MOON AGE TRAVELERS RETURN

The SDN Column

If you like to deal in speculation, the Apollo 11 journey to the moon offers the greatest opportunity in history and people everywhere are taking advantage of it. One of the more obvious channels, of course, is the suggestion that the entire venture was merely an act, or a hoax, if you want to be blunt about it.

This type of speculation does exist, but usually, after some thought it is discarded, except by those who pursue it for the sake of starting arguments for their own amusement.

It started us to thinking about positive proof that man actually went to the moon. That is, proof that the ordinary citizen who has limited scientific knowledge, if any at all, can grasp.

The whole thing folds up, of course, in its sheer size. In the first place, it involves too many people, and in the second place, people with access to positive proof are scattered over too many countries to enable any select group to get away with such a hoax.

Russia's Luna 15 offers an excellent example. That unmanned spacecraft "landed" on the moon, the Soviets announced Tuesday. A tracking facility in England confirmed that indeed it did "land" on the moon. In fact, said the Britons, it landed rather emphatically, since instruments at that station indicated that the Russian vehicle was traveling at the rate of 300 miles per hour when it touched the moon's surface.

Of course the Russians have tracking facilities themselves and undoubtedly already knew this. I have a feeling they would have known also if our moon mission had been a hoax and I have a stronger feeling that they would have told the world about it.

Moreover, if it had been a hoax and had passed the scrutiny of the world as the real thing, that would have been an achievement even more fantastic than landing on the moon.

The American Automobile Manufacturers Association reports that a survey it conducted shows that highway user revenues in Texas have risen from $294.4 million to $501.8 million per year in the past 10 years. These funds come from motor fuel taxes, vehicle registration fees, motor carrier and other user charges.

Most of this is pure growth, since there have been few changes in the fees themselves.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, July 24, the 205th day of 1969. There are 160 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1946, the first underwater test of the atomic bomb was made by the United States off Bikini Atoll.

In 1704, the British captured Gibraltar during the war of the Spanish succession.

In 1870, the first railroad car from the Pacific Coast reached New York City.

In 1929, President Herbert Hoover proclaimed the Kellogg-Briand Pact, which renounced war as an instrument of national policy.

In 1942, during World War II, British bombers heavily damaged the German cities of Frankfurt and Mennheim.

In 1948, a Progressive party national convention in Philadelphia nominated Henry A. Wallace for president.

In 1967, Pope Paul flew to Turkey for the first papal visit to that country in more than 12 centuries.

Ten years ago — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev debated the pros and cons of Communism and capitalism at a U.S. exhibition in Moscow.

Five years ago — The United States rejected a French call for an international conference to neutralize Indochina.

One year ago — The U.S. House of Representatives passed a bill curbing interstate mail order sales of guns.

Stab Wound Fatal To Harte Girl

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. AP) — Caroline Louise Harte, 14, daughter of the San Antonio Express Publishing Co. president, suffered a fatal stab wound from an intruder early today.

The stabbing occurred as the teen-ager slept at the cottage of friends.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston H. Harte and member of the family operating the Harte-Hanks newspaper group of 11 daily newspapers in Texas.

The girl was a student at St. Mary's Hall.

Port Aransas Police began an investigation of the death which occurred at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cameron Duncan of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were asleep in an upstairs room and May Duncan, a classmate of the victim, was in a downstairs bedroom with Miss Harte.

The family was awakened about 2:30 a.m. when Miss Harte cried out.

She was found lying across the bed and it was not at first apparent what had occurred. When she was turned over, a puncture wound was found in her chest above her heart. There was blood on the bed and Miss Harte was apparently dead then.

No one saw an intruder. Duncan heard a door slam, but Mrs. Duncan said she did not hear the sound, only Miss Harte's cry.

A San Antonio resident since 1962, Miss Harte was born in Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1954.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by two brothers, Ritchie and David, and a sister, Sarah; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte of San Angelo; and maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Suter of Birmingham, Mich.

The stabbing victim's parents are former residents of Snyder.

Miss Harte was born a few months after the family moved from Snyder. Her father was editor of the Snyder Daily News from 1952 till the summer of 1954, when they moved to Des Moines.

DESPITE LULL

U. S. Casualties Increase

SAIGON (AP) — Despite a five-week lull in sustained ground action across South Vietnam, American battlefield deaths last week increased 23 per cent over the total the previous week, the U.S. Command reported today.

The weekly casualty summary said 182 Americans were killed in action last week compared with 148 the week before.

The toll for the week that ended at midnight last Saturday was the highest since June 22-28, when 241 U.S. troops were killed. But it was 23 per cent below the weekly average this year of 235 deaths.

Headquarters also reported that 1,405 U.S. troops were wounded last week, down from 1,612 the week before.

Although the number of American battle dead increased last week, those of South Vietnamese government forces and of the enemy were less than the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 295 government troops were killed in action last week, compared with 352 the week before. Another 923 government soldiers were wounded; there had been 1,088 the previous week.

The report said 2,203 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed by allied forces last week compared with a revised total of 2,369 the week before.

A U.S. spokesman said many of the Americans killed last week died in small unit actions or as a result of booby traps. U.S. sources said that despite an absence of large-scale fighting, small-unit contacts involving anywhere from a company of 100 men to a squad of 10 have been averaging about 60 per day for most of the last two weeks.

The 182 U.S. troops killed last week raised to 37,349 the number of Americans reported killed in battle in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961. Another 241,164 have been reported wounded.

More than a third of the total American battlefield deaths—14,398—have occurred since the United States opened preliminary peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris on May 13, 1968.

Since South Vietnam joined the talks last Dec. 7, 7,292 Americans have been reported killed in action.

The U.S. Command also reported that a total of 53,122 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed by allied forces since Jan. 1, 1961.

U.S. headquarters said American troop strength in Vietnam dropped last week to 535,500 from 537,000 two weeks ago. The drop reflected the continuing withdrawal of American troops from the war zone under President Nixon's 25,000-man cutback to be completed by the end of August.

IN RENEWED FIGHTING

Israeli Downs Six MIGs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets shot down six Egyptian MIGs in renewed air and ground fighting along the Suez Canal today, the army announced, following a threat by President Gamal Abdel Nasser that Egypt now is ready to fight to regain Arab territories.

While Israeli officials reported six MIG fighters downed, other Israeli military sources said the total of the Egyptian aircraft brought down was nine.

As the jets fought, Israeli and Egyptian guns blazed across the 103-mile canal which now divides Egypt from the Sinai Peninsula, seized by the Israelis in the June 1967 war.

The Israelis said their jets attacked Egyptian gun positions in the third air strike across the canal since Sunday.

Up to now the Israelis had claimed to have shot down 33 Soviet-built Egyptian planes for the loss of five Israeli warplanes since the 1967 war.

Nasser made his threat to go on the offensive in a speech in Cairo Wednesday.

Commenting on the speech, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan of Israel told newsmen: "The Egyptians may renew the war and bomb Tel Aviv."

He added that Nasser apparently believes a new war with Israel already has begun.

Dayan stressed, however, he does not think a full-scale war is imminent this summer. But he said Israel would have to be "prepared for everything Nasser said he might do."

The air action on the waterway began with Israeli jets hitting Egyptian gun positions.

Then, the Israelis said, Egyptian aircraft attacked Israeli positions on the Israeli side of the canal.

It was not immediately known whether any Egyptian aircraft crashed on the Israeli side or how many aircraft were lost in aerial combat or by ground fire.

A spokesman said the planes hit positions along the banks of the canal that had been firing at the Israelis on the other side.

An announcement said: "Breaking the cease-fire along the Suez Canal by the firing of the Egyptian troops is continuing to be a permanent policy of the Egyptian army."

Splashdown Site Changed During Blazing Re-Entry

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) —The men who opened the Moon Age returned safely to planet earth today, steering themselves to a near-bull's-eye landing just nine niles from this recovery ship. They immediately were placed behind a biological barrier to prevent spread of possible lunar germs.

They were sprayed and rubbed with disinfectant and were kept away from their President in the most bizarre welcome a nation ever accorded returning heroes.

President Nixon waited on the bridge of the carrier to congratulate Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins on their adventure, in which Armstrong and Aldrin became the first men to set foot on the moon.

But even Nixon won't shake their hands. He'll wait to talk with them until they are safely secured in a quarantine trailer on this carrier.

Apollo 11 made a blazing dive through the earth's atmosphere, hitting the warm Polynesian waters at 12:50 p.m. EDT.

For the first time in the Apollo program, the astronauts took manual action to change their landing site. This became necessary when a threat of thunderstorms forced officials to shift the landing 250 miles to the east.

Armstrong changed the guidance computer so that Apollo 11 dug a little deeper into the atmosphere, enabling it to shoot for the new touchdown zone, 950 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Three-to-six-foot waves turned the spaceship upside down after it landed. The astronauts righted it in 11 minutes by inflating flotation bags.

Planes and helicopters were overhead in minutes and dropped frogmen into the water.

"Our condition is all three excellent. Take your time," Collins told the swimmers.

Dark, hazy skies prevented Nixon and others on the ship from seeing the splashdown. Only a faint flash of light in the southern sky as dawn broke heralded the arrival.

As the carrier steamed toward the bobbing spaceship, one of the frogmen, Navy Lt. Clancey Hatleberg, 25, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., climbed into a rubber raft.

He wore a pea-green biological suit with a gas mask-like face device. He opened the hatch, tossed in three garments like his own, nicknamed BIG suits, and closed the hatch. BIG means biological isolation garments.

Hatleberg then sprayed the hatch area with an iodized disinfectant to kill possible germs.

The other frogmen backed away from the craft, moving upwind to avoid possible bugs.

Thirty-five minutes after landing, Aldrin, followed by Armstrong and Collins, stepped into the orange rubber raft in their strange suits.

With Hatleberg's help they sprayed a disinfectant on their suits. Using big mittens, they rubbed it in—front, back, under the arms, top of the head, feet.

The disinfectant was sodium hypochlorate, a chemical familiar to housewives as a washday bleach.

Showers Continues In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy soaking rains fell over much of Texas Wednesday night with more scattered showers and thundershowers forecast for tonight.

But the rains didn't do much to hold down Texas temperatures with Wichita Falls turning in a sizzling 106 degree maximum. More temperatures in the 100s were forecast for today.

The heat-spawned rains were heaviest in the eastern half of the state with an inch an hour reported in along the coastal plains.

A few thundershowers were still falling early today in a line from near Abilene to San Angelo.

Welcome moisture in Houston caused the city there to rescind water rationing with residents able to start drenching their sun-seared lawns and gardens.

But no rainfall is predicted today for North Central Texas. Instead, the Weather Bureau says look for the thermometer to top out at 107 degrees.

Farm Bureau To Select A Queen

One of eight young ladies will emerge tonight as Scurry County Farm Bureau Queen for 1969.

The pageant to select the queen will be held at 8 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum. The event will follow the Scurry County Farm Bureau barbecue which is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Competing for the Scurry County Farm Bureau Queen title are Darlene Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.P. Tate Jr.; Ruby Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Williams; Shirley Stirl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stirl; Pam James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. James; Mary Hudgins, daughter of Mrs. Irene Hudgins; Jane Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Wall; — Sharon Pieper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pieper; and Rita Riley, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Riley.

Ed Cumbie of Bronte, Field Representative for the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will be master of ceremonies for the queen's contest.

The Scurry County queen will compete in the district queen's contest scheduled for Aug. 23 at Big Spring. Winner of the district contest will go into state competition next November.

Alexander Rites Friday

Funeral service will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church for A. C. Alexander, 79, long-time bank executive, who died early Wednesday.

Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the church, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. G. M. Cole, a former pastor here now of Fort Worth. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

All officers, directors and employes of Snyder National Bank will be honorary pallbearers. Designated as active pallbearers are board members, Cecil Boren, Rex Robinson, Theo Lamb, Roger B. Mize, William Fuller, Harrie Winston, G. B. Clark, Hugh Boren Jr., and J. M. Sterling.

The body will lie in repose at the church from 9 a.m. Friday until the service begins at 10. The family has suggested memorials to the Heart Association and-or Cancer Fund.

Mr. Alexander had held virtually every executive position at Snyder National Bank after coming to Snyder 50 years ago.

Our Moon Book Going To Press

Even before the astronauts had landed on the moon, the completed portions of our big book on the magnificent achievement, "Footprints on the Moon," had gone to press.

The presses will continue to whir while the final chapter is being written by John Barbour, The Associated Press space specialist who has had a prominent part in reporting front page news of the moon landing.

His finished manuscript will be delivered by July 28, according to present plans, and will be set in type at once. Then the only thing holding up final press work will be receipt from NASA of the color pictures taken by the astronauts. These will be subject to delay because of quarantine but a sufficient number should be available by Aug. 1.

The photos will be sent to the engravers at once for the delicate process of turning out four-color book plates.

Meantime the book bindery people and the dust cover printers and the carton makers have been busy. If all goes well, their efforts will mesh and first books will be ready in New York by Aug. 18. It could be done faster on different type presses, but the object is quality as well as speed.

The first printing runs to 100,000 copies. Paper has been ordered for another 100,000 copies. Across the United States, nearly 700 Associated Press newspapers, like this one, will participate in distribution of the book at the special $5 price. In addition it will be translated into ten foreign languages.

"Footprints on the Moon" will be worth all this effort. Measuring 9 by 12 inches, it will contain 224 pages and about 150 photographs in full color. For readers wanting a permanent memento of this unparalleled event, it will be a must.

Greene Is Back Home

Jack V. Greene, 2110 Twenty-seventh Street, has returned to Snyder from Houston where he had undergone eye treatment there. His stay in the hospital this time was for 3½ weeks.

Mrs. Greene reported that her husband is doing better, and does not have as much pain now, but that he does need to have lots of rest.

"It's still a wait and see situation concerning the eventual outcome," stated Mrs. Greene. She added that he was due to go back to Houston in October, but that his condition at that time would determine what would be done.

Greene said that his hospital stay was made easier by the many cards and letters he received from the homefolk, and he wanted to express his appreciation for them.

Big Celebration Planned For Trio

HOUSTON (AP) — A "real Texas-sized celebration" is planned here Aug. 16 to welcome home the Apollo 11 moon explorers.

During the day there will be a downtown ticker tape parade. That night a celebration will be held in the astrodome honoring all of the personnel and support groups at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

"We will have a real Texas-sized celebration," Gordon Mercer, assistant to the mayor, said Wednesday in announcing the event. "Judge Roy Hofheinz is making the stadium available to the city free and we will have something Houstonians can be proud of."

"Since Houston's celebration falls on Saturday thousands of working people will be able to attend," Mercer added.

The exact time of day for the parade will be announced later.

Jeff W. Massey Dies At Waco

Jeff W. Massey, former resident of Snyder, died in Twin Oaks Rest Home in Waco July 23. Services will be Friday with burial in Waco. Connally Funeral Home, Waco, are in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Massey was the father of J. W. (Jay) Massey of Snyder.

Chicago White Sox hurlers completed only 20 games last season. It was the lowest figure in the American League.

Water Bill To Be Paid

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The commander of Little Rock Air Force Base says the base will pay its water bill to the City of Jacksonville after all.

Col. McLyle Zumwalt said Wednesday night, "permission has been obtained to continue monthly payments pending the final settlement of this issue."

The issue is whether Jacksonville owes the Air Force $99,137.64, plus 6 per cent interest. The Air Force claims it overpaid that amount over a 12-year period for water supplied by the community of 18,000.

The Air Force general counsel in Denver, Colo., according to Jacksonville Mayor John H. Harden, had ordered the city to pay up within 30 days.

Meantime, the general counsel had told the mayor, the Air Force would withhold payment of its monthly water bill of $9,000 to $10,000, about a third of the income of the city water department.

Zumwalt said military procurement regulations govern Air Force actions in the matter, but that in this case monthly payment of the water bill would continue even though the dispute is unsettled.

Sophia Misses Her Son

KHLEBNIKOVO, Soviet Union (AP) — Sophia Loren likes movie making in Russia, but she misses her 7-month-old son.

"Now is the time they do so many things—tiny things—and I won't be able to see all that," the Italian actress said in an interview in this town just outside Moscow.

She left little Carlo Ponti Jr. in Rome two weeks ago and came here to shoot scenes for the movie "Sunflower," in which she is starring with Marcelo Mastroianni.

Resting in her trailer between scenes beside a lake, Miss Loren said Carlo Jr. will make his film debut in the movie later in Italy.

"It's a very small scene," she said, smiling proudly.

The star said before the baby was born she was "also happy but not as much as now because before there always was something missing."

"Maybe now I get less upset about the tiny problems you have every day," she said in a low, smooth voice filled with warmth.

"Sunflower," to be released next year, tells of an Italian woman's postwar trip to Russia to find her soldier husband.

Miss Loren's son will "play" the part of a baby she has by a new husband in Italy after finding that her soldier husband has married a Russian girl.

Dressed in a plain brown dress, her hair grayed for the part, Miss Loren praised the friendliness of the few Russians she has met while filming here and in Mocow's Red Square.

"They are so sweet because they come with flowers, apples, pears . . . They want to make you understand," she said.

Although a movie of hers has not been shown here since "Marriage Italian Style" four years ago, she said Russians on the street recognize her.

After a week of filming in the Ukraine starting Friday, she flies home to her baby.

Insurance Board Agrees On Delay

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Insurance Board agreed today to delay an auto insurance rate increase until after Gov. Preston Smith's special fact finding committee makes its report.

Ned Price, one of the two board members, told the auto insurance committee of the board's decision as it held its first meeting. (See related story page 10).

Cassius Clay Resentenced

By B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge resentenced Cassius Clay today to the same five years in prison and $10,000 fine he assessed in June, 1967, after Clay's conviction on a charge of refusing induction into the armed forces.

There had been speculation U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham might reduce his original sentence, but he imposed the same sentence without comment.

Clay's chief lawyer, Charles Morgan Jr., filed notice of appeal at once to the 5th Circuit Court in New Orleans.

Clay will remain free on $5,000 bond posted at the time of his first appeal two years ago.

Before sentencing, Ingraham asked Clay if he had any comment.

"No, sir," Clay said. "Except I am sticking to my religious beliefs. I know this is a country that preaches religious freedom."

Clay had sought exemption from the draft as a Black Muslim minister and as a conscientious objector.

Rigatoni Makes A Supper Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're looking for a hearty supper dish that is cooked on top of the range, consider serving Rigatoni with Meat Sauce.

And this dish has another virtue. You can make the Meat Sauce well ahead, put it in the refrigerator or freezer and heat it when you need it. The red wine that goes into the sauce adds robust flavor.

If you haven't yet tried rigatoni, we think you'll enjoy doing so. It's the pasta that comes in large, hollow, ridged tubes. The Italian adjective rigato, meaning ridged or ruled, gives this pasta shape its name.

If you serve Rigatoni with Meat Sauce as the main course you need accompany it only with a tossed salad.

When we did this, we added sliced cucumbers and marinated artichoke hearts to the greens and found this a fine combination. Olive oil, wine vinegar, salt and seasoned pepper made the salad dressing.

For dessert we offered a layered sponge cake filled and frosted with fresh strawberries and whipped cream.

To make this menu quite good enough for an informal company supper, you need add only a first course.

RIGATONI
WITH MEAT SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup finely grated carrot, loosely packed
2-3 cup chopped celery
2 pounds ground lean beef, chuck or round
1 cup dry red wine
1 can (2 pounds, 3 ounces) plum tomatoes, sieved
2 cans (each 6 ounces) tomato paste
2 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper to taste
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Rigatoni, see below
Grated Parmesan cheese

In a Dutch oven heat butter and olive oil; add onion, carrot, celery and garlic; cook gently stirring a few times, for about 5 minutes.

Add meat, breaking up with the flat tines of a fork, and cook until meat loses its red color.

Add wine, tomatoes, tomato paste, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Simmer, covered, until sauce is quite thick—about 2 hours; stir occasionally. Skim off any excess fat. Makes about 9 cups.

We find half the sauce (about 4½ cups) is planty for 1 pound of rigatoni. Extra sauce may be served separately; the remaining sauce may be refrigeated or frozen for later use.

To serve: Turn the cooked rigatoni onto a large hot platter; ladle the sauce over the center of it; mix at table; pass grated Parmesan cheese so eaters can help themselves.

Apound of rigatoni and half the sauce makes 4 to 6 servings.

TO COOK RIGATONI

For 1 pound of rigatoni (large pasta tubes) bring 4 to 6 quarts water to a full boil. Add 2 tablespoons salt. Gradually add rigatoni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until pasta is a tender as you like. Turn into a as directed in recipe for Rigatoni with Meat Sauce.

RIGATONI PLUS — The pasta that comes in hollow, ribbed, tube shape is served with a tomato-meat sauce that's full of flavor.

B&W Members Have Potluck Supper

The Business and Professional Women's Club met at the Towle Park Barn Tuesday at 6:30 for a "pot luck" supper. Members and several guests who were present reported to have had an enjoyable time.

Picnic food, fried chicken and fresh fruit cobblers were served.

Florence Leftwich, reporter, gave the "Colbet."

The next B&PW meeting will be announced later.

The B&PW Club "Hands Around the World" will meet in Abilene Friday. Several local members plan to attend.

CLUE YOUR FAMILY IN on the Strawberry-Sour Cream Pie. An icy cold pitcher of milk is the flavor accomplice here.

Strawberry-Sour Cream Pie

Plump ripe strawberries are into something again. This time it's a lucious homemade cream pie unusually flavored with smooth, dairy sour cream.

And how simple to make! Begin with a baked pie crust, using your favorite recipe. Line the crust with the berries fresh from the strawberry patch and at their taste peak right now. Then spoon on the cream filling made rich in flavor with sweet creamery butter, sour cream and fresh whole milk.

Now whip up the meringue, beating egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar, then sugar, continuing to beat until stiff peaks form. Gently fold in sour cream, the secret ingredient behind the piquant flavor. Then pile in lush billows on the pie, and brown the finished product in the oven.

So give your family a taste break with new and different Strawberry-Sour Cream Pie—the verdict is superb eating every time.

STRAWBERRY-SOUR CREAM PIE

1 baked pie shell, 9-inch
2-3 cup sugar
3 tablespoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup sliced strawberries

MERINGUE

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup dairy sour cream

In a 2-quart saucepan combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool 2 additional minutes. Blend a small amount of hot mixture into egg yolks; return all to pan. Cook 1 minute. (Do not boil.) Remove from heat; add butter and vanilla. Fold in 1 cup sour cream. Cover and cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile line bottom of pie shell with strawberries; top with filling.

To prepare Meringue: Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and beat until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Gently fold in sour cream. Mound into pie filling making certain that meringue covers filling completely and is sealed to crust. Bake in preheated 425 degree oven 5-10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Girls Recreation Baseball Scheduled

Girls Recreation baseball teams will play two games Friday, July 25, beginning at 9 a.m. Because of the games, the Travis, Stanfield and Hermleigh gyms will be closed Friday morning but will open again at 2 p.m.

The first game will be between the Snyder Little Yum Yums and the Hermleigh team. Playing the second game will be a team composed of instructors and Hermleigh girls against the Snyder Big Yum Yums, announced Patsy Rainwater, Co-Director of Girls Recreation.

Coaches for the Snyder teams are Helen Rios and Luther Mae Braziel while Mary Hudgins and Linda Bollinger coach the Hermleigh teams.

Ladies Auxiliary Has Meeting July 21

Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of Wars Post 8231 met at the post home for their regular meeting July 21.

President Jewell Ellis presided at the meeting. There were seven members present.

AL Players Give Reasons For Loss

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American League went back to the drawing board today in search of another plan to win the All-Star Game—with its two biggest stars disagreeing over the reason why the National League has now extended its superiority through seven years.

"They got more stars over there," said Reggie Jackson of the Oakland Athletics after Wednesday's 9-3 loss to the National League.

"We don't have players like they have—like Mays, Aaron and Clemente. And we have no McCovey. And no Banks. And no Marichal. But we have a younger league than they have. Most of our players on the field were younger than theirs.

"So give us time—we'll be there."

"I have to admit we needed this game bad for league prestige," said Frank Howard of the Washington Senators. "You know you hear all this stuff about them being better. But I've played in both leagues and I think the American is as big league as the National.

"These things seem to run in cycles. Our league will be back."

Jackson, at 23 representing the AL's younger generation, and Howard, at 33 representing the AL's older generation, were the key players in the American League's plan for ending NL superiority this time around.

That plan called for loading the team with the league's top homer hitters. Jackson, with 37, and Howard, with 34, were the leading elements in a starting unit that statistically had the edge on the National League starters—179 homers to 105.

But 2 hours and 38 minutes later when the scoreboard showed the 9-3 final score, the National League had hit more homers than the American, 3-2, and had outhit them, 11-6.

Howard and Bill Freehan of Detroit collected home runs for the Americans, while Jackson failed to get the ball out of the infield in two official trips to the plate. But Willie McCovey of San Francisco hit two for the Nationals and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati one.

If, havig lost the home run battle, the Americans decide now that pitching might have to be the answer—then it probably will help next year if Detroit's Denny McLain doesn't have a dentist's appointment.

McLain, Detroit's 14-game winner and the scheduled AL starter, took off in his private plane Tuesday night, after the game was postponed by rain, to have nine teeth capped in Detroit Wednesday Morning.

His flight plan was expected to get him back to Washington in time for Wednesday's rescheduled start, but he did not appear on the American League bench until the National League was batting in the second inning.

He was too late to see the National League collect its first run in the first inning off Mel Stottlemyre on Matty Alou's leadoff single and Howard's error on Hank Aaron's fly ball.

He arrived while Bench was building the National League's lead to 3-0 with his first homer, following a single by Cleon Jones. And he was sent to the bullpen to get ready while the Americans got one back on Howard's homer.

But he still wasn't ready when the third inning opened and all he could do was watch while he warmed up in the bullpen as the National League exploded for five runs on five hits off John "Blue Moon" Odom, including McCovey's first homer.

The Americans got one back in their half on Freehan's homer, and then McLain got his chance—and became the victim of McCovey's record-tying second homer. Only three previous players in All-Star history had hit two in one game—Arky Vaughan in 1941, Ted Williams in 1946 and Al Rosen in 1954.

McCovey's second homer produced the NL's final run—and McLain left for a pinch hitter when the American League came to bat. He retreated to the dressing room, showered and flew off again, heading for Florida and a business deal.

The early bombing, however, had given the fans what they were looking for after three straight years in which the pitchers had completedly dominated the hitters as the National League posted 2-1, 2-1 and 1-0 victories.

It also gave the National League a 22-17-1 edge in the 40 games played so far. But Ted Williams, Washington's manager and a coach of the Americans under Smith, reminded everyone all streaks have to end sometime.

"When I came into the league we were beating heck out of them," said Williams. "Since about 1950 they've been knocking us around pretty good. They've had some great players over there.

"But seven in a row. That ought to stop pretty soon."

PLAY WITH A KICK — Second baseman Bobby Knoop of the Chicago White Sox is upset — and so is a double play — as Jackie Hernandez of the Kansas City Royals is forced at second in the first inning of the first game at Chicago. Knoop received throw from shortstop Luis Aparicio who fielded grounded by Eliseo Rodriguez. (AP Wirephoto)

Aaron Says AL Could Have Won

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — American League manager Mayo Smith of Detroit says the National League would have won the All-Star Game even if his premier hurler, Denny McLain, had arrived at the ballpark in time to start the 40th classic.

Atlanta's Hank Aaron says, however, the National League's power hitting might have been stilled had the American League pitching been better.

"Good pitching can always stop good hitting," Aaron said after the 9-3 National victory Wednesday. "I thought last year Odom was the best pitcher I faced in the All-Star Game. But his ball wasn't sinking today. We hit a lot of high fast balls."

John 'Blue Moon' Odom, Oakland's star pitcher, was bombed during his third-inning stint, giving up Willie McCovey's first of two homers, two doubles and two singles for five runs.

"I wasn't actually as loose as I should have been," Odom said. "I usually take three innings to get loose but I just couldn't get there today."

There was speculation over whether the outcome of the contest would have been different had McLain, the Tigers' 14-game winner who collected 31 last year, had been able to get to the ballpark to start as originally planned. Smith thinks not.

"The fact that he came late had no bearing on the ballgame," said Smith. "It still would have had the same result.

"He would have pitched only two innings and I would have brought on Stottlemyre or Odom. I had not planned to use any pitcher over two innings."

McLain flew to Detroit after the All-Star Game was postponed Tuesday night for a dental appointment. He did not return until the top of the second inning.

National League manager Red Schoendienst of St. Louis agreed that the American League pitchers weren't as sharp as the hurlers he had going for him.

"Anytime you make mistakes to guys who can hit the ball out of the park, they will hit out," he said. "They have plenty of power. I'd like to have their club everyday.

Ladd Is Out For Season

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Ladd, one of the most feared linemen in pro football, won't play this season.

Halfback Dick Bass, in contrast, is ready for a strong comeback after being hampered most of the 1968 season by injuries.

Hank Stram, coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, said Wednesday that the Chiefs and Ladd had agreed it would be best for all concerned for Ladd to sit out this season and concentrate on getting into shape for the 1970 campaign.

Ladd, a 6-foot-9, 300-pound defensive tackle, underwent surgery on his left knee last January.

"He worked on the knee very religiously since the operation, but it hasn't responded as well as we had hoped," Stram said.

The 31-year-old Ladd, a former star at Grambling College, is a nine-year pro veteran.

Bass, the all-time leading runner for the Los Angeles Rams, said he felt great after two workouts Wednesday.

"My legs feel real good and I'm anxious to get started," the 195-pound Bass said.

The Chicago Bears held their first full-blown scrimmage and it was rookie halfback Ross Montgomery of Texas Christian who starred. He gained 24 yards in seven carries, including a two-yard TD plunge. In addition he caught three passes for 48 yards.

The Bears also sent defensive back Curtis Gentry to the St. Louis Cardinals for receiver Bobby Lee and an undisclosed draft choice.

The San Diego Chargers tried out rookie Jeff Queen from Morgan State as a running back and Coach Sid Gillman was pleased with his speed.

Tackle Charlie Bradshaw, an 11-year-old veteran of NFL competition, announced his retirement. He was offensive captain of the Detroit Lions last season.

Joe Pryor, a rookie end with the Houston Oilers, also apparently decided to call it quits. He left the team Wednesday.

Rain hampered the workout of the world champion New York Jets, preparing for the College All-Star game in Chicago next week, and quarterback Joe Namath took advantage of the shortened drill to attend a literary press conference to promote his forthcoming autobiography, I Can't Wait Until Tomorrow.

Landry May Make Major Switches

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Coach Tim Landry of the Dallas Cowboys is toying with the idea of trying backs Danny Reeves and Calvin Hill at tight end.

Veteran pros Pettis Norman, last year's starter, and newly acquired Mike Ditka, appeared to be the favorites for the end spot.

"Hill has shown touchness and that he has good hands," said Landry. "I like Hill at tight end.

"He's fit fairly well in our system as a running back but tight end is his best spot," the coach said Wednesday. "He has some very good motion and moves that help him get loose as a receiver."

About Reeves, Landry said: "If Danny is all right, we've got a great fight at tight end."

Reeves was a Dallas starter last year in the backfield until he was injured. Hill is the National Football League team's No. 1 draft choice from Yale.

Canadian Open Gets Underway

MONTREAL (AP) — The light-hearted, good-natured fun is over and the seriousness of making every shot count starts today as the Canadian Open Golf Championship gets under way at Pinegrove Country Club in nearby St. Luc.

A total of 152 professional and amateur golfers from 12 countries tee off today in the 60th annual national championship, which carries a $125,000 purse —$25,000 to the winner.

Most of the contestants in the 72-hole tournament toured the 7,090-yard, par-72 layout leisurely Wednesday in a final tune-up.

Main attraction was a threesome of British Open winner Tony Jacklin, Bob Charles of New Zealand, runnerup to Jacklin in the British Open, and Roberto deVicenzo, third in the British tournament.

Charles is the defending Canadian Open champion.

Oilers In Need Of More Tight Ends

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers, due to meet the Buffalo Bills in a pre-season American Football League game Aug. 2 in Houston's Astrodome, are fast developing a manpower shortage at the tight end position.

Joe Pryor quit the team Wednesday, apparently to retire. The 10th round draft choice from Boston College decided to call it quits just before the Oilers took a morning workout.

Only Alvin Reed, last year's starter, remains healthy at the position. Bill Halley previously left the team and Ed Carrington has been troubled with knee problems.

The Oilers won a foot race with the rain Wednesday afternoon completing their bobtailed practice just before the showers began.

Tigers, Cards In Comeback Effort

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals put on a second half drive and again finish on top in the American and National Leagues?

That is the big question as the pennant races resume today in major league baseball.

The Tigers and the Cardinals generally gave been written off as repeat champions this year, but baseball is an unpredictable game and there always is a chance.

After all, the New York Giants of 1951 came from 13½ games behind in mid-August to beat out the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cardinals were 10 games back of Brooklyn in August of 1942, but came on to win.

The Cardinals open a home stand against the San Francisco Giants tonight in third place in the NL East, 11 games back of the first place Chicago Cubs.

The Tigers similarly open a home stand against the Kansas City Royals, also in third place in the AL East, 11½ games behind the leoding Baltimore Orioles.

The Tigers appear to face a more difficult task than the Cardinals, since Baltimore is rolling along at a .677 clip with 65 victories against 31 defeats. Boston is second with a 54-42 record and the Tigers next at 52-41.

The Cards must overtake the Chicago Cubs and the New York Mets, whose six-game series at Shea Stadium and Wrigley Field excited the fans before the All-Star break.

The Cubs, who play Los Angeles today, are on top with a 60-37 record, 4½ games ahead of the Mets who have a 53-39 mark. The Cards are just one game above .500 at 49-48.

Los Angeles and the Giants are in the thick of the fight with Atlanta for first place in the NL West, so the Cubs and Cardinals face a stern test today.

Atlanta plays at home tonight against Montreal. In other NL games, Cincinnati is at New York, Philadelphia at Houston and San Diego at Pittsburgh.

Minnesota, seeking to increase its four-game lead over Oakland in the AL West plays at Cleveland tonight while the A's are at home against Washington.

New York is at California, Boston at Seattle and the Chicago White Sox at Baltimore in the other AL games.

Bass Meet To Be Held

A bass tournament, sponsored by the Snyder Bass Club, will be held at Lake J. B. Thomas Saturday and Sunday, July 26-27. This tourney will be open to anyone who wants to enter, both club members and non-members.

A cash prize will be given to the one who catches the largest bass each day, and a trophy will be awarded to the overall winner.

Registration for the affair will be held each of the two days at Lake Thomas Lodge from 6 a. m. to 1 p.m. The fee will be three dollars for members of the Snyder Bass Club and four dollars for the non-members.

A fish fry will be held Saturday night for all of the participants and their families.

A NEW, IMPORTANT BOOK FOR YOU--

FOOTPRINTS ON THE MOON
An Associated Press Close-to-the-News Documentary

Never again will there be a first landing on the moon.

And never again will there be such a volume as this.

Written by John Barbour, an outstanding journalist who has been helping cover the thrust into space from the start, its 70,000-word text includes much new material and is complemented by more than a hundred of the most dramatic color pictures ever taken.

To make sure that you get your copy of a first edition that doubtless will become a collector's item, you should make your reservation now.

You and your children and your children's children will find it a volume to treasure.

Stock Market Analyst Will Give Slipknot Advice

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Because it was his job to write a weekly letter of stock market advice, a young analyst stared out the window, scratched his head again, and unable to come up with new and scintillating advice, wrote:

"Money is tight, interest rates are high. The Vietnam conflict remains an imponderable, as does the balance of payments problem. It is difficult to foresee any change in Federal Reserve policy. This is a time for caution."

Let us call him Martin Slipknot, not that it sounds like his name but because it suggests his style. Martin knows more slipknots than a sailor. He never gets tied down by what he writes; he always slips out.

He is, naturally, highly regarded for his prose. The deftness with which he weaves his words into convolutions of nothing is widely admired, and his remarks soon are widely circulated.

Not only did other brokers read his views, but the portfolio managers of the big mutual funds and insurance companies and banks read them too. The word was out that a well known analyst was cautious.

The portfolio managers already were a bit worried. They should have been, for some were losing not only their shirts but their trousers too. And so Martin's cautionary advice was the last straw. They sold.

Noting this, Martin observed in his next letter that some of the funds were unloading. "Since they have wide impact," he wrote, "it may be wise to refrain from purchasing until the funds turn more optimistic."

Martin had eaten his own vague advice.

Something of the sort, market authorities now say, may be going on today. The market is unable to forecast outside factors so it has become introspective. It is feeding on its own worries. It is nervous and neurotic.

In this bleak atmosphere everything not clearly bullish is interpreted as strongly hearish. Short-term factors, mainly negative, are magnified; long-term prospects, mostly positive, are ignored. Traders peek over each other's shoulders and do what their neighbor is doing.

This is a rather classic bear market situation and, if the script is followed, could result in a selling climax during which frustrated speculators throw in their stocks, take their losses and make their solemn vows.

But, there is a huge and growing difference between recent bear markets and those of several years ago. The market today is far less one of diverse traders with random thoughts. It is institutionalized. Power is concentrated.

As a result, the spread of negative attitudes can be enormous. It is one thing for ideas to spread from one individual to another, but an entirely different matter when they spread from one institution to another.

Not only do institutions have enormous and growing power when acting solely by themselves, but this impact is magnified when they act together. This can occur merely by reading the same news. It can be more by design also.

Burt Says Actors Are Not Puppets

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Is an actor a mere puppet?

Not in the opinion of Burt Lancaster, the film star millionaire who started his career as a $3-a-week circus acrobat.

"Some American actors think acting is unmanly," he said. "I felt that way myself for years—that I should be doing something else. I don't now. I've found acting is a way to be myself.

"I don't think of myself as an actor in the traditional, conventional sense. Acting has become to me a way of saying what I want to say."

Lancaster, who once aspired to be an opera singer, has been saying pretty much what he wants to say since the age of 3 when, while appearing in a church nativity play, he saw a piece of gum on his shoe and startled the audience by exclaiming, "What the hell is that piece of gum doing there?"

Son of a postal clerk, Burt likes to recall the years when he and five brothers and sisters were reared in an east Harlem walkup railroad flat.

"I came from a family poor in terms of money but not in terms of courage and affection," he said.

"My childhood was a happy one. There was a lot of laughter, joy and love in my family."

Those early years, and later years when he worked around the country in menial jobs ranging from boiler stoker to road gang worker, left Lancaster with a strong sympathy for underdogs—the downtrodden and overlooked people of earth.

"To me life is a commitment," he said. "You have to get involved.

"When whatever talent you have wins you prestige and success—isn't that the American dream?—you can't simply retire to an ivory tower and live there. Your talent owes a responsibility to others. You have to try to help them in some way.

"I always like the advice that Bernard Shaw gave: 'Waste yourself on the ash heap of humanity.' But actually you do something for yourself when you care for others."

Lancaster, who won an Oscar for "Elmer Gantry," likes to make films that carry a powerful social impact. His latest—and 41st—is "Castle Keep," a surrealistic war picture detailing the experiences of a group of GI's during the battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

Some years ago, already laden with honors and loot, Burt thought of quitting the industry, trying a new field. But now, still ruggedly trim at 55, he has shelved that idea.

"All I want to do is to go on as long as I can making films that touch people emotionally and express what I feel about life," he said. "You can't just quit because you are ahead."

Burt and his wife, Norma, a former USO entertainer he met while he was in the Army, were divorced last month. They have five children.

St. Kitts, Nevis, and Anguilla support some 60,000 people scattered on 155 square miles. St. Kitts is the largest (68 square miles) and wealthiest island; Nevis boasts the richest historical past; and tiny Anguilla claims the best beaches.

St. Christopher as St Kitts is formally known, was first visited by Christopher Columbus. It became the site of the first permanent English colony in the Caribbean. Captain Thomas Warner and a small band of settlers landed in 1624, fought off fierce Carib Indians, and cultivated sugarcane on the fertile coastal plains.

Junior Editors Quiz on MYTHOLOGY

QUESTION: What is the connection between Minerva and Athens?

* * *

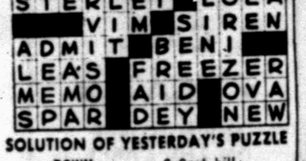

ANSWER: Minerva was an important goddess in ancient mythology. We must remember that the ancient pagan gods and goddesses had little to do with our modern conception of God as being eternally good, just and omnipotent. The old gods were more like human beings, often quarrelsome, spiteful and jealous. Minerva, daughter of Jupiter or Zeus, was the goddess of war and wisdom, also of arts and crafts. A fascinating legend grew up about Minerva. The Greek people had built a wonderful temple, the Acropolis, on a flat topped hill five miles from the Aegean Sea. Nourished by sea trade, a great city grew up near the temple. The legend was that two of the gods, Minerva and the god of the sea, Neptune or Poisodon, held a contest to see who would serve as the special god of the wonderful city. For his gift to the city, Neptune produced the horse. But Minerva produced the olive tree — and the other gods decided this was the most useful gift. Now Minerva's Greek name was Athena. Since she became the special goddess of the city, it was called Athens in her honor.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She is very fat, and I am ashamed of her. She's a good mother, but she weighs more than 200 pounds, and eats everything she wants and plenty of it. I don't see how my daddy can stand her. I don't think he could get his arms around her.

I don't like for my friends to meet her, and I don't want to go out and be seen with her.

What chance do I have to get a boyfriend when he sees HER? I know a girl is supposed to love her mother, but how can I when I don't even respect her?

I have a picture of her before she got fat and she was beautiful. She is only 30. (Sign me) ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Every fat woman is "ashamed" of herself, but losing weigh is strictly a do-it-yourself project. I will print your letter in hopes that your mother sees it, takes the hint, goes to her doctor for a check-up and a diet, latches on to "Tops" or "Weight Watchers" and becomes her "beautiful" self again. Meanwhile, little girl, even tho your mother's appearance may not make you "proud," there are other qualities of equal or greater importance. And troubled by weight, she needs your love more now than when she was slim and beautiful."

DEAR ABBY: Around noon on Saturday a lady called and asked to talk to Tony (my husband) and I said he wasn't home (which he wasn't) and then she asked if he was out of town, I asked her who wanted to know, and she says, "It's none of your business," so I hung up on her.

She called back in about an hour and this time Tony was home, so I just stood there and let him answer her.

All he said was, "I told you not to bother me," then he hung up. I asked him who it was and he said, "Some dizzy dame who works at the plant," but he wouldn't tell me her name. If you were I would you try to find out who she is? And do you think there is some funny business going on? He's always walked a straight line.

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If he always walked a straight line let it go. A man isn't respondble for who calls HIM.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just came back from a week's vacation at his parents'. It was in the high nineties all the time we were there and the nights were unbearable. I was in my eighth month with my third child.

Our bedroom had one small window and the heat was making me sick. I noticed a huge window fan stored in its original box, so since nobody else was using it I asked my father-in-law if we could use it, and he said, "You don't need it. We've had it two years and have used it only twice."

So I spent my nights sitting on the porch trying to breathe. Our oldest child stayed a week after we left, and when he came home he said, "Right after you left, Grandpa hooked up the fan. He told me not to tell you."

My husband is already talking about going back there in the spring after the baby is born, and I refuse to go. Do you blame me?

STUBBORN

DEAR STUBBORN: No! And if I were you I wouldn't go back in the winter either if they're as stingy with the heat as they are with the fan.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Who said, "If I owned Hell and Texas, I'd rent out Texas and live in Hell"?

YELLOW ROSE

DEAR ROSE: P.H. Sheridan said it in a speech at Fort Clark, Tex., in 1855. And I understand the feeling between Texas and Sheridan was mutual.

Ranger To Retire After 50 Years

SAN ANGELO (AP) — After 50 years of work as a peace officer, retired Texas Ranger Ralph Rohatsch is seeking his own peace on the banks of fishing streams.

Rohatsch, 70, recently gathered up the personal effects from his San Angelo office and ended his law enforcement career in Texas.

Born in Wichita Falls, he joined the police department there right after World War I. He learned to fly there and by 1951 had become group commander of the Civil Air Patrol over squadrons from Odessa, Sweetwater, Abilene, Brownwood, Ozona and San Angelo.

In those years he was also moving up the ladder of success in the field of law enforcement. He joined the Texas Highway Department—before the formation of the Department of Public Safety—and was one of the 50 original motorcycle patrolmen.

"The state didn't appropriate enough gasoline allowance for us to use cars," he said. Rohatsch was the first to be promoted to the rank of sergeant in the cycle group.

In 1937 an opening cropped up in the Texas Ranger force and Rohatsch was "temporarily" kept for more than 31 years in posts at San Antonio, Corpus Christi and San Angelo.

The "temporary" ranger worked on or was involved in numerous major cases—including the chase after Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

But Rohatsch is not a one-dimensional man. He was a trainman for Missouri-Kansas Texas Railroad during the 20s and spent some time in the oil fields.

So now that retirement is upon him does he intend to sit back and take it easy? Not exactly.

"There's lots of work I can do with my hands on guns, jewelry, radios and large machinery, too. And of course I'll fish," Rohatsch said.

And how does retirement look to him?

"Looking at retirement from here and getting rid of a lot of pressure—well, it looks great."

VFW Group At Memorial

Several members of Post 8231, Veterans of Foreign Wars, along with District Commander Don Ginbey, attended the memorial service Tuesday at Big Spring in memory of Donald D. Van Meter, deceased, former director of the Veterans Administration Hospital there.

Guest speaker for the memorial service was VFW Department of Texas Senior Vice Commander Clifford T. Teer.

A meditation room, which had just been completed at the hospital, was dedicated. Several months ago, VFW Post 8231 of Snyder and several other area posts united to raise funds for the room, which will be used by visiting relatives and friends while visiting patients at the VA Hospital in Big Spring.

SPEAKER AND EXHIBITS — Capt. Jack E. Mooney is shown with some of the exhibits he will use during addresses here Friday. He is scheduled to speak at a noon luncheon of the Lions Club and at a 7:30 p.m. Americanism program at the high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the American Legion.

War Exhibits Play Role In Army Captain's Address

A Chinese AKC rifle, Punji Spikes, an NVA flag, VC gas mask, exploded hull of an RPG-2 rocket, NVA propaganda and assorted paraphernalia of a North Vietnamese soldier will be used by Capt. Jack E. Mooney when he speaks here Friday at noon to the Lions Club and Friday evening at the high school auditorium at a special Americanism program sponsored by the American Legion.

Capt. Mooney will exhibit articles which he acquired while spending a year with the 2d Bn., 47th Inf. (Mech), 9th Inf. Div. in Vietnam.

Included in Capt. Mooney's collection are "Ho Chi Minh" sandals, V. C. Hammock, V. C. chopsticks and soup spoon, a cook stove and lamp, V. C. lighter, pipes and knives.

These artifacts from the Vietnam War have not been assembled so that Capt. Mooney might someday tell his grandchildren war stories colored by the passing of time, but enhance his talks on Vietnam.

Mooney is a member of the Army National Speakers Program which provides general audiences with an opportunity to hear the first hand experiences and observations of recent Vietnam returnees.

Holder of the nation's third highest award for valor, the Silver Star Medal, two awards of the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device, the Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal with "V" device and two Purple Hearts, Capt. Mooney offers a unique opportunity to see what's happening in Vietnam today.

The former Bryan, Texas native attended Allen Military Academy Junior College at Bryan and Texas A&M University, where he majored in Journalism.

Prior to his entry on active duty he worked as a newsman on several Texas newspapers — The Bryan Daily Eagle, The Beaumont Enterprise, and the Temple Daily Telegram.

His journalistic experiences enable Capt. Mooney to relate his observations on Vietnam in a concise and informative manner.

Capt. Mooney is a member of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism Fraternity and a past member of the Kiwanis Club and Jaycees of Temple, Texas.

Investigation Begins Today On Auto Insurance Rates

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — A special governor's committee begins today an investigation in search of ways to slow down Texas' auto insurance rate spiral.

Gov. Preston Smith, who appointed the nine-member group, scheduled a speech to the group, which he wants to report back to him before Sept. 1.

Chairman is former Gov. Price Daniel, who originally appointed both of the present state Insurance Board members but who fought the insurance companies when he was governor over Hurricane Carla losses.

The governor named the committee shortly after Insurance Board actuaries recommended an average 11.4 per cent increase state wide in private pasenger car insurance rates, effective Sept. 1.

Taken as a whole, the board staff asserted, the 334 companies that wrote car insurance in Texas last year lost $15.9 million on such coverage.

The board staff said a 9.2 per cent rate increase, averaged out over both commercial and private passenger categories and 40 separate rating territories, should put all the companies on a profit-making basis.

But this increase would mean huge windfalls to some giants of the insurance industry—assuming their ratios of accident losses and expenses to premiums stay the same.

Six of the top 10 firms in auto premiums had premium dollars left over after paying their claims and expenses, board records show. The five most profitable companies passed their surpluses on policyholders as dividends.

State farm mutual auto insurance, Allstate Insurance Co., Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., Southern Farm Bureau Casualty, Employers Casualty Co., and Uuited Service Auto Association all had an excess of premiums over costs. Only Hartford reported no dividends.

Last year, the top 10 companies wrote $195.5 million in Texas car insurance earned premiums, more than a third of the $586.5 million total.

Earned premiums are the portion of total premiums that actually go for coverage within the calendar year. If a policyholder paid a $120 premium for a policy that ran from July 1, 1968, to July 1, 1969, only $60 would be counted as earned premiums for 1968.

State Farm and Allstate, a Sears, Roebuck & Co. subsidiary, received 18.5 per cent of the total earned premiums last year, and State Farm's $60.9 million was more than a tenth of the Texas total.

Applying the expense factors furnished by the companies and deducting their reported accident losses, State Farm had a surplus of $9.3 million and Allstate had a $4.4 million excess of premiums over costs and losses.

Traveler and Aetna, the third and fourth ranked companies in total premiums, showed big losses on their Texas car insurance business

Texas law requires rates to be uniform, so customers of profitable companies must pay the same rate increases as those of firms that lost money by writing auto insurance.

Smith has noted that Texas is one of the few states with controlled rates.

If the rates set by the board are not high enough to enable insurance companies to make a profit on auto coverage, why do so many stay in business?

"They say, 'We are just overoptimistic. We think things are going to get better,'" said a board staff member.

Smith asked his committee to investigate the desirability of making all drivers have liability insurance, but board actuaries say this would drive rates even higher.

Some 74.5 per cent of Texas drivers have liability insurance, a board staffer said, and "We know the driving experience, habits and records of the other 24.5 per cent is not as good as those with liability. . . New York and Massachusetts have mandatory liability and the highest rates in the country."

An informed source said the board is thinking about reducing the formula item for such things as agents' commissions in determining rates for collision and comprehensive policies. The present formula allows 25 per cent of premiums for this item. But cutting the formula, the board would cut the size of the collision and comprehensive rate increase—and make a lot of insurance agents mad in the bargain.
