New equipment scheduled for hospital

The Mitchell County Hospital will be receiving or already has received a variety of new equipment in the coming months, Administrator Ray Mason told the board Tuesday night.

The board had approved replacement of the fluoroscopy system in the X-ray department during the October meeting. The cost of a refurbished unit is $75,000. The board voted Tuesday to take funds from a savings account to pay for the X-ray equipment and pay back the account during the fiscal year.

Mason said the equipment is due to be installed over a four-day period starting Dec. 18.

The board agreed to sell the old fluoroscopy system to an El Paso company for $2,000. The bid was the only one received. Mason said the El Paso company refurbishes old X-ray equipment for resale to Mexico.

Mason announced that the Pink Ladies, the hospital auxiliary organization, has agreed to purchase a new examination table for the emergency room, a scale for the nursery and three food carts for the hospital. The food carts, normally costing about $6,000 each, are being purchased for $4,000 each because of a special purchase price, said Mason. The food carts will be replacing some that are 10-11 years old and in need of replacement.

Mason also announced that St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock is undergoing a remodeling project and that the hospital gave Mitchell County Hospital about $6,000 worth of used furniture and equipment. Mason said the items are in excellent condition and are already in use in the local hospital.

In other business, the board approved a proposal from Blue Cross-Blue Shield for the hospital district's hospitalization plan. Mason said the new plan will cost employees about $10 more a month which is much less than the proposed increase from the present insurance carrier, Northwestern National. The new coverage will become effective Dec. 1.

In the financial and statistical reports of the hospital and nursing home, Assistant Administrator and Comptroller Richard Murphy said the hospital had a net gain of $15,346 in October, the first month of the fiscal year.

MITCHELL COUNTY COTTON HARVEST is now progressing at full speed and beginning to get far ahead of the gins, which have now turned out more than 18,000 bales. Cotton strippers are shown dumping the picked cotton into a compressor module.

Pecan Show Tuesday, Wednesday

The Mitchell County Pecan Show will be held Tuesday and Wednesday.

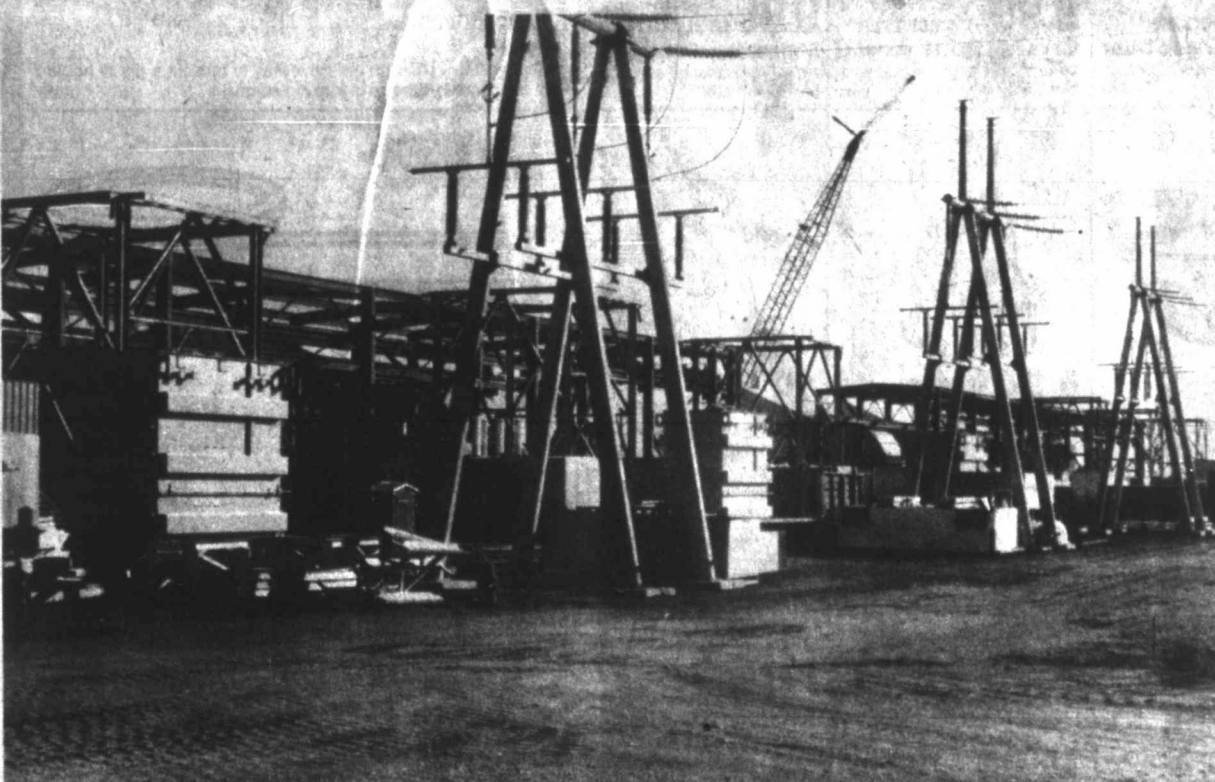

Pecans will be received and processed on Tuesday from 1-3 p.m. Judging will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the C.C. Thompson Room of City National Bank.

The annual event is co-sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and the City National Bank.

In conjunction with the pecan show, the Mitchell County Extension Program Council will host its fall meeting and extension service "open house" from 10 a.m.-noon Tuesday. All activities will be held in the C.C. Thompson Room.

"We would like to invite the public to come by and visit with us and review past years' activities supporting our long range extension program developed by the citizens of Mitchell County," County Extension Agents Mike Mauldin and Libbi Garnett said.

CONSTRUCTION ON THE TU ELECTRIC gas compressors at the Morgan Creek Power plant is now more than 50 per cent complete as all three of the new units are in place. The new units add 390,000 kilowatts to the capacity of the plant.

For The Record...

by M. Gene Dow, GM

DID YOU KNOW? Colorado City is the "mother city" of the West Texas Press Association.

Sixty-one years ago, the West Texas Press Association, the largest, non-subsidized regional press association in the world, was founded in Colorado City. The organizational meeting was held in the Barcroft Hotel on November 20, 1926.

Area newspaper men who helped organize the association were J. L. Martin, Snyder Times-Signal who was temporary chairman and subsequently elected the first president; Paul Barron, Midland Reporter; J. W. Smith, Lamesa Reporter; Earl T. Williams, Loraine Leader; H. C. Shelton, Rotan Advance; E. I. Hill, Tahoka News; J. W. Roberts, O'Donnell Index; Barney Hubbs, Pecos Enterprise; C. S. Boyles, Sweetwater News; James L. Dow, Lubbock Avalanche; W. E. Reid, Colorado City Record; Miss Jean Jordan, Big Spring Herald; E. A. Warren, Post Dispatch; T. E. Jordan, Big Spring Herald; Luther Watson, Sweetwater News; and Herbert M. Colber, Sweetwater News.

Joining Martin on the first slate of officers were: James L. Dow, Lubbock Avalanche, vice president;

W. E. Reid, Colorado City Record, secretary-treasurer; Miss Jean Jordan, Big Spring Herald, assistant secretary.

Board of directors of the charter organization included Max Bentley, Abilene Reporter-News; E. I. Hill, Tahoka News; Barney Hubbs, Pecos Enterprise; W. D. Van Blarcom, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; and H. C. Shelton, Rotan Advance.

Not only am I proud that my grandfather was a founding officer, but also that I was privileged to serve as president of the West Texas Press Association in 1964. Other annual meetings of the WTPA were held in Colorado City in 1940 and 1955.

HOSPITAL

Revenues were less than projected, but so were expenses, Murphy said.
 The nursing home had a net income of $6,642 for October.
 Mason said that the Texas Hospital Association (THA) has agreed to file suit against Healthcare Financing Administration concerning the disagreement of urban and rural hospital reimbursement rates by Medicare. Mason said THA will be requesting a donation from each hospital in the state to help finance the lawsuit.
 Mason said that the annual review by Medicare is scheduled in March and that he and the hospital department heads are already gearing up for what is expected to be a rigid inspection.

The Mitchell County American Association of Retired Persons No. 1461 met Monday, Nov. 16, for its regular luncheon and meeting.

Mrs. Eddie Barclay, vice president, presided in the absence of the president.

Invocation was given by Margaret Oyler.

The tables were decorated in a Thanksgiving motif.

Nelda Garrett presided over the drawing for Susan B. Anthony dollars, a gift from Raymond and Virginia Fuller.

The pledge to the flag was recited by the members present.

Sally Rogers introduced the guest speaker, Betty Shawn who spoke on "Thanksgiving". She noted that Thanksgiving is a time for being prayerful, thankful, grateful - not only with words but by actions as well.

She told about the first Thanksgiving and all the hardships, suffering and hunger. She also reminded the group of our religious freedom, our faith, our hope and our high living standards. We are the best fed, best clothed and have the best homes. We need to ask ourselves this question - will we have to lose all this in order to appreciate all that we have? We take our blessings for granted and we need to be more thankful for all the resources that we have and enjoy every day.

Members present were Juanita Coker, Fannie Cooper, Eddie Barclay, Velma Pond, Margaret Oyler, Eleanor Jeffries, Garvice Craghead, Nelda Garrett, Addie Richardson, Faye Spivey, Shorty Pace, Edna Pace, Jessie Mae

Opinions

Ray Mayo

Former college classmate and fellow journalist Jack Cowan who has compiled a book of his newspaper columns had an autograph party at a shopping mall Saturday in San Angelo.

Prior to the "party" he was worried about his ability or rather his inability to autograph the books. Even though he practiced for weeks prior to the event, he said his handwriting looked more like the scrawlings of a elementary student rather than that of an author.

After sitting for years behind a typewriter and now behind a computer terminal, I can easily identify with his problem. I just wish my handwriting was as good as that of an elementary student.

I contribute my inability to produce legible handwriting to my chosen profession of newspapering. Although my handwriting was never anything to write home about, at one time I could communicate my thoughts on paper with pen or pencil. Not so today.

Emily Post would be horrified, but my idea of writing a personal note is to type it on a typewriter or personal computer and then sign my name. It may not be too personal, but nonetheless, it is legible (the note, not my signature).

True, I realize that a personally handwritten note is much preferred over a typewritten one. But what good is a handwritten note if the receiver can't make heads or tails out of it?

We have the same problem here at the office when we get handwritten reports of club meetings and weddings. It becomes somewhat of a game when I can't make out a word and I poll the rest of the office staff on what they think the word is supposed to be. Sometimes we guess right. Sometimes we don't.

Of course there have been studies of signatures of some of our nation's leaders. It seems the longer they stayed in office and the more powerful they became politically, the less legible their signatures became. When you're busy leading a country, I guess you're not too concerned about how neatly you sign your name.

My handwriting is a combination of printing and cursive writing, much to the horror of our 11-year-old at home. As we were comparing handwriting the other night, Jeffrey proclaimed that my handwriting is "terrible" and his mother's handwriting (she is a teacher and should know all about cursive writing) is far from perfect.

Cursive writing is described as having a flowing characteristic to it. My handwriting can only be described as more like hen scratching.

So if you receive a handwritten note from someone and you can't tell who it's from or what it says, let me know. It could be from me, but if it's not, I'll try to help you decipher it.

Art Lawler

One of my many peculiar friends got into an argument with me about killing.

Not human killing, but animal killing.

We had already agreed capital punishment was probably immoral for the human animal and had agreed to encourage torture as a suitable alternative.

All was well and good until he brought up hunting. John's against the killing of animal, animals, you see. You can torture the human animal if he deserves it, but leave the animal, animal alone.

Torture, I tried to remind him, is allowing furry little animals to starve to death in the winter - which is what generally happens when you don't let the hunters go out and blast them for sport.

"You just want to experience the joy of killing something," he said, as if I were a hunter.

That's what gets him. The idea that anyone could take pleasure in stalking a cute animal like a deer, then gunning it down the way John Wayne used to gun down the Nazis.

John sees nothing sporting about that. If you're really interested in sportsmanship, he says, give the deer a gun and teach it how to shoot. Then let hunter and deer take ten steps back and fire away at each other.

You'd see a lot less enthusiasm for hunting if the animals could shoot back, he says.

He's got it all wrong, though. Even though I'm not a hunter and think deer are cute, I don't get all bent out of shape because some hunter gets a kick out of the actual kill. What it comes down to, I think, is who's running this here planet?

John's trying to spread civil rights to the animal kingdom, whereas I'm quite comfortable with a human hierarchy. To paraphrase Alexander Haig, we're in charge - of everything-but the cockroach, anyway.

That's not to say we should go around blasting everything on four legs. Like anything else, you've got to have some rules.

My peculiar friend is undoubtedly correct when he says the population control excuse would go out the window the minute they stopped holding hunters to certain limits. Some hunters would shoot until no four-legged creatures remained standing.

But again, he's getting hung up on the moral issue, even to the point of claiming that animal, animals have a higher moral standard than your average, everyday hunter.

I'm afraid he's developed an unfortunate double standard about all this.

Mox Nix, the family step-cat, periodically kills cute, furry rabbits. The reason I know this, is that she's escaped into the house with a couple of the remains, and it wasn't a pretty sight.

Even so, I took the opportunity to study the look on her face each time. It was no different than the look on a hunter's face right after he's bagged a buck.

A smug look appears as she licks her chops. It's the look one gets after conquering a foe. An unquestionable sense of pride engulfs her. Remorse? Not the slightest.

Well, a hunter looks and acts the same way, so why should he, or she, feel any more remorse?

What my peculiar friend is trying to do is begrudge the human animal the same satisfaction he so obviously tolerates when the animal, animals kill each other. And don't try to tell me animal, animals, don't sometimes kill for the sport of it, either.

Nope, what we've got here is the perfect double standard, pure and simple.

Horoscope or Lifescope? Which Will You Believe?

HEAR THE WORD of the Lord . . . Don't act like the people who make horoscopes and try to read their fate and future in the stars! Don't be frightened by predictions such as theirs for it is all a pack of lies. Their ways are futile and foolish.

Persist then with your incantations and your many enchantments, with which you have wearied yourself from your youth; perhaps you will be able to profit; perhaps you will inspire terror. You have advisors by the ton - your astrologers and stargazers, who try to tell you what the future holds. But they are as useless as dried grass burning in the fire. They cannot even deliver themselves! You'll get no help from them at all.

So why are you trying to find out the future by consulting witches and mediums? Don't listen to their whisperings and mutterings. Can the living find out the future from the dead? Why not ask your God?

"Check these 'witches' words against the Word of God!" He says. "If their messages are different than Mine, it is because I have not sent them; for they have no light or truth in them."

The secret which the king has demanded, the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, and the soothsayers cannot declare to the king. But there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets.

When the Holy Spirit, who is truth, comes, He shall guide you into all truth, for He will not be presenting His own ideas, but will be passing on to you what He has heard. He will tell you about the future.

"For I know the plans I have for you," says the Lord. "They are plans for good and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope. Ask Me and I will tell you some remarkable secrets about what is going to happen here."

Contract labor is still hottest employment issue around

Dear Commissioner Nabers: I worked several years as an employee for a company and then last year the boss put us all on contract labor. I still do everything just like I did before, but now I have to take out my own taxes. After reading your column on contract labor a few weeks ago, I don't think I qualify as an independent contractor. Is there anything I can do about this?

M.C.
Alpine, Texas

Dear MC.: You can file a written complaint with your nearest local Texas Employment Commission tax office or you may write directly to the state office tax department here in Austin. Our tax examiners will investigate the work situation and if they determine that you and others working in capacities, similar to yours are not independent contractors, they will assess unemployment tax liability to your employer. Your name will not be divulged if such an investigation is initiated but the TEC must have your complaint in writing.

Complaints concerning failure to withhold or pay portions of other federal taxes should be made in writing to the Internal Revenue

COMMISSIONER
Mary Scott
Nabers

TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY

Service.

Dear Commissioner Nabers: Under new provisions of the federal Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA), my company must provide continuation of group health insurance coverage to a terminated employee unless that employee was terminated for gross misconduct. I was told at a professional association meeting that the Texas Employment Commission can tell our company whether gross misconduct was present. Is this true?

B.R.
El Paso, Texas

Dear B.R.: No. Several recent inquiries similar to yours lead me to believe that there is erroneous information going around on this subject. COBRA is an extremely broad and lengthy act. The requirement to offer continued insurance coverage is only a small part of COBRA and it has nothing to do with the Texas Employment Commission.

The TEC decides issues of misconduct under Section 5(b) of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act ONLY when a claim for unemployment benefits is filed, not before. The TEC has no authority to officially rule on the merits of any work separation outside the unemployment claim process.

I suggest you get legal advice on your responsibilities to ex-employees under COBRA. There may be severe consequences for failing to offer employees and their dependents the option of continuing insurance coverage subsequent to their departure from your employment.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: Texas Business Today, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

Regulations offer some protection

Arranging a funeral usually comes at a time of emotional distress and, as a consequence, many people buy services they cannot afford.

Texas, law and Federal Trade Commission (FTC) regulations offer some protection. Some funeral homes, for example, fail to disclose that embalming is not required by state law. Under FTC regulations, funeral providers must disclose the specific price for each of these following, even if they're offered as a "package":

- Embalming;
 - Transportation of the remains;
 - Use of the facilities;
 - Caskets;
 - Outer burial containers;
 - Direct cremations.
- Federal law also requires the following disclosure: "If you arrange a direct cremation, you can use an unfinished wood box or an alternative container. Alternative containers can be made of materials like heavy cardboard, or composition materials (with or without an outside covering) or pouches of canvas.

Finally, if you do have the sad duty of arranging a funeral, don't go alone. It is best to have a friend who is not as emotionally involved go with you.

Options for Health

by
Dr. Scott White

DR. SCOTT WHITE is offered as a public service by Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Clinic in Temple. If you have a question please write to DR. SCOTT WHITE in care of your local newspaper.

Q. I've been having stomach pains along with headaches. My doctor says these symptoms are caused by stress. Is it true that job pressures make me feel this way? How can I learn to control stress in my life?

A. Stomach pain, headaches, backaches and other symptoms may be related to stress. If your doctor has thoroughly evaluated your condition medically and finds no other cause for these symptoms, then they might be related to the effects of stress in your life. Many people, however, have a high stress level but do not display these types of symptoms.

Controlling stress may be difficult. However, there are several things you can do to begin this process. One would be to avoid chemicals that might increase anxiety such as caffeine or nicotine. Another good way to control stress is to begin a regular aerobic exercise program. If these methods are ineffective, other methods such as muscle-relaxation skills, psychological counseling or stress-reduction classes may help. Your doctor should be able to recommend where you can find these types of programs.

Q. Today I saw on television that aspirin may help prevent heart attacks. Should I be taking aspirin regularly since I have a history of heart attacks in my family?

A. Aspirin affects one of the clotting mechanisms in blood. It slows small platelet particles in the blood from sticking together, which prevents the formation of small blood clots. Studies have shown that taking just one aspirin a day will effectively reduce the clotting tendency of the blood.

The clotting ability (thickness) of the blood is a factor in the development of heart disease and may play a role in the increased risk of heart disease from high blood cholesterol, high blood pressure and smoking. Simply taking one aspirin a day may reduce the risk of heart attack up to 50 percent. There is no need to take more than one aspirin each day. Since aspirin is a safe and well-tolerated drug for most people, most people with a family history of heart disease or who have had risk factors of heart disease, should take one aspirin a day to help prevent heart disease.

Beware of con schemes conducted by telemarketing

Telemarketing is much in the news of late and some of it is done by the country's best men. They operate out of "boiler rooms" where salespeople make telephone calls pitching everything from soap to vacation packages. Commodity investment schemes are one form of con that has become increasingly prevalent.

If you get a pitch for a commodities scheme and are interested, you should:

Find out what government agencies, such as the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, are regulating it to see if the firm is registered and if there have been any complaints;

Ask for a copy of the firm's prospectus and all other available literature before you spend a dime;

Ask the salesperson for the names and addresses of the firm's principals and officers;

Ask the caller if he would explain the program to a third party such as your attorney or accountant.

Most importantly, do not leap to any purchase or investment. If the caller refuses to talk to a third party or if he belittles you—"What's the matter? Can't you make your own decisions about your own money?"—DO NOT BUY.

STORY OF THANKSGIVING - The fifth grade class of Mrs. Nancy Moore at Hutchinson Elementary School told the story of Thanksgiving to fellow students on Wednesday. The class went from various rooms telling of the origin of Thanksgiving. At the end of the day, the class members presented the program once more for their families.

Crude oil production figures told

AUSTIN-Texas crude oil production averaged 1,949,782 barrels daily in September, according to preliminary figures released by Railroad Commission Chairman John Sharp.

This figure compares with preliminary August production of 1,946,004 barrels daily.

The state's top producing counties, rank ordered by preliminary September production were: Gaines, 3,381,459 barrels; Ector, 3,285,693 barrels; Andrews, 3,264,462 barrels; Pecos, 3,240,337 barrels; Yoakum, 2,884,614 barrels; Hockley, 2,682,483 barrels; Gregg, 2,637,441 barrels; Crane, 1,670,533 barrels; Scurry, 1,480,279 barrels; and Wood, 1,167,895 barrels.

Woman credits God for survival after pair shot, left for dead

An El Paso woman and her daughter are slowly recovering after being abducted near Colorado City nine months ago and taken to near Odessa where they were shot and left for dead.

Gail Amos told the Associated Press that she and her nine-year-old daughter continue the slow road to recovery and she offered Thanksgiving Day prayers that she and her daughter survived the brutal ordeal.

"There's a deep thankfulness in my heart that my daughter is here with me," Ms. Amos said. "I still wake up mornings and think, 'I'm alive, Angie's alive'."

Ms. Amos has tried to help Texas Rangers and the Ector County Sheriff's Department find the trucker who abducted the pair early March 3, when the woman had car trouble on Interstate 20 between Colorado City and Lorraine.

Gunshot wounds to Angie's head and the woman's neck still cause problems. The child still limps and Ms. Amos wears a neck brace.

Angie, who sustained a .25-caliber bullet wound that pierced her cerebellum and sent her into a coma, "recovered faster than any of the doctors expected," her mother said.

Angie was discharged from a Dallas hospital on May 8, after a seven-week stay.

"It's hard to tell any difference," in Angie, said Ms. Amos, who credits God with the "miraculous" survival of the two.

Ms. Amos returned in August to her job with the U.S. Postal Service in El Paso. She works part time due to the immobility caused by the bullet that was lodged between two vertebrae in her neck.

Ms. Amos still cannot drive, but next Wednesday she visits a doctor for an exam she hopes will enable her to leave the neck brace behind and get behind the wheel again.

"Our lives are starting to blend back together," she said by telephone from her El Paso home.

Calvary Baptist Church, Colorado City

Jesus said, "I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word, that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (Jn. 17:20-21 RSV)

United we stand;

divided we fall.

That's why the Lord Jesus must be Lord of all.

His Lordship unites us -- making us one,

and binds us together

Lewis appoints Burnett to regional committee

AUSTIN-Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, has appointed State Representative Dick Burnett to the Southern Legislative Conference's Justice, Public Safety and Consumer Affairs Committee.

The Southern Legislative Conference was founded in 1947 and is one of four regional legislative conferences operating within the family of the Council of State Governments (CSG). Its purpose is to provide southern legislative leaders a forum to exchange ideas and solutions to common problems, as well as provide the opportunity for a unified voice on regional matters.

Burnett, a democrat from San Angelo, is in his fourth term as a lawmaker. He currently serves as vice chairman of the House Public Safety committee, and is a member of the House Corrections committee.

In making the appointment, Lewis stated, "One of the foremost responsibilities of government is to provide for a safe and secure civilization."

He continued, "I am pleased Representative Burnett is willing to commit his time and energy to exploring opportunities to improve our justice system and law enforcement efforts."

Colorado City Wolves rally at Winters

Colorado High School varsity basketball teams swept the Winters Blizzards here at The Pit two Fridays ago but found the going a little tougher in Blizzard country.

The varsity boys edged Winters 46-44 Tuesday-just four days after beating the same Winters team 78-59 in a season opening contest. The Wolves are now 1-1.

The Lady Wolves, 1-2, lost to Winters 37-34 after having beaten the Blizzards 56-48 at home.

The boys barely avoided their first loss. The Wolves trailed throughout the game. Winters led 15-8 after one period. Colorado City cut the margin to 24-20 at halftime but Winters led 38-32 after three periods.

The Wolves outscored Winters 14-6 in the final period to pull out the win. Pat Ridge hit a three pointer in the fourth quarter that pulled the Wolves within 40-37. Seconds later Ridge robbed a Winters dribbler and dished off to Mark Russell for a 44-44 score.

Guy Compton made two free throws with less than 10 seconds left for the final score.

Leading scorer for the Wolves was Ken Woods. Woods scored 11 points on 5 of 7 shooting.

Other scoring totals for the Wolves were Ridge 9, Compton 9, Russell 4, Beau Rees 4, Bubba Bailey 3, Chris Perkin 2, Paul Ausbie 2 and Darvin Jackson 2.

James Self scored 10 points for Winters after scoring 14 in the contest at The Pit. The Wolves held Wayne Pochs to 8 points. He was Winters' leading scorer with 15 points in the first contest between the clubs.

Russell added 10 rebounds and 3 assists. Pat Ridge received 13 defensive marks while Compton had 10 rebounds.

Wolves shot 40 percent from the field and from the free throw line. Colorado City made 4 of 11 first quarter shots, 6 of 15 in the second quarter, 5 of 16 in the third quarter and 5 of 10 in the final period for 20 of 52 shooting for the night. The Wolves attempted only one free throw in the first half and made 5 of 13 for the game.

Colorado City made 34 rebounds and committed 25 turnovers. Winters made 10 of 23 free throws.

The Lady Wolves fell just short of a remarkable comeback.

Winters outscored the Lady Wolves 12-0 in the first period but Colorado City got on the board for an 18-7 halftime score.

The Lady Wolves had cut the lead to 24-19 after three periods and got within 30-29 in the fourth quarter before Winters held on for the 37-34 win.

Cami Redwine hit a 3 pointer for Colorado City in the fourth period to finish as the top scorer with 9 points. Carla Hammond did all her scoring in the final period for 8 points.

Also scoring were Priscilla

Mayes 5, Denise Lowrance 2, Jennifer Monroe 2, Michelle Combs 2, Lisa Lamb 2 and Sheila Monroe 2.

The Lady Wolves also received a two-point goal from Winters' Tracie Grantham. Grantham also scored 10 points for the Blizzards. Winters was led by Melissa Smith's 14 points. Smith scored 12 in the final period to keep Winters ahead. Kim Slaughter added 7 points for the Blizzards with 6 coming during Winters' first quarter jump.

The Lady Wolves, who begin district 5AAA play by hosting Sonora Tuesday, were 0 for 18 in first quarter shooting, 2 for 23 in the second period, 5 for 22 in the third and 7 for 22 in the fourth. Colorado City also made 4 of 15 free throw attempts.

Lowrance and Mayes were the leading rebounders with 9 and 8, respectively. J. Monroe made 3 steals.

Colorado City won the junior varsity boys game 56-28. Scoring for the Wolves, now 1-1, were Heath Watlington 14, Mark Alvidrez 12, Dennis Smith 9, George Rivera 8, Tracy Ausbie 8, Ronald Appling 3 and Ricky Westbrook 2.

The junior varsity Lady Wolves fell to 1-2 with a 38-26 loss Snyder Tuesday night. Scoring for Colorado City were Stacy Miles 9, Amy Chitsey 6, Kendra Ritchey 4, JoAnn Omelas 4 and Mendi Conner 3.

Chitsey and Miles both made 11 rebounds for Colorado City. Beth Alirs scored 12 points for the Ragin' Tigers.

Employment

Employment: The Guard is comprised of citizen soldiers, there's nothing civilian about its defenses. The Guard has the same capabilities as the world's most powerful army - the U.S. Army. We are combat engineers. Engineers - sometimes the greatest opposition the army faces doesn't come from another army, but from the block roads, deep rivers and shallow fortifications. That's why this construction and demolition branch has the key task of keeping the guard moving. Be part of the team, join the Texas Army National Guard. Nov. 27-29; Dec. 4-6, 11-13, 18-23, 26-31 -- Holiday in the Park, Six Flags Over Texas, Arlington. Instead of the usual rides, there will be horse drawn surreys, a "snow" hill for sledding, hundreds of Christmas trees, twinkling lights, strolling bands and carolers, a nightly parade, and shops filled with holiday gifts. Special stage shows will feature Christmas productions, and holiday delicacies will replace hamburgers and hot dogs. Ticket and other information from Six Flags Over Texas, Box 191, Arlington 76010 (817-640-8900).

Dec. -- Holiday Events, San Antonio. Paseo del Rio will be ablaze with lighting in the trees all month, and carolers aboard river barges will sing Christmas favorites. Decorated homes will be open Dec. 5-6 for the Christmas Pilgrimage. On Dec. 7-12, Fiesta Navideña in El Mercado offers dance, drama, music and holiday foods, highlighted by pinata parties, blessing of the pets and a visit from Pancho Claus. Las Posadas on Dec. 13 dramatizes with song and candlelight procession the Holy Family's search for lodging. For details on these and other holiday events: Convention & Visitors Bureau, Box 2277, San Antonio 78298 (1-800-292-1010 or 512-270-8700).

Dec. 4-5 -- Candlelight Posada, McAllen. A celebration blending the cultures of both sides of the border features the Christmas tree lighting, choir and band concerts, Santa's arrival, and ethnic foods. Highlight will be Las Posadas, a candlelight procession that has been a Christmas tradition in Mexico for hundreds of years, symbolizing the Holy Family's search for an inn. More information from Chamber of Commerce, Box 790, McAllen 78501 (512-682-2871).

Dec. 4-6 -- 4th Gruene Country Christmas, New Braunfels. Weekend begins with a turn-of-the-century ball and Texas wine tasting at Gruene Hall, Texas' oldest dancehall. Other festivities include carolers, folkdancers, arts, crafts, foods, blacksmith and potter demonstrations, Santa's arrival on horseback, antique car parade, hayrides and children's activities. Jerry Jeff Walker will perform at Gruene Hall Sat. night. Details from Gruene Merchants Assn., 1601 Hunter Rd., New Braunfels 78130 (512-629-5077).

Dec. 12 -- 10th Christmas in Old Montgomery, Montgomery. The candlelight tour celebrates the town's 150th birthday this year, featuring century-old homes, antique stores and two historic churches. Admission: $4 adults; $2 students.

Dear

Betty Crocker

Q. How do you keep gravy smooth?

A. Cook gravy over low heat. Stir it constantly with a wire whip or in a figure-eight motion using a wooden spoon. Take the pan off the heat when you add the milk or water. Then return pan to the heat, stirring until gravy is smooth and thickened.

Q. What's the difference between brown rice and regular white rice?

A. Brown rice is a whole grain, unpolished rice with only the outer hull removed. White rice is further milled to remove the germ and most of the bran. One cup of uncooked brown rice will yield about four cups of cooked rice while one cup of uncooked white will become three cups of cooked rice.

Q. Can pumpkin pie be stored safely at room temperature?

A. Pumpkin pie is made with both eggs and milk, as are cream pies. To minimize risk of harmful bacteria growth, cover them and store in refrigerator. You can store fruit pies such as apple, blueberry or peach at room temperature.

Q. Is there an easy way to peel a clove of garlic?

A. Yes! Hit clove sharply with the side of a heavy chef's knife. Slip the thin skin off. To use the clove, mash it into a paste with side of knife, finely chop with knife, or use garlic press.

Q. What are the basics of adapting a recipe from conventional directions to microwave directions?

A. Pay attention to the cooking utensil, power level and cooking time. It will help to compare the recipe to a similar recipe from a reliable microwave cooking source. A general rule is that at high power, a microwave recipe will take about 1/4 to 1/2 less time than if cooked conventionally.

Q. Is there a technique for slicing fruitcake so that it won't crumble?

A. A fruitcake will both taste and slice best if stored for three to four weeks. To prevent crumbling, slice with a thin, nonserrated knife or an electric knife.

WHAT IS A PRESCRIPTION?

It looks like an ordinary piece of paper with writing you can't read, to get medicines that sometimes seem expensive.

Actually, a prescription is a passport to better health. Physicians study many years to be able to write one. Pharmacists study many years to learn how to compound them. Drug firms usually spend millions to perfect the drugs in them. The relatively few dollars all this knowledge costs can save you sickness - time and sometimes your life.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Turn to savory foods for holiday gift giving ideas

This year share your love of good food and good cooking. Treat the food enthusiasts on your Christmas list to one or all of this trio of distinctive savory cheese treats. You'll save money and time, and you'll please even that hard-to-buy-for person.

To spark your enthusiasm, here are some food gift-giving pointers.

Start early. One thing you can count on: The closer it gets to the holidays, the busier you'll get. Devote an afternoon to baking. Then, package up your special deliveries and freeze. All three recipes keep beautifully in your freezer for up to one month.

Make some extra. Should you be caught by surprise with the need for a gift, relax. Who wouldn't appreciate one of the tasty packages you have stowed away in your freezer? Your family will enjoy these special tidbits, too.

Expand in the name tag. Write out the recipe on a fancy card and tie it to the package with a ribbon. Make sure you include special instructions for reheating and storing.
