

Offensive starters probably will include:

He has appeared throughout the Panhandle before social groups and organizations. He was a member of the Aggie Band at Clarendon College and placed first in the KDJW Funfest.

Donna Faye, just 14, is beginning as an entertainer. She has won talent contests and received three standing ovations. She also won first place in her category in the Funfest.

Currently she entertains for her church, family and friends.

Other All-American Country Music events will be the square dance Thursday at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the Texas Twisters.

Then on Friday night, Ron McKee and the Western Skies band of Amarillo will play for the dance from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. This will be in the Armory also.

Barlow's music has centered first in California and now in Nashville, where he does all his recording and where he makes his home.

He began playing professionally by the time he was 14, although he played football quite well through high school.

Once in California, he knew country music was his niche, although he attended Western Kentucky University at Bowling Green and majored in clinical psychology.

The brain grows rapidly up to the age of 5 and generally stops growing by age 20.

Todd Shelby and Trent Shelby, 170 pound sophomore; secondary, Sherwood, Charles Whitfield, 155 pound senior, Franklin and Danny Kellison, 150 pound senior.

Back in California, his Motown roots heavily influenced his music, although he had begun to lean toward a new love for progressive country music.

Several regional tours with Dick Clark's Caravan of Stars followed, along with club and concert bookings.

His award-winning "Twenty-Four Hours from Tulsa" in 1977 was followed by smash hits "Kentucky Woman" and "California Lady." He has had a series of Top Ten singles since 1978.

His latest release, "Lay Back in the Arms of Someone" already is soaring up the charts.

Karen Wheeler began her recording career at the age of 12 and her first record "Wait Until I'm Sixteen," established her as a young lady to watch.

For a while she was a member of the very popular Harden Trio and teamed with Bobby Harden for the Duet, "We Got Each Other." Jerry Bradley of RCA Records recognized Karen's potential and signed her to an exclusive recording contract. "Born To Love and Satisfy" and "I'm Getting Tired of Holding Hands" are only two of her successes.

Tickets for the Barlow-Wheeler concerts and the dance are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office or from Thomas at his office in the Texas Department of Human Resources, or at the City State Bank or Wellington State Bank.

The Caspian Sea is skinking. If it continues at its present rate, the northern half could become a salt marsh.

halter and two performance events to be eligible for all around in each age group.

All around point will be calculated on an exhibitor's horse basis.

Dink Wilson of Quanah will be the show judge; Bill Wilson, show manager; Richard Nall, announcer; Gano Wilson, ring steward; Frances Holland and Peggy Hendrix secretaries. Trophies will be given to first place winners through 10th. Tack will be given first three places. Halters will be given by Singley Mill & Elevator and Warrick's Inc. All around in each age group will receive buckles.

A favorite event is the small animal or pet show which will start at 10 a.m. More room was called for this year and the show was moved to the north side of the courthouse lawn. Every child with a pet is urged to enter, but the pet must be on a leash or in its own container.

Action resumes when the Lions Club stages its terrapin race on the south side of the courthouse square.

Immediately after the terrapin race ends, Wellington and Samnorwood volunteer firemen will take over the street for a demonstration of water polo, starting about 2 p.m.

Through out Saturday, Wellington Firemen will hold open house at their department in Bura Handley Community Center. There is direct inside access from the club room and auditorium where fair exhibits will be shown, and those attending the Fair are also urged to visit the display of equipment used regularly to fight fires. Wellington and Samnorwood fire-fighting units will be parked in the street, including the new Samnorwood fire truck and the water truck which firemen put together with a tank they bought and a truck donated by Robert Owens.

For the first time in many years, top musical performers will be in Wellington for the closing day of the Fair. Randy Barlow and Karen Wheeler will go on stage for their matinee performance at 2:30 p.m. then return at 6:30 p.m. Their back-up band is the Nashville "Branded."

"Branded" will play for the All-American Country Music festival dance starting at 8 p.m.

All three performances will be in the National Guard Armory.

There will be two exhibits of paintings by visiting artists.

The paintings of Jan Hudlow Bell, now of Big Springs, and her mother, Earldine Hudlow of Estel-line and Childress, are being shown through this week in City State Bank.

Paintings by Celia Anderson Meadors of Amarillo, who grew up in Wellington, will be shown in the community center on Saturday, then will be exhibited in the lobby of Wellington State Bank through next week.

Last of the events related to the fair will be the All-American Country Music Gospel Festival, again at the Armory, on Sunday, starting at 2 p.m.

The sands of Mt. Sinai are said to be "singing sands" because they can make what seems a harplike sound when masses of them tumble downhill.

The Statue of Liberty's mouth is three feet wide.

BIG MELON

A dry summer wasn't that bad on everyone's garden. Rufus Hays displays a 16 lb. muskmelon that he grew in his garden in town this summer.

Campbell's and the Chamber of Commerce emphasize that riders are to keep their horses out of peoples yards.

Also new this year, bicycles, motorcycles and horses will go single file.

It will give parade spectators a much better opportunity to see the riders.

The route will be extended and all parts of the parade will go around the courthouse square twice.

The parade will enter the square at the southwest corner, circle the courthouse and return to the southwest corner. There it will turn onto 9th Street, go west two blocks to First United Methodist Church, go south 1 block on Bowie Street, turn east on 10th Street back to the Post Office. There it will turn north again on West Avenue and go around the square a second time.

New to the parade this year are the antique cars.

The Campbell's have approximately 10 local cars scheduled to appear. Immediately after the parade here, the cars will go on to an antique car show in Altus.

Celia Anderson Meadors To Show Paintings Here

Paintings of Celia Meadors, an artist whose home town is Wellington, will be exhibited by Wellington State Bank, Saturday, Sept. 6, in Bura Handley Community Center.

Exhibit hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"This is the first time we have featured a former Wellington artist in the bank's annual show," said Billy Moseley, executive vice president. They will be shown in the lobby of Wellington State Bank all of next week, September 8 through 12.

Mrs. Meadors is the former Celia Anderson.

A painter of varied experience, her expertise as a portrait artist is equaled by her paintings of animals, her still life studies and imaginative landscapes.

Her work is traditional in subject matter and in execution. Her canvases possess a soft, smooth old world appearance strongly influenced by Dalhart Windberg and Carol Gibson-Sayle.

Most of her paintings are of small animals, nostalgia-type still life, and animated landscapes, often including children or old "character-types."

Celia Anderson Meadors has been painting since she was a girl in Wellington High School, but in recent

CJC Fourth Course May Be Offered

A fourth course from Clarendon College will be offered in Wellington this fall if there is sufficient demand, according to Dr. Bob E. Riley, dean of instruction.

This will be rural sociology or urban sociology, depending on the course most students want. Either of these courses will apply toward a real estate license, as well as for regular college credit, he point out.

Courses already scheduled are Spanish, sophomore English and psychology and or sociology.

Registration will be Thursday, September 4, from 6 to 7 p.m. in Wellington High School and classes are scheduled on Monday nights from 7 to 10 p.m., each carries three semester house hours credit.

Further information on any of these may be had from Mrs. Wanda Cardwell, Wellington Junior High School, 447-5726, or Dr. Bob Riley, Clarendon College, 874-3571.

years she has gained much recognition as a Panhandle artist. Her portraits hang in private collections from New York and West Virginia to Kansas, Texas and California.

More recently, Mrs. Meadors has become highly valued as a police artist in Amarillo, and a number of her composites have helped to locate needed witnesses to crimes and to identify criminals.

The artist is the daughter of Mrs. Clark Anderson, who now lives in Amarillo, and the late Mr. Anderson. She is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson.

Bell-Hudlow Art Show at City State

An exhibit of western paintings at City State Bank this week features the paintings of two artists well know in the Wellington area.

They are Jan (Hudlow) Bell, youthful artist now living in Big Spring, and her mother, Earldine Hudlow who is in the process of moving her home and Hudlow Art Gallery from Estelline to Childress. The exhibit is open during banking hours.

Mrs. Hudlow will judge the art division of the Collingsworth County Fair.

She emphasizes her daughter's work.

Now the wife of J.R. Bell, a range management specialist with the Soil Conservation Service, Jan is also the mother of 16-month-old Emily. She no longer teaches art, but fills commissions, usually for ranch scenes, and portraits.

Her paintings are sold through the Hanging Tree Gallery at Midland and the Hudlow Art Gallery.

Her models for the western paintings are ranch people she has known. If she paints a roundup, the viewer will know that Jan Bell has been there.

She studied with such respected teachers as Ramon Froman, Harold Roney, Bud Biggs and others. As a teen-ager she painted hundreds of pastel and charcoal portraits at fairs and shopping malls. She attended Wayland Baptist College on an art scholarship. She and her husband, James, enjoy working together using his camera expertise photographing ranch scenes, wildlife and in gathering other material for painting.

A number of the painting on exhibit here are from ranches in the Borger-Skellytown area, as the couple lived in Borger for a time.

Mrs. Hudlow's paintings are also of western scenes and she is a teacher as well as an artist.

She and her husband, the late Ted Hudlow opened Hudlow Art Gallery dealing mostly in western and wildlife paintings in 1979. His death in November 1979 was followed by her decision to move the gallery to Childress, where her parents live.

The mother-daughter team have published six books which sell in the popular price range.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY WHEAT TO HAITI

Haitians receive Collingsworth County wheat (top) after Hurricane Allen devastated much of the island's food supply in August. Below, a man holds his sack open with his mouth as grain is poured from a Singley Mill & Elevator sack. Collingsworth County and other midwestern farmers donated wheat earlier this summer to the Larry Jones Evangelistic Association of Oklahoma City to distribute in Haiti. The wheat had arrived and was on the docks in Haiti when the hurricane struck. The wheat was undamaged by the storm and was used to provide emergency rations to Haitians. On Sept. 1 Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Langford of Wellington who helped with the wheat donations here, attended "The Amber Waves of Grain Festival" in Oklahoma City, a program sponsored by the Jones association to report on the association's overseas missionary and food program. The program included documentary films on Africa and on Haiti after Hurricane Allen.

SoapandTowel Night Set For Skyrockets

The Skyrocket Booster Club has scheduled another soap and towel night for Friday, September 5 at the Hollis football game.

Fans are asked to bring a bar of soap and any extra towels that they can spare. They will be used by the football team during the season. The Booster Club will have a box to put the soap and towels in at the entrance gates to the football field, club secretary Charlie Lee Watts said.

Watts also said the Club will be taking memberships at the gate from anyone who wants to join but has not yet paid dues this year.

The most points scored in a football game came when Georgia Tech beat Cumberland University 222-0 in 1916.

Fire Departments Plan WaterPolo, OpenHouse

Wellington and Samnorwood Volunteer Fire Departments work side by side fighting fires, but when it comes to water polo, they're on the opposite ends of the line.

Water polo will entertain fair visitors Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. on the south side of the courthouse square. Traffic will be blocked off for the block.

This will not be a contest, but a demonstration, pointed out J.D. Sheer, secretary of the Wellington Department.

Those watching will not only see a fun event, but they will also see a great deal of skill required to put a stream of water under pressure where the hose-man wants it to go.

In addition to water polo, the Wellington firemen will host an open house all day

Saturday at the fire department in Bura Handley Community Center. Samnorwood Fire Department has been invited to bring its new truck.

Equipment will be on display and questions will be answered by firemen.

Members of the Firemen's auxiliary are planning a concession stand during the fair.

Buying, Selling Dates Vital for Tax Purposes

COLLEGE STATION---An accurate record of farm transactions can play a big part in income tax management strategies, notes Dr. Ashley Lovell, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For instance, the 1978 Revenue Act increased by 10 percent the net capital gain a noncorporate taxpayer may deduct from his gross income. The previous 50 percent deduction of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss no longer applies, notes Lovell.

So producers should review holding periods for various assets such as breeding cattle, speculative commodity futures and farm machinery with respect to capital gains or losses. The economist suggests that producers review purchase dates of assets that are expected to be sold to determine if holding period requirements are satisfied.

Future Teachers Help Special Students

STEPHENVILLE Education majors at Tarleton State University learn how to teach the disabled by becoming handicapped themselves - if only for a few minutes.

Some of the exercises include drawing objects while looking into a mirror, taking notes with arms hampered by a wooden yoke and walking across campus blindfolded.

"Students experience some of the frustrations which special-needs pupils - those with a physical handicap or a learning disability - must live with," explains Tarleton State educator Dr. Virginia Kurko.

Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., is one of 11 electric cooperatives in the Panhandle and South Plains who have joined to establish the West Texas State University Electric Cooperative Scholarship Fund with a gift of $13,750.

We are glad to be a part of this program," said David Pruitt, Greenbelt manager. This is a way to carry on the cooperative philosophy and at the same time to help local students.

The fact that Greenbelt is among the scholarship donors does not necessarily mean that a recipient will come from the area it serves, but the opportunity is just as great for a boy or girl from Greenbelt area as from any other part of the

Susan Lowe, Wayne Delaney, Wed in Home Rites Saturday

Susan Irene Lowe was married to Glen Wayne Delaney of Quitaque in the home of her parents Saturday, August 30, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor of First United Methodist Church, was the officiant. Members of the families attended.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill R. Lowe, 1006 El Paso Street, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Delaney of Arlie Route, Childress.

The background for the ceremony was a Swedish steel arch, entwined with ivy and stephanotis. Seven branched candelabras accented with ivy and stephanotis were at the sides.

Just outside the front door, on either side, were large potted yellow chrysanthemums.

Recorded wedding music was played softly during the ceremony.

Mr. Lowe gave his daughter in marriage. Her floor-length gown of off-white jersey knit was designed with an empire waist bodice having a deep flounced lace collar worn off-shoulder. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations, white daisies and gypsophila and a band of flowers in her hair.

She wore a strand of pearls her mother wore at her wedding and carried out the traditional something old, new borrowed and blue.

Mrs. Jerry Walker of Amarillo, the bride's cousin, was her matron of honor.

She wore a floor-length dress scattered with blue and pink embroidered flowers. A large pointed collar accented the bodice. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and white daisies.

Don Delaney of La Mesa, New Mexico, was his brother's best man. Andy Lowe of Dallas, the bride's brother, lighted the candles.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe entertained with a reception to honor the couple.

The bride's table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white gladiolas and white daisies. Crystal appointments were used.

Mrs. Andy Lowe of Dallas and Mrs. Don Honeyfield of Midland, sister of the bridegroom, served the guests.

reception of her grandparents, Mrs. Dick Richards and the late Mr. Richards.

During the reception, the bride and groom exchanged gifts and presented gifts to their attendants.

La Paisana Chapter Begins Year's Work Monday Evening

La Paisana Chapter of the DAR opened its fall and winter season at the Cherokee Inn, Monday, Sept. 1 with Mrs. J.D. Coleman, hostess. The new regent, Mrs. Bura Handley, presided.

After the chapter's business was conducted, Mrs. Handley read the President General's message for the year 1980-81. The Historical Objective is to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence, she explained. The overall theme is taken from the scripture, "So faith, hope, love abide, these three, but the greatest of these is love." The year's hymn is "Faith of Our Fathers."

Happy Homemaking

By BARBARA BAKER

When a bulb burns out in a multiple fixture, save yourself the trouble of climbing up and down a ladder repeatedly by replacing all the bulbs in the fixture so that it's done and over for awhile. Use the good bulbs as replacements for easier-to-reach places.

When kids come into the house with dripping wet boots or rubbers, take several sections of old newspapers, staple them together and leave by the front door as a makeshift doormat.

Plastic curtains looking dingy or yellow can be salvaged! Wash the curtains thoroughly then soak in a solution of one tablespoon liquid chlorine bleach to each gallon of cold water and rinse well afterwards.

For a unique and exciting wrapping paper, here's a project for both mother and the kids. First have the kids round up all the old or shortened ends of ordinary wax crayons. Chip the pieces into flakes and scatter over a sheet of white paper then fold in half.

Next, place an old cloth over the ironing board, lay the paper on top and cover that with another cloth before pressing with a warm iron until the crayons melt. The more crayons you use, the more colorful, and customized, your wrapping paper.

Couple Honored

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Delaney and Mr. and Mrs. Don Honeyfield were hosts at a dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Delaney Saturday evening, August 30, in the Heritage Room.

The bride's colors of yellow and white were carried out in the arrangement of gladiolas and daisies which centered the buffet.

Delaney of Arlie Route, Childress, and also Mr. and Mrs. Don Honeyfield, Zane and Kyle of Midland.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD KARNES

Anniversary Reception Given Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karnes

The 50th wedding anniversary reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karnes Sunday, August 31, had all the joy inherent in this milestone, but there were some distinctive additions.

Mr. Karnes mother, Mrs. Doshia Dix was present for the complete celebration. Also present were his uncle and aunt, the Jesse Pattersons of Mobeetie. (He is Mrs. Dix brother).

A memory table held wedding gifts the couple have used through the 50 years of their married life: a quilt, measuring cup, silverware and a Bible given by Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, along with photographs of the couple on their wedding day.

At one side of the room, slides of the family over the years were shown during the afternoon.

Before the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Karnes exchanged gifts at a buffet luncheon, attended by their children, grandchildren and other family members.

Hosts at this reception were the couple's children, with grandchildren assisting: Bill and Pat Karnes, and Mike of Amarillo and Lisa of Lubbock; Wayne and Betty Karnes Brasell, LeAnn, Tresa and Katrina of Lubbock; Wayne and Linda Karnes Tutt, with Tracy and Terry of Sanger; and Randy and Elaine Karnes Corbin and Brandon of Farmers Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Karnes received the guests and presented them to his parents.

Covering the reception table was a lace cloth with gold underlay. A pair of crystal candleholders held gold candles and were at the sides of a bowl of golden roses. Coffee was served from a silver service and punch from a crystal bowl.

At one side another lace covered table, although smaller, held the wedding cake. Granddaughters, Lisa Karnes, Katrina, LeAnn and Tresa Brasell, served the guests and registered them at another table, also covered in lace and gold cloth, and holding an arrangement of gold silk flowers.

Grandsons Mike Karnes and Tracy Tutt distributed Thank you scrolls held by simulated wedding rings.

William Leonard Karnes, a Wellington native, is the son of Mrs. Dix and the late Sam Karnes. He attended Wellington Schools and an Oklahoma Barber college.

He was a farmer and carpenter for a number of years, an employee of the Texas Highway Department and for 12 years the couple were co-custodians of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Karnes, the former Vada Marie Hall, was born at Santa Rosa, New Mexico, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Hall. She is a graduate of Wellington High School.

She taught a Sunday school class at First Baptist Church many years and now teaches the television class.

She has been a homemaker and participated in school activities with her children, which were important events in her life.

The couple was married August 31, 1930, in Wellington, by the Rev. John L. King, a Baptist minister. Witnessing the ceremony were Mrs. King; her daughter, the late Mrs.

J.G. Finley and her two small children, Leota (Mrs. John Souther of Amarillo) and J.G. Finley, Jr.

All of the Karnes' married life has been in Wellington.

Out of town relatives and friends attending included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Karnes and Mike of Amarillo and Lisa Karnes of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brasell, LeeAnn, Katrina and Tresa of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tutt, Tracy and Terry of Sanger; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Corbin and Brandon of Farmers Branch; Guests were registered at a table laid with a white linen cutwork cloth, accented with pink and blue applique.

A miniature baby's cradle filled with blue garden flowers and baby's breath, centered the serving table, which was laid with a lace-trimmed pale yellow cloth. Crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Ford poured and Mrs. Hightower served the cake, made in the shape of a baby holding its pet, frosted to natural color and with the features outlined.

Later the honoree opened her gifts and displayed them for the guests.

Family members and friends called between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Nitrates Are In

The experts in Washington are now telling us that it is safe to eat hot dogs and bacon but unsafe to drive Japanese cars.

The government had warned against the use of nitrates in preserving foods, particularly hot dogs and bacon, on the theory that nitrate food had caused evidence of cancer in some laboratory mice.

After several years of experimentation, however, the scientists have determined that nitrates do not harm humans, and that in fact the value of this preservative far outweighs any possible danger in its use.

The average person had rather take his chances on eating bacon treated with nitrates as it has been for 50 years rather than take his chances on spoiled fresh meat which can give him food poisoning.

The government also decided, rather reluctantly it seems, that there is no real danger in the use of saccharin as a sweetener. There had been a ban on the distribution of saccharin a couple of years ago, finally lifted after violent protests from dieters and diabetes sufferers.

The researchers had determined that the use of saccharin might cause cancer in the bladder of laboratory rats. These findings were somewhat cooled off by the computation made by other independent scientists who declared that a person would have to drink 240 bottles of diet soda pop with saccharin every day for 40 years to intake as much saccharin as the laboratory mice did. Few people have the habit quite that bad.

On the automobile front, the Department of Transportation drove a bunch of new cars into a brick wall to test how they stood up. The DOT tests showed that Hondas, Toyotas, Datsuns, Subarus and Mazdas came off badly in comparison with Citations, Phoenix, Regals, Omnis and Horizons.

There are some compelling reasons why American car makers want people to switch from Japanese cars to American cars but crash tests are not the primary reason. More Americans are buying Japanese cars because they think the imports are made better, perform better and last longer.

Forget the crash tests and compete by building better cars at home.

Equal Rights

My intuition tells me, I'm treading on dangerous ground even mentioning the chores that the husband and wife should do around the home...equal rights for one wife may be washing the car instead of the dishes...for another it may be washing the children's ears instead of their muddy shoes...I just don't know.

FROM HIS WORD

The story has often been heard by those who would visit others about their relationship to Christ; "I would come to your fellowship and worship, but I just cannot stand those hypocrites". No question, there is some truth in that statement.

Romans 2:1-6 "Therefore you are without excuse, every man of you who passes judgement, for in that you judge another, you condemn yourself; for you who judge practice the same things. And we know that the judgement of God rightly falls upon those who practice such things. And do you suppose this, O man, when you pass judgement upon those who practice such things and do the same yourself, that you will escape the judgement of God? Or do you think lightly of the riches of His kindness and forbearance and patience, not knowing that the kindness of God leads you to repentance?"

But because of your stubbornness and unrepentant heart you are storing up wrath for yourself in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God, who will render every man according to his deed."

There may be some truth in the first statement, however two wrongs do not make a right in the judgement of God.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Brilab trial of House Speaker Billy Clayton will open this week in a Houston federal court, after a week of pretrial hearings on about 50 defense motions.

Clayton is charged with taking a $5,000 bribe in exchange for his influence in awarding a lucrative state employee insurance contract.

Clayton, himself, is optimistic he will be found innocent, and, in fact, he pushed hard for this early trial date to clear his name before the general election on Nov. 4. He is seeking an unprecedented fourth term as Texas House Speaker.

The millionaire farmer-businessman from the Panhandle does not lack for supporters in the Legislature. If he is cleared early, he can probably count on that support and nail down his fourth term.

Should the trial linger on, Clayton may become a political liability to those supporters. Clayton's opposition may well try to make him an issue in the last few weeks of the campaign season.

The Texas House seems to have recovered from the initial shock of the indictment announcements, and business goes on as usual. Speculation on the trial's outcome is not a wide or loud topic. Clayton's faction fully expects him to be acquitted, his opposition expects him to fail.

Medicaid Dispute

The dispute over who will receive the state's lucrative Medicaid contract will cost the taxpayers an additional $100 million. The Texas Department of Human Resources board will spend that much on an independent consulting firm to evaluate controversial bids.

The Medicaid saga, short but not sweet, began this summer when the board voted to give the contract to low-bidder Bradford National Co. of New York instead of Texas millionaire H. Ross Perot's Austin-based company (which held the 1980 contract).

Perot then met privately with each board member and asked the bid be reconsidered. The board did reconsider it, but Bradford threatened to sue and took full page ads in several major newspapers in a public plea. Perot's company threatened a lawsuit and the board found itself between a rock and a hard place. The independent consulting firm it hopes to hire should supply data the board will need to avoid a lawsuit from either direction.

Tuition Hike Sought

A legislative panel last week recommended higher faculty pay and double minimum tuition rates for college and university students.

If approved by the 1981 Legislature, the recommendations would raise faculty salaries by 40 percent and raise tuition at medical schools by 900 percent — from $400 to $3,600 a year.

The Special Committee on Higher Education Financing in Texas, which formed the recommendations, is headed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Clayton. Texas ranks 46th in the nation in tuition rates.

State and Religion

A Texas House committee upheld the state's Child Care Licensing Act, the main bone of contention in the running battle between the state and evangelist Lester Roloff over regulation of his children's schools.

The committee found no constitutional problems with the act which requires all such school facilities to be licensed by the state. Roloff had refused to seek the license, calling it a state invasion into the domain of his church. He was forced to temporarily close his facilities.

The committee did recommend the Legislature clarify its intent with respect to religious liberty and religious education.

Garcia Testifies

Texas representative Matt Garcia of San Antonio faced tough questioning from the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee holding confirmation hearings on his appointment as head of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Republican members of the committee appeared ready to stall the confirmation of Garcia, a Democrat and longtime supporter of President Carter, until after the Nov. 4 election.

Reps. James Collins, R-3, Bill Archer, R-7, Tom Loeffler, R-21, and Ron Paul, R-22 voted "nay."

Reps. Charles Wilson, D-2, and Martin Frost, D-24, did not vote.

SUN BELT vs. FROST The House rejected, 199 for and 215 against, an amendment to provide Sun Belt states with a larger slice of federal aid to help the poor pay their energy bills. The increased Sun Belt share would have come at the expense of the Frost Belt. The aid in question is $1.8 billion to be distributed to the poor in fiscal 1981 primarily to help them pay home heating costs. The vote came during debate on an appropriations bill (HR 7998) later passed and sent to the Senate.

Members voting "nay" wanted to preserve a formula giving Frost Belt states priority over Sun Belt states in the distribution of energy money to the poor.

Hall, Wilson, Collins, Roberts, Mattox, Gramm, Archer, Eckhardt, Brooks, Pickle, Leath, Wright,

Hightower, Wyatt, de la Garza, White, Stenholm, Ireland, Hance, Gonzalez, Loeffler, Paul, Kazen and Frost voted "Yea."

BI-LINGUAL EDUCATION

The House voted, 213 for and 194 against, to prevent the Department of Education from requiring schools to teach in two languages to many students whose main language is not English. The department has proposed regulations which would require many schools to greatly expand bi-lingual education, so as to comply with the 1974 U.S. Supreme Court decision in Lau vs. Nichols. The amendment adopted by this vote prohibits the Education Department from spending any of its fiscal 1981 budget to implement the regulations. The vote came during debate on an appropriations bill (HR 7998) later passed and sent to the Senate.

Members voting "yea" were expressing animosity toward proposed federal regulations to greatly expand bi-lingual education in the nation's schools.

Hall, Wilson, Collins, Gramm, Archer, Leath, Stenholm, Loeffler and Paul voted "yea."

Roberts, Mattox, Brooks, Pickle, Wright, Hightower, Wyatt, de la Garza, White, Leland, Hance, Gonzalez, Kazen and Frost voted "nay."

Eckhardt did not vote.

SENATE

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

The Senate rejected, 36 for and 46 against, an amendment to fund a new domestic violence program by means of block grants to states rather than by categorical grants to state and local governments and community groups. Fewer federal strings are attached to block grants than to categorical grants. Had the amendment prevailed, domestic violence money would have been sent to states through an existing channel in the Social Security Act, Section XX. Defeat of the amendment leaves intact a plan to set up a new federal mechanism for administering programs to combat domestic violence. A final vote on the bill (HR 2977) was delayed until after the Labor Day recess.

Senators voting "nay" wanted a new federal mechanism to administer the domestic violence program.

Sen. John Tower, R, voted "yea."

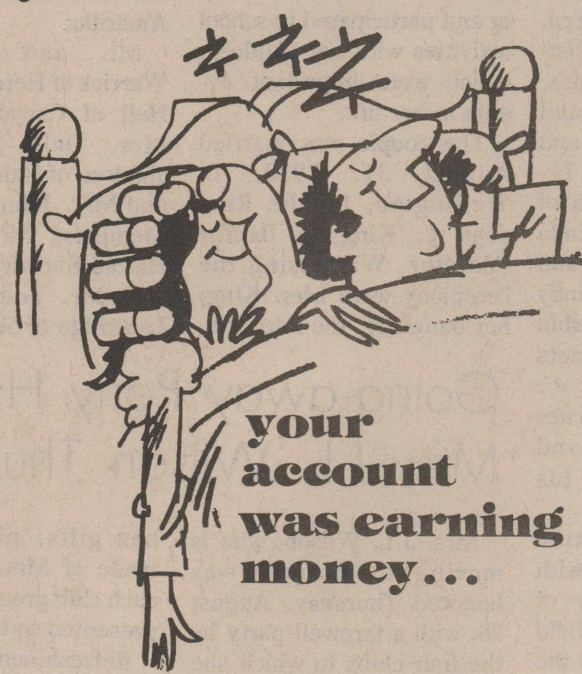

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D, voted "nay."

STRIP MINING By a vote of 54 for and 31 against, the Senate approved language that weakens federal regulation of strip mining in the states. The legislation makes it easier for a state to get Department of Interior approval of its plan for reclaiming scarred land. The measure was passed as part of HR 1197, a ship-tonnage bill that sent back to the House.

Senators voting "yea" wanted to weaken the 1977 Surface Mining Act.

Bentsen and Tower voted "yea."

Best of Show Painting on WSB Calendar

The painting by a Collingsworth County artist exhibited in the Fair art show and judged Best of Show will be reproduced on the 1981 calendar by Wellington State Bank, Billy Moseley, executive vice president, reminded artists this week.

Moseley has urged the county's painters to exhibit what they consider their best to bring in their paintings, not only for the pleasure of fair visitors, but also with the calendar in mind.

The bank includes among county artists these living in the Loco and Arlie communities, who have always been a part of the Wellington art scene.

Discovery Center Has New Star Show

Awesome and mysterious lights that appear in the sky will be recreated on the planetarium dome of Amarillo's Don Harrington Discovery Center in a spectacular show, opening September 6 and 7, Saturday and Sunday.

The show, called "SKYFIRE," illustrates and explains the amazing variety of natural lights that can be seen in day and night skies. "SKYFIRE" will be presented at the Discovery Center weekends at 8:00 P.M. on Saturdays and 3:00 P.M. on Sundays.

"SKYFIRE" explores both common and rare phenomena that occur in the earth's atmosphere and in space. Some of the skyfires shown can be seen with the unaided eye, under the right conditions: rainbows, the northern lights, lightning that travels in a ball, and the sun disappearing in a green flash.

Other scenes are of events within our solar system, such as eclipses, meteor showers, and flares on the sun. And some of the fires in the sky come from deep in space, where stars explode into glowing clouds of gas and galaxies of a billion suns rotate like gigantic pinwheels.

Using the planetarium dome of the Discovery Center and computer-controlled projection equipment, "SKYFIRE" can show certain effects as they appear to an observer on earth or reveal dramatic close-ups of objects out in space. The narration for the show presents the scientific explanation for the lights in terms that are easily understood.

Bicycle Riders Needed in Parade

All youthful bicycle riders are urged to enter the bicycle division of the Collingsworth County Fair parade Friday, Sept. 5, Mrs. David Pruitt, chairman, announced.

"Decorate your bike and join us in the parade. You'll need to see Mrs. Margaret Vines at the Chamber of Commerce office for an entry number to be officially entered as a contestant," she said.

There will be several categories where ribbons will be given.

There's no limit to the ways a bicycle can be decorated, the boys and girls were reminded.

"Parents should drop off their children and bikes at the meeting place, 11th street between West and East Avenues, and be there when the parade is over to pick the children up," Mrs. Pruitt emphasized.

"We want to get this word to the parents, and especially do we want them to pick the children up when the parade is over. It's so easy for a youngster to be injured on his bike in traffic," Mrs. Pruitt reminded.

Children in Wellington School have been visited and word was sent to those at Samnorwood School. But children at Dodson and Quail, and any other communities, are urged to decorate their bikes, bring them in and ride in the parade.

Nine Children of Francies Family Meet in Pioneer Park

The nine children of the late H.G. Francies and Ida Francies of Abra community, along with their families, gathered Sunday, August 24, for a reunion.

Fifty-four attended. The nine Francies children include: Mrs. Edna McGuire of Davis, Okla., Ben Francies of Samnorwood, Mrs. Mae Lee of Ontario, Calif., Mrs. Lucile Butler of San Jacinto, Calif., Mrs. Bernice Stice of Samnorwood, Mrs. Zola Tate of Abra community, John Francies and Joe B. Francies of Amarillo and Earl Murray Francies of Hereford.

A sister and two brothers are deceased: Mrs. Helen McGuire who died in 1957; Elbert Francies who was killed in action in Germany during World War II; and Howard Francies who died in 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Francies brought their family to Abra in September 1935 from Wynnewood, Okla. That was Mrs. Francies' birthplace, while her husband was born in Tennessee, but came there as a child.

During the Pioneer Park reunion the relatives played baseball, waded in Salt Fork River, took pictures and visited.

Decorate with Pictures And Mat Them Yourself

COLLEGE STATION--Do your own decorating with pictures--start with those you already have around the house and a little "know-how."

Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says a few "basics" in picture framing and your own skills can transform drab walls into areas of interest and beauty.

Mrs. Young is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

First decide whether to use a mat with the frame or only a frame.

Some pictures don't need a mat.

To help you decide, if you answer "yes" to any of the questions below, your picture needs a mat:

- 1) Is the wall on which the picture will hang patterned?
- 2) Does the picture seem to need a rest space between it and the wall?
- 3) Is the picture too small for the space it is to occupy?
- 4) Does the picture show motion?
- 5) Do the lines in the picture carry your eye quickly away from it?
- 6) Does the object in the picture need more background space to set it off?

Today's homes can actually have more storage than you realize--if you use the "De-Fibber McGee" attack on closets.

Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says efficient closet space is the key.

Mrs. Young is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Reach-in clothes closets are a more efficient use of space than walk-in closets.

An ideal measurement is 28 inches deep -- although the Federal Home Administration (FHA) has a 24-inch minimum standard depth.

For rod length, each person needs a minimum of three linear feet -- but five or six feet would be better.

Install closet rods at different heights for the best use of space.

Shelves also take some planning. Shelves above the rods increase storage possibilities -- and a tier of shelves in the closet's center adds even more storage.

Mount shelves two or three inches above the rod so hangers will clear them.

Also, you can include more shelves above children's clothes while the children are small -- if you mounted the rods low enough.

Even the closet door makes a difference in storage efficiency.

Ideally the closet front should open completely -- no more than six inches of rod on either side should be concealed when the door is open.

Doors may be hinged, folding or sliding -- but sliding doors allow you to reach only half of the closet at one time, while a full-width swing door requires much floor space for clearance.

The average baby doubles his weight at about 5 months of age.

If the Name Fits, Answer

COLLEGE STATION

What's in a name? "Everything," says Dorthy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"A name is a person's label, and hopefully it gives an insight of what is inside" she explains.

People who are happy with their names usually approve of the kind of person they are, personality studies indicate.

In addition, people who dislike their names tend to be dissatisfied with themselves or have low self-esteem.

Men particularly prefer common names, while women show a preference for distinctive, uncommon names that have a pleasing sound.

Women also prefer names that indicate they are someone special, the specialist continues.

"Parents tend to name children after relatives. This practice is more common for boys than for girls."

"Often, extremely unusual names are inherited in this manner," Ms. Taylor points out.

Children and their social acceptance are often related to their label or name.

Popular children are usually the ones with popular names.

Children with bizarre and unusual names are often regarded as different, strange or peculiar, she adds.

Many adults find it difficult to call in-laws by name.

"It's not that they don't like to acknowledge in-laws as human beings--it's just easier to evade the issue by not calling them anything," Ms. Taylor contends.

"A name is a name is a name--a person by any other label probably would not be the same."

You Have "Fly Rights" --

Airline passengers have rights and need to know them, especially with the deregulation of the airline industry, says a family resource management specialist.

This is especially true of delayed and cancelled flights.

Airlines don't guarantee their schedules, so remember this when planning a trip.

Even though schedules aren't guaranteed, most airlines will pay for a telephone call or telegram to your destination to announce a delay.

They'll arrange and pay for hotel accommodations and food if you're stranded overnight, and they'll pay for transportation between the airport and hotel.

Above all, remember that patience can work for you as effectively as your "fly rights."

ALLEN'S AFTERMATH

"This was where our house was," Mrs. J.C. Hartman told The Wellington Leader after she and her husband reached Port Mansfield to check hurricane damage to their property. A friend, Frank Deanero, stands on the concrete slab.

Hartmans Find House Gone After Allen Passes By

When J.C. and Donna Hartman reached Port Mansfield to check on property several days after Hurricane Allen passed by, all that remained of their waterfront house was the concrete slab on which it was built. Beyond, at the gulf edge, there were just a few posts jutting out of the water. This had been a 500-foot fishing pier.

"We got here Wednesday, August 13. With plenty of water left. About one half of the houses north of the harbor are totally destroyed," Mrs. Hartman wrote The Wellington Leader.

I had only one picture left in the Polaroid camera. It is a picture of where our house was, and a friend standing in the middle of it.

"We were luckier than most. We were paid total on our house and boat by Farm Bureau. Most are still having trouble getting paid.

"All we picked up were some household items, hardly anything usable. One man stayed here during the storm. We have quite a lot of damage to two trailer houses in the trailer park. Most of it is high water damage.

"Here on the bay front the water was 8 feet deep, plus the waves."

The Hartmans sent along a copy of the Allen Special Edition of the Valley Morning Star, published at Harlingen.

"Port Mansfield Felt Hurricane's Wrath," read one headline.

Pictures by staff photographer Ron Schade showed flattened Port Mansfield structures. In another, a trailer was saved from falling on its side by a motor boat. "This is a block north of us," wrote Don Hartman.

"This is at the end of our street," she wrote of a picture of a large brick home, captioned "Hurricane Allen blew the walls out of this brick home in Port Mansfield."

Beneath the picture of the popular Windjammer Restaurant, slanted steeply, she wrote, "this is a couple of blocks south across the harbor."

A story by Rich Thurmond of the Star News staff described it: "The foundation tilts toward the harbor, its concrete floor jutting through soaked carpet. The front porch ripped away by heavy winds and pushed through the roof, is in pieces on a pier in back. Six inches of mud covered the floor a few days ago. But this damage came not from the hurricane, but from a 10-foot tidal wave that struck Port Mansfield.

Later Thurmond wrote of the hurricane's entry into

Campbell, Oney To Dedication In Jackson

Jack Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oney attended dedication and open house at the new headquarters building of Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance in Jackson, Miss., August 27 through 29.

Campbell is Farm Bureau Insurance agency manager and Oney is a special agent here.

The group also toured the city of Vicksburg, Miss. and the Civil War battlefields surrounding the city.

Michael At Tax School In Colorado

Charles D. Michael, agent for Southland Life Insurance Company, attended a company sponsored tax school at Keystone, Colorado, the week August 15-20. Michael's family went with him and took part in the activities provided for family members. They stayed at the Keystone Condominium.

Family activities included rafting on the Colorado River, horseback riding through mountain trails, shopping trips, swimming, chairlift rides, hiking and paddle boating.

Side trips included a stop at Rye, Colorado, where Michael's father preached in 1917, a day at the Royal Gorge, and two days at Garden City, Kansas on their way back.

Michael's school included up-dates on trusts, and other legal agreements, tax-deferred plans, income taxation of individuals and corporation, income taxation of estates, trusts and beneficiaries, and the federal estate tax.

UP THERE WITH RANDY AND KAREN

Appearing on-stage with Nashville's Randy Barlow and Karen Wheeler at their Saturday country music concerts Saturday will be Elvis Sain of Canyon, formerly of Wellington, and his niece, Donna Faye Holt of Dodson. Donna is a freshman in Wellington High School.

The village of Tadoussac, Quebec, at the mouth of the Saguenay River, claims to be Canada's oldest settlement since a fur-trading post was built there in 1599.
