Five Stores In City Wrecked; Six Are Hurt

Many Lives Saved As Fast Warnings Of Danger Given

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 15 — Wild gas exploding in flaming fury wrecked five stores and injured six persons here last night.

Quick warnings before the barrage-like blasts let go, police said, saved many lives.

Four firemen and a policeman, along with a store employe, were hurt.

The explosions shook northwest Detroit for three miles around a business neighborhood at Wyoming and Schoolcraft avenue. Firemen battled gas-fed flames for more than an hour before bringing them under control.

Other Stores Blasted

The first explosion occurred at the Greater Wyoming market shortly after 8 p. m. Witnesses said it sent smoke and flame mushrooming from the one-story brick building.

Then other explosions ripped through four other stores in the same block. They were Tom's grill, the K-John camera shop, Ridley cleaners and the Brighter Homes paint shop.

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. said gas from a high pressure main got out of control as a crew of four company employes were installing a regulator on a line leading into the Greater Wyoming market.

Warning Is Sounded

Gas shot into the building. The gas company workers fled, sounded a warning, turned in a fire alarm and called for an emergency crew. A company spokesman said it had not been determined how the gas was ignited but a small spark was all it took.

Before the gas let go, police halted traffic and warned residents to leave their homes.

Food market clerks and customers were warned to get out. Most of the other business places had closed for the night.

The quick-witted wife of a tavern operator was credited with helping keep down the casualties.

Mrs. Mae Spaulding, 46, was in the tavern near the scene of the blast. Immediately upon smelling gas, she told the customers to clear out and went outside to warn people on the street to flee to safety.

Remembered Other Blast

"I remembered what I read about the Birmingham explosion," she said.

Britain May Have Atom Bomb

Secret Tests In Australia Are Foreseen

Spokesman Admits Nation Is Working On Atomic Weapons

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The London Daily Mirror said today, in an indirect manner, that Britain has developed an atomic bomb which soon may be tested in the secret Australian rocket range.

The Mirror, an independent but anti - Conservative newspaper, hinted but did not say directly that Britain has had the bomb for two years.

A spokesman for the ministry of supply in charge of atomic establishments admitted that Britain is "developing" atomic weapons as part of her arms program but refused to say whether scientists here actually had completed one.

No Test With U. S.

Asked about the Mirror's claim, the spokesman said "we cannot comment. We are forbidden to do so for security reasons." He added significantly however that the Mirror had "just made some deductions from facts well known."

By agreement with the United States and Canada, the Mirror said, Britain will not test its bomb at the forthcoming Eniwetok tests to be conducted by the United States.

"Apart from the American proving ground for atomic weapons, the only other likely place where it could be tried out is the secret Australian rocket range," the Mirror said.

Source Not Given

The Mirror gave no source for its statement that Britain has the bomb but did quote a number of

Protestant Leaders Meet To Map Plans For United Front

(By The Associated Press)

GREENWICH, Conn., Dec. 15—A conference, aimed at drafting a blueprint for a union of American Protestantism, today explored this key question:

What effect would a consolidation of Protestant denominations have on the individual church units?

Delegates and observers representing 19,000,000 churchgoers came to grips with the problem yesterday as the three-day conclave opened on a note of mixed opinion.

Support Is Voiced

Some expressed belief that past efforts at Protestant union had failed because too much autonomy was left to individual denominations.

Forty-five key figures from 14 denominations, as well as consultants from the major interchurch councils, are taking part in the conference, sponsored by seven denominations.

The purpose is to draw up a unity plan to submit to the various denominations for ratification.

Proposal Is Advanced

A tentative proposal, that would not upset local church units, was advanced last night by Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison of Chicago, editor of the "Christian Century."

He suggested that Protestant churches join on national, regional and diocesan levels, with local churches remaining separate as they now are.

The individual churches would not need to merge, he said, "even if there are three or four on the same corner."

Previously, Dr. Mark A. Dawber, co-executive secretary of the Home Missions Council, said such a "cooperative approach" was one of several plans the conference would consider.

This approach, he said, is "to agree upon overall principles" but because of legal entanglements of church organization "to leave the denominations intact."

Another proposal, he said, calls

Father Admits Breaking Child's Arm For Singing Christmas Carols In Bed

ST. LOUIS Dec. 15 (U.P.)—An unemployed father admitted breaking his three-year-old daughter's arm while trying to make her stop singing Christmas carols, police said today.

Jack Payne, 31, told authorities the girl, Rebecca Ann, kept on singing in her bed after he ordered her to "shut up and go to sleep."

Police quoted the father as saying he grabbed the youngster by her forearm, jerked her out of bed and spanked her. He termed the injury to her arm "an accident."

Mrs. Payne said her husband was excitable and worried because he was "unable to do anything for the kids—we've got five—for Christmas."

She denied that he was drunk at the time, but a city hospital physician said he was suffering from acute alcoholism.

KEY LAWMAKER SUPPORTS PLAN

New Rent Control Law Is Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—A key lawmaker predicted today that President Truman will ask, and Congress will approve, a continuation of rent controls beyond the June 30, 1950 expiration date.

The spokesman was Rep. Barratt O'Hara (D-Ill), a member of the House banking committee who is close to the administration.

"The final answer that rent controls must be continued," he told newsmen, "was given by the reimposition of rent ceilings at Hardsburg, Ky., where even a landlord and a banker asked that controls be restored after there had been exorbitant rent increases — running from 10 to 300 percent."

Passage Is Seen

O'Hara said "the situation in Chicago and other large cities would be terrible if controls were dropped."

He made a flat prediction that Congress will continue the rent law, although some other lawmakers close to the White House have voiced doubt that Congress will permit any federal rent controls after June 30.

If there is a continuation the law's effect may be confined in new legislation to rent ceilings only for large cities.

Under the revised rent law enacted earlier this year, legislature may decontrol a whole state and a city government can lift controls in its jurisdiction. The federal rent administrator, Tighe E. Woods, has authority too to take off rent ceilings on his own initiative and with recommendations from local rent boards.

Units Are Decontrolled

About 2,000,000 dwelling units have been decontrolled, leaving about 12,000,000 of the approximately 40,000,000 dwellings in the country still under control.

Four states — Nebraska, Texas, Wisconsin and Alabama — have voted out federal rent controls by action of their legislatures. But Wisconsin worte a state control law, and Alabama's decontrol is

Fog Blankets Plains Areas

The South Plains was given another weather show this morning when a heavy fog bank moved in within a virtual stone's throw of Lubbock, reducing visibility to an eighth of a mile while the city itself remained clear as a bell.

The phenomenon occurred as a 15-degree minimum, the second coldest for the entire year, was recorded at the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport.

Previous lows were 8 degrees last Jan. 30 and 15 degrees last Jan. 31.

Checked By Sun

The fog crept in at 8 a. m. on Reese Air Force base and Carlisle, and as far as Municipal airport on the north, reducing ceiling to zero and visibility to one-eighth mile. It apparently was checked by a beaming sun which rapidly warmed the area from 8:30 a. m. on.

The fog began to disperse at 10 a. m., with patches of blue sky showing through. The fog reportedly extended west and north as far as Eastern New Mexico and Oklahoma. Amarillo was closed in.

Stages Rapid Rise

The mercury staged a rapid rise from the 15-degree low. From the 15-degree mark at 8:30 the temperature rose to 20 degrees at 9:30

No Loss Reported By Southland Store

SOUTHLAND, Dec. 15 (Special) H. W. Taunton, owner, said nothing except, perhaps, cigarets had been taken in a burglary of his Duff's Food store Wednesday night or early today.

Sheriff E. M. Bass was assisted in the investigation by Pete Hubbard, a city detective, and George Hall, both of the Lubbock police department.

Taunton, who moved here in 1940 from Alabama, said a hole was bored in a door next a lock, with a brace and bit. A plateglass display window, he said, had been taped, but not broken.

Train Derailed At Justiceburg

SLATON, Dec. 15 (Special) — Santa Fe division officials here said 37 freight cars derailed at Justiceburg at 12:40 o'clock this morning would be cleared by early this afternoon, enabling a Houston-to-California streamliner to continue through Lubbock.

A broken rail near the Justiceburg station was blamed for derailing the empty boxcars. Approximately 40 cars of the train had passed over the rail before the derailment started.

No One Injured

No one was injured in the derailment. The railroad sent two wreckers to the scene and also obtained two bulldozers from Snyder to push the empty cars to one side and clear a side track to permit passage of rail traffic.

The train, en route from Sweetwater to Slaton, was traveling at 45 miles an hour when the derailment occurred, said Harry Marsh, chief Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton.

Meanwhile, "The California Special," a fast Houston-to-California streamliner which normally passes through Lubbock about 8:45 a. m. was being held at Sweetwater until a departure time that would coincide with completion of the track-clearing. The railroad bought breakfast for passengers.

Excise Tax Repeal Studied, HST Says

(By The Associated Press)

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 15 — President Truman said today that treasury and congressional staff experts are making studies to determine whether war-time excise taxes can be repealed.

In a surprise vacation news conference, the President declined to say whether he will ask new taxes of Congress.

However, he said it was always his aim to balance the budget.

Reminded that he had told a news conference in Washington recently that he knew of no way to wipe out a deficit other than by raising taxes, he was asked if he still felt that way.

Conference Is Surprise

He said the whole matter was under consideration by a treasury committee of experts and by staff experts for the House ways and means committee. He said they were working harmoniously.

Walking into the press room on the Navy's bachelor officers quarters here, the President suddenly went into a press conference on which he gave no advance warning. Some of the reporters were in their pajamas.

A recent statement by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer suggesting elimination of war-time excise taxes to aid business was called to his attention. Asked if he agreed with Sawyer's proposals, he said the question was under consideration by the experts.

The matter will be covered in

Rotary club members donated $212.45 at their annual Goodfellow luncheon Wednesday. The amount included $15 from Bnai Brith, Jewish fraternal order.

With these and other contributions, the Goodfellows now have nearly two-thirds of the $3,000 they need to insure a package on Christmas morning for some 4,000 of the poorer children of the city.

More Names Turned In

Significant of the greater than usual need this year was the report by the Chief Goodfellow that he has about run out of file cards on which the names of children are listed. More are being printed. But the expectation was when the drive started that enough were on hand for needs this year. More names are being turned in than expected.

It has become increasingly important that the full $3,000 be provided. The time is growing short because the campaign is nearing its close. Contributions should be addressed to the Chief Goodfellow in care of The Avalanche-Journal, 1211 Texas avenue.

Also, please use the coupon if you know of children who should be on the Goodfellow's list. They want all the names and will manage in some way to remember them.

Former Grid Star Is Held In Theft

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Leo Jerome Davis, 35, former Wichita Falls high school football star back in 1930 and 1931, was held here today under $10,000 bond in connection with the theft of more than $10,000 in jewelry in California.

Special Agent C. E. Weeks said Davis, who had been employed as a carpenter here under the name of Jim J. Daley, was arrested yesterday.

He was charged before U. S. Commissioner P. A. Lockhart with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Hollywood Actress's Mother, 61, Claimed

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15 (INS) — Mrs. John Brodel, mother of movie actress Joan Leslie, died last night in a private sanitorium. She was 61 years old.

Doctors said the woman, who has been hospitalized for a year, died of arterio sclerosis.

Miss Leslie and two other sisters, Mrs. Joseph Franzali and Mrs. Richard Russom as well as the father, John Brodel, survive.

Entire Family Wiped Out In Burning Home

Transient Workers Had Recently Been On Brownfield Job

(By The Associated Press)

ROTAN, Dec. 15.—Eleven transient farm workers—all members of one family—burned to death near here today when fire destroyed their small home at the edge of a cotton field.

The blackened remains of the four-room home on the C. A. Douthit farm, eight miles northeast of this West Texas town, were found at 9 a. m.

Two hours later, 11 skeletons were counted in the charred ruins.

Six Are Children

The dead included three generations. Six were children. One of the five adults was a 14-year-old girl, married and pregnant.

The position of the skeletons showed the victims died in their sleep, huddled together on the floors of two bedrooms.

Officers said the cause of the fire was unknown but that evidence pointed to a two-burner kerosene cookstove. The stove was in a "damaged condition," they said.

The dead:

Basilio Perez, 75.

His son and daughter-in-law—Manuel Perez, 38 and Mrs. Manuel Perez, 40.

The daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Perez: Alfredo Castillo, 21, and his 14-year-old wife. Officers said she was pregnant.

Other children of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Perez: Juanita, 12; Victoria, 10; Monfe, 8, Jesus, 6; Manuela, 2; and a baby girl about one-year-old whose name was not known.

Identified By Others

The victims were identified by other transient laborers who were working on the farm. While officers investigated workers went about their business of picking cotton nearby.

Pasilio Perez and his family had begun picking cotton only yesterday on the Douthit farm. They arrived here from a Brownfield job. Their home was believed to be at Mercedes, on the Texas-Mexican border.

Rotan is about 50 miles northwest of Abilene.

A field worker, Gardo Trevino, discovered the tragedy when he passed the site of the house this morning and saw the blackened ruins. The house was situated a mile away from any other dwelling.

Skulls Scattered Around

Cosby and Trevino made a quick investigation of the smouldering wreckage and said they saw skulls "scattered all around."

Chanuko To Be Observed Here

Chanuko, the Festival of Lights, will open at sundown today and will close at sundown Dec. 23 and will be observed by members of Congregation Shaareth Israel.

In the Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Congregation Shaareth Israel synagogue at Twenty-third and Ave. Q, children of the religious school will light the Chanuko Menorah, or candelabrum, and assist in reading services. Rabbi Julius Kerman will deliver a sermon on "In the Light of the Menorah."

Occasion Explained

A Chanuko party for children is to be conducted at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the church, with Mrs. Herald Alschuler, Mrs. Elliot Simon and Mrs. Louis Wilk in charge. The children will present a play written by Mrs. Wilk.

Members of the Jewish faith celebrate Chanuko with praise and thanksgiving to God. "During this season, the Jew rededicates himself to his religious faith and by precept and example indoctrinates his children with the principles of religious freedom," according to information prepared by the Commission of Information about Judaism. Songs are sung at evening in Jewish homes and candles are lighted, increasing in number until the candelabrum is ablaze with light by the eighth night.

"This festival of light and rededication calls on all men, regardless of race or color or creed, to unite in creating a world of freedom and peace," according to the commission.

Voting On Cotton Quota Plan Light

Voting was reported expectedly light in Lubbock county this morning in the national cotton marketing quota election.

Officials said they were expecting the heaviest balloting during the afternoon.

Polls are to remain open until 7 p. m. The presiding judge in each polling place is to report the count in his box to his county Production and Marketing administration chief who, in turn, will transmit the figures to Washington.

Walter Y. Wells is the Lubbock county administrator. His office is at 1320 Avenue Q, telephone 8432.

Army Will Discharge Men Before Holiday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP) — The Army has a Christmas present for men eligible for release between Dec. 22 and Jan. 2.

Secretary Gray authorized major commanders today to release such enlisted personnel ten days earlier than scheduled. This will enable them to spend the Christmas holidays with their families.

About 6,000 men will be affected.

CRUEL TREATMENT BY WOMAN'S PARENTS BLAMED

Young Chicago Mother, 22, Found Guilty Of Choking Six-Day-Old Daughter With Diaper

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—A jury last night convicted a young mother of murdering her six day old baby. The judge had blamed the woman's parents for their daughter's plight.

The jury set Mrs. Dorothy Skeoch's penalty at 14 years in prison. Mrs. Skeoch, 22, in a signed confession admitted in evidence at her trial, admitted choking her baby girl to death with a plastic diaper.

The slaying occurred in their southside apartment last Aug. 19.

Just after giving the case to the jury, Criminal Court Judge Julius Miner summoned Mrs. Skeoch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lamujo of Astoria, Ore., before him.

"I have been shocked by the testimony about your treatment of your daughter. No one is more responsible than you for the fact that she is on trial for murder. You should be ashamed of yourself.

"If I had treated a child of mine as you treated yours, I would not forgive myself for the rest of my life. You're cruel. You're unkind. You're miserable."

Defense lawyers contended Mrs. Skeoch was temporarily insane at the time of the slaying. She testified she "couldn't remember" choking the child, Susan Elizabeth, or making the confession.

Her lawyers represented her as despondent—both over her parents' opposition to her marriage, and the fact that her husband, Thomas, 21, had lost his job as a dock worker shortly before the baby

15 Men Killed In Philippines Clash

MANILA, Dec. 15. (AP)—Constabulary headquarters tonight reported 15 men were killed and 64 are missing and presumed dead in an encounter today between government forces and Moro outlaws on Jolo island in the southern Philippines.

A force of 1,000 Moro outlaws under Datu Kamlon were reported defying government forces at the foot of Mt. Luuk on Jolo island.

Constabulary headquarters listed the known dead as 12 enlisted men, a captain and two lieutenants.

Four Persons Hurt In Auto Collision

TYLER, Dec. 15 (AP)—Four persons, including two en route to a funeral, were injured yesterday in a two-car collision near here.

The injured were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hundley of Denton; Daniel Jack Moses, 50, of Tyler and Will Carpenter, 72, of Troup.

The hundleys were going to Henderson to a funeral in an automobile driven by their son, George Hundley, 40, Dallas. He was not hurt seriously.

Suspect Held In Burglary

The inter-state play of criminal investigation, frequently employed by Lubbock officials, netted a suspect in Wednesday's burglary of Arcadia theater, 1213 Ave. H, Lubbock police said this morning.

A big-hatted, levi-and-cowboy-boots-clad man who allegedly paid a Lubbock taxicab driver $31 in nickels and dimes to drive him from Lubbock to Amarillo was held at Oklahoma City pending further description.

Change In Suitcase

Lubbock and Amarillo officials put out radio broadcasts asking arrest of the man for questioning. It was believed he had approximately $100 in "change" in a suitcase he was carrying, it was announced.

I. B. Walker, theater manager, had told officials that $150 in nickels and dimes and a flashlight had been taken from a desk in the theater office.

A burglary warrant will be issued in the case, it was expected.

Released To Colorado

The sheriff's office released to Greeley, Colo., officials Victor Mandez, 21, of Lampassas, who had been arrested four days earlier by Ranger Razz Renfrow and Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank of Lubbock on a charge of removal of mortgaged property, an automobile.

GET LONG-TERM LOANS ON FARMS

Battle-Scarred Texans To Be Aided By Vets Land Program

By GEORGE CHRISTIAN
INS Staff Correspondent

Two battle-scarred Texas war veterans who fought on opposite sides of the globe will be among the first to receive partial compensation from their grateful state this week.

Presley Williams and Henry Lewis are two of some 575 Texans who are scheduled to receive title to farms today under the $25 million Veterans Land program.

The farms they want will be purchased by the state, and they'll have 40 years to pay off the mortgage at a low rate of interest.

Williams and Lewis aren't gentleman farmers. The land they want will be their livelihood, to bloom and prosper by their own toil.

Wounded In Solomons

The 167 acres Williams will own are between Byrum and Hillsboro in Hill county. Williams and his wife, Vivian Marie, settled on the land two years ago as tenants.

Three years before that, Presley Williams stepped on a Japanese land mine on Bougainville, in the Solomons, and was peppered in the chest, neck, eyes and legs by shrapnel and rocks.

Williams spent 14 months in McCloskey General hospital at Temple before he was discharged in September, 1945.

Williams, now 32, thinks his Hill county farm is an ideal spot to spend the rest of his life. It is on an all-weather dirt road, with electricity, telephone and rural mail delivery.

Has Farm Equipment

He owns four milk cows, three yearlings and 200 chickens. Last year he planted 20 acres in corn and got a yield of 21 bushels an acre. This year he put 52 acres in cotton and produced 190 pounds in lint.

In the two years he has rented the farm, Williams has acquired a pickup truck and farm equipment valued at $3,000. He has two barns and a granary. The house he and Vivian occupy is modest, but they are looking toward security and a bright future on soil they can call their own.

The farm Henry Lewis wants is less than 50 miles from the Williams place. It comprises 205 acres three miles north of Walnut Springs, in Bosque county.

Fought In Infantry

Lewis is 33. He served five years in the army and fought through the Italian campaign as a combat infantryman. He landed in Southern France with the 45th Division and was wounded in the shoulder hip and ankle.

A month later he was run over by an enemy vehicle, which broke his collarbone and several ribs.

Lewis believes his hardships during the war have given him the zest to be a successful farmer.

"When I knew the war was over," he says, "I didn't let anything stop me. I was thankful to be in one piece. I feel fit and in good health."

The state will give Henry Lewis a helping hand in his determination to make good. The farm where he'll live, with his wife, Catherine and their eight-year-old daughter, Sharon Kay, is suited both for cultivation and for grazing.

There is a good surface stock tank, a running spring, and 142 acres of good grass. That will give the Lewises all the start they want.

Presley Williams and Henry Lewis will be joined on the first list of farm purchases by scores of other men who fought equally hard and suffered as greatly.

Lost Leg And Eye

James Small, 23, father of a 16-month-old daughter, lost a leg, an eye, and the hearing in one ear when he stepped on a mine during the Rhineland campaign. The farm he wants is in Walker county, near Huntsville.

Robert Erisman, 40, father of three children, was a veterinarian attached to the Chinese army in the Salween river battle. Constant exposure to cold and dampness gave him arthritis. Erisman is operating a dairy farm in Ellis county and wants to own his land with the state's aid.

Will Clear Timber

Rowell Earwood, 30, served in Italy, France and Germany until hospitalized for battle fatigue, malaria and dysentery. His farm is in Collin county, 25 miles northeast of McKinney.

H. M. Streetman, 24, father of two young children, was wounded with the Marines on Okinawa and is still partially disabled. His 50-acre farm is in Houston county.

Odell Cates, 30, father of two, was a medical corpsman in New Guinea and the Philippines and was shot down on Mindanao while giving first aid to a wounded man. The farm he wants, near Lufkin, is heavily-timbered, but he plans to clear it off and restore it to its former productivity.

Those who walk on Delaware's highways at night are required to carry a lighted lantern or a white handkerchief.

Dawson Teachers To Hold Annual Banquet

LAMESA, Dec. 15 (Spl.)—The Dawson County Teachers association will meet here at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the high school cafeteria for their annual banquet.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech, who will speak on "Some Lessons in School Teaching from the Hoover Commission Report." He will point out the need for more personal initiative on the part of the teacher, instead of being dependent upon other agencies.

C. E. Green, superintendent of Dawson school and president of the association, will act as toastmaster for the banquet.

The Lamesa High school band, under the direction of Charles Hoffman, will furnish music for the occassion.

Reservations had been received today from 120 teachers from the five county schools.

Hosts and hostess for the evening will be G. B. Wadzech, Lamesa superintendent, Lamesa principals Abe Holder, G. L. Trice and Miss Hallie Mercer, Miss Bennie Speck and Mrs. R. A. Stuart.

Also attending the meeting will be Roy Boyd, Lubbock County school superintendent.

More Bodies Sought In Swift Plant Ruins; 16 Dead Counted

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Dec. 15 (AP)—Workmen searched through the ruins of the explosion-wrecked Swift & Co. packing plant office building today for additional bodies from yesterday's bomb-like blast which killed 16 persons and injured some 90 others. Nine of the injured were reported in critical condition.

Assistant Fire Chief Clarence Chappelle said he expected to find mechanical equipment, pulled slabs of concrete and twisted steel out of the basement of the five-story brick structure. They worked through the night.

Escaping Gas Blamed

Fire Chief Charles Kuhl, who estimated the damage "at more than $1,000,000," blamed escaping natural gas for the explosion. County authorities said they and city officials probably would join in another probe. Gas mains leading into the building were being checked for leaks.

Sheriff Edwin L. Lunde late last night said the 'main things is to try to get out any who might be alive and to extricate bodies. We naturally are interested in conjunction with other authorities in finding out what caused the blast."

A spokesman for 12 company officials who came here from Chicago by a chartered plane said they were conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the explosion. He said the officials "couldn't even guess' the extent of the damage.

1,000 Persons In Building

The dead included 15 men and a company nurse.

Of the 85 on the injured lists reported by four hospitals, 60 remained hospitalized. Twenty-five were treated and dismissed. Several others were given medical attention on the spot or at their homes.

The blast, one of Sioux City's worst disasters, rocked the big meat packing area shortly before noon yesterday. Most clocks in the razed interior of the office building were stopped at 11:33 a. m. The structure housed offices, some processing operations and a cafeteria.

A company spokesman said about 1,000 persons were in the building at the time of the terrific blast. He said the first concern of officials "is for the employes who have lost their lives, those who have been injured and their families. Everything possible is being done to alleviate the suffering with best medical care and to help our people with their personal problems."

"Dirty" U. S. Cities Hit By Sociologist

That American cities are dull, dirty, and downright ugly was the charge made Wednesday night by Dr. Scott E. Bedford, noted sociologist, who spoke at a dinner of the Knife and Fork club at the Hilton hotel.

"In the development of a beauty interest, the United States lags behind every civilized nation," Dr. Bedford stated, pointing out that this lack of emphasis toward beauty has shown up in the planning of American cities.

Beauty Affects Children

He pointed out that the influence of physical environment is very great in the development of children, who absorb it easily. Because of this, beautiful cities will have a higher degree of useful citizens, he said.

"There are six springs of human interest, and in five of these, health, wealth, knowledge, sociability, and rightness, our interests have been developed and satisfied," stated Dr. Bedford.

"However, the sixth, the beauty interest, is utterly famished, and has been crowded out of existence."

Colored Slides Shown

Dr. Bedford, who has photographed and studied the beauties of many great cities of the world, and has given considerable time to the study of city plinning, showed hand-painted slides of methods employed by cities of the world to enhance their beauty.

Lubbock he called new and clean, and said people here have a wonderful opportunity to develop a beautiful city. He suggested that the type of architecture most fitting to the area would be low and sprawling edifices, symbolic of the broad expansiveness of the Plains.

The most beautiful of the large cities of the United States, according to Dr. Bedford, is Washington. On a world-wide basis, he said he would choose among Paris, Rio de Janiero, and Buenos Aires.

Variety Called Important

He called variety one of the chief characteristics of beauty, and illustrated his point with the slides. He also commented that the inside of a home can be a gift of beauty to the family and to friends. "The outside of the home can be a gift of beauty to the world," he said.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, former president of the club, introduced the speaker. The Rev. A. W. Hall offered the invocation. Dr. A. G. Barsh, club president, presided.

Area Institutions Will Get Turkeys

Approximately 475 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2466 attend 1 a semi-monthly business meeting at the post home Wednesday night.

The members voted to extend holiday greetings to the Lubbock County Old Folks home, Girlstown, U. S. A., and Milams Orphan home by donating a turkey to each institution for Christmas dinner.

The members were urged to pay their poll taxes and it was decided to establish a poll tax sub-station at the home.

It was unanimously proposed and passed to send $100 to the VFW National home in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

W. Earl Creel, post commander, presided.

MARASCHINO DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE
Quick-method recipe

Sift together into a large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. soda, 1½ cups sugar

Add
½ cup Snowdrift, ¼ cup maraschino cherry juice, ½ cup buttermilk

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed"; scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add:
2 eggs
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled

Beat 1 minute, fold in ½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, dusted with flour

Turn into 2 greased 8 layer pans, lined with plain paper. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 35 minutes. Cool and frost with—

FONDANT ICING: Cream 2 tbsp. Snowdrift with 3 tbsp. butter; add ½ tsp. salt. Add alternately 3 cups sifted confectioners sugar with ¼ cup milk or cream. When smooth, add 1 tsp. vanilla. Frost cake. Decorations: 1½ square chocolate, melted; 4 chopped maraschino cherries; make alternate designs with chocolate and bits of cherry (see picture).

See how easy it is to get these superb cakes when you follow Snowdrift's 3-minute mixing method.

You see, Snowdrift is emulsorized to blend all your ingredients smoothly and quickly. Your whole cake batter is mixed in the same bowl—in only 3 minutes. Yes, it's that easy to make a treat like Maraschino Devil's Food Cake—light, rich, and luscious to the last tender crumb!

Mixes QUICK for tender biscuits
Cuts in QUICK for flaky pastry
Fries QUICK for digestible fried foods

Mary Haworth's Mail

Husband's Affair With Wife's Sister Long Ago Poses Problem At Christmas Reunion

DEAR Mary Haworth: About eight years ago my husband had an affair with a sister of mine when she was staying with us. At that time he said he loved her more than he cared for me—but she took it upon herself to leave and we have stayed together since.

My sister went home to my parents and Edward told me later that he was sorry about the whole thing. He said it was all a mistake. I love him and I think he loves me—but the affair leaves a problem in its wake.

My parents will celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary at Christmas and my brother insists that all of us must join in the occasion, but my husband flatly refused to go. It is because of my sister that he won't go. She lives there.

Edward says he will keep the children here and I can go, but the children want to go, and he and I have always been together with the children at Christmas. What should I do? Should I take the children and go without him? Or just stay home, all of us? I would like very much for the whole family to go — and Edward's attitude is very disappointing. Please give me your advice on the problem.

Signed A. C.

SENSE OF SHAME IS COMMENDABLE

DEAR A. C.: All things considered, your complaint seems astonishingly shallow or childish, as if you lacked the range of feeling and understanding that a woman of your experience should have — after weathering the emotional storm that accounts for Edward's flat refusal to face your sister again in the bosom of her assembled family.

It would be my assumption that Edward's balkiness in this instance does him credit, and that it should enhance your regard for him, because it signifies a sense of shame about his affair with your sister—a mistake for which he feels much to blame, even though she may have conspired to promote it. And when a man is thus sensitive to his sins, it means that he has elements of decency in his character.

If Edward could go unblushing, untroubled in mind, with you and the children to a family festival where your sister is sure to be, he would be too hardboiled, too brassy and brutish in nature to be a lovable husband and father. It has been possible for you to stay with him and love him despite the wretched affair because he is humanly sentimental and sensitive to moral principles not grossly animal in nature, as his current anxiety proves.

WELL TO RESPECT MORAL SENSITIVITY

EDWARD'S willingness to help you make any plans for the visit, short of going himself, suggests a spirit of affectionate friendliness in your mutual dealings. Also your report that you've always shared Christmas with him and the children, and your wistful desire to have his company this year too, reflect favorably on the substance of his married behavior.

Thus, since you value his allegience and have a pleasant relationship, I advise against making an issue of his present attitude. I think you will find it a good investment in domestic harmony the year round, to respect his unspoken feelings in this matter. And the fact that you have young children and would have to travel by bus or train in holiday traffic, is a logical sensible excuse for staying home at Christmas time.

However, I am not saying that you personally should relinquish the visit, if you have the poise to go alone as a tribute to your parents, and if the trip can be made in a few hours. If you can arrange to spend Christmas Eve and Christmas morning with your husband and children, and leave Christmas day to reach your parents' home that evening for the celebration, and then start back the following morning, the whole situation would be gracefully handled beyond criticism. Japan Labor Unions Threatening Walkout

TOKYO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Japan's organized workers, seeking pay hikes and year-end bonuses, may stage a 24 hour general strike shortly.

Some 30 unions are ready to participate in the proposed strike.

The Japan Federation of Labor's central executive committee said it may reach a decision on the general strike tomorrow.

In the meantime separate action is being planned by various unions. The Teachers union has slated an unlimited hunger strike beginning Saturday. National Metal Mine workers and seamen plan a strike beginning Friday.

Several members of the National Railway Workers' union refused to resume eating when the central executive committee called off a 90 hour long hunger strike earlier this week.

Bickering Tenants Giving Him Ulcers

Landlord Who Preferred Jail To Paying Fine Changes Mind

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15 (AP)—A landlord who said he preferred jail to paying fines—and empty apartment houses to ulcers—changed his mind today.

John Kurmer readily admitted at a house-rent hearing before Magistrate Jacob Dogole his failure to furnish heat for two third-floor apartment dwellers.

The second-floor apartment is empty, said Kurmer, and the first-floor tenants are moving out. Then he clearly implied it would be fine if the third-floor tenants moved out, too.

Already, Kurmer said, he has retired 10 apartment houses from the rental market for the duration of rent control.

Really Fed Up

"I'm so fed up with being a landlord," he told the magistrate, "I don't care if you put me in jail. I don't want to get ulcers. I can't stand bickering tenants."

Dogole replied by fining Kurmer $100. And assistant city solicitor Earl Cahan told him there would be subsequent $100 fines for every day until the protesting tenants were made cozy and warm.

"Okay," retorted Kurmer, "call the wagon. I won't turn the heat on, and I won't pay the fine.

Said Dogole: "If you've never been down to the county prison, you won't like it. I advise you to pay the fine."

Then Kurmer calmed down. He paid his fine and listened while Dogole told him that he would have to proceed through the federal rent expediter if he wanted to get his tenants to move.

CHRISTMAS HINT FROM TEXAS WOMEN!

FOR THE BEST CHRISTMAS CANDIES YOU EVER MADE, REMEMBER— Only ONE Sugar is Domino-Pure!

"When folks say my Christmas candies taste extra-good, I just tell them why," says Mrs. Earle A. Harrison, 2265 Evalon Street, Beaumont—"Domino Sugar! I wouldn't use anything else for the pure, creamy richness that makes my dainty chocolates, taffy—all my holiday candies taste so extra-good."

Here's What Domino-pure Means to You:
1. Energy 3. More Food Flavor
2. Sweetness 4. Cleanliness
5. Full Value

100% Pure CANE Sugar

"Come Christmas time, we use a lot of sugar," Mrs. Etta Smith, 317½ Frank, Lufkin, says. "And one rule I always follow is to make sure my sugar is Domino-Pure!"

"Mild 'n' smooth.. Sugar-cane Sweet

MY SYRUP'S SMACKIN' GOOD EATIN'!" says Brer Rabbit

SPREAD IT ON:

HOT CAKES, WAFFLES, FRENCH TOAST —to make a good morning better!

CORN BREAD Hot . . . buttered . . . syruped! Watch the family sail in!

HOT BISCUITS Butter 'em—syrup 'em—fall to!

COOK IT IN:

PRALINE COOKIES
Sensationally new...quick...easy!

⅔ cup margarine (or butter)
1 cup sugar
½ cup Brer Rabbit Syrup
2 eggs
½ tsp. vanilla extract
1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ tsp. baking soda
¼ tsp. mace
¼ tsp. salt
1½ to 2 cups coarsely broken pecan or other nut meats.

Slowly melt margarine or butter in saucepan; cool. Add sugar and syrup; mix well. Add eggs and vanilla; beat well. Sift together flour, soda, mace and salt; add to first mixture. Add nut meats; mix well. Drop by scant teaspoonfuls on greased and floured baking sheet 2" apart. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°F., 8-10 minutes. Remove from pan while warm. Cool on rack. Makes about 8 doz.

If plain cookie is desired, omit nuts and vanilla; use 1 teaspoon of cinnamon instead of ¼ teaspoon of mace.

SMALL-FAMILY GINGERBREAD
Best you ever tasted—and so easy!

⅓ cup shortening
½ cup Brer Rabbit Syrup
1 egg
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. ginger
¼ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. salt
½ cup hot water

Slowly melt shortening in saucepan; cool. Add sugar, syrup and egg; beat well. Sift together flour, baking soda, cinnamon, ginger, cloves and salt; add alternately with hot water to first mixture. Line 9¼" x 5¼" x 2¼" greased loaf pan with greased waxed paper; pour in batter. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F., 45 minutes. Cool 5 minutes. Remove from pan.

This syrup gives you real old-plantation flavor . . . plus IRON—needed for good red blood!

Like sweet liquid sunshine on your tongue, Brer Rabbit Syrup is a mouth-watering treat. And the oftener you serve it, the more iron you give your family. Don't forget—they can't get too much iron. Growing children especially!

Stir a tablespoonful of Brer Rabbit Syrup into a glass of milk—for a drink that goes over big . . . even with children who don't like plain milk.

And Boy, but Brer Rabbit Syrup's good poured over ice cream! For sweetening cereal or grapefruit, too!

ATLANTIC HERD TO BE CORRALLED

Goat Roundup On Island May Be Big Job, Even For Texans

By JOHN DAFFRON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARRAMORE ISLAND, Va., Dec. 15—A couple of mounted Texans coursed the desolate thickets and sand dunes of Parramore Island today getting ready for a roundup that may be tough—even for Texans.

They're going after goats—thousands of goats—that frisk on this 10-mile fringe of Virginia in the Atlantic ocean. They're out to round them up, pen them and ship them to Texas.

Few Virginians on the mainland—separated by 15 miles of Chesapeake bay from the eastern shore—know that Parramore has a thriving goat community. But Texas ranchers Percy Roberts of San Angelo and Lewis Smithwick of San Saba got wind of it and made a deal with the owners of the island for the crop of goats.

Goats Multiplied

The owners, Mrs. Jean M. Schmidlapp of Cincinnati and Dr. Carl Schmidlapp of New York, have a waterfowl hunting lodge in the old Coast Guard station—the only building—on the island. They put a few dozen goats on the island 10 or 12 years ago to clean out the undergrowth. The goats nibbled and browsed but they also multiplied.

Distances being a minor consideration to Texans, Roberts and Smithwick dispatched Joe Whitehead and Cliff Clary 3,000 miles to Virginia for the goat roundup. The men arrived with three cow ponies and material for fencing and penning.

After a preliminary cruise over the 15 square miles of desolation to the accompaniment of the lonely wash of the sea and the occasional bleat of an alarmed goat, Whitehead offered this observation:

"Bad."

Could Be Worse

But, added his companion from the land where seldom is heard a discouraging word:

"We've got 'em out of worst places than this."

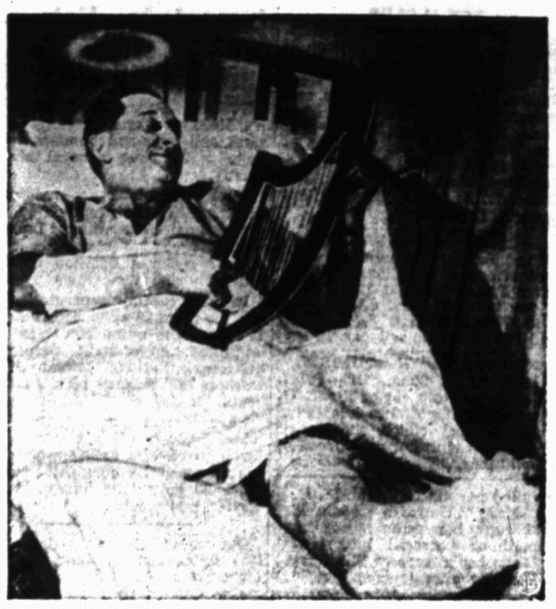

The cowboys said they would ask the folks at home to send along three herd dogs to keep the goats in line and dig out any tough cases.

If they can do the job with the aid of the dogs and more roundup hands early next month, the goats will be ferried over the salt marshes at high tide to the eastern shore. Thence, by train, they will be shipped to Texas. Roberts and Smithwick supply them for growing serums and vaccines, among other things.

How many goats they will get is a point in question. Some eastern shore people say not more than 2,500. Others say probably 7,000.

The goats, shy and agile, stay in the trickets and decline to be counted.

Ecuador now estimates results of its recent earthquake at 6,000 dead, 100,000 homeless and damages running over 7,400,000.

Protein Ointment For Burns Developed By Detroit Doctor

DETROIT, Dec. 15. (AP)—A protein ointment for burns developed by a Detroit physician was reported today to have been used successfully on 500 patients at Children's hospital here.

The ointment is called "Epithene" and is a product of the Wilson laboratories in Chicago. Its discovery was reported to the medical profession about seven years ago and since then it has been used in clinical tests here.

Success Is Reported

Dr. C. H. Chase, who developed it, said he expected it to become more widely used as result of successful use here. He himself has used it with good results in industrial cases here, he said.

Dr. C. N. Weller, a member of the Wayne university medical college faculty, said the ointment had been found excellent for treating the burns of children. He carried out tests at Children's hospital.

The raw material for the ointment is taken from freshly killed beef. The aorta, a large artery near the heart of the animal, contains the healing ingredients, Dr. Chase discovered in research that he started 13 years ago.

Advantages Are Claimed

These advantages are claimed for the ointment:

It does not kill tissue; it helps a scab to form; favors the growth of new skin; stops the loss of body fluid; eliminates the need for bandages in many cases; it can be removed easily so skin may be grafted if necessary; it can be used as a medium for penicillin and sulfa drugs; any infection can be observed and treated quickly.

German, U. S. Youths To Exchange Flights

HANNOVER, Germany, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—German youth leaders, meeting in Goslar, enthusiastically welcomed an idea from America for a flying exchange of youthful visitors next year.

Richard Schlemann, chairman of the meeting, told the leaders that Monroe Smith, founder of the American youth hostel system, had arranged for the conversion of eight American Air Force bombers into "flying youth hostels."

Schlemann said it was planned to shuttle the planes between New York and Frankfurt, Germany, to bring American students to Germany and German students to the United States. The charge for the flight, he said, would be about one-half of an ocean passage.

Triple Wedding Has Confusion Of Names

ST. LOUIS, Prince Edward Is., Dec. 15 (U.P.)—If theire was some confusion in a wedding here, it could be blamed on a double coincidence in a triple wedding.

Doris Boudreau married Alphonse Perry, and Lorraine Boudreau married Aubin Perry. They are sets of sisters and brothers.

At the same time a third couple was married, Lorraine Allain to Joseph Boudreau. Boudreau is a brother of the sister-brides.

HIGH RUSSIAN VISITS BERLIN

German Communists Honoring Vishinsky With Receptions

BERLIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—East Berlin gave its rubble-scarred face a hasty polish today and flags flew as German Communists honored visiting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

Vishinsky stopped off yesterday on his way to Moscow from the recent U. N. feneral assembly session in the U. S.

When Vishinsky arrived, the Soviet-licensed news agency ADN reported, he promptly paid a visit to the bedside of Otto Grotewohl, prime minister of the Soviet-sponsored East German republic. Grotewohl is in a hospital for treatment of what East German officials described as a slight case of influenza.

Gala Reception Slated

West German newspapers had reported Grotewohl has lost favor in the Soviet eyes and hinted he was suffering a "political illness."

The Russians who occupy East Berlin prepared a gala reception tonight to which western allied representatives have been invited. The Russians held a private reception for Vishinsky last night, with only representatives of the Soviet's eastern European Satellites as guests.

West's Policy Assailed

At a news conference for eastern German journalists yesterday, Vishinsky attacked the west's policy in western Germany and hailed friendship between the Soviet Union and East Germans.

His visit, however, had a mixture of mystery and pomp. East zone government officials would not give out his schedule or say when he would leave for Moscow. Unofficial reports said he would leave by plane Friday.

In the west zone only the British-controlled newspaper Die Welt speculated on Vishinsky's reason for stopping over. It commented his arrival marks the "beginning of important changes in the policy of the East German regime."

Club Selects Judges Of Tech Stock Show

Judges have been selected by the Texas Tech Block and Bridle club for the Little International stock show to be held on the campus Jan. 11, Prof. Ray C. Mowery of the animal husbandry department announced Wednesday.

Approximately 60 entries from animals on the Tech farm will be judged in five divisions at the show. Students will groom and show the animals in divisions of beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

Buddy Winters, Lamesa, will judge beef cattle entries; W. J. Krueger, Clifton, dairy cattle; W. G. Rogers, Lubbock, horses; J. H. Heath, Tokio, sheep; and Bobby Fee, Colorado City, swine.

The January show will be the second annual Little International held on the Tech campus. Judging will take place in the livestock judging pavilion and students showing animals will be seniors majoring in animal husbandry.

Lubbock Men Attend Car Preview Showing

Carl Tollin, sales manager; Mel Tudor, salesman; and C. M. Dickinson, owner, of the Dickinson Motor Company, left today for Oklahoma City where they will attend a dealer preview of the new 1950 Dodge cars Friday.

The preview will show the new cars to dealers of the Oklahoma City division of the Dodge Motor Company and dealers are to attend from, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The new cars will be unveiled at a luncheon Friday noon.

No public showing date for the new cars has been announced but it is expected to be scheduled sometime during January.

Sabinal Judge Named To Court Of Appeals

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—Judge C. G. Krueger resigned today as a commissioner of the court of criminal appeals and Judge Kenneth K. Woodley of Sabinal was named to succeed him.

The resignation and appointment, both effective Jan. 1, were announced by Presiding Judge F. L. Hawkins of the court of criminal appeals.

Krueger has served on the commission of appeals since July 6, 1933. He said he had no immediate plans except "to do some loafing."

Woodley has been judge of the 38th judicial district for 13 years. For ten years he was district attorney.

Writer Lists Books Suitable For Gifts For Notables Of Government And World

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—Thinking of giving someone a book for Christmas?

It is a problem, isn't it? So much depends on the choice you make. For in the task of selection you are judging the one you give the book)—and you are judging yourself.

Every year Santa Claus gets in a blue funk over what books to give famous people.

To help Saint Nick out of his annual quandary we compile a tentative list of books to give to the big and little folks on his Christmas rollcall, here's the 1949 list—and maybe it has a few ideas for you too:

The Passionate Journey—Vice President Barkley.

A Guide to Confident Living—Harry S. Truman.

The Shaggy Man of Oz—John L. Lewis.

South Carolina Bird Life — Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Growing Roses—"Cactus Jack" Garner.

It's Fun to Retire—Herbert Hoover.

What Every One Should Know About the Law—Ex-Rep. Andrew Jackson May of Kentucky.

Some Problems in Federal Taxation—Ex-Rep. J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey.

The Show Must Go On—Ingrid Bergman.

Horses: Their Selection, Care and Handling—U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

And So Farewell—Chiang Kai-Shek.

I Hear You Calling Me—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Texas 4-H Girl Has Bumper Tomato Crop

CLEBURNE, Dec. 15. (U.P.)—If Johnson county farmers needed any pointers today on how to raise a bumper crop of tomatoes, all they had to do was to look up Elizabeth Jones, a 4-H club girl living on Route 2.

Miss Jones gathered 42 pounds of tomatoes off one vine she planted last spring. The vine didn't produce during the spring, but weathered the hot summer months to bear in December.

Borger Trounces Westerner Quint, 49-28

Bulldogs Keep Unbeaten Mark

BORGER, Dec. 15 (Special)—Accuracy from afield and too many gift shots decided the non-conference basketball game here last night between Lubbock's Westerners and the Borger Bulldogs, with Borger taking the victory, 49-28.

The work of Bulldog Center Keith Lane and Forward Thomas (Red) Hooper left little to be desired, each getting 17 points to share scoring honors.

Held down in the first half by the Hub City quintet, Borger caught fire in the second half and began hitting shots from all over the court while the defense repeatedly took the ball away from Lubbock players.

Halftime score was 22-17, with Borger owning the advantage. A low-scoring third quarter saw the Bulldogs score but six points while Lubbock was tallying five, but then the barrage of Bulldogs shots began hitting the bucket for 21 points in the final stanza to complete the rout and leave the Lubbock team limp.

Center Jim Wilson led the Lubbock attack, consistently outjumping Borger's Lane, scoring nine points. Forward Jimmy Sexton had six points, made on one field goal and four of Lubbock's six successful free throws.

The loss was the first for Coach David Cook's Westerner quintet after five previous victories. Tex Hanna's Bulldog five came through its 11th game without defeat.

The work of the Borger team drew praise from the young Lubbock cage coach, being mentioned for possible state honors.

Lubbock took an early lead in the contest, with Sexton sinking a field goal after the opening jump, and the Westerners pushed the advantage to 9-5 before Hooper took command, pitching in two free throws and then coming through with two field goals in quick succession to give the Bulldogs an 11-9 quarter lead.

The visitors took the lead again in the second quarter, 13-12, and Wilson was taken from the game as protection because of three fouls, not entering again until after the half.

Wilson's replacement, Walter Norton, rangy junior, helped the Lubbock cause with a nice hook shot, sending Lubbock ahead, 17-14, for its largest second quarter lead. But before the half ended Borger burst out in front again, scoring eight points while holding the Westerners scoreless.

The Bulldogs simply outplayed their opponents for the remaining half of the game, making 27 points to only 11 for Lubbock. Hooper hit from all angles and was a defensive standout.

Free throws definitely hurt Lubbock, the Bulldogs scoring 19 points from the free throw line. The Westerners made but six on foul shots.

BERTOLINO ARRIVES IN CITY

Lengthy Workouts Held By Fighters

Eddie Bertolino and Bill Henderson, who meet Monday night at Chapman fieldhouse for the Texas lightweight boxing championship, today began tapering off slightly as they prepared for their title go.

Bertolino, who arrived yesterday by train from Galveston, and Henderson went through rugged contact sessions Wednesday at City Club gym.

Bertolino, a trimly built youngster of 21, was quite impressive as he sparred two three-minute rounds with Leonard Duncan, a middleweight, at City Club gym. Although outweighed by approximately 30 pounds, Bertolino swapped punches freely, connecting repeatedly with a flashing left jab and a straight right cross. He also weathered some of Duncan's heavy artillery, and displayed some fine footwork in the brief session.

The Galveston youth, who has won approximately 50 of 55 fights in his five years of pro campaigning, appeared to be in good condition, although he said he felt "a little sluggish." His trainer, Louis Massoni, opined that the change from Galveston's sea-level altitude to Lubbock's 3,200-foot elevation possibly had affected Bertolino slightly.

A few minutes after Bertolino finished his workout, Henderson climbed into the same ring for a brisk sparring match. The Levelland lightweight seemingly was near top form, although an ear injury suffered in a recent bout has not completely healed.

All indications point to a slambang battle when Bertolino and Henderson get together. With the state lightweight throne now vacant, this match between the No. 1 and No. 5 contenders has been sanctioned as a championship affair, over the 15-round route.

Belt For Winner

Although outranked by Bertolino in the official state listings, Henderson is a 6-5 betting favorite over the Galvestonian. The Levelland ace has won 29 of 31 pro bouts, having lost only two to Frenchman Jean Mougin, and local fight fans apparently think he is ready to take over the championship chair.

Promoter Edd Sides announced Wednesday that Monday night's winner will be awarded a sterling silver championship belt immediately after the fight.

Sides said ticket sales slowed somewhat Wednesday, but that he anticipated a full house for the title scrap. Ducats, priced at $4 ringside, $3 reserved and $2 general admission, are on sale daily at Hub clothiers, Tech drug and City Club gym.

Duncan Vs. Amado

Three preliminary bouts will round out the Monday night program. In the six-round semifinal, Leonard Duncan will square off with El Paso's Young Amado in a "rubber match." In two previous bouts, each has scored one victory. Duncan's loss to Amado, incidentally, is the only blot on his nine-fight professional record.

In four-round events, Juan Herrera of El Paso will meet Enrique Morales, San Antonio, in a featherweight go, and Joe Chaplin, Shreveport, will face Jimmy Moreland, Lubbock, in a welterweight scrap.

Bowl Tickets On Sale Here

Persons planning to attend the Raisin Bowl game in Fresno, Calif., on Dec. 31 have plenty of time left to get tickets, with sales continuing until late next week, Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, has announced.

But Jennings advises all persons planning to witness the bowl tilt between Texas Tech and San Jose to get their tickets as early as possible. Indications are that numerous fans will make the trip. Tickets sell at $4.80 each.

The Red Raiders will go by train, leaving Lubbock on Wednesday morning, Dec. 28, and arriving back home Jan. 4.

Space on special pullmans assigned to Tech is still available and may be secured by contacting the Santa Fe railroad ticket office, Jimmie Wilson, Tech business manager of athletics, advised. Fare to Fresno and back will be $66.72 by coach, $99.19 in the pullman. Lower berths will cost $14.09 and uppers $10.75.

The Tech team will retain control of its pullman cars throughout its stay in California, including a stop in Los Angeles for the Rose Bowl game.

Jennings has been notified by Raisin Bowl officials that no more Rose Bowl seats are available at regular prices. It was suggested that Tech fans witness the Pageant of Roses during the morning and watch the Rose Bowl game by television in the afternoon.

Anton Independent Meet Set Dec. 28

ANTON, Dec. 15 (Special)—The annual Anton American Legion Invitational tournament for independent basketball teams will be held Dec. 28-31.

The Anton tourney, a top favorite with South Plains independent teams in recent years, will offer cash team prizes of $65, $35 and $15 for the three top winners.

Pat Byrum, tournament manager, said this week that a large field is expected to compete for the crown won last year by the Idalou Blue Flame quintet. Last year the tourney drew 18 teams.

The team entry fee is $10, Byrum said. Entries will be accepted until this year's bracket is completed.

Bowling Results

League-leading Household Supply suffered a rude jolt from the Stanolind bowling team Wednesday night in Business league play, losing two of three games.

An 80-point handicap turned the trick for Stanolind, with their highest series being 173-453 by E. Riggs. J. Buckner's 202-528 was high for the Householders.

West Texas Gas advanced a game on the leaders, beating Dahlson Furniture in two of three games. Best efforts of the Gassers was Terry's 477 series, and C. Cunningham bettered that for the Dahlson team with a 180-505 total.

Mark Halsey Drug took two from Hub Laundry, and Peeples had the largest share in the victory with a 198-490 series. Doug Mitchener rolled 466 for Hub's high.

Sears defeated Reeves Insurance in two of the three games. Top Kegler for Sears was H. Wright with a 457 series, and Bean took high individual honors of the night in behalf of Reeves Insurance, getting a 188-529 three-game total.

Doak Walker Still Undecided On Pros

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Only one member of the 1949 college All-America — Jim Martin, the big Notre Dame tackle—is dead set on carrying on in professional football.

Four of the honored squad insist they definitely won't play for money while the other six are doubtful, their enthusiasm chilled by the recent merger of the two major pro circuits.

"It looks like the quick and easy money is gone," wailed Clayton Tonnemaker, the 245-pound center from Minnesota.

Sharing the "undecided" fence with Tonnemaker are Leon Hart, the Notre Dame end; his teammater, Fullback Emil Sitko; Halfback Doak Walker of Southern Methodist; and those two great guards, Rod Franz of California and John Schweder of Pennsylvania.

District 4-B Schedule Set

The 1950 grid schedule of District 4-B today was complete, after Wednesday night's district organizational meeting in the office of Roy Boyd, Lubbock county school superintendent.

Merle Walker, Idalou superintendent, was elected chairman of the district, with Coach W. L. Johnson of Idalou as secretary.

Teams in the new district, which will begin operation next year, are Idalou, Whitharral, Anton, New Deal, Petersburg, Hale Center and Spade.

Whitharral, Anton, Hale Center and Spade last season were in District 3-B.

Sept. 29—Spade at Idalou; Petersburg at Anton.

Oct. 6—Anton at Spade; Petersburg at New Deal; Hale Center at Whitharral.

Oct. 13—New Deal at Spade; Whitharral at Petersburg; Idalou at Hale Center.

Oct. 20—Spade at Hale Center; Whitharral at Idalou; New Deal at Anton.

Oct. 27—Idalou at Petersburg; Spade at Whitharral; Hale Center at New Deal.

Nov. 3—New Deal at Idalou; Petersburg at Spade; Anton at Hale Center.

Nov. 10—Whitharral at New Deal; Idalou at Anton; Hale Center at Petersburg.

Nov. 17—Anton at Whitharral.

Morton, O'Donnell Open Cage Tourney

LEVELLAND, Dec 15. (Special)—Play gets underway at 7 o'clock tonight in the Levelland High school basketball tournament, with Morton and O'Donnell meeting in the initial contest.

Only eight teams now remain in the tournament, following the withdrawal of Littlefield and Levelland "B" team.

Other games tonight are Levelland and Seagraves at 8 o'clock and Muleshoe and Sundown at 9 o'clock.

Finals in the tourney will be played Saturday in both consolation and championship brackets. Trophies go to the top three teams, and the five all-tournament players will be awarded miniature golden basketball.

Browns Will Collect $100,000 In Sale Of Priddy To Detroit

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Baseball's biggest transaction in years—the New York-Boston deal that involved upwards of a half million dollars in talent—had buzzing bystanders asking today:

"Who got the better of the trade, the Giants or the Braves?"

In a spectacular 11th-hour swap, the Braves sent their double play combination of Shortstop Alvin Dark and Second Baseman Eddie Stanky to the Giants in exchange for Outfielders Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall, Shortstop Buddy Kerr and Pitcher Sam Webb.

This swap easily overshadowed three other big league trades, the most important of which sent St. Louis Second Baseman Gerry Priddy to Detroit for $100,000. The Browns acquired Pitcher Lou Kretlow in addition to the huge bundle of cash.

Browns Get Cash

Priddy's sale added more than $200,000 to the Browns' exchequer, since late Tuesday night the club collected in excess of $100,000 plus four players from the Philadelphia Athletics for its star Third Baseman Bob Dillenger.

In a couple of other deals the Athletics traded Third Baseman Hank Majeski to the Chicago White Sox for relief Pitcher Ed Klieman, and the St. Louis Cardinals re-acquired Outfielder Harry Walker in exchange for flychaser Ron Northy and utility Infielder Lou Klein. The Cards are to get another player, from the minors, at a future date.

Lovers of power and punch are of the belief that the Braves got much the better of the big National league deal. They point out that in giving up Gordon and Marshall the Giants sent a pair of sluggers who hit 38 home runs between them in 1949 for a pair who collected only four. Gordon blasted 26 round trippers, Marshall 12, Dark three and Stanky one. Herr had none.

Giants Given Edge

Advocates of the fast-fielding heady hit-and-run type of athlete think the Giants got the edge. They point out that despite the 169 home runs hit by the Gordon-Marshall duo during their five years with the club the Giants could finish no higher than third. Three times they finished in the second division.

On the other hand, the Braves won a pennant and finished fourth in the last two years that Stanky and Dark played with them

Actually the deal appears certain to help both clubs. Each unloaded a pair of unwanted athletes. The only reluctance involved was Giant Manager Leo Durocher's surrender of Gordon.

Eight Braves Sold

Dark and Stanky were ringleaders of the anti-Southworth clique that voted Manager Billy Southworth a half-share of Boston's fourth place World Series money last October.

Since the season's close, eight of the dissension-shot Braves have been disposed of—many of them malcontents. The eight are: Jeff Heath, Bill Voiselle, Marv Rickert, Bill Salkeld, Nelson Potter, Red Barrett, Dark and Stanky.

Durocher certainly will shed no tears over the departure of Kerr and Marshall—and vice versa. The fiery Giant skipper has maintained since practically the first day he took over the club that the hard-hitting rightfielder and classy fielding shortstop were not his type of ball players.

Playoff Tilts Slated Friday

(By The Associated Press)

Texas schoolboy football reaches the last lap along the autumn trail this weekend.

Port Arthur Favored

Mighty Port Arthur, the Class AA championship favorite, plays Austin's determined Maroons at Port Arthur tomorrow afternoon. Port Arthur is given odds off 11 points.

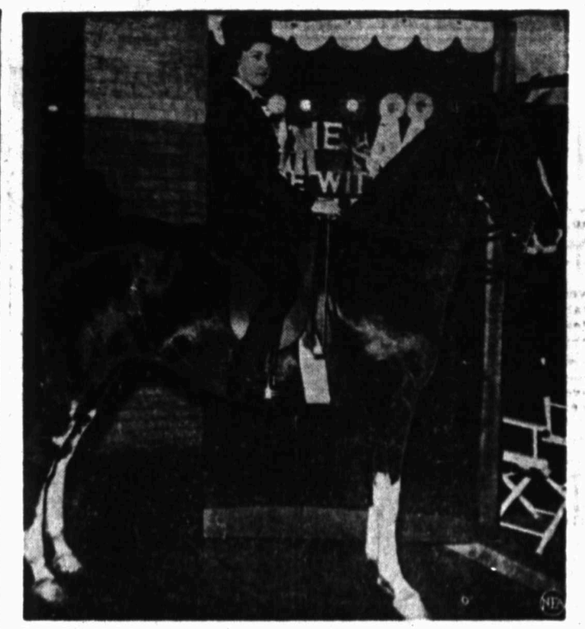

Saturday afternoon, Wichita Falls, like Port Arthur unbeaten and untied, tackles fast-moving Highland Park of Dallas at Wichita Falls. Wichita Falls is a seven-point favorite. That's how many points Wichita Falls beat Highland Park when the teams met in midseason.

Littlefield Is Picked

In Class A, both semi-final games will be played tomorrow. Littlefield, a solid favorite, takes on Garland, the team that has hooked up in three ties and won them all on penetrations, at Vernon, Mexia, the team picked for the championship, engages dark-horse Uvalde at Austin. Mexia and Uvalde are the only undefeated teams left in Class A.

It's old stuff for Wichita Falls, Highland Park, Austin and Port Arthur to be fighting for a state title, all being former champions. But in Class A the teams are newcomers to title play.

Neither of last year's champions is around Monahans, the Class A king, and Waco, the Class AA winner, both were eliminated in district strife

McMurry Coach Wilford Moore Speaks At Banquet Honoring Petersburg Gridders

PETERSBURG, Dec. 15 (Special) — Coach Wilford Moore of McMurry college was featured speaker at the annual banquet honoring members of the Petersburg High football squad last night.

Moore was accompanied by three stars of his Texas conference championship eleven, Brad Rowland, Lester Cowan and Co-Capt. Elmo Cumming.

The banquet, held in the American Legion hall, was sponsored by the Petersburg Football Mothers association.

Lettermen on Coach Joe King's Petersburg squad, which won five and lost five in the 1949 season, were listed as Capt. Hal Hegi, Paul Main, Kenneth Meadows, Laural Brunson, Gene Briggs, Buddy Saffle, Tommy Randolph, Gene Martin, Johnny Smith, Herbert Welch, J. W. Marr, Frankie McDaniel, Charles May, Kenneth Reagan, John McCasalin, and Robert Fullingim. Eight Buffalo squadmen also were honored. Of the entire group, all except four have at least another year of grid eligibility remaining, King said.

Petersburg will compete in District 4-B next season.

San Angelo Cagers Meet Red Raiders

An unscheduled basketball game will be played here Monday night, when Checker Cab team of San Angelo meets Texas Tech.

The Cabbers were formerly known as Ellis parts and have a squad composed largely of former college players. A return game is booked for Dec. 28 in San Angelo.

Opening the basketball activities will be a game between Tech freshmen and the freshmen of Wayland college.

..Borger's Gassers recently signed a contract which should assure the West Texas-New Mexico league baseball team of easier sledding in the 1950 flag race.

A working agreement for one year has been signed with the Oklahoma City Indians of the Texas league, at the end of which time the contract may be renewed. The tie-up also assures help from the Cleveland Indians of the American league as far as players are concerned.

Gasser President D. M. Spector and Eddie Carnett, business manager, are well pleased with the agreement, which promises to give the Indian organization first opportunity to purchase any Borger Gasser in exchange for young, hustling players. And young players is the by-word in Borger for next year.

A new manager may be signed by the Borger club at any time, with the prospect definitely being considered. Announcement may come any day.

Any help received from Oklahoma and Cleveland would certainly be of importance to the Gassers, who last year finished in the seventh spot in the WT-NM league standings, winning 63 games and losing 75.

Released from the 1949 club, or traded, are Verdun Gilchrist, second baseman; Clyde Bell, outfielder; Gordon Nell; Bob Ferguson, outfielder; and Pitchers Elton Davis, Hugh King and Jack Venable.

Professionalism has reared its ugly head in the Big Ten conference, but an investigation by former G-men failed to produce any evidence to prove that the football players were anything but amateurs.

The investigations were made of players with "jobs" who were suspected of just being on the payrolls of various government offices, but as it turned out the players, numbering about 12 each at Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, among others, were doing their time at their respective jobs and earning their money honestly, rather than from football ability only

Even at schools in the Southwest conference, and probably the Border loop and all others, it is a well-known fact that players do receive pay for performing duties at one form of business or another while in school, with pay usually good, but limited, for the number of hours put in.

Avery Brundage, erstwhile president of the American Olympic committee, would have any athlete taking a scholarship to a school considered as a professional and barred from Olympic competition. Mr. Brundage should go soak his head!

Which reminds me of the story of Senator Peppy Blount, University of Texas press-snagging specialist, who played basketball during the war years for Texas.

Last season when the fortunes of the Longhorn cagers was very low, Coach Jack Gray beckoned for the state senator to don his basketball togs, in hopes that his height would aid the team.

But Peppy was never able to play, being prohibited from doing so for fear of violating the Sanity (?) Code since the Legislature was in session and Peppy was drawing money for his capitol job.

This one interpretation may have helped Texas more than it would had Senator Blount been allowed to play.

Lubbock cagers suffered their first defeat of the 1949-50 season last night in Borger by a wide, 49-28 margin.

The defeat was the first for their coach, David Cook, in his high school coaching career, and he has been "sweating out" his first loss since the season opened.

But every team is bound to lose a game now and then, and it is very probable that the Westerners will suffer several more losses before the season is completed.

The five victories were over teams that were weak in every department, and in Borger the Lubbock team ran up against a squad that has been working together longer and has had more game experience, therefore better able to function smoothly.

But in the books of this writer, the local squad is number one for district honors, and maybe by the time the two teams meet again (Jan. 7) the Westerners will be in high gear. We'll have to wait and see.

Five basketball tournaments get underway in the area today, with action slated at Cooper, Levelland, New Deal, Smyer and Three Way. Plainview is host to teams starting Friday. After seeing Eddie Bertilino work out Wednesday at City Club gym, we are convinced that Bill Henderson has his hands full when the two meet for the Texas Lightweight crown next Monday at Chapman field . . . Still no word from Joe Kelly, who by now should be having daily snowball fights with his daughter . . . This corner is pleased more than somewhat by the compromise down at Baylor which means that Coach Bob Woodruff will be back with the Baptists next season . . . Have learned that an Amarillo sports writer, a most ardent Sandie follower and Lubbock debunker, is confined to his quarters with a reported case of mumps—and at his age! Could be his second childhood. Or did he ever graduate from his first?

Annual Cage Meet At Three Way Opens

MAPLE, Dec. 15 (Special)—The annual Three Way boys and girls invitational basketball tournaments open tonight.

Tourney finals are scheduled for Saturday night.

Tonight's docket lists Three Way vs. Morton in a 7 p. m. boys game, Lazbuddy vs. Sudan in a boys tilt, and Lazbuddy vs. Bula in a girls contest.

Friday night it will be Three Way vs. Morton and Whiteface vs. Bula in the girls bracket, and Whiteface vs. the Sudan "B" squad in the boys division.

Overhull Gets Bout Victory

A large crowd of wrestling fans was treated to a change in menu last night at Sled Allen's arena, with two matches being clean and scientific and the third being the usual brawl.

Headlining the card was the ferocious battle between Alex Kasaboski and George Overhull in a grudge bout, with Overhull winnine when Kasaboski was disqualified in the second fall after Overhull won the first.

The two roughies used nearly every trick known in the game while the bout lasted, and it took 28 minutes of hard fighting before Overhull was able to pin the wily Kasaboski in the first fall.

In the second set-to Kasaboski was forced to break a hold by Referee Jack Pappenheim, and after doing so took a swing at the referee knocking him to the canvas.

Pappenheim immediately awarded the fall and the bout to Overhull, following which a free-for-all took place in the ring between the three men.

A bit calmer and more of a wrestling exhibition was the first main event between Herb Parks and Andy Tremain, the struggle going to a draw after each had won a fall.

Parks got the early jump on Tremain, winning the first fall after 25 minutes of hold-swapping with a combination face lock and cradle split.

The remaining 13 minutes was a stalemate, with each getting a good hand from the crowd at the finish.

Another draw was seen in the preliminary bout between Gene Blackley and Gust Johnson. The 20 minutes was filled with action, but neither could pin the other for the necessary count.

Four Games Slated At Boys Club Today

Four games are on tap at Boys club today, with the Stampeders vs. Buffaloes, Maulers vs. Mustangs; Raiders vs. Alley Rats; and Hornets vs. Fungus Five.

In a very close game Wednesday, the Boys club Sorry Lot quintet lost to J. T. Hutchinson Junior High, 21-24, after leading at halftime, 13-12.

With Buddy Hill scoring 15 points, the Hutchinson team took over at the end of the third quarter, 16-14, and were never headed. Bobby Tollison garnered nine for the losers.

In a Midget league game Five Angels dropped Galloping Ghosts 28-14, as Jimmy House tallied 13 pointers. Maxwell Noland had six for the Ghosts.

A low-scoring Pee Wee game saw the Wildcats blank the Stampeders, 6-0, with Kenneth Marmaduke scoring four points for the Wildcats. The tilt was a comeback reversal of form from Wednesday's game which saw the highest score of the year in the

Barnhill Decision Is Awaited By SWC

WACO, Dec. 15 (AP)——It's up to Arkansas—or rather Athletic Director John Barnhill of Arkansas—whether the Southwest conference starts the 1950 football season with the same array of head coaches.

Baylor settled its problem yesterday as Bob Woodruff decided to withdraw his resignation and continue as head coach. The day before Texas Christian had retained Leo (Dutch) Meyer, who had expected to retire but instead signed a three-year contract.

Barnhill has promised an announcement on reorganization of the Arkansas athletic department tomorrow. Barnhill has said he didn't know whether he would relinquish the head coaching job and be athletic director only or continue to hold down both.

Turmoil Is Ended

Ending almost a week of turmoil at Baylor, where Woodruff and Athletic Director Ralph Wolf both resigned as the result of friction between them over operation of the athletic department, the Baylor board of trustees announced that Woodruff would remain as head coach and Wolf would become executive vice-president and general manager of the Baylor stadium corporation. The job of athletic director was left open, it being explained that it would not be filled until the duties and responsibilities of this post were more definitely defined.

After Woodruff last week issued what in effect was an ultimatum that conditions in the athletic department were intolerable and that he would accept no compromise, the Baylor athletic committee continued Wolf as athletic director pending his acceptance of the job of director of the stadium. Woodruff then resigned. The next day Wolf turned in his resignation "to clear the atmosphere for reorganization of the athletic department."

Plan Worked Out

This week the athletic committee and a special committee met repeatedly and finally worked out a plan that met the approval of both Woodruff and Wolf. The two accepted it before the board of trustees ratified it. Then Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor, announced the matter had been settled.

Wolf and Woodruff reportedly clashed over the way the athletic department was to be operated—Woodruff wanting it on a greater scale and at more expense than in the past. Wolf opposed this.

Woodruff has been head coach at Baylor three years, during which time the football team came out of the Southwest conference cellar to fight for the championship and gain national prominence. Wolf has been at Baylor 28 years as athlete, coach and athletic director.

Dr. White predicted that "both Mr. Wolf and Coach Woodruff will perform in the future still greater service in Baylor's total life in their respective fields."

Basketball Meet At Smyer Opens Tonight

SMYER, Dec. 15 (Special)—Eight teams will compete here tonight in the first rounds of the Smyer basketball tournament, in which 14 teams have been entered.

Both boys' and girls' brackets have been formed, with girls squads from Shallowater, Ropes, Meadow, Wellman, New Home and Smyer. In the boys' bracket are Ropes, New Home, Lubbock Cowhands, Smyer "B", Meadow "B", Smyer, Levelland "B" and Plains.

Four games will be played on Friday, with continuation of the tourney Saturday morning. Saturday night will see the finals in the championship and consolation brackets of both divisions.

Four Games Set In New Deal Tourney

NEW DEAL, Dec. 15 (Special)—A three-night double-elimination tournament involving five teams opens here tonight with a four-game program.

Abernathy, Spade, Anton, Idalou and New Deal each will field teams in both the boys and girls divisions of the tourney.

Tonight's schedule includes: 6:20 p. m., boys, Abernathy vs. Spade; 7:25 p. m., girls, Idalou vs. Abernathy; 8:30 p. m., boys, New Deal vs. Anton; 9:35 p. m., girls, Anton vs. New Deal.

What a big help!

Monday—"Mrs. F. called to volunteer help on our Christmas dolls for the poor baskets. That will be a big help!"

Tuesday—"My neighbor, Wanda, wants me to help at her party this afternoon. Glad she called early!"

Wednesday—"Set to go to grocery when Edith called, wants me to drive over for some of their apples. The family loves apple pie."

Thursday—"Hashed over school problems with Inez. Interested, because I'm still a substitute teacher!"

Friday—"Daughter Mary Ann makes plans for a formal dance. Big event."

Friday—"Ed, my husband, called to tell me he'll catch a later bus from the city. Saves me a wait at the bus stop!"

THERE'S a pleasant bustle of family life in the home of Mrs. Ida Bianchi, on the outskirts of Oklahoma City. And the telephone is right in the middle of everything.

Mrs. Bianchi proved that by keeping track of all calls, in and out, for five days. She's a substitute school teacher, mother of a teen-age daughter, and does a lot of work for charity, so her telephone runs a variety of errands.

Even she was surprised to see how many there were, and how little they cost—only 1½¢ a call!

"The telephone is a BIG help to me," she says. "It's certainly a bargain when you stop to think of the time and steps it saves!"

To Mrs. Bianchi, our thanks for her kind words. We are doing our best to make telephone service a real bargain today—and to keep it growing in value! Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Rumors Of Plan To Hike Steel Prices Scored By CIO, Solons

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A CIO spokesman said today the labor organization is "simply appalled by the rumors of pending steel price increases."

Everett Kassalow, executive secretary of the CIO full employment committee, made the statement in testimony prepared for hearings of the Senate-House economic committee. He was called before a sub-committee which is studying ways to attract investment capital to small businesses.

Increases Forecast

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said a steel price increase would be "out of line" and would call for a congressional inquiry.

The increase which they referred to was forecast by Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp., in Chicago yesterday.

Fairless told a news conference that his company is going to increase some prices and decrease others in a revision to be announced Friday.

Fairless blamed the recent freight rate boost and the pension plan won by Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers for the increased cost which he said necessitated the price rise.

Public Said Overlooked

Senator O'Mahoney is chairman of the economic committee, which probably would undertake any investigation. He told a reporter that "I don't see how we can avoid it."

"The profit records of the steel industry indicate absolutely that an increase in the price of steel at this time would be absolutely out of line," he added.

"It utterly overlooks the public interest, because the steel industry produces a basic commodity which affects the prices of every other commodity."

The CIO's Kassalow argued:

"Here is a situation where leading steel corporation.. made almost unbelievable profits in their last full quarter before the strike, and are now operating at even higher levels of capacity.

Board Noted Profits

"Yet, on the pretext that material costs are up, they are getting ready to bilk the public again.

"We earnestly request the joint committee to look into this scandalous situation. After all, it is less than three months since a federal fact-finding board concluded that in the light of the tremendous steel profits, price reductions—not increases—were in order."

The fact-finding board had been appointed by President Truman to recommend a solution to the steel contract dispute. The three-man board recommended pensions and insurance plans to be financed by the companies, but said a fourth round postwar wage increase in the steel industry would be damaging to the economy.

On the basis of that report, Murray dropped his wage demands and concentrated on pensions and insurance, which the steelworkers achieved after a long and bitter strike.

Texas Weather

a.-m., 28 degrees at 10:30 a. m. and 42 at noon, a climb of 27 degrees in three and a half hours.

The wind had shifted to the south at noon, increasing to 15 miles an hour and helping raise the maximum to an expected 48 degrees by late afternoon, said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the U. S. Weather bureau station.

Minimum temperatures this morning as reported by United Press included Dalhart 15 degrees, Salt Flat 15, Midland 18, Ozona and Clarendon 19, and Wink and Marfa 20.

Showers Are Reported

A number of points received light to heavy showers during the past 24 hours. Some of the rainfall reports included 1.36 inches at Houston, 1.10 at Victoria, .76 at Galveston, .63 at Beaumont, .41 at Austin, .27 at Lufkin, .22 at Bryan, .16 at Waco and .15 at Brownsville.

The high overnight minimum was 42 degrees at Brownsville and Laredo. Some other minimums included 21 at Childress and Big Spring, 23 at Abilene, 25 at San Angelo, 26 at El Paso, 27 at Mineral Wells, 28 at Junction and 29 at Dallas.

A high pressure area in North Central Texas was causing the weather to clear, the forecaster said. It was the first clear day in that area in nearly a week.

The estimate of dead came largely from the number of persons known to have been living in the house.

Trevino and Cosby said from the position of the bodies that it appeared the family all had been sleeping together on the floor.

Cosby said the house was heated by a wooden stove made from an empty gasoline barrel. There was no electricity in the house. It was lighted either by candles or a kerosene lamp.

Rotan Chief of Police O. B. Williams; Fisher County Sheriff R. L. Wilkins and Deputy Sheriff J. M. McGinnis went to the scene as soon as the alarm was given.

Bumper Crop Of Lies Expected In Contest

BURLINGTON, Wis., Dec. 15. (U.P.)—A bumper crop of lies will be harvested this year, President O. C. Hulett of the Burlington Liar's club predicted today.

The fabrications concocted for the club's national contest Dec. 27 or 28 promise to be better than ever before, Hulett said.

Liars have been perfecting their technique since the club started in 1929, he said, and they've learned to tell whoppers with a minimum of words.

As an example he quoted Mrs. James McQuaid of Tyler, Texas, who declared she had "never heard a Texan brag about Texas."

Daily MARKET

Stock Market

OIL STOCK JUMPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—A late rally pulled the stock market out of a mild decline today.

Gains and losses, mostly fractional, were thoroughly scrambled at the final bell. A selected group of oil stocks, though, advanced sharply.

Most of the day, in heavy trading, the market coasted along at slightly lower levels.

Turnover approached 2,000,000 shares.

Superior Oil of California continued to perform far outside the general pattern of the market. Up 32½ on Monday, 22 on Tuesday, the issue added another 15 at 227 at one time today, but later the full rise was cut.

Amerada Petroleum, selling minus a dividend, skipped up around 6 points at one time and Phillips Petroleum and Skelly Oil 3 or more.

Also up were Youngstown Sheet, Coca-Cola, St. Regis Paper, Kennecott Copper, American Can, Socony Vacuum, Warner Bros., Loew's, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Tending lower were Chrysler, Packard, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Admiral Corp., American Telephone, International Telephone, Phelps Dodge, Du Pont, General Electric, International Paper, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, and U. S. Gypsum.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady today on trade and commission house buying. Demand for the new crop months developed on expectations that cotton farmers will approve acreage and marketing controls on the 1950 cotton crop in the referendum being held today. Gains extended to $1 a bale before the market reacted partially on profit taking. Hedging selling was light. There was a good deal of evening-up in nearby December prior to expiration of trading in those contracts at noon Friday.

Futures closed 5 to 45 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Grains were rescued from a downward path today when news of potential export business developed. Prices recovered in most cases, but still hung a little under the previous close.

The export news concerned monetary grants by the Economic Cooperation administration to western Germany and requests for flour offers by the Production and Marketing administration, the government agency which buys flour for export.

Wheat closed ¾ lower to ⅜ higher, December $2.20-$2.19⅞, corn was ⅜-1½ lower, December $1.30-$1.30¼, oats were ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, December 77¾-⅞, rye was unchanged to ½ higher, December $1.42¼, soybeans were ¾-1¼ higher, December $2.32¼-½, and lard was 5 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $10.50.

Woman Scoffs At Efforts Of Police

DETROIT, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—If Mrs. Louella Puett, 70-year-old attorney, decides to show up in traffic court today, it'll be the first time she's paid any attention to 39 traffic tickets and six warrants.

Traffic referee John M. Wise said Mrs. Puett has been ticketed 39 times since April 27, 1948, and five warrants subsequently served.

Policeman Gordon Schneider, who ticketed her for double parking Oct. 13, said "she cursed me and said she never had paid a ticket and wanted to bet me she wouldn't pay this one, either."

"Then she tore the ticket up and threw it at me," Schneider said.

Wise said he called at her office yesterday.. and she promised to be in court today.

Heart Briefs

Members of the Lubbock chapter of Disabled American Veterans will go to Amarillo Sunday with at least 135 Christmas gifts for distribution among patients at the Veterans hospital there, Robert O. Pugh, commander, said today. Anyone who wants to add gifts to the collection may do so by calling Pugh at his office in the Veterans administration building.

Dr. Julian A. McDonald of Lubbock has just completed a course of study at Chicago College of Chiropody and Pedic Surgery and is now back in Lubbock with his family.

Sandra Diane Skibell, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Skibell of 2817 Twenty-sixth, underwent an appendectomy at Lubbock Memorial hospital this morning. Her condition was satisfactory early this afternoon.

The county attorney's department announced this afternoon that several liquor law violation complaints were being filed today, adding to almost a dozen placed on file this morning as outgrowth of raids late Wednesday and today. Pleas of innocence were to be entered by several of the defendants. Pleas of guilty of drunk driving were entered by two men: John Joseph Sherrin, jr., 26, of San Antonio, and Isaac Peterson, 26, a Lubbock negro. Each was fined $75 and court costs. Each lost the right to drive a motor vehicle six months, as well.

Traffic Deaths In Tarrant Tie Record

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15. (U.P.)—The Tarrant county traffic toll was tied today with the all-time record set in 1935 when 83 persons lost their lives.

The latest death was that of Mrs. Lulu Pearl Thomas, a 74-year-old widow, who was killed almost instantly last night when hit by a car as she attempted to cross an intersection.

Mrs. Thomas' death brought to 44 the number of traffic fatalities in the city so far this year, and 83 for the county. It was the sixth traffic death in the county since Saturday.

Driver of the car striking Mrs. Thomas was identified as Mrs. J. G. Thompson, who told authorities she did not see the woman, but heard the impact when the automobile struck her.

The death brought a renewed plea from police Chief George Hawkins for motorists to take all possible precautions to avoid accidents, particularly during the Christmas holidays.

Survivors of Mrs. Thomas include a son, Milton Thomas, sr., of Dallas; and a sister, Mrs. Fannie Lovin of Fort Worth.

Never Hunt Trouble, Deer Hunter Advises

JEFFERSON, Wis., Dec. 15 (U.P.)—The deer season reminded Donald Lee of an experience which he says proves you should never look for trouble.

Lee bought an illegally killed doe from a state game warden, which gave him legal possession of it. He hoped some law officer would see it in his car and give him trouble, with Lee having the last word.

On his way home, Lee stopped to eat and when he returned to his automobile loaded with the doe, a police officer was inspecting the vehicle.

Lee belligerently wanted to know what was going on.

Hunter's Glove Shot In Place Of Raccoon

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP)—A hunter, scratching his shoulder with a fur-lined glove, was mistaken for a raccoon and shot in the hand today.

State police said Cassimero Canelli of Corbin City reported that he shot his friend, John Beckeh, 54, of Sea Isle City, while the two were hunting near here today.

Canelli said his friend was behind a tree and just the fur-lined glove was visible when he fired.

Allotment Law Fight Pushed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Ten Texans, trying to block enforcement of the cotton acreage allotment law, will not slacken their court fight, their attorney says.

Even though proposals for changes in the program have been advanced, William H. Shireman, Corpus Christi, Tex., said yesterday the coastal bend growers will press their case against Secretary Charles Brannan and other top agriculture department officials.

Suit Is Filed

The Texas lawyer filed a suit here Monday in U. S. district court.

Also on last Monday a House agriculture subcommittee discussed the cotton acreage problem and drafted amendments to the law. Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the full committee expressed hope Congress would approve the changes quickly in January.

"The proposed changes would give the coastal bend counties of Texas substantially more acreage than they seek through court action," Shireman told a reporter.

"However, the changes at this stage are only proposals and until they are set forth in the law we will prosecute our case.

Hearing Set Monday

A hearing is to be held Monday on the request of the Texans for an immediate injunction restraining Brannan from putting the announced acreage program into effect in Texas.

At least 60 days probably would be required before the court would go into the merits of the case, passing on the claim of the growers that they have been deprived of their rightful share of the cotton acreage quota, Shireman said.

He expressed confidence the court would agree with the farmers' contention the Agriculture department misinterpreted the law in allocating Texas' quota without regard to lands previously planted in so-called war crops. These included flax and grain sorghum.

Jury Selected For 99th Court Action

A civil action for foreclosure of mechanic's lien was being tried today in the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue.

Styled Sam Hallmark against R. E. Graves and wife Helen A. Graves, the suit sought a recovery of approximately $11,000, court officials said. It grew out of Hallmark's construction of a residence for the defendants here, pleadings showed.

The jury is composed of Jim Noland, W. E. Hickerson, Jube Cooley, W. A. Armstrong, Joe Lowrimore, Albert C. Symes, L. P. Johnson, M. G. Hazel, L. A. Hancock, Ance English, R. S. Hall, and W. P. Willis.

Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam represent Hallmark and Berry and Ball are counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Graves.

Garlic As Repellent For Insects Failed

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 15 (AP)—The Navy today described an attempted weapon of the Pacific war which didn't pan out—garlic.

Capt. A. R. Behnke, a naval doctor, said garlic was fed to certain gobs in "large quantities" as a possible repellent for mosquitoes which plagued the Navy's fighters.

But Behnke said the 'skeeters showed "complete indifference" to the aroma—and kept right on boring in.

He offered no comment on how the garlicy guinea-pig sailors got along with the rest of the fleet.

Hirohito Hoping For Early Peace Treaty

TOKYO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito told the Diet (parliament) at its opening session today that Japan now can hope it soon will be admitted into the international community of nations.

His reference to hopes for an early peace treaty were contained in a brief message which he read at a joint session in the upper house. The Diet is embarking on its seventh regular session since the end of the war.

The emperor urged the lawmakers to complete as early as possible the establishment of a democratic and peaceful country.

Texas Building Up Large "Draft Pool"

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—Texas is fast building up a big pool of yong men classified as fit for military service.

A total of 13,177 men of draft age were classified and 4,848 18-year-olds were registered by the state's 137 draft boards during November.

State Selective Service headquarters indicated Texas has a pool of 1,357 who could be inducted on 10-day notice if a call should be received from the department of defense.

The armed forces have made no calls for induction since January.

Hockley Farm Bureau Opens Member Drive

LEVELLAND, Dec. 15 (Special)—The Hockley County Farm bureau opened its county-wide membership drive here Thursday.

Organization members will solicit new members near each of the PMA polling places where farmers will vote Thursday on cotton controls restoration, Mrs. Orvile Bynum, secretary of the bureau, announced.

President of the organization is Burnett Roberts

Jail Congestion Is Slightly Relieved

Transfer of 29 immigration violators from Lubbock county jail this morning did much to relieve a congestion that admittedly had become quite serious in recent weeks.

There were 89 prisoners in the jail — approximately twice the number that the lock-up's "air space" properly accommodates in the winter, according to jail health recommendations.

Another day this week there were 84 prisoners, on yet another 82.

Those who observe the condition, particularly in the fall and winter when numerous transients are in the section gathering crops and when vagrants and rumheads welcome, rather than dodge, detention to escape the cold outside, realize the logic of the public's 1946 voting of bonds for enlarging the jail.

Construction date has not been announced definitely.

A new courthouse, which was authorized by the voters in the same election, is being built. The structural steel is up and being riveted. "Pans" for pouring floor slabs are being places. Indications were seen that masonry work will be commenced in a brief time.

The 29 prisoners transferred are "wetback" Mexican nationals. They will be returned to the Republic of Mexico, crossing at El Paso, Lem Pounds, county jailer was told by immigration border patrolman.

Detroit Blast

gas explosion at suburban Birmingham Sunday night.

Patrolman John Coy, directing traffic at the street intersection, smelled gas and halted the traffic.

"You could smell the gas for 200 yards around the buildings," Coy said. "I called the fire department. The buildings went up just as the firemen went into the market."

"When it blew," Coy said, "the flames reached right out to me in the middle of the street. I don't see how those firemen inside kept from being burned crisp."

Victims Are Treated

Coy was treated at Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital for burns about the face and hands. Others taken to the hospital were Paul Downing, 50, market employe and Firemen Thomas Macdonald, 35; Joseph Missel, 42; Andrew Pozinak, 34, and Donald Murray, 48.

Downing, burned on his hands, neck and ears, was in serious condition.

Fireman Missel, in the market when the gas exploded, said "the food cans came tumbling down on us from the walls. I thought for sure we had it."

Property damage was estimated by Fire Chief Ninnian Higby at $75,000.

The gas company said regulators were being installed over most of the northwest area to hold down pressure of gas going into residences and business places.

recent government announcements supporting the supposition that atomic development was well advanced in British laboratories.

"Britain's atomic weapon, which our scientists have been developing more than two years, will not be tried out at the forthcoming test of American super-atom bombs," the Mirror dispatch said.

"As far back as May 12, 1948, Defense Minister (A. V.) Alexander said all types of modern weapons, 'including atomic weapons,' were being developed in Britain.

"No information is available in London about the likely date when this British-made atomic weapon will be tested."

not effective until May, 1950.

Asked how the decontrolled areas are getting on, a rent office spokesman told reporters that the mayor of Omaha, Neb., now is urging a special session of the legislature for the purpose of writing a Nebraska state rent law.

Areas Are Watched

Federal rent controls, under present law, can be restored only in those areas where the ceilings have been removed by action of the federal rent administrator. Thus far he has recontrolled three areas—Harrodsburg, Ky., Americus, Ga., and part of Somerset county in Pennsylvania.

The rent office official said several other decontrolled areas where rents have jumped are being watched for possible action toward restoration of rent ceilings.

Budget Director Frank Pace said last week he saw no way to balance the 1951 fiscal year budget without new taxes.

Did the President plan to ask new taxes?

That will have to be covered in the budget message that goes to Congress in January, he replied.

Would the budget be balanced?

It has always been his aim to have a balanced budget, Mr. Truman said.

Daughter Held After Slaying

EL PASO, Dec. 15. (U.P.)—Mrs. Edna Mead, 22, was charged today with the hammer murder of her mother, Mrs. Ada Bradford.

Mrs. Bradford, 63, was found dead in the bedroom at her home yesterday. Mrs. Mead, in preliminary questioning, said she heard her mother screaming, ran to the bedroom and saw her beating herself in the head with a hammer and trying to stab herself with a pair of scissors.

Choked Her Mother

Mrs. Mead also was quoted by the district attorney's office as saying she choked her mother while trying to take the scissors and hammer away.

The murder complaint, filed before Justice of Peace Charles Windberg, jr., alleged that Mrs. Mead "voluntarily and with malice aforethought killed Ada Bradford by hitting her with a hammer."

Quarrel Is Reported

An autopsy report showed seven hammer blows on Mrs. Bradford's skull. Dr. M. S. Hart said either one of two could have caused death. He also said there were contusions on the throat, showing Mrs. Bradford had been choked.

Before the charges were filed, authorities said Mrs. Mead told them she and her mother had quarreled over the daughter's recent marriage to Phillip Mead. He arrived here last night from Boston where he is studying voice under sponsorship of the Boston symphony orchestra.

for conversion of various denominations into more "branches" of a single, united church. The idea, he said, is known as the "federal union" plan.

It drew the disapproval of Dr. H. Paul Douglass of Montclair, N. J., director of the commission on cooperative field research of the Federal Council of Churches.

"I don't think that type of union would have any chance to succeed . . . ," he said.

Both Dr. Morrison and Dr. Joseph A. Vance, minister emeritus of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, said there is a weakness in any plan that leaves too much autonomy to separate denominations.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis, chairman of the council of bishops of the Methodist church, said the Methodist church "ought to lend all its support to any movement that leads to a larger and stronger church in the world."

The seven sponsoring churches are:

Methodist church, the Presbyterian church in the U. S. (Northern), the Congregational Christian churches, the Evangelical and Reformed church, the Disciples of Christ, the Moravian church (northern province), and the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church.

Seven other denominations, represented by observers, are: the Protestant Episcopal church, Church of the Brethren, the Five Years Meeting of Friends (Quaker), the Augustana Lutheran, the Evangelical United Brethren, Presbyterian church in the U. S. (southern), and the Churches of God of North America.

The man, they charged, shot a pistol in a cafe, in 1800-block Ave. A. Witnessed told investigators one shot struck a juke box.

Cotton Acreage Allotment Row Of Strong Interest To Texans

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

This is for city guys who may be wondering what this cotton acreage allotment fuss is about.

Point number one: The government has set the number of acres that can be planted in cotton next year in order to regulate production and avoid a cotton surplus.

This year, practically every Texas farmer and his uncle planted cotton. They put 10,400,000 acres in cotton. That's more than a million acres more than were planted in 1948.

But this big 1949 acreage was not included in setting up the 1950 acreage allotments. Instead, the 1950 allotments were based on the average acreage for the years 1946, 1947 and 1948.

War Crops Not Counted

"In 1946, 1947 and 1948, many farmers were still growing 'war crops' such as grain, flax and peanuts, thus reducing their cotton acreage," Louis Franke of the Texas A&M College Extension service explains.

The government had asked that the "war crops" be grown. But farmers who grew peanuts instead of cotton in 1946, 1947 and 1948 are now being penalized by the 1950 cotton allotments. The peanut acreage isn't credited in making up next year's cotton allotment. So the "war crop" grower finds his slimmer cotton acreage for 1946, 1947 and 1948 used as the basis for computing the amount of cotton he can grow in 1950. That's one very sore point.

In 1946 the state's cotton acreage was only 6,283,000 acres. In 1947, the acreage reached 8,426,000. In 1948 it climbed to 9,200,000.

Suffer Big Cuts

"The average of those three years—the years upon which the 1950 acreage allotment is based—is 7,969,666 acres for the state as a whole," said Franke. "But other factors entered into the computation. And actually, Texas allotment for 1950 is 7,637,000 acres."

So that means only 7,637,000 cotton acres in Texas for 1950 as compared with 10,400,000 acres in 1949. That's another sore point.

1. A farmer who decides not to plant cotton in 1950 can't refuse an allotment or release his allotment for distribution to some other farmer in his county.

2. No farm's allotment can be more than the acreage of cotton planted in any one of the three years—1946, 1947 and 1948. Considering the trend in those years to war crops, the cotton acreage on some farms was mighty thin.

Hundreds Of 12-Inch Dolls Being Dressed Up To Make Magic Christmas For Poor Children

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Lead a little girl into a dingy loft building on New York's east side today, and she'll always believe in Santa Claus.

It's walls are dark and its corners stacked with packing cases. Its shelves and tables hold a doll shop no department store can ever match.

There, more than 1,000 ordinary 12-inch dolls have been transformed by the hands and imaginations of 1,000 women (and a couple of men) to make a magic Christmas for blue-eyed children in the Southern mountains and dark-eyed little Indian girls in Arizona.

For Less Fortunate

The Save-The-Children federation will place them next week under Christmas trees in one-room schoolhouses for little girls who have mothered a corn-husk wrapped in a tobacco sack and only dreamed what a "real" doll might be like.

Little Red Riding Hood and the mink-trimmed dancing lady and the cowgirl on a stuffed brown horse have been collected from almost every state in the union through a radio contest with an automobile for a prize.

"This is not for the contest. This is for a child."

Some Never Had Doll

"They are taking turns holding the doll," a teacher wrote from a Tennessee mountain school last Christmas. "None of them has ever had a doll before."

To some such school will go the Indian maiden dressed like a storybook by a New Jersey housewife. Her miniature fringed and beaded buckskins are as finely fashioned as Minnehaha's must have been.

From a little boy in Texas came the doll that's dressed to go to the opera, in green and gold and purple velvet with a penny in her pocketbook. There's a white satin bride whose donor writes she wears "something old and something new" right down to the "lucky" penny in her shoe.

Dress Work Varied

There are dolls dressed with the tiny stitches of expert needle-women. One wears a gown with the painstaking stitches of an aged blind woman. Five dolls wear dresses knitted by feel by a young blind girl in the Bronx.

"The little girl who got the doll is five years old and deaf and dumb," read another letter. "She had been looking in store windows. When she saw a doll she would fold her arms as if holding a doll and look longingly at her mother."

There are dolls with fur coats—brown from Brooklyn, bunny white from Oregon. One is dressed as a sister of St. Francis, by a 73-year-old man from York, Pa.

There are party-going ladies in satin and sequins and mink-trimmed stoles, dolls ready to ski and dance to the bagpipe. There is a baby doll dressed for her christening with a complete layette, in the finest stitches on cloth that cost some close-saved pennies.

A little lady in red velvet carries a tiny Christmas tree and two packages on one arm.

"My little girl is a spastic," wrote one mother. "She is telling me what to write. She never dreamed anyone would bring her a doll."

Woman, 71, Is Honeymooning With Man She Walked Out On A Half Century Ago

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15 (AP)—A 71-year-old woman was honeymooning today with the man she walked out on almost a half century ago.

Martha Marie Ballard and Noah Paddock were married last night. He is 71 also.

Forty nine years ago Miss Ballard left her home the night before she was to marry Paddack. She went to Denver and got a job.

Paddack didn't see her again until 1938 when she returned to Kansas City. Last August they patched up difference and then decided to get married.

"It was a misunderstanding," Paddack said yesterday. "I understand and don't hold it against her. We both have more sense now."

No General Shortage Of Water In America, Chapman Declares

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Despite the severe shortage in some parts of the country, the United States will "never run out of water in the forseeable future."

So said Secretary of the Interior Chapman yesterday. He issued a statement after receiving a flood of querries, most of them prompted by New York City's water troubles.

Rather than a general water scarcity, Chapman said, the problem is that "serious shortages confront certain areas where we don't have water where we want it when we want it."

The cabinet official said "we can no longer take water for granted, as we do the air we breathe," adding: "But on the whole we shall never run out of water in the foreseeable future."

THAT'S DIFFERENT

DECATUR, Ind. (U.P.) — The Adams county board of commissioners for a brief time favored a $3,300 salary increase for Circuit Judge Myles F. Parrish. Then they received an opinion from the state attorney general's office saying the county must pay the additional wage. They decided they favored the boost only if the state would pay it.

TALK OF SALES TAX HEARD

Oil Production To Face January Cut

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP) — Texas' money-hungry treasury today faced even shorter January rations from oil production revenue.

The railroad commission yesterday ordered a January cutback of 83,373 barrels daily from December crude oil production allowables—topping production and resulting state revenues for the second consecutive month.

Extra Day Cut Off

The commission's order will permit 2,050,948 barrels of crude oil and an additional 281,73 barrels of crude oil and an additional 281,-173 barrels of natural gasoline and distillate to flow daily. Cut in the present crude allowable of 2,-134,321 barrels (as of Dec. 10) was accomplished by ordering production in all fields shutdown an extra day in January.

That will permit the East Texas field to operate 15 days and all other fields to operate 17 days next month.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said the reduction was compelled by accumulation of Texas oil in above-ground storage.

"Last week Texas oil stocks above ground increased 1,936,000 barrels and since Oct. 29 Texas crude in storage above ground increased by 5,264,000 barrels," he said. "Every requirement for oil is being met."

Sales Tax Talked

Talk of a sales tax instead of relying on oil to meet increased state revenue demands had stirred yesterday's statewide proration hearing. Oilman H. P. Nichols of Tyler told the commission that the depressed oil market could no longer pay the increases in the state's grocery bill. He suggested that the sales tax alternative now faces the state.

Gov. Allan Shivers stamped that idea with terse comment: "I'm personally against a sales tax."

Two members of the legislature later had suggestions to offer.

Said Rep. Vernon McDaniel of Wichita Falls: cut five or six million dollars out of the departmental bill and go on deficit financing (red ink) for 17 million dollars with no tax bill.

Overhaul Is Suggested

He suggested that the next regular legislature should delve into and overhaul the state's whole tax structure in line with present needs.

"If we could do this, about five out of every six people in the state would be happy, according to the way they voted on proposed constitutional amendments involving taxes in the last election," he said.

Rep. William A. Swindell of Commerce suggested that the budget might be balanced by economies resulting from selling unused state lands and centralizing all state hospitals and special schools in one spot.

Federal Union To Be Sought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, who helped develop the atomic bomb, declared last night that the only real protection against it is a "universal government" of the world.

He urged the western democracies to take steps in that direction by:

1. Forming a limited political union; 2. Inviting other democracies to participate; and 3. Ultimately including the rest of the world after "undermining the dictatorship which controls eastern Europe and much of Asia."

No Satisfactory Solution

"Eventually," Urey told a meeting of the Atlantic Union committee, "there is no satisfactory solution to modern military problems except a universal government."

He suggested that the initial move should be taken by the nations which signed the Atlatntic pact. A western political union, he said, would strengthen the democracies and spread "immense dissatisfaction in Soviet-dominated areas." He added:

"Undermining the dictatorship which controls eastern Europe and much of Asia is necessary before we can expect to work with the important peoples now enslaved there."

Conference Proposed

Urey is one of the directors of the Atlantic Union committee. This private organization is backing a move in Congress to have President Truman call a conference of the seven nations which sponsored the Atlantic pact, for consideration of a federal union.

The resolution was introduced on Capitol Hill by 20 senators and five House members. Committee hearings on it are expected next year.

The atomic scientist, a professor at the University of Chicago, said world government is the best way

Concerts Will Also Be Held

Two of the biggest events of the holiday observance in Lubbock were announced Wednesday for Friday.

One will be the arrival of Santa Claus at the Municipal airport at 4:20 p. m. Friday, to remain in Lubbock until Christmas.

The other will be Christmas concerts between 5 and 6 p. m. on both sides of the Hotel Lubbock in which the mixed chorus of Senior High school, the mixed and male chorus of Texas Technological college and the Texas Tech band will participate.

Santa Claus will parade from the airport in time to participate in the concert program, distributing bags of candy there and enroute. A jeep from Reese Air Force base will supply his transportation.

Santa's appearance will be sponsored, as in several past years, by the city recreation department. He will remain in Lubbock until Christmas, spending much time on the streets and visiting many shut-ins.

The concert, a new event on the Lubbock holiday program, will be sponsored by the decorations committee of the chamber of commerce, of which O. W. Ribble and Ruel C. Martin are co-chairmen.

Includes Numerous Students

The High school chorus consists of 62 members, the Tech mixed chorus 60 and the male chorus 40.

J. H. Penn directs the high school group, Gene L. Hemmle the Tech mixed signers, Richard G. Richards the Tech male chorus and D. O. Wiley the Tech band.

"Bless The Lord Oh My Soul," "Christmas Hymn," "A Joyful Christmas Song," "The Three Kings," "God So Loved The World," and "Deck The Halls."

The Tech chorus will sing, "Lo How a Rose E'er Blooming," "The Angels O'er The Fields," "In Dulci Jubilo," and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

The band then will present a medley, "The Christmas March," including "Good King Wenceslaer," "Adeste Fiddles," "Dashing Through The Snow," "Oh, Christmas Tree," "Joy To The World," "It Came A Midnight Clear," "The First Noel," "Deck The Halls," and "Hark The Herald Angels Sing."

Meanwhile, Santa Claus will have arrived at the Municipal airport and, after greetings there, will parade to the busines district along the following route:

THE ANSWERS

PATRICIA LINDEMAN, 2425 Twenty - fifth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lindeman: "It teaches us how to get along with other people. We learn not to be selfish and conceited and to be tolerant of others. Our teacher reads us stories about how popular the unselfish ones are and how unpopular the others are."

ROBERT MILLER, 2424 Twenty - sixth, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller: "We need classes in human relations so that we can learn to get along with others in everyday life. We learn to wait our turn, to work together, and to assume responsibility."

SONJA BECKER, 2606 Twenty-first, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Becker: "I should think we need them because they teach us not to be selfish, shy, or sulky. I think that these classes will help us a lot after we are out of school, too."

PERFECT FOR TEMPLES

The Gothic style of architecture lends itself so perfectly to temples of worship because its pointed arches and spires seem to point upward to God.

PATSY PAINTER, 3003 Twenty-fourth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Painter: "I think we should have classes in human relations — we learn the different types of opinions people can have and how to get along with them. We learn not to always put ourselves first, too."

EUGENE STALNAKER, 2401 Twenty - eighth, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Stalnaker: "They help us to get along with people and to understand why people do as they do. We learn how to get along with everyone, even if we don't like them too well."

PETE HUDGINS, 3213 Thirty-third, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Hudgins: "I think these classes will help me after I get out of school. They teach us not to be selfish and how to be a good sport; how to play fair and not cheat. We also learn how to get along with other people and not be selfish."

PUBLIC LAUGHS LAST

CARMEL, Cal. (U.P.) — A Hollywood movie company tied up traffic for hours along part of a main street in Carmel taking a sequence involving the star, Robert Young. Irate residents who had been blocked off the sidewalks and street had the last laugh, however, when they found the entire strip of film taken had to be thrown out because of poor lighting.

ANOTHER PROGRAM SET TONIGHT

Spirit Of Yuletide Comes To City With Singing Of Carols

The spirit of Yuletide came to Lubbock in song Wednesday night as more than 900 persons attended the opening program of a three-night Feast of Carols presented by several hundred students of Lubbock schools. The presentation was offered in the Lubbock Senior High auditorium.

Another program in the three-night series will be presented in the O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium tonight, while the final performance will be at J. T. Hutchinson school Friday night.

Approximately 500 students from eight grade schools, Carol Thompson Junior High and Senior high were included on the Wednesday night program, intermingling long-time Christmas favorites with more modern carols.

Program Set At 7:30 P.M.

Tonight's program in the O. L. Slaton auditorium will begin at 7:30 p.m., with Harwell, Bean, Posey, Hunt, and Special School, besides Slaton, participating. Leo J. Warren and G. E. Dawson will be hosts.

Audience participation was given Wednesday night between appearances of the various student groups as Mrs. Elois Elliott, vocal music co-ordinator for Lubbock schools, led such tunes as: "O Come All Ye Faithful", "The First Noel" "Little Town of Bethlehem", and "Silent Night."

Fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students from the eight grade school were included on the night's program, with all those from each class joining together in song. Teachers in the different schools had trained their own pupils and the Wednesday program was the first time all had sung together.

Schools included in the program were: Arnett, Guadalupe, Sanders, K. Carter, Dupre McWhorter, Cottage, and Central Ward. This year marked the first time that students sang from the auditorium stage.

ELEVEN ARE BELIEVED DEAD

Thirteen Are Safe After Sea Tragedy

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 15. (AP)—Thirteen survivors of the Dutch motorship Doros were safe today but it was feared the remaining 11 crewmen had perished.

Five men were picked up by the SS Williamsburg last night. They reported the ship's cook had died and was buried at sea.

South Of Tragedy Scene

The Williamsburg radioed shortly after midnight that it had picked up the men at 11:36 p. m. (EST) Wednesday about 35 miles due north of San Salvador, a little south of where tragedy overtook the 921-ton Doros Monday morning.

One coast guard plane took off early today to search the area about 300 miles due east of Miami where the Doros, bound from New York to Haiti, exploded and burned.

The coast guard cutter Mocoma was at the scene, but there was little chance that the 10 men unaccounted for had survived, the coast guard said.

To Question Survivors

The Williamsburg planned to question the five survivors it had aboard to learn if there was a possibility some others might still be alive.

The five men were reported in good condition and the Williamsburg was expected to continue to Philadelphia, arriving there Saturday. The sea was rough but the ship was making about 14 knots, the coast guard said.

The Williamsburg quoted the men as saying the cook, identified by a representative of the Royal Netherlands Steamship company as Bruyn Van Rosenburg, died and was buried at sea.

The five others were listed as Charles Durham, Antonia Skippi, Thomas Williams, Lucian Pastel and Franklin Misick.

Others Hospitalized

Roelf Helmers, 51-year-old chief engineer from Amsterdam, and seven West Indian negro crewmen were brought here by a coast guard mariner plane and hospitalized.

Helmers said he believed the Captain, chief mate, second and third mates, apprentice electrician, second and third assistant engineers and the steward were lost.

The Doros was carrying general cargo. What caused her to explode may be determined by a board of inquiry.

MARSHALL PLAN GETS SUPPORT

European Aid Cost "Cheaper" Than Full-Scale Rearmament

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The government will spend about $43,500,000,000 this fiscal year, which began July 1 and ends next June 30.

Of that amount about $11,800,000,000 will be spent on things strictly for home use: Running the government, housing, help for farmers, education, and so on.

The rest of the $43 billion—about $31,700,000,000 — is being spent on things more or less connected with war: Either past wars, defense in case of a future war, help to Europe and other countries to block Communism and stave off war, and other international dealings to keep friends and seek prosperity, for us and our neighbors.

Items Are Listed

$13 billion for the armed forces.

$6.1 billion for international affairs, including the Marshall plan, arming Europe, and help to other countries.

$6.9 billion for veterans of World war II and previous wars.

$5.7 billion interest on the public debt. Some of that debt was due to domestic problems. Most of it is due to World war II.

Note that $13 billion is going into the armed forces. But then add $6.1 billion for international affairs—including the Marshall plan, arming Europe, and help to other countries—and you get a total of $19.1 billion.

That $19.1 billion can be considered part of the national defense since most of it is aimed at stopping Communism and keeping friends.

Yesterday the committee for economic development (CED) said the outlook for the next several years will be the spending of around $20 billion a year on security, or just a little more than the present amount.

Cost Is Stressed

The CED is an organization of business executives which was set up during the war. It describes itself as a non-political organization designed to encourage "high production and employment within the framework of a free society."

And this week one of the former heads and of the CED had something to say about security. He is Paul Hoffman, now head of the Marshall plan, called the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA).

He didn't talk of what our present security plan will continue to cost. He spoke of what it would cost us if we weren't doing what we're doing now.

He said: "If Western Europe should fall under the domination of the Kremlin, if nations now free should become satellite police states, only one course of action would be open to us."

That course, he said, would be to spend $25 to $30 billion on defense.

No Positive Assurance

What positive assurance do we have that, if standing alone, we build up a huge army and air force, we'd be able to stand off the world indefiniately? None.

What positive assurances do we have that, following the course we're following now, we'll be able in the end to win out over Communism. Nothing positive. Only hope, or a belief we'll win.

Hoffman made it clear he bases his thinking on that belief. It is also the belief of the Truman administration, Hoffman said:

"A much happier vista opens up to us if western Europe, instead of falling under the domination of the Kremlin, remains free and becomes strong and prosperous, if we in the United States remain strong and prosperous, and if we the free peoples of the world remain united.

"If these three conditions are met, it is my belief that not only will the evil plans of the men of the Kremlin for world conquest fail, but they will fail so utterly that Russia herself will cease to be a slave state."

Puzzle Of Missing Bulldozer Solved

SALEM, N. H., Dec. 15. (AP) The mystery of the missing bulldozer is solved.

Warm, rainy weather caused the frozen ground to thaw. The next day the bulldozer was gone.

"Ike" Will Speak At Fort Worth Tonight

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 (U.P.)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower makes the final speech in his Texas "vacation" at Will Rogers coliseum tonight.

Before he talks, Eisenhower will dine with 2,600 chamber of commerce members and their wives. Then, the coliseum balconies will be thrown open to holders of general admission tickets.

There was no advance announcement of the nature of Eisenhower's talk. The wartime allied military chief, now president of Columbia university, has been relaxing and hunting on secluded St. Joseph's island off the Texas mainland in the Gulf of Mexico since last weekend as the guest of oilman Sid Richardson.

Eisenhower will be introduced at tonight's fete by Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher.

TEXAS OFFICIALS PAY TRIBUTE

Lufkin Industrialist Receives New Titles At Honor Banquet

LUFKIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—A 64-year-old, white-haired Texan modestly bore these titles today: "Man of the South," "Texas' Leading Industrialist," "Mr. East Texas."

Ernest L. Kurth accepted his honors last night before more than 900 southerners who came here to tell him why he was chosen.

Newspaper publishers, businessmen, government and civic leaders were in the crowd that heard Kurth described as a leader among the men who had the vision to bring industry to the south, as a great businessman who carved an East Texas career that reaches far outside the state.

Kurth appeared on the verge of tears.

He called Lufkin's "Kurth day" one of the "greatest markers in my life." But he said the honors really were bestowed upon every man and woman in Angelina county.

Brother Reads Speech

"For in our community," he said, "we have a partnership—no so-called leaders—but a partnership of people with honest regard for one another, a partnership of people with an eye to progress and the well-being of their neighbors."

The words were Kurth's, but they were read by his brother, Melvin, a Houston attorney. The industrialist's vocal chords were weakened in a throat operation several years ago.

Dixie Business, an Atlanta, Ga., magazine, named Kurth "Man of the South for 1949." The Texas Manufacturers association called him "Texas' most distinguished industrialist." Gov. Allan Shivers gave him the title "Mr. East Texas."

Kurth heads 16 firms. One, Southland Paper Mills, Inc., at nearby Herty, was the first in the south to produce newsprint in commercial amounts. Kurth was the man who realized that East Texas' vast yellow pine forests could be turned into newsprint.

Officials Speak

His other firms range from an insurance agency to a theater chain. As a director, he is active in dozens of other companies.

Besides Shivers, banquet speakers who paid tribute to Kurth included Texas Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, former Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas, and Don C. Mitchell, president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., New York.

"He did not go somewhere else to make a career," Connally said. "He conceived the idea of utilizing what had heretofore gone to waste. With a penetrating vision he looked into the future."

"He is a vital credit to the system we call free enterprise," Johnson said.

Hobby, publisher of the Houston Post, already had said: "When we say free enterprise we think of Ernest Kurth as the kingfish." He called Kurth "the man of the south all the time."

Award Presented

"He's the easiest picking you can find anywhere when it comes to a friend that needs him or to a fellow that's in trouble and trying to get out," Hobby said.

Mitchell said Kurth's bringing new industry to the south is sound business economy. "Man was not made to live and work in the narrow confines of a city," he said. "He needs a healthier, more natural atmosphere of the country, where he and his family have the freedom of rural living."

"Therein lies the great opportunity of our rural areas."

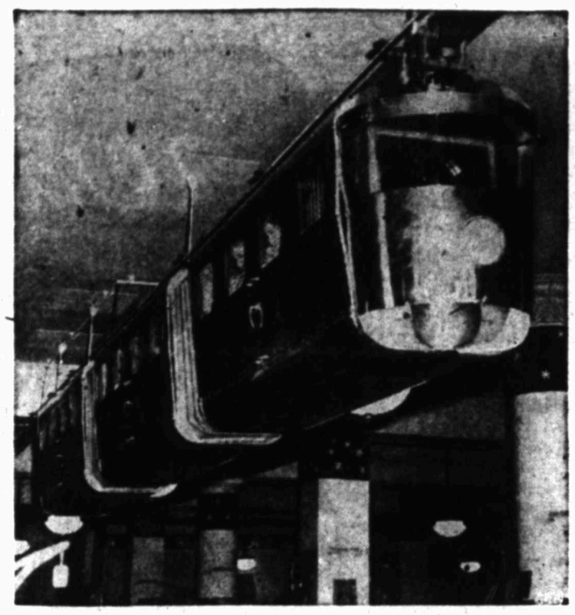

Texas' youthful governor said: "He is the man of the south, a great citizen, and Mr. East Texas. This is not only a proud day for Lufkin, it is a great day for all Texas."

Hubert Lee, publisher of Dixie Business, presented the "Man of the South" award. Ed C. Burris, executive vice president of the Texas Manufacturers association, gave Kurth that group's certificate naming him the state's industrialist of the year.

USE OF TROOPS IS PROTESTED

Half Of London Powerhouse Strikers Returning To Work

LONDON, Dec. 15 (AP) — More than half of London's 2,700 striking power workers voted to return to work today and electric service in the metropolis was expected to return slowly to normal.

At the Barking powerhouse, biggest in Europe, 1,600 strikers agreed to go back to their jobs. Only eight voted against returning.

Troops manning the station during the walkout were ordered by the government to leave 10 minutes before the strikers return. The government's action putting soldiers and sailors to work in the struck stations caused sympathy strikes which threatened to grow until London was almost totally blacked out.

Transport Crippled

Also meeting to hear back-to-work pleas by the leaders who ordered them out were the 600 strikers in the Brimsdown plant.

Power loads however, still were cut five percent over much of England during the morning.

London's transport services were crippled 15 percent during the morning rush hours.

The decision to return to work was reached last night by strike chiefs after an all-day parley with officials of the state-sponsored Industrial Council for Industry.

Bonus Cut Protested

The unofficial strike started Monday in three plants, Brimsdown, Taylors Lane and Littlebrook. Workers claimed bonuses they received for working in hot and dirty places were cut after a recent basic wage increase.

Troops were immediately dispatched to take over the plants and workers at the Barking plant walked out in protest.

The strike blacked out some parts of London and suburban areas. But the troops managed to push up the output to within 30 percent of normal. Twenty-six other plants continued working at capacity in the London area despite strike leader appeals for support.

The nation's union leaders condemned the strike as illegal and urged workers to ignore it.

Actress Thelma Todd's Carbon Monoxide Death In 1935 Still Hollywood Mystery

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15—Was it murder? Or was it suicide? Or did Thelma Todd accidentally die 14 years ago today?

That riddle has been cause for debate in Hollywood ever since the blonde star was found dead in her garage one morning in 1935. Here's how the death occurred:

Went To Party

Thelma, the fun-loving ex-school teacher from Lawrence, Mass., went to a Saturday night party at the Trocadero in honor of the English comic, Stanley Lupino. A chauffeur picked her up between 2:30 and 3 a. m. and drove her back to her cafe at the beach. She appeared quiet and tired.

When she waved goodbye to the driver at four Sunday morning, it was the last time she was seen alive.

Body Is Found

At 10:15 Monday morning, Miss Todd's maid opened the garage door and found the actress slumped in the front seat of her car. She wore a mauve and silver evening gown and mink coat, and jewels ornamented her throat and wrist. She had been dead at least 12 hours — of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The ignition key was turned on and the heavy garage doors were closed. There were no notes or other clues. A lengthy investigation ensued. There was no conclusive result.

Detective Chief Thad Brown of the Los Angeles police told me this week: "The death is still accidental in my book."

Oil Refinery Closed By Explosion, Fire

ABILENE, Dec. 15. (AP) — The Onyx Oil refinery was closed down today because of an explosion and fire which destroyed a cracking tower and the plant's control building.

H. L. Price, sr., of Abilene was hurt as the cracking tower blew up yesterday. Price, a truck driver, was delivering a load of casing head blending gasoline. He suffered a broken arm when he jumped out of his moving truck and ran.

Fire swept the small control building and the cracking tower, a vapor separator, after the blast.

The refinery is seven miles north of here. Jack Levering, general manager, said he didn't know how soon operations could be resumed. He wouldn't estimate damages.

Spain has imposed new power-use restrictions "as severe as any within memory."

TO GIVE UP HOLLYWOOD CAREER

Ingrid Bergman Has Troubles Securing Decree From Doctor

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—The New York Times in a Rome dispatch today said film star Ingrid Bergman had told its correspondent "some difficulties" had prevented her getting a divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Times correspondent Camille M. Cianfarra wrote that Miss Bergman told him she planned to marry Italian film director Roberto Rossellini as soon as she is free, having decided "to give up my artist's career because I now want to live my own life just as any other woman."

Met In Messina

Cianfarra said he interviewed Miss Bergman and Rossellini in her apartment in Rome. The couple's romance began last spring when Rossellini directed the Swedish actress in the film "Stromboli," made on a bleak, volcanic island off Italy's west coast.

According to the Times dispatch, Rossellini said Miss Bergman "explained things quite clearly" to Dr. Lindstrom when they met in Messina last May, at a time when the Bergman-Rossellini romance was making headlines around the world.

"I want to make it clear," the Times account of Rossellini's remarks continued, "that at that time the relationship between Ingrid and myself was absolutely correct. It is not our fault, is it, if we cannot get married because Ingrid has been unable so far to obtain a divorce?"

Gives Up Career

Concerning published reports that Miss Bergman is going to have a baby in February, the Times quoted Rossellini as saying:

"Whether she is or is not is nobody's affair. I think that report deserves neither denial nor confirmation because it is an attempt to pry into the private life of a woman who, to assert her right to her own life, has given up her career—which is what an artist regards as the most important thing in life. Isn't that enough?"

"By making that decision hasn't Ingrid as good as said to both her admirers and detractors: 'Look, I've fallen in love with a man who is not my husband. As an artist I have a certain responsibility toward the public and I may be criticized. All right, if that's the case, I no longer want to be an artist. I want to be a happy wife with the man I love'."

Seek European Divorce

Miss Bergman said she "repeatedly" had asked her husband for a divorce since last April. Rossellini told the Times correspondent he was sure Miss Bergman and he "would have been spared all the criticism which has been poured on us" had Lindstrom granted his wife's request for a divorce last spring.

Rossellini told the Times correspondent that if Miss Bergman could not obtain a divorce in the United States, she would sever her marriage ties in a European court.

"I know," he was quoted as saying, "that some of the divorces granted on this continent are not recognized in America, but they are recognized in many European countries. If that's the best we can do, that's the best we can do—at least for the time being."

Refuses To Explain

Rossellini refused to explain the "difficulties" Miss Bergman said had developed in the divorce negotiations with her husband. The Times correspondent said friends of the couple told him Lindstrom had refused to give his wife a divorce because he thought her romance with Rossellini "was only a passing fancy and not real love" and he wanted Miss Bergman to come back to him.

But first, this source told the Times, "he wanted her to finish the picture 'Stromboli' because otherwise many people might lose their jobs. Since then Bergman has been writing to him, confirming her decision to marry Rossellini."

DEC. 25 ACCEPTED ABOUT 353

History Proves Jan. 6 Once Believed Christ's Birthday

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — A look back into history shows that it was some 300 or more years after the birth of Christ before the Christian peoples of the world accepted Dec. 25 for the observance of his birthday.

There were numerous other dates including Nov. 18, Jan. 6 and March 25 or 28, a survey of the authoritative records in the natural history museum building of the Smithsonian institution discloses. There is no authentic data fixing a definite date.

From the early historians, it appears that Jan. 6 was the most popular day until the year 353 or 354 when Pope Liberius in Rome set the date of December 25 for the observance of the birth of Jesus Christ and kept Jan. 6 for the feast of the Baptism.

There are several theories why the change was made. One was that the days begin to lengthen on about Dec. 25 and also that the date was beyond a series of days late in December when heathen rights were being observed. Another theory is that Jan. 6 was another pagan holiday and that the Dec. 25 date may have been set deliberately by the early Christians to reconcile the different religious beliefs.

Authorities Are Quoted

There seems to be two authorities on the history of Christmas day, Dec. 25. They are identified as the German historian Herman [illegible] the French historian, L. Duchesne.

But that date was displaced in Rome in 353 or 354 in favor of Dec. 25 and Jan. 6 was kept for epiphany or feast of the baptism. He further believes that observance of the Dec. 25 spread eastward and generally was accepted.

Duchesene believes that Jan. 6 was from the beginning the eastern date and Dec. 25 the western date, and that east and west combined each other's dates.

There was one outstanding dissenter, Clement of Alexandria, who arbitrarily set Nov. 18 as the date of Jesus' birth. Others set it as March 25 or 28th.

The historians believe that the feast of the baptism was observed as early as the year 325, but that observance was not universal in the year 311. Some believe the Christians celebrated both the nativity and the baptism at the same time—on Jan. 6 and continued to until Rome accepted the Dec. 25 date.

The Jan. 6 celebration by the heathen peoples may have been a rival observance too, the records indicate. On the eve of that day, the bandits got, the historians say, the heathens spent the night in singing and attending to the images of their gods.

Snowy-Haired Scot Routs Holdup Pair

Hearing Set For Pilot After CAA Claims He Flew Too Near Town Chasing Antelope

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board says a Grandfalls man endangered life and property by: (1) Flying too close to a town while chasing an antelope in his light plane, and (2) landing and taxiing on a public thoroughfare.

G. J. Douglas of Grandfalls contends his use of his plane didn't threaten property.

Hearing Is Set

J. B. Poindexter, CAB regional hearing examiner, said yesterday the CAA had asked that Douglas' private pilot's certificate be suspended or taken away from him. Douglas asked for the hearing.

The complaint said Douglas flew his plane near Fort Davis while pursuing an antelope last May 7. It said that on last Sept. 14, he landed his plane on a highway leading into Grandfalls, then taxied onto the streets of the town.

Just before Douglas did that, the CAA complaint said, he flew the plane at an altitude of less than 1,000 feet over Grandfalls and flew closer than 500 feet to persons and structures in the town.

Besides claiming that he didn't threaten life and property, Douglas' reply said the Grandfalls city council told him he could taxi into to town.

Christmas Holiday For Married Members Of Staff Ordered By President Truman

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 15 (U.P.)—President Truman wants his staff to have the best possible Christmas despite the fact that he will be away from the White House for Christmas day.

The President has given orders that men with wives and children should not go to Independence, Mo., with him when he goes home for the holidays with his wife and daughter.

Check-up Is Planned

The President recently passed the word that members of his staff, including Secret Service agents, who have families and who would normally be in his travel party should remain at home for a Yuletide "visit" with their families.

Before leaving Washington for Independence, the President will hold his annual reception for members of the White House staff. His annual Christmas eve broadcast for the lighting of the White House Christmas tree, however, will be made from the living room of his house in Independence.

Pilgrimage To Mecca Crosses Africa Wild

KHARTOUM, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—On the return half of an 8,000-mile journey across Central Africa and the Red Sea to Saudi Arabia, 204 Moslem pilgrims have arrived in Khartoum after making the trip to Mecca.

The pilgrims are a mixture of African professional men and peasants who live at Accra on the Gold Coast in West Central Africa. They traveled overland from that country to the Sudan and then crossed over to Saudi Arabia by steamer from Suakin.

A young Lebanese, Hag M. K. Hamawi, was in charge of the five jolting trucks, which crossed 3,000 miles of Central Africa to get the pilgrims to their port of embarkation for Mecca.

The convoy crossed hundreds of miles of trackless desert country without mishap, and Hamawi had no compass. As the journey was due east from Accura, his knowledge of star and sun positions enabled him to lead his lorries through the wilds of French Equatorial Africa and arrive at the correct place on the Sudan border.

British Favor New Aid Plan

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Britain is pressing the United States and Canada to help launch a giant new aid program for the Middle East and southern Asia, a responsible British source reported today. He said the idea has come up "in the most general terms" at top-secret, three-power talks now going on in Washington.

The three-fold aim of such a project was said to be:

1. To save these strategic, potentially-rich regions from the spread of Communism.

2. To help western Europe—mainly Britain—close its debit gap between dollar buying and dollar spending.

3. To take off Britain some of the load she claims she's carrying in paying off the wartime sterling debts, accumulated by countries like India, Pakistan, Egypt and Iraq.

The source stressed the Washington talks are still in an exploratory stage. No full-scale, formal British plan has been handed yet to the U. S. or Canada.

American Legion And Red Cross Sign Pact

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP) — The American Legion and the American Red Cross have signed an agreement for joint work in disaster relief.

It provides for using manpower of the big veterans' organization in "immediate and complete cooperation with the Red Cross and other disaster relief agencies." The agreement, announced today, follows up an understanding between the two agencies which has continued since 1926.

Hudson Bay Company Furnishes The Gifts

North Pole Residents Never Heard Of Santa Claus Fellow

MONTREAL, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—The land that Santa Claus made famous never heard of him.

"The North Pole is a peppermint stick to everybody but Jack and Jill Eskimo," Col. P. D. Baird said today. "They never heard of the gent with the long white beard and fur trimmed suit. But even so, Eskimos make a pretty big thing of Christmas."

Baird, a member of the Arctic Institute of North America, has celebrated Christmas with the Eskimos in a one-room igloo at the roof of the world.

Everyone Goes Formal

"The Eskimos throw a big community party and everybody goes formal—as formal as you can get in ice-coated animal skins," he said. "There are no Christmas trees and the closest thing to Santa Claus is the agent at the Hudson Bay company's outpost. They haven't much to give, but the real spirit of giving is there."

At the igloo party he once attended in Repulse bay, Baird said, the presents for the men, women and children from the Hudson Bay Co. were stacked in three separate piles in the middle of the floor.

"The women and children were shy," he said. "They scooped up their gifts—candy for the kids and dress material for the women—and beat a fast retreat back to their own people."

Gifts No Surprise

"They closely examined each gift—even though they were all the same—holding them up to the light and shaking them to try to guess what was inside. The gifts were either a pipe or some tobacco."

After the Hudson Bay company's presents were handed out, he said, everyone exchanged some personal belonging, a hand carved walrus tusk or the three most welcome gifts—tea, tobacco and ammunition .

"Eskimo Christmas presents aren't ever much of a surprise," he said, "everybody knows what everyone else owns right down to the last grain of tobacco. But when an Eskimo gets something that delights him, he says 'wah-kudlunga!'—which is just a harder way of saying 'Oh!' "

IN CHRISTMAS SHOW—Dick and Sunny Mallard, dance team, who have appeared in several movies, will appear in the American Legion's Christmas show, "Stars of Showtime," here next Wednesday and Thursday. The show will be held at Senior High school auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

UNION LEADER IN PERJURY TRIAL

Ex-Communist Says Bridges Had Special Status In Party

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15. (AP)—An admitted former Communist says longshore leader Harry Bridges was accorded a special, secret status in the party.

Manning R. Johnson, a government witness in Bridge's perjury trial, testified yesterday that top Communist party members gave the labor leader protection "for security reasons." The negro witness added:

"We never had a Communist in the key position Harry Bridges held out on the Pacific coast and I do know that they would do much to protect him."

Charged With Perjury

Bridges is charged with perjury at his naturaliaztion hearing in 1945. He testified he was not, and had not been, a member of the Communist party. Two other officials of the international longshoremen's and warehousemen's union (CIO)—J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt—are on trial with Bridges, accused of conspiracy.

Johnson's testimony came as the witness was under cross-examination by defense counsel James MacInnis. It was Johnson's explanation of why he had seen Bridges only once, had never met him personally and hadn't seen him again until the current trial.

Earlier, the witness testified that Bridges was elected to the party's national committee during the 1936 convention. MacInnis pressed Johnson for details, and the witness testified:

"At the meeting of the national committee at which Harry Bridges was introduced to us, we gave him an ovation. He was introduced by Jack Stachel, and he made a few remarks.

Communist Quoted

"Jack Stachel said that in the future Harry Bridges would not be brought to members of the national committee as a security reason because of his strategic position in the labor movement on the Pacific Coast. If it became known that he was a member of the Communist party, we would not be able to move and work in the party's interests in his labor circles on this coast."

Stachel, former lieutenant of Earl Browder, was among 11 Communists convicted recently in New York of plotting the overthrow of the U. S. government.

Johnson, an international representative of the AFL clerks union, has testified he became a Communist in 1931 while working as a longshoreman in Buffalo, N. Y. He said he quit the party in 1939. He said also he operated a restaurant and poolroom in Alliance, Neb., in the 1920s.

Indiana Bobby-Soxer Has What It Takes For The Big Time

Junior Miss America Is More Interested In Raising Tomatoes Than Plunging Necklines

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The "Junior Miss America" thinks a heap more of hogs and tomatoes than she does of plunging necklines and mink coats.

She showed up for the picture fellows wearing bobby sox, blue jeans and a pair of low-heeled shoes.

Carolyn Rudy, aged 17, of Bluffton, Ind., was right in character. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Rudy, she was here to attend the 15th annual convention of the National Junior Vegetable Growers association.

Has What It Takes

Carolyn has what it takes to make a senior "Miss America" at the annual contest in Atlantic City, N. J. She doesn't care much whether she gets the nod next year as "Miss Indiana," but there is some talk that maybe she might when she comes of age.

In the big time, the score card is rated on talent, beauty, and how a gal looks in an evening gown.

Talent? Carolyn's got it. She plays the piano and can sing "Always" like it always should be sung. And, although she is a little country girl, she's not afraid of people. She and her brother have been appearing in public for years.

Beauty? She's got it.

Evening gowns? She doesn't own one, she says, but if she looks as cute in one as she does in blue jeans—she couldn't miss.

A Fair Cook

Carolyn is the kind of a kid you hope your own daughter will grow up to be. Wholesome, she was raised out among the bees and clover in Indiana. She's a 4-H-er. Her speciality is raising tomatoes. She also is a fair hand behind the sewing machine and she can cook. Her mother, who is pretty enough to be a "Mrs. America," said that her daughter has taught her a thing or two about how to broil a steak.

The youngster doesn't know exactly what she wants to do. All of this fuss about the "Miss Junior America" title, which she won in Pittsburgh last August has posed a lot of problems. There are offers to model for magazine covers. The photographers are after her all of the time. She maybe wants to be an airline hostess. Or perhaps do fashion designing.

But with all of that, the kid isn't spoiled. She has learned a few things like putting on the grin when you don't feel like it and to give her best when there are a few handclaps available. But her heart belongs to daddy back there on the farm.

Tonight, she'll have a chance to cash in on a few of the $10,000 awards to be passed out by the A&P food stores and the W. Atlee Burpee Seed company.

Will she salt it away against the day when higher education becomes a problem?

She will not.

"I'm going to put it all back into tomatoes," she said. "Fine tomatoes got me where I am today and I'm not going to let them down. Besides, there's money in raising tomatoes."

Salamanders Used In Research For Cancer

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—The newly salamander is doing his bit in the war on cancer.

Researchers at Marquette University are using the tiny, lizard-like animals in a series of experiments to determine whether normal tissues can be grown from cancerous ones.

"We've X-rayed the legs of salamanders, and the X-rayed areas prevent the growth of new parts. We plan to take cancers from frogs and transplant them to the legs of salamanders. Then we'll cut the legs off through the cancers."

The zoology professor says the researchers want to find out if the salamanders' renewal power then will grow new limbs from the cancer tissues.

If they do, he says, it will be demonstrated that cancer cells can be transformed into normal tissue.

SUPPLY SITUATION ENCOURAGING

Sky-Rocketing Coffee Prices Halted, Senate Probers Note

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Senate investigators called a temporary halt in their probe of the high cost of coffee today with word that "the sky-rocketing of prices is stopped."

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) told that to reporters yesterday as he suspended public hearings until Congress meets again early in January.

The senator called attention to Washington grocery advertisements of brand coffee at 56 cents a pound that had been selling for 90 cents. But he held out slight hope for immediate return of "the nickel cup of java."

Supplies Checked

Two government officials brought Gillette's Senate agriculture subcommittee some encouraging news about coffee supplies and the final public hearing yesterday.

Philip M. Hauser, acting director of the census, said a spot check of coffee stocks conducted at the senator's request indicated supplies on hand at the start of this month were about the same as last year.

John K. Havemeyer reported that a State department check through U. S. embassies in Latin-America indicates that coffee exports for the next season will be at least as large as those for the present year.

But Gillette called attention to census data that indicated "about 100,000,000 million pounds of coffee" moved out of stocks during October and November of this year.

Coupling this with testimony about "doubling of retail prices" and large increases in coffee speculating, Gillette said there has been "definite manipulation of the coffee market" with a resulting cost to U. S. consumers of $650,000,000.

Gillette said he has an idea who "manipulated or rigged" the price of coffee, but he declined to say more, except to add that such operations apparently are not illegal.

He indicated that public hearings may be reopened early next year unless coffee prices come down. In any event, he said, a separate report on the coffee investigation will be made to the Senate.

Supermarket To Be Opened In Snyder

Making the nineteenth store in this area for Davis and Humphries, Inc., of Lubbock, a new D. and H. Supermarket will be formally opened in Snyder Friday.

Shoppers in the new D and H Supermarket will make their selections from various food and household items, displayed in its more than 8,000 square feet of floor space. Construction of this 65 by 128 foot structure is typical of the widespread building now underway in Snyder.

An adjoining parking lot has been hard-surfaced for the convenience of shopping customers. The new D and H Supermarket of Snyder is located on the Snyder-Sweetwater highway, at 1400 Twenty-fifth.

Included in the equipment already in place in the new D and H Supermarket are open-type refrigerated self-service cases, displaying meats, vegetables, dairy goods, and frozen foods. All fixtures are the latest type.

Clyde Godwin, formerly assistant manager of Lubbock's Piggly Wiggly Supermarket No. 3, has taken over as manager of the new D and H Supermarket. Mr. Godwin, his wife, and baby will make their home in Snyder.

The 18 other South Plains and West Texas stores operated by Davis and Humphries, Inc., are in Slaton, Floydada, Big Spring, Brownfield, Post, Littlefield, Tahoka, Levelland, Muleshoe, and Andrews. The firm operates six Piggly Wiggly Supermarkets in Lubbock.

WIFE, MOTHER VISIT CRITICALLY ILL SERGEANT—Sgt. Edison J. Walters, 32, lies unconscious in a Letterman General Hospital bed in San Francisco, unaware that his wife, Mary, of Decatur, Ill., and his mother, Mrs. Charles Walters (right) of Clinton, Ill., stand at his bedside. They were flown to San Francisco by an Air Force B-25. The army sergeant is suffering from a serious brain malady. (AP Wirephoto).

Mysterious Death Of Blonde Plane Dispatcher Is Probed

BOSTON, Dec. 15 (INS)—Boston and Washington, D. C., police began an investigation today into the mysterious death of a beautiful 21-year-old blonde Washington plane dispatcher who succumbed at Peter Bent Brigham hospital.

The girl, Jean Costello, was flown to Boston from the capital last Saturday and died at the hospital Monday night under circumstances which caused hospital authorities to call the medical examiner.

Police Are Called

Following an autopsy, medical examiner William J. Brickley called Bosteon police into the case and they, in turn, notified Washington authorities.

Taken To Hospital

She was taken to Georgetown hospital and examined by Dr. William Leary who called Washington police. While they were investigating, Miss Costello, whose home was in Herington, Kan., was flown in a Capital Airliner to Boston.

A short time later, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Costello and her brother, Richard, came to Boston.

On Dec. 4, it was learned, the tall, slim girl was found in a semi-conscious condition in her Washington room by her landlady, Mrs. Mary Frazier. Mrs. Frazier said Miss Costello refused medical aid.

HUMAN BULLDOZER

PONTOTOC, Miss. (U.P.)—George Douglas, 59-year-old Negro grave and well digger, figured he's moved more dirt by hand since he went into the business as a lad of 14 than the average bulldozer does in a lifetime. He's dug so many graves and wells, that he doesn't recollect just how many there have been.

Teacher Faces Assault Count

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 15 (AP)—Charges of assault and battery were filed here yesterday against Raymond Perry, 42, mathematics teacher accused of slapping a 13-year-old student in class at Webster junior high school.

Mrs. Billie Ivy, mother of Terry Ivy, filed the charge at police headquarters. Terry told juvenile officers he was cuffed and slapped several times Tuesday. He said his nose was bloodied, his eye bruised and his face scratched. The boy said the teacher apologized after the incident.

Full Report Given

J. L. Powers, school principal, said Perry had given him a full report of the incident. "The child had not done his assignment and the teacher did it more for a rebuff than anything else."

The principal said Perry, "a good mathematics teacher," has high blood pressure and is under the care of a physician.

"I think after Mrs. Ivy thinks the thing over she probably will dismiss the charges," Powers said. "It is just one of those regrettable incidents."

The case is scheduled for hearing in police court Saturday morning.

ALL BUT KITCHEN SINK

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (U.P.) — When the big moving van pulled up to the front door of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hicks' residence, neighbors didn't think anything was amiss. But the Hicks did, once they got home. Strangers carted away two bedroom suites, one living room suite, an icebox, a kitchen oil stove, a wood and coal circulation heater, a washing machine, tables and chairs, and the family clothes.

STATUS OF JERUSALEM PROBLEM

Israel Seen In Big Struggle Since Flouting UN Authority

JERUSALEM, Dec. 15 (AP)—Israel's defiance of United Nations plans to internationalize Jerusalem has aligned the young Hebrew state "against the whole world," Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said last night.

The premier moved his ministry to the Jewish-occupied section of Jerusalem last night. It was the last of seven government departments to be transferred from Tel Aviv in a tactic in which Ben-Gurion so far has avoided outright proclamation of the holy city as Israeli's political capital.

Only the ministries of foreign affairs and defense remained in Tel Aviv, to avoid any issue if some foreign ambassadors should refuse to move to Jerusalem.

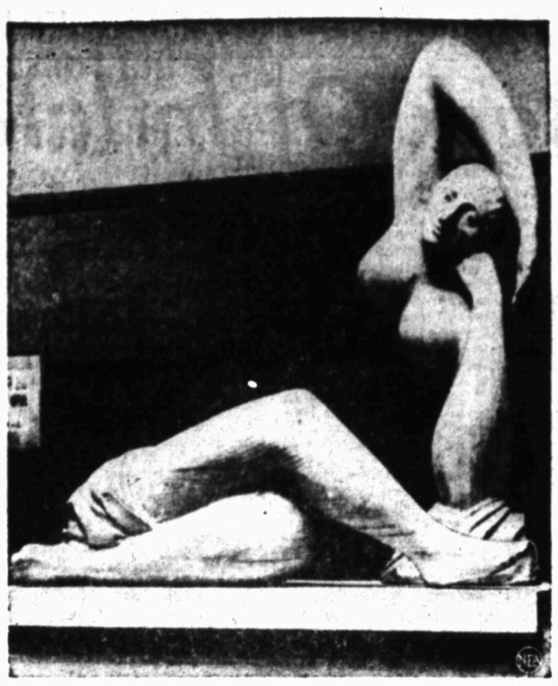

Accepting the freedom of the city from Jerusalem's Mayor Daniel Auster, Ben-Gurion last night said his nation had "entered upon the greatest political struggle in the history of our people.

"It has only just begun," he declared. "Who knows how it will end, how great the price we may have to pay? Our only weapon is historic justice. It is the same justice on which we have relied throughout the years."

As the Jewish government commenced operations in the shadow of the old walled city occupied by Hashemite Jordan's Arab troops, Jerusalem's residents appeared to take for granted the government's move here. Most of them always had regarded Tel Aviv as only a temporary capital.

In London, too, a British foreign office spokesman said the transfer "does not surprise" the British government. But, he said, "we regret that Israel, which is a member of the United Nations, should have thought fit to flout its authority."

Britain and the United States had voted with Israel in the U. N. assembly against the international regime for Jerusalem.

"LOOK, NO TORSO!"—This "Reclining Woman" with a detached air about her is an attraction of the Royal Society of British Artists' winter exhibition in London. The 231-pound wood-carving was created by F. F. McWilliam.

Italy Workers On Pay Strike

ROME, Dec. 15. (AP) — Italian state employes went on 24-hour strike today for higher pay.

The government employs more than a million workers, but it was not known in the strike's early hours how many stayed off the job.

Vital Services Hit

"Inasmuch as all confederations (unions) are compact in this strike," he said, "however, it can be assumed that it will be 95 to 100 percent effective."

All but vital public services and railroads were scheduled to be affected.

Rome's central and subsidiary postoffices were shut down. There was no mail delivery in the city.

Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, planning to ration water, offered to replace all washers on leaky faucets free of charge.

COMPETITION RESENTED

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (U.P.)—Mrs. Emma Genoff, 59, asked a judge here not to send her to the state women's prison because "that place is only good for young women, not those my age." She was brought into court charged with assaulting a 50-year-old woman who entered her home and "put on a dance in front of my boy friend."

Mother Of Infant Found In Garbage Can Claims That She Thought Baby Was Dead

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15 (AP) — What does it feel like to abandon a baby? To toss a tiny scrap of humanity into a garbage can?

Allegheny General hospital had the answer today in a three-page letter from a heart-broken woman who says she is the mother of "baby Mary"—a premature infant found in a garbage can Nov. 14.

All the miracles of modern medical science have been brought to bear to keep the infant alive. Still in an incubator, the baby weighs only three pounds 13 ounces.

Can't Sleep Or Eat

"The Lord is punishing me," the woman wrote. "I can't sleep or eat. I am going crazy."

The letter, addressed to the hospital and signed only "Mrs. N." pleaded:

"Please take care of my baby."

"Dear doctor: I must tell something to relieve my mind."

Then the mother told of harrowing hours after the child's birth.

"I thought it was dead," she wrote. "It was blue. I could not feel any breath or heart beat. I would never have done it if I had known she was living.

"I have a little girl, five," she continued, "and I have gone hungry for her so I would have got by somehow."

She told of leaving the house with the tiny body wrapped in newspapers.

"Nobody knew of the child's birth, not even my husband," she wrote. "I walked a long time, praying. Then I got the street car and put the baby in the garbage can.

"I had no money to bury it. I had only 56 cents."

EL PASO. — Americans who have traveled any Western or southwestern route from Oklahoma City to the Pacific coast in recent years know that the whole Southwestern quarter of the U. S. has been going through a tremendous boom.

This boom is neither spotted, nor temporary in nature. It is general and its results are going to be permanent, because it is built on new population — moving into the Southwest in waves—and on new construction and expansion of older buildings and dwellings.

This tremendous growth is mirrored not only in all the sizeable cities of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. It is visible, too, in the villages, and even in the crossroad communities where a few houses cluster around a tourist court, a filling station, a grocery store and a juke joint.

Down here where Texas' fifth city nestles around Mount Franklin and extends up and down the fertile valley of the Rio Grande, signs of the new times in the Southwest are more marked than in any other community with the possible exception of Phoenix. Colorful, old El Paso, while continuing to retain much of the indolent charm which has been its most valuable possession for eight generations, has become, almost overnight, a pulsating, driving metropolis.

New homes, by the scores—and in some large projects by the hundreds—have sprung up in the past three years and continue to spring up today on every hand.

El Paso is on the march—"on the double," as its once famed and tough cavalrymen would have said. And across the river its companion city of Juarez is matching the amazing cadence.

TODAY, every city in Texas is looking forward to the 1950 census and the gain in population certain to be shown in comparison with the figures of 1940.

There is much loose talk in many cities, and, in others, talk which is not loose.

Peculiarly, El Pasoans are discussing their 1950 census most conservatively — which is somewhat out of character for Texas. Most of the better informed citizens here will tell you El Paso will show little, if any, more than 135,000 next year, which is a gain of approximately 38,000 over the past 10 years.

To us, El Paso looks more like 150,000—perhaps 160,000 — when compared with other rapidly growing cities of the Southwest. And if conservative El Pasoans are right in their 135,000 prediction, some of the rest of us are going to be disappointed when all the noses are counted next year and the results are announced.

Amarillo, for instance, is noisily talking about reaching the 100,000 mark.

Some of us in Lubbock are guessing 80,000 for our city, while Albuquerque is talking 90,000; Roswell, 25,000.

Maybe all these cities will reach their goals—or closely approach them. But if they do, mark down on your cuff that El Paso will pass the 140,000 mark.

PECULIARLY, El Paso—with a building code which prohibits frame construction inside its borders—is housing a greater influx of newcomers, along with its old-timers, on less construction outlay than we are in Lubbock.

Last year, Lubbock ran well over $15,000,000 in building permits and El Paso breathed on our neck a couple of hundred thousand dollars behind. This year, both Lubbock and El Paso will hit a slightly larger building figure—pretty close to $16,000,000—with every indication that Lubbock again will lead by the breadth of two fingers.

There is only one immediate reason for this differentiation and that is: this: Lubbock must be doing more commercial building than El Paso.

This conclusion is a logical one because El Paso is a much, much older trading post than Lubbock and probably was better equipped than Lubbock to care for businesses when the war and post-war population boom struck.

If there is any more logical conclusion, it does not appear on the surface.

While those of us fortunate enough to live in Southwest U. S. A. have every reason to be proud of the improvement all our cities have made throughout the past decade, the Good Neighbors who live across the not-so-silvery Rio Grande can take a few well-earned bows, themselves.

To be fair to the people of Juarez, it must be said that they have more than kept step with us who live north of the border. In fact, the degree of improvement in Juarez exceeds that of most, if not all, the cities of the Southwestern part of the U. S.

Say, if you choose, that Juarez had more room for improvement. That, doubtless, is true.

But the fact remains that Juarez, today, has a population of around 80,000 people against a probable 50,000 in 1940—and as it has grown in number of residents it has improved its schools, homes, churches, businesses and cultural institutions to the same degree that it has improved in position, population-wise, in Northern Mexico.

Its location "just across the river" means in buying power to El Paso about what 20,000 extra population would mean inside the city limits of El Paso, or any other Southwestern community.

It hasn't already moved entirely out of the class of "El Paso's poor relation," Juarez is well on its way in that direction.

LIKE any other "old city"—and El Paso claims more genuine antiquity than any other city in Texas—this metropolis has had its ups and downs.

Like all other cities, in the Southwest and elsewhere, it may encounter more "downs" somewhere in the future.

But as far as is foreseeable today, El Paso stands on the threshhold of an era here-to-fore unapproached for prosperity, growth and improved living. All this is guaranteed by the growth of its far-flung supporting territory; its increasng importance militarily; the gradual settling and expanding in Northern Mexico which adds to its constantly increasing commercial importance—and the fact that a new paved highway will link it with Mexico City within the next several months.

It's a grand, colorful, friendly city in which all Texans may take pride—even those who live in Texarkana, 807 miles away!

BY DREW PEARSON: SNYDER AND ECCLES ARE ASKED TO CEASE "PUBLIC SQUABBLING"

Congress Declared Back Of Inflationary Trends

WASHINGTON. — The inflation row between Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Federal Reserve dynamo Marriner Eccles attracted headlines a few days ago. But when the two men met behind the closed doors of a Senate committee, the final results of the feud were hushed up.

It was Snyder who, perhaps knowing he would be no match for the shrewd and experienced Eccles, insisted on a closed-door meeting. However, here is what happened.

PEARSON

Present at the Senate session was Tom McCabe, popular, easygoing Federal Reserve chairman who agrees with Snyder on most things, and who pleaded with both Eccles and Snyder to cease their "public squabbling" because of repercussions on business and the stock market.

Eccles shot back that stock-market reaction to his dispute with Snyder was far outweighed by the future economic and financial welfare of the nation. It would be better to have a showdown now, public or otherwise, he said, rather than wait until inflation hits us.

"The press has made this a personal dispute between Secretary Snyder and myself, but it's not that at all," Eccles declared. "It's a question of deep, fundamental policy that affects the future welfare of every man, woman and child in the United States. The Federal Reserve system cannot adequately carry out its obligation to control inflationary trends while the treasury continues to borrow at fixed, low interest charges."

• • •

Government Bonds Dumped

The interest rate (now averaging about 2.2 per cent on long and short-term government securities) should be somewhat higher, Eccles contended, to discourage dumping of government bonds by banks, insurance companies and other big purchasers. Also, it should be more flexible, he argued, so the Federal Reserve board could use it as a lever to prevent either an overexpansion or a tightening of bank credit.

Interest rates on government securities naturally influence the rates on commercial loans, Eccles pointed out, and therefore the quantity of such credit—which the reserve system is expected to control.

"Well, the treasury has obligations, also," argued Snyder. "Let the interest rate go up on government bonds and there will be a howl from farmers and other groups, who will then have to pay higher financing charges on private loans and mortgages."

Turning to Senator Douglas of Illinois, chairman of the meeting, Snyder remarked that Congress was chiefly responsible for inflation trends.

"Inflation originates in the Congress," he commented, tartly. "If Congress votes to appropriate great sums of money and then doesn't increase taxes to balance this spending, you are making inflation. You can't build up big deficits without taking risks."

• • •

THE treasury chief added that the low interest the government was paying on its bond issues represented that much of a saving to the taxpayer and helped to balance the budget. However, Eccles shot back that it did nothing of the kind, but was a rob-Peter-to-pay-Paul policy that actually cost the taxpayers more in the long run.

Low interest rates on government bonds often lead to dumping by big investors, who prefer to reinvest their money in less secure, but more profitable commercial loans, he explained. Since the Federal Reserve system is required by law to buy up the bonds dumped on the open market, this further increases national bank reserves—against which more inflationary money is then issued.

The amount of money the treasury is saving now by its fixed, low interest rates, is only a pittance compared with the future cost of inflation—if Snyder continues his present policy, Eccles warned.

• • •

Merry-Go-Round

George Craig, first World War II vet to command the American Legion, had four years active combat service, and is really fighting in peace for the democratic ideals we had in war . . . Courageous Congressman Andy Biemiller of Wisconsin deserves credit for taking Judge Armstrong's "bonus-for bigotry" foundation off of the government's tax-exempt list . . . U. S. Ambassador James Clement Dunn, now in Rome, is angling for the highly prized post of ambassador to the Court of St. James . . . Sen. Pat McCarran now thinks he is almost as important as the President. When McCarran returned to Washington last week, the entire staff of the Senate judiciary committee was lined up waiting to greet him like a returning potentate . . . Avra M. Warren, now American ambassador to Finland, will be the next U. S. envoy to Pakistan . . . The Navy has just developed the world's most powerful airplane engine. It will outfly even the fastest Russian jet . . . A long-suppressed feud between Secretary of Defense Johnson and atomic energy Chairman David Lilienthal is about to break into the open . . . The real estate lobby has a new device for killing rent controls. It is fixing up a list of vacant apartments in overcrowded Washington exclusively for congressmen who want to rent—just to show there's no housing shortage.

• • •

YOU'VE got to hand it to Pan American airways for being versatile when it comes to lobbying. All during the 80th Republican Congress they depended on GOP Senator Brewster of Maine and Sam Pryor, former GOP committeeman from Connecticut, to do their lobbying. In fact, only one Democrat, Carroll Cone, was on their lobbying payroll, and prior to November 1948 he was expected to exit after the elections.

Immediately after the elections, however, Carroll Cone, Democrat, went up in value to Pan American, and he may now become a vice president.

But in addition, Clark Clifford, soon to leave the White House for the law-lobbying business, will become the brightest star in Pan Am's lobbying army.

Note—Pan American has just put across a neat piece of lobbying with the Civil Aeronautics board, by which it gets one foot in the door on the route to Rome. This route belongs to TWA. But Pan Am used the excuse of carrying holy year pilgrims, and CAB gave it a special route to Rome. It will be interesting to see whether the route is surrendered after holy year is over.

What A Brood!

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"SINCE YOU seem to believe in keeping the men happy. . ." begins a letter from one of my readers who says she has followed the column for several years.

MILLETT

That phrase of hers made me feel pretty good. I'm glad I've managed to give that impression over a long period of time. For I do believe strongly that a woman's happiness depends on her ability to keep her man happy.

And by that I don't mean she ought to be a mere yes-woman, or a door mat, or a martyr to his moods.

But I think the chances are favorable that a woman will be happy if she keeps her husband happy in the following ways:

• • •

WAYS AND MEANS

ONE. By doing her own job cheerfully and well.

Two. By going out after what she needs to make her happy, instead of sitting around feeling sorry for herself because her life is so drab.

Three. By appreciating all that he does for her and letting him know he appreciates it.

Four. By hanging on to the pleasant disposition she used to land him, instead of becoming bitter, sharp-tongued or long-faced.

Five. By managing to keep pace with his progress, never hanging back or trying to hold him back by showing resentment of the demands his career makes on him.

Six. By seeing to it that the children love and admire him. Whether or not Junior thinks his Dad is a wonderful guy depends to a large extent on whether or not that is the idea his mother has built up in him.

Finally, by staying as attractive as possible through the years, so that the husband can continue to be proud of his wife at whatever age she happens to be.

Laff-A-Day

"With all that room of frozen stuff you'd think she could lay away a little ice cream instead of stocking up on carrots, peas and spinach."

"Try And Stop Me"

WHEN Matisse, the famous French painter, visited New York, Maurice Sterne, the American artist, thought he ought to see a ball game, so he took him up to the Stadium. It was a crucial late-season struggle between the Yanks and the Red Sox, and the huge crowd was seething with excitement. All Matisse knew was that it was cold as the dickens, and though he drew his coat as tightly as possible around his neck, a chilly wind kept blowing into his face.

Sterne explained the rules as best he could, and really believed he was making progress. Then came a hectic eighth inning, with the Yanks scoring three times to knot the count. Everybody was on his feet—everybody,that is, but Matisse, who turned to Sterne and asked sadly, "When is the game going to begin?"

Shortage Of Money And Ideas Cause Unrest In Movie World

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15—Well, today I am a producer and somehow my feet hurt even though I am wearing loafers. A fellow gets tired of lunches of nothing but cottage cheese, pears, prunes and peaches with buttermilk on the side and saccharine in the coffee. It may be good for ulcers, but it tastes like hell.

RUARK

My jaws are tired from wearing those Uppmann cigars as big as ball bats and my voice is played out from hollering at my inferiors to show them how smart I am because believe me a guy in my racket who can't holler is deader than the Dolly sisters and sometimes it seems it ain't so much a question of talent as lungs.

You can yell your head off at the banks though and nothing comes of it because they are all gunshy and they will lend you all the dough you need if you got 100 per cent security by which I mean if you got 100 bucks they may lend you 98. Used to be you could walk in the door with an idea and come out with dough but now they want a lien on the star's brassiere before they even start to talk interest.

Workers Are Nervous

There was a time out here when the studio kept a stable of people on salary but now they've got hour-to-hour contracts with options on the half-hour and it makes a guy nervous. Used to be a man signed a seven-year contract and relaxed between pictures because even if they stunk they had to keep sending the money every Friday and the law of averages was with you.

Things ain't tough enough with the banks but now you got to be daring all the time and you run out of things to be daring about. We got daring with races and religions and unwed mothers and politics already and now we have run out of anti-Semitism and anti-negroism and we got six shows on the lot with illegitimate kids in 'em and what I want to know is what else is there left to be daring about?

• • •

THEY say you got to be tolerant and daring at the same time and I ask the conference once what about being daring and tolerant about the Republican party, we should maybe soften up the banks a little, and get the wet eye because it seems you can't sell the Republican party even with double-features although anyone knows a picture about Republicans would be daring.

You got the Breen office breathing on you and the Legion of Decency looking down your throat so you never know how daring you can get with sex. Howard Hughes gets murdered for two-and-a-half years on that Jane Russell thing and Goldwyn runs into trouble with his fatherless child until he cuts it some, but Zanuck puts out a real dirty one in that male war bride opus and sails home free when they could of beat him to death on any one of six scenes. So you got to be lucky to get cute with sex and you can't escrow luck with them so-and-so banks because they don't believe in it.

In Business On Side

Half the stars I know are so shaky they are in the dog-food and dress business on the side and you can't get a director to concentrate on his directing because he is in the real estate business and with a dropping market he ain't thinking script, he's thinking tax reductions.

After hours you go out for some laughs and that's no good either because you don't know who is a spy for the DA and who ain't and if you start roaming around with the starlets 18 will get you 20, I mean, who needs San Quentin?

You spend three million today on an old-time formula and it drops dead at the box office and then some goniff with a $300,000 budget drops a sleeper on you and everybody wants to know why you can't make 'em cheaper and who do you think you are, DeMille? You get up every morning at 5 a. m. and work until midnight and it's damn small wonder your ulcers got relatives.

Today's Thought

When earth as if on evil dreams
Looks back upon her wars,
And the white light of Christ outstreams
From the red disk of Mars,
His fame, who led the stormy van
Of battle, well may cease;
But never that which crowns the man
Whose victory was peace.
—Whittier.

Today's Journal Editorial

SPEED-UP FOR PAVING

There's not much doubt as to the feelings of the majority of the people in Lubbock who want street paving. They want it as soon as they can get it, and would be glad to pay a little extra if that would speed up the work appreciably.

Members of the City commission say a great deal more paving can be laid much faster next year if handled entirely by private contractors than if the work is attended to and financed by the City.

The cost under the contract plan, according to City estimates, would be about 10 to 15 per cent higher. But, according to those same sources, the total cost for 36-foot paving in front of a 50-foot lot would be only $19 more.

If the estimate is even approximately correct, the majority of those wanting pavement undoubtedly would favor the letting of contracts and the starting of work with the least possible delay

INSECTICIDE POTENTIALLY CHEAPER

New Bug Killer Compound Is Slated For Market In 1950

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 15. — A man-made and potentially cheaper counter-part of one of the world's best-known natural insecticides for household use is slated to make its commercial bow next year.

Natural Pyrethrum — either in the form of dust of the flower heads, or as an extract of them—has been used for more than a century. It's noted for its "quick knock down" effect on mosquitoes and flies, and for its safety to humans and animals.

Planned For 1950

Until now, the United States has had to import pyrethrum flowers from Africa to produce the bug-killer.

But rectntly, the U. S. department of agriculture's bureau of entomoligy and plant quarantine announced laboratory developments of "pyrethrin-like compounds." The pyrethrins are the active substances in pyrethrum.

Today, a government scientist announced that several companies are working on industrial production and that it's expected the synthetic material will be made available sometime during the 1950 growing season.

In addition to use against household pests, it's slated for action against aphids and some other crop pests in instances where a quck knockdown effect is desired without leaving a chemical residue on the product.

Other Compounds Due

Dr. F. C. Bishopp outlined this to a reporter at the meeting of the American Association of Economic entomologists.

At the same session, representatives of several commercial firms announced that several other compounds, designed to attack a variety of agricultural pests, will be made commercially available for the first time in 1950.

Dr Bishop said projected large-scale production of the synthetic pyrethrum is expected eventually to bring about lowered cost, and hence wider use, of the material. At the outset, he predicted, the price might be about the same.

Another department of agriculture scientist, declaring that it costs between $55 and $60 to produce a pound of the active ingredients of pyrethrum flowers, said it's conceivable that commercial production of the synthetic production would cut the cost by one third "to begin with."

Bad Effects Studied

(Only small amounts of the active ingredient—natural or synthetic— are required in an insecticidal preparation, but a one-third production cost conceivably would mean a one-third cut in retail cost.)

Dr. Bishop said preliminary studies of possible undersirable side-effects of the laboratory product had shown that "it looks as though it's even less acutely toxic than the natural pyrethrum, which is generally considered as nil in that line."

By that he meant is appears the material would be safe if accidentally swallowed in small quantities, or inhaled.

It's not been established yet, he said, whether the man-made material has an irritating effect on the skin. But he said that even if it had that effect, it still would be a hot-shot insecticide for use in the kitchen spray gun with virtually no danger to mother as she made quick passes at flies and mosquitoes.

The big hope, said Bishop, is that the material can be used in aerosol "bombs".

RECORD TOSS

The world's record for throwing a baseball is held by Sheldon Lejeune. He threw the ball more than 426 feet while playing with the Evansville, Ind., team in 1910.

Music Czar Charged With T-H Violations

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP) — Charges that James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL Musicians' union, has violated the Taft-Hartley law are being investigated by the regional National Labor Relations board office.

The charge was made by the Boom Electric & Amplifier company, said Ross M. Madden, NLRB regional director. The company pipes music via telephone wires into restaurants, cafes and other establishments. It has charged the union with attempting to force it to fire seven members of the AFL Electrical Workers union and replace them with members of the American Federation of Musicians.

Madden said a formal complaint against Petrillo and his union probably will be issued after the investigation. The case then will be referred to an NLRB examiner and submitted to the NLRB for decision.

Two phases of the company's charge have been ruled out by Madden, he said.

Self-Styled Prince Faces Deportation Threat In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 15 (U.P.)—"Prince" Otto Wilhelm Hohenzollern's claims to royal birth and German citizenship may cause his deportation, Mexican authorities said today.

Immigration officials who have been checking the "prince's" status, said he entered Mexico on a tourist card as a United States citizen. They said he could be deported if he really is a German citizen as he claims.

Said Burglary Suspect

The self-styled son of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II has been identified by American newspapers as Rico David Tancous, a Washington burglary suspect. He came here with his bride, New Orleans heiress Virginia Kirk, several weeks ago when a storm of publicity wrecked his brief career as a lion of creole society.

The "prince' said he was "outraged" by reports that the Federal Bureau of Investigation would bar his return to the United States on the basis of a Justice department ruling that Tancous is an "undesirable alien."

"That Washington business is all arranged," he said. "I talked to Washington and New Orleans and there is nothing to it."

He did not explain how he had "arranged" the affair, but admitted that he did not plan to return to the United States. He said the Justice department ruling "had nothing to do with my decision."

The "prince" said his immigration difficulties were due to an American "plot" to keep him from ascending the German imperial throne under Russian sponsorship.

Arthritis Hormones Reported Unharmful

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Arthritis patients will suffer no lasting ill effects from treatment with the new hormones Cortisone and Acth, says the Arthritis and Rheumatism foundation.

The foundation's medical advisory committee, in answer to what it said were "recent reports of unfavorable and even dangerous results from use of the drugs," said in a statement:

"Once the new drugs become available in sufficient amounts, there is no known reason for withholding them from any arthritis patient because of dangers associated with their administration."

The foundation's conclusions were reached, the statement said, from "published and verbal reports and unpublished observation of the qualified medical and research scientists who have worked extensively with the new drugs in recognized research centers in Chicago."

Broderick Crawford's Sudden Success Startles Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15 (NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray are a good bet to be reteamed in "My Wife, the Celebrity," Chester Erskine's first independent production. It's a comedy about a conservative bank teller whose wife suddenly becomes a celebrity when she writes a book about their married life.

Broderick Crawford was just another actor for 10 years in Hollywood. Then comes "All the King's Men" and he's an "over-night" sensation. Hollywood is still blushing. He couldn't get a job for eight months before he was hired for the role.

Prediction: Bill Williams will be Hollywood's next western star. He's on the verge of signing a deal to make three big-time outdoor films next year . . . Fur designer Al Teitelbaum has nixed moleskin slacks for movie queens, despite that big layout on the new fashion in a national magazine. Whispers Al: "They'll sag in the seat."

Howard Hughes, in a battered coupe, drives past the Beverly Wilshire Hotel and hails a friend on the sidewalk. "How about an ice cream cone at Will Wright's?" asks Howard. "Okay," says the friend, who gets into the car.

"Strawberry," says Hughes.

The friend comes back with two cones and, as they start to eat them, Hughes turns to him and says:

"Tell me—what are they saying about me in Hollywood?"

It really happened. The friend told me the story.

Promotions For Navy Studied

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 15 (AP)—President Truman's staff turned aside today all inquiries as to the future of Capt. Arleigh A. Burke.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the chief executive has taken "no action" on a navy selection board's recommendations for promotion from captain to rear admiral.

Ross would not discuss specifically a recent New York Herald-Tribune story that recommendations for promotion have been held up and that Burke's name has been excluded, upon White House instructions, from an original promotion list submitted to the White House around Thanksgiving.

No Action On List

The press secretary told reporters that Mr. Truman has an "extremely confidential" list upon which he has taken no action.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that the President has asked that, wherever possible, men with families be exempt from accompanying him on his Christmas holiday trip to Independence, Mo., Dec. 23. He returns to Washington Dec. 30.

Secret service and transportation executives have been instructed to confine the necessary security force to bachelors and men without children, insofar as this is possible.

The President accepted a portrait of George Washington in memory of a hero of World War II. The acceptance was announced on the 150th anniversary of the death of the first president.

The portrait of Washington, by Gilbert Stuart (1775-1828), was painted for Robert Barry of Baltimore. It was offered the White House by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson of New York City in memory of their son, Daniel Carroll Payson, who died in action.

The President said it will hang in one of the state rooms when renovation of the White House is completed.

Tech Language Group To Give Three Plays

Three foreign language plays will be given at 8 p.m. today in room 202 of the Texas Tech administration building in observance of the annual Christmas festival of the Council of Foreign Language clubs.

The plays will be in French, German, and Spanish and will offer a variety of themes.

Under direction of Theodor W. Alexander, students of German will present "Einer Muss Heiraten" (One Must Get Married), by Alexander Wilhelmi, Spanish students, some of whom speak the language natively, are to present "La Buena Noche en Mexico" (Christmas Eve in Mexico).

Mrs. Beatrice Alexander, instructor in French, will direct "L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Le Parle" (English As It Is Spoken), which is to be given by students of French.
